HOW POOLE MET DEATH.

CALM AND RESIGNED HE DIES WITH A PRAYER ON HIS LIPS.

The Scene Outside the Prison Walls-The Man's Last Night Upon Earth. Dublin, Dec. 18. Joseph Poole, who was hanged this morning for the murder of Joseph Kenney, slept at intervals last night and arose about 6 o'clock, when he had a light breakfast. He then busied himself with his devotions, reading from the Key of Heaven and The Lives of the evening Rose arranged with the police and evening Rose arranged with the police and the Key of Heaven and The Lives of the Saints, and praying whenever he laid the poared refreshed and in fairly good spirits. He then proceeded with two attendant wardens to the chapel, which is situated about the centre of the prison and close to the cell he had just quitted. At the chapel he was met by Father Donegan, and the two knelt and prayed. The last sacrament was here administered to the condemned given by the chief warder and Father Donegan ler, the doomed man to the corridor out side, where Jones, an amateur executioner from Belfast, fixed the straps, executioner from Belfast, fixed the straps, pinior may the elbows. The procession was the formed and consisted of Mr. James Compbell, sub-sheriff; Mr. Henry Philotts, the governor of the prison; the deputy-governor, Dr. Burne and several warders. Father Donegan walked on one side of Poole, and a warder on the other. The hangman, Jones, just in front, twenty paces, brought them to the prison yard, where the scaffold stood. As Poole walked a few yards to his place of death, in the dim morning light, he appeared to more advantage than when in the dock, with his well-knit figure, firm and erect, and his manly countenance, pale but de-

Once on the scaffold the hangman guided him directly under the beam, and placing the nose in position, moved rapidly to the lever in the corner, and an instant later the bolt was drawn, the victim disappeared, and the rope jerked violently, indicating that a struggle was going on beneath. In a little while all was quiet, and the career of Poole was ended. The black flag was a little while all was quiet, and the career of Poole was ended. The black flag was run up as soon as the trap gave way, and the watchful crowd outside gave vent to a wailing cry, men mumbled prayers and women crossed themselves again and again, some of the latter, more fervent than the rest, fell upon their knees. Soon, however, they quietly began to disperse, as the weather was damp and drizzly. There was no disturbance whatever.

Poole died with singular fortitude, calmly repeating a prayer until the last. calmly repeating a prayer until the last. He made no statement about the crime.

COLORED ODDFELLOWS BALL. Eighth Anniversary of Peter Ogden Lodge

Peter Ogden lodge of oddfellows celebrated its eighth anniversary Albert hall last night. Mr. R. Dorsey Coroner Duncan and a jury yesterday held an inquest on the body of Wm. Wilson, who died at the Central prison Sunday. The evidence showed that deceased's death was caused by inflammation of the bowels and a verdict was entered to that effect. Wilson was serving a seven months' term for embezzlement at Kingston. He made the following confession just before he died:

My name is Thos. Nevin, not Wm. Wilson my relatives live at 43 King's road. St. Leonard-on-Sea, Sussex. England. If it should please God-to take me under this mortal affliction, I humbly beg that some charitable fellow sinner would inform them that I died in the faith of Jesus Christ.

From the Lakes to the Mountains was the subject of a lecture by Ald. John T. Moore at Shaftesbury hall last night. Mr. Moore has made several trips through the Northwest and knows whereof he speaks. Northwest and knows whereof he speaks. His lecture was interesting and replete with information about the great lone land, and was delivered in a racy style. The large audience could not be otherwise than benefitted by what they heard, and passed a hearty vote of thanks to the lecturer. Mr. Lewis C. Peake officiated as chairman, and Rev. Wm. A Much Referred to Official. Ald. Hall offered a resolution at the neeting of the board of works yesterday, setting forth that City Commissioner setting forth that City Commissioner Coatsworth held the office of one who had everything "referred to" him. Ald. Hall was in favor of designating him as "inspector of health," (to be under the direction of the health committee) and separating him entirely from the works department, which he said should be entirely under the charge of the city engineer. The committee did not acquiesce in the reso-

Frozen Wheat.

After the many stories which we have been hearing of drawbacks and discourage ments experienced by settlers in the North west, it is cheering to read the account given by Mr. Williamson and published i The World yesterday, of the highly suc cessful start made by the Pickering syndicate in the Qu'Appelle district. The Pickering colony is composed of practical men, who know what farming is and how to conduct it. They know also how to start a new settlement and the right way to go to work all through. In about a high in the estimation of the British public year and a half they have made their en- as fields for emigration as they do at preterprise a proved success, and next year will almost certainly see their success still

It will be observed that they report wheat crop of 44 bushels per acre, and nothing is said about any portion of it hav ing been frozen. But it will further be oticed that they gave it the benefit of very early sowing, some of the land having been twice plowed the year before, and therefore ready for sowing at the earliest opening of the season. Now, a certain portion of this year's wheat crop having been injured by frost it has been assumed by some people that this is to be expected as the regular or at least the frequent experience of the Northwest, and that frozen wheat must be counted upon as a staple product there. This despairing view of the country's future is not sustained by facts. As everybody knows, last summer was a . most exceptional one on this continent—the coolest experienced over North America for many years—and half or perhaps the whole average lifetime of generation may elapse ere there be such another. The spring was cold and afterwards growth was hindered by freuent cold waves. Even in the states of corn crop was seriously injured, both in quantity and quality, by the coolness of the season. In the Northwest, again, many new settlers, trying to do what they could during 1883, sowed very late on ground that should have been broken up the year before to give the crop anything like a fair chance. No wender, then, that in this exceptional year some of this late sown whea

But if the year's experience has been somewhat unfavorable with regard to the wheat crop, it is satisfactory to know that the cause of this exceptional experience is well understood out there, and that the settlers will certainly profit from the lesson. They quite understand that the sure and efficient remedy for frozen wheat is a very simple one-early sowing. And it is further satisfactory to hear that up to the setting in of winter last month more fall plowing had been done than ever known before, the consequence of which will be a general rush of early sowing next spring. The lesson to intending settlers is an obvious one. To be sure of a good first crop they should make their calculations on devoting their first summer to breaking up much of the land and building houses and stables. This of course pre-supposes that they have enough means to live upon for some twelve or eighteen months, until their first grop comes in; and so much every settler should have who goes to the Northwest to try farming on his own hook. The settlers' land need not cost him much, but he will surely see hard times if he has not with him something like a year's provisome or the means of buying the same. It may pretty confidently be anticipated that one year's experience of fall plowing and early sowing as the general practice in the Northwest will send the frozen wheat bugbear away back among things of the past.

was caught by early frosts.

It begins to appear as if the visit of the German Crown Prince to the south of Europe was not so much to the king of Spain or the king of Italy as to the pope. The emperor Wilhelm is anxious to have some sort of a settlement with the vaticar ere he leaves the world; and with this view he sends the future emperor to Rome by way of Madrid. Of course Bismarch concurs, else the thing would not be done: but very possibly the chancellor has been ust as anxious as the emperor to close the difficulty with Rome ere his own adminis tration closes. Such is the reading of the present situation favored by recent cable

"Mowat must go" the Winnipeg Sunvaried by "Mowat's awful flight," which it put over an extract from the Mail telling how the Ontario premier would be placed in a minority of one by the defection of five supporters. But that was before the West Middlesex election. The Mail has ceased now prophecying about minorities, and the Sun must revise its headline unless it considers fifty ministerialists to thirtyseven oppositionists "an awful plight" for Mr. Mowat to face the house in.

The strike of the C.P.R. locomotive engieers at Winnipeg is out of the ordinary line. These men were engaged during boom times at boom prices, and, we suppose, must share in the general decrease. There are some vague threats of violence conveyed in the despatches which will come to nothing, of course. The brotherhood did not order the strike, therefore it is local, and not likely to spread. It is to be hoped that they will soon see a way to mend these matters, because while the people of this province have no great sympathy with the C. P. R., they do not wish to see traffic interrupted with their ne. These men were engaged during boon wish to see traffic interrupted with their most important connection.

The high commissioner to England says "As to Manitoba, the Northwest and Canada generally, they have never stood so sent." The British public has evidently not read lately of the idle Chinese in British Columbia, of the destitute Englishmen ish Columbia, of the destitute Englishmen in Winnipeg, of the distress on Conway street, of the general paring down of wages that is in progress, of the defrauded C.P.R. laborers, of the numbers of unemore than the control of the destitute Englishmen in Winnipeg, of the distress on Conway street, of the general paring down of wages that is in progress, of the defrauded or Texas to find living witnesses of its convenience. C.P.R. laborers, of the numbers of unemployed at every industrial centre in the ountry, and of the trades and labor council's memorial on assisted passages and emigration generally.

Unless the C. P. R. speedily gets into are threatened with a dearth of provisions and coal. Under any circumstances the present passenger trains are running satisfactorily, but the great trouble is with the transportation of freight. Recourse will probably have to be had to the old methods in use before railway time.

Sir Charles Tupper says the members of the British Science association are looking forward with great interest to their visit next year to Canada. They promise to come five or six hundred strong. That late, causing sowing to be long delayed, and they will be welcomed in a manner worthy of "we northerners" is certain, and we can only hope that the season will second ur efforts at hospitality by exhibiting the country in its best and most flourishing

On Saturday evening a dinner was given at the Montreal Hunt club's kennels in honor of the hunt master, Mr. Baumgarten, A large number of prominent gentlemen were present, Mr. Crawford of Verdun occupying the chair. Mr. Baumgarten in replying to the toast of Our Guest, said that during the season they killed but 14 foxes. Speeches were delivered by C. P. Davidson, Q.C., Capt. Campbell, Mr. J. Hickson, Mr. C. Bouthillier, Mr. J. Hickson, Mr. Hugh A. Allan, master of the Myopea Hunt club of Boston, and others.

The terms of the match with George Bubear of Putney, arranged by W. In England Busybody ran only four races, and Archiduc the same, Superba nine, Harvester six, St. Simon five, Solitaire five and Talisman eight. Mr. Withers did not race the Julietta colt (Cæsar), which he considers the best 2-year-old he has, nor considers the best 2-year-old he has, nor did Mr. Lorillard start Endymion or Young Duke. Mr. Galway saved Hidalgo and Mr. Chinn saved Banquet. Several other very promising colts were saved, and, for once, Mr. G. L. Lorillard called a halt, when he found he had a great one in Louisette, and we were spared a repetition of the treatment which Spinaway and Memento received.

The Marylebone cricket club will give the Australian cricketers the gross receipts for three matches played at Lord's against the Marylebone cricket club and ground, the Gentlemen of England and the Players, the dates for which have not been decided. The first match of the tour will be against Oxford university on May 15. It is proposed that the Australians should play at Derby on Whit Monday. The match with Cambridge university (past and present) will in all likelihood be played at Cambridge on August 25, and a fixture with Cambridge university is in course of arrangement, the date proposed being June 16. Three matches with England will be played at Lord's, the Oval and Manchester; two with the Gentlemen at Lord's and the Oval; two with the Players, at Oval and Sheffield; two with the North, at Nottingham and Manchester, and one (or perhaps two) with the South. It is proposed to play Yorkshire, Notts and Gloucestershire twice; Kent, Surrey, Sussex, Leicestershire, Lengshire, Middlesex, M.C.C. and Ground The Marylebone cricket club will give Kent, Surrey, Sussex, Leicestershire, Lancashire, Middlesex, M.C.C. and Ground once. A fixture at Scarborough is expected on Sept. 4. Other engagements will be made, but nothing has been settled

The History of a Boat. Alec. Elliott has done pretty well, with that old craft he bought off Plaisted, Smith et al. two years ago for $130. The cond was borrowed during the summer by Messrs. P. D. Ross and R.d Tinning, of the NOTES ON THE RECREATIONS OF Toronto rowing club, to test in order to see if it would successfully carry the club's champion four at the Newark, N.J., regatta. Messrs. Ross and Tinning found it unsuited for their purpose and Mr. Dillon, captain of the Toronto rowing club, and the owner, Alec Elliott, were taking it back to The celebrated pacer. Johnston has been D. C. Ross prod. $6000 for the fixings of his saloon at develand, O.

Mace and his troupe are starring through the British provinces. They tack the Prince of Wales' name on their bills. He is dubbed "Patron."

Owner, Alec Elliott, were taking it back to the latter's boathouse when the steamer Annie Craig came along and ran into it, damaging the boat so badly as to lessen its value to about $45. Elliott sued the Toronto rowing club before Judge Boyd for $200, alleging that was the value of the concern, and the sagacious jury gave a verdict to the plaintiff for $190. If the Toronto rowing club rest under such a glaringly unjust decision the members are not the men The World usually took them for before. The boat was originally built by

It has long been felt that there was not sufficient room to accommodate the increasing trade of the hotel, and to meet this demand the proprietor has, at an expense of over $18,000, purchased the late premises occupied by the St. Lawrence coffee house association adjoining the Albion, and has now 125 bedrooms, accommodation for 200 guests. The house has been re-modelled and re-furnished throughout at an outlay of $5000-gas in every room, new dining-room 40x60, capable of seating 200 people at one time. The house is the best $1 house in the Dominion.
