In the United States the entrance of new issues into the political arena has been followed by a change of administration. But the great economic question on which the campaign turned is still unsettled, and its solution is now committed to a Congress almost equally divided between the two great parties.

Europe is a vast camp. Array corps patrol the frontiers, and Millions of men await the signal for the most titanic war the world has ever seen, The Herald's news-gathering machinery is unequaled. Its correspondents dot the habitable globe. Nothing can escape their vigilance, and no expense is spared in spreading the results their efforts before the Herald's readers.
