A Railroad Incident.

She walked up to the long road at the Union Station train on the Santa Fe railway in Kansas City, just ahead of a large party of gentlemen carrying a heavy grip, and, thinking her to be in his company the brakeman looked to the platform of the chair car.

The conductor, who had passed her seat several times, was attracted by the large eyes, and, looking steadily out of the window at the landscape whirling past, at last with a smile on his face, he placed his hand beneath her chin and raised her face to his, saying as he did so, 'Well, how little girl are you?'

'Bill's girl!' And who is Bill?' he asked. 'Bill is my brother, and I am going to him down in Texas,' she said.

'But who are you?' asked the conductor, looking inquiringly around. 'Nobody,' she answered; and then, as she seemed to realize her position, she buried her face in her hands and sobbed as though her heart would break.

'My name is Mabel Harder, and Bill lives down in Texas,' she said. 'But your father and mother, where are they?' he asked.

'In heaven,' she replied, and then the tears came thick and fast. After a while she calmed herself and continued: 'Bill was home once, ever and ever so long ago, and I liked him so much; he was so big and strong; he would take me to his arms and tuck me up and catch me when I came down, and kiss me, and call me his girl. And then one day he went away, and I have never seen him since. Then mamma took sick and died, and they buried her by papa's side out in the big graveyard where the white stones stand so thick. Then I was all alone, for no one knew where Bill was, so I went to live with some folks that lived close to our old home.'

'I missed my mamma so much that I cried for a long time whenever I thought of her. Mamma was always kind to me, and every night after I said my prayers at her knee she would take me in her arms and put me to bed and ask God to bless and care for her darling. Don't you think it sick to know up in heaven how lonely I find Bill? I don't like the folks I came being living with; they get so drunk and curse me, and make me beg on the street, and work so hard and make me sleep in a cold room away from the fire. Do you think it is right to treat little girls like that? A few days ago I heard them talking about a letter that they had got from Bill, and the woman said to tell me; that Bill would never know if they had got the letter or not. But I watched the woman hide the letter, and when she left the room I stole it. My mamma always said it was wicked to steal; but I think God will forgive me when I tell Him all about it, and how bad I want to see Bill. I took the letter to Terry Smith, a new boy, and he read it for me. Bill said in the letter he had just heard of mamma's death, and he wanted to know where I was so he could send for me. I told Terry that if I knew how to get to where Bill was I'd go. Then Terry said that if I wanted to go to Higgins; that is where Bill is; Terry had met me say it over and over, so I wouldn't forget; he would show me a train that would take me there if the conductor didn't put me off. But you won't put me off, will you? You will let me ride as you would a little girl of your own, and I guess God will bless you for being kind to me.'

The tears were shining in the conductor's eyes as he told her story, and as she finished he placed his hand on her head and said: 'God bless you.'

Keeping Down Forest Fires.

Fire protection is now-a-days regarded as one of the necessary expenses in a town of any size and standing, and forms a considerable item in the annual expenditures—to say nothing of the large sums spent every year by private citizens in the way of premiums to fire insurance companies.

Why I Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

St. Andrew's Manse, Cardigan, P. R. I., Jan. 1908. Though I have never been sick myself, and have not had occasion to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I thought you ought to know of the remarkable cure they have wrought in Mr. Olding's case.

During a visit to my home in Merigomish, N. S., some years ago, I was grieved to find our next door neighbor and friend, Michael Olding, very low. He is not expected to live, my mother informed me, and you must go over and see him as he is liable to pass away at any moment. 'Not expected to live' that was the opinion of the doctor who had attended him, but of his wife and family as well. Upon visiting him myself I found abundant evidence to confirm their opinion.

Mr. Olding had for years been afflicted with asthma and bronchitis, but now a complication of diseases was ravishing his system. He had been confined to his bed for months and was reduced to a skeleton. Though evidently glad to see me, he conversed with the greatest difficulty, and seemed to realize that it was the beginning of the end. He was daily growing weaker; his feet were swollen to twice their natural size, and the cold had no effect. He said he felt the doctor's medicine is not helping me and I am going down rapidly. I prayed with him as for a man soon to pass into eternity, and when I took his hand in parting it was the last time I expected to see him in the flesh.

Three years later while on another visit to my mother's, Michael Olding was seemingly in better health than I had ever seen him, for, as I said, he had always been ailing. In sheer desperation he had asked his wife to get him Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They soon began to help him. His appetite and strength began to improve, and to the astonishment of his family and friends he rapidly regained his health. Now, though the burden of well nigh four score years is upon him, he is able to do a fair day's work, and is in the enjoyment of good health, even the asthma has ceased to trouble him as in former years.

Mr. Olding himself, as well as his neighbors and the writer of this letter, confidently believe that his rescue from the very jaws of death—seemingly so miraculous—is due under the blessing of God to the timely and continuous use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

REV. EDWIN SMITH, M. A. Mr. Olding himself writes: 'I am glad Rev. Mr. Smith has written you about my wonderful cure, for I confidently believe that if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would have been dead long ago. It would be impossible to exaggerate the desperate condition I was in when I began to use the pills. No one thought I could get better. I scarcely dared hope myself. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills would bring me through, but they did! and I have ever since enjoyed good health. Though I am seventy-nine years old people are always remarking on how young I look—and I feel young. I can do a fair day's work, and I am better in every way than I had been for years. I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I take every opportunity I can to recommend them to friends who are ailing.'

Children can hardly have too much fresh air in fine weather, and it should be wheeled briskly, but not carelessly along as straight a road as possible. Wheeling a baby carriage down hill is bad for baby's brain.

A Wonderful Cold Cure. Just think of it, a cold cured in ten minutes—that's what happens when you use 'catarrh-cure.' You inhale its soothing balsams and out goes the cold—sniffles are cured—headache is cured—symptoms of catarrh and grippe disappear at once. It's the healing pine essences and powerful antiseptics in catarrh-cure that enables it to act so quickly. In disease of the nose, for irritable throat, bronchitis, coughs and catarrhs, it's a marvel. Safe except for children. 25c. and $1.00 sizes at all dealers.

Ottawa.

Most of the Liberal members hurried home in advance of the Easter recess, and on the reports they bring back to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, will depend what he decides to do about the date of the federal elections.

The reports coming in to the conservative leaders from every part of the country indicate that a general landslide may be expected, just as occurred in the Ontario elections of 1905, and the New Brunswick elections of 1908.

The Quebec elections will probably occur next month, and the Ontario elections in June. There is little doubt but that Mr. Whitney will be sustained by an immense majority. The Gouin government of Quebec will no doubt be returned.

When the Dominion elections come there will be some gains for the conservatives in both these provinces, but for the conservatives to control the next parliament they should have a majority outside of Quebec sufficient to overcome the majority in favor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in that province, which will be from twenty to twenty-five. In Canada, west of Quebec, this majority will be overcome without the shadow of a doubt. The conservatives, it is conceded, will have good majorities in Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia...

But what of the maritime provinces? It is here that the battle of the ballots may be decided. Since the last federal election, the conservatives in the other provinces fairly shiver at the mention of Nova Scotia, although Colchester is not forgotten. But even conceding the Laurier government a two to one victory in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island to make R. L. Borden the next premier of Canada...

This situation is attracting great interest in the proceedings of the House government in New Brunswick. Already there is gossip current as to interesting disclosures that may be turned up in reference to Mr. Pugsley, a late premier in New Brunswick, and the new minister of Public Works at Ottawa. It may be that some uneasy consciousness of what may soon transpire in New Brunswick has influenced this minister of Public Works to efface himself as completely as a factor in the House at Ottawa.

Certainly no prime minister of recent years has been so compelled to take the laboring oar as Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Without his tact and personal influence hardly a government measure could be put through the House, and his withdrawal from politics would leave the liberal party absolutely helpless. So far as he can the premier leans upon Mr. Fielding, who is generally considered personally honest, and is a man of fair ability. But Mr. Fielding, for his course on the Autonomy Bill, created an antagonism in Quebec which limits his influence to a small section of the liberal party. Mr. Aylesworth, the minister of Justice, is a good lawyer, but it was evident, almost from the first, that he entered the House too late in life to become a parliamentarian. Last year he was stricken with deafness and it is to be regretted that, in spite of skilled treatment, this affliction bids fair to be permanent.

Mr. Graham, the new minister of Railways, is a genial sort of a soul, a strong man on the stump—especially in the rural sections of Ontario—but light weight for Cabinet timber. The other Ontario ministers are old men, two of them almost forgotten by the present generation. Frank Oliver, the minister of the Interior, may not be a parliamentarian, but more than honesty is required for a successful politician. He suffers constantly from dyspepsia and he has all the faults of temper which makes the confirmed dyspeptic a man to be avoided. The plenarian is easy going, good natured, and fond of a good cigar. He may do some good work in his department, but he takes no part whatever in the business of the House. Mr. Pugsley, as has been noted, takes practically no part in the proceedings of the House. Sir Wilfrid, therefore, stands almost alone.

On the other hand the opposition has been moulded into a compact, efficient fighting machine. While Mr. Borden does his share of the hard fighting, he is aided by many lieutenants. From Ontario there are Hon. Geo. E. Foster, no less feared than is the remorseless critic of Mr. Borden himself by the government, and Messrs. Bennett, Northup, Barker, Sprague, Reid, Boyce, Blain and many others, all skilled debaters and hard workers in committee. From Quebec come F. D. Monk, Mr. Ames, and Mr. Bergeron. From the west, Dr. Roche, Mr. Lake, M. S. McCarthy, from New Brunswick, Mr. Fowler, Dr. Daniel and Mr. Crockett, all debaters well able to cope with the best men on the treasury benches.

On the government side its supporters take their duties seriously but seriously. They lounge about the corridors and in room 16, where the liberal members congregate, and they consider their day's work well done, if, in response to the division bell, they manage to reach their seats in the chamber in time to stand up and vote as Sir Wilfrid Laurier indicates. When the division results, as it is, they thump their desks, cheer lustily and then troop out to the corridors asking one another what the vote was about.

There are fully fifty members, drawing $3,200 per session, who sit on the government side of the speaker, who know less about parliament than does the average page or messenger, and whose places could be just as well filled by marionettes, who would rise to their feet when Sir Wilfrid touched a button. Quebec is conspicuous for providing this class of do-nothings. It is fortunate that there are now two or three independent French newspapers in that province, including La Patrie, Montreal, and when some of these gentlemen come to face their constituents they may be startled to find how close a tab has been kept on them.

The big political sensation at the capital is shaping for the destruction of Sir Wilfrid's favorite ministers. What is already known seems to explain why it was that Hon. William Pugsley, the minister of Public Works, ran away to New Brunswick when the business of parliament required his presence at Ottawa, and went up and down the province promising good big chunks of public money wherever there was room to plant a wharf, or dredge a harbor. This he did in defiance of the wishes of the premier, who thought he ought not to mix in a local election. The New Brunswick government are said to have discovered some official records and some things have come to light which have decided the opposition at Ottawa to hold up Mr. Pugsley's estimates till further information is received from the New Brunswick capital.

Every Sunday School worker who can be present is urged to attend this great convention which will be an inspiration to advancement in all departments of the Sunday School work. Nova Scotia can send 13 delegates who will be entitled to entertainment on the Harvard Plan while in Louisville, and have other special privileges. These delegates are appointed by the Executive Committee of the Nova Scotia and Bermuda Sunday School Association and those who wish to be included in this number should correspond with Headquarters Office, Room 20, Queen Building, Halifax, N.S., at an early date. It is much to be desired that many more than the number of delegates will be in attendance and it is hoped that a large number will decide to go.

There will be an Adult Bible Class Session of the Convention on Friday afternoon, June 19th, and a Teacher Training Session, including an exhibit of Teacher Training material, besides other special features. While the Convention Sessions will not begin till Thursday afternoon, the Executive Department, Field Workers, and other organizations will meet earlier in the week. Conferences on the Adult Class and Teacher Training Course will be held on Monday, June 17th.

The Dog Nuisance. Our Town Council should be encouraged in any endeavor to lessen or remove the dog nuisance. The writer is a lover of dogs—of good dogs, at least. It is pleasing to enjoy their confidence and affection. It is interesting to witness their gambols and antics. It is a pleasure when a flock of them get together on grounds that afford space for their frolicking; but when they come to trample upon your flower beds and garden, or to set upon your unoffending poultry, you wish them further away, or that their owners would keep them in proper confinement.

In the country the dog may be of use in keeping the tramp from the door, or guarding the place at night, or for driving the cows from the pasture; but of what use is he in the town? Would not any household be better off without him? If, however, his presence is necessary to the happiness of any individual let him be responsible for the discomfort or loss of revenue from their presence.

Notice. The subscriber wishes to announce to the public that he is still at the old stand in Wolfville, and managing the tailoring business previously conducted under the proprietorship. The business is now owned by W. T. Ford, of Wolfville, with whom all financial transactions will be conducted. The subscriber, as manager, respectfully solicits a continuance of the patronage so generously extended to him in the past, and trusts that the appreciation which his endeavors to please the public have always met with, may still reward his efforts.

Easter at St. John's Church. The Good Friday and Holy Week services were well attended. On Easter Day a large number received Holy Communion at 8 a. m. and 11. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers and hangings. The rector preached in the morning on the 'Doubtful Victory over Death.' On Easter Monday the annual parish meeting was held in the church. The rector read his annual statement regarding the work of the parish. The financial statement, which was very satisfactory, was read by Mr. G. A. Prat, and after some discussion was on motion received and ordered to be printed and distributed to the congregation. Mr. Geo. A. Prat was re-elected warden. Mr. H. Troyte-Bullock having declined re-election, Mr. J. D. Sherward was elected. Messrs. H. Troyte-Bullock and W. H. Evans were elected delegates to the Synod with Messrs. R. W. Storrs and T. L. Harvey as substitutes. The following gentlemen were placed on the vestry: Messrs. Troyte-Bullock, Wm. Gow, H. D'Alemain and R. W. Storrs. It was resolved on motion of Mr. R. W. Storrs that the rector and the warden be appointed a committee to purchase a 'positive organ.' A motion of thanks to the retiring wardens, Mr. H. Troyte-Bullock was passed by a standing vote, in putting the vote the rector spoke of Mr. Bullock's many acts of generosity to the church which were heartily concurred in by all present. The meeting closed with the benediction from the rector.

For Harmony. The only citizens in the town of Wolfville who are not pleased with the management of the Superintendent of Public Works, were two or three gentlemen who appear not to be enlightened as to the limits of their own powers, and are not willing, according to custom, to either allow the superintendent a free hand, or even grant that the chairman appointed was more than a thing classed with the common Superintendent of Streets.

The superintendent, after taking a couple of minutes to consider this vexatious affair, consented the days when he should be turned down, decided to claim his rights, which he claims a residence.

THE MAN BEHIND THE DRAG. It's well enough again a Ring To dror resolves and triggers, But libbety's a kind of thing That don't agree with niggers.

The adult Bible class of St. Andrew's church meets on Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock in the vestry. The subject for next Sabbath morning is the epistle to Philemon. The epistle is not doctrinal; it is a single letter addressed to a wealthy citizen of Colosse to bespeak a kindly welcome to a runaway slave.

When Paul sent his epistle to the Colossians, he entrusted it to one of his fellow helpers named Lycheus, and this was accompanied by Onesimus on his way back to Philemon. This is the oldest petition for the abolition of slavery. Some of the questions that will engage the attention of the class are: Who was Philemon? Who was Onesimus and what was his fault? What are the relationships of Apphia, Archippus and Philemon? Why did Paul address the church in the home of Philemon, &c.?

All members will note the subject and be in their places on Sabbath morning. All others will receive a cordial welcome. D. W.

Notice. All persons having accounts against the firm of I. S. Boates & Co., are requested to render them, and those owing the said firm are requested to make immediate payment of the same to H. R. MOODY, Attorney.

Pains of the Aged ARE OVERCOME. Almost daily we hear of people of advanced years whose pains and aches have been overcome, and whose life has been made more comfortable by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Because the liver, kidneys and bowels become clogged in old age, poisonous waste matter is left in the blood, and this brings the pains and aches, the stiff joints, lame back and rheumatism. Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills help most promptly and cure most thoroughly all cases of their kind and combined action on liver, kidneys and bowels. They are the most popular medicine the famous Rossett Book ever introduced, and are guaranteed to relieve all cases of kidney, liver and bowels. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers in Edmonds, Bates & Co., Toronto. Mr. Chapman Lewis, Salisbury, N. B., writes: 'For years I had rheumatism, kidney trouble and constipation.
