57TH YEAR. NO. 22694 THE LONDON ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 26, 1920. 96 COLUMNS PRICE THREE CENTS

BIG CORPORATIONS MUST FURNISH GREATER REVENUE FOR DOMINION; PROFITS TAX MAY BE INCREASED

Total Amount Collected From Business Profits Tax in Canada During the Three Years of Its Operation Was $66,747,659—Claim Is Made That Many Firms Added Profits to Capitalization to Avoid Payment of Tax.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 26.—Whether the business profits tax is renewed or not, it appears certain that the Canadian finance minister must continue to have resort to some method for the tapping of Canadian corporate wealth. The United Kingdom, as indicated by its recent budget, has decided to increase its profits tax to 60 per cent. In the United States, Senator Capper has just made certain startling disclosures regarding "Wall street's melon patches," in which terrific profits are shown. And yet the amounts collected from wealth in these two countries during the past few years are proportionately far in excess of Canada's levies.

The total amount collected from business profits in Canada during the three years of its incidence, ending March 31, 1919, was $66,747,659. In income tax $9,349,719 were collected. In proportion to population the total tapping of wealth in Canada is far below that practiced during the war by either Great Britain, the United States, New Zealand or Australia.

Increased Capitalization.

Both in the Senate and the House of Commons, it has been demonstrated during the present session that Canadian income tax collections have been highly disappointing, while last session, in the course of the high-cost-of-living probe, it was shown that many companies evaded the full incidence of the excess profits tax by utilizing profits for the increase of capitalization.

Firms have attacked the excess profits tax on the alleged ground that it prevented expansion and was a discouragement to production. Whether it has actually worked in that direction is not easily demonstrable; indeed, on the contrary, increased capitalization has been the rule. H. H. Stevens, M.P. for Vancouver, however, has come forward with the suggestion that this objection may be overcome by the Government permitting its share of he excess profits to be capitalized in the firm. In this manner the Government and the country would become a partner in Canadian industry, and would reap the dividends annually accruing from its share in the capital. The suggestion will no doubt be discussed in the House during the budget debate. Mr. Stevens contends that the "partnership scheme" would not entail any more bookkeeping or governmental supervision of firms' business than is entitled under the excess profits tax as at presented operated.

Blames Collection Method.

Canada's failure to secure adequate returns cannot be ascribed to faults in the tax measures themselves. Sir Thomas White has declared that Canada's excess profits tax measure is the highest in the world. The income tax compares favorably with that in the United States. It would, therefore, appear that it is the method of collection which is at fault. For instance, Senator William Bennett pointed out to the Chamber last Thursday that in Toronto there were only fifty-five persons who had paid on incomes ranging from fifty to a hundred thousand dollars for the year 1918, and only thirteen who had paid on incomes over the latter figures.

"In the reading-room," said Senator Bennett, "where the matter was discussed, "we made up a list in a few minutes of thirteen men in the city of Ottawa alone, each of whom, it was agreed by those present, had an income far beyond a hundred thousand dollars."

During the past fiscal year there was collected under the head of miscellaneous" revenue the sum of $106,000,000. A goodly part of this represents income and excess profits, and judging by the total collections during the past year have very considerably improved.

FRENCH LABOR WILL ATTEMPT TO TIE UP BUSINESS ON MAY 1

Government Contemplates Taking of Drastic Measures.

OUTLOOK IS SERIOUS

Transportation and Public Utilities Services Likely To Be Paralyzed.

Paris, April 26.—This city faces an almost complete paralysis of business on Saturday, May 1, as a result of a large number of unions voting to join the labor demonstration by calling a general strike. Hotel, postoffice, telephone and telegraph, local surface transportation and gas and electrical workers, all unionized workers on the pay rolls of the municipality, with the exception of health officers, and a large number of less important branches of labor, will participate in the strike. Work in most lines will be resumed after 24 hours, but the walkout of telephone and telegraph employees will interrupt communication.

Teachers will remain on duty, and food stores will be open, at least part of the day. The government's policy, either as regards the May Day demonstrations or the prospective railway strike, has not been officially announced, but it is known that it would include an immediate mobilization of the railroad men to break the strike, as was the case in February. As to the May Day demonstrations, it is understood that the government's plans call for even more vigorous action than last year.

GIRL LASHED UNTIL BLOOD OOZED FROM HER BACK AND LEGS

So Declares Witness at Quebec Murder Trial.

TOLD BY FATHER

Young Woman Also Testifies At Trial of Telesphore Gagnon.

Quebec, April 26.—The trial of Telesphore Gagnon, on a charge of murder, in connection with the death of his daughter Aurore, for whose death his wife has already been sentenced to hang on October 1, was resumed today in the criminal court before Judge Desy.

Arthur Leboeuf of St. Jean Deschaillons, Lotbiniere County, said that some time last July he met the accused, father of the dead girl, and that he told witness of whipping Aurore with a horsewhip. Witness said that the accused told him that he had flogged the girl because he would not have her boss his wife in the house. Accused told the witness that he took the girl upstairs, removed all her clothing, and, holding her at arm's length by the hair on her head, lashed her with a horsewhip. Witness added that the father, when he told witness of this kind of correction, said that he had beaten the child all over her naked body till the blood oozed out of her back and legs, and that he had asked her if she had had enough, and that she answered, "I don't know."

Saw Marks on Back.

Marguerite Leboeuf, daughter of the preceding witness, was then examined. She told of a visit she had made to the Gagnon home at St. Philomene, some time last summer. She said the father, accused, had gone to the barn for the horsehide whip, after he had said he would lash Aurore, telling witness: "Now, if you care, you can see how we lash her."

Witness says she did not actually see the flogging, because she got frightened and ran away to the barn, so as not to hear the lashing and screams. She says that when she returned to the house she saw Aurore with blue-streaked marks on her legs and on her back.

"How did you see the lash marks on her back?" asked counsel for defence.

"Her mother lifted the girl's skirts and told me, 'Look, but her back is not sufficiently blue-streaked yet.'"

DIVERSITY OF OPINION ON ST. RAILWAY QUESTION AMONG MEMBERS OF CITY COUNCIL

Ald. O. I. Cunningham Sees No Reason for Any Action On City's Part Until Strike Actually Occurs—Others Think Railway Board Should Be Called In.

Diversity of opinion exists today as to what action will be taken by the city council in regard to the street railway situation. Some members of the council are of the opinion that the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board can be asked to take charge of the road before a strike occurs. Ald. G. E. Drake is one of those holding this view. He was of the opinion that the railway board could operate the road for several months to determine whether it was possible to pay higher wages.

Ald. O. I. Cunningham, chairman of No. 1 committee, sees no reason why the board should be called in until a strike actually occurs. He points out that both the company and the men have refused to have a conciliation board.

"That is an unprecedented action," he said. "Provision for settling wage disputes is made by the Government through legislation to appoint conciliation boards, and this means should be tried before the railway board is called in. It is all very well to say there is going to be a strike, but until it actually occurs, I don't see why the council should step in. It would create a precedent for all public utilities. Every time a strike was threatened it would be up to the council to step in and avert it instead of allowing the company and its employees to settle the trouble themselves."

Manager C. B. King today confirmed the assertion that the company would not accept an award by a conciliation board. "If it means that we would have to pay more money then it is absolutely impossible for us to accept it," he said.

No special meeting of the council has been called to consider the matter. No. 1 committee will hold its regular meeting Wednesday, and the matter may be discussed then.

INVESTIGATION OF COLLEGIATE FIRE TO COMMENCE IMMEDIATELY

Representative of Chief Fire Marshal To Arrive Late This Afternoon—Board of Education Holds Special Afternoon Session To Discuss the Whole Situation.

Investigation of the Collegiate fire is expected to commence today. A representative of the chief fire marshal's department is expected to arrive this afternoon and to make an inspection immediately.

That the investigation is not the result of any particular conditions at the fire but is more in the nature of a routine inspection, was the opinion expressed by Trustee A. A. Langford today. Mr. Langford said that he understood all large fires were investigated by the fire marshal's department.

This view was confirmed by Fire Chief Aitken. He pointed out that several large fires in Toronto are being investigated now, and that in the past investigation of several fires has been made here. He did not attach any special significance to this investigation.

A general probe of all the circumstances surrounding the fire has been asked by the Chamber of Commerce.

The board of education will hold a special meeting this afternoon, at which the whole situation will be discussed. Accommodation for first-year pupils is one of the principal matters for consideration, while plans for providing permanent accommodation will likely be started.

No Interruption.

School routine for all classes except those of the first year went on today with hardly an interruption. Friday and Saturday typewriters and other equipment were moved from the commercial schools to the Technical School. All commercial classes reported there and were accommodated in classrooms, draughting-rooms, dressmaking-rooms and other quarters.

Provision for thirteen general classes had to be made at the former Princess Avenue School and the main commercial building.

Nine middle and upper school classes have been opened in the Princess Avenue School, while four second-year classes are at the main commercial school. Two of these classes go to the Princess Avenue School in the afternoon, and their places are taken by two classes from that building. Thus, in spite of the necessary changes of classroom which must be made every period, there is comparatively little confusion. Only this one change of classes from one school to the other is necessary, and this is accomplished at noon.

Principal W. H. T. Mooney reported a full attendance at the temporary schools today.

It is possible that first-year classes may be accommodated at the Lord Roberts School. The Collegiate pupils could report at 8 o'clock and remain until 12:30. The public school session could commence in the afternoon and continue until a later hour than usual.

Rhodes of Point Edward, and $60 to the British and Foreign Bible Society are provided for. The income from $10,000 goes to a sister-in-law, Mrs. Kate Cox, Victoria, B. C., during her lifetime, and at her death the amount is payable to her daughter, Kate Geraldine Cox. Another sister-in-law, Mrs. Clara Cox of London, receives during her lifetime the income from $30,000, and her son and daughter, Beverly and Kate G. Cox, each receive $15,000 at their mother's death.

STRIKERS WILL SIT TIGHT TILL DEMANDS ARE GRANTED, CLAIM

Grunau Says No More Efforts To End It.

Chicago, April 25.—The railroads announced tonight that more strikers had returned to work today, and that the movement of live stock and meat was normal. They declared in a statement that since the strike began 1,052 workers have returned to duty, while 840 employees had been brought to Chicago from other points.

John Grunau, head of the outlaw Chicago Yardmen's Association, following his arraignment yesterday with 41 other strike leaders before U. S. Commissioner Mason, said no more meetings would be called, and no further attempts made to end the strike. The strikers, he said, "would sit tight at home until their demands were granted."

OLDEST PORTION OF TORONTO STATION IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Toronto, April 25.—The oldest part of the Union Station here, formerly the city's main railway station, but latterly occupied by the dining-room, Grand Trunk Railway dining car supply stores, and the Canada Railway News Service, was damaged by fire this morning. The origin of the fire is unknown. The damage to the building was about $5,000. The Canada Railway News Service lost stock valued at $7,000, and the Grand Trunk dining car supply stores were damaged to the extent of $3,000, the total loss being about $15,000.

Four firemen were injured while fighting the flames. Fireman John Stewart went down with a section of the roof which collapsed, and was taken to the General Hospital, severely injured. Fire Lieutenant Brodie, Fireman John Reed and Fireman White were hurt, but not seriously.

MASS FOR REPOSE OF SOULS OF MEN WHO DIED FOR IRELAND

Several Thousand Attend Services in Montreal Cathedral.

Montreal, April 26.—Between 3,000 and four thousand people, mostly men, attended a solemn requiem high mass at St. Patrick's Church this morning, celebrated for the repose of the souls of the men who have died for Ireland in recent years. More than one-half of the congregation received Holy Communion, which was constantly distributed during three-quarters of an hour by four priests. Special music was furnished by an augmented choir, composed of members of the choirs of all English-speaking Catholic parishes in the city, and by the St. Patrick's chancel choir. In the sanctuary, which was filled with clergy, were pastors and priests from nearly all the English parishes and English colleges on the island. The mass was sung at the request of the Irish-National Canadian League.

NEGRO'S ACQUITTAL IS FOUND JUSTIFIED BY JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

Attorney-General Raney Upholds Hamilton Magistrate's Decision.

Toronto, April 26.—In his report on the case of Robert Boyd, a negro, acquitted by Magistrate Jelfs of Hamilton, on a charge of a serious offence against a white girl, Attorney-General Raney finds there are circumstances about it which no doubt justified the magistrate in his conclusions. In any case, the attorney-general's department has no power to do anything further. The attorney-general's report is to the effect that the magistrate in reply to application for a stated case shows that an answer to the question of whether corroborative evidence was necessary, is made in such a way that it would not affect the case or justify a new trial.

READERS MUST EXPECT TO MEET INCREASED COSTS TO PUBLISHERS

London, April 10.—By Mail.—Canadian Associated Press. — Canadian newspapers face a blow that may endanger the existence of some of them in the direction of the supreme court that the regulation of the price and the destination of newsprint is outside the powers of he board of commerce, says the Westminster Gazette. Paper, says the supreme court, is not a necessity of life. It is certainly a necessity to the life of a newspaper, and it was with that fact in mind that the board of commerce restricted exports so as to retain a sufficiency of paper for Canadian newspapers. The difficulty is not altogether that of price, although price enters into the matter. To send paper over the Canadian border into the United States is an easier and cheaper operation than to send it to Western Canada. Largely in consequence of he huge American demand the world price of paper today is higher than at any time during the war, and is still rising. The whole feature of the newspaper industry, in fact, depends upon the willingness of readers to pay more for the service they receive from their daily and weekly papers, since there appepars to be no limit to the price to which paper may rise.

CROOK HAD RECORD OF ROBBERIES AND SALES OF ALL LOOT

Proprietor of Chicago Shop Is Killed by Detectives.

Chicago, April 26.—Police today investigated an extensive card index system found in Harry J. James' automobile repair shop after he had been killed in a fight with policemen. They said they believed robberies totalling $500,000 would be revealed, and that more than $100,000 worth of loot already had been recovered.

The index contained lists of places robbed, goods obtained, of stolen articles sold to pawnshops, of purchases, of preference, of various pawn brokers, and of valuables taken in the course of highway robberies.

James will killed last night in a gun battle with detectives who were attempting to search him after he had been placed under arrest.

Regalia For New Academy Members Costs 2,061 Francs

Becoming Expensive To Enter Honored Throng in France.

Paris, April 26.—The expenses of becoming a member of the French academy, like the price of everything else in France, has taken an upward trend. Every new member honored by election to the academy must provide himself with a regulation uniform of green cloth with yellow facings. Before the war the outfit represented an expense of 659 francs, two years ago it rose to 1,200 francs, and today Henry Bordeaux who is about to be received into the academy, will have to pay 2,061 francs for his uniform. In addition he must supply himself with a special hat, sword and sword belt, which have also shown a large increase in price.

GRAIN FREIGHTERS ARE HELD UP BY STRIKE AT BUFFALO ELEVATORS

Buffalo, April 26.—The first three grain-laden vessels to break through the ice on Lake Erie and make this port were held up today on account of labor troubles at the elevators. They were the Wickwire, H. B. Nye and James P. Walsh. The Housemen's Union has been on a strike for a month because elevator owners refused to meet demands for more pay and shorter hours. The Firemen's and Linemen's Association and the grain shovelers' local yesterday voted to support the housemen.

When the grain fleet arrived today the firemen and linemen refused to man tugs to bring them to the elevators. The steamers were anchored at the break wall in the outer harbor.

BELIEVES CANADA ALONE CAN OVERCOME FAMINE IN PAPER PRODUCTS

London, April 25.—Canadian Associated Press.—Lord Burnham, proprietor of the Daily Telegraph, speaking at a luncheon here of newspaper directors, said: "There was at present what was termed a paper famine, due to a real world shortage. What was happening was pregnant with meaning for those who believed that, although we could not perhaps ever be self-sufficient in the British Empire, we ought to be able to draw much more largely than we did on the output of the great dominions beyond the seas. It was difficult to see, with the increasing use of paper for all sorts of purposes, how the supply could be made up, unless the resources, particularly of the Dominion of Canada, were utilized to a far greater degree.

Berlin, April 26.—With a view to reducing the increased cost of boots and shoes, the minister of economics has decided to place an embargo on the exportation of these necessities, but to continue unlimited importation of shoe leather until the inflated home prices adjust themselves to the lower foreign prices.

Says Germans Would Create Breach Between Allies, Then Turn Guns Again On France

Paris, April 25.—Germany, if not actually plotting a new war, is nevertheless thinking of it. The unmistakable impression that one receives in traveling through Germany is that the Germans are counting the hours when they can create a breach between the Allies, and revenge themselves against France, and make the treaty of Versailles a scrap of paper.

This statement was made today by an American journalist who has just returned from Berlin. He sets forth conditions there as follows:

"The Germans do not yet know they were beaten. They liken themselves to the Russians, who have been forced to suspend hostilities. Germans, without distinction of creed or party, are openly threatening, 'Let America and Britain stand aside, and we will lick France so badly she will never be able to recover.'

"One of the most striking signs in this connection is the seriousness of the German people. You can stand on the street corner for hours or ride through the cities, and never see a German smile, if you engage them in conversation they will tell you that it is France that is responsible for their present suffering.

"Baron von Horst, a close friend of Gen. Ludendorff, and who claims to represent the Irish republic, speaks perfect English and who, by the way, was interned in England during the war, and about whom a spy book was recently published in London, told me that Germans are now actually interesting themselves in the American presidential election. They propose to see to it that Hoover or anyone of his type is not elected. Von Horst is boasting that it was the German influence in America, prompted by Berlin, which acted in combination with the Sinn Feiners to defeat the peace treaty in the American Senate.

"What is in von Horst's mind is in the minds of many other Germans in high places, and that is that America and England must be isolated from France, and they are looking forward to the American election to do this as far as the United States is concerned, while building up hopes to do the same in Britain through Russian commercial relations and the labor party."

LONDONERS PUT ON DEMONSTRATION TO AID IRISH PRISONERS

English League Would Free Hunger Strikers.

London, April 25.—Among the 150 Irish prisoners in Wormwood Scrubbs Prison a large number have been on hunger strike since Wednesday as a protest against detention without charge or trial. One of the men was released unconditionally Friday night in a state of collapse.

The London branch of the Self Determination League today hastily formed a demonstration outside the prison. Thousands responded and tonight indulged in actions similar to those recently carried out at Mountjoy Prison, Dublin. The crowd sang patriotic songs and burned flares.

Chile has decided to accept the offer by Great Britain to dispose of one dreadnought, three torpedoboat destroyers of 1,800 tons each, and a transport.

Previous dispatches have indicated that the dreadnought in question was the Canada, one of two battleships originally built for Chile in England, both of which the British requisitioned for the European war. The destroyers and auxiliary vessels are taken by Chile to replace the second dreadnought.

GERMAN PARLIAMENT REFUSES HEARING TO FORMER OFFICIALS

Dr. Ernst Quarck Tenders His Resignation.

Berlin, April 26.—Parliamentary investigation committee No. 1, which is studying pre-war diplomatic history, has decided by a vote of its Nationalist, Democratic and Centre party members, as opposed to the Socialists, not to give an oral hearing between the close of the parliament session and the election to former Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and former Foreign Ministers von Jagow and Zimmerman on their share in responsibility for the war. Their decision was made on the ground that such action would unduly inflame the passions of the electoral campaign. Immediately upon the vote which registered this decision, Dr. Ernst Quarck, the chairman of the committee, a Social-Democrat, and the father of the proposal to hear the former ministers, handed in his resignation.

BLOODHOUNDS TO BE PUT ON TRACK OF MURDERER OF GIRL

Every Effort Will Be Made To Trace Slayer of Pontiac Girl.

SUSPECT QUESTIONED.

Pontiac, Mich., April 26.—Prosecusing Attorney Gillespie, investigating the killing early Sunday morning of Miss Vera Schneider, telephone supervisor, this morning questioned a man whose appearance is said to tally with a description given of the man seen with the girl late Saturday night. The man, whose home is in Detroit, worked in a local factory. He denied being with Miss Schneider Sunday.

Bloodhounds were put on the case this forenoon, but led officers only as far as the curbing in front of the house where Miss Schneider's body was found. Officers expressed the belief that the girl was driven to the unoccupied dwelling in an automobile.

Pontiac, April 26.—City and county authorities early today were still without definite clue as to the identity of the murderer of Miss Vera Schneider, 19-year-old telephone supervisor, found early Sunday morning apparently choked to death on the porch of an unoccupied dwelling.

Arrival of bloodhounds from Manchester, Ohio, was awaited this morning. To give the animals every assistance in tracing the murderer, the police roped off the space around the house to keep crowds from destroying footprints about the place.

The ground surrounding the dwelling, which was in one of the city's best residential sections, gave evidence, according to the officers, that a terrific struggle had taken place.

The authorities have not yet obtained a description of the man with whom Miss Schneider is said to have been seen by friends about midnight Saturday.

Washington, April 26.—The railroad labor board today refused to hear the wage demands of the Kansas City Yardmen's Association on the ground that the application did not conform to the provisions of the law.

Timothy Shea, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, told the board that additional pay for railroad workers would not have the effect of increasing the cost of living unless the excuse was seized upon by profiteers to exploit the public.

Huge Expenditure in Sight by German Government.

Berlin, April 26.—Forty billion marks are involved in the government's purchase of the federated states railways, which has been approved by the national assembly. The annual interest incurred in the nation's huge investment is estimated at 14,000,000 marks. The government is not over sanguine with respect to early returns from the investment, in view of the dilapidated condition of the railways, the delayed output from repair shops and continued demands by the men for wage increases.

ITALIAN SOCIALISTS PROTEST

London, April 26.—The Avanti Rome today publishes a manifesto of the Socialist party inviting the Italian proletariat to organize protest meetings against the Japanese "for their war on Russia," according to a Central News dispatch from the Italian capital. The manifesto accuses the entente of complicity with Japan.

STRIKE AGAINST HIGH PRICES IS A SPLENDID THING

Local Labor Men Agree With Tom Moore's Sentiments.

Many local labor men declared today that they thought Tom Moore's idea of a strike against high prices was a splendid thing. They agreed that there was not much use striking for higher wages when every victory in this direction was turned into a defeat by the increasing of the prices twice as much proportionately as wages were increased. Still Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Labor Congress, has the confidence of all the loyal labor unionists in London, and most of those interviewed expressed the opinion that his suggestion was a capital thing.

There was one little difficulty pointed out. Striking against high prices may be all right in the matter of phonographs, player-pianos, decorative clothing, silk shirts and $15 footwear. Excessive rents may even be combatted in the summer time by living in tents. But in the matter of high food prices, it is not so easy. Not all the London labor men are Sinn Feiners, and they have no natural hankering after a hunger strike.

Up around the Cigarmakers' Union headquarters the idea didn't take any too well. About 150 cigarmakers have been laid off work for an indefinite period on the ground that people are refusing to pay the high prices for cigars necessitated by the recent increase in wages, and there is depression in the business as a result. Fortunately in this instance, there is plenty of work for cigarmakers in Hamilton and Detroit, and the men with families who have been laid off are moving permanently to these cities. Unmarried men are relying on their out-of-work benefits until they can find other work to do.

"A strike against high prices will be a good thing," said the cigarmakers, "if Mr. Moore will just show us how to do it without hurting ourselves, more than we are being hurt now."

WASTES NO TIME IN TELLING ON ALLEGED SELLER OF WHISKEY

E. W. Suhr Fined $200 in the Police Court Today.

Edward William Suhr was fined $200 and costs in police court this morning for having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling. Then he gave evidence against another, whom he alleged sold him two bottles for $11.

On Sunday night at 8 o'clock, P. C. George Tomlin arrested Suhr at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets. The prisoner had a bottle on each hip. When asked where he got the whiskey he straightway told the constable that a man had sold it to him in a room up a nearby stairway.

Early in the evening Suhr went out after whiskey. He claimed that he was directed to the place where the accused was staying. He knew the place, for he had been there before to pay a visit on legitimate business.

When he was coming out of the doorway the policeman saw him and followed him to the corner. He then took two policemen back to arrest the accused. Two trips were made, but the door was found locked. On the third visit it was found open. Suhr pointed out the alleged seller and said: "There is the man that sold me the whiskey."

The man was arrested, but later was bailed out. His side of the story was not heard in court this morning, as one of his witnesses was ill. On Thursday morning the case will be continued.

Seven drunks said "guilty" this morning and were given the opportunity of paying $10 to Police Court Clerk John Moule or spending ten days in the county jail.

KNOCKED FROM BICYCLE

Wm. Swindell Suffers Fractured Leg as Result of Collision With Auto.

William Swindell, the 16-year-old son of E. J. Swindell, 48 Brookside street, sustained a compound fracture of his left leg below the knee on Saturday afternoon when he was knocked from his bicycle as a result of a collision at the corner of King and Adelaide streets.

The police ambulance was called, P. C. Walter Harpur and P. C. Walter Pope made a record run to the scene and took the boy to Victoria Hospital in a very short time.

For several hours last night he was unconscious, but today he is reported to be doing well.

When he was approaching King street from the south on Adelaide he became excited when he saw two autos coming, one from the west and the other from the east. Mr. Haskett stopped when he realized the lad's predicament, but the boy ran into his auto.

CALLOUS MOTORIST LEAVES INJURED BOY LYING BY ROADSIDE

Ten-Year-Old Lad Run Over by Careless Driver On Sunday Night.

While walking near the Second Gore and the Hamilton road at 8 o'clock on Sunday night, Wilbur Eggett, 10-year-old son of Matthew Eggett, Second Gore, was run over by an auto driven by some unknown person and suffered a double fracture to his right leg.

After the accident, the driver of the auto came back to where he was lying, and because he did not answer when he asked him if he was hurt, said: "Oh, he's not hurt." Then he went away.

The youngster's 5-year-old brother ran to the house 300 yards away and told his father of the accident. Mr. Eggett carried the boy to the house and summoned the doctor, who had him removed to Victoria Hospital.

PLEADS FOR MORE SERIOUSNESS OF PURPOSE IN LIFE

Rev. A. J. Thomas Speaks to Young People At Sunday Service.

With a plea for a seriousness of purpose and deeper thinking on behalf of the young people of the present day, Rev. A. J. Thomas of Peterboro, formerly of this city, stirred a huge audience in the Dundas Centre Church Sunday evening. The day was given over to the young people of the church, and was marked by special music by an augmented choir and an orchestra of over 30 pieces.

Rev. Mr. Thomas censored deeply the frivolity, carelessness, and the sacrilege which he said was rampant in modern life. There was a lack of serious thinking, the old and young were pleasure mad, and there was trifling on every side, he continued.

He did not mean to belittle cheerfulness. The people need not be so serious that they were gloomy. They need not shut themselves apart in order to consider the great questions of the day. Social intercourse was needed both for the soul and the body, but he claimed the springs of character should be deep seated. Care only for the frivolous would never develop great character.

Serious Business.

"Living is a serious business," he said, "but most people do not realize it until the best years of their life are gone. God has a lofty purpose for every person in the world. There is something that we should do, we must do. We have no right to trifle with the golden moments of life."

The importance of life would be lessened, continued the speaker, if there was no hereafter. The world lived under the eye of God, and after death everyone must stand before the judgment seat to give an account of our deeds here. Such frivolity in the face of destiny was mystifying, he said.

"Sorrow in its prevalence is found in the most unexpected places. Life is not always as it seems on the surface. Many in their anguish are crying: 'How long,' and it would be well if the multitudes would take up the echo."

The people, he said, had forgotten the blood of the past ages and were playing on the graves of the martyrs. They were filled not only with folly but with sacrilege as well.

"It is thought that there never was an age without its great character. Time is wrought with bigness, and the heights of the world challenge today. The possibilities should fire our blood, and we should not be content to stay in the valleys.

"The past has been filled with its greatness and its masters, but the future must be made of still greater things. The greatest book has not yet been written and the greatest painting has not yet been painted. The world is not listening for a song of ribaldry but for one of mastery."

The music throughout the service was excellent, especially an anthem sung unaccompanied by the choir. Several beautiful selections were given by the orchestra.

SAYS DEMONS IMPERSONATE THE SPIRITS OF THE DEAD

Lecturer Ridicules Idea of Talking With Spirits.

The theories of Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle were smashed verbally by M. A. Howlett of Winnipeg, when he lectured on the subject, "Talking with the Dead" on Sunday afternoon in the Majestic Theatre. The house was filled to capacity.

"When we are dead, we are dead. I know there are many of you who say you have an immortal soul, but you die and you return to the dust. No dead persons can be communicated with. Those spiritists who claim to be talking to the spirits of your dead relatives are talking to the wicked angels, who were turned out of heaven and who are today the wicked agencies who are upsetting the world. They are the people who answer the mediums. The agencies can be made to say that they are demons if they are asked in the right way. They may evade the questions of the medium, but they give in when cornered and confess that they are demons," said Mr. Howlett, who is an evangelist of the Bible Students' Association.

"I will give ten dollars for every passage found in the Bible that tells that we have immortal souls. No one can ascend into heaven except he that came from heaven, and there is only one person that came from heaven; He is the Son of God, and He alone will return to heaven. The billions of people who were killed in the war, and were victims of influenza are all dead, even as Lazarus was dead until raised again from the dead."

Outcast Demons.

Mr. Howlett read several clippings from various papers regarding mediums, all claiming that it was impossible to talk with the dead, and that those that answered mediums were the demons which were cast out from heaven. He also noted passages of Scripture from both New and Old Testaments, telling that sorcerers would arise and that no faith should be placed in them. "This was a prophecy of the Bible that had come true, and all the other prophecies in the Bible would come true also. Did it not say that the Son of Man would come after a series of wars and that tribulation and trouble would precede His coming? We have just had four years of it. The Far East was a seething mass and until it was purified there would be still more war. Not any of these nations cared for the mere signatures of the peace treaty. They would be up in arms as the Europeans were.

"The world was becoming more wicked. It was traveling at too fast a pace. The insane asylums were crowded and overflowing, and the whole world seemed to be on the verge of semi-hysteria. Until the proper meanings of the Scriptures were disclosed to the world and prophecies made known these things would go on. We were on the eve of the Golden Age, and it had been a great privilege for the speaker to see so many London people interested in these truths, as indicated by the large attendance. One word I would say," added Mr. Howlett, "have nothing to do with ouija boards. It is this little board that has sent thousands of people to the insane asylum. Table tappings and seances are all in the same line. The Bible truths interpreted in the way God meant them to be will tell you more than any of these fake things could."

In the evening the speaker lectured on "How Shall We Know Each Other at the Resurrection?"

BIRD NOTES

(Contributed by McIlwraith Ornithological Club.)

The warm weather and rain of Wednesday and Thursday last brought a migration wave of birds. Many new species were recorded. But the cold weather of the last three days has had a retarding effect, and only three new species have been observed in that time.

The little spotted sandpiper, or "tip-up," has come back to its summer haunts on the sandy flats of the Thames. The broad-winged hawk, on its way to its northern summer home, is visiting for a few days in this locality. The most interesting record of the three, however, is that of the Bonaparte gull, which is so rare in Middlesex that it has not been recorded for many years. It was seen resting on a pond near the city. Its black head and white body were plainly visible in the bright light of the morning sun. When the observer came too near the bird flew up and away to the north, uttering its characteristic notes, but it left behind a memory that shall live long in the mind of the bird-lover.

FINED $200 AND COSTS

Edward Scott and Wesley Fox of West Nissouri, charged before Squire Chittick Saturday with having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling, namely, a chicken coop, pleaded guilty, and were fined $200 and costs each. R. G. Fisher appeared for them, and they first pleaded not guilty, but later decided to change their plea.

INGERSOLL, April 25.—The fifth anniversary of the second battle of Ypres was fittingly observed by an impressive memorial service in St. James' Anglican Church this evening. The rector, Rev. W. F. V. McMillan, conducted the services, which were largely attended. The members of the local G. W. V. A. attended in a body.

PARTY'S AIM IS TO ABOLISH PARLIAMENT SAYS MERVYN SMITH

Socialist-Laborites Pledged To Destruction of Capitalist Society.

The Socialist Labor party is pledged to the destruction of capitalist society, Mervyn Smith of Detroit told an audience of about 40 people in the Higgins Block, 212 Dundas street, Sunday afternoon. When the Socialist Labor party elected a majority of the members of Parliament they would pass just one act of legislation, and that act would be to abolish parliament. The political state provided representation for the property interests, but the Socialist Labor party aimed to give representation to human individuals as workers only.

Revolution in industry had made the American Federation of Labor obsolete, declared Mr. Smith. The Workers' International Industrial Union would unite the workers of the industry into one unit. Representatives of departments of industry, embracing all the workers in these industries, would constitute the parliaments of the future. Production and industry would be organized on a scientific basis. Dual organization, along both economic and political lines, was a means to an end, and that was why the Socialist Labor party and the Workers' International Industrial Union worked together.

Fred Haselgrove, referring to his advocacy of socialist doctrines for 22 years, said he had always felt that some day he would live under the socialist regime, and this day never seemed so near as at the present time.

The Workers' Industrial Union, it was explained by Mr. Smith, did not believe in a general strike, but worked forward to the day when it could declare a general strike of the capitalist class.

Referring to the Russian situation, he quoted an American writer who, visiting Russia to study Bolshevism in practice, found eight theatres playing Shakespearean drama in Moscow at one time. The popularity of Shakespeare among the Bolsheviki illustrated a wide difference between the dramatic tastes of Russian and American peoples of the present day, he observed.

ANGLICAN YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD A WINTER PICNIC

More Than 700 Participate in Enjoyable Affair.

Perhaps the most successful winter picnic of the season was that held on Saturday evening in the Y. M. C. A. by the Anglican Young People's Associations of the Church of the Redeemer, Christ Church, All Saints', St. James', St. Matthew's and St. Luke's. The gathering numbered between seven and eight hundred.

The jolly doings of the young people commenced at 7 o'clock, when a reception was held in the main lobby of the Y. M. C. A. During that time McClary's Band played selections. Adjournment was then made to the gymnasium, where games of every sort were played and races were indulged in. The St. James' folk won the Arch Bald relay race from All Saints' Church. The Church of the Redeemer team were winners of the Medicine Ball relay race from Christ Church, and the Hustle Ball race was won by the Church of the Redeemer competing against St. Luke's. One of the funniest contests of the evening was a hat-trimming contest by the men. The trimmings certainly could not be called Parisian. Arthur Knight of All Saints' Church was the winner in this contest. The games were held under the direction of David Allen of the Y.M.C.A.

For the ladies who did not participate in wild and woolly games, two fair maidens told fortunes. A jolly singsong was later held in the Auditorium. The happy evening was finished with a swimming exhibition under the supervision of Prof. C. Butterworth.

E. J. Jenkins, Rev. J. Morris and Rev. A. A. Bice spoke briefly during the evening. R. F. Liddle was in charge of the enjoyable program.

BE SURE YOU GET THE BOTTLE

Millions use Jiffy-Jell desserts to get the real-fruit flavors. But sometimes women get the wrong dessert and find the bottles lacking.

Be careful. Jiffy-Jell is the only dessert with these fruit-juice essences in glass.

The flavor is made by crushing fruit. The juice is then condensed. It comes to you in liquid form, in vials—a bottle in each package.

Jiffy-Jell is a real-fruit dainty. It brings you the delights and the healthfulness of fruit. And people need fruit daily.

There are other names which sound like Jiffy-Jell, but they lack these bottled flavors. Be careful of the package, and you'll not be disappointed.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS SEVERELY CRITICIZED

Peter Birtwistle Writes Letter From Florida.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

When I was on the board of education I advocated quite a number of municipal matters. I wrote for and got the system of education of the following countries or colonies: Australia, New Zealand, Cape Colony, Natal, and several other colonies. I read again the systems of Germany, England and Scotland, and I thought at that time that of all the English-speaking countries, Scotland had the best system. Max O'Rell said "that a Scotchman keeps the Sabbath and everything he can lay his hands on," so accordingly took the best. Mr. Merchant said a few years ago, that for the last twenty years we have made no progress in our teaching staff, and that four or five months to go to the Normal School is not enough to learn how to teach. Inspector Hughes of Toronto, after a visit to England, where he examined the teaching system there, said: "The curse of Ontario is that we have been supposed to have the best educational system in the world, and that England is behind the times; the fact of the matter is that we are so far behind them that we cannot see them." Just fancy, it takes, as Mr. Merchant said, only four or five months to learn how to teach, and then compare it to the time it takes before a lawyer or a minister gets a diploma, and yet the school teacher is of far more importance.

In Germany, England and the colonies I have named, somewhere in the neighborhood of six years must be spent in training to learn how to teach before one can get a certificate to teach.

I laid all the systems of education before the board of education, and invited discussion, but not a word was said. The board could discuss spending money, etc., but there was not the ability or disposition to discuss the bettermen of educational matters, so the matter dropped.

In municipal matters, I wrote to Minister Hanna and Sir Adam Beck, a system of municipal government, and I went to Toronto and interviewed Ministers Hanna and Harcourt, on the subject. Minister Hanna was rather indifferent to the scheme, but Minister Harcourt discussed the method, but said, at last, that the people were not agitating for a change. A minister should bring in measures that are good, and he distinctly said the measures were good, and I very well remember mentioning to both ministers that the date of our municipal elections were barbarous and crude and I mentioned this at the board of education, too, but there is also fell flat.

Now, Mr. Editor, if you will look over the dates of municipal elections in the world, you will not find another province that has its municipal elections at such an unseasonal time. Take, for instance, the Dominion of Canada, and take again the elections in the United States and Great Britain. The best time, I remember giving to Mr. Harcourt, the number of members it took to manage the municipal affairs of London, and he replied that it took about as many members to manage Ontario and they are not growing any less in number.

The ideas of municipal government, that I may mention are not my own, but are what I remember of, Great Britain. I will compare the British and Canada, and I see that they are about the same in principle. Nearly all the expenditure of both governments, come before the whole legislature. Great Britain has carried this system into the municipalities. The municipality has a council, and from that council is elected the mayor, just the same as the prime ministers in England and Canada are elected, by the party, not by the whole body of electors. The prime ministers of England and Canada each manage the parliament in each country.

The members of the school board, hydro, board of works, etc., are members of the municipal council, and in bringing their reports for money, are there to face their wants, just the same as the Imperial Government, and just the same as the several committees have to face the whole members of Parliament. This principle has not been carried into our municipal governments. The principle in Great Britain is, that the body that is responsible for the levying and collecting the taxes, should be responsible for spending it, just one body, and all the bodies that have the expending of any money should belong to that body. London has a school board, hydro, waterworks, L. & P. S. Ry., etc., all acting as though they were not owned by the city of London, sometimes making monstrous demands on the council, and it seems to me, that every one of these bodies endeavors to get all they can from the council.

Now, I will touch on the matter of assessing. When Mr. Philip Pocock was on the court of revision I wrote a long letter on the inequality of the assessment, in the part of the city where I had a store. I told him among other things, that in one instance, I had been assessed for other people's property for sixteen years, and paid it too, and in another case, I was assessed for another man's property one year. Mr. Pocock treated my letter with contempt. I was then appealing against the assessment of my store, not that it was too much, only in accordance with other properties, and pointed the properties I had reference to.

I sold the store for $8,500, and I think it is assessed for $7,600, and it, at all times has been assessed within $1,000 of what I would have sold it for.

If all property had been assessed as near value as mine, London would have had a good deal more revenue.

I have now repeated what I have advocated for years and at this late date some ideas may be soon adopted.

There may be some inaccuracies in what I have written, and I would like anyone to point such out to me as a friend, not acrimoniously.

Hoping you will oblige by inserting this in your paper I remain

Yours very truly,

P. BIRTWISTLE.

He formerly lived at Derwent, and about a year ago moved into the city, residing with his son, Oliver. He was born in the township of North Dorchester, and was well and favorably known in and around Belmont. He was a good neighbor, and was always ready and willing to lend a helping hand to those in need. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon to St. David's Anglican Church at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. R. E. Charles will conduct the services. Interment will be made in Woodland Cemetery.

WOMAN SUFFERED 12 YEARS

Finally Made Well by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Emmitsburg, Md.—"I suffered for twelve or fifteen years, and was treated by a physician, but got little relief. I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, so thought I would try it, and it did me more good than all the doctor's medicine. I am a farmer's wife and do my housework all the time, and I am better now than I have been for years. I am never without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house and have recommended it to several of my friends. You are perfectly welcome to publish my letter for the good it may do other women."—Mrs. ETTE WARREN, Emmitsburg, Md.

Backache and nervousness are symptoms or nature's warnings, which indicate a functional disturbance or an unhealthy condition which often develops into a more serious ailment.

Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Warren's experience, and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

JOHN PERNOKIS BACK.—John Pernokis, veteran of many wars, and brother of Louis and George Pernokis, proprietors of the Alps Cafe, has returned from war again. Mr. Pernokis, who was severely wounded in the Balkan wars, was three times called to the Grecian colors during the great war. Conditions in Greece at present are fairly satisfactory, he states. Prices are high, but so is labor. Workers get ten dollars now, where they used to get two or three dollars. There does not seem to be much prospect of danger from industrial revolution in Greece. Although Greece is settling down to steady progress, he is glad to be back in London again, and plans to remain here for the present.

LONDON BILL TO BE UP TOMORROW

Majority of Council Will Go To Toronto Tuesday.

The much-discussed London Bill will come before the private bills committee of the Legislature Tuesday morning, if no further delays occur. The bill was scheduled for a hearing last Thursday, but was postponed on such short notice that some members of the council had already left for Toronto.

Nearly all the members of the council will go to Toronto, although they will not be unanimous on some of the clauses of the bill. A delegation nominated at a meeting of East London ratepayers some time ago will likely make the trip also to oppose the clauses of the bill which seek to authorize the expenditure of money without the consent of the people.

The principal clauses ask authority to issue $105,000 debentures for the London and Port Stanley Railway; $100,000 for storm sewers; $30,000 for motor busses; $85,000 for the public utilities commission water main extensions; $80,000 for electrical extensions.

SAYS NEXT WAR WILL BE IN PALESTINE

The Rev. Leslie Armitage Preaches in St. James' Church.

"Seeing Another War," was the interesting subject discussed by Rev. Leslie Armitage in St. James' Anglican Church on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Armitage, with the aid of passages of Scripture of the Bible prophecies, said that the next war would be in Palestine. He stated that the scriptures pointed out that the Anglo-Saxons were the socalled lost tribes of Israel, and that the Germans and Russians are of the warring tribes of Assyria.

He referred to the passage of scripture, "I will gather all nations together against Jerusalem, to battle, and the city shall be taken." Mr. Armitage said that Jerusalem was practically the centre of the earth, and this meant that the war which will be in the near future will be centred around Jerusalem. The city will be taken, but in the Bible it says that it shall be retaken.

AGED MAN WANDERING ROUND LUCAN BROUGHT TO COUNTY JAIL SUNDAY

Cannot or Will Not Speak English, Says Constable Peter Butler.

Thought to be slightly demented, an aged man of foreign race, probably Russian, was brought to the county jail Sunday by Constable Peter Butler of Lucan. The old man who refuses to speak, is registered at the jail as an "unknown man," and was found wandering about the village of Lucan.

It is thought that he was previously arrested last fall, and is the same man who was released and turned over to the Russian colony for care. Evidently he wandered away again, and probably spent the winter doing chores for some farmer. A Jewish citizen who befriended him and secured his release on the previous occasion has been notified by the county authorities, who believe, however, that the homeless man, who cannot or will not speak a word of English, ought to be committed to the Ontario Hospital.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT GIVES MONEY TO CHURCH

Little Tots Contribute $50 to Egerton Street Building Fund.

On Sunday afternoon the children of the primary department of the Egerton Street Baptist Sunday school were asked for a special offering for the rebuilding of the church. The small children formed a circle and marched round a little bank, each depositing pennies. When the bank was opened the contents amounted to a little more than $56.

Rev. A. C. Bingham is still receiving subscriptions from different parts of the city, from persons who are not members of the Baptist church. One little boy came to the Baptist parsonage with the contents of his bank in a paper bag. His pennies amounted to $5. Another little girl of 7 years wrote from St. Thomas, sending $2 for the church fund. In her letter she hoped that the church would seen be "built up again."

CATHOLIC INSTITUTIONS OFFERED BY THE BISHOP FOR COLLEGIATE USE

Will Be Considered by Board at Meeting Today.

Catholic institutions in the city have been offered as temporary quarters for high school pupils by Bishop M. F. Fallon. It is understood that St. Peter's Parish Hall has been particularly mentioned as a temporary home for first-year classes, who are the only ones not accommodated thus far.

The generous offer will be considered with other propositions at the special meeting of the board this afternoon.

Alterations are being made at the old commercial school to fit it for general use. Lavatories are being installed to replace those destroyed in the general school building.

FORMER LONDON MAN DIES IN ST. THOMAS

St. Thomas, April 26.—John A. Moodie, who for nearly a quarter of a century conducted a brokerage business in London, died today after an illness of some months. Mr. Moodie underwent a serious operation at Montreal about a year ago and never rallied. Before coming to St. Thomas, the deceased had large milling interests in Ridgetown, and was a former treasurer of that municipality.

DADDY GETS $6 NOW

Mother and little daughter were inspecting some fancy purses marked $1.50 in a local drygoods store on Saturday. The purses were good value at $1.50, and it was just a matter of selecting the one that was prettiest as well as most serviceable. While they were carefully making a selection, the saleslady took down from the shelf some other purses priced $3.50.

"O, mother, these are much better," said the little girl. "Let us take one of these."

"But the price is much higher," said the mother.

"O, but we can afford it," pleaded the child. "Daddy gets $6 for a bag of potatoes now." And so the more expensive purse was bought.

POSTOFFICES TO BE ALLOWED TO OPERATE ON PREVAILING TIME

Official Note Permits Postmasters To Work On Summer Time.

MUST CATCH TRAINS

Public Servants Urged To Cooperate With Municipalities.

Ottawa, April 26.—Canadian Press.—Where daylight saving is in effect in Canadian towns and cities postmasters are given authority to fall in line in regard to hours of opening and closing postoffices. The Official Postal Guide says: "It is necessary in all cases that arrangements shall be made to dispatch and receive mails in accordance with the railway timetables; but in the matter of time of opening and closing the postoffice the postmaster should be guided by the action of the municipal authorities; that is, in any place where the local authorities decide to adopt daylight saving time, the postoffice may do likewise."

CHANGE TIMETABLE ON C. P. R. MAY 2

Pullman Car Rates Also Advance Next Sunday.

Four C. P. R. trains will be affected locally by changes in the timetable which will go into effect on May 2, it was announced this morning. No local trains on the Grand Trunk will be affected by changes made on that road.

No. 630, C. P. R., leaving this city now at 8 a.m., will leave for Toronto at 7:20 a.m. No. 21, now leaving for Detroit at 11:40 a.m. and arriving in that place at 1:20 p.m., central time, will leave here at 11:25 and will arrive in Detroit at the same time as formerly. No. 634, leaving here for Toronto at 1:20 p.m., will leave at 1:25, but will arrive in Toronto at the old time. No. 633, leaving London at 7:28 p.m. for Detroit, will leave at 7:30, but will arrive in Detroit at the former time.

While there will be no local changes on this division of the G. T. R. on May 2, the summer schedule will go into effect on June 27.

Pullman car rates on both roads will advance on May 2. The minimum charge for lower berths will advance from $2 to $2.50, and for upper berths from $1.50 to $2. A parlor buffet car will be added to G. T. R. train No. 11, leaving London at 5:35 p.m. for Windsor, on this date.

G. T. R. OFFICIALS HAVE ONE WEEK TO GRANT WAGE SCALE

J. E. Chittick Returns After Consultation in Ottawa.

One week has been granted to the Grand Trunk Railway officials to consider a schedule of wages which has been drawn up by the three unions of the railway employees, acting jointly, and for this purpose the board of arbitration has been adjourned, according to J. E. Chick, chairman of the grievance committee of the local branch of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees. On May 3, the officials of the company will meet the representatives of the unions in an effort to reach an agreement.

Negotiations were opened with the company last August, but because of differences existing between the three unions and their inability to reach an agreement regarding a scale of wages little progress was made. A board of conciliation was ordered recently by the minister of labor, in order that the dispute might be settled. Mr. Chick was in Ottawa for the greater part of last week attending the sitting of the board of conciliation.

Now that the disagreement between the unions, which formed the biggest obstacle in the way of a peaceful settlement, has been overcome, a favorable decision in the near future is looked for by the employees of the company. If an agreement is not reached on May 3, the matter will again be taken up by the board.

Over 500 employees of the Grand Trunk in this city will be affected by any increase in salaries. Although the schedule drawn up could not be announced, it is generally believed that the increases will be substantial.

REV. J. A. AGNEW PREACHES IN FIRST METH. CHURCH

Uplift of Christians Will Solve Problems of the Times, He States.

In the absence of Rev. R. G. Peever from the First Methodist Church on Sunday through illness, Rev. J. A. Agnew preached an interesting sermon. In the course of his address he said that the uplifting of Christians would do more to solve the great problems of the times than any other power. "A life that is touched with God is one that impresses the world most. The world is the parish of the spiritual, and through those that are in this parish the gospel should be carried to the most remote corners.

Rev. Mr. Agnew illustrated the lives of the apostles, Peter and Paul. He said that a few people of the character of these two apostles are as strong as ten thousand men, because they were filled with the Holy Ghost.

ROTARY CLUB MEMBERS SPEAK AT LUNCHEON

A. E. Silverwood Speaks on Conditions in Old Country.

Reports on the Battle Creek Rotary convention by President James Gray, Ray Lawson and R. K. MacIntosh, and interesting descriptions of conditions in England by A. E. Silverwood, were features of the addresses at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Tecumseh House at noon today.

Returning from England, Mr. Silverwood met Tom Moore, who had been studying labor and social conditions overseas. "It would be better for the industrial conditions of our country if we had more men like Tom Moore," said Mr. Silverwood.

Lloyd George still holds a high place in the esteem of the British people, and his influence will still continue, although his government may be defeated, is the opinion of Mr. Silverwood.

Bad Eggs.

Canadian products are in good favor in England. In the egg trade, for instance, American eggs are in bad favor because many shipments have been received in poor condition from the United States as a result of careless packing.

Opponents of prohibition are still in the majority, but the restriction of drinking hours has removed a lot of the evils of intemperance. Mr. Silverwood attended in Liverpool the Grand National horse races, where 200,000 people crowded to witness the races, in spite of a steady downpour of rain. It was utterly impossible to secure hotel reservations in Liverpool, so great was the number of visitors. The cheerful way in which the English endured the inclement weather and bet their money indicated that the English sportsmanship and spirit is still very much alive.

FISHER'S GLEN FOR "Y" CAMP

Picturesque Spot Is Officially Decided On For Summer Outing.

Fishers' Glen, a picturesque little resort on Lake Erie, two miles from the historical little village of Normandale, where the first stoves made in Canada were assembled, and due south of Simcoe, will be the site of the district Y. M. C. A. summer camp, according to an announcement made this morning by F. Poole, district secretary of the association. The camp is to be held from July 5 to 17.

Mr. Poole, who has just returned from an inspection of the grounds, described Fishers' Glen as one of the beauty spots of Western Ontario. Near the site of the camp will be a beautiful grove of maple trees, which will afford a splendid place for nature study. The beauty of the spot, however, does not exist only in the pleasing scenery, because a famous trout stream abounding in speckled beauties, waiting to make lightning darts at the bright-colored flies, flows nearby. The great bass grounds of Lake Erie are within easy reach of the camp.

The regular Canadian Standard Efficiency Tests summer program will be carried out in the camp. The program of activities will be directly under the supervision of Mr. Poole. W. H. Pierce, secretary of the Woodstock "Y," will be in charge of the camp, and J. V. Coleman of the staff of the local "Y" will be the business manager.

It is expected that 125 boys between the ages of 12 to 17 years will be present. The camp will be formed by boys from the associations in Stratford, Woodstock, St. Thomas and London, and possibly several from the branches recently formed in the smaller towns throughout the district.

There are no amusement attractions in Fishers' Glen such as one finds in the larger resorts which will distract the minds of the boys from the purpose and activities of the camp. A fairly large pavilion is located there, which will be used as a dining hall. There are several summer cottages.

When the camp closes in all probability a training camp for "Y" boys 15 years and over will be held for one week.

The company which is staying here won. However, they have many other competitors to meet before it can remain in the officers' mess at Carling Heihgts. The game was staged on Saturday.

DOCTOR'S SON HAS LEG BADLY CUT

Kenneth Thompson Is Injured When Motor Cars Collide.

Kenneth Thomson, 15-year-old son of Dr. W. A. Thomson, 753 Richmond street, had his right leg badly cut at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, when the truck on which he was riding was struck by a truck owned by the McClary Manufacturing Company near the corner of Hill and Clarence streets.

He was being taken to St. Joseph's Hospital on one of the trucks when the police ambulance, which had been summoned, met him at the corner of Dundas and Waterloo strets. P. C. John W. Mackey, who was driving, had him transferred to the police car in order that he might get to the hospital sooner. An examination of his leg resulted in the discovery that no bones were broken.

Resolution Passed To Be Forwarded to Minister of Justice.

Cobalt, April 26.—A resolution asking the minister of justice to release the Winnipeg strike leaders now in jail was adopted at a public meeting held here last night, following an address by Ald. A. A. Heaps, of Winnipeg. In moving the adoption of the resolution, Angus MacDonald, M.P.P.-elect for Temiskaming, declared he knew of instances "in this free country" where men who had had "the temerity to vote for me on April 7, had been fired from their jobs and been forced to seek pastures new."

NOT EFFECTIVE

Manager Buchanan Comments on Use of Pulmotor.

That the pulmotor is not as effective as ordinary methods of artificial respiration in resuscitating accident victims was the opinion expressed today by General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the public utilities commission. Mr. Buchanan commented on a report regarding the pulmotor being called to revive Charles Draisey, who was smothered by a load of hay.

"Even if the pulmotor had reached the scene much sooner, I doubt whether it would have been of much use," he said. "The whole hydro system has discontinued its use, and advised artificial respiration by the former simple methods."

LUDEC WAS FORCED TO LIVE ON MILK

Could Eat Nothing Solid for Months—Tanlac Again Proves Merit.

"Tanlac has done for me in just a few days what I have been trying for five years to get other medicines to do," said Eugene Ludec, 1351 Logan street, Montreal, Canada, an employee of the Columbus Rubber Company, Limited, Montreal.

"For the past five years I had been in a badly rundown, weakened condition. My appetite was very poor, and while I never dared to eat meat or any other solid food, but confined myself strictly to a milk diet, I suffered terribly from indigestion. After every meal I would bloat up with gas, my heart would palpitate dreadfully, and I had awful cramps in the pit of my stomach. I suffered nearly always with severe headaches, which at times was so bad I could scarcely see, my eyes pained me so bad. I was so extremely restless at night I do not believe I ever slept more than two hours any night. My complexion was pale and sallow, my tongue was always coated, and if I got the least bit hot I would break out all over with a rash.

"I had tried many different medicines, but nothing ever did me any good until I began taking Tanlac. It seemed to be made especially for my case, and I commenced to improve almost at once, and gained five pounds by the time I had finished the first bottle. I have only taken two bottles so far, but even now I can eat all the meat or anything else I want without having the least sign of gas, palpitation or cramps, and I have such a big appetite my meat and grocery bill has more than doubled. I sleep fine every night and have not had a headache since I started taking Tanlac. My complexion has cleared up to a good healthy color, my tongue is no longer coated, and I never have a sign of rash. In fact, I am enjoying perfect health. MOTHERS! NEVER NEGLECT WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but unfortunately this mistake often leads to the neglect of this dangerous child's disease.

Never neglect whooping cough, for it may be followed by some serious lung trouble.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble. It will clear the clogged-up air passage of the mucous and phlegm that has collected, and in this way bring on the "whoop" which brings the so-much-sought-for relief.

Mrs. Francis Burlingham, New Gate, B.C., writes: "This spring three of my children took the whooping cough, and they had it so bad I thought they would choke. I was getting pretty worried when my sister wrote me, telling me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I sent for some right away, and, believe me, I will never forget how it worked. I will always have it in my house."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's on the market. Get the genuine when you ask for it. It will pay in the end. Put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE DREAD PYORRHEA BEGINS WITH BLEEDING GUMS

Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this.

Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection.

Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection.

And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums; then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

N. AMERICAN INDIANS ARE JEWS' KINSMEN SAYS MORMON ELDER

Christ Preached To Redmen After Resurrection.

SMITH'S "REVELATION"

Plates of Additions To Inspired Scriptures Found Through Angel's Direction.

Mormonism, preached with a remarkable fervor and enthusiasm by Elder Nephi Jensen, held a crowded audience interested in the Knights of Pythias Hall, 380 Richmond street, on Sunday evening, for several hours. Four other missionaries led the song service and distributed Mormon literature at the close of the meeting.

The doctrine of celestial marriages, the "soul-mate" theory of the Mormon Church, was one of the points explained in Elder Jensen's sermon. There was no "till death do us part" in the Mormon marriage ceremony. Mormon marriages were "sealed" for time and eternity, and such unbreakable marriage ceremonies would be performed in the new million-dollar Mormon temple at Cardston, Alta.

Have you ever noticed how similar are the features of Jews and North American Indians? May be you have not, but according to Elder Jensen and Mormon ethnology, the Jews and the American Indians are close kinsmen, and Jesus Christ came to America and preached to the redmen during the 40 days between his resurrection and ascension.

The Book of Mormon.

The Book of Mormon was a history of the ancestors of the Chippewas and Oneidas of today, and in addition to the inspired Scriptures, the plates of which were buried and discovered in New York State in 1827 by Joseph Smith through a revelation from an angel. Half a million people believed in the inspiration of the Book of Mormon and were preaching it without money and without price in all parts of the world. It had been translated into fourteen languages.

This age was the Saturday night of the world's history. The second coming of Jesus was near at hand, and heaven was to be a tangible and real heaven on this earth for evermore. Elijah came back to earth in 1836, and conferred on the Mormon prophet authority to baptize for the dead. There was a second opportunity for those who die unsaved, this doctrine being based on the Scriptural passage which refers to Jesus ministering to "spirits in prison."

The promise that the dead would be raised by faith had been fulfilled within the past twenty years, Elder Jensen declared. The resurrectionist doctrine, which denied the inherent immortality of the spirit, and holds that the dead knew nothing until they were resurrected by God, was contested. Mormonism believing in the survival of the soul after death.

Mrs. E. Bainbridge, 30 Maple avenue, Amherst, N. S., writes: "I take pleasure in writing you of the good I received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for headaches. I was so bad I had to go to bed, and could not sit up. A friend told me about your wonderful medicine, and two vials have made me as well as I can be."

RUPTURE KILLS 7,000 ANNUALLY

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore, cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached.

Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO., Block 413, St. Louis, Mo., for FREE trial Plapao and the information necessary.

TOWN PLANNING NOT CHECK ON NATURAL GROWTH OF CITIES

Expert Explains the General Aspects of the Idea.

PLAN OUTSKIRTS FIRST

And Thus Avoid Greater Expense After Districts Are Built Up.

The general aspects of town planning were explained by Alfred V. Hall, landscape architect, Toronto, to members of London's town-planning commission, several aldermen and representatives of the county council at a meeting in the city hall Saturday night.

Mr. Hall said that town planning was not chiefly concerned with determining the architecture of public buildings, but was something to provide for the needs and growth of the city. It was merely an orderly plan, prepared with foresight, by means of which the city would grow along the lines of least resistance. It implied nothing to check natural growth.

Outlying districts should receive first attention, as much money could be saved by proper planning before these districts were built up. Some of the chief divisions of the work were provision for lines of communications; sanitary and storm drainage; parks and open spaces; building restrictions or zoning; internal transportation, and public and semi-public buildings.

Under lines of communication were grouped arterial roads and steam and electrical lines. Air lines might later be included for which air harbors would have to be provided. In the matter of roads the country and city must link up and provide easy means of communication. Efforts could be made to provide that firms using the railroads could be established near them, while residences would be kept away from the localities as they were not suitable for residential purposes.

Under drainage provision would be made for draining the city along natural courses. New sections would be annexed to the city by watersheds rather than by streets. Areas could be acquired and used as parks, and later they would form the route taken by the drainage system.

Would Save Expense.

The city would be saved the expense of buying high-priced land for this purpose.

Parks areas should be carefully considered, Mr. Hall said. It should be possible for every citizen to reach one of these breathing spaces within a few minutes, and the whole system should be linked up by boulevards.

Zoning, he defined as merely an enlargement of the power of building restriction already exercised by the council. By means of it industrial areas would be confined to the part most suitable for them while residential districts would be kept free of factories and other similar buildings. In some cases the height of buildings might also have to be limited, although this problem was not confronting Canadian municipalities to any extent.

Internal transportation would include careful planning of streets. Thoroughfares connecting with the surrounding country would have to be of sufficient width to accommodate the traffic and other main streets would also have to be carefully planned, according to their traffic. He pointed out that Bloor street in Toronto had suddenly become inadequate for the traffic because the new viaduct had diverted many vehicles to that thoroughfare. Town planning would make provision for cases of this kind.

The best way to commence town planning was to make a start. He suggested that the London commission commence with the arterial highways. Work done with these would attract the attention of the citizens and give them a chance to learn the benefits of town planning. It would insure their support in carrying out other measures. He advised against drawing up an elaborate "master plan." A good general idea of what was required was sufficient, he thought.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR YPRES HEROES HELD IN ST. PAUL'S

Dean Tucker Eulogizes the Mothers Who Sacrificed Their Sons.

"Canadians owe a great debt to Canadian mothers who sacrificed their sons in the great conflict," stated Rev. Dean Tucker in the course of his sermon in St. Paul's Cathedral Sunday afternoon to the comrades and relatives of the soldiers who fell at the battle of Ypres. The service was in commemoration of the second anniversary of the great battle.

"It is up to the Canadian people to care for the widows and orphans, because their relatives died fighting for the right of humanity," said Dean Tucker.

In recalling the great battles in which Canadians took the major part, he said that he believed that the Passchendaele battle was one that would go down in Canadian history as one of the greatest battles ever fought.

The battle of St. Julien, where the Canadians experienced their first gas attack, was a battle in which the Canadians showed what they were made of. Against great odds they fought and eventually drove the foe from a position which the Germans thought to be impregnable.

The Vimy Ridge conquest also came under Dean Tucker's outline of Canadians' hard-fought but victorious battles.

"The war will serve to inspire literature for the world for centuries to come," concluded Canon Tucker.

The members of the St. George's Society also attended the service. They fell in with the veterans on parade as they passed Clarence street. The veterans at the close of the sermon placed wreaths on the pulpit. Sergt. W. Nanfan sounded the last post.

WEEKLY HIGH COURT

In the weekly high court at the courthouse before Mr. Justice Kelly, on Saturday, a motion was made for the construction of a will in the case of the A. C. Atwood estate, to determine the effect in several codicils of the testator's intention regarding time of conveyance of certain lands in Lobo Township; whether certain legacies are to be paid by the trustees now or later, and also as to whether the trustees should pay from time to time the interest accruing on certain mortgages. J. B. McKillop appeared for the motion, and F. P. Betts, K. C., for the official guardian.

In the case of Sharlo against Jackson, a motion to continue an injunction to restrain the sale of mortgaged lands near St. Thomas, regarding which there are certain questions of title in dispute, was argued and reserved. W. R. Meredith appeared for the plaintiff, and C. St. Clair Leitch for the defendant.

In the case of Isaac Brown against George Hurdle, an application was made under the vendors and purchasers act to declare that a mortgage dated in 1866, of which no discharge is registered, had been paid, and forms no cloud to the vendor's title. The court directed that other parties who might possibly have a claim be served, the matter to stand in the meantime. E. W. G. Flock appeared for the plaintiff and M. C. Fitzgerald for the defendant.

LVII.—Mystery in a Pawn Tic ket.

"You—of all men, to pose as a saint," he repeated, glaring at Travis Lloyd. "Why, the world knows about your goings-on. That old affair that you think you keep so mighty secret——"

Travis Lloyd strode forward and made a move as though to strangle Tony. His face was livid.

"Liar!" he cried. "Don't dare to say another word.

"Dare to say another word," repeated Tony. "For her sake"—he nodded towards me—"I will dare anything. Your attentions to this young girl are an insult, for you are not free. You can't deny it."

With a superhuman effort Travis Lloyd caught Tony by the collar, flung him around and sent him spinning through the open doorway. Tony shot across the landing and went skidding helplessly downstairs.

What happened afterwards seems like a vague, ugly dream. I remember Mr. Travis Lloyd getting me a taxi and escorting me to the railway station. He was kindness itself, though visibly perturbed.

"Try to forget the distressing incidents of this afternoon," he kept assuring me. "Think no more about them, and be happy. That young scoundrel of a Tony Lascelles will trouble you no longer. I have put a stop to that."

The air of complacency with which he made that last triumphant statement quite amused me, though not for worlds would I have let him see it. And then my thoughts turned to the accusation that Tony had brought against this man. Mr. Lloyd's "past"—the mysterious "woman in the case" again.

It was all very odd, and quite unfathomable.

As though he had read my thoughts, Mr. Travis Lloyd flushed uncomfortably. We had reached the railway station now. My train was not due for an hour.

"If you don't mind waiting by yourself, I think I'll go," said my escort. "I have a dinner engagement in half an hour." He hesitated for a moment. "I ought to explain that, knowing you were in town today, I took the liberty of calling on Mrs. St. Aubyns, and she told me I should probably find you at your flat. I am glad now that I did go."

"You have been very kind to me." I shook his hand.

Left alone, I remembered the piece of pasteboard that had fallen from Tony's pocket. I drew it from my hand bag and examined it. It was a pawnbroker's ticket, worth seventy dollars—and by this ticket he had pledged the diamond bracelet that had caused the misery between myself and Jim.

I examined the pawn ticket with an attentive eye. Seventy dollars! And the diamond bracelet had cost twenty times that sum!

Alice had intrusted the bracelet to Tony ostensibly "to be mended."

This, then, was the "mending."

The doings of Alice and Tony were unfathomable to my mind.

Suppose, with Alice's consent, he had pawned the bracelet. Why, seventy dollars was not a sum that would count for much in Alice's extravagant career.

It seemed more likely that Alice's original explanation had been true—that she had wished the diamond watch to be repaired, and to that end had given it into Tony's keeping.

Tony—in temporary need of ready cash—could not resist the temptation of pawning Alice's property, while doubtless assuring her that the "mending" process was in action.

Oh, well, his duplicity was no new thing to me. It could be no new thing to Alice, either. And yet she deliberately chose to ignore it.

The only explanation was that—In her shallow little heart—she had some real feeling for Tony. Incredible as that may sound, it must be true. There are lots of women in the world like Alice—idle, shallow women—whose "hearts" consist of small compartments with the "to let" notice hanging out, and perpetually desiring new tenants.

Alice's husband was such a dear, too. His luck had certainly been out, in marrying feather-headed Alice. Not that he thought so. No, indeed! In some miraculous way she seemed to keep his full affection.

Of course, there must be lots of times when he was bitterly disappointed in his young wife. He wasn't quite a fool, to be eternally hoodwinked. But Alice, full of wiles and babyishness, could almost always wheedle him back into excellent humor with herself.

As I stood in the railway terminus, the pawn ticket in my hand, a sudden desire came over me to get possession of the diamond bracelet that had caused such endless trouble. Personally I didn't care for jewelry. And this particular bauble I had every reason for hating. But—should I redeem it—I might clear up the mystery concerning it. And, anyhow, actual possession would give me power.

My train did not leave the station for another hour. What harm would there be in taking a taxi to the address upon the pawn ticket, and investigating for myself?

Tomorrow—A Weapon of Diamonds.

Master Belts of Industry

Goodyear has solved the problem of belting the great main drives of industry—the backbone of production.

Experience, in a thousand Canadian plants, says Goodyear Extra Power Belts.

Because these belts are strong—with the strength of properly selected fabric, every thread perfect.

Yet flexible, hugging pulleys, taking advantage of every inch of pulley surface. Flexible because in Goodyear Extra Power Belting high-grade rubber is forced through and through the fabric in generous quantities. Every strand is cushioned in it. No stitching to stiffen or weaken the belt. No separation of plies.

Its friction surface grips, even through dampness or dust. No slipping with Extra Power. No need for extra tight belts, pulling pulleys out of line. No need for belt dressing. No lost power.

The testimony for Goodyear Extra Power on main drives is very complete. For instance:—

The Norfolk Milling Company, of Simcoe, writing about their main drive belt, purchased a year ago, say:—

"Has been in continuous operation for one year, and has not stretched nor given us the slightest bit of trouble."

There are many others—some selected at random are:—

Dominion Sugar Company, Ltd., Chatham, Ont.

END OF SESSION IN LEGISLATURE DRAWS NEARER

Dropping of the Contentious Clauses Will Shorten Up Debates.

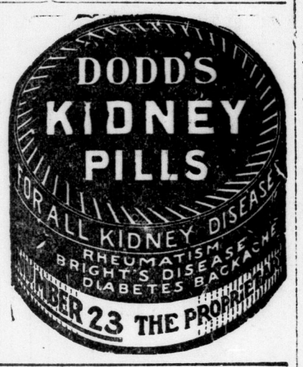

NEED THREE WEEKS YET

Drury Government Has Given Up Hope of Finishing in Fortnight.

TORONTO, April 25. — With the dropping by the Government of the chief clause of contention in the new election act, that of naming August 1, 1923, as the date on which the next provincial elections shall be held, and possibly sending proposed important changes in the workmen's compensation act over until the next session, the close of the present session draws appreciably nearer.

The Government has given up hope of finishing up the business in two more weeks, as had been anticipated a short time ago, and it will run at least another three weeks. The most contentious clause in the proposed changes in the compensation act is that relating to increasing the benefits from 55 to 75 per cent. This is so great a change that in view of the fact that the employers have not been given an opportunity to state their views on the matter, and the amount the province would have to pay under the new scale is so large, the decision on the question may be postponed until next year. In the meantime, some minor changes may be made in the act.

The vote on the McCreary resolution asking for a referendum on the liquor importation question, will probably be taken on Tuesday. The budget debate may use up a good deal of time this week, but it is possible that it may peter out suddenly.

FORMER LEADER OF ONTARIO LIBERALS DIES AT EDMONTON

HON. A. G. MacKAY.

Hon. A. G. Mackay Is Dead at Edmonton After Brief Illness

Former Ontario Liberal Leader Succumbs—Burial At Owen Sound.

EDMONTON, April 25.—Hon. A. G. Mackay, M.A., K.C., M.L.A., minister of health and of municipal affairs in the Alberta Government, died this morning at 4:30 o'clock after an illness of less than two weeks. Heart-failure following an attack of pneumonia, was the cause. The body will be taken east for interment at Owen Sound, Ont.

The Hon. Mr. Mackay came to Edmonton in 1912 from Ontario, where he was for a time leader of the Liberal Opposition in the Provincial Legislature. He was soon recognized as one of the ablest criminal lawyers in Alberta.

He was elected a member of the legislature for Athabasca in 1913 and entered the Government in 1918 as minister of municipal affairs, to which was later added the department of health. His administration of these departments won him high commendation from political opponents as well as friends, and the progressive health legislation of the last two years will remain as a monument to his administration.

The act will repeal and supersede the commercial feeding stuffs act of 1909.

Eight Found Dead on Farm; Victims of Mystery Tragedy

Turtle Lake, North Dakota, April 25. —Eight persons were found dead yesterday at the farm home of Jacob Wolf, three miles north of here, the victims of a mysterious tragedy. The dead are: Jacob Wolf and his wife, five little daughters, and Jake Hofer, 13, who was employed on the farm. Only one member of the family escaped, Emma, 8 months old.

At the inquest begun this morning, it was brought out that Wolf and one of the children had been shot, the others killed with a hatchet.

PALESTINE WILL GET BETTER GOVERNMENT

British Delegates Promise an Improvement in Administration.

London, April 24.—Assurances have been given Zionist representatives by British delegates here that the military administration of Palestine, which has been far from satisfactory to the Jews, will be changed to a sympathetic civil rule. Zionists are represented in San Remo by Benjamin Cohen, Chicago, Ill., who came from Palestine with Dr. Chayim Weehman, president of the world Zionist commission there.

"Zionism as a political movement has ended," said Mr. Cohen today, "with the creaton of a national Jewish home. Its work now is the development of Palestine and the taking there of Jewish immigrants from Eastern Europe. This development will be largely agricultural."

Palestine now has a population of 700,000. In the time of David it had 2,000,000.

CHURCH PAYS TRIBUTE TO EX-GERMAN RULER

German Protestant Synod Gives Vote of Thanks To Wilhelm.

Berlin, April 26.—A vote of thanks to former Emperor William, as last temporal head of the Protestant State Church, was given at the closing session of the annual general synod. The synod also paid a tribute to the former monarch and his consort for having "in many ways testified to their practical Christian spirit by works of love toward their brethren."

The synod passed a resolution to the effect that the future path of the church lay in the direction of a state free church embracing all the German peoples. It added that while the church would welcome within its fold adherents of all political parties, it would itself avoid all politics.

Angel Flores, according to Capt. N. K. Jacobson of the Gulf mail steamer Nehalmen, from Torreon to San Francisco, which arrived here today.

SEE CANADA'S TOTAL NEAR NINE MILLION PEOPLE THIS YEAR

Ottawa, April 25.—Officials of the board of census and statistics, while reluctant to make any estimates of Canada's population, are inclined to believe there are eight and three-quarter million people in the country at the present time. They admit, however, that this is merely a calculation, and that the figure may prove to be higher.

When the census of the three prairie provinces was taken in 1916, census officials looked for an increase in five years of only 16 per cent, but the increase proved to be 26 per cent. It is pointed out that abnormal conditions in Canada of late years have tended to make population estimates more difficult than usual.

BOYCOTT BRINGS DOWN PRICE OF POTATOES

BRITAIN'S RAPID RECOVERY.

One of the most significant of after-war developments is the rapidity with which Great Britain is regaining her position as the financial leader of the world. Cocksure comment from Wall Street that the financial centre of the world would be there in future was all along discounted by the really big men in American finance, and with the announcement that next fall London will retire the half billion Anglo-French loan, there has been driven home to the United States, as to the whole world, the realization that already Britain has "turned the corner."

In the minds of those who understood British character there could never have been any real doubt as to the ability of a nation which weathered such storms of war as came between 1914 and 1918, to weather any tempest that peace time might bring. What is remarkable, however, is the rapidity with which the process of recovery has advanced. It is not being done without great effort, one may be sure. The fiscal year just closed saw a deficit, a big deficit at that, but it is already provided for. Economies did not cease with the pressure of war. The British people still know what it is to be under war measures though fighting ended a year and a half ago. This year will see the national debt reduced, not greatly reduced perhaps, but indicating, nevertheless the direction of British policy.

Figures which have been issued show that Great Britain had a foreign trade last year that was the greatest in money value in her history, though, on account of higher prices, the volume of production was much less. The upward trend is maintained by the figures for the early part of this year. The British foreign trade in January of this year totalled 1.200 million dollars, just four millions less than the trade of the United States for the same month. As might be expected a large amount of the British trade has to be on credit, and British purchases are also largely on credit, owing to shortage of gold. A factor, however, that will soon begin to turn the scale in her favor is found in the so-called "invisible items," ocean freights, insurance and interest on investments abroad which will soon be pouring into London's strong boxes. The British still have the largest mercantile marine in the world, despite all their losses in the war, while those losses are being replaced rapidly. It must be remembered, too, that there is more than fifteen billions of dollars of British investments abroad paying dividends back into the common store and steadily strengthening British finance. Last of all it is important to note that the war taught the old land many lessons, among which were the need of standardization, scientific management and the elimination of waste, and those lessons have been thoroughly learned. Of Britain's future there is not the slightest doubt. Even today she is dominant in the world's markets and her power in that regard is increasing every day.

THE TURKISH SETTLEMENT.

The Allied Supreme Council in session at San Remo announces that it has agreed on a settlement of the Turkish question, and that it is prepared if necessary to carry out the conditions of the treaty made with the Ottomans. Under the conditions of the pact the Turks remain in control of Constantinople, but Armenia, Georgia, Mesopotamia, Arabia, Palestine and Kurdistan have been taken from the Turk and declared to be independent states, although mandatory until such time as they are able to stand on their own feet. Marshal Foch, along with the British and Italian chiefs of staff, has mapped out a plan of campaign should Turkey offer resistance to the carrying out of the treaty. In Syria, Mesopotamia and at other points, strongly stationed strategically, are more than two hundred thousand allied troops, while powerful fleets have been gathered in the Bosphorus and the Black Sea. The Christian world will be disappointed that the Moslem retains a footing in Europe, but has fangs have been drawn there, and elsewhere it looks as if he had reached the end of his career of bloody misrule.

NAUSEATING.

Several communications have reached this office of late requesting assistance in securing contributions for English charitable organizations. In every instances the cause has been a worthy one, deserving of generous aid from Canadians. There is an exasperating feature of the appeals, however. With each request there is inclosed a letter from some nobleman —duke, lord or prince—to the effect that he personally will be greatly pleased with any Canadian who helps.

It is nauseating to think that this estimate of Canadians prevails so largely in the old land. Here and there throughout Canada no doubt are to be found snobs who thrill to this sort of thing, but our good friends across the sea should know by this time that the average Canadian is not attracted by the information that generosity will win him the gracious approval of the Duke of Blank. In the old world a high name may still be something to conjure with, but in this land in itself it is a poor magnet with which to pull dollars.

A NOTABLE NOVEL.

Vibrating with human nature is Archie P. McKishnie's new book, "A Man of Courage" that within its covers hides two such characters as Mark Twain's immortal Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn. The old, grey-haired mother, who sacrifices the greater part of life's pleasures for her family that she may give them the best in life and a place to call "home" is another wonderful character woven into his story, with Canadian farm life as a background. A three-cornered love affairs, intensely interesting and the spice of adventure in hunting buried treasure; young folks who believed in haunted houses and ghosts who wear hobnailed boots makes McKishnie's book one that will be sure to appeal to both young and old. The trials of its adult characters and the tricks and capers of the young provoke the reader to both laughter and tears.

CAPRICIOUS BUT LOVABLE.

April may be capricious and fickle, but we love her all the same. Scowling leaden skies, a downfall of rain, she whisks her tears away in a second and cheers our wavering spirits with a sunny irresistible smile. She coaxes all the tender buds to birth, and with delicate tracery on the trees she leaves a trail of tenderest greenery, and 'neath the witchery of her smile the delicate crocus lifts a dainty head, and shyly opens its heart to the mischievous spring breeze. At her bidding the violet wakens up, and robins sing their sweetest notes, trilling their happiness in wonderful bird sonatas, and what is more wonderful than Robin Redbreast singing in the rain? The grouch may scowl as he reaches for his umbrella, and mutter to himself as he searches for his raincoat and rubbers, Miss Youth with her silk stockings and Easter bonnet may scold and fume because her new Easter suit is ruined, but April, with your smiles and tears, your fickle fancies and your bewitching vagaries, we love you still.

FOR MILITARY TRAINING.

[Kansas City Star.]

America is not sunk to the level pacificism imagines. It demands for its soldiers, called to battle, the best protection for their lives and the most effective means for giving them quick and decisive victory. That protection and those means are in military training in time of peace, and nothing less will serve to avoid in the future the mistakes and sacrifices of the past.

THE JOY OF WORKING.

[Melbourne Argus.]

One man can study algebra, while another can dig a garden, and each can find happiness in his effort. Interchange the tasks, and each can find only misery in his work. But it is the crudest of all psychological blunders to say "work is a curse in itself; diminish work to the utmost and you will increase to the utmost the happiness of our race." Work is only a portion of a man's directed activity, and as such it is part of his happiness. Until man becomes a mollusc, or until the European becomes like the South Sea islander, work will always remain an integral part of his well-being.

DAYLIGHT SAVING IN NORTH SEA.

[London Daily News.]

The Essex farmer who waxed irate at "messing about with the clock," which he seems to think is solely for the benefit of Londoners, would no doubt be surprised to learn that the trawlers in the North Sea had daylight saving methods long before the late Mr. Willett introduced his scheme. As the season advances the fish go further north; the fishermen have to follow, and so, in order to give their "cutter" or "carrier," which brings the fish to London, and which leaves the fleet at noon every day, time to make the longer journey, they advance their clocks each day. The only sufferers are the fish.

A SELF-SUPPORTING EMPIRE.

[London Daily Telegraph.]

The globe is not growing as much wheat as its inhabitants demand for their daily bread; not as much cotton as they need for their clothes; not as much sugar as will provide their wonted comfort and energy. We take these three most conspicuous examples of scarcity. It is common to preach economy as a remedy, but when the necessaries of life are in question great economies, even if possible, must produce suffering and enfeeblement. The right prescription is increased production. It must begin, of course, at home, but no energy at home can save us unless the Empire overseas does its part.

CANADA AND THE KING.

[The Western Mail, Australia.]

His Royal Highness has but recently returned from a tour of Canada and the United States after a journey unique in the records of royal progresses. Both in the sister Dominion and in the great republic of the west all classes, all sorts and conditions of men united to do him honor. So much was to be counted upon in Canada, whose people are passionately proud of their part and lot in the Empire, of which the British throne is the link that binds its several parts. But who could have expected that in New York and Washington this descendant of King George III, of execrable memory should have been so tumultuously welcomed and feted to no end?

THE SPORT OF KINGS AND VAGABONDS.

[Westminster Gazette.]

It is rather disheartening to note that the opening of the flat-racing season has brought further complaints of the number of rogues and vagabonds who hang on to the skirts of the sport. The Jockey Club pleads that it does its best, and it is only reasonable when it pleads that a race course cannot be compared with other places of entertainment where rogues can be kept at a distance. None the less, all the efforts of the King—and of other sportstoday for the Grand National—and of other sportsmen in the best sense of the word will be unavailing if something is not done to defeat the hooligans, cheats and thieves who make a dishonest living at other people's expense.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE.

[London Daily Mail.]

Let it be remembered that in Germany today, despite the terms of the peace treaty, thirty factories are busy turning out aircraft of great power and new designs. These machines may be nominally intended for civil work, but they are capable of being quickly converted into bombing or fighting machines. If action is not taken here, and that quickly, the highly-trained technical staffs of our great aircraft manufacturing companies will have to be scattered, for the simple reason that funds will be wanting to pay them. They secured victory for our country in the air during the war. They are a priceless asset, and their continued existence is vital for national defence. We shall be left not only without new machines, but also without the capacity of producing new designs.

NATIONALIZED EGGS.

[St. Louis Globe Democrat.]

The Russian hens have joined the soviets. Their product has been nationalized. It will be a great satisfaction to them to know they are laying eggs for the Government and that they are expected to lay just so many each day regardless of the time of the year, with no time off for growing feathers. The Soviets care nothing for fine feathers. The hen which defies the Government by ceasing to lay the required number of eggs in order to equip herself with a new coating of fancy feathers will be subject to severe discipline. Perhaps work cards will be given the hens and credits for the eggs laid marked on them from day to day. While this may be hard on the hen the system is fine for eggs. Of course, no official egg could be a bad one, no matter what its age or present condition. Any unsoviated Russian who would dare to complain of a Government egg would find such a form of lese majeste a dangerous practice.

From Here and There

THE SOCIALIST SITUATION.

[By Mrs. George Pembleton, M. A., late Fellow of the Department of Political Economy, University of Toronto.]

The May Day processions, carnival of workingmen and women the world over, pass off, usually in a drab enough fashion in Canada. This year May Day promises something of the daring and the unusual, for Nikolai Lenin, in the presumptuousness which usually marks his actions, has asked all workers to stop work on that day in demonstration of their solidarity.

Demonstrations by working classes on the first day of May are a long-established custom. For more than thirty years in Spain the more conservative citizens and the foreign residents have early in the morning of May they first barricade their doors and stopped their windows with mattresses to protect themselves from stray flying bullets. So long ago the May Day riot was one of the yearly events of Spain, although usually little ddamage was done. In the evening doors and windows were again opened to the mellow evening sun. In France and Italy the Red flag has waved through the streets of populous factory towns and in the cities, while enthusiastic crowds listened to fiery speeches on the rights of the proletariat. Now and then a particularly enthusiastic town or city has declared a general strike, usually very badly arranged. The idea and practice of that revolutionary innovation has also passed its thirty summers.

Embarrasses Socialists.

In Great Britain and America May Day processions have for the most part passed off quietly enough. And the Lenin proclamation, receiving wide publicity, will this year be as disconcerting to many of the Socialistic workmen as was the decree lately issued by the council of the City of Rome to the revellers at the annual Roman carnival, the decree banning falsefaces. It is embarrassing.

As Labor Day has become identified with the trade union, so May Day has become associated with the Socialistic side of the labor movement. In several localities, including Montreal, the red flag has been banned. But if the Socialistic workmen were asked to appear, each under his own particular device, the confusion would be profound, for the last few years have seen complete disorder in the ranks of Socialism. Only now is the position beginning to clear a little.

The Canadian labor movement has never been directly connected with the International Socialist organization, although a delegate from the Trades and Labor Congress unofficially attended the Berne International Socialist conference in 1919. But the strong currents of sympathy affecting the action of classes similarly placed in different countries are not held by official ties. The insurgent labor movement in Western Canada today finds its counterpart in the Socialistic workingmen's agitations in Italy.

European Socialism.

To us as yet the names of the Second Internationale, Third Internationale or Fourth Internationale mean little. We have a vague idea that the Third Internationale is very advanced, very revolutionary, that one has heard of it only recently. When the braggadocio proclamation is issued by Lenin as head the Third Internationale, it becomes apparent that we are interested in the imbroglio of European Socialism.

And the proclamation comes at a time when efforts are being made in Great Britain and Europe to harness that strange chimera, Socialism, to use it as an organized and responsible force in world labor movements. Upon the success or failure of their attempt the future peace of Europe and America may to a large extent depend.

Socialists are now divided among themselves. The British Independent Labor Party and the majority of French Socialists stand faced by the Russian Bolsheviki, the German Spartacans and revolutionary Socialists generally; and, in the break between the two wings, the history of internatianal Socialism is involved.

Almost from the beginning the activity of Russian Socialists has been the evil star of the movement. In 1864 the first Internationale Socialist body was founded by Karl Marx. The first congress was in Geneva in 1866. Three years later Michael Bakunin, the Russian anarchist, entered the Internationale with his followers. Their entry put an end to the Marx organization. For sixteen years international Socialism had no official organization. In 1889 triennial meetings were revived.

A New Lease of Life.

In 1900 the International Socialist Bureau was established at Brussels and the Internationale took a new lease of life. The number of its adherents continually increased. Socialist theories became more popular. Primary among them was that of the solidarity of the working class throughout the world. In 1914 a meeting was to have been held in Vienna. Legien, German Socialist, was secretary of the Internationale. But war prevented the conference. Legien and the majority of German Socialists supported the kaiser. Once again the Internationale had practically ceased to exist.

During the war sporadic attempts were made to revive the Internationale. A conference was called at Stockholm in 1917, but the attempt was ill-starred, for the Allied Governments declined to grant passports, and the conference was postponed. Then in 1919 came the Berne conference. It was held at the same time, and in the same city as an international trade conference called to consider some international basis for labor legislation.

The Berne Conference.

The German Socialist conference is of particular interest, as it marks the great divide between constitutional and evolutionary Socialists, the two main wings of the movement. Ninety-four delegates were present. Among them were representatives from the Allied countries, from Germany and Austria and the constitutional Socialists of Russia. But the Russian Bolsheviki declined to recognize the conference. They formed their own international Socialist organization, with headquarters at Moscow. They called it the Third Internationale and Lenin was made head of it. Since then the old Internationale has been known as the Second Internationale.

The Third Internationale.

Naturally, the Third Internationale has formed the rallying point of revolutionary Socialism. Since its inception a large section of the Italian Socialists have affiliated with it, as have advanced Socialist groups in Great Britain, the United States, Denmark, Bulgaria, Serbia and Rumania, and, of course, the German Spartacans. The moderating force in Socialist workingmen's movements is to be found in Great Britain and France. The Independent Socialists in Germany, too have not joined the Third Internationale. For a time the attitude of French Socialists was uncertain. The Strassbourg Congress, recently ended, has made it clear. The fight was extremely bitter. One day the extremists carried their point—affiliation with the Moscow Socialists was voted. Before the end of the congress, however, their vote was overthrown on a technicality. By a vote of 3,000 to 1,600 it was decided to take steps to creat a new international organization of Socialists.

A Bitter Conflict.

An even more bitter conflict followed at the subsequent congress at Glasgow of the British Independent Labor Party, which must not be confounded with the main labor party of Great Britain. At the Glasgow conference a resolution in favor of forming a new Internationale was carried by 472 to 206. But those 206 delegates, supporters of the Moscow Socialists, were a stubborn and uncompromising group. Their defeat was the final step in establishing the advanced wing of the labor movement in Western Europe along constitutional, as opposed to revolutionary lines.

The new Socialist Internationale is to be called the Fourth Internationale, and will meet in Geneva. It is to be composed by linking together all the Socialists of the old Internationale who are really Socialists, those who have left the Second without joining the Third, and the Socialists of the Third who recognize the necessity of one big "all-inclusive Internationale with a definite Socialist objective."

In view of a resolution recently adopted at a conference of the British Socialist party, advocating the establishment of soviets; in view of the threats of open revolution by some of the French Socialist leaders; in view of the riots spreading through the industrial sections of Italy where the workers are insisting on soviet rule in industry—the creation of a Fourth Internationale to work along consitutional rather than revolutionary lines, is a factor of the greatest importance.

WHITE MAN

BY GEORGE AGNEW CHAMBERLAIN.

Andrea's heart, already low, sank a lot lower. Not once through the night had she closed her eyes, and she knew now that she had been hoping and praying that the first gleam of morning would find Trevor, the avenger, on the bank. She could not know as did MacCloster that an impassable forest of unbroken thorn stretched for miles between the two camps. There was just one open road to MacCloster's—the river—and on that no other boat could equal the speed of his own.

"Say," said MacCloster, moved by a sudden thought, "is there anyone that would give a lot of money for you"

Andrea's brows drew together in honest valuation of what was left of her old self. "I don't know," she said meekly. "Perhaps not now."

"What would he give for you?" MacCloster asked, jerking his beard over his shoulder.

"He said he wouldn't give three pounds," answered Andrea in a still, small voice. She began to cry.

MacCloster's eyes grew round with fright. "Oh, come now," he protested. "Here's you've been hours without even thinking of that damned old trick. Stop it!" he roared suddenly. "Stop it or I'll smash your head in."

"I wish you would," sobbed Andrea and cried harder than ever.

MacCloster rolled his eyes heavenward as though he implored aid. "Listen," he said, talking into the sky. "Listen and I'll tell you what I'll do. Are you listening?"

"Yes," gasped Andrea.

"Well," said MacCloster. "You've been a lot of trouble to me and a big loss. You can't expect a dry man to forget a whole case of schnapps. Now I'm going to let you write him a note and if you can get him to give three cases of gin for you, why he can have you, damn him."

Andrea stopped crying, sat up straight and dabbed her eyes with her very dirty fingers, but there was a strange, set look in her face that made MacCloster doubt her sudden cure.

"Will you do it?" he asked.

"Never," said Andrea.

"You're queer like all of them," he commented musingly. "Put somehow the suggestion stopped you crying."

"What on earth is that?" asked Andrea, her eyes fixed far ahead on an enormous pale-yellow dome that looked as if all the haystacks in the world had been gathered into one.

"That," said MacCloster, his vast chest swelling in equally immeasurable pride, "is my caia, my hut."

"I think there is something the matter with my eyes," said Andrea. "What I see isn't possible."

"Oh, yes, it is," said MacCloster. "That's my hut; eighty feet high, one hundred and twenty feet across, and 'most a hundred yard's dash around."

"But how did you build it?" asked Andrea, absorbed in spite of her misery.

"Well," replied MacCloster, "I'm modest. I don't mind admitting that God did the building; I just came along and put on the roof. Trevor ever show you any mafuta trees?"

"Yes, they are wonderful," said Andrea, understanding beginning to dawn in her eyes.

"That hut of mine," said MacCloster, "is nothing but the biggest, roundest, widest mafuta tree in the world, trimmed a bit and thatched over."

Half an hour later they made a landing. "Want me to carry you again," asked MacCloster with a leer, "or will you walk?"

"I'll walk," said Andrea, going suddenly white with sickening recollection.

CHAPTER XXI.

MacCloster's craal was a masterpiece of ingenuity. In its centre rose the stupendous caia that had astonished Andrea even from a mile away. Around the monster hut was an impassable boma or barrier of thorns pierced by a single entrance; outside the boma, in the form of a ring, came an enormous beaten court which embraced a large shade tree, indispensable as a nucleus for pow-wows and men's gossip. Around the beaten circle were three thickly serrated rows of huts and their dependent outhouses. Inclosing the entire human beehive was a stockade of giant cactus with an arched entrance at each point of the compass.

Aside from the repulsive fundamental idea of the enterprise, MacCloster's establishment was astonishingly moral. It was true that he had contracted for over a hundred and eighty wives in strict accordance with native law, but it was equally true that he allotted this army of consorts, without exception, to veritable husbands of his own choosing. The only point of divergence from native custom was that he demanded no payment of ohole from these drones, and as a consequence retained the right of disposal of their female offspring.

This innovation would have struck at the root of the African's conception of vested interests had it not been for the giant singer's canny astuteness in facilitating to the drones the purchase of one wife each in their own right, thus killing two birds with one stone; for the native male normally works but once in his life, and that to earn the sum with which to acquire the mate who will not only thenceforth support him but eventually bring him a return of two or three fold on his investment.

As a consequence, MacCloster never lacked boat boys, machilla carriers, ivory hunters or porters, and controlled as well an army of women and girls whose spare time was applied first to the preparation of food and wood and water fetching, and then to the cultivation of the enormous shambas which produced corn and millet in great abundance for the lucky members of the close corporation.

That there was a subtle poison at work somewhere in this social cosmography was evidenced by the fact that while there was always a long waiting list of recruits for the establishment, there was also a tendency on the part of many natives to face starvation rather than accept the questionable intrusion of the white man into the intimate structure of their family life. It was further evidenced by an abnormal apathy which seemed to possess MacCloster's people in direct proportion to their increasing well-fed and lazy sleekness.

This, however, was a phenomenon that did not trouble him so long as there was a constant demand in excess of the supply of marriageable girls; on the contrary, while it puzzled him, he welcomed it as making toward the easy enforcement of a strict discipline. In all matters that affected the internal life of the strange camp, he was sole arbiter beyond any cavilling and a martinet.

Andrea could have taken a reasonably calm interest in all the details that crowded to her attention during her rapid progress into the heart of MacCloster's stronghold had it not been for an incident that revivified all her fear and repugnance toward the man, and which occurred as they entered the ring court. MacCloster, striding ahead of her, suddenly paused and his horrible face apparently achieved the impossible by undergoing a debasing transformation.

His eyes had fallen on a group of carriers, newly arrived, and the crew of his freight boat. The negroes were squatting in a circle on guard, waiting to make delivery to their master of various cases. Some of them evidently contained cloth, cutlery and knicknacks, dear to the native heart, but one, at least, brazenly proclaimed in deeply burnt stenciling its contents to be gin. It was on this small square box that MacCloster's eyes were riveted. He turned and spoke to Andrea in an olly tone that for some inexplicable reason froze her blood. It was as though he had suddenly assumed a new and strange personality upon which her twelve hours of brave intercourse with him had had no occasion to establish its grip. He became a stranger within a stranger and hopelessly inaccessible.

"Come with me, my dear," was all he said.

DAY NURSERY WILL OPEN WEDNESDAY AT 284 KING STREET

Widows and Unmarried Mothers Given Preference.

25 CENTS A DAY

Committee Expects Support of Public in Way of Money and Food Donations.

As delightful a little day nursery as might be imagined will be opened on Wednesday morning next at 284 King street, where working mothers may bring their children and leave them in absolute peace of mind for the whole day. Although every last detail in the equipment is not yet completed, the demand for immediate opening has been so insistant that the day nursery committee, under the convenership of Mrs. J. M. Slater, has decided to open up on Wednesday to accommodate the anxiously waiting mothers. It is possible that a formal opening of the institution will be held later.

Miss Bodkin, the matron, who looks as if she could mother every one of the little residents, showed The Advertiser representative through the building on Saturday morning. There is a great airy playroom, in front, decorated in soft brown tones and filled with tiny brown tables and wee kindergarten chairs. Here the older children (and older means somewhere under six years of age, that is under kindergarten age) will be looked after by volunteer helpers who will organize their play somewhat along kindergarten lines. For the small babies there will be a fascinating sleeping porch screened off outside. Indeed when the weather is warmer it is expected that a great part of the playtime of all the children will be spent out-of-doors on the fine lawn, which surrounds the nursery, and a fence is contemplated to keep them off the street.

Dining-Room.

Directly back of the play room is the dining-room, also in soft brown tones, where a long low table and tiny chairs will accommodate the little guests at their meals. And still farther back the huge kitchen, in which will be prepared three nourishing meals a day.

Just outside in the hall is a roomy clothes closet, where the small garments of the children will be hung each day as they enter the nursery. For, to insure cleanliness and uniformity in dress, each little guest will be bathed and put into nursery clothing each morning.

One of the upstairs cupboards discloses shelves of fascinating little garments—small blue and white checked gingham rompers for the children from two to four years; grey gingham dresses for the girls from four to six, and little suits with knee trousers for the older boys. The tiny babies' dresses are of white flannelette, and there are quantities of underclothes.

Besides sleeping accommodation for the nursery staff, which consists of the matron, a cook and general maid, there is a large dormitory, where the children will be put to bed each day. This is filled with tiny white enamel cots and stretcher beds.

Rules of Nursery.

There are certain rules laid down, governing the admission of children into the nursery. In these, preference is given to widows and unmarried mothers who may bring their children every day in the week if they so desire. The woman whose husband is not able to support his family through illness or disability may leave their children at the nursery three days of the week. The man whose wife is ill is also given the privileges of the day nursery for his children. For the first child a charge of 25 cents a day is made with an extra charge of 10 cents for each additional child. The children entered must be free from infection with body clean and clean clothing. They will be served three times daily with nourishing food, and while in the nursery must be entirely under the supervision of the nursery staff. The day nursery will open at 7.30 in the morning, and admissions will be made until 9 o'clock. The nursery will close at 6 p.m.

Great expense has been entailed in getting the nursery started, which could never have been undertaken had it not been for the generosity of the Red Cross Association. They expect the support of the public for additional assistance in the way of donations of money and food.

PAYNE—SUTHERLAND.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the King Street Presbyterian manse, on Thursday, April 22, when Miss Myrtle Mae Sutherland, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sutherland of Komoka, became the bride of Mr. Frederic Payne, the Rev. W. R. McIntosh officiating. The bride wore a gown of brown silk with coat and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by Miss Evelyn White of Lucknow, as bridesmaid, while Mr. Gordon Sutherland, brother of the bride, supported the groom. After the marriage ceremony the bridal party left on the 7:20 train for the home of the bride's parents, Komoka, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Payne will reside in Komoka.

DORRANCE—KELLY.

A wedding of much interest to the friends of the bride was solemnized on Wednesday, when Dorothy Kelly, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kelly, Petrolea, became the bride of John Dorrance of Sault Ste. Marie, Rev. Father Campeau officiating. The bride, who was very charming in a navy blue suit with taffeta hat to match and corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses, was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Kelly, wearing navy suit with bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mr. Robert Dorrance, brother of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony a dainty buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, by two of her girl friends, Miss Geraldine Cameron and Miss Mae Harding of Sarnia. The happy couple left on the evening train for Detroit and other points. Mr. and Mrs. Dorrance will reside at Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs. James McDonough of Toronto and Mrs. James Kelly of Hamilton attended the wedding.

HARDING—HALL.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. Thomas Hall on Thursday afternoon, April 22, when his eldest sister, Lila M., was united in marriage to George M. Harding, son of Mr. William Harding of this city. Dean Tucker, rector of St. Paul's Cathedral, performed the ceremony. Promptly at 3 o'clock the bride entered the drawing-room on the arm of her brother to the strains of Mendelsshon's wedding march, played by Miss Edith Hodgins, cousin of the bride. The bride was charming in a gown of ivory georgette and crepe de chine, trimmed with pearls, with tulle veil, arranged as a coronet, bound by a band of orange blossoms, her only ornament being a rope of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of Sweetheart roses and sweet peas. The color scheme, pink and white, was artistically carried out in the different rooms with palms, pink and white roses and tulips.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Harding left for points east. The groom's gift to the bride was a Victrola and to the pianist a mossagate ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Harding were the recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts, among which were several substantial checks.

PRESERVING EGGS.

There are two standard ways of preserving eggs for home use, in lime water, or in water glass. Opinions vary as to which is preferable, and good results can certainly be obtained with either. Preserved eggs lose very little food value, and are a positive saving and boon to the housewife in these days when fresh eggs are so often too expensive, or not even to be had during certain seasons. It is therefore wise to put away a few dozen even for a small family, when eggs are at their best and cheapest.

Preserved eggs should not be used as soft-cooked or poached eggs, but are available for all other cooking purposes, fried or scrambled eggs, omelets, souffles and cakes.

Do not wash eggs that you wish to preserve, because washing destroys a gelatinous protection on the egg shell. Eggs will not keep more than a year at the most. If eggs sink in water or the preserving liquid, they are reasonably fresh.

Infertile, perfectly fresh, clean, but not washed, eggs, taken from the lay of the spring months, April, May, and June, are necessary for the best results.

Method in lime water: Place fresh eggs in a clean earthen crock or watertight barrel. Slake one pound of lime with enough water to make a milky solution and stir this milk of lime into five gallons of water. Stir it often for a couple of hours, then allow it to settle. Draw off the saturated liquid after the lime has thus settled, and pour it over the eggs. Keep the vessel covered either by pouring a cover of sweet oil over the surface, or by a piece of clean sacking, on which a paste of lime is spread. This quantity will cover twenty dozen eggs, at least.

Method in water glass: Mix a tin of water glass with two gallons of boiled, cooled water in a perfectly clean earthen crock. Stir until thoroughly mixed. This quantity is enough for ten dozen eggs. Drop fresh eggs, one by one, gently into the jar, rejecting any that do not sink, or are cracked or dirty. Allow the liquid to stand two inches above the eggs, and cover well.

Flower Fancies.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have certainly enjoyed the hints and interesting letters that are daily published in your valued column. Since others have received such valuable information I am taking this opportunity of asking a little advice. I am a lover of flowers, but many of my special seeds were destroyed by the wind last fall. Could you recommend to me some names of pretty flowers? I would be very grateful. Hoping to see this information in print soon.

HOMER A.

Ans.—Sweet peas are always lovely, and don't you adore pansies? Nasturtiums are sturdy flowers, easily grown, and how about shaggy asters, and crimson poppies?

Loves Wildflowers.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you tell me the address of Katherine? I would love to get some of the castor plants. I think they are so nice. My mother buys a washing compound to help her with her washing, and it is great. Plant lice can be removed from any flower or plant with plain soapsuds. If it has been sprinkled with the suds, sprinkle with water. hope not a bother. As I love the wildflowers, I'll sign myself, HEPATICA.

Ans.—I just love Hepaticas. Believe I'll set you right up top o' the Mail-Box, where I can see you all day long. Address forwarded.

Comes to Help.

I enjoy your page very much, and have received many helps from it, and now I am going to try and give some. I see Reader is asking about a song, so am sending the words. I haven't the music, but I hope his is the one she means, "There Is Music In the Air." Also saw where Another Reader had asked for the words of another old song I happen to have, "A Bird In a Gilded Cage," so am sending it, also a recipe for cookies that we think very good.

BROWN EYES.

Cookies.—One cup yellow sugar, one cup lard, one egg, half cup sweet milk, pinch salt and two teaspoons baking powder, any flavoring you prefer, and enough flour to make a dough stiff enough to handle. Have as soft as possible, and roll thin and bake in moderate oven. Care must be taken, as they burn easily.

Ans.—Thank you, Brown Eyes.

Couldn't Resist.

Dear Miss Grey,—Well, I could not resist the temptation of writing, and seeing that I could also help. Isn't this page great? I saw where Flowers and Foliage wanted "My Old Kentucky Home," so here it is. Then I have those words of "Take Me Back to Dear Old Childhood," also the music, but could only copy the words. Could any of the readers supply me with the words and music of "Red Wing" and "Rachael Burchell"? How is my writing, Miss Grey? Please take pity on me. Hope I haven't taken up too much room. Will close with 25 cents for fund.

ROLLY POLY TOMBOY.

Ans.—Please forward me the words of "Take Me Back ot Dear Old Childhood," as I conclude somebody called Rolly Poly Tomboy forgot to inclose them. Thanks for mite. Your writing is excellent.

Couldn't Keep Away.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have become so much interested in your Mail-Box that I could not keep away from your charming circle any longer.

Will you please forward this inclosed letter unto Mere Man?

I will not stay long this time, as I know you are terribly busy. Say, Miss Grey, I think you will soon need an assistant to help you. I wish you and the Mail-Box every success. Yours as LITTLE SISTER.

Ans. — Letter forwarded to Mere Man. Thanks for good wishes. Yes, I receive letters from your district.

Comes Once Again.

Dear Miss Grey,—I will come again after a long time. This weather makes one feel like getting out. I saw some time ago someone wanted to know how to color curtains ecru, so would say to get some yellow ochre, put it in the starch, and it is lovely, and they can be made any shade. Am sending self-addressed envelope for formula to destroy bedbugs, so if any are sent in please send them. I also inclose 10 cents for C. H. fund.

TIRZAH ANN.

Ans.—Will send you any formula received. Thanks for donation and good wishes, which I will pass on to the Pageites.

From Laurena.

I saw in the Mail-Box where somebody wanted to know how to make butter without using gelatine. This is the way I mix mine: Take half a pound of butter, soft, but not melted, and one cup of sweet milk (not too full); warm milk till about the temperature of new milk; put in a quart sealer, which has been scalded and then rinsed with cold water; add a level teaspoon of salt and a few drops of butter color; put on rubber and seal tight. Then shake hard until butter and milk are thoroughly mixed. The milk should all be mixed in. We are all satisfied with this method.

I would like very much to get the little girls apron pattern that somebody offered, also the Red Cross directions for knitting. I will inclose a stamped addressed envelope, also 10 cents for the sick children's hospital.

LAURENA.

Ans.—As soon as apron pattern is received I will forward it to you. Thank you.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

CLARICE.

While Clarice has its origin in the same root as Clare or Clara, its evolution progressed in a far different manner. The Latin adjective clarus, meaning bright or famous, is, of course, responsible for both names, but where Clare followed the English and French, Clarice is the product of Italy.

The old Latin feminine of words ending in "or" to signify the doer, was "ix"; in modern Italian this become "ice." Clarice, therefore, was the feminine name so evolved and meant "to make famous." It proved popular throughout Italy, its famous bearer probably being the wife of Lorenzo de Medici.

Though France already had a Claire, she adopted Clarice, giving a soft "ss" sound to the "c." This explains the Clarissa which sprang up in England and was given extraordinary vogue by Richardson in his novel where he made Clarissa his heroine. The popularity of this book in France, brought forth Clarisse. It is not the first instance of when one language adopts the change made upon one of its own words by another tongue.

Clarinda and Clairmond are two other fanciful interpretations of the original Clarice.

The diamond is Clarice's talismanic gem. It's potency is best expressed in the old rhyme:

"The Evil Eye shall have no power to harm,
Her that shall wear the diamond as a charm.
No monarch shall attempt to thwart her will,
And e'en the gods her wishes shall fulfill."

Friday is Clarice's lucky day, and 1 her lucky number.

THE STORY OF PATCHES.
Part Ten.
Silvo to the Rescue.

It was a very remorseful party of dogs that crouched in the bottom of the cage on the dog catcher's wagon. Poor little Fuzzy was crying dismally. Trembles was trembling at a terrible speed, old Tige was licking his chops and longing for teeth with which to chew the cage to pieces, and our friend, Patches, was too frightened to do much else, but just crouch there.

"I have heard the dogs that are caught by dog catchers are put in dark dungeons," whispered Fuzzy.

"St—sstopppp!" stuttered Trembles between shivers. "It is too horrible to even think of."

"And they don't feed dogs that are in dungeons," continued Fuzzy. Here Patches felt a pain come in his stomach, for he had not eaten for hours.

"And then after days of starving they poison them," Fuzzy went on. "And they put their dead bodies in burning—"

"Hush up!" cried old Tige." Such silly talk I never heard before. But old Tige had not silenced Fuzzy in time, for the dismal little dog had made the whole party unhappy.

Suddenly the wagon stopped. "The dungeon," announced Fuzzy; but this time he was fooled. The wagon had stopped in front of a cigar store, and the dog catcher had jumped down to get some tobacco. No sooner had he disappeared into the store, then a big bulky form appeared from under the wagon. It was Silvo, the police dog. He had hidden there, and had run along with the wagon unseen by everyone.

"Hush!" whispered Silvo. The police dog started right in to unfasten the lock. He was tall enough to stand on the ground and work with the lock with his teeth. One turn of the lock, and the door flew open. Out jumped the prisoners, first Fuzzy, next Trembles, then Patches, and last old Tige.

When the dog catcher came out of the store a minute later he found his wagon empty, and all he could see was a cloud of dust up the road. Patches and his party had made good their escape.

Tomorrow—Back to the Bears.

FALCONS CARRY MAPLE LEAF TO VICTORY OVER YANKS AND MEET SWEDES IN THE FINALS

2--0 Was Score of Hard-Fought Game—Canadians See the French Team in Humorous Light When Whiskered Players Appear On Ice—Swedes Beat French 4--0.

ANTWERP, April 25.—The Falcons of Winnipeg carried the Maple Leaf to victory for the second time in the Olympic hockey series by eliminating the United States seven in the semi-finals today by a score of two goals to nil. They will meet Sweden in the final contest tomorrow, and, by their exceptionally brilliant performances against Czecho-Slovakia and the United States, are strong favorites for the world's honors.

Today contest with the Americans, two of whom are Canadian-born—presented the most exciting battle of the series. Both teams were on their mettle, and at half-time neither had scored.

The Icelanders' star forward, Fredrickson, penetrated the American defence ten minutes after the resumption of play with one of his famous corkscrew rushes and shot past Bonney for the first counter of the game. This was a signal for a splendid ovation from the crowd of British Tommies and supporters who had attended the game to root their colonial representatives to victory.

Five minutes after Frederickson's one-man feat, Johanneson took the puck and tallied the second goal for the Westerners. From then on the Americans made several futile efforts to break through the stonewall defence of Benson and Johanneson, who proved infallible. Wally Byron gave a wonderful exhibition of goal-tending, and was responsible for turning off many likely-looking shots. Both the Canadian goals were the outcome of scrimmages and followed hard fighting.

Dispute Referee.

The beginning of the game was considerably delayed because of a dispute over the referee. Garon, a native Canadian, but an officer of the American Red Cross, who refereed the afternoon game, originally was selected to act as referee tonight. The Canadians agreed to accept him only on condition that he could be removed during the game if his work was considered unsatisfactory. Garon refused to serve under the conditions imposed by the Canadians and finally a Frenchmen, Deranch, was agreed upon as a compromise.

The teams lined up as follows:

Falcons—Goal, Byron; defence, Benson and Johanneson; rover, Woodman; forwards, Halferson, Fredericksen and Goodman.

United States—Goal, Bonney, Pittsburg; forwards, Drury, Pittsburg, (forgerald, Pittsburg; rover, Coheen, Pittsburg; forwards, Drury, Pittsburg;(formerly Midland, Ont.), Conroy, St. Paul and J. McCormack Pittsburg, formerly Buckingham, Que.)

The losers of today's game between the Falcons and the United States will not be eliminated entirely from the tournament, but will have a chance to compete for third honors.

By a score of 15 to nil, the Falcons easily disposed of the Czecho-Slovakia aggregation of puck chasers on Saturday and won the right to compete in the semi-finals.

French Team Funny.

The game in the semi-finals between Sweden and France was evenly matched and hard-fought. The Swedes won by 4 goals to 0. The Falcons were interested spectators and were much amused by the appearance on the French team of two individuals, the like of which they have never seen before, either in the Winnipeg arena or any other rink in Canadian hockey leagues. One of the French players trotted on the ice wearing a long black beard and the other was middle-aged and bald-headed.

They were both spry on their feet and displayed lots of "pep."

"JIMMY" WILDE

The British flyweight champion, who made his initial appearance in Canada when he defeated the Zulu Kid at Windsor, outclassing his American opponent in every one of the ten rounds, is booked for the G. A. C. carnival at Toronto, May 24. His offer to meet any man in the universe on that date, provided they make the 116 pounds at the ringside, has met with a challenge from "Dot" Cutch, manager of "Patsy" Wallace of Philadelphia. As Wallace has already shown his capacity to carry Wilde along at lightning pace, boxing fans are interested in the possibilities of a bout in Toronto. The above picture shows Wilde in his new Overland. His manager, Dave Hughes, who is a wealthy grain merchant, and controls a number of picture houses, it taking an Overland 4 coupe home with him to Wales.

ASTON VILLA WINS CUP FINAL FROM HUDDERSFIELD 1—0

Extra Time Had To Be Played —Over 50,000 People See Match.

London, April 24.—By the Canadian Associated Press.—Aston Villa today won the English football cup from Huddersfield at the grounds of the Chelsea club by a score of 1 to 0.

Extra time had to be played.

The winning score was made by Kirton. The attendance was put at 50,108 and receipts at £10,077.

Missed opportunities caused Huddersfield's downfall. Swann and Taylor, forwards of the Yorkshire team, were the culprits. The Huddersfield right wing was good, especially Richardson.

Aston Villa, playing with the sun behind them, were slightly superior in the first half, and Huddersfield's goal had two very narrow escapes. Bullock, a back, was once called upon to stop the ball right on the goal line, when Mutch, the goal tender, had been beaten. For Aston Villa, Wallace played well in the first half. The half-time whistle blew, with neither team having scored.

In the second half the play was even, fast and exciting. Huddersfield were weak in front of the goal, but managed to hold out, without a goal being scored to the end of the 90 minutes of play.

After playing eight minutes of extra time, Kirton headed through from a corner.

Hull won the Northern Union rugby football final from Huddersfield by 3 points to 2.

SAGINAW ACES LOSE SECOND GAME 11--1 TO REPUBLICS

Three of McKee's Pitchers Touched For 18 Hits and Aces Boot Three.

ALMA, April 25.—The Republics took the second game of the series from "Red" McKee's Saginaw Aces today, eighteen hits off three hurlers being mixed with Ace errors; three hit batsmen and three bases on balls for eleven runs, while the Saginawans could connect for just one off Hagerman.

Heavy hitting marked the work of the Republics, seven of sixteen blows going for extra bases.

FLINT LOVES SAGINAW.

FLINT, April 25.—The announcement that Rev. Father Patrick Dunigan, parish priest of St. Matthew's Church here, and one of the most prominent men in Flint, and, as a matter of fact, in the state of Michigan, is going to open the Mint League season of 1920 at Hamilton has flashed indeed a flaming light across the local ball horizon, and another five hundred pessimists are taking notice that Tom Halligan has an organized ball outfit ready and fit to lick anything that hears the brand of Saginaw this summer.

Halligan doesn't like Saginaw any more. He says that he will carry his lunch when his team plays there this season. "I regard the truth always. I don't like this humming and hawing and finally backing out of a contract, even though it was verbal, and I want to forget still I cannot," quoth the magnate to the writer today.

"Hump" Pierce down at the training camp at LaFayette is mightily peeved these times. He has a bunch of ball players on his hands, he says, that want to run wild. "Make anybody go wild," his letter goes on, "with the field covered with four feet of water." James had intended trying the Halligan outfit out on the LaFayette college aggregation Saturday and the independents on Sunday, but the weatherman interfered. "Hump" says that he hopes that "Wetz" will push in a word for him in his prayerful appeals at Delaware for better weather.

Like Beatty of Kitchener and Nelson of Brantford and with "Shag" at Hamilton thrown in, the Flint club will not do any experimenting with players this season. "Go from the wire" is the slogan.

Brantford Holmedale United and Paris Play 3-All Tie

Paris Had Score of 2 to 1 For First Period—Coubrough Breaks Leg.

BRANTFORD, April 25.—With a high wind aiding in marring the play and both teams showing lack of condition, the opening between Paris and Holmedale United on the latter's ground resulted in a draw, three all. The locals were bested in the first half, Paris holding the score 2 to 1 when the first whistle blew, but caught themselves up in the second half. An accident to Coubrough of the Holmedale team, who collided near the finish of the game with a clubmate, resulted in a broken leg for Coubrough. Though otherwise everything went smoothly and no rough play being in vogue. The teams were:

Holmedale—Royal, F. Gilbert, Coubrough, Andrews, Gilbert, Bonner, Jourdan, Hoyle, Patton, Scanlon.

Paris—Lewis, T. Parker, Bechy, Russel, Richards, Laycock, Griffiths, Straw, Pepperby, Spencer.

Referee—Harry Smith, Brantford.

Reds Drove Goodwin Out At Redlands—Giants Bunched Hits Off Cadore.

CHICAGO, April 25.—Pittsburg defeated Chicago 4 to 1 in a fifteen-inning pitching duel between Claude Hendrix and Babe Adams. The visitors won the game when Hendrix weakened and started the 15th inning by walking McKechnie, later allowing hits by Caton, Lee and Carey. Hendrix, who doubled in the third inning, and scored Chicago's lone run with the aid of a hit and a sacrifice, tossed the game into a tie in the ninth by letting Carey take two bases, when he threw his grounder wide to first. The game went into extra innings, when Whitted singled, scoring Carey.

Abdo of St. Thomas against the London and Port Stanley Railway, claiming $60 damages for two mirrors broken in transit from the McCracken Showcase Company to the plaintiff's store in St. Thomas. DETROIT, April 25.—Chicago won a 10-inning pitching duel between Ehmke and Williams today, 2 to 1. The contest went into the extra inning at a 0-0 tie. Singles by Liebold and Murphy, and Ainsmith's error after the bases were filled, gave the White Sox their runs. The Tigers' only run resulted from Heilman's double and Young's single, where the rally was cut off. It was Detroit's eighth consecutive defeat.

GUELPH, April 25.—At a meeting of the executive of the Guelph Football Association on Saturday, steps were taken to collect funds for the purpose of a trophy to be known as the Ontario Charity Cup. The idea is to have competition for the cup open to any football team in the province. The proceeds to be devoted to hospitals and for the benefit of injured players. If the plans of the executive are carried out it is expected to start the competition this summer.

Big Crowd Saw Linkerts Trounce Picked London Indoor Team, 33-0

Offering of Visitors' Pitchers Too Puzzling For Local Swatters—Taylor and Downs Protested and Batting Strength Suffers.

A big crowd saw the London indoor baseball team get an artistic trimming at the hands of the Linkerts of Hamilton at the armories here on Saturday night, 33 to 0, with only one London man reaching three-quarters of the distance to the first sack, about tells the story of the game, billed as a championship event, but turning into a speculative gamble as to how many runs could be scored in an ordinary nine-inning affair.

Up until the seventh inning, Mr. Cumming was the underhand person responsible for the procession. It was variously estimated that his up-shoot was anything from two to four feet. Everybody was unanimous on his speed. Griffin, who caught him, aided with one caught foul. The rest went out in one, two, three order via the strike-out route. Weston took on the duties in the seventh, and he threatened to be still more speedy and puzzling, but he hardly got warmed to it in the two innings he hurled. They claim they had a faster one still in reserve.

The Hamilton team protested A. T. Taylor and Hank Downs, which seemed hard at first, but as the game progressed seemed entirely unnecessary action on their part. Burt essayed the hurling duties after Ald. Dr. Wilson had pitched the first ball, and he got through nicely the first inning, striking out three of the first six that faced him. In the second inning it started. Seven counters were pushed across the plate in that frame. From that one it was more or less of a bat-fest. Dago Henry at short field pulled down several nice ones, and Dalley at centre pulled down a Texas leaguer that was billed for the east end. Wray took up the hurling duties after the second frame, and was touched up freely throughout, which, with ragged support, made the game drag out painfully. J. Jacobs umpired a good game.

It is possible that the London team will make a return game of it. It will be a nice trip, anyway.

The score by innings:

Hamilton	0	7	6	1	0	3	0	4	12	—33
London	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	— 0

Batteries—Cummings, Weston and Griffin; Burt, Wray and Dutton.

The lineup:

Hamilton—E. Smith, c.f.; R. Morris, l.f.; S. Holmes, 2 b.; J. Harrison, 1 b.; E. Howick, s.s.; E. Mellenby, 3 b.; H. Griffin, c.; J. Weston, p., r.f.; E. Cummings, p.

London—E. Burgess, 3 b.; Dutton, c.; Males, l.f.; Lane, 1 b.; Wray, p.; Dalley, s.s.; Blay, r.f.; Henry, 2 b.; Burt, p.; Wray, p.

MONTREAL A. A. AND TORONTO DIVIDE BOXING HONORS

Each Got Four New Champs Credited — McDoulton, of Classics A. C., New Heavyweight Champ.

Ottawa, April 25.—About 2,500 persons saw the final bouts for the Canadian amateur boxing championships held here on Saturday night. The boxing throughout was fast and furious and the program was a great success.

Four championships went to Toronto and four to Montreal, while Billy Du Bois, the Laurier Athletic Club boy, was the only Ottawa candidate to survive and qualify accordingly for Canadian Olympic finals which are to be held at a later date. Du Bois carried off the 115-pound Canadian championship.

Saturday's program was one of the finest that has been offered in the capital. It was replete with fast boxing as well as sensational fighting, and while the crowd was probably one of the most orderly that has ever graced the Canadian championship finals, it gave vent to enthusiasm at the close of each round and hundreds were frequently brought to their feet by spectacular mix-ups.

The new Canadian champions, as a result of the bouts conducted here Friday and Saturday evenings are as follows:

108 Pounds—George Blain, National Amateur Athletic Association, Montreal.

115 Pounds—Percy Du Bois, Laurier A. C., Ottawa.

125 Pounds—Walter Newton, Riverside Athletic Club, Toronto.

135 Pounds—Chris. Newton, Riverside Athletic Club Toronto.

145 Pounds—Bert Schneider, Montreal A. A. A., Montreal.

158 Pounds—Moe Herscovitch, Montreal A. A. A., Montreal.

175 Pounds—Lionel Connacher, Riverside A. C., Toronto.

Light Heavyweight—Moe Herscovitch, Montreal A. A. A., Montreal.

Heavyweight—Billy McDoulton, Classic A. C., Toronto.

ENTRIES FOR SHORT SHIP OPENING CARD ARE GOOD

Events Receive Liberal Support—More Canadian Entries At Pt. Huron.

Mount Clemens, Mich., April 25.—The entries to the early closing events of the Mount Clemens Driving Club, for its spring meeting, the week of June 21, at Clinton View Park, all received liberal support, excepting the 2:10 pace, which failed to receive sufficient entries, and the club will substitute a class race for a $700 purse in its place. A high class list of nominations, however, was received, and some worth while contests will be held during the meeting. Entry blanks, etc., for the late closing events will be issued in the near future.

The trainers are busily engaged every day getting their horses in readiness for the season's campaign, there being now over 100 horses quartered at the track.

Canadian Exceptions.

The entries to the Port Huron events are about the same as at Mount Clemens, with a few Canadian exceptions. John J. O'Brien, long identified with the harness sport in various ways and favorably known among the horse fraternity, will have charge of the racing affairs at Port Huron, which insures a high-class meeting in every respect.

SOCCER KICK-OFFS

Soccer fans certainly could not kick against the brand of soccer displayed in the first of the City League games.

Richards-Wilcox have a strong aggregation and will be felt in competitions right smartly. Their goalie is a dandy, and he saved on towards the close that only one guardian in a thousand would have got. He has the bearing and style of a first divisional goalkeeper.

The Grand Trunks took to the field wearing their new colors, black and gold. The Aberdeens, that famous first divisional Scottish team, wore the same colors.

Frank Fouse, master car builder at the G. T. R. shops, who is taking a keen interest in the shops team, made the opening kick-off for the league.

The league is lucky in getting such well-qualified referees as Evans of Strathroy, and Hacking, McGuire and Devlin of the city.

Vice-President Lewis of the league, and a player of the Grand Trunks, has had considerable football experience with the Aberdeen F. A. of Scotland and in Montreal before moving here. His experience should help the league over its rough spots.

Good old Army! War time or peace, it's all the same. The moving of a company of the Princess Pats to Winnipeg robs the regimental team of five or six of its best players. It's tough luck, but perhaps the new rookies will produce something in the way of football material.

Capt. Edgar, who plays a very fine game, and is a thorough soccer enthusiast, with the rest of the P. P. C. L. I.'s, officers' mess, is doing everything possible to boost the league.

On Wednesday the second game of the league schedule will be played between Public Utilities and the Pats, starting at 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Saturday's large crowd practically assures soccer splendid support throughout the season. The players and league officials are very bucked up over the showing.

The consent of the city for the use of Springbank and the construction of a field down there can't come too quickly. Once the league gets going all the playing grounds available will be necessary.

It is possible that at Friday night's general meeting, some of the large industrial concerns will come forward with entries. McClary's have been mentioned in this connection, but it is not at all certain they will be coming in.

O. B. A. A. DECIDE TO ALLOW COMMERCIAL TEAMS TO PLAY

Many Leagues Had Already Allowed Them To Enter—Frank Robbins New President.

Toronto, April 25.—Commercial clubs will be allowed to remain in the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association, according to a decision arrived at here on Saturday at the annual meeting of the association. A good deal of discussion took place on the question of barring out commercial or utility leagues, and a number of delegates favored such a move, but in view of the fact that many outside leagues had already been formed with commercial teams in them, it was decided to continue as at present, at least for this year.

Whitby League and Trent Valley League were admitted into affiliation with the O. B. A. A. It was decided that no player should compete in the semi-finals or finals unless he was registered in good faith with a club nearest to his home town prior to the organization of any new association or league that might affiliate with the O. B. A. A.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Frank Robbins, Hamilton; first vice-president, Ward Pattison, Peterboro; second vice-president, Geo. Dulmage, Guelph; secretary, George Walker, Hamilton.

SCOTT PLAYS IN 534 BIG LEAGUE GAMES WITHOUT A BREAK

Boston Shortstop Establish a Record for Consecutive Playing.

Boston, April 26.—Everett Scott, the crack shortstop of he Boston Americans, will break all major league records for playing in consecutive games when he takes the field against the Athletics at Philadelphia today. With today's game Scott will have participated in 534 consecutive league contests. Luderus of the Philadelphia Nationals set the record at 533 games last season, but he has not played this year.

Scott started his continuous playing on June 20, 1916, with the Red Sox, and he has not missed a game since. Actually Scott had previously outstripped Luderus through his participation in eleven world series games in two years, but these post-season contests have not been considered in the consecutive records for regular games.

The Boston shortstop has to his credit also for two years what is said to be the highest fielding average for any shortstop playing the full season in either major league. His mark of .976, made both in 1918 and 1919, is the highest on record, "Tuck" Turner's average of .973 in 1910 being the best previously made in the American League and .968, Joe Tinker's record at short for Cincinnati being the best in the National League.

CANADA AND SWEDEN TO BATTLE TONIGHT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Winnipeg Falcons Are Expected To Carry Off the World's Honors.

Antwerp, April 26.—Canada and Sweden will meet in the ice palace here tonight in a game which will decide the Olympic hockey championship. France and the United States were eliminated for first place honors yesterday, the former losing to Sweden by a score of 4 to 0, and the latter going down to defeat before the Falcons of Winnipeg. That Canada will win the championship seems certain, as the Swedish team has little hope except to hold the Falcons to a low score.

Under the Olympic rules all teams directly beaten by the champion team must compete for second prize. Thus the United States, Czecho-Slovakia and the loser of tonight's game will draw for opponents following that contest. The American team was disappointed, but not chagrined, at its defeat by Canada last night. "It was anybody's game until near the finish," said Manager Fellowes, "but the best team won."

One hockey expert declared Europe had "never seen a game equal to it."

All competitors are invited to a charity exhibition next Friday. King Albert will probably be present. Hockey enthusiasts are hoping to see the Canadian players in action again in this exhibition game, but players have not yet been selected. It is said there is little likelihood of arranging for the Canadian and United States teams to meet again in this exhibition contest, as the Americans are not likely to participate, many of them wishing to visit the battle zones of France and Belgium before returning to the United States.

RICHARDS-WILCOX AND G. T. R. OPEN WITH 1-1 TIE

First Game of City Soccer Is Witnessed by Big Crowd At Heights.

The first game in the City Association Football League was played at Carling Heights on Saturday between Richards-Wilcox and Grand Trunk teams, the score ending 1 to 1.

The Grand Trunks led at half-time by 1 to 0. The railroaders won the toss and scored their goal early on a penalty kick, after two trials.

Weird shooting by the Grand Trunks kept the count down, and a clever stop by Goaler Nudds. The R.-W. team woke up at this time, and attacked more persistently. Passes by Shaw and Drakeley resulted in the latter tying the score, and during the last 15 minutes of the game the R.-W. team had the better of the play. The teams:

WEST END "Y" GETS 8-POINT LEAD ON THE WESTERN "U"

Queen City Team Claimed To Be Far Superior, But Hard-Lucked.

Toronto, April 24.—The local basketball season was wound up in great fashion tonight when the West End Y. M. C. A. team defeated the Western University team of London in one of the best games seen in this city for years.

The Londoners looked like world-beaters in practice, but it was an entirely different story when they got into the game and West End began checking them in the manner that has made them famous throughout the province. The locals are known to be one of the hardest checking teams in the business.

West End completely outplayed London in the first half, and should have scored at least five or six more baskets had they not had the most miserable luck. The score at half time stood 23 to 15 in favor of West End.

The scoring in the second period was even, each team getting 16 points.

This gives West End a lead of 8 points to work on in the last game of the finals in London next Saturday, and everyone is pulling hard for them to return with the championship decided in their favor. The lineup:

Toronto West End Y. M. C. A.—(39)—McCausland and Yeoman, forwards; Walker, centre; Farrell and Smith, guards; Camm and Montgomery, subs.

London Western University.—(31)—Kingswood and Callaghan, forwards; Wainwright, centre; Cline and McKeoch, guards; Simpson, sub.

Referee—Ed. Buscombe.

Shamrocks Win Easy Victory At Hamilton by 22-9 Score

London Shamrocks won an easy victory in Hamilton Saturday night, when they defeated the Y. Brownies 22—9. Miss P. Blackwell was the star of the London team.

FOUR TEAMS COMPRISE INTER-CLUB LEAGUE

The City Interclub Baseball League is now a four-team combination, comprised of the Alerts, Manhattans, Orients and Army and Navy clubs.

An effort will be made to secure Tecumseh Park for Saturday games when the London Tecumsehs are on the road and the schedule, which starts on May 15, will utilize Springbank Park when Tecumseh Park is not available.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

POTATOES EASIER ON LOCAL MARKET

Hay Touches $30 Mark Once More.

Hay touched the $30 mark on the market today. Few loads sold at less than that figure, and not a great deal was offered at any price.

Potatoes, on the other hand, are a trifle lower, whether as a result of the local women's boycott or other causes. At any rate, they are 25 cents per bag lower than they were Saturday morning. Sales were made then readily enough at $6, although some buyers accepted $5.50 and $5.75 per bag. About noon the boycott or some other market influence began to take effect, and sales at $6 per bag became difficult to effect. Probably more sales were made at $5.50 than any other price. A few farmers declared they would take their tubers home rather than sell them under $6. Up to late in the afternoon they were still holding out for $6, but making no sales. The highest price may be fairly said to be $5.75 per bag at the present time.

Maple syrup also took a slump. Although the price dropped to $3 and $3 25 per gallon, sales on Saturday afternoon were slowly made at these figures, and some farmers took their syrup home to manufacture it into sugar. It didn't seem a question of price, as with the potatoes. The market buyers just seemed to have the idea that it was not as good syrup as the earlier runs, and were not anxious to buy it at all.

Some loads of hay were sold this morning at $29 per ton, but when it appeared that the offering was going to be small it was bid up to $30, and stayed there.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, April 26.—May oats opened 2 higher at $1 11½; July ⅝c to 1⅛c higher at $1 02½@1 03.

May barley opened 1½c higher at $1 87.

May flax opened 5c higher at $5 11.

Chicago, April 26.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 71½; July, $1 65.

Oats—May, 98c; July, 89½c.

Chicago, April 26.—All grain ran up rapidly in price today on account of a 10c bulge in the rye market. Indications that a huge export business has been done of late in rye and wheat were largely responsible for the spectacular action of rye. Wet, cold weather certain to interfere with farm work at a critical time counted also as a bullish factor and led to buying on a large scale. Opening prices, which ranged from ½c to 4c higher for corn, were followed by additional gains before any reaction took place.

Oats displayed independent strength as a result of reports that because of excessive moisture and unseasonably low temperatures much reseeding would be necessary. After opening 1c to 2½c higher the market became firm.

WALL STREET.

New York, April 26—Wall Street, Noon.—General Motors extended its rise to 16½ points, and most other active issues made additional gains, chiefly at the expense of shorts. Activity slackened on the customary profit-taking, but was resumed when call money opened at 7 per cent. Oils, notably the Mexican group, food shares as represented by Corn Products and sugar issues, also rails, shippings and tobaccos, were in demand with specialties, including textiles. The West was a buyer of stocks, although dispatches from that section reported further reduction of industrial activity and movement of railroad tonnage. Liberty bonds were irregular. The list opened at an advance over Saturday's close, but several of the issues reacted later. Prices at 11:30 were: 3½'s, 93.40; first 4's, 86.00; second 4's, 85.30; first 4¼'s, 86.30; second 4¼'s, 85.80; third 4¼'s, 90.40; fourth 4¼'s, 85.68; Victory 3¾'s, 96.46; Victory 4¾'s, 96.50.

1:30 p.m.—Trading switched to rails, particularly the low-priced, or speculative, issues, at midday. Texas and Pacific stood out for its gain of almost five points, and investment issues of the transcontinental division, especially Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, also showing marked strength.

MONEY.

London, April 26.—Close: Money, 4½ per cent.

Discount rates—Short bills, 5⅝ per cent; three months, 6⅝ per cent.

Bar silver, 69⅝d per ounce.

Bar gold, 107s 6d per ounce.

Gold premiums at Lisbon, 140.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Montreal, April 26.—The local market opened fairly steady this morning, but during the first hour developed little activity. As a matter of fact, it was the dullest first hour which has been experienced on the local exchange for a long time. Brompton, Canadian Converters and Spanish, preferred, were the leaders, with only a fair volume of early trading. Brompton opened a quarter point above Saturday's close at 89, and remained steady at this figure. Canadian Converters may be said to have been the feature of the early morning, as this issue has been more or less inactive lately. It opened at 73, and in the first hour advanced to 73½. Spanish, preferred, was strong, opening at $1.37½, and advanced under fair volume of trading to $1.38½. Brazilian was steady at 44⅛. Dominion Steel advanced ¼ point to 69. Other issues were quiet.

PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 26.—Upturns in the value of hogs and grain lifted provisions. Demand, however, lacked volume.

Liverpool, April 26.—Hams—Short cut, 190s 6d.

Bacon—Cumberland cut, 184s 6d; Wiltshire cut, 187s; clear bellies, 212s; long clear middles, light and heavy, 202s; short clear backs, 191s; shoulders, square, 138s; New York shoulders, 134s 6d.

Lard—Prime western, in tierces, 195s 6d; American refined, in pails, 198s 6d.

OILS.

To the Enterprising Girl

Has it occurred to you that hand or machine work on clean, white canvas shoes and attractively colored felt slippers is among the nicest sort of work obtainable anywhere?

The factory of the Canadian Consolidated Felt Company is well organized, therefore the flow of goods is practically never held up.

Smart Step Canvass Shoes and Kosey Korner Slippers sell so easily and rapidly that plenty of work is always available all the year around.

Maynard Hall, located nearby, maintained by the company, is a comfortable sort of place to eat, or to drop in to spend a few minutes with the girls who live there.

The Canadian Consolidated Felt Company pays a little more money than most folks.

Would it not be a good idea to drop in at our service department, Corner King and Young streets, or at plant, 84 Margaret avenue, Kitchener, to talk over the idea of entering the service of the Canadian Consolidated Felt Company?

Think it over. May 1.

STREET RAILWAYMEN TO STRIKE SATURDAY UNLESS PAY RAISED

Unanimous Vote Is Cast by Members of Union in Favor of Walkout in Default of Settlement—Railway Board May Be Called In.

A unanimous vote in favor of a strike on Saturday, May 1, unless their demands are met, was cast by street railway employees at a meeting at midnight on Saturday in the Foresters' Hall, East London. Practically the whole membership of 240, consisting of motormen, conductors, trackmen, linemen, barnmen and inspectors was present.

The situation was fully discussed, as the meeting did not end until 4:30 a.m. The men claimed it was absolutely impossible to live on their present wages, and that the increase of 21 cents an hour which they are asking would have to be given before they return to work. This would give them a scale averaging 65 cents an hour. Not a wheel will turn Saturday morning unless the demands are met, they declared.

John Colbert, president of the union, and Ald. John Ashton, a member of the executive, pointed out, following the meeting, that the men were not taking hasty action by any means. They had notified the company six weeks ago what their demands would be. Since then the union executive had met the management of the company five times. Each time the company stated that it was absolutely impossible for it to pay the wages.

The men were willing to have the matter investigated by a conciliation board, but, according to them, the company stated that it could not and would not abide by any decision made by the board, and that it would be merely a waste of time to appoint such a body. This the members of the executive thought was evidence that the men had done all in their power to prevent trouble.

Ald. Ashton stated that the men were not in any way concerned with the situation existing between the company and the city in regard to fares. The men wanted a living wage, and it was up to the company to decide how the money should be obtained. The men had nothing to do with that part of it.

With a deadlock such as this existing between the company and the men steps will likely be taken to call in the railway and municipal board. The city may consider this step this week, as it has five days in which to act before a strike takes place.

Ald. Ashton was inclined to think that the board would be called in and would make a report on the whole situation. This would clear matters considerably, he thought. "The people never have been told where the company stands," he said, "and report from an independent source would be a good thing."

LAD IS SMOTHERED WHEN LOAD OF HAY OVERTURNS

Charles Henry Draisey of London Township Victim of Peculiar Accident—Father Recently Out of Hospital Too Weak To Save Boy—Family Has Been Singularly Unfortunate.

Charles Henry Draisey, aged 9, son of Henry Draisey of London Township, was smothered to death on the Asylum sideroad on Saturday afternoon beneath a load of hay. The lad and his father had been at the farm of John Gale to get the hay, and as they were driving out of the gate, the horses suddenly shied, and the load upset into a ditch.

Both Mr. Draisey and the boy were buried. Mr. Draisey, who only recently came out of the hospital, was so weak that he had the greatest difficulty in extricating himself. He was well nigh exhausted when he got where he could breathe freely again. Mr. Frank White of the London Rolling Mills happened along opportunely in his auto, and at once went to the assistance of Mr. Draisey. It was fully three-quarters of an hour before the boy was located under the hay. He was taken at once to the Ontario Hospital for the Insane, where Dr. Robinson and other physicians worked over him. He was so far gone that nothing could be done. As a last resort a call was sent to the central fire station for the pulmotor.

It is stated that there was considerable delay when the request was made on the ground that there was no means for send it out of the city. It was, however, finally taken to the Ontario Hospital, but all efforts to revive the lad failed.

The Draisey family has been singularly unfortunate of late. Last fall Mrs. Draisey, while driving an auto, ran over and killed a local woman. While bringing her little daughter to London from across the line the child contracted an illness and died at the border. Mr. Draisey has renectly been seriously ill. Beyond the shaking up he received when the load overturned on Saturday, he is none the worse for the accident. Mr. John Gale, at whose place he secured the hay, is his father-in-law.

After investigating the case thoroughly, Coroner Ferguson decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The boy's remains were taken to the undertaking rooms of Wesley Harrison, and the funeral will be held on Tuesday to Woodland Cemetery.

LITTLE BOY DROWNED AT PORT ON SATURDAY

Three-Year-Old Son of William Burchall Fell Into Lake.

PORT STANLEY, April 25.—Marvin Burchall, 3-year-old son of William Burchall, was drowned in Lake Erie about noon on Saturday. The little lad, with others the same age, had been playing with a toy boat at the foot of Main street and fell into the water. The body was located half an hour later by James Truan.

Dr. Jackson, the coroner, decided an inquest unnecessary. The funeral will take place on Monday.

TO DISCUSS HOUSING PROBLEM AT ST. MARYS

ST. MARYS, April 25.—A public meeting in the interest of the house building will be held in the town hall on Tuesday evening. Speakers from Windsor will address the citizens and explain their system of house building. After the meeting the audience will be asked to attend the Pleasant Hour Theatre free, where films, showing the class of houses recenty built at Windsor under the housing system will be exhibited.

TO VOTE ON QUESTION OF DAYLIGHT SAVING

TORONTO, April 25.—The city council of Toronto will vote tomorrow afternoon on the daylight saving question. While the board of control has recommended the measure, there is a good deal of opposition to it among the members of the city council, and it is possible that the board's recommendation may be rejected. The Toronto Stock Exchange passed a resolution on Saturday urging the city council to adopt daylight saving.

DIED IN LONDON.

AILSA CRAIG, April 25.—Miss Agnes Barnes, aged about 40, of Nairn, who was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital on Thursday night in the hope that an operation might save her life, died in that institution on Saturday morning. Miss Barnes, while not a graduate nurse, was one by practice, and will be greatly missed by the people of Nairn and district. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barnes, five brothers, Irvin and Charles, at home; Abby and William in the West, and Jack of Vancouver, and two sisters, also in the west. The funeral will take place Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The service will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Rintoul of the Presbyterian Church, and interment will be made in Nairn Cemetery.

LARGE EXPORT DEMANDS FOR PIANOS.

In an interview with the manager of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Limited, 242 Dundas street, London, we learn that there is a steady and greatly increased demand from Australia, New Zealand and South Africa for the pianos of this house. They have for long been a favorite in Great Britain, and it has been made worth while lately to meet the call from Paris, France, where an agency now exists. b

Big Crowd Gathers Intent on Sharing In Real Life Drama

Tense expectancy held a big crowd on Dundas street, just east of the Richmond street corner, at 10 o'clock last night. Two policemen had entered the passageway leading to apartments over one of the stores on the north side of the street a few minutes earlier, and gruesome stories of the crime which had been committed in the upstairs apartments were told with bated breath as newcomers, helping to swell the throng of sensation seekers asked for information.

"A woman has been murdered up there," volunteered one man, pointing to a lighted window on the second floor.

"Yes, I heard her scream," said another.

"You can see where the window shutter was broken in the struggle," spoke up a third.

A few minutes later, a short distance away, an informant was heard explaining to listerners that the police had made a raid on a "booze party," and that a constable had been mortally injured in the ensuing fracas.

Certainly the size of the crowd warranted the belief that something tragic or more than ordinarily dramatic was afoot. Four or five policemen did their best to keep the sidewalks clear, but half an hour elapsed before conditions on the street were restored to something approaching normal. Then, with less to occupy his official attention, a policeman explained for an Advertiser representative's enlightenment the cause of all the excitement.

It appears that three or four men were working in a photographic studio over a store and one or more of them happened to look out of the window at the moment that two policemen, following the routine procedure, entered the approach to the upstairs apartments to see that all doors were properly secured. Idle pedestrians, putting two and two together, made the total about sixteen, and as they gazed wide-eyed at the lighted upper windows their attitude of expectancy communicated curiosity to others, who joined them in their watching. Gradually the crowd grew, and so did the stories, and with each recital still others pressed around to hear the sordid details. So far as is known those occupying the rooms which were the focus of attention are not aware even yet that they were suspected of being participants in a sanguinary drama of real life.

AWARDED $150 DAMAGES

Judgment was given Saturday by Judge Macbeth in the case of Hynd against Beemer, which was heard at the April non-jury session of the county court. William Hynd was awarded $150 and costs for injuries received in an accident, when he was thrown from a bicycle in a collision with a motor vehicle belonging to Beemer & Co.

WHO IS THE WOMAN IN ROOM 13?

Dick Turner had phoned his employee's beautiful young wife, that she must meet him in room 13, and later that night a shot was fired in the dark, and Dick Turner's life ended. Fleeing in terror from the room, a veiled women was seen, but she made her escape and eluded the police. Was it Laura Bruce who had fired the fatal shot? All were baffled. Laura's husband thought he knew, but he was wrong. The police were at sea. The men on the dictaphone who heard the voice of Laura Bruce in room 13 were wrong. Who was the women in room 13? No ordinary story is the "Woman in Room 13," which heards the program at the Allen today, tomorrow and Monday. It twists into the most amazing channels. It tantalizes, suggests a solution, and throws you completely off the trail. So skillfully is the mystery handled that the question looms up in your mind again and again, "Who was the woman in room 13?"

Where you in the movies Tuesday? You must see how you would look as a star of the pictures, when you are shown on the screen at the Allen today, tomorrow and Wednesday in the big film which the Allen cameramen took of London, and its big street parade on Made-in-Canada day last week.

A special musical offering by Allen's trio of famous violinists will also be a feature of the program, and there will be many added film attractions.

AT LOEW'S.

The "gloom-bug" which has infected the mind and heart and very soul of the pessimist for years and years is sure to be destroyed if Mack Sennett, the comedy king, has his way. He has been spending the better part of his "young life" finding ways and means by which this infection can be destroyed, and with each of his big special productions his doses come nearer and nearer. The real "gloom" dispeller is at last found in his latest five-reeler, "Down On the Farm," which is the feature film attraction at Loew's. Sennett, when he first began to find the remedy was in despair, for he found that most people were pessimists, but he has gradually wormed his ideas of laugh into their beings that he now has a following that numbers more than thirty millions and with each getting at least a thousand laughs out of his latest sensational comedy, the thirty billion laughs should have at least some effect on the populace.

The vaudeville portion of the program includes Stanley and Lee, in music and syncopation; Ling and Long, in a versatile melange of eccentric doings; Charlie Deland and Company in "Back to Buffalo"; Freddie Rogers, "The Get 'Em Kid," and the Wilhoit Trio and Krazy Kar in "Just Running Around." An O. Henry story and Loew's Weekly Pictorial complete a splendid bill of enjoyable diversion.

AT THE PATRICIA.

"A Manhattan Knight," founded on the novel, "Find the Woman," from the fluent pen of Gelett Burgess, will be presented at the Patricia Theatre beginning today by William Fox. The star of this fast-moving story of New York life is George Walsh, the smiling athlete, who is rapidly winning the millions of motion picture fans throughout the country.

In "A Manhattan Knight" the two-fisted star is given unusual opportunity to shine. There are several thrilling fights in the production, which has been carefully staged by George Beranger, formerly associated with David Wark Griffith.

Three excellent vaudeville acts, a Rainbow comedy and a Fox news weekly complete the program.

AT THE GRAND TODAY.

"Why Smith Left Home" will be shown at the Grand today, tomorrow and Wednesday. Mr. Washburn's qualities as a laugh-getting farceur are well known, and in this photoplay he is said to have an ideal role—that of a young married man on his honeymoon, and disturbed by all sorts of peculiar interruptions.

The official film showing London's Made-in-Canada week parade; a Snub Pollard comedy entitled "Cracked Wedding Bells"; the Pathe News; Review and Topics of the Day, will complete the film program.

Heading the vaudeville bill will be Tom Brown's Musical Revue, a dainty instrumental and singing offering with six people in the cast. Other acts will be Robert and De Mont in "The Act De Luxe"; De Witt and Robinson; Fred and Minta Brad, and "Monde," the miner musician, in selections on the accordion.

THURSTON, THE FAMOUS MAGICIAN, COMING TO THE GRAND.

Thurston, the magician, who recently closed a successful season of eight weeks at the Globe Theatre, New York, will spread joy and sunshine broadcast throughout the entire community during his engagement at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15, and Saturday matinee at 2:30.

The most elaborate of his new presentations is called "The Mystery of the Water Fountains," a picturesque Chinese spectacle, rich in Oriental costuming, stage settings and lighting effects. "Ghosts, Or Do the Spirits Return?" is another. One has to keep his eyes and his attention fixed in order to follow the various mysteries, for they are so sudden and so astonishing, and it is doubly prized in that this holds good for the grown-ups as well as the little folk. The seat sale opens tomorrow.

Don't Dye YourHair
The hair is chemically composed principally of sulphur, lime and iron. When it falls out, turns grey, splits or loses its lustre, it has simply lost one or more of these elementary constituents.
Dr. Partin's Hair Restorer
This wonderful preparation brings back to the hair its natural color. It is not a dye, but a treatment to correct those scalp troubles responsible for grey and faded hair.
It requires from 8 to 10 days to effect a noticeable change in the grey hairs. The roots of the hair have at the end of this time absorbed a sufficient amount of the Restorer to begin to give back to the hair its natural, youthful color.
Continued treatment is necessary until the scalp trouble is permanently relieved and every grey hair eliminated.

SALVATION ARMY A STRONG FORCE

Makes For Contented Men and Women and For Happy Homes.

The appeal of the Salvation Army for half a million with which to carry on its peculiar and particular work brings again to notice a strong force, not merely in the spiritual realm, but in the cause of order and reconstruction.

When war called every class of the Empire into special service the Salvation Army was about the only religious force really prepared to take up the burden. In writing this we ignore neither the Y. M. C. A., nor any other organization. They had great efforts to make before their organization could expand to the new task, and frequently found themselves at a loss with a new difficulty. According to the men who have served, the Salvation Army never failed—and it did not matter, at either rest-camp or base, whether the soldier came in drunk or sober, whether he had money or had squandered every penny on unworthy objects.

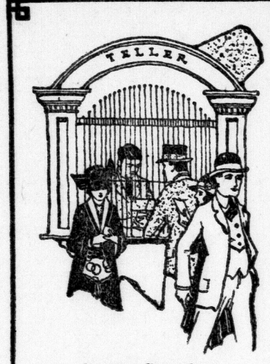

The first principles of William Booth were to get the man up from the gutter—and his apostolate carried out the old injunction with new strength and vigor.

The normal work of the Salvation Army makes for contented men and women, for happy homes, for a strong desire to improve the surroundings, for a mighty pity for the unsuccessful and those unfitted for the hard service of life. The fund which the country is asked to give in "Self-Denial" will be devoted to rebuilding the edifice of social and religious work which has been largely neglected during the war period, and to making foundations for further developments.
