CHARLEY'S LUCK.

Charley Wiburn and I are seem to belong to the family at all. We had no end of relations, and he was a general favorite with all,

"Another legacy, I suppose, eh?"

"Very likely," he returned, indifferently—he was so used to these things he scarcely took any notice of them now. "It's Uncle I am sorry for you—sorry to think alazardan. Stephen. Did you AND IRON BLOOD MAKER

I took the lawyer's letter, as a sort of credential, and set out, grumbling a good deal at what I considered Charley's "cheek" in thus making use of me. If I had it was only because I had worked at it anore constantly, and now instead of reaping the advantage in the shape of a few days' rest, he made it an excuse for sending nue W. T. There is a draft for forcing the size and to a draft for forcing the removal of the dividing centre-place, which is of the usual form, be converted into an which is of the usual form, be converted into an quiet-looking place on the out-skirts of the town. He lived alone with his daughter (his wife being is. Therefore I have it with Milly, dead), a housekeeper and one servant. Though everything was comfortable, there was that indescribable air that gave one the impression that they were not too well off as regards this world's goods.

Therefore I have it with Milly, if she says "yes, I say the same, and you will both have something to set up housekeeping with."

legacies. He was constantly getting some little "windfall' of this kind, till at length Charley Wiburn's "luck" became a general catchword among us—a synonym for all that was lucky and fortunate.

One morning at breakfast—we come in for.

"Was that the secret cause of this sudden friendliness?" I asked myself. But when I looked at Milly, and saw the frank glance of her truthful, honest-looking eyes, I felt ashamed of myself; nor, when the called me back.

To cut the matter short, I had to consent—as I generally did where Charley was concerned.

3. At the first election of Mayor and Aldermen each can-didate for the office of Mayor or Aldermen shall be nominated in writing by at least two qualified electors of the Town, and the on paper must be deposited with the Returning officer at or before 5 o'clock p. m., three clear days previous to the one preceding the election. If, only one candidate be nominated for Mayor within the time specified, the Returning Office, shall at the hour when nominations close, declare him elected Mayor. If no more than eight candidates be nominated for Aldermen, he shall in like manner and at the same time declare the whole eight duly elected as Aldermen. If there are more candidates than one for Mayor, or more candidates than eight for Aldermen, then a poll shall be held. The Returning Officer shall provide such ballot box or boxes as may be required. Each elector may ballot for one candidate for Mayor, and for as many candidates as there are Aldermen to be elected for Aldermen. Any ballot containing more than one name for Mayor, or more than the number of names to be elected for Aldermen shall be rejected and not counted. The ballots may be written or printed as provided in the schedule of the Towns Incorporation Act (see form appended thereto.) In case of a tie the Returning Officer shall have the casting vote, and the Returning Officer shall not vote except in the event of there being a tie. The Returning Officer shall, after the votes are counted, make declaration of the persons elected Mayor and Aldermen, respectively.

4. Every male person and every widow and unmarried female, being ratepayers of the Town on income or personal property to the amount of one hundred dollars or upwards, or on real property to any amount, and having paid his or her rates due, previous to such election, whose name appears on the list of voters of the Ward in respect of which he or she claims the right to vote, shall be entitled to vote.

5. In any case in which the name of any person entitled to vote shall have been omitted from the voters' list, it shall be placed thereon by the poll clerk, on the person claiming to vote. producing and having authenticated his or her receipt for the payment of the taxes which would give such claimant the right to have his or her name regularly placed on the voters' list.

6. Any person claiming to vote shall, before voting, if required by the officer or person holding such election, or by any candidate, or by any person qualified to vote at such election, make oath, or, being legally entitled so to do shall make affirmation before the officer or person holding such election as follows,

I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am of the full age of twenty-one years, and that I am the person named in the list of voters, and that I have paid all taxes assessed upon me in the town of Chatham and that I have not voted before at this election—So help me God.—

Which oath or affirmation the officer or person holding such election is authorized to administer, and in every case where the elector shall have been sworn or affirmed as aforesaid, the presiding officer shall write in his poll book that such elector was

Each ballot paper to be used at any and every such election shall contain the names of the persons nominated for the office of Mayor, and also the names of the persons nominated for the office of Aldermen for all the wards for which more than two

9. If a greater number of persons are nominated for the offices of Mayor or Aldermen, respectively, than are required to mill said offices, the names of the different candidates for said offices shall be posted in some conspicuous place in each polling booth where such election is to be held, and the polling officers shall, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the day of such election, open a poll for the election of persons from among the candidates nominated, and shall keep the same open till four o'clock in the afternoon of the said day.

10. At any election for Mayor and Aldermen every elector shall vote at the poll for the ward on the -voters' list of which his name appears, and not elsewhere, and non-residents shall vote at the poll for the ward in which their qualification is located but no person shall vote at any one election in more than one polling place. Non-residents having property in more than one ward may notify the Returning Officer as to the ward for which he desires to vote, and the Returning Officer shall enter his name on the list for that ward.

11. Excepting the electors desiring to vote, not more than two of whom shall be admitted at a time, no persons shall be allowed in the room in which the poll is being held excepting the presiding officer and Poll Clerk, also one or more constables to preserve order (the number so to be allowed to be in the discretion of the presiding officer), and also one agent for each of the candidates duly appointed in writing. No agent or other person shall, in the room where the Poll is being held, be permitted to offer any elector a ballot, or otherwise canvass him or seek to

12. On the Presiding Officer being satisfied of the right of any person claiming to vote to do so, he shall receive from such ter, his ballot and in the presence of the elector, place the ballot paper in the ballot box. The presiding officer shall mark off from the list the name of each person, as he deposits his ballot, and the poll clerk shall enter on the poll list the name of each elector roting, and any other fact the presiding officer may require him to note, and shall assist the presiding officer in counting and tallying the ballots.

(a) Every person who seeks to ascertain how an elector has marked his ballot paper, and every elector who exposes his ballot paper so as to show how it is marked, shall incur a penalty of twenty dollars. (b) If any ballot paper should be deposited with more names thereon voted for for any office than are required to fill the same, such ballot paper shall be declared void in so far only as relates to the Mayor, has occurred as the case say be.

(c) Every elector must vote without undue delay, and shall quit the polling station so soon as his ballet paper has been placed in the ballet box.

(d) Any writing or mark placed on a ballot paper, by a voter, which week be calculated to indicate the identity of the voter and thereby impair the secrety of the ballot, shall invalidate the ballot paper, and it shall be the duty of the presiding officer to reject such ballot when counting the ballots polled.

13. The polling officers at any election of Mayor and Aldermen or any or either of them shall not be disqualified from voting at such election, as electors, by reason of being such officers.

14. The name of each elector voting at such election shall be written in a poll list, and after the close of the poll the officer holding the election shall forthwith openly and publicly ascertain and declare the number of votes given for each of the candidates, and as soon as possible thereafter he shall make return thereof under his hand, to the Returning Officer, who at the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon of such election day, or so soon thereafter as practicable, declare the candidate or candidates having the atest number of votes duly elected; provided however, in case an equal number of votes shall have been cast for two or more candidates, for any office, the Returning Officer shall give the casting vote or votes, and declare such candidate or candidates for whom he shall give such vote or votes duly elected, in addition to those, (if any) already returned by acclamation.

15. If any person shall fraudulently vote at any such elec-tion by personating any elector, or, being qualified, shall vote more than one at any election for Mayor or Aldermen he shall, for every offence, be liable to a penalty not exceeding forty

A QUEER ADVENTURE.

A QUEER ADVENTURE.

It happened about seven years ago. I had been transacting some businesse in London, and was returning by the afternoon mail to my house in the country. Being the only coequant of the carriage in which I rede, I broke the tedium of the journey by reading, in the dim light of the chill December of the several periodicals with which I had furnished myself at the bookstall previous to my departure from the station.

The papers at that time were full of accountry of the several enablishment of the several enablishment of the commissioned to find some one committed just previously by a band of desperate unhilists, who, in their own particular manner, were levying war upon civilization in a well-know European capital. The reports were alarm them, for rumor had it that the ramifications were well-nigh limit less, extending into other lands besides their own, and it was plain; by hinted that Kngland was shortly to receive a special share of their attentions.

I read on until the growing dark, mease rendered the operation too difficult to be longer indulged in and then mused upon what I had read until, half my journey being accomplished, it became necessary for me to change my train. With a quarter of an hour to spare I antered the buffet attached to the station of the carriage in the station.

for me to change my train. With a quarter of "an hour to spare I defy you," I exclaimed, with a quarter of "an hour to spare I defy you," I exclaimed, with the object of obtaining some meeder freshment. Having eaten nothing since breakfast, I was mistaken in my man, how-nothing since breakfast, I was mistaken in my man, how-nothing substantial wherewith to appease my appetite.

The only available thing beside the usual sandwich was a German sanuage, which I began to tackle without the least computation. Although not an edible that I usually indulged in—to be correct, I had never before tasted it—the inelegant bolony seemed to my sharpened palate quite toothsome food, and I at evigorously, and felt, as I believed, all the better for it when the time came to resume my journey.

I had a companion this time, a man who, like myself, was closely wrapped, and who occupied the seat directly opposite to the correct one in which I placed myself. In his hand I noticed that he carried a small, oblong parcel, incased in brown paper and tied with a strip of this string, so arranged as to form a loop for the fingers that held it.

On starting, my fellow-traveler made a few commonplace remarks about the weather, and later on, with an air of decided speciability, offered me his flask. I am aware that held it.

My companion, evidently divining my intention, spoke:

"You are powerless to move," he said, addressing me. "The portion imbibed from my flask is a special decoction which will prevent action on your part for some time to come.

You know. doubtless, what this is," he continued, pointing to the box, which has taken la Jewelery or about it him, "and most likely you guess what I am at the same time. In case you do not, I will tell you at once that I am one of that noble band who have for their object in life the emancipation of mankind from the tyranny of authority!"

"In other words, you are a nihi-list—a dynamitard?" I suggested. "Use those terms if you like," he replied. "There is nothing in a name. Acts are the things whereby men are judged. Hear what I have to say! The society to which I helpe has decreased the invalidation. Give us a trial and be convinced.
