WERE RETURNING FROM LABOR

Thieves Plunder a Farmington, Iowa, Bank of $17,000.

WAS ROBBED IN THE NIGHT.

Time Lock Was on and Still the Vault Was Opened—Bank Officers Are Mystified.

Brazil, Ind., March 16.—A miner's train carrying 400 workmen employed at the mines north of here to their homes in this city was run into by a local freight train on the C. & E. I. railroad at 6 o'clock Monday evening and the caboose and two cars were smashed to splinters. Melvin Easter, a miner of Brazil, was instantly killed and more than 40 persons severely wounded. Among those seriously injured, many of whom will die, are:

Thomas Barrowman, both legs broken; Will Dodswell, injured internally; William Lumsdon, arm broken, injured in chest; Samuel Lynch, internal injuries; John Dickson, back broken; Thomas Davis, both arms broken; John Little, arm broken; William Vesper, internal injuries.

Charles Alberti, a miner from Brazil, is missing, and the body is supposed to be in the wreckage.

Engineer William McIntosh and Fireman Ed Sheehan on the freight train were injured by jumping when they observed the impending danger.

The wreck occurred in a deep cut in the center of a short curve. The railroad company at once sent a special train and brought the wounded to this city. All the vehicles obtainable at the livery stables and from private homes were secured to take the men to their respective homes. When the train arrived the wounded were placed in the waiting-room of the depot and cared for by employees of the company until conveyances could be secured to take them home. Every physician of the city has been called into service and it will require the greatest part of the night to care for those hurt.

The blame for the accident has not yet been placed, as it was impossible for the engineer to see the lights on the caboose of the miners' train till within a few feet of it. Hundreds of women gathered at the depot and grasped their maimed and bleeding husbands and brothers in their arms when they were carried from the train. The scene was a very touching one. The wreckage caught fire by an overturned stove and the men who were rescuing the wounded were forced to turn their attention to the fire to prevent those pinioned in the wreck from being cremated.

Iowa Bank Robbed.

Ottumwa, Ia., March 16.—The town of Farmington was thrown into a fever of excitement Monday morning when Cashier Barry Wier opened the vaults of the Farmers' bank and found the interior had been rifled of a large portion of its contents. The officials of the bank were summoned and an examination made, but up to this time the manner in which the robbers received admittance is a mystery. Mr. Wier, the cashier, left the bank at 3:30 Saturday afternoon to spend Sunday in Eldon. He left President F. S. Lightfoot and F. D. Barr, one of the directors, in charge, and an hour later those gentlemen set the time lock for 36 hours or until five o'clock Monday morning, and when the president closed the vault door and locked it there was a large sum of money in the vault. Just how much they refuse to state. They had sent $3400 away, but there was large sums in specie and currency remaining. Robbers had taken all the currency and left several thousand dollars in gold and silver. It is a mystery how it could have been possible for robbers to get into the vault, as the lock showed no indication of having been tampered with and the single door to the bank was locked as usual. It is claimed that nearly $17,000 was secured by robbers, but the officials claim that the sum will not reach that amount. Late Monday night word was received from F. D. Barr that the sum was $1700. Suspicious characters who left Farmington suddenly Sunday are being pursued.

Wires Down.

At 2 p. m. today the telegraph wires went down, and were not in operation at the time of going to press. The exact point where the break occurred is not known.

Townsite Patents.

Mr. R. Rinfret, a Dominion land surveyor, who recently arrived in Dawson from Ottawa, brought government patents for 142 pieces of city property. All the lots for which patents have been received, are situated either in Menzie's addition or the Government addition. The former plat of ground is bounded on the north by Ladue's addition and government property, on the east by government ground, on the south by Day's addition, and on the west by the government reserve and Harper's addition. The government addition, for which real property grants have been made is located in the extreme north eastern portion of the city.

Mr. Rinfret reports that about 600 patents have issued for lots situated in Dawson; but he is unable to say when the rest of the patents will be received here.

Capt. Starnes Resigns.

Captain Starnes has resigned his commission in the N. W. M. P. force in which for a long time he has been inspector of police and ex-officio coroner. It is understood that his resignation, at his own request, will take effect at once. It is not known the reasons of the gallant officer for resigning, but it is hinted that he has private interests of a business nature which demand his attention. He came to Dawson nearly two years ago and has since been active and efficient in the discharge of his official duties. It is not known whether or not he will remain in Dawson after the opening of navigation.

BOYLE FAMILY

John and Caddie, Returned Today—Sixteen Days By Mule Team From Bennett.

SLEPT ON GLACIERS EN ROUTE

Upper Lakes Are Already Beginning to Break Up.

SMALLEST DOG IN DAWSON

Glad to Get Back to the Yukon Metropolis After Eight Months' Absence.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon two old timers, Mr. and Mrs. John Boyle, accompanied by the latter's sister, Miss Flora Daly, Mrs. H. M. Stevens and Frank Potts, drove up Front street with a pair of big, black mules attached to a sled bearing the inscription "Skagway-Dawson Chair Seat Stage Line." Although the party had been on the road 16 days from Bennett, the entire outfit, including the mules, looked as fresh as though just returning from a short picnic excursion.

The party found fine accommodations at Ford's club and there the reporter found them just after they alighted from the sleigh. Mrs. Boyle, Caddie, as she is pleased to designate herself, was quite enthusiastic over getting safely back to Dawson, having left here with her husband last August, since which time until a month ago they have been in Seattle. To the Nugget man Mrs. Boyle said:

"We had a very pleasant trip in, but there will certainly be very little more travel this year over the upper lakes, for the reason that they were already beginning to crumble and break when we crossed them. The weather up there was so warm we had to sleep on glaciers at night in order to be comfortable. My sister and Mrs. Stevens objected to sleeping on the ice at first, but after becoming accustomed to it they can't sleep now unless they have blocks of ice for pillows.

"The trail from Selkirk down is first class. We had good luck all the way down, and are most happy to be back in Dawson even if we are broke."

Miss Daly brought with her a 2-year-old black and tan dog which weighs but 3 1/2 pounds. It is a frisky little thing, but would not be a success at freighting.

Taken altogether, the Boyle party arrived in better condition than the majority of those who have come in over the ice this season.

Superintendent Wilson Arrives.

Recently Mr. James M. Wilson arrived in Dawson from San Francisco, California. Mr. Wilson holds the responsible position of superintendent of the Alaska Commercial Company's business in the Yukon district. This morning the gentleman started on a trip to the many different creeks, for the purpose of inspecting the company's mining interests. He will remain in Dawson until the opening of navigation, and then he will visit the various posts, which are located on the Towner river.

Territorial Court.

The case of Peter McLaure, plaintiff, vs. Charles Farquharson and Thomas Klog, defendants, is on trial before Justice Dugas today. The action is brought by the plaintiff to establish a partnership between himself and defendants, and to obtain from defendant Klog an interest in creek claim No. 31 below upper discovery on Dominion, which plaintiff alleges to be partnership property. Messrs. H. E. A. Robertson and William Thorburn are attorneys for the plaintiff. Messrs. F. C. Wade and William McKay represent the defendants.

The case of the Queen vs. Frank J. Golden, which is an action on appeal from the police court, was continued yesterday afternoon until Friday, April 6th.

Farewell to Lieut. Adair.

Mr. Jack Wiley, who since the opening of the White Pass & Yukon Ry. Co.'s office in this city has been associated with Lieut. S. E. Adair in the management of its affairs, gave a farewell to his associate last night at their home near Second avenue and Seventh street, the occasion being a royal "send off" to the lieutenant who has been called east on business, and who expects to start for the outside on Saturday. Mr. Wiley invited only a few of his and his guests' friends, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm and good cheer on the part of those present.

Lieut. Adair will stop a short time in both Skagway and Seattle for the transaction of railroad business with the officers of the company, and then go straight to Los Angeles, where his home is and where his wife resides. From Los Angeles he will make a hurried trip to New York and Boston in connection with his interests in the famous Whitehorse copper mines. He expects to return to Dawson in June, when he hopes to be accompanied by his wife.

Golden's New Building.

This morning work was commenced on Louis Golden's proposed building, which is to be erected on the site of the old opera house. The structure will be two stories high, and about 33 feet in width. The second floor will be divided into office rooms. The first floor will be used for a saloon and club room. Mr. Golden expects to have his new house open for business early next month.

Quartz Claim Recorded.

Samuel Ritchie has recorded the quartz property, particularly described as the American Gulch mineral claim, located on the left limit of Bonanza creek, between the head of Magnet gulch and the head of American gulch.

Captain Woods Returns.

Capt. J. D. Woods, the general manager of the Trading & Exploring Co., arrived in Dawson yesterday from a two weeks' trip up the Stewart river to the mouth of the McQuesten. His journey to that place was in business connected with the company he represents. The T. & E. Co. own considerable property there and the captain contemplates the establishing of a trading post at the mouth of the river this summer.

Capt. Woods reports a stampede on Mayo creek which is about 35 miles up the Stewart from the mouth of the McQuesten. Many prospectors are in the country and they all seem confident that the Stewart river country will pull out all right. He met a man, he says, whose name he did not learn, going in with two years' provisions. All the creeks are being worked and the bars on the river have been worked, as evidences of the work are still to be seen. It took Capt. Woods' party nine days to go up the Stewart, as the river is opening up very rapidly, and trees had to be felled for crossing dangerous places, the ice being quite rotten and breaking rapidly. He was compelled to leave his dogs at Lake creek, 36 miles below the McQuesten.

Government Surveyor Dumias and P. J. Davis Colley accompanied the captain, Mr. Dumias making the trip for the purpose of surveying the country around Mayo creek. Mr. Colley is connected with the T. & E. Co.

Capt. Woods reports the country contiguous to the McQuesten as a splendid locality for the raising of cereals, oats being raised there with the most satisfactory results. The land is undulating meadows, and game is found in plenty. In returning to Dawson the party accomplished the return trip in but three and one half days. It was learned that at Indian river the Yukon has raised 15 inches in two weeks, owing to the immense flow of water from its feeders, which are pouring into the river the melting snow from the side hills.

Weather Report.

The maximum temperature for the 24 hours preceding 9 o'clock this morning was 35 degrees above zero. The minimum temperature during the same period of time was 10.5 degrees above.

M'COOK RETURNS

From an Extended Trip to the United States and Europe.

HE CALLED ON AMBASSADOR CHOATE

Who Evinces Great Interest in the Alaska Boundary Question.

THE CONSUL IN GOOD HEALTH

He Made the Journey From Bennett to Dawson in Only Eleven Days.

United States Consul J. C. McCook returned to Dawson last night. The colonel left here last fall, and during his absence he has visited the principal cities of the eastern part of the Union, and several of the countries of Europe. In speaking of his extended trip, the consul said:

"I visited Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Washington. In the latter city, I attended to some matters of official business; and while there I met many gentlemen of Dawson and of the territory of Alaska. Some of the congressional and senatorial committees were engaged in collecting facts regarding conditions at Nome; but at that time no definite action was under consideration. When my business in Washington was concluded, I returned to New York, from which I took passage to Europe. At the time when I was in London, the war news from Africa was unfavorable to the British, and though there was no doubt as to the ultimate result, the people of the capital were somewhat depressed, and a few criticisms were made relative to the management of the South African trouble. I was present in Guild Hall when the officers of the Civic Imperial Volunteers were sworn into service. The ceremony was most impressive; and the grandeur of the scene defies description. Among the prominent people who participated in the ceremonies were the lord mayor of London and the Duke of Cambridge. I visited Ambassador Choate; and he evinced great interest in the Alaska boundary question. I went to Ireland, and thence to France, Italy and Spain. Indeed I have spent the greater part of the last six months on the continent of Europe."

The colonel was taken ill at Bennett with congestion of the lungs, and was required to remain there for about a week. He made the trip from Bennett to Dawson in 11 days. The consul appears to be in excellent health and spirits; and at the present time he is busily engaged in attending to matters of official business. He reports that times are very good in the states, and he contemplates making another trip outside next fall.

Incoming Mails.

The mail, which has been consigned from Skagway to Dawson, passed Selwyn yesterday morning; and it is expected that it will arrive here tomorrow.

The mail, which left Skagway for points on the American side, reached Whitehorse on April 4th. It will probably pass through Dawson next Sunday.

MAJ. PERRY'S DEPARTURE.

The announcement that Major Perry has been withdrawn from Dawson will be received with regret by all citizens who are familiar with his capacity as an administrator and his sterling qualities as a magistrate. Major Perry came to Dawson under peculiar circumstances, which made his position one of considerable difficulty. He came to succeed Col. Steele, the man who held the very highest place in the confidence and respect of the people, and whose withdrawal from Dawson was accompanied by demonstrations of popular regret unprecedented in the case of any other official in the public service in this territory.

To say, therefore, that Major Perry stepped into Col. Steele's position, and has performed the onerous duties of that position with credit to himself and satisfaction to the public, is to pay him the highest tribute possible.

The public in general will join with the Nugget in expressing to Major Perry a feeling of sincere regret at his departure, but at the same time wishing him the very best of fortune in whatever new position he may be called upon to occupy.

COST MUST BE COUNTED.

The public will not support a move to incorporate Dawson as a municipality if it is shown that such action will result in an excessive increase in local taxation. It will be an impossibility to secure an intelligent expression of opinion upon the matter until a clear and definite idea is had as to the exact terms upon which incorporation will be granted. While we believe it is the almost unanimous desire of the citizens of Dawson that the town should be governed by a representative body, there is also a well defined opinion that no decisive step should be taken until the cost has been estimated as accurately as possible. There would be considerable satisfaction in pointing out the fact that Dawson possesses a full-fledged board of aldermen or city council, but even that satisfaction would scarcely compensate for a tax roll of several hundred thousand dollars.

SIFTON DENIES.

Before the departure of Minister Sifton for Europe, the Yukon question was again discussed very strongly in parliament. Sir Charles Tupper addressed himself to the royalty question, to the withdrawal of ground from location, and to the causes which have brought about so great a decrease in the population of the territory. The ground was covered in an exhaustive manner, showing the leader of the opposition to be much better posted at the present time than was the case twelve months ago.

In reply, Minister Sifton, according to the reports as published in Montreal and Ottawa papers, made, among other senseless statements, a flat denial of the charge that any ground had been withdrawn from prospecting and location.

How Sifton, even, could screw his nerve up to the sticking point sufficiently to give utterance to such false and ridiculous assertions is something remarkable.

Every man who was in the country last summer will remember the orders which came in respecting the withdrawal of unlocated ground on Bonanza and Eldorado creeks.

The order, given under the hand of the secretary of the minister of the interior, reads in part as follows:

"I am to instruct you to reserve, until further notice, from entry the hillside and bench claims on Bonanza and Eldorado creeks which are not entered for when this communication reaches you."

Now, it is a fact, regardless of any denials which Sifton may make, that this order was received in June last and placed in effect, and has been in effect ever since.

And it is also a fact that, in consequence of that order, a great many men who contemplated spending the summer prospecting upon the creeks named left for the lower country soon after the receipt of the above order.

Sifton overdid himself when he made the statement credited to him above.

Dawson is about to be invaded by a couple of automobile machines. That is to say, two of these machines were due to leave Skagway yesterday, en route to this city. Had the trip been attempted thirty days ago, it would doubtless have fared much better with the adventurous automobilists than will now be the case.

If, as was true at this time last year, they find ten or twelve inches of water on Lake Tagish and Lake Lebarge, we incline to the opinion that the trip will prove rather a difficult one.

Kruger is now devoting himself to the work of keeping up the courage of the Boers by frequent reference to Biblical prophecy. In order to reach a satisfactory conclusion, he always has to start with the assumption that the Boers are the chosen people of God. He may be able to persuade himself and his own people that his hypothesis is correct, but he will find it a matter of exceeding difficulty to bring the rest of the world to the same conclusion.

The weather during the past week has been as capricious as April weather on Puget sound. From warm, balmy spring sunshine, we are again, to all intents and purposes, wrapped in the arms of an arctic winter. Within another week we may be having April showers, or the mercury may drop again to 50 below zero. Such, however, is life in the golden Klondike.

The Theosophists.

The Yukon Theosophists entertained a large and intelligent audience last evening at their regular weekly meeting. Dr. Burry one of their most advanced thinkers and leaders delivered his lecture on the evolution of soul in the human family. He took up the thread from his former lecture on the developments of soul in the sub-human races, and clearly, cogently and coherently carried it on through the opposing forces, physical imperfections and multiform difficulties of visible and invisible nature until its potential persistence manifests in intelligent, unselfish and honorable manhood. The lecturer explained how this evolution progressed in the family, tribal, individual, and civilized life, and how they classified; he explained how human wants and necessities developed human industry and invention, and now the creative and recreative faculty steadily evolved with the progress and advance of civilization, until man developed the noble feeling of intellectual morality, and spiritual intuition.

The club will entertain the thoughtful public again on next Wednesday evening, when one of its ardent students will deliver a lecture on "Why he may become a Theosophist."

Filipino Children.

Babies are babies all the world round. The little dark fellow in Egypt cries for the moon just as does the white baby in Boston. But the mammas may differ.

This story is about the little Filipino baby and how it is carried about by its mother; for, after all, that is the main point of difference. Of course, the Filipino babies do not wear nearly as many clothes as babies do in this country, and do not have pins stick into them and make them cry. They lie around on the bamboo floors, with maybe one garment on, and sleep; and when they grow old enough their mammas take them out to market. It is very seldom that they wear anything on their heads, though most of the older ones have nice little silk bonnets. They got them when they went to the big stone church and were christened. But they seldom wear them, and many a daughter is christened in the cap that her grandmamma was christened in. Sometimes the mother shades her infant daughter's head from the sun with an umbrella, but the boy babies receive no such attention.

But the way the Filipino mother carries her baby is the queerest, and probably the easiest for the mother, that is practiced in any country. The child rides astride on the mother's hip—one chocolate foot in front and the other behind. The mother places her hand against the back of the little one, and the "nine" (infant) holds on by grasping its mother's arm. And that is all there is to it. In Japan, the women carry the babies in a blanket on their backs, much as an Indian squaw carries a papoose. In Egypt the little ones are carried on the shoulders of their parents, while in this country the small child is carried in the arms.

The Filipino babies are not always carried on the hips, however. In some of the richer homes there are perambulators, or baby carriages. There is nothing artistic about them. They look for all the world like clothes baskets mounted on four very small wheels. Sometimes the perambulator does for a cradle as well, and is so arranged that the basket sets in a frame and can be swung. Another kind is simply a box on two wheels. Often the baby is put into this box and an older sister pulls it back and forth along the street in front of the house. Filipino babies learn to talk quite young. It is amusing to hear the little ones lisping over the Tagalo language and struggling with words that sound much like "ung" and "ong."

When they are 6 years old the children are started off to school, and spend the days swinging their feet, under the benches, learning the Spanish alphabet in the forenoon and the Tagalo in the afternoon. Now there is a hour a day given to the English language, or, as they call it there, the "Americano."

The Filipino little ones have few things to play with, and do not know what a doll is. They never see a picture book, and know only the tales that are told them after they are large enough to understand. It is not till childhood passes that they learn the meaning of the songs that are crooned to them when they are put to sleep—songs of the sea and of the battles of their fathers.—Harry A. Armstrong, in Chicago Record.

Kept From the Mob.

Cincinnati, March 19.—A Marion, Ind., special to the Times-Star says: Fred Dunker, the tramp who so brutally attacked and chloroformed Mrs. Henry Wise, wife of a prominent farmer, six miles north of Marion, and who with great difficulty was placed in the Marion jail at night to protect him from the indignant neighbors, was early Friday with great secrecy removed to the jail at Wabash, Ind., by the sheriff. The mob made strong demonstrations Thursday night and twice very nearly succeeded in getting possession of the prisoner.

STRIVING TO ASSIST DAWSON

Outside Aid Has Been Enlisted in Our Behalf.

Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce Interesting Themselves for Our Better Mail Service.

As one result of the recent action of the Dawson Board of Trade in agitating the question of securing a mail service that will bring us more than our letters during the closed season, the interests of commercial organizations of Seattle, Tacoma and Portland have been enlisted in our behalf, and each of them is striving to assist Dawson in securing her demands by bringing all the power and influence at their command upon their representatives at Washington.

The following letters have lately been received by the secretary of the home Board of Trade, Mr. F. W. Clayton:

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 27, 1900.
F. W. Clayton, Secretary Board of Trade, Dawson.

Dear Sir: Your communications concerning mails to Dawson were placed before our chamber at its last meeting, and I was directed to present the matter to the postal officials. I have already done so. The postal agent here thinks that it is impracticable to carry anything but actual letters. The facilities for carrying the mail are necessarily limited in winter. Were the government to undertake to carry all matter presented to it at letter rates the service would be swamped as the people of the Yukon valley would soon place upon it the carriage of merchandise in such large quantities as to make it impossible to move at all. He also says that the mails never have been carried as they should have been, and as the mail agents agreed to carry them, but that they have not been paid in cases of non fulfillment of the terms. He thinks it is impossible to do better than has been done this winter. Each year, however, makes it easier, and with the extension of the railroad, the opening of other roads, and the increase of population and travel, the mail service can and will be greatly improved and increased in another year.

I have also written to the postmaster general about it, and have urged him to send forward to Bennett all the mail matter—first, second or third class—and there deliver it to the Canadian post office. If the Canadian government does not forward it, the government of the United States will not be to blame. Our full duty, at least, will have been done, and you folks can make all your fight at Ottawa, instead of the half. I believe this practicable, and will be the ultimate result.

I will let you know later what comes of our efforts in this behalf. Yours truly,

THOS. W. PROSCH, Secretary.

The following very satisfactory reply to Dawson's request is from the "City of Destiny":

Tacoma, Wash., March 1, 1900.
Board of Trade, Dawson, Yukon Territory, Alaska.

Gentlemen: Your communication concerning mail facilities was duly received and read at a recent meeting of our board of trustees. The same was forwarded to our Senator Foster and Congressman Cushman, with the request that they take steps in the matter, together with our endorsement of the action taken by your honorable body.

We beg to assure you that at all times we will render any assistance possible in this direction or in any other way that we may be of use to you. Senator Foster, who is a resident of this city and a member of our chamber of commerce takes a great deal of interest in all things pertaining to Alaska and we have his assurance that he will do everything in his power to advance the welfare of the people of Alaska and Yukon territory. Very truly,
TACOMA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

J. W. WHITEHOUSE, Sec'y.

This one from Portland:
Portland, Or., March 7, 1900.
Mr. F. W. Clayton, Secretary Board of Trade, Dawson City, Yukon Territory, B. C.

Dear Sir: We beg to advise you that we are in receipt of a letter from Senator McBride of this state, acknowledging receipt of a memorial adopted by your body and attested by a number of merchants of your city, which we forwarded to Senator McBride at your request, with recommendations for your relief in the matter referred to. Mr. McBride states:

"I shall bring this matter to the attention of my colleagues in the Oregon delegation in congress, and shall ask them to join with me in an endorsement of the petition and in urging upon the department that additional provision be made for carrying the mails from Skagway to Dawson City."

This for your information. Yours very truly,

L. N. FLEISCHNER, Secretary.

Lastly comes the state paper of Washington with a promise to do all in its power to assist in bringing about a betterment of conditions in the matter of winter mails for this country. The business manager of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer writes:

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 17, 1900.
F. W. Clayton, Secretary Board of Trade, Dawson, N. W. T.

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 26th containing copy of resolutions regarding the mail service into Dawson. The Post-Intelligencer would be very glad to render any assistance in its power for the betterment of the service. We shall treat the matter editorially and also will correspond with representatives in Washington, the heads of the postal department and such other individuals as we believe would have some effect in remedying the situation. It is a matter that we are very much interested in and trust that our efforts will result in good. Yours very truly,

S. P. WESTON,
Business Manager.

Female Deputy U. S. Marshal.

Mrs. Emma Van Dusen, the first woman in Texas to be sworn in as a deputy United States marshal, has just assumed that position in the headquarters of the northern district of Texas, at the federal building in Dallas, under United States Marshal George H. Green. Mrs. Van Dusen, a young and accomplished widow, has been connected with the office of the clerk of the federal court at Dallas since a short time after the death of her husband, Charles Palmer Van Dusen, of Evansville, Ind., nine years ago; soon after their marriage. Probably no other person in the federal building at Dallas is so well informed in the documentary department of the institution as is Mrs. Van Dusen. She has been in charge of an enormous number of papers, many of them forming parts of the records of some of the most noted criminal and civil cases in the history of the United States courts. Mrs. Van Dusen was born in Hillsboro, N. C. Her father was Robert O'Daniel, of the County Cork, Ireland; her mother was a Miss Jackson, of Virginia, a cousin of the immortal "Stonewall" Jackson, of Confederate military fame. It will thus be seen that the new deputy marshal comes of "good fighting stock." Marshal Green says he will arm Mrs. Van Dusen with the regulation weapons, and insist that she "carry a gun," the same as a man. If she does, there is no doubt she will know how to use it, in case of necessity.

Lucky Find.

A man does not necessarily have to go out prospecting in this country and sink shafts down into the bowels of the frozen earth in order to strike it rich. There are other ways in which less physical exercise is required and by which the returns are fully as great.

A few days ago a gentleman with the habits indigenous to Kentucky, looked upon the nooch when it was red to such an extent that when he sobered up by putting a few drops of absinthe in it, he found he had lost his pocketbook containing several valuable papers and an amount of money, just how much the loser had no idea, but he estimated it to be between $25 and $75. As an inducement to have the papers returned, he advertised in the Daily Nugget that the finder could keep all the money the pocketbook contained and $50 additional when the papers were returned. To show his good faith in his offer he left the $50 on deposit with the gold weigher at the Dominion. The book was found and the papers returned; but instead of there being from $25 to $75 in it, there were $140 which, with the additional $50, made $190 for the finder, which he pocketed without as much as saying "Have something."

Palace Grand Program.

Commencing tonight, the management of the Palace Grand theater will begin the evening's entertainment with the production of the drama, entitled "Lynwood," after which the regular olio will be given; and the program will be concluded with the performance of the "Sculptor's Dream." The theater continues to be patronized liberally by the public; last night, it was difficult to secure a seat. The excellent quality of entertainment, which the Palace Grand now affords, is appreciated by the people of Dawson.

UNITED STATES CENSUS.

Enumeration Is One of Its Least Significant Features.

Race, Color and Nationality Are Noted—300 Questions Regarding Agriculture.

The twelfth United States census will be taken in the month of June next. This important work is under the direction of Hon. William R. Merriman, director, assisted by Fred H. Wines, assistant director.

Though an enumeration of the population of the United States has been taken every ten years since 1790, the first attempt to secure agricultural statistics through the medium of the census was made in 1840. The data secured at that time were considered defective for various reasons. The methods of census taking were changed and greatly improved in 1850; hence it is usually said that the beginning of agricultural statistics by the census dates from 1850. Both in 1840 and 1850 there were 37 questions asked with reference to agriculture. The questions remained about the same in number, although somewhat changed in character, from decade to decade until 1880. In 1890 the number was increased to 255 questions, and further increased this year to 310.

Although 255 different questions were asked on the general agricultural schedule in 1890, the answers to only about 100 were tabulated. If the answers obtained in 1900 are fully tabulated along the plans now projected, the agricultural report will include information concerning three times as many subjects as in any preceding census.

Associated with the questions given above are the following: The estimated value of all farm products sold, consumed or on hand for the year 1899; the amount expended in 1899 for fertilizers; the amount expended in 1899 for farm labor, exclusive of housework, including value of board furnished. The first of these three questions corresponds to the one asked on the manufacturing schedule for the total gross product of the articles manufactured in the factories and workshops of the nation. The question relating to fertilizers furnishes the information that shows from decade to decade the progress in improved methods of farming.

Of the other important questions, attention is called to those which ask for the color or race of farm proprietors, and the tenure by which they held their land. The latter question was asked on the schedules in 1880 and 1890, and the former in 1890. The census of 1890 did not, however, tabulate the result of the inquiry relating to color or race. It is the purpose of those in charge of the present census to tabulate the data collected relating to tenure in such a way as to throw all possible light upon the vexed social and economic questions which have been raised concerning the ownership and tenure of farm lands. This census will also tabulate the figures showing the number of acres of land, the various sizes of farms and the crops, which have been raised by the white and black races, and thus exhibit, as no statistics so far collected have done, the real progress and attainments of the colored race in the United States.

A False Alarm.

Mr. L. T. Burwash, the Dominion mining recorder at Stewart, arrived in Dawson yesterday. In speaking of the reported discovery of gold on White river, the gentleman said: "No claims on White river nor its tributaries have been recorded; and I have no knowledge that any have been staked. There is no stampede into that particular locality. One party is reported to have gone up the White river, and it is claimed that he knows of rich gold deposits there. Perhaps he has been followed by a few others, but there is no general stampede."

Will Await Navigation.

C. S. Sargent, of the clothing firm of Sargent & Pinsky, who left for the outside in January, writes from New York that he will not attempt to return to Dawson over the ice, but will be in as soon as navigation opens. He thinks he will probably facilitate the forwarding of his firm's consignment by staying with it; and judging from the experience of many who came on in and left their freight to follow last fall, his head is level on the proposition.

LEAVES FOR THE OUTSIDE.

On 24 Hours' Notice Major Perry Starts for Ottawa.

Will Be Succeeded By Major Wood, of Tagish—Captain Scarth Is Temporary Police Judge.

Major A. B. Perry, who arrived here a little more than six months ago as commander of the N. W. M. F. forces of the Yukon district and ex-officio police magistrate, and who has well and ably discharged the duties of both positions, left this afternoon by horse and sled for the outside in response to a telegram received yesterday afternoon calling on him to report at once to Ottawa. Although during the greater portion of the past two weeks Major Perry has been confined to his home with an unusually severe cold, yet he hastened to obey the imperative summons, and in 24 hours after it was received he was on his way over the long and, by no means pleasant, journey over the ice.

The reason for Major Perry's summons to Ottawa is not stated, but it is thought the government has use for him in a higher and more important position than that which he has been so faithfully filling. It is not thought, however, that the major is wanted for service in the South African war, as that trouble will in all probability be over before he could possibly reach there. It is said that Major Z. T. Wood, who for the past year has been stationed at Tagish as commander of that post, has been ordered to Dawson to succeed Major Perry. The new commander is expected to arrive in about 10 days. Major Wood is an experienced and competent officer who is very popular wherever known.

Superintendent Primrose has, it is said, been ordered to go to Tagish from this place to act in the position until now filled by Major Wood.

Until the arrival of the new commander, Capt. William Scarth will preside as police magistrate.

On his trip out Major Perry is accompanied by his son Kenneth, who will stop off in Vancouver, B. C., where he will attend school. Last night a large number of the major's friends assembled at his home to bid him Godspeed on his journey. In case his new duties are such as will require him to remain on the outside, Mrs. Perry and two daughters will go out as soon as navigation opens.

Placer Mining in Siberia.
So many vague statements have been made concerning the supposed ukase of the czar of Russia opening Siberia to American gold seekers that the Post-Intelligencer has obtained from the state department a complete report of the action taken. No permission has been given Americans to invade the Siberian gold fields. The Russian government simply has offered to enter upon leases covering placer lands on the northwest coast of the Sea of Okhotsk.

In consequence of the information existing as to the occurrence of gold on the shore of the Sea of Okhotsk, the ministry of agriculture and state domains, in accordance with the statute of the committee of the Siberian railway, which received the imperial sanction on the 13th of May, 1895, organized a special expedition to investigate the auriferousness of the shores of the Sea of Okhotsk, of the coast of Kamchatka, and of the Shantar islands, where, in case of the discovery of workable gold deposits, their development by private enterprise might be expected. This expedition, organized and equipped by Mr. Bogdanovitch, M. E., continued its explorations for three years, embracing the extensive stretch of coast about the Sea of Okhotsk from Nikolaievsk, on the Amur, to Okhotsk, and the whole western shore of the peninsula of Kamchatka. The results of the labors of the expedition justified the hopes placed upon it, as the preliminary search, combined with the detailed geological exploration of the regions traversed, proved the presence of gold in many river valleys between that left bank of the River Uda and the former port of Ayan. After the discovery of the existence of gold, subsequent prospecting was directed to the location of the auriferous beds and the determination of the percentage of gold contained in them. More detailed prospecting, by which the total quantity of the precious metal is determined, did not form part of the object of the expedition, as requiring a more prolonged and exhaustive examination of certain localities.

The labors of the expedition proved the undoubted importance, as regards richness in gold, of the ridge or belt of mountains lying between the Jugur watershed (Stanovoy range) and the elevations along the coast. The presence of gold in various river valleys and the relation of these valleys to the said belt of mountains justify the distinguishing of six regions in the country explored, which embrace seven different river systems, presenting data encouraging further search for gold.

The systems of the Rivers Aldama and Uj—The preliminary exploration of the system of the river Aldama was carried out under unfavorable conditions in winter and spring; samples taken from the slope sides showed only the presence of gold gravels with coarse magnetite, in the main situated along the streams in the belt between Jugur and the shore ranges. Along the river Uj, belonging in its upper course to the same belt of mountains, was discovered a thin stream of dense sand with slight signs of gold.

The system of the River Lantar.—Here preliminary exploration showed the presence of gold alike in the main valley of the Lantar and along its tributaries and smallest affluents—in various spots, fine in number. Prospecting was carried out in three areas. In the valley of the Lantar along the main stream, at a distance of 128 kilometers (79.5 miles) from Ayan, and about 53 kilometers (32.9.10 miles) from the mouth. Out of 30 prospecting shafts signs of gold were met with in 13 along the lower line, the shafts with signs of gold situated nearest to the river bed remaining unfinished. Among the shafts completed, in No. 4 was discovered a bed with an average yield of 2.6 grains to the ton; in No. 18, with 1.12 grains; in No. 19, with 2.29 grains. The gold found was both fine and coarse, flat and bright; fineness, 897.9. Along the stream Durukin, falling into the Lantar on the right, five or six kilometers three and one-tenth or three and seven-tenths miles above the first prospecting, three lines of prospecting shafts were made; among 23 of these shafts three were found to yield very good signs of gold. In four shafts was found a bed with an average yield of 0.8 to 1.4 grains, the gold being fine, even and bright; fineness, 898.9.

Ten-Round Go To-Night.

Ford's gymnasium tonight will be the scene of several lively and interesting bouts between the aspirants to pugilistic honors. The principal event is a ten-round go between the Telleride Kid and an unknown light-weight. There will be several wrestling bouts and it is expected that the night's sport will be of a highly interesting character. Ford will dou the tights, as a side hold wrestling match with John Leighton as his opponent.
"Caraboo" and Jack Merritt will also contest on the mat.

Waiting for the Storm.

In the seclusion of the house cloak-rooms a story is being told on a western member. There are 357 men in the house. Three hundred and fifty-six are hereby released from any connection with the story. The other man—and the other man's wife—will recognize the truth of what is here recorded. The western member went home at a very early hour in the morning. He had made a night of it with some friends. He knew that his conduct would be considered reprehensible by his better half, and so as he ascended the steps of his modest home he racked his brain for some plan to avert the lady's wrath. As he entered the hall he saw an umbrella. Instantly it occurred to him that the umbrella might be his salvation.

He carried the umbrella upstairs. Seating himself on a chair in the corner of the bed-room, he raised the rain guard over his head and then coughed loudly. His wife awoke and saw in the dim gaslight her liege lord sitting solemly under the raised umbrella.

"What are you doing?" she asked in natural surprise.

"It is 3 o'clock, my dear," said he, "and I am waiting for the storm."

The congressman's ready wit saved him from a Caudle lecture. He is worrying now, however, to find an equally effective act for the next time he stays out late. —Washington Post.

POLICE COURT.

A new magistrate in the person of Captain Scarth filled the judicial seat in police court this morning. Captain Scarth has held court in nearly every nook and corner of the Yukon district, and as a natural result of his experience the judicial mantle rests easily upon him.

The first case called was that against W. S. Hawley who was remanded from yesterday morning on the charge of cheating at cards by means of marks on the backs thereof, the significance of which marks were supposed to be known only to himself. The original charge, however, was withdrawn and when the prisoner was arraigned this morning a charge of gambling was substituted. Attorney Clark, who appeared for Hawley entered a plea of guilty, and a fine of $50 and costs was imposed. The bill was paid, and Hawley, as he left the courtroom could, in one sense, be termed the luckiest man in the district—lucky because the original charge against him had been withdrawn and a much more mild one substituted therefor.

W. R. Burton, a man who was before the court sometime ago on the charge of insanity, and who has since been carefully cared for in the guard house, was again arraigned this morning and remanded until tomorrow morning. On turning around from the judge's table to leave the room with the officer, Burton flirled good humoredly with those present and said: "They can call it insanity if they want to." That he is mentally unbalanced is very evident.

Another long list of warrants for "knights of the green" was issued this morning.

Heavy Freighting.

Messrs. Orr & Tukey have moved from their location on the water front, where they have been since the fire, which destroyed their offices on Second avenue. They are now located at Pickett & Devlin's offices in the A. C. Co.'s building. This firm has enjoyed a very prosperous season and are doing a great freighting business. Just now they are engaged in hauling two boilers from Seattle No. 1, which is lying at steamboat slough. One of these boilers is for No. 3 below on Bonanza, the other for No. 7 Eldorado. The boilers weigh 4½ tons each, which makes the work of moving a difficult task. The boilers arrived safely at the Forks last night and will be dispatched immediately to their destination.

Gold Commissioner's Court.

Commissioner Senkler is engaged in hearing the trial of two cases, both of which refer to the same ground, namely No. 89 below discovery on Sulplur creek. In one suit, N. C. Gregory is plaintiff and the defendants are R. E. Seibert, J. C. De Hass, A. Boesken and C. E. Reynolds. In the other action, Charles E. Elwood is plaintiff and the same defendants are entered as in the first instance.

No Quorum Present.

The regular meeting of the Dawson Board of Trade failed to materialize last night, owing to the fact there was not the requisite number present, 15, to constitute a quorum. Those who were present, however, sat out the time usually consumed at a meeting. It was what in society parlance is termed a "conversazione."

Good Old Times.

In reviewing "The Early Married Life of Maria Josepha, Lady Stickney," the London Spectator comments on the light in which drunkenness was regarded at the beginning of the century. There was a christening of twins and rejoicing among the neighbors, tenants and laborers. "All the guests," says Maria, "were as drunk as I ever had the pleasure of seeing anyone." Among the laborers, however, that extent of intoxication was not reached which causes men to be swine." Lady Sheffield, who received this account of the festivities, replies: "I would have given a great deal to be present; there is nothing I love so much as such sort of festivities where one has the satisfaction of knowing that one makes one's friends happy as well as drunk." In London, she declares, "when you give a ball you affront many people, please a few, make many drunk and yourself miserable."

Clark & Ryan, Grocers.

W. M. Clark and W. A. Ryan have formed a partnership and entered the commercial field at Northway's old stand, corner of Sixth street and Second avenue.

Mr. Clark is known by all here who came from Tacoma, he formerly taking an active part in the destiny of that city. Mr. Ryan is also a Tacoma man and was county clerk of Pierce county, Washington. He is well-known in newspaper circles and for a number of years filled the editorial chair of the Tacoma News.

The new firm has started an innovation in the grocery business here, as they will furnish their customers daily with fresh roasted coffee, something which Dawsonites will undoubtedly appreciate. It is the intention of the firm to do a general grocery business and their stock comprises all the commodities to be found in any well regulated store.
