LUSITANIA IS STILL QUEEN OF THE SEAS

Giant Cunarder Clips Over an Hour from Her Record

The Fastest Time Ever Known Across the Atlantic; the Fastest Day's Run and the Fastest Hourly Average Are All Her Records Now.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The marvelous record established less than a month ago by the giant turbine Cunarder Lusitania, when she cut several hours from the passage time across the Atlantic, already has been broken. But the Lusitania still retains the title of Queen of the Seas, as it was herself that established the new low record, and incidentally she added several new records to her credit. These include the best single days run—618 knots, made on November 6, at an average of more than 600 knots for every full day, and an average hourly speed of 24.23 knots for the full 2,781 miles. The best previous record for the westward passage across the ocean was made by the Lusitania on her last voyage, when she covered the distance in four days, nineteen hours and fifty two minutes.

The voyage ended today over the same course was completed in four days eighteen hours and forty minutes, thus clipping one hour and twelve minutes from the previous low mark. And this was done in the face of conditions too favorable. From the start the weather was stormy and on the last two days, when the big steamer was on the home stretch, there was the greatest burst of speed that has ever been expected. She drove straight into the teeth of a strong wind, high confusing seas and occasional sharp squalls. The days runs were 21, 606, 616, 618, 610, and 2 3/4 knots. In the Lusitania's best runs were steamed 112,000,000 in gold, more than a quarter of the immense total of which has been engaged abroad by American bankers since the present movement began. This gold will be transferred from the steamer to the consignees and then added to the country's available circulation of currency.

HON. H. A. McKEOWN BY ACCLAMATION

As Generally Expected There Was No Opposition to the Return of the New Attorney General--He Issues a Statement.

Hon. H. A. McKeown is the city nominee for the county seat in the local legislature, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Riddick. Sheriff R. R. Ritchie held court this morning for receiving nominations and up to 1:30 o'clock only the one name had been submitted. According to law the court was held open until 2 o'clock, and then, as there were no other nominees, Hon. Mr. McKeown was declared elected by acclamation. The attorney-general's papers were presented by Heber S. Keith, who acted as his agent. Among the names signed to the papers were the following: John W. Long, Lancaster; Edie L. Belding, Mt. Allison; Charles Hazen, James Leady, J. J. Hennessy, J. A. Hooley, W. E. Barnhill, Fairville; Robt. Connolly, Grand River; F. M. Cochran, W. E. Skillen, C. Fred Black, H. E. Gilmer, St. Martins; Jeremiah Donovan, Goldbrook; John McGuire, Martin Dehan, Golden Grove; John E. Moore and others.

At 2 o'clock no other nominations had been received and Mr. McKeown was declared elected. He issued a statement in which he referred to the debt of the province which is shown in the auditor general's report to total $4,841,719.19 which is the total debt of the country. It is fair to the present government. He pointed out that when the present administration assumed power they found a debt of $1,141,299. In fact there was somewhat more than the amount mentioned but the excess was paid off by Mr. Blair's government out of current revenue. Deducing then the last named sum from the present indebtedness we find the remainder to be $3,700,419.19. It must also be borne in mind that the old government had legislated to assist railways, promising subsidies, which railways were built and subsidies came into power.

The amount of the claim made by these railways to subsidize legislated for by the preceding government amounts to $1,000,000. This in all fairness should be deducted from the total of the debt which amounts to $4,841,719.19 to determine how much of the debt the present government is responsible for. After deducting $1,000,000 from the total of $4,841,719.19 this amount we find a balance of $3,841,719.19 for which amount and for which amount only this government can be held justly responsible. In other words, nearly two millions and one half were legacies of debt incurred and imposed upon the province by the preceding gov-

BLACK HAND SOCIETY AT WORK AGAIN

The Latest Field of Their Operations Is the Canadian Soo Where They Tried to Force Money from Three Residents.

SAULIE STE MARIE, Ont. Nov. 8.—(Special)—The entire community is excited over particulars of attempts of a black hand society, which became public yesterday. Some two weeks ago Captain Letcher, a wealthy Englishman residing here, received letters from Medicine Hat demanding sums of money which were to be placed in a certain place on his porch after 11 o'clock on Wednesday night last. The provincial department sent secret service men to investigate. These learned that Messrs. John McKay, a well-to-do lawyer, and John Dunsmuir, a merchant, also had received letters demanding the payment of money on pain of death and destruction of their property. On Wednesday night Captain Letcher's house was watched, and a dummy parcel placed in the spot mentioned. At 6:30 yesterday morning no person had appeared and the detectives departed. At daybreak Captain Letcher found the parcel gone. Payment in each instance was to be made on Wednesday night, but none of those interested regarded the demands.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 8.—Cholera is everywhere on the decrease in Russia owing to the influence of the cold weather and the danger this year is regarded as being over. It is considered certain, however, that cholera will break out again in increased intensity next spring, and a conference has been called to meet in St. Petersburg to discuss plans to be taken in order to check the spread of the disease along the great water routes in the interior of Russia. It has been taken seriously in Russia, and has been taken seriously by the American government.

The commissioners report that work on the sections between Winnipeg and Moncton is progressing fairly, but elsewhere as in New Brunswick, the weather has been unfavorable for construction work and much difficulty has been experienced in getting the work done. It is anticipated that much heavier work will be done.

THE ANTI-JAPANESE RIOTS IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Nov. 8.—(Special)—The committee to investigate the anti-Japanese riots was adjourned last evening for two weeks. Detective Waddell declared that had not the Japanese consul been in the city on the night of Sunday, September 7, the police would have been unable to control the situation. Mr. King, in closing the enquiry, said that the gratifying feature of the investigation is that this had brought to the city officials the unanimous statement that the attack made on the night of September 7 was entirely unjustifiable and greatly to be deplored. Moreover, that the attack was not directed against the Japanese particularly, but was a general expression of excitement occasioned by alarm in certain quarters at the sudden and large increase in the number of immigrants from the Orient.

THREE MEN MAY HAVE BEEN LOST

Anxiety in Charlottetown Concerning Fate of Three Men Who Went to Sea in Small Schooner During a Heavy Storm.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 8 (Special)—Great anxiety is felt for the safety of James Stewart, a miller, Howard Revere, aged 17, and a man named Revere, aged twenty, who left Souris Wednesday night at nine-thirty in the midst of a furious northeast gale in the schooner Halcyon, for Georgetown, twenty-two miles distant. The Halcyon was only thirty tons and carried no ballast. The men on board had little knowledge of seamanship. The trip should have been made under ordinary conditions, in five or six hours, but no tidings of the missing vessel have yet been heard. It is feared she capsized while attempting to clear Houghton Island reef. Wreckage the same color as the schooner has been seen on Cardigan river. The missing men all belong to the Woodville Mills, Lower Cardigan. Stewart is middle aged and leaves a wife and six children.

THOMAS F. WHITE MAKES STATEMENT

He Says His Team Was Not Slow in Loading Last Evening. Thomas F. White, manager of the White Candy Company, is far from satisfied with the statement which appeared in this morning's issue of the Sun, and which regards as calculated to create the impression that the White Candy Company intentionally prolonged the loading of their team yesterday evening so as to hinder or prevent the movement of the Street Railway Company. In the Times, this morning, Mr. White said: "The article in the Sun was calculated to create the impression that we were to blame as intentionally prolonging the loading of our team. Continuing, Mr. White said, "It was not six o'clock, the busiest time of the day, but only a few minutes after five, and we were loading our team with goods for the I. C. E. station, so as to get them there in time to be accepted before six o'clock; and the new track was the normal approach to the curb, as the blocks had been taken out of the intervening space."

BIG BILL AND KAISER BILL

U. S. Secretary of War Taft to Meet German Emperor at Isle of Wight.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—Emperial William will see U. S. Secretary of War W. H. Taft at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, during his majesty's visit to England. A message conveying this wish was sent through the German embassy at Washington, it being understood that Mr. Taft's departure for Europe. It is regarded as likely that Mr. Taft will also seek an audience of King Edward, as otherwise it might appear to be too much of a demonstration for the American statesman to visit the German Emperor without a visit without paying equal respect to the King. So much has been said about Mr. Taft's planning to see King Edward, and how curious in regard to whether anything is intended by the step taken by the American government, Ambassador Bryce and Mr. Rand, it is asserted here, have already made enquiries on the subject at the state department, Washington, and it is further asserted that there is a feeling at the foreign offices of London and Paris that Mr. Taft would be neglecting King Edward and President Fallieres, as otherwise it might appear to be too much of a demonstration for the American statesman to visit the German Emperor without a visit without paying equal respect to the King. Brave Little Maggie Dorr.

BY HELENA DAVIS.

Maggie Dorr sat in her little bedroom where she had slept every night of her life — when not absent from home on an occasional visit to some relative — and listened to the excited discussion going on in the adjoining sitting-room. The argument was caused by herself — the disposition of her, body and soul, as it were. That morning Maggie's dear mother, who had been an invalid for two years, and who on the previous day had died, was buried in the little graveyard at the edge of the pretty town; and only two hours had passed since Maggie, with bleeding heart and tear-dimmed eyes, had returned from the sad ceremonial attending the funeral of her dearest and best friend on earth. Maggie's father had died while she was but a baby, and her mother had been her only dear-loved one, bravely trying to support herself and lit-old sitting-room where she and her darling mother had spent so many happy years together. For poverty had not robbed her of her happiness while Mrs. Dorr was able to earn a simple living for them. "Well, it's this way," said Maggie, "I've overheard your conversation," Maggie said, looking straight into her aunt's face. "And as I'm to look after myself henceforth, I shall begin this very day to do so. Thank you all for your deep interest in me. If, when looking about for work of some kind, I should find more employment than I need shall I re-commend your daughter, Miss Dorr? You and all my kin seem to think that girls should be put out to earn their own living. There was quite irony in the voice of the poor orphan girl whose aching heart had suffered the unjust hurt at a time when all the world should have given her sweetest sympathy.

Aunt Dullia's face turned purple with rage. "You are a thankless, impudent Miss," she said angrily. "After all that you have done for me, you are now trying to have me believe that you are an independent living!" "I'm not," said Maggie, "I'm a poor orphan girl, and I shall have to take the girl, I'd like to do it for the sake of her dear father, but I can't do so while not keeping house. Taking me into a hotel and paying out cold cash for board into your own home where the extra cost could hardly be noticed. If Johnnie were here, I'd be glad of the chance to get Maggie for her of a gentle disposition and would be a splendid name for him. But he starts to school this winter and no one else to take her. I'll have my old dresses made over for her."

"You are a thankless, impudent Miss," she said sneeringly.

tle daughter with her needle till ill-health had forced her to take to her bed. Then it was that Maggie's father's kindfolk had felt called upon to "assist" Ned's widow and daughter, though that "assistance" had been so meagre that the widow and child had often felt the need of the barest necessities of life. And now that "Ned's widow" had gone to join "Ned," they — the kindfolks (all well-to-do) — were discussing the question of the orphan, Maggie, scarcely fifteen years old. And Maggie, heavy-hearted, and without a soul to love her, and without home or means of support, sat listening to the confusion of male and female voices that reached her from the

If Johnnie were here, I'd be glad of the chance to get Maggie for her of a gentle disposition and would be a splendid name for him. But he starts to school this winter and no one else to take her. I'll have my old dresses made over for her."

And then they thought they had settled it. "And now, since we've decided what disposition to make of Maggie I suppose we might as well go home. The owner of this cottage takes possession tomorrow and as poor sister-in-law is in arrears for rent we'll just let her have the furniture and things here to apply on account. There's nothing here of consequence. I wouldn't contribute a cent towards the rent for all the junk that the cottage holds." Thus spoke Aunt Dullia. And the general and the two uncles agreed to what she said. "As it is hardly the thing to leave Maggie here over night alone she can go home with me and stay the week out. I'm a very kind woman continued. "By then I'll expect you two men"—turning to her

FURS THAT ARE PRACTICAL AND DRESSY.

In selecting furs, the business woman should be a very good and a very rich old lady who has a summer home in the village, but who spent much of her time abroad or in the city. "I've come, dear," said Mrs. Martin, "to ask you to go home with me. I heard from one of your neighbors that your dear mother had been called home—called from her bed of pain. I had occasion to have her do some sewing for me one summer about four years ago, and I have never forgotten her sweet nature, her gentle solicitude for her little girl whom she was making such sacrifices for at the time. Had I known then what I learned today, I would have made it possible for her and you to have lived more comfortably. But it is never too late to do good unto our fellow-men. Your kind neighbor—your mother, having forgotten her address—old me of your loss; also told me about your lonely position. She told me of your private matters, but of your kindfolk you would do for a home, for she knew none would be offered you from that source. Now, I'm a lonely woman, rich in the world's goods, but poor, oh, so poor! in love. I want a dear little granddaughter, and I've come to ask you to be her. Will you come to me to my hungry heart, dear? You shall be an orphan no longer. Every advantage of education, travel, and home-life, shall be yours."

Maggie's eyes were overflowing now for joy and thankfulness. Putting her arms about the sweet old mother's face she whispered, "Yes, I shall come and be your daughter—not your granddaughter, for that would make it seem as though too many lives were divided up. And we shall be the best of chums, like two of an age, shall we not?"

Fill, said Maggie, and I shall try to be as nearly as I can the place of your dear mother, and I feel that she is now smiling on us from her home in heaven, and that our happiness will be her happiness."

Halifax, Nov. 7.—(Special)—Charged with violating the customs laws by failing to enter and clear his vessel at Georgetown last May, the Lunenburg schooner Hispania, Capt. Kennedy, now owned in Newfoundland, was seized upon her arrival in North Sydney yesterday by the revenue cutter Gladator. Capt. Kennedy says he was unable to conform to the law and the negligence of the Georgetown customs officials whom, he says, he will report to the customs department at Ottawa.

Woodstock, Ont., Nov. 7.—Bill Bales, an incorrigible young lad of this city, was sentenced by Magistrate Ball to three years imprisonment in Kingston penitentiary for stealing $1 from Roy Rudd, a clerk in a cigar store. After sentence he shouted at Rudd that he would "beat his brains out; just watch."

Richibucto, N. B., Nov. 6.—The schooner Tartar, of some 65 tons, owned by Keady Langan, of this place, was totally wrecked this morning while entering this port. The crew were saved, being picked up from the cabin on which they floated away from the vessel.

The Tartar left Sydney (C. B.) on Saturday night last with a load of coal consigned to the schooner's owner at Richibucto. At 11 o'clock this morning while attempting to enter harbor in the face of a southerly gale the vessel crashed on what is called the northern reef at the harbor entrance. She soon began to found under the influence of the high seas and in a few hours had gone to pieces. The crew clung to the cabin and on this floated out into deep water, where they were rescued by boats from shore.

Capt. H. D. Irving, of Richibucto, was commander and Louis and Frank Langan, sons of the owner, and George and Ernest Long comprised the crew. It is understood there is no insurance on the vessel and both schooner and cargo are a total loss. Parts of the wrecked craft are being driven up the river to night.

The gale was severe here but the loss of the Tartar is the only disaster reported.

Fooled the Doctors and Got Well

GIN PILLS CURE RHEUMATISM

They certainly were a surprised lot of doctors out Tyndale way. They had been treating Mrs. Harris for years. Gave her about everything that was ever heard of for Rheumatism—and then told her the disease was chronic.

A friend told Mrs. Harris about GIN PILLS. Just to oblige her friend, Mrs. Harris took a box. What a relief! That was the end of the doctors and the time these were gone, she was so much better that she bought the third box and laughed every time she saw a doctor.

Tyndale P. O. Aug. 6, 1906. As there was only enough for a trial box, I bought another box. The pills cured my rheumatism almost entirely gone, and I am better than I have been for years. I was suffering from Rheumatism, but it has all left me.

The doctors can't explain it. They could not cure Mrs. Harris. Her proof best explanation of all to her. Do YOU want proof? Write for GIN PILLS and try for a free sample. Then you will see what GIN PILLS will do for YOU. Write now to the Bole Drug Co., Winnipeg, for a free sample.

BOURASSA UNDAUNTED

He is Still Ready to Fight and Will Stump Against the Gouin Government in Chateauguay

Montreal, Nov. 7.—Far from being discouraged by his crushing defeat in Bellechasse, it is stated that Henri Bourassa will continue his campaign against the government at the bye-elections that are yet to come off. His name has been mentioned as a possible candidate in Chateauguay, but in all probability the Conservatives will put P. Laberge in the field, as he came very near winning the last election there. Preparations are being made to organize the county and Mr. Bourassa will stump the riding in support of Mr. Laberge. He is expected to speak at a preliminary meeting next Sunday.

The recent campaigns have greatly encouraged the Conservatives of this province and their policy of drift is already a thing of the past. Preparations are now under way to put up a stiff fight at all federal bye-elections beginning with Nicolet and also to organize the party throughout the province so as to be ready for the next general federal elections.

A meeting was held this evening of Nicolet workers, which was presided over by P. E. LeBlanc, the provincial Conservative leader, and at which many of the district workers were present and at which preliminary arrangements were made for a vigorous campaign in Nicolet.

Rheumatism

I have found a brief and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted, deformed, and swollen joints, but a cure that will give you back to health again. This is possible, but I can now surely tell the pains and aches of this terrible disease.

Maggie's eyes were overflowing now for joy and thankfulness. Putting her arms about the sweet old mother's face she whispered, "Yes, I shall come and be your daughter—not your granddaughter, for that would make it seem as though too many lives were divided up. ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY TO HOLD DINNER

Patron Saint of Scotland Will Be So Honored on Nov. 29.

At the annual meeting of St. Andrew's Society last night it was decided to celebrate St. Andrew's day this year by a dinner on Friday, the 29th inst. The society will attend divine service in St. David's church on Sunday, the 24th, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. C. K. Cameron was re-elected president for the ensuing year and practically all the old officers were reappointed.

An interesting event was the presentation of two certificates of honorary membership granted to Thomas Davidson and James Davidson in 1852 and 1856 respectively. The relics are in perfect preservation. They were presented to the city by Mrs. W. M. Woods, wife of the superintendent of the Municipal House, and received by the president in behalf of the members, and a letter of thanks will be sent to Mrs. Woods.

Besides the president the following were the officers elected: Dr. John R. McIntosh, 2nd vice; Rev. A. A. Graham, chaplain; Alexander Wilson, historian; Cyrus F. Inches, secretary; Dr. P. R. Inches, Andrew Malcolm, R. B. Patterson, committee of charity; Charles W. Bell, Francis F. Burpee, marshals; Homer S. Cruikshank, Alexander S. Cruikshank and W. H. Ross, pipers. The year 1907-8 is R. B. Kessen and John Macintyre.

After five new members had been received and some routine business transacted adjournment was made to White's restaurant where all regaled themselves with a very enjoyable oyster supper on invitation of the president-elect. After supper the toast to the King was received with the usual loyal honors. Other toasts were Canada, which was proposed by James Christie, and responded to in an able and eloquent manner by Rev. Geo. M. Campbell; and The President, spoken for by Mr. Cameron. Brief addresses were made by Dr. McIntosh, A. G. Leavitt, Cyrus F. Inches, Dr. Inches, A. Wilson, A. Malcolm, C. W. Bell and F. Burpee. S. J. McGowan and Piper Ross were the soloists of the evening. After the adjournment the president was escorted to his home by the company headed by the pipers.

WHERE DOES THE PAPER GO?

The first question asked by a general advertiser. The Telegraph and Times reach that class of people who subscribe and agree to pay for the reading privilege. These papers go first hand from the publishers by carrier and not through street boys to be left in office or store by purchaser after reading. Common sense teaches that every paper passed into homes direct will be read. The Telegraph and Times are home papers. Do they contain your advertisement?

THE RIGHT OF WAY

A law-abiding citizen, bespattered from head to foot with mud of a dark color and very adhesive texture called at the Times office yesterday.

After cautiously separating a naturally open and ingenious countenance from the embrace of as much of the substance as made a plantation of modest proportions on the editorial floor, he was understood to express a qualified approval of the efforts of this journal of the home to have pedestrians protected while crossing "Water street and from the ferry float.

It seems probable that the men receded to some extent from the position with regard to the recognition of the union, on condition that their grievances be fairly considered. At all events a strike is postponed, and it may be hoped that it is entirely obviated.

BRITISH RAILWAY TROUBLES

If the statement made in London on Monday of this week by Richard Bell, M. P., general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, be true, the Montreal Witness was not far wrong in asserting that "probably, if ever a strike was warranted it is the threatened strike of the railway servants of England."

The strike has been averted for the present. Mr. Lloyd-George, President of the Board of Trade, succeeded in getting the companies and the men to agree to submit matters in dispute to a board of conciliation. Of his powers in such cases a recent London cable said: "Mr. Lloyd-George is the official representative of the nation and is empowered by law to employ means of conciliation, whether his services are solicited or not. He has not waited to be asked, but has intervened in a benevolent spirit before the contestants had exchanged ultimatums and entered into a destructive conflict. He cannot compel them to accept arbitration or any proposals for settlement or compromise, but he can remind them that it is a public duty for them to avoid hostilities and that the forces of opinion will be against them if they are unconciliatory and are controlled by selfish interests."

The demand of the men to which the companies declared themselves unalterably opposed was the recognition of the union. Yesterday's cable does not indicate in what way this question was treated in the agreement, but it is probable that the men made some concessions for the sake of getting their grievances before a board of conciliation. The London cable already quoted, said on this point: "If Mr. Lloyd-George calls upon them to limit their ideas of recognition to representation of their own membership as a minority of the railway servants, without doubt they will accommodate themselves to his proposals. They will not insist upon any action by which the interests of non-unionists will be sacrificed and the companies prohibited from protecting them. So long as the door is open for the trade unionist officials they will be satisfied and the strike will be averted."

A year has passed since the labor congress at Birmingham formulated the demands of the union. The companies refused to treat at all with the society, and the latter therefore proceeded to organize for the strike which has just been averted. The companies declared that the claim for recognition of the union was nothing less than socialism. Each party in turn appealed for public sympathy, and each prepared for the struggle. The companies relied on the fact that the members of the union were a minority of the whole number of employees, and that the non-union men would remain at their posts. They argued that if the union were recognized, the non-unionists would swarm into the unions, and the demands of the men for increased wages and reduced time would gradually be forced upon the companies, to the cost of the shareholders. The companies, they declared, could not divide the responsibilities of management with the unions.

When last week nearly 90,000 members of the union declared in favor of an immediate strike the crisis had come, and everybody realized the far-reaching calamity which threatened the country. Mr. Bell has steadily advocated a policy of moderation on the part of the men, and no doubt counselled the course now adopted at the suggestion of Mr. Lloyd-George. Another quotation will shed some further light on the general situation.

"British railways have never been allowed to avoid close supervision by national authorities. There was a railway department in the board of trade as early as 1840, and its powers have been repeatedly enlarged by special legislation. No railway comes into operation without official inspection; serious accidents invariably are followed by a board of trade enquiry; level crossings are regulated; there can be no increase of rates without the knowledge of the department; and there is a commissioner's court by which disputed points are settled through arbitration. Railways are under constant supervision by the board of trade, and the conciliation act for the adjustment of industrial disputes applies to them with peculiar force. Public opinion has always been behind the department in its dealings with railway corporations; and it will be so in the present controversy, if, after a full and impartial hearing, Mr. Lloyd-George makes it plain that he considers a calamitous strike unnecessary and that the privilege of trade union recognition can be granted with safety under definite limitations."

Of the late Rev. William Dobson, who died recently in Charlottetown, the Victoria Colonist, a member of whose writing staff was an old friend, says: "Mr. Dobson was a man of striking ability, a deep thinker and a pulpit orator of much power, and if he had cut himself loose from any denominational connection might have been one of the leaders of religious thought. He used to say, however, that it was better to keep within denominational limits because when a man once set himself adrift he could never tell where he might land, and after all the great thing was to do good and help others to do the same."

THE LAY OF THE HEN. One of the jokes Lewis Carroll, the author of "Alice in Wonderland," did dare publish, according to his biographer, who found it among his papers, is the following: A schoolboy asked, "What is the meaning of average?" at once replied, "The things hens lay eggs on."

When requested to explain his answer the boy said: "I read a book that hens lay on an average two hundred eggs a year."

In Wallace, Ida, two rough-looking fellows sat quietly watching the show until this feature appeared.

Nudging his companion, one of them said: "Come on, Bill; let's get out; this show is rotten."

"What's the matter?" queried the other.

"Why, that guy has thrown sixteen knives at those girls already, and he hasn't hit either one yet."

The Egyptian Pelican.

A Bird of Interesting Features.

The members of the pelican family are many, and differ from other living birds in the matter of their food. All the pelicans are united in one common form of skin, or web, while other web-footed birds—such as the duck—have but the front toes so joined together.

The pelican is most remarkable in appearance. He has a sober, dignified way with him as he walks leisurely about on the sand. He is heavy of body and stout and short of leg. From his build he would appear to be clumsy, but such is not the case. Indeed, he is remarkably expert and swift on the wing, and has great endurance while on a long flight.

When fishing the pelicans show great ingenuity. They will form themselves in a circle, screaming excitedly and dropping their wings till they frighten the fish into a corner. Then into the assembled prey they will dip, each pelican coming up in turn with a squirming fish held tightly in his beak. Into the convenient pouch the pelican drops his fish the appears to swallow it; then dives for more. I have seen one pelican secure five fish before stopping work. Then away flies Mrs. Pelican with a fine fresh meal for her young. Or, in the case of their being no young to feed, the bird will fly to itself leisurely and with apparent relish.

The pelican is an inhabitant of warm countries always living about large bodies of water.

HAMPTON CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL OPENED BY GOVERNOR TWEEDIE

Exercises Yesterday Afternoon Were Largely Attended.

The Hampton Consolidated School was formally opened by Lieutenant Governor Tweedie yesterday afternoon, when despite the threatening weather there was a very large attendance. Governor Tweedie and Premier Robinson announced that each would donate a prize valued at $30 to be competed for by the pupils on conditions to be laid down by the board of trustees. It was announced also that Dr. W. B. McVey would present to the school a physical culture apparatus and E. A. Adams, former member of the board of trustees will give two medals, one for the department of domestic science and one for manual training.

The only member of the government present besides the premier was Surveyor-General Sweeney. Letters of regret were received from Hon. H. A. McKeown and Hon. J. R. Inch, chief superintendent of education, and T. B. Kidder, provincial superintendent of manual training. Present also were George Ernest Fairweather, architect of the building; Dr. G. U. Hay, city and Isaac Moore, principal of the Rothesay High School. Others present were S. H. Flewelling, chairman of the board of school trustees; Hampton, who presided; J. M. Scovil, secretary of the board; John E. Coleman, G. O. D. Hay, and A. W. Hilde, inspectors; Sweeney, Dr. J. N. Smith, Rev. C. P. Hanington, Dr. Wetmore, G. M. Wilson, John March, Allan Schield, R. H. Warren, J. E. Hoyt, Norton; Rev. Mr. Grant, J. F. Giggle, E. Fowler, Rev. Mr. Whalley, J. W. Smith, A. Brittain, Rev. Mr. Ross and William Gilliland.

Owing to the fact that the trains were late the exercises did not commence till nearly 3 o'clock. They were held in a large exhibition hall, which was tastefully decorated with festoons of the school colors—blue and white—and British and Canadian flags. Mr. Flewelling took the chair and in a few remarks welcomed the visitors. The first number on the programme was a song of welcome by the children who, to the number of nearly 200 were seated in chairs in front of the platform.

Lieutenant-Governor Tweedie who formally opened the school said it was a monument to the intelligence and public spirit of the people of Hampton. The only way he added, to enable New Brunswick to take her proper place in the domain and in the world was to give the children the best possible education.

The speaker paid a glowing tribute to Sir William McDonald for his generous aid to the consolidation movement.

If a representative of the King of England were to visit this country, his honor said, many men who grained a little extra school tax would about themselves to show their loyalty. The loyalty of England or England's King, the loyalty of our own province and our own country. He urged all to work together for the benefit of the school and not criticize the trustees or teachers too much.

Before announcing the words which formally opened the school, Lieutenant Governor Tweedie paid a high compliment to the teachers of the province. He reminded the children that they also had a part to perform to keep up the honor of the school, and he offered a prize of $20 to

HAIR DRESSING FOR SMALL DAUGHTERS HAS BECOME AN ART

The Little Girl of Today has Quite as Much Attention Paid to the Care and Arrangement of Her Hair as Does Her Mother or Grown-up Sister.

Hair dressing for the little girl between the ages of four and fourteen has become an art. Tightly plastered locks and starched pigails belong to the child of the past. Miss Up-to-Date with clear complexion and rosy cheeks, has her face set in the softest frame of fluffy tresses, and her mother has no small task to keep them light and glossy.

In the first place the care of the hair should be developed into a duty of no small magnitude. When a child's scalp is healthy, the hair should be washed once a week with pure castile soap and lukewarm water. This gives it the loose, fluffy look that is so essential. The best and quickest method of shampooing is to shave a small piece of soap into very hot water and allow it to become thoroughly dissolved. Temper the water gradually until it does not burn the face of the scalp. Then, with the aid of a soft nail brush, which is kept expressly for the purpose, it is only a matter of five or ten minutes' work for the mother to cleanse the scalp and hair.

Whatever the age of the child this simple shampoo is most effective. Care should be taken, however, that the hair and scalp are thoroughly dried, using plenty of dry towels and fanning vigorously at the end. To prevent any danger of dandruff, many mothers wash a child's head just before putting her to bed.

Should the scalp show any signs of dandruff or if it is naturally dry, a reliable tonic should be applied regularly and the weekly shampoo continued as above. About the safest and most effective is Hericade, because it contains no lead, sulphur or copper and it will destroy dandruff germs. Borax or ammonia should be used in these frequent washings if the hair is to be permitted to grow long and luxuriant, as they dry out all natural secretions.

As present as this shampooing process may seem, it is unquestionably the secret of the extremely pretty hair of the little girl of today and lays the foundation for beautiful silken tresses when she grows to womanhood.

In the matter of the daily dressing of the hair, mothers have no end of little girl coiffures from which to choose. For the Russian style, cut short and bobbing around the ears and neck, has long been a general favorite. Practical and comfortable as it is, unfortunately it is the extremely boyish look which it gives.

The latter is relieved somewhat by parting the hair on either side of the head at the front and tying the intervening locks at the top of the head. Or for the very young child, the hair is parted in a perfectly straight line with the nose. Several strands on either side of the forehead are caught each in a small bunchy bow of soft ribbon. This style of hair dressing is becoming only to a child with a rather low brow.

The particular charm in either of these rather severe styles, lies in the freshness and brightness of the hair, which is the result of the use of the hair brush. The modern little girl has to have hair ribbon galore and a fancy basket kept especially for them is not only necessary, but they can be preserved with any kind of smoothness. Even then they must be folded over the fingers every time they are taken off, and washed with soap and water. With constant handling a ribbon loses its dressing very quickly. The young miss, who has a large supply of hair ribbons received most of them from her aunts and uncles on various birthdays and Christmas days. She is proud of her pretty head of hair and even more particular that it shall be prettily arranged and tied, so whenever questioned is always some special color and kind of hair ribbon.

Unless a child's hair has a wiry straightness, Mrs. H. Russell Sturges, Mrs. Frances Harding, Dr. Margaret Parson, Miss Edna Austin, Miss Bertie Hegan and Miss Vera McLaughlin.

NEW TRIAL IN THE EDGECOMBE CASE

Frederick, N. B., Nov. 7.—Miss Margaret Smith died at her home on Brunswick street this afternoon after a brief illness from paralysis. She was a daughter of the late Robert Smith, of Marguerite and leaves one brother, George Smith, and four sisters—Mrs. Carrie Carman and Miss Amelia, Julia and Ann, all of whom reside with her.

Lieutenant Geoffrey Chrysler, of the Royal Regiment, Halifax, has been transferred to the city and reported for duty today.

The supreme court this afternoon made a start on the special paper. In King vs. Wathen, ex parte VanBuskirk, court continued.

F. B. Carvell, M. P., of Woodstock, presented his K. C. commission and was sworn in as a member of the bar.

Edgcombe vs. McArthur was next taken up. Dr. Curry, K. C., for plaintiff, moved for a new trial of this case, which was an action for slander and assault tried in September last at the St. John circuit court, resulting in verdict for defendant. Amelia, Julia and Ann, all of whom reside with her.

During the argument Judge Barker expressed the opinion that the jury were wrong in declaring that there was no assault.

Judge Gregory remarked that he thought there should be a new trial on the ground that the jury had evidently disregarded the evidence. The case is still before the court.

FOOTBALLISTS STALLED

Digby, N. S., Nov. 7.—The U. N. B. football team arrived here en route for home this afternoon, after having played point, owing to the steamer Prince Rupert not having crossed the bay because of the storm.

The railway company will be asked to defray the expenses of their enforced stop over.

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 7.—Rev. Father Burke and Jas. Read, M. P., of P. E. Island, came over to the mainland today to address the Sackville and Moncton boards of trade in the interest of the tunnel project. They were at Sackville tonight and will be here tomorrow night.

Stanfield's Underwear

(Chapter 4)

Spinning the Yarn

The Stanfield mills are monuments to the value of good machinery. The wonderful spinning machines do an incredible amount of work, and do it better than even the best spinning wheels can do.

As the Maritime farmers send their best wool to the Stanfield mills, it is washed—carefully sorted—and shrunk. It then goes to the combing machines, which comb out all short lengths, weak strands, and leave only the toughest, springiest wool.

This goes to the Spinning Machines, where 18 machines do the work of 16,546 women with spinning wheels.

It is by using such improvements that Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear can be so good and yet cost so little.

The pure Nova Scotia wool—the best in the world for Underwear—insures warmth, comfort and wear. The Stanfield process of taking the shrink out of the wool, before the garments are woven, makes absolutely unshrinkable underwear.

The Stanfield way of combing, knitting, cutting and sewing (which will be described later) insures the completed garments being satisfactory in every way.

Stanfield's Underwear is made right here in Canada. There is no duty to pay on it. It is made by Canadians, who know what Canadians need in the way of protection for Canadian winters.

It is made in all sizes for men and women—from 22 to 70 inches.

STANFIELDS LIMITED - TRURO, N. S.

JOHN STANFIELD ACCEPTS IN SPIE OF ALL THREATS

Head of Big Truro Manufacturing Concern Nominated by Colchester Conservatives for Dominion House—Liberals Choose Charles Hill.

Truro, N. S., Nov. 7.—John Stanfield, of Truro, a large employer of labor and a prominent manufacturer, was today unanimously nominated by the Colchester Conservative convention to contest Colchester for the vacancy in the house of commons caused by the appointment of F. A. Leveson to the supreme court bench. Mr. Stanfield is the managing director of Stanfield, Limited.

The Liberals met in convention at the same hour, also in Truro. Their nominee is Charles Hill, of Onslow, a well known member for Colchester in the local house. Both men are considered to be strong candidates.

A sensation occurred at the Conservative nomination at Truro when a minority of the board of directors of the Stanfield, Limited, informed John Stanfield that they had decided to give him the company he could not accept the nomination. He accordingly presented the following letter to the convention. After, however, at a public meeting he announced that he would accept the nomination and that he would buy all the stock offered by any dissatisfied shareholders:

"Gentlemen—I am fully aware that my name has been prominently before you, as a candidate to represent the party in the coming contest. I must freely and without equivocation tell you that I was prepared to accept a nomination, if it was the choice of the party, and to endeavor to wrest the county from the hands of the Liberals and the supreme court bench. I am, I now extremely regret to be obliged to withdraw my name as a candidate of the board of directors of the Stanfield, Limited, of which I am the president, a minority of that board advised me that the conditions of my contract with the company enabled them to prevent me from taking any part in any election as a candidate and that they would not join me, should I become your candidate and offer myself as such to the electorate. Therefore, I must withdraw my name as a candidate in the coming contest. I may say that I have good reason to believe that the action of the minority of my board and the result of the manipulation of these whose sympathies are with the Liberals. Fully realizing the awkwardness of the situation I now respectfully ask you, the delegates, to retire and conclude your deliberations." (Signed) "JOHN STANFIELD."

The Indian is now under the ban of the U. S. A. U. will support their rulings. This means that if the Halifax team enters the race they will come under the ban of the A. A. U. which will prevent them participating in any meetings in the United States or Canada, excepting "southern" meets under the C. O. A. U. It will also prevent them from competing in the Olympic games to be held in London next year.

General Sporting Notes

The Liverpool autumn handicap for 1907 is expected to attract attention. Capt. W. H. Darrell, winner of the diamond sculls at Henley this year, has just been married to Miss Jessie Bainbridge, an English belle.

Wrestling has a firm hold on the English public. The latest match is between English and French, for £250 a side.

The Amateur Football Association announces that the Amateur Club football ground will this season be reserved exclusively for matches in which their affiliated clubs take part, excluding the Oxford Cambridge and army-navy matches.

MARTIN AND McINNIS LEAD ANTI-JAP FIGHT

Former Premier of British Columbia Will Lead Exclusion League Forces in Next Elections.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 7.—Joe Martin, former premier of British Columbia, is regarded as practically certain to lead the exclusion league forces in the next dominion election and will in all likelihood be assisted by W. B. McINNIS, former premier of the Klondike. Besides making a special party for the labor and exclusionist vote the new party will seek aid from the disgruntled Liberals and Conservatives and endeavor to elect candidates between the two main parties.

A MATTER OF ECONOMY.

If the thousand and one things about the house that make men go into the market for bread, are not counted, but bunched together in one, it would not be so difficult to stop the leak. But they are usually such trivial things that it takes more than a sharp and ever-watchful eye to keep expenses down.

In flour, for instance, we buy a four that our grocer recommends. He doesn't know for what particular purpose we want it—and it sells pretty well—so he sends it out. The flour may be good, but perhaps it takes a long time to knead. Or it may take more flour to make a batch of bread than it ought to. Or we may want it for cakes and pastry and it won't give the light, appetizing cake, or short crust in the pie that we expect. Most of us have found trouble of this kind.

If we had time to compare one brand with another, some household leaks would be avoided, and some household tempers would disappear. There is a big difference in flour. Some flour turns out a perfect baking, seems to do equally well for bread and pastry.

Blended Flour—made from Ontario fall wheat and Manitoba spring wheat, blended in just the right proportions—makes baking a pleasure, and is winning unexampled favor in the kitchens of careful housewives. It makes better bread, lighter cakes, more wholesome pastry and biscuits.

Note it, good housekeepers, and use Blended Flour next time.

Skowhegan, Me., Nov. 7.—John Williams, proprietor of the corner Hotel, at Somerset Junction, was brought here today and locked up on a charge of manslaughter, on account of the killing of Harry Shogreen at the hotel last Tuesday. According to the police, Williams admitted the shooting, saying that Shogreen had been ejected from the hotel and afterward returned and tried to batter down the front door with an axe. Williams asserted that he shot the intruder in self-defense.

In a statement made to a justice of the peace a short time before his death, Shogreen is said to have exonerated Williams from blame. The prisoner will be given a hearing in court tomorrow.

J. N. Pugsley, of Parrsboro, was registered at the Royal yesterday.

HE ATE POISON IVY

An illustration of how Zam-Buk heals and closes poisoned wounds is provided by Mr. G. W. Stimers, of Colborne. He says: "Some time ago in consequence of eating poisoned ivy I broke out in sores on my head and face. I went to a doctor who treated me, and for a time the wounds healed, but they broke out again as bad as before, and all remedies I tried failed to give me relief. A sample box of Zam-Buk which I purchased a proper supply. The result of its work has been a complete cure. The sores have healed without leaving any scars, and indeed there is now no trace of them. The glands in my throat had become swollen and hard. These symptoms also have been cured by application of Zam-Buk." Absolutely pure, Zam-Buk is nature's balm, and for all skin diseases is without equal. Zam-Buk will also cure ulcers, festering sores, ringworm, cuts, bruises, chapped hands, boils, eczema, piles, etc., etc. Write Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for free trial box, sending 1c. stamp. All stores and druggists sell at 20 cents a box.

Beverly, Mass., Nov. 7.—Clifford McCasland, four years old, son of former Alderman Harold E. McCasland, accidentally shot and killed himself today. With his brother, Charles, aged six, and his young sister, Clifford gained access to his father's desk and secured a loaded revolver. The revolver was discharged while Clifford was playing with it and the boy was shot in the head, dying later at the city hospital.

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., Nov. 8.—Whitelaw Reid, U. S. ambassador, delivered a speech on Anglo-Saxon trade relations at a dinner here last night given by the Nottingham chamber of commerce, of which he was a guest. Referring to the amount of trade carried on between the United States and Great Britain, Mr. Reid said: "Neither of us is trading with the other out of benevolence or philanthropy, we are doing it on both sides mainly because we think we are thus getting the most for our money."

"This being the case should not be, who for spleen or petty political demagoguery utters a word or does an act to interrupt the present friendly relations between such customers, be criticised as one of the most disgraceful as well as one of the most pernicious of the public enemies."

EXMOUTH ST. Y. M. A.

Annual Meeting and Election of Officers Last Evening.

The Exmouth street Methodist Y. M. A. held their first annual meeting last night in the parlors of the church. Reports were submitted by the president, secretary-treasurer and other officers of the association, and showed the organization to be in a flourishing condition.

Extensive improvements have been made to the hall (formerly Glad Tidings), on Brussels street. New windows have been put in the front, and commodious rooms for Sunday school purposes have been fitted up in the lower floor. The building will be finished along strictly modern lines. The apartments devoted to Y. M. A. purposes will be ready in a very short time, and while by no means the largest, will rank among the finest of the kind in the city.

The civic fair, held for the purpose of raising sufficient funds to meet expenses incurred by repairs, was a grand success, netting $355.90.

The reports of the Y. M. A. for the year showed a balance on hand of $121.17, which, when added to the proceeds of the fair, brings the treasury up to $397.20. Officers for the ensuing year were elected: first vice-president, W. J. Drake; second vice-president, E. E. Thoms; third vice-president, T. F. Byles; fourth vice-president, Roy Henderson; recording secretary, W. J. Magee; financial secretary, Charles McFarlane; treasurer, W. E. A. Leavens; chaplain, George Breen. Rev. S. Howard is honorary president, and the committee of management is composed of the officers of the Y. M. A. with W. A. Adams and R. Dalzell, together with two officers from the quarterly board of the church.

This organization is only a year old, and the rapid forward strides it has made during the past twelve months may safely be taken as an indication of still greater success in the coming year.
