MRS. MACSWINEY CABLES APPEAL TO PRES. WILSON

Asks "Influence with English Government"

Society of Friends, Irish Conciliation Committee and British Labor Leaders Ask Lloyd George to Free Lord Mayor of Cork.

London, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Terence MacSwiney has cabled President Wilson an appeal in behalf of her husband, the lord mayor of Cork, who has for several days been in a critical condition as a result of a hunger strike which began August 12, and which he is continuing in his cell in Brixton prison.

Mrs. MacSwiney asks Mr. Wilson to "use your influence with the English government to prevent the perpetration of an outrage on civilisation." She declares her husband is "dying in an English prison."

Mayor MacSwiney was apparently weaker this morning, and the prison doctors expressed great alarm. They advised his relatives that nobody should converse with him today. Sean MacSwiney, his brother, remained at the prison last night.

The Gaelic League announced last night that for the first time during his hunger strike the lord mayor had complained to his wife of feeling very tired. The prisoner was unable to converse with his relatives. He was still quite conscious, however, and "his mind was as clear as his will as strong as ever."

Labor leaders yesterday addressed an appeal to Premier Lloyd George asking the release of the lord mayor. Among the signers of the appeal were William Adamson, Labor member of parliament; Robert Smillie, president of the Miners' Federation; Robert Williams, of the Transport Workers' Union, and George Lansbury, editor of the Daily Herald, organ of Labor.

Another appeal to the premier from the executive committee of the Society of Friends, says: "In the name of our common Master we faith and seize this opportunity to plead the cause of the lord mayor of Cork." The Irish conciliation committee, representing both parties in parliament, sent a similar appeal to the premier, while the London branch of the Irish Dominion League is seeking to enlist the support of the Archbishop of Canterbury in mediation with the government.

Unionist Council.

Belfast, Sept. 4.—The proceedings of the meeting of the Ulster Unionist council yesterday were strictly secret. The decisions arrived at were provisional. There is no foundation for a rumor that the government contemplates recognizing the Ulster Volunteers. It was pointed out that such recognition would be regarded by the Catholics, throughout the country as tantamount to a declaration of civil war.

The question of enrolling armed special constables was discussed at the conference, but it is declared that as the peril of sectarian trouble again was felt no decision was reached on the point.

id Near Waterford.

Belfast, Sept. 4.—The Thomson coast guard station near Waterford, was blown up yesterday by a party of armed and masked men. Before destroying the station the raiders disarmed the two men in charge. Large quantities of arms have been seized by raiders at various points in the region of Waterford.

Belfast, Sept. 4.—A motor car in which William McConville was carrying 23,000 to pay the wages of factory workers, was held up by armed men near Banbridge yesterday. The assailants took the money from McConville and threw him down an embankment. They shot and killed Wm. McDowell, driver of the car, and escaped with their booty.

New York, Sept. 4.—A resolution asking Secretary of State Colby to demand the release of Terence MacSwiney was adopted last night by the Central Federation of Labor Union. Announcement also was made that union warehouse workers will refuse to handle British goods until he is given his liberty.

State Treasurer Burell of Massachusetts has resigned.

Canada's V. Cs were the special guests of the big Toronto fair on Saturday, August 28, when the grounds were thrown open to the men who won fame and glory on the fields of battle. With their relatives they were given a royal time and the performance at night on the grand stand was exclusively for their entertainment.

This picture is unique in that it is the first group photograph of Canada's Great War V. C. heroes. It was taken previous to their parade to the Exhibition grounds. Colonel "Billy" Bishop and Colonel Barker are the first uniformed figures on the left.

TAKES STAND ON MILK QUESTION

Hon. Manning W. Doherty Questions Right of Board of Commerce in Matter.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—Hon. Manning W. Doherty, minister of agriculture for Ontario, sent a telegram yesterday to Premier Arthur Meighen at Ottawa practically asking the federal premier to upset the ruling of the board of commerce on milk prices in this city.

The minister contends that the fixing of the price by the board of commerce is without justification. In his message to Premier Meighen he states that the report of the Ontario government milk commission fully justifies the increased price of 33.25 per eight gallon can put into force the first of September.

The board of commerce fixed the price at $2.70 per eight gallon can.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—(Canadian Press.)—The board of commerce has decided that the order restraining the Toronto milk and cream producers association from charging more than $2.70 for an eight-gallon can of milk, delivered, shall not go into force until after the Toronto hearing on September 9.

A STIMULUS TO MOVEMENT FOR DIVORCE REFORM

Demand of Canadian Bar Association for Uniform Law.

(Special to Times.)—The Canadian Bar Association for a uniform law on divorce will lend stimulus to the movement for divorce reform by means of vesting in the courts jurisdiction with regard to divorce. At the present time there are divorce courts in the provinces except Ontario, Quebec and Prince Edward Island.

A bill introduced at the last session by Senator Ross, chairman of the senate divorce committee, passed that chamber, but was never taken up in the commons. It left Quebec jurisdiction on the courts of Ontario and Prince Edward Island. The latter province afterwards intimated that it did not want anything reintroduced next session, though it is doubtful if it will under government auspices.

As Hiram Sees It

"I was standin' on a street corner yisterday," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter, "lookin' at a boy sellin' papers. A man come along an' he said: 'Paper, Mister?' The man looked straight ahead an' said 'No!' as if he was bitin' the head off a nail. Well, sir, that boy sot his jaw an' looked after the man as if he'd like to throw a brick. Jist then another man come along an' the boy ast him if he wanted a paper. The man looked at 'im as pleased as if the boy was doin' 'im a favor, an' said: 'No, thank you, my boy.'—an' went on. The boy fetched his hat an' grinned, an' then began to whistle. That set me thinkin'. Them little fellows that sell papers has feelin's jist like folks that sell 'star' around an' sell papers the same as grown folks sell stuff in the market an' in the store. They orto be used jist as well as better—fer they take an impression quicker an' it goes deeper. That man that snarled at the boy was takin' away some of the sunshine he orto be havin' around 'im all the time. J. D. O'Connell has the right feelin'. I aint sayin' I'd do jist what he does. Maybe I hed to give. But if all the men in St. John hed his feelin'—no matter how they expressed it—'d wouldn't be half as much call for a Child Welfare Week, no, sir."

Suggestion in "Better Understanding" Campaign

Horace Gagne, Who Addressed Canadian Club in St. John, Asked by Bar Association to Take Whatever Steps He Deems Well.

(Special to Times.)

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 4.—During the meeting of the Canadian Bar Association at Ottawa, the better understanding movement inaugurated by the Canadian fraternal societies to bring about more amicable relations between the French-speaking and English-speaking sections of Canada, by getting the people to know each other, advanced a little further towards organization. There was a meeting in the Chateau Laurier to which was invited Horace Gagne, K. C., of Montreal, president of the Canadian Win the War and Unity League that was formed as a result of the bonnie entente movement attempted during the war. It was felt that it would be better to reorganize a organization already in existence for the purpose of calling together representatives of all bodies desiring to come into the movement.

Mr. Gagne was asked to take whatever measures seemed to him well. Your correspondent has been informed that Mr. Gagne will call together the executive of the older bonnie entente organization, and suggest to it that they should work harder than ever to achieve the end all had in view, now that many disturbing influences which had worked against the success of the former efforts are on the way if not forgotten. The proposal to a discussion of problems affecting race, religion and language, but that it bringing close together all parts of the Dominion. With this object in view he will suggest as a first measure that representatives of all the newspapers of the Dominion should be taken on a "better understanding" tour of their own country at first hand the special needs and aspirations of the people. His reasons for suggesting this are that newspapers are the medium by which inflammatory speeches are made known, and through which an adequate idea of various happenings capable of disturbance can be gleaned. The reports of happenings on such a tour would serve to correct many misconceptions he thinks, and open the way to a better understanding all around.

PINCH HITTER WINS THE GAME

Tense Struggle of Boston and New York

Mays Both Boed and Applauded — Yesterday's Games in the Series of Big Leagues.

Boston, Sept. 4.—New York won from Boston yesterday in the American League in a tense struggle which was decided in the ninth inning, when pinch hitter Meusel's high fly landed safely in short right center, scoring Bodie and Ward, and giving the latter a two-bar innings, Washington winning. Washington's Carl Mays was booted when he started to warm up in the seventh inning, but received rounds of applause from the grandstand as he walked to the pitching stand in the eighth. New York, 5; Boston, 3.

BUMPER CROPS

Lulu Island a Strange Farm But Work Brings Big Results.

(Canadian Press Limited.)

Vancouver, Sept. 4.—Heavy spring rain and the beneficent sunshine of July and August have coaxed from the fertile soil of Lulu Island one of the best crops garnered in years, and the harvest season will be a short one.

Lulu Island farmhands vary in a most marked degree. This is perhaps the only "made" land, the original deposit which settles one day being covered the next with shifting sands. Sometimes a one-acre "farm" is streaked like the family cow, layers of heavy, and varying yields, and the condition is remedied only by the use of fertilizer. One field may yield 100 bushels of oats to the acre, while across the fence a bumper crop of 80 is the result. For this the farmer is largely responsible.

MET FEARFUL DEATH

Montreal, Sept. 4.—Definite identification was established yesterday of the skull of a man found in a space at the rear of the fuel economizer in the boiler room of the plant of the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Company, on Notre Dame street east, last Wednesday.

The rest of the remains were taken out yesterday and were proved to be those of Ludger Meilleur, forty-nine, who disappeared on August 25 last. Identification was made through the snap of a tobacco pouch given to him by his brother.

It is supposed Meilleur fell down the fuel economizer while oiling it. As the heat there is about 325 degrees, he would have died instantaneously.

BRITISH MINE SITUATION NOT CHANGED TODAY

Sensational Super-Savings Now

One of our prominent manufacturers was in here the other day. It nearly broke his heart to see how slaughtering prices on merchandise that he knew could not be replaced at wholesale this Fall.

He said, "It's an absolute shame to see such fine suits at such terrifically low prices. How can you expect to get folks to pay the much higher prices you'll have to ask for equal grades when these are gone."

"Tut, tut," says The Miracle Man. "Why worry about Fall now. The wise men of the town are laying in their Fall supplies now. Those that do not must be satisfied to pay Fall prices or go without. We've plenty of year 'round weight suits in this sale for those who want to anticipate Fall prices and save now during this Minus Profit Sale."

When fair September's at the gate, a lot of troubles pull their freight. "At last," we sigh, we may expect a climate sporting and correct; loss of the timber and the lyre be sounded, though we still perspire; let joyful music echo wake, even though we sizzle, fry and bake."

OUTLAWS STEAL RAILROAD TRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 3.—A freight train seized here last night by a band of men believed to be members of the striking outlaws, was found early today near Bensonville (Ill.), with the freight wide open and the twenty-one freight cars apparently untouched. Several battles between freight crews and bands of the striking switchmen who never regained their jobs, preceded the theft of the train which occurred shortly before midnight last night in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul yards at Cicero, a suburb. Thomas White, the engineer, was driven from his post at the point of a gun and when Bert Zimone, the fireman, resisted, he was badly beaten. White immediately gave the alarm and after several hours search the train was found.

Railroad officials believe the throttle had been pulled wide open and the train then abandoned by the band which stole it. It had apparently run down for lack of steam.

MERCHANT FIGHTS WITH A BURGLAR

Former Seriously Slashes Marauder With Significant Name When Robber Opens Fire Before Dawn.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—A would-be burglar was tendered a warm reception when he entered the store of Sam Salhani, a St. Catherine street east merchant, this morning, and he is lying at the General hospital with a knife wound in each lung and a deep gash in his left arm. Salhani, who had been sleeping in the store lately owing to recent raids by thieves, awakened about 5 o'clock to find a burglar, armed with a revolver, and a pair of pliers, headed for his safe. The marauder who gives his name as Harry Prison, shot at Salhani three times, missing him on each occasion. Salhani then attacked the burglar with a butcher knife lying nearby, with the result that he badly wounded Prison that he dropped in his tracks. Salhani then went in search of the police, but on returning with the officers found that Prison had made his escape. Following a trail of blood they found him on the point of entering the General hospital where he now lies in a dangerous condition.

A GOOD CANADIAN TRADE IN ANIMALS

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Canadian export trade in animals and animal products during the four months of the present fiscal year, shows a favorable trade balance amounting to $29,071,148, representing eighty per cent. of the total trade value of agriculture. The export trade, however shows a reduction in value of approximately fifty per cent. when compared with the exports of the same period of 1919. Export figures for the first four months of the present fiscal year were: $66,445,119 against $90,228,286 for the corresponding period of last year. Imports in 1920 totalled $27,878,971 against $79,972. The trade balance in Canada's favor in 1920 is $29,071,148 against $82,228,287 for the corresponding four months of 1919. Agriculture, including all classes of agricultural and vegetable produce and animal products, has a favorable trade balance of $33,520,027. This balance, is, however, less by about $114,000,000 than that of the period of 1919.

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

Women returning from the seaside or country with browned, reddened or freckled skins will be wise in immediately taking up the mercurochrome treatment. Weather-beaten skin had best come off, for no amount of "beautifying" will ever make it pretty to look at. The surest, safest, easiest way to shed the discolored skin is with the treatment suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream, and rinse it off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of scar skin peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath. One ounce of mercurochrome, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored or spotted complexion clear, white and satiny soft. Its action is so gentle no harm is caused and the face shows no trace of its use. Burning heat, irritating winds and dirt are such wrinkle-makers that the daily use of the following astringent-tonic lotion at this season is highly advisable: Powdered azolette, one ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. Used as a face bath this is a splendid wrinkle remover and preventive.

Hair Curling Troubles Are Over—Read This!

Have you heard about the newest way to keep the hair in curl? If not, by all means cut out these simple directions and try this wonderful method. Procure a plain tooth brush and a few ounces of Mentholatum. Apply enough of the liquid with the brush to moisten the hair from root to tip just before doing it up. You will be quite astonished when you find you have such lovely waves and curls they appear altogether natural. Instead of having been artificially acquired. Best of all, the waviness will last very much longer than it would otherwise. Your hair, of course, will have more "body" and fluffiness than when the drying, singeing, waving iron is used. It will appear glossier and livelier, for all-merine has proved equally desirable as a dressing for the hair. You'll find it pleasant to use, and it will leave no sticky, greasy or streaky trace.

Replete With Charm and Style Are the New Fashions Presented in Our Showing of Individualized Apparel For Autumn

To every woman is offered the opportunity of viewing what is new, striking, and beautiful in apparel for Autumn, on Tuesday and following days.

The smartest and triggest of Costumes are showing in youthful straight lines. Cloths are soft and comfortable looking, and are often embellished with a charming touch of contrasting fur.

Coats are along wrappy lines. There are many big utility styles and enveloping models with large shirred collars. Many of these are also trimmed with fur. Coats with smart capes are among the decidedly new features.

Silk and Wool Frocks are in charming assortments. There are many different models. Trimmings of beads and embroidery prevail, and some of the smartest cloth frocks are trimmed with bands of colored kid. Chemise effects are still favored, but there are all sorts of other kinds.

Loveliest of all—THE FURS. Coats, Wraps, Neck Pieces and Muffs are in all the new shapes dictated by fashion for Fall and Winter wear. Never were fur styles more delightful and assortments are now at their best.

Children's Clothes also have a prominent place in this showing of modes. Youthful models, simple in line, yet smart, will appeal to little girls of school ages.

Page 24 will tell you more about what to expect in this showing of modes.

HARD COAL MEN CONTINUE IDLE

President Wilson Asked to Reopen Wage Controversy.

Seranton, Pa., Sept. 3.—The United Mine Workers today telegraphed President Wilson, requesting him to direct that the wage agreement signed yesterday by operators and miners be reopened for the purpose of giving the miners an additional increase in wages. A telegram was also sent to Secretary of Labor Wilson saying the mine workers stood ready to meet the anthracite operators, separately or jointly. It is estimated that about 100,000 mine workers throughout the anthracite regions have quit work because they are not satisfied with the terms of the coal commission's award.

Many Idle in Hazelton.

Hazelton, Pa., Sept. 3.—Only five anthracite coal mines in the Hazelton district were able to start today on account of "vacations" taken by the men as a protest against the wage award. The output was cut yesterday to twenty per cent.

TROUBLE IN BRAZIL

Rio Janeiro, Sept. 3.—Financial conditions in Brazil have become so serious and exchange rates so erratic that North American banks and merchants are refusing further credits to Brazilian concerns until the situation shall have improved, according to speakers at a meeting of the semi-official commercial association.

LIQUOR SEIZURE AT CAMPBELLTON

Campbellton, Sept. 3.—For some time it has been suspected that much liquor which has been in evidence here has been coming from the Quebec side of the Restigouche river. To some extent this theory was proved to be correct when a resident of Campbellton was fined $100 and costs for having seven cases and two jars of liquor, which were seized by inspectors.

The liquor is reported to Sandy Hill station, where it is taken charge of and hauled to the river bank, then loaded in motor boats and brought to town, where it finds a ready market.

THE SCHOOL CHILDREN

The public schools in Hamilton, Ont., reopened on September 1st. The Times of that city says:—"The children have had a long holiday, but will return to school bettered in health and in condition to begin the term? We hear a good deal about dental clinics, and about the need for looking after adenoids, tonsils, and so forth. Has anything been done during the holidays to have such defects attended to. In Philadelphia we are told that Director of the Department of Health, with the co-operation of the White-Williams Foundation, has prepared a series of bulletins designed to show the seriousness of seven of the major defects found in children, and to urge upon parents the necessity of having the youngsters present themselves at the opening of school in the best possible physical shape.

"The seven important detriments to health and mental efficiency are adenoids, diseased tonsils, ear trouble, weak lungs, under nourishment, bad teeth and bad eyes. It has been found that most of the bad boys in school are sick boys. These troubles are often not the result of poverty, but of simple neglect on the part of the parents. "The White-Williams Foundation has come to the conclusion from careful observation, that much of the appalling retardation among Philadelphia school children, of whom 9,000 are three years or more behind their grade, is due to a neglected physical condition. "We are under the impression that most of the boys who appear in our juvenile police court are the victims of some physical defect that affects their mentality and their actions. They have been allowed to grow up without any supervision and their animal spirits, twisted by some defect or other, runs away with any discretion that they may have. Society has a duty in this connection. Is it doing that duty?"

NEW ZEALAND IS DEVELOPING DAIRY EXPORT

Representative Says Industry Has Had Remarkable Growth

Seeks Canadian Trade—Higher Freight Rates May Open Market on Pacific Coast.

(Toronto Globe.)

Rapid and extensive development of the dairy industry in New Zealand, due partly to a co-operative movement among the farmers, which had progressed rapidly in recent years with rigid Government grading, was described to The Globe yesterday by Parry H. Sutton, representing A. S. Paterson & Co., Limited, of Auckland, N. Z., who is in the city for a few days. Mr. Sutton is an enthusiast in the development of intra-Empire trade, and his visit to this country will undoubtedly give impetus to the import into this country of lamb, mutton and dairy products from the sister Dominion in the antipodes.

Mr. Sutton attributed the development of the dairy industry largely to the movement among the dairy farmers to co-operate. "In the past," he explained, "we had co-operative companies in a small way. These small concerns were usually managed by farmers, and as they were not experienced businessmen the companies were none too successful. Lately, however, more particularly in the butter and cheese industries, these co-operative companies have amalgamated. Recently we had a very large amalgamation of two co-operative and one proprietary company into a co-operative concern. It is now the largest butter company in the world."

Huge Dairy Exports.

Pointing out that New Zealand has a population of only 1,200,000, Mr. Sutton spoke with pride of its large shipments of dairy products and meat to the Motherland. The last financial returns from London, he said, showed that New Zealand stood first in the quantity of mutton, lamb and tallow shipped to Great Britain; second in the quantity of cheese and butter, Canada and Denmark being first respectively in the shipment of those commodities.

Sheep-raising is practically at a standstill, Mr. Sutton said, owing to the dairy industry progressing so rapidly, although it is still the staple industry. Mr. Sutton explained that the reason it was still at a standstill was that some of the large sheep runs and cattle stations suitable for more intensive farming were being divided into small farms. The co-operators are also great believers in cooperative effort. There are 45 pack-houses, or meat export works as they are called, in New Zealand. Most of them are owned and controlled by the farmers, although they will handle stock for any export firm. While Mr. Sutton is pleased and surprised at the prosperity of Canada, he believes its progress will be still greater when its large farms are further divided.

Cold-storage Essential.

The cold-storage system permitting the transport of meat and dairy products long distances without their deteriorating has really made the stock-raising and dairy industry in New Zealand, as it had to pass through the heat of the tropics.

Mr. Sutton declares that the forming of large co-operative companies does not prove detrimental to the urban consumers. He explained that the Government headed by Premier W. F. Massey, had since the beginning of the war set the prices of staple foodstuffs. It was only a few weeks ago that it commanded sufficient butter to supply the demands of the cities and towns for the winter, and a moderate price was fixed. The producers were not allowed during the war, no matter how great the foreign demand, to export produce required for the home market.

Even Sugar Cheap There.

Another instance of price fixing was given by Mr. Sutton. The Colonial Sugar Company, which manufactures enough sugar to supply the entire country, was notified by the Government at the outbreak of the war that if the price of sugar were raised its mills and shipping space would be commandeered. Since the war the price has been raised slightly, but as a result of the arrangement with the Government New Zealand had had the cheapest sugar in the world, although none of the raw material was produced in that country.

Mr. Sutton said he understood that as a result of the probable increase in freight rates in this country it would be possible for butter to be shipped from New Zealand and laid down in Vancouver at the same price it could be shipped to the British Columbia city from Ontario points. Although the Imperial authorities have taken the New Zealand butter for another year, a sufficient supply will nevertheless be available to meet the Canadian orders which are already being placed. Produce has been shipped to the Harris Abattoir Co. in this city this season, Mr. Sutton said.

Farmers Well Supported.

Instancing further the assistance given the farmer by the Massey Government Mr. Sutton recalled that the Premier had told a conference of representatives of the freeing companies at Wellington recently that if the shipping companies did not give them adequate accommodation to export their produce the Government would assist the farmers in establishing their own ships. Since that time the shipping companies had promised to ship every pound of produce the farmers offered. Mr. Sutton spoke highly of the action of the Canadian Government in establishing its own line of vessels, some of which were now making trips to New Zealand.

As an evidence that the price-fixing methods used in that country had been successful, Mr. Sutton said it was possible to get a dinner in one of the best hotels in the land for 75 cents. The one kick for the farmers there has been that prices have been fixed for all products, although many commodities used by farmers, such as wire, fertilizers, agricultural implements, grass seeds and building materials, have greatly increased in price.

Should Send Representatives.

New Zealand looks forward to an ever-growing export business now that it has secured a market for its products in both Canada and the United States,

Mr. Sutton said. Recently 1,500,000 carcasses were sold in New York. The pioneer in the frozen meat business in New Zealand was A. S. Paterson, the aged head of the firm with which he is connected. Early in the war this firm secured a permit from the Government to ship meat to P. Burns at Vancouver. Mr. Sutton is firmly of opinion that Canadian business firms should send their representatives to New Zealand to get acquainted with the trade possibilities between the two Dominions.

Notwithstanding the fixed price for products at home, Mr. Sutton declares, the country is more prosperous than ever before. This statement was supported by the fact that for several years the Government has borrowed all the money it required within the country. It has, too, spent $100,000,000 in caring for returned soldiers.

ANCIENT ROME CLEANLY CITY.

Aqueducts Built in Time of Consuls Still Remain.

(Detroit News.)

The modern Rome is built on the site of the ancient field of Mars, a spot no less venerable than the Olympic Stadium, where the Romans practiced the gymnastic exercises which, as among the Greeks, contributed not a little to their military fame.

The city after it was rebuilt for the Gauls burned the greater part of it, was gradually improved; yet it always contained many houses of wood and many of brick; the streets were irregular, for the most part narrow, and the houses very high.

A law that none of those in the principal streets should exceed seventy feet in height was introduced in the time of Augustus, who established regulations for security against fires. The oldest works that has been maintained from the time of the kings to the present day are the astonishing Cloaca, which preserved the cleanliness of the city. The aqueducts remain from the time of the consuls.

I look for an adjustment of the coal miners' strike. Crops are good in England and Scotland, the live stock is in splendid condition, and business in the towns and cities visited was in a flourishing condition," said Mr. Saunders.

CHURCH FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

Must Harmonize Labor and Capital, Says Clergyman in New York.

(Boston Post.)
New York, Aug. 29.—The church and the pulpit were called upon to intervene in strikes and try to compose the differences between capital and labor in a "Labor Sunday Message" issued today by the Rev. Worth M. Tippy, executive secretary of the Social Service Commission of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

Church Behind Labor.
He declared that the church must stand for the right of labor to organize and take collective action under proper restraints and safeguards for public welfare, and that the church should not be prevented from taking this step either by reactionary employers or by "evils in the labor movement."

The Rev. Mr. Tippy pointed out that the nation had suffered a tremendous economic loss because of the strikes last year and that deeper perils lie in threatened destruction of the spirit of co-operation and good-will between capital and labor. "The church watches the deepening conflict with profound concern," he continued. "It cannot stand aloof. At whatever risk of becoming involved in the controversy it must go into the midst of contending forces, if possible between them. It must bring to bear every ounce of influence which it possesses to bring these contending groups together and to induce them to work out permanent and effective means of co-operation."

Two Must Co-operate.
He pointed out that there was need to devise a method by which employers and workers can get together and keep together so as to put heart and power into production and give just returns to both groups. "If no form of labor organization is permitted and if not only strikes but labor organization itself is fought to a finish, there appears no way out of our troubles, but rather a deepening of them. We shall have an autocratic management of industry on the one side and either a kind of serfdom on the other or a militant, bitter, and class-conscious organization of labor growing yearly more revolutionary. That is just the danger of the present hour.

"The church cannot be hesitant here. When, as may often happen, the inclusiveness of its fellowship precludes a co-operative judgment on the part of the whole church, the pulpit must nevertheless be true to its prophetic office. The case is hopeless if employers will not allow collective action by their workers. The church must stand for the right of organization and collective action under proper ethical restraints and safeguards for public welfare.

Must Attack All Evils.
"The church cannot allow itself to be estopped from this course either by pressure from reactionary employers on the one hand or by manifest evils in the labor movement on the other. It must be strong enough to attack these evils and to resist the pressure. It must urge employers, especially Christian employers, to work out democratic principles in their establishments with due time for investigation and experiment. The important matter is not just what plan is followed, but that the start is made, and that everything that is done be on the road to a definite goal—the development of democratic factory organization in which all truly co-operate and which is for the benefit of each and all."

ALL SPAIN STIRRED BY ASSASSINATIONS

Syndicalists' Warfare Is Causing Terror—Shooting of Count Salvatierra and His Wife.

Barcelona, Spain, Aug. 7.—The shadow of assassination is over Barcelona. One aspect, one minute to hear a volley of shots betokening the death of another employer of labor who has incurred the hatred of fanatical syndicalists or of some syndicalist, who has succumbed either to factional quarrels or to anti-syndicalists as violent in their methods as those whom they count.

A few days ago Barcelona and all Spain shuddered at the most atrocious murder among all those perpetrated in the deadly struggle between syndicalism and its opponents. Though this murder was committed in Valencia, there seems little doubt that the extremists of Barcelona, the men who constantly meet in secret session to decree the death of those in their path, were responsible for it. And while groups still meet on every street here to comment on the dastardly shooting of Count Salvatierra, ex-Governor of Barcelona; his wife, and his young sister-in-law, a Madrid newspaper is causing a sensation by its revelations concerning the notorious "Baron Koenig" and his "black band" of assassins, who, it is alleged, were employed by the Barcelona authorities to fight syndicalists, and instituted a reign of terror by their illegal and ruthless methods, among which murder was quite an ordinary thing as it is to those syndicalists who so constantly employ it against their enemies.

In the attack on Count Salvatierra, his wife, and his sister-in-law, the Marchioness of Tejares, Spanish syn-

CHEMICAL INDUSTRY IN THE DOMINION

Canada Profits by War Experience — Expansion of Chemical Products, Limited, to Meet Market Demands — Promising Future.

The chemical industry in Canada received a decided impetus during the war period. The importation of chemicals from abroad was cut off owing to war time restrictions, and with the rapidly increasing demand for pharmaceutical lines in Canada and throughout the empire, the necessity of relying upon our own resources forced our manufacturers to extend all their efforts to meet this demand.

It was found that Canadian manufacturers could turn out products to meet the B. P. (British Pharmacopoeia) test, considered the highest in the world. At the same time, the necessity of increased farm production caused a growth in the importation of commercial fertilizers, and it was not until the last two years that the manufacture of acid phosphate, etc., on a commercial scale was undertaken in Canada.

Exports Total $7,593,274.
Canada is now using about $5,000,000 worth of fertilizers a year. In 1918 the consumption was placed at $4,600,000. The value of imported fertilizers during last year was $1,200,288, of which $1,180,141 was from the United States. The value of fertilizers exported was $7,338,274, and of this $5,510,677 went to the United States.

In 1918 there were fifteen companies in Canada making commercial fertilizers exclusively, as against twelve in the same industry in the previous years. The value of the principal materials used increased from $1,229,490 in 1917 to $1,578,588 in 1918, while the products made from these materials advanced in value from $2,295,074 in 1917 to $2,558,007 in 1918.

critical condition. The count died a few hours later. The doctor who worked over the countess said that by a miracle she had not been instantly killed. At the present writing she is still in a serious condition.

Valencia was thrown into a ferment by the news, as indeed was all Spain; the newspapers published columns about the murder and there was no lack of bitter comment at the supineness of the authorities, who, though they had been aware that the count's life was in danger, had taken no special precautions to protect him. In Barcelona there was hardly less excitement than in Valencia, for the count was well known here, having been Governor for some time. Undoubtedly some official act of his while here was his death warrant. Somewhere in one of the dark side streets of Barcelona's slums a secret tribunal decreed his death and dispatched its gunmen to Valencia to carry out the sentence.

HEALTH CARAVAN IN NOVA SCOTIA

Nurse Bishop Tells a Story of Absorbing Interest—Wonderful Work Done.

Miss Hattie B. Bishop, a nurse who went out with one of the Red Cross Health Caravans from Halifax, writes an account of the tour for the Chronicle. It is a story of very deep interest. The following are some extracts.

"At Blue Mountain the school and hall combined was chosen for our operations. In the lower part the Dental Room and Exhibit Room were located. The exhibit of posters was excellent. It had three sections, one on the care of the teeth, one on child welfare and one on tuberculosis, all in such language that the youngest and even most ignorant may understand. Upstairs was chosen for examinations and hospital. All water had to be carried from a neighboring farmhouse. Cots were unpacked and made up, operating table prepared, panniers opened, spaces curtained off rudely with sheets, and all made ready for operation the next morning.

"The people of Blue Mountain started coming in at nine o'clock the next morning, and there was a busy scene around the hall all day. We had five operations for tonsils and adenoids, three other slight operations, over thirty dental cases, and numerous chest examinations.

"One old man between sixty and seventy years of age walked four miles to be treated. The sad expression in his eyes almost brought tears when he found he could not be helped.

"In the evening the patients were sent home in an ambulance, and everything packed up again for an early start on the morrow. The closing scene of the evening was a crowded church. Speeches, one moving and heart touching. One could almost stare in open-mouthed astonishment at the numbers there. Where did they all come from? Only the Rev. Mr. Wright knew. Surely from Dan to Beersheba. Infants and old folk alike were there. One old fellow wearing the ninety year mark sat near the front drinking in the whole performance. He had never seen a "Movie" before. After the lecture he told Doctor Doull that he had seen "not" a "movie" but about the picture. There were others there, too, who had never seen a movie before, and, needless to say, they received a good impression of the show. The talks given by Doctors Doull, Ritchie, Schwartz and Nurse Hollies were short and to the point. Surely, the arrival of the Red Cross Caravan in Blue Mountain will be a red letter day for those who were there to see.

"At Antigonish we found that crowds of people had been waiting for us nearly all afternoon, some who had driven for miles from the country. That evening we unpacked and were all ready for operating the following morning. Here we were fortunate enough to get the Science Building of the St. Francis Xavier College, which proved an ideal hospital.

"In the morning, Oh, such a mob! People had come and were coming from far and near, the old and young. Truly that morning was a picture of the maimed, the halt and the blind—a picture long to be remembered. One was instantly reminded of the stories of Bible times when they all came to be healed, and how sad to think they could not all be healed. Some had to go away sorrowing and disappointed because there was no help for them. But in the children who will be our coming generation lies our one hope so to prevent a repetition of this scene in years to come.

"Nine children were operated for Tonsils and Adenoids, fifty-two dental patients, numerous chest examinations, consultations and advice. A total of over three hundred were registered. Some of the local doctors and nurses kindly gave their services which helped greatly to make the day a success.

"An interesting case took place in the dental room when Doctor Ritchie demonstrated to a large room full of children, and some of the parents who were interested, how to care for the teeth and the importance of oral hygiene, after which he gave to each of the children, a toothbrush.

"At Melgrave we used the G. W. V. A. Hall for operating. There was only one room and this had to be curtained with sheets to keep some privacy in the different departments. Water had to be carried up and down stairs as at Blue Mountain, but our day was a full one, seventeen operations for tonsils and adenoids, seven of these from Harbor Au Bouche, six of them belonging to one family; Fifty-one dental operations and numerous other chest examinations, consultations and treatments.

"Two days were spent in St. Peter's. Throngs of people came from far and near, almost a repetition of Antigonish. Sixteen operations for tonsils and adenoids were performed, over sixty were attended by a dentist. A large showing of tuberculosis was in the chest room, as in other Counties. It was interesting to note the condition of the teeth and how bad teeth in the

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Look young! Nobody can tell if you use Grandmother's simple recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weych's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

majority of cases proved to be the cause of ill health. Several people were anaesthetized and all teeth extracted. One boy about eighteen years of age whose teeth were in a dreadful condition—pyorrhoea, decay and everything that goes to make for disease—but which will be extracted, had an influence for good, not only to one young man but through him to many. One young woman in contact with the lotus set of pearls in her mouth I have ever seen. Of course a few words of encouragement and advice were all she needed.

"One little incident impressed me very much. A deaf man came to have a tooth extracted. I had to indicate by writing and gestures what he was to do. After Doctor Ritchie had attended him he asked if there was any charge, and when I shook my head in the negative, he said, "Thank you" and went out with a sweet smile of satisfaction on his face.

"Two other sad cases came to our notice while in St. Peter's. One of these was a girl of fifteen years, totally blind; another was a child of two years, mentally deficient of the Mongolian type.

"One little fishing village of Gabarus—the most isolated of any village visited during my two weeks—and yet kind and hospitable always. A steady hard-work people, slow to adopt new ideas. Here the hall was all prepared for us and with the kindly assistance of the Children's Aid Party, were soon able to present a comfortable looking hospital. Only three reported for operation for tonsils and adenoids, about thirty for dental treatment. It was interesting to note the curiosity displayed while we were preparing. It seemed cruel to turn them away so they had the full benefit of the way to fit up an hospital in a hurry.

"One woman brought her child of four years, believing that it was dumb to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weych's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

war, was over sixty years of age, and working in the hayfield in the heat of the day. Her husband, also a fisherman, went out anywhere from midnight to six a.m. on his fishing excursions. It gave me great pleasure and I had taken out for a spin around the village at one p.m. after she had finished raking hay."

"How are you getting on with your study in English?" enquired Li Hung Chang of the Chinese Emperor. "Have you learned your A B C's?"

"No," was the reply. "I haven't got that far along. I'm not out of I, O, U's yet, and I'm flabbergasted by the H. C. L's."

Famous Screen and Stage Beauty Tells Why She Takes Nuxated Iron

TO INCREASE STRENGTH, ENERGY AND POWER BY BUILDING RICH, RED BLOOD
Thousands of Women Become Care-Worn and Show Signs of Age Simply Because They Fail to Safeguard Their Health—Says Physician in Commenting Upon the Experience of Miss Dorothy Dalton

Known to millions as one of the most brilliant screen and stage stars before the public today, Miss Dorothy Dalton, who for the past season played the leading role in the notable New York production of "Aphrodite," now explains how Nuxated Iron proved a wonderful strength-giving help in her strenuous work.

Miss Dalton says: "In my picture work and on the stage, which at times is very strenuous, I have found Nuxated Iron a great help. It has wonderful building powers and makes rich blood.

"In commenting upon the above statement, Dr. F. A. Wallace, a physician of many years' experience and formerly of the British Naval Medical Service, says: "Miss Dalton's case is one that clearly shows how a young woman in keeping up vigorous work and strength while undergoing the strain of long hours and hard work. There are thousands of women in different occupations of life who show signs of age years before they should, simply because they fail to take the same precautions in safeguarding their health which Miss Dalton has shown to be so valuable. Iron is red blood food and when the iron in your blood runs low, your red blood corpuscles die by millions the strength goes from your body, the color from your face—that is, you are care-worn, simply because you are not getting enough iron. Nuxated Iron—to enrich the blood and create thousands of new red blood cells, thereby quickly transforming the flabby tissueless flesh into firm, healthy tissue. I have found Nuxated Iron to give women power, strength and energy in greatly increased strength and energy in two weeks' time and make them look years younger."

Dr. Kenneth R. MacAlpine, a prominent New York Surgeon, member of the New York State Medical Society and for 16 years Adjunct Professor of the New York Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital, says: "You can tell the women whose blood is rich in strength-giving iron, they are the beautiful, healthy, rosy-checked ones, radiant with life, vim and energy—and sought after everywhere they go. Yet despite all that has been said and written by physicians about the alarming iron deficiency in the blood of the average American woman of today, there are still thousands who need something to increase their red-bloodedness and endurance are either careless of their condition or do not know what to take. In my opinion there is nothing better than organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to help make healthy, full-blooded, beautiful women."

In commenting upon Dr. MacAlpine's statement regarding the alarming iron deficiency in the blood of the average American woman of today, Dr. Ferdinand King, a New York Physician and Medical Author, says: "I fully agree with Dr. MacAlpine that there can be no healthy, rosy-checked women without iron. I have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard looking women patients. Anemia—iron deficiency—is the greatest cause of the health, strength, vitality and beauty of the modern American woman."

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, run-down women, who were ailing all the while, have surprisingly increased their strength and endurance in two weeks' time in many instances.

Manufacturers of Nuxated Iron, which is recommended above is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. The other iron compounds which are sold in every drug store are not so easily assimilated and does not enter the blood, they simply pass through the stomach. Each tablet of genuine Nuxated Iron is stamped as follows: "Nuxated Iron" and the words "Nuxated Iron" are stamped on each bottle, so that the public may not be misled by cheap imitations. The manufacturer guarantees successful and reliable satisfaction to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is distributed by all good druggists.

Miss Dorothy Dalton
Beautiful Star of Spectacular "Aphrodite" production, often called the modern Venus—keenly interested in aviation and other outdoor sports—now recommends Nuxated Iron.

Meet Mr. Bell Boy, One of the Bright Spots in Hoteldom

The hotel bell-boy is in a class all his own; the cares of the world rest but lightly on his shoulders and he ploughs his way through life with a nonchalance and a coolness which make him the envy of many a student of human nature. Generally speaking he is a dexterous, attentive and appreciative individual, with "service" as his most predominant slogan, but occasionally one encounters specimens who stray at times from the beaten track and cause, sometimes an acrimonious outburst, but more often a smile or a hearty laugh.

Perhaps one of the best of those incidents which go to make up the highlights of the bell-boys life is recounted of a lady staying in a week at a local hotel. She was called by telephone and one of the lads from the bench was sent to page her. She was rather taken aback when told that she was to be in the billiard room in his tour of search for the lady he was seeking.

In another hotel a patron of the house was called to the telephone and, not being handy at the time, the number was left for a return call. The bell boy found her in her room and in a squeaky monotone requested, "Please call Main 332 and if that is not right, call Main 3322." (The numbers given here, of course, are fictitious.)

The mixing of boots left outside the doors at night to be cleaned is perhaps not an uncommon occurrence, but the case of the army officer who withdrew his hand from the hall in the morning with a pair of No. 2 patent leather high heeled pumps in them, and the lady on the next floor to whom was left a pair of cavalry riding boots, size 9, is perhaps an outstanding one.

Another amusing story refers to a Scotch gentleman, passing through the city, who found that his bathroom was devoid of soap. He called a boy and in his broad dialect asked for a "wee bit saps." The boy pleaded that he did not understand.

"What can you no' understand plain Scotch?" asked the visitor.

"Saps," replied the youngster, "but its against the law here. I can give you the address of a man who can get some, though."

MILK CASES IN POLICE COURT

Two cases instituted by the Board of Health occupied the attention of the police court this morning. Rokeby Toth, 71 Erin street, and James Jeffries, 287 Brussels street, were each charged with selling unwholesome food, namely, milk, containing less than 82 1/2 per cent of butter fat. T. M. Burns, secretary of the Board of Health, produced the regulations. Dr. Fred Johnson, dairy inspector, said he presented a half a pint of milk, labelled it and took it to Dr. H. L. Abramson, provincial pathologist, for analysis. Dr. Abramson gave evidence, stating that the percentage was less than required by law. Up until time of going to press the case was not disposed of.

A by-law case in which George Lavers was charged with refusing to give a signal to a policeman indicating the direction he was driving in Sydney street on September 3, was taken up in the police court this morning. He pleaded not guilty and Policeman Storey gave evidence. The case was not disposed of this morning.

J. T. MacGowan and Miss Flaglor Wed

An interesting wedding was solemnized this morning at 7.30 o'clock in St. David's Presbyterian church when Miss Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Flaglor, 223 Princess street, became the bride of John Thomas MacGowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. MacGowan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. G. M. Appleman, pastor of the Coburg street Christian church, assisted by Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, pastor of St. David's, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the young people. The bride, who was unattended, was becomingly attired in a suit of French blue broadcloth with hat of sand and blue, and wore a seal cape. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The church was attractively decorated with goldens, white hydrangeas and potted ferns. At the organ Mrs. T. J. Gunn very effectively played Mendelssohn's wedding march and the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. MacGowan left on the Digby boat for Smith's Cove, N. S., after which they will go to Boston, New York and Washington for a trip of about three weeks' duration. On their return they will reside at 225 Princess street.

They were the recipients of many presents of silver, cut glass and china, as well as checks, testifying to the esteem in which both are held by their many friends.

Both the bride and groom saw service in the war. The groom was overseas four and a half years with the Canadian Army Service Corps, while the bride served overseas for a year and a half as a V. A. D.

Among the out-of-town guests in the city for the wedding were Mrs. O. J. McCully, Moncton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Melrose, Newcastle; Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Lewis, Wolford; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lingley, and Reginald Lingley, Smith's Cove, N. S., and Judge Wells, Ottawa.

H. C. L. AGITATES THE CHINESE

Price of Sugar Soars, Reducing Millions to Verge of Starvation — Profiteers and Strikes There, Too.

The Cycles of Cathay are growing shorter. Life in China is becoming swifter and more familiar. Especially more familiar; the world's woes of the last few years have drawn it closer. High prices, strikes, profiteering, hoarding, food riots—all the elements that made up a newspaper first page in New York or a congressional investigation in Washington—are to be found here in China, writes Nathaniel Peffer to the New York Tribune.

If you were to stop a banker slinging his wares in the musical cry of his particular guild through any hutang in Peking or any narrow lane of a southern city and ask him what thoughts agitated him most, he would say in a few well chosen Chinese words that you do not know and never can understand, "The cost of living." It is the one touch of nature that makes modern men skin, yellow or white.

Starvation Always Stalks.
Now, the cost of living in this country is no matter of margin. It is no question of economies, of denial of luxuries. Of the 400,000,000 inhabitants of China, more or less—it may be 300,000,000, it may be 400,000,000, nobody knows—probably 100,000,000 live throughout their lives on the thin edge between starvation and mere subsistence. Life's Little Trials

WHEN you think you have convinced little Willie of your ability to swim by splashing about in the shallow part of the beach with one foot on the bottom and he suddenly suggests that you finish the exhibition by diving from the spring-board..... Well! ain't it disconcertin'?

and simultaneously feather their nests. Magistrates, governors, even ministers, have been involved, and the Chinese people, the hard-laboring coolie and peasant, the hardest laboring men in the world, have suffered in consequence. It is in addition to the long score the Chinese people have against their plundering, parasitic officialdom—and Japanese political debauching.

The direct consequences of the increasing cost of living has, of course, been labor troubles. Strikes have been numerous in the cities. The carpenters of Shanghai, the silk weavers of Soochow—those same men who wore the robes that Roman emperors wore—the wood carvers of Ningpo, the salt drillers of Szechuen have gone out in the last few weeks.

Even to strikes in China, there is the quaint fantastic touch, and the sober common sense that underlies all life in China. A week ago the Shanghai carpenters struck in Shanghai. They now get 380 brass cash a day, about 25 cents in American money at the present rate of exchange, about 16 cents normally. They wanted from sixty to a hundred cash more—that is, from 6 to 10 cents more.

They quit work, they had meetings, they picketed in the orthodox manner. All the western accompaniments of labor disturbances were present, even a judge, who fined two men for arguing with two non-strikers while they were at work, interference with liberty of the worker, said the judge solemnly. As it happens, they don't know about injunctions yet.

There the analogy ends. On Sunday afternoon there was a joint mass meeting of workers and employers at the carpenters' guild. All afternoon they argued, anybody talking and all appealing to the homely wisdom of the sages and swearing by their loyalty to their ancestors, in the volubleness and garrulity that is characteristic of the Chinese, American impressions gathered from laundries, to the contrary notwithstanding.

And when they had debated themselves hoarse and hungry, they had a recess for tea, and in the most pleasant harmony employer and striker had tea and cakes and bean curd sweetmeats together, and little puffs at the long, long pipes. Then they resumed the debate, fiercely and volubly as before, and finally compromised on a raise of six cents a day. Why not be sensible?

But the Chinese have nothing to learn about strikes. When they strike, they strike, and it is an outright, hopeless strike as no other people in the world know such things, except, perhaps, those who have suffered from Chinese boycotts.

In labor disturbances, as in philosophy, inventions and almost all other things, the all-sufficient West can take a leaf out of the Chinese book. Many leaves, maybe the whole volume.

But to revert; serious times are ahead of China. There may be relief temporarily, but the cost of prime necessities will continue to go up, there will be new labor troubles, there will be popular risings and there will be suffering and death. One reads here of the H. C. L. in America with relative feelings.

Allen Theatre Enterprises

A Selection Board that Really Selects

Picture the chemist, if you will, or the expert who grades wheat or woollens, teas or fine silks.

They are looking for the element of high quality, rejecting or classifying the impure, the shoddy and the mediocre.

In the building of Allen picture programs for three score theatres, the Allen Selection Board performs a similar service, providing the daily "movie" menu for 100,000 Canadian people.

Feature pictures, comedies, educational pictures, news films, propaganda plays, plays for children and special subjects—these are submitted in numbers for the approval or rejection of the Selection Board.

The Board sits every Thursday at the downtown theatre of the Toronto Allen group. The personnel includes the chiefs of the organization, all of whom view the picture from a different angle.

The executive head responsible for the outside theatres is mentally booking each picture for certain theatres. It may suit Moose Jaw and find a cool reception in Quebec.

The chief director of orchestras is watching the picture closely, arranging a suitable musical score and "cuing" the various scenes.

As the picture proceeds a button at the "reviewing stand" is pressed and a bell rings in the operator's room. A discussion follows as to one scene, and it is decided to eliminate certain features. The film is marked and the "screening" proceeds.

A picture by a Canadian author may attract others to the trial run. The author himself may see the producer's conception of his story for the first time.

Certain standards are observed by the Board and while no "uplift" theories are professed, enforcement of such standards brings about a wholesome program, from which the vicious, the tawdry and low sensationalism are eliminated. Anything that might appeal to depraved tastes is strictly censored. Human, wholesome pictures are the eternal objective.

The Allen Selection Board is the critic of a thousand pictures in a year—from its decision the pictures must pass to the "higher criticism," that of the whole people. They have approved, it may be said with pardonable pride.

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

Is Always The Job. The Auction Instinct. When W. L. Reid, of the Reid Sporting Goods Co., in Tucson, Ariz., found that he had on hand a little bike car that no one seemed to want badly enough to buy, he thought he would try it as a window feature. So he put the little car-machine he would have been mightily well pleased to sell for $50 - in the window. On the seat of it he put this card:

"$140 Today. Price Reduced $5 per day until Sold." He was very pleased when he saw that the car in the window and the unusual offer was stopping many people. As the price went down, day by day, he took pains to change the price and the picture which caused much speculation among those who stopped to look. "Wonder just how long that darn car will go before some one picks it up?" one would say. "If that car ever gets down to $25 I'm going to grab it," another would say. "Can you let me have it if it gets to $40?" one party asked. Mr. Reid said he could make no guarantee. "Just $10 more and I'll take that car," one young man told him when the $85 price mark went on. Sure enough, on the morning that it was put at $75 the fellow came in and bought it. The price was three times what Reid hoped to get. He found out that the same psychology that prompts buyers to beat the other bidder in it in regular auctions works in this silent auction with the prices going down instead of up.

Safe Cost $35,000 - It Was Worth It! Gilbert E. Miller, more popularly known as "Square Deal" Miller, opened a cubbyhole of a jewelry store in Grand River avenue, Detroit, in 1911 with a sale. His capital and stock in trade consisted of $2 in cash and a diamond watch. He took to the street a man who bought the diamond watch.

On July 1 of this year "Square Deal" Miller's first customer was among some 16,000 who pressed their way into Miller's two big jewelry stores, at 331 Woodward avenue and at 64 Grand River avenue. The occasion was a Dollar Sale, when pieces of jewelry, glassware, etc., worth up to $15 each were let go for one cent.

"Yes, I attended your sale," the first customer told Mr. Miller, "and I darn near got my leg broken in the crowd." The two stores presented near-riot scenes all day, crowds having gathered at the doors before opening. Since then the people who attended the sale have been talking - and it is this talk that has helped Miller banks on to increase his business. Useful articles were sold to those who needed them and many persons purchased gifts for Christmas.

Housing Problem Quickly Solved. Houses Shipped Complete. St. John, N.B., Sept. 4. - Among the more interesting attractions of the new Brunswick Provincial Exhibition this year will be the exhibit for the Canadian Aladdin Company's Read-Cut dwellings. Solving the problem of the shortage of dwellings in this country has given the various governmental organizations serious concern, the persistent increase in cost of construction interfering with a practical policy of state aid.

Many employers and others affected by the shortage of dwellings have adopted an independent policy. They recognized that Aladdin Read-Cut dwellings could be obtained at the minimum of cost for labor and material, and at the maximum of speed in readiness for habitation. The Spanish River Pulp and Paper Mills, Limited, required in a hurry a large number of dwellings for employees. The company placed an order with the Canadian Aladdin Company and the result was the erection at Espanola (Ont.) of 30 many dwellings in a few days that the place was more than doubled in size and population. Other employers and individuals are also solving the housing problem by ordering Aladdin Read-Cut dwellings.

Waste of material is eliminated in the Read-Cut process at the Company's mill-cutting plant. They recognized that Aladdin Read-Cut process of construction at the building site. By this combination the buyer has a good dwelling at a practically lessened cost. These dwellings are being erected in large numbers in Canada.

A Quiet, Churchly Air Just Suits Some Stores. About the first impression one gets upon entering the door of the California Furniture Co. store in Los Angeles, is that the quiet and orderliness of a refined home prevails. The second is that there are not many customers about. That is just exactly the impression that the firm wishes the patron to have - for it caters to a trade so limited that this store has in its class only about four or five furniture stores in the United States and not very near it.

Price cards are absent, as are show cards, as a rule. To put them on the merchandise in this store would seem as much out of place as to label the pieces in some refined home. The advertisement never quotes prices, nor does it run to large space. It is refined in composition and wording. It is a talk on the merchandise about as one qualified person would talk to one who had asked his recommendations. Its illustrations are by the way.

PYTHIAN ANNUAL DECORATION DAY

Impressive Service at Fernhill
— Many Graves Decorated
— Past Chancellor's Address.

More than 2,200 bouquets were placed upon the graves of 156 departed Pythians, last evening, under the joint direction of New Brunswick Lodge, No. 1; Union Lodge, No. 2; St. John Lodge, No. 80 and Carleton Tower Lodge, No. 87. A very impressive service was held in Fernhill cemetery, during which Past Grand Chancellor James Moulson addressed the large gathering of Knights, more than 500 being in the ranks.

Shortly after 6 o'clock the parade formed before the new Pythian headquarters in Union street and, by way of Germain, King, Charlotte, North Side of King Square, Sydney and Waterloo streets, proceeded to Fernhill cemetery, two barouches filled with the flowers in the lead, followed by St. Mary's band, Victoria, No. 1 and Signal, No. 2, Uniform Rank, under command of Captain J. L. Brown and Captain F. L. Potts; Martello band, then New Brunswick, Union, St. John and Carleton Tower lodges. Motor cars were provided for the older members. The ceremonies visited, besides Fernhill, were the Methodist, Church of England and Cedar Hill.

At the grounds the service included the hymn "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," with band accompaniment, a Scripture reading by Knights David Hutchinson, D.D., an address by Past Grand Chancellor James Moulson, the hymn "Asleep in Jesus," with band accompaniment and a closing prayer by Rev. Dr. Hutchinson.

Mr. Moulson's Address.

Appreciation of the large donations of flowers was given by Past Grand Chancellor Moulson in his address, who also thanked those responsible for arranging the flowers and to those in charge of the burying places for the assistance rendered. His address was as follows: "Memorial day is to me, and I presume it is to many a sad one," said Mr. Moulson. "It brings to mind in an intensified degree thoughts of partings with those of our family circle who made our homes bright and happy. It impresses upon us the uncertainty of human life and the certainty of death, and impresses those who attend the ceremony with the necessity of preparing themselves for a good account of themselves at the bar of the Great Judge before whom all must appear."

"All are moving onward toward the end of life's way. It may be near, or it may be distant. Time is swinging all away to their eternal home. There is much to remind you of how speedily time passes."

"You are here at this time as members of the King's Pythian lodge. It is founded in friendship, charity and benevolence. It strives to gather into one mighty fraternity worthy men who appreciate the true meaning of friendship. You are cautious in word and act, who love truth, who are brave in defending right, whose honor is untarnished, whose sense of justice will prevent to an injury to the worthy, whose loyalty to principle, to family, to country and to the constituted authority under which they enjoy citizenship is undoubted and who at all times are prepared to do unto others as they would that others should do unto them."

"These are the teachings of Pythianism. Do you practice them as you move around among your friends and brethren? Since you became a Pythian, have you lived to show a desire to practice the highest ideals of life?"

"There are many young men in your lines today, those just starting on manhood's journey, what the future has in store for them none know, but they will find temptations and pitfalls all along the way. Remember your obligations and the teachings of Pythianism and they will strengthen and help you to resist yielding to the evil that exists all along the journey."

"As I look along your lines again I see some who have reached the summit of the hill of life and are travelling toward the valley below. To them I say get ready. You may be enjoying good health and many young men may reach the end of the journey before you, but under the most favorable conditions you cannot stay much longer. The walk to the foot of the hill does not seem as long as the walk to the top. You have marched to the City of the Dead today, in a few moments the purpose of your coming will be accomplished, and you will return to your homes. Let me remind you that you are on another march, which is ever onward, always in the same direction. There is no halting, you must keep on; all are on the way to the silent tomb. We are told there is a grand prize beyond, the winning post is this side the river. Do you want it? Are you striving for it? All cannot secure the prizes of this world, but those of the other are free. The former must be left this side of the river, but the latter can be forever possessed."

"Let all leave here with these solemn thoughts indelibly impressed upon their minds, and may all so live that when they are called upon to enter the dark valley of the shadow of death they may leave this earthly sphere with malice toward none and at peace with the whole world and the Great Judge of all."

"May all so live that when their membership is severed with the lodge here below they may be considered worthy of admission to that better lodge above."

"The return to the city was made about three hours later and the route was along the Marsh Road, Brussels, Union Sydney, South Side of King Square, Charlotte and Union streets to the hall."

BODY IN STRAIT

Pictou, N. S., Sept. 3.—The body of Edmund Lajute, who jumped overboard from the car ferry Prince Edward Island, two months ago, was washed ashore at the little entrance to Caribou, four miles from Pictou. The body was identified by papers found on the body.

Lajute was in St. John on his way from Massachusetts to Prince Edward Island last July. He was in ill-health.

John Gillen, an elderly man living in Smythe street, was knocked down by a street car last evening in front of C. F. Francis' store in Mill street. According to Mr. Gillen, he miscalculated the distance of the car from him and, before he could jump aside, was struck. He was knocked down, receiving a cut on the hand and minor bruises. First aid was administered and Mr. Gillen was able to proceed to his home.

PROSECUTE GAME LAW VIOLATORS

Cases of Illegal Duck Shooting Reported — Important Amendments to Game Law.

The game wardens of several districts have learned of cases of illegal duck shooting and are taking steps to prosecute offenders. The open season this year does not begin until September 15. There have recently been enacted some important amendments to the new Federal game laws which should be of vital interest to all sportsmen. Aside from bag limits being fixed, "sink-boxes" or sunken boats being declared illegal and the bore of shot-guns to be not heavier than ten gauge probably the most important new regulation is that which forbids the killing or attempting to kill any kind of a game-bird after sun-set or before sun-rise. By "game bird" is meant all kinds of geese, ducks, brant snipe, woodcock, plover and all other shore birds. It will be well also to bear in mind that of the snipe or "shore bird" so called, the only kinds which may be taken legally in season are the following: Greater and lesser yellow-legs, blue-breasted and golden plover, woodcock and Wilson's snipe. This leaves many species of the "shore birds" protected throughout the year. In New Brunswick no person shall sell, buy, trade or traffic in any migratory game-bird killed or taken during the open seasons as stated in the act.

THE PLAYGROUNDS

The Playgrounds Association, at its meeting yesterday in the Y. M. C. A. building, gratefully acknowledged the gift of a cup received from the Trades and Labor Council for competition among the playground members. The president, W. K. Haley, who was in the chair, and K. J. MacRae were appointed a committee to ascertain from the council the exact nature of the sports or competitions for which it wished the cup represented, in order that the wishes of the donors might be carried out fully.

Miss Heffer, general supervisor of playgrounds who has been officially appointed for the permanent office, gave an excellent report of the playgrounds activities for the last month. She made forty-eight weekly visits to the playgrounds. Statistics showed the following attendance at the grounds:

	Total	Avg. Daily
Allison	2,385	95
Centennial	2,170	91
Aberdeen	2,287	93
King George	1,400	59
Alexandra	2,634	110

The association is to have a booth at the exhibition at which a practical demonstration of the work will be given. A report was submitted by Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson on behalf of the ladies' committee, in which were many suggestions for furthering the work of the association.

MANY EVENTS FOR WEEK-END HOLIDAY

In addition to the big attraction offered by the opening of the exhibition, a varied schedule of sport has been arranged for Saturday and the holiday and all one will have to do is decide what he is most interested in. The events arranged for today include swimming races in the North End and several baseball games. The fast Crescents, of Halifax, and St. Peter's will play two games today, one in the afternoon and another in the evening. In the City Intermediate League two games will be played on the Queen square diamond, West Side. The sporting event of the holiday will include the Halifax Crescents and the Portlands followed by a game between the Carletons and the Portlands.

The events on Monday will consist of rowing races, yacht races, horse races and baseball games. The big regatta at Renfrew will be one of the main attractions of the holiday and will include rowing, canoe and yacht races. Elijah Ross, the only survivor of the famous Paris crew, has been asked to attend. The horse races at Moosepath Park will no doubt attract a large number of patrons when the free-for-all trot and the race for green paces will be staged.

The baseball programme will include morning and afternoon games between the Halifax Crescents and a morning game in the Industrial League between the Stetson, Cutler team and the Nash-week Indians. The maritime track and field championships, which will take place at Moncton on Labor Day, are attracting considerable interest in St. John. Another sporting event of the holiday which will be awaited with keen interest, is the Dempsey-Miske fight for the world's championship, which takes place at Benton Harbor (Mich.).

UNION OF CANADA'S VETERANS IN U. S.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—Plans for perfection of a national organization were discussed today by the Canadian and British war veterans of America in convention here. According to delegates there are in the United States at least one hundred thousand men who served in the world war with the Canadian and British armies. Some of the United States citizens, some Canadian or British subjects.

One purpose of the organization will be to secure for these veterans the same bonus or pension rights that are accorded their fellows in the British Empire.

TURKS TROUBLED

Constantinople, Sept. 3.—Mustapha Komal Pasha, leader of the Turkish Nationalist forces, is reported to be feeling that his efforts to hold out until the November rains block the roads and give him a respite during the winter are becoming impossible. He is said to have lost hope of regaining the city and is reported to have left artillery with which to fight the Greeks, his troops being dispersed. It is anticipated here that he will flee rather than fight.

At the same time, it is forecast, the new cabinet to be named here will lean toward the British and French. The Sultan's government may be accepted throughout Turkey. Overtures to the Nationalists are going on to this end.

MINTO MINERS MAY LAY OFF

Those in Springhill, Sydney and Pictou Also Restless.

Glace Bay, N. S., Sept. 3.—J. B. McLachlan, United Mine Workers' secretary, has received communications from Minto (N. B.), Springhill, Sydney Mines and Pictou saying that the miners in those districts are becoming restless and unless the royal commission appointed to hear their grievances hands down its report within a short time the mines would likely be compelled to close for four or five days at least by the miners walking out. Secretary McLachlan said that there would not likely be a general strike unless the royal commission advocates a general strike while the royal commission is considering a case may be taken to a term in prison or a heavy fine. Nevertheless it looks as if the mines at the places mentioned would be idle shortly, unless the miners hear from the commission soon.

A Blood-Food Discovered That Entirely Overcomes
Anaemic Weakness

CAREFULLY INVESTIGATED REPORTS ESTABLISH TRULY WONDERFUL RESULTS.

Heretofore it has often been a hopeless task for a thin-blooded person to gain either strength or weight. Neither food or medicine in many instances had beneficial effect.

What is practically a perfect blood-food, containing such elements as Iron, has at last been produced, and when taken after meals will put new life and vigor into people that have despaired of ever being strong again.

This truly wonder-working treatment consists of taking two small chocolate-coated Ferronose Tablets at the close of every meal.

This wonderful blood-food supplies nourishment, vim, energy—and a stream of vigorous, strength-making blood to every nook and corner of the body, makes every muscle and fibre sing with new-found life and health.

That gnawing tiredness leaves you—Ferronose drives it away. Sleepless nights are turned into periods of rest and you pick up fast. Day by day your appetite improves,—this means more food is transformed in nutriment that will build and energize weak organs.

The inclination to worry passes away because Ferronose imparts nerve—tone and bodily strength that prevents depression.

Think it over—Ferronose is a wonderful tonic, in fact, it is more than a tonic, because it establishes health that lasts. Thousands use it and thereby cleanse and restore the entire system to a perfect condition. You'll feel your lifting power of Ferronose in a week—It's bound to help you if you only give it the chance. Sold by all dealers, 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50; is pure of the name Ferronose. Forwarded by mail to any address if price is remitted to The Catarbrosone Co., Kingston, Ont.

RECORD FOR RAPID TRANSPORTATION IN DOMINION

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Flying from Ottawa to Camp Borden, a distance of approximately 300 miles, with two passengers, in two and a half hours, Captain G. O. Johnston of the Canadian Air Force set what is probably a record for rapid transportation in Canada. The same journey by train means leaving Ottawa at 10 p.m. and if all train connections are made and trains arrive on time, arriving at Camp Borden at one o'clock the next afternoon.

Flying a Bristol, Colonel Scott, director of civilian flying, of the air board, accompanied by Captain Johnston in a D. H. 9, made the journey from Camp Borden to Ottawa in three hours, and on the return to Camp Borden, Colonel Scott and his two passengers covered the same distance in half an hour less. Leaving Ottawa at 2:50 p.m., the party arrived at the hangars at Camp Borden in time for dinner at 6 o'clock.

WOMAN HELD UP IN AUTOMOBILE SLAIN

Providence, R. I., Sept. 3.—Rose V. Mackenna, of 180 Elm street, this city, was shot to death and William J. Deignan, of 78 Elm street, a wholesale beef dealer, was probably fatally wounded on the Barrington parkway, in East Providence last night.

Deignan, to whom Miss Mackenna was engaged to be married, told the coroner before he lost consciousness, that while driving his car homeward from Barrington Beach, he was accosted by a tall, thin man, who with face covered by a handkerchief, stepped from the bushes and cried—"Hands up." Instantly the man, according to Deignan, fired several shots into the car.

One bullet entered Miss Mackenna's lung through her shoulder. Another lodged in Deignan's chest. Deignan also took the index finger of his left hand. The wounded man stuck to the wheel of his car and drove for medical aid, but Miss Mackenna died before it could be reached.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—While the date has not yet definitely been fixed, it is stated that Premier Meighen's initial meeting in Quebec province, to be held at Sherbrooke, will take place about September 21.

IRON, STEEL, METAL AND MACHINERY.

In its summary of the iron, steel, metal and machinery markets for week ended Sept. 2, Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News, Toronto, makes the following comment:

Increased freight rates, and the fact that freight charges from points of origin in the steel and iron trade are paid all the way, in New York funds, are some of the uses that seem likely to bring in the wake an upward revision in prices of steel and iron stocks, having special reference to the warehousing trade. This will probably amount to between $2 and $3 a ton all around.

There is no let-up in the price tension applied by the premium mills. They know they can get the price for their material if they can make delivery, and prevailing prices show that the ability to make delivery is being turned into cash at a generous rate. There is no limit to the demand for certain lines in the steel trade, such as sheets and boiler tubes. Some carlot sales of the former have been made during the week, the buyer not even asking for a figure, being concerned entirely about having the material landed at his plant.

Machine tool dealers report that in some cases they have an improvement in the inquiries that are coming in. No large business is in the tool market, but a number of additions to existing plants are being made in the way of new tools. With reports of better returns from labor in the plants, dealers believe that several projects that have been hung up for some time may be gone on with. The New York machine tool market is dull, and rumors from there have in that if this condition lasts much longer some of the makers may be in a position where they will have more thought to revising prices, which are still double and more what they were in pre-war days.

THE IRISH SITUATION.

London, Sept. 3.—George Gavan Duffy, so-called ambassador of the Irish republic to France, has been given twenty-four hours by the French government in which to leave France, it was officially stated here today.

Lord Mayor MacSwiney, of Cork, was still alive at midnight.

New York Mayor Appeals.

New York, Sept. 3.—An appeal to Premier Lloyd George, of England, at Lucerne, Switzerland, for the release from prison of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, of Cork, was called by Mayor Hylan today.

Buying Advertising Space
Means Buying A Market

Cautious merchants buy advertising space the same as they do merchandise or goods in trade—with a microscope in their hand.

"What do I get for the expenditure?" is the paramount question in the present day merchant's mind. Stunts, schemes, fictitious and proof lacking circulation claims have no attraction for the keen space buyer. That's why the Daily Telegraph and The Evening Times-Star represent solid and steady growth in advertising volume—because they can satisfy the most exacting demands made by local or national space users as to the real condition of their circulation.

The membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations—the A. B. C.—of The Telegraph and Times-Star ensures accurate and trustworthy circulation statements.

The A. B. C. is Your Safeguard

The A. B. C. is a non-profit organization made up of concerted advertising interests—publishers, advertisers and advertising agents; and the object is to produce verified and authentic net figures of circulation.

All local newspapers were invited to become members.

The Telegraph and The Times-Star were the only two in New Brunswick to accept.

MANY MIRACLES AT TEMPLEMORE

Its Fame Exceeded Only by Lourdes — Pilgrims in Thousands.

Templemore, County Tipperary, Ireland, Aug. 29.—Tens of thousands of the faithful are still flocking to the small Tipperary town to gain religious and physical balm from the wonder-working statues belonging to James Walsh, the former Cistercian novice, who has conferred upon Templemore a fame that is exceeded only by Lourdes.

The statues have been placed in a flower-bedecked yard on the premises of Timothy Dwan, Walsh's uncle. The yard overlooks the market place and Battery Park. Here thousands of the afflicted gather, bearing crucifixes and rosaries.

While waiting for admission to the yard by two and threes, the whole congregation, as though moved by a single devout impulse, periodically sinks silently to its knees and, with twitching lips, offers prayer to the Virgin Mary, imploring her to vouchsafe a continuance of the miraculous healing.

Moving through the throng are men and women who claim to have been mysteriously cured by the saint's intervention. Dan Egan, the local harness-maker, is striding about like a fit, sound man, after being crippled for five years with sciatic rheumatism.

A milliner, almost crazed by nervous disorders, was cured after a magic crucifix was laid on her brow. The most wonderful case is that of Martin Monahan. His story has gone throughout Ireland, and is bringing more people there in every conceivable kind of conveyances from Fords to the backs of asses. Monahan was discharged from the army two years ago, suffering from a broken left knee.

"When I heard of the miracles," he tells the story, "I limped across the square to the house. Walsh took me by the stairs and lifted me up to the crucifix. It was bleeding. He rubbed my bare knee against it. I was in great pain. He prayed over me and ordered me to pray. We left the room together. Then before I left the house I felt a sudden shock. All pain left me. I ran quickly back to my home. I was not lame. I have not been lame since."

Edward Gleeson, a young soldier who was blinded, was admitted Thursday. He was seated at a table. A woman held a crucifix over his eyes. The others in the room sank to their knees and prayed. After a few moments of prayer Gleeson began to see dimly. He did not recover the normal use of his eyes.

A peasant woman walked fifty miles with an imbecile son thirteen years old. She touched his head to the statue of the Virgin. Mrs. Dwan offered a prayer. The couple went away. On their way home they met other pilgrims coming in. To these the mother related that her son's mind was clearing.

Walsh a Frail Youth. Walsh, whose visits started the pilgrimages, is a frail youth. He has convincing sincerity and seems one manifestly destined to a religious vocation. "As I lay in bed one night," he tells his story, "I saw a dazzling object in the darkness. It was shaped like a communion particle. The letters I. H. S. stood out distinctly in the centre."

Thereafter, he related, the Virgin frequently appeared to him, sometimes at his house and sometimes beside the road. The pilgrims to the place of miracle, from all stations in life, business and professional men, as well as peasants. Almost every describable human ailment is represented, from warps and chronic tuberculosis to club foot.

Every inch of space in the town has been converted into lodgings for the cure-seeking pilgrims, not all disabled. Many are youths imbued with a religious and patriotic exaltation. They come to Templemore to invoke divine and saintly aid in the fight for Irish independence.

GENERAL WRANGLER

Picked by France to Conquer Bolshevism — Was Mining Engineer When He Enlisted as Private.

(Toronto Mail and Empire) France has picked Peter Wrangle as the Russian white hope. He is expected to do what Kerensky, Korniloff, Kolchak and Denikine have failed to do. France believes that he can conquer Bolshevism and restore Russia to her place among the respectable nations of the earth. It is a tremendous task, and of Wrangle's capacity we know nothing. All we know of him is his military record, which is first class. But he ought not to lack for shrewd advisers who understand the Russian character, and the scheme of land ownership which has been put forth in his name is said to appeal strongly to the Russian peasants. Wrangle is no military adventurer like Villa, hiding from government troops and moving stealthily hither and yon. He is at the head of a well organized army, supported by a well organized state. His authority extends over millions of Russians and many thousands of square miles of territory. In south-eastern Russia he has as much authority as Trotsky has in Moscow. All the Cossacks are with him. If Wrangle cannot conquer the rest of Russia, at least Bolshevik Russia is likely to have a tough job in conquering him. A Brilliant Soldier. Wrangle is a Russian from the Baltic provinces. That is to say he is of German descent, which is something of a handicap with the Russian peasant, for hatred of Germany is still strong in Russia. Wrangle was educated as a mining engineer and enlisted as a private in a Guards Regiment. He was promoted to a lieutenantcy but left the army in a year to practice his profession. When the war broke out with Japan he re-enlisted.

He was twice promoted for gallantry. At the end of the war he entered the General Staff Academy, from which he later graduated with honors, and at the beginning of the Great War he was a captain in command of a cavalry squadron. He presently had occasion to greatly distinguish himself and was awarded the highest Russian military decoration, the Cross of St. George, and was promoted to be a colonel. Shortly afterward he was appointed aide to the Czar, afterwards being placed in command of the first trah-Balkal Cossack Regiment. For capturing an entire enemy battalion he was made Major-General.

Leader of Anti-Bolsheviks. As divisional commander he continued with the army until the revolution, which completely undermined the moral of his men. Then, like many other Russian officers, he fled to the Caucasus. Here he was arrested by the Bolsheviks and narrowly escaped death. He and his fellow-officers never became reconciled to Bolshevik rule and planned how they might emancipate the country from it. Some of them desired that the monarchy should be restored. Kolchak was suspected of having this motive, and this is one of the reasons why he failed. Wrangle, however, does not want to see Caesars back again. He realizes that this is an impossible dream, but he is bitterly opposed to communism, and when the opposition to Lenin and the Bolsheviks organized in the Caucasus he immediately applied for command, and in 1918 was given a brigade under General Erdel. When his chief fell ill Wrangle succeeded to the command and under his brilliant generalship liberated the whole of the North Caucasus and the Terek State. He was rewarded by promotion to the rank of Lieutenant-General and was given chief command of the Caucasian army.

The Southeastern Union. At that time Gen. Denikine was in command of the anti-Bolshevik army and there is reason to believe that Gen. Wrangle was one of those who plotted his downfall. They defend themselves from this ugly charge by declaring that Denikine was betraying the whole movement and that he had to be disposed before Bolshevism could be successfully combated. At any rate, Wrangle was given the post formerly held by Denikine, who fled to London, where he remains as a refugee. Behind Gen. Wrangle and his growing volunteer army, composed chiefly of Cossacks and of veterans in the great war, stands what remains of the "Southeastern Union," composed of the Don, Kuban and Terek provinces and the mountain tribes of the Caucasus. The failure of the Provisional Government and for some time was able to resist all Bolshevik attempts to exercise authority. The president of the union is V. A. Kharlamov, who was deputy of the Don Cossacks in all four Dumas, and was made president of the Cossack "Kraia" or Parliament after Wrangle had liberated the Don province.

sacks if forced upon them. They are individualists and have no use for communism. Each man wants his own land, and the great majority of Cossacks are thrifty farmers. Gen. Wrangle's policy is to confirm each owner in the land he already occupies, but to break up large holdings and distribute them among the needy. As his armies advance forward into new territory land courts are set up and the peasants are given the title and deed to the land they occupy. In return for this they are obliged to pay the government one-fifth of the annual harvest for twenty-five years. With this sum the government will reimburse

Wrangle is operating in some of the richest districts of Russia, and the Soviet Government has officially admitted that each of his successes, "even the most modest ones, deprives Soviet Russia of great quantities of grain, coal and oil and spells a spread of starvation, destitution, lack of fuel and destruction of the transport." At present Gen. Wrangle appears to be making rapid progress. Woman Styled the Chief Of Huns' Women Spies Is Dead in Criminal Asylum

Notes on Career of Lizzie Wertheim—Harland and Wolff May Have Shipbuilding Plant on Thames—A London Beauty—News of the Movies and the Stage.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) London Aug. 12.—It is a strange ending to an extraordinary career that Lizzie Wertheim, a woman who, at the time of her trial in 1915 was described as Germany's chief woman spy, should have died in a criminal asylum. She was, perhaps, the most romantic figure in the war, amazingly fascinating, delightfully dressed, and on terms of close friendship with many of the principal foreign officers who were in London at the beginning of the war. Her lack of caution was finally her undoing, and the cause of the death of her accomplice Rowland at the Tower but it was this very appearance of innocence that saved her more than once. At the end of 1914 she was living in a small flat in Baker street, declaring that she was a Russian, though born in Bavaria. She was actually examined by a special committee about this time, and they declared she was in no way dangerous. In December 1914 she contrived, by what means is uncertain, to travel to Germany, returning to London after Christmas, and was indiscreet enough, or clever enough, to say that she had done so to an officer whom she met one evening in an hotel. He, perhaps naturally, did not believe her. During this early period of the war she was generally known as Paula, and was never seen without a particular umbrella, with a very short handle, and a large moonstone set in the flat top.

Shipbuilding in London. Much interest has been aroused by a report that Harland and Wolff of Belfast are going to attempt shipbuilding and repairing on the Thames. Since Messrs. Yarow went north and the Thames Iron works built a Dreadnought, there has been little shipbuilding done here. London rates of wages and expenses of all kinds have been considered prohibitive. Yet the need for up-to-date yards, in view of the continued and growing importance of the Port of London, is keenly felt, and Irish enterprise may bring prosperity to the Thames-side districts and attract back some of those who have drifted to other parts of the country and are a source of expense through lack of employment. In spite of the gloomy forecasts as to the future of shipping in view of the expected severity of international competition, the announcement of the late Lord Inverclyde's fortune of £2,000,000 shows that there is plenty of money still in shipping if the government do not claim it all as excess profits duty.

A Modern Beauty. Beauty, says the optimist, is a thing of all time and all ages. Thus disagreeing with the valdinarian—and Mrs. Asquith—who looks round with scorn and declares, often in print, that no woman is as fair or lovely as the society women of her youth. Now the London press has "discovered" Miss Paula Gellibrand as a positive proof that modern society is as rich in feminine beauty as that of any former period. It is, of course, no very startling discovery, as everyone this season has been agreed about this young lady's great beauty. She possesses almost perfect features, wonderful deep-set dark eyes that sparkle with vivacity, and a figure that is the envy of her friends. But she is more than just a beauty. Her sense of humor, unfailing buoyancy, and infectious gaiety have contributed more than a little to the success of the season. Sponsored by Lady D'Abernon, she has been everywhere, and her dancing is a marvel of ease and rhythm. She was at the Isle of Wight with Lady D'Abernon for Cowes week.

The Northcliffe Touch. To those behind the scenes of the film industry in this country the evolution of the British film has presented many curious and intriguing phases. Everyone knows how in its early stages the home product was torn to tatters by imports. It was useless for British competitors to enter the field. Then quite simultaneously two curious symptoms appeared. From America, the home of the cinema de luxe and the "movie" par excellence, came murmurs that have grown louder during the last few months. American picture audiences were sick to death of the American productions, and a galaxy of American stars of the first magnitude flashed across to London in swift and startling succession. First "Doug and Mary" invasion; then the world-renowned "vampire" Theda Bara; then Mary's first husband, Owen Moore; while the popular Marguerite Clark and the famous Talmadge sisters, Constance and Norma, with Dorothy Gish, are due in London this month. And now the cinema world is awakening to the realization that London is to be its film centre, and that the once-despised British film will circulate freely in every country where the picture theatre is part of the life of its people. Lord Northcliffe, I hear, is the prime mover in the great new scheme which is to co-ordinate American and British film production and distribution.

Somerset Maugham's New Play. "The Unknown," Somerset Maugham's new play at the Aldwych is not going to be among the great theatrical successes of this season—all of which, by cusses of this season, have come at the end—nor even among Mr. Maugham's own best works. It is a post-war play dealing with some of the big problems that have perplexed men's minds in consequence of the war's upheaval, but it is neither convincing philosophy nor great dramatic writing. One thrilling outburst of enthusiasm came from the curiously "holiday" first-night audience at the close of the one good act, but after that the audience grew rather weary.

The Scout Jamboree. Amid scenes of indescribable enthusiasm, almost unprecedented in London, the first jamboree came to a triumphant conclusion at Olympia on Saturday. The boys and the vast audience which crowded the building were caught up by the wild outbursts of cheering. Happy, but exhausted, thousands of people wended their way home to spread the fame of the movement. The chief scout was the hero of the night, as he had been the life and soul of the jamboree throughout. He was acclaimed chief scout of the world, and the League of Youth, which he had gathered from twenty-one nations, solemnly pledged itself to spread the spirit of comradeship and good will through all nations. After a fine performance of the pageants, and physical games and set pieces, and the touching act of homage from the scouts to their chief, the Last Post was sounded for those who fell in the war, and then the vast building reverberated with the strains of "Auld lang syne." When the jamboree was launched there was naturally some anxiety about so great an venture, but it caught on, and a very remarkable success has been scored.

Omar Pageant. Next month the disciples of Omar Khayyam and Edward Fitzgerald will assemble at Merton, in Norfolk, for a pageant play. The famous Rubaiyat has been dramatized, and the pageant will be presented by Rev. Charles Kent, rector of Berton, at whose old-world rectory Fitzgerald often visited when Rev. George Crabbe, a grandson of the poet, was rector there, and where Omar's incomparable interpreter died suddenly during the holiday. Some of the immortal stanzas were written in the beautiful rectory grounds. The pageant will be presented in a wooden dell used for this purpose by the poet. The dramatic personae are Omar the Beloved Spring, the Three Roses, a Soothsayer, the Potter and his six pots, the Hoysters, the Angel Shap, Dearie, and a Chorus. Dr. Kirkby, late Fellow of New College, Oxford, will present Omar, and the cast includes Prince E. Dulcep Singh, Miss Bennett of Boker Hall, and several well-known Norfolk people. Lord Birkenhead and the R. Y. S. Cowes, like Goodwood, has been heavily marred by wet, and I must say that apart from that I got the impression on going down simply for the day that the famous "week" is now in its decline. If had not been for the presence of the king and queen, who, with their children and the Duke of Connaught, raced assiduously and valiantly every day, very little interest would have been taken in the sport at all. Many of the squadron have no yachts themselves, and do not race on other people's. That august club, by the way, has just distinguished itself by electing the Lord Chancellor. With so many peers among its members this was inevitable. None the less I congratulate Lord Birkenhead on being the first man without a grey hair to be elected.

PRAISE FOR HALIFAX TOWN-PLANNING WORK.

(Halifax Chronicle.) At a meeting of the Town Planning Board yesterday afternoon Thomas Adams, federal town planning expert, expressed himself as being delighted with the progress which is being made in Halifax along the lines of the most modern and effective laying out of the city. The fact that the work in the city was being done by the local engineering staff was a matter of congratulation, he thought. Detroit was spending almost one hundred thousand dollars on the importation of expert engineering talent in the interest of town planning, but in Mr. Adams' opinion a much more satisfactory arrangement was being made in Halifax. He pointed out that the city's own engineers would naturally take a far greater and more far-seeing interest in the welfare of Halifax than men brought in from outside to do the work of town planning. The board decided to go ahead with the scheme and will shortly have printed booklets with explanations and maps of the plans. It was considered that the wide distribution of these would be good advertising for Halifax as the city is looked upon as somewhat of a pioneer in the matter of town planning. A rather unique indication of the interest taken in the work being done here was a letter to the city engineer from Barcelona making enquiries as to the workings and success of the scheme. Mr. Adams is anxious to see Dartmouth and the county linked up with the city in the furtherance of the matter.

KING COLE TEA

Ten Years After

Ten years ago the first packages of KING COLE TEA were packed and put on the market. The time that has elapsed since then has been filled with hard work and with many difficult situations to be met and overcome. But withal, it has been a period of unquestionable, steady and persistent progress. KING COLE TEA has never looked back. Every year has brought its increase. Today its sale is ten times greater than the first year's business. This is the public's remarkable tribute to the worth of KING COLE TEA. It speaks for unusual service.

PARK AT GRAND PRE IN MEMORY OF THE ACADIANS

The early history of Canada contains no more touching an episode than the story of the Acadians of Nova Scotia and their exile from the meadows of Grand Pre. That story was immortalized by the American poet, Longfellow in his poem "Evangeline" the beautiful lines of which are known to nearly every schoolboy or schoolgirl.

The Acadians are now scattered over the continent, but they have a link in the Societe de L'Assomption which has about 70,000 members all of whom must be of Acadian descent and Catholic religion. The society has 100 local branches in New Brunswick, fifty-two in Nova Scotia, seven in Prince Edward Island, two in Montreal, one in Ottawa, twelve in Massachusetts, five in Maine, one in New Hampshire and one in Connecticut.

Announcing an Authoritative Showing of Individualized Apparel
for Autumn Wear

Coats Are Fashioned of Rich Fabrics

Handsome, soft-surfaced fabrics form the very distinctive Coats of Autumn and Winter. These are characterized by their large collars, trimmings of fur, loose hanging lines and lavish use of buttons. Many variations of greys and browns predominate. Among the favorites are mole, bark, owl, nut, grebe, beaver, etc.

Styles were never more delightful—Adapted to street and dress-wear.

The New Suits Present a Variety of Styles

Autumn finds women eagerly awaiting the new suits. They are here! They are delightful! Fur trimmed, embroidered or tailored, fashioned with or without belts. Velours, Silvertones and Duvetyns are of engrossing interest. Lines generally speaking are youthfully straight and slim with now and then a fuller model.

Finding a suit this season that is smart, attractive and practical for many purposes is indeed simple when one sees the individual models being displayed here.

Autumn Frocks of Exceeding Charm

Modes include those designed exclusively for street, for afternoons, little affairs for evening, and to serve many purposes. Beading, embroidery, fancy stitching and other devices known to clever designers are used profusely. Chemise, Tunic and Basque Lines prevail for frocks in general, while in the more elegant afternoon gowns bouffancy still is favored.

New Hats That Hint of Paris

Your pleasure in selecting new hats just now will be intensified by the softly becoming draped lines of the many new fabric models. Duvetynes, Taffetas and Velvets fall gracefully into turbans, tams and off the face shapes. Inspection is likely to disclose the very hat for which you have been looking.

Plaid Skirts Are Popular

Autumn days simply demand one of these. You can find them in real bright or more subdued color blendings. Many are prettily pleated, but for those who prefer them we have also some nice plain styles with belts and pockets. From the standpoint of both style and service ability these skirts are more than usually attractive.

Blouses to Wear With The New Suit

The Overblouse is found in the most delightful of styles. Long tunics and Balkan effects are gayly and elaborately beaded and embroidered and you will be surprised at the many clever variations. Other particularly smart models are fashioned with round necks and short kimono sleeves. Color reigns supreme in these. Whatever your suit is, we can find you a handsome Blouse to correspond.

WE EXTEND the courtesies of this store to all visitors to the Exhibition during their stay in this city. Every department is admirably ready for Fall with Newest Fashions, Best Qualities and Pleasing Assortments. Your early inspection is invited.
