Briefs by Wire.

The brigade camp opened at Kingston, Ont., on Tuesday with about 1,550 men under canvas.

Mr. Thomas Penwarden, aged 79, who lived near Orono, Ont., was choked to death in a hotel at Port Hope Tuesday by a piece of meat, which stuck in his throat.

Albert Kendrick, aged 14, son of Mr. John Kendrick of Burk's Falls, Ont., was drowned Tuesday by crossing the dam at the falls. The father is dying of cancer.

George Robinson, aged 68, one of the best-known farmers in Hamilton township, near Port Hope, Ont., committed suicide on Monday night by taking paris green.

Robert Kydd, foreman at J. S. Busfield's machine shop at Haverhill, Mass., was shot and killed Wednesday morning by E. Galvin, book-keeper at the establishment.

Augusta, Me., on Wednesday celebrated the centennial anniversary of its birth. The city was elaborately decorated, and the day was ushered in with a ringing of bells.

Mr. Henry Logie, a prominent farmer, living near Lindsay, Ont., received a terrible kick from a horse Tuesday, which ruptured his kidneys. He is not expected to recover.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believed it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

Bishop DuMoulin was presented with a check to pay his expenses to the Lambeth conference by members of the Anglican Church in Hamilton.

THERE is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—a pulmonic of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial claim to public confidence.

TO BAR AMERICAN BICYCLES.

Berlin, June 10.—A committee of the German Protectionist Society has presented a petition to the Foreign Office, demanding, in view of American competition, that a heavy duty be placed on American bicycles, the cheapness of which threatens to deprive 25,000 German employes of work.

SPLENDID PRESENT FROM THE POPE.

London, June 10.—The Rome correspondent of the Standard telegraphs that the Pope has sent to Queen Regent Christina of Spain a splendid rosary, consisting of a gold chain, set alternately with diamonds, rubies and emeralds as beads. The gift is accompanied by a letter conveying the Papal benediction and expressing admiration of her Majesty's courage and wisdom in the late ministerial crisis.

KING MENELIK.

London, June 10.—The correspondent of the Manchester Guardian in Abyssinia has several interviews with King Menelik and finds him well disposed towards England and angry at efforts of French agents to represent him as under their control. This fact derives special interest in view of the ultimate fate of Erythrea, as to which friction has arisen between Italy and Abyssinia. Menelik contends that the treaty signed last October forbids the cession of Erythrea to any power except Abyssinia. The Italian translation limits this restriction to a period until the boundries have been settled.

SELF-IMMOLATION IN RUSSIA.

London, June 10.—The special correspondent of the Daily News at Tiraspol, Russia, describes in a second letter the scene at the place of entombment, in which the fanatics had been walled up. He says the spaces were so cramped that the victims were obliged to pack themselves in like sardines, head and feet alternately. One scooped a cavity in the clayey wall with his fingers to give room to lay his head and shoulders. The interments all took place in the night time. The victims donned their best clothes, then their funeral shrouds, and prostrated themselves resignedly, silently, always in the presence of some passive comrade. There was not a single involuntary moan or movement while Kovaleff, with his spade, slowly covered them.

A report has just been received at Tiraspol, says the correspondent, of suspected similar self-immolations practiced for years past at the village of Pletskee, about 16 versts distance, and the police have been ordered to make an investigation.

PUSHED OVERBOARD.

Serious if Not Fatal Accident to a Young Lady Passenger on a Steamer

London, June 10.—Samuel M. Jarvis, president of the North American Trust Company of New York and London, England, who is at the Hotel Cecil, received information that his daughter Elnora, aged 21, was lying at the point of death in Jaffa, the result of being pushed from the deck of an Austrian-Lloyd Mediterranean steamer at that port, by native boatmen, and falling into a rowboat five feet below.

Miss Jarvis had been making a tour around the world with her mother. They intended to stop off at Jaffa, where there is no landing pier. Several boatmen boarded the steamer to compete for the privilege of taking them ashore. There was a scuffle among the rejected boatmen, in the course of which Miss Jarvis was shoved over one side of the steamer and fell across the thwarts of a small boat alongside, receiving injuries to her spine that will probably prove fatal.

The matter will be laid before the United States consul, Thos. R. Gibson, who will demand an investigation by the Government at Jaffa.

THE EASTERN SITUATION.

Abdul Hamid in a Rage—At the Course Taken by the Powers.

London, June 10.—The latest advices from Carstantinople deny that the powers are advocating direct negotiations between Turkey and Greece. In other respects, however, the aspect of affairs is rather worse than better. It appears that at Saturday's conference the ambassadors declined to accept either Assim Bey or Zia Bey as a Turkish peace commissioner. This, together with the refusal to discuss the retention of Thessaly, threw the sultan into such a rage that he forthwith summoned a meeting of the special commission appointed to consider the terms of peace. All day on Sunday he was in telegraphic communication with most of the European capitals, and in the evening he gave stringent orders to the grand vizier, who immediately resigned. The special commission sat until the small hours of the morning, accomplishing nothing but a split among its members, the majority of whom expressed themselves emphatically as opposed to yielding to the powers.

The Turks are very angry at the alleged brusque declaration of Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, that England will never permit Christians to return to Turkish rule.

Following upon the reports of Bulgarian restlessness, it is said on high authority that the grand vizier officially advised the sultan last Saturday to revoke the firman conferring the governorship of Eastern Roumelia on Prince Ferdinand, and to appoint a Turkish pasha in his place, basing this advice upon Prince Ferdinand's suspicious attitude and the friendliness of Russia toward Bulgaria. If Bulgaria should seriously demand autonomy for Macedonia, the situation would become extremely grave.

Advices from Athens show that the gravity of affairs is fully recognized there. M. Skouludis, the Greek foreign minister, said on Wednesday evening: "I do not hesitate to say that the present is a most critical moment for our existence as a nation."

It is said that the Turks have burned all the villages around Domokos, and have occupied and strongly fortified the villages of Trikeri and Angistri, as well as defending the entrance to the harbor of Volo.

The Odessa branch of the Credit Lyonnaise has consigned £240,000 in gold to the Turkish troops as a loan by a Franco-Belgian group on Turkish railway guarantees.

Anti-Christian Riots

Have Taken Place at Liu Ching, China.

Three Christians Killed Outright and Others Wounded.

A Catholic Priest Among the Victims—More Murders Likely to Occur.

New York, June 10.—A special from Vancouver, B. C., says: Anti-Christian riots have taken place in Liu Ching, China. A mob of fanatics, loudly proclaiming that Roman Catholics had kidnapped their children, rushed simultaneously on the mission building. In the fierce fight that ensued three Christians were killed outright, eight wounded and four captured. The Rev. Father Mazelis is among the Roman Catholics killed.

The wildly yelling mob attacked the rear and front of the priest's house. With the help of friendly natives he barricaded the back and faced the mob in front with a rifle; but the barricades were broken down. The priest was shot and his body hacked to pieces.

Placards are being posted throughout many districts, stating that foreigners must be driven out of the country, or that China will be divided between them, and their homes destroyed and their children stolen from them. It is feared that more murders will occur, as leagues are being formed, in some districts thousands strong, with the avowed intention of exterminating the Roman Catholic missionaries.

The missionaries refuse to leave, saying they will resist to the last, trusting to providence.

The priests sent out from the Paris headquarters are 27 in number, the bishop being Mgr. Nuilon. There are, besides, thirteen nuns. The mission is divided into 25 stations, which are attended by about 15,000 Chinese or Manchurian Catholics. The ecclesiastics state that the missionaries are inclined to attribute the atrocities which are reported from Mongolia to robbers who infest the country rather than to political or anti-religious agitators.

500 Lives Lost.

Scores of Fishermen's Boats Swamped in a Gale

That Swept the Chusan Archipelago—No Chance to Seek Shelter.

Victoria, B. C., June 10.—The steamer Empress of Japan brings news of a disaster which befell the fishermen of Chusan Archipelago, off the coast of China.

On May 6, when most of the fishing boats were out on the fishing banks, a terrible gale sprang up. Of the several hundred boats out at the time very few returned, and it is estimated that 500 men lost their lives. The fishermen had no chance to seek shelter. Their light boats were smashed, and they were left to fight a hopeless battle with the waves.

The storm swept over the entire archipelago, which extends across the mouth of Hanchow Bay, on the eastern coast of China. Several large junks were lost, in which scores perished.

MR. WHITNEY AT ST. THOMAS.

The Opposition Leader and His Colleagues.

St. Thomas, June 10.—Mr. J. C. Whitney, the Conservative leader in the Ontario Legislature, arrived in the city yesterday from Aylmer, accompanied by J. W. St. John, Toronto; Col. Matheson, of Perth, and Dr. W. A. Willoughby, of Colborne. The party were met at the depot by a committee composed of the leading members of the Conservative party, and were driven around the city and shown through the M. C. R. shops and other places of interest.

In the evening a mass meeting was held in the Duncombe Opera House, which was attended by a large crowd of both ladies and gentlemen. The hall was very tastefully decorated and mottoes suitable for the occasion were hung on the walls.

The chair was occupied by Dr. Guest, of Shedden, president of the West Elgin Liberal-Conservative Association. Speeches on the same lines as at London were given by the visitors.

Topics of Today.

A large and representative delegation of lumbermen, bank presidents and directors and representatives of railway and transportation companies waited upon the Government and urged that the ministers take power to make provision by order in council to impose an export duty on logs and pulpwood equal at least to the United States import duty, should that be ultimately imposed.

The number of applications at the postoffice for the jubilee issue of postage stamps indicates some misunderstanding on the part of the collectors and the public. These stamps will be sold exclusively on and after the 21st inst., and all stamp-vendors in the city will be supplied with them on demand, just as they now are with the ordinary stamps in general use. There is no hurry. There will be plenty of them, and there is no need to bespeak and denomination. It is said that every mail brings letter to postmasters from all parts of this continent and Great Britain, clamoring for jubilee stamps, but it will be a week before they are received from Ottawa, and they will be sold with limitations as to the number of any one sort issued to the same licensed vendor within a specified time.

Parliament.

The Cold Storage Agreements Laid Before the House.

Reforms in the Postoffice Service of the Country.

Very Rapid Progress Made in Passing the New Tariff.

Ottawa, June 10.—Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, gave notice last night of the following proposed resolutions: (1) That it is expedient to ratify certain agreements between the Government and certain companies, entered into under authority of an order in Council, dated May 4, 1897, for providing cold storage on steamships from Montreal to the United Kingdom during the season of 1897, 1898, and 1899, as follows: With Messrs. H. & A. Allan and Messrs. David Torrance & Co., for two steamships each, and a regular, and, if possible, weekly, service to Liverpool; with Messrs. H. & A. Allan and Messrs. Wm. Thomson & Sons, for three steamships each, and a weekly service to London; with Messrs. H. & A. Allan and Messrs. R. Reford & Co., for one steamship each and a fortnightly service to Glasgow; with Messrs. Elder, Dempster & Co., for five steamships and a weekly service to Avonmouth; each steamship to have cold storage capacity of about 10,000 cubic feet (to Avonmouth about 20,000 cubic feet); the cost of the refrigeration plant and insulation to be estimated at $10,000 per steamship (to Avonmouth at $12,325), one-half of which is to be paid by the Government in three equal annual installments. (2) That it is expedient to authorize the Governor in Council to enter into contracts with any person or company for providing cold storage accommodation at Toronto, Quebec, Halifax, St. John, and Charlottetown, the Government granting a dividend of 5 per cent annually for three years on a sum not exceeding $40,000 on the cost of the cold storage premises and refrigerating plant at Quebec, at Halifax and St. John, on a sum not exceeding $50,000 at Toronto, and on a sum not exceeding $20,000 at Charlottetown.

Mr. Mulock introduced a bill to amend the postoffice act. It proposed to simplify the system under which the fidelity of officers was guaranteed. A special fund to be contributed to by the officers themselves would be established. It was proposed also to establish a railway mail service with a controller having fifteen years' service, and a superintendent with ten years' experience. These officers would be selected from the present staff. A provision was also in the bill subjecting railway mail clerks to examination. A new class of officers, to be called stampers and sorters, will be created. At present first class clerks were engaged in this work. The work in Great Britain was done by stampers and sorters, as proposed here.

The House, in committee, resumed consideration of the tariff, taking up items Nos. 255 and 256, barbed wire and strip fencing, and galvanized wire for fencing. Nos. 9, 12 and 13, 15 per cent. until Jan. 1, 1898, and thereafter free. A lively discussion ensued upon a statement by Mr. Paterson that it was never intended to go further and make all wire fencing free. This left the woven wire fencing at 25 per cent.

Mr. Foster insinuated that the duty was retained on woven wire fencing because it was made in a factory represented by a supporter.

Mr. McGregor said there was a factory in Walkerville making a woven wire fence and using 1,000 tons of wire a year. There were other factories in London, Ingersoll, Toronto and other places; a large number of farmers had machines for weaving their own fences, with five or ten strands, as they wished. It was true a large number did not use barbed wire, but in Manitoba it was needed. The Government had made large strides towards giving the farmers free fencing.

Mr. Fielding believed the Government would be credited with giving reasonable concessions to the farmers, and Mr. Paterson stated that 6,000 tons of barbed wire would be used this year, and his information was that the use of it, instead of declining, was increasing.

Mr. Wood, of Hamilton, pointed out that a large amount of wire goes direct to the farmer from the retail shops, and they weave the fence on the ground.

Mr. Rutherford, on behalf of Manitoba farmers, thanked the Government for the free barbed wire which was used so much up there.

Mr. Semple said that free barbed wire would be a boon in Ontario.

The item was held over.

When the House resumed after recess the Conservative benches were empty, for the members of the party were holding a love feast down stairs in honor of Sir Charles Tupper. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Henderson were the only Conservatives left in the House, and the former had a list of the items to be allowed to go through without debate. Practically, the whole of the dutiable list with the exception of the textiles, was rushed through at an amazing pace.

Mr. McMullen thought things were too one-sided, and crossed the floor to the front Opposition bench, amid cheers. Soon, by the courtesy of his friends, he had a huge pile of blue books in front of him, and was ready to do business as a regular Opposition. The loyal Conservative Opposition smilingly refused to acknowledge his authority, but the chairman, now and again, to keep up the joke, waited until Mr. McMullen nodded before crying carried. The free list was rushed through till salt was reached, when Messrs. McMullen, Cameron, McGregor and Dr. Macdonald, from the Ontario salt district, asked for more stringent regulations to prevent the free importation of salt for general use under cover of the declaration that it is for the deep sea fisheries. Their plea was not successful.

By 10:30 o'clock the whole tariff, except some 50 items, including textiles, free corn, sugars, tobacco and a few minor articles, had gone through, over 300 items, including all the free list, having been rushed through in two hours. The House adjourned in great humor, and Sir Richard Cartwright looked very well relieved.

THE METHODISTS.

Changes Made by the Hamilton Conference Stationing Committee.

Brantford, June 9.—The second draft of the stationing committee of the Hamilton Conference was further amended yesterday, when the change made by taking Mr. Worrall from Dyers' Bay and the resignation of Rev. T. H. Orme in the morning necessitated several further changes. Dyers Bay was filled by Rev. George A. Maudson, from the list of reserve. Rev. A. I. Terryberry goes to Zion in the Galt district in place of Rev. John H. McArthur, B.D., who goes to Norval in Milton district in place of Rev. J. H. Dyke, who again goes to Bright in place of Rev. W. W. Sparling, who goes to Fenwick, in Welland district, when Rev. J. Parker Bell goes to Bridgeburg, in place of Rev. T. H. Orme, M.A., Ph.D., who resigned in the course of the morning.

BASEBALL

LONDONS DEFEAT THE TORONTOS.

London defeated the Toronto team yesterday by a score of 9 to 6. The visitors played a fine fielding game. Greer made an overthrow and failed to stop a hot liner, but otherwise they played an excellent game and accorded Johnston the best of support.

The Toronto team did not play with their usual snap. Hardy was a trifle wild, but allowed only six hits off his delivery. Poor support lost the game. Rain fell during the eighth and ninth innings, and consequently the pitchers lost control of the ball. Johnston kept the hits scattered until the eighth, when two two-baggers netted three runs. Johnston established a record by striking out eleven of the local players. Score:

GUELPH SORE.

The people of Guelph would rather suffer war, pestilence and famine than see their baseball club beaten, especially by London. The Leafs have been playing good ball, but because they lost two straights, the Mercury says: "The Leafs were defeated in London yesterday by a score of 8 to 5. The Leafs are not expected to win all the time, neither are they supposed to lose with monotonous regularity, and it is quite time now for them to shake themselves and win a game or two. The work in the last two or three games has not been what it should be, and it is quite certain some of the players need disciplining."

THE HAMS AND THE EASTERN LEAGUE.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 10.—Manager Abner Powell, of the Wilkesbarre baseball team, denies that the franchise of his club will be transferred to Hamilton, Ont., as reported. He said that Wilkesbarre would last out the season. It was rumored last night that the Wilkesbarre club was in financial straits, and that they would surrender their charter at the end of the week, and that the Hamilton club of the Canadian association would take its place. In many ways this would be for the best, as Hamilton is a red-hot town for sport, and the jumps between Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo, Hamilton and Toronto would be short.

CANADIAN LEAGUE GOSSIP.

The Torontos will play in London tomorrow the game which was scheduled to be played in Toronto. As a matter of fact, Manager Maddock does not find it profitable to play at home when the Eastern League team is also there, more particularly as the latter is putting up great ball. The Canadian team does not draw as well in the Queen City as is desirable, and it is a question whether Toronto will be able to remain in the Canadian League if the Eastern League competition continues. The league cannot survive with only three clubs, although Hamilton, Guelph and London are paying towns. In this connection there is an interesting report, that Montreal will join in the Canadian circuit whether Toronto remains or not. Montreal is a good ball town, and has a professional team, which plays continual exhibition games at home and in the bordering States. The London club has engaged to play three games there in August, and the Hamiltons have been there for nearly a week. The distance might be urged as an objection against Montreal, but it is only a night's travel, and would be a two days' stand, while the Montreal team could put in nearly a week on the Ontario circuit before returning home. The presence in Montreal of President Stroud, of the Hamiltons, lends color to the rumor. He has been able to test the popularity of ball in the metropolis on his present visit, and may make up his mind accordingly. A five-club league would add zest to the race.

LOUISVILLE'S SUCCESS.

An analysis of the situation at Louisville discloses the fact that the long string of victories that have gone to the credit of the Colonels have been due almost wholly to the effectiveness of the twirling corps, with Fraser and Hill as the star performers on the rubber.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

The Cleveland Recorder says: Jokingly, President Robison remarked to President Von der Horst Thursday that he would bet any sum from $500 to $5,000 that the Spiders would win the majority of a series of twelve games, to be played with the Orioles after the championship season is ended. The joke ended seriously, the magnates agreeing to arrange such a series.

A PITCHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"The secret—in fact, the first principle—of pitching is to get the ball over the plate, to make the batsman hit at it, for, if a base on balls is given, the first chance for a put-out is gone," says Pitcher King. "The balls at the command of a pitcher often work freakishly. Some days I find it almost impossible to pitch a curve; that is, I can curve the ball, but I can't get it over the plate. When I am under this handicap I strike the curve out of my repertoire, and depend on speed and command."

PORT HURON'S FRANCHISE SOLD.

The franchise for the Port Huron team in the State League has been transferred by Manager Goble to David McArron, manager of the Purt Huron Baseball Association. Mr. Goble will be retained as manager for the team, while Mr. McArron will manage the business affairs. Catcher Mitchell and Second Baseman McMillan have been released. Several new players have been signed, among others a catcher from Kansas, who last season played on the same team with "Daddy" Meek and Woolover.

FLYS.

Hamilton Herald squibs: "We always thought the Londons were a better team than the 1897 Leafs. * * * Guelph should pay Bradford two salaries; he is doing two men's work. * * * London boosted up another notch in the direction of that pennant by defeating Guelph yesterday. * * * Cochran and Henley are a pair of mighty good twirlers, and the boss fan of 'em all has concluded to let them remain on the team for another week or two, anyway."

The Arlingtons, of this city, will try conclusions with the Ingersoll club on Saturday afternoon.

A game of ball was played by the Riversides and the Jubilees on Tuesday, resulting in favor of the latter by a score of 16 to 11.

A game of ball was played between the Jubilees and Shamrocks, resulting in favor of the Jubilees by a score of 6 to 5. Batteries—For Jubilees, Allan and Harley; for Shamrocks, Powell and Turner.

Corbett plays first for Scranton in a game in the Coal Town that Fitzsimmons has agreed to umpire. Manager Irwin is arranging for the same in Toronto.

An interesting game of ball was played on Thornton avenue commons last evening, between the Waverleys and the Victorias, resulting in favor of the Victorias by a score of 32 to 9. Batteries—For Victorias, Harris and Archer; for Waverlys, Bridle, Smith, and Dixen.

Vigneaux, of the Maple Leafs, says Kershaw, of London, is the hardest man to hit he has ever batted against. Several of the Leafs are of the same opinion.

Kid Gleason has spoiled more base hits this season than any other infielder in the National League.

In his 28 games with Philadelphia, Hallman batted for .265, and had a fielding percentage of .955.

D. B. Sayers, of Youngstown, said to be a speedy pitcher, has arrived at Guelph to play with the Leafs. Chas. Crowe, also a pitcher, is expected to join Guelph this week.

Eleven among sixteen of the Baltimore players have batting averages ranging from .310 to .445, and O'Brien and Quinn are the only regulars below that high standard.

Pitcher Horton, from Baltimore, has signed with Syracuse.

Ely has taken part in 12 double plays this season, Padden in 11, Lyons in 8, Davis in 7, Sugden in 2, and Smith, Donovan, Killen and Tannehill each in one.

Ex-Champion Jim Corbett wants $400 to play first base in an Interstate game.

WHEEL.

THE C. W. A. MEET.

From present appearances the entry list at Chatham in July will be the biggest in the history of the C. W. A. The entries have been pouring in during the past few days, and even should no more come in the races there should be exciting ones. With such events as the $1,000 handicap, the W. G. and R. trophy team race, eight championships, the big road race and eight open events, even the most exacting should be satisfied.

WILL YOU BE A BICYCLIST?

If you contemplate buying a wheel, you cannot do better than invest in a Massey-Harris. Judging by the large output, everybody will yet ride a Silver-Ribbon wheel. It's built on merit. W. & H. Payne, 393 Richmond street, Agents.

THE TURF.

SQUIRE PETERS' HORSES.

Toronto Globe: "The late Col. John Peters, of London, was prominent in racing in the earlier days of the Canadian turf, and he won the first Queen's plate ever run for at Woodbine. That was in 1876, 21 years ago, and though the Squire got her Majesty's guineas, Norah P. did not finish in front. The first horse home was Francis Lowell's Mary L., Norah P. second and the white representative Sunnyside, with Charlie Wise up, third. Mary L. was disqualified for a foul in the stretch, and Norah P. was placed first, Sunnyside second. Norah P. was by imported The Tester. Squire Peters had his turn again in 1878, when the plate was run in London for the third and last time. His winner was King George, by King Tom, ridden by Allie Gates. King George was not thought to have the least chance, but when the horses were at the post an intoxicated spectator, leaning over the rail, offered to bet $5 on Gates' mount, and the jockey immediately said: "I'll take that myself." King George won in spite of the guessers, and the drunken man, who had run across lots to see the finish, was on hand to claim his five as soon as Gates dismounted. The old Squire had dropped out of the sport of late years, and, if memory serves, the last time his colors were seen up was when Lord Byron was among the lot at Woodbine seven or eight years ago."

GOLF.

LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP OF ENGLAND.

The championship series of the Ladies' Golf Union of England narrowed down to the two Misses Orr, who belong to a Glasgow family, and were taught golf at North Berwick, where they have resided for some years, by Davie Grant, the well-known professional. The final was won by Miss E. C. Orr, who beat her elder sister by 4 up and 3 to play.

CRICKET

GUELPH CRICKETERS WON.

Guelph, June 10.—The cricket match between Waterloo and Guelph resulted in favor of the latter by 100 runs. In the first inning Carter, for Guelph, took five wickets for three, and Woodcock five wickets for sixteen, all being bowled.

ATHLETICS.

MAHER VS. SHARKEY.

New York, June 10.—Over 8,000 spectators were packed in the Palace Athletic Club's quarters last night when the Maher-Sharkey mill began. The seating capacity of the house is estimated at 8,000, and the aisles and every square inch of standing room were crowded to suffocation. Large delegations from the principal cities west of Chicago were on hand. Maher was a pronounced favorite with the bettors, odds of 100 to 80 and 100 to 70 being bet on Peter's chances. John L. Sullivan, James J. Corbett and Charles (Kid) McCoy occupied boxes at the ringside, and each got a rousing reception when he made his appearance.

The proceedings in the first five rounds were not what was expected, and there were cries of "Fight! fight!" which showed that some of those present did not like such tame boxing. In the sixth there was a long spell of fiddling and dancing around. Sharkey tried to get Maher into a neutral corner, and sent a straight right on the mouth, which put Maher down, and he fell half through the ropes, where he remained fully six seconds. His mouth was bleeding when he got up, and the bell rang ten seconds later.

In the seventh round Maher's face wore a worried look when he came to the scratch. After some sparring, clinching and a break-away, Maher swung a left on the face and a right on the jaw, which sent Sharkey on his back at the ropes. When Sharkey arose the men clinched, and were in that position when the gong sounded. Maher was using his right hand, sending uppercuts on the ribs and body, and did not break when the gong sounded. When they did break, one of Maher's seconds rushed over to take Maher to his corner, when Sharkey turned and punched one of the seconds on the nose. There were cries of "Foul!" while Maher and Sharkey were clinched at the call of time, but the police jumped into the ring and created an uproar by arresting the principals, seconds and the referee. The bout was declared a draw. The men were taken to the One Hundred and Fourth street police station.

CRAWFORD OUT IN A ROUND.

Erie, Pa., June 10.—The Gem City Athletic Club held its weekly entertainment on Monday night. The first bout was between Gene Lobee and Jack Crawford, of Toronto. They were to spar fifteen rounds. When time was called for the first round, Lobee went at Crawford like a demon, and before the gong sounded he had put him out of the business.

FAST ONES.

Says the London Mail: "Sound judges of form who have seen Kilpatrick run since he arrived in England, are unanimous in saying that no half-miler since the days of L. E. Myers ever ran with a finer or cleaner stride. The manner in which he drops his heel after the toe strikes the ground is much admired. Experts are of opinion that this is a factor which contributes to his staying power, as it lessens the jar to the body and the muscles of the legs."

At the annual meet of the Western Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association in Chicago on Saturday, J. H. Mayburry, the crack sprinter of the University of Wisconsin, broke the world's record for 220 yards around a turn, covering the distance in 21 2-5 seconds. He also equaled the world's amateur record for 100 yards—9 4-5 seconds. In both events he won easily.

THE INVALID.

Languid People Who Lack Vitality and Force—A Gift of Modern Science Which is a Blessing to Them—Read About it.

Our reporter recently visited Mr. James Johnston, 646 Maitland street, London, Ont., Mr. Johnston has been a resident in London for some 23 years, and his words carry great weight.

Says Mr. Johnston: "I had a severe attack of La Grippe four years ago. Since that time I have suffered greatly from pain in the back, sometimes so much so that I could hardly walk across the room. At night I suffered so much that my sleep was fitful and uncertain and gave me no rest. It was an effort for me to get out of bed in the morning. I had further pronounced and painful symptoms of kidney disease, and until I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at W. J. Strong's drug store, almost despaired of a cure.

It was a happy day for me when I got the pills, because they cured me, removed all my distressing kidney troubles, drove out the pain in my back, restored healthy, restful sleep, and have made me a strong, healthy man today.

"I can say that Doan's Kidney Pills are a quick-acting, sure cure for kidney and back troubles, and as such I recommend them to suffering humanity."

The "Common Sense"

Visit to the Bicycle Factory—How the Work Is Done.

Skilled Mechanics, Good Material and the Best Machinery Used on the "Common Sense" Bicycles.

The home the "Common Sense" bicycle leaves, to add to its already prominent position in the wheeling world, is of such an excellent character as to make it more than a guarantee that this make of bicycle will be fully up to the highest required standard of excellence. In point of beauty, mechanical construction and quality of material used, backed as it is by an abundant capital and the most complete factory to be found anywhere, it cannot be other than an unqualified success.

An Advertiser representative cordially responded to an invitation to go through the factory, accompanied by the general manager, Mr. James Wilson. Beginning with the office of the concern, that covers such an area, it was first noted the conveniences therein contained. It is large and airy, well lighted and comfortable, and more than busily engaged in it are a large staff of clerks, accountants, typewriters, etc., doing their level best to keep pace with the work in their different departments.

From this busy hive of industry the way diverted to one no less so. It was in the machinery department, and it kept the visitor dodging here and there among turret lathes, engine lathes, drills, planing machines, drilling machines, shapers, screw-cutting machines, grinders, etc., of various powers and sizes. In passing in and out amongst them, it was interesting to note the work going on—cones, axles, hubs, cranks, etc., being machined. The visitor was curious, and asked the manager what it was that seemed to jar the place so. He quieted any misapprehension by informing the representative that it was only the drop-hammer at work making forgings to be used in the construction of the bicycles. Soon the caller found himself in the presence of these thunderers, surrounded by smaller hammers and presses. The scene was brightened by the ruddy glow of forge fires, and the merry ring of the anvil pealed forth, adding its music to the deafening sound of the hammer.

From here the visitor went his way back to the brazing room. Here and there you see automatic saws cutting off tubing to their proper lengths; here also is to be seen the deft mechanic, assembling the parts and forming the frame. A little further on he witnessed it assuming shape and proportion, until it finally reached the brazing fires. Here experts are closely engaged in the operation of brazing, and the eye becomes almost blinded watching the process. Then you see the little rivers of molten brass running into the crevices, making as it cools off a solid compact, with tubing and forgings, to keep them together for all time to come.

A little further on is to be found an army of filers, sturdy-looking fellows, who succeed in making the most discordant music that grates upon the ear of the uninitiated, yet there is a wierdness in the blending of the sounds that is really fascinating. The caller passed on to the wheel room, where the rims are prepared to receive the spokes and be finally completed, ready to be put into the frames, and he dodged around drilling machines and jigs used for setting up and trueing the wheels, when he found himself not far from the enameling room.

Here again is a busy quarter. The ovens used for baking the enamel on the frames are of immense capacity, and all around the room are to be seen artists of the brush, who ply their trade unceasingly. The visitor bid adieu to the foreman of this department, and next found his way to the nickelling room, where there are a number of baths or vats taxed to their uttermost, in whose confines nickel is being extracted from the anodes and deposited on the various articles prepared by the polisher's art to receive it, which are suspended from rods attached to a marvelously complete electric plant; controlled by experts in the art of electric plating.

From here we proceeded to the pattern and testing room, where the mysteries of the success of the "Common Sense" becomes apparent. Here draftsmen are busy, pattern makers plying their trade, engineers testing, experimenting and keeping a general supervisionary eye over the work in process, and performing their watchful duty of letting nothing pass that would be discreditable to the name or fame of the "Common Sense."

The stock room was next visited, where are to be seen special steel for cones and cups, hubs, axles, cranks, and other parts in the raw state, as well as a formidable array of tubing, tires and rims, and adjoining which is another stock room, containing only the completed parts that enter into the construction of the "Common Sense" and "Huron" wheels, which in turn is connected by means of an elevator with the erecting room, where the bicycles are finally assembled and crated ready for shipment.

The necessarily hurried trip wound up at the office, from which point the trip started, and where The Advertiser representative took leave of his guide and wended his way towards the station, convinced that he had seldom had such a privilege to be conducted through so methodically arranged an equipment, and one so extensive as possessed by the Henderson Bicycle Company, Limited, of Goderich, and was more than ever impressed that the "Common Sense," if not the only, is the leader of high-grade bicycles. Coming from such a home as it does, manufactured from the best raw materials procurable, treated at the hand of skilled mechanics, aided by the latest and best machinery for the purpose that money can buy or the ingenuity of man suggest, why shouldn't it be?

THE VALLEY OF PAIN.

HOW ONE WOMAN MADE HER ESCAPE.

A LIFE OF TORTURE CHANGED TO A LIFE OF COMFORT AND HAPPINESS BY KOOTENAY CURE.

Of all the intense and persistent forms of pain one can scarcely conceive of anything more agonizing than Neuralgia. Its victim is one of those that draws forth our sympathy and pity as all efforts to effect a cure with the ordinary remedies signally fail to do anything more than give the merest temporary relief. Unbounded joy should fill the hearts of neuralgic sufferers at the announcement that in Kootenay the "new ingredient" is effecting miracles in the way of banishing the excruciating agony which has rendered their lives a curse, perhaps for years.

Mrs. William Judge, of Crumlin, P. O., in the County of Middlesex, went before C. G. Jarvis, a notary public of Ontario, and made a solemn declaration (so firmly did she believe in Kootenay) to the effect that for many years she was an intense sufferer from Neuralgia. She says that the pains in her head and neck were so severe she thought she would lose her reason.

She has taken Ryckman's Kootenay Cure and willingly testifies it has been her salvation, and believes that without it she would now be in the asylum.

This lady has had the deep shadow of suffering lifted from her life. She has been transported from the Valley of Pain to the Hill Top of Health—and all through Kootenay.

Mrs. James Kenny, of 30 York St., Hamilton, Ont., and many others testify under oath how they were released from suffering through the agency of Ryckman's Kooteny Cure.

Full particulars of these cases will be mailed you by sending your address to the Ryckman Medicine Co., Hamilton, Ont.

The remedy is not dear, one bottle lasts a month.

Crop Outlook.

Reports of the Prospects in Western Ontario.

Farming operations Delayed by Cold, Wet Weather.

But the Outlook Is Good in Most Places—Some Damage by Frost—Rain Needed in Manitoba.

Toronto, June 10.—Reports were received yesterday from various parts of the province as to the condition of crops. Following are from Western Ontario:

Acton — Fall wheat and rye good. Oats, peas, hay and spring grain promise good crop. Corn not so good. Fruit promises good crop, but will be late.

Aylmer — Fall wheat about two-thirds of a crop. Oats looking well. Corn and potatoes only now being planted. Hay and peas a full crop. All fruits promise a good yield, and if the weather is warm there will be an abundant crop.

Bright—Fall wheat and hay the best for many years. Spring grain looking good.

Brussels—Fall wheat looks well, and promises a good crop. Spring wheat, very little sown. Peas—The growth is slow, and badly scalded with rain. The oat crop and hay will be a good average. All kinds of small fruits badly damaged by frost.

Colchester — Fall wheat and clover an excellent crop. Timothy also good. Rye above average. Potatoes and roots generally good. Oats and peas promise fine yield. Corn not doing much. Cold weather greatly against it.

Corunna — Fall wheat and hay good. Barley, oats and peas fairly good. Potatoes, corn and all hoe crops poor. Apples, pears, plums and cherries good. All small fruits poor. On the whole, much better than last year.

Dorchester—Hay an abundant crop. Fall wheat good. Spring grain of all kinds looking well. Root crops generally late. Good prospects for fruit of all kinds.

Dutton—The crops in this neighborhood are, upon the whole, better than an average, although a little backward, owing to the cold weather. There is very little damage done by frost; only a few low places are noticeably touched. Wheat promises to exceed last year. Oats, peas and barley are very good. Meadows are excellent; never known to be better. Corn very backward as yet, and in some places replanted. Apples, notwithstanding the enormous crop of last year, promise to be an average crop; some varieties, such as the Northern Spies, will be abundant. Strawberries are a little late, but have escaped any very serious injury from frost. Beans are not being planted at all in this locality. Pasture was never known to be better, and cattle are looking very fine.

Embro — Fall wheat good. Hay good. Barley fair. Peas good. Oats poor.

Goderich — Crops somewhat backward, owing to the heavy and continuous rains in low lands. It is feared that some of the seed sown may rot, but on the higher lands, and in the more sandy soil, the growth is a good average. The fruit crop promises a magnificent yield. Potatoes will be light.

Kingsville — Fall wheat good. Oats fair. Rye good. Hay, extra large yield. Corn prospects poor; farmers now planting second time. Potatoes an early crop; looking fine. Peaches almost a total failure. Apples and pears medium. Plums and cherries, prospects for large yield. Strawberries and raspberries, enormous crop in sight.

Leamington—Wheat and oats good, though the acreage sown is not up to former years. Corn backward, owing to continued coolness of the season. Apples, plums, and pears promise well. Small fruits—Strawberries raspberries, etc., abundant. Peaches a total failure.

Listowel—Fall wheat and grass will be a good average, though somewhat damaged by rain. Root seeding very late, on account of rain. Fruit considerably damaged by late frosts.

Milverton — The crop outlook fairly good. Hay above average. Fall wheat, increased acreage sown, and except in low spots, looks fine. Spring grain, owing to too much wet, is backward. Very little planting of potatoes done yet.

Mitchell — On some low lands the crops are under water. With fair weather the general crop will reach the average. When the ground is well drained fall wheat is looking well. Barley and oats fair. Very little spring wheat, and only a fair crop. Hay in abundance. Root crops very backward. Very promising outlook for fruit, particularly the small varieties.

Galt—Rye, wheat and hay never looked better, but root crops are very backward, especially potatoes and corn, the continued wet weather causing all crops in low-lying lands to rot. Fruit will be very plentiful.

Paris — Fall wheat exceptionally good. Spring grain, on account of the backward weather, is fully two weeks later than last year, but looks very promising with good weather. Hay, good on new meadows. Plums and cherries and small fruits very good. Apples quite up to the average.

Pelee Island — Fall wheat extra good. All small spring grain good. Corn very backward. A fair crop of fruits of all kinds, except peaches.

Petrolea—Fall wheat badly winter-killed; half a crop. Oats looking just fair. Peas looking fair. Barley, very little sown in this vicinity, and what is sown only small prospects. All spring crops backward, owing to wet season. Small fruits looking well.

Port Stanley—Fall wheat and meadows looking very good. Spring crops of all kinds backward, and not doing well. Apples look well in bloom. Small fruits, very poor show so far. Wet, cold weather is telling on them.

Sandwich—Wheat prospects good. Oats poor. Corn looks bad. Potatoes fair. Hay fair. Fruit—Peaches, no crop; strawberries and raspberries, good; apples, cherries, plums and pears, very light.

Simcoe — The outlook for crops was never better than it is this spring, through all this section of country. There was no winter-killing of either wheat or clover, and the cool, damp weather has caused them to make a vigorous growth. Spring crops are a little late, but are getting a fine start. On some heavy soils there is too much wet, but injury so far is slight.

Southampton — Fall wheat fair. Spring crops very poor. Hay poor on account of rain. Fruit blossoms killed out with frost in many places. Many have not completed spring sowing yet.

Strathroy — The crops on a whole are looking very promising considering the backward spring and the great amount of rain. Fall wheat—There will be about an average crop. Spring wheat—Very little sown. Hay—There will be a big crop; above the average. Oats and barley about an average crop. Rye—A good crop.

Tiverton—Prospects for abundance of hay and fall wheat, but spring crops are in a very backward condition on account of the cold and continuous rains. Roots are doing well, on account of being planted so late.

Wallaceburg—In this neighborhood fall wheat and hay are looking well, and promise an average yield. Spring crops are very backward. Frequent rains and cold weather prevented farmers getting them in early. Small fruits in abundance. Apples promise half a crop.

Walkerton — With the exception of some low patches that have suffered from the rain, crops in this section never were better. Everything promises an abundant yield.

Wardsville—Fall wheat looks pretty fair. Hay extra good. Oats and other spring grain backward. Very little corn planted as yet in this locality.

Walkerville — Hay crop good. Fall wheat good, though only small quantity sown. Corn and oats, owing to cold, wet weather, in very bad shape, and unless weather gets warmer there will be very small yield.

Watford—The crops in this vicinity promise about an average all over. Fall wheat will be about an average crop, although some portions will be a very uneven yield. Spring grains are looking well on high ground lands, but on low lands many fields have rotted on account of the long continued wet weather. Hay will be a heavy crop. Very little planting has been done, and farmers are just beginning to put in corn and peas. Small fruits will be very plentiful, and there will be a much larger yield of apples than was expected. We have had several heavy frosts, and cannot say yet what the effect they may have had on the fruits.

Wingham — Fall wheat, hay and apples crops exceptionally good. Small fruit in abundance. Root crop not planted yet.

Wroxeter — Fall wheat and hay first-class. Fruit promises abundant crop. Spring crops backward, on account of rain and cool weather.

IN MANITOBA.

Reports from every part of Manitoba for some days were to the effect that rain was badly needed. It was therefore with a feeling of considerable anxiety that the lowering clouds of yesterday were watched, and with a feeling of thanksgiving the first few drops of rain, which commenced falling shortly after eight o'clock, were received. Telegraphic reports as far west as Brandon announced that it was raining there, and similar news was received from all branch lines.

There is considerable talk among the Tilsonburg councilors in regard to putting a high license on the sale of cigarettes, so as to make the sale of them prohibitory.

The bylaw regulating the sale of cigarettes in Aylmer comes in force on July 1, 1897. Cigarettes will be handled by the hotels in the future, not by the shop-keepers.

Stratford Beacon: The Hickson cheese factory on the last day of May received 55,300 pounds of milk and made 60 cheese of an average weight of 80 pounds. This is the factory record.

Chief Pow, of Tilsonburg, has been instructed to prosecute those who break the law forbidding tobacco to be supplied to minors under 18 years of age. The penalty is a fine, which may be as high as $50 and not lower than $10, the alternative to be imprisonment.

The Forest Standard says: There will be 30,000 Orangemen at Port Huron on July 12. They will be from Huron and Bruce, from nearly all the counties in the southern Canadian peninsula, from Cleveland and Detroit in the south, to Saginaw in the north. It will be a big rally.

At the I. O. O. F. district meeting, held at Woodstock Tuesday night, Bro. James Smillie, of Princeton, was elected D. D. G. M. for the ensuing year. The following officers were also elected: D. B. McCarty, Thamesford, district secretary; R. T. Agar, Ingersoll, warden; Bro. Murray, Woodstock, guardian.

Galt Reformer: Martin Zuber, of the Queen's Hotel, has in his possession a logging chain 7 feet 6 inches in length, made entirely of wood. Every link is shaped in an almost perfect manner, and is intact. It was manufactured by Henry Quail, of Tavistock, and was carved out of a piece of ordinary scantling, 2x4, and 3 feet 7 inches long.

On Friday, April 2, Andrew Park, a British Columbia miner, and whose relatives live in Raleigh, came to Chatham. During the afternoon while asleep in the sitting-room of the Wooden Hotel he was robbed of $30. A young man named McSherry, whose home is in Ingersoll, was suspected and arrested. Seventy-five dollars in cash was found on the young man. He will be returned to Chatham for examination.

Mr. Alex. Ross, of Detroit, a former resident of Woodstock, and an old settler of Embro, died in Woodstock on Monday morning while on a visit to relatives. He was in his 88th year, and settled in Embro 55 years ago, where he worked as a miller. Seventeen years later he went to Woodstock, and worked in the Great Western Railway yards for many years. He lived in Detroit for the last five years of his life.

Mr. F. R. Waddell, barrister, Hamilton, was married Wednesday afternoon at Sarnia to Miss Maude Eliza Lister, daughter of Mr. James Lister, M. P. for West Lambton. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lister, and Mr. C. H. Ambrose, of Hamilton, was groomsman. Mrs. R. R. Waddell and Mr. J. N. Waddell were among the guests. The newly-wedded couple will visit New York and other eastern cities before taking up their residence at Hamilton.

One of the most fashionable weddings Aylmer has ever seen was celebrated on Wednesday morning at the Episcopal Church. It was the marriage of Miss Grace Kingston, daughter of Dr. Kingston, and one of the most popular ladies in society in Western Ontario, to Dr. J. Ashbaugh, of Windsor. Visitors from many outside points were present, and the largest part of the crowd could not gain admission to the church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Andrews. The groomsman was Dr. Shannon, of Windsor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Nora Kingston and Miss Winnie Ashbaugh. The ushers were George W. Swaisland, of Woodstock, H. P. McMahon and E. A. Miller, Aylmer, and Dr. Marks, Toronto. Prof. Jones, of St. Thomas, was the organist. After a wedding breakfast at the residence of Dr. Kingston, the happy couple left for the Eastern States.

At the general sessions in Chatham on Wednesday Charles Leonard pleaded guilty to burglarizing the stores of G. McIntyre, W. A. McKim and A. McIntosh, Dresden; Duncan McDonald, Darrel, and E. Moir, Eberts; also to carrying an unlawful weapon. Harry Lamont pleaded guilty to burglarizing the McIntyre, McKim, McIntosh and Moir places, as well as Storey's store at Dresden; also to carrying an unlawful weapon. Wm. Harris pleaded guilty to carrying an unlawful weapon, and was also arraigned on the Moir, McDonald, McIntyre, McKim and McIntosh burglaries, to all of which he pleaded not guilty. Sentence will be passed on Tuesday next, when Harris will also be tried on the charges to which he pleaded not guilty.

London, Thursday, June 10, 1897.

Montreal Chinamen ride bicycles. What next?

New York city consumes daily 2,000 carcasses of butcher meat.

When General Weyler rides into one of the "pacified" provinces of Cuba he always takes with him 1,000 cavalrymen. The Spanish general is a humorist.

Premier and Madame Laurier and party are expected to arrive in Liverpool tomorrow. The Liberal leader will have to take care of himself, or he will be killed by the hospitality showered on him from all sides.

Those were timely reminders by Mr. Gage, Secretary of the United States Treasury, to the business men of the country. Faith and courage, he said, lead to conquest and victory. Distrust paralyzes and destroys.

"Come, let us rush things," is the counsel which legislators on both sides of the House of Commons now unite in giving. They are working as hard these days as schoolboys on the eve of an examination for prizes.

So many accidents have taken place in Toronto through bicycle scorching that the police are putting the law in force with vigor. Yesterday 60 scorchers were up before the magistrate. The scorcher on city streets is the public enemy.

It must be specially gratifying to the subjects of her Majesty, in this, the diamond jubilee month, to find that the commerce of the motherland continues to expand. The exports for May increased $2,435,000, and the imports, $14,932,000. Much of the imports was goods taken in payment of interest on investments abroad.

"The arrangement announced last week by the Wabash Railroad that it had leased from the Grand Trunk the Great Western line in Canada from Windsor to Suspension Bridge is regarded by railroad men as being of considerable importance in the transmission of traffic from Wabash territory to the eastern seabord."

Our interest in the deal lies in the fact that it will add to the traffic coming over the G. T. R.—a line in the prosperity of which we are all vitally interested.

Every subscriber to the Globe yesterday received an illuminated jubilee number. It was a magnificent work of art. The letter-press of the 24 special pages is timely. It graphically depicts the progress of Canada and of the empire in the 60 years which have elapsed since Queen Victoria was crowned. The pictorial illustrations are beautiful. The front page of the cover gives pictures of the Queen, Prince of Wales, Duke of York, and baby—four generations—in artistically colored setting. There are pictures of the royal family, the military chiefs of the empire, the governors in all parts of the world, the British and Canadian premiers and other political leaders, historic thoroughfares and buildings in Great Britain, of a number of the cities of Canada, and of scenes of everyday life in various parts of the Dominion. The number is worthy of the occasion and most creditable to the Globe.

The Advance Celebration.

A number of religious bodies in Canada have appointed Sunday, June 20, as an appropriate day on which to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of her Majesty's accession to the throne of Great Britain.

The occasion can be made both interesting and educative. It is not to be supposed that the speakers will take up much of their time with the usual deserved though entirely familiar laudation of her Majesty as wife and mother. Rather will the occasion be taken advantage of to pass in review the phenomenal developments which have occurred throughout the British empire during the sixty eventful years which have passed by; the growth of our race, and the prospect that in the course of time the goal will be reached which will bring about the federated amalgamation of the whole English-speaking people, including the seventy millions who are our neighbors. The larger and broader the view taken, the more educative it will be.

It is indeed a great opportunity, and will doubtless be generally embraced. He must be a poor exponent of ideas who, in looking over the great advance that has been made since her Majesty became Queen would think of confining himself to mere commonplaces. With appropriate music added, the special jubilee service of June 20 may be made most attractive.

Contrast in Divorce.

Let those who are inclined to become impatient because of the progress made in the accomplishment of moral reforms in Canada take some comfort from the position the Dominion holds when compared with other States. Take the question of respect for the marriage vow. There was only one bill for divorce before the Parliament of Canada this year. In the little State of Delaware, one hundred divorce cases were disposed of at the last sitting of the Legislature. Why are the conditions of the two communities so different?

Canada's Business Outlook.

The manager of the Bank of Montreal joins those experienced men who believe that times are bound to improve. Carefulness is required, but the outlook is full of hope. As the Montreal Gazette summarizes the outlook, business in "Great Britain is unusually active, partly the result of generally improved conditions, and partly due to the local effect of the jubilee celebration preparations. The dairy produce season has opened well, and while prices of cheese are much better than they were a year ago, the exports are quite as large as in 1896. The cattle trade also is in fair shape. In Ontario and Manitoba the crop prospects are good. In British Columbia mining operations, carried on on a solid business basis, promise to add not a little to the realized wealth of the region. The construction of over 300 miles of railroad, while it will add to the obligations of the country, will give a temporary impetus to business in the west, and in the end will permanently increase the trade of the whole country. The shipping trade is fairly good, so far as the export movement is concerned. And the banks have abundant capital for aiding in any legitimate expansion of trade. It can reasonably be hoped, therefore, that the dawn of better times is at hand, and that if financial institutions cannot greatly increase their profit they may be able to keep up the old standard with less anxiety."

A New President.

The new president of the Molsons Bank is Mr. W. M. Macpherson, manager at Quebec city of the Dominion line of steamers. Mr. Macpherson is the eldest son of the late Sir David Macpherson, and a brother-in-law of Hon. R. R. Dobell, of the Dominion Government. Mr. Macpherson has been named as one of the new harbor commissioners for Quebec. He is well and favorably known as an experienced man of business.

A Pen Portrait.

On the eve of his sailing for the British Metropolis, to be the guest of her Majesty, the New York World gave a good picture of Premier Laurier, and the following pen portrait, which is a fair estimate of the honorable gentleman, though, of course, the title has been added on a little prematurely:

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada, and one of the Dominion's representatives at the Queen's Jubilee, arrived at the Waldorf yesterday on his way to London.

"He has the face of an ascetic, the deeep-set eyes of the student, a look of gentle and even timid refinement, and yet he led the Liberal party of Canada to power after eighteen years of exile in the wilderness of politics. For years he has been a strong, commanding figure in the affairs of the Dominion. Today he is a ruler.

"Sir Wilfrid is both English and French, the one quite as much as the other. He was born 55 years ago of French parents

"He mastered the English language very early in life, and now it is the language of his household. He has the hard, practical view of affairs of the Saxon race and the fine, diplomatic and courteous manners of those of his own blood."

DOCTORS—THEIR SPRING CONVENTIONS.

Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

Once again the healing forces, met together from all sources, are discussing varied courses, free and easy as you please;
All the latest fancy notions, in the line of pills and potions, and the safest, surest lotions for expelling fell disease.

I can see the certain traces of deep wisdom in their faces, as they tell of doubtful cases they have struggled hard to save;
Oft his case of colonitis, and that other of nephritis, or of common cellulitis that they plucked as from the grave.

I can say without disgressing, honest doctors are a blessing, and for ills of life distressing they can give relief, or try;
And no odds what pain assails you, they can always tell what ails you, and this truth perhaps avails you: you are sure to live or die.

THE VERDICT.

[New York World.]

He—What do you think I ought to get for this picture?
She—At least six months.

The London Election.

Sarnia Observer.

Judges Ferguson and Robertson have decided that with the exception of a case of bribery by an agent, decision upon which has been reserved, there was nothing in the conduct of the London election that would warrant the unseating of Mr. Beattie. The "attic" charges, they declare, were unworthy of credence. True, they found that "a most disgraceful scene took place in the athletic rooms, in which a number of voters were very drunk and incapable," but, "the evidence of several witnesses who told stories of seeing beer kegs taken to the rooms, could not be relied upon. Some of these witnesses were classed as very bad, and not worthy of being believed." These are the reasonings of "learned" judges, and must be accepted. That disgraceful scenes had been enacted in the Conservative attic; that numbers of voters were very drunk and incapable, lying about on mattresses, there was proof positive, but that beer had been taken to the rooms, the judges could not bring themselves to believe, because the witnesses were classed "very bad and not worthy to be believed." Through such reasoning as this the learned judges succeeded in wiping away, one by one, the scores of charges of drunkenness, bribery and corrupt practices, the evidence of which, as published day by day during the trial, filled the country from Halifax to Vancouver with disgust and indignation, and steeped the Conservative party in London in everlasting disgrace. It would have been better, perhaps, of the learned judges had confined themselves to delivering judgment, unaccompanied by the process of reasoning by which they arrived at it.

A well known story, current in legal circles, tells of the governor of a British colony who combined with his other duties that of chief justice. He was a military man, unversed in law, and his judgments frequently outraged the opinions of the best legal minds in the colony, and were subjects of constant apepal to the Privy Council, where they were invariably sustained. It has been a marked feature of the governor's judgments that they were never accompanied by reasons for arriving at the conclusions reached; but his unvarying success against the appeals of high legal authorities aroused his vanity, and he came to regard himself as a legal light of the highest caliber. When next called upon to officiate as chief justice he delivered an elaborate written judgment, probably as elaborate as the 75 pages of foolscap, requiring an hour and a half in its delivery, which, we are told, was submitted by the London election judges. The usual appeal followed, and the result was, that the governor's reasons were found to be so absurd and illogical, and so contrary to the law and to the facts, that the judgment was set aside, and his reputation as a wise and learned judge destroyed.

THE PEOPLE GOT IT.

It was immediately upon accession to office of the Reform party that the (Sandfield Macdonald) surplus began to dwindle away, and in a few short years it went out of existence altogether, and why?—Mr. Whitney at London.

"Why?" Because the Grits gave it back to the people. They paid out $1,500,000 that had been voted before they took control; they voted something like $7,000,000 more for the same purpose—railway aid; they gave back to the municipalities on municipal loan fund account about $3,500,000, and in other ways have relieved the taxpayers of burdens to the tune of many millions. And John Sandfield Macdonald left less than seven millions to begin with.—[Hamilton Times.

A MISCHIEF-MAKING MATCH

Causes a Terrific Explosion in a Fireworks Factory—A Score of Persons Hurt.

Chicago, June 10.—A match carelessly dropped by one of the workmen in the fireworks factory of M. Shure, at the corner of West Van Buren and Halstead streets, caused a terrific explosion Tuesday night. It was shortly after the closing time of the factory, and many of the workmen had gone home. A number of the employes in the building were badly hurt, and the flying rockets and candles struck several people who were passing in street cars and on the sidewalks.

Seven people are known to be severely and nineteen others slightly injured. The force of the explosion was so great that nearly all the windows in the block were demolished, and the Shure building, which is a four-story structure, was badly damaged. Immediately following the explosion the building was ablaze from cellar to roof, and it was almost destroyed. The loss to the building and contents is estimated at $60,000.

The flying missiles from the factory struck a number of persons, and one man who was gazing in a store window 400 feet distant was hit squarely in the back by a rocket. He fell to the sidewalk unconscious.

MOB LAW IN MARYLAND

Colored Man Taken From the Court-House Door and Lynched.

Prince Anne, Md., June 10.—William Andrews (colored), alias "Cuba," was taken from the officers at the door of the court house and killed by a mob. Andrews yesterday had been tried, convicted and sentenced to death for feloniously assaulting Mrs. Benjamin T. Kelly, near Marion, on May 5. Judge Page, who passed the death sentence upon Andrews, endeavored to reason with the excited crowd, but in vain.

WIARTON SHOOTING CASE.

George Bone Held on a Serious Charge—The Victim May Die.

Walkerton, Ont., June 10.—At the sessions for the county of Bruce, held here yesterday, George Bone was arraigned on a charge of shooting with intent to kill one William Liversee, near Wiarton, some days ago.

As the victim was unable to attend, and it is doubtful whether he will live, the trial was postponed until the fall assizes.

LATEST FISH STORY.

Party at Savannah Makes a Surprising Discovery.

Savannah, Ga., June 10.—A diamond was found in the body of a fish caught here yesterday. A large crowd was fishing from the tug Regis at the black fish banks, and the fish were biting fast. Nearly all the bait was exhausted, and some of the fishermen were cutting up small fish for bait. Mr. Fisher cut the head off a little black fish and the bright spark rolled out on the deck. Several gentlemen who were waiting for a piece of bait saw the flash of the diamond as it came from the throat of the fish, and everyone was struck with wonder at the occurrence. On further examination and a closer search for more diamonds, the little jeweled fish yielded up a small conk and a good-sized boiled shrimp. The shrimp had evidently been taken from a fisherman's line, as several of the party had been using shrimps for bait. The diamond found in the fish is about a three-fourth carat. It was probably lost overboard from a ring, while its owner was fishing, and was caught and swallowed by the fish as it reached the bottom of the sea.

RAISING CHURCH FUNDS.

Collecting Pew-Rents Denounced as an Anti Christian System.

Brantford, June 10.—In the Hamilton Methodist Conference, Rev. A. Hamilton presented the report of the committee on systematic beneficence. It strongly advocated the tithing system, and characterized pew rents, bazars, and admission fees at tea meetings as "indirect and questionable methods." Over this a lively little tilt occurred, reference to pew rents and tea meetings being expunged on motion of Rev. Mr. Wakefield and Rev. Dr. Burns. Rev. T. S. Linscott declared pew-rents an anti-Christian method of raising money, but the motion prevailed.

THE EMBARGO ON AMERICAN CATTLE.

Washington, June 10.—The Administration has outlined an important policy to be pursued with regard to the controversy existing between this Government and Great Britain, Germany, France and Belgium as a result of the action of other countries in excluding American cattle and dressed beef. This policy contemplates the submission of an earnest and joint protest by the diplomatic representatives of the United States in London, Berlin, Paris and Brussels, and subsequent co-operation, having as its object the revocation of the discriminating regulations which the four nations have imposed upon American cattle.

Local Market.

(Reported by A. M. Hamilton & Son.)

London, Thursday, June 10.

Wheat, white, fall, per bu....66c to 69c
Wheat, red, fall, per bu.....66c to 69c
Wheat, spring, per bu .....66c to 69c
Oats, per bu .....21½c to 22c
Peas, per bu .....36c to 42c
Corn, per bu .....28c to 30c
Buckwheat, per bu .....24c to 26c
Rye, per bu .....24c to 30c
Beans, per bu .....25c to 45c

Today's receipts were not very big, either in grain or provisions. The only notable change was a decline in the price of wheat. Today's sales were made at $1 10 to $1 15, and closing at the same prices.

Oats were firm and unchanged.

The rest of the grain list remains the same.

Eggs and butter were steady, and prices ruled firm on the same basis as yesterday.

Meats were steady. The supply was not quite so large. Spring lamb sold at 75c to $1 25 per quarter. Beef was steady at 3½c to 5c.

Potatoes sold slowly at 40c to 50c per bag.

Hay was slow at $7 per ton. Straw was $2 per load for big loads and $2 for small ones.

No young pigs, cows or live hogs offered.

Live Stock Markets.

NEW YORK.

New York, June 9.—Beeves—Receipts, 478; active and slightly firmer; native steers, $4 50 to $5 75; stags and oxen, $3 to $4 60; bulls, $2 90 to $3 75; dry cows, $2 to $3 65.

Calves—Receipts, 4,747; active and ¼c higher; veals, $4 to $6 25; buttermilk calves, $3 25 to $4 25; city-dressed veals higher at 8c to 10c.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 8,411; sheep firm for good grades; yearlings steady; lambs, ¼c to ¼c higher; sheep, $3 25 to $4 60; yearlings, $3 75 to $5; lambs, $5 30 to $6 62½.

Hogs—Receipts, 4,071; slow at $4 to $4 35.

EAST BUFFALO.

East Buffalo, N. Y., June 9.—Cattle—Receipts all consigned through; the general tone of trade was steady to firm for good dry fed stock, but only fair for common and green grassy lots, and as this is the time of year when this latter class has to come into competition with the grass Texan and southwestern cattle, which are preferred to the grassy native stock, shippers should be very cautious in purchasing the same; western advices were stronger.

Veals and Calves—Receipts, 225 head; market fairly active; top veals sold at $5 50 to $5 75; with common to fair at $3 25 to $5 25; buttermilks, $3 to $3 50.

Hogs—Receipts, 22 double decks; market opened fairly active, with sales at strong to firm prices; but later there was a slump in the trade, and the market ruled lower; good to choice Yorkers, $3 70 to $3 75; mixed packers' grades, $3 67 to $3 70; medium weights, $3 65 to $3 70; heavy hogs, $3 65 to $3 67; roughs, $3 15 to $3 40.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 18 double decks, 104 held over from yesterday's trade; the market opened with a fairly good order demand from export buyers for lambs, and the good handy kind all sold well up to former prices, with exports higher; sheep were in better inquiry, also, and generally ruled about 10c higher. Extra export lambs, $4 90 to $5; native lambs, choice to prime, $4 70 to $4 80; common to good, $4 25 to $4 40; common to good culls, $3 25 to $4; fair to choice mixed sheep, $3 75 to $4 20; culls and common sheep, $2 25 to $3 65; export sheep, $4 15 to $4 40.

Delaware's Second Test Well Said to Show Good Prospects.

On Monday evening, the entertainment at St. Andrew's Church, Delaware, drew a large audience, who were delighted with Rev. Mr. Wilson's lecture on "Tramps," and the singing of Rev. Messrs. Stewart and Livingstone, and Mr. McDougal, of Delaware. The chair was occupied by the pastor, who spoke in his usual happy vein.

Delaware's test well No. 2 is now in full blast, having started at noon on Saturday on the Bodkin property, and is down 160 feet. Prospects good. Test well No. 1 (abandoned) produces daily about two or three gallons of pure rock oil. This crevice was struck at 205 feet.

The Delaware Bicycle Club will have its second run on Friday evening next to Mount Brydges and return.

Meeting of the Supreme Grand Lodge —What the Ontario Members Want.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 10.—The 25th stated meeting of the Supreme Lodge Ancient Order of United Workmen of the United States and Canada is being held here. The sessions, which are held in the lodge hall of the university building, will continue for a week or ten days.

Last night the Ontario delegates presented a memorial to the special committee appointed to consider the threatened separation of the Ontario lodges from the order. The memorial states that the Ontario lodges desire the continuance of fraternal relations, but ask to be relieved from all legislative and financial control of the Supreme Lodge.

The Anglican Synod Does Not Condemn Sunday Cars.

Desecration of the Sabbath by Bicyclists Disapproved.

Election of Officers Begun—The Results of the Balloting.

WEDNESDAY MORNING—CONTINUED.

The following is a continuation of the discussion in the Synod of the clause relating to the financial deficit:

Rev. J. C. Farthing thought there was a deeper question underlying the whole and which condemns the spiritual condition of the church. It was not that the clergy were arrayed against the laity, and he pointed to the fact that there had been a large increase in contributions for all the purposes, while we were face to face with the fact that there was a deficit in the amount received for our diocesan purposes. Why is this liberality diverted from the diocese? Was it that the church had been unfaithful? Objections had been made, and it was desirable they should be disposed of, and for this reason the canvassers for the mission fund served a double purpose, that of answering objections as well as obtaining subscriptions. Some object to the seniority clause, not being aware that the surplus commutation fund, being part of the mission fund, provides for this. Some point to clerical failures—pious ones, it may be, say this is the cause, but the speaker thought what is most wanted is more spiritual power.

At this juncture Chancellor Cronyn, being obliged to leave, the bishop appointed Matthew Wilson, Q.C., to take his place.

Rev. W. J. Taylor resumed the discussion, pointing to the necessity for removing objections, and felt that there was an undercurrent. The diocese is suffering from the effects of agitations of years ago.

Mr. A. C. Clarke thought the many appeals for reduction of assessments the cause of deficit.

Rev. A. Murphy thought two causes prevented the liberality of the diocese: lack of information and lack of spirituality. He thought it a good plan to send out leading members of the executive to attend meetings at distant points, and urged that if the church were to consider the spiritual side more earnestly there would be no lack of funds.

Mr. C. Jenkins felt that the plea of mismanagement was merely an excuse for not giving. The remedy would be for the clergy to put the matter clearly before the people.

Rev. A. Brown pointed out that a few years ago the mission fund was the chief object—now there are many. There is a growing feeling that people should support their own churches, and this was a cause of falling off in the mission fund. He felt that the want of explanation was only an excuse. People know the collector is coming, and make ready their excuse. They simply do not want to give.

Rev. R. McCosh thought that the laity were well informed in regard to some points. They are aware there are large invested funds, and fancy the Synod is rich enough to do without their help, forgetting that these must be applied to the objects for which they are held in trust. He was asked the question if more money had been paid out than had been received, where did it come from? The answer was made that the Synod borrowed from its own funds instead of from the banks, and the effort now being made was to replace this amount.

The Synod then adjourned.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

When Synod resumed at 2:30, the following reply was sent to the telegram from the Synod of Niagara:

"The Synod of the Diocese of Huron reciprocates the kindly greetings of the Synod of the Diocese of Niagara, praying that the divine spirit may guide it in all its deliberations. (Signed) MAURICE S. HURON."

Discussion on the executive's report was resumed, and the clause in question was finally adopted, as was the entire report, subsequently. Owing to the mission fund deficiency the secretary-treasurer has been instructed to make the reduction of 50 per cent on all incomes from the mission fund, except those of deacons and priests entitled to receive less than $800 per annum. The canon on the mission fund will be amended by the Synod, so as to prevent the canonical stipend to which any clergyman is now entitled being reduced below $700.

The sum of $5,860 was paid to widows and orphans, leaving a balance of 94 cents on hand, compared with $261 61 at the beginning of the year. There are 29 widows on the fund. Two widows, Mrs. Kellogg and Mrs. Wray, died during the year, and two widows were added, Mrs. Newman and Mrs. Jacobs.

There are 17 clergymen on the superannuation fund.

The annual report of the Anglican Lay Workers Association of the diocese was presented by the president, Mr. A. H. Dymond, Brantford, and the secretary, Mr. J. M. McWhinney, London. The work of the association was reported to be flourishing, and it was recommended that a conference or congress be held on a somewhat larger scale, and covering a wider field of inquiry. It had been decided to hold such a meeting in London in October next, and several speakers of distinction had promised to attend.

The report of the committee on the diaconate was presented by Mr. Chas. Jenkins, and the names of Rev. W. Craig and Rev. J. C. Farthing were added. The committee on statistics could not report, because the statistics had not been tabulated in time.

The report of the Lord's Day observance committee was presented by the Rev. W. J. Taylor. It explained, among other things, the result of the Sunday street car vote in Toronto and the desecration of the Sabbath by bicyclists. In reference to Sunday cars some members of the Synod thought it would not be wise to condemn a movement which was approved by some very good men, and others thought that the remarks concerning Sunday bicycling were frivolous. The report was, therefore, referred back for amendment and will be re-presented tomorrow morning.

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The annual missionary service of the Synod of Huron was held last evening in St. Paul's Cathedral at 8 o'clock. The service was conducted by the assistant minister, Rev. A. G. Dann, and by the Cathedral Chapter, Archdeacon Davis, Revs. Canons Young, Richardson and Hill taking part. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. Sippi, rendered excellent music.

The sermon was preached by Ven. Archdeacon Mills, D.D., of Montreal, a former member of the Synod of Huron and a graduate of Huron College, and also of the Western University.

The text was taken from the first clause of the 19th verse of the 17th chapter of the Gospel according to St John: "For their sake I sanctify myself."

The sermon called attention to the many suggestions made as to the proper qualifications for the pulpit, and pointed out that all was of no use without holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord. The preaching of the Word is God's means of bringing men to himself, and the secret of success is set forth in the text. Holiness is essential to the work of the ministry. Entire consecration to his service has more influence than many other qualifications. The Word denotes consecration and complete devotion to the work, and the Lord Jesus is thus our mediator and example. There must be the same consecration in his people; the same devotion to the work which God has given them to do. There is no scope for successful shamming in the ministry. The eyes of men and the eyes of God are upon his ministering servants. A minister's success will always be in proportion to his consecration to God. More of the power of holiness is needed, not only in the pulpit, but in the pew. True Christianity is Christ, and his people should preach Christ by living Christ. The sermon was eminently practical, and was listened to with the closest attention.

THURSDAY MORNING.

The divine service was held in the cathedral at 9:30 a.m. The synod assembled in Bishop Cronyn Hall at 10:15 a.m., the bishop in the chair. The proceedings were opened with prayer by the dean.

The thanks of the synod were moved by Archdeacon Davis, seconded by Rev. W. Craig, to Ven. Archdeacon Mills, D.D., for his able, practical and instructive sermon last night, and for his kind donation of his expenses to the mission fund of the diocese. Carried unanimously.

The bishop then appointed the following as scrutineers:

For executive committee—Clerical—Revs. C. R. Gunne, W. T. Cluff, L. W Diehl and F. G. Newton. Lay—Messrs. G. A. Ray, W. Crawford, R. Miller and Frank Kains.

For the general and provincial synods—Clerical—Revs. R. Ashton, E. Lee, G. F. Sherwood and J. T. Kerrin. Lay—Messrs. L. S. Hunt, F. T. Harrison, D. Candy and J. Brown.

After the ballots were collected, the order of business was resumed.

Notices of motion were given by Canon Young that incomes should not be reduced below $700; by Rev. J. T. Wright, for a committee on superannuation, to report at next synod; by Rev. Rural Dean Ridley, for a pastoral from the bishop to make up to those whose salaries are to be reduced the amount of such reduction.

LORD'S DAY OBSERVANCE.

The report of the committee on Lord's Day observance was read clause by clause considered the humanitarian view of the subject; the second, the scientific, and the third, the divine standpoint. The first abuse to which attention was called was Sunday visiting; the second, that of Sunday newspapers; the third, keeping open of stores to a late hour Saturday; the fourth, that of social entertainments, suppers, etc., on Sunday afternoon or evening; the fifth, the use of bicycles on the Lord's Day except for necessary purposes. The latter was declared to be an increasing evil, which should be condemned.

The report also included a reference to Sunday street cars and the recent vote in Toronto, which came in for disapprobation. Mr. Dymond (Brantford), Mr. Richard Bayly and others objected to condemning a movement which was supported by many good people.

The bishop put the amendment to strike out the clause, and there was a chorus of "yeas" and "nays." The "yeas" were declared victorious, and the clause was struck out.

The clause condemning Sunday bicycling was carried.

The report of the Sunday school committee was read clause by clause by Rev. J. Downie. The first cause called attention to the stock of Prayer and Hymn books and library books. The statistics show the number of teachers and officers to be 2,319, the number of scholars 18,213, or a total of 21,530. The committee recommended having quarterly missionary lessons in every school.

The scrutineers appointed to examine the ballots reported the following gentlemen elected, arranged in order of election:

A CLEVER LONDONER.

Scholarships at the University of Toronto Won by Mr. Chas. Carson.

Mr. Charles Carson, son of Public School Inspector Carson, captured the third year scholarship at Toronto University in chemistry and physics, valued at $70. From the previous career of this clever young Londoner at the university, this latter success was almost a foregone conclusion. Last year he took the same scholarship for the second year class, worth $60. The first year he won five scholarships, having a value of $800 or $900, but as the rules of the University forbid more than one scholarship being awarded to one candidate, Mr. Carson received only $60 in cash and free tuition for four years, worth $150. His winnings, therefore, in three years have netted him $340, but the important honors he has secured cannot be valued in this way.

WEATHER PROBS:
Fair and warmer.

Quality Never Lowers,

But prices do. We are quoting below some that have. With us, when buying goods, it's a rule that quality shall be the first consideration. That is what has built up our large business and made this the most satisfactory store in the city to deal with. When you buy from us you know the goods are reliable, honest merchandise, that the price you pay is less than you'd pay elsewhere. If you need any of the goods here mentioned it will pay you to visit our store this week.

Special Attraction

The New Victoria Pleater will be exhibited here on Friday and Saturday. Great labor-saving device for dressmakers. With it you can make any kind of pleats and ruffles yourself. It's no work at all, and the device is simple. A man here to show how it's done. 25c each.

Ladies' Capes

Shepherd Plaids, very popular for summer dresses, at 35c, 50c and 75c yard. Extra value.

Ladies' Belts

To meet the demand we have secured some very stylish Leather and Silk Belts. Selling at 25c to 50c. Sizes 36 to 40 inch.

SHE USED A

STANDARD PATTERN to cut her dress by. That's why it's so stylish looking. There are other patterns, but none that please like the popular Standard. We sell them for the city.

SMALLMAN & INGRAM.

149 and 151 Dundas Street.

J. & D. ROSS

Have now to announce that their purchases of the latest, HATS, CAPS, SHIRTS, NECKWEAR, ETC., intended for the summer trade are to hand, and the time for their disposal is so limited that they must be sacrificed in order to effect a clearance—so cost price in a great many instances is not considered. The supreme object is to get rid of the goods.

In our new premises, upon which building operations have begun, we intend to put only new fall goods, which necessitates a total clearance of our present stock.

Hats, Caps and Neckwear.

The latest $2 and $2 50 Geisha Hat sold by us for $1 50 and $1 75.

The latest American and English styles in Pure Fur Hats sold at $1 50, worth $2 00.

50c Caps now 35c. 25c Caps 2 for 35c.

$1 75 Straw Hats for $1 25. $1 50 Straw Hats for $1.

$1 Straw Hats for 75c. 75c Straw Hats for 40c.

Latest Jubilee Neckwear now selling at clearing prices.

All the latest styles in 50c Neckwear for 25c.

Summer Underwear.

Our Summer Underwear has been selling a great deal more rapidly than we could expect considering the cool weather, but when goods worth $1 per suit are sold for 50c, and $2 goods for $1, it is no wonder. We still have a lot of such goods, which will save purchasers money to get them.

Shirts, Hosiery, Etc.

Several lines of Colored Dress Shirts still at the same old prices which have more than doubled our sales for the last few weeks.

25c Black Cashmere Hosiery sold 3 pairs for 50c.

Workingmen's Overalls and Smocks at clearing prices.

75c Black Sateen and Twilled Shirts for 50c.

Ready-Made Clothing.

Ready-Made Clothing at less than manufacturers' prices:

Boys' Suits from $1 25 upwards.

Men's Suits from $3 upwards.

Ottoman Officials Becoming More Conciliatory.

"Nickey" the Proud Possessor of Another Daughter.

Constantinople, June 10.—Since yesterday's conference between the ambassadors of the powers and Tiffil Pasha, the Turkish minister for foreign affairs, the Ottoman officials have been more conciliatory on the subject of Thessaly, and it is now believed Turkey will yield on that point and agree to withdraw her troops. This change of front is said to be due to counsels from abroad.

Athens, June 10.—The Government has protested to the powers against the continued massing of Turkish troops in Thessaly and the hindrances placed by Turkey to navigation in the Gulf of Ambracia, as violations of the armistice.

St. Petersburg, June 10.—The czarina has just been delivered of a daughter at the Peterhof. The first child of their majesties, born Nov. 3, 1895, is also a daughter, the Grand Duchess Olga.

Madrid, June 10.—The Epoca, in an official note this morning, says that Senor Canovas del Castillo has reserved the right to provoke another cabinet crisis should circumstances make it advisable. El Heraldo announces that negotiations for a treaty of commerce between Spain and the United States have reached an advanced stage.

—The Arlington Club have arranged for an outing at Springbank this evening.

—A large batch of summonses have been issued for cyclists who prefer the sidewalk to the road for wheeling on.

—The Y. M. C. A. road race tomorrow evening promises to be a very interesting event. A large number of entries have been made.

—George Ballantyne was sent to jail yesterday for three days in default of payment of a $1 fine imposed some time ago for riding a bicycle at an excessive rate of speed.

—A number of college girls assembled on the G. T. R. station this morning to bid farewell to some of their number. The girls gave the college yell several times and loud enough to be heard for blocks.

—A blaze in London West was narrowly averted yesterday at 12:30, when some small children playing with matches ignited some straw which set fire to the roof of a cottage on Center street. Timely assistance saved a big blaze.

—The work on the three sewers is progressing very favorably, and the cost so far is well within the estimate. The machine in South London used by Harding & Leathorn saves much of the drudgery in hauling dirt to the top of the trench.

—God's richest blessings are abundantly bestowed on the evangelistic services now being held by Mr. T. L. Belcher, at York Street Mission Hall Gospel Tent. The tent is crowded nightly to its utmost capacity with anxious seekers. Already 40 have professed conversion.

—Mr. W. R. Burke, Dominion land surveyor, who died in Ingersoll today, was manager of the C. P. R. telegraph here before Mr. Bowen's appointment, seven years ago. Mr. Burke was the son of Rev. Canon Burke, of Belleville. He was a prominent Mason, and was very popular. He had only been married about four months.

—Building permits have been taken out at the engineer's office as follows: Ed. Anderson, two-story brick house, corner Elizabeth street and Queen's avenue; Mrs. A. Brock, two-story brick house, on Central avenue, near Colborne, to cost $1,750; Hilliard & McKinley, brick veneer house, two story, on Central avenue, near Colborne, to cost $1,600.

—A June wedding took place yesterday morning in St. Mark's Church, Parkdale, when Mr. Herbert Beasley, of the Toronto Street Railway Company, was united in marriage to Miss Annie Hesketh, daughter of Col. Jas. Hesketh, formerly of London. The bride looked charming in a handsome traveling suit of brown broadcloth, trimmed with white silk, and hat to match. She was attended by Miss Mary Puddicombe, of London, and Mr. Percival Beasley, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

—Yesterday the remains of Mrs. Fred J. Jackson, of Toronto, were laid at rest. The funeral was private, although a number gathered at the house to pay their respects to one who was beloved in life. The flowers were lovely, and came from the numerous friends of deceased in this city. Among them was one from the family, being a large pillow, with the words "At Rest" in the center. The casket was a very handsome one, and was built by Ferguson & Sons, being in the shape of a couch or lounge. The funeral was from the residence of Mrs. Jackson's mother, Mrs. McCurdy, 178 Oxford street. Revs. M. P. Talling and Kennedy conducted the services at the house and the grave at Woodland Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Alfred and Archie Jackson, brothers of Mr. Fred Jackson; J. Footitt, J. Slade, A. Connor and A. Friendship.

MONTREAL'S CHANCE.

The Montreal Star says: If Hamilton drops out of the Canadian League there will be an opportunity for Montreal to step in. It would no doubt improve the attendance here and serve to boom the game. It ought to be an easy matter for them to do so, as without any club to fill the vacancy the Canadian League would probably go to pieces.

FLYS.

A good game of ball was played last night between the Adelaide Street Victors and the Violets, resulting in a score of 21 to 12 in favor of the Violets. Batteries—Violets, Lewis and Carrothers; Victors, Clunoe and Maitland.

The King Street Vampires write that they would like to challenge the Forest City Baseball Club to a friendly game of ball, "to be payed on our diamond without a string ball, and four umpires."

ATHLETICS.

LET GO.

New York, June 10.—Peter Maher and Thomas Sharkey, the heavyweight pugilists, who were arrested last night during their fight at the Palace Athletic Club, were this morning discharged by Magistrate Cornell in the Harlem Police Court. The magistrate said that as far as he could see there had been no violation of the Horton law.

CRICKET.

Manchester, England, June 10.—The cricket match between the visiting Philadelphia eleven and an eleven of Lancashire began here today. The Americans won the toss, went to bat, and scored 123 runs, all out.

A DINNER PILL.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

Further Successes of London Pupils at Toronto.

The First Year Pass and Third and Fourth Year Honor List Out.

The first year pass and third and fourth year honors at the Toronto University are made known today, and they enhance the brilliant showing made by London pupils in the preliminary reports. In fourth year honors the following were successful:

Modern Languages—Miss M. Bapty.
Political Science—H. M. Little.
Philosophy—J. M. Nicol and F. H. Barron.
Mathematics—Miss M. Hills.

The third year honors are: Classics, B. Gahan; physics and chemistry, C. M. Carson; modern languages, Miss K. L. Mullins and J. M. Gunn; philosophy, W. E. Slaght; mathematics, Miss M. Harvey, Miss A. J. C. Dawson.

In the first year pass C. Garvey and J. H. Gillespie are successful.

MR. PATRICK WALLACE HOME.

The Veteran Ex-Policeman Returns From Ireland—Had Not Been Home for 47 Years.

Mr. Patrick Wallace, the veteran expoliceman, arrived at 11 o'clock today from his trip to Great Britain. Mr. Wallace's friends would hardly recognize him at first sight. He hasn't touched a razor since he left, and has evolved a full beard, which gives him a robust appearance. Mr. Wallace says he is glad to return to Canada, as he was ill nearly all the time he was away, rain having fallen almost incessantly.

It was the first time he had visited the old sod since he came to the Canada from Limerick county, 47 years ago. "Yes, I knew the features of the old place, perfectly," he said. "And I remembered at sight about a dozen of my old friends." Mr. Wallace's sensations on returning to the home of his boyhood and early manhood after half a century's absence, must have been remarkable. Among other things he brought back was a bundle of genuine Irish blackthorn sticks. He reached New York yesterday, and had traveled continuously to London.

An Entire Train Dragged Into a Washout.

Two Men Killed and Two Missing—Fatal Accident Near Geneva, New York.

Exeter, N. H., June 10.—An accident to a freight train on the Boston and Maine road occurred a short distance east of the Exeter depot last night, occasioned by a washout. The engine was precipitated into the hole and turned completely over, dragging after it nearly the entire train. D. King, the fireman, was so badly injured that he died in a short time. S. G. Candler, brakeman, is dead in the wreck; — Rankin, engineer, missing; — Young, brakeman, missing.

Geneva, N. Y., June 10.—A light engine used as a pusher, while returning to Geneva, crashed into the rear end of a freight train a short distance east of here, about 5 o'clock this morning. Fireman Ryan, of Towanda, Pa., was caught beneath the engine (which was derailed) and killed. His body is beneath the wreck.

Caused by Famine and Plague in China.

The Roads Strewn With Corpses and the Sky Black With Vultures.

Vancouver, B. C., June 10.—Advices by the steamer Empress of Japan say: The fatalities from famine and plague in China are appalling. The famine in North and East Szochuan is causing many deaths. A traveler who has just returned from there reports having seen numbers of dead bodies lying unattended to. In one large town half the population had perished from starvation and the fever that follows in its wake.

The Government has sent 120,000 picules of rice by way of relief, but the grain cannot be got to the sufferers beyond certain parts, owing to sections made impassable by swollen rivers.

Along the route to smaller towns numbers of bodies lay decomposing, while the sky was black with vultures. Smallpox is prevalent in Tooghe, and smallpox and other epidemics are very prevalent in Tokio, while 200 more cases of black plague are reported from Taihoku and Tai-Wan, Formosa. There are some 850 cases altogether.

Middlesex June Sessions.

Edward Dyer Found Guilty of Highway Robbery.

William Yeomans Pleads Guilty to the Charge of Assulting Wm. Richardson, and Failed to Appear for Sentence.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Edward Dyer, charged with the robbery of Bert Madole on Rectory street on the night of April 14 last, occupied the attention of the court from 2 o'clock until evening. The witnesses called for the crown were Bert Madole, of Dorchester, who was robbed; J. E. Goble, a companion; Arthur Derham and George Brown. The latter witness swore he had known Dyer for some time; had been with him on the day of the robbery, when Dyer had not sufficient money to pay for the drinks he had ordered at the Duke of York Hotel. He had seen prisoner next day, when he changed a $5 bill, and had also another $2 bill.

Sergt. Jenkins was put into the box to prove that Madole had stated that he had lost $45 instead of $65, when Madole went to the police station to report.

This Mr. Magee objected to on the ground that nothing had been said to Madole by the defendant's counsel concerning this while he was in the box.

Madole was recalled, and stated that when he reported the case at the station he had stated $65, but would not say that he had given Dyer's name.

Sergt. Jenkins then read the order, but would not swear that the books were infallible. He admitted that Madole had said Dyer did the robbery.

Wm. Boyle, bartender, was called for the defense. He did not remember ever having seen Dyer before, and certainly not on the night in question.

Mr. Magee—The Duke of York is quite a summer resort, I believe?

Mr. Boyle—Yes; we do a pretty good business there.

The prisoner was put in the box to testify on his own behalf. In his examination by Mr. Toothe he gave his age as 25. The only relatives he had here were a brother and some cousins. Up to November last he had been in Detroit in business on a small scale. After that he came back to London to see his brother, when he was taken ill and removed to the hospital, where he remained for two months and a half. On coming out his brother took him to board at his boarding house on Egerton street until he should recuperate. On April 15 he had received $10 from his brother, and this was the money Brown had seen. He denied ever having seen Madole or Goble, or that he was in the Duke of York Hotel on the night in question. He said he was innocent of the robbery, and since the trouble he had got into four years ago he had reformed and lived a better life.

Mr. Magee, crown prosecutor, cross-examined prisoner.

"Where is your brother?"

"Away on business."

"So he doesn't think enough of his brother to stay here and get him out of trouble. If he gave you that money, why isn't he here?"

"Because he can't afford it."

"How many times have you been in jail?"

"In London, do you mean?"

"Yes; we'll take that first."

"Oh, about seven times."

"How often were you in the House of Correction at Detroit."

"Twice."

"Have you been in jail anywhere else besides Detroit and London?"

"Been in the Central Prison, but that is included in the seven times from here."

"And besides this, you had only a short time ago served a term of 20 days?"

"Yes, sir."

Judge Elliot, in addressing the jury, said that had Madole been strictly sober when the affair took place it would have been much easier to arrive at a conclusion. When a man had been drinking, his memory became impaired, and liquor had made the facts difficult to get at. It was a question for the jury to say whom they believed.

The jury considered the case for about 30 minutes, and returned with a verdict of "Guilty." The prisoner was remanded for sentence.

William Yeomans, charged with assaulting William Richardson, pleaded guilty through his counsel, P. McPhillips, to common assault, and Mr. Magee withdrew the more serious charge of assault occasioning actual bodily harm.

THURSDAY MORNING.

In the case of Daniel Graham, Junkshop keeper, this city, charged with receiving stolen goods, the grand jury found a true bill. This is the case in which a quantity of material was stolen from the street car company by some boys, who sold their plunder.

Della S. Getty vs. John M. McEvoy and Benjamin Fisher occupied the whole morning. The plaintiff's claim is that on or about Nov. 12, 1896, the defendants carried off the following goods and chattels: Two horses, two cows, a quantity of oats, wheat barley and buckwheat, one heifer, two calves, a gang plow, and wood rack, the property of the plaintiff, and converted them to their (defendants') own use and benefit. On or about Nov. 14, 1896, the defendants carried away unlawfully the following chattels: One seed-drill, one disk harrow, one fanning mill, bagger and sieves, one double set or harness, three collars, set of iron harrows, set bob-sleighs and double wagon, 70 bags of potatoes and several other articles. On this day defendant is alleged to have assaulted plaintiff. Mrs. Getty claims $200 damages.

The defendants claim that the horses, cows, grain and gang plow mentioned were the subject of an action in the Fourth Division Court, and the rights of the parties were settled in that action. The defendants further say that they did not carry away or in any way interfere with the goods said to have been taken on Nov. 14, and had not converted them to their use and benefit. The defendant McEvoy says that pursuant to instructions given by the solicitor for the Dominion Savings and Investment Society, he had instructed defendant Fisher to seize the goods mortgaged by the defendant and Byron B. Getty to David Thomas, and by David Thomas assigned to the Dominion Savings and Investment Society. At the time of the instructions to realize upon the chattel mortgage, the assignment of the chattel mortgage, a copy of the mortgage and a warrant to distrain the goods and chattels upon the premises of the plaintiff's husband, Byron Getty, was delivered to McEvoy, and by him delivered to the defendant Fisher, with instructions to seize the goods and chattels mortgaged. The mortgage at the time of the seizue was overdue, and in full force and effect. They asked that the case be dismissed.

In this case numerous objections were made by Mr. Magee, defendant's counsel, to questions put by the plaintiff's solicitor. These were so numerous that Judge Elliot expressed himself strongly on the case, saying: "I am sick of the whole business; this disputing about everything is disgusting."

At another stage, while Mr. Magee was cross-examining Mrs. Getty, who occupied the box all morning, objection was made that Mr. Coleridge, Mr. Tennent's partner, was sitting in the court and nodding to witness in the box, as a guide to her in answering.

Mr. Tennent was indignant that such a charge should be made against his partner.

Mr. Coleridge denied it, but Mr. McEvoy stated positively that Mr. Coleridge had nodded to the witness.

"I think Mr. McEvoy is interfering considerably in this case," said the judge.

Mr. Magee—He has no right to nod to the witness.

The Judge—No, but I don't think a wink would do very much.

Case in progress.

Today at the Capital.

The House Holds a Morning Session and Puts Through Much Business.

Ottawa, June 10.—There was rather a slim attendance in the House today when it met at 11 o'clock. The Solicitor-General, replying to Mr. Casgrain, said that the commissioner appointed to inquire into the landslide at Quebec had reported in favor of granting between $8,000 and $48,000 to settle the claims of citizens.

Mr. Sifton, in answer to Dr. Roche, said that Carstens, of the immigration office at Winnipeg, had been dismissed for political partisanship.

Sir Richard moved that the House take up the east line resolution, but at the request of Mr. Foster, it was left over until Sir Charles Tupper, who was at the railway committee, was present. This was done, and Mr. Davies' steamboat inspection bill was put through committee and read a third time.

An act to provide for the registration of cheese factories and creameries and for branding of dairy products, and to prohibit misrepresentation as to dates of manufacture of such products, was next discussed in committee. The bill was put through and read a third time.

Mr. Fisher's bill abolishing the position of deputy commissioner of patents, Mr. Sifton's bill amending Land Titles Act, and a bill to do away with revisions of the voters' list for the present year were also put through committee and read a third time.

Mr. Davies' bill to postpone the operations of the law preventing the dumping of sawdust into the Ottawa River for another year was also put through committee and read a third time. Mr. Davies hoped it would be the last time that enforcement of the law would be postponed.

Sir Richard Cartwright said that it was exactly six and twenty years since he gave notice of a bill similar to the one before the House, and he thought that this was sufficient notice to Dobermen, and that it was about time to put the law in force. The House then went into concurrence.

On the judicial items in the estimates Sir Hibbert Tupper strongly criticised the appointment of Judge Prendergast, of Manitoba. Had the delay in appointment anything to do with the school settlement?

Mr. Foster made a vigorous attack on Judge Prendergast, who, he said, was guilty of corrupt practices in the election in St. Boniface.

Mr. Mulock characterized Mr. Foster's statement as ungentlemanly, and said it was the first time in Parliament that a judge had been called a boodler. Mr. Foster had no evidence for what he said.

The House took recess at 1 p.m.

Mr. S. A. Mitchell, of Kingston, won a $500 fellowship at the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however is a cure—one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parmelee's Pills.

A Lover's GERALDINE: Romance.

Geraldine watched them with dull eyes, feeling that this interview boded ill to her plan; however, she contrived to meet her husband alone soon after his return with the doctor to the house, but the cloud of anger and mistrust had again settled on his face, and she did not dare even to attempt to dispel it. So she went up to her own room—for the old school room which had been fitted up as a boudoir for her was not sacred from Elizabeth's intrusion—and, after some thought, wrote the following letter:

"My Dear Ada,—I inclose a photograph you gave me in the old times, as a token that you and Lindley have nothing further to fear from me. I am so ill that I cannot write myself—ill from a cause I do not dare to name to you; but I want you to tell Lindley that the doctor in whom he trusted has betrayed his confidence, that I hold the proofs of this, and that I mean to use them. I cannot believe that Lindley was a party to this treatment of me; the best thing he can do now for himself is to confide everything to Mrs. Morrison, who is writing this for me, and who is one of my witnesses as to the cause of my illness. For the sake of the family, if for no other reason, she would see that Lindley should not suffer, if he would help her by telling the whole story now. But, if he does not do this, it can scarcely fail to go hard with him in the investigation which will soon be opened. Yours very sincerely,

"HARRY HAMMOND."

Geraldine was at first in some doubt about the signature; but, as she had never seen James' signature of his assumed name, and as she was a little diffident about committing a forgery, she simply signed the name in her own handwriting, as if the sender of the letter had been too ill to hold a pen at all. Before dispatching the letter she determined to see Dr. Crosse; so she ordered the brougham for 12, and ran through the wood as fast as she could toward his house. It was now half-past 11.

As she had expected, the appearance of Capt. Morrison and the disappearance of James—facts of which Johnson, the butler at the hall, had informed him within a few hours of their occurrence—had made him cautious of interference in the matter. He was quite as firm as ever in his denial of the possibility of a league between a gentleman and a poisoner, and the conclusion to which the appearance of Dr. Ledbury with the master of the hall led him was that James, who had fully qualified himself for the post of scapegoat, had made up a story to wake her sympathy for himself. The old doctor begged her not to do anything rash, and strongly advised her to confide everything to her husband.

"Even a bad husband is generally the best counselor a wife can have, Mrs. Morrison," said he emphatically, "because, you see, his honor and his interests are bound up in hers. But, with all deference to the different judgment at which I am afraid you have arrived on the matter, I don't think Capt. Morrison is a bad husband, and I am quite sure that he is not a bad man. His head and his heart are both too easily fired; but in the end I fancy that nobody but himself is much the worse for the conflagration."

To this peroration Geraldine listened attentively, and with about as much show of intending to profit by it as advice against the grain usually produces; and she drove to Goldborough, and with her own hands posted the letter to Mrs. Fielding. When this first step toward the unraveling of the mystery had been taken,she had leisure to consider another strange aspect of it, and to wonder what was the reason of Dr. Ledbury's remaining at the hall now that he had satisfied himself that James was no longer there. The latter had told her in his letter that he should return to London to seek his "only friend" again; and Geraldine came to the conclusion that the arrival of James in town at the place where he had left Dr. Ledbury would be the signal for the doctor's departure from Waringham. She therefore resolved on the bold course of setting a detective to watch the doctor's movements as soon as he was out of her sight; and, as in such a matter she felt the need of a man's advice, she determined to find means of consulting Reginald Hember, who came from town every Saturday evening to spend Sunday at the vicarage. She thought that by this time her husband's jealousy had been sufficiently diverted into another channel for her to be able to do this without difficulty. As this was Saturday, she had not long to wait; but before the day was over a new source of anxiety growing up in the very midst of the life at the hall attracted her attention and suggested a nearer field for her investigations.

She returned home just in time for luncheon, and, as soon as she was seated at the table, Geraldine asked if anyone had been to see Mrs. Symes, who had kept her room since the preceding afternoon; the housekeeper was getting so old now that the office she was reluctant to give up had become almost a sinecure, and an ocasional indisposition of a day or two had no disastrous effects on the daily routine of the household.

"I have just come from her room," said Miss Eleanor. "I have been reading to her for nearly an hour to cheer her up; she seems very depressed and melancholy, and won't be left alone. It seems she had Martha to sleep in her room and as soon as the girl went away she sent for Susan."

"Poor old lady! I should think high spirits never were her strong point," said Capt. Morrison. "I suppose you found her difficult to amuse, Miss Otway?"

"I did not try to amuse her, Capt. Morrison; I did my best to comfort her, as she seemed uneasy in mind. I am sure I don't know what she can have to reproach herself with. As far as our human eyes can see, she seems to have led as blameless a life as our frailty will permit."

"Mental uneasiness, due to bodily infirmity, probably,' said Dr. Ledbury. "I will go up this afternoon and see if a prescription will not aid the effect of your consolation, Miss Otway."

"Oh, no, Mr. Ledbury, I must beg you not to, really! I suggested that she should have advice, and you cannot imagine what a distressing effect it had upon her. There is nothing seriously the matter with her, and now she is so old I believe the idea of seeing a doctor makes her think she must be going to die. She quite frightened me by the contortions of her face and limbs when I spoke to her about it."

Capt. Morrison laughed; so did the doctor himself.

"She seems to have formed an unflattering opinion of your profession, doctor."

But to more than one of the ladies it occurred that the name of Dr. Ledbury recalled to the housekeeper the illness and death of her old master. To Geraldine this idea was so suggestive that a light broke over her face as it entered her mind. Eleanor continued the conversation in her own way, with the somewhat trite reflections which occurred to her:

"It is curious how much more loudly conscience seems to cry out in innocent people than in guilty ones. She asked me to read something about the punishment of heaven on evil-doers; and, when I read her some of the Psalms, she seemed much excited at the passage where David curses his enemies, the wicked."

"But I should think she applied the curses to her enemies, the wicked, too."

"O, Capt. Morrison, what enemies can the poor old woman have? I should——"

"That sort of wandering is a common feature of dotage," interrupted Dr. Ledbury, abruptly.

"But she is not in her dotage, I assure you," persisted Eleanor, rather nettled at the suggestion, for the housekeeper was very few years older than herself. "Her faculties are perfectly good; but she has never got over my brother's death. She cannot bear any allusion to it; she——" The old lady suddenly remembered that it was an awkward topic to have introduced, since she could not well pursue, before the physician who had attended her brother, the account of the way in which the housekeeper sighed and trembled and shook her head at every mention of Sir Charles' illness.

"The shock of her master's death no doubt hastened her break-up," said Dr. Ledbury; "and I have no hesitation in saying that at that time her intellectual faculties were already in a state of decay."

"Oh, that is because you had not known her before! She has always been like that," said Eleanor, ingenuously.

"Dr. Ledbury can see signs which escape you and me, Eleanor," said Elizabeth, who saw that their guest's handsome face was contracting at this attempt to argue against his superior knowledge.

"If Miss Otway had been at her brother's bedside at that time, the signs I speak of could hardly have failed to be as apparent to her as to me," said the doctor, gravely.

And poor Eleanor was far too much crushed by this united attack to suggest that the physician, having denied admission to the sick-room to her sister, would certainly not have accorded it to herself.

Everyone felt relieved when this rather painful episode was brought to an end, and Geraldine opened the discussion of the afternoon arrangements. Capt. Morrison wished their guest to see the few beauties of a remarkably unpicturesque neighborhood, and his wife and Miss Elizabeth were to go also. Geraldine dressed quickly for the drive, in order to get a few minutes' talk with Mrs. Symes; but, quick as she was, Elizabeth had forestalled her, a fact which suggested that the household bogey, in whose presence the housekeeper was of course mute, had been put on guard, for the mysterious doctor was on quite as good terms with the younger Miss Otway as with his host. She tried again, on her return, to get a tete-a-tete with Mrs. Symes, but on this occasion it was the doctor himself who met her at the foot of the staircase and rather abruptly suggested that the old woman had better not be subjected to the excitement of any more visits that day.

SHE HYPNOTIZED THEM,

Farmer and His Son Live in Terror of a Neighbor's Adopted Daughter.

Sandusky, Ohio, June 10.—A remarkable instance of the exercise of hypnotic power has just developed here. The subjects in the particular case in question being a well-to-do farmer named Gustav Abrams and his son Joseph, aged 16 years. The Abrams family live on the county line road, a few miles from this city. A family named Welske recently became tenants on a small farm adjoining the Abrams place. The Welskes have an adopted daughter named Zuella, aged 19 years, and she is the girl who figures as the hypnotist in the remarkable case.

A couple of days ago Abrams and his son entered the office of the probate judge of this county, and Abrams applied to Deputy Albert C. Close for a marriage liscense for his son, and produced a document giving his consent to the marriage of the boy and Zuella Welske. It developed that Joseph is only 16 years old, and Mr. Close refused to issue the license, the law requiring a male to be 18 years old before he can legally marry. Abrams and his son were greatly distressed at Mr. Close's refusal, and urged him to reconsider his decision. They intimated that they would not dare to go home without the much-desired license. On being questioned Mr. Abrams said he and Joseph were completely under the influence of Zuella Welske, and were compelled to do as she dictated. She had conceived a fondness for young Abrams, and, while the lad did not care particularly for her, she had decided to marry him, and he was powerless to prevent her from carrying her purpose into execution. Abrams said he feared if they returned without the license the girl would be so enraged that, with the control she had over them, she would do them bodily injury, or, maybe, compell them to commit some act which would involve them in serious trouble.

The old man and his son were, nevertheless, compelled to return home without the license, and, true to their expectation, their failure to procure it aroused the ire of the young woman, but she has not yet shown any inclination to do them any harm.

Inspector Dearness' Report of the Eastern Inspectorate.

Most Favorable Showing for Both Teachers and Scholars.

The Morality of the Whole School Community Far Above Reproach—Interesting Facts and Figures.

WEDNESDAY.

The scene at the county chambers is one of activity. In the morning the committees are hard at work, while the county council meets in the afternoon, and takes up the remainder of the day.

Treasurer A. M. McEvoy submitted the statement of estimated revenue and expenditure for the year ending June 30, 1898, putting the revenue as $22,633 24, and expenditure, $59,726, leaving $37,092 76 to be provided by taxation, The estimated revenue of the county of Middlesex for the same period with regard to matters in which the townships of Biddulph, McGillivray, the village of Lucan, and that part of the village of Ailsa Craig detached from the township of McGillivray, are not included, is $1,800, and the estimated expenditure is $28,048 42, leaving $26,248 42 to be levied in 1896-97. To this amount is added the $31,000 debentures falling due this year, making the total charges and consolidated debt, $57,248 42. The statement was referred to the finance committee.

The first report of the finance committee was adopted. Besides recommending the payment of a number of accounts, it asked that $100 be paid to Col. Irwin and Capt. Stewart, of the Twenty-sixth Battalion, for regimental purposes, and that no action be taken on the application of Constable Silas Connelly, who petitioned for a large amount of expenses arising out of the recent Newbury trouble. It also recommended that no action be taken on the communication of S. P. Zavitz, for a grant of $25 to the Farmers' Institute, and that a grant of $25 be made to the Salvation Army Refuge Home.

The request of Mr. James Poole, first turnkey in the jail, for remuneration during his recent illness, was referred to the finance committee.

The special committee's report re high schools was adopted. It recommended the payment of the following sums, as supplementary to the equivalent of the legislative grant: Strathroy, $985 62; Glencoe, $230 08; Lucan, $361 07; Parkhill, $94 65.

The special committee's report re Kilworth bridge, was referred back to committee.

Mr. C. C. Hodgins' motion for a temporary bridge over Mud Creek during the construction of the new one, was referred to the board.

Mr. G. B. Campbell's motion for $100 for the purpose of erecting a jail at Newbury was referred to the finance committee.

This being jubilee year, County Commissioner Talbot was granted a month's leave of absence.

A motion passed that the treasurer be instructed to furnish the council a statement of all moneys paid to him by the registrars of East, West, and North Middlesex, over and above the statutory percentage, for the last five years.

Peter Elson was, on motion, added to the equalization committee.

Sheriff Cameron submitted his report, and in reply to the motion made by the council at its last session, bringing to his notice the number of turnkeys, with the request that one be dispensed with, if possible, he stated that under existing circumstances it was impossible to do so. He could hold out no encouragement of doing so in the near future, as the prisoners had to be kept at work, which used up all the present help.

INSPECTOR DEARNESS' REPORT.

School Inspector Dearness submitted his report on the public schools of the eastern inspectoral division of the county for the year 1896-97, as follows:

The year was not marked by any unusual event. The supply of teachers continues to increase beyond the demand, causing sharper competition for places, and consequently offers by teachers at lower salaries. A few good teachers failed to find employment at what they thought reasonable remuneration, while less efficient ones got the schools. But for the first time in several years there was not one teacher employed in the schools so grossly inefficient that I felt it my duty to advise a change to be made as quickly as practicable."

The financial statement shows a balance on hand on Jan. 1, 1897, of $18,321 59, being nearly double that of 1887. Besides $15,295 01, the balance on hand at the beginning of 1896, the boards in this division received $5,685 95 from the legislative grant, and $52,292 19 from all other sources. The following table shows the number of schools in each township, the amount spent in teachers' salaries, and the average per section:

| Schools. | Salaries. | Average. |
|---|---|---|
| Biddulph ..... 9 | $2,455 26 | $383 91 |
| Delaware ..... 6 | 2,109 70 | 432 14 |
| Dorchester .....13 | 5,438 65 | 418 35 |
| London .....28 | 9,849 27 | 351 76 |
| McGillivray ....14 | 4,581 28 | 327 23 |
| Nissouri .....12 | 3,575 09 | 297 92 |
| Westminster ...18 | 6,102 72 | 339 04 |

The average expenditure per section in these seven townships for all other purposes, was as follows:

| | Total. | Average. |
|---|---|---|
| Biddulph ..... .....$ | 547 19 | $ 60 79 |
| Delaware ..... ..... | 576 83 | 96 14 |
| Dorchester ..... .... | 2,898 32 | 222 93 |
| London ..... ..... | 3,400 48 | 121 44 |
| McGillivray ..... .. | 1,045 70 | 74 40 |
| Nissouri ..... ..... | 863 57 | 71 96 |
| Westminster ..... .. | 1,950 40 | 108 35 |

The above does not include expenditure on a fine new school in school section, No. 7, Biddulph, but includes all expenditure for repairing it.

TEACHERS.

The two model schools gave us 90 new teachers last December, and I believe all the necessary vacancies could have been supplied without them. Five years ago I had 58 teachers, who brought to their schools the advantage of a training in both the model and normal schools; last year the number of this desirable class was only 41. It may be hoped that when the new normal school is built in London we will regain our lost ground.

SALARIES.

The average salary paid teachers last year was $318 33. For gentlemen teachers the average was $338 37, and for ladies, $294 07. The number of teachers is now 119—49 men and 70 women.

The following table shows the average salaries paid to men and women in the different townships:

| | Men. | Women. |
|---|---|---|
| Biddulph ..... ..... .... | $270 | $335 |
| Delaware ..... ..... ..... | 366 | 267 |
| Dorchester ..... ..... ..... | 366 | 282 |
| London ..... ..... ..... | 344 | 291 |
| McGillivray ..... ..... | 301 | 326 |
| Nissouri ..... ..... ..... | 297 | 261 |
| Westminster ..... ..... | 325 | 309 |
| London West .... ..... | 700 | 280 |
| Lucan ..... ..... ... ... | | 301 |

SCHOOL POPULATION.

The total number of pupils registered during the year was 8,560,a further decrease of 242, as compared with the preceding year. The percentage of average attendance was 54. The total number of days' attendance, with percentage of average attendance, was as follows:

| | Days. | Average. |
|---|---|---|
| Biddulph ..... ..... | 61,696 | 58 |
| Delaware ..... ..... .. | 46,391 | 58 |
| Dorchester ..... .....100,326 | | 60 |
| London ..... ..... | 184,930 | 50 |
| McGillivray ..... .... | 88,636 | 59 |
| Nissouri ..... ..... | 75,744 | 55 |
| Westminster ..... .....113,967 | | 51 |
| London West ..... .... | 57,017 | 61 |
| Lucan .... ..... .... | 21,410 | 51 |

In the first class, part I., 1,176 scholars were registered: 834 in the first class, part II.; 1,122 in the second class; 1,479 in the third class; 1,560 in the fourth class, and 398 in the fifth class. Last year 331 pupils wrote at the entrance, of whom 171 were successful. At the public school leaving exams, 138 wrote, of whom only 56 were successful.

MORALITY OF THE SCHOOLS.

The Minister of Education asked of all the inspectors at the beginning of the year a report on the moral status of the pupils and teachers, and on the extent to which religious instruction is given in the schools. The reports from every county were singularly unanimous in testifying to the high moral tone of the teachers, as a class, of the gradual improvement of the pupils, and the almost entire absence of specific religious instruction by clergymen or catechists under the optional provisions of the regulations. Speaking for this inspectorate, during the past twenty years the morality of the school children has improved, or, at least, there is less evidence of immorality. There was, I believe, more fighting at a school in a month twenty years ago than there is in a whole year now. There are several lessons in the readers, the study of which softens a boy's heart. In the respectfulness of demeanor of children towards their teachers and elders, what is commonly called "good manners," I cannot say I observe much difference. Our schools might do more in this particular. In a period of 22 years, only one East Middlesex teacher has been charged with immorality. At the time of writing, I do not know one who uses alcoholic drinks at all, and only two who use tobacco in any form. I do not know any of them as non-church-goers. The teachers invariably come from the best families in the community, and, influenced by the growing tendency to govern their schools by moral suasion, they naturally present to the pupils their best precepts and example.

The report of the East Middlesex Teachers' Association was appended to the report.

We know that Cod-liver Oil is a fat-forming food because takers of it gain rapidly in weight under its use and the whole body receives vital force. When prepared as in Scott's Emulsion, it is quickly and easily changed into the tissues of the body. As your doctor would say, "it is easily assimilated." Perhaps you are suffering from fat starvation. You take fat enough with your food, but it either isn't the right kind, or it isn't digested. You need fat prepared for you, as in Scott's Emulsion.

Suicide Many men, and women too, are guilty of this means of self destruction, by eating inferior or ill-cooked food. The Hub is noted for the excellence of its fare. Dine with us and prolong your life.

DINNER—Cream of peas soup. Baked halibut steaks, cucumber salad. Potatoes. Pineapple. Sunshine cake. Coffee.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book.

Strawberries in Snowballs—Dip the strawberries in foudant (the melted sugar used by confectioners) or in the beaten white of egg and then in powdered sugar. These snowy balls are then arranged in a glass dish and decorated with strawberry leaves.

Whipped Eggs—Beat six eggs till light and pour into two quarts of fast boiling salted water. Stir vigorously for two minutes, drain in a fine sieve, turn out on a hot platter and garnish with crisp bacon. This may also be served on buttered toast.

Peas in Cases—New peas may be daintily served in cases made of mashed potatoes. Mash the potatoes nicely, stiffen the mass by adding flour, season with salt and pepper and bake it in fluted cake tins, placing a bit of bread in the center of each to keep the cases in shape and removing it as soon as all the shell is baked. Then prepare the peas in the following manner: Cook a pint of shelled peas in just as much water as will keep them from burning. Do not cover the kettle while cooking any green vegetable, as the confined steam will always change the color to a yellowish shade of green. When the peas are tender add a tablespoonful of flour, into which has been rubbed a tablespoonful of butter; as soon as the liquor has been thickened by this paste season with a saltspoon of salt and a dash of pepper, pour into the cases, and serve hot.

Cheese Sandwiches—Cut brown bread into very thin slices, buttering lightly. Lay between two of these slices, sandwich fashion, a filling made of cream cheese or cottage cheese, in which has been mixed chopped olives. These sandwiches are new and delicious.

Rice with Strawberry Dressing—Pour two cupfuls of boiling water on one cupful of well-washed rice; add one teaspoonful of salt; cook in double boiler 30 minutes. Add a pint or more of milk and a heaping tablespoonful of butter. Boil until perfectly tender and not too dry. Pour into a dish and let stand until cold. Dressing: One cupful of powdered sugar, one tablespoonful of butter; beat to a cream; one cupful fresh, ripe strawberries. Put in the last the well-beaten white of an egg. In serving put into each saucer some rice, and on the rice place a liberal portion of the dressing. Delicious.

Sunshine Cake—Eleven whites of eggs, six yolks of eggs, one teaspoon cream of tartar, one and one-half cups sifted granulated sugar, one cup flour, the grated peel of one orange. Beat whites till stiff and flaky, then whisk in one-half the sugar; beat the yolks very light and add flavoring and the other half of the sugar; put yolks and whites together and add flour and cream of tartar, mixing as quickly as possible. Bake 50 to 60 minutes in a slow oven, using angel-cake pan.

LATEST METHODIST NEWS.

Rev. Hugh Johnston, D.D. (formerly of the Canadian Methodist Church), is acting as chaplain to the Senate in Washington, in place of Rev. Dr. Milburn, who has gone to England on leave of absence.

In the Montreal Conference there were three deaths among the ministers, four resignations and two relegated to the superannuated list. There were twelve candidates for the ministry, but owing to the crowded state of the work only six were received.

Hamilton Conference resolved not to receive any candidates for the ministry this year.

Earl Aberdeen visited the Montreal Conference at Ottawa and delivered a very kind address, in which he spoke with terms of great commendation of the Methodist Church, whose praiseworthy labors he had had the pleasure to witness in various parts of the Dominion. The conference listened to his Excellency with great pleasure, and sung one verse of "God Save the Queen."

RETURN OF MR. GEO. T. FULFORD

The Brockville Recorder of Monday contains a column interview with Mr. Geo. T. Fulford, of that city, who has just returned from a seven months' tour of the world. Both business and pleasure were combined on the trip, Mrs. Fulford accompanying her husband. Offices were opened in Egypt, Syria, Algeria, Palestine, Ceylon and the Hawaiian Island. Branches had already been established in Australia and New Zealand, although Mr. Fulford spent some time in both these places, and succeeded by securing strong testimonials in persuading the Australians to purchase as freely as Canadians already do, his world-renowned Pink Pills.

Fell on His Head.

Baggageman Wheatcroft Thrown Out of His Cart.

An Accident With Serious Results—The Horse Became Frightened at a Trolley Car and Ran Away.

Mr. John Wheatcroft, of 254 Hill street, baggageman on the G. T. R., was seriously injured last evening while driving on Wellington street south with one of his sons.

The accident occurred near Grey street, and was caused by the horse (one which he had recently purchased) becoming frightened at a passing trolley and running away.

The animal got beyond control and made so short a turn at the next corner that the cart was upset. Mr. Wheatcroft and the boy were thrown out. The latter escaped serious injury, but Mr. Wheatcroft fell on his head, and was dragged about 30 feet before he could free himself from the lines, with which he had become entangled. Medical aid was at once called and the injured man removed to his home. He did not lose consciousness, but was evidently badly injured, chiefly internally. His head and shoulder were severely cut and bruised.

Favor Amalgamation.

Largely Attended Mass Meeting of the Ratepayers,

Addressed by Mayor Little, Reeve Saunby and the London West Councliors.

Prevalent Opinion That Amalgamation Will Be the Best Thing for the Village.

Amalgamation was the all-absorbing topic in the "peaceful" valley across the Thames last night. London West is fully alive to the importance of the measure, and taking last night's meeting at Collins' Hall as a criterion very few will vote against the measure on June 28.

Clerk Simpson called the meeting to order, and J. B. Allenby was unanimously chosen chairman. Mr. Allenby, on taking the chair, began by saying: "I am in favor of amalgamation, but not altogether satisfied as the agreement stands now."

"Well, keep your opinions to yourself," remarked Councilor Hamilton. "If you have any opinions on the subject, as chairman of this meeting you are not at liberty to express them."

Mr. Allenby subsided, and called upon the village reeve.

REEVE SAUNBY.

Reeve Saunby regretted that more people had not turned out. He wished the thing fairly understood before it was voted on, so that no one could complain. He took the proposed agreement up clause by clause. Referring to the first clause and the 25 mills, he said that under the present expenditure and assessment the village could not be run on less. By joining the city the rate would be 25 mills for seven years, and after that it would be the same as London's rate, which would be less than 25 mills. If they went in to the city next year, water mains for fire purposes would be laid. For this, if no other reason, the people should be anxious to get into the city. Fire protection increased the value of property. He referred to the recent fire in the village, and asked, "What would have been the result if the city had not generously loaned their fire apparatus, every foot of hose, and used their water—what would this village have done? There would have been another disaster almost as bad as the flood of 1883!" By clause three, a fire system was assured to the village.

By clause six the city would not in any way be responsible for any damage or injury arising out of the want of maintenance of repair to the breakwater or otherwise. He was sorry to say he was unable to get better terms, but when he asked for them, the aldermen replied, "You have men over there with $5 in their pockets, who will issue a writ, and run us into expense on the least provocation." He said it was too bad that the village had such a reputation in the law courts. This was simply because the village had a few men who gloried in making the municipality sweat. One of these had stuck the village for about $300, and, as far as he knew, had never paid his taxes. Mr. Saunby pointed out that a great advantage as the result of amalgamation was that instead of paying fees as now, the villagers could send their children to the high school without additional cost. The fees had kept many a child away from the school.

Another good thing for the village would be that when any public works like the sewer were being built, London Westers would not be excluded, as they had been in the past because they "did not live in the city." "When we get into the city we will have citizens' rights," continued the reeve, "and then they can't treat us like that." There were no reasons why London West should not be part of the city. "There is hardly one of us," he said, "who does not depend on the city, and we should form part of it."

Mr. Campbell asked if the village people would be given a chance on public works in the city after the vote was taken.

Mr. Saunby felt quite sure questions of that kind would die a natural death. He was quite satisfied with the agreement, and said that with the city of London behind the breakwater, the village would be more secure, and the breakwater would be kept in better shape than it ever was before. (Applause.)

MAYOR LITTLE.

Mayor Little was received with loud applause. He assured his hearers the question was one in which a great deal of interest was being taken. When the city considered it, they did not do it for the best bargain they could make out of it. All the citizens expected of him was to guard their interests, which he tried to do, at the same time being fair and just to everybody. He did not go there to advocate amalgamation, but the agreement was one with which no fault could reasonably be found. Referring to the clause in the sewer contract, he said he felt a little ashamed of it. The clause had been placed there to keep contractors from importing foreign labor, and was not meant to be applied to London West; but the clause was there, and it is used for ulterior purposes.

Regarding outlay the village would be practically the same, as also in the assessment, although done by city assessors.

The question had been asked, "What were we going to get?" "I'll tell you," said the mayor, "All you have now and a great deal more. An electric fire alarm system, fire and police protection, together with pure water. The speaker dwelt further on the advantages and said: "I am proud to be a citizen of London, and am glad to own it everywhere I go. I am not a native, and sometimes feel sorry I'm not. I think we have the prettiest city in the Dominion of Canada, and I don't know any city in the United States or Great Britain—I have been in most of them—to rival it. Police protection and an efficient magisterial system was a good thing. He had not learned to ride a bicycle, and knew nothing about it, but he had been told that in the city they were fined $1 for riding on the sidewalk, and in London West it cost $4 05. "If you decide to go into the city," he said, in conclusion, "I'll have the privilege of being mayor of London West for about eleven days, and if you desire to remain out I hope we will be good neighbors." (Applause.)

DEPUTY REEVE COLLINS.

Deputy Reeve Collins said he was sorry the bargain had not been better, but they had got the best terms they could. It was, in his opinion, a very advantageous thing to amalgamate with the city. The fire and water privileges were well worth having. However, if the electors did not think so, they could please themselves about voting for it.

COUNCILOR HAMILTON.

Councilor Hamilton expressed himself as feeling good and almost in sight of "the promised land." He said he knew the stand he took on the consolidation of the debt question was the correct idea. One ratepayer had told him that the fact had been a great help to amalgamation.

A Voice—Oh, he was just swellin' yer head!

The village, he continued, had everything to gain and nothing to lose. It was practically getting a sovereign for a penny.

"Councilor Ferguson has gone to a wedding," said the chairman, "and he won't address us."

COUNCILOR DUFF.

Councilor Duff said some objection had been made to the rate of 25 mills. It was impossible to run the village on less, according to the present assessment. If some prophet could tell them that no lawsuits stared them in the face the village might get along on 22 mills this year, but they would have to pay about 30 next year, when the repairs to the breakwater would have to be made. The money that was now spent promiscuously on the breakwater by men who knew nothing about the matter, would, when amalgamation took place, be expended subject to a skillful engineer. He considered the agreement equivalent to a $1,000 bonus for seven years.

ALD. OLMSTEAD.

Ald. Olmstead delivered his maiden speech on the subject of amalgamation. He presented things as they appeared to him, as being very beneficial to the village, and his sentiments suited his hearers, who frequently applauded.

SQUIRE LACEY.

Squire Lacey said as a municipality they would be dead when amalgamation carried. He could not see what benefit the village was going to be to the city, and was opposed to a set rate of 25 mills. If the village could be run on 22, why force it up to 25, and if 30 were necessary, why should they not have it?

A Voice—What are the probabilities for next year? I guess we will get the 30 mills all right, if amalgamation doesn't carry.

Squire Lacey—I don't know anything about probabilities, only the weather probabilities I see in the paper every day.

Mr. W. L. Brown said London Westers were Ishmaelites in the matter of representation. They were practically unrepresented, not only in the Houses of Parliament, but also in the County Council.

Mr. Wm. Nichol was called and obeyed the mandate of the crowd with reluctance. He said he felt satisfied with the agreement, as the best that could possibly be obtained. He hoped that what had been ratified by the people's representatives would be approved on June 28. "It has been," concluded the speaker, "so that we don't know where we are at, but we know exactly where we are at when we don't know where we will be next year."

Reeve Saunby stated here that the council had been accused of not having been liberal with the poor. He regretted this, but retrenchment had forced the council to it.

Mayor Little moved a vote of thanks to the chairman, and the meeting broke up at 10:30.

Mme. Ireland in the City.

Mme. Ireland, the well known hairdresser, of Toronto, is in the city, and will remain for a few days. Her object in coming here is to extend the business done by the London branch. She brings with her one of the ladies connected with the Toronto head office, Miss Blair, who will remain in charge here. She was the London agent when the branch was first opened. Mme. Ireland has recently opened up branches in Montreal, Ottawa and Kingston, and has had gratifying success with her hair-restoring medicines. In Montreal she treated the heads of the best people in the city, and succeeded in establishing an excellent reputation. A stock company will shortly be formed, composed of some of the best known people in Toronto. The parlors in this city are located at 211½ Dundas street, upstairs. Those who wish to consult Mme. Ireland should call this week. t
