Chinese Diplomacy and the Geary Act... Great Britain May Annex... More Anarchist Arrests—No Marriage... Grant Promised for the Duke... of York.

Paris, May 25.—Colonial difficulties are again menacing the French Government. Official dispatches regarding the situation are exceedingly vague, evidently intended to hide French reverses. It is stated that the French fleet is being concentrated in the Pacific. The admiral's flagship Triumphant is sailing for Hongkong and preparing to sail for Siam. The cruiser Fortaire is lying at Saigon awaiting orders. The French fleet is being concentrated in the Pacific. London, May 25.—Home Secretary Asquith has drafted a bill to give the courts greater powers of restraint over habitual drunkards. It will empower magistrates to order that drunkards, whose conduct has satisfied them that they are culpable, shall be committed to a workhouse. The bill contains ample safeguards against any abuse of these powers.

London, May 25.—A peculiar point was raised yesterday in a case brought against several local hotel-keepers by the Liosse. The plaintiff is suing for the loss of a diamond ring. The point in question is whether solar or standard time govern the time of closing. The former time is twenty minutes slower than the latter. The court reserved decision.

Berlin, May 25.—The Ministers' International Conference closed its sessions today. The next conference is to be held in Germany, provided the authorities do not object to the holding of the conference. The German authorities forbid a meeting in that country. The conference will be held in England.

Rome, May 25.—A vote of confidence in the cabinet was introduced in the Chamber today in connection with Premier Giolitti's announcement yesterday that the reorganized cabinet would follow the old programme. It resulted in an unexpectedly complete victory of the Government. Of the 323 deputies present, 227 voted for the Government, 72 against it and 24 did not vote.

Hamburg, May 25.—The U.S. Government has announced a physician at that port who has been visiting American ports and has been arrested at the request of the German Supreme Tribunal at Leipzig with a view to his extradition to Germany on a charge which has not been made known.

Madrid, May 25.—Premier Sagasta has persuaded his colleagues in the cabinet to retain their portfolios through the debate on the address from the throne. After the debate final action will be taken in regard to the construction of the cabinet.

Rome, May 25.—The police of Naples have discovered in that city evidences of a formidable dynamite plot. The lodgings of a suspicious anarchist have been searched, many bombs and materials for the construction of explosives have been seized and several anarchists have been arrested.

London, May 25.—Premier Gladstone has sent out a denial of the report that he had proposed any special Parliament in connection with the Duke of York's marriage.

Paris, May 25.—Camille Raspail is dead. He was born in Paris in 1827, and was studying medicine when the revolution of 1848 broke out. He was extremely radical in his views and politics, and was elected among the revolutionists. He was elected Deputy for the Var in 1836 and retained his seat until his death. He was a member of the extreme Left. He published several scientific works.

Berlin, May 25.—The Ministers' International Conference, after a long and dull debate today, agreed upon the necessity of a better inspection of vessels upon the open sea to the quality of men employed on the surface and those employed under ground.

London, May 25.—President Richards, in addressing the Iron and Steel Institute at the annual meeting yesterday, said that the year 1892 had been one of the worst ever known in the iron and steel industries. They are still greatly depressed and the outlook is gloomy. The production of pig iron has fallen off 600,000 tons, and total rails are in the worst condition. The total falling off of exports of metals and machinery, as compared with 1891, amounts to 27,000,000. The market is now swamped, and there is not enough work for half the country's steel production power. Mr. Abel, who followed the president, spoke in an encouraging and hopeful tone, and expressed the opinion that there were signs of betterment. England, he said, was bound to remain the first iron ship-building country in the world. It was announced that John Fritz, of Bethlehem, Pa., will be presented with the Bessemer P. medal.

Paris, May 25.—The Nicaraguan Canal Company's lake steamer Victoria, the whereabouts of which has been unknown, is being used as a troop transport by the revolutionists. It was of great service in conveying 500 troops, commanded by Gen. Montenegro, to San Pedro de Macoris. The steamer was on the 12th inst. without a shot being fired. Since then, the most important point on the Mosquito coast, is to visit the revolutionary generals, Alfaro and Chamberlain, there is no doubt San Juan del Norte will be quickly surrendered. THE SPIRIT IN GREAT BRITAIN.

It is not likely that this second trial will have a more satisfactory ending than had the first. Trials for here in these days are very unpleasant both for those who are accused and for those who are witnesses.

AN AGREEABLE DISAPPOINTMENT.

AUSTRALIAN BANKING.

Canadians find it difficult to realize the condition of a country in which bank after bank collapses. It is impossible for them to understand the state of a country before a crash came, and they are quite as much at a loss to imagine how business can be done now that the convulsion has taken place.

AN ECONOMIC BUGBEAR.

Some of our neighbors on the other side of the line are greatly troubled because "the balance of trade" is against the United States. During the fiscal year ended April 30, the imports of the United States exceeded the exports by $77,500,000.

THE EASTERN QUARANTINE.

The citizens of Montreal, who that the navigation of the St. Lawrence is open, are beginning to get a little anxious with respect to the efficacy of the quarantine station at Grosse Ile, below Quebec city.

Opening of the Spring Meeting of the Jockey Club—Gertie the Winner.

The Last Day's Yacht Racing—Union Gun Club Score One Over Tacoma.

A beautiful afternoon and a large attendance were the favorable conditions under which the spring meeting of the Victoria Jockey Club opened at the Driving Park yesterday.

It was about 2 o'clock when the first event, a mile race for gentlemen's roadsters, was called, the conditions being best two in three and the prize a hundred dollar cup.

The half mile dash was a severe trial to the patience of the starters, who were W. Dalby and A. K. Munro. Seven horses had been entered, but only two started.

Only the first two started in the third heat, and Innocencia, breaking at the start, fell behind considerably, and though several times closing up always broke, so that Bella A. kept steadily to the front and won the heat and race.

The mile and repeat, for a purse of $250, had four entries, but one of these—G. Hayes—was drawn, being reported out of condition, and the starters were: E. H. Hilly, Patsy Curran, and Broadmead Farm's Marcella.

The Queen's Plate was next, and concluded the programme for the day. It was a mile and a half, and six started, but only four were in the race.

The official of the course present were: For running races—L. Col. E. F. O'Brien, P. D. E. Ker and Thos. Shaw; starter, Wm. Dalby; assistant-starter, A. K. Munro; time-keeper, Capt. G. H. Ogilvie.

The first event was the 2 1/2 mile trotting and pacing, 3 in 5, for a purse of $250, with three entries—Thomas Dunn's Harry C, J. Meunier's Gertie, and A. McLarty's Gertie.

The heats in the 2 1/2 and 3 mile classes were run alternately. When the second in the 2 1/2 class was called, Dart and Traveller Wilkes came on the track that a fine of $5 was imposed and paid by the owner before the start.

The free-for-all trotting and pacing brought out the best horses of the season, and the Belle Watta (driver, J. Gannon) was the first to start.

All the yachts sailed well, the Ariel especially making a good run, but handicapped on account of not having enough canvas set for the arrival of the boats at Oak Bay.

The interval between the heats Driver Gannon gave an uninteresting exhibition of cruelty for the benefit of the grand stand, and at Belle Watta's cost.

The visiting yacht all left for home last evening except the Xora, which goes tomorrow. Needless to say the yachtsmen are delighted with their reception here.

The half mile and repeat was another good race, and quickly decided. In the first round, Murphy and Allen took the lead, Allen cutting in for the pole at the first turn, and leading Murphy down the back stretch.

Novelty races, such as the half mile, 3 in 5, for a purse of $100, at 1:40, and 3 in 5, for a purse of $100, at 1:40, were also run.

There were three races on the card, the handling even when opened having failed to fill, and each of the three was well worth looking at. The first called up was the novelty, mile dash, for which a string of six came to the scratch.

A C. P. R. INSPECTION PARTY. President Van Horne and His Chief Engineer to study the Kootenay Country.

A Canadian Pacific Railway party, with the president and manager, W. C. Van Horne, at their head, arrived in Victoria last evening. Mr. Van Horne has as his guests R. Horne Payne, a prominent banker and financier of London, Eng.; Hon. David Mills, Q.C., M.P., of London, Ont.; J. H. R. Colman, a Montreal capitalist; W. B. South, ex-M.P., of Winnipeg; R. B. Angus, a prominent director of the C.P.R.; T. G. Shaughnessy, assistant general manager; P. A. Peterson, chief engineer; C. R. Hooper, manager of telegraphs; and Alexander, private secretary to the general manager. From Vancouver the party were accompanied by Forrest Angus, brother of R. B. Angus, and Jas. Wilson, superintendent of telegraphs for the district. The party are staying at the Grand, with the exception of the Messrs. Angus, who are with their brother, James Angus, at this city, and will remain here until the 15th inst., when they will start for the Island on Sunday morning. Hon. David Mills and Messrs. Shaughnessy and Hooper return direct to Montreal, and Mr. Van Horne and the rest of the party will make an inspection of the Kootenay mining country.

The party left Montreal on Saturday, May 15, and since then they have travelled over every mile of the C.P.R. and its branches in Manitoba and the Northwest, the travelling being by daylight only, except when the nights could be utilized for one way over a branch line, and they have therefore had an opportunity of seeing everything along the route. President Van Horne was interviewed by a Colonist reporter last evening. Asked as to a statement which came from Montreal by wire yesterday that the C.P.R. were about to purchase the steamships Arizona, Alaska and City of Rome, he characterized it as absurd. The company, he said, had no intention of buying any second-hand boats for their service, and when they needed steamers they would have them built in the most modern fashion. The report put in circulation that the Empresses were to be put on the Atlantic route, also absurd; the steamers were not adapted for that route, and they were well suited for the Pacific, where they would be kept. The Australian line of steamers, the first of which is now on the way to Victoria, Mr. Van Horne said, are not connected with the C.P.R., except that an arrangement for the exchange of traffic has been made between the two companies. He felt interested in the report, as an experiment, and could not say what the C.P.R. might do if a profitable trade could be developed.

Crow's Nest Pass being mentioned, Mr. Van Horne said there was nothing new to say of the situation there, save that east of the pass the company were doing considerable work. He intended to spend as long a time as possible in the C.P.R. and his way back, and until he had made a personal examination he could not say anything as to the probability of railroad extension in the road-way of the C.P.R., including the way back to the Pacific coast, except that an arrangement for the exchange of traffic has been made between the two companies.

DROUGHT AND FLOODS. Great Damage Done in Different Parts of Europe—Many Lives Lost.

PARIS, May 24.—The two months' drought in France, it is estimated, has destroyed over 30,000,000 francs worth of crops.

ROME, May 24.—Rain has been falling in torrents in Piedmont, and the rivers are overflowing the lowlands. Several villages are under water, bridges swept away, railroads flooded and traffic suspended in some places.

BERLIN, May 25.—The drought remains unbroken, and official statistics concerning Prussian crops show that the kingdom has suffered heavy losses. The hay crop is a disaster.

BUCHAREST, May 25.—Recent floods have devastated whole districts in Roumania. Whole villages are submerged, many railway bridges destroyed, and traffic on railroads and highways in some places is suspended.

THE MAYOR TO DECIDE. He May Sign the Check in Final Payment of Sewerage Work or May Not.

The Council Receives and Files the Reports of the Commissioners and Engineers.

Sewerage matters were discussed last evening at a special meeting of the City Council, there being present the Mayor and all the board. It was 8:45 before the aldermen got down to work, as they had been waiting for the commissioners, who were invited to be present. To set the ball rolling, City Clerk Dowler read all the correspondence in the matter, including the reports and the statement of accounts, showing the balance due Mr. McBean, the contractor, and how it was made. The Council then went into committee of the whole.

ALD. BAKER opened the discussion by reading a report from the sanitary engineer, dated last October, in which it was stated that the sewerage work was not completed. The amount now awarded was $192,396.75. The amount now awarded was $192,396.75. The amount now awarded was $192,396.75.

ALD. BAKER moved that the committee be appointed to inquire into the matter. The Mayor said that he would be glad to sign the check if the Council were satisfied with the work. He would be glad to sign the check if the Council were satisfied with the work.

A STRANGE STORY. But no man has gone further into the unfathomable depths than myself. You have a basin of water here. Pardon me if I appropriate it to my own use.

"I bowed in acquiescence, too much surprised to speak. He quickly unsealed one of the vials and poured its contents into the basin of water. Then from another he sifted a bluish colored powder upon the surface of the liquid, which no sooner had it touched the other than it began to hiss, foam and sparkle, until there came a report like a pistol shot and a column of lurid flame leaped up to the ceiling.

"I started back with a cry of terror. "Don't be alarmed," he assured me, with a smile; "the water will soon burn out." "The fire soon began to grow pale and to diminish in height, when it finally died out altogether, and I saw that the basin was empty.

"How much do you think that secret is worth?" asked my visitor, still showing his white teeth between his parted lips. "What do you mean?" I cried. "Sit down and be composed, and I will explain to you. Then as I sank into the nearest seat, you had a loss what to do or say, he continued: "Seeing it believing, so I have shown to you what I can do to impress upon you more deeply the power that I possess. You have seen that basin of water which I poured into the basin, and now you will believe me when I tell you that I have unlocked one of nature's great secrets, and that the key lies in that small vial."

"Hold!" I commanded, rising in my stirrups as I spoke; "blood calls for blood. Let me have hold of that rope." "The mistake in my identity had suggested a way in which I might enable my brother to escape, and I resolved to attempt it at whatever risk. Fortunately there was little family resemblance between us.

Urging my horse forward, the crowd parted, allowing me to reach his side, and the man, mounted ostensibly to examine the slipping noose, was the first to attempt to escape. "It will do," I said loud enough to be heard by all. "Now help me lift him on the back of my horse. We want to do this job in some haste."

I took about everything man ever tried for it but never got a dollar's worth of help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

day, it may be stated in fairness to Officer Robb, that after the capture the men were brought around in a row boat to Plummer street in the evening, and a constable on each of the prisoners, but owing to the long pull around against a strong head tide, they were removed in order to allow him the freedom of his arms. Robb, who was on landing at the beach near the Mayne Island house, that they effected their escape, the constable having gone for a lantern, as the night was black and the officer standing by the bow could not perceive the men get out and push her off until too late. Throughout Mr. Robb's wide experience as a police officer, he has never had the misfortune to lose any of his prisoners, excepting the three on this occasion.

The Colonist.

FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1893.

THE MAYOR'S MEETING.

The poorly attended meeting in the City Hall on Tuesday evening, shows that the interest taken in civic affairs in Victoria just now is not very truly or very deep. This is not to be regretted, though, perhaps, it is not generally to be wondered at. The citizens merely seem to be disgusted at the way in which the Corporation does its business. The City Council appears to be utterly incapable of doing business with anything like promptitude and energy. It meets infrequently enough, it is true, but it only meets to squabble over trifles, neglecting matters of importance, and when these matters can be delayed no longer, handling them in the most slovenly and slipshod manner. It is, we repeat, little wonder that the Council has fallen very low in the esteem of the people, and that a large number of the ratepayers do not feel that they would be justified in giving it the management of an important undertaking. We cannot help thinking that if the ratepayers generally had confidence in the City Council, many more of them would have attended Tuesday night's meeting.

The matter to be deliberated upon is of very great importance. The city of Victoria ought to be well drained. The health of its inhabitants, in a very great measure, depends upon its being kept clean, and it cannot be kept clean without a good system of sewers, maintained in the best working order. The expense of constructing the sewers appears to be large, but we believe that the city can better afford to pay for the sewers than to keep it in its present unsavory condition. Keeping the city clean enough barely to live in, with out sewers, costs the citizens a good deal, both directly and indirectly, and as it grows larger and is more densely inhabited, will cost them still more in the future. It is, therefore, every citizen's interest to have the sewer system completed, and we are pretty sure that it is because the ratepayers have no confidence in the City Council, and not because they do not take an interest in the subject, that there was not a better attendance at the meeting called by the Mayor.

It is to be hoped that measures will be taken in time to secure the election of a good working City Council—one to which the citizens can entrust the construction of the sewers on the system fittest to the citizens, with perfect confidence that the business will be carried out in a business-like way.

We, as our readers know, do not believe that the sewers should be built with money raised by a general loan, but independently of that, we think that the matters are with respect to the appointment of sewer commissioners, it would be exceedingly rash for the ratepayers to give their sanction to a loan of $700,000 for the construction of sewers.

THE WEDDING PRESENT.

We are glad to see that the wedding present of the ladies of Canada to the Princess May is not to be a slight and robes. Such a present would be singularly inappropriate. It would be also unparliamentary from a Canadian point of view. The Canadian ladies should not wish to deepen the impression on the minds of Englishmen and Englishwomen that Canada is almost within a stone's throw of the North Pole, and that its inhabitants spend most of their time in trying to be jolly when the thermometer is fifty degrees or so below zero. Canadians have hitherto done all they could to associate Canada in the minds of the people of the Old Country with a climate arctic in its severity. The greater number of the pictures they have sent to England are of winter scenes. Canadian winter sports have been written about until they are threadbare. Even the children are photographed in blanket suits and wrapped in the warmest of furs. And now to prove to our cousins at Home that the frost has got into the very veins of Canadians, and that they on their part of nothing but winter and things that pertain to winter, it is proposed to make the Princess May a present of a slight trimmed with furs.

If there is to be a suggestion of climate in the present to the Princess, why not give her something that is associated with Canada's delightful summer weather, when the skies are cloudless and when the genial sun cherishes and brings to perfection all the flowers and fruits of the most favored countries of the temperate zone.

ANGRY EXHIBITORS.

There is much discontent among the exhibitors at Chicago about the way in which the exhibits are judged. The awards of the different departments are to be made by a single judge and there is to be no competition. The prizes are to be awarded for excellence, without reference to other exhibits of the same kind. There are to be no first, second and third prizes. There will be very nearly as many medals as there are exhibitors, so a very large proportion of the exhibitors will leave the show medallions. The medals, too, are all of the same value and of the same material, bronze.

The exhibitors say that the awards under such a system will be worthless. They will confer no distinction on the recipient and will be no recommendation of the article for which they were given. Exhibitors, both foreign and American, have protested against the system and threaten to withdraw their exhibits from examination; some indeed have done so already. Mr. Thacher, the chairman of National Commission, is having a pretty hard time of it. He hears complaints on all sides. He is, however, determined to stand by his system. He says that it is not his system, but the system that is in operation at the Centennial Exhibition. This is denied by some, and others say it is a bad system, said if awards were made according to that system in Philadelphia seventeen years ago, that is no reason why it should be continued now. There have been many exhibitions since then, and in all of them the awards have been given on a very different principle. The agitation is becoming quite serious, and may be productive of trouble before the exhibition closes. The following is part of the Chicago Tribune's criticism of Mr. Thacher's system, and it is but a specimen of many that have been written on the same subject:

"The trouble with Mr. John Boyd Thacher is that he considers himself an antiquary that whatever he does is perfect and cannot be amended or modified. It is Caesar or no Caesar. No appeal, he thinks, should lie from his dictum. He is not open to advice or suggestion. Apparently he has certain blanch from the Government to do as he pleases. Whenever any of the foreign commissioners are about to take a step in any direction, which his instructions do not explicitly, they consult their Government. John Boyd Thacher has to consult no one. Everything is settled by his mere say-so. Hence it is not surprising that Mr. John Boyd Thacher says he 'does not care' for the protests of the foreign commissioners or for the sentiments of foreign exhibitors. He is satisfied with his system, whether no one else is, and hence it must be used."

SOCIALISM CARRIED OUT.

Mr. Eugen Richter, who is one of the most brilliant parliamentary leaders in Germany, has written a book which has become very popular in that country, and which, when translated, is likely to be well received in all civilized countries. Its title is 'Pictures of the Future.' It is on the same plan as Bellamy's 'Looking Backward,' but it teaches a very different lesson. 'Pictures of the Future' assumes that Socialism has triumphed in Germany, and the author portrays in a clear and lively manner, the condition of the people, after they have been disorganized and reorganized on Socialist principles.

The story is told by a workingman, Schmidt. He is a Social Democrat, and is at first well pleased with the new order of things. As soon as the Socialists are triumphant, his rich fellow-citizens leave the country in thousands to escape the evils which they know are about to overtake their class. Those who get away first are lucky, for one of the first acts of the new Government is to confiscate the property of every kind. All the means of production, the land, the mines, quarries, machines and tools, and all means of transport and communication are by law declared the property of the State.

The residences of the people and their furniture, the streets and parks and all that they contain, are also taken possession of by the State. Under Socialism the individual is to own nothing. The State becomes the universal provider and producer. The City of Berlin is soon converted into a big barracks, where every citizen has his work allotted him, and all that he gets in return are his food, his clothing, his shelter and his amusements. The use of money is abolished. Securities of all kinds are destroyed. The money in the banks and elsewhere is confiscated to the State. The people are deprived of their savings at one fell swoop. Men get as wages tickets, which entitle the holder to so many meals or articles of clothing. Households are necessarily broken up. The children are sent to the Government schools to be educated and taken care of, and the old people to homes and hospitals. The men and women are sent to work in any part of the country where their labor is required; the factories are all Government establishments, so are the stores, and the farming is done under Government superintendence.

Poor Schmidt soon finds his little household scattered. His eldest son, who is a printer, is sent to distant town to work. His daughter is to be married, but marriage under socialism is a mere temporary agreement, which can be broken by any act of pleasure. Schmidt is, luckily for a time, separated from his wife, but their children are taken from them.

There being no competition in business and no inducement to excel in any art or trade, the work of production goes on very slowly and quite inefficiently. Schmidt, who is an honest, well disposed man, is greatly disgusted with the laziness and carelessness of his fellow workers. He says:

"I cannot describe the loss of material and tools that goes on through inattention and carelessness. I don't know what I should have done in the days when I was master, had I been plagued with apprentices like the men I have to do with."

He undertook one day to give those under his superintendence a little lecture on their duty to the State, but he was only laughed at for his pains. One of the men said to him: "Society is very big. Am I to worry myself to death for the 50,000,000 of society while the other 48,999,999 are not such fools? What shall I buy for the 150,000,000 if I really do get it back, and of the surplus of my labor?"

The industries of the country were so badly carried on that it was after a time found that consumption greatly exceeded production. The people had to be put on short allowance for even the necessaries of life. This caused discontent, and discontent produced disorder. A large force of police was raised, and it was used to preserve the peace. While matters were in such a bad way the country was invaded by the French. The German army, composed of citizen soldiers, was badly equipped and insufficiently provided for in other respects, and as a consequence suffered a defeat. The end of the whole experience was nothing but misery for all classes.

The Epsom course is about a mile and a half straightaway. It is a beautiful level piece of lawn, and on account of its proximity to London the Derby is much more largely attended than are the other events such as Doncaster, Newcastle, etc. The race is for 6,000 sovereigns, 5,000 to the winner, 500 to the nominator of the winner, 300 to the second and 200 to the third. The Young Ladies' Institute of St. Andrew's cathedral are having a three-day festival in the Institute hall on View street, which is prettily fitted up as a bazaar, with well-stocked tables, gracefully presided over by young ladies, whose persuasive eloquence has already done much to deplete their ample stores of fancy and useful articles. The profits of the young ladies' enterprise will go towards providing stations of the cross for the new cathedral. The bazaar continues yesterday afternoon, and evening of today and to-morrow. MAY NOT MATERIALIZE.

It is rumored in local sporting circles and endorsed by the friends of Mollie Cooper that the match race made for her and Dart, in response to Mr. Meunier's challenge, may not be brought off. Mollie Cooper's party is ready and his money up, but it is stated that Mr. Meunier is not looking for Mollie Cooper, and is not sure to race Dart against the mare.

THE SPOETING DERBY. After some tardy days, during which I have taken an interest in sporting matters, I have at last seen in Victoria the extraordinary spectacle of a challenge for a race being published in one of the leading newspapers, and that the challenger backing down less than ten hours afterwards.

The reverse of the general case was shown in the Police court yesterday, when a charged John Bangs with assault. The evidence showed that Bangs was performing his work, ciling the cars at the E. & N. station, and the challenger, who came along, and by getting where he had no business to be, in order to satisfy his curiosity, got oil on his jacket. He forthwith denied the charge, but the jury, who were at Bangs, who promptly but justly ejected him and continued his work. The case was dismissed.

FARM LAND IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

TO THE EDITOR.—I have noticed several references to the amount of farm land in British Columbia, and it has occurred to me that a list of those who are trying to form an estimate.

In 1870 I made a voluntary exploration of that part of New Brunswick which is now owned, I think, by the Canadian Pacific railway, it having been given as a present to the railway company, and was published in the Blue Book issued in 1871 by my father, who was then Secretary for Agriculture. The papers were inclined to believe it at the time, and to intimate that I did not know what I was talking about when I said that there were a million acres of admirable farming land there. Since then some of the best settlements in New Brunswick have been established on the track, and every available acre of it would be settled if the present owners were not holding it as a timber reserve.

THE VISITING MINISTERS.

Hon. John G. Haggart and Hon. J. C. Patterson have extended their stay in Victoria, and will spend to-day also here, taking the boat for Vancouver to-morrow morning. Yesterday they visited several of the Dominion properties, notably the military installation in connection with Mr. Patterson's department. Early in the morning they were shown the drill shed, and Lt. Col. Prior, M.P., urged the advisability of having it pushed to completion as rapidly as possible, and of having a first-class wooden flooring laid. The Minister of Militia promised to lay the matter before the officers, the Minister of Public Works, that department having charge of the construction.

THE BATTERY BARACKS.

The whole force was paraded for the inspection of the visiting Ministers, through various exercises to show the general proficiency attained. The quarters of officers and men were also inspected. Subsequent firing with the big guns was given, the practice show-ing great proficiency.

The Ministers also visited Reginald, the graving yard, being the great object of interest there.

The rifle range department will wait upon them to-day.

THE CHIEF OF POLICE.

Chip Wolf, for lunch, at Watson & Hall's, 55 Yates street.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

The Victoria Lawn Tennis Club's pavilion is now under way and the grass courts will be in playing order when the pavilion is built—which will be a fortnight. Any member having racquets, etc., in the present shed ought to remove them, as the building will be taken down in a few days and rebuilt in the corner—for use as a store house.

HERE AND THERE.

McLean is in the city again and opens on Broad street and to be formally opened with a grand pool handicap, commencing on Monday, the 12th inst.

The match arranged between the Corrig College cricketers and "C" Battery for yesterday was not played, owing to the engagement of the battery.

SEWERS! SEWERS!!

More Weary Hours of Discussion by the City Fathers—Sanitary Engineer Mohan's Salary.

Proposition From the Esquimaux Waterworks That the City Subscribe for Stock.

In olden times, when the hands of the big clock at the City Hall pointed to 8 o'clock, His Worship the Mayor used to mount the civic throne, and the nine aldermen, faithful and true, would file in and take their places at the board. But now things are different, and while the Mayor is generally around on time, it is not so with the members of the Council. A meeting that starts at 8 sharp is a rarity, and least night was no exception to the rule, it being 8:15 before the aldermen got down to business, and then there were only seven present. Ald. McKillop, Ald. McKillop, Styles, Bragg and Henderson. Ald. Baker, Munz, Belyea and McLaughlin came in afterwards.

A report from the Finance committee recommending the payment of accounts amounting to $4,600.20.

Ald. BRAGG—How much of that is for the sewerage engineer?

The Mayor: $250.

Ald. BRAGG—I would like one of the members of the Sewerage committee to tell the Council how long it is proposed to keep Mr. Mohan on.

Ald. BAKER didn't think the Sanitary Engineer was earning his salary of $350 a month, and didn't see why a man of that kind should be kept in that position.

Ald. BAKER continued that such a sum of money should not be paid out of the revenue. There was $330 to be paid for the Sewerage Engineer and his assistants, and the city had not received ten cents benefit.

Ald. MCKILLOP—We ought to confine Ald. Baker to the question. He keeps on singing the same old song, and if that continues, we will never get through our business.

Ald. MUNZ said he had been unable during the year to see where the city got value for the money paid the Sanitary Engineer. But there was no use wasting time in discussing the salary question every time there was a report from the Finance committee.

Ald. STYLES and Bragg spoke for 20 minutes each in the same strain as Ald. Baker.

The Finance committee's report was adopted.

The Provincial Government recommended the payment of $3,237 for the land necessary for the extension of View Street. Report adopted.

On the 26th April, 1893, the Council passed a by-law, No. 139, authorizing the appointment by resolution of one or more persons to be commissioner or commissioners of sewers.

On the 25th April, 1893, Messrs. Thos. Earle and John Turner signed a check for $26,439 at the expiration of the contract with the contractor to be paid the full amount of the balance which the two Commissioners and the Engineer certify as due to him at the expiration of the contract.

The following is a summary of the figures from which the balance of $19,252.57 is derived.

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Includes items like 'Balance to Mr. Mohan', 'Balance to Mr. Mohan', 'Grand total'.

The Mayor announced that he had a report from the Finance committee recommending that the sum of $250 be appropriated to make up the balance due to Mr. Mohan.

THE GREAT ECLIPSE.

Scientists and Peasants Gather on the Chilian Mountain Top to Witness the Conjunction.

Pen Picture of the Scene by One of the Favored Few—Sees Light to Be Remembered.

(Correspondence of the Colonist.) CARRIZAL, Chili, April 10.—Through circumstances unforeseen but surprisingly propitious your correspondent was fortunate enough to find himself, on the morning of the eventual 16th, at La Mina Bronce, and able to witness the phenomena of the sun's total eclipse within a few feet of a six-inch equatorial telescope, manipulated by a well known astronomer, and almost precisely on the line of total observation.

The weather was superb, and may be well as one of the most perfect passages to damp the enthusiasm of the astronomers or the pleasure of the uninitiated; the proceedings of sun and moon, from a scientific, telescopic and spectacular view were observed with conspicuous success.

An article on "Nature," by Mr. King, consulted at Carrizal, first drew attention to the adaptability of this locality for observing, owing to its position on the line of total eclipse, and the wonderful serenity of the atmosphere.

Mr. BAKER talked fifteen minutes to prove that the Mayor had a right to his own opinion.

Ald. MCKILLOP hoped this would give the Mayor a chance to wind up this business, which had caused perpetual discussion for the past five months, and any reasonable man must be disgusted.

Ald. BRAGG asked the Mayor what he would do if he was a living dog in the grave for the past five months, and any reasonable man must be disgusted.

Ald. MCKILLOP wanted to know what the vote had to do with the personal trade against the Sanitary Engineer.

Ald. BAKER continued that such a sum of money should not be paid out of the revenue. There was $330 to be paid for the Sewerage Engineer and his assistants, and the city had not received ten cents benefit.

Ald. MCKILLOP—We ought to confine Ald. Baker to the question. He keeps on singing the same old song, and if that continues, we will never get through our business.

(Correspondence of the Colonist.) CARRIZAL, Chili, April 10.—Through circumstances unforeseen but surprisingly propitious your correspondent was fortunate enough to find himself, on the morning of the eventual 16th, at La Mina Bronce, and able to witness the phenomena of the sun's total eclipse within a few feet of a six-inch equatorial telescope, manipulated by a well known astronomer, and almost precisely on the line of total observation.

The weather was superb, and may be well as one of the most perfect passages to damp the enthusiasm of the astronomers or the pleasure of the uninitiated; the proceedings of sun and moon, from a scientific, telescopic and spectacular view were observed with conspicuous success.

An article on "Nature," by Mr. King, consulted at Carrizal, first drew attention to the adaptability of this locality for observing, owing to its position on the line of total eclipse, and the wonderful serenity of the atmosphere.

Mr. BAKER talked fifteen minutes to prove that the Mayor had a right to his own opinion.

Ald. MCKILLOP hoped this would give the Mayor a chance to wind up this business, which had caused perpetual discussion for the past five months, and any reasonable man must be disgusted.

Ald. BRAGG asked the Mayor what he would do if he was a living dog in the grave for the past five months, and any reasonable man must be disgusted.

Ald. MCKILLOP wanted to know what the vote had to do with the personal trade against the Sanitary Engineer.

Ald. BAKER continued that such a sum of money should not be paid out of the revenue. There was $330 to be paid for the Sewerage Engineer and his assistants, and the city had not received ten cents benefit.

Ald. MCKILLOP—We ought to confine Ald. Baker to the question. He keeps on singing the same old song, and if that continues, we will never get through our business.

Ald. MUNZ said he had been unable during the year to see where the city got value for the money paid the Sanitary Engineer.

Ald. STYLES and Bragg spoke for 20 minutes each in the same strain as Ald. Baker.

The Finance committee's report was adopted.
