

HINDENBURG LINE IS SHATTERED

Wide Gaps Torn by Haig in German Defence System

PROGRESS MADE BETWEEN ST. QUENTIN AND LE CATELET; FRANCO-BELGIANS ADVANCE

Cambrai Mined by Foe; St. Quentin in Flames BRITISH GAINS

By Courier Leased Wire. PARIS, Oct. 2.—Cambrai has been mined, but the British forces fought around the town and thus have foiled the plans of the enemy. The Germans decided on September 1 to burn Cambrai, and forced the civilian population to leave.

St. Quentin Burning PARIS, Oct. 2.—St. Quentin is burning at several points, according to Premier Clemenceau, who informed Marshal Hutin of The Echo de Paris today that French aviators have great difficulty in flying over the city because of the smoke rising up from it.

Wide Gaps Torn London, Oct. 2.—Wide gaps have been torn in the German line, between St. Quentin and Le Catelet by Field Marshal Haig's forces. The British commander reported today the breaking of the German line on the Fossoy-Beaurevoir front. Beaurevoir is 2 1/2 miles east of Le Catelet and Fossoy is nearly five miles northeast of St. Quentin. Squelhart, 4 1/2 miles southeast of Bellcourt, has been captured, as has the hamlet of Preselles, just to the north.

South of Cambrai British troops, including Scottish and New Zealanders, have occupied Crevecoeur and Rumilly.

By Courier Leased Wire. With the French Armies in France Tuesday, Oct. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The French armies won important successes to-day. While Gen. De Beny's forces were passing through St. Quentin, to Rouvroy, across the Somme, General Berthelot's army made a big gain in the St. Thierry massif, northwest of Rheims. Further east, Gen. Gouraud's army advanced still further north toward vital German positions. General Berthelot's men have virtually traversed the hills between Rheims and the Aisne. On that river they hold the left bank as far east as Compiègne, and have taken Belaycourt, Herlain, Tregny and St. Thierry. They are also in Neuville, a mile and a half north of Rheims. The French armies are attacking along his whole front in the Champagne sector, advanced north of Auzer to within a thousand yards of Lily. Further east, even more important results were obtained in the advance north of Bougonville and Binerville. His line was pushed on to Vaux and Tancon, crowding the Grandpre gap and putting the German forces west of the Monthois-Vouziers line into a most awkward position. Their communications with the forces operating in Argonne forest and east of it are virtually cut, which means that most of this region becomes untenable. German counter attacks in the region south of Lily were repulsed with severe losses to the enemy at sharp engagements.

Hun Effort Dwindle With the American Army north-west of Verdun, Tuesday, Oct. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—German efforts to penetrate or bend the line between the Meuse and the Aisne dwindled rapidly to-day. One minor counter attack, some outpost skirmishing and half-hearted bombardment, characterized the enemy's activity. The Americans repulsed a counter attack north of Argonne and then accepted the situation. Both the front line and the back areas held by the Germans were shelled vigorously from early morning until night in the afternoon, the clouds disappeared and aviators were able to resume their observation patrol and pursue enemy planes and bat-

SURRENDER DAMASCUS? Turk Commandant of That City Asks Terms of Gen. Allenby

By Courier Leased Wire. Bulletin, London, Oct. 2.—Damascus, the capital of Syria, was occupied by General Allenby's forces on Tuesday, according to an official statement issued to-day by the British War Office. London, Oct. 2.—The Turkish commandant at Damascus has asked for terms for the surrender of the city to General Allenby's forces. The Manchester Guardian reports. It is expected that troops of the British army in Palestine will enter the city to-day.

TURKEY TO STAND BY GERMANY? Turk Cabinet Reported to Have Pledged Adherence to Central Powers

By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, Oct. 2.—The Turkish cabinet, according to a telegram published by The Cologne Gazette, has decided "in all circumstances to adhere to the alliance with the Central Powers."

The text of the British official statement reads: "After maintaining strong pressure on the enemy throughout the earlier part of the day in the afternoon, the 52nd division attacked the centre of the German defensive line which runs from Fossoy to the neighborhood of Beaurevoir. The attack was successful. The village of Squelhart and the hamlet of Preselles were captured and the Fossoy-Beaurevoir line reached. "North of this point contact was cleared of the enemy. The Argonne forest, comprising the capture of the enemy defences south of Le Catelet and Goudi.

"On the sector south of Cambrai a fierce struggle all day was terminated by a successful attack at dusk on the enemy position of Rumilly, which was captured and the Fossoy-Beaurevoir line reached. "On the sector south of Cambrai a fierce struggle all day was terminated by a successful attack at dusk on the enemy position of Rumilly, which was captured and the Fossoy-Beaurevoir line reached.

THREE FRENCH ARMIES VICTORIOUS

By Courier Leased Wire. On the left flank of the Americans the French pressed their lines slightly forward, being near the time when the Germans must fight with less hopefulness to maintain their line west of the Meuse. American detachments in the Argonne forest continue to clean up that wilderness, sending back scores of machine guns, trench mortars and other captured material. On the salvage list there appeared to-day three observation balloons.

CANADIANS ADVANCE. With the Canadian Forces, Sept. 30.—(Delayed)—By J. E. D. Liversay, Canadian Press Correspondent.—This morning elements of our Third and Fourth divisions advanced from the line they held on the Douai-Cambrai road in a double concerted movement along the twin spurs towards Ouvillers and Ramilles, the immediate objective being to take and consolidate the line of railway. This was successfully accomplished and defences appearing weak, the movement was pushed in some thousand yards east, the object this time being to exploit to the utmost any disorganization the enemy might have of falling back in this sector. Snatch bargages were put down on either flank to protect the movement, but owing to a gale from the west proved ineffective with the consequence that the enemy machine gunners from Blomont on the north and Alley on the south opened a heavy fire on our troops on the hill tops. French and Belgian Troops Have Made Progress LYS CROSSED

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Oct. 2.—French and Belgian troops have made fresh progress in the direction of Hoogledde and Roulers, and the British have seized Ledeghem on the Roulers-Menin railway, according to the Belgian official statement issued last night. A British detachment, the statement says, has crossed the Lys between Werwieg and Commines.

The statement reads: "On October 1 the operations in Flanders under the command of the King of Belgium developed favorably despite the resistance of the enemy. The energetic Belgian and French troops made new progress in the direction of Hoogledde and Roulers. South of Roulers the British troops captured Ledeghem on the Roulers-Menin railway. British detachments crossed the Lys between Werwieg and Commines. British aerial squadrons bombarded Lichtervelde, causing a fire at the railway station. They also broke up several enemy convoys."

Further Gains With the French Armies in France, Tuesday, Oct. 1.—Reville and Glensens were taken while farthest east the Beauregard farm, a most excellent observation point was occupied. Another commanding position

BULGARIA SAYS PEACE HONORABLE

Premier Read Speech From Throne Before Parliament Monday PEACE IMPERATIVE

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, Oct. 2.—Premier Malinoff appeared before the Bulgarian Parliament on Monday and read the speech from the throne, which was postponed at the first sitting last Friday, according to advice from Sofia by way of Basel. M. Malinoff, according to German newspapers, said that the King and Government intended only to fulfil their duty towards the fatherland in making an honorable peace that was worthy of the sacrifices which had been made. The reason for this step, he said, was the general situation which confronted the country.

CORNERSTONE OF HINDENBURG LINE SMASHED

St. Quentin Captured, and Entire Defence System in Danger OTHER SUCCESSES

Belgians Make Headway Toward Towns of Roulers and Menin

By Courier Leased Wire. St. Quentin is taken, and the corner stone of the Hindenburg system has fallen. Thanks to the prodigious and unending efforts of the armies of General De Beny and General Rawlinson under the general direction of Gen. Fayolle, that fine soldier who commands the group of armies in this sector, it is a most resounding triumph. But it is not the only place where victory smiles upon the Allied arms. Belgian forces, strongly opposed, are making headway toward Roulers and Menin. The Germans are preparing to evacuate the Lille region. British armies around Cambrai were successfully fighting one of the fiercest battles of the war. Gen. Berthelot is driving the enemy back between Rheims and the Aisne and General Gouraud has reached Chalons, the important railway centre at the western opening of Grandpre Gap.

St. Quentin's fall shakes the whole German system. Its effect will be widespread. This will be accentuated by the strong push that is being made in the upper Oise valley. The Allies here are crossing the multiple waterways upon which the enemy so largely based his defences. Before them lies the open country, which is ideal for tanks. Under the circumstances, the holding by the crown prince's armies of their positions on the Ailette and the Aisne is out of the question. Outflanked from the north and harried by Gen. Mangin, who is now along the Aisne as far as south of Craonne, the crown prince's armies are in a much graver position than were those of General von Boehn and von Hutier in July. The same danger threatens the armies opposing Gouraud. This is the first initial result of the capture of St. Quentin must be the retreat of the enemy from the Champagne sector, is he wishes to escape disaster. But it will not be enough that this line breaks up under the blow of the Allies. A general German retreat becomes more and more imperative. The problem for General Ludendorff is how to prevent it from being converted into a disaster which is the usual sequel of a retirement of masses closely engaged in a fortificatory struggle.

DEFEATED GERMAN ARMY IN FLIGHT ALONG ST. QUENTIN-CAMBRAI LINE

On the accompanying map, the shaded areas represent the British, Belgian, and American gains between St. Quentin and the North Sea since Friday. Roulers unofficially is reported taken. The British now are menacing Lille with an enveloping movement that would outflank the whole German line in France.

AUSTRALIANS HIGH IN PRAISE OF AMERICANS

London, Oct. 1.—Never in this war have we seen braver or braver fighting men than the two divisions in the fighting north of St. Quentin, writes the official correspondent with the Australian Corps in France in describing the American assault on the Hindenburg line in the direction of the Jourdain line on Sunday. "Some day when the full story of this battle can be told, the Australian people will thrill with pride in these magnificent troops, upon whom a tremendous task fell, he continues. "They were faced by men formidable task that could be imposed upon them—the breaking of two double systems of the front defense line the German Empire ever constructed. On the left of their attack there was some uncertainty regarding the situation and this increased the difficulty of their work yet those troops working under the enthusiasm of their high ideal carried through their assault, penetrated deeper even than had been intended and delivered a blow which attracted the greater part of the enemy's resistance, beyond all question they made it possible to break the great defensive line in a position of the most importance to the Allied cause.

HOSTILITIES IN BULGARIA CEASE

By Courier Leased Wire. SALONIKI, Oct. 1.—The following statement was issued at the Greek headquarters here last night: "Greek troops have continued their advance in pursuit of the enemy. In the region to the north of Vesles they have occupied the heights north of Yenikoye and the slopes dominating Palaste." At the Allied headquarters the following statement was issued: "By virtue of the terms of the convention signed on Sunday, hostilities against the Bulgarians ceased at noon today."

GOOD PROGRESS. By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, Oct. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Berthelot's army is making good progress between the Vesle river and the Aisne canal. The French troops have captured Ave on the village and their advance on the Vesle has reached a depth of from five to six kilometers. Foe Derange Broken. By Courier Leased Wire. London, Oct. 2.—Between Cambrai and St. Quentin the German line of defence has been broken. It is uncertain what lines the enemy has in the rear. The British advance threatens the German line of retreat in the Oise valley, and also from the Massif of St. Gobain. Fuel Controller. Sheppard, in Niagara Falls, N.Y., issued an order of splendid affairs, honey this season. He is increasing the number of hives to one hundred.

Transports Moving Back Toward the Belgian Border HUNS RETREAT

By Courier Leased Wire. New York, Oct. 2.—The Associated Press this morning issued the following: Along the road running east and northwest from St. Quentin-Cambrai line in northeastern France, long trains of transport are moving back toward the Belgian frontier. Allied aviators have reported this first indication that the defeated army has begun to retreat before the thrusts of the British, French and Americans along this line. While the battle still rages fiercely along the front, where for the past five days a titanic struggle has been going on the enemy evidently realizes that a retirement is actually in progress that the whole German line will crumble as the Teutonic armies make their way back to their next defensive positions.

It would appear that the Allied successes at St. Quentin and at Cambrai endanger the enemy's line north and south of those cities. St. Quentin and Cambrai are in flames and the fall of the latter will probably mean the abandonment of Toul by the enemy. La Fere south of St. Quentin seems in peril and if that city is taken by the Allies the Germans will probably be forced to retire from the St. Gobain forest and Leon. When this occurs the backbone of the German line in northeastern France will be broken. Far to the north the Belgians are moving ahead with a steady sweep which seems to be directed at Lille, but which, however, at the same time, threatens the German submarine bases on the Belgian coast. If Lille is outflanked the Germans must retire from their trenches far to the south of that city. Continued progress will cut the submarine bases off from rail communications. They are so valuable to the enemy, however, that they may be expected to hurl large forces into the battle in a last effort to save them. General Berthelot is cutting rapidly into the German lines north of Cambrai, and it is expected that the Allies north of Rheims will be forced to retire before the German advance. General Gouraud is smashing the German lines. In this sector Chalons has been taken and the French have now outflanked the enemy in this sector and are apparently moving northward toward Vouziers, an important railway point from which radiate roads which supply long stretches of the front in the Champagne.

American forces between the Argonne forest and the Meuse River are seemingly held up by the Germans, who have been desperately counter-attacking all along the line. The advance of the French further west, however, will soon force the Germans to retreat before the Americans. In two other sectors attacks were not unexpected by the Allied forces. One in the Lorraine country, where the Americans hold positions along the Moselle. An attack here would endanger Metz. The other front, where fighting may begin on a grand scale, is in Italy, where that ally will soon follow the example of Bulgaria in getting out of the war. Austria-Hungary too seems to be on the eve of taking a step which may have an important bearing on her future as a belligerent. Possibly some new peace proposals are indicated in dispatches from Budapest.

How Many More.
Ed. King of Hamilton has already been served with four summonses to appear at Oakville, Burlington, Mississauga and New Toronto, for speeding on the highway. All of the four places the date "Sept. 22" and the motorist frequently are now guessing at what speed Ed must have been running.

It is hinted that Mr. King may be able to show that the four actions against him are for a single offense. In that case the legal fraternity will have an opportunity to put up a rather unique case.

Failed to Appear.
Edward Taylor, who appeared in court because he kept his dog in the cellar to evade paying the dog tax, he whose little dog was charged with the theft of a lady's purse, he who was summoned to appear last night on a charge of stealing hay from a neighbor's field—did not put in an appearance last night at the magistrate's court, and the case stands over. In the meantime Edward will be looked after.

Mrs. Kate Thomas of Port Dover appeared in police court here yesterday morning before T. E. Langford, J. P., charged with assault on Maggie Laforce, of the Indian Reserve. The prosecution submitted evidence to show that Miss Laforce lost a quantity of long black hair—the pride of her hair—and was rather roughly used in her own quarters in the compound temporary residence near by the Indian help at the Port Dover canning factory.

The accused admitted a brain-storm occasioned by abusive epithets, and bowed gracefully to a levy of $8.45 costs and suspended sentence.

Lucky Draughtsman

It is not only when fishing or sitting at draughts with an occasional out-of-town visitor, that luck goes with our friend Dan McCool. On Sunday morning, his little fox terrier, "Queenie," started a prairie fire in some shrubbery on the country square, and before the stray could get aloft the diminutive canine had it and twisted its neck in a professional manner. Of course, the bird was not allowed to go to waste.

Odd Ends of News

The funeral of the late Mrs. Schuyler, widow of the late Francis Schuyler, will be held at Oakwood cemetery to-day. Deceased died in Townsend on Sunday in her 70th year.

The temporary repairs to the Port Dover bridge have been completed, and are perhaps not too substantial to suit the Dover folk. At best, however, it is pointed out, the bridge must be used for another year, for a separate bridge is built for the roadway it will be constructed beside the present one, and the approach to it from the left bank of the stream will have to be raised. This feature, no doubt, concerns Mr. Kolbe somewhat.

Dispatches in yesterday morning's London dailies regarding attempts to corner the potato market, find reference of the same proceeding in Norfolk. The private garden crop is however so promising, that local citizens do not fear being held up this year as they were last year.

TEUTON TROOPS SENT TO BULGARIA

250,000 Germans Arrive at Sofia to Protect the Railway

London, Oct. 1.—Germany, it reports from a neutral centre can be relied upon, is going to make a great effort to maintain communication over the Orient railway with Turkey, and thus hopes to keep her eastern ally in the war.

According to a League despatch to the Central News, 250,000 German and Austro-Hungarian troops have arrived at Sofia from Roumania, and while the part of them will remain in Sofia, an argument favoring the overthrow of the Malinoff Government, the majority will endeavor to keep the allied troops from the Orient railway which joins Germany and Austria with Constantinople, the capture of which was a few years ago hailed as the greatest achievement of the Central Powers.

The removal of troops from Roumania, however, is not without danger. A few weeks ago, when appealed to by his colleagues on the western front, for assistance, Field Marshal von Mackensen remarked that conditions in Roumania did not warrant the transfer of a single soldier from that country. Now Roumanians are protesting that if the Roumanian army does not rejoin the allies, there will be at least a rising in that country which will completely nullify the Bucharest treaty so far as it provides for the revictualing of the Central Powers.

METHODISTS IN CONFERENCE AT HAMILTON

Discrimination Against Enlisted Methodists Charged by Dr. Chown

By Courier Leased Wire
Hamilton, Oct. 2.—That every facility was given to adherents of all other large churches in the country, who enlisted for overseas service to challenge to build the tabernacle of God amongst men, that He might wipe the tears from the eyes of a degraded world, in which there shall be no more death, sorrow or pain. Would that humanity should seize without delay, the opportunity of business, as well as of heaven and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness and love.

Touching on Christian unity, Dr. Chown said that the most noteworthy movement looking forward towards the intellectual and spiritual unity of Christendom, that has ever been attempted, is now in course of being worked out in the proposed world conference on Faith and Order. A church, divided itself, could not expect effectively to divide the world, and the war had brought this home with great poignancy.

It was for the conference to decide whether the church should continue to have representation in this movement.

It was to be regretted that oration of the Rev. Dr. Chown, of the Presbyterian, Congregational and Methodist churches had not taken place before the war. What had been accomplished by the local union and co-operation between churches was dealt with at length.

That HE may NOT need in vain

From across the sea there comes a plea to the loyal hearts of Canada. On the blood-soaked field of battle, suffering the intense anguish of a mortal wound, many a brave Canadian lad is calling, pleading, praying for the relief, the comfort, the assistance of those for whom he is fighting. He has nobly borne his cross, but the barbarism of a heathen foe has placed him helpless at your mercy, and from out the awful abyss comes to YOU his voice, begging in all the pathos of his agony for the relief which YOU can give.

Won't you give as freely of YOUR MONEY as HE has of HIS BLOOD?

There is absolutely no distinction of race or creed. All soldiers are administered to alike.

The amount asked of the good people of Canada during the week of September 15th to 23rd is absolutely necessary to supply the comfort, recreation and relief our boys at the front so badly need.

WON'T YOU GIVE THEM WHAT YOU WOULD WANT IF YOU WERE 'OVER THERE'?

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

Brian Finds Out That Ruth Wears Expensive Clothes.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.
The invitation for Mrs. Curtis' dinner came just as Brian was leaving for the office. The note had said the dinner was to be informal, and Mrs. Curtis had added: "Please don't dress."

"Thank goodness for that," he had said. Brian hated to dress for dinner. He was naturally indolent, and unless the occasion was a particularly formal one, he objected to wearing a dress suit. Ruth was exactly the opposite. She liked to dress herself, and was very proud of her handsome husband when he was "dressed up," as he called it.

"I wonder who else will be there," she had said as she stood in the door to bid Brian good bye.
"I thought you said Mollie King was going," he had answered quickly, then looked uncomfortable. "Good bye!" he called and hurried away.

"Why did he look so uncomfortable when he himself was the one to mention her?" Ruth said aloud as she closed the door. "He looked sort of guilty. I wonder—she didn't finish the sentence, but as she dressed for the shop she looked very serious, and once or twice she sighed a little."

Occasionally there came to Ruth a feeling that perhaps she had made a mistake in marrying Brian until he had advanced further in his profession. She had also wondered once or twice if she had made a blunder in taking a position, but, as quickly dismissed the idea. Why should she do things that were disagreeable and so save thirty or forty dollars a month (which a servant cost them) when she could do something she really loved to do and earn forty a week? There was no argument at all that she could see.

No, if Brian were foolish enough to be busy, why he would have to be for a while, until he became more reasonable. He would come around after a while, just as he had about the moving. When he had seen that it was feasible, he had been very nice about it. She never dreamed that he had conspired simply and solely because of her remark that it would give him a better standing. She had thought it might have some weight of course, but that he would have absolutely refused to move had she not put it upon that score, she had no idea.

"The dinner was to be at seven o'clock. Ruth took particular pains with her dressing, and she looked very nice and lovely. She wore a dark blue chiffon with a giraffe and trimming of Oriental-looking stuff, with slippers and stockings of the same shade as her dress. She also, at the last minute, slipped on her pearls around her neck. She had not intended to wear them, but she would look her very best because pretty Mollie King was to be there.

She had wished, while dressing, that it had been a formal affair so she could have worn one of her lovely dinner dresses. She had scarcely worn them at all, she thought regretfully. They would be out of style soon.

"My, but you look nice!" Brian had said impulsively when she joined him. "That's a stunning dress." Ruth was so pleased at his compliment that she forgot all about Mollie King, that she had really dressed to outshine her; but intriguely herself that she had made herself attractive simply for Brian.

"I am so glad you think I look nice. The Curtises are your friends and I should hate to have them call me a frump."

"No one could ever say that about you." There was a thought striking him for the first time, he asked, "How much did that dress cost?"

"Ann Louise paid two hundred dollars for it. Of course that did not include the slippers and stockings."

Open-mouthed, Brian stared at her. In all the months that he had been married the cost of her clothes never had been mentioned. He had not the slightest idea of the cost of such clothes as Ruth wore. He had asked the question now only from impulse.

"It's lovely, isn't it?" Ruth went on. "Ann Louise bought it at the same shop she has bought her own clothes for years. The one where most of my trespass dresses were made."

"And did the rest cost as much?" "Why—yes, most of them. Some more. Why?" Ruth never talked of clothes.

"How in the world are you going to get any more when they wear out Ann more of that kind, I mean."

Ruth laughed heartily at his frightened expression.
"Oh, I guess we'll manage to get them somehow." "Not that kind, Ruth," he said soberly. "I never dreamed women's clothes cost so much." Then, his face lighting, "You must find out where Mollie gets her clothes. She always looks pretty and she has scarcely any money. Will you need any soon?" He happened to think that she had said nothing about new clothes to him, and she hadn't been much about replenishing her wardrobe.

"No, not very soon," she replied. But all the way the thought came into Brian's mind. How did she know that Mollie had scarcely any money. That her lip curled the idea that she would wear the cheap sort of things a girl like Mollie King would wear? It was ridiculous.

Sometimes he forgot that she was no longer being supported by her aunt.
To-morrow—Ruth overheard Brian tell Mollie King things which annoy her.

COURIER COMICS

Somewhere.
Mrs. Plathurst—So your husband is "somewhere in France?"
Mrs. Bensonhurst—So I believe.
Mrs. Plathurst—But, don't you know where?
Mrs. Bensonhurst—No.
Mrs. Plathurst—Don't you feel somewhat concerned?
Mrs. Bensonhurst—Why, no. When he was here I knew he was somewhere in America but half of the time I didn't know where.
Mrs. Plathurst—Enjoying life?
Mrs. Bensonhurst—Yes, but I wish to get the fresh air.
Mrs. Plathurst—Yes, he should remain out a good part of the day.
Mrs. Bensonhurst—But kin he get the fresh air with a pipe in his mouth all the time?
Mrs. Plathurst—Kept happy.
Mrs. Bensonhurst—There are many beautiful sights in and around Paris. We were over there before the war.
Mrs. Plathurst—If suppose your wife found much to interest her?
Mrs. Bensonhurst—I think so. She spent most of her time in that hall of mirrors at Versailles.
Mrs. Plathurst—Expert camouflage.
Mrs. Bensonhurst—I see you are wearing a chevron for bringing down aeroplanes. I did not know you were an aviator.
Mrs. Plathurst—How then did you get the chevron?
Mrs. Bensonhurst—I'm a camouflage expert. I painted a sausage and a stein of beer on a fence and the German aeroplanes flew down to get them. Then our men captured them.
Mrs. Plathurst—What she hoped.
Mrs. Bensonhurst—I am quite a near neighbor of yours now, said Mrs. Bure. "I'm living just across the river."
"Indeed," replied Miss Smart, "I hope you'll drop in some day."

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 2, 1918

THE SITUATION

The last twenty-four hours have recorded still more victories for the Allies. French troops have entered St. Quentin, and the enemy are leaving Cambrai in flames before they get out of there. The fighting at this point is stated to be of an intensity never paralleled even in this war, and the Canadians are in the thick of the smashing attacks. The continued success of British and Belgian troops is commencing to threaten the German submarine bases. Major General Maurice in his review pays high tribute to the strategy of Foch. In answer to the question as to why the general attacks now in progress on the front by the Allies could not have been launched earlier, he points out that the plan was to force the enemy to exhaust himself to such an extent that he would be forced to draw upon his reserves when, telling blows could be struck without the enemy having anything much in hand. Incidentally he remarks that although the Americans have done splendidly, they have not of themselves been sufficient to turn the balance—Foch's plans backed magnificently by the British, under Haig, have turned the trick. And speaking of our neighbors do not let any of us for one moment forget the vital service which they have rendered financially and with munitions.

Following the defection of Bulgaria, the Germans are making frantic efforts to hold Turkey in line. To this end they are endeavoring to maintain communications over the Orient railway with Constantinople, and 250,000 troops have arrived at Sofia. One thing is certain, and this is that she is being kept too busy elsewhere to spare many men for the purpose of helping the Moslems to hold out.

Sir Douglas Haig reports that during September, the British took 66,200 prisoners, 1,500 of them officers, also 700 guns and thousands of machine guns. For the months of August and September together, the total is 123,618 prisoners, 2,703 of them officers and about 1,400 big guns.

THE Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Without any doubt George Williams builded much better than he could have anticipated when in 1844 he laid the foundation of the present Young Man's Christian Association. He was in the dry goods business at the time, and he had persuaded some of his fellow workers to gather together in a little room each week for prayer and Bible reading. He was only twenty-three years of age at the time, and when he formulated the idea of an organization for the purpose of reaching young men generally, the plan was eagerly accepted by his associates. Later it was decided to get out after the boys also, and no one can compute the tremendous and far-reaching effects of the work. Man is rightfully said to be largely a creature of his environment, and this is most emphatically true of the youth of the land. Boys are essentially imitative, and there is usually only one outcome when their surrounding and associates are of a rough and sometimes immoral nature. The Y. M. C. A. stands for high ideals, healthy recreation and beneficial companionship, and to its agency can be traced countless lives of true and honorable and God-fearing citizenship. The outcome of such endeavor not alone affects and builds up individual character, but in addition contributes to such a magnificent fruitage as that made manifest in connection with Y. M. C. A. work during the present war.

There could be no better investment on behalf of any lad than identification with this great and healthy institution, and the campaign now being waged in Brantford in this regard should serve to yield most abundant results.

MAIL DELIVERY FOR WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Oct. 1.—The first stage in the city mail delivery was inaugurated to-day, when the postmen started to the post office, looking for mail in new suits of blue with red trimmings. There they were taken in charge by Mr. Drew, of Toronto, who will coach them for a few days. The postmen will go over their routes to-day as familiarly as themselves with the territory they will have to cover in a day or two, when the actual delivery commences.

Parsell's are clearing a large range of furniture at auction Friday, Oct. 4.

NOT THE WAY

From the Food Control Department at Ottawa, the following statement was recently issued:
 "The Canada Food Board has seized and forced the sale of 392,800 pounds of creamy butter stored by the Dominion Fish and Fruit Company, Limited of Quebec. The Dominion Fish and Fruit Company, Limited, without permission and in spite of remonstrance from the Canada Food Board, held a greater quantity of butter than was reasonably necessary to supply its own Canadian requirements, based on last year's sales to the ordinary trade."

And what was the penalty for this violation? Let a further section of the report make answer:
 "Under the waste order, the Canada Food Board seized 392,800 pounds of butter, and gave it the option of having the excess butter confiscated or sold to the Dairy Produce Commission for shipment to Great Britain and her Allies. The company chose the latter alternative, and the butter is now on its way to Britain."

It will be noticed that there was nothing slow and lingering about that punishment. Instead the offenders were offered the terrible alternative of selling what they unlawfully got together on a good cash basis, and strange to say, accepted it with probably a Sam Weller wink.

This sort of procedure is not of the brand which will receive public approval. Firms which hoard food in excessive quantities should be severely penalized, and if the Food Board is not alive to its duties in such respect, then the sooner the curtain is rung down on the farce the better.

The Humble Only Are Happy.—A Choir Leader's note: "As a singer, I am generally happy. The little experience I have had with the very rare class called geniuses would lead me to answer this question in the negative. Men with phenomenal ability in music, in sculpture, in poetry, in oratory, in painting and as inventors have rarely been men of a philosophic temperament or contented with their lot. Ability is much like riches, the more one has the more one wants. Such men are generally praised or lauded by the community, and this tends to make them unhappy for it is feeding on the wind, the more you eat the hungrier you are."

"Have Courage, My Boy"—A boy who has failed in one of his school examinations is in despair and asks if I do not think he ought to quit school and go to work. This failure may be the blessing of your life for it should teach you to be more conscientious in your work. Many a boy who has failed in passing his examinations has become eminent, while on the other hand a great many who stood at the head of the classes in school have been practical failures. But stick to school by all means.

To The Editor of The Courier

To the Editor of The Courier: ... Dear Sir,—I wish to thank the council for their kind remarks of appreciation in connection with our annual report of the assessment, also the press for their editorials in reference to the same report. It is very encouraging to know that our work is satisfactory. The ratepayers of the city also deserve a good amount of credit for their kind consideration and treatment they have accorded us during this present season, notwithstanding the greatly increased assessment placed on them. They have invariably made but little complaint. We have endeavored to make the assessments so as each individual ratepayer will bear their just share of the taxation based on them. It is anything but pleasant to have to be continually increasing their assessments from year to year, however this is unavoidable, as we must do our duty and carry on the assessment Act as it exists. A great many people think that we only have the power to assess their property at two-thirds its value. This is not the case, as the statutes are quite clear on this point that we have to assess all property at its actual value, basing our valuation between a willing seller and a willing purchaser. However, as there is no fixed value on any property, all that the assessor can do is try and arrive at a fair equitable assessment, so as to have Jones assessed the same as Brown. Some ratepayers have an idea that if they paint, decorate or rehang their property that we increase their assessment. To this I can say candidly that there has never been one dollar added to their assessment on this account, as we realize that it takes certain improvements every year to keep them up. We want to encourage improvements, and not discourage them. So kindly get this notion out of your heads, and go on and make your repairs, such as I have mentioned.

I wish again to thank all citizens

 At the same time three battalions of the enemy's 22nd division made a frontal attack. Our troops fell back on the railway. Later in the day we re-established posts in the line. In these operations the enemy was served by a greater number of machine guns than have yet been concentrated on the Canadian front. Our losses were correspondingly heavy and particularly regrettable were the casualties among the allied regimental officers.

An eastern British Columbia detachment had its colonel wounded and its two majors and adjutant killed. A central Ontario assembly met all its officers, but the commander and one other. The majority of the casualties are more or less light wounds, from machine guns.

The enemy showed the utmost resolution in his counter-attacks but could not dislodge us from the railway on our left. The first day they remained quiet during the day. They yesterday advanced up to the railway station at Aban-ching gun fire from the heights on either flank fell back to their original lines.

FIRE PREVENTION PROCLAMATION

Issued by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario.

Whereas next to the care of those who are offering their lives on the front line of battle, the conservation of all our energies and substances is our most important problem;

And whereas the saving of human life, thrift, and the prevention of loss of property through destruction by fire is an aid which every one should give willingly to the community at large;

And whereas the reckless and improvident fire waste that confronts the people of our Province is appalling;

Therefore believing that the loss can be minimized only by awakening in the public mind a universal watchfulness against carelessness, accumulation of rubbish and unsanitary conditions;

and

Because of this great need and in order to arouse a sense of watchfulness, cleanliness and cleanliness, and to create a greater personal responsibility in reducing the number of preventable fires.

We have thought fit, by and with the advice of our Executive Council for the Province of Ontario, to name and do hereby name Wednesday, the 9th DAY OF OCTOBER, 1918 AS

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

And we do hereby urge that on this day, throughout our Province of Ontario, attention be called in schools and public places to the conditions that exist, and to the need of immediate action and cooperation on the part of everyone; and special exercises, addresses and other means be employed to impress on the public mind lessons of Fire Prevention.

To insure the success of this great Clean-Up Campaign it will be necessary to have the hearty and harmonious cooperation of all who have for their objects civic, social and industrial betterment.

The Proclamation should be read in all schools and at Public Gatherings.

Office of the Fire Marshal of Ontario, Toronto, Sept. 21st, 1918.

GEORGE F. LEWIS,
Deputy Fire Marshal.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
MEETS DECEMBER 10

Magnates Will Not Tie
Their Hands by Definite
Arrangements

PLAYERS SCATTERED
Secretary Heydler Likely to Be Given Full Authority
to Act for League

New York, Oct. 2.—Major league baseball in so far as it concerns the National League will be officially terminated at the annual meeting of the association to be held in this city on December 10. At the gathering, the senior organization will formally wind up the business affairs of the season just closed and enter upon a hiatus which will remain undisturbed until such time as international affairs appear to warrant a revival of the professional end of the national game.

This, at least, is the intention of the magnates at the present time,
and nothing short of a most sensational change in the war status within the next two months will cause a shift in the plans of the league. It requires a long period of preparation and much detail work prior to the opening of each season, and it is recognized that in the present unsettled state of baseball affairs it would be impossible to renew the operation of the circuit until a complete time in which to formulate arrangements. A declaration of peace coming late next Spring would prove of little value to the big league clubs,
according to the opinion of prominent magnates.

Players All Scattered
It has been pointed out that the players of the various teams would be scattered to the four points of the compass, that some of the baseball parks will have been adapted to other forms of business; that problems would arise during the readjustment period which have never confronted baseball magnates, and that the best policy will be to make plans for the future. General opinion appears to support the idea that a new and better order of professional baseball will come forth at the proper time, but that much of this season's rushed blindly to the same at the first hint of an opening.

It is understood, however, that the magnates will not tie their hands by any definite statements or arrangements, but will leave the affairs of the organization in such a fluid state that business can be resumed at the proper moment with as slight a jar as possible.

The office of the league will be continued, Secretary Heydler will in all probability be re-elected to his present position, with full authority to act for the league in all matters which have heretofore been in the hands of the president, as well as the other elective officers of the league.

of Hospital Governors took place yesterday afternoon. Present, C. H.
Waterous (President), Warden Pitts,
Dr. Sweeney, H. Symons, G. Kippax,
P. D. Boyle.

Many matters were discussed, and action taken with regard to internal affairs.

Resolution of Confidence
Moved by Warden Pitts, seconded by F. D. Boyle, that the members desire to place on record their sense of the deep loss sustained by this board and the community at the passing of Mr. Richard Sanderson, for so many years a prominent figure in the municipal and citizen activities of Brantford County.

As in every relation of life, he brought to the discharge of his hospital duties all that single-mindedness and loyalty of purpose which he possessed in every relationship.

His faithful attendance at meetings was proverbial and his counsel was always of the highest quality.
He was called to his reward and he
to leave our sincere condolences to the bereaved wife and family, to whom at least there must come the consolation of an honorable and unimpaired career, marked by deep Christian sincerity.

This resolution was forwarded to Mrs. Sanderson.

We regret to report 15 cases of typhoid fever in the hospital, one nurse in training, Miss Plumstead, has also been attacked. We are disappointed, as all the nurses had the typhoid vaccine, and Miss Plumstead
only had hers a few months ago.

The above cases of typhoid were held on the afternoon following graduation exercises, when thirteen members of the graduating class left their association after the business meeting, tea was served in honor of the new members.

Our engineer, Mr. McDonald, was of the greatest possible help in our graduation preparations, both he
and his assistants doing their part
toward having everything run
smoothly, and this, together with a generous coat of whitewash, presented a very different appearance
from last year.

Saturday afternoon, Oct. 15th, Dr.
Allen Bryd of Toronto, is to hold a "Baby's Welfare" clinic, under the auspices of the Medical Association,
at the hospital, large room.
The best of nurses, and a well-attended, would be most useful, as the room opposite could be used for the mothers and babies.

One engineer, Mr. McDonald, was of the greatest possible help in our
graduation preparations, both he
and his assistants doing their part
toward having everything run
smoothly, and this, together with

sented a very different appearance

Good clean literature, newspapers, magazines and prayer books are furnished regularly.
The chaplain, through the association, are providing with altar linens, vestments, chalices, etc., together with other facilities for the discharge of their spiritual labors.

Safety in these work is deserving of our help. It is something that should appeal to every Catholic heart and ought to receive the financial support of all.
In the successful prosecution of the war the Catholic Army Huts is an integral part. As the army to go in unity, one in loyalty and one in work, so let all at home be one in duty.

K. OF C. CAMPAIGN
FOR ARMY HUTS

$10,000 is Objective Set For Brantford Campaign
Next Week

Many people have been wondering who are to receive the benefits from the Army Huts Campaign, about to be launched, and for their information it might be said that the Knights of Columbus are the collecting agency, that in the army huts overseas, or in the Dominion, no fraternal society or business party of the society or any other is permitted.

The buildings or huts are open to all the soldiers, all the time, and are used only for recreational, social and religious purposes and there is not an event in the day's program, in any of these buildings to which any soldier in khaki is not a most welcome guest.

The Knights of Columbus, as a fraternal society does not conduct a propaganda in its behalf but simply act as a trustee of agency, assuming in their administration of the army huts, which are under the direction of the military service, and regularly recognized by government authorities.

As to the "All soldiers welcome," and that declaration is fully lived up to always.

The idea that there is competition with the Y. M. C. A., is entirely wrong, neither in the spirit of the work, nor in the character of the endeavor, is there any opposition or duplication. So far as the recreation features are concerned, they are entirely complimentary to all soldiers attending the huts.

That the work of the Huts committee is being appreciated by the military authorities is evidenced by the strong letter from General Turner, an officer commanding the Canadians in England, he says: "I wish you every success in the effort to increase the scope of the Catholic Army Huts in the Dominion of the United Kingdom. I feel they fill a long felt want among our soldiers in providing for their religious welfare. I hope you will continue these advantageous plans for our men."

As a body corporate the Catholic Army Huts has right and power to erect, equip and conduct Army Huts for Canadian soldiers, which shall serve the two-fold purpose of chapels for Catholic soldiers and recreation huts for all soldiers, irrespective of their religious faith, under the direction of the military Chaplain Service.

There are no paid officers of this association. Not a cent of profit has been made on any transaction. The books of the association are regularly audited.

The work overseas has been in operation slightly more than a year, which books were first available in the Chaplain Service regularly organized.

The association represents, and it really represents and best of the Catholic people of Canada. The aim of the association is to keep Canadian soldiers clean, in soul and body.

The huts are for the use of and by every soldier. All are welcome.
There is no charge for the use of the huts, but a place where men may assemble for wholesome recreation.

The chaplain are gathering centres
where Catholic soldiers may receive the fortifying influence of their own faith.

Where the Chaplain are maintained in London City, where large numbers of Canadians are constantly on leave.

There is an Army Hut at every Canadian training camp in England.
Some of the most important are
Brantford, Whitley, Seaford, Cooder,
Brantford, Whitley, Seaford, Cooder.
In France there are Huts at Trepport, Blesmes and in connection with the Huts there are also three portable and particularly serviceable chapels throughout the Canadian corps area, with the railway troops and at the casualty clearing stations.

BUELOW MAY BE STRONG MAN IN GERMAN CRISIS

Defection of Bulgaria Causes Demand for Popular
Reforms

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Oct. 1.—There is the greatest excitement in Germany over the defection of Bulgaria, judging from special despatches received here from Holland. On Saturday the excitement amounted to a panic, and according to some reports, the panic spread to the Berlin Bourse, where the alarm brought forth the instant demand that something be done.

A despatch to The Daily Mail from The Hague says the demand for somebody possessing the confidence of the Germans and their allies to replace the present military oligarchy but enjoying the confidence of the people, is a very real one.

All reports indicate a decided cleavage between the junker and conservative classes and the class represented by the Socialists and Radicals, who on this occasion have the support of some Catholics and even National Liberals.

Emperor William's belated anxiety for the people to co-operate in the Government evidently will be distasteful to the junkers, whose foremost paper, The Evening Zeitung, declares that a dictatorship is the only possible alternative. On the other hand the demand of the popular parties is for a popularity, elective cabinet.

The effect of the resignations of Chancellor von Hertling and Foreign Secretary von Hintze on the public opinion is not yet reported. Nothing is known as to how the terms of Bulgarian surrender have affected the German people, if they have been permitted to vote the count.

Prince von Buelow, former German imperial chancellor, may be the "strong man" mentioned in the despatches from The Hague as the statesman who is expected to appear as "the strong man" in the present crisis.

PROMPT ACTION ON PASTEURIZATION
OF MILK FAVORED

Special Committee Would Have Council Pass Necessary Bylaw at Once

Immediate enactment by the City Council of an ordinance for the pasteurization of all milk sold in the city was recommended by Ald. J. F.
Hurley at a meeting of the special committee on the milk question held last night. Delegates from the Board of Trade, the Board of Health and the Trades and Labor Council had been invited to be present, but failed to put in an appearance, and the proceedings of the meeting completed Ald. Hurley, Mayor, Messrs. Briggs and Clement and two representatives of the Milk Dealers' Association. In view of the small attendance, no definite action was taken by the committee and another meeting will be called in the near future.

Ald. Hurley, chairman of the Milk Committee, declared that he had come to the conclusion that the by-law authorizing pasteurization of milk should be passed at once, and he urged in advance to allow the milkmen
ample time to make all necessary
changes in their methods of processing milk.

teurization by-law, the committee will recommend that the ordinance authorizing the pasteurization of milk be passed at once, and he

ample time to make all necessary

cessing milk.

Mr. William Brittain, representing the dairymen, inquired as to the efficacy of pasteurization. The question that followed was generally favorable to the plan for pasteuriza-tion, but in view of the small at-

St. Quentin Front, Oct. 1.—Some hundreds of Americans in a certain advanced position between Cambrai and St. Quentin, which they reached late Sunday, were holding out valiantly against superior enemy numbers, according to latest reports which were received yesterday.

MENACE TO SUB BASES INCREASED

Allies Drawing Closer to Bruges—Outflanking Armentieres Sallient

With the British Army in Flanders, Oct. 1.—The Germans are holding on to the Armentieres-La Bassée salient with great tenacity, but the salient is being outflanked by the British advances north and south of it, particularly on the north, where the British have made important gains.

Late Monday the enemy delivered strong but unsuccessful counter-attacks here and there along the new Flanders front in an effort to regain important positions. All his efforts are already smothered under a rain of fire.

Strong British patrols have fought their way through the town of Warnton, on the Lys River between Armentieres and Menin, and also have gone through La Basseeville and St. Peters.

The Germans to-day continued to fight as desperately as before, but every hour sees the menace to the Belgian coast positions around Ostend increased. At the same time the British and Belgians are drawing closer to Bruges.

Approximately five-eighths of the Franco-Belgian front is involved in the present great battle. The intrepid estimates that out of a total front of nearly 400 miles active fighting is going on along an aggregate frontage of 250 miles.

The continued success of the Flanders operations, it is anticipated, will have wide and most important effects in more ways than one. The Germans will try to hold on there as they never have held any place before, and it is not improbable the thing may develop into a very fierce battle.

The Belgians have pushed beyond the shell-torn zone of mud and water and have occupied comparatively dry and comfortable positions in the enemy lines. The enemy lost practically the whole of his forward artillery and some of his heaviest naval guns.

The Germans fought stoutly in the Houthulst Forest, but were completely surprised by the onslaught of the Belgians through the soaking downpour. The Boche fell like flies.

The 110th Regiment of Saxons, who came into the line on the night of September 28, were raised by the Belgians, who recognizing in them the despotic or Disraeli, wiped out the score fully as far as this unit is concerned.

NIGHT CLASSES AT COLLEGIATE. Arrangements for the night classes at the Collegiate Institute have been completed. The classes will open in November, with registration between 7.30 and 9.15 on October 30 and 31 and November 1 at the institute.

Get from here the battle line curves back north-westward, passing about 1,500 yards south-west of Boucy, which also has been reached by the allied troops, but at the present moment is in German hands. The torch has been applied to Cambrai and consequently they are burning Cambrai and other places. Great tongues of flames and billows of smoke are rising from Cambrai.

Get Behind British. With the British Armies in the Field, Oct. 1.—The only impressions made by the Hun on our new front south of Cambrai have been the Bony and Villers Outfall. Bony is one of the fortified villages commanding the three-mile gap in the Scheidt Canal, where it lies underground.

Several Plans Suggested. Several plans are suggested. One is to call up all the classes and adopt a process of elimination, taking all that can best be spared. Another is to summon the second class—married men—from 20 to 34; a third to call to the colors the 25,000 young men who registered when they were 19 and have since become 20, while a fourth alternative is to abolish the exemptions of those between 22 and 24 as was done in the case of those from 20 to 22.

Experience has shown that it takes five or six months, once a class is called, to get them overseas. If sary to remove the present status-quo of these plans are embarked upon—and doubtless something will be done—legislation by Parliament or by order-in-Council will be necessary limitation.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—One of the problems which the Cabinet will have to grapple with when the considerable number of its members now away return to the capital is the Military Service Act and what further is to be done in connection with it. The measure has served a useful purpose and produced satisfactory results since it was amended and speeded up, but just as present the machinery of the law is ready for further action awaiting a decision as to the nature of it. How many men have been secured is not announced, but the limit is within hailing distance. The interpretation placed upon the law, however, is that the hundred thousand applies to reinforcements "sent overseas," rather than those raised and kept at home. There is no great purpose to be served in keeping men on this side of the water. The question of what to do next has been before the Cabinet, but no conclusion has been reached. The vastly improved military situation may have something to do with it. Reserves sufficient for a few months are on hand, but if it is possible that the enemy can execute a "come back" the extra men might not last long. It will be for the Ministers to decide the character of the measure to meet future contingencies.

MAIL PARCELS BY NOV. 15. The postmaster-general states that Christmas parcels for the Canadian expeditionary forces in France should be mailed in time to be dispatched from Canadian ports not later than the middle of November. Transportation is congested during the Christmas season, and those who are sending parcels to their friends in the trenches are urged to post them early if they wish to have them delivered by Christmas.

TO PRESENT MEMORIAL. By Courier Leased Wire. Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The memorial asking for a war bonus of $350 for all the civil servants of Canada will be presented to members of the government on Tuesday evening of next week at a time and place to be decided upon in a few days. A joint committee representing the inside and outside services will speak in support of the memorial.

Last night the executive committee of the Ottawa Civil Service Association held a meeting in the library of the Marine Department to receive the report of the special committee which has been handling the question of the war bonus.

Details of the report and some of the reasons which will be advanced at the meeting with the government were not made public.

EMPIRE DAY IN N.Y. By Courier Leased Wire. New York Oct. 1.—The Union Jack took its place yesterday on the alt of Liberty, mingling its colors with the banners of the national in a special dedication of the faith and soul of Great Britain to cause of the Allies. It was British Empire Day for the liberty loan campaign and the tribute it at cheering crowds paid to Britain's achievements in the war was such as to thrill every British heart with pride. Sir Henry Reeling, top Smith, acting British High Commissioner delivered the address of the day. When he referred to the news of the Allied victory over Dalmatia he evoked a demonstration of joy and enthusiasm from the crowds.

"Victory is in sight," he declared, "but the road to it may still be a long one. This is not the time to relax but to redouble our efforts."

Y.M.C.A. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN OFF TO A START LAST NIGHT

Opening Gun For a Three Day Campaign Drive Was Fired at Team Supper

The Y.M.C.A. building was taken to its very foundations last night by the reverberations of the opening gun in the three-day membership campaign, formally launched at a supper of the campaign workers held in the auditorium. Snappy speeches from the leaders of both the Red and Green teams, each of whom is confident of victory in the campaign, featured the evening. Snappy speeches from the leaders of both the Red and Green teams, each of whom is confident of victory in the campaign, featured the evening. Snappy speeches from the leaders of both the Red and Green teams, each of whom is confident of victory in the campaign, featured the evening.

Mr. Danby explained the manner in which the campaign was being conducted, the red and the green teams, each striving against the other. He emphasized the desirability of cash payment for all new memberships. It was not possible, the campaigner would accept bills, or arrangements could be made, in the case of workmen joining the institution, with the factories where they were employed, to make payments.

A scene in the delightful comedy, "Daddy Long Legs," which will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House, on Wednesday night, Oct. 2nd.

Music and Drama

THE REX

The large crowds who were turned away last Thursday, Friday and Saturday night, playing at the Grand Opera House, with Norma Talridge and Eugene O'Brien were being shown will have another chance of seeing these two popular stars next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday when they will co-star in the powerful crook play, De Luxe. No doubt there were many who read this story in the Saturday Evening Post. The picture is an eight reel production, and will be run at popular prices.

"LETTERS OF THE WORLD"

In all 120,000 feet of film was exposed in making David W. Griffith's supreme triumph, "Letters of the World," playing at the Grand Opera House, Oct. 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th, but only 12,000 feet are shown on the screen. As Mr. Griffith and his camera men spent days and days cutting this precious film—every inch of which was a drop of blood cut out of his heart—the great producer had the saddest period of his life. Every turn of the crank represented the realization of his desire, the greatest picture ever made, and to have it cut down to an evening's entertainment—was like cutting off the ears of his favorite child.

"DADDY LONG LEGS"

"Daddy Long Legs" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House, this Wednesday night, Oct. 2nd. The story concerns itself with the transition from a life of drudgery in an orphan asylum, through college, and to a place in the sun, of a jarringly of the authorities at the orphanage, attracts the attention of a young-old bachelor. Remaining but a shadow in her life, so far as a benefactor is concerned, he sends her to college and she writes to him regularly, and the girl (loves the shadowy man who has helped her but whom she has never seen. They meet and she then learns to love the man in the flesh, not knowing that he is her "Daddy Long Legs."

Little Ones of Belgium Feel Full Weight of Germany's Mailed Fist

The German armies were held only a few days (by the Belgians), but the delay of those few days changed the fortunes of the world. This is the testimony of Ambassador Gerard in his book, "Face to Face With Kaiserism."

Great as was the change wrought by this heroic resistance in the destinies of the world, it cannot approximate the extent of the misery visited upon unhappy Belgium by the invaders. German frightfulness

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE"

One of the best plays produced in recent seasons bears the title "It Pays to Advertise," and you can count it as one of those successes. The play proves its title, and every rusty old business house in the country that has "something" to market with it should send its representative to see this play and find out the reason for there are thousands of rich old conservatives like Cyrus Martin, the head of the Soap Trust in the play, who need a few practical illustrations of the fact that "it pays to advertise." The play is the funniest combination of circumstances ever staged, but as a practical lesson to those who do not believe it teaches a great truth. Cyrus Martin, quarrels with his son, and the latter goes into business in the new way determined to succeed by advertising. He scores a big success, as any energetic young man is bound to do if he advertises judiciously, and his skeptical father is, in the end, glad to buy into the new firm. Every newspaper publisher, and every lawyer, knows the man who does not believe in advertising, and when the players slyly tell of the success of O'Sullivan's Rubber Heels, Ivory Soap, Kellogg's Corn Flakes, and other immense concerns created through advertising, then there hardly need be anything local in the estimate placed upon the work of the play producers who entertain while proving that every line of business is sure to become stagnant unless it is advertised.

CORFU NAVAL BASE IN MEDITERRANEAN

One of Islands of the Ionian Group From Which Allied Operations Are Directed

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Oct. 2.—Corfu, one of the islands of the Ionian group, is the centre from which naval operations in the Mediterranean are being directed. A correspondent with British Journalists' mission, writes of the work being done there as follows:

"Corfu is one of the naval bases of the Allies in the Mediterranean, and is temporarily the headquarters of Admiral Gauchet, commander of the Allied squadron in Greek waters. There is no great concentration of warships there at any particular time. Its occupation is merely strategic."

"A couple of years ago when the Mediterranean was the happy hunting ground of the submarine, that the Allied powers of England, France and Italy being responsible for certain of these sectors. This system, however, proved ineffective. Finally a conference was held at Malta after it had become evident that a new disposition of forces and a new line of action against the submarine menace was necessary."

"It was decided to establish a central control with delegations of each Allied naval force in attendance, but the whole scheme of operations to be under an Allied commander in chief. The result is now that the other commanding has under him an organization which is working to hunt the submarine and protect commerce. At the present time there are about 200 craft in this force, there are now in active service. The forces of the Allies have been so disposed as to compel the enemy to accept action should it be deemed safe. How this force is disposed the enemy would give much to know."

"What has been seen and learned relative to this flotilla almost causes one to believe that the alarmists at home who have talked of the possibility of a junction between the Black Sea fleet, taken from the Russians by the Germans, and the Austrian naval forces in the Adriatic. These alarmists may remain calm on that score. There will never be a junction between these two fleets."

GET RID OF HUMORS AND AVOID DISEASE

Humors in the blood cause internal derangements that affect the whole system, as well as pimples, boils and other eruptions which affect all the organs and functions, membranes and tissues, and are directly responsible for the readiness with which some people contract disease.

For forty years Hood's Sarsaparilla has been more successful than any other medicine in expelling humors and removing their inward and outward effects. It is distinguished for its thoroughness in purifying the blood, which it enriches and invigorates. No other medicine acts like it, for no other medicine is like it.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today, insist on having Hood's Sarsaparilla.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children In Use For Over 30 Years Always bears the Signature of Chas. H. Watson

"You might as well have it," whispers temptation, but your Canadian Patriotism says "No!"

The tempting suggestions of selfishness meet no response from a patriot. For he knows that selfishness and self-indulgence are just now the allies of the Hun—they fight on Germany's side against Canada.

When the devil-whisper says "You might as well have it," every true Canadian answers "No!"

Except for the bare necessities of life, we should not be spending five cents a day.

For every expenditure we make on things not absolutely necessary directly affects the fighting strength of Canada and her allies.

The materials that go into the making of things you can do without are needed for our soldiers overseas.

Many of those materials which enter into our unnecessary purchases are brought from other countries and occupy precious space in ships; space sorely needed for those cargoes which can be used for the winning of the war.

The labor that fashions the things we unnecessarily use is labor which could and would be employed to real advantage in the production of war necessities.

Knowing all this, how dare you divert a single unnecessary dollar from your country's war effort!

The shame that must inevitably follow your every self-indulgence, at so grave a time, will be your fitting punishment—if you persist in buying the things you merely want and do not need.

Resist indulgence, cultivate thrift—for thrift is an evidence of patriotism.

And the money you save by thrift will be yours to lend to your country whenever the call comes.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

If cross, feverish or bilious give California Syrup of Figs. No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look! Mother! see if the tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mother! can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels, and sweeten the stomach, and they thereby love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."
