A Latin Grammar for Schools and Colleges

By A. HARKNESS, PH.D., Professor in Brown University.

To explain the general plan of the work, the Publishers ask the attention of teachers to the following extracts from the Preface :

1. This volume is designed to present a systematic arrangement of the great facts and laws of the Latin language; to exhibit not only grammatical forms and constructions, but also those vital principles which underlie, control, and explain them.

2. Designed at once as a text-book for the class-room, and a book of reference in study, it aims to introduce the beginner easily and pleasantly to the first principles of the language, and yet to make adequate provision for the wants of the more advanced student.

3. By brevity and conciseness in the choice of phraseology and compactness in the arrangement of forms and topics, the author has endeavored to compress within the limits of a convenient manual an amount of carefully-selected grammatical facts, which would otherwise fill a much larger volume.

4. He has, moreover, endeavored to present the whole subject in the light of modern scholarship. Without encumbering his pages with any unnecessary discussions, he has aimed to enrich them with the practical results of the recent labors in the field of philology.

5. Syntax has received in every part special attention. An attempt has been made to exhibit, as clearly as possible, that beautiful system of laws which the genius of the language—that highest of all grammatical authority—has created for itself.

6. Topics which require extended illustration are first presented in their completeness in general outline, before the separate points are discussed in detail. Thus a single page often foreshadows all the leading features of an extended discussion, imparting a completeness and vividness to the impression of the learner, impossible under any other treatment.

7. Special care has been taken to explain and illustrate with the requisite fulness all difficult and intricate subjects. The Subjunctive Mood—that severest trial of the teacher's patience—has been presented, it is hoped, in a form at once simple and comprehensive.

THE work now offered to the public had its origin in a desire to promote the cause of Classical study. It has long been the opinion of the author, in common with numerous classical teachers, that the subject of Latin Grammar, often regarded as dry and difficult, may be presented to the learner in a form at once simple, attractive, and philosophical. It is the aim of this manual to aid the instructor in the attainment of this most desirable end.

That the present is a favorable time for the production of a Latin Grammar scarcely admits of a doubt. Never before were there such facilities for the work. The last quarter of a century has formed an epoch in the study of language and in the methods of instruction. During this period some of the most gifted minds of Germany have been gathering the choicest treasures in the field of philology, while others have been equally successful in devising improved methods of instruction. In our own country too, the more enterprising teachers have caught the spirit of improvement, and are calling loudly for a better method than has hitherto prevailed in classical study.

The present work has been prepared in view of these facts. To explain its general plan, the author begs leave to specify the following points.

1. This volume is designed to present a systematic arrangement of the great facts and laws of the Latin language; to exhibit not only grammatical forms and constructions, but also those vital principles which underlie, control, and explain them.

2. Designed at once as a text-book for the class-room, and a book of reference in study, it aims to introduce the beginner easily and pleasantly to the first principles of the language, and yet to make adequate provision for the wants of the more advanced student. Accordingly it presents in large type a general survey of the whole subject in a brief and concise statement of facts and laws, while parallel with this, in smaller type, it furnishes a fuller discussion of irregularities and exceptions for later study and for reference.

3. By brevity and conciseness in the choice of phraseology and compactness in the arrangement of forms and topics, the author has endeavored to compress within the limits of a convenient manual an amount of carefully selected grammatical facts, which would otherwise fill a much larger volume.

4. He has, moreover, endeavored to present the whole subject in the light of modern scholarship. Without encumbering his pages with any unnecessary discussions, he has aimed to enrich them with the practical results of the recent labors in the field of philology.

5. In the regular paradigms, both of declension and of conjugation, the stems and endings have been distinguished by a difference of type, thus keeping constantly before the pupil the significance of the two essential elements which enter into the composition of inflected forms.

6. Syntax has received in every part special attention. An attempt has been made to exhibit, as clearly as possible, that beautiful system of laws which the genius of the language—that highest of all grammatical authority—has created for itself. The leading principles of construction have been put in the form of definite rules, and illustrated by carefully selected examples. To secure convenience of reference and to give completeness and vividness to the general outline, these rules, after being separately discussed, are presented in a body at the close of the Syntax.

7. The subdivisions in each discussion are developed, as far as practicable, from the leading idea which underlies the whole subject. Thus in the treatment of cases, moods, and tenses, various uses, comparatively distinct in themselves, are found to centre around some leading idea or thought, thus imparting to the subject both unity and simplicity.

8. Topics which require extended illustration are first presented in their completeness in general outline, before the separate points are discussed in detail. Thus a single page often foreshadows all the leading features of an extended discussion, imparting a completeness and vividness to the impression of the learner, impossible under any other treatment.

9. Special care has been taken to explain and illustrate with the requisite fulness all difficult and intricate subjects. The Subjunctive Mood—that severest trial of the teacher's patience—has been presented, it is hoped, in a form at once simple and comprehensive. The different uses have not only been carefully classified, but also distinguished by characteristic and appropriate terms, convenient for the class-room.

For the benefit of those who prefer to begin with a more elementary manual in the study of Latin, it is in contemplation to publish a smaller Grammar on precisely the same plan as the present work, and with the same mode of treatment. This will be especially adapted to the wants of those who do not contemplate a collegiate course of study.

A Latin Reader, prepared with special reference to this work and intended as a companion to it, will be published at an early day.

In conclusion the author cheerfully acknowledges his indebtedness to other scholars, who have labored in the same field. The classification of verbs is founded in part on that of Grotefend and Krüger, a mode of treatment generally adopted in the recent German works on the subject, and well exhibited by Allen in his Analysis of Latin Verbs.

In Prosody much aid has been derived from the excellent works of Ramsay and Habenicht.

On the general subjects of Etymology and Syntax, his indebtedness is less direct, though perhaps no less real. His views of philology have been formed in a great measure under the moulding influence of the great German masters; and perhaps few Latin Grammars of any repute have appeared within the last half century, either in this country, England, or Germany, from which he has not received valuable suggestions. In the actual work of preparation, however, he has carried out his own plan, and presented his own modes of treatment, but he has aimed to avoid all untried novelties and to admit only that which is sustained by the highest authority, and confirmed by the actual experience of the class-room.

The author is happy to express his grateful acknowledgments to the numerous Instructors who have favored him with valuable suggestions; especially to his esteemed friend and colleague, Professor J. L. Lincoln, of this University.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 10th, 1864.

PREFACE

TO THE REVISED EDITION.

THE present edition is the result of a thorough and complete revision. The author has subjected every part of the work to a careful examination; he has availed himself of the suggestions of the most eminent classical instructors, and, finally, as the surest of all tests, he has used the work in connection with all the principal Latin authors usually read in school and college. The materials thus collected have been incorporated in this edition without either changing the plan or increasing the size of the work. By a studied attention to clearness and brevity, space has been secured for many valuable refinements of the language.

In this new form the work is now committed to classical teachers in the hope that in their hands it may promote the cause of classical education in our land.

LATIN GRAMMAR.

---

1. LATIN GRAMMAR treats of the principles of the Latin language. It comprises four parts:

I. ORTHOGRAPHY, which treats of the letters and sounds of the language.

II. ETYMOLOGY, which treats of the classification, inflection, and derivation of words.

III. SYNTAX, which treats of the construction of sentences.

IV. PROSODY, which treats of quantity and versification.

PART FIRST.

ORTHOGRAPHY.

---

ALPHABET.

2. THE Latin alphabet is the same as the English with the omission of w.

1. U supplies the place of w.

2. H is only a breathing, and not strictly entitled to the rank of a letter.

3. J and v did not originally belong to the Latin: their places were supplied respectively by i and u, which were used both as vowels and as consonants.

4. K is seldom used, and y and z occur only in words of Greek origin.

3. Classes of Letters.—Letters are divided into two classes:

SOUNDS OF LETTERS.

- I. Vowels, . . . . . a, e, i, o, u, y.
- II. Consonants :
1. Liquids, . . . . . l, m, n, r.
  2. Spirants, . . . . . h, s.
  3. Mutes: 1) Labials, . . . . . p, b, f, v.
  - 2) Palatals, . . . . . c, g, k, q, j.
  - 3) Linguals, . . . . . t, d.
  4. Double Consonants, . . . . . x, z.

4. Combinations of Letters.—We notice here,

1. Diphthongs—combinations of two vowels in one syllable. The most common are—ae, oe, au.
2. Double Consonants—x = cs or gs; z = ds or ts.
3. Ch, ph, th are best treated, not as combinations of letters, but only as aspirated forms of c, p, and t, as h is only a breathing.

SOUNDS OF LETTERS.

5. Scholars in different countries generally pronounce Latin substantially as they do their own languages. In this country, however, two distinct systems are recognized, generally known as the English and the Continental Method.<sup>1</sup> For the convenience of the instructor, we add a brief outline of each.

I. ENGLISH METHOD.

1. Sounds of Vowels.

6. Vowels generally have their long or short English sounds. But

1. These sounds in Latin, as in English, are somewhat modified by the consonants which accompany them.

2. R, final, or followed by another consonant, greatly obscures the vowel sound. Before r thus situated, e, i, and u are scarcely distinguishable from each other, as in the English her, fir, fur, while a and o are pronounced as in far, for, but between qu and rt, a approaches the sound of o: quar-tus, as in quarter.

3. Dr, following qua, gives to a something of the sound of o: quad-rupes, as in quadruped.

7. Long Sound.—Vowels have their long English sounds

<sup>1</sup> Strictly speaking, there is no Continental Method, as every nation on the continent of Europe has its own method.

—a as in fate, e in mete, i in pine, o in note, u in tube, y in type—in the following situations:

1. In final syllables ending in a vowel: <sup>1</sup> se, si, ser'-vi, ser'-vo, cor'-nu, mi'-sy.

2. In all syllables, before a vowel or diphthong: de'-us, de-o'-rum, de'-ae, di-e'-i, ni'-hi-lum.<sup>2</sup>

3. In penultimate<sup>3</sup> and unaccented syllables, not final, before a single consonant or a mute with l or r: pa'-ter, pa'-tres, A'-thos, O'-thrys, do-lo'-ris. But

1) A unaccented has the sound of a final in America: men'-sa.

2) A after qu. See 6. 2.

3) I (also y) unaccented, not final, generally has the short sound of e; nobilis (nob-e-lis), Amycus (Am'-e-cus). But in the first syllable of a word it has—(1) before an accented vowel or diphthong, its long sound, di'-c-bus; and (2) before a single consonant or a mute with l or r, sometimes the long sound, i-do'-ne-us; and sometimes the short sound, philosophus (phe-los'-o-plus).

4) I and u in special combinations. See 9. 2 and 4.

5) Before bl, gl, tl.—U has the short sound before bl; and the other vowels before gl and tl: Pub-lic-o-la, Ag-la'-o-phon, Al'-las.

6) In compounds, when the first part is entire and ends in a consonant, any vowel before such consonant has generally the short sound: a in ab'-es, e in red'-it, i in in'-it, o in ob'-it, prod'-est. But those final syllables which, as exceptions, have the long sound before a consonant (8. 1), retain that sound in compounds: post-quam, hos'-ce.

8. Short Sound.—Vowels have the short English sound—a as in fat, e in met, i in pin, o in not, u in tub, y in myth—in the following situations:

1. In final syllables ending in a consonant: a'-mat, a'-met, rex'-it, sol, con'-sul, Te'-thys; except post, es final, and os final in plural cases: res, di'-es, hos, a'-gros.

2. In all syllables before x, or any two consonants except a mute with l or r (7, 3): rex'-it, bel'-lum, rex'-c'-runt, bel-lo'-rum.

3. In all accented syllables before one or more consonants, except the penultimate: dom'-i-nus, pat'-ri-bus. But

1) A, e, or o, before a single consonant (or a mute with l or r) followed by e, i, or y, before another vowel, has the long sound: a'-ci-es, a'-cri-a, me'-re-o, do'-ce-o.

<sup>1</sup> Some give to i in both syllables of tibi and sibi the short sound.

<sup>2</sup> In these rules no account is taken of h, as that is only a breathing: hence the first i in nilum is treated as a vowel before another vowel: for the same reason, ch, ph, and th are treated as single mutes; thus th in Athos and Othrys.

2) U, in any syllable not final, before a single consonant or a mute with l or r, except bl (7. 5), has the long sound: Pu'-ni-cus, sa-lu'-bri-tas.

3) Compounds. See 7. 6).

2. Sounds of Diphthongs.

9. Ae and oe are pronounced like e :

1) long: Cae'-sar (Ce'-sar), Oe'-ta (E'-ta).

2) short: Daed'-ä-lus (Ded'-a-lus), Oed'-i'-pus

Au, as in author: au'-rum.

Eu, . . . neuter: neu'-ter.

1. Ei and oi are seldom diphthongs, but when so used they are pronounced as in height, coin: hei, proin. See Synaeresis, 669. II.

2. I between an accented a, e, o, or y and another vowel has the sound of y consonant in yes: Acha'ia (Ä-ka'-ya), Pompe'ius (Pom-pe'-yus), Latoia (La-to'-ya), Harpyia (Har-py'-ya). These combinations of i with the following vowel are sometimes called semi-consonant diphthongs.

3. Ui, as a diphthong with the long sound of i, occurs in cui, hui, huic.

4. U, with the sound of w, sometimes unites with the following vowel or diphthong:—(1) after q; qui (kwi), qua, que, quae:—(2) generally after g; lingua (lin'-gwa), lin'-guis, lin'-guae:—(3) sometimes after s; sua'-deo (swa'-deo). These combinations of u are analogous to those of i mentioned above under 2.

3. Sounds of Consonants.

10. The consonants are pronounced in general as in English, but a few directions may aid the learner.

11. C, G, S, T, and X are generally pronounced with their ordinary English sounds. Thus,

1. C and g are soft (like s and j) before e, i, y, ae and oe, and hard in other situations: ce'-do (sedo), ci'-vis, Cy'-rus, cae'-do, coe'-na, a'-ge (a-je), a'-gi; ca'-do (ka'-do), co'-go, cum, Ga'-des. But

1) Ch is hard like k; chorus (ko'-rus), Chi-os (Ki'os). But see 13. 2.

2) G has the soft sound before g soft: ag'-ger.

2. S generally has its regular English sound, as in son, thus: sa'-cer, so'-ror, si'-dus. But

1) S final, after e, ae, au, b, m, n, r, is pronounced like z: spes, praes, laus, urbs, hi'-ems, mons, pars.

2) In a few words s has the sound of z, because so pronounced in English words derived from them: Cae'-sar, Cacsar; cau'-sa, cause; mu'-sa, muse; mi'-ser, miser; phys'-i-cus, physic, etc.

3. T has its regular English sound, as in time: ti-mor, to-tus.

4. X has generally its regular English sound like ks; rex'-i (rek'-si), ux'-or (uk'-sor). But

1) At the beginning of a word it has the sound of z: Xan'-thus (Zan-thus).

2) Between e or u and an accented vowel, it has the sound of gz: ex-i'-lis (egzi'lis, as in exile); ux-o'-ri-us (ugzo're-us, as in uxorious).

12. C, S, T, and X—Aspirated.—Before i preceded by an accented syllable and followed by a vowel, c, s, t, and x are aspirated—c, s, and t taking the sound of sh, x that of ksh: so'-ci-us (so'she-us), Al'-si-um (Al'she-um), ar'-ti-um (ar'she-um); anx'-i-us (ank'she-us). C has also the sound of sh before eu and yo preceded by an accented syllable: ca-du'-ce-us (ca-du'she-us), Sic'-y-on (Sish'e-on). But

1. S, immediately preceded by an accented vowel and followed by: with another vowel, has the sound of zh: Moe'-si-a (Me'-zhe-a). But some proper nouns retain the sound of sh: A'-si-a (A'-she-a), Lys'-i-as, So'-si-a, The'-o-do'-si-a, Tys'-i-as.

2. T loses the aspirate—(1) after s, i, or x: Os'-ti-a, At'-ti-us, mix'-ti-o—(2) in old infinitives in ier: flec'-ti-er—(3) generally in proper names in tion (tyon): Phi'-lis'-ti-on, Am-phi'-ty-on.

13. Silent Consonants—An initial consonant, with or without the aspirate h, is sometimes silent: Thus

1. C before n: Cne'-us (Ne'-us).

2. Ch or ph before a mute: Chtho'-ni-a (Thonia), Phthi'-a (Thia).

3. G or n before n: qua'-rus; Mue'-mon.

4. P before s or t: Psy'-che, Ptol'-e-mae'-us.

5. T before m: Tmo'-lus.

II. CONTINENTAL METHOD.

1. Sounds of Vowels.

14. Each vowel has in the main one uniform sound,<sup>1</sup> but the length or duration of the sound depends upon the quantity of the vowel. See 20.

The vowel sounds are as follows:

a like ä in father: e. g. a'-ra.

e     ä     made:     ple'-bes.

i     ē     me:     i'-ri.

o     ō     no:     o'-ro.

u     ô     do:     u'-num.

y     ē     me:     Ny'-sa.

<sup>1</sup> These sounds sometimes undergo slight modifications in uniting with the various consonants.

2. Sounds of Diphthongs.

15. Æ and œ like a in made, e. g. æ'-tas, œ'-lum.
au " ou " out, " au'-rum.<sup>1</sup>

3. Sounds of Consonants.

16. The pronunciation of the consonants is similar to that of the English method, but it varies somewhat in different countries.

SYLLABLES.

17. In the pronunciation of Latin, every word has as many syllables as it has vowels and diphthongs; thus the Latin words, more, vice, acute, and persuade are pronounced, not as the same words are in English, but with their vowel sounds all heard in separate syllables; thus, mo'-re, vi'-ce, a-cu'-te, per-sua'-de.

18. Simple words are divided into syllables as follows:

1. After a vowel (or diphthong), with the Long Sound (7), consonants must be joined to the following vowel: pa'-ter, pa'-tres, a-gro'-rum, sa-cro'-rum, au-di'-vi.

2. After a vowel with the Short Sound (8),

- 1) A single or double consonant is joined to such vowel, except after i unaccented: gen'-e-ri, rex'-i, dom'-i-nus.

- 2) Two consonants are separated: bel'-lum, men'-sa, pat'-ri-bus. But x following a consonant must be joined to the preceding syllable: Ax'-es, aux'-i-us.

- 3) Of three or more consonants, the last, or, if a mute with l or r, the last two must be joined to the following vowel: emp'-tus, tem'-plum, claus'-tra, trans'-tra.

19. Compounds are divided into syllables,

1. Generally like simple words: ed'-o-mo (e, domo), an-tef'-e-ro (ante, fero), be-nev'-o-lens (bene, volens), mag-nan'-i-mus (magnus, animus).

2. But if the first part is entire and ends in a consonant, the compound is resolved into its component parts: ab'-es, ab-i'-re.

<sup>1</sup> In other combinations, the two vowels are generally pronounced separately, but æ and œ occur as diphthongs with nearly the same sound as in English.

QUANTITY.

20. Syllables are in quantity or length either long, short, or common.<sup>1</sup>

21. Long.—A syllable is long in quantity,

1. If it contains a diphthong: haec.

2. If its vowel is followed by j, x, z, or any two consonants, except a mute with l or r: rex, mons.

22. Short.—A syllable is short, if its vowel is followed by another vowel or a diphthong: dī-es, vī-ae, nī-hil.<sup>2</sup>

23. Common.—A syllable is common, if its vowel, naturally short, is followed by a mute with l or r: a'-gri.

24. The signs  $\bar{\phantom{x}}$ ,  $\acute{\phantom{x}}$ ,  $\circ\phantom{x}$  denote respectively that the syllables over which they are placed are long, short, or common: ā-grō-rām.

ACCENTUATION.

I. PRIMARY ACCENT.

25. Monosyllables are treated as accented syllables: mons, nos.

26. Other words are accented as follows:<sup>3</sup>

1. Words of two syllables—always on the first: men'-sa.

2. Words of more than two syllables—on the penult<sup>4</sup> if that is long in quantity, otherwise on the antepenult:<sup>4</sup> hō-nō'-ris, con'-sū-lis. But

1) Genitives in i for ii and vocatives in i for ie retain the accent of the full form: in-ge'-ni for in-gē-ni-i; Mer-cū'-ri for Mer-cū'-ri-e.

2) Penults common in quantity take the accent when used as long.

3) Compounds are accented like simple words; but

(a) The enclitics, que, ve, ne, appended to words accented on the antepenult, throw back their accent upon the last syllable of that word: hōn'-i-ne'-que, hōm'-i-nes'-que.

(b) Facio compounded with other words than prepositions, retains its own accent: cal-e-fu'-cit.

<sup>3</sup> In the subsequent pages the pupil will be expected to accent words in pronunciation according to these rules. The quantity of the penult in words of more than two syllables will therefore be marked (unless determined by 21 and 22), to enable him to ascertain the place of the accent.

<sup>4</sup> Penult, last syllable but one; antepenult, the last but two.

II. SECONDARY ACCENTS.

27. A second accent is placed on the second or third syllable before the primary accent,—on the second, if that is the first syllable of the word, or is long in quantity, otherwise on the third: mon'-u-é-runt; mon'-u-er-a-mus; in-stau'-ra-ve'-runt.

23. In the same way, a third accent is placed on the second or third syllable before the second accent: hon'-o-rif'-i-centis'-si-mus.

PART SECOND.

ETYMOLOGY.

29. ETYMOLOGY treats of the classification, inflection, and derivation of words.

30. The Parts of Speech are—Nouns, Adjectives, Pronouns, Verbs, Adverbs, Prepositions, Conjunctions, and Interjections.

CHAPTER I.

NOUNS.

31. A Noun or Substantive is a name, as of a person, place, or thing: Cicēro, Cicero; Rōma, Rome; puer, boy; dōmus, house.

1. A Proper Noun is a proper name, as of a person or place: Cicēro, Rōma.

2. A Common Noun is a name common to all the members of a class of objects: vir, a man; equus, horse. Common nouns include

1) Collective Nouns—designating a collection of objects: popūlus, people; exercitus, army.

2) Abstract Nouns—designating properties or qualities: virtus, virtue; justitia, justice.

3) Material Nouns—designating materials as such: aurum, gold; lignum, wood; aqua, water.

32. Nouns have Gender, Number, Person, and Case.

GENDER.

33. There are three genders—Masculine, Feminine, and Neuter.

34. In some nouns, gender is determined by signification; in others, by endings.

35. GENERAL RULES FOR GENDER.

I. MASCULINES.

1. Names of Males: Cicero; vir, man; rex, king.
2. Names of Rivers, Winds, and Months: Rhēnus, Rhine; Nōtus, south wind; Aprilis, April.

II. FEMININES.

1. Names of Females: mulier, woman; leaena, lioness.
2. Names of Countries, Towns, Islands, and Trees: Aegyptus, Egypt; Rōma, Rome; Dēlos, Delos; pīrus, pear tree.

III. NEUTERS.

1. Indeclinable Nouns: fas, right; nihil, nothing.
2. Words and Clauses used as indeclinable nouns: triste vale, a sad farewell; difficile est amicitiam manēre, it is difficult for friendship to continue.<sup>1</sup>

36. REMARKS ON GENDER.

1. Exceptions.—The endings<sup>2</sup> of nouns sometimes give them a gender at variance with these rules. Thus,

1) The names of rivers—Albula, Allia, Lithe, Styx, and sometimes others, are feminine by ending.

2) Some names of countries, towns, islands, trees, and animals take the gender of their endings. See 47. 1.

2. Masculine or Feminine.—A few personal appellatives applicable to both sexes and a few names of animals are sometimes masculine and sometimes feminine, but when used without distinct reference to sex they are generally masculine: civis, citizen (man or woman); cōmes, companion; bos, ox, cow.

3. Mobile Nouns have different forms for different genders: filius, son, daughter; rex, regina, king, queen; leo, leaena, lion, lioness.

4. Epicene Nouns have but one gender, but are used for both sexes. They apply only to the inferior animals, and usually take the gender of their endings: anser, goose (male or female), masculine; aquila, eagle, feminine.

PERSON AND NUMBER.

37. The Latin, like the English, has three persons and two numbers. The first person denotes the speaker; the second, the person spoken to; the third, the person spoken of. The singular number denotes one, the plural more than one.

<sup>2</sup> Gender as determined by the endings of nouns will be noticed in connection with the several declensions.

CASES.

38. The Latin has six cases :

Names.	English Equivalents.
Nominative,	Nominative.
Genitive,	Possessive, or Objective with of .
Dative,	Objective with to or for .
Accusative,	Objective.
Vocative,	Nominative Independent.
Ablative,	Objective with from , by , in , with .

1. Oblique Cases.—In distinction from the Nominative and Vocative (casus recti, right cases), the other cases are called oblique (casus obliqui).

2. Case-Endings.—In form the several cases are in general distinguished from each other by certain terminations called case-endings: Nom. mensa, Gen. mensae, &c.

3. Cases Alike.—But certain cases are not distinguished in form. Thus,

1) The Nominative, Accusative, and Vocative in neuters are alike, and in the plural end in a.

2) The Nominative and Vocative are alike in all pure Latin nouns, except those in us of the second declension (45).

3) The Dative and Ablative Plural are alike.

DECLENSIONS.

39. The formation of the several cases is called Declension.

40. Five Declensions.—In Latin there are five declensions, distinguished from each other by the following Genitive Endings.

Dec. I.	Dec. II.	Dec. III.	Dec. IV.	Dec. V.
ae,	i,	is,	ūs,	eī. <sup>1</sup>

41. Stem and Endings.—In any noun, of whatever declension,

1. The stem may be found by dropping the ending of the genitive singular.

2. The several cases may be formed by adding to this stem the case-endings.

FIRST DECLENSION.

42. Nouns of the first declension end in ā and ē,—feminine; ās and ēs,—masculine.

But pure Latin nouns end only in a, and are declined as follows:

SINGULAR.

	Example.	Meaning.	Case-Endings.
Nom.	mensā,	a table,	ā
Gen.	mensae,	of a table,	ae
Dat.	mensae,	to, for a table,	ae
Acc.	mensam,	a table,	am
Voc.	mensā,	O table,	ā
Abl.	mensā,	with, from, by a table,	ā

PLURAL.

	Example.	Meaning.	Case-Endings.
Nom.	mensae,	tables,	ae
Gen.	mensarum,	of tables,	arum
Dat.	mensis,	to, for tables,	is
Acc.	mensas,	tables,	as
Voc.	mensae,	O tables,	ae
Abl.	mensis,	with, from, by tables.	is.

1. Case-Endings.—From an inspection of this example, it will be seen that the several cases are distinguished from each other by their case-endings.

2. Examples for Practice.—With these endings decline:

Ala, wing; āqua, water; causa, cause; fortūna, fortune; porta, gate; victoria, victory.

3. Irregular Case-Endings.—The following occur:

1) As for ae in the Gen. of familia, in composition with pāter, māter, filius, and filia: paterfamilias, father of a family.

2) Ai for the genitive ending ae, in the poets: aulāi for aulae, of a hall.

3) Um for arum in the Gen. Plur.: Dardanīdum for Dardanīdārum, of the descendants of Dardanus.

4) Abus for is in the Dat. and Abl. Plur., especially in dea, goddess, and filia, daughter, to distinguish them from the same cases of deus, god, and filius, son.

4. Article.—The Latin has no article. A Latin noun may therefore, according to the connection in which it is used, be translated either without any article, with a or an, or with the: cōrōna, crown, a crown, the crown.

43. GREEK NOUNS.—Nouns of this declension in e, as, and es are of Greek origin, and are declined as follows:

Epitōme, epitome. Aenēas, Aeneas. Pyrites, pyrites.

SINGULAR.

N. epitōm ō	Aenē ās	pŷrit ēs

1. Examples for Practice.—Aloe, aloe; boreas, north wind; comētes, comet.

2. Paradigms.—Observe 1) That in the Plur. and in the Dat. Sing., Greek nouns are declined like mensa, and 2) That in the Gen. Sing., only those in e depart from the regular ending ae.

3. Many Greek nouns assume the Latin ending a, and are declined like mensa. Many in e have also a form in a; epitōme, epitōma, epitome.

44. GENDER IN FIRST DECLENSION.

Feminine endings: a, e.

Masculine endings: as, es.

EXCEPTIONS.—Masculine—(1) a few in a by signification: poēta, poet; agricōla, husbandman. See 35. 1.—(2) Hadria, Adriatic sea; sometimes dāma, deer, and talpa, mole.

SECOND DECLENSION.

45. Nouns of the second declension end in ēr, īr, ūs, os,—masculine; ūm, on,—neuter.

But pure Latin nouns end only in er, ir, us, um, and are declined as follows:

rites, pyrites.

pyritae
pyritae

Servus, slave. Puer, boy. Ager, field. Templum, temple.

2. Examples for Practice.—Like SERVUS: annus, year; domŭnus, master.—Like PUER: gēner, son-in-law; sōcer, father-in-law.—Like AGER: fāber, artisan; magister, master.—Like TEMPLUM: bellum, war; regnum, kingdom.

3. Paradigms.—Observe

1) That puer differs in declension from servus only in dropping the endings us and e in the Nom. and Voc. ; Nom. puer for puérus, Voc. puer for puère.

2) That ager differs from puer only in dropping e before r.<sup>1</sup>

3) That templum, as a neuter noun, has the Nom., Accus., and Voc. alike, ending in the plural in a. See 28. 3.

4. Ager and Puer.—Most nouns in er are declined like ager, but the following in er and ir are declined like puer.

1) Nouns in ir: vir, virī, man.

2) Compounds in fer and ger: armiger, armigēri, armor-bearer ; signifer, signifēri, standard-bearer.

3) Adulter, aduller ; Liber, Bacchus ; presbȳter, elder.
 Celtiber, Celtiberian ;<sup>2</sup> liberi, children ; socer, father-in-law.
gēner, son-in-law ; Mulciber, Vulcan ;<sup>2</sup> vesper, evening.
Iber, Spaniard.<sup>2</sup>

5. Irregular Case-Endings.—The following occur :

1) I for ii by contraction, in the Gen. Sing. without change of accent : ingēni for ingēniī, of talent.

2) I for ie, common in proper names in ius, without change of accent : Mercūri for Mercūrie, Mercury. Also in fili for filie, son ; gēni for genie, guardian spirit.

3) Us for e in the Voc., the regular form in deus, god, but rare in other words.

4) Um for orum, common in a few words denoting money, weight, and measure : talentum for talentorum, of talents ; also in a few other words : deum for deorum ; librum for liberorum ; Argvum for Argvorum.

6. Deus.—This has, Voc. Sing., deus ; Nom. Plur., dei, dii, di ; Gen., deorum, deum ; Dat. and Abl., deis, diis, dis ; otherwise regular.

46. GREEK NOUNS.

Nouns of this declension in os and on are of Greek origin.

1. Nouns in os are generally declined like those in us, except in the accusative singular, where they have on: Delōs, Delī, Delō, Delōn, etc., island Delos.

2. Nouns in on are declined like templum, with on for um in the nominative, accusative, and vocative.

3. Most Greek nouns generally assume in prose the Latin forms in us and um, but sometimes, especially in poetry, they retain in one or more cases the peculiar endings of the Greek. Thus,

- 1) Genitive Singular, ō (rarely u): Andrōgeō from Andrōgeōs.
 2) Accusative " o or on: Atho, Athon " Athos.
 3) Nominative Plural, oe: cănēphōoe " cănēphōōs.
 4) Genitive " ōn (om): bucōlicōn " bucōlicōn.
 5) Greek nouns in ēūs admit certain forms of the third declension: Orpheus; G., Orphēōs; D., Orphēi; A., Orphēa; V., Orphēū.—Panthūs has Voc. Panthū, and pelāgus, Plur. pelāge.

47. GENDER IN SECOND DECLENSION.

Masculine endings: er, ir, us, os.

Neuter endings: um, on.

I. FEMININE BY EXCEPTION.

1. Nouns feminine by signification: Aegyptius, Egypt; Corinthus, Corinth. See §5. 2, but observe that Many names of countries, towns, islands, and trees follow the gender of their endings.—(1) COUNTRIES: Bospōrus, Isthmus, Pontus, masculine by ending; those in um and plurals in a, neuter by ending.—(2) TOWNS: Canōpus and plurals in i, masculine; those in um and plurals in a, neuter.—(3) ISLANDS: those in um and plurals in a, neuter.—(4) TREES: oleaster and pinaster, masculine. Some names of shrubs and plants are feminine, like those of trees, while others take the gender of their endings.

2. Other Feminine exceptions are

- 1) Most names of gems and ships: amethystus, sapphirus.
 2) Abus, belly; carbāsus, sail; cōlus, distaff; hūmus, ground; vannus, sieve.
 3) Many Greek feminines, as (1) nouns in odus, metros, thongus: periōdus, period; diamētros, diameter; diphthongus, diphthong; (2) abyssus, abyss; atōmus, atom; dialectos, dialect.

II. NEUTER BY EXCEPTION.

Pelāgus, sea; virus, poison; vulgus (rarely masc.), common people.

THIRD DECLENSION.

48. Nouns of the third declension end in a, e, i, o, y, c, l, n, r, s, t, x.

I. MASCULINE ENDINGS:

o, or, os, er, es increasing in the genitive.

II. FEMININE ENDINGS:

as, is, ys, x, es not increasing in the genitive, s preceded by a consonant.

III. NEUTER ENDINGS:

a, e, i, y, c, l, n, t, ar, ur, us.

49. Nouns of this declension may be divided into two classes:

I. Nouns which have a case-ending in the nominative singular. These all end in e, s, or x.

II. Nouns which have no case-ending in the nominative singular.

In class II. the Nom. Sing. is either the same as the stem, or is formed from it by dropping one or more letters of the stem: consul, Gen. consulis; stem, consul, a consul; leo, leonis, stem, leon (Nom. drops n), lion; carmen, carminis, stem, carmin (Nom. changes in to en), song.

52. Case-Endings.—From an inspection of the paradigms, it will be seen,

1. That the nouns belonging to Class II. differ from those of Class I. only in taking no case-ending in the nominative and vocative singular.

2. That all nouns of both classes are declined with the following

Case-Endings.

SINGULAR.

Abl.	ibŭs.	ibŭs.

53. Declension.<sup>1</sup>—To apply these endings in declension, we must know, besides the nominative singular,

1. The Gender, as that shows which set of endings must be used.

2. The Genitive Singular (or some oblique case), as that contains the stem (41) to which these endings must be added.

54. EXAMPLES FOR PRACTICE:

Class I.

Rŭpes,	Gen. rupis, f.	rock,	hospes,	Gen. hospitĭs, m.	guest.
vestis,	vestis, f.	garment;	cuspidis,	cuspidis, f.	spear.
trabis,	trăbis, f.	beam;	mons,	montis, m.	mountain.
lex,	lēgis, f.	law;	ăpex,	apicis, m.	summit.
libertas,	libertătis, f.	liberty;	sălus,	salŭtis, f.	safety.
sedĭle,	sedilis, n.	seat;

<sup>1</sup> In nouns in o (= cs or gs), s is the case-ending, and the c or g belongs to the stem.

Class II.

Exsul,	Gen. exsūlis, m. and f.	exile ;	dōlor,	Gen. dolōris, m.	pain. actio,	actiōnis, f.	action ;	imāgo,	imaginis, f.	image.
anser,	ansēris, m.	goose ;	frāter,	fratris, m.	brother.
nōmen,	nōminis, n.	name ;	tempus,	tempōris, n.	time.

FORMATION OF CASES.

Nominative Singular.

55. The nominative singular may generally be formed from any oblique case in one of two ways :

I. By changing the ending of the given case to the nominative ending

s (es, is) in masculines and feminines ; e in neuters :
Acc. urbem, Nom. urbs ; avem, avis ; nubem, nubes. So
Gen. māris (neut.), Nom. mare.

II. By dropping the ending of the given case: Gen.
consūlis, Nom. consul ; passēris, passer ; pastōris, pastor.

1. THE FIRST METHOD applies in general to mute stems.

2. THE SECOND METHOD applies to most liquid stems.

3. EUPHONIC CHANGES:

1) T, d, and r before s are dropped ; c and g before s unite with it and form x ; i is sometimes changed to e: Gen. civitatīs, N. civitas (for civitals, t dropped) ; G. milītis, N. miles (milits, t dropped and i changed to e) ; G. rēgis, N. rex (regs).

2) The endings on and in of masc. and fem. stems are generally changed to o: G. leōnis, N. leo (for leon) ; G. virgīnis, N. virgo (for virgin). But in neuters in is changed to en: G. carminis, carmen (for carmin).

3) The endings er and or of neut. stems are generally changed to us: G. opēris, N. opus (for oper) ; G. corpōris, N. corpus (for corpor).

4) Other changes sometimes occur.

Genitive Singular.

I. GENERAL RULES.

56. Class I. forms the genitive singular by changing the nominative ending into is: māre, māris, sea ; urbis, urbis, city ; nubes, nubis, cloud ; hostis, hostis, enemy ; arx (arcs), arcis, citadel ; rex (regs), rēgis, king.

1. CLASS I. includes, it will be remembered, nouns in e, s (with a few exceptions), and x.

2. THE NOMINATIVE ENDING in this class is

1) e in nouns in e: mare.

2) s in nouns in s ; but if e or i precedes, it may be es or is ; thus it is s in urbis, es in nubes, and is in hostis.

ris, m. pain.
 (nis, f. image.
 ōris, n. time.

3) s in nouns in x: as the double consonant x = cs or gs, the c or g belongs to the stem and the s is the ending.

Accordingly the genitive changes the endings e, s, es, and is into is, as above.

3. IRREGULARITIES AND EXCEPTIONS.—See special rules, 58–83.

57. Class II. forms the genitive by adding is to the nominative: sōl, sōlis, sun; carcer, carcēris, prison; pastor, pastōris, shepherd; lien, liēnis, spleen.

1. CLASS II. includes all nouns of this declension not embraced under Class I.

2. CHANGES AND IRREGULARITIES.—See special rules.

II. SPECIAL RULES.

SINGULAR.

V. fruct ūs	corn uū	ūs	uū
A. fruct ibūs .	corn ibūs .	ibūs (ūbūs).	ibūs (ūbūs).

1. Case-Endings.—Nouns of this declension are declined with the case-endings presented in the above table.

2. Examples for Practice.—Cantus, song; currus, chariot; cur- sus, course; versus, verse; genu, knee.

3. Modification of Third Declension.—The fourth declension is but a modification of the third, produced by contraction: thus fructus, in the un-contracted form, was declined like grus, gruis, of Decl. III.: N. fructus, G.
fructus = fructus; D. fructui, A. fructum = fructum, V. fructus; A.
fructus = fructu; Plur. N. fructus = fructus, etc.

4. Irregular Case-Endings.—The following occur:

1) Ūs for ŭs, used regularly in the Dat. and Abl. Plur. of Aeus, needle; arcus, bow; artus, joint; lācus, lake; partus, birth; pēcu, cattle; quercus, oak; spēcus, den; tribus, tribe; vēru, spit: occasionally in a few other words, as portus, sinus, and tonitrus.

2) Ūis, the uncontracted form for us, in the Gen.: fructuis for fructus.

3) Ū for ui, in the Dat. by contraction: equitatu for equitatui, cavalry.

117. Second and Fourth Declensions.—Some nouns are partly of this declension and partly of the second.

1. Dŏmus, house, declined as follows:

SINGULAR.	PLURAL.
N. domūs	domūs
G. domūs , domī	domuūm , domōrūm
D. domui ( domō )	domibūs
A. domūm	domōs , domūs
V. domūs	domūs
A. domō ( domū )	domibūs .

In this word there is generally a difference of meaning between the forms of the second Decl. and those of the fourth; thus, G. domus, of a house; domī, at home;
A. Pl. domus, houses; domos, often, homeward; to homes.

2. Certain names of trees in us, as cupressus, ficus, laurus, pīnus, though generally of Decl. II., sometimes take those cases of the fourth which end in us and u: N. laurus, G. laurus, D. lauro, A. laurum, V.
laurus, A. lauru, &c. So also cōlus, distaff.

3. A few nouns, especially senātus and tumultus, though regularly of Decl. IV., sometimes take the genitive ending i of the second: senātī, tumultī.

118. GENDER IN FOURTH DECLENSION.

Masculine ending: us.

Neuter ending: u.

EXCEPTIONS.

1. Feminine:—(1) ācus, needle; cōlus, distaff; dŏmus, house; mānus, hand; porticus, portico; tribus, tribe,—(2) īdus, ides;
Quinquātrus, feast of Minerva; generally pīnus, store, when of this decl.; rarely spēcus, den,—(3) a few nouns

Fem. by signification (35. II.): nūrus, daughter-in-law ; ficus, fig tree.<sup>1</sup>

2. Neuter :—sēcus (scrus), sex ; rarely, spēcus, den.

FIFTH DECLENSION

A. diēbūs.	rēbūs.	ēbūs.

1. Case-Endings.—Nouns of this declension are declined with the case-endings presented in the above table.

E in ei is generally short when preceded by a consonant, otherwise long.

2. Examples for Practice.—Acies, battle array ; effigies, effigy ; facies, face ; series, series ; species, form ; spes, hope.

3. Modification of Third Declension.—The fifth declension, like the fourth, seems to be a modification of the third. It is produced by contraction (es = es : ēbus = ēbus), except in the genitive, where ei comes from eis, by dropping s, and ērūm from eum, by inserting r.

4. Irregular Endings :—ē or ī for eī in the Gen. and Dat. : acie for aciēī ; pernicii for perniciēī.

5. Defective.—Nouns of this declension, except dies and res, want the Gen., Dat., and Abl. Plur., and many admit no plural whatever.

120. GENDER IN FIFTH DECLENSION.

Nouns of the fifth declension are feminine.

Exceptions.—Masculine :—dies, day, and meridies, midday, though dies is sometimes feminine in the singular.

122. By a close analysis it will be found,

1. That the five declensions are only five varieties of one general system of declension.

2. That these varieties have been produced by the union of different final letters in the various stems, with one general system of endings.

123. According to this analysis,

1. The stems in the five declensions end in the following letters:

I.	II.	III.	IV.	V.
a,	o,	consonant,	u,	e.
		(rarely i).

2. The general case-endings are as follows: <sup>4</sup>

<sup>2</sup> The dash denotes that the case-ending is sometimes wanting: er and ir in Decl. II., it will be remembered, are not case-endings, but parts of the stem (45. 1).

1) That different endings characteristic of different genders may be found in one and the same declension.

2) That a slight difference of declension is however apparent in the double forms in is, i; ēs, i; ūm, iūm; ībūs, is; but that in each of these double forms, the first seems to have been the original ending from which the second was derived.

DECLENSION OF COMPOUND AND IRREGULAR NOUNS.

COMPOUND NOUNS.

125. Compounds present in general no peculiarities of declension. But

1. If two nominatives unite, they are both declined: respublica = res publica, republic, the public thing; jusjurandum = jus jurandum, oath.

2. If a nominative unites with an oblique case, only the nominative is declined: paterfamilias = pāter familias (42. 3), or pāter familiae, the father of a family.

D. rēipublicae	jurijurandō	patrifamilias

V. respublicā	jusjurandū	paterfamilias
A. rēpublicā	jurejurandō	patrēfamilias

PLURAL.

N. respublicae	jurajurandā	patresfamilias
G. rērumpublicārū		patrumfamilias
D. rēbuspublicis		patribusfamilias
A. respublicās	jurajurandā	patresfamilias
V. respublicae	jurajurandā.	patresfamilias
A. rēbuspublicis.		patribusfamilias.

1. The parts which compose these and similar words are often and perhaps more correctly written separately : res publica ; pāter familias or familiae.
2. The parts of respublica are res of the 5th Decl. and publica of the 1st.
3. The parts of jusjurandum are jus of the 3d Decl. and jurandum of the 2d. Jusjurandum wants the Gen., Dat., and Abl. Plur.
4. The parts of paterfamilias are pāter of the 3d Decl. and familias (42. 3), the old Gen. of familia, of the 1st. Sometimes, though rarely, the Gen. familiārum is used in the plural : patresfamiliārum for patresfamilias.

IRREGULAR NOUNS.

127. Irregular nouns may be divided into four classes.

I. INDECLINABLE NOUNS have but one form for all cases

II. DEFECTIVE NOUNS want certain parts.

III. HETEROCLITES (heteroclita<sup>1</sup>) are partly of one declension and partly of another.

IV. HETEROGENEOUS NOUNS (heterogenea<sup>2</sup>) are partly of one gender and partly of another.

I. INDECLINABLE NOUNS.

128. The Latin has but few indeclinable nouns.

1. The principal examples are :

1) Fas, right ; nēfas, wrong ; instar, equality ; māne, morning ; nihil nothing ; pondo, pound ; sexcus, sex.

2) The letters of the alphabet, a, b, c, alpha, beta, etc.

3) Foreign words : Jacob, Illeborri ; though these are often declined :

Jacobus, Jacobī; Illeberis, Illeberri. Jesus has Jesum in the accusative and Jesu in the other cases.

2. Some indeclinable nouns are also defective: māne wants the Gen. and Dat.; fas and nēfus, the Gen., Dat., and Abl.

II. DEFECTIVE NOUNS.

129. Nouns may be defective in Number, in Case, or in both Number and Case.

I. Nouns defective in Number.

130. Plural wanting.—Many nouns from the nature of their signification want the plural: Rōma, Rome; justitia, justice; aurum, gold.

1. The principal nouns of this class are:

1) Proper names (except those used only in the plural): Cicero, Rōma.

2) Abstract Nouns: fides, faith; justitia, justice.

3) Names of materials: aurum, gold; ferrum, iron.

4) A few others: meridies, midday; specimen, example; supellex, furniture; ver, spring; vesp̄ra, evening, etc.

2. Proper names admit the plural to designate families, classes; names of materials, to designate pieces of the material or articles made of it; and abstract nouns, to designate instances, or kinds, of the quality; Scipiones, the Scipios; aera, vessels of copper; avarities, instances of avarice; odia, hatreds.

In the poets, the plur. of abstracts occurs in the sense of the sing.

131. Singular wanting.—Many nouns want the singular.

1. The most important of these are:

1) Certain personal appellatives applicable to classes: majores, forefathers; posteri, descendants; gemini, twins; liberi, children, etc.

2) Many names of cities: Athēnae, Athens; Thēbae, Thebes; Delphi, Delphi; Argi, Argos, though the Sing. Argos occurs in Nom. and Acc.

3) Many names of festivals: Bacchanalia, Olympia, Saturnalia.

4) Many names not included in these classes. Such are:

Arma, arms; divitiae, riches; exsequiae, funeral rites; evoriae, spoils; idus, ides; indutiae, truce; insidiae, ambuscade; mānes, shades of the dead; minae, threats; moenia, walls; munia, duties; nuptiae, nuptials; reliquiae, remains.

2. An individual member of a class designated by these plurals may be denoted by unus ex with the plural: unus ex liberis, one of the children, or a child.

3. The plural in names of cities may have reference to the several parts of the city, especially as ancient cities were often made up of separate villages. So in the names of festivals, the plural may refer to the various games and exercises which together constituted the festival.

132. Plural with Change of Meaning.—Some nouns have one signification in the singular and another in the plural: Thus

SINGULAR.	PLURAL.
Aedes , temple;	aedes , (1) temples, (2) a house. <sup>1</sup>
Aqua , water;	aquae , (1) waters, (2) mineral springs

<sup>1</sup> Aedes and some other words in this list, it will be observed, have in the plural two significations, one corresponding to that of the singular, and the other distinct from it.

Auxilium, help ;	auxilia, auxiliaries .
Bonum, a good thing, blessing ;	bona, riches, goods .
Carcer, prison, barrier ;	carceres, barriers of a race-course .
Castrum, castle, hut ;	castra, camp .

Sal, salt ;	säles, witty sayings .

II. Nouns defective in Case.

133. Some nouns are defective in case. Thus

1. Some want the nominative, dative, and vocative singular: (Ops), öpis, help; (vix or vicis), vicis, change.
2. Some want the nominative and vocative singular: (Daps), däpis, food; (ditio), ditionis, sway; (frux), frügis, fruit; (internecio), internecionis, destruction; (pollis), pollinis, flour.
3. Some want the genitive, dative, and ablative plural: thus most nouns of the fifth declension. See 119. 5.
So also many neuters: far, fel, mel, pus, rus, tus; especially Greek neuters in os, which want these cases in the singular also: ëpos, mëlos.
4. Some want the genitive plural: thus many nouns otherwise entire, especially monosyllables: nex, pax, pix; cor, cos, ros; sal, sol, lux.

III. Nouns defective in Number and Case.

134. Some nouns want one entire number and certain cases of the other: fors, chance, has only fors and forte; lues, pestilence, has lues, luem, lue. Many verbal nouns in u have only the ablative singular: jussu, by order; mandatu, by command; rogatu, by request.

III. HETEROCLITES.—TWO CLASSES.

I. Heteroclites with one form in the nominative singular.

II. Heteroclites with different forms in the nominative singular.

Class First.

135. Of DECLENSIONS II. and IV. are a few nouns in us.
See 117.

136. Of DECLENSIONS II. and III. are

1. Jugĕrum, an acre; regularly of the second Decl., except in the Gen. Plur., which is jugĕrum, according to the third. Other forms of the third are rare.

2. Vas, a vessel; of the third Decl. in the Sing., and of the second in the Plur.: vas, vasis; plural, vāsa, vasōrum.

3. Plural names of festivals in alia: Bacchanalia, Saturnalia; which are regularly of the third Decl., but sometimes form the Gen. Plur. in ōrum of the second. Ancile, a shield, and a few other words also occur.

137. Of DECLENSIONS III. and V. are

1. Requies, rest; which is regularly of the third Decl., but also takes the forms requiem and requie of the fifth.

2. Fames, hunger; regularly of the third Decl., except in the ablative, famē, of the fifth (not famē, of the third).

138. FORMS IN ia AND ies.—Many words of four syllables have one form in ia of Decl. I., and one in ies of Decl. V.: barbaria, barbaries, barbarism; duritia, durities, hardness; luxuria, luxuries, luxury; materia, materies, material; mollitia, mollities, softness.

139. FORMS IN us AND um.—Many nouns derived from verbs have one form in us of Decl. IV., and one in um of Decl. II.: conātus, conātum, an attempt; eventus, eventum, event; praetextus, praetextum, pretext.

140. Many other Examples might be added. Many words which have but one approved form in prose, admit another in poetry: juventus (ūtis), youth; poetic, juventa (ae): senectus (ūtis), old age; poetic, senecta (ae): paupertas (ātis), poverty; poetic, pauperies (ei).

IV. HETEROGENEOUS NOUNS.—TWO CLASSES.

I. With one form in the nominative singular.

II. With different forms in the nominative singular.

Class First.

141. MASOULINE AND NEUTER.—Some masculines take in the plural an additional form of the neuter gender:

Jocus, a jest; plur., joci and joca.

Locus, place; “ loci, topics, passages in books, places; loca, places.

Sibilus, hissing; “ sibili; poetic, sibila.

142. FEMININE AND NEUTER.—Some feminines take in the plural an additional form of the neuter gender:

Carbāsus, linen; plural, carbasi and carbasa, sails, &c.
margarita, pearl; " margaritae and margarita, ōrum.
ostrea, oyster; " ostreae and ostrea, ōrum.

143. NEUTER AND MASCULINE OR FEMININE.—Some neuters take in the plural a different gender; thus

1. Some neuters become masculine in the plural:
Coelum, heaven; plural, coeli.
2. Some neuters generally become masculine in the plural, but sometimes remain neuter:
Frēnum, bridle; plur., freni, sometimes frena.
rastrum, rake; " rastrī, " rastra.
3. Some neuters become feminine in the plural:
Epulum, public feast; plur., epulae, meal, banquet.

Class Second.

144. FORMS IN us AND um.—Some nouns of the second declension have one form in us masculine and one in um neuter: clipeus, clipeum, shield; commentarius, commentarium, commentary; cubitus, cubitum, cubit; jugulus, jugulum, throat.

145. HETEROGENEOUS HETEROCLITES.—Some heteroclites are also heterogeneous: conātus (us), conātum (i), effort; menda (ae), mendum (i), fault.

CHAPTER II.

ADJECTIVES.

146. The adjective is that part of speech which is used to qualify nouns: bōnus, good; magnus, great.

The form of the adjective in Latin depends in part upon the gender of the noun which it qualifies; bonus puer, a good boy; bona puella, a good girl; bonum tectum, a good house. Thus bonus is the form of the adjective when used with masculine nouns, bona with feminine, and bonum with neuter.

147. Some adjectives are partly of the first declension and partly of the second, while all the rest are entirely of the third declension.

I. FIRST AND SECOND DECLENSIONS.

148. Adjectives of this class have in the nominative singular the endings:

Masc., Dec. II.

Fem., Dec. I.

Neut., Dec. II.

us<sup>1</sup>—,a,um.

They are declined as follows :

Bonus, good.

Gen.	aegrōrŭm	aegrărŭm	aegrōrŭm

Voc.	aegrĭ	aegrac	aegră
Abl.	aegrĭs	aegrĭs	aegrĭs .

1. Bonus is declined in the Masc. like servus of Decl. II. (45), in the Fem. like mensa of Decl. I. (42), and in the Neut. like templum of Decl. II. (45).

2. Liber differs in declension from bonus only in dropping us and e in the Nom. and Voc. (45. 3, 1). Aeger differs from liber only in dropping e before r (45. 3, 2).

3. Most adjectives in er are declined like aeger, but the following in er and ur are declined like liber :

1) Asper, rough; lacer, torn; miser, wretched; prosper, prosperous; tener, tender; but asper sometimes drops the e, and dexter, right, sometimes retains it: dexter, dextera or dextra.

2) Satur, sated; satur, satura, saturum.

3) Compounds in fer and ger: mortifer, deadly; oliger, winged.

149. Irregularities.—These nine adjectives have in the singular iŭs in the genitive and ĭ in the dative :

Alius, another; nullus, no one; sŭlus, alone; tŏtus, whole; ullus, any; ŭnus, one; alter, -tĕra, -tĕrum, the other; ŭter, -tra, -trum, which (of two); neuter, -tra, -trum, neither.

1. The Regular Forms occasionally occur in some of these adjectives: alĭae, nullĭ, for alĭus, nullĭus; altĕro, altĕrae, for alteri.

2. I in iŭs in poetry is sometimes short; generally so in alteriŭs.

3. Alius has aliud for aliŭm in the neuter, and shortens the genitive aliŭs into aliŭs.

4. Like uter are declined its compounds: uterque, utervis, uterlibet, utercunq̃ue. In alterŭter sometimes both parts are declined, as alteriŭs utriŭs; and sometimes only the latter, as alterutriŭs.

II. ADJECTIVES OF THE THIRD DECLENSION.

150. Adjectives of the third declension may be divided into three classes :

I. Those which have in the nominative singular three different forms—one for each gender.

II. Those which have two forms—the masculine and feminine being the same.

III. Those which have but one form—the same for all genders.

151. I. ADJECTIVES OF THREE ENDINGS of this declension have in the nominative singular :

Masc.	Fem.	Neut.
er,	is,	e.

They are declined as follows :

Acer, sharp.

SINGULAR.

Masc.	Fem.	Neut.
N. acēr	acēis	acēē
G. acēis	acēis	acēis
D. acēī	acēī	acēī
A. acēēm	acēēm	acēē
V. acēr	acēis	acēē
A. acēī	acēī	acēī;

PLURAL.

N. acēs	acēs	acīā
G. acīām	acīām	acīām
D. acībūs	acībūs	acībūs
A. acēs	acēs	acīā
V. acēs	acēs	acīā
A. acībūs	acībūs	acībūs.

1. Like Acer are declined :

1) Alācer, lively; campester, level; celēber, famous; cēler,<sup>1</sup> swift; equester, equestrian; paluster, marshy; pedester, pedestrian; pūter, putrid; salūber, healthful; silvester, woody; terrester, terrestrial; volūcer, winged.

2) Adjectives in er designating the months: Octōber, bris.<sup>2</sup>

2. The Masculine in is, like the Fem., also occurs: salūbris, silvestris, for salūber, silvester.

3. These forms in er are analogous to those in er (whether nouns or adjectives) of Dec. II. in dropping the ending in the Nom. and Voc. Sing. and in inserting e before r. Thus ager, originally agrus, drops us, giving agr, and then inserts e to facilitate pronunciation, giving ager; so acer, originally aeris, drops is and inserts e; acr, acer.

152. II. ADJECTIVES OF TWO ENDINGS have in the nominative singular:

M. and F.	Neut.
1. is	e ,	for positives.
2. ior (or)	ius (us) ,	for comparatives.

They are declined as follows:

Tristis, sad.

Tristior, more sad.<sup>1</sup>

SINGULAR.

M. and F.	Neut.	M. and F.	Neut.
N. trist is	trist e	N. tristior	tristi us

A. trist ibūs	tristi būs .	A. tristior ibūs	tristior ibūs .

153. III. ADJECTIVES OF ONE ENDING.—All other adjectives have but one form in the nominative singular for all genders. They generally end in s or x, sometimes in i or r, and are declined in the main like nouns of the same endings. The following are examples:

FORMATION OF CASES OF ADJECTIVES OF THE THIRD DECLENSION.

154. Adjectives of the third declension form their cases in general like nouns of the same endings, but present the following peculiarities:

I. Genitive Singular.

155. This presents a few irregularities, but in general the same as in nouns (58-83). Thus

- The following in ēs form the genitive not in the regular ītis, but in
  - ētis*:—hēbes, indigēs, praepe, tēres.
  - īdis*:—dīces, rēses.
- The following in ēs form it in
  - ēdis*:—compounds of pes, foot, as, alīpes, bīpes, trīpes.
  - ēris*:—pābes, impābes (sometimes is).
  - ētis*:—iniquēs, locūples.
- Adjectives in ceps form it in
  - cīpis*, if compounded of capio: princeps, principis.
  - cīpitīs*, if compounded of cāput: anceps, ancipitīs.
- Four in or form it in ōris:—mēnor, immēnor, bicorpor, tricorpor.
- Other examples.—(1) Compos and impos form it in ōtis.—(2) Compounds in cors from cor have cordis: concors, discors.—(3) Caelus has caelūbis; dis, ditis; intercus, intercūtis; praeceor, praececis; vētus, vetēris.

II. Ablative Singular.

156. I. ENDING:—ē or ī, in comparatives and adjectives of one ending: tristiōrē or rī; audaciō or cī.

II. “ ī, in other adjectives: acri, tristī.

- Comparatives generally have e, and adjectives of one ending, generally i; but participles in ans and ens have only e, except when used adjectively.

2. The Ablative in e in many adjectives of one ending cannot be verified from ancient authors.—The ablative in i is in general preferable.

3. Some have only e in general use.—(1) Pauper, paupere, poor; pābes, pubere, mature;—(2) those in es, G. itis or idis: āles, dīses, divcs, sospes, superstes;—(3) cadēbs, compos, impos, princeps.

4. The Ablative in e sometimes occurs in poetry in positives of more than one ending: cognomīne for cognomīnī, like named.

III. Nominative, Accusative and Vocative Plural of Neuters.

157. I. ENDING:—iā in positives: acriā, tristiā.

II. “ ā in comparatives: tristiōrā.

1. Vetus, old, has vetērā; complāres, several, has compluriā or complārā.

2. The neuter plural is wanting in most adjectives of one ending, except those in as, us, rs, az, iz, oz, and numerals in plex.

IV. Genitive Plural.

158. I. ENDING: iūm in positives: acriūm, tristiūm.

II. “ ūm in comparatives: tristiōrūm.

1. Some adjectives want the genitive plural.

2. Plāres, more, and complāres, several, have iūm.

3. The following have um:

- 1) Adjectives of one ending with only e in the ablative singular (156.
- 2) Those with the genitive in ēris, ōris, āris: vētus, vetērum, old; mēmōr, memōrum, mindful; cicur, cicūrum, tame.
- 3) Those in ceps: anceps, ancepitum, doubtful.
- 4) Those compounded with substantives which have um: inops (ops, ōpum), inōpum, helpless.

IRREGULAR ADJECTIVES.

159. Irregular adjectives may be

I. Indeclinable: frūgi, frugal, good; nēquam, worthless; mille, thousand.

II. Defective: (ceterus) cetēra, cetērum, the other, the rest; (sons) sontis, guilty.

III. Heteroclitics.—Many adjectives have two distinct forms, one in us, a, um, of the first and second declensions, and one in is and e of the third: lūlarus and lūlaris, joyful; exanimus and exanimis, lifeless.

1. The Latin has but few indeclinable adjectives, except numerals (175).

2. Some adjectives want

1) The nominative singular masculine: (ceterus) cetēra, cetērum, the other; (ludicr) ludicra, ludicrum, sportive.

2) One or more cases in full: (seminex) seminēcis, half dead, defective in the nominative; exspes, hopeless, only used in the nominative; eclex, lawless, only in nominative and accusative; pernox, through the night, only in nominative and ablative.

3) The neuter gender or genitive plural. See 157. 2 and 158. 1.

4) The singular: pauci, a few; plerique, the most; the latter wants also the genitive plural, supplied by plurimi. The singular of plerique occurs, but is very rare. In good prose exterus wants the singular; and inferus, superus, and posterus are used in the singular only in particular expressions: mare inferum, the lower sea, i. e., south of Italy; mare superum, the upper sea, i. e., north of Italy, the Adriatic; posterus in expressions of time: diem postërum, the following day; nocte postëra, on the following night.

3. In most heteroclites only one form is in common use in classic prose; in a few, as in the examples under 159. III., both forms are approved.

COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES.

160. Adjectives have three forms to denote different degrees of quality. They are usually called the Positive, the Comparative, and the Superlative degree: altus, altior, altissimus, high, higher, highest.

Comparatives and superlatives are sometimes best rendered into English by too and very, instead of more and most: doctus, learned; doctior, more learned, or too learned; doctissimus, most learned, or very learned.

161. The Latin, like the English, has two modes of comparison:

I. Terminational Comparison—by endings.

II. Adverbial Comparison—by adverbs.

I. TERMINATIONAL COMPARISON.

162. Adjectives are regularly compared by adding to the stem of the positive the endings:

Comparative.			Superlative.
M.	F.	N.	M.	F.	N.
iôr,	iôr,	iûs.	issimûs,	issimă,	issimûm.

EXAMPLES.

Altus, altior, altissimus: high, higher, highest.

Levis, levior, levissimus: light, lighter, lightest.

163. Irregular Superlatives.—Many adjectives with regular comparatives have irregular superlatives. Thus

1. Adjectives in er add rĭmus to the positive: acer, acrior, acerrĭmus, sharp.

Vetus has veterĭmus; matŭrus, both maturrĭmus and maturrissĭmus; dexter, dextrĭmus.

2. Six in ilis add lĭmus to the stem:

Facilis, difficilis; easy, difficult.
similis, dissimilis; like, unlike.
gracilis, humilis; slender, low;

thus: facilis, facilior, facillĭmus. Imbecillis has imbecillĭmus, but imbecillus is regular.

3. Four in rus have two irregular superlatives:

Extĕrus, exterior, extrĕmus and extĭmus, outward.
inferus, inferior, infĭmus and imĭus, lower.
superus, superior, suprĕmus and summus, upper.
postĕrus, posterior, postrĕmus and postĭmus, next.

164. Compounds in dicus, ficus, and velus are compared with the endings entior and entissĭmus, as if from forms in ens:

Maledicĕus, maledicentior, maledicentissĭmus, slandorous.
munificĕus, munificentior, munificentissĭmus, liberal.
benevolĕus, benevolentior, benevolentissĭmus, benevolent.

1. Egĕnus and providĕus (needy and prudent), form the comparative and superlative from egĕns and providĕns: hence egentior, egentissĭmus, etc.

2. Mirificĕissĭmus occurs as the superlative of mirificĕus, wonderful.

3. Many adjectives in dicus and ficus want the comparative and superlative.

165. Special Irregularities of Comparison.

Bŏnus, melior, optĭmus, good.
mĕlus, pĕjor, pessĭmus, bad.
magnus, mĕjor, maxĭmus, great.
parvus, mĭnor, minĭmus, small.
multus, plus, plurĭmus, much.

1. Plus is neuter, and has in the singular only N. and A. plus, and G. plŭris. In the plural it has N. and A. plŭres (m. and f.), plŭra (n.), G. plurĭum, D. and A. plurĭbus.

2. Dives, frŭgi, nequam:

Dĭves, { divitior, divitissĭmus, } rich.
{ dĭtior, dĭtissĭmus, } frŭgi, frugalior, frugalissĭmus, frugal. nĕquam, nequior, nequissĭmus, worthless.

Defective Terminational Comparison.

166. Positive Wanting:

Cĭterior ,	cĭtĭmus ,	nearer .	prior ,	prĭmus ,	former .
dĕterior ,	dĕterrĭmus ,	worse .	proprior ,	proxĭmus ,	nearer .
interior ,	intĭmus ,	inner .	ulterior ,	ultĭmus ,	farther . <sup>1</sup>
ocior ,	ocĭssĭmus ,	swifter .

167. Comparative Wanting.—The comparative is wanting

1. In a few participles used adjectively: meritus, meritissimus, deserving.

2. In these adjectives:

Diversus,	diversissimus,	different.	nōvus,	novissimus,	new. falsus,	falsissimus,	false.	sācer,	sacerrius,	sacred.
inclŭtus,	inclŭtissimus,	renowned.	vētus,	veterrimus,	old.

168. Superlative Wanting.—The superlative is wanting

1. In most verbals in ilis and bilis: docilis, docilior, docile; optabilis, optabilior, desirable. But of these

Some are compared in full: amabilis, facilis, fertilis, mobilis, nobilis, utilis, etc.

2. In many adjectives in ālis and ilis: capitalis, capitalior, capital; civilis, civilior, civil.

3. Three adjectives supply the superlative thus:

Adolescens,	adulescentior,	minimus nātū, <sup>1</sup>	young.
juvĕnis,	junior,	minimus nātū,	young.

4. A few other adjectives want the superlative: agrestis, alĭcer, cæcus, diuturnus, infinitus, longinquus, opĭmus, proclivis, propinquus, salutāris, supĭmus, surdus, terres, vulgāris.

169. Both Comparative and Superlative Wanting.—Many adjectives have no terminational comparison:

1. Many from the nature of their signification, admitting no comparison; especially such as denote material, possession, or the relations of place and time: aureus, golden; adamantĭnus, adamantine; paternus, paternal; Romānus, Roman; hesternus, of yesterday; æstivus, of summer; hibernus, of winter.

2. Many others.—Thus

1) Those in us preceded by a vowel, except those in quus: idoneus, suitable; noxius, hurtful. But a few in us have the superlative: assiduus, strenuus. Other exceptions occur, especially in the poets: pĭus, pĭssimus; egregius, egregĭssimus.

2) Many derivatives and compounds, especially (1) derivatives in ālis, ilis, ulus, icus, ivus, ivus: mortalis (mors), mortal; (2) compounds of verbs or of nouns: particeps (capio), sharing; magnanimus (animus), magnanimous.

3) Also albus, almus, cadācus, fĕrus, fessus, gnārus, lassus, mĭrus, mutĭlus, nāvus, nefastus, rūdis, etc.

II.—ADVERBIAL COMPARISON.

170. Adjectives which want the terminational comparison, form the comparative and superlative, when their signification requires it, by prefixing the adverbs māgis, more, and maxĭme, most, to the positive:

<sup>1</sup> Smallest or youngest in age; greatest or eldest in age. Nātū is sometimes omitted.

Arduus, māgis arduus, maxīme arduus, arduous.

1. Other adverbs are sometimes used with the positive to denote different degrees of the quality: admodum, valde, opido, very; imprimis, apprime, in the highest degree; minus, less; minime, least: valde magna, very great. Per and prae in composition with adjectives have the force of very; perdifficilis, very difficult; praeclārus, very illustrious.

2. Strengthening Particles are sometimes used.—(1) With the comparative: etiam, even, multo, longe, much, far: etiam diligentior, even more diligent; multo diligentior, much more diligent.—(2) With the superlative: multo, longe, much, by far; quam, as possible: multo or longe diligentissimus, by far the most diligent; quam diligentissimus, as diligent as possible.

NUMERALS.

171. Numerals comprise numeral adjectives and numeral adverbs.

I. NUMERAL ADJECTIVES.

172. Numeral adjectives comprise three principal classes:

1. CARDINAL NUMBERS: ūnus, one; duo, two.
2. ORDINAL NUMBERS: primus, first; secundus, second.
3. DISTRIBUTIVES: singūli, one by one; bini, two by two, two each, two apiece.

173. To these may be added

1. MULTIPLICATIVES.—These are adjectives in plex, G. plēis, denoting so many fold: simplex, single; duplex, double; triplex, three-fold.

2. PROPORTIONALS.—These are declined like bōnus, and denote so many times as great: duplus, twice as great; triplus, three times as great.

1,000. mille,	millesimus,	singŭla millia.
2,000. duo millia, <sup>5</sup>	bis millesimus,	biua millia.

<sup>2</sup> Literally two from twenty, one from twenty, by subtraction; but these numbers may be expressed by addition: decem et octo; decem et novem; so 28, 29; 38, 39, etc., either by subtraction from trīginta, etc., or by addition to viginti; duodetrīginta or octo et viginti.

<sup>3</sup> If the tens precede the units, et is omitted, otherwise it is generally used. So in English cardinals, twenty-one, one and twenty.

CARDINALS.	ORDINALS.	DISTRIBUTIVES.
10,000. dĕcem millia ,	decies millesĭmus ,	dĕna millia .
100,000. centum millia ,	centies millesĭmus ,	centĕna millia .
1,000,000. decies centĕna mil- lia , <sup>1</sup>	decies centies mille- sĭmus ,	decies centĕna millia .

1. Ordinals with Pars, part, expressed or understood, may be used to express fractions: tertia pars, a third part, a third; quarta pars, a fourth; duae tertiae, two thirds.

2. Distributives are used

1) To show the number of objects taken at a time, often best rendered by adding to the cardinal each or apiece; ternos denarios accepĕrant, they received each three denarii, or three apiece. Hence

2) To express Multiplication: decies centĕna millia, ten times a hundred thousand, a million.

3) Instead of Cardinals, with nouns plural in form, but singular in sense: ĕna castra, two camps. Here for singŭli and terni, ani and trini are used: unac littĕrae, one letter; trinae littĕrae, three letters.

4) Sometimes in reference to objects spoken of in pairs: ĕni scĭphi, a pair of goblets; and in the poets with the force of cardinals: ĕna ĥustilia, two spears.

3. Poets use numeral adverbs (181) very freely in compounding numbers: ĕis sex, for duodĕcim; ĕis septem, for quattuordĕcim.

4. Sexcenti and mille are sometimes used indefinitely for any large number, as one thousand is in English.

DECLENSION OF NUMERAL ADJECTIVES.

175. On the declension of cardinals observe

1. That the units, unus, duo, and tres, are declined.
2. That the other units, all the tens, and centum are indeclinable.
3. That the hundreds are declined.
4. That mille is sometimes declined.

176. The first three cardinals are declined as follows:

1. Unus, one.

	Singular.			Plural.
N.	unŭs ,	unŭ ,	unŭm ,	unĭ ,	unae ,	unŭ ,
G.	unŭs ,	unŭs ,	unŭs ,	unŭrŭm ,	unŭrŭm ,	unŭrŭm ,
D.	unĭ ,	unĭ ,	unĭ ,	unĭs ,	unĭs ,	unĭs ,
A.	unŭm ,	unŭm ,	unŭm ,	unŭs ,	unŭs ,	unŭ ,
V.	unĕ ,	unŭ ,	unŭm ,
A.	unŭ ,	unŭ ,	unŭ ;	unĭs ,	unĭs ,	unĭs .

2. Duo, two.

3. Tres, three.

N.	duŭ ,	duac ,	duŭ ,	trĕs , m. and f.	triŭ , n.
G.	duŭrŭm ,	duŭrŭm ,	duŭrŭm , <sup>2</sup>	triŭm ,	triŭm ,

<sup>1</sup> Literally ten times a hundred thousand; the table might be carried up to any desired number by using the proper numeral adverb with centĕna millia: centies centĕna millia, 10,000,000; sometimes in such combinations centĕna millia is understood and only the adverb is expressed, and sometimes centum millia is used.

<sup>2</sup> Duŭrŭm and duŭrŭm are sometimes shortened to duum.

D. duōbūs, duābūs, duōbūs,	tribūs,	tribūs,
A. duōs, duō, duās, duō,	trēs,	triā,
A. duōbūs, duābūs, duōbūs.	tribūs,	tribūs.

1. The plural of unus in the sense of alone may be used with any noun; uni Ubii, the Ubii alone; but in the strict numeral sense of one, it is used only with such nouns as, though plural in form, are singular in sense: una castra, one camp; unae litterae, one letter.

2. Like duo is declined ambo, both.

3. Multi, many, and plurimi, very many, are indefinite numerals, and as such generally want the sing. But in the poets the sing. occurs in the sense of many a: multa hostia, many a victim.

177. Hundreds, ducenti, trecenti, etc., are declined like the plural of bonus: ducenti, ae, a.

178. Mille is used both as an adjective and as a substantive. As an adjective it is indeclinable; as a substantive it is used in the singular only in the nominative and accusative, but in the plural it is declined like the plural of māre (50): millia, millium, millibus.

With the substantive Mille, the name of the objects enumerated is generally in the genitive: mille hominum, a thousand men (of men); but it is in the same case as mille, if a declined numeral intervenes: tria millia trecenti milites, three thousand three hundred soldiers.

179. Ordinals are declined like bonus and distributives like the plural of bonus, but the latter often have um for orum in the genitive; binum for binorum.

180. NUMERAL SYMBOLS.

ARABIC.	ROMAN.	ARABIC.	ROMAN.	ARABIC.	ROMAN.
1.	I.	16.	XVI.	101.	CI.
2.	II.	17.	XVII.	200.	CC.
3.	III.	18.	XVIII.	300.	CCC.
4.	IV.	19.	XIX.	400.	CCCC.
5.	V.	20.	XX.	500.	IO, or D.
6.	VI.	21.	XXI.	600.	DC.
7.	VII.	22.	XXII.	700.	DCC.
8.	VIII.	30.	XXX.	800.	DCCC.
9.	IX.	40.	XL.	900.	DCCCC.
10.	X.	50.	L.	1,000.	CIO, or M.
11.	XI.	60.	LX.	2,000.	CIOCIO, or MM.
12.	XII.	70.	LXX.	10,000.	CCCCIO.
13.	XIII.	80.	LXXX.	100,000.	CCCCIOOO.
14.	XIV.	90.	XC.	1,000,000.	CCCCIOOOO.
15.	XV.	100.	C.

1. Latin Numeral Symbols are combinations of: I = 1; V = 5; X = 10; L = 50; C = 100; IO or D = 500; CIO or M = 1,000.<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup>Thousands are sometimes denoted by a line over the symbol:  $\overline{II}$  = 2,000;  $\overline{V}$  = 5,000.

2. In the Combination of these symbols, except IO, observe

1) That the repetition of a symbol doubles the value: II = 2; XX = 20; CC = 200.

2) That any symbol standing before one of greater value, subtracts its own value, but that after one of greater value, it adds its own value: V = 5; IV = 4 (5-1); VI = 6 (5+1).

3. In the Combination of IO observe

1) That each O (inverted C) after IO increases the value ten-fold: IO = 500; IOO = 500 × 10 = 5,000; IOOO = 5,000 × 10 = 50,000.

2) That these numbers are doubled by placing C the same number of times before I as O stands after it: IO = 500; CIO = 500 × 2 = 1,000; IOO = 5,000; CCIOO = 5,000 × 2 = 10,000.

3) That smaller symbols standing after these add their value: IO = 500; IOC = 600; IOCC = 700.

II. NUMERAL ADVERBS.

181. To numerals belong also numeral adverbs. For convenience of reference we add the following table:

1. semel, once	15. { quinquiesdecies	80. oetogies
2. bis, twice	{ quindecies	90. nonagies
3. ter, three times	16. { sexiesdecies	100. centies
4. quater	{ sedecies	101. centies semel
5. quinquies	17. septiesdecies	200. ducenties
6. sexies	18. { duodevicies	300. trecenties
7. septies	{ octiesdecies	400. quadringenties
8. octies	19. { undevicies	500. quingenties
9. novies	{ noviesdecies	600. sexcenties
10. decies	20. vicies	700. septingenties
11. undecies	21. semel et vicies	800. oetingenties
12. duodecies	22. bis et vicies	900. nouingenties <sup>1</sup>
13. { terdecies	30. tricies	1,000. millies
{ tredecies	40. quadrages	2,000. bis millies
14. { quaterdecies	50. quingagies	10,000. decies millies
{ quattuordecies	60. sexagies	100,000. centies millies
	70. septuagies	1,000,000. millies millies.

1. In Compound<sup>s</sup> of units and tens, the unit with et generally precedes, as in the table: bis et vicies; the tens however with or without et sometimes precede: vicies et bis or vicies bis, but not bis vicies.

2. Another Class of numeral adverbs in um or o is formed from the ordinals: primum, primo, for the first time, in the first place; tertium, tertio, for the third time.

CHAPTER III.

PRONOUNS.

182. THE Pronoun is that part of speech which properly supplies the place of nouns: ēgo, I; tu, thou.

183. Pronouns are divided into six classes:

1. Personal Pronouns: tu, thou.
2. Possessive Pronouns: meus, my.
3. Demonstrative Pronouns: hic, this.
4. Relative Pronouns: qui, who.
5. Interrogative Pronouns: quis, who?
6. Indefinite Pronouns: aliquis, some one.

I. PERSONAL PRONOUNS.

184. Personal Pronouns, so called because they designate the person of the noun which they represent, are ēgo, I; tu, thou; sui (Nom. not used), of himself, herself, itself.

They are declined as follows:

SINGULAR.

N. ēgō	tū
G. mei	tuī	suī
D. mihi	tibi	sibi
A. mē	tē	sē
V.	tū
A. mē ;	tē ;	sē ;

PLURAL.

N. nōs	vōs
G. nostrū }	vestrū }	suī .
nostri <sup>1</sup> }	vestri <sup>1</sup> }
D. nōbīs	vōbīs	sībī
A. nōs	vōs	sē
V.	vōs
A. nōbīs .	vōbīs .	sē .

1. Substantive Pronouns.—Personal pronouns are also called Substantive pronouns, because they are always used as substantives.

2. Reflexive Pronoun.—Sui, from its reflexive signification, of himself, etc., is often called the Reflexive pronoun.

3. Emphatic Forms in met occur, except in the Gen. Plur.: egōmet, I myself; mihimet, tēmet, etc. But the Nom. tu has tūte and tutēmet, for tūmet.

4. Reduplicated Forms:—ēdēdē, tētē, mēmē, for se, te, me.

5. Ancient and Rare Forms:—mi for mei; tis for tui; mī and mē for mihi; meke, mēd, and mepte for me; tēd for te.

6. Cum, when used with the ablative of these pronouns, is appended to them: meum cum, tuum.

II. POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS.

185. From Personal pronouns are formed the Possessives:

meus , my ,	noster , our ,
tuus , thy , your ,	vester , your ,
suus , his , her , its ,	suus , their .

They are declined as adjectives of the first and second declensions: meus, mea, meum; noster, nostra, nostrum; but meus has in the vocative singular masculine generally mi, sometimes meus.

1. Emphatic Forms, in pte and met occur, especially in the Abl. Sing.: suapte, suāmet.

2. The Patrials, nostras, of our country, and vestras, of your country, are also possessives. They have the genitive in ātis, and are declined as adjectives of Decl. III., but are little used.

3. Cujus and Cujas.—Cujus (a, um, whose?) and the patial cujas (ātis, of what country?) also belong to possessives, though, not like other possessives, formed from personal pronouns, but from the interrogative quis, cujus. See 188.

III. DEMONSTRATIVE PRONOUNS.

186. Demonstrative Pronouns, so called because they specify the objects to which they refer, are

Hic, ille, iste, ipse, is, idem.

They are declined as follows:

Hic, this.

Idem, the same.

Idem, compounded of is and dem, is declined like is, but shortens idem to īdem and iddem to īdem, and changes m to n before the ending dem; thus:

SINGULAR.			PLURAL.
M.	F.	N.	M.	F.	N.

1. Emphatic Forms in ce occur in the several cases of hic and sometimes in other demonstratives: hicce, haccce, hocce (also hice, haccce or haec, etc.), hujusce, hosce, hisce; harumce, harunce (m changed to n), hârunce (e dropped). Before the interrogative ne, ce becomes ci: hicine, hosine.

2. Ille and istic or isthic for ille and iste occur. They are declined alike, and are used only in certain cases. Thus

Sing., Nom. illē, illac, illōc or illūc,

Acc. illunc, illanc, illōc,

Abl. illōc, illāc, illōc;

Plur. illac, generally Neut., sometimes Fem.

3. Ancient and Rare Forms:

1) Of ILLE and ISTE: illi, illae, illi, Gen. for illius; isti, istae, isti for istius; illae and istae, Dat. Fem. for illi and isti; also forms from olus for ille: olli, olla, ollos, etc.

2) Of IPSE, compounded of is and pae (is-pae = ipse); the uncontracted forms: Acc. eumpse, eampse, Abl. eopse, eapse; with re: re capse, reapse for re ipsa, in reality; also ipsus, a, um, etc., for ipse, a, um.

3) Of IS: ei, eae, ei, Dat. for ei; iibus (ibus), eibus, iibus (ibus) for iis.

4) SYNCOPIATED FORMS, compounded of ecce or en, lo, see, and some cases of demonstratives, especially the Acc. of ille and is; ecum for ecce cum; ecum for ecce cum; eccos for ecce eos; ecillum, ecce illum, ecillam, ecce illam; ellum, en illum; ellam, en illam.

4. Demonstrative Adjectives: tālis, e, such; tantus, a, um, so great; tōt, so many; tōtus, a, um, so great. Tōt is indeclinable; the rest regular.

For tālis, the Gen. of a demonstrative with mōdi (Gen. of modus, measure, kind) is often used: hujusmōdi, ejusmōdi, of this kind, such; illiusmōdi, istiusmōdi, of that kind, such.

IV. RELATIVE PRONOUNS.

187. The Relative qui, who, so called because it relates to some noun or pronoun, expressed or understood, called its antecedent, is declined as follows:

SINGULAR.			PLURAL.
M.	F.	N.	M.	F.	N.
N. quī	quae	quōd	quī	quae	quae
G. cujūs	cujūs	cujūs	quōrūm	quārūm	quōrūm
D. cui	cui	cui	quibūs	quibūs	quibūs
A. quēm	quā	quōd	quos	quās	quae
V.
A. quō	quā	quō ;	quibūs	quibūs	quibūs .

1. Ancient and Rare Forms: quojus and quoi for cujus and cui; qui for quo, qua, quo; quis (queis) for quibus.

2. Cum, when used with the ablative of the relative, is generally appended to it: quibuscum.

3. Cujus, a, um, whose, as a possessive formed from the genitive cujus, sometimes occurs.

4. Quicumque and Quisquis, whoever, are called from their signification general relatives. Quicumque (quicumque) is declined like qui. Quisquis is rare except in the forms: quisquis, quidquid (quicquid), quodquod; but an old genitive cuieni for cujuscujus occurs.

5. Compounds resolved.—Quicumque and similar compounds are sometimes resolved and their parts separated by one or more words: qua re cunque.

6. Uter and Utercunque, which and whichever, also occur with the force of relatives.

7. Relative Adjectives: quālis, e, such as; quantus, a, um, so great; quōt, as many as; quōtus, a, um, of which number; and the double and compound forms: quālisquālis, qualiscunque; quantusquantus, quantuscunque; quotquot, quotcunque; quotuscunque.

Quotquot is indeclinable; in the other double forms both parts are declined; in the forms in cunque, of course only the first part is declined.

For Quālis the genitive of the relative with mōdi is often used: cujusmōdi (sometimes cuiusmōdi), cujuscemōdi, of what kind, such as; cujuscunquemōdi, cuiuscuiusmōdi (for cujuscujusmōdi, 4), of whatever kind.

V. INTERROGATIVE PRONOUNS.

188. Interrogative Pronouns are used in asking questions. The most important are

Quis and qui with their compounds.

Quis (who, which, what?) is generally used substantively, and is declined as follows:

SINGULAR.			PLURAL.
M.	F.	N.	M.	F.	N.
N. quis	quae	quid	quī	quae	quae
G. cuius	cujus	cujus	quōrūm	quārūm	quōrūm
D. cui	cui	cui	quibūs	quibūs	quibūs
A. quēm	quā	quid	quos	quās	quos
V.
A. quō	quā	quō;	quibūs	quibūs	quibūs.

Qui (which, what?) is generally used adjectively, and is declined like the relative qui.

1. Quis and Quem sometimes occur as feminine forms.

2. Qui as an ablative with an adverbial force in the sense of how sometimes occurs. The other ancient forms are the same as in the relative, 187. 1.

3. Compounds of quis and qui are declined like the simple pronouns: quisnam, quīnam, ecquis, etc. But ecquis has sometimes ecqua for ecquae.

4. Interrogative Adjectives: (1) Quālis, e, what? quantus, a, um, how great? quōt, how many? quōtus, a, um, of what number? uter, utra, utrum, which (of two)? See 149. (2) The Possessive interrogative, cujus, a, um, whose? and the Patrial cujas, ātis, of what country?

Cujus is defective and little used. It has the Nom. and Acc. Sing., and in the feminine also the Abl. Sing. and the Nom. and Accus. Plur.

VI. INDEFINITE PRONOUNS.

189. Indefinite Pronouns do not refer to any definite persons or things. The most important are

Quis and qui with their compounds.

190. Quis, any one, and qui, any one, any, are the same in form and declension as the interrogatives quis and qui.

1. Quis and Qui are generally used after si, nisi, ne, and num; si quis, si qui. But they also occur without such accompaniment.

2. Qua for Quae.—After si, nisi, ne, and num, the Fem. Sing. and Neut. Plur. have quae or qua: si quae, si qua.

191. From quis and qui are formed

I. The Indefinites:

aliquis, aliqua, aliquid or aliquod, some, some one.
quidam, quaedam, quiddam or quoddam, certain, certain one.

II. The General Indefinites:

quisque, quaeque, quidque<sup>2</sup> or quodque, every, every one.
quivis, quaevis, quidvis or quodvis, any one you please.
quilibet, quaelibet, quidlibet or quodlibet, any one you please.

1. Declension.—It may be remarked

1) That these compounds are generally declined like the simple quis and qui, but have in the Neut. Sing. both quod and quid, the former used adjectively, the latter substantively.

2) That aliquis has aliqua instead of aliquae in the Fem. Sing. and Neut. Plur. Aliqui for aliquis occurs.

3) That quidam generally changes m to n before d: quendam for quemdam.

4) That quisquam generally wants the Fem. and the Plur.

5) That unus prefixed to quisque does not affect its declension: unusquisque, unaquaeque, etc.

2. Other Indefinites are: alius, alter, uter, alteruter, neuter, ullus, nul-lus, nemo.

3. Other General Indefinites may be formed from uter: uterque, both, each; utervis, uterlibet, either you please.

4. Indefinite Pronominal Adjectives: qualislibet, qualelibet, of any sort; aliquantus, a, um, of some size; aliquot (indeclinable), several.

For qualislibet the Gen. of an indefinite pronoun with modi may be used: eiusdemmodi, of some kind.

CHAPTER IV.

VERBS.

192. VERBS in Latin, as in English, express existence, condition, or action: est, he is; dormit, he is sleeping; legit, he reads.

<sup>1</sup> Sometimes written respectively, quippiam and quicquam.

193. Verbs comprise two principal classes:

I. TRANSITIVE VERBS,—which admit a direct object of their action: servum verbērat, he beats the slave.

II. INTRANSITIVE VERBS,—which do not admit such an object: puer currit, the boy runs.

194. Verbs have Voice, Mood, Tense, Number, and Person.

I. VOICES.

195. There are two Voices:

I. The ACTIVE VOICE,—which represents the subject as acting or existing: pāter filium amat, the father loves his son; est, he is.

II. The PASSIVE VOICE,—which represents the subject as acted upon by some other person or thing: filius a patre amātur, the son is loved by his father.

1. Passive Wanting.—Intransitive Verbs generally have only the active voice, but are sometimes used impersonally in the passive. See 301. 3.

2. Active Wanting.—Deponent Verbs<sup>1</sup> are Passive in form, but not in sense: loquor, to speak. But see 221.

II. MOODS.

196. Moods are either Definite or Indefinite:

I. The Definite or Finite Moods make up the Finite Verb; they are:

1. The INDICATIVE MOOD,—which either asserts something as a fact or inquires after the fact: lēgit, he is reading; legitne, is he reading?

2. The SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD,—which expresses not an actual fact, but a possibility or conception, often rendered by may, can, etc.: lēgat, he may read, let him read.

3. The IMPERATIVE MOOD,—which expresses a command or an entreaty: lēge, read thou.

II. The Indefinite Moods express the meaning of the verb in the form of nouns or adjectives; they are:

<sup>1</sup> So called from depōno, to lay aside, as they dispense, in general, with the active form and the passive meaning.

1. The INFINITIVE,—which, like the English Infinitive, gives the simple meaning of the verb without any necessary reference to person or number: legere, to read.

2. The GERUND,—which gives the meaning of the verb in the form of a verbal noun of the second declension, used only in the genitive, dative, accusative, and ablative singular. It corresponds to the English participial noun in ING: amandi, of loving; amandi causa, for the sake of loving.

3. The SUPINE,—which gives the meaning of the verb in the form of a verbal noun of the fourth declension, used only in the accusative and ablative singular: amatum, to love, for loving; amatu, to be loved, in loving.

4. The PARTICIPLE,—which, like the English participle, gives the meaning of the verb in the form of an adjective.

A Latin verb may have four participles: two in the Active, the Present and Future—amans, loving; amaturus, about to love;—and two in the Passive, the Perfect and Future—amatus, loved; amandus, deserving to be loved.

III. TENSES.

197. There are six tenses:

I. THREE TENSES FOR INCOMPLETE ACTION:

1. Present: amo, I love.
2. Imperfect: amābam, I was loving.
3. Future: amābo, I shall love.

II. THREE TENSES FOR COMPLETED ACTION:

1. Perfect: amāvī, I have loved, I loved.
2. Pluperfect: amavēram, I had loved.
3. Future Perfect: amavēro, I shall have loved.

198. REMARKS ON TENSES.

1. Present Perfect and Historical Perfect.—The Latin Perfect sometimes corresponds to our Perfect with have (have loved), and is called the Present Perfect or Perfect Definite; and sometimes to our Imperfect or Past (loved), and is called the Historical Perfect or Perfect Indefinite.

2. Principal and Historical.—Tenses are also distinguished as

- 1) Principal:—Present, Present Perfect, Future, and Future Perfect.
- 2) Historical:—Imperfect, Historical Perfect, and Pluperfect.

3. Tenses Wanting.—The Subjunctive wants the Future and Future Perfect; the Imperative has only the Present and Future; the Infinitive, only the Present, Perfect, and Future.

IV. NUMBERS.

199. There are two numbers: SINGULAR and PLURAL.<sup>1</sup>

V. PERSONS.

200. There are three persons: FIRST, SECOND, and THIRD.<sup>1</sup>

CONJUGATION.

201. Regular verbs are inflected, or conjugated, in four different ways, and are accordingly divided into Four Conjugations, distinguished from each other by the

INFINITIVE ENDINGS.

Conj. I.	Conj. II.	Conj. III.	Conj. IV.
āre,	ēre,	ere,	ire.

202. Principal Parts.—Four forms of the verb,—the Present Indicative, Present Infinitive, Perfect Indicative, and Supine,—are called from their importance the Principal Parts of the verb.

203. Entire Conjugation.—In any regular verb

1. The PRESENT STEM<sup>2</sup> may be found by dropping the infinitive ending: amāre; stem, am.

2. The PRINCIPAL PARTS may be formed from this stem by means of proper endings.

3. The ENTIRE CONJUGATION of the verb through all its parts may be readily formed from these Principal Parts by means of proper endings.<sup>3</sup>

<sup>3</sup> In the Paradigms of regular verbs, the endings, both those which distinguish the Principal Parts and those which distinguish the forms derived from those parts, are separately indicated, and should be carefully noticed.

204. Sum, I am.

Sum is used as an auxiliary in the passive voice of regular verbs. Accordingly its conjugation, though quite irregular, must be given at the outset.

221. Deponent Verbs have in general the forms of the Passive Voice with the signification of the Active. But

1. They have also in the Active, the future infinitive, the participles, gerund, and supine.

2. The Future passive participle generally has the passive signification; sometimes also the perfect passive; hortandus, to be exhorted; expertus, tried.

3. The Future Infinitive of the Passive form is rare, as the Active form is generally used.

PERIPHRASTIC CONJUGATION.

227. The Latin has also two Periphrastic conjugations, formed respectively from the two regular future participles combined with the various tenses of the auxiliary sum.

228. The First or Active Periphrastic conjugation, compounded of the Future Active participle and sum, expresses an intended or future action or state: amatūrus sum, I am about to love; monitūrus sum, I am about to advise.

229. The Second or Passive Periphrastic conjugation, compounded of the Future Passive participle and sum, expresses necessity or duty: amandus sum, I must be loved.

I. ACTIVE PERIPHRASTIC CONJUGATION.

230. Amatūrus sum, I am about to love.

	INDICATIVE.	SUBJUNCTIVE.	INFINITIVE.
Pres.	āmātūrūs sūm <sup>1</sup>	āmātūrūs sīm	āmātūrūs essē.
Imp.	āmātūrūs ērām	āmātūrūs essēm
Fut.	āmātūrūs ērō
Perf.	āmātūrūs fuī	āmātūrūs fuērīm	āmātūrūs fuissē.
Plup.	āmātūrūs fuērām	āmātūrūs fuissēm
Fut. Perf.	āmātūrūs fuērō <sup>1</sup>

II. PASSIVE PERIPHRASTIC CONJUGATION.

231. Amandus sum, I must be loved.<sup>2</sup>

	INDICATIVE.	SUBJUNCTIVE.	INFINITIVE.
Pres.	āmandūs sūm	āmandūs sīm	āmandūs essē.
Imp.	āmandūs ērām	āmandūs essēm
Fut.	āmandūs ērō
Perf.	āmandūs fuī	āmandūs fuērīm	āmandūs fuissē.
Plup.	āmandūs fuērām	āmandūs fuissēm
Fut. Perf.	āmandūs fuērō

232. The Periphrastic Conjugation, in the widest sense of the term, includes all forms compounded of participles with sum: amans est, he is loving; amatūrus est, he is about to love; amatus est, he has been loved; amandus est, he is to be loved, or must be loved. But as the Pres. Part. with sum is equivalent to the Pres. Ind. (amans est = amat), and is accordingly seldom used, and as the Perf. Part. with sum is, in the strictest sense, an integral part of the regular conjugation, the term Periphrastic is generally limited to the two conjugations above given.

233. The First Periphrastic conjugation may be formed from either transitive or intransitive verbs; the Second from transitive verbs only, except in an impersonal sense. See 301. 2.

CONTRACTIONS AND PECULIARITIES IN CONJUGATION.

234. Perfects in āvi, ēvi, īvi, and the tenses derived from them, sometimes drop v and suffer contraction before s and r. Thus

A-i and a-e become ā: amavisti (amaisti), amasti; amavēram (amacram), amāram; amavisse (amaisse), amasse.

E-i and e-o become ē: nēvi (to spin), nevisti (neisti), neisti; nevērunt, (neerunt), nērunt.

I-i becomes ī: audivisti (audiisti), audisti; audivissem (audiissem), audissem.

1. Perfects in īvi sometimes drop v in any of their forms, but generally without contraction, except before s: audīvi, audīi, audīit, audīerum; audīvisti, audīistis or audīstis.

2. Perfects in ōvi.—The perfect of nosco, to know, and mōveo, to move, sometimes drops v and suffers contraction before r and s: novisti, novisti.

3. Perfects in si and xi sometimes drop ie, iss, or is: scripsisti, scripsisti; discessisse, discessisse; accessistis, accessistis.

235. Erē for ērunt, as the ending of the third Pers. Pl. of the Perf. Ind. Act., is common in the historians.

The form in ere does not drop v. In poetry ērunt occurs.

236. Re for ris in the ending of the second Pers. of the Pass. is rare in the Pres. Indic.

237. Dic, duc, fac, and fer, for dice, dūce, fūce, and fēre, are the Imperatives of dico, duco, facio, and fero, to say, lead, make, and bear.

1. Dice, dūce, and fūce occur in poetry.

2. Compounds follow the simple verbs, except those of facio which change a into i: confice.

238. Undus and undi for endus and endi occur as the endings of the Fut. Pass. Part. and of the Gerund of Conj. III. and IV.: dicundus from dico, to say; pōtiundus, from pōtio, to obtain.

239. ANCIENT AND RARE FORMS.—Various other forms, belonging in the main to the earlier Latin, occur in the poets, even of the classical period, and occasionally also in prose, to impart to the style an air of antiquity or solemnity. Thus forms in

1. ībam for īvābam, in the Imp. Ind. of Conj. IV.: scībam for scīvābam. See Imp. of eo, to go, 295.

2. ībo, ībor, for īam, īar, in the Fut. of Conj. IV.: servībo for servīam; opperībor for opperīar. See Fut. of eo, 295.

3. īm for am or em, in the Pres. Subj.: edim, edis, etc., for edam, as, etc.; duim (from duo, for do), for dem.—In sim, velim, nolim, malim (204 and 293), īm is the common ending.

4. asso, esso, and so, in the Fut. Perf., and assim, essim, and sim, in the Perf. Subj. of Conj. I. II. III.: facō (facso) for fecēro (from facio); facim for fecērim; ausim, for ausus sim (for ausērim, from audeo). Rare examples are: levasso for levavēro; prohibesso for prohibuēro; capso for cepēro; azo for egēro; jusso for jussēro; occisit for occiderit; taxis for tetigēris.

5. to and mino for tor, the former in both numbers, the latter in the singular of the Fut. Imp. Pass. and Dep.: arbitrāto, arbitramīno for arbitrātor; utunto for utuntor.

6. ier for i in the Pres. Pass. Infin.: amārier for amāri; viderier for videri.

FORMATION OF THE VARIOUS PARTS OF THE VERB.

240. PRINCIPAL PARTS.—From an inspection of the paradigms, it will be seen, that the Principal Parts are formed in the four conjugations with the following endings:

I.	o,	āre,	āvi,	ātum.
II.	1. In a few verbs:
	eo,	ēre,	ēvi,	ētum.
	2. In most verbs:
	eo,	ēre,	ui,	ītum.
III.	1. In consonant stems:
	o,	ēre,	si,	tum.
	2. In vowel stems:
	o,	ēre,	i,	tum.
IV.	io,	ire,	ivi,	ītum.

EXAMPLES.

I.	Amo,	amāre,	amāvi,	amātum,	to love.
II.	1. Deleo,	delēre,	delēvi,	delētum,	to destroy.
	2. Monco,	monēre,	monui,	monitum,	to advise.
III.	1. Carpo,	carpēre,	carpsi,	carptum,	to pluck.
	2. Acuo,	acuēre,	acui,	acūtum,	to sharpen.
IV.	Audio,	audire,	audivi,	auditum,	to hear.

241. ENTIRE CONJUGATION.—Again, from an inspection of the paradigms, it will be seen, that all the forms of any regular verb, through all the moods and tenses of both voices, arrange themselves in three distinct groups or systems of forms:

I. The PRESENT SYSTEM, with the Present Infinitive as its basis, comprises

1. The Present, Imperfect, and Future Indicative—Active and Passive.
2. The Present and Imperfect Subjunctive—Active and Passive.
3. The Imperative—Active and Passive.
4. The Present Infinitive—Active and Passive.
5. The Present Active and Future Passive Participle.
6. The Gerund.

These parts are all formed from the Present Stem, found in the Present Infinitive of the several conjugations, by dropping the endings—āre, ēre, ĕre, īre of the Active, or—ārī, ērī, ĭrī, īrī, of the Passive: amāre, present stem, AM; monēre, MON; regēre, REG; audire, AUD.

II. The PERFECT SYSTEM, with the Perfect Indicative Active as its basis, comprises in the Active voice

1. The Perfect, Pluperfect, and Future Perfect Indicative.
2. The Perfect and Pluperfect Subjunctive.
3. The Perfect Infinitive.

These parts are all formed from the Perfect Stem, found in the Perfect Indicative Active by dropping i; amāvi, perfect stem AMAV; monui, MONU.

III. The SUPINE SYSTEM, with the Supine as its basis, comprises

1. The Supines in um and u, the former of which with iri forms the Future Infinitive Passive.
2. The Future Active and Perfect Passive Participles, the former of which with esse forms the Future Active Infinitive, and the latter of which with the proper parts of the auxiliary sum forms in the Passive those tenses which in the Active belong to the Perfect System.

These parts are all formed from the Supine Stem, found in the Supine by dropping um: amatum, supine stem, AMAT; monitum, MONIT.

242. VERB STEM.—The true basis of all verbal inflections is the Verb Stem; but this is generally identical with the Present Stem. Accordingly in nearly all verbs the Present Stem is also the Verb Stem. Thus AM, the Present Stem of amo, is also its Verb Stem.

1. In a few verbs the Present Stem has assumed one or more letters not found in the Verb Stem. Thus in fundo, vinco, the Verb Stems are fud, vic, but the Present Stems are fund, vinc, strengthened by assuming n.
2. We add the following table of verbal inflections.

COMPARATIVE VIEW OF THE FOUR CONJUGATIONS.

243. The Four Conjugations, it will be seen from this table, differ from each other only in the formation of the Principal Parts and in the endings of the Present System.

244. But by a close analysis it will be found

1. That even these differences in a great measure disappear, and that the four conjugations become only varieties of one general system of conjugation.

2. That these varieties have been produced by the union of different final letters in the various stems with one general system of endings.

245. According to this analysis

1. The stems in the four conjugations end in the following letters:

I.	II.	III.	IV.

2. The general endings are

1) For Principal Parts:

o,	ĕre,	si (i), vi,	tum.
----	------	-------------	------

2) For Other Parts:—the endings given above for the third conjugation, but in the Future, bo and bor are regular endings as well as am and ar, and in the Infinitive Passive, ĕri as well as i.

3. The manner in which these endings unite with the different stems may be seen in the following

FORMATION OF PRINCIPAL PARTS.

246. The general rule for obtaining these forms has already been given (240), but as they are the basis of all verbal inflections, a fuller treatment of the subject is desirable. We notice

I. Regular Formations.

II. Irregular Formations.

I. REGULAR FORMATIONS.

247. The Principal Parts of verbs in the four conjugations are formed with the following endings:<sup>1</sup>

I.	o,	āre,	āvi,	ātum.
II.	1. In a few verbs:
	eo,	ĕre,	ĕvi,	ĕtum.
III.	2. In most verbs:
	eo,	ĕre,	ui,	ĭtum.
III.	1. In consonant stems:
	o,	ĕre,	si,	tum.
IV.	2. In vowel stems:
	o,	ĕre,	i,	tum.
	io,	ire,	īvi,	ĭtum.

1. The ENDINGS ui and itum are only shortened forms of evi and etum: thus the full forms in moneo would be, monēvi, monētum; by dropping e, we have monvi, montum; but to facilitate pronunciation, the consonant v after n is changed into its corresponding vowel u; monui (for monvi), and the two successive consonants in montum are separated by a short i; monitum (for montum).

2. ANALYSIS OF ENDINGS.—If we analyze the endings of the Perfect, we shall find that the final i is the ending of the first person, the preceding v the tense-sign of the Perfect, and the preceding vowel the characteristic of the conjugation. In the ending si, s is the tense-sign, while in the ending i the tense-sign is wanting.

3. The SUPINE ENDING is properly tum (245. 2), as the preceding vowels, ā, ē, and ī, are the characteristics of the conjugation, and i in Conj. III. is the connecting vowel. Practically, however, it is more convenient and simple to treat these vowels as a part of the endings.

Euphonic Changes in the Regular Formation.

248. Before si and tum in the Principal Parts of the Third Conjugation, certain euphonic changes take place.

I. BEFORE si OF THE PERFECT.

1. A k-sound (c, g, qu) or h<sup>1</sup> generally<sup>2</sup> unites with the s and forms x:<sup>3</sup> dūco, duxi (ducsi); rēgo, rexī (regsi); cōquo, coxi (coqusi); trāho, traxi (trahsi).

2. A t-sound (d, t) is generally dropped:<sup>4</sup> claudō, clausi (claudsi); mītto, mīsi (mittsi).

3. B is changed to p: scribo, scripsi (scribsi).

4. M is sometimes assimilated and sometimes strengthened with p: prēmo, pressi (premsi); sūmo, sumpsi (sumsi).

5. R is sometimes assimilated: gēro, gessi (gersi).

II. BEFORE tum OF THE SUPINE.

1. A k-sound (c, g, qu) or h<sup>5</sup> becomes c: rēgo, rectum (regtum); cōquo, coctum (coqutum); trāho, tractum (trahtum).

2. B becomes p, as in the perfect: scribo, scriptum (scribtum).

3. M is strengthened with p:<sup>6</sup> sūmo, sumptum (sumtum).

4. N is often dropped: vinco, victum (vinctum). See 242. 253. 2.

5. R sometimes becomes s: gēro, gestum (gertum).

<sup>5</sup> Sometimes also gu or v: exstinguo, exstinctum; vivo, victum. But v is often changed into its corresponding vowel u: solveo, solutum (solytum).

<sup>6</sup> But dropped in rumpo, ruptum (rumptum).

II. IRREGULAR FORMATIONS.

I. Present Indicative.

249. A few verbs of the Third Conjugation form the Present Indicative in io, ior, like verbs of the Fourth Conjugation. These are

1. The following with their compounds:

Căpio, to take; căpio, to desire; făcio, to make; șădio, to dig; făgio, to flee; jăcio, to throw; părio, to bear; <sup>1</sup> quătio, to shake; răpio, to seize; săpio, to be wise.

2. The compounds of the obsolete lăcio, to entice, and spēcio, to look; allicio, elicio, illicio, pellicio, etc.; aspicio, conspicio, etc.

3. The Deponent Verbs: grădior, to go; mōrior, to die; pătior, to suffer.

II. Present Infinitive.

250. Do, dăre, to give, is irregular in having ăre, instead of äre.

III. Perfect Indicative Active.

251. The Perfect presents three distinct Irregularities.

252. First Irregularity.—Formation after the Analogy of other conjugations.—A few verbs in each conjugation form the Perfect according to the analogy of one or more of the other conjugations:

Săno,	sonăre,	sonui (2d),	to sound.
Angeo,	augēre,	auxi ( augsi , 3d),	to increase.
Peto,	petēre,	petivi (4th),	to seek.
Vincio,	vincire,	vinxi ( vincsi , 3d),	to bind.

1. EXPLANATION.—Săno, it will be observed, though a verb of the first conjugation, forms its perfect in ui, after the analogy of the second; augēo, of the second, forms its perfect in si (xi = gsi) after the analogy of the third; pēto, of the third, follows the analogy of the fourth, and vincio, of the fourth, the analogy of the third. Strictly speaking, such verbs are partly of one conjugation and partly of another, but they are generally classed with the conjugation to which the infinitive belongs.

2. In the FIRST CONJUGATION, a few verbs <sup>2</sup> follow the analogy of the SECOND: dōmo, domăre, domui, to tame.

3. In the SECOND, a few <sup>2</sup> follow the analogy of the THIRD: augēo, augēre, auxi (augsi), to increase.

4. In the THIRD, a few follow the analogy of the FIRST, SECOND, or FOURTH: sterno, sternere, strāvi (1), to strew; fremo, fremere, fremui (2), to rage; peto, petivi (4), to seek.

5. In the FOURTH, a few follow the analogy of the SECOND or THIRD: aperio, aperire, aperui (2), to open; vincio, vincere, vinci (3), to bind.

253. Second Irregularity.—Stem-vowel lengthened.—A few verbs in each conjugation form the Perfect in i, but lengthen the stem-vowel:

Jūvo,	jūvāre,	jūvi,	to assist.
Videō,	vidēre,	vidi,	to see.
Edo,	edēre,	ēdi,	to eat.
Venio,	venire,	vēni,	to come.

1. VOWEL CHANGED.—The stem-vowels ā and (in compounds) i often become ē: fūcio, feci, to make; efficio, effeci, to effect.

2. M OR N DROPPED.—The Present Stem in a few of these verbs is strengthened by the insertion of M or N, which disappears in the Perfect: rumpo, rūpi (rumpi), to break; vinco, vici (vinci), to conquer. See 242. 1.

254. Third Irregularity.—Reduplication.—A few verbs of the First, Second, and Third conjugations form the Perfect in i, but reduplicate the stem:

Do,	dāre,	dēdi,	to give.
Mordeo,	mordēre,	mōmordi,	to bite.
Curro,	currēre,	cūcurri,	to run.

1. The REDUPLICATION consists of the initial consonant (or consonants) of the stem with the following vowel, or with e,—generally with the following vowel, if that vowel is e, i, o, or u, otherwise with e; see examples above.

2. VOWEL CHANGED.—The stem-vowel is often changed: cado, cecidi (for cecādi), to fall.

3. N DROPPED.—N is sometimes dropped, because it does not belong to the Verb Stem, but has been inserted in the Present: tundo, tūtudi, to beat.

4. REDUPLICATION WITH Sp OR St.—In verbs beginning with sp or st, the reduplication retains both consonants, but the stem drops the s: spondeo, spēpondi (for spospondi), to promise; sto, stēti (for stesti), to stand.

5. In COMPOUNDS the reduplication is generally dropped, but it is retained in the compounds of do, to give; sto, to stand; disco, to learn; posco, to demand; and sometimes in the compounds of curro to run; re-spondeo, re-pondi (redup. dropped), to answer; circum-do, circum-dēdi (redup. retained); circum-sto, circum-stēti, to encircle. The compounds of do which are of the third conjugation change e of the reduplication into i: ad-do, ad-dēdi (for ad-dēdi), to add.

IV. Supine.

255. The Supine presents two principal Irregularities.

256. First Irregularity.—Formation after the Analogy of other conjugations.—A few verbs in each conjugation form the Supine according to the analogy of one or more of the other conjugations:

Sōno,	sonāre,	sonui,	sonitum (2d),	to sound.
Augeo,	augēre,	auxi,	auctum (3d),	to increase.
Pctō,	petēre,	petivi,	petitum (4th),	to seek.
Vincio,	vincire,	vinxi,	vinctum (3d),	to bind.

1. In the FIRST CONJUGATION, a few verbs<sup>1</sup> follow the analogy of the SECOND or THIRD: dōmo, domāre, domui, domitum (2d), to tame; sēco, secāre, secui (2d), sectum (3d), to cut.

2. In the SECOND, a few follow the analogy of the THIRD: augeo, augēre, auxi, auctum, to increase.

3. In the THIRD, a few follow the analogy of the SECOND or FOURTH: frēmo, frēmēre, frenui, frenitum (2d), to rage; cūpio, cupere, cupivi, cupitum (4th), to desire.

4. In the FOURTH, a few follow the analogy of the THIRD: vēnio, venīre, vēni, ventum, to come.

257. Second Irregularity.—Ending Sum.—Some verbs of the Second conjugation, many in the Third, and a very few in the Fourth form the Supine in sum:

Mānco,	manēre,	mansi,	mansum,	to remain.
Claudo,	claudēre,	clausi,	clausum,	to close.
Sentio,	sentire,	sensi,	sensum,	to perceive.

1. EUPHONIC CHANGES are the same in supines in sum as in perfects in si (248. I.): claudio, clausi, clausum (248. I. 2); mergo, mersi, mersum (248. I. 1), to merge; flecto, flexi (for flectsi, 248. I. 1 and 2), flexum (for flectsum, for flectsum, 248. I. 1 and 2), to turn.

2. In the FOURTH CONJUGATION, only raucio, to be hoarse, and sentio, to perceive, with its compounds, have sum.

258. The several modes above described for the formation of the Perfect and Supine may be presented for convenience of reference in the following table:

PRINCIPAL PARTS IN COMPOUND VERBS.

259. I. Compound verbs generally form their principal parts like simple verbs:

Mōneo,	monēre,	monui,	monitum,	to advise.
Ad-mōneo,	admonēre,	admonui,	admonitum,	to admonish.

260. II. But compounds of verbs with dissyllabic supines generally change the stem-vowel in forming the principal parts:

1. When the Present of the compound has i for e of the simple verb:

1) The Perfect and Supine generally resume the e:

Rēgo,	regēre,	rexī,	rectum,	to rule.
Di-rīgo,	dirigēre,	dirēxī,	directum,	to direct.

2) But sometimes only the Supine resumes the e:

Tēneo,	tenēre,	tenui,	tentum,	to hold.
De-tīneo,	detinēre,	detinui,	detentum,	to detain.

2. When the Present of the compound has i for a of the simple verb:

1) The Perfect generally resumes the vowel of the simple perfect and the supine takes e, sometimes a:

Cāpio,	capēre,	cēpi,	captum,	to take.
Ac-cīpio,	accipēre,	accepi,	acceptum,	to accept.

2) But sometimes the Perfect retains i and the Supine takes e:

Răpio,	rapĕre,	rapui,	raptum,	to seize.
Di-ripio,	diripĕre,	diripui,	direptum,	to tear asunder.

For Reduplication in compounds, see 254. 5; other peculiarities of compounds will be noticed under the separate conjugations.

CLASSIFICATION OF VERBS

According to the Perfect-Formation.<sup>1</sup>

FIRST CONJUGATION.

CLASS I. REGULAR FORMATION.

261. Principal Parts in : o, āre, āvi, ātum.

These endings belong to most verbs of this conjugation: the following are examples:

Amo,	āmāre,	amāvi,	amātum,	to love.
Cūro,	curāre,	curāvi,	curātum,	to care for.
Dōno,	donāre,	donāvi,	donātum,	to bestow.
Hābito,	habitāre,	habitāvi,	habitātum,	to dwell.
Hōnoro,	honorāre,	honorāvi,	honorātum,	to honor.
Libĕro,	liberāre,	liberāvi,	liberātum,	to free.
Nōmīno,	nomināre,	nomināvi,	nominātum,	to name.
Pugno,	pugnāre,	pugnāvi,	pugnātum,	to fight.
Sperō,	sperāre,	sperāvi,	sperātum,	to hope.
Vōco,	vocāre,	vocāvi,	vocātum,	to call.

CLASS II. IRREGULAR FORMATION.<sup>2</sup>—Three Irregularities.

262. First Irregularity.—Perfect (and generally Supine) after the Analogy of the Second Conjugation.

Principal Parts in : o, āre, ui, ĭtum (generally).

Crĕpo,	crĕpāre,	crepui,	crepĭtum,	to creak.
Incrĕpo, āre, ui (āvi), ĭtum, (ātum); discrĕpo, āre, ui (āvi) —.
Cūbo,	cubāre,	cubui,	cubĭtum,	to recline. <sup>3</sup>
Dōmo,	domāre,	domui,	domĭtum,	to tame.
Enĕco,	enecāre,	enēcui,	enectum,	to kill. <sup>4</sup>

<sup>4</sup> The simple nĕco is regular, and even in the compound the forms in āvi and ātum occur.

Fricō,	fricāre,	fricui,	{ frictum,	to rub.
Mico,	micāre,	micui,	{ fricatūm,

Dimico, āre, āvi (ut), ātum; emico, āre, ui, ātum.

Plico,	plicāre,	{ plicui,	{ plicitūm,	to fold.
		{ plicavi,	{ plicatūm,

Duplico, multiplico, replico, and supplico are regular: āre, āvi, ātum.

Seco,	secāre,	secui,	sectum,	to cut.
-------	---------	--------	---------	---------

Participle, secutūrus.

Sono,	sonāre,	sonui,	sonitūm,	to sound.
-------	---------	--------	----------	-----------

Participle, sonatūrus. Most compounds want Sup. Resono has Perf. resonavi.

Tono,	tonāre,	tonui,	(tonitūm),	to thunder.
Veto,	vetāre,	vetui,	vetitūm,	to forbid.

1. Pōto, āre, āvi, ātum, to drink, has also pōtum in the supine.

2. The Passive Participles coenātus and jurātus (coeno, to dine, and jūro, to swear) are active in signification, having dined, etc. Pōtus, from pōto, is also sometime active.

263. Second Irregularity.—Perfect lengthens Stem-Vowel.

Principal Parts in : o, āre, i, tum.

Jūvo,	juvāre,	jūvi,	jūtum,	to assist.
-------	---------	-------	--------	------------

Participle juvatūrus, but in compounds jutūrus is also used.

Lāvo,	lavāre,	lāvi,	{ lautum,	to wash.
			{ lotum,
			{ lavātum,

In poetry this is sometimes of Conj. III.: lāvo, lavēre, lāvi, etc.

264. Third Irregularity.—Perfect Reduplicated.

Principal Parts in : o, āre, i, tum.

Do,		dēdi,	dātum,	to give.
Sto,	stā,	stēti,	stātum,	to stand.

1. In do the short i is short by exception: dābam, dābo, dārem, etc. Four compounds of do, lo, pessumdo, satisco and venundo, are conjugated like the simple verb; the rest are dissyllable and of the third Conj. (280).

2. Compounds of sto are conjugated like the simple verb, if the first part is a dissyllable, otherwise they take stēti: adsto, adstāre, adstēti, adstātum. Disto wants Perf. and Sup.

265. DEPONENT VERBS.

In this conjugation deponent verbs are entirely regular. Thus,

Cōnor,	conāri,	conātus sum,	to endeavor.
Hortor,	hortāri,	hortātus sum,	to exhort.
Miror,	mirāri,	mirātus sum,	to admire.

SECOND CONJUGATION.

CLASS I. REGULAR FORMATION.

266. Principal Parts in: { I. eo, ēre, ēvi, ētum.<sup>1</sup>
 II. eo, ēre, ui, itum.
 III. eo, ēre, ui, tum or sum.

I. eo, ēre, ēvi, ētum.

These endings belong to the following verbs:

Compleo, complēre, complēvi, completum, to fill.

So other compounds of pleo; as expleo, impleo.

Dēleo,	delēre,	delēvi,	delētum,	to destroy.
Fleo,	flēre,	flēvi,	flētum,	to weep.
Neo,	nēre,	nēvi,	nētum,	to spin.

1. Abŏleo, abolēre, abolēvi, abolitum, to destroy, is compounded of ab and oleo (not used). The other compounds of oleo generally end in esco, and are of the third conjugation. See abŏlesco, 276. II. 1.

2. Vieo, viēre, viētum, to weave, bend, is rare, except in the participle viētus.

II. eo, ēre, ui, itum.

These endings belong to most verbs of this conjugation. The following are examples:

Plāceo,	placēre,	placui,	placitum,	to please.
Tāceo,	tacēre,	tacui,	tacitum,	to be silent.

These endings, slightly irregular in the Supine, belong to the following verbs:

Perf. Part. census and censitus.—Percenseo wants Sup.; recenseo has recensum and recensitum.

Dōceo, docēre, docui, doctum, to teach.

Misceo, miscēre, miscui, { mistum, to mix.

Tēceo, tenēre, tenui, { mixtum, to hold.

Detīneo, ēre, ui, detentum; so oblīneo and retīneo; other compounds seldom have Sup.

Torreo, torrēre, torrui, tostum, to roast.

<sup>1</sup> We class ēvi and ētum, though belonging to but few verbs, with the regular formations, because they are the full and original forms from which the more common ui and itum are derived. See 247. 1.

267. SUPINE WANTING.—Many verbs, regular in the Perfect, want the Supine: the following are the most important:

Aceo, to be sour.	Mādeo, to be wet.	Sordeo, to be sordid.
Calleo, to be skilled.	Nīteo, to shine.	Splendeo, to shine.

Aveo, to covet.	Hūmeo, to be moist.	Renīdeo, to shine.

IRREGULAR VERBS.

287. A few verbs which have unusual personal endings, are called by way of preëminence Irregular or Anomalous Verbs. They are

Sum, edo, fero, volo, fio, eo, queo, and their compounds.

288. Sum, I am.

The conjugation of sum has been already given (204.); its numerous compounds—absum,<sup>1</sup> adsum, dēsum, praesum,<sup>1</sup> etc.—except possum and prōsum, are conjugated in the same way.

PLUPERFECT.

pōtuissēm, -issēs, -issēt; pōtuissēmūs, -issētīs, -issent.

IMPERATIVE.—Wanting.

INFINITIVE.

PRES. possē.
PERF. pōtuissē.

PARTICIPLE.

PRES. pōtens (as an adjective).

1. COMPOSITION.—Possum is compounded of pōtis, able, and sum, to be. The parts are sometimes separated, and then potis is indeclinable: pōtis sum, pōtis sūmus, etc.

2. IRREGULARITIES.—In possum observe

1) That potis drops is and that t final of the stem is assimilated before s: possum for potisum.

2) That f of the simple is dropped after t: potui for potfui.

3) That the Infin. posse and Subj. possem are shortened forms for potesse and potessem.

3. OLD AND RARE FORMS. See 204. 1 and 2.

290. Prōsum, I profit, is compounded of pro, for, and sum, to be. It inserts d when the simple verb begins with e; prōsum, prōdēs, prōdest, etc. Otherwise it is conjugated like sum.

291. Edo, I eat.

This verb is sometimes regular, and sometimes takes forms like those of sum which begin in es. Thus:

Edō, ēdērē, ēdī, ēsūm.

INDICATIVE.—Present.

ēdō,	ēdīs,	ēdit;	ēdīmūs,	ēditīs,	ēdunt.

2. FORMS IN IM for am occur in Pres. Subj.: ēdim, ēdis, edit, etc., for ēdām, ēdās, ēdāt, etc.

3. COMPOUNDS are conjugated like the simple verb, but comedo has in Sup. comēsūm or comestūm.

1. IRREGULARITIES.—Fero, it will be seen, has two principal irregularities:
 1) It forms its Perf. and Sup. tūli (rarely tētūli) and lātum from obsolete stems.
 2) It drops the connecting vowel e or i in certain forms of the Pres. Indic. and Infin., the Imperf. Subj. and the Imperat. It doubles r in the Pres. Infin. Pass.
 2. COMPOUNDS of fero are conjugated like the simple verb, but in a few of them the preposition suffers a euphonic change:

ab-	aufēro,	auffero,	abstūli,	ablātum.
ad-	affēro,	afferre,	attūli,	allātum.
con-	confēro,	conferre,	contūli,	collātum.
dis-	diffēro,	differre,	distūli,	dilātum.
ex-	effēro,	offerre,	extūli,	elātum.
in-	infēro,	inferre,	intūli,	illātum.
ob-	offēro,	offerre,	obtūli,	oblātum.
sub-	suffēro,	sufferre,	sustūli,	sublātum.

Sustūli and sublātum are not used in the sense of suffēro, to bear, but they supply the Perf. and Sup. of tollo, to raise. See 250.

293. Volo, I am willing.—Nolo, I am unwilling.—Malo, I prefer.

2. MEANING.—Fio means (1) to become, (2) to be made, appointed. In the second sense it is used as the passive of fucio. See 279.

1. IRREGULARITIES.—Eo is a verb of the fourth conjugation, but it forms the Sup. with a short vowel (itum) and is irregular in several parts of the present system. It admits contraction according to 234: istis for ivistis, etc.

2. PASSIVE INFINITIVE.—Eo as an intransitive verb wants the Passive, except when used impersonally in the third singular itur, ibatur, etc. (301. 3), but iri, the Pass. Infinitive, occurs as an auxiliary in the Fut. Infinitive. Pass. of the regular conjugations: amatum iri, etc.

3. COMPOUNDS OF eo are generally conjugated like eo, but shorten iri into ii.—Veneo (venum eo) has sometimes veniebam for venibam. Many compounds want the supine, and a few admit in the Fut. a rare form in eam, iēs, iēt.

Transitive compounds have also the Passive: adeo, to approach, adeor, adiris, aditur, etc.

Ambio is regular, like audio, though ambibam for ambiebam occurs, 296. Queo, I am able. Nequeo, I am unable.

Queo, quire, quivi, quītum, and Nequeo, nequire, nequivi (ii), nequitum, are conjugated like eo, but they want the Imperative and Gerund, and are rare, except in the Present tense.<sup>1</sup>

DEFECTIVE VERBS.

FUT.	coeptūrūs.	ōsūrūs.

1. PASSIVE FORM.—With passive infinitives coepi generally takes the passive form: coeptus sum, eram, etc. The Part. coeptus is passive in sense.

2. PRESENT IN SENSE.—Memini and odi are present in sense; hence in the Pluperf. and Fut. Perf. they have the sense of the Imperf. and Fut.—Nōvi, I know, Perf. of nosco, to learn, and consuevi, I am wont, Perf. of consuesco, to accustom one's self, are also present in sense.

	cēdō,	cettē,	—	tell me, give me.
	āgō, <sup>7</sup>	āgitē,	—	come.
	āpāgē,	—	—	begone.

2. ISOLATED FORMS.

IND. Pres. ōvāt.	PART. ōvans,		he rejoices.
IND. Pres. quacsō, quacsūmus, <sup>2</sup>			I pray.

IMPERSONAL VERBS.

298. Impersonal Verbs never admit a personal subject. They correspond to the English Impersonal with it: licet, it is lawful, oportet, it behooves.<sup>3</sup> They are conjugated like other verbs, but are used only in the third person singular of the Indicative and Subjunctive and in the Present and Perfect Infinitive.

299. Strictly Impersonal are only:

Dēcēt, dēcūit,	it becomes. <sup>4</sup>	Pīgēt, { pīgūit,	it grieves.
Libēt, { libūit,	it pleases. <sup>4</sup>	Poenitēt, poenituit,	it causes re-
Libēt, { libitūm est,		gret; poenitet me,	I repent.
Licēt, { licūit,	it is lawful. <sup>4</sup>	Pūdēt, { pūduīt,	it shames.
Licēt, { licitūm est,		Pūdēt, { puditūm est,
Liquēt, licuit,	it is evident. <sup>4</sup>	Taedēt, it wears;	pertaedēt, per-
Misérēt, misēritūm est, it excites pity;		taesūm est.
me misēret,	I pity.
Oportēt, oportuit,	it behooves.

1. PARTICIPLES are generally wanting, but a few occur, though with a somewhat modified sense: (1) from LIBET: libens, willing; (2) from LICET: licens, free; licitus, allowed; (3) from POENITET: poenitens, penitent; poenitendus, to be repented of; (4) from PUDET: pudens, modest; pudendus, shameful.

2. GERUNDS are generally wanting, but occur in rare instances; poenitendum, pudendū.

300. Generally Impersonal are several verbs which designate the changes of weather, or the operations of nature:

Fulmināt,	it lightens.	Pluit (P. pluit),	it rains.
Grandināt,	it hails.	Rorāt,	dew falls.
Lapidāt,	it rains stones.	Tōnāt (tōnuīt),	it thunders.
Lucescīt,	it grows light.	Vespērascit,	evening approaches.
Ningīt (nixit),	it snows.

<sup>3</sup> The real subject is generally an infinitive or clause, sometimes a neuter pronoun: hoc fieri oportet, that this should be done is necessary.

<sup>4</sup> These four occur in the third person plural, but without a personal subject. So the Comp. dēdēcet. So also some of the others in rare instances.

301. Many other verbs are often used impersonally. Thus

1. The following :

Accidit,	it happens.	Fit,	it happens.
Apparet,	it appears.	Interest,	it concerns.
Attinet,	it concerns.	Juvat,	it delights.
Conducit,	it is useful.	Patet,	it is plain.
Constat,	it is evident.	Pertinet,	it pertains.
Contingit,	it happens.	Placeat,	it pleases.
Convénit,	it is fitting.	Præstat,	it is better.
Delectat,	it delights.	Præterit (me),	it escapes (me).
Displicet,	it displeases.	Refert,	it concerns.
Dolet,	it grieves.	Restat,	it remains.
Evenit,	it happens.	Sûbit,	it occurs.
Expedit,	it is expedient.	Sufficit,	it suffices.
Fallit } (me),	it escapes (me).	Supërest,	it remains.
Fûgit }		Vacat,	there is leisure.

2. The Second Periphrastic Conjugation (233) is often used impersonally. The participle is then neuter :

Mihi scribendum est, I must write ; tibi scribendum est, you must write ; illi scribendum est, he must write.

3. Verbs which are intransitive in the active, i. e., do not govern the accusative, can only be used impersonally in the passive, and many others may be so used. The participle is then neuter :

Mihi creditur, it is credited to me, I am believed ; tibi creditur, you are believed ; illi creditur, he is believed ; certatur, it is contended ; curritur, there is running, people run ; pugnatur, it is fought, they, we, etc., fight ; scribitur, it is written ; venit, they come, we come, etc. ; vivitur, we, you, they live.

CHAPTER V.

PARTICLES.

302. THE Latin has four parts of speech sometimes called Particles : the Adverb, the Preposition, the Conjunction, and the Interjection.

ADVERBS.

303. The Adverb is the part of speech which is used to qualify verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs : celeriter currere, to run swiftly ; tam celer, so swift ; tam celeriter, so swiftly.

304. Adverbs may be divided, according to their signification, into four principal classes:

I. ADVERBS OF PLACE.

Hic,	here ;	hūc,	hither ;	hinc,	hence.
illuc,	there ;	illūc,	thither ;	illinc,	thence.
istic,	there ;	istūc,	thither ;	istinc,	thence.
ūbi,	where ?	quō,	whither ?	undē,	whence ?

II. ADVERBS OF TIME.

Hōdiē,	to-day.	nondum,	not yet.	sæpē,	often.
ibi,	then.	nunc,	now.	sēmēl,	once.
jam,	now.	nunquam,	never.	tum,	then.
jamdiū,	long since.	olim,	formerly.	unquam,	ever.

III. ADVERBS OF MANNER, MEANS, DEGREE.

Adeo,	so.	pacē,	almost.	sic,	so.
aliter,	otherwise.	pālam,	openly.	ūt,	as.
ita,	so.	prorsus,	wholly.	valdē,	much.
māgis,	more.	rite,	rightly.	vix,	scarcely.

IV. ADVERBS OF CAUSE, INFERENCE.

Cūr,	why ?	eo,	for this reason.
quārē,	wherefore.	ideo,	on this account.
quamobrem,	wherefore.	idcirco,	therefore.
quapropter,	wherefore.	propterea,	therefore.

305. COMPARISON.—Most Adverbs are derived from adjectives, and are dependent upon them for their comparison. The comparative is the neuter singular of the adjective, and the superlative changes the ending us of the adjective into ē:

altus,	altior,	altissimus,	lofty.
alte,	altius,	altissime,	loftily.
prūdē,	prudētiōr,	prudētissimus,	prudent.
prudēter,	prudētius,	prudētissime,	prudently.

1. MAGIS AND MAXIME.—When the adjective is compared with māgis and maxime, the adverb is compared in the same way:

egregius,	māgis egregius,	maxīme egregius,	excellent.
egregie,	māgis egregie,	maxīme egregie,	excellently.

2. IRREGULAR COMPARISON.—When the adjective is irregular, the adverb has the same irregularity:

bōnus,	melior,	optīmus,	good.
bēne,	melius,	optīme,	well.
māle,	pejus,	pessīme,	badly.

3. DEFECTIVE COMPARISON.—When the adjective is defective, the adverb is generally defective:

	deterior, deterius,	deterriſmus, deterriſſime,	worſe. worſe.
nōvus, nōve,		noviſſimus, noviſſime,	new. newly.
4. COMPARED.—A few not derived from adjectives are compared :
diū, ſæpiſſe,	diutius, ſæpius,	diutiſſime, ſæpiſſime,	for a long time. often.
ſātis, nūper,	ſatius,	nuperrime,	ſufficiently. recently.

5. NOT COMPARED.—Most adverbs not derived from adjectives, as also those from adjectives incapable of comparison (169), are not compared: hic, here; nunc, now; vulgariter, commonly.

6. SUPERLATIVES in o or um are used in a few adverbs: primo, primum, potiſſimum.

PREPOSITIONS.

306. The Preposition is the part of speech which shows the relations of objects to each other: in Italia eſſe, to be in Italy; ante me, before me.

For list of prepositions, see 433–435.

307. INSEPARABLE PREPOSITIONS.—Ambi, amb, around, about; dis, di, aſunder; re, red, back; se, aſide, apart; ne and ve, not, are called inſeparable prepositions, becauſe they are uſed only in compoſition.

CONJUNCTIONS.

308. Conjunctions are mere connectives: pater ET filius, the father and ſon; pater AUT filius, the father or ſon.

309. Conjunctions are divided, according to their uſe, into two claſſes:

I. COÖRDINATE CONJUNCTIONS,—which connect ſimilar conſtructions: labor voluptaſque, labor and pleaſure; Carthaginem cepit ac diruit, he took and deſtroyed Carthage.

II. SUBORDINATE CONJUNCTIONS,—which connect ſubordinate with principal conſtructions: haec dum colligunt, effugit, while they collect theſe things, he eſcapes.

I. COÖRDINATE CONJUNCTIONS.

310. Coördinate Conjunctions comprise five ſubdiviſions:

CHAPTER VI.

FORMATION OF WORDS.

313. Words may be formed in two ways:

I. By DERIVATION; i. e., by the addition of certain endings to the stems of other words: amor, love, from amo, to love.

II. By COMPOSITION; i. e., by the union of two or more words or their stems: benevolens, well-wishing, from bene, well, and volens, wishing.

1. SIMPLE and COMPOUND.—Words formed by composition are called Compounds; those not thus formed are called Simple Words.

2. PRIMITIVE and DERIVATIVE.—Simple words formed by derivation are called Derivatives; those not thus formed are called Primitives.

DERIVATION OF WORDS.

1. Ūsus is used for ōsus in adjectives from nouns of Dec. IV. and in some others: fructuōsus, fruitful.
 2. Lentus takes a connecting vowel, generally u, sometimes o: op-u-lentus, vin-o-lentus.

1. Iānus is the ending generally used in derivatives from Names of Persons; but ānus, īnus, ius, and the Greek endings ēus and īcus also occur.

2. Ensis and cānus (ānus) in derivatives from names of countries signify merely being in the country, in distinction from belonging to it: thus exercitus Hispaniensis is an army stationed in Spain, but exercitus Hispanicus is a Spanish army.

3. Patrials.—Many of these adjectives from names of places are also used substantively as Patricial or Gentile Nouns to designate the citizens of the place : Corinthii, the Corinthians ; Athenienses, the Athenians.

II. ADJECTIVES FROM ADJECTIVES.

327. DIMINUTIVES from other adjectives generally end like diminutive nouns (315) in ŭlus, ŭla, ŭlum, cŭlus, cŭla, cŭlum.

long-ŭlus, a, um,      rather long,      from      longŭs.

1. Bundus and cundus have nearly the force of the present participle; but bundus is somewhat more expressive than the Part.: laetabundus, rejoicing greatly; and cundus generally denotes some characteristic rather than a single act or feeling: verecundus, diffident.

These endings take a connecting vowel. See example.

2. Idus retains the simple meaning of the verb.

3. Ilis and bilis denote capability, generally in a passive sense: amabilis, capable or worthy of being loved; sometimes in an active sense: terribilis, terrible, capable of producing terror.

These endings are generally added to the Present Stem (bilis with a connecting vowel), but sometimes to the Supine Stem: flexibilis, flexible.

VERBS.

330. Derivative Verbs are formed from Nouns, Adjectives, and Verbs.

I. VERBS FROM NOUNS AND ADJECTIVES.

331. Verbs formed from nouns and adjectives end in

Conj. I.	Conj. II.	Conj. IV.
o,	eo,	io.

2. Deponent.—Derivatives, like other verbs, may of course be deponent: domīnor, to domineer, from domīnus.

II. VERBS FROM VERBS.

332. Verbs derived from other verbs are—Frequentatives, Inceptives, Desideratives, and Diminutives.

I. FREQUENTATIVES denote repeated or continued action. They are of the first conjugation and are formed

1. From Supines in ātum by changing ātum into īto:

clam-īto,	to exclaim,	from	clamo,	clamātum.
vol-īto,	to flit,	"	volo,	volātum.

2. From other Supines by changing um into o, sometimes īto:

adjūt-o,	to assist often,	from	adjūvo,	adjūtum.
habīt-o,	to have often,	"	habeo,	habītum.
leet-īto,	to read often,	"	lego,	leetum.

- 1) Itō is sometimes added to the Present Stem of verbs of Conj. III.: ago, agīto; quaero, quaerīto.

- 2) Esso and isso form derivatives which are generally classed with frequentatives, though they are intensive in force, denoting earnest rather than repeated action, and are of Conj. III.: facio, faesso, to do earnestly; incipio, incipisso, to begin eagerly. The regular frequentatives sometimes have the same force: rapio, rapto, to seize eagerly.

II. INCEPTIVES, or INCHOATIVES, denote the beginning of the action. They are of the third conjugation, and end in asco,	esco,	isco.

gěl-asco,	to begin to freeze,	from gělo,	äre.
rüb-csco,	to grow red,	" rübeo,	ëre.
trēm-isco,	to begin to tremble,	" trēmo,	ëre.
obdorm-isco,	to fall asleep,	" obdormio,	ire.

1. Asco is used in inceptives from verbs of Conj. I., and in a few from nouns and adjectives: puer, puerasco, to become a boy.

2. Esco is by far the most common ending, and is used in inceptives from verbs of Conj. II., and in many from nouns and adjectives: dürus, düresco, to grow hard.

III. DESIDERATIVES denote a desire to perform the action. They are of the fourth conjugation and are formed from the Supine by changing um into ürio:

ēs-ürio,	to desire to eat,	from ědo,	ěsum.
empt-ürio,	to desire to buy,	" ěmo,	emptum.

IV. DIMINUTIVES denote a feeble action. They are of the first conjugation and are formed from the Present by changing the ending into illo:

cant-illo,	to sing feebly,	from canto.
conserib-illo,	to scribble,	" couseribo.

ADVERBS.

333. Adverbs are formed from Nouns, Adjectives, Participles, Pronouns, and Prepositions.

I. ADVERBS FROM NOUNS.

334. Adverbs are formed from nouns

1. By simply taking a case-ending, especially that of the ablative:

tempöre, tempöri, in time; forte, by chance; järe, with right, rightly.

2. By taking special endings:

1) ätim, tim, denoting MANNER: grex, gregätim, by herds; fur, furtim, by stealth.

2) itus denoting ORIGIN, SOURCE: coelum, coelitus, from heaven; fundus, funditus, from the foundation.

II. ADVERBS FROM ADJECTIVES AND PARTICIPLES.

335. Adverbs from adjectives and participles generally end in e, er, iter.

doctus, docte, learnedly; liber, libère, freely; elégans, eleganter, elegantly; prudens, prudenter, prudently; cèler, celeriter, quickly.

1. E is added to the stems of most adjectives and participles of Dec. I. and II. See examples.

2. Er and iter are added to the stems of adjectives of Dec. III.—Er to stems in nt, iter to other stems.—Er and iter also occur in adverbs from adjectives and participles of Dec. I. and II.

3. Atim, im, and itus also occur in adverbs from primitives of Dec. I. and II.: singuli, singulàtim, one by one; passus, passim, everywhere; divinus, divinitus, divinely.

4. OTHER FORMS.—Certain forms of adjectives sometimes become adverbs:

1) Neuters in e, um, rarely a: facile, easily; multum, multa, much.

2) Ablatives in a, o, is: dextra, on the right; consulto, designedly; paucis, briefly, in few words.

3) Accusatives in am: bifuriam, in two parts; multifariam, in many parts or places (partem, understood).

5. NUMERAL ADVERBS.—See 181.

III. ADVERBS FROM PRONOUNS.

336. Various adverbs are formed from Pronouns: thus from hic, ille, and iste are formed

hic,	here;	huc,	hither;	hinc,	hence.
illic,	there;	illuc,	thither;	illinc,	thence.
istic,	there;	istuc,	thither;	istinc,	thence.

IV. ADVERBS FROM PREPOSITIONS.

337. A few adverbs are formed from Prepositions, or are at least related to them:

intra, intro, within; ultra, ultro, beyond; in, intus, within; sub, subtus, beneath.

COMPOSITION OF WORDS.

338. The elements of a compound may unite in three distinct ways:

I. The two elements unite without change of form:<sup>1</sup> decem-viri, the decemvirs, ten men; ab-eo, to go away; ante-pōno, to place before.

II. One element, generally the first, is put in an oblique case, generally the genitive, dependent upon the other: legis-lātor, legislator, from lex, legis, and lātor.

III. The stem of the first element unites with the second element, either with or without a connecting vowel—generally i, sometimes e or u: bell-i-gēro, to wage war, from bellum and gēro, with connecting vowel; magn-anīmus, magnanimous, from magnus and anīmus, without connecting vowel.

1. PREPOSITIONS IN COMPOSITION admit the following euphonic changes.

A, ab, abs:—a before m and v; abs before c, p, t; ab before the vowels and the other consonants: a-mitto; abs-condo; ab-ec, ab-jicio. But abs before p drops b: as-porto for abs-porto. Ab becomes au in au-fēro and au-fugio.

Ad,—unchanged before vowels and before b, d, h, j, n, and v; d generally assimilated before the other consonants, but changed to c before q and dropped before gn and often before sc, sp, and st; ad-eo, ad-do, ad-jungo; af-fēro, al-ligo; ac-qui-ro, a-gnosco (ad and gnosco), a-scendo.

Ante,—unchanged, except in anti-cipo and anti-sto.

Circum,—unchanged, except in circu-eo.

Com for cum,—(1) unchanged before b, m, p: com-bīdo, com-mitto,—(2) m generally dropped before vowels, h, and gn: co-eo, co-haereo, co-gnosco,—(3) m assimilated before l, n, r: col-ligo, cor-rumpo,—(4) m changed to n before the other consonants: con-fēro, con-gēro.

E, ex:—ex before vowels and before c, h, p, q, s, t, and with assimilation before f; e generally before the other consonants and sometimes before p and s: ex-eo, ex-pōno, ef-fēro; e-dūco, e-līgo, e-pōto, e-scendo. S after ex is often dropped: expecto or expecto.

In,—n assimilated before l, m, r, changed to m before b, p; dropped before gn; in other situations unchanged: il-lūdo, im-mitto; im-buo, im-pōno; i-gnosco; in-eo, in-dūco.

Inter,—unchanged, except in intel-ligo.

Ob,—b assimilated before c, f, g, p; in other situations generally unchanged: oc-curro, of-ficio, og-gēro, op-pōno; ob-jicio, ob-sto. But b is dropped in o-mitto, and an old form obs occurs in a few words: obs-olesco, os-tendo for obs-tendo (b dropped).

Per,—unchanged, except in pel-licio, pel-lūceo, and pe-jēro.

Post,—unchanged, except in po-moerium and po-meridiānus.

Pro,—sometimes prod before a vowel: prod-eo, prod-igo.

Sub,—b assimilated before c, f, g, p, generally before m and r; dropped before sp; in other situations unchanged; suc-cumbo, su-spicio for sub-spicio; sub-eo, sub-dūco. An old form sube shortened to sus occurs in a few words: sus-cipio, sus-pendo.

Trans,—drops s before s, and often ns before d, j, n: trans-eo, trans-fēro; trans-silio for trans-silio; tra-do for trans-do; tra-jicio for trans-jicio; tra-no for trans-no.

2. INSEPARABLE PREPOSITIONS (307) also admit euphonic changes:

Ambi, amb:—amb before vowels; ambi, am, or an before consonants: amb-igo; ambi-dens, am-pūlo, an-quīro.

Dis, di:—dis before c, p, q, t, s before a vowel, and, with assimilation, before f; di in most other situations; dis-curro, dis-pōno, dif-fluo; di-dūco, di-mōveo. But dir occurs in dir-imo and dir-ībeo (dis and habeo), and both dis and di occur before j: dis-jungo, di-judico.

Re, red:—red before vowels, before h, and in red-do; re in other situations: red-eo, red-igo, red-hībeo; re-clūdo, re-vello.

COMPOUND NOUNS.

339. In compound nouns the first part is generally a noun, but sometimes an adjective, adverb, or preposition; the second part is a verb or noun:

art-ī-fex,	artist,	from	ars and faeio.
capr-ī-cornus,	capricorn,	"	saper and cornu.
aequ-ī-noctium,	equinox,	"	aequus and nox.
ne-mo,	nobody,	"	ne and homo.
pro-nōmen,	pronoun,	"	pro and nomen.

1. GENITIVE IN COMPOUNDS.—In compounds of two nouns, or of a noun and an adjective, the first part is often a genitive: legis-lātor, legislator; juris-consultus, lawyer.

2. COMPOUNDS IN fex, cen, and cōla are among the most important compounds of nouns and verbs; fex from fācio; cen from cano; cola from colo; art-ī-fex, artist; tub-ī-cen, trumpeter; agr-ī-cōla, husbandman.

COMPOUND ADJECTIVES.

340. In compound adjectives the first part is generally a noun, adjective, or preposition, and the second a noun, adjective, or verb:

lēt-ī-fer,	death-bearing,	from	lētum and fēro.
magn-anīmus,	magnanimous,	"	magnus and anīmus.
per-fācilis,	very easy,	"	per and facilis.

COMPOUND VERBS.

341. In compound verbs the first part is a noun, adjective, verb, adverb, or preposition, and the second is a verb:

aed-ī-fīco,	to build,	from	aedes and facio.
ampl-ī-fīco,	to enlarge,	"	amplus and facio.
pat-ē-fīcio,	to open,	"	pateo and facio.
bene-fīcio,	to benefit,	"	bene and facio.
ab-co,	to go away,	"	ab and co.

1. Two VERBS.—When the first part is a verb, the second is always facio as above; pat-e-facio.

2. NOUN OR ADJECTIVE AND VERB.—When the first part is a noun or adjective, the second part is generally, but not always, facio or ago. These verbs then become fīco and īgo of Conj. I.: aed-ī-fīco, āre, to build; nav-īgo, āre, to sail, from navis and ago.

3. VOWEL CHANGES.—Verbs compounded with prepositions often undergo certain vowel-changes.

1) A short and ē generally become ī: hābeo, ad-hābeo; tēneo, con-tēneo. But ā sometimes becomes ē or u: carpo, de-cerpo; calco, con-culco.

2) Āe becomes ī: caedo, in-cīdo.

3) Au generally becomes o or u: plaudo, ex-plōdo; claudo, in-clūdo.

4. CHANGES IN PREPOSITIONS.—See §33. 1 and 2.

COMPOUND ADVERBS.

342. Compound Adverbs are variously formed, but most of them may be divided into three classes:

1. Such as consist of an oblique case with its preposition: ad-mōdum, very, to the full measure; ob-vīam, in the way.

2. Such as consist of a noun with its adjective: hō-die (hōs and diē), to-day, on this day; qua-re, wherefore, by which thing.

3. Such as consist of two particles: ad-huc, hitherto; inter-dum, sometimes; in-sūper, moreover.

CHAPTER I.

SYNTAX OF SENTENCES.

SECTION I.

CLASSIFICATION OF SENTENCES.

343. SYNTAX treats of the construction of sentences.

344. A sentence is thought expressed in language.

345. In their STRUCTURE, sentences are either Simple, Complex, or Compound:

I. A SIMPLE SENTENCE expresses but a single thought:

Deus mundum aedificavit, God made the world. Cic.

II. A COMPLEX SENTENCE expresses two (or more) thoughts so related that one is dependent upon the other:

Dñec ẽris felix, multos nũmẽrãbis ãmĩcos; So long as you are prosperous, you will number many friends. Ovid.

1. CLAUSES.—In this example two simple sentences, (1) "You will be prosperous," and (2) "You will number many friends," are so united that the first only specifies the time of the second: You will number many friends (when?), so long as you are prosperous. The parts thus united are called Clauses or Members.

2. PRINCIPAL AND SUBORDINATE.—The 1st of the complex sentence which makes complete sense of itself—multos numerabis amicos—is called the Principal Clause; and the part which is dependent upon it—donec eris felix—is called the Subordinate Clause.

III. A COMPOUND SENTENCE expresses two or more independent thoughts:

Sol ruit et montes umbrantur, The sun descends and the mountains are shaded. Virg.

346. In their USE, sentences are either Declarative, Interrogative, Imperative, or Exclamatory.

I. A DECLARATIVE SENTENCE has the form of an assertion:

Miltiades accusatus est, Miltiades was accused. Nep.

II. An INTERROGATIVE SENTENCE has the form of a question:

Quis non paupertatem extimescit, Who does not fear poverty? Cic.

1. INTERROGATIVE WORDS.—Interrogative sentences generally contain some interrogative word—either an interrogative pronoun, adjective, or adverb, or one of the interrogative particles, ne, nonne, num:

1) Questions with ne ask for information: Scribitne, Is he writing? Ne is always thus appended to some other word. But ne appended to the principal verb often suggests the answer yes, while appended to any other word, it often suggests the answer no. It is sometimes appended to utrum, num, or an, without affecting their meaning, and sometimes inserted in the clause after utrum:

Utrum taceamne, an praedilem, Shall I be silent, or shall I speak? Ter.

2) Questions with nonne expect the answer yes: Nonne scribit, Is he not writing? Non for nonne indicates surprise that there should be any doubt on the question: Non vides, Do you really not see?

3) Questions with num expect the answer no: Num scribit, Is he writing?

4) Questions with an. See 2. 4) below.

5) The interrogative word is sometimes omitted, and sometimes numquid is used for num, and ecquid for ne or nonne: Ecquid vides, Do you not see?

2. DOUBLE QUESTIONS.—Double or disjunctive questions offer a choice or alternative, and generally take one of the following forms:

1) The first clause has utrum, num, or ne, and the second an:

Utrum ea vestra an nostra culpa est, Is that your fault or ours? Cic.

2) The first clause omits the particle, and the second has an or ne:

Elloquar an sileam, Shall I utter it, or keep silence? Virg.

3) When the second clause is negative, the particle generally unites with the negative, giving annon or necne:

Sunt haec tua verba neene, Are these your words or not? Cic.

4) By the omission of the first clause, the second often stands alone with an, in the sense of or:

An hoc timemus, Or do we fear this? Liv.

5) Other forms are rare.

3. ANSWERS.—In answers the verb or some emphatic word is usually repeated, often with prorsus, vero, and the like; or if negative, with non:

Dixitne causam? Dixit. Did he state the cause? He stated it. Cic. Possumusne tati esse? Non possumus. Can we be safe? We cannot. Cic.

1) Sometimes the simple particle is used; affirmatively, sane, etiam, ita, vero, certe, etc., negatively, non, minime, etc.

Venitne? Non. Has he come? No. Plaut.

III. An IMPERATIVE SENTENCE has the form of a command, exhortation, or entreaty:

Iustitiam cole, Cultivate justice. Cic.

IV. An EXCLAMATORY SENTENCE has the form of an exclamation:

Reliquit quos viros, What heroes he has left! Cic.

Exclamatory sentences are often elliptical.

SECTION II.

SIMPLE SENTENCES.

ELEMENTS OF SENTENCES.

347. The simple sentence in its most simple form consists of two distinct parts, expressed or implied :

1. The SUBJECT, or that of which it speaks.
2. The PREDICATE, or that which is said of the subject :

Cluilius moritur, Cluilius dies. Liv.

Here Cluilius is the subject, and moritur the predicate.

348. The simple sentence in its most expanded form consists only of these same parts with their various modifiers :

In his castris Cluilius, Albānus rex, moritur ; Cluilius, the Alban king, dies in this camp. Liv.

Here Cluilius, Albānus rex, is the subject in its enlarged or modified form, and in his castris moritur is the predicate in its enlarged or modified form.

349. PRINCIPAL AND SUBORDINATE.—The subject and predicate, being essential to the structure of every sentence, are called the Principal or Essential elements ; but their modifiers, being subordinate to these, are called the Subordinate elements.

350. SIMPLE AND COMPLEX.—The elements, whether principal or subordinate, may be either simple or complex :

1. Simple, when not modified by other words.
2. Complex, when thus modified.

SIMPLE SUBJECT.

351. The subject of a sentence, expressed or implied, must be a noun or some word or words used as a noun :

Rex decrēvit, The king decreed. Nep. Ego scribo, I write. Cic. Vīdeo idem vālet, The word video has the same meaning. Quint.

COMPLEX SUBJECT.

352. The subject admits the following modifiers :

I. AN ADJECTIVE :

Pōpulus Rōmānus decrēvit, The Roman people decreed. Cic.

II. A NOUN either in apposition with the subject, in the genitive, or in an oblique case with a preposition :

Chulius rex moritur, Chulius the king dies. Liv. Rex Rutulorum, the king of the Rutuli. Liv. Liber de officiis, The book on duties. Cic.

1. MODIFIERS OF NOUNS.—Any noun may be modified like the subject.

2. APPOSITIVE AND ITS SUBJECT.—The noun in apposition with another is called an Appositive, and the other noun is called the Subject of the appositive.

3. ADVERBS WITH NOUNS.—Sometimes adverbs and adverbial expressions occur as modifiers of nouns:

Non ignāri sūmus ante mālōrum, We are not ignorant of past misfortunes. Virg. Victōria apud Cnidum, The victory at Cnidus. Nep.

SIMPLE PREDICATE.

353. The simple predicate must be either a verb or the copula sum with a noun or adjective:

Miltiades est accūsātus, Miltiades was accused. Nep. Tu es testis, You are a witness. Cic. Fortūna caeca est, Fortune is blind. Cic.

1. Like Sum several other verbs sometimes unite with a noun or adjective to form the predicate. See §62. 2. A noun or adjective thus used is called a Predicate Noun or Predicate Adjective.

2. Sum with an Adverb sometimes forms the predicate:

Omnia recte sunt, All things are right. Cic.

COMPLEX PREDICATE.

354. I. The VERB admits the following modifiers:

I. OBJECTIVE MODIFIERS:

1. A Direct Object in the Accusative—that upon which the action is directly exerted:

Miltiades Athēnas liberāvit, Miltiades liberated Athens. Nep.

2. An Indirect Object in the Dative—that to or for which something is or is done:

Lābōri stūdent, They devote themselves to labor. Caes.

3. Combined Objects consisting of two or more cases:

Me rogāvit sententiam, He asked me my opinion. Cic. Pons iter hostibus dedit, The bridge furnished a passage to the enemy. Liv.

II. ADVERBIAL MODIFIERS:

1. Adverbs:

Bella feliciter gessit, He waged wars successfully. Cic.

2. Adverbial Expressions—consisting of oblique cases of nouns, with or without prepositions;

In his castris moritur, He dies (where?) in this camp. Liv. Vere convenire, They assembled (when?) in the spring. Liv.

355. II. The PREDICATE NOUN is modified in the various ways specified for the subject (352).

356. III. The PREDICATE ADJECTIVE admits the following modifiers:

I. An ADVERB:

Satis humilis est, He is sufficiently humble. Liv.

II. A NOUN in an oblique case:

1. Genitive: Avidi laudis fuerunt, They were desirous of praise. Cic.
2. Dative: Omni aetati mors est communis, Death is common to every age. Cic.
3. Ablative: Digni sunt amicitia, They are worthy of friendship. Cic.

SECTION III.

COMPLEX SENTENCES.

357. A Complex sentence differs from a Simple one only in taking a sentence or clause as one (or more) of its elements:

I. A Sentence as an Element:

"Civis Rōmānus sum" audiēbātur, "I am a Roman citizen" was heard. Cic. Aliquis dicat mihi: "Nulla habes vitia;" Some one may say to me, "Have you no faults?" Hor.

1. In the first example, an entire sentence—Civis Rōmānus sum—is used as the Subject of a new sentence; and in the second example, the sentence—Nulla habes vitia—is the Object of dicat.

2. Any sentence may be thus quoted and introduced without change of form as an element in a new sentence.

II. A Clause as an Element:

Trāditum est Hōmērum caecum fuisse, That Homer was blind has been handed down by tradition. Cic. Quālis sit ānīmus, ānīmus nescit, The soul knows not what the soul is. Cic.

1. In these examples the clauses used as elements have undergone certain changes to adapt them to their subordinate rank. The clause Hōmērum caecum fuisse, the subject of trāditum est, if used as an independent sentence, would be Hōmērus caecus fuit; and the clause Qualis sit ānīmus, the object of nescit, would be Qualis est ānīmus, What is the soul?

2. Forms of Subordinate Clauses.

1) Infinitive with Subject Accusative:

Hec majores dicere audivi, I have heard that our ancestors said this. Cic.

2) Indirect Questions:

Vere con.

in the va-

s the fol-

praise. Cic. non to every ndship. Cic.

ple one
(re) of its dergone cer-

se Homērum

- Quid dies ferat, incertum est, What a day may bring forth is uncertain. Cic.
 3) Relative Clauses :
 Sententia, quae tūdisima vidēbatur, The opinion which seemed the safest. Liv.
 4) Clauses with Conjunctions :
 Mos est ut dicat, It is his custom to speak. Cic. Priusquam lūcet, adsunt, They are present before it is light. Cic.

358. Infinitive Clauses sometimes drop their subjects:

Diligi iucundum est, It is pleasant to be loved. Cic. Vivere est cogitare, To live is to think. Cic. See 545. 2.

359. Participles often supply the place of subordinate clauses.

Plato scribens mortuus est, Plato died while writing, or while he was writing. Cic. See 576-578.

SECTION IV.

COMPOUND SENTENCES.

360. Compound sentences express two or more independent thoughts, and are of five varieties :

I. COPULATIVE SENTENCES—in which two or more thoughts are presented in harmony with each other :

Sol ruit et montes umbrantur, The sun descends and the mountains are shaded. Virg.

II. DISJUNCTIVE SENTENCES—in which a choice between two or more thoughts is offered :

Audendum est aliquid aut omnia patiēda sunt, Something must be risked or all things must be endured. Liv.

III. ADVERSATIVE SENTENCES—in which the thoughts are opposed to each other :

Gyges a nullo vidēbatur, ipse autem omnia vidēbat, Gyges was seen by no one, but he himself saw all things. Cic.

IV. ILLATIVE SENTENCES—which contain an inference :

Nihil lābōras, ideo nihil hābes ; You do nothing, therefore you have nothing. Phaed.

V. CAUSAL SENTENCES—which contain a cause or reason :

Difficile est consilium, sum enim sōlus ; Consultation is difficult, for I am alone. Cic.

1. The CONNECTIVES generally used in these several classes of compounds are, the corresponding classes of conjunctions, i. e., copulative, disjunctive, adversative, illative, and causal conjunctions. See 310. But the connective is often omitted.

2. DISJUNCTIVE QUESTIONS have special connectives. See 346. II. 2.

361. Compound sentences are generally abridged when their members have parts in common. Such sentences have compound elements :

1. Compound Subjects :

Aborigines Trojānique dūcem amīsēre, The Aborigines and the Trojans lost their leader. Liv.

The two members here united are: Aborigines ducem amīsēre and Trojānt ducem amīsēre; but as they have the same predicate, ducem amīsēre, that predicate is expressed but once, and the two subjects are united into the compound subject: Aborigines Trojānique.

2. Compound Predicates :

Rōmāni p̄rant consultantque, The Romans prepare and consult. Liv.

3. Compound Modifiers :

Athēnas Gracciamque libērāvit, He liberated Athens and Greece. Nep.

CHAPTER II. SYNTAX OF NOUNS.

SECTION I.

AGREEMENT OF NOUNS.

RULE I.—Predicate Nouns.

362. A Predicate Noun denoting the same person or thing as its Subject agrees with it in CASE :<sup>1</sup>

Ego sum nuntius, I am a messenger. Liv. Servius rex est dēclārātus, Servius was declared king. Liv. Orestem se esse dixit, He said that he was Orestes. Cic. See 353.

1. In GENDER AND NUMBER Agreement either may or may not take place. But

1) If the Predicate Noun has different forms for different genders, it must agree with its subject in gender :

Usus māgister est, Experience is an instructor. Cic. Historia est māgistra (not magister), History is an instructress. Cic.

<sup>1</sup> For Pred. Noun denoting a different person or thing from its subject, see 401. For convenience of reference the Rules will be presented in a body on page 274.

2. WITH FINITE VERBS.—Predicate Nouns are most frequent

1) With Sum and a few intransitive verbs : evādo, exsisto, appāreo, and the like :

Ego sum nuntius, I am a messenger. Liv. Hōmo magnus evāsērat, He had become (turned out) a great man. Cic. Exstitit vindex libertātis, He became (stood forth) the defender of liberty. Cic.

2) With Passive verbs of appointing, making, naming, regarding, esteeming, and the like :

Servius rex est dēclārātus, Servius was declared king. Liv. Mundus civitas existimātur, The world is regarded as a state. Cic.

(1) In the poets, Predicate Nouns are used with great freedom after verbs of a great variety of significations. Thus with audio = appellor : Rex audisti, You have been called king; i. e., have heard yourself so called. Hor.

(2) For Predicate Accusative, see 373, 1.

(3) The Dative of the object for which (390), pro with the Abl., and licō or in nūmēro with the Gen. are often kindred in force to Predicate Nouns : hosti, pro hoste, licō hostis, in nūmēro hostium, for or as an enemy. See also Pred. Gen. 401.

3. WITH INFINITIVES, PARTICIPLES, ETC.—Predicate Nouns are used not only with finite verbs, but also with Infinitives and Participles, and sometimes without verb or participle :

Dēclārātus rex Nūma, Numa having been declared king. Liv. Cāniniō consule, Cāninius being consul. Cic. See 431, also Orestem under the rule.

1) For Predicate Nominative after esse, see 517.

2) For Infinitive or Clause as Predicate, see 553, I ; 495, 3.

RULE II.—Appositives.

363. An Appositive agrees with its Subject in CASE :

Cluilius rex moritur, Cluilius the king dies. Liv. Urbes Carthāgo atque Nūmantia, the cities Carthage and Numantia. Cic. See 352, 2.

1. In GENDER and NUMBER the appositive conforms to the same rule as the predicate noun. See 362, 1.

2. The SUBJECT of the appositive is often omitted :

Hostis hostem occidēre vōlui, I (ego understood) an enemy wished to slay an enemy. Liv.

3. FORCE OF APPOSITIVES.—Appositives are generally kindred in force to Relative clauses, but sometimes to Temporal clauses :

Cluillus rex, Cluilius (who was) the king. Liv. Fūrlus puer didicēl, Furius learned, when a boy, or as a boy. Cic.

4. PARTITIVE APPOSITIVE.—The parts are sometimes in apposition with the whole :

Duo rēges, ille bello, hic pāce civitātem auxērunt, Two kings advanced the state, the former by war, the latter by peace. Liv.

Conversely the whole may be in apposition with its parts.

5. CLAUSES.—A noun or pronoun may be in apposition with a clause, or a clause in apposition with a noun or pronoun. See 445, 7 ; 553, II.

SECTION II.

NOMINATIVE.

364. CASES.—Nouns have different forms or cases to mark the various relations in which they are used. These cases, in accordance with their general force, may be arranged and characterized as follows :

I. Nominative,	Case of the Subject.
II. Vocative,	Case of Address.
III. Accusative,	Case of Direct Object.
IV. Dative,	Case of Indirect Object.
V. Genitive,	Case of Adjective Relations.
VI. Ablative,	Case of Adverbial Relations. <sup>1</sup>

365. KINDRED CASES.—The cases naturally arrange themselves in pairs : the Nominative and Vocative require no governing word ; the Accusative and Dative are the regular cases of the Object of an action ; the Genitive has usually the force of an Adjective, and the Ablative that of an Adverb.

366. NOMINATIVE.—The Nominative is either the Subject of a Sentence or in agreement with another Nominative.

RULE III.—Subject Nominative.

367. The Subject of a Finite Verb is put in the Nominative :<sup>2</sup>

Servius regnāvit, Servius reigned. Liv. Pātent portae, The gates are open. Cic. Rex vicit, The king conquered. Liv.

1. The Subject is always a substantive, a pronoun, or some word or clause used substantively :

Ego rēges ejēci, I have banished kings. Cic.

2. SUBJECT OMITTED.—The subject is generally omitted

1) When it is a Personal Pronoun, unless expressed for contrast or emphasis, and when it can be readily supplied from the context :

Discipūlos mōneo, ut stūdia āment, I instruct pupils to love their studies. Quint.

2) When it means men, people : Fērunt, They say.

3) When the verb is impersonal : Pluit, It rains.

3. VERB OMITTED.—The Verb is sometimes omitted, when it can be readily supplied, especially est and sunt :

<sup>1</sup> This arrangement is adopted in the discussion of the cases, because, it is thought, it will best present the force of the several cases and their relation to each other.

<sup>2</sup> For the Subject of the Infinitive, see 545. For the agreement of the verb with its subject, see 460.

Ecce tuæ littærae, Lo your letter (comes). Cic. Tot sententiæ, There are (sunt) so many opinions. Ter. Consul præfectus (est), The consul set out. Liv.

1) Fæcio is often omitted in short sentences and clauses. Thus with nihil aliud (amplius, minus, etc.) quam, nihil præterquam = merely, si nihil aliud, finem, etc.; Nihil aliud quam steterunt, They merely stood (did nothing other than). Liv. Also in brief expressions of opinion: Recte ille, He does rightly. Cic.

368. AGREEMENT.—A Nominative in agreement with another nominative is either a Predicate Noun or an Appositive. See 362 and 363.

For the Predicate Nominative after a verb with esse, see 547.

SECTION III.

VOCATIVE.

RULE IV.—Case of Address.

369. The Name of the person or thing addressed is put in the Vocative:

Perge, Laeli, Proceed, Laelius. Cic. Quid est, Cætilina, Why is it, Catiline? Cic. Tuum est, Servi, regnum, The kingdom is yours, Servius. Liv. O dii immortales, O immortal gods. Cic.

1. WITH INTERJECTIONS.—The vocative is used both with and without interjections.

2. NOMINATIVE FOR VOCATIVE.—In poetry and sometimes in prose, the nominative in apposition with the subject occurs where we should expect the vocative:

Audi tu, pópulus Albânus, Hear ye, Alban people. Liv. Here populus may be treated as a Nom. in apposition with tu, though it may also be treated as an irregular Voc. See 45. 5. 3).

3. VOCATIVE FOR NOMINATIVE.—Conversely the vocative by attraction sometimes occurs in poetry where we should expect the nominative:

Quibus, Hector, ab óris expectâte vénis, From what shores, Hector, do you anxiously awaited come? Virg.

SECTION IV.

ACCUSATIVE.

370. The Accusative is used

- I. As the Direct Object of an Action.
- II. As the Subject of an Infinitive.
- III. In Agreement with another Accusative.
- IV. In an Adverbial Sense—with or without Prepositions.
- V. In Exclamations—with or without Interjections.

I. ACCUSATIVE AS DIRECT OBJECT.

RULE V.—Direct Object.

371. The Direct Object of an action is put in the Accusative:

Deus mundum aedificāvit, God made the world. Cic. Libēra rem publicam, Free the republic. Cic. Pōpūli Rōmāni salūtem dēfendite, Defend the safety of the Roman people. Cic.

1. The DIRECT OBJECT may be

1) The Object, person or thing, on which the action of the verb is directly exerted, as salūtem above.

2) The Effect of the action, i. e., the object produced by it, as mundum above.

3) The Cognate Accusative. Many verbs, generally intransitive, sometimes become so far transitive as to admit an accusative of cognate or kindred meaning:

Eam vitam vivēre, to live that life. Cic. Mirum somniāre somnium, to dream a wonderful dream. Plaut. Servitūtem servire, to serve a servitude. Ter.

(1) This accusative is usually qualified by an adjective as in the first two examples.

(2) Neuter Pronouns and Adjectives often supply the place of the Cognate accusative:

Eādem peccat, He makes the same mistakes. Cic. Hoc stūdet ūnum, He studies this one thing (this one study). Hor. Id assentior, I make this assent. Cic. Idem glōriari, to make the same boast. Cic.

(3) The object is often omitted when it is a reflexive (184, 2) or can be easily supplied: mōveo = mōveo me, I move (myself); vertit = vertit se, he moves (himself).

(4) Some verbs are sometimes transitive and sometimes intransitive: augeo, dūro, incipio, laxo, ruo, suppedito, turbo, etc.

2. WITH OR WITHOUT OTHER CASES.—The direct object may be used with all transitive verbs, whether with or without other cases. See 384. 410. 419.

3. TRANSITIVE AND INTRANSITIVE VERBS.—Many verbs transitive in English are intransitive in Latin. See 385. Conversely some verbs intransitive in English are transitive in Latin, or at least are often so used, especially verbs denoting

1) Feeling or Mental State: despīro, to despair of; doleo, to grieve for; gēmo, to sigh over; horreo, to shudder at; luctō, to weep over; moerco, to mourn over; miror, to wonder at; rideo, to laugh at; silio, to thirst for, etc.

Hōnōres despērat, He despairs of honors. Cic. Haec gēmēbant, They were sighing over these things. Cic. Dētrīmenta ridet, He laughs at losses. Hor.

2) Taste or Smell: oleo, sāpio, and their compounds, both literally and figuratively:

Olet unguenta, He smells of perfumes. Ter. Oratio rēdōlet antiquitatem, The oration smacks of antiquity. Cic.

4. COMPOUNDS OF PREPOSITIONS.—We notice two classes :

1) Many compounds become transitive by the force of the prepositions with which they are compounded, especially compounds of circum, per, prae, trans, super, and subter :

Murmur cor ciōnem pervāsīt, A murmur went through the assembly. Liv. Rhēnum transiērunt, They crossed (went across) the Rhine. Caes.

2) Many compounds, without becoming strictly transitive, admit an Accus. dependent upon the preposition :

Circumstant senātum, They stand around the senate. Cic.

5. CLAUSE AS OBJECT.—An Infinitive or a Clause may be used as Direct Object :

Impiāre cupiunt, They desire to rule. Just. Sentinus cāere ignem, We perceive that fire is hot. Cic.

6. PASSIVE CONSTRUCTION.—When a verb takes the passive construction

1) The direct object of the active becomes the subject of the passive, and

2) The subject of the active becomes the Ablative of Cause (414) or the Ablative of Agent with a or ab (414. 5).

Thēbāni Lysandrum occidērunt, The Thebans slew Lysander. Passive : Lysander occisus est a Thēbānis, Lysander was slain by the Thebans. Nep.

7. ACCUSATIVE IN SPECIAL INSTANCES.—Participles in dus, verbal adjectives in bundus, and in Plautus a few verbal nouns, occur with the accusative :

Vitābundus castra, avoiding the camp. Liv. Quid tibi hanc cūrātio est rem, What care have you of this? Plaut.

372. TWO ACCUSATIVES.—Two accusatives without any connective, expressed or understood, may depend upon the same verb. They may denote

1. The same person or thing.
2. Different persons or things.

Any number of accusatives connected by conjunctions, expressed or understood, may of course depend upon the same verb.

RULE VI.—Two Accusatives—Same Person.

373. Verbs of MAKING, CHOOSING, CALLING, REGARDING, SHOWING, and the like, admit two Accusatives of the same person or thing :

Hāmilcārem impiātōrem fecērunt, They made Hamilcar commander. Nep. Ancum rēgem pōpulus creāvit, The people elected Ancus king. Liv. Summum consilium appellāvunt Senātum, They called their highest council Senate. Cic. Se praestitit prōpugnātōrem libertātis, He showed himself the champion of liberty. Cic. Flaccum habuit collēgam, He had Flaccus as colleague. Nep.

1. PREDICATE ACCUSATIVE.—One of the two accusatives is the Direct Object, and the other an essential part of the Predicate. The latter may be called a Predicate Accusative. See 362. 2. (2).

2. VERBS WITH PREDICATE ACCUSATIVE.—The verbs which most frequently admit a Direct Object with a Predicate Accusative are verbs of

1) Making, electing: fādo, efficio, reddo,—creo, cōligo, designo, dēclāro.

2) Calling, regarding: appello, nōmīno, vōco, dico,—arbitror, existimo, dūco, jūlico, habeo, pūto.

3) Showing: praesto, praeco, exhibeo.

3. ADJECTIVE AS PREDICATE ACCUSATIVE.—The Predicate Accusative may be either Substantive or Adjective:

Hōmīnes caecos reddit āvūritā, Avarice renders men blind. Cic.

4. PASSIVE CONSTRUCTION.—In the Passive these verbs take two Nominatives, a Subject and Predicate, corresponding to the two Accusatives of the Active:

Servius rex est dēclārātus, Servius was declared king. Liv. See 362. 2. 2.)

RULE VII.—Two Accusatives—Person and Thing.

374. Some verbs of ASKING, DEMANDING, TEACHING, and CONCEALING, admit two Accusatives in the Active, and one in the Passive:

Me sententiam rogāvit, He asked me my opinion. Cic. Ego sententiam rogātus sum, I was asked my opinion. Cic. Philōsōphia nos res omnes docuit, Philosophy has taught us all things. Cic. Artes edoctus fuerat, He had been taught the arts. Liv. Non te celāvi sermōnem, I did not conceal from you the conversation. Cic.

1. PERSON AND THING.—One accusative generally designates the person, the other the thing: with the Passive the accusative of the Person becomes the subject and the accusative of the thing is retained: see examples.

2. VERBS WITH TWO ACCUSATIVES.—Those most frequently so used are

1) Regularly: cēlo—dōcco, edōceo, dedōceo.

2) Sometimes: oro, exoro, rogo, interrōgo, percontor, flagito, posco, rēposco.

3. OTHER CONSTRUCTIONS also occur:

1) Cēlo: Ablative with a preposition:

Me de hoc libro celāvit, He kept me ignorant of this book. Cic. Passive: Accus. of Neuter pronoun or Abl. with de: Hoc celāri, to be kept ignorant of this. Ter. Celāri de consilio, to be kept ignorant of the plan. Cic. The Dative is rare: Id Alcibiādē celāri non pōtuit, This could not be concealed from Alcibiades. Nep.

2) Verbs of Teaching: Ablative with or without a preposition:

De sua re me docet; He informs me in regard to his case. Cic. Socrātem fidibus docuit, He taught Socrates (with) the lyre. Cic.

3) Verbs of Asking, Demanding: Ablative with a preposition:

Hoc a me poscēre, to demand this from me. Cic. Te hisdem de rebus interrōgo, I ask you in regard to the same things. Cic.

4) Peto, postulo, and quaero take the Ablative of the person with a preposition:

Pacem a Rōmānīs petērunt, They asked peace from the Romans. Caes.

4. INFINITIVE OR CLAUSE as Accusative of thing:

Te sapiēre docet, He teaches you to be wise. Cic.

5. A NEUTER PRONOUN OR ADJECTIVE as a second accusative occurs with many verbs which do not otherwise take two accusatives:

Hoc te hortor, I exhort you to this, I give you this exhortation. Cic. Ea mōnēmur, We are admonished of these things. Cic.

6. COMPOUND VERBS.—A few compounds of trans, circum, ad, and in admit two accusatives, dependent the one upon the verb, the other upon the preposition:

Ibērum cōpiās trajecit, He led his forces across the Ebro. Liv.

In the Passive, not only these, but even other compounds sometimes admit an Accus. depending upon the preposition:

Practervēhor ostia Pantāgiae, I am carried by the mouth of the Pantagia. Virg.

7. POETIC ACCUSATIVE.—In poetry, rarely in prose, verbs of clothing, unclothing—induo, exuo, cingo, accingo, induco, etc.—sometimes take in the Passive an accusative in imitation of the Greek:

Galeam induitur, He puts on his helmet. Virg. Inūtile ferrum cingitur, He girds on his useless sword. Virg. Virgīnes longam indūtae vestem, nymphs attired in long robes. Liv.

II. ACCUSATIVE AS SUBJECT OF INFINITIVE.

375. The Accusative is used as the Subject of an Infinitive; see 545:

Plātōnem fērent in Itāliam vēnisse, They say that Plato came into Italy. Cic.

Plātōnem is the subject of venisse.

III. ACCUSATIVE IN AGREEMENT WITH AN ACCUSATIVE.

376. The Accusative in agreement with another Accusative is either a Predicate Noun or an Appositive:

Orestem se esse dixit, He said that he was Orestes. Cic. Apud Herōdotum, patrem histōriac, in Herodotus, the father of history. Cic. See 362 and 363.

IV. ACCUSATIVE IN AN ADVERBIAL SENSE.

377. In an Adverbial sense the Accusative is used either with or without Prepositions.

1. WITH PREPOSITIONS. See 433.
2. WITHOUT PREPOSITIONS.—The Adverbial use of the Accusative without Prepositions is presented in the following rules.

RULE VIII.—Accusative of Time and Space.

378. DURATION OF TIME and EXTENT OF SPACE are expressed by the Accusative :

Romulus septem et triginta regnavit annos, Romulus reigned thirty-seven years. Liv. Quinque millia passuum ambulare, to walk five miles. Cic. Pædes octoginta distare, to be eighty feet distant. Cæc. Nix quatuor pædes alta, snow four feet deep. Liv. But

1. DURATION OF TIME is sometimes expressed by the Ablative or the Accusative with a Preposition :

1) By the Ablative : Pugnatum est hōris quinque, The battle was fought five hours. Cæc.

2) By the Accusative with Preposition : Per annos viginti certatum est, The war was waged for twenty years. Liv.

2. DISTANCE is sometimes expressed by the Ablative :

Millibus passuum sex consedit, He encamped at the distance of six miles. Cæc. Sometimes with a preposition : Ab millibus passuum duobus, at the distance of two miles. Cæc.

RULE IX.—Accusative of Limit.

379. The Name of a Town used as the Limit of motion is put in the Accusative :

Nuntius Rōmam rēdit, The messenger returns to Rome. Liv. Plāto Tārentum vēnit, Plato came to Tarentum. Cic. Fūgit Tarquīnios, He fled to Tarquinii. Cic. But

1. The Accusative with Ad occurs :

1) In the sense of—to, toward, in the direction of, into the vicinity of :

Tres sunt viae ad Mūtīnam, There are three roads to Mutina. Cic. Ad Zānam pervēnit, He came to the vicinity of Zama. Sall.

2) In contrast with a or ab :

A Diānio ad Sīnōpen, from Dianium to Sinope. Cic.

2. Urbs or Oppidum with a Preposition :

Pervēnit in oppidum Cirtam, He came into the town of Cirta. Sall.

3. Like Names of Towns are used

1) The Accusatives dōmum, dōmos, rus:

Scipio dōmum rēductus est, Scipio was conducted home. Cic. Dōmos abducti, led to their homes. Liv. Ius evolare, to hasten into the country. Cic.

2) Sometimes the Accusative of names of Islands and Peninsulas.

Lātōna confūgit Dēlum, Latona fled to Delos. Cic. Pervenit Chersonēsum, He went to the Chersonesus. Nep.

4. Names of Other Places used as the limit of motion are generally in the Accusative with a Preposition:

In Asiā rēdit, He returns into Asia. Nep.

But the preposition is sometimes omitted before names of countries, and, in the poets, before names of nations and even before common nouns:

Aegyptum prōfūgit, He fled to Egypt. Cic. Italiā vēnit, He came to Italy. Virg. Ibamus Afros, We shall go to the Africans. Virg. Lāvīniā vēnit litōra, He came to the Lavinian shores. Virg.

5. A Poetic Dative for the accusative with or without a preposition occurs:

It clamor coelo (for ad coelum), The shout ascends to heaven. Virg.

RULE X.—Accusative of Specification.

380. A Verb or Adjective may take an Accusative to define its application:

Cāpita velāmur, We have our heads veiled (are veiled as to our heads). Virg. Nūbe hūmēros āmictus, with his shoulders enveloped in a cloud, Hor. Miles fractus membra lābōre, the soldier with limbs shattered with labor (broken as to his limbs). Hor. Aenēas os deo similis, Aeneas like a god in appearance. Virg.

1. In a strict sense, the Accusative of Specification generally specifies the part to which the action or quality particularly belongs. In this sense, it is mostly poetic, but occurs also in prose. See 429.

2. In a freer sense, this Accusative includes the adverbial use of partem, vicem, nihil, of id and genus in id temporis, id actūs (at this time, age), id genus, omne genus, quod genus (for ejus generis, etc.), etc.; also of secus, libra and of many neuter pronouns and adjectives; hoc, illud, id, quid (454, 2), multum, summum, cetera, reliqua, etc. In this sense, it is common in prose.

Maximam partem lacte vivunt, They live mostly (as to the largest part) upon milk. Caes. Nihil mōti sunt, They were not at all moved. Liv. Locus id temporis vacuus erat, The place was at this time vacant. Cic. Aliquid id genus scribere, to write something of this kind. Cic. Quaerit, quid possint, He inquires how powerful they are. Caes. Quid venis, Why do you come?

V. ACCUSATIVE IN EXCLAMATIONS.

RULE XI.—Accusative in Exclamations.

381. The Accusative either with or without an Interjection may be used in Exclamations:

Heu me misērum, Ah me unhappy! Cic. Me misērum, Me miserable!<sup>1</sup> Cic. O fallācem spem, O deceptive hope! Cic. Me caecum, Blind that I am! Cic. Pro deōrum fidem, In the name of the gods! Cic. But

1. An Adjective or Genitive generally accompanies this accusative, as in the examples.

2. O, heh, heu are the Interjections most frequently used with the Accusative, though others occur.

3. Other Cases also occur in exclamations:

1) The Vocative—when an address as well as an exclamation is intended:

Pro sancto Jūpiter, O holy Jupiter. Cic. Infelix Dido, Unhappy Dido. Virg.

2) The Nominative—when the exclamation approaches the form of a statement:

En dextra, Lo the right hand (there is, or that is the right hand)! Virg. Ecce tuae littērae, Lo your letter (comes)! Cic.

3) The Dative—to designate the person after hei, vae, and sometimes after ecce, en, hem.

Hei mihi, Woe to me. Virg. Vae tibi, Woe to you. Ter. Ecce tibi, Lo to you (lo here is to you = observe). Cic. En tibi, This for you (lo I do this for you). Liv. See 389. 2.

SECTION V.

DATIVE.

382. The Dative is the Case of the Indirect Object, and is used

I. With Verbs.

II. With Adjectives.

III. With their Derivatives—Adverbs and Substantives.

I. DATIVE WITH VERBS.

383. INDIRECT OBJECT.—A verb is often attended by a noun designating the object indirectly affected by the action, that to or FOR which something is or is done. A noun thus used is called an Indirect Object.

RULE XII.—Dative with Verbs.

384. The INDIRECT OBJECT is put in the Dative:

I. With INTRANSITIVE and PASSIVE Verbs:

Tempōri cedit, He yields to the time. Cic. Sibi timuerant, They had feared for themselves. Caes. Lābōri stūdent, They devote themselves to labor. Caes. Mundus deo pāret, The world obeys God.<sup>2</sup> Cic. Caesāri supplicābo, I will supplicate Caesar.<sup>3</sup> Cic. Nōbis vita dāta est, Life has been granted to us. Cic. Nūmītōri dēdītūr, He is delivered to Numitor. Liv.

II. With TRANSITIVE Verbs, in connection with the ACCUSATIVE :

Pons īter hostībūs dēdit, The bridge gave a passage to the enemy. Liv. Lēges civitatībūs suis scripsērunt, They prepared laws for their states. Cic.

1. DOUBLE CONSTRUCTION.—A few verbs admit (1) the Dative of the person and the Accusative of the thing, or (2) the Accusative of the person and the Ablative of the thing: alicui rem dōnāre, to present a thing to any one, or aliquem re dōnāre, to present any one with a thing. For the Dat. of the person, the Dat. of a thing sometimes occurs, especially if it involves persons or is in a measure personified :

Mūrum urbi circumdēdit, He surrounded the city with a wall. Nep.

This double construction occurs chiefly with : aspergo, circumdo, circumfundō, dōno, exuo, impertio, induo, inspergo, intercludo.

2. To and For are not always signs of the Dative : thus

1) To, denoting mere motion or direction, is generally expressed by the Accusative with or without a preposition (379. and 379. 4) :

Vēni ad urbem, I came to the city. Cic. Dēlum vēvīmus, We came to Delos. Cic. But the Dative occurs in the poets : It clamor coelo, The shout goes to heaven. Virg.

2) For, in defence of, in behalf of, is expressed by the Abl. with pro ; for the sake of, for the purpose of, sometimes by the Accus. with in.

Pro patria mōri, to die for one's country. Hor. Dimicāre pro libertāte, to fight for liberty. Cic. Sātis in āsum, enough for use. Liv.

3. OTHER ENGLISH EQUIVALENTS.—Conversely the dative is often used where the English either omits to or for, or employs some other preposition. We proceed to specify the cases in which this difference of idiom requires notice.

385. The Dative of Advantage and Disadvantage is used with verbs signifying to benefit or injure, please or displease, command or obey, serve or resist ; also, indulge, spare, pardon, envy, threaten, be angry, believe, persuade, and the like :

Sibi prōsunt, They benefit themselves. Cic. Nōcēre aliōri, to injure another. Cic. Zēnōni placuit, It pleased Zeno. Cic. Displicet Tullo, It displeases Tullus. Liv. Cūpiditatībūs impērāre, to command desires. Cic. Deo pārere, to obey God. Cic. Rēgi servīre, to serve the king. Cic. Hostībūs resistere, to resist the enemy. Caes. Sibi indulgēre, to indulge one's self. Cic. Vitae parcere, to spare life. Nep. Mihi ignoscere, to pardon me. Cic. Minitans patriae, threatening his country. Liv. Irasci amicis, to be angry with friends. Cic. Mihi credere, Believe me. Cic. Iis persuadere, to persuade them. Caes.

1. OTHER CASES.—Some verbs of this class take the Accusative: dēlecto, jūro, laedo, offendo, etc.; fido and confido generally the Ablative (419): Mārium jūvit, He helped Marius. Nep.

2. SPECIAL VERBS.—With a few verbs the force of the dative is found only by attending to the strict meaning of the verb: nūbo, to marry, strictly to veil one's self, as the bride for the bridegroom; mēdeor, to cure, to administer a remedy to; sātisfacio, to satisfy, to do enough for, etc.

3. ACCUSATIVE OR DATIVE with a difference of signification: cūvère ūlīquem, to ward off some one; cūvère ūlīcui, to care for some one; consūtere ūlīquem, to consult, etc.; ūlīcui, to consult for; mētūere, tīmēre ūlīquem, to fear, etc.; ūlīcui, to fear for; prospicere, prōvidere ūlīquid, to foresee; ūlīcui, to provide for; tempērāre, mōderārī ūlīquid, to govern, direct; ūlīcui, to restrain, put a check upon; tempērāre (sibi) ab ūlīquo, to abstain from.

A few verbs admit either the Acc. or Dat. without any special difference of meaning: adūlor, to flatter; cōmītor, to accompany, etc.

4. DATIVE RENDERED FROM, occurs with a few verbs of differing, dissent-ing, repelling, taking away: diffēro, discrēp., disto, dissentio, areco, etc..

Differre cuius, to differ from any one. Nep. Discrēpāre istis, to differ from those. Hor. Sibi dissentire, to dissent from himself. Cic. Sec 412.

5. DATIVE RENDERED WITH, occurs with misceo, admisceo, permisceo, jungo, certo, dēcerto, lueto, altercor, and sometimes facio (434. 2):

Sēvēritātem miscēre cōmītātī, to unite severity with affability. Liv.

Misceo and its compounds, as also junctus and conjunctus, also take the Abl. with or without cum.

386. Dative with Compounds.—The dative is used with many verbs compounded with the prepositions:

ad,	ante,	con,	in,	inter,
ob,	post,	prae,	sub,	super:

Adsum āmīcis, I am present with my friends. Cic. Omnibus antestāre, to surpass all. Cic. Terris cohaeret, It cleaves to the earth. Sen. Vōluptātī inhaerēre, to be connected with pleasure. Cic. Interfuit pugnac, He participated in the battle. Nep. Consiliis obstāre, to oppose plans. Nep. Libertātī ōpes postferre, to sacrifice wealth to liberty. Liv. Pōpūlo praesunt, They rule the people. Cic. Succumbere dōlōribus, to yield to sorrows. Cic. Sūperfuit patri, He survived his father. Liv.

1. TRANSITIVE Verbs thus compounded admit both the Accusative and Dative: Se oppōuit hostibus, He opposed himself to the enemy. Cic.

2. COMPOUNDS OF OTHER PREPOSITIONS, especially ab, de, ex, pro, and circum, sometimes admit the Dative; while several of the compounds specified under the rule admit the Abl.: assuesco, consuesco, insuesco, acquiesco, sūpersēdeo (also with Acc.), etc.

Hoc Caesāri dēfuit, This failed (was wanting to) Caesar. Caes.

3. MOTION OR DIRECTION.—Compounds expressing mere motion or direction generally take the Accusative or repeat the preposition:

Adire aras, to approach the altars. Cic. Ad consules adire, to go to the consuls. Cic.

In some instances where no motion is expressed, several of these compounds admit some other construction for the Dative:

In oratore inest scientia, In the orator is knowledge. Cic.

387. The Dative of Possessor is used with the verb Sum :

Mihi est nŏverca, I have (there is to me) a stepmother. Virg. Fonti nŏmen Arĕthŭsa est, The fountain has (there is to the fountain) the name Arethusa. Cic. But

1. The DATIVE OF THE NAME as well as of the possessor is common in expressions of naming: nŏmen est, nomen datur, etc.:

Scipioni Africāno cognŏmen fuit, Scipio had the surname Africanus. Sall. Here Africāno, instead of being in apposition with cognŏmen, is put by attraction in apposition with Scipioni.

2. The GENITIVE OF THE NAME dependent upon nomen occurs:

Nŏmen Mercŭrii est mihi, I have the name of Mercury. Plaut.

3. By a GREEK IDIOM, vŏlens, cŭpiens, or invitus sometimes accompanies the dative of possessor:

Quibus bellum vŏlentibus erat, They liked the war (it was to them wishing). Tac.

388. Dative of Agent.—The Dative of Agent is used with the Participle in dus :

Suum cuique incommŏdum ferendum est, Every one has his own trouble to bear, or must bear his own trouble. Cic.

1. DATIVE WITH COMPOUND TENSES.—The Dative of the Agent is sometimes used with the compound tenses of passive verbs :

Mihi consilium captum jam diu est, I have a plan long since formed. Cic.

1) The Dative of Agent, with the Participle in dus, as in the Periphrastic Conjugation, designates the person who has the work to do; while with the Compound Tenses of passive verbs, it designates the person who has the work already done. See examples above.

2) HABEO with the Perfect Participle has the same force as EST MIHI with the Perfect Participle (388, 1):

Bellum habuit indictum, He had a war (already) declared. Cic.

3) The Ablative with a or ab occurs:

Est a vŏbis consulendum, Measures must be taken by you. Cic.

2. The REAL AGENT with Passive verbs is denoted by the Ablative with a or ab. The Dative, though the regular construction with the Passive Periphrastic conjugation, does not regard the person strictly as agent, but rather as possessor or indirect object. Thus, Suum cuique incommŏdum est, means, Every one has his trouble (cuique Dative of Possessor), and Suum cuique incommŏdum ferendum est, Every one has his trouble to bear. So too, Mihi consilium est, I have a plan; Mihi consilium captum est, I have a plan (already) formed.

3. DATIVE WITH SIMPLE TENSES.—The Dative is used with the tenses for incomplete action, to designate the person who is at once Agent and Indirect Object, the person BY whom and FOR (TO) whom the action is performed :

Hōnesta bōnis vīris quaeruntur, Honorable things are sought by good men, i. e., for themselves. Cic.

4. DATIVE OF AGENT IN POETS.—In the poets the Dative is often used for the Ablative with a or ab, to designate simply the agent of the action :

Non intelligor ulli, I am not understood by any one. Ovid.

389. Ethical Dative.—A Dative of the person to whom the thought is of special interest is often introduced into the Latin sentence when it cannot be imitated in English :

At tibi vēnit ad me, But lo, he comes to me. Cic. Ad illa mihi intendat ānimum, Let him, I pray, direct his attention to those things. Liv. Quid mihi Celsus āgit? What is my Celsus doing? Hor. But

1. The ETHICAL DATIVE is always a personal pronoun.

2. ETHICAL DATIVE with VOLO and INTERJECTIONS :

1) With VOLO: Quid vōbis vultis? What do you wish, intend, mean? Liv. Avāritia quid sibi vult, What does avarice mean, or what object can it have? Cic.

2) With INTERJECTIONS: hei, vae and some others: Hei mihi, ah me. Virg. Vae tibi, Woe to you. Ter. See 381. 3. 3).

RULE XIII.—Two Datives—To which and For which.

390. Two Datives—the OBJECT TO WHICH and the OBJECT FOR WHICH—occur with a few verbs :

I. With INTRANSITIVE and PASSIVE Verbs :

Mālo est hōmīnibus āvāritia, Avarice is an evil to men (lit. is to men for an evil). Cic. Est mihi cūrae, It is a care to me. Cic. Dōmus dēdēcōri dōmīno fit, The house becomes a disgrace to its owner. Cic. Vēnit Atticis auxilio, He came to the assistance of the Athenians. Nep. Hoc illi tribuēbātur ignāviae, This was imputed to him as cowardice (for cowardice). Cic. His subsidiō missus est, He was sent to them as aid. Nep.

II. With TRANSITIVE Verbs in connection with the ACCUSATIVE :

Quinque cohortes castris praesidio rēliquit, He left five cohorts for the defence of the camp (lit. to the camp for a defence). Caes. Pēricles agros suos dōno rei publicae dedit, Pericles gave his lands to the republic as a present (lit. for a present). Just.

1. Verbs with TWO DATIVES are

1) Intransitives signifying to be, become, go, and the like; sum, fio, etc.

2) Transitives signifying to give, send, leave, impute, regard, choose, and the like: do, dono, dūco, hābeo, mitto, rēlinquo, tribuo, verto, etc. These take in the Active two datives with an accusative, but in the Passive two datives only, as the Accusative of the active becomes the subject of the passive. See 371. 6.

2. ONE DATIVE OMITTED.—One dative is often omitted or its place supplied by a Predicate Noun:

Ea sunt fisul, These things are of use (for use). Caes. Tu illi pater es, You are a father to him. Tac.

3. With Audiens two Datives sometimes occur, the Dat. dicto dependent upon audiens and a personal Dat. dependent upon dicto-audiens treated as a verb of obeying (385):

Dicto sum audiens, I am listening to the word, I obey. Plaut. Nobis dicto audiens est, He is obedient to us. Cic. Sometimes dicto obediens is used in the same way: Magistro dicto obediens, obedient to his master. Plaut.

II. DATIVE WITH ADJECTIVES.

RULE XIV.—Dative.

391. With Adjectives the OBJECT TO WHICH the quality is directed is put in the Dative:

Patriac solum omnibus carum est, The soil of their country is dear to all. Cic. Id aptum est tempori, This is adapted to the time. Cic. Omni aetati mors est communis, Death is common to every age. Cic. Canis similis lupo est, A dog is similar to a wolf. Cic. Naturae accommodatum, adapted to nature. Cic. Graciae utile, useful to Greece. Nep.

1. ADJECTIVES WITH DATIVE.—The most common are those signifying: Agreeable, easy, friendly, like, near, necessary, suitable, subject, useful, together with others of a similar or opposite meaning, and verbals in bilis.

Such are: accommodatus, aqualis, alienus, amicus and inimicus, aptus, carus, facilis and difficilis, fidelis and infidelis, finitimus, gratus and ingratus, idoneus, jucundus and injucundus, molestus, necessarius, notus and ignotus, noxius, par and dispar, perniciosus, propinquus, proprius, salutarius, similis and dissimilis, vicinus, etc.

2. OTHER CONSTRUCTIONS sometimes occur where the learner would expect a Dative:

1) Accusative with a Preposition: (1) in, erga, adversus with adjectives signifying friendly, hostile, etc., and (2) ad, to denote the object or end for which, with adjectives signifying useful, suitable, inclined, etc.:

Perrindulgens in patrem, very kind to his father. Cic. Multas ad res perutilis, very useful for many things. Cic. Ad comitatem praelivis, inclined to affability. Cic. Pronus ad luctum, inclined to mourning. Cic.

2) Accusative without a Preposition with propior, proximus: Propior montem, nearer the mountain. Sall. Proximus mare, nearest to the sea. Caes. See 433 and 437.

3) Ablative with or without a Preposition: Alienum a vita mea, foreign to my life. Ter. Homine alienissimum, most foreign to man. Cic. Ei cum Roscio communis, common to him and Roscius (with Roscius). Cic.

4) Genitive: (1) with proprius, communis, contrarius; (2) with similis, dissimilis, assimilis, consimilis, par and dispar, especially to express likeness in character; (3) with adjectives used substantively, sometimes even in the superlative; (4) sometimes with affinis, alienus, insuetus, and a few others:

Pöpüli Römāni est propria libertas, Liberty is characteristic of the Roman people. Cic. Alexandri similis, like Alexander, i. e., in character. Cic. Dispar sui, unlike itself. Cic. Cujus pares, like whom. Cic. Amicissimus hominum, the best friend of the men, i. e., the most friendly to them. Cic.

3. Idem occurs with the Dative, especially in the poets:

Idem facit occidenti, He does the same as kill, or as he who kills. Hor.

4. For the GENITIVE AND DATIVE with an adjective, see 399. 6.

III. DATIVE WITH DERIVATIVE NOUNS AND ADVERBS.

RULE XV.—Dative.

392. A few Derivative Nouns and Adverbs take the Dative after the analogy of their primitives:

I. VERBAL NOUNS.—Justitia est obtemperatio legibus, Justice is obedience to laws. Cic. Sibi responsio, replying to himself. Cic. Opulento homini servitus dura est, Serving a rich man (servitude to) is hard. Plaut.

II. ADVERBS.—Congruenter naturae vivere, to live in accordance with nature. Cic. Sibi constanter dicere, to speak consistently with himself. Cic. Proxime hostium castris, next to the camp of the enemy. Caes.

1. DATIVE WITH NOUNS.—Nouns construed with the Dative are derived from verbs which govern the Dative. With other nouns the Dative is generally best explained as dependent upon some verb, expressed or understood:

Tegumenta galeis milites facere jubet, He orders the soldiers to make coverings for their helmets. Caes. Here galeis is probably the indirect object of facere and not dependent upon tegimenta. In conspectum venerat hostibus, He had come in sight of the enemy. Caes. Here hostibus is dependent not upon conspectum, but upon venerat; the action, coming in sight, is conceived of as done to the enemy. See 393. 5.

2. DATIVE WITH ADVERBS.—A few adverbs not included in the above rule occur with the Dative: huic una = una cum hoc, with him.

SECTION VI.

GENITIVE.

393. The Genitive in its primary meaning denotes source or cause, but in its general use, it corresponds to the English possessive, or the objective with of, and expresses various adjective relations.

1. But sometimes, especially when Objective (396, II.), the Genitive is best rendered by to, for, from, in, on account of, etc.:

Beneficii gratia, gratitude for a favor. Cic. Laborum fuga, escape from labors. Cic.

394. The Genitive is used

- I. With Nouns.
- II. With Adjectives.
- III. With Verbs.
- IV. With Adverbs.

I. GENITIVE WITH NOUNS.

RULE XVI.—Genitive.

395. Any Noun, not an Appositive, qualifying the meaning of another noun, is put in the Genitive :

Cātōnis ōrātiōnes, Cato's orations. Cic. Castra hostium, the camp of the enemy. Liv. Mors Hāmīlcārīs, the death of Hamilcar. Liv. Deum mētus, the fear of the gods. Liv. Vir consīlī magni, a man of great prudence. Caes. See 363.

396. Varieties of Genitive with Nouns.—The principal varieties of the Genitive are the following :

I. The SUBJECTIVE GENITIVE designates the subject or agent of the action, feeling, etc., including the author and possessor :

Serpentis morsus, the bite of the serpent. Cic. Pāvcr Nūmīdārūm, the fear of the Numidians. Liv. Xēnōphontis librī, the books of Xenophon. Cic. Fānum Neptūni, the temple of Neptune. Nep.

II. The OBJECTIVE GENITIVE designates the object toward which the action or feeling is directed :

Amor glōriæ, the love of glory. Cic. Mēmōria mālōrum, the recollection of sufferings. Cic. Deum mētus, the fear of the gods. Liv.

III. The PARTITIVE GENITIVE designates the whole of which a part is taken :

Quis vestrum, which of you? Cic. Vītæ pars, a part of life. Cic. Omnium sāpientissimū, the wisest of all men. Cic.

1. NOSTRUM and VESTRUM.—As partitive genitives, nostrum and vestrum are generally used instead of nostri and vestri.

2. USE.—The Partitive Genitive is used

1) With pars, nemo, nil ; nouns of quantity, number, weight, etc. : mōdiū, legio, talentum, and any nouns used partitively :

Equōrum pars, a part of the horses. Liv. Mēdimnum trītīci, a bushel of wheat. Cic. Pēcūniæ tālentum, a talent of money. Nep. Quōrum Cāius, of whom Caius. Cic.

2) With Numerals used Substantively :

Quōrum quattuor, four of whom. Liv. Sāpientum octāvus, the eighth of the wise men. Hor.

(1) But the Genitive should not be used when the two words refer to the same number of objects, even though of be used in English: Vīvi qui (not quōrum) duo sūpersunt, the living, of whom two survive. Cic.

(3) With Pronouns and Adjectives used substantively, especially (1) with hic, ille, quis, qui, alter, ūter, neuter, etc.; (2) with comparatives and superlatives; (3) with neuters: hoc, id, illud, quid; multum, plus, plurimum, minus, minimum, tantum, quantum, etc.; (4) with omnes and cuncti, rarely:

Quis vestrum, which of you? Cic. Consūlum alter, one of the consuls. Liv. Prior hōrum, the former of these. Nep. Gallōrum fortissīmi, the bravest of the Gauls. Caes. Id temporis, that (of) time. Cic. Multum ōpērae, much (of) service. Cic. Hōmīnum cuncti, all of the men. Ovid. But omnes and cuncti generally agree with their nouns: Omnes hōmīnes, all men. Cic.

Pronouns and Adjectives, except neuters, when used with the Part. Gen. take the gender of the Gen. unless they agree directly with some other word; see Consūlum alter above.

(4) With a few Adverbs used substantively; (1) with adverbs of Quantity—abunde, affatim, nīmis, pārūm, partim, quoad, sātis, etc.; (2) with adverbs of Place—hic, huc, nusquam, ibi, etc.; (3) with adverbs of Extent, degree, etc.—eo, huc, quo; (4) with superlatives:

Armōrum affatim, abundance of arms. Liv. Lūcis nīmis, too much (of) light. Ovid. Sāpientiae pārūm, little (of) wisdom. Sall. Partim cōpiārum, a portion of the forces. Liv. Quoad ejus facere pōtest, as far as (as much of it as) he is able to do. Cic. Nusquam gentium, nowhere in the world. Cic. Huc arrōgantiae, to this degree of insolence. Tac. Maxīme omnium, most of all. Cic.

3. Lūci and lūcōrum occur as partitive genitives in expressions of time:

Intērea lūci, in the mean time. Ter. Adhuc lūcōrum, hitherto. Plaut.

4. For id gēnus = ejus gēnēris, sēcus, libra, etc., see 380. 2.

5. For Predicate Genitive, see 401.

IV. The GENITIVE OF CHARACTERISTIC designates character or quality, including value, price, size, weight, age, etc.

Vir maxīmi consīlii, a man of very great prudence. Nep. Mitis ingēnii jūvēnis, a youth of mild disposition. Liv. Vestis magni prētii, a garment of great value. Cic. Exsīlium dēcem annōrum, an exile of ten years. Nep. Cūrōna parvi pondēris, a crown of small weight. Liv. See 402, III. 1.

1. A noun designating character or quality may be either in the Gen. or in the Abl. See 428.

1) But it must be accompanied by an adjective, numeral, or pronoun, unless it be a compound containing such modifier; as hujusmodi = hujus modi: tridui, from tres dies; bidui, from duo (bis) dies. With tridui and bidui, via or spatium is sometimes omitted: Abcraut bidui, They were two days' journey distant. Cic.

V. The GENITIVE OF SPECIFICATION has the general force of an Appositive (363):

Virtus continentiae, the virtue of self-control. Cic. Verbum voluptatis, the word (of) pleasure. Cic. Oppidum Antiöchiaë, the city of Antioch. Cic. Tellus Ausöniacæ, the land of Ausonia. Virg.

397. Peculiarities.—We notice the following:

1. The GOVERNING WORD is often omitted. Thus

Aedes, temple, discipulus, hñmo, jävënis, puer, etc.; causa, gratia, and indeed any word when it can be readily supplied:

Ad Jövis (sc. aedem), near the temple of Jupiter. Liv. Hannibal annörum növem (sc. puer), Hannibal a boy nine years of age. Liv. Naves sui commödi (causa) fecërat, He had built vessels for his own advantage. Caes. Conferre vitam Trëbonii cum Döläbellæ (sc. vita), to compare the life of Trebonius with that of Dolabella. Cic.

1) The governing word is generally omitted when it has been expressed before another Gen. as in the last example; and then the second Gen. is sometimes attracted into the case of the governing word: Nätüra hömínis belüls (for beluärum natürae) anteecëdit, The nature of man surpasses (that of) the brutes. Cic.

2) In many cases where we supply son, daughter, husband, wife, the ellipsis is only apparent, the Gen. depending directly on the proper noun expressed:

Hasdrübal Giscönis, Gisco's Hasdrubal, or Hasdrubal the son of Gisco. Liv. Hectöris Andrömäche, Hector's Andromache, or Andromache the wife of Hector. Virg.

2. Two GENITIVES are sometimes used with the same noun—generally one Subjective and one Objective:

Memmii ödium pötentiæ, Memmius's hatred of power. Sall.

3. GENITIVE AND POSSESSIVE.—A Genitive sometimes accompanies a Possessive, especially the Gen. of ipse, sölus, ünus, omnis:

Tua ipsius ämicitia, your own friendship. Cic. Meum sölus peccätum, my fault alone. Cic. Nömen meum absentis, my name while absent. Cic.

Here ipsius agrees with tui (of you) involved in tua; sölus and absentis, with mei (of me) involved in meum.

398. Other Constructions—for the Genitive occur.

1. ABLATIVE OF CHARACTERISTIC. See 428.

2. An ADJECTIVE is sometimes used for the Genitive:

Bellica glöria = belli glöria, the glory of war. Cic. Conjux Hectörea = conjux Hectöris, the wife of Hector. Virg.

3. The POSSESSIVE is regularly used for the Subjective Gen. of Personal pronouns, rarely for the Objective:

Mea dōmus, my house. Cic. Fāma tua, your fame. Cic.

4. CASE WITH PREPOSITION.—A case with a preposition may be used for the Gen.; especially, 1) For the Objective Genitive, the Accusative with in, erga, adversus:—2) For the Partitive Genitive, the Accusative with inter, ante, apud, or the Ablative with ex, de, in:

Odiū in hōmīnum gēnus, hatred of or towards the race of men. Cic. Erga vos amor, love towards you. Cic. Inter rēges opulentissimū, the most wealthy of (among) kings. Sen. Unus ex vīris, one of the heroes. Cic.

5. A DATIVE depending on the VERB is sometimes used, instead of the Genitive depending on a noun:

Urbi fundāmenta jācere, to lay the foundations of (for) the city. Liv. Caesāri ad pēdes projicere, to cast at the feet of Caesar, i. e., before Caesar at his feet. Caes. See 392. 1.

1) The two constructions, the Gen. and the Case with Prep., are sometimes combined in the same sentence.

II. GENITIVE WITH ADJECTIVES.

RULE XVII.—Genitive.

399. Many Adjectives take a Genitive to complete their meaning:

Avidus laudis, desirous of praise. Cic. Otii cupīdus, desirous of leisure. Liv. Amans sui virtus, virtue fond of itself. Cic. Efficiens vōluptātis, productive of pleasure. Cic. Glōriæ mēmōr, mindful of glory. Liv.

1. FORCE OF THIS GENITIVE.—The genitive here retains its usual force—of, in respect of—and may be used after adjectives which admit this relation.

2. ADJECTIVES WITH THE GENITIVE.—The most common are

1) Verbals in ax and participles in ans and ens used adjectively:

Virtūtum fērax, productive of virtues. Liv. Tēnax prōpōsiti, tenacious (steadfast) of purpose. Hor. Amans patriæ, loving (fond of) his country. Cic. Fūgiens lābōris, shunning labor. Caes.

2) Adjectives denoting desire, knowledge, skill, recollection, participation, mastery, fulness, and their contraries:

(1) DESIRE, AVERSION—avidus, cupīdus, stūdiōsus; fastīdiōsus, etc.; sometimes aemūlus and invidus, which also take the Dative:

Contentiōnis cupīdus, desirous of contention. Cic. Sāpientiæ stūdiōsus, studious of (student of) wisdom. Cic.

(2) KNOWLEDGE, SKILL, RECOLLECTION with their contraries—gnārus, ignarus, consultus, conscius, inscius, nescius, certus, incertus, suspensus; prudus, prudens, imprudens; peritus, imperitus, rudis, insuetus; memor, immemor, etc.:

Rei gnarus, acquainted with the thing. Cic. Prudens rei militaris, skilled in military science. Nep. Peritus belli, skilled in war. Nep. Insuetus laboris, unaccustomed to labor. Cæs. Gloriam memor, mindful of glory. Liv. Immemor beneficii, forgetful of kindness. Cic.

(3) PARTICIPATION, FULLNESS, MASTERY, with their contraries—affinis, consors, exors, expers, particeps; plenus, fertilis, refertus, egenuus, inops, vacuus; potens, impotens, compos, impos, etc.:

Affinis culpae, sharing the fault. Cic. Rationis particeps, endowed with (sharing) reason. Cic. Rationis expers, destitute of reason. Cic. Vita metus plena, a life full of fear. Cic. Mei potens sum, I am master of myself. Liv. Virtutis compos, capable of virtue. Cic.

3. OTHER ADJECTIVES also occur with the Genitive.

1) A few of a signification kindred to the above:

Manifestus rerum capitulum, convicted of capital crimes. Sall. Noxius conjurationis, guilty of conspiracy. Tac.

2) Similis, assimilis, consimilis, dissimilis; par and dispar, especially to denote internal or essential likeness. See 391. 2. 4).

3) Sometimes alienus, communis, proprius, publicus, sacer, vicinus; Alienus dignitatis, inconsistent with dignity. Cic. Viri proprius, characteristic of a man. Cic.

4) In the poets and late prose writers, especially Tacitus, a Genitive of Cause occurs with a few adjectives, especially those denoting emotion or feeling, and a Gen. having the force of—in, in respect of, for, especially animi and ingenii, with many adjectives:

Axius potentiae, anxious for power. Tac. Lassus militiae, tired of military service. Hor. See Gen. with Verbs, 409. 2 and 4. Aeger animi, afflicted in mind. Liv. Axius animi, anxious in mind. Sall. Integer aevi, whole in respect of age, i. e., in the bloom of youth. Virg.

4. PARTITIVE GENITIVE with Adjectives. See 396. III. 3).

5. OTHER CONSTRUCTIONS for the Genitive also occur:

1) DATIVE: Manus subtilis avide, hands ready for sudden events. Tac. Insuetus moribus Romanis, unaccustomed to Roman manners. Liv. Factinori mens conscia, a mind conscious of crime. Cic.

2) ACCUSATIVE WITH PREPOSITION: Insuetus ad pugnam, unaccustomed to battle. Liv. Fertilis ad omnia, productive for all things. Plin. Avidus in novas res, eager for new things. Liv.

3) ABLATIVE WITH OR WITHOUT PREPOSITION: Prudens in jure civili, learned in civil law. Cic. Rudis in jure civili, uninstructed in civil law. Cic. His de rebus conscius, aware of those things. Cic. Vacuus de defensoribus, destitute of defenders. Cæs. Cuius vacuus, free from cares. Cic. Refertus bonis, replete with blessings. Cic.

6. THE GENITIVE AND DATIVE occur with the same adjective:

Sibi conscius culpae, conscious to themselves of fault. Cic.

III. GENITIVE WITH VERBS.

400. The Genitive with Verbs includes

- I. Predicate Genitive.
- II. Genitive of Place.
- III. Genitive in Special Constructions.

I. Predicate Genitive.

RULE XVIII.—Predicate Genitive.

401. A Predicate Noun denoting a different person or thing from its Subject is put in the Genitive :

Omnia hostium erant, All things belonged to the enemy.<sup>1</sup> Liv. Sēnātus Hannibālis erat, The senate was Hannibal's, i. e., in his interest. Liv. Jūdicis est vērū sēqui, To follow the truth is the duty of a judge.<sup>2</sup> Cic. Parvi pretii est, It is of small value. Cic.

1. PREDICATE GENITIVE AND PREDICATE NOMINATIVE.—The Predicate Genitive is distinguished from the Predicate Nominative and Accusative by the fact that it always designates a different person or thing from its subject, while they always designate the same person or thing as their subjects. See 362.

2. PREDICATE GENITIVE AND PREDICATE ADJECTIVE.—The genitive is often nearly or quite equivalent to a predicate adjective (353. 1): hōmīnis est = hūmānum est, it is the mark of a man, is human; stultī est = stultum est, it is foolish. The Gen. is the regular construction in adjectives of one ending: sāpientis est (for sāpiens est), it is the part of a wise man, is wise.

402. Varieties of Predicate Genitive.—The principal are,

I. SUBJECTIVE OR POSSESSIVE GENITIVE—generally best rendered by—of, property of, duty, business, mark, characteristic of :

Hæc hostium erant, These things were of (belonged to) the enemy. Liv. Est impērātoris sup̄erāre, It is the duty of a commander to conquer. Caes.

II. PARTITIVE GENITIVE :

Fies nōbīlium fontium, You will become one of the noble fountains. Hor.

III. GENITIVE OF CHARACTERISTIC—including value, price, size, weight, etc. :

Summæ sicutātis est, He is (a man) of the highest ability. Cic. Op̄era magni fuit, The assistance was of great value. Nep.

1. The Genitive of Price or Value is generally an adjective belonging to pretii understood; but sometimes pretii is expressed :

<sup>1</sup> Lit. were of the enemy, or were the enemy's.

<sup>2</sup> Lit. is of a judge.

Parvi pretii est, It is of little value. Cic. See 396. IV.

2. Price and Value with verbs of buying, selling, and the like, are expressed

1) Regularly by the Ablative. See 416.

2) Sometimes by the Genitive of adjectives, like the Pred. Gen. of price: Vendo frumentum pluris, I sell grain at a higher price. Cic.

But the Gen. is thus used only in indefinite and general expressions of price and value. A definite price or value regularly requires the Ablative.

3) In familiar discourse sometimes by the genitives, assis, flocci, nihili, pili and a few others:

Non flocci pendere, not to care a straw (loek of wool) for. Plaut.

3. Boni and Aequi, as Predicate Genitives, occur in such expressions as aequi boni facere and boni consilire, to take in good part.

403. Verbs with Predicate Genitive.—The Predicate genitive occurs most frequently with sum and facio, but sometimes also with verbs of seeming and regarding:

Haec hostium erant, These things were the enemy's. Liv. Oram Romanae ditionis fecit, He brought the coast under (of) Roman rule. Liv.

1. Transitive Verbs of this class admit in the active, an Accusative with the Genitive, as in the second example.

2. With Verbs of Seeming and Regarding—videor, habeo, duco, puto, etc.—esse may generally be supplied:

Homini videtur, It seems to be (esse) the mark of a man. Cic.

404. Other Constructions for the Genitive also occur.

1. The Possessive is regularly used for the Pred. Gen. of personal pronouns:

Est tuum (not tui) videre, It is your duty to see. Cic.

2. The Genitive with Officium, Manus, Negotium, Proprium:

Senatus officium est, It is the duty of the senate. Cic. Fuit proprium populi, It was characteristic of the people. Cic.

The Predicate Genitive could in most instances be explained by supplying some such word, but it seems to be more in accordance with the idiom of the Latin to regard the genitive as complete in itself.

3. The Ablative of Characteristic. See 428.

II. Genitive of Place. See 421. II.

III. Genitive in Special Constructions.

405. The Genitive, either alone or with an Accusative, is used in a few constructions which deserve separate mention.

RULE XIX.—Genitive with Certain Verbs.

406. The Genitive is used

I. With misēreor and misēresco:

Misērere lābōrum, Pity the labors. Virg. Misērescīte rēgis, Pity the king. Virg.

II. With rēcorder, mēmīni, rēmīniscor, and oblīviscor:

Mēmīnit practērītōrum, He remembers the past. Cic. Oblītus sum mei, I have forgotten myself. Ter. Flāgītīōrum rēcordāri, to recollect base deeds. Cic. Rēmīnisci virtūtis, to remember virtue. Cæc.

III. With rēfert and intērest:

Illōrum rēfert, It concerns them. Sall. Intērest omnium, It is the interest of all. Cic.

1. EXPLANATION.—The Genitive may be explained as dependent upon re in rēfert, and upon re or causa to be supplied with intērest. With the other verbs it accords with the Greek idiom, and with verbs of remembering and forgetting, it also conforms to the analogy of the Gen. with the adjectives mēmōr and immēmōr (393. 2. 2).

2. CONSTRUCTION ACCORDING TO SENSE.—The expression Vēnit mihi in mentem, It occurs to my mind, equivalent to rēmīniscor, is sometimes construed with the Gen.:

Vēnit mihi Plātōnis in mentem, The recollection of Plato comes to my mind, or I recollect Plato. Cic. But the Nom. is also admissible: Non vēnit in mentem pugna, Does not the battle come to mind? Liv.

407. OTHER CONSTRUCTIONS with verbs of Remembering and Forgetting also occur:

1. The Accusative: Mēmīnēram Paulum, I remembered Paulus. Cic.

This is the regular construction for the thing (not person), with rēcorder, and, if it be a neuter pronoun or adjective, also with other verbs:

Triumphos rēcordāri, to recall triumphs. Cic. Ea rēmīniscere, Remember those things. Cic.

2. The Ablative with De: Rēcordāre de cōtēris, Bethink yourself of the others. Cic.

This is the regular construction for the person with rēcorder, and occurs also with mēmīni, though that verb takes the Acc. of a contemporary.

408. The CONSTRUCTION with Rēfert and Intērest is as follows:

1. The PERSON or THING interested is denoted

1) By the Genitive as under the rule.

2) By the Ablative Feminine of the Possessive :

Meā rēfert, It concerns me. Ter. Intērest meā, It interests me. Cic.

This possessive regularly takes the place of the Gen. of personal pronouns, and may be explained as agreeing with re in rēfert, and with re or causa to be supplied with interest.

3) By the Dative, or Accusative with or without Ad ; but rarely, and chiefly with rēfert, which moreover often omits the person :

Quid rēfert vīventi, What does it concern one living ? Hor. Ad me rēfert, It concerns me. Plaut.

2. The SUBJECT OF IMPORTANCE, or that which involves the interest, is expressed by an Infinitive or Clause, or by a Neuter Pronoun :

Intērest omnium recte fīcere, To do right is the interest of all. Cic. Vestrā hoc intērest, This interests you. Cic.

3. The DEGREE OF INTEREST is expressed by an Adverb, by a Neuter used adverbially, or by a Gen. of Value (402. 1 and 2) :

Vestrā maxime intērest, It especially interests you. Cic. Quid nostrā rēfert, What does it concern us ? Cic. Magni intērest meā, It greatly interests me. Cic.

4. The OBJECT OR END for which it is important is expressed by the Accusative with ad, rarely by the Dative :

Ad hōnōrem nostrum intērest, It is important for our honor. Cic.

409. GENITIVE WITH OTHER VERBS.—Many other verbs sometimes take the Genitive :

1. Some Verbs of Plenty and Want, as ēgeo, indigeo, like adjectives of the same meaning (399. 2. 2) :

Virtus exercitiōnis indiget, Virtue requires exercise. Cic. Auxīlii ēgere, to need aid. Caes.

2. Some Verbs of Emotion or Feeling like adjectives (399. 3. 4) :

Anīmi pendeo, I am uncertain in mind. Cic. Diserūior ānīmi, I am troubled in mind. Plaut.

3. A few Verbs denoting Mastery or Participation like adjectives (399. 2. 2) ), pōtior, ādīpiscor, regno :

Stēllae pōtius est, He became master of Sicily. Nep. Rērum ādeptus est, He obtained the power. Tac. Regnāvīt pōpūlorū, He was king of the people. Hor.

4. A Genitive of Separation or Cause occurs in the poets, with a few verbs—abstīneo, dēcipio, dēsīno, dēsisto ; mīror :

Abstīnere irārum, to abstain from anger. Hor. Lābōrum dēcipitur, He is beguiled of his labors. Hor. Dēsīno quērēlārum, Cease from complaints. Hor. Dēsistere pugnac, to desist from the battle. Virg.

5. Sātūgo and Sātūgito admit a genitive dependent upon sat (396. 4) ), and verbs of Promising admit the Gen. damni infecti :

Rērum sātūgere, to be occupied with (have enough of) business. Ter.

6. Genitive of Gerunds and Gerundives. See 563 and 563. 5.

RULE XX.—Accusative and Genitive.

410. A few transitive verbs take both the Accusative of the Person and the Genitive of the Thing :

I. Verbs of Reminding, Admonishing.

II. Verbs of Accusing, Convicting, Acquitting.

III. Misēret, Poenitet, Pūdet, Taedet, and Piget.

I. REMINDING, ETC.—Te amicitiae commōnēfacit, He reminds you of friendship. Cic. Milites nēcessitātis mōnet, He reminds the soldiers of the necessity. Ter.

II. ACCUSING, ETC.—Vīros scēlēris arguis, You accuse men of crime. Cic. Lēvitatē eum convincere, to convict him of levity. Cic. Absolvēre injūriam eum, to acquit him of injustice. Cic.

III. MISERET, POENITET, ETC.—Eōrum nos misēret, We pity them (it moves our pity of them). Cic. Consilii me poenitet, I repent of my purpose. Cic. Me stultitiā meae pūdet, I am ashamed of my folly. Cic.

1. The GENITIVE OF THING designates, with verbs of reminding, etc., that to which the attention is called; with verbs of accusing, etc., the crime, charge, and with misēret, poenitet, etc., the object which produces the feeling. See examples.

2. PASSIVE CONSTRUCTION.—The personal verbs included under this Rule retain the Genitive in the Passive:

Accūsātus es: prōditiōnis, He was accused of treason. Nep.

3. Verbs of REMINDING, mōneo, admōneo, commōneo, commōnēfacio, sometimes take, instead of the Genitive,

1) The Accusative of a neuter pronoun or adjective, rarely of a substantive, thus admitting two accusatives:

Illud me admōnes, You admonish me of that. Cic.

2) The Ablative with de, mōneo generally so:

De proelio vos admōnui, I have reminded you of the battle. Cic.

4. Verbs of ACCUSING, CONVICTING, sometimes take, instead of the Genitive of the crime, etc.,

1) The Genitive with nōmīne or crīmīne:

Nōmīne conjuratiōnis damnāti sunt, They were condemned on the charge of conspiracy. Cic.

2) The Accusative of a neuter pronoun or adjective, rarely:

Id me accūsas, You accuse me of that. Plaut.

3) The Ablative alone or with a preposition, generally de:

De pēcūniis rēpētundis damnātus est, He was convicted of extortion. Cic.

5. With Verbs of CONDEMNING, the Punishment may be expressed

1) By the Genitive :

Cāpītis condemnāre, to condemn to death. Cic.

(1) Voti damnāri, to be condemned to fulfill a vow = to obtain a wish.

2) By the Accusative with a preposition, generally ad :

Ad bestias condemnāre, to condemn to the wild beasts. Suet.

3) By the Ablative; and, in the poets, sometimes by the Dative :

Cāpīte damnāre, to condemn to death. Cic.

6. With Miseret, Poenitet, Pudet, Taedet, and Piget, an Infinitive or Clause is sometimes used, rarely a neuter pronoun or nihil :

Me poenitet vixisse, I repent having lived. Cic.

1) Like Miseret are sometimes used miserescit, commiserescit, miseretur, commiseretur. Like Taedet are used pertaedet, pertaesum est.

2) Pudet sometimes takes the Gen. of the Person before whom one is ashamed: Me tui pudet, I am ashamed in your presence. Ter. Pudet hominum, It is a shame in the sight of men. Liv.

3) Pertaesus admits the Accusative of the object:

Pertaesus ignāviam suam, disgusted with his own inaction. Suet.

7. The ACCUSATIVE and GENITIVE occur with other Verbs.—Thus

1) With some Verbs of FREEING with the accessory notion of ACQUITTING: Eum culpaē libērāre, to free him from blame, i. e., to acquit him of fault. Liv. So purgo, decipio, and the like.

2) With a few Verbs of FILLING, like adjectives and verbs of plenty (399. 2. 2) and 409. 1), especially compleo and impleo :

Multitudīnem religiōis implevit, He inspired (filled) the multitude with religion. Liv. See 419. 2.

3) With a few transitive verbs of EMOTION or FEELING (409. 2), rarely: Te angis ānīmi, You make yourself anxious in mind. Plaut.

IV. GENITIVE WITH ADVERBS.

411. The Genitive is used with a few Adverbs:

1. With Partitives. See 396. III. 2.

2. With Prīdie and Postrīdie, perhaps dependent upon die contained in them, and with Ergo and Tēnus, originally nouns :

Prīdie ejus diēi, on the day before that day. Caes. Postrīdie ejus diēi, on the day after that day. Caes. Virtūtis ergo, on account of virtue. Cic. Lumbōrum tēnus, as far as the loins. Cic. For tēnus with the Abl., see 434.

SECTION VII.

ABLATIVE.

412. The Ablative in its primary meaning is closely related to the Genitive; but in its general use, it corresponds to the English objective with—from, by, in, with, and expresses various adverbial relations. It is accordingly used with Verbs and Adjectives, while the genitive, as the case of adjective relations, is most common with Nouns. See 393.

413. The Ablative is used as

I. Ablative of Cause, Manner, Means—including

1. Ablative of Price.
2. Ablative after Comparatives.
3. Ablative of Difference.
4. Ablative in Special Constructions.

II. Ablative of Place.

III. Ablative of Time.

IV. Ablative of Characteristic.

V. Ablative of Specification.

VI. Ablative Absolute.

VII. Ablative with Prepositions.

I. ABLATIVE OF CAUSE, MANNER, MEANS.

RULE XXI.—Cause, Manner, Means

414. Cause, Manner, and Means are denoted by the Ablative:

Ars utilitāte laudātur, An art is praised because of its usefulness. Cic. Glōria dūcitur, He is led by glory. Cic. Duobus modis fit, It is done in two ways. Cic. Sol omnia luce collustrat, The sun illumines all things with its light. Cic. Aeger erat vulneribus, He was ill in consequence of his wounds. Nep. Laetus sorte tua, pleased with your lot. Hor.

1. APPLICATION OF RULE.—This ablative is of very frequent occurrence, and is used both with verbs and adjectives.

2. The ABLATIVE OF CAUSE designates that by which, by reason of which, because of which, in accordance with which anything is or is done.

1) This includes such ablatives as meo iudicio, in accordance with my opinion; mea sententia, jussu, impulsu, monitu, etc.; also the Abl. with doleo, gaudeo, gloriator, laboro, etc.

The Abl. with afficio, and with sto in the sense of depend upon, abide by, is best explained as Means. Afficio and the Abl. are together often equivalent to another verb: hōnōre afficere = hōnōrare, to honor; admiratione afficere = admirari, to admire.

2) With Passive and Intransitive verbs, Cause is regularly expressed by the Abl., though a preposition with the Acc. or Abl. sometimes occurs:

Amicitia propter se expetitur, Friendship is sought for itself. Cic.

3) With Transitive verbs the Abl. without a Prep. is rare; but causa, grātia and ablatives in u of nouns used only in that case (134), jussu, rogātu, mandātu, etc., are thus used; sometimes also other words.

In other cases, Cause in the sense of—on account of, because of, is generally expressed—(1) by a Preposition with its case: ob, propter, de, ex, prae, etc.; or (2) by a Perfect Participle with an Ablative:

In oppidum propter timorem sese recipiunt, They betake themselves into the city on account of their fear. Caes. Regni cupiditate inductus conjurationem fecit, Influenced by the desire of ruling, he formed a conspiracy. Caes.

Cupiditate in the 2d example really expresses the cause of the action fecit, but by the use of inductus, it becomes the Abl. of Cause with that participle.

3. ABLATIVE OF MANNER.—This ablative is regularly accompanied by some modifier, or by the Prep. cum; but a few ablatives, chiefly those signifying manner—môre, ordine, ratione, etc.—occur without such accompaniment:

Vi summa, with the greatest violence. Nep. Møre Persarum, in the manner of the Persians. Nep. Cum silentio audire, to hear in silence. Liv.

Per with the Acc. sometimes denotes Manner: per vim, violently.

4. ABLATIVE OF MEANS.—This includes the Instrument and all other Means employed. See also 434. 2; 414, 2, 1).

5. ABLATIVE OF AGENT.—This designates the Person by whom anything is done as a voluntary agent, and takes the Prep. A or Ab:

Occisus est a Thēbānis, He was slain by the Thebans. Nep.

1) The Abl. without a Prep. or the Accus. with per is sometimes used, especially when the Person is regarded as the Means, rather than as the Agent.

Corona Numidis firmat, He strengthens the wings with Numidians. Liv. Per Fabricium, by means of (through the agency of) Fabricius. Cic.

2) Dative of Agent. See 388.

6. PERSONIFICATION.—When anything is personified as agent, the ablative with A or Ab may be used as in the names of persons:

Vinci a voluptate, to be conquered by pleasure. Cic. A fortuna datam occasionem, an opportunity furnished by fortune. Nep.

7. ABLATIVE OF ACCOMPANIMENT.—This generally takes cum:

Vivit cum Balbo, He lives with Balbus. Cic. But

In describing military movements, the preposition is often omitted, especially when the Abl. is qualified by an adjective:

Ingenti exercitu profectus est, He set out with a large army. Liv.

415. KINDRED USES OF THE ABLATIVE.—Kindred to the Ablative of Cause, etc., are

I. The Ablative of Price—that by which the trade is effected.

II. The Ablative with Comparatives—that by which the comparison is effected.

III. The Ablative of Difference—that by which one object differs from another.

IV. The Ablative in Special Constructions.

RULE XXII.—Ablative of Price.

416. PRICE is generally denoted by the Ablative :

Vendidit auro patriam, He sold his country for gold. Virg. Conduxit magno dōmum, He hired a house at a high price. Cic. Multo sanguine Poenis victōria stētit, The victory cost the Carthaginians (stood to the Carthaginians at) much blood. Liv. Quinquāginta talentis aestimāri, to be valued at fifty talents. Nep. Vile est viginti mīnis, It is cheap at twenty minae. Plaut.

1. Th ABLATIVE OF PRICE is used

1) With verbs of buying, selling, hiring, letting, ēmo, vendo, condūco, lēco, vēneo, etc.

2) With verbs of costing, of being cheap or dear, sto, consto, lūco, sum, etc.

3) With verbs of valuing, aestimo, etc.

4) With adjectives of value, cārus, vendilis, etc.

2. EXCHANGING.—With verbs of exchanging—mūto, commūto, etc.—the thing received is generally treated as the price, as with verbs of selling :

Pāce bellum mūtāvit, He exchanged war for peace. Sall. But sometimes the thing given is treated as the price, as with verbs of buying, or is put in the Abl. with cum : Exsiliū patria mūtāvit, He exchanged country for exile. Curt.

3. ADVERBS OF PRICE are sometimes used : bone ēmere, to purchase well, i. e., at a low price ; cāre aestimāre, to value at a high price.

4. GENITIVE OF PRICE. See 402. III.

RULE XXIII.—Ablative with Comparatives.

417. Comparatives without QUAM are followed by the Ablative :

Nihil est amābilius virtūte, Nothing is more lovely than virtue. Cic. Quid est melius bonitāte, What is better than goodness ? Cic.

1. COMPARATIVES WITH QUAM are followed by the Nominative, or by the case of the corresponding noun before them :

Hibernia minor quam Britannia existimātur, Hibernia is considered smaller than Britannia. Caes. Agris quam urbi terribilior, more terrible to the country than to the city. Liv.

2. ABLATIVE, WHEN ADMISSIBLE.—The construction with quam is the full form for which the Ablative is an abbreviation. This abbreviation is admissible only in place of quam with the Nominative or Accusative, but is not necessary even here except for quam with a Relative :

Seimus sōlem majōrem esse terrā, We know that the sun is larger than the earth. Cic. Amicitia, qua nihil mōlius habēmus; friendship, than which we have nothing better. Cic. See also examples under the Rule.

1) In the first example the Ablative (terra) is admissible but not necessary, quam terram might have been used; but in the second example the Ablative (quā) is necessary, the conjunction quam would be inadmissible.

2) In the examples under the rule the ablatives virtūte and bonitāte are both equivalent to quam with the Nom. quam virtus and quam bonitas, which might have been used.

3) Instead of the Abl., a Preposition with its case, ante, prae, praeter, or supra is sometimes used: Ante alios immāior, more monstrous than (before) the others. Virg.

3. CONSTRUCTION WITH PLUS, MINUS, ETC.—Plus, minus, amplius, or longius, with or without quam, is often introduced in expressions of number and quantity, without influence upon the construction; sometimes also major, minor, etc.:

Tēcum plus annum vixit, He lived with you more than a year. Cic. Minus duo millia, less than two thousand. Liv.

So in expressions of age: nātus plus trīginta annos, having been born more than thirty years. The same meaning is also expressed by—major trīginta annos nātus, major trīginta annis, major quam trīginta annōrum, or major trīginta annōrum.

4. ATQUE OR AC FOR QUAM occurs chiefly in poetry and late prose: Arctius atque hōcērā, more closely than with ivy. Hor.

5. ALIUS WITH THE ABLATIVE sometimes occurs. It then involves a comparison, other than:

Quaerit alia his, He seeks other things than these. Plaut.

6. PECULIARITIS.—Quam pro denotes disproportion, and many ablatives—ōpiniōne, spe, aequo, justo, sōlito, etc.—are often best rendered by clauses:

Minor caedes quam pro victōria, less slaughter than was proportionate to the victory. Liv. Sērius spe vēnit, He came later than was hoped (than hope). Liv. Plus aequo, more than is fair. Cic.

RULE XXIV.—Ablative of Difference.

418. The MEASURE OF DIFFERENCE is denoted by the Ablative:

Uno die longiōrem mensem faciunt, They make the month one day longer (longer by one day). Cic. Bīduo me antecessit, He preceded me by two days. Cie. Sunt magnitudīne paulo infra ēlēphantos, They are in size a little below the elephant. Caes.

1. The Ablative is thus used with all words involving a comparison, but adverbs often supply its place: Multum robustior, much more robust.

2. The Ablative of Difference includes the Abl. of Distance (378. 2), and the Abl. with ante, post, and ab in expressions of time (427).

RULE XXV.—Ablative in Special Constructions.

419. The Ablative is used

I. With utor, fruor, fungor, pōtior, vescor, and their compounds:

Plūrimis rēbus fruimur et ūtimur, We enjoy and use very many things. Cic. Magna est praeda pōtita, He obtained great booty. Nep. Veseimur bestiis, We live upon animals. Cic.

II. With fido, confido, nitor, and innitor:

Nemo pōtest fortunae stābilitate confidēre, No one can trust (confide in) the stability of fortune. Cic. Sālus veritate nititur, Safety rests upon truth. Cic.

III. With VERBS and ADJECTIVES OF PLENTY and WANT:

Non ēgeo mēdicina, I do not need a remedy. Cic. Vācāre culpa, to be free from fault. Cic. Villa ābundat lacte, cāseo, melle; The villa abounds in milk, cheese, and honey. Cic. Urbs nuda praesidio, a city destitute of defence. Cic. Virtute praeditus, endowed with virtue. Cic.

IV. With dignus, indignus, contentus, and frētus:

Digni sunt āmicitia, They are worthy of friendship. Cic. Nātura parvo contenta, nature content with little. Cic. Frētus āmicis, relying upon his friends. Liv.

V. With opus and ūsus:

Auetoritāte tua nobis ōpus est, We need (there is to us a need of) your authority. Cic. Usus est tua mihi ōpera, I need your aid. Plaut.

1. EXPLANATION.—This Ablative may in most instances be readily explained as the Ablative of Cause or Means: thus utor, I use, serve myself by means of; fruor, I enjoy, delight myself with; vescor, I feed upon, feed myself with; fido, confido, I confide in, am confident because of, etc.

2. ACCUSATIVE AND ABLATIVE.—Dignor and transitive verbs of Plenty and Want take the Accusative with the Ablative:

Me dignor hōnōre, I deem myself worthy of honor. Virg. Armis naves ōnērat, He loads the ships with arms. Sall. Oculis se privat, He deprives himself of his eyes. Cic. See 371. 2.

1) Transitive verbs of Plenty and Want signify to fill, furnish with, deprive of, etc.: afficio, cūmulo, compleo, impleo, imbuo, instruo, ōnēro, orno, etc.—orbo, privo, spolio, etc. Dignor in the best prose admits only the Abl.

2) For the Accusative and Genitive with some of these verbs, see 410. 7. 2).

3. DATIVE AND ABLATIVE.—Opus est and usus est admit the Dative of the person with the Ablative of the thing. See examples.

1) The Ablative is sometimes a Perfect Participle, or, with opus est, a Noun and Participle :

Consulto opus est, There is need of deliberation. Sall. Opus fuit Hirtio convento, There was need of meeting Hirtius. Cic.

2) With opus est, rarely with usus est, the thing needed may be denoted—

(1) By the Nominative, rarely by the Genitive or Accusative :

Dux nobis opus est, We need a leader, or a leader is necessary (a necessity) for us. Cic. Temporis opus est, There is need of time. Liv. Opus est cibum, There is need of food. Plaut.

(2) By an Infinitive, a Clause, or a Supine :

Opus est te valere, It is necessary that you be well. Cic. Opus est ut lavem, It is necessary for me to bathe (that I bathe). Plaut. Dictu est opus, It is necessary to be told. Ter.

4. OTHER CONSTRUCTIONS also occur. Thus

1) Utor, fruor, fungor, pōtior, and rescor, originally transitive, are occasionally so used in classic authors. Their participle in dus is passive in sense. Utor admits two ablatives of the same person or thing :

Me invenitur pater, He will find (use) me a father. Ter.

2) Fido, confido, and innitor admit the Dative, rarely the Abl. with in. Virtuti confidere, to confide in virtue. Cic. See 355. 1.

3) Dignus and indignus admit the Gen., frētus the Dat., nitor and innitor the Acc. or Abl. with Prep., and some verbs of Want the Abl. with Prep.

Dignus salutis, worthy of safety. Plaut. Rei frētus, relying upon the thing. Liv. Vacare ab opere, to be free from work. Caes.

4) Genitive.—For the genitive with pōtior, see 409. 3. For the genitive with verbs and adjectives of Plenty and Want, see 409. 1, 410. 7, and 399. 2. 2).

II. ABLATIVE OF PLACE.

420. This Ablative designates

I. The PLACE IN WHICH anything is or is done :

II. The PLACE FROM WHICH anything proceeds;—including Source and Separation.

RULE XXVI.—Ablative of Place.

421. I. The PLACE IN WHICH and the PLACE FROM WHICH are generally denoted by the Ablative with a Preposition. But

II. NAMES OF TOWNS omit the Preposition, and in the Singular of the First and Second declensions designate the PLACE IN WHICH by the Genitive :

I. Hannibal in Itālia fuit, Hannibal was in Italy. Nep. In nostris castris, in our camp. Caes. In Appia via, on the Appian way. Cic. Ab urbe proficiscitur, He departs from the city. Caes. Ex Africa, from Africa. Liv.

II. Athenis fuit, He was at Athens. Cic. Bābylōne mortuus est, He died at Babylon. Cic. Fūgit Cōrintho, He fled from Corinth. Cic. Rōmae fuit, He was at Rome. Cic.

422. NAMES OF PLACES NOT TOWNS sometimes omit the preposition :

1. The Ablative of PLACE IN WHICH, sometimes omits the preposition :

1) Generally the Ablatives—lōco, lōcis, parte, partibus, dextra, laeva, sinistra, terra, mārī, and other Ablatives when qualified by tūtus :

Aliquid lōco pōnere, to put anything in its place. Cic. Terra mārīque, on land and sea. Liv. Tōta Græcia, in all Greece. Nep.

2) Sometimes other Ablatives, especially when qualified by adjectives :
Hoc libro, in this book. Cic.

In poetry the preposition is often omitted even when the ablative has no modifier :
Silvis agrisque, in the forests and fields. Ov.

2. The Ablative of PLACE FROM WHICH sometimes omits the preposition, especially in poetry :

Cedere nūbibus, to fall from the clouds. Virg. Labi ēquo, to fall from a horse. Hor.

423. NAMES OF TOWNS differ in their construction from other names of places,

I. Generally in simply omitting the preposition. But

II. In the Singular of the First and Second declensions they designate the PLACE IN WHICH by the Genitive. See examples under the Rule.

1. PREPOSITION RETAINED.—The preposition is sometimes retained, especially for emphasis or contrast :

Ab Ardea Rōmam vēnērunt, They came from Ardea to Rome. Liv. So also when the vicinity rather than the town itself is meant : Discessit a Brundisio, He departed from Brundisium, i. e., from the port. Caes. Apud Mantinēam, near Mantinea. Cic. Ad Trēbiam, at or near the Trebia. Liv.

2. The GENITIVE, it must be observed, never denotes the PLACE FROM WHICH.

The Genitive-Forms denoting the place in which, are genitives only in form. They probably belonged originally to a case called the Locative, afterward blended with the Ablative, except in the Sing. of Dec. I. and II. where it is united with the Gen. Accordingly these genitives are in force old Ablatives.

3. OTHER CONSTRUCTIONS for the Genitive also occur :

1) Ablative by Attraction :

In monte Albano Lavinioque, on the Alban mount and at Lavinium. Liv.

2) Ablative without Attraction, generally with a preposition :

In ipsa Alexandria, in Alexandria itself. Cic. Longa Alba, at Alba Longa. Virg.

This is the regular construction when the noun takes an adjective or adjective pronoun, but the Gen. dōmi (424. 2) admits a possessive or aliēnus :

Dōmi suae, at his home. Cic.

3) With an Appellative—urbs, oppidum—the name of the town is in the Gen. or Abl., but the appellative itself is in the Abl., generally with a Prep. :

In oppido Antiochiæ, in the city of Antioch. Cic. In oppido Citiō, in the town Citium. Nep. Albae, in urbe opportuna, at Alba, a convenient city. Cic.

424. LIKE NAMES OF TOWNS are used

1. Many names of Islands :

Vixit Cypri, He lived in Cyprus. Nep. Delo proficiscitur, He proceeds from Delos. Cic.

2. Dōmus, rus and the genitives hūmi, militiæ and belli :

Rūri agere vitam, to spend life in the country. Liv. Dōmi militiæque, at home and in the field. Cic. Dōmo profūgit, He fled from home. Cic.

3. The Genitive of other nouns also occurs :

1) By Attraction after names of towns :

Rōmæ Numidiæque, at Rome and in Numidia. Sall.

2) Without Attraction in a few proper names and rarely also the genitives arēnae, foci, terrae, viciniæ :

Dōmum Chersonēsi hābuit, He had a house in the Chersonesus. Nep. Truncum reliquit arēnae, He left the body in the sand. Virg.

RULE XXVII.—Ablative of Source and Separation.

425. SOURCE and SEPARATION are denoted by the Ablative, generally with a preposition :

SOURCE.—Hoc audi de parente meo, I heard this from my father. Cic. Oriundi ab Sabinis, descended from the Sabines. Liv. Stātua ex aere facta, a statue made of bronze. Cic. Jove nātus, son of Jupiter. Cic.

SEPARATION.—Caedem a vobis depello, I ward off slaughter from you. Cic. Hunc a tuis aris arcēbis, You will keep this one from your altars. Cic. Expulsus est patria, He was banished from his country. Cic.

1. The ABLATIVE OF SOURCE designates that from which anything is derived, including parentage, material, etc.

2. The ABLATIVE OF SEPARATION designates that from which anything is separated, or of which it is deprived, and is used :

1) With Intransitive verbs signifying, to abstain from, be distant from, etc.

2) In connection with the Accusative after transitive verbs signifying, to hold from, separate from, free from, and the like : arceo, abstineo, deterreo, ejicio, excludo, exsolvo, libero, pello, prohibeo, removeo, solvo, etc. :

3) A few verbs of separation admit the Dative : alieno, furor, etc. See 385. 4.

3. Preposition Omitted.—This generally occurs

1) With Perfect Participles denoting parentage or birth—gēnitus, nātus, ortus, etc. :

Jōve nātus, son of Jupiter. Cic.

2) With Verbs of Freeing, except libero, which is used both with and without a preposition :

Somno solvi, to be released from sleep. Cic. But in the sense of acquitting these verbs admit the genitive (410. 7) : Aliquem culpae liberāre, to free one from blame, i. e., acquit him. Liv.

3) With Mōveo before the ablatives—lōco, sēnātu and triū :

Signum mōvere lōco, to move the standard from the place. Cic.

4) The preposition is sometimes omitted with other words, especially in poetry.

III. ABLATIVE OF TIME.

RULE XXVIII.—Time.

426. The TIME of an Action is denoted by the Ablative :

Octōgēsimo anno est mortuus, He died in his eightieth year. Cic. Vere convēnere, They assembled in the spring. Liv. Nātālī die suo, on his birthday. Nep. Hieme et aestate, in winter and summer. Cic.

1. DESIGNATIONS OF TIME.—Any word, so used as to involve the time of an action or event, may be put in the ablative : bello, in the time of war ; pugna, in the time of battle ; lūdis, at the time of the games ; mēmōria, in memory, i. e., in the time of one's recollection.

2. The ABLATIVE WITH IN is used to denote

1) The circumstances of the time, rather than time itself :

In tāli tempore, under such circumstances. Liv.

2) The time in or within which anything is done :

In diēbus proximis dēcem, in the next ten days. Sall.

(1) This is used especially after numeral adverbs and in designating the periods of life : bis in die, twice in the day ; in puēritia, in boyhood.

(2) In a kindred sense occur also the Abl. with de and the Accus. with inter or intra : De mēdia nocte, in the middle of the night. Caes. Inter annos quatuordecim, in (within) fourteen years. Caes.

(3) The Ablative with or without in sometimes denotes the time within which or after which : paucis diēbus, within (or after) a few days.

427. ACCUSATIVE OR ABLATIVE.—The time since an action or event is denoted by Abhinc or Ante with the Accusative or Ablative, and the time between two events, by Ante or Post with the Accusative or Ablative:

Abhinc annos trēcentos fuit, He lived (was) three hundred years since. Cic. Abhinc annis quattuor, four years since. Cic. Hōmērus annis multis fuit ante Rōmūlum, Homer lived many years before Romulus. Cic. Paucis ante diēbus, a few days before. Cic. Post dies paucos vēnit, He came after a few days. Liv.

1. EXPLANATION.—(1) The Accusative with abhinc is explained as Duration of Time (378), with ante and post as dependent upon those prepositions. (2) The Ablative in both cases is explained as the Ablative of Difference (418).

With the Abl. ante and post are used adverbially unless an Accus. is expressed after them. Paucis his (illis) diēbus, means in these (those) few days.

2. NUMERALS WITH ANTE AND POST.—These may be either cardinal or ordinal. Thus: five years after = quinque annis post, or quinto anno post; or post quinque annos, or post quintum annum; or with post between the numeral and the noun, quinque post annis, etc.

3. QUAM WITH ANTE AND POST.—Quam may follow ante and post, may be united with them, or may even be used for postquam:

Quartum post annum quam rēdiērat, four years after he had returned. Nep. Nōno anno postquam, nine years after. Nep. Sexto anno quam erat expulsus, six years after he had been banished. Nep.

4. THE ABLATIVE OF THE RELATIVE OR QUAM may be used for postquam: Quātīduo, quo occisus est, four days after he was killed. Cic.

IV. ABLATIVE OF CHARACTERISTIC.

RULE XXIX.—Characteristic.

428. The Ablative with an adjective may be used to characterize a person or thing:

Summa virtūte adōlescens, a youth of the highest virtue. Caes. Cātīlina ingēnie mālō fuit, Catiline was a man of a bad spirit. Sall.

1. ABLATIVE OF CHARACTERISTIC is used

1) With Substantives as in the first example.

2) In the Predicate with sum, and the other verbs which admit a Predicate Genitive (403) as in the second example.

2. THE ABLATIVE WITH A GENITIVE instead of the ablative with an adjective is sometimes used:

Uri sunt spēcīe tauri, The urus is of the appearance of a bull. Caes.

3. GENITIVE OF CHARACTERISTIC.—See 396. IV.

4. GENITIVE AND ABLATIVE DISTINGUISHED.—The Genitive generally expresses permanent and essential qualities; the Ablative is not limited to any particular kind of qualities.

V. ABLATIVE OF SPECIFICATION.

RULE XXX.—Specification.

429. The Ablative may be used with a word to define its application :

Agēsilaus nōmine, non pōtestāte fuit rex, Agesilaus was king in name, not in power. Nep. Claudus altēro pēde, lame in one foot. Nep. Mōribus similes, similar in character. Cic.

1. FORCE OF ABLATIVE.—This shows in what respect or particular anything is true : thus, king (in what respect?) in name : similar (in what respect?) in character.

2. ACCUSATIVE OF SPECIFICATION. See 380.

VI. ABLATIVE ABSOLUTE.

430. A noun and a participle, a noun and an adjective, or two nouns may be grammatically independent of (absolved from) the rest of the sentence, and yet may express various adverbial modifications of the predicate. When so used they are said to be in the case Absolute.

RULE XXXI.—Ablative Absolute.

431. The Ablative is used as the CASE ABSOLUTE :

Servio regnante vīgūrunt, They flourished in the reign of Servius (Servius reigning). Cic. Rēgibus exactis, consūles creati sunt, After the banishment of the kings, consuls were appointed. Liv. Sērēno coelo, when the sky is clear. Sen. Cāninio consūle, in the consulship of Caninius. Cic.

1. USE.—The Ablative Absolute is much more common than the English Nominative Absolute, and expresses a great variety of relations,—time, cause, reason, means, condition, concession, etc.

2. HOW RENDERED.—This ablative is generally best rendered (1) by a Clause with—when, while, for, since, if, though, etc., (2) by a Noun with a Preposition,—in, during, after, by, from, through, etc., or (3) by an Active Participle with its Object :

Servio regnante, while Servius reigned, or in the reign of Servius. Cic. Rēligiōne neglecta, because religion was neglected. Liv. Perdītis rēbus omnībus, tāmen, etc., Though all things are lost, still, etc. Cic. Equitātu praemisso, subsequēbātur, Having sent forward his cavalry, he followed. Caes.

3. A Connective sometimes accompanies the Ablative :

Nīsi mūnitis castris, unless the camp should be fortified. Caes.

4. An INFINITIVE or CLAUSE may be in the Abl. Absolute with a neuter participle or adjective:

Audito Dārium mōvlsse, pergit, Having heard that Darius had withdrawn (that Darius had, etc., having been heard), he advanced. Curt. Multū, incerto quid vitārent, intēricrunt, Many, uncertain what they should avoid (what they, etc., being uncertain), perished. Liv.

5. A PARTICIPLE or ADJECTIVE may stand alone in the Abl. Absolute:

Multum certāto, pervicit, He conquered after a hard struggle (it having been much contested). Tac.

6. QUISQUE in the NOMINATIVE may accompany the Abl. Absolute:

Multis sibi quisque pētentibus, while many sought, each for himself. Sall.

VII. ABLATIVE WITH PREPOSITIONS. Sec 432 and 434.

SECTION VIII.

CASES WITH PREPOSITIONS.

RULE XXXII.—Cases with Prepositions.

432. The Accusative and Ablative may be used with Prepositions:

Ad āmīcūm scripsi, I have written to a friend. Cic. In cūriam, into the senate house. Liv. In Itālia, in Italy. Nep. Pro castris, before the camp.

433. The ACCUSATIVE is used with

Ad, adversus (adversum), ante, apud, circa, circum, circiter, eis, citra, contra, erga, extra, infra, inter, intra, juxta, ob, pēnes, per, pōne, post, praeter, prōpe, propter, sēcundum, supra, trans, ultra, versus:

Ad urbem, to the city. Cic. Adversus deos, toward the gods. Cic. Ante lūcem, before light. Cic. Apud concilium, in the presence of the council. Cic. Circa fōrum, around the forum. Cic. Citra flūmen, on this side of the river. Cic. Contra nātūrā, contrary to nature. Cic. Intra mūros, within the walls. Cic. Post castra, behind the camp. Caes. Sēcundum nātūrā, according to nature. Cic. Trans Alpes, across the Alps. Cic.

1. Like Prōpe, the derivatives prōprior and proximus take the Accus. dependent perhaps upon ad understood. Exadversus (um) also occurs with the Accus.:

Prōprior montem, nearer to the mountain. Sall. Proximus mare, nearest to the sea. Caes. See also 437. and for compounds, 371. 4. and 374. 6.

2. Versus (um) and usque as adverbs often accompany prepositions, especially ad and in: Ad Alpes versus, towards the Alps.

434. The ABLATIVE is used with

Ab or ab (abs),	absque,	cūram,	cum,	de,
ex or ex,	prae,	pro,	sine,	tēnus.

Ab urbe, from the city. Caes. Cōram conventu, in the presence of the assembly. Nep. Cum Antiōcho, with Antiochus. Cic. De fōro, from the forum. Cic. Ex Asia, from Asia. Nep. Sine corde, without a heart. Cic.

1. Many verbs compounded with ab, de, ex, or sūper, admit the Ablative dependent upon the preposition :

Abire māgistrātu, to retire from office. Tac. Pugna excēdunt, They retire from the battle. Caes.

Sometimes the Prep. is repeated, or one of kindred meaning is used :

De vita dēcēdēre, to depart from life. Cic. Dēcēdēre ex Asia, to depart from Asia. Cic.

2. The Ablative with or without De is sometimes used with Ficio, Fio, or Sum, as follows :

Quid hoc hōmīne ficias, What are you to do with this man? Cic. Quid te (or de te) fītūrum est, What will become of you? Cic.

The Dative occurs in nearly the same sense :

Quid huic hōmīni ficias, What are you to do with (or to) this man? Cic.

3. A, ab, abs, e, ex.—A and e are used only before consonants, ab and ex either before vowels or consonants. Abs is antiquated, except before te.

4. Tēnus follows its case :

Collō tēnus, up to the neck. Ov.

5. Cum with the Abl. of a Pers. Pronoun is appended to it: mēcum, tēcum, etc., generally also with a relative: quōcum, quibuscum.

435. THE ACCUSATIVE OR ABLATIVE IS USED WITH

In, sub, subter, sūper :

In Asiam prōfūgit, He fled into Asia. Cic. Hannībal in Itālia fuit, Hannibal was in Italy. Nep. Sub montem, toward the mountain. Caes. Sub monte, at the foot of the mountain. Liv. Subter tōgam, under the toga. Liv. Subter testūdīne, under a tortoise or shed. Virg. Sūper Nūmīdīam, beyond Numidia. Sall. Hac sūper re scribam, I will write on this subject. Cic.

1. In and Sub take the Accusative in answer to the question whither? the Ablative in answer to where? In Asiam (whither?), into Asia; In Itālia (where?), in Italy.

2. Subter and Sūper generally take the Accusative, but sūper with the force of—concerning, of, on (of a subject of discourse), takes the Ablative; see examples.

436. PREPOSITIONS AS ADVERBS.—The prepositions were originally adverbs, and many of them are sometimes so used in classical authors.

437. ADVERBS AS PREPOSITIONS.—Conversely several adverbs are sometimes used as prepositions with an oblique case, though in most instances a preposition could readily be supplied. Such are

1. With Accusative: prōpius, proxīme, prīdie, postrīdie, usque, dēsūper :

Prōpius pēricūlum (ad), nearer to danger. Liv. Prīdie Idus (ante), the day before the Ides. Cic. Usque pēdes (ad), even to the feet. Curt.

2. With Ablative: pālum, prōcul, simul (poetic) :

Pālum pōpūlo, in the presence of the people. Liv. Prōcul castris, at a distance from the camp. Tac. Simul hīs, with these. Hor.

3. With Accusative or Ablative: clam, insūper :

Clam patrem, without the father's knowledge. Plaut. Clam vōbis, without your knowledge. Caes.

CHAPTER III.

SYNTAX OF ADJECTIVES.

RULE XXXIII.—Agreement of Adjectives.

438. An Adjective agrees with its Noun in GENDER, NUMBER, and CASE :

Fortūna caeca est, Fortune is blind. Cic. Vērae amicitiae, true friendships. Cic. Māgister optimus, the best teacher. Cic.

1. This Rule includes Adjectives, Adjective Pronouns, and Participles.

2. ATTRIBUTIVE AND PREDICATE ADJECTIVES.—An adjective is called attributive, unless it unites with the verb (generally sum), to form the predicate; it is then called a predicate-adjective: as caeca est, above.

3. AGREEMENT WITH CLAUSE, ETC.—An adjective may agree with any word or words used substantively, as a pronoun, clause, infinitive, etc.:

Quis clārior, Who is more illustrious? Cic. Certum est liberos amāri, It is certain that children are loved. Quint. See 35. III.

An adjective agreeing with a clause is sometimes plural, as in Greek.

4. NEUTER WITH MASCULINE.—Sometimes the Predicate Adjective is neuter, when the subject is Masc. or Fem.:

Mors est extrēmum, Death is the last (thing). Cic.

5. NEUTER WITH GENITIVE.—A neuter adjective with a genitive is often used instead of an adjective with its noun:

Multum op̄erae (for multa op̄era), much service (much of service). Cic. Id temporis, that time. Cic. Vāna rerum (for vānae res), vain things. Hor.

6. CONSTRUCTION ACCORDING TO SENSE.—Sometimes the adjective or participle conforms to the real meaning of its noun, without regard to grammatical gender or number:

Pars certāre parūti, a part (some), prepared to contend. Virg. Nōbis (for me, 446, 2), praesente, we (I) being present. Plaut. Dēmōsthēnes cum cētēris erant expulsi, Demosthenes with the others had been banished. Nep.

7. AGREEMENT WITH PREDICATE NOUN OR APPOSITIVE.—See 462.

8. AGREEMENT WITH ONE NOUN FOR ANOTHER.—When a noun governs another in the Genitive, an adjective belonging in sense to one of the two nouns, sometimes agrees with the other:

Majōra (for majōrum) initia rerum, the beginnings of greater things. Liv. Cursus justī (justus) amnis, the regular course of the river. Liv.

439. WITH TWO OR MORE NOUNS.—An adjective or participle, belonging to two or more nouns, may agree with them all conjointly, or may agree with one and be understood with the others:

Castor et Pollux visi sunt, Castor and Pollux were seen. Cic. Tēmeritas ignōrātiōque vitiōsa est, Rashness and ignorance are bad. Cic.

1. THE ATTRIBUTIVE ADJECTIVE generally agrees with the nearest noun: Agri omnes et mārīa, all lands and seas. Cic.

2. DIFFERENT GENDERS.—When the nouns are of different genders, they may denote

1) Persons: then the adjective or participle agreeing with them conjointly is masculine: Pāter et māter mortui sunt, Father and mother are dead. Ter.

2) Persons and Things: then the adjective generally takes the gender of the person: Rex rēgiūque classis prōfecti sunt, The king and the royal fleet set out. Liv.

3) Things: then the adjective is generally neuter: Hōnōres, victōriæ fortuita sunt, Honors and victories are accidental (things). Cic.

3. NEUTER WITH MASCULINE OR FEMININE.—With masculine or feminine nouns denoting inanimate objects, the adjective is often neuter:

Lābor et dōlor sunt finitima, Labor and pain are kindred (things). Cic. Nox atque praeda hostes rēmōrāta sunt, Night and plunder detained the enemy. Sall.

4. TWO OR MORE ADJECTIVES.—Two or more adjectives in the singular may belong to a plural noun:

Prima et vicēsima lēgiōnes, the first and the twentieth legions. Tac.

So in proper names: Cnaeus et Publius Scipiōnes, Cnaeus and Publius Scipio. Cic.

440. USE OF ADJECTIVES.—The Adjective in Latin corresponds in its general use to the Adjective in English.

1. An adjective may qualify the complex idea formed by a noun and an adjective: aes aliēnum grande, a great debt. Here grande qualifies not aes alone, but aes aliēnum. In such cases no connective is used between the adjectives.

But the Latin uses the conjunction after multi even where the English omits it: multae et magnae tempestates, many great emergencies.

441. Adjectives are often used substantively: docti, the learned; multi, many persons; multa, many things.

1. In the Plural, Masculine Adjectives often designate persons, and Neuter Adjectives things: fortes, the brave; divites, the rich; pauperes, the poor; multi, many; pauci, few; omnes, all; mei, my friends; utilia, useful things; mea, nostra, my, our things; omnia, all things; haec, illa, these, those things.

2. In the Singular, Adjectives are occasionally used substantively, especially in the Neuter with an abstract sense: doctus, a learned man; verum, a true thing, the truth; nihil sinceri, nothing of sincerity, nothing sincere.

3. NOUN UNDERSTOOD.—Many adjectives become substantives, by the omission of their nouns: patria (terra), native country; dextra (manus), right hand; fera (bestia), wild beast; hiberna (castra), winter-quarters.

4. WITH RES.—Adjectives with res are used with great freedom: res adversae, adversity; res secundae, prosperity; res publica, republic.

5. FROM PROPER NAMES.—Adjectives from proper names are often equivalent to the English objective with of: pugna Mārathōnia, the battle of Marathon; Diāna Ephēsia, Diana of Ephesus; Hercules Xēnōphontius, the Hercules of Xenophon.

6. DESIGNATING A PART.—A few adjectives sometimes designate a particular part of an object: primus, mēdius, ultimus, extrēmus, postrēmus, intimus, summus, infimus, imius, suprēmus, reliquus, cētera, etc.: prima nox, the first part of the night; summus mons, the highest part of the mountain.

In Livy and late writers, the neuter of these adjectives with a genitive sometimes occurs:

Ad ultimum inōplae, for ad ultimam inōplam, to extreme destitution. Liv.

442. EQUIVALENT TO A CLAUSE.—Adjectives, like nouns in apposition, are sometimes equivalent to clauses:

Nemo saltat sobrius, No one dances when he is sober, or when sober. Cic. Hortensium vivum amāvi, I loved Hortensius, while he was alive. Cic. Homo nunquam sobrius, a man, who is never sober. Cic.

1. Prior, primus, ultimus, postrēmus, are often best rendered by a relative clause:

Primus mōrem solvit, He was the first who broke the custom. Liv.

With the adverb primum, the thought would be, he first broke the custom, and then did something else.

443. INSTEAD OF ADVERBS.—Adjectives are sometimes used where our idiom employs adverbs:

Socrates venenum laetus hausit, Socrates cheerfully drank the poison. Sen. Sēnātus frēquens convēnit, The senate assembled in great numbers. Cic. Roseius erat Rōmae frēquens, Roscius was frequently at Rome. Cic.

Adjectives thus used are: (1) Those expressive of joy, knowledge, and their opposites: laetus, libens, incitus, tristis, sciens, insciens, prūdens, imprūdens, etc. (2) Nullus, sōlus, tōtus, ūnus; prior, primus, prōprior, proximus, etc. (3) In the Poets several adjectives of time and place:

Domesticus otior, I idle about home. Hor. Vespertinus pōte teetum, At evening seek your abode. Hor. See Examples above; also 335, 4.

444. COMPARISON.—A comparison between two objects requires the comparative degree; between more than two, the superlative:

Prior hōrum, the former of these (two). Nep. Gallōrum fortissīmi, the bravest of the Gauls. Caes.

1. WITH THE FORCE OF TOO OR VERY.—The comparative sometimes has the force of too, unusually, somewhat, and the superlative, the force of very: doctior, too learned, or somewhat learned; doctissimus, very learned.

2. COMPARATIVE AFTER QUAM.—When an object is said to possess one quality in a higher degree than another, both adjectives are put in the comparative; but when it is said to possess one quality rather than another, both are in the positive, the former with māgis or pōtius:

Clārior quam grātor, more illustrious than pleasing. Liv. Dīsertus māgis quam sāpiens, fluent rather than wise. Cic.

In the first case the positive is sometimes used in one or both members; and in the second case māgis is sometimes omitted, and occasionally the adjective before quam is in the comparative.

3. STRENGTHENING WORDS.—Comparatives and Superlatives are often strengthened by a Prep. with its case, ante, prae, præter, supra (417. 2. 3), ūnus, ūnus omnium, alone, alone of all, far, by far; Comparatives also by etiam, even, still; multo, much, and Superlatives by longe, multo, by far, much, quam, quantus, as possible:

Multo maxima pars, by far the largest part. Cic. Res ūna omnium diffīcillima, a thing by far the most difficult of all. Cic. Quam maximæ cōpiæ, forces as large as possible. Sall. Quanta maxima vastitas, the greatest possible devastation. Liv.

4. COMPARISON IN ADVERBS has the same force as in adjectives:

Quam sacpissimè, as often as possible. Cic. Fortius quam felīcis, with more bravery than success. Liv.

CHAPTER IV.

SYNTAX OF PRONOUNS.

RULE XXXIV.—Agreement of Pronouns.

445. A Pronoun agrees with its antecedent in GENDER, NUMBER, and PERSON:

Animā quod sanguinem hābet, an animal which has blood. Cic. Ego, qui te confirmo, I who encourage you. Cic. Vis est in virtūtibus; eas ex-cita, There is strength in virtues, arouse them. Cic.

1. APPLICATION OF RULE.—This rule applies to all Pronouns when used as nouns. Pronouns used as adjectives conform to the rule for adjectives. See 438.

The Antecedent is the word or words to which the pronoun refers, and whose place it supplies. Thus, in the examples under the rule, animā is the antecedent of quod, and virtūtibus the antecedent of eas.

2. AGREEMENT WITH PERSONAL PRONOUN.—When the antecedent is a Demonstrative in agreement with a Personal pronoun, the relative agrees with the latter :

Tu es is qui me ornasti, You are the one who commended me. Cic.

3. WITH TWO ANTECEDENTS.—When a relative or other pronoun, refers to two or more antecedents, it generally agrees with them conjointly, but it sometimes agrees with the nearest :

Puëri mûliëresque, qui, boys and women, who. Caes. Peccâtum ac culpa, quæ, error and fault, which. Cic.

1) With antecedents of different genders, the pronoun conforms in gender to the rule for adjectives (439. 2 and 3); hence puëri mulieresque qui, above.

2) With antecedents of different persons, the pronoun prefers the first person to the second, and the second to the third, conforming to the rule for verbs. See 463. 1.

4. WITH PREDICATE NOUN OR APPOSITIVE.—A pronoun sometimes agrees with a Predicate-Noun or an Appositive instead of the antecedent :

Animâl quem (for quod) vöcâmus hómînem, the animal which we call man. Cic. Thëbæ, quod (quæ) caput est, Thebes which is the capital. Liv. Ea (id) erât confessio, That (i. e., the action referred to) was a confession. Liv. Flûmen Rhénus, qui, the river Rhine, which. Caes.

In the last example, qui agrees with the appositive Rhénus; in the other examples, the pronouns quem, quod, and ea, are attracted to agree with their predicate nouns hómînem, caput, and confessio.

5. CONSTRUCTION ACCORDING TO SENSE.—Sometimes the pronoun is construed according to the real meaning of the antecedent, without regard to grammatical form; and sometimes it refers to the class of objects to which the antecedent belongs :

Equitâtûs, qui vidêrunt, the cavalry who saw. Caes. Eârûm rêrûm utrûmqûe, each of these things. Cic. Demôcrîtum ômittâmus; âpud istos; let us omit Democritus; e., as he). Cic.

6. ANTECEDENT OMITTED. The antecedent of the relative is often omitted when it is indefinite, is the same as the antecedent, or is implied in a possessive :

Sunt qui censeant, There are some who think. Cic. Terra reddit quod accëpit, The earth returns what it has received. Cic. Vestra, qui cum integritâtë vixistis, hoc intêrest, This interests you who have lived with integrity. Cic. Here the antecedent is vos, implied in vestra.

7. CLAUSE AS ANTECEDENT.—When the antecedent is a sentence or clause, the pronoun, unless attracted (445. 4), is in the Neuter Singular, but the relative generally adds id as an appositive to such antecedent :

Nos, id quod dëbet, patria dëlectat, Our country delights us, as it ought (lit. that which it owes). Cic.

8. RELATIVE ATTRACTED.—The relative is sometimes attracted into the case of the antecedent, and sometimes agrees with the antecedent repeated :

Judice quo (for quem) nosti, the judge whom you know. Hor. Dies in-stat, quo die, The day is at hand, on which day. Caes. Cūmae, quam urbem tēnēbant, Cūmae, which city they held. Liv.

9. ANTECEDENT ATTRACTED.—In Poetry, rarely in prose, the antecedent is sometimes attracted into the case of the relative; and sometimes incorporated in the relative clause in the same case as the relative:

Urbem quam stātuo, vestra est, The city which I am building is yours. Virg. Mālārū, quas amor cūras hābet, oblivisci (for mālārū curārū quas), to forget the wretched cares which love has. Hor.

I. PERSONAL AND POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS.

446. The Nominative of Personal Pronouns is used only for emphasis or contrast:

Significāmus, quid sentiāmus, We show what we think. Cic. Ego rēges ejēci, vos tyrannos intrōducitis, I have banished kings, you introduce tyrants. Cic.

1. With quidem the pronoun is usually expressed, and then the third person is supplied by hic, is, ille, which are then often redundant: tu quidem, you indeed, ille quidem, he indeed. Quidem adds emphasis; equidem = ego quidem.

2. The writer sometimes speaks of himself in the plural, using nos for ego, nos for meus, and the plural verb for the singular.

3. For Nostrum and Vestrum, see 396. 1.

447. Possessive Pronouns, when not emphatic, are seldom expressed, if they can be supplied from the context:

Mānus lāva, Wash your hands. Cic. Mihi mea vīta cāra est, My life is dear to me. Plaut.

For Possessive with Genitive in the sense of own, see 397. 3.

Reflexive use of Pronouns.

448. Sui and Suus have a reflexive sense (himself, etc.); sometimes also the other Personal and Possessive pronouns, together with Is, Ille, and Ipse:

Se diligit, He loves himself. Cic. Sua vi mōvētur, He is moved by his own power. Cic. Me consōlor, I console myself. Cic. Persuādēt Tulingis ūti cum iis prōficiscantur, They persuade the Tulingi to depart with them. Caes.

1. Inter nos, inter vos, inter se, have a reciprocal force, each other, one another, together; but instead of inter se, the noun may be repeated in an oblique case:

Collōquimur inter nos, We converse together. Cic. Amant inter se, They love one another. Cic. Hōmines hōminibus ūtiles sunt, Men are useful to men, i. e., to each other. Cic.

449. Sui and Suus generally refer to the Subject of the clause in which they stand :

Se diligit, He loves himself. Cic. Justitia propter sēse cōlenda est, Justice should be cultivated for its own sake. Cic. Annūlum suum dēdit, He gave his ring. Nep.

1. In SUBORDINATE CLAUSES expressing the sentiment of the principal subject, Sui and Suus generally refer to that subject :

Sentit ānīmus se vi sua mōvēri, The mind perceives that it is moved by its own power. Cic. A me pētīvit ut sēcum essem, He asked (from) me to be with him (that I would be). Cic. Pervestigat quid sui cives cōgitent, He tries to ascertain what his fellow citizens think. Cic.

1) As Sui and Suus thus refer to subjects, the demonstratives, Is, Ille, etc., generally refer either to other words, or to subjects, which do not admit sui and suus.

Deum agnoscis ex ejus opēribus, You recognize a god by (from) his works. Cic. Obligat civitatem nihil eos mutāturos, He binds the state not to change anything (that they will). Just.

2) In some subordinate clauses the writer may at pleasure use either the Reflexive or the Demonstrative, according as he wishes to present the thought as that of the principal subject, or as his own. Thus in the last example under 448, cum is is the proper language for the writer without reference to the sentiment of the principal subject ; sēcum, which would be equally proper, would present the thought as the sentiment of that subject.

3) Sometimes the Reflexive occurs where we should expect the Demonstrative, and the Demonstrative where we should expect the Reflexive.

2. Suus = HIS OWN, ETC.—Suus in the sense of his own, fitting, etc., may refer to subject or object :

Justitia suum cuique tribuit, Justice gives to every man his due (his own). Cic.

3. CONSTRUCTION ACCORDING TO SENSE.—When the subject of the verb is not the real agent of the action, sui and suus refer to the latter :

A Caesarē invitor sibi ut sīm lēgātus, I am invited by Caesar (real agent) to be his lieutenant. Cic.

4. Suus SUBSTANTIVELY.—The Plural of Suus used substantively—his, their friends, possessions, etc.—is used with great freedom, often referring to oblique cases :

Fuit hoc luctuōsum suis, This was afflicting to his friends. Cic. Here suis refers to an oblique case in the preceding sentence.

5. Sui and Suus sometimes refer to an omitted subject :

Dēforme est de se praedicāre, To boast of one's self is disgusting. Cic.

6. REFLEXIVES REFERRING TO DIFFERENT SUBJECTS.—Sometimes a clause has one reflexive referring to the principal subject, and another referring to the subordinate subject :

Respondit nēmīnem sēcum sīnc sua pernīcie contendisse, He replied that no one had contended with him without (his) destruction. Caes.

Here se refers to the subject of respondit and sua to nēmīnem, the subject of the subordinate clause.

II. DEMONSTRATIVE PRONOUNS.

450. Hic, Iste, Ille, are often called respectively demonstratives of the First, Second, and Third Persons, as hic designates that which is near the speaker; iste, that which is near the person addressed, and ille, that which is remote from both, and near only to some third person.

Custos hujus urbis, the guardian of this city. Cic. Muta istam mentem, Change that purpose of yours. Cic. Si illos negligis, if you disregard those. Cic.

1. HIC AND ILLE IN CONTRASTS.—Hic designates an object conceived as near, and ille as remote, whether in space or time :

Non antiquo illo more, sed hoc nostro fuit eruditus, He was educated, not in that ancient, but in this our modern way. Cic.

2. HIC AND ILLE, FORMER AND LATTER.—In reference to two objects previously mentioned, (1) Hic generally follows Ille and refers to the latter object, while Ille refers to the former; but (2) Hic refers to the more important object, and Ille to the less important :

Ignavia, labor: illa, hic; Indolence, labor: the former, the latter. Cels. Pax, victoria: haec (pax) in tua, illa in deorum potestate est; Peace, victory: the former is in your power, the latter in the power of the gods. Liv.

3. Hic and Ille are often used of what immediately follows in discourse, and Iste sometimes indicates contempt: haec verba, these words, i. e., the following words; iste, that man, such a one.

4. Ille is often used of what is well known, famous :

Medea illa, that well-known Medea. Cic.

1) Hic with or without homo, is sometimes equivalent to ego. Alone it is sometimes equivalent to meus or noster.

2) Hic, ille, and is are sometimes redundant, especially with quidem. Scipio non multum ille quidem dicebat, Scipio did not indeed say much. Cic. See 446. 1.

3) A Demonstrative or Relative is sometimes equivalent to a Genitive or a Prep. with its case: hic dolor = dolor hujus rei, grief on account of this; haec cura = cura de hoc, care concerning this.

451. Is and Idem refer to preceding nouns, or are the antecedents of relatives :

Dionysius aufugit: is est in provincia, Dionysius has fled: he is in the province. Cic. Is qui satis habet, he who has enough. Cic. Eadem audire malunt, They prefer to hear the same things. Liv.

1. Is is often omitted, especially before a relative or a genitive :

Flebat pater de filii morte, de patris illius, The father wept over the death of the son, the son over (that) of the father. Cic. See also 445. 6.

2. Is or Ipse with a Conjunction is often used for emphasis, like the English and that too, and that indeed :

Unam rem explicabo camoue maxlmain, One thing I will explain and that too a most important one. Cic.

Id thus used often refers to a clause or to the general thought, and et ipse is often best rendered, too or also: Audire Cratippum, idque Athenis, to hear Cratippus, and that too at Athens. Cic.

3. Idem is sometimes best rendered, also, yet:

Nihil utile, quod non idem honestum, Nothing useful, which is not also honorable. Cic. Quam dicat—negat idem, Though he asserts—he yet denies (the same denies). Cic.

4. Is—qui = he—who, such—as, such—that:

Si sumus, qui esse debemus, We are such as we ought to be. Cic. Ea est gens quae nesciat, The race is such that it knows not. Liv.

5. Idem—qui; idem—ac, atque, quam, quāsi, ut, cum with Abl. = the same—who, the same—as:

Idem mores, qui, The same manners which or as. Cic. Est idem ac fuit, He is the same as he was. Ter.

6. Is Reflexive. See 448.

452. Ipse adds emphasis, generally rendered self:

Ipse Caesar, Caesar himself. Cic. Fac ut te ipsum custodias, See that you guard yourself. Cic.

1. IPSE WITH SUBJECT.—Ipse belongs to the emphatic word, whether subject or object, but with a preference for the subject:

Me ipse consolor, I myself (not another) console myself. Cic.

2. IPSE, VERY.—Ipse is often best rendered by very:

Ipse ille Gorgias, that very Gorgias. Cic.

3. With Numerals Ipse has the force of—just so many, just:

Triginta dies ipsi, just thirty days. Cic.

4. Ipse in the Genitive with possessives has the force of own, one's own:

Nostra ipsorum amicitia, Our own friendship. Cic. See 397. 3.

5. Ipse Reflexive, sometimes supplies the place of an emphatic sui or suus:

Légatos misit qui ipsi vitam peterent, He sent messengers to ask life for himself. Sall.

III. RELATIVE PRONOUNS.

453. The relative is often used where the English idiom requires a demonstrative or personal pronoun; sometimes even at the beginning of a sentence:

Res loquitur ipsa; quae semper valet; The fact itself speaks, and this (which) ever has weight. Cic. Qui proelium committant, They engage battle. Caes. Quae quum ita sint, since these things are so. Cic.

1. RELATIVE WITH DEMONSTRATIVE.—Relatives and Demonstratives are often correlatives to each other: hic—qui, iste—qui, etc. These combinations generally retain the ordinary force of the separate words, but see is—qui, idem—qui, 451. 4 and 5.

1) Quicumque and Quisquis, whoever, whatever, sometimes have the force of every by the ellipsis of fieri potest: quicumque ratione, in every way, i. e., in whatever way it is possible.

2. A DEMONSTRATIVE may supply the place of a Relative when otherwise two relative clauses would be brought together :

Quae nec habērēmus nec his utērēmur, Which we should neither have nor use. Cic.

1) A Relative Clause with is is often equivalent to a substantive: ii qui audiunt = auditores, hearers.

3. Two RELATIVES sometimes occur in the same clause :

Artes quas qui tēnent, arts, whose possessors (which, who possess). Cic.

4. A RELATIVE CLAUSE is sometimes equivalent to Pro with the Abl. :

Quae tua prūdētia est = qua es prūdētia = pro tua prūdētia = such is your prudence, or you are of such prudence, or in accordance with your prudence, etc. : Spēro, quae tua prūdētia est, te vālēre, I hope you are well, such is your prudence (which is, etc.).

5. RELATIVE WITH ADJECTIVE.—Adjectives belonging in sense to the antecedent, sometimes stand in the relative clause in agreement with the relative, especially comparatives, superlatives, and numerals :

Vāsa, quae pulcherrīma vidērat, the most beautiful vessels which he had seen (vessels, which the most beautiful he had seen). Cic. De servis suis, quem hābuit fidēlissimum, misit, He sent the most faithful of the slaves which he had. Nep.

6. Quod Expletive, or apparently so, often stands at the beginning of a sentence, especially before ni, nisi, etsi, and sometimes before quia, quoniam, utinam, etc. In translating it is sometimes omitted, and sometimes rendered by now, but, and :

Quod si eēdiderint, if or but if they should fall. Cic.

7. Qui dicitur, qui vocatur, or the corresponding active quem dicunt, quem vocant, are often used in the sense of so called, the so called, what they or you call, etc. :

Vestra quae dicitur vīta, mors est, Your so called life (lit. your, which is called life) is death. Cic. Lex ista quam vocas non est lex, That law as you call it, is not a law. Cic.

IV. INTERROGATIVE PRONOUNS.

454. The Interrogative quis, is used substantively; qui, adjectively :

Quis ego sum, Who am I? Cic. Quid faciet, What will he do? Cic. Qui vir fuit, What kind of a man was he? Cic.

1. QUIS AND QUI.—Occasionally quis is used adjectively and qui substantively: Quis rex unquam fuit, What king was there ever? Cic. Qui sis, considēra, Consider who you are. Cic.

2. QUID, why, how is it that, etc., is often used adverbially (§50. 2), or stands apparently unconnected, by the ellipsis of propter or a verb: Quid enim, why then? What indeed (est or dicam)? Quid quod, what of the fact that?

3. Two INTERROGATIVES sometimes occur in the same clause :

Quis quem fraudāvit, who defrauded, and whom did he defraud (lit. who defrauded whom)? Cic.

4. ATTRACTION.—The Interrogative often agrees with the predicate noun :

Quam (for quid) dicam voluptātem vidētis, You see what I call pleasure. Cic.

V. INDEFINITE PRONOUNS.

455. Aliquis, quis, qui, and quispiam, are all indefinite, some one, any one:

Est āliquis, there is some one. Liv. Dixit quis, some one said. Cic. Si quis rex, if any king. Cic. Alia res quacpiam, any other thing. Cic.

1. Aliquis is less indefinite than quis, qui, and quispiam.

2. Quis and qui are used chiefly after si, nisi, ne, and num. Quis is generally used substantively and qui adjectively. Aliquis after si, etc., is emphatic.

456. Quidam, a certain one, is less indefinite than aliquis:

Quidam rhētor antiquus, a certain ancient rhetorician. Cic. Accurrit quidam, A certain one runs up. Hor.

1. Quidam with an Adjective is sometimes used to qualify or soften the statement:

Iustitia mīrifica quaedam vidētur, Justice seems somewhat wonderful. Cic.

2. Quidam with quāsi and sometimes without it, has the force of a certain, a kind of, as it were:

Quāsi alumna quaedam, a certain foster child as it were. Cic.

457. Quisquam and ullus are used chiefly in negative and conditional sentences, and in interrogative sentences implying a negative:

Neque me quisquam agnōvit, Nor did any one recognize me. Cic. Si quisquam, if any one. Cic. Num censes ullum animal esse, do you think there is any animal? Cic.

1. Nemo is the negative of quisquam, and like quisquam is generally used substantively, rarely adjectively:

Nēmīnem laesit, He harmed no one. Cic. Nemo poeta, no poet. Cic.

2. Nullus is the negative of ullus, and is generally used adjectively, but it sometimes supplies the Gen. and Abl. of nemo, which generally wants those cases:

Nullum animal, no animal. Cic. Nullius aures, the ears of no one. Cic.

3. Nullus for non.—Nullus and nil are sometimes used for an emphatic non: Nullus vēnit, He did not come. Cic. Mortui nulli sunt, The dead are not. Cic.

458. Quivis, Quilibet, any one whatever, and Quisque, every one, each one, are general indefinites (191):

Quaelibet res, any thing. Cic. Tuorum quisque nēcessāriōrum, each one of your friends. Cic.

1. Quisque with Superlatives and Ordinals is generally best rendered by all or by ever, always, with primus by very, possible:

Epīcūrōs doctissimus quisque contemnit, All the most learned despise the Epicureans, or the most learned ever despise, etc. Cic. Primo quōque die, the earliest day possible, the very first. Cic.

2. Ut Quisque—ita with the superlative in both clauses is often best rendered, the more—the more:

Ut quisque sibi plurimum confidit, ita maxime excellit, The more one confides in himself, the more he excels. Cic.

459. Alius and Alter are often repeated: alius—alius, one—another; alii—alii, some—others; alter—alter, the one—the other; alteri—alteri, the one party—the other:

Alii glōriæ serviunt, alii pēcūniæ, Some are slaves to glory, others to money. Cic. Alteri dimicant, alteri timent, One party contends, the other fears. Cic.

1. Alius repeated in different cases often involves an ellipsis:

Allus illa via civitatem auxerunt, They advanced the state, one in one way, another in another. Liv. So also with alius or alter: Aliter illi vivunt, Some live in one way, others in another. Cic.

2. After Alius, Alter, and the like, atque, ac, and et often mean than:

Non illus essem atque sum, I would not be other than I am. Cic.

3. Alter means the one, the other (of two), the second; alius, another, other. When alter—alter refers to objects previously mentioned, the first alter usually refers to the latter object, but may refer to either:

Inimicus, compēditor, cum altero—cum altero, an enemy, a rival, with the latter—with the former. Cic.

4. Uterque means both, each of two, and in the Plu. both, each of two parties.

CHAPTER V.

SYNTAX OF VERBS.

SECTION I.

AGREEMENT OF VERBS.

RULE XXXV.—Verb with Subject.

460. A Finite Verb agrees with its Subject in NUMBER and PERSON:

Deus mundum aedificavit, God made the world. Cic. Ego rēges ejēci, vos tyrannos intrōdūcētis, I have banished kings, you introduce tyrants. Cic.

1. PARTICIPLES IN COMPOUND TENSES agree with the subject according to 438. See also 301. 2 and 3:

Thēbāni accūsāti sunt, The Thebans were accused. Cic.

1) In the Infinitive, the Participle in um sometimes occurs without any reference to the gender or number of the subject:

Dilfidētia futūrum quæ impēravisset, from doubt that those things which he had commanded would take place. Sall.

2. SUBJECT OMITTED. See 367. 2.

1) An Indefinite Subject is often denoted by the Second Pers. Sing., or by the First or Third Plur.: dicas, you (any one) may say; dicimus, we (people) say; dicunt, they say.

3. VERB OMITTED.—See 367. 3.

461. CONSTRUCTION ACCORDING TO SENSE.—Sometimes the Predicate is construed according to the real meaning of the subject without regard to grammatical gender or number. Thus

1. With Collective Nouns, pars, multitudo, and the like :

Multitudo abeunt, The multitude depart. Liv. Pars per agros dilapsi, a part (some) dispersed through the fields. Liv.

1) Here multitudo and pars, though Sing. and Fem. in form, are Plur. and Masc. in sense. See also 438. 6.

2) Conversely the Imperative Singular may be used in addressing a multitude individually: Adde defectionem Siciliae, Add (to this, soldiers,) the revolt of Sicily. Liv.

3) Of two verbs with the same collective noun, the former is often Sing., and the latter Plur.: Juventus ruit certantque, The youth rush forth and contend. Virg.

2. With Millia, often masculine in sense:

Caesi sunt tria millia, Three thousand men were slain. Liv.

3. With Quisque, Uterque, Alius—Alium, Alter—Alterum, and the like :

Uterque educunt, they each lead out. Caes. Alter alterum videmus, We see each other. Cic.

4. With Singular Subjects accompanied by an Ablative with cum :

Dux cum principibus capiuntur, The leader with his chiefs is taken. Liv. See 438. 6.

5. With Partim—Partim in the sense of pars—pars :

Bonorum partim necessaria, partim non necessaria sunt, Of good things some are necessary, others are not necessary. Cic.

462. AGREEMENT WITH APPOSITIVE OR PREDICATE NOUN.—Sometimes the verb agrees, not with its subject, but with an Appositive or Predicate Noun :

Volsinii, oppidum Tuscorum, concrematum est, Volsinii, a town-of the Tuscans, was burned. Plin. Non omnis error stultitia est dicenda, Not every error should be called folly. Cic.

1. The Verb regularly agrees with the appositive when that is urbis, oppidum, or civitas, in apposition with plural names of places, as in the first example.

1) The verb sometimes agrees with a noun in a subordinate clause after quam, nisi, etc. : Nihil aliud nisi pax quaesita est (not quaesitum), Nothing but peace was sought. Cic.

2. The verb agrees with the predicate noun, when that is nearer or more emphatic than the subject, as in the second example.

463. AGREEMENT WITH COMPOUND SUBJECT.—With two or more subjects the verb agrees—

I. With one subject and is understood with the others :

Aut mōres spectāri aut fortūna sōlet, Either character or fortune is wont to be regarded. Cic. Hōmērus fuit et Hēsiodus ante Rōmam conditam, Homer and Hesiod lived (were) before the founding of Rome. Cic.

II. With all the subjects conjointly, and is accordingly in the Plural Number :

Lentulus, Scipio perierunt, Lentulus and Scipio perished. Cic. Ego et Cicero vālemus, Cicero and I are well. Cic. Tu et Tullia vālētis, You and Tullia are well. Cic.

1. PERSON.—With subjects differing in Person, the verb takes the First Person rather than the Second, and the Second rather than the Third, as in the examples just given.

2. PARTICIPLES.—See 439.

3. TWO SUBJECTS AS A UNIT.—Two singular subjects forming in sense a unit or whole, admit a singular verb :

Sēnātus pōpūlusque intellīgit, The senate and people (i. e., the state as a unit) understand. Cic. Tempus nēcēssitasque postulat, Time and necessity (i. e., the crisis) demand. Cic.

4. SUBJECTS WITH AUT OR NEC.—With singular subjects connected by aut, vel, nec, nēque or seu, the verb generally agrees with the nearest subject, but with subjects differing in person, it is generally Plur. :

Aut Brūtus aut Cassius iudicāvit, Either Brutus or Cassius judged. Cic. Hæc nēque ego nēque tu fecimus, Neither you nor I have done these things. Ter.

SECTION II.

USE OF VOICES.

464. In a transitive verb, the Active voice represents the subject as acting upon some object, the Passive, as acted upon by some other person or thing :

Deus mundum aedificāvit, God made the world. Cic. A Deo omnia facta sunt, All things were made by God. Cic.

465. ACTIVE AND PASSIVE CONSTRUCTION.—With transitive verbs, a thought may at the pleasure of the writer be expressed either actively or passively. But

I. That which in the active construction would be the object must be the subject in the passive ; and

II. That which in the active would be the subject must be put in the ablative with a or ab, for persons, without it for things : (371.6) :

Deus omnia constituit, God ordained all things, or: A Deo omnia constituta sunt, All things were ordained by God. Cic. Dei providentia mundum administrat, The providence of God rules the world, or: Dei providentia mundus administratur, The world is ruled by the providence of God. Cic.

1. The PASSIVE VOICE is sometimes equivalent to the Act. with a reflexive pronoun, like the Greek Middle:

Lavantur in fluminibus, They bathe (wash themselves) in the rivers. Caes.

2. INTRANSITIVE VERBS (193) have regularly only the active voice, but they are sometimes used impersonally in the passive:

Curritur ad praetorium, They run to the praetorium (it is run to). Cic.

3. DEPONENT VERBS, though Passive in form, are in signification transitive or intransitive:

Illud mirabar, I admired that. Cic. Ab urbe proficisci, to set out from the city. Caes.

4. SEMI DEPONENTS (272. 3) have some of the Active forms and some of the Passive, without change of meaning.

SECTION III.

TENSES OF THE INDICATIVE.

I. PRESENT INDICATIVE.

466. The Present Indicative represents the action of the verb as taking place at the present time:

Ego et Cicero valēmus, Cicero and I are well. Cic. Hoc te rōgo, I ask you for this. Cic.

467. Hence the Present Tense is used,

I. Of actions and events which are actually taking place at the present time, as in the above examples.

II. Of actions and events which, as belonging to all time, belong of course to the present, as general truths and customs:

Nihil est amabilius virtute, Nothing is more lovely than virtue. Cic. Fortes fortuna adiuvat, Fortune helps the brave. Ter.

III. Of past actions and events which the writer wishes, for effect, to picture before the reader as present. The Present, when so used, is called the Historical Present:

Jugurtha vallo moenia circumdat, Jugurtha surrounds the city with a rampart. Sall.

1. HISTORICAL PRESENT.—The historical present may sometimes be best rendered by the English Imperfect, and sometimes by the English Present, as that has a similar historical use.

2. PRESENT WITH JAMDIU, JAMDUDUM.—The Present is often used of a present action which has been going on for some time, rendered have, especially after jamdiu, jamdudum, etc.

Jamdiu ignōro quid āgas, I have not known for a long time what you are doing. Cic.

1) The Imperfect is used in the same way of a past action which had been going on for some time. Thus in the example above, Jamdiu ignōrābam, would mean, I had not known for a long time.

2) The Present in the Infinitive and Participle is used in the same way of an action which has been or had been going on for some time.

3. PRESENT APPLIED TO AUTHORS.—The Present in Latin, as in English, may be used of authors whose works are extant :

Xēnōphon fācit Socrātem dispūtāntem, Xenophon represents Socrates discussing. Cic.

4. PRESENT WITH DUM.—With dum, in the sense of while, the Present is generally used, even of past actions :

Dum ea pārant, Sāguntum oppugnābātur, While they were (are) making these preparations, Saguntum was attacked. Liv.

5. PRESENT FOR FUTURE.—The Present is sometimes used of an action really future, especially in conditions :

Si vincimus, omnia tūta erunt, If we conquer, all things will be safe. Sall.

II. IMPERFECT INDICATIVE.

468. The Imperfect Indicative represents the action as taking place in past time :

Stābant nobilissimī jūvēnes, There stood (were standing) most noble youths. Liv. Colles oppidum cingēbant, Hills encompassed the town. Caes.

469. Hence the Imperfect is used especially

I. In lively description, whether of scenes or events :

Ante oppidum planities patēbat, Before the town extended a plain. Caes. Fulgentes glādios vidēbant, They saw (were seeing) the gleaming swords. Cic.

II. Of customary or repeated actions and events, often rendered by was wont, etc. :

Pausānias epulābātur mōre Persarum, Pausanias was wont to banquet in the Persian style. Nep.

1. IMPERFECT OF ATTEMPTED ACTION.—The Imperfect is sometimes used of an attempted or intended action :

Sēdābant tūmultus, They attempted to quell the seditions. Liv.

2. IMPERFECT IN LETTERS.—See 472. 1.

III. FUTURE INDICATIVE.

470. The Future Indicative represents the action as one which will take place in future time:

Scribam ad te, I will write to you. Cic. Nunquam aberrābimus, We shall never go astray. Cic.

1. FUTURE WITH IMPERATIVE FORCE.—In Latin as in English, the Future Indicative sometimes has the force of an Imperative:

Cūrābis et scribes, You will take care and write. Cic.

2. LATIN FUTURE FOR ENGLISH PRESENT.—Actions which really belong to future time are almost invariably expressed by the Future Tense, though sometimes put in the present in English:

Nātūram si sequēmur, nunquam aberrābimus, If we follow nature, we shall never go astray. Cic.

3. FUTURE INDICATIVE WITH MELIUS.—With melius the Future Indicative has often the force of the Subjunctive:

Mélius peribimus, We would perish rather, or it would be better for us to perish. Liv.

IV. PERFECT INDICATIVE.

471. The Perfect Indicative has two distinct uses:

I. As the PRESENT PERFECT or PERFECT DEFINITE, it represents the action as at present completed, and is rendered by our Perfect with have:

De genere belli dixi, I have spoken of the character of the war. Cic.

II. As the HISTORICAL PERFECT or PERFECT INDEFINITE, it represents the action as a simple historical fact:

Miltiādes est accūsātus, Miltiades was accused. Nep.

1. PERFECT OF WHAT HAS CEASED TO BE.—The Perfect is sometimes used where the emphasis rests particularly on the completion of the action, implying that what was true of the past, is not true of the present:

Hābuit, non hācet, He had, but has not. Cic. Fuit Ilium, Ilium was. Virg.

2. PERFECT INDICATIVE WITH PAENE, PROPE.—The Perfect Indicative with paene, prope, may often be rendered by might, would, or by the Pluperfect Indicative:

Brūtum non minus amo, paene dixi, quam te, I love Brutus not less, I might almost say, or I had almost said, than I do you. Cic.

3. PERFECT FOR ENGLISH PRESENT.—The Latin sometimes employs the Perfect and Pluperfect where the English uses the Present and Imperfect, especially in repeated actions, and in verbs which want the Present (297).

Mēmīnit praetērītōrum, He remembers the past. Cic. Quum ad viliam vēni, hoc me dēlectat, When I come (have come) to a villa, this pleases me. Cic. Mēmīnēram Paulum, I remembered Paulus. Cic.

4. PERFECT WITH POSTQUAM.—Postquam, ut, ut primum, etc., in the sense of as soon as, are usually followed by the Perfect; sometimes by the Imperfect or Historical Present. But the Pluperfect is generally used of repeated actions; also after postquam when a long or definite interval intervenes:

Postquam cecidit Ilium, after (as soon as) Ilium fell. Virg. Anno tertio postquam profūgērat, in the third year after he had fled. Nep.

1) As a Rare Exception the Imperfect and Pluperfect Subjunctive occur after postquam (posteaquam): Posteaquam aedificasset classes, after he had built fleets. Cic.

V. PLUPERFECT INDICATIVE.

472. The Pluperfect Indicative represents the action as completed at some definite past time:

Cōpias quas pro castris collōcāvērāt, rēduxit, He led back the forces which he had stationed before the camp. Caes.

1. TENSES.—In letters the writer often adapts the tense to the time of the reader, using the Imperfect or Perfect for the Present, and the Pluperfect for the Imperfect or Perfect:

Nihil hābēbam quod scribērem: ad tuas omnes ēpistōlas rescripsēram, I have (had) nothing to write: I have already replied to all your letters (I had replied, i. e., before writing this). Cic.

1) The Perfect is sometimes used of Future actions, as events which happen after the writing of the letter but before the receipt of it will be Future to the writer but Past to the reader.

2. PLUPERFECT FOR ENGLISH IMPERFECT.—See 471. 3.

3. PLUPERFECT TO DENOTE RAPIDITY.—The Pluperfect sometimes denotes rapidity or completeness of action:

Urbe[m] luctu complēvērāt, They (had) filled the city with mourning. Curt.

VI. FUTURE PERFECT INDICATIVE.

473. The Future Perfect Indicative represents the action as one which will be completed at some future time:

Rōmam quum vēnēro, scribam ad te, When I shall have reached Rome, I will write to you. Cic. Dum tu haec lēges, ēgo illum fortasse convēnēro, When you read this, I shall perhaps have already met him. Cic.

1. FUTURE PERFECT TO DENOTE CERTAINTY.—The Future Perfect is sometimes used to denote the speedy or complete accomplishment of the work:

Ego meum officiū praestitēro, I will surely discharge my duty. Caes.

2. The FUTURE PERFECT FOR ENGLISH PRESENT OR FUTURE is rare, but occurs in conditional clauses:

Si interpretārī pōtūērō, his verbis attitur, If I can (shall have been able to) understand him, he uses these words. Cic.

SECTION IV.

USE OF THE INDICATIVE.

RULE XXXVI.—Indicative.

474. The Indicative is used in treating of facts:

Deus mundum acificāvit, God made the world. Cic. Nōne expulsus est patria, Was he not banished from his country? Cic. Hec feci, dum licuit, I did this as long as it was permitted. Cic.

475. SPECIAL USES.—The Indicative is sometimes used where our idiom would suggest the Subjunctive:

1. The Indicative of the Periphrastic Conjugations is often so used in the historical tenses, especially in conditional sentences (512. 2):

Haec conditio non accipienda fuit, This condition should not have been accepted. Cic.

2. The Historical Tenses of the Indicative, particularly the Pluperfect, are sometimes used for Effect, to represent as an actual fact something which is shown by the context never to have become fully so:

Vicērāmus, nīsi rēcēpisset Antōnium, We should have (lit. had) conquered, had he not received Antony. Cic. See 511. 2.

3. Pronouns and Relative Adverbs, made general by being doubled or by assuming the suffix cunque (187. 4), take the Indicative:

Quisquis est, is est sapiens, Whoever he is, he is wise. Cic. Hoc ultimum, utcunque initum est, proclium fuit, This, however it was commenced, was the last battle. Liv.

4. In Expressions of Duty, Necessity, Ability, and the like, the Latin often uses the Indicative where the English does not:

Tardius quam debuērat, more slowly than he should have done. Cic.

1) So also in sum with aequum, par, justum, melius, utilius, longum, difficile, and the like: Longum est perscqui utilitates, It would be tedious (is a long task) to enumerate the uses. Cic.

SECTION V.

TENSES OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE.

476. Tense in the Subjunctive does not designate the time of the action as definitely as in the Indicative, but it marks with great exactness its continuance or completion.

477. The Present and Imperfect express Incomplete action :

Valeant cives, May the citizens be well. Cic. Utinam vëra invēnīro possem, O that I were able to find the truth. Cic.

478. The Perfect and Pluperfect express Completed action :

Oblitus es quid dixërim, You have forgotten what I said. Cic. Thëmistocles, quum Græciam libërasset, expulsus est, Themistocles was banished, though he had liberated Greece. Cic.

479. The Future Tenses are wanting in the Subjunctive: the mood itself—used only of that which is merely conceived and uncertain—is so nearly related to the Future, that those tenses are seldom needed. Their place is however supplied, when necessary, by the periphrastic forms in rus (481. III. 1).

480. SEQUENCE OF TENSES.—The Subjunctive Tenses in their use conform to the following

RULE XXXVII.—Sequence of Tenses.

Principal tenses depend upon Principal tenses: Historical upon Historical :

Nititur ut vincat, He strives to conquer. Cic. Nëmo ërit qui censent, There will be no one who will think. Cic. Quæsiëras nonne putärem, You had asked, whether I did not think. Cic.

481. APPLICATION OF THE RULE.—In accordance with this rule,

I. The Subjunctive dependent upon a Principal tense—present, present perfect, future, future perfect—is put,

1. In the Present for Incomplete Action :

Vïdeo quid ägas,	I see what you are doing.
Vïdi quid ägas,	I have seen what you are doing.
Vïdëbo quid ägas,	I shall see what you do.
Vïdëro quid ägas,	I shall have seen what you do.

2. In the Perfect for Completed Action :

Vïdeo quid ëgëris,	I see what you have done.
Vïdi quid ëgeris,	I have seen what you have done.
Vïdëbo quid ëgeris,	I shall see what you have done.
Vïdëro quid ëgeris,	I shall have seen what you have done.

II. The Subjunctive dependent upon a Historical tense—imperfect, historical perfect, pluperfect—is put,

1. In the Imperfect for Incomplete Action :

Videbam quid ageres,	I saw what you were doing.
Vidi quid ageres,	I saw what you were doing.
Videram quid ageres,	I had seen what you were doing.

2. In the Pluperfect for Completed Action :

Videbam quid egisses,	I saw what you had done.
Vidi quid egisses,	I saw what you had done.
Videram quid egisses,	I had seen what you had done.

III. The Periphrastic Forms in rus conform to the rule :

Video quid acturus sis,	I see what you are going to do.
Videbam quid acturus esses,	I saw what you were going to do.

1. FUTURE SUPPLIED.—The Future is supplied when necessary (479), (1) by the Present<sup>1</sup> or Imperfect Subjunctive of the periphrastic forms in rus, or (2) by futurum sit ut,<sup>2</sup> with the regular Present, and futurum esset ut, with the regular Imperfect. The first method is confined to the Active, the second occurs in both voices :

Incertum est quam longa vita futura sit, It is uncertain how long life will continue. Cic. Incertum erat quo missuri classem forent, It was uncertain whither they would send the fleet. Liv.

2. FUTURE PERFECT SUPPLIED.—The Future Perfect is supplied, when necessary, by futurum sit ut, with the Perfect, and futurum esset ut, with the Pluperfect. But this circumlocution is rarely necessary. In the Passive it is sometimes abridged to futurus sim and futurus essem, with the Perfect participle :

Non dubito quin confecta jam res futura sit, I do not doubt that the thing will have been already accomplished. Cic.

IV. The HISTORICAL PRESENT is treated sometimes as a Principal tense, as it really is in Form, and sometimes as a Historical tense, as it really is in Sense.

1. As Principal tense according to its Form :

Ubi orant, ut sibi parcat, The Ubi implore him to spare them. Caes.

2. As Historical tense according to its Sense :

Persuadet Castico ut regnum occuparet, He persuaded Casticus to seize the government. Caes.

V. The IMPERFECT SUBJUNCTIVE often refers to present time, especially in conditional sentences (510. 1); accordingly, when thus used, it is treated as a Principal tense :

Mēmōrāre possem quibus in locis hostes fūdērit, I might (now) state in what places he routed the enemy. Sall.

VI. THE PRESENT AND FUTURE INFINITIVES, Present and Future PARTICIPLES, as also GERUNDS and SUPINES, share the tense of the verb on which they depend, as they express only relative time (540. 571):

Spēro fore<sup>1</sup> ut contingat, I hope it will happen (I hope it will be that it may happen). Cic. Non spērāverat fore ut ad se dēficerent, He had not hoped that they would revolt to him. Liv.

482. PECULIARITIES IN SEQUENCE.—The following peculiarities in the sequence of tenses deserve notice:

1. AFTER PERFECT TENSE.—The Latin Perfect is sometimes treated as a Historical tense, even when rendered with have, and thus admits the Imperfect or Pluperfect:

Quōniam quae subsidia hābēres expōsui,<sup>2</sup> nunc dīcam, Since I have shown what aids you have (or had), I will now speak. Cic.

2. AFTER HISTORICAL TENSES.—Conversely Historical tenses, when followed by clauses denoting consequence or result, often conform to the law of sequence for Principal tenses, and thus admit the Present or Perfect:

Epāminondas fide sic ūsus est, ut possit iudicāri, Epaminondas used such fidelity that it may be judged. Nep. Adeo excellēbat Aristides abstinentia, ut Justus sit appellātus, Aristides so excelled in self-control, that he has been called the Just. Nep.

This peculiarity arises from the fact that the Result of a past action may itself be present and may thus be expressed by a Principal tense. When the result belongs to the present time, the Present is used: possit iudicāri, may be judged now; when it is represented as at present completed, the Perfect is used: sit appellātus, has been called i. e. even to the present day; but when it is represented as simultaneous with the action on which it depends, the Imperfect is used in accordance with the general rule of sequence (450).

3. IN INDIRECT DISCOURSE, ORATIO OBLIQUA.—In indirect discourse (528. and 533. 1) dependent upon a Historical tense, the narrator often uses the Principal tenses to give a lively effect to his narrative; occasionally also in direct discourse:

Exitus fuit orationis: Nēque ullos vacāre agros, qui dāri possint; The close of the oration was, that there were (are) not any lands unoccupied which could (can) be given. Caes.

<sup>1</sup> Here fore shares the tense of spēro, and is accordingly followed by the Present contingat, but below it shares the tense of spērāverat, and is accordingly followed by the Imperfect dēficerent.

<sup>2</sup> Expōsui, though best rendered by our Perf. Def. with have is in the Latin treated as the Historical Perf. The thought is as follows: Since in the preceding topics I set forth the aids which you had, I will now speak, &c.

SECTION VI.

USE OF THE SUBJUNCTIVE

483. The Subjunctive represents the action of the verb, not as an actual fact, but as something supposed or conceived. It may denote that the action is conceived,

1. As Possible, Potential.
2. As Desirable.
3. As a Purpose or Result.
4. As a Condition.
5. As a Concession.
6. As a Cause or Reason.
7. As an Indirect Question.
8. As dependent upon another subordinate action: (1) By Attraction after another Subjunctive, (2) In Indirect Discourse.

484. VARIETIES.—The Subjunctive in its various uses may accordingly be characterized as follows:

- I. The Potential Subjunctive.
- II. The Subjunctive of Desire.
- III. The Subjunctive of Purpose or Result
- IV. The Subjunctive of Condition.
- V. The Subjunctive of Concession.
- VI. The Subjunctive of Cause or Reason.
- VII. The Subjunctive in Indirect Questions.
- VIII. The Subjunctive by Attraction.
- IX. The Subjunctive in Indirect Discourse.

I. THE POTENTIAL SUBJUNCTIVE.

RULE XXXVIII.—Potential Subjunctive.

485. The Potential Subjunctive represents the action not as real, but as possible:

Forsitan quaeratis, Perhaps you may inquire. Cic. Hoc nemo dixrit, No one would say this. Cic. Huic cedāmus, hujus conditiones audiā-mus, Shall we yield to him, shall we listen to his terms? Cic. Quis dubitet (= nemo dubitat), Who would doubt, or who doubts (= no one doubts)? Cic. Quid facerem, What was I to do, or what should I have done? Virg.

486. APPLICATION OF THE RULE.—In the Potential sense, the Subjunctive is used,

I. In Declarative Sentences, to express an affirmation doubtfully or conditionally, as in the first and second examples.

II. In Questions of Appeal,<sup>1</sup> to ask not what is, but what may be or should be, generally implying a negative answer, as in the last example under the rule.

III. In Subordinate Clauses, whatever the connective, to represent the action as possible rather than real:

Quamquam ēpūlis cāreat sēnectus, though old age may be without its feasts. Cic. Quōniam non possent, since they would not be able. Caes. Ubi res poscēret, whenever the case might demand. Liv.

Here the Subjunctive after quamquam, quōniam, and ubi, is entirely independent of those conjunctions. In this way many conjunctions which do not require the Subjunctive, admit that mood whenever the thought requires it.

1. USE OF THE POTENTIAL SUBJUNCTIVE.—This Subjunctive, it will be observed, has a wide application, and is used in almost all kinds of sentences and clauses, whether declarative or interrogative, principal or subordinate, whether introduced by conjunctions or relatives.

2. How rendered.—The Potential Subjunctive is generally best rendered by our Potential signs—may, can, must, might, etc., or by shall or will.

3. INCLINATION.—The Subjunctive sometimes denotes inclination:

Ego censeam, I should think, or I am inclined to think. Liv.

4. IMPERFECT FOR PLUPERFECT.—In the Potential sense, the Imperfect is often used where we should expect the Pluperfect: dicēres, you would have said; crēdēres, pūtāres, you would have thought; vidēres, cernēres, you would have seen:

Moesti, crēdēres victos, rēdennt in castra, Sad, vanquished you would have thought them, they returned to the camp. Liv.

5. SUBJUNCTIVE OF REPEATED ACTION.—Subordinate clauses in narration sometimes take the Subjunctive to denote that the action is often or indefinitely repeated. Thus with ubi, whenever, quōties, as often as, quicunque, whoever, ut quisque, as each one, and the like:

Id fētiālis ūbi dixisset, hastam mittēbat, The fetial priest was wont to hurt a spear whenever (i. e., every time) he had said this. Liv.

6. PRESENT AND PERFECT.—In the Potential Subjunctive the Perfect often has nearly the same force as the Present:

Tu Plātōnem laudāvēris, You would praise Plato. Cic.

1) The Perfect with the force of the Present occurs also in some of the other uses of the Subjunctive.

7. CONDITIONAL SENTENCES.—The Subjunctive in the conclusion of conditional sentences is the Potential Subjunctive, but conditional sentences will be best treated by themselves. See 502.

<sup>1</sup> These are also variously called Deliberative, Doubting, or Rhetorical Questions.

II. THE SUBJUNCTIVE OF DESIRE.

RULE XXXIX.—Desire, Command.

487. The Subjunctive of Desire represents the action not as real, but as desired :

Văleant eives, May the citizens be well. Cic. Amemus patriam, Let us love our country. Cic. Rôbore nitare, Use your strength. Cic. Scribere ne pigrere, Do not neglect to write. Cic.

488. APPLICATION OF THE RULE.—The Subjunctive of Desire is used,

I. To express a WISH, as in prayers, exhortations, and entreaties, as in the first and second examples.

II. To express a COMMAND mildly, as in admonitions, precepts, and warnings, as in the third and fourth examples.

1. WITH UTINAM.—The Subjunctive of Desire is often accompanied by utinam, and sometimes—especially in the poets, by ut, si, o si :

Utinam cōnata effîcere possim, May I be able to accomplish my endeavors. Cic.

2. FORCE OF TENSES.—The Present and Perfect imply that the wish may be fulfilled ; the Imperfect and Pluperfect, that it cannot be fulfilled :

Sint beati, May they be happy. Cic. Ne transieris Ibêrum, Do not cross the Ebro. Liv. Utinam possem, utinam pōtuissem, Would that I were able, would that I had been able. Cic. See also 486. 6. 1).

The Imperfect and Pluperfect may often be best rendered, should have been, ought to have been :

Hec diceret, He should have said this. Cic. Mortem oppētisses, You should have met death. Cic.

3. NEGATIVE NE.—With this Subjunctive the negative is ne, rarely non :
Ne audeant, Let them not dare. Cic. Non recedāmus, Let us not recede. Cic.

4. IN ASSEVERATIONS.—The first person of the subjunctive is often found in earnest or solemn affirmations or asseverations :

Mōriar, si puto, May I die, if I think. Cic. Ne sim saluus, si scribo, May I not be safe, if I write. Cic.

So with ita and sic : Sollicitat, ita vivam, As I live, it troubles me. Cic.
Here ita vivam means literally, may I so live, i. e., may I live only in case this is true.

5. IN RELATIVE CLAUSES.—The Subjunctive of desire is sometimes used in relative clauses :

Quod faustum sit, regem creāte, Elect a king, and may it be an auspicious event (may which be auspicious). Liv. Sănectus, ad quam utinam perveniātis, old age, to which may you attain. Cic.

III. SUBJUNCTIVE OF PURPOSE OR RESULT.

RULE XL.—Purpose or Result.

489. The Subjunctive of Purpose or Result is used,

I. With ut, ne, quo, quin, quōmīnus :

PURPOSE.—Enītur ut vincat, He strives that he may conquer. Cic.
Pūnit ne peccētur, He punishes that crime may not be committed. Sen.

RESULT.—Ita vixit ut Athēniensibus esset cārissimus, He so lived that he was very dear to the Athenians. Nep.

II. With qui = ut is, ut ēgo, tu, etc. :

PURPOSE.—Missi sunt, qui (ut ii) consūlērent Apollīnem, They were sent to consult Apollo (who should or that they should). Nep.

RESULT.—Non is sum qui (ut ego) his ūtar, I am not such an one as to use these things. Cic.

1. Ut with the Subjunctive sometimes forms with fūcio, or āgo, rarely with est, circumlocution for the Indicative : fūcio ut dicam = dīco ; fūcio ut scribam = scribo : Invitus fūcio ut rēcorder, I unwillingly recall. Cic.

Conjunctions of Purpose or Result.

490. UT AND NE.—Ut and ne are the regular conjunctions in clauses denoting Purpose or Result. Ut and ne denote Purpose ; ut and ut non, Result.

1. With connective ne becomes nēve, neu, rarely nēque. Nēve, neu, = aut ne or et ne : Lēgem tulit nēquis accūsārētur nēve multārētur, He proposed a law that no one should be accused or punished. Nep.

491. PURE PURPOSE.—Ut and ne—that, in order that, that not, in order that not, īest, etc.—are used after verbs of a great variety of significations to express simply the Purpose of the action. A correlative—ideo, idcirco, etc.—may or may not precede :

Lēgum idcirco servī sūmus, ut libēri esse possīmus, We are servants of the law for this reason, that we may be free. Cic. See also the examples under the Rule.

492. MIXED PURPOSE.—In their less obvious applications, ut and ne are used to denote a Purpose which partakes more or less of the character of a Direct Object, sometimes of a Subject, Predicate or Appositive—Mixed Purpose. Thus with verbs and expressions denoting

1. EFFORT.—striving for a purpose ; attaining a purpose :

nitor, contendo, stūdeo,—cūro, id āgo, ōpēram do, etc., fūcio, effūcio, impetro, consēquor, etc. :

Contendit, ut vincat, He strives to conquer. Cic. Cūrāvi ut bene vivērem, I took care to lead a good life. Sen. Efficit ut impērātor mittērētur, He caused a commander to be sent (attained his purpose). Nep. But see 495.

2. EXHORTATION, IMPULSE—urging one to effort :

admōueo, mōueo, hortor, —cūgo, impello, mōveo, —ōro, rōgo, —impēro, praeipio, etc. :

Te hortor ut lēgas, I exhort you to read. Cic. Mōvemur ut bōni simus, We are influenced to be good. Cic. Te rōgo ut eum jūves, I ask you to aid him. Cic. See also 551. II. 1 and 2; 558. VI.

3. DESIRE AND ITS EXPRESSION : hence decision, decree, etc. :

opto, postūlo, —censeo, dēcerno, stātuo, consūtuo, etc.—rarely vōlo, nōlo, mālo :

Opto ut id audiātis, I desire (pray) that you may hear this. Cic. Sēnātus censuērat, ūti Aeduos dēfendēret, The senate had decreed that he should defend the Aedui. Caes. See 551. II. and 558. II. and VI.

4. FEAR, DANGER :

mētuo, tīmeo, vēreor, —pēricūlum est, cūra est, etc. :

Tīmeo, ut sustīneas, I fear you will not endure them. Cic. Vēreor ne lābōrem augeam, I fear that I shall increase the labor. Cic.

1) By a Difference of Idiom ut must here be rendered that not, and ne by that or lest. The Latin treats the clause as a wish, a desired purpose.

2) After verbs of fearing ne non is sometimes used for ut, regularly so after negative clauses: Vēreor ne non possit, I fear that he will not be able. Cic.

3) After verbs of fearing, especially vēreor, the infinitive is sometimes used: Vēreor laudāre, I fear (hesitate) to praise. Cic.

493. PECULIARITIES.—Expressions of Purpose present the following peculiarities :

1. Ut ne, rarely ut non, is sometimes used for ne :

Praedixit, ut ne lēgātos dimittērent, He charged them not to (that they should not) release the delegates. Nep. Ut plūra non dicam, not to say more, i. e., that I may not. Cic.

2. Ut is sometimes omitted, especially with vōlo, nōlo, mālo, fācio, and verbs of directing, urging, etc. Ne is often omitted with cāve :

Tu vēm sis, I desire that you may be. Cic. Fac hābeas, see (make) that you have. Cic. Sēnātus decrēvit, dārent ōpēram consūles, The senate decreed that the consuls should see to it. Sall. See also 535. 1, 2).

3. Clauses with Ut and Ne may depend upon a noun or upon a verb omitted :

Fecit pācem his conditiōnibus, ne qui affēcērentur exsilio, He made peace on these terms, that none should be punished with exile. Nep. Ut ita dicam, so to speak (that I may speak thus). Cic. This is often inserted in a sentence, like the English so to speak.

4. Nēdum and Ne in the sense of much less, not to say, are used with the Subjunctive:

Vix in tectis frigus vitātur, nēdum in mări sit faciēle, The cold is avoided with difficulty in our houses, much less is it easy (to avoid it) on the sea. Cic.

494. PURE RESULT.—Ut and ut non—so that, so that not—are often used with the Subjunctive, to express simply a Result or a Consequence:

Ita vixit ut Athēniensibus esset cārissimus, He so lived that he was very dear to the Athenians. Nep. Ita laudo, ut non pertimescam, I so praise as not to fear. Cic.

A correlative—ita in these examples—generally precedes: thus, ita, sic, tam, adeo, tantopere, tālis, tantus, ejusmodi.

495. MIXED RESULT.—In their less obvious applications, ut and ut non are used with the Subjunctive to denote a Result which partakes of the character of a Direct Object, Subject, Predicate, or Appositive: Thus

1. Clauses as OBJECT AND RESULT occur with facio, efficio, of the action of irrational forces:

Sol efficit ut omnia floreant, The sun causes all things to bloom, i. e., produces that result. Cic. See 492. 1.

2. Clauses as SUBJECT AND RESULT occur with impersonal verbs signifying it happens, remains, follows, is distant, etc.:

accidit, contingit, evēnit, fit, restat, —sequitur, —ābest, etc.

Fit ut quisque delectetur, The result is (it happens) that every one is delighted. Cic. Sequitur ut falsum sit, It follows that it is false. Cic.

1) The Subjunctive is sometimes, though rarely, used when the predicate is a Noun or Adjective with the copula sum:

Mos est ut nōlint, It is their custom not to be willing (that they are unwilling). Cic. Proximum est, ut doceam, The next point is, that I show. Cic. See 556. I. 1 and 2.

2) Subjunctive Clauses with ut, in the form of questions expressive of surprise, sometimes stand alone, by the omission of some predicate, as credendum est, verisimile est, is it to be credited, is it probable?

Tu ut unquam te corrigas, that you should ever reform? i. e., Is it to be supposed that you will ever reform? Cic.

3) See also 556 with its subdivisions.

3. Clauses as APPOSITIVE AND RESULT, OF PREDICATE AND RESULT, occur with Demonstratives and a few Nouns:

Habet hoc virtus ut delectet, Virtue has this advantage, that it delights. Cic. Est hoc vitium, ut invidia glōriæ cōmes sit, There is this fault, that envy is the companion of glory. Nep.

496. PECULIARITIES.—Expressions of Result present the following peculiarities :

1. Ut is sometimes omitted, regularly so with oportet, generally with opus est and necesse est :

Te oportet virtus trahat, It is necessary that virtue should attract you.
Cic. Causam habeat necesse est, It is necessary that it should have a cause.
Cic.

2. The Subjunctive occurs with Quam—with or without ut :

Liberalius quam ut posset, too freely to be able (more freely than so as to be able). Nep. Imponēbat amplius quam ferre possent, He imposed more than they were able to bear.

3. Tantum adest.—After tantum adest ut, denoting result, a second ut of result sometimes occurs :

Philosophia, tantum adest, ut laudetur ut etiam vituperetur, So far is it from the truth (so much is wanting), that philosophy is praised that it is even censured. Cic.

497. Quo.—Quo, by which, that, is sometimes used for ut, especially with comparatives :

Mēdico dāre quo sit studiōsior, to give to the physician, that (by this means) he may be more attentive. Cic.

For non quo of Cause, see 520. 3.

498. Quin.—Quin (quī and ne), by which not, that not, is often used to introduce a Purpose or Result after negatives and interrogatives implying a negative. Thus

1. Quin is often used in the ordinary sense of ne and ut non :

Rētinēri non pōterant, quin tela conficerent, They could not be restrained from hurling (that they might not) their weapons. Caes. Nihil est tam difficile quin (ut non) investigari possit, Nothing is so difficult that it may not be investigated. Ter.

After verbs of hindering, opposing, and the like, quin has the force of ne.

2. Quin is often used after Nemo, Nullus, Nihil, Quis?

Adest nemo, quin videat, There is no one present who does not see. Cic.
Quis est quin cernat, Who is there who does not perceive? Cic.

Is or id is sometimes expressed after quin :

Nihil est quin id intēreat, There is nothing which does not perish. Cic.

3. Quin is often used in the sense of that, but that, without with a participial noun, especially after negative expressions, implying doubt, uncertainty, omission, and the like :

Non est dubium quin beneficium sit, There is no doubt that it is a benefit. Sen. Nullum intermisi diem quin aliquid dārem, I allowed no day to pass, without giving something. Cic. Făcēre non possum quin littēras mit-tam, I cannot but send a letter. Cic.

1) Such expressions are: non dūbito, non dūbium est—non multum ābest, pau-lum ābest, nihil ābes, quid ābest?—non, vix, aegre abstinēo; mihi non tempore; non, nihil praetermitto—făcēre non possum, fieri non pōtest.

2) The Infinitive, for Quin with the Subjunctive, occurs with verbs of doubting: Quis dūbitat pătēre Eurōpam, Who doubts that Europe is exposed? Curt.

3) Non Quin of Cause. See 520. 3.

4) Quin is used in questions in the sense of why not? and with the Imperative in the sense of well, but: Quin āgite, but come. Virg. It occasionally means nay, even, rather.

499. QUOMINUS.—Quōmīnus (quo and mīnus), that thus the less, that not, is sometimes used for ne and ut non, after verbs of hindering, opposing, and the like:

Non dēterret săpientem mors quōmīnus reipublicae consūlat, Death does not deter a wise man from deliberating for the republic. Cic. Non rēcūsāvit, quominus poenam sūbiret, He did not refuse to submit to punishment. Nep. Per eum stētit quōmīnus dīmīcārētur, It was owing to him (stood through him), that the engagement was not made. Caes.

1. Expressions of hindering, etc., are: dēterreo, impēdio, prōhibeo,—obsto, obsisto, officio,—rēcūso, per me stat, etc.

2. Verbs of hindering admit a variety of constructions: the Infinitive, the Subjunctive with ut, ne, quo, quin, or quōmīnus.

Relative of Purpose or Result.

500. A Relative Clause denoting a Purpose or a Re-sult is equivalent to a clause with ut, denoting purpose or result, and takes the Subjunctive for the same reason. The relative is then equivalent to ut with a pronoun: qui = ut ego, ut tu, ut is, etc.:

PURPOSE.—Missi sunt qui (ut ii) consūlērēt Apollīnem, They were sent to consult Apollo (who should, or that they should). Nep. Missi sunt dēlecti qui Thermōpylas occūpārēt, Picked men were sent to take possession of Thermopylae. Nep.

RESULT.—Non is sum qui (= ut ego) his ūtar, I am not such a one as to use these things. Cic. Innōcentia est affectio tālis ānimī, quae (= ut ea) nō-ceat nēmīni, Innocence is such a state of mind as injures no one, or as to in-jure no one. Cic.

1. RELATIVE PARTICLES.—The subjunctive is used in the same way in clauses introduced by relative particles; ubi, unde, etc.:

Dōmum ūbi hābitāret, lēgit, He selected a house that he might dwell in it (where he might dwell). Cic.

2. PURPOSE AND RESULT.—Relative clauses denoting purpose are readily recognized; those denoting result are used, in their more obvious applications, after such words as tam, so; tālis, is, ejusmodi, such, as in the above examples; but see also 501.

3. INDICATIVE AFTER TALIS, ETC.—In a relative clause after tālis, is, etc., the Indicative is sometimes used to give prominence to the fact:

Mihi causa tālis oblata est, in qua oratio deesse nemini potest, Such a cause has been offered me, (one) in which no one can fail of an oration. Cic.

501. Relative clauses of Result, in their less obvious applications, include,

I. Relative clauses after Indefinite and General antecedents. Here tam, tālis, or some such word, may often be supplied:

Nunc dicis aliquid (ejusmodi, or tāle) quod ad rem pertineat, Now you state something which belongs to the subject (i. e., something of such a character as to belong, etc.). Cic. Sunt qui putent, there are some who think. Cic. Nemo est qui non cupiat, there is no one who does not desire, i. e., such as not to desire. Cic.

1. In the same way quod, or a relative particle, ubi, unde, quo, cur, etc., with the Subjunctive, is used after est, there is reason, non est, nihil est, there is no reason, quid est, what reason is there? non habeo, nihil habeo, I have no reason:

Est quod gaudeas, There is reason why you should rejoice, or so that you may. Plaut. Non est quod credas, There is no reason why you should believe. Sen. Nihil habeo, quod incussem senectutem, I have no reason why I should accuse old age. Cic.

2. INDICATIVE AFTER INDEFINITE ANTECEDENT.—A Relative clause after an indefinite antecedent also takes the Indicative, when the fact itself is to be made prominent:

Sunt qui non audent dicere, There are some who (actually) do not dare to speak. Cic. Multa sunt, quae dici possunt, There are many things which may be said. Cic. So also clauses with Rel. particles. See 1 above.

In poetry and late prose the Indicative often follows sunt qui:

Sunt quos juvat, there are some whom it delights. Hor.

3. RESTRICTIVE CLAUSES with quod, as quod sciam, as far as I know; quod meminérin, as far as I remember, etc., take the subjunctive.

II. Relative clauses after Unus, Solus, and the like, take the subjunctive:

Sapientia est una, quae moestitiam pellat, Wisdom is the only thing which dispels sadness (such as to dispel). Cic. Sōli centum erant qui creāri possent, There were only one hundred who could be appointed (such that they could be). Liv.

III. Relative clauses after Dignus, Indignus, Idōneus, and Ap-tus take the subjunctive:

Fabulae dignae sunt, quae legantur, The fables are worthy to be read (that they should be read). Cic. Rūfum Caesar Idōneum iudicāverat quem mittēret, Caesar had judged Rufus a suitable person to send (whom he might send). Caes.

IV. Relative clauses after Comparatives with Quam take the subjunctive:

Damna majōra sunt quam quae (= ut ea) aestimāri possint, The losses are too great to be estimated (greater than so that they can be). Liv.

IV. SUBJUNCTIVE OF CONDITION.

502. Every conditional sentence consists of two distinct parts, expressed or understood,—the Condition and the Conclusion:

Si nēgem, mentiar, If I should deny it, I should speak falsely. Cic.
Here si negem is the condition, and mentiar, the conclusion.

RULE XLI.—Subjunctive of Condition.

503. The Subjunctive of Condition is used,

I. With dum, mōdo, dummodo:

Mānent ingēnia, mōdo permāneat industria, Mental powers remain, if only industry remains. Cic.

II. With ac si, ut si, quāsi, quam si, tanquam, tanquam si, vĕlut, vĕlut si:

Crūdēlītatē, vĕlut si ādesset, horrēbant, They shuddered at his cruelty, as if he were present. Caes.

III. Sometimes with si, nīsi, nī, sin, qui = si is, si quis:

Dies deficiat, si vĕlim nūmērāre, The day would fail me, if I should wish to recount. Cic. Imprōbe feceris, nīsi mōnuēris, You would do wrong, if you should not give warning. Cic. Si vōluisset, dimicasset, If he had wished, he would have fought. Nep.

1. Si OMITTED.—Two clauses without any conjunction sometimes have the force of a conditional sentence:

Nēgat quis, nēgo, Does any one deny, I deny. Ter. Rōges me, nihil respondeam, Should you ask me, I should make no reply. Cic. See also Imperative, 535. 2.

2. CONDITION SUPPLIED.—The condition may be supplied,

1) By Participles: Non pōtestis, vōluptātē omnia dirīgētis, rētīnere virtūtem, You cannot retain your manhood, if you arrange all things with reference to pleasure. Cic.

2) By Oblique Cases: Nēmo sine spe (nīsi spem hāberet) se offerret ad mortem, No one without a hope (if he had not a hope) would expose himself to death. Cic.

3. IRONY.—The condition is sometimes ironical, especially with nisi vĕro, nisi forte with the Indicative, and with quāsi, quāsi vĕro with the Present or Perfect Subjunctive:

Nisi forte insānit, unless perhaps he is insane. Cic. Quāsi vĕro nēcesso sit, as if indeed it were necessary. Caes.

4. ITA—SI, ETC.—Ita—si, so—if, means only—if. Si quidē, if indeed, sometimes has nearly the force of since.

5. ET OMITTED.—See 587. I. 6.

504. FORCE OF TENSES.—In conditional sentences the Present and Perfect tenses represent the supposition as not at all improbable, the Imperfect and Pluperfect represent it as contrary to the fact. See examples above. See also 476 to 478.

1. PRESENT FOR IMPERFECT.—The Present Subjunctive is sometimes used for the Imperfect, when a condition, in itself contrary to reality, is still conceived of as possible:

Tu si hic sis, ālīter sentias, If you were the one (or, should be), you would think differently. Ter.

2. IMPERFECT FOR PLUPERFECT.—The Imperfect Subjunctive is sometimes used for the Pluperfect, with the nice distinction that it contemplates the supposed action as going on, not as completed:

Num Opīnium, si tum esses, tēmĕrārium cīvem pūtāres? Would you think Opimius an audacious citizen, if you were living at that time (Pluperf. would you have thought—if you had lived)? Cic.

505. DUM, MŌDO, DUMMŌDO.—Dum, mōdo, and dummōdo, in conditions, have the force of—if only, provided that, or with ne, if only not, provided that not:

Dum res māneant, verba fingant, Let them make words, if only the facts remain. Cic. Mōdo permāneat industria, if only industry remains. Cic. Dummōdo rēpellat pĕricūlum, provided he may avert danger. Cic. Mōdo ne laudārent, if only they did not praise. Cic.

When not used in conditions, these conjunctions often admit the indicative:

Dum lēges vīgēbant, while the laws were in force. Cic.

506. AC SI, UT SI, QUĀSI, ETC.—Ac si, ut si, quam si, quāsi, tanquam, tanquam si, vĕlut, vĕlut si, involve an ellipsis of the real conclusion:

Misĕrior es, quam si ōculos non hābĕres, You are more unhappy than (esses, you would be) if you had not eyes. Cic. Crūdēlītātem, vĕlut si adēsset, horrēbant, They shuddered at his cruelty as (they would) if he were present. Caes. Ut si in suam rem āliĕna convertant, as if they should appropriate others' possessions to their own use. Cic. Tanquam audiant, as if they may hear. Sen.

Ceu and Sicūtī are sometimes used in the same way:

Ceu bella fōrent, as if there were wars. Virg. Sicūtī audiri possent, as if they could be heard. Sall.

507. SI, NISI, NI, SIN, QUI.—The Latin distinguishes three distinct forms of the conditional sentence with si, nisi, ni, sin:

- I. Indicative in both Clauses.
- II. Subjunctive, Present or Perfect, in both Clauses.
- III. Subjunctive, Imperfect or Pluperfect, in both Clauses.

508. First Form.—Indicative in both Clauses.—This form assumes the supposed case as real, basing upon it any statement which would be admissible, if it were a known fact:

Si haec civitas est, civis sum ego, If this is a state, I am a citizen. Cic. Si non licēbat, non necesse erat, If it was not lawful, it was not necessary. Cic. Dölōrem si non pütēro frangēre, oecultābo, If I shall not be able to overcome sorrow, I will conceal it. Cic. Parvi sunt föris arma, nisi est consiliū dōmi, Arms are of little value abroad, unless there is wisdom at home. Cic.

1. CONDITION.—The condition is introduced, when affirmative, by si, with or without other particles, as quidem, modo, etc., and when negative, by si non, nisi, ni. The time may be either present, past, or future. See examples above.

2. CONCLUSION.—The conclusion may take the form of a command:
Si peccāvi, ignosce, If I have erred, pardon me. Cic.

3. SI NON, NISI.—Si non and nisi are often used without any perceptible difference of meaning; but strictly si non introduces the negative condition on which the conclusion depends, while nisi introduces a qualification or an exception. Thus in the second example above the meaning is, If it was not lawful, it follows that it was not necessary, while in the fourth the meaning is, Arms are of little value abroad, except when there is wisdom at home.

509. Second Form.—Subjunctive Present or Perfect in both Clauses.—This form assumes the condition as possible:

Hæc si tecum patria loquatur, nonne impetrare debeat, If your country should speak thus with you, ought she not to obtain her request? Cic. Improbe feceris, nisi monearis, You would do wrong, if you should not give warning. Cic. See also examples under the Rule, 503; also 486. 7.

When dependent upon a Historical tense, the Present and Perfect are of course generally changed to the Imperfect and Pluperfect, by the law for Sequence of tenses (480).

Métuit ne, si iret, retraheretur, He feared lest if he should go, he might be brought back. Liv.

510. Third Form.—Subjunctive Imperfect or Pluperfect in both Clauses.—This form assumes the supposed case as contrary to the reality, and simply states what would have been the result, if the condition had been fulfilled:

Sapientia non expetērētur, si nihil efficeret, Wisdom would not be sought (as it is), if it accomplished nothing. Cic. Si optima tēnere possēmus, laud sāne consilio ēgērēmus, If we were able to secure the highest good, we should not indeed need counsel. Cic. Si vōluisset, dimicasset, If he had wished, he would have fought. Nep. Nunquam ābisset, nisi sibi viam mūnīvisset, He would never have gone, if he had not prepared for himself a way. Cic. See also 486. 7.

1. Here the Imperfect relates to Present time, as in the first and second examples: the Pluperfect to Past time, as in the third and fourth examples.

2. In the Periphrastic forms in rus and du and in expressions of Duty, Necessity, and Ability, the Perfect and Imperfect Indicative sometimes occur in the conclusion.

Quid fūtūrum fuit, si plebs āgītāri coepta esset, What would have been the result, if the plebeians had begun to be agitated? Liv. See also 512. 2.

1) When the context, irrespective of the condition, requires the Subjunctive, the tense remains unchanged without reference to the tense of the principal verb:

Adeo est inopia coactus ut, nisi timuisset, Galliam repētītūrus fuērīt, He was so pressed by want that if he had not feared, he would have returned to Gaul. Liv.

Here repētītūrus fuērīt is in the Subj. not because it is in a conditional sentence, but because it is the Subj. of Result with ut; but it is in the Perfect, because, if it were not dependent, the Perfect Indicative would have been used.

511. MIXED FORMS.—The Latin sometimes unites a condition belonging to one of the three regular forms with a conclusion belonging to another, thus producing certain Mixed Forms.

I. The Indicative sometimes occurs in the Condition with the Subjunctive in the Conclusion, but here the Subjunctive is generally dependent not upon the condition, but upon the very nature of the thought:

Peream, si pōtērunt, May I perish (subj. of desire, 487), if they shall be able. Cic. Quid timeam, si beātus fūtūrus sum, Why should I fear (486. II.), if I am to be happy? Cic.

II. The Subjunctive sometimes occurs in the Condition with the Indicative in the Conclusion. Here the Indicative often gives the effect of reality to the conclusion, even though in fact dependent upon contingencies; but see also 512:

Dies dēficiet, si vēlim causam dēfendēre, The day would (will) fail me, if I should wish to defend the cause. Cic. Vicērāmus nisi rēcēpisset Antōnium, We had conquered, had he not received Antony. Cic.

1. The Future Indicative is often thus used in consequence of its near relationship in force to the Subjunctive, as whatever is Future is more or less contingent. See first example.

2. The Historical tenses, especially the Pluperfect, are sometimes used, for effect, to represent as an actual fact something which is shown by the context never to have become fully so, as in the last example.

3. Conditional sentences made up partly of the second form (509) and partly of the third are rare.

512. SUBJUNCTIVE AND INDICATIVE.—The combination of the Subjunctive in the Condition with the Indicative in the Conclusion is often only apparent. Thus

1. When the truth of the conclusion is not in reality affected by the condition, as when si has the force of even if, although :

Si hoc placeat, tamen vult, Even if (although) this pleases them, they still wish. Cic.

2. When that which stands as the conclusion is such only in appearance, the real conclusion being understood. This occurs

1) With the Indicative of Debeo, Possum, and the like :

Quem, si ulla in te pietas esset, colere debebas, Whom you ought to have honored (and would have honored), if there were any filial affection in you. Cic. Deleri exercitus potuit, si persecuti victores essent, The army might have been destroyed (and would have been), if the victors had pursued. Liv.

2) With the Imperfect and Perfect Indicative of other verbs, especially if in a periphrastic conjugation or accompanied by Paene or Prope :

Relicturi agros erant, nisi litteras misisset, They were about to leave their lands (and would have done so), had he not sent a letter. Cic. Pons iter paene hostibus dedit, ni unus vir fuisset, The bridge almost furnished a passage to the enemy (and would have done so), had there not been one man. Liv.

513. RELATIVE INVOLVING CONDITION.—The relative takes the subjunctive when it is equivalent to si or dum with the subjunctive :

Errat longe, qui credat, etc., He greatly errs who supposes, etc., i. e., if or provided any one supposes, he greatly errs. Ter. Haec qui videat, cogatur, If any one should see these things, he would be compelled. Cic.

V. SUBJUNCTIVE IN CONCESSIONS.

514. A concessive clause is one which concedes or admits something, generally introduced in English by though or although :

Quamquam intelligunt, though they understand. Cic.

RULE XLII.—Subjunctive of Concession.

515. The Subjunctive of Concession is used,

I. With licet, quamvis, quantumvis,—ut, ne, quum, although :

Licet irrideat, plus tamen ratio valebit, Though he may deride, reason will yet avail more. Cic. Ut desint vires, tamen est laudanda voluntas, Though the strength fails, still the will should be approved. Ovid.

II. With qui = quum (licet) is, quum ego, etc., though he :

Absolvite Verrem, qui (quum is) se fiteatur pecunias cepisse, Acquit Verres, though he confesses (who may confess) that he has accepted money. Cic.

III. Generally with etsi, tametsi, etiamsi :

Quod sentiunt, etsi optimum sit, tamen non audent dicere, They do not dare to state what they think, even if (though) it be most excellent. Cic.

516. Concessive Clauses may be divided into three classes :

I. Concessive Clauses with quamquam in the best prose generally take the Indicative :

Quamquam intelligunt, tamen nunquam dicunt, Though they understand, they never speak. Cic.

1. The Subjunctive may of course follow quamquam, whenever the thought itself, irrespective of the concessive character of the clause, requires that mood (455).

2. The Subjunctive, even in the best prose, sometimes occurs with quamquam where we should expect the Indicative: Quamquam ne id quidem suspitionem habuerit, Though not even that gave rise to any suspicion. Cic.

3. In poetry and some of the later prose, the subjunctive with quamquam is not uncommon. In Tacitus it is the prevailing construction.

4. Quamquam and etsi sometimes have the force of yet, but yet, and yet: Quamquam quid loquor, And yet what do I say? Cic.

II. Concessive Clauses with licet, quamvis, quantumvis,—ut, ne, quum, although ;—qui = quum (or licet) is, ego, tu, etc., take the Subjunctive :

Non tu possis, quantumvis excellas, You would not be able, however much (although) you excel. Cic. Ne sit summum malum dolor, malum certe est, Though pain may not be the greatest evil, it is certainly an evil. Cic. See 518.

I. UT AND NE.—This concessive use of ut and ne may readily be explained by supplying some verb like fac or sine: thus, ut desint vires (515. I.) = fac or sine ut desint vires, make or grant that strength fails. See 489.

The Concessive Particle is sometimes omitted :

Sed habeat, tamen, But grant that it has it, yet. Cic.

UT—SIC OR ITA, as—so, though—yet, does not require the subjunctive.

2. QUAMVIS AND QUANTUMVIS.—These are strictly adverbs, in the sense of however much, but they generally give to the clause the force of a concession. When used with their simple adverbial force to qualify adjectives, they do not affect the mood of the clause: quamvis multi, however many.

3. MOOD WITH QUAMVIS.—In Cicero and the best prose, quamvis takes the Subjunctive almost without exception, generally also in Livy and Nepos; but in the poets and later prose writers it often admits the Indicative:

Erat dignitate regia, quamvis carēbat nōmine, He was of royal dignity, though he was without the name. Nep.

4. RELATIVE IN CONCESSIONS.—The relative denoting concession is equivalent to licet, or quum, in the sense of though, with a Demonstrative or Personal pronoun, and takes the Subjunctive for the same reason: qui = licet (quum) is, licet ego, tu, etc. See examples under the Rule, 515.

III. Concessive Clauses with the compounds of si: etsi, etiāmsi, tāmet si in the use of Moods and Tenses conform to the rule for conditional clauses with si:

Etsi nihil habeat in se gloria, tamen virtutem sequitur, Though glory may not possess anything in itself, yet it follows virtue. Cic. Etiam si mors optēda esset, even if death ought to be met. Cic.

VI. SUBJUNCTIVE OF CAUSE AND TIME.

RULE XLIII.—Subjunctive of Cause.

517. The Subjunctive of Cause or Reason is used,

I. With quum (eum), since; qui = quum is, etc.:

Quum vita metus plena sit, since life is full of fear. Cic. Quae quum ita sint, perge, Since these things are so, proceed. Cic. O vis veritatis, quae (quum ea) se defendat, O the force of truth, since it defends itself. Cic.

II. With quod, quia, quoniam, quando, to introduce a reason on another's authority:

Soerates accusatus est, quod corruperet juventutem, Socrates was accused, because (on the alleged ground that) he corrupted the youth. Quint.

Causal Clauses with Quum and Qui.

518. QUUM.—Quum takes the Subjunctive when it denotes,

I. CAUSE OR CONCESSION:

Quum sint in nobis ratio, prudentia, since there is in us reason and prudence. Cic. Phocion fuit pauper, quum divitissimus esse posset, Phocion was poor, though he might have been very rich. Nep. See also 515.

II. TIME with the accessory notion of CAUSE or CONCESSION :

Quum dimicāret, occisus est, When he engaged battle, he was slain. Nep. Zēnōnem, quum Athēnis essem, audiēbam frēquenter, I often heard Zeno, when I was at Athens. Cic.

1. QUUM IN NARRATION.—Quum with the Imperfect or Pluperfect Subjunctive is very frequent in narration even in temporal clauses. See examples under II. above.

This use of Quum with the Subjunctive may in most instances be readily explained by the fact that it involves Cause as well as Time. Thus quum dimicāret, in the first example, not only states the time of the action—occisus est, but also its cause or occasion: the engagement was the occasion of his death. So with quum essem, as presence in Athens was an indispensable condition of hearing Zeno. But in some instances the notion of Cause or Concession is not at all apparent.

2. QUUM WITH TEMPUS, ETC.—Quum with the Subjunctive is sometimes used to characterize a period :

Id sæcūlum quum plēna Græcia poetarum esset, that age when (such that) Greece was full of poets. Cic. Erit tempus, quum desidēres, the time will come, when you will desire. Cic. So without tempus, etc. : Fuit quum arbitrārer, there was (a time) when I thought. Cic.

3. QUUM WITH INDICATIVE.—Quum denoting time merely, with perhaps a few exceptions in narration, takes the Indicative :

Quum quiescent, prōbant, While they are quiet, they approve. Cic. Pārui, quum necesse erat, He obeyed when it was necessary. Cic.

519. QUI, CAUSE OR REASON.—A Relative clause denoting cause or reason, is equivalent to a Causal clause with Quum, and takes the Subjunctive for the same reason :

O fortunāte adolescens, qui (quum tu) tuæ virtutis Hōmērum præcōnem invēneris, O fortunate youth, since you (lit. who) have obtained Homer as the herald of your valor. Cic.

1. EQUIVALENTS.—In such clauses, qui is equivalent to quum ego, quum tu, quum is, etc.

2. INDICATIVE.—When the statement is to be viewed as a fact rather than as a reason, the Indicative is used :

Hābco sēnectūti grātiā, quæ mihi sermōnis aviditatem auxit, I cherish gratitude to old age, which has increased my love of conversation. Cic.

3. QUI WITH CONJUNCTIONS.—When a conjunction accompanies the relative, the mood varies with the conjunction. Thus,

1) The Subjunctive is generally used with quum, quippe, ut, utpōte :
Quæ quum ita sint, since these things are so. Cic. Quippe qui blandiatur, since he flatters. Cic. Ut qui cōlōni essent, since they were colonists. Cic.

But the Indicative is sometimes used to give prominence to the fact.

2) The Indicative is generally used with quia, quōniam :
Quæ quia certa esse non possunt, since these things cannot be sure. Cic. Qui quōniam intelligi nōluit, since he did not wish to be understood. Cic.

Causal Clauses with Quod, Quia, Quoniam, Quando.

520. Quod, quia, quoniam, and quando generally take,

I. The INDICATIVE to assign a reason positively on one's own authority :

Quoniam supplicatio decreta est, since a thanksgiving has been decreed. Cic. Gaude quod spectant te, Rejoice that (because) they behold you. Hor.

II. The SUBJUNCTIVE to assign a reason doubtfully, or on another's authority :

Aristides nonne expulsus est patria, quod justus esset, Was not Aristides banished because (on the alleged ground that) he was just? Cic.

1. QUOD WITH DICO, ETC.—Dico and puto are often in the Subjunctive instead of the verb depending upon them :

Quod se bellum gesturos dicerent = quod bellum gesturi essent, ut dicebant, because they were about, as they said, to wage war. Caes.

2. CLAUSES WITH QUOD UNCONNECTED. See 554. IV.

3. NON QUO, ETC.—Non quo, non quod, non quin, rarely non quia, also quam quod, etc., are used with the Subjunctive to denote that something was not the true reason :

Non quo habërem quod scribërem, not because (that) I had anything to write. Cic. Non quod dôleant, not because they are pained. Cic. Quia nêquiverat quam quod ignôirët, because he had been unable, rather than because he did not know. Liv.

4. POTENTIAL SUBJUNCTIVE. See 485 and 486.

RULE XLIV.—Time with Cause.

521. The Subjunctive of Time with the accessory notion of Cause or Purpose is used,

I. With dum, donec, quoad, until :

Exspectas dum dicat, You are waiting till he speaks, i. e., that he may speak. Cic. Ea continëbis quoad te videam, You will keep them till I see you. Cic.

II. With antëquam, priusquam, before, before that :

Antëquam de re publica dicam, expōnam consilium, I will set forth my plan before I (can) speak of the republic, i. e., preparatory to speaking of the republic. Cic. Priusquam incipias, before you begin. Sall.

1. EXPLANATION.—Here the temporal clause involves purpose as well as time : dum dicat is nearly equivalent to ut dicat, which is also often used after expecto. Antëquam dicam is nearly equivalent to ut postea dicam : I will set forth my views, that I may afterwards speak of the republic.

2. WITH OTHER CONJUNCTIONS.—The Subjunctive may of course be used in any temporal clause, when the thought, irrespective of the temporal particle, requires that mood; see 486. III.

Ubi res poscēret, whenever the case might require. Liv.

522. DUM, DONEC, and QUOAD take

I. The Indicative,—(1) in the sense of while, as long as, and (2) in the sense of until, if the action is viewed as an actual fact:

Dum lēges vigēbant, as long as the laws were in force. Cic. Quoad rēnuntiātum est, until it was (actually) announced. Nep.

II. The Subjunctive, when the action is viewed not so much as a fact as something desired or proposed:

Diffērant, dum dēfervescat ira, Let them defer it, till their anger cools, i. e., that it may cool. Cic. See also examples under the rule.

1. DONEC, IN TACITUS, generally takes the Subjunctive:

Rhēnus servat viōlentiam cursus, dōnec Oceāno misceātur, The Rhine preserves the rapidity of its current, till it mingles with the ocean. Tac.

2. DONEC, IN LIVY, occurs with the Subjunctive even in the sense of while, but with the accessory notion of cause:

Nihil trēpidābant dōnec ponte āgērentur, They did not fear at all while (and because) they were driven on the bridge. Liv.

523. ANTEQUAM and PRIUSQUAM generally take,

I. The Indicative, when they denote mere priority of time:

Priusquam lūcet, adsunt, They are present before it is light. Cic. Antēquam in Siciliam vēni, before I came into Sicily. Cic.

II. The Subjunctive, when they denote a dependence of one event upon another. Thus,

1. In any Tense, when the accessory notion of purpose or cause is involved:

Priusquam incīpias, consulto ōpus est, Before you begin there is need of deliberation, i. e., as preparatory to your beginning. Sall. Tempestas minātur, antēquam surgat, The tempest threatens, before it rises, i. e., the threatening of the tempest naturally precedes its rising. Sen.

2. In the Imperfect and Pluperfect, as the regular construction in narration, because the one event is generally treated as the occasion or natural antecedent of the other. See also 471. 4.

Antēquam urbem cāpērent, before they took the city. Liv. Priusquam de meo adventu audire pōtuisent, in Mācēdōniam perrexi, Before they were able to hear of my approach, I went into Macedonia. Cic.

3. Priusquam takes the same moods as Priusquam.

1) INDICATIVE OR SUBJUNCTIVE.—With antēquam and priusquam, the Indicative and Subjunctive are sometimes used without any apparent difference of meaning, but the Subjunctive probably denotes a closer connection between the two events:

Ante de incommōdis dico, pauca dicenda, Before I (actually) speak of disadvantages, a few things should be mentioned. Cic. Antēquam de re pūblica dicam, exponam consilium, Before I speak of the republic, I will set forth my plan. Cic.

2) ANTE—QUAM, PRIUS—QUAM.—The two parts of which antēquam, priusquam, and postquam are compounded are often separated, so that ante, prius, or post stands in the principal clause and quam in the subordinate clause:

Paucis ante dictis, quam Syracūsae caperentur, a few days before Syracuse was taken. Liv. See Thesis, 704. IV. 3.

VII. SUBJUNCTIVE IN INDIRECT QUESTIONS.

524. A clause which involves a question without directly asking it, is called an indirect or dependent question.

RULE XLV.—Indirect Questions.

525. The Subjunctive is used in Indirect Questions:

Quid dies fērat incertum est, What a day may bring forth is uncertain. Cic. Quaeritur, cur doctissimi hōmīnes dissentiant, It is a question, why the most learned men disagree. Cic. Quaesieras, nonne putārem, you had asked whether I did not think. Cic. Quālis ēt ānīmus, ānīmus nescit, The soul knows not what the soul is. Cic.

1. WITH INTERROGATIVES.—Indirect or Dependent questions, like those not dependent, are introduced by interrogative words: quid, cur, nonne, quālis, etc.; rarely by sī, sive, seu, whether; ut, how. See examples above.

2. SUBSTANTIVE FORCE.—Indirect questions are used substantively, and generally, though not always, supply the place of subjects or objects of verbs. But an Accusative, referring to the same person or thing as the subject of the question, is sometimes inserted after the leading verb.

Ego illum nescio qui fuērit, I do not know (him), who he was. Ter.

3. DIRECT AND INDIRECT.—An indirect question may be readily changed to a direct or independent question.

Thus the direct question involved in the first example is: Quid dies fēret, What will a day bring forth? So in the second: Cur doctissimi hōmīnes dissentiunt, Why do the most learned men disagree?

4. SUBJUNCTIVE OMITTED.—After nescio quis, I know not who = quidam, some one; nescio quōmodo, I know not how, etc., as also after mīrum quantum, it is wonderful how much = wonderfully much, very much, there is an ellipsis of the Subjunctive:

Nescio quid ānīmus praesāgit, The mind forebodes, I know not what (it forebodes, praesāgiat, understood). Ter. Id mīrum quantum prōfuit, This profited, it is wonderful how much, i. e., it wonderfully profited. Liv.

5. INDIRECT QUESTIONS DISTINGUISHED.—Indirect Questions must be carefully distinguished from certain similar forms. Thus,

1) From Relative Clauses.—Clauses introduced by Relative Pronouns or Relative Adverbs always have an antecedent or correlative expressed or understood, and are never, as a whole, the subject or object of a verb, while Indirect Questions are generally so used :

Dicam quod sentio (rel. clause), I will tell that which (id quod) I think.

Cic. Dicam quid intelligam (indirect question), I will tell what I know.

Cic. Quæramus ubi mālēficiū est, Let us seek there (ibi) where the crime is. Cic.

In the first and third examples, quod sentio and ubi—est are not questions, but relative clauses; id is understood as the antecedent of quod, and ibi as the antecedent or correlative of ubi; but in the second example, quid intelligam is an indirect question and the object of dicam: I will tell (what?) what I know, i. e., will answer that question.

2) From Direct Questions and Exclamations :

Quid agendum est? Nescio, What is to be done? I know not. Cic.

Vide! quam conversa res est, See! how changed is the case. Cic.

6. INDICATIVE IN INDIRECT QUESTIONS.—The Indicative in Indirect Questions is sometimes used in the poets; especially in Plautus and Terence :

Si mēmōrāre vēlim, quam fidēli ānimo fui, possum, If I wish to mention how much fidelity I showed, I am able. Ter.

7. QUESTIONS IN THE ORATIO OBLIQUA. See 530. II. 2.

526. SINGLE AND DOUBLE QUESTIONS.—Indirect questions, like those which are direct (346. II.), may be either single or double.

I. An Indirect Single Question is generally introduced by some interrogative word—either a pronoun, adjective, or adverb, or one of the particles ne, nonne, num. Here num does not imply negation :

Rōgāt qui vir esset (481. IV.), He asked who he was. Liv. Epāminondas quæsiuit, saluene esset clipeus, Epaminondas inquired whether his shield was safe. Cic. Dūbito num dēbeam, I doubt whether I ought. Plin. See also the examples under the Rule, 525.

II. An Indirect Double Question (whether—or) admits of two constructions :

1. It generally takes utrum or ne in the first member, and an in the second :

Quæritur, virtus suamne propter dignitatem, an propter fructus aliquos expetatur, It is asked whether virtue is sought for its own worth, or for certain advantages. Cic.

2. But sometimes it omits the particle in the first member, and takes an or ne in the second. Other forms are rare :

Quæritur, nātūra an doctrīna possit effici virtus, It is asked whether virtue can be secured by nature or by education. Cic. See also 346. 1. 1).

1) In the second member, neque, sometimes an non, is used in the sense of or not: Sapientia beñtos efficit neque, quaestio est, Whether or not wisdom makes men happy, is a question. Cic.

2) An, in the sense of whether not, implying an affirmative, is used after verbs and expressions of doubt and uncertainty: dūbīto an, nescio an, haud scio an, I doubt whether not, I know not whether not = I am inclined to think; dūbium est an, incertum est an, it is uncertain whether not = it is probable:

Dūbīto an Thrāsýbūlum primum omnium pōnam, I doubt whether I should not place Thrasybulus first of all, i. e., I am inclined to think I should. Nep.

3) An sometimes has the force of aut, perhaps by the omission of incertum est, as used above:

Simōnides an quis alijs, Simonides or some other one. Cic.

VIII. SUBJUNCTIVE BY ATTRACTION.

RULE XLVI.—Attraction.

527. The Subjunctive by Attraction is often used in clauses dependent upon the Subjunctive:

Vereor, ne, dum minuire velim laborem, augeam, I fear I shall increase the labor, while I wish to diminish it. Cic. Tempus est hujusmodi, ut, ubi quisque sit, ibi esse minime velit, The time is of such a character that every one wishes to be least of all where he is. Cic. Mos est, ut dicat sententiam, qui velit, The custom is that he who wishes expresses his opinion. Cic.

1. APPLICATION.—This rule is applicable to clauses introduced by conjunctions, adverbs, or relatives. Thus, in the examples, the clauses introduced by dum, ubi, and qui, take the subjunctive, because they are dependent upon clauses which have the subjunctive.

2. INDICATIVE OR SUBJUNCTIVE.—Such clauses generally take,

1) The Indicative, when they are in a measure parenthetical or give special prominence to the fact stated:

Milites misit, ut eos qui fugerant persēquerentur, He sent soldiers to pursue those who had fled, i. e., the fugitives. Caes. Tanta vis probitatis est, ut eam, vel in iis quos nunquam vidimus, diligamus, Such is the force of integrity that we love it even in those whom we have never seen. Cic.

The Indicative with dum is very common, especially in the poets and historians:

Fuere qui, dum dubitat Scaevinus, hortarentur Pisōnem, There were those who exhorted Piso, while Scaevinus hesitated. Tac. See also 467. 4.

2) The Subjunctive, when the clauses are essential to the general thought of the sentence, as in the examples under the rule.

3. AFTER INFINITIVE CLAUSES.—The principle just stated (2) applies also to the use of Moods in clauses dependent upon the Infinitive. This often explains the Subjunctive in a condition belonging to an Infinitive, especially with non possum :

Nee bonitas esse potest, si non per se expetatur, Nor can goodness exist (= it is not possible that), if it is not sought for itself. Cic.

But clauses dependent upon the Infinitive are found most frequently in the Oratio Obliqua and are accordingly provided for by 529.

IX. SUBJUNCTIVE IN INDIRECT DISCOURSE,—

Oratio Obliqua.

528. When a writer or speaker expresses thoughts, whether his own or those of another, in any other form than in the original words of the author, he is said to use the Indirect Discourse—Oratio Obliqua :

Platonem ferunt in Italiam venisse, They say that Plato came into Italy. Cic. Respondeo te dolorem ferre moderate, I reply that you bear the affliction with moderation. Cic. Utilem arbitror esse scientiam, I think that knowledge is useful. Cic.

1. DIRECT AND INDIRECT.—In distinction from the Indirect Discourse—Oratio Obliqua, the original words of the author are said to be in the Direct Discourse—Oratio Recta. Thus in the first example, Platonem in Italiam venisse is in the indirect discourse; in the direct, i. e., in the original words of those who made the statement, it would be: Plato in Italiam venit.

2. QUOTATION.—Words quoted without change belong of course to the Direct Discourse :

Rex "duumvros" inquit "secundum legem facio," The king said, "I appoint duumvirs according to law." Liv.

RULE XLVII.—Subjunctive in Indirect Discourse.

529. The Subjunctive is generally used in the Interrogative, Imperative, and Subordinate clauses of the Oratio Obliqua :

Ad postulata Cæsaris respondit, eum veniret (direct: eum venire?), To the demands of Cæsar he replied, why did he come. Cæs. Scribit Labienus cum legione veniat (direct: cum legione venire), He writes to Labienus to come (that he should come) with a legion. Cæs. Hippias gloriatus est, annulum quem haberet (direct: habeo) se sua manu confecisse, Hippias boasted that he had made with his own hand the ring which he wore. Cic.

NOTE.—For convenience of reference the following outline of the use of Moods, Tenses, Pronouns, etc. in the Oratio Obliqua is here inserted.

530. MOODS IN PRINCIPAL CLAUSES.—The Principal clauses of the Direct discourse, on becoming Indirect, undergo the following changes of Mood :

I. When Declarative, they take the Infinitive (551) :

Dicēbat ānīmos esse divīnos (direct: ānīmī sunt divīnī), He was wont to say that souls were divine. Cic. Plātōnem Tārentum vēnisse rēpērio (Plato Tārentum vēnit), I find that Plato came to Tarentum. Cic. Cāto mīrārī se (miror) āiēbat, Cato was wont to say that he wondered. Cic.

II. When Interrogative or Imperative, they generally take the Subjunctive according to Rule XLVII.

1. VERB OMITTED.—The verb on which the Infinitive depends is often omitted, or only implied in some preceding verb or expression; especially after the Subjunctive of Purpose :

Pŷthia praecepit ut Miltiādem impērātōrem sūmērent; incepta prospēra fūtūra, Pythia commanded that they should take Miltiades as their commander, (telling them) that their efforts would be successful. Nep.

2. RHETORICAL QUESTIONS.—Questions which are such only in form, requiring no answer, are generally construed, according to sense, in the Infinitive. They are sometimes called Rhetorical questions, as they are often used for Rhetorical effect instead of assertions: thus num possit, can he? for non pōtest, he can not; quid sit tu pius, what is more base? for nihil est turpius, nothing is more base.

Here belong many questions which in the direct form have the verb in the first or third person :

Respondit num mēmōriam dēpōnēre posse, He replied, could he lay aside the recollection. Caes. Here the direct question would be: Num mēmōriam dēpōnēre possim?

3. IMPERATIVE CLAUSES WITH THE INFINITIVE. See 551. II. 1.

531. MOODS IN SUBORDINATE CLAUSES.—The Subordinate clauses of the Direct discourse, on becoming Indirect, put their finite verbs in the Subjunctive :

Orābant, ut sibi auxilium ferret quod prēmērentur (direct: nōbis auxilium fer, quod prēmīmur), They prayed that he would bring them help, because they were oppressed. Caes.

1. INFINITIVE IN RELATIVE CLAUSES.—It must be remembered (453), that Relative clauses, though subordinate in form, sometimes have the force of Principal clauses. When thus used in the Oratio Obliqua, they may be construed with the Infinitive :

Ad eum dēfertur, esse cīvem Rōmānum qui quērērētur: quem (= et eum) asservātum esse, It was reported to him that there was a Roman citizen who made a complaint, and that he had been placed under guard. Cic. So also comparisons: Te suspīcor iisdem, quibus me ipsum, commōvēri, I suspect that you are moved by the same things as I am. Cic.

2. INFINITIVE AFTER CERTAIN CONJUNCTIONS.—The Infinitive occurs, especially in Livy and Tacitus, even in clauses after quia, quum, quamquam, and some other conjunctions:

Dicit, se moenibus inclusos tenere eos; quia per agros vagari, He says that he keeps them shut up within the walls, because (otherwise) they would wander through the fields. Liv. See also 551. I. 5 and 6.

3. INDICATIVE IN PARENTHETICAL CLAUSES.—Clauses may be introduced parenthetically in the oratio obliqua without strictly forming a part of it, and may accordingly take the Indicative:

Refertur silvam esse, quae appellatur Bacenis, They report that there is a forest which is called Bacenis. Caes.

4. INDICATIVE IN CLAUSES NOT PARENTHETICAL.—Sometimes clauses not parenthetical take the Indicative to give prominence to the fact stated. This occurs most frequently in Relative clauses:

Certior factus est ex ea parte vici, quam Gallis concesserat, omnes discessisse, He was informed that all had withdrawn from that part of the village which he had assigned to the Gauls. Caes.

532. TENSES.—Tenses in the Oratio Obliqua generally conform to the ordinary rules for Infinitive and Subjunctive Tenses (480, 540), but the law of Sequence of Tenses admits of certain qualifications:

1. The Present and Perfect may be used even after a Historical tense, to impart a more lively effect to the narrative:

Caesar respondit, si obsides sibi dentur, sese pacem esse facturum, Caesar replied, that if hostages should be given him, he would make peace. Caes.

2. In Conditional sentences of the third form (510),

1) The condition retains the Imperfect or Pluperfect without reference to the tense of the Principal verb;

2) The Conclusion changes the Imperfect or Pluperfect Subjunctive into the Periphrastic Infinitives in rus esse and rus fuisse:

Censes Pompeium laetaturum fuisse, si sciret, Do you think Pompey would have rejoiced, if he had known? Cic. Clamitabat, si ille adesset, venturos esse, He cried out that they would come, if he were present. Caes.

But the Regular Infinitive, instead of the periphrastic forms, sometimes occurs in this construction, especially in expressions of Duty, etc. (475. 4).

3. Conditional Sentences of the second form (509), after Historical tenses, sometimes retain in their conditional clauses the Present or Perfect and sometimes change it to the Imperfect or Pluperfect, according to the Rule for Sequence of Tenses (480):

Respondit, si experiri velint, paratum esse, He replied, if they wished to make the trial he was ready. Caes. Legatos mittit, si ita fecisset, amicitiam futuram, He sent messengers saying that, if he would do thus, there would be friendship. Caes.

Here mittit is the Historical Present. See 467. III.

4. The Future Perfect in a Subordinate clause of the Direct discourse is changed in the Indirect into the Perfect Subjunctive after a Principal tense, and into the Pluperfect Subjunctive after a Historical tense:

Agunt ut dimicent; ibi impērium fore, unde victōria futūrit, They arrange that they shall fight; that the sovereignty shall be on the side which shall win the victory (whence the victory may have been). Liv. Appārebāt regnātūrum, qui vicisset, It was evident that he would be king who should conquer. Liv.

533. PRONOUNS, ADVERBS, ETC.—Pronouns and adverbs, as also the persons of the verbs, are often changed in passing from the Direct discourse to the Indirect:

Glōriatus est annūlum se sua mānu confēcisse (direct: annūlum ego mea mānu confēcī), He boasted that he had made the ring with his own hand. Cic.

1. Pronouns of first and second persons are often changed to the third. Thus above ego in the direct discourse becomes se, and mea becomes sua. In the same way hic and iste are often changed to ille.

2. Adverbs meaning here or now are often changed to those meaning there or then; nunc to tum; hic to illic.

3. In the use of pronouns observe

1) That references to the SPEAKER whose words are reported are made, if of the 1st Pers. by ego, meus, noster, etc., if of the 2d Pers. by tu, tuus, etc., and if of the 3d Pers. by sui, suus, ipse, etc., though sometimes by hie, is, ille.

2) That references to the REPORTER, or Author, are made by ego, meus, etc..

3) That references to the PERSON ADDRESSED by the reporter are made by tu, tuus, etc.

Ariovistus respondit nos esse inīquos qui se interpellārēmus (direct: vos estis inīqui qui me, etc.), Ariovistus replied that we were unjust who interrupted him. Caes.

Here nos refers to the Reporter, Caesar, we Romans. Se refers to the Speaker, Ariovistus. In the second example under 523, te refers to the Person Addressed.

SECTION VII.

IMPERATIVE.

I. TENSES OF THE IMPERATIVE.

534. The Imperative has but two Tenses:

I. The PRESENT has only the Second person, and corresponds to the English Imperative:

Justitiam cōle, Practise justice. Cic. Perge, Cātīlina, Go, Catiline. Cic.

II. The Future has the Second and Third persons, and corresponds to the imperative use of the English Future with shall, or to the Imperative let :

It consûles appellantor, They shall be called consuls, or let them be called consuls. Cic. Quod dixero, facitote, You shall do what I say (shall have said). Ter.

1. FUTURE FOR PRESENT.—The Future Imperative is sometimes used where we should expect the Present :

Quoniam supplicatio decreta est, celebratote illos dies, Since a thanksgiving has been decreed, celebrate those days. Cic.

This is particularly common in certain verbs: thus scio has only the forms of the Future in common use.

2. PRESENT FOR FUTURE.—The Imperative Present is often used in poetry, and sometimes in prose, of an action which belongs entirely to the future :

Ubi aciem vidëris, tum ordines dissipa, When you shall see the line of battle, then scatter the ranks. Liv.

II. USE OF THE IMPERATIVE.

RULE XLVIII.—Imperative.

535. The Imperative is used in commands, exhortations, and entreaties :

Justitiam cõle, Practise justice. Cic. Tu ne cede mälis, Do not yield to misfortunes. Virg. Si quid in te peccävi, ignosce, If I have sinned against you, pardon me. Cic.

1. CIRCUMLOCUTIONS.—Instead of the simple Imperative, several circumlocutions are common :

1) Cura ut, fac ut, fac, each with the Subjunctive :

Cura ut venias, See that you come. Cic. See 489.

2) Fac ne, cave ne, cave, with the Subjunctive :

Cave facias, Beware of doing it, or see that you do not do it. Cic.

3) Noli, nolite, with the Infinitive :

Noli imitari, do not imitate. Cic. See 58. 2.

2. IMPERATIVE CLAUSE FOR CONDITION.—An Imperative clause may be used instead of a Conditional clause :

Läcesse; jam vidëbis fürentem, Provoke him (i. e., if you provoke him), you will at once see him frantic. Cic.

3. IMPERATIVE SUPPLIED.—The place of the Imperative may be variously supplied :

1) By the Subjunctive of Desire (487) :

Sint beati, Let them be happy. Cic. Impii ne audeant, Let not the impious dare. Cic.

2) By the Indicative Future :

Quod optimum vidēbitur, facies, You will do (for Imper. do) what shall seem best. Cic.

536. The Imperative Present, like the English Imperative, is used in commands, exhortations, and entreaties. See examples under the Rule.

537. The Imperative Future is used,

I. In commands involving future rather than present action :

Rem penditōte, You shall consider the subject. Cic. Cras pētito; dābitur, Ask to-morrow; it shall be granted. Plaut.

II. In laws, orders, precepts, etc. :

Consules nēmīni pārento, The consuls shall be subject to no one. Cic. Sālus pōpūli suprēma lex esto, The safety of the people shall be the supreme law. Cic.

538. IMPERATIVE IN PROHIBITIONS.—In prohibitions or negative commands,

1. The negative ne, rarely non, accompanies the Imperative, and if a connective is required, nēve, or neu, is generally used, rarely nēque :

Tu ne cēde mālīs, Do not yield to misfortunes. Virg. Hōmīnem mortuum in urbe ne sēpēlito, Thou shalt not bury or burn a dead body in the city. Cic.

2. Instead of ne with the Present Imperative, the best prose writers generally use nōli and nōlite with the Infinitive :

Nōlite pūtāre (for ne pūtāte), do not think (be unwilling to think). Cic.

SECTION VIII.

INFINITIVE.

539. The treatment of the Latin Infinitive embraces four topics :

- I. The Tenses of the Infinitive.
- II. The Subject of the Infinitive.
- III. The Predicate after the Infinitive.
- IV. The Construction of the Infinitive.

I. TENSES OF THE INFINITIVE.

540. The Infinitive has three tenses, Present, Perfect, and Future. They express however not absolute, but relative time, denoting respectively Present, Past, or Future time, relatively to the Principal verb.

1. PECULIARITIES.—These tenses present the leading peculiarities specified under these tenses in the Indicative. See 467. 2.

541. The PRESENT INFINITIVE represents the action as taking place at the time denoted by the principal verb :

Cūpio me esse clementem, I desire to be mild. Cic. Māluit se dilīgi quam mētui, He preferred to be loved rather than feared. Nep.

1. REAL TIME.—Hence the real time denoted by the Present Infinitive is the time of the verb on which it depends.

2. PRESENT FOR FUTURE.—The Present is sometimes used for the Future and sometimes has little or no reference to time :

Cras argentum dare dixit, He said he would give the silver to-morrow. Ter.

3. PRESENT WITH DEBEO, POSSUM, ETC.—After the past tenses of dēbeo, oportet, possum, and the like, the Present Infinitive is used where our idiom would lead us to expect the Perfect ; sometimes also after mēmīni, and the like :

Dēbuit officiosior esse, He ought to have been more attentive. Cic. Id pōtuit facere, He might have done this. Cic.

542. The PERFECT INFINITIVE represents the action as completed at the time denoted by the principal verb :

Plātōnem fēerunt in Itāliam vēnisse, They say that Plato came into Italy. Cic. Consciū mihi ēram, nihil a me commissum esse, I was conscious to myself that no offence had been committed by me. Cic.

1. REAL TIME.—Hence the real time denoted by the Perfect Infinitive is that of the Perfect tense, if dependent upon the Present, and that of the Pluperfect, if dependent upon a Historical tense, as in the examples.

2. PERFECT FOR PRESENT.—In the poets the Perfect Infinitive is sometimes used for the Present, rarely in prose :

Tētigisse timent pōtam, They fear to touch (to have touched) the poet. Hor.

3. PASSIVE INFINITIVE.—The Passive Infinitive with esse sometimes denotes the result of the action : victus esse, to have been vanquished, and so, to be a vanquished man. Fuisse for esse emphasizes the completeness of the action : victus fuisse, to have been vanquished. See 575. 1.

543. The FUTURE INFINITIVE represents the action as about to take place in time subsequent to that of the principal verb :

Brūtum vīsum iri a me pūto, I think Brutus will be seen by me. Cic. Oracūlū dātū erat victrices Athēnas fūre, An oracle had been given, that Athens would be victorious. Cic.

Hence after a Principal tense the real time of the Future Infinitive is Future, but after a Historical tense the real time can be determined only by the context.

544. CIRCUMLOCUTION FOR FUTURE INFINITIVE.—Instead of the regular Future Infinitive, the circumlocution fütürum esse ut, or före ut, with the Subjunctive,—Present after a Principal tense, and Imperfect after a Historical tense,—is frequently used:

Spëro före ut contingat id nöbis, I hope this will fall to our lot (I hope it will come to pass that this may happen to us). Cic. Non spëriävërat Hannibal, före ut ad se dëficcërent, Hannibal had not hoped that they would revolt to him. Liv. See 556. II. 1.

1. CIRCUMLOCUTION NECESSARY.—Fütürum esse ut, or före ut, with the Subjunctive, for the Future Infinitive, is common in the Passive, and is moreover necessary in both voices in all verbs which want the Supine and the Participle in rus.

2. FORE UT WITH PERFECT SUBJUNCTIVE.—Sometimes före ut with the Subjunctive, Perfect or Pluperfect, is used with the force of a Future Perfect; and in Passivo and Deponent verbs, före with the Perfect Participle may be used with the same force:

Dico me sätis ädeptum före, I say that I shall have obtained enough. Cic.

3. FUTURUM FUISSE UT WITH SUBJUNCTIVE.—Fütürum fuisse ut with the Subjunctive may be used in the conclusion of a conditional sentence of the third form when made dependent:

Nisi nuntii essent alläti, existimäbant fütürum fuisse, ut oppidum ämittëretur, They thought that the town would have been lost, if tidings had not been brought. Caes. See 553. 2.

II. SUBJECT OF INFINITIVE.

RULE XLIX.—Subject.

545. The Subject of an Infinitive is put in the Accusative:

Sentimus cälere ignem, We perceive that fire is hot. Cic. Plätönem Tärentum vënisse rëpërio, I find that Plato came to Tarentum. Cic.

1. HISTORICAL INFINITIVE.—In lively description the Infinitive is sometimes used for the Indicative Imperfect. It is then called the Historical Infinitive, and, like a finite verb, has its subject in the Nominative:

Hostes gaesa conjicere, The enemy hurled their javelins. Caes.

The Historical Infinitive may often be explained by supplying coepit or coepërunt; but in most instances it is better to treat it simply as an idiom of the language.

2. SUBJECT OMITTED.—The Subject of an Infinitive may be omitted:

1) When it denotes the same person or thing as the subject of the principal clause, or may be readily supplied from the context:

Magna négötia völänt ägëre, They wish to accomplish great undertakings. Cic. Peccäre licet nemini, It is not lawful for any one to sin. Cic.

2) When it is indefinite or general :

Diligere jucundum est, It is pleasant to be loved. Cic.

3. INFINITIVE OMITTED.—Esse and fuisse are often omitted in the compound forms of the Infinitive and with predicate adjectives, other infinitives less frequently (551. 5) :

Audīvi sōlitum Fabricium, I have heard that Fabricius was wont. Cic.
Spērāmus nobis prōfūturos, We hope to benefit you. Cic.

III. PREDICATE AFTER INFINITIVE.

546. A Predicate Noun or Adjective after an Infinitive regularly agrees with the Subject, expressed or understood (362.3) :

Ego me Phīdīam esse malle, I should prefer to be Phidias. Cic. Trādītum est, Hōmērum caecum fuisse, It has been handed down by tradition that Homer was blind. Cic. Jūgurtha omnibus cārus esse (historical infinitive), Jugurtha was dear to all. Sall.

547. A Predicate Noun or Adjective, after an Infinitive whose Subject is omitted, is often attracted into the Nominative or Dative :

I. It is attracted into the Nominative to agree with the Subject of the principal verb, when the latter is the same person or thing as the omitted Subject :

Nōlo esse laudātor, I am unwilling to be an eulogist. Cic. Beātus esse sine virtūte nēmo pōtest, No one can be happy without virtue. Cic.

1. This occurs most frequently (1) after verbs of duty, ability, courage, custom, desire, beginning, continuing, ending, and the like—dēbeo, possum, audeo, sōleo, cūpio, vōlo, mālo, nōlo, incipio, pergo, dēsīno, etc., and (2) after various Passive verbs of saying, thinking, finding, seeming, and the like—dicor, trādor, fōror—crēdor, existīmor, pūtor—rēpōrior—vīdeor, etc. :

Quis scientior esse debuit, Who ought to have been more learned ? Cic.
Pārens dici pōtest, He can be called a parent. Cic. Stoicus esse vōluit, He wished to be a Stoic. Cic. Dēsīnant esse tīmīdi, Let them cease to be timid. Cic. Inventor esse dicitur, He is said to be the inventor. Cic. Prūdēns esse putābātur, He was thought to be prudent. Cic.

2. Participles in the compound tenses of the Infinitive are also attracted :
Pollicētus esse dicitur, He is said to have promised. Cic.

II. The Predicate Noun or Adjective is sometimes attracted into the Dative to agree with a Dative in the principal clause, when the latter denotes the same person or thing as the omitted Subject :

Patricio tribūno plēbis fēri non licēbat, It was not lawful for a patrician to be made tribune of the people. Cic. Mihi negligentī esse non licuit, It was not permitted me to be negligent. Cic.

1. This is rare, but is the regular construction after licet, and sometimes occurs after necesse est, when used after licet, and occasionally in other connections :

Illis timidis licet esse, nobis necesse est fortibus viris esse, It is permitted them to be timid, it is necessary for us to be brave men. Liv. But,

2. Even with Licet the attraction does not always take place :

Ei consulem fieri licet, It is lawful for him to be made consul. Caes.

IV. CONSTRUCTION OF THE INFINITIVE.

548. The Infinitive, with or without a Subject, has in general the construction of a Noun in the Nominative or Accusative, and is used,

I. As a Nominative—Subject of a Verb.

II. As an Accusative—Object of a Verb.

III. In Special Constructions.

I. Infinitive as Subject.

549. The Infinitive, with or without a Subject, is often used as a Nominative, and is thus made the Subject of a sentence, according to Rule III. :

WITH SUBJECT.—Faciūsus est vinciri civem Rōmānum, That a Roman citizen should be bound is a crime. Cic. Certum est liberos amari, It is certain that children are loved. Quint. Lēgem brevem esse oportet, It is necessary that a law be brief. Sen.

WITHOUT SUBJECT.—Ars est difficilis rem publicam regere, To rule a state is a difficult art. Cic. Cārum esse jucundum est, It is pleasant to be held dear. Cic. Haec scire juvat, To know these things affords pleasure. Sen. Peccare licet nēmīni, To sin is not lawful for any one. Cic.

1. INFINITIVE AS SUBJECT.—When the subject is an Infinitive, the Predicate is either (1) a Noun or Adjective with Sum, or (2) an Impersonal verb or a verb used Impersonally. See the examples above.

1) Tempus = tempestivum is thus used with the Infinitive :

Tempus est dicere, It is time to speak. Cic.

2. INFINITIVE AS SUBJECT OF AN INFINITIVE.—The Infinitive may be the subject of another Infinitive :

Intelligi necesse est esse deos, It must be understood that there are gods. Cic. Esse deos is the subject of intelligi, and intelligi esse deos of necesse est.

3. INFINITIVE WITH DEMONSTRATIVE.—The Infinitive sometimes takes a Demonstrative as an attributive in agreement with it :

Quibusdam hoc displicet philosophari, This philosophizing (this to philosophize) displeases some persons. Cic. Vivere ipsum turpe est nobis, To live is itself ignoble for us. Cic.

4. PERSONAL CONSTRUCTION FOR IMPERSONAL.—With Passive verbs, instead of the Infinitive with a subject accusative, a Personal construction is common, by which the Subject Accusative becomes the Subject Nominative of the leading verb :

Aristides justissimus fuisse traditur (for Aristidem justissimum fuisse traditur), Aristides is said to have been most just. Cic.

1) The Personal Construction is used, (1) regularly with videor, jubeor, utor, and the Simple Tenses of many verbs of saying, thinking, and the like—dicor, trador, feror, perhibeor, putor, existimor, etc., also with cooptus sum and desitus sum with a Passive Infinitive, and (2) sometimes with other verbs of saying, showing, perceiving, finding, and the like.

Solem o mundo tollere videntur, They seem to remove the sun from the world. Cic. Platōnem audivisse dicitur, He is said to have heard Plato. Cic. Dii beati esse intelliguntur, The gods are understood to be happy. Cic.

2) In successive clauses the Personal construction is often followed by the Impersonal.

3) Videor with or without a Dative often means to fancy, think: mihi videor or videor, I fancy; ut videmur, as we fancy.

II. Infinitive as Object.

550. The Infinitive, with or without a Subject, is often used as an Accusative, and is thus made the object of a verb, according to Rule V.:

Te dicunt esse sapientem, They say that you are wise. Cic. Haec vitare cupimus, We desire to avoid these things. Cic. Mānere decrēvit, He decided to remain. Nep.

551. INFINITIVE WITH SUBJECT ACCUSATIVE.—This is used as object with a great variety of verbs. Thus,

I. With Verbs of Perceiving and Declaring,—Verba Sentiendi et Declārandi.

II. With Verbs of Wishing and Desiring.

III. With Verbs of Emotion and Feeling.

I. WITH VERBS OF PERCEIVING AND DECLARING.—Sentimus calēre ignem, We perceive that fire is hot. Cic. Mihi narrāvit te sollicitum esse, He told me that you were troubled. Cic. Scripterunt Themistoclem in Asiam transisse, They wrote that Themistocles had gone over to Asia. Nep.

1. VERBA SENTIENDI.—Verbs of Perceiving include those which involve (1) the exercise of the senses: audio, video, sentio, etc., and (2) the exercise of the mind: thinking, believing, knowing, cogito, puto, existimo, credo, spero,—intelligo, scio, etc.

2. VERBA DECLARANDI.—Verbs of Declaring are such as state or communicate facts or thoughts:  dico, narro, nuntio, docceo, ostendo, promitto, etc.

3. EXPRESSIONS WITH THE FORCE OF VERBS.—The Infinitive with a subject may be used with expressions equivalent to verbs of perceiving and declaring. Thus:

With fūma fert, report says, testis sum, I am a witness = I testify; conscius mihi sum, I am conscious, I know:

Nullam mihi rēlātam esse grātiā, tu es testis, You are a witness (can testify) that no grateful return has been made to me. Cic.

4. PARTICIPLE FOR INFINITIVE.—Verbs of Perceiving take the Accusative with the Present Participle, when the object is to be represented as actually seen, heard, etc., while engaged in a given action:

Cātiōnem vīdi in bibliōthēca sēdentem, I saw Cato sitting in the library. Cic.

5. SUBJECTS COMPARED.—When two subjects with the same predicate are compared by means of quam, idem—qui, etc.; if the Accusative with the Infinitive is used in the first clause, the Accusative with its Infinitive omitted may follow in the second:

Plātōnem fēruūt idem sensisse, quod Pŷthāgōram, They say that Plato held the same opinion as Pythagoras. Cic.

6. PREDICATES COMPARED.—When two predicates with the same subject are compared and the Infinitive with a Subject is used in the first clause, the Infinitive with its subject omitted often follows in the second:

Num pūtātis, dixisse Antōnium minācius quam factūrum fuisse, Do you think Antony spoke more threateningly than he would have acted? Cic.

But the second clause may take the subjunctive, with or without ut:

Audeo dicere ipsos pōtius cultōres agrōrum fore quam ut cōll prohibeant, I dare say that they will themselves become tillers of the fields rather than prevent them from being tilled. Liv.

II. WITH VERBS OF WISHING AND DESIRING.—The Infinitive with Subject Accusative is also used with verbs of Wishing and Desiring:

Te tua frui virtūte cūpimus, We desire that you should enjoy your virtue. Cic. Pontem iubet rescindi, He orders the bridge to be broken down (that the bridge should be broken down). Caes. Lex eum necāri vētuit, The law forbade that he should be put to death. Liv.

1. VERBS OF WISHING.—The Infinitive is thus used not only with verbs which directly express a wish, cūpio, vōlo, nōlo, mālo, etc., but also with many which involve a wish or command: pātor, sino, ic permit; impēro, jūbeo, to command; prohibeo, vēto, to forbid. See also 558. II.

2. SUBJUNCTIVE FOR INFINITIVE.—Several verbs involving a wish or command admit the Subjunctive:

1) Opō. See 432. 3.

2) Vōlo, mālo, nōlo, impēro, and jūbeo admit the Subjunctive, generally with ut or ne:

Vōlo ut respondeas, I wish you would reply. Cic. Māno te hostis mētuit, I prefer that the enemy should fear you. Cic.

3) Concedo, permitto, rarely pātor and sino, admit the Subjunctive with ut: Concedo ut haec apta sint, I admit that these things are suitable. Cic.

III. WITH VERBS OF EMOTION OR FEELING.—The Infinitive with Subject Accusative is also used with verbs of Emotion or Feeling:

Gaudeo, te mihi suādēre, I rejoice that you advise me. Cic. Mirāmur, te laetāri, We wonder that you rejoice. Cic.

Verbs of emotion are gaudeo, dōleo, miror, quēror, and the like; also aegre fero, graviter fero, etc.

552. INFINITIVE WITHOUT SUBJECT ACCUSATIVE.—This is used as Object with many verbs:

Vincere scis, You know how to conquer (you know to conquer). Liv. Crēduli esse coepērunt, They began to be credulous. Cic. Haec vitare cupimus, We desire to avoid these things. Cic. Solent cogitare, They are accustomed to think. Cic. Nemo mortem effugere potest, No one is able to escape death. Cic.

1. VERBS WITH THE INFINITIVE.—The Infinitive may depend upon verbs signifying to dare, desire, determine—begin, continue, end—know, learn, neglect—owe, promise, etc., also to be able, be accustomed, be wont, etc.

2. INFINITIVE AS A SECOND OBJECT.—With a few verbs—dōceo, cōgo, asuefacto, arguo, etc.—the Infinitive is used in connection with a direct object; see 374. 4:

Te sapere docet, He teaches you to be wise. Cic. Natiōnes parere assuefecit, He accustomed the nations to obey. Cic.

In the Passive these verbs of course retain the Infinitive:

Num sum Graece loqui docendus, Must I be taught to speak Greek? Cic.

3. INFINITIVE AFTER ADJECTIVES.—By a construction according to sense, the Infinitive is used after adjectives in the sense of participles or verbs with the Infinitive:

Est paratus (vult) audire, He is prepared to hear (is willing to hear). Cic.

Pelides cedere nescius (= nesciens), Pelides not knowing how to yield.

Hor. Avidi committere pugnam, eager to engage battle. Ovid.

This construction is rare in good prose, but common in poetry.

4. INFINITIVE WITH PREPOSITIONS.—The Infinitive regarded as a noun in the accusative, sometimes depends upon a preposition:

Multum interest inter dare et accipere, There is a great difference between giving and receiving. Sen.

III. Infinitive in Special Constructions.

553. The Infinitive, with or without a Subject, is generally used as the Subject or Object of a verb, but sometimes occurs in other relations. It is thus used,

I. As Predicate; see 362:

Exitus fuit orationis: sibi nullam cum his amicitiam, The close of his oration was that he had no friendship with these. Caes. Vivere est cogitare, To live is to think. Cic.

Here sibi—amicitiam is used substantively, and is the Predicate Nominative after fuit, according to Rule I. Cogitare is in the same construction after est.

II. As Appositive ; see 363 :

Oraculum datum erat victrices Athēnas fore, The oracle that Athens would be victorious had been given. Cic. Illud soleo mirari non me accipere tuas litteras, I am accustomed to wonder at this, that I do not receive your letter. Cic.

1. WITH SUBJECT.—In this construction the Infinitive takes a subject accusative, as in the examples.

2. EXPLANATION.—In the examples, the clause victrices Athēnas fore is in apposition with oraculum, and the clause non me accipere tuas litteras, in apposition with illud.

III. In Exclamations ; see 381 :

Te sic vexari, that you should be thus troubled! Cic. Māne incepto desistere victam, that I vanquished should abandon my undertaking! Virg.

1. WITH SUBJECT.—In this construction the Infinitive takes a Subject, as in the examples.

2. EXPLANATION.—This use of the Infinitive conforms, it will be observed, to the use of Accusative and Nominative in exclamations (381, 381. 3). It may often be explained as an Accus. by supplying some verb, as doleo, etc., or as a Nom. by supplying credendum est or credibile est. Thus the first example becomes: I grieve (doleo) that you, etc., and the second becomes: Is it to be supposed (credendum est) that I vanquished, etc.

3. IMPASSIONED QUESTIONS.—This construction is most frequent in impassioned questions, as in the second example.

IV. As Ablative Absolute. See 431. 4.

V. To express Purpose :

Pœus egit altos visere montes, He drove his herd to visit the lofty mountains. Hor. Non populare penates venimus, We have not come to lay waste your homes. Virg.

This construction is confined to poetry.

VI. Poetic Infinitive for Gerund. See 563. 6.

SECTION IX.

SUBJECT AND OBJECT CLAUSES.

554. Subject and Object Clauses, in which, as we have just seen (549 and 550), the Infinitive is so freely used, assume four distinct forms :

I. INDIRECT QUESTIONS.—These represent the Subject or Object as Interrogative in character :

Quæritur, cur dissentiant, It is asked why they disagree. Cic. Quid ægendum sit, nescio, I do not know what ought to be done. Cic. See 525.

II. INFINITIVE CLAUSES.—These have simply the force of Nouns, merely supplying the place of the Nominative, or the Accusative :

Anticellere contigit, It was his good fortune to excel (to excel happened).
Cic. Magna negotia voluit agere, He wished to achieve great undertakings.
Cic. See 549, 550.

III. SUBJUNCTIVE CLAUSES.—These clauses introduced by ut, ne, etc., are only occasionally used as subject or object, and even then involve Purpose or Result :

Contigit ut patriam vindicaret, It was his good fortune to save his country. Nep. Volo ut mihi respondeas, I wish you would answer me. Cic. See 492, 495.

Hec ut—vindicaret is at once subject and result : it was his good fortune to save his country, or his good fortune was such that he saved his country. In the second example, ut—respondeas expresses not only the object desired, but also the purpose of the desire.

IV. CLAUSES WITH QUOD.—These again are only occasionally used as subject or object, and even then either give prominence to the fact stated, or present it as a Ground or Reason :

Beneficium est quod necesse est mori, It is a blessing that it is necessary to die. Sen. Gaudeo quod te interpellavi, I rejoice that (because) I have interrupted you. Cic. See 520.

Clauses with quod sometimes stand at the beginning of sentences to announce the subject of remark :

Quod me Agamemnonem aemulari putas, falleris, As to the fact that you think I emulate Agamemnon, you are mistaken. Nep.

I. FORMS OF SUBJECT CLAUSES.

555. INTERROGATIVE.—Subject clauses which are interrogative in character, of course take the form of indirect questions. See 525. 2 and 554. I.

556. NOT INTERROGATIVE.—Subject clauses which are not interrogative, with some predicates take the form of Infinitive clauses, or clauses with quod ; while with other predicates they take the form of Subjunctive clauses with ut, ne, etc. Thus,

I. With most impersonal verbs and with predicates consisting of est with a Noun or Adjective, the Subject may be supplied (1) by the Infinitive with or without a Subject Accusative, or, (2) if the fact is to be made prominent or adduced as a reason, by a clause with quod:

Me poenitet vixisse, I regret that I have lived. Cic. Quod te offendi me poenitet, I regret that (or because) I have offended you. Cic.

1. SUBSTANTIVE PREDICATES WITH SUBJUNCTIVE.—Mos est, mōris est, consuetūdo est, consuetūdinis est, It is a custom, etc., admit the Subjunctive for the Infinitive:

Mos est hōmīnum ut nōlint, It is a custom of men that they are not willing. Cic.

2. ADJECTIVE PREDICATES WITH SUBJUNCTIVE.—Rēliqum est, prōximum est, extrēmum est—vērū est, vērissimū est, falsū est—glōriōsum est, mirū est, optimū est, etc., admit the Subjunctive for the Infinitive:

Rēliqum est ut certēmus, it remains that we contend. Cic. Vērū est ut hōnos diligant, It is true that they love the good. Cic.

II. With Impersonal verbs signifying to happen—accēdit, contingit, evēnit, fit—ut, ut non, with the Subjunctive, is generally used (495. 2):

Thrāsýbulō contigit, ut patriam vindicāret, It was the good fortune of Thrasybulus (happened to him) to deliver his country. Nep.

1. Here belong accēdit ut, est ut, fūtūrum esse ut, or fire ut. See 544.
2. Clauses with quod also occur with verbs of happening.

III. With Impersonal verbs signifying it follows, remains, is distant, and the like, the Subjunctive clause with ut is generally used:

Rēlinquītur, ut quiescāmus, It remains that we should submit. Cic. See 495. 2.

IV. Subjunctive clause standing alone. See 495. 2. 2).

II. FORMS OF OBJECT CLAUSES.

557. INTERROGATIVE.—Object clauses which are interrogative in character, of course, take the form of indirect questions. See 554. I.

558. NOT INTERROGATIVE.—Object clauses which are not interrogative in character, supplying the place of direct objects after transitive verbs, sometimes take the form of Infinitive clauses, sometimes of Subjunctive clauses, and sometimes of clauses with quod. Thus,

I. Verbs of DECLARING take,

1. Regularly the Infinitive with Subject Accusative. See 551. I.

2. But the Subjunctive with ut or ne, when they involve a command:

Dolābellae dixit, ut ad me scribēret ut in Italiā venīrem, He told Dolabella to write to me to come into Italy. Cic. See 492. 2.

II. Verbs of DETERMINING, stātuo, constituo, dēcerno, and the like, take,

1. Generally the Infinitive, when the subject is the same as that of the principal verb, rarely the Subjunctive:

Mānere dēcrēvit, He determined to remain. Nep. Stātuerunt, ut libertā tem dēfendērent, They determined to defend liberty. Cic. See 551. II.

2. The Subjunctive with ut or ne (expressed or understood), when a new subject is introduced:

Constituerat, ut tribūnus quērērētur, He had arranged that the tribune should enter the complaint. Sall. Sēnātus dēcrēvit, dārent op̄eram consūles, The senate decreed that the consuls should attend to it. Sall. See 492. 3.

Stātuo, dēcerno, etc., when they mean to think, deem, suppose, etc., become verba sentiendi (551. I. 1), and of course take the Infinitive:

Laudem sūplēntiae stātuo esse maximā, I deem it to be the highest praise of wisdom. Cic.

III. Verbs of STRIVING, ENDEAVORING, take the Subjunctive with ut or ne. See 492. 1. But contendo, nītor, stūdeo, and tento, generally take the Infinitive when the subject is the same:

Lōcum oppugnāre contendit, He proceeds to storm the city. Caes. Tentābo de hoc dicere, I will attempt to speak of this. Quint. See 552.

IV. Verbs of CAUSING, MAKING, ACCOMPLISHING, take the Subjunctive with ut, ne, ut non. See 492, 495.

1. EXAMPLES.—Fācio, effīcio, perfīcio—ādīpīscor, impetro—assēquor, consēquor, and sometimes fēro, are examples of verbs of this class.

2. FACIO AND EFFICIO.—Fācio in the sense of assume, suppose, takes the Infinitive; effīcio in the sense of prove, show, either the Infinitive or the Subjunctive with ut, etc.:

Fac ānimos non rēmānere post mortem, Assume that souls do not survive after death. Cic. Vult effīcere ānimos esse mortāles, He wishes to show that souls are mortal. Cic.

V. Verbs of EMOTION OR FEELING, whether of joy or sorrow, take,

1. The Infinitive with Subject Accusative, to express the Object in view of which the feeling is exercised. See 551. III.

2. Clauses with quod, to make more prominent the Reason for the feeling:

Gaudeo quod te interpellāvi, I rejoice that (or because) I have interrupted you. Cic. Dolēbam quod sōcium āmisēram, I was grieving because I had lost a companion. Cic. See 520. I.

For VERBS OF DESIRING, see 551. II. 2.

VI. Verbs of ASKING, DEMANDING, ADVISING, WARNING, COM-MANDING, and the like, take the Subjunctive, generally with ut or ne:

Oro ut hōmīnes mīseros conserves, I implore that you would preserve the unhappy men. Cic. Postūlant ut signum detur, They demand that the signal be given. Liv. See 492. 2.

1. EXAMPLES.—Verbs of this class are numerous—the following are examples: ōro, rōgo, pōto, pŕecor, obsĕro—flūgito, postūlo, pŕaecepio—hortor, mōneo, suādeo, persuādeo—impello, incito, mōveo, commōveo.

2. USED AS VERBA DECLARANDI.—Some of these verbs in particular significations become verba declarandi (551. 2), and accordingly take the Infinitive with Subject Accusative: thus mōneo, in the sense of remind and persuādeo in the sense of convince.

3. INFINITIVE.—Even in their ordinary significations some of these verbs, especially hortor, mōneo, and postūlo, sometimes take the Infinitive with or without a Subject Accusative:

Postūlat se absolvi, He demands that he should be acquitted. Cic. See 551. II. 1 and 2.

The Infinitive is much more common in poetry than in prose.

SECTION X.

GERUND.

559. The Gerund is a verb in force, but a noun in form and inflection. As a verb it governs oblique cases and takes adverbial modifiers, as a noun it is itself governed.

560. The Gerund has four cases: Genitive, Dative, Accusative, and Ablative, governed like nouns in the same situation:

Beāte vīvendi cūpīdīlātē incensi sūmus, We are animated with the desire of living happily. Cic. Charta inūtilis scribendo, paper unfit for writing. Plin. Ad āgendum nātus, born for action. Cic. In āgendo, in acting. Cic.

1. ACCUSATIVE.—The Accusative of the Gerund is used only after Prepositions.

2. GERUND AND INFINITIVE.—The gerund and the infinitive are kindred forms, expressing the meaning of the verb in the form of a noun (196. II.). They are also complements of each other, the one supplying the parts which are wanting in the other. Thus the infinitive supplies the nominative and the accusative after verbs (548); the gerund supplies the genitive, dative, and ablative, and the accusative after prepositions.

561. Gerunds with Direct Objects are regularly used only in the Genitive and in the Ablative without a preposition:

Jus vōcandi sēnātum, the right of summoning the senate. Liv. Injūrias fōrendo laudem mērēbēris, You will merit praise by bearing wrongs. Cic.

562. GERUNDIVE.—The place of the Gerund with a Direct Object is supplied by putting that object in the case of the Gerund and changing the latter into the participle in -dus in agreement with it. The participle is then called a Gerundive:

Inita sunt consilia urbis delendae = urbem delendi, Plans have been formed for destroying the city (of the city to be destroyed). Cic. Numa sacerdotibus creandis summum adjecit, Numa gave his attention to the appointment of priests. Liv.

1. EXPLANATION.—With the Gerund, the first example would be: Inita sunt consilia urbem delendi, in which delendi is governed by consilia, and urbem by delendi. In changing this to the Gerundive construction,

1) Urbem, the object, is changed into urbis, the case of the gerund, and is governed by consilia.

2) Delendi, the gerund, is changed into delendae, the gerundive, in agreement with urbis.

2. GERUNDIVE.—For the sake of brevity, the term Gerundive is used not only to designate the Participle, but also the Construction as a whole, including both the participle and the noun with which it agrees.

3. USE OF GERUNDIVE.—The Gerundive may be used for the Gerund with a Direct Object, and is almost invariably so used when the Gerund would be in the Dative or would depend upon a preposition. But see 563. 2.

But in a few instances the Gerund with a Direct Object occurs in the Dative or dependent upon a preposition. See 564. 1; 565. 2; and 566. 2.

4. GERUNDIVES OF UTOR, FRUOR, ETC.—In general only the gerundives of transitive verbs are used with their nouns as equivalents for Gerunds with Direct Objects; but the gerundives of utor, fruor, fungor, pōtior, and vescor, originally transitive verbs, admit this construction:

Ad munus fungendum, for discharging the duty. Cic. Spes potiundorum castrorum, the hope of getting possession of the camp. Caes.

5. PASSIVE SENSE.—In a few instances, the Gerund has in appearance a passive sense:

Nēque habent propriam percipiendi notam, Nor have they any proper mark of distinction, i. e., to distinguish them. Cic.

I. GENITIVE OF GERUNDS AND GERUNDIVES.

563. The Genitive of the Gerund or Gerundive is used with nouns and adjectives:

GERUND.—Ars vivendi, the art of living. Cic. Studiōsus erat audiendi, He was desirous of hearing. Nep. Jus vocandi senātum, the right of summoning the senate. Liv. Cūpidus te audiendi, desirous of hearing you. Cic.

GERUNDIVE.—Lībīdo ejus videndi, the desire of seeing him. Cic. Plātōnis studiōsus audiendi fuit, He was fond of hearing Plato. Cic.

1. The genitive of the Gerund or Gerundive occurs most frequently—

1) With ars, scientia, consuetudo,—cupiditas, libido, studium, consilium, voluntas, spes,—potestas, facultas, difficultas, occasio, tempus,—genus, modulus, ratio,—causa, gratia, etc.

2) With adjectives denoting desire, knowledge, skill, recollection, and their opposites: avidus, cupidus, studiosus—consciens, gnarus, ignarus—peritus, imperitus, insuetus, etc.

2. GERUND PREFERRED.—A gerund with a neuter pronoun or adjective as object should not be changed to the participial construction, because the latter could not distinguish the gender:

Artem vera ac falsa discernendi, the art of distinguishing true things from the false. Cic.

* 3. GERUND WITH GENITIVE.—The Gerund in the Genitive sometimes assumes so completely the force of a noun as to govern the Genitive instead of the Accusative:

Refricendi iudicium potestas, the power of challenging (of) the judges. Cic.

Here refricendi may be governed by potestas, and may itself by its substantive force govern iudicium, the challenging of the judges, etc. But these and similar forms in di are sometimes explained not as Gerunds but as Gerundives, like Gerundives with mei, nostri, etc. See 4 below.

4. PARTICIPIAL CONSTRUCTION WITH MEI, NOSTRI, ETC.—With the Genitive of personal pronouns—mei, nostri, tui, vestri, sui—the participle ends in di without reference to Number or Gender:

Copia placendi tui (of a woman), an opportunity of appeasing you. Ov. Sui conservandi causa, for the purpose of preserving themselves. Cic. Vestri adhortandi causa, for the purpose of exhorting you. Liv.

This apparent irregularity may be accounted for by the fact that these genitives, though used as Personal Pronouns, are all strictly in form in the neuter singular of the Possessives meum, tuum, suum, etc., hence the participle in di agrees with them perfectly.

5. PURPOSE.—The Genitive of the Gerund or Gerundive is sometimes used to express Purpose or Tendency:

Hac tradendae Hannibali victoriae sunt, These things are for the purpose of giving victory to Hannibal. Liv. Leges pellendi claros viros, laws for driving away illustrious men. Tac. Profectus est cognoscendae antiquitatis, He sets out for the purpose of studying antiquity. Tac.

This genitive is sometimes best explained as Predicate Genitive (401), as in the first example; sometimes as dependent upon a noun, as pellendi dependent upon leges in the second example; and sometimes simply as a Genitive of Cause (393, 409, 4), as in the third example; though in such cases, especially in the second and third, causa may be supplied.

6. INFINITIVE FOR GERUND.—The Infinitive for the Genitive of the Gerund or Gerundive is often used in the poets with nouns and adjectives, sometimes even in prose:

Cupido Stygios innare lacus, the desire to sail upon the Stygian lakes. Virg. Avidus committere pugnam, eager to engage battle. Ovid.

II. DATIVE OF GERUNDS AND GERUNDIVES.

564. The Dative of the Gerund or Gerundive is used with a few verbs and adjectives which regularly govern the Dative:

GERUND.—Quum solvendo non essent, Since they were not able to pay. Cic. Aqua utilis est bibendo, Water is useful for drinking. Plin.

GERUNDIVE.—Lœum oppido condendo cœperunt, They selected a place for founding a city. Liv. Tempora dēmētendis fructibus accommodata, seasons suitable for gathering fruits. Cic.

1. GERUND.—The Dative of the Gerund is rare and confined mostly to late writers; with an object it is almost without example.

2. GERUNDIVE OF PURPOSE.—In Livy, Tacitus, and late writers, the Dative of the Gerundive often denotes purpose:

Firmandae vāletudinī in Campāniam concessit, He withdrew into Campania to confirm his health. Tac.

3. GERUNDIVE WITH OFFICIAL NAMES.—The Dative of the Gerundive also stands after certain official names, as dēcemvīri, triumvīri, comitia:

Dēcemvīros lēgibus scrībendis creāvimus, We have appointed a committee of ten to prepare laws. Liv. But the Dative is perhaps best explained as dependent upon the verb.

III. ACCUSATIVE OF GERUNDS AND GERUNDIVES.

565. The Accusative of the Gerund or Gerundive is used after a few prepositions:

GERUND.—Ad discendum prōpensi sumus, We are inclined to learn (to learning). Cic. Inter lūdendum, in or during play. Quint.

GERUNDIVE.—Ad cōlendos agros, for cultivating the fields. Cic. Ante condendam urbem, before the founding of the city. Liv.

1. PREPOSITIONS.—The Accusative of the gerund or gerundive is used most frequently after ad; sometimes after inter and ob; very rarely after ante, circa, and in.

2. WITH OBJECT.—The accusative of a gerund with a direct object sometimes occurs, but is rare:

Ad plācandum deos pertinet, It tends to appease the gods. Cic.

3. PURPOSE.—With verbs of giving, permitting, leaving, taking, etc., the purpose of the action is sometimes denoted by the Gerund with ad, or by the Gerundive in agreement with a noun:

Ad imitandum mihi prōpōsitum exemplar illud, That model has been set before me for imitation. Cic. Attribuit Italiā vastandam (for ad vastandum) Cātīlinæ, He assigned Italy to Catiline to ravage (to be ravaged). Cic.

IV. ABLATIVE OF GERUNDS OR GERUNDIVES.

566. The Ablative of the Gerund or Gerundive is used,

I. As Ablative of Means or Instrument :

GERUND.—Mens discendo alitur, The mind is nourished by learning. Cic.

Salutem hominibus dando, by giving safety to men. Cic.

GERUNDIVE.—Legendis oratoribus, by reading the orators. Cic.

II. With Prepositions :

GERUND.—Virtutes cernuntur in agendo, Virtues are seen in action. Cic.

Deterreere a scribendo, to deter from writing. Cic.

GERUNDIVE.—Brutus in liberanda patria est interfectus, Brutus was slain in liberating his country. Cic.

1. PREPOSITIONS.—The ablative of the gerund or gerundive is used most frequently after in ; sometimes after a (ab), de, ex (e) ; very rarely after cum and pro.

2. WITH OBJECT.—After prepositions, the ablative of the gerund with a direct object is exceedingly rare :

In tribuendo suum cuique, in giving every one his own. Cic.

3. WITHOUT A PREPOSITION, the ablative of the gerund or gerundive denotes in a few instances some other relation than that of means, as time, separation, etc. :

Incipiendo refūgi, I drew back in the very beginning. Cic.

SECTION XI.

SUPINE.

567. The Supine, like the Gerund, is a verb in force, but a noun in form and inflection. As a verb it governs oblique cases, as a noun it is itself governed.

568. The Supine has but two cases: the Accusative in um and the Ablative in u.

RULE L.—Supine in Um.

569. The Supine in um is used after verbs of motion to express PURPOSE :

Legati venerunt res repetitum, Deputies came to demand restitution.

Liv. Ad Caesarem congratulatum convenerunt, They came to Caesar to congratulate him. Caes.

1. The Supine in um occurs in a few instances after verbs which do not directly express motion :

Filliam Agrippae nuptum dedit, He gave his daughter in marriage to Agrippa. Suet.

2. The Supine in um with the verb eo is equivalent to the forms of the first Periphrastic Conjugation, and may often be rendered literally:

Bonos omnes perditum eunt, They are going to destroy all the good. Sall.

But in subordinate clauses the Supine in um with the verb eo is often used for the simple verb:

Ultum ire, (= ultisel) injurias festinat, He hastens to avenge the injuries. Sall.

3. The Supine in um with iri, the infinitive passive of eo, forms, it will be remembered (241, III. 1), the Future Passive Infinitive:

Brutum visum iri a me puto, I think Brutus will be seen by me. Cic.

4. The Supine in um as an expression of purpose is not very common, its place is often supplied even after verbs of motion by other constructions:

1) By ut or qui with the Subjunctive. See 489.

2) By Gerunds or Gerundives. See 563. 5; 564. 2; 565. 3.

3) By Participles. See 573. V.

570. The Supine in u is generally used as an Ablative of Specification (429):

Quid est tam jucundum auditu, What is so agreeable to hear (in hearing)? Cic. Difficile dictu est, It is difficult to tell. Cic.

1. The Supine in u is used chiefly with—jucundus, optimus—facilis, praestivis, difficilis—incredibilis, memorabilis—honestus, turpis, fas, nefas—dignus, indignus—opus est.

2. The Supine in u is very rare, and does not occur with an object. The only examples in common use are: auditu, cognitu, dictu, and factu.

3. As the Supine in u is little used, its place is supplied by other constructions:

1) By ad with the Gerund: Verba ad audiendum jucunda, words agreeable to hear. Cic.

2) By the Infinitive: Facile est vincere, It is easy to conquer. Cic.

3) By a Finite Mood with an adverb: Non facile discernitur amor fictus, Pretended love is not easy to detect (is not easily detected). Cic.

SECTION XII.

PARTICIPLES.

I. TENSES OF PARTICIPLES.

571. Participles, like Infinitives, express only relative time, and represent the action as Present, Past, or Future, relatively to the principal verb.

PECULIARITIES.—Tenses in Participles present the leading peculiarities specified under the corresponding tenses in the Indicative. See 467. 2.

572. PRESENT PARTICIPLE.—The present participle represents the action as taking place at the time denoted by the principal verb:

Oculus se non videns alia cernit, The eye, though it does not see itself (not seeing itself'), discerns other things. Cic. Plāto scribens mortuus est, Plato died while writing. Cic.

573. FUTURE PARTICIPLE.—The future active participle represents the action as about to take place, in time subsequent to that of the principal verb:

Sāpiens bōna semper plācītūra laudat, The wise man praises blessings which will always please (being about to please). Sen.

But the Future Passive generally loses in a great degree its force as a tense, and is often best rendered by a verbal noun. See 562 and 580.

574. PERFECT PARTICIPLE.—The perfect participle represents the action as completed at the time of the principal verb.

Uva mātūrāta dulcescit, The grape, when it has ripened (having ripened), becomes sweet. Cic.

1. The Perfect Participle, both in Deponent and in Passive verbs, is sometimes used of present time, and sometimes in Passive verbs it loses in a great degree its force as a tense, and is best rendered by a verbal noun. See 580.

2. For the Participle with habeo, see 358. 1. 2).

II. USE OF PARTICIPLES.

575. Participles are verbs in force, but Adjectives in form and inflection. As verbs they govern oblique cases, as adjectives they agree with nouns:

Animus se non vīdens ālia cernit, The mind, though it 'not see itself, discerns other things. Cic.

1. Participles in the Present or Perfect, rarely in the Future, may be used as adjectives or nouns: scripta epistola, a written letter; mortui, the dead. Participles with the force of adjectives may be used as predicate adjectives with sum: occūpāti erant, they were occupied; as a verb, had been occupied.

576. Participles are used to abridge or shorten discourse by supplying the place of finite verbs with relatives or conjunctions. They are used with much greater freedom in Latin than in English.

577. PARTICIPLE FOR RELATIVE CLAUSE.—In abridged sentences, the Participle often supplies the place of a Relative Clause:

Omnes aliud agentes, aliud simulantés impröbi sunt, All who do one thing and pretend another are dishonest. Cic.

578. FOR OTHER SUBORDINATE CLAUSES.—The Participle often supplies the place of a subordinate clause with a conjunction. It may express,

I. Time :

Pläto scribens mortuus est, Plato died while writing. Cic. Itüri in proelium cänunt, They sing when about to go into battle. Tac.

II. Cause, Manner, Means :

Sol öriens diem conficit, The sun by its rising causes the day. Cic. Millites rönuntiant, se perfidiam vëritös rêvertisse, The soldiers report that they returned because they feared perfidy (having feared). Caes.

III. Condition :

Mendäci hömüni ne vërum quïdem dicenti crädëre non sölémus, We are not wont to believe a liar, even if he speaks the truth. Cic. Rëluctante nätüra, irrätus läbor est, If nature opposes, effort is vain. Sen.

IV. Concession :

Scripta tua jam diu expectans, non audeo tämen flägütäre, Though I have been long expecting your work, yet I do not dare to ask for it. Cic.

V. Purpose :

Perseus rëdiit, belli cäsüm tentätürus, Perseus returned to try (about to try) the fortune of war. Liv. Attribuit nos trücidandos Cëthëgo, He assigned us to Cethegus to slaughter. Cic.

579. PARTICIPLE FOR PRINCIPAL CLAUSE.—The Participle sometimes supplies the place of a principal or coördinate clause, and may accordingly be best rendered by a finite verb with and or but :

Classëm dëvictam cëpit, He conquered and took the fleet (took the fleet conquered). Nep. Re consentientes vöcäbülis diffërebant, They agreed in fact, but differed in words. Cic.

580. PARTICIPLE FOR VERBAL NOUN.—The Passive Participle is often used in Latin where the English idiom requires a participial noun, or a verbal noun with of :

In ämicis öligendis, in selecting friends. Cic. Hömërus fuit ante Römam conditam, Homer lived (was) before the founding of Rome (before Rome founded). Cic.

581. PARTICIPLE WITH NEGATIVE.—The Participle with a negative, as non, nihil, is often best rendered by a participial noun and the preposition without :

Miserum est, nihil proficientem angī, It is sad to be troubled without accomplishing anything. Cic. Non erubescens, without blushing. Cic.

CHAPTER VI.

SYNTAX OF PARTICLES.

RULE LI.—Use of Adverbs.

582. Adverbs qualify VERBS, ADJECTIVES, and other ADVERBS :

Sapientes feliciter vivunt, The wise live happily. Cic. Facile doctissimus, unquestionably the most learned. Cic. Haud aliter, not otherwise. Virg.

583. Adverbs are sometimes used with nouns :

1. When the nouns are used with the force of adjectives or participles :

Minime largitor dux, a leader by no means liberal. Liv. Pöpus late rex, a people of extensive sway (ruling extensively). Virg.

2. When in sense a participle or verb may be supplied :

Marius, plane vir, Marius, truly a man. Cic. Omnes circa populi, all the surrounding peoples. Liv. See also 353. 2.

584. The Common Negative Particles are : non, ne, haud.

1. Non is the usual negative, ne is used in prohibitions, wishes and purposes (489), and haud, in haud scio an and with adjectives and adverbs ; haud mirabile, not wonderful ; haud aliter, not otherwise. Ni for ne is rare. Ne non after vide is often best rendered whether.

2. In non modo non and in non solum non, the second non is generally omitted before sed, or verum, followed by ne—quidem or etiam (rarely etiam), when the verb of the second clause belongs also to the first :

Assentatio non modo amico, sed ne libero quidem digna est. Flattery is not only not worthy of a friend, but not even of a free man. Cic.

3. Minus often has nearly the force of non ; si minus = si non. Si aliter has nearly the same force as si minus.

585. Two Negatives are generally equivalent to an affirmative, as in English :

Nihil non arrôget, Let him claim everything. Hor. Nêque hoc Zêno non videt, Nor did Zeno overlook this. Cic.

1. Non before a general negative gives it the force of an indefinite affirmative, but after such negative the force of a general affirmative :

Nonnêmo, some one ; nonnihîl, something ; nonnunquam, sometimes.

Nêmo non, every one ; nihîl non, every thing ; nunquam non, always.

2. After a general negative, ne—quidem gives emphasis to the negation, and nêque—nêque, nêve—nêve, and the like, repeat the negation distributively :

Non practêreundum est ne id quidem, We must not pass by even this. Cic. Nêmo unquam nêque poëta nêque orator fuit, No one was ever either a poet or orator. Cic.

3. Sic and ita mean so, thus. Ita has also a limiting sense in so far which does not belong to sic, as in ita—si (503, 4). Adêo, to such a degree or result ; tam, tantôpère, so much, tam used mostly before adjectives and adverbs, and tantôpère before verbs.

586. For the use of Prepositions, see 432 to 437.

587. Coördinate Conjunctions unite similar constructions (309). They comprise five classes :

I. Copulative Conjunctions denote union :

Castor et Pollux, Castor and Pollux. Cic. Sênâtus pöpulusque, the senate and people. Cic. Nec êrat difficile, Nor was it difficult. Liv.

1. List. See 310, 1.

2. DIFFERENCE IN FORCE.—Et simply connects ; que implies a more intimate relationship ; atque generally gives prominence to what follows, especially at the beginning of a sentence ; ac, abbreviated from atque, has generally the force of et. Nêque and nec have the force of et non. Et and etiam sometimes mean even.

Atque and ac generally mean as, than after adjectives and adverbs of likeness and unlikeness ; similis, dissimilis, similiter, par, pariter, æque, ælius, æliter, sêcus : æque ac, equally as ; aliter atque, otherwise than. See also 451, 5.

3. QUE, AC, ATQUE.—Que is an enclitic, i. e., is always appended to some other word. Ac in the best prose is used only before consonants ; atque, either before vowels or consonants.

4. ETIAM, QUOQUE, ADEO, and the like, are sometimes associated with et, atque, ac, and sometimes even supply their place. Quôque follows the word which it connects : is quôque, he also. Etiam, also, further, even, is more comprehensive than quôque and often adds a new circumstance.

5. CORRELATIVES.—Sometimes two copulatives are used : et (que)—et (que), tum—tum, quum—tum, both—and ; but quum—tum gives prominence to the second word or clause ; non solum (non môdo, or non tantum)—sed etiam (vêrum etiam), not only—but also ; nêque (nec)—nêque (nec), neither—nor ; nêque (nec)—et (que), not—but (and) ; et—nêque (nec), (both)—and not.

6. OMITTED.—Between two words connected copulatively the conjunction is generally expressed, though sometimes omitted, especially between the names of two colleagues. Between several words it is in the best prose generally repeated or omitted altogether, though que may be used with the last even when the conjunction is omitted between the others: pax et tranquillitas et concordia, or pax, tranquillitas, concordia, or pax, tranquillitas, concordiaque.

Et is often omitted between conditional clauses, except before non.

II. Disjunctive Conjunctions denote separation :

Aut vestra aut sua culpa, either your fault, or his own. Liv. Duâbus trîbusve hōris, in two or three hours. Cic.

1. LIST. See 310. 2.

2. AUT, VEL, VE.—Aut denotes a stronger antithesis than vel, and must be used if the one supposition excludes the other: aut verum aut falsum, either true or false. Vel implies a difference in the expression rather than in the thing. It is generally corrective and is often followed by potius, etiam or dicam: laudatur vel etiam amatur, he is praised, or even (rather) loved. It sometimes means even and sometimes for example. Vēut often means for example. Ve for vel is appended as an enclitic.

In negative clauses aut and ve often continue the negation: non honor aut virtus, neither (not) honor nor virtue.

3. SIVE (si—ve) does not imply any real difference or opposition; it often connects different names of the same object: Pallas sive Minerva, Pallas or Minerva (another name of the same goddess).

III. Adversative Conjunctions denote opposition or contrast :

Cūpio me esse clémentem, sed me inertiae condemnō, I wish to be mild, but I condemn myself for inaction. Cic.

1. LIST. See 310. 3.

2. DIFFERENCE IN FORCE.—Sed and verum mark a direct opposition; autem and vērō only a transition; at emphasizes the opposition; atqui often introduces an objection; ceterum, but still, as to the rest; tamen, yet.

3. COMPOUNDS OF TAMEN are: attamen, sedtamen, vēruntamen, but yet.

4. AUTEM and VERO follow the words which they connect: hic autem, hic vērō, but this one. They are often omitted, especially before non. They are admissible with qui only when it is followed by its antecedent.

IV. Illative Conjunctions denote inference :

In umbra igitur pugnābimus, We shall therefore fight in the shade. Cic.

1. LIST. See 310. 4.

2. OTHER WORDS.—Certain other words, sometimes classed with adverbs and sometimes with conjunctions, are also illatives: eo, ideo, idcirco, propterea, quāobrem, quāpropter, quāre, quōcirca.

3. IGITUR.—This generally follows the word which it connects: hic igitur, this one therefore. After a digression igitur, sed, sed tamen, verum, verum tamen, etc., are often used to resume an interrupted thought or construction. They may often be rendered I say: Sed si quis; If any one, I say.

V. Causal Conjunctions denote cause :

Difficile est consilium: sum enim solus, Counsel is difficult, for I am alone. Cic. Etōnim jus amant, For they love the right. Cic.

1. LIST. See 310. 5.

2. ETENIM and NAMQUE denote a closer connection than enim and nam.
 3. ENIM follows its word.

588. Subordinate Conjunctions connect subordinate with principal constructions (309. II.). They comprise eight classes.

I. Temporal Conjunctions denote time :

Pāruit quum nēcesse ērat, He obeyed when it was necessary. Cic. Dum ōgo in Sicēlia sum, while I am in Sicily. Cic. See also 311. 1; 521-523.

1. DUM added to a negative means yet; nondum, not yet; vixdum, scarcely yet.

II. Comparative Conjunctions denote comparison :

Ut optasti, ita est, It is as you desired. Cic. Vēlut si ādesset, as if he were present. Caes. See also 311. 2; 503, 506.

1. CORRELATIVES are often used: Tam—quam, as, so—as, as much as; tam—quam quod maxime, as much as possible; non minus—quam, not less than; non magis—quam, not more than.

Tam—quam and ut—ita with a superlative are sometimes best rendered by the with the comparativo: ut maxime—ita maxime, the more—the more.

III. Conditional Conjunctions denote condition :

Si peccāvi, ignosce, If I have erred, pardon me. Cic. Nisi est cōsiliū dōmi, unless there is wisdom at home. Cic. See also 311. 3; 503, 507.

1. NISI, if not, in negative sentences often means except, and nisi quod, except that, may be used even in affirmative sentences. Nisi may mean than. Nihil aliud nisi = nothing further (more, except); nihil aliud quam = nothing else (other than).

IV. Concessive Conjunctions denote concession :

Quamquam intelligunt, though they understand. Cic. Etsi nihil hābeat, although he has nothing. Cic. See also 311. 4; 515, 516.

V. Final Conjunctions denote purpose :

Esse oportet, ut vivas, It is necessary to eat, that you may live. Cic. See also 311. 5; 489-499.

VI. Consecutive Conjunctions denote consequence or result :

Atticus ita vixit, ut Athēniensibus esset cārissimus, Atticus so lived that he was very dear to the Athenians. Nep. See also 311. 6; 489-499.

VII. Causal Conjunctions denote cause :

Quae quum ita sint, Since these things are so. Cic. See also 311. 7; 517, 518.

VIII. Interrogative Conjunctions or Particles denote inquiry or question :

Quaesieras, nonne putārem, You had asked whether I did not think. Cic. See also 311. 8; 346. II., 525, 526.

IV. INTERJECTIONS.

589. Interjections are sometimes used entirely alone, as heu, alas! and sometimes with certain cases of nouns. See 381 and 381. 3.

590. Various parts of speech, and even oaths and imprecations, sometimes have the force of interjections. Thus:

Pax (peace), be still! miserum, miserable, sad, lamentable! oro, pray! age, age, come, well! mehercules, by Hercules! per deum fidem, in the name of the gods! sodes = si audes (for audies), if you will hear!

CHAPTER VIII.

ARRANGEMENT OF WORDS AND CLAUSES.

SECTION I.

ARRANGEMENT OF WORDS.

592. The Latin admits of great variety in the arrangement of the different parts of the sentence, thus affording peculiar facilities both for securing proper emphasis and for imparting to its periods that harmonious flow which characterizes the Latin classics. But with all this freedom and variety, there are certain general laws of arrangement which it will be useful to notice.

I. GENERAL RULES.

593. The Subject followed by its modifiers occupies the first place in the sentence, and the Predicate preceded by its modifiers the last place:

Sol oriens diem conficit, The sun rising makes the day. Cic. Anímus aeger semper errat, A diseased mind always errs. Cic. Miltiádes Athēnas libéravit, Miltiades liberated Athens. Nep.

594. Emphasis and euphony often affect the arrangement of words:

I. BEGINNING.—Any word, except the subject, may be made emphatic by being placed at the beginning of the sentence:

Silent lēges inter arma, Laws are silent in war. Cic. Nūmītōri Rēmus dēdītūr, Remus is delivered to Numitor. Liv. Igni āger vastābātūr, The field was ravaged with fire. Sall.

II. END.—Any word, except the predicate, may be rendered emphatic by being placed at the end of the sentence:

Nōbis non sātisfācit ipse Dēmōsthēnes, Even Demosthenes does not satisfy us. Cic. Consūlātum pētīvit nunquam, He never sought the consulship. Cic. Existit quaedam quaestio subdīfīcīlis, There arises a question somewhat difficult. Cic.

III. SEPARATION.—Two words naturally connected, as a noun and its adjective, or a noun and its genitive, are sometimes made emphatic by separation:

Objurgātiōnes nonnunquam incidunt nēcessāriāe, Sometimes necessary re-proofs occur. Cic. Justītiāe fungātūr officiis, Let him discharge the duties of justice. Cic.

595. CONTRASTED GROUPS.—When two groups of words are contrasted, the order of the first is often reversed in the second:

Frāgīle corpus ānīmus sempiternus mōvet, The imperishable soul moves the perishable body. Cic.

596. KINDRED WORDS.—Different forms of the same word, or different words of the same derivation, are generally placed near each other:

Ad sēnem sēnex de sēnectūte scripsī, I, an old man, wrote to an old man on the subject of old age. Cic. Inter se āliis ālii prōsunt, They mutually benefit each other. Cic.

597. WORDS WITH A COMMON RELATION.—A word which has a common relation to two other words connected by conjunctions, is placed,

I. Generally before or after both :

Pācis et artes et glōria, both the arts and the glory of peace. Liv. Belli pācisque artes, the arts of war and of peace. Liv.

A Genitive or Adjective following two nouns may qualify both, but it more frequently qualifies only the latter :

Hæc percunctatio ac dēnuntiatio belli, this inquiry and this declaration of war. Liv.

II. Sometimes directly after the first before the conjunction :

Hōnōris certāmen et glōriæ, a struggle for honor and glory. Cic. Agri omnes et mēria, all lands and seas. Cic.

II. SPECIAL RULES.

598. MODIFIERS OF NOUNS.—The modifiers of a noun generally follow it. They may be either adjectives or nouns :

Pōpūlus Rōmānus dēcrōvit, The Roman people decreed. Cic. Hērōdōtus, pāter histōriæ, Herodotus, the father of history. Cic. Liber de officiis, the book on duties. Cic.

1. NOUN.—A noun as modifier of another noun is generally an appositive, a genitive, or a case with a preposition, as in the examples.

2. WITH EMPHASIS.—Modifiers when emphatic are placed before their nouns :

Tuscus āger Rōmāno adjācet, The Tuscan territory borders on the Roman. Liv. Cātōnis orātiōnes, Cato's orations. Cic.

3. ADJECTIVE AND GENITIVE.—When a noun is modified both by an adjective and by a genitive, the usual order is, adjective—genitive—noun :

Magna civium pēnūria, a great scarcity of citizens. Cic.

599. MODIFIERS OF ADJECTIVES.—The modifiers of the adjective generally precede it, but, if not adverbs, they may follow it :

Fācile doctissīmus, unquestionably the most learned. Cic. Omni aetāti commūnis, common to every age. Cic. Avidus laudis, desirous of praise. Cic.

600. MODIFIERS OF VERBS.—The modifiers of the verb generally precede it :

Glōria virtūtem sēquītur, Glory follows virtue. Cic. Mundus deo pāret, The world is subject to God. Cic. Vehēmenter dixit, He spoke vehemently. Cic. Glōria dūcitur, He is led by glory. Cic.

1. AFTER THE VERB.—When the verb is placed for the sake of emphasis at the beginning of the sentence, the modifiers, of course, follow. See first example under 594. I.

2. EMPHASIS.—An emphatic modifier may of course stand at the beginning or at the end of the sentence (594):

Facillime cognoscuntur adulescentes, Most easily are the young men recognized. Cic.

3. TWO OR MORE MODIFIERS.—Of two or more modifiers belonging to the same verb, that which in thought is most intimately connected with the verb stands next to it, while the others are arranged as emphasis and euphony may require:

Rex Scythia bellum intulit, The king waged war against the Scythians.
Nep. Mors propter brevitatē vitæ nunquam longe abest, Death is never far distant, in consequence of the shortness of life. Cic.

601. MODIFIERS OF ADVERBS.—The modifiers of the adverb generally precede it, but a Dative often follows it:

Valde vehementer dixit, He spoke very vehemently. Cic. Congruenter naturæ vivit, He lives agreeably to nature. Cic.

602. SPECIAL WORDS.—Some words have a favorite place in the sentence, which they seldom leave. Thus,

I. the Demonstrative generally precedes its noun:

Custos hujus urbis, the guardian of this city. Cic.

1. Ille in the sense of well-known (450. 5) generally follows its noun, if not accompanied by an adjective:

Mēdēa illa, that well-known Medea. Cic.

2. Quisque, the indefinite pronoun, follows some other word:

Justitia suum cuique tribuit, Justice gives to every man his due (his own). Cic.

II. Prepositions generally stand directly before their cases, but tēnus and versus follow their cases:

In Asiam prōfūgit, He fled into Asia. Cic. Collo tēnus, up to the neck. Ov.

1. AFTER A PRONOUN.—The preposition frequently follows the relative, sometimes other pronouns, and sometimes even nouns, especially in poetry:

Res qua de agitur, the subject of which we are treating. Cic. Itāliam contra, over against Italy. Virg.

2. CUM APPENDED.—See 154. 6 and 157. 2.

3. INTERVENING WORDS.—Genitives, adverbs, and a few other words sometimes stand between the preposition and its case. In adjurations per is usually separated from its case by the Acc. of the object adjured, or by some other word; and sometimes the verb oro is omitted:

Post Alexandri magni mortem, after the death of Alexander the Great. Cic. Ad bene vivendum, for living well. Cic. Per te deos oro, I pray you in the name of the gods. Ter. Per ego vos deos = per deos ego vos oro (oro understood). I pray you in the name of the gods. Curt.

III. Conjunctions and Relatives, when they introduce clauses, generally stand at the beginning of such clauses; but autem, enim, quidem, quoque, vêro, and generally igitur, follow some other word:

Si peccâvi, ignosec, If I have erred, pardon me. Cic. Ii qui sup̄eriores sunt, those who are superior. Cic. Ipse autem omnia vidēbat, But he himself saw all things. Cic.

1. EMPHATIC WORDS and RELATIVES often precede the conjunction. Id ut audivit, as he heard this. Nep. Quae quum ita sint, since these things are so. Cic.

2. NE—QUIDEM takes the emphatic word or words between the two parts: Ne in oppidis quidem, not even in the towns. Cic.

3. Quidem often follows pronouns, superlatives, and ordinals: Ex mo quidem nihil audiet, He will hear nothing from me. Cic.

4. Que, ve, ne, Introducing a clause or phrase, are generally appended to the first word, but if that word is a monosyllable preposition, they are often appended to the next word: ad plēbemve, for adve, etc., or to the people; in fōrōque = inque fōro, and in the forum. Apud quosque, and before whom, occurs for euphony.

IV. Non, when it qualifies some single word, stands directly before that word, but when it is particularly emphatic, or qualifies the entire clause, it generally stands at the beginning of the clause:

Hac villa cārere non possunt, They are not able to do without this villa. Cic. Non fuit Jūpiter mētendus, Jupiter was not to be feared. Cic.

V. Inquam, sometimes Aio, introducing a quotation, follows one or more of the words quoted. The subject, if expressed, generally follows its verb:

Nihil, inquit Brūtus, quod dicam, Nothing which I shall state, said Brutus. Cic.

VI. The Vocative rarely stands at the beginning of a sentence. It usually follows an emphatic word:

Perge, Laeli, Proceed, Laelius. Cic.

SECTION II.

ARRANGEMENT OF CLAUSES.

I. IN COMPLEX SENTENCES.

603. SUBJECT OR PREDICATE.—A clause used as the subject of a complex sentence (357) generally stands at the beginning of the sentence, and a clause used as the predicate at the end:

Quid dies fōrat incertum est, What a day may bring forth is uncertain. Cic. Exītus fuit grātionis: sibi nullam cum his amicīam esse, The close of the oration was, that he had no friendship with these men. Cacs.

1. This arrangement is the same as that of the simple sentence. See 593.

2. Emphasis and euphony often have the same effect upon the arrangement of clauses as of words. See 594.

604. SUBORDINATE ELEMENTS.—Clauses used as the subordinate elements of complex sentences, admit three different arrangements:

I. They are generally inserted within the principal clause, like the subordinate elements of a simple sentence:

Hostes, ubi primum nostros equites conspexerunt, celeriter nostros perturbaverunt, The enemy, as soon as they saw our cavalry, quickly put our men to route. Caes. Sententia, quae tutissima videbatur, vicit, The opinion which seemed the safest prevailed. Liv.

II. They are often placed before the principal clause:

Quum quiescunt, probant, While they are quiet, they approve. Cic. Quis sit animus, animus nescit, The soul knows not what the soul is. Cic. Si haec civitas est, civis sum ego, If this is a state I am a citizen. Cic.

This arrangement is especially common when the subordinate clause either refers back to the preceding sentence, or is preparatory to the thought of the principal clause. Hence temporal, conditional, and concessive clauses often precede the principal clause. Hence also, in sentences composed of correlative clauses with is—qui, talis—qualis, tantus—quantus, tum—quum, ita—ut, etc., the relative member, i. e., the clause with qui, qualis, quantus, quum, ut, etc., generally precedes.

III. They sometimes follow the principal clause:

Enititur ut vincat, He strives that he may conquer. Cic. Sol efficit ut omnia florescant, The sun causes all things to bloom. Cic.

This arrangement is common when the subordinate clause is either intimately connected in thought with the following sentence or is explanatory of the principal clause. Hence clauses of Purpose and Result generally follow the principal clause, as in the examples. See also examples under articles 489–499.

605. LATIN PERIOD.—A complex sentence in which the subordinate clause is inserted within the principal clause, as under I., is called a Period in the strict sense of the word.

In a freer sense the same term is also applied to any sentence in which the clauses are so arranged as not to make complete sense before the end of the sentence. In this sense the examples under II. are periods.

II. IN COMPOUND SENTENCES.

606. Clauses connected by coördinate conjunctions (587) generally follow each other in the natural order of the thought, as in English:

Sol ruit et montes umbrantur, The sun descends and the mountains are shaded. Virg. Gyges a nullo videbatur, ipse autem omnia videbat, Gyges was seen by no one, but he himself saw all things. Cic.

PART FOURTH.

P R O S O D Y .

607. Prosody treats of Quantity and Versification.

CHAPTER I.

QUANTITY.

608. The time occupied in pronouncing a syllable in poetry is called its quantity. Syllables are accordingly characterized as long, short, or common.<sup>1</sup>

609. The quantity of syllables is determined by poetic usage. But this usage conforms in many cases to general laws, while in other cases it seems somewhat arbitrary.

1. Syllables whose quantity conforms to known rules are said to be long or short by rule.

2. Syllables whose quantity does not conform to known rules are said to be long or short by authority.

3. The rules for quantity are either general, i. e., applicable to most syllables, or special, i. e., applicable to particular syllables.

SECTION I.

GENERAL RULES OF QUANTITY.

610. RULE I.—Diphthongs and Contracted syllables are LONG :

Haec, coena, aura ; ālius for ālius, cōgo for cōgo, occīdo for occacido, nil for nihil.

1. Prae in composition is usually short before a vowel : praëcūtus, praëustus.

2. Ua, ue, ui, uo, and uu, are not strictly diphthongs, and accordingly do not come under this rule.

---

<sup>1</sup> Sometimes long and sometimes short.

611. RULE II.—A vowel is LONG BY POSITION before j, x, z, or any two consonants:<sup>1</sup>

Mājor, rēxi, gāza, mēnsa, servus.

1. But one of the consonants at least must belong to the same word as the vowel: ab rūpe, pēr saxa.

1) A final vowel is not usually affected by consonants at the beginning of the following word, except before sc, sp, sq, and st, where a short vowel is rare.

2) H and U must never be treated as consonants under this rule,<sup>2</sup> except in rare instances where u is so used by Synaeresis. See 669. II.

2. Before a mute followed by L or R, a vowel naturally short becomes common: dūplex, āgri, pātres.

1) In Greek words a vowel is also common before a mute with M or N: Tēmessa, cēnus.

2) A mute at the end of the first part of a compound before a liquid at the beginning of the second part makes the preceding vowel long by position: āb-rumpo, ōb-rōgo.

3) A vowel naturally long, of course, remains long before a Mute and Liquid: ācer, ācris.

3. Compounds of jūgum retain the short vowel before j: byjūgus, quadrījūgus.

612. RULE III.—A vowel before another vowel, or a diphthong, is SHORT BY POSITION:

Pīus, pīae, dōcēo, trāho.

No account is taken of the breathing h; hence a in traho is treated as a vowel before another vowel.

EXCEPTIONS.—The following are long before a vowel:

1. A,—(1) in the genitive ending āi of Dec. I.: aulāi,—(2) in proper names in āius: Cūius (Cajus),—(3) before ia, ie, io, iu, in the verb aio.

2. E,—(1) in the ending ēi of Dec. V. when preceded by a vowel: Alēi; and sometimes in fidēi, rēi, spēi,—(2) in proper names in ēius: Pompēius,—(3) in ēheu.

3. I,—(1) in the verb fio, when not followed by er: fiam, fiebam, but fieri,—(2) in the genitive īlius. In other genitives i in ius is common in poetry, though long in prose, but the i in altērius is short,—(3) in dīus, aum, for dīvus, aum,—(4) sometimes in Dīāna.

4. O,—is common in ōhe.

<sup>1</sup> Strictly speaking, the syllable, and not the vowel, is lengthened, but the language of convenience refers the quantity of the syllable to the vowel.

<sup>2</sup> Qu, gu, and su, when u has the sound of w, are treated as single consonants.

5. In Greek words vowels are often long before a vowel, because long in the original: āer, Aenēas, Brisēis, Mēnēlāus, Trōes.

This often occurs in proper names in—ēa, ia, ēus, ius, don, ion, dis, ōis, ōlus: Mēdēa, Alexandria, Pēnēus, Dārius, Orion.

Sermōnis, having one syllable more than sermo, has one increment, while sermōnibus has two increments.

Amātis has one increment, amābātis two.

631. If there is but one increment, it is uniformly the penult, if there are more than one, they are the penult with the requisite number of syllables before it. The increment nearest the beginning of the word is called the first increment, and those following this are called successively the second, third, and fourth increments. Thus

In ser-mōn-ī-bus, the first increment is mon, the second i; and in mon-ū-e-ra-mus, the first is u, the second e, the third ra.

In māter, cōdo, scribo, dōno, ūtor, the first syllable is long by authority, while in pāter, tēgo, mīco, sōno, ūter, it is short by authority.

650. RULE XIV.—The quantity of stem-syllables remains unchanged in inflection:

In DECLENSION,—āvis, āvem; nūbes, nūbium.

In COMPARISON,—lēvis, lēvior, lēvissīmus.

In CONJUGATION,—mōneo, mōnēbam, mōnui.

1. Pōsition may however affect the quantity: āger, āgri (611, 612); possum, pōtui; solvo, sōlūtum; volvo, vōlūtum.

Here ā becomes ā before gr. The o in possum, solvo, and volvo, long only by position, becomes short before a single consonant.

3. See also 651, 652.

651. Dissyllabic Perfects and Supines have the first syllable long, unless short by position:

jūvo, jūvi, jūtum; fōveo, fōvi, fōtum.

1. These Perfects and Supines, if formed from Presents with the first syllable short, are exceptions to 650.

bibi, dēdi, fidi, scidi, steti, stiti, tūli.

3. Ten Supines have the first syllable short:

cūtum, dātum, rūtum, lītum, qūtum, rātum, rūtum, sātum, sītum, stūtum.<sup>1</sup>

652. In trisyllabic Reduplicated Perfects the first two syllables are short:

cādo, cēcīdi; cāno, cēcīni; diseo, dīdīci.

1. Cuedo has cēcīdi in distinction from cēdīdi from cādo.

2. The second syllable may be made long by position: cācurri, mōmordi.

II. In Derivatives.

653. RULE XV.—Derivatives retain the quantity of their primitives:

bōnus, bōnitas; tīmeo, tīmor; ānīmus, ānīmōsus; cīvīs, cīvīcus; cūra, cūro.

1. Frequentatives in ito, have i short: clāmīto. See 332. I.

2. In a few Derivatives the short vowel of the primitive is lengthened:

hōmo,	hūmānus,	rēgo,	rēx, rēgis, rēgūla,
lāteo,	lāterna,	sēcus,	sēcīus,

lūceo,	lūcerna,	vōx, vōcis,	vōco.
mōles,	mōlestus,

This change of quantity in some instances is the result of contraction: mōvīllis, mōbīllis, mōlīllis, and in others it serves to distinguish words of the same orthography: as the verbs lēgis, lēges, rēgis, rēges, sēdes, from the nouns lēgis, lēges, rēgis, rēges, sēdes, or the verbs dūcis, dūces, fīdes, from the nouns dūcis, dūces, fīdes.

III. In Compounds.

654. RULE XVI.—Compounds generally retain the quantity of their elements:

antē-fēro, dē-fēro, dē-dūco, in-aequālis, prō-dūco.

1. The change of a vowel or diphthong does not affect the quantity:

dē-līgo (lēgo), oc-cīdo (cādo), oc-cīdo (caedo).

<sup>1</sup> From sisto, but stātum from sto.

2. INSEPARABLE PREPOSITIONS.—Di, sē, and vē are long, rē short: ne sometimes long and sometimes short:

*di*dūco, *sē*dūco, *vē*cors, *rē*dūco, *nē*dum, *nē*fas:

1) Di is short in *dī*rīmo, *dī*sertus.

2) Nē is long in *nē*dum, *nē*mo, *nē*quam, *nē*quāquam, *nē*quidquam, *nē*quātia, and *nē*re. In other words it is short.

3) Re is sometimes lengthened in a few words: *rē*ligio, *rē*liquia, *rē*pērit, *rē*pālit, *rē*tūlit, etc.

3. CHANGE OF QUANTITY.—In a few words the quantity of the second element is changed. Thus

Dico gives *-dī*cus; *jā*ro, *-jē*ro; *nō*tus, *-nī*tus; *nū*bo, *nū*ba: *māl*ō-*dī*cus, de-*jē*ro, cog-*nī*tus, prō-*nū*ba.

4. PRO.—Pro is short in the following words:

*Prō*cella, *prō*cul, *prō*fānus, *prō*fāri, *prō*fecto, *prō*festus, *prō*ficiscor, prō-fiteor, *prō*fūgio, *prō*fūgus, *prō*fundus, *prō*nēpos, *prō*neptis, *prō*tervus, and most Greek words, as *prō*phēta, generally in *prō*fundo, *prō*pāgo, *prō*pīno, rarely in *prō*cūro, *prō*pello.

5. STEM.—When the first element is the stem of a word (338. III.), it is often followed by a short connecting vowel:

cāl-ō-*fā*cio, lāb-ō-*fā*cio, bell-ī-*gē*ro, acd-ī-*fī*co, art-ī-*fē*x, ampl-ī-*fī*co, lōc-ū-ples.

Before *fū*cio in a few compounds e is sometimes lengthened: līquē-*fū*cio, pātē-fū-cio, putrē-*fū*cio, tēpē-*fū*cio. The first e in *vīdē*ret is long.

6. I LONG.—I is long,—(1) in the first part of compounds of dies: *mē*ri-dies, *prī*die, *postrī*die, *quōtī*die, *trī*dium, and (2) in the contracted forms, *bī*gae, *trī*gae, *quadrī*gae, *īlī*cet, *scīlī*cet, *tībī*cen for *tībī*cen.

But i is short in *vī*dium and *quātrī*dium.

7. O LONG.—O is long in contrō-, intrō-, retrō-, and quandō- in composition; as: *contrō*versia, *intrō*dūco, *retrō*vertō, *quandō*que, but *quandō*quīdem.

8. SPECIAL WORDS.—*Ilō*dīe, *quā*sī, and *sīquī*dem have the first syllable

CHAPTER II.

VERSIFICATION.

SECTION I.

GENERAL VIEW OF THE SUBJECT

655. Latin Versification is based upon Quantity and Accent. Syllables are combined into certain metrical groups called Feet, and feet, singly or in pairs, are combined into Verses.

I. METRICAL FEET.

656. Feet are either simple or compound. For convenience of reference we add the following list:

I. Simple Feet.

DISSYLLABIC FEET.

Spondee,	two long syllables,	— —	Lēgēs.
Trochee, <sup>1</sup>	a long and a short,	— ∪	Lēgīs.
Iambus,	a short and a long,	∪ —	Pārēns.
Pyrrhic,	two short,	∪ ∪	Pātēr.

TRISYLLABIC FEET.

Dactyl,	a long and two short,	— ∪ ∪	cārminā.
Anapaest,	two short and a long,	∪ ∪ —	bōnitās.
Tribrach,	three short,	∪ ∪ ∪	dōminūs.
Molossus,	three long,	— — —	libertās.
Amphibrach,	a short, a long, and a short,	∪ — ∪	amicūs.
Amphimacer, <sup>2</sup>	a long, a short, and a long,	— ∪ —	militēs.
Bacchius,	a short and two long,	∪ — —	dolōrēs.
Antibacchius,	two long and a short,	— — ∪	pāstōrīs.

II. Compound Feet.

These are only compounds of the dissyllabic feet, and all have four syllables.

<sup>1</sup> Sometimes called Choree.

<sup>2</sup> Also called Cretic.

Dispondee,	double spondee,	— — — —	præcēptōrēs.
Ditrochee,	double trochee,	— — — —	civīlītās.
Diiambus,	double iambus,	— — — —	āmōcniās.
Proceleusmatic,	double pyrrhic,	— — — —	mēlōrīā.
Greater Ionic,	spondee and pyrrhic,	— — — —	sēntentiā.
Lesser Ionic,	pyrrhic and spondee,	— — — —	ādōlescēns.
Choriambus,	trochee (choroe), and iambus,	— — — —	Impātēns.
Antispast,	iambus and trochee,	— — — —	vērēcundūs.
First Epitrite,	iambus and spondee,	— — — —	āmāvērūt.
Second Epitrite,	trochee and spondee,	— — — —	cōnditōrēs.
Third Epitrite,	spondee and iambus,	— — — —	auctōritās.
Fourth Epitrite,	spondee and trochee,	— — — —	ōrnamētā.
First Paeon,	trochee and pyrrhic,	— — — —	hīstōriā.
Second Paeon,	iambus and pyrrhic,	— — — —	āmābīlis.
Third Paeon,	pyrrhic and trochee,	— — — —	pūērīlis.
Fourth Paeon,	pyrrhic and iambus,	— — — —	cēlērītās.

1. COMMON FEET.—The feet of most frequent occurrence in the best Latin poets are,

1) The Dactyl and Spondee, used in the Heroic Hexameter.

2) Less frequent the Iambus, Trochee, Tribrach, Anapaest, and Choriambus.

2. GROUPS.—A Dipody is a group of two feet; a Tripody, of three; a Tetrapody, of four, etc. A Triemimēris is a group of three half feet, i. e., a foot and a half; Penthemimēris, of two and a half; Heptthemimēris, of three and a half, etc.

657. METRICAL EQUIVALENTS.—A long syllable may often be resolved into two short ones, as equivalent to it in quantity, or two short ones may be contracted into a long one. The forms thus produced are metrical equivalents of the original forms. Thus,

The Dactyl becomes a Spondee by contracting the two short syllables into one long syllable; the Spondee becomes a Dactyl by resolving the second syllable, or an Anapaest by resolving the first. Accordingly the Dactyl, the Spondee, and the Anapaest are metrical equivalents. In like manner the Iambus, the Trochee, and the Tribrach are metrical equivalents.

658. METRICAL SUBSTITUTES.—In certain kinds of verse, feet are sometimes substituted for those which are not their metrical equivalents. Thus,

The Spondee is often substituted for the Iambus or the Trochee, though not equivalent to either. See 679, 682.

659. ICTUS OR RHYTHMIC ACCENT.—As in the pronunciation of a word one or more syllables receive a special stress of voice called accent, so in the pronunciation of a metrical foot one or more syllables receive a special stress of voice called Rhythmic Accent or Ictus.

1. SIMPLE FEET.—Feet consisting of both long and short syllables have the ictus uniformly on the long syllables, unless used for other feet. Thus,

The Dactyl and the Trochee have the ictus on the first syllable; the Anapaest and the Iambus on the last.

2. EQUIVALENTS AND SUBSTITUTES.—These take the ictus of the feet for which they are used. Thus,

The Spondee, when used for the Dactyl, takes the ictus of the Dactyl, i. e., on the first syllable; but when used for the Anapaest, it takes the ictus of the Anapaest, i. e., on the last syllable.

1) Feet consisting entirely of long or entirely of short syllables are generally equivalents or substitutes, and are accented accordingly.

2) When two short syllables of an equivalent take the place of an accented long syllable of the original foot, the ictus rests chiefly on the first of these two. Thus the Dactyl used for the Anapaest takes the ictus on the first short syllable.

3. COMPOUND FEET.—These take the ictus of the feet of which they are composed. Thus,

The Choriambus (trochee and iambus) takes the ictus of the trochee on the first syllable and that of the iambus on the last.

But Ionic feet are generally read with the ictus on the first long syllable.

660. ARSIS AND THESIS.—The accented part of each foot is called the Arsis (raising); and the unaccented part, Thesis (lowering).

II. VERSES.

661. A verse is a line of poetry, and is either simple or compound.

I. A Simple verse has one characteristic or fundamental foot, which determines the ictus for the whole verse. Thus,

Every Dactylic Verse has the ictus on the first syllable, because the Dactyl, its characteristic foot, has it on that syllable.

II. A Compound verse has a characteristic foot for each member. See 692.

662. CAESURAL PAUSE.—Most verses are divided into two nearly equal parts by a pause or rest called the caesura<sup>1</sup> or caesural pause. See 673, 674.

663. METRICAL NAMES OF VERSES.—The metrical name of a verse designates,

I. The Characteristic foot. Thus,

<sup>1</sup> Caesura (from caedo, to cut) means a cutting; it cuts or divides the verse into parts.

Dactylic, Trochaic, and Iambic verses have respectively the Dactyl, the Trochee, and the Iambus as the characteristic foot.

II. The Number of Feet or Measures.<sup>1</sup> Thus,

1. Dactylic Hexameter is Dactylic verse of six measures.
2. A verse consisting of one measure is Monometer; of two, Dimeter; of three, Trimeter; of four, Tetrameter; of five, Pentameter; of six, Hexameter.

III. The Completeness or Incompleteness of the measures. Thus,

1. A verse is termed Acatalectic, when its last measure is complete; Catalectic, when it is incomplete.
  - 1) A Catalectic verso is said to be catalectic in syllabam, in disyllabum, or in trisyllabum, according as the incomplete foot has one, two, or three syllables.
  - 2) A Brachycatalectic verse wants the closing foot of the last Dipody.
  - 3) An Acephalous verse wants the first syllable of the first foot.
  - 4) A Hypercatalectic verse, also called Hypermeter, has an excess of syllables.
2. The full metrical name combines the three particulars enumerated under I. II. and III., as Dactylic Hexameter Acatalectic, Dactylic Trimeter Catalectic, etc.

- 1) But for the sake of brevity the term Acatalectic is often omitted when it can be done without ambiguity.
- 2) Verses are sometimes known by names which merely designate the number of feet or measures. Thus Hexameter (six measures) sometimes designates the Dactylic Hexameter Acatalectic, and Senarius (six feet), the Iambic Trimeter Acatalectic.

664. SPECIAL NAMES OF VERSES.—Many verses are often designated by names derived from celebrated poets. Thus,

Alcæic from Alcæus, Archilochian from Archilochus, Sapphic from Sappho, Glyconic, from Glycon, etc.

Verses sometimes receive a name from the kind of subjects to which they were applied: as Heroic, applied to heroic subjects; Proemiac, to proverbs, etc.

665. FINAL SYLLABLE.—The final syllable of a verse may generally be either long or short.

666. STANZA.—A stanza is a combination of two or more verses of different metres into one metrical whole. See 699, 700.

A stanza of two lines is called a Distich; of three, a Tristich; of four, a Tetrastich.

<sup>1</sup> A measure is a single foot, except in Anapaestic, Trochaic, and Iambic verses, where it is a Dipody or Pair of feet.

667. METRE.—Metre signifies measure, and is used to designate,

1. A Foot or Dipody, as the measure, or metrical element of a verse.
2. A Verse or Stanza, as the measure of a poem.

668. SCANNING.—Scanning consists in separating a poem, or verse, into the feet of which it is composed.

III. FIGURES OF PROSODY.

669. The ancient poets sometimes allowed themselves, in the use of letters and syllables, certain liberties generally termed Figures of Prosody. These are,

I. SYNALOEPHA.—This is the elision of a final vowel or diphthong, or of a final m with the preceding vowel, before a word beginning with a vowel:

Monstr' horrend' inform' ingens, for Monstrum horrendum informe ingens. Virg.

1. No account is taken of h, as it is only a breathing (2. 2). Hence horrendum is treated as a word beginning with a vowel.
2. Interjections, o, heu, ah, proh, etc., are not elided, but in other words the elision generally takes place in the best poets.
3. Final e in the interrogative ne is sometimes elided before a consonant: Pyrrhîn' connûbia servas? for Pyrrhine connûbia servas? Virg.
4. The elision of s occurs in the early poets: Ex omnîbu' rēbus, for Ex omnibus rēbus. Lucr.
5. Synaloepha may occur at the end of a line when the next line begins with a vowel. It is then called Synapheia.

II. SYNAERESIS.—This is the contraction of two syllables into one:

aurēā, dēinde, dēinceps, ūdem, ūsdem.

1. Synaeresis is of frequent application. It may unite

- 1) Two successive vowels, as in the examples above.
- 2) A vowel and a diphthong: aurēdem.
- 3) Two vowels separated by h, as only a breathing: prohibeat, pronounced proibeat.

2. In the different parts of dēsum, ee is generally pronounced as one syllable: dēesse, dēest, dēerat, dēerit, etc.: so ei in the verb anteco: antēire, antēirem, antēis, antēit.

3. I and u before vowels are sometimes used as consonants with the sound of y and w: Thus, ābiētē and āriētē, become ābyētē and āryētē; gēnūā and tēnūās become gēnwā and tēnwās.

III. DIAERESIS.—This is the resolution of one syllable into two:

aurāi for aurae, Orphēūs for Orphēūs, soluendus, for solvendus, silua for silva.

As a matter of fact the Latin poets seldom, if ever, actually divide any syllable into two, and the examples generally explained by diacresis are only ancient forms, occasionally used by them for effect or convenience.

IV. SYSTOLE.—This is the shortening of a long syllable:

tūlērunt for tūlērunt, stētērunt for stētērunt (235), vīdē'n for vīdēsne.

This is a rare poetical license, occurring most frequently in the final vowels and diphthongs, which would otherwise be elided. See 669. I. 2.

V. DIASTOLE.—This is the lengthening of a short syllable:

Prīāmīdes for Prīāmīdes.

1. This is a poetical license, used chiefly in proper names and in final syllables in the arsis of the foot (660). In the latter case the syllable is said to be lengthened by the ictus.

SECTION II.

VARIETIES OF VERSE.

I. DACTYLIC VERSE.

670. All Dactylic Verses are measured by single feet (663. II.), and consist of Dactyls and their metrical equivalents, Spondees. The ictus is on the first syllable of every foot.

I. Dactylic Hexameter.

671. The Dactylic Hexameter consists of six feet. The first four are either Dactyls or Spondees, the fifth a Dactyl, and the sixth a Spondee (665).

The scale is,<sup>1</sup>

$\frac{\text{—}}{\text{—}} \frac{\text{—}}{\text{—}} \frac{\text{—}}{\text{—}} \frac{\text{—}}{\text{—}} \frac{\text{—}}{\text{—}} \frac{\text{—}}{\text{—}}$

Quādrūpē- | dāntē pū- | trem sōnī- | tū quātīt | ūngŭlā | cāmpum. Virg.

Armā vī- | rūmqŭē cā- | nō Trō- | jāe quī | prīmūs āb | ōris. Virg.

672. VARIETIES.—The scale of dactylic hexameters admits sixteen varieties, produced by varying the relative number and arrangement of dactyls and spondees.

1. ILLUSTRATION.—Thus a verse may contain,

1) Five dactyls and one spondee, as in the first example above.

2) Four dactyls and two spondees. These again admit four different arrangements.

3) Three dactyls and three spondees, as in the second and third examples above. But these again admit six different arrangements.

4) Two dactyls and four spondees. These admit four different arrangements.

5) One dactyl and five spondees, as in the fourth example.

2. EFFECT OF DACTYLS.—Dactyls produce a rapid movement and are adapted to lively subjects. Spondees produce a slow movement and are adapted to grave subjects. But generally the best effect is produced in successive lines by variety in the number and arrangement of dactyls and spondees.

3. SPONDAIC LINE.—The Hexameter sometimes takes a spondee in the fifth place. It is then called Spondaic, and generally has a dactyl as its fourth foot:

Cārā dē- | ūm sōbō- | lēs māg- | num Jōvīs | īnciō- | mēntum. Virg.

673. CAESURAL PAUSE.—The favorite caesural pause of the Hexameter is after the arsis, or in the thesis, of the third foot:

Armā- | tī tēn- | dūnt; || It | elāmōr ēt | āgmīnē | fāetō. Virg.

Infān- | dūm, rē- | gīnā, || jū- | bēs rēnō- | vārē dō- | lōrem. Virg.

In the first line the caesural pause, marked ||, is after tendunt, after the arsis of the third foot; and in the second line after regina, in the thesis (nā jū) of the third foot.

1. RARE CAESURAL PAUSE.—The caesural pause is sometimes in the fourth foot, and then an additional pause is often introduced in the second foot. Sometimes indeed this last becomes the principal pause:

Crēdīdē- | rīm; || vēr | illūd ē- | rāt, || vēr | māgnūs ā- | gēbat. Virg.

2. BUCOLIC CAESURA.—A pause between the fourth and fifth feet is generally called the bucolic caesura, because often used in pastoral poetry:

Ingēn- | tem coe- | lō sōnī- | tūm dēdīt; || īndē sē- | cūtus. Virg.

3. FAULTY CAESURA.—A caesural pause at the end of the third foot is regarded as a blemish in the verse:

Pūlvērū- | lētūs ē- | quīs fūrīt; || ōmnēs | ārmā rē- | quīrunt. Virg.

674. CAESURA AND CAESURAL PAUSE.—The ending of a word within a foot always produces a caesura. A line may therefore have several caesuras, but generally only one of these (sometimes two) is marked by the caesural pause:

Armă vî- | rumpe că- | nō, || Trō- | jaș quî | primûș ăb | ōris. Virg.

1. Here there is a caesura in every foot except the last, but only one of these, that after căno, has the caesural pause.

2. In determining which caesura is to be marked by the pause the reader must be guided by the sense, introducing the pause where there is a pause of sense, or where at least it will not interfere with the sense.

3. The caesura, with or without the pause, is an important feature in every hexameter. A line without it is prosaic in the extreme:

Rōmaș | moenîă | tērrūt | împīgēr | Hānnibāl | ārmis. Enn.

675. LAST WORD OF THE HEXAMETER.—The last word of the Hexameter should be either a dissyllable or a trisyllable. See examples above.

1. Two monosyllables are not particularly objectionable, and sometimes even produce a happy effect:

Præcîpî- | tant cū- | rae, || tūr- | bātăquē | fūnērē | mēns est. Virg.

Est is indeed often used even when not preceded by another monosyllable.

2. A single monosyllable, except est, is not often used at the end of the line, except for the purpose of emphasis or humor:

Pārtūrî- | ūnt mōn- | tēs, || uas- | cētūr | rîdîcū- | lūs mus. Hor.

II. Dactylic Pentameter.

676. The Dactylic Pentameter consists of two parts separated by the caesural pause. Each part consists of two Dactyls and the arsis of a third. The Spondee may take the place of the Dactyl in the first part, but not in the second:

$\frac{1}{-} \frac{1}{-} \frac{1}{-} \mid \frac{1}{-} \frac{1}{-} \frac{1}{-} \mid \frac{1}{-} \parallel \frac{1}{-} \frac{1}{-} \frac{1}{-} \mid \frac{1}{-} \frac{1}{-} \frac{1}{-} \mid \frac{1}{-}$

Admōnî- | tū coe- | pî || fōrtiōr | ēssē tū- | ō. Ovid.

1. PENTAMETER.—The name Pentameter is founded on the ancient division of the line into five feet; the first and second being dactyls or spondees; the third, a spondee; the fourth and fifth, anapaests.

2. ELEGIAC DISTICH.—The Dactylic Pentameter is seldom, if ever, used, except in the Elegiac Distich, which consists of the Hexameter followed by the Pentameter:

Sēmîșē- | pultă vî- | rūm || cūr- | vîș fērî- | ūntūr ă- | rātris
Ossă, rū- | îñō- | sās || ōccālît | hērbă dō- | mūs. Ov.

III. Other Dactylic Verses.

677. The other varieties of dactylic verse are less important, but the following deserve mention:

I. DACTYLIC TETRAMETER.—This consists of the last four feet of the Hexameter:

Ibimūs | O sōcī- | ī, cōmī- | tēsque. Hor.

In compound verses, as the Greater Archilochian, the tetrameter in composition with other metres, has a dactyl in the fourth place. See 691. I.

II. DACTYLIC TRIMETER CATALECTIC.—This is the Lesser Archilochian, and is identical with the second half of the Dactylic Pentameter:

Arbōrī- | būsquē cō- | mac. Hor.

III. DACTYLIC DIMETER.—This is the Adonic, and consists of a Dactyl and Spondee:

Mōntis ī- | māgō. Hor.

II. ANAPAESTIC VERSE.

678. Anapaestic verses consist of Anapaestic dipodies.

An Anapaestic dipody consists of two Anapaests, but admits Spondees or Dactyls as equivalents.

I. ANAPAESTIC DIMETER consists of two dipodies:

This is sometimes catalectic (663. III. 1), and has only a long syllable in place of the last foot. It is then called Paroemiac.

II. ANAPAESTIC MONOMETER consists of one dipody:

Dātā rēs : pātrīac. Auson.

1. In Anapaestic verse Dactyls are used sparingly, and are generally followed by Spondees. Each dipody generally ends with a word.

2. The last syllable is not common, as in most kinds of verse (365), but subject to the ordinary rules of quantity.

3. Anapaestic verse does not occur in the best Latin Poets.

III. TROCHAIC VERSE.

679. Trochaic verses consist of Trochaic dipodies.

A Trochaic dipody consists of two Trochees, or of a Trochee and a Spondee; but it admits the Tribach as the equivalent of the Trochee, and the Anapaest, of the Spondee. The first foot has a heavier ictus than the second:

<sup>1</sup> In verses measured by dipodies, a dotted line is placed between the feet, a single line between the dipodies, and a double line in the place of the caesural pause.

I. Trochaic Tetrameter Catalectic.

680. This consists of four Trochaic Dipodies with the last foot incomplete. The caesural pause is at the end of the fourth foot, and the incomplete dipody admits no equivalents:

Nüllä : vōx hū- | mānā : cōnstāt || ābsquē : sēptēm | litō- : ris,
Ritō : vōcā- | lēs vō- : cāvīt || quās mā- : gīstrā | Grācī- : a. Ter. Mau.

1. In Proper Names, a dactyl may be introduced in any foot except the fourth and seventh.

2. The Proceleusmatic for the Spondee sometimes occurs.

3. In Comedy the Spondee and its equivalents occur in the odd feet, as well as in the even, except in the last dipody.

4. The Trochaic Tetrameter also occurs in the earlier poets in its complete form, i. e., with eight full feet:

Ipsē : sūmmis | sūxis : fixūs || āspē- : ris ē- | vīcē- : rātus. Enn.

II. Trochaic Dimeter Catalectic.

681. This consists of two Trochaic Dipodies with the last foot incomplete. In Horace it admits no equivalents and has the following scale,

Aulā : divī- | tēm mā- : net. Hor.

1. This is sometimes called Iambic Dimeter Acephalous, i. e., an Iambic Dimeter with the first syllable wanting.

2. A Trochaic Tripody,—three Trochees—technically called a Trochaic Dimeter Brachycatalectic, or an Ithyphalicus, occurs in the Greater Archilochian. See 691. I.

3. For Supplic Verse, see 691. IV.

4. For Phalæcian, see 691. V.

IV. IAMBIC VERSE.

682. Iambic verses consist of Iambic dipodies.

An Iambic dipody consists of two Iambi, or of a Spondee and an Iambus; but it admits the Tribrach as the equivalent of the Iambus, and sometimes the Dactyl or the Anapaest, of the Spondee. The first foot has a heavier ictus than the second.

In its full form it has the following scale:

I. Iambic Hexameter.

683. This verse, also called Senarius, consists of three Iambic Dipodies.

I. The first dipody has the full form.

II. The second admits no Anapaest.

III. The third admits no Anapaest or Dactyl, and in its second foot, no equivalent whatever.

IV. The Caesural Pause is usually in the third foot, but may be in the fourth.

The scale is,

Quid ob- : sērā- | tīs || an- : rībūs | fundīs : prēces? Hor.

Nēptū- : nūs āl- | tō || tūn- : dīt hī- | bērnūs : sālo. Hor.

Hās in- : tēr epū- | lās || ūt : jūvāt | pūstās : ōves. Hor.

1. PROPER NAMES.—In proper names an Anapaest is admissible in any foot, except the last, but must be in a single word.

2. HORACE.—In Horace the only feet freely admitted are the Iambus and the Spondee; their equivalents, the Tribrach, the Dactyl and Anapaest, are used very sparingly. The Tribrach never occurs in the fifth foot and only once in the first. The Anapaest occurs only twice in all.

3. COMEDY.—In Comedy great liberty is taken, and the Spondee and its equivalents are freely admitted in any foot except the last.

4. CHOLIAMBUS.—This is a variety of Iambic Trimeter with a Spondee in the sixth foot and an Iambus in the fifth:

Misēr : Cātūl- | lō dē- : sinās | inēp- : tīre. Catul.

Choliambus means lame or limping Iambus, and is so called from its limping movement. It is sometimes called Scazon for the same reason, and sometimes Hipponactean, from Hipponax, its reputed inventor.

684. IAMBIC TRIMETER CATALECTIC.—This is the Iambic Trimeter with the last foot incomplete. But in Horace the only feet admissible besides the Iambus are the Tribrach in the second foot and the Spondee in the first and third:

Vöcā. : tūs āt- | quē nōn : vōcā- | tūs au- : dit. Mor.

II. Iambic Dimeter.

685. This verse consists of two Iambic Dipodies with their usual equivalents. But in Horace the only feet admissible besides the Iambus are the Tribrach in the second place, the Spondee in the first and third, and the Dactyl in the first:

[illegible]

Quērūn- : tūr in | sīlvīs : āves. Hor.

Imbrēs : nīvēs- | quē cōm- : pārat. Hor.

Ast ǣgð : vīcīs- | sīm rī- : sēro. Hor.

1. IAMBIC DIMETER HYPERMETER occurs in Horace with the following scale:

$$\frac{1}{\sqrt{\lambda}} \left( \begin{array}{c} \vdots \\ -1 \\ \vdots \\ 0 \\ \vdots \\ 1 \\ \vdots \end{array} \right)$$

Pŭēr | quīs ēx | aulā | căpîl- | lis. Hor.

This is sometimes called the Alcaic Enneasyllabic verse and forms the third line in the Alcaic Stanza. See 700, I.

2. IAMBIC DIMETER CATALECTIC does not occur in the pure Latin poets.
Its scale is,

$$\begin{array}{ccccccc} 1 & 2 & 3 & 4 & 5 & 6 & 7 \\ 1 & 1 & 1 & 1 & 1 & 1 & 1 \\ \vdots & \vdots & \vdots & \vdots & \vdots & \vdots & \vdots \\ 1 & 2 & 3 & 4 & 5 & 6 & 7 \end{array}$$

Mănū : pŭēr | lŏquā- : ci. Pet. Arb.

3. IAMBIC DIMETER ACEPHALOUS.—This name is sometimes given to the Trochaic Dimeter Catalectic (681), which is then treated as Iambic Dimeter without the first syllable. Thus

Au- : lă dĩ- | vītēm : mănct. Hor.

III. Iambic Tetrameter.

686. The Iambic Tetrameter is little used in Latin except in Comedy. It consists of four Iambic Dipodies with their usual equivalents. The caesural pause is usually after the fourth foot :

Quantum in- : tellēx- | ī mōdō : sēnīs || sēntēn- : tīām | dē nūp- :
tīs. Ter.

The Iambic Tetrameter Catalectic belongs mostly to comedy, but occurs also in Catullus:

Quot cōm- : mōdās | rēs at- : tūli? || quot au- : tem adē- | mī cū- : rās. Ter.

V. IONIC VERSE.

687. The Ionic a Minōre consists entirely of Lesser Ionics. It may be either Tetrameter or Dimeter:

$\cup \cup \cup - \mid \cup \cup \cup - \mid \cup \cup \cup - \mid \cup \cup \cup -$
 $\cup \cup \cup - \mid \cup \cup \cup -$

Sīmūl tinctōs | Tībērīnīs | hūmērōs lā- | vīt īn ūndīs. Hor.

Nēquē sēgnī | pēdē victus. Hor.

1. Horace has this metre only in one short ode (III. 12). In some editions this ode consists entirely of Tetrameters; but in others it is arranged in stanzas of three lines; the first two, Tetrameters, and the third, a Dimeter.

2. In this verse the last syllable is not common, but subject to the ordinary rules of quantity, as in the Anapaestic verse. See 678. 2.

3. The Ionic a Majore, Sotadēan Verse, scarcely occurs in Latin, except in Comedy. In its pure state it consists of three Greater Ionic feet and a Spondee, but in Martial the third foot is a Ditrochee:

$\cup - \cup \cup \mid \cup - \cup \cup \mid \cup - \cup \cup \mid \cup - \cup$ $- \cup \cup \cup \mid$

Hās cūm gēmī- | nā cōmpēdē | dēdicāt cā- | tēnās. Mart.

VI. CHORIAMBIC VERSE.

688. Choriambic verses begin with a Spondee followed by one, two, or three Choriambi, and end with an Iambus.

In Horace the Choriambic verse uniformly begins with the Spondee, but in some of the other poets the Trochee, the Anapaest, or the Iambus occasionally takes the place of the Spondee.

689. A Choriambic verse with one Choriambus is called the Glyconic; or, if catalectic, the Pherecratean; with two, the Asclepiadēan; with three, the Greater Asclepiadēan.

I. The GLYCONIC has the following scale:

$\cup - \mid \cup \cup \cup \cup \mid \cup \cup$

Dōnēc | grātūs ērām | tibi. Hor.

II. The PHERECRATEAN is catalectic, but otherwise identical with the Glyconic. Its scale is,

$\cup - \mid \cup \cup \cup \cup \mid \cup$

Vix dū- | rārē cūrī- | nac. Hor.

III. The ASCLEPIADĒAN has the following scale:

— | — — — — || — — — — | — —

Maecō- | nās ātāvīs || ēdītō rōg- | ūbus. Ilor.

IV. The GREATER ASCLEPIADĒAN has the following scale:

— | — — — — || — — — — || — — — — | — —

Seu plū- | rēs hēmēs, || seu trībūt || Japītēr ūl- | tīmam. Ilor.

This is sometimes called Choriambic Pentameter and sometimes Choriambic Tetrameter.

Epichoriambic Verse.

690. When a verse begins with a Second Epitrite followed by one or two Choriambi, and ends with a Bacchius, it is called Epichoriambic. Of this there are two important varieties:

I. THE SAPPHIC VERSE.—This consists of a Second Epitrite, a Choriambus and a Bacchius:

— — — — | — — — — | — — — —

Nāmquē mē sīl- | vā || lūpūs īn | Sābīna. Ilor.

1. But the Sapphic verse may also be measured as a Trochaic Dipody followed by an Aristophanic verse, i. e., as composed of a Trochee, a Spondee, a Dactyl, and two Trochees. See 691. IV.

2. The Caesural Pause usually occurs after the fifth syllable, as in the example, but sometimes after the sixth.

3. Catullus admits two Trochees in place of the Epitrite.

II. THE GREATER SAPPHIC VERSE.—This differs from the Sapphic proper only in introducing a second Choriambus before the Bacchius:

— — — — | — — — — || — — — — | — — — —

Intēr aequā- | lēs ēquītāt, || Gāllīcā nēc | lūpātīs. Ilor.

This is sometimes improperly called Choriambic Tetrameter.

VII. LOGAOEDIC VERSE.

691. Logaoedic verses consist of Dactyls, or their equivalents, followed by Trochees.

I. GREATER ARCHILOCHIAN.—This consists of a Dactylic Tetrameter (677. I.) followed by a Trochaic Tripody. The first three feet are either Dactyls or Spondees; the fourth, a Dactyl; and the last three, Trochees:

693. DACTYLICO-IAMBIC VERSE.—This consists of a pure Dactylic Penthemimeris (656. 2) and an Iambic Dimeter (685):

— — — | — — — | — — — || — — — | — — — | — — — | — — —

Jussūs āb- | Irē dō- | mām, || fēvō- | bār in- | cōrtō | pēde. Hor.

1. This verse is sometimes called Elegiacus.

2. This verse and the following compounds—the Iambico-Dactylic and the Priapeian—have the peculiarity that the two members of each may be treated as separate lines, as the last syllable of the first member is common, as at the end of a line.

694. IAMBICO-DACTYLIC VERSE.—This consists of an Iambic Dimeter and a Dactylic Penthemimeris, i. e., of the same parts as the preceding, but in an inverted order:

— — — | — — — | — — — || — — — | — — — | — — — | — — —

Nīvēs- | quē dē- | dūcūt : Jōvēm : || nūc mārē, | nūc sīlū- | ac. Hor.

1. This verse is sometimes called Iambelegus.

2. For the final syllable of the first member, see 693. 2.

695. PRIAPEIAN VERSE.—This consists of a Glyconic and a Pherecratæan (689. I. II.):

— — — | — — — | — — — || — — — | — — — | — — — | — — —

Quērēūs | ārīdā rūs- | tīcā || cōnfūr- | mārā sēcū- | ri. Catul.

1. In this verse, as it appears in Catullus, the Glyconic and the Pherecratæan appear with such variations as are allowed in that poet (689). Hence the Trochee quērēūs for the Spondee, in the example.

2. For the final syllable of the first member, see 693. 2.

SECTION III.

THE VERSIFICATION OF VIRGIL, HORACE, OVID, AND JUVENAL.

696. VIRGIL AND JUVENAL.—Virgil in his Eclogues, Georgics, and Aeneid, and Juvenal in his Satires use only the Dactylic Hexameter. See 671.

697. OVID.—Ovid uses the Hexameter in his Metamorphoses, but the Elegiac Distich in his Epistles and other works. See 676. 2.

698. HORACE.—Horace uses the Hexameter in his Epistles and Satires, but in his Lyrics, i. e., in his Odes and Epodes, he uses a great variety of Metre.

APPENDIX.

I. FIGURES OF SPEECH.

702. A Figure is a deviation from the ordinary form, construction, or signification of words.

Deviations from the ordinary forms are called Figures of Etymology; from the ordinary constructions, Figures of Syntax, and from the ordinary significations, Figures of Rhetoric.

703. The Figures of Etymology are the following :

1. APHARRESIS takes a letter or syllable from the beginning of a word : 'st for est.
  2. SYNCOPE takes a letter or syllable from the middle of a word : vīrum for vīrūrum, dīze for dixisse.
  3. APOCYPE takes a letter or syllable from the end of a word : tūn' for tūne.
  4. PROSTHESIS prefixes a letter or syllable to a word : tētūli for tāli.
  5. EPIENTHESIS inserts a letter or syllable in a word : Alcāmēna for Alcmēna, ālītuum for ālītum.
  6. PARAGOGÉ adds a letter or syllable to a word : dicier for dici.
  7. METATHESIS transposes letters or syllables : pīstris for pīstia.
  8. ANTITHESIS substitutes one letter for another : volnus for vulnus, olli for illi.
- See also Figures of Prosody, 669.

704. The Figures of Syntax are the following :

I. ELLIPSIS is the omission of one or more words of a sentence :

Hābitābat ad Jōvis (sc. templum), He dwelt near the temple of Jupiter.
Liv. Abiit, cōvāsīt (et), He has gone, has escaped. Cic.

1. ASYNDETON is an ellipsis of a conjunction. See 587. I. 6; 587. III. 4.
2. ZEUGMA is an ellipsis which employs a single verb with two subjects or objects, though strictly applicable to only one :
Pācem an bellum gērens, whether at peace (agens) or waging war. Sall.
3. APOSIOPESIS, also called Reticentia, used for rhetorical effect, is an ellipsis which leaves the sentence unfinished :
Quos ego — sed mōtos praestat compōnēre fluctus. Whom I — but it is better to calm the troubled waves. Virg.
4. PROVERBS are often elliptical.
5. ELLIPSIS OF FACIO, DICO, ORO. See 460. 3; 602. II. 3.

II. PLEONASM is the use of superfluous words :

Erant itinēra duo, quibus itinērībus exire possent, There were two ways by which ways they might depart. Caes. Eurusque Nōtusque ruunt, Both Eurus and Notus rush forth. Virg.

1. POLYSYNDETON is a pleonasm in the use of conjunctions, as in the last example.
2. HENDIADYS is the use of two nouns with a conjunction, instead of a noun with an adjective or genitive :

Arms virisque, for viris armatis, with armed men. Tac.

3. ANAPHORA is the repetition of a word at the beginning of successive clauses: Me euncta Italia, me universa civitas consulem declavarit, Me all Italy, me the whole state declared consul. Cic.

4. EPIPHORA is the repetition of a word at the end of successive clauses:

Laelius navus erat, doctus erat, Laelius was diligent, was learned. Cic.

5. Monosyllabic prepositions are often repeated before successive nouns, regularly so with et—et:

Et in bellis et in civilibus officiis, both in military and in civil offices. Cic.

Other prepositions are sometimes repeated.

6. A demonstrative, pronoun or adverb, id, hoc, illud, sic, ita, is often used somewhat redundantly to represent a subsequent clause. So also quid, in quid censet with a clause:

Illud te oro ut diligens sis, I ask you (that thing) to be (that you be) diligent. Cic.

7. Pronouns redundant with quidem. See 446. 1.

8. Pleonasm often occurs with licet:

Ut liceat permittitur = licet, It is lawful (is permitted that it is, &c.). Cic.

9. A word is often repeated for emphasis.

10. Circumlocutions with res, genus, modus, and ratio are common.

III. ENALLAGE is the substitution of one part of speech for another, or of one grammatical form for another:

Pöpus late rex (for regnans), a people of extensive sway (ruling extensively). Virg. Serus (sero) in coelum redeas, May you return late to heaven.

Hor. Vina cadis (vinis cados) onerare, to fill the flasks with wine. Virg.

1. ANTIHERIA is the use of one part of speech for another, as in the first two examples.

2. HYPALLAGE is the use of one case for another, as in the last example.

3. SYNESIS is a construction according to sense, without regard to grammatical forms. See 438. 6 and 461.

4. ANACOLUTHON is a want of harmony in the construction of the different parts of a sentence:

Si, ut dicunt, omnes Græcos esse (Græci sunt), if, as they say, all are Greeks. Cic.

IV. HYPERBATON is a transposition of words or clauses:

Præter arma nihil erat super (supererat), Nothing remained, except their arms. Nep. Vælet atque vivit (vivit atque vælet), He is alive and well. Ter.

1. ANASTROPHE is the transposition of words only, as in the first example.

2. HYSTERON PROTERON is a transposition of clauses, as in the second example.

3. TMESIS is the separation of a compound word. See 523. 2. 2).

705. Figures of Rhetoric, also called Tropes, comprise several varieties. The following are the most important.

I. METAPHOR.—This is an implied comparison, and assigns to one object the appropriate name, epithet or action of another:

Rei publicæ vulnus (for damnum), the wound of the republic. Cic. Naufragium fortunæ, the wreck of fortune. Cic.

II. METONYMY is the use of one name for another naturally suggested by it:

Aequo Marte (for proelio) pugnātum est, They fought in an equal contest. Liv. Fūrit Vulcānus (ignis), The fire rages. Virg.

By this figure the cause is often put for the effect and the effect for the cause; the property for the possessor, the place or age for the people, the sign for the thing signified, etc.: Mars for bellum, Vulcānus for ignis, Bacchus for vinum, nōbilitas for nōbiles, Graecia for Graeci, laurea for victōria, etc.

III. SYNECDOCHE is the use of a part for the whole, or of the whole for a part; of the special for the general, or of the general for the special:

In vestra tecta (vestras dōmos) discēdite, Depart to your homes. Cic. Statio māle fida cārinis (nāvibus), a station unsafe for ships. Virg.

IV. IRONY is the use of a word for its opposite:

Lēgātos bōnus (for mālus) impērūtor vester non admisit, Your good commander did not admit the ambassadors. Liv.

1. Enim, etēnim, scilicet, videlicet, nimirum, crēdo, and the like, are often ironical. See 503. 3.

V. HYPERBOLE is an exaggeration:

Ventis et fulminis ōcior ālis, swifter than the winds and the wings of the lightning. Virg.

VI. LITOTES denies something instead of affirming the opposite:

Non ōpus est = pernēciōsum est, It is not necessary. Cic.

II. LATIN AUTHORS.

703. The history of Roman literature embraces about eight centuries, from 250 B. C. to 550 A. D., and has been divided by Dr. Freund into three principal periods:

I. The ANTE-CLASSICAL PERIOD.—From 250 to 81 B. C. The principal authors of this period are:

Ennius,                  Plautus,                  Terence,                  Lucretius.

II. The CLASSICAL PERIOD.—This embraces the Golden and the Silver age:

1. The Golden Age.—From 81 B. C. to 14 A. D. The principal authors are:

Cicero,                  Nepos,                  Horace,                  Tibullus,
Caesar,                  Livy,                  Ovid,                  Propertius.
Sallust,                  Virgil,                  Catullus,

2. The Silver Age.—From 14 to 180 A. D. The principal authors are:

Phaedrus, Velleius, The Senecas,	The Plinics, Tacitus, Curtius,	Quintilian, Suetonius, Juvenal,	Persius, Lucan, Martial.
--	--------------------------------------	---------------------------------------	--------------------------------

III. The Post-CLASSICAL PERIOD.—This embraces the Brazen and the Iron Age:

1. The Brazen Age.—From 180 to 476 A.D. The principal authors are:

Justin, Victor,	Eutropius, Macrobius,	Lactantius, Ausonius,	Claudian, Terentian.
--------------------	--------------------------	--------------------------	-------------------------

2. The Iron Age.—From 476 to 550 A.D. The principal authors are:

Boëthius,	Cassiodorus,	Justinian,	Priscian.
-----------	--------------	------------	-----------

III. THE ROMAN CALENDAR.

707. The Julian Calendar of the Romans is the basis of our own, and is identical with it in the number of months in the year and in the number of days in the months.

708. PECULIARITIES.—The Roman calendar has the following peculiarities:

I. The days were not numbered from the beginning of the month, as with us, but from three different points in the month:

1. The Calends, the first of each month;
2. The Nones, the fifth,—but the seventh in March, May, July, and October;
3. The Ides, the thirteenth,—but the fifteenth in March, May, July, and October.

II. From these three points the days were numbered, not forward, but backward.

Hence after the Ides of each month, the days were numbered from the Calends of the following month.

III. In numbering backward from each of these points, the day before each was denoted by pridie Calendas, Nōnas, etc.; the second before each by die tertio (not secundo; third, not second) ante Calendas, etc., the third, by die quarto, etc., and so on through the month.

1. NUMERALS.—This peculiarity in the use of the numerals, designating the second day before the Calends, etc., as the third, and the third as the fourth, etc., arises from the fact that the Calends, etc., were themselves counted as the first. Thus pridie ante Calendas becomes the second before the Calends, die tertio ante Calendas, the third, etc.

2. NAME OF MONTH.—In dates the name of the month is added in the form of an adjective in agreement with Calendas, Nōnas, etc., as, die quarto ante Nōnas Januariās, often shortened to, quarto ante Nōnas Jan. or IV. ante Nōnas Jan. or without ante, as, IV. Nōnas Jan., the second of January.

3. ANTE DIEM.—Instead of die—ante, ante diem is common, as, ante diem quartum Nōnas Jan., for die quarto ante Nōnas Jan.

4. AS INDECLINABLE NOUNS.—The expressions ante diem—Cal., etc., pridie Cal., etc., are often used as indeclinable nouns with a preposition, as, ex ante diem V. Idus Oct., from the 11th of Oct. Liv. Ad pridie Nōnas Maias, till the 6th of May. Cic.

710. ENGLISH AND LATIN DATES.—The table (709) will furnish the learner with the English expression for any Latin date, or the Latin expression for any English date; but in translating Latin, it may be convenient also to have the following rule:

1. If the day is numbered from the Nones or Ides, subtract the number diminished by one from the number of the day on which the Nones or Ides fall:

<sup>1</sup> To the Calends, Nones, etc., the name of the month must of course be added. Before Nonas, Idus, etc., ante is sometimes used and sometimes omitted (708. III. 2).

<sup>2</sup> The Calends of the following month are of course meant, as the 16th of March for instance is, XVII. Calendas Apriles.

<sup>3</sup> The enclosed forms apply to leap-year.

VIII. ante Idus Jan. = 13 - (8 - 1) = 13 - 7 = 6th of January.

II. If the day is numbered from the Calends of the following month, subtract the number diminished by two from the number of days in the current month:

XVIII. ante Cal. Feb. = 31 - (18 - 2) = 31 - 16 = 15th of January.

In Leap-year the 24th and 25th February are both called the sixth before the Calends of March, VI. Cal. Mart. The days before the 24th are numbered precisely as if the month contained as usual only 23 days, but the days after the 25th are numbered regularly for a month of 29 days: V., IV., III. Cal. Mart., and pridie Cal. Mart.

711. DIVISIONS OF DAY AND NIGHT.—The Roman day, from sun-rise to sun-set, and the night from sun-set to sun-rise, were each divided at all seasons of the year into twelve hours.

1. NIGHT WATCHES.—The night was also divided into four watches of three Roman hours each.

2. LENGTH OF ROMAN HOUR.—The hour, being uniformly  $\frac{1}{24}$  of the day or of the night, of course varied in length, with the length of the day or night at different seasons of the year.

IV. ROMAN MONEY, WEIGHTS, AND MEASURES.

712. COINS.—The principal Roman coins were the as, of copper, the sestertius, quinarius, denarius, of silver, and the aureus, of gold. Their value in the classical period was as follows:

As, . . . . .	1 to 2 cents.
Sestertius, . . . . .	4 "
Quinarius, . . . . .	8 "
Denarius, . . . . .	16 "
Aureus = 25 denarii, . . . . .	$4.00.

1. AS—THE UNIT OF MONEY.—The As was originally the unit of the Roman currency, and contained a pound of copper, but it was diminished from time to time in weight and value till at last it contained only  $\frac{1}{24}$  of a pound.

But whatever its weight,  $\frac{1}{2}$  of the as is always called an uncia,  $\frac{2}{3}$  a sextans,  $\frac{3}{4}$  a quadrans,  $\frac{1}{2}$  a triens,  $\frac{1}{3}$  a quincunx,  $\frac{1}{4}$  a semis,  $\frac{1}{2}$  a septunx,  $\frac{1}{3}$  a bes,  $\frac{1}{4}$  a druns,  $\frac{1}{8}$  a tertius,  $\frac{1}{16}$  a denarius.

2. SESTERTIUS, QUINARIUS, AND DENARIUS.—The sestertius contained originally 2½ asses, the quinarius 5, and the denarius 10; but as the as depreciated in value, the number of asses in these coins was increased.

3. AS—THE GENERAL UNIT OF COMPUTATION.—The as is also used as the unit in other things as well as in money. Thus

1) In Weight.—The as is then a pound, and the uncia an ounce.

2) In Measure.—the as is then a foot or a jugerum (718), and the uncia is  $\frac{1}{12}$  of a foot or of a jugerum.

3) In Interest.—The as is then the unit of interest, which was one per cent. a month, i. e., twelve per year, the uncia is  $\frac{1}{12}$  per month, i. e., 1 per year, and the semiss is  $\frac{1}{6}$  per month, i. e., 6 per year, etc.

4) In Inheritance.—The as is then the whole estate, and the uncia  $\frac{1}{12}$  of it: hæres ex asse, heir of the whole estate; hæres ex dodrante, heir of  $\frac{3}{4}$ .

713. COMPUTATION OF MONEY.—In all sums of money the common unit of computation was the sestertius, also called nummus; but four special points deserve notice:

I. In all sums of money, the units, tens, and hundreds are denoted by sestertii with the proper cardinals:

Quinque sestertii, 5 sesterces, viginti sestertii, 20 sesterces, dūcenti sestertii, 200 sesterces.

II. One thousand sesterces are denoted by mille sestertii, or mille sestertium.

III. In sums less than 1,000,000 sesterces, the thousands are denoted either (1) by millia sestertiūm (gen. plur.), or (2) by sestertia:

Duo millia sestertium, or duo sestertia, 2,000 sesterces; quinque millia sestertium, or quinque sestertia, 5,000 sesterces

With sestertia the distributives were generally used, as, bina sestertia, for duo sestertia.

IV. In sums containing one or more millions of sesterces, sestertium with the value of 100,000 sesterces is used with the proper numeral adverb, décies, vicies, etc. Thus Décies sestertium, 1,000,000 ( $10 \times 100,000$ ) sesterces; Vicies sestertium, 2,000,000 ( $20 \times 100,000$ ) sesterces.

1. SESTERTIUM.—In the examples under IV., sestertium is treated and declined as a neuter noun in the singular, though originally it was probably the genitive plur. of sestertius, and the full expression for 1,000,000 sesterces was Décies centēna millia sestertium. Centēna millia was afterward generally omitted, and finally sestertium lost its force as a genitive plural, and became a neuter noun in the singular, capable of declension.

2. SESTERTIUM OMITTED.—Sometimes sestertium is omitted, leaving only the numeral adverb: as, décies, 1,000,000 sesterces.

3. SIGN IIS.—The sign IIS, is often used for sestertii, and sometimes for sestertia, or sestertium:

Decem IIS = 10 sesterces (IIS = sestertii). Dena IIS = 10,000 sesterces (IIS = sestertia). Deceles IIS = 1,000,000 sesterces (IIS = sestertium).

714. WEIGHT.—The basis of Roman weights is the Libra, also called As or Pondo, equal probably to about  $11\frac{1}{2}$  ounces avoirdupois.

1. OUNCES.—The Libra, like the as in money, is divided into 12 parts called by the names given under 712. 1.

2. FRACTIONS OF OUNCES.—Parts of ounces also have special names:  $\frac{1}{2}$  = semitruncula,  $\frac{1}{4}$  = duella,  $\frac{1}{8}$  = stilleus,  $\frac{1}{16}$  = sextula,  $\frac{1}{32}$  = drachma,  $\frac{1}{64}$  = scrupulum,  $\frac{1}{128}$  = obolus.

715. DRY MEASURE.—The Modius is the basis, equal to about a peck.

1. SEXTARIUS.—This is  $\frac{1}{16}$  of a modius.

2. PARTS OF THE SEXTARIUS.—These have special names:  $\frac{1}{2}$  = hēmina,  $\frac{1}{4}$  = ācētābūlum,  $\frac{1}{8}$  = cyāthus.

716. LIQUID MEASURE.—The Amphōra is the most convenient unit of the Roman liquid measure, and contained a Roman cubic foot, equivalent probably to about seven gallons, wine measure.

1. CULEUS.—Twenty amphōrae make one Culeus.

2. PARTS OF AMPHORA.—These have special names:  $\frac{1}{2}$  = urna,  $\frac{1}{4}$  = congius,  $\frac{1}{8}$  = sextārius,  $\frac{1}{16}$  = hēmina,  $\frac{1}{32}$  = quartārius,  $\frac{1}{64}$  = ācētābūlum,  $\frac{1}{128}$  = cyāthus.

717. LONG MEASURE.—The basis of this measure is the Roman foot, equivalent to about 11.6 inches.

1. COMBINATIONS OF FEET.—Palmipes =  $1\frac{1}{2}$  Roman feet; cūbitus =  $1\frac{1}{2}$ ; passus = 5; stādium = 625.

2. PARTS OF FOOT.—Palmus =  $\frac{1}{4}$  foot; uncia =  $\frac{1}{16}$ ; digitus =  $\frac{1}{8}$ .

718. SQUARE MEASURE.—The basis of this measure is the Jugērum, containing 28,800 Roman square feet, equivalent to about six tenths of an acre.

The parts of the jugērum have the same name as those of the As: uncia =  $\frac{1}{16}$ , sextans =  $\frac{1}{32}$ , etc. See 712. 1.

INDEX OF VERBS.

721. This Index contains an alphabetical list, not only of all the simple verbs in common use which involve any important irregularities, but also of such compounds as seem to require special mention.

But in regard to compounds of prepositions, two important facts must be borne in mind :

1. That the elements,—preposition and verb—often appear in the compound in a changed form. See 338. 1 and 341. 3.

2. That the stem-vowel is often changed in the Perfect and Supine. See 260.

INDEX OF SUBJECTS.

NOTE.—The numbers refer to articles, not to pages. Constr. = construction, et = with, ff. = and the following, compds. = compounds, gen. or genit. = genitive, gend. = gender, acc. or accus. = accusative, aces. = accusatives, adjs. = adjectives, preps. = prepositions, etc.

It has not been thought advisable to overload this index, with such separate words as may be readily referred to classes, or to general rules, or even with such exceptions as may be readily found under their respective heads. ## Germania and Agricola of Caius Cornelius Tacitus:

With Notes for Colleges. By W. S. TYLER, Professor of the Greek and Latin Languages in Amherst College. 12mo, 193 pages.

Tacitus's account of Germany and life of Agricola are among the most fascinating and instructive Latin classics. The present edition has been prepared expressly for college classes, by one who knows what they need. In it will be found: 1. A Latin text, approved by all the more recent editors. 2. A copious illustration of the grammatical constructions, as well as of the rhetorical and poetical usages peculiar to Tacitus. In a writer so concise it has been deemed necessary to pay particular regard to the connection of thought, and to the particles as the hinges of that connection. 3. Constant comparisons of the writer with the authors of the Augustan age, for the purpose of indicating the changes which had already been wrought in the language of the Roman people. 4. An embodiment in small compass of the most valuable labors of such recent German critics as Grimm, Gölther, Gruber, Klessling, Dronke, Roth, Ruperti, and Walther.

From PROF. LINCOLN, of Brown University.

"I have found the book in daily use with my class of very great service, very practical, and well suited to the wants of students. I am very much pleased with the life of Tacitus and the introduction, and indeed with the literary character of the book throughout. We shall make the book a part of our Latin course."

The History of Tacitus:

By W. S. TYLER. With Notes for Colleges. 12mo, 453 pages.

The text of Tacitus is here presented in a form as correct as a comparison of the best editions can make it. Notes are appended for the student's use, which contain not only the grammatical, but likewise all the geographical, archaeological, and historical illustrations that are necessary to render the author intelligible. It has been the constant aim of the editor to carry students beyond the dry details of grammar and lexicography, and introduce them to a familiar acquaintance and lively sympathy with the author and his times. Indexes to the notes, and to the names of persons and places, render reference easy.

From PROF. HACKETT, of Newton Theological Seminary.

"The notes appear to me to be even more neat and elegant than those on the 'Germania and Agricola.' They come as near to such notes as I would be glad to write myself on a classic, as almost any thing that I have yet seen."

Virgil's Æneid.

With Explanatory Notes. By HENRY S. FRIEZE, Professor of Latin in the State University of Michigan. Illustrated. 12mo, 598 pages.

The appearance of this edition of Virgil's Æneid will, it is believed, be hailed with delight by all classical teachers. Neither expense nor pains have been spared to clothe the great Latin epic in a fitting dress. The type is unusually large and distinct, and errors in the text, so annoying to the learner, have been carefully avoided. The work contains eighty-five engravings, which delineate the usages, costumes, weapons, arts, and mythology of the ancients with a vividness that can be attained only by pictorial illustrations. The great feature of this edition is the scholarly and judicious commentary furnished in the appended Notes. The author has here endeavored not to show his learning, but to supply such practical aid as will enable the pupil to understand and appreciate what he reads. The notes are just full enough, thoroughly explaining the most difficult passages, while they are not so extended as to take all labor off the pupil's hands. Properly used, they cannot fail to impart an intelligent acquaintance with the syntax of the language. In a word, this work is commended to teachers as the most elegant, accurate, interesting, and practically useful edition of the Æneid that has yet been published.

From JOHN H. BRUNNER, President of Hiwassee College.

"The typography, paper, and binding of Virgil's Æneid, by Prof. Frieze, are all that need be desired; while the learned and judicious notes appended, are very valuable indeed."

From Principal of Piedmont (Va.) Academy.

"I have to thank you for a copy of Prof. Frieze's edition of the Æneid. I have been exceedingly pleased in my examination of it. The size of the type from which the text is printed, and the faultless execution, leave nothing to be desired in these respects. The adherence to a standard text throughout, increases the value of this edition."

From D. G. MOORE, Principal U. High School, Rutland.

"The copy of Frieze's 'Virgil' forwarded to me was duly received. It is so evidently superior to any of the other editions, that I shall unhesitatingly adopt it in my classes."

Select Orations of M. Tullius Cicero :

With Notes, for the use of Schools and Colleges. By E. A. JOHNSON, Professor of Latin in the University of New York. 12mo, 459 pages.

This edition of Cicero's Select Orations possesses some special advantages for the student which are both new and important. It is the only edition which contains the improved text that has been prepared by a recent careful collation and correct deciphering of the best manuscripts of Cicero's writings. It is the work of the celebrated Orelli, Madvig, and Klotz, and has been done since the appearance of Orelli's complete edition. The Notes, by Professor Johnson, of the New York University, have been mostly selected, with great care, from the best German authors, as well as the English edition of Arnold.

From THOMAS CHASE, Tutor in Latin in Harvard University.

"An edition of Cicero like Johnson's has long been wanted; and the excellence of the text, the illustrations of words, particles, and pronouns, and the explanation of various points of construction and interpretation, bear witness to the Editor's familiarity with some of the most important results of modern scholarship, and entitle his work to a large share of public favor."

"It seems to us an improvement upon any edition of these Orations that has been published in this country, and will be found a valuable aid in their studies to the lovers of classical literature."—Troy Daily Whig.

Cicero de Officiis :

With English Notes, mostly translated from ZUMPT and BONNELL. By THOMAS A. THACHER, of Yale College. 12mo, 194 pages.

In this edition, a few historical notes have been introduced in cases where the Dictionary in common use has not been found to contain the desired information; the design of which is to aid the learner in understanding the contents of the treatises, the thoughts and reasoning of the author, to explain grammatical difficulties, and inculcate a knowledge of grammatical principles. The Editor has aimed throughout to guide rather than carry the learner through difficulties; requiring of him more study, in consequence of his help, than he would have devoted to the book without it.

From M. L. STOEYER, Professor of the Latin Language and Literature in Pennsylvania College.

"I have examined with much pleasure Prof. Thacher's edition of Cicero de Officiis, and am convinced of its excellence. The Notes have been prepared with great care and good judgment. Practical knowledge of the wants of the student has enabled the Editor to furnish just the kind of assistance required; grammatical difficulties are removed, and the obscurities of the treatise are explained, the interest of the learner is elicited, and his industry directed rather than superseded. There can be but one opinion with regard to the merits of the work, and I trust that Professor Thacher will be disposed to continue his labors so carefully commenced, in this department of classical learning."

Greek Ollendorff;

Being a Progressive Exhibition of the Principles of the Greek Grammar. By ASAHIEL C. KENDRICK, Professor of the Greek Language and Literature in the University of Rochester. 12mo, 371 pages.

The present work is what its title indicates, strictly an Ollendorff, and aims to apply the methods which have proved so successful in the acquisition of the modern languages to the study of Ancient Greek, with such differences as the different genius of the Greek, and the different purposes for which it is studied, suggest. It differs from the modern Ollendorffs in containing Exercises for reciprocal translation, in confining them within a smaller compass, and in a more methodical exposition of the principles of language.

The leading object of the author was to furnish a book which should serve as an introduction to the study of Greek, and precede the use of any grammar. It will therefore be found, although not claiming to embrace all the principles of the Grammar, yet complete in itself, and will lead the pupil, by insensible gradations, from the simpler constructions to those which are more complicated and difficult. The exceptions, and the more idiomatic forms, it studiously avoids, aiming only to exhibit the regular and ordinary usages of the language as the proper starting-point for the student's further researches.

In presenting these, the author has aimed to combine the strictest accuracy with the utmost simplicity of statement. His work is therefore adapted to a younger class of pupils than have usually engaged in the study of Greek, and will, it is hoped, win to the acquisition of that noble tongue many in our academies and primary schools who have been repelled by the less simple character of our ordinary text-books.

Exercises in Greek Composition.

Adapted to the First Book of Xenophon's Anabasis. By JAMES R. BOISE, Professor of Greek in the University of Michigan. 12mo, 185 pages.

These Exercises consist of easy sentences, similar to those in the Anabasis, having the same words and constructions, and are designed by frequent repetition to make the learner familiar with the language of Xenophon. Accordingly, the chapters and sections in both are made to correspond. No exercises can be more improving than those in this volume; obliging the student as they do, by analysis and synthesis, to master the constructions employed by one of the purest of Greek writers, and imbuing him with the spirit of one of the greatest historians of all antiquity.

Harkness's Latin Grammar.

From Rev. Prof. J. J. OWEN, D.D., New York Free Academy.

"I have carefully examined Harkness's Latin Grammar, and am so well pleased with its plan, arrangement, and execution, that I shall take the earliest opportunity of introducing it as a text-book in the Free Academy."

From Mr. JOHN D. PHILBRICK, Superintendent of Public Schools, Boston, Mass.

"This work is evidently no hasty performance, nor the compilation of a mere book-maker, but the well-ripened fruit of mature and accurate scholarship. It is eminently practical, because it is truly philosophical."

From Mr. G. N. BIGELOW, Principal of State Normal School, Framingham, Mass.

"Harkness's Latin Grammar is the most satisfactory text-book I have ever used."

From Rev. DANIEL LEACH, Superintendent Public Schools, Providence, R. I.

"I am quite confident that it is superior to any Latin Grammar before the public. It has recently been introduced into the High School, and all are much pleased with it."

From Dr. J. B. CHAPIN, State Commissioner of Public Instruction in Rhode Island.

"The vital principles of the language are clearly and beautifully exhibited. The work needs no one's commendation."

From Mr. ABNER J. PHIPPS, Superintendent of Public Schools, Lowell, Mass.

"The aim of the author seems to be fully realized in making this 'a useful Book, and as such I can cheerfully commend it. The clear and admirable manner in which the intricacies of the Subjunctive Mood are unfolded, is one of its marked features."

"The evidence of ripe scholarship and of familiarity with the latest works of German and English philologists is manifest throughout the book."

From Dr. J. T. CHAMPLIN, President of Waterville College.

"I like both the plan and the execution of the work very much. Its matter and manner are both admirable. I shall be greatly disappointed if it does not at once win the public favor."

From Prof. A. S. PACKARD, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine.

"Harkness's Latin Grammar exhibits throughout the results of thorough scholarship. I shall recommend it in our next catalogue."

From Prof. J. J. STANTON, Bates College.

"We have introduced Harkness's Grammar into this Institution. It is much more logical and concise than any of its rivals."

From Mr. WM. J. ROLFE, Principal Cambridge High School.
