LETTER FROM CHINA.

(Correspondence of the Philadelphia Proterian.)
Success of the insurgents repelled—Present state of the rebellion—Provinces in possession of the rebels—Need for progress.

Canton, May 20, 1854.

The North China Herald of the 6th May gives a summary of the events recorded in the Peking Gazette from the date of the late rebellion...

It may be interesting to many of your readers to have a connected statement of the condition of the rebellion at the present time.

The portions of the country in the hands of the insurgents force, at the present time, lie on both sides of the Yangtze river, extending a distance of perhaps four hundred miles along the course of the river, on both the north and south side of it.

The largest territory that is in the possession of the insurgents lies in the province of Anhwei. It may be judged anything from their holding nearly all the cities of departments, they are in possession of nearly the entire southern half of this province.

In Hunan province they have taken recently the city of Yehohu department, and the cities of Siangyin and Ninghsing districts in the department of Changsha.

The insurgents have three armies now in the field, viz: the one which has met with such success in Anhwei, and the third in Hupoh and Hianan. The Governor-General of these two provinces was killed in battle with the insurgents on the 10th of February.

THE WAR.

LETTER FROM CONSTANTINOPLE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 17.—Still a state of feverish anxiety reigns, mingled with vague despondency. The certainty of an immediate movement, and by severe and perhaps lengthened struggle, drives away all other topics of conversation and reflection.

The internal state of the country, its financial prospects, its capabilities to bear protracted warfare, in short, all these subjects which during the period of inactivity occupied men's minds, are now for the moment forgotten, or are thought of only by those whom long residence in the country, or immediate interest with the machinery of government, has taught to look beyond the bustle and excitement of the present hour.

Two great subjects occupy the reflections of all—the contemplated expedition, and the address which has descended with such suddenness on the fleets and armies of the allies.

Yarna is now the centre of interest, and the intelligence received direct from headquarters will be more exciting, as well as more accurate, than what is derived from the distant narratives of officers arriving here, or from the rumours which pervade the counting-houses of Galata.

The Bosphorus is now deserted by all but a few vessels. The gigantic Ottoman still retains its position at Belice, and the Rides' land adds to the gates of Therapia, and its sister villages. The slopes of the giant mountain are whitened with tents which hang in the stream beneath, and proceed at once to the Russian shores.

Ships of the line make their appearance by one's and two's, drop down to the Golden Horn, and return with huge pontoons clinging to their sides, and long trains of boats following in their stead.

The arrival and departure of vessels are the only incidents. When a new and unusually elegant steamer passes the long line of villages, whose walls are washed by the rapid current of the Bosphorus, innumerable telescopes are directed towards it by the ladies, whose chief occupation is to sit at their windows, and the consequence of several months' experience is that much intellectual knowledge has been acquired in these quarters.

for transport while so great a mortality prevails in the fleet. The French navy has suffered most severely. The Ville de Paris has 60 or 65 dead, the Montebello no less than 140, and other ships have been afflicted to a great extent.

THE GREAT FIRE AT YARNA.

The fire at Yarna did very considerable damage, it destroyed nearly one half the town, and a large quantity of stores belonging to the British and French armies.

On the evening of the 11th the Colonel had a parade in full dress, and so gay and lively were the horses, that if one of the officers yoked Tooby, had not been a pretty good horse country man, he must have been kicked out of his saddle, for his mare sought her hind legs up for about ten minutes, as though she meant to send her rider to heaven.

The Lords of the Treasury have awarded Mr. John Dobson, inspector of mills, the sum of £500, as a compensation for his invention of an apparatus for transferring mail bags to and from railway carriages at full speed, without stopping.

An iron vessel of 300 tons, expressly made for encountering the floating ice on the coast of Newfoundland, is now being built by Messrs. Carr, Miller, and Co. She is the property of Messrs. Job Brothers, and is considered a very fine specimen of the combination of strength of material with lightness of construction.

Grabe, right-hand man of the King of Prussia's company, first foot guards, died at Potsdam last week. He was the tallest soldier in Europe. He stood seven feet one inch.

DISSENTERS AT OXFORD.—A correspondent of the Cambridge Press says:—I hear that some dozen youths from the wealthier portions of the dissenting party are about to enter at Oxford, and that inquiries are even being made by the head of a highly respectable family of Jews.

of the whole country, and probably there will be but two or three occasions on which it will be appropriate. First, the taking of Sebastopol; which would be practically depriving Russia of the keys of Turkey, and accomplishing the great act of justice for which the war was commenced.

THE HIMALAYA AND THE GRAYS.

Her Majesty's recently purchased steam-ship Himalaya arrived at Scutari, after a rapid passage from Liverpool of 10 days 22 hours on the average of the 7th ult., and, having received orders from Admiral Boscawen, proceeded on the following morning to Koolah, a cavalry barracks about three miles up the Bosphorus, on the Asiatic side.

On the evening of the 11th the Colonel had a parade in full dress, and so gay and lively were the horses, that if one of the officers yoked Tooby, had not been a pretty good horse country man, he must have been kicked out of his saddle, for his mare sought her hind legs up for about ten minutes, as though she meant to send her rider to heaven.

It was really a very fine sight to see a whole regiment, and such a regiment, after a journey or voyage of 3100 miles, just as fit to go into action and gallop over a squadron of Comanches as they would have been the day after leaving Nottingham.

The Board of Admiralty have issued instructions to the controller of the transport service to provide a ship for the conveyance forthwith of 300 tons of heavy shot and shell to Malta.

DISSENTERS AT OXFORD.—A correspondent of the Cambridge Press says:—I hear that some dozen youths from the wealthier portions of the dissenting party are about to enter at Oxford, and that inquiries are even being made by the head of a highly respectable family of Jews.

PROPOSED ROYAL MARRIAGE.—It is rumored that the eldest son of the Prince of Prussia (heir to the throne) is to marry the Princess Royal of England, when she is sixteen—when she will be a little more than two years. Her father requested leave to let the lad pass the interval in England, where he might acquire the language and study the law; but the King of Prussia has peremptorily refused, plainly declaring that England was a Prussian Prince the better.

China, is stated to be seven millions of people, of green tea against eighteen millions of green, and two millions of pounds of black against nearly seven millions, or a total of less than, also under half millions against upwards of twenty-two millions within the same period of 1853.

UNITED STATES.

A Washington Letter of the 9th announces that Mr. Crampton had received by the last Mail, the ratification of the Fishery and Reciprocity Treaty, and would probably exchange the same with the Secretary of State on Monday following.

RECIPROCIITY. A Washington Letter of the 9th announces that Mr. Crampton had received by the last Mail, the ratification of the Fishery and Reciprocity Treaty, and would probably exchange the same with the Secretary of State on Monday following.

The following are the new Members of the Canadian Ministry: Liberals.—Hon. John Ross, Speaker of the Legislative Council; Mr. Spencer, Postmaster General; Conservatives.—Sir Allan McNair, President of the Council; John A. McDonald, Attorney General; Henry Smith, Solicitor General; Mr. O'Leary, Inspector General. No change has been made in the Lower section.

The subjoined important despatch appears in the New Brunswick Royal Gazette:— Downing Street, 18th August, 1855. Sir, I have the honor of submitting to you a copy of a communication which Her Majesty's Government have just received from the Minister of the United States at Court, containing a Despatch from the Department of State at Washington, by which it appears that the President's ratification of Reciprocity Treaty will be ready to be exchanged against that of Her Majesty when the latter arrives at Washington; and that the Congress has already passed a Law to give effect to that Treaty.

THE NEW ORLEANS BEE SAYS THAT THE POPULARITY of State Arms has ceased to rapidly in it and there is good reason for the belief that but many months that despotic ruler will for a fourth time, become an outcast and a fugitive. Connecticut has twenty-eight clock factories employing 1,270 hands in the manufacture of 1,600,000 capital invested, and makes more than 700,000 clocks. One-fourth of these time-keepers are sent to England.

DISMISSED CONSUMPTION OF TEA.—Although the gross export of tea from China to all the ports of Great Britain last year, yet the quantity coming forward to the United States is little more than one-third of the supply shipped to corresponding date of last year. From July 1st to December 31st, the total quantity sent forward to the United States from all the ports in
