59TH YEAR. NO. 23365

LONDON, ONTARIO, SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 17, 1922.

PRICE, THREE CENTS

CLAIMS CITY 'SIDE STEPS' $21,000 REVENUE

Building Permits Break Record In City History

PRESAGES ERA OF PROSPERITY IN ALL LINES

Inspector Piper Announces Construction Figures Total $1,255,945.

ISSUES 912 LICENSES

Expects Further Boom During Balance of June.

London's building program up to and including Friday, surpasses all previous years in the number of permits issued during a similar period, and is within $163,525 of passing the record figure of 1921 for the first six months of the year.

That the 1922 building program will eclipse the 1921 record during the remaining 14 days of the month is the assertion of Building Inspector A. M. Piper.

Building permits issued up to Friday total $1,255,945 for 1922. The record hung up in building during the first six months in any year here was that of 1921, when permits totaling $1,419,470 were issued.

Other big years were 1913 and 1914, which set $1,063,567, and $1,128,715 respectively as the building total from January to June inclusive. Both these figures have been surpassed this year with fourteen days left in which to beat the 1921 record.

One record for London has been made this year, and that is in the number of permits for buildings issued by the inspector. This total up to Friday is 912, and the nearest approach this record was made in 1914 when 829 building permits were issued during the first six months.

So far this month 132 building permits have been issued compared to 124 issued during the entire month of June, 1921. These 132 permits cover a total estimated cost of work of $208,500.

Among the most important building permits issued Friday are: W. J. Wilker for a 1½-story brick veneer dwelling on Colborne street, costing $4,000; Mrs. R. Gash for a 1-story brick veneer dwelling at 29 Kensington street, to cost $3,000; Pure Gas Company for a 1-story metal-covered storehouse on Quebec street, costing $1,100; Imperial Oil Company for a brick service station on Richmond street, estimated to cost $6,000; D. Eldridge for a 2-story brick veneer dwelling at 25 Bellevue avenue, to cost $4,800; Mrs. Firlie for a 1½-story stone dwelling on Chesapeake street, costing $3,900, and a felt and gravel roof for the Bank of Toronto on Richmond street.

LASS OF 10 YEARS PICKS POCKETS

Sydney, N. S., June 17.—A demure little miss apparently about 10 years old, a country lass, appeared at one of the city banks yesterday and bashfully asked a lady clerk if she might wash her face and hands in the rest room. Half an hour later she departed, sweetly thanking the staff for their courtesy. Later still the staff donned hats and coats for lunch, only to find pockets cleaned out of cash and valuables. The police were telephoned.

"Hm! Hm!" said the voice on the other end of the wire, "You're late. She's visited three other places since then, and we'll investigate your case in turn."

Mr. Mars Has a Date With Mother Earth In London Sunday Evening

MARS is going to take a close look at London tomorrow night. And by the same token, London citizens are going to take a close look at Mars—the closest since 1909.

By Sunday night Mars will be 8,600,000 miles nearer the earth than it was a month ago. Proving Mars as a speck certainly stirs up the stardust!

But you needn't fear Mars will skid at some celestial corner and knock a fender off the earth. For Mars will come within only 42,000,000 miles of the planet to which we hold title before he curves away again.

If Mars were to hesitate at that 42,000,000-mile mark while you traveled from here to there on an airplane flying 200 miles an hour, he would have to wait 42½ years for you to arrive!

Medium Visits Mars.
Only one earth-being ever thought seriously of traveling to Mars. Captain Claude Collins planned to ride a sky-rocket thither. But he couldn't get a rocket large enough.

However, a famous French medium, Mademoiselle Helene Smith, claims she projected her soul to Mars. There she saw:

"Carriages without horses or wheels, emitting sparks as they glided by; houses with fountains on the roofs; a cradle having for curtains an angel made of iron with outstretched wings."

She also brought back the latest fashion notes from the Martians.

"The people," she said, "were much like the inhabitants of the earth, save that both sexes wore the same clothes—trousers, very ample, and long blouses drawn tight about the waist and decorated with various designs."

Their language had a pleasant intonation, according to the mademoiselle. Four words that she remembered when she came down to earth were:

Metiche, meaning Mr.
Metache, meaning Mrs.
Metaganiche, meaning Miss.
Kin'tche, meaning four.

BEGIN PARTITION OF UPPER SILESIA

Berlin, June 17.—Today was the first "moving day" under the partition of Upper Silesia between Germany and Poland. The ceremonies, which will continue for 24 days, include the exchange of the various administrative offices and the replacing of the civil service personnel.

When the ceremonies are completed the inter-allied commission's flags, which have been flying in the various centers, will be replaced by German and Polish standards.

TO ASK CITY FOR SEWERS REBATE

London North Ratepayers Claim Improvements Ten Years Too Soon.

Ratepayers of London North, not satisfied with the action of No. 1 committee of the city council, which has offered to extend debentures for the cost of sewers on Richmond, Regent, St. George and Huron streets ten years, held a mass meeting Friday night and decided to appear before the city council Monday night and urge that greater concessions be granted them.

These citizens asked that the ordinary ten-year term of debentures for these sewers be extended twenty years, and that the cost of the Richmond street north pavement be spread over a 20-year term. The committee ignored the latter request but did recommend the 10-year sewer extension.

At the mass meeting Friday night it was decided to ask the city council for financial relief in the form of a 40 per cent rebate on the pavement cost, and a rebate on the cost of the sewers.

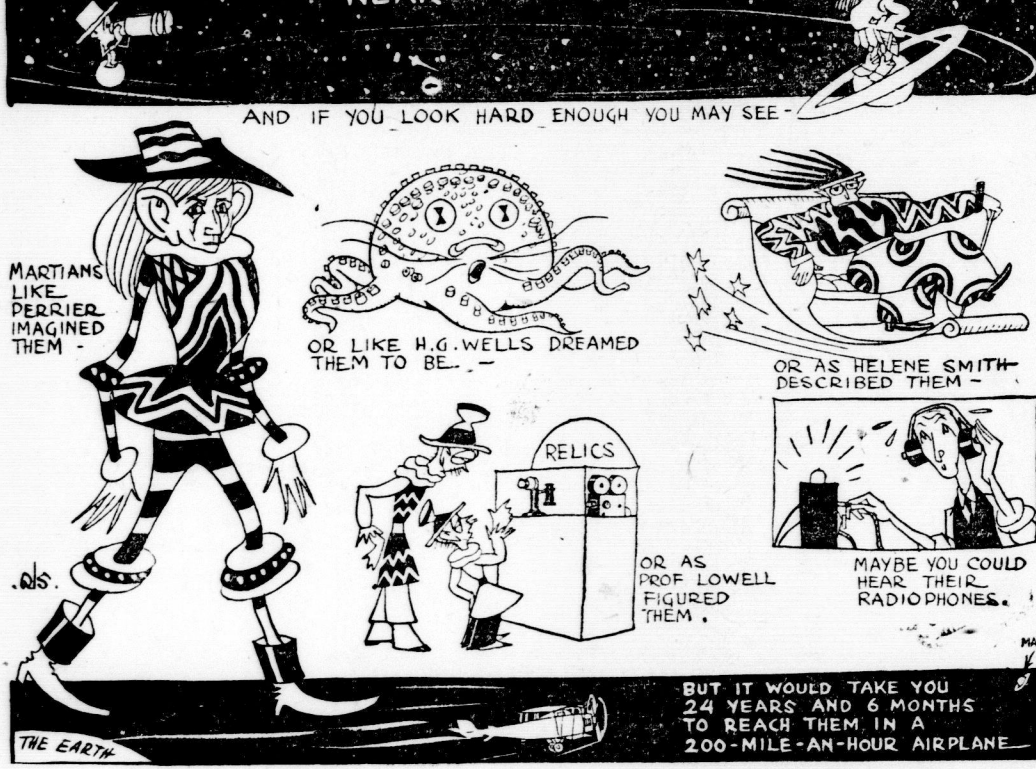

Those present at this gathering quoted the rebate granted ratepayers on the Pipe Line road as a precedent for their pavement request, and stressed the fact that the Richmond street pavement was laid against the wishes of the owners involved.

In the opinion of the meeting the pavement and sewers were laid ten years too soon.

Wonders If She Must Pay Veterinary To Take Remaining Eight Lives of Cat

There is a common superstition that the average cat possesses nine lives, and recent happenings have almost convinced a young woman residing in the north end that this superstition is not without foundation.

MARS WILL BE 42,350,000 MILES NEAR THE EARTH—

MARTIANS LIKE PERRIER, IMAGINED THEM— OR LIKE H.G. WELLS DREAMED THEM TO BE— OR AS HELENE SMITH DESCRIBED THEM—

OR AS PROF. LOWELL FIGURED THEM— OR AS MAYBE YOU COULD HEAR THEIR RADIO PHONES—

BUT IT WOULD TAKE YOU 24 YEARS AND 6 MONTHS TO REACH THEM IN A 200-MILE-AN-HOUR AIRPLANE.

But H. G. Wells evidently didn't think much of the psychic's description. In his "War of the Worlds" he said that the Martians resembled cuttlefish with round, gray bodies and "sort of faces."

Edmond Perrier, a Parisian scientist, constructed the most detailed picture of the inhabitants of our nearest planetary neighbor.

"Dreams are not a crime," he said, "and in this case contradiction is difficult."

The Martian, according to him, bore some resemblance to man, but had tremendous ears, a large chest and thin legs, with scarcely any neck at all.

The greatest exponent of the theory that Mars is inhabited was the late Professor Percival Lowell.

"The Martian folk," he wrote, "are possessed of inventions of which we have never dreamed. With them the telephone and the kinetoscope are things of the bygone past, preserved with veneration in museums as relics of the clumsy contrivances of the simple childhood of the race."

But other scientists disagree. They think there is nothing but very little water and a thin layer of air on the planet.

"There has been absolutely no determination of life on Mars," says Dr. C. S. Brainin of Oxford University.

But Professor William H. Pickering of Harvard says that the weather there is fine—

Especially during the summer.

UNION MAY HURT THE METHODISTS

Winnipeg, June 17.—"As yet we have had no official interpretation of the resolution just passed by the Presbyterian General Assembly on church union, but if it turns out that the full extent of the union comes to be to explore the legal imports, Methodism will suffer a great sense of disappointment," declared S. D. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, at the Manitoba conference here yesterday.

The case against William Ayers, another of the alleged bandits, is proceeding today, and while Mrs. Bessie Hunt, the Wyoming widow, the only one of the crown witnesses who claims to have never been shown photographs of the suspects as at the Sarnia preliminary hearing ten days ago, declared the prisoner to be the one who had led the way from the bank with a gun in either hand, she did not appear to show to such advantage as on the first occasion.

Compelled to face the jury, Mrs. Hunt was subjected to a fusillade of questions by William R. Meredith and Norman Newton, counsel for the defense, and while she stated how she could not remember whether the bandit she saw wore an overcoat, she could not give any definite reason why she should recognize him again after several months. "I won't answer that question," she declared finally.

While Judge Taylor, presiding, advised the witness to state how she could identify Ayers, the question still remained unanswered.

William Westlake, the next witness called, identified Ayers also, and agreed with Mrs. Hunt that he led the quartet from the bank with a revolver in either hand.

It was definitely ascertained by The Advertiser, shortly after the return of the McMillen jury, that one man alone refused absolutely to say that he believed beyond all shadow of reasonable doubt that Edward McMillen was the man who directed the Wyoming robbery.

Retiring first to their room at 3:45 p.m., the jurymen returned to the court at 7:45 p.m., and asked to hear the evidence submitted by Dr. James A. Milne, London dentist, M. S. Lambert, manager of the bank, Vera McIntosh, clerk at the same institution, and Alpheus McKay, Wyoming undertaker and furniture dealer.

When Dr. Milne's testimony was read again the jurors announced satisfaction and retired again without hearing the evidence of the other witnesses, as requested.

There were but few spectators in court when the jury returned, and the prisoner appeared more cheerful than at any time since his first appearance in public following his arrest.

Throughout the evening, Mrs. Olive Myrtle Koehler, the crown's "star witness," awaited with impatience Turn to Page 3, Column 3.

Watch Car Back Up Block, Although Motor Set For Full Speed Forward

Baseball fans en route to the game at Tecumseh Park were accorded the unusual spectacle of a street car backing almost a city block, although all four wheels were revolving in the opposite direction.

Dundas street immediately west of the bridge in London West was oiled Friday. Street car No. 140, proceeding east, mounted the slight rise in the road west of the bridge quite easily, but a lone passenger caused the motorman to halt his vehicle on top of the incline.

The passenger boarded the car, and Mr. Motorman put on full speed ahead. To his surprise his vehicle proceeded in the opposite direction, with wheels spinning toward town.

The car backed almost a block before it stopped, the oil on the tracks reducing the grip of the wheels. Finally, after the tracks had been thoroughly sanded, the car mounted the incline and speeded over the bridge.

The crowd of spectators then proceeded to the ball game, their curiosity causing them to miss one inning of the league game.

JURY DISAGREES AS TO GUILT OF E. A. McMULLEN

Deliberates Five Hours Before Informing Sarnia Court "There Is No Hope."

OPENS TRIAL OF AYERS

Crown Proceeds With Second Case in Wyoming Bank Robbery.

BY WILLIAM SHARMAN, Advertiser Staff Special.

Sarnia, June 17.—One lone jurymen yesterday saved Edward A. McMullen of London, alleged Wyoming bank bandit, from a sojourn in Kingston penitentiary.

After five hours deliberation, the jury at 8:45 Friday night returned to the courtroom and declared to His Honor Judge A. E. Taylor that they were unable to reach an agreement. "This is a very expensive trial," declared the judge, "do you not think that if I sent you back you would agree?"

"There is absolutely no hope," replied the foreman.

Judge Taylor then formally dismissed the jurors and while Crown Attorney F. W. Willson requested that a new trial proceed at once, John M. McEvoy, K.C., of London, counsel for the prisoner, immediately requested that the supreme court be asked to make a "stated" case upon the question, thereby determining, it is explained, whether the testimony as to the prisoner's identification by H. S. Lambert, manager of the Wyoming bank and other members of his staff should be considered admissible.

While Judge Taylor announced that he would consider the request from the defense and announce his decision Saturday if possible, no reference was made to the question when the sessions re-opened this morning.

The case against William Ayers, another of the alleged bandits, is proceeding today, and while Mrs. Bessie Hunt, the Wyoming widow, the only one of the crown witnesses who claims to have never been shown photographs of the suspects as at the Sarnia preliminary hearing ten days ago, declared the prisoner to be the one who had led the way from the bank with a gun in either hand, she did not appear to show to such advantage as on the first occasion.

BURN LOYALISTS' HOUSES.

London, June 17.—The campaign of incendiarism in Belfast has become so alarming, says the Morning Post's correspondent, that when the Ulster Parliament reassembles on Tuesday, the northern government is likely to introduce legislation imposing the death penalty on persons convicted of setting fires to a plot to strangle the industrial life of Belfast by destroying manufacturing and business premises.

IMPOSE DEATH PENALTY.

It is believed that two gangs participated in the massacre. The firing and explosions were plainly heard in Newry. Those killed were a man and his son, shot through the head, an aged couple who were slain together, and a young man.

HENRY BERTRAM of John Bertram & Sons' Company, Limited, Dundas, Ont., will be elected second vice-president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the annual convention at St. Andrews, N. B., June 20.

Other prospective officers for the ensuing year are: President, John R. Shaw, Woodstock; first vice-president, C. Howard Smith, Montreal.

IRISH PRIMATE SEARCHED AT ULSTER BORDER

Cardinal Logue Experiences Third Hold-Up by Special Constables.

ALLOWED TO PROCEED

Ulster May Impose Penalty of Death For Incendiarism.

Belfast, June 17.—Cardinal Logue, Primate of Ireland, and his coadjutor, Archbishop O'Donnell, were again held up by members of the Ulster Constabulary last night, when their automobile was stopped near Newry by a patrol of specials.

The constables at first demanded the chauffeur's license, which he produced, at the same time informing them of identity of his passengers. The leader of the constables then ordered the prelates to alight and submit to search, to which they consented, although again giving their names. A number of hours in the car were searched and documents carried by the prelates were scrutinized, after which the party was allowed to proceed. This is the third occasion recently on which Cardinal Logue has been held up by constables.

Winston Churchill, British colonial secretary, following the second hold-up of Cardinal Logue, expressed regret in the House of Commons over the incident. He declared he had conversed with Sir James Craig on the subject, and that the Ulster premier desired him to say it was far from the wishes of the northern government that any want of consideration should have been shown to any high dignitary of the Catholic Church. Mr. Churchill also declared that "those concerned" had been officially rebuked.

IMPOSE DEATH PENALTY.

BURN LOYALISTS' HOUSES.

Belfast, June 17.—Four men and one woman were shot dead and two men were wounded this morning in the vicinity of Bess Brook, known as County Armagh's model village. The houses of three loyalists were burned. The affair is thought to have been in reprisal for the shooting of two men on Wednesday, one of whom lived in Bess Brook.

It is believed that two gangs participated in the massacre. The firing and explosions were plainly heard in Newry. Those killed were a man and his son, shot through the head, an aged couple who were slain together, and a young man.

ALD. ASHPLANT BLAMES MAYOR FOR CIVIC LOSS

Charges Councillors With Lack of "Backbone, Sand Or Intention."

INSISTS WORK BLOCKED

Points Out $200 Would Obtain Mandamus in High Court.

Asserting that the city of London is being deprived of a revenue of $21,000 on exempted property in the annexed district every year, which can be collected in school taxes, according to the written opinion of City Solicitor Meredith, Ald. H. B. Ashplant charges that Mayor Cameron Wilson is to blame for the loss.

Ald. Ashplant further charges certain members of the city council, with lack of "backbone, sand or intention" of collecting these taxes, and states that any citizen prepared to guarantee $200 for court costs can obtain a mandamus to have the $21,000 collected.

"The court of revision and Judge Talbot Macbeth have plainly shown that the annexed property is liable," declared Ald. Ashplant Saturday. "If the city council had not obstructed the execution of the duties of the civic officials the tax would now have been collected."

"The city solicitor's opinion shows that this property is liable for the 14 mill rate school tax. Now it is left to such citizens as feel so disposed to get together at this end of the city as they are paying $21,000 more than they would have to pay if the annexed districts were properly taxed."

"It would cost $200 to take this thing to the high court for a mandamus. They seem to be waiting for me to take the lead."

"There is $150,000 assessment in rough figures, of exempted property not assessed at all in the annexed district. That is the interest I have as this property is liable to school tax, which totals about $21,000 per year."

"Secondly,"

"The city solicitor advises that all property in the annexed district is liable to a fourteen mill school rate, totaling thousands of dollars in taxes. Although I never advocated that, it is up to someone else to go after that legitimate revenue."

"A person building a residence in the annexed district now pays full taxes on the assessment of the city assessors. While factories and other exempted property pay nothing. One firm, the largest in the district, pays taxes on about $1,500, while the assessed value of the premises is more than $200,000."

"Because of Mayor Wilson's attitude," the alderman further alleged, "these interests pay nothing in school taxes. I am not after those who pay fifteen mills now, although the solicitor rules, as I have maintained, that they can be made to pay the school tax."

"What I am after is the taxes that the city is entitled to from the property in the annexed district paying nothing now, nor since annexation."

TRAIN HITS AUTO; TWO DEAD.

Cobourg, June 17.—Robert Sculthorpe and a man named Dawson were killed and Harry Rowson, all of Port Hope, Ont., was injured when the automobile in which they were driving was struck by a Toronto-Montreal flyer at the G. T. R. crossing during the thunderstorm of last night.

Deny Delorme Tore His Collar From Throat

MONTREAL, June 17.—It was ascertained this morning that Adelard Delorme, who suffered slightly from nausea at the conclusion of yesterday's court proceedings, had quite recovered and was now in his usual health at the county jail.

One report had it that the prisoner had torn his collar from his throat, and had vomited violently, but this is denied by officials, who explained that Delorme always removed his collar before being taken back to the jail from the court house, and that while the heat and close atmosphere of the court had slightly affected him for a few minutes last night, the accused man had quickly regained his composure.

WITNESS TELLS HOW DELORME RENTED HOUSES

Neighbor Declares Ex-Priest Selected Tenants by Ability To Pay.

GAVE STREET BAD NAME

Chaplain Testifies Prisoner Appears Impressed by Notoriety Obtained.

MONTREAL, June 16.—That Agard Delorme, the ex-priest, who is now standing trial on the charge of having murdered his half-brother, Raoul, the 24-year-old Ottawa College student, whose dead body was found lying in the snow in a northern suburb of this city on January 6 last, had "rented his houses too well," and as a consequence the street in which they were located "did not have a very good name," was the evidence of Dr. Handfield in the court of king's bench here this afternoon, who was called just previous to the adjournment of the case until Monday next.

Dr. Handfield stated that he was a neighbor of Delorme's, his property on St. Hubert street adjoining that of the ex-priest, and that one conversation he had had with him had led him to doubt Delorme's sanity.

The evidence in the Delorme trial today turned upon the question of sanity of the ex-priest. To this end Provincial Autopsist Dr. Derome was closely questioned by Justice Monet and Crown Prosecutor Walsh. Dr. Derome suggested that opinion of Delorme's mental condition should be based on "the ensemble" of his words and actions during the period of his incarceration in Bowdoin Jail.

Chaplain Testifies. Father Eugene Lachapelle, chaplain of Bowdoin Jail, was another witness. Delorme had told him on one occasion that his trial would be a fine and famous one, and had appeared greatly impressed with the fact that his name had become world-famous. He always spoke of this with an air of self-satisfaction on account of the "glory" it had brought him.

"I never saw him sorrowing for a single minute," said Father Lachapelle. Dr. Handfield stated that he had known Delorme for four or five years, though his acquaintance with the prisoner had not been continuous. Dr. Handfield stated that he had come to the conclusion the priest was a madman. He used to meet him two or three times a week, usually in the garage. During their conversations Dr. Handfield said Delorme would often violently gesticulate and make wild statements. On one occasion the priest gave him to understand he was worth from two to three million dollars.

Mr. Monet here interrupted to ask if the witness had ever had occasion to doubt Delorme's sanity.

Rented Houses "Too Well." Dr. Handfield replied that such an occasion had arisen once. They were discussing Delorme's tenants at the time.

"If his tenants did not pay," declared the witness, "they were put out. He (Delorme) expelled them without pity."

Dr. Handfield—"Yes; he rented his houses too well."

Mr. Monet—"What do you mean by 'too well'?"

Dr. Handfield—"He rented his houses to anyone, and the street, as a consequence, did not have a very good name. That was my chief complaint against him."

Mr. Walsh here interposed to suggest an adjournment to permit the witnesses to complete the big work before them. Judge Monet accordingly adjourned court until Monday.

URGES POLITICS BE ELIMINATED

British Delegate Makes Appeal To Experts At Hague Parley.

Conference Forced To Establish Thirteen Sub-Commissions.

THE HAGUE, June 16.—The pressure of the smaller European countries, especially those adjacent to, and having vital political and commercial interests in Russia, today forced the Hague conference to form sub-commissions of thirteen instead of eleven members, as had been planned by the allied leaders.

This is interpreted by all the delegates as indicating not only a determination not to be shut out of the important discussions by the greater powers, but as manifesting eagerness about the future of the disorganized Russian state.

Foreign Minister van Karnebeek of Holland was entrusted by the conference with the task of naming the members of the three sub-commissions, and personnel will be announced Monday afternoon, to which time this afternoon's session was adjourned.

Virtually all the European countries now represented at The Hague have signified their intention to join the main Russian commission. France has reserved her decision regarding participation until after the meeting in London between M. Poincaré, the French premier, and David Lloyd George, the British prime minister.

Delorme Insists He Is Not Insane.

MONTREAL, June 16.—Shortly before 4 o'clock today the court adjourned the Delorme trial till Monday morning. In the latter part of the trial Father Lachapelle, the jail chaplain, gave evidence, in which he stated that Delorme told him a series of peculiar questions. "Do they want me to pass for a fool?" asked the prisoner. "Don't you see that I am perfectly lucid?"

DUNDAS CENTRE HOLDS PICNIC

Children of Methodist Sunday School Gather At Springbank.

Twenty-Three Sporting and Racing Events Keenly Contested.

Springbank was the scene of one of the largest and most enjoyable picnics of the season on Friday afternoon, when more than three hundred members of the Dundas Centre Church, including the Sunday school, journeyed to London's summer Mecca for the annual outdoor celebration.

From 4 o'clock, when the sports began, until the last car left the park, idle moments were as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth, and though everyone was tired and a few of the children disheveled when home was reached, all were unanimous in the assertion that it was the merriest gathering the members of Dundas Centre had ever attended, and was without doubt a "perfect day."

George Copeland, A. E. Cowley, W. Quigley, Ed. Hannah and J. W. Cahill were responsible for the fine program of sports and for the able manner in which they were handled. There were 23 events in all, for tots under 5 years, for boys and girls, and for people of a more mature age.

The sports started at 4 o'clock and lasted without a break until 6, when a bounteous supper was served by the Ladies' Aid.

C. E. German, the popular superintendent of the Sunday school, acted as the grand master of ceremonies, and his efforts went far toward making the picnic the success it was.

After tea the majority of the picnicers enjoyed the varied pleasures of the amusement park, some of the young people passing the evening in dancing.

The results of the sports are as follows: Boys, 6 years and under, 25 yards—1 Gordon Berry, 2 Harry Winnett.

Girls, 6 years and under, 25 yards—1 Mary Sumner, 2 Gladys Nelles.

Boys, 8 years and under, 25 yards—1 Roy Thomas, 2 Harry Banks, 3 Charles Gibson.

Girls, 8 years and under, 25 yards—1 Mae Andrews, 2 Jean Gibson, 3 Agnes Magee.

Boys, 10 years and under, 50 yards—1 Harold Marding, 2 Fred Jones, 3 Almon Cahill.

Girls, 10 years and under, 50 yards—1 Frances Gibson, 2 Bonnie Banks, 3 Ada Berry.

Boys, 12 years and under, 75 yards—1 Jim Kerr, 2 Bob Woodard, 3 Reg Thomas.

Young men's race, open, 100 yards—1 Jack Saunders, 2 Lloyd Brodie, 3 Stewart Ward.

Young ladies' chum race—1 Mary Thompson and Pearl Thomas, 2 Bonnie Banks and Annie Cahill, 3 Adie Reel and Bessie Rigney.

Boys' three-legged race—1 Bill Cohen and Howard Ohey, 2 Jack Saunders and Pearl Thomas, 3 Arnold Ward and J. Wainwright.

Married Men's race, open—1 Mr. A. R. Cowley, 2 Mr. J. Wainwright, Mr. H. S. Hardy.

Blind pig race—Stewart Ward, a Fred Jones.

Candy eating contest—1 Stewart Ward, 2 Lewis Harding.

Boys' sack race—1 Harry Banks, 2 Frank Clark.

Girls' sack race—1 Bessie Rigney, 2 Della Winnett, 3 Mae Andrews.

Ballroom race, primary—1 Mae Andrews, 2 Harry Winnett, 3 Fred Magee.

Ladies' ball throwing contest—Bonnie Banks.

Kickety match, ladies, single vs. married—Won by married ladies.

Kite flying, Chinese department vs. all comers—1 Chin Giam, 2 Chu Win, 3 Sing Chin.

TRAVELERS TO HOLD BIG PICNIC

5,000 Will Back Big Outing At Port Stanley July 15.

Members From All Parts of Western Ontario Will Participate.

Friday night detailed arrangements were completed for the mammoth Commercial Travelers' Picnic to be held at Port Stanley on July 15. It is said that this picnic will be the largest that Western Ontario has ever seen, backed as it is by 5,000 members of the Ontario Commercial Travelers' Association, the United Commercial Travelers' lodges and other commercial travelers' organizations. Friday night's meeting was presided over by J. C. Doidge.

Preparations are being made to handle 5,000 people from London alone, which will be the collecting point for the larger part of Western Ontario. St. Thomas will augment the attendance by another thousand or so. The outing will be open to all travelers without regard to their affiliation in local organizations, and thousands of technical "outsiders" will go to Port for the picnic as the guests of the commercial men.

Arrange Sports Program. Elaborate preparations are being made to run off a program of sports and other events which has never been equalled in this district. Thirty-five separate events have already been outlined for which prizes will be offered. The oldest commercial traveler on the ground will be presented with a special prize, and the list already suggested includes electric ranges, vacuum cleaners and other articles of household utility down to a Shetland pony for one of the children's events.

The sports committee is headed by R. S. McGee and the report submitted by him was adopted with enthusiasm. The special event of the day will be a "mystery contest," which will be the biggest surprise of the season.

In addition to the general sports program, which will include several feature water events, there will be a matched baseball game between the travelers and the Kiwanis Club.

Day and night fireworks will be exhibited on the beach, with special open-air vaudeville stunts. There will be a tug-of-war between the travelers of Middlesex and Elgin counties. There are 90 commercial travelers resident in St. Thomas, it was pointed out in this connection.

Stage Motor Parade. Oliver Gidley, chairman of the publicity committee, proposed a budget to be made up chiefly of newspaper advertising. This report was carried unanimously. In addition to two Saturday evenings preceding the picnic the travelers will stage a motor parade in London to attract public attention. Similar parades will be held in St. Thomas.

The prize committee, beyond general statements of intentions, which will be carried out as soon as the sports committee, under F. W. St. Lawrence, has cleared up initial work, contented itself with reporting progress. D. S. McGugan is chairman of the prize directorate.

The transportation committee, under A. E. Cowley, reported that satisfactory arrangements had been made with the London and Port Stanley Railway, which had promised excellent co-operation, beyond furnishing the necessary trains.

The finance committee, under E. N. Hannah, president of the O. C. T. A., will present a detailed report at the next meeting of the general committee.

Every traveler in London, whatever association or lodge he is in, is urged by the general committee to become a booster for the picnic convention and to enlist now in an effort to make it the biggest and most successful event of its kind ever held in the province.

IRISH PRIMATE IS SEARCHED AT LINE

turns from yesterday's preliminary elections in South Ireland are not expected before next Tuesday night at the earliest. Meanwhile, such inkling of the result as can be gleaned are taken by observers to corroborate the forecast that, notwithstanding the pact between the Collins and DeValera forces, resulting in the nomination of agreed-upon candidates, the Republicans will suffer losses.

The chief indication was furnished by the vote at the National University at Dublin, where the voting papers were seized by raiders, headed by Rory O'Connor, of the irregular Republican army shortly after the conclusion of the voting. The carrying off of the documents, however, had no effect on the result, as a decision as to the candidates elected had been reached before the raiders arrived.

The announcement showed that Dr. Ada English, Republican, had been displaced. She was very prominent in the Dail Eireann in resistance to the treaty, while Professor McGinnis, who was returned in her stead, was an active supporter of the Anglo-Irish pact.

It was explained today that the object of the raiders, representing the dissident section of the voters, was to discover how the university electors had voted, and whether all the Sinn Feinists among them had obeyed the Collins-DeValera pact. This was the only constituency capable of providing this information as contrary to the rule prevailing elsewhere the university voters sign their names to the voting papers.

MacNEILL ELECTED. DUBLIN, June 16.—Professor John MacNeill, speaker of the Dail Eireann, who is in favor of the Anglo-Irish treaty, led in the voting for Dublin University candidates by a substantial majority when the first electoral result was announced tonight.

Summer Boys' Tiser

SUMMER CAMPS TO BE HELD IN MANY PLACES

Where Some Of The Various Groups Intend Going During The Vacation Period.

A wireless outfit is being erected at Fisher's Glen camp this summer, and the campers will be instructed in the use of equipment. Many boys are taking interest in radio and are going to camp for the purpose of learning more about it.

Mr. E. E. Murtagh, the leader of the Winchester Junior Rifle Corps (W. J. R. C.) is giving his time voluntarily for every evening except Wednesday each week, so that the boys belonging to the three "V" groups and the one independent unit can prepare for the contest which will take place this fall.

Mr. Hugh Murray of the Kiwanis Club is putting up an office this week in the King Edward Hotel, to be of service to all the international Kiwanians who are interested in boys' work. Mr. Murray is to be congratulated on the interest he is taking, not only for the boys of London, but he is stretching out his influence and interest in helping all the boys all over our country.

Jack and Don Manuel have gathered up all their country togs and departed for regions close to Fisher's Glen, where they will pick berries and make enough money for their stay at Fisher's Glen camp. Any other senior boys wishing to do the same can apply to Mr. Spencer at the Government Employment Bureau for similar positions.

The Alerts group of the Wellington Street Methodist Church is signing up all its boys to go to Fisher's Glen camp this summer. We believe that this is the best way to put in part of our summer holidays, and we expect not only to have a mighty good time but also to learn a few new stunts to bring back for our winter's program.

Mr. Howard Young is taking a gang of twenty boys down on Lake Erie to a place called Tyronnell, near Port Stanley. The boys are expecting to stay there for a week.

Cubs and Wingfoots of Knox Presbyterian Church are expecting to camp again at Bayfield for two weeks this summer. Mr. Bob Ferguson and Murdo McLean are leaders of this group.

Curly Horwood has announced his intention of going to the Tuxis and leadership camp at Fisher's Glen the first two weeks in July. He states that if any boys turn up with a watermelon this year he would like to have the fact announced before he gets to camp.

Mr. Elmer Sage and Messrs. Hugh Murray and Lloyd M. Houlding marked out the grounds this week on the flats of Sage's farm for a month's camp, July 18 to Aug. 18. A spot underneath some shade trees was selected for the cookhouse and dining hall, which is to be erected by the Kiwanis Club.

Amateur swimmers were also made for a diving board for the river and a boxing ring and other equipment, which will give the Ki-Y boys a splendid holiday.

George Mace, the leader of the "Honeybees," has been driving his car around this week in aid of the United Welfare campaign. George states that he was out to get money to keep the boys' work going. Mr. Mace has refereed many games of baseball this week and is taking a real interest in all the boys of London.

SWIMMING AT THE "Y." The summer membership at the small fee of 50 cents has become very popular, and over 100 boys, who were not members of the "Y" before, have joined up to take advantage of this splendid opportunity to learn how to swim. There are three swimming classes for beginners, and Mr. George Sinclair is on the job again to take these classes.

WINGFOOTS HUMBLE STOICS IN EIGHTH INNING. W. Gidley Drives Home R. Roughley With Winning Run.

The Knox Wingfoots snatched a victory from the Ridout Street Stoics at Queen's Park by a score of 5-4. The game was a very close one, as indicated by the score. Both pitchers must have struck their luck today, as many strike-outs were made by each. In spite of the fact that the Wingfoots had only six men, they certainly kept the Stoics well in hand the whole game, which is due partly to the Wingfoot pitcher, R. Roughley, who did some excellent work on the mound. The Stoics must be given the credit of having the only good hit of the game, and due to the wild throw from center field to third, resulted in a home run. Up till the sixth, the score was 2-4 for the Stoics, and it looked as though the Wingfoots must certainly drop their winning streak, when they started to slam the pill for a few good hits, which brought in two runs, thereby saving the day for the time being. The Stoics went in to bat twice more, but were put out in short order. The Wingfoots did not score again until the eighth, when R. Roughley went in to bat, and landing on first base, he stole around to third, while E. Wilson, the Stoic pitcher, was looking over W. Gidley, who loomed up at the plate, and the first one over he hit for a single, which was all that was necessary to bring Bob in on high with the winning run. Batteries: Stoics—E. Wilson, p.; P. Mason, c. Wingfoots—R. Roughley, p.; W. Gray, c.

The first Dominion medal to be won by a girl of London was recently awarded to Miss Pearl Fortner. Miss Fortner also has the pro marksman, marksman and sharpshooter medals of the Winchester Junior Rifle Corps.

Many of the boys and girls of this city are taking great interest in the Dominion Marksman Club.

The local club, known as the Anzac, has met with great success since the day of its organization. It recently won second place in the provincial match.

YOU SIMPLY HAVE TO KEEP BOYS EMPLOYED NOW

It's Natural For Them To Look For Something To Do In Summer.

For many London boys exams are over. The old books are tucked away for two months; the plugging is at an end and now what are they going to do?

One boy says: "Now for a good time," as though he has had to keep his nose ground to the wheel of study and discipline for ten months. Another boy says: "Now for work." "Work never hurt any boy," says the experienced "boy grown old," and this is only too true.

Let us look at some of the opportunities available to kill time, and to fill time those long eight or ten weeks.

Boys, aged 5 to 10 will go to one of the splendid playgrounds under excellent supervision, and there play all day long.

Older boys, from 10 years of age up, want more variety, and they will seek work.

Temporary employment is difficult to secure in the city. How about cutting grass for your neighbors or picking strawberries for the farmers. Some of the old adages and maxims are for boys to adults: "boy labor is cheaper and more docile, and seldom demands higher wages."

We can't all work, but we can surely make something. Did you ever transform an old baby buggy into a dog house, or build a bench or stool? Then you have had some real fun. Did you ever leave the hammer out in the dirt or forget father's best saw was left in the rain, or run into a rusty old nail with the only gimlet on the place? Did you ever ruin the family screwdriver by using it for a cold chisel, or did you ever chop your toe trying to split a board? If you have, then you have had a beginner's course in handicraft, and you'll be thankful all your life for the experience. Most boys like to make things.

Making Things. Most boys like making things. Every boy enjoys tools if he just has the chance to use them. Once there were two boys who were shut up in a city with no backyard, save a small cement court, and these two boys gratified their handicraft desire by taking their bicycles apart, including a coaster brake, just so that they might put them back again. "Learn by doing." It is the best way in the world and around most homes there is plenty of chance to see what you can do. Mother needs shelves here and there; or a porch box; or a wash bench; or a bit of fence around her bed of roses. Then there are electric bells that won't ring, and doors that won't latch properly, and everything else seems to get out of fix. Just so, you will get some chance to practice handicraft, but remember the way for every craftsman is careful work? Yes, but apply three tests always: is it careful, thorough work; what is it good for; are its lines symmetrically good; the real craftsman is an artist and loves the beautiful in form, finish and material.

THE ONEIDAS HAVE NEW ORGANIZATION IN SOUTH

On Friday night, June 16, a meeting was held by the South End youths, with the object of organizing a club. The meeting was a success, as the boys turned out in a good number.

Mr. Geo. Hundertmark took the chair for the meeting, and the organization was soon under way. The members of the club decided to change their name from South End Teetunseks to Oneidas.

The following officers were elected and started their duties at once: Honorary president, R. Liddle, president, R. Drake; vice-president, H. Plewes; secretary-treasurer, F. Hockney. The club will meet every Friday night. Those interested will find out what we are doing by watching the Boys' Summer Tiser.

WINGFOOTS WIN ANOTHER. This time the Wingfoots make the Senecas their victims at Thames Park on Tuesday evening, winning by 7-2. Once more R. Roughley is called on, and he responded by allowing them only two runs and striking out a good many. The Senecas were touched for seven runs altogether. The feature of the game was R. Knapton, who drove in the most runs, while the rest of the team did some lively work. Batteries: Senecas—W. Lowry, p.; M. George, c. Wingfoots—R. Roughley, p.; W. Gray, c. Umpire—Mr. Mace.

WINGFOOT'S MENTOR ON TRIP TO WEST. Murdo McLean left the city Sunday night for his home in British Columbia, on the C. P. R. This is the first time he has been away since he became our mentor, and we feel his loss greatly, even for the short time he may be gone. We are all looking forward to his return, when we will hold our camp near Bayfield for two weeks.

years ahead of time. The citizens present did not oppose these improvements, but thought they "came too soon."

The admission of members of the city council that the sewers which have caused an enormous increase in taxes up north should never have been laid was freely discussed, and the meeting opined that in view of the fact further relief should be granted.

The ratepayers present reiterated their intention of fighting for their alleged rights, taking their case to the courts if necessary, although the meeting expressed the belief that the city council will listen to reasonable demands and thereby eliminate any necessity of the owners taking legal action.

DECIDES ON BIG FINANCIAL DEAL

Dominion Savings and Investment Society Transfers Departments To Huron & Erie.

T. H. Purdom, K.C., Issues Explanatory Circular Letter To Stockholders.

The Dominion Savings and Investment Society has transferred its savings and investment department to the Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation. The Dominion Savings was organized 50 years ago next September, and has paid dividends continuously ever since.

The following circular letter, which is being sent to all the shareholders by the president, T. H. Purdom, K.C., explains itself.

Dear Sir,—The Dominion Savings and Investment Society has entered into an agreement with the Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation whereby the latter corporation assumes the debt of the society, and takes over its savings bank department.

This course was decided on at account of the action of the superintendent of loan corporations at Toronto. The superintendent thought the society did not possess sufficient liquid assets to meet a sudden call or run. It was very desirable that savings accounts and debentures should be safe beyond a doubt, and the agreement with the Huron & Erie secures both.

"I have always regarded the assets as worth more than par, and in that belief purchased stock in the society until I held nearly one-third of the whole capital stock, and with the other members of my family, nearly one-half of the whole. I purchased stock at the market price a few weeks ago.

"The society was organized in 1872, and has paid dividends continuously ever since, a period of 50 years. The management, aided by the Huron & Erie, will do its best to produce the best results for its shareholders. I am very much interested in realizing all possible for the shareholders, and will do my best. The deposits and debentures are secured, and the shareholders can later determine whether they will continue as a society or liquidate. I favor reorganization.

"When arrangements are complete a meeting will be held to confirm the agreement with the Huron & Erie. I was much pleased with the agreement which secured the deposits and debentures, and avoided all delay in the payment of these, and is much to the advantage of the shareholders. Yours respectfully,
"T. H. PURDOM,
"President."

"U." WILL OPEN SUMMER SCHOOL

Summer school at Western University will open two weeks from Monday next. Registrations are coming in fast at the present time, Dr. Neville, the registrar, reports. Forty-one students attended the summer school in 1921, and according to indications at the present time, an increase of 100 per cent in attendance, bringing the student number up to 82 or so, will be had this year, the university authorities state.

At the present time most of the professors of the faculty are absent on a short vacation between the end of the regular school and opening of the summer school.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth unto his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth unto the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap eternal life.—Galatians vi:7-8.

JONES-CRINKLOW AWAIT DECISION

While more than a week has elapsed since the trial, none of the officials in the region of the Middlesex County Buildings appear to know just what judgment was handed down by Squire W. H. Chittick in the case, John Jones vs. John Crinklow.

The magistrate withheld a decision following the trial, as he desired to consult the crown attorney. Nothing has seemingly been heard of the affair since, and the plaintiff visited the court house Friday in search of definite information, but without result.

Jones and Crinklow are neighbors out in Westminster Township, and aired in court their troubles, which are said by the authorities to be the result of a feud of long standing.

ALARMED OVER ACTION OF PENSIONS COMMITTEE

Winnipeg Veterans at Mass Meeting Vigorously Oppose Curtailing Existing Arrangements.

Winnipeg, June 17.—A resolution was adopted at a mass meeting of service men and dependents called by the Great War Veterans' Association here last night, viewing with great indignation and alarm the information that a parliamentary committee on pensions and re-establishment contemplates destroying in part what had already been decided. The resolution declared that the committee had failed to deal properly with the present "grave problem of pensions."

Any attempt on the part of parliament to curtail through its special committee existing arrangements will be most vigorously opposed and continued, subsequently showing them to be unwise and bringing the latter into court to identify them. "Koehler, plus detectives, that is the whole story," concluded Attorney McEvoy.

WILLING TO MAKE FULL RESTITUTION

Charles Davies, Charged With Robbery, Remanded by Magistrate Graydon.

Charles Davies, who a week ago pleaded guilty to robbing the shoe repair shop of Albert Stock, on the Wellington road, was again remanded to jail when he appeared before Magistrate Graydon for sentence Saturday morning. W. B. Henderson, counsel for Davies, stated that the boy's father was prepared to make restitution once the exact amount stolen was made known.

In appealing for clemency Mr. Henderson stated that the boy, who is but 18, had always been industrious at his trade of steamfitter, until he was laid off three months ago. He had had access to Mr. Stock's place of business and had succumbed to temptation.

"How can I overlook the fact that there are two convictions against this young man?" asked Mr. Graydon. "I have the greatest respect for his father, he is spoken of in the highest terms. The young man had no urgent need of money, and he had a good home. If I had acted on the impulse of the moment last week I would have sent him to the reformatory."

Acting Crown Attorney Douglas stated that the boy had stolen from Stock repeatedly. A number of representations had been made to him on behalf of the boy.

"I will remand him for a week until a restitution has been made," declared the court, who asked Mr. Douglas to verify anything that had been said about the boy.

DEAF, BUT HEARS COURT SENTENCE

"Were you drunk?" asked Magistrate Graydon of an inebriated individual who was still swaying gently in the police court breeze Saturday morning.

"I'm guilty," came the answer. "All right, $10 and costs," replied the court.

"What's that? I'm a little hard of hearing," announced the guilty one. "Ten dollars and costs," thundered the court.

"All right, I'll sit down," said the accused sadly.

JURY DISAGREE IN M'MULLEN CASE

the outcome of the jury's deliberations.

Seated in the witness room with Provincial Officers A. Palmer and Atkins, she was told that the jury had disagreed.

Mrs. Koehler, it is admitted, gave the London police certain information that led to the arrest of the four alleged bandits, Edward McMullen, William Ayers, Casey Yohn and George Anderson, and if they are convicted she will receive a reward of $5,000.

Declines To Testify.

Despite the crown's announcement early in the trial that Carmen Mitchell, alleged Marine City gunman, now awaiting trial in the Lambton County jail on a charge of robbery with violence, was not called to the stand by the prosecution to testify as to certain things he is alleged to have heard while associated in the cells with the London suspects.

It was definitely stated again tonight by counsel for the defence that he declines to testify against McMullen's three alleged companions.

Meanwhile, the crown has opened its case against William Ayers, also of London, alleged accomplice of McMullen, the man whom a witness at the Sarnia preliminary hearing declared as a "two-gun" man, stating that as he left Wyoming bank he was blazing away with a pair of "six guns."

But three witnesses were called by the crown today, John Baird, former city engineer at Sarnia, H. L. Hambert, manager of the Wyoming bank, and Bert McNally of Watford.

At the instigation of Meredith and Newton of London, counsel for the defence of Ayers, the court ruled that Baird should prepare plans of the village of Wyoming other than those submitted at the trial.

Lambert on Stand.

Lambert again testified as to the actual robbery and the exact amount of money stolen.

Bert McNally, who stated he lived nine miles from the village of Watford, testified that about 10 o'clock on the morning of the robbery he saw four men with an auto stuck in a mudhole on London road.

"There is one of them," he asserted, pointing dramatically at the prisoner in the box.

Visiting Exhibitors At Peony Show Tour City's Beauty Spots In Autos

The peony show at the Armouries continued Saturday morning to draw its admiring crowds of both local and out-of-town visitors in spite of the rain. The judging has been completed, but the utmost care has been taken of the flowers, so that they still retain to the greatest degree their sweet freshness of beauty.

Early in the morning, a motor party, at which the guests were about twenty prominent exhibitors from other Canadian cities and from the United States, commenced a trip through the parks and boulevards to Springbank Park and to the gardens of S. F. Wood, near Kilworth.

PREDICT GUY MANN WILL BE RELEASED

Authorities Believe Mrs. Dawson Does Not Intend To Press Charge.

When Guy Mann of Lambeth faces Squire W. H. Chittick in the county police court Saturday afternoon to answer a charge of causing bodily injury while driving an automobile to the person of Mrs. A. Dawson, it is not improbable that he will be forthwith discharged.

It was freely intimated Saturday morning that Mrs. Dawson does not desire to press any charge against Mann, and that the authorities will decide not to continue the case.

Mann, upon the completion of a seven-day sentence for "driving an automobile while intoxicated" was again arrested, and ordered to appear for trial Saturday. He is out on $1,800 bail.

The prisoner collided with a car a week ago Sunday in South London driven by Leslie Cox of Goderich, when Mrs. Dawson, a cousin of the latter, who was seated in the same machine, was injured to such a degree as to necessitate medical attention until the present time. Both cars were badly smashed, and Mann was convicted of being intoxicated, although he swore positively that he had not had a drink of liquor that day.

FEELS AGREEMENT COULD BE BROKEN

Trustee Wright Would Collect
Further Tax From Annexed Districts.

Trustee J. B. Wright, chairman of the advisory vocational committee, deplores the fact that seemingly the city is not in a position to collect additional school taxes from manufacturing and other industries located in the portion of East London annexed by the city, but a few years ago.

The trustee holds that this money, if obtained, could be well used at this moment for the provision of further school accommodation. "The matter seems to have died down," he commented, "Ald. Ashplant made a good start, but nothing is now heard about it."

"It is my opinion," he continued, "that as the government allowed the street railway company and the gas company to break their contracts with the city, that any agreement entered into by the city council of annexation, could be countermanded similarly."

Trustee Wright termed those who apparently were reluctant to press the matter, as being afraid to tackle the proposition for fear that they might annoy certain interests.

BELMONT CITIZEN DIES SUDDENLY

Belmont, June 17.—The death occurred Saturday morning of Mrs. W. H. Soole of this village. Deceased had been ailing for some months, but the end came rather suddenly.

The late Mrs. Soole was Miss Elizabeth Dyer before her marriage. She had lived in Belmont all her life and was a staunch supporter of the Anglican church. Two daughters survive, Mrs. J. Walker of Portland, Maine, and Miss Marguerite, at home.

The magnificent gardens of London, the beautifully-laid-out parks, especially Springbank Park, where the natural beauty of the spot is superb, and the pleasant motor drives which are available in the vicinity of the city are a source of admiration to the visitors. It goes without saying that London's efforts toward making a city beautiful are not without appreciation.

The London Horticultural Society, in their campaign to further beautify the city, are setting their objective at 40,000 members, and the manifest success of the peony show will be an important factor in attaining this objective.

SALVATION ARMY OPENS HOSTEL

Drs. Hugh Stevenson and W. E. Bateson Speak at Ceremony.

Milfield House, the Salvation Army immigration hostel, at the corner of Ontario and King streets, was formally opened Friday afternoon, with Commissioner Sowton of Toronto officiating at the ceremonies.

The commissioner remarked on the work of the Salvation Army in bringing people from England to this country, stating that the lodges were of invaluable importance as they provided comfortable surroundings for the girls, in which they might be at home in a strange country. They were a connecting link with the homes they had left, and in their environment English girls might realize that Canada provides splendid opportunities for success in life.

"A chain of lodges throughout Canada from coast to coast," Commissioner Sowton said, "will make of girls coming to this country for service a fine type of Canadian womanhood."

Dr. Hugh Stevenson and Dr. W. E. Bateson gave short addresses appreciative of the work of the domestic lodge in providing a home for girls in a strange country.

THINK MEMBERS BREED ANARCHY

men and stationary firemen, brought total reductions effective July 1 under the board's order to $135,000,000. Approximately 1,200,000 railway employees are affected by the orders.

Accompanying yesterday's order carrying reductions ranging from 2 to 8 cents an hour, was a lengthy supporting opinion from the members representing the railroads and the public, and the dissenting opinion by the labor members condemning the order.

CUT $27,000,000 FROM PAY.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Pruning nearly $27,000,000 from the annual payroll of 325,000 railway employees by cutting clerks, signalmen and stationary firemen from two to six cents an hour, the United States Railway Labor Board today announced another slash, bringing total reductions under the board's orders up to $135,000,000 beginning July 1, signaling men five cents, and firemen two cents.

Approximately 1,200,000 railway employees will share the total reduction, which has brought vigorous protest from every union involved and is expected to result in a strike vote of ten railroad labor bodies. The voting is already under way in seven unions.

Over 300,000 Affected.

The bulk of those hit by the new cut will be 200,000 clerks, and 100,000 station employees. Telephone girls who, the board declared, have suffered from disproportionate increases, are given a minimum wage of $5 a month. A further proviso says that any "bell girls" who receive more than the amount at present shall not suffer any reduction.

Signalmen helpers suffer by the slash. Signal foremen and superintendents, however, escaped.

The 5,000 train dispatchers also suffered by the board's action. A decision covering the 500,000 telegraphers will be issued later.

The German Bogey.

BY THE TIME Hon. W. S. FIELDING finished dealing with the explanation of his changes to the budget there was little left for any critic to say. The finance minister's greatest asset all through has been frankness. He has made changes, and he has stated exactly why he made them, and his explanation has been so straight that it has carried conviction over the heads of his critics, right into the country at large.

Take the cry that has been raised in regard to depreciated currency. Conservative papers have been carrying the information that the King government has set out to give a preference to German goods; the horrors of the war have been raked up again, in the press and on the floor of the house. Mr. FIELDING dealt with that situation in a way that brought small comfort to those who were seeking to make small political capital of the subject.

Pointing to members opposite, in the Conservative ranks, he remarked: "I think it was my honorable friend from Vancouver (Mr. STEVENS) who pictured the horrors of the war, and asked: 'Are we going to trade with these German people?' And my honorable friend from St. John (Mr. BAXTER) went further, if I am not mistaken; he thundered his denunciations against the Germans, and asked beseechingly: 'Are we going to trade with these Germans?'"

When my honorable friend waves the bloody shirt and thunders out his denunciation against what he terms the premature peace, he is denouncing his leader, because his leader and his friends were the people who brought about that peace. I was not one of those who joined in the joy-ride to Paris, nor did any colleague of mine, when our friends opposite went through the amusing farce of pretending to negotiate the peace treaty. They are the men who signed, sealed and delivered that document, which on the first page declared that its purpose was to put an end to the state of war and bring about between Germany and the allied countries, including Canada, a firm and enduring peace. But they did more than that—they wasted $1,000,000 of the money of the people of Canada in a special session of parliament for the purpose of approving that treaty—about as useful and necessary a proceeding as the fifth wheel of a coach."

So these are the men, and their friends, who today cry about trading with Germany.

But what about this depreciated currency? It is a problem that has to be dealt with. The value of the German mark is changing all the time although it seems impossible that it can go much lower and still exist at all. The Italian currency the money of an Allied nation, is also depreciated, and it is surely not the wish of Canada to put an added handicap on trading with a friend. Mr. FIELDING's solution is original, and seems to meet the case.

In his own explanation he remarked: "We are not thinking of the value of the mark, but we propose to have the value of the article determined by the standard of the English value. If two parcels come into Canada on the same day, one being from England and one from Germany, both of the same character, the value shall be determined by the value of the English article, if articles are made in England or like class. Where the articles are not made in England, and, therefore, you cannot get the English standard of value to serve your purpose, you take the value in a neighboring country where the currency has no substantial depreciation. Whatever the English value of the article we will take as the value of the foreign country."

Surely that is plain and simple and workable. It puts an end to all the talk of there being a desire on the part of the King government, through the FIELDING budget, to flood Canada with German-made goods.

The Lenine Rumors.

RUMOR FOLLOWS rumor with great rapidity as to what has become, or what will become of NIKOLAI LENINE. Canadians neither love nor admire this man, but in spite of all the evil that has followed his ascendancy to power, his removal at this time might make things even worse in Russia.

Of all the Bolshevik leaders, and they are legion, LENINE has been the ablest, the most forceful, perhaps the most relentless—but not the most fanatical.

His brain has never been incapable of making logical deductions, or of arranging facts sequentially and learning lessons therefrom.

With LENINE removed from his commanding position there is every likelihood that rampant sovietism will repudiate all its promises, and insist on maintaining out-and-out communism with all its impossibilities and horrors.

There are Soviet leaders in the former land of the "Tsars" today who would rather see nine-tenths of the Russian people starve than retreat a foot from their bloody Utopia.

There are other leaders, less fanatical and more canny, who are chiefly concerned with the business of keeping their present soft jobs.

These two classes, the sincere zealots and the crooked self-seekers, are the most vociferous, and as unfortunately vociferation counts for much in Russia today, they will, in all probability, succeed to the power of the silent and subtle LENINE.

TROTSKY, who has been after LENINE, the foremost figure in the Bolshevik tyranny, is likely to become absolute dictator. He is loud-mouthed, frothy and superficial, qualities which even won him a rabid following during his sojourn in New York—but his popularity is immense.

The reasonably well fed Soviet army is composed of TROTSKY's men, because TROTSKY feeds them. The city mobs enjoy TROTSKY's rant, and the results may ultimately prove appalling, and will in all likelihood put an end to the efforts of Russia's well-wishers.

So it is that the loss of LENINE, despite his record of infamy, might result in Russia crashing downward from her present pinnacle of dumb misery to the lowest depths of utter hopelessness.

Reaping the Whirlwind.

HISTORY is being made fast in this week. It tells of the days immediately preceding the downfall of Jerusalem, after which came the Babylonian captivity. The scene, as in the case of lessons in previous Sundays, is at Jerusalem, and the year 586 B.C. At few places have we records of more painfully dramatic scenes than that attending the close of ZEDEKIAH's career. A long time before he had been entreated by JEREMIAH to surrender to NERUCHADNEZZAR, so that he might gain mercy for himself and the city, and was assured by the prophet that God would protect him in so doing.

ZEDEKIAH refused positively to surrender, nor was there any thought on his part of repentance. He prepared to defend the city of Jerusalem. After eighteen months of all the indescribable horrors of siege, with the accompaniments of starvation and disease, the city was taken and ZEDEKIAH attempted to escape.

It is well to get the settings of these lessons correct. It gives more realism and point to the entire teaching. It was in December, B.C. 588, that the siege commenced. The day of the month was the tenth, hence the last of December, since the tenth month of the Jewish year corresponds to the latter part of December and the first part of January of our year. NERUCHADNEZZAR, the victor, reigned in Babylon for 43 years, and some of the best historians claim that were it not for him the Babylonians would have had no place in history.

So much for the historical setting of the lesson. What of its practical application? Simply this: that no man, no nation, or organization can keep on running past the warning posts of life, without ending up in a wreck. The golden text tells it all: "Whatever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." That has been the text for a great many sermons, and it has been the cause and effect of many told and untold calamities.

There are men today, caught up and carried away with passions and ideas that will some day hang as millstones around their necks. There are men who, in the mistaken sense of their own puny strength, laugh at the handwriting on the wall.

The lesson under discussion is staged over 2,500 years ago, but it is only necessary to look around right now to see that it has its 1922 setting and application.

LITTLE 'TISERS

So far we haven't had our annual "Swat the Fly" editorial.

The trouble that officers have in locating them indicates that the term "blind pig" is not running true to form.

Church conferences this year have been so busy with race horses, bootleggers and smoking habits that the devil himself has got off fairly easy.

One way to stop speeders would be to build cars that couldn't run over 20 miles an hour. Of course, some one is bound to rise and say that folks wouldn't buy them then.

Somewhat critical is the Montreal Gazette, in reviewing the session of the Ontario Legislature, just closed. "The Ontario Legislature," says the Gazette, has concluded the longest session on record in that province, a session of eighty days, and the people who have to pay the bills are now somewhat gloomily taking stock of the work accomplished. Legislative sessions are expensive things, and when they are prolonged unduly the time wasted represents a direct and substantial loss to the taxpayers."

Gambling on horse races is receiving general attention from many sources. The Brussels Post has the following to say: "Because race track gambling has had a kink put in it by the authorities there is a great deal kicked up by those who have been fishing for 'suckers' and making good catches. In our judgment betting should be cut out, as the youths who have gone to the 'bad' by such transaction are neither few nor far between. To get something for nothing is a bait probably few

MY LASSIE'S AT HOME.

(Written For a Laddie).

ATONT oor Atlantic—yon measureless waters—
Yon turbulent ocean—yon foam-crested sea;
By streams never drumlike, which flow near tae heather,
At home wi' my lassie I'm wearie tae be.
Awa' o'er this ocean—this aff trouble ocean,
Wi' feeters sae boundless, sae briny, sae blue,
Aboard fleetest liner, I'd sail frae oor seaport,
Tae be wi' this lassie that fondly I lo'e.

Chorus—
Dear far-awa' Scotia! sae wee, yet sae bonnie,
Wi' brae an' wi' burnie, wi' loch an' wi' glen,
Keep for me my treasure—my dearly lo'd treasure—
My bonnie, braw lassie—my plighted, sweet Gwen.

MY lassie is winsome, she's modest, she's clever;
Her voice is as music; her een are o' blue;
Her lips are as rosebuds that ne'er hae been sullied;
It's nae a bit wonder that Gwennie I lo'e!
She's fair as a flower that's kissed by a dewdrop;
She's pure as a lily that smiles in a dell;
Her beauty surpasses oor blue-bells o' Scotia;
Tae me she's perfection—perfection itself!

Chorus—
Dear far-awa' Scotia, etc.

OH! mirror my lassie, ye waters o' Scotia,
When she in her beauty roams near tae thy side,
For ne'er has a fairer, we sossie, sweet lassie,
Tread banks o' Loch Lomond, sweet Afton, or Clyde.
In a' thy rare beauty, ye hills clad wi' heather,
Noo, gie her thy welcome—thy best welcome gie!
Awhyle, wi' her presence, she'll grace Scottish footpaths—
Oh! welcome my bonnie, braw lassie for me.

The Milverton Sun comes along with a yarn that would make one believe the Listowel Banner has found a brand-new way to snare the elusive dollar: "For some time a number of Listowel Sports have been assailing the Banner man with liberal showers of 'Irish confetti,' and he has not always been able to ward them off, but recently his turn came when he corralled a bunch of them in a house where the blue lights do not glare, and they were given a week to present 'substantial reason' why their names should not decorate the front page of the Banner. It is rumored, although we cannot vouch for the accuracy of the story, that the way five-years-in-advance subscriptions poured into that office was a caution."

The Financial Post considers that the views of western farmers, as expressed in the house at Ottawa, should have every consideration by the people of the east, who have no other way of getting the viewpoint of the west. The Post says: "One cannot but be struck by the soundness of argument advanced by these level-headed western farmer members. Manufacturers are too apt to fear the farmer in politics. Experience in Ontario has proven that the farmer in politics exercises the same native shrewdness and judgment that characterizes his dealings back on the concession lines. More consideration of the study of their speeches in the house by those who condemn them unheard as Bolsheviks or dangerous men would lead to closer bonds between east and west."

The Stratford Beacon doubts that the three-party system is going to work out in the long run to the general advantage of Canada. In support of this opinion it says: "The present three-party system at Ottawa is not as conducive to stability in administration as the old, the King government, though by far the strongest group in the house, being only about equal in strength to the two opposition parties combined. The Progressives and Conservatives have nothing in common, yet their opposition to the budget from entirely different viewpoints undoubtedly created a serious situation. Yet had an election been forced, the present administration, which is just started upon its work, would undoubtedly have been sustained, with its majority probably increased." The position, as stated by the Beacon is correct, but signs are not wanting that show the situation will work out in its own cure. The Liberal party in Canada is in the ascendancy, and the honest common sense it has displayed so far has not failed to impress the entire community.

TODAY'S word is SUCCUMB. It's pronounced—su-kum, with accent on the second syllable. The "b" was once but is now rarely sounded. It means—to lie or sink down as the result of pressure or force; to yield; to submit. It comes from—Latin "sub," under, and "cumbere," which is akin to "cubare," to lie down. It's used like this—"People occasionally succumb to heat during the summer months in most parts of the country."

Here is a property you have for sale. And before you is a letter of inquiry from a prospective purchaser. You note that the letter is written in a well-rounded hand. You are going to see that inquirer and make an effort to sell him the property. You are wondering what line of appeal you should adopt in a general way.

If you know nothing of handwriting, there is nothing you can do until you see the man, and get a chance to size him up and talk to him face to face. But if you have posted yourself a bit on graphology, you know right off the bat that whatever other factors may be involved, the ideas of comfort and pleasure are going to be one of the main factors on which that man, or woman, makes the decision. Your prospect may prove to be of the mental type, or the active type, the patient or the impatient, the thrifty and practical or the generous and impractical. Those things you will take into account as soon as you are able to find out about them. But in the meantime you want to spend a few moments thinking over that property and gathering together all the points which will serve in an argument in favor of its comfort and convenience. It will pay you well to be ready with such an argument, whether you find out you have merely to talk about comfort and pleasure or comfort and leisure as measured in terms of dollars and cents.

EXAMINATION TIME

Editor Advertiser: Sir—I think it is about time that something should be done in regard to the way teachers set their pupils' work up into state bordering on nervous breakdown over the examination business. My own children right now are able to think or talk of nothing else. They have done fairly good work through the term, but now that the end of the term is in sight they are being told every day, and many times in the day, that they must come up with the subject and make a few more marks in that. The result is that they are confused and rattled all the time. They seem to imagine that their examinations are something in the nature of an operation or some sort of ordeal. Surely there can be some common sense way of dealing with these matters. Are the teachers graded according to the number of scholars they can crowd through at examination times, or what is the explanation of it? I am certain that there are people in all parts of the city who are having the same problem. MOTHER.

GETTING CLOSER TO MARS

By HARRY WESTOBY, Guelph.

THE planet Mars is now in "opposition" to the earth, or, in other words, it is running directly opposite to us on the outer side. The earth is 33,000,000 miles from the sun, and Mars is 123,000,000 miles from the sun, and both the earth and Mars are running a neck-and-neck race, and will continue to do so until the 18th of June, when the earth, due to its shorter orbit or course around the sun, will pull ahead, and rapidly increase the distance between the planets day by day.

On June 15, Mars will be 42,176,000 miles from the earth. Today it is 42,700,000 miles away. The near approach of Mars is always an attraction to students of the heavens, largely because of the fact that organic life may exist on its surface. Through a telescope one can see the surface of Mars quite plainly, and around it a muddy light that gives a peculiar fascination to the observer.

Mars surface has a crust, just as has the earth. You could stand on Mars' surface has a crust, just as earth. The only difference would be that while here a man would weigh 150 pounds, on Mars the same man would only weigh 51 pounds, due to the lesser size of Mars, which is 4,230 miles in diameter as against 7,918 for the earth. Mars takes 686 days to go around the sun, as against 365 days for the earth. It has polar caps of ice and snow just as we have, and these are clearly seen through a telescope. Its day is 24 hours and 37 minutes, as against 23 hours and 56 minutes for the earth. Mars has two moons, however, called Deimos (Fear) and Phobos (Flight), and these travel around its surface the same as our moon does about Mars. Only the moons of Mars are smaller than our moon, and both travel quicker. One, in fact, passes around Mars three times each day. The sudden changes on Mars are carefully recorded, and at Flagstaff, Arizona, a huge telescope has been devoted for years to a study of the muddy planet. At this observatory the curious "canals" of Mars have been photographed, and clouds pass over its surface have been duly witnessed and recorded. These "canals" are thought by some to be due to the growth of vegetation along both sides of a wide ditch in which water runs from one melting polar cap as the ice melts each season. These "canals" cross all over the surface of Mars, and at the junction of the "canals" are round, dark dots. The late Professor Lowell was sure these dots were large cities on Mars, and he devoted his life largely to prove that organic life did exist on the surface of that planet.

The question may never be solved, and it is still being hotly debated among the leading astronomers. A few weeks ago I drew attention to the fact that we should probably have heavy electrical storms, and much wet weather whilst Mars was close to us, and my reason for saying this was that a study of Mars extending over a period of 12 years has always shown that when it is in "opposition" to us, we have wet weather and very severe electrical storms. Even in January I have recorded these, and have written to Dr. Chant of the Toronto University, in regard to them. Just what the explanation is I am not prepared to say, other than I believe it due to the gravitational pull of Mars on our atmosphere as it passes directly along-side us. Some sensational papers have stated it was caused by the people of Mars, if there be people on its surface, trying to get in touch with the earth, but this is enormously improbable, due to the enormous power that would be needed to transmit such a message. Mars is a fascinating planet to study, and it may be seen low down in the eastern sky, shining as a big red star, about 9:30 p.m. each evening.

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE

MILK AND MAN

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

ONSIDER milk When man first stepped across the threshold of history with his weapons, letters, numerals, levers, wheels, tools and boats, his dog, sheep and beasts of burden, he also led a cow. It is a safe guess that the cow was man's food source a long time before that, too. Milk is just as indispensable today. Study reveals to us why it is an indispensable food.

Among modern nations the milk source—the breast for infants; then cows and goats. After infancy cows' milk is by far the most important. All milk consists of fats, proteins, carbohydrates, vitamins, salts and water, though the various milks vary in proportions. However, milk from domestic animals can be so divided and supplemented as to make it the most suitable food for infants when the maternal supply fails. All fresh milk is alike in containing those recently recognized substances known as vitamins, which seem to be regulative factors in the assimilation of food. Without them nutrition is faulty, especially in bone and muscle development. Vitamins appear to be constituents of fruits and vegetables as well as of milk.

They are somewhat hypothetical, like X-rays and electricity—seen in their effects rather than in themselves.

Their presence in milk apparently depends upon the supply's freshness and the diet of the milk giver. Cows' milk may be poor in vitamins unless the cow has a balanced ration, especially containing a due amount of fresh, green food. A mother's milk probably will be similarly poor unless her diet includes served of the bulky, monotonous cereals served in breads and heavy mushes only, the fried meats and the single starchy vegetable like the potato and more of the fresh fruits and vegetables, with fresh, clean milk as a valuable addition.

The conclusion of the matter is that we have in the cow one of mankind's oldest friends. Delivered from disease, fed properly and housed cleanly, she will supply food for which there is no substitute.

SIDE LIGHTS AT OTTAWA

BY RANDOLPH J. CHURCHILL
Staff Correspondent The London Advertiser.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, Ottawa.

June 16.—Failing in his attempt to amend the criminal code, W. C. Good, member for Brant, has given up hopes of bringing his resolution aimed at race track gambling before the house this year, at least.

Mr. Good has striven since April 5 to introduce legislation into parliament to make gambling at race or sport meets an indictable offence. A resolution to this effect has been on the order paper since that time, but owing to rush of business the matter had never come up for discussion.

While Sir Lomer Gouin, minister of justice, was making certain amendments to the criminal code, the member for Brant seized the opportunity of bringing his resolution before the house in different form.

Mr. Good moved to amend the code by making it an indictable offence to engage in pool-selling, book-making, betting or wagering, or to supply information to anyone engaged in book-making or betting. He moved also to make it an offence to advertise, print, publish, exhibit or sell information for betting purposes on any horse race or other race, fight, game or sport.

His motion, however, did not find favor with many members of the house. Thomas Church, of Toronto, drew the attention of the deputy speaker to the fact that Mr. Good had a resolution on the order paper with reference to the proposed amendment, and the deputy speaker accordingly ruled the motion out of order.

As the result of the deputy speaker's ruling, race track gambling will remain unmoled in Canada for another year, as no legislation will likely be passed in time to interfere with fall meets this year.

NOW that the most contentious business of the year has been disposed of, members are beginning to turn their thoughts toward home. Throughout the corridors and in the private rooms the possible date of prorogation is the main topic of conversation.

It is generally believed that the session will end in two weeks' time. Some say that June 24 should wind up the session, while in the senate, where the optimism of youth prevails, a week from this Saturday has been suggested as the glorious day.

That even the leaders of the House of Commons, more particularly Mr. Meighen, are looking longingly toward the end of the road, was evinced today when the leader of the opposition asked Premier W. L. Mackenzie King how much more legislation was to be brought down. While not in a position to say how much, the premier assured Mr. Meighen there would be very little more.

Before the house prorogates, railway rates will have to be discussed, the wheat board will be up in bill form, the pensions committee's report will be received, the resolutions of the budget must be adopted and the supplementary estimates passed.

To renew the battle against the beet sugar tax, a deputation, consisting of C. H. Houson, general manager of the Dominion Sugar Company of Canada, Mr. Gilchrist, secretary of the same company, and Harry Gilroy of Alvinston, arrived in Ottawa yesterday. Although the budget has been approved, there is still a slim chance that further reductions might be effected when the resolution is considered in committee. The burden of carrying on the fight will fall entirely on the shoulders of B. W. Fansher of Lambton East, with possible assistance from John Drummond, member for West Middlesex.

A. L. POSLIEFF, principal of the public school at Wingham, who was prominently mentioned here as the next customs officer in that town, Wife Quit When John Started Work On Coffin.

DETROIT, June 16.—John Linger, according to his wife Rose, at 1053 Carmel avenue, was always doing unusual things. She told Judge Marschner in circuit court today that the "last straw" was when John got some lumber from the attic and started to make a coffin. That is when she left the house.

Earlier the same day he had made threats to "shoot up the family," and to post placards on the door to tell the public how mean his wife and family were.

When their daughter died, Mrs. Linger said, her husband complained of the cost of the coffin, saying that if he had known it would cost that much he would have made it himself.

has withdrawn his application. Several other applications are now being considered.

Windsor Fails To Secure 1923 Convention of Grand Lodge.

OWEN SOUND, June 16.—The I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge concluded its session here at noon today. An important matter at this morning's session was the naming of the place at which the next meeting of the Grand Lodge will be held. Windsor had a big delegation here, and made a strong bid for the annual convention, but owing to the extra cost that would result the appeal was not considered. The next meeting will be held in Toronto.

Last night a banquet was tendered to the visiting Grand Lodge officers and local executives, and later a theatre party was entertained by the Orpheus Chorus. Rides about the city and a midnight serenade were also features of the entertainment. About 1,200 delegates were here during the week.

Where Are You Going On Your Vacation This Summer? Or Have You Made Your Choice of Summer Resorts?

PERHAPS a "tip" might not be amiss. On the shores of blue Lake Huron is one of the prettiest and most popular watering places in Canada. Bayfield is its name. Here are found all the pleasures nature affords, and in addition some of the facilities of city life.

From London this summer playground is but a short fifty miles by road or rail.

Down from cold Superior waters sweep health-giving breezes, driving the heat waves from the east shore of Huron, on which Bayfield is located.

For those who seek rest after a year of toil in the city's grime, Bayfield is an ideal haven. For those who want "something doing every minute," it has an equal attraction.

Besides swimming, fishing and hiking—the sports of nature lovers—Bayfield has every facility for yachting and dancing.

Daily the waters of the lake are dotted with small craft, sail boats and row boats, plying back and forth, some on pleasure bent, others engaged in the fishing industry, which ranks chief among those of the village.

One does not have to own a sail boat to go sailing, for after the fisherman has finished his day's labor, he takes summer residents out into the lake. And for a very small charge.

Banked with shrubbery and trees in abundance, the Bayfield River, which meanders through rich country, is a stream suitable for canoeing. On summer evenings, on the clear, calm moonlit waters of the river, flotillas of canoes drift lazily.

Amateur, as well as professional swimmers cannot resist the attraction of Bayfield's beaches and swimming holes.

The gradually sloping beach is safe for children, who can wade out to any depth without fear of dropping into a dangerous hole.

For the accomplished swimmer there are the deep waters between the piers, and for the venturesome diver the springboards.

One of the best and most picturesque dancing pavilions in Ontario has been erected in Jowett's Grove, a deeply wooded spot, on the summit of a high, wooded bluff.

Resting between dances on its spacious balconies one can look over the railings down a sheer drop to the lake. The floor for dancing is large and of a high order. Only the best orchestra obtainable is engaged each year.

For those who enjoy close communion with nature, there are long, shady paths through cool woods. For miles along the shores of the Bayfield river are beaten paths which are enticing. Wild raspberry patches are numerous.

Hotel accommodation is of the best at the resort.

The vacationist has his choice of two good hotels, where service is ever the motto of the proprietors, namely: "The Albion" and "Commercial House." Or there is Miss Ferguson's private hotel, which is known far and wide for its home-like atmosphere. Many first-class boarding houses and hundreds of summer cottages are also available to the visitor.

Bayfield is by no means a new resort, for its fame has been spread to all parts of the continent for years.

From Washington, New York, St. Louis, Montreal, Toronto, London and Hamilton came pleasure-seekers last year. And when the season was ended they expressed their intention of returning this year.

Excellent roads for motoring lead from London to Bayfield. However, one does not need to be a motorist to enjoy the trip, for trains run twice daily from London to Brucefield, passing through the prosperous farming counties of Middlesex and Huron.

At Brucefield, real pleasure cars, not mere commercial "buses," meet the trains and convey holiday makers to the port. These cars, manned by careful drivers, are operated by the Brandon brothers.

The village itself is one of no little importance.

There are three churches—Methodist, Presbyterian and Anglican—and a good school.

Several enterprising merchants have up-to-date establishments there. And the villagers themselves are most hospitable; in fact, one is greatly impressed by the friendly atmosphere of the place. If one is a stranger on arrival one does not hold that status long.

Early bookings seem to be the rule rather than the exception at the summer resorts this year, and Bayfield is not an exception in this respect. Proof positive of the ever-increasing popularity of the resort is the large number of new cottages which have been built by persons who last year boarded there.

Not only are summer visitors in Western Ontario spending their regular two weeks' or months' vacation at Bayfield, but they are staying there every week-end possible.

The number of week-end visitors is increasing as each week of the season passes. Any Saturday afternoon or Sunday morning one will find scores of motorists on the roads north of London, Bayfield-bound.

For those who delight in wonderful sunsets and sunrises, Bayfield holds much in store. The sun sets directly over the lake, and generally a few clouds appear just before twilight to mark the passing of the day.

Residents of Bayfield take a real interest in their village. Each year many local improvements are made. The drainage system is of the best, and the water supply excellent. All the homes and their surroundings are well kept.

And they believe in telling the world about their home village, for they know that there is justification for the advertising.

They believe in Bayfield, and have every right to, for few other summer resorts have gained so fast in popularity in the past few years. Bayfield is the ideal spot to spend your vacation. This is not mere "say-so." A few weeks spent in Bayfield will prove it.

SANATORIUM'S CAKE HAS DOZEN CANDLES

London Health Association Prepares For Many Guests At Birthday Party.

Saturday, June 17, is another of the great occasions in the history of the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, Byron, this time the celebration of the 12th birthday of the institution. It matters not that the exact anniversary of opening the doors is not observed. It is June, when the "San" grounds and surroundings are looking their best, and in the ordinary course of events, come the most perfect days in all the year.

Visitors, it is expected, will make pilgrimages from all over Western Ontario, to see how the big flight is being waged to stamp out the White Plague, and the developments that have taken place in plant and equipment in a dozen years.

No individual invitations have been sent out, though the members of several organizations of the city have been notified through their presidents or secretaries.

The London Health Association, with Sir Adam Beck as president, which conceived the idea of the party with "twelve candles on the cake," has desired to include amongst those present every friend of the institution and its mission, everyone who is at all interested, or should be interested in its service.

For the sake of greater convenience in getting out from the city buses, will run out to the sanatorium after 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, starting from the front of Smallman & Ingram's on Dundas street, and leaving Byron at 4 o'clock.

A band is to provide a program throughout the entertainment, and afternoon tea and ices will be served by a joint committee representing the ladies' auxiliary to the London Health Association and the Women's Sanatorium Aid, these two organizations assisting the Health Association in the role of hostesses.

Plenty of guides among the hosts and hostesses will be available, it is stated, to explain and direct all who may attend the function.

Many milestones in the form of splendidly equipped new buildings have marked the progress of the sanatorium since the summer-like April day twelve years ago, when the key was turned in the lock of the administration building, and the place of healing declared formally open by His Excellency Earl Grey, then governor-general of Canada. With expansion new leaves of life and big advancement in conquering disease, sorrow, too, has come to the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, and great loss.

Much missed by those who knew, loved and admired her on this festive occasion will be the gracious presence of the late Lady Beck, who, from the inception of the idea of a sanatorium situated in London, gave her whole-hearted support to the movement, and unstintingly of her time, money and remarkable ability to promoting its interests. One of the speakers on opening day two years ago, were two other outstanding women who shared her interest, the late Countess Grey and the late Mrs. P. D. Crear of Hamilton, the brilliantly-gifted mother of Lady Beck.

The opening of the preventorium, the first big achievement of the Sanatorium Aid, which has meant complete restoration to health of scores of children, was the next important advance. Sir John Gibson, then lieutenant-governor of Ontario, with Lady Gibson, officiating on that occasion.

With the great war came the necessity for special provision for tuberculous soldiers, the building of the soldiers' pavilion. His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire journeyed from Ottawa to London for the opening.

Sir William Hearst, premier of Ontario, subsequently opened the recreation hall and gift of rare beauty, the Marion Beck Nurses' Home, donated by Sir Adam and Lady Beck, "in gratitude to God for the complete restoration to health of our daughter, who was threatened with a serious illness."

What visitors will see on Saturday afternoon is an expanse of green acres, situated on the brow of a hill overlooking the Thames, and heart-delighting pastoral scenery, an electrified model farm, conducted by the sanatorium, model stables with a far-famed Holstein herd to supply milk to the patients, an efficient administration building, pretty sickles, sunny wards, inviting living and recreation rooms, and provision for such sports as bowling, which will not afford too violent exercise.

Included in the committee that has specially planned for the birthday party are the convener, H. E. Gates, Col. Ibbotson Leonard, T. W. MacFarland, Dr. Pratt, and Messrs. John Stevely, C. H. Ziegler and J. C. Judd.

WITH BRIDES THE

JACKSON-WORRELL.

A quiet wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock at the residence of Rev. J. N. Norton, Partridge street, when Rachael Worrell was married to Thomas Samuel Jackson of Sarnia, Rev. Mr. Norton officiating. The bride wore a lovely gown of white satin, and carried a shower of roses. Miss May Worrell was her maid of honor, wearing a pretty frock of cream-colored crepe and carrying roses. Mr. Fred Walker of Sarnia was the best man. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Gaze, Colborne street north. The bride and groom left on a motor trip, and upon their return will reside in London.

SCHIESS-QUICK.

An interesting event of this week to a number of London friends was the wedding which took place on Wednesday, June 14, at Centennial Methodist Parsonage, Rev. A. E. M. Thomson officiating, when Miss Nellie Quick of Pittsburg, Pa., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Quick of this city, and Mr. William Schieff of Pittsburg were united in marriage. The bride, who was attended, wore a smart suit costume of fawn tulle and hat to match with feather trimmings. Following the nuptial ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. F. Walters, Dundas street, where a wedding luncheon was served. The happy couple leave Saturday for Pittsburg, where they will make their home.

PAVEY-McKERRACHER.

The wedding of Wednesday, June 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson of Miss Lizzie McKerracher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKerracher, to Mr. William Pavey, Wabash. Rev. J. H. Roberts Free, Methodist minister, officiated. The bride wore cream tulle, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. She was given away by her brother Alvin. Her going-away dress was of raw silk with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Pavey left on the afternoon train for Niagara Falls and eastern points. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm in Wabash.

BLACK-McKERRIE.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, June 14, at the parsonage, when Miss Jennie McKerrie of Newabbey, Scotland, was married to Mr. Robert Black of Kent Bridge, Rev. P. S. Banes, B.A., officiating. The bride was becomingly attired in a pearl gray crepe de chine dress with a pretty picture hat, and carried a bouquet of sunset roses and sweet peas.

McKAY-ALLAN.

One of the prettiest of June weddings took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. N. Campbell, Wilton Grove, on June 5, at 3 o'clock, when Miss Mabel J. Allan, daughter of James Allan of St. Thomas, was married to Mr. Thomas McKay of Montreal. Rev. J. W. Crawford of the Presbyterian Church, Westminster, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely gown of Princess Mary blue canton crepe with blue and silver radium lace, and carried a shower bouquet of sunset roses. She was attended by her niece, Miss Jean van Horne of St. Thomas, who wore white silk with overdress of blue-green tulle, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Margaret van Horne of St. Thomas, in a white embroidered mull and blue sash, made a charming little flower girl, while the quaint little ring-bearer, wearing the gift of the Campbell tartan, was Ronald Campbell, D. H. Ewen of London was best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a substantial check; to the bridesmaid, a pearl ring; to the groomsmen, a tiepin, and to the flower girl, a turquoise pin. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. McKay left for Westmont, Montreal, where they will reside. The bride traveled in a smart suit of embroidered navy tricotone.

Personals

Mrs. McHardy-Smith will spend the holiday season in the Canadian West.

Mrs. Winnett-Thompson of Toronto is the guest of Mrs. David Cowan, "Birkhill," Talbot street.

Mrs. Ferguson of Ridgeway is a visitor in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. V. Ellis, Hayman Apartments.

Mrs. R. E. Davis was the hostess of a bridge of two tables Thursday, and entertained again at the tea hour Friday.

Miss Nettie Harris was the hostess Friday afternoon of a charming tea given in honor of Miss Parker of Owen Sound.

Mrs. E. J. Masuret, Waterloo street, was the hostess of bridge Thursday afternoon, and entertained again on Friday.

Miss Marjorie Allan has returned from Toronto, where she attended the Purdy-McGowan wedding, which took place Saturday, June 3.

Mr. W. R. Lackie, who has been called to the city owing to the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. John Lackie, arrived in town Friday evening.

Rev. S. Salton will preach a special anniversary sermon Sunday at the Centenary Church, Sylvan Circuit, near Parkhill, which is an old charge of his.

John Black and Mrs. Black of Port Huron, the latter formerly Miss Maude Whately, are week-end visitors in town, guests of Miss Mary Meredith.

Invitations have been issued by Lieut.-Col. Ibbotson Leonard, D.S.O., and the officers of the 1st Infantry Brigade, for a tea to be held Monday afternoon at Carling Heights.

Miss Marshall of Toronto, who has been visiting in Windsor, motored up from the border cities, this week going on to her home after spending a few days in town with Mrs. J. Parnell Morris.

Mrs. Charles Nicholls, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Ruth Nicholls, has left for Gregory Inn, Lake St. Joseph, Muskoka, where she will spend the summer.

Sir Adam Beck and daughter, Miss Marion, arrived in town from Toronto Friday evening for the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium birthday party, and are spending the week-end at Headley.

At the meeting this week of the Daughters of Scotland, arrangements were made for a garden party to be held at 454 Quebec street, on Friday evening, June 23rd.

Mrs. R. Mercer, Pall Mall street, is entertaining the Loch Lomond Chapter, I.O.D.E., at the meeting next Monday, when final plans will be made for the dance at Springbank Park, June 21st.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Sutherland, Wharfedale road, are opening their summer home "Mablehurst," Erie Rest, Port Stanley, the first of July and, with their two daughters, will take up their residence there for July and August.

Much to the regret of their many friends in London Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ziegler and baby, Brooks, are leaving on June 22 to make their home in Saskatoon, Sask. Mr. Ziegler has been appointed to take charge of the Saskatoon division of the Mutual Life.

In honor of Miss Elsie Oliver, a popular bride-elect of this month, Miss Lillian Greer entertained at an aluminum shower. The guest of honor received many useful gifts, and a dainty supper concluded the evening.

Mrs. Clarence Kemp of Toronto, who is to be the matron-of-honor at the Grange-Cowan wedding in the First Presbyterian Church, Saturday afternoon, is staying, while in town, with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Elliott, Elmwood avenue, South London.

Mrs. Gordon Wright, a delegate from the London Local Council of Women to the National annual meeting in Port Arthur, sails on Saturday from Port McNicoll. She left on Thursday, delivering in the meantime addresses in connection with W. C. T. U. work in Northern Ontario.

Mrs. Crawley of Victoria, B. C., who has been a guest in the home of Mrs. H. J. Sutherland, South London, has left for the West. Mrs. Geiger, who has also been staying with Mrs. Sutherland, has returned to her home in Cobourg. In their honor their hosts gave a high tea at their summer cottage at Port Stanley.

Much regret is felt by the executive and members of the Local Council of Women that Mrs. R. M. Grayham, who was chosen one of three delegates to represent London at the National Council annual meeting in Port Arthur and Fort William next week, is unable to go, owing to the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. John Lackie.

Amongst visitors who are in town for the Grange-Cowan nuptials Saturday afternoon, are Mrs. Grange and Miss Constance Grange of Nanapanee, guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Grange, Wolfe street, and Mrs. Elgar Rice of Detroit, and Mrs. O'Grady of Winnipeg, who will remain for the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chaucery Jarvis.

What Women Are Accomplishing In London.

ST. JOHN'S GARDEN PARTY.

Members of St. John's (London Township) Ladies' Guild, at a meeting held Thursday evening, arranged for a garden party to be held in the grounds of the rectory next Wednesday, June 21. Mrs. E. White was named supper convener; Mrs. George Cary, to take charge of the ice cream booth; Mrs. R. A. Powell and Mrs. George McComb, the work table, and Mrs. J. A. Decker, the candy. The Chris Pink Quartet is furnishing the program.

ST. LUKE'S AID PARTY.

At a meeting this week, St. Luke's Ladies' Aid planned for a garden party to be held in the grounds of Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson's home, Thursday, June 22, with special booths and special attractions.

Hamilton and Toronto Conservatories of Music, Dr. Vogt, head of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, and the former famous conductor of the Mendelssohn Choir, coming in person to conduct the practical work, and the London Institute of Musical Art.

Misses Florence and Eleanor Waugh of 174 Bruce street intend, shortly, to make an extended tour of Western Canada, going on to Seattle. Miss F. Waugh, who graduated as P.H.N. from Western University in 1921, purposes seeing what progress is being made by the different cities en route in the line of public health work.

The interest of London society centers Saturday in two outstanding events, the Grange-Cowan wedding, which takes place in the afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church, followed by a reception at Birkhill the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. David James Cowan, in Talbot street, and the birthday party of the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, Byron, for which visitors are expected from all over Western Ontario.

Members of the Janey Canuck Chapter, I. O. D. E., wound up their season's work this week with a jolly picnic outing at Port Stanley, which featured a baseball match, captained by Mrs. Alma Egerton, regent, and Miss Marjorie Skinner, the laurels going to the first team. Members of the committee in charge were Ruby Alexander, Miss Raymond and Mrs. Alma Egerton. Mrs. Walter Glasford is the regent.

In honor of her sister, Miss Margaret Simson, whose marriage takes place early in July to Mr. George S. Courtis of Simcoe, Ont., Mrs. S. Floyd Jones, Alexandra Apartments, gave a delightfully informal tea party on Thursday afternoon, the guests including a number of the intimate friends of the bride-elect. Amongst those present were Mrs. Gordon Thompson, Mrs. Stewart Thompson, Misses Madeline and Margaret Simson, Miss Kathleen White, Miss Kathleen Cowan, Miss Lorraine White, Mrs. Llewellyn Purdon, Miss Isabel Tanton, Misses Margaret and Beatrice Reid, Miss Margaret Coleman, Mrs. Floyd Chapman, Miss Doris Nelles and Miss Grace Mann.

In honor of Miss Margaret Simson, a popular bride-elect of this month, Miss Margaret Coleman was the hostess of a charming handkerchief shower Friday afternoon at her home in the Hayman apartments. The attractive handkerchiefs were presented to the guest of honor in a dainty box, to which was attached a corsage of roses. At the tea hour, Mrs. H. H. Coleman poured at an attractive table adorned with roses, and was assisted by Mrs. J. G. Gunn. Other guests included Mrs. S. Floyd Jones, Mrs. Lloyd Chapman, Mrs. Gordon Thompson, Mrs. S. Thompson, Mrs. Harold Ward and Miss Madeline Simson. Kathleen White, Lorraine White, Jean Jarvis, Peggy Johnston, Mary McLean, Kathleen Cowan and Marguerite Reid.

Mrs. Fletcher Copp, originator of the kindergarten method of music, has arrived in the city accompanied by her sons and daughters, motoring all the way from Boston, and will take up her residence here for the summer. She will occupy Corragoff, the picturesque home of Mrs. McHardy Smith in Grand avenue for the next few months. June 26, Mrs. Fletcher Copp is starting a special summer course in connection with the London Institute of Musical Art, for which students are registered from all over the United States and from all over Canada as far as Saskatchewan. In this connection, a distinct compliment has been paid London the Less by London, England, while students from London, Ontario, have frequently gone over to Old London to continue their studies, possibly for the first time on record a London, England, musical student is looking to the acquiring of more musical efficiency in a Forest City institution. A marconigram received Friday afternoon at the London Institute of Musical Art announced that Sir Henry Wood has recommended a protégé to take Mrs. Fletcher Copp's special course in musical kindergarten here this summer.

Knox Choir Holds Japanese Fete Featuring "Earth's Awakening"

The spacious grounds surrounding Beechwood, the home of Col. W. M. Gartshore and Mrs. Gartshore, South London, were transformed into a Japanese garden Friday afternoon and evening, when the choir of Knox Church held its garden party. The beautiful grounds, with rose-covered arches, velvety lawns, and stately trees, made an ideal setting for the affair. Japanese lanterns were strung from the trees, and the booths were decorated to represent pagodas, and the assistants donned Japanese costumes, which added to the picture.

"Earth's Awakening" under the direction of Miss Edith Wynne-Pryce, which was presented recently in the Armories, was even more picturesque Friday evening with nature's own background. A spotlight turned the attention of the many guests to this group of fairies, flowers, kewpies and butterflies. The sunshiny "Doris Auden" aroused Mother Earth (Eula White, who stirred after her long sleep was over. The birds one by one began to appear, and Mrs. Eric Reid, with all the grace and ease of the Blue Bird, gave a clever exhibition of toe-dancing. Spring flowers (Misses E. Doherty, E. Grant, M. Culbert, R. Smoother, P. White, L. Whittle, I. Wolfe, L. Wolfe, M. Beattie, E. Gibbard, J. Anderson and M. Anderson) peeped out from under the fallen leaves. The budding trees showed their blossoms, the butterflies fluttered here and there, and Miss Geraldine Smoother, as the White Butterfly, gave an exquisite butterfly dance. Dear little kewpies showed themselves (G. Smoother), B. Culbert, M. Topping, E. Reid, M. Spittal, C. Fox, J. Butchart, M. Humphries, B. P. where, A. Campbell, B. Holmes, I. Holmes and M. Percy. Pretty flower fairies, led by the Flower Fairy, Miss Eleanor Doherty, danced joyously. The fairies were: Misses P. Collins, I. Topping, I. Dacon, G. Hertel, L. Smoother, M. Whittle, L. Milner, G. Bailey, M. Hockney, P. Taylor, A. Hallett, A. Speiran, M. Williams, T. Wrighton, H. Grant and A. Grant. Other solo numbers were "Caprice," by Ruth Westland, and Valse Ramonette, by Barbara Dickinson. Mendelssohn's Spring Song was presented by Misses K. White, G. Auden, J. MacFarlane, G. Manley, M. Marshall, M. McDonagh, R. Davis and I. McCremon. "School Days," also under Miss Wynne-Pryce's direction, was greatly enjoyed. A little dance presented by 14 young girls wearing gingham frocks and carrying school bags, who danced with the freedom of school let out.

"O Hara Sen," under the direction of Charles Percy, the choir leader, enjoyed on a former occasion, was also a delightful feature. The principal parts were cleverly taken by Myrtle Robinson, Wilfred Shortt, Stanley Chadwick and Gladys McEvoe, the other members of the cast including Mrs. May, Margaret McCullough, Helen Shaw, George Scott and Harmon Westland.

During the evening excellent music was provided by an orchestra, which played under the trees. The arrangements were in charge of the general convener, Miss Lola McLeish, assisted by the following conveners: Tea room, Mrs. H. J. Sutherland and Mrs. Charles Percy; home-cooking, Helen Davidson; candy, Lauretta McLeish; ice cream, Helen Shaw; soft drinks, N. Westland; properties, Stuart Keane and Stanley Chadwick; decorations, Harmon Westland; fishpond, Evelyn Haylock, and publicity, Hett Elliott.

Cynthia Grey's

MAIL-BOX

BLY JOINS CORNER.

Dear Miss Grey,—Have been an interested reader of your page for a long time, and thought I would like to join your cosy corner.

I am sure Miss Grey, it must keep you busy attending to so many.

Aren't we having delightful weather now? I live on a farm. It is beautiful in the country now.

I am 15 years old.

Well I mustn't make my letter too long for the first time.

Will send mite next time.

BLY.

Thanks for the promise of a mite next time, Bly, we will be pleased to hear from you again some time. Yes, it is lovely in the country just now.

WHO IS BONNIE BESS?

Dear Miss Grey,—Seeing where Bonnie Bess is offering girls' clothes I should indeed be glad of any she has to spare. Thanking you for all your kindness, I am

MOTHER OF THREE.

Ans.—If Bonnie Bess sees your request for clothes I am sure she will send your little girls some clothes. I am sorry Bonnie Bess, but your address has been mislaid.

FOR THE WEE KIDDIES.

I have been a reader of your page for some time, and I have many valuable hints from it. I have read where Cinnamon Vine offers bulbs again this year. If not too late, would like three bulbs. If too late for these, a dahlia root, or iris would be very acceptable. Am enclosing 25 cents in stamps for the wee kiddies' hospital.

IDERNEE.

Ans.—I am mailing you three cinnamon bulbs, but there are no dahlia or iris bulbs in the Mail-Box. Many thanks for the hospital mite.

SENDS FIVE DOLLARS.

That cot must materialize, and I enclose a mite towards it. Hope it may be my good fortune to send some more later.

The Mail-Box is interesting, but poor, Miss Grey.

MARGARET.

Were you referring to the Mail-Box as poor or to "poor Miss Grey"? Margaret? Thank you very much for the generous donation, which may encourage others to send more. I am more than anxious that we raise the $1,000 as soon as possible.

MRS. HOME BIRD'S RECIPE.

Dear Miss Grey,—Are there any cinnamon bulbs? Would like a few if I could get them. Some one inquired for Mrs. Homebird's cookie recipe some time ago: I cup brown sugar, work it well with 1/2 cup lard, 1 egg, salt and flavoring; 1/2 cup thick, sour cream, 2 cups flour, sifted with level teaspoon soda roll with flour and make quite thick. Find mite inclosed.

HAPPY HOOLIGAN.

The bulbs are already on the way to you, Happy Hooligan, and I hope that you are not too late planting them. Thank you for the cookie recipe.

APPRECIATES HELP.

Dear Miss Grey,—Received the seeds some time ago, and many thanks for them and real pleased to tell you they are all up and doing fine. My mother thought she would like to have a cinnamon bulb, as so many are asking for them. Find inclosed a mite for it. So glad to see your worthy fund is growing, and sincerely hope it

TROUBLES PREVENTABLE

Advices Thorough Lubrication and Careful Tightening of All Bolts.

"OUT of Gas!"

What motoring situation is more sad, unless it be the spectacle of some kindly motorist trying, and trying hard, to add the beleaguered but forgetful brother?

Assume that there is a petcock on the carburetor or on the vacuum tank of the car with full gas tank. All that is needed now to transfer the gasoline is a can small enough to force in under the carburetor or vacuum tank. If there happens to be no can, it is just as bad as if there were no petcocks, and frequently there are none.

Before you even consider crawling under the main gasoline tank to remove the drain plug, fetch out your tire pump, give it a few lusty strokes to remove any dust, and insert the pump hose into the mouth of the gasoline tank. Draw out a pumpful, clamp your finger over the end of the hose to keep the gasoline from running out, and carry your pumpful of gasoline to the other car, or to a bucket, or direct to the vacuum tank of the other man's car.

Use Tire Pump.
Precisely! the hose of a tire pump will discharge neatly into the plug-hole of a vacuum tank. This is invaluable knowledge to anyone who has never tried the usual roadside instrumentalities for externally applying gasoline to a vacuum tank.

What if no helpful tourist appear with a tank full when yours is depleted? There is no immediate need for despair. Step back to the gasoline tank to ascertain whether the feed line runs from the right side of the left. Roll your car to the same side of the road, endeavoring to obtain as much tilt as possible in the direction indicated. Now, with the ignition switched off, run the starter for perhaps 30 seconds. Then try to start the engine. Frequently you will succeed, owing to the fact that the vacuum tank was replenished from the pool formed in the main tank when it was sloped to the side from which it feeds. The more consistently you can now drive on that side of the road, the nearer you will come to a filling station.

Keep Clips Tight.
Most troubles other than this are preventable in the home garage. Many a motorist knows what ought to be done in the way of care, aside from routine attention to fuel and oil, and desires to do it himself. Yet he is at a loss to perform operations that do not readily yield to a simple wrench or screwdriver.

The leaf springs of your car are very likely to break, admonishes nearly every instruction book, unless the spring clips are kept tight. If any ordinary wrench can worm its way to the spring clips on your car, you have a rare masterpiece of design. Particularly if there is space to turn the wrench after it takes the

nut. Even socket wrenches are often balked by the protruding threads of a clip that has been tightened a few times. Perhaps you own a so-called spark plug wrench; one of these hexagonal tubes, about four inches long, which slips completely over a spark plug, another wrench or rod being employed on the upper end for turning the spark plug. Exactly the same principle, applied to the bolts of the spring clips, makes it so easy to tighten them that you will do it as often as should be.

Another of the elements of complication about bolts and nuts is the ubiquitous cotter pin. How to remove it?—use a long, stout button hook for that purpose. How to insert?—be sure you note the position of the hole in the bolt before covering it with the castellated nut. While the nut is removed it often happens that an adjustment of one sort, or another will not again allow the nut to be threaded down far enough to bring the castellated portion in line with the hole for the cotter pin. In that case, put the nut on with the castellated portion first.

Prevents Slipping.
There frequently arises in connection with bolts and other round parts, the need for an effective method of gripping. A pipe wrench is not always available. However, the jaws of a pair of pliers may be wrapped with tape, into which small round parts will firmly bed themselves, so that the pliers will not slip in turning. This will also prevent damage where a threaded portion must be gripped.

One of the most vexatious greasing problems is to insert grease through a plug-hole not larger than the nozzle of the gun. To keep the grease from going everywhere but into the hole, obtain a cork about the size of the largest grease plug on your car. Bore a hole in this cork so that it will slide over the stem of the grease gun, and when you are filling a large hole simply push this cork down to fill the over-size opening. Chemists' rubber corks are ideal for this purpose. A rag or some string packing wound around the stem of the gun can be forced down to act as would the cork.

Many cars are now equipped with greasing systems, using a special gun which connects with nipples on the car. This makes it easy to do some advisable cleaning of the grease passages about once a season. Attach the empty gun, release the plunger so that it can be worked like a pump, and then proceed to force air through the grease connections. This will serve to clean out the distributing grooves in which grease residue has probably congealed during the winter. To make still more certain of perfect lubrication, precede the air pressure treatment with a similar treatment of kerosene to flush out the dirty old grease, which will be seen coming out on the opposite side of the spring shackle. Then use air pressure to force out the kerosene before applying fresh lubricant.

Use Grease Freely.

Nor is grease something to be put only in gun cups and other specified places. Wipe some grease on the wheel shoulders against which the demountable rim rests on the inside. Do this about as often as removal of the rim is required by tire changing. At the same time apply grease sparingly to the rim fasteners and to the rim bolts. By this practice nearly all rim squeaks are permanently ended.

Where chassis lubrication is an involved affair, engine lubrication becomes primarily a question of draining the crankcase, but there are quirks to make this more successful also. For the draining process to be fully worth while, all the old oil should be removed, and particularly all the kerosene that may be used for cleaning. The sure method is to tilt the entire crankcase sharply enough so that there is a good slope to the drain plug.

Run one corner or end of the car onto an elevation of some kind to obtain a good flow from the crankcase. The importance of this is well indicated by the difficulties you have probably experienced in completely draining an ordinary oil can. If you use kerosene for cleaning an engine that is oiled under pressure, do not run the engine, even with the starter. This pumps kerosene into the oil tubes, from which it cannot easily be removed. Confine yourself to splashing the kerosene in the crankcase by shaking the car.

Insert Extra Gasket.
Your cleaning out of the engine may extend also to carbon removal and valve grinding. While the cylinder head is off you may be one of the motorists who consider putting an extra gasket in place to relieve the compression. On the modern high-compression motors this is often advised to prevent extreme sensitivity and consequent cylinder knocks when the car is not expertly handled.

Use Iron Cement.
A problem which is much more rare, but supposedly even more irritating, is the repair of the speedometer drive shaft. Even though you never perform this operation personally, you pay for the endless fussing many a mechanic perpetrates. Out goes the broken link. In goes a new one. Carefully the long chain is fed through the tube and then the fishing begins. Whereas if, in the first place, half a dozen extra links are attached, the surplus length makes it easy to pull the chain taut, the driving member being attached after the extra links are removed.

Incidentally, speedometer chains will not break nearly so often if the tube slopes uniformly downward, without any dips in its length to collect water and dirt. A little taping with straps or tape will arrange the speedometer tube properly.

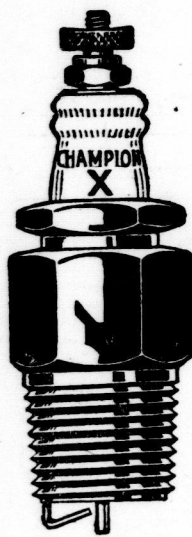

As with chassis and engine, the body also invites the magic of the handy man about the car. Are there small dents that would involve the expense of removing upholstery to make a repair? Ask for iron cement at the hardware store. Apply as directed, and the average dent can be neatly filled up and plastered over with this metallic substance.

Are there scaly places on the finish which show rust? To enamel these spots would enhance their prominence without greatly improving the appearance. If the car is of dark color, some stove polish will neatly cover and protect the rusty spots, also good for belt heads and other parts which it is not practicable to enamel.

"As your mind is, so are you," said a great philosopher. Men and women take varying degrees of pleasure in driving an automobile, and the pleasure varies with the degrees of complacency and composure which fill the mind. What is the object of touring? Pleasure. But there's no pleasure touring in a car loaded (or shod) with worry. If your mind is uneasy about your tires, you are not enjoying yourself. Put your mind at peace and sit back luxuriously behind your wheel and let the accelerator do its bit; it's all right, you're safe, and you know it, if your car is flying along on "Gutta Percha" Tires.

Lauds System of Marking Highways With Paint As Accident Preventive.

The test of a good driver is not whether he is able to stop, start and guide the car along the road, but whether he is invariably considerate of the mechanism of his own vehicle and of the feelings, eccentricities and safety of all other users of the road. If a man drives well in every respect except that he expects all pedestrians to know how to walk, all equestrians to know how to ride, and all motorists to know how to run a car, he is still a menace of the highways.

When bowling along a main artery of traffic with the right of way your own, drive carefully when approaching a masked side street. If you do not do so you may have difficulty in avoiding the careless individual who cuts into the main highway from a side street without blowing his horn. The fact that the second man mentioned, who, debouching from a side street, cuts a left-hand turn and chances being cut in half for his carelessness, is in the wrong will not "back to its mansion call the fleeting breath" in case he hits your car with lethal effect in so far as you are concerned.

There are bipeds of the genus hound who think that they own the road or that they are the only drivers on it. Driving in the middle of the way, they suddenly decide to make a right-hand turn, and swing over without making any signal of their intention. A man in a following car, so long as he does not attempt to overtake on the right-hand side, has all the rights of the case, but unless he is an alert, competent driver, he will ram the other car.

Some drivers will swing around a left-hand corner, and whether to avoid a bad spot in the road, or because they are too lazy to get over on their own side, crowd a following car to the curb and seriously jeopardize its safety. On a rainy day, when windshields are something less than transparent, this is as fruitful a cause of accidents as any. The growing and commendable custom of marking highways with white paint to divide the right from the left, reduces violations of this nature.

A sufficient number of cases has McLaughlin, who controls the Overland and Willys-Knight agency for London and district, he had established a reputation as a successful merchant, both in this city and Thorndale. He has just completed three years service as an automobile salesman, and has resided here for twenty years. With an extensive connection in all portions of Middlesex County, Mr. Lee has become a popular member of Mr. McLaughlin's sales force, and has won distinction in his chosen line. He is married and resides at 362 Princess avenue. For some time he conducted the New York Store, the well-known grocery business of a few years ago. He has a good record as "The Man With the White Hat" at the Overland and Willys-Knight agency, and has greatly increased his wide circle of personal friends by his upright business methods.

been cited to show that obedience of all the laws of motoring does not always save the driver from a smash-up. But there is one admonition which is not written down in many statute books, but which, when followed, prevents practically every sort of motoring trouble. It is—Be Careful.

GOOD LIGHTING IS MOTOR NEED

Safety of Travel Depends Largely On Correctly Focused Lamps.

Improper Adjustment Often Cause of Faulty Illumination.

Good lighting is one of the essentials of safe and satisfactory motoring. To get adequate lighting without the glare, which is dangerous to other users of the road, has been a problem for years. Probably the greatest factor in creating this problem is poor focusing. A perfectly good lamp is frequently rendered dangerous because it is not properly focused. In order to secure the greatest percentage of good road light minus the glare, the reflector must be clean and the lamp must be properly focused to throw the right kind of a beam exactly where it is needed.

The ordinary method of focusing is to throw the beam against the side of a house, barn or wall about 25 feet away. If the beam is uneven in shape or has a dark spot in the center, then it is out of focus and an adjustment must be made. Adjustment should continue until the beam of light has been reduced to its smallest dimension with a bright spot in the center. Then focusing is correct.

How to Adjust. There are several ways of making the actual adjustments. The most frequently used method is to fit a screw in the back of the lamp, by turning which adjustments of position are obtained. The screw moves the bulb forward or backward. Another type of adjustment has a ratchet device, whereby the bulb is moved a notch in the ratchet. To do this it is necessary to open the door of the lamp to remove the front. In the modern lamp there is sometimes difficulty in getting off the rim and great care must be used in putting it back to see that the packing inside is placed correctly. If this is not done water may seep through and dull the reflectors. To clean the reflectors, by the way, rubbing with alcohol applied with a cloth is the correct procedure.

Buy Good Bulbs. When buying bulbs the car owner should take only the best standard makes. Also the same size bulb should be used on each side. The owner should be sure that the bulbs are firmly in their sockets and that cable connections are right. If there is any loosening vibration is sure to interrupt flow, producing flickering.

The glass front of the lamp must be a type approved by the legal authorities and at the same time a satisfactory dispenser of light. Some lenses comply with the law, but cut down the light to such an extent that it is difficult or even unsafe to drive with them.

AUTO NOTES.

Keep the grease cups filled. Use only distilled water for the battery. Carry spare headlight bulbs with you. Trouble lamp is a valuable aid for accidents at night. Best time for touring is Tuesday and Wednesday, when there is said to be least traffic.

Water, oil, grease and light are the tire's worst enemies.

Gasoline costs about 2 cents a mile on the average car.

Don't try to drive the car with the starting motor.

DR. WALSH, CHIROPRACTOR,
STARTS PRACTICE IN CITY

Comes From Indiana With Thorough Knowledge of Work.

The latest arrival among the chiropractic physicians of the city is Dr.
H. E. Walsh, a prominent chiropractor of Fort Wayne, Indiana.
Dr. Walsh graduated from the Ross College of Chiropractic, later entered the Peskin College, which was then at Fort Wayne, and after the completion of a three-year course received the degree of Doctor of Chiropractic.

DR. H. E. WALSH.

On entering the chiropactic profession he set out with one aim in view, that knowledge means success. He was determined, moreover, to learn all that the best chiropactic institutions in the country could teach him about his vocation, and after receiving his degree from the Peskin College he entered the Central Science College.

At the completion of a three-year post-graduate course in anatomy, physiology, neurology and gynecology, he was awarded the degree of Doctor of Anatomical Science.

Dr. Walsh is a firm believer in chiropractic, and while a student at Ross College took a prominent part in the free clinics that are conducted there.
From four to six hundred people come from all parts of the country to attend these clinics for free adjustments.

In Fort Wayne Dr. Walsh was considered one of the best chiropactors in that part of the state, and with his practical experience and his expert knowledge of the latest methods of science, his many friends believe that he will attain the highest rank in his profession in Ontario.

Such a grouch has never been bred in Banner's Barber Shop, 417 Talbot street. A glimpse at the satisfied customers who leave this busy establishment is proof positive of this fact.
The five tonsorial artists on the job at Banner's are experts in the trade.

Succeed In London

ONLY those who have worked hard can fully appreciate the joy of succeeding and only those who have had a hand in the building up of London can grasp the fullest measure of pleasure in watching her assume the place of one of the foremost cities of the Dominion.

London is surely, steadily becoming recognized as a potent factor in the social and business life of the country.
Her large manufacturing plants bring her recognition in the big business of Canada. London-made wares are distributed everywhere.

The city is in a strategic position as far as transportation is concerned, and near to sources of raw materials, so that all that is necessary to success is good management and hard work. Both are found in the men who have built up the business life of this city and steered it—into a rut—but on the straight road to success.

And with the increase of business, social life has steadily improved, so that today there is not a finer city of homes in the Dominion than London itself. Educational facilities are of the best. Its residential sections are magnificent, and few more satisfactory locations for comfortable dwellings exist.

London merchants are progressive. They keep things going and the city is constantly in the grip of some movement to make it just a little better, either materially or socially.

their several years services as barbers ranging from 5 to 35 years, a fact hard to equal in any other London barber shop, and their constant endeavor is make new friends by superior services.
It pleases them to please the large clientele of Londoners who daily visit this well-known establishment to have their needs attended to.

There has never been an apprentice at this shop under Banner's reign.
Simply because their work is not in keeping with the standards maintained by Mr. Banner.

The shop enjoys an enviable reputation, due partly to the "boss," but more largely to the splendid services of his helpers. As a barber shop proprietor,
Mr. Banner proudly points to over 27 years services, and, as this followed eight years "learning how," he should be fully qualified in selecting helpers used to their tools, especially so when he considers a dollar well spent if that dollar helps maintain or improve his business.

Mr. Banner is fully alive to the possibilities of electricity. Hence at this up-to-date barber shop are to be found all appliances suitable or serviceable in an up-to-date barber shop—hair dryer, clippers, vibrator and violet ray machine. New customers are being culdvated daily in appreciation of the excellent service.

There are five chairs, five first-class barbers. "Cleanliness and Civility" is the shop's slogan. Sociability, which is essential to every first-class barber shop, is of high order at the Talbot street establishment, and a hearty welcome awaits all customers. In addition to guaranteeing a shave or hair-cut that warrants appreciation, Banner honors razors in a manner that removes all grounds for complaints or criticism.

The work at this establishment is guaranteed to give entire satisfaction, and Mr. Banner invites Londoners to visit his shop and take advantage of the excellent service given there.

PARKER AND ALLEN INSURE SATISFACTORY PLASTERING

London Firm Guarantees Home Builders Efficient Work and Best Materials.

"In building a home, the majority of people are particular about the exterior decorations, the style of veranda posts, the exact length and breadth of the steps, and the wooden grill work on the lower part of the veranda, but very few stop to consider for any length of time about the way in which certain parts of the interior are finished.

"Take, for instance, the plastering of the rooms in the house. Everybody knows what a bedraggled appearance a room has when the plaster in it is cracked. Such a defect in a house always draws attention, and shows that the man who did the job was not an expert in his particular business.

"At the start, the plaster looks fine, but maybe in a few months or a year it begins to crack. After that the owner of the house has no assurance that it will not become worse, and finally falls off the wall.

"The only way to insure oneself against such a calamity is to engage a contractor whose reputation as a plasterer is above reproach.

"We are known all over the city as expert plasterers, and the most fastidious need have no misgivings whatever about the quality of work done by our firm. We are also specialists in stucco work, and have spent a great deal of time and money in learning the best methods of stuccoing houses. We are at your disposal any time." Parker & Allen,

SAYS SUCCESS IN BUSINESS
DUE TO STEADY PLUGGING

L. R. Folley, of Commercial Electric Company, Founded Firm in July, 1905.

When L. R. Folley, proprietor of the Commercial Electric Company, 477 Richmond street, one of the largest electrical firms in the city, first entered the electrical business in London 27 years ago, incandescent lamps were rare, and he remembers well the old-fashioned arc lamps that had to be trimmed every little while or there would be no illumination.

Mr. Folley served his apprenticeship with the London Electric Company, and began at the bottom of the ladder as a helper. He remained with the same firm for more than sixteen years, and when he handed in his resignation to branch out for himself held the important position of chief electrician.

On July 13, 1905, he with Wesley Forbes, opened an electrical store on the premises of the Grand Opera House, a few doors north of his present location. After four years the partnership was dissolved, Mr. Forbes going out west. Since that time Mr.
Folley has been sole owner of the Commercial Electric Company.

"My success in the electrical business is due to hard work and steady plugging every day and quite a few nights," was the comment he made in the midst of his reminiscences.
His business has grown from a small store, and clientele, until now the Commercial Electric is regarded as one of the leading and most reliable stores of its kind in the city.

Everything that one can think of in connection with electrical supplies for the home, office or factory, is stocked by this progressive firm.
A person who would devote a few minutes to looking over Mr. Folley's electrical stock, such as fixtures, artistic table lamps of all designs, boudoir lamps, electric bells, vacuum cleaners, and kitchen utensils, such as irons, toasters and grills, would at once come to the conclusion that the Commercial Electric Company has the largest stock of any store of its kind in the city of London.

The majority of the glass shades on the fixtures are hand-painted, and some are imported from the best-known concerns on the continent.
Some of the most artistic of electrical novelties that have become very scarce and are very rarely seen since the war, are stocked by Mr. Folley.
They are the genuine French bronze images. These can be obtained with either one or two lights, and make a very pretty decoration for the mantle or hall table.

Every kind of wiring is done by the firm, house, telephone, bell, factory, as well as installing electric motors. Motors of all sizes are sold as well as installed.

The Commercial Electric Company have wired some of the largest business concerns in the city, and lately have secured the electrical contract for the new Cowan Hardware Store being erected on Dundas street.

RENEWS DRIVE ON OFFICES TO ATTAIN OBJECT

United Welfare Campaign Gains Added Impetus in City Friday.

CAUSE MERITS SUPPORT

"Knights of Grip" To Make Complete Canvass of City Today.

Canvassing the employees of stores and offices in the downtown district Friday, on behalf of the United Welfare Campaign, teams furnished by the London Advertising and Sales Club, the Life Underwriters and Knights of Columbus, assisted by a rally in swelling the grand total of funds collected for this worthy cause. On Saturday 250 members of the Ontario Commercial Travellers' Association will start out on a canvass of the residential section of the city, and at each house will leave an envelope for welfare fund donations. On Sunday these "knights of the grip" will call at the homes throughout the city and collect these envelopes containing check or cash for the drive.

The city has been divided into 24 districts to be covered by the travellers, who have performed this task during every welfare campaign conducted in London. This canvassing will be made during the afternoon of the two days.

Grand Jury Finds Sandwich Jail Overrun With "Crawling Creatures"

WINDSOR, June 16.—In its presentment to Judge Coughlin at Sandwich tonight, the grand jury reported that the county jail is over-run with rats, vermin and "other crawling creatures."

This condition, the presentment said, warrants county officials taking action to see that prisoners and their clothing are made sanitary before being released.

Legal business could be conducted in a more expeditious manner and at less expense if county officials were located at Windsor, the jury found.

Judge Coughlin today issued an injunction restraining the city from building an underground Comfort Station on East Chatham street. The applicants for the injunction were the Bank of Hamilton and E. Sheldon, a Chatham street property owner.

URGES LAW TO PROTECT CHILD

mentation should have been incorporated into the city bylaws by former Mayor Hugh A. Stevenson years ago.

He declares that it will save the future generations many embarrassing moments, and will eliminate that one's collar when acknowledged an introduction. Percy ought to know because he has been through the mill.

Miriam thinks that Margaret is "such a dear name," and wishes that mother had thought of it instead of Miriam. Just think of all the suffering and heart break mingled with derision, a law framed on the above lines would have saved that little girl known as Hannah.

Roy as a boy's name is all right it said quickly, but some folks have an uncanny faculty of making it sound real repulsive when they throw a certain type of accent into their speech.

Oswald May Be Mayor.

Fond and foolish parents never seem to stop and consider that the mite of humanity whom they insist upon calling Oswald, may some day become a leader in the community, and the ideal personage to occupy the mayor's chair if it were not for his name. Nor do they dream for one minute that golden-haired Lancelot may turn out to be the village bad man.

WOMEN TO HOLD 29TH MEETING

National Council To Convene At Port Arthur.

Discussions of Important Nature Are Scheduled.

PORT ARTHUR, June 16.—The National Council of Women will hold its 29th annual meeting in Port Arthur and Fort William, commencing June 19, and concluding June 23. Sessions will be held from the 19th to 22nd in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Port Arthur, and from the 23rd to 25th in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Fort William.

It is expected about 100 delegates will attend from Toronto, Hamilton, Halifax, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Georgetown, New Glasgow, Monbrock, Woodstock, Willand, Brantford, Renfrew and Pemberton of the eastern provinces, and Calgary, Brandon, Edmonton, Regina, Macleod and Dauphin of the western provinces.

Homes in both cities will offer hospitality to the delegates, among whom will be the president of the National Council, Mrs. W. E. Sanford of Hamilton, members of the executive of the National Council, and Miss Carmichael of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, provincial vice-president, and Dr. Stowe Gullen of Toronto, provincial vice-president for Ontario, who are nominees for national presidency.

Affiliated societies which will be represented are: Children's Aid, Women's Institute, I. O. E. Teachers' Association, Nursing Divisions, C. W. P. A., Women's Citizens' League, Women's Canadian Club, Women's Labor League, Graduate Nurses' Association, Y. W. A., Kings Daughters, Home and School Clubs, S. P. C. A., and all local church and hospital aids. Mrs. Jackson, president of the Municipal Chapter, Toronto, will represent the I. O. E. E.

Come To Church Tomorrow

"YES, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees or by a running brook, or in a man's own house, just as well as in a church. But I also know as a matter of fact the average man does not thus worship."

Here are a few benefits to be derived from church attendance:

"You will listen to and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if you are not familiar with the Bible, you have suffered loss."

"You will take part in singing some good hymns."

"You will meet and nod or speak to good neighbors. You will come away feeling a little more charitably inclined toward all the world, even toward those excessively foolish young men who regard church-going as a soft performance."

"Join in church work for the sake of showing your faith in your works."

Make your start in church service tomorrow. A fair trial of church attendance will convince you it's well worth while.

American Visitors Claim International Exhibition in

Armories Best Ever

Held.

SOCIETY HOLDS BANQUET

Arthur Fewkes Re-elected

President, and Londoner To

Be Corresponding Secretary.

The international peony show will be an unforgettable incident in the life of London. Friday evening saw the austere, forbidding Armories, with its drab, dismal atmosphere of military rigor, transformed into one of haunting fragrance, not heavy and languorous, but sweet and refreshing like the memories of all the summers wafted over a sea of flowers, its harsh outlines softened in a mass of color that enfolded its gauntness like a shimmering cloud of sunrise, all white and rosy.

There were pure white blooms, compact masses of pure soft petals;

white blooms, with centers yellow like mellowed ivory; blooms with whitest centers tinting into pink petals like snow faintly tinged with morning sun; blooms that were like glowing like fairy lamps; huge white flowers, with lines of red outlining the petals' edge; and blooms of deepest crimson, like the rich glow of sunset.

Pays Compliment.

At a banquet of the American

Peony Society held in the Tecumseh

House to celebrate the opening of the exhibition, Arthur H. Fewkes, president of the society, paid compliment to the local management of the peony show in his statement that the society had never before enjoyed conditions which were equal to those in London. The Armories proved admirable from every point of view, and had a lighting arrangement which permitted judging by daylight, a thing unknown at previous exhibitions.

Reardon H. Farr, a past president of the society, stated that for the seventeen years he had been present at the peony exhibitions in London and considered the exhibition in London

the most successful held yet. In addition to their excellent handling of arrangements, London growers were most successful amongst the exhibitors, carrying off a large share of the prizes. F. Wood, a local peony enthusiast, carried off a large percentage of the prizes, and the second prize at a table marked "best blooms" went to J. C. Fairley, a London grower, who exhibited a white flower of incredible loveliness and perfection.

Wins First Prize.

The first prize was awarded to W.

H. Thurlow of Cherry Hill Nurseries,

West Newbury, Mass., for his "Avalanche," a magnificent flower well-named, large and of creamy whiteness.

Miss Maud Hill of 35 Tecumseh avenue, London, won the prize for best exhibit of seasonable flowers, while second prize went to L. E. Mc-

Gugan, 152 Sydenham street, also of London.

One of the outstanding exhibitors was Miss M. E. Blacklock of Meadowdale, Ontario. Miss Blacklock has a garden of perennials, extending over an acre, of between 30 and 40 which attracts scores upon scores of visitors. Thurlow Bros. of Cherry

Hill Nurseries, West Newbury,

Mass., were amongst the most successful of prize-winners, and a magnificent display of blossoms, although not entered for competition, was sent by the St. Thomas Horticultural Society.

Leading Growers Present.

Amongst prominent growers present were Arthur H. Fewkes, president of the American Peony Society; Bertrand H. Farr of Wyoming, Pa., an ex-president of the society; and

James Boyce of Haverford, who is of Paulding, O., and H. Paul Bonnewitz of Van Wert, O., are growers of international fame, who are pres-

The New Milkman
A new milkman will call at your home some time today or tomorrow.

There will be no rattle of cans or ring of bottles as this new milkman approaches.

He is a new sort of milkman. He calls but once a year.

He deals in the Milk of Human Kindness.

This milk is never skimmed, it cannot be watered or doctored, nor does it sour in a thunderstorm.

It is the life-giving fluid for hundreds of men, women and children who are cast upon ways that are difficult.

The new milkman will present a card to you. He will not argue that you should buy his milk tickets. You must "sell" yourself.

In fact, while he deals in the Milk of Human Kindness when the occasion demands, he is really a Commercial Traveler who takes hold of the Best Side Line on Earth for a day or two and puts it over strong.

Invest in his goods. The health-giving qualities of milk are well-known, and this Milk of Human Kindness is good for your soul.

Take a good, rich draught of it tomorrow. It is a Character Tonic with a wonderful kick.

Sunshine and Bread

Sunshine makes the flowers grow so tall and big that they reach right up to your hand and beg to be picked.

Little girls grow just as the flowers do if their bodies get the right materials—foods that supply the energy for study and play and still leave a safe reserve for growth.

NEAL'S Good White BREAD

is the food the children need just as the flowers need sunshine. In its splendid, pure ingredients are all the elements necessary for joyous growth and health.

Summer is the time to eat slices and slices in place of the heavy, heat-producing foods, for Neal's Bread is so easily digested that it requires no extra effort from little bodies busily engaged in playing and growing.

MRS. PENNINGTON.
New Rockland, P. Q.

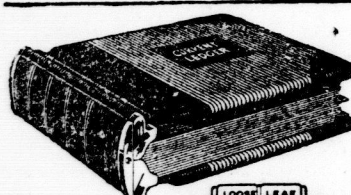

"In 1919, I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered with it during the winter. I began having Choking Spells—gasping for breath and could not speak. I would have one of these bad spells in the evening, one during the night, and one in the morning. The doctor said he could do nothing for me.

"In the spring of 1920, I started taking 'Fruit-a-tives', and in a few days, the choking spells stopped, and I have had none since May 7, 1920. I have so wanted to tell other sufferers who have the same trouble about 'Fruit-a-tives', for I know how they must suffer.

"Some thought the Asthma would come back on me as winter came on, but it has not, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives'."

STORIES DIFFER IN ELMIRA CASE

A. Klein, Kitchener Tailor, Did Not Know Goods Stolen, He Says.

Will Dispose of Klein Charge and Sentence Prisoners On Monday.

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, June 16. — Klein, local tailor, charged with receiving goods known to be stolen in connection with the Elmira shopbreaking case, stolidly maintained on the witness stand in police court this morning that the men brought the goods at his house at 6:40 o'clock in the morning and asked a price of $400 for the cloth, which he later was able to buy from them at $275.

The three Toronto men who are alleged to have broken into the Schroeder Store in Elmira, when placed in the box by the crown, stated that they came to Klein's house in Kitchener shortly before 5 o'clock in the morning and put the deal through for the sum of $80. They stated that Klein paid the $80 and they split the money four ways.

Klein declared that he had no suspicion that the men were shopbreakers.

He stated that Hinesman came to his house at 6:40 o'clock the next morning, and stated that with some other business acquaintances he had stopped at a local hotel all night and was leaving on an early train for Kitchener.

Klein maintained that Hinesman had told him that he was short of cash and would be willing to dispose of the goods at a sacrifice.

V. M. Berlet, manager of the Kitchener Robe and Clothing Co., was called by the crown and placed a valuation of $750 on the goods at wholesale price. Owing to the fact that the magistrate wishes to recall Deputy Chief Grasser, the case was adjourned until Monday.

Officer will be available. Klein was again let out on bail and the three Toronto prisoners remanded. It is expected the magistrate will give his decision on Klein and also sentence the three prisoners on Monday.

DECIDE ALCOHOL CAUSE OF DEATH

Jury Ascertains Portsmouth Convict Drank Preparation of Shellac.

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, June 16.—The jury impaneled this afternoon to inquire into the death of Convict John Kearney of the Portsmouth Penitentiary, who died this morning, brought in a verdict that deceased came to his death through drinking shellac, which contained wood alcohol.

Convict Jacob Hitt, who also drank shellac, also died this afternoon at 3:30. Kearney was working in the tinmith and paint shop and apparently he and Hitt secured some of the shellac used extensively in the institution in painting, and mixed it with water. Evidently this was done on Wednesday afternoon, for the men complained since then of being sick. Hitt this morning admitting that he and Kearney had drunk the shellac.

Convict Kearney was sentenced at Ottawa on Jan. 21 of this year to four years for breaking, entering and stealing. He was about 22 years of age, and was described by Warden Ponsonford as a very well-behaved prisoner.

Convict Hitt came from Arbor, Mo., and was sentenced at Windsor, Ont., in 1921 to seven years for robbery.

TRAIN CRASHES INTO AUTOMOBILE

MANASGAN, N. J., June 16.—A Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train was wrecked today at Allaire, and eight passengers were slightly injured, when the locomotive crashed into an automobile driven by Jerome Stewart, a West Point cadet.

Stewart was instantly killed. A young woman who accompanied him escaped by jumping. The engine and two coaches left the rails.

ECZEMA ON FACE AND HEAD FOR FIVE YEARS

Eczeema or salt rheum, as it is so often called, manifests itself in little round pimples which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust or scale is formed and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to a strong heat, is almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed.

There is only one way to get relief and no remedy like

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

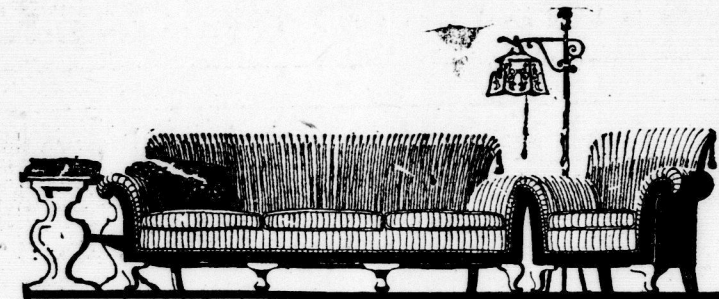

Take it internally and it gets at the seat of the disease, cleans the blood and drives it out of the system.

Apply it externally and it takes out the itching, stinging and burning, and promotes healthy healing.

Mr. J. Sage, 215 Princess avenue, Vancouver, B. C., writes: "Having suffered with eczeema on the face and head, for the last five years, I consulted several doctors, and tried various kinds of salves and lotions, but I derived no benefit from any of them. I did not know what to do until a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used two bottles I began to get better and now after taking eight bottles I have not even a blotch on me. I feel that I cannot praise B. B. too highly. I hope you will make full use of this recommendation for the benefit of those who are suffering from this terrible complaint, eczeema."

PENSION COMMISSIONERS DENY MACNEIL CHARGES

OTTAWA, June 16.—Reiterations on the part of C. G. MacNeil, Dominion secretary-treasurer of the Great War Veterans' Association, that the board of pension commissioners had secretly introduced regulations detrimental to pensioners, and denials of any change of policy by Colonel J. T. G. Thompson, chairman of the pension board, featured the investigation of the Great War Veterans' Association's charges by the special parliamentary committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment to-night.

Mr. MacNeil declared that his charges were justified on the ground that interpretations of the pensions act did not fulfill the intentions stated when the act was drafted. On the other hand, Colonel Thompson stated that doubtful cases were decided in favor of the soldier whenever possible.

Dr. W. Garnold, chief medical adviser to the board, stated that there were no hardships under the existing legislation, and that Mr. MacNeil's contention that twenty to thirty per cent of the pensioners were affected by interpretations was "ridiculous and absurd."

Mr. MacNeil charged that the pension board had initiated an "autocratic and despotic policy at the expense of pensioners."

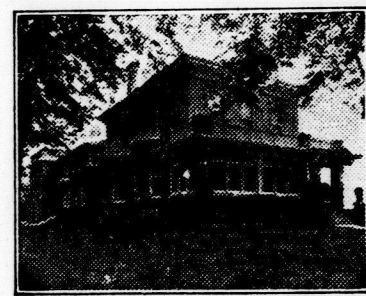

Following the taking of evidence the committee held a short session behind closed doors.

To Have Curly, Wavy Hair 'Like Nature's Own'

In three hours you can have just the prettiest curls and waves! And they remain a long time, when liquid silmerine is used before doing up the hair. When the hair is combed out it will be nice and fluffy. Silmerine is perfectly harmless, of course, and is easily applied with a clean tooth brush. It can be obtained at drug stores and at toilet counters generally, directions accompanying each bottle. It serves also as a splendid dressing, keeping the hair soft and glossy.

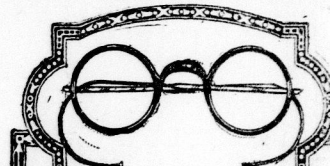

Silmerine is fine for the outdoor girl, as it prevents the hair from stringing about the face and neck, even when the day is quite warm or windy. A boon to the bobbed hair girl!
