RUSSIAN REVOLT LEADER ARRESTED

SURPLUS OF $10,000 THIS YEAR FOR WESTERN FAIR; DIRECTORS FAVOR GROUNDS NEAR COVE

Financial Success of Exhibition Most Marked in 1917.

$75,000 IN RECEIPTS

Expenses, However, Heavier Than Last Year, But Assets Close to $125,000.

SUGGEST IMPROVEMENTS

Those in Charge Look For a Greater Fair in the Future.

The Western Fair will this year have a surplus estimated from $10,000 to $15,000. This will bring the cash surplus of the association to more than $30,000, probably $35,000 at the present time, and boost the assets close to the $125,000 mark.

The net surplus last year was $12,-148. The receipts, excluding the city grant of $10,000 for the grandstand, were $67,350. This year it is reported that they are close to $75,000. The expenses will be heavier, so the surplus will not be much greater than $10,000, although later returns may increase the amount. There can be no accurate figures obtained. The board had, prior to this fair, a cash surplus of $25,145. The other assets were valued at more than $90,000. This makes it certain that the Fair is a great success. The exhibitors are satisfied. The patrons were well pleased. The directors are beaming with joy. There are always things to criticize. The directors had a better show than they were able to properly display, owing to lack of accommodation. Of that there is not the slightest question. Many exhibits were lost because of the crowded condition of the grounds. That is particularly true of the horses. The Western takes a lead in this branch, but much the best of it is lost.

Make More of Horses.

E. B. Clancy, Guelph, one of the best judges on the American continent, who has returned from a judging at Omaha, called attention to this fact this week.

"The Western Fair does not make as much of the horse exhibit as it might," said Mr. Clancy. "I am not criticizing, but I do not think that the patrons really understand what a splendid exhibition you have. This refers particularly to the city men and women. For instance you have as fine carriage and roadster horses as can be found in any exhibition anywhere. They are judged in the ring within the track. The judging is done on Monday and Tuesday, and the result is that but a very small percentage of the public see these fine animals. This is true of the jumping and other classes. The heavier animals are provided for a little better, but even with them only a few people, and those personally interested, can see them. I appreciate the lack of accommodation I have, but at the same time certain changes might be made at small expense to give the people an opportunity of seeing these animals.

Western Horses Good.

"In many cities, and the number is growing, such exhibitions are held. They take place in an arena, and they are events. The public pays handsomely to see them. You have just as good a show at the Western as any of these, but the public, not being able to see it, does not appreciate it.

"Dr. G. A. Routledge, if given control of this, might be able to handle it much better, and get results that would be in keeping with the Western Fair's history."

The observations of Mr. Clancy are echoed by a score of other prominent horsemen. It is possible that efforts will be made to have a fall or winter show here, devoted exclusively to horses. Many think it would pay, if a proper building could be secured.

The same criticism might apply to the cattle and other live stock exhibits. They are excellent. Capt. T. E. Robson, who has an international reputation as a judge, and handler of stock, says practically the same thing.

Improvement But Temporary.

"The new judging rings have been an improvement, but even this year there has been a serious lack, and that is of seats around the rings to afford visitors an opportunity of seeing the stock properly displayed," he said to The Advertiser. "This has been impossible in our present cramped quarters and from the fact that the judging rings built this year have been only temporary, formed by driving posts into the ground and drawing ropes around. As soon as the judging was completed, the ropes were removed to make a park for automobiles. In consequence, there was no opportunity to show the stock on the biggest days of the fair, and this educational opportunity was missed.

"This will be one of the things that will be altered when we get new grounds. Again, there is another expansion feature which I am hoping to see before long, and that is a catalogue for the live stock just as there is for say an art loan exhibition. The cattle have been especially good this year.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS TO GIVE EVERYONE CHANCE TO INVEST IN CERTIFICATES AND HELP WIN

Series In Course of Preparation Whereby Subscriptions of 25 Cents May Be Made—Certificates Are Bringing In Money Well.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The minister of finance announces that an issue of war savings stamps is in course of preparation. These stamps will be used in connection with a plan to interest those who are able to save only in small amounts in the purchase of war savings certificates. Special war savings cards will be issued with squares upon which the stamps purchased from time to time may be placed. When all the squares are filled, the card will be taken to the postoffice and exchanged for a war savings certificate. The stamps will be in the denomination of 25c and the cards will contain spaces for 16 of them and one the postage stamp (making altogether $3.60), and when filled will be exchanged for a certificate entitling the holder to $10 at the end of three years.

Special Design.

The stamp, which will be sold at postoffices, will be of special design, and will contain a reproduction of Partridge's famous drawing "Canada," commemorating the achievements of the first Canadian contingent at Ypres, April, 1915. The proprietors of Punch have generously given permission to the minister of finance for the reproduction of the sketch.

Sales of war savings certificates continue in good volume. During the last several months they have been slightly under one million dollars a month, while the total to date is $10,750,000. Special work is being done in connection with the organization of large industrial establishments and the introduction of partial payment plans for employees.

Hamilton Firm's Record.

In this connection it is interesting to quote from a letter received this week from the manager of a Hamilton company engaged in the manufacture of munitions. He says: "The majority of our men have taken no less than one certificate per month, while a large number are taking as many as four each month for an indefinite period. I have not the exact figures compiled at this writing, but it appears that we will have subscriptions totalling from between $20,000 and $25,000 per month from approximately 800 employees."

GOLDEN OAK LEAVES PRESENTED JOFFRE BY CITY OF NEW YORK

Paris, Sept. 15.—William G. Sharp, the American ambassador to France, and the members of the embassy staff went to the headquarters of Marshal Joffre this morning and presented the marshal with a branch of golden oak leaves in behalf of the city of New York. The presentation of the golden branch was accompanied by an address illuminated upon parchment.

CLOSED BARS WILL NEVER BE REOPENED, SAYS N. W. ROWELL

Has Strong Proof That Prohibition Is Success.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Sept. 15.—Newton Rowell, upon request for a statement on the first anniversary of prohibition, said:

"I am in receipt of the strongest testimony, from all parts of the province, of the great practical benefits which have resulted from the operation of the Ontario temperance act, during the past year.

"The results have been so satisfactory that large numbers of those who were opposed to the adoption of the measure, are now its warm supporters. Thousands of wives and children are better clothed, better fed, and know more of the real meaning of 'home' today, than they ever knew before. Crime has been substantially reduced; the efficiency and earning power of the workers have been materially increased; business has been stimulated, rather than depressed; and the whole country is enjoying freedom from the constant menace of the open bar. It is evident that the bar now closed will never be reopened in this province.

"Vigorous and impartial enforcement of the law must be maintained, and the act must be strengthened where necessary, to make it more effective and to carry out its intent.

"Our grateful appreciation is due to the men and women all over this province, whose untiring and unselfish labors through the years, made possible this great measure of social reform."

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH IN DEREHAM; PARENTS AT FAIR

Little Girl Was Playing With Some Matches.

IN CHARGE OF SISTER

Eldest Girl, Only Nine Years of Age, Extinguished Flames.

Ingersoll, Sept. 14.—During her parents' absence to the Western Fair on Thursday, little Coza Mae Todd, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Todd of Dereham, near Salford, was so burned that her death occurred today. The child was terribly injured about the abdomen, face and hands, and from the first the attending physician held very little hope of recovery.

A message, announced through a megaphone, informed Mr. and Mrs. Todd, who were in the grandstand at the London Fair, that their daughter was ill and they were wanted at home at once. They had motored to London, and the return trip was made in rapid time.

Three children had been left at home by Mr. and Mrs. Todd, the eldest daughter being about nine years of age. While this girl was outside the little one got hold of some matches and ignited her clothing. Frightened by the fire, which quickly enveloped her, she ran out of the house, and her sister extinguished the flames, but not before she had been fatally burned.

The accident happened about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The eldest girl at once spread the alarm, and in less than an hour word had reached the parents at London.

The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon to the Harris street cemetery.

BRITISH COLUMBIA TO BUILD MANY VESSELS

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 15.—British Columbia's shipbuilding program provides for the construction of some 117,000 gross tons of commercial shipping to have a total carrying capacity of nearly 185,000 tons, says the Province yesterday. The value of these ships, some 50 in all, is in the neighborhood of $25,000,000.

ALL EFFORTS OF FOES TO ATTACK FRUSTRATED BY FRENCH FORCES

Enemy Driven From Trenches in Verdun Sector, Entered Earlier.

REPULSED IN CHAMPAGNE

And an Assault On Allies in Argonne Is Completely Checked.

Paris, Sept. 15.—French forces, after a battle last night, ejected the Germans from a greater part of the trenches which they had penetrated earlier in the day, north of Courieres Wood, in the Verdun sector, the French war office announced today. Two surprise attacks launched by the Germans, north of Prosnes, in the Champagne region, were repulsed by the French.

The text of the French statement follows:

"In Champagne we repulsed two surprise attacks made by the enemy north of Prosnes. There was great activity of the artillery of both sides in the regions of Cornille and Mont Blond.

"In the Argonne an enemy attack on our small posts, near Bouretilles, was completely checked.

"On the right bank of the River Meuse, after a combat, we ejected the enemy from the greater part of the elements of trenches which he had penetrated earlier in the day north of Cauriers Wood.

"Elsewhere the night was calm."

GERMAN VERSION.

Berlin, Sept. 15.—Via London.—Artillery preparation which attained drumfire intensity this morning on the battlefront in Flanders was followed by a British attack on the German positions at St. Julien, the German general staff reported today. The attackers were frustrated by a German counter-attack, and a number of prisoners were taken.

FRANCE HAS BREAD ON SALE TO ALL AT BEFORE-WAR PRICES

Food Minister Explains How It Is Done.

[BY W. S. FORREST.]

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Paris, Sept. 15.—The housewife of war-ridden France today is paying practically the same price for bread that she paid before the war. The only difference is that today's bread is of whole wheat flour. It is darker than the white loaf of the pre-war days.

The French food minister today explained to the United Press, for the benefit of Americans now facing increased prices for flour and bread, how France dealt with the problem.

"During the first two years of the war there was no bread problem in France," he said. "We imported all necessary wheat. But even then, in view of transportation difficulties, the Government was obliged to regulate baking.

Bread-Eating Nation.

"As the French are essentially a bread-eating nation it was necessary to keep prices as low as possible. Therefore the only increase permitted was the rise to five cents of the usual four cent loaf.

"All French bread is now of a standard type. It is made of whole wheat flour, which is less tasty perhaps, but which is equally nutritious.

"The Government held it inadvisable to tax wheat because the farmers might grow other cereals. Therefore, it was decided to pay the farmers the prices they demanded for their wheat, although the flour from this grain was resold at former prices to the bakers.

"To cover the deficit a tax will soon be imposed on the agricultural population. This appears to be the only solution.

Bread Cards in October.

"In October, bread cards will be introduced in France. They will allow a minimum daily allowance per capita of a pound of bread, with a maximum of a pound and four-fifths. The latter weight is for the working and agricultural classes, who are greater bread eaters than our townspeople.

"Experiments with potato bread have given excellent results, if the percentage of potato flour does not exceed twenty per cent. The difficulty in France is that the bakers are short-handed, and are unwilling to cook potatoes properly before mixing them with the wheat flour.

"In America where machinery is being more used in baking potato flour could easily be adopted."

NOT NECESSARY FOR GOVERNMENT TO TAKE OVER THE APPLE CROP

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The fruit and vegetable committee has advised the food controller, after a careful study of the situation, that a satisfactory supply of apples can be secured to the people of Canada at a fair cost without the necessity of setting prices to the producer and that it is not necessary to take over the apple crop to secure distribution.

TO SUPERINTEND BREWERIES.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Xavier Sauchier of Calgary has been appointed inspector of malt houses and breweries throughout the dominion, to succeed J. K. Barrett, who has been superannuated.

ELEVEN V.C'S AWARDED FOR FINE HEROISM IN FRONT LINE

ONE RESCUED COMRADES

Refusing To Take Rest, Although Wounded Himself.

CAPTURED BLOCKHOUSE

Sergeant Walked Up and With Revolver Silenced 45 Men With Seven Guns.

London, Sept. 15—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Further stirring stories of heroism are related in the Official Gazette in announcing the award of eleven new Victoria Crosses. One of these is the splendid record of an officer of the Medical Corps.

It reads: "Capt. Noel Chavasse, late of the Medical Corps, though severely wounded early in the action whilst carrying a wounded soldier to the dressing station, Capt. Chevasse refused to leave his post, and for two days not only continued to perform his duties but went out repeatedly under heavy fire to search for and attend to the wounded. Although practically without food, worn with fatigue and faint with his wounds, he assisted a number of badly-wounded men over difficult ground. His extraordinary energy and inspiring example were instrumental in rescuing many wounded men who would otherwise undoubtedly have succumbed. This devoted and gallant officer subsequently died of his wounds.

Saved the Situation.

Brigadier-Gen. Clifford Coffin.—When his command was held up in an attack, owing to heavy machine gun and rifle fire, from the right flank, he went forward and inspected his front posts. Though under the heaviest machine gun and rifle fire, and in full view of the enemy, he showed an utter disregard of personal danger, walking quietly from shell hole to shell hole, and cheering the men by his presence. His very gallant conduct had the greatest effect on all ranks, and it was largely owing to his personal courage and example that the shell hole line was maintained the day. His calm courage and cheerfulness exercised the greatest influence over all with whom he came in contact, and it is generally agreed that his splendid example saved the situation, and that he and his shell hole line would certainly have been driven back.

"Sergt. Edward Cooper, Rifle Corps.—Enemy machine guns from a concrete blockhouse, 250 yards away, were holding up the advance of a battalion on his left and were also causing heavy casualties to his own battalion. Sergt. Cooper with four men immediately rushed towards the blockhouse, although heavily fired on. At a distance of about 100 yards he ordered his men to lie down and fire at the blockhouse. Finding that this did not silence the machine guns, he immediately rushed forward straight at the loop and fired his revolver into the opening in the blockhouse. The machine guns ceased firing and the garrison surrendered. Seven machine guns and 45 prisoners were captured in the blockhouse. By this magnificent act of courage he undoubtedly saved what might have been a serious check to the whole advance, besides saving a great number of lives.

COMPLETE DENIALS ECKHART'S DEFENCE IN MEXICO INCIDENT

Says It Is All Washington Intrigue.

NEVER EMPLOYED SWEDE

And Did Not Recommend the Decoration for Charge d'Affaires Kronholm.

Mexico City, Sept. 15.—Heinrich von Eckhardt, the German minister to Mexico, last night made a statement denying everything in connection with the disclosures of Washington that he had been employing a former Swedish charge d'affairs to convey information to the Berlin foreign office. Von Eckhardt declared he had never sent any communication in this way and that he never wrote any recommendation for a decoration for Charge Kronholm.

Von Eckhardt further declared that he did not know Kronholm personally, only having met him at diplomatic receptions or through the offices of the introducers of ambassadors or some formal means. Von Eckhardt makes a complete denial of everything in connection with the Washington disclosures, and in reply to an assertion that Washington had full proof of his complicity declared that this was merely an American intrigue for the purpose of casting discredit on the representatives of Germany.

DENIAL SURPRISES.

Washington, D. C. Sept. 15.—German Minister von Eckhardt's denial arouses no anxiety at the state department, where officials, although surprised at a sweeping denial, consider that their investigation determined the authenticity of the disclosures and that von Eckhardt's letter speaks for itself.

BRITISH IMPROVE THEIR POSITIONS ON BELGIAN LINE

FIGHT NEAR ST. JULIEN

Progress Made, and Some Teutons Taken Prisoner During Friday.

London, Sept. 15.—British troops last night made a slight advance on the Belgian front. The text of the statement reads:

"In the course of the night we improved our positions slightly east of Westhoek. A strong party of the enemy yesterday evening attacked the ground gained by us during the day northeast of St. Julien. As they advanced to attack the Germans were caught in our artillery barrage and were dispersed.

The official communication issued last night said:

Progress and Prisoners.

"There was local fighting during the day in the neighborhood of the Winnipeg crossroads, northeast of St. Julien. Our troops made good progress and have taken a few prisoners.

"The enemy's artillery was active today in the Lens sector. There was considerable artillery activity by both sides east of Ypres.

"Thursday the weather again was very unfavorable for aerial observation. Eighty bombs were dropped by our airplanes on enemy billets, and east of Lens his troops in the open and in trenches were barraged by machine gun fire from a low altitude. There was a certain amount of air fighting under difficult conditions. Three of our machines are missing."

British Steamer Hears "S. O. S." On Friday Morning.

An Atlantic Port, Sept. 15.—A British steamer that arrived here today reported that early yesterday morning a wireless "S. O. S." call was heard, stating that the ship from which the message came was being shelled by a German submarine. The location being 65 miles east of Nantucket lightship. The name of the ship attacked did not come clearly, only the word "Abbey," presumably the last half of the name, being caught.

WARNING GIVEN.

An Atlantic Port, Sept. 15.—Additional information that a submarine was in the western Atlantic was brought by another British liner, which arrived here today from an English port. Officers of the liner said they had been instructed to watch out for U-boats when nearing the American coast. There are a number of vessels, both sail and steam, of which the word "Abbey" is a part of their names, now engaged in Atlantic trade.

MORE COAL FOR HOLLAND.

London, Sept. 15.—A dispatch from The Hague to Reuter's, Limited, states that information has been received from German official quarters that the export of German coal to Holland is being resumed.

WANTS BANKS' STATEMENT.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 15.—The United States comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks of the United States at the close of business Tuesday, September 11.

Huns Put Price On Head of First American Captured

British Headquarters in France and Belgium, Sept. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The German general commanding the 11th reserve division recently put a price of 400 marks on the first American soldier brought dead or alive into his lines.

WEATHER PREVENTS RAISING OF QUEBEC BRIDGE SPAN AGAIN

Quebec, Sept. 15.—Weather conditions will prevent the raising of the central span of the Quebec bridge Saturday morning as scheduled. Last night a gale was blowing in Quebec, and the river was covered with whitecaps.

As the engineers require a perfectly calm river surface to facilitate the perfect transfer of the span from the pontoons upon which it was constructed, and on which it will be towed from Sillery, where the link now lies, it was decided late last night to postpone the attempted elevation till Sunday morning.

The high tide of the season takes place today, and it was depended upon to raise the structure to the highest point it is possible to get it in the river. Some of this elevation will necessarily be lost on Sunday morning, but the engineers are confident that the chains to which the span will be attached will be easily equal to the extra strain.

GEN. KORNILOFF IS UNDER ARREST; ALSO GEN. LOKOMSKY

Latter Refused To Command Russian Armies After Former Was Deposed—Whether Korniloff should Be Executed Is Question Worrying the Government.

Petrograd, Sept. 15.—Gen. Korniloff, leader of the recent rebellion against the Provisional Government, and Gen. Lokomsky, the commander of the northern front, who refused to take command of the Russian armies after Korniloff was deposed, have been arrested.

NEW CABINET FORMED.

Petrograd, Sept. 15.—Russia's political crisis has been solved after after an all-night conference, it was announced today by the Russian official news agency. A new cabinet has been formed, and its composition will be made public tomorrow.

SHALL HE DIE?

[By William G. Shepherd, Special to The Advertiser.]

Petrograd, Sept. 15.—Korniloff misjudged Russia, therefore it seems he must die. His fate has been officially decided today. He has not yet formally surrended. But Petrograd sees only two courses open to him—suicide or surrender. The one means death just as certainly as the other in the view of the populace. Korniloff himself decreed punishment for revolters in the army. It was the main issue which he projected into the Moscow convention. He put it into effect at once. Probably a number of Russian private soldiers have already paid the penalty for infractions of discipline. It was at the Moscow conference that Korniloff planned his coup. I believe the idea sprang full-grown into his brain at the dramatic moment when the great army commander stood on the platform in the city hall of Moscow, acclaimed a hero in five minutes' tumultuous demonstration.

What He Missed.

A splendid audience of bankers, merchants, manufacturers and intellectuals in complacent confidence arose from the benches and galleries. They cheered the militant figure tumultuously for five minutes. Even Korniloff's stoicism melted under the warmth. He visibly expanded. That was the moment, as I see it today, that the idea of power was established in the commander-in-chief's mind. He believed the cheers were those of all Russia.

But in one corner of the vast hall three hundred men—only a tenth of the great assemblage—sat grim and silent throughout the cheering of the frenzied ones. Yells demanded that they arise and join, but they sat silent.

Korniloff, the general, the military man par excellence, did not know this. He was ignorant of what was happening way from the battlefront. Constantly surrounded by military affairs, constantly studying military strategy, ever thinking in terms of army life, the generalissimo thought all the voice of Russia spoke to him in this great demonstration.

His Great Mistake.

If Korniloff thought at all about the silent three hundred, he thought they were a minority. He was wrong. They represented the armed citizens of Russia, the majority. Every man of them had been elected by the votes of thousands of soldiers at the front and by workers throughout the nation. To them Korniloff represented everything in Russia that they had overthrown by the revolution—the cold power of military force. Yet Korniloff disdained to look at them. In his ears there resounded the sweet sound of 2,700 wildly acclaiming delegates and he forgot the chorus was not joined by the grim three hundred. It must have been at this dramatic moment that the idea of revolt came to Korniloff. Thus it happened when Korniloff's troops met those of the provisional government, 40 miles from Petrograd, there was no fighting. On the contrary, the men on the two sides fraternized. Not a shot was fired. Men in ranks of both sides understood.

Petrograd, Sept. 14.—The question of the probable fate of General Korniloff is exciting public opinion. Indications are that the Government must face serious difficulties over the matter.

A feature of the conflict is the creditable absence of bitter feeling and clamor for vengeance. Having reestablished capital punishment at the front, however, the Government, if it spares the rebel commander, must face the reproach that it executed common soldiers for less serious offences, and it would be virtually impossible to impose the death penalty in the future.

Against this are the facts of General Korniloff's brilliant service, his chivalrous personal character, and the happy circumstance that there has been no bloodshed so far.

No Extreme Measures.

There are indications that the Government is seeking a way out. As an instance, M. Kishkin, the new minister of the interior, declares that the Government has decided not to take extreme measures against Korniloff, as it does not wish to appear revengeful.

"The story," M. Kishkin said, "is so tangled that only an inquiry by a commission can elucidate the truth. Meantime, we have reason to believe that the revolt was due to a misunderstanding with Korniloff's emissary to Kerensky, Vladimir Lvoff, who has not the reputation of being a responsible man."

MOHILEV IN STATE OF SIEGE.

Petrograd, Sept. 14.—Mohilev, the staff headquarters, has been declared by General Korniloff in a state of siege, according to information received here. Orshiday Junction, a point 30 miles to the northward, has been occupied by Government troops, and all officers and soldiers arriving there bound for the north are being arrested. A request be Korniloff to send provisions to Mohilev has been refused, and an effort by Korniloff to communicate by telephone with Moscow has been frustrated. One of Korniloff's staff officers arrested at Orsha said Korniloff daily was expecting the arrival of General Alexieff for a conference.

Pskoff is in the hands of the Government troops.

EQUILIBRIUM LACKING.

Petrograd, Sept. 14.—The political equilibrium, which the country had expected as a result of the collapse of the rebellion, has not yet been reached. The cabinet crisis continued all day. The evening newspapers agree that Premier Kerensky is in a very difficult position, the Birjevlya declaring that his resignation is not yet excluded from the possibilities.

The cause of the trouble is an acute revival of the old struggle for power. Premier Kerensky persists that the entry of four Constitutional Democrats into the cabinet is indespensable, but opposition to this is growing among members of the Left. Kerensky might

FRANCE DEMANDING FULL EXPLANATION OF SWEDISH ACTION

Minister at Stockholm Makes His Request.

PRESS REALLY ANGRY

Even the Pro-German Papers Urge Vigorous Attitude By Government.

Stockholm, Thursday, Sept. 13.—The French minister, M. Thiebaut, called upon Foreign Minister Lindman today with a formal request for an explanation of the Argentina incident on behalf of his Government. The other representatives of the Entente nations are expected to follow Minister Thiebaut's initiative. The British, French, American and Russian ministers held a meeting today, at which the situation was thoroughly canvassed.

Newspapers Angry.

The Argentine minister as yet has taken no formal steps in connection with the affair. Newspapers of pronounced German leanings urged the Government to adopt a vigorous attitude toward the country whose praises, they declared, in abusing the confidence of the Swedish Government, and involving a friendly nation in a highly-embarrassing predicament are unpardonable.

MINISTER TAKES HOLIDAY.

London, Sept. 15.—Count A. Wrangel, the Swedish minister to Great Britain, and the Countess Wrangel left London today for the continent on a four weeks' leave of absence. Count Wrangel yesterday had a long conference with Lord Robert Cecil, the British undersecretary for foreign affairs, presumably on the subject of the Swedish-Argentinian disclosures.

W. F. Bostroem, counsellor of the Swedish legation here, will take charge during Count Wrangel's absence.

NOT SUFFICIENT.

Stockholm, Sept. 15.—Hjalmar Branting, the Socialist leader, writes in the Socialist Demokraten that Baron Loewen, the Swedish minister in Buenos Aires, will be granted a holiday because of sickness.

"This official," he adds, "who acted as a telegraph agent at Stockholm from Buenos Aires without considering the contents of messages, is removed, but this is insufficient."

The newspaper announces that a meeting of protest against the secret diplomacy responsible for the scandal will be held on Sunday.

RUSSIANS DEFEAT ENEMY NEAR RIGA

Petrograd, Sept. 15. — Russian forces yesterday defeated the German troops on the road to Pskoff, on the Riga front, and occupied the small town of Kronberg, the Russian war office announced today. The Russians also occupied the towns of Keitzen and Sissoral, which had been held by the Germans.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.

Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night: Highest, 79; lowest, 48.

The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: Highest 64; lowest, 54.

WINNING CANDIDATES THANK THEIR FRIENDS

A number of additional candidates in The Advertiser contest have sent in letters expressing their thanks to their friends for assistance in the recent campaign. D. A. MacVicar of Belmont and Mrs. Thomas Green of Baden desire to make known their appreciation of the help given them. Other letters received spoke as follows:

Miss Margaret Murphy, Fletcher, in District No. 2, wishes to thank all her many friends who assisted her in winning one of the prizes in the $16,000 prize contest.

Miss Ida McIntyre, Wyoming, candidate in District No. 3 in The London Advertiser's $16,000 prize contest wishes to thank her many friends and acquaintances who so kindly assisted her in the contest.

Miss M. [illegible] Scallom of Dutton, candidate in District No. 4 wishes to thank her many friends who assisted her in winning one of the many valuable prizes.

I wish to thank my many friends, through the columns of The Advertiser, for their liberal support in helping me win a prize in the $16,000 contest.

ALLEGED PICKPOCKET ELECTS JURY TRIAL; PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Man Arrested at Fair Grounds Comes Up In December.

Roy Lewis, charged with attempting to pick the pocket o fa fair visitor as the latter boarded a street car during the rush from Queen's Park on Thursday night, was committed for trial by jury by Magistrate Graydon today.

Lewis pleaded not guilty and elected trial by jury. His offence being bailable, Magistrate Graydon ordered that he be released providing two securities of $500 each were provided. Otherwise he will remain in jail until his trial in December at the county general sessions of the peace, unless he should change his election and decide to be tried by a judge without a jury.

Detective Harry Down, who made the arrest, testified that he had watched Lewis several times, as the crowds rushed to board the cars. Lewis, he said, made no effort to get on the cars, but was noticed feeling the pockets of several men. He followed him at the sixth car and caught his hand as it was in the pocket of a stranger. When searched at the police station Lewis had a purse in his right side trousers pocket containing a five and a one dollar bill. In the other trousers pocket he had a five and two one-dollar bills crumpled up, and some silver.

Detective Thomas Nickle testified that he had watched Lewis and was about to arrest him, because of his suspicious actions, when Detective Down told him he had the case in hand.

COUNTERFEIT BILLS

London Firm Warned From Toronto of Phony Bank Notes in Circulation.

A local business firm has been warned, through its Toronto office, to be on lookout for counterfeit Imperial Bank and Bank of Montreal bills known to be in circulation.

Both are difficult to detect. The Imperial Bank $10 counterfeit bill is dated January 1, 1910, issue series "P" signed D. R. Wilkie, with the name Waterlow & Son, London, England, printers above Wilkie's signature. The large $10 numeral is of a blue shade instead of white, the color of the genuine bill. In the Bank of Montreal $5 bill series "D" the letter "V" is black instead of green, the color used in the genuine bill.

DISMANTLED EXHIBITS ALL NOW REMAINING TO MARK WESTERN FAIR'S SUCCESS

Clean-Up Campaign Activity Today's Feature.

BEST YEAR IN HISTORY

Exhibition, Concluded Friday, Another Milestone of Success.

Almost every trace of the Western Fair of 1917 has vanished. The grounds today are quieter than Goldsmith's deserted village, and only a large quantity of waste paper and a few tents remain to mark the spot where one of the most successful exhibitions in the city's history stood twenty-four hours ago.

Live stock and horses were removed Friday afternoon, and nearly all of them had been taken away before evening. Poultry and dogs were also removed on Friday, and only the agricultural and mechanical exhibits remained for sightseers in the evening.

The work of removing the sideshows was commenced shortly after eight o'clock, although several of the amusement devices continued running until after ten. Nearly every tent was down by midnight, and the greater part of the material had been placed on wagons for transportation to the trains.

Grounds Still Busy.

Most of the smaller refreshment booths and game stands remained up all night and were dismantled this morning. Only workmen were allowed within the grounds today, but these totalled hundreds and the grounds were busy all morning. Vehicles of every description crowded the park to carry the display material away. Most of them had departed by noon.

Rapid work cleared the crystal palace early in the day and only some of the heavier exhibits remained to be moved after twelve o'clock. Exhibitors requestioned all the drays and motor trucks in town which were for hire, and when this supply was exhausted private pleasure cars were used. Seven-passenger automobiles, piled high with tables, tins, desks and bunting were no uncommon sight on the grounds today.

No Trace Tonight.

Some time will be required to clean up all the waste material and paper which such crowds as attended the exhibition throughout the week are bound to laeve. This is only minor work, and as far as structures go there will be no indications of the fair's existence tonight.

The general offices will be opened down town this afternoon and the administration building will be closed at the grounds. The chief work now is giving out the prizes.

End Successful Year.

With the closing performance Friday evening one of the most successful exhibitions ever held by the Western Fair Association was wound up, and although children's day did not attract the huge crowds that thronged the grounds Wednesday and Thursday, many thousands of people passed through the gates.

Some of the livestock left the grounds Friday noon, and many of the other exhibits were removed late Friday night, and today the remainder of the entries in the various buildings are being removed.

The children ruled supreme on the last day of the fair, and kiddies from every section of the city congregated on the grounds.

Got Early Start.

The gates were stormed early in the morning, hundreds of school pupils free for the day, being ready to enter as soon as the turnstiles were working. Reinforcements arrived steadily throughout the morning and early part of the afternoon, and every part of the grounds was soon occupied.

A special admission rate of 5 cents prevailed for the day as far as the children were concerned, and that they took advantage of it was evident as soon as one entered the grounds. Every school in the city was represented by hundreds of pupils.

Regular Sample Fiends.

The palace was crowded throughout the morning, the many fascinating displays there keeping the children happy for hours. Booths, where fans, blotters, paper caps, or any other useful or otherwise articles were being "handed out," were particularly popular, and received a larger patronage than on any day of the week. The kiddies were willing to accept any kind of literature, going from articles on vacuum cleaners and automobiles to discussions of Christian Science.

Everybody made the youngsters welcome. The grandstands were free to them, and many of the attractions on the Midway lowered their prices so that the admisssion fee would not be too much of a drain on the supply of money, which must last the day. The ice cream men and the popcorn wagons did a tremendous business, their wares proving to be the most popular confections on the grounds. Dining halls were not as well patronized as usual, because nearly all the small visitors brought their own rations and ate them out on the grounds.

School Displays Popular.

Exhibits of the schools in the building where the ladies' work is displayed, and the exhibit of the Technical School, in the annex to the Main Building, were centres of interest, as the exhibitors were known to many of the children in the crowd.

It is certain that the process building had no more interested visitors any day of the week than it had today. Horse and cattle sheds had a fair share of visitors, but the majority of the youngsters were more interested in mechanical displays.

The races were run off as usual and the full program was put on before the grandstand at the evening performance. The last of the saddle and hunter classes were judged in the afternoon, and everything completed in that class.

Moved Out Quickly.

The dogs, according to the regulations, left the grounds at noon, and the livestock started to move out at 4 o'clock, and the remaining exhibits began the trek at 10 o'clock. Today at noon 90 per cent of all the exhibits had been removed. The attendants are still in charge of the gates today, to protect their exhibits from intruders. The Midway shows packed up last night, and left early this morning for Batavia, N.Y.

The fair employees are busily at work today cleaning up the buildings, and storing away the fittings for another year. As many of the buildings as possible will be cleaned out for the use of the military authorities.

The directors are well satisfied with this year's exhibition. "It was a most successful exhibition all the way through," Secretary Hunt told The Advertiser last night. "Both exhibitors and concessionaires have asked me to reserve space for them for next year, but of course we could not do it so far ahead."

Prizes Issued.

The prize checks were issued at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, and were cashed at the bank on the grounds. Today the officials of the fair association moved to their down town offices, and will be transacting business there from now on. Prize checks not called for by the end of next week will be mailed to the winners.

The cheese and butter exhibits were auctioned off in the dairy products building Friday morning, and the money will be ready for the exhibitors soon.

The nurses of No. 4 Nursing Division, as usual, had much work to do on the last day, and about 30 cases were cared for. In addition a number of children and babies were looked after. Two bad accidents occurred, in addition to the minor ones. An 8-year-old boy was kicked by a horse about 4 o'clock near the entrance to the ring, and had his face badly smashed. His injuries were dressed by Dr. Clegg, and he was removed to his home on Clarence street in an automobile. Another lad, John Biddle, was seriously injured by being run over by an automobile.

A total of 189 cases were handled in the tent of the nursing division, at a total expense of about $50. Three women received injuries in one day by being crushed in the crowd that stampeded the checkroom on the grounds, and the brutality of the crowd in this regard came in for much criticism by the members of the division.

HEARD ON DUNDAS ST.

[BY MARY JANE.]

"Really, my dear, he can order the most wonderful dinner, but I wouldn't tell him a thing I didn't want talked all over the club. A regular gossip, my dear."

"Come on, Dick, show some speed or we'll miss that train.

"I am just crazy to have a new fall suit, but I simply can't afford it; they say eggs'll be a dollar a dozen before the winter's over"

"We towed his car down to the garage, and the guy down there says there is a brush stuck in the magneto." "Uh-huh. Maybe he'll find a comb—and a few hairpins, too."

"They're a wonderful combination, he's got the beauty and she's got the brains. What's the difference."

"An' then he says to us, 'Well, you great big goops! No wonder she won't go—y'got yer brakes on."

"She's lucky. I haven't either."

"Well, I wanta tell ye I'd rather have big feet than no feet, an' my mother, she says maybe I'll be a fine football player. So there now!"

"Oh, dear! I wish I was dead—or married."

"Let's go to Detroit, Sadie. Waitresses get awful big tips there."
"Yes, but look at the head-tax and—"
"Don't worry, they'll never ast you to pay one."

"I hear he's going to mortgage his farm to buy a tractor and next year he'll be selling his tractor to pay the interest."

"She's the awfullest bargain-hunter you ever saw"
"Sure. That's how she got her man."

"She churns a hundred pounds of butter every week, but Seth milks all the cows."
"Yes, but they've only been married two months. You wait."

"Her baby's the grandest thing you ever saw, but she called the poor kid Threshia."
"You just see, she'll be married before she's twenty; men like them kind of names."

"Look here, if you don't stop this shenanigan off you go to bed without one bite of supper, I mean it now, you little nuisance."

"Now, he's my idea of a swell-lookin' gink."

"She's got a good big bank account."
"Yes, but she makes all her own hats don't she?"

HEADLIGHT LAW IS IGNORED, RESULTING IN MANY ACCIDENTS

Worst Week in City's History Blamed On This Cause.

Never in the history of the city have so many motor car accidents been crowded into a brief space of a few days as the series which has happened this week. The majority of the accidents happened at night, and can in almost every instance be attributed to the use of blinding headlights. That the brilliant headlight is a menace was demonstrated beyond a doubt this week.

The police department issued a warning some weeks ago to the effect that lights over a certain candlepower were prohibited. Why the order has not been enforced is not known. There were scores of infractions of the law this week, as a large percentage of the cars from out of town were equipped with the dazzling bright lights. In addition to the number of accidents chronicled there were many near accidents in which head-on collisions between autos were avoided only by inches. As a result of the series of accidents and near accidents, protests will be made to have a stricter enforcement of the law in this respect.

EVE OF DEVELOPMENT

Former Londoner, On Visit Here, Predicts Great Things of Northern Mines.

R. S. Taylor of Cobalt, son of ex-Mayor George Taylor, was in the city this week renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Taylor says the north country is on the eve of great mining development, and that the present price of silver and the new processes for extracting the metal from low-grade ore have proved of great impetus to the silver country, while new gold fields are being developed.

Mr. Taylor believes the surface of mineral deposits in Northern Ontario has only been scratched.

LEAVES PARK SERVICE

Head Gardener at Springbank Resigns to Take Stratford Position.

William Giles, who has been head gardener at Springbank Park for several years, has tendered his resignation to accept a similar position at the gardens of George McLagan, Stratford.

Those who know Springbank credit Mr. Giles with faithful and efficient service in making the park one of the most beautiful in Ontario. He came to Canada from England with a long record in famous gardens, and London has received the benefit. While in the city Mr. Giles was prominent in the work of the Royal Templars of Temperance. London loses a valued public servant in his removal to Stratford.

MORE NAMES ADDED

Further additions to the list of those mebers and former members of the 7th Regiment Fusiliers who have gone overseas, which was published in The Advertiser some time ago have been received by Capt. J. M. Watt of the 7th Regiment from Sergt. Harry Bennett in England, and have been added to the honor roll as follows:

George Apps, H. J. Bennett, H. Brett, J. Boyle, C. Chessman, Lieut. H. A. Fox, E. Gardner, K. Munro, R. G. Petrie, N. Porte, Lieut. A. Skelton, J. E. Sussex.

FRANCHISE BILL IS PUT THROUGH ITS LAST STAGE

Government Has Feathered its Nest by Gagging Parliament.

MAJORITY OF 21.

OTTAWA, Sept. 15.—At ten minutes past two this morning the Commons divided on Dr. Neely's amendment to the motion for third reading, which declared that the bill should be referred to committee to strike out the disfranchisement provisions of the act. The motion was rejected on a vote of 53 to 32, a Government majority of 20. Barrette of Berthier, voted with the Opposition, and McLean (Queens-Sunbury, Guthrie and Champagne, Opposition members, voted with the Government.

The third reading was adopted by 53 to 32, a majority of 21.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 15.—The franchise bill passed the Commons at 2 o'clock this morning under closure. The gag has been applied to every stage of the measure, from the first to the last, and by this means the time for consideration of the bill has been cut to a scant week. The bill made its first appearance last Saturday, and since that time the Government has kept the pressure of closure steadily urging it forward.

The measure is counted upon by the Government as making this election a certainty, whatever influence it may have upon the fortunes of the Conservative party after the war ends. Then there will have to be a new franchise measure, that will give the Canadian women who have not been accorded war votes, and the alien-born, Canadian naturalized people of the Dominion the chance of expressing their views at the polls on the administration.

To Announce Reorganization.

Prorogation is looked for about the middle of next week, and announcement of Government reorganization before the week closes. The military service act will be applied at once for the first draft. The hundred thousand Canadian reinforcements will be gathered and their training commenced. The election will be brought on before the new year, so that while the drafted men will have the right to vote, their women relatives will not. Only the female connections of soldiers who are overseas have been franchised. This program will prevent many thousands of Canadian women expressing their feelings upon the measures of the Government.

It is stated that the Senate, which gave third reading to the soldiers' vote bill today will not be the scene of a fight against the franchise bill. The senators take the view that the regulation of the franchise is a matter which concerns the Commons alone, as the senators, being appointed for life, are not subject to the votes of the people. This attitude of the Upper House, combined with closure, enables the Government to count upon prorogation within a week.

BE CLEAN INTERNALLY

Over 50,000 People Are Now Doing So.

For many years physicians have agreed that 95 per cent of human ills was caused by accumulated waste in the Lower Intestine; that in our present way of living Nature could not remove all this waste without assistance, no matter how regular we might be; and that the poisons from this waste circulated through the blood pulled us away down below par and were responsible for many diseases of a serious nature.

During this time the "J. B. L. Cascade" for Internal Bathing has, because of their recommendation and those of its users, been steadily growing in favor.

Recently, however, the startling news which has been covering the country that great surgeons and specialists have been operating on the Lower Intestine in such serious diseases as Tuberculosis, and attribute such conditions of chronic ill-health as Nervous Debility and Rheumatism to this cause, also saying that these poisons are favorable to the development of Cancer and Tuberculosis (as stated in a recent article in the New York Times), has caused people to become thoroughly aware of the importance of keeping this Lower Intestine free from all poisonous waste matter, and over 500,000 are now using Internal Baths.

This enthusiastic and grateful letter is by no means an exceptional one amongst the hundreds on our file:

Lethbridge, Alberta.

Dr. Tyrrell, Toronto:

Dear Doctor Tyrrell,—After using your "J. B. L. Cascade" for four months, I feel it my duty as a thankful patient to express my enthusiasm for the great blessing it has been to me. You cannot feel my emotions as I write this letter in praise of you in your great work. Words simply fail to express my thankfulness for first learning of your Cascade. Previous to using it I could not go a day without a drug of some sort, and since using it I have not, on my word of honor, swallowed five cents worth of drugs. I spent over $300 in the two years previous to hearing of the "J. B. L." Would that all the young men and women I see in this town with their faces covered with horrid, unsightly pimples would use it. They would soon get rid of them, as I did. I must stop, or I will be keeping you from your work, but I would fill ten more pages of my past condition of health, also in praise of the "J. B. L." May you enjoy this life to the full.

Sincerely yours,
William Devoy.

If you try the "J. B. L. Cascade" you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable—the poisonous waste makes us bilious, blue, dull and nervous. Internal Baths are Nature's own cure for Constipation—just warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.

Call and see it at The Standard Drug Company, Limited, London.

Ask for "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient," a booklet of great interest, which is given on request. If you prefer, write at once to Chas. A. Tyrrell, M.D., 163 College Street, Toronto, for this Book.

EIGHT SUBMARINES SENT TO BOTTOM BY VESSELS OF BRITISH

These Are Among the Recent Successes Reported.

THRILLING STORIES TOLD

Naval Ships and Armed Merchantmen Take Part In Victories.

London, Sept. 14.—Stories of some recent successes of the British navy against German submarines were given to the public tonight in a series of brief descriptions of eight encounters, in which eight and possibly nine U-boats were accounted for. These eight sea battle pictures were selected so as to cover practically the whole ground of anti-submarine activities.

In one case there was a battle between an auxiliary cruiser and a submarine, in another an engagement between a seaplane and a submarine, then a battle between two submarines, in which the British submarine captain proved himself the better man, and finally two tales of successes of armed merchantmen against the enemy.

First: "From one of our auxiliary naval forces a torpedo was seen approaching on the starboard beam. It jumped out of the water when a hundred yards off, and struck the engine-room near the waterline, making a large rent and flooding several compartments. A starboard lifeboat was blown into the air, pieces landing on the wireless aerial.

First Shot Gets Mark.

"Soon after a periscope was observed just before the port beam. It turned toward the ship, but quickly disappeared as the enemy further submerged. Again it appeared, and was followed this time by the conning tower. Fire was opened, and the first shot hit the base of the conning tower and removed the two periscopes. Many other hits were obtained, and the submarine quickly assumed a list to port, and several men came out of the hatch.

"The U-boat wallowed along for a pace with the stern almost submerged and oil squirting from its side, and the crew came on deck and waved their hands. At this sign of surrender, 'Cease fire' was ordered, whereupon the enemy started to make off at a fair speed, hoping to disappear in the mist. Fire again was opened, a loud explosion took place forward, and falling over on his side, the enemy sank, the last thing seen being his sharp bow, end up, slowly disappearing beneath the water. Two survivors were picked up. Our ship made for harbor."

Second: One of our small craft sighted an enemy submarine at a distance of ten thousand yards. She immediately her course, and five minutes later the enemy stopped and then proceeded towards her. Suddenly she submerged, and shortly afterward, a periscope appeared close on the starboard bow for a few seconds, and then disappeared. The helm was ported, and when over the place where the periscope was seen, an explosive charge was dropped.

The ship circled round, and dropped another charge. The explosion of this charge was followed after two or three seconds by another much more violent explosion which shook the vessel from stem to stern. The water became black over a large area, and a considerable quantity of thick oil and flotsam came to the surface."

Duel Between Subs.

Third: "One of our submarines sighted an enemy submarine on the starboard bow, and so dived, but after seeing him through a periscope for a few minutes, lost sight of him. Our boat came to the surface again, and three hours later sighted the enemy on the starboard beam, two or three miles away.

"Our boat dived to attack, but the enemy altered his course, and again was lost to view. His apparent objective being conjectured, our course was altered, in the hope of cutting him off again, and eventually, he was again detected on the port bow, steering as surmised. Our course was altered as necessary, and when a favorable position was obtained, a torpedo was fired. A splash was observed close to his stern, and a few seconds later the enemy was seen with his stern out of water, smoke hanging around it, and the conning tower half submerged. A minute or two later he disappeared."

Seaplane Gets Pirate.

Fourth: "A seaplane proceeded to attack an enemy submarine which she observed manoeuvring into position to fire a torpedo at a passing merchant ship. Before the seaplane arrived over the submarine the latter submerged, but three bombs were dropped on the position where he disappeared. Five minutes later a large upheaval was noticed where a bomb was dropped. This could best be compared to a huge bubble rising some distance above the level of the sea and distinctly visible for a minute or more. There was no further sign of the submarine."

Fifth: "A patrol noticed a wake with a considerable amount of foam travelling parallel with her course a short distance away. She crossed the wake and dropped an explosive over it. Almost immediately a second charge was dropped, and after it had exploded another explosion took place, oil and bubbles came to the surface, and on this spot a further charge was exploded. Two more patrol craft arrived on the scene and discharged charges. Oil which was still rising after an interval of twelve hours, was heavy brown in color and had a smell of petrol."

Three, Probably Four.

Sixth: "One of our naval forces, hearing gunfire, steered for the position and soon sighted an enemy submarine on her bow. Fire was opened and a hit was obtained. A heavy explosion occurred and the enemy disappeared. The whole conning tower was distinctly visible before."

Seventh: "Two submarines attacked a defensively armed merchant vessel. The first submarine fired a torpedo at close range, which missed and the ship sank her by gunfire. The second submarine then attacked the ship by gunfire, but was damaged and driven off."

Eighth: "A defensively armed merchant vessel encountered a submarine which endeavored to attack at close range. The ship opened fire, hitting the submarine twice and causing it to disappear vertically. The sea appeared to boil for a considerable time afterward."

28 SOLDIERS FROM WESTERN ONTARIO WIN DECORATIONS

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Sept. 14. — By Stewart Lyon, Special Correspondent of Canadian Press.—Military medals have been awarded to the following sergeants and men of a Western Ontario battalion which took part in the battle of Lens, for their conspicuous gallantry:

Sergts. James McCallum, Samuel Foster Ferguson, William Kerr Gray, Hugh McGanley, and Ptes. Levi Thorne, D. McLean Ross, Ronald Taylor, Joseph Gilmore, Arthur White, Frank Baldwin, Nicholson Vernon, Bruce Newhouse, Albert Godbehere, Reginald Adams, Percy Bertrand, Thomas Percival Mason, Percy Albert West, Stanley Clifford MacDonald, William Gladstone Zimmerman, Rudolph Switzer, Merril Eakins Baldwin, George Walling, James Wooder and William Edward Richardson.

The cases of Sergt. Gray and Pte. Willing illustrate the type of deeds for which these awardes have been made.

Sergt. Gray, upon reaching the German support line, encountered a hostile machine gun and its entire crew.

DUCHESS DISPLAYS HER FOOD SERVICE CARD IN RIDEAU HALL WINDOW

Lady Borden and Lady Laurier Also Sign Pledges.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The Duchess of Devonshire, consort of the governor-general, has signed the food service pledge, and caused one of the window cards to be placed in a front window of Rideau Hall. This card reads: "To win the war, this household is pledged to carry out conscientiously the advice and desires of the food controller."

Lady Borden, wife of Premier Borden, has also signed the food service pledge. In her letter to the food controller, Lady Borden says:

"I will be pleased to display the 'win the war' card in one of my windows. I have been trying to observe these rules for some weeks in my home, and do not find them at all difficult to carry out."

Lady Laurier, wife of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the Opposition, has also signed the pledge for food control.

HAS NOT SURRENDERED.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 14 (Friday).—The Associated Press is officially informed that Gen. Korniloff has not yet surrendered. Still faithful to him are some of the "striking battalions," and also a considerable number of detachments of Tekke Turkomans.

THREATENS TO TAKE OWN LIFE WHEN SENTENCED

Young Thief Tells Judge He Will Never Serve Term.

SWEARS HE IS INNOCENT

Man Committed for Indeterminate Term Fights Constables in Court.

"I am innocent, I will never serve the sentence, I will kill myself the first chance I get and they can take me out of here in a box," exclaimed William Johnson to Judge Judd today as the latter sentenced the prisoner to an indeterminate period of from three months to two years, less one day, at the Burwash Industrial Farm at Sudbury.

Johnson, who was employed until recently as a driver for a local coal company, was convicted of theft at his trial a week ago. He was found guilty of stealing a new top buggy from Thomas Miller, West Nissouri Township.s He has a record of having served three previous terms, one of them fifteen months for theft at St. Thomas.

After the scene in the courtroom, Johnson was taken by two constables to his cell. He struggled and fought the officers, and after being placed in his cell screamed and cursed so that, fearing he might attempt to fracture his skull by butting against the wall he was placed in the dungeon.

After some time in the dungeon he became quiet, and on his promise to behave was taken back to his cell.

The prisoner requested to be sent to Kingston, but Judge Judd informed him that the court could not commit him there as his sentence was less than two years.

"Well, then, I will kill myself," said Johnson.

STEPPED OFF TRAIN INTO RAVINE, SARNIA BRAKEMAN KILLED

Hamilton, Sept. 15.—Cecil Haley of Sarnia, a Grand Trunk brakeman, was killed last night at Bronte, when he fell 60 feet into a ravine. The train stopped on the bridge and Haley, apparently ignorant of this, stepped out of the caboose and fell into space. His neck was broken. An inquest has been ordered.

WILL NEVER FORGET LONDON GIRL'S ACTS

Blinded Canadian Soldiers Pay Tribute to Nursing Sister MacRoberts.

During her recent visit to the school for blind soldiers in Halifax, superintended by Sir Frederick Fraser, Mrs. E. B. Smith, regent of the Lord Roberts Chapter, I. O. D. E., talked with two blind soldiers, one from Calgary and the other from near the Alberta city. Learning that she was from London, they asked her eagerly if she knew Nursing Sister MacRoberts. Miss MacRoberts, who is a well-known London girl, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. J. MacRoberts, and sister of Miss Ethel MacRoberts, superintendent of the women's department of the Government Employment Bureau, had attended to them when they were brought into the hospital wounded and blinded. Never, they stated, could they forget her kindness to them.

Miss Luta Laymon, contralto soloist meeting yesterday voted $1,000 to the Canadian St. Dunstan's School for the Blind at Halifax.

GETS BRONZE MEDAL FROM FRENCH SOCIETY

Secretary of Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., Remembered for Her Work.

Mrs. R. M. Graham, secretary of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., has just received a handsome bronze medal from Gabriel Hanotaux, president of the American committee of French relief, Paris, France, in recognition of services rendered by her as secretary of the French Relief tag day, conducted by the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire in London and throughout No. 1 Military District in 1916.

The inscription on the medal expresses deep gratitude for the help given on "France's Day" by the I. O. D. E. in raising a large sum of money for the French soldiers, both in the hospitals and on duty, and for the inhabitants of the invaded part of France.

Pains Over Left Kidney

Warned This Captain That the Kidneys Were Responsible for His Pains and Aches—Freed of Pain and Suffering by a Well-Known Medicine.

Hereford, Que., Sept. 15.—Capt. Peabody is well known all through this section, and his cure by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has aroused great interest in this great medicine.

The captain had been suffering for a long time, and could never get any treatment to afford lasting relief until he began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Capt. A. Peabody, Hereford, Que., writes: "For years I suffered from indigestion, rheumatism and neuralgia. Lightninglike pains would shoot all through my body, and I also had severe pains over my left kidney and through the hips. I doctored for years and tried all kinds of remedies, but the only result was money spent without relief. At last I read in Dr. Chase's Almanac of his Kidney-Liver Pills and decided to try them. One box made such a change that I sent for five more. Before I had finished them the pains in my kidneys and hips had disappeared, and I was clear of those sharp, shooting pains through the body. I still take these Pills occasionally to keep my bowels regular, and would not be without them, as I have them to thank for my cure.

"I can also speak highly of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Powder and Linseed and Turpentine. The former cured me of catarrh in the head, which caused frequent headaches. I am completely cured of this now, and breathe freely as when a boy. The Linseed and Turpentine proved of great benefit for a bad cough which bothered me continually for three winters. Last winter I took one bottle of the Linseed and Turpentine, and have not been bothered with a cough since."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Don't be talked into accepting anything said to be just as good. Imitations and substitutes only disappoint.

Ferrar Davidson, K. C., of Toronto, will be the special speaker for the evening. He spoke in Owen Sound and St. Thomas recently on conservation of food, and will discuss the same question Sunday evening.

During the coming week all housewives will be visited and asked to sign pledge cards and to co-operate in serving the Empire and aiding the soldiers by conservation of food. A special musical program has been arranged.

SUNDAY LAST SERVICE

Talented Contralto Leaves for Boston to Continue Studies.

Miss Luta Laymon, contralto coloist for some years past of the First Methodist Church, is singing for the last time at the morning service on Sunday before leaving to continue her studies in Boston. She has had the good fortune to be accepted by William L. Whitney, teacher of Christene Miller, to whom the great Scottish-American artiste gives a great share of the credit fo rher success.

The fact that the gifted young London girl is to be accepted by Mr. Whitney is a tribute to her talent. In Boston, she will also take up dramatic work in the Emerson School of Expression. Her solo tomorrow will be "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears."

RECKLESS DRIVING ENDANGERS CITIZENS

Many Complaints Registered of Conduct of Motor Owners.

Complaints of reckless driving are numerous, there being many serious accidents during the past few days. Many citizens today had narrow escapes, the motorists seeming to take it for granted that pedestrians have no rights whatever on the streets.

The attention of the police commission has been called to the state of affairs, and prosecutions will certainly follow.

GRANDSONS AS PALLBEARERS.

The funeral of John Corsaut, one of the best-known farmers in the district, was held from his late residence, lot 13, concession 12, Friday afternoon, at 2 p.m. Rev. J. Elder conducted the service at the house and at Decker's Cemetery, where interment was made. The pallbearers were five grandsons, Alan R. Russel and Rex Needham, W. McDonald, Thomas Corsaut and J. Elliot, a friend.

The funeral was largely attended by friends and relatives.

Miss Leona Tackaberry of Los Angeles, who has been spending the summer with Dr. and Mrs. Thompson of Elmwood avenue, has returned to her home.

ELIGIBLES CAN BE EXAMINED NOW FOR LATER DRAFT

Those eligible under the new military service act to be drafted for the Canadian army, who want to know whether they are fitted for service or whether they may apply for exemption on the grounds of physical unfitness can go before the medical board at the armories to gain the information.

Instructions were issued today at district headquarters that the officers of the mobilization centres in this district may examine any men who present themselves to find out how they stand physically. The order affects only the two mobilization centres at London and Windsor, and was issued in order that the great rush of men, to be examined later, may be relieved as far as possible. Those men who do not reside near to the two centres at present in operation will have to wait until the four other centres are ready on September 25, the same date on which the members of the exemption tribunals must be named.

Employing Civilian Doctors.

The new mobilization centres, as announced Friday by The Advertiser, will be located in Sarnia, Guelph, Stratford and Harriston, and the medical boards sitting at these centres will be composed in part of civilian doctors, owing to the dearth of experienced military doctors trained in the work of examining and classifying men. The plan to be used in this district will, because of the few trained medical officers at the disposal of the authorities, be considerably different from that adopted in other districts.

According to the announcement made today at headquarters men within the age limits may now go to the two centres at present in operation and ascertain their physical fitness, but this is simply a preliminary examination for the individual's own information, and they will need to present themselves for re-examination after September 25th. Records will be kept of the medical status of each man examined, however, whether fit or unfit.

Experts for Doubtfuls.

On September 25th the general plan goes into operation, and the six centres will be open throughout the district. These local boards will pass Class A men (those fit for combatant service), but any men who are not Class A men will be thrown out by the local boards for the timebeing, and they will be examined by a board of specialists which will make the rounds of the various centres periodically, and will classify the men who are not Class A men into categories under the military regulations. In this way the doubtful cases will be reserved for the judgment of the experts, while the cases about which there is no doubt as to fitness will be passed upon by the local boards.

Men who are finally rejected as permanently unfit by the visiting board of experts, will be given a certificate of rejection, while a complete medical "history" sheet of each man's case will be kept in the records. Those temporarily unfit will be so classified, and will be temporarily exempted on those grounds.

No regulations have been received from militia headquarters at Ottawa with regard to the matter, and the staff of each district has been left to its own initiative to formulate what plans seem suitable to the particular needs of that section of the country.

Must Appear Again.

An important feature in the announcement in camp orders today that all rejection certificates issued up to date by the military medical officers are today cancelled, and all men holding such certificates will be required to appear again before the doctors. This is necessary on account of the many changes in the medical regulations, for many men formerly pronounced unfit would now be considered fit, or if not fit for a combatant unit might be fit for non-combatant duty, or for service in Canada. In addition many men unfit at the time of the issue of the certificate have now become well and fit.

MAKING APPEAL TO ATTORNEY-GENERAL TO SECURE RELEASE

Failing to meet with success in an appeal to the minister of justice to secure the release of Miss Margaret Thompson from the county jail, where she has been for nearly three months on a contempt charge, the next move on the part of her friends will be to lay the case before Attorney-General I. B. Lucas. The object in appealing to the attorney-general of Ontario is because of his jurisdiction with respect to the judges of the high court of the province. Mr. Justice Chute, who committed Miss Thompson to jail would be consulted by the attorney-general with respect to the case, the friends of Miss Thompson believe.

The consensus of legal opinion is that Miss Thompson will be released only by an appeal to a high court judge, preferably Mr. Justice Clute, who made the committment.

Miss Thompson was sent to jail because of contempt of court. The contempt was that she refused to divulge information as to the location of Jean Link, her 12-year-old niece, whom the court awarded to the father.

Miss Thompson has been in jail now nearly three months, the longest contempt sentence ever served by any person in the Dominion. She still remains firm in her determination not to divulge the information and continues to repeat her first statement that she will die in jail rather than give in.

The minister of justice, after careful consideration of the case and petitions signed by 4,000 Londoners, announced he had no jurisdiction, due to the fact that Miss Thompson was serving a sentence arising out of a civil and not a criminal case.

Several local lawyers maintain that the attorney-general of the province will have no more jurisdiction and cannot take any more action than the minister of justice. The general opinion in legal circles is that Miss Thompson, through a solicitor, will have to appeal for her release before a high court judge. As was pointed out in a recent issue of The Advertiser, she was not sentenced for any definite period, but only until such time as she had, in the words of the committment order, "purged herself of the said contempt."

If the appeal to the attorney-general fails the only course left will be an appeal to a high court judge, otherwise Miss Thompson will remain in jail indefinitely.

Thirteen Guessed Correctly

More than fifteen thousand guesses were made on the number of bags of flour in the exhibit of Hunt Bros. in the main building at the Western Fair this year. Seven prizes were offered, but owing to the fact that thirteen people guessed the correct number, the firm decided to give a prize to each one in the order in which the guesses were made. Following are the names of the winners:

A. E. Doan, Thedford, Ont.
Sybil Higman, 691 William street, London, Ont.
Mrs. D. C. Graham, Glencoe, Ont.
Jennie Armstrong, Ridgetown, Ont.
Ella McAnn, 1068 Dundas street, London, Ont.
Mrs. W. J. Boyle, 1044 College street, Toronto, Ont.
Miss Lyons, 772 Grey street, London, Ont.
Mrs. W. C. Falls, 36 Grosvenor street, London, Ont.
Mrs. W. Bryanton, 109 King street, London, Ont.
B. Challoner, Komoka, Ont.
Abie Leff, 14 William street, London, Ont.
Archie Edwards, 5 Ingleside street, London, Ont. 77u

HORSE AND CATTLE SHOWING AT WESTERN FAIR OF 1917, BEST QUALITY ON RECORD

Standard Set Was High One, and Exhibits Were All of Prize-Winning Calibre— Cattle Considered Far Above Any Other Exhibition.

The exhibit of horses and cattle at the Western Fair set a high standard this year, the quality being the best on record. The numbers may not have been as large as at some exhibitions although the difference is not noticeable, but this is accounted for by the fact that nothing but high grade animals are shown at the Western. The owner must have a winner, or he will not take a chance on the keen competition. The quality as mentioned before was exceptionally high, probably as high as at any exhibition on the continent.

The horses were excellent. The thoroughbreds did not show up as well as they might, although there was an improvement. One wonders that there are not more thoroughbreds shown. The demand for saddle and jumping horses is very heavy. Western Ontario can lead the continent on these classes. The records of all the big horse shows demonstrate that. However, there was not the competition for the prizes for thoroughbreds that there should have been. Ira Mabee won one first with his stallion, but James McFarlane, Ailsa Craig, took practically all the ribbons in the other classes. He had a fine string, the only saving feature in this exhibition.

Crack Saddle Horses.

In connection with this, one must mention the saddle and jumping classes. There were a score of crack animals shown. James McFarlane showed Peter Gordon, a three-yaer-old that is bound to be a winner. He has been purchased by John V. Flanagan. The Beck, Blackburn, Graydon, Little and the Willowdale strings were splendid, horses that could win the ribbons in any kind of company. The value in the thoroughbred is evident there.

The Western took the lead also in carriage and roadster classes, as well as in high steppers. The trouble is that they are not well enough shown to get the most value of them for the Fair. The goods are there, only they are badly displayed. G. H. Smith, Delhi, won the high stepping classes with some beauties. One class of eight horses was shown on Monday, and E. B. Clancy, Guelph, and W. H. Millman, Toronto, both stated that they never saw a better showing. The horses were handled by amateurs largely, which made the show much more interesting to the public, and is quite the best thing for the industry.

Money Well Distributed.

In the standardbreds T. D. Elliott, Bolton; R. Burgess & Sons, Mitchell; J. A. Swartz, St. Catharines; W. Dddy, St. Mary's, and others led in these varieties, the money being well distributed. In the roadsters Ira Mabee, Aylmer, was the big noise, with W. H. Shore, Glanworth; T. Fried, Caseville; F. M. Case, Burgessville, and J. W. Pinkney, Stratford, handling some mighty good ones.

The class for hackney stallions was won by Graham Bros., Claremont, and A. Watson, Forest; G. H. Smith, Delhi, and Jas. Husband, Eden's Mills, divided the prizes for females. F. A. Smith, Port Burwell, had the best stallion in the carriage classes, and F. M. Case, Burgessville; O. A. Graham, Parkhill, and Hardy Shore, Glanworth, winning in the other classes.

Miss McCartney won the prizes for lady drivers, with Miss Marion Beck second. There was a big class.

Graham Bros., Claremont, had a wonderful string of Clydesdales, and won most of the ribbons. In Shires, Johnston of Croton was a heavy winner, and the string of McMichael, Seaforth, were the big money winners in the heavydrafts.

Cattle Best in Years.

The cattle exhibits were away above anything that has been seen here in many years. Take Shorthorns for instance. The strings of J. A. Watt, Elora; J. J. Elliott, Guelph; George Amos & Sons, Moffatt; R. S. Nicholson, Parkhill, and John Gardhouse, Weston, were competing for prizes. The battles were very keen, and every one of them got a piece of the change.

There were many Herefords, this beef breed seeming to get more popular. L. O. Clifford, Oshawa, won many firsts, but he had hard competition from McNeil, Dutton; Hunter Bros., Orangeville, and G. E. Reynolds, Elora. James Bowman, Guelph; J. C. Larkin, Queenston, and John Lowe, Elora, pretty well divided the prizes in the Aberdeen-Angus class, a mighty fine one. T. A. Russell, Toronto, took most of the money for fat cattle.

Ayrshires Popular.

Ayrshires were a popular breed. Alex. Hume, Campbellford; W. Stewart, Campbellford, and A. T. Turner, Ryckman's Corners, having splendid herds. The ribbons were distributed fairly evenly.

John Pringle, London; A. T. Little, London, and R. H. Bull, Brampton, had a battle royal for honors in the Jersey class, with T. O'Brien, London, grabbing off a prize here and there. Bull won in the male classes pretty largely, with A. T. Little getting first for bull calf, six months old. John Pringle and A. T. Little divided pretty evenly in the females, Bull and O'Brien getting a first or two each. Mr. Pringle won the sweepstakes for cows, beating A. T. Little's Toronto winner.

Holsteins, after all, are the popular dairy cattle, and the showing was great. W. G. Bailey, Paris; W. H. Haley, Springford, and A. E. Hulet, Norwich, had large and excellent herds. Hulet won well in bulls, while Haley had most honors in cows.

It was a great show.

16 Cars of Cattle From Ailsa Craig Exported to U.S.A.

AILSA CRAIG, Sept. 14.—George Campbell has this week shipped nine carloads of cattle to J. Stern & Co., of New York, and seven carloads to Swift & Co., Chicago. The cattle were purchased from MacArthur Bros and McDougal Bros.

STREET LIGHTING ACCOUNT COMES UP THIS COMING WEEK

Extra Charge May Bring an Appeal to Commission.

There will be several council and committee meetings this coming week. The council will meet on Monday evening. There is not much business on the order paper, and the session should be a brief one. The special committee of the city council on assessments will meet the board of education, and the separate school board to deal with separate school assessments. The division of taxes from firms composed of Protestants and Catholics will be discussed, and an amicable arrangement arrived at.

The special committee to adjust lighting rates will also hold a session. Some time ago the utilities commission placed lights on every pole on some streets, instead of every other pole, as is the general rule, and also many high powered lamps at street intersections. The understanding was that the commission should bear the cost, but the city is being charged with the expense. The committee may appeal to the Hydro Electric Commission for a ruling.

There will be a meeting of another committee to prepare the bylaw giving grants to various charitable institutions. This will involve a considerable amount of work. Other committees will also gather, the board of works on Tuesday evening, and the finance committee probably on Wednesday.

IN HOSPITAL WITH FEVER, BUT SPEEDY RECOVERY EXPECTED

Pte. C. D. Biggar Appears Bright, Reports Red Cross Visitor.

Mrs. S. Biggar, 596 Pall Mall street, has been advised, through the Canadian Red Cross that her son, Pte. C. D. Biggar of the 14th Canadians, is improving from his wounds and trench fever in a British war hospital. Pte. Biggar was one of the original 6th Field Battery and went overseas with the first contingent. He was invalided home as medically unfit, but later enlisted and passed the physical examination as a member of the 142nd Battalion. He was ill in England for some time, but rejoined his unit and fought through the battle of Vimy Ridge and other engagements. He was shot through the shoulder and sent back to an English hospital. When he recovered he again rejoined his unit in the firing line and was a victim of trench fever and pneumonia.

Dear Madam,—I beg to inform you that Pte. C. D. Biggar, No. 823429, 14th Canadians, has been admitted to Dustan War Hospital, Northampton, England, suffering with trench fever, but he seems very well and bright, although in bed, and we hope he will soon be better."

Pte. Biggar's brother, Lance-Corp. John Biggar, was killed in action at Givenchy on June 15, 1915, at the same time that Lieut.-Col. H. C. Becher met his death. Corp. Biggar enlisted with the 7th Regiment quota of what became the original 1st Battalion.

PRIEST DENIES GIVING MONEY TO LALUMIERE

Montreal, Sept. 15.—The priest whom Joseph Tremblay referred to in his confession as having given Elie Lalumiere $25 to help along the cause is Rev. Father Perrier of the Mile End parish. He absolutely denies that he ever contributed a cent towards this or any other fund with which Lalumiere was connected.

Howard T. Beidler, wife and family of Cleveland, while on a motoring trip to Buffalo and other points, visited for several days recently with Dr. and Mrs. Thomson of Elmwood avenue.

LIVE WIRE FALLS ACROSS BED WHERE NURSES LAY ASLEEP

Crash When Tent Is Brought Down Endangers Three.

WERE ON DUTY AT FAIR

Members of St. John Ambulance Have Close Calls From Injury Today.

Three nurses, Miss C. Ram, Miss P. Needham and Miss D. Thompson, on duty at No. 4 Nursing Division headquarters at Queen's Park narrowly escaped serious injury at 7 o'clock this morning when a heavy iron pole carrying live wires crashed on top of their tent. The three young women had remained at the park all night in order to meet any emergencies which might arise, and were asleep in the tent when the accident occurred. The wires leading from the tent pole to the nearest hydro pole were hung much lower than usual, and a passing motor truck caught them, bringing them and the heavy pole to the ground. Some of the wires were broken and the insulation ripped off, leaving the bare wire. One of these fell across a bed, and it was necessary for the young woman to crawl from beneath it to escape electrocution. The heavily charged wire prevented her from raising her head even a few inches.

The falling pole upset a cauldron of boiling water which was used for sterilizing, and this added to the danger, as the scalding stream was spattered in all directions. None touched the occupants of the tent.

Members of the hospital say that it will be necessary to obtain a new tent for the division now, as they think the present one has been damaged beyond repair.

DOCTORS BELIEVE BOY CAN RECOVER FROM HIS INJURIES

Hopes are now entertained for the recovery of John Biddles, the 12-year-old son of Pte. Ralph Biddles, now on overseas service, who was run over by a motor car at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in front of the Dundas street entrance to the Fair grounds. He regained consciousness at 5 o'clock this morning, but continues yet to suffer great pain.

Besides a severe fracture of the skull he had his arm broken and his chest badly crushed. Several persons witnessed the accident. P. C. Hunter, who was on duty in front of the grounds, saw the lad suddenly run out into the road right in front of an auto driven by Alex. McCallum of lot 14, concession 3, Dorchester. It is stated that Mr. McCallum was driving very slowly at the time, but that the boy darted out so quickly and so close to the car that it was impossible for Mr. McCallum to avoid striking him. He stopped the car within a couple of feet, but not before young Biddle had been knocked down and run over. He was carried into the fair grounds and attended at the tent of No. 4 Nursing Division and later rushed to Victoria Hospital.

TWO YOUNG AMERICAN SOLDIERS KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Buffalo, Sept. 15.—Phillip La Pierre of New York, a student at the Fort Niagara training camp, and Lieut. Surgeon B. W. J. Worrall of the United States training ship Yantic, now in this port, were killed in an automobile accident on the Niagara Falls Boulevard, near Tonawanda, early today. David Nichols of Niagara Falls, Ont., a private in the Canadian army, the driver of the machine, was seriously hurt.

La Pierre and Nichols had spent the evening in Buffalo and were returning to Niagara Falls with Lieut. Surgeon Worrall as their guest, when the accident occurred. Nichols said the car struck a depression, causing it to overturn. Worrall and La Pierre were crushed to death under the machine. Nichols was taken home after making a statement to the Niagara Falls police.

LABOR MAN NAMED

R. H. Hessell of Trades Council on Court of Revision.

R. H. Hessell, a member of the trades and labor council, has been appointed by Mayor H. A Stevenson as a member of the court of revision He will take the place of ex-Ald. George H. Haney, who has gone West. Mr. Hessell will act for the balance of the year.

10 LONDONERS WITH RETURNING MEN TO ARRIVE NEXT WEEK

Half Score From City Are Invalided Home.

Ten London soldiers are with the party of wounded and invalided men who arrived at Quebec this week. They have gone before a medical board, and will arrive in the city either on Wednesday or Thursday forenoon next. Passenger Agent H. J. McCallum was notified today that the party would arrive on one of the above-mentioned days. The exact date will be announced later.

Forty men, whose homes are in the surrounding district or who enlisted in Western Ontario towns, will arrive on the same train.

SURPLUS OF

and the exhibit of these and the sheep unusually large. Horses have been splendid in quality, but there have not been so many of them as some other years. So far as room is concerned there isn't enough in any department.

Ideal Location at Cove.

At the same time the feeling has been strong that we should not make any move until after the war. When we do so we want to do it properly. The ideal place for new exhibition grounds, it seems to me, is out towards the Cove, where the city owns a large amount of grounds. There are unrivalled natural features there for making beautiful grolnds. If the city and county would unite in tearing down the present county and city buildings on Ridout street, build new ones and fix up the property right to the river, I don't know where there could be found anything to equal the beauty of a river drive, including this feature, new Fair grounds and Springbank Park."

So far as "other departments" to which Capt. Robinson referrs are concerned, the crowds attracted to the Western Fair by reason of the agricultural features years ago awakened manufacturers and other producers to the importance of getting their goods before the public by coming here. This has meant the necessity for the Process Building, the crowding to overflowing of the Transportation, Machinery and Main buildings, the devoting of a whole building to women's work, the doubling of the capacity of the Horticultural and Agricultural buildings, and the erection of a building dedicated exclusively to art.

The automobile, which has crowded all other vehicles to the wall in the transportation exhibits, has been an important factor in the increase of attendance at the Western Fair. Thousands came by automobile this year, distances some of them of more than a hundred miles.

Want Information Bureau.

With regard to insuring better accommodation for visitors another year, several of the directors interviewed today expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the plan suggested in The Advertiser of opening an information bureau with a list of reliable places, where sleeping and eating accommodation could be obtained.

One director said: "I don't know why we didn't think of it before. I have visited enough big fairs to know that something of the kind should be done here. Anyway, I guess the trouble with us was we didn't quite realize how the Western Fair was growing up."

Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore is strongly of the opinion that an information bureau should be established down town, to give visitors information. He thought the idea workable, although the suggestion was made too late this year to have any practical value so far as the Fair was concerned. The question of purchasing new and larger grounds would be dealt with as soon as practicable.

WAS HE KNOCKED OUT OR DID BONE BREAK?

Pittsburg, Sept. 15.—Sporting circles here today were debating the question of whether Phil Bloom, Brooklyn lightweight boxer, broke his ankle in the second round of his ten-round bout with Benny Leonard, lightweight champion here last night, or whether Leonard scored a knockout over the Brooklyn boxer. Those present at the exhibition were in the main convinced that Bloom had been knocked out. Physicians attending the injured boxer, however, gave out statements that a bone in Bloom's right ankle had been fractured.

WEDDING BELLS

BRUNNER—OESTREICHER.

A quiet and prettying wedding took place on Saturday, September 8, at 3 p.m., at the home of the bride's parents at Dashwood, when Martha Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Oestreicher, became the wife of Arthur J. Brunner of Chicago, Ill., the Rev. H. A. Kellermann, cousin of the bride, officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a dainty gown of white crepe de chine. The bridesmaid was Miss Esther Brunner, and the groom was attended by Milton Oestreicher, brother of the bride. Miss Flora Lane played the wedding march. During the signing of the register, the solo, "Some Day When You Are Mine," was sung by Mr. Milton Oestreicher.

MILITARY COURT PROBES STORY OF WOUNDED SOLDIER

Inquiry Proceeding Into Mysterious Shooting Case.

DISBELIEF IN THE STORY

Authorities Not Prepared To Accept Claim of Murder Attempt of Unknown.

For the purpose of inquiring into the circumstances surrounding the wounding, by a revolver shot, on Thursday evening of Pte. J. S. Wilson of the 1st Depot Battalion, W.O.R., a court of inquiry, under the presidency of Major Tanton, of No. 1 Special Service Company, is sitting today at Carling Heights camp.

According to the story told to the military authorities at the orderly room of he 7th Guard Details, Princess avenue, Wilson, accompanied by a civilian friend was walking along the west side of Ridout street, about ten o'clock Thursday evening, when he was shot by some unknown person from behind the fence that parallels the sidewalk there.

In view of the fact that a soldier and a civilian were seen by Miss Elizabeth Dewar, Wharncliffe road, with a revolver on the breakwater west of the Thames, between Blackfriars and Oxford streets, as she was returning from work about 5:30 on Thursday afternoon, the military authorities are disinclined to believe the story of the shooting as told by Pte. Wilson. The men appeared to be firing the revolver into the water at the time they were seen by Miss Dewar.

Additional mystery was added today when it was discovered that Pte. Wilson was a deserter from his unit, or at least he would have been absent without leave three weeks, and would have been struck off the strength as a deserter today, according to the military authorities. On this account he was not missed from his unit, and the officers of the battalion were not notified that the accident had happened until late Friday afternoon.

The theory regarded as most plausible in military circles today was that the two men were handling the revolver, and that it was discharged accidentally, the bullet entering his shoulder.

give way to this point, but he also is negotiating through Minister of the Interior Kishkin for the entry into the cabinet of representatives of the Moscow industrial workers, and these declare that they will not accept portfolios if the Constitutional Democrats are expelled.

No Purely Socialist Cabinet.

The Social Democrats and the Social Revolutionists, while continuing to oppose the Constitutional Democrats, declare they are also against the formation of a purely Socialist cabinet. The problem is complicated by the attitude of the Petrograd Council of Deputies, in which at last night's meeting the Bolshavikis for the first time gained an overwhelming majority of 279 against 115 in favor of an extremely radical program. This program declares that not only the Constitutional Democrats, but also all representatives of propertied classes, must be excluded from power; that the policy of compromise must be abandoned, as it is merely a cause of counter-revolutionary plotting, and that exceptional powers of repression claimed by the Government must be relinquished.

Socialist Program.

It also demands the immediate declaration of a democratic republic, the abolition of private property and land, with the transfer to peasants of all stock and machinery on estates, control by the working classes over production, the nationalization of the chief branches of industry, "merciless taxation" of capital, and the confiscation of war profits.

The resolution demands further the publication of secret treaties, an immediate invitation to the warring states to conclude peace, the expulsion of counter-revolutionaries from commands in the army; the satisfaction of the demands of Ukraine and Finland, the dissolution of the Duma and the Council of Empire, the immediate summoning of a constitutional assembly and the abolition of privileges of nobles.

Given Warning.

M. Tseretelli, former minister of the interior, vainly warned the meeting against extremists, declaring that the reactionaries await with impatience the transfer of power into the hands of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies, which will give them excuse for a new attack on the revolution. The Bolshevikis retorted that only the proletariat could save the revolution.

Premier Kerensky was engaged in negotiations all day Friday, but a settlement of the difficulties is not yet in sight.

INTEREST IN WAR QUICKENS.

Petrograd, Sept. 15.—Judging from the tone of press comments, party and individual expressions of opinion which are raining in the Korniloff episode has had the effect of quickening interest in the war and convincing the public that only a well-disciplined army with a vigorous fighting program can save Russia. Gen. Palchinsky, the new commander of the troops in the Petrograd district, in an interview assures the public that the revolution "has had not the slightest unfavorable influence on the fighting capacity of our troops."

Telegrams from the front announce that the spirit of the soldiers is good, while an official dispatch refers to the devoted bravery displayed by the soldiers fighting at Okla. It is stated that the revolting troops everywhere are returning to their positions.

Gen. Stcharbatcheff, the commander on the Rumanian front, has issued a stirring appeal, declaring that it is the supreme duty of the soldiers to defend the fatherland against the foreign foe.

THE BUSINESS WOMAN

Today, more than ever before, is woman's opportunity. Many new occupations are now opened to her, which, before the war, she was deemed unfitted to fill. And truth to tell she has risen to the opportunity, and now shares many business responsibilities in former times confined to men. But, as women are subject to more frequent fluctuations of health than men, many will be handicapped early, if they regard their health requirements too lightly.

The nervous strain, long hours and prolonged mental or physical fatigue thin the blood and weaken the nerves. Such conditions as women are now called upon to undergo can only be endured by a full-blooded constitution. This is as true for men as for women, only weaker women suffer soonest. The woman worker, in any line, requires her blood replenished frequently. She needs new, rich blood to keep her health under the trying conditions of business life, and to fortify her system against the effects of overwork. This applies also to the woman in the home, who, perhaps, has more worries and anxieties than usual. So let all girls and women take heed and renew their blood promptly at the first approach of pallor, lack of appetite, headache or backache. This can be best and most effectively accomplished by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new, rich blood and thus help womankind so perfectly. No woman need fear failure of health if they take these pills occasionally to keep them well, or give them a fair trial if they find themselves rundown.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont. b

Face Peeling Easy— Blonde or Brunette

"The blonde's complexion fades early, because her skin is extraordinarily thin and fine," says Mme. Lina Cavalieri. "The brunette's, as a rule, is the reverse. The skin is thicker and has a tendency to an oily appearance."

For either the faded blonde's skin or the brunette's oily or sallow complexion, the best remedy is ordinary mercolized wax. Used every night, this will give one an entirely new complexion within about a week's time. The wax gradually peels off the wornout surface skin, with all its defects, a little each day, without affecting the delicate underskin in the least. The latter will have the exquisitely beautiful glow of youth—indeed, one may readily lose ten or fifteen years from her age, so far as appearance goes, by a course of this simple treatment. The wax, procurable at any drug store, is applied like cold cream.—Advt.

DO YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES?

Tells Simple, Harmless Way to Overcome This Trouble at Home and Improve Hearing 100 Per Cent. in Many Instances.

Thousands of people are constantly troubled with buzzing, ringing, rumbling or hissing noises in their head and ears, are hard of hearing and fear the day when partial or total deafness may be their lot.

Such cases, even though of long standing are not hopeless, as a simple home prescription used daily has shown it possible in many instances to overcome the head and ear noises in less than ten days and to restore clear, distinct hearing in less than thirty.

Get from any druggist 1 ounce Parmint (double strength), which costs about 90 cents. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 ounces granulated sugar. Stir until dissolved and then take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

NOTE—While Parmint is widely used in the treatment of catarrh, people who suffer from head noises or defective hearing should be certain to get it in the special (double strength) form especially designed for treating such cases.—Advt

Nuxated Iron to Make New Age of Beautiful Women and Vigorous Iron Men

Say Physicians—Quickly Puts Roses Into the Cheeks of Women and Most Astonishing Youthful Vitality Into the Veins of Men—It Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Nervous, "Run-Down" Folks 100 Per Cent in Two Weeks' Time.

Opinions of Dr. Schuyler C. Jaques, Visiting Surgeon of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York City; Dr. James Louis Beyea, for fifteen years Adjunct Professor in the New York Homœopathic Medical College, and Wm. R. Kerr, Former Health Commissioner, City of Chicago.

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Since the remarkable discovery of organic Iron, Nuxated Iron, or "Fer Nuxate," as the French call it, has taken the country by storm, it is conservatively estimated that over three million people annually are taking it in this country alone. Most astonishing results are reported from its use by both physicians and laymen. So much so that doctors predict that we shall soon have a new age of far more beautiful, rosy-cheeked women and vigorous iron men.

Dr. Ferdinand King, a New York Physician and Medical Author, when interviewed on this subject, said: "There can be no vigorous iron men without iron. Pallor means anaemia. Anaemia means iron deficiency. The skin of anaemic men and women is pale, the flesh flabby. The muscles lack tone, the brain fags and the memory fails, and often they become weak, nervous, irritable, despondent and melancholy. When the iron goes from the blood of women, the roses go from their cheeks. "In the most common foods of America, the starches, sugars, table syrups, candies, polished rice, white bread, soda crackers, biscuits, macaroni, spaghetti, tapioca, sago, farina, degerminated cornmeal, no longer is iron to be found. Refining processes have removed the iron of Mother Earth from these impoverished foods, and silly methods of home cookery, by throwing down the waste pipe the water in which our vegetables are cooked, are responsible for another grave iron loss.

"Therefore, if you wish to preserve your youthful vim and vigor to a ripe old age, you must supply the iron deficiency in your food by using some form of organic iron, just as you would use salt, when your food has not enough salt."

Former Health Commissioner Wm. R. Kerr, of the City of Chicago, says: "I have taken Nuxated Iron myself, and experienced its health-giving, strength-building effect, and in the interest of the public welfare, I feel it my duty to make known the results of its use. I am well past three score years, and want to say that I believe my own great physical activity is largely due today to my personal use of Nuxated Iron. From my own experience with Nuxated Iron, I feel it is such a valuable remedy that it ought to be used in every hospital and prescribed by every physician in this country."

Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician, who has studied both in this country and in great European medical institutions, said: "As I have said a hundred times over, organic iron is the greatest of all strength-builders.

"Not long ago a man came to me who was nearly half a century old and asked me to give him a preliminary examination for life insurance. I was astonished to find him with the blood pressure of a boy of twenty, and as full of vigor, vim and vitality as a young man; in fact, a young man he really was, notwithstanding his age. The secret, he said, was taking iron—Nuxated Iron had filled him with renewed life. At 30 he was in bad health; at 46 he was careworn and nearly all in. Now at 50, after taxing Nuxated Iron, a miracle of vitality and his face beaming with the buoyancy of youth. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly-looking, just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while double their strength and endurance and entirely rid themselves of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit."

Dr. Schuyler C. Jaques, Visiting Surgeon of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York City, said: "I have never before given out any medical information or advice for publication, as I ordinarily do not believe in it. But in the case of Nuxated Iron I feel I would be remiss in my duty not to mention it. I have taken it myself and given it to my patients with most surprising and satisfactory results. And those who wish to increase their strength, power and endurance will find it a most remarkable and wonderfully effective remedy."

Dr. James Louis Beyea, for 15 years Adjunct Professor in the New York Homœopathic Medical College, says: "As a physician I have always been opposed to prescribing advertised remedies, and for fifteen years, while Adjunct Professor in the New York Homoeopathic Medical College, I taught my medical students that such remedies were generally valueless, but in the case of Nuxated Iron severe tests made on myself and numerous patients have absolutely convinced me that it is a remedy of most extraordinary merit, and one which should be generally prescribed by all physicians. Notwithstanding the fact that I am nearing my 80th birthday, a short course of Nuxated Iron has made me feel like a new man. Friends say, 'What have you been doing to yourself, you look so well and full of life?' In my opinion there is nothing like organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to put youthful strength and power into the veins of the weak, run-down, infirm or aged. But beware of the old forms of metallic iron which often do more harm than good. To be absolutely sure that my patients get real organic iron and not some form of the metallic variety, I always prescribe Nuxated Iron in its original packages."

NOTE: Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians in such a great variety of cases, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians both in Europe and America. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous, rundown conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in nuxated iron, that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron, and increase their strength 100 per cent or over it four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Standard Drug Company, Limited, and all good druggists.

ATTRITION GRINDING GERMANY NOT ONLY TO UTTER DEFEAT BUT TO YEARS OF INCAPACITY

Loss of 2,000,000 Men Next Year Will Wipe Out Youthful Reserves and Reduce Effec t ive Manpower By Million.

By Frank H. Simonds

[Written for The London Advertiser and the New York Tribune—Copyright 1917—The Tribune Association.]

A few weeks ago I made an estimate of the losses of the Germans in the first three years of the war, comparing these with French losses. The figures I was able to get hold of at that time were, as I pointed out, incomplete and unsatisfactory. Since that time the French general staff has published an official estimate of the German losses and of the German numbers. Such an estimate may be accepted as very close to the fact, because, as everyone knows, just as the German sources of information as to French losses and French military conditions are reliable, the French estimates are similarly trustworthy. There is really no mystery so far as numbers are concerned for any of the nations at war.

The figures of the French general staff, published this week, are as follows: I reproduce the dispatch in full, because it must be the basis of all calculations:

FRENCH OFFICIAL FIGURES.

GRAND HEADQUARTERS OF THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 9.—The Associated Press is able to give approximately the figures representing the man-power of Germany in the war at the present time, together with the casualties, as follows:

Fixed formations on the various fronts, employed on lines of communication and stationed in the interior, 5,560,000.

Divisions undergoing formation and men in depots, 600,000.

Losses in killed, permanently disabled and prisoners, 4,000,000.

Wounded, under treatment in hospitals, 500,000.

Total, 10,600,000.

These figures account for all the men called out up to the present for service, as follows:

Trained men, mobilized immediately on the outbreak of the war, 4,500,000.

Untrained Ersatz (compensatory) reservists called out, August, 1914, to February, 1915, 800,000.

Class of 1915, called out May-July, 1915, 450,000.

Remainder of untrained landsturm called out the same month, 150,000.

Class of 1916, called out September-November, 1915, 450,000.

Second ban of landsturm, called early in 1916, 450,000.

Class of 1917, called out March-November, 1916, 450,000.

Third contingent of exempted men, called late in 1916, 300,000.

Class of 1918, called out November, 1916, to March, 1917, 450,000.

Additional exempted men, 1917, 150,000.

Total, 11,500,000.

The discrepancy in the figures is accounted for by the omission of the mail units. The total mobilizable male resources of Germany since the beginning of hostilities, including the yearly classes of recruits up to 1920, number about 14,000,000. Those called up number 10,600,000. The remainder are accounted for as follows: The remaining portion of the class of 1919 awaiting call, 150,000; class of 1920 still uncalled, 450,000; men employed as indispensable in industries and administrations, 500,000; men abroad unable to reach Germany, 200,000; men entirely exempted owing to physical disability, 2,100,000.

Germany's Total Strength.

In sum, then, Germany had available for service for the first four years of the war 11,200,000 men, while 200,000 men were prevented from returning to the colors by the blockade of Germany, which cut off overseas contingents.

Eleven million four hundred thousand, the total figure, represents just about one-sixth of the population of the German empire at the outbreak of the war—that is, something more than 68,000,000. Germany, then, has permantly lost 4,000,000, and has 5,500,000 on the line and behind the line in necessary services. Probably not more than 3,000,000 to 3,500,000 at the most are actually engaged in fighting or are in immediate reserve. She has 600,000 men, mostly in the class of 1920—that is, of boys who are now only 17 years old—and 500,000 more men now in the hospital who some time in the next six months will be returned to duty. This total will be reduced before the beginning of the campaign of 1918 by the permanent losses incurred between now and the 1st of April. These losses will not be less than 50,000 a month, and we may safely figure that 300,000 men will thus be eliminated before the next campaign opens. In other words, the maximum of possible reserves of Germany for the campaign of 1918 will be 800,000 men, and of this number over half will be boys not more than 18 years of age, and 150,000 more will be boys of the class of 1919, who will have reached only the age of 19 next year. Three-quarters of the reserves that Germany will have for next year, then, are boys of 19 and under.

The permanent loss of Germany in the first three years of the war was slightly under 4,000,000—an average permanent loss of 1,300,000 a year, but the loss was much greater in the first two years of the war than in the last year, because, in the first two years there was much heavier fighting. The Russian collapse of this year has resulted in relieving the pressure on the eastern front, and thus directly reducing the casualties. It has also compelled the Allies on the western front to abandon their plan of seeking a decision this year by tremendous offensives, and thus the German loss has been materially smaller on the western front, too, than it was either in the days of the Marne campaign or in the later Verdun episode.

It is not too much to estimate that the German losses for the six months of campaign next year will be in excess of 200,000 a month, and this means that some time before September German reserves will be exhausted and Germany will have to face the problem of shortening her lines or else courting disaster. If Russia is able to take her part next year, or any considerable part, then Germany's loss will not be less than 250,000 a month. It is barely conceivable that a complete failure of Russia would enable Germany to hold on next year, even with reduced effectives. This would postpone a decision until 1919, but it would mean that after the campaign of 1918 Germany would be unable to bring to the front any new troops except the boys of the class of 1921, who would then be eighteen years old. The important point to notice here is that the war now has become for Germany the sacrifice of her youth. Jefferson Davis' phrase of "grinding the youth corn of the confederacy" is finding a significant application in present German military statistics.

So far as Germany is concerned, then, the mathematics of the situation are simple. Having lost over a million and a quarter on an average in each of the three years of conflict, Germany now confronts the certainty of a fourth year with a reserve of less than a million men, made up of boys who cannot have the military value of the older classes. This was the situation of Napoleon in 1812, when his famous "Marie Louise" youngsters displayed a gallantry never surpassed, but were unable to repeat the achievements of the soldiers of the revolution with which Napoleon won his great battles.

The French Situation.

Turning to the situation in France, we may taken the percentages of German man-power and apply them to France. The French loss has been a little smaller in proportion to the French population than the German, but not much. This is evidenced by the fact that the French have not yet called up any of the class of 1920 or put in any of the class of 1919. The French class consists of some 225,000. So we may say that the French are just one class better off than the Germans. Now, the total white population of France and of the colonies from which troops have been drawn was, after deduction is made for allien population, a little more than 40,000,000. France, therefore, mobilizing one-sixth of her population, would have called to the colors 6,750,000, and this in point of fact, is the case, as outside information has demonstrated. The permanent German loss was 35 per cent of the total mobilization, and this would mean in the case of the French, 2,360,000. The temporary loss of the Germans—that is, men in the hospitals who will come back at some time—is 500,000, which is, roughly speaking, 5 per cent. On the same basis the French temporary loss would amount to about 350,000. In all, then, the French permanent and temporary loss would be 2,700,000, and the French troops now available would be 4,050,000. In point of fact, France has used somewhere between 100,000 and 200,000 native troops and troops of the foreign legion coming from other countries, and this element has reduced slightly the cost to the French population itself. We may say, however, that the total permanent loss of France has been something less than two millions and a half, and that the reserves of France now consist of the two classes of 1919 and 1920, not used in any part. The 1920 class has not been called up; the 1919 class is merely coming up for instruction. With the 350,000 wounded who will return, that means some 800,000 men, and that the French have on the line and on communications now something like 3,600,000. These French numbers will be reduced by the French losses in the next six months, which will probably be almost as great as the men coming out of the hospital. Therefore one may reckon that the French reserve has something like 500,000 men for the campaign of next year.

To these reserves of France it is now necessary to add whatever troops America will have in France during the campaign of 1918, because we are to take over a portion of the French line, and the effect of our arrival will be precisely as if France had had another reserve amounting to the number of American troops which will become effective next year. Suppose then that France has 500,000 men in her two classes, and the United States should get 500,000 men to France for next year's campaign. This would mean that the reserves of the French would amount to a million men, which is approximately 200,000 more than what the reserves of the Germans will be. Here is refutation of the assertion that France must stop because she has been "bled white." My own judgment is that all these figures with reference to France are slightly unfavorable, and that the French situation is in a degree better. It certainly is not worse.

Britain's Losses Still Low.

Now, as far as the British are concerned, their losses have been very greatly less than those of France or Germany. It was not until the Battle of the Somme in July, 1916, two years after the beginning of the war, that the British began to participate in the European campaign on something like the scale of France and Germany. To all intents and purposes, then, the British casualties were from a year to two years less than those of the Germans or the French, and to this extent British reserves are still superior. England has, first and last, with her colonies, put in France or marked for service in France something around four millions of men. She has lost permanently not less than a million. She has available not less than three millions, and of this huge total I do not believe many more than a million and a half are actually engaged. At all events, England should have a million free reserves to repair the wastages of the campaign of 1918. This would mean that the Allies would have on the Western front alone a reserve man power twice as much at least as the Germans. It is probably greater, and if the submarine situation can be faced and surmounted during next year the Allies will then have the huge reserves of the United States, which will then be available for the campaign of 1919, and should not amount to less than a million to a million and a half of troops by that time, trained and equipped.

Now as to Austria and Italy the situation is less clear. If Austrian losses have been in the ratio of French and German losses in the first three years of the war, Austria would have lost 2,975,000 men permanently and something like 425,000 men temporarily—that is, 3,400,000 out of a mobilizable strength of 8,500,000 men. But Austria has lost in prisoners out of all proportion—at least a million more prisoners than France or Germany. Therefore the permanent loss of Austria cannot be less than 4,400,000, and the temporary loss in men in hospital who will return at least 400,000. Four million eight hundred thousand deducted from a man power of 8,500,000 would leave 3,700,000, of whom 400,000 would not be available until later. And as the Austrian-Italian campaign is likely to continue for two months, there will be a further reduction of Austrian man power. It is very unlikely that Austria will have available many more troops than are necessary to man her lines at the beginning of the campaign of 1918 unless Russia should be eliminated from the war. But even if Russia is eliminated from the war Austria can hardly have more than three and a half million troops, and Italy which had a man power of about five millions at the beginning of the war and can hardly have lost more than one million in her three years of fighting, has not less than four million, and probably nearer five million men available for the campaign of 1918—that is, she will have at least a million larger army than the total man power of Austria next year, and can therefore preserve a superiority of numbers against Austria even if Russia and Rumania are both eliminated from the conflict.

Grind Up German Youth.

Now, there is another aspect of the thing with reference to Germany which I wish to emphasize. If there is a campaign in 1918, the major portion of the losses will be borne by the British, who have large numbers of men available, and must, as they are quite ready to do, relieve the pressure on France. British man-power will suffer much more greatly than the French next year, but even so, it will not suffer in the aggregate as heavily as the French. We in America will begin to make our casualty lists. Suppose, for example, that in the campaign of 1918 the British lose 1,250,000, the French lose 650,000, and we lose 100,000. This is a casualty list of two millions. A similar German loss would wipe out all Germany's reserve, and reduce her effective man-power by something like a million more. The losses in all cases include temporary and permanent. Such a loss would mean of a necessity the evacuation of France and western Belgium. But it would mean a much greater permanent significance, because it would mean that while three great nations apportioned the casualties among themselves, German manhood would have to bear the whole strain, and the boys of Germany, the younger generation on whom rests the restoration of Germany after the war, would be ground up as was the youth of the confederacy in the last days of the civil war.

Germany has reached the point in her casualty lists where she must sacrifice her youth. France has reached the same point, but now America and England are in a position to take much of the burden off of France. America can do relatively little next year, but if the war should go into 1919 it could do a very great deal, provided the submarine is successfully met.

It ought to be clear, from this hasty review of the statistics of the casualties, why outside of the military considerations the German statesmen now desire peace. Another year of terrific losses will compel the shortening of the line, even if, because of the Russian collapse, it does not bring a decision. Shortening the line means the surrender of northern France and Belgium, which are hostages Germany now holds to ransom from France and from Britain. But it also means the sacrifice of the youth of 16 and 17 and 18, and the postponement of the recovery of Germany after the war, just as the recovery of the South after the civil war was almost indefinitely postponed by the approximate annihilation of manhood and the youth of the Confederate states.

Even if Germany should be enabled by the Russian collapse to hold her lines for one year more with only relatively minor retirements, her position with reference to her great commercial rivals—the United States and Great Britain—would be desperate, because the man-power of the United States would hardly be scratched, and the man-power of Great Britain would still have suffered less than one-half that of Germany.

Attrition to Decide in the End.

At the beginning of the war all who wrote about figures overestimated the rate of attrition, because they figured that German losses would continue at the rate they began. Had this happened we would have seen the exhaustion of German man-power long ago. But the furious fighting of the first four months was not repeated in 1915. Germany fought on the defensive on the west, and inflicted as great lossess as she suffered, while her eastern campaigns in Russia were relatively inexpensive in men. It was not until the Verdun battle, followed by the Somme, that she began again to suffer those losses which were the basis of all calculations at the end of 1914. Although all estimates proved to be exaggerated attrition has in the end proven the factor all foresaw it would prove. The war has now reduced itself to the very simple question whether German man-power will last until the German submarine has compelled the Allies to make peace, or, to put it a little differently, as Sir William Robertson, the British chief of staff, said a few months ago: "The question is now whether the British army can win the war before the British navy loses it."

If the war is continued merely as a military operation for two years, the defeat of Germany and the destruction of the man-power of Germany, almost as completely as it was destroyed in the Thirty Years' war, are assured. The sole German hope is the submarine. The collapse of Russia has come too late to save Germany on land, if her enemies continue the war, and the land operations are not interrupted by the submarine campaign.

WOMAN SHOT AT UPON ANSWERING RAP AT DOOR

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—Two revolver shots and a woman's scream awakened the residents of a house on Queen street east early this morning. Florence Henderson, a young woman, was found nearby. The girl claimed that she had gone to the door at the back of the house in response to a knock, and as she opened the door a man sprang at her, and clutching hold of her hair, fired two shots from a revolver at her. Both missed, and alarmed by the girl's screams, the man ran away.

Robert Healy of San Francisco was later arrested with a revolver in his possession. In police court he was remanded for further inquiries.

I STOPPED MY CATARRH SUFFERING OVERNIGHT

I Gladly Tell How — FREE

HEALS 24 HOURS

It is a new way. It is something absolutely different. No lotions, sprays or sickly smelling salves or creams. No atomizer, or any apparatus of any kind. Nothing to smoke or inhale. No steaming or rubbing or injections. No electricity or vibration or massage. No powder; no plaster; no keeping in the house. Nothing of that kind at all. Something new and different, something delightful and healthful, something instantly successful. You do not have to wait; and linger and pay out a lot of money. You can stop it over night—and I will gladly tell you how—FREE. I'm not a doctor and this is not a so-called doctor's prescription—but I am cured and my friends are cured, and you can be cured. Your suffering will stop at once like magic.

I Am Free—You Can Be Free

My catarrh was filthy and loathsome. It made me ill. It dulled my mind. It undermined my health and was weakening my will. The hawking, coughing, spitting made me obnoxious to all; and my foul breath and disgusting habits made even my loved ones avoid me secretly. My delight in life was dulled and my faculties impaired. I knew that in time it would bring me to an untimely grave, because every moment of the day and night it was slowly yet surely sapping my vitality.

But I found a cure, and I am ready to tell you about it FREE. Write me promptly.

RISK JUST TWO CENTS

Send no money. Just your name and address on a postal card. Say: "Dear Sam Katz: Please tell me how you cured your catarrh and how I can cure mine." That's all you need to say. I will understand, and I will write to you with complete information, FREE, at once. Do not delay. Send the postal card or write me a letter today. Don't think of turning this page until you have asked for this wonderful treatment that can do for you what it has done for me.

I wonder what's wrong with my Tea?

My! This certainly IS good Tea

The woman on the left bought some "cheap" tea. You can see she's not pleased. She's sorry now she tried to save a few cents by buying the "cheap" tea.

How different with the woman on the right. The fragrance of her tea tells her how good it is. She paid a few cents more for Red Rose Tea than the other woman paid for her "cheap" tea—and besides Red Rose will prove more economical in the end!

Because of the rich flavor and vigorous strength of the Assam teas of which Red Rose chiefly consists, it will make 250 cups to the pound, or about a fifth of a cent a cup. So cheap that the very poorest can afford it, so good that the rich can find nothing better.

RECRUIT FROM STATES FAILED TO QUALIFY

Rare Instance Occurs of British Mission Man Failing on Physical Test.

Rarely indeed does it happen that a man sent here from the offices of the British recruiting mission in the United States is found unfit for service in the Canadian forces, but this occurred on Thursday, when B. Blanchard, who reported here from Cleveland, was unable to pass the requirements of the medical board at the Armories, and was given his transportation back to Cleveland. The men who have been sent here must have been carefully examined by the medical men across the border, for they have been an excellent class of men physically and seldom fail to pass the physical tests.

Seven other men passed the board: W. H. S. McLeod, Minneapolis; C. E. McCreight, Guelph; L. Date, Sarnia, and W. L. McCready, R. McDermid, G. N. Burrows and A. W. Tisdale, London.

The British recruiting mission, which has been carrying on recruiting operations in the United States on behalf of the British expeditionary forces and the Canadian forces, will in future be known as the British-Canadian recruiting mission, according to an announcement in camp orders. This will make it plain that a man in the United States may join for service in either the British or the Canadian forces.

Amazing Power of Bon-Opto To Make Weak Eyes Strong

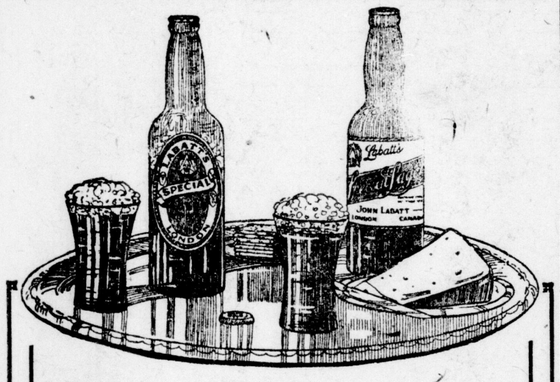

Doctor Says It Strengthens Eyesight 50 per cent. in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses, and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye-strain caused by overworked, tired eyes, which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription at home. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start, and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent Physician, to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists, and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork, or misfit glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist, and is sold in this city by Standard Drug Stores and W. T. Strong & Co.

MENGES, PARLOW, MARIE HALL DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE; MAUD POWELL AN AMERICAN

Talking of women violinists, brought up the name of Isolde Menges the other evening. "No, she isn't Russian, though it has been reported that she is," says the young woman who knows the distinguished artiste very well indeed. "It is rather strange, but she is really altogether English," she continued. "We naturally look to the continental countries to give us our great artists, and, I should say, more especially our violinists. Such exquisite musical and artistic sensitiveness is required for great mastery of the violin that we scarcely expect to find it in the Anglo-Saxons. We look to the more temperamental races, to the people who have all their lives, from the earliest infancy, breathed a musical atmosphere, to the people who have inherited artistic appreciation for generations.

"The development of musical art in Russia in the past fifty years has made us look to that country especially for our artists of unusual ability. Don't you think that is why Miss Menges is expected to be Russian?"

It sounded feasible for a moment, and the names came to mind of one Russian artist after another, or at least, Slavic, who have been prominently before the musical public in recent years.

What of the great women violinists of recent years?

In the famous class, the name of Maud Powell must have a prominent place. And hasn't the United States laid claim to Maud Powell?

The fame of Kathleen Parlow is world-wide. Calgary, Alta., is very proud of the fact that Kathleen Parlow was born there and lived there until she was 4 or 5 years old. When she went back to give a recital in her birthplace some years ago, the citizens turned out royally to do honor to the young girl who, at the age of 16 or 17 years, was recognized as a musical genius in the musical Mecca of Europe of the time, Berlin.

Just to mention the name of one more woman violinist who has been known practically around the world: Marie Hall was born in England, a member of a musical family, with almost too much artistic temperament for comfort. Since her marriage to her concert manager Mr. Baring, some years ago, Marie Hall has evidently retired from professional life. In any case, it is several years since she has appeared in America. Her visit in London is still well remembered by those who heard her recital, given under the auspices of the Woman's Music Club, when, on her last tour of Canada, her accompanist and assisting artist was rarely gifted Eonie Basche.

All of this seems to go to prove that it isn't the place you are born or the race from which you have sprung which determines your career.

TWO FAMOUS FIDDLES THIS ARTIST OWNS

Isolde Menges Brings to London Genuine "Strad" and "Guarnerius" Violins.

London violinists and those who are making a study of the violin will be especially interested in the splendid violins on which Miss Isolde Menges, the brilliant young English artiste, will play during her recitals here the end of September.

To possess a violin of a famous maker is the great ambition of every earnest student of the instrument. A good fiddle is an objective worth achieving even by great sacrifice.

But what of a violinist who possesses not one, but two wonderful violins which are the handiwork of two of the most famous makers the world has known? Such is the rare good fortune of Miss Menges. Both her violins are of the same period, 1709, but one is a genuine "Stradivarius" and the other a "Guarnerius."

And it is one charming young girl who is dowered with all this wealth, and still greater ability, to evoke wonderful music from them!

In spite of her foreign-sounding name, Miss Menges is an English girl. The great Melba, not the easiest artist in the world to please, expressed herself in most enthusiastic terms on the occasion of Miss Menges' debut in London, England. Royalty has expressed its highest appreciation of her skill.

Like Kathleen Barlow, the Canadian violinist, who has won world fame, Miss Menges is a pupil of the celebrated Russian master, Leopold Auer.

Miss Menges has been winning laurels wherever she has appeared in Canada, and in Hamilton, where she has been giving a whole week of concerts, she has created a great furore.

It is probable that she will make London her headquarters for a considerable time during the next few weeks, when musicians will have an opportunity of meeting her.

Her London appearance is to be made under the auspices of the Soldiers' Aid Commission.

MANY CHILDREN DIE FROM SUMMER COMPLAINT

When They Could Be Saved by Using DR. FOWLER'S Extract of Wild Strawberry

There is not a summer passes without thousands of people, especially infants, being attacked by Summer Complaint. The prostration, often verging on collapse, which sometimes accompanies this disease makes it one of the most serious and dangerous we have to contend with during the hot months.

A remedy which will quickly offset the vomiting, purging and the profuse diarrhoea is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Mrs. Thomas M. Theriault, Grand Anse, N. B., writes: "My three children were very sick with Summer Complaint during the hot days last Summer. I thought one day that they would die, and I didn't know what to do to cure them. I happened to have one of your almanacs in the house, and found by reading about Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry that it was a good remedy. I at once got two bottles, and they perfectly cured them. I recommend everybody to use this wonderful remedy."

When you ask for "Dr. Fowler's" see that you get it.

It has been on the market for the past 72 years.

You don't experiment when you buy it.

G. T. R. TRAINMAN UNABLE TO WORK FOR SIX MONTHS

About to Lose Job He Has Held for Eighteen Years.

COULDN'T GET STRENGTH

"Tanlac Has Brought Me Out of My Troubles Something Wonderful," He Says.

"Honestly, if it hadn't been for Tanlac, I might have lost my job that I have held now for eighteen years, and my wife is so delighted over my improvement that she has started taking Tanlac, too," declared George Shields, a long-time employee of the Grand Trunk Railway, and residing at 41 High street, London, the other day.

"When I came down with that spell of typhoid fever some time ago," he continued, "I wasn't able to do a lick of work for six months. My appetite left me, and I just had to force down enough to keep alive, and it looked like I never would get back my strength. Anything but the lightest kind of diet would tear me all to pieces and make me miserable all day. My nerves were all unstrung and the least little thing would excite me so I couldn't rest. I would wake up half a dozen times during the night, and felt so wretched it was all I could do to get up in the morning. I was so weak and rundown that I couldn't even lift a trunk without feeling the strain in my side for two or three days afterwards, and I had so little life and energy left that I just felt like dropping down anywhere and staying there.

"I heard so much about Tanlac that I got me a bottle and it has certainly brought me out of my troubles something wonderful. My appetite has increased so I feel hungry all the time and I can eat such things as cabbage and pork without the least trouble. I have gained three pounds and can handle heavy baggage with ease or do any other hard work that comes in my line. My nerves are in fine shape, I sleep as sound as a log all night, and get up ready to tackle anything. I never have that tired, worn-out feeling any more, and at the rate I am now improving, I am sure that Tanlac will soon make me as well and strong as I ever was."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.

START WITH BIG RUSH

Teaching started with a big rush this week in the local conservatory, musical departments of colleges and private studios.

Teachers seem quite unanimous in the opinion, formed from present indications, that there will be practically no decrease in their classes this season. An evidence of the growing appreciation in London of the value of music for the sake of music, and not merely as a somewhat showy accomplishment, is to be found in the fact that the old idea of learning to play in a "quarter" or so has almost died away.

The school children, in the musical advantages to be derived in the public school course, unconsciously acquire the knowledge that "art is long." Moreover, they acquire a taste for good music, and the development of the artistic sense inherent in children will not permit them to be satisfied with what is shoddy and performed in an inferior manner. The music box is proving an important factor in the molding of taste. Its value as a guide to students is becoming more generally understood. For years professional musicians have been in the habit of going into music stores to hear records of works as presented by great artists before giving them in public themselves. Students (in the sense that they are receiving instruction) are seeking this help in preparing their lessons. After the tedious process of mastering, measure by measure, one hand at a time, and phrase by phrase, section by section, the glamor of a number is restored by turning a crank and hearing it played by an artist of understanding.

Just as no two writers treat a subject in exactly the same way, so no two artists will interpret a musical work in exactly the same manner. The value of the record is to give a general idea of how the work should be performed. Moreover, it raises a standard towards which to strive.

ORIGIN OF A FAMOUS COLLEGE SONG.

"He's a Jolly Good Fellow" Has Seen Service at Court and on Historic Battlefields.

The tune, "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," has a history considerably more dignified than its rollicking lilt would suggest. It is a bit incongruous to connect this light-hearted and unpretentious melody, which, by the way, is the same that accompanies the ditty, "We Won't Get Home Until Morning," with any history at all, save perhaps that associated with college football fields and student revels. As a matter of fact, however, the tune is believed to have been brought to Europe by the Crusaders, is known to have been a famous camp and battle song of the French armies more than two hundred years ago, and was revived by Marie Antoinette as a cradle lullaby for the ill-fated Dauphin. Perhaps it is no safer to judge by sound than by utterances.

Song Popular in France in Eighteenth Century.

The verses to the old melody which made the song so popular with the French army and people were composed in 1709, at the time of the Battle of Malplaquet, when the English and French were not allies, but enemies. The song was known as "Malbrouck" (Marlborough), and consisted of a great number of couplets deriding the battle career of that English nobleman. During the Napoleonic wars the song again became the favorite of the army and of the Parisians as a whole. It spread to all parts of the world, even to the desert of Africa, where the French troops taught it to the Arabs, who called it "Mabrooka." Even Napoleon, who is known to have cared very little for music, was frequently heard humming the air. The words were as follows (translation by John Oxenford):

Malbrouck has gone to battle,
Malbrouck has gone to battle, but when will he return?
He will return at Easter,
Mi-ron-ton, etc.
He will return at Easter, or else at Trinity.
Madam climbs to her tower,
Mi-ron-ton, etc.
Madam climbs to her tower as high as she can go.

And so on through a series of couplets describing the grief of "Madam" Marlborough at her husband's failure to return from the war, and at the final entombment of the warrior.

The song probably waned in popularity with the French after the Battle of Waterloo, though history is noncommittal on this point.

CONSTITUTION NEXT

London Organists' Club Establishing Itself Still More Firmly.

The London Organists' Club, which will enter upon its second year in October, is to achieve the dignity of a constitution in the near future. A committee was appointed at the last meeting before the summer holidays to undertake the important work of drafting the constitution for the organization. No rules or bylaws were framed the first year, owing to the fact that the club was an experiment, and consequently only feeling its way and finding out requirements. Succeeding beyond the expectations of even those most interested in promoting it, there is not a doubt that it is destined to wield an important influence in the future musical development of the city and Western Ontario. Moreover, the club has the distinction of being a pioneer organization of the kind in Canada, the first to be formed in affiliation with the Canadian Guild of Organists, and to raise the standard for membership to good standing in the Canadian Guild.

One of the fine things accomplished by the club has been to afford the organists of the different churches an opportunity of becoming acquainted with one another, and to promote friendly relations and a spirit of co-operation rather than unfriendly rivalry.

Once President of Music Club

Mrs. H. H. Stone, formerly president of the Woman's Music Club, in this city, has been a visitor in London during last week, and guest of Mrs. J. W. McIntosh, King street. Though she has been living in California a number of years, Mrs. Stone still retains a keen interest in the Woman's Music Club, and its progress. A ladies' orchestra was a feature of the club under her presidency. Miss Elizabeth Walker, sister of Mrs. Stone, and who is now living in Toronto, was for a number of years one of the most enthusiastic and energetic members of the executive of the club.

A MARVELLOUS MEDICINE FOR THE LITTLE ONES

Mrs. Delvina Pelletier, Ste. Perpetue, Que., writes: "I have pleasure in stating that Baby's Own Tablets have been a marvellous medicine in the case of my baby. I have been using the Tablets for four years and don't think there is anything to equal them." In using the Tablets the mother has the guarantee of a Government analyst that they do not contain one particle of opiates or other harmful drugs—they cannot possibly do harm—they always do good. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont. b

NON-MUSICAL CHILDREN

"Fewer Than In Former Years," Says Musical Supervisor Quantz.

The benefit of the kindergarten so far as developing musical perception in children is concerned, has been commented upon this week by E. W. G. Quantz, supervisor of music in the public schools.

"We are organizing our musical work just now," he said, "starting in immediately with the opening of the fall term. Beginning with the first grade, I have been struck by the fact that there seems to be fewer non-musical children than in former years. As a whole, they have better tone perception. This is especially apparent in the schools which have kindergartens. The experience derived from the kindergarten songs develops tone perception. The children seem quite eager about the music classes, though there will be no big concert during this year, because we only hold our festivals in alternate years, and this hapepns to be the 'off' year."

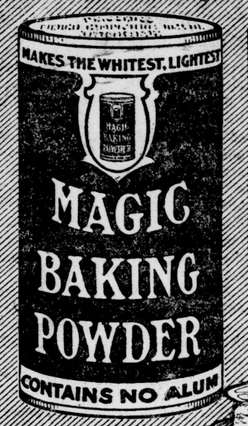

THRESHER HAS SECOND ACCIDENT OF SEASON

AILSA CRAIG, Sept. 14.—Hugh Bowman met with his second accident this season while threshing for Jerry Hotson, town line west. Just before shutting down at 6 o'clock he caught his hand in the machinery and had one finger badly cut. The same day a brace from the top of the barn fell and struck on the table, going through into the machinery, which was broken badly.

Hazen Fanjoy, son of Rev. J. Fanjoy, of this place, who fell from a telephone pole, a distance of 25 feet, on Friday last, and sustained serious injuries, was taken to London on Thursday, where he had the X-ray treatment used. His shoulder was badly dislocated.

The Ten Young Ladies' Club from here attended the Red Cross rally held for the boys at the front, as well as in London on Thursday and received the returned soldiers, and the club is special praise for its excellent work preparing for a good winter's work.

These Men Will Help You Decide

Are you liable to be selected for service under the Military Service Act?

The answer to this question is being made readily available for you. Remember that the first class to be called includes only men between the ages of 20 and 34, both inclusive, who are unmarried or widowers without children, those married after July 6, 1917, being deemed single for the purposes of the Act.

Medical Boards are now being established throughout Canada. These Boards will examine, free of charge and obligation, all men who wish to be examined as to their physical fitness for military service. They will tell you in a very short time whether your physical condition absolves you from the call or makes you liable for selection.

It is important that you obtain this information as soon as possible. A certificate of unfitness from a Medical Board will secure for you freedom from responsibility under the Military Service Act from any Exemption Tribunal. A certificate of fitness will not preclude an appeal for exemption on any ground.

In order that you may be able to plan your future with certainty, visit a Medical Board as soon as possible and find out if you are liable to be selected. Your family and your employer are interested as well as yourself.

INTERN OR ENFRANCHISE.

MEN WHO cannot be trusted to vote in Canada should be in a barb-wire enclosure. Men who are not permitted to vote in Canada should not be asked to pay taxes with which to prosecute the war.

These are two conclusions, which, it seems to The Advertiser, every fair-minded Canadian will come to after considering the new election bill soberly.

Unless a man who came from the countries with which the Allies are at war has been naturalized for more than fifteen years, he will not be permitted to vote at the next general election. Included in this number are Galicians, Doukhobors, Czechs, Poles and a number of other nationalities. It is estimated that fifty thousand who have voted in the past will not be able to vote at the next election.

These men came to Canada on the promise of freedom from serfdom and militarism. Many of their relatives have gone back to fight the thing Canada is helping to dethrone.

If there are disloyal men among the disenfranchised the Government should not strike at them by depriving them of their votes. They should be placed in internment camps. The present law stigmatizes the whole of them with the imputation of disloyalty. That is unjust. No one wants enemies within our gates to get the vote. But no one wants the very thing from which Canada gives these people protection to be used against them. If Canada cannot trust these people, they should be put beyond the possibility of doing harm; if Canada does trust them, if Canada is willing to use their taxes to pay for the war along with everyone else's taxes, then Canada should play the game fairly and not by the code of the "scrap of paper."

THE SENATE TREACHERY.

WHILE the Liberals granted extension to the present Government, and co-operated to advance war legislation, the Government stabbed the Liberals in the back by filling up the Senate and commanding a partisan majority in the Upper House by means of its partisan strength in the Lower House.

Liberalism as a party owes nothing of respect or gratitude to the present rulership at Ottawa, which took Liberalism and wiped up the floors with it at every opportunity. Liberalism received nothing until the present Government was in straits. Then someone crooked a finger and said: "Come over here, I want to see you." Only a few have gone over, notably, Hugh Guthrie, who, unlike other conscriptionist Liberals, swallowed the present election bill and lined himself up definitely as a Conservative. Liberals have been slow to yield to the Ottawa Greeks who came bearing gifts. And well they should have been.

GAGGING.

Nobody's gagged. The situation is merely that some narrowminded partisan newspapers like the London Advertiser are gagging.—Ottawa Journal-Press.

THE newspaper lickspittle of Ottawa has condoned and sought to cover with supercilious characterizations every vicious and suspicious act perpetrated by the Borden Government. It stuck up for Allison, for the Ross rifle, for Rogers, for everything that has sickened the people of Canada of the present regime.

The above reference is to the C. N. R. deal and the election franchise act. The first was forced through the House of Commons by means of the closure, which automatically silences criticism. The election bill was forced through by the same method. If that is not "gagging," The Advertiser is ready to make a retraction. Closure has been the only means by which the present Government could meet the demands of its masters. It is a Prussian method of government, which when applied in Germany would probably be referred to as "heinous" by the Ottawa Journal-Press.

It does not care to consult the country about conscription or about the C. N. R., although it has fiddled and filched enough time to have held half a dozen referendums.

Contrast for one moment the action of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in appealing to the country on reciprocity in 1911 with the present action of a Government that has no mandate from the people, in forcing through such iniquitous measures as the C. N. R. deal and the election act.

THE RED CROSS HERE.

A MODERN parallel for the parable of the talents is to be found in the case of the London branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, of which the annual meeting was held on Thursday afternoon. Organized in a comparatively small way three years ago, with the exercise of their ability in various directions, the workers have achieved a remarkable efficiency and grown up to carry an enormous responsibility. Because they were faithful in administration for the city of London, in making up of surgical supplies and garments, in packing that could not be improved upon, the London branch a year ago last winter was officially appointed the receiving and packing centre for Western Ontario.

As the war continued and personal interests were involved for a rapidly increasing number of women, it became necessary to organize local auxiliaries, of which there are now eight. Between three and four hundred outside circles, leagues, women's institutes and chapters of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, ship in their supplies to Hyman Hall to be unpacked, passed upon and repacked in the standard Red Cross cases for shipping direct overseas.

The value of the shipments of supplies from Hyman Hall the third year of war has been $100,000 more than the first year. Some hundreds of women, representing the affiliated societies scattered throughout Western Canada, joined the small army of local Red Cross workers in the convention arranged for Fair week to make possible the taking advantage of exhibition rates.

Are these women becoming, weary in well-doing, losing their zeal after the long years of cutting out, of making garments and bandages and comforts, of endless knitting, of ceaseless packing?

One glance over the interested faces turned to the platform on Thursday, one outburst of applause gave the answer, "Emphatically NO!" This splendid army of Western Ontario women has sent out the "no compromise and no surrender" signal. Standing on the line of support at home, under the sign of the Red Cross, mothers, wives, sweethearts, daughters and patriotic women who have no nearest and dearest to send are routing tedium by willingness and cheerfulness, still persevering when eyes and fingers and backs ache. The trail which leads to victory oftentimes seems long and wearisome, but while the "splendid men" are enduring hardship and suffering and falling by the way, the women who have been left behind cannot slack.

Hearts are involved in the tasks as well as yarn and flannel, linen, needles and other material things. This is what makes each task glorious, and this is why each annual meeting reveals the same women in their places with scores upon scores of new recruits added to their ranks.

There were many women at the meeting who listened to the solo, "When the Boys Come Home," with bent heads and tears that would not stay back. It was because of the gallant lads who went out from their own homes sometime in the past three years, but who will stay behind "somewhere" on a European battlefield in the glad day of homecoming.

Yet the women who have loved and sacrificed so much still courageously "carry on" just as their brave men would have them do. They won't be daunted while there are other people's husbands, fathers, brothers and sons for whom to work.

Never before at a gathering of the London branch of the Canadian Red Cross was a firmer determination manifested to "march on, breast forward," never doubting that right will triumph and the clouds will break.

STOCKHOLM ABANDONED.

AN ENGLISH labor writer suggested in the Westminster Gazette some weeks ago that there was no reason to get worried over the difference between the Government and the Labor party in regard to the Stockholm conference, as in this whirl of events something would probably develop to solve or sidetrack the difficulty. This is an almost Micawberesque way of taking things, and might be dangerous. There is a sort of optimistic faith in the morality as well as multiplicity of events. However, something decidedly has "turned up" to eliminate the Stockholm question altogether. It was always suspicious, that Stockholm site, as The Advertiser pointed out some weeks ago. Now the Huns themselves see their little scheme nipped by the sudden frost of the Buenos Ayres exposure and are already hunting up another site for their peace intrigue in Switzerland. Somehow this does not sound much better than Sweden. It is only a very little while since the Swiss foreign minister was out doing his bit for the Huns, sticking his oar into Russian affairs. If any Swiss town were selected for a peace conference it should be rather Geneva than, say, Zurich. But the latter place, or somewhere like it, would much better suit the Hun tunnelling for peace at our expense.

Trying To Hide Behind the Skirts of Half a Million Women Voters

[BY H. F. GADSBY.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 15.—The party of "good sports" is now engaged in railroading through Parliament — under closure—a wartime election act which, under one guise or another, proposes to disfranchise over two million people. The underlying idea is to increase the Borden Government's chance of winning by stealing as many votes as possible from the Liberals.

The wartime elections act, which should really be called an act to promote annexation sentiment in the Dominion of Canada, disfranchises in two ways—directly and indirectly. It is most dangerous when it disfranchises indirectly. Its indirection consists in letting a hand-picked minority in and leaving an overwhelming majority out. To be explicit, there are perhaps two million women voters in Canada who would be entitled to cast a ballot at the next general election, if they were admitted to the franchise. The wartime election act chooses, out of these two million possibles, about half a million soldiers' wives, widows, mothers, sisters and daughters, but bars the door to the other million and a half women who have not had the bitter joy of sending their men folk to the war, but who have been doing their bit just the same, helping the Red Cross, collecting funds and one way or another assuming their share of the burden of war.

The wartime elections act—such are the cold figures—enfranchises half a million women but leaves a million and a half out. When one comes to compare the half million women who are taken in with the million and a half women who are deliberately left out, one is constrained to admit that the patriotism, loyalty, zeal for the war and moral character of the three quarters who are left out is at least equal to that of the one quarter who are taken in. One surmises that a popular amendment to the bill would be to give every adult woman in Canada the vote on the same terms as the men. If this is not done, about one million and a half good, wholesome Canadian women will rest under the imputation that they were not loyal enough to be trusted with the vote in war time. Will they sit still under this odium?

It is true that many of these women who are excluded would vote Liberal, but a Government, as conscious of right as the Borden Government says it is ought not to fear anything like that. Being "good sports" all they ought to ask it fair play. The women of Canada will be able to decide whether a wartime election act that leaves a million and a half women out and takes half a million in, is fair play or not.

The bill to disfranchise a million and a half Canadian women meets with nothing but disgust and indignation from all the Liberals. On conscription there were honest differences of opinion in the Liberal party in the House of Commons, but on this iniquitous curtailment of liberty there is no difference at all. With one or two exceptions the Opposition is agreed that the bill is essentially vicious and an outrage on our democracy.

As one member put it, "freedom under the Borden Government, broadens down from precedent to precedent until it shrinks to Arthur Meighen's size." And there is much truth in the paradox.

When conscription looked like an issue, and union government was in the air, certain Liberals were asked to join company with the Borden Government. They are one and all rejoicing now that they did not throw in their lot with the tempter and associate themselves with people who could cook up such infamous legislation. They are also glad, as manly men, that they didn't tie up with the combination which is now trying to hide behind half a million women's skirts.

The chances are, too, that the half million women will disappoint them. Most of them are of the class who are deeply affected by the high cost of living which is primarily due to the Borden Government's alliance with food profiteers like Sir Joseph Flavelle. They will hardly vote for the Government that grants them a separation allowance only to hand it over to the cold storage pirates who are waiting to pounce upon it.

Having disfranchised a million and a half women, simply by not mentioning them, the wartime election act next proceeds to disfranchise about fifty thousand presumably loyal male citizens for the sole reason that they are of foreign birth. The clauses which exclude naturalized aliens of fifteen years' standing as British subjects is not only a direct assault on our free institutions, but also a gross breach of faith.

These men came to this country under promise that they would have rights here which were denied them in their native land—and the chief right of all was the right to vote, to exercise a citizen's duty in electing a responsible government. Another thing, these men came to Canada for, was to escape the curse of war which has hung over Europe for centuries. They thought that Canada, guarded on three sides by the inviolable sea, and on the fourth by the greatest democracy in the world, would be free of it. Moreover, they did us the compliment to choose Canada in preference to the better advertised virtues of the United States, because no doubt they considered British institutions more stable than American ones, and life and property safer under the Union Jack than under the Star Spangled Banner.

All these years they have been law-abiding citizens of the country which they sought as a refuge. Their views on war did not change when they changed their skies. The hate and fear of it was in their blood, put there by the horrors of a thousand years. And now because they still hate war, their constitutional rights are to be taken away. On the pretext that they are not to be trusted, they are deprived of their votes but are still allowed to pay the taxes which make the continuation of the war possible.

That they are disloyal, because they are not keen on war, is not a final statement. Many of their sons have enlisted, and are fighting for freedom, Canada and the British Empire. There are many Galicians in the ranks. Many Canadian citizens with German names offered, and many were refused. Many who succeeded in enlisting were sent back when they got to England. The enemy-aliens, so-called, were at least as eager to do their duty as the native-born Canadians.

It is a safe guess that any enemy alien who is bad enough not to be allowed to vote is bad enough to be interned. Nobody would object to a franchise act which would exclude interned aliens or such as refuse to take the oath of allegiance when asked. To go further than that is to trespass on our charter of freedom. Uncle Sam, who has had experience with all sorts of aliens for 140 years back, has never dealt with them by taking away their votes. His belief is that the cure for democracy is more democracy, but the Borden Government thinks the other way about. Its idea of rule is the horsewhip.

After the war is over Uncle Sam will be able to say, "I took away nobody's vote. Canada will have to say, "I did, but it was because Sir Robert Borden wanted to win an election." The new friend from Europe, hesitating between Canada and the United States will say, "Me for the United States where my vote is safe."

The wartime election act is fraught with apprehensions for the immigrant from Europe. He will naturally say, "If they take away my vote, they may take away my property next." And indeed, what's to prevent? A government that will do the one would hardly stick at the other.

THE PLOT AGAINST AGATHY.

By Andrew Phelps.

Grandma Nelson and her married daughter, Mrs. Wharton, sat on the veranda in close and confidential chat, and Agathy Wharton, nineteen years old and the daughter of Mrs. Wharton, was swinging in the hammock under an apple tree.

"I want to ask you," queried grandma, "what's the matter with Agathy? Here she is nineteen years old and a good-looking girl, and I can't understand why she hasn't had an offer of marriage yet. Doesn't she like men, as a rule?"

"Agathy is a very hard girl in some respects," the mother replied. "She takes likes and dislikes at almost the first glance. There are plenty of young men around here who would be glad to call at the house, but she dislikes most of them. She doesn't like one for wearing a mustache, and another for not wearing one. In one case, the young man's eyebrows are too high, and in another she doesn't think his nose is set on right. 'these are whims, of course, and I hope that she will get over them by and by, but I see no signs of it yet."

"Daughter, you know it's all arranged for Agathy to go down to Cuba with me. I wanted to talk with you about the question of love. Suppose she should meet on the steamer a young man who filled her ideal—a young man whom I could recommend in every way. Would you oppose it if she fell in love?"

"N—o," was the slow reply. "But I should want you to be sure that he was all right."

"Then, I will tell you something which I have kept back. I have a distant relative whose name is Charles Burton. In fact, he has made my home his home for the last year, while getting ready to graduate as a civil engineer. He is a model young man in every respect, and about 22 years of age. I like him so well that I am going to leave him something in my will. You know I am going to leave Agathy something, and, if they should fall in love and be married, they would have quite a fortune to start life on."

"That would be nice, but how will they meet?"

"Why, he's going over with me. You know I am going on business, and shall not stay long. I don't want Agathy to know anything about him until we have sailed; and then I will introduce them, and give him a good character. I know enough about Agathy to know that she would hate him if she thought we had put up a plot. What do you think of it, daughter?"

"You will have to take your chances, mother. I think she has ideals about men, although she won't admit it. If Mr. Burton is the ideal she has been waiting for, it will be all right; if he is not, she won't give him ten minutes of her attention, no matter what you say in his favor. Does he know he is going to meet her?"

"Well, you can throw out some more hints that he can be prepared for humiliation, and thus not be too much disappointed."

When the day of sailing came Grandma Nelson and Agathy Wharton were almost the first persons to go on board. Grandma cast an eye around and she discovered that Mr. Burton was also an early bird. He did not come up and address her because she managed to give him a sign in the negative. Miss Agathy let nothing escape her eye, and soon detected the young man, but her eyes rested upon him for only a few seconds.

It was the second day out, and no introduction had taken place yet, when Grandma Nelson got ready to spring her trap. She was going to have the introduction come about in a very logical and natural way and with a little romance mixed in. While Miss Agathy was seated on her steamer chair on deck with the Atlantic ocean rolling over and over around her, the crafty old fox took from his steamer trunk a novel which she had provided for the occasion. It did not take her quite half an hour to wind it up and see that it started off in good fashion. Then she made several experiments as to how far away the ticking could be heard. When satisfied about this she went on deck and hunted up Miss Agathy. It gave her quite a shock to find her talking rather familiarly with a good-looking young man whose age was about 22. He was both good-looking and entertaining, and he was evidently pleased with the girl beside him.

Only three chairs away sat Mr. Burton. He was looking very solemn. He ought to have been in the place of the other young man, but he wasn't, and the situation made him sad. He was wishing he knew not what when Grandma Nelson appeared and gave the girl a sign to follow her. When they had reached the cabin, she held up her finger and whispered:

"Keep cool, Agathy! We are in very great danger, but keep cool!"

"Well, I am cool," was the cool reply. "Are we going to be blown up by a submarine?"

"As bad as that, Agathy. Some one has placed a clockwork bomb in my trunk and, at a set moment, it will blow up and sink the ship and all of us with it. How anyone got in here to place the bomb is beyond me, but you can hear the ticking of the clock. What shall we do?"

"Why, that trunk must go overboard without delay," calmly replied the girl. "But we dare not touch it! You go on deck again and go to the third chair from where you are sitting and speak to the young man in it. Tell him to come down here at once, as there is work here for a brave man. I was looking at him the other day and he is the stuff of which heroes are made."

Agathy turned without a word and ascended to the deck. Then she walked straight to the young man whom she had been sitting beside when called, and said to him:

"There is a clockwork bomb in grandma's steamer trunk, and it may explode in a minute. She wants the trunk thrown overboard to avert a great disaster."

"Certainly, certainly," was the reply, and he followed her to the stateroom.

Grandma opened her mouth to protest that it was the wrong hero, but, before she could utter a word, the trunk was picked up and carried on deck, and a heave overboard sent it floating away on the green billows.

There had been amazement among the passengers to see a new steamer trunk go overboard, but no explanations were made at the time. That is, no explanations were made until Miss Agathy again stood in the presence of Grandma Nelson, who could hardly speak for her sobs, but who managed to exclaim:

"And that trunk contained all my wardrobe and what I am to do without it, heaven only knows. Why didn't you bring the young man I told you to!"

"Why, that young man with red hair and a cast in one eye!" almost shouted Agathy, with hands uplifted in horror.

The red-headed young man graduated and went off to South America; the other young man stayed at home and married Miss Agathy Wharton, and Grandma Nelson does not exactly understand how it all came about.

ELEVEN SCHOOLS ENTER IN WEST NISSOURI FAIR

Public-Speaking Contest and Stock-Judging To Be Features.

THORNDALE, Sept. 14.—The West Nissouri School Fair will be held on Friday, October 5. There are eleven schools entering the fair this year. The officers are: President, George Bilyea; vice-president, Wilfrid Barber; secretary, Harold McGuffin; directors, Arthur Matthews, Calvin McGuffin, Lois Johnson, Jessie Brown, Fraser Day, Vining St. Clair, James Henderson, Robert Box, Clifford Gee, Annie Talbot.

There will be an exhibit in a variety of classes. An interesting feature of the fair will be the public speaking contest and the stock judging contest.

LUX

To give sweater coats a new lease of life

Now that sweater coats are getting more expensive, it is more than ever desirable that you wash yours with LUX. Of all things a sweater coat, which is seen so much, must be kept soft, fluffy, fleecy and "new" in appearance. You can keep yours that way and wash it again and again if you do this:

Pour boiling water over LUX flakes—pure essence of soap—allowing 3 or 4 tablespoonfuls for every gallon of water you use. Whip into a creamy lather—a few seconds is needed. Then put in the garment and stir it about. Let it soak until cool enough for your hands to squeeze the water out of the coat—the dirt just runs away. Rinse in two or three relays of tepid water, and hang to dry.

Very simple. Anyone can do it—just a few minutes' work and you get a result that the most expert French cleaner might well envy.

WAR MENUS

MENU FOR MONDAY

BREAKFAST.

Oatmeal Porridge. Milk. Sugar.
Eggs (soft cooked). Marmalade.
Toast. Butter. Tea or Coffee.

DINNER.

Beef Stew. Potatoes. Carrots.
Bread. Baked Apples.
Tea. Milk. Sugar.

SUPPER (OR LUNCHEON).

Cream of Tomato Soup. Graham Biscuits.
Apple Sauce. Oatcakes.
Tea. Milk. Sugar.

Graham Biscuits—

Cream of Tomato Soup—

½-pint tomato juice (made by stewing ripe tomatoes and pressing through a sieve).
¼-teaspoon of soda.
2 tablespoons of flour.
2 tablespoons of butter.
Salt and pepper to taste, and a little grated onion.

Make the milk, flour, butter and seasonings into a thin white sauce. To the tomato add one-quarter of a teaspoon of soda, and as soon as it ceases to effervesce combine the milk with the tomato, and serve at once.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Confides in "Mummie."

Dear Miss Grey,—I wrote to you about two weeks ago, but I believe it hit the W. P. B. My other letter was about girls (we young ones of 16) giving our mothers our confidence. I just can't keep a secret from "Mummie." I played truant from school and went home. Do you suppose I could keep it to myself? Well, I guess not. I can't understand how a girl can keep secrets from her parents. Oh, yes! She gets cross occasionally, but so do I, so is not that 50-50?

I never had a brother, Miss Grey, to give up for my country, but there was a little boy next door who had no mother, and he used to come to our house for consolation, and I went to his house for cookies. Last week he was reported "missing," and a cable came soon afterward that he was dead. I would not feel a bit worse if he was a brother, because we grew right up together. I had made many sacrifices since he enlisted that I might send him a box, but now that is all over. I have four "lonelies," so any more is out of the question, and each of them gets a box every two weeks. Don't you think that pretty good?

One question, please: What was it that was published some time ago for weak ankles from skating?

May I please come again, and I do hope this one will not get "kicked" out; if it does I shall be tempted to try again! Good luck.

HOME-LOVING KID.

P.S.—Please, what do you think of my writing?

Ans.—It is odd about that other letter of yours, for I recall its contents, and remember thinking how glad I was that some of our girls find "Mummie" such a good friend. Also, did you not ask about the weak ankles on that former occasion, too? If it was not in print I am at a loss to know where the epistle went. We'll hope a safe arrival in type for this one. I do not know how weak ankles could be strengthened, unless exercises would help. Sorry, indeed, to hear of the loss of your friend, but it must soften the ache a little to remember that you made those sacrifices, and you also seem to be taking good care of the other four. You write a very good business hand.

He Wants Tobacco.

Dear Miss Grey,—As others come to you I thought I would do likewise. I received a letter from a soldier in France today, and he was asking for tobacco. As I find it difficult to send him any, I thought maybe one of your kind readers would send him some once in a while. I will do what I can, but when there is a big family, and money scarce, it is hard to do what one would like. I am sure he will be thankful for anything he gets, and that he will not send any foolish letters, and would not like to receive any foolish ones, either. Well, Miss Grey, thanking any of the readers that will help him, I will close, from A FRIEND.

Ans.—This request has been recorded along with the man's address, and perhaps some of our readers who do not object to sending tobacco overseas, will kindly make inquiry for "A Friend's" friend's name.

C. B, M.'s Chocolate Cake.

Dear Cynthia,—I am sending this recipe for "Soldier of the Soil." I hope she sees it: Two eggs, 2 cups yellow sugar, ½ cup butter or shortening, 1 teaspoon soda dissolved in ½ cup sour milk, ½ cup boiling water poured over ½ cup cocoa, mix thoroughly, 1 teaspoon vanilla, flour to make batter, 1 teaspoon baking powder sifted in flour. I use the boiled icing. I have given this recipe to several; they all thought it real good. C. B. M.

Ans.—Thank you, "C. B. M." It sounds so delicious that I wish the "Consumers' League" editor, and the "Society" editor, and the "Mail-Box" editor, each had a piece this minute!

SHIPMENTS.

On September 11, 1917, the Red Cross Society shipped as follows: 270 grey flannel shirts, 246 suits pyjamas, 24 bed jackets, 10 dressing gowns, 54 sheets, 330 pillowslips, 300 towels, 14 mattress covers, 8 quilts, 50 small kit bags, 144 pairs socks, 120 pairs bed socks, 15 boxes surgical supplies, 12 field comforts.

On the same date the C.W.C.A. shipped the following: 1,152 pairs socks, 147 day shirts. Of this shipment 288 pairs of socks were sent to our sailors.

Enter the Bread Making Contests

at Rural School Fairs in Ontario

The Campbell Flour Mills Company's great offer of the big One-Hundred-and-Fifty-Dollar Pathe phonographs (Five of them!) and other valuable prizes, for the best loaves of bread baked with Cream of the West flour, is stirring up tremendous interest all over Ontario. Many girls are already busy as bees practising with Cream of the West flour. Last year many girls declared, "Oh, if I had only practised, I'm sure I could have won!" Don't wait another day. Decide right now! Practise, Practise, Practise with the hard wheat flour that is guaranteed for bread.

Every time you bake with it you find out new qualities in this flour that makes such splendid big loaves of delicious light bread. Practise!

In five districts, each comprising several counties, we will give away free to the winner of the first district prize a large cabinet phonograph. At each fair there will be given a fine list of local prizes.

THE PATHEPHONE

Five of these large cabinet phonographs, each with twelve records, given as first prizes in District Contests. Value, $150.00. Size 20 in. x 20½ in. x 44 in. high.

Prizes Worth Trying Hard For

1st Local Prize.—"Girls' Own Annual," a great big beautifully bound, illustrated book with 800 pages of stories and articles about people, art, animals, gardens, sewing, crocheting—everything that particularly interests young girls, older girls and their mothers. This is a wonderful prize that you can treasure for years.

3rd Local Prize.—"Britain Overseas," a big handsomely bound book with many colored pictures, interesting stories and descriptions of the countries and the peoples of Britain's world-wide Empire.

4th Local Prize.—"The Queen's Gift Book," a book of stories, pictures and special articles by Britain's best writers; the proceeds from the sale of this book are for the benefit of disabled soldiers in England.

Note.—Unless the entries number six or more only first and second prizes will be awarded. Unless the entries number ten or more no fourth prize will be awarded.

1st District Prize.—The "Pathephone" is the name given to the fine big mahogany phonograph we offer as first prize. It will give you endless pleasure and entertainment for a lifetime. It has special reproducer attachments and needles, enabling you to play all kinds of flat disc records of no matter what make. The Pathephone reproduces band music, orchestra music, songs and funny pieces perfectly; with it goes a dozen of the famous Pathe records. Total value, $150.00.

2nd District Prize.—Set of Dickens' Works, 18 splendidly bound volumes with many illustrations. Among the books in the set are "Oliver Twist" and "Old Curiosity Shop." These are two of the most entrancing stories ever written.

3rd, 4th, and 5th Prizes.—"Canuck" Bread mixers. This simple, yet well-made machine, takes the hard work out of bread making. Instead of laborious kneading of the old method, you just put in the ingredients, turn the handle, and the dough is thoroughly and more evenly mixed.

Read Carefully Conditions of Contest

Every girl may compete at the rural school fair in her district, whether or not she attends school, providing that her 12th birthday occurs before November 1st, 1917, or her 19th birthday does not occur before Nov. 1, 1917. One loaf of bread must be submitted baked in pan about 7 x 5 inches and 3 inches deep, and divided into twin loaves, so that they may be separated at the fair. The loaf must be baked with Cream of the West Flour. One-half will be judged at the fair. The other half of the prize loaf will be sent to Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, to compete in the District Contests. The judging will be done by Miss M. A. Furdy, of the Department of Breadmaking and Flour Testing. The local contest at the fair will be conducted under the same rules as all the other regular contests at your fairs.

The Standard by which bread will be judged will be as follows:

1. Appearance of Loaf ..... 15 marks
   (a) Color ..... 5 marks
   (b) Texture of crust ..... 5 marks
   (c) Shape of loaf ..... 5 marks
2. Texture of Crumb ..... 40 marks
   (a) Evenness ..... 15 marks
   (b) Silkiness ..... 20 marks
   (c) Color ..... 5 marks
3. Flavor of Bread ..... 45 marks
   (a) Taste ..... 25 marks
   (b) Odor ..... 20 marks

Important.—Each loaf must be accompanied by the part of the flour bag containing the face of the Old Miller, and an entry form must be signed by the girl and parents or guardian stating date of birth, P.O. address, and giving name of dealer from whom Cream of the West Flour was purchased. The form will state that the girl actually baked the loaf entered in the competition. The forms will be provided at the time of the fair. The decision of the judges is final. Not more than one entry may be made by each girl and not more than one local prize will be awarded to the same family.

Which District is Yours?—This list shows you which counties you compete against if you become a competitor for the District prizes:

THE RESULTS of the contests at the fair will be made known in the usual way as in the case of all the other regular contests. The District results will be announced as soon as possible after the conclusion of the Rural School Fairs in the Province.

DO NOT MISS THIS GREAT OPPORTUNITY: Every girl between 12 and 18 years should compete. What a splendid way to stir up increased interest in breadmaking! Get a supply of Cream of the West Flour at your dealers and practise using it as often as possible to increase the chances of winning. If your dealer cannot sell it to you, write to the Campbell Flour Mills Co., Ltd., Toronto, and we will promptly tell you the nearest place to get it.

NO COMPETITIONS IN COUNTIES NAMED BELOW: The competition is open to all parts of the Province where Rural School Fairs are held, except the Districts of Rainy River, Kenora and Thunder Bay. These districts are the only parts of the Province where school fairs are held by the Dept. of Agriculture in which this competition will not be a feature. There are no district representatives of the Department of Agriculture in the Counties of Sudbury, Huron, Perth, Wellington, Haliburton, Prescott, Russell or Lincoln, and no rural school fairs are held in these Counties by the Dept. of Agriculture. There are, however, a few fairs held by local schools in Wellington, Perth, Huron and Lincoln, and these are included in the competition.

HALLAM'S GUARANTEED FUR COATS AND SETS

No matter where you live in Canada, you can buy your furs by mail through Hallam "Direct from Trapper to You" at the same price as any one and cheaper than elsewhere. The reasons are many: There is no high store rent to pay; there are no sales clerks to pay; there are no retailers' or jobbers' profits for you to pay; there are no bad accounts to be made up.

All this means a big saving, of which you receive the benefit.

You are sure of satisfaction when buying by mail from Hallam—because of Hallam's guarantee "to satisfy you or your money back. You are the sole judge.

We are compelled to give you extra good value, for our own safety, because no mail order house can afford to have goods returned.

LEAFS WILL PLAY HERE ON SEPT. 22

Will Play Team Made Up of District Ball Players, With Labels Predominating, While in London — Yankee Flint Will Pitch—Ernie Dinsmore Managing Team to Meet Toronto.

The Toronto International baseball team will play here on Saturday afternoon, September 22. They will meet a team made up of local and district ball players, under the management of Ernie Dinsmore. The full Leaf crew, including Nap Lajoie, will be present. This is guaranteed.

The Leafs have arranged to tour this part of the country, playing exhibition games against a club, the members of which will be picked from teams in the various parts of Western Ontario, thus assuring a team made up of players well known throughout the country. Merlin Kopp, formerly of the St. Thomas Canadian League team, now with Buffalo, will be one of the stars. Two batteries from Detroit will do the hurling. These will be from a Michigan league and will put up a good game.

While in London the local crew will do most of the work to give them a chance against a real ball team and to show fans just what the Labels really look like. Gadsby will be at short, Bullock on first, Forgie on second and Delaney on third. Ernie Dinsmore will take care of centre field as usual, and two Detroit men will hold down right and left fields. Flint will start the game here, although he may not stay in the box. Kopp may relieve him, or a Detroit battery may be sent in.

Full details have not been received yet, but a good game is assured. Some time ago it looked as if the Leafs and the Royals might stage a game here. The Advertiser received a letter from Secretary Irwin of the Leafs, asking to put him in touch with local baseball men. It was considered that a game between Montreal and Toronto would not draw here, and for a time the scheme seemed off. Later a tour of the Leafs was arranged through Western Ontario to play teams in different towns.

Manager Dinsmore states that the personnel of the team playing the Leafs will be altered slightly for the different stops of the route, but will carry strong enough batteries at all times to send in in pinches to assure real baseball.

BOTH RED SOX AND WHITE WIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The hitting of Pitcher Mays enabled Boston to win the second game of the series from New York here today by a score of 6 to 5.

Score—									R.	H.	E.
New York	0	0	2	0	3	0	0	0	0	5	8	2

LEADERS DEFEAT DETROIT WITHOUT HARD WORK

DETROIT, Sept. 14.—By bunching hits off Mitchell today, Chicago won from Detroit, 7 to 3. Eddie Collins' hitting and base-running, and Gandil's stick-work were large factors in the victory.

Score—									R.	H.	E.

RECRUIT HURLER PITCHES TWO WINS FOR ATLETICS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Naylor, a recruit from the New Haven club of the Eastern League, pitched Philadelphia to a 2 to 1 victory over Washington today in the second game of the series.

SOTHORN BADLY KNOCKED BY INDIANS; LOSES 6 TO 1

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14.—Coumbe allowed St. Louis only five hits, while Cleveland scored enough runs off Sothorn in the first inning to win today's game. The final score was 6 to 1.

Score—										R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	5	1

WILL DEFEND THE ROBINSON TROPHY

The Elmwood rink, skipped by W. W. Scott, will defend the Robinson trophy this afternoon at the Elmwood greens against the Rowing Club. The Elmwood bowlers brought the trophy from Aylmer, where it was taken by Chambers' rink from the asylum. Play will commence at 3 o'clock.

The Elmwood rinks will likely consist of Sam Horne, lead; Harry Talbot, C. C. Gordon and W. W. Scott, skip.

Walsh String Lead Winners In Fair Races

Two good events were on the card of the last day's harness racing at the fair grounds, a 2:15 trot and a race open to all horses that had started during the week, which was run off in half-mile heats.

Like Thursday's racing, there was nothing particularly exciting about the speed work yesterday. Four heats finished the trot, and the open race went in three straight. The horses worked well, and good time was made. The track was good.

In the trot, All Ablaze, winner of the 2:20 trot on Tuesday, got first money. This horse, one of the Walsh string from Tillsonburg, took three of the four heats, and proved to be a reliable performer, always there with the speed. In the second heat All Ablaze was leading down the stretch under the tape, with Sanatel in second. The Walsh horse broke when but a few feet from the wire, and Sanatel went under first. This was the closest finish that the trot offered on Friday.

In the final heat the sulky behind Jean T. broke, and let its rider down. He was injured. Jean T. was placed fourth.

In the open race, Allen B., owned by Roy Bros., Stratford, starred, showing the way all the time. Bertha Walsh got second money, with two seconds and one third. The grey mare is not a winner in half-mile heats; she needs the full mile to show her best, always picking up on the final half.

Summary:

Sanatel, S. McBride, Toronto	2 1 2 3
Jean T., John Black, Fergus	4 4 4 4
Farmer-Gentry, George Stephens, Galt	5 5 5dr

Open Race, Half-Mile Heats; Purse $300.

Allen B., Roy Bros., Stratford	1 1 1
Bertha Walsh, G. N. Walsh, Tillsonburg	3 2 2
Iola Hal, H. Lett, Guelph	2 3 3
Chester Mitchell, B. R. Porter, Burlington	5 4 4
Toneka, J. K. Darch, London	4 5 5

Time—1:03, 1:03¾, 1:01½.

The Walsh horses were the star performers during the week. Bertha Walsh took the 2:15 pace Monday, the named race on Wednesday, and second in the open race on Friday. The grey mare would likely have taken first on Friday had the heats been the full mile. She is not strong on speed the first lap, but can pick up on the second time around. On Tuesday All Ablaze got the 2:20 trot, and Jack Powers finished first in the 2:30 pace. In the 2:22 pace on Thursday Jack Powers again showed the way, and on Friday All Ablaze won the 2:15 trot. Mr. Walsh's money runs in the neighborhood of $1,000.

LEAFS' CHANCES STILL GOOD FOR THE PENNANT

If They Win Twice Today They Have Pennant Cinched — Toronto May Lose One, If Greys Drop One, and Still Win Out.

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
TORONTO	91	61	.598684
PROVIDENCE	88	60	.594596

Frayed nerves are likely to continue to be an epidemic in Toronto and Providence baseball circles for a day yet. The Leafs finish up today, and the Greys have one on this afternoon, with a pair tomorrow. Instead of having the pennant, cinched as was confidently hoped by Toronto and Canadian fans in general, the finish is still far from certain. The Toronto club played ragged ball at Rochester on Friday, showing that they are feeling the nervous strain of playing finals so close.

If Toronto wins both today the pennant comes to Lajoie's team. If the Leafs drop one today, and the Greys lose one of three the pennant still comes to Toronto. If the Leafs lose two games it's all off as far as their chances go.

BASEBALL WRITERS BELIEVE THAT TORONTO WILL TAKE ONE GAME TODAY, AND THAT THE GREYS WILL LOSE ONE OF THEIR THREE REMAINING GAMES, IN WHICH CASE THE TORONTO CLUB WILL BE THE WINNERS OF THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE FOR THE SEASON OF 1917.

Poor Play Friday.

The games on Friday were anything but good baseball. The attendance at Rochester was something less than 500, and although on the very last lap the players appeared unable to enthuse. The Leafs acted as though they had cracked under the strain. They played loose and inconsistent ball, but showed by the box score that they had got errors out of their system.

Thompson may probably pitch today. If he does, all should go well, for "Tommy" can be depended on to fool the left-handed Rochester batters. He went in on Friday when Jacobson was injured. Thompson's arm is still bothering him, and he may not be in shape to work today, but Trainer Frank Carroll is working hard over it, and if it is at all possible, Thompson will do the hurling.

The defeat of the team yesterday, while making it a harder proposition for them, should not dishearten them. They still have a chance to get where the Greys cannot reach them, even should Providence take all three games.

Larry's One Chance.

The International League race this year has been one of the hottest ever. The deciding of the pennant has sifted down to the last day—no big lead and pennant already cinched stuff. According to precedent, it is the Leaf's turn to win. The last championship came to Toronto in 1912. Providence has been nipped out during the last two seasons, and on the third attempt may be more successful, but nobody in these parts hopes so.

Larry Lajoie, by some strange coincidence, was wanted by the teams who are now fighting for first place. Providence wanted him badly and are now after their revenge by trimming him in the race, if they can. Nobody is trying harder to grab that same race than Larry, his terrific clouting yesterday proving this.

Lajoie has been 21 years in the majors, and never played on a champion-winning team. This afternoon he has his best chance.

INDIANAPOLIS LEADS.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Indianapolis has the lead again in the American Association, being a half game ahead of St. Paul as a result of a six-to-three victory yesterday over Kansas City. St. Paul was beaten 1 to 0 by Toledo. Louisville, third in the race, defeated Milwaukee 2 to 0.

The standing of the leaders follows: Indianapolis won 85, lost 62; St. Paul won 85, lost 63; Louisville won 84, lost 64.

SPEAKER IN SECOND PLACE IN BATTING AV.

Cleveland Player Behind Cobb —Sisler Third.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Tris Speaker, the 1916 batting champion, is making a desperate drive to finish second to Ty Cobb for American League batting honors. Averages released today show the Cleveland star back in second place with an average of 363, with Sisler of St. Louis, who held the spot a week ago, six points behind him. The averages include games of Wednesday. Cobb fell off twelve points in the week, getting only five hits in seven games, but he is safely in the lead with an average of .374. Bush, the Detroit shortstop, is the leading scorer, having brought in 101 runs. Veach of Detroit retains the home run honors with eight. Roth and Chapman of Cleveland are fighting it out for honors in base stealing, Roth with 45 having a lead of three. Chapman continues to show the way to sacrifice hitters with 64. Detroit, which leads in team hitting, has an average of .259.

Leading batters who have played in half of their club's games: Cobb, Detroit, .374; Speaker, Cleveland, .353; Sisler, St. Louis, .347; Felsch, Chicago, .314; Veach, Detroit, .306; Chapman, Cleveland, .306; Lewis, Boston, .305; McInnis, Philadelphia, .302; Harris, Cleveland, .301; Bodie, Philadelphia, .300.

Cicotte of Chicago continues to lead the pitchers participating in 30 or more games rated according to earned runs per game, with 24 won, 11 lost, and an average of 1.54 earned runs.

Roush of Cincinnati widened the gap between himself and Hornsby, the St. Louis shortstop, for the batting lead in the National League, averages, including games of Wednesday, giving Roush an average of .345, nineteen points ahead of his rival.

There were no changes among leaders in other offensive departments of the game.

Carey of Pittsburg leads in stolen bases, with 41. Burns of New York in scoring, with 93 runs. Cravath of Philadelphia in home runs with a total of twelve, and Deal of Chicago is showing the way to the sacrifice hitters with 28. Cincinnati clung to team hitting honors with an average of .265.

Leading hitters who have played in half or more of their clubs' games: Roush, Cincinnati, .345; Hornsby, St. Louis, .326; Groh, Cincinnati, .308; Kauff, New York, .307; Burns, New York, .299; Cruise, St. Louis, .299; Wheat, Brooklyn, .297; Wilhoit, New York, .297; Zimmerman, New York .296; Carey, Pittsburg, .296.

The leading pitchers of those participating in 29 or more games rated according to earned runs per game is Anderson of New York, with 9 won, 8 lost and 1.67 earned runs.

SILVER CUP HUNG UP AS TROPHY IN SPRINGWOOD SHOOT

At the Springwood Gun Club on Saturday afternoon a competition for a new trophy will be commenced. A silver cup has been donated by A. H. Trebilcock, jeweler, Dundas street, for a series of shoots, the cup to be the property of the winner of the series. The competition will consist of a series of ten events, twenty-five birds each time, and the shoots will be held on Saturday afternoons until completed. It will not be necessary for each member to compete every Saturday, but each must complete the ten events, which will have to be finished by December 15th.

This trophy is a beautiful cup, and every member of the club, say the officers, should take part in this competition. Every shooter who is not a member of the club will be welcome to take part, so that anyone who has at any time taken part in the shooting at the Springwood Gun Club is invited to come out on Saturday afternoon.

The handicaps that will be in force for this cup will give even the poorest shot as good a chance to win as the best, and everyone will have a fair chance to win. The handicap used will be the "added bird handicap." Each shooter enters the first event with a handicap based on his previous records, handicappping himself for each succeeding event by the actual number of targets broken in the event before. No shooter will be credited with more added targets in an event than would make him a perfect score. The scale of this handicap, based on a 25-target event, is as follows:

A shooter breaking 23, 24 or 25 receives no added targets. A shooter breaking 22 receives 1 added target. A shooter breaking 21 receives 2 added targets. A shooter breaking 20 receives 3 added targets. A shooter breaking 19 receives 4 added targets. A shooter breaking 18 receives 5 added targets. A shooter breaking 17 receives 6 added targets. A shooter breaking 16 receives 7 added targets. A shooter breaking 15 receives 8 added targets. A shooter breaking 14 receives 9 added targets. A shooter breaking 13 receives 10 added targets. A shooter breaking 12 receives 11 added targets.

The club will, it is expected, add two or three extra prizes in this competition, so that at least the first four in the series will receive prizes, and as this is one of the best events that have been put on by the club for some time it is expected that a very large number of shooters will take part. No extra entrance fee will be charged, simply the regular charge for birds.

The club has had the trap box rebuilt, and the club in general fixed up; the grounds are now in good shape for shooting, and as the game shooting season is now at hand, shooters are expected to come out and get some necessary practice.

LEAFS SPLIT BRACE WITH ROCHESTER; GREYS ALSO WIN

ROCHESTER, Sept. 14.—Toronto and Rochester split a double-header here today, Rochester winning the first game, 5 to 1, and Toronto the second, 9 to 6. Causey pitched both games for Rochester. The batting of Lajoie and Young's fielding were features. Scores:

THREE KNIGHTS HAVE ALREADY ENTERED LISTS TO GET FRIEND BORDEN NEW LEASE OF LIFE

Sir Bill, Sir Dan and Sir Joe, Transportation and Food Barons, Show Activity in Western Ontario—Farmers Will Not Be Deceived—Believe Sir Wilfrid Can Be Trusted.

[BY J. H. FOWLER.]

A general election is in the offing. The announcement of the date of polling is not far remote, in fact, may come any moment.

The political parties are straightening a few fences, preparatory to an appeal to the electors. That it will be a gentle, loving, kindly campaign is impossible. That it will have much bitterness injected into it, that it will be one of the old-fashioned slam! bang! affairs seems to be assured. There will be not much quarter shown. Certainly none will be asked.

From a more or less close contact with political matters, conventions, etc., for the past few weeks, the public generally is prepared for a straight party fight. Some time ago there was much talk of fusion candidates, "win-the-war" candidates, and various other kinds of aspirants. In some places there was disposition to join in this movement, but now it seems to have died a-borning. That any of these so-called independent movements will cut any figure is doubted. It will be a straight "go-to-the-mat" affair, with fur flying, and hard words tossed off as glibly as excuses from a Hun's tongue.

Would Undermine McCoig.

It is true that there is one so-called "win-the-war" candidate in the field, in Kent County. This riding was hopeless from the standpoint of a straight Conservative party win. A. B. McCoig is strongly entrenched, and the Conservatives know it. The only way to beat him was to get a professed Liberal and shoot him into the breach, with a prayer that he might pry enough of McCoig's supporters away to snatch the riding from the Liberal column.

Mayor J. G. Kerr was chosen. He had the one qualification for the place—he was a professed Liberal. However, his connections were unfortunate at the time. He was a McKenzie & Mann solicitor. Sir Joseph Flavelle started to flood the riding with circulars against Mr. McCoig at the moment Mr. Kerr jumped into the arena. It was a faux pas, as it is called, and it gave some of Kerr's supporters a regular chill in the region of the bunions. The net result has been a strongly united Liberal party in Kent County, with a great following of Conservatives who might be inclined to go after McCoig on a straight party fight, but who will not swallow Kerr.

Knights Running Campaign.

This is mentioned simply to lead up to the fact that Sir William McKenzie, Sir Donald Mann and Sir Joseph Flavelle are issues in this campaign. The farmers are thinking about these doughty knights, who have been most successful in gathering the "dough" in this country, and a few other honors. Bill and Dan and Joe are going to be reckoned with, if one can judge sentiment right.

There was an historic Joseph who tried to do some corn-cornering, and did very well at it, but the folks nowadays become rather peevish with these persons. As a result of the activities of Sir Joseph Flavelle, there is a widespread sentiment of distrust against him, and it is nowhere more pronounced than among the farmers. At the recent meetings the writer attended, any mention of the Three Knights brought forth responses which would not have covered them with the light of joy. No, not much joy. Food barons and the McKenzie & Mann grab are not popular with the electors. Any candidate standing up for them will not be welcomed as a long lost relative by the farmers.

Government Is "In Bad."

Prussianism always overplays its hand. That has been the history of things since creation, and Canada is getting its dose. The C. N. R. purchase, the activities, or rather the inactivities, of Food Controller W. J. Hanna, the closure, the election act, the knighting of every man who has made a few millions, the inequalities of promotion in the militia, the presence of discredited politicians behind Sir Robert Borden, the incapacity of Hon. Tom Crothers, Sir George Foster and others, the failure of the Government to handle profiteers as enemies of the nation, the failure to conscript wealth, Camp Borden, the patronage, these and a score of other things have got the Government "in bad" with the electors. Make no mistake about that. The Liberal party in Western Ontario at least is the liveliest it has been since 1896. There is an overwhelming sentiment behind the party, and it is growing, growing by leaps and bounds. It is to be heard everywhere. It is a virile, strong force and will increase in strength.

The only answer to the Liberal charges is conscription. That measure cannot be discussed. That it is popular or unpopular is another matter. It is law, and as a law it must be and will be obeyed. The Liberals certainly will not oppose it.

Watch the Flag-Waving.

Evidences of flag-waving and loyalty cries are numerous. That patriotism will die with the Conservative party will be heralded. The war has killed the chances of the Tories getting away with disloyalty cries against the Liberals. Too many sons of Liberals are lying under white crosses in Flanders to have such heresy produce any effects. One Liberal sized the situation up when he said that in this war the Liberals were much more loyal than the Conservatives—they had no Government to give them the plums, place them in easy jobs and keep them home, when they considered that their time of service had elapsed. Every handicap was placed in the way of the Liberals. They could be hewers of wood and drawers of water, but the big things as a rule were not for them. There are exceptions, of course, very few, though, but the Liberals had to go and take the chances.

In spite of the publicity given to the stand taken by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Ontario, in spite of his vote against conscription without referendum, in spite of the antagonism of certain sections of the Liberal press, he is still the great outstanding figure at this time in Western Ontario. It can safely be said that Sir Wilfrid has not been overpraised in Ontario. He has been subjected to the hardest kind of criticism, but with the people at the meetings he is still the grand old man. The writer has been to many conventions during the past two decades. He has seen the Liberal party in defeat as in victory, but in his judgment there never was a time when the old chief was so strong as he is at this moment.

Can Trust Old Chief.

"We can trust Sir Wilfrid," was the cry of the speakers, as they worked the audience to heights of enthusiasm. "We trusted him in 1896, and he did not betray us, nor has he betrayed us since."

There is apparent also in the minds of the public the opinion that Sir Wilfrid is making his last great fight for a united Canada. He was never a separatist, never will be, and it is fitting that in the twilight of his life, he is battling for the great principle for which he has always fought. His greatest triumph seems to be at hand. "We want to stand together," said a farmer to the writer. "Sir Robert Borden brought division and strife. Sir Wilfrid always brought us together. He has stood out against his own many times, but they loved him as we love him. He can do more without conscription than any of the others can do with it."

The union of Quebec and the western provinces behind Sir Wilfrid has had a great effect, one would gather from conversations with the delegates. The farmers do not love Sir Clifford Sifton. His rebuke by the people of the west is much enjoyed by the farmers. The politicians of Ontario who tried to isolate Quebec have isolated Ontario. The national newspapers of Ontario, so called, are looked upon as merely reflecting Toronto opinion, which always has the dollar mark on it. The newspapers are flayed at these conventions.

Farmers In Dead Earnest.

"We are voiceless, while capital is shouting from the housetops," said a farmer. "We are mute, while the air is filled with the bellowings of the purchased press."

This criticism is not altogether correct, of course. It is mentioned merely because the farmer is deadly in earnest, and he is not so careful about his language in expressing his dissatisfaction with conditions.

The farmers are becoming communistic to a great degree. There is a bond of sympathy between the farmers of Quebec, the west and Ontario. The west and Quebec have not together. The farmers of Ontario are going to join them. It is not going to be a happy outlook for the trusts and combines and the bankers' associations.

The war is being thought of, and it is being discussed. It is the great thing in the minds of the men in the village and the country. The great struggle has cost them dearly, many of them having lost sons in France and Flanders. They don't forget that, not for a minute. They have worked hard this summer for the Allies. They have not been given much assistance. They are not complaining. They are ready to do more, but they are not going to adopt the principle that only Sir Robert is loyal and good and righteous; that he alone can save the situation. They are willing to trust Sir Wilfrid, and unless all signs fail, the old chief will be given his chance.

Quebec Will Get Chance.

It does not mean that he will not be called to account if he does not take advantage of his opportunity. Sir Wilfrid will have the confidence of the Liberals and a great sprinkling of independents and Conservatives. Quebec will have to show the faith that is in it. The province will be given its opportunity, under right conditions, and with sympathy and kindliness.

The wool will not be drawn over the eyes of the people, if one is to judge from known sentiment. There will be no pseudo patriots given a chance to hoodwink the electors. The oily hand of capital always betrays itself in time, but it has been seen this election much earlier than usual.

Canada's best days are ahead. United, concentrated to great tasks, with sympathy and co-operation between the various parts, Liberalism is facing a new dawn. The real fusion candidates will be the Liberal candidates—they will fuse Canada into an unbreakable whole.

The elections will be purifying. There is so much to settle, and it will be settled and settled right.

Eat Less Meat—Eat More Whole Wheat— that is the way to save money, save strength, save health and save food. Cut out the expensive indigestible foods. The whole wheat is the most perfect food given to man. But be sure you get the whole wheat grain in a digestible form. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is 100 per cent. whole wheat and is made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking. It contains more real body-building nutriment than meat, and costs much less. Delicious for any meal with milk or cream, and fruits.

Made in Canada.

Once More Canada Must Stand in the Gap. Once More Must Hold the Lines of Communication

As, when at Ypres, Canada's Gallant Sons stood in the Gap and held back the Hunnish Hordes---and shed Immortal Glory on Canada's fair name---

So, in their homes, Canada's Noble Women are now called upon to Stand in the Gap and hold back the spectre of hunger from our troops.

The men "out there" must have sufficient food. Only certain kinds of food are suitable for export.

And so we ask you to Pledge yourself and your family to eat less of these foods, so that there may be sufficient of them for export.

For example---if you do your own baking use one-third oatmeal, corn, barley or rye flour with your white flour. If you buy from a baker, order some brown bread each day.

And---this is most important---positively prevent the waste of a single ounce of food in your household.

Next week a Food Service Pledge and Window Card will be delivered to you. The Pledge is your Dedication to War Service---The Window Card is your Emblem of Honour.

Woman's Auxiliary, Organization of Resources Committee, in Co-operation with The Hon. W. J. Hanna, Food Controller.

USE OF FISH

People have got more or less into the habit of eating fish on Friday only. Fish are just as appetizing and nourishing on Tuesdays and Thursdays as on Fridays, and if you and your neighbors will buy fish any day in the week, you will get cheaper fish and better fish. Hundreds of carloads of fish are exported from Canada because the people living here do not appreciate the value of fish as a food, and do not buy it as often as they should.

Fish supplies the body with material for building and repair, and with energy for heat and muscular work. The value of any food to the body is reckoned upon its yield of digestible nutrients, chiefly in the form of protein, fat, starch and sugar. The demand for it frequently depends upon its cost.

Like meat, eggs, and milk, fish yields a great deal of protein (the chief body-building material), and in many cases at considerably less cost, e.g.,

From eggs at 50c per dozen will cost $2.80.

The energy value of a food is reckoned in calories. The calorie is the unit of heat or energy generated in the human body by the assimilation of a certain amount of food. In other words, the heat necessary to raise four pounds of water one degree Fahrenheit is one calorie; or, the amount of energy required to raise one pound one foot, is one calorie.

Generally speaking, fish has about the same digestibility as meat, the non-oily kinds being more easily digested than the oily ones.

The caloric rating of different foods is not an absolute measure of their value. A better test is the proportion absorbed by the human body as tissue and blood-building elements. From this point of view fish foods rank very high.

PURCHASING.

In purchasing fresh fish, see that the eyes are bright and prominent, that the flesh is firm, and the gills red.

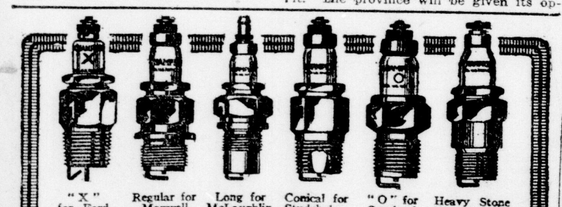

PREPARATION.

When fresh fish are prepared by scaling or skimming, they should be wiped with a clean, dry cloth, and placed in a dry place. If put in cold water, food substance will be dissolved, and so lost.

Before boiling, salt fish must be soaked for several hours in cold, unsalted water to remove some of the salt. This water should be changed several times, or, better, place the pan containing the fish under a tap, which is allowed to drip, thus ensuring constant change of water.

Frozen fish must be placed in cold water to have the frost drawn out. When this is completed, clean and prepare as any other fish, and cook in any desired form. This kind of fish is just as nutritious as any other fish, and its cheapness should make it more widely known.

THOMAS NOT AT ISSUE WITH EITHER PRESENT OR PAST PREMIER OF FRANCE

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Albert Thomas, Socialist member of the war council under the Ribot ministry, in a statement to the Journal today declared that his refusal to collaborate with either Premier Ribot or with Professor Paul Painleve, the present premier, in forming a cabinet, was not because of personalities involved, but because of the question of the Government program, and especially of the will to carry it out.

Neither he nor his party, said Thomas, had ever placed a veto on any particular person. What he criticized and what led to his withdrawal, notwithstanding many points in common with both the present and the former premier was the general composition of the cabinet and the lack of a program for reorganization, as well as the formation of a war committee which lacked youth, vigor and power. This attitude, he declared, represented not merely his personal views, but also those of his party.

CANADIAN GUNNERS DRIVE FOE IN HOLES, THEN SMOTHER THEM

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, via London, Sept. 14.—By Stewart Lyon, special correspondent of the Canadian Press.—The Germans in Lens are given no rest. Early last night they were subjected to a heavy bombardment from large calibre guns. After they had been driven into their cellars and shelter galleries by shell fire, gas was projected upon the enemy positions.

Shortly before midnight and again after three o'clock this morning, this shell fire was continued. Serious losses are believed to have followed.

A prisoner who wandered into our lines in a dazed condition, after our second attack, says the gas was almost immediately effective. He himself took only two inhalations before he got his mask on, but was seriously affected. The attacks surprised many of the enemy in the dugouts, where our guns is most deadly.

MAJOR WILLIAM BISHOP IS SOON COMING HOME

Holds British Record for Dropping Foe Planes—Given High Office.

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—Acting-Major William Avory Bishop, the young Owen Sound aviator, who was recently awarded the Victoria Cross, is leaving England for Canada, according to a cable received from him last night by a friend in the city. Major Bishop cabled that he had been awarded the bar to the D. S. O. He is also said to have received the appointment of chief instructor of aerial gunnery and squadron commander in England. In writing to a friend a short time ago he said he had been recommended to take charge of an airdrome in England, but did not give particulars. He was made acting-major when he was appointed instructor in gunnery. He already held the Victoria Cross, Distinguished Service Order and Military Service Medal. He received the latest decoration for bringing down nine enemy machines in two hours, making a total of more than forty Boche planes that he has bagged. Last week he broke the British record for machines brought down, and came near breaking the world's record. He was forced to take leave of absence when he fell 4,000 feet with his machine aflame and crashed to the ground behind his own lines.

ATTEMPTED MURDER IS ADDED CHARGE AGAINST TREMBLAY

Still Refuses to "Peach" and Goes Back to Jail.

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—One of the alleged dynamiters, Joseph Tremblay, who was committed to jail a couple of days ago for contempt of court because he would not answer questions put to him in the witness box by the crown counsel in the preliminary hearing in Elie Lalumiere's case, again today refused to talk and was sent back to jail by Judge Saint Cyr.

Two more charges were laid against him this afternoon, attempted murder and destruction of property by participating in the explosion of Lord Athol-stan's summer residence at Cartierville. The first charge was having dynamite in his possession.

CRASHED INTO BRIDGE, BUT ESCAPED UNHURT

CLANDEBOYE, Sept. 14. — While returning from London Fair last night Harry Kuhn of Crediton crashed into the second concession McGillivray bridge and badly damaged his big car. None of the occupants were injured. Mr. Kuhn states that poor lights were the cause of the accident.

Threshing is in full swing in this district, some of the farmers still having oats in the field, waiting to get their barns threshed out to make room for the oats. Very little grain has turned out as large as was expected, one thresher stating that so far in his route none of the wheat had averaged more than 30 bushels per acre.

The acreage being sown to wheat this year will be about the same as last year, and is being sown in good shape, the rains of the past couple of weeks having helped the farmers in plowing and working the land.

ALLEGED DYNAMITER SUNDAY SCHOOL SUPT.

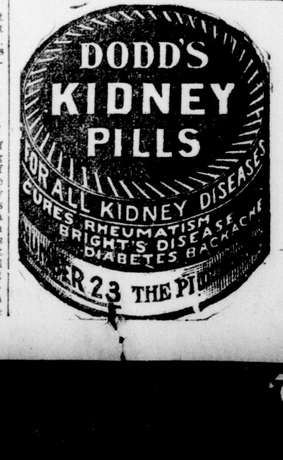

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—Speaking of Arthur Blackwell, charged with having dynamite in his possession, and one of the men arrested in conection with the blowing up of Lord Atholstan's country home in Cartierville, his counsel this morning, after making a plea for a speedy trial, said he was a valued man in the locomotive plant where he was employed. Counsel also pointed out that Blackwell had been detained in jail while others were released on bail, that he was the superintendent of a Maisonneuve Sunday school and also a scoutmaster. The court agreed to take Blackwell's case in eight days.

FINANCE MINISTER IS CALLED TO WASHINGTON

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—Lord Reading, who is in the United States on a financial mission for Great Britain, has asked Sir Thomas White to join him at Washington for consultation. The minister of finance will leave Canada within the next few days.

LIQUOR FINE $800 AND COSTS.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14.—Donald Gaunt was fined $800 and costs today in the police court for selling liquor. In default of payment he will have to go to jail. This is a record fine under the Manitoba temperance act.

October 15 and week, Mary Pickford in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," the funniest picture Mary ever made (Artcraft).

"The Deemster" is the most powerful dramatic story written by Hall Caine. The locale of its scenes is the Isle of Man. The time of its action is the early eighteenth century. Its motive is law and atonement.

Daniel Mylrea is the son of the bishop of Man, the hereditary baron of the isle, whose temporary power is higher even than that of the deemster, or governor. The bishop desires Dan to take orders, but he prefers to become a fisherman. The deemster of Man has a son and a daughter. Dan and Mona are in love. She consents to marry him when he can obtain her father's consent. Ewan, her brother, becomes a clergyman, in the face of his father's insistence that he take up his business as a vocation.

The deemster opposes Dan's suit because he has fallen from his high estate as the son of the bishop and become a fisherman. His dislike turns to open hatred when Dan endeavors to borrow money from Ewan to pay off the crew of his boat. Dan has squandered his earnings in drink. Ewan refuses Dan the loan, who makes him a bitter enemy by knocking him down on his taunt that squandering money in drink is as bad as theft.

The deemster forbids Mona to see Dan. He meets her clandestinely at night. While these meetings are innocent her father uses them to inflame Ewan's mind against Dan by leading him to believe his sister has been dishonored. Arming himself with a knife Ewan seeks Dan at his hut and finds him mending nets. He attacks Dan and in the conflict falls backward over a cliff and is killed.

Dan is tried on Tynwald Hill the ancient law mount before his own father as the supreme judge of the island who to escape from sentencing him to death on the gallows decrees that he shall be cut off from his people —none to speak of him none to minister to him if ill and none to bury him in death.

"Smiling Doug" Fairbanks in "Down to Earth"" at the Patricia Thursday, Friday and Saturday Next.

If you have spots before the eyes, a lame back, misery after eating and are pursued by symptoms that have almost run themselves into ailments, "Down to Earth" is the treatment for you.

I may be wrong—I often am—but it is my opinion that in the picture under discussion, Douglas Fairbanks gives the best performance of his screen career. He may not be as rambunctious as at times we have seen him, but he is rambunctious enough, and rapid action, comedy, clever situations—not to speak of the delightful captions—keep you merrily occupied from start to finish of the picture. Just wait till I tell you what it's all about and you'll realize how funny it must be.

Charles Gaynor buys out a sanatorium, patients and good-will—though he confesses later he is sadly stung on the latter because the girl he has loved hopelessly is there suffering from a breakdown induced by late hours, highballs and cigarettes, and is there receiving treatment which consists of giving her the selfsame things that have laid her low. Unable to get her away he induces Dr. Jollyem, who is the head of the fake institute, to sell out to him and "beat it." To the tune of $25,000 the doctor does.

Whereupon young Mr. Gaynor institutes a smallpox scare. He informs the patients they are all under quarantine, but that he, under cover of night, will spirit them away on his yacht, which lies in the harbor. Gladly they accept his proposal and morning finds them tossing on the high seas.

The first of the Goldwyn productions, "Polly of the Circus," featuring Mae Marsh, is something well worth anticipating. The story is an excellent one and deals with circus life—a subject which should interest both young and old. The story has been very well handled and the touches of humor and pathos are combined in an excellent manner.

The story deals with a little bareback rider, known as Polly. Both of her parents are dead, and Jim and Toby, circus hands, are her sponsors. One night while performing Polly is thrown from her horse and injured. She is taken to the home of Parson Douglas and the circus is forced to leave without her. The parson finds in Polly some one different from any of the members of his flock and his liking for the circus rider does not please the members of his congregation. They force Polly to leave, and in order that Douglas might retain his church Polly re-enters the circus, although continual thought of the parson makes her unhappy. After a year's separation the circus comes to the town again. Douglas has not forgotten his little circus girl and one night he goes to the tent to visit her. The tents catch fire and there is general confusion. Out of the wreckage the parson and Jim bring Polly to safety. In the arms of the parson Polly bids her circus friends good-bye forever.

AT THE STAR

The mystery in Pathe's "Mystery of the Double Cross" serial is heightened in the fourteenth chapter, which will be shown at the Star Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. Usually, when a serial gets along this far, the solution is plainly in sight, but the ingenuity of Director William Parke and Bertram Millhauser, who wrote the scenarios from the original story by Gilson Willets, has made it possible to sustain the interest at fever heat to this point.

Eleventh Episode of "The Neglected Wife" at the Star Today.

Corenne Grant and Ruth Lackaye, who play in "The Neglected Wife," Pathe's latest serial, the eleventh episode of which is to be at the Star Theatre today, are dressing-room mates. Their tastes are extremely sympathetic, each caring for deep psychological studies of the most modern thought, in which they like to take refuge, when the superficial things of life crowd too closely.

An unannounced caller is likely to find the two comparing notes on previous researches in the realms of thought, which the average person is won't to skate over on thin ice. Miss Grant, slight, ethereal and spirituelle is noted in filmdom as a student of Karma and for her devotion to the study of the metaphysical. She is strongly inspirational and believes in reincarnation.

MAJESTIC FEATURE FILM ATTRACTIONS WEEK OF SEPT. 17

"I am really living this picture," Mme. Petrova was heard to observe the other day during the filming of her latest Paramount picture, "The Law of the Land." "It is one of the most vitally thrilling and intense pictures in which I have ever appeared," she continued, "and I find that after a few scenes, I actually merge my own identity with that of Margaret, poor, fragile Margaret, accused of murdering her own husband. Even at home when rehearsals are over I feel myself falling back into the role, and listening tensely for the sound of the Little Chap's laughter or the dreaded step of the cruel husband." "The Law of the Land" is at the Majestic Theatre today.

Coming Majestic Attractions.

Julian Eltinge in "The Countess Charming." As an impersonator of feminine characterizations, Mr. Eltinge has no equal in the world.
Charles Ray in "Honorable Algy."
William S. Hart in "The Dawn Maker."
Pauline Frederick in "Double Crossed."
Marguerite Clark in "Bab's Diary."
Olive Thomas in "Madcap Madge."
Blanch Sweet in "Those Without Sin."
Big special—Edward Earle and Betty Howe in "For France."

"A Clever Dummy," One of the Funniest of Funny Keystones.

When it comes to laughs and ingenuity, not to mention thrills, the Mack Sennett-Keystone at Majestic Monday and Tuesday stands out like a beacon in the night.

It is called "a Clever Dummy," and has for its basic plot the invention of a life-sized manikin which is so human that it even hits its inventor over the head with a hammer.

How it is sold to a pair of vaudeville magnates, and how a humble janitor's heart nearly wrecks the deal, make up a fun film absolutely unique.

"An Alabaster Box," the Greater Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature, will be the attraction in the Majestic Theatre on Monday and Tuesday of next week, with Alice Joyce in the leading role. Lydia Bolton is only a child when financial difficulties overtake her father. His fellow-townsmen do not give him support, and he goes to the wall, closing factory and shop, and spreading business ruin generally. Andrew Bolton goes to prison an embezzler, cursed by everyone. Lydia is taken in charge by an uncle and the old Bolton mansion, once a proud landmark, is left to neglect. Time has not tempered the disposition of the community when Lydia Bolton comes back, her identity hidden in the name of Lydia Orr. She opens her purse first at a church festival, but her generosity is rewarded only by disparaging remarks and open hints of ulterior motives.

At the Majestic Wednesday and Thursday matinee only.

Thomas Meighan, the talented screen star who has recently appeared with Pauline Frederick in many of that star's best-known pictures, is now appearing with the charming Billie Burke in the latter's latest production for Paramount, "The Mysterious Miss Terry," a thrilling mystery story full of "human interest" and comedy touches, and containing one of the most fascinating love stories imaginable. Billie Burke and Mr. Meighan in "The Mysterious Miss Terry" are at Majestic Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, matinee only.

Enid Bennett Stars in "The Mother Instinct" at Majestic Wednesday and Thursday.

With elaborate settings depicting a French fishing village and the Latin quarter of Paris, and a company of more than 200 players, the new Triangle play, "The Mother Instinct," starring Enid Bennett, which comes to the Majestic Theatre Wednesday, promises to be one of the most interesting plays presented in several months.

The story concerns Eleanor Coutierre, a fisherman's daughter in a little coast hamlet of France, who goes to Paris and enters the gay revelries of the Latin quarter. When her mother comes unexpectedly to the city she finds that Eleanor has become a mother, and is innocently proud of the nameless babe.

"The Almighty Dollar," at the Majestic Wednesday and Thursday, Matinee Only.

"The Almighty Dollar," a story of two sisters orphaned and left alone to face the ways of the world, affords excellent opportunities for Frances Nelson and June Elvidge to co-star and appear in a film together to the best of advantage. Both Miss Nelson and Miss Elvidge were born and bred in St. Paul, Minn., and this is the first time that two girls from the same city, who are not sisters, are featured in the same picture. "The Almighty Dollar" is a World Film production, and will be shown at the Majestic Wednesday and Thursday, matinee only.

Another famous author has contributed a picture to Paramount's long list of adaptations of famous stories—this time Wallace Irwin is the convert to the screen world, for his celebrated "Hashimura Togo" stories have been filmed with Sessue Hayakawa, America's most famous Japanese actor, in the title role.

The "Hashimura Togo" stories are familiar to magazine and newspaper readers all over the country, and the announcement that the Majestic Theatre will show this most popular and quaintest of characters on Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening will be welcome news.

Western Fair Pictures at the Majestic on Monday and Tuesday Next.

Pictures of all the interesting scenes at the Western Fair were taken on Wednesday and Thursday by the Majestic cameraman, and will be shown at this popular theatre on Monday and Tuesday next. The races, the stock parade, the midway, the crowds and other features will be shown.

AT THE UNIQUE

"There seems to be no end to the accomplishments that a motion picture serial star needs," said Charles Richman, the hero of Vitagraph's romantic fifteen-episode story, "The Secret Kingdom," after he had finished his role in "The Ghost Ship," the seventh episode, which is at the Unique Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday next.

Mr. Richman is indeed correct, for in this serial he is seen as a king of a small kingdom called Alania, a wild west cowboy and now as a stoker on a private yacht sailing for Europe.

"The Clarion," at the Unique Wednesday and Thursday.

"The Clarion," a thrilling photoplay, is the feature attraction at the Unique Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday next.

A high-powered motor, like a juggernaut, whirls around the corner and a lifeless body arouses in Hal Surtaine a mad desire to fight the people's fight.

A mad, surging mob, made beasts by the anger of numbers, rushes through narrow streets, tramples police and onlookers beneath avenging heels. Onward they rush, and the power to destroy is realized.

Stones and flaming torches are hurled—a bomb, with one mighty roar, wrecks the place, Hal's fiance rest under a stigma, his father a criminal, the mob recognizes neither man nor God—and the end—.

During the filming of Bryant Washburn's latest Essanay feature, "The Golden Idiot," a bottle of champagne secured for use in the roadhouse scene disappeared. An exhaustive search of the huge studio failed to reveal it. An hour later "Pod," the three-legged canine actor in this production, was heard snoring beneath a table. There beside him was the wine bottle broken. The floor had been licked clean and the dog was in the sublime realms of a "champagne jag."

At the Patricia Theatre On September 24, 25 and 26.

TEUTONS' REPLY TO PROPOSAL BY POPE QUITE CONCILIATORY

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 14.—The reply of the central powers to the peace note of Pope Benedict, says a Vienna dispatch to the Tijd, begins by declaring that they regard the papal proposals as a suitable basis for peace negotiations.

Regarding the exchange of occupied territories, arbitration, disarmament and similar proposals, declarations are made, the dispatch adds, which testify to the idealism of the central powers and their sincere desire for a peace which will insure happiness to all nations.

Conciliatory Declarations.

Conciliatory declarations also are made respecting the settlement of the Balkan question, Poland and the restoration of Belgium, but emphasis is laid on the condition that the Entente powers must also give serious evidence of a desire for peace by a joint and benevolent discussion of the questions which now separate the nations. The reply, it is said, will be published as soon as the consent of the papal nuncio at Vienna is obtained.

MAKE BELGIUM INDEPENDENT.

ROME, Sept. 14.—The reply of the central powers to Pope Benedict's peace note was received by the Vatican today, according to well-informed officials.

It was reported the reply favors "absolute independence for Belgium," demanding that King Albert's country "be independent of all military and economic alliances."

TALK OF ENGLISH OFFER.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 14.—The interviews that Dr. Michaelis, the imperial German chancellor, and other leaders have nad with the German emperor, the Deutsches Tages Zeitung of Berlin, believes, are connected with an English peace offer, "rumors of which assume from hour to hour a more definite form."

The newspaper is consoled by the presence in Berlin of the German crown prince, adding that as on the occasion of the last visit of the crown prince, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg retired as chancellor, so today Germany "can be preserved from disaster."

NO ENGLISH OFFER.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—It is officially stated that any suggestion of an "English peace offer" is totally without foundation.

BERLIN SUMMONS COUNT VON LUXBURG TO REPORT AT HOME

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 14.—Dr. von Kuehlmann, the German foreign minister, has requested the Argentine legation at Berlin to communicate telegraphically a request to Count von Luxburg, the German minister in Argentina, to come to Berlin, in order personally to report, according to advices received here from Berlin.

URUGUAY APPROVES.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 14. — The Government of Uruguay, in response to a note from the Government of Argentina, declares it approves of the action of the Argentine Government in handing passports to Count von Luxburg, the German minister.

The Brazilian steamship Burababy, formerly German-owned, has been placed under strong guard as the result of threats to damage the steamer having been made by Germans interned here.

THE NEW SENSATION

THE STORY AS IT IS.

My wife and I were sitting on the veranda watching the sunset, and I was thinking of the throat trouble she had experienced for thirty years. A goitre had gradually been choking the glands of the neck, and it was beginning to be a very serious affair, being as large as a big apple. An idea struck me suddenly: why wouldn't an oil which I had seen used, and that had taken a lump off a horse in my village, not make a cure easier on a human being whose skin was thin? I turned to my wife and said: "I have a sure cure for your goitre." She replied: "I am sick of trying anything; an operation is my only salvation." I remarked: "Will you use Parker's Oil, which I know took a large lump off a horse?" She consented, and commenced rubbing her neck from five to fifteen minutes every night with Parker's Oil, and in four weeks' time the lump was one-fifth gone. She soaked a cloth with the oil and tied it round her neck every evening on retiring. In four months' time she surprised me one evening by saying: "Say, A. G., the goitre has disappeared entirely." This was in 1914, and it has never returned. Anyone troubled with goitre, by corresponding with my wife, will have this recommend verified. I have this to say: If a lady using Parker's Oil four months every night does not effect a cure, I will pay for the oil so used.—A. G. HANNAN, Harness Maker Union, Ont., Canada. July 24, 1917.

TOP OF MONTE SAN GABRIELE NOW IN HANDS OF ITALIANS

GAINED AT AWFUL COST

Two Days' Hard Fighting Is Severe Blow to Austria-Hungary.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Italians have taken from the Austro-Hungarians the fortified hill of Dol and the Gargaro Basin, and now occupy the slope and top of Monte San Gabriele, after severe fighting. The Italian embassy, in announcing the capture today, said it is the greatest victory gained by the Italians since their entrance into the war.

Capture of all Austro-Hungarian positions on Monte San Gabriele is expected to be a matter of hours. The fighting in the region of the forest of Tarnavo was very severe, as the Austrians had assembled an enormous force of artillery there. The positions there were taken by infantry attack at heavy cost to the Italians.

The battle has been raging two days. Last week the Austrians changed from the defensive and began an offensive, using masses of their best troops against the Italian positions. The loss of San Gabriele will mean for the Austrians, the embassy says, the loss of all the vantage points against the Gorizia plain and the Frigido valley.

Trying Since August 25.

The Italian effort to capture San Gabriele began after the taking of Monte Santo, directly north, by General Cadorna's troops on August 25. Several times the Italians had reached the summit of the great mountain, so important to their further progress east of Gorizia as well as on the Carso, only to be beaten back again. On the slopes of the rugged rock in the past few weeks has occurred some of the heaviest and most sanguinary fighting of the war, with the Italians hurling themselves forward in desperate attacks and the Austrians holding to the crest as desperately.

San Gabriele's top was occupied by the Italians, the embassy reports, after the fortified hill or saddle of Dol and the Gargaro Basin, the main bulk of San Gabriele, had been taken. The Austrians, however, still cling to some positions on the mountain. In the forest of Tarnovo, east of Monte San Gabriele, the Italians captured positions from the Austrians, after suffering heavy losses.

Fight Way Up Mountains.

Further details tell how the Italian infantry worked up the slopes of the mountain, making short gains at the cost of heavy sacrifices. The battlefield was covered with the dead of both armies, but the Italians, in spite of their heavy losses, obtained a secure position, from which they can shell the enemy. From now on it is believed the battle will be more of an artillery engagement.

NO MORE COAL FOR CANADA EXCEPT BY LICENSE, IS ORDER

Mandate Not as Serious as It Sounds.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Continued export of coal to Canada in large amounts through Great Lakes ports at the expense of the northwestern states will be checked immediately by the fuel administration. Dr. H. A. Garfield, the fuel administrator, today requested the exports administrative board to permit no more coal to be shipped from the country except under license restrictions, and asked that no licenses be granted unless they are approved by the fuel administration. Coal heretofore along with other American products has gone to Canada under blanket licenses issued by collectors of customs.

"The fuel administration," said Dr. Garfield tonight, "does not intend to cut off Canadian exports, but with this supervision it will be able to equalize the distribution of coal, and see that the northwest and Canada both get their fair share."

Get After Germans.

At present the Government is considering seriously cutting off of coal that is going to German-owned public utility concerns in South America, which the state department suspects of furnishing much of the money that is being spent for propaganda on the North and South American continents. If shipments to these concerns are stopped it is declared the South American governments will be forced to take over the utilities, which would put an end in large measure to the expenditure of their profits for propaganda.

Licenses For Foods.

Shipment of certain foods to Canada and Newfoundland, under a ruling tonight by the exports administration board, hereafter will require the same form of license demanded for their export to other countries. Heretofore they have gone forward under blanket license issued by collectors of customs.

The purpose of the order, it was explained, is to provide means of closer co-operation between the American and Canadian food administrators and to put the United States in a position to conserve its supplies if shortages appear likely. The foods named are wheat, wheat flour, butter and sugar. Licensing, it was said, will permit the food administrators to keep a closer check on supplies in each country.

For the present, it is understood, there is no intention to restrict the shipments to Canada to any marked extent.

OFFERING GOOD, DEMAND IS BRISK

Brisk trading characterized the local market this morning, when an unexpected large offering of produce attracted a large attendance. A good variety of fruit and vegetables featured the offerings.

Thimbleberries were to be seen on the market for the first time during the week. The value had decreased slightly, and a box of the berries sold at from 17c to 19c. White flesh peaches were plentiful in large baskets, selling at 80c to $1.

Plums and apples were scarce, and the values remained stationary.

Potatoes were plentiful. The range of prices was from $1.25 to $1.50 a bushel. Corn on the cob was easier at from 12c to 20c a dozen. The quality ranged from the poorest offered for years to the best type. For the former variety of corn little demand was shown, and it consequently sold at the above quoted low rate.

Cauliflowers advanced considerably when some of the finest quality sold at $1.50 to $2.25 a dozen. The usual price for the vegetable was 20c to 25c each. This is considered an exceptionally high price to pay for cauliflower at this time of the season.

An easier range of prices for tomatoes was shown, when all offerings for this variety of vegetable were between 40c and 60c a basket. The reported damage inflicted upon certain kinds of vegetables, following the frost of previous nights, has not up to date influenced their values to the least degree.

Beans are selling at the unchanged price of from 8c to 10c a quart. Celery is bringing 30c to 50c per dozen bunches, and beets are selling at 15c to 25c a bunch.

There is a brisk demand for dairy products, and the offering was somewhat larger. The expected advance in the price of butter and eggs has not occurred yet, butter selling at from 46c to 47c a pound, and eggs calling for 44c to 45c per dozen retail.

Live and dressed meats are unchanged.

A large offering of honey was in good demand today. Ten-pound pails sold at the price prevalent throughout the season which is from $1.80 to $1.90.

A particularly fine assortment of fowl was offered, the prices in some kinds of poultry having advanced to a large extent since the birds' last appearance. Ducks sold as high as $1.50 each, and spring chickens brought from $1 to $1.50 a pair.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Opening: Corn—December, $1 18½@1 18¾; May, $1 16@1 15½.

Oats—December, 58⅝c; May, 61⅜@61 5-16c.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Better weather than expected gave an advantage today to the bears in the corn market. Reports of a German submarine operating off the northeast coast tended further to handicap the bulls.

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—The market opened fairly active this morning for oats, with fresh quotations for the October option at 68½@68¼c, and December at 63⅛c, the latter being 2 points below yesterday's close. May opened at 66½c, a decline of ¼c from yesterday.

Inspections were 603 cars, of which 427 were contract.

GRAIN OUTLOOK BETTER.

Minneapolis, Sept. 15.—Improvement was reported today in the grain shortage situation, which for a time threatened to force the closing of many flour mills here.

Members of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce said that formers of the Northwest, expecting a price of at least $2 a bushel for next year's crop, are making ppreparations for planting one of the largest crops in history.

LIVE STOCK.

Toronto, Sept. 15.—After a fairly active Saturday morning, the market closed with prices generally a little higher. Maple Leaf Milling showed unusual activity, opening at 100, declining to 99, and gaining again to 101, on sales of 230 shares. War bonds and other securities were steady.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Cattle—Receipts, 1,000; market steady; beeves, $7 40@17 80; westerns, $6 50@15 50; stockers and feeders, $6 30@10 75; cows and heifers, $5@12 85; calves, $12 50@16 50.

MAY REOPEN COTTON DEALING IN FUTURES

London, Sept. 15.—The control board has placed before the British Board of Trade for approval a scheme for the reopening of the cotton futures market, according to the correspondent at Manchester of the London Times. If the suggestion is adopted, dealings in futures will commence October 1, without drastic limitations in all the months from January to August. The basis will be good middling instead of middling, and no tenders will be allowed.

MONEY.

London, Sept. 15.—Bar silver, 51d per ounce. Money, 3¾ per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 4¾ per cent; three months bills, 13-16 per cent.

RESERVES DECREASE.

New York, Sept. 15.—The actual condition of clearing house bonks and trust companies for the week shows that they hold $75,684,410 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is a decrease of $11,413,020 from last week.

WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 15.—Reactionary tendencies were uppermost in the stock market today. The trend was attributable to a variety of unfavorable influences, including the less satisfactory Russian news, the rumored presence of the hostile submarine in the Western Atlantic, and reports that industrial taxation would be increased largely. In the face of these factors possibilities of the bear side became more promising for the moment, and more special issues were sold very freely. The coppers were the mean points of weakness. Inspiration lost more than 3 points. Towards the close the list stiffened on a demand for clalers and motors, but subsequently yielded again on increased weakness of steels and coppers. The closing was heavy. Total sales approximated 185,000 shares. bonds were irregular.

New York, Sept. 15—Wall Street, 10:10 a.m.—Initial prices were mixed, but changes for the most part were unimportant. Steels and coppers were sustained.

10:30 a.m.—Trading was in reduced volume at the opening of the stock market today, and no efforts were made to follow up yesterday's advantage. On the first transactions, movements were small and irregular, but as it became apparent that support was lacking, the market eased off. Traders found buying of the coppers of poorquality, and hammered these shares energetically. Utah, Inspiration and Anaconda lost 1 to 2 points, and the steels, motors and war shares large fractions.

SECURITIES MARKET IN CONFUSED STATE

Some Lowest Prices In Years Reached.

New York, Sept. 15.—Weekly financial review: Judgment as to the outlook for the securities market was held in suspense this week pending the clearing up of various questions with direct bearing on financial conditions, and the irregular movements on the stock exchange were in accord with the confused state of speculative sentiment.

During the earlier part of the week the feeling was distinctly bearish, and although the decline in prices was followed by a strong recovery there was no indication that a genuinely constructive movement was under way or that the financial committee had arrived at any conclusions respecting the main questions at issue. The internal troubles in Russia weighed heavily against the market, as did the uncertainties as to Governmental price fixing and the course of financial legislation by Congress. Firmness of money rates, notwithstanding the improved position of the banks, tended to check operations on the long side. Liquidation of standard investment shares was continued and many low prices—in some instances the lowest of many years—were reached. Speculators for the decline raided the market with a good deal of success and favorite madiums for such trading were depressed extensively.

The recovery which came late in the week apparently was assisted by over short selling, which produced an evident scarcity of stocks in which bearish operations had been largest. Liquidation ceased and outside buying gave evidence of increased confidence in the market's position. Another contributing factor was the news from Russia that the Provisional Government had suppressed the insurrectionary movement. Russian rubles, which had declined rapidly to the unprecedented price of 11½, as compared with normal quotations around 52, effected a quick and substantial recovery.

LOWER WHEAT GRADES HIGHER AT WINNIPEG

No. 6 and Feed Wheat Go Up Two Cents Yesterday.

LIGHT OFFERINGS AGAIN

Flax Options Higher, While October Oats Remain Same.

Winnipeg, Sept. 14.—There was a good demand in the wheat market today, with extremely light offerings. Wheat prices were the same as yesterday, excepting No. 6 and feed wheat, which were 2c higher respectively. Oats were unchanged, and the demand continued good. The demand for barley showed more activity. One cent higher was quoted for No. 3 and No. 4 grades.

There was some moderate business in the market for future deliveries, with prices fairly steady around the previous close. The flax options were strong and 3c to 5c higher.

Oats—October, 68½c to 68½c; November closing, 67⅛c; December, 64c to 63⅜c; May, 67⅛c to 66¾c.

Barley—October closing, $1.17.

Flax—October, $3.26 to $3.24; November, $3.32 to $3.32; December, $3.15 to $3.16⅞.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.21; No. 2 northern, $2.18; No. 3 northern, $2.15; No. 4 northern, $2.09; No. 5, $1.86; No. 6, $1.78; feed, $1.68.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $3.27; No. 2 Canadian western, $3.20¼; No. 3 Canadian western, $3.10.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, new, $2.17@2.20, outside, according to location; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.30½, track, Goderich; No. 2 northern, $2.27½.

Rye—No. 2, $1.70.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Sept. 14.—A feature of the grain trade of late has been the steady demand from some local millers for Ontario wheat, and quite a few carlots have been sold, including sales today of white winter at $2.32 per bushel.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow—$2.20@2.35.

FLOUR

Toronto, Sept. 14—Flour—Manitoba. Listed quotations at Toronto are: First patents, $11.50; second patents, $11; strong bakers, $10.60; Ontario winter, 90 per cent patents, $10.20, Toronto.

Millfeed—Manitoba bran, $35 per ton; shorts, $42 per ton on track, Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 14.—New business in spring flour was quiet, but millers are now all busy filling orders taken of late. Winter wheat flour is in good demand and continues firm.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $11.60; seconds, $11.10; strong bakers, $10.90; winter patents, choice, $12; straight rollers, $11.50@11.80; straight rollers, bags, $5.60@5.75.

Which do you wear?

Wear a pair and be convinced.

IN MEMORIAM.

LOGHRIN—In honorable and loving memory of Major Samuel Monteith Loghrin, 18th Battalion, killed in action September 15, 1916, at Courcelette, France, son of the late Alex. Loghrin, Eramosa. Survived by his mother, Mrs. William Jeffrey, Stratford, and sons Samuel Monteith Loghrin, Radcliffe Loghrin. b

RANKIN—In loving memory of my dear husband, Pte. Donald Herbert Rankin, who was killed in action somewhere in France one year ago today:

We little thought when we said good-bye,
That we parted forever—and you were to die;
The grief that we felt words cannot tell,
For we could not be with you to bid you farewell.
You nobly answered your duty's call,
You gave your life for one and all.
But—the unknown is the bitterest blow,
None but an aching heart can know.
b —His Wife and Children.

WALKINGHOOD—In loving memory of Pte. Eugene Walkinghood, 70th Battalion, who died of wounds in hospital in France September 16, 1916:

We little thought when we said good-bye,
That we parted forever—and you were to die;
The grief that we felt words cannot tell,
For we could not be with you to bid you farewell.
You nobly answered your duty's call,
You gave your life for one and all;
But—the unknown is the bitterest blow,
None but an aching heart can know.
Gone but never forgotten by

TIRES! TIRES! TIRES!

We are offering the greatest bargains on new standard guaranteed tires or tubes. Our prices are less than second-grade tires can be purchased for, and are 20 per cent less than prevailing wholesale dealers' prices.

Our reason: We had more than 900 tires purchased last fall, before the advance in prices, for delivery during March, April, May, June, but due to the labor situation, which all tire manufacturers have been up against, the shipments have been delayed and the tires have reached us much later than expected.

CANADIAN MILLERS MUST PAY 2 CENTS A BUSHEL ROYALTY

Grain Supervisors' Demand Is Now Effective.

EXPORT ROYALTY 4 CENTS

Definite Destinations of All Wheat Purchased Must Be Recorded.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14.—The board of grain supervisors of Canada has ordered that upon all wheat purchased by or for the flour mills in Canada between September 12, 1917, and August 31, 1918 (both inclusive), there shall be paid by purchaser a sum of 2 cents per bushel to the board of grain supervisors, and upon all Canadian wheat exported between the same dates the exporters shall pay a sum of 4 cents per bushel.

The sum will be collected by the Lake Shippers' Clearance Association.

Must Know Destination.

It has been ordered by the board of grain supervisors that all purchase of wheat between September 12, 1917, and August 31, 1918, for shipment east of Fort William and Port Arthur, for shipment west of Calgary and Edmonton, for shipment from Duluth, for all rail shipments east of Fort William and Port Arthur, for Canadian mills, for wheat export companies, shall be reported to the board, giving the names of purchaser, for and from whom purchased, quantities, grades and prices.

A Most Attractive Exhibit

An exhibit that attracted great crowds in the Machinery Hall at the Fair was that of Mr. N. J. Griffith's, undertaker, of Dundas street. Mr. Griffith was exhibiting a handsome new Packard Motor Hearse of unusual beauty, which he had just purchased. The hearse was designed especially for Mr. Griffith by Mr. W. S. Hyslop of Toledo, Ohio, and the painting and decoration was executed in London. Bevelled glass and artistically-carved wood formed the body of the hearse.

It was exceedingly rich in appearance, and was said by Mr. Griffith to be the first vehicle in London regularly designed as a funeral hearse. It weighs slightly over a ton and a half.

Many Returned Soldiers Are Being Taught Trades.

At the meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., yesterday, in Cronyn Hall, the members unanimously decided to raise $1,000 to aid St. Dunstan School for the Blind at Halifax, where returned soldiers who lost their sight are taught trades.

The reports of the various chapters were read, each showing untiring efforts and time devoted to making comforts of the soldiers. Mrs. David Williams gave an address on food conservation, and in speaking of the campaign said it was not so much for economy, as to urge upon housewives the importance of conserving beef, bacon and wheat (white flour).

Mrs. E. L. Smith, who recently returned from Halifax, where she visited the school for the blind, where many returned blind soldiers are being taught suitable trades, said she had never witnessed a more pathetic sight. The school, she said, is handicapped in that more money is required for the extended equipment made necessary by the increase of those who have lost their sight during the war.

The order responded heartily to the appeal of Mrs. Smith and voted that $1,000 be raised for the Canadian St. Dunstan's School for the Blind. This amount will be forwarded to the superintendent, Sir C. Frederick Fraser, who is also blind.

The annual rally of the I. O. D. E. will be held on September 28, and Mrs. Crerar of Hamilton has promised to give an address. It was decided that the Sir George Ross Chapter, I. O. D. E., will have a tag day on October 6 to provide funds for the soldiers' comfort fund.

Mrs. Williams, in speaking of the conserving of white flour, said that she had visited three of the large bakeries in the city and had asked the owners if it would be possible to make loaves containing a portion of white flour and made up with a substitute of graham or other flour.

The bakers said that if the housewives demanded such a loaf, they would comply with the request, but could not otherwise do so, as it would mean a loss to them.

Mrs. Williams intimated that here and there the canvassers would be asked what other countries, such as Australia, are doing with their wheat. She said she knew of a man who had recently come from Australia, who had said that wheat which was piled up on the stations, waiting to be shipped, was being eaten by mice. Men are scarce, and demand exorbitant prices for loading the wheat. It is impossible to pay such prices, and the result is that the wheat is not shipped for perhaps months after it is ready.

The captains and their teams for the campaign are requested to meet in Cronyn Hall Monday morning at 9 o'clock, when pledge cards and literature will be distributed.

DRUGGIST APPEALS REVENUE ACT FINE

Wholesaler, Convicted by Magistrate, Seeks Redress.

An appeal against the judgment of Magistrate Graydon in the case of W. E. Saunders, wholesale druggist, who was convicted in police court three weeks ago on a charge of violating the war revenues act, was heard by Judge Judd yesterday at a sitting of the first division court. Judgment was reserved on the appeal. The hearing was the first appeal entered against a judgment of the magistrate.

The conviction of Mr. Saunders was based on evidence that showed he had failed to attach a stamp to a bottle of Pinex, sold by him to a St. George doctor.

J. W. G. Winnett, representing Mr. Saunders, admitted at the time of the trial that stamps were not affixed to the preparation, because Mr. Saunders, the manufacturer, did not regard it necessary, maintaining that it was not a patent medicine within the meaning of the act.

He argued that the formula was printed on the label pasted on the bottle, and that as there was no patent he was not liable to a penalty because of his failure to affix the stamp.

It was also maintained that the consumer was not the doctor to whom the preparation was sold, and if anyone should affix the stamps it was the physician who prescribed the remedy and put it in small bottles.

Judge Judd's judgment in the appeal will be important.

New Route to Western Canada Proving Popular

Runs Through Famous Clay Belt of New Ontario and the Cobalt Mining District.

On your next trip to Western Canada, why not travel over a new route, see the wonderful land opened up in Northern Ontario by the Transcontinental Railway, and gain a glimpse of Temagami and the Cobalt silver mining region?

You may use two famous trains on your journey without any added expense for railway fare as compared with any other route. The International Limited will carry you to Toronto, where "The National" starts on its west-bound flight. "The National" uses the rails of the Grand Trunk to North Bay, the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario (Provincial Government line) to Cochrane, and the Canadian Government Railways to Winnipeg, where it links up with the Grand Trunk Pacific for all important points in Western Canada.

A pleasant daylight run to Toronto, an evening in the Queen City, and "The National" is ready to carry you westward. The departure of "The National" from Toronto is at 10:45 p.m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. North Bay is reached early next morning, and there opens up for your admiration all the lakeland beauties of the territory served by the T. and N. O. line. These are followed by a wonderfully interesting trip through the sparsely-populated territory of New Ontario, giving the traveler an opportunity of inspecting this fertile region, including the famed clay belt, where tens of thousands of settlers will make their homes in the future. The area of New Ontario is 330,000 square miles, fully four times the size of Old Ontario, and in addition to great expanses of good farming land, it has wonderful resources in timber, minerals, water power, fish and game.

The three railways have combined to make the passenger service over this new road the equal of that offered anywhere on the continent. The smooth, straight and level roadbed embodies all that has been learned in three-quarters of a century of railroad building. The greatest travel comfort is assured. Full particulars from any Grand Trunk ticket agent, or C. E. Horning, district passenger agent, Toronto. Sept.29-tzx

RHEUMATISM WAS MOST SEVERE

MR. LAMPSON.

Verona, Ont., Nov. 11, 1915.

"I suffered for a number of years with Rheumatism and severe Pains in Side and Back, from strains and heavy lifting.

When I had given up hope of ever being well again, a friend recommended 'Fruit-a-tives' to me and after using the first box I felt so much better that I continued to take them, and now I am enjoying the best of health, thanks to your remedy.

"W. M. LAMPSON."

If you—who are reading this—have any Kidney or Bladder Trouble, or suffer with Rheumatism or Pain in the Back or Stomach Trouble—give "Fruit-a-tives" a fair trial. This wonderful fruit medicine will do you a world of good, as it cures when everything else fails.

Fifty cents a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

DANCING FAIR FEATURE.

KINCARDINE, Sept. 14.—Kincardine fall fair will be held on Friday, September 21. A big program of Scotch piping and dancing will be a feature, along with two races, a free-for-all and a 2:50 race.

DRINKING DECREASED ALL OVER PROVINCE, DECLARE METHODISTS

Members of Social Service Conference Speak.

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—At the Methodist social service conference this morning there was unanimity of opinion that prohibition had been markedly beneficial.

Rev. J. H. McBain, speaking of conditions in Simcoe and Norfolk County, said that before the passing of the act Simcoe had rather a bad reputation for drinking. It had badly defeated a local option bill during the year. The improvement in conditions has been most marked. Drunkenness has almost totally disappeared. The accommodation at the hotels has improved, and the merchants and businessmen of the district are practically unanimous in commending the effect of the act, which had been well enforced throughout the country."

Dr. Medd of Chatham reported that conditions there had improved beyond all expectation. The city was not under local option a year ago. "A new city has been created. The police force have nothing to do," said Dr. Medd.

Huron County Is Best.

Rev. J. F. Knight, M.A., B.D., of Hensall, reported that conditions throughout Huron County are probably better than any county in Ontario. The county was under the Canada temperance act a year ago, but the passage of the Ontario act had greatly helped the enforcement of law. The temperance forces of the county have an organization for law enforcement with a paid secretary. "Drunkenness has been reduced to a minimum," said Mr. Knight.

Sam Carter, M.P.P., of Guelph, had two criticisms to make. The first was in regard to the permission to import, and the second related to the attitude of the local inspectors. "Seventy per cent of the inspectors are lax and indifferent," he said. "They are under the control of the local member and subject to the influence of party patronage. Very few cases are brought to the courts through the action of the inspectors." In some cases offenders against the act as shielded because of political influence.

Has Reduced Drunkenness.

Rev. T. Albert Moore, D.D., general secretary of the social service department, is in touch through his work with all parts of the province. He summarized the situation under the three headings of (1) Effect of the act; (2) question of law enforcement; (3) weaknesses of the act. "The effect of the prohibition law has been to greatly reduce drunkenness everywhere. The police court records abundantly prove this, but those in touch with social conditions know that much poverty has been eliminated. Children who formerly went barefoot are now wearing shoes."

Dr. Moore declared himself as very favorably impressed with the general enforcement of the law, and had had words of high commendation in regard to the present board of license commissioners. Under present conditions he believed that such a board was the more satisfactory method of dealing with the situation.

Objects to Mail Orders.

"I would be glad," said Dr. Moore, "if I could speak equally highly of all of the inspectors. The chief weaknesses of the act were to be found in the inter-provincial trade, backed up by newspaper advertising and the use of the mails. "The recent action of the Senate in refusing to pass the amendments to the Doherty act, which would render possible the prevention of this trade, cannot be denounced too strongly."

"Hydro" Lights the Way To Lighter Housework

"HYDRO" in your home will make it easier for you to get servants and to keep them—by making housework easier and more attractive.

AND THE ELECTRIC IRON to follow it up on the afternoon of the SAME day.

THERE'S THE ELECTRIC TOASTER to make appetizing toast at the table and to keep it crisp and warm.

Then, too, after the rest of your work is done THERE'S THE ELECTRIC VACUUM CLEANER which will put your house in order in just a few minutes, making everything spic and span, without fuss or bother.

These and a dozen and one other HYDRO Household Conveniences are easy to buy and each one is an investment which soon pays for itself. With the exception of the Electric Range, the cost of current to operate them all per month is less than your monthly bill for light alone. For while other necessities of life are INCREASING in cost, HYDRO current is steadily decreasing.
