EDITORIAL

THE "Griffenhagen affair" appeared in a new and decidedly startling light, as presented by Mrs. Grant Needham, of Toronto, in her address delivered in London.

The chief sin of the Meighen government in connection with bringing in the firm of American efficiency experts to investigate the civil service and reorganize it, was not that of extravagance, in her estimation. It was not even the inconsistency of running up a bill of $150,000 or $200,000 for the services of the experts, parting with them before the work was completed, and then turning round and reinstating, for election purposes civil servants dismissed through the recommendation of the Griffenhagens.

The supreme blunder, the astounding folly of the Meighen administration lay in asking men from another country, even a friendly one, to come here, and to throw open to these efficiency experts all the secrets of the Canadian civil service.

"How long do you think it will be before Washington will engage experts from Canada to go over the federal books of the United States, and see exactly what the civil servants of the United States are getting, and other inside information with regard to the civil service?" was the pertinent question Mrs. Grant Needham left with her audience.

THE Riddon case does not die down, neither do the rate-payers of Canada like it any better now than they did when it first came out.

It is an issue that violates one of the underlying principles of government.

Every concern in the country had to go through its period of adjustment, and every concern had its own little financial funeral, and its own little session of mourning.

Many a merchant went to the bank, only to be told that his only chance was to liquidate at a loss.

If there is another case on record where a big company was able to hand an I. O. U. to the government, the people of Canada ought to know it.

The Conservatives assail the farmers as being tied up to class government.

If taking taxes from the Riddon concern in the form of promissory notes is not the rankiest kind of class government, then we haven't got the thing straight yet.

WHILE denominations plan to carry the gospel to the ends of the earth, the world at home needs men and women who carry the gospel with them every day.

The kind of sermons the world needs are the sermons preached by the lives of professing Christians.

The world will sit up and listen to this kind of a sermon, and there will be no kick on its length.

Some day men and women of the church are going to get gripped right at their heart-strings by this fact.

At that time there will be a great revival, but not before.

THE feeling that the juvenile court is right and must come, continues to grow. What things are needed?

Trained probation officers for every court dealing with delinquents.

Juvenile courts well equipped to help every child needing court care.

Domestic relations court, with broad equity powers to deal effectively with desertion, non-support and other family difficulties.

Clinics for expert mental and physical examination and treatment made available to every court.

Adequate parole supervision for every child and adult released from a correctional institution.

An enlightened public, alert to support every effective measure to lessen and prevent crime.

A big program? Sure. All the more reason we should make a start.

Ulster Declines To Yield On Irish Settlement

WILL UPHOLD 'RIGHTS' FROM ANY VIOLATION

Threatens To Publish Correspondence Relating to the Negotiations for Peace.

UNIONISTS CONFERRING

Government Supporters Believe Party Will Approve Lloyd George's Stand.

London, Nov. 17.—Ulster's reply to the latest British government communication on the question of an Irish settlement was delivered at Downing street this afternoon. It indicates that Ulster stands firm in the attitude she has taken will not submit to anything considered a violation of her rights. Complaining that the government has failed to maintain secrecy regarding the negotiations, the Ulster representatives threaten to publish the correspondence. Confidence among the government's supporters that Prime Minister Lloyd George's attitude toward Ulster in the Irish peace negotiations will be sustained in the national conference of the Unionist party is increasing.

There was a growing feeling overnight that the sensational developments in some quarters—including a Conservative suggestion led by Andrew Bonar Law—would not occur, and that the government's policy would receive the calm endorsement of the convention by a great majority.

Withdraw Four Resolutions. This feeling supported by news that the Unionist "die-hards" had withdrawn four of the five resolutions they had planned to offer, deciding to present only the comparatively innocuous one he moved by Col. John Grettton, member of parliament for Rutlandshire. This calls upon the conference to "record its condemnation of the long-continued ascendancy of crime and rebellion in Ireland, and resolve that no settlement of the Irish question is acceptable which does not respect absolutely the position acquired by Ulster, and provide every safeguard essential for imperial security and the protection of the loyalists in the west and south of Ireland."

To this an amendment suggesting success to the peace negotiations will be moved by Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, secretary for war.

Express "Hearty Approval." At a meeting of Unionists of eleven divisions of Birmingham in Liverpool last night, a resolution expressing "hearty approval" of the government's efforts toward peace, was adopted. It is reported that Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, has arrived in Liverpool to attend the conference. Prime Minister Lloyd George will not go to Liverpool, having journeyed to Bourne, mouth, a seaside resort, for a brief rest. He expects to receive today the Ulster reply to the government's communication.

DECLARES FRIDAY
AS HALF-HOLIDAY

Hon. R. H. Grant's Action Is Deeply Appreciated by London Pupils.

From a juvenile point of view at least, the Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education, is "a real good scout." At the latter's own request Friday afternoon has been declared a half-holiday in all city schools.

Accompanied by Senior School Inspector A. V. Greer, Mrs. W. A. Tanner and others connected with the local public school system, Dr. Grant, on Wednesday afternoon completed his tour of the public schools. He had nothing but words of praise for every building that he visited and was exceptionally well pleased with both the Ryerson and Riverview schools.

Mr. Grant made no suggestions for improvement in the local system or outlined any plans for the future. His visit in London appeared to be more of a quest for information rather than a critical inspection.

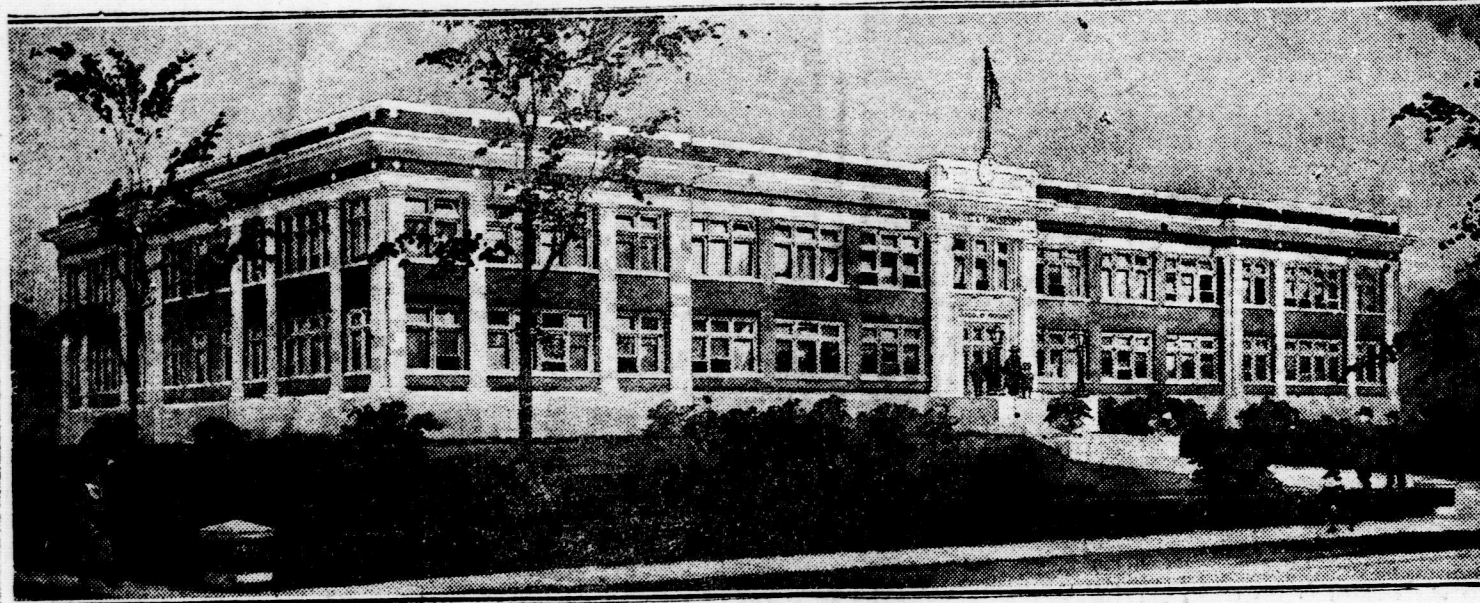

Visits Labor Council. In the evening, Mr. Grant, accompanied by Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M. L. A. for London, spent a few minutes at the regular meeting of the Trades and Labor Council in the Labor Temple. He explained that it was his first visit to London since his appointment to such an important position and that he was much impressed with all that he had seen, particularly along the educational line.

"The chief thing that I notice here," he said, "and which I have observed has been conspicuous by its absence elsewhere in my visits today, is that most of everyone appears to be enjoying a smoke."

"During my brief stay here," he continued, "I have been continually addressed as doctor, although I am not one of the profession. A far greater distinction than this has been conferred upon me by the children of one of the schools that I visited this afternoon, where they all rose as I entered and spoke of me as 'father.'"

Dr. Hugh Stevenson spoke briefly, pointing out that it was the first time in the history of the London Trades Council that a member of the cabinet had ever made an appearance there.

Western University Medical School Officially Opened Today

HON. R. H. GRANT, minister of education for Ontario, officially opened this new building this afternoon, the ceremony being attended by representatives of all civic bodies of London and western Ontario municipalities, other Canadian universities, and members of the alumni, faculty and student body of Western University.

The new school was erected at a cost of approximately one-half million dollars, and is situated on Ottawa avenue, opposite Victoria Hospital. Following the official opening this afternoon, Hon. W. J. Roche, M.D., M.P., of Ottawa, chairman of the civil service commissions of Canada, and chancellor of Western University, unveiled a portrait of the late Dr. H. A. McCallum, dean emeritus of the medical school at the time of his death last winter. The ceremony was held in the school auditorium.

The portrait, which was made available by personal subscription of members of the board of governors of Western University, was painted by E. Wyley Grier, R.C.A., of Toronto, and is regarded as one of his best pieces of art. In January, 1919, citizens of London, by an overwhelming majority, voted $100,000 toward the erection of this new school.

Business Pioneer Has Vision
Of Bigger and Better London

James Gray Declares Better Hotel Accommodations Are Vital Need of City—Urges Improvement of Riverfront and Beautification of Outlying Sections.

BY HELEN McMillan.

James Gray, who came to London "in his cradle," when the Royal Canadian Rifles moved here in 1860, when the present Victoria Park was a bar-tracks square and the military grounds extended from Dufferin avenue to the C. P. R. station, and from Waterloo to Richmond streets, would surely have something really worth while to say on London's needs. I thought. And so I went to call on him at his store on Dundas street.

There I found him in reminiscence mood, recalling the days when he first came on "the street" as a dry-goods merchant 47 years ago; when work began with the taking down of the wooden shutters at 7 o'clock in the morning, and ended only when the last customer left late in the night; and when "there were twice as many dry-goods stores on Dundas street as there are today."

Mr. Gray has a truly passionate love for London city. In his opinion, it is one of the finest cities in Canada both for business and for the founding of homes.

Has Had Steady Growth. "London hasn't ever had a big boom, but has always maintained a steady growth, and that is much better," Mr. Gray claims.

"But the city must continue to grow with the times. One fault which might be found with some of London's citizens is that they are afraid to invest in public improvements."

"They fell to see the returns which will come to them from these improvements. I would invest in any proposition which would bring more people to London and make London a better city to live in, not for the direct dividends which may come in but for the indirect business which I shall get through the bringing of more buyers to the city."

"An investment in such a proposition would pay me, even though it did not yield any dividends at all. Londoners are apt to be too shortsighted in their vision when it comes to launching new schemes for civic improvement."

Needs Good Hotel. "There is nothing which London needs more than a good hotel, so that tourists coming to the city will like to remain here. As conditions are now, tourists avoid London if possible because of the very poor hotel accommodations. And if we could do anything which would induce more people, not only to spend money in London, but to visit the London wherever they go, it would be a big thing for the city."

Mr. Gray also fears that London is not making enough of its river. "The city is beautifully located, and has many natural assets, one of the biggest of these is the Thames River," he believes. "But the Thames River is by no means the beauty spot which it might be. Beginning with the point at the foot of Dundas street, where its banks are made a dump for ashes, along the river shores as far north as the new university site big improvements could be made in the way of beautifying the surroundings and making the whole course of the river a magnificent park."

Cites Stratford Aims. "There is no reason why such improvements should not be made. The small city of Stratford has made a remarkable improvement in its river, which a few years ago was but a dump for refuse and ashes."

"If a city the size of Stratford can afford to do it, why not London?"

"A new Toronto has been opened up recently by the building of a viaduct over the Don River. This is but another example of what is being done in other cities to make river improvements similar to the ones suggested for London. And when it comes to providing work for the unemployed, what could be better than employing them on something of this nature, which will be a permanent asset to the city?"

"If the city attempted to improve the river, it would be a big thing for the city."

SHILLINGTON ARRESTED

"Gee, but that is fast work! How did you get him?" asked the night turnkey on duty at the county jail Wednesday night, when told by Provincial Officer Arthur H. Palmer that he had a prisoner by the name of Shillington to put behind his bars.

However, it wasn't the missing accountant from the London and Western Trusts that Palmer had in tow, but a 20-year-old youth by the name of Les-ley Shillington, who has been employed at the Mosley chives factory, five miles from Dorchester.

ADVISES GIRLS

Grace Blackburn Tells Club Members To Form Own Political Opinions.

TELLS OF FIGHT OF AGES

"Think for yourselves, whether you make mistakes or not. Don't belong to parties just because others do. Use your own brains. Don't be party women because your fathers or brothers tell you what to do," was the advice of Miss Grace Blackburn to the Girls' Canadian Club at the close of an eloquent address on "The Soul of Woman and the Progress of the World" at a meeting held at the Wellington street residence of the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening.

In the course of her address, Miss Blackburn presented three vivid word pictures to illustrate the evolution of woman in the past 2000 years.

Pharaoh's wife, who was disturbed by a dream and pleaded in vain with her husband and lord for the life of Jesus, was chosen to represent the type of woman of her age, uneducated in any large sense of the word, held all her life under the tutelage of her father and husband, without social or political influence, a domestic convenience, with her sole point of attack in regard to the man she wished to sway, the personal.

Next came the Mona Lisa, the "faded rose" woman of the inscrutable smile. Miss Blackburn was quoted in his statement that Mona Lisa is the personification of an age which took the grace, the fact, the confidence of cultured women as its main inspiration for the art of living.

If woman held such an important place in the world of art of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, Miss Blackburn argued, she must have occupied a like important place in life. Woman, held in an inferior and unnatural position through the ages, in the fifteenth century achieved an individuality. Out of her independence grew society and the social life.

Holds Equal Opportunities. The third picture presented was that of the woman of today, emancipated socially and politically, holding equal opportunities and responsibilities of citizenship with men.

"Society is not possible," said the speaker, "where man's ideal for woman is the church, kitchen and children. The ideal of the German kaiser, the renaissance created a new type. Its ideal was the woman, well educated, virtuous, interested in life, having to her account the gift of conversation with the rare art of saying good things well, and listening while good things were said."

"Is there a man who would give her up for the mute, inglorious woman of the ancient world, or for the immortal fiction of an ethereal and super-exalted love, the Beatrice of the Middle Ages?"

With regard to the granting of the franchise to women, Miss Blackburn recalled the statements of Mr. Asquith, when the vote was granted to women in England as "their order of merit, for having shown themselves such real defenders of their country."

Believe Influence Desirable. "Here, I understand," she said, "woman was enfranchised because the men of the country have come to believe that her influence upon public, as well as private life, is desirable. When the fight was on for the vote for women I always maintained that in Canada we would get it when we asked for it, because we were too near to our pioneer grandmothers to be refused anything of the kind. In England they are a long way from the pioneers."

"The historian, Michelet, says: 'The seventeenth century saw Versailles, the eighteenth century saw the earth.' To this the brilliant Pierre de Coudewant adds: 'The nineteenth century will see life. And which century will see God?'"

"The seventeenth century saw Versailles, the eighteenth century saw the earth, and the nineteenth century will see God."

TO URGE EXHIBITS
AT TRADES FAIR

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The British trade commissioners to Canada are holding a conference in this city tomorrow to draw up plans for the ensuing year. Among the items to be considered is the question of what measures shall be taken to exhibit at the British Trade Fair, which opens in London and Birmingham during the latter part of next February.

The exhibition, now the largest of its kind in the world, has recently been thrown open to British manufacturers in the overseas dominions.

Sixty-Four Die in Three Auto, Rail and Ship Catastrophes.

25 INJURED AT CHICAGO

Auto Falls Fifty Feet to Pennsylvania Tracks, Pinning Passengers Underneath.

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 17.—Six persons were killed here early this morning when the automobile in which they were riding crashed through the guard-rails of the Woodvale bridge, spanning the Pennsylvania railroad cut, and fell to the tracks 50 feet below, according to reports received at the office of Deputy Coroner R. K. Yost. The car overturned as it fell, pinning the passengers beneath it, killing some of them instantly, it was reported.

Details of the accident were meagre, but an unofficial list of the dead included one woman and five men, Alice Horner, John and Arthur McIntyre, brothers, Edward Funk, John McGuire, John Stolle, all said to have been residents of Johnstown.

According to Deputy Coroner Yost's report, the party had been visiting at the home of Mrs. Helen Costlow, near the place of the accident, and were returning to their homes, when the automobile got beyond control on a curved approach to the bridge and sped through the rails, falling to the tracks and pinning the passengers beneath it.

Stolle, it was said, was at the wheel and police expressed the belief that as he recently came to Johnstown he may have been unfamiliar with the road or, possibly, confused by the darkness and a heavy downpour of rain through which he was driving.

25 PERSONS INJURED

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Twenty-five persons were injured in two of them probably fatally, this morning, when two five-car elevated trains, upbound from the west side, were wrecked in a rear-end collision at the Crawford avenue station on the Oak Park line.

Two steel coaches were demolished, and several victims pinned beneath the wreckage.

Firemen with torches cut through the twisted metal to reach the victims.

FIFTY-EIGHT DIE IN WRECK

Manila, P. I., Nov. 17.—Fifty-eight persons, many of them women and children passengers, are believed to have been lost in the wreck of the inter-island steamer Maria Luisa, 54 tons, which foundered yesterday near Mariveles, close to the entrance to Manila Bay.

Seventy-two others, including all of the officers and crew, were picked up by the Japanese steamer Setaki Maru, bound for Japan, and were landed at Mariveles. Survivors said that while the effects of a huge wave, a second wave broke over her and she sank quickly. Lifboats which were launched were swamped by heavy seas, and their occupants were thrown into the water.

All of the missing men were thought to be Filipinos. The survivor of the port is investigating to determine whether the craft was seaworthy.

DELAY PUBLISHING
MISSING BOND LIST

Trust Company Officials Are Reticent On Shillington Case.

Whereabouts of Harold Shillington, youthful accountant of the London and Western Trust Company, who has been missing from the city since Nov. 3, are still a mystery, the trust company has received no information reported from the Pinkerton detectives retained to nab Shillington and some $70,000 in bonds which are missing from the company's vaults.

When asked if more than one London firm had purchased bonds from Shillington before he left the city, D. McArthur, assistant manager of the trust company, replied:

"I have nothing to say in the matter whatever."

"Have the Victory bonds sold to a local firm been recovered as yet?" Mr. McArthur was asked.

"I have nothing to say about it," was the reply.

Asked if a list of the securities stolen was available for publication, Mr. McArthur replied in the negative. He stated that lists were being made of men and firms who would be most likely to get the bonds, and that in the course of time the newspapers would also likely obtain the list. The whole matter was being handled in Toronto, he said.

Speculation is still rife among the friends of Shillington as to his exact whereabouts. Many believe that he is already south of the equator or in sunny Mexico, while others are inclined to the opinion that he is enjoying ocean breezes on a liner bound for Great Britain.

Chinese Statement Favors the Provision for Calling Future Conferences.

AVERT NAVAL RIVALRIES

Arms Parley To Arrange For New Partners' Admission to Pacts.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—United States Secretary of State Hughes today called a meeting of the United States delegates for 2:30 o'clock.

The purpose of the meeting was not announced, but it was understood to be for discussion of the plans of delegation heads for dealing with Pacific and far eastern questions.

Canada's proposal of the formulation of a plan to assure the permanence and continuity of a diminution of the naval armaments, expressed in the United States project, which is now before the special committee of the conference, was reflected in one paragraph of a statement of policy made by Minister Hughes, chief of the Chinese delegation at the first meeting of the committee on Far Eastern and Pacific problems today.

Borden Suggests Plan. It is understood that a memorandum has been submitted by Sir Robert Borden, suggesting that arrangements be made for a conference to be held before the expiration of the proposed ten-year naval holiday with the object of perpetuating the agreement for the limitation of armaments and avoiding a possible competition in naval building at the end of the ten years. To this conference nations not now represented in the present conference, but which in the future might attain any considerable naval force, may be invited to attend.

The Chinese statement revealed that the Chinese delegation considers a similar arrangement in regard to Far East matters desirable. The final paragraph in China's declaration of policy reveals that the Chinese should make for future conferences to be held from time to time for the discussion of international questions relative to the Pacific and the Far East, as a basis for the determination of common policies of the signatory powers in relation thereto.

Favors Open Door

It appears altogether likely that Canada will respond sympathetically to the Chinese proposal to make a declaration on behalf of China to the disarmament conference, the text of which was made public today.

It declared for the open door, and equal opportunity in China is known to be Canada's desire. As for a bearing on that much-discussed compact, Canada is not in favor of the continuation of the agreement. The theory has been advanced that the treaty is in fact a promise to the United States to make a declaration on behalf of China to the disarmament conference, the text of which was made public today.

An indication that Canada's view regarding the alliance may prevail was indicated by the statement of a British official, who is in close touch with members of the British delegation. It was stated that the old country delegates undoubtedly would be willing to see the present treaty superseded by a tripartite agreement between Great Britain, the United States and Japan. This, in effect, has been the solution which has been advanced by the President. Incidentally, the much-mooted question as to whether the treaty was still effective was answered by a high British authority by a statement that Britain considered the pact still binding.

"World" Makes Comment. The New York World, in commenting on the argument advanced by opponents of the disarmament plan, that the provision in the United States constitution providing that congress shall have power "to provide and maintain a navy," leaves it impossible for the president and cabinet to make a treaty fixing the size of the United States navy for a period of ten years, says: "The answer to that is that for more than 100 years the naval strength of the United States and that of Britain on the Great Lakes has been limited by a treaty, regardless of the constitutional power of congress. This agreement was signed by President Monroe in a formal proclamation issued April 23, 1815, in these terms:

"The naval force to be maintained upon the American lakes by his majesty and the government of the United States shall henceforth be confined to the following vessels on each side, that is to say:

"On Lake Ontario, to one vessel, not exceeding one hundred tons burden and armed with one 18-pound cannon."

"On the upper lakes, to two vessels, not exceeding like burden each, and armed likewise."

"On the waters of Lake Champlain, to one vessel not exceeding like burden and armed with like force."

"All other armed vessels on these lakes shall be forthwith dismantled, and no other vessels of war shall be there built or armed."

"No agreement reached in Washington can be more rigid than this."

EXTRA TIME TO VOTE

Mayor Little Is Asked To Issue the Necessary Proclamation.

Only the three members of the finance committee seeking majority honors at the next election, Aldermen Harley, Wenige and Wilson, turned out for the meeting of the finance committee on Wednesday afternoon. Chairman Watkinson and Ald. Watt are ill. Ald. Bridge could not attend and Mayor E. S. Little is out of the city. The result was that half of the business of the committee had to be laid over for another two weeks.

As civic nomination and election days each fall on days when the council should meet, it was decided to call the meetings on the following Wednesday. This will mean that two days after the new council is elected the old council will hold a meeting, the second last of the year, and thus allow the 1922 body two meetings at which to pick up the reins of the retiring councilors.

City Clerk Baker reported that fifteen of the electoral subdivisions of the city now exceed the number of voters as laid down by the municipal act, namely 300. This will require the creation of seven new subdivisions which will have to be arranged before the next assessment is undertaken. The matter was referred to the city clerk and the assessor to lay out. The subdivisions having more than 300 voters are 1, 3, 4, 11, 12, 13, 15, 19, 21, 30, 55, 64, 68 and 77.

Fire Alarm Conduits.
Fire Chief Altken asked that the strip of land between the sidewalk and curbs throughout the city be reserved for the fire alarm conduits, a start on the laying of which will have to be made next year, he said. The chief expressed fear that the telephone company, gasoline tanks and other works would be invading this part if he did not speak up. He also asked that parking of cars on King street near the firehall be prohibited after 6 o'clock. Recently a bylaw was put through prohibiting parking on this street at any time, but it was held up when the property owners and businessmen protested that their rights were being interfered with. The council then decided to have the building inspector report on cutting back the front of the firehall for some distance so as to give the street a clear view. The chief stated that the council the other night the firemen had to go out and move a car by hand before the apparatus was able to proceed to a fire.

Extra Time to Vote.
Ald. J. C. Wilson expressed the opinion that a proclamation should be issued by the mayor asking employers to give an extra hour for voting at the municipal election. On Tuesday, the 6th, employees are entitled to this by law. City Clerk Baker expressed fear that his staff would not be able to handle the great rush of voters if it was practically confined to the noon hour. The mayor will be asked to issue the proclamation.

The matter of remodeling a horse-drawn fire truck into a motor vehicle was held in abeyance until it is seen if there are funds enough in the fire department account to foot the bill. The fire chief said that some action was necessary, as the difficulty in covering the city by horses, on account of slippery pavements is daily becoming more acute.

Market Clerk Baker called the attention of the committee to a statement recently published that he was in trouble for insubordination. He wished to deny it. He thought it a serious reflection on his good name.

Ald. Harley suggested that he should not take the matter too seriously. Ald. Wenige stated that J. Gould, Hamilton road and Adelaide street, had objected to be "persecuted" by the tax collector who had been after him and also sent the bailiff. He was in arrears for all this year's taxes and part of the year previously. The alderman did not think that the man would leave the city, but thought he was just in bad circumstances at present, and would be all right if he got a breathing spell. The matter will be looked into.

Suburban Road Cost.
City Solicitor Meredith in a communication to the council stated that

Solicitor Elliot of the county was asking for action in regard to the city's portion of the suburban road cost. Unless there was a meeting to arrange an amicable settlement, action would be taken to collect the money. It was stated that the mayor had informally agreed to a committee to meet the county officials to go into the matter, and this will be done. The county already has a judgment against the city in the matter.

The young women of the Y. W. C. A. are anxious to garner a knowledge of municipal matters. Mrs. Henderson asked the city clerk if a meeting could be arranged for Dec. 1, which the young women might attend to hear the various municipal matters discussed. A meeting at which candidates for municipal office will speak, will be arranged for that date.

The question of the lights on Dundas street east, which have been reported as not in use for some time, was up again. Ald. Childs first introduced it. He said that street lights have been moved over into private property, and they were not lighted.

The clerk reported that two lights were moved from the street to J. M. Moore's building, and two others were installed as well. Mr. Moore was to pay for the lighting of two of them and the city the other two. The lights will have to be put into use.

The Ontario Railway Board wrote approving of the appointment of Alex. Calder to make an audit of the books of the City Gas Company.

GETS FOUR YEARS FOR JAIL ESCAPE

Chatham Prisoner Wanted in Toronto on Similar Charge.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
CHATHAM, Nov. 16.—Four years with hard labor in Kingston Penitentiary was the sentence handed out to Basil McMeekin, alias Gordon Smith, alias John Bell, alias Harold Doyle, by Magistrate Carscallen of Wallaceburg in the county police court today.

McMeekin, who was known to the police as Gordon Smith, was arrested last June and confined to the county jail on a burglary charge, but escaped, in company with two others, and made a clean getaway. He was recaptured in Essex County about a week ago and was brought back to Chatham. He is also wanted by the Toronto police on a jail-breaking charge.

NOVEMBER HAY MEASURES 6 FEET

[Special to The Advertiser.]
DUNELAND, Nov. 16.—Timothy hay measuring six feet high, and barley $\frac{3}{4}$ feet high, can be seen on the farm of Samuel Sparks in Saugeen Township. This not only shows what the soil of Saugeen is capable of producing, despite a dry summer, but serves to some extent to distract our minds from the approaching winter.

WHITE ASSAULTS MOULDS' PLEA

Declares Opponent Forgets "Protection" Is Vital to Labor.

ESTABLISHES "IDENTITY"

Accusing Hon. Wm. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party and the Hon. T. A. Cregar, leader of the Agrarian party of "troting along pretty close together," and holding that "the farmer and labor elements of the Ontario administration are not analogous as some people are inclined to believe," Frank White, the National Liberal and Conservative candidate in London, addressed a mass meeting of ward 3 electors in the Orange Hall, Layard street, on Wednesday evening.

E. R. Dennis supported the Tory choice and spoke briefly urging organization for his party, but predicting "blue ruin" for the Liberal forces.

Following his preliminary remarks during which he established his identity and explained that he was not a "scrap dealer" as he had been termed, Mr. White took up what has been many occasions been defined by the National Liberal and Conservative as the main issue confronting the people—the tariff question.

Claims Tariff Is Issue.
"The chief issue of this election is no doubt," said Mr. White, "the changes in the fiscal policy as advocated by two of the parties. The present policy is the same policy of 1873, modified of course from time to time. The Liberals fought this policy until they came into power in 1896 when they themselves adopted the very thing they had been fighting."

Explaining that he had scanned a list of articles and commodities that were on the proposed Liberal free list, Mr. White held that one of the articles was already "free," having been made so by the Borden administration as an essential war measure. He pointed out the "serious" local effect of this move, charging that two firms contemplated producing farm implements until the government's action when they abandoned the project as they could not compete with the United States.

Mr. White deplored the fact that as a result some $20,000,000 was subsequently spent by Canadians who were compelled to go over the border to get their tractors.

"That's how you paid your duty," elucidated Mr. White, "in exchange of currency between the two countries. You paid New York or Washington, not Ottawa."

He pictured this sum being expended in Canada under protection.

Ridicules "Smartness."
"Yet they will say that we are smart people," continued the speaker, "but we cannot be when we allowed ourselves to be taken in by such a nature. That only one instance, but if all the others were included it would just mean a multiplication of figures and a multiplication of unemployed."

"The Labor party has a representative in the field, and that candidate," Mr. Arthur Meighen says to the workman, "let's forget the tariff." It does not seem right to me. Canada is not entirely a farming country as he might have said. We have some 700,000 industrial employees who with their dependents must number up to 2,000,000. Mr. Meighen surely has not looked up the figures and when he has said 'forget the tariff,' few have forgotten that one of the cardinal features of labor is protection."

ANNOUNCES CLUB GRANTED CHARTER

President of Chatham Rotarians Expects Presentation Soon.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
CHATHAM, Nov. 16.—President R. L. Stratton of the Rotary Club stated this morning that he had received official word that the charter for the local club had been sanctioned by International Rotary headquarters. The presentation of the charter will be made in person by District Governor George E. Barnes of Flint, Mich., and may take place within the next two weeks. Representatives from all the Rotary Clubs in the district will be present for the ceremony, and especially from London, as that club is the sponsor for the Chatham club.

The marble for a memorial for the Sons of England of this city, who fell in the late war, is expected to arrive in the city tomorrow, and will be placed in position on Tecumseh Park within the next two weeks. The finishing work and carving of the names on the marble will be done by local cutters.

An announcement that the River road, Dover Township, is now open for traffic was made by County Engineer McGeorge this morning. Four-fifths of a mile of pavement having recently been added to the road, just west of the suburban area.

Civil service examinations for candidates are being held in the Central school here today. Six candidates will write. They have received their preliminary training in the night industrial school in this city.

POUND REACHES NEW HIGH MARK

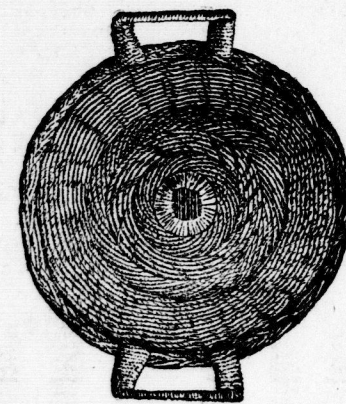

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—British exchange, as represented by the pound sterling, rose to a fraction over $4 for demand bills in this market today.

This is the highest quotation in over six months and equals a gain of six cents from the low quotation of the week. The rise again was associated with developments at the armament conference at Washington.

RAISE LARGE SUM FOR BLIND INDIAN

HEPWORTH, Nov. 16.—Sauble Beach is well known throughout Western Ontario as a popular summer resort, and Sauble Falls, near Hepworth, will henceforth be known as a generous place for the reason that last night practically the whole town turned out to a box social and concert held at Sauble Falls for the purpose of raising money to procure treatment for a blind Indian, David Thompson, in an effort to restore his sight. The proceeds of the entertainment amounted to several hundred dollars.

When informed as to the amount which had been raised for him, the poor Indian was deeply touched by the generosity of the people, and is one of the happiest men in this country today.

JURY FINDS SPAULDING GUILTY ON TWO COUNTS

HAMILTON, Nov. 16.—Clarence Spaulding, who was in the bang when Wilfred Maharg murdered Dr. Whitworth, Binbrook, was found guilty of conspiracy to rob and robbing Dr. Whitworth by a jury that was out nearly eighteen hours. They went out about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and returned shortly after 6 o'clock last evening with a verdict of guilty. When they were polled by C. W. Bell, K.C., counsel for the prisoner, one of the jurors said he could not conscientiously bring in a verdict of guilty. They were sent back and looked up a eighth, returning with their verdict at 3:30 this morning.

Beef $10.50 last year $5.80 today!

TO OUR FARMER FRIENDS—One year ago you received $10.50 a cwt. for your cattle. Today you are offered in the neighborhood of $5.80. Wheat also tumbled from $2.25 to 90c a bushel during the past twelve months. This means less money for home comforts—for the education of your children—for farm help and machinery—for your Savings Account.

What Can You Do To Increase Your Income in the Face of These Conditions?

Take for instance your Savings Pass Book. It shows you have a substantial balance of $500, $1,000, $5,000 or more. This money was saved during the past few years when prices were at a high level. THEN you may not have been greatly concerned about interest rates. TODAY conditions are different. Every extra dollar is welcome on the farm.

Here are four interest-paying Departments backed by the Assets of Western Ontario's largest financial institutions. Every year they aid thousands in obtaining extra interest dollars. Why not you?

Deposits	"Special Interest Deposits"
Money deposited in the Savings Department may be withdrawn by check. You receive interest at the "higher - than - ordinary" rate of	13 1/2% per annum payable half-yearly
Guaranteed Trust Certificates	Debentures
Any sum of $500 or over placed with The Canada Trust Company Guaranteed Trust Certificate Department is withdrawable on the first day of any month on 30 days' notice. Interest is paid for the full term of the investment at the rate of	4% per annum payable half-yearly
4 1/2% per annum payable half-yearly	5 1/2% per annum

Help offset the lower prices you receive for produce by allowing your money to earn higher interest rates. Come into one of these Huron & Erie Branches and talk it over with the Manager.

REDUCE FREIGHT RATES IN U. S.*Railroad Companies Announce Immediate Reduction.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—An immediate reduction of ten per cent in railroad freight rates on farm products, for a period of six months, was agreed upon today by executives of the railroads of the United States.

In announcing the decision, Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, president of the Association of Railway Executives, stated that any reductions in such rates made since September 1, 1920, were to be included in the ten per cent, and that it would be put into effect without waiting for a reduction in wages. The freight rate cut will apply throughout the entire United States except on traffic moving wholly within New England. The reduction will cost the railroads about $55,000,000, it was estimated.

The new rates are applicable to carloads of wheat, corn, oats, other grain, flour and meal, hay, straw and alfalfa, manufactured tobacco, cotton, cottonseed and products, except cottonseed oil and cottonseed meal; citrus fruits, other fresh fruits, potatoes, other fresh vegetables; dried fruits and vegetables; horses, mules, cattle and calves; sheep, goats, hogs, poultry, eggs, butter and cheese and wool.

DRUG DEN OWNER PAYS HEAVY FINE

CHATHAM, Nov. 16.—Lee Kewang, proprietor of a Chinese store on Fifth street, was fined $250 and costs in the police court this morning on a charge of operating an opium den. Facing an alternative of six months in jail, the chairman paid the fine.

Ting Ping, Lee Kim and Pang Bing, frequenters of the place, each paid $10 and costs.

URGES DIVERSION FROM FREE TRADE*Mrs. Grange of London Addresses Norwich Liberal Meeting.

NORWICH, Nov. 16.—"A consistent record of steady advance for the masses has been that of the Liberal party," declared Mrs. Edward Grange of London, addressing a meeting here Wednesday in the interests of Mayor Dean of Tillsonburg, the Liberal candidate in the riding of South Oxford.

"The principle of responsible government," continued Mrs. Grange, "has always been adhered to under a Liberal government. Whenever any big issue was involved the people were always approached. The result has been that in 1911 the Conservative cry was 'let well enough alone,' while now all that can be raised is the bogey of free trade which is absolutely contrary to the policy of every Liberal leader."

"During the 15 years of Liberal administration there was more progress made in Canadian agriculture and industry than during the preceding 30 years, and history must repeat itself."

Mrs. Grange dwelt at some length on the continued growth of government expenditures and the reckless waste of public money.

The following officers of the women's organization were elected during the afternoon: President, Mrs. Hultitt; first vice-president, Mrs. Forsyth; second vice-president, Mrs. Frain; secretary, Miss Fairleigh; treasurer, Mrs. Barnett; executive, Miss Coker; Mr. Sweeney, Mrs. Homell and Mrs. Ed. Nettercott.

ELECT C. OF C. OFFICERS.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 16.—A meeting to elect officers for the ensuing year for the newly-formed chamber of commerce will be held Thursday evening in the city hall.

TO ORDER GRADING
OF DAIRY PRODUCE*Department of Agriculture Likely To Adopt Measure.

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—Regulations making compulsory the grading of dairy products to be exported, will probably be put in effect next season by the federal department of agriculture, according to J. A. Ruddick, dairy commissioner for Canada, in an address today before dairy produce graders from all over the Dominion, meeting here under the auspices of the Dairy and Cold Storage branch of the department of agriculture.

Mr. Ruddick emphasized the necessity for grading to insure uniformity of quality if Canada was to hold her own against the strong competition in the principal dairy produce market, Great Britain. Canada, he remarked, was now the only large dairy produce exporting country in the world in which a system of compulsory grading was not in force.

The dairy commissioner assured his hearers that while it was expected to establish grading in Canada next year such would not be done unless he could secure experts to carry out the work.

The conference of dairy graders is especially notable this year, as it marks the first occasion in which all the provinces are represented.

There were carried over from September sixteen strikes involving some 2,229 workers, and resulting in a time loss of 74,794 working days as compared with 22

"CARRY GOSPEL TO WORLD END," IS CHURCH PLEA

3,000 Methodists Bare Bowed Heads in Demonstration at Detroit.

LAUD RULE OF BRITAIN

Urge Speedy Aid for Stricken Europe and Indian Ideals.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 16.—Three thousand Methodists, in national conference in Central M. E. Church, adjourned Wednesday noon to Grand Circus Park, and with bowed heads and later with exultant voices, enacted "The Flaming Cross—A Demonstration."

Hymns of Methodism filled the fall air for blocks with song led by the pastor of a precursor standing in the shadow of the new Russell A. Alger memorial here.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N. S., harbor, and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves.

She writes as follows: "I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves, so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care."

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our veying the gospel to very inhabited corner of the globe.

They listened during the morning had listened to five of the church's greatest figures who declared that Europe must not be deserted in the present crisis and allowed to stew in its own juice, that India must have leaders to finish the job of leading its aspirations to the light, and that the world never needed the church one-half as much as it does today.

Listen in Silence.

They listened in a silent silence to messages from the frontiers of civilization urging the church not to falter in its task and to continue its mission and spiritually torn world.

"Nothing could be as short-sighted as the policy of 'forget Europe.' We have done enough," declared Bishop Edgar Blake, the church's chief in Paris, capital of a diocese that includes all of continental Europe and part of Northern Africa.

"Our sons went gladly to war. We cannot neglect the soil which their blood has consecrated. With all our resources, without hesitation and without reservation, we must go to Europe's aid. We found our soul in war, let us not lose it in peace."

See Peace in India.

"There will be no serious revolt in India," declared Bishop H. Lester Smith, former pastor of the church in India, with a diocese capital in Bangalore.

"Ghandi's movement is not a violent affair. The British have provided a generous government of home rule which has brought social, economic, intellectual and spiritual enlightenment to India is the Christian faith and education that grows out of the Christian attitude toward the individual and the worth of personality."

The western world must come to the aid of India and come quickly. Indian life is fluid this minute. We must provide the men today to line up the details which ought to shape the India of tomorrow."

Rev. E. D. Soper Speaks.

"In contrast with the religions of the Near and Far East we have Christianity whose essential doctrine is that we find Christ, that we know the kind of God with whom we have to deal," was the keynote of the first address of the morning, delivered by the Rev. Edmund D. Soper, professor of the history of religions in Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

The speaker declared that Christianity is capable of becoming a world religion because it is adequate, because man is constantly seeking God and that through Christ he finds the answer to that longing and aspiration.

Wednesday's was the fourth in a series of five sessions to account for the stewardship of the church in disposing of half of the $118,000,000 fund for missionary, educational and benevolent work raised two years ago, and to plan, with the assistance of the experience gained, to extract full value from the remainder in spreading the word throughout the church's parish, the entire globe.

MURDOCK RAPS TORY "THEFTS"

Declares That Meighen Has Evolved 11th Commandment of His Own.

SPEAKS AT BRANTFORD

BRANTFORD, Nov. 16.—James Murdock, former labor representative on the board of commerce, and W. T. R. Preston of Durham were the principal speakers at a rally in the armories here tonight in the interests of W. G. Raymond, Liberal candidate in Brantford.

Mr. Murdock dealt at length with his connection with the board of commerce, charging that members of the cabinet blocked the workings of the board, making it useless for the carrying on of its investigation.

The Conservative government, backed up by the big interests, the speaker said, did not want the investigations carried out, and it appeared to him that Premier Meighen's eleventh commandment was "Thou shalt not prevent our friends from stealing or prevent them from exploiting the people in their distress."

The tariff, as it stood at the present time, Mr. Murdock continued, put the greatest burden on the working people of Canada. The tariff, however, was not the only issue, he said, for the people wanted to know about the national railways. Information on that point had not been forthcoming in Canada, nor about unemployment, brought about by the big interests behind the Conservative party to crush labor.

As a labor man, Mr. Murdock said he did not believe in class government, and he appealed to labor men to support the Liberal party, which was big enough to include all classes.

W. T. R. Preston charged ballot stuffing, ballot switching in the overseas soldier voting, and declared that men who had voted Liberal had been drafted from non-fighting regiments and hurried to the trenches, which, when protest was made as to evidence coming out, one colonel had callously replied: "Half the evidence will be buried in Flanders."

N. C. O's and men who dared to act as scrutineers took their very lives in their hands and were ejected from the booths. Promises to the soldiers in the hospitals, the farmers, as to relief if the union government were returned to power had been ruthlessly broken.

The announcement that Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King would speak here later was received with cheers.

There was an audience of over 2,000 men and women workers present, and the keenest enthusiasm was shown. The speakers were given every encouragement by the cheering and applause of their hearers.

Mr. W. G. Raymond, the party candidate reiterated his election policy, including a tariff for revenue purposes.

Mr. Roy Searge, a well-known manufacturer, presided.

At Paris the afternoon Mr. Murdock was awarded a reception by several hundred of the supporters of Mr. Robert Aiken, Liberal candidate in Brantford.

Three other vessels, the Arizona, Hazel Dell and Howard, which left the Gut of Canso at the same time for here, were wrecked Saturday night.

The Maple Leaf was owned and commanded by Captain Partins of Port Au Main, Cape Breton, and carried two other men.

KILLS WIFE IN GUN ACCIDENT IN HOME

Major Pelletier Victim of Revolver Explosion Tragedy.

QUEBEC, Nov. 16.—(By Canadian Press).—Mrs. Victor Pelletier, wife of Major Victor Pelletier, was shot and killed at her home, 173 Grande Allee, at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon by the accidental discharge of a revolver in the hands of her husband.

Major Pelletier, who is widely known throughout Canada, was formerly aide-de-camp to four lieutenant-governors.

He resigned from the service about three years ago to accept the position of superintendent of the parliament buildings.

Being no longer in the military service, he recently closed a deal with a firm in Montreal to sell his uniforms and other military equipment and was in this act this afternoon of packing up these articles for shipment when the accident happened.

Among the equipment was a .32-calibre revolver.

Major Pelletier removed the cartridges from the gun, but in doing so he overlooked one chamber and was pointing the revolver towards the wall and pressing the trigger to see that the gun was in good order when his wife passed in front of him.

At that instant the hammer came in contact with the cartridge and the gun discharged, the bullet entering Mrs. Pelletier's back on the left side and piercing her heart.

She uttered a scream as she fell dead.

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask., Nov. 16.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, arrived here today on his way to Regina, where he is to address a meeting this evening. Tomorrow afternoon Mr. King will address a meeting at Moose Jaw, which will conclude his series of Western meetings.

The Liberal leader will then go to Winnipeg, proceeding from there to Hallock, Ont., where he speaks on Saturday evening, afterwards going to his own constituency of North York, where he will address a meeting at Newmarket, Ont., on nomination day.

See Superfluous Hair Roots Come Right Out (An Entirely New Process.)

New, different, better than all depilatory and electrical treatments, is the marvelous phelactine process. It's the one thing that actually removes the roots as well as the hair on the surface. It does this very quickly leaving the skin perfectly smooth and hairless.

Get a stick of prepared phelactine from your druggist today, follow the easy instructions, and with your own eyes watch the hair-roots come out! You'll be astonished and delighted. Phelactine is entirely odorless, non-irritating, and so harmless you could eat it without any ill effect.—Adv.

PIMPLES ON FACE DIDN'T LIKE TO GO OUT

Those nasty little pimples that break out on the face and other parts of the body are simply indications that the blood is out of order and requires purifying.

There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and that is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing which can best be done by that old reliable blood medicine and when the blood is purified the pimples will vanish and you will have a clear, healthy complexion.

Miss Mary E. Flanagan, R. R. No. 3, Stella, Ont., writes: "I suffered for about two years with pimples and blotches breaking out on my face. The doctor said it was caused by bad blood. My face was so bad I didn't like to go out among a crowd of people. One day I was talking to a friend, and she advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and try it. I just took three bottles, and there was not a blotch or pimple of any kind left. Some of my friends asked me what I had used and I said: 'Burdock Blood Bitters chased them.'"

B. B. B. has been on the market for the past 45 years, so you are not experimenting with some new and untried remedy.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Little Drops an Ocean Make, Subtitled Photoplay

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—No element in the presentation of a photoplay has so potential a reaction upon an audience as the subtitle.

The subtitle is more than an element of presentation. So far, the director has been unable to tell his story without subtitle. Charles Ray's "The Old Swimmin' Hole" and Hugo Ballin's "The Journey's End" are the only exceptions to that.

Being unable to dispense with subtitles, directors are more and more turning their attention to secure the best talent to write them.

Little Drops an Ocean Make, Subtitled Photoplay

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

This writer believes Grantland Rice's subtitles to his sport pictures are the best on the screen. They play upon the imagination. They build a more vivid picture than the action of the film. They enhance the story told in the part of the film which follows the subtitle.

The subtitles of the Bruce scenes, indeed, of all the screen scenes, are high examples of writing craftsmanship.

Rupert Hughes, undoubtedly, is the most cryptic title writer for feature photoplays. He holds the advantage of writing titles for his own stories. Having the evolution of the plot entirely within his own mind he supplies in written words exactly what is lacking in action or atmosphere in the filmed scenes. Thus, pictures which Hughes supervises present a complete unity of narration.

John Emerson and Anita Loos were the first to recognize the importance of title writing and to capitalize on it. Jointly they have made successes of films that without their subtitles would have proven failures. Their work possesses much of the same merit as that of Hughes. However, it is comparable to broth prepared by two cooks as tasted with that prepared by one cook.

Will Rogers achieved success on the stage by his ability to condense humor into snappy epigrams. When he points

A Poor House.

Premier Meighen, speaking at Winnipeg, made use of the following statement:
"Those who think there is a vast campaign fund behind the government are mistaken. If a man helps this government with money for this campaign he has my permission to reveal his name if he wishes to do so. It is his business."
If one can imagine a weaker or a more spineless reply than that then let it be brought out.
The statement has been made by speakers all through the campaign, and especially in the West by T. A.
Cramer, that there was a very large sum of money at the disposal of the government, and that it was being freely used for campaign purposes.
Any man who has any common sense, or who has any appreciation of values, knows full well that there is a very large amount of money being spent for Conservative campaign purposes.
They have large space in practically every weekly and daily paper in the country. They have a billboard propaganda, plastered and covered, from one end of the country to the other, that is costing money in the thousands upon thousands, as any one knows who has any knowledge of the cost of this work and its distribution.
On every hand are the evidences, clear and positive, that there must be a large—seriously large—amount of money at the disposal of the Meighen government.
The matter has been put up straight to the premier several times by his political opponents.
And yet the best answer he can make is that if a man who has made a contribution to the campaign fund cares to get up and say so, he has that privilege.
Is that the spirit that is going to give the people of the Dominion any greater confidence in the conduct of affairs at Ottawa?
The country has a right to look to the premier of Canada for real, constructive leadership in this matter—for something clean and definite.
Instead, we have the statement that if a man wants to dip in for party funds it's his own business.
Undoubtedly this is one of the weakest statements yet made by the premier of Canada.

Two Resolutions.

London Presbytery passed two resolutions at their last session, one on Dominion-wide prohibition; the other on race track gambling.
Both resolutions are so worded that they cannot be side-stepped.
The presbytery considers they should be considered as issues in the federal election.
The biggest need of the temperance movement today is legislation that will prohibit—legislation that hits the man of means as hard as it hits the poorer man.
Race track gambling is a provincial affair, but the spirit of the resolution stands.
The trouble is that too often this sort of legislation is bootied from Toronto to Ottawa so often that it is hammered out of shape and proportion before it becomes effective.
Quick action in these matters has never been one of our national characteristics.

Poor Business.

It is not good business that members of parliament should also be members or directors of companies that get contracts from the government.
On page 732 of Hansard (March 9) the following record appears of questions by the Ottawa house:
Mr. Duff:
1. How many locomotives have been built for the government railways by the Montreal Locomotive Company since 1917, and how many are under contract, or in course of construction by the said company and not yet completed?
2. What has been or will be the total cost of all the said locomotives?
3. Is the honorable the minister of marine and fisheries a member of any board or committee connected with the Montreal Locomotive Company?
Hon. Mr. Reid (Grenville):
1, 2, 3. The management of Canadian National Railways advise 227 locomotives have been ordered since 1917 at a cost of $1,329,300. Information from the honorable minister of marine and fisheries is that he is a director of the said company, but not on any committee.
Municipal government recognizes that it is bad business for an alderman to accept business from the council. In fact, it is expressly stated that this shall not be done, and cases are on record where depots have been successfully taken to seat men who have offended in this regard.
Why, then, should it be tolerated
by the government at Ottawa?

The Big Noise in the Disarmament Conference Orchestra.

HERE'S THE REAL ISSUE

HON. W. L. Mackenzie King, speaking at Ottawa prior to leaving for his western tour:
Now, let me at once put this question to you to illustrate what I meant when I said the tariff is not the issue. Mr. Meighen has another end in view.
The reason Mr. Meighen is putting forward the question of the tariff as it exists in his imagination, is that he wishes to cover the real issue. He wants the people to forget the real issue. I have only to ask you this question in order to see by your own answers whether I am right or wrong in what I say is the real issue in Canada at the present time.
The real issue is whether the people are to have the right to carry on the government of this country by their own free will or whether that right is to be usurped by a handful of gentlemen.
Is there one man or woman in this audience, within the sound of my voice, who directly or indirectly has had anything to do with giving Mr. Meighen or the gentlemen associated with him the right to carry on the government of the country?
(Cries of No.)
Can I hear a single voice saying
Yes?
(Cries of Not one.)
Not one man or woman in this capital of our Dominion, who knows intimately all the aspects of the political question will stand up or even call out from the audience and say that he or she directly or indirectly was responsible or gave any authority to Mr. Meighen and those associated with him to carry on the government of this country. That means that the fundamental right of the people to carry on the government of their own country, to make their own laws, to appoint their own judges, to administer their own affairs, has been deliberately usurped, deliberately stolen from them.
AND yet Mr. Meighen, having treated you in that way, comes before you today and asks you to express your confidence in him.
The only difference between Mr.
Meighen's method and that of Lenin and Trotsky in taking possession of the government of Russia, is that they did it by the open method of physical violence, whereas he did it by the method of secret violation of the constitution and of the principles of British government institutions.
Now, ladies and gentlemen, I doubt if you begin to appreciate how serious has been that usurpation. If it was only that Mr. Meighen had spent hundreds of millions of dollars that would not be so bad. If it was only that he had passed a number of acts of parliament that could be repealed again as soon as parliament is again in session, that would not be so bad, but he has taken over a vast railway system, on terms which he alone in secret session determined were to govern this country for an indefinite period to come. He has established a merchant marine comprising some seventy ships in all, without any act of parliament authorizing him to do so. He has made very far-reaching changes involving this country in great expenses for years to come. Above all, he has been filling the offices of this country, the judgeships, the senatorships, lieutenant-governorships, and the like, with men of his own method of thinking, and his own type, which means that for years to come so far as the making and the administration of laws is concerned in this country all progressive and liberal thought will suffer a check, the like of which has not been seen for years past.
WHEN I hear my friends talking of the need of a progressive party for progressive legislation, I wonder if they know the principles of government, where all bills have to pass through two houses of parliament before they become law. Do you think that the gentlemen whom Mr. Meighen has appointed during the past months or the previous months to the senate are the kind of men who will help to pass any progressive measure?
There is something that we should stop and think over.
Instead of dividing Liberal thought, every man who loves liberty should stand side by side in the name of liberty to fight for the rights of the people in the name of democratic Liberalism.
The inhabitants know only ten or a dozen words in the English language. One has only to go through parts of British Columbia to find out to what an extent the whites there are being crowded for supremacy. Although we have no figures, it would be our guess that 50 per cent of the business houses in British Columbia's best centers are in the hands of foreigners. The Chinese control the eating houses, and they likewise control all the best sections of the truck gardening
business.
On top of this there is the problem of the Hindu. He does not mix with the Canadian, and he cannot bring his wife and family over here; on the other hand, we are free to go and settle in his country, although few of us care to do so.
It is a problem that is peculiar to British Columbia, although the government of that province has not the constitutional authority to deal with such a matter. Britain's policy in the Far East is very much involved in the question, and the agitators who are always ready for something on which to work in stirring up trouble in India, have not lost the opportunity to make as much capital as possible out of the trouble that the Hindu has had in getting a footing in the Province of British Columbia, which is part of the British Empire.

A Problem for B. C.

Although not within the province of the conference at Washington, Canada has a few international problems of her own that are not settled, and one of them is the Asiatic question in British Columbia. Of late months we have heard very little of it, but the question has never been settled, and still remains as the source from which a whole lot of trouble may come under very little pressure.
One of the most urgent features is the treatment of natives of India who have made their way to British Columbia. Many of these men are working in the lumber camps, but not in the mines, because the miners' union does not permit. The fact of their being in British Columbia becomes a problem only because they can claim to be members of the British Empire through their citizenship in India. Were they from any other nation their regulation would be a much simpler matter.
Canadian citizenship cannot assimilate them in the West. It cannot begin to assimilate much of the foreign settlement planting that has been done in recent years in that section of the Dominion. There are great blocks of country where the English language is of very little use; there are plenty of mines where the great majority of the

READ YOUR CHARACTER

(By Digby Phillips.)
NO. 37—LOVE OF LIFE.
You've probably heard of so-called bump of aggressiveness, which lies back of the ear. Well, the bump of aggressiveness has nothing to do with the bump denoting love of life.
This backhanded introduction to the latter has a reason. As a matter of fact you're likely to confuse the two bumps if you're not careful. For the prominence denoting love of life lies back of the ear a bit also. But it is below the bump of aggressiveness. If you are looking at the left side of a person's head this bump is, so to speak, directly "southeast" of the ear.
Its indication in a general sense is that of vitality and organic energy, but a distinction must be made between its significance and the significance of certain other purely physical characteristics of vitality.
In the more specific sense this bump indicates a tendency toward vitality rather than the vitality itself. And more than this, it has an indication precisely described by the heading of this article.
People who have this bump strongly developed not only have a predisposition toward physical vitality, even when disease or accident or even congenital causes discount it, but they have that mental and conscious tendency to cling to life, to fight for life to the last gasp. These are the people you read about and sometimes know, whose will power pulls them through sicknesses to which they would otherwise succumb.
On the other hand, medical and hospital records show that in the vast majority of suicides this bump is either under-developed or completely lacking.

CLEANLINESS
BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.
CLEANLINESS is always the best chance of avoiding infections. The Japanese for a long time have had that appearance to be a very curious custom, but what since has been proved highly scientific. It is that of requiring their soldiers to bath before going into battle.
Their lead has been more or less followed by western nations.
Clean bodies and clean clothes, it has been found, protect the soldiers from lockjaw and other infections that often follow wounds.
Bathing often and well is important for cleanliness. The face, the face and finger nails should be kept clean always, especially before meals. Any small cut or crack in the skin or mucous membrane—the material that lines internal cavities of the body, such as the mouth and nose—may let in germs when the spot is dirty or is touched by dirty hands.
This is the reason why surgeons and physicians are so careful about their own personal cleanliness and that of their attendants, patients and instruments.
The need of cleanliness is particularly great for those who work in factories, mines and other places where dirt is likely to be carried to the mouth by the hands.
Probably many diseases get a foothold in this way without the victim realizing in the least that they were due to his carelessness and lack of cleanliness.
Shaking hands when the hands are soiled, probably spreads disease very considerably.
Here, as elsewhere, esthetics and health go hand in hand. A person who does not bathe daily is pretty certain to carry on his skin some perspiration which, while he may be unaware of it, gives forth an offensive odor.
Cleanliness is promoted by perspiring prior to bathing. Everyone knows the exhalation which follows a healthy perspiration. Of course, the most beneficial method of securing perspiration is the method applied to the trotting horse—vigorous exercise. In fact, one of the benefits of exercise is perspiration.
When a person cannot or will not take exercise, perspiration can be induced by hot baths. Such extreme measures ought, however, to be taken too often. How often will depend on the corpulence and other circumstances of each individual.
Sweating may be overdone, and should never be pushed to the extent of exhaustion. The function of the skin in removing waste from the body is much less important than formerly supposed.

WOMAN DROWNS IN GRAND RIVER
Mrs. Charles Ahrens of Kitchener Upset From Rowboat.

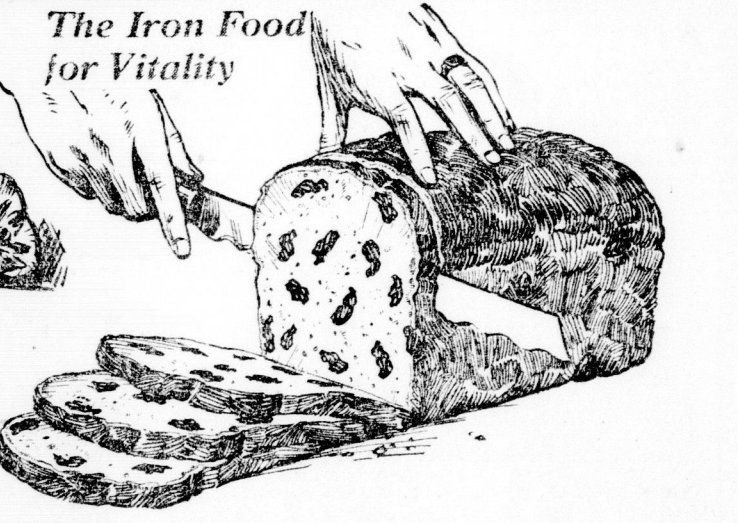

[Special to The Advertiser.]
KITCHENER, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Charles Ahrens was drowned today near Freeport, while attempting to cross the Grand River in a boat.
Mrs. Ahrens rowed down the river to do some work about her summer cottage, and to close it up for the winter. She had finished her work and was going across to a farmhouse when the accident occurred.
The body was recovered and the police chief of Kitchener was called. The exact cause of the accident were not ascertained, but it is thought that an inquest will not be necessary.

CALL FOR RECRUITS FOR ASSOCIATION

"To Enlarge Interest," Aim of Local Y. W. C. A.

A big membership enrollment campaign for early in the new year is the cherished plan of the board of the Young Women's Christian Association, touched upon at the November meeting held in the King street residence, "Lenmore," on Wednesday afternoon.

Speaking to The Advertiser with regard to the objective of the campaign, president, Mrs. C. B. King, said: "Our aim is to enlarge the work of the Y. W. C. A. and to enlarge interest in it and knowledge of it. In order to go forward, as we feel we must, we will require to have the backing and interest of a large body of the girlhood and womanhood of the city. Our industrial department, which has flourished in a wonderful way, is already cramped for lack of better facilities. Clubs have been organized to the extent of the capacity of 'Lenmore.' If more business girls are to have an opportunity to enroll in groups and enjoy the educational and social opportunities which we must have more room. The problem of accommodation faces us in the immediate future."

Encouraging reports were presented from various departments at the meeting, especially with regard to the Federation of Girls' Clubs, the Girls' Canadian Club, the physical culture classes and the activities of the younger girls.

Owing to the fact that the Y. W. C. A. world's week of prayer is being observed by the association with sister organizations around the globe, special reference was made to this in the devotional hour, which preceded the meeting conducted by Miss J. Moore, convener of the religious work committee. Miss Moore gave an illuminating little review of what the Y. W. C. A. is doing around the world.

Miss Moore and Miss Kingsmill were appointed to represent the board on the Religious Educational Council of London.

The December meeting of the board will be held on the 14th, instead of the 21st.

"MARRIAGE HAS BEEN ARRANGED"

Suit's one-act play, "A Marriage Has Been Arranged," is one of the most interesting features promised for the November meeting of the Drama League, next Monday evening, Nov. 21, at 8:15 o'clock in the Ryerson School auditorium. The cast calls for two people, Lt. Col. J. H. Lynne-Evans, appearing with Mrs. Lynne-Evans and taking the place of Mr. Charles R. Hunt, who is ill, at an eleven-hour notice.

Mr. Edward H. Robins of the Robins Players, Toronto, will be a guest of the occasion and deliver a short address. In addition, there will be numbers by a trio composed of Mrs. Harry Carson, violin; Rev. G. Q. Warner, cello, and Miss Hilda Hickey, a group of songs by Mrs. W. D. Macdonnell and piano solos by Mr. Bateman-Edwards.

MOTHERS' CLUB HEARS INSPECTOR V. K. GREER

V. K. Greer, who has been recently appointed senior inspector of schools, addressed the Victoria Mothers' Club at the November meeting on Tuesday evening. The address was particularly interesting, the subject being "What We Owe To Our Children and What They Owe To Us."

A short business meeting followed, after which Mr. Christian sang two numbers, and several interesting readings were given by Miss Nan Killman.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS. The Twins Go A-Hunting

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

The first persons they met were Puffy Porpoise and his wife. Well, Nick and Nancy started off to find out where the new island was. They rode Curly, the sea-horse, as Cap'n Pennywinkle said he could spare him, besides he was afraid something might happen to their Green Shoes. They started north, and the first persons they met were Puffy Porpoise and his wife, whistling for joy. Why, I don't know, but of all the joyful people you ever saw, porpoises are the most joyful. They leaped and bounded for quite a while before they would stay still enough to listen to what the Twins were saying, or rather what they were asking.

"Island?" exclaimed Puffy Porpoise. "I haven't seen an island for a blue moon, and what's more, I don't want to see one—not for a yellow moon, nor a red moon, nor yet a green one."

"Why?" asked the Twins, the girls, and what do you think—one old fellow knew.

Confessions of a Movie Star

CHAPTER 23.—TWO HEROES COME TO MY RESCUE.

The whistle of a meadow lark in a city fog at midnight must have startled more than one passerby, must have made some of them smile.

The quick beat of running feet assured me that my strange S. O. S. had been heard. And because the unexpected often becomes the expected, out of the mist came Dick Barnes! And at his heels came Claisy Sheldon!

They are athletes, Claisy, tall, thin and powerful, Dick, short, square and more powerful. Naturally my abductors were into their auto and off, and lost in the fog before Dick had picked me up from the pavement where I had been violently thrown.

Motherdear had kept one of the marauders occupied. When the danger was over she shook like a fever victim. Perhaps her shaken nerves, perhaps the darkness of the night, prevented her from recognizing Jimmy.

After the rescue he left us with Claisy while he hunted up a taxi for us. Then he departed as if he wished to avoid our gratitude. Claisy escorted us to our home.

Dick did not wish to meet Motherdear.

I couldn't bear to have a secret from her, but the secret was Dick's, not mine. Moreover, I felt sure Motherdear would be as confused as I was about Jimmy's conduct. So—why bother her?

Motherdear had me watched for by plainclothesmen—to my disgust.

McMasters came to the studios next morning and commended me with an odd smile. Dick Barnes did not come near, except to ask if I or my mother had suffered from the shock.

But Claisy came whenever he perceived an opening and stayed whenever he came.

Once more he announced that he wasn't fit to marry me, but neither was any other man, and since I certainly needed a strong man in the family he would like to be it!

And once more I told him frankly that I didn't see any sense in getting married, although it might be awfully handy to have an athlete to depend upon in emergencies.

"Why are you such a little cynic, May?"

"Because I've learned that love passes. Ask any of the older women you know."

"I don't need to! I've found out for myself. I—I've been fooled and I've pretended, as other men do. Let me tell you—I've deceived myself. I was serious something always happened to break up the affair. At first I blamed the girl always. I wasn't fair. I've done some thinking since I met you, little girl. You—you're so true, you, little girl. You—you're so true. Poetry sticks in my mind, you know. I know one little line that describes you exactly. It's like a motif from an opera. Whenever I see you I recall it."

"I will be true—for there are those who trust me."

"That's you, little girl."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS.

The Twins Go A-Hunting

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

The first persons they met were Puffy Porpoise and his wife. Well, Nick and Nancy started off to find out where the new island was. They rode Curly, the sea-horse, as Cap'n Pennywinkle said he could spare him, besides he was afraid something might happen to their Green Shoes. They started north, and the first persons they met were Puffy Porpoise and his wife, whistling for joy. Why, I don't know, but of all the joyful people you ever saw, porpoises are the most joyful. They leaped and bounded for quite a while before they would stay still enough to listen to what the Twins were saying, or rather what they were asking.

"Island?" exclaimed Puffy Porpoise. "I haven't seen an island for a blue moon, and what's more, I don't want to see one—not for a yellow moon, nor a red moon, nor yet a green one."

"Why?" asked the Twins, the girls, and what do you think—one old fellow knew.

Have You a "Bird" of a Comb?

BY MARIAN HALE.
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A bird of a comb—is no slang expression these days.

When you see the newest things in combs you will admit that the birds of the forest have very little on the fashionable woman when it comes to gray-plumaged crests.

Not content with birds of paradise, aigrettes and drooping willow plumes for evening head-dresses, fashion decrees that breasts of birds be utilized in real combs.

These feather hair ornaments remind one of the fine work done by South American Indians.

The comb shape is retained in its varied form, ranging from the old-fashioned shellback to the heart shapes, circles, triangles. All the colors of birdland are adapted.

The pheasant gives a lovely and colorful effect. Bright red breasts with designs in black worked in—gay blue with contrasting colors—peacock hues—they are all utilized most effectively.

Griffin acted as best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a cane, ring, to the best man, a tie pin. After the ceremony a dainty wedding supper was served, only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom being present. Mr. and Mrs. Owen will reside in London.

HARDING—CARROTHERS.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Carrothers, 507 Ontario street, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday, Nov. 15, when their eldest daughter, Reta Liella, was married to Mr. L. Ernest Harding, son of Mr. T. E. Harding of St. Thomas, Rev. E. A. Thomson officiating. At 6 o'clock to the strains of Lehigh's Bridal Chorus, played by the bride's sister, Miss Alma Carrothers, the bride entered the drawing-room, with her father. The ceremony was performed beneath a canopy of greenery and mums, backed with stately palms and ferns. Very sweet and girlish was the bride, in her wedding gown of ivory satin, with French tulle of sequins and wearing a bridal veil, with coronet of orange blossoms, and carrying a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses. Miss Edith Nettleton was her sister's bridesmaid, and wore a pretty navy blue gown and carried a large bouquet of pink roses. Mr. E.

OWEN—NETTLETON.
A pretty wedding took place in Lucknow, Ont., on Wednesday, Nov. 15th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nettleton, Rathmine street, when their eldest daughter, Frances M., was married to Mr. James A. Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Owen, Marmora street. Rev. R. J. McCormick officiating. The young bride looked charming in her gown of white crepe de chine, and carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Arthur Brickenden welcomed many callers at her lovely home in Dundas street on Wednesday afternoon. The spacious rooms were gay with flowers, the reception room decked with pink mums in tall baskets, while the dining room was aglow with silver baskets. Mrs. Brickenden received her guests wearing a graceful gown of navy canton crepe heavily beaded and a corsage of Opheelia roses. She was assisted by Mrs. H. R. Clewes of St. John, N. B., nee Sylvia Stockton and Mrs. Robert Durst. Mrs. Clewes was gowned in black silk lace and wore a corsage of Richmond roses, while Mrs. Durst wore a becoming gown of navy blue, embroidered in henna, and a corsage of Sunset roses. The tea table, done in lace and silver and centered with mums arranged in a low silver basket, was presided over by Mrs. Kenneth Greene, gowned in black canton crepe, embroidered in American Beauty, and wearing a black lace hat and a corsage of Sunset roses, and Mrs. D. C. McFarlane, wearing a pretty frock of canton crepe, a black hat and Richmond roses. Mrs. Fred Brickenden, becomingly gowned in black with a corsage of Richmond roses, ushered the many guests to the tea-room. Says We Ignore Our Own Authors

Inspector V. K. Greer Calls Them
"One and Strongest Canadian-izing Factor."

Inspector V. K. Greer has sent out a circular to the principals and teachers of the public schools suggesting to them that occasion be taken during Canadian Authors' Week, Nov. 20-26 to direct the attention of pupils, and parents, if possible, to Canadian writers and their books. Pupils might be encouraged, he states, to find out all they can about Canadian books and writers, and to bring their respective contributions of information to the class room for the benefit of all.

"As Canadians," says Mr. Greer in his circular,

"We have been modest in our appreciation of our own literature. In fact we have cultivated the habit of looking outside of our own boundaries for our reading. It is not sufficiently well known that we have a Canadian School of Literature and Art of high merit; and through lack of interest and patriotism have been ignoring a very considerable and noteworthy company of literary men and women in our own land. These writers have been seeking recognition, but have not yet obtained it fully from their own countrymen. They may become lost to us through being forced to seek recognition outside Canada.

"With an increasing foreign population and the prospect of greater and more rapid increases from foreign lands, our assimilating powers will be taxed to the utmost. The one and strongest Canadianizing factor, viz., the Canadian author, must not be lost to our own services. Canadian authors must be encouraged to express Canadian character and Canadian ideals.

"To these ends the Canadian people must be instructed—hence the necessity for and the value of a Canadian Authors' Week as a means of arousing interest."

cream radium lace and fringe. She wore a corsage of Columbia roses. Mr. John Brumpton was best man. During the signing of the register, Miss Hazel Stone sang, "The Crown," accompanied by the groom's sister, Mrs. A. V. D. Ball. The bride's mother wore a pretty gown of black satin with overdress of black lace and a corsage of violets. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome fur coat, to the bridesmaid, pearl earrings; to the best man, a set of gold cuff-links; to the pianist, a ring, and to the soloist and accompanist, pieces of ivory. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding supper was served, the dining-room being attractively decorated in pink and white. The table was decked with tiny rose-buds, and centered with the bride's cake, which was surrounded by roses. Mr. and Mrs. Harding left on a honeymoon to Detroit and Cincinnati, the bride traveling in a frock of turquoise chiffon velvet, trimmed with silver, a large hat to match and a fur coat.

ST. JEROMES LOSE FINAL TO GALT

Kitchener Students Lead To Within Five Minutes of Time.

GALT, Nov. 16.—Galt's intermediate rugby team today won their group when they beat St. Jerome's College of Kitchener, 16-4. Both teams entered today's play-off game on even terms, and for a long time it looked as if the college would win, as they led, 6-5, with five minutes to go, and then Galt scored a touch down.

A large crowd of spectators for a mid-week game, including fans from Dundas, Hamilton, Galt, and Kitchener, was on hand. The match was a hard-fought one, with the visitors having decidedly the best of the play for the first half. Their six points were the result of a Galt fumble in the first quarter. The field in spots covered with snow was hard, and the footing bad, and the ball after a short time in play became slippery and hard to hold, with the result that the Galt players were often fumbled out of the game.

The visitors' line played a strong game, tackling in fine style, with Ted Ryan, their half, the star, making some beautiful runs. The post did not show their usual speed, and were worst offenders in fumbling. The punting of the Galt players was very good, and a Goldie featured the locals' play. The score by periods was 6-0, 6-1, 6-2 and 10-4.

Saints Get Touch.
After Galt had recovered the pigskin at their 25-yard line they lost it when McCulloch passed. Then Ryan got through an opening and advanced to within a few feet of the line. On the first down Harrington converted. Outplayed on the line at this stage, the locals started a kicking game, and finally scored a point. McCulloch missed a chance for a good kick, but later Galt got in position to add three points, and this time McCulloch passed. Then Ryan got the ball went between the bars. With only one point down the locals still continued to carry the play, and the students to save their lead kicked the ball out of their territory on every chance. On one of Ryan's punts, McCulloch let the ball roll by him, and upon recovery immediately got rid of it, and before a Kitchener player could get it he was tackled, and he kicked it over his line. Then one of the Kitchener halves seeing two Galt men coming to tackle tried to kick the ball over the dead line, but it was blocked by Ryan, and he grabbed the pigskin within a foot or two of the chalk mark for the winning touch.

Officials Good.
Work of Officials Reg Denehy and Bailey of Toronto was faultless. They made both teams play the game within a minute, and were strict on off-sides. Just who Galt will meet now is not known, but it is expected they will be drawn against them in the semi-finals.

The Teams:
St. Jerome's: Galt, Bell, Ryan, Halves, Todd, Holly, McCulloch, Parker, Tarvel, Quarter, Gaskin, Puntation, Centre, Hill, McBride, Insides, Thompson, Breen, Middle, Webster, Furlong, Middle, Cross, Wingle, Outside, Goldie, Yanstone, Outside, Gardiner, J. A. Woodcroft, Spares, H. Gross, H. Smith, Keachie, Montague, Kress, Brunk, Referee, R. Degruy, Toronto, Umpire—Bailey, Toronto.

ENDORSES SCHOOL OF INDUSTRY PLAN

Hon. R. H. Grant Impressed
by Mrs. Thomson's Plea.

As president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the G. W. Y. A., Mrs. J. F. Thomson waited on the minister of education, Hon. R. H. Grant, on Wednesday evening, to lay before him the cases of boys in London who had been sentenced as criminals for joy riding in other people's cars, using these as an argument for the establishment of government industrial schools in which such boys might have a chance "to work out their own salvation."

"Some of the boys who do these things," stated Mrs. Thomson, "are defective mentally or physically. Many are merely mischievous or thoughtless. Some of them got out of control while their fathers were away at the war and need only firm guidance to bring out the good that is in them. It is nothing short of a crime that they should be placed where they are in danger of coming under criminal influence at a most impressionable age. In doing this kind of thing, we in Canada are breeding and organizing criminals."

According to Mrs. Thomson, Mr. Grant agreed with her in the main, stating that such cases at the present time do not come under his department. He had been giving consideration for the past twelve months to some such project and would continue to do so until some plan was found that was feasible. He impressed that such schools should be under the government's control, expressing approval of Mrs. Thomson's statement that in the main part of the time should be given to the regular school subjects, and part of the time to training for a trade.

STANDARD DRUG ENDS 8TH YEAR OF SUCCESS

Father Time was moved forward another notch, and the eighth and most successful year of its business. The Standard Drug stores in London. The first store was opened at 252 Dundas street, Nov. 14, 1913. It proved successful, and a second store at 244 Richmond street was opened to accommodate the transient trade. London kept on growing, and it was found necessary to open another store at 168 Dundas street, and a little later a fourth store at 864 Dundas street, and then one in St. Thomas. The next move necessitated opening a warehouse and central distributing office in the Greene-Swift building.

This anniversary the company has announced a big sale for this week, and will distribute many samples to customers.

The Standard Drug Stores will further extend the opening of a store in Woodstock shortly. The growth of this chain of stores is credited by the management to policy of "large turnover and small profit" adopted at the outset.

FREE WOMAN IN MURDER CASE

Orangeville Jurors Find Mrs.
Mabel Lee Not Guilty of Poisoning Husband.

ORANGEVILLE, Ont., Nov. 16.—Mrs. Mabel Lee, charged with the murder of her husband, Robert Lee, of Rosemont, by administering poison, was found not guilty late tonight by a jury under Justice Latchford, at the Dufferin County fall assizes.

Dr. S. T. White stated, among the mass of medical evidence presented to the jury, that the poison the accused woman is alleged to have purchased would dissolve in an eight-ounce bottle of medicine only to the extent of one-half grain.

Mrs. Norman Palmer, storekeeper at Rosemont, 20 miles from Orangeville, said she was awakened on the morning of Aug. 22 by Mrs. Lee calling: "Someone has been in the house and put poison in Robert's medicine! Come quickly!"

"Poisoned, I am," said Lee, when the neighbors arrived.

E. P. Schell, druggist at Allison, produced an entry in his poison book, which read: "Feb. 7, 1921, Mrs. Mabel Lee, poison, purpose mine, signature Mrs. Mabel Lee, Rosemont."

J. E. A. White, Shelburne, druggist, produced a receipt of poison being bought at various times by Mrs. Lee.

Medical evidence followed in which half a dozen practitioners agreed that there was not a shadow of a doubt in their minds that Robert Lee came to his death by poisoning.

Professor M. J. Rogers of the University of Toronto, was the first witness called at the session.

"Did you find any traces of poison in the viscera in question?"

"Did you find anything in the stomach?"

"About a fluid ounce of material; it was practically empty."

"Would you be surprised under similar circumstances if you did not find it?"

C. R. McKeown, K.C., for the prisoner—"Would it make any difference whether poison or a poisonous tincture were taken?"

"No."

"Was there anything in the medicine prescribed for Robert Lee that could be harmful?"

Dr. H. Henry, recalled—"Nothing."

Mr. McKeown—"You are presuming that the medicine was made up as Dr. Cunningham said it was?"

"Yes."

In the afternoon of Aug. 23, the day after the death, I was at the Lee home," said John Lee, brother of Robert Lee, deceased. "The prisoner asked me if I would drive her to Orangeville to see about her insurance and place her case in the hands of a lawyer. I refused to take her."

TRAIL RANGERS OF CITY CO-OPERATE

Boys' Council Report Clean-Up Campaign Great Success.

The boys' council of the Y. M. C. A. met in the "Y" building Wednesday evening, with Allan Kay, mayor of the council, in the chair. Many important questions were discussed pertaining to the winter program of the council. The report of the committee in charge of the community service campaign recently completed was read. Some of the boys reported that the snow on the last day of the campaign greatly hindered their thorough inspection of all the backyards in the city. The campaign, however, was reported as being a complete success.

Upon a motion made by Harry Loylan, and seconded by Dave Finlayson, the boys' council of the Y. M. C. A. requested the boys' work board to make arrangements for a Trail Ranger convocation for all boys in the city between 11 and 15 years of age. The convocation will take place at an early date.

W. D. Beamer, chairman of the boys' work board, explained the co-operative basis of carrying on all city activities for the Tuxis and Trail Ranger groups.

G. E. T. Martin, chairman of the Canadian standard efficiency training promotion committee, was introduced to the council. He offered the services of his committee to the boys' council to assist them in opening up new groups in the few churches left in the city that have not an organized boys' program.

Thus, of this family of four, father, mother and daughter will be in Victoria Hospital at the same time, the father having already been there for about two years, and the grand-daughter will be cared for in the shelter.

The Aid Street Methodist Church benevolent fund, with the assistance of neighbors, has been taking care of the family for some time, paying the interest on the mortgage on the home, insurance, and supplying food. One neighbor has agreed to supply their next coal order. However, the burden is getting heavy, with the approach of winter, and the city has been asked to help.

A. M. Hunt declares that the situation of the family is pathetic. The city has been asked to remit the third installment of the taxes on the Swartz home. Mrs. Swartz met the first one by going out to work.

W. O. ENGINEERS FORM A BRANCH

Elect Officers at Meeting and Banquet at Tecumseh House.

LONDON A CENTER

Members of the engineering fraternity of London, St. Thomas and Woodstock met at the Tecumseh House Wednesday evening for the purpose of forming a branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada in London.

The meeting was enthusiastic about 47 being present, representing nearly every branch of engineering work. Fraser S. Keith, of Montreal, secretary of the Institute, presided.

W. F. McLaren, secretary of the Hamilton branch, sent a message of greetings to the members of the London branch.

The toast to the city of London, Chamber of Commerce and the press was proposed by Col. Ibbotson Leonard.

The Ald. John Bridge, representing the mayor in responding to the toast to the city, and as a member of the Chamber of Commerce represented that body.

In proposing the toast Col. Leonard stated that he would like to add to the list by reason of it being so closely related to London. In speaking of the engineering profession he stated that he did not believe that the majority of the people had any conception of the exact meaning of the word "engineers." He stated that the engineering profession played a large part in the success of any municipality, country or nation.

In replying to the toast, Ald. John Bridge stated that all good things came to the city of London, if they have not already come. "The engineering profession in the past has given a great deal to this city."

London a Center.

"London is becoming more and more the center for Western Ontario. In speaking of the chamber of commerce, he said that that body has had a great deal of influence in making London the center where many activities throughout the province are organized. In concluding his remarks, he said that the city of London feel it a honor to be represented at the organization meeting of the London branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada."

Charles Balder, county engineer, deplored the fact that there was feeling of jealousy between the country and the city people. This state of affairs must be overcome, he stated.

Fraser S. Keith, in opening his address, stated that he did not expect to see so many engineers present and that he was assured that the branch was the baby branch of the organization, but you are not going to be the smallest. This will be one of the most influential branches in Canada," he said.

There are now branches of the Institute of Engineers from Sydney to Victoria and the branches are composed of more than 5,000 members, five years ago there were very few branches in the east and now there are branches in every place of any size.

The Objects.

The objects of the Institute, as outlined by Mr. Keith, are: To facilitate the acquaintance and interchange of professional knowledge among its members; to promote their professional interests; to encourage original research; to develop and maintain high standards in the engineering profession, and to enhance the usefulness of the profession to the public.

In referring to the meetings, Mr. Keith stated that there must be a social atmosphere along with the discussion of technical subjects. To hold the interest of the younger members, this was absolutely necessary. The social atmosphere has now been introduced into all the branches of the Institute.

Speaking of the manner in which the Institute was growing, he said that where there was one active member five years ago there are now 25.

New Code of Ethics.

"It has been brought in, as soon as this is done it will place the profession on a higher plane," stated Mr. Keith.

OPPOSE STREET SHOWS COMING INTO CANADA

National Council of Women Claims They Have Demoralizing Effect.

MANY RESOLUTIONS

[Special to The Advertiser.]
WOODSTOCK, Nov. 16.—At the closing business session this afternoon of the executive of the National Council of Women many recommendations were put through which will be passed on to the general meeting of the council which will be held in West Algoma in June next.

The executive backed the recommendation from the Brantford Chamber of Commerce, that street and traveling shows be prohibited from entering Canada. The members freely expressed the opinion that such shows have a demoralizing effect, and that young boys and girls spend much money foolishly at these street fairs. Undesirable films came in for censure, and the members were asked to make a united effort to have the undesirable films weeded out.

The question of having women on juries with the same exemptions as the men, was passed without discussion. Provincial aid in the way of education was advocated for new arrivals in this country. The Kitchener delegate pointed out the I. O. D. E. in that city had opened a school for non-speaking English, and the results have proved very satisfactory.

Objectionable Books.
Miss Joan Arnold of Toronto drew the executive's attention to the fact that much objectionable literature from Hamburg, Germany, was finding its way into Canada. This delegate also suggested that the women make more persistent demands for more British films. She claimed that as long as the women of Toronto had pressed for these they had received British films, which were cleaner and better, but as soon as their demands were allowed to lag theatre managers ceased to supply the films.

Miss Melver urged the delegates to take into consideration the economic conditions of the country when they were striving to observe economy in the home. She strongly advised buying Canadian-made goods.

At the noon luncheon Edgar Middleton, of the Canadian Authors' Association, made a plea for more buying of the works of Canadian authors' works. At the morning session a resolution was passed conceding to the individual members the right to take active part in political campaigns, on the understanding that they did so on their own individuality and not because of their official position.

The further advancing of telephone rates was also protested against, and the economic position of the wife in the home was touched on, with a suggestion that this be defined and an income provided for wives.

GLADIOLUS SOCIETY ELECTS EXECUTIVE

Province-Wide Representation Appoints Dr. Bennett President.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 16.—With a full list of officers elected and a board of twelve directors, representing all parts of the province, an Ontario Gladiolus Society was formed here Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. F. E. Bennett, promoter of the organization and who occupied the chair during the organization, was unanimously elected president. The other officers are: Vice-president, William Brown of Elora; Prof. W. Crow, Guelph; J. E. Brown, Kingsville; W. E. Valney, Ottawa; secretary-treasurer, Rev. Perry S. Dobson, St. Thomas; and second vice-president, C. W. Ward of St. Thomas.

Five of the directors, including two women, were chosen from St. Thomas, while the others were elected so that all sections of the province as far as possible would be represented. They are: St. Thomas, A. P. Conley, C. C. Trull, L. H. Caughell, Mrs. S. Baker and Mrs. G. Symington; Sarnia, William Hartley; London, Frank Woods; Brantford, T. W. Dugan; Toronto, James Wallace; Georgetown, Prof. Hunt; Hamilton, Dr. Lester; Barrie, J. H. Bennett. Miss E. Lewis of St. Thomas will conduct the publicity.

Popularize Plant.
The purpose of the society will be to befriended the beautiful flower, which gives the name to the society. No efforts will be spared to popularize the plant in all parts of the province.

The society will be careful not to conflict with the American Gladiolus Society, which held a convention here last year and which included the whole of Canada in its activities. Rather, it is the intention of the provincial society, according to its president, to co-operate always with the large organization and, if possible, to affiliate with it. It will, however, have no connection with other horticultural societies throughout the province.

Efforts are to be made to form local branches or districts to further the work of the society.

The meeting on Wednesday was not a large one but was fairly representative and enthusiastic. A score or more of letters have been received from various points as far east as Ottawa endorsing the idea and promising the fullest support. Twenty from Guelph have already signified their intention of joining. Several applications have already been received.

The membership fee, by which the society will be financially supported, will be fixed by the executive, but it is not thought that it will exceed $2.

Efforts are to be made to have official trial grounds placed in St. Thomas and the society will be invited to hold its first convention here.

M. C. R. AGREES TO INCREASE IN ASSESSMENT

St. Thomas City Official Has Conference With Company's Representatives.

SET AT $825,000

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 16.—After a conference lasting all Wednesday afternoon between officials of the M. C. R. and the members of the city council in special session, the assessment of the M. C. R. in this city was placed at $825,000. The agreement was made to cover the next five years.

Some time ago Assessment Commissioner Freck fixed the amount at nearly $900,000, but this was subsequently reduced somewhat by the city council. One month ago the council agreed that the assessment on the company's property should be placed at $850,000, an increase of nearly $400,000 over the assessment of 1916, when the last agreement was made.

The company claimed that the figure was too high, and so after considerable negotiation by mail, the conference of Wednesday was agreed upon.

Arguments Advanced.
Representatives of the M. C. R. claimed at the meeting that the depreciation of the company's buildings should be taken into consideration, and also expressed the opinion that the city should consider that much of the property was unproductive. Several other arguments were advanced as well.

In defending the increase in the assessment, Assessment Commissioner Freck and City Treasurer S. O. Perry submitted comparative figures on corresponding increases made on other property in the city for 1912, 1916 and 1921. In 1912 the total assessment of land and buildings was $7,662,120. In 1916 the total assessment was $10,054,156, a 30 per cent increase. In 1921 the assessment was $14,124,085, an increase of 40 per cent over 1916, and 85 per cent over 1912.

The committee argued that the M. C. R. increase is no greater than that made in other property in the city.

Make Compromise.
In the end an amicable agreement was reached, when a compromise was made. Both sides expressed satisfaction at the outcome of the conference. Representing the company were: General Superintendent McKee, Walter Flynn and six other officials, including solicitors and Master Mechanic E. R. Welb.

With gargles or sprays it is impossible to keep a sore throat under anything like continuous treatment. With Formamint, it makes no difference where you are—at work, in crowded car, shop, theatre or church—you can dissolve one of these delicious, almost candy-like tablets in your mouth once an hour or so. An effective yet harmless antiseptic is released and, carried by the saliva, continuously bathes the entire lining of the mouth and throat, checks germ growth, and gives the sore, infected tissues chance to heal.

Formamint Tablets used when especially exposed to infection reduce your danger of catching sore throats, and even influenza, from others.

Children can—and should—use them freely, as defence against throat affections and influenza which spread so readily in congested school-rooms.

CANDIDATES IN ELGIN COUNTY GETTING BUSY

Liberal Standard-Bearers Full Week's Work Before Them.

BOTH RIDINGS STIRRED

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 16.—With each party in two ridings of West Elgin either in the midst of a public campaign or about to start one, the political pot in the county has reached the boiling point.

Perhaps the candidate who is most visibly occupied in this respect at the present time is William Tolmie, Liberal flag-bearer in the west riding.

By Friday night Mr. Tolmie will have spoken on four consecutive nights. At Dutton Tuesday he was supported by Major H. Tolmie, M.L.A., Windsor; West Lorne, Wednesday; Fingal, Thursday; and Rodney, Friday.

Mr. Tolmie's committee in this city is delighted over the fact that Major Tolmie has promised to speak in St. Thomas some night soon in support of his namesake, who incidentally, is of no relation. Major Tolmie is a splendid speaker and is expected to prove a great attraction.

Has Busy Week.

In East Elgin, Judge Colter, the Liberal candidate, has a busy week mapped out. Wednesday night he held a house meeting south of Ashter and tonight he will hold a similar one east of that town. He will address a public meeting in Port Stanley Friday and the people of Sparta on Saturday.

Warden Hugh McKillop, Conservative leader in West Elgin, is scheduled to arrive in St. Thomas today and will remain till the end of the week.

On Monday night at Dutton Mr. McKillop will speak and on Nov. 28, M. M. Macbride, M.L.A. of Brantford, will speak in his behalf.

A. E. Hookway, Labor-Farmer candidate in the same riding, spoke in Fingal Wednesday and has several other meetings scheduled.

J. L. Stansell, Government candidate in East Elgin, opens his campaign with a public meeting at Yarmouth Heights Thursday and will work westward. Mr. Stansell is devoting much of his time to a personal canvass.

S. S. McDermond, U.F.O. candidate, will open his campaign in a few days.

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—According to Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, in a statement during his visit here today:

"The course pursued by the government in respect to the Riordon Company taxes was the only course possible to protect, not the interest of the company, but the various affected interests of the country. In the first instance," he continued, "you must squeeze out all the water before making assessments. This was done throughout the country, and in regard to the Riordon Company we had our auditors working for months. As a result of their report we raised the assessment $170,000."

"Today the government is in a position to seize at any moment. The note of the company that has been referred to was taken without cognizance of the government, and does not in any way operate except as a tangible acknowledgment by the debtor company of the amount due the treasury. The company's entire indebtedness to the government is about $500,000, which is an absolutely first charge against any and all of its assets and resources. These properties are worth $45,000,000. Replies to Czezar.
"Mr. Czezar has asked how many other companies have been similarly granted leniency in the government's determination if possible to prevent any collapse of business, with resultant distress to all classes of the national community. He knows, as anyone in touch with such matters must know, that we cannot give out such information. The law provides that it may only be given to parliament. To make it public would be to undermine the foundations of business, depreciate credits and work incalculable harm. Meanwhile we are keeping close touch with the operations of these concerns and all in a position to pay are being made to pay and are paying."

"The government has been doing its utmost to get the banks to extend assistance to business during these trying times. We have asked bankers to keep the merchants going—not to press them at this juncture. And this generally is being done. On principle how could we ask the banks to adopt a principle and ourselves repudiate it in action?"

"As a result of leaving things as they are with respect to the Riordon interests, the mills are running and maintaining wages are being distributed to a very large number of working people. The company owes many millions to Canadian creditors, about $50 of these being absolutely unsecured. The secured creditors, in order that, after the government, they may get their money, and the unsecured creditors at least something if not the full amount of their claims, have postponed action on their rights to enable the company to carry on. Their claims aggregate millions as against the government's prior claim of thousands."

"Among the many unsecured creditors to whom accounts are owing are farmers and pulpwood jobbers, whose claims again aggregate much more than the total of the government's secured account. Were it not for the government's action in the premises, there would be ruthlessly wiped out, without a chance of their ever collecting a cent of the moneys due them. The government's course was the only one possible to give these people a chance to get their money. It provided the only chance for the secured creditors. The Quebec government similarly recognizes the necessities of the situation, and is carrying $555,000 worth of Riordon accounts, very largely for stamp duty that should have been paid at once. Our government, having prior and ample covering right over all others, by its action is simply allowing these people to carry on with a chance of recovery and the liquidation of all its indebtedness."

[Special to The Advertiser.]
SARNIA, Nov. 16.—Open war, it was decided, will be waged against excessive rentals and complaints against the high cost of living in Sarnia as compared with other cities, with special reference to the price of bread, at a meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce this afternoon. The trades and labor council will be asked to co-operate in the investigation.

A proposal to construct a subway under the Grand Trunk Railway tracks at the south end of Milton street was also considered, and the matter will be brought to the attention of the county council, city council and suburban roads commission.

The bandits, who are believed to have come from the United States, arrived in automobiles.

35-cent Bottle Ends all Dandruff, Stops Hair Coming Out

Ten minutes after using Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow long, strong and luxuriant. One application of Danderine makes thin, lifeless, colorless hair look youthfully bright, lustrous and just twice as abundant.

CANADIAN APPLES
ARE BEST EXHIBITOntario Growers Win Challenge Cup at London Show.

Toronto, Nov. 17.—The agent-general for Ontario, William C. Nixson, has sent to the department of agriculture some interesting particulars regarding the exhibit of Ontario apples at the Imperial Fruit Show held in London, England, Oct. 23 to Nov. 5. Mr. Nixson says there has never been such a wonderful display of apples at any exhibition previously held in Great Britain. The past season had been a very good one for apples in the old country, and the British growers had risen to the occasion with the result that the display of English grown apples was an absolute revelation to the public. Canada was well represented in the overseas section as well as in the British Empire section with large competitive entries of fruit from Ontario, British Columbia, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. The display of Ontario apples was acknowledged by experts to be one of the outstanding features of the show, and the color, size and perfect appearance of the Ontario varieties won the highest praise from experienced fruit men.

Prince Henry visited the show after it had been open a few days and the general public crowded the Crystal Palace from the first day to the last. Ontario apples won another signal triumph in the competitive classes. The Ontario Fruit Growers' Association winning the £100 challenge cup presented by the Fruit and Produce Exchange of London for the best display of points gained by any competitor in the show. In addition, Ontario entries won four first prize medals, five second-prize silver medals and one-third prize bronze medal, in addition to seven cash prizes aggregating £75 in all.

PREDICTS CHURCH
UNION IN 5 YEARS

Wheatley, Nov. 16.—Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, spent Sunday and Monday in Wheatley, where he took part in services of a special character. During the past year Dr. Chown has traveled about 100,000 miles attending to work connected with his office and on Tuesday started for British Columbia, where he has appointments in that capacity.

While in Wheatley Dr. Chown preached two sermons on Sunday in the Methodist Church in connection with the anniversary services, and on Monday night gave a resume of the situation regarding the union of the Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian churches. This union, the doctor confidently predicts, will be consummated within four or five years.

"We could actually make our city conspicuous for having good roads coming into it. Motoring throughout Canada and the United States I have noted that a sure sign of the approach of a big city was its miserable roads.

"Here is a chance for London to become a big city, noted for its good roads.

"All these roads will bring visitors into the city who will spend money here and advertise the city abroad. Every year more and more tourists come through this part of the country on their way from Niagara Falls to Detroit, and London should build her roads to meet the traffic."

eighteenth century saw the innumerable revolutions and uprisings against established order. The eighteenth century spread its declaration of the rights of man over the earth as the flag of the new era. The nineteenth century saw humanity, educational advances, enormously increased facilities for transportation, the spread of news, hitherto undreamed of mingling of the nations.

"Now, however, comes the query, 'Which century will see life?' 'Which century will recognize that life is of greater value than property, will see in and through the clay of every man and woman existent the abiding spirit of a divine dignity; will behold in each child born into the world a national asset, which by care and cultivation must be made to yield the best of its powers in individual and community influence.

Must Help Him.

"The answer is in your hands. Plutarch's wife saw visions and dreamed dreams. The women of the renaissance turned their backs upon realities, shattered bits the miserable facts of ordinary existence. The modern woman, going down into life physically, intellectually and spiritually well equipped, side by side with the modern man, must help him create a new heaven, that is a new ideal, and a new earth, that is a new social order, for the former things are passed away. We stand at the dawn of a new day.

Miss Baldwin, president of the club, was in the chair and at the close presented a request from the club to Miss Blackburn to become a member of the advisory committee. The acceptance, bringing prolonged applause. The subject of a club paper was introduced, discussion taking place with regard to a club pin. Miss Blackburn strongly advised the establishment of a "parliamentary procedure" department to train all the members in the art of presiding at meetings in case of the emergency of being made a president.

ASKS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE.

BELFAST, Nov. 16.—Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, tonight wrote from London to the leaders of the Ulster mass meeting held here in protest against an all-Ireland parliament, asking for a vote of confidence to continue the present negotiations, in the following terms:

"May I ask a simple, though momentous question? Will you support my colleagues and myself in every step we consider necessary to maintain our freedom from Sinn Féin domination, while still striving to attain an honorable peace?"

"I shall be much strengthened in the stand I am taking, as much in the interest of Great Britain as in the interest of Ulster, by an expression of your confidence and support. It appears to me that the honor, prestige and it may be, the whole future of our empire are at stake."

UNIONISTS IN CONFERENCE.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 16.—A large number of Unionist leaders, including J. Austen Chamberlain, government leader in the House of Commons, arrived here tonight to attend the conference of the Conservative party tomorrow.

Most of the leaders, who have arrived, expressed themselves as being hopeful of achieving a settlement of the dispute between the two sections of the party over the Irish negotiations, despite the apparently great differences, provided they were not compelled to make premature disclosures regarding the progress of the negotiations.

The Unionist leaders are assuring the rank and file of the party that they insist upon the complete security of the British Empire and of Ulster. They appear to be more apprehensive of aggression on the part of Andrew Bonar Law and Lord Carson, prominent Conservative leaders, than of any possible agitation by the so-called "die hards."

Prime Minister Lloyd George will watch the proceedings of the conference here from Birmingham, a seaside resort far from Southampton, where he is taking a short holiday and where he also expects to receive Ulster's reply to the government's latest communication, on which Sir James was working in London today.

10,000 RAP LLOYD GEORGE.

BELFAST, Nov. 16.—Ten thousand leaflets, in three meetings tonight, emphatically declared against the British cabinet's treatment of Ulster. Great enthusiasm was displayed. The lord mayor of Belfast, presiding over the principal meeting in the Assembly Hall, bringing prolonged applause. The subject of a club paper was introduced, discussion taking place with regard to a club pin. SARNIA, Nov. 16.—With the withdrawal of Wilfred A. A committee was appointed to draft a slate of Labor candidates to enter the aldermanic and board of education contests. Another committee was named to send out to each of the three candidates in the federal race a copy of the platform of the Labor party, with a request that each reply, stating his position on the questions contained therein.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 16.—Although the matter has been under fire for at least two months a deadlock still exists over the construction of a sanitary sewer on Malahoff street. It was expected that a settlement would be reached when the question was brought up at a special meeting of the city council Wednesday afternoon, but no solution was found.

The sewer was ordered built along the centre of the street in question by the board of health, but before it can be undertaken it must be settled by a two-thirds vote of the council. Until some agreement is reached between the members it is likely that the matter will remain in abeyance.

City Solicitor Doherty explained that this could only be brought about by getting residents along the north side to agree to assume the entire expense, but when the question was referred to the council the necessary two-thirds vote was not forthcoming.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIALPRICES REMAIN
FIRM ON MARKETLarge Supply of Potatoes Being Offered.

Despite the threatening weather, there was a fairly good showing on the local market today for most commodities.

Potatoes were plentiful, over twenty loads were offered, but sales were slow at $1.75 to $1.80 a bag. Market officials predict that the price will drop to $1.60 per bag before the day is over, as potatoes are being shipped in by car lots.

Timothy hay remains the same price as previous quotations. Dealers have orders for good clover hay, but have difficulty in filling them.

Fresh pork sold for 16c per lb. for front, and 18c per lb. for hindquarters. Butcher is slow at prices quoted. Strictly fresh eggs are easier, at 70c to 80c per dozen.

Poultry has little demand, with no change in prices.

GRAIN

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Wheat showed considerable firmness today in the early trading. Absence of any aggressive selling was largely responsible. Bulls contended that with reduced receipts and diminishing stocks, grain prices would hold up, should there be any semblance of improvement in economic conditions. Initial quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 1/4c higher, with December at $1.06 1/2, 1/4c, and May at $1.09 1/2, 1/4c, were followed by something of a setback, and then by a decided uptick all around.

Corn and oats hardened with wheat. After opening a shade to 1/4c higher for May at $0.54 1/2, 1/4c, the corn market sagged a little, but then recovered slightly.

Oats started 1/4c to 1/2c up for May at $0.37 1/2, 1/4c, and continued relatively firm.

PROVISIONS

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Provisions were easier, reflecting a down turn in values.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Butter—Lower; creamery extras, 44c.

Eggs—Lower; receipts, 3,304 cases; firsts, 50 1/2c.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Nov. 17.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Overnight announcement of an immediate cut in freight rates on agricultural products was without material effect on today's stock market.

Changes in that group were mainly technical. The Marine, preferred and common, were higher by 1/4c to 1/2c. Royal Dutch was the only active stock to show a reactionary tendency in connection with the forthcoming dividend rumors, losing 1 1/2 points. Exchange on London again

FRANCE LIKELY TO ASK TREATY

May Balk at Army Cut Because of Isolation With Berlin.

JAPAN MAY ADMIT ERROR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Members of the French delegation, commenting upon the Chinese proposals, agree that they form a suitable basis for the discussion of the whole Far Eastern question. The proposals to them, however, seem to lack definiteness, except as to principle, and it is presumed that the Chinese delegation will take an early occasion for suggesting specific settlement of such outstanding issues as Shantung, Mongolia, Manchuria and all the other disputed problems.

Premier Briand, while not saying anything respecting the Chinese project, in talking after the meeting did comment upon the general outline of his speech about the French army, which he will be prepared to deliver at an early plenary session of the conference.

"France being isolated, for a different position from the United States, Great Britain and Japan in the limitation of naval armaments. Those countries are friends, and they propose as friends among themselves to reach a reasonable and equitable restriction, each having due regard to the position of the other. France is not in such a relation to Germany. Consequently, France is bound to make such provision for her security as seems to her sufficient."

Fears German Army.
"Germany is in a situation where she can with great rapidity mobilize five or six millions of men who have had service in her armies. We must be able to put immediately in action a force adequate to delay or prevent rapid mobilization. I shall go into these questions in the address I am to make when Mr. Hughes indicates the day."

Speculation was rife tonight as to whether France would press or hint at definite assurance from Great Britain and the United States or protection against Germany, in consideration for an agreement to make a radical reduction in the size of the French army. Should she do so, those in touch with the feelings among the conferees state she will be disappointed.

The position of the United States delegation is said to be against treaty, compact or agreement, formal or informal, assuring France that the United States would go to her aid in case of outside aggression. In this stand the United States delegates are said to have received assurances of support from Great Britain, Canada and the other British dominions.

Members of the Japanese delegation declared today that they would welcome open discussions on the Far Eastern question because they wanted the world to examine Japanese policies in the Orient.

Wants to Stand Pat.
It was intimated that Japan would like to adhere to her attitude voiced at Tokyo a few months ago that questions affecting particular states be left so far as possible to direct settlement between those states, and that no efforts be made to discuss the past in connection with the general examination of the situation in the Orient.

Japan stood ready, it was insisted by

SAYS RECIPROCITY BAD FOR COUNTRY

Meighen Believes Canada Should Have Own Tariff Row.

ROSSER, Man., Nov. 16.—(By Canadian Press)—Premier Meighen's first morning meeting of his western tour and the fourth in his own constituency of Portage La Prairie was held in the assembly hall here today. Major O. W. Andrews, government candidate in Centre Winnipeg, was present. The meeting had been arranged hurriedly and the audience was consequently not very large.

The premier had heard, he said, that an effort had been made to get the people of this constituency to pledge themselves to vote against him. The reason given was that it was a farming constituency and that farmers should stand together. He considered it unfair and dishonorable for his opponents to make this effort, especially when he was unavoidably absent from this constituency as an "honest man who had supported the government." It would have been impossible for the government to retain the support of such prominent Liberals as Mr. Henderson, Hon. S. C. Newburn, Colonel Lang, and others if its course had been anything but right and just. The premier remarked on criticisms that a large percentage of the membership of parliament was composed of lawyers. All classes were welcome in parliament and he emphasized that there were a large number of farmers in the house.

The premier declared that he was opposed to reciprocity arrangements on tariff with the United States. Such arrangements were perilous when made with a country which produced a surplus of every kind of goods produced in Canada.

Canada should have her own row in tariff matters as far as the United States was concerned and must never get into a position where she was dependent upon what that country did with its tariff. His words were marked by no animosity towards the United States but by what he was sure was best for Canada, said the premier.

OBTAIN HELP IN FIGHT TO MAKE CITY BEAUTIFUL

St. Thomas Officials Assured M. C. R. Behind Big Improvement Plan.

PLAN LONG BOULEVARD

[Special to The Advertiser.]
ST. THOMAS, Nov. 16.—One more battle of the continuous fight for a beautiful, has been fought and won by the city officials of St. Thomas and the members of the Horticultural Society.

On Wednesday afternoon during a conference of several high officials of the M. C. R. with the city council representatives in every way the St. Thomas Horticultural Society in beautifying the long stretch of property which now in all its ugliness faces on Talbot street, not far east from the center of the city.

Permission was given to the city to build a twenty-foot boulevard bordering on the company's property for more than one-quarter of a mile. The company will give the use of the land for the purpose and in all likelihood will assist in a material way with the work.

The work will be done by the Horticultural Society. The land will be plowed and graded and grass will be planted. On the inside of the boulevard a flower bed will be planted and kept trimmed just high enough to keep hidden from view the property behind. In short, practically the same system of gardens will be built as that which turned the unsightly east side of Railway street into a place of beauty.

Following a plan which has been carried out with much success on many of the streets and tiny parks of the city, the Horticultural Society, according to its president, Dr. F. E. Bennett, will plant attractive flower beds and perennial shrubs, adopting a consistent color scheme.

To Build Diamond.
Further, the M. C. R. officials informed the city officials that the company was willing to turn an ugly hollow, which is located just east of the station, and where posts owned by the Bell Telephone Company are stored in full view of the passersby on Talbot street, into a baseball diamond. The posts will be moved to a less conspicuous place.

The section of Talbot street which is to be renovated has been an eyesore, and the Horticultural Society, headed by its president, along with members of the city council, has long fought for the proposed improvements. The company objected to their frontage assessment would be raised. It is understood that an agreement along this line was reached.

Agreed to Pay.
Five years ago the M. C. R. made an agreement with the city to pay $500 annually for five years to the Horticultural Society towards the cost of improvements to the company's property. Almost $2,000 of the total $2,500 was used as an initial outlay in turning two plots of ground of several acres each into miniature parks. The other money has been spent for upkeep.

While no hard and fast agreement was made this year for continuing the payment, the company has intimated that it has no objections to renewing the agreement and there is a strong possibility that the amount will be increased.

The matter was taken up by Mr. Bennett several weeks ago with General Manager J. J. Shearer of the M. C. R. At that time he expressed great appreciation for what the Horticultural Society had done.

In addition to the promise of the Michigan Central, the C. P. R., which has a running right into the city over the road, has intimated its willingness to co-operate in improving the right-of-way. While, according to General Superintendent H. C. Groat, the company has no money to spend, he has promised to send the chief landscape gardener of the company to the city for a conference with Mr. Bennett, and, also, if possible, to make a contribution of shrubs and plants.

WINCARNIS SAVED HER LIFE

Toronto Man Says Wife Was Wasting Away—Wincarnis Saved Operation.

One of the most remarkable tributes to the value of Wincarnis is given by Mr. W. H. Parker, 159 Sheridan avenue, Toronto. This is what he writes: This time last year my wife was in a terrible state, and I know two doctors thought her case consumption in the first stage. She had a terrible cough night and day, her tonsils later became diseased, and the doctors at the hospital said she would have to have them removed. She went inside for the operation, and while there waiting for her nerves to get calmer, she went considerably worse, and I could see she was wasting away fast, so I got her away again home without the operation, and commenced with "Wincarnis" right away, and believe me, sir, the second day there was a great improvement for the better and we could see and knew that "Wincarnis" was the only thing to save her life, and it did save her life. I shall always maintain. Her throat gradually went better, and the color came back to her cheeks, and now today she is fine.

We had tried many other preparations, but, as I say, the only thing is "Wincarnis," and so I have told this same news to all whom I have come in contact with who have mentioned sickness to me. I have told this to scores of men and as many women, whenever a case of sickness is mentioned to me by them, and shall continue to do so, because I am so very, very thankful for what it has done. I have told the druggist and his assistant many times that it is the only medicine for my wife in the future. Oh, what thousands of dollars could be saved if people only knew of "Wincarnis."

I wish you to understand that this letter is from my heart, not to flatter you or your firm. I am grateful that I found "Wincarnis" and shall do my utmost to persuade others who are sick to take it.

(Signed) W. H. PARKER.
The reason for Mrs. Parker's happy recovery through Wincarnis is because when she was in a very nervous and debilitated condition, Wincarnis with its Iron and Manganese for enriching the blood; Phosphorus for Brain and Nerves; Calcium, Sodium and Potassium, replaced these very elements of which her system was lacking.

Wincarnis contains the very elements of which our bodies are composed. Wincarnis enriches the blood, creates new strength, repairs the wasted tissues. That is why it is such a wonderful medicine, so essential to all who are weak, nervous, anaemic and rundown.—Adv.
