FREDERICTON MURNS CANON ROBERTS' DEATH.

Beloved Clergyman Passed Away Peacefully This Morning---A Sketch of His Useful Life---The Head of a Distinguished Family.

(Special to the Star.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., Oct. 11.—At 5:45 o'clock this morning George Goodridge Roberts, canon of Christ Church Cathedral, and the greatly beloved rector of Fredericton, passed quietly away. The announcement of the death fell as a great blow upon the whole city. All denominations loved, respected and honored him and there were few homes this morning that did not feel that they had lost a loving friend and helper.

Dr. Roberts up to Sunday last, had suffered for some ten days from a severe cold, but in spite of all he still managed to visit about and on Sunday morning last, though suffering great pain, he preached from the pulpit of the church he loved so much. Then he administered the Holy Communion. This was his last public act on earth.

He was driven home immediately afterward and the doctor pronounced his case as pneumonia, and having a weak heart, the disease rapidly made headway. The pain was severe and it was found necessary to keep the patient under morphine. Though conscious to the last, on account of the drag, the rector was in a stupor during most of his illness interrupted with attacks of delirium.

Canon Roberts was born at St. John, December 29th, 1832, and was the oldest son of the late George Roberts, B. A., Ph. D., and Emily Goodridge, Educated at Fredericton grammar school and the U. N. B., he graduated from the latter in 1852 and took his M. A. in 1854. The graduating class included Col. J. L. Marsh, in 1850 and the late W. H. Murray, of St. John.

On Sept. 24th, 1857, Mr. Roberts was ordained into the ministry by the late Bishop Medley and was appointed rector of Douglas. In 1861 he accepted the rectory of St. John's, where he held for 15 years. On December 11, 1873, he was inducted rector of Fredericton and in 1880 was appointed Canon of Christ Church. In 1901 the University conferred upon his distinguished graduate the Degree of L. L. D.

For over a quarter of a century Canon Roberts has been one of the examiners for degrees at the University. He married in 1857, Emma Bliss, by whom he is survived. He also leaves three sons, Prof. Chas. G. D. Roberts, William Carman Roberts and Theodore Roberts, and one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Murray.

His half century of pastoral work was performed in three parishes. Four years he was rector of Douglas, where his eldest son Charles was born. This ten years he was rector of Sackville and Dorchester. When a large parish union his centre at Westlock it was there that the younger members of the gifted family were born, and began the family tree. The eldest son, Charles, was a poet.

Since 1873 Dr. Roberts has resided at Fredericton. He retained through the whole period his connection with the University of which he was one of the most distinguished graduates. Dr. Roberts was himself a Douglas Gold Medalist and was for many years a member of the University. He took an active share in the proceedings of the alumni society, and was frequently selected the lecturer for the Latin composition prizes given by that society.

In the city of Fredericton Dr. Roberts was greatly beloved. His genial disposition, old-fashioned courtesy, and his ready and kind heart were known and appreciated by all. Some of his fine qualities he had by inheritance, from his father, one of the most distinguished scholars of his time, who for several years was master of the collegiate school at the cathedral and held in great esteem throughout the city.

FREDERICTON, Oct. 11.—The funeral of Canon Roberts will be held on Friday afternoon from the cathedral.

W. F. M. S. ANNUAL SESSION TODAY.

29th Meeting of the Maritime Organization.

Delegates Warmly Welcomed to St. John—Members of Standing Committees Elected This Morning.

The twenty-ninth annual meeting of the W. F. M. S. of the Presbyterian church, eastern section, opened last night in St. Andrew's church, with about 200 delegates present. At 7:30 the board of management met to draw up the docket for the session, following which a reception for the visitors was held in the school room of St. Andrew's for the visiting members.

The reception committee was composed of Mrs. (Dr.) Fotheringham and Mrs. E. A. Smith.

The meeting this morning in St. Andrew's church was called to order by the president, Mrs. Baxter. Mrs. McLeod, of Sydney, opened the meeting with prayer and was followed by Mrs. A. A. Graham with the reading of scripture. Election of standing committees then proceeded with and the result was as follows:

Nominating committee—Mrs. R. P. Fraser, Pictou; Mrs. Kerr, Halifax; Mrs. Struan Robertson, St. John; Mrs. Dickie, Truro; Mrs. McLeod, Sydney; Mrs. McCreger, Liverpool; Mrs. McKeen, Amherst.

Committee on Credentials—Mrs. Bain, Mabou; Mrs. Sutherland, Halifax; Mrs. Moore, North Sydney; Mrs. J. H. Thomson, St. John.

Question Drawer—Mrs. D. W. McDonald, Westport; Mrs. Grant, Lunenburg; Mrs. D. K. Grant, Parrsboro.

It was moved by Miss Carmichael and seconded by Mrs. Thomson that a stenographer be appointed for tomorrow. After considerable discussion the motion was lost.

An address of welcome was given by Mrs. E. A. Smith, who greeted the visitors most warmly, and in the course of her remarks spoke of the various points of interest and beauty about the city where they should visit. Mrs. McNab replied suitably on behalf of the delegates.

The reports from the ten different presbyteries in the provinces, seven in Nova Scotia, two in New Brunswick and one in Prince Edward Island, were then read by their respective representatives, and were very satisfactory.

The reports from the eastern section were read by Mrs. J. H. Thomson. The reports from the western section were read by Mrs. McNab, of Halifax, the corresponding secretary of the eastern section, then presented her report, giving a detailed account of the work throughout the provinces, and showing a very gratifying increase in the interest in foreign missions and the progress of the work during the year.

A resolution was adopted, the meeting then adjourned until 2:30 this afternoon.

SENATOR FULFORD'S CHAFFEUR IS DEAD.

NEWTON, Mass., Oct. 11.—Louis E. Zerlax, of Albany, N. Y., the chaffeur who was injured in a collision between an automobile and electric car in this city on Sunday, died at the Newton Hospital early today.

Mr. Zerlax was driving the automobile of Senator George Fuld of Brookville, Ont., down a steep hill on Beacon street at the bottom of which the Newton and Boston street railway runs on Walnut street. Buildings on the corner prevented the chaffeur from seeing an approaching car, and the collision followed. Senator Fuld and a companion were not seriously hurt.

The death occurred this morning of Mrs. Patterson, widow of the late Robert J. Patterson, at her home, 168 Leinster street, in the 6th year of her age. CHINA DEMANDS HEAVY DAMAGES FROM U. S.

Claims Americans Have No Right to Exclude Chinese and Wants Compensation for Those Deported --- Claims Aggregate a Million Dollars.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A Washington despatch to the Tribune says that a new phase of China's policy of retaliation against the United States because of its exclusion laws was discussed at the capital. Societies with officials of the Chinese legation are collecting claims of damages for the deportation of Chinese immigrants for presentation to the state department. The claims arise from the Chinese contention that the Burlingame treaty of 1868, which does not restrict immigration, is the only existing contract between the two governments since the treaty of 1864 lapsed. Every Chinaman who is deported is accordingly encouraged by the Chinese government to communicate with the legation at Washington, stating the financial loss and personal suffering entailed. These claims average over $1,000 each, and hundreds of them have been received at the legation where the officials are now busy putting them in shape. The complete bill, it is understood, will not be presented to the state department until the amount exceeds $1,000,000. Anticipating that the United States government will not admit the validity of the claims, it is understood that China will be prepared to appeal to the Hague tribunal for a settlement of the claim.

Legation officials explain the collection of claims, on the ground that they will make clear before the world China's attitude toward the exclusion laws.

The Chinese government argues that the treaty of 1868, known as the Burlingame, is still in effect. The treaty of 1880, which especially provides for limiting the immigration of Chinese laborers to this country, but which did not exclude them altogether, was abrogated according to the Chinese. The United States when Chinese by a law in 1888, excluding Chinese laborers. This law was made by the United States against the protest of China and therefore only a domestic law and not an international contract. The treaty of 1880 was made by the United States against the protest of China and therefore only a domestic law and not an international contract. UNITED BAPTISTS ASSOCIATION COMPLETING DETAILS OF UNION.

For yesterday's proceedings see page 7.

In Waterloo Street Baptist church this morning the first annual association met next year early in July in a place to be decided upon by the executive committee on resolutions reported through their chairman, Barry Smith. At yesterday morning's meeting it was decided that the association should have at least a moderator, a secretary and an assistant secretary. Rev. A. J. Prosser was elected to the former position and Rev. M. Dargatz to the latter.

The session will probably finish its work this afternoon. The by-laws and the remainder of the constitution are the chief matters which will come up. Already a large number of delegates have left the room, quite a number leaving by the train at noon. Among those who leave tonight is Rev. O. Hutchinson, who is going to Ottawa and Montreal. At the latter place he will give the annual address at the Grand Ligne Mission.

JAMES BRENNAN CHALLENGES CHIEF.

Wants to Meet Him in a Boxing Match.

The Charge Against Chief Clark for Assault Was Dismissed by Magistrate This Morning.

The chief's actions were good. Mr. Sandall was cross-examined at some length by Mr. Brennan, and said that Brennan had been blocking the doorway and was obstructing. Witness said he had only been to Spruce street, and had not been on a "teeter" with the chief.

Wm. O. Stewart another witness said that at the time in question there was quite a crowd in the office including a number of ladies. Mr. Brennan used very loud talk and was talking to Chief Clark in a most aggravating manner.

Bruce Robb, sworn, said he was at City Hall on Saturday, Sept. 30th, paying his taxes. There was about half a dozen men in line. When he was waiting for his slip of paper from the clerk, Brennan pushed in front of him. The chief said that witness was in before Brennan, and removed the latter from the place. Brennan again pushed in front of witness and to save any disturbance was allowed to remain. He did not see the chief assault Brennan but the latter made considerable noise.

Charles Dodge next gave about the same evidence, as the previous witness and Chief Clark also went on the stand and said he did not assault Brennan who was noisy and aggravating.

After the chief and Mr. Brennan got through addressing the court, magistrate Ritchie reviewed the case and said there was not very much in it and he would therefore dismiss it.

At this stage Mr. Brennan asked to be heard and informed the magistrate that he believed Jack Power was going to put on a boxing match, and if the chief was willing he would meet him there in a friendly bout.

The party left the court smiling and saying if there had never been a discharge.

Engineer F. A. Darbour arrived on the C. P. R. express from Boston on noon today and left immediately for Loch Lomond to inspect the work.

VITROPHY, THE SCIENCE OF LIFE.

Free Lectures at York Theatre.

Commenting tomorrow night, and continuing the series, Prof. Wm. Windor, LL. B., Ph. D., president of the Boston College of Vitrophy, and who is the most eminent and successful lecturer on the new science of character known as "Vitrophy," will lecture on the subject of "The Science of Life."

The gentleman modestly lecturing at the College in the past week is one of the most noted characters in America. The gentleman is Prof. William Windor, and he is the most expert physiologist in Europe or America.

He has done more good than the greatest philanthropist, and few clergymen have more to their credit. He has directed thousands of young men in the path of prominence, who otherwise would have lived a miserable life.

He has told them for which they are best adapted, the vocation, environment, climate and companionship. The following clipping from the Bloomington, Illinois, Daily Bulletin attests the high standing of Prof. Windor in the United States:

LAST WEDDING CLOTHES. Bangor Man Leaving to Wed Young Woman in Another City Had His Gripe Taken to Mistake.

A Bangor young man who left town Saturday for another Maine city where he was to be one of the chief actors in an important event in his life—his marriage—had rather a hard start in his matrimonial career. He worked hard Friday night that he might leave things in shape at the office before he left and arose early to take the seven o'clock train for the west. He stopped at the restaurant at the western station for a bite to eat before proceeding on his journey and this was what caused him a whole lot of trouble.

After he had finished a light meal he paid his bill and began to look around for two dress suit cases which he had left near the door, while eating. In them were all his wedding clothes, newly made for the occasion, and those he intended taking on his wedding trip. Much to his surprise and chagrin, both were missing and a hasty search revealed them not.

The case was a perplexing and an embarrassing one and it would be hard to describe his feelings, so his friends, when he began to realize that he might have to stand up in what he had on or, at best, a suit of the pile. Relief came, however, on the arrival of the train at Newport when it was found that his cases had been taken by mistake by a travelling man who did not discover his error until after the train had started. In the course of the day they were restored to him and he went on his way happy in the thought that it was no worse than the delay of a few hours.

ONLY HALF DONE. One of the newly rich, John Johnson by name, to establish a sort of literary character, had bought a lot of books, fiction, and was somewhat out of repair and he took it to the binder's. When finished he noticed that the words "Johnson's Dictionary" had been stamped on the back. He fell into a furious passion and demanded of the man:

"Why didn't you put the full name on—'John Johnson's Dictionary'?"

SAYS SHE SAW HEAVEN AND HELL IN A VISION

Iowa Woman Who Was Sore as by a Miracle Tells a Wonderful Tale—Was Unconscious Five Days.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 10.—To die, to be received in heaven and hell, to be resurrected and told by God to preach what she saw to the people here below, are the alleged experiences related by Mrs. Lottie Clark, who a few weeks ago was restored to health by an apparent miracle while on her deathbed.

From her visit she says she learned that the world will soon come to an end, the water turn to oil and the whole be set afire.

At first few believed even the story of the woman's recovery, but she has been in a stupor five days and physicians had given her up. But the members of the Presbyterian church, who are convinced not only of the truth of her recovery, but also of the truth of her wanderings through heaven and hell.

Mrs. Clark had never read the Bible, but she told of things which the Bible proclaims, and so certain are the words that she has been called upon by God to teach them that she has been invited to preach at the Seventh Street Presbyterian church.

"I am positive that I saw a vision accorded to few here below," said Mrs. Clark. "It is daily becoming clearer, and a few nights ago I was compelled to return below and preach what I had seen. Heaven is divided into two parts, the first the most beautiful, Jesus from the gate and three thrones. He is seated on the right, Jesus on the left is Gabriel. He had his big trumpet. From the thrones I passed down a hill covered with the most beautiful grass. At the foot of this was a magnificent park, where people were lying about."

"Here were fountains, the water sparkling like diamonds. Below the hill is a sandy beach, but the sand is red hot and the water which laps the shore is boiling. The people there have their faces drawn up in horrible agony and their hands are clasped as if in awful misery. I shudder even now when I think of it."

"In the first part of heaven the people are all attired in silken robes, while in the second they wear blue robes with golden stars.

"Also during my vision that the end of the world was not far distant. The exact time of the millennium was not told to me, but it will be shown to me as in Revelation. The grass and leaves will wither up, while the water turns to oil and all will burn together."

Mrs. Clark had other revelations during her vision, and she dwells upon them for hours at a time.

drain the artificial lake and would be very useful in case of a leak in the dam, if such a thing should ever take place in that huge mass of artificial rock, strengthened by rods of iron.

There are many useful and wonderful pieces of machinery in use at the extension, but the concrete mixer which was quite lately installed on the work on the dam is the most wonderful of them all. This thoroughly fills the concrete, and when it has reached the right consistency dumps it out ready for use. This piece of machinery is worth $2,000 and is probably the best that amount easily in manual labor.

Over the gates which are to regulate the flow of water to the city, a small brick building is to be built as a shelter. The grubbing operations which are being carried on by Contractor Crawford are now in full swing and small fires dot both sides of the stream where the rubbish is being burned.

After dusk the fires make a very pretty sight, as they show through the darkening sky, and the noise of the machinery is heard from the city.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? I went to the registry office for a card, which is the one given of the card I inquired her surname.

"What is it," was the reply. "For a while I sat in despair, the girl eyeing me with a rueful countenance. Finally a happy thought struck me. 'Annie,' I said, 'what is your father's name?'"

"Annie," was the reply, "feeling that I was suddenly becoming a parrot."

But, like the eternal "Nevermore" of Poe's Raven, came the echo: "That is it!"

"A sudden illumination! Perhaps mine is the dull brick."

"What do you put on your father's letters?" I next interrogated.

"That is what I must put on or he would not get them," was the sobbing response.

"I'm going to give up after such a trial of patience on both sides, I asked gently, 'How do you spell it?'"

"That is what I must put on or he would not get them," was the sobbing response.

RUSHING THE WORK AT LOCH LOMOND.

A Sketch of the Work Already Done.

Most interesting feature is the Big Dam, which is Almost Completed.

The fine weather of the last few weeks has been a subject of congratulation on the part of the contractors on the water works extension and while the weather continues steady progress is being made. So far the work has not been bothered by frost but it is liable to come at any time and cause delays.

To prevent the most difficult part of the work, the building of the dam is undoubtedly the most interesting and liveliest. Forty teams are engaged in bringing the material to the site, and the work is being pushed up to the required depth for the foundation of the dam.

The dam which is the beginning of the extension works is not constructed near Loch Lomond, as might be supposed, but on the extension works generally understood to be to Loch Lomond. The work begins, above the dam, with the necessary bridge stream, which is the exit to the lake and it is here by the use of the immense dam of solid concrete that the engineers decided to build a great artificial lake. The choice of location for this was made by the engineers who were fortunate for the contractors. A little further down the stream the work has been done in such a manner that the site which was chosen the contractors have had to go down great distances to get the material for the dam.

Only a few feet above the ground are in fact twenty-seven feet in height to keep the water from the works.

Corbett v. Halves. The story of the game is easily told. The visitors put in their Indian battery, Bender and Schreckengost, against McGinnity and Bresnahan. The visiting pitcher was excellently supported, as was McGinnity for two innings. But in the third inning Bresnahan made a costly error, which gave the visitors a lead which they never relinquished.

THE REPORT WAS ADOPTED.

Taxation Committee's Report Passed by Board

A meeting of the board of trade was held yesterday afternoon to further consider the report of the taxation committee. The meeting opened on June 7th had resulted in the following sections being passed:

- 1.—Reaffirm that direct taxation of personal property is inexpedient.
2.—Assessment should be limited to as few classes of property as possible and tax should be uniform on any given class.
3.—Assessment should be confined to tangible property and in place of personal and income taxation the rental value of premises occupied, as suggested as a basis for assessment.
4.—In cases where volume of business is out of proportion to premises occupied a business license fee should be imposed.
5.—All vehicles should be taxed.
6.—Introduction to suggestion.
7.—Taxation of real estate upon actual value at a rate sufficient to provide half the revenue required.
8.—Taxation of business, assessment being on basis of rental value of premises occupied instead of on valuation of stocks carried.
9.—The sections considered yesterday were:
1.—Taxation of professions and financial institutions by fixed fees.
10.—Assessment of householders on basis of rental value of real estate occupied in lieu of personal property.
11.—Income tax on those who are not occupiers of real estate (exemption up to $200).
12.—Street license fees.
13.—Street license fees.
There were present H. B. Schofield, W. F. Hatheway, H. P. Fisher, R. T. Riving, G. F. Fairweather, R. T. Hayes, W. F. Burditt, W. H. Hayward, W. G. Fisher, F. A. Dymally, Emerson, H. A. Austin and G. P. Fisher.

The chairman, H. B. Schofield, reviewed the work of the committee to date. Section 9 was carried with one dissenting voice, G. S. Fisher alone voting against it.

In the next section W. F. Hatheway wished a limit put to the rentals; in Halifax $50 or $100 and under was exempted. He would like this considered. He favored $100 and moved to this effect. Anything higher than $100 should be paid.

Other members thought this matter of details should be left to the commission. "G. S. Fisher said the exemption did not accord with the principles of taxation. He thought 10 per cent. might be a better rate. He moved that the original be sent out on order. His suggestion could go, and he cited the W. H. Murray estate as a case showing that the original was not out of order. He suggested that this section be eliminated. Mr. Burditt thought it was peculiar that Mr. Fisher had kept all his objections to the last meeting, whereas he had many opportunities before of voicing his opposition to it. W. H. Thorne said the report was more one of principle than of detail. This latter was left to the commission. The committee could not go into details, and these must be left for the commission. Section 12 was then carried.

The report was adopted as a whole on motion of Mr. Burditt, who moved that the report be referred to the chairman, G. P. Fisher, who had been instrumental in drawing up the report, should be read and approved. W. F. Hatheway in seconding the motion congratulated the board on their report. He said that the report was an improvement under the new provisions. He said that the report was an improvement under the new provisions. He said that the report was an improvement under the new provisions.

Mr. Hatheway moved a copy of the report be sent to the commissioners. J. H. McKibbin said he would like the report presented to the commission by a committee and have the points discussed with the commissioners. The commissioners are anxious to have a full discussion of the problem, and invite the public to place their views before them. This was acceded to on Mr. Burditt's motion, and the council of the board of trade will appoint a small committee to present this report.

The board then adjourned.

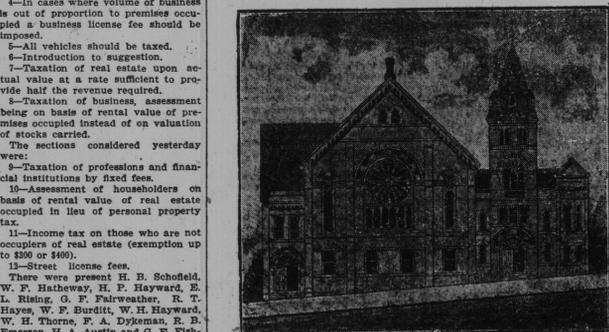

Yesterday afternoon the plat of the seats for the concert to be given in the Victoria rink on Monday next by the Irish Guard band was opened at A. C. Smith's drug store, Charlotte street, and judging from the rush there will be a very large advance sale.

The late Stephen Tobin was in his day one of the most prominent citizens and business men in Halifax. He was born in 1826, and educated in England. He did business in Halifax as a commission merchant for many years. After long service in the city council he was three times elected to the mayoralty. He was a delegate to the international convention at Portland in 1868, and presided over some of its sessions. Mr. Tobin was a unitarian in his religious views. He was elected to the house of commons with the late Senator Almon, but did not seek re-election at the end of his term.

THE LATEST STYLES FOR PET DOGS.

Tailor Made Coats Replace Seal-skin Jackets—The New Thing in Dogs Handkerchiefs—Cane Perfume

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Professional dog barbers view with disfavor the suggestion made by a lady owner that the London council ought to follow the example of the Dresden and Paris authorities and erect comfortable swimming baths for dogs and appoint experts in costume "crimping" and perfuming the coats of the pampered pets of the West End rate payers.

"There is a wide spread desire among the ladies that the council should provide such accommodations for their dogs," said Mrs. White-Pearce, in an interview, "but we realized experts in the 'barbering' of pets trained that such institutions would lead to the dissemination of disease among the council's four-footed patrons."

Mrs. White-Pearce spoke with authority on the subject of the dogs of many titled people in addition to conducting at Pinner a week-end fresh air resort or stylish boarding house for dogs whose delicate constitutions are not equal to the continuous strain of the London season.

"Ladies," she added, "are now seeking my advice as to what their little darlings shall wear in winter. For driving in the park or making calls I am recommending that 'doggy' should wear a neat tailor-made coat of super-sea the seal-skin jacket of last winter. The new coat is designed especially to protect the dog's chest while in the carriage or motor car.

"The handkerchiefs by the way—and every well-cared-for pet has one—must be of rather massive proportions and worn at the side of the face under the ear, not on the top of the head. That style has now gone out. Besides the shade of the dog's bow must match some prominent feature in the attire of the mistress, generally the trimming on her hat.

"This rule often causes great anxiety because only certain colors will match the coat of the pet. Black, pink or red goes well with a black poodle; blue is preferred for Bluehearts, but any color may be used for black and tan except green. Lady dog barbers make a special study of this color matching.

"Furtees are simpler. A lady invariably has her darling perfumed with the scent that she herself uses. There is little new to report in the matter of dog jewelry. In some cases gold bracelets set with gems are worn on the forepaw and ankle, and collars bearing the owner's crests—when there are crests—still remain the fashion. It was found that they made a dog's foot look longer than they actually are."

"I cannot say that I approve of the newest style of motoring costumes for dogs," Mrs. White-Pearce said. "I have seen one the other day on a terrier belonging to an American lady automobile driver. He had the car in the front of the motor and the chauffeur. The poor dog looked rather ridiculous with a pair of 'soggles' over his eyes and a hood over his head. The hood was made so that the dust could not get in, and the coat was 'built' of the usual material worn by motorists. It cost fifty dollars."

NEW TRIAL FOR COLE

THE STATE WILL TRY AGAIN FOR A CONVICTION—IN PRISONER SEEMS DEJECTED AND IS Showing Effects of Strain

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 10.—Edward F. Cole was not in court this morning when the jury came in after midnight to report that its members could not agree upon a verdict in his trial for the murder of his friend, John F. Stevens. The prisoner had been sent to the jail when the jury retired at 5.45 and there had supper. Finding that the jury did not return to the courtroom at a late hour in the evening, he retired to his couch and fell asleep and the officers did not awaken him to give him the news of the disagreement.

When he was told this morning, Cole appeared at first to be relieved, but later showed dejection. His only remark on the result was to ask whether there would be another trial, or if he would now be allowed to go free. This the officers at the jail could not tell him. Cole shows the effects of the strain today. His face is paler than it was at any time during the trial, except in the closing minutes, when he lost temporarily the appearance of indifference that had marked his features during the other days of the ordeal.

Cole will have another trial, County Attorney Eaton was asked this afternoon whether he would now enter a nolle prosequi in the case, and replied he would certainly not do so. "We shall try Cole again in January," he said, "when the next term of the superior court opens." Col. Eaton expects a conviction when the case comes up again, but Mr. Wilson, Cole's attorney, today said that if the state should try the case again he will be able to clear his client beyond a doubt. Mr. Wilson is disappointed with the result, but he thinks that even a disagreement was not altogether an unfavorable result of his labors in the case, considering how much he had to do.
