Late Returns of Irish County Elections.

Complete Victory of Nationalists Over the Conservative Party.

The Anglo-Canadian Trade Assumes Large Proportions.

Unrest in Macedonia-Loss of British Steamer Cato-Seven Persons Accidentally Shot at an Entertainment.

London, April 9. - The results of the first Irish county council elections, under the new local government act, are arriving slowly. It is known that 300 Nationalists and 83 Unionists have been elected. The results in Dublin county were 13 Nationalists and 7 Unionists; Kilkenney, 20 to 1; King's county, 20 to 1; Mayo, 9 to 0; Westmeath, 21 to 2; Derry, Carlow, 20 to 0. Miss Charlotte Barrington, the only woman candidate, was elected in Limerick. Lord Mayo received only 19 votes in Wicklow, and Lord Castle-town only 17 votes in Cork. Labor candidates won 11 out of the 16 seats in the Limerick district.

The Earl of Dunraven and Mount-Earl, Baron Moneagle of Brandon, and Baron Emly, Unionists, were elected in the Limerick districts.

KILLED WHILE PLAYING "WAR." During an entertainment representing a battle between the British and Chinese at Oadby, near Leicester, Saturday evening, seven persons were shot and wounded, of which it was not known were loaded.

STEAMER LOST. The British steamer Cato foundered 16 miles north of Longship's lighthouse, on the coast of Cornwall. The captain, his wife, and six others of the ship's company have been landed at Milford Haven by a steam trawler.

The trawler Vivid reports that when 15 miles off Lundy Island she saw the masts of a large vessel suddenly disappear, and soon afterward saw three men in a dingy, praying and shrieking for help. The Vivid endeavored to reach the men, but the boat sank, and its occupants did not reappear.

TEMPERANCE CONGRESS. The International Temperance Congress, now being held in Paris, is attracting considerable attention. The discussions of the congress have given prominence to the radical and despotic measure of the St. Petersburg municipality to suppress or check drunkenness. The city government has arbitrarily closed 25,000 dram shops, substituting 5,000 under state control, wherein a variety of liquors and the amount sold is to be strictly limited.

ANGLO-CANADIAN TRADE. The imports during the month of March from Canada to the United Kingdom were: 2,202 cattle, valued at $35,365; 97,700 cwt. of wheat, valued at $23,850; 61,800 cwt. of wheat, meal and flour, valued at $32,021; 33,600 cwt. of peas, valued at $9,794; 647 cwt. of bacon, valued at $23,054; 8,521 cwt. of hams, valued at $15,003; 1,864 cwt. of butter, valued at $8,221; 12,067 cwt. of cheese, valued at $27,898; 1,294 loads of wood and wood timber, valued at $2,808; 17,912 loads dressed lumber, valued at $42,875; 52 horses valued at $100; 4,160 tons of wood pulp, valued at $15,221. The total value of the imports was $453,789, while the exports were valued at $347,567. Several articles were omitted from both imports and export returns. At the offices of the high commissioner for Canada a firm has made inquiries for a Canadian manufacturer of cook stoves. A Cardiff firm wants the name of a manufacturer of raspberry pulp, and a Glasgow firm seeks similar information regarding manufacturers of broom handles and exporters of seeds and peas.

SENSATIONAL STORY FROM BERLIN. London, April 10. - The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says: Emperor William sent instructions to the German ambassador in London and Washington to the general effect that Germany considers the new government of Samoa illegal, and the action of the British and Americans a clear violation of the Samoa act. The report of the behavior of Admiral Kautz toward the German cruiser Falke has given umbrage throughout the empire, and it is considered certain that if the report is confirmed, the United States will readily admit Germany's right to satisfaction, and will repair Admiral Kautz's errors. It is hoped, however, that the accounts are exaggerated.

Wellington, N. Z., April 9. - The imperial government has accepted the offer of the colony to dispatch a boat to Samoa, but the troops offered are not required.

THE TONGAS. A dispatch to the London Times from Melbourne says private advices have been received from the Tonga Islands that the captain of the British warship Tauranga and the British vice-consul recently concluded an arrangement with the king of the islands, binding him not to part with his sovereign rights or to cede, sell or mortgage any of his territory to any foreign power. Great Britain will guarantee the independence of the kingdom.

TURKISH ATROCITIES. Aden, April 10. - Advices received from Sana, the capital of Yemen, Arabia, say that fighting between the Turks and the revolting Zaidis continues, and that the former are committing such atrocities that the inhabitants have sworn to fight to the last man.

BRITAIN'S HOLD ON CHINA. It is announced that Great Britain will formally occupy her new territory of Kow-Loon, adjoining Hong-Kong, on April 17.

British authorities have been pressing Chinese officials in Peking for an extension of the territory about Hong Kong ceded to Great Britain by the treaties of Canton and Nankin, on the ground that more land is needed for government buildings. Apparently the request has been granted.

THE POPE'S CONDITION. London, April 10. - The Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail says: While the pope's health has improved, few deny that his life is slowly ebbing away.

THREE CROWNED HEADS TO MEET. Vienna, April 10. - It is reported that there will be a meeting of the czar, the German emperor and Emperor Francis Joseph at Sciernevice, Russia, upon the occasion of a great hunting party next fall.

"RIDICULOUS." Paris, April 10. - The Matin this morning publishes reports of interviews with Comte Esterhazy, who, referring to the testimony of Gen Roget, before the court of cassation, in the Dreyfus proceedings, says Roget's accusations are ridiculous. It was not he, he declares, who gave to the London Daily Chronicle the letters sent to President Faure. These letters were dictated to him.

The statement printed in the London Observer yesterday morning that he told the proprietress of that paper that he wrote the Bordereau under orders, and that Dreyfus did not write it, Comte Esterhazy characterizes as a ridiculous invention.

READY TO RULE. Gotha, April 10. - In the tele today, a declaration from the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, was read in which the former announced that he was prepared, in view of the death recently of Prince Alfred of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, son and heir of the reigning duke, to assume the government of the duchy should a contingency arrive.

CABLE NOTES. The "People" learns that the treasury has decided that the evidence in the case against Lord Hookey, the bankrupt speculator and company promoter, does not justify his prosecution for fraud.

A Rome dispatch says a drunken man threw a stone yesterday afternoon into the carriage in which Queen Margherita was riding. The missile missed the queen, who displayed no alarm over the affair.

An American Protestant missionary at Han Kow, a Chinese treaty port on the Yang Tse Kiang, makes sensational allegations against the Roman Catholics of burning Protestant chapels and torturing Protestants. He gives the name of a priest concerned, and pictures a reign of terror in certain districts.

The district messenger boy, Elsey, who left London on the afternoon of April 1 for California, in order to rival the recent trip of Jaggers, is on board the steamer Etruria, which sailed from Liverpool for New York on April 1.

An attempt has been made to assassinate the czar's aide-de-camp, Gen. Mauzey. He was cut in the throat by a servant, but not seriously hurt.

The London Daily Telegraph's Vienna correspondent says: "Most unfavorable news has been received in official quarters from Macedonia. The insurrectionary feeling is increasing."

Manila by a line of blockhouses may be adopted by the American authorities here during the wet season, as it requires fewer men than the trench defenses, and lessens the chances of sickness.

Lieut. Steunenberg, of the Idaho Regiment, a brother of the governor of Idaho, has been placed on trial by court-martial for calling Major Higgins a coward in the presence of his company. It is expected that he will be dismissed from the service.

Manila, April 9. - 3:45 a.m. - At nightfall last night Gen. Lawton and King launched an expedition of three gunboats, with 1,500 picked men in canoes, in tow of the gunboats. The object of the expedition is to cross the lake, capture Santa Cruz and sweep the country to the south.

At the mouth of the Pasig River the men will be transferred from the canoes to the three gunboats Laguna de Bay, Cesto and Napinda. Santa Cruz, the objective point of the expedition, is at the extreme end of the lake.

Gen. Otis reports that everything is quiet in his command, and that many of the Filipinos in the vicinity of Manila are displaying flags in token of submission to United States authority.

Aguinaldo has issued a decree directing that Spanish shall be the official language throughout the archipelago, and protesting against the American pretension to force the use of English on the natives who do not know it.

CAPTURED SANTA CRUZ. Manila, April 10. - 6:50 p.m. - Gen. Lawton has captured Santa Cruz, at the extreme end of the lake. He drove the rebels, who were commanded by a Chinaman named Pao Wah, into the mountains. The Americans had six men wounded. The rebels lost 48 men killed, and had 40 men wounded.

DISPATCHES FROM OTIS. Washington, April 10. - The following dispatches were received from General Otis today:

"Manila, April 9. - Adjutant-General, Washington: Lawton now opposite La Guna de Bay with 1,500 men. Condition of troops excellent. Sickness slight. OTIS."

"Lawton's command captured Santa Cruz, chief city of Laguna de Bay, this morning. Casualties, 6 wounded. Insurgent troops driven, leaving 68 dead on the field, and a large number of wounded; a considerable number captured. Lawton will pursue westward. OTIS."

END IN SIGHT OF DREYFUS CASE

Important Announcement by Premier Dupuy.

Fumishment of the Faults of Individuals Will Have No Effect Upon the Status of the Army-Malta to Speak English.

Paris, April 10. - Speaking today at LePuy, capital of the department of Haute-Loire, Prime Minister Dupuy referred to the Dreyfus case, the end of which, he said, was now in sight. The complications, he added, would be unraveled by the court of cassation, whose judgment everybody would acknowledge. The government considered it important to reassert its determination to suppress all polemics which could lead to the question. As soon as the court's decision was given the government would take the necessary measures to determine responsibility, but the punishment of the faults of individuals would not affect the army, which was a vast family, including all the sons of the country. It was said it would remain France's present security and hope of the future, and was the indispensable guardian of the constitution and laws.

MALTA TO SPEAK ENGLISH. Valet, Malta, April 10. - An order in council has been issued allowing the use of the English language in all oral and written proceedings in all the courts of Malta in all cases where Englishmen are plaintiffs or defendants, or witnesses.

Hitherto Italian only was used, and the grievance under which Englishmen laborers reached a culminating point when Colonel Hewson was sentenced to three days' imprisonment for refusing to sign his deposition, which was drawn up in Italian.

A proclamation also announces that after fifteen years from this date the English language shall be substituted for the Italian in all the Maltese courts.

THE CZAR'S PEACE CONGRESS. London, April 10. - With the appointment of delegates the prospects for a peace conference begin to assume definite shape. All countries have paid the czar a compliment by appointing representatives and commending it in this particular respect. It is remarkable here that the czar may regard the kaiser's appointment of Stengel, who regards war as a necessity, and peace as a perilous sentiment, as a rather bad joke. It is now generally accepted that the conference will accomplish nothing in the way of disarmament, or an agreement to refrain from new scientific discoveries. America and Japan will refuse to consider a reduction of armament, and England will refuse to reduce its army, and has already withdrawn the conference, offered to diminish naval shipbuilding if Russia will do the same.

It is possible, however, that the conference may bring arbitration to precede war much nearer, and additions to the Geneva convention and further security for private property at sea in war time are very likely.

HAMILTON INDUSTRIES AMALGAMATE. Hamilton, Ont., April 10. - Negotiations are in progress for the amalgamation of the Hamilton Blast Furnace Company and the Ontario Rolling Mills Company. If the deal goes through the new company will run the smelting works, rolling mills and forge works on their present sites, and will establish immense storage yards in the smelting works site. The two concerns employ 600 hands, and this number will be greatly augmented by the amalgamation.

MANY DYING OF FAMINE

Starvation in a Russian Province-Only Two Meals a Week-Death List Enormous.

London, April 10. - A dispatch to the Telegraph from St. Petersburg says that the Province of Kason, which is inhabited chiefly by Tartars, is in a condition of unrest, which is likely to result in a bad outbreak against the government. M. Goremykin, minister of the interior, has started post-haste to visit the district. The situation is the outcome of the terrible famine. Everything has been eaten, including cattle which themselves had died of starvation. The people now have only two meals weekly, and are dwelling in half ruined huts, parts of the roofs and the woodwork of which have been used for fuel.

The sole occupation of the people is burying their fellows, who are dying rapidly of typhus fever. Private benevolence is doing what it can, but it can do but little to relieve the distress. Government aid was delayed owing to the roads being blocked. In many cases peasants have gone a dozen versts to obtain bread, and some of them have died on the way. The peasants in some villages attacked the local authorities, demanding bread, and then assailed the police. The administration at St. Petersburg thereupon decided that energetic measures were necessary to quell the trouble. Large quantities of corn were transported by express trains and distributed among the sufferers. Sanitary detachments of the Red Cross Society were sent to combat the typhus and scurvy, but as soon as the Red Cross people arrived the Tartars, who are Mohammedans, spread rumors that they had come to take advantage of the misery to compel the Mohammedans to be baptized into the orthodox faith. The Mohammedan priests fostered this idea. Then the rage of the people rose, and they stoned the relief parties and refused help from them. The officials are now trying to pacify them, and have summoned M. Soutanoff, the Mufti of Orenburg, who will go to Kason to explain the objects of the government.

MORE GOLD

Strike Made at St. Michaels, Near the Yukon's Mouth.

[G. N. W. Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, April 10. - Mr. J. J. Healy verifies the report that gold has been found near St. Michaels at the mouth of the Yukon.

Two men found $600 in two days about 70 miles from their store on St. Michaels Island, and a few miners dropped in with $1,200 worth of dust to get supplies. They all returned to work.

Mr. Healy says that he is getting additional supplies on account of this discovery.

PROSPERITY IN EGYPT.

London, April 10.—Lord Cromer, the British minister, in his annual report on the finances and condition of Egypt, and the Soudan, says that Egypt has had another year of prosperity, the surplus for 1898 amounting to £244,000 (Egyptian). He remarks upon the growing disposition to invest British capital in the country. The deficit in the finances of the Soudan is placed at £200,000 (Egyptian).

Dealing with the development of the Soudan, Lord Cromer refers to the contract for the Atbara bridge, the placing of which with an American company caused much comment. He says that an old English firm offered to deliver the bridge in six months and a half at a cost of £10,490, while the American firm undertook to deliver it up in 42 days at a cost of £6,500.

The report of Baron Cromer is looked upon as being a wonderful story of progress and the triumph of administrative foresight and military vigor. He advocates extending the railroad from Khartoum through Abu-Haraz to Goedarf and Massala to Suakin, and thus tap the territory about the Upper Nile which Sir Samuel Baker called "the granary of the Soudan." Goedarf is the center of this grain-producing region. Lord Cromer says that hitherto grain at Khartoum has at times been sold at famine prices, while at Goedarf it can be had in such quantities that it is unsaleable. The railroad will change all this. The British agent also makes a significant remark that "school statistics show that French is dying out in the language of the middle classes, and English has already largely taken its place."

DISEASE AMONG THE BRITISH TROOPS.

In view of the cable reports that many of the American soldiers from Cuba have been attacked by cerebro spinal meningitis, a representative of the Associated Press saw the medical authorities of the war office with reference to the dispatch from Cairo to the Daily Telegraph saying that all the Anglo-Egyptian troops have been removed from Omdurman owing to the persistence of cerebro spinal meningitis due to the former unsanitary condition of the town. Surgeon-Major Muir, who has just returned from the Soudan, said:

"The position there is extremely serious. We had this trouble from the first with the Egyptian troops, but the British soldiers did not suffer, because they were surrounded by the utmost precautions. The disease is due to unsanitary conditions such as probably prevailed in the case of the hastily-organized Cuban campaign. Our campaign in the Upper Nile was planned with time in our favor, and thus the best sanitary arrangements could be made for the British soldiers who escaped."

AFRICAN RAILWAYS.

African railway questions are receiving more attention from the English press than any policies affecting American interests. Mr. Rhodes has many warm partisans, who are attempting to force the chancellor of the exchequer to take up the project for a railway from the Cape to Cairo as an imperial work, and they are laying great stress upon the fact that all the capital required for the German section of the railway has been guaranteed, whereas Mr. Rhodes received no encouragement from the British Government. They are also arguing that the government guarantee of the work will not cost the British taxpayer a single penny, but they do not succeed in convincing anyone that so grandiose an imperial project will not prove burdensome.

FANTASTIC REVOLUTION.

The whirligig of time never made a more fantastic revolution. Three years ago Mr. Rhodes was behind the Transvaal raiders, and the German emperor was congratulating President Kruger on his victory over the filibusters and forcing the British Government to order out the flying squadron; now the German emperor is Mr. Rhodes' chief patron in carrying out a tremendous policy of African expansion.

LIBERAL LOSSES.

The retirement of the Earl of Rosebery, Sir William Vernon Harcourt and John Morley, and the death of Baron Herschell are followed by the terribly sudden death of Thomas Ellis, the chief Liberal whip. He was married last May, receiving then an extraordinary tribute of affection from the party. Earl Rosebery, Lord Tweedmouth, and other wealthy Liberals uniting to present him with a charming house in Westminster.

THE IRISH ELECTIONS.

Returns of the Irish county council elections are not yet nearly all to hand, but enough is known to justify the remark of the London Times' correspondent that "Unionism has been annihilated in Munster and Connaught, almost totally extirpated in Leinster, and badly wounded even in Ulster." The Unionists of position and property have been defeated by the wholesale, while several Nationalists have been beaten by Labor candidates. The council elections, in spite of everything foretold to the contrary, have been fought solely and wholly upon political lines, and the result is an overwhelming victory for Nationalism. In Kildare Lord Frederick Fitzgerald, a landlord and Tory, secured an election as the only Unionist among seven Nationalists.

A HOME RULE BOOM.

It is needless to dwell upon the fact that Thursday's startling elections will give an enormous impetus to home rule in the not far distant future, on two conditions: First, that the new Nationalist councils do not plunge Ireland into an uproar, but show some capacity for the management of public affairs; and, second, that the Irish members finally manage to subordinate personal jealousies to patriotism. Mr. Dillon's overtures for reunion have not yet been accepted by Messrs. Redmond and Healy, and his attitude is so patriotic and disinterested that they will be placed in a false position unless they meet him part way. Already there are signs that the Nationalists will make use of the new councils as bridges for entering Dublin Castle, and proposing the creation of a central administration in touch with all local bodies. That would be a close approach to Gladstonian home rule, with a body modeled after the London county council substituted for the national parliament.

ROYALTY GOING TO IRELAND.

The Duke and Duchess of York this week will pay their second visit to Ireland within two years. It is evident that they desire to become popular with the Irish people. They intend to attend a number of public functions. On their arrival in Dublin on Monday they will become the guests of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, Earl Cadogan, and will attend the Punches and Leopards races, the vice-regal ball at Dublin Castle, the Dublin Society's cattle show, and will also pay a short visit to the Marquis of Ormonde at Kilkenny Castle.

MORE POLITICAL PRISONERS TO BE RELEASED.

The government has decided to release the three Irish political prisoners, Mullett, Fitzharris and O'Hanlon, now undergoing life sentence in Maryborough jail for participation in the Phoenix Park murders. A deputation from the Corporation of Dublin, headed by the lord mayor, went to Dublin Castle on Friday and presented a petition for the release of the prisoners. The lord lieutenant replied that he had resolved to release them, but could not fix the date of their release.

A FAREWELL FUNCTION.

It is announced that the Prince of Wales has succeeded in finally arranging for the Queen to open, in May or June, the Royal College of Science, in which the science collection of the South Kensington Museum will be housed. The collection at present is lodged in the part of the museum known as its hideous shape, as the "Brompton Boilers." The ceremony of opening the college will be on the same scale as imperial institute inaugurations, the route will be lined with troops, and the prince will have a melancholy side, as her Majesty has determined that it will be her last public appearance at a ceremony of this nature.

"UP-TO-DATE" PREACHING.

A so-called "up-to-date" rector of the city church of St. Mary-at-Hill, in the center of Billingsgate, on Sunday announces that his sermon on Sunday would be "Millionaire Marriages," with particular reference to the Vanderbilt wedding, accompanied by lime-light mania and the interior of American millionaires' residences. The rector dealt with the worthlessness of worldly goods, contrasting the gorgeous surroundings of the Vanderbilts and other millionaires with the lives of the field.

SIGNIFICANT ROYAL VISIT.

The visit of the King and Queen of Italy to Sardinia this week will be an interesting occasion, and from some standpoints significant. The event will shape the naval reunion at Cagliari, capital of the island of Sardinia, and the fleets of Great Britain and France, and it is hoped the opportunity will be seized upon to emphasize the better understanding now existing between the two countries. Altogether there will be 50 warships in the harbor, 20 British and 15 each from France and Italy. There will be no review, but the King of Italy will hold a ceremonious reception of the principal officers.

THE SAMOAN TANGLE.

The unraveling of the Samoan entanglement is followed with keen interest here, especially in colonial circles. Germany's "obstinacy," as her attitude is termed here, from the beginning of the troubles is regarded as "incomprehensible," and is said to be only explained by a desire to get the upper hand in the islands. This view is expressed by a colonial expert who, writing to the Morning Post, says: "For some reason never yet explained Germany regards Samoa as an important link in her foreign policy. Rather than give up Samoa the Germans would go to war."

VIOLATION OF THE SAMOA ACT.

The foreign office official empowered to speak for the German Government, tells the correspondent of the Associated Press that the action of the Americans and British is a clear violation of the Samoa act. That Germany intends to adhere to this view, that she considers the new government of Samoa illegal and that she has so instructed her ambassadors at Washington and London. The newspapers point out the growing importance of Samoa to New Zealand and the significance of the latter's offer to send volunteers to Samoa.

PREPOSTEROUS IMPORTANCE.

The Spectator, which thinks that "preposterous importance" has been given to the whole affair, says: "Great Britain only needs a coaling station, if she needs that. But we must vigorously support American claims and the business will be tedious and expensive."

THE FEELING IN GERMANY.

The Samoan question continues to hold the attention of the public, the newspapers being full of dispatches and comments on the subject. The emperor has devoted much time to the matter. It is interesting to note that German distrust and dissatisfaction at the latest events are almost entirely aimed at Great Britain, whose attitude is described, even in official circles, as being dictated by duplicity and unfriendliness. The delay of Great Britain in accepting the proposals for a settlement of the difficulty is generally interpreted in Germany as showing distinctly unfriendly motives upon the part of Great Britain.

A high foreign office official remarked: "It has been a source of astonishment that Great Britain has not expressed regret at the latest turn of affairs in Samoa, while acceptance of our peaceful settlement has so far been coupled with unacceptable conditions containing the seed of new troubles and manifestly unfair. We could not accept conditions enabling the American and British commissioners at any time to override German rights, thus perpetuating the unpleasant state of affairs in the islands." The press comment is in the same key, but more outspoken.

THE FIGARO REVELATIONS.

The Figaro revelations in the publication of the evidence presented to the court of cassation in the Dreyfus case is the sensation of Paris and has revived the keenest interest in the Dreyfus affair. The Dreyfusites are highly pleased with the publication of the depositions. The Figaro's bold step is particularly interesting as, last year, its editor unexpectedly championed Dreyfus with the result that the paper lost a great number of subscribers and the proprietors removed the editor from his post. The Figaro has now taken a step which has drawn upon it the formidable hostility of the general staff of the war office, which desired secrecy, and whose reputation is grievously damaged by the publication of evidence that the war department engineered different trials, influenced witnesses and had the intention of preventing the exculpation of Dreyfus.

The revelations made by the Figaro came before the correctional court Saturday afternoon, when the new managers of the paper MM. Roder and Borel, were sentenced, in default, to 500 francs fine, and costs for publishing the testimony.

ENGLAND'S BIG BEER BILL.

An official statement, just issued, shows England to be the greatest drinking nation in the world, a discovery which has astonished her people, who hoped she had fallen behind in the alcoholic race. Of beer England drinks 80.31 gallons per head per annum; America, 12.20; Germany, 25.50; France, 5.10. Wine—England drinks 39 gallons; America, 44; Germany, 134; France, 21.80. Of spirits England drinks 1.02 per head; America, 84; Germany and France, both 1.39. This gives England's total consumption at $2.71 gallons; America's, 12.48; Germany's, 28.73; France's, 28.79. The drinking of wine is decreasing in England, while that of spirits and beer is increasing.

BACK TO LONDON.

The Prince of Wales has left Cannes and is now on his way back to England. Nearly all of the other prominent people are leaving the Riviera. As the season is drawing to a close, the trains from Nice and Cannes to Paris are filled with passengers, and all the berths of the sleeping cars have been secured for the next three weeks.

WEDDINGS.

The forthcoming season will be remarkable for its unusually large number of fashionable weddings. None, however, will surpass that of Lord Crewe and Lady Peggy Primrose at Westminster Abbey, on the 20th of the month. The royal romance of Princess Victoria of Wales and her cousin, Prince George of Greece, which has been talked about for years, will, it is whispered, culminate shortly in the announcement of their engagement. It has been generally said in society circles for some years past that the princess was very much in love with her tall, stalwart cousin, but that he, fearing that he had very little to offer, did not dare to press his suit until his recent appointment as governor of Crete gave

NOTES.

Justin McCarthy, suffering from a double cataract, underwent a preliminary operation last week in a private hospital at Margate for removal on the right eye. He stood the operation admirably. He will be six weeks under treatment before both cataracts are removed. His health was wonderfully restored by a long stay at Westgate-on-Sea.

Mr. F. Marion Crawford has undertaken already to write the biography of the pope, and is now at work upon it at his beautiful residence at Sorrento. His recent work, "Ava Roma Immortalis," has met with great favor in Vatican circles, since it describes the sacred city in a spirit of enthusiasm and reverence.

A poor Berlin family was recently augmented by triplets, and since then the parents have been the recipients of parcels of baby linen and other useful articles, and a Sister of Mercy arrived to nurse the mother. On Thursday the neighbors were astonished at the sight of an imperial carriage in front of the house. Two ladies and two gentlemen emerged from the vehicle and climbed to the fifth story. Entering the room occupied by the poor mother, one of the ladies said: "Good day; I have taken the liberty to come and have a look at the triplets." It was the Empress of Germany, who, after a long conversation, revealed herself as the unknown benefactor of the family. She left a present of money and promised other assistance.

TERRIBLE MISTAKE

Drank Carbolic Acid Instead of Filtered Water.

Big Rapids, Mich., April 10.—Mistaking a bottle of carbolic acid for a bottle of water Ole M. Olson, a prominent business man and Mason, Saturday afternoon died a violent death. Suffering from headache, he entered Fairman's drug store, helped himself to a headache powder and went to the rear of the store for a drink of water, as he had done many times previous. Instead of the filtered water bottle he poured from a carbolic acid bottle and washed the powder down with the same. He told the startled clerks of his terrible mistake, and physicians were summoned, but he was dead in a few minutes.

SILVER MINE IN HIS HOUSE.

Brantford, April 10.—Mr. Wortley Acret, whose lucky discovery of $500 in an old safe was reported Friday, has supplemented his find of the day before by discovering $427 more in the same treasure box. After depositing the first money in the Bank of Commerce, Mr. Acret made a thorough examination of the old safe, when he discovered back of a number of pigeonholes a secret chamber which contained the second treasure, in English silver of the time of George IV., like the first.

STOLE A PREACHER'S GOWN.

Port Huron, Mich., April 10.—Rev. J. W. Gibson, a Presbyterian divine, on his way home from Kingston, Canada, to Cincinnati, had a valise containing part of his wardrobe stolen Friday night while the train was stopping at the Tunnel station. Upon discovering his loss he notified the station police officer, who found the valise in an out-of-the-way place in the yards with part of the contents strewn on the ground. The officer also captured the thief while he was attempting to sell a black silk gown valued at $60 for $1. In the police court a charge of simple larceny was preferred against the prisoner, to which he pleaded guilty, and was given accommodation at the Detroit house of correction for 90 days.

AFRAID SHE WOULD LOSE HER BOY.

He was wasting away with a terrible Cough. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cured the Cough and restored his health.

It takes the life out of a mother to see her child—the idol of her heart—slipping away, succumbing to a cruel cough that all the remedies she has tried won't cure. Mrs. Jasper Singer of Burgessville, Ont., went through a trying experience and gladly gives an account of it for the benefit of Canadian mothers. This is what she says: "My little boy of a year and four months old took down with a heavy cold last fall. I tried different medicines but they did no good. He got so thin he was nothing but bones and hardly ate anything. I thought quite a few times I would lose him, till I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. The first bottle helped him wonderfully and the third bottle completed the cure."

"I would advise all mothers to give their little ones Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup as it is so pleasant to take and so effective." Price 25c. All dealers.

Manager Lohman Talks About
His New S.ring.

Only the Pick of Last Year's

Men Report for Duty April 20—Exhibition Games Arranged—Six-Club League an Accomplished Fact—Turf Wheel Fistic and Other Sporting Events Chronicled.

BASEBALL

He may have been a corker with the stick. He may have been a wizard with the ball. He may have beat Old Nick at every trick. And yet may prove a "has-been" after all.

Wise Peter Lohman, manager and captain of the London baseball team, looks fit and prosperous in spite of six months' hibernation in the enervating south and the seductive indolence of the siren city of the Golden Gate. Our "Uncle Pete" kept his form by playing two games a week, and kept his shrewd eye peeled all the time for likely material from which to build the London team for '99. He says he found some pretty good stuff.

Mohler, Crove and Carey have been retained; Howells, who left last season on account of sickness, but was never released, will also come back. He finished the season in the New York State League and did brilliant work. And Charlie Jones, of Butler, Pa., who played infield for London last spring, returns as an outfielder. He went from here to Saginaw last season, and developed qualities as an outfielder that showed London had put the right man in the wrong place.

The others, excepting, of course, Manager-Captain Lohman, are new, though not untried. They all have something to brag about in the record line. Mr. Lohman hints that much. But he adds very sensibly that "in baseball the past is no guarantee for the future." This modesty is reinforced by an assured air of the I-could-say-a-lot-of-nice-things-if-I-liked sort.

George Babbitt, who will play short, balls from Tacoma, Wash. He was with Rock Island last year, and was considered the leading shortstop in the Western Association. James Hart, who will hold down the first bag, is a six-footer from Eau Claire, Wis. He is lively on his feet, and led the batting with .340 in the Red River League last year. Milwaukee tried to get him for the spring work, but he preferred the prospects here and closed with Lohman.

Charlie Frank is from Los Angeles. Mr. Lohman has watched his work for several winters, and found it good, and getting better all the time. Frank was in demand this year, and ought to prove a useful man. He will probably be played on third base, and will be available as a general utility man. Jack McConnell is a catcher from Kansas City. He was with Bay City last year until they disbanded, and he finished the season in the Kansas State League. He is a fair catcher, strong with the stick, and particularly good at base work.

Harry Hill is a clever twirler from Windsor, Ill., where he has put in two seasons. Grand Rapids was anxious to get him, and raised Lohman's bid $20 a month. But Price wasn't altogether after the price, and London got him. Ed Seivers is a southpaw pitcher from Leadville, Col., and was in the Colorado State League last season. His strong playing during the tournament this winter at Albuquerque, N. M., attracted Mr. Lohman's attention.

George Cooper is a citizen of the world, and pitches good ball with left hand. Last season he was with Omaha in the Western League, and has just got away. Formerly he was with Lohman for two seasons in the association.

Then there's Eddie McGamwell, another left-hand pitcher, who has played with Hamilton and other Canadian League teams. He finished last season with Buffalo. McGamwell is popular in Western Ontario, and has a good record.

Charlie Crowe proved a clever and dependable pitcher with London last year. He was a good, reliable stand-up, a hard, willing worker and kept a full head of steam on all the time.

Will Carey did good work in center field, and was often really brilliant. He is a timely hitter, and has a way of making long drives just when they are wanted. He makes him a hot favorite with the bleachers.

"Kid" Mohler, the canny second baseman, whose puzzling combination work, with Lohman behind the bat, ensnared many a likely runner to his undoing, will be welcomed back. He is sure and quick, and a good, all-round man.

Thomson, a shortstop, who has been with Lohman for two seasons in the association, has also been signed, as he was considered too good a man to leave loose. This brings the bunch up to fifteen, and a few games will develop the likely men.

And last of all is our Uncle Pete Lohman. Heady Pete. Calm in disaster, cool in success, and always ready to clinch the slightest advantage. That's Pete Lohman. He wins games with his head. He's a strong, sure catcher, and has the throwing power of a 12-inch gun.

The men have been ordered to report here for work April 20, and will begin training right away. If the weather does not permit ball practice, long tramps over the hills will be used to harden muscles, and take off superfluous flesh.

Exhibition games have been arranged to be played here May 5 and 6, with the Columbia Giants, otherwise the Octoroons, formerly the Page Fence Giants. Auburn, N. Y., wants dates for May 1 and 2, and arrangements are under way for exhibition games at Detroit, Grand Rapids and Toledo. Niagara is also negotiating for a game.

Now that Stratford has come in, the six-club league is an accomplished fact, and Canadian League prospects are bright for 1899.

As soon as the result of the Stratford organization meeting, to be held on Tuesday evening, is known, a meeting of the league managers and stockholders will be called. The meeting will probably be held in Stratford the latter part of this week.

The Guelph Herald said on Saturday, apropos of Stratford's entrance to the league: "Mr. George Black, manager of the Maple Leaf baseball club, arrived in the city today, to take up his permanent residence for the season. Naturally, Mr. Black feels highly elated over the success of his efforts to get Stratford into the league. He found the city sore on the game because of last year's unfortunate experience, and he left it with the necessary funds subscribed and with good men at work actively booming the affairs of the club. Stratford will hold its organization meeting on Tuesday night, and will send a representative to the league meeting later on in the week. Popkay, who played first base for Bay City last year, will likely pilot the Stratford organization. He is a good player and a steady, reliable man."

Guelph has signed Pitcher Glassford, who was to have played on the 'Varsity team this season.

Hamilton has signed Congalton.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS IN STRATFORD.

Stratford Herald: Stratford is game—there's no doubt about that. The unexpected (to a great many) has happened—the necessary amount has been subscribed. A team will this season represent the Classic City on the Canadian League diamonds—and the heart of George Black, manager of the Guelph team, waxeth strong. Cause why? He has done what everybody said was impossible. He has placed a league team in a city, the public of which was, when he first came, just about as thoroughly disgusted with baseball as it is possible for a public to be. The canvassing committee met last night at the Queen's Hotel. On comparing notes it was found that the day's work had been eminently successful, and it was at once decided to go ahead and place a team here. Everything was thoroughly discussed, all the members seeming to feel from the reception given them during the day that baseball would receive a good support in Stratford. The guarantee and protection fund will be forwarded on Monday, and on Tuesday night there will be a general meeting of the subscribers to elect directors and transact other business. As soon as the directors can get together a manager for the team will be selected, the probability being that an effort will be made to secure "Old Hoss" Twineham, of Detroit. As soon as the manager reaches the city the work of signing the players will begin.

WALCOTT WON.

Toronto, April 10.—At the Empire Athletic Club Saturday night, Joe Walcott and Jim Judge were to twenty rounds, but the bout came to an end in the 11th, Walcott finishing his man with a terrific right on the point of the jaw. From the fifth on it was Walcott's fight.

TWENTY ROUNDS.

New York, April 10.—Marty McCue, of this city, and Billy Whistler, of Baltimore, fought ten rounds, at the Pelican A. C. Saturday night. The referee declared the bout a draw.

Tim Kearns, Boston, had a comparatively easy task against Billy Ernst, the "Buswick Dutchman," of Brooklyn, in a round bout at the Greenwood A. C. In the eighth round, Kearns beat Ernst almost into insensibility, when the police compelled Referee Owen Zeigler to stop the contest. He gave the decision to Kearns.

AT CORNWALL.

Cornwall, Ont., April 10.—George Brownrigg, of Cornwall, put Jack Kenny, of Boston, out Saturday night in a ten-round bout at East Cornwall. The fight took place at East Cornwall.

ROUGH AFFAIR.

New York, April 10.—At the Broadway A. C. Friday night, Jack O'Brien met Jack Downey in what was scheduled for a 25-round bout. It was a rough affair all the way through, and both men were repeatedly warned. In the 15th round Downey was disqualified, O'Brien winning.

DRAW.

Memphis, Tenn., April 10.—After 20 rounds of fighting, Friday night, Referee Holtzman declared the bout between Tommy White, of Chicago, and Kid Goulette, of Rochester, a draw.

FIASCO.

San Francisco, April 10.—The much-discussed fight between Mysterious Billy Smith and George Green rescheduled in a scheduled fiasco. After a long wait the two thousand people who had come to Woodward's gardens were dismissed, and all they received was an exchange of coupons, the pasteboards entitling the holders to admission to the next fight under the same management, or, if too vigorous a protest was made, the money was returned. Smith refused to go on because there was not sufficient money in the house.

FINERTY VS. HOPKINS.

Youngstown, O., April 10.—"Squirrel" Finerty, of this city, defeated Joe Hopkins, the colored boxer, in 20 rounds, before the Youngstown A. C. Saturday night.

PEDESTRIANISM.

HEGELMAN WON.

New York, April 10.—The close of the 24-hour go-as-you-please race at the Grand Central Palace Saturday night was uninteresting. Out of the 33 starters only 10 men finished. The score at the end of the 24th hour was: Hegelman 120 miles, Glick 113, Dean 107, Cox 103, Day 95, Noonan 93, Hansen 91, Kingston 87, Woollenschlager 81, Elson 72, Carlson 70.

THE TURF.

OPENING AT NEWPORT.

Cincinnati, April 10.—The spring meeting of the Queen City Jockey Club opened at Newport Saturday under many disadvantages. The weather was cold and raw, and the track a sea of mud. CRICKET.

CRICKET HAS FEW FRIENDS.

The great national game of England—cricket—though admired and played the world over, has few enthusiasts among the "sports" of London. A meeting was called for Saturday evening at the Richmond House, for the purpose of reviving the game in this city, and reorganizing the London cricket club. Only two interested gentlemen put in an appearance, and they, after waiting a considerable time, went away quite satisfied that it is baseball, not cricket, the people of London want.

FOOTBALL.

ENGLAND DEFEATED SCOTLAND.

Birmingham, England, April 10.—England won the international football championship Saturday by a score of 2 to 1. The game was an immense crowd to half-time, but after a hard struggle managed to secure a goal in the second half. England did not score in the second half.

NOTES OF SPORT.

Be Happy won at 40 to 1 at Ingleside Saturday.

Birmingham, Ala., cyclists are now required to take out a license costing 25 cents, with a charge of 10 cents additional for the fee for making out a license.

An Australian contemporary reports that a flock of 10,000 sheep, recently noted in Gippsland, were herded by drovers on bicycles, instead of horses, as usual.

Johannesburg, South Africa, imposes a tax of $2.50 on all bicycles, and a fine of $25 for riding on the wrong side of the street, or for lack of license, bell and lamp.

It is related of the Marchioness of Queensberry that, on arriving late at a state dinner, she explained her tardiness by saying that it was due to the macadamized state of the roads.

Don't take your wheel to Europe without having it equipped with lamp, bell, brake, and everything else you can think of, besides leaving vacant favorable points when the wheel is attached to the various fashions that flourish there.

The Irish Cyclist, apparently in full seriousness of belief that the item is one of fact and not humor, prints the following in its editorial notes: An American cyclist fell from his machine and fainted because the shock. The weather was so cold that he froze to death where he lay.

An effort will be made to build a cycle path over the famous road from Erie, Pa., to Buffalo, N. Y., the scene of so many road races and century runs. It is proposed to use for this purpose the $1,600 collected by Erie of funds under the bicycle tax law, which was afterward declared invalid, and which is at present the subject of a dispute between the city officials.

The first signs of spring result in filling the repair shop with cycles that need to be made right for the coming season.

Illinois may not get a racing bill after all, as the framers of the measure made it too strong. They demanded, or rather provided for liberties in not betting way that the governor would not stand for, and the chances are that the bill will be killed before it gets any farther.

A Good Thing Well Done.

New and pleasing ideas in advertising always interest. Nothing has appeared for years which is so attractive as the Hood's Sarsaparilla advertisements, utilizing proverbs and wise sayings as headings, each followed by a little homely cleverly connecting the proverb with the subject. Besides this, the quaint Jensen italic type for the preliminary sentences, finishing with a script slogan, "Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints," adds to the effectiveness. All this work is running in over 7,000 papers.

Radway's Pills

Always Reliable, Purely Vegetable.

Perfectly tasteless, elegantly coated, purge, regulate, purify, cleanse and strengthen. RADWAY'S PILLS for the cure of all diseases of the Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Dizziness, Vertigo, Constipation, Piles.

Sick Headache, Female Complaints, Biliousness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation and all Disorders of the Liver.

True Comfort for the Aged and Others afflicted with Constipation and Paralysis of the bowels.

One to three of Radway's Pills, once in twenty-four hours, will secure regular evacuation from the bowels. Persons who, for 20 years, have not enjoyed a natural stool, and have been compelled to use injections, have been cured by a few doses of Radway's Pills.

Persons advanced in life often suffer from indigestion and from paralysis or inability to evacuate from the bowels. It is so common a difficulty. We have the evidence of a large number of aged persons, from 70 to 90 years of age, who have been cured of this disorder by the use of Radway's Pills.

Two or three pills every night, in all cases insure a natural evacuation from the bowels and a regular flow of urine. In cases where there is irritation of the bladder, the Resolvent should be used alternately with the pills. If these organs are kept regular, life may be extended to a much longer period. By keeping the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys in a healthy condition, the blood will continue pure and dissolution checked. This great desideratum is within the reach of all by the use of Radway's Pills and Resolvent.

Radway's Pills, in persons of advanced age, hasten dissolution; irritates and wears out the bowels and costs of the stomach. The Resolvent, so that the stomach and bowels are incapable of assisting in the repair of the body's waste. If Radway's Pills and Resolvent are used by the aged, life will be prolonged to the full measure of time. Another great end is secured by nourishing the body with these remedies; the faculties will remain in a healthy condition. A weak, feeble and decaying body enfeebles the intellect and clouds the brain.

Price 25c per box. Sold by Druggists or Sent by Mail.

A Growing Canadian Industry.

A great change for the better has taken place in the working up of our wood into manufactured products. It is true that, through purely local or personal causes, some manufacturers have not been doing as well as others, but this industry has on the whole, been making substantial progress. We have but to turn to the trade and navigation returns for the Dominion to prove this. Here are the returns of exports of manufactures of wood for the respective years of 1896 and 1898:

	1896.	1898.
Household furniture, $	75,447	$ 242,177
Doors, sashes and blinds	190,004	324,492
Matches and match splints	195,836	195,770
Moldings, trimmings, etc.	18,118	14,779
Pails, etc.	11,602	19,666
Wood pulp	675,777	1,210,421
All other manufactures of wood	283,779	284,664
Totals	$1,449,583	$2,368,626

There is no reason why this industry should not increase its output tenfold in the next ten or fifteen years. We have the raw material. We have the water power to develop cheap electrical energy to drive the machinery. We have the skilled labor. All that is needed is well-applied brain power to secure and hold the markets for the finished article. When it is seen how well adapted Canada is for this class of manufacture, there should be little difficulty on the last-named score.

The Embalmed Beef Inquiry.

The Army Beef Court of Inquiry in the United States has not yet brought in its finding, but the evidence has been overwhelming in support of Gen. Miles' charges. The testimony of a popular idol like Gov. Roosevelt made a deep impression on the public mind. The canned roast beef he declared to be "utterly and hopelessly bad." The refrigerator beef had also given the men diarrhea. Gov. Roosevelt complained to the war department about the food in July and September, but his report was not included in the official papers. This statement is very damaging to Secretary of War Alger, who swore at the investigation last fall that he had received no complaints about the army rations during the war. It is hard to see how the Court of Inquiry can bring in a verdict whitewashing the war department, when public opinion is convinced by the evidence that there was either corruption or rank incompetence somewhere.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says that the commercial character of the whole nation has been besmirched by the blind greed of the packing interest, which has stopped neither at cheating the Government nor sacrificing the lives of soldiers to swell its profits. The Republican adds:

"It shows again, and most impressively, that honesty is not only good morals, but the best policy. The British attained supremacy in the foreign trade and have retained it for so many years by making substantial goods and selling them for what they were. This is not saying that lying and cheating and misrepresentation are never known in British dealing, but it is true that British wares and fabrics on the whole have a reputation for genuineness and substantiality which makes their hold upon the markets most difficult to break. The typical Briton may be round-headed, dull and without imagination or sense of humor, but he is solidly and bluntly honest, and this is the character which he has carried into his business and stamped upon his wares, and the result is a commercial supremacy which has up to within a year or two been unquestioned."

"It will continue to be unquestioned, so far as America is concerned, if Yankee sharpness and trickery in trade are to take the place of honest effort and the attempt to manufacture better goods at lower prices. The beef men have carried wooden nutmeg methods just a step or two too far, and they and the trade of the whole country are to learn the lesson to their cost. It will not, we should suppose, be lost upon the nation."

Observations.

There are no keener onlookers than the members of the Press Gallery in Parliament. In their "hours of ease," chaffing and chatting with each other, judgments of men and things are emitted which are as shrewd and often as witty as those of Mr. Dooley. Every Minister and every Member takes a certain shape and status under the consensus of reportorial opinion, and seldom are the judgments mistaken. Those who fall, deservedly, within the range of reportorial approbation, often find that their way is smoothed in a dozen intangible ways.

I see a letter in the Globe, raising the question of the relative usefulness, on the farm, of the horse and the ox. What is that question not settled yet? Who has not debated it in his juvenile debating society days? Clearly, some questions will not down.

I generally look through the Christian Guardian, of Toronto, the weekly organ of the Methodist body. It was for long edited by my old friend, Rev. Dr. Dewar, a man of unusually powerful mind, and facile in prose as well as verse. He was succeeded by Rev. Dr. Courtice, who had every mental qualification, but necessarily not so much of the journalistic knack. However, it is only fair to say the Guardian has of late much improved. In this week's number a couple of corresponddents strike out on new lines. Mr. J. W. Holland, of Gore Bay, advances the theory that a clean sweep should be made of "the present anomalous conditions in the profession of medicine," by making all the doctors Government officers, apportioning to each his share of the population. Mr. Holland thinks "it would then be possible to define a doctor's duty, which would not be to pay so many stated visits to the sick, but to regularly visit all, and keep as many as possible in health." How would it do, Mr. Holland, simply to average the doctor's bills of a family, and then arrange to pay so much a year, quite as much to be kept in health by oversight, as to be cured after falling ill? And could not this be done without having the doctors all become Government officers?

The other letter, from a Methodist layman, Mr. John S. Job, of Hamilton, strikes me as an entirely new view of the late plebiscite and its lesson. He writes the Guardian as follows:

"Sir,—In your issue of the 22nd inst., I notice a leading article, and five letters from prominent ministers, on the subject of prohibition. Some people say a 'layman has no locus standi in the Guardian.' Be that as it may, I am led to express the thoughts that came to me as I read your paper. "On the subject of prohibition my own position is briefly this: I went to the poll and voted for prohibition. The Lord wished us to have prohibition, the Holy Spirit would work in the hearts of the voters to vote accordingly, and that he might make it perfectly plain what was his will. You will please note that I did not, as I heard a good many prayers in public, tell the Lord that prohibition was for his glory, and that he had to endorse what man had arranged for him. I was disappointed when I saw the figures, but recognized at once that legislation on the subject was out of the question. In this judgment I see that I am supported by such men as Rev. Dr. Fottis. "I note that Rev. T. W. Joliffe says that voting against prohibition 'grieves the Spirit of God.' Who told him so? I know men whose godliness of life and Christian experience stands as high as the most saintly Christian, yet, in God's sight they voted against prohibition. "Rev. A. D. Morton, writing, I presume, under a due sense of his responsibility, pours out his bile on the government, and proclaims them as insincere from the beginning. Now, I have never heard any one say that the vote was not honestly taken, therefore, no one is responsible for the numbers, as they stand. Dr. Potts, I reckon, by the Spirit of God, as much as Bro. Morton, says the premier could have come to no other decision with the figures before him. "Are we to follow Bro. Morton or Bro. Potts? "I hope I do not unduly criticize your article, if I paraphrase it thus: 'We are disappointed. We are mad. We must kick somebody. Let us go for the government. At any rate we can wait till next election, when we can pack the House of Commons, and get ahead of the Lord. He is too slow for us.' But the honest, brother, if the Holy Spirit gave us only 23 per cent of the voters, how is our man-packed parliament to coerce the 77 per cent. The Lord can do it, we cannot. Let us learn a lesson. David numbered Israel, and was punished. We numbered our Canada found only 23 per cent on her side. What a humiliation! Joshua was told by God that the presence of sin had caused the rout of Israel at Ai. Is it possible that the Lord wishes us to learn the same lesson? That he will use our church to teach the world temperance until the church cuts herself adrift from the world in a variety of ways? "Since the plebiscite figures were made public, we have had a variety of opinions expressed on the different aspects of the case, but I do not remember seeing one recognition of the fact that the temperance question is as much a matter in the Lord's hands as a general revival of religion. "We have cast lots. It has gone against us, and in our disappointment we fail to realize that 'the whole disposal thereof is of the Lord.' We are also backward in accepting his award. "This is thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me, said the Lord, Jer. xlii, 25. JOHN S. JOB. "Hamilton, March 26, 1899."

The recent series of letters in the Advertiser on the date of the great frost that killed the wheat, showed the alertness of Advertiser readers, and their numbers also. The Advertiser goes, scattering, to every part of the world, to former residents of the Province, and I should not be surprised to get a letter from Australia on the wheat-killing frost. Yesterday I received the following note from Michigan:

"Pinconning, Bay County, Mich., "March 28, 1899. "Dear Sir,—I send you the date when the frost killed the wheat in Canada. I think it was the 2nd day of June, 1892. I planted corn on that day. My neighbor's corn was up, and the frost killed it all. I was living on the second concession of Malahide, Elgin county. I am 69 years old. I can't see to write very well. "MRS. M. MYERS."

What Others Say.

The Convenient Samoan.

[Detroit Tribune.] The Samoan leads a happy life. Whenever the usurping nations disagree among themselves they shoot at him.

Siamese Versus Ourselves.

[Hamilton Spectator.] The civilized world is poking fun at his ribs, the King of Siam, because that potentate has ordered that all persons entering the royal palace must wear socks, and that girls and women must wear jackets. Which shows that the Siamese king is rather more civilized than the Europeans and Americans, who insist that ladies attending public functions and state high-jinks must be indecently undressed above the belt.

Sir Hilbert's Danger.

[Halifax Chronicle.] London Advertiser: There is danger of an outbreak of lump-jaw on Parliament Hill. There has been a good deal of "jaw" there already of the Tupperian kind. A Toronto paper hints that Sir Hilbert Tupper may find a lump on his jaw some day when Major Walsh takes him in hand.

THAWING DYNAMITE

Resulted in Sudden Death for a Farmer's Wife and Child.

A Man Caught in a Revolving Shaft of a Mill at Lindsay and Fatally Mangled.

DEATH PREFERRED TO ILLNESS. Nanaimo, B. C., April 10.—John Dayle committed suicide here because he was too ill to work. His body was found suspended to a beam in the chicken house.

BLEW UP HIS HOME.

Veederburg, Ind., April 10.—The wife and daughter of John Carrington, a farmer, living about eight miles east of here, were killed by a dynamite explosion, which wrecked their house. Carrington had placed about 75 pounds of dynamite under the stove to thaw it. He went out to prepare to use the explosive, when it exploded and blew the house to ruins. The little girl was instantly killed, and Mrs. Carrington lived but a short time.

CHILD'S FATAL FALL.

Montreal, April 10.—Two little children, playing in a bedroom at 1,393 Notre Dame street, climbed into the window and both fell to the street below. One, Alice Senecal, aged 3 years, died Saturday morning of her injuries. The other, Alberta Lachapelle, a 2-year-old tot, may recover.

FATALLY MANGLED.

Lindsay, Ont., April 10.—In the Sadler, Dundas & Flavell Company's flour mill on Saturday night, John McMillan, one of the employees, attempted to disconnect the oatmeal department from the rest of the machinery, and was caught by a revolving shaft and fatally mangled. Mr. McMillan died on Sunday evening. He was widely known, and especially among the curling fraternity.

WINTER WHEAT

Condition of the Crop in the United States.

Chicago, April 8.—The Daily Trade Bulletin publishes a summary of estimates by its correspondents on the area seeded to winter wheat, and the percentage of damage by the inclement weather during the past two months. The report shows: The east of the Allegheny Mountains the damage was slight, as the crop was fairly well protected by snow. The same is true of Ohio and Michigan. In Indiana considerable damage is reported, while in Southern Illinois the outlook is very unfavorable. In Missouri considerable damage has been sustained. Reports from Kansas are decidedly unfavorable, and the loss in that state is quite serious. In Texas also the damage is larger than generally anticipated. In the northern part of Kentucky the crop is in rather good condition, but in the southern part of the state and in Tennessee the severe winter weather made inroads on the growing crop. In Iowa the loss is fairly large and in Nebraska the outlook is decidedly discouraging. In Wisconsin the damage was rather serious. In California the prospects are excellent.

A summary of the reports, in conjunction with late state reports, indicate that the condition of the winter crop of the United States is not so good as it would be if the increased acreage, which, even on the increased acreage, would not produce to exceed 355,000,000 bushels to 260,000,000 bushels, or 20,000,000 bushels than last year. States east of the Rocky Mountains will probably show a shortage of 35,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels at present outlook. Much will be partly due to the increased production in California. Seeding of spring wheat is decidedly back ward in Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, North Dakota, and in the Rocky Mountain districts, and the outlook favors a decreased area.

WALL STREET SUBSIDIES.

New York, April 8.—The trading at the stock exchange at the opening lacked the exciting interest of yesterday's market, and business was only normal. Speculation generally displayed a reactionary tendency after the first five minutes of business.

At Devine, in Media county, Texas, a Spanish treasury of over 10,000 doubloons, jewelry and diamonds has been unearthed. The story is vouched for by reliable people.

The doctor looked wise and said it was "nervous indigestion." But he didn't cure it. So Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, S. C., wrote to Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. And now Mr. Lever is well.

Dr. R. V. Pierce is and for thirty years has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo. During this time he has probably treated more cases of chronic, or lingering, diseases than any other physician in the world.

Invalids from all over the world write to him and receive advice free of charge. During the recent years of his practice Dr. Pierce compounded his "Golden Medical Discovery" which he has used ever since in treating all affections of the lungs and bronchial tubes; for purifying the blood; for toning up the nerves and whenever an honest reliable non-alcoholic tonic was needed. In connection with it, he prescribes what other special medicine may be required in exceptional cases and gives directions as to diet and hygiene.

The result is health. Mr. Lever writes:

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion. Took medicine from my family physician to no avail. I thought myself incurable as I suffered so much with pain under my ribs and an empty feeling in my stomach. It was getting very nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon be my lot. I was irritable and impatient and greatly reduced in flesh. I could scarcely eat anything that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. I wrote Dr. Pierce. He prescribed his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pelle's' and gave me some simple hygienic rules. I am well again. I believe the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pelle's' will cure any case of indigestion, torpid liver, or chronic cold. Insist upon having 'Golden Medical Discovery' for nothing else is 'just as good.'"

SWEEP AWAY!

Fatal Flood Caused by an Ice Gorge—Twelve Lives Lost.

Chicago, April 10.—A record special from Glendive, Mont., says: An ice gorge in the Yellowstone River at this point caused that stream to overflow last night, drowning four persons. Eight more are missing. Three spans of the steel bridge are washed out, causing a loss of $25,000. The Northern Pacific tracks are inundated, and possibly washed away for some distance, and the loss to live stock by drowning will involve a large sum. The dead persons are: Mrs. R. W. Snyder, wife of rancher; Miss Nellie Regan, her niece; Miss Rose Wybrecht, a visitor at the Snyder ranch; Eugene F. O'Connor, the missing; James Sullivan, wife and six children.

THE NEW ARCHBISHOP

Archbishop O'Connor Takes Possession of the Throne May 3.

The Te Deum was sung in all the Catholic churches in Toronto yesterday in thanksgiving to God for the blessing of a new archbishop.

The ceremony of installation will be held in St. Michael's Cathedral on May 3, at 10:30 a.m., when Archbishop O'Connor will take possession of his throne and the clergy of the archdiocese will pledge their obedience. VICTIMS OF NEW YORK'S FIRE

Simple Funeral Services Held Over Their Remains.

New York, April 10.—The funeral services over the remains of the members of the families of Wallace C. Andrews and Gamaliel C. St. John, who perished in Friday morning's terrible fire, were held at the Fifth avenue home of the Andrews family on Sunday afternoon.

The funeral services were simple and none but the very intimate friends and relatives of the family were in attendance. The funeral casket was delivered by Prof. Felix Adler, of the Ethical Culture Society. From 1 o'clock until after the funeral cortege had started on its way to the Grand Central station, two hours later, Fifth avenue in the vicinity of the Andrews home was choked with a surging, curious crowd. Fifty policemen kept the immense crowd in order.

The caskets containing the remains of the dead, six in all, were placed in the back parlor of the palatial residence, and arranged in the shape of a crescent. All the caskets were almost hidden by flowers.

There were no ceremonies save the oration delivered by Prof. Adler. Nor was there any music.

The pall-bearers were: Russell Sage, Gen. Burnett, Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, James W. Hawes, W. J. Hitchcock, C. E. Orvis, Mr. Williams, Senator T. C. Platt, Horace A. Hutchins and H. S. Ford.

THE ARMORY SITE

Not Yet Settled On—A Dundas Street Property Spoken Of.

The site for the proposed new armory has not been decided on yet. The government is willing to accept the recommendation of the citizens who are promoting the matter; but owing to the objections raised by property-owners to the armory being erected on the St. James' Presbyterian Church site, the local committee are looking over other locations. One object will be kept in view—the necessity of having a central situation. It is understood that one site on Dundas street is spoken of favorably, as it is even more central than St. James' Church.

SPRINGBANK PARK

Colossal Order Given for Ornamental Trees—City Hall Notes.

Ten thousand ornamental trees of 25 varieties have been purchased by the London water commissioners, to be used in beautifying Springbank Park. The trees were secured at a very low figure. They will be planted in a five-acre nursery, from which they will pass into the hands of the landscape gardener as material for the production of a park destined to become famous.

The hospital committee is due to meet tomorrow night. Possibly something will be done to make time hang less heavily on the contractors who are supposed to be building the hospital at their own expense, and whose losses increase by $120 jumps each day. The contagious pavilion will be completed in a week or two if the required marble arrives, as expected.

The conference of the board of works and the water commissioners regarding the restoration of the waterworks dam is pending the arrival of an expert engineer, with whom the commissioners are corresponding.

At two o'clock this afternoon the board of works inspected the drain on Dundas street, near Egerton street, which interested ratepayers say is defective.

To Whom She Said "Yes."

"Mr. Stretby has warned me of this; his daughter refused to accompany me here lest my presence should inflict pain on you, Mrs. Aubrey, or your daughter. That it has done this I am forced to see," she added mournfully, "yet I am sure that neither of you will blame me for coming. My boy's honor and liberty may be in your hands; could a mother hesitate to come and pray to you to be merciful and spare him? Were he the guiltiest of men I must have done this, for he is my only child, and never till now has he really grieved me."

Eden hid her face in the folds of Mrs. Aubrey's dress, for the pleading tones of her guest were thrilling her with fresh agony. Her mother was affected also, but vexation predominated over her commiseration.

"Will it sound hard to confess to you that I am not altogether sorry that it is out of our power to further your wishes? Captain Lyssendon might never wooed my daughter honorably, though she, in her inexperience, did not discover it, and this worst act—"

"Was not a premeditated one; he has pledged me his word that it was not," Mrs. Lyssendon hastened to declare. "Ah, Mrs. Aubrey, cannot you think with your daughter that his undying remorse will be a sharper punishment than any that man can inflict?"

"And yet he sends you here to prevail upon us to spare him? Is it not evident that he dreads the world's opinion worse than the voice of his conscience? Mrs. Lyssendon, my child's good name is at stake; if she refused to prosecute, the malicious would assign reasons for it that would do her serious injury; and therefore, I say again that I cannot but be glad that she has no alternative."

"I will not, then, plead for Frank," said Mrs. Lyssendon. "He has sinned and he must bear the consequences, though they are so terrible. I will sometimes ask myself if she were justified in letting them fall upon him?"

The young girl started up, pale with horror, and gazed at the speaker, whom the annoyed Mrs. Aubrey vainly adjured to say no more. But it was to Eden she continued to address herself.

"Ah, they have not told you what will be the end of this. You do not know that when you have appeared against him he will have to lie in a common prison for weary months awaiting his trial; that every newspaper will discuss his conduct and hold him up to obloquy—that our name, on which no slur has rested till now, will never be spoken again without shame."

"You should also tell Eden that his friends are rich and powerful," said Mrs. Lyssendon, "that clever and witty men will be employed by them to browbeat her, to extort from her simplicity avowals that may make her appear as if she had consented to be the companion of his journey, and that her innocence will in no wise protect her from their scandalous attacks."

"No, I do not tell you this," said Mrs. Lyssendon, still keeping her eyes fixed on the shivering Eden, "because it will not be so. Frank refuses to have counsel engaged for his defense. He has determined to plead guilty. He will not, like his wretched mother, throw himself on the mercy of her he has wronged, for he confesses that he does not merit it. He will go from the court to his prison unmurmuringly; but I can bear to know that he is ruined, lost? That if his proud heart does not break in his captivity, he cannot remain in England. Mrs. Aubrey, you have said twice that he deserves this."

"Not in unkindness to you," Eden's mother interposed, her own voice trembling now. "Indeed, you have my sincerest pity."

CHAPTER XXVII.

"Ah, you are yourself a mother," sighed Mrs. Lyssendon, "you can understand how the degradation of my son crushes me. It seems but the other day I wept over him when a childish malady had seized upon him, and prayed to heaven to spare him to me. Was it to punish me for loving him too well that he was given back to be my comfort and pride for years, and then bring this sorrow upon me?"

"Go away, my love," Mrs. Aubrey whispered to her daughter. "It is not right that you should be exposed to such an ordeal," and Eden mechanically moved to obey; but as she crossed the room, Mrs. Lyssendon, now in de-wrapped her arms about her.

"No, don't leave us child! You loved him once; you will not hear me as coldly as Mrs. Aubrey does. I am not pleading for him alone, but for his father, whom she has prostrated—and for the lad who suffers for his fault, and whose prospects will be blighted as irretrievably as Frank's own."

"Alas! what can I do?" moaned Eden distractedly. "If I could but hide myself somewhere till this wretched life is over! I want to forget him—to forget myself; but I cannot. Did you say that I shall have to stand up again as I did the other day, and see him looking at me as I saw him then? Must I do this?—must these lips tell the world how blindly I loved him, how thanklessly and lovingly I have loved him for his tenderness when I was in trouble; I can't! It would kill me!"

"Hush, hush! my dearest child, be calm!" Mrs. Aubrey exclaimed. "And you, madam, must leave us. Eden shall no longer be tormented thus."

"But, mother, must I do this?" Eden wildly persisted; and Mrs. Aubrey was constrained to tell her that there was no alternative.

"There is, there is!" cried Mrs. Lyssendon. "You look incredulous; but, if I tell you how you may be spared the ordeal you dread, my unhappy son restored to his position, and the innocent ones who are suffering for and through him relieved of their anxiety, will you hate me for suggesting it?"

"No—no! Mother, I will hear her!" said Eden passionately, as Mrs. Aubrey whispered to him, thanking and loving him for his tenderness when I was in trouble; I can't! It would kill me!"

"What is this alternative?"

The mother of Frank Lyssendon gasped for breath. On Eden's reception of her proposal there was so much depending that she could scarcely nerve herself to make reply.

"Child, it is your evidence that will condemn him. It could not be demanded from you if you consented to become his wife."

A cry of dismay stopped her, and Eden recoiled, exclaiming: "His wife! Never! never!"

In her desperation Mrs. Lyssendon flung herself at the young girl's feet, and caught her dress.

"Hear me out before you say this. Remember that you would save not only him, but others. That I do but ask you to let that form of marriage be celebrated which would enable him to regain his freedom. Refuse, if you will, to see him again. Insist, if you will, that he exchange and go to India; but, in mercy, consent to my proposal and spare him lifelong disgrace."

But still Eden only answered, "I cannot—I cannot—and I cannot—overcome. Mrs. Lyssendon fell prostrate on the floor. She could do no more. She had pleaded as only a mother can plead—and failed; and it was perhaps a blessing that for a little while she lay, not absolutely insensible, yet unable to think, of her or to speak.

"It was Eden's tears that were falling on her face when she tried to raise herself from the pillows they had placed under her; and Mrs. Aubrey, in the midst of her vexation, felt a throb of gladness as she saw the large drops stream from her daughter's eyes, and must believe her. It was not half so painful to see her weeping thus as to witness the mute tearfulness that made her temples throb almost to bursting."

A shadow darkened the door as Mrs. Aubrey stood over her guest to give her a few drops of camphor. It was Ensign Whiting, who had halted on the threshold when he saw Mrs. Lyssendon's condition.

But she had perceived that he held a telegram in his hand, and divined the reason of his presence.

"Come in, sir," she said, raising herself with Eden's assistance. "Misfortunes rarely come singly. You have evil tidings for me."

"I am afraid so," he reluctantly admitted. "Mr. Stretby was out when this arrived; and as Venetia thought ought to have it directly, she sent me on with it while the horses are put in the carriage to take you to the station."

With shaking hand, Mrs. Lyssendon took and read the missive. It was from the old servant left to watch over the rector and merely contained an entreaty that she would return without a moment's delay.

"Does Frank know of this?"

Ensign Whiting shook his head. "I could not bring myself to tell him, poor fellow. He reproaches himself already as the cause of his father's illness; and if Mr. Lyssendon is worse—"

BOB UP SERENELY.

All Over London They Have Found a Good Thing and It Makes Them Happy.

It's just like a great big revival meeting; people popping up here and there all over it, anxious to relate their experience, and in their fellow feelings for a fellow creature desirous that others should receive the same benefits that have been accorded to them. Many cases have been investigated, and scores of citizens are giving their experience in the public press. Here is one case, and it's worth the reading:

Mrs. L. Steinburg, 701 York street, says: "I have been suffering with kidney troubles for a year. My back was very weak, and was the seat of a great deal of pain. Last February I went to Strong's Drug Store and there got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. Since taking them the pain has completely disappeared, never, I am sure, to return; and I feel much better and stronger in every way from the use of these pills."

Doan's Kidney Pills are a much imitated but never equalled remedy for all kidney complaints. They cure backache, lame or weak back, puffiness of the feet or ankles or under the eyes, gravel, rheumatism, sediment in the urine or scalding, frequent urinating at night and all diseases and disorders due to deranged kidneys. Price 50c a box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all druggists, or sent by mail. The Doan Kidney Pill Company, Toronto, Ont. Ask for Doan's and refuse all others.

FAINTED IN HIS PULPIT

Sensational Occurrence in the Central Methodist Church in Woodstock.

Woodstock, Ont., April 10.—The large congregation at the Central Methodist Church was thrown into a state of consternation last night, occasioned by the pastor, Rev. S. Sillery, falling in a faint in the pulpit. Mr. Sillery was preaching as usual, when he suddenly stopped speaking and put his hand to his forehead. His face became very pale. "My friends," said he, in a halting tone, as he held on to the pulpit, "a strange fainting spell has come over me something not only happened to me once before, in my life. I must sit down."

He immediately fell forward over the pulpit. His eyes rolled and he grasped convulsively with his hands, a person trying to save himself from drowning. Immediately half a dozen men dashed up the pulpit stairs and caught Mr. Sillery just as he was falling backward. Dr. Odium was among them. The stricken pastor was laid on the pulpit sofa, while women screamed and the greatest confusion prevailed.

After the doctor had worked over him for a minute or two, Mr. Sillery opened his eyes. Immediately he remembered what had happened, and asked them to tell the congregation not to go away. He soon sat up, and wanted to go on with his sermon, but the doctor would not allow it. To cover the confusion of the men in the choir sang a solo.

Mrs. Sillery was in the congregation and assisted those who were attending to her husband. The doctor said there was no danger in such cases except in the event of weak heart.

MRS. G. UNDERHAY'S CASE.

Confined to Bed for 14 Months a Helpless Invalid—Her Spine Was Affected—Could Move Neither Hand nor Foot—Doctors Said She Would Die.

That Was 15 Years Ago—She's Strong and Well Today—Burdock Blood Bitters Made a Thorough and Permanent Cure.

No one, to look at Mrs. Underhay's picture, which we give here, would think that fifteen years ago she was a woman who was so far gone that she was given up to die by her medical advisers.

The story of her wonderful and permanent cure by Burdock Blood Bitters would seem somewhat romantic could it not be readily confirmed by writing the lady herself, who at the present is postmistress, and keeps a store at Wilford, Ont., and is well known to a wide circle of friends in Lambton county.

The following is the statement Mrs. Underhay gave of her case Dec. 16, 1892.

"About three months before my last child was born, which is nearly nine years ago now, I could not move a foot either in bed or out, and continued so for about eleven months after he was born.

"The trouble started with a dreadful pain in my hip, so that I could not be moved without screaming, and to raise me up hurt me so much I could not stand it.

"My spine was affected in three places, which made me so that I could do nothing for myself, not even lift my little babe out of the cradle to save him, and from my long confinement in bed my back was one solid sore from my shoulder down. I was living in Brown City, Mich., at the time, and the doctors told me I might live for five or six years, but I would never walk again.

"My father then came over for me and brought me home, and I can recollect so distinctly how every jar of the train seemed like killing me.

"After being in Wilford for a while, a gentleman who was traveling for Burdock Blood Bitters called to see me and said he believed that remedy would cure me. He seemed to understand my case so well that it encouraged me to try B. B. B. I do not know how many bottles I took in all, but it was quite a number, but every bottle brought me nearer health and strength, so I continued to use it until I was perfectly well.

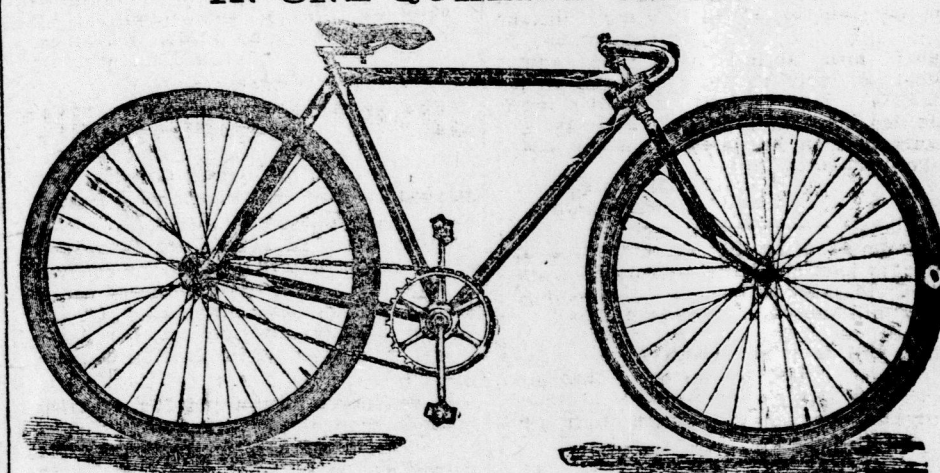

"I can any one read the foregoing account of Mrs. Underhay's transformation from a helpless bed-ridden invalid, to a strong, healthy active woman, through the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, without being convinced of the wonderful power this medicine has over diseases of the severest nature?"

"Can any one with ailments such as constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, boils, pimples, rashes, eczema, sores, ulcers, tumors, scrofula or any disease of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or blood, afford to fritter away money on any other remedy than B. B. B.?"

"No other can cure so promptly, and no other in the world has so many 'permanent cures' to its credit as B. B. B."

—The financial statement of St. Andrew's Church for the quarter ending March 31 has been issued. The total collections show a decrease compared with the corresponding quarter of 1898, of $38.92. On March 31, last year, the weekly contributions amounted to $1,556.94, and the collections to $246.68, making a total of $1,803.62. For the last three months the weekly contributions amounted to $1,543.78, and the collections to $215.91. The decrease in the weekly contributions amounts to $31.16, and in collections to $30.51.

—A lecture was given by Mr. H. Lewis in the Socialists' Hall, on Saturday evening, the subject being "Why I Am a Socialist." The speaker claimed that the word Socialist was largely misunderstood by those who did not study its meaning. Socialism did not consist in seizing upon the property of the rich and sharing it out amongst the poor, nor did it propose by act of parliament or sudden revolution to put all men on an equality and compel them to remain so. On the contrary, it is a scientific scheme of national government, entirely just, wise and practicable.

LONDON BOY'S SUCCESS.
The North Bay Dispatch contains an account of the induction of Rev. G. L. Johnston, B.A., into the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church of that place. Mr. Johnston is a London boy, son of the late James Johnston, of South London. After graduating with honors from the Toronto University he took his theological course in Princeton, New Jersey, where he gained his travelling membership in Hebrew exegesis, and spent a year among the German theological institutions. The local paper adds that "Mr. Johnston is a most encouraging auspice, and we feel sure that the Presbyterian Church has a bright future."

DIED IN THE YUKON.
A private letter received from a member of the Yukon force contains the information that Pte. Walters, one of the London contingent, died on Feb. 28. Deceased lost his stripes about Christmas, and that, with other causes, affected his spirits to such an extent that mental depression induced an illness from which he failed to rally.

Walters was only 28 years of age, and a widow younger than he. His father is a London contractor. The same letter, which is dated March 23, intimates that a number of men are down with scurvy, as a result of the necessary lack of variety in the rations procurable in that country. Much of the few table luxuries at the disposal of the expedition. The men are anxious to return, and do not anticipate spending another winter in the far north.

CAKE WALK AT THE GRAND.

Low Dockstadter could learn things from Crawford, the monologue man, with the King Players of Dixie company, that showed at the Grand Saturday afternoon and evening. Crawford is the genuine article, trade mark blown in the bottle. Then there's Pickett, the accomplished colored gentleman, who is cake walker, trick banjo player, buck and wing dancer, personator and sketch artist, all in one package. Fred Saunders, the rag singer, is all right, and the Golden Gate quartet, Dodson, Gilliam, Hewitt and Lewis, have the characteristically sweet voices of their race.

The flooring laid for the Arlington and St. Andrew's balls had been left in place, and Bertha Worthington, Gertrude Rabbitt, Jennie Stone and Viola Russell, with Gilliam, Saunders, Dodson, Hewitt, did the cake walk as they do it down in Georgia. The show is funny and clean.

EVANGELIST OSTROM

Addressed Several Large Audiences Yesterday.

"Crowding Out Christ" the Subject of an Interesting Sermon—Many People Profess Conversion.

Rev. Henry Ostrom spoke four times at the First Methodist Church and once at the Auditorium yesterday to an aggregate of about 7,000 hearers. In the morning, commencing at 9:30 o'clock, a well-attended social meeting was held, and when the regular service began at 11, the large auditorium was filled to the doors. In the afternoon Mr. Ostrom addressed the Sunday school in Wesley Hall for half an hour. An impressive feature of the service occurred when, at Mr. Ostrom's request, over 100 scholars signified their conversion by coming down from the galleries and clasping hands with the superintendent and pastor. At four o'clock Mr. Ostrom spoke to as many men as the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium could accommodate. In the evening many persons turned away from the doors of the First Methodist Church, unable to gain admission.

"Crowding Out Christ" was the theme of a powerful sermon. The evangelist took as his text, "He came into his own, and his own received him not." (John 1, 2.) The whole trouble of labor and capital of domestic life of the poor in this and Asiatic, and other countries, he said, would find a solution in the living Christ. The sermon on the Mount would outlive all philosophies and theories. Men crowded Christ out of business, but business was Christianity, and Christianity was business. Cold mercantile petrifaction of their better sentiments. Instead of praying for the redemption of the world, they were busy with the dexterity of a shakedown man say, "Draw on me when you want any cash." Christ was being crowded out of politics. Preaching was sacred, politics secular, men said. The speaker hoped the time would come when political campaigns would be inaugurated with special prayer, and be wound up with the doxology. More statesmen were needed. There was as much difference between a politician and a statesman as between a "polly-wog" and a "blood horse." Christ was being crowded out of the day's literature. The insinuation that Christianity was a shakedown man exploit of the devil. In this age of universities people were saying, give us a lighter literature. Christ was crowded out of the newspapers. But some of the foremost dailies were changing front. Christ was being crowded out of the home. The sacredness of family prayer was fading. To join the church and not accept the living Christ was to go back two centuries.

Religion as such did not satisfy. One must have the living Christ.

Mr. Ostrom is a worker. In two weeks here he has held 43 meetings, none less than 1½ hours in length, and the services have resulted in very many having professed saving faith. Mr. Ostrom has been prevailed upon to stay in the city until Wednesday, when he and Singer Hills leave for Nebraska. Meetings at the First Methodist Church are announced for today and tomorrow, afternoon and evening.

CHURCH KEYS HANDED OVER

Interesting Induction Services at St. John's Yesterday.

Large Crowd Turned Out to Welcome the New Rector.

Beautiful and impressive services marked the induction yesterday morning of Rev. Canon Richardson as rector of St. John's parish, London township. A new prayer desk and lectern had been provided, and the church was prettily decorated with flowers. A large congregation turned out to welcome the new rector and witness the interesting ceremony.

The order of the induction service was as follows: First, the Bishop of Huron stated the purpose of the meeting. Then Canon Richardson made declaration of assent to the canons of the provincial and diocesan synods. The mandate of induction was read by Rev. Canon Smith, minister in charge. Following this varden R. A. Powell inducted Canon Richardson into the rectorial office, and the Bishop presented Canon Richardson with a copy of the Bible and the Book of Common Prayer, and lessons specially appropriate for the occasion were conducted by Canon Smith and Rev. A. H. Rhodes. The lessons were read by the bishop, who, assisted by the new rector, conducted the ante-communion service.

The Bishop of Huron then preached from the text, "The stone which the builders refused has become the head of the corner." Psalms cxviii, 22. In the course of the sermon the bishop paid a high tribute of praise to Canon Richardson, and also referred to the long and faithful services of his predecessors, Archdeacons Marsh and Brugh. Splendid music was rendered by the choir, under the direction of Miss K. Powell, organist.

The evening service was well attended. Ven. Evans Davis, archdeacon of London, preached, and the service was read by the rector, Canon Richardson, the bishop reading the lessons. Special Sunday services will be conducted during the month of April. Rev. James Banning Richardson, M. A., canon of St. Paul's Cathedral and rector of St. John's, is the fourth rector of the parish, which was founded in 1836.

A QUEBEC CONTEST.

Lumbago Driven Out Promptly by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Quebec, April 10.—Although Quebec is called "the Gibraltar of America," and well deserves the name, it is by no means impregnable against the assaults of Kidney Disease. Fortunately the inhabitants have an ally in Dodd's Kidney Pills, that succeed in driving the enemy out, every time it gains an entry.

Some time ago Mr. John Ball, of No. 57 Little Champlain street, was attacked with lumbago. He suffered for two years without getting relief from any of the medicines he used. Then he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and the first box he used helped him. He used only three boxes, and is now well and strong in every way.

FOUL GAS

Caused a Mine Explosion and the Loss of 12 Lives.

Austin, Texas, April 10.—A mining disaster in which twelve men lost their lives is reported from the Sierra Mojeda mining camp, located in the State of Coahuila, Mexico, 50 miles south of Presidio, Texas. An explosion of foul gas occurred in the Veda Rica silver mine, and before all the miners could get to the surface the dry timbers were on fire, the fierce flames barring exit.

HATS OFF, LADIES!

DEATH OF SIR H. SCHOFIELD.

New York, April 8.—Sir Henry Schofield died in Jersey City on Thursday. He was a native Englishman, who spent a part of his early life in Canada, marrying a Halifax lady. In 1872 he became consul at Guatemala. For his prompt defense of a British citizen there he received the thanks of parliament, and was knighted by the Queen.

TWELVE VICTIMS.

Glendive, Montana, April 10.—Twelve persons are now known to have been victims of the overflow, caused by the ice in the Yellowstone River below here Friday night. Ten of the bodies have been recovered, and searchers expect to find the other two today. Among the drowned whose bodies have been recovered, are James Sullivan, his wife and his six children. The doors and windows of their residence were found open, and the entire family dead in the rooms.

TO UTILIZE DUNWICH SWAMP.

St. Thomas, April 10.—The famous Dunwich swamp, in Essex county, is believed to be nothing less than a vast peat bog, probably the largest in the province, and there is now in process of organization a peat fuel company, whose object it will be to develop the richness of the soggy area, which is some five miles long by three wide. Francis C. Jones, of Toronto, has been in St. Thomas for the past three days interviewing gentlemen of the turf to the works at Welland, where it will be manufactured and tested. Should the test be satisfactory the formation of the company will be proceeded with.

DEATH OF FATHER CHAMPAGNE.

Ottawa, April 10.—Rev. Father Isidore Champagne, the parish priest of Gatineau Point, died Saturday night after a lengthy illness. About three years ago, when Lord and Lady Aberdeen came nearly being drowned at Gatineau Point, Father Champagne took them into his presbytery and rendered them what aid was in his power. For this kindness Lord and Lady Aberdeen presented a chime of bells and set of vestments to the parish church. During his illness the deceased was several times inquired after by Lady Aberdeen. A few days before his death he received flowers, sent by her wish.

CATARH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, Safe but Effectual Cure for It.

Catarh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable.

The usual symptoms are a full or bloated sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gasses, causing pressure on the lungs and heart and difficult breathing; headache, sickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out and languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue, and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate disease is found in the treatment which causes the food to be readily and thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach.

To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do, and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids.

These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and, not being a patent medicine, can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poison discharge therefrom, passing back into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me without cure, but today I am the happiest man after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing the F. A. Stuart Company, Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.
