responsibility is determined. It cannot be said definitely whether the affair was an accident. The general belief is that a widespread plot did not exist, but evidence of design are so apparent that the statement attributing the presence of a loaded shell to previous target practice, evoked smiles many quarters. It is pointed out as at Sasebo. being highly improbable that the gun Japs Celebrate. had not been cleaned for two days, and it is impossible that a second cartridge could have been inserted for saluting purposes behind the first. It is certainly a startling coincidence that the gun ntaining the missile should have been trained directly on the imperial chapel. Whatever may be the solution, it is a strange fact that the shot came from the Bourse Esplanade, where was sta-tioned the First Horse Artillery of the Guard, the premier artillery organization of the empire, and one of the most noted regiments in the whole Russian service. The list of this organization of aristocratic tradition has included grand dukes, princes, and some of the most illustrious names in Russia. Lieut,-Gen, Gripenberg was formerly an officer were involved, it was badly executed. It is pointed out that it is hardly probable that an expert artilleryman should have prepared a weak, scattering charge, which could hardly carry across the Neva. At the same time, an indication of design is in the fact that the gun was laid directly against the imperial pavilion. Had the gun contained a service charge or a regular shell, the pavilion must have been destroyed. It is clear, however, the saluting was done mos recklessly, as the flashes of the blank shots from St. Peter and St. Paul fortress showed that the guns were direct ed straight at the winter palace.

HON. G. W. ROSS AT THE CAPITAL

Prospects of a Bumper House -Sir Wilfrid Laurier Will Speak in French.

Ottawa, Jan. 19. - Everything points to a bumper gathering in the Russell Theater tomorrow night, when Premier Ross will speak in the interests of the Liberal candidates. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will speak in French. The Liberals seem to be the most confident, although the Conservatives are loth to admit the probability of defeat for Mr. Dennis Murphy, who is a strong man.

Hon, G. W. Ross will close his campaign with an address in Kingston on Monday night.

AS OTHERS SEE HIM!

[From the Sarnia Observer, Monday, Jan. 16.]

Mr. Adam Beck, of London, made his debut before a Sarnia audience at a Hanna meeting held here Thursday night. As a speaker, he is a poor specimen, and he left a very unfavorable impression personally by his unmanly references to Hon. Mr. MacKay. If men, as a rule, followed Mr. Beck's example of referring to the private habits of their opponents, and told in public what they had learned by intimate social association with them, what he said about Mr. MacKay might as truthfully be said about most of those who were with him on the platform here. It is a very unusual and exceedingly distasteful style of attack, and stamps the individual who resorts to it as utterly lacking in the essential qualities of a gentleman. If Mr. Beck came all the way from London to deliver himself of that little piece of discreditable tattle, it would have been better for his reputation if he had stayed at home.

BECK'S ATTACK UPON EX-ALD. PARNELL

Mr. Beck says he cast no reflections upon ex-Ald. Parnell. Here is the offensive passage from Beck's nomination speech. Readers may judge for themselves whether there is any slur upon Mr. Parnell in it, and whether the latter was not justified

"Then who got the contracts? The lowest tenderer in every case, with one exception. That exception was ex-Ald. Parnell, of South London, and he has got the contract because the lowest tenderer's bread had been complained of, and Parnell's tender was the next lowest.

"But Mr. Parnell does not deserve very much from the city," said Mr. Beck.

A comparison of Ex-Mayor Beck's ppointments with those of Ex-Mayor Rumball in 1901, when the Liberals had Dr. A. O. Mr. Auld is admitted by herstburg Echo. He was born at Warwick, Lambton county, on June 22, 1853, and is consequently in his 52nd year. The son of John Auld and Euphemia W. Hay (natives of Scotland), he was educated at the public school, and the old Strathroy Grammar School. In 1877 he married Anna Hamilton, the young est daughter of the late James Hamilton, who was connected with the customs department at Amherstburg. Mr Auld has, from the day he took up his residence in Amhersthurg, shown a deep interest in the town's affairs. He was a trustee of the public schools for eight years; served as town councilor in 1884; and during the next two years was honored by election to the reeve-ship. In 1890, when a member of the Essex county council, Mr. Auld was elected warden. In all of these public positions he showed exceptional ability, and it was not to be wondered at when in 1896, on the death of Hon. W. D. Balfour, he was chosen as the Liberal candidate for South Essex. Mr Auld was successful in the contest. In 1898, at the general election, he was again returned, and in 1902 he once more carried the riding for the cause of good government. Brockville, Jan. 19. - G. VanHorne, the Kingston hockeyist, whose arrest for assault during a hockey game here Monday last created such a furore in sporting circles, appeared in the police court here Wednesday. The matter was finally settled by the imposition of a nominal fine of $1 and payment of costs of $5. VanHorne left for at the instigation of the police here, and Paul Hayward, the Brockville player who received the knockout blow on the head, declined to have anything to do with the prosecution of VanHorne, and stated that he was not sure of the identity of the party who struck him. VanHorne denied having been conscious of striking Hayhome at noon. The arrest was made

PACIFIC LINE

Mexico Finds Subsidy of $50,000 Is Too Small—Asks Canada to Wait.

Ottawa, Jan. 19. - The proposed steamship line between Canada and Mexico by way of the Pacific coast came up for discussion in the House today. In reply to Mr. Foster's questions the Premier said each country had appropriated $50,000 a year for the service. However, when the tenders were called for it was found the subsidy was too small, and Mexico had requested that the matter be held over for a time until they could get the services of Sir Wheatman Pearson, an eminent engin eer, with the object of having certain details amended which may bring the cost of the service within the $100,000 of subsidy. In regard to the service on the Atlantic, the Mexican Govern-ment has agreed to appropriate $50,000 on condition of Canada appropriating an equal amount, making $100,000, for which subsidy the Mexicans believe a good monthly direct service can be obtained. The House later went into supply and made substantial progress with the estimates. The civic government appropriations for the Governor-General's secretary's office, Privy Council office, auditorgeneral's office, and the departments of justice, fignance, customs, inland revenue, agriculture, railways, public works, postoffice and trade and labor, were passed. The customs estimates were taken up and the minister stated that everybody in his department who had not reached the maximum had been given the statutory increase.

Mr. Foster, apparently being ignorant of the meaning and operation of the dumping clause, Mr. Paterson had to explain it for him.

The Opposition leader made it an excuse to criticise the preferential tariff. The auditor-general's report is still in the hands of the printer and will not be presented for some days.

In reply to a question of the Opposition the Premier said the Government had nothing to do with, or knew of, the reported deal by which the Canada Atlantic was to become the property of rightly argued that the best method of banishing corruption is the election of men who will not tolerate it. Mr. Blain's opponent is Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, and the chancellor could not, as a champion of purity, conscientiously and methods. The learned divine is evidently not frightened by the clamor about corruption. He knows that the standard of public morality will be just what the electors make it, and that their first care should be to de mand high character in their public representatives. This is more important than the interest or fortune of any particular party.

The Opposition press is also abusing Rev. Dr. Chown, the secretary of moral and temperance reform in the Methodist Church, for asserting that corruption is not an issue in this campaign. Dr. Chown declares that nothing is to be gained by turning out one set of politicians "unless the incoming politicians have in view such measures as will better political conditions." Dr. Chown, like Chancellor Burwash, is too clear-headed to be deceived by the self-righteous professions of politicians, who offer nothing but denunciation of the other party. The Liberal party has given the electors a pledge that corruption will not be tolerated in its own ranks, by requiring that the Liberal As-"It was not a case for delay, for sociation of each riding shall perfect cartels or negotiations, or a commis- its own organization, and manage its sion of inquiry, but one to be met own affairs without outside assistance. instantly and in the most effective The Conservative party has not dis-This manner of settling a personal membered its Provincial machine, but difference of this sort is deserving of retains the services of organizers, such as Birmingham, the patron of Free-If every man were to be the judge of born, who conducted the school for

PURITY EXHIBIT --- NO. 7.

One of the most scandalous elections in the recent history of this Province was that at Sault Ste. Marie, in the provincial contest of 1902, when Miscampbell, Conservative, was elected by a majority of 199. His election was protested. The trial opened Jan. 13, 1903, and lasted till

Jan. 17, the judges being Chief Justice Falconbridge and Justice Osler. The evidence showed that a shocking amount of corruption was practiced in the interests of Miscampbell, and the judges reported four men-Morreault, Roy, Delargey and Dargle-for crooked work. It was shown that whisky was poured out like water, and that bribery was rampant. Miscampbell acknowledged having received $2,000 from the Conservative "purity fund," but worse still, he paid Morreault OUT OF HIS OWN POCKET the sum of $235, which was spent in bribing and debauching voters. Morreault was brought from Montreal to work among the French-Canadian voters at the Soo. The latter were instructed to cali on Morreault, who hired a suite of rooms and held daily and nightly receptions for his compatriots. Witnesses swore to having received bribes from Morreault. The judges found the charges proved and voided the election. The judgment was read by Justice Osler, and concurred in by Chief Justice

Falconbridge, as follows: "The agency of Morreault was hardly contested. It was, at all events, if not admitted, abundantly proved. This gentleman was a member of the French bar, and a resident of Montreal. At the request of some of the respondent's (Miscampbell's) political friends there, he went to Sault Ste. Marie to help in the elections.' There was a considerable French population in the riding, chiefly in and about the town, and it was thought desirable that someone familiar with that language should be sent up from the other province who could canvass his compatriots and address them at public meetings in their own tongue, the more so as it was said that an agent had been employed on the petitioner's side for a similar purpose. Mr. Morreault was to be paid his expenses and an honorarium, the amount of which was not very clearly defined-perhaps not at all-but he seems to have expected it would be at least $10 per day. He left Montreal on May 17, and before he did so received the proceeds of a draft for $100, drawn upon the respondent (Miscampbell) by his friend in Montreal, which was duly charged in the respondent's bank account on June 14, 1902, and before he left Sault Ste. Marie on May 30 he was paid by or received from agents of the respondent there, and with his (Miscampbell's) assent, further sums, amounting in all to $135. None of these payments appear in the detailed statement of election expenses, dated July 28, 1902, prepared by the respondent's financial agent, pursuant to section 102 of the election act.

"Morreault arrived at Sault Ste. Marie on the evening of Sunday, May 18, and some time during the week opened a room in a building known as the Chamberlain Block, in the French quarter, where people could call and see him, where the voters' lists could be examined and inquiries answered. He was present at and addressed two public meetings in the interest of the respondent. "In the result, the election ought, in my opinion, to be set aside. THE ACTS OF BRIBERY PROVED AND THE ILLEGAL PRACTICES CON-NECTED WITH THE EMPLOYMENT OF MORREAULT OUGHT, I THINK, TO OVERRIDE ANY MAJORITY. NOR CAN IT BE OVER-LOOKED THAT DRINKING WAS UNDOUBTEDLY INDULGED IN TO A MOST REPREHENSIBLE EXTENT, though the evidence may fall short of proving the commission of corrupt practices in that respect.

'Morreault Roy, Delargey and Dargle will be reported." And this man Miscampbell, who got $2,000 from the "purity fund," and who gave Morreault money, which was expended in buying votes, was afterwards appointed as one of the organizers of the Conservative party and now controls the Conservative machine in New Ontario!

But what had the Ontario Opposition desires for power, they were waging a Liberal Government of every crime in the calendar, and some outside of it. (Laughter). They cried out that the New Ontario. Government had manipulated the ballot boxes. But they had not brought home any charge to the Government along this line. Offenses would occur in particular instances, but not by the Government or its officers. Mr. Ross pointed out that in 1902, one Liberal and seven Conservatives had been reported for corrupt practices. The Conservatives were seven times worse than the Liberals. (Laughter.) Since Confederation the Liberals had handled 40,000 ballot boxes, the Conservatives had not had a chance to handle them. (Laughter.) But not one irregularity had occurred. In 1902, only four votes out of the 427,000 votes cast for the Governminion election, controlled by the Con-servatives, 4,000 ballots had been been

The Premier showed that the books could not be sold at the lower prices now if the publishmuch lower prices now, if the publishers were to make any money. The speaker proved this by comprehensive financial statistics.

Opposition Stupidity.

And the Opposition, crying so loudly against the school book firms, had opposed the Government's bills taxing corporations. Since 1898 these laws had brought Ontario $1,609,000 of revenue. Mr. Whitney had also opposed increased railway taxation, and through their bill in this connection, the Governbill in this connection, the Government's revenue from railway taxation had risen from $34,000 to $187,000. There was nothing to prevent Mr. Whitney from repealing this taxation of corporations if he once got the power. Mr. Whitney had also opposed the Pettypiece bill until he thought he could hurt the Government by taking it up when it had been set aside.

"This great educational reformer," Mr. Whitney, also opposed the placing of a normal school in London, near ou. Mr. Whitney says he wants to turn our educational system upside-He had better turn his own policy upside down, or inside out." (Laughter and cheers.) The Opposition had, moreover, objected to the raising of the tax on the estates of rich men who die without heirs. Altogether, if the Opposition had had their way, the Province would have, by now, lost just about $3,000,000. Turning to the question of agricul-

The Premier then read the following elegram, which he had received just before he entered the hall:: "Winnipeg, Man. Jan. 19.—To Premier Ross—Forty Glencoe Old Boys now of Winnipeg wish you every success. (Signed) Archie were asked to consider great issues. McRae." (Great applause.) The Premier was sorry to see Ontario losing so to offer? Emboldened by disappointed many of her fine sons but he was glad them succeeding so well. Soon, he said, the young men would flock to New Ontario, just as they were now

Turning to New Ontario, the Premier said it was a "Garden of Eden" for settlers from Old Ontario. The Government railway had gone 300 miles north from Toronto; by next Christmas it would be 400 miles north, and would hen be ready to tap the great agricultural clay belt. The Premier spoke of the great value of the pulp mills in New Ontario. In some of them, 1,000 men, not girls or boys, were employed. Around these industries, towns would grow up. "Our boys were going to the United States, and the Government had passed laws to keep them at home. Thus saw mills the 427,000 votes cast for the Government had been questioned. Chicago, Jan. 19.—Revolt against John Alexander has broken out among his followers at Zion City. Six families of the Zion City colony defied Dowie's orders to leave town, and asserted that Dowie is attempting to establish a "government in defiance of the constitution of the United States, and aimed at undermining the Federal Government." Dowie's order of ejectment was executed vesterday in spite Federal Government." Dowie's order of ejectment was executed yesterday in spite of protest. The men are charged with preaching false doctrine, and having ambitions to become "like unto John Alexander, the First Apostle, himself." Deacon Partridge and his wife, in charge of the Australian work, have been put under restrictions.

It is a tale of pirates, fabulously wealthy Dons, rivaling the search for the lost treasures of the Incas. In December of the year 1902, W. C. Watkins and A. T. Watkins, brothers, and A. H. Tyner, landed at Trinidad on the south coast of Cuba in the interests of large timber estates in that part of the island. While stopping at Trinidad before starting on their in spection tour of the forests they heard of the old traditions of the lost mine. One of the old traditions was that pack loaded with gold bearing ores of fabulous value. This tradition was to the effect that the mines had been lost and that the search of years by the natives had never located them. Other traditions were to the effect that certain pirates would periodically arrive off the coast near Trinidad and within a few days the pack trains would arrive. Their burdens would be taken aboard the pirate ships and the mule trains would disappear in the Dunkirk, Jan. 20. - Ransom Briggs, whose home is in Sheridan, and who is employed by the Lake Shore Railroad Company as a pump tender at Waite's Corners, was shot and fatally injured at Silyer Creek last night. He was brought here today and placed in the Brooks Memorial Hospital, where the doctors say he cannot live. The shooting, it is said, was done by Mrs. Marrietta Chappane, of Silver trains would arrive from the interior Creek in self-defense. The woman has not been placed under arrest. She came to Dunkirk this evening at the request of Deputy Sheriff James Holstein, acting under directions of District Attorney J. K. Patterson, for the purpose of having her evidence before the coroner in case Briggs should die. B. C. Livermore, of Silver Creek, is her attorney. She will return home tomorrow and there will be no hearing in court in Dunkirk. Briggs, who is about 50 years old, is married and has two or three children His home is on his farm in the Lake road, one or two miles west of Silver Creek. One of his children is ill and a son about 16 years old died last week. Last night he was in company with several companions and, it is said, while under the influence of liquor, he went to the house of the Italian woman and demanded admittance. The woman was alone with her children, her husband having gone to Westfield. She refused him admittance, it is alleged, and ordered him and his two companions to go away. Briggs, it is charged, refused to go. Mrs. Chappane then went upstairs, and, it is said, procured the shotgun, and, opening an upper window, fired at him, The scalp was torn from his head. HUNTS HAWKINS

Ex-Mayor Beck Was to Present a Horse to Department, But Has Not Yet Done So.

Some months ago it was announced that Mr. Adam Beck, who was then mayor of London, had given "Hawkins," one of his string of racehorses, kins," one of his string of racehorses, and an unsuccessful King's plater, to the chief of the fire department. Inquiry at the central fire station today elicited the information that as yet Hawkins has not been added to the brigade.

Of course, Mr. Beck is at perfect liberty to either keep "Hawkins" in his racing stable or to give him to the

MERCHANT INSULTED & BY ADAM BECK

His Unwarranted Threat Addressed to Mr. J. A. Sutherland.

Mr. Beck made two sorry exhibitions of himself at the city hall on the day of the nominations. After his assault on ex.Ald, Parnell in the ante-room, Mr. Beck went downstairs with his right bower, Mr. Gray, and as he had almost reached the Richmond street entrance he walked up to Mr. J. A. Sutherland, lumber merchant, and raising hand, said: "You are not worth licking."

At the same time Gray gave a toss of the head and remarked "We stand by our colors." Mr. Sutherland had done nothing whatever to warrant Mr. Beck's action. He was not even a spectator of the rowdyism in the ante-room.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS SLEIGH

West Nissouri Man Expires From Apoplexy While He Was Driving Home.

To find her father dead in the bot tom of his sleigh was the experience of the little daughter of William Henderson, of West Nissouri, who is wellknown in this city as a horse-dealer. Henderson, who was middle-aged came to the city yesterday morning to get a load of meal, and being unable to procure it at the mill, he went to the market, where he spent the most of the afternoon. During this time he bought a horse, and, with the animal tied to his sleigh, he started about half-past 6. He arrived at Crumlin shortly after 7, and then proceeded on his way home. Henderson's little daughter heard the jingling of the sleigh-bells, and, running to the gate, met the team coming along slowly. At first she could not see her father, but in a minute, when the team came nearer, she saw him lying in the bottom of the sleigh. After bringing the horses into the barn she ran for her mother, and a doctor was summoned, who pronounced that ife had been extinct for some time. Ap oplexy was given as the cause of death. Henderson was well-known throughout the township and was wellliked. He was a cousin of Mr. Samue Henderson, of this city. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made as

LONDON'S STREETS ARE WRETCHED

Much Money Spent During Mr. Beck's Term, but No Good Results Achieved.

During Mr. Beck's three years in the mayor's chair, the city spent more money on its streets than ever before and yet the streets are now in the worst condition they have ever been in since London attained the dignity of a city.

What is the reason? What was the cause of this state of affairs? What was Mr. Beck's wonderful executive ability doing all these years? But perhaps Mr. Beck found it impossible to devote too much time to pavements other than those on Albert street and Richmond street north.

Pure Maple

Syrup.

Though we have but little space to tell the story, we will certainly make good use of it. First, we bottle the syrup ourselves in the cutest bottle imaginable, the bottle afterwards can be used for vinegar or anything else, and looks very pretty on the table. It sells at 30c per bottle.

SPEEDING IS AGAINST LAW &

City Cannot Set Apart Dufferin Avenue for the Koad Drivers.

The question of whether speeding is ermissible on Dufferin avenue was prought up yesterday at a meeting of he police commissioners, when it was covered that the Ontario statutes llowed no city of less than 100,000 inhabitants to apportion a street for racing. As a result the Amateur Road Selling Out Furs

Drivers' Association has announced that there will be no speeding for the present. It is understood that an effort will be made to have the act changed at the next meeting of the Legislature.

A pleasing innovation has been introduced at the London Vaudeville The think that an art so divine would pro- ater by the very capable leader of the tect its votaries. Sometimes the food is orchestra, Prof. W. O. Stevens, in the playing of Canada's National Anthem, "The Maple Leaf Forever," at each and every performance. This does not mean that the time-honored "God Save the King" has been dispensed with, both anthems being played by the orchestra during each performance in the theater. Both Manager Bennett and Prof. Stevens are to be highly commended for this recognition of Canada's beautiful National Anthem. The vaudeville bill this week is decidedly a good one.
