deNevarro. This is a picture of her and her husband, taken just as they were ready to go ashore in New York on their arrival in America.

AND SOME ADVICE FROM CYNTHIA GREY.

Dear Miss Grey, I am engaged to a young man who recently told me he was engaged to another girl, and they had expected to marry last July. But he claims he does not love her, although he has told her he does for no one but her. He has also told me that he has a very good reason for not marrying her, and that he has not given him up. What shall I do?

CHAPTER I
The boy at the barony.
The barony had not prospered in the barren lands of the pine woods in the mountains of the low coast, but no longer mattered, for the last of his name and face, old General Quintard, was dead in the great house his father had built almost a century before, and the thin acres of the barony, where he had given up the struggle in his youth.
The two or three old slaves and poverty were the only things that remained of the barony's glory. The place, stricken with a sense of the futurity of the fight, his master had made nourished for him and for themselves, but of his own blood and class none was present.

the barren lands of the pine woods

no longer mattered, for the last of his

BYRON AT PREVEZA.
The Three-Italian war is likely to provide the literary gossip with plenty of "reminiscences." For instance it is interesting to recall that it was at Preveza, in the Gulf of Arta, where Byron landed for his tour through Albania and there also he began the second canto of "Childe Harold," which he finished, by the way, at Smyrna, another landmark in the poet's life. Byron's biography of Byron, was reported in that quarter the other day. Preveza is in the vilayet of Janina, where it is recorded in the Hon. Robert Scott's biography of Byron, the poet was supplied by order of the Pasha with a house, horses and all necessities gratis. All himself being about besieging Ibrahim in Illyria. Readers familiar with "Childe Harold" will remember the very graphic description of the Gulf of Arta given by the poet in a note to the poem. It is a vivid account of a night scene round the camp fires, with a background of rugged rocks and Albanian soldiers dancing in the freelight and singing fierce and sad songs with the refrain, "Kiephie pote Parga!" ("Robbers all at Parga!"). On leaving Janina, Byron went to Missolonghi, thence to Vostizza, where he caught his first glimpse of the heights of Parnassus. — Pall Mall Gazette.

FRENCH REVOLUTIONARY ANNIVERSARY.
Today being the anniversary of the massacre of the Carmelite priests of September, 1792, the crypt of their church in the Rue de Valenciennes was thrown open to visitors, and those who liked might gaze on the piled-up bones and skulls that are arranged so neatly in the red draped chapel beneath the great jet black crown of thorns. Much of the beautiful garden of the Carmelite convent still remains, and the building itself has not been altered. Its picturesqueness is enhanced upon the pleasant orchard where apples and pears are ripening in the sun and where white and yellow water lilies grow freely in the small circular pool. — Paris correspondence London Evening Standard.

"WINNING RUN WAS NOT SCORED LEGALLY, BUT IT COUNTS"—KLEIN

If Philadelphia Had Protected Tenth Inning Would Have Ended a Tie.

DOYLE DIDN'T TOUCH PLATE

But Matter Cannot Now Be Taken Up as Play Was Not Appealed at Time.

THE RUN CREDITED TO Captain Larry Doyle in the tenth inning of yesterday's game, which gave the New York Giants their second victory over the Athletics in the world's series, was not legally scored, according to a statement made after the game by Umpire Wm. J. Klein, of the National League, who was officiating behind the plate as the umpire-in-chief.

DOYLE DID NOT TOUCH the plate, according to Umpire Klein, and if the Athletics club had made an appeal the umpire said he would have declared Doyle out and the inning would have ended in a tie score. As it was getting dark, the game could not have gone much further.

UMPIRE KLEIN'S DECLARATION that Doyle did not touch the plate was corroborated by Francis E. Richter, of Philadelphia, and J. G. Taylor Spink, of St. Louis, the official scorers appointed by the National baseball commission. Manager McGraw, of the New Yorks, admitted after the game, according to Mr. Klein, that Doyle missed the plate.

DESPITE THE FACT that the umpire-in-chief and the official scorers say Doyle did not touch the plate to make the run legal, no protest can be lodged with the commission as the result of the game. It is said, because the Philadelphia club made no appeal on the play. Umpire Klein's statement was made just after the game was ended. There was a question raised in the scorers' box whether the ball caught by Right Fielder Murphy, off McKee's bat, in the tenth inning, was caught on fair or foul ground.

KLEIN SAID the ball was caught by Murphy in fair territory, that he made the decision that way, and that he was corroborated by Umpire Brennan, who was on the right field foul line near Murphy.

"DOYLE NEVER TOUCHED the plate," Klein then volunteered, but as the Athletics players made no appeal, the game goes as a victory for New York.

IN TELLING OF THE INCIDENT, Klein said: "When Murphy caught the ball in right field I set myself to see the plate on Murphy's throw. Doyle came in like a streak, and made a long, wide slide into the plate. He went across with one leg back of the plate, and the other over it about eight inches or a foot. He never got any nearer than that. I saw it plainly and waited. Usually I run to the dressing room when a game is over, but this time I stood at the plate for several seconds, waiting to see if the Athletics players would appeal. Apparently they did not. I saw that Doyle missed the plate, as he was busy taking Murphy's throw, and probably took it for granted that Doyle had really touched the plate."

"NONE OF THE ATHLETICS made the appeal, and as I was about to move away, McGraw, in passing from the third base coaches' box to the players' bench, said to me: 'Did you see it, Bill?'"

"I certainly did," I said. "What would you have done about it if they had appealed?" McGraw asked, and I replied that if the claim had been made that Doyle did not touch the plate I would have given my decision as I saw it, but you see what a mess I would have gotten myself into. "Well, I would have protected you," McGraw replied as he walked away. "I would have declared Doyle out. If the appeal had been made, but none was made."

GOVERNOR JOHN K. TENER, OLD-TIME SLABMAN, WATCHING THE ATHLETICS WIN.

The chief executive of Pennsylvania, who was a famous pitcher on the Chicago White Stockings when Pop Anson ran the team, was one of the interested spectators at last Tuesday's game, when the Athletics nosed out a victory in the eleventh. He is shown (at left) with Garry Herrmann.

IN HIS REFERENCE to a "mess" Klein meant that if he had entertained the appeal, the New York players and their partisans would have made a tremendous protest against the decision. When Thomas J. Lynch, president of the National League, was told of the incident this evening, he said that so long as there was no appeal made, the game would stand as a victory for New York.

SOME GREAT FINISHES have taken place under the shadow of Coogan's bluffs, but there never was a game that ended in a more thrilling nor a more unexpected way than that which gave the Giants their victory. The New York fans caused the solid rock to tremble to the echoes of their shouting, and even some men who were sporting Philadelphia colors got up and whooped for a lucky ball club that was fighting so expensively for its life. Partisan feelings were forgotten, and nearly everybody present, and full credit given to McGraw's gamblers for arranging victory from defeat just as the Athletics were swinging shut upon the winners of the world's series.

NATURALLY THE MACKMEN still have the better chance to gain the title of championship, as they have only to break even in the next two battles to accomplish this, while New York needs both games. But the resting place of the banner that proclaims to all mankind that its possessors are the real things cannot take anything from what New York did yesterday afternoon. And the fans will remember what happened in that ninth inning long after they have forgotten who won the world's championship of 1911.

ASIDE FROM ALL of the spectacular things that happened New York deserved to win the game. McGraw's team outplayed the mackmen decidedly, setting more and harder hits, swinging the one that volating into the bleachers, Coogan, who allowed but three sacrifices in eleven innings, the last time out, was touched for nine in the ninth round yesterday, including three doubles. His control wasn't any too good, either, two men walking, and one being wounded, while a runner of the Athletics was hit by a line drive for them because Jack was in a hole. Still the Maine boy's good work in the pinches made him look like a winner until the break came in the seventh.

MARQUARD, WHO STARTED for the Giants, didn't resemble a pitcher in any particular. Several men who did not expect him to hit the ball so hard that only bad aim deprived them of something that would show in the averages. Ames, who went into the line in the fourth, pitched four nice innings, only two hits being made off him in that time, while Grandall, though put in a hole earlier by bad pitching or a bit of bad umpiring in three of his service innings, allowed two hits, one of which was a home run. He had not been almost all of the game. He had not been almost all of the game. He had not been almost all of the game.

NEW YORK'S FIELDING was horrible in spots, Doyle and Fletcher performing like a couple of scared schoolboys. Their nervousness was so apparent that the New York rooters shivered every time either had to handle the ball. Doyle atoned for his defensive sins by some man's size bat, however. He got four clean drives, two of them doubles, and scored two of the runs that gave his club another chance.

JOSH DEVORE made a shoestring catch off Lord to open the game that was one of the stellar performances of the series. While Davis rescued a couple of bounding throws at times when there would have been trouble had he lost the ball. The veteran spoiled what ought to have been a double play on one occasion by nuffing a throw from Larry after Jack had plucked a line drive from the heavens, and had drive from the heavens, and had drive from the heavens.

TODAY THE TEAMS move down to Shibe Park, and the Athletics say they will end all arguments. It is likely to be harder to beat the Giants in Philadelphia than it was the first two games, now that they have pulled a degree, where men are concerned, and it is a relief after being fed up with Lancelot and Eric and Vere to find friends and relations willing to go back to the Henry, George, Edward and William of a more practical age than ours. The King and Queen have, by the way, set a good example in this respect.

ROUGH SEA WITHOUT STORM.

Word was brought to this city tonight that the bar at the entrance to Gray's harbor is the roughest it has been in a quarter of a century, though there has been no storm on the coast. The captain of one of the sea-going tugs of this port said tonight that the sea on the bar was so rough he would not attempt to take his tug out under any conditions.

Reports from the beach resorts are that the sea has been rolling in on the beach equal to a severe storm. Seafaring men said there has evidently been an earthquake at sea—Portland Oregonian.

ONLY LOCAL BOYS IN ANNUAL RACE

Thanksgiving Day Five Mile Grind of East End Businessmen's Association. MANY ENTRIES MADE

Gordon Scott, Winner of Contest in 1910, Is Back for the Cup Again.

The annual Thanksgiving Day road race, run under the auspices of the East London Businessmen's Association, promises this year to eclipse all former events. Already there is a large entry list, and it is expected that it will be one of the most keenly contested races ever run in the city.

In former years the race has been an open event, but this year the management have decided to limit the entries to the city alone, and bring out the local amateurs. The race starts from Dundas and Adelaide streets, and covers a distance of five miles, the runners finishing at the starting place. In addition to the regular event, this year, the association has put on another race, limited to boys 16 years or under. This race will be run over the same course as the regular grind. Several entries have been received for it, and it will be as interesting a race as the senior number.

Scott To Try Again. Among the entries for the senior race are Gordon Scott, winner of last year, and Roy Campbell. Each of these runners are well known throughout the city, and both are practicing hard for the event.

The prize list is as follows: Senior race, first prize, trophy and gold medal; second, a gold locket; third, a pair of shoes valued at $4; fourth, an umbrella; sixth, a pair of gloves valued at $1.50. Junior race—First prize, gold medal donated by Dr. Seaborn; second, a bronze medal donated by Frank Trafford; third, a gold locket; fourth, a pair of shoes; fifth, a sweater coat; sixth, a pair of gloves. The races are held with the sanction of the C. A. A. U., and are only open to amateurs holding a C. A. A. U. card. All entries must be in the hands of Dr. Wyckoff by Saturday.

FASHION IN NAMES.

A reaction is taking place from the Marjories and Gladyses and Irences of the last twenty or thirty years. Nowadays as often as not such grand prefixes as these are the peculiar property of the servants' hall, while the good old-fashioned names of Miss Austen's days are returning to favor. The same holds good in a lesser degree, where men are concerned, and it is a relief after being fed up with Lancelot and Eric and Vere to find friends and relations willing to go back to the Henry, George, Edward and William of a more practical age than ours. The King and Queen have, by the way, set a good example in this respect.

PRIZE CHICKENS ON EXHIBITION

Big Poultry Show in Queen's Park Is Now in Full Swing.

65 CUPS ARE OFFERED

A Big List of Exhibitors—Some Birds Brought Here from the United States.

The fifth annual show held by the London Poultry and Pet Stock Association opened this morning at the poultry building, Queen's Park, with over 2,000 birds on exhibition. In point of quality and numbers it is the best display ever seen in the city, and is perhaps second only to the great winter show at Guelph for general excellence. Every variety is shown, and the keenest competition prevails in practically every class. All the prominent breeders in London are represented, with the very best birds. In addition, all the big chicken men in Western Ontario also have many entries. The United States is represented by Mr. M. Brickett, of Allentown, Pa., one of the best-known bantam breeders on the continent, has some choice birds. The prize list is a very generous one. In addition to the cash prizes in every department, there are no less than 150 specials distributed among the various varieties.

Sixty-five Cups Offered. Of these specials 65 are valuable cups, the donations of citizens interested in poultry. Judging commenced at 1 o'clock today. The gentlemen who are making the awards are: William McNeil, Richard Oke, Walter Butler, London; L. G. Jarvis, Grimby; J. Bennett, Toronto, and J. H. Minshall, Brampton. In poultry, while L. C. Sage will distribute the ribbons in pigeons and pet stock. The officers are more than pleased with the display. President James McCormick, Secretary W. A. Gurney, and Superintendent W. J. Slesor are busy arranging the birds, and have everything in excellent order. "You cannot beat this show," said Mr. McCormick. "It is the best we have ever held. It is impossible for us to accommodate the birds, and we have had to refuse many."

"We are getting everything in first-class shape," said Secretary Gurney. "It is a larger show than we anticipated, and one of the finest on the continent. We are delighted." William McNeil, Ald. Saunders, Richard Oke and a score of other prominent poultry men are assisting in the arrangements also.

Children Free. On Saturday, school children will be admitted free to the exhibition. Secretary Gurney has distributed over $300 tickets among the schools, and it is expected that the youngsters will all be on hand to view the exhibition. It will be continued Thanksgiving Day, and night, and will be open every day in the meantime. Special features will be introduced, including a chicken-eating contest open to colored gentlemen. That will be put on on Thanksgiving Day, and should be quite a feat.

Some Exhibitors. Among the exhibitors are the following: Fred Andrews, J. Ashton, Adams Brothers, Burgess, R. Billings (Woodstock), A. Baird, E. A. Bock, W. R. Bishop, Thos. Brown, D. Bogue (Lambeth), John Lawton (Hillview), H. P. W. Brooks, Geo. Bedgood, E. and O. Bogue, W. R. Burns, G. and J. Bogue (Strathroy), J. C. Ridge, Carroll & Bartlett, N. K. Cravall (Thamesville), W. C. ## Yarns about the World's Series Players

By Billy Cross

IN THE final series at Shibe Park, Philadelphia, between Philadelphia and Chicago, Cy Morgan and Jim Scott were the opposing pitchers. Both of these gentlemen are some twirlers, but Cy Cobb need never fear that either will wrest the batting honors from him. During the game, which went twelve innings to a 1-to-1 draw, darkness finally ending play, the efforts of Scott and Morgan to hit the ball, were almost as wonderful as the great pitching both displayed. In five trips to the plate, Morgan whiffed five times, most of the strikes being called. Twice Cy was connected with the horseshoe for weak fouls, which occasioned much cheering on the part of the populace. Jim Scott struck out four times, failing to equal Morgan's record, probably because he came to bat one time less than the spital pitcher. Late in the game with two men out, Morgan came to the bat for the fifth time. Naturally the crowd was interested to see what "Cy" would do, although no one hoped for anything much better than a long fly. As Scott wound up preparatory to pitching, some wag in the grandstand in a loud voice yelled:

"Sacrifice, Morgan! sacrifice!" Such a wish with two out and no one on the bases caused a big laugh, but Morgan, who is a minstrel man in the winter was equal to the occasion. "Don't fear, I won't disappoint, that is what I've been doing all afternoon." There days later Morgan worked against St. Louis and made two clean bingles off a couple of the Brown's recruit pitchers. Attacks of fainting spells and calls for doctors were numerous.

About five years ago a youngster approached the plate at Detroit, and told the umpire he'd bat for Dygert, the Athletics' pitcher. "What's your name?" asked the umpire. "Call me Sullivan," responded the boy. Whereupon the ump told the crowd Sullivan was batting for Dygert. Monte Cross, then playing short for the Athletics was coaching at first base and enjoying his usual battle of wits with the fans.

"Come on Sullivan," yelled Monte, "show them you're a real big leaguer." The youngster, a rather under-sized chap, smiled as best he could at Monte's encouraging words. "For the love of Mike, Connie has robbed another cradle," shouted a fan back of first. "Don't worry about Connie's infant," answered Cross, "he'll make a lot of trouble for you when he gets his growth." Little did the fans or Cross realize strange to him while the outfield was none too kind. He was thinking of asking Mack for a chance at first when Dan Murphy, star second sacker in last remarked: "If you don't succeed at first, try second." A week later Mack shifted Collins to second and sent Murphy to right, to fill the place made vacant by the passing of Sox Seybold. Collins has become one of the greatest infielders and Murphy has developed into one of the game's best outfielders. Still people ask why Mack is so successful.

NOTORIOUS BARON HAS WILY SCHEME

Mission in Life to Invent Pleas for Borrowing.

RIGO'S WIFE TOO CLEVER

Appeal in Name of Humanity For His Suffering Horses Fails To Move Her.

Paris, Oct. 25.—Baron de Bernicey, who claimed to be a Hungarian nobleman, has been astonishing the American colony by his boldness and ingenuity in the invention of schemes to interest rich American women in Paris in a system of horse raising.

Baron de Bernicey is handsome, distinguished looking and much admired in the Bois and in Paris by reason of driving a conspicuous high trap with a princely horse. He was dressed in white polo breeches and loud clothes, frequently wearing a hat of bound cap when riding in the Bois. He claims to be the best amateur on the continent, but equestrianism in Paris has been detected that he has not even a gentleman's knowledge of riding.

One of his intended subjects was Mrs. Jackson Gourd. In order to get into her good graces, he sent Mrs. Gourd's daughter a fine dog with his compliments, but after waiting several weeks when this generosity did not seem to increase his favor in the Gourd ménage in proportion to the expense, he wrote Mrs. Gourd a letter asking her, on account of reverses he had suffered on the Bourse, to pay 1,500 francs for half the dog. Gourd promptly returned the dog to the anxious baron and declined with thanks.

Wants It in a Hurry. The baron always wants money quick. It was a case of immediate necessity. Either his imaginary string of sixty racing horses was tied up on a railroad at a point outside of Paris and he needed a mere pittance of 10,000 francs just for the moment to release them, or when dining he suddenly remembered he forgot to change his money when the violinist's wife was closed and he needed a bit to carry him over until the next day.

He tried to work on the humanitarian instincts of the wife of Rigo, saying his race horses had been without food for two days, and that it was absolutely necessary that they be fed that night, but he failed to move the tender heart of the violinist's wife.

Baron de Bernicey is now the one topic of conversation in Paris. Everybody knows him, but doesn't know who he is. Princess Louise, eldest daughter of the late King Leopold II. of Belgium, has pawned the most beautiful non-ferrous or ostensorium ever seen in Paris. The princess, who is the divorced wife of His Royal Highness Philippe, Prince of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, has been suspected of being in a state of abject poverty, and this action confirms it.

Once Property of Leopold. The non-ferrous or ostensorium comes from the royal chapel in Brussels. It is a beautiful gold and silver ornament, used in the Roman Catholic service for the benediction of the blessed sacrament. It probably fell into the hands of Princess Louise as one of the heirs to the personal property of King Leopold, but how she got it out of the safe of the royal chapel at Laeken is a mystery.

The ostensorium is of solid gold, adorned with pearls and diamonds. Such ponderous adornments are rare. It is a beautiful gold and silver ornament, used in the Roman Catholic service for the benediction of the blessed sacrament. It probably fell into the hands of Princess Louise as one of the heirs to the personal property of King Leopold, but how she got it out of the safe of the royal chapel at Laeken is a mystery.

She lives in Avenue du Bois and one of her eccentric extravagances is the purchase of many hundreds of pairs of slippers. Her sisters, Princess Stephanie and Princess Clementine Victor Napoleon, no longer recognize her.

All classes in Mexico from the highest to the lowest buy and use perfumes. There is a large mail order business conducted in this traffic, and much of the material is imported from the United States.

MONK'S INCLUSION IN CABINET SURPRISES MANCHESTER PAPER

Great English Daily Wonders Whether Mr. Borden Has Sunk His High Imperialism in Exchange for Nationalist Support—"A Strange Coalition."

The Manchester Guardian says: The most interesting thing about the ministry formed by Mr. Borden, the new Canadian premier, is that Mr. F. D. Monk is included in it. Mr. Monk was Mr. Bourassa's ally in the fierce campaign carried on in Quebec against Sir Wilfrid Laurier's naval policy. He was, therefore, the very opposite pole to Mr. Borden. Mr. Monk complained that the Laurier policy handed over Canada bound hand and foot to Great Britain in time of war, that the country had not been consulted and ought to be consulted on every occasion when it was proposed to send Canadian ships to take part in an imperial war, and that conscription would be the inevitable result. Mr. Borden, on the other hand, declared that the Canadian navy ought to have been placed absolutely at the disposal of the British Government in time of war, and that the conditions imposed by Sir W. Laurier—described as illusory—were not to be considered.

METHODIST LADIES MAY GO ON STRIKE

Deaconesses at Toronto Say Superintendent Is Too Strict.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—A strike is threatened by the Methodist deaconesses resident in the new home at the corner of St. Clair Avenue and Avenue Road. Some regulations imposed by the superintendent, Miss McIlhenny, are responsible for the dissatisfaction. The deaconesses have taken such decided form that the members of the board of governors have been up to see what is the matter, and it is understood that nothing but the removal of the superintendent will now prevent the young ladies from leaving the building.

Dr. S. P. Ross, a prominent member of the board, who recently paid a visit to the scene of conflict, decried last night that a formal request had been made to have Miss McIlhenny removed from her position, but the matter has been discussed by the board, and the deaconesses are merely awaiting its decision, which is understood to be in abeyance. The deaconesses are unwilling to take any drastic action without further investigation of the facts and efforts to bring the warring factions together.

In case broad concessions are not made to the deaconesses they have decided to leave the building rather than submit to what they call the tyranny of the superintendent.

One of the regulations to which the young ladies take exception arises from the fact that when the deaconesses moved some time ago from the old building in Jarvis street to the new one, Miss McIlhenny had keys to the back door, which she used to enter the building at will, and issued instructions that they were to use that door only. The most unusual part of it, they say, is that Miss McIlhenny has a key for the front door, which she uses herself.

Another regulation which the ladies feel to be most odious is that they must not appear on the street in company with any man who is not their brother.

Hereto it has been merely a formality at the heart of the inmates of the home of ask Miss McIlhenny's permission to go away on a holiday, but one young lady was greatly surprised the other day when she was refused this permission for Thanksgiving Day. In order to see whether there was not some personal reason behind this decision, several others immediately asked the same favor, and were likewise refused. Now a number of them have decided to go away without asking the superintendent at all.

NO OPPOSITION TO MINISTERS

Those in Quebec to Go in by Acclamation.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—Friday will be nomination day for the by-elections necessitated by the cabinet appointments. The day it was stated by Liberal leaders in Montreal that there will be no opposition offered to any of the newly-appointed ministers in this Province.

There have been some agitation along these lines of late, especially with regard to Hon. Mr. Monk in Jacques Cartier, and Hon. P. Nantel in Terrebonne. But the caucus of the party leaders was held this afternoon, at which it was decided that nothing was to be gained by further opposition just now.

Regarding protests, only three are being considered in Montreal, Saguenay and Three Rivers. Whether these protests will be received is not yet decided, but it is thought not unlikely that the close election of Hon. Jacques Bureau in Three Rivers will be contested.

CONTROL OF LANDS

Rogers Says Alberta Has Never Asked For It.

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 25.—The Conservative Association today at Conservative headquarters, encouraged Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of the interior, to luncheon. Mr. Rogers, in an effort to settle the coal strike here, has had consultations with the operators, and a settlement is expected within 24 hours.

Discussing the lands question, he said: "It all depends on whether the Government of this province put themselves on record as wanting control of their natural resources or not. They have never asked for the control of these resources, so we do not see why they should be given over to the Alberta Government for six years. The people of this province have been putting themselves on record as being opposed to controlling their own resources. Until they show in some way that they wish a control, nothing is likely to be done."

"If the Government were to ask for control of the resources, as promised by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, would this be granted by the Borden Government?" he was asked.

"Well, that depends to a great extent on how the Government asked for it. However, that is a matter istry. Has then, we wonder, Mr. Monk taken over and adopted Mr. Borden's principles? That is not likely, for he won his success on the strength of his Nationalism. Or has Mr. Borden sunk his high imperialism in exchange for Nationalist support? It is at all events a strange coalition, a startling proof of the "unity" alliance which Sir Wilfrid Laurier charged against his opponents, and one which we should have imagined would have struck our Conservatives at home, whose sense of decency is so quickly shocked by the mere suggestion of a "coalition." If in this country different parties who are agreed as to the main lines of their policies unite to support a Liberal ministry, the Times can find no words strong enough to express its repugnance, but when Mr. Borden and a bitter opponent of his policy on one of the two great Canadian questions of the day agree to form a coalition, the Times sees only a "happy evidence of the closing of a breach."

The new coalition, however, seems to be always bad when made by non-Conservatives, even though based upon agreement. But they are good when made by Conservatives, even on a basis of dissension, only we must call each of them not a coalition, but the happy closing of a breach.

which would have to be discussed in Parliament, and I do not know just what would be done about it."

BAPTIST CONVENTION AGAINST CHURCH UNION

Oppose Any Amalgamation With Sister Churches.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—When the subject of church union was discussed in the Baptist convention on Tuesday, the entire expression of opinion was against the union. The convention, after a long session, adopted a resolution, the general trend of the argument being that church union is a complete surrender of tenets and principles for which the church has stood during the centuries of its existence.

The debate was led by Dr. Thompson, K. C., who was of the opinion that a policy of drift should not be adopted, but that the denomination should face the facts and be prepared for the sense of solidarity which would be experienced on the morrow of the great combination.

Rev. Dr. Cameron, J. Sullivan, Mr. Macdonald, T. T. Selders, Graham, Black, James and Sheldon took the same position in the discussion which followed.

The union, however, came up in a result in which referred to a committee the whole question of the marriage status of the union was referred to a committee of the convention, and urged the committee to seek to obtain legislation which would standardize the laws.

At the evening session the work of the Young People's Union was reported on, which stated that there were 195 unions, with a total membership of 8,000.

During the evening the new president, Rev. Dr. Thompson, was elected, and Rev. C. W. Ross, of Brandon, extended an invitation to the convention to meet in Brandon next year.

WOULDN'T SALUTE

Pupils Given Medals for Refusing to Salute Stars and Stripes.

New York, Oct. 25.—Over Seas Society, of this city, has presented Catherine Audley, of Perth Amboy, N. J., with a medal and shielded her as a life-long member in gratitude of her action in refusing to salute the American flag and give allegiance to the United States at the recent morning exercises in the Perth Amboy public schools.

Catherine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Audley, British subjects. Douglas Audley, Catherine's small brother, was made a life-long member by the society also for his like stand. The London (England) branch made the presentation, while the New York branch, headed by Monroe Hall, in Fifty-ninth street, made the children members.

Mrs. Audley said yesterday that she is now willing to run the children to school, as the oath of allegiance has been changed, but she says the board of education refused to raise the ban of expulsion placed on the children at the time of the flag salute incident.

PAID OFFICIAL VISIT

Grand Superintendent of London District Visited St. John's Chapter.

The grand superintendent of London District, R. E. Comp, Thos. H. Baker, paid his official visit to St. John's Chapter, No. 3, Royal Arch Masons, last night. There was a large gathering of members of the lodge and visitors. The royal arch degree was exemplified by Ex. Comp, T. G. Davis and his officers in faultless fashion.

After the lodge rose, an informal

Cold in the Chest?

Rub Well With Zam-Buk!

For bad colds on the chest, rub the chest and between the shoulders well with Zam-Buk at night.

If you suffer from catarrh or cold in the head, just insert a little Zam-Buk in the nostrils, and as the mucus becomes warm, inhale the healing essence which vaporizes.

Sores in the throat, which are sometimes set up by catarrh, will yield to Zam-Buk treatment.

Amazingly, a very disagreeable sore on the inside of the nostrils, which gave me great pain and caused a nose-bleed, was cured by the use of Zam-Buk, and I am glad to try other remedies.

FOR LOSS OF LEG.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—The following case was up in Ontario Court today. Soviet Northern Navigation Company—Separate appeals by defendants, the Northern Navigation Company and the Point Edward Elevator Company, from the judgment of the court, dated April 19, 1911. This was an action by Alfred Cosca, an infant, by his next friend, to recover $10,000 damages for injuries resulting from the loss of leg while unloading grain from the steamer Sarcenie of the Northern Navigation Company into the Point Edward Elevator Company, which injuries were alleged to have been caused by the negligence of defendants. At the trial judgment was awarded a plaintiff for $2,500 and costs, not on record.

Vibrant Nerve Force Supplied to Man

[From "Man's Maladies."] Without stamina, man is a failure. He is a constitutional vigor. It is keen, responsive, vibrant nerve force that gives wonderful inner strength of will, sustains a sound body, supports a healthy mental, makes strong, sensitive nerves make steady, and with it man can excel in business, sport, pleasure and social favor. Without it he is apt to be weak, nervous, and generally feeble in motion, with cold hands, cold feet, nervousness, indigestion, and a general lack of grit, courage and nerve, so that it is impossible to act naturally under all circumstances, as a man with stamina should. It should be the aim of every man to correct the condition responsible for failure and unhappiness, for it can be done by the simple fulfillment of nature's law that the nerves receive their nourishment through the blood, which circulates the nerve fluids to recover the daily waste of the body, and makes the nerve fluids and body tissues undergo constant changes, and the blood supply is equal to the demand the stream of health ebbs low, and misery prevails.

Death of Mrs. Young. The death of Mrs. Nellie Young, relict of the late James Young, took place yesterday at her family residence, lot 25, con. 1, Westminster Township. The cause was in her 47th year. She is survived by one son, Elmer Young. The funeral will be held from her late residence on Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, to Woodland Cemetery. Rev. J. G. Inkster, of First Presbyterian Church, will conduct the services at the house at 2:30 p. m.

Music and Drama

"The Private Secretary."

"The Private Secretary" was again presented at the Grand Opera House last night, attracting a good house. This play is a hardy annual, and it never fails to provide plenty of amusement and fun. It is one of the good old-fashioned comedies, and it always passes muster.

Mr. C. James Bancroft and his company were even better than they were last spring. Mr. Bancroft himself has greatly improved, and he played the part of the secretary most delightfully. Shirley Draithwaite, as Sidney Gibbons, the tailor, was excellent. Miss Agnes W. Villa, as Mrs. Stead, showed marked ability, and the remainder of the cast were fair.

Male Choir Tonight.

The Hamilton Herald says of the Royal Moelwyn Male Choir, which appears in the Auditorium tonight: "Many singing organizations have visited this city, but the Moelwyn Choir excels them all." This choir have competed with the leading male choirs of Wales and England and invariably won the laurels.

"The Right of Way."

Mr. Sanford Dodge has surrounded himself with a splendid company this season, and will be seen in "The Right of Way." This great play is an adaptation from Sir Gilbert Parker's famous story of the same name, the dramatization being made by America's greatest playwright, Eugene Presbury. "The Right of Way" was originally produced at Wallack's Theatre, New York city, by Klaw & Erlanger, and it immediately became the sensation of the theatrical world. Not to have seen it is to miss ## Maude Adams—Holiday Attraction.

The wonderful symbolism of Edmond Rostand's quaint poetic drama, "Chantecler," will be unfolded at the Grand on Monday, Thanksgiving Day (matinee and night), with Maude Adams in the title role. The interest in the coming of this, the most novel play that the stage has had in years, is very keen, and is shared alike by all lovers of the theatre, as well as by all lovers of the best things in literature. "Chantecler" stands today as the greatest novelty that the stage has to offer in this or any other country. There is no under-estimating its positive values. In rich, flowing verse it carries a message of great strength and beauty to the worker in the world. Charles Frohman has given the drama a series of settings which are of the highest quality. The production of the stage has been ever had. It is to the beauty of the play as a play, however, that attention is called rather than to the things which are only necessary details of the unfolding of the drama. The preparations for the production of the play by Miss Adams took nearly an entire year. The box office seat sale opened this morning.

"The Rosary." "The Rosary" is coming to the Grand next Tuesday evening. In "The Rosary" there are three distinct love stories. The principal love affair is that of Bruce and Vera Wilton. This husband and wife love each other with their whole hearts. She is a devoted woman, but he is a born atheist. Being a man of much business interests, Mr. Wilton neglects his home, to bring her husband back to her. The second love story is between Kathleen O'Connor and Charley Harrow. Kathleen is a little Irish girl who believes that the man she will marry must know the Irish history thoroughly. Charley knows nothing of the past, but Kathleen attempts to teach him. To keep Charley interested, Kathleen uses the simplest of language, dress and actions. Seats on Friday.

BIBLE IN THE HOME

Archdeacon Richardson Says It Should Be Read in the Morning Instead of a Newspaper.

"An Evening of Surprises" pleasantly terminated the three days' conference of the A. Y. P. A. in Croydon Hall last night. Following the inaugural address by the Dominion president, Mr. Clarence Bell, of Toronto, an agreeable hour was spent in the solution of "Questions," in guessing the names of well-known pictures from suggestive objects and groups of objects, in listing chemicals, extracts, spices and other kitchen and household necessities from their taste and smell, and in filling in missing-letter proverbs.

A Playlet. "The Lady From Philadelphia," a one-act playlet, was presented by the St. Paul's Dramatic Society, all the players being A. Y. P. A. members. The young people taking part were Miss Addie Kennie, Miss Theobald, Miss P. Theobald, Miss M. Theobald, Miss Irvine, Miss Lillian Greer, A. Halliday and H. Granger. Although not taking a very prominent part, the playlet was characterized by unusual excellence. Miss M. Theobald's playing was marked by a pleasing natural effect.

Excellent Cast.

The other players presented their parts fairly well, although the play itself allowed but little room for good acting. An abundance of entertaining music was furnished throughout the evening by St. Matthew's Sunday School. Refreshments were served by the St. Paul's Branch A. Y. P. A. At the conclusion of the evening, Rev. Canon Starr moved a vote of thanks to the local A. Y. P. A. members for their hospitality. There were over three hundred young people present.

Afternoon Session.

Yesterday afternoon, a comprehensive paper on "The Place of the Bible in the A. Y. P. A." was presented by Ven. Archdeacon Richardson. He developed the meagre knowledge concerning the Bible and the books of the Bible shown by young people of today, and cited some amusing answers to questions on Bible subjects. Every member of the A. Y. P. A. should treasure his or her own copy of the Bible, and bring it to every A. Y. P. A. meeting.

Bible in the Home.

In the home the Bible should be read in the morning instead of the newspaper. Personal success and success in the Christian life are largely influenced by the study of the Bible.

Mr. A. E. Lancelotti, of Toronto, spoke on the subject of "Debates."

Mr. D. H. Blaisdell, of Toronto, gave some excellent "Suggestions for Entertainments." Miss Watkins, also of Toronto, spoke on "Lectures and Lecturers." Mr. J. P. Mellor, of Brantford, discussed "Summer Plans in the City." A letter on "Summer Plans in the Country" was read from Rev. B. R. Kincaid, of Gortie. Miss A. M. Grant, Toronto, discussed "Winter Plans."

Official Organ.

It was decided yesterday afternoon to make the "Ontario Churchman," published in Kingston, the official organ of the A. Y. P. A.

Archdeacon Richardson wanted to know why the "Canadian Churchman" was not selected. Rev. Canon Starr, of Kingston, supported the claims of the "Ontario Churchman," and the president explained that the "Ontario Churchman" had made advances to the A. Y. P. A. which the "Canadian Churchman" had not made.

DEATH OF MRS. EBY

Estimable Lady Passed Away Following an Operation.

After an illness of three weeks, Margaret M. Eby, wife of Albert M. Eby, of 231 King street, died in St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday afternoon. The late Mrs. Eby was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Schabacker, of 291 Ottawa avenue. She was married a year ago. About three weeks since she was taken sick, but her condition did not become serious until three days ago. She was then taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where she underwent an operation.

She is survived by her husband and parents and one sister, Mrs. J. Tambling, of this city. The funeral will be held from 291 Ottawa avenue, her parents' residence, on Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Rev. H. A. Graham, of Wellington Street Methodist Church, will conduct services at the house at 2:30 p. m.

Wage Fight Upon Pen Trust

A $10 fountain pen for $1.25. Incredible? But true. Impossible? Not at all. A good bicycle used to sell for $150—now you can buy the same thing for $18. It's a matter of methods—in making and selling. Under the "trust" plan of slow sales and enormous profits one paid from $3 to $10 for a decent fountain pen.

At Guillemont's Drug Store one can buy the highest grade of fountain pens at $1.25 each—exactly equal in every way to the $3 to $10 kinds.

It is a big special sale of the pens made by H. S. Worth Co.—made in the trust—a concern that deals in immense quantities of material, labor and output, and reckons margins on thousand groans instead of on single pens. Every sale is made on the basis of money refunded if there is the slightest dissatisfaction. Written guarantee for one year given with every pen. Pens with 14-karat pen points, and full gold, sterling silver and pearl mounts are offered in this sale at $1.25 each.

These are not $1.25 pens, even under the sweeping cost reducing methods of H. S. Worth Co. Regularly they sell for much more. H. S. Worth Co. say this is a big fight against the trust; the public gets the benefit.

Come early and avoid the rush. Be sure to see the big window display.

LAYING RAILS AHEAD OF TRAIN

How the C. P. R. Is Opening New Parts of Great West.

THE PRESIDENT'S OFFER

A One-Thousand-Dollar Grain-Growing Competition.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 25.—A refreshing story of the enterprise of the Canadian Pacific Railway was told yesterday in the publication of a newspaper at what was practically the birth of a new town last month, when a big C. P. R. train from the Pacific coast was out and sold in town lots, and of how buyers from all directions travelled to the scene on a passenger train that followed only a mile behind a track-laying machine.

The scene was the new town of Coronation, so named by the C. P. R. in honor of the historic event that marked the year of its birth. The time was around the 25th or 26th of September, and the event was the aforesaid sale of town lots. Coronation was not much of a place as yet, in fact, was not more than nominally in existence, though a few enterprising merchants had erected temporary shops and huts on lots which they intended to bid for at the sale, but which they had not yet secured.

Most of the men in possession evidently were successful in getting legitimate title to their holdings, for only one man is spoken of as having to vacate the scene. The scene of an eventful day by hitching up ten horses to his double-fronted hardware store and moving the structure intact onto his new lot.

On the evening before the sale the first C. P. R. passenger train, filled with passengers from all points of the continent, arrived in Coronation, just two hours after the arrival of the track. Few of the travellers, however, were aware of the fact that they were practically travelling over new steel as fast as it was laid down, and it was not until the morning of the 27th ult. that the scene of the track-laying machine at work a scant mile ahead of their train was revealed to the astonished gaze of the passengers.

Commendable Enterprise.

Perhaps the most commendable piece of enterprise of a remarkable community, however, was the issuing of a newspaper, the Coronation News Review, on the day of the sale. The paper appeared in the afternoon and contained a full report of the sale proceedings during the morning. Coronation was born with the proverbial golden spoon in its mouth, and it promised a brilliant career, for though not yet out of its swaddling-clothes, it has already attained the dignity of a divisional point on the Canadian Pacific Railway, with three branch lines projected from its centre. A further announcement has been made by the Canadian Pacific Railway with reference to the competition for the $1,000 prize offered by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the railway, for the best one hundred pounds of hard red wheat exhibited at the coming land and irrigation show at New York. The judges for the competition, which is open to the farmers of the United States, as well as those of Canada, will be Prof. A. H. Atkinson, of Bozeman, Mont., Prof. Williams, of Wooster, Ohio, and Prof. Jardine, of Manhattan, Kan. The exhibits of grain have each entered an exhibit. The Canadian Pacific Railway has displayed great interest in obtaining these specimens of the best sort of Canadian wheat, and if the Canadian farmers win the competition a great deal of credit will be due Sir Thomas Shaughnessy for his enterprise in obtaining the very best samples of Canadian wheat grown. The method followed in obtaining the samples was very thorough. At the various seed shows throughout the West, prices of cups and $25 were offered for the best sample of wheat exhibited. Then by a process of elimination the exhibit for each province was obtained. These exhibits have been entered in the New York competition under the names of the farmers from which they were obtained, so that beside winning the prize of the silver cup and $25 for their district, the winners of the five Canadian exhibits have a chance of securing the $1,000 prize offered by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's prize of $1,000. Canada will also be represented in the apple contest by 25 boxes of samples was very thorough. At
