G. KNOWLING.

Farewell to Lt-Col. and Mrs. Rees.

Last night a great assemblage of people gathered in the S. A. Citadel to say farewell to Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Rees, who have laboured long and well for the social and spiritual uplift of Newfoundland. The chair was occupied by Hon. D. Morrison, Minister of Justice. Proceedings commenced by song, followed by a prayer led by Ensign Hargrove. Then the Chairman expressed the appreciation of the work of the departing commander and his wife, and the good citizenship of Salvationists.

He then called upon the Hon. John Harvey who expressed his appreciation of Lieut. Col. Rees' co-operation in the efforts of the A. P. C., and his own gradual recognition of the social service of the Army.

Mr. Lloyd of the Evening Telegram referred to the Commander as a man who did his whole duty, typical of the Army workers, who found evils unheeded in the world, and who grappled with them manfully.

Rev. Joseph Thackeray had words of warm import for the work of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Rees in Newfoundland. They had worked together often for the public good. It was no new thing for a Congregationalist to work with a Salvationist. In the Old Land, the Congregationalist had been among the foremost to stand by the Salvation Army in the dark day of persecution.

Mr. Gushue expressed appreciation of the spiritual uplift which the Lieut. Col. and his staff were working to accomplish.

Hon. J. A. Robinson told of the labours of Lieut. Col. Rees to give the children a good time on Coronation Day. He himself remembered Parson Booth, forty five years ago, before the movement had taken to itself the name of Salvation Army. Parson Booth of these days had often chatted to him as a little boy, and he remembered that his own father who was a Wesleyan Minister and Mr. Booth often walked together in Victoria Park, London, deep in conversation.

Rev. J. Bell spoke of the co-operation of Lieut. Col. Rees in the attempt to obtain Local Option in the city, and his splendid effort towards the shorter hour legislation for licensed premises. Lieut. Col. Rees was essentially a worker. The Army itself having passed through the stress of persecution, endured the age of toleration, had now reached the stage of appreciation.

Mr. H. E. Cowan had a good word to say of the splendid services rendered to the community by the Salvation Army, and especially of the efforts of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Rees. He had had an abundance of opportunity of knowing what the Army were doing and could give personal testimony of its strenuous efforts.

In an earlier part of the proceedings letters of regret were read from Sir Edward Morris, Hon. W. R. Warren, Hon. S. D. Blandford and Mr. J. R. Bennett.

Staff-Capt. Cave read a message of appreciation of the work of the Commander and his wife in Newfoundland from the Commissioner.

Mr. George Best told in a racy way of the indebtedness of the Salvationists of the Island to the Commander.

Mrs. Rees in a quiet affecting manner expressed her thanks of the kindly welcome extended to her on her arrival in Newfoundland and the warm hearted way she had been received all the time she has been here.

The Lieut. Col. then delivered a striking address telling of his 33 years work in the Salvation Army. He was especially thankful for the hand of fellowship that had been extended to him in Newfoundland. He believed the desire for co-operation in good work would increase among the people. He had found generous hearts and open hands in Newfoundland and thanked the authorities and the merchants, the Press and the people for what they had done in helping him in his labours.

Mr. I. C. Morris and Mr. Andrew Wilson were among those on the platform. After a vote of thanks, moved by Mr. R. A. Squires, M.H.A., in an eloquent speech, and the singing of "God be with you till we meet again," the meeting was brought to a close. Many stayed behind for a parting handshake with the Lieut. Col. and his good wife. They leave by the six o'clock train to-night for Toronto, which will be their headquarters for the Social Department of the Canadian Province which they will take charge of. To them both the Evening Telegram extends best wishes for the success of their labours in the Great Dominion.

Death of Mr. Chambers

Special to Evening Telegram. NORTH SYDNEY, To-day. At his residence in North Sydney, C.B., on Sunday, Nov. 26th, of paralysis, Charles D. Chambers, Esq., in his 74th year, formerly of Harbor Street, Nfld., and youngest son of the late Alexander Chambers of Greenock, Scotland, leaving a wife, two sons and five daughters to mourn their sad loss.

Clean Living.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—While recognizing the evils of the liquor traffic, and the necessity of keeping it not tightening our grip which we already have on it, I am of the opinion that there are other subjects which need as much if not more attention from those whose aim is to elevate and put on the high pedestal of purity this so-called Christian civilization.

Here is one who will give his support to the movement vaguely outlined by Mr. Allan in Friday's issue of your paper. To promote "clean living," what a noble object, "a chivalrous respect for womanhood," the time is ripe; "a higher tone of public opinion" badly needed. I am sure that if we aimed at the above result would be the submerging of the liquor curse and all its attendant evils.

Some say the day of chivalry is over. Is it? If it has not passed, is it not passing? 'Tis up to us one and all to defend those to whom we owe so much; not when everything is going fine, but when against the tide.

Here is a chance for everyone who has the welfare of humanity at heart. Let us hear what you have to say.

Yours in the work, CHIVALRY.

Fell Into Cut.

Shortly before 7 p.m. yesterday a woman, evidently near sighted and who did not see the lanterns over it, fell into a cut on Cabot Street, leading to a house being situated. The cut was deep and the watchman on it received a great fright. The woman was not badly injured, but had a narrow escape from such if not death by breaking her neck.

Fishery News.

Curling—Fair fishing on the Humber. Lark Harbor—Good fishing yesterday. Sound Island—Very cold, fine; 2 and 3 tubs herring per net.

Fur appears boldly on hats—odds and ends of the petries that go to make up muffs and scarfs—and worn to match.

Burin Election.

MR. LEFEUVRE RETURNED WITHOUT OPPOSITION.

Yesterday was Nomination Day in Burin to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late Mr. Edward Davey. Mr. Lefevre was the only candidate nominated and was returned therefore without opposition.

This course will occasion no surprise to the public, who will have noticed that the Opposition Party was making no preparation for a contest. The reason of this attitude will be found set forth in the subjoined letters, the earliest of which was written nearly four months ago:

LETTER FROM MR. GEAR, M. H. A. Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—As the Daily News is labouring under a mistake as to the attitude of the Liberal Party in respect of the Burin District, I beg to put them straight, by asking you to publish the enclosed correspondence, which speaks for itself.

Yours truly,

H. GEAR, LETTER TO SIR ROBERT BOND FROM MR. GEAR.

(Copy) St. John's, August 21, '11.

Dear Sir Robert Bond,—I enclose herewith for your perusal and consideration a letter recently received by me from our mutual friend, Mr. Bartlett, of Burin. As you know, Mr. Bartlett is a most loyal supporter of our party, and a wise, keen business man. He and those for whom he speaks no doubt recognize that a political contest in the district, at this time would only lead to a disturbance of business, and, as he says, the addition of one man to our forces in the House of Assembly, at late period in the life of Parliament, would be of no political advantage. Some of our city friends may like to see a fight put up, if an election is proclaimed. But I am sure you would feel that first consideration must be given to the opinions of our friends in the district.

Yours sincerely

H. GEAR, Right Hon. Sir Robert Bond, P. C., K. C. M. G.

SIR ROBERT BOND TO MR. GEAR.

"The Grange," Whitebourne, Aug. 23, 1911.

Dear Mr. Gear,—I have perused Mr. Bartlett's letter with much interest, and I entirely concur in the views therein expressed. When the House of Assembly meets again it will have entered upon its fourth Session, and for the period that must elapse until a General Election takes place the present representation of the district of Burin must, I think, be generally regarded as satisfactory. If, however, a bye-election is held this autumn, my advice is solicited by our enthusiastic supporters in St. John's I shall certainly advise acquiescence in the wise suggestions so eloquently expressed by your correspondent.

Yours faithfully,

R. BOND.

LETTER FROM MR. BARTLETT, OF BURIN, TO MR. GEAR.

H. Gear, Esq.,

M. H. A.

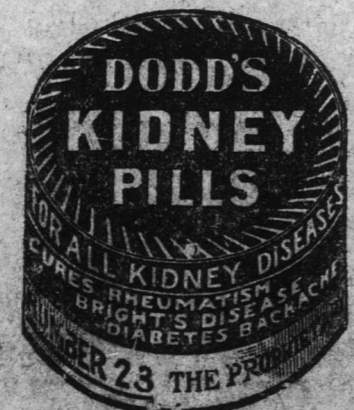

Burin, Nfld.

Aug. 9th, 1911.

Dear Mr. Gear,—Rumor has been rife for some time past that an election will be sprung on this district by the Government to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of our lamented friend Mr. E. H. Davey. It has been a topic of conversation but little interest is being taken in it, because the intelligence of the district recognize that the term of the present Government has nearly expired. They think it would be nothing short of a waste of public money to bring on an election at this date. The District is still Liberal and would, without doubt, remain true to its principles were we to engage in an election contest. But your friends think that an election is unnecessary, that a man added to the Opposition in the Assembly could add little in fighting a disproportionate majority, and no good could come of it. After consultation with numerous friends of the Liberal Party I can say that in their opinion Sir Robert would be unwise to bother himself in wrangling with such political foes at a bye-election. Let them put in a man by acclamation. It will be giving them a little more rope and they will hang themselves if given enough.

Yours sincerely,

GEO. A. BARTLETT.

Holyrood Notes.

The annual meeting of the League of the Sacred Heart took place on Sunday. The reports of the officers showed this popular institution to be in good standing and flourishing condition. The election of officers was a very exciting and interesting affair, but the following ladies were successful in a well-contested election: Miss Mary A. O'Rourke, elected President.

Mrs. R. Dwyer, re-elected Treasurer.

Miss May Joy, elected Secretary.

The stork recently visited the home of Mrs. J. T. Kennedy, the capable and popular Postmistress, Holyrood, and brought her a beautiful baby boy. The mother and babe are doing well. Congratulations.

Rev. Father Dwyer has appointed Miss Bessie Mullenney, an Intermediate Graduate of Holyrood High School, teacher of Norris Arm school. Bess made good standing in all the subjects of her exam, and doubtless will make a capable teacher and give satisfaction to the Board.

The schooner Hispanola, Capt. J. Lewis, has arrived at Harbor Breton, after making a quick trip to Gloucester with a load of green fish, the quarter part of which was caught on Labrador this fall. Capt. John's catch for this season is a record one, touching the 3,000 qtl. limit. This schooner will make a few more trips to Gloucester with fish this winter under the command of Capt. John F. Lewis. Capt. John is coming home to take a well-earned rest for the winter.

Mr. W. P. Walsh the census enumerator for Holyrood division, of Harbor Main District, has completed his work. His figures show a decrease in the population of Holyrood for the past ten years in the following ratio of 1:546 to 1:507.

Measrs. Kennedy and Butler have completed a substantial public railing around the centre of Holyrood. 'Tis certainly a good job.

Mr. James Mullenney has been promoted to station at Holyrood. Jas. is a good official and spent his period of probation on the Topsails and the promotion is well-deserved after long and faithful service. We congratulate and welcome him back to his native home.

Greene, of the Ladies' Committee, who in a very pleasing speech expressed the pleasure it gave her to be in a position to tender such a magnificent sum as $2,423.31 to the C. C. C.

Hon. Mr. Harris, the Chairman, thanked Mrs. Greene and the ladies of the committee for the grand work that they had accomplished, the financial result of which exceeded all expectations.

Rev. Bro. Kennedy and Rev. Father Sheehan also took advantage of the occasion to thank the ladies. We congratulate all concerned on the excellent result, especially the Chairman, Hon. John Harris, to whose zeal and attention the success is mainly due.

That Drowning of Mr. Reid.

Men who arrived by the Prospero yesterday stated that there was something of a rather mysterious character in the drowning of Skipper Elias Reid from the schooner J. S. Munn, at Jackson's Arm, Tuesday. They say that the man was in the cabin of the ship with all his crew who later turned in leaving Capt. Reid alone. He was never seen after, and he was not missed until early Wednesday morning. His disappearance is hard to be explained, but of course the general belief is that he went on deck and accidentally fell overboard. The schooner was at anchor when the accident occurred.

The Reliability of a Gas Cooker.

Now one must admit that the reliability of a gas cooker is especially useful when one has no servant to take charge of daily dishes, having been filled with boiling water, makes a splendid impromptu hair warmer. Again, one of the greatest merits of gas is that the engagement of the household need not be upset as unexpected visitors arrive; a fresh brew of tea can be made in an incredibly short space of time and the preparation of more substantial viands can soon be put in training. The old-fashioned range has a way of going out at times but a gas cooker is always ready to give a warm welcome to any comer he never so late. One wonders how many doctors' bills have been saved by that hot soup, cocoa coffee, hot milk, or some other refreshment that can be prepared immediately when a member of the family arrives cold and wet, after perhaps some hours' exposure to inclement weather. In case of sickness, no one can speak too highly of the invaluable help that the handy cooker gives; the nourishing little 'dainty meals can be served in the most appetizing way, cooked to a perfection and kept piping hot, even though delay may occur in the serving of them.

Son Attacks Mother.

A few evenings ago in a Casey St. residence two brothers, who had been drinking heavily, quarrelled, when one picked up a jug and attempted to attack the other. Their mother, who is very deaf, interposed, when the vessel, which was hurled with force, took her in the left side of the face, splitting it from the eye to the jawbone. The wound being an ugly one, Dr. Campbell, who was called, had to put several stitches in the cut to close it.

Was Badly Hurt.

Miss Mary Wilkie, whose father, the late Chas. Wilkie, resided here many years ago, was recently the victim of a serious accident in Montreal. She worked with the Waterman Pen Co. and while going to fetch her cloak a large and heavy press fell on her, broke her spine and dislocated her neck. She was under the influence of an anæsthetic for 4 hours while the doctors were setting the broken bones. She has a fighting chance for her life. She is a niece of Mrs. S. G. Collier of this city.

Schooner Wrecked.

The schr. Mary Alberta was wrecked at Bay de Verde during the storm of Saturday last. A. H. Murray's schr. Lucky Chance, with a load of supplies, drove down on the Alberta and smashed her bulwarks and carried away her jibboom and broke off her main boom. She is now helpless and will have to be towed here. There are 400 qts. of fish on board her for Moore & Co.

Marine Notes.

The H. R. Silver will sail for Brazil next Saturday, with a load of fish for Moore & Co. The Northern Light sailed yesterday for Bay de Verde to discharge her cargo of coal brought from Sydney.

Funeral To-Morrow.

The funeral of the late Mr. Alexander Marshall will take place at 3 p.m. to-morrow from his late residence, Bennie's Mill Road.

The Grey Speech Last Night.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, Nov. 28.

In addition to what has previously been reported, Sir Edward Grey told Ambassador Metternich that the British Government knew that the rectification of the Congo frontier had been proposed as a basis of settlement between Germany and France, and said he thought the matter might be arranged on such a basis without affecting British interests. We shall be very glad if this happens and we hope that it would happen we have little doubt stood on one side—Sir Edward said to the Ambassador, and continued—but I have been made anxious by news regarding demands which the German Government had made from the French Government, which it was impossible for the French Government to concede. I pointed out that the Germans in Port Agadir were landing and negotiating with the tribes, and for all we knew might be acquiring concessions. It might be also that the German flag had been hoisted at Agadir, which is the most suitable port on that coast for a naval base. Sir Edward pointed out to the Ambassador that in the event of the negotiations with France failing, Britain would be obliged to take some steps in order to protect British interests. On July 3rd Sir Edward Grey informed the German Ambassador that the situation created by the dispatch of the Panther to Agadir was of so serious importance that it must be discussed at a Cabinet Council. On July 4th he told Count Metternich that Britain was not able to take up so disinterested an attitude concerning Morocco as not to recognize that any new arrangement could be come to without her consent. A long silence followed, and the next conversation between Grey and Metternich took place on July 21st, when the British Foreign Secretary told the German Ambassador that he adhered to his statement on July 4th, and therefore forward there were no further difficulties.

Prospero Had Rough Trip.

The a.s. Prospero, Capt. A. Kean, arrived here from the northward at 6 p.m. yesterday. The ship met the most stormy weather she has had during the season, and after she left here and coming back encountered a succession of storms with high sea. After leaving here Thursday week she made Trinity, but after departing from that port had to put back again owing to bad weather. On the return voyage the ship had it particularly stormy in St. Anthony and it was unsafe to go to the wharf there, but the Prospero made all ports of call going and returning despite the weather. She brought a fair cargo and these passengers: Messrs. Alcock, Rowe (2), Richards, Moore, Rev. Pitcher, Lamb, Davis, Mercer, White, Barnes, Cohen, Simmons, Murphy, Rev. Purchas, Cowan, J. Matheson, Prince, Ginn, Rodgers, Wiseman, Kennedy, Clarke, Winsor, Fudge, Norman, Parsons, North, Osmond, Vipincombe, Lane, Davis, Rev. J. Nolan, Elliott, Brett, Goodwin, W. W. Blackall, Mesdames Barnes Chalk, Wiseman, Davis, Winsor, Field Matthews, Parsons; Misses Andrews, Elliott, Rodgers, Moore, Parsons, Prim, DeGrau and 137 steerage.

Stormy Up North.

Capt. Kean of the Prospero reports that the whole northern coast from Bonavista Cape down to Battle Harbor has experienced very stormy weather for more than a week past. Wednesday last a big gale raged, and Saturday's storm was the worst for many years. Down around Battle Harbor and neighborhood there is over 6 feet of snow on the ground, though recent rains must have reduced it a deal. Wednesday night's gale at Tilt Cove and Fortune Harbor was the worst experienced. One schooner of 50 tons went ashore at the latter place and became a total loss.

Did Not See Schooner.

Capt. Rose of the tug Ingraham, which was sent to the assistance of the disabled schooner off Elliston, wired from Catalina last evening: "Did not find schooner. Saw cabin door and other wreckage forty miles S. E. of Cape Bonavista. Four hours sailing through lumps and laths. Weather very stormy."

Road Blocked.

Petty Harbor Road for nearly a mile has been blocked with fences which blew down in the storm of Saturday last. It is filled with ruts from recent rains, it is impassable for man or beast, and the people are indignant with the Government for the apathy shown in doing anything with it.

Merely Attacked the Officers.

Last night two burly Norwegians who were very tipsy went down on Baine Johnston's premises and tried to get a boat to board their vessel. It was very dark, and the watchman knowing if they went overboard that one if not both would be drowned, called the police. Officers O'Neill and Kelly responded and were merely attacked by the two seamen, with whom the two policemen had a desperate struggle. The officers though managed them and throwing both handcuffed them though the manacles barely encircled the wrists of one. The officers then gave the erring tars the "frog's march" to the station.

The "Brown" Outrage.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your paper to make a few remarks about this man Brown from this Bay with Government "pull" who is foisted on the people of Bay of Islands, where there are scores of men who were supporters of Mr. Joe Downey, capable of doing the work. Why not a job given to Brown in his own district instead of sending him to Bay of Islands to do the work of a tide-waiter. Is Mr. W. R. Howley running the Bay of Islands, too, as well as the west side of this Bay? I think, sir, that all the bays are pretty near sick of him. Why did not the Government give Brown the job of assistant at Cape St. Mary's Lighthouse, and not have an old partly blind man there who cannot be supposed to know when the light is in or when it is out. Capt. Fraser, of the S. S. Bonavista, and fifteen fishermen of this bay have made some queer statements about this light. The keeper is now getting the pay formerly given to two men all but $60, which is not much of a saving. Formerly two men got a living out of the work and such has been the case for the past fifty years. Why not give Brown the job of assistant. By leaving only one man to run the light-house Messrs. Devercaux and Howley must think that Cape St. Mary's is dead, but they will find that they are mistaken. The men of St. Mary's and Placentia Bays will let them know later on, and Messrs. Morris, Devercaux and Howley will rue the day they turned Mr. English out of Cape St. Mary's Light House and made Mr. Houlahan sole keeper and giving him a free hand to appoint his own assistant. Well, you may be sure, he did not go out of doors to look for an assistant keeper, thereby to put a living in the way of another family. No, he put his own son in the job and constituted himself as "Governor in Council" with power to appoint Assistant Light Keepers.

Yours truly, PLACENTIA BAY MAN.

Mr. P. C. Mars, of this city, had a letter from Bert Tait, from Oxford University, by last mail. In it he says that he played in the Varsity football team three times out of six the past season. He was asked to play in the seniors match but came a day too late. Next week he played in a Varsity trial game and soon after was chosen to play in the Varsity combine against the Corinthians, and plays as left full back. His many friends here will be glad to learn of his success.

The King and His Commission—Constant Communication.

The meetings of the four Commissioners upon the King has delegated certain executive functions of the Crown during the time he will be absent in India. It was stated recently upon authority, will be regulated by the amount of work they are called upon to perform. The Commission is composed of Prince Arthur of Connaught, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Lord President of the Council (Lord Morley of Blackburn).

It is not deemed likely that the Order in Council appointing the Commission will define exactly the powers of the Crown vested with the four Commissioners. Certain functions will be reserved, but apart from these the Commission will act as the King would act. Petitions to the Crown will be presented to the Commission. The right of respiting the sentence upon a criminal and of pardoning for offences will be exercised by the Commission, and in a variety of ways the Commissioners will perform the duties which every day fall upon the King. The place of meeting of the Commission will be one of mutual convenience to the four members.

Telegraphic Communication.

Never once during the days of the long voyage to India and home will the King be out of touch with London. By the high-powered long-distance wireless installations in the Medina and the fleet of escorting cruisers the King will be in communication with the wireless station above the roof of the Admiralty offices in Whitehall. When the Medina herself is out of touch with Whitehall messages from the King to his Ministers at home will be passed on by vessels of his Majesty's Navy upon the high seas or through land stations. With stations Gibraltar, Malta, Port Said, Aden, and Bombay the Medina will, if necessary, be able to communicate direct with the shore.

All important news happenings will be relayed by wireless to the King. He will, in fact, be almost as fully informed of the world's doings in his writing room on board the Medina as in his private study at Buckingham Palace.

The King's Work.

A fully equipped office has been provided in the Medina for Lord Stamford, the King's private secretary, and it is the King's intention to conduct during the voyage as much State business as possible. It was authoritatively stated yesterday that it was not the intention of the King and Queen to take any of the Crown jewels to India. No troops will line the King's route from Buckingham Palace to Victoria Station on Saturday when the journey to India is commenced. Their Majesties leave the palace soon after ten o'clock, the royal train departing from Victoria at 10.30. Portsmouth Dockyard will be reached at 12.30, and the Medina starts her voyage at two o'clock.

The Medina and her escort states Reuter's will arrive at Gibraltar on Tuesday for coaling and will sail on the following morning. The King will not land. Their Majesties will arrive at Port Said on the evening of Monday, November 20, and on the following day the Khedive will lunch on board the Medina, which will sail for Aden early on November 22. As at Gibraltar, their Majesties will not land. Aden will be reached on November 27, and in the course of the afternoon the King will land and receive an address.

JULIUS CAESAR.

Julius Caesar was a noted stump speaker and inventor of the immortal axiom, "Et tu, Brute," being the only public speaker of any prominence who ever used the word "et" without being hooted off the stage. He was also the author of the Latin pony, which has become so popular in our colleges.

Caesar was rather disappointing in physique, being constructed somewhat on the order of a hall tree and having considerable more nose than was necessary, but he took good care of himself, wearing flannel and Arctic overshoes both winter and summer and seldom had a sick spell. Caesar is the only person of historical importance who ever came under the influence of Cleopatra and got away with his equilibrium and his check-book. He had great strength of will and won several desperate battles on sheer nerve and a shoestring. Being desirous of going to the senate, Caesar invented the primary election law and succeeded in busting the machine after which he organized the game wardens and oil inspectors and constructed quite a neat article of his own. He then became secretary of agriculture and originated the free seed joke and the naval orange. When he became president, Caesar turned down the late M. J. Brutus for secretary of state and appointed a representative of the woolen industry, who was a generous contributor to his campaign fund, whereupon Brutus and a few disgruntled politicians gathered around Pompey's statue one evening and expressed this dissatisfaction by burying a number of short Roman swords in Caesar's anatomy. This unfeeling act was not without its compensations, however, for it gave Mark Anthony a chance to make Chauncey Depew look like the winner of the fourth prize in a Demorest medical contest. Caesar was buried with great pomp and ceremony and left a heartbroken circle of creditors.

Arrested Yesterday.

Yesterday evening a young man employed in Mr. E. J. Horwood's grocery store, on Water Street, was arrested by the police on a charge of embezzling from his master the sum of $5.80 on Saturday. He was a salesman in the outer store. His wife left him a couple of years ago.

We learn later that the house belonged to Mr. Andrew Murphy of Bell Island.

LONDON, To-Day.—The Unionists, strongly supported the Foreign Secretary and expressed the conviction that every step taken was with sole regard for British interests. Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

Alas, the homes that joy forsok because the housewives couldn't cook! Alas, the agonies and aches imparted by punk chops and steaks! Alas, the strained and tearwet eyes distressed by seeing fearsome THE POOR pigs! Our kitchens, in these modern times, are scenes of most atrocious crimes; there meat is ruined by the ton, by being charred or underdone, and bread is baked like paving bricks—we slice it up with saws and picks — and things are fried that should be stewed, and deadly kinds of dope are brewed. How often do you see a maid whose cooking leaves you unafraid? I know a million damsel fair; they prance around me everywhere, and some can paint and some can sing, and some can waltz like everything, accomplishments they have to burn, but when for tempting grub I yearn, I couldn't call a girl by name who's equal to the cooking game. The day's at hand when suffering man must eat his dinner from a can. The girls embark in politics, and haven't time for skillful tricks with frying pans and kindred tools, and that's why indigestion rules.

$25 in GOLD Given Away

The great "QUEEN LIMENT COMPETITION" open to every Man, Woman and Child in Newfoundland. On the 1st of March, 1912, will be given away to the Four or more successful winners of this competition the sum of $25.00 in Gold. We have on exhibition in the window of our Medical Hall, Theatre Hill, a rectangular box having an inside space as follows: length, 3 inches; breadth, 4 inches; height, 3 inches. This box is filled with Antibilious Pills of about the size of a pea. The competition is to guess as near as possible the number of pills contained in the box. The person guessing the exact number, or the nearest number of pills in the box, will receive for the first prize $10.00; second prize, $5.00; third and fourth prizes, $2.50 each.

In the event of two or more persons guessing the same number, the amount of the prize will be proportionately divided amongst the successful winners. That rule will apply to all prize winners. Every person purchasing a bottle of our "QUEEN OF LIMENTS," whether in the city or outport towns, and mailing us the outside green wrapper of bottle, with the number of guess, together with their name and address, will have a chance of winning the grand prize.

Yesterday afternoon the police arrested a boy of the West End. He pleaded guilty to three charges of theft, having stolen two cash boxes with their contents and the money out of a purse in another house. The latter was stolen by him Saturday evening. Two other boys were arrested for stealing an oil cask, but one was so young that he was let go home to his parents, the police being loath to keep him in the cells last night, though he will answer the charge today. Inspector General Sullivan is probably right when he asserts that cigarettes and the glamour surrounding shows are sending a number of boys on the downward track. He is also we think, right when he advocates for such youths not the Penitentiary but a reformatory.

Sir Edward Grey's Statement Yesterday

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Nov. 27. Sir Edward Grey has cleared the political atmosphere and poured oil upon the troubled waters of Anglo-German relations by a speech which lasted for an hour and a half in the House of Commons this afternoon. He reviewed the whole Moroccan episode from the sudden appearance of the German gunboat Panther at the port of Agadir in Southern Morocco, up to the signing of the Franco-German treaty, and unflinchingly upheld the attitude taken by the British Government. At the same time he declared that his action was never antagonistic to Germany or to any settlement that she was able to arrange with France which would not threaten the rights of Britain. Sir Edward made no secret of the fact that the situation had at one time been tense, but thought his statement to-day would prove a sedative to the world, which had been indulging in a fit of political alcoholism; that the time had arrived for it to get and keep cool and sober. Britain had no secret treaties. Both France and Russia knew perfectly well British public opinion would not support any provocative or aggressive action against Germany. The strength of Germany in itself is a guarantee that no other country would seek a quarrel with her; but if a nation had the biggest army in the world, a big navy, and was about to build a still bigger navy, then that nation must do all in its power to prevent the natural apprehension lest that power should have aggressive intentions towards them. "I do not believe," said Sir Edward, "that Germany has aggressive designs; and all we as neighbours to Germany, desire to live with her on equal terms." Sir Edward told the House that Von Kidderlen Waechter's disclosure of conversations which had taken place between the German Ambassador and himself had taken him by surprise. In diplomatic procedure it was most unusual to make public any such conversations without consulting the other party to them, and he knew no thing whatever of Waechter's intentions until he read the published account. He did not make any complaint, however, as he understood the exigencies of Germany precluded a such consultation. As his statement was now complete, he (Sir Edward Grey) was under no necessity to fulfil a part taken by a British Foreign Office before the Commons in full manner. The speech of Chancellor Lloyd George, which aroused such anger in Germany, was delivered after consultation with Premier Asquith and Sir Edward Grey. Its purpose was that where British interests are affected we must not be treated as if we are of no account. If the time ever comes when this cannot be said we shall have ceased to exist, at an rate as a great Power, was Sir Edward Grey's comment. Four days later Count de Wolf Metternich presented to Grey a communication, complaining of Lloyd George's speech which was exceedingly stiff in tone said Sir Edward, and "I felt it necessary to say that the fact that it had created surprise in Germany was in itself justification for the speech. I felt the tone of the communication made it inconsistent with our dignity to give an explanation of the speech." On July 27th came a break in the clouds. The German Ambassador presented a note full of good will, hoping Sir Edward would find an opportunity of reassuring the public in regard to Germany's intentions, and acknowledging the desire of the British Foreign Secretary for a Franco-German agreement, reiterating that British interests would not be touched, and pointing out how Britain could forward a settlement by calming public opinion in France. "The House will observe," said Sir Edward, "that the tone of this communication is friendly all round, to France as well as to ourselves. I at once expressed the hope that it might be taken as a new starting place. We need not return to things which must lead to mutual recriminations."

Handsome Store.

Last evening a Telegram reporter had the pleasure of visiting the new show room for ladies, attached to and just west of the fine establishment which Mr. F. Smallwood possesses on Water Street for his extensive boot and shoe business. This can undoubtedly be said to be exceedingly well fitted for the convenience of customers. Beautiful plate glass mirrors framed in mahogany reflect the form of the visitor at the rear of the show room, which when lit up at night presents to the beholder a really beautiful sight. The general scheme of painting and decorating is white, and 6 large are lights, depending from prettily designed brass chains, swing from the ceiling, 3 on either side the store, in which are "concealed" bulbs which diffuse over the whole place a bright but soft and mellow light. The windows are especially attractive, are dust proof and tastefully ornamented and arranged. Each is lit with 5 brilliant electric lights, and the western window is decorated with palms, ferns, grass, etc., while depending from the end of a string of vines is a bunch of grapes in the centre of which is a pretty and suppressed light giving them such a natural colour and appearance that one would think he could easily pluck a hand full. Palm leaves, ferns, grasses, etc., are set about the eastern window which displays a variety of the "Bustard" or "Brown" type of shoes for boys and girls. A curio in the store is a ladder which runs on wheels when the different tiers of shelves are to be reached. We would advise all who wish to see an exhibition of the aesthetic to visit Mr. Smallwood's store, and we must congratulate him on its very attractive appearance.

Cascarets for Sick, Sour Stomach.

Gently but thoroughly cleanse and regulate your Stomach, Liver and Bowels while you sleep.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion; a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any. Try Cascarets; they cure indigestion, because they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

GETTING REPAIRS. — Yesterday afternoon the S. S. Kura, which put in here for coal and with her machinery smashed, hauled up to the dock premises where repairs will be given her by the Reid Nfld. Co. After a delay of five days she will re-bunker at A. J. Harvey & Co.'s and sail for Copenhagen.

MINARD'S LIMENT CURES DISTEMPER.

Hr. Grace Notes.

In our notes on Saturday re the Boys' Brigade, we omitted the name of Major H. R. Downing. Mr. D. is playing no small part in the building up of the Brigade, and is to be congratulated on the success that is attending his efforts.

King Edward Branch attended Divine service at St. Paul's Church yesterday morning. They looked very well with their new head dress. The Society's band also accompanied them in full uniform.

Saturday's storm was severely felt here and much damage is the result. An unoccupied house in the West End was blown down. During the height of the storm the West End fire bell gave the alarm that the dreaded fire had attempted to get in its work. Willing hands hurried to the scene and soon all danger was past, the trouble being a chimney on fire. It was an anxious time for all our citizens. In the evening the news reached town that the schr. Mary Jane, coming from St. John's with provisions to Mr. Ernest Simmons, was in a dangerous place near Blackhead. But we are glad to say she weathered the storm and has since arrived safely in port.

At a few minutes to six a calamity happened that plunged the town in darkness for a couple of hours. Several electric light poles near Gordon Lodge broke off with the force of the storm, thus putting the service out of action. Mr. Gorman at great risk immediately went to work and by 8 o'clock had made temporary repairs and given the lights to the greater part of the town. On Sunday he worked all day, together with Mr. Williams, the Superintendent, and by night had the full service working again.

The Presbyterian ladies made by their sale some $145, which they consider very good. They thank their St. John's friends who kindly helped them.

Miss M. Archibald took a run over to St. John's on Friday on a brief visit to friends.

Mr. H. H. Archibald and Mr. G. G. Christian arrived from St. John's by Saturday night's train, or rather by the 2 a.m. Sunday train.

The schr. Antoinette, Capt. George Webber, left Cadiz on Tuesday last for this port, said today.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Israel Smith, of Bishop's Cove, which took place on Thursday night after a long illness. By his manly spirit Mr. Smith had made many friends, who will be sorry to hear of his death.

Dalton Council, K. of C., intend holding a reunion on Wednesday next, it being the anniversary of the formation of the Order in Newfoundland.

Bigamy Reported.

People who recently arrived from a small settlement north report a case of bigamy. From what they say of the affair, not long ago a woman became estranged with her husband and left for St. John's. She lived here for a while when matters were arranged and the husband proposed to his better half that she go to meet him in Sydney. The woman, the report has it, went but the man did not, instead he remained at home and is said to have married another woman. The affair has not been reported to the authorities as the wife is still at Sydney.
