LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The publishers of THE ACADIAN are not necessarily in sympathy with all the views expressed in the letters below.—Ed.)

MR. DEWITT FOSTER AND THE TORONTO GLOBE

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:—You published in your last issue a copy of a demand made by the Toronto Globe, that Mr. Meighen ask Mr. DeWitt Foster to "Stand aside", that "his candidature is an insult to the true spirit of Canadianism".

The Globe's arraignment of Mr. Foster for a violation of the True Spirit of Canadianism creates a new offence, not recognized in the ten commandments, the moral law, the common law or any other law, whereof the public has cognizance. The Globe having un-veiled a new crime, ought to define what it means, so that hereafter Mr. Foster can take warning and walk in the true spirit of Canadianism.

In the absence of anything more specific, I beg to ask what it is the Globe ventures to allege? That Mr. Foster sought or asked any personal favor of the Government? Was he guilty of any fraud? Did he pocket any public money illicitly? Did he venture into public life with empty pockets, and when he retired had them filled with mysteriously obtained wealth as some of the Globe's proteges have done? If not, where does the "True spirit of Canadianism" come in? Any offence can be alleged against Mr. Foster in so frivolous and childish, it hangs out the above expression as a sort of scare-crowd to frighten off some of the unco-guid.

The Globe refers to "Sir Robert Borden's solemn words spoken on a memorable afternoon in Parliament". Let us see what Sir Robert said.

Did he accuse Mr. Foster of any moral offence or of being implicated in any transaction for his own benefit? He did not. He, in express language, excupated Mr. Foster from any such imputation. How then does the "Globe", without accusing Mr. Foster of any misdemeanor, use veiled language intended to convey the idea that Mr. Foster was morally unfit to go to Parliament? Such journalism is indecent and vile. It is a sort of political warfare that is to be despised, for it hits below the belt.

Mr. Foster's offense was not moral, but an infringement of the Statute to preserve the Independence of Parliament.

When the Upper Provinces were filling orders for 8,000 horses, being purchased for the First Contingent, Mr. Foster obtained from Col. Neill, of the War Department, an order for a portion for the farmer to the Kings, which he handed over to Mr. T. Woodworth, a dealer who was also engaged in the business in Quebec.

As no member under the Act can have any monetary dealings with the Government, Mr. Foster was excupated because he tried to be of some benefit to his constituents—an offense not since committed by members, who ignoring Maritime interests considered it their only duty to vote early and often with the Government and pocket the $4,000 indemnity. Sir Robert Borden stated: "A credit of a very considerable sum, about $73,000, was established and eventually paid out for horses purchased in Nova Scotia. The honorable member for Kings County was not the only person employed in the Province of Nova Scotia or in the Maritime Provinces. Major L. B. Anderson purchased horses to the number of 196 in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The honorable member for Kings, N. S., purchased horses to the number of 428 in Nova Scotia. Mr. Walter Crowe and Mr. E. C. Thurston purchased horses to the number of 20 in Cape Breton; and Mr. H. B. McLeod and Mr. E. L. Thurston purchased horses to the number of 116 somewhere in the Maritime Provinces. I do not know precisely where.

Prices paid for horses: Mr. L. B. Anderson in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island average $225.70; Mr. W. Crowe and E. L. Thurston, $187.50; H. B. McLeod and E. L. Thurston, $96.64; Mr. Foster and associates, $170.64.

Mr. Foster was appointed by Col. Neill, the principal veterinary officer, as were also these other gentlemen to whom I have alluded. I may point out that all the other gentlemen who were appointed to purchase horses in the Maritimes were, I am informed, members of the Liberal party.

Colonel Neill never should have appointed Mr. Foster, and Mr. Foster never should have accepted the appointment.

LARGE CROWD IN TOWN TUESDAY EVENING

When Drawing for "Community Sale" Prizes Took Place

Wolfville merchants are enthusiastic over the success of the "Community Sale" recently put on and which ended on Tuesday evening. At 9 o'clock on that evening the drawing of the twelve prizes of $150 in gold was held at the bandstand on Main street. There was an immense crowd of people in town for the occasion and the proceedings passed off without a hitch. Mr. J. W. Williams was in charge and proved an ideal chairman and announcer. The duplicate coupons were placed in a barrel and thoroughly stirred before the drawing was done by Principal Silver, Rev. J. H. Barrs and Mr. Carl Starr, of Port Williams, were called from the crowd and acted as scrutineers. The bandstand was brilliantly lighted and with the new street lights recently installed made it an easy matter for those holding coupons to consult their numbers.

All coupon holders with the exception of the merchants, their families, and their employees, were entitled to the prizes. The result of the drawing was as follows:

No. 25736 won the first prize of fifty dollars which went to Mrs. B. O. Davidson, and was presented to Mr. F. W. Davidson, who held the coupon for her. The second prize of twenty-five dollars was won by Mrs. James Kehoe, of White Rock, with No. 19287. The third prize of fifteen dollars was won by Dr. Grant, who held No. 9740. The three ten dollar prizes were won by: A. McKinnon, A. C. A., No. 2919. P. W. Davidson, Wolfville, No. 28820. Mrs. George Anderson, Wolfville, No. 14174. The six $5.00 prizes went to: J. M. Davison, Grand Pre, No. 14550. Miss M. Walsh, Wolfville, No. 24131. George L. Bishop, Greenwich, No. 3281. Owen Burbridge, Town Plot, No. 23810. Dr. Grant, Wolfville, No. 12626. Miss Ella Warren, Wolfville, No. 19624.

In all something like 30,000 coupons were disposed of during the sale and these must have been distributed among a large number of people representing many sections, judging by the crowd of people and cars who were in town on Tuesday evening.

NOTICE

Whereas the question as to the eligibility of any person to win a prize in our "Community Sale" has arisen, we desire to quote the conditions which appeared in the announcement advertising the same: "No merchants, their families nor their employees will be entitled to any prize." The employees' families were therefore eligible, and the undersigned members of the committee having the affair in hand are convinced that there is no question as to the winners of all the prizes being qualified under those conditions, and are perfectly satisfied with the manner in which the whole proceedings were carried out.

MUSICAL TREAT AT UNIVERSITY HALL

Concert Given by Vannini Symphony Ensemble was Greatly Enjoyed by Music Lovers of Wolfville and Vicinity

The annual visit of the Vannini Symphony Ensemble is always looked forward to by the music lovers of Wolfville and vicinity, but the concert given at University Hall last Thursday evening, under the auspices of Acadia Conservatory of Music, was by far the best ever presented here by that well known company of musicians, which is composed of thirteen members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The whole program was greatly enjoyed by the audience, which, however, was not as large as it should have been, considering the high quality of the entertainment. It is a great pity that the people of this section do not more appreciate the service which the Conservatory is rendering when they bring here such an organization, and patronize the concerts accordingly. Every year the Conservatory loses money on the undertaking.

The program presented last Thursday evening was as follows: Overture. Roman Carnival. Berlioz Largo, from New World's Symphony.

In the Village Ivanov Suite Coppélia Delsbe. (a) Festival Dance and Valse of the Hours (b) zarzas (c) zardas (d) Ballade Chopin (e) Chant Polonais Chopin-List (f) Seguidilla Albeniz

Mr. Sanroma Final of Scheherazade, Rimsky-Korsakow Dance of the Hours Ponschilli. The whole program was a delight. Mr. Vannini, the conductor, was given an ovation, and the success was due both for the whole group and for the wonderful young pianist, J. M. Sanroma, who though only 22 years of age, has attained to such a degree of virtuosity that he has been soloist with the Boston Symphony and other great orchestras.

DEATH OF MRS. C. P. WILSON

News has been received of the death of a well known Wolfville lady, Mrs. (Rev.) C. P. Wilson, which occurred on Sept. 21st, at the home of her son at Grandford, New Jersey. During the past year or more Mrs. Wilson has been in bad health, following a serious operation. In July last she went to visit her son, with the hope that amid new scenes her condition might improve. Her passing is learned of with sorrow by many friends in this town.

Mrs. Wilson belonged to Oxford, N.S. She was educated in Acadia Ladies' Seminary, and with her husband who held several pastorates, lived in Cheggogin, N. S., Boiestown, N. B., and Gibson, N. B. In recent years she resided in Wolfville, while her husband conducted evangelistic services in various parts of Eastern Canada and the United States. She was a woman of high character and attainments and took a deep interest in church work. Besides her husband she leaves one son, Harold, who holds a responsible educational position in New Jersey; and one daughter, Marie, a concert singer, who makes her home in New York city.

DR. ZWICKER KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Which Occurred at Railway Crossing Near Windsor Last Friday Morning

When the news reached Wolfville last Friday morning that Dr. F. G. Zwicker and son Jack, of Port Williams, who in company with Mr. Alfred F. Haliburton, of Halifax, had left home that morning to motor to the city, had met with a serious accident at DeWolfe's Crossing, three miles from Windsor, it came to citizens as a bolt from the blue. Only a short time before the party had been seen passing through town, and it seemed incredible that they could so soon have come to grief.

The day, it will be remembered, was rainy, and it is supposed that with the curtains up to protect the passengers none of the occupants of the car observed the approaching train until too late. When the danger was finally realized by young Zwicker, who was driving, he swerved to the left in the endeavor to reach a nearby field before the train reached the crossing, but in this he was unsuccessful, the engine crashing into the car when halfway across the track. Dr. Zwicker was on his son's right receiving the full force of the impact. The car, a big Durant, was hurled to the left down the steep bank and the three men violently thrown out. The train was immediately stopped and medical assistance summoned, when the engine was also cut about the face of Dr. Zwicker who was on his son's right receiving the full force of the impact. They were at once conveyed to the hospital where it was found that Dr. Zwicker had received fatal internal injuries and that Mr. Haliburton had an arm and a leg broken and received numerous cuts and bruises. Young Zwicker was also cut about the face and received a severe nervous shock.

Mrs. Zwicker was summoned and immediately left, reaching Windsor shortly after her husband had passed away. The remains were taken on Saturday morning to Halifax, where the funeral was held on Sunday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. Archdeacon Armitage, assisted by Rev. Harry Zwicker, a friend of many years and who had been groomsman at the marriage of the deceased. There was a very large attendance and the floral tributes were exceedingly numerous and beautiful, among them being a very fine design from the Port Williams Fruit Co., of which the late Dr. Zwicker was a director. Interment was in Camp Hill Cemetery.

Dr. Zwicker was one of the best known residents of this section and his tragic death came as a great shock to his many friends. A native of Mahone Bay he resided for several years in Halifax, where he married a Miss Mahon, daughter of J. C. Mahon, one of the founders of Mahons Limited. Besides his wife he is survived by one son, who was with him at the time of the accident, and one daughter, Miss Edith. He was 48 years of age. Some years ago Dr. Zwicker purchased the Okey place on Belcher Street, where he and his family made their summer home. They recently spent a winter in Wolfville, where many friends whom they there made, sympathize deeply with the sorrowing family.

ACADIA OPENS WITH RECORD ATTENDANCE

140 New Students Registered and Total Enrollment Expected to be Over 400

Acadia University began another year of work yesterday, when the registration of students took place. There has been a deluge of applications and all the dormitories are already full. It is expected that the attendance during the present year will be over 400, the largest in the history of the College. To date 370 registrations have been made. There are 140 new students including those who will do special work. A "New Student Week" which was inaugurated this year, proves to be a most popular feature. This opened on Friday, Sept. 25th, and continued until the end of the month. During that time physical and psychological examinations were made, a Faculty reception was held and registration of the members of the class took place. Opportunity was given for consultation with the deans and professors regarding proposed courses.

Some of the lectures delivered during the week were: "Aims of a College Course", Dean Thompson. "Acadia, Its History, Traditions and Ideals", Dr. DeWolfe.

"The Several Partners in a University Enterprise", President Patterson. "How to Study", Dean Spidle. "Budgeting One's Time", Dr. Hutchings.

"Use and Misuse of Athletics", Professor Osborne. "Meaning and Value of Student Organizations", Prof. Rogers. "The Use and Misuse of a University Library", Dr. Rothelizer.

A series of group lectures on the subject "Why Arts We Here?" was given to the theological students by Dr. MacDonald; to the Arts and Science students by Prof. Balcom; to the Applied Science students by Dean Sutherland.

Addresses on "The Mistakes of a College Course" were delivered by Professor Whistlock, Dean Perry, Dean Thompson and Prof. Wetmore. Recent faculty appointments are as follows:

Mrs. McLean, who was instructor in public speaking during the past year, is adding to her duties the work of Dean of Women.

Miss Frances McNally, B.Sc., M.A., becomes head of the Department of Household Economics. Miss McNally is a graduate of Columbia, where she received the degree of B.Sc. and M.A. in household economics. She has taken advanced work in the pedagogy of household economics and in administration and has been head of this department at Guelph Agricultural College for some years.

Thomas A. Hancock, M.A., Ph.D., will be Professor of Psychology and Education. Dr. Hancock is a graduate of McGill University and of Hartford Theological Seminary. His graduate work in Psychology and Education was done at Clark University, under G. Stanley Hall.

Prof. A. P. Tuller, M.A., will teach Romance Languages. Mr. Tuller took his undergraduate work at Yale University and his graduate work at Chicago University.

Professor Ralph H. Wetmore, Ph.D., whose appointment to the Department of Biology was announced last year, has been here for some weeks carrying on research work. After receiving the degree of Ph.D. from Harvard University, Dr. Wetmore was awarded a research scholarship of $2500 by the Washington government, and during the past year he was doing research work at Harvard University. The problem upon which he has been working has been recognized to justify a further expenditure of time. Dr. Wetmore, in addition to teaching in the Department of Biology, will continue his research in this special field.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

FIRE WASTE is one of the most serious economic problems which confront the people of this country at the present time. Authoritative statistics show that the amount annually lost to Canada in insurable property destroyed by fire exceeds forty-five millions of dollars. Every year three hundred and fifty residents of this country lose their lives as a result of fire. It is not surprising, therefore, that the government feels called upon to do all in its power to prevent this waste which in most cases would be unnecessary if proper precautions were taken.

The week beginning on Monday, Oct. 4th, and ending on Oct. 10th has been set aside by royal proclamation as "Fire Prevention Week" in Canada. During that week it is urged that lessons on fire prevention subjects should be given in the public schools and that wherever possible public meetings should be held for the purpose of promoting this movement to better conserve the resources of the country and its people. Owners and occupants of property everywhere throughout Canada will be counselled to give special attention to the removal of fire hazards from their premises. Seeing that at least seventy-five per cent. of all fires are caused by carelessness and can therefore be prevented, it is the obvious duty of those in authority everywhere to do all in their power to bring this matter to the attention of the people.

We trust that in Wolfville this year the occasion may not be allowed to pass without every effort that is possible being made to impress upon citizens the lessons which it is calculated to teach. The season approaches rapidly when stoves and furnaces unused during the summer months will again be put in operation, and as always prove a period of special menace, and anything that can be done to impress the fact upon the community generally will be well worth while.

VALUE OF CO-OPERATION PROVED

THE "community sale" put on by Wolfville business men and which came to an end on Tuesday evening proved to be a most pronounced success. It was the first concerted undertaking to promote the merchandising of goods which local merchants have put on for a number of years, and the result far exceeded the expectation of the most optimistic. Weather conditions during the two weeks were far from the best, and yet at a time when trade is usually rather slow, all the stores interested report greatly increased sales. Time was when "Merchants' Day" was an annual institution in Wolfville and attracted customers from far and near. Special inducements were offered and no doubt resulted in keeping at home orders that since in numerous cases have been going to foreign houses.

The experience of the past as well as during the recent sale indicates the value of co-operation on the part of our merchants in order that they may be in a position to collectively offer inducements as attractive or more so than mail-order houses are in a position to offer. Competition is said to be the life of trade, but co-operation—not with a view to maintaining high prices, but in order to be better prepared to sell good goods at right prices—is an even more effective factor. If as a result of the sale that has just closed a real get-together spirit is engendered it will do very much to promote community interests. Logically it is unquestionably to the best interests of all that our business-places should prosper and extend their operations, but this must not be at the expense of patrons, who have a perfect right to be considered.

TREATMENT OF COUNTY PRISONERS

ONE of the issues at the approaching municipal elections in this county should be the proposition to reform the method of handling minor criminals who are sentenced to either long or short terms of imprisonment. Electors, if they are wise, will see to it that it is so made. The present system of keeping these offenders in enforced idleness for months at a stretch is not only an economic mistake but operates to the injury of the prisoners themselves, who would be much better off physically and more comfortable in mind if kept reasonably employed. There is no reason why those who have transgressed necessary laws and disregarded community welfare should be maintained at the public cost while paying the penalty of their misdemeanor. They should at least be obliged to pay their way, and if possible contribute towards the welfare of the society which their acts have outraged.

We have too long been drifting in this as in other matters, and should now expect of the men who aspire to the public service that they be guided by the experience of other and better progressed communities, and apply such methods in our municipal affairs as will insure a more business-like and reasonable action.

MAIN STREET NOW EXCELLENTLY LIGHTED

WOLFVILLE'S new street-lighting system has been long on the way and has cost a considerable amount of money but is well worth waiting for and fully justifies its cost. The new lights were in operation for the first time on Friday evening, when Main Street presented a most creditable appearance. While yet uncompleted sufficient progress has been made to give a pretty good idea of what the town will look like when the finishing touches have been made and the system extended as it soon will be to the residential streets. Looked at either from a personal or civic standpoint, we believe the use of a liberal amount of electrical energy for lighting is good advertising. Citizens who have in days past complained of poorly lighted streets in Wolfville will gladly welcome the new condition of affairs and should not be unwilling to bear their share when it comes to finding the money to pay the necessary charges.

THE HOME PAPER

THE extent of the service which the home newspaper gives the community in which it circulates is pretty much the result of the co-operation which exists between the publisher, citizen and advertiser.

A town without a newspaper would be a pretty badly off sort of place; yet few people realize that the existence of a newspaper in any community is essentially dependent on the public for support in the way of news and subscriptions, and upon the advertiser for the life-blood of any newspaper—advertising.

The extent to which he is supported in these respects, consistent with the population and ability of the town, limits or expands, to a great extent, the power of the publisher to give good or poor service according to the attitude of his particular community.

CLARENCE BURDEN NAMED COACH OF U. N. B. RUGBY SQUAD

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 21.—Clarence B. Burden, who entered U. N. B. in 1913 and who after spending several years on overseas service during the Great War, including membership in the Russian expedition, graduated in 1920, was today elected head coach of the U. N. B. rugby squad. He has been one of U. N. B.'s outstanding rugby figures, having assisted in coaching since his graduation, but this is the first time he has been able to accept the appointment as chief coach.

The U. N. B. rugby squad had their first practice this afternoon at college field. More than forty players reported, including a whole team of freshmen, picked from the teams of the N. B. interscholastic rugby league of 1924. Fifteen players of the 1924 squad were eligible to vote in the selection of a coach for the 1925 team, only four players who figured in inter-collegiate games last year being missing from the squad this season. U. N. B. never had such an attractive list of promising material for inter-collegiate sports as included in this year's freshman class.

PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM KENTVILLE JAIL

Some years ago it was quite a common occurrence for prisoners to escape from the Kentville jail but of late no such departures have been reported until Sunday night of last week, when three men awaiting trial on charge of breaking and entering made a successful get away. The escape was discovered about 6.30 on Monday morning when it was found that John King, James McLeod and Jack MacDonald were missing. They had removed a heavy iron window weight with which they had managed to make an opening in a fourteen inch wall large enough to squeeze their bodies through. King was captured at Windsor on Monday evening, while MacLeod, who was in his company, got away. McLeod was arrested in Halifax.

R. L. GRAHAM PASSED AWAY LAST WEEK

The death occurred Sept. 23rd at his residence, Westwood avenue, of R. L. Graham, who has been in ill health for the past few years. The late Mr. Graham was the youngest son of the late Capt. James W. Graham and Jane Graham, of Dartmouth, having been born there 48 years ago. He started his business career with the Imperial Oil Company, at Dartmouth, and in 1910 became sales manager of the Consumers Cordage Co., Ltd. In March, 1915, at the death of Mr. Drury Mr. Graham became manager of the Consumers Cordage Company and he held that post until 1923 when ill health forced him to resign. He was seriously injured in the astrous explosion of 1917 and three years ago his health broke down and he was forced to go to the sanatorium at St. Agathe. He left that institution slightly recovered but never fully recovered his strength. For the last year or so Mr. Graham has resided at Wolfville.

He is survived by a wife, one step-daughter, Mrs. George W. Wilson, of Dartmouth, and one stepson, Walter, now attending Acadia College. Two brothers, Edward M. and Willard H., of Portland, Me., and one sister, Mrs. George N. Roome, of Dartmouth, also survive.

The late Mr. Graham was one of the best known business men in Nova Scotia. He was a member of Halifax Rotary Club and the first president of the Dartmouth Amateur Athletic Association and at one time secretary of the Dartmouth Park Commission. The deceased also was an ex-councillor in Dartmouth, and a former president of the Banook Club, as well as a member of the St. George's Tennis Club and the Brightwood Golf Club. He was a staunch member of St. James' United Church and at one time superintendent of the St. James Sunday School.

MRS. HENRY COLDWELL

Mrs. Henry Coldwell, whose death occurred at her home at Lower Wolfville on Tuesday Sept. 15th, was one of the oldest residents of this place. She was a daughter of the late Thomas Foster and was born nearly eighty-five years ago on the hill on the south of this town. Older residents well remember the old Foster home which stood until recently on the west side of Highland avenue just above where George Harris now lives. Her whole long life was spent in her native place, and her husband, the late Henry Coldwell, of Lower Wolfville, predeceased her many years ago.

The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Burbidge, pastor of the United Church at Grand Pre. She is survived by two brothers, Thomas Foster, of this town, and John Foster, living in Massachusetts, and one sister, Mrs. Bishop Palmer, of New Minas. Two daughters, Bessie and Clara, and six sons, Thomas, Ellis, Ernest, Harry, William and George remain.

MRS. DAVID DELONG

YARMOUTH, Sept. 15.—The death took place at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. F. Sabean, New Tusket, of Mrs. David DeLong, at the advanced age of 99 years. She had been in failing health since June, when she motored to Kemp, Queens county, and back. Her husband, two sons and a daughter predeceased her some years ago. Mrs. DeLong is survived by four sons: William, of California; Sylvanus, of Maine; Stuart and Spurgeon, of Kemp; five daughters, Mrs. G. P. Ringer, of Chicago; Mrs. H. A. Wheeler, of South Lincoln, Mass.; Mrs. C. F. Dodge, of Newcastle, Maine; Mrs. C. R. Nowlan, of Wolfville; Mrs. C. F. Sabean, of New Tusket, with whom she made her home; also a brother and a sister. The remains were forwarded to Kemp, Queens county, for interment.

EXPERIENCE OF A DOLLAR BILL

The Chicago Chamber of Commerce recently carried out an interesting experiment in order to trace what happened to a dollar bill within the short space of fourteen days. It put into circulation a new bill, with a circular attached asking every person into whose hand it came to make a note of the use he had made of it. By the end of the fortnight it had been spent thirty-one times—five times in payment of salaries or wages, five times for tobacco, five times for cigarettes, three times for meals, three times for candy, twice for shaves, twice for "men's furnishings", and once for collar buttons, automobile accessories, bacon, washing-powder, garters, and tooth paste respectively.

After shaving—Mina's Lintment.

The Rally Day services in the churches here on Sunday were exceedingly interesting and enjoyed by large congregations. Those taking part acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner.

The Rev. Dr. Dickie completed his ministry on Sunday morning in the United church, delivering a most eloquent and impressive sermon. Dr. Dickie, who was ordained on Dec. 22, 1869, has spent fifty-six years in the ministry, and during that time has only missed one service. He laboured in the following congregations—Sheet Harbour, Milford, Sackville and Hantsport. In the latter place he has laboured faithfully for thirteen years and his congregation regret to learn of his retirement. He has written a number of articles on various congregations in the Maritime provinces which are now being formed into a volume by his son, Rev. Gordon Dickie, of Vancouver.

JAZZ MUSIC AN "ABOMINATION"

So Declares Colonel Rogan, One of the Empire's Greatest Bandmasters

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—Jazz music was described as an "abomination" by Colonel MacKenzie Rogan, one of the Empire's greatest bandmasters, who spoke at the luncheon of directors of the Canadian National Exhibition today.

Queen Mary does not like Jazz, Colonel Rogan said, and soldiers in the trenches during the war always preferred good music to that "Ragtime bob-tail jazz."

Colonel Rogan told of having asked his band to play a "Jazz" number during a battle, for the Prince of Wales, after Queen Mary had inquired concerning this music. "Afterwards the Queen Mary said to me she never wanted to hear Jazz again."

Colonel A. E. Gooderham, of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, said that Eastern Canada was far behind in recognizing the value of cultural music, and regretted that music had no part in the High School system, particularly in Eastern Ontario.

EDITORIAL

While much publicity has been given to the possibility of the proposed new paper mill being located at Windsor, very little has been heard regarding the possibility of Hantsport being favored as the site of the much desired industry.

However, Mayor Wall and members of the Council, in conjunction with other public-spirited citizens, have been alive to the importance of the situation and have not failed to present the claims for recognition on the part of this town.

One advantage that Hantsport has over Windsor is the splendid water supply available which is not dependent upon the domestic service as is the case in the former town.

The matter has received close attention on the part of the local people and as a result of their efforts a government engineer was sent here to investigate conditions. At a special meeting of the Council which was held on Wednesday morning of last week the report of this enquiry was available. The amount of water in the Halfway River which it is proposed to use to supply the company which proposes to locate its plant here was found to be satisfactory in every way. Among those present at the meeting was Mr. R. A. Jodrey, of the Avon River Power Co., who from the first has shown much interest in Hantsport's case.

The able manner in which the affair has been handled in the interest of Hantsport is most commendable and those who have it in charge deserve the hearty thanks of citizens generally. The result of their efforts rests, of course, with the company, but in any event we have the satisfaction of knowing that our interests have not been neglected.

DIARY OF MARGARET D. MICHENER

March 10th, 1851. Mother received a letter from Robert and John brought it down for me to read; it is a beautiful letter. Mrs. Gould Davidson called in today and made me good-bye; they are moving to Paris; their goods are on board the "Rosalie"; their goods are on board at Mary's. Took a walk down to Abigail's. Curry is sick with fever and ague. Adah stayed all night with me.

11th. Mary spent the day at mother's. I went up after school. Mary Marsters and her sister Nancy were there. Just as tea was ready James Dickie came there, having left his sister Adelaide and cousins Nancy at Mrs. James'. So after tea we came down and I received a letter from Maria Dickie.

12th. Nancy and Adelaide lodged with me. When we awoke it was raining. They were fearful of the snow going off, so after having breakfast with Emily Ann they hurried away as soon as James came. It soon cleared up and turned cold. Ann was here today. Elmira called in a while and then went to meeting. Mr. Holmes said he thought it would be well to drop the meetings as those did not attend them that should. O how I felt seeing so many young people there and none to carry on in the meetings. We came away somewhat sad. Mrs. Beckwith and Warren came in after our walk and stopped the evening. I had the pleasure of receiving a letter from cousin Mary Ann Keyes, now Mrs. Corbett. I highly prize her letters and wish she would write oftener.

13th. Elmira lodged with me last night; she is a dear friend. We talked about Grace; how I should like to see her. I called at Mrs. P. Barker's today. She looks very miserable, is quite poorly; she may not recover. I was at Olivia's this evening for the first time this winter. How different it was a year ago! Ellen Borden died this morning. Death is ever at work. May I be in readiness when the summons comes. I am now alone for the night. May my thoughts rest on God, the source of all good and happiness.

16th. Sabbath morning. The sun has arisen in cloudless splendor, but the earth looks cold being covered in a spotless robe of newly fallen snow. The weather has been very cold since Wednesday, but our hearts are gladdened with hope of returning spring, which is at hand. There were several callers in the evening. John M. brought me a letter from Maria; she sent me some beautiful lines addressed to a mourner. I heard Rev. McKee preach today, a good sermon showing we all have a great work to do. There was a prayer meeting this afternoon, after which Capt. Curry and Maria came over. I like to talk with them about Simeon. I am thankful he was with him to the last. He is buried in a large graveyard in Chicago, close by Lake Michigan. A year ago tonight a company of friends were in here and dear Simeon also. It will be a year tomorrow since Maria was married. How the scene changes as we advance.

18th. A great snow storm. Susannah, Mary E. and Sarah Davidson are staying all night. Very cold.

19th. Some warmer today. Ann is here. John and Chipman Davidson spent the evening with us. Sarah Curry was married yesterday to David Shaw, and Susan Michener to John Trenholm. We heard today that Capt. Michener was shipwrecked on his way from Fredricksburg. We do not know when he will be home.

20th. Father was here to tea. It is such bad going Ann did not go home. She and Chipman have just gone over to Mary's. Three of my scholars are staying tonight. Brother John just came in saying he had just taken John Frost to Capt. Kendal's, he having come home sick. His days, I think, are nearly numbered.

21st. I have been feeling very sad all day and can not help sighing. I believe I have been forgetting what Uncle Ezekiel said to me about mourning. Brother John called in this evening on his way to a sing at Mrs. G. Davidson's.

23rd. I am now alone. Ann and Chipman just departed, having been here since afternoon meeting. Mother managed to get down to see me yesterday. Olivia came in the afternoon and Joe in the evening. Mary, Olivia and I went in the big room and practised jumping the rope for exercise. We went up home with Mother on the sled when it was shining all day, which seems very pleasant after so much stormy weather. Rev. Hall preached this forenoon and Mr. Lawrence gave a lecture this afternoon.

25th. Went up to Mercy's last night after school. John and Ann came over in the evening. Abr. Hines lives in part of Mercy's house. We are looking for letters from the "Village Belle" tonight.

27th. The "Hantsport", "Sterling" and "Rosalie" sailed away today.

DON'T MAKE MISTAKES TWICE

Profiting by mistakes has become one of the most important features of the average car owner's motoring, just as in life in general. Any mistake is always fatal if one learns nothing from it.

If you don't make some mistakes in owning and operating your car you aren't human. If you don't make those mistakes count for something you're not wise.

Most automobile owners are beginning to see that when a mistake has been made it should be studied carefully in order to see wherein it can be of service in avoiding a more serious mistake.

Suppose you make the mistake of rushing headlong into some major repair work just because some garage employee whom you have never seen before tells you that there is something very much the matter with your car. Discovering your mistake it is a foregone conclusion that some profit lies in reminding yourself that whenever you are given a piece of advice again you will weigh it carefully.

Right now there are thousands of car owners who do not know what bearing trouble is just because they have learned through blundering that changing the crankcase oil every 500 miles is more than mere custom. Had these people taken their mistakes as total losses they would, in all probability, have completely overlooked the possibility of taking their mistakes as future helps. They would not be getting anywhere near as much out of their motoring today.

DIED AS RESULT OF SHOOTING ACCIDENT

Watson Miles died at Berwick Hospital early Sunday morning, having succumbed to injuries sustained in an accidental shooting a few days previous.

Miles was starting on a duck shooting trip and had placed his rifle in the bottom of a canoe. As he pushed the boat off the shore the gun exploded, the bullet entering Miles' abdomen. He was rushed to the hospital and was making fair progress toward recovery, but he took a turn for the worse late Saturday afternoon and died early that morning.

The deceased was 26 years of age and a son of Lemuel Miles, Lockhartville. Besides his father he is survived by three brothers, one of whom is Ralph, of Halifax; and one sister, Mrs. Louise Duncan, of Lockhartville, whose three children were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the Duncan home at Lockhartville two years ago. The remains were taken to Lockhartville on Monday for burial.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN OLD CURRY HOMESTEAD

Capt. J. E. Faulkner, who has been spending a brief vacation at his home at Port Williams, has taken advantage of the opportunity to have some very considerable changes made in his property, which have effected a great improvement in the appearance of this part of the place. The old house occupied by his father has been moved to a new site and thoroughly renovated. Mr. E. L. Porter, of Wolfville, was in charge of the moving and repairing which was done very successfully, while the excavating and grading was under the direction of Mr. C. H. Wright.

This is the old Curry homestead, the birthplace and old home of Senator Curry and other members of a family who have made good and are held in high esteem, including Capt. Elias Curry and Miss Bessie Curry, of Wolfville. Capt. Faulkner has had the grounds tastefully laid out and graded and the whole appearance is most pleasing. Port Williams is noted for handsome and well kept homes and that of Capt. and Mrs. Faulkner is one of the best. His own residence which was erected about ten years ago is a model of convenience and comfort and most complete in all that goes to make up an ideal dwelling. During his stay at home Capt. Faulkner has had installed handsome electric lighting fixtures and appliances made possible to all parts of the county since the advent of hydro. A man of excellent mechanical ideas Capt. Faulkner has incorporated these into the construction and fitting up of his home which has been done for the most part under his own person supervision.

PLAYERS ARE DEEPLY IMPRESSED BY SCENE

One of the outstanding features of "The Hunted Woman", produced by William Fox under the direction of John Conway, is the unselfish friendship of two men, impersonated by Earl Schenck as "John Aldous" and Harvey Clark as "Donald MacDonald", a dour Scotchman.

This remarkable tie between "John Aldous", a writer of note possessing education and culture, and "Donald MacDonald", unschooled, but great of heart, is one of those things that makes life sweep along on a tide of good friends; something which will cause one man to risk everything, even life if necessary, for another.

It is "MacDonald" who first reaches "John Aldous" when he is endangered by death from a landslide; who tears away the rock and earth which imprison his friend.

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN FORMER RESIDENT

The death occurred last Friday morning at the Masonic Home, Windsor, of Mr. Alfred K. Bars, an old time resident of Wolfville, son of the late John W. Bars.

Let me call it to your attention that during the eight months the Government purchased nearly 20,000 horses in Canada, that about 8,000 of them were purchased during the early week of stress and urgency; so that, notwithstanding all that has been said and the clamor that has been raised, and with-out minimizing in the slightest degree our responsibility to probe the whole matter to the bottom, it does seem to me that very little has been brought forth during the six weeks' investigation by this committee.

So far as Mr. Foster's connection with the matter is concerned, it should be taken into consideration that he was a very young man, altogether inexperienced in business, and that he is not shown to have profited in any way by the transaction. A Government veterinary inspected and passed the horses.

When Mr. Foster resigned, he obtained position in the Immigration Department of the Canadian Northern at Chicago. After that railway was taken over by the Canadian Government, Mr. Foster was "hi-jacketed", and since then has been in business there on his own account. For ten years he has been a stranger to this country and probably has no acquaintance with more than a dozen members of the convention that nominated him. This representative body passed over a brilliant man of letters and an able and successful business man—either of whom would have adorned a seat in Parliament—Mr. Foster. They did it as an act of retribution, was one of the most inspiring and wonderful demonstrations of fair play and justice ever vouchsafed to a public man in Canada. It was more, it was an evidence of the respect and confidence the convention had in Mr. Foster's honor and ability.

MR. ROBINSON'S LOYALTY

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:
Mr. Editor.—Hon. McKenzie King, in his address at Kentville, paid a high compliment to the loyalty to his government of the Nova Scotia members.

He explained he had carried on the administration with a majority of one, consequently had there been a break of even one, his government would have been defeated.

Political loyalty is of two kinds—loyalty to the party leader and loyalty to the people.

The latter is illustrated by the old Parliamentary tradition of the Widow Murphy's cow. The widow lived in Northumberland, N.B., and her cow had been killed by an L. C. R. train.

She applied to the Railway authorities for redress. They refused to entertain her claim. She then went to the Hon. Peter Mitchell, then sitting member. He took it up and pressed the Railway department for a settlement. It maintained a stiff refusal. The matter remained unsettled for some months when the day the government wanted Mr. Mitchell's vote, he jumped at the chance. "No vote from me," he declared, "if the Widow Murphy's cow is not paid for in advance". It was paid instantly.

The widow rejoiced and the country was vastly amused at the occurrence. That incident shows how even one member can make a government "come down from its perch" to attend to local interests, when he is loyal to his constituents.

It is that sort of loyalty that the "Noble 16" sent from Nova Scotia did not possess.

Ten men would have saved Sodom and Gomorrah; one of the 16 could have compelled the Mackenzie King government to concede those Maritime Rights that the newspaper clamored for, that the Board of Trade demanded and that deputation after deputation went to Ottawa to secure, and which the "Noble 16" in their loyalty to the government covertly opposed.

The issue became so intense that even ex-Premier Armstrong issued a political manifesto on the eve of the local elections, asking support from the people of Nova Scotia on the ground that his government would carry on the agitation for Maritime Rights, which the "Noble 16" in their partisan loyalty and their treachery to the people's interests, had turned down. Mr. Ernest Robinson is one of the "16" who limited his political activities to voting always with the government and pocketing every session his indemnity of $4,000.

He swallowed the government hook, line, bob and sinker; a gudgeon was more easily landed when the government wanted him. He is in the market again and wants the same job another four years.

I esteem Mr. Robinson as an amiable private citizen; he has succeeded however, in demonstrating that as a public man he is feeble and incapable; entirely unable to grapple at Ottawa with the Transportation, Tariff, Trade, Intercolonial and other problems that affect these Maritime Provinces.

CRITIC
Kentville, Sept. 25th.

DOES NOT AGREE WITH "OBSERVER"

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:
Dear Sir.—In a recent issue of THE ACADIAN I read an article (a very caustic article) signed "Observer", in which he found fault with Wolfville people in particular and everything connected with Wolfville in general. Now I feel called upon to object to his statements and flatly contradict some of them.

I have lived here for 75 years, except two short periods in Massachusetts and New York. I have known the people here to be intelligent, well educated, broad-minded, progressive, public spirited and kind to one another with a few exceptions, living and working together with much unanimity and harmony. I declare we are doing so these latter years more than formerly.

Any one visiting many persons from many parts of the world, who make their impression on us, and our people have travelled far and wide and have returned and are willing to stay here.

"Observer" complains of the high price of everything, $4,000 being asked for an inferior building lot. I know of $1,000 being paid for a very few choice lots, and $1500 each for two large lots on Main street west. These are the highest of which I have heard. There are other properties that can be bought reasonably.

"Observer" mentions the high price of eggs, etc. Well we have a good market for such things and our chickens, eggs, cream and butter and fruit are of a superior quality, and a discerning public is willing to pay the top price for them. Wages are not higher here and indeed I know are lower than in some places near here, and board and lodging are less than in Halifax, Montreal and other places I can name.

Our taxes are high, much higher than they ought to be. If one pays high for a lot or building a house or stable it is only once and ends there, but taxes are yearly. One old tax collector used to say, "Rets is rets and must be paid", and he would excuse nobody. One resident's taxes are higher here than that of valuable property is exempt.

J. ALFRED ELDERKIN.

PRINCIPLE BEFORE PARTY

Sir.—It is because education, marriage, in truth the whole social order, are political matters that I am interested in politics. And it is for a similar reason that the candidature of Mr. A. DeWitt Foster in the present election campaign is to be deplored.

When Mr. Foster contested the constituency of Kings in a previous campaign, probably no man in the county did more to secure his election than as secretary of the Temperance Alliance. But he betrayed his trust, and was repudiated by his leader, Sir Robert Borden. So rank was the offence that the Toronto Globe calls Mr. Foster's present candidature "an insult to the true spirit of Canadianism".

In England it is the rule to promptly discard discredited politicians. We shall not get far in the development of national righteousness until we can have the courage and grace to put principles before party.
