STRANGE, IF TRUE

The Amazing Story of Sir Bfazil Zaharoff, the "Millionaire of Mystery."

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
D'you ever hear of Sir Basil Zaharoff, G.C.B., G.B.E.? Neither did we. But the London correspondent of the Sun and New York Herald says that he is one of the most remarkable and interesting men in the world, and he makes out a pretty good case for it, too, unless he is drawing upon a highly hetic imagination. According to him Sir Basil is the "Millionaire of Mystery," one of the wealthiest men in the world, whose various art collections can compare with those of any American millionaire, and whose philanthropies are as vast as they are eccentric. He is about to visit this continent on a special mission for the British Government. His visit has to deal with finance, of course, for it is in the realm of finance that Sir Basil shines with purest ray serene. The fact that he was born about 65 years ago of obscure parents and in the intervening years has made himself an amazing fortune, and was able at more than one critical moment in the war to throw his tremendous resources on the side of the Allies would seem to qualify him particularly for a financial mission.

How He looks.

Sir Basil was born of a Greek mother and a Russian father in Athens and reared amid squalor. At the age of sixteen he went to Paris with five francs in his pocket. We now skip over the next fifty odd years and find him dwelling in a palace, one at a time, but having half a dozen other palaces to dwell in when he gets tired of one. We quote from the correspondent: "He enjoys the fellowship of the great, the homage of beauty, the adulation of statesmen and the esteem of scholars, and if there is anything else to enjoy he probably enjoys that too. He is described as short, wiry but distinguished looking, with kindly blue grey eyes, white hair, mustache and imperial. He has never been known to appear without a red carnation in his buttonhole, from which one would infer that he is an intellectual. In addition, he has an intellectual face. Despite this his character has some quaint links. For instance, though a bachelor, he hates the opposite sex, and his narrow escapes from matrimony have been thrilling, his fame and wealth having made him an extraordinary interesting lure to the ladies. He has had other escapes, too. In the war the Germans are said to have put a price of $100,000 on his head, for they recognized in him a determined and influential enemy.

Rather a Shif Fence.

The Sun correspondent, Edgar C. Middleton, tells in an interview Sir Basil had with a former Chancellor of the Exchequer in one of the dark days of the war, and though we disbelieve the anecdote, we repeat it. At the time, munitions of every kind were directly needed, but the necessary credits to purchase them were not forthcoming. Matters were almost desperate when one day the Chancellor happened to unbend himself to a friend.

"X-million pounds," remarked the friend, naming the huge sum required. "That's nothing. I know a man who could guarantee you that amount within twenty hours. He's in London now. I'll ask him to drop round." And he did, with the result that within the stipulated time the British Government was guaranteed the required sum. If you believe that a Greek, who, up to this time, was unknown to the British Government, could raise money for munitions that the British Government could not raise when the very existence of the Empire was at stake, you may accept this story.

Tricked Them.

Here is another one that does not so severely tax credulity. In the opening stages of the war, Germany was keenly anxious to secure the co-operation of Sir Basil, and at this time Greece, through its king, was Germany's unofficial ally. Strong representations were made through important Greek personages that Sir Basil should have a conference with German financial experts. To the astonishment of his friends, who knew that Zaharoff was strongly French by adoption, he consented and the meeting took place. The Germans thought that their credit was about to be aided by the untold millions of the Greek financier. Some of hundreds of millions of dollars were mentioned respectfully but confidently. Zaharoff was told certain things. He went away, and he did not come back, but it is said that as a result of his information he all but doubled his fortune in two days. It was after this unfortunate incident that the German government put a price on his head. The bitterest reflection for the Wilhelmstrasse financiers was that this huge sum of money, which their own stupidity had permitted Sir Basil to make, would probably be put at the disposal of the Allies.

Helped the Allies.

Nor were they mistaken, for throughout the war he gave or lent colossal sums to various allies, and in nearly every case his name being withheld at his request. Thus it is that Sir Basil Zaharoff is practically unknown, while men with a title of his money and a decimal point of his wealth are famous internationally. He is a philanthropist, with his own ideas of giving money. He has established a Chair of Aeronautics in Paris, and another at the London University. Mr. Middleton says that he has also established a Chair of French at Oxford, a statement that makes a further pull on our credulity. He established a radio telegraph station at Athens. His benefactions are made without fuss. He asks, how much is wanted, when it is required and how long it is to be spent. If the answers satisfy him he produces his fountain pen and signs on the dotted line with a single gesture. He refuses to use a typewriter. He has never ridden in an automobile, nor in a flying machine, despite his powerful encouragement to this sport of science. Altogether he would appear to be an interesting enough character to invite to open the National Exhibition. (Attention of Mr. Joe Hay.)

GROCERY REPORT

FROM THREE CITIES

OF THE DOMINION

The following comment on the market situation as regards foodstuffs appeared in Canadian Grocer last week: The feature of the grocery business now costing the retailer two per cent more which has already been put on by some manufacturers and jobbers. The sugar situation shows no improvement. Supplies are short and it is almost a positive fact that supplies will be two cents per pound higher. Business is reported in a healthy condition.

Montreal.

There is a distinct feeling of uncertainty in the Montreal market at the present time. The merchants and manufacturers are slow to make quotations or transact any large business until the government's recent budget demands are more clearly understood. As a result the market is inclined to be quiet for a time. On the other hand the produce and vegetable market is lower this week with the increased home production. Vegetables, except potatoes, are much cheaper and oranges have experienced a sharp decline. Potatoes are here this season. Seven dollars per bag is asked. Cereals are higher, an increase of twenty-five cents on cornmeal and rolled oats. Japan teas are quoted two cents a pound higher. Flour, wrapping paper, canned peas and peaches are higher.

Toronto.

The markets generally are firm with advances registered on evaporated milk, cocoa, lemonade and orange powder, meal, farina, pancake flour, hominy and barley in packages have advanced 20 to 30 cents per case. The spice market is firm. Jamaica ginger and pure mustard are quoted higher. Nutmegs are scarce and slight advances have occurred. The trend of the primary coffee markets are firm to higher. Importers are experiencing some difficulty in getting supplies due to the poor transportation.

There is an active demand for canned goods and dried fruits. Canned peas are scarce. Figs are cheaper owing to the jobbers desiring to clean up stocks before the warm weather. There is an unsettled condition developed in the nut market. Nuts in the shell at New York have declined about 40 per cent. Shelled almonds, walnuts and filberts are very unsteady and quite a spread is noted in quotations. Potatoes continue scarce and are selling at higher figures. Other vegetables are arriving freely and a brisk demand is noted. The plum and apple season is in full swing and dealers are of the opinion that the lowest prices have been reached. There is an easier tendency to most produce and provision markets. Dressed

Sir James McKeachnie, head of Vickers Ltd., one of the largest manufacturing plants in the British Isles, said: "We are looking for the time when we shall be able to get our raw materials from Canada. We are short of slabs and pig iron at the present time. At Sydney we have a vast store we can draw upon, and there is no reason why we should not avail ourselves of it."

SIR ARTHUR CURRIE'S ADDRESS

Last night's great meeting at the Imperial was a fitting culmination of the long series of patriotic demonstrations in that theatre since the beginning of the war. He who occupies the centre of the stage symbolized the struggle and the victory. He who, better than any other man, knew the soul of Canada in the war, as expressed on the battle fields of France, Flanders, Egypt, Mesopotamia, East Africa, and elsewhere, and who is himself the embodiment of a lofty patriotism, invoked the memories of those years of agony, of sacrifice and glory, to press home upon the hearts and minds of his hearers the great task yet to be performed and the ideals which must forever be the goal of the people of this Dominion.

The spirit of the Canadian soldier was portrayed by two simple illustrations. On one occasion, Sir Arthur Currie said, at Passchendaele, just before the Canadians took the ridge whose capture had baffled other corps for more than two months, he saw a working party of thirty men building roads. At night he saw them again. Only two were left alive, but they were still building roads. Again, the artillery found that to help their comrades in the forward line to the fullest extent, though a gas attack was in progress, they must discard their own masks. They did so, and suffered excruciating torture, for the sake of the other men who needed their support.

Sir Arthur made more clear than they had ever before been made to a St. John audience the reasons for the various movements in which the Canadian corps took part, and the relation of its success at critical moments to the morale of the Allied armies. He made it perfectly clear that so far from displaying an eagerness to sacrifice men the Canadian command simply obeyed instructions from the higher command, although it always insisted, as at Passchendaele, on having all due preparation made before an attack was launched.

One very notable feature of the general's speeches, both at the Union Club and the Imperial, was the constant reference to the deeds of the corps. The commander himself, so far as any reference to his own exploits was concerned, might almost have been but a mere observer. Any praise or honor bestowed upon himself, he very simply said, belonged to the Canadian Corps, and he desired so to accept it at the hands of the people of Canada. The Times contented to its readers a careful perusal of the report of Sir Arthur Currie's address, and especially of the brilliant peroration, in which he invokes the spirit of the noble dead to inspire all Canadians in the battles that are waged against the unity and the high purpose which should characterize a nation consecrated by the blood of so many sons. Listening to that appeal, one could not but appreciate the remarks of Lord Currie, Fugate at the Union Club dinner, concerning the inspiration that must come to the students of Canada's greatest university, when there stands at its head a man who has won such high honor in his country's service, and is animated by such a broad national spirit and such lofty ambitions for Canada as breathed in the message that thrilled the members of the Canadian Club and other citizens at last night's memorable meeting.

FACTS ABOUT PROHIBITION

Here are two bits of evidence as to the effects of prohibition in the United States. Forbes Magazine, New York, says:—"Prohibition was to bring a revolution among American workmen. Prohibition was to bankrupt half the hotel proprietors in America. Prohibition was to ruin California and other grape growers. Well, prohibition has done none of these things; it has had exactly the opposite effect."

The Christian Science Monitor quotes the governor of Virginia as follows:—"I have no hesitation in stating that my observation convinces me that the prohibition law, as enacted by our general assembly in 1916, and as now administered, is highly beneficial to the masses of the people." The Monitor adds:—"The governor went on to tell that he felt confident public sentiment was strictly behind the law, and could be relied upon for a vigorous and effective enforcement of it through the courts. No one ever doubted, of course, but it is good to see recorded such straightforward statements of fact."

It was a happy thought which prompted the Women's Canadian Club to invite the Choral Society to take part in last night's meeting at the Imperial. Their singing of patriotic numbers added greatly to the interesting programme and gave great pleasure to the audience. The members of both Canadian Clubs have reason to be much gratified over the success of the meeting, apart entirely from the inspiring address of Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, who at the close expressed to the officers his very high appreciation, not only of the reception tendered to himself and Lady Currie, but of the character of the great audience which gave a quick response to every emotion evoked by his words, and such ennobling devotion to foster a true national spirit among Canadians.

PORTS AND TRADE

It was announced recently that 80 per cent of the export freight consigned through New York forwarding houses was being shipped from Philadelphia and Baltimore. This was partly due to other reasons. In the fifteen years before the war, while the commerce of the port of New York increased 130 per cent, the wharf area increased only about 25 per cent. Of necessity trade went to other ports. The Evening Post says that because the port is signally lacking in docks for the quick loading of goods the least check causes freight to pile up with great rapidity, and if it includes perishable products the loss is heavy. Hence the Post says:—"The presence or absence of modern port facilities may determine whether a labor dispute is a grave or slight interruption to commerce. And strikes apart, the feeling gulf ground among shippers are worth consideration. From southern and western points freight to Philadelphia, Baltimore or Norfolk enjoys a differential. Lighterage there is unknown. Boston and Philadelphia, with several southern cities, are existing through well-rounded plans of port development. New York must not be idle."

Is there not a lesson here for the people of St. John? Last winter freight was delayed and shippers often waited many days to secure berth accommodation. If the difficulties are not overcome the steamers will go elsewhere. The Canadian government is launching this year a considerable number of new steamers, and it has two lines of railways to the port of St. John. This port and Halifax must be the winter ports of the Canadian merchant marine, unless foreign ports are to get the business which should be handled here. The season is wearing on, parliament should be in session, and there is still no indication of the government's intentions. The City Council, Board of Trade and Commercial Club were very active some months ago, but there has been no local action regarding a matter which is vital to the welfare of St. John.

The Times-Star extends congratulations to the veteran journalist, Mr. W. L. Cotton, who today celebrates his 47th anniversary as editor of the Charlottetown Examiner. That newspaper has been in existence for more than seventy-two years, and while the oldest evening daily in these provinces, is also the oldest daily but one in Canada. Mr. Cotton, though apart in his island home from the central current of life in Canada, is widely known and as widely respected. He has ably conducted a clean newspaper all these years, and made a substantial contribution to the development of Canadian journalism. Mr. Cotton toured the western provinces with the National Editorial Association of the United States, and has charge of the arrangements for the visit of that association to these provinces during the present month. All his conferees of the press will join in congratulating him on his continued vigor. Mr. Cotton anticipates a visit to Europe during the present year.

A call for assistance has come from St. Quentin. Premier Foster has already taken action, the city council will follow suit, the Red Cross is active, and the citizens generally will be quick to respond. Later reports show that a great number of people are in urgent need. All over the province the people will be stirred by the appeal. Campbellton, which is nearest the scene of distress and has itself known the suffering caused by a great fire, was first in the field with help, and its example will be generally followed in generous measure. There is still great danger from forest fires in some districts of the province, and the aggregate loss will be enormous.

The Canada-West India Conference was auspiciously opened at Ottawa yesterday, and the high note of imperial solidarity is said to have marked the proceedings. The United Kingdom is represented, and the result of the meetings will unquestionably be a closer linking up of Canada and the islands in commercial relations. The time is coming also, when those islands will be a great winter playground for Canada. The great needs are better steamship service and the sending of mutual representatives to encourage closer relations and open up new avenues of trade.

The season is said to be ten days to two weeks behind in Ontario. In New Brunswick the extremely dry weather is retarding growth of crops and pastures. It is the more essential that the acreage under crop be made larger if possible, and the most careful cultivation given throughout the season of growth.

The budget debate at Ottawa has about run its course. The government will lose some votes, but not enough to change the situation in any material way at present.

There are symptoms of the great audacity which gave a quick response to every emotion evoked by his words, and such ennobling devotion to foster a true national spirit among Canadians.

BY THE SEA.

I'm at La Jolla, by the sea; the view is something fine, with large blue billows rolling five thousand miles of brine. The grand old ocean is my lawn, it slopes against my door; no dandelions grow thereon, to make my spirit sore. The water booms into the caves, reminding me of this: I do not have to mow the waves; and such a thought is bliss. I see the billows high and dark, the endless surge and swell; see seals, and hear them bark, as though they'd things to sell. And I could sit and watch the sea, the one thousand years ago, and every hour 'twould bring to me some message strange and new, 'till saying, at its sighs and raves, and murmurs, moans and pleads, "You do not have to mow my waves, or from me dig the weeds." The salt sea sloshes round my coop, and sharks come up and play, and I sit out, upon the stoop, and smile the livelong day. I've always had a lawn to mow, and weeds to rig at night; no sandbars on the ocean grow, to mar my chaste delight.

THE BATTLE OF RIDGEWAY.

On June 1, 1866, the Fenians crossed the border from the United States and entered Canada. For several weeks there had been alarming reports of a conflict band circulating everywhere and the previous March 17 was, according to popular report, the time the blow was to be struck. Fenian leaders had been until June 1 when about 900 men under "General" F. O'Neill crossed from Black Rock and landed a little below Erie on the Niagara frontier. The regular troops from Toronto and Hamilton were sent against them at once and the militia was called out. Colonel Peacock of the regulars was in command of the entire force.

O'Neill seized Fort Erie and started in the direction of the Welland Canal. The Fenians were met by the regulars of Port Colborne and the regulars of the Queen's Own and the 18th Battalion two bodies were to unite and then march upon the invaders. But there was confusion in orders with the result that the volunteers alone met the Fenians face to face at Ridgeway. Thinking their support was near at hand the volunteers formed a square to resist the Fenian attack. The Fenians were not so well equipped as the regulars and the Fenians were not so well equipped as the regulars and the Fenians were not so well equipped as the regulars.

THE PALACE AND THE POTTAGE

(After Ann and Jane Taylor) Pounce High on a mountain's haughty steep Before it rolled a river deep. Behind it unfrequented vale A peasant had his cell; Sweet flowers perfume the cooling gale And graced his warden well. But proud Lord Hubert's house and lands, Of which he'd vainly be rid, His cheer on the sign's hands— He cannot get a bid. On saucy rich and viands fine Lord Hubert's father fed; Lord Hubert, when he wants to dine, Eats margarine and bread. How different honest William's lot! He always lives in a humble cot At thrice its yearly rent. His dapple cow and garden grounds Produce him ample spoil; His lodgers pay him pounds and pence and he has no need to toil. Lord Hubert sits in thrall and gloom And super-taxes him; Pursue him to his marble tomb, And no one grieves for him. But, when within his narrow bed He's cheered on the sign's hand, They'll find (I mean when William's dead) A tidy bid put by.

LIGHTER VEIN.

A Lot for the Money Round the stand of the traveling auctioneer The villagers stood in a crowd. But business was slow. "What offers for this ancient fiddle?" he inquired pathetically. "Look it over. Notice the blurred finger marks of remorseless time. To the merry notes of this fine old instrument the brocaded dames of fair France may have danced the minuet." By this time the crowd was becoming interested. "Ah," continued the auctioneer, "it bears an abrasion—perhaps the touch of fire. Who knows? It may have been the very fiddle on which Nero played while Rome burned. Now, what offers?" From the back of the crowd came a mournful answer: "Two-and-threepence!" "It's yours, sir!" replied the auctioneer quickly.

Painful, Indeed

"There's was a painful courtship." "Yes." "He is a dentist, and met her first as a patient."

Breaking it Gently

At an amateur performance an actress gave imitation of several popular actors one of whom happened to be present. Afterward the ambitious amateur sought an introduction to the "star," and asked hopefully: "Did you see my imitation of you?" "I did," replied the great star, promptly. "Then, sir," persisted the aspiring youth, "may I ask you to give me your opinion of my art as shown in that imitation?" "Well, my boy," the great man said, "one of us is rotten."—London Tit-Bit.

RECENT DEATHS

A. McN. Shaw.
A Montreal despatch says that A. McN. Shaw of 708 St. Sabin street, that city, died at his residence on Sunday night of nephritis, after an illness of more than two months. Mr. Shaw was in his sixty-seventh year, and was a member of the Douglas Methodist church of Montreal. He is survived by one son, H. Leroy Shaw. He had spent the winter at Barbados, and fell ill on March 30, two days after his return to Montreal. He was born in Prince Edward Island, but he lived most of his life in New Brunswick. There he was for many years manager of the Imperial Life Assurance Company for the province of Quebec. He then became manager of the same company for the province of Ontario, where he held the position of superintendent of agencies for Canada of the Imperial Life Assurance Company, with headquarters in Toronto. Mr. Shaw retired nine years ago. Since then he had spent all his winters in the south, either at Bermuda, Barbados or at some neighboring island. The summers he had spent at his summer cottage on the St. John river. He had many friends who will be sorry to learn of his death.

The Late Father Hamilton.
The Halifax Chronicle says:—Rev. William Bernard Hamilton, parish priest at Parrboro, died at the infirmary on Friday at the age of sixty-two. He had been in failing health for over a year. The funeral will take place on Monday morning after Pontifical High Mass at the Cathedral. The interment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery.

Father Hamilton was born in Richibucto, N. B. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton of that town. He studied for the priesthood in Charlottetown. He was very well known throughout the province, for in the course of his ministry he visited various districts, being stationed for some time at Amherst, in Yarmouth County, and at Halifax, where he was a former rector of St. Mary's Parish. He visited Parrboro as chaplain of the British forces there some years ago. Father Hamilton was universally admired and beloved by those with whom he came in contact during the course of his long years of labor in the church. A sister of the late Father Hamilton, Mrs. W. B. Barkley, of California, has arrived in the city to attend his funeral. Mrs. T. W. Murphy, of 106 Young avenue, is a niece of the deceased.

It is worthy of note that J. Best, who died last Friday at his home in River Glade, had reached the advanced age of 102 years.

The death of Martin McCarthy occurred on Monday, May 31, at the Mater Misericordiae Home where he had been an inmate for the last several months. Mr. McCarthy, who was formerly an employe of the Canadian Government Railways, was the son of the late John and Anne McCarthy. He leaves no near relatives. The funeral will take place on Wednesday from the Mater Misericordiae Home, and interment will be made in Quispamsis, King's county.

J. J. MORRISON IS FARMERS' JOSHUA

Has Led U.F.O. to the Promised Land, But Loves Not Amalekites.

OLD MAN ONTARIO His Power Lies in His Sincerity, Logic, and His Homely Speech.

By FRED GRIPPIN. OLD MAN ONTARIO is usually pictured as a bewhiskered, benevolent sort of rustic individual in overalls and shirt sleeves and holding a hoe. As a matter of fact O.M.O. wears a lounge suit and a mustache exactly modelled on that of Bruce Harcourt, father of Bill and occupying an office on King street east in the shadow of St. James' Cathedral, where he plays the role of the farmers' fairy godfather.

His real name is J. J. Morrison. Nobody seems to know what the initials "J. J." stand for. They have become a kind of mystic combination, an "open sesame" for the farmers to tugle with. For Morrison is Old Man Ontario.

He had lived in the middle age, he would have worn a suit of mail and gone crusading—that is if he had got his mind sufficiently stepped in the necessary for smiting the Saracens.

Just before the D.F.O. convention in December last, while he was engaged in greeting his friends from all over the Province, one of the stenographers in his office stepped up to him and said, "There's some fellow in the crowd just found. You'd better put them in your report." Mr. Morrison took the stenographer's advice. He was the Warwick of the Farmers, the "power behind the throne," the pulper of puppet strings, and what not, but he was approachable to the humblest as an image of Buddha, and without the need of a genuflection.

For, in his way, manner and method he is as the humblest, except that in his equaling quality of his humblity there is an obvious touch of the fighting arrogance that comes from power. It is almost a case of the iron hand in the woolen mitten.

All this reads like a rumble—but why attempt to describe Mr. Morrison, the direct method? If one did the affair would be simple enough, and something like this: Mr. Morrison was born on a farm, bred on a farm, and has lived on a farm until he has become obsessed with the viewpoint of the farm. He finds himself on a pinnacle of mountain and instead of raising his eyes to the stars he keeps them fixed on the valleys below. This really getting our description more mixed up than ever, but it may explain some recent events which have caused Mr. Morrison to loom large in the public eye, for example, his opposition to re-arranging the first time the son had shown that he was not going to take his politics ready-made.

Mr. Morrison is giving the farmers all that is in him and for little in the way of personal reward except possibly in the sense of duty done and of the pleasure of the spirit. The early days of the movement all he has done is to give the farmers a fair hearing. He has done this in a way that has won him a salary of $1000. Now he has a salary of $1000. He has done this in a way that has won him a salary of $1000.

Well Brought Up. THE business man had decided to try an office-girl, and was interviewing applicants for the job. He eyed rather suspiciously a fair young thing who wore a somewhat flimsy silk blouse and a lot of gaudy jewelry.

A Fish Story. THE Angler: "Is this public water, my man?" The Inhabitant: "Aye!" The Angler: "Then it won't be a crime if I land fish?" The Inhabitant: "No, it'll be a miracle."

HEALTH MATTERS FOR DOMINION

Resolutions of Meeting of Health Council in Ottawa, Attended by Hon. Dr. Roberts.

At the recent meeting of the Dominion Council of Health in Ottawa, at which Hon. Dr. Roberts was present, the following resolutions were passed:

1. That the governments of the various provinces be respectfully advised to enact legislation when recommended by their respective public health authorities, requiring that all public milk supplies be pasteurized according to the following process, viz.: at a temperature of 140 degrees F. for 15 minutes and then cooled to a temperature of 45 degrees F.

2. That the Dominion Council of Health endorse the action of the Canadian Public Health Association in undertaking, through its section of child hygiene, the activities of a voluntary national health agency, in conjunction with all other organizations working in this field to carry on propaganda throughout Canada, emphasizing the urgent need of child welfare work.

3. That the Dominion Council of Health appreciate the offer of the Canadian Red Cross Society and of other voluntary organizations to engage in public health work, and in the opinion of this council, the results to be obtained by the Red Cross Society and other organizations, acting as auxiliary to and under the direction of the Dominion Health Department, or of the provincial health authorities, as the case may be.

4. That the Dominion Council of Health regard with appreciation the offer of the Canadian Red Cross Society and of other voluntary organizations to engage in public health work, and in the opinion of this council, the results to be obtained by the Red Cross Society and other organizations, acting as auxiliary to and under the direction of the Dominion Health Department, or of the provincial health authorities, as the case may be.

5. That the Dominion Council of Health regard with appreciation the offer of the Canadian Red Cross Society and of other voluntary organizations to engage in public health work, and in the opinion of this council, the results to be obtained by the Red Cross Society and other organizations, acting as auxiliary to and under the direction of the Dominion Health Department, or of the provincial health authorities, as the case may be.

6. In view of the fact that women are entering industrial and commercial life in larger numbers than before the war, and in view of the fact that the infant mortality rate in the province is unusually high and that legislation protecting maternity and infancy is wholly lacking in all the provinces of Canada:

Be it hereby resolved, That the Dominion Council of Health place itself on record as endorsing the International minimum standards for women in industry set up by the International Labor Conference held in Washington, Oct. 29 to Nov. 29, 1919, to which Canada and thirty-nine other member nations gave their approval, and which covered women's employment (a) before and after child birth; (b) during the night; (c) in unhealthy processes.

Be it also resolved, That the Dominion Council of Health respectfully draw the attention of the law-making bodies of the provinces to the urgent need for early action with respect to these international standards.

The list of countries and states having in operation laws restricting the employment of women at the time of child birth is an impressive one—Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, Great Britain, New Zealand, and South Africa, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Greece, Italy, Japan, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Roumania, Serbia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and four states in the United States—Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, and Vermont.

Spain has the law of broadest scope, applying to "any kind of work." The period of exclusion from work varies in the states enumerated, from four to eight weeks, of which six must be after confinement. Twelve states out of the list given above—Argentina, Great Britain, and Australia, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Roumania and Switzerland—having systems of benefits or grants to cover the legal period of exclusion from work, the form varying—in some it is a part of the benefits granted under a general system of sickness insurance, in others a special scheme of maternity insurance or maternity allowances to persons without means, without element of insurance.

That inasmuch as the governments of the provinces have, at the request of the Dominion governments undertaken work for the combating of venereal diseases, and in view of the fact that this necessitates the importation of equipment from outside of Canada, it is the opinion of this council that the necessary equipment and remedies required for the diagnosis and treatment of these diseases should be admitted for the aforementioned provincial governments free of duty.

WISH RENEWAL OF ANGLO-JAP ALLIANCE (Canadian Press Despatch.)

Tokyo, May 31.—The cabinet has decided to open negotiations for a renewal and revision of the Anglo-Japanese alliance which Great Britain is said to be willing to maintain with modifications, according to the Yomi-Uri Shimburn.

Marquis Shigenobu Okuma, former premier, has issued a statement saying that although the downfall of Russia and Germany has removed the original positive reasons for the alliance, the uncertain conditions in China and Siberia and the agitation on the part of the Mohammedans of Southern Asia make a renewal of the pact desirable as a negative instrument of peace.

KNICKERBOCKER CLOSES (New York Times.)

When the service of dinner ended last night about 10 o'clock, the Hotel Knickerbocker, fourteen years one of the city's oldest hotels, closed. Practically all the patrons had departed within the last few days and the closing was without ceremony.

It could not be learned yesterday when the work of remodeling the structure for offices would be begun. The hotel, managed by James E. Regan, was sold early in May to a syndicate headed by Vincent Astor. Mr. Regan reiterated his declaration that prohibition had not forced him from the hotel business, repeating that "after thirty-eight years as a hotel man, I think I have earned a rest."

For years Enrico Caruso maintained a suite in the hotel. It was said that the singer, now shrouded, probably would live at his country home on Long Island upon his return, until he could solve his housing problem.

WIFE WILLED TO BROTHER.

Testator Enjoins Children, Too, to Shake Hands Yearly Over His Grave.

(New York Times.)

Two conditions confront Mrs. Lulu Leikamp of 187 Park street, Montclair, N. J., if she wishes to continue in the enjoyment of the life interest, the will of her late husband, John F., bequeaths her, in his residuary estate. One is that she do not marry again "unless she shall marry my beloved brother, George L., who, the document says, lives at the Park street address, and to whom a cash legacy of $2,000 is left on condition that he does not contest it. The other is that she shall not allow her father to have any contact with the family, though she is enjoined to take good care of her mother.

On her death, the principal goes to the children, John E., twelve years old; Edward H., eight, and Herbert, six; and one clause expresses the "wish that, after my demise, my children meet once each year at my grave, shake hands and make up all grievances." Among the minor bequests is one of $1,000 to his mother, in Bavaria. The document was filed here, because decedent had an interest in New York property.

FIRES STILL ARE RAGING

Assistance Being Sent to St. Quentin Sufferers—Some of the Insurance Losses.

At White's Brook, forty-nine miles west of Campbellton, the lumber mills of the Richards Manufacturing Company, Limited, of Campbellton and a large quantity of lumber was destroyed by the forest fire raging in northern New Brunswick. In Cumberland county across Shepody Bay from Hopewell Cape the horizon was illuminated for miles from the reflection caused by the forest fires burning in that vicinity. No fires have been reported in Albert county.

The total loss in St. Quentin is estimated at $600,000. Property in the town was insured to the amount of $151,000 in St. John offices, and for an additional amount in Quebec city offices. It is understood that the insurance placed by St. Quentin property owners with Quebec agents is much less than the amount placed with St. John agencies. The insurance here is distributed as follows: Palatine, $11,000; Canadian, $5,000; Hartford, $10,000; London and Lancashire Fire Insurance Co., Ltd., $7,000; British and Mercantile Insurance Co., $1,000; Western, $2,000; Newark, $1,000; Commercial Union, $24,000; St. Lawrence, $4,000; Queen, $8,000; British Crown, $10,000; British Empire, $10,000; Eagle, $3,000; Lochart & Ritchie, $20,000; Yorkville, $4,150; Hudson Bay, $1,000; Royal, $4,000.

The St. Quentin fire was discussed at a meeting of the New Brunswick Board of Fire Underwriters held in this city yesterday afternoon.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES

Sir Robert Borden's resignation as chancellor of McGill University has been accepted with deep regrets by the board of governors.

What is the interests of maintaining the splendid birth rate in the Province of Quebec and of preserving the precious lives of children, the child welfare campaign which had been started in cities by patriotic ladies, will be carried into the most remote regions of colonization by the officers of his department, was the announcement made last night by Hon. J. E. Parent, minister of colonization, mines and fisheries.

The newspaper shortage was discussed by the National Editorial Association in annual convention in Boston. A resolution was unanimously adopted and forwarded to chairman Porter of the House Foreign Relations Committee in Washington urging the passage of Senate Joint resolution 122, which is designed to afford immediate relief in the emergency and especially to benefit country newspapers.

A British cabinet meeting was held yesterday to discuss the Irish situation and the whole organization of the League. Home Secretary, Mr. Lloyd George, Viscount French, lord leucanant of Ireland, J. J. Ballgar, lord president of the council; Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, and General Sir C. E. Newell MacCreedy, military commander in Ireland, were present. The resignation of Sir Robert Borden as chancellor of McGill University has been regretfully accepted by the board of governors at a meeting held yesterday. Though Sir Robert had been prevented his taking an active part in the work of the college, ill health was another reason assigned.

Airmen Give Thrill. Turned into flaming comets to test invention. Atlantic City, N. J., June 1.—Turning themselves into a flaming comet, aviators Kerwood and Campbell gave delegates attending the third Pan-American Aeronautic Congress a thrill at the air port to test out a new preparation for port to test out a new preparation for fire proofing aeroplanes. LOSING A MILLION CHEERFULLY

When Cyrus H. K. Curtis took over the publication of the Saturday Evening Post the whole organization of the "Ladies' Home Journal" was scandalized. They did everything they could to show their wrath. Mr. Curtis fired men right and left. Once there was brought a statement to him and his fellow directors to prove he never could make a "go" of the Saturday Evening Post. The statement showed it had lost $400,000.

Mr. Curtis looked at the figures. "We've lost $200,000 more to go to make it an even $1,000,000," he remarked smilingly.

"What can you do with such a man?" said the spokesman of the delegation despairingly.

But a million dollars was not enough. The Saturday Evening Post showed a loss of $1,250,000 before it turned the corner. And it took four or five years for it to reach the corner—Forbes Magazine, N. Y.

G. W. V. A. FAIR. The G. W. V. A. fair at St. Andrew's, Rink, drew large crowds again last evening, when about 1,400 people were admitted. The door prize was a half ton of coal which was won by ticket 11,223.

Mrs. McCormack won the ladies' prize for the linen toss, which was a handsome clock. The gentlemen's prize, an umbrella, was won by Mr. Williams.

The fair has several days more to run and the committee in charge are very anxious to see the results to date. The door prize for tonight is a half barrel of flour.

Important Manitoba Find. The Pas, Man., June 1.—Discovery of cobalt bloom has been reported to Commissioner Wallace and a sample he examined revealed some small quantities.

The discovery, which was made four miles east of the Mandy Mine, on Schist Lake, is of great importance, the commissioner said, and silver may be found present at the inspection.

TURNED INTO FLAMING COMETS TO TEST INVENTION

Atlantic City, N. J., June 1.—Turning themselves into a flaming comet, aviators Kerwood and Campbell gave delegates attending the third Pan-American Aeronautic Congress a thrill at the air port to test out a new preparation for fire proofing aeroplanes. A committee representing the Aero Club of America, officially witnessed the daring stunt, pronouncing it an unusual success.

The two fliers donned special suits painted with the preparation and then permitted mechanics to spray them with gasoline. They climbed aboard the aeroplanes, similarly "dressed," was touched off with matches at the same time flame was applied to the aviators.

The plane was then sent careening into the air and for five minutes aviators watched the blazing ship shooting like a star until the flames had burned themselves out. When the descent was made, neither the aviators nor the machines had suffered any damage except for the soot.

Hours later her husband came in from the field and found her body there, but the house was intact and the baby was still wrapped in contented slumber.

It is believed Mrs. Gloosmore, who was alone in the house except for the infant, had her clothing ignited when she tried to use oil in lighting a kitchen fire.

SAYS PRINCE'S CHECK NO GOOD

Charge Laid Against Michael Murat in New York.

New York, June 1.—A complaint charging Prince Michael Murat, nephew of Emperor Nicholas II, with grand larceny, was placed before the Grand Jury by Edwin P. Kilroe, assistant district attorney. Prince Michael, a nephew of Prince Joachim Murat whose mansion at 29 Rue de Mouson, Paris, sheltered the President and Mrs. Wilson during the peace conference, Prince Michael is now at his house in Paris.

A check for $2,000, alleged to have been given by him in payment for a Russian sable scarf for his wife, and which the Guaranty Trust Company of New York is said to have refused to honor because of insufficient funds, formed the basis of the charge. H. E. Wade, a furrier, of 7 West Forty-fifth street, the complainant.

Watson alleges that he sold the sable to Prince Murat at Saratoga Springs July of last year, received the check when, as it is alleged, the check came back. Watson consulted his attorney Goetz and Jacoby of 392 Broadway who wrote the prince, demanding that he make good. Murat, it is said, made a payment of $500 on account and then sought with his wife, who was Hel Stallo, for France. Registered letters the prince in Paris were acknowledged by him. It is set forth, but it was said he has failed to pay the $1,500 balance.

POOR DOCUMENT

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, JUNE 1, 1920

GENERAL CURRIE HEARD BY A BIG AUDIENCE

A Call to Sobriety, Patriotism and Industry Refers to Work of Canadian Corps in France and Flanders—Praise for New Brunswick's Soldiers.

General Currie received an enthusiastic reception at the hands of a large audience in the Imperial Theatre last evening. He spoke with a sincerity born only of the deepest conviction and his words carried weight. He made a earnest appeal for breadth of vision and the vast audience was entirely sympathetic in its response to his call for sobriety, patriotism and industry and made eulogistic reference to the deeds of the sons of New Brunswick in the field of honor. The meeting was under the auspices of the Men's and Women's Canadian Clubs.

Mrs. Leonard Tilley, president of the Women's Canadian Club, introduced the general. On the platform were those who attended the official dinner at the Union Club and the choral club of the Society of Music.

After the orchestra of the Imperial had rendered several patriotic airs the curtain went up and those on the platform and in the audience rose to sing "O Canada." The choral solo was sung by the fine and melodious "The O Canada" quartet, consisting of Mrs. J. S. Ford, conductor, and Miss Beryl Blanche acting as accompanist. The song was heartily applauded.

A very pretty incident occurred when A. M. Belding, president of the Canadian Club, on behalf of the club, presented Lady Currie, who was sitting in the front row of one of the boxes, a beautiful bouquet of roses, saying as he did so, that on the first visit of Lady Currie to St. John the members of the two clubs and the citizens desired to express their appreciation of her presence and to hope that the visit would not be the last. The flowers were presented to a token of the esteem in which she was held.

Mrs. Tilley, in introducing General Currie, said the two clubs had every reason to be proud in having as their guest one of the outstanding men of Canada, whose name added lustre to the reception General Currie said he could not adequately convey the appreciation of Lady Currie and himself. Since his return to Canada he had addressed many men's and women's Canadian Clubs and he welcomed the privilege. He had a profound admiration for their aims and ideals of promoting a true and proper conception for Canadians. Canada could best serve the Empire by building Canadian institutions along self-respecting lines. The aims of the clubs were not political and non-sectarian and their members met as Canadians wanting to know and understand the world and reach sane conclusions for the welfare of their own and all nations, since no nation could live into itself but had a responsibility to all mankind. Canada had assumed a new place in the respect of the world and must face future problems in the same unselfish attitude as she had done in the past, cherishing the traditions of all the British peoples, to all of which they were entitled, yet having acquired new traditions which must hold them high above mere commercial desire for gain or profit.

Thanks to Women. The presence of many women in the audience led him to tender to the ladies the thanks of all the men who served in the war. The heroism of the Canadian women was surpassed by that of the Spartan mothers who sent their sons to battle and told them to return only with their shields or on their backs. He had undertaken toll to which they were unaccustomed and by working in factories, on the tram cars, and in many other lines of industry, had released men for service at the front. They had engaged in war-made occupations such as munitions and had shown ability equal to that of the men, but it was in the realm of mercy that they had done their best work. The soldiers were amazed at the tons and tons of supplies which came from the women of France and which were the means of lessening suffering beyond realization and averting death to thousands of men.

Sir Arthur Currie went on to describe the first casualties that he had seen when he was in the front line. He had seen a train load of 300 wounded, 250 of whom were suffering from terrible distress among the soldiers in the first part of the war and was as truly a casualty as the bullet-riddled man who had only been solved successfully when the government issue of two pairs of socks to every man had been augmented by two other pairs of socks which had been sent by the women at home and enabled the men to change daily to dry socks and did away with trench feet. This was a practical example of the good which the women had done.

He had not command of language to tell of what was owed to the Red Cross. Millions of money had been raised by it and its supplies were everywhere, right up to the front trenches. There was almost nothing that could be asked of it that it did not give. British and Allied hospitals all received their share of its supplies and had it not been for its aid, 200,000 French people in territory released from German occupation, must have starved to death. There was another phase of women's work of which he would speak also. They had sought out and comforted the bereaved families of fallen soldiers and the men knew at all times the prayers of the women at home went up daily for the success of their arms and that right might prevail.

He urged the societies formed for war work not to disband, but since there were many causes in need of their help, to fight the battles of peace. He believed that they were better than always for good and that women must have a great part in the building up of Canada. Coming to speak of the Canadian soldiers, he said that he was not surprised that they were victorious at Vimy. He had seen them living in the trenches, in conditions indescribable, exposed to shelling, wet, cold, infested with vermin, with rats and mice for companions, and poisoned with gas. They bore it all with cheerfulness and that as much as valor was what had carried them to victory. He had compared Can-

"Fruit-a-lives" Conquered Nervous Prostration

R. R. No. 4, Gilbert Plains, Man. "In the year 1910, I had Nervous Prostration in its worst form; dropping from 170 to 115 pounds. The doctors had no hope of my recovery, and every medicine I tried proved useless until I friend induced me to take 'Fruit-a-lives.' I began to feel almost at once, and never had such good health as I have enjoyed the past eight years. I am never without 'Fruit-a-lives' in my pocket."

adian men with those of all nations on the battlefield, and that was the glory of any. They came from Scotch, English, Welsh, Irish and French descent, but they were distinct from each, for the life of the Canadian, which called for the exercise of brain, of brawn and initiative had to be met on a battlefield distinctly individual, with broad shoulders, deep chest, clear, keen eyesight and steady nerves. The Canadian soldier to cope with the best of the enemy and made the hardest fighting of the Allies.

Referring to the year 1917, which he characterized as the most serious in the history of the world, General Currie said one would have to consider first the events of 1916 when the enemy made his desperate attack on Verdun. The commander of the French army, Pétain, said: "They shall not pass," and upwards of 300,000 French soldiers laid down their lives to make that slogan a reality. He had visited the French burial ground at Verdun and held profound admiration for the French soldier, who though not so stubborn in defence as the British, was nevertheless a dashing and gallant soldier.

The British on the Somme. The pressure at Verdun was relieved by the British attack on the Somme in June, 1916, and by December 1916, as a result of two battles the French had regained all the lost territory, and the Germans had front of 20,000 yards, which had been lost in the previous four months. Such good tactics were followed by the British in this engagement that several British generals, himself among them, were made prisoners of the French army, and the same tactics employed by General Nivelle were put into the action at Cambrai. The British put in supreme command of the French army, succeeding where he had failed in 1916. The British were in supreme command and the British would conform to his plans, he said, and he would break through the German lines in succeeding attempts and the morale of the French army weakened by three weeks of inactivity, had been restored by the British military plans had been changed to suit those of the French and in the British forces to fight and fight hard.

The Meuse and the Scheldt. The Meuse and the Scheldt followed, with the result that the British army took all its objectives. No praise or commendation was given to the British for the old British army. The Canadians were not always placed in the most dangerous places as someone had said, but they were always proud to fight alongside those old veterans of the British army. The British had had the gallantry of the submarine bases in the North Sea. There were not more than ten days and if the submarine blockade had been effective the war would have been long, or nearly so.

The Aisne Attack. Failure followed the launching of the Aisne attack by the French and the people and government began to get the impression that it was no use fighting any more. The morale of the French army was broken. The United States had not taken an active part in the war and the brunt of the fighting had been on the Western front through 1917 to the winter of 1918. Following the failure of Gough's fifth army in the British attack on the Aisne after the submarine base and the Hill 70, the Canadian corps was asked to attack the German line at Hill 70. This battle, which started on August 18, he thought would be well remembered. The 26th battalion was in it from start to finish, and so highly did the Germans prize the position that the counter-attack thirty-five times within the next eight days. During the operation there were identified as nine German battalions in the action; the Canadians were using only twenty-four. The German casualties were around half a million; the Canadians were 8,000.

In the counter-attack the enemy used 20,000 gas shells, and as the gas-mask makes it exceedingly difficult for a gunner to draw a fine sight, the artillery men, when they got the S. O. S. from the infantry line threw away their masks so as to increase their precision. About 277 gunners succumbed to the gas fumes, the general said, but that was the spirit of the Canadian corps. Stretcher-bearers, too, worked all night through the dark, hounded by the numerous shell-fires, barb-wire entanglements and flares from both lines, but to make their tasks easier for the wounded, they too took off their masks and worked in the gas-laden air without thought of self.

As an incident to show the spirit of the Canadian soldier, General Currie told of visiting several batteries of gunners who had just arrived after spending a year in training in England. On their way to the front the batteries had been heavily shelled by the enemy, and he had seen the most hardened soldier.

"Well, boys," said the general, "they gave you a pretty hard time, didn't they?" "Yes, sir," was the reply, "those twelve months in England certainly were hard."

Liquid fire was used first by the Germans in this engagement and a pathetic story was told by the speaker of a Canadian officer of the Second battalion, who, seeing the men dismayed by the unknown method of warfare, shouted: "We hold this line for Canada." The men rallied, but the officer died in dressing station after making his report to headquarters. After Hill 70, some camouflage was put over by the British when it was given out that the next point of attack would be Lattin Hill. Whatever prisoners the Germans took and made pris-

Increases Your Weight, Restores Lost Strength, Prevents Illness

Every day come new converts to that great army of men and women who rejoice in new-found health that came to them through the use of that wonderful blood-renewing preparation called "Fruit-a-lives." Very simple how it acts. All you have to do is take two small chocolate-coated tablets with a sip of water at the close of each meal.

Ferrous is a marvel. It contains just what thin blood lacks—lots of iron, but mark you, the kind of iron your blood is able to absorb. Ferrous puts life and vim into the blood. Makes it rich, red and nourishing. Naturally the body is better fed and grows stronger every day.

Of course digestion must be improved, and probably the stomach is the purpose of the ordinary. Those who use R. U. enjoy appetite and digestive powers far beyond the ordinary.

That tired feeling is replaced by the buoyant joyous feeling of health and vigor. Day by day as your strength increases, you feel new energy surging through your veins, and that is a great tonic of great merit it is worth. No remedy more nourishing or uplifting, no treatment so sure to bring lasting health and good spirits and contentment. Ferrous contains just what run-down folks need: it cures because it supplies more nutriment than you can get in any other way. 80c. per box or six for $2.50 at all dealers, or by mail from The Cataract Co., Kingston, Ont.

and the official German documents say the Canadians could not be compelled to talk—also in the case of the Canadian corps would help. The Canadian corps, as a part of the British army, only fought in those engagements which were ordered into by the British headquarters. The talk of the Canadian corps was not intended for the French, but was marked as nonsense by the general. This battle, which started on July 31, was taken up by the Canadians in October 1918. A penetration of six miles had been made in this two and a half months of fighting. The terrible dangers of the engagement began to affect the morale of the British army. At that time, he assured the audience, peace talk was not a very important matter. The general stated that he was ordered by the chief of staff for one reason, to strengthen the morale of the troops, for it was considered that whatever it might cost. Before the attack started, the general had received the order, and the engineers, pioneers and infantry had to lay double plank roads for the guns. Four attacks on October 28 and 31 and November 6 and 10 were decided upon. On one night by conduct, such as this he said, could be kept with those who sleep the long sleep in Flanders.

GOT HER OUT OF BED, SHE STATES

Halifax Woman Says She Recovered From Breakdown by Taking Tanlac.

"The way I improved in health after I started taking Tanlac was truly astonishing, and I do not remember ever feeling better than I do at present," said Mrs. Lena Sampson, of 284 Frederick street, Halifax (N. S.), when relating the facts concerning her experience with the medicine.

"When I started taking Tanlac I had been in bed for three weeks and was in a terribly weakened condition. For two years before that I had been very run-down, and I was so tired that the noise of the children irritated me and any sudden banging of a door would almost make me faint. I was so weak and so tired that I could not get up, and I was so nervous that I could not sleep. I was so weak that I could not walk, and I was so tired that I could not do my housework. I lost weight all the time, and as I've said ended up by breaking down altogether and having to go to bed for three weeks.

"My husband had taken Tanlac with splendid results and it was he who induced me to try it. Well, remarkable that it may seem, I was up in a few days, and now after taking two more I am feeling just fine again, and my nerves are now as steady as a rock. I sleep good, and sound every night and am so much stronger that I can get through my housework with ease. Only yesterday I have done a big round of shopping and don't feel a bit tired after it. Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine, and I highly recommend it to everyone."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by the Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro, 196 G. W. McKay, Beaver Harbor; Willard J. Colwell, Evans; C. V. Pearson, Highgate. It is also sold in all the leading druggists in every town.—(Adv.)

The general reported with an interesting account of the war as it affected his brigade, and spoke of the reorganization of the local units.

Regarding Mons, General Currie said it was understood the Allies would continue the pressure until the German line had actually signed the armistice documents. On Sunday night, November 10, the British and Canadian forces were expected to be at full strength. Cambrai was the last battle of the war, and Valenciennes, in which the 44th New Brunswick regiment played an important part, was the last battle of the war.

WOMEN OF ALL AGES AND TIMES

Ask your mother, aunt, grandmother, they will tell you of folks they have known who were cured of the many distressing, painful diseases which occur in most women's lives, by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is sold by druggists, in both fluid and tablet form. What women say:

Tillsburg, Ont.—"I found Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription an excellent medicine for the ailments of women. I had become very weak and nervous. I was just miserable when I began taking the 'Favorite Prescription' and it proved most beneficial. It so completely restored me to health that I have never had any return of this ailment."—MRS. GEO. WALKER, P. O. Box 490, London, Ont.—"In my early married life I was very frail and delicate. I was feeling exceedingly weak and miserable when a friend advised me to take a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. From the very start I felt new strength and vitality. I feel certain that had I not taken this wonderful woman's tonic, I would never have been the happy mother that I am."—MRS. JOHN DANBY, 139 Ann Street.

Brampton, Ont.—"About five years ago I began suffering with woman's trouble. I became all run-down, weak and nervous. I was so completely down and out that I could not do anything, could scarcely dress myself. I had the doctor and took other medicine but without getting better until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and his Golden Medical Discovery. It was only necessary for me to take about three bottles when I was completely restored to health and strength."—MRS. HARRY KNIGHT, Jessie St.

Constipation or Costiveness

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver. There is nothing more productive of general ill health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings St. E., Vancouver, B. C., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had a bad cough and headache. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I got Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c, and they were sent by return of mail by The T. The New Hercules Brake Has "Positive Drive"

Jump on a 1920 C.C.M. Bicycle.
Try the new Hercules "Positive Drive" Brake.
It positively will not slip!
A gentle backward pressure on the pedals engages the brake.
Never before have you used a brake more soft and velvety—or more sure and powerful. There is no other coaster brake more dependable than the new Hercules with its Positive Drive Clutch.

In addition, the Hercules is smaller, neater, lighter—very little larger than a plain hub. It has fewer parts than others.

It is the only coaster brake in Canada without a side arm. Therefore, the Hercules is more easily removed and replaced in the frame.
The Hercules is unique in construction. There is no other coaster brake that combines so many excellent features.
The new Hercules can be attached to any bicycle at moderate cost. It is obtainable from any C.C.M. dealer.

All C.C.M. Bicycles are equipped with the Hercules Brake.

Wherever you go in Canada you will find C.C.M. Service, look for this sign. Over 1,000 C.C.M. Service Stations in Canada.

'ON WITH THE DANCE'

SUMPTUOUS PICTURE

Imperial Theatre Presents Delightful Super-Photoplay With Favorite Stars in the Cast—On Again Today.

The picture at the Imperial Theatre this change feels the pulse of New York and finds it not alone the hive of temptation that it is often called, but also the haven for vaulting ambition in the arts and sciences. "On With the Dance" is the big city in all its scintillating phases. Against this background a dramatic love story has been worked out by the master hand of Ouida Bergere, certainly one of the foremost scenarists of the silver sheet.

Mae Murray and David Powell are the featured players. Miss Murray shows that she has not lost one whit of her skill in the dance, which first brought her into prominence in the Follies. But she also exhibits pleasing qualities as an emotional actress of surpassing ability. Mr. Powell is, as always, the suave gentleman and accomplished actor.

The story concerns the adventure of a little, pretty Russian girl, suddenly left an orphan amid the luxury of New York's smart set. Her encounters with men, good and bad, her temporary yielding to the lure of a "soft life," and her final redemption in the big crisis, provide an absorbing plot that held the interest of last night's audience every moment.

The picture is the first of the George Fitzmaurice Productions released by Paramount Artcraft and is of the super-special class. Apparently no money was spared in making the production outstandingly magnificent and the staff of players brilliant. The musical setting furnished by Imperial orchestra was very fine. Large crowds enjoyed the attraction which is being repeated today and tomorrow.

YOUNG-ADAMS CO. PRESENT GREAT JOHN GANTON

Large Audience at Queen Square Theatre See Good Show, Well Presented.

The Great John Ganton was ably presented by the Young-Adams company at the Queen Square Theatre last evening. The audience was large and appreciative, as was evidenced by their frequent and prolonged applause. Mr. Young played the role of John Ganton in a manner that left nothing to be desired, and he was ably supported by Miss Adams and the remainder of the cast. Miss Adams as May Keating got the reception of which she is always sure at the hands of a St. John audience. Percy Norman as Will Ganton, John J. Guggay as Brownie, and Jack Simmons as Larry Delaney all played up well and rounded out a well chosen cast. A considerable flurry was noticeable among the ladies in the audience on the appearance of some beautiful gowns on the stage.

The story is an interesting one and the way it was told last night left nothing to be desired. Treating as it does the relation between the employer and the employe, it carries with it a strong moral vein which was well brought out by the cast. Mr. Young was particularly good and worked his story up to such a climax at the end of the third set that he was forced to respond to a curtain call.

The Great John Ganton will be repeated this afternoon and this evening.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

BASEBALL

Yesterday's Games.

In the American League, Cleveland made it two straight from Detroit. The latter outbatted Cleveland in an afternoon game but failed to stand off until Cleveland had secured a commanding lead. Boston and Philadelphia divided honors in their double-header. New York took two games from Washington, both games being marked by heavy hitting. The afternoon game "Babe" Ruth socked out his twelfth home run of the season.

In the National League, Meadows pitched his first game since being injured two weeks ago and turned in his fifth straight victory for Philadelphia against Boston. St. Louis and Pittsburgh divided honors in a double-header. Brooklyn won the afternoon game against New York by bunching hits off Ames and running wild on bases while New York threw the ball around regardless. Chicago and Cincinnati broke in the double-header. Catches by Roth and Barber were features. Summary:

DARK HORSE IS LIKELY CHOICE IN EACH PARTY

Predictions as to Action at National Conventions

None of Those Now in Lead Has Enough Pledges for First Ballot for Presidential Nomination.

New York, June 1.—With the two main national party conventions scheduled for June, the Republican and Democratic at San Francisco, wide spread interest is displayed today in the probable chances of the multitude of aspirants for the two presidential nominations. This is especially the case in the Republican race for nomination, in which

I shall make a visit to my St. John office, Union Bank of Canada building, Market Square, Monday, May 31; Tuesday, June 1; Wednesday, June 2; Thursday, June 3; Friday, June 4 and Saturday, June 5.

To all those that have failed to receive correct glasses, have your eyes measured by the Rand Special System, of looking to the eyes and taking the exact measurements of the sight, without the use of lines or letters hung on the wall. This is the highest form of fitting possible. Examination free for this visit, and glasses fitted at reasonable rates.

the entries are many and the pace fast. While the Democrats are apparently leaving the struggle to be fought out at the San Francisco convention, to which most Democratic delegates from the various States are being sent uncommitted, the Republicans have been engaged for weeks in a hotly-contested campaign, with the leading figures in the party bidding against one another for control of state delegations to Chicago.

Despite this difference in tactics, those who profess ability to analyze political conditions in the United States assert that the picking of a possible candidate is as difficult in one party as in the other. The results of the state primaries have been so complicated that they indicate nothing clearly.

This is a "Republican year," the deponents say. The Democrats, at present in control of the administration in Washington, are doggedly on the defensive, while the Republican "outs" are attacking fiercely and brilliantly. In such circumstances the choice of the Republican candidate is a matter of serious import, and American newspapers in general have been devoting much space to the results of the Republican primaries in the individual states.

The consensus of opinion is that at both conventions there is a splendid opening for a "dark horse." Many war-scarred political veterans assert that when the balloting at Chicago and San Francisco is over the chosen two will not bear any of the names now being bandied about as possibilities during the pre-convention scramble. On the Republican side there is a deep and widespread feeling that the Johnsons and Woods and "favorite sons" of many states will disappear from the presidential fight after the Chicago convention, and that the selected gladiator will be one less advertised, but "first in the hearts of his countrymen." In this connection Governor H. J. Allen of Kansas has been quietly but frequently mentioned. Among Democrats there exists a similar expression. McAdoo, son-in-law of President Wilson, and referred to facetiously at times as "the Crown Prince," is a pre-convention strong man, but there are many who think that at San Francisco he will give place to some such person as Champ Clark of Missouri, who has not been too closely identified with the present administration.

only for the initial vote. After that anything may happen. State delegations pledged to support "favorite sons" for at least one ballot will be free to follow their individual preferences, and the traditional result is likely to follow, say the political rail-birds. This result is that a "dark horse" will find himself chosen presidential candidate for the Republican party.

SUGAR AND PRESERVES. Victoria Times: Although very little difficulty is experienced by the Canadian public in obtaining sufficient supplies of sugar to meet the bare domestic demand, there is a growing belief that unless action is taken by the Dominion government to insure a proper distribution during the approaching jam-making and fruit-preserving season a very serious loss will be inevitable. The statement issued by the Canadian trade commission is instructive in its way, but its general exhortation to the people at large to stock up at once does not strike us as the proper advice to give in connection with a commodity upon which a very important fruit-growing industry in British Columbia must of necessity depend. We are still of the opinion that federal machinery should be employed for the purpose of giving such a guarantee of distribution as is possible under the circumstances in those sections of the country where conditions demand it. Even at the expense of discomfort in the supply for normal household requirements there should be ample provision to meet the essential needs consequent upon the marketing of large shipments of small fruits from this province. Failure to provide accordingly may mean great financial loss to numerous orchardists.

BIG RACING SEASON FOR WOODSTOCK (Woodstock Press). The prospects for horse racing here this summer are excellent. Horsesmen have been working out their steeds on the track since May 1st, and the condition of the race course is first class. Already fourteen horses are quartered in the splendid stables at the fair grounds. These include seven out of town horses. Pope McKinnon, formerly of Bangor, will have raced here today. Dusty Dan, pacer, 2:09 1/4, and Bertin, trotter, 2:18 1/4. Bud Tingley of Houlton, is bringing The Problem, 2:04 1/4 on a mile track; Bud will likely have several more on his string. It is also reported that Bill Sharon, 2:16 1/4, the fast colt trotter, will train here. This horse is now owned by Archie Alcorn of Blackville, Northumberland county. The Hartland Driving Club has purchased a green trotter, Colorado Rose, by Colorado E. This mare will probably train here.

J. A. Dewitt of Presque Isle, is training here and has five of his string so far. Old Glory, 2:23 1/4, Peggy Hal, pacer, two fine green colts by the Northern Man, and Cassie W, pacer, owned by Murray McLeod of Hartland. The one and only Jimmie Gallagher has five in his string this year. Money Man, pacer, 2:18 1/4; Myrtle Rysdyk, 2:22 1/4; Sis Peters, pacer, Togo M, and College Swift, pacer. Henry Dewitt is training three, Baron Marquis, pacer, 2:08 1/4 on mile track; Lady Bell, owned by R. Dewitt, Hartland, and Belle McGregor, pacer, 2:10 1/4, owned by H. Dewitt. The other local horses are owned as follows: Hankis Bellini, pacer, 2:12 1/4, Walter Mott. Strathlen Burns, pacer, Walter Mott. Rhona Adair, 2:24. W. B. Belyea, Lady Ashbrook, pacer, 2:17 1/4, Clarence Black. Orward Wilkes, pacer, 2:14 1/4, Warren Bull. Black Peter, 2:19 1/4, Earl Avery. Don P. Clyde McClellan, pacer, Merrywise, pacer, Allan Poole. Conundrum, pacer, George Nicholson. Del Home, pacer, Geo. Nicholson. Lady K. Dr. H. H. Martell. Budworthy, Robert Hamilton. Rex, John Young. Verna L. Heber Lindsay. King, Joe Gans. L. W. Niles, Centreville, has a colt, Hugh E, by Belmar Jr., in training for races the 24th May. The above horses are certainly a formidable list. Henry Dewitt and Walter Mott, who were attending the sale in Boston, have arrived home, bringing with them the fast six year old pacer, Oro Fini, 2:08 1/4, for the local syndicate. The first regular race will be July 1st, four classes to be run off on the three best plans. July 12 and 13 will be big days here, according to present plans. The first circuit races will be pulled off these days. On these days also there are prospects of a two days carnival, or it will be made an Old Home week, which will remind us of the good old times we used to have before the war. The provincial Orangemen expect to celebrate here on July 12th. A little before that date or maybe in June there will be a circus here. Then in September the great Provincial Exhibition will be racing. Woodstock will certainly be on the map this summer.—F. D. T.

LOT OF BUILDING WORK IN THE WEST. Winnipeg, Man., June 1.—The 1920 building programme in Western Canada is a vast acreage of land, costing $2,000,000. These figures were given out by A. R. Whittemore, manager of the MacLean Daily Reports, Limited, of Toronto, on his return after two months' tour of the west. Speaking of building trade conditions Mr. Whittemore declared that there is not much likelihood of prices in the coming down this year. He has figured to show that in the case of fifteen building materials the prices have advanced 108 per cent since 1914. Manitoba's programme is well advanced and it is expected that 800 hours forty schools and ten warehouses, involving an expenditure of $25,000,000 will be erected. In Winnipeg and environs it is expected that 600 houses a fortnight of cheap, costing approximately $4,500,000, will be erected.

Those White Teeth Ask How the Owner Cleans Them. All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities. Free A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent. See Below. They Combat Film On Millions of Teeth Today. There is a new, scientific way to clean teeth. It combats the film—the great tooth enemy—as nothing else has done. And millions of teeth now show the effects of it. It is known today that most tooth troubles are due to a slimy film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush doesn't end it. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it. So it remains on teeth and may cause a constant damage. It Clouds the Teeth. That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. So, despite the tooth brush, all these troubles have been constantly increasing. Dentists long have known this. Dental science has for years sought a way to end film. Now it has discovered an efficient film combatter. Able authorities have proved it by many clinical tests. Leading dentists everywhere have watched it and are urging its adoption. This is to offer a 10-Day Tube which will show what it means to you. You Owe Yourself A Test, and It is Free. This new method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent—a scientific tooth paste. On every hand you see the glistening teeth of people who now use it. Ask for a free test and prove it for yourself. Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to dry by day combat it. Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. But the way is opened by discovery of a harmless activating method. Now active pepsin can be every day applied. See What Ten Days Do. We do not argue Pepsodent effects. We send a tube to show them, and a book to state the reasons. Send the coupon for this 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how the teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears. Look at your teeth now, then look in ten days. Let your own teeth decide. Learn what film removal means. Do this for your sake and your children's sake, for the film is vitally important. Then judge for yourself between the old ways and the new. Cut out the coupon now. Ten-Day Tube Free.
