SOCIALISTS STORM AUSTRIAN PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS

CANADA'S DELEGATES TO THE PEACE CONFERENCE SAILED FOR ENGLAND A WEEK AGO

Censorship Regarding Sailings and Restrictions With Reference to Locations of Canadian Battalions Lifted.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Nov. 15.—The censorship, which has since the beginning of the war prohibited the publication of sailings and itineraries of merchant vessels, has been lifted, and shipping news and advertisements may now be printed as in peace times except that for the present, silence as to war vessels, ships under Government contracts, and munition shipments must still be maintained. Moreover all restrictions placed upon statements with reference to battalions members and location of battalions are withdrawn as regards troops in France, Flanders, Egypt, Palestine, Mesopotamia, Italy, Saloniki and East Africa. It is, therefore, as a result of this lifting of censorship ban possible to now announce that Sir Robert Borden, Hon. A. L. Sifton, Sir Geo. Foster, Frank P. Jones, Dr. Robertson, Col. Biggar, P. M. Draper and Messrs. Christie and Buskard, secretaries, left Ottawa on November 8 and sailed for Great Britain from New York on the following day. Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, and his secretary, Thomas Ahern, left Ottawa yesterday, and will join the other party in London. They will take part in the peace negotiations, and the majority of the party will be absent probably for some months. Their absence, however, will have no effect upon the calling of parliament, when it is decided that the representatives of the people shall be called.

Mayor Somerville Declares for Extra Pay for Overseas Men.

London hoisted the Victory Loan honor flag at 12:15 o'clock today, amid great enthusiasm. Mayor Somerville using the necessary "pull" to raise the flag which measures twelve feet by twenty-four to the top of a specially-erected pole on top of the city hall. The flag went up to the strains of Rule Britannia.

The raising of the flag means that London citizens have subscribed $7,300,000 to the loan that will bring the boys in khaki home from Europe's war-torn fields. However, $600,000 more must be subscribed by tomorrow night, when the loan closes, before London will have obtained her real objective. Headed by the band of the W. O. R., the parade to the city hall began at noon, headed by Chairman George M. Reid, District Organizer W. C. Breit, City Organizer Norman Tovey and Major Gordon Ingram, chairman of the loan publicity committee of the loan. Following came Chairman Arthur White of the industrialists, and Secretary W. R. Kaplinsky, J. J. Foot and W. A. Martin, heads of the teams committees. The parade was followed by a procession of canvassers, the rest of the salesmen parading behind.

The presentation. Mayor Somerville and Controllers Reid and Charles A. Merrifield met Chairman Reid in front of the city hall, the mayor receiving the flag from Mr. Reid, who presented it on behalf of the governor-general of Canada. "It is with a great deal of pleasure that I present your worship with this flag," stated Mr. Reid. "The citizens have done nobly, but there is still great need of more money, and we ask that every dollar that can be spared be invested in Victory Bonds between now and tomorrow night."

WHO ARE THESE FOREIGNERS OF SWARTHY LOOK BUSY IN CITY?

Men of Mystery Mixing With Russians and Austrians in Factories.

"Swartzy, mysterious strangers are seen about the streets of our community as the inspired country correspondent might say. It may not be the joke it sounds, however. Heavy-set Russian and Balkan nations men, they are with the Russians and Austrians employed in local industries from time to time. They have mustaches of ferocious and an air of sophistication and creature comfort, and they do not seem to have any regular employment. They are well dressed like Europeans. Americanized, and keep to themselves, and are the kind of men who were hailed into a few weeks ago for having Bolshevik literature in their possession. London is not such a large city that new types are not noticeable. Recent types of the spread of Bolshevik propaganda in Canada, and the knowledge that the I. W. W. is a strong organization that has not overlooked Canada's west, nor the east, either, make people wonder if the serpent can and a home here keep a tight mouth regarding the possibility of Bolshevism in Canada, or they smile. The secret service force, if any, does not tell what is doing.

But the fat, dark, heavily-mustachated strangers are talking to the Russians, the Austrians, working among the foreign element in the city, and Western Ontario, making the city a headquarters for some sort of movement, possibly for the study of influenza's effects on canary birds and oldfash.

GUESTS FLEE FROM HOTEL TO STREETS IN NIGHT CLOTHES

Fire Alarm Given in Early Morning Hours.

SMOKE FILLED HOUSE
Belvedere Affected By Fire Which Started in the Restaurant.

Fire, which broke out in the Belvedere restaurant, adjoining the Hotel Belvedere (the old City Hotel), at 4 o'clock this morning, badly damaged the restaurant and the barroom of James Lambourn, next to the restaurant, and frightened some 72 guests of the hotel. The travelers' resting place filled up with smoke in a short time, and as the society editor would say, a "screamingly funny time was spent by all."

Pretty little nighties with pink and blue ribbon hung around the necks were the fashion of the corridor glides and street frocks that were done when the soul-chilling cry of "fire" was raised in the hotel. Pyjamas ranging from pink and blue, back to purple, were also noticed. An occasional dressing gown and kimono lent more or less respectability to the occasion. The bright hues of the night wear were dimmed by the smoke and the latest fashions could not be seen for heavy eyes filled with smoke. The women sought shelter and seclusion across the road in the London House, while the men borrowed overcoats and bedclothes and sat around the office of the Belvedere. It was stated that the fire siren had nothing on the noise that some of the ladies made as they made their exit from the hotel.

The management stated this morning that the damage had not yet been estimated, but that it was considerable.

BOARD OF CONTROL RECOMMENDS THAT PREMIUMS BE PAID

Thinks It Unfair to Soldiers to Stop Now.

Full premiums will be paid on the soldiers' insurance by the city for another year. At least this action will be recommended to the city council as a result of the meeting of the board of control this morning. The question of dropping the war premiums and letting the policies go into extended insurance on the payment of the regular premium, which is permissible under the terms of the policies, had been discussed, and it had been decided to take this step. By doing this the city would save $5,550 this year, but unless the war premiums are paid the men would not be able to take advantage of the offer of the city to carry their policies after their return. The policies under the extended insurance plan would lapse in three or four years. An effort was made to get in touch with the men insured to lay the plan before them and letters were sent out to all, but few replied. In view of all the facts it was thought that it would be unfair to the men to do anything while they are overseas that would deprive them of the privilege of continuing their policies after their return.

HURRY CALL IN EARLY HOURS FINDS ST. JOHN AMBULANCE READY; BABY BORN IN HOSPITAL

Emergency Home Opened and Returned Soldier's Wife Was Given Room in the Nick of Time.

No. 4 Nursing Division, St. John Ambulance Association Emergency Hospital at 404 Talbot street, is still very much on the job, notwithstanding the fact that all the "flu" patients have been sent home and the accident cases of the peace celebration on Monday were disposed of without much difficulty. This morning at 6:45 o'clock, a "love" (to use the V. A. D.'s adjective) baby girl, weighing 8½ or 9 pounds, was ushered into the world in the Emergency Hospital, and both mother and babe are doing nicely, thank you, the former extremely grateful for the skillful care that has been bestowed upon herself and little daughter.

Quick Response. During the night, Mrs. J. P. Thomson, superintendent of No. 4 Nursing Division, received a call from a doctor in the city asking if she could have the hospital opened up at once to take in the wife of a returned soldier, who was ill. The assistance of a member of the

CRIMINAL RECORD NO BAR TO ARMY, BUT EX-CONVICT WHO HAS SERVED WILL NOT BE TRUSTED ON RETURN

Government Lays Down Law in Corp. Pugh's Case, That Prison Record Can Never Be Wiped Out—No Come-Back to Re Spectability Allowed.

"He has a criminal record and cannot have a Government job," is the reply of the department of inland revenue to the inquiry of the Great War Veterans' Association as to why Corp. Alfred Pugh of this city should have had no position in the civil service snatched from his grip when it was in his reach. Not only does the department set up the hard and fast law that a man cannot wipe his name clear of past stains by doing his duty in the army, but having that it will not accept him, it digs into the past record of the man and declares that he has served sixteen years in penitentiaries and jails for offenses ranging from burglary to horse-stealing.

The case of Corp. Pugh came to the attention of The Advertiser long before he went to war. When he was released from Kingston Penitentiary early in 1914, he came to this office stating that he desired to place himself on record for a new life, and he wrote an article in his long incarceration the most attractive and interesting of the portraits of Kingston a trained accountant, and with more than an ordinary command of English.

He was anxious to secure a civil service position, and made application. He took a high standing in the examinations, and was to be secured a position at $1,000 a year, when an order came through cancelling the appointment without explanation.

Deeply Grieved. The day he received the letter Corp. Pugh came to The Advertiser office and revealed the fact that he had been turned down. He was greatly stirred emotionally, and told a most dramatic story to the editor of this paper.

One of the men who met in the old days, he stated, came to him and attempted to get him to return to a life of crime, and he was to be paid a sum of money easily. The character was of the "big game" type, and he was a (nitro-glycerine safe blowers), in the country, and he offered to pay the fare of Pugh to a certain place, where he had a job in which the stake was $65,000. He told Pugh that the latter was a fool to think that the money would ever be his a chance again, and dangled the lure of "easy money" before the eyes of the man who, according to every indication, was attempting to get back on his feet and to support his family by honest work.

Pugh told The Advertiser of his refusal to accept the offer and of the crook's departure after another declaration that the London man was a fool, and should take up the chance.

"I have tried to keep straight, but these Government officials don't want me to," said Pugh at the time. He also believed that someone aware of his record was busy seeking to prevent him from securing work.

No Encouragement. "A man might as well go and put his head under an engine and end it all," he stated. "The put you in jail if you go wrong, and they close their doors on you if you try to go right. Your life was good enough when they needed human bodies in the front lines. Why didn't they shut me out of the army if they don't want men who have served time? I suppose they regard anyone as worthless but themselves."

The case was taken up by Secretary Cumliffe of the Great War Veterans' Association, through the Dominion executive at Ottawa, and the reply which comes back makes it plain that the Dominion Government has made it a rule that no matter what service a man may have performed in France at $1.10 a day he cannot work for the Government at home if he has a record of crime. The decision is regarded as a cruel and unfeeling attitude, and it is probable that the returned soldier's case will be made a capital issue before long.

The Great War Veterans will meet tonight and the correspondence will probably be discussed.

TO START MUSICAL CLASS.—Lieut. Jack Slater, bandmaster of the 49th Highlanders of Toronto, and Lieut. J. M. McCullough of the vocational branch of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, also of Toronto, are in the city with a view to organizing a musical class at the Byron Sanatorium.

Ritchie of the local branch of the Salvation Army will leave tomorrow for Sarnia, where they will hold a special service at the unveiling of a tablet in honor of Capt. William H. Reynolds, who made the supreme sacrifice in France.

BILL IS ILL.—William Sneath, bagpiper on the London, Huron and Bruce, and The Advertiser's own Post Bill, met the trunk that he could not lift the other day, and as a result he is confined to his home at Wingham with a seriously-strained back. He is expected around in a few days, however, and The Advertiser means to celebrate his return by having him pen a few more epics.

COMPLIMENTED BAND.—Hackett Orange Benefit Lodge, No. 885, received a letter yesterday from the members of the Victoria Legion at its meeting last night in Orange Hall, Market Lane. Several visitors were present and addresses were made by members of the lodge on the Victory Loan teams. The members of the lodge band were complimented on their performance in the recent victory celebration. Arrangements were made for a euchre party and dance to be held in the Duffield Block tonight.

PAID FOR DAMAGE.—Echoes of Halloween were heard in the city court Thursday afternoon when John Fisher and Leonard Coates appeared, charged with damaging the property of Armed Sutherland, a farmer living near Mount Brydges. The young men, who were with a large party when they stole the plaintiff's gate and caused other damage, admitted their guilt. Mr. Sutherland withdrew the charge when the defendants agreed to pay the costs of the action and to pay him $15 damages. The cost of their fun amounted to $23.89.

APPROPRIATED IN GALT.—Apprentice reports have come from Galt of an organ recital given there last Tuesday evening. The recital was given by the Galt choir, under the direction of Charles E. Wheeler, F.C.G.O., of this city, in connection with the opening of the four-manor Canadian Club. The recital was given in a very artistic and pleasing manner in which Mr. Wheeler rendered his varied and interesting program. He had as his assisting artists Mrs. Harold Hamilton and Walter McCutcheon of Hamilton, the latter formerly one of this city's most popular singers.

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS TO BE DISCUSSED AT TORONTO CONFERENCE.

Miss Ethel MacRobert, superintendent of the London branch of the Woman's Government Employment Bureau, has gone down to Toronto today for a conference of district secretaries with the members of the Toronto staff. Many questions in connection with the interests of women farm workers and their employers are being considered, such as rates of pay, housing conditions, etc. Here are some of the questions to be discussed today and tomorrow in the conference.

OBTAINS JUDGMENT.—Ottawa, Nov. 15.—Judgment has been obtained in the local court house by John Lumden, president of the Lumbermen's Association, against the Dominion Lumber Company, for $136,000, one of the largest judgments ever obtained in the local courts. It was for lumber and money loaned to the defendants by Mr. Lumden.

CONTROLLERS DON'T LIKE THAT IDEA OF A PERPETUAL GRANT

Think Money Should Be Voted Nurses Annually.

The recommendation of No. 1 committee to the board of control to the ratepayers at the January elections to allow the city council to make an annual grant of $600, was not approved by the members of the board of control. It was thought that the question of the grant should be decided yearly by the public rather than by taking a vote this year to make it perpetual.

A communication was received from the Dominion Railway Board approving the plans for the changing of the grade of the London and Port Stanley bridge and adding a footbridge to the structure.

No Action on Bridge.—There was no action taken on the proposed purchase of the London and Lake Erie Company bridge, as the special committee appointed by No. 1 committee has not been able to meet the company yet.

Bishop M. F. Fallon's invitation to the city bodies to attend the thanksgiving service in St. Peter's Cathedral on Tuesday morning next was received and accepted.

As J. A. Brownlee has agreed to repair the roof of the Reliance Garage, according to his contract, he will be allowed to finish the work. He recently reported that he could not do the work, and it had been decided to get a reliever from him and call for new tenders.

City Clerk's Bureau.—A copy of the proposed official program which he has been preparing to mark the signing of the peace treaty, is being considered by the members. It was decided to have some of these placed on sale in the bookstores for the convenience of the citizens who may wish to buy several copies to send to their friends. All copies intended for the soldiers overseas may be obtained free from the office of the city clerk, and the citizens may get copies there also, but it was decided that any persons wanting a quantity of them should purchase them.

ASQUITH APPEALS FOR UNITY AMONG BRITISH LIBERALS

Two Sections of Great Party May Come Together Before the Election.

London, Nov. 15.—(Canadian Press dispatch from Reuters, Limited).—In a private address to his supporters in the House of Commons yesterday, ex-Premier Asquith is understood to have dwelt on the necessity for maintaining unity among Liberals. He said that if the Liberal party foreshadowed by Premier Lloyd George was to become every Liberal should support it. He deprecated the action of the Government in running candidates against Liberals. A number of speakers urged upon Mr. Asquith the propriety of his being appointed as the peace plenipotentiaries. The conciliatory nature of the ex-premier's speech strengthens the idea in political circles of the possibility of rapprochement of the two sections of the party before the elections on December 14.

RETURNED MEN FIND HOME FROM HOME AT S. A. MILITARY HOSTEL

Of the 40 returned soldiers who arrived in London Wednesday evening, 31 spent the night at the Salvation Army Military Hostel. This is taken to show that this institution is playing an important part in attending to the needs of the returned men who have no home in this city or who have to remain in the city over night before leaving for home.

Adjutant John Sharp, the manager of the Hostel, says that every train which brings returned soldiers to the city, if a soldier happens to be "broke," he is urged to come to the hostel. Meals are provided at all hours of the day and night, and the beds are almost all filled every night. The bedding is clean and comfortable, and the rates are always clean and tidy. The rates are far cheaper than in any hotel or boarding-house in the city.

All soldiers and sailors, whether they are returned men or not, are warmly welcome, and the staff of the hostel are always ready to lend a helping hand.

At the request of the delegates from Agram, Premier Pachitch agreed to present to the Serbian and allied governments, the proposal that the national council of Agram be recognized as the supreme power of the newly-constituted state composed of parts of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy until the formation of the final union with Serbia can be carried out.

STANDARD DRUG COY. CELEBRATING ITS FIFTH ANNIVERSARY BY SALE

Story of Wonderful Expansion Told by Manager.

Three five-wire branch stores and a large warehouse! This is the record of war-time expansion of one of London's leading firms, the Standard Drug Company, which this week is celebrating the fifth anniversary of opening up business in London.

The company isn't in the least selfish about its celebrating. In this, it is imitating the spirit which has characterized its methods in the past five years of its history. The Standard Drug Company is sharing up with the public in the mammoth anniversary sale which is in progress.

Largest Sale Yet.—The fact that the fifth sale is the largest in the history of the kind, away ahead of former years, is proof positive of the extent to which the Standard Drug has won the confidence of patrons.

The management has consistently refused to take advantage of war-time conditions to place an abnormal price on goods. The company has given the public the equivalent in both the quality and price of goods, and has reaped a harvest of continually increasing business and success.

Rapid Expansion.—On November 14, 1913, the first Standard store was opened in London at 252 Dundas street. So popular did this become immediately that it was considered expedient to open a branch on Richmond street, near York, within three months. Then the war came, and many business houses hesitated to open so the Standard Drug. Not only was business maintained as usual, but steadily better than usual. March 19, 1915, the third store was opened on Dundas street, near Richmond, and on July 17, 1916, the fourth at 664 Dundas street, in East London. Further expansion took the form of a St. Thomas branch, which has become a thriving business in itself.

The question then arose of adequate and prompt provisioning of so many branches. This problem was solved by the opening of a large London warehouse on October 1, 1917, to handle the immense shipments of drugs and sundries required by the five stores.

Believes in Advertising.—"I am a firm believer in the value of advertising," declared General Manager Traut today. "It is impossible to get your goods before the people unless you let it be known that you have them. Properly advertised, and a square deal every time in the way of prices, it seems to me any essential business should be made to succeed well in London. These are the three principles to which I think we can attribute our success. As we have done in five years, the right goods, the right prices and plenty of advertising."

PHYSICAL EXERCISE DEPARTMENT POPULAR

Since the reopening of the physical department of the Y. M. C. A., which was closed during the Spanish influenza epidemic, the young men's classes and businessmen's classes have been more largely attended than ever before; in fact, the entire department is being patronized better than it ever was.

The young men's classes are for those over 17 years of age. The work of this class includes drills, gymnastics and recreation. The work itself is interesting, but as those who take part are benefiting themselves by developing their bodies and thus making themselves fit to carry on their work successfully, the classes have a double power of attraction. The businessmen's class is carried on along somewhat similar lines. Two strong basketball leagues of four teams each have been organized and are attracting wide attention.

STREET RAILWAY "IN WRONG"; TOOK CARS OFF IN "FLU" PERIOD

Didn't Even Say "By Your Leave."

NEW PLAN GOVERNMENT

Scheme Outlined to Handle City Affairs: When Controllers Disappear.

Cutting off some of the trippers during the "flu" epidemic without first consulting No. 1 committee put the London Street Railway Company "in wrong" with some of the members of the committee, who had been rather inclined to allow the company some leeway in the schedule while conditions were abnormal. Manager C. B. King of the company appeared at the adjourned meeting of No. 1 committee last night to discuss the situation.

Controller S. H. Merryfield proposed that the company be asked to add some cars to the Hamilton road line during the rush hours, which most complaints have been made. It was decided to have this done and have a report for the next meeting as to the results.

Controller Merryfield was rather inclined to think that Manager King had put out over the committee by cutting off the cars for telling the members at a former meeting that he would consult them before making any further changes in the schedule.

Not Fair to Committee. "I don't think it has been fair to the men on this committee and the council who have felt disposed to treat the company considerably," said Controller Merryfield.

Under the circumstances of the "flu" epidemic we could not wait two weeks for a meeting of this committee before we cut out the trippers," replied Manager King.

"Why did you have to take off the trippers?" asked Mayor C. H. Somerville. "There was no necessity for this," was the excuse.

"That makes no difference," rather warmly retorted the mayor. "If you are going to take that stand I am going to take the stand that the company will have to restore the former schedule. You cannot take off two or three cars any time you feel like it."

Controller Merryfield thought the members of the committee should know if for any reason the former had to be cut down so they could form the people who make complaints regarding the service.

Major Somerville: "Well, you never know if some cars will be an emergency arise."

Chairman F. R. Harley asked if the company often had emergencies. Manager King said that it had to face an emergency last Monday when it could not run the cars on account of the parade. Mayor Somerville said that he had been consulted on that occasion. It was pointed out that the company lost $7,000 revenue on account of the "flu."

This loss was partly due to the taking off of the cars, according to the mayor. He said that he had seen several cars pass Dundas street on Richmond that were loaded to capacity, and many passengers had been left standing on the corner. Manager King should have been put into service, he thought.

Returning to the question of schedule, Mr. King suggested that it is easier for the public to keep tabs on the cars on the fifteen-minute schedule than on a twelve-minute one.

Controller E. S. Little suggested that an hourly schedule would be easier to remember. He also intimated that the publishing of a time table by the company might educate the public.

Ald. C. G. Moorhead's resolution in the council, asking this committee to consider submitting the street railway question to the railway board, was laid over.

$50,000 for Industrial Area. On the request of Industrial Commissioner Gordon Philip the committee decided to recommend that the city should allow the railway company to expend $50,000 in the purchase of industrial area for the purpose of aiding the establishing of new industries in the city.

For the government of the city the proposal which had been prepared by Controller J. M. Moore and City Clerk S. Baker was recommended to be rescinded, with the request that a bylaw be

LONDON AND MIDDLESEX BREAK ALL RECORDS IN THE LOAN DRIVE; CITY HOISTS HONOR FLAG TODAY

$704,950 Subscribed in City Yesterday, Bringing Total to $7,250,650, Just $50,000 Below the Original Objective—Headquarters Will Raise That $50,000 in Time for Ceremony at Noon.

London rose to the occasion in the Victory Loan drive today. As a result of the endeavors of the salesmen and headquarters staff $704,950 was subscribed yesterday, bringing the total to $7,250,650, just $50,000 short of the original objective of $7,300,000.

"We've Got To Do It." "We've got to work hard to get that extra $50,000, needed to gain the second objective of $7,300,000," said Chairman Reid last night. "and I feel confident that the citizens won't let us fall down."

We need the money, and they need a good investment, and I think that we can do it together on this."

Secretary M. Kaplansky and his industrial staff worked late again last night arranging the day's subscriptions. The factories and business houses again dipped deep into their pockets yesterday, and have now left their objectives far behind. Their total yesterday had reached $824,700, and Organizer Norman Towell and his crew are after a million dollars each. There will be no hot time if they get it.

TURPENTINE ADVANCES ON PEACE NEWS; OTHER LINES FOLLOW EXAMPLE. Hardware and Metal, November 16, will say.

A sharp advance in turpentine is recorded this week, amounting to 12 cents per gallon. This may be termed one of the first lines to reflect conditions which have followed signing of armistice and is in line with situation outlined in Hardware and Metal during the past few weeks.

There is no indication that the peak has yet been reached. Government reports from the United States show more than required for United States needs. It is further pointed out that next year's production will not be any larger than for the past season.

Lined oil is another line which has undergone revision upward. Advances of four to five cents have been registered, and indications point to even higher levels as well within the realm of possibility. Prices on seed have been recovering from recent depression during the past two weeks, and since Monday the price of seed has advanced.

Another line of horse nails is included in the list to go to higher levels, prices today being up just one cent per pound over former prices. Lace leather has gone higher, prices today being up about 25 cents per pound over previous quotations.

Other lines included in the list to follow the upward trend this week are drills, blowers, force, mouse and rat traps, charcoal and wheelbarrows. An advance of about 5 per cent is reported.

LONDON WOMAN TO HEAD WOMEN'S AID OF DISTRICT NO. 1

Will Nominate V. A. D. Workers for Hospital.

ALSO NAMES CANDIDATES

Who Wish to Train as Masseuses and Functional Workers.

A big honor has been conferred on Mrs. J. B. McKillop, O. C. of the Lord Klitchner Nursing Division, this city, in that she has been appointed Lady District Superintendent of the Women's Aid Department, Military District No. 1.

She shared this honor with two other women in Ontario, Mrs. A. E. Gooderham of Toronto, Military District No. 2, and Mrs. Hunter Ogilvy of Kingston, Military District No. 3. There are only seven lady district superintendents in Canada.

This organization which was authorized by an order-in-council in August last, is known as the Women's Aid Department of the St. John Ambulance Brigade Overseas within the Dominion of Canada, and aims to centralize the work which will be done by women in the military hospitals throughout Canada.

V. A. D. nursing members, functional masseuses as well as telephone operators, stenographers, clerks, and sewing women, will all be under the supervision of this Women's Auxiliary Department.

Mrs. McKillop, being lady district superintendent of this district, will have the final nomination of all V. A. D. nurses for the various hospitals and message at Hart House, selecting the names from those submitted by the St. John Ambulance officers in this district.

Uniform. The uniform of the members of the department will be the regulation St. John Ambulance uniform, and that which the lady superintendent, Mrs. McKillop, will wear is a black suit, with the St. John Ambulance stripes and epaulettes, grey jacket and dark grey military coat. This uniform is similar to the one worn by Lady Percy, who is also a lady superintendent of this order overseas.

The age limit for masseuses is 22 to 35 years, and they must serve a probation of six months at Hart House. Their salary will be paid by the department of militia and defence, supervising masseuses getting $75 and head masseuses $85 per month. For the first two months masseuses are considered untrained and receive no pay, but afterwards the rate of payment is $85 a month.

General service members must be from 15 to 50 years of age and serve one month's probation, receiving pay for whole time at $40 a month. General service superintendents, $75 a month; assistant superintendents, $55; head clerk, $50; clerk, $45; stenographers, $45; telephone operators, $30; head maids, $20; charwomen, $20; sewing women, $20.

DOMINION POLICE IN CITY STILL KEEPING AFTER DESERTERS

Minard has received orders from the Adjutant-General at Ottawa, that no further arrests of deserters under the M.S.A. are to be made and all proceedings against deserters are to be stopped pending further instructions.

Capt. Minard stated that he has passed the order to his constables that he has no further to do with deserters, and that he is now on the order to his constables that he has no further to do with deserters, and that he is now on the order to his constables that he has no further to do with deserters.

County's Best Showing. Middlesex County is at last taking a real interest in the loan, Thursday's total reaching $248,000. This is by far the best day the county canvassers have yet experienced.

The county decided to subscribe $25,000 worth of bonds, and have provided for that amount from the sinking fund. The grand total of the county now stands at $1,567,050. Three hundred and sixty-three subscriptions were received in Thursday's mail. Organizer G. E. Cork is greatly pleased at the manner in which the county is now buying bonds.

also in stocks and dies, screw plates, pipe taps, hand taps, reamers, etc. immediately effective. Vises, hand soap, metal and gimlet bits have also gone to higher levels.

The trade as a whole looks forward to a period of marked prosperity for Canada. No reason for depression is expressed over the approach of peace, having faced four years of war, in which many dark days and every effort to keep conditions bright exerted. No immediate recession in values is looked for. Stocks are low and replacement of the war surplus is probable. The war surplus will probably mean a steadily maintained basis of quotations.

FORMER LONDONER GOES TO MICHIGAN AS RECTOR. Rev. R. J. Lee, B.A., a former Londoner, now curate of All Saints' Church, Windsor, preached his farewell sermon here last Sunday, prior to his departure to Adrian, Michigan, where he has accepted the rectorship of Christ Episcopal Church.

At the close of the morning service the congregation assembled in the Sunday school hall, where the rector, Rev. Arthur Carlisle, after expressing his regrets that Rev. Lee had decided to leave Windsor, called upon Mr. Courtenay, who, on behalf of the congregation, presented him with a purse of gold amounting to $100.

In reply, Rev. Mr. Lee thanked the rector and members of the congregation for their generous and hearty support and co-operation they had given him during his ministry in their midst.

HAD SUFFERED 30 YEARS, SHE SAYS

"I'll Praise Tanlac the Longest Day I Live," Says Mrs. Robbins.

"Talking about things that help people," said Mrs. R. H. Robbins of 1449 South Fourteenth street, Omaha, Neb., in an interview, recently, "Tanicl is more good than any medicine I have ever known in my time, and I'm now past sixty years of age."

"In 1889, nearly thirty years ago now," she continued, "when I gripped first came along, and so many people were having it, I had an attack of it myself, and have had it since in one form or other from once to twice a year ever since. The first spell left me in a badly weakened condition, and I would no sooner recover from one attack than I would be pulled down by another."

At that time called it 'rheumatism' and I had aches and pains all through my body. In all my limbs and muscles, Three years ago I had one of these spells, which was so severe that they took me to the hospital, and I nearly died. I had the worst headaches it seems anyone could have and I was badly run down and frightfully weak. I couldn't sleep well for all those thirty years. My appetite was poor, I lost twenty pounds in weight, and just had to drag myself around. I was hardly ever without some kind of an ache or pain and the past spring I was in such a bad fix that we couldn't keep house, so I went to my daughters. My husband heard of a remarkable case of Tanlac, that had been relieved by Tanlac. Then he went straight to Sherman & McConnell's drug store and got two bottles, one for me and one for himself, as he was in very bad health, too. Well, I showed some improvement on the first bottle and kept on getting better slowly. My appetite came gradually, and my strength came back a little each day. My aches and pains went away and I got to sleeping better. When we would see one bottle getting low, we would hurry to get another and since I finished my sixth bottle, I'm feeling better and more like myself than I have in years. With all the aches and 'flu' epidemic that's going over the country, I'm feeling stronger and better than I ever did. We are keeping house again now, and I eat well, sleep well, do all my housework and feel fine for the time. I am taking Tanlac with the Tanlac tablets again now to keep in shape for the winter. It certainly is a blessing to humanity and has done so, and I am taking Tanlac with me that I will praise it the longest day I live."

HON. DR. H. J. CODY HOPES ALLIES WILL BE STERN WITH ENEMY

Hopes Statesmen Will Not Rob Soldiers of Victory's Fruits.

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—"Mercy without justice is more demoralizing than justice without mercy," said Hon. Dr. H. J. Cody, addressing the Women's Canadian Club in the Masonic Hall to-night, and expressing the hope that no combination of statesmen would rob our soldiers of the victory they have won on the battlefield, or out of any undue softness refrain from meting out justice to the vanquished.

"Reconstruction and education," was Dr. Cody's subject.

THREE ONTARIO CITIES GO OVER TOP FOR LOAN

Toronto, Hamilton and London Turn In $13,113,150 in Day.

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—Three of the larger cities of Ontario "went over the top" in the Victory Loan campaign to-day, Toronto, Hamilton and London. The provincial capital came on with a rush, subscribing $13,113,150 and putting their total at $90,071,450.

The figures to date for the whole province, with the exception of one canvassing division, which had not been able to turn in a report up to midnight, stand at $222,796,150, of which $23,901,500 was subscribed today.

As to the Dominion as a whole, while the returns are by no means complete, $425,442,600 has actually been reported to the Dominion business committee. This means that the success of the loan is now beyond a doubt.

At this stage of last year's campaign Canada had subscribed $206,243,250, Ontario $140,702,000, and Toronto $66,623,600.

"Our $250,000,000 objective seems assured," said Mr. G. H. Wood, provincial chairman, in commenting on to-night's reports. "The governor-general's honor flag will be flying in Toronto, Hamilton and London tomorrow as a result of these cities having passed their first objective tonight. Their grand totals to date are: Toronto, $90,071,450; Hamilton, $14,309,450; and London, $7,306,700.

"At the end of the sixteenth day of the campaign Ontario still makes good in her challenge to the other provinces of the Dominion to equal their combined total. The rest of the Dominion, according to latest reports, has subscribed $202,647,450, as compared with tonight's figures of $222,796,150 for the province of Ontario.

The totals for the other provinces, those for Quebec, including $80,655,550 Montreal, are:

British Columbia $20,251,650
Alberta 11,724,850
Saskatchewan 10,751,450
Manitoba 27,785,900
Quebec 100,013,550
New Brunswick 11,328,600
Nova Scotia 13,223,450
Prince Edward Island 1,552,200
The following is a summary of the province of Ontario by divisions:

Toronto $90,071,450
Ottawa Valley 15,440,050
Eastern 17,852,000
Central 15,720,800
Western 21,458,250
Hamilton and Niagara 28,552,850
London and southern 23,580,500
Northern 11,547,680
Total $222,796,150

CANADA GLOWINGLY PRAISED BY FRENCH AND U.S. PRESIDENTS

Blood of Canadians Has Strengthened Bond, Says Poincare — Wilson Praises Association — Greetings From New Zealand.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—The president of France, M. Raymond Poincare, has replied as follows to the congratulatory message forwarded on behalf of the Dominion of Canada by his excellency the governor-general, a few days ago: "Among the congratulations received by the Government of the republic or the signing of the armistice, those addressed to me on behalf of the Government and people of Canada have particularly touched me. I had the great pleasure to pass Sunday last in the liberated regions in the midst of the admirable Canadian troops, and they gave me a welcome I will never forget. The noble blood of the children of the Dominion shed on the battlefields of France, with that of so many other sons of the British Empire, has strengthened anew the bond which ties our peoples. I tender you my cordial good wishes for the welfare of Canada." (Signed) "RAYMOND POINCARÉ."

Tribute of Uncle Sam.
In reply to messages sent to the governments of the United States and New Zealand, his excellency the governor-general has received the following replies: "From the President of the United States to the Governor-General: 'I am sure I speak for the people of the United States in sending most cordial fraternal greetings to the people of Canada in this hour of our common triumph and profound joy. It has been a matter of pride to be associated with the Canadian people and with your excellency's government in carrying forward the enterprise of the war, and I beg that you will accept for yourself and for the great forces ever which you preside, the most cordial greetings and congratulations.'"

New Zealand's Greeting.
"From the Governor-General of New Zealand to the Governor-General of Canada: 'New Zealand thanks you for your cordial message. This dominion heartily reciprocates your good wishes for the future, and feels convinced that as the people of old countries and the young dominions have successfully faced the difficulties of the last four years they will be equally competent to deal with the problems of reconstruction which lie before them.'"

PENSION INJUSTICE.

ATTENTION is drawn to a letter from a wounded soldier who makes the following comment:

"If the authorities of the pension commission and others of the so-called Union Government would get busy and see that we returned men get a square deal, instead of trying to shove us off with next door to nothing, I think it would be more to their credit. BUT IT IS LIKE BEING AN OBSOLETE WEAPON; WHEN THERE IS NO FURTHER USE FOR US WE ARE SCRAPPED AND LEFT TO OUR OWN RESOURCES WHETHER WE ARE IN CONDITION TO RETURN TO OUR OLD OCCUPATION OR NOT."

It is not merely in the role of an opposition newspaper that The Advertiser has repeatedly declared that the pension problem cannot be handled on a strict blood-and-bone basis. More than mere physical examination will be necessary if justice is to be done to the returned men; there must be some human consideration of previous occupation, and the country must pay its debt of gratitude insofar as it is possible. The debt is admitted by every reasonable person. It was made the basis of Union Government's aspiration to power, and the most sweeping promises were given to the wives and mothers of soldiers in order that their votes might be flattered from them. This sort of bribery was one of the foulest things of the whole campaign, as were the promises made that equal pensions would be taken up and furthered, the promises having no intention of doing anything more than securing a comfortable seat at Ottawa. And if a Unionist member of parliament gets $2,500 for what he DID NOT DO at the last session, why should a soldier who has done his trick in the trenches be given only a pittance?

A HUN PARADISE LOST.

WHAT IF THE ALLIES had lost the war? A series of disasters such as the destruction of the British fleet, the overwhelming of the Allied defenses in France, the reaching of the channel ports might have spelled defeat, even though the possibility seemed remote in the darkest hours. But we can picture what would have been the fate of the nations of democracy. We have seen the Hun in his pitiless moods when the helpless were in his hands, and we know what cruelties he would have inflicted had he won complete victory. The chains of France, of Britain, even of America would be clanking down the roads of history even today. Junkerdom established in supreme arrogance would have been back-booting in our streets. German system would have installed its governors in many lands. The world would have become a German paradise and in Allied hades.

One need turn back only to July 18 of the present year to sense the intentions of the Pan-Germans. It was on this date that Count von Loon, son of the Prussian minister of war in 1871, set forth the peace terms of kaiserism in the following form:

German annexation of Belgium and the channel coast to the south of Calais; annexation of the Briey-Longwy iron region, annexation of Belfort, Toul and Verdun and all French territory east of these forts.

Restitution to Germany of all her colonies, including Kiaochow.

Great Britain to cede to Germany such naval bases and coaling stations as Germany might designate; Great Britain to return Gibraltar to Spain, to surrender its naval fleets to Germany, to restore Egypt and the Suez Canal to Turkey.

Greece to be re-established under King Constantine, with frontiers as before the war.

Austria and Bulgaria to divide Serbia and Montenegro.

Great Britain, France and the United States to pay all of Germany's war costs, the indemnity being a minimum of $45,000,000,000. They also to be forced to deliver raw materials to Germany according to dictation.

Occupation of France and Belgium by German armies until all these conditions are met, the costs of occupation to be borne by the enemy.

In the light of today's events these terms may seem a weird nightmare, yet the military experts of Germany only a few months ago counted on a complete and crushing victory. Would they have had the Canadian people or the American people, even the "radical" Germans who are now voting?

THE UNHAPPY HAPSBURG.

THE DOWNFALL of the Hapsburgs is the final tragedy of a royal house that many times has startled the world with dramatic incidents, some tragic, others more pleasing, but sensational. Unlike the Hohenzollerns, who have always clung tenaciously to their royal prerogatives, the Hapsburg men and women appear have considered lightly their "divine rights." The court of Vienna has been the most exclusive of all the courts of Europe, but its princes and princesses have never permitted that to interfere with their happiness if that was to be found by a surrender of their royal privileges. The murdered heir, whose assassination brought on the war, married morganatically the woman he loved. The Archduke John, in direct line for the throne, signed away his rights to a splendid empire, and as plain Johann Orth sailed away with his own ship never to be heard of again. One of Francis Joseph's daughters eloped with a poor musician, turning down an alliance with another royal house. The Crown Prince Rudolph killed himself and the woman with whom he was infatuated rather than submit to the emperor's dictation. The Empress Elizabeth, a woman of rare beauty and culture, broke all precedents by refusing to live with her husband and dwelt abroad until she fell under the assassin's knife. The sombre, mysterious and the tragic have clung to the Hapsburgs as with no other of the royal families of Europe. In their blood there appears to have been a strain of the bizarre and grotesque that has driven them to strange excesses and amazing acts. The debacle of the dual monarchy ends the dark romance of an imperial family that has been dogged by unhappiness at every step.

PUNISHMENT FOR W. HOHENZOLLERN.
THE WINNIPEG Telegram has asked the editors of Canadian daily newspapers to telegraph their opinions as to what should be done with the former Emperor of Germany, having in mind particularly the Edith Cavell and Fryatt cases. The reply of The Advertiser was as follows:

"London, Ont., Nov. 14.—If Napoleon died the exiled prisoner of his conquerors in St. Helena, no legal punishment meted out to William Hohenzollern by the Allied court of justice can be too severe. The character of the peoples who subdued the monster is not capable of inflicting torture even upon the former kaiser. But let it never be forgotten that he is directly responsible for the death of more than 14,000 British non-combatant men, women and children, and indirectly responsible for the death by starvation and massacre millions more. He never lifted a finger to save the life of a human being upon whom the rage of Hun or Turk might be vented. The Edith Cavell and Fryatt murders would never have occurred if the ex-emperor had repudiated and denounced the first murders in Belgium. As Parker's character said in "The Right of Way," Hohenzollern is "as guilty as hell." The headsman should be told to get out one of the old-fashioned chopping blocks upon which tyrants in the past were made to lay their necks."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The weather fits in beautifully with the prevailing happiness.

Albert's restoration is as popular as was Wilhelm's abdication.

Germany is still enough of a savage to bite the hand that feeds her.

The ex-kaiser having "taken the count" may explain why he assumes that title.

A noted Frenchman says the only good German is a dead one. Will Holland please take the hint?

While on the subject of abdications we mention that old King Coal is safe for six months at least.

It was so Hohenzollernlike for that tribe to impose itself on a little country they had been bullying for four years.

The ex-German Emperor is now merely a count, but a mad man is as dangerous under any old name. Watch him.

Another abdication that we are keen to see is that of the party who had the campaign figured out just as Foch planned it.

In order to relieve him of rheumatism, Col. Roosevelt is to have a tooth extracted. We hope this will not wreck the famous smile.

The suggestion is made that November 11 be made a day of national thanksgiving. The idea is good. Next to Dominion Day it should appeal most strongly of all our annual celebrations. It would naturally be considered commemorative of our noble dead, something similar to the Decoration Day of our allies across the line.

Kaiser Bill went up the hill,
Committing crimes and slaughter;
He came down and lost his crown,
And there'll be none hereafter.
—Brookville Recorder and Times.

Kaiser Bill went up the hill,
To get a slice of France;
Kaiser Bill came down the hill,
With bullets in his pants.
—School Boy Version.

THE SIMPLE THINGS.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger.]
Real ability is shown in trifles as well as in what is tremendous.

If you are a master, the mark of the master is on all you do. One inch of canvas is enough to demonstrate the inspired painter. One phrase of music denotes the composer in whom the divine flame quivers and is ardent. A single line makes clear the poet's gift of expression.

Whatever the medium in which genius works, the least fragment of the finished product mirrors the cunning of the mind that tolled so patiently when it was wrought.

Giotto drew a free-hand circle, we are told, perfectly. That he gave the task of designing the cathedral at Florence.

Gilbert barbed the idea, for his satiric purpose, when he wrote of one who polished a war-horse so perfectly that he became the ruler of the Queen's mazy.

Charles Delmonico said to the accomplished chef who sought employment, "Go into the kitchen and boil me a potato."

When Mr. Kneisel, of the noted Kneisel Quartet, was looking for a cellist every aspirant he examined sought to astonish him with dazzling tricks of technique.

Candidate after candidate raced and tore up and down the fingerboard at great speed. Finally he came to Wilhelm Willeke. The latter played a slow scale, up and down. "You'll do," said Mr. Kneisel. Some of us are always aiming to astonish the world or the neighbors by the size or obvious difficulty of what we do, instead of by the perfect quality.

The orator thinks he will be impressive in proportion to the length of his oration.

The artist of an elder day painted a great battle canvas, covering half the wall of a room, in which generals attired in Græco-Roman costume were held up by posing aides so they could see the enemy running away toward a flaming sunset.

The aim seemed to be to give the patron who bought the picture or the public that stared at it as much as possible for the artist's wage or the admission fee of the gallery. Quality, not quantity, counts.

How often one hears of those who went to the country to find simple living and instead found a pretentious aging of the city!

The bill of fare put on all the airs of a metropolitan hotel. One longed in vain for "plain home cooking." It jongs to be with people who are not trying to throw dust in anybody's eyes. It would be a comfort to meet genuineness, modesty, simplicity.

There are instances of a strong and forceful personality combined with vanity. But usually those who sway the souls of their generation are unassuming. They are innocent of brag and bluster. They have seen enough of the world to see how many wonderful people there are in it doing wonderful things. Their observation makes them humble. As a rule this ignorance that is concealed. The more a man knows the less he thinks of his own attainment.

AU REVOIR.
By Lillian Estelle Halperin.

With her neat but worn coat buttoned to her chin, her shabby black hat drawn down to meet her thoughtful brows, and with two books under her arm, Rolla was running down the stairs of the Home Learning House. Then something happened. Something serious enough to bring tears to her grave eyes. The heel of Rolla's slipper caught in a treacherous place in the ragged carpet; she clutched the air, dropped her books, then fell in a dejected heap.

To add to her discomfort and humiliation, a young man in navy blue came to her assistance. His solicitous questions and attentions only served to increase her embarrassment, and, strangely enough, she felt a resentment toward him as he helped her regain the battered articles.

"Thank you, I am not hurt," she said curtly.

There was a ripple of laughter, and Rolla saw a towhead disappear. With flaming cheeks and close to tears, Rolla hurried on until she had turned the corner and she stopped to brush the dust she had gathered in her mishap from her skirt and sleeves and to pull her hat into place. When she reached her destination—the Murray Hill School—she found herself in "middle" and details. She had "out" for the valet, but an unfortunate turn of affairs at home had made it necessary for her to shorten her braids and lengthen her hair.

Rolla had attended this very school when she was a youngster in "middle" and details. She had "out" for the valet, but an unfortunate turn of affairs at home had made it necessary for her to shorten her braids and lengthen her hair.

Rolla had two passions—her mother and education. She never passed a school without a sigh, and witnessing a graduation of a high school class was as once a joy and an anguish to her. In her heart she hated the school that some day she would take up the broken threads of her life and weave now she had moved into this boarding house because it was nearest to "her school." She could see above the moving throng of students.

On her way home after school that evening she ran full tilt into a sailor, who politely asked her to get out of his way. She was so startled that she fell into the arms of the sailor, who was a member of the "good evening" club. She was a member of the "good evening" club. She was a member of the "good evening" club.

Same Old Story.
Some candidates have lost their goats. They're certainly dejected. They say: "If promises were votes I'd surely been elected."

Mean Brute!
"When we were engaged you talked but little," growled Mr. Gabb. "Well?" demanded Mr. Gabb. "And now you do little but talk," continued Mr. Gabb.

Oh!
Said a young girl: "I need a jabot; So I guess I'll sit down and sob. I must make it myself. For I haven't much pelf. And a jabot, I knot, costs some dot."

The Wise Fool.
"The strongest are the gentlest," observed the Sage. "You never tried to put the harness on a mule, did you?" asked the Fool.

Why Is a Cootie?
Say, it's hard to do your duty. When a doggone wedding cootie Starts an itching that is mighty hard to smother. He just keeps right on a-biting. When he knows you're busy fighting. And he certainly sticks closer than a brother.

It is real hard to efface him. And it ain't no use to chase him; He can run as fast as Cudgel any day. It ain't much use to alarm him; It's a waste of time to damn him; For, when he comes, he always comes to stay.

He's a busy little devil. He's a hustler, on the level. And it makes him laugh to see you dig and dig. He don't waste no time in sleeping. And, oh, boy, when he starts creeping. You are thankful that he isn't twice as big!

for the crop of hopeless white hopes it produced. Any married man can tell you that a wife is a person who is always wanting something she can't afford. Don't get discouraged just because you make a few mistakes. Every Big League breaks into the error column occasionally. Funny how meek-looking little men want strong cigars and how big husky men prefer mild cigars. Never let your head get swelled. You will find that the acquaintance from whom you have been separated as long one.

as six weeks have forgotten all about you. A wife would have mighty few quarrels with her husband if she would proceed upon the theory that what she doesn't know won't hurt her. When her face is her fortune and his face is his fortune the betting is that they will put their fortunes together after he has called on her five or six times. And you may have noticed that a girl who is just crazy about lobster isn't a bit that way after she marries.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why a Child Should Not Be Treated Like a Toy

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B. M. A., M. D., (Johns Hopkins University.)

It is all well and good to want to play with a baby and entertain yourself in its company, but it should be borne in mind that an infant is not a plaything, but a human being, and is entitled to treatment as such. A baby has desires and inclinations. Sometimes he feeds like a plaything and sometimes he does not. At times he will smile and coo at you, and at other times he prefers to sleep and be left alone. No one ever should intrude upon his human rights. As a rule, a baby does not seek company until about after the first four months of his sojourn in the world. Before that he prefers to eat and sleep. Only the child's mother should attend him in these early days, for outside interference may lead to some misunderstanding. Even after the fourth month a baby must not be carelessly handled, for his weak, emotional fabric is apt to encounter undue stimulus. If your way of caring is in the form of a rough shake or a tight hug, it is better for you to keep away from the cradle. Do not be surprised if a baby cries at the end of such rough treatment, and do not misconceive his expressed emotions as a desire for you to continue such carelessness. Follow his inclinations. When a baby cries at the end of a rough play, it is in protest. His tiny, weak, emotional figure and fibres have been excited, and a substance has been created in his secret fluid which may poison his mechanism. The child is fortunate who lives in quiet surroundings. The "cool-headedness" of later life, calmness of expression, self-control and steady procedure which is the outcome of a well-developed, unexcited, even-tempered emotional fabric is due in large measure to these first days of calmness. It is this kind of "bringing up" by an intelligent mother which later ends in love, devotion and self-sacrifice of child to parent. When a child has reached school age his inclinations should be followed with the same care. By this time, to be sure, his emotional and muscular fabric have been strengthened by the passing years, but not even yet should they be subjected to work or play too strenuous. If a boy or girl has grown thus far with an inherited tendency to excitement, books that are unduly sensational must be kept away from him. However, books dealing with normal child life are excellent food for the mind, and if a child shows a tendency to want such books, leave the choice to him. Also let him choose the time and place for the pursuit of his pleasure, but supervise in general the whole developmental process. If a schoolgirl or boy lapses back to indifference and listlessness, his physical condition is perhaps at fault. Probably he is not getting the proper kind of food or exercise. He most likely needs more outdoor life and sport and a better regulated diet. Also there may be need for examination of the eyes, nose, throat and other physical parts. After you have ascertained that there is nothing abnormal in the development of the child, try to maintain his unexcited, calm sort of existence. His inclinations under these conditions will most likely be what you desire. He will probably not be a mischievous, troublesome child, but, on the contrary, will instinctively try to study the desires of his parents, as they study his. Thus will develop a harmonious, congenial relationship characteristic of the happy family.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

SATURDAY, NOV. 16.

Of unusual importance are the Lunar transits for this day, as the three most powerful so-called malefic are in splendid aspect with the Moon. Doubtless there will be upheavals and radical changes, with long-standing delays, obstacles and disappointments set aside. There will be strong stimulation along all lines, with the energies bent toward new and large projects, possibly involving removals and journeys, which will prove advantageous. Some discretion, however, is called for in the signing of papers and the making of contracts. Benefits may be expected from elderly persons, and from the employments or industries of Saturn.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of change and travel with success in their business, but they must be discreet in their dealings. A child born on this day will be industrious, persevering, reliable, inventive, original and successful.

The virtue of hopefulness, the invincible resolve to gaze at the bright side of things, is a splendid asset in the life of nations or of individuals.

MY SOLDIER HUSBAND
ADELE GARRISON'S CONTINUATION OF
REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Lillian Had to Say About Dicky's Project.

As Lillian released my shoulders from her strong, kindly grasp I sat down quickly in the nearest chair. I had conceived many solutions of Dicky's erratic financial behavior, but this revelation that his money had vanished into that most perplexing of all quicksands, a play-producing scheme, dumbfounded me.

"I don't wonder you're limp," Lillian said commiseratingly. "It's enough to flabbergast anyone to realize what a consummate blunder the poor Dicky-bird has made of himself. But there's no use weeping over the apple cart. We'll just get busy trying to pick up some of the apples."

"Won't they all be eaten or spoiled by this time?" I tried to play up to her smiles, to smile at them. But it was a sorry pretence.

"We'll retrieve a few of them, even if they are specked," Lillian promised grimly, with a keen glance at me. "I don't know exactly how much I can accomplish, but I wasn't Harry Underwood's wife all these years without making some valuable friendships among the reputable theatrical men, the real powers that be."

"This E. Stern is a bad performer—very bad—and I think I can engineer a little highly moral and respectable blackmail upon the gentleman which will lead him suddenly to discover that he cannot possibly produce the heaven-born production of Miss Fairfax and the Dicky-bird, and will, therefore, hand back some of the mazzina Dicky has thrown at him."

"But hasn't Dicky set his heart upon this thing?" I protested weakly.

"Isn't there a chance that this man, Stern, will really produce the play, and that it might succeed?"

I saw Lillian's eyes narrow with something akin to contempt for my lack of understanding. Then they widened, sort of with the infinite charity that is hers.

"Is it so bad?"

"I never thought you such an incurable optimist, Madge," she said with a slightly rejecting those he recommended. Funny, too, Dicky's a pretty good critic of the drama when once produced, but as a judge of a manuscript he's a flivver of the vintage of 1910.

"But I must get out of here before the Dicky-bird flies home to his nest," she went on, gathering up her things.

"Now don't worry any more than you can help. I'll tackle Dicky and his flivver myself. It's going to be a tough job, but I'm going to see that he stops all work immediately and cuts out all nonsense except getting well. And if he hasn't mortgaged his salary too far ahead to the loan sharks—a little trick which E. Stern wouldn't overlook if he could help it—you'll be able to have a moderate but respectable income soon again. But one thing you must not neglect."

"What is that?" I asked tremulously, for I guessed and feared that she was again going to allude to Dr. Pettit.

"As soon as Pettit gets back you must pump him about your father's affairs. Now remember, that is must, with capital letters—M-U-S-T!"

"I never heard one talking before. Where did you come from?"

"Take me out of this horrid old ash barrel and I'll tell you," said the little Cork Boy with a smile.

So Bobby lifted him out and brushed the ashes from the queer little cork suit.

"In the first place," began the little Cork Boy, sitting down upon one of Bobby's fingers, "my mother was a beautiful, tall, stately cork tree, with delicate oblong leaves, lovely flowers and fruit like a plum. She was over 100 year old when I was born. Some were sent to be made into life preservers and buoys, some into false arms and legs, and some into corks for stopping up bottles. They heated and slightly scorched me so my pores would close up and make me tough, then after a long time I was sent hundreds of miles on boats and trains, until at last I reached the drug store and was placed into that very bottle you found me in."

"And you were happy in that bottle?" Bobby asked, and I guess I must have been. For I was so comfortable and cozy in that little corky home of mine.

"Well, we corks can't all be life-savers," sighed the little Cork Boy. "I've often wished I could have been made into a buoy, for it must be wonderful to dance out on the waters and save people's lives. But I guess I should try and be content with my lot. However, I don't like the idea of being left in an ash barrel. Please take me in the house and put me in the kitchen drawer, then maybe some day I can be of some service to you. If not to put in a bottle, maybe I can help you catch fish."

"You certainly can!" laughed Bobby. "And I'll not lose you again, for I'll take you with me on my very first fishing trip."

Bobby picked up the Cork Boy, ran into the house and placed him in the drawer with his fishing tackle, where he was content to stay until he was needed again. For no matter how small a thing may be, it's well to save it for the day it may be useful.

OBITUARY

FRANCIS JAMES FRY

November fifth, nineteen eighteen, saw the passing of Francis James Fry, for some years Chairman of the House of J. S. Fry & Sons, Limited, of Bristol, England.

For nearly seventy years Mr. Fry held a leading position in the development of the House of Fry, and to his commercial genius, unflinching tact, and gracious courtesy the worldwide success of the House was very largely attributable.

It may be stated with confidence that Mr. Fry was a man who, while he had hosts of friends, never made an enemy in business, politics or religion—yet he consistently maintained independence of thought. His sterling honesty and his courteous tolerance of opposing views had always insured him respect.

At the ripe age of eight-four years, and after a long life of active usefulness, the Empire loses one of its Merchant Princes, and the World is today poorer by the loss of one of her finest Citizens.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the bereaved family, and our hope that the sadness will be brightened by the memory of many kindly acts during the long life so nobly spent.

U. S. AND CANADA TO JOINTLY DEVELOP THE ST. LAWRENCE POWER

Deep Waterway Navigation System Part of Scheme.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—With the return to a peace basis, the Dominion Government will, it is understood, take up the question of joint development with the United States of St. Lawrence water-power. A large scheme has already been tentatively submitted in its broad outlines. While regarding increased navigation facilities as paramount in the St. Lawrence, the scheme, it is estimated, would result in the development of enormous additional water-power. Surplus power generated under the scheme and not needed in Canada, it is suggested, could be exported to the United States under treaty arrangements which would permit of its return when required on this side of the international boundary.

One phase of the scheme would entail the practical abandonment of the present canal system of the St. Lawrence, and the construction of a deeper waterway by means of dams.

SASK. HOUSE OPENS DEC. 3. REGINA, Sask., Nov. 14.—The Saskatchewan Legislature is called to meet on Tuesday, December 3, according to an announcement made by Premier Martin. An unusually heavy session, from a legislative standpoint, is anticipated.

FIRST TO ENLIST RETURN FIRST, IS PLAN PROPOSED BY GOVERNMENT

Unit Demobilization Plan Discarded—Said To Have Two Serious Drawbacks.

START AT HOME FIRST

Clean Out Camps in Canada and Bring Home Women and Children Overseas.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—Demobilization plans are under discussion by the full cabinet today, and it is not expected to really commence for some months yet, pending the conclusion of peace. However, steps will be taken in the meantime to bring back the Canadian women and children now in the old land, while the return of invalided men will continue as in the past.

As at present contemplated the overseas men will be demobilized territorially. There has been some agitation to have them come home by units, but this plan would have serious drawbacks. For instance, there are battalions which contain in their ranks men resident formerly in all parts of the Dominion. Moreover, demobilization by units would bring back in many cases recent draftees in advance of veterans and original firsts. The latter must be given preference over others.

Bring Back Wounded.

The plan which it is expected will be followed contemplates the bringing back of all the men of the first contingent from Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver or other cities first, taking second contingent men in the same place next, and so on. There are at present 35,000 Canadian soldiers in hospitals in England, and 10,000 in France. These, it is proposed, will be returned as their condition permits, and as accommodation is provided in Canada to receive them. In the meantime they are well cared for in Canadian hospitals overseas. Their return will be made not on transports, but on hospital ships and hospital trains.

As a matter of fact, there is a considerable body of opinion in favor of retaining the invalided men in England until such cure as can be effected has been accomplished.

Will Have Preference.

In the matter of the disposition of the men once they return preference will be given to those engaged in "pivotal" industries. Already the railways are clamoring on account of freight congestion. The army is returning to civil life of men who were railway employees before they donned the khaki. In point of view, the railway men come first, telegraph operators second, shipbuilders and mechanics third and agriculturists fourth.

But demobilization is to start at home first. There are in Canada at present 71,000 men in hospitals, and 1,600 are returned men in hospitals, and 1,600 are men on harvest leave from the draft. These will be simply be called upon to report and secure their medical examination, so that they may be discharged and return to their homes.

It is possible that four or five thousand of them will be retained in khaki for some time.

Department Overwhelmed.

After nine months, specially detailed for the work, had endeavored unsuccessfully to cope with the flood of letters received requesting the immediate return of soldiers from the front, the militia department issued the following statement:

"In view of the very large number of letters received, and the fact that during the last few days, requesting that, in view of the armistice, sons, brothers and relatives of soldiers be immediately discharged from the army and returned to Canada, the department of militia and defence find it necessary to state:

"First—That owing to the large number of these communications and the tremendous labor involved in dealing with them, replies will not be given any received during the last few days, unless the cases appear to come within the policy affecting leave of absence on compassionate grounds, in which event they will be dealt with in the usual way.

"Second—That it is impossible to accede to, or even consider, such applications unless they are based upon circumstances involving hardship, which bring them within the scope of policy governing compassionate leave. Any other course of action would involve the return of Canada to soldiers by preference, or selection for private reasons which could not in any way be justified."

WINGHAM TEACHER DIES.

WINGHAM, Nov. 14.—Margaret W. Stewart, whose home is about two or three miles from Wingham and has been teaching school at Windsor, died from the Spanish influenza. The body was brought to Wingham for interment today.

HOW TO FIGHT SPANISH INFLUENZA

BY DR. L. W. BOWERS.

Avoid crowds, coughs and crows, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practice cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armor against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, it is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot-bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anuric (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisonous germs. To control the pains and aches take one Anuric tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a good herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his Iron Tonic (iron tonic) tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalid Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.—Advt.

MUSIC?—Why it is the actual voice of Anna Case—just as I heard the great soprano at the Metropolitan, New York.

The New Edison is going to be a wonderful help to me with my studies at the Conservatory. It brings right to my very room the voices of the great artists of to-day as they actually interpret the enduring gems of Music. This is not a flimsy shadow, not a mere approximation of Music. It is Music "Re-Created" in all its original beauty. There is no shade of difference between the living artists' voice and the New Edison's "Re-Creation" of it. This—ah, this is Music!

Wouldn't you like to hear this really marvelous invention of the world's greatest inventor? With the New Edison there are no needles to change. Plays all makes of records. Easy terms if you wish.

WHEAT SUBSTITUTES NO MORE REQUIRED UNDER NEW ORDER

Standard Flour Will Remain the Vogue for Some Time.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—Following the action of the Allied food controllers, all orders and rulings requiring the sale, purchase, use or consumption of substitutes for wheat flour are repealed by the Canada food board from Thursday, whether in the trade or in private homes. The main factor enabling this to be done is the immediate release of Allied shipping to make the voyages from Europe to Argentina, India and Australia, where there are accumulated stocks of wheat. Wheat substitutes only are affected by the new order. The same regulations as hitherto will remain for milling extraction of standard flour.

MANY BRANCH LINES OF C.N.R. WILL BE STARTED THROUGHOUT THE WEST

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—The Canadian Northern board of directors meets tomorrow at Toronto to consider future plans of construction, maintenance, replacement and extension of lines. From present indications a very considerable program of after-the-war construction is in contemplation. It is stated that a large number of branch lines are planned for Western Canada, and that the employment of much additional labor will be involved.

GENERAL TOWNSEND SAYS HIS SOLDIERS WERE WONDERFUL

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(British Wireless Service.)—Major-Gen. Charles V. F. Townsend, who, while commanding the British forces at Kut-el-Amara, was forced to surrender to the Turks in 1916, after standing a long siege, visited yesterday afternoon the Mansion House as a guest of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society.

Gen. Townsend said he would thank the sailors not on behalf of himself, but of those brave lads who had ceased to be. He said his young soldiers fought like veterans—that they were absolutely wonderful.

It was Gen. Townsend who bore the Turkish request for an armistice to the British admiral in command in the Aegean Sea.

Tired Nervous Mothers

Should Profit by the Experience of These Two Women

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendance most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my household work."—Mrs. B. B. ZIELINSKA, 202 Weiss Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. J. Buying Upon Faith

UNLESS you are an expert, you cannot judge the quality of a shoe by looking at it. It is possible to take most of the wearing qualities out without changing its appearance. Shoes are bought largely upon faith in the integrity of dealer and manufacturer. In these days of high-price levels, your confidence should be well placed. Go to a reliable dealer, whose judgment you can trust. Get his candid advice as to values. Buy for the best service at the price which you wish to pay.

Look for the manufacturer's trade-mark on the shoes you buy. It is a sign that the manufacturer himself has confidence in the shoes, and that they are worthy of your confidence. A responsible manufacturer will not jeopardize his reputation by placing his business signature upon an unworthy product.

Buy shoes of a brand you know, from a dealer whom you know. Buy for service rather than merely for appearance. Thus you may be assured of Quality Shoes at Fair Prices.

A.H.M. War-Time Selections offer Special Service Value for Men, Women and Children. Ask your dealer for them.

SIBERIAN FORCE IS READY TO FACE THE COLDEST BLIZZARDS

Hard to Tell Officers From Men in New Kit.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 14.—(By W. E. Playfair, correspondent of the Canadian Press, Limited.)—Never has a military force been arrayed as the Canadian Siberian expedition will be on its winter campaign out of Vladivostok. In full winter kit as issued by the authorities to the Twentieth Century Argonauts, officers and men alike will look more like eastern lumberjacks than soldiers, but they will be warm, and that is the important factor in a climate perhaps more rigorous than that of the northern prairies.

It is a novel feature of this expedition that the kit hereby issued to officers as well as to men that there is not very much difference in the garments handed out to the various ranks. Warmth and utility are in the garments which are the main characteristics.

Caparisoned in full kit, the Canadians Siberia might safely sleep in a snow-bank.

Some fifteen items are included in the official issue which runs something like this:

Sleeping bag, long coat lined with sheepskin, mukluks, coat, fur cap (muskkrat), sleeping toque, heavy sweater, woolen shirts (two), snow glasses, two pairs woolen socks, kiodeike socks, moccasins, sheepskins and woolen muffler.

In their sheepskin coat with turned-up collar and fur cap with the earflaps turned down, the Siberian expedition will look decidedly like the picture of Arctic explorers nearing the pole.

GOMPERTS DECLARES AGAINST REPRISALS FOR PEACE TREATY

Labor Head Outlines Labor
Principles to Pan-American Conference.

Laredo, Texas, Nov. 14.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today made known the program which organized labor in America wishes to be embraced in the international peace treaty. A resolution embracing five fundamental principles and seven secondary principles was introduced by Mr. Gompers before the pan-American labor conference, which was organized here today. The resolution is being considered tonight by the resolutions committee, which will make its report tomorrow.

The labor peace plan declares against reprisals for the purpose of punishment, but makes no mention of indemnities. It asks establishment of order by a league of free peoples of the world banded together to secure peace and justice in relations between nations. The welfare of the people affected, the resolution declares, must be the sole factor in determining changes and adjustments in power.

An international eight-hour, and child-labor law are two of the results organized labor wishes to see come out of the war. Denial of shipping facilities to goods manufactured by children under 16 years was suggested.

Ex-Crown Prince of Germany in Holland and in Internment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Official information reached the state department today through neutral sources that the former German crown prince has arrived in Holland and has been interned.

These advices, which are regarded as definitely disposing of reports that the former crown prince had been killed, also said the former empress was expected shortly to join her husband and son in Holland.

Cheaper to Buy a Good
Shampoo than New Hair

Dandruff is the primary cause of falling hair. This disagreeable condition of the scalp and hair glands is almost certain to cause temporary or permanent baldness.

Loss of hair may also be ascribed to the use of improper shampoos containing irritating substances, animal oils and alcohol, any of which may produce gradual decay of the hair.

Don't use a stale liquid preparation that contains too much alkali (a harmful irritant). The surest, safest and easiest way is to make your own liquid. Buy a carton of Velsor at any drug store. Dissolve one of the small packets into half glass of non-injurious liquid that will relieve itching of the scalp, falling hair and dandruff also improve the natural color of the hair. Velsor being in concentrated form saves space and will keep forever.

TORONTO POWER CO. MUST SUPPLY JUICE

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—An interim injunction was obtained by the Ontario Power Company this afternoon from Justice Riddell, restraining until the trial of the action, the Toronto Power Company from shutting off the supply of power provided under contract.

GERMANS HAD ONLY 2,532 U. S. PRISONERS

PARIS, Nov. 13.—More than 2,532 American prisoners in German camps were released immediately by the signing of the German armistice, according to the latest figures prepared by the American Red Cross in Switzerland. This number includes all the Americans captured to November 1. It is

PAINS AND ACES YIELD QUICKLY TO SLOAN'S LINIMENT

Are you tormented by Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica or any of those aches that require a counter-irritant? Then let the soothing, warming application of Sloan's Liniment stop the pain by drawing the blood away from the congested part.

It is the pressure on the nerves by the blood rushing to the inflamed muscle or joint that makes you ache. So when Sloan's Liniment relieves the swollen blood vessels by setting up a counter-irritant on the surface, the circulation is equalized, sympathetic nerves all soothed, and soreness or lameness disappears.

Sloan's Liniment is probably the counter-irritant most widely used to overcome painful inflammation in cases of neuralgia, sore muscles, wrenched joints, strains, bruises, gout. Rubbing is not required. This clear, clean liquid is easily applied as it does not stain the skin. Made in Canada. Generous size bottles at your druggists.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of someone who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Farnint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Stagnant nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Farnint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

BERLIN'S NEW GOVT. GIVES ITS PROGRAM

Berne, Nov. 14.—A dispatch received here from Berlin says the new Government has published its program in a decree. The dispatch adds that the program enforces many modifications toward democracy and liberty, economical and politically.

Victims of the fighting during the last year inside greater Berlin shall be buried together in the cemetery where the victims of the 1848 revolution are buried.

The decree announces that the state of siege has been raised, that there is to be full liberty for all, even functionaries of the state, and that the censorship is abolished; there is to be freedom of speech, of writing, amnesty for political offences, annulment of the law of work day and universal direct secret suffrage, with proportional representation for each age group, and a slight increase over last month and last year, month, but less than a year ago.

GOVERNMENT REPORT OF FOODS IN STORAGE

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—The report of the cost of living branch to the minister of labor of goods in cold storage up to November 1 shows a decrease in the amount of butter as compared with October 1, but 5 per cent more on the same date a year ago. BRITISH ELECTIONS BOOKED FOR DECEMBER FOURTEENTH

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(British Wireless Service).—A proclamation will be issued on November 25, summoning a new parliament, the Right Hon. Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer and Government spokesman, announced in the Commons today.

Nominations will be made on December 4 and polling will take place on December 14. The date for the counting of the ballots will depend on a bill of the House. If this bill passes without amendment, the counting can be postponed until December 28.

Prorogation of Parliament will take place on Wednesday or Thursday of next week at the latest.

On Monday an address will be presented to the King and moved in both houses of parliament in regard to the war, and after the House assembles on Tuesday an adjournment will be made to the royal gallery, where the King will receive the members of both houses.

British, Italian, Grecian and Serbian Delegates Already Way For Preliminary Discussion of Terms Which Are To Regulate the Whole Agitated World.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press).—It is probable that the first meeting of the peace conference will be on December 15, after the English parliamentary elections, and at a time which will give ample opportunity for the American and other delegates to arrive. A meeting to be held shortly of the inter-Allied conference will finally determine the details of these questions.

Premier David Lloyd George and Foreign Minister Balfour of Great Britain, Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnino of Italy, Premier Venizelos of Greece and Foreign Minister Faschich of Serbia are on their way here for a conference at the home of Colonel Ianward M. House, representative of the United States Government, and the sessions at Versailles.

congress the question of meeting the food situation in Germany and Austria probably will be considered.

The feeling of the associated governments is that Versailles—virtually part of Paris—is the most convenient place to hold the peace conference, and if this was decided upon it would be a recognition of the paramount position of France in the war.

In addition to these considerations there are certain practical ones of telecommunication facilities and easy access to the sea, and the ample living accommodations, as well as those in the smaller cities in Holland and Switzerland. Agents of the various Allied countries already are making large houses in the vicinity of Versailles, and the Allied armies will move from the front lines to the new houses.

The Russian Reds have adopted a program of assassination, and Russian Reds are reported to be moving against Finland.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Reports have reached the state department that the situation in Germany and Austria-Hungary approximates a state of anarchy on account of the conduct of returned soldiers released from the fighting lines.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—British Wireless Service.—A significant message from the Allied high command to the German high command has been sent out by the French Government wireless stations. It reads:

"The commanders of the German armies continue to propose to the commanders of the Allied armies that they should immediately hand over their war material and prisoners."

The German soldiers in various sections of the occupied territory have apparently been getting out of hand. In some places they have attacked their commanders and raised the red flag of revolt.

"OLD DAYS ON THE FARM."

By A. C. Wood.

The life of the pioneer is fast fading out of the consciousness of the nation—the isolated farms and cabins are gone, and the telephone and automobile are ubiquitous. But the old days should not be lost to the new. Mr. Wood has recovered the old days in a most interesting and instructive way. The book is not only a history of the pioneer life, but a story of the hardships, the struggles, the triumphs and the failures of the early settlers. It is a book that should be read by every one who has a glimmer of the old days on the farm, and feel that he has had at least a glimpse into Arcadia.

When you will read the first chapter you will not only live in anticipation of the next for your own sake, but you will want every member of the family to read it, because of a characteristic fitness and wholesomeness of the story. The story has been passed on. Price $1.25.

RESUME WORK UPON NEW WELLAND CANAL

SOON AS POSSIBLE

Part of the Toronto Harbor Scheme May Also Be Undertaken.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—With the return of Hon. Frank Carroll to Ottawa, the policy to be determined in regard to expenditures on the Welland Canal will be taken up by the Government. Mr. Carroll holds the view that while there should be no interruption of the canal work, the Government should not be required to continue work on one section of the canal until the other is completed.

Work on the Welland Canal will be continued as soon as conditions permit. It is probable that the Government will decide to continue work on one section of the canal until the other is completed.

Other proposals in view are: Dredging at Fort William and in the Fraser River, B. C.; deepening the St. Lawrence channel; continuation of harbor works at St. John, and on the Halifax terminals.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poison from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jax Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush, clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jax Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

FIGHTS SIXTY AIRMEN ALONE GETS 10 BUT IS WOUNDED

Exploit of a New Brunswick Aviator Most Daring of the War.

ESCAPE WAS MIRACULOUS

Performed Every Stunt Known To Outwit the German Flyers.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—Canadian military headquarters in London announce that the aviator, who, while desperately wounded, fought sixty enemy machines single-handed, destroying four and bringing down six, is a Canadian, Major W. G. Barker, D.S.O., (two bars), D.F.C., M.C., (with bar), and the Italian cross of honor.

Major Barker, who is reported dangerously wounded, went overseas with a New Brunswick unit.

The story of Major Barker's fight with a horde of enemy planes relates the most astounding individual aerial combat on record. While our aviators were harrying the enemy's retreat, Barker, when over the forest of Morval, encountered a two-seater German plane at an altitude of 21,000 feet to evade the fire of British "archies" and climbed and brought it down. Immediately a whistling bullet whirled on him; bullets something past through his machine, and so that his machine spun uncontrolled. Recovering his senses and control, he found himself hemmed in on all sides. He shot to the attack, and a chance shot shattered his thigh bone. He faltered and dived seemingly to his death.

In recovering consciousness he found himself upon another fifteen enemy plane swooping about him like hounds. One bullet shattered his left elbow. Enemy machines were now swarming as thick as gnats on a summer day. He dived, right of his foes hurtling like stones in pursuit. Wounded and half fainting, yet with his brain still alert and cool, he realized that his only chance of safety lay in sheer audacity. Enemy craft flew above and about him like a cloud of vultures until those watching below counted between 50 and 60. In the thick of them, this amazing Canadian performed every "stunt" ingenuity, sharpened by necessity, could devise.

He escaped the incredible daring of his offensive tactics. For upwards of ten minutes he banked, looped, spun, nose dived, climbed again in a multi-tude of "star" tricks until he was in the way right back of the vultures, then the rest of the flock spread and about him like a cloud of vultures. Then he came down a huddled, insensible but victorious hero of as great a fight as ever this war witnessed in the air.

A Victoria Cross is secure.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY WITHDRAWS FROM GOVT.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The British Labor party at a conference today decided by a large majority to withdraw its members from the cabinet at the close of the present Parliament.

SPLIT IN RANKS OF CONSERVATIVES IN NORTH HURON WIDENS

WINGHAM, Nov. 14.—Mr. George Spotton, who failed to secure the Conservative nomination for the coming North Huron by-election for the Legislature and who is running as an Independent Conservative, is to speak at the Wingham town hall tomorrow night on "The Kaiser Band in Tory Land, Or How to Steal Conventions."

CURED OF DYSPEPSIA BY USING BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

The symptoms of dyspepsia are so numerous and diversified in different individuals that probably no description could exactly represent them as they occur in any given case, but a few of the most prominent are a rising and souring of food, pain, flatulence and distention of the abdomen, a sensation of discomfort after every meal, which is sometimes followed by sickness and vomiting.

To get rid of dyspepsia a careful arrangement of the diet is necessary and due time must be given for the digestion of the meal.

You will find that Burdock Blood Bitters will help with this digestion. It does this by toning up the stomach in such a way that the dyspepsia soon disappears.

Mr. Robert Waldwin, Winnifred, Alta., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters for curing dyspepsia, of which I have been a sufferer for years. I have tried a great many doctors and proprietary medicines, so one day I thought I would try something different. I got a bottle of B. B. B. from our local store, as it was about the only remedy he kept, and I can certainly say that I was more than pleased with the results, as I got better right away. I will always recommend it to other sufferers."

Sparkling Glassware

is the pride of every housewife who takes an interest in her home. Hard water leaves a "mist" or "film" on the tumblers and cut glass, which robs them of their beauty and brilliancy.

Taylor's BORAX SOAP will make your glassware glitter and sparkle like new, because it softens the water and dissolves the "film" as if by magic. Wears away slowly, lathers freely and cleanses thoroughly. Order a trial bar TO-DAY. Sold everywhere.

THE TIRED LITTLE
It was laughable to hear Benny Mink's father ask Father Beaver what kind of food he could give those starving little water-soaked people who were in bed from weakness.

"Oh," said Father Beaver, "we're good liveries at our house, and we have the best food in the world. Why, look at my family. You see they are all very fat and strong, and every member of my family has splendid health."

"But," said Benny Mink's father, "what is that fine food which makes you all so well and strong?"

"Why, we all eat the bark of trees," continued Mr. Beaver, "and we prefer the bark of maple and poplar trees, and the sweet and tender bark of the willow. But we are also very fond of the delicious roots of the yellow pond lily, which grows in Mirror Pond. We are vegetarians."

Benny Mink's father hadn't as good an education as Father Beaver, and he exclaimed in astonishment: "Mercy, what long words you do use, Father Beaver! You see, I never studied to become an engineer like you, and such big words I cannot understand."

"Well," replied Father Beaver, "I did attend a fine engineering school when I was young. The school was taught by my father, who was a great engineer. A 'vegetarian' is one who eats vegetables, bark, fruits, etc. You see, we do not care for meat and fish; but I must get you some of our food right away, or you will faint from hunger."

Benny Mink's father said very sheepishly: "I think you very much, but please do not trouble to bring us any bark of any trees, but see, please, if you couldn't find us a fish." So Father Beaver hunted in all their houses for food.

Father Beaver said to Mother Beaver as they searched every pantry: "Well, I never saw such poor providers in all my born days! Why on earth don't those people have on hand in each pantry a good supply of food?"

And Mother Beaver answered: "I think they are lazy and shiftless. They'd rather play than work. You see, we work very hard, and every member of the family works very hard; and so we have enough food laid by in the fall to keep the family through the whole winter."

After a long search some fish were found in Dick Otter's refrigerator. You say "Impossible! Otters don't have refrigerators to keep fish in!" Near Dick Otter's house was a spring of cold water, and there Father Beaver found caught and covered with fresh ferns and water cress. Father Beaver gave a fat trout to every one of his weak and hungry neighbors. Father Beaver ought to have been a trained nurse; each house was a hospital, and Father Beaver gave a fat fish to every patient, and every little cot had a four-legged patient.

ROBEY CHRISTMAS SHOW.

A very successful meeting of the Robey Red Cross Aid was held at the home of Mrs. M. J. Campbell, concession 9, Brooke, when a shower was given for the boys overseas, quite a number of ladies being present. Sewing and knitting was also done, the resulting articles to be sent to Hyman Hall, London. The shower consisted of writing paper, fruit cake, maple sugar, Oxo, coffee, tea, tobacco, pipes, gum, cigarettes, soap, tooth brushes and tooth paste, apples, cream cheese, evaporated milk, peanuts, chocolate bars, also money donations to the amount of $10.25.

The parcel packed for Hyman Hall contained 15 grey flannel shirts and 8 pairs hand-knit socks, a number of socks being kept to pack in the boys' Christmas boxes for overseas.

EMERGENCY AUXILIARY MAKES RECOMMENDATION THAT PUBLIC HEALTH ACTIVITIES REORGANIZE

Conditions Existing in City at Time of Epidemic Force Women to Take Stand in This Matter.

The organization, known as the London branch of the Ontario Emergency Volunteer Auxiliary, under the presidency of Mrs. J. B. McKillop, was brought to a close yesterday afternoon, when final reports of the work accomplished and funds expended were submitted to the board of health at a public meeting called partly for that purpose. Another reason and perhaps the primary one, for calling the meeting was the direct outcome of conditions existing in the city, revealed at the time of the epidemic, when the women of London went into homes to nurse, where the living conditions were found to be impossible. The board of health and the women who were working under that body during the epidemic felt that their eyes had been opened to a state of affairs which, before the experience afforded them at the time of the epidemic, they would not have believed possible. They also felt that in some way the London public should be acquainted with the facts as they really are.

As a result of discussion at this meeting, of the recital of incidents of impossible housing conditions by volunteer workers, of plans for reorganized work laid before the meeting by Miss Fidler of the Institute of Public Health, and Miss Friend, public health nurse, a resolution was brought forward by Mrs. Maynard, and seconded by Mrs. J. B. McKillop, to the effect that the London branch of the Women's Emergency Volunteer Auxiliary and other citizens present, recommended to the board of health that the public health activities be reorganized, and that a committee be appointed to study the matter and make a report to the board of health.

Discussion was opened by Chairman Russell, who expressed his thanks for all that the auxiliary had done to help during the epidemic, giving money, time, food and some even their lives. He pointed out the magnitude of the work which had been done, acknowledging that some of the members of even the board of health itself did not realize wholly what had been done, and pointed out how impossible it would have been to cope with the situation had it not been for the women. He also made a suggestion that an advisory committee of women be appointed in connection with the board of health to take up those matters which men do not understand as thoroughly as women, pointing out that such a committee would be the best means of having the women help out the board. He further stated that even if the council would elect one or two women to the board of health, the balance of power would still lie with the men.

Also Public Trustee.
Mr. Russell also brought up another matter—that of caring for the interests of children, who were often orphaned during the epidemic. He suggested that the citizens of London might appoint a public trustee, who would care not only for the affairs of children, but attend to all matters of this nature in the future, desiring the women to bring the matter before their respective organizations and thus try to mould public opinion in this direction.

The main fact gleaned from the discussion which followed was that at the present time there was too much overlapping of work carried on by the various health and relief organizations in the city, and that an economic reorganization of this work would give more opportunity to prevent conditions such as were found to exist in the city at the time of the epidemic.

Deploable Living Conditions.
Several instances of deplorable living conditions were cited. In one small house lived a family of six with three boarders, five of the family and one boarder being afflicted with influenza. In one small room with two beds were found five of the patients, the mother and child in one bed, two children in the

A SERVICEABLE COAT STYLE.

The collar is a good feature. It may be made of velvet, plush, or any other pile fabric, or arranged in low outline as illustrated.

The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 10 requires 3-4 yards of 44-inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

other, and the baby in a hammock swung between them. When the nurse entered the house, six or seven men were sitting around the cook stove in an atmosphere which was vile. It was impossible for the nurse to stay, and the patients were removed to the hospital. Another case showed five people all living in one room, four being ill with influenza and one with pneumonia. The filth and dirt of these homes was said to be unpeakable. Often there was no bedding whatever found, and clean mattresses had to be supplied. Another point mentioned was the fact that in the city, there are houses being rented for quite a high sum, which are not fit for people to live in, their owners having the poor at their mercy.

That something should be done to prevent such living conditions as these, the unanimous opinion of the meeting, and again the only solution seemed to be a co-ordinated health association which would work in harmony with the Social Service Council, under which head the relief work in the city is now being organized.

Mrs. J. B. McKillop also emphasized the fact that a great amount of overlapping was caused by lack of co-operation on the part of the various health and relief organizations, citing the Red Cross Association as an example of a perfectly working organization due to the fact that all its work was carried on under one head.

Definite Plans For Enlarged Organization.
Definite plans for an enlarged board of health worked out by Miss Fidler and Miss Friend were presented by them to the meeting. Miss Fidler clearly set out an outline which showed just how much co-operation already existed in the city between the different health and relief organizations, stating at the same time that it was in a very feeble and anomalous state. This was followed by an enlarged plan, following the scheme which exists in Toronto and which was being worked out by Dr. Hill when he was in the city. This plan, while allowing all the various organizations to carry on their own work, so co-ordinates them that no overlapping occurs, and the greatest economy is maintained.

Miss Friend presented her plan, which showed how much more economical it would be for the city of London to have seven or eight public health nurses covering the work instead of the present system, four nurses might be entering one house, where but one nurse would be necessary. She would call for a tuberculosis nurse, a school child would bring in the school nurse, and another adult patient would require the public health nurse to call, when the whole of this family might have been attended to by the one public health nurse.

Suggests Districting of City.
Miss Friend suggested that the city be districted, each nurse being in charge of a district and one or more schools in that district. All the nurses being known as public health nurses. Each nurse would be in charge of all the preventive work in her district, and would report to the supervisor daily. These districts would also be expected to follow up patients examined in the outdoor department of the hospital and in clinics.

Social Service Council Might Co-operate.
It was also suggested that this districting of the city for the purpose of looking after the health of the citizens be done in co-operation with the social service council, and that they would not doubt divide their work into preventive and curative work, following up the nurse whenever she thought it necessary to report to them.

City Clerk Baker spoke of the city of Toledo, where the relief and health work were given rooms in the city hall and an office staff to carry on their work together. He also suggested that the city of London should follow the lead of the city of Toledo in the city hall might be followed up with the offer of a free office.

The board of health promised to consider the resolution which had been put on the meeting report on it the second Thursday of December. A delegation consisting of Mrs. J. B. McKillop, Mrs. R. Somerville, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. W. G. Coles, Mrs. (Dr.) Partridge, Miss Keene and Mr. Maynard were appointed to attend the next meeting of the board of health.

Miss Fidler's Report on Epidemic.
The work of the volunteer committee during the epidemic, Miss Fidler and Miss Friend were presented by Miss Fidler, which showed that 127 deaths due to pneumonia had occurred since September 1st, 1918, and that the epidemic was between the ages of 20 and 50 years, and of them 68 per cent were married. To those nurses who desired remuneration, $2 a day was paid, a day being considered ten hours. Two hundred and twenty families were attended to, with an average of three patients, making a total of 660 patients. One thousand one hundred and forty-seven days were covered in that time, with an average of five nursing days to each family. Some required nurse for one day only, and some for sixteen days and nights. Ninety-four nurses registered, this number being far in excess to the demand, as some were continually dropping off. Seventeen women were recruited to assist as housekeepers in the homes.

Diet Kitchen Report.
Miss Craig presented her report as convener of the diet kitchen in the Alexandra school. This kitchen was in operation for 24 hours, 1,865 baskets of food for patients and 1,609 nurses' lunches being sent out. The total cost of carrying on the kitchen was $50.48; $472 of this being returned from the kitchen. This was due entirely to the generosity of the citizens who donated so much of their time and money to the work.

The magnitude of the work accomplished here may be seen from the fact that 1,200 quarts of milk and 200 quarts of eggs were used. The ladies of the Women's Gardening Association, under Miss Mayhew Stewart, Miss Younes and her band of teachers attended to the office work and supply of nurses, while Mrs. Allan McLeod was in charge of the distribution of food by automobile.

A pretty wedding of interest to many Londoners took place in Toronto on Tuesday afternoon in the Church of St. Vincent de Paul when Kathleen Allen, daughter of Mrs. John O. Devaney, was married to Capt. Joseph Oliver Gagner, R.A.F., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs.

Dempsey Wants To Fight in British Sport Drive

Fighter Has No Love for Shipbuilding Job and Wants a Chance to Fight Before King George in England.

Says a dispatch from Great Lakes, Ill.: "Special permission has been received to enlist Jack Dempsey, conqueror of Fred Fulton and Battling Levinsky, in the navy Dempsey may fight King George at London next month as a member of the Great Lakes boxing team. Dempsey is understood to be dissatisfied with his shipbuilding job, and is anxious to become a regular U. S. A. fighter. Sort of late to decide that he is dissatisfied with his shipbuilding job, isn't it? It would be interesting to know the nature of the work which Dempsey has been doing in shipbuilding. At any rate, talk of enlisting Dempsey in the navy just for the purpose of sending him to the international service boats in London is both unfair to the heavyweights and unfair to the navy. The navy already has heavyweights enough to win that division. Dempsey's victory over Levinsky demonstrated again that he is the only contender for the title. J. N. FARRELL FAVORS BALL FOR NEXT YEAR

President of the International Baseball League Wants Game Resumed.

PEORIA, Nov. 14.—War between the major leagues and the minor organizations of the country threatens to deplete the ranks of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues here today protesting against the draft star players from the minors.

The protest was embodied in a resolution drawn by A. R. Tarnsey of Chicago, president of the Three-I League, and presented by Jack Holland, owner of the St. Joseph (Mo.) club of the Western League. The resolution demanded that the American and National Leagues relinquish the right of "farming out" players under the optional agreement. It was adopted without a dissenting vote.

The salary limit of Class A leagues was fixed at $2,500 a month, Class B at $2,000, Class C at $1,400, and Class D at $1,200.

The clubs will be required to deposit substantial guarantees with the league to make the circuits more compact and to reduce salary limits, occupied by the president of the International League, and failure to enforce the salary limits will result in fine for the two first offences and forfeiture of their charter for the third offence.

There was a growing disposition when the meeting was resumed to withhold definite action in regard to baseball next season until the plans of the American and National Leagues are revealed.

John H. Farrell of Auburn, N. Y., president of the International League; President Hickey of the American Association, and President O'Neill of the Eastern League, are among the executives favoring baseball for next season.

PEORIA, Nov. 14.—Minor leagues today threatened a revolt from the "tramp" of the majors. A resolution of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs meeting here today demanded that the National Commission lay before the National Commission a demand for abrogation of the old draft treaties. It is provided that from Class AA teams down, but that majors shall purchase outright from the minors. Draft prices will be raised, it stipulates.

Tarnsey, Joe Tinker of Columbus, and Jack Holland, Hutchinson, Kas., comprise the committee. The demand must be met by the majors, or a break will follow, according to President Michael Sexton of the association.

The clubs will be required to deposit substantial guarantees with the league to make the circuits more compact and to reduce salary limits, occupied by the president of the International League, and failure to enforce the salary limits will result in fine for the two first offences and forfeiture of their charter for the third offence.

PTE. DANNY JOHNSON CANADIAN BOXER IS REPORTED WOUNDED

Johnson Boxed in This City Under Auspices of S. P. A. A Few Years Ago.

Pte. Danny Johnson, former Canadian boxing champion, who went overseas with the 16th Sportsman's Battalion has been heard from. Writing to Coach Billy Breen of the Woodstock Juniors, from the Canadian Military Hospital in Sussex, England, he says he hopes to be home soon.

On September 7 Danny was hit on the left ankle, just below the bone, the shell turning up when it struck the ankle, besides breaking a lot of bones in his foot. The doctors took a piece of his foot, and he is now in 24 ounces, and Danny says he is glad that he is keeping it as a souvenir of his war.

Before he was hit he weighed 150 pounds, but as he has been seven weeks in the hospital he has lost 118 pounds. He is unable to use his leg as yet, and expects to be in the hospital for several more weeks.

He intimates that if his leg sufficiently recovers that he will get back into the boxing game again, and hopes to get back to Canada, and hopes that he will be sent as soon as he is able to leave the hospital, although he is of the firm conviction that the war will be home soon.

Danny Johnson boxed in London a few years ago with a boxer from the Royal Flying Corps. This was the first boxing match to be held in this city under the auspices of the S. P. A.

Burbanks is my butcher Why?

Because his meats are always of that appetizing variety, which makes you enjoy your dinner when you think of the meat you are going to have. His prices are always reasonable, much less than I have paid up town at times, and he also fixes my meat up so nicely. Why, only yesterday I ordered a shoulder roast of beef (over the phone), and when it came it had the bone removed and a piece of suet in its place, and securely tied so I could carve it without the least trouble. To my many friends and neighbors in London East I heartily recommend Mr. Burbanks, as I was formerly considered a meat crank, but I just automatically turned into a satisfied customer.

KEEPING CANADA'S FOOD PLEDGE.

"Good, good!" a girl was heard to say last Monday morning. "Now that the war is over I'll be able to buy all the marrow-bone candy I like. I simply love marrow-bone candy, don't you?" And that was what Peace Monday meant to one young girl who carried a crisp new flag of her country. The cannons have ceased to roar on the west front, but this doesn't mean that the people at home can rest on their oars. Food has had an important part in the winning of the war, and food will be required in enormous quantities for many a day to come, both for the soldiers and civilians of the gallant Allied nations who have stood up so dauntlessly under falling blows from a ruthless foe for more than four years. The motherland has joyfully celebrated the cessation of hostilities, but the motherland needs food, yet more food, and the daughter land cannot refuse to supply the lack, even to the limit of her ability. France needs food, and Italy, Belgium and Serbia. Under the plans of the Allied food controllers made some months ago, at least 70 per cent of the deficiency in essential foodstuffs of the Allied countries in Europe must be supplied during the coming year from North America, because of the short ocean haul, compared with that from other available food markets. Signing of an armistice doesn't fill empty cupboards and storehouses with food and satisfy hungry mouths.

Old Mother Hubbard will find the cupboard sadly lacking for many a moon in Britain, France, Serbia, Belgium and Italy unless America stands by her wartime food pledge, thus giving tangible expression of her gratitude to the old world Allied countries, which have known the real horror and hardship of the war, to preserve America's freedom (meaning Canada as well as the United States).

Needless days, wheat substitutes, a careful count of grains of sugar, and rationing of butter will be necessary for many a day to come if North America is to fulfill her obligation. Miss Sweet Tooth will be obliged to exist a little longer without "all the marrow-bone candy she likes," unless she is a very greedy and thoughtless young woman indeed. Conservation and greater production are still imperatively needed to release as much as possible of the essential foods, wheat, meat, sugar and fats. The Victory gardens must be planted as conscientiously to insure a 1919 harvest as were the war gardens for the 1918 harvest.

Even when fighting the Germans is a thing of the past, there still will be the excitement of toppling over the throne of that relentless tyrant, High Cost of Living.

The day by no means has passed with the declaration of peace for ceasing to serve and to put the "SERVE" in Conserve.

MY FAVORITE FISH RECIPE.

Two weeks ago readers of this page were requested to send in their favorite fish recipes in order to help to popularize fish as a diet. A number have shown their patriotism by making a prompt response. One letter received was in unmistakably masculine writing and it read:

Dear Mademoiselle Editor,—Will you let a plain man have a look in to your interesting page for once? Saw last week that you were asking for fish recipes. I pride myself I am some cook myself, patriotic frills and all. I wonder if any of the ladies who read your page have tried dipping fish in cornmeal instead of flour before frying it? I'm past military age, and not so young as I used to be, so I find it is absolutely necessary for me to get away for at least a week's rest from business each year. None of your swell hotels for mine! I get two or three good pals and go off to the most deserted camping spot I can find, where I know the fishing is good. The others can cook the potatoes, flapjacks and bacon if they like, but I don't trust anyone else with the fish, that is, with the cooking. The boys can catch them and scale them and clean them if they like. I never object to little helps like that. Up at the island where I was stopping this year we got the finest, flakiest white fish that ever made a man hungry for more.

"I split the whitefish down the back, then cut it in pieces three or four inches long, dipped these in cornmeal, and popped them in the frying pan over a good, brisk fire. I used bacon grease, or the saved fat in which the fish had been fried the day before, or better still, butter. I cooked the herrings the same way, only, of course, I didn't cut them up. Just cut off the head and trimmed the tail nicely. Eat? Say, you should have seen the boys pitch in. I can tell you, we never had anything left for these 'leftover' dishes the women talk so much about. There's one thing to remember about trying fish. Be sure to cook it thoroughly on one side before you turn it over. You are liable to break it up if you try turning it too often. Another thing, never put on the lid when you are frying fish. It makes the fish flabby to cover it when it is cooking. If you don't take my word for it that the cornmeal improves the flavor, besides saving the flour, try it for yourself. Hope you will pardon, AN OLDTIME CAMPER, for butting in.

(Delighted to hear from you, Oldtime Camper, and will be pleased to have some more of your patriotic recipes to pass along.)—The Editor.

OTHER CONTRIBUTORS.

Among other recipes which have been sent in is the favorite of Christy Mackenzie, whose sage advice has added interest to this department on several previous occasions. She tells this time about the way she prepares and serves whitefish.

"Aunt Jennima," is a newcomer, who has most reasonable advice to offer concerning the cooking of finnan haddock. "From now on, we will have it at least once a week during the season," she says, adding: "I learned this method of cooking it by experiment, and my family thinks nobody can cook it just like mother." Aunt Jennima also gives a recipe which sounds wonderfully good for making a salmon loaf, which she serves with rice potatoes, green peas and egg sauce. The whitefish, finnan haddock and salmon recipes will appear next week, space permitting.

VIRGINIA CORN BREAD WITH CHEESE.

The very name, "Virginia Corn Bread" suggests something appetizing, doesn't it? It sounds crisp and toothsome, something one would enjoy eating for luncheon or the substantial evening meal when dinner is served in the middle of the day. Just think of piping hot Virginia corn bread on the table when you come in hungry some frosty autumn or winter evening!

Virginia corn bread has an added and very big merit at this time of the world's history. It is a substitute for both meat and wheat. That is the reason the making of Virginia corn bread was demonstrated by domestic science experts in the Canada Food Board exhibit at the Western Fair.

These are the ingredients, as stated by Miss Demonstrator: One-half cup of cornmeal, one-half cup cold water, mix the meal and cold water to a paste, then add one and a third cups of boiling water. Cook fifteen minutes, then cool and add one egg, one-half cup of flour, one cup of grated cheese, one teaspoonful of salt, and one teaspoonful of baking powder.

Don't you think you will like the flavor?

VICTORY SALE OF GROCERIES AND MEATS

To celebrate the return of peace to the world we will hold a gigantic victory sale tomorrow. We offer choice Groceries and Meats at such low prices that everyone will be able to have a good old-fashioned dinner. We have chopped and slashed the prices to the very closest figures.

Let us all celebrate the great event by eating to our heart's content. Again we advise early shopping for the big specials, to save disappointment. Every inch of this big pure food store is before the gaze of the public—no dark corners or back rooms, where insanitary conditions may be invited. You can see for yourself that every inch of this big store is kept spotlessly clean, and our Meats are too well known to need comment. Thousands of satisfied customers for years. Don't let butchers in the outlying districts tell you they sell at lower prices, because we do our own killing, have our own packinghouse, and buy in enormous quantities, while small concerns must pay the middleman's profit.
