THE LEADING UNDERTAKER. 239 YONGE ST.

Why is it we have the largest number of agencies sell-ing our teas in this city?

BECAUSE

Our teas are bought by a competent judge, who does at night. THE WHALE ON ICE is still not have to accept the testimony of any wholesale man about the quality. Consequently stores handling our tras say they double their business. Why is it others engaged in the tea 'rade try to bribe our agents to find out the secret of our famous mixed teas?

THE REASON IS.

When a man finds his customers dissatisfied with the teas he sells, it is natural for him to resort to any means to keep his trade. The only successful way found, so far, COOL CLOTHING We are bound to sell out our stock of light goods the remainder of June and part of July. This is to certify that I was suffering very severely from a cold which had continued about three months, which caused me to cough terribly and raise large quantities of mucus from the lungs. After trying various remedies I applied to Dr. M. Hill on Williams, Johany 28th, 1882 who prescribed for me, and after using his remedies for ten days I was entirely cured, and I can recommend his to any who may be like affleted, be leving it to be the only true method of treating lung diseases.

WASHINGTON, June 28 .- On one of Dr. Hicks visits to Guiteau the latter said, committee composed of Rev. Robert Dobie. Dr., I want you to go to the scaffold with Rev. A. J. Campbell and T. A. Maclean me and swing me off to God. Don't go to was appointed to draw up a letter of me and swing me off to God. Don't go to the president any more. I would like to see Miss Chevalier just to shake hands with her and thank her for her kindness and interest. If my brother and sister come I would see them, but I don't want them to talk of my insanity." Rev. Mr. Hicks says he never saw a man so apparently happy and contented as Guiteau is under such circumstances. Dr. Hicks told Guiteau that his brother said he would go to the scaffold with him and stand by him until the last moment. Guiteau said, "I need no help to go to the scaffold. Deity will stand by me then as always."

Some idea of the jail by persome anxious to get passes to the execution or to see Guiteau may be obtained from the fact that after having been detained at the jail till 9 o'clock Monday night. he reached home at 10. After seeing visitors he retired at 3 o'clock and aros at 6, hoping to escape before visitors
artived, but he had to receive two or three.

Several days ago Guiteau prepared a prayer for the American people which is to be off-red on the scaffold. The speech Guiteau has prepared to deliver from the gallows consists of a dozen foolscap pages. Reed says "It is one of the most remark. Reed says "It is one of the most remarkable documents I ever saw, full of stinging ebukes, pathos and eloquence."

Reed and John Guiteau drove to the jail this morning. The former was received cordially. The prisoner looked askance at the brother for a while. He melted somewhat when he saw how painfully John was affected and showed some feeling in regard to his intervies with the president yester-

London, June 28.—The Times, in commenting on the approaching execution of Guiteau, says that the American people should insist upon immediate reforms of the judicial procedure which would prevent another such degrading trial as that of Guiteau. A land like the United States is not as secured against producing other Guiteaus as happily it may reckon on producing other Garfields.

During the sederunt T. A. Maclean gave a report of the proceedings of the defence committee and of the action of parliament with reference to the church bills.

It was moved and carried, "That we are determined to maintain the existence of our church." Carried.

It is proposed to raise a synodical fund of fifty thousand dollars, for which purpose immediate steps are to be taken.

The St. John Globe (liberal) says that a probable result of the elections will be an ncrease in the coal tax.

WHERE TO GO FOR A SUMMER RESORT. A large proportion of the enormously increased death rate of last week in New York, is attributed by our American ex- Allah is great, my children, the one true God is changes to the hot weather. Toronto is a far healthier and cooler city than New York. Still there is no doubt that a change of air during the approaching hottest period of the summer is desirable for all who can possibly compass it. The classes who most frequent summer resorts are those who least need rest and change, the rich nonproducers. But the enjoyment of a few days absence from business scenes is much more needful for the classes who do real hard daily work with brain or hand, for lawyers, engineers, clerks, journalists, teachers, artizans, mechanics, and we would suggest that instead of going to expensive American watering places, it would cost far less and give far more enjoyment of beautiful scenery and fresh air to take a trip to some of the manny attractive villages in the Quebec and Maritime provinces. Prince Edward Island especially is the finest sea side resort in all North America, and in our own province of Outario if there is not salt water, there is abundance of lake, river and woodland resorts. We do not need to go out of our own country to find change.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL AND THE STREET C.RNER.

Complaints have of late been repeatedly made by ladies, of the insulting conduct of the mobs of boys who congregate every evening at the corners of certain streets west of University street. In some of them, notably the corners of Albert and And he asked me what blighter Elizabeth streets, it is impossible for any respectable person to pass without being annoyed by blasphemy, obscurity, and often personal rudeness. It is easy to say the police ought to put a stop stop to this. The policeman, we believe, does his best, but even he cannot be omnipresent. With respect to this growing evil of juvenile rowdyism, we would recall the words of the wise, that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. It is said, and we have every reason to believe truly that nine cases out of ten of these boy-nuisances are Sunday school pupils. If so, we fear we must come to the conclusion that as a means of teaching practi cal morality our Sunday schools are not a shining success. There is, we fear, about their methods, too | shall be.

All these things are, of course, very good in their way, but in schools like our Sunday schools, if they aim at being anything more than to be items cal unrealities tending no-whither, to shew some tangible result in the characters of their pupils.

At the next meeting of the college authorities of Harvard a resolution is proposed to be carried to the effect that "in view of the disturbances which occur upon college grounds during commencement week, and the public scandal and evil resulting therefrom, the corporation hold themselves at liberty to revoke for participation in such outrages any degeee which they may hereafter confer.

No old world university unemancipated the Havard president and fellows to assume ance in the college grounds" such matters should be left to the police, and the Harvard authorities stul ify themselves by forgetting the old proverb about the character travelers, can have THE WORLD mailed to them for 25 of those birds who foul their own nests, cents per month, the address being changed as often as when they thus publicly announce the disorders prevalent at commencements and co their incapacity for restraining them.

There is a good deal of weak sentimental talk about the feelings of modesty and refinement of women being hurt by their voting. The fact of recording her vote formally, if she wishes to do to, surely cannot affect her more, in this way, than the reading, thinking or speaking about politics des; and no one can deny that it is her duty and necessity to take sominterest in the government of the country. Vankoughnet Hung at Kingston Yesterday -He Breaks Down on the scaffold-The nurderer of Richardson at Buck lake, was xecuted this morning. After the departure of Vankoughnet's relatives yesterday, he was in a sad state of mind. He ate no supper, with the exception of a few sweet cakes. In the evening he was placed under special guard, and at 6 o'clock retired to his cell and apparently slept. This morning he awoke at daylight and dressed, but refused to partake of food. He said he could eat nothing. He was still depressed. About 7.15 o'clock he was given some strong tea, which he drank. About 7.30 Rev. Mr. Jolliffe, Vankoughnet's spiritual adviser, entered the cell and was kindly received. > At 8:120°clock Sheriff Ferguson informed the murderer that the hour of death had come. Vankoughnet took a copious draught of tea, removed his shoes, arose, and took a white handkerchief. As he walked out of the ward he burst into tears and paced the corridor in his stocking feet, accompanied by the prison guard and Rev. Mr. Jolliffe. When Vankoughnet reached the landing to ascend the starrway to the second storey he cried piteously, but stopping a moment asked, "Is my but stopping a moment asked, "Is my brother here?" He had anticipated his presence. Another corridor was walked. Here Mr. Jolliffe put his arm around the poor wretch, and again told him of the Saviour's love. The procession then entered the surgeon's office, which was neatly whitewashed, the work of the man who was so soon to pass into eternity. Ascending a short and narrow stairway the chamber of death was reached. The poor chamber of death was reached. The poor right of the trap. To prevent any one seeing what transpired the sheriff refused to remove the one reshutters, and the place had to be lit by lamps. The trap was about three wide by six long, and painted black. But that is no argument at all in favor of depriving men and women alike of the right to vote if desirous of doing so. Life is a serious matter to most women, as it is said, in a voice drowned in sobs, concluding words of the prayer were very affecting. Not a sound was heard save the sobbings of the dying man, while with downcast heads the company heard the solmn words which preceded death. Mr. Jolliffe utt-red the word "Amen," when with a thrilling click the bolt underneath the trap was shot, and Vankoughnet drop-

Dress of Chinese Women in San Francisco (San Francisco Exchange.) To one who has to any extent made the Chinese among us anything of a study nohing is more scientifically amusing than thing is more scientifically amusing than the changes that the lady Chinese have made in their dress during the past ten or twelve years. At and be ore that time the damsels aired themselves on the fashionable boulevards of Chinatown or rested in the shades of its alleys attired in gorgeous silken raiments, white hose, petite shoes of the latest Canton brand, green bangles on their arms and smaller ditto in their ears, and last, but not least, a head of hair which rose in small pinnacles, wings and turrets of bangs, montagues and things for a foot over the start of the s their ears, and last, but not least, a head of hair which rose in small pinnacles, wings and turrets of bangs, montagues and things for a foot or two above their heads. That was the style ten years ago, but it is all changed now. The neat white Canton slipper, which flip flopped against the side-walk and appeared in all times to be upon the point of falling off. or at least tripping up its owner, has been largely superseded by the common female gaiter of commerce; the silken robes have given place to common cambric, well glazed; the earrings that the sportive hoodlums failed to pull out at the roots are filed away for more peaceful times; the bangles have nearly all followed suit, and, as for the elaborate headgear, it is safe to say that it would be rather difficult to find a Chinese woman in this city who now luxuriates in its posses sion. The Greek and German style is now all the rage. By the former we mean the coil of hair at the back of the head, deftly by the other the simple pigtail, which needs nothing but a bright bit of ribbon at the end to remind one of the Caucasian school girl of sweet 16.
