DEFENSE COMPLETES MEDICAL TESTIMONY!

"I Think That He Gave Too Good a Story," Was Toronto Expert's Opinion of Herbert's Evidence.

Crown Wrings Admission From Opposing Witness Who Hao Examined the Barn That There May Have Been Foul Play---Lay Witnesses on the Stand Today.

After seven days of wearisome dragging the Sifton murder trial is gradually nearing its close. Few will be sorry when the last scene has ended, save the morbid-minded members of the public, who find in a fellow-being's struggle for life a matter of curiosity and an opportunity to kill a few hours. Judge, lawyers, court officials, press men, all are thoroughly weary of the trial; while as for the unhappy man in the dock, no one but himself can realize how ardently he longs for the moment when his fate will be determined and his suspense ended.

The defense yesterday put in the last of its medical evidence, and today there remains the lay evidence to be entered. The opinion is freely expressed that the whole of the medical testimony on both sides might have been discarded without seriously affecting the outcome of the case. While no one doubts the good faith and sincerity of the medical men in the expression of their respective opinions, yet the unanimity with which the crown's doctors swore to one set of statements, and the unanimity and alacrity with which the defense's medical men advanced diametrically opposed opinions cannot fail to shake the faith of the public in the value of expert evidence as a whole.

Tuesday Afternoon.

DR. JAMES SUTTON.

Dr. James Sutton, of Clandeboye, took the stand after Dr. Angus Graham. Dr. Sutton's evidence was corroborative of that of the preceding witnesses. If Herbert's evidence was true, he thought the skull would have been smashed.

DR. P. L. GRAHAM.

Dr. P. L. Graham, of Lobo village, swore that he was at the Sifton house on Saturday last, and examined the ladder in the barn. Witness said his own height was about six feet. Standing on the lowest step of the ladder his chin was level with the floor of the barn. On the second step his breast was level with the floor. Witness weighs about 165 pounds, about six feet high, and is therefore similar in build to Joseph Sifton. There was a casing about ten inches deep around the trap hole. Witness stood on the ladder and tried to adjust his head so as to touch the mastoid bones to the corner of the trap, but was unable to do so.

This is the manner in which the crown seeks to prove that the abrasions behind the ears of Joseph Sifton were created..

Witness could not reconcile Herbert's story with the condition of the skull. Witness thought the injuries quite consistent with a fall. If Herbert's story were true, witness would expect to find hay and chaff in the hair.

A STARTLING QUESTION.

Mr. Johnston's cross-examination finished. Mr. Riddell arose and asked abruptly:

"And you came to the conclusion that there had been foul play?"

"No, I didn't do that," said the witness.

"After you examined the place on Saturday, did you come to the conclusion there had been foul play?" repeated Mr. Riddell.

"I couldn't come to any conclusion whether there was or not."

"Did you say to anyone that you knew there had been foul play?"

"In talking with some one, I believe I did say it looked as if

THERE WAS FOUL PLAY."

"After you examined that place on Saturday, didn't you?"

"I DON'T REMEMBER,"

was the witness' answer.

"I am informed," continued counsel "that after examining that place on Saturday you said you hadn't the slightest doubt but that there was foul play?"

"I don't think I said that. I said I thought it was foul play; but the man could never have been killed in the way it was described."

Mr. Riddell asked that, if Sifton, when first struck, fell to the southwest corner, would that not abrade the right mastoid. Then, if the body was caught by the coat collar and pulled to the opposite corner, would not that abrade the left side? Witness thought it almost impossible.

THE JUDGE PROTESTS.

"Is this going to be the same thing over and over?" asked his lordship, as Mr. Johnston called for another medical man.

"No, my lord," said Mr. Johnston. "I have only three or four more medical men. Under the circumstances, I would not like to curtail my medical evidence."

His lordship said he did not wish to curtail Mr. Johnston's evidence, but there should be a stop somewhere.

DR. JOHN GUNN.

The evidence of Dr. John Gunn, of Ailsa Craig, was a repetition of that of his predecessors. Herbert's story did not agree with the condition of the skull, and the injuries were consistent with fall. Dr. J. McWilliams, of Thamesford, who followed, gave the same evidence. Both witnesses admitted to Mr. Riddell that their reason for disbelieving Herbert's story was the force of blows as described by him.

DR. H. A. STEVENSON.

Dr. Hugh A. Stevenson, of London, next ascended the stand. He had been present at the post-mortem on behalf of the defense. Witness considered that if Herbert's story were true, the PLAGUE SPREADS!

Thousands of New Cases Reported in British East India and Egypt---Many Deaths.

Reports to the United States hospital service from all parts of the world show a continued spread of the plague in most sections. In British East India during the week ended Aug. 2 last, there were 2,622 new plague cases, and 1,930 deaths recorded in the Bombay presidency, an increase of more than 200 deaths over the previous week. There were 136 plague deaths in the city of Bombay that week, and many others suspected.

In Egypt the total number of bubonic plague cases from April 7 to Sept. 2, was 132 with 60 deaths. In Queensland the destruction of rats continue, but the official report shows 32 plague cases including ten deaths from Feb. 28 to July 6.

In China at the port and town of Swatau and Neithboring districts the plague is steadily decreasing.

SAILBOAT CAPSIZED!

Three Lives Lost in Attempt to Save a Dog.

Death of Daniel Handley, M. C. R. Brakeman—Man Roasted to Death in a Barn.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 1.—By the capsizing of a sail boat on West Lake, seven miles south of Kalamazoo, three seven miles south of Kalamazoo, three people lost their lives, Sunday afternoon. They were Isaac Vanhaist, age 36; Mrs. Peter Kromdike, age 39, and Miss Edith Waud, age 19, all of Kalamazoo. Four other persons in the boat escaped. The accident was caused in a peculiar manner. Miss Edith Waud had a dog, which jumped overboard. In turning the boat to save the dog, the craft capsized, and the whole party was thrown into the water, six feet deep. Isaac Vanhaist was a fine swimmer, and lost his life while saving others of the party.

M. C. R. BRAKEMAN KILLED.

St. Thomas, Ont., Oct. 2.—Dan Handley, brakeman on the St. Clair branch local, met with a fatal accident at Inwood yesterday morning. After opening a switch, Handley attempted to jump on the pilot of the locomotive. He slipped and fell beneath the wheels, one leg being severed from the body below the knee, and the other frightfully mangled. He was also cut about the head, and his back severely dislocated. The injured man was conveyed to the hospital here, where he died at 5:30 last evening. Dan was one of the best ball players this city ever produced. He was the star pitcher for the old St. Thomas Browns, and pitched for the Galt team in the semi-professional league. Afterwards he played short on the independent professional St. Thomas team in 1897. Mr. Handley married the daughter of James Munn, one of the oldest merchants in this city, three years ago.

ROASTED IN A BARN.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 2.—By the explosion of a boiler used in threshing on a farm in Fleming yesterday morning, Charles White was instantly killed and his remains were roasted in the barn, which instantly took fire. A laborer assisting him was so badly hurt that he may die.

DROWNED IN CANAL.

Perth, Oct. 1.—A boy, 8 years of age, eldest son of A. Gibson, of this town, was found drowned in the Tay Canal last night. It is supposed that he fell into the water accidentally.

RAFT UPSET.

Amsterdam, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Edward Schneck, brother of former State Engineer Martin Schneck, and George Lambert were drowned at Fort Hunter yesterday afternoon by the overturning of a raft from which they were unloading stone at the state dam.

DROPPED DEAD!

Good News Was Too Much for Samuel B. Fell, of Windsor.

Windsor, Oct. 2.—Samuel B. Fell, aged 39, of 561 Sixteenth street, collector for the American Wringer Company, dropped dead Monday afternoon in the corridor of the Dougall block, Windsor, of acute heart failure, brought on, a physician claimed, by climbing the stairs. The deceased was chief ranger of Court Bagley, No. 517, I. O. F. He leaves a wife and four brothers. Deceased had been informed at the ferry landing by a man named Lewis that he had $10,000 to put into the furniture business at Marquette, Mich., a project they had been considering for some time. The joy of this good news affected Fell's heart and caused his death.

BRIGANDS BECOMING IMPATIENT

Miss Stone's Ransom Must Be Ready by Oct. 8.

Australians Putting Up the Fences Against Importation of Contract Laborers.

Understand Each Other—Britain and Turkey Will Act Together for the Peace of Koweit.

Constantinople, Oct. 2.—The brigands who carried off Miss Helen H. Stone, the American missionary, and her companion, Madame Tsilka, a Bulgarian lady, have fixed Oct. 8 as the limit of time for the payment of the $110,000 ransom demanded for Miss Stone's release. The hiding place of the brigands has not yet been discovered, and the delay accorded by the abductors is taken to indicate that they consider their retreat quite secure.

DETAILS OF THE CAPTURE.

A detailed account of the capture of Miss Stone has been received in a letter from Mrs. H. C. Haskell, of Samokoy, Bulgaria, to a relative here, says a Kansas City dispatch. The letter says Miss Stone had been hearing her usual summer school for Bible workers at Bansko, Macedonia. On Sept 3 a party of six students from the collegiate institute at Samokov, three or four Bulgarian teachers with Mr. and Mrs. Tsilka, who had spent several years in America; Mrs. Chschera and Miss Stone started for Djumiak, a 12-hours' travel. From there they were to go to their different homes. At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, as they were resting in the mountains, Miss Stone and Mrs. Tsilka being on horseback, and the rest on foot, they were surrounded by 30 or 40 armed men.

These men were dressed in Turkish costume, but were disguised. They ordered the party to march, and drove them up the steep mountain side. Miss Stone told the boys they were taking them away from the road to rob and probably kill them. She did not speak of capture, as it is almost unheard of for brigands to take women. After going an hour's distance the brigands stopped and demanded their money. They took the gold they had and returned the silver.

When this was done one of them said to Miss Stone: "We want you," and ordered her and Mrs. Tsilka to go with them. She made no remonstrance. Mr. Tsilka made a move to follow his wife, but they forced him back. A part of the brigands kept watch on those that remained to keep them from hurrying to inform the government, but next morning let them go.

The brigands murdered one of the party before the eyes of the captives to get his horse. They took this animal as well as the horses ridden by Miss Stone and Mrs. Tsilka.

The students came to Samokov, and wired Dr. House at Salonika. Miss Stone's station. He immediately went to the American consul and also telegraphed Consul-General Dickinson, who knew Miss Stone. Then the news spread over Bulgaria like a flash, for Miss Stone was widely known and greatly loved.

QUESTION OF IMMIGRATION.

Melbourne, Oct. 2.—The House of Representatives today adopted a clause of the immigration bill prohibiting the entry into the commonwealth of any one under contract to do manual labor.

London, Oct. 2.—The Daily News commenting on the present royal visit to the Dominion, says: "What is to be the future? Canada is one of the biggest questions that face the British empire today. Unhappily, English immigration, never very large, has very much declined in the last few years. Canada has even lost in population, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier allowed recruiting officers for the South African constabulary to draw from the homes of Canada's precious settlers in the Northwest."

TURKEY'S SITUATION.

London, Oct. 2.—The Times publishes the following dispatch from its Constantinople correspondent: "The reports received at all the embassies and legations here from consuls in the provinces depict a situation everywhere so deplorable that an ambassadorial conference and collective action are contemplated."

It is reported that an agreement has been arrived at by which Britain and Turkey will in the future act together to preserve the peace at Koweit. Turkey secures a position which it did not formerly possess.

The Ameer of Nejd is said to have been threatening to attack Koweit, but the presence to the British gunboats in the harbor has caused him to abandon his intention.

NEW FRENCH GUN.

It has transpired that during the last part of the French maneuvers the czar was greatly struck by the French artillery and the ease with which it was brought into action. At the request of his majesty the 75-gun, which was only recently turned out from Poteaux works, was brought up, and the czar put a multitude of questions as to the mechanism of the gun. The lieutenant in charge returned very precise and clear answers and took to pieces certain parts of the cannon and demonstrated the working. Finally, by the emperor's desire, the gun was fired. "Why, there's no recoil at all," the czar is reported to have exclaimed.

RUSSIAN CROPS.

The official returns as to the crops in Russia for the present year show 650,000,000 poods of oats and 1,100,000 poods of rye. The return is six per cent below the average for five preceding years.

MISSION BURNED BY CHINESE.

A cablegram from Hong Kong says the Basel mission at Piang Tong, Northern Kwang Tung, has been burned by members of the Triad Society of rebels. The missionaries escaped.

Disorders have arisen in Yang Tse Province, owing to the ravages of the floods and the diversion of the relief funds by corrupt officials, says the Shanghai correspondent of the London Standard. These threaten to culminate in rebellion. The situation is very grave, and the local authorities have been ordered to raise troops and to place the districts in a state of defense.

NOTES.

Official advices from Hayti report the supression of the revolutionary movements at Jeremie.

Although the proposed purchase of the Charleroi glass factories will not be completely carried out, says a dispatch to the London Times from Brussels, it is virtually arranged that the American glassmen are to become large shareholders.

Paris Journals des Debats says France is really Turkey's best friend.

DEFENCE COMPLETES MEDICAL TESTIMONY

skull would be battered in and the head covered with cuts. The theory of a fall fitted perfectly with the condition of the skull. The marks on the skull produced did not coincide with those found on Joseph Sifton's skull. Witness saw no bruise on the neck. Witness thought that bleeding from the scalp would be very profuse, and if Herbert's story be taken, witness would expect considerable bleeding inside the barn, but very little after the body was thrown out, as the blood would clot in a few minutes. Witness would not expect to find enough bleeding outside to form two large pools. If there was blood on the head, chaff, hay and dirt would get in the hair.

To Mr. Riddell witness said that if the wound on the head had stopped bleeding and the body were afterwards thrown out, with a fall of six or eight feet, the blood clot would not be disturbed and the wound bleed afresh, unless the wound itself was struck.

Witness could not account for the wound on the side of the head, except by the theory of a fall.

Witness did not see any evidence of the bruise on the neck, as described by John Sinker. If there had been such a bruise, witness thought it would have been apparent at the post-mortem.

DR. FRANCIS ELLIOTT.

Dr. Francis Elliott, of Napier, said he would expect to find the skull smashed to pieces, if Herbert's story were true. The wounds would bleed profusely.

To Mr. Riddell witness said that it would be difficult to remove the traces of blood which he thought would be found around the hole. Witness thought the amount of blood lost might be from half a pint to one pint. Witness thought that blood marks on the beam on one side of the door would remain for a long time.

Witness thought that if the body were thrown out, and fell six or seven feet, the bloodclot in the wound might be loosened, causing it to bleed afresh.

Witness could not conceive how the wounds at the back of the head could be caused by the axe.

Witness admitted that almost anything, including smashing of the top of the skull, might happen from the head striking the ground; but if the head struck a brick, and the latter turned, the skull would probably not be smashed in.

To Mr. Johnston, witness said that it was difficult to remove traces of blood entirely. If blood had fallen on the beam beside the hole, it would be easily seen for hours and days afterwards.

If Joseph Sifton had fallen down the ladder as described by Herbert witness would expect bruises on his legs, body and arms. Witness thought there would be blood all over the ladder.

DR. HUGH LAING.

Dr. Hugh Laing, of Granton, considered the injuries not compatible with Herbert's evidence, but with a fall.

To Mr. Riddell, witness said he thought the injuries might have been inflicted by the axe produced, had the blows been less severe than described by Herbert.

DR. BERTRAM SPENCER.

Dr. Bertram Spencer, a professor at the University of Toronto, and surgeon at the Emergency Hospital, Toronto, took the stand. He thought the condition of the skull more consistent with a fall than with the blows he heard described. In the latter case he would expect the skull to be more shattered.

To Mr. Riddell, witness said he knew, and had great respect for the opinions of Drs. John Ferguson, Bingham and Anderson. The witness had only arrived in the morning and so had heard none of the evidence. The difficulty in the way of believing Herbert's story was not only the force of the blows and the absence of blood, but the punctured wound on top of the head, which he did not think was caused by an axe.

To Mr. Johnston, witness thought that in falling from a height a muscle in the neck might be ruptured. Asked as to whether he would expect to find evidence of such injury in a post-mortem 25 days after death, witness replied:

"I couldn't say. Decomposition changes a body so much, particularly in the heat of summer, it is hard to say what you would find."

MR. I. H. CAMERON, M.D.

Mr. Irving H. Cameron, M.D., Hon. F.R.C.S., professor of surgery in Toronto Medical College, and surgeon for five Toronto hospitals, was the last of the medical witnesses called. Mr. Cameron's evidence was expected by the defense to have considerable weight with the jury, as he is known as one of the foremost surgeons in Ontario, if not in Canada.

"What do you say as to the possibility of Herbert's story?" was Mr. Johnston's question.

"The skull and Herbert do not tell the same story."

"Do they tell stories near enough to be reconcilable?"

"No; they tell different stories."

"If you consider the probability of these injuries as a result of the fall, if you have two points of impact, does that account for the condition you find in the skull and scalp?"

"Accounts for everything, except the abrasions behind the ears," answered the witness.

Referring to the blows said to have been dealt Joseph Sifton at the ladder, and his falling down and his being pushed up by Herbert, Mr. Johnston said:

"This man is dragged up, a more or less limp body—would you find anything on the rest of his body, his arms, shoulders or legs?"

"I would expect to find a great deal of bruises," said the witness.

"He is thrown downwards on the floor again; would you think, with that condition of things, there would be no injury?"

"Unless he was lying in soft stuff.

"With that man struck three or four times on the top of the head with an axe, what would be the position of the head if it moves?"

"The movement would be direct downward to the spine."

"He is taken to the hay mow—what do you say about large quantities of hay, such as broken clover?"

"You ought to find that in his hair."

Witness thought that the boggy mass on the top of the head might be caused by anything. He attached no importance to the fact that the periosteum was not separated from the scalp.

With a body falling through a hole and being perfectly limp, it would be exceedingly difficult to lift and carry.

If the blows had been given as Herbert described, the clothes and hands of Herbert and Gerald would be with blood. It would be difficult to carry the body without having blood marks apparent.

SPATTERED AND STAINED

Asked as to the direction which the body would lie, witness said that a body often rebounds after striking, and may then fall in any position.

Mr. Riddell, in deference to the judge's wishes, promised that his cross-examination would be brief. Witness knew Drs. Ferguson, Bingham and Anderson, and knew of their high standing in their profession, but would not respect their opinion in opposition to his own.

Witness' reason for disbelieving Herbert's story, was that the violence described was too great.

If Herbert's first blow had been delivered as he said, the ear would have been injured, and the bones of the cheek broken.

"I think he gave too good a story," was the witness' final pronouncement on Herbert's evidence.

Court adjourned at 5:50, to meet at 9:30 Wednesday morning.

Wednesday Morning.

GRAND JURY'S PRESENTMENT.

On the opening of court at 9:30 this morning the grand jury's presentment was delivered to the clerk of the court. In it they made a congratulatory reference to the fact that no cases were presented for their consideration. The jury had visited the jail and found it clean and in excellent order, with only twelve males and no female prisoners in confinement. Three of the prisoners were charged with insanity, and the jury thought that this case should be detained in jail for the shortest possible time. The jury observed that the recent improvements in the court house have improved both the ventilation and the appearance of the room. The asylum was visited and every part found in good order and scrupulously clean. The present capacity is 1,004 and the occupants number 1,001, being 467 males and 534 females. The presentment closed with the hope that his lordship would long be spared to adorn the bench.

THE JUDGE'S REPLY.

In reply to the presentment, his lordship said in part:

"In respect to the incarceration of insane patients in the jail, I agree with you that it is not a place for them. They cannot be treated while there in any way so as to relieve their condition, and it is to be hoped that means will be taken to relieve the jail of their presence with as little delay as possible. The fact of such persons occupying cells in the jail should be made known to the inspector of the asylum at once, so that he may be advised of the condition of affairs here.

"As to the improvement of the court house, I am afraid the improvements will never amount to anything until the county and the city have public spirit enough to follow the example of some of the less wealthy but more progressive counties in Western Ontario. This court house and the jail have both survived their usefulness. The increasing business in every department necessitates a change, which has long been delayed. This is a wealthy county, and the inhabitants would not begrudge the amount to be expended in erecting a building with the requirements of the service here. People settle in places where public buildings show that the citizens are progressive. People would come and settle in a place where you have progressiveness combined with the educational institutions which are a credit to this city.

"The ventilation of this court room as everyone can testify, has been of the very worst character during the trial of this case. Some improvements have been made in that way, but not sufficient, and none can be made in this building sufficient for the purpose of keeping the air pure.

"Now, I hope that no indictment will be presented against the county for the condition in which this building has been in during this court; and I hope that that will not have to be resorted to before an effort is made to provide some other building."

In closing, his lordship thanked the jury for their kindly reference to himself, and then dismissed them from further attendance.

THE TRIAL RESUMED.

Dr. John D. Wilson, recalled, was the first witness of the morning. He had examined Mary McFarlane in the summer of 1900 and found she was not pregnant.

REMOVED BLOODY SHEEPSKINS.

Harry L. Smith, a Ridout street butcher, swore that on June 25, 1900, he went to Joseph Sifton's barn and took away three sheepskins, which had been hung at the east end of the barn. He carried them down the ladder. On April 12 and 19 previous witness had removed other skins. One of them was very bloody, and blood might easily have got on the ladder and floor. Witness produced a note book with which he identified the dates.

BLEEDING LAMBS IN BARN.

Allan Routledge, inspector of sheep for London township, swore that about the end of March, 1900, he had been called to examine some lambs belonging to Joseph Sifton. He found they had been wounded by dogs and he ordered them destroyed. The lambs were badly injured and bleeding.

To Mr. Riddell witness said the lambs were bleeding very freely and the blood was on the straw and chaff.

THE MORDENS' MOVEMENTS.

Peter B. Lewis, former proprietor of the Queen's Own Hotel, Sarnia road, swore that Edgar and Martin Morden were at his hotel one night in the middle of July, 1900. They were there from 10 to 12 p.m., and were in the driving shed part of the time. Witness saw Edgar Morden using a brass knife, which looked very much like the knife produced as being found by High Constable McLoud in the Sifton barn.

To Mr. Riddell, witness said he had been in police court on charges of fast driving. He was not the man tried for robbery with violence in 1899. He had been tried in 1895 for assault and wounding, and sentence was suspended.

GERALD LEFT-HANDED.

Richard Irwin, of Masonville had worked with Gerald Sifton, and knew him to be left-handed.

In reply to Mr. Riddell, witness said he would not be surprised to see a man use his right hand chopping and his left hand in pitching hay, but did not think Gerald did this.

P. L. McIntosh, of Westminster township, had worked with Gerald Sifton, and said he was left-handed in almost all branches of farm work. To Mr. Riddell, witness said he had never seen Gerald write. Witness himself was left-handed in everything but writing, and so noticed Gerald's left-handedness. Witness said Gerald could not use a fork or an axe right-handedly, and could not hit anything with an axe with his right hand in the middle of the handle.

CONTRADICTED HERBERT.

John Leslie, now of North Oxford, but living at Gerald Sifton's at the time of the tragedy, swore that he never made any statements to Walter Herbert about the rumors that Gerald Sifton had murdered his father. Herbert, in his evidence, had sworn that he had heard the rumors from Leslie.

ANDREW ROGERS' STORY.

Andrew Rogers, 18 years old, was examined by Mr. McEvoy. He swore that he was working at Gerald Sifton's at the time of Joseph Sifton's death, it being the first place he ever worked. Among other work witness took part in the milking, which took place in the cow stable, four rows of cows facing west and east alternately, with a space in the center. Witness and Herbert started to milk on the west side on the morning of the tragedy. Mary McFarlane usually got breakfast, and owing to her absence Mrs. Gerald did not do her usual amount of milking, but went to get breakfast. Gerald went to get the butter ready for market. Gerald was not on the west side at all during the morning, nor was there any conversation between Gerald and Herbert. Witness and Herbert were milking cows in adjoining rows. Witness would have known if Gerald and Herbert were talking. Witness went in to breakfast, then dressed and came down. Gerald brought around the buggy; then asked witness to help him up with the butter from the cellar, for witness to take it to London. Witness had a sore foot and could not work well, so he could be better spared to go to town. Witness heard Gerald and Herbert talking about going over to put up the hayfork. Gerald said, "One of you (Herbert or witness) will have to go and help me."

Mr. Riddell objected to Mr. McEvoy's question as to what Mrs. Gerald said in relation to this remark of Gerald's.

The witness could not remember if Herbert was present, so the judge would not allow the question to be answered.

Witness did not go because he had a sore foot, and Herbert would be handier. Witness saw Mrs. McFarlane at the house that morning. Witness sat down to breakfast with Mrs. McFarlane and Gerald. Witness did not hear Mrs. McFarlane say anything about Mary while at breakfast. When he finished Gerald was still at breakfast. Gerald must have gone for the buggy while he was up dressing. Witness did not hear Mrs. McFarlane ask Gerald to call at Rev. Mr. Cooper's and see if Joseph Sifton and Mary McFarlane were married. He did not hear Gerald say if they were not married he'd see that they didn't marry.

On the Friday night before the tragedy witness was working in the butter house in the cellar. Mary McFarlane was working, but was called away. Herbert was working. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald came down. Witness heard Gerald tell his wife that she would have to help with the butter, but did not hear him say he was going away. Mrs. Gerald was not crying. Witness did not see Gerald choke his wife. Mrs. Gerald began to help with the butter without objecting. Gerald went away out of the cellar at once and did not come back. There were no cross or angry words between Gerald and his wife. Mrs. Sifton always worked at the butter.

Witness knew of James Morden coming to the farm, but did not know his business.

In response to Mr. Riddell's cross-examination, witness (Andrew Rogers) said he could not remember a word which passed between Gerald and Mrs. McFarlane. Witness was paying no attention to what they were saying.

"He was paying attention to his breakfast," interposed his lordship.

Witness swore that not a word was said between Gerald and Mrs. McFarlane at breakfast.

The judge here remarked that Mrs. McFarlane herself could not remember whether the conversation took place at the table or in the cookhouse.

On Saturday morning Herbert and Gerald were in the stable about five minutes before witness went out to milk, when Herbert went over to another row to milk, Mrs. Gerald was there. Mrs. Gerald then left to prepare breakfast. Mrs. Gerald was at the stable when witness went out. Witness did not hear any conversation between Gerald and Herbert. They may have been talking in low tones. Witness did not remember if Gerald and Herbert were talking together on the Friday, Thursday or Wednesday mornings previous.

Witness did not know that Gerald choked his wife in the cellar, nor did he hear high words betwen them.

Witness took a note from Mrs. Gerald to her mother. Witness did not know of the butter being brought in to London at such an early hour before. Witness did not know of any reason why the butter should be brought in so early.

Witness heard on Friday night that Joseph Sifton and Mary McFarlane were to be married. Witness did not see Mrs. Gerald crying that night. Witness missed his wheel, but did not know who had it.

Gerald knew that witness' foot was sore from the previous Monday. Witness knew he would not be much use in helping to put up the hay fork.

It was arranged on Saturday morning that witness would taek in the butter. Mrs. Gerald could not go, because there was no one to mind the house.

"Now, witness," said Mr. Riddell, impressively, "I am going to give you a chance to answer this question, whether it was to you or not that Gerald made the remark about taking some one to help him to put up the hay fork. Are you sure those words were said at all?"

Witness answered that he did not hear the words spoken.

Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, of counsel for the defense, took the stand. He had seen Herbert in the jail on July 26, and had heard his statement. Witness would not accept a retaining fee until hearing Herbert's story. Herbert told substantially the same story as told on the day of the tragedy, that it was due to the fall from the barn. The next morning witness read in the papers an alleged confession made by Herbert. Witness at once went to Herbert and told him he would not act for him, but advised him to get another lawyer. Witness then said to Herbert, in Mr. Scandrett's presence, "Now, Herbert, I would like to know whether the account you gave me yesterday of this occurrence or what has appeared in the papers is correct."

Herbert answered, "Mr. Hellmuth, whatever you may have seen in the papers, or whatever I may have said at any other time, what I told you yesterday was the true story."

To Mr. Riddell, Mr. Hellmuth said he had not desired to accept a retaining fee from either Herbert or Sifton, as he wished to go on his holidays at the time.

In re-examination of Mr. Hellmuth, Mr. Johnston started to ask a question about the butter-paper will

Mr. Riddell objected, and the jury left the room while counsel argued the points.

Mr. Johnston said he wished to show that Edgar Morden had sworn to two certain facts which the verdict of a civil jury had pronounced to be false. Morden, although his name appears on the indictment, had not been called by the crown, so counsel for the defense had no opportunity to cross-examine him.

The judge read authorities to the effect that while the prosecutor need not call all the witnesses on the indictment, he should have them in court so that they may be examined by the defense, and though the prosecutor may not call them, the judge may in his discretion order him to do so.

Mr. Johnston cited an authority to the effect that when the defense has a crown witness placed on the stand for examination, the witness becomes a defense witness and cannot be cross-examined by the defense.

Mr. Johnston said he wished to establish all these facts: That Edgar Morden had been assisting the crown in working up evidence in the murder case; that he had been principal defendant in the suit for the upsetting of the butter-paper will produced by him and alleged to have been drawn by him at Joseph Sifton's instance on the night before the tragedy; that the crown attorney was his counsel and solicitor in the civil action; that the crown was so interested in having the civil action postponed until after the criminal trial that the attorney-general, represented by counsel, asked for a postponement; that the crown attorney abandoned the defense to the case; that the verdict was that the will was a forgery, thus branding Morden a perjurer; that in spite of all this that the crown had done nothing toward prosecuting Morden. All these facts, he contended, served to discredit the evidence of James and Martin Morden and the McFarlanes.

The judge consented to Mr. Johnston putting in the exemplification of the judgment in the civil case.

GOVERNOR BOSTON.

Jail Governor Robert Boston told of sending for Mr. McEvoy at Herbert's suggestion. It was about 10 o'clock on the night of Herbert's arrest. Witness did not read Herbert's confession in the papers. Witness did not remember when Herbert sent for Mr. Magee.

WIFE OF THE PRISONER.

A short consultation followed between Mr. Johnston and associated counsel, and then Mr. Johnston said, "Call Mrs. Gerald Sifton."

The wife of the prisoner immediately entered the box. She was gowned in black and had her veil raised. She appeared to be in brighter spirits than has been the case since the trial opened, and gave her evidence in a straightforward and convincing manner.

Beginning with the morning of the tragedy, Mr. McEvoy asked:

"What work was done that morning?"

"My husband got up a little after 5 and called me. Then he and the boys went out to milk the cows."

"What boys?"

"Walter Herbert and Andrew Rogers."

"When you went out the two boys were milking?"

"They were."

"Did you wait to finish milking?"

"No."

"Did you finish milking the cows on the east side?"

"No."

"Why?"

"Well, as a usual thing, the girl gets the breakfast, and I had to leave my share of the cows to get breakfast that morning. The butter had to be got ready, and my husband went in with me to do it."

"Did he finish his share of the cows, either, that morning?"

"No, he didn't."

"Was there any talk between your husband and Walter Herbert?"

"No, not to my knowledge. I was with my husband all the time."

"During the milking, I mean."

"I was there all the time during the milking."

"You remember the evening before?"

"Yes, sir."

A PIT LAMP FIRED THE MINE!

And Explosions Made Escape Impossible.

Details of the Disaster in the Wellington, B. C., Colliery—Names of the Victims.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 1.—Seventeen men are dead as a result of a fire and explosion in Extension mine No. 2, belonging to the Wellington Colliery Company. The flames started from a curtain which caught fire from a miner's lamp.

In half an hour the whole slope was on fire. Rescuers flocked to the mine and reached the place where the miners had been at work, but the miners had gone. They had run with the fresh air instead of against it in an attempt to get out by the accustomed route, thus meeting death half way.

While the rescuers were at work several explosions occurred. When it was realized that the men could not be saved a strong force started to smoke the mine, but their work was undone by a terrific explosion, which blew down the barricade. A little later the fan house was burned.

CORRECTED LIST OF DEAD.

George Southcomb, about 26; married, family.
Eugene Griffin, married, family.
Mr. Welsh.
John Patterson, miner; married.
James Watson, miner, aged 50; married.
Michael Dolan, miner, aged 25; married.
Wm. Pollock, miner, aged 27; single.
E. Lynd, miner, aged 30; married.
John MacCallum, miner, married.
K. Blackley, miner, 23; single.
F. Hazel, miner; single.
Frank Mottischa, pusher; single.
Charles Noye, pusher; single.
Archibald Reeves, pusher; married.
Mr. Boyd, pusher.
Mr. Hamilton, pusher; single.
Antonio Pescetelli, miner; single.

All hope for the men in the mine has been abandoned.

James Thomas, a rope rider, had a thrilling escape. He was riding down the slope, and, seeing the fire coming, jumped off the car and ran. George Southcomb and Eugene Griffith, timbermen, called to him to follow them, but he ran on up thes lope for 1,000 feet to its mouth, and barely escaped with his life. The other men were overtaken by the flames and perished.

The fire is still raging, but it is thought it can be extinguished without flooding the mine.

IT TOOK THE GOLD MEDAL!

Ontario's Cheese Judged the Best at the Pan-American.

Manitoba Farmers Suffer Considerable Loss on Wheat Damaged by Rain.

ONTARIO'S IS THE BEST.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—The provincial department of agriculture has been advised that Ontario cheese, in competition with the whole of North and South America, has won the gold medal offered by the Buffalo Exposition. The department of agriculture, through a committee to the Western Dairymen's Association, sent over at different times during June, July and August 140 boxes of cheese, which were scored by expert judges. The exhibits were the products of 57 cheese factories in Ontario, situated in both the east and west, and included a fine lot of the Ontario Agricultural College. According to the rules of the exposition, any exhibit scoring 94 points or over would receive a diploma, and of the Ontario cheese, which was last scored, only one package failed to reach the standard, while some of the packages scored as high as 99½ per cent.

MANITOBA WHEAT DAMAGED.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 1.—Over 33,605 bushels Manitoba and Northwest Territory crops have been shipped east this fall. On Saturday there were 1,661,000 bushels of wheat in store in C. P. R. interior elevators in the west.

"I am afraid the damage to the wheat crop in Manitoba by the recent rains will amount to not less than one and a half million dollars," was the remark made by Hon. Mr. Davidson, provincial treasurer, on his return from the country. "A great deal of grain has lost its grade, and consequently will bring the farmers about four cents a bushel less than it would had the weather continued fine. There is also a great danger of the wheat in shock sprouting, and, in fact, I have heard reports of this actually occurring already. Altogether the present outlook is not promising, unless the weather takes a sudden turn, and it is to be feared that the farmers are to be taught another lesson on the necessity of stacking their grain as soon as it is cut, and not trusting to luck for good weather and the thresher while the grain is in shock."

The weather cleared again this morning, after the rain during the night.

SMALLPOX IN ONTARIO.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—From a report received by Dr. Bryce, secretary of the provincial board of health, Northern Ontario seems threatened with another winter of smallpox. It seems that several cases of smallpox were discovered in Copper Cliff, four miles west of Sudbury, and that before any effort had been made to disinfect those who had been exposed to infection, they are scattered to all parts of the town. In one house, 30 boarders were exposed to the contagion.

AT SEA IN A COCKLE-SHELL.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 2.—Capt. Andrews and his bride bade farewell to their friends on Sunday, and started on their dangerous voyage across the ocean. The craft, in which the trip will be made is called the "Dark Secret," and is the smallest boat that ever made the attempt. This is Capt. Andrews' eighth trip in a cockle-shell and it will be his last. With good weather it is expected that the Azores Islands will be reached in about two months. From that point the voyagers will set sail for their destination, Palso, Spain.

THE RAILWAYS REACHING OUT!

Mr. Harriman Takes the Presidency of the Southern Pacific

In Place of Mr. Charles Hays—New Tunnel for New York Roads—New G. T. R. Ticket Offices.

The Gran Trunk Railway has decided to establish branch ticket offices at Little Current, Gore Bay, and Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, and Mr. Charles Proctor, traveling passenger agent, has gone north to open the offices.

The Kansas City Times says: A. E. Stilwell, president of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient road, who is now in London, has cabled his office here that he practically has completed arrangements for securing the several millions of capital necessary to push the new transcontinental line to completion. He stated that he expected to close the deal at any time.

Julius Kruttschnitt, fourth vice-president of the Southern Pacific, has, according to a report in San Francisco circles, been appointed assistant to President Harriman, and will represent the new head of the corporation in San Francisco.

The annual report of President Ripley, of Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, for the fiscal year ended June 30 last, shows total earnings of $54,475,822, an increase of $8,242,744 over the previous year. The total operating expenses were $32,262,943, being an increase over the previous year of $4,741,445. The net increases were $22,211,877, an increase of $3,501,298. After deducting interest charges of $8,029,476, there remained $14,182,401 applicable for dividend and surplus purposes.

The Pere Marquette Railroad is trying an interesting experiment in bridge building. The company is building a new bridge across the Rouge River at Northville, and the bridge will be "poured"—that is, it will be made of Portland cement. The river will be spanned by a skeleton arch, and on this the cement will be laid. The cement will be allowed to harden for a year, and then the skeleton will be removed. In the construction 4,000 barrels of cement, 3,200 yards of crushed stone and 1,600 yards of gravel will be used, and if the experiment shall prove as successful as hoped for, the net results will be a solid bridge of artificial stone that will outlive any steel or wooden bridge. This is the first railroad bridge of the kind that has been attempted, and it may mark a new era in railroad bridge construction.

President Baldwin, of the Long Island Railroad, has made application to and filed plans with the rapid transit commission in behalf of the Long Island Railroad Extension Company for a tunnel from a point in New York city in the vicinity of Longacre Square (Broadway and Forty-fifth street), under Seventh avenue to Thirty-third street, thence to East River, and under it to Long Island city. The plans represent an outlay of $5,000,000, and call for a double-track tunnel its entire length for the carrying of both freight and passengers. The applicants bind themselves to begin work on the tunnel within thirty days after the franchise shall have been granted, and to complete it in four years after the work shall have commenced. Motive power other than steam is also specified. The applicants state that they are willing to pay the city 3 per cent of the gross earnings of the road or any such reasonable amount as the commissioners might think proper to stipulate. The tunnel is controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Charles M. Hays, president of the Southern Pacific Company, in formally announcing that he would resign, says: "The condition in the policy and organization of the company consequent on the change in ownership of the control of the Southern Pacific shortly after my taking service with the company has made a place originally attractive to me, so much less so that I several weeks ago placed my resignation and a surrender of my contract with the company at the disposal of the executive committee, and on such conditions as might be agreeable to them. We have agreed on Oct. 1 as the date upon which my resignation shall become effective. Announcements as to my successor, etc., will doubtless be made shortly. I have no definite plans yet, but expect to remain some weeks enjoying the country with my family at Menlo Park, and probably go east some time early in December."

A True Brain Food

must replace the feeling of lassitude and mental tiredness by clearness and strength of mind. Not that it goes directly to the brain, that were foolish. The true brain food must be carried by rich, red blood. If mental fatigue worries and alarms you, look not to the brain, but the stomach and assimilative organs. No remedy yet discovered possesses the marvelous brain strengthening power that Ferrozone has demonstrated in thousands of cases. Ferrozone does not stimulate the brain into a fitful glow, but by improving digestion, strengthening the nervous system, stimulating assimilation, giving new strength to the heart, it sends a stream of red, vitalizing blood to the brain. Thus it is a true brain food. Ferrozone is sold by W. T. Strong & Co.

The hardest varieties of wood, such as mahogany, ebony and lignum vitae, grow in tropical climates, but their wood does not season as well as that of trees in the temperate zones.

WHERE WEAKNESS IS, DISEASE WILL SETTLE.—If one suffers from any organic weakness, inherited or contracted, there disease will settle when it attacks the body. Therefore drive out the pains that beset you, do not let a cold or cough harass you, and keep the respiratory organs in a good, healthy condition. This you can do by using Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Prevention is the wisest course.

PRESIDENT POLK'S NIECE SAYS: "PE-RU-NA IS WOMAN'S FRIEND."

MINNIE LEE COLLINS, OF TENNESSEE.

Mrs. Minnie Lee Collins, grandniece of the late President James K. Polk, writes from 912 High street, Nashville, Tenn.:

"For several years I experienced a severe attack of female trouble. The best physicians prescribed for me, but without avail. Two years ago I began to take Peruna at the advice of a friend. I noticed a perceptible improvement at once; after taking several bottles I was cured. I hold Peruna in high esteem and am always ready to say a good word for it."—MINNIE LEE COLLINS.

Mrs. L. A. Brily, Michelsville, Tenn., writes:

"My health is very good. I weigh 147 pounds and when I began taking Peruna I only weighed 129 pounds. I can and do recommend it to all as the best medicine in the world, knowing, as I do, the great and wonderful benefit that it did me. My friends speak of how well I am looking. A thousand thanks to Dr. Hartman and his wonderful Peruna."—Mrs. L. A. Brily.

Miss Ellen Royer, Louisville, Ohio, in speaking of the national catarrh remedy, Peruna, says:

"I am now enjoying good health. My bowels are regular and I have a good, healthy complexion. I cannot thank you enough for your good advice, and the books you have sent me. Peruna has done me more good than any medicine I ever took in my life for catarrh of the stomach and nervous dyspepsia. I can eat anything I desire and work. I recommend Peruna to everyone, and hope it will do them as much good as it has me."—Ellen Royer.

Miss Phoebe Smith, Sweet Springs, Mo., in a recent letter, says:

"I have not had a sick spell since last April. I am a great deal better of leucorrhoea. I have gained 28 pounds in flesh, and feel as well as I ever did. I took only four bottles of Peruna. I am truly thankful that I can live without being sick half of the time. I never fail to speak a good word for Peruna."—Phoebe J. Smith.

Mrs. Bertha Mohr, 123 Gilbert street, Iowa City, writes:

"I was very nervous and weak, had frontal headache and catarrh of the stomach, bowels and intestines (systemic catarrh). I had female weakness very bad. I cannot express my thanks for the wonderful benefit obtained through Dr. Hartman's medicine, Peruna. I could not work, my limbs trembled so. I am restored and can do my own work. I am certain that whoever tries Peruna will be satisfied with it."—Mrs. Bertha Mohr.

Mrs. A. E. Stouffer, Sabetha, Kansas, writes in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman:

"Peruna is the best medicine for catarrh of any organ, I was troubled with headache, palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, and suffered very much every month. If I did any hard work I would have cramps. I was treated for inflammation of the right ovary, but I was not cured. I also had catarrh of the head, and offensive breath, and had to spit a great deal. After I had taken about half a bottle of Peruna I could do work which I had not been able to do in three years. My friends say they never saw such a change in a woman. I work hard every day now and it doesn't seem to hurt me, either. Peruna did it all. I talk to everyone about Peruna. I can not say too much for it. WHEN I WROTE YOU I HAD GIVEN UP ALL HOPE OF EVER BEING STRONG AGAIN. PERUNA HAS GIVEN ME HEALTH AND STRENGTH THAT NO DOCTOR EVER DID FOR ME. PERUNA IS THE BEST MEDICINE THAT WAS EVER MADE FOR WOMEN. My husband says it is the cheapest doctor he can get."—Mrs. A. E. Stouffer.

This is the same old story told by a thousand women in a thousand different ways. Female trouble; doctors fail to cure; Peruna, as a last resort, a happy relief from a dreary servitude to aches, pains and a complication of physical anguish that can never be described.

These women all tell the same story. Pains all gone. Dragging sensations gone. Quivers and throbbings and tremblings and dizziness and nausea and the irregularities and painful periods—all gone. In their place has come vigor and vivacity, health and hope, peace and patience, grace and gratitude.

Peruna is a wonder-worker in female diseases and yet the explanation of it is simple. Catarrh is the cause of these troubles. Peruna cures the catarrh. The cause being removed, the symptoms disappear.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Peruna can be obtained for $1 a bottle at all the first-class drug stores in Canada.

"The Ills of Life," which can be secured at all up-to-date drug stores, and upon request is sent free to all, gives a short description of all catarrhal diseases. Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A.

DARING ROBBERY ON SUNDAY, NEAR SPARTA

Masked Men Hold Up a Yarmouth Family and Carry Off a Quantity of Plunder.

St. Thomas, Oct. 2.—On Sunday night, about 11 o'clock, two masked men at the point of a revolver held up Mrs. Oscar Allen, of the con. 5, of Yarmouth, near Sparta, and stole a quantity of jewelry and silverware. Mrs. Allen and a 14-year-old adopted daughter were alone in the house when the two men entered. Both were masked, and one held the woman and girl at the point of a revolver while the other ransacked the premises. Mrs. Allen had Saturday sold a lot of stuff, and it is supposed that the thieves thought that she had a considerable quantity of money in the house. However, Mrs. Allen had placed the money in the vault of Mr. Aikens, of Aylmer.

The thieves failing to secure money stole a number of other articles, including one silver tray, two silver teapots, one silver sugar bowl, one silver spoon holder, and one silver cream pitcher. All these articles bear the initials "M. C. M." There were also stolen one silver watch, open face, stem winder; one gold chain, two pairs gold spectacles, several gold rings and all the keys of the house.

The robbers had a horse and buggy and told Mrs. Allen they were going to rob her next neighbor. Chief Fewings and High Constable Lachlin Campbell were yesterday notified of the robbery, and from information received it is expected that arrests will soon follow.

The Prevention of Digestive Trouble.

Indigestion, dyspepsia, and a host of kindred complains are becoming so prevalent that medical men are compelled to give much grave consideration to their treatment and cure. Those who have looked into the question most thoroughly are of the opinion that our salvation from the horrors of chronic dyspepsia and other digestive complications lies in prevention—not cure. Too much rich food, especially meat, lies at the bottom of all these troubles. If you want to keep a good digestion and avoid serious organic trouble, say the doctors, eat less meat and more hygienic health foods, such as Granose and Granola. These are excellent cereal products, delicious to the taste, and made to suit the most delicate digestions. They are highly nourishing. Here is an indorsement from a prominent western clergyman, who is an enthusiastic user of Granose and Granola.

THE POPULATION OF OTTAWA PUT AT 60,400

By the Assessors—Sir Louis Davies Sworn as Supreme Court Judge—An Address From the Bar.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The figures of Ottawa's population as taken by the municipal assessors total 60,400. The recent census figures were 59,002.

Prof. V. L. Emerson has had a trial of a new 30-foot boat operated by a gasoline engine of his own construction, and which he some time ago said he would present to the Ottawa garrison as a torpedo boat. It made twenty miles per hour, a very high rate for so small a boat.

Sir Louis Davies was sworn in as a justice of the supreme court of Canada yesterday, and took his seat upon the bench at the sitting of the court. Sir Louis took the oath before Sir Henry Strong, chief justice, in the room of the latter, before the court met. There was a large attendance in the court room when the justices took their seats. There was a full court, the chief justice presiding, and among those present were Hon. Messrs. Mills, Blair, Scott, Tarte, Mulock and Patterson.

The chief justice asked the registrar to read Sir Louis Davies' commission. This was done, after which Mr. W. I. Hogg, K.C., read an address from the local bar, extending to Sir Louis on behalf of the bar of the Dominion their hearty congratulations on his appointment to the bench, after a long career of usefulness in another career. They had no doubt that he would adorn the position to which he had been called. He could rely upon it that the members of the bar would do all they could in assisting him. In conclusion they hoped that he would continue to adorn the position to which he had been called for many years.

Sir Louis Davies in reply thanked Mr. Hogg and the members of the local bar for the address. He could only say that he would endeavor to discharge the duty with due regard for the importance of the position and the cases brought before him. He trusted that he would do that duty impartially and fairly. The ministers of the crown then stepped forward and shook hands with Justice Davies. The appeals were then taken up.

A Siege

The matrons of the Edison Orphanage at Lowell, Mass., U.S.A., wrote they had a siege of whooping-cough in their institution. They said that every case was promptly relieved by Vapo-Cresolene. The Insurance Dispute.

The Sun Life and the Canada Life appear to be enjoying a lively dispute. Mr. MacAulay's letter in the Toronto World brings out several points which have been frequently disputed. He seeks to show that the Canada Life's management is entirely in the interest of the stockholders.

Life assurance is largely a matter of average, and except for the purpose of securing the policyholders in the early days of a life assurance company, the amount of its capital stock is of little concern. It becomes yearly of less concern to the policyholder as the business written increases from year to year. As soon as a life assurance company has written sufficient business to enable it to put up the Government reserves out of its premium and other receipts, the capital stock is not required. At this point a stock company and a mutual company are even.

George D. Eldridge, the actuary of the Mutual Reserve of New York, has often been criticised, but we think he was right when he pointed out the danger that a life assurance company might become too large.

We think Canada has reason to be gratified that The Canada Life has so enormously prospered, and to feel pleased that companies like The Sun Life, The North American, The Confederation, The Manufacturers, The Temperance and General, The Northern Life, The London Life, the Canadian Mutual, The Royal Victoria, The Imperial, The Great West, and others, have all met with a good measure of success, and are establishing themselves firmly in the people's confidence. Life assurance has almost become the people's savings bank. Its figures are now very large. No harm can come of free discussion. As we said, it is largely a matter of average. Let the discussion go on. It is well the people should understand the principles of so important a subject as Life Assurance.

French-Canadians in the United States.

The overflow of population in Quebec, instead of running as some hoped, towards the Canadian Northwest, has gone very largely into the New England States, and in that corner of the great Republic the French have become an important part of the population, and a strong influence in the political life. We need not now discuss how far this may modify or influence the life of Canada or the United States, though it goes without saying that it must have considerable influence at home and abroad. We simply call attention to the fact now as an important incident in the career of the Canadian branch of the French race. On Oct. 1 and 2 the French-Canadians of New England will hold a great congress at Springfield, Mass., when it is expected that there will be 800 delegates present. The objects of this conference are as follows: "To consider means to promote in the centers of French population the cause of nationalization, of education, and of mutual help to improve the religious situation." The first point is that if the French are to have due influence in the land of their adoption, they must become citizens. That is quite fair; duties and privileges go together. The next two aims are more of a private character; they wish to preserve their own language, and also to have priests of their own nationality. These are also legitimate aims. The French language, as much as that of any distinct and homogeneous group, has undeniable rights of existence in this country in private and religious affairs." That is quite true; but with people who have to earn their daily bread, it will always be difficult to keep two languages going in good order. Patriotic feeling will, of course, act as a stimulus, and so long as great bodies of French are in the same locality, much success can be attained. It is natural that the man of French origin should have a desire for a priest or pastor of the same race, although religion is not a matter of race.

The Chicago Tribune speaks of the anarchist and the athiest as being the same. The fundamental principle of anarchism is that there is no God, nothing but chaos. When that typical anarchist, the unsavory Johann Most, was in Chicago, in a meeting of anarchists, speaking freely in German, he declared that the first thing they as anarchists had to do was to "destroy every altar, to extinguish every religion, to tear God down from the heavens." What right, he said, would any man have to govern other men unless God gave him that right? "Down with God." In this Most was only a rabid echo of Karl Marx. The assassin of President McKinley, like Emma Goldman, has been blatant in protesting his atheism, declaring that there is no God, that he has "no use for God." It is a remarkable fact, says our contemporary, and one that will not soon be forgotten, that just when the assassin imagined that he was doing something to usher in the new social condition, in which there would be neither God nor government of any sort, there came from the heart of the President such an acknowledgment of God as had the effect to waken in the hearts of all the people such a sense of the relation of God to human affairs as had never before in recent history found more impressive utterance.

The Grand Jury System and Mr. Justice MacMahon's Suggestion.

Mr. Justice MacMahon the other day referred to the fact that on his northern circuit grand juries had been summoned, some of them at a great inconvenience, to 90 and 100 miles from their homes, only to find no business to attend to when they reached the court. He suggested that a crown officer make investigations, so that grand juries would not be unnecessarily summoned.

We also referred to a suggestion given by us some time ago, that in all cases a crown officer should investigate before an accused person is put on trial, for the reason that to be accused is sometimes as bad as to be convicted, and we did not think that justices of the peace should try cases, but only issue summonses.

Our article appears to have been misunderstood. We have been accused of desiring to abolish the grand jury system and substitute in its place the crown officer. Nothing of the kind. The crown officer would be an additional safeguard, and if in such localities as Mr. Justice MacMahon refers to there is little or no business, why have the grand jury summoned at all, when all practical purposes can be served without it, until the population increases and crime with it, to such an extent as would necessitate the summoning of a grand jury?

Surely no one can object to the trial of cases by experienced men, and still less to investigation by an officer of the crown. Instead of striking at liberty, we desire to preserve it.

Difference in Two Trials.

Many will think that, in view of the fact that evidence was so plain and unmistakable in Czolgosz's case, the penalty has been deferred to a later date than is necessary. Compared, however, with the circumstances in connection with the assassination of President Garfield, the time is very brief. Garfield was shot on July 2, 1881, and died on Sept. 19. The trial of the assassin, Guiteau, considering the certainty of the evidence, was prolonged to disgraceful length. He was arraigned on Oct. 14 and pleaded not guilty. The trial came to an end on Jan. 25 of the following year, and the prisoner was sentenced to be hanged on June 30, five months later. Those who recall the proceedings of the fall of 1881 and part of the winter of 1882, will commend the Nemesis that will overtake Czolgosz before the present month will have expired.

The County Councils and Education in England.

As we have before pointed out, the County Councils in England now have it in their power to help, and we might almost say, to hinder, education in various ways. Until the contrary is proved, it may be well to assume that their sympathies will be on the side of popular education, and their efforts helpful. What effect the new movement of the Government as to education will have it is not possible to say yet. Dealing with things as they are, we note that the County Councils have now a certain amount of money at their disposal—the so-called "whisky money"—for the furtherance of education, and preferably of "technical education." There is a feeling that there is no need to help to produce parsons, lawyers, or other classes of "professional" or "scholarly men." Something must be done and done quickly to help in the race for commercial supremacy. This is felt all the more because the old "apprentice" system is rapidly dying out. That was a good system in its day, when a boy had to spend six or seven years learning a trade under the supervision of skilled workmen. Unless he was very stupid, he gained some real knowledge and skill in his business. Now it is felt that young people must have other opportunities of acquiring theoretical knowledge and practical dexterity. The action of the municipal councils is, of course, various. In some commercial centers they are building and equipping technical schools, which they will keep under their own management; in other cases, they content themselves with making grants in aid of schools and colleges which are working along lines that they can approve. They give scholarships for the best pupils in the Board Schools, making grants towards the traveling and other expenses of needy scholars. The work is good, as far as it goes, but the funds are very limited, and only few can reap the advantage. Such things are to be welcomed as signs of gradual improvement in means of education for the English masses, but it is felt that a statesman is needed to lay hold of this subject in a stronger, heroic style.

The Federal Wireless Telephone and Telegraph Company, whose instruments were used in reporting the international yacht races, are completing instruments for operation between New York and Philadelphia, when messages will be received any hour, day or night, at the rate of 10 cents for 10 words.

The Canadian Census.

Industrial Canada takes this hopeful view of the recent Canadian census:

"The population statistics, as learned from the census just taken, have been made public, and the result has been the announcement of a smaller population for the Dominion than most well-wishers of the Dominion had hoped for.

"The result has led to various criticisms as to the method of taking the census, the policy of our Government, and a host of other things. They have endeavored to find comfort by comparison with other countries whose progress has not been more rapid, and with certain states in the republic to the south of us, whose population has increased even more slowly.

"But as a matter of fact, is not too much stress being laid on the mere increase of population? This, probably, has not been as rapid as has been desired, but has not the wealth of the country and its industrial development proceeded at a rapid rate?

"The revenue of the country has increased in twenty years from $29,000,000 to $51,000,000; the imports from $103,300,000 to $133,600,000; the exports from $89,200,000 to $191,800,000; the railway mileage from 7,000 to 17,000; the railway earnings from $27,000,000 to $70,000,000; the assets of the chartered banks from $198,000,000 to $440,000,000.

"These figures are indisputable evidence of a substantial movement towards national prosperity.

"Is it not better to regard this progress as a basis on which we can look for a satisfactory increase in the population within the next decade, rather than to place too much importance on the failure to increase our numbers within the last ten years."

Who Not to Cater For.

[Printer and Publisher.]

Instead of catering to the vast body of persons who are not heelers, who are not looking for offices, and who know, from social intercourse and family connections, that the politicians on the opposite side are not all thieves and thugs, too many editors write for the machine element. They enjoy in return a certain popularity with sidewalk statesmen and demagogues.

A Happy Idea.

[Weekly Sun.]

The Ottawa people are to be complimented upon the good taste and originality which they showed in taking our royal guests to a lumber camp and letting them see something of a lumberman's life. This is the true way of entertaining them. Introduce them to what is characteristic of Canada, not to second-rate editions of things of which they have first-rate editions at home. Let us hope that the Canadian woods will put on their brightest autumn hues this fall. No pageant can be more splendid or more characteristically Canadian.

Titles.

[Weekly Sun.]

The list of titles, "honors," as they are styled, to be bestowed on the occasion of the royal visit was at first puzzling. Why should a title be withheld from a mayor of Montreal, who had received royalty in a purple cloak, cocked-hat and gold chain, while it was given to a mayor of Toronto, who, so far, has done nothing? The riddle, however, has now been completely read. When shall we be cured of the craving for these baubles and of all the sycophancy, jealousy and heart-burnings which the pursuit of them begets? What is the value of an "honor" which is thrown to anyone who chances to be the mayor of a city at a time when royalty comes round, and which is lavished on the officers of every royal household? It is sad that anybody should be disappointed of anything; but of all our doles of pity about the smallest is that which is due to those who miss the glory of strutting about as knights. If it is true that the mayor of Quebec refused knighthood, we will give him three cheers.

DEATH REVEALED WOMAN'S SECRET!

Carolina Hall Masqueraded as a Man for Many Years.

New York, Oct. 2.—Carolina Hall, a passenger on the Citta di Terino, from Italy, died in this city Monday night, aged 39. Only when fatally stricken was Miss Hall's sex learned.

For many years she had dressed as a man, and had called herself "Charles Windlow Hall." She was masculine in voice and appearance, and for three years had passed as the husband of Guiseppina Portiana.

Miss Hall was the daughter of Col. Hall, a retired army officer of Boston, and adopted male attire on the ground that "men got along better in the world than women."

"Mrs." Hall remained near the dead She was there last night waiting for the dead woman's relatives to come for the body. She is an Italian, of about 35 years of age and rather good-looking. She cannot speak English, and did not seem willing to tell all of the strange story. It was learned, however, that she had known "Mr." Hall for some years, and was well aware that her companion was a woman.

Last evening a telegram from Albert J. (or G.) Halle was received aboard the steamship for Miss Carolina Hall, saying the sender would come to New York. It was dated Boston Highlands. It was learned through the Italian woman that Miss Hall had resided abroad about ten years, and met her companion, Guiseppina Portiano, in Milan about three years ago. According to the story, Miss Hall decided that men get along better in the world than women, and so adopted male costume. She traveled thus with the other for two years, and as she was an artist, went about the art centers painting and working at her profession. Being a good rifle shot, Miss Hall is said to have entered several tournaments and won prizes. When she decided to come home she asked the Italian woman to accompany her.

ECUMENICAL METHODIST CONFERENCE

Canadian Delegates, Twenty-four in Number, to London, England.

An Interesting Address by N. W. Rowell, of Toronto—The Methodist Church in Canada.

In the recent Ecumenical Methodist Conference in Wesley's Chapel, London, England, Canadian Methodists took a prominent part. Twenty-four delegates in all, lay and clerical, went over from the Canadian Church, and in the discussion summing up the position of Methodism in its world-wide extent, Mr. N. W. Rowell, of Toronto, and a London old boy, presented the case for Canada. The Methodist Recorder, the official organ of Wesleyan Methodism in England, heads its report with the caption, "A Brilliant Young Canadian." Mr. Rowell said:

MR. N. W. ROWELL.

I understand that I am at liberty to limit my remarks to the present position of Canadian Methodism, for, with the exception of work carried on among our colored brethren, by various branches of the Colored Methodist churches in the United States, Methodism in Canada is one. Owing, under God, to the faith, the heroism and the self-sacrifice of both English and American Methodism, and embracing within her union the former Wesleyan, Bible Christian, Primitive and New Connexion Methodist churches and Methodist Episcopal churches, she has a history of which she may be justly proud, and all that is good and great in the past of all these mother churches she claims as her heritage. And this afternoon in the Mother Church of Methodism, and speaking to all the mother churches of Methodism from which the Canadian Methodist Church has sprung, I think we Canadians may truly say we feel "as children in our Mother's house, though Mistress in our own." The Canadian Methodist Church is one. We have in Canada in that church a membership as stated by the Rev. Dr. Goucher—we commenced the century with less than twenty Methodist ministers, and we close the century with more than one hundred ministers for every one that we commenced with. We commenced the century with a little over 2,000 members. We close the century with more than one hundred members for every one we commenced it with. Since the union of the various bodies of Methodism in 1884, the membership of the church has increased about 68 per cent, and all the departments of church work have shown a corresponding advance. It was stated by our friend, the representative of Irish Methodism, this morning, that Irish Methodism was the first to lead the way along the line of Methodist union.

CANADA IS FIRST.

Well, Canada is a young and lusty country, and with the ambition of youth she desires to claim pre-eminence. Whether it be in the realms of peace, or on the field of war, whether it be in the union of the Methodist churches or in the front of the battle line at Paardeberg, Canada claims to be in the first place. (Applause.) For the branches of the English, and the American Methodist churches in Canada united in 1883, the Wesleyan Methodist Church and the New Connexion Church in Canada united in 1872, and the remaining bodies came together in the year 1884. And as by the union of the various colonies and provinces which now comprise the Dominion of Canada, Canada led the way in the consolidation and confederation of the British-speaking colonies within the empire, so Australia has now followed her example, and we hope in the near future that South Africa will join the glorious confederation. (Applause.)

Canada led the way in the union of the Methodist churches, and was followed by Australia. She is hopeful that the older Mother churches may learn the lesson in England. (Applause.) We feel we owe such a debt of gratitude to you that it is but fitting we should lend you some help and assistance. (Laughter.) While I claim this pre-eminence of Canada over Ireland, it is only fair for me to say this, that perhaps we are largely indebted to Ireland for the pre-eminence to which we have attained, for while Susannah Wesley might be called the mother of universal Methodism, Barbara Heck is truly the mother of Canadian Methodism, as of American Methodism, and we have this honor, that her sepulchre is with us to this day. I need hardly more than refer to the distinguished representatives of Canadian Methodism here which Ireland has given us in Dr. Briggs and Dr. Potts, to show how greatly Ireland has contributed to the success of Canadian Methodism.

A GREAT FIELD.

Then I think our home-field is the largest field occupied by any branch of the Methodist Church. Our home-field comprises the Dominion of Canada and the islands of Newfoundland and Bermuda. Now, large as is the continent of Europe, the Dominion of Canada is a little larger. Large as is the United States apart from Alaska, the Dominion of Canada is a little larger. It consists of a series of provinces extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and you can get on the train at Cape Breton, practically, and travel for 4,000 miles westward with only one change of cars, and all the time within Canada, under the British flag, and a settlement along the whole line of railway. (Hear, hear.) So you see our field of operations is very large. The extent and richness of our resources the most sanguine Canadian has hardly yet realized or conceived. A distinguished American has said that two-thirds of the total wheat-growing area of the North American continent lies within the bounds of the Dominion of Canada, and that is not the greatest of our national assets, when you take into consideration our great natural resources. We have a climate invigorating and bracing. (Laughter.) It is true a man cannot

"Sit and sing himself away
To everlasting bliss"

in our climate, and hope to maintain a decent living, but it is a climate which breeds a strong and vigorous and all-conquering race. (Hear, hear.) Men of the North we are. I would say, as was suggested by Bishop Hartzell, in reference to Africa, that the people have hardly yet realized the great future which lies before that great British colony, for the most careful statistician, and the most careful prophet would say that before the close of half a century we will have an English-speaking population under the British flag at least as large as the total population of the British Isles today, and before the century closes there will be in that northern country a population as large as the present population in the United States. (Hear, hear.) When I state these simple facts then the tremendous importance of the type of Christianity which shall be dominant in Canada is the century to come becomes self-evident. For if that be the future of Canada, her influence within the empire, and through the empire upon the world, is not difficult to estimate.

METHODISM A PIONEER.

How is the Methodist Church of Canada measuring up to her opportunities? She realizes the tremendous power and influence which education gives, and so in the great centers of population, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, she has planted her institutions of learning—at St. John's, Newfoundland, and at New Brunswick, at Montreal, Quebec, at Winnipeg, Manitoba, and in British Columbia, she has large and flourishing institutions of learning influencing the intellectual and spiritual life of these great and growing provinces. She has established her Book Concerns, realizing the power of literature to influence the mind and shape the character; and today she has the largest publishing house in the Dominion. Year by year thousands of new settlers are coming into that country and taking up hitherto unoccupied territories. The days of the old saddle-bag minister have not passed away in Canada. The day of the pioneer is still with us, and so into these northern and western districts year by year, hitherto unoccupied by English-speaking or civilized peoples, the Methodist missionary comes with the settler, and wherever the settler goes there he goes with the Word of Life! She is supplementing the work of her pulpit by her class meetings, her Sunday schools, her Epworth Leagues. We have passed the stage when we consider it necessary for a child born in a Christian home to have the same experience of conversion as a hardened sinner. We believe it is the privilege of the child to grow up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, and once in the Church to "go no more out forever." As a consequence more thought and attention are being paid not only to the teaching and training of our scholars in the Sunday schools, but to the teaching and training of our teachers, that they may rightly teach, with the result of greatly increased interest and efficiency, and the Lord is adding to the Church daily such as are being saved in our Sunday schools. On all questions of moral reform the Methodist Church is at the front. It is the largest and most aggressive temperance organization in Canada. With a ministry of over 2,000, all total abstainers, and a membership following in their steps, she stands for total abstinence and for the individual and total prohibition for the state, and to this end she unceasingly labors.

FACING THE SUNLIGHT.

In theology she is convervative, but her face is always towards the sunlight. She welcomes all truth, from whatsoever source it comes, believing that all truth is of God. In spirit she is essentially evangelical. She realizes that no matter how much we may boast of spiritual life or spiritual power, unless we "have the Spirit of Christ we are none of His," and above the voice of the preacher, who prescribes certain rules, and says, "He that keepeth these shall live, while he that keepeth them not shall die," is heard the voice of the prophet declaring, "What doth the Lord thy God require of thee? To do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly before thy God." In Canada we have no state church, thanks in no small measure to the work of the Methodists of the early days. All denominations are equal before the law. We have no Methodist chapels in Canada; they are all churches. Methodism, while the largest Protestant denomination, claims no special rights or privileges because of her strength. And towards all other denominations her attitude is one of cordial fraternity and co-operation. May Canadian Methodism, sprung from the loins of both English and American Methodism, living in the most neighborly relations with our American brethren, and bound by ties of national feeling and sentiment to the Motherland, be one of the bonds which shall bind together the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race—one in religion, one in laws, one in language, one in hope, and one in providential design and purpose for the world's evangelization. If God shall so ordain, then, may both English and American Methodism sing, "Blest be the tie that binds."

Millions USE Cuticura Soap

Assisted by Cuticura Ointment, the Great Skin Cure, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings, and chafings, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Millions of Women use CUTICURA SOAP in the form of baths for annoying inflammations and irritations, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, especially mothers. No amount of persuasion can induce those who have once used these great skin purifiers and beautifiers to use any others. CUTICURA SOAP combines delicate emollient properties derived from Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients, and the most refreshing of flower odours. No other medicated soap is to be compared with it for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and hands. Every Exertion a Task

There is failure of the strength to do and the power to endure; a feeling of weakness all over the body.

The vital functions are impaired, food does not nourish, and the whole system is run down.

A medicine that strengthens the stomach, perfects digestion, invigorates and tones is needed.

What Hood's Sarsaparilla did for John Y. Paterson, Whitby, Ont., it will do for you. He took it as a tonic and general builder of the system, and writes: "I have found no other remedy to compare with it as a restorer of vitality. It drives away that tired feeling, quiets the nerves, and brings sweet refreshing sleep."

WEEKLY REVIEW.

The receipts of wheat have been about the same as usual in volume this week, but the average sample was not quite as good. The range of prices was $1 05 to $1 10 for new milling, and $1 12 to $1 14 for old. It is quite likely $1 12 would have been paid for new if the quality had merited it. Demand steady.

Oats—Receipts were light, and this, coupled with a good brisk demand, produced higher prices. The range for the week was 2i to $1 06 for new, $1 05 to $1 10 for old. At today's session nothing sold at less than $1 05. Only three or four loads came in today.

Peas—Business in this line was small, the supply was light, and the samples poor. $1 to $1 05 was paid.

Barley—Prices were just the same, feed samples going at 85c to 90c, most of these bright.

Corn—Was scarce and sold at $1 05; demand good.

A few lots of new beans sold at $1 25.

No buckwheat or rye came in.

Dressed Hogs—Brought $5 25, and sold easily. Live hogs sold for $7 per 100 lbs. Shipments were quite heavy. Reports say prices may decline a little.

Hay—Receipts were quite good and the demand heavier than usual; $7 to $8 was the range.

Straw—Was quiet, at $5 to $5 50 per ton.

Young Pigs—Went at $5 to $8 a pair, depending on the stock.

LONDON WOOL SALES.

London, Oct. 1.—The offerings at the wool auction sales today amounted to 14,751 bales, principally medium sorts. Fine grades were in good demand, but medium and coarse were irregular and in buyers' favor. A slight decline in prices brought about free buying in the lower grades. Cross-breds were in fair supply, and met with a steady demand, several parcels going to Americans. Punta Arenas were in demand at prices in buyers' favor. Following are the sales in detail: New South Wales, 3,700 bales; scoured, 5½d to 1s 3½d; greasy, 3¾d to 10½d; Queensland, 200 bales; scoured, 1s 4d to 1s 5d; greasy, 6½d. Victoria, 600 bales; scoured, 8d to 1s 4d; greasy, 3¾d to 11d. South Australia, 1,000 bales; scoured, 7¾d to 1s 3d; greasy, 2¾d to 8½d. West Australia, 100 bales; scoured, 1s 1½d; greasy, 7¼d to 7¾d. New Zealand, 5,900 bales; scoured, 4¾d to 1s 4½d; greasy, 2¾d to 9d. Cape of Good Hope and Natal, 100 bales; scoured, 8d to 1s 2½d; greasy, 5d to 5¾d. Punta Arenas, 2,500 bales; scoured, 8d; greasy, 3½d to 5½d.

LIVERPOOL PROVISION MARKET.

[By Mail to Abram Hodgson & Sons, New York.]

Liverpool, Sept. 20.—Bacon—Under moderate arrivals and higher cables, with continued good consumptive demand, the market has further advanced, and holders are firm at the quotations. We quote today: Choice Cumberland cut, 20 to 22 lbs, 54s to 58s; 26 to 30 lbs, 52s to 56s; 32 to 38 lbs, 51s 6d to 56s; long middles, ribin, 18 to 22 lbs, 55s to 60s; clear bellies, 14 to 16 lbs, 59s to 64s; 18 to 20 lbs, 58s 6d to 62s 6d; Staffordshire cut, lean on, 35 to 40 lbs, and Birmingham cut, 33 to 38 lbs, 55s to 56s; clear Staffords, lean off, 40s to 44s lbs, and Yorkshire cut, 40 to 45 lbs, 50s to 53s; singed Wiltshire, Canadian, 45 to 55 lbs, 62s to 68s; American, 40 to 50 lbs, 53s to 60s; short clear backs, 12 to 16 lbs, 46s 6d to 48s; 16 to 20 lbs, 48s to 48s; long clear middles, 28s to 34s lbs, 50s to 51s 6d; 35 to 40 lbs, 49s 6d to 50s 6d; short clear middles, 45 to 50 lbs, 47s to 48s 6d; short middles, rib-in, 16 to 24 lbs, 50s to 52s; shoulders also dearer; square cut, 12 to 14 lbs, 43s 6d to 47s 6d; 14 to 16 lbs, 43s to 47s; New York cut, 11 to 13 lbs, 40s to 43s 6d per cwt.

Hams—Also firmer and in good request; We quote: Choice long cut, 8 to 12 lbs, 56s to 60s; 14 to 16 lbs, 53s to 58s 6d; short cut and American cut, 10 to 12 lbs, 55s to 58s; 12 to 14 lbs, 54s to 56s 6d; 14 to 16 lbs, 53s to 55s per cwt.

Lard has advanced considerably on higher c. i. f. quotations, but business is now somewhat restricted. We quote: Tails and kegs, 49s to 50s; prime western, in tierces, 48s 6d to 49s per cwt.

Beef rules firm at slightly higher values. We quote: Extra India mess, 67s 6d to 72s 6d; plate and packet, 62s 6d to 67s 6d per 304 lbs.

Pork—Quiet but steady. We quote: Finest prime mess, 70s to 73s 6d per 200 lbs.

Cheese—The market has shown more activity, and with some speculative buying of cool late made goods, and higher quotations from the States and Canada, holders have endeavored to advance prices and make some progress in clearing the accumulated stocks of ripe summer makes which require to go into immediate consumption. We quote today: Finest colored cool Canadian cheese, latest makes, 47s to 48s; white, 46s to 47s; finest States, colored, 46s to 46s 6d; white, 45s to 45s 6d; ready ripe earlier made cheese in free supply, 43s to 44s 6d, and lower qualities and heated full creams sell from 38s to 42s 6d; skims and half-meats, clean and mild, meeting some inquiry, from 24s to 38s per cwt, as to quality.

Butter—The advanced quotations for strictly choicest continental, and the diversion of shipments of Russian and Siberian produce to North Germany—this being but a temporary movement—has caused more inquiry for choicest Canadian, which has sold more freely, but not so far with much improvement in values. We quote: Fancy Canadian creamery, in boxes, 102s to 105s; States nominal, 94s to 98s; process creamery, a slow sale, 78s to 84s; finest fresh ladles and imitation creamery, and fresh Canadian dairy, from 74s to 84s, as to quality; lower grades nominally 68s to 72s; finest Danish, 116s to 124s; Irish creamery, 108s to 112s per cwt.

Flour and Wheat—The markets wheat rules steady. Flour unaltered. Indian corn firmer. We quote today: Wheat—Californian, 5s 9d to 6s 1d; American winter, 6s 7d to 6s 9d; spring, 6s 7d to 6s 9d; Canadian, 5s 5d to 5s 10d; Manitoba, 6s to 6s 3d; Australian, 6s to 6s 1d per 100 lbs. Flour—American patent, 22s 6d to 23s 6d per 280 lbs; fancy, 20s 6d to 21s 6d; choice, 18s to 20s per 280 lbs. Indian corn—Mixed, 5s 1d to 5s 2d per 100 lbs. Canadian peas, 6s 4d to 6s 5d per 100 lbs.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—The run at the cattle market today was 86 loads, with 1,538 head of cattle, 733 sheep and lambs, 607 hogs and 22 calves. Business showed a decided improvement over last week, and for good exporters and butchers was quite brisk. Prices were stronger, in spite of the quality not being quite up to the mark in any class. Everything was sold out, unless it was something of a very inferior quality. Export animals sold at $5, top price. Butchers, choice, sold at $4 15 to $4 60. Hogs were firm and unchanged, at $7 37½. The sheep and lamb trade was a little off, sheep selling at about $3. There was a fair demand for milkers, but enough to meet requirements. Dunn Bros. bought about 5 loads of cattle for export; one load of 20 head, averaging 1,300 lbs, cost $4 80, less $7 50 off the total; one load, 1,400 lbs, $5; one load, 1,300 lbs, $4 90; one load, 1,250 lbs, $4 80; 9 bulls, $4 12½; 7 steers, 1,250 lbs, $4 80. Sinclair Levack bought 10 butcher cattle, 925 lbs each, at $3 to $3 50. Crawford & Hunnisett sold export cattle, 1,300 lbs, at $4 80, and bought mixed export cows and steers, 1,100 to 1,350 lbs, at $3 50 to $4 50. J. Collins & Co. bought a load of 21 butcher cattle, 1,140 lbs, at $4 15; sold half a dozen, 1,250 lbs, at $4 65; 5, 1,160 lbs, $4 12½; bought 2 steers, 1,055 lbs, at $3 65. Wesley Dunn bought 220 lambs at $3 65; 75 sheep at $3, and half a dozen calves at $7 each. H. Maybee & Son sold one load of butchers, 1,000 lbs, at $4 20; bought a load, 800 lbs, at $3 10, and fat cows at $2 70. Quotations: Export cattle, choice.....$4 70 @ $4 90

A Scientific Voice Improver.

Because of its strengthening influence upon the vocal cords, Catarrhozone cannot be too highly recommended as a wonderful voice improver; it almost instantly removes huskiness or hoarseness, thus insuring clearness and brilliancy of tone. Catarrhozone keeps the mucous surface in perfect condition, and its regular use absolutely prevents colds and throat irritations, thereby removing the singer's source of anxiety, unfitness of voice. The most eminent public speakers and prima donnas would not be without Catarrhozone, and credit in no small degree their uniform strength and brilliancy of tone to its influence. The hard rubber inhaler fits conveniently into a purse or vest pocket, and may be used in the church, theater, street car or any place or time. Complete outfit, $1; small size, 25 cents. Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn.

THESE TWO DESIRABLE qualifications, pleasant to the taste and at the same time effectual, are to be found in Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. Children like it.

BAYLEY'S

UNITY OF BRITISH EMPIRE!

Strikingly Commented on by the Duke of Cornwall.

Royal Party Get an Enthusiastic Greeting at Victoria—Duke Will Have Two Days Shooting in Manitoba.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 1.—The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York arrived at Victoria at 11 o'clock today and a royal salute from the ships of the North Pacific squadron was the first feature of a long programme of welcome. The royal party made the trip from Vancouver to Victoria on the steamer Empress of India, which was convoyed by the ships of the North Pacific squadron. The warships were dressed in bunting, and the flotilla was an imposing one as it steamed through the Gulf of Georgia and into the Straits of Fuca.

The day was bright and warm and the duke and duchess spent most of the time on deck. A great crowd gathered in Royal Road and on the heights of Beacon Hill as the fleet steamed into the outer harbor, and the Empress of India docked at the outer wharf.

The royal party, the Countess of Minto and Premier Laurier were formally greeted by Lieutenant-Governor Sir Henry Joly, and driven through at the parliament building, where addresses of welcome were presented by Mayor Hayward in behalf of the city, and John W. Pratt, of Seattle, for the British-American citizens and Presbyterians of Victoria.

The handsome government buildings were attractively decorated and assembled in a great square on the lawn were the school children of the city, who sang patriotic songs. The duke thanked the people for their welcome, saying in part:

THE DUKE'S RESPONSE.

"I desire to assure you of the gratitude which the duchess and I feel for the kind words and good wishes which are expressed in the welcome you have extended on behalf of the citizens of Victoria, the residents of Seattle, and other parts of the State of Washington, and the British Columbia Synod of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. I shall have much pleasure in informing my dear father, the King, with what special satisfaction I have noted your strong declaration of loyalty to the throne and pride in the heritage of citizenship. I know what proof of this spirit you have already given in the blood of your sons which has been shed on the South African veldt. I am confident the sacrifices you have made have not been in vain. They have forged another link in the golden chain which binds together the brotherhood of the empire."

TUMULTUOUSLY APPLAUDED.

After the presentation of medals to the South African volunteers, the royal party was driven through flag-lined streets, amid great tumult. The duke lunched with Admiral Bickford. This afternoon the duke formally opened the Victorian Exposition.

Tonight there was a state dinner at Government House and a reception at the parliament buildings.

The city is attractively decorated and crowded with visitors attending the reception. Crowds walked the streets through which the royal party passed, and the duke and duchess were enthusiastically cheered.

Tomorrow the duke and duchess will remain at Oak Bay, resting for the return trip eastward, which commences tomorrow night.

New Westminster will be visited Thursday, and the next stop after that will be made at Banff, where the party divides for a few days. The duchess will remain at Banff, and the duke will go on to Manitoba for two days' shooting. From Manitoba the party will go to Toronto.

FROM ALBERTA.

Work of Dodd's Kidney Pills Progressing Rapidly in the Territories.

Blairmore, Alberta, N. W. T., Sept. 30.—Special.—Dodd's Kidney Pills are the most useful and widely used medicine in the Northwest. They have produced more genuine results than any other remedy ever introduced here. They cure the common ailments, which can nearly all be traced to the kidneys, from a pimple to Bright's Disease.

Walter H. A. Noble, of this place, is an example. His face was covered with pimples. He, of course, tried all sorts of remedies, but until he took Dodd's Kidney Pills for Backache the pimples remained. His blood was impure. The kidneys were not straining it.

On using Dodd's Kidney Pills for Backache, as everybody does in this district, the Backache not only left him, but the Pimples disappeared also, proving the cause of both complaints was the same—Kidney Disease.

BRITISH UNEASY!

They Don't Like the Way Things Are Going in South Africa---Tart Talk.

London, Oct. 2.—Within two weeks the war in South Africa will have entered upon its third year and, in the face of a recrudescence of organized operations by the Boers and of the impossibility of carrying out Mr. Brodrick's promise to reduce the war expenses by sending home some troops, the government organs are again becoming restless.

There is a mystery surrounding the operations and the whole situation in Natal and the denials and evasions of the war office concerning the alleged friction between Mr. Brodrick and Lord Kitchener for the subject of editorial protests on all sides.

"We have the right to expect," says the Standard, "that the government will loose no time in sending out such ample reinforcements as the military chiefs at the spot deem necessary."

The Daily Mail, which finds evidence that Lord Kitchener is in a difficult predicament and fears that the government in delaying reinforcements out of a desire to avoid summoning parliament to vote the necessary supplies, warns the government that if this be the case a grave risk is being run. Similar protests are made on all sides.

The Times, after reminding the government of "the repeated blunders and miscalculations which have cost the empire such a terrible price, says:

"A third campaign has now opened in South Africa and there is no sign that the government is doing anything to prepare for, possibly the dragging out of the war for several months more. Already it is too late to provide such a mobile force as would be adequate this autumn. Is the government doing anything to provide it even three months hence, and if not, what possible excuse can the government urge for this neglect?"

Cologne, Oct. 2.—Private news received here from Cape Town says the entire field of war has changed. All the fighting is now being done in British territory, in Cape Colony and Natal, while the Transvaal and Orange River Colonies are quiet. There are nine commandos in Cape Colony, and they are growing rapidly in numbers. There is some idea that the Boers are making a concerted move towards Cape Town.

RAIDED NATAL CATTLE.

A dispatch from Pretoria says while Gen. Botha was attacking the Natal forts a party of about 40 Boers invaded Zululand and raided cattle belonging to the natives. The burghers then offered to return the cattle if the chief would undertake not to defend the border against the Boers. The chief replied that he would remain true to his King. Botha's move was clever and enabled him to strike a point a long distance from any railway. Now, however, his only alternatives are the invasion of Zululand or a rapid retreat along its northeast frontier.

BRITISH CONVOY CAPTURED.

London, Oct. 2.—A large British convoy, which was leaving Melmoth, Zululand, on Sept. 22, was captured by the Boers. Six native police were killed.

THE WEEK'S WORK.

The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, yesterday: "Since Sept. 23, 27 Boers have been killed, 24 wounded, 274 prisoners have been taken, and 48 have surrendered. In addition to the above, the prisoners taken by the Boers on the attack on Fort Itala, Zululand, on Sept. 26, and since released, state that they saw 60 Boers buried in the enemy's laager."

This apparently does not agree with the reports in some London papers that private advices from Ladysmith were to the effect that 305 Boers were killed in the fight at Fort Itala.

CANADIAN DOWN WITH FEVER.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—A cable was received from the casualty department at Cape Town today stating that Sergt. John T. Wood, of the Canadian Scouts, is dangerously ill at Pretoria of enteric fever.

THE ROYAL TRAIN.

Duke of York May Have Its Comforts Across the Ocean.

Mr. W. R. Tiffin Will Have Charge on the Grand Trunk.

Montreal, Oct. 1.—From word that has been received at the Canadian Pacific headquarters from W. R. Baker who has charge of the royal train, it is more than likely that when the duke returns, the train in which he is now traveling may follow him to England, to be used there on royal journeys. The duke has expressed himself as most pleased with all the arrangements made for his comfort. Even the dining-car service, which occasioned the most difficulty, has called forth the high compliment: "I have not been treated so well since I left England."

Both the duke and the duchess have taken to the train, and it is believed would be glad to have it on the other side.

THE ONTARIO TOUR.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—In the tour of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York through Ontario and Quebec over the lines of the Grand Trunk Railway, some of the most populous and prosperous cities and towns of the two provinces will be visited. To Mr. W. R. Tiffin, superintendent of the Grand Trunk system at Allandale, has fallen the honor of being personally in charge of the royal train during its journey through Ontario, and until the train reaches the rails of the Intercolonial Railway, the government system, at Chaudiere Junction. Mr. Tiffin will take charge of the train at North Bay on the trip to Toronto, then to London, from there to Niagara-on-the-Lake, from the latter point to Hamilton, Brantford and Woodstock, easterly to Kingston, going from Kingston to Sherbrooke, Quebec, and from Sherbrooke to Chaudiere Junction, where connection is made with the Intercolonial Railway.

The royal train, while speeding through Ontario and Quebec, will pass over 200 stations on the Grand Trunk Railway, and every one of these will be decorated. There are some 21 stations at which the train will stop for a few minutes, and these will be most elaborately decorated, while at 180 stations, where no stops are made, flags and bunting on the buildings will greet the royal party.

In Toronto the Grand Trunk propose a plan of very effective decoration at their city ticket offices, corner of King and Yonge streets. Mr. Harry Charlton, of the Grand Trunk, was in the city from Montreal yesterday to complete the arrangements for the decorations. There will be no less than 750 electric lights on the offices, strung around the doors and windows, and in hanging festoons. Over the main entrance will be the royal arms, the center of a shield hung with the arms of the provinces, and surmounted by an illuminated crown. On either side are red and blue ensigns, and below medallions of the duke and duchess. The effect, when the offices are illuminated, is expected to be very striking.

GREAT FALL IN PRICE OF COPPER.

Detroit, Oct. 2.—Cameron Currie & Co.'s copper letter says: The past week has been a memorable one. Prices of stocks have been steadily falling, and the price of standard copper was going down in London, showing a decline since Sept. 17, of £6 7s 6d, on Sept. 26. This fall in prices has been unparalleled in many years. Then there was a sudden change in London and the buying was extremely heavy. The effect here has been just the reverse from what it was in London. The large producers are still holding prices firm, but consumers were frightened out of the market, and business is at a standstill.

SHEA'S OWN SHOW.

The audience that attended the performance of Shea's own show at the Grand Opera House last night was larger and more appreciative than that of the night before. This is only an index of what will be achieved by the Shea forces in this city. Londoners are now learning why vaudeville of the kind that has the Shea trademark on has been popular above all other forms of entertainment in the cities to which it has been introduced. Attractions that are rated first-class in the amusement world, when combined with low prices—remarkably low as far as London is concerned—are sure to appeal with irresistible force to patrons of the theater. Mr. Shea allows the public here to see the same artists that he engages for his Buffalo and Toronto houses. He lets them be seen and heard for the same money as at these places, and the patronage that his show received Monday and Tuesday nights proves conclusively that his venture will be a great success. Extended notice of last night's performance is not necessary. It was the same well-balanced company that scored so notably on Monday night. This afternoon, the show was again put on before an immense matinee audience. It may not be amiss to say here, that during the whole entertainment there is not one suggestion, either by act or word, that offends good taste, and Shea's reputation in this respect guarantees that there will not be. Tonight will be the last appearance of this assemblage of artists in London, and those who have not already seen it should take this opportunity of seeing what Shea vaudeville is like.

"A LION'S HEART."

Next Saturday the patrons of the new Grand will have another opportunity of seeing the romantic and powerful acting of Mr. Carl A. Haswin, surrounded by an exceptionally strong company, in his latest and greatest success, "A Lion's Heart," the piece that left such a favorable impression on the occasion of its last visit here. The play bristles with exciting situations, amusing comedy that is really funny, and realistic scenic and calcium effects that are new and novel. It does not depend on any cheap sensational effects for its success and should not be contemplated as belonging in the class of the so-called melodrama. The character of Rizardo, the lion tamer, is played by Mr. Haswin in his usual vigorous and careful manner. The usual Saturday matinee will be given, at 25 cents to all parts of the house.

"DOLLY VARDEN."

The most pretentious musical organization that has visited London in many years is offered patrons of the new Grand on Oct. 11 and 12, when the Lulu Glaser Opera Company of 55 people will present "Dolly Varden." Mr. F. C. Whitney has in this company the greatest cast of artists ever offered in a comic opera organization in America, and the staging was said by the Toronto papers to be the finest ever offered in that city. A special matinee is announced for Saturday, Oct. 12—Duke of York's day.

LEWIS MORRISON'S "FAUST."

Lewis Morrison himself will positively appear at the new Grand Wednesday, Oct. 9, in the part of Mephisto, supported by a strong company, drawn from the best of the legitimate school. Lewis Morrison has appeared in this part over 5,000 times during the past twenty seasons, and his performance is recognized by the best critics to be a splendid piece of acting. The beauty of the new scenery, the startling electrical effects and the newly-written choral and instrumental music will be welcome features, but the opportunity to witness Lewis Morrison's impersonation of Satan will prove the magnet which will draw strongest in the new production of "Faust" at the new Grand.

SOME PERSONS have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking and green fruit is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed, no further trouble will be experienced.

Washing tells the tale.

It proves the difference between Stanfield's and those that are simply branded "Unshrinkable," "Guaranteed," etc. Stanfield's remains the same in shape and size, as soft and pliable as when purchased. Every garment bears the guarantee of the Truro Knitting Mills Co. to return your money if they shrink. No special directions for washing. As the pants receive more wear than the shirts, they are made of heavier material. Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear is sold on a positive guarantee against shrinking in the wash. Your money back if it does.

AN AMBIGUOUS COMPLIMENT.—Miss Beekly—"I'm so glad I'm not an heiress, Mr. Soper. I should never know whether my suitors were attracted by myself or my money." Mr. Soper—"Oh, Miss Beekly, your mirror should leave you in no doubt on that score."—Punch.

THOUGHTFUL.—"Say, boss," he began, "I don't want no money. I only ask yer ter pass me inter dat lunch joint and buy me a square meal." "Poor man!" exclaimed the philanthropist, "I can't do that, but the next man you ask may, so here's a pepsin tablet in case you overeat yourself."—Philadelphia Press.

A CAREFULLY PREPARED PILL.—Much time and attention were expended in the experimenting with the ingredients that enter into the composition of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills before they were brought to the state in which they were first offered to the public. Whatever other pills may be, Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are the result of much expert study, and all persons sufferings from dyspepsia or disordered liver and kidneys may confidently accept them as being what they are represented to be.

AT LONDON OPERA HOUSE.

The Burrill Comedy Company, which appeared for the second time at the London Opera House last night, will put on tonight "The Deserter," a stirring military drama, in five acts. Miss Laura Hulbert will be seen in the title role of Anne Hewins, and Mr. Chas. W. Burrill as Dad Hewins. This piece will be given a fine production and will be well staged, and should be greeted with a crowded house. The same full list of specialties will be put on each evening, and next week the company will be strengthened by the addition of Prof. Howell, who is an expert illustrated song artist, who will also show the latest boat race pictures. Friday night the amateur contest will be given for a prize $5 in gold to the winner, and already a number of entries have been handed in.

A Catsup Flavor and Preserver.

Housekeepers who had given up the practice of making of catsup, because of its spoiling, are delighted. Instead of adding spices and stewing away all the fine flavor, they prepare the catsup and add Parke's Catsup Flavor last of all. This leaves the catsup a natural red color, and it will never become sour. Full directions on each bottle. Sold by all grocers and druggists.

FORECASTS.

Today—Strong winds and gales, west and northwest; a few local showers, but mostly fair; becoming cooler.

Thursday—Strong northwesterly winds; fair and cooler.

WEATHER NOTES.

Showers occurred during the night throughout Ontario, and are likely to be pretty general today in Quebec. Strong northwesterly winds are now probable for a few days, with a gradual change to cooler weather.

LATE LOCAL ITEMS

—Bartlet & Macdonald, Windsor, have secured the contract to supply the employes of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway with uniforms.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. Hallam, of McAdam Junction, N. B., formerly of this city, with their son, Thomas, are visiting London friends. Mr. Thos. Hallam, jun., who recently graduated in arts at Dalhousie University, Halifax, N. S., is about to take a three years' course in Wycliffe College, Toronto. He intends to study for the ministry.

GRAND JURY DISMISSED.

The grand jury for the fall assizes, having completed their work, were dismissed today. The pay list amounted to $209 10.

LIGHTNING CAUSED BIG LOSS.

A fire occurred at Cushing's ice house at 4:45 this morning.

During the storm the place was struck by lightning and damaged to the extent of two or three thousand dollars. There was no insurance. The firemen are very grateful to Mrs. Cushing, who served breakfast for them after the fire.

REV. MR. PEDLEY HERE.

Citizens generally, and the members of the First Congregational Church in particular, will be glad to know that Rev. J. W. Pedley, a former pastor of the church, will be present at the annual tea meeting and concert to be held next Tuesday, and will address the gathering. Revs. E. C. Oakley and D. S. Hamilton will also be present and participate, making the unique feature of having the past, present and future pastors of the church present on this occasion.

IRWIN CONFESSED.

Robert Irwin, of Blackfriars street, West London, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Rider and Nickle, and came up for trial at the police court this morning. A week ago the police received a letter from John C. Woods, of Woods' Fair, who was spending a few weeks with his wife and family in Muskoka. The letter stated that six $20 gold pieces and three $10 bills had been taken from one of his brother's pockets, while the brother and Irwin, who had accompanied the party, were sleeping in a boat house. They returned to the city Saturday night, and a warrant to search Irwin's rooms was secured. The prisoner protested innocence until after two hours' search the money was found in the inner pocket of a valise carefully wrapped in a piece of paper. Two valises of crockery and chinaware and other articles were also found in Irwin's rooms. The prisoner, who pleaded guilty in the police court, had been in the employ of Mr. Woods for over two years. He was remanded one week for sentence.

John Laughead was put on trial on the charge of assaulting his wife. He was bound over to keep the peace.

SKULL WAS FRACTURED.

Miss Elizabeth L. Scates, a graduate of the Farrand Training School for nurses, connected with Harper Hospital, Detroit, whose mother lives in Middlesex county, was severely injured at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at the corner of West Hancock and Fourth avenues, says the Detroit Free Press. With her brother-in-law, A. T. Jones, of 717 Fourth avenue, Miss Scates was walking north on Fourth avenue, and was crossing Hancock avenue, when a bicycle, ridden by Howard Charles Gilchrist, collided with her, causing her to fall heavily to the pavement.

She was unconscious when Mr. Jones reached her, and it was found that her skull was fractured at the base. Early this morning her condition was reported as critical. Gilchrist was arrested and taken to the Hamlin avenue police station, where he will be detained pending the outcome of Miss Scates' injuries.

Miss Scates was graduated from the school for nurses last year, and for some time has been living at the nurses' register, 1,157 Third avenue.

VETERAN FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

The Veteran Firemen's Association of London was organized last night at a meeting attended by R. McBride, S. H. Craig, W. Ghittick, W. Riddle, W. Beltz, Henry Strong, John Hyslop, Wm. Cater, Charles Cater, John Mockler, John Clark, Richard Watson, George Terry, W. D. Benson, R. Wonnacott, George Jarmain, T. Richardson, J. White, W. J. Stinson, M. Mockler, J. F. Hicks, John Christie and Chief Roe, of the fire department. It was decided that the officers should include a president, first and second vice-presidents, secretary and treasurer. Mr. John Christie was elected president; Samuel Stewart, first vice-president; R. McBride, second vice-president; S. H. Craig, secretary, and Wm. Chittick, treasurer. The officers will bring in a report as to ways and means. It is the intention of the veterans to hold a reunion next winter.

REGIMENTAL ORDERS.

In connection with the Toronto review, the following orders have been issued by Lieut.-Col. Robert McEwen, commanding 26th Regiment:

Preparations are at once to be proceeded with and every effort made to equip the regiment to the best advantage with the material at hand. In the absence of helmets (which may yet be secured), Glengarries will be worn on all parades. The equipment worn marching out will be: Overcoats, rolled, great coat straps, valise, cartridge pouch and bayonet. Each company must be properly fitted out before leaving company headquarters, and on arrival in London, where it is expected the regiment will be mobilized, will be in readiness to entrain immediately on arrival of last company to reach headquarters. This will necessitate the taking out to the company headquarters the required uniforms, rifles and equipment. No time can be utilized at regimental armory on the morning of departure in taking out articles. It is probable that the regiment will be required to leave London about 11 o'clock a.m. on Oct. 8, and the commanding officer desires to see every company up to establishment. The regiment may be required to go under canvas, in which case company cook must be taken. Rations will be supplied and the men's messing tent will be utilized. Companies and regiments for the review at Toronto will be in two ranks of 22 to 24 files each, which will mean a reduction of the number of companies on parade. Officers commanding companies should give some instruction in this formation; marching as in line, positions of the manual, more particularly the shoulder, present and slope; also the firing of feu de joie. See that the men march with a swing. A close inspection of all men going on parade must be carried out, and particular attention paid that uniforms and equipment are clean, that the men are shaven and hair cut; a barber will be located in the lines. Above all teach the men when standing at attention to be absolutely motionless and silent. By order, A. V. Becher, captain, adjutant 26th Regiment.

33 KILLED!

British Lose Heavily in Repulsing Boer Attack on Col. Kekewich's Camp—Enemy Had 128 Wounded.

London, Oct. 2.—Lord Kitchener today reports that two officers and thirty-one men have been killed in an attack made on Col. Kekewich's camp at Moedwill. The Boers, who were under Commandants Delarey and Kemp, had fourteen officers and one hundred and fourteen men wounded, after two hours' fighting, when the Boers were driven off. Col. Kekewich was among the wounded.

Hon. Edward Blake in London

Hon. Edward Blake and Mrs. Blake have been in the city for the most part of a week, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. Cronyn. Mr. Blake's health has not been all his friends could desire, owing doubtless to overwork; but he is looking well, and cannot fail to be benefited by the invigorating air of Canada. Mr. Blake will return shortly to England. As on the whole the greatest mind Canada has yet produced, and a Middlesex Old Boy to boot, all readers hereabouts will join in sincere good wishes for Mr. Blake's restoration to complete health and vigor.

REPEAT HER SPEECH!

Emma Goldman Will Give Address Which Inspired Czolgesz.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The speech which Leon Czolgosz claims inspired him to assassinate the president will be repeated by Emma Goldman here, Thursday night. Czolgosz heard this lecture in Cleveland, and Miss Goldman said today she wished to give the public a chance to see if there was anything incendiary in it. So deep has been the feeling against the anarchists that not until yesterday were the "reds" able to secure a hall at any price. Chief of Police O'Neill said he would have detectives in the hall to preserve order and keep the speakers' utterances within proper bounds.

"You remember working in the butter room in the cellar?"

"I did, after I finished milking."

"It has been said here," said Mr. McEvoy, "that your husband choked you. Is that true?"

"No, Mr. McEvoy," answered Mrs. Sifton. "He never, never."

At this Gerald Sifton, who had been sitting with his face fixed on his wife's face, bowed his head, while a pleased smile played over his countenance, the first that has been seen there since the trial opened.

"Were there any high words there at all?" continued counsel.

"No. He was always kind and good to me," was the answer, and with the last word or two there was a break in Mrs. Sifton's voice, as though the tears were not far below the surface. She restrained her feelings, however, and went bravely on.

"Was Mrs. McFarlane at your place on the morning of the accident?" continued Mr. McEvoy.

"Yes. She came somewhere about 6:30."

"Was she there before you went out to milk?"

"No."

"Was she there when you came in from milking?"

"No, sir."

"Did your husband have any conversation with Mrs. McFarlane?"

"No, nothing in particular."

"Did you hear her make any request to do anything?"

"I know she asked him several times to call at Mr. Cooper's, about Mary. She was uneasy about Mary."

"Uneasy about her—why?"

"She had been away all night, and her mother came down to our place to see her."

"Do you know why she thought Mr. Cooper knew anything about it?"

"She was wondering if they were married or not."

"Did Gerald say that if he found his father was not married, he would put him so he would not be married that day?"

"Nothing like that was said," said Mrs. Sifton positively.

Witness heard nothing of the conversation between Gerald and Herbert on Friday night in the cellar. Witness was in the cellar all the time her husband was there. Gerald and the boys, Herbert and Rogers, were joking about the coming wedding next day.

It was after 7 when Rogers left on Saturday morning with the butter. This was a little later than usual.

Gerald appeared to be in a good humor when he and Herbert went away.

In speaking of which boy would go with Gerald to fix the hay-fork, Gerald said it made no difference. Witness asked Rogers, who had a sore foot, whether he would rather go with the butter or help Gerald. Rogers said he would rather go with the butter, and so Herbert went with Gerald.

In beginning his cross-examination, Mr. Riddell told Mrs. Sifton that he would make it as brief as possible.

Mr. Riddell elicited very little from the witness not given in examination-in-chief. Witness had been married five years. On the Friday night Gerald went away and returned shortly after midnight, not at 4 a.m., as Mr. Riddell's question put it. Gerald was not at the cow stable with Herbert on Saturday morning before Andrew Rogers went out. There was no talk between Herbert and Gerald that morning. Witness was positive on this point. The butter was not sent to town earlier than usual. When Mrs. McFarlane asked Gerald to go to see Rev. Mr. Cooper, Gerald objected, saying it was no business of his.

Witness first heard on Friday night of the intended marriage, being told by John McFarlane.

Rogers' foot had been lame for three or four days and he was unable to work on the Friday.

"That's all," said Mr. Riddell, just as the whistles blew for 1 o'clock.

"Be here at 2 p.m., Mrs. Sifton," said Mr. Johnston. "I may have one more question to put if the court will admit it."

Mr. Johnston announced that he had only two or three more witnesses to call.

Busy Business at the "Three Busy Stores."

The "Three Busy Stores" have never belied their name at any time, but since the fall millinery opening began, the aptness of their distinctive title has been unusually apparent. The quality of the goods that are sold there is of an unexcelled standard, the public knows this, and knows besides that the prices are as low as it is possible to get them; hence the fact that there are three stores, big, bright, busy places, where all tastes and all purses may be suited. It has been this care in catering to the wants of the people as regards both goods and prices that has placed the "Three Busy Stores" where they are today. The growth from one small store to three big well-stocked establishments has not been caused by spectacular effort, but by earnest and successful endeavor, such as is now evidenced at the millinery sale, to get the best on the market, and present it to the people in the way best suited to their requirements and inclinations. The millinery displayed at the "Three Busy Stores" has been chosen judiciously. There is much variety, and no one who visits their handsome millinery apartments will be either dissatisfied or unsuited. The designs are wholly new, and the trimmings are unexcelled in worth or beauty. The management of the "Three Busy Stores" has understood that no matter how attractive a hat may be in other respects, its price is a most potent factor from the purchaser's viewpoint, and has therefore arranged to give the lowest prices compatible with true value. A visitor to the "Three Busy Stores" will be well repaid by inspecting the stock of silks, ladies' underwear and veilings, of lace and chenille curtains, and ribbons, in all of which lines special prices for good goods prevail. The visitor who asks to see these staples will be shown them gladly, and will assuredly be well satisfied with them.

The handwriting has changed but the quality of Blue Ribbon is just as good as ever. Was there ever such a tea!

ELSIE.

"Nonsense, my dear Arthur," said the countess, gently.

"She is!" said Lord Arthur, striking the table hard with his hand; "quite good enough to marry a prince!"

"You mean she is pretty enough, and awfully jolly enough, as you express it?" asked the countess, with a laugh. "But, of course, there are other things to be considered."

"Well, of course, parents and guardians can consider as much as they like; but I mean that many a prince who was his own master might be glad to marry Elsie Carew! I don't think there is another like her in the world!"

The countess sat very still after this outburst? What did it mean—that Arthur Hammond intended to marry Elsie Carew? Had he fallen in love with her—he who never fell in love, and whose heart was cold, while his fancy was changeable and fickle as the winds in England?

"If only she were honest!" said the noble countess to herself; "if only she were good!"

"Are you falling in love with this stranger, Arthur?" asked the countess, presently.

"In love! by Jove, I don't know—nearer to it, I think, mother, than I ever was in my life; but I daresay the fancy will pass like the others in a few days. I shall see something, or hear her say something that I shan't like, and then I shan't care any more about her; but I wish you would tell her to ride with me—she won't if you don't; she is proud as Lucifer, or a bishop's wife, or anybody like that."

The countess was obliged to laugh now. Lord Hammond sometimes said the most grotesque things.

"Arthur," she said, "you are a very funny boy; but I don't think, my darling, you would really like to—to break your father's heart."

"If," said Lord Hammond, looking straight through the window at the park, which was shining at that moment in a brief episode of sunlight, which wrapped the short grass of the hollows and slopes, and the great striped trees in a sort of halo, "if I were to marry a barmaid who called oil 'hile,' what would you say, mother?"

"Perhaps," said the wise, gentle countess, "I should try to teach her to say 'oil.'"

Lord Hammond turned round and caught his lovely, fragile mother in his strong, muscular arms, and strained her to his broad chest and kissed her sweet pale face as he had not often kissed her since his childhood. He was not very affectionate, but he certainly thought his mother the dearest woman under the sun.

"Mother, dear, I shall never marry such a creature. I will only marry a girl who comes nearly up to your standard—who is as good, and true, and honorable, and all that, as you are."

"Arthur, dear," said the countess, when he had released her, "I hardly think poor little Miss Carew is as honorable as all that—ask yourself—because I think you must know that she is trying to lead you into a flirtation."

"By George, she isn't though! She's as hard as adamant to me. Certainly, I did meet her arm-in-arm with that fellow Owen; but then, she was so tired and faint."

"Hammond, was it a scheme of yours to—to get that poor girl locked up in the Gower, so that you might have the pleasure of going for her and driving her back?"

Lord Hammond stared blankly at his mother for a moment; then he said:

"What a witch you are, mother! Nobody knew that but myself. How could you guess it?"

The countess had not guessed it at all; but Miss Bracegirdle had told her that she had overheard Lord Hammond and Elsie laying this plot together. In reality, Pauline had suspected Lord Hammond of this trick, and her suspicions were correct, although she did not know that.

"Then you did—it was a plan?" asked the countess, who meant to include poor Elsie as one of the planners, but Lord Hammond did not understand that.

"Yes, it was," he said, frankly. "I was obliged to let her go in the park phaeton with Marjorie—that Bracegirdle managed it."

"Miss Bracegirdle," said the countess, warmly, "is a genius and an estimable girl."

Lord Hammond looked out of the window again and whistled.

CHAPTER XVI.

"Then," mother, will you ask Miss Carew to ride with me just this once?"

"And she may break her neck; Captain is so spirited."

"She won't, I engage; I will take the best care of her. As for marrying, mother, make yourself easy—I shall never marry."

"That would be terrible, Arthur—lands and title, and no heirs."

"I might marry and have no son and nine daughters, like Sir Harbury Styles, in the song, and they were all so ugly he had to marry them to the butcher, and baker, and lady's bootmaker."

"Ah, I don't know any of those songs," said the countess, with a sigh.

"Men—young fellows—hear such songs, and see life, mother, in great towns—they all do. You must not think I am worse than the rest; and there's not the least harm in that song. Mother, may I take your kind regards to Miss Carew, and say you think a ride will do her good?"

Very unwillingly the too indulgent lady gave her consent, and Lord Hammond posted off at once in search of Elsie.

He found her, after a long search, seated in a corner of the library, reading "The Merchant of Venice."

"Well, by George!" he cried; "then you are Shakespeare mad—are you going to follow the example of your friend Miss Bracegirdle?"

"She is not my friend! I never see her reading Shakespeare."

"Not your friend, isn't she? That's right! I shouldn't like my wife to have women friends! A lot of stuff, and rubbish and pretense!"

"Yes," said Elsie, readily.

"Well, look here, Miss Carew, my mother sends her kind regards to you, and thinks a ride would do you good; and she hopes you will let me take you out; and her maid will find a habit—Marjorie has lots."

"I should not like it at all," she said.

"Why, if you please?"

"People would talk—you know they would."

"Not if the countess told them she sent you."

"You have been begging her," said Elsie, shrewdly. "She doesn't like it, I know! No, I will not ride alone with you, Lord Hammond."

Elsie spoke with an emphatic firmness that showed Lord Hammond that she would not yield.

"By Jove!" said he, furiously, "you act like a—like a little simpleton!"

"No, I don't," said Elsie, "I act wisely—quite wisely."

"I do believe," said Lord Hammond, "that you—that you hate me somehow!"

"Indeed I don't," said Elsie. "Why should I, my lord? I think you very kind, indeed—only I know the world will talk, and I know the countess won't like it in her heart."

"Then you don't care about giving me annoyance?"

"I am sorry, of course, but still I must do my duty."

"Hang your duty," said the impatient young lord.

Elsie could hardly help laughing. Lord Hammond was so odd; however, she did not want to offend him.

"May I see the countess?" she asked.

"You can't now, she is busy with her letter writing; but it's quite true she told you to ride with me!"

"No, I will not ride with you, but it's very kind of you all the same," said Elsie.

"It's like a policeman saying to a thief, 'I beg your pardon—sorry to inconvenience you—but you must step into the prison van.' I hate fine speeches about kindness, and thanks, and all that; it's deceit and it's false!" he added, in a burst of anger.

Elsie was positively the very first girl who had ever repelled his advances, consequently she possessed for him a subtle, unique and perplexing charm.

"I shall stay wherever you stay," said Lord Hammond. "I shall stay here and talk to you now."

"Do so, if you like," said Elsie; especially if you have some pleasant things to say.'

Then she wondered if she had made a flirting speech. Nothing could have been further from her intentions.

"I must go for a walk," she said, "with some of the visitors, I think."

"No, stay here, just while I ask a few questions. Have you ever been in love?"

"No," said Elsie.

"Not a little bit?"

"Well, yes, perhaps a little bit with two or three at a time!" which was the exact truth.

"But that isn't love, with two or three at a time, Miss Carew."

"No, it's only a sort of make-believe," said Elsie; "it's like the farce at the theater before the real tragedy begins."

"Exactly so. Well, now, I feel when I am near you as if the real tragedy had begun."

Elsie remembered that the countess had told her what a flirt Lord Hammond was.

"You have often felt like that before, I suppose, when talking to young ladies, Lord Hammond. And then you have seen a face you liked better."

"I shall never see a face that I shall like as well as yours."

"Not for a week, perhaps. Wait until the London season."

Lord Hammond positively scowled.

"If there's one thing I detest on this earth more than another," said he, "it's that London season. It's the most unnatural crowding together of five years' life into nine weeks or so. Say you begin some time in April and end in July, and you can call it twelve weeks, but there are just about nine—all May and June—that contain the hardest work. I've declared I'd never go through it again; but my mother looks so sad. She wishes me to mix with my own class and see the polite world, and do my social duties as the heir to an earldom just for six weeks or so. Of course, her secret ambition for me is that I marry an heiress, and go into parliament. I'm positive I wasn't cut out for either of those positions. Give me a good hunter and a good wild country and a jolly girl like you to talk to in the evening, and I'm happy."

"You have several hunters, my Lord; and there are hundreds of jolly girls in the world who would be delighted to talk to you."

VERY FLUKY WIND!

Resulted in Failure of Tuesday's Yacht Race---Shamrock Was Half a Mile Ahead When the Contest Was Called Off---Other Sporting Matters.

New York, Oct. 2.—Yesterday's attempt to sail the second of the present series of international yacht races for the blue ribbon of the sea proved a failure. Between 25,000 and 30,000 people who crowded the pleasure fleet off Sandy Hook lightship in the hope of seeing a repetition of the thrilling sport of last Saturday, witnessed instead more of a drifting match than a race. The fluke demonstrated little as to the supremacy between the two boats, except, perhaps, that Sir Thomas' new challenger is more dangerous in light airs than was supposed after her two former meetings with the white flyer.

The Yankee skipper at the start outgeneraled his adversary in clever jockeying, crossing the line in the windward berth twelve seconds ahead of the Englishman. This advantage the Columbia held for two hours, while both yachts steered far off their course to the southward looking for a streak of wind that would profit them. Finally Barr declined longer to continue the vain quest. He put his helm down and headed inshore on the starboard tack.

The Shamrock, however, held doggedly on, and fortune smiled upon him. Within five minutes he got a breeze out of the south which ruffled the crestless seas and wafted him like a ghost through the Columbia's weather. But this was not his best piece of good fortune. After this, the Columbia, slipping through the seas at an astonishing pace, considering the lightness of the breeze, had worked out ahead of the Shamrock, but to the leeward. When the two yachts were in this position, about two miles from the first turn, a cant of the wind threatened to blanket the Columbia, and to avoid such a possibility, Barr went under the Shamrock's stern. Just as he did so, the wind hauled round more to the south, knocking the Columbia's head off, until, to the astonished spectators, she seemed headed almost for the lightship at the starting line. The golden boat, favored by the same breeze, was headed in exactly the opposite direction. When the shifting wind backed up again, and Barr got the Columbia straightened out, he was

A THIRD OF A MILE ASTERN.

In this position the two boats rounded the first mark, the Shamrock 3 minutes and 8 seconds before Columbia, or a gain for Shamrock, adding the 12 seconds which Columbia beat her over the line, of 3 minutes and 20 seconds.

During the next hour, in a close race for the second mark, the yachts were able to cover about four or four and a half miles of the remaining twenty, and as only 50 minutes then remained before the expiration of the time time limit, the race was declared off.

When the excursion fleet headed back for home the only real race of the day occurred. It was the race for New York. At night both the Yankees and foreigners prayed for a good stiff breeze on Thursday, when the race will be re-sailed.

SIR THOMAS' COMMENTS.

Sir Thomas Lipton, after the race, was in the best of spirits. He said: "I really do not see anything yet on which to base a definite opinion regarding the two boats. While the Shamrock was leading when the race was called off, there is nothing to brag about. While the winds were very light, there was little fluking, therein differing from last Thursday's breezes, which in spots failed utterly, each boat in turn striking dead calms. After the showing made thus far by both boats, I should not hesitate, if I were a betting man, to lay even money on Shamrock. Both boats were handled to the best ability of the best men you could produce." Sir Thomas expressed himself as personally in favor of racing every day, provided any suggestion looking to that end should be made.

Capt. Bob Wringe, who stands by Sir Thomas on the bridge, when asked if he considered the Shamrock's chances better, said: "I can't say her chances are better, for they were never bad."

FED HER HUSBAND POISON.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 1.—Mrs. John D. French, of Leslie, who is charged with feeding her husband poison, was adjudged insane in the circuit court this morning, and committed to the state asylum at Iona.

CRASH!!

Goes the crockery and the waitress will probably be called clumsy and careless. Her plea of sudden dizziness is not allowed. "What right has she to be dizzy?" they ask. Women who are suffering from diseases peculiarly feminine are liable to sudden dizziness and faintness, and it is only by curing the womanly diseases to which they are subject that dizziness and other ills can be entirely relieved.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures irregularity, dries disagreeable, weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. When these conditions are cured, backache, headache, dizziness, etc., are also cured.

"I suffered for twelve years with female trouble," writes Mrs. Milton Grimes, of Adair, Adair Co., Iowa, "which brought on other diseases—heart trouble, Bright's disease, and at times would be nearly paralyzed. Had neuralgia of stomach. I can freely say your medicines (nine bottles in all, five of 'Favorite Prescription,' four of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets), have cured me. I can work with comfort now, but before I would be tired all the time and have a dizzy headache, and my nerves would be all unstrung so I could not sleep. Now I can sleep and do a big day's work, something I had not done for over eleven years before."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

Frank Stenlake, proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel, Essex, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Rundell, of Ingersoll, and the Misses Marshall and Thompson, of Belleville, was driving in a carriage towards Windsor on Monday. When near the Lake View Hotel, Sandwich, the horses became frightened at a passing street car and bolted. Stenlake was thrown out and his wife and Mrs. Rundell jumped. Mrs. Rundell fell on her head, and was unconscious when picked up. She is badly injured and may die. Stenlake received some bad scalp wounds, while his wife and the other ladies escaped uninjured.

The is trouble among the directors of the Noxon Manufacturing Company, of Ingersoll, says the Toronto Star, and the parties have gone to law. The plaintiffs are Dr. McKay, M.P.P., and R. H. Cotter, and the defendants are the company and Messrs. Johnson, Reilly and Wells. On June 11 last the defendants passed a resolution voting Mr. Johnson, the managing director, $6,000 per year salary, and a bonus of $2,000 cash, or $10,000 stock. The plaintiffs claim this resolution was illegal, as proper notice had not been given. On Tuesday the case came up at Osgoode Hall before Mr. Justice Moss, and was adjourned for two weeks, injunction to stand in the meantime.

Diminished Vitality.

Some people talk very flippantly about diminished vitality.

They don't stop to think that vitality is the principle of life—that it is that little understood something on which every function of their bodies depends.

Diminished vitality is early indicated by loss of appetite, strength and endurance, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest vitalizer. b

The Tiring March Under a Tropical Sun—How "Foot Elm" Helped to Make It Easy.

Col.-Sgt. Graham

"I have been troubled for years with perspiring feet, and when walking they got very sore, and I was compelled to change socks every day, but when we were doing our long marches over the burning veldt, when the sand got so very hot with the tropical sun, I don't believe I would ever have been able to stand it had we not the "Foot Elm."

"It cooled our feet, dried up the perspiration, and our feet got hard and in good condition.

"On our long march from Gras Pan to Kimberley, by way of Jacobsdal, and then on to Paardeberg, and again to Bloemfontein, nearly all done by day under a burning sun, the sand was so hot I could not hold it in my hand. My feet seemed to be on fire, the leather thoroughly saturated with perspiration. On we marched for over five weeks, suffering terrible with sore feet until we got to Bloemfontein, and received the Foot Elm you so kindly sent to us, and which proved so cooling and healing to our feet.

"T. H. GRAHAM, Aurora, Ont., color-sergeant in No. 2 Company, 12th York Rangers."

If your feet ache, burn, swell, sweat, chafe, blister, tire easily or trouble you in any way, use "Foot Elm." It gives wonderful comfort and ease. Price 25c a box at all druggists or sent by mail. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont.

SAWED HIS WAY OUT!

Burglar's Daring Escape From Sarnia Jail—Had Ten Years to Serve.

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 2.—Robert Thompson, a desperate burglar, who had only late yesterday afternoon received a sentence of ten years, at Kingston, for burglary, made a daring escape from the Sarnia jail last evening, sawing through an inch and a half bar and climbing a twenty foot wall.

Thompson and a pal named Shaffer recently did a job at one of the cottages at Sarnia beach, for which each was given a ten year sentence. Within an hour after being returned to jail Thompson, who was confined in the lower ward, was at liberty. The escape was discovered when the prisoner was to be given his supper.

IF WE ONLY KNEW.

If I knew you and you knew me—
If both of us could clearly see,
And with an inner sight divine
The meaning of your heart and mine,
I'm sure that we would differ less
And clasp our hands in friendliness;
Our thoughts would pleasantly agree
If I knew you and you knew me.

If I knew you and you knew me,
As each one knows his own self, we
Could look each other in the face
And see therein a truer grace.
Life has so many hidden woes,
So many thorns for every rose;
The "why" of things our hearts would see
If I knew you and you knew me.

—Copies of the "Western Advertiser" containing a full report for the week of the Sifton trial can be had at this office on and after tomorrow (Thursday). Price two cents per copy. It is an excellent number to send away to friends.

—Mrs. W. A. Gates, for a number of years resident in Guatemala City, Central America, called at Harding Hall last week and entertained the girls with Spanish songs and a description of girl life in Central America. Mrs. Gates is on her way to New York.

—The London Conference Branch of the Women's Missionary Society held its seventh annual convention in the Central Methodist Church, Sarnia, on Tuesday afternoon. Last night a public meeting was held, which was addressed by the president, Mrs. Wright, Miss Wigle (Japan), and Rev. C. T. Scott (of this city).

LONDON NURSES ABROAD.

Among the graduating class of Hope Hospital Training School for Nurses, Fort Wayne, Ind., are Misses Ella Jones and Jessie Cameron, of this city. The commencement exercises take place on Wednesday of this week.

AT THE GLASGOW EXPOSITION.

Among the Canadian visitors who recently registered their names at the Canadian Pavilion in the Glasgow International Exhibition were: John Derby and Wm. Hunter, Guelph; A. and Miss Mary Spence, Brantford; J. O. Brant Sero, Brantford; J. D. Pennington, Dundas, and T. Tyhurst, Chatham.

THE DAY'S ENDING.

The Western University medical students attended the New Grand Opera House in a body last night. After the show they adjourned to a down-town restaurant, where a social hour or two was spent in speech and song. Music was provided by the London Male Quartet. The assemblage of students sent Sir Thomas Lipton a telegram, wishing him success in the yacht races.

WANTED IN CHATHAM.

Government Detectives Campau and Mahoney, of Windsor, were in London yesterday afternoon, having arrived from Watford, where they made the arrest of George Cameron, who claims to hail from Toronto, and who is wanted in Chatham on a charge of passing counterfeit $10 Dominion Bank bills. The alleged accomplice, George Shea, was arrested in Chatham last week. They left in the evening for the west.

CANADIANS IN ENGLAND.

The following Canadian visitors registered their names at the Canadian government office, 17 Victoria street, London, S. W., during the week ending Sept. 17: Edith Margaret and Mrs. R. Scott, Galt; Wm., Mrs. and Phyllis Hendrie, Hamilton; Alex. Calder, Winnipeg; Mrs. A. G. McWhinney, London; J. Tyhurst, Chatham; R. W. Puddicombe, London, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coyne, St. Thomas.

REPRESENTING MINISTERS.

At a meeting of the Ministerial Alliance held yesterday afternoon, the following clergymen were appointed to represent the different denominations at the reception given to the Duke and Duchess of York: Rev. W. H. Claris, Congregationalist; the Very Rev. Dean of Huron, Episcopalian; Rev. George Jackson, chairman of London district, Methodist; Rev. Robt. Johnston, D.D., moderator of London Presbytery.

MRS. SHOVELLER'S DEATH.

Mrs. Samuel Shoveller died at her home in Stratford on Monday after about six months' illness. Mrs. Shoveller was at one time a resident of London, and a prominent member of the Talbot Street Baptist Church. She leaves a husband and one son. Her brothers and sisters are: John H. Morgan, city; David, of Ingersoll; Richard, of Hamilton, and Mrs. W. P. Irvine, of Vancouver, B. C.; Mrs. A. H. Claypole and Mrs. B. Whitehead, of this city. The funeral was held from the residence of her sister, Mrs. Benjamin Whitehead, 147 Central avenue, this afternoon at 2:30.

REOPENING CONCERT.

A reopening concert under the arrangement of the choir was held on Monday evening in the Vannack Presbyterian Church. The programme was given chiefly by Londoners, together with the local choir. The following from this city were present: Messrs. W. H. Hewlett pianist; Newton Large, baritone; J. C. Elliott, violinist, and Miss Myra Pickard, contralto. The various selections were well received and heartily applauded. Miss Maggie Whillans, soprano, also rendered a number of Scotch songs, which were enthusiastically encored. Rev. Mr. Lawrence, formerly a pastor of the church, occupied the chair.

BOXES OF GOLD

Sent for Letters About Grape-Nuts.

330 boxes of gold and greenbacks will be sent to persons writing interesting and truthful letters about the good that has been done them by the use of Grape-Nuts food.

10 little boxes, each containing a $10 gold piece, will be sent the 10 writers of the most interesting letters.

20 boxes, each containing a $5 gold piece, to the 20 next most interesting writers, and a $1 greenback will go to each of the 300 next best. A committee of three, no members of the Postum Co., will make decision between Dec. 1 and 10, 1901.

Write plain, sensible letters, giving detailed facts of ill health caused by improper food and explain the improvement, the gain in strength, in weight, or in brain power after using Grape-Nuts food.

It is a profound fact that most ails of humanity come from improper and non-nourishing food, such as white bread, hot biscuit, starchy and uncooked cereals, etc.

A change to perfectly cooked, predigested food like Grape-Nuts, scientifically made and containing exactly the elements nature requires for building the delicate and wonderful cells of brain and body, will quickly change a half sick person to a well person. Food, good food, is Nature's strongest weapon of defense.

Include in the letter the true names and addresses, carefully written, of 20 persons not very well, to whom we can write regarding the food cure by Grape-Nuts.

Almost everyone interested in pure food is willing to have his or her name appear in the papers for such help as they may offer the human race. A request, however, to omit name will be respected. Try for one of the 330 prizes. Everyone has an equal show. Don't write poetry, but just honest and interesting facts about the good you have obtained from the pure food of Grape-Nuts. If a man or woman has found a true way to get well, and keep well, it should be a pleasure to stretch a helping hand to humanity, by telling the facts.

Write your name and address plainly on letter and mail promptly to the Postum Cereal Company, Limited, Battle Creek, Mich.

CITY'S SIX THOUSAND CHILDREN

Will View Ducal Procession From Institute Grounds.

Board of Education Will Beautify Building for the Occasion.

Gratifying Increase in Attendance at the Collegiate—Schools Close Friday.

Six thousand pupils at the city schools will be assembled at the Collegiate Institute to see the Duke of Cornwall and the royal party. Trustee Teasdall said at last night's meeting of the board of education that the institute would be decorated and the children so arranged about the grounds that all may see the future king and his gracious consort. All the children in the city will be given a place, and the gathering will be the largest ever seen in London.

The closing of the high school on Friday afternoon next for the annual games was agreed to, and the usual grant of $15 was made to assist the pupils in securing a band. In connection with this matter, Trustee Bayly said the idea of a trophy had been broached by a number of expupils, and it was proposed to secure one, the name of the winner of the school championship to be engraved on it each year. The trophy was to remain in the school.

Dr. English stated that Victoria school, South London, was still unfinished, and that the Chesley avenue school would not be completed until the last week of October. With the opening of the two new schools, four teachers would be appointed — one to fill Miss Smibert's place at Lorne avenue, one to take the place of Miss McConnell, at Chesley avenue, and two for Victoria school.

Inspector Carson reported that out of 30 pupils who passed highest at the last high school entrance examinations, seven were more than one year in the principal's room at the public school. A boy and a girl from St. George's school and a boy from Aberdeen school failed to write the previous examination on account of ill-health, and one boy, who had only resided in the city a short time, was also among the number.

The attendance at the Collegiate institute for September in the general course was 513 on the roll, and an average attendance of 457, while in the commercial department there were 98 on the roll and an average of 90. There was an increase of 60 over last September.

Principal Radcliffe recommended that Messrs. Walter Bapty, Albert Taylor and John Carling be appointed captain, lieutenant and second lieutenant, respectively, in the Cadet Corps.

A slight discussion arose in the matter of compelling junior leaving students to pay 50 cents, and senior leaving students $1 to cover cost of breakages made by the pupil, which often occur in the high school laboratory, the money to be refunded at the end of the term if nothing was damaged. A motion to this effect was carried. Trustee Blackwell was opposed to it, and gave notice of a reconsideration.

W. A. McCrimmon of the high school teaching staff, was granted leave of absence from the 8th to the 11th of October, on account of his services being required then by the Seventh Regiment.

Miss Ida M. Buchart spoke before the board with reference to forming classes for the teaching of domestic science among the girls of the Collegiate and the senior forms of the public schools. The project was considered an admirable one and will be dealt with at the next meeting.

The resignation of Miss Maud McConnell from the public school teaching staff was accepted.

Application was received from Miss Eva L. Williams to be put on the regular teaching staff. Filed for reference.

The hop shortage in New York State will not exceed 3,000 bales, it is now estimated.

LEAVE ACTION TO THE COUNCIL

Board of Trade Relegates Itself to Obscurity

And Will Take No Corporate Part in the Welcome to the Ducal Party.

The board of trade met last evening, when the following members were present: Messrs. C. B. Hunt, chairman; Sir John Carling, J. R. Minhinnick, Jas. Mattinson, Wm. Bowman, P. W. D. Brodrick, J. A. Carrick, and Secretary Nelles.

The board disposed of a number of communications. A letter was received from Montreal asking the board to be represented at a banquet to be tendered the Hon. J. Israel Tarte. A later communication stated that owing to injuries the minister of public works had sustained in a recent accident, the banquet had been postponed. A communication from the Windsor Board of Trade asked for co-operation in the endeavor to remedy the conditions whereby railway and ferry companies pay for the extra time put in by customs officers. Action was deferred. A communication from the Ottawa Board of Trade asked the London board to consider the matter of petitioning the government, requesting it to take over the telegraph companies throughout the Dominion, and also to favor the taking over of submarine cables that form connecting links among the British colonies. The letter was filed.

The question of prompt mail delivery was discussed. It was stated that under present conditions a letter mailed here Saturday evening after 6 o'clock would not reach Toronto for delivery until 9 o'clock Monday morning. Secretary Nelles was asked to communicate with the local postoffice officials, with the view to ascertaining the cause and ultimately of securing a remedy.

Regarding the coming visit of the Duke and Duchess of York, the board deemed it unnecessary to take any corporate action, as some members of the board were at present on committees appointed for the purpose of completing arrangements for the royal visit. They, however, indorsed the action of the city council in making the $2,000 grant; a resolution to which effect was placed on the minute book. The secretary was also instructed to communicate with the Canadian Savings and Loan Company regarding appropriate decorations for the building in which the meetings of the board of trade are held.

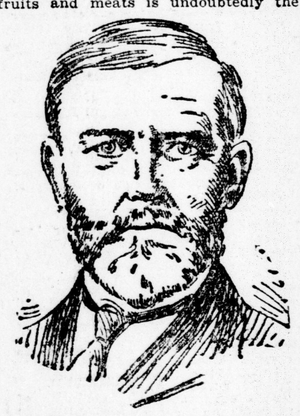

Reports, official and estimated, from 148 railroads, show show gross earnings for 1901 of $1,283,164,411. The roads reporting contributed 80 per cent of the gross earnings of 1900, and estimating the others at the same ration of gain gives as the gross earnings of 1901 the enormous sum of $1,622,071,000, an increase over last year of $135,027,000, says the Chicago Chronicle. In seven years the earnings of the railroads of the United States have increased $548,709,000, or 51.14 per cent.

Last year 500,000,000 feet of lumber was exported from the Pacific coast and 300,000,000 feet sent east by rail.

WHAT SHALL WE EAT

To Keep Healthy and Strong?

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best, in spite of the claims made by vegetarians and food cranks generally.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grains.

Dr. Julius Remusson on this subject says: Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality, should eat plenty of meat. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily strengthened by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three or four hours, while the malt diastase also contained in Stuart's Tablets cause the perfect digestion of starchy foods, like potatoes, bread, etc., and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply the pepsin and diastase so necessary to perfect digestion, and any form of indigestion and stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach will be overcome by their daily use.

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptics should eat plenty of meat and insure its complete digestion by the systematic use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the natural digestive principles, peptones and diastase, which actually perform the work of digestion and give the abused stomach a chance to rest and to furnish the body and brain with the necessary nutriment. Cheap cathartic medicines masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures are useless for relief or cure of indigestion, because they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the indigestion is to make daily use at meal time of a safe preparation which is indorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles, and all this can truly be said of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

All druggists throughout the United States, Canada and Great Britain sell them at the uniform price of fifty cents for full treatment.
