If You Live in Waterdown Why Shop in New York?

That question is not so absurd as it may seem, for many people right here in this community and who earn their money here, actually spend a part of it in New York.

"But," you say, "I have never been in New York." You don't need to go there in person to spend your money there. Whenever you buy goods made in the United States it is just the same as shopping in New York, for those goods have to be paid for in "New York funds," as the bankers call it.

What does it mean? It means that while the Canadian dollar is worth 100 cents in Canada it shrinks to around 85 cents if spent for U. S. goods, and the more you spend on U. S. goods the less value your dollar will possess. There is no mysterious reason for this. It is simply because we Canadians, as a people, have been importing from the United States far more than we have been exporting to that country. For the year ending November 1920, we imported goods valued at $927,564,711 while the United States bought from us goods valued at $545,283,365, that is, we bought from them almost twice as much as we sold them. Therefore our Canadian money is at a discount over there.

The safe and sane thing for all of us is to spend every cent we can for Canadian made goods, and spend it with our local merchants. Thus our trade will not only help to build up Canada by providing employment for Canadian workman, but it will help to build up our own community, the community in which we live and have something at stake. And in the long run we will all be money in pocket by following this policy.

Be loyal to your own community, your own country. Spend your dollar in Waterdown for Canadian made goods and see it again.

Greenville

Mr and Mrs. Gilbert of Orangeville are visiting this week at Mr. J. Clarke's.

Master Maurice Tudor of Dundas, spent the week end at Mr. J. Survus.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hunter were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. David Black of Dakota are visiting relatives here.

Mr. Bryce Hyslop has recovered from an attack of chicken-pox.

Mistakes

When a Plumber makes a mistake he charges twice for it.

When a Lawyer makes a mistake, it is just what he wanted, because he has a chance to try the case all over again.

When a Doctor makes a mistake, he buries it.

When a Judge makes a mistake, it becomes the law of the land.

When a Preacher makes a mistake nobody knows the difference.

When an Electrician makes a mistake, he blames it on intuition, nobody knows what that means.

When a Printer makes a mistake, he blames it on the "devil."

But when an Editor makes a mistake—GOOD-NIGHT!!!!

A Social Evening

The Women's Institute will hold a social evening at the home of Mrs. C. H. Brigger on Friday, February 18th. A good programme has been arranged consisting of music, games recitations and a general good time. Refreshments will be served. A cordial invitation is extend to every one. Admission 25 cents.

The newspapers and magazines will not be collected until the end of March.

Alderson-Church Wedding

A very quiet wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage on Wednesday, February 9th when Ruby Victoria, only daughter of Mrs. and the late George Church, became the bride of Mr. John M. Alderson of Carlisle. The Rev. C. L. Poole officiating. Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom left on a two months trip to San Francisco Los Angeles, New Orleans and other points. The bride travelling in a neat tailored navy blue suit. Upon their return they will reside on the groom's farm at Carlisle.

The bride is one of Waterdown's most popular young ladies, always taking an active part in church work and musical entertainments, and will be greatly missed by a host of friends here, who wish her happiness and prosperity in her new home.

On Tuesday evening the officials and a number of members of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. A. M. Slater and presented Miss Church with a beautiful three piece silver tea service and tray. The bride was the recipient of a lovely silver basket from the staff of the Royal Bank, of which institution she has been a valued employe.

Valentine Tea

Preparations are being made by the staff of the Public school so that a pleasant social hour will be assured to all on Monday the 14th from four to six when they are entertaining informally at Afternoon Tea.

The proceeds of the tea are in aid of a School Fund to buy pictures for the classrooms and provide suitable furnishings for the teachers' room.

Anyone donating refreshments who would like them called for kindly phone Mr. Smith, (phone 173) on Saturday, or any of the ladies of the staff on Monday, and boys will call at the noon hour for them.

The next Tea will take place early in March. It will be in the evening and will take the form of an "Old Time Party."

High School "At Home"

Last Friday evening an enjoyable event took place, when the students of the Waterdown High School entertained about 250 guests at their "At Home." The following ladies kindly lent their patronage: Mrs. W. B. Forbes, Mrs. J. J. Crusoe, Mrs. A. M. Slater, Mrs. F. J. Shaidle, Mrs. C. Richards and Mrs. J. F. Vance.

With the aid of decorations loaned by R. MacKay & Co. of Hamilton the Roller Rink presented a splendid appearance, and too much credit can not be given to the energetic scholars who made this affair such a success.

A programme of reading and musical numbers by some of the students was followed by progressive euchre entertained by several selections from the four piece orchestra in attendance.

Following refreshments, the younger set, and even some of the others, enjoyed dancing until the early hours.

The Height of Deceit

Teacher—"Johnny, what is a hypocrite?"

Johnny—"A boy wot comes to school with a smile on his face."

THE SPICE BOX

HOT STUFF GLEANED FROM EVERYWHERE.

Why do not the hold-up men form one big union? Then they can demand a sympathetic strike against anybody who refuses to be held up.—Toronto Telegram.

Harding's request that his inaugural be of the simplest nature has, according to a news despatch, left Washington "all dressed up and no place to go." Somewhat in the same position as the agonist at his own funeral.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Boston aims at being a great fish centre. That should be easy, judging by the success of Mr. Ponzl.—Osgoey Herald.

Just about the time a man decides to open an account in the savings bank he glances in the coal bin and changes his mind.—Cobalt Nugget.

When bone-dry comes into effect there will be still more slips 'twix the hip and the lip.—London Free Press.

The Foreign Relations Committee of the American Senate recently refused to approve a treaty that would permit the extradition of Yankee wife deserters who have come to Canada. Watch our population grow!—Canadian Opinion (Toronto).

A tree will make a million matches and a match will destroy a million trees.—Orillia Packet.

Izet Pasha is said to have gone over to the Nationalists. It isn't true, Izet?—Montreal Star.

Ill fares the land, to hastening is a pray,
When men make laws who should be pitching hay.—Toronto Telegram.

Some men are born with troubles, others acquire troubles, and still others have political jobs thrust upon them.—Winnipeg Free Press.

One's social progress may be slow, but there is no danger of being ignored by the federal and civic tax collectors.—Ottawa Journal.

A Russian doctor has discovered a process for making men transparent. Old stuff. The women have been able to see through them from the beginning.—Guelph Mercury.

We note that one association is objecting to marriages where the contestants—beg pardon, contracting parties—are not of sound health. Quite right. If anybody must be chosen for a hard job, let it be somebody who is healthy.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Death and taxes are regarded as sure things which humans cannot evade. The only difference, however, is that death is sometimes painless.—Portage LaPrairie Graphic.

AVERAGE ATTENDANCE NOT TWENTY IN 5,500 ONTARIO RURAL SCHOOLS

Progress in educational work does not begin with the Department, but with the people themselves, stated J. R. Bell, consolidated school lecturer of the Department of Education, Toronto, during the course of an address at a meeting of the Sunnis Township Rural School Improvement Association. Continuing, the speaker stated that the most important subject of the present day is the education of children. The great forward movement started in the churches should be continued in the schools, as religion and education go hand in ronto, during the course of an address. Turning to the educational problems of Ontario he said that one of the difficulties at the present time is the fact that so many schools have such a small attendance. In 5,500 rural schools the average attendance is less than 20. In one particular school the cost of teaching three pupils was cited at $900. Another obstacle, according to Mr. Bell, was raised by the scarcity of teachers. Sometimes trustees have engaged teachers with only entrance certificates.

Income Tax Forms for 1920 Soon Ready for Distribution

ONUS IS ON TAXPAYER TO OBTAIN THEM—CHEQUES FOR AT LEAST 25 PER CENT. OF THE TAXES MUST BE SENT WITH RETURNS AND INTEREST PAID ON ANY UNPAID PORTION.

Income tax forms for 1920 will be ready for distribution from offices of inspector of taxation within a week the Commissioner of Taxation states. On the taxpayers will rest the onus of securing such forms. The year forms T. 3, T. 4, and T. 5, covering wages paid to employees and dividends paid to shareholders, as well as forms T. 1 and T. 2 for returns of corporations and individuals are to be delivered to inspectors of taxation. Forms T. 3, T. 4 and T. 5, are to be filed before March 31st, forms T. 1, and T. 2, before April 30th. A pamphlet containing instructions for taxpayers is being printed for distribution with forms T. 1, and T. 2. Taxpayers may send cheques for the amounts of their taxes. They must send with their returns, cheques for at least twenty-five per cent. of their taxes. If they make initial payments of twenty-five per cent. of their taxes they must pay the balance in bi-monthly instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

It is expected that collections of income taxes in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1921, will total forty million dollars. Collections of business profits taxes are expected to reach $25,000,000.

SIGNS OF REVIVAL IN SHOE BUSINESS

With a reduction of about 15 per cent. over the wholesale prices of a year ago, wholesale boot and shoe dealers report that there is every sign of revival of business in these lines.

Wholesalers are now looking orders for fall delivery, and although the new season is just opening, the indications point to a return to normal selling conditions. Shoe factories in Eastern Canada and the United States have practically all resumed operations, many of them working at present to full capacity.

While the wholesale price of all shoes is about 15 per cent. below that of a year ago, it is conceded by the trade that the consumer will not purchase boots and shoes very much cheaper than he has been able to do during the past few months.

POEMS

You Should Know

MY MIND TO ME A KINGDOM IS.

My mind to me a kingdom is,
Such perfect joy therein I find
As far exceeds all earthly bliss
That God or nature hath assigned;
Though much I want that most would have,
Yet still by mind forbids to crave.

Content I live; this is my stay—
I seek no more than my suffice.
I press to bare no haughtiness away;
Look, what I lack my mind supplies.

Lo! thus I triumph like a king,
Content with that my mind doth bring.

The court no cart I like no louch—
Extremes are counted worst of all;
The golden means betwixt them both
Doth sweetest sit, and fears no fall;
This is my choice; for why, I find
No wealth is like a quite mind.

My wealth is health and perfect ease;
My conscience clear my chief defence;

I never seek my bribes to please
Nor by desert to breed offence.
Thus do I live, thus will I die;
Would all did so well as I.

—Sir Edward Dyer.

GOOD HEALTH AND GOOD SPIRITS

DEPEND UPON THE CONDITION OF THE BLOOD—KEEP IT RICH, RED AND PURE.

When a doctor tells you that you are anemic, he simply means "in plain English, that your blood is weak and watery. But this condition is one that may easily pass into a hopeless decline if prompt steps are not taken to enrich the blood. Poor blood, weak, watery blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, loss of appetite, poor digestion, nervousness, neuritis, nervous, irritability and many other troubles. To poor blood is due the pimples and blotches, the muddy complexion that disfigures so many faces. To have good health, a good complexion and a cheerful manner, the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. This is easily done through the use of a blood-enriching tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The whole mission of this medicine is to help enrich the blood which reaches every nerve and every organ in the body, bringing with it health, strength and new activity. That is why people who occasionally use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always feel bright, active and strong.

Miss M. E. Cook, Simons, Ont., gives strong testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when she says: "I have been a sufferer for some years from a run-down condition of the system. I suffered from pains in the back, weakness of the nerves and muscles, my appetite was poor, I had indigestion and would get drowsy after eating. My hands and feet were almost always cold, and though I was constantly doctoring, the medicine I took did not help me. I had practically given up hope of good health, until a friend from Hamilton came to visit me and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It took some persuasion, but finally I consented to try them. I have reason to be grateful that I did, for after using seven boxes I felt like a new person. I have gained in weight, have a better color and my work is now a pleasure. For this condition my thanks are due Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I cannot praise them too highly."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealers in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Sunday School Lesson

LESSONS ON CITIZENSHIP.

(May be used with temperance applications.)

Lesson—Deut. 8: 5-11; Matt. 22: 15-22, 34-40. Printed Text—Matt. 22: 15-22, 34-40.

Golden Text—"And he said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" (Matt. 22: 37-39).

Historical Setting.

Time—April, A. D. 30. Place—Court of the temple.

The Lesson Text.

15 Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might ensnare him in his talk.

16 And they send to him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, Teacher, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one; for thou regardest not the person of men.

17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why make ye trial of me, ye hypocrites?

19 Show me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a denarius.

20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21 They say unto him Caesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's.

22 And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left him and went away.

34 But the Pharisees, when they heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, gathered themselves together.

35 And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question, trying him:

36 Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law?

37 And he said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and all thy mind.

38 This is the great and first commandment.

39 And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

40 On these two commandments the whole law hangeth, and the prophets.

Comments.

Verse 15. Believing themselves to have been personally attacked in the preceding parables, the Pharisees and Sadducees saw the necessity for the utmost skill and strategy. They could not meet Jesus "off-hand" because "never man spoke like this man." They were hypocrites and knew not how to meet Jesus' honesty.

Verse 16. The leading rabbis sent their astute pupils, while they stood aloof and watched the result. The Herodians were a political party who hoped to retain for the Herod family at least a fragment of government.

Verse 17. These shrewd tacticians had failed to note one peculiarity of Jesus. He never said, "I think" so and so. He spoke with authority. If Jesus said "Yes," He would become unpopular with the Pharisees, who despised tax-paying. If He said "No," He would be guilty of treason to Rome.

Verse 18. He saw their motives and practically said, "You are a pretty bunch to question my motives."

Verse 19. A silver denarius was worth about seventeen cents, and was the price of a day's labor in the parable (chap. 20:2). It was the daily wage of a Roman soldier.

Verse 20. There are coins still in circulation in the Orient bearing the head and superscription of some emperor.

Verse 31. Jesus cleared up a difficult situation. The Jewish religion was a theocracy. They objected to paying money to a heathen government. His reply showed them that they had both religious and civil obligations.

Verse 22. No wonder they marvelled. They failed to trap Him, and He enlightened them beyond their ability to enlighten themselves.

Verse 34. "Put to silence" here means gagged or muzzled. They were completely squelched.

Verse 35. The "lawyers" were interpreters of the written law of Moses.

Verse 36. The lawyer expected to entangle Jesus.

Verse 37. Love God with all your powers.

Verses 38, 39. And next to God, love your neighbor.

Verse 40. There was nothing left to be said.

GEORGE WASHINGTON JONES SAYS WHITE CHICKENS ARE EASIEST TO FIND BUT THE BLACK ONES ARE EASIEST TO HIDE

The opening of the Federal Parliament at Ottawa on February 14 will be marked by all the old-time display. The ceremony will be full-dress and will be held in the new Chamber of the Senate and for the first time since the outbreak of the War. Their Excellencies, the Governor-General and the Duchess of Devonshire, will subsequently hold a drawingroom. This will be held in the Senate Chamber on the Saturday after the opening of Parliament. Following the example set in drawingrooms at Buckingham Palace, feathers and voles will be worn. There will be the usual guards of honor both for the opening of Parliament and for the drawingroom.

As a Man Thinketh in His Heart So He Is

There's a man in our town,
No, his name isn't Adam Brown,
Tho' at preaching he has Adam beat a block.

Whose ambition late in life
Was to get himself a wife,
Not before he'd bot a grandfather's clock.

He went to Klein & Binkley,
And told them quite distinctly:
And lo, they had the very thing in stock.

They showed him diamond rings
And other costly things,
But no, his mind was set upon a clock.

Then good-bye to his chicken coops,
Good-bye to his hens all barred Rocks.

But at last there came a day
When he put these things away,
And he bot himself a grandfather's clock.

It has its quaint old ways,
Busy ticking off the days,
Reminding us poor mortals here below.

That we have no time to shirk
But keep busy at our work,
And be prepared when we are called to go.

OUR BOYS' AND GIRLS' CORNER

By Aunt June

Registered According to the Copyright Act

DEDICATED TO EVERY BOY AND GIRL IN CANADA

My Dear Boys and Girls:

Whether anything happened to your corner last week, I am not quite sure at the time of writing, but if any of you missed a letter from Aunt June, I shall have to confess that something was happening to make my letter rather late. You all remember the story of Humpty Dumpty. Well Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall, and do you know that he had a very nasty tumble? Aunt June hasn't done quite as badly as that, but like poor old Humpty Dumpty, she did have a wee bit of a fall. She just slipped and tumbled over one day and there she sat for a little while, and then suddenly she remembered that sitting on the floor wasn't going to help her to get this letter written, so up she jumped and—well, here she is all ready to say, How do you do?

WELCOME TO OUR MANY NEW MEMBERS:

As I write to you, Toronto streets are dry and fair, and the air is like spring, but perhaps even before this letter gets into print, we may have snow again, such tricks does the weather man play us, but the winter is getting over very happily for most of us in Ontario. Some are enjoying skating; others have to be content with soft spring-like days and long walks. My happiest walks when I go to my letter box for the mail and find it stuffed, oh so full, with letters from all my boys and girls, which reminds me that I cannot take up much room this week, with anything but your letters, which I am ever so glad to have.

OUR LETTER BOX.

Dear Aunt June:—I have been reading the Boys' and Girls' corner and think it is real nice to have a corner for boys and girls. I am enclosing five cents as I have no stamps, hoping to receive a badge. I go to school every day and am in fourth class. My two brothers and sisters and I drive three miles to school. I am thirteen years old. My father has a camp just across the road and there are about twelve men cutting logs. We have a cook. This is all for this time. Wishing your club every success.

ALMA CRAIG.

Dear Alma:—I see that there are two boys and two girls in your family. Isn't that just a jolly party. I can imagine you would have lots of fun going to school.

I think you must live in the real country by your telling me about the camp across the road. I have not yet visited a real lumber camp so perhaps you will tell me something about yours next time you write.

I am holding stamp for your badge until I hear again from you as you quite forgot to fulfill the conditions. The rule for joining the Helpers' League of Service is that every boy or girl who wishes to become a member must send in a description of their duties of service; that is, what they do to help others every day. I want to have you a member so hurry up and send in that letter when you shall have a badge. Read and sign our little pledge which will be found on this page and enclose in the letter.

Caledonia, Ont.

Dear Aunt June:—I have signed the pledge and will try to do all the things I can to help others. I am thirteen and passed the entrance examination when I was twelve. The things I do in daily life are wash the dishes, sweep the floors and dust, milk three cows and wash the separator, if necessary. My friend Rhea Bundy has always written to your club and signed the pledge. I am sending a three-cent stamp for a badge and hope to receive it soon. Wishing your club every success.

ALMA HAGAN.

Dear Alma:—You have started out very well indeed along the road of helping. I wonder how you like making? What a number of Helpers we have who do useful things around the home. Thanking you for your good wishes. I hope you will like your badge.

Kirkton, Ont.

Dear Aunt June:—I have been reading in your corner for some time, so I thought I would like to write. I am a girl ten years of age. At school I am in senior third class and go every day. I have three girl friends. Their names are Viola Moore, Gwendolyn Doupe and Audrey Paul. Viola and Gwendolyn are in senior third, too. Audrey is in junior third. Our teacher rings the bell at nine o'clock. He then reads the Bible and we have about twenty-five questions in arithmetic. After we get done we learn our reading. At a quarter to eleven he lets us out till eleven o'clock. We then have reading and memory work. At twelve o'clock we have noon till one. After we eat our dinner we play hide-and-go-seek, ball, and in the winter we slide on the ice that is on Fish Creek behind our school, when he rings the bell we have spelling every other day and geography every other day. At fifteen minutes to three he lets us out till three, when he rings the bell. We have grammar on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. We have hygiene on Tuesday and history on Thursdays. At four o'clock we come home and play till six o'clock. I am sending a three-cent stamp for a badge. I am sending you some riddles. With love from

HELEN BRETHOUR.

Dear Helen:—Your letter was one of the most interesting in my mail bag. I see you have a number of friends. How many of them would like to join the Helpers' League? I wonder which days you like best in the week—the day on which you have grammar or the geography days. I can remember loving the geography lessons but hating grammar. You have asked for a badge, but if you will read over my letter again which I have printed on the page, you will see that one of the conditions necessary for you to be a member of the Service League is that you tell about the acts of service you have done for others. Doing your work well at school is, of course, one of the conditions but I am sure you do other things besides. Please write me another letter and tell me about your helping.

AUNT JUNE.

ARE COMBING OUT THE CIVIL SERVICE

BY END OF JUNE, 850 AGED MEN AND WOMEN WILL HAVE BEEN RETIRED.

It is estimated that by the end of June, 850 men and women will have been retired from the Civil Service of Canada. Since the passing of the Older Superannuation act last session of Parliament, 1,699 civil servants over 65 years have been reported by Government departments to the civil service commission. Of these, 960 were recommended for retirement, it being considered the others could continue to render efficient service.

Many of those who have or are to be superannuated are over 70 years of age. One of the oldest is Adam Brown, postmaster of Hamilton, who leaves the service at the age of 84. Several women coming under the measure are in their seventies, and one, who has been in the service for 45 years, is 81 years of age.

WELL SATISFIED WITH BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use nothing else. Her use of them leads her to believe there is no other medicine to equal them for any of the many minor ailments of childhood. Concerning them Mrs. Eugene Baines, East Adelaide, Que., writes: "My baby was terribly constipated, but after the use of Baby's Own Tablets he is entirely well again. I am so well satisfied with the Tablets that I lose no opportunity in recommending them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Last year the domestic manufactures of Canada exported from the Dominion had a value of $555,429,180.

Corns are painful growths. Hefty Corn Remover will remove them.

A Children's Strike.

A Norfolk, England, village is now in the thick of a school children's strike, which the labor members have promised to join. This is the second school strike which has occurred in Norfolk and has been caused by the displacement of a headmistress due to an arrangement of the various departments. The lady in question had been teaching for eighteen years in that same school and there is a strong feeling that she has not been treated fairly.

Bad Breath IS CAUSED BY CATARRH

Canadians suffer more from Catarrh than from any other disease. On this account Catarrh is dangerous and should be checked at the outset.

It isn't necessary to take internal medicine to cure Catarrh. There is a far better method.

Doctors now treat Catarrh by sending a purifying, healing vapor through the breathing organs. In this way the germs of Catarrh are destroyed.

The only successful vapor treatment is CATARRHOZONE, which the patient breathes through a special inhaler to the real seat of the trouble. The rich, piney essence of Quaternary ozone and soothe all inflamed surfaces. They effectively treat the nose, throat and lungs with a powerful antiseptic that destroys irritation at once.

Catarrhozone brings into the system the balmy air of the pine forest. It cures completely colds, coughs, catarrh, weak throat, and bronchitis.

Once tried, Catarrhozone is always used. Nothing so pleasant, so simple, so quick to relieve, so absolutely sure to permanently cure. Accept no substitute. Large size lasts two months, and costs $1.00; small size 50c; sample trial size 25c; at all dealers.

In the absence of real cork, stoppers are being made in Norway from a quick growing pine wood, the upper parts swelling after they have been punched.

Advice to Girls

By Miss Rosalind

Registered according to the Copyright Act

Miss Rosalind welcomes letters from young women asking for advice on any subject. All you have to do is to address your letter to

MISS ROSALIND,

34 King William St., Hamilton, Ont.

Dear Rosalind:

Those letters of advice are very good as I have been following them up. I am troubled about one thing. I have been going with a boy for a couple of years. He is a very happy-go-lucky boy and doesn't seem to care about what he says to young girls. My family think very highly of him, but do not know him as well as I. Would you advise me to keep on going with him as my family wishes or would you stop and not pay any attention to him? Trusting you will give me the best of your advice.

TRIXY.

P. S.—I am only seventeen years of age.

Dear Trixy:

Follow your own better feelings, which surely tell you this boy is no fit companion for you. Tell your mother why you do not want to continue this friendship, and I know she will agree with you.

ROSALIND.

Dear Rosalind:

You give such excellent advice I thought I would write too. I am old enough to have boy friends but there is one especially that I would like to enter on my list of friends. He is a very nice and manly boy, and my mother approves of him. How will I try to make him like me? Will I try to seem unfriendly to him or not as if I didn't care if he became my friend or not? I like him very much.

PERPLEXED.

Dear Perplexed:

Sincerity is the foundation of friendship. If you pretend that you do not care for this boy's friendship you will not be sincere. Even to pretend may hurt you yourself and make you less worthy to be a friend. Such a long sermon I am preaching but I do want my girls and boys and men and women to become real friends to each other and if they are that, then they will develop fine, noble characters. I take it for granted that you have been introduced to the young man you speak of, and that you know him fairly well. When the opportunity comes, invite him to call at your home. Make his call as interesting as you can in a general way. Keep away from all "going with" ideas and establish that chumship which is so much better.

ROSALIND.

Dear Miss Rosalind:

After reading your beneficial and inspiring advice to youths, I am my-

I'VE seen you where you never were—
I know you don't believe me,
But peep into your looking glass—
Now—did my eyes deceive me?

Find two other mirror gazers Right side down, on dress; upper side down, along hair.

Dear Rosalind: I am a girl of sixteen, have gone through High School, failing in Third form. I now have a position in an office in a small village. My parents object to me keeping company with young men, even once in a while. There are two young men who pay a great deal of attention to me, and are of good family. Should I go with one of them regardless of my parents' wishes, or should I ask my parents to allow me to go once in a while with a boy friend? Can you tell anything of one's character through their writing? If so, would you be so kind? Also, one of these boy friends did not call me up for a long time, and lately he has called up again. Does that show he cares for me? With best wishes for the year now dawning.

A WEARY GIRL.

Dear Weary Girl:

Have a real heart to heart talk with your mother and dad. Present your case to them so that they will see that every girl has the right to entertain her friends in her own home and her own family circle. If she does not meet boy friends at her own house, where can she go? And youth craves the companionship of youth. I am sure you will gain your point if you go about it right. I have troubles enough now, dear girl without telling my readers' characters by means of their handwriting. If the young man calls you up occasionally, he may be interested, or he may have had nothing else to do. It doesn't do to put too much stress on trifles. Thanks for the good wishes!

ROSALIND.

Dear Rosalind:

When a girl is out walking in company with a young man, if he should have occasion to go into a store, should she accompany him or should she wait outside until he returns? Thanking you in advance for your reply.

PUZZLED MAE.

Dear Girl:

It is a case where you must use your own judgment. It is quite all right to accompany your escort into a store, unless the action is likely to cause your embarrassment.

ROSALIND.

Dear Rosalind:

I have been a constant reader of your letters and think they are well worth publication. Allow me to make a suggestion. Let everyone writing letters give name, age and address, so that others may correspond with them if they wish. Do you think it would be a good plan?

JAY.

Dear Jay:

Your correspondence idea is alright, and is already largely practiced in the column. But I keep to myself the real names and addresses, since to publish them would violate many confidences regarded by me as sacred. I have made a note of your name and will exchange it with those who send me stamped, addressed envelopes. You write such a nice letter that I hope you have heaps of answers.

ROSALIND.

Dear Rosalind:

I have often seen your advice in the paper, and thought it very good. I am fourteen years of age and know a boy of the same age. I used to go to school every day with him and liked him. Then I moved away and hardly ever see him, so I wanted to ask you if you thought it was wrong for me to write him? I have received several letters from him, and always answered them. Now please answer and tell me what you think. Wishing you a Happy New Year.

UNHAPPY.

Dear Little Girl:

Wouldn't you write to a dear girl chum without questioning the matter or testing it make you unhappy? Do just the same with the boy chum and think of him exactly that way.

ROSALIND.

Dear Rosalind:

Seeing other young girls asking you for advice I join the throng. I am a young girl of seventeen living in the country and I have a boy friend a few years my senior who was fourteen or fifteen miles from where I live. He comes to see me every week at my home. Now dear Rosalind would it be proper or not for me to serve lunch before his departure as I think it is a long drive in the cold and is it proper to be free with other boy friends as far as joking is concerned when out with your boy friend in company at concerts or such like gatherings? Thanking you in advance and wishing you and all your readers a bright and happy New Year. Your interest reader.

WEEB CHOKEN.

My Dear Girl:

By all means give the boy some hot cocoa or coffee and sandwiches or cake before he starts on that long cold drive. It is always a pleasant way to end an evening call. Be nice, friendly and good-natured with all your friends and at all times.

ROSALIND.

Dear Rosalind:

I have read your advice every week and I would like you to give me some. There is a young fellow coming to see me over a year and he is only 16 years old, and I am 18 and he wants me to get married and he has not much money but he is a steady worker and I think a lot of him, or is he too young to get married.

MAY.

My Dear May:

Surely you are not serious. A boy, sixteen, were he the steadiest worker there is a young fellow coming to talk of marriage. Help him save his money and improve his job until he is twenty-two, then write to me again.

ROSALIND.

"What the Farmer can do with Concrete"

Absolute cleanliness—a prime essential where milk is handled—is assured by the use of Concrete. It is easy to wash and keep clean and sanitary. Does not absorb heat in summer. Keeps out cold in winter. No cracks to harbor germs or dirt. No openings for rats. Concrete is permanent and fire-proof, requires no painting or repairs, cannot rust or decay.

These same advantages apply to the use of Concrete for other buildings on the farm, such as, silos, root cellars, foundations, floors, troughs, well covers. Our free book demonstrates the money-saving advantages of Concrete on the farm and shows how to build with it.

You Can't Put Flavor Into Ham

Curing and packing conserve and develop the natural flavor of Ham. It adds nothing to it. Duff's Special Cure retains all the natural juices and flavors. Duff's Cooked Ham for instance—ready to serve and slice—owes its popularity entirely to its superior flavor—flavor due to expert curing and just the right amount of cooking. All skin, bone and surplus fat is removed; it is economical, every ounce is good food. Fine for sandwiches, lunches or regular meals. Your grocer and butcher have it or can get it from us to-day.

Home Religion

To the Members of Grace Church.

Dear Brethern:

Our homes are the cradles of the oncoming generation. What will our children be? Earnest efforts are now being made to improve the religious life of our families. It is one result of our Forward Movement. An increasing tendency to push aside religion is plain to be seen. A thin veil of respectability often covers whatever church life there may be. While some business people are church going for whatever financial benefit they may derive therefrom. Some church going parents want just enough religion to keep their children from going morally wrong. It is to them a sort of insurance society. As a consequence of all this and much more a minimum amount of "religion" is observed.

There is no whole hearted consecration to the Lord Jesus. There is no religious conversation. It does not seem as if the children ought ever to think of Heaven. The whole aim of modern home training is to put the child in the way of money making. It is the "God of the world" instead of the Mighty Lord of Heaven and Earth. Brother, what about your Bible, your family, your blessing at meals.

Often only one or two members of the family attend church. The Pastor must be in his place and up-to-date. Much expense and trouble is incurred but one wonders how much longer services can be maintained. There must be progress or inevitable decay sets in.

Your Pastor is pleased to note some improvement in church life and in earnest devotion to the work by increasing numbers, but much improvement is still necessary. "Home Sweet Home" and the same home made sweet by the Maker, Redeemer and Sanctified of all true believers will foreshadow a life on earth of useful Christianity as well as the inexpressible joys of Heaven.

A Painter of History.

Mr. Robert Harris, C.M.G., who died in Montreal recently, had a long and distinguished career, chiefly as a figure and portrait painter. One of his best known works was "The Fathers of Confederation," executed under a commission from the Dominion Government. It contained the figures of thirty-three Canadian statesmen, and was regarded as an accurate representation of them and of great historical value. Unfortunately this painting, which hung for many years in the lobby at the main entrance to the House of Parliament, Ottawa, was destroyed in the fire. Among the offices which he held were President of the Royal Canadian Academy, 1893-1906; president of the Ontario Society of Artists and Director of the Art School, Montreal Art Association, 1882-87. He was created a C.M.G. in 1902.

CHAPTER IV. An Unexpected Call.

When Menzies fitted his form to the big armchair that flanked Foy's desk and raged a handful of reports secured by an elastic band from his breast pocket. Foyle snipped the end off a cigar and, leaning back, puffed out a blue cloud of smoke.

"It been quick work, though I say it myself," observed Menzies complacently, "especially considering it's a night job. This night work is poisonous—the way of getting about, you want, every one angry at being dragged out of bed, and all your people knocked out the next day, when they ought to be fresh."

Foyle flicked the ash from his cigar, and a mischievous glimmer shone in his blue eyes. "It's tough luck, Menzies. I know you hate this kind of thing. Now, there's Forester—he's got nothing in particular on. If you like—"

Menzies' heavy eyebrows contracted as he scrutinized his chief suspiciously. "Unfold gold would not have induced him to willing relax his hold of a case that interested him. 'I'm not shifting any job of mine on to any one else's shoulders, Mr. Foyle,' he said acidly."

"That's all right," said Foyle imperturbably, "go ahead."

Menzies tapped his pile of statements. "As far as I can tell down what we've got, this is how it stands: Miss Greye-Stratton was a retired West Indies merchant—dropped out of harness eighteen years ago and has lived like a hermit by himself in Limestone Terrace Gardens ever since. It seems there was some trouble about his wife. She was a widow named Errol when he married her, and she had one son.

"Five years before the crash there was a daughter born. Anyway, as I was saying, trouble arose, and he kicked his wife out, sent the baby girl abroad to be educated, and the boy—she would then be about twenty—with his mother. Well, the woman died a few years after. Young Errol came down to Greye-Stratton, kicked up a bit of a shindy, and was given an allowance on condition that he left the country.

"He went to Canada, and thence on to the States, and must have been a bit of a waster. A year ago he returned to England and turned up in Limestone Terrace Gardens. There was a row, and he went away swearing revenge. Old Greye-Stratton stopped supplies, and neither the lawyers nor any one else have seen anything of Errol since."

Foyle rolled a pencil to and fro across his blotting pad with the palm of his hand. He interrupted with no question. What Menzies stated as facts he knew the chief inspector would be able to prove by sworn evidence if necessary. He was merely summarizing evidence. The inference he allowed to be drawn, and so far as it seemed an inference that made fair to place a noose around young Errol's neck.

"We have got this," went on Menzies, "from people in Limestone Terrace Gardens, from Greye-Stratton's old servants, from the house agents from whom he rented his house, and from Pembroke of Pembroke and Stephens, who used to be his solicitors. Greye-Stratton was seventy years old, as deaf as a beetle and as eccentric as a monkey.

"I don't believe he has kept any servant for more than three months at a stretch—we have traced out a dozen, and there must be scores more. But it is only lately that he has taken to accusing them of being in a plot to murder him. The last cook he had he made taste everything she prepared in his presence."

"He had no friends in the ordinary way, and few visitors. Twice within the last year he has been visited by a woman, but who or what she was he does not know. She came evidently by appointment, remaining half an hour and went away."

"Practically all his business affairs had been carried on by correspondence, and he was never known to destroy a letter. Yet we have found few documents in the house that can have any bearing on the case, except possibly this, which was found in the fire-grate of the little bedroom he habitually used."

He extracted from the pile of statements a square of double glass, which he passed to Foyle. It contained several charred fragments of writing paper, with a few detached words and letters discernible:

J. E. Gre... Will see mother to her dear...ous swine...

"Errol's writing?" queried Foyle. "I haven't got a sample yet, but I've little doubt of it. Now, here's another. It was Greye-Stratton's custom to lock up the house every night at dusk himself. He would go round with a revolver and see to every one of the bolts and fastenings, and no one was allowed in or out thereafter. It was one of the grievances of the servants that they were prisoners soon after four o'clock each day in winter. And though he always slept with that revolver under his pillow, we can't find it.

"There's another thing. Greye-Stratton had a little study, where he spent most of the day, and there was a safe built into the wall. It may mean nothing or anything, but the safe was open and there was not a thing in it. Now, we have been able to discover no one who has ever seen that safe open before. It's curious, too, in view of Hallett's story about the checks, that we have not been able to lay our hands on a single thing that refers to a banking transaction—not so much as a paying-in book or a bunch of counterfoils."

"The doctors say the old man was shot about three hours before we got there. That would be about half-past nine. I don't know how Hallett struck you, Mr. Foyle, but according to his own account he must have arrived at Limestone Terrace Gardens at nine."

Foyle rubbed his chin thoughtfully. "You mean he may have been there when the shot was fired?"

Menzies made an impatient gesture. "I don't know. He may have got in immediately afterward. I own freely I don't quite take in this yarn, and yet the man struck me as genuine. He's got good credentials, and if he's mixed up with the murder why did he 'phone to me?"

"Search me," said Foyle. "What about the daughter? You said there was a girl?"

Menzies stuck his thumbs in the sleeve holes of his waistcoat. "That's another queer point. She was brought up abroad, and scarcely ever saw the old man. Pembroke says she spent her holidays with an old couple down in Sussex, to whom he had instructions to pay three hundred pounds a year. When she left school he had the allowance paid to her direct. She had a taste for painting, and was apparently quite capable of looking after herself. For two years she has not called or given any instructions about the allowance."

"He wrote to Greye-Stratton, who retorted that it was none of his business—that the allowance would be paid over to his firm, and that if the girl did not choose to ask for it, it could accumulate. He did not seem at all concerned at her disappearance. Take it from me, Mr. Foyle, we shall run across some more damned funny business before we get to the bottom of this. There's not even a ghost of a finger-print. If only we can find Errol—"

Foyle was too old a hand to offer conjecture at so early a stage of the case. Nor did Menzies seem to expect any advice. Hard as he had driven the investigation during the night, the ground was not yet cleared. Until he had all the facts in his possession it was useless to absolutely pin himself to any one line of reasoning.

There was now one man who on known facts might have committed the murder. But plausible as was the supposition that Errol was the man, the detectives knew that at best it was only a suspicion. And suspicion now-a-days does not commit a man. It does not always justify an arrest. There must be evidence, and so far there was not a scrap of proof that Errol had been within a thousand miles of Limestone Terrace Gardens on the night of the murder.

Teach the young idea how to shoot, but don't afford, a clear conscience, for instance.

TO WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

This Woman's Letter Tells You How To Pass The Crisis Safely.

Lascelles, P. Q.—"During the Change of Life I felt so weak and run down I could hardly do my work. The perspiration would pour over my face so that I couldn't see what I was doing. We live on a farm, so there is lots to do, but many who felt as I did would have been in bed. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did me a world of good. I tried other remedies but I put Vegetable Compound ahead of them all, and I tell every one I know how much good it has done me."—Mrs. DUNCAN BROWN, Lascelles, Prov. Quebec.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dizziness, impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ear, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness should be heeded by middle-aged women, and let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carry them safely through this crisis as it did Mrs. Brown.

You are invited to write for free advice. No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Keeping Fit

By DR. SAMUEL HAMILTON.

It is because of the war that the perfect physical man has all at once become the idol of the world. You can make of yourself, even rather late in life, almost anything you like. You are not going to get fit in one day, one month, or, perhaps, a year, unless you take enough outdoor exercise to keep the circulation going and practise the athlete's first principle—to keep the system clean. He does not give his body a chance to absorb poisons. He not only takes his cold shower, after exercise, but he knows a cleansing of the intestines is important, and he takes occasionally a good regulator and liver cleanser, such as a dose of castor oil, or, what is much better, a tiny pill made up of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and sold by almost all druggists in the land as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Keep the kidneys in good order also.

Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking "Anuric" (anti-uric-acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store.

Send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headaches, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. Take heed, before too late! Get Anuric (anti-uric-acid), for it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Ask your nearest druggist for it or send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package of "Anuric."

LIVE STOCK REPORTS

Toronto (Union Stock Yards):—

Sales during the week consisted of 6,162 cattle, 538 calves, 3,329 sheep and 4,807 hogs, whilst 409 hogs were received on through billing. With approximately 3,700 cattle on sale on Monday, trading opening very drab and before much of the cattle had passed over the scales, prices had dropped a good 50 cents per hundred.

A few choice heavy steers sold from $10 to $10.50, choice butchers from $9 to $10, good from $8 to $8.50, and $8 to $9, good cows from $7 to $8 and fair from $5 to $6.50. Canners sold from $3.00 to $3.50, and cutters from $4 to $4.50. Good bulls with not too much weight sold from $8 to $8.50, heavy bulls from $7 to $7.50, and the more common grades from $5 to $6.50. The milder and springer trade, while unchanged in price, showed very drab. Under a light run during the balance of the week, cattle prices closed about steady. The stocker and feeder market remained very inactive. Farmers appear to be holding off until the market becomes a little more settled. The quality of the cattle throughout the week was fair but many loads of good bred cattle were on the market in a half-finished condition. With an additional sixty to ninety days' feed, most of these would be fat. With a light run of calves on the market for the week all classes sold at steady prices on the basis of the previous week's close. Choice veal sold from $15 to $17, medium $12 to $15, common $8 to $12 and grass calves $6 to $7. The demand is for choice quality veal and it appears that these will continue to bring good prices.

With a fair run of sheep and lambs on the market, sales were a trifle easier with choice grain-fed lambs selling from $12 to $12.50, choice yearlings from $8 to $9, and a few as high as $10. Choice heavy-weight sheep moved from $7 to $8, and heavy fat sheep and bucks from $6.50 to $6.50. Heavy lambs and very thin lambs were hard to move. Choice sheep seem to be in very good demand and sell readily.

There has been a fairly good run of hogs on the market and on Monday they sold as high as $16, fed and watered. Local buyers have endeavored to lower prices for some time and on Wednesday bid $16.25, fed and watered. Apparently, they would not bid any more with the result that outside buyers obtained the majority of the hogs at $16. On Thursday, fed and watered hogs sold from $15.25 to $15.75. The future of the hog market appears to be unsettled.

Sores Flee Before It.—There are many who have been afflicted with sores and have driven them away with Dr. Thomas' Eucletic Oil. An similarly troubled should use no time in applying this splendid remedy, as there is nothing like it to be had. It is cheap, but its power is in no way expressed by its low price.

CANADA'S FUTURE OF GREAT PROMISE

ONLY CONFIDENCE NEEDED, DE-CLARES MINISTER OF FINANCE.

"Canada is in a first rate position relatively today, if we would only believe it," declared Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, in an address filled with optimism which he delivered at the convention banquet of the Canadian Shoe Manufacturers' Association at Toronto. "We are in a first rate relative position today if we would only take advantage of it. We are in the position that with our country intact, with our population increasing slightly already, but sure to increase still more rapidly in the future by reason of the immigration drawn not only by the fertile fields of the West, but by the great undeveloped resources of Canada everywhere, we are bound to see this country go ahead if the Canadian people will only have it so and unitedly determine upon it."

The Mystery of Gout.

SOME INTERESTING POINTERS FROM THE PEN OF DR. HAMILTON.

"The real cause of gout is due to the excessive use of certain articles of food and drink, which in time leads to a disturbance of the functions of the liver. As a result harmful products such as uric acid are thrown into the blood, causing the condition known as gout."

"Consequently it follows that, having proper diet and maintaining liver activity, a cure can be effected."

"Probably no physician has observed such success in liver disease as Dr. Hamilton."

His pills of Mandrake and Butter-but are everywhere acknowledged to be a specific for slow, weak or sluggish liver; they give tone and vitality to the organ that enables it to perform its duties with ease and certainty.

Once the liver is corrected, Dr. Hamilton's Pills apply their peculiar merit to the kidneys and eliminating organs. This cleanses the blood and sends it back through the system, full of nourishment and strength.

Rheumatic tendencies are no longer noticed, for pure blood kills the poison that causes rheumatic aches, twinges, aching twinges, stiff joints, and difficulty of exertion become things of the past.

Of course by rheumatism such complaints as sciatica, lumbago and neuralgia must be included, for after all, what are they but manifestations of rheumatic poison?

Thus it is easily seen that a world of good is accomplished by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Acting as a blood regulator and a general tonic for the system their benefit is incalculable. 25c per box or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, and be sure you get the genuine Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

A. P. Gundy, principal of Galt College Institute, has been appointed to the senate of the University of Toronto.

FERTILIZERS ON CORN PAY HANDSOMELY.

Long time experiments in corn growing sections show material increases to be possible if fertilizer of high grade is applied in sufficient quantities. Four leading American Agricultural Experiment Stations have shown it possible to increase corn yields by an average of 21.7 bushels per acre. At the same time the increase in fodder on the same blocks exceed one-half ton. Such increases if made on the average Ontario farm would be of enormous value. An interesting test in this regard was carried on last summer in Dundas County, close to the town of Winchester by Mr. Christie, the report of which is as follows:

From applying 200 lbs. per acre of 3-8-3 fertilizer there was an increase of two tons per acre, from 400 lbs. of 3-8-3 there was an increase of five tons per acre. The corn was well ripened and well eared. An earlier report records the fact that "the beneficial effect of fertilizers could be distinctly noted. Each fertilized plot was taller and of a dark green color."

Maturity and Feeding Quality.

Early maturity has a direct bearing on feeding quality of corn. A long-time careful experiment, conducted by Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station, Ind. (Bulletin 175), showed that by ripening from the silk stage to corn ripe for ensilage, the protein in the silage was increased from 30 to 50 per cent, while the carbohydrates and starch were increased from 168 to over 200 per cent. Ripened corn means smaller grain bills. You can get it by fertilizing this year's crop.

Internally and Externally it is Good.—The crowning property of Dr. Thomas' Eucletic Oil is that it can be used internally for many complaints as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pain in the chest, colic and many kindred ailments it has curative qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

Two ways of putting it—"That girl is certainly a good looker." "Yes, she's out of sight."

Mother Graves' Worm Expeller will drive worms from the system without injury to the child, because its action, while fully effective, is mild.

Contrary to the somewhat prevalent opinion that the male teacher in public schools is gradually disappearing, figures issued by Chief Inspector Cowley, of the Toronto Board of Education, show that in the past four years the number of male teachers in Toronto public schools has increased by 79 per cent. Fifty-one were added to the staff in 1920. In 1917 there were 145 male and 1,234 female teachers in the city schools. At the close of 1920 the number of the former had increased to 260 while that of the latter had grown only to 1,308.

What Their Geographies Taught About Canada.

Germany has captured all the United States and a part of Canada, startlingly announces the Rocky Mountain News. The conquest took place ten years ago, all on the quiet and unknown to the inhabitants. The Kaiser at the time admitted the occupation and subjection of this territory and issued maps for the edification of the little Huns in the public schools of the fatherland, whose gullibility left them believing that the select and rich parts of the world belonged "by divine right" to the German people, and all the rest was inhabited by swine and heathen.

But America has at last come to the full knowledge of its predicament by reference to page 55 map No. 1, of the Volkshul-Atlas von C. Diercke (public school atlas), used in the schools of Germany ten years ago.

As the youthful Hun struggled through his geography lesson he became "enlightened" about the world. He knew Germany, for he had seen the great pompous dignity of its emperor reviewing the imperial troops, Germany was a reality to the child. But about the rest of the world, Bah! They were heathen and "low brows." And then the teacher came to page 5 of the lesson and then to map No. 1. It is titled "Verteilung der Menschenschichten," or the division of the human race. In great, stirring red ink the pupil was at once attracted to a vast area covering the whole of the United States and almost half of Canada.

And across the whole was written "Germanen," meaning Germans. To the north was a strip of green designating that there was the home of the "Noramerikanische Indianer," meaning the North American Indians.

But the skillful art of lying, even in the face of an untruth, because they thought they could get away with it, led the authorities of Germany to step farther, and, behold, the race that gave to Germany the first knowledge of telephones and telegraphs, the submarine and airplane, through American inventions, was transformed into "heathen."

Map No. 2 on page 5 shows the western hemisphere in another light—that of the division of religions. Here the miracle of miracles is being worked, for in a heathen country German missionaries are battling the elements and savagery of a hideous race to plant the imperial and holy flag of Germany upon its soil and to bring "Christian" enlightenment to their unholy souls.

Across the face of the United States and Canada dark shaded places are shown, with a footnote reading "Gebiet deutscher Heidenmissionen," meaning spheres of influence of German missionaries to the heathen.

ESTIMATES OF YIELD.

Detail of Figures on Canadian Field Crops Show Decline.

Following is the detailed statement of Canadian crop yields, as issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, from reports of correspondents at the end of September:

The total yield of wheat in Canada is now placed at 193,688,800 bushels, including 174,687,000 bushels of spring wheat and 19,001,800 bushels of fall wheat. Upon the acreage sown the average yield per acre is 16½ bushels for spring wheat, 23¼ bushels for fall wheat and 11¼ bushels for all wheat. In 1918 the total yield of wheat was 189,075,350 bushels, or 11 bushels per acre. For oats the average yield per acre for Canada is 27 bushels, representing a total of 399,368,000 bushels as compared with last year's average of 28½ bushels and a total of 426,312,500 bushels. Barley, with an average of 22 bushels, yields 66,443,500 bushels, as against last year's average of 24½ bushels and total of 77,287,249 bushels. Rye with an average yield per acre of 14½ bushels yields the total of 8,234,100 bushels as against 15¼ bushels and 8,594,400 bushels in 1918. The yields in 1919 for the three prairie provinces are estimated at 161,419,000 bushels of wheat, 246,856,000 bushels of oats, 46,412,000 bushels of barley, and 5,954,000 bushels of rye.

The quality at harvest time of the principal grain crops for Canada expressed in percentages of the previous ten years was as follows: Fall wheat, 96 (89); spring wheat, 91 (99); fall wheat, 92 (98); oats, 99 (94); barley, 89 (97); rye, 92 (92); peas, 91 (95); beans, 95 (82); buckwheat, 96 (86); mixed grains, 94 (98); flax, 93 (92), and corn for husking, 94 (89). The figures within parentheses represent the quality of the crops in 1918.

The average condition of root and fodder crops in Canada at the end of September, expressed in percentages of the decennial average, was as follows, with last year's figures for comparison placed within parenthesis: Potatoes, 95 (53); turnips, mangolds, etc., 91 (96); sugar beets, 85 (97); fodder corn, 95 (92); alfalfa, 91 (89). By provinces potatoes appear to be best in Quebec, 103, the other provinces ranging as follows: Saskatchewan, 97; New Brunswick and Alberta, 96; Nova Scotia, 94; Prince Edward Island, 93; British Columbia, 90; Manitoba, 89, and Ontario 81.
