Fifty Provincial Constables Leave Halifax Today For Cape Breton

SYDNEY, N. S., June 13—Further depredations by the striking miners of the British Empire Steel Corporation, which now include the burning of the company's store at Caledonia, early this morning, and the alleged beating up of a number of officials at New Waterford, last night, were being investigated today.

In the meantime the vanguard of permanent troops, numbering 800 in command of Lieut. Col. W. H. R. Elkin, called out under the Militia Act to assist the civil powers in the restoration of law and order, were remaining in their quarters at the steel plant.

INQUEST TODAY

It was announced last night, that the inquest into the death of William Davis, shot down during an attack by strikers, at the New Waterford power plant, would open this morning, and might possibly pave the way for an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the killing.

MORE POLICE SENT

HALIFAX, N. S., June 13—A second detachment of provincial police, numbering about 80, entrained here last night for the affected areas in the Cape Breton coal field and these, according to a statement made this morning by Attorney General W. J. Ahearn, will probably be added to during the next few days. The first detachment of provincial police left here on Thursday night and took up their quarters at the plant of the Steel Company at Sydney yesterday.

Industry Follows Hydro In Nfld.; New Dock at St. John's

Canadian Press.

MONTREAL, June 13.—Since Grand Lake and Deer Lake were harnessed for electrical power, that part of Newfoundland between Howley and the Bay of Islands has become a hive of industry, said Dr. N. S. Fraser, of St. John's, here last night en route to the convention of the Canadian Medical Association at Regina.

A new dock which will accommodate ocean steamers, will be completed at St. John's within the next year, and in the meantime the construction work will relieve the unemployment situation. A large hotel and four mill will probably be erected in the city shortly.

20 LABORITES JOIN GOV'T ON TARIFF ISSUE

Back Imperial Preference in House of Commons Division

KILL AMENDMENT

Protectionist Papers See Change in Line of Thought on Whole Matter

Canadian Press.

LONDON, June 13.—The division in the House of Commons last evening on Imperial preference, in which 20 Laborites supported the Government, and their spokesman said another dozen, who were absent, would have done likewise if present, has made quite a lively stir in political quarters. It was warmly hailed by the protectionist newspapers as a sign that a new line of thought is prevailing among Labor men on the tariff question.

YEAR'S CONTRAST

It is recalled that a year ago, during the Labor administration, when the present Premier submitted resolutions giving effect to the decisions of the Imperial conference in favor of preference duties, only five Laborites supported him. The contrast between that occasion and yesterday's vote is much emphasized, while the fact that five Liberals also went to the Government lobby yesterday further pleases those supporting the tariff.

GROWTH ADMITTED

The Laborite newspapers admit that a steadily growing in the Labor party favors a modified imperial preference, but point out that those opposing the scheme are much more numerous and include former Premier MacDonald, Philip Snowden and other prominent Laborites.

SUMMER TOURS FROM ENGLAND VIA SAINT JOHN

R. E. Armstrong, Home From Old Country, Brings Suggestion

MORE LITERATURE AT WEMBLEY NEEDED

Hopes for Closer Maritime Touch When Canada's Building Opened.

"Saint John and the Province of New Brunswick," remarked R. E. Armstrong who returned yesterday from Great Britain as a passenger on the steamer Manchester Merchant, "have every reason to be proud of their close connection with the dear old Motherland and of the excellent shipping facilities that the Canadian Pacific Steamships, the Manchester liners, and other winter and summer lines that do business through this port in winter and summer extend to this eastern section of Canada.

GOOD STEAMSHIPS

"I was greatly impressed on my recent visit to Great Britain with the splendid passenger and traffic facilities that Canadian Pacific Steamships, such as the 'Montroyal,' supply this port. This ship is not only supplied with comfortable and attractive rooms, but it has many other equipments of the most enjoyable nature. There were some noteworthy passengers on the Montroyal's last trip from Saint John and they enjoyed practically every minute that they were on board. Fortunately the seas were very steady, so that there were no discomforts. Captain Turnbull was very kind and kept his passengers supplied with daily information as to the ship's location, the progress it was making, as well as other news of an informing character.

"While the Manchester Merchant, on which I returned, has not the extensive passenger equipment that the C. P. M's steamers have, yet it has a fine type of officers and men and excellent cargo facilities and associates this eastern port of Canada with one of the most active and progressive of Britain's great cities. Manchester is the fourth largest port in the world and while nature has not provided it with the close ocean connection that most other ports have, yet human effort has made amends for this forgetfulness on a large scale. The Manchester Merchant is a canal system that extends all other canals throughout the world. This canal was entered upon in 1885. It was completed in 1890 and was opened to Manchester in January, 1894.

SHIP CANAL

"The Manchester Ship Canal is 35 miles in length, 28 feet in depth, and in the width is from 290 feet to 370 feet at the top and from 120 feet to 170 feet wide at the bottom. It is capable of taking vessels of a dead weight carrying capacity of 15,000 tons. By means of a series of locks, vessels are lifted 68 ft. 6 in. in their passage from the mouth of the Mersey to Manchester. It is well equipped with docks, bridges and water and railway viaducts, spinning and weaving, as well as railway cranes, elevator systems and numerous other valuable appliances.

James Dunlop, Mr. and Mrs. Mullin left by automobile for a trip through New Brunswick and Maine.

RE-ORGANIZATION.

As the people of Lunenburg have in the winter for their town house in West Saint John, their sewing activities have to reorganize in the early summer. The reorganization meeting was held last evening at the home of Mrs. George Galbraith. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. R. Evans; vice-president, Mrs. William McAllister. Plans for the summer work were discussed.

IN THE MARKET.

There was a good supply of all kinds of green goods in the country market this morning. Strawberries were scarce at 40 cents a box. Spring chickens could be had by the early visitor at 75 cents a pound; fowls were fairly plentiful at 35 and 40 cents. Cucumbers were 20 cents each; eggs 85 cents a dozen and butter from 95 to 40 cents a pound. Meat prices remained about the same as they have been for some time.

COLLISIONS.

Several minor collisions occurred in Main street yesterday. In the evening, a horse and wagon, driven by J. Perchanock, collided with a street car in Main street, and the car was slightly damaged. An automobile, driven by D. Forsyth, East Saint John, and an auto truck, operated by E. Finley in Main street, collided last evening. Only slight damage was done. While crossing Main street yesterday, Allen Forester was struck by an auto truck, owned and operated by F. Fullerton, Long Reach. He was only slightly hurt.

OFFICERS CHOSEN.

The Ever Ready class of the Charlotte Baptist Church, West Saint John, held its annual meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Harold Dec, St. George street. Mrs. Joseph Taylor presided. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Taylor; vice-presidents, Mrs. William Byles, Mrs. Walter Pearce and Mrs. J. Richards; secretary, Mrs. E. J. Tucker; treasurer, Mrs. H. Dec; treasurer of Sunshine Fund, Mrs. S. White; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Fred Cummings; Mrs. C. Leonard was elected assistant secretary for the class. No. 4 group consisting of Mrs. Alexander Burnett, Mrs. Fred Allen and Mrs. Pearce assisted Mrs. Dec in serving the guests.

BASIS OF CLAIM TO ARCTIC LAND IS REVEALED

Territory Handed to Canada by Britain in 1880, Says Stewart

TITLE IS TERMED INCONTESTABLE

Navigators Who Visited Region Include Ross Franklin and Others.

OTTAWA, June 12.—Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, in a further statement issued tonight emphasizes that no new claims are being made for Canadian ownership of Northern Archipelago.

EXPEDITIONS SENT OUT.

"For years," he adds, "the Canadian government has been sending out expeditions and at much expense has established posts at Ellesmere, Devon and other islands."

Mr. Stewart also states that in 1859 Great Britain, by imperial order-in-council, transferred the Arctic archipelago to Canada.

So far as discovery goes Mr. Stewart says that the title of Great Britain and thus of Canada, to the northern islands is beyond question. With few exceptions all the known insular areas in the Canadian Arctic were discovered and formally taken possession of by British commissioned navigators from a century to three-quarters of a century ago.

Not Just a Roof—A Lasting Protection

For camps, summer cottages, boat houses and garages, Barrett Mineral-Surfaced Roll Roofing gives lasting protection. No leaks—so it never needs repairing. No rot, no rust, no fading—so it never needs any "upkeep" (painting, etc.). And it's absolutely fire-safe—flying sparks and embers can't set your house on fire.

Easy to lay! Barrett Mineral-Surfaced Roofing can be put on right over your present roof. This saves you the expense of ripping off the old shingles, and gives you a double-thick roof.

And attractive! Soft red, moss-green, or shadowy blue-black—its slate-surface is permanent and fadeless.

See the nearest Barrett dealer. Ask to see Barrett Mineral-Surfaced Roofing and other Barrett Roofings.

Write us today! Tell us the buildings you plan to roof or re-roof. We will send valuable free booklets containing information that will help solve your roofing problem.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JUNE 13, 1925.

MORE TRADE FOR THE PORTS.

The Maritime Provinces will watch sharply and anxiously, and not too patiently, developments at Ottawa looking to really active and direct measures to promote the greater use of Canadian ports.

The Railway Commission has been asked by the Government to give special attention to this question of the ports in revising the whole freight rate structure, and in doing so it will doubtless give close consideration to the position of the Transcontinental, to the fact that it is not being employed to anything like the extent justified by its grades and its mileage, and that it is not serving the purposes for which it was built.

Just now the House of Commons committee on the National Railways and Shipping, in the course of its report, directs attention to the need for an up-to-date steamship service with the West Indies, pointing out that the Dominion is in a position to supply practically all of the requirements of the trade of the islands, and that they in turn have the tropical products we need.

Parliament is fully aware of the extent of the economic loss this country is suffering through lack of better arrangements regarding West Indian trade. Not only are our ports and railways losing traffic to American competitors, but because we have long lacked up-to-date steamship communication, together with the stimulus of the right sort of preference, we are neglecting a great volume of new business that would be created through a profitable exchange of products.

These are matters in which Saint John and this whole province are vitally interested, because the right solution of the problems will not only mean more business for the port but would enlarge the market for many New Brunswick products, besides enabling us, and all Canada, to bring in our tropical products direct and to increase our use of them.

Parliament, too, should face squarely the great question of recovering for our own ports and railways the immense volume of our traffic which goes through Buffalo, New York and Portland.

WORDS OF REBUKE.

Officers of the American army and navy who have been disposed to see menaces to the safety of their country in the naval and military preparations of other nations are told by President Coolidge that their suspicions are unfounded, and that it is highly undesirable to express such ideas publicly.

In the course of an address to the graduating class at the United States Naval Academy, Mr. Coolidge discussed peace and war, and once more asserted the good intentions of his nation toward all the world. He said that although ultimately believed peace would prevail, he had too much knowledge of the history of mankind and too much experience with the traits of human nature to dare to assert that the United States would never again be engaged in war.

questioned; others cannot rely having any of us question theirs. We should not forget that in the world over the general attitude and one of the strongest attributes of all peoples is a desire to do right."

Soldiers and sailors of high rank in the United States, who occasionally for some time past have advocated increased military and naval preparation in order that their country might be made safe against attacks by foreign nations, are thus mildly but directly rebuked by their Commander-in-Chief. The President expressed himself as believing in adequate military preparedness, but he said that if his country is to promote peace on earth it must have a great deal more than the power of the sword; it must "call into action the spiritual and moral forces of mankind."

He voiced disapprobation of large standing military forces in the United States, saying that the duty of national defence, like the general duty of citizenship, should be broadly extended and borne by all the people rather than depend upon the maintenance of a great standing army.

The policy of more and more armaments, he felt, would mean more and more hatreds and suspicions, with the certainty of one war after another. The chief reliance of the world, he said, is faith. "Both by necessity and by choice," he continued, "the whole world is against war. Our own country is disarmed, has adopted the policy of limitation of naval armaments, has voluntarily imposed restrictions upon the traffic in arms, and is taking part in negotiations to secure an agreement to extend such restriction among other nations. The policy of peace through reason rather than peace through force is one in which America has taken and ought always to continue to take a leading part."

TRADE RELATIONS.

Recently the Washington Post, which is described as an administration newspaper, spoke of the possibility of reciprocity between the United States and Canada. The Post is evidently not talking about the sort of reciprocity that Canada might consider. It sees in the development of Western Canada "an invaluable safety valve for American manufacturers and industrial products of many kinds."

Apparently the Post contemplates some arrangement whereby Canada would abolish the tariff on American manufactured goods in return for the free admission of our natural products into the United States. In the public speeches of President Coolidge and members of his administration there has been nothing to warrant the view that they are meditating trade negotiations with Canada, but in any event this country, greatly as it needs better markets for its natural products, would not buy access to them at the expense of its own industries.

The question of how much protection or how little is wise is by no means settled in Canada, but even in 1911, when reciprocity was the issue, it was not proposed that we should abolish the tariff on American manufactured goods. On the theory that the American farmer could be protected against foreign competition by a high tariff, the dominant party in the United States has imposed almost prohibitive duties upon many of our natural products.

There is no evidence of a change of sentiment at Washington so far as that is concerned, but the American farmers have continued to complain of lack of prosperity, and recently the wheat growers there were advised by Secretary Hoover and others to limit their acreage, with the idea that if the crop did not exceed domestic requirements the influence of foreign wheat, principally Canadian, upon domestic prices would disappear. Farmers did not greatly reduce their acreage, apparently not believing much in the plan, but nature has intervened and bad conditions for winter wheat, which have been very extensive in the American West, lead now to the prediction that there may be no exportable wheat surplus in the United States this year.

Should that be the case the Hoover theory will be tested. For the present at least reciprocity appears to be a dead issue, owing to the consistent trend of the American tariff policy. Should events in the United States lead to a re-opening of trade negotiations it would be found that while Canada would be glad of much freer access to the American market for its natural products it would be by no means willing to open its doors to the American manufacturer to the point of destroying its own industrial fabric.

"No single factor has had such an unsettling influence on Europe as security—or the lack of it," says the New York Times. "So long as it was not assured, fear of a new war was uppermost in French minds. It follows, therefore, that if the problem of France's German frontier is at last settled, much of the uncertainty will disappear. This would indeed be a great contribution to European peace. With reparation payments provided for by the Dawes plan and French security assured by a regional treaty, Western Europe, at least, would at last be well on the road to full recovery from the war."

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer"

What is Success? (Toronto Star.) In discussing success and the value of hard work a contemporary of the other day noted two of "the richest men in Canada" who had achieved their wealth through long and hard work.

Without suggesting that these two rich Canadians have failed of success—in case these lines should come under their notice—we would point out that the acquirement of riches does not necessarily mean that a man's life has been successful. In his own sight he may have met with failure. A man rich and solitary, must often say to himself that if he had his life to live over again he would spend it differently. He would, if he were a second time on earth, spend less of his time and energy in quest of profits, and more of it in cultivating intimate friendships with all sorts and conditions of men.

What is success? Whatever it may be, one cannot turn up Bradstreets and find it weighed, measured and listed there. Some men have won wealth, and yet their lives could not be described as anything but tragic failures. They had nearly every friend they ever lost, their domestic lives were filled with tragedy, and the plans they had formed came to nothing. Success cannot be determined by a man's financial rating. A well-to-do man, a great-grandfather, with a competence—with descendants who enjoy good health, good-nature, and live in good-will one with another and are comfortably situated—such an old man, a patriarch at family gatherings, and whom great griefs have not come near, has as sure a right to any man to feel that his life has been a success. His estate is large enough to suffice, but not large enough for heirs to quarrel about, for to covet while the old man still lives. Yet if he possessed sufficient means to permit him to discharge the duties and perform certain of those generous acts fitting in a parent, a grandfather and a great-grandfather, he would have a right to feel content. Sometimes wealth is a good thing in itself, and all else being equal it is a boon. A fine man may be all the finer for having it. It came by it by methods which did not cost him his fitness. But if a man sets out after wealth as an object in itself, if the acquisition of it is to be his goal of success, he is very likely to drop, pass by and leave away behind him many of the best things in life. He is apt to lose the priceless friendships of unselfish men, the intimacies of his children which would mean everything to him and them as they grow to be adults, and the ability to find content loafing by a stream with a book or growing plants in pots.

But if one is asked what is success, the answer is not easily given. A man succeeds in public life, becomes prime minister, meets with reverses and dies in comparative obscurity. A woman becomes a great singer, retires; next we hear she is living in poverty. A great actor or author drops out of view; he is ending his days in a sanitarium. Had these people success? Doubtless, after all, the most satisfactory lives are those which were the kindest in the complete meaning of the term.

Milady Ahoat. (Boston Transcript.) Women, on the line, are either very happy or very miserable—and yet never so happy and never so miserable as they think they are. The ship upssets their feminine balance, and they are depressed at sea. They enter very readily into deck spots, and generally they are not exclusive in their conversation when they are extended in their deck chairs under the blankets which man despise. Some women who are very staid on shore become quite wild on shipboard. Their relatives into a sort of coma. This seems to indicate a lack of adaptation to the sea on the part of the sex. It must be so.

cause men went to sea ages before women did. They become seafick more readily and generally than men do, thus appearing to prove the nervous origin of the malady. But they average up as good a time as the men do, because if there are some women on board who are profoundly miserable, there are others who are deliciously happy. The around-the-world habit is rapidly developing among American women. Thousands of them have girdled the earth.

Wonder Spots of The Empire

The Annapolis Valley, Nova Scotia (Copyright)

The beautiful valley of the Annapolis river, in the natural beauty of the river and valley, and the picturesque buildings of early settlers, is a view that has become famous throughout much of the civilized world in picture, story and poem. Its beauty has been immortalized in Longfellow's poem, Evangeline.

Artists, colorists and authors have flocked, however, to reveal all the wonders of the Annapolis valley in the full flood of spring glory. Modern color plates in the hands of a skilled photographer may be shown to visitors of its richness, but only one who travels through it can begin to appreciate its fascinations and its charms. They are almost overpowering in their appeal to the eye and the heart; they cannot be duplicated anywhere.

The wonderful valley is visited annually by large numbers of tourists, and though many come too late in the season to see it in apple blossom time, there are beauties at all seasons that help to explain why its own people like it and the visitor goes back again and again.

The valley is some sixty miles in length and runs in a slight curve to the nearby southern shore of the Bay of Fundy. Its western extremity is Wolfville and Grand Pre. These places are shown to visitors in the locality where lived the figures in Longfellow's poem. Several relics are pointed out, including a well from which Evangeline came often to draw water.

How Old is Ann at Forty?

(New York Times.)

The Victorian girlhood of the woman who is now forty was perplexed by that problem. How old is Ann? Her Georgian present is unperturbed. Being as young as she looks, Ann is and will remain twenty. Thoroughly addressing the Royal Institute of Public Health, Dr. Percy Hall set forth an observation quite familiar. Under the late dear Queen, "a woman of forty was an old woman who wore voluminous flannel petticoats and a shawl around her shoulders while she sat by the fire crocheting. Today she 'looks twenty,' plays golf and tennis during the day, jizzes far into the night and comes down first to breakfast without the temper of a bear." But Dr. Hall's professional diagnosis sickles over this otherwise bright prospect with the pale cast of thought. The transformation has been accomplished, he says, simply by casting away superfluous clothes and wearing silk next the skin. One wonders whether tennis may not be ranked as a cause of youth extension rather than an effect. One seems to have observed that there are lipstick and rouge, and that the mother of forty (twenty) permits her daughter of twenty (forty) to use them with a spirit that may not be as open and liberal as it seems.

Especially one wonders what the woman who was forty under Victoria would say to Dr. Hall's description of her. She might recall that the newest and by far the greatest of the new women were of that era; that, whatever their petticoats were made of, George Eliot and Mrs. Browning did much besides sit by the fire and crochet. They knew the strength that comes from "a life lived fully and at leisure through all its ages." Doubtless they were aware that sunny men, possibly including physicians, permit themselves to be deceived by what Bacon called "the arts cosmetic." But they lacked the art of deceiving themselves. And it is quite true that the woman of forty who has golfed and tennis all day and juzzed all night comes down to breakfast with a shining morning face and temper? Not unless she "comes down first" and is spared the

LARGE NUMBER AT NETHERWOOD

Programme at Closing School Exercises at Rothersey Much Enjoyed

Bishop Richardson Praises Valedictory by Miss Helen Cannel—Prizes Announced.

Closing of the Netherwood School for Girls on the grounds at Rothersey yesterday afternoon enjoyed an exceptionally large attendance. There are eight members of this year's class: Misses Ruth Harrison, Margaret Peters, Helen Cannel, Marjorie Shaw, Muriel Tapley, Constance Watson, Elizabeth Jones and Marguerite Blight.

THE VALEDICTORY.

Miss Helen Cannel for the theme of her valedictory took the words of Longfellow, concerning the maiden with reluctant feet standing where the brook and river meet. She pictured the sheltered school days at Netherwood and the coming entry upon the broad stream of life where the chart received at Netherwood would serve as a sure and certain guide. The class of 1925, she said, would go forth with hope and high courage, striving to live up to the school motto, and the graduates would deem themselves indeed fortunate if they were able to reflect credit on their school.

BISHOP RICHARDSON.

Bishop Richardson in his address congratulated the school upon the success it had attained in its growth and her colleagues on the school's achievement. While he felt the public school system of the province had great merit, of necessity the public schools must deal with pupils en masse, and he felt that Netherwood in caring for its pupils as individuals was contributing something very much worth while to the province.

In turn he congratulated the pupils, the staff, the prizes association and those who had not won prizes, but would work hard and win them next year. In congratulating the graduates he declared that one reason why Netherwood had done so well was because of the spirit of love and loyalty found in the "Old Girls." Netherwood had always stood for a fine type of the womanhood, and he and every parent was proud of the school.

Bishop Richardson told the graduates they would find they were not going out to the joy of freedom, but to encounter the beginning of restrictions when they tackled the problems they would face in the world. But he believed the next five years would be the happiest in their lives, and he warned them that in those years they would acquire habits and principles which would decide their future. He gave special praise to the valedictory, declaring it to have been the best delivered and best thought out valedictory he had heard. In closing he prayed God's blessing might rest upon the pupils and the school.

PRIZES PRESENTED.

Rev. F. J. LeRoy presented the prizes for French and spoke of his pleasure in hearing so many pupils who had made honors in French. He looked forward to the time when the rising generation would know how to speak French and the two nations English and French would be drawn closer together. He was glad Netherwood had blazed the trail in having its pupils learn the French of the French people and not merely the French of books. In such teaching he thought the pupils got nearer to the heart of the French people. He felt he had a part in Netherwood since his sister was the teacher of French there.

Miss Ganong presented the badges to those who had been most helpful throughout the year and presented the leaving certificates to the eight members of the graduating class, who have McGill matriculation standing with advanced work in special subjects. She said she must speak in defence of the young people of today who were being so much criticized and warned that she found they were more delightful each year.

Miss Alice Walker presented the prize which is given by Dr. Francis Walker. She explained that this year it was given for reading only, instead of as in former years for reading, writing and spelling. Dr. Walker believed that of the three, reading was of first importance and being unable to be present he sent his good wishes for the winner of his prize and for the school.

TROPHY GIVEN.

Others who made the presentation of prizes were Mrs. D. V. White, on behalf of the "Old Girls" Association; Mrs. F. R. Taylor, who presented the basketball trophy to Miss Dorothy Bell's team; Miss A. Bernice Dennis, who presented the shield won by the white team, captained by Miss Ruth Harrison; and Mrs. H. W. Heans, who presented the prize given by the class of 1911.

"Old Girls" Meet

Miss Alice Tilley was elected president of the Netherwood Old Girls' Association at the annual meeting of the association held last night at the home of Miss Helen Allison in Rothersey. The meeting was well attended and before the business session a delicious supper was served to the business ladies, Miss Helen Allison, Miss Margaret Tilley and Miss Alice Tilley. For the business session the retiring president, Mrs. Douglas White, was in the chair. The new officers elected were as follows: President, Miss Alice Tilley; vice-president, Miss Margaret MacLaren; secretary, Miss Helen Cannel; and treasurer, Miss Ruth Robinson. Miss Elizabeth Armstrong was appointed convener for the entertainment committee.

The chief business of the meeting was the preparing of the list of prizes to be given by the members of the association for the pupils of the school next year. It was decided to give prizes for history in the junior and senior schools, for the McGill examinations, being written by this year's graduates, for mathematics in the junior and senior schools, for reading and penmanship in the junior schools and a sewing prize for the senior school. All of these prizes will be given by individual members. The association will present its usual cup for tennis doubles.

BOY CHARGED WITH KILLING TEACHER

Fourteen Year Old Youth Held in South—Alleged Trouble Over Disciplining.

BROOKHAVEN, Miss., June 13.—Noland Stubblefield, second 14-year-old Mississippi youth to face a murder charge within a month is accused of killing A. K. Watkins, his school principal. The boy told of the slaying, officers said, following his capture in a dense wood near the spot where the body of Professor Watkins was found with a shotgun charge in the breast.

Professor Watkins is said to have incurred the enmity of young Stubblefield by efforts to discipline him. Rumors of friction between the principal and his pupils led to a meeting of the school trustees at which 108 parents were present. The meeting voted 100 to 8 to retain Professor Watkins, and four of the eight negative votes cast, it is said, were by members of the Stubblefield family.

Police said the boy admitted killing Professor Watkins, "to get rid of him." Waiting until his father and mother were away from home, the boy is alleged to have taken his father's shotgun and shot at the Watkins home, where several of the principal's children were playing, and fired a shot over their heads as a ruse to draw his intended victim from the house.

As Professor Watkins went down the road to investigate, he passed a clump of bushes, from which a shot was fired at close range.

LOST GEMS FOUND, BUT BADLY BURNED

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Jewels, Thought Lost Taken From Grate.

LONDON, June 13.—Diamonds and pearls lay in the fire at a woman's home near St. Martin's Lane for five hours. The pearls had melted, and the diamonds were disclosed before they were rescued. Even the woman's wedding ring did not escape.

The discovery of the jewels followed the visit of two Bow street detectives to a flat occupied by Mrs. Florence Reed, a professional singer, to investigate the supposed mysterious loss of the property valued at thousands of dollars.

Mrs. Reed had placed the gems in a handkerchief in her dress for safety. She had been unpacking her trunks after a visit to South Africa, and it is thought that the jewellery fell to the floor and was thrown on the fire with a quantity of tissue paper from the trunks.

RAISED CHECK CASE GONE INTO

Four Witnesses Heard for the Prosecution at Yesterday's Hearing

Witnesses Tell of Lampert's Actions and Conversation at Quebec Last Month.

The preliminary hearing in the case of Max Lampert charged by David Carleton with forgery was resumed in the police court yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Henderson. K. A. Wilson appeared for the prosecution and G. Eric Logan for the defendant. The case will be continued on June 20.

David Carleton was the first witness and testified that on May 25 he and the accused attended a bridge party and witness borrowed $18 from Lampert. Later in the night Lampert asked for the money back and witness said to see him in the morning. Carleton was leaving for Quebec and Lampert met him at the depot. Witness said that he had not cashed on Lampert's request he signed a check for $18 Lampert doing the writing, as witness could not write in English although he could sign his name. Since that time the original check was changed from $18 to $113. Witness said that afterwards he had made out a check for $96.25, and when it was presented and he had learned that his account had been overdrawn it was then discovered that the check he had given to Lampert had been raised. Later, while in a Quebec hotel in company with Lampert, Herman David and Romeo Drolet, witness offered to purchase an automobile tire from Lampert and offered a check for the amount, but Lampert refused a check saying that he could not cash it in Quebec but could if he was in Saint John.

CHECK RAISED.

Witness then produced a telegram he had received from Saint John informing him that the $18 check he had given to Lampert had been cashed for $113. He showed the telegram to Lampert and accused him of raising the check, and Lampert said, "You owe me $2,000 and that's the way I got some of it." Lampert further said that he did it to get money out of witness. Carleton testified that he obtained the cashed check from the Standard Bank when he returned to Saint John from Quebec, and identified the check when produced in court as the one he had given to Lampert, and pointed out the changes that had been made to it.

Mr. Logan witness said that he was Lampert's brother-in-law, and they had been fighting for a long time. Witness said that he had Lampert arrested in Quebec early this month because Lampert had a revolver and threatened the life of witness. Lampert was placed in jail but witness did not say that he would accept $100 to withdraw the case. He did withdraw the case, however, for the reason that Lampert's wife was ill. Later on, he said, that Lampert had $100 in goods to the amount of $1,000 and charged witness with having him arrested falsely and Lampert made the statement that he had done it to show that he was right.

HERMAN DAVID.

Herman David, a resident of Boston, testified that he was in conversation with Lampert in Quebec on Thursday, June 4 about Carleton, when Lampert arrived from Saint John $100 in cash, of which Carleton, he owed me $13. I went to the train to get my money. I caught him at the train. I asked him for $13 and he said he had no cash. I asked for a check. He put down $18 on the check and signed it, then I added a 1 and made it $113, took it to the bank and cashed it."

ROMEO DROLET.

Romeo Drolet, a resident of Quebec, testified that on June 2 he was in a Quebec hotel room when Carleton called Lampert about an automobile tire, and when Carleton offered a check to Lampert the latter said that he wanted cash money, and Carleton said, "You get a check from me for $13 and cashed it for $113 instead of for $13. Lampert replied, 'You owe me $2,000. I had to do it because I have received nothing from you yet.'"

G. L. DAWSON.

G. L. Dawson, accountant with the Standard Bank, Saint John, was called and said that Carleton had an account with the bank. The check was produced and identified by the witness as one that had been presented at the bank.

At this stage of the hearing Mr. Wilson and Mr. Logan informed the court that as the persons involved in the case had another case coming up in the Quebec court, that Mr. Dawson could be recalled to produce the bank records, and further that the teller of the bank who cashed the check would be called to testify, they asked that the preliminary hearing be adjourned until a later date. This was sanctioned by the Magistrate, and the case will be resumed on Saturday, June 20, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Welcome For Boston Visitors Is Planned

Plans for the reception to be tendered to the members of the Boston Canadian Club on June 24 when they are in Saint John this month were further considered at a meeting of the joint committee composed of members of the Saint John Men's Canadian Club and Women's Canadian Club held yesterday afternoon in the office of the president of the men's club, Colonel E. C. Weyman. While no definite acceptance of the Saint John club's invitation has been received from Boston, the coming of the members of the Boston club is assured, the number of those in the delegation being the only matter in doubt. It is expected that the members of the Boston club will spend four days in Saint John. On the evening of June 24 the two local Canadian clubs will host for a reception and dance.

Weddings

Devlin-Wallace. The wedding of Miss Emma T. Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Wallace of this city, and Harold James Devlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Devlin, also of this city, was solemnized in St. John's (Stone) church on May 28 by Rev. A. L. Fleming. The bride was attended by Mrs. C. W. Izard, while the groomsmen were C. W. Izard. Following the ceremony, the wedding party went to Mr. and Mrs. Izard's home, where the wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Devlin will make their home in the city.

After the ceremony and congratulations the happy couple left by auto amid showers of confetti and

REV. DR. NELSON TELLS PRESBYTERIAN LOBBY STORY TO ASSEMBLY

Causes Storm When Effort is Made at Putting Him on Committee; Creates Astonishment and Mixed Emotions

TORONTO, June 12.—The Assembly of the Continuing Presbyterian Church had a stormy half-hour today over the appointment of three members to the Federal Commission to deal with the general property and these six to appoint the others. The committee also recommended the appointment of an advisory committee to the three named and recommended that the three commissioners be allowed to employ counsel when necessary.

STORM STARTED

The storm started when Rev. Dr. Kennedy Palmer of Hamilton moved that the report be referred back to the committee with recommendation that Rev. Dr. S. Banks Nelson, of Hamilton, be placed on the Commission. Dr. Nelson, after telling of his efforts in Ottawa and before the Ontario Legislature, announced bluntly: "I want to be on the Commission."

Dr. Nelson told how he had labored with the senators at Ottawa to get the ballot vote and how he had coached Colonel J. A. Currie, M. L. A., and M. M. McBride, M. L. A., in getting an amendment in the Ontario Legislature. He had even worried Premier Ferguson, he stated. The request to be put on the Commission and the inside story of the "lobby" of Dr. Nelson at Toronto and Ottawa created mixed feelings of approval and astonishment in the assembly.

GOING TO NOVA SCOTIA.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Morrell and their niece, Miss Rosemary Baker, of Chevy Chase, Maryland, near Washington, were in the city yesterday on their way to Kegonsacouge, N. S., where Mr. Morrell has a summer home that he visits every year. They will remain in the Maritimes for about three months before returning to their home. They were at the Royal Hotel while in the city.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON.

"Did you ever hear the story of the Invisible Pixies?" asked Mi O' Mi, the Story Teller Man.

"No, we didn't," cried the Twins excitedly. "Will you tell it to us?"

"Let me see," said Mi O' Mi thoughtfully. "I think I know how it goes. Oh, yes, I remember."

"Once upon a time there were some pixies who were extra bad and extra mischievous and extra everything."

"They lived in a large cave right outside a village, and the pranks they played kept the poor villagers in hot water most of the time. Not real hot water, but just—well, just hot water—trouble, you know."

"Then what?" asked Nick.

"Oh, ho!" laughed Mi O' Mi, "here's someone who wants to hear a story back foremost. I'm hurrying as fast as I can."

"This time he went on and no one interrupted him again."

"Well, as I said before, no one knew who was going to get into trouble next. One night a baby's bank was robbed right on the mantelpiece. Another night the grocer lost all his molasses out of his molasses barrel in his cellar, another night someone stole feathers right out of Granny Nip Nap's pillow while she slept. And so on.

But the worst one of all was the butcher. The pixies loved bologna better than anything in the world, and about every other night they walked off with a whole ring of it. And sausage! My goodness! The sausage they stole!

"Well, there was a young man in the village named Toby, who decided to turn policeman and find out who was stealing all their things. He rather suspected the pixies in Pixie Cave as it was called, although nobody had ever actually seen them."

And so late one night he crept out of the village until he came to the cave and hid inside.

It was very dark, as the only lights that pixies use are glow worms and fireflies. And even these had their lamps turned down.

"But after awhile he could see very well, when his eyes became accustomed to the gloom."

"At exactly midnight he heard a loud shouting and knew that the pixies were coming. He could hear them crowding into the cave, but not a sign of them could he see. Nothing but a large ring of bologna that looked as though it was hopping along the ground by itself."

"Suddenly Toby heard a tiny voice say, 'We'll have to go to the magician and get another jar of invisible oil tomorrow. This jar is almost done. If we have no invisible oil to rub ourselves with, we can't go out burglarizing at night any more, and then no more parties!'"

"The next thing Toby noticed was a tiny man who had sprung suddenly into view. And then another and another until suddenly the cave was filled with hundreds of pixies."

"And what do you think, my dears," said Mi O' Mi, "every pixie was rubbing himself for dear life with some stuff out of another big jar marked 'Visible Oil.'"

"Toby shook his head wisely. 'Ah ha!' said he. 'They rub themselves with invisible oil so no one can see them. Then when they come back they rub themselves with visible oil again.'"

"Just then the same pixie who had spoken before said loudly: 'Why this oil is about done, too! We'll have to get two kinds of oil from the wizard tomorrow. Sharp ears, get up and go to dawn.'"

"Toby laughed to himself. 'I know something,' said he."

MUSIC FESTIVAL MARKED SUCCESS

Children of City Schools Present Programme of Excellence

Progress of Music in Schools Well Demonstrated—Praise is Given.

The Saint John High School was filled to capacity for the musical festival yesterday afternoon, given by the children of the Saint John schools from grade five to the senior grades. It was under the auspices of the Board of School Trustees of the city and was held in the High School auditorium, under the direction of Professor J. P. Browne, who was assisted in accompanying by Miss C. C. Robinson.

Owing to the lack of space on the platform only one quarter of the children in the sixth and seventh grades could take part. Professor Browne said last evening that if the same performance were repeated, three sets of children besides those who took part yesterday could give the same concert, with the exception of the seniors, whose performance was unique in the annals of music in Saint John.

Two and three part songs were sung with beauty of tone, sweet harmony and splendid attention to modulation of voices. In the choruses sung by grade eight, the four parts were given with fine effect.

"How did you get that wonderful Pompadour Blue?"

"It's as easy as can be. I dyed it with SUNSET. Isn't it a lovely color! The SUNSET 'Season's Colors' folder that they give you at the store tells how to get all the popular shades. For Pompadour Blue—if your goods are white and weigh a pound—take a cake and three-quarters of Bright Blue and one-eighth cake of Heliotrope. Of course my blouse weighed very little so I used less dye but kept the same proportions. Then I just followed the directions wrapped with the cake.

Fighting a Crazy Turtle

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 13.—You fishermen who spin dubious yarns about the big one that almost pulled you in—hark to this granddaddy of all fish stories. This deals with Captain L. Bourdeaux, his sea-going trawler, the Lillian B., and a 750-pound turtle that swam all the way over from Africa and almost pulled trawler and captain back there with him. The captain was trawling in 30 fathoms a few miles out in the gulf. Suddenly the net that was dragged astern seemed to go crazy. It had run afoul of the turtle. "We thought we'd caught an elephant," says Captain Bourdeaux. Turtle Goes Crazy. Being game for anything, the captain and his men tried to haul the net in, to see what they had caught. "It was like trying to handle a live locomotive with ropes," continues the skipper. "That turtle went plumb crazy. "It fought with its flippers. It fought with its jaws. As long as it was in the water it seemed to have the strength of a steamship. The turtle was hauled alongside and the fishermen tried to loop a hawser around its flippers. But the turtle thought otherwise. It stood on its hind legs, it made faces, it lashed and wallowed and rolled. Not Over. Yet. After two hours they got the ropes around the turtle and sighted with relief. All over now, they thought. But it had only started. The turtle, securely tied, beheld himself of his home off the east African coast and decided to go there. If the trawler wanted to come too it could. "It was like being hooked to a wild

C. N. R. RESORT AT MINAKI IS BURNED

Officials Plan Investigation Into $100,000 Fire Loss in Ontario.

MINAKI, Ont., June 12.—A thorough investigation into the fire which last night destroyed Minaki Inn, a C. N. R. summer resort, with a loss estimated at $100,000, will be made, it is stated by C. N. R. officials. A record number of guests had booked for the season. The staff was on hand and there were nine Manitowish University students at the Inn. The students had been at work on the new golf course and had come in for the evening, but all were able to make their escape, and save their belongings. The loss is covered by insurance. The Minaki Inn, situated in the Lake of the Woods district, was erected in 1910 by the Canadian Railway News Company. It was taken over by the C. N. R. about four years ago, and improvements effected. The Inn accommodated about 200 guests.

REPORTS ON HYDRO

Line Out Sandy Point Road Completed and Start Made on Millidgeville Road.

LeBaron Wilson, engineer of the Power Commission of the City of Saint John, reported at a meeting of the City Council yesterday that the line in Sandy Point Road had been completed and that work was being started on the Millidgeville line. It was hoped to have this finished by July 1. The financial report showed a deficit of $1,373.40 for April. Those present included F. S. A. McMillin, chairman, Mayor F. L. Fotts, Commissioner W. L. Harding, and Messrs. Lewis, Simpson and A. M. Rowan. A communication was read from the City Council approving the appointment of Mr. Simpson as a commissioner. No action was taken in regard to the letter from R. A. Davidson in regard to the Oakey dam claim. The matter of the purchase of a truck was left in the hands of the chairman, the Mayor and the engineer for report. It was decided to hold a canvass of the Lancaster and Simonds districts and also to build lines there if no word was received from the New Brunswick Power Company regarding purchase of a line.

Keegan Urges Hydro Scheme Be Sanctioned

MONTREAL, June 12.—"Our friends here are the best fellows in the world, but they failed to consult those directly affected. We are interested in the sovereignty of the United States, but we never thought that the time would come when that sovereignty would keep us down."

In these words Hon. Peter Keegan, representing the Van Buren, Me. Chamber of Commerce, and as he put it himself, "the people of the State of Maine," made a forceful and breezy plea to the International Joint Commission to grant New Brunswick's application to develop hydro power at Grand Falls on the Saint John River, and detached himself from the United States and Maine governments' representatives in their claim of a portion of the power because of United States sovereign rights.

MAINE NOT REPRESENTED. "They don't represent the people of Maine," said Mr. Keegan, "because the people of Maine are not trying to impede the development or hinge it with restrictions that will make it useless. They have not consulted those directly affected."

COULD NOT SLEEP NIGHTS

Pains and Headaches Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dublin, Ontario.—"I was weak and irregular, with pains and headaches, and could not sleep nights. I learned about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by reading the letters in the newspapers and tried it because I wanted to get better. I have got good results from it as I feel a lot stronger and am not troubled with such bad headaches as I used to be and am more regular. I am gaining in weight all the time and I tell my friends what kind of medicine I am taking. You may use my letter as a help to others."—MRS. JAMES RACHO, Box 12, Dublin, Ontario.

500 PEOPLE ARE BEING FED BY GOVERNMENT

Driven From Home by Overflowing of Whitemouth and Birch Rivers

GET SHELTER FROM KINDLY NEIGHBORS

Inundated Portion of Province Extends to United States Border.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 13—Driven from their homes by floods caused by the Whitemouth and Birch Rivers overflowing their banks, 83 families, approximating about 500 individuals, of township Medika, in the Birch River district of Manitoba, are being kept from starvation by the Provincial Government and provided with shelter by kindly neighbors in nearby localities that are not inundated.

Fodder for livestock is also being supplied by the Government, which is directing efforts at getting temporary shelter for the stock provided.

Flood conditions are reported to extend from the Whitemouth River to the United States border and beyond it.

DEATH OF EARL IS FORETOLD BY FLAGS

One Drops From Staff of Deal Castle as Ypres Passes Away.

LONDON, June 13—Extraordinary coincidences marked the death at Deal Castle recently of Field-Marshal the Earl of Ypres.

The large Union Jack, which had flown proudly from the mast-top on the outer fortifications ever since the Field-Marshal arrived at the castle on the previous Sunday, suddenly fell from its fastenings and lay in a heap at the foot of the flagstaff.

Yet another coincidence occurred within the walls of the Castle. On the bannister rails in the Armory Hall, leading to the sick chamber, a large-sized Stars and Stripes had for some weeks been hanging. A few moments before the hero of Mons died—and about the same time as the Union Jack fell—this flag slipped and fell, for no accountable reason.

Such an array of new shades! Brilliant, beautiful and—above all—correct.

FURTHER OCEAN RATE PROBE IS RECOMMENDED

Commons Committee Would Put Ocean Charges Under Railway Board Control

REPORT PRESENTED TO HOUSE BY DUFF

Investigation in Britain Favored to See if Scale is Too High.

OTTAWA, June 12—The special committee on the control of ocean rates in its report to the House of Commons today recommended additional inquiry.

The recommendations of the committee are:

That further investigation be conducted in Great Britain to determine whether present ocean freight rates are excessive and, if possible, to explain the discrepancies in operating costs of the North Atlantic Conference lines; that there be tests of actual performance of the corrugated ships which the late Sir William Petersen would have engaged in carriage of goods under the proposed Government scheme; that the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners be constituted a tribunal for the hearing of complaints of Canadian shippers against rates charged by the conference; that there be a harmonizing of the Merchants' Shipping Act and the British North America Act to ensure Canadian autonomy within the territorial waters of Canada, and that there be closer co-operation between the conference lines and Canadian duty exporters in regard to booking of refrigerated space.

PRESENTED BY DUFF

The report was presented to the House this afternoon by William Duff (Montreal) in the absence of the committee's chairman, Andrew B. McMaster (Brome).

Coincident with the presentation of this report to the House, the principal effect of which is the postponement of the operation of the Petersen scheme for control of ocean rates, comes reliable news that the North Atlantic conference, commencing with July next, has raised the ocean rates on Canadian cable by 25 per cent, or from $20 a head to $25.

$25 CHARGED IN JUNE

Even in June, it is understood that the rate of $25 a head is being charged on some cattle shipped from Canada, but this is as a result, it is stated, of an arrangement between the White Star-Dominion Line, a member of the conference, and a prominent shipper of Canadian cattle who undertook to ship 750 cattle on two of their boats.

CERTAIN RATES ARE HIGH

Early in the report attention is called to the fact that while ocean rates on grain and flour at the present time closely approximate those which prevailed 11 or 12 years ago, rates on other commodities carried by the conference boats show increases ranging from 25 per cent, to 100 per cent, and in some cases going as high as an increase of 400 per cent on oranges. It is explained that the conference rates on grain and flour are kept down by the competition with tramp steamers.

VALUE OF PUBLICITY

The report has hits to say on the value of publicity:

"Great transportation companies, strenuously competing in respect to service for Canadian overseas trade cannot afford to flout Canadian public opinion. It cannot be doubted that a great institution almost national in character such as the Canadian Pacific Railway should and it is believed would loyally comply with the recommendations of the railway board."

Saint John Young Men to Become Priests—Others For Orders at Holy Heart.

On Monday morning, June 29, the feast of St. Peter and Paul, four young deacons of the Saint John diocese, all of this city, and the remaining members of the class of 25 of Holy Heart Seminary, Halifax, N. S., will be raised to the Holy Priesthood by His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. The young men who have completed their theological course are: Rev. William J. Osborne, son of Mrs. Margaret Osborne, 208 Sydney street; Rev. Joseph P. Floyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Floyd, 164 Waterloo street; Rev. Ronald MacGillivray, son of James MacGillivray, of this city and now residing in Moncton, N. B.; and Rev. William J. Crowley, son of John Crowley, 292 Germain street. It is also probable that Rev. J. Everett Cahill, of Moncton, N. B., will also be ordained here for the Winnipeg diocese.

TO RECEIVE ORDERS

At 9 a. m. on June 29 in the public chapel at Holy Heart Seminary, Halifax, N. S., Rev. Edward Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Jennings, of Richmond street, and Rev. Fred Carney, of Ormonde, N. B., will receive the first major orders, that of subdiaconate.

Minor orders will be conferred on Rev. Emeric Dolan, son of Mrs. Ada H. Dolan, 344 Haymarket Square, and Rev. Albert Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Butler, of 184 Metcalfe street, and brother of Rev. Joseph Butler, of Buctoiche, will receive first tonsure at Halifax.

One Person Killed Every Two Hours by Automobiles in U.S.

WASHINGTON, June 11—(United Press)—The automobile takes a toll of one human life in the United States every two hours.

Figures compiled by the Department of Commerce show a total of 1,631 automobile fatalities from Jan. 1 to May 23, 1925, or an average of 11.4 deaths per day. The returns upon which the department based its calculations were from 70 cities having a population of 100,000 or more each and a total population of 25,937,288.

There was only a slight increase in the number of deaths reported this year as compared with the number for the corresponding period in 1923, when a total of 1,664 fatalities were reported. New York, with its great population and congested traffic, led all other American cities in the number of fatalities with 334 deaths for the first five months of this year, or 23 less than the number reported from 52 other cities during any single month. Chicago led with 188 deaths from automobile accidents. Philadelphia's death list contained 95 names, while 86 were reported from each Detroit and Cleveland.

Of 70 cities reporting automobile fatalities to the department returns from 10 cities show no deaths for the four weeks period ending May 23. They were: Camden, Des Moines, Fall River, Lowell, Lynn, Bedford, Somerville, Tacoma and Yonkers.

New Bedford is the only city to report no fatality so far this year.

WEST INDIES SEEK TRADE WITH CANADA

Will Give Liberal Concessions for Better Terms With Dominion

IMPROVED STEAMER SERVICE ADVOCATED

Jamaican Delegates to Conference Express Views in New York.

NEW YORK, June 12—All of the West Indian Colonies are prepared to meet Canada as a sister part of the British Empire and concede everything possible, in trade and otherwise, which tends for the betterment of imperial relations.

Such was the sentiment expressed here today by Jamaican delegates to the West Indies Conference, sponsored by the Canadian Government for the discussion of trade matters and the possible revision of the existing agreement between the Dominion and the West Indies.

BETTER AGREEMENT HOPED

Discussing the present agreement, Hon. William Morrison, who heads the Jamaican delegation, said that it was admittedly not satisfactory, but it was hoped a more suitable one would come from out of the discussion. "All parties to the conference will try and meet on an equal footing and discuss how this may be brought about," he said.

"Much can be done in improving the steamship service between the West Indies and Canada," Mr. Morrison continued, "and I am certain that Canadian manufacturers, producers and growers would benefit vastly if this were done. I am unable to say how far other questions will be dealt with, but I feel certain that the islands will be prepared to meet the Dominion squarely."

Drowns Trying To Save His Dog's Life

NEW YORK, June 13—John "Tinker" Walsh was drowned in an effort to save a drowning dog. His body was recovered.

Walsh had thrown the dog, which appeared to be suffering from the heat, into the East River, thinking it would swim ashore. When the dog came to the surface, apparently in distress, Walsh dove into the water. He came up groaning and gurgling as if from cramps. Workers on the East River pier arrived too late to rescue Walsh. The dog was pulled to safety.

IN OLDEN DAYS

Then the captain drew a word picture of the yesterday. Gone were drowsiness and quiet and in its place were bustle and noise and orderly bustle. "It never thought the day would come when shipbuilding would die out here—when lumbering would almost cease—when only a few boats would ply this river. But it has come with my old age, and I am sorry."

HERE COMES GALLAGHER SINGING

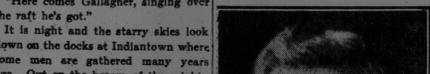

"Here comes Gallagher, singing over the raft he's got." It is night and the starry skies look down on the bosom of the mighty Saint John River, a tug with a raft of logs in tow is slowly making her way to the mill and across the placid waters there floats an Irish ditty.

"Gallagher" inquires one of the present-day generation. And who is Gallagher? Ah, that's a name to conjure with in those splendid days when this port was a powerful factor in world trade.

LOVED HIS WORK

He's a small man as man go in physique with a twinkling blue eye and a fund of rich Irish humor, and joined with the men assembled there who know him and love him, for he has a heart as big as the river on which he has spent all his life, and they respect him for his almost supernatural ability to handle the tug and those great shafts of logs, worth thousands of dollars to the owners. He loved his work, and that was the secret of his success. He actually sang when he was given a particularly big tow, and there was a few in the ranks of the old times, now shinned by death, who remember that saying.

Veterans In Service

CAPT. PATRICK GALLAGHER

Back in 1870 and mention of her caused the captain to feel in his pocket for an envelope. "We are moving this week and I found this today," he explained. The reporter opened it and found it was a receipt, dated Sept. 5, 1870, from Mrs. Sarah Wright, a colored woman, to Captain Gallagher of the "Bessie B." for washing the bed clothes of the tug. The magnificent sum of $1 was the charge.

The magnificent sum of $1 was the charge.

Captain Gallagher came out to Saint John in the early 60's with his parents. After attending school for several years in a building in Sheriff street, he and the late George Gorham left home and went up river on one of the steamers as deck hands. The captain remained at this job, but later Mr. Gorham opened a tailoring shop that is carried on today by his son, Harry. Captain Gallagher had several commands before taking over the "Captain," including the "Speck," the "Bessie B." and the "W. H. Murray," and among the older generation his name is a household one.

WORDS WERE PROPHETIC

OTTAWA, June 12—What may now seem sadly prophetic words were spoken by Sir William Petersen as a witness before the special house committee on control of ocean freight rates on June 1.

Asked by Joseph T. Shaw (West Calgary) if he was prepared to guarantee personally the performance of the proposed contract with the federal government, Sir William replied: "Yes, and what is more, I will guarantee the performance of the contract and my heirs and executors, if I disappear in the meantime."

JUDGE GETS 3 DAYS TO PAY BANK $32,700

JACKSON, Tenn., June 13—Federal Judge J. W. Ross must pay $32,700 to the receiver for the People's Savings Bank here within three days or face prosecution under the State Bad Check law. Decision to take formal action against Judge Ross was reached at a conference between the Prosecution Committee of the bank's stockholders and Attorney-General Thomas J. Murray, Jr.

SHIP OWNER STRICKEN WITH HEART FAILURE

End Came Hour After Set-back to Plans With Federal Government

NEWS FROM ENGLAND HAD TROUBLED HIM

Premier King Expresses Regret at Passing of Big Ship Man.

OTTAWA, June 12—Sir William Petersen, a renowned British ship owner, with whom the Dominion Government had proposed to enter into an agreement for the control and reduction of Atlantic freight rates died suddenly amid tragic circumstances in his rooms in the Chateau Laurier at 4.40 p. m. today, following an attack of heart trouble of 20 minutes' duration.

His end came about an hour after the reading in the House of Commons of the final report of the committee on control of ocean freight rates, which for Sir William was an unfavorable nature and about half an hour after an interview he had in the parlours of the Chateau Laurier with Hon. Thomas A. Low Minister of Trade and Commerce. The fatal seizure came just after he, with W. T. R. Preston, had started back to the Parliament Building, where Sir William was to have seen the prime minister. Attending him when the en-came was Dr. F. W. McKinnon, house physician of the Chateau Laurier; Dr. J. W. Carruthers, M. P., who had also been summoned, Mr. Preston and H. H. Donald, of Toronto, Sir William's counsel in connection with the parliamentary inquiry which began about two weeks ago.

NEWS DISTURBED HIM

It had been a troublesome day for Sir William. According to Mr. Preston, most of the day, the latter this morning had received disturbing news by cable from his financial supporters in London.

U.S. CLAIM HOLDS UP HEARING ON GRAND FALLS

Washington Calls for 1-16 of Energy Generated by Provincial Hydro

N. B. OPPOSES MOVE TO DELIVER 1,500 H. P.

C. P. R. and Power Commission Disagree on Period of Damage Claim.

MONTREAL, June 12.—The principle that the United States was entitled as a matter of right to power developed in New Brunswick partly through the flooding of land in that country was the rock upon which representatives of the contending parties split here today before the International Joint Commission when that body resumed hearing of the application of the New Brunswick government to develop Hydro power at Grand Falls on the Saint John River.

The United States government through Attorney-General H. Hackworth, this afternoon claimed that one sixteenth of the power involved in the initial development or about 1600 horsepower, should be made available for use in the State of Maine. New Brunswick has already contracted to supply more than that, or 2,000 horsepower to the International Paper Company at Van Buren, Me., and through Eugene Lafleur, K. C., their chief counsel, expressed willingness that that amount should be perpetually contracted for by United States interests, but the province refused to recognize that right to the power. The power would be sold in the United States as a business proposition only.

CLAIMS UNRECONCILED.
Thus when the commission adjourned at 6 o'clock to meet again at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning no progress had been made to conciliate the opposing claims that have featured all the hearings of the present matter.

The commission, desiring that an adjustment should be reached by the two parties, gave a three-quarter hour adjournment for the parties to go into conference, but after the conference Eugene Lafleur announced that they had been unable to agree.

Attorney Hackworth then announced the United States claim to one-sixteenth of the initial development at Grand Falls, this fraction being based on the relation that the head of water bears to the head on the proposed dam on the International section of the river at Grand Falls. (The actual development is not on the International section.)

WAR OFFICE FIXES AMOUNT.
Since the last sitting of the commission the State Department had asked the War Department to formulate the amount of the United States claim. The engineers of the War Department had worked on the matter and arrived at the one-sixteenth fraction.

Mr. Lafleur, replying, told the commission that the United States claim was an academic one. Practically the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission had already contracted to give Maine more than the one-sixteenth.

U. S. GETTING WHAT IT WANTS.
"That should satisfy our friends from the other side," he said. "They are getting what they want. Why should it be necessary for the commission to decide this important legal question?" He said that it was not only the present case which was involved; recognition of the United States claim would establish a precedent for all future cases.

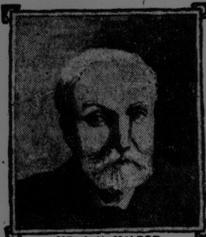

Major Godfrey explained, in answer to a question, that 1,500 horsepower represented one-sixteenth of the proposed development of 50,000 horsepower in that all of the 50,000 would not be available at the one time.

DIFFICULTIES SOLVED.
It was accepted today that difficulties over satisfaction of the riparian owners had been practically solved. The Canadian Pacific Railway and the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission were in disagreement before the Joint Commission today, the former claiming that indemnity for damage to their lines should be perpetual, while the Electric Commission claimed they should be relieved after 12 years, stating that any damage would be evident before that time and they did not wish to be put in the position of having to renew Canadian Pacific lines. However, it was believed that these differences could be adjusted.

NOVELTY SHOWER.
A number of friends of Miss Florence Stevens gathered at the home of Miss Jean Campbell, 114 Gulliford street, West Saint John, last evening, and tendered her a novelty shower in honor of her approaching marriage.

McAllister, William Lynch, Fred Butler and Edward Wilson. Delegates from Milford, South Bay and Rindolph: J. J. McManus, Thomas Steeves, Cornelius Collins and Fred Poley. Substitutes: Edward Cunningham and George McQuinn.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN.

Albert Currie, who was arrested Thursday afternoon on suspicion of stealing two cans of paint, the property of Langford Coram, appeared in the police court yesterday afternoon and was represented by Ralph G. McInerney who explained that his client admitted taking the paint but thought it was his own property and had no thought of stealing. As Mr. Coram did not wish to press the charge and wished that it be withdrawn, Magistrate Henderson allowed the matter to stand.

Set new speed records at Indianapolis Track

"Gum-Dipped Balloons Helped Me Break World Record" - Says Peter De Paolo

Without Firestone Balloons I couldn't have put it over. I felt safe on those big tires—and could maintain the higher speeds on the treacherous turns, enabling me to finish the race with the average of 101.13 miles per hour—breaking all track records from 10 to 500 miles. I finished without the usual physical exhaustion—it was the most comfortable race I ever drove on the Indianapolis track.

With the same type of car—same size motors—and for the most part, the same drivers—and over the same race track—a new World's record was set on Firestone Balloons at Indianapolis May 30, 1925, of 101.13 miles average per hour for the full 500 miles—beating the 1924 Indianapolis World's record of 98.23 miles on Firestone regular cords.

Twenty-one cars started—ten finished "in the money" on Firestone Balloons. Never before have tires been subjected to such a grueling test—one more convincing testimonial for Firestone's extra process of Gum-Dipping that eliminates internal friction and heat.

You too will profit by using Gum-Dipped Balloons made only by Firestone. Take advantage of their extra safety, comfort and economy—economy in time—and greater mileage—in low car depreciation and in less fuel consumption.

See the nearest Firestone dealer. He will change over your car—bring it up-to-date so you will enjoy these advantages this summer.

Walter P. Chrysler

Develops New and Finer Four-Cylinder Results

Walter P. Chrysler's long experience in the manufacture of automobiles convinced him there were possibilities in the four-cylinder principle that had never been realized.

This conviction was entirely justified and greater possibilities have been realized, as all Canada knows. There is no four-cylinder car on the market today that is in greater favor with Dominion motorists than the new good Maxwell—a Chrysler product.

Mr. Chrysler turned his genius as a master maker of motor cars to the development of these latent four-cylinder possibilities into actual performance qualities.

He was convinced that the same engineering skill that had created the revolutionary Chrysler Six was more than equal to the task and under his direction it was undertaken.

Mr. Chrysler had in mind a four of greater power and speed. He had in mind smoothness of power flow and an absence of vibration, heretofore unknown. He had in mind an alert engine, one that would respond as no four had ever responded before. He had in mind greater ease of riding and handling, greater comfort, greater economy.

Mr. Chrysler's devotion to the four-cylinder problem has resulted in a car that motorists the country over drive and endorse as the finest the industry has yet produced in its field.

Consequently, sales of the Chrysler-built Maxwell have mounted to unprecedented figures and are mounting higher every month.

To buy wisely one must know Walter P. Chrysler's contributions to finer four-cylinder motoring. We are always eager to give you the facts in the terms of actual performance.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan. Maxwell dealers and superior Maxwell service everywhere.

FROM SMALL START SAINT JOHN INDUSTRY WINS EMPIRE STATUS

Products in Brass and Other Goods Fill Big Place In Industrial Life—History of Firm is Story of Gripping Interest

McAvity's Has Been Operating In City Since 1834

RATED in one of the highest positions among the progressive and successful Saint John industries is that of T. McAvity & Sons, Limited, carrying the honor of being the largest manufacturers of the most complete line of brass and iron valves in the British Empire.

Canadian and Saint John readers readily recognize in the name of T. McAvity & Sons, Limited, a concern of rank and prestige in the engineering trade.

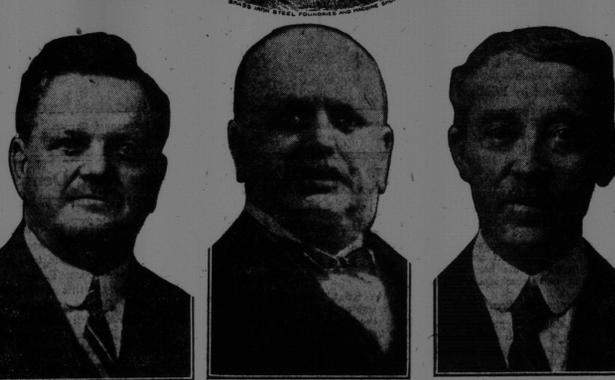

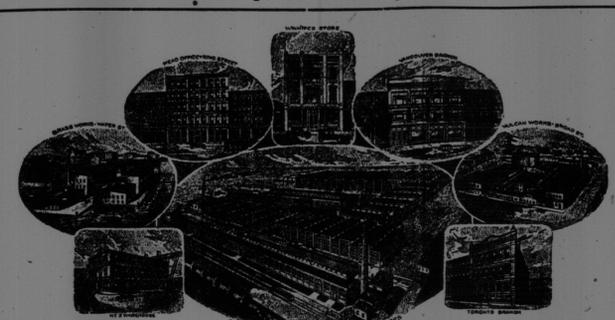

FOUNDED IN 1834. Thomas McAvity, when a youth of 12 years of age, became apprenticed to James Hendricks, hardware merchant, whose business he subsequently acquired in 1839 and changed its name.

EXPANSION. To the foresight and optimism of James H. McAvity, the eldest son of Thomas McAvity, is due the establishment of their now extensive brass and iron foundry business.

When the brass foundry manufacturing plant was moved to Rothersey avenue, the office was transferred to the King street store.

formerly at the King street store.

The McAvity firm is well aware that age counts for little unless the experience gained and strength acquired make for better service and greater usefulness.

Thomas McAvity, second, for many years ably directed the business of the old partnership, assisted by his brothers James H., John A., George, William and Stephen.

George McAvity rates among the best known and most influential men of Canada.

48 YEARS THREE. Charles Coster, the efficient secretary of the firm, has been with the company for 48 years, serving it well and faithfully during this long period.

WHERE PRODUCTS GOES. The greater portion of the normal output of the McAvity plant goes to Upper Canada and the Northwest and also for export trade.

When the brass foundry manufacturing plant was moved to Rothersey avenue, the office was transferred to the King street store.

On taking a railroad journey or ocean trip, it may not be realized that the locomotive drawing the train is, in almost every case, equipped with McAvity's locomotive specialties.

BOUNDARY MARKERS. Equipment in the way of valves and fittings is similarly much in demand for steel plants and coal mines.

THE PRESIDENT. The president and general manager of the company, George McAvity, has occupied this position since 1910 and under his management the business has made tremendous strides.

The continued growth and success of the McAvity business is attributed in a large measure to the ability to sense the demand and produce goods that meet with the approval of the buying public.

The business has survived wars and business panics and has taken a large share in building the industries of the Maritime Provinces.

TO LOYALIST DAYS. An interesting coincidence in connection with the McAvity firm is that the site now occupied by their wholesale and retail hardware store in King street is the identical spot occupied by the log cabin in which the first Thomas McAvity's wife's mother, a daughter of the Loyalist Van Dean family of Knickerbocker descent, was born in 1783.

The board of directors consists of Thomas, John A., George, Stephen S., James L., G. Clifford and P. D. McAvity and T. McAvity Stewart.

The officers of the Rothersey plant are: L. J. Gagnon, general superintendent with Percy Speer as assistant; James F. Hoyt, production superintendent; John J. Ruskey, mechanical engineer and designer; Robert H. Nichol, general foreman; Gordon Nichol, chief inspector; Frank Riel, iron foundry superintendent; and Ernest A. Wood, superintendent of the brass foundry.

MEALS SERVED. Miss E. S. Funnell, dietitian, reported that 24,253 meals had been served at a cost of $4,039.76.

The resignation of Miss Wood, who had been appointed pupil dietitian to report June 5, was received and the superintendent was given authority to secure another.

DR. RYAN ILL. A letter was read from Mrs. E. J. Ryan, saying that Dr. Ryan, who is a member of the board, was at present in a hospital in New York with an infected arm.

BOXING COMMISSION FAVORS JULY 2 AS DATE FOR BIG CARD TO HOLD ITALIAN FUND BOUTS AT POLO GROUNDS Experts Predict Willie Hoppe Will Be Next Three Cushion Champion

Along The Sport Trail

IT IS REPORTED that in the near future the Saint John Rowing Club will hold a meeting to formulate plans for the summer's activities. There is talk of holding an elimination contest to select a representative for this city to participate in the Canadian Henley at St. Catharines, Harry Giggey is now training hard and has signified his intention of entering. It is expected that Hilton Belyea will also participate along with a promising looking sculler by the name of Ward, who is said by well known local oarsmen, to be a "comer." He is a husky young chap with youth on his side and his handlers feel that if given a proper opportunity he will develop into a skilled oarsman. A race between this trio, for the honor of representing this city at the National Regatta, would be a sporting event well worth watching. The fans will await with interest an announcement of the Rowing Club in this respect. Giggey, the Maritime champion, is much favored this year and his friends look upon him as a likely contender for the title.

JOE IRVINE evidently has greatly improved in his boxing since he appeared in a local contest. His decisive victory in Fort Fairfield was convincing and proved that he can meet the best of them if he takes the game seriously and trains faithfully.

JOHN CONNOLLY, formerly sporting editor of the Sydney Post and now on the sports staff of the Boston Herald, passed through the city recently enroute home for a brief vacation. While waiting for his train, he looked up some friends here and in conversation with some of them gave several interesting sidelights on the sport game in Boston. His paper, he says, has more than 20 alone handling the sport pages, which number 4 every day. Mr. Connolly has been covering several of the important bouts for his paper, the most recent one being the Jim Maloney-Jack Sharkey bout, in which the latter got a doubtful decision. Maloney, he said, was the better man but for some reason Sharkey was favored. He also saw Jimmy Slattery, the Buffalo sensation, and "Young" Stribling in action there recently and says they are comers.

THE SECRET of Connie Mack's success in the American League this year is out. It is now known that he has banded together a bunch of scrappers. A few days ago Rommel, Perkins, Cochrane and Thomas were arrested for participating in a free-for-all against some fans.

YOUNG STRIBLING, the Macon schoolboy, is making rapid strides in pugilistic circles and is today considered one of the most logical contenders for the heavyweight crown. He is soon to meet Cook, the aggressive Australian, in Boston and will then depart for the west. Unless something unforeseen happens he is to be matched with Gene Tunney, the recent conqueror of Tommy Gibbons. Stribling is fortunate in having his father as his trainer and his mother looking after his diet. He is certainly getting lots of experience and if he continues to develop should win a championship crown some day. It is hard to conceive him standing up to Jack Dempsey at the present time, but the day may not be far distant when he will be ready to swap punches with the heavyweight title holder.

WATER DEPT. TEAM HAVE EASY VICTORY

The Water Department team added further laurels to their outfit when they turned the Trojans back 15-5 last night on the South End diamond, making sure of the game in the first inning by piling up 8 runs, attributed for the most part to Kerr's loose playing on the mound and at third. Kerr was relieved by Colby Potter in the second and the latter lasted until the third when "Sticker" Daly took up the pitching burden for the Greek boys. Daly hurled for the remainder of the game and held the victims down to a single safety. Lloyd Sterling started to twirl for the Water Department, but was taken out in the second frame and succeeded by Hannah.

Joe Stecher to Meet Stanislaus Zbyszko. WICHITA, Kansas, June 13—Joe Stecher, claimant to the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, and Stanislaus Zbyszko, former champion, have been signed for a finish match, July 4.

STRIBLING DUE TO ARRIVE IN BOSTON TODAY

Will Meet George Cook There On Monday Night

BOSTON, June 13.—Billy "Young" Stribling, Macon, Ga., schoolboy, one of the greatest heavyweight threats on the fifth horizon, is due to arrive in the Hub today to complete his training for what is expected to be the classic heavyweight contest of the year. Stribling comes to Boston to clash with George Cook, heavyweight champion of Australia, who is being hailed as the greatest big fellow who ever invaded the United States. They meet here next Monday night.

Accompanied by Family. Stribling will be accompanied by the complete family. "Ma" and "Pa" Stribling, as well as "Babe" Stribling, who makes his first start in a Hub ring, will come here in their $16,000 bus, which will be used to make the trip to the Pacific coast following his bout here with the Australian. Stribling vs. Cook looms up as a heavyweight morsel such as Hub fans have not been provided with this year. Cook, the surprise heavyweight of the season, has made himself solid with Hub fans in two bouts here against Bob Lawson and later against Jack Sharkey.

Brother to Box. "Babe" Stribling, younger brother of the heavyweight sensation, will clash with Larry Brignola in one of the preliminaries. Jimmy McGonigle, of Weymouth, national 16-pound champion, will make his professional start when he clashes with Red Griffin of Chelsea. Two heavyweights also are on the card. Julie Harmon of South Boston will make his professional start when he clashes with Bill Foley, another Peninsular boy, in the opening preliminary.

MACKMEN'S LEAD CUT DOWN BY SOX

Connie Mack Used 17 Players in an Effort to Stave Off Defeat.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Their lead cut to a game and a half over Washington and their regular pitchers driven from the mound on two successive days by Chicago batting onslaughts, the Mackmen rallied their routed diamond cohorts for a final stand against the White Sox in the hope of securing an even break for the series and the ninth week of American League play. Seventeen players were rushed to Philadelphia's defence, as the Windy City players rained fifteen hits in the Quaker City park, and Helms alone, pitching his first four innings of the season, proving effective. Eddie Collins led the attack with four hits as the western team rolled up fifteen runs, against a single tally for the junior league leaders, the worst defeat suffered this year by the Athletics.

BILLIARD STAR SHOWS MARKED SKILL AT GAME Has Defeated Present Title Holder Three Times

NEW YORK, June 13.—(United Press)—Gifts granted to few fortunate in the world of sport have placed Willie Hoppe, the billiard shark, in line for a new throne just after he had been forced to give up another one. Hoppe, for years was the champion billiard player of the world. His position was secure, his rivals were few and his genius was established. He had no real competition until Young Jake Schaeffer decided to settle down and play billiards. Schaeffer took the title away from Hoppe and Hoppe came back and defeated Schaeffer. Last winter Schaeffer again beat Hoppe and now holds the title.

Hoppe apparently went stale on the billiard game. He had had too much of it and it was getting his nerves. Realizing perhaps that he was through as a billiard player, Hoppe turned to the three-cushion game.

Alerts vs. Saints

The Alerts and Saints will clash in a double header today on the East End grounds, the afternoon game commencing at 3 o'clock and the evening engagement at 7 o'clock sharp. Two good games are expected.

EVER READY CLASS

The Ever Ready Class of the Charlotte street Baptist Sunday school met last evening at the home of Mrs. H. W. Dec, 197 St. James street, West Saint John, with the president, Mrs. Joseph Taylor, in the chair. Reports were presented by the secretary and treasurer. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

HAWKS DEFEAT RESOLUTES

The Hawks defeated the Resolutes last night 9-5 on the Long Wharf diamond. The batteries for the winners were Donovan and Gayton and for the losers, Cayle and McNulty.

The Dominion Government will be responsible for an expense in connection with the obsequies. It is assumed that the body will be transported to England from a Canadian port as early next week as a steamer sails.

FOUGHT FOR RIGHT.

The Prime Minister this evening spoke in feeling terms of the passing of Sir William, and stressed the fact that up to the last Sir William was fighting for what he thought was the right and died in harness. "The sudden death of Sir William Petersen," said the Prime Minister, "will evoke widespread sympathy and regret throughout the British Empire. Few men have essayed a more difficult task than he, and few have shown in their lives greater determination and persistence in the accomplishment of a great aim. For many years he has been persuaded that a rate-fixing combine controlled transportation upon the high seas to the detriment of the public, and he was prepared to enter the lists against all comers to prove that the security of consumers and producers alike lay in freedom of competition and not in monopoly.

Sir William Petersen, K.B.E., chairman of Petersen and Company, Limited, London, ship owners, was born on May 29, 1856. He was educated at Haskilde and Copenhagen, Denmark. He was founder and director of the London-American Maritime Trading Company, Limited, and director of several other shipping companies. He founded the Royal and Uranium Passenger Lines to Canada and the United States. He was chairman of the British committee of the International Shipping Registry.

OWNED ISLAND.

Sir William was honorary commander of the Royal Naval Reserve. He was proprietor of the Hebridean Island Eggs. He was owner of 10,000 acres of land. He was the author of two books, "The Allen in Our Midst," and "The Kiel Canal Problem," and also numerous contributions to the Standard Shipping and other magazines.

HELPING PLAN FOR U. S. OPERA SCHOOL.

Madam Schumann - Heink Donates $1,000 to Nordica Memorial Building.

NEW YORK, June 13.—There is a general impression abroad that the young American operatic aspirant faces many difficulties in arriving at a career, but it is only to the great singers of our day that the almost hopeless struggles are known in detail.

Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, who never refuses a helping hand to young singers, says her sympathy is for American girls with genuine talent are prevented from seeking a career in opera because the chances in this country are so limited and so few could bear the expense of a trip abroad and the long wait to get a footing in some continental company.

The occasion of these remarks was the donation by Mme. Schumann-Heink of $1,000 to the Nordica Memorial Building which is to be part of an operatic centre at Stony Point-on-the-Hudson, where American artists will be encouraged.

Even a Gym and a Children's Playroom!

Every feature which will add to the comfort, pleasure and well-being of passengers is to be found on the famous one-class cabin steamers—Regina—Megantic—Doric and Canada.

The gymnasium for men and women is exceptionally well equipped and in charge of a physical instructor. The children's playroom and nursery, with cots and toys, is in charge of a specially trained nurse. Sailings every Saturday.

"It is because I know the intensity of their desire and the limited opportunity for American artists in this country that I want to give this cause. Almost every mail brings me a call for help and advice. And what can I say?"

"I must tell them to go to Europe to get their first experience in opera. And to tell many of them to go to Europe is like telling a poor man he must send his wife to Florida for the winter, to keep her alive.

"Well, they do go to Europe on every steamship, and that is the end of the story for many of them.

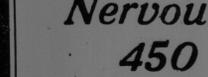

"My experience is that of all prominent artists on the concert or operatic stage. We all get appeals for help.

"It isn't a case for charity, which is usually not a constructive thing. The answer to this need is some such organization as the European autocracies established centuries ago and which the democracies must carry on.

"When the American Operatic and Allied Arts Foundation begins to function at Stony Point this burden will be lifted from private individuals. There will be no barrier to entrance there, no fears of such European conditions as most families dread to subject their girls to.

"After taking one box I felt a slight improvement! I have now taken five boxes, and I have gained 35 pounds in weight. I am now more than able to do all my own housework as well as considerable outside work. I cannot recommend Milburn's H. & N. Pills too highly for those suffering as I did."

Nervous Man's 450 Suits

I've lost all patience waiting for this Overcoat weather to lay off me and give me a chance to sell a season's suits at a profit.

The truth is I can't wait if I felt like it. Creditors can't be stalled forever.

Take 'em all at Sale prices never seen in June. Prices never seen with a full early season selection of styles, cloths and sizes. Come in tonight—I'm paying you good money to come, as you'll see when you notice the price reductions.

KILLED IN HIS SLEEP. LONDON, June 13.—Ecstasied by a day of sports and a concert in which he had taken part, Alexander Mowat, a boy of nine, walked in his sleep, fell 30 feet from a window and was killed.

HER NERVES SO BAD SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

Mrs. Grace Kitchen, St. George, Ont., writes:—"After having a severe attack of pneumonia I was left in a weak and run down condition. My nerves were so bad I could not sleep nights, and in the day time I had terrible fainting spells, caused by my heart being weak. Finally I got so bad I had to take to my bed for weeks at a time, but one day I read about so decided to try them. After taking one box I felt a slight improvement! I have now taken five boxes, and I have gained 35 pounds in weight. I am now more than able to do all my own housework as well as considerable outside work. I cannot recommend Milburn's H. & N. Pills too highly for those suffering as I did."

SCOUTS ARE PRAISED BY COMMISSIONER

Dr. G. B. Peat Reviews Parade Features and Speaks of Work for Summer.

"Scout News," issued by the local district council of the Boy Scouts' Association, has some chatty references regarding the doings of the scouts in and about Saint John. In addition, it carries an open letter to all scouts by the district commissioner, Dr. G. B. Peat. He says:

"Scouts.—The first thing I want to say in regard to the parade, I am glad to call attention to this as it was a most creditable affair for the whole movement, and shows the interest that all the troops look in it. I want all the Scouts and Cubs to know that the heads of the organization are pleased with the way they all turned out. I am especially pleased with the manner in which you dressed in uniform. I think it shows a splendid spirit, when we were in complete Scout dress. In this regard we have to give a great deal of credit to some of our troops and I am going to particularly mention the Syrian Troop who worked their heads off to get themselves fitted out for the parade. The Young Judges could put on remarkably well and our old reliable from East Saint John were outstanding. The Silver Falls bunch was a very high place in our thoughts, and I draw everyone's attention to their Cubs, who, for the muster a week before the parade, hiked in and out again, and were willing to repeat this for Sunday. Where all did so well, it is hard to notice individual groups, but you will agree with me in praise of the above mentioned ones.

Furthermore, the size of the parade and the way in which we carried it out was a big surprise to the people who saw it. No one had any idea that there were so many of us, or that we could put on such a well timed and snappy parade. It has done an enormous lot to raise us in the thoughts of the citizens and also I may say in the thoughts of the heads at Ottawa. For all this I want every one who showed up that day to feel that I and all the staff appreciate their work. It is fine to see the summer's work, and I find it much easier to talk to people and get their attention and help than it has been.

FOR SUMMER. Now as to the summer season. This is the time, of course, that real out-of-door scouting is done, and I see that many of you are already at it. It will be wise for those of you who are going to have summer camps to begin making plans. There is a great deal of difference between real camping and just going out in tents for a week or two. This year I want to see good positions taken, everything made comfortable and the place you have picked out or been given improved. Also for this year I would like scouts to join up as much as possible and let their scoutmasters get a chance to shift their work from one to the other. The reason I ask this is, that I would like to see as many scoutmasters as possible get a chance to go to Gillwell Camp. It is a chance for them to have a good outing and at the same time learn a whole lot of new stuff to hand on to your chaps, so if there is any way for you all to help them out in this I feel sure that you will be glad to do so. It looks as if this were going to be a great year for scouting in Saint John, so keep the ball rolling as you have done and make things go. Practice learn a whole lot of new stuff to hand on to your chaps, so if there is any way for you all to help them out in this I feel sure that you will be glad to do so. ## SWIMMING SCOWS EARLY POPULAR

Hundreds Patronize City Quarters at Kennedy Street

700 Taught by Mark Burns Last Year; Looks For as Many More.

The city swimming scows at the foot of Kennedy street are now open and daily large numbers of people, young and old, are enjoying a plunge in the waters of the Saint John river. The scows are again in charge of Mark Burns, who is making arrangements to instruct his patrons in the art of swimming as well as in life saving. During the warm spell last week hundreds were swayed to the scows and enjoyed a swim and even during the cooler days during the first of this week many braved the chilly winds in order to enjoy the invigorating exercise.

MORE THAN 700

Last year Instructor Burns taught more than 700 people, mostly boys and girls. This year he expects as many if not more and is making arrangements to handle the rush. He will teach the crawl stroke, which is declared to be one of the fastest and best now used by aquatic stars all over the world. He is also well versed in life saving, having saved no fewer than 24 people from drowning in the Saint John Harbor and vicinity. He will start his classes in the near future.

Instructor Burns said he expects the scows will be a popular resort this summer. There is promise of a band to furnish music during some of the fine evenings.

There are 52 dressing rooms at the scows and as many as 200 children usually crowd into them so that they can enjoy a swim. Others that cannot be accommodated not infrequently go on board some of the boats moored nearby and get ready to start. From this it will be seen that the scows are very popular and the patronage is steadily increasing.

"ARMY" DRIVE HAS BROUGHT $19,600

Self-denial Effort Statement is Made at Meeting in Citadel Last Evening.

It was announced at the united meeting of the Salvation Army Corps of the city in the Citadel street citadel last night that the self-denial effort of the fund for this district comprising New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island had realized $19,600 up to the present time and is not yet complete. The objective was $20,000 but the amount raised is already in excess of the amount contributed last year.

The meeting last night was conducted by Colonel A. Powley, chief secretary for Eastern Canada assisted by Colonel G. Miller, field secretary for Eastern Canada, who have been on tour in the Maritime Provinces and have inspected the district offices in Saint John, Halifax and Sydney. They leave this evening to return to Montreal.

Thanks Expressed. Staff Captain Tryndal, who has spent 12 years in India as a missionary for the Salvation Army, voiced his appreciation of the generous contributions to Self-Denial Fund at the meeting last night. A certain portion of the fund will be given to the Army's missionary work and the staff captain spoke of the great which it would accomplish.

Colonel Powley and Colonel Miller conducted an officers' meeting yesterday afternoon in the Citadel street citadel and those present from outside points were Adjutant and Mrs. Wells, Frederick, Captain Steeves and Lieutenant Jaynes, Sussex; Captain Reynolds, Summerside, and Ensign Boulton, St. Stephen.

Miss Jean Johnston Dies at Age of 18

The death of Miss Jean O. M. Johnston, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnston, 121 Elliott row, occurred this morning at an early hour in the General Public Hospital, following an operation for appendicitis. Miss Johnston, who was just past her 18th birthday, was one of the most popular young ladies in the city and will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

She complained of not feeling well on last Sunday, but it was not until Tuesday that the serious nature of the illness became manifest. An operation was performed and for a time she seemed to rally, but last night took a turn for the worse and passed away about 2:30 this morning.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 from her parents' residence.

Miss Johnston was an only child. She was a graduate of 1924 from the Saint John High School. She had been a kindergarten teacher for several months and had wide popularity because of her excellent disposition and dependable nature. Her young friends were full of anxiety when their girl companion was obliged to undergo the operation, and their sorrow is keen in their loss.

Teachers End Exams. And Pupils Begin

Examinations for teachers' licenses were completed yesterday under the supervision of Inspector George J. Marr. Twenty-two wrote the examinations and the results, it is expected, will be announced the latter part of July. In the High School, June examinations for some of the grades commenced yesterday.

He leaves to mourn, besides his wife, who was a native of England, two sons, Albert W., of Bladworth, Sask.; Charles H., of Welsford and one daughter, Mrs. I. P. Stevenson, of Westfield. The funeral will be held from his late residence to St. Luke's church, Welsford, with service at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The arrangements will attend in a body.

RAZE PARKER HOUSE

Boston Hotel to Give Way to 800 Room One is Announcement.

BOSTON, June 13.—The Parker House, one of Boston's famed hostleries, will be razed and a new 800-room hotel will be built on the site by the F. B. Whitely Corporation, present lessees of the hotel.

The new hotel will be built to the 155 feet height limit at Tremont and School streets and will be set back 20 feet from School street. The Bosworth street section of the hotel—at present a nine-story structure with 88 rooms—will remain as it is for the present.

The Parker House will continue to be operated as a hotel until suitable plans are drawn for the new project.

As Hiram Sees It

"By the way," said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "how do you get on?" He seemed rather despondent the last time I saw him.

"Oh," said Hiram, "Pete's all right now—he's got something to work for."

"He's got something to work for?" said the reporter. "There is nothing in the world that can make a man more content than the knowledge he has something to work for. What is Pete working for?"

"His automobile," said Hiram. "He went and bought one—an 'it' kept him busy ever since. It takes every cent he can earn to feed it and pay the installments on it—but I guess he'll hev it paid fer by the time its ready for the junk-pile. Then he'll hev a rich lot of experience to pack away an' think about when he can't git nothin' else to do."

"Isn't that wonderful," said the reporter.

"It makes me wonder," said Hiram. "Yes, sir—it does so."

INCREASE IS BIG IN 25 YEARS

School Taxation Here in 1900 Was Less Than $100,000

This Year It is $579,307—City Has Property Valued at $1,034,643.

That the citizens of Saint John believe in education for the rising generation and are willing to tax themselves to provide the facilities is shown in the advance in the amounts collected for the schools of the city during the last 25 years. In that time the amount expended for schools has increased by more than 500 per cent, and next year, with the opening of the vocational school, will see another increase.

The city now has some of the finest school buildings in the Dominion and the Mar has been and are being gradually replaced with larger and more modern quarters for the scholars.

HURT IN COLLISION

Particulars of Accident to Saint John People in Detroit Are Received.

A letter received by Mrs. J. Irwin, 50 Saint James street, mother of Murray Irwin, who, along with his wife, Florence, and his brother, Harold, was injured in an accident at Detroit last Sunday, states that the accident occurred when the ambulance of the Grace Hospital collided with the automobile in which they were driving.

All three were quite severely injured about the body and were taken to hospital. The letter stated that they expect to have recovered sufficiently to return to their homes tomorrow or Monday. Their auto was badly damaged.

Body Brought Here From Australia

The body of Harley F. Nobles, who died in Australia on April 9, arrived in New York yesterday by the S. S. Canadian Britisher from Sydney and will arrive in Saint John on Monday by the Boston train for service and interment here, where Mr. Nobles was born. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Nobles of Renforth. His wife, who was Miss Ruth Nevin of New York and his two children are accompanying the body. Mr. Nobles was a member of the masonic fraternity. He was a promoter of the Maritime interests in Australia.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Some 30 friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wanamaker gathered at their home, 32 Paddock street, last evening to celebrate the eighth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Wanamaker. During the evening a basket, filled with flowers and useful gifts was presented to Mrs. Wanamaker by Mrs. Williamson on behalf of those present.

Mrs. Wanamaker responded nicely. The evening was pleasantly spent in dancing and music and delicious refreshments were served.

Sliding and Cosy Corner Cots for the City Home or Summer Camp

Have you ever considered the convenience of a sliding cot? In case of the arrival of an unexpected guest, you are never at a loss for a bed, simply slide the cot open and there you have a good sized bed for two persons. We have them covered in either Green Denim or Figured Cretonne as low as $13.00. HOW ABOUT A COSY CORNER COT? For the tired Housewife to take a few minutes of relaxation on during the short lull in the Household round. If people realized the advantage of rest even for a few minutes, they would always have a comfortable cot handy to stretch out upon when the body demands rest. The Cost is very reasonable. Come in and let us tell you about the Hercules sagless spring supplied on our cots.
