PROGRESSIVES AT VICTORIA CORNER

F. W. Smith, C. Gordon Sharpe, W. N. Raymond, as well as the Candidates Speak—Story of New M.P.P. Was Told

A meeting of the Progressives was held Friday in Victoria hall. Thos. W. Caldwell, G. Sharp, F. W. Smith, M. L. A., and W. N. Raymond were given great attention while they talked on some of the questions coming in for consideration in this campaign. Scott A. Shaw, in the capacity of chairman, first introduced Mr. Caldwell, who in a clear, concise and convincing manner gave a straightforward exposition of many matters that are due for consideration in this campaign. He first stated that from the nature of the fight being put up by the Meighen party it would seem that the Farmers, or Progressives, were ranked as the most dangerous opponents of that party. The big idea in the policy of hammering the Progressives so hard must be the hope to wreck the organization and leave the farmers with no recourse but to trift back into the old situation, when their influence divided between the two old parties might be determined on a basis of "taking nothing from nothing and nothing, nothing."

W. Smith, M. L. A., said that from the nature of his business he was very busy at this time and had not thought out the questions at issue in the contest sufficiently to enable him to be into them as thoroughly as he would like. However, as the report that he had "dropped" was being industriously circulated, he would say that he was still sound in the Progressive faith. At the close of a few general remarks on the issues of the campaign Mr. Smith related a recent experience he had been up against with New Brunswick's active guardians of game. A local paper had recently published a garbled and misleading account of this incident and he wished to state the actual facts as they occurred. He explained the occasion as making a trip to Juniper and said that he took a neighbor along in the car presumably to fish, as he had tackle with him. When they landed at Juniper a warden stepped up and opened a parcel that the passenger had along and exposed a rifle. Mr. Smith then thinking that this in any way concerned him, let the incident pass without a thought. Some time later he was asked to meet Warden Bradbury at Woodstock and fix up. He went to meet the warden, all the time wondering what they could have against him. Later he learned that he was in for a fine, not for having the "arm" in his possession, but for being an accessory, or accomplice. It was also reported that he lost his temper and said a few things, going so far as to make dire threats against the government. This he wanted to deny. He recognized that he was "stung" and paid up without protest. In closing he referred to Senator Foster's nasty insinuation against the Farmers in reference to their share of the income tax. This he felt was a reflection on the honesty and integrity of a great class of Canadian citizenship and was altogether beneath a man of standing. He was disappointed in not finding Sir George Foster a broader and deeper man. As a Progressive he would say that they did not expect to upset the world but thought if they became an influence in Canada's government they would "have to go some" to do worse than has been done.

C. Gordon Sharp said that he was always at a disadvantage in such a meeting as his forte was associational work and not politics. At the outset of this Progressive movement according to Mr. Sharp the idea was to avoid politics, but the organization soon found that if they were going to do business successfully they must have a say in the government of the country. He felt that it was good policy to elect a representative who was familiar with the needs of the people he was representing, and who was engaged in and familiar with the farmers' interests. He spoke of the heavy advertising campaign of the Government party and suggested a possible source of funds for this expense. "What can Smith do or what can you expect him to do for your interests linked up as he will be with a party that spends so recklessly in an election fight like those and whose every interest is absolutely antagonistic to the farmers?" Mr. Sharp explained the financial situation of the Maritime Farmers' Co-Operative, saying that the recent audit had shown a quarter million surplus over liabilities and that this statement had been accepted by the members' Committee. This statement, as well as the statement of the last election fund, is open for inspection to any one at the office of the United Farmers in Woodstock. W. N. Raymond spoke in support of the U. F. Movement and declared the U. F. satisfied that Thos. W. Caldwell was the man best calculated to represent them. Much had been said against the Farmers' movement going into politics, but why not, when they represented a valuation of more than $32,000,000 in excess of any other single industry? This was an opportune time to seek a foot hold in the government of Canada considering the immense public debt and other staggering obligations. These must be paid and why was it not a reasonable argument that in order to get a fair adjustment of the tremendous burden the farmers must have a voice in the raising of the necessary revenue. In this campaign they were being told that their defeat was sure, as the FARMERS COULD NOT STICK. This was all bosh, as the farmers had on two occasions given a satisfactory demonstration of their stability and sincerity in the forward movement for purity in elections and better representation which makes for better government. The chairman closed a satisfactory little meeting by a few remarks which he appealed for general support for the Progressive candidate.

ORGANIZING NEW FERTILIZER COMPANY

Hatfield & Co., Ltd., to Hand Over Their Fertilizer Business to a New Corporation

H. H. Hatfield of Hartland, Charles F. Gallagher of Bath, Charles Clark and H. B. Dorost of Woodstock are forming a joint stock company for the purpose of taking over and extending the fertilizer business successfully launched by Hatfield & Co., Ltd., last year.

The principle business of the new corporation will be importing chemicals and other needed raw materials in large quantities and selling them to farmers for home mixing. This method of preparing fertilizers has been so perfect that it is no longer an experiment, and last year the Hatfield company sold thousands of tons, all of which gave the highest satisfaction.

The new company will have their principle place of business at St. John, which will be their distributing point. The promoters will be able to supply farmers with perfect fertilizers at prices very considerably less than the ready mixed material will cost them.

PROGRESSIVES AND TARIFF

To a question as to whether or not it was the Progressive policy to reduce the tariff irrespective of United States action, T. W. Caldwell replied their idea was that when the business of any company showed what would be an excess profit, right then protection on that company's product would be removed. On the other hand any company showing the need would be adequately protected.

T. W. CALDWELL AND HON. B. F. SMITH

Will Contest the Election—Joint Debate was Uneventful—Mrs. Adney Left Out

Nomination proceedings for Carleton-Victoria passed off very quietly. At an early hour the papers necessary for the nomination of B. F. Smith and T. W. Caldwell were duly presented. Later Mrs. Minnie Bell Adney appeared with her agent and the proper papers and it looked for a time as though a third candidate would be in the field. But there appeared to be a hitch somewhere. It seems that the necessary deposit was not forthcoming and at the last moment Mrs. Adney withdrew.

B. F. Smith was nominated by Geo. McElroy, W. S. Sutton, Chas. Giberson, Wallace Gibson, Wallace Smith, Wallace Blackie, Clayton Flemming, Frank Baird, N. J. Wooten, Claud Knapp, W. Jack Dibble, J. R. Brown, H. D. Stevens, C. M. Augherston, A. D. Holyoke, Fred E. Cowan, P. Hefferman, H. S. Wade, A. H. Baird, J. R. D. White and others.

Those on Thos. W. Caldwell's nomination papers were—Elmore Robinson, N. F. Phillips, Sam Burlock, B. L. Shaw, F. R. Bull, O. R. Batey, C. L. Smith, Frank J. Shaw, Clifford Gray, Stirling Peabody, Chas. Gray, F. O. Creighton, W. L. Margison, Deaton Bedell and others.

Immediately following the official and extremely notable nomination proceedings at the Court House, the immense crowd gathered at the Armory where a joint meeting had been arranged. Edgar W. Muir in opening the meeting stated that he believed in this method of getting the arguments of both candidates, on their respective policies, before the electorate. He introduced T. W. Caldwell, Progressive standard bearer, as the first speaker.

Mr. Caldwell in his speech of one hour and twenty minutes dealt at length and in an impressive manner with the many questions that have been before the electorate of Canada during this campaign. His talk was along the lines taken up by him in his meetings in this contest, and was presented in a masterly manner and with an air of sincerity that carried conviction in every sentence. He dealt with the tariff particularly as to the Progressive policy on trade relations, with the United States in particular. He showed that the policy that he was advocating was not necessarily a free trade policy and asserted that the opposition contention that the Progressives were committing themselves to a policy of free trade that would engender disloyalty to Great Britain and turn our country over to the Americans was a malicious untruth. The aim and policy of his party was to obtain reciprocal trade relations with the United States and reciprocity was not free trade, was not disloyal in principle and was needed by Canada. He had no criticism of the war debt but went into particulars to show where money was spent unnecessarily and extravagantly. He charged criminal extravagance in the Merchant Marine expenditure, a lack of business acumen in the loan of $50,000,000 to Greece and Roumania, two countries known to be bankrupt and known to have applied to Great Britain and the United States for accommodation in vain. Similar operations he was there to criticize as being good grounds for opposing the Meighen Government.

Criticism of many things of this nature, together with a detail of repeated efforts to get concessions favorable to his constituents, particularly in the way of shipping service out of St. John port in the Cuban potato trade, and in the removal of the duty on fertilizers, were Mr. Caldwell's answer to the charges repeatedly made, that he had no interest only to serve his western leaders and had failed to make any effort to advance the interests or improve conditions of the east. The speaker, in the course of his talk demonstrated many times that he was not always asleep on his job and that he was fully qualified to take care of himself and the interests of the east in any company. Mr. Caldwell was allowed time to make reply to any statement made by Mr. Smith but said there was nothing deserving a reply. One thing did however strike him and that was Mr. Smith's expressed opinion that he would have been elected in the provincial contest if the ballot to be used Dec. 5 could have been used in that contest. Mr. Caldwell suggested that there might be a trick in the ballot. In closing he expressed keen appreciation for past confidence and asked for the support of the electorate on his record and the policy of his party.

Caldwell Addresses Big Meeting at Hartland

Large and Enthusiastic Audience Listen Attentively—F. W. Smith also speaks

At the Progressive rally held in the Star Theatre Monday night the speakers, T. W. Caldwell, and F. W. Smith were greeted by a splendid audience. The speeches were excellent, that of Mr. Caldwell being exceptionally clear, clean-cut and convincing. He dealt with many vital questions of the day and set forth many facts that are hard for the Meighen government to get away from. Frank Hagerman presided and introduced the speakers in a characteristic manner.

F. W. Smith, M. P. F., spoke for a short time and confined his remarks to matters in relation to tariff. Since 1878 the tariff had been an issue in every election and had been made a political foot ball by both parties. He was in favor of moderate protection. Did not believe that high protection had all to do with keeping Canadian industries that had gone down in this country in spite of high protection. He dealt to some length with the influence of American branch factories on the business of Canada and closed the Valley Railway. Soon after his election two years ago he went along the valley line and arranged for a delegation to meet the Provincial government to see what could be done about the extension of this road. They were told that they must first get the Dominion Government to build a connecting link from Meductic to the American line, there to connect with the Maine Central. He arranged with the President of the St. John and Quebec Railway and the Maine Central to join him in a conference with the Minister of Railways. He showed that three-quarters of the freight going over the government roads was destined for the U. S., and that the C. P. R. being the connecting link got $100,000 per year out of this freight. This extension would cost $1,000,000 but with the Valley line extended to Grand Falls, so that this freight could be routed to Meductic and thence to the Maine Central, the saving would pay the outlay in 10 years. The Minister of Railways was taken with the

with a suggestion that all class themselves as farmers on Dec. 6 and vote for the Farmers' candidate.

T. W. Caldwell on rising to speak was given a good reception. After the applause had subsided Mr. Caldwell expressed his pleasure at being present as an advocate of his party's interests in this contest and in referring to the generous representation of women voters in the meeting claimed it as an omen of victory and said that if this element could have been introduced into the politics of Canada years ago there never would have been any need of a Progressive party as they never would have stood for the extreme corruption that had obtained in the past. Denouncing personality in a fight like the present one, he greatly deplored the despicable tactics followed by the Meighen party in bounding Wood and Casper, and he felt it his duty to make some things plain in this connection. Mr. Wood, he said, had never been in politics, neither does he dictate the policy of the Progressives. He is a naturalized citizen of Canada born of British parents, a Missourian by birth. It is true, but with a Canadian residence of 15 years to his credit. In 1917 Premier Borden offered him a seat in his cabinet and this he refused. During the last election in Alberta he refused to become a candidate and after the election, when the Premier'ship was tendered him, he refused the honor. Only three constituents were offered him in this one campaign. Surely such a man cannot be so terrible a menace to the country. As to Mr. Casper, when the Union Government was formed, R. L. Borden thought him good enough to take office under him and he became Minister of Agriculture in that government. He resigned when demobilization had been effected and later in a letter Premier Borden expressed his regret that he felt it necessary to leave the government. These men are being held up as near outlaws and maliciously ridiculed from one end of Canada to the other. He considered it a mistake to create a feeling of distrust among citizens of a country in this way and all for paltry political advantage. Passing to charges against himself it would appear that his glaring sin was the neglect of eastern interests, and particularly the cause of N. B. potato growers. He was surprised that his opponent would bring up this subject but supposed that potatoes were lying heavily on the man's conscience. He (Caldwell) had not neglected any duty that came to his attention and if not all ways getting results the fault was not with him. It was hard for a bunch of 16 Progressives to land many favors, where both old parties were inclined to sit on them, when they showed their hand. In speaking of their efforts to better some conditions that appealed to him he first mentioned project and when the President of the Maine Central offered to build their connection in 1920 it assured that the Canadian section would be constructed in 1921, the Minister promised to bring in a bill in support of the scheme. Later he was told by the Minister of Railways that since the deficit on Government railways was so great, $70,000,000, he could not introduce this project.

During last session Caldwell had felt that the Fertilizer situation was unfair and had taken up the question with the Minister of Agriculture. He explained that the N. B. farmer was paying $15 a ton more for his goods than the Maine farmer and to make matters worse this difference, except possibly $2 paid on Acid Phosphate went into an American bank account and not into Canadian revenue. The Minister promised to introduce this matter when the budget came down. This was in February but the budget not introduced until May 14, when the season's supply was all bought. Thus in two instances his best interests of the east were frustrated. Another matter that drew his attention was the shipping situation. Due to a ruling of the Railway Commission all charges on goods destined for the U. S. must be paid in American money. Thus it took $1.16 to pay $1.00 freight. On the other hand American goods coming to Canada paid the American mileage in American money and Canadian mileage in Canadian money. Since there was no facilities for storage in St. John, N. B. potatoes destined for Cuba had to be shipped through Boston under the above handicap. He brought this matter to the attention of the Ministers of Customs, Finance and Railways and explained the situation. Grain elevators had been provided to accommodate the west but no consideration had been given the N. B. farmer. He was directed to the Manager of the Merchant Marine and got a promise of action but nothing was done. A private concern has arranged with the Furness-Withy Co. for regular sailings but there is no government provision to help the situation. "If I have not done anything for my constituents, again it is not my fault." "In this connection I will say that the government has found it possible to subsidize regular service to the West Indies for the conveyance of liquor shipments. There are only a few instances where I have made earnest effort to accomplish something in the interest of the east." Turning to the tariff issue Mr. Caldwell quoted the Progressive propositions. We are charged with the intention of reducing the duty regardless of reciprocal action by the U. S. but this is false, and no one knows it any better than Premier Meighen. We hope to arrange a reciprocity treaty with the U. S. and this is likely as there is strong opposition to the Fordney bill. Misrepresentation may gain a few

by using

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

It is always interesting to make a discovery.

Women, as well as men, find joy in discovering something which they can tell others about.

Many thousands of women have quite accidentally discovered in Dr. Chase's Ointment, a skin beautifier of rare value.

Because Dr. Chase's Ointment is so universally used as a treatment for eczema and the skin troubles of babyhood, its effectiveness as a beautifier of the skin is sometimes lost sight of, until using it for these ailments of the skin its benefit to the skin itself is once more discovered.

With the modern use of powders and cosmetics the skin becomes dry and harsh, irritations are set up, pimples and blackheads are formed.

The use of Dr. Chase's Ointment makes the skin soft and pliable, and restores the healthful action of the pores of the skin which have been clogged by the use of powders.

The woman who is admired for the exquisitely fine texture and velvety softness of her skin is the one who regularly uses Dr. Chase's Ointment.

You can discover this for yourself by giving this delightfully soothing, healing ointment a few weeks' trial.

Tender Skin

Many men suffer from skin irritations of an eczemic nature as a result of shaving. In its more aggravated form this is known as "Barber's Itch." If your skin is tender you will find it good to apply Dr. Chase's Ointment after shaving. Wash thoroughly with hot water, dry the skin carefully without rubbing, and apply the ointment. This heals the irritated skin, keeps it soft and pliable, and by its antiseptic influence prevents the spread of skin trouble.

Many Uses

There are scores of ways in which Dr. Chase's Ointment is useful in the home. It is the standard ointment, and is used with great satisfaction for

Eczema

Miss Bessie Stewart, Lanark, Ont., writes: "I first took eczema on my head, and had to have my hair cut. Then the eczema broke out on the fingers of my right hand. It was so itchy I couldn't keep from scratching it, and it began to spread. In reading an old Almanac that mother had, I noticed that Dr. Chase's Ointment was recommended for eczema, so I sent for a sample box. I used the ointment every night, and soon saw a difference. I got a full-sized box at the drugists, and later another one, but I never needed the second, because after the use of the first box the eczema disappeared from both my head and fingers."

Baby's Skin

Mrs. Everett Roberts, 44 Endicott Ave., Halifax, N.S., writes: "I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for my baby, who had ringworms all over his face. I tried almost everything all over his face. I knew of without success until I used Dr. Chase's Ointment. This completely freed him of this annoying skin trouble in a short time. I would not be without this ointment in the house, and trust this may induce others to give it a trial and be convinced of its merits."

SOME CANADIAN AUTHORS OF TO-DAY

If any evidence were required of the growing interest in Canadian literature, one need only point to the remarkable progress of the Canadian Authors' Association, which already numbers over seven hundred members, although it was organized only eight months ago. Canada's readers are consequently rich in credit. In the world of fiction Arthur Stringer, Ralph Connor, L. M. Montgomery, Sarah King, Bertrand Sinclair, Isabel Joyce, James Macpherson, Madge Hackett, and Frank L. Packard are only a few of an army of popular novelists. Life on the prairie has been admirably depicted by James Campbell (Judge), Emily Murphy, Nellie McClung, Robert Samuels, and Maudie Allan. The chief object of the Canadian Authors' Association is to create a wider interest among Canadians themselves in their own literature.

It has an official organ called the "Canadian Bookman." It has helped to organize Canadian Authors' Week for the third week in November, in which libraries and bookstores will make special displays of Canadian books, and it has conducted a vigorous campaign for the improvement of copyright conditions in Canada.

Liberals: Remember it IS your fight. Independent newspapers agree that the Liberals have the best chance of winning this election. You have the chance to vote AGAINST the Tory candidate. SHERIFF PELLETIER, MADA-WASK, AND MOTHER DEAD

Former Member of Legislature Had Been Ill of Smallpox

Edmundston, Nov. 21.—Joseph H. Pelletier, high sheriff of Madawaska county, died suddenly this afternoon about 2 o'clock. He had been suffering from smallpox, but was considered out of danger. Death resulted from heart failure. The news that the sheriff had passed away was received with profound regret which was greatly intensified when it became known a short time later that the sheriff's mother, Mrs. Rene S. Pelletier, eighty years of age, had died suddenly upon hearing of her son's death. The shock had been too much for her. She had been living with her son George. The wife of the late sheriff is also very ill from the effects of vaccination.

Sheriff Pelletier leaves, besides his wife, who was Miss Edna Sirois, seven children, the youngest of whom is only six weeks old. The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon, but as the house is under quarantine, friends are not permitted to go there. Deep sympathy is tendered the bereaved family.

The late Sheriff Pelletier was born in 1876 at St. Francis. He was formerly a Liberal member of the legislature having been elected in 1912 along with L. A. Dugal, for Madawaska county. Messrs Dugal and Pelletier defeated Charles L. Cyr and Max D. Cormier by a large majority.

A farmer all his life, Caldwell knows the farmer's needs.

WALT MASON ON CASH RIDING

My car's so easy riding it gives no jar or shock, and in it I am gliding at all hours by the clock; and, as might be expected, my chores are off neglected, and creditors, dejected, and wishing I would walk. And every mile I travel, provides new, pleasant thrills; but, as I throw the gravel and climb the sunlit hills, the morbid undertaker, the butcher and the baker, protest that I'm a faker who doesn't pay his bills. All day you see me striving to make speed laws a jest, and if I cease my driving to give my car a rest, I'm boned by merchant princes for pay for prunes and quinces, and every one evinces a spirit I detest. Oh, why do men-like tailors insist on being paid? And why so many waiters amid the marts of trade? Why do they always chatter of things that do not matter? Why do they splash and splatter in language that's decayed? "Yoy ride in your four-wheeler," the village banker cries, "but you should pay the dealer from whom you bought your pie; if one has paid, the tinner, the webster and the spinner, the fletcher and the skinner, joy-riding then is wise. But if a man be owing for milk and garden sass, he then is wicked, blowing his coin for sparkling gas; and this the hosts are doing, all heedless they are 'choosing, while owing for the bluing, alack and eke alas!"

Will the Farmers Stick Together? Wait until Dec. 6 and see!

As Meek as a Lion Cub.

"There are certain men who are classed as 'armchair aviators,'" writes Henry Woodhouse in the American Magazine, on how animals act in airplanes. "Perhaps the most famous among armchair animal aviators are Whiskey and Soda, two lion cubs, pets of the Lafayette Escadrille. "The cubs finally had to be sent to a zoo in Paris because they were too nervous under fire. The men of the squadron decided, after their experience with Whiskey and Soda, that there was something wrong with the old saying, 'As brave as a lion.' When a bombardment was going on, the cubs would roar, sure enough; but they roared with fright. They simply ran amuck with terror, dashing headlong among the men and clawing blindly at anything and everything. Whiskey stood especially in awe of—what do you think? An ordinary rabbit and a rooster. One day the cub was nosing round when he blundered into a corner where the rabbit had been put. At the approach of the investigating Whiskey the rabbit turned round and let out a kick that landed squarely on the cub's nose. Whiskey never forgot that kick. It gave him a wholesome respect for another pet, a rooster that delighted in pecking on him. At sight of either the rabbit or rooster young Mr. Lion would lie for cover."

All the vast inventive faculties of Thomas A. Edison are behind the

NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

—the perfected phonograph made under the personal supervision of the great inventor in his laboratories at Orange, N. J.

Mr. Edison set himself to produce the world's greatest phonograph value—a phonograph which would be perfect in realism, and which could at the same time be sold at the lowest possible price. Today, thousands of Amberolas in homes all over the world attest his success.

The Amberola to far surpasses ordinary "talking machines" that there can be no comparison between them. Its music is totally free from the rasping, mechanical shrillness characteristic of the ordinary higher-priced "talking machines;" instead, it possesses the true mellow sweetness of good music.

Three Days of Good Music—FREE

Come in today, and hear the Amberola. Ask us about our convenient payment plan—and learn about Mr. Edison's offer to send the Amberola to your home for a three day trial—free. Write or phone today, if you can't come in person.
