

FRANCE IS STRONG FOR LEAGUE

ANARCHISTS HAVE BEGUN A COUNTER REVOLUTION

Overthrow Spartacans and Seize Control of Big City.

MEANWHILE SPARTACANS ARE GAINING STRENGTH

BERLIN, Feb. 27. (By John Graudenz).—Anarchists, charging that the Spartacans are too conservative, have started a counter revolution in Germany. Reports from Dusseldorf to-day stated that anarchists had overthrown the Spartacans and seized control of the city.

Dusseldorf had only recently passed into the hands of the Spartacans.

Meanwhile the Spartacan soviet revolution has spread to all parts of the country. New uprisings, strikes and riots were reported in Saxony, Bavaria, the Rhineland and the Ruhr district.

Weimar, the present seat of government, has been cut off from Berlin. No information could be obtained to-day as to what is transpiring in Weimar. A special government train which left Weimar for Berlin on Tuesday night started by way of Leipzig but was forced to make several additional detours as the crew learned that stations ahead had been captured by the Spartacans.

The miners and industrial workers in the Halle region Saxony, have joined the Spartacans and that entire country is reported to be paralyzed. The soviet government in Munich has threatened to execute ten prominent citizens if the German government sends Prussian troops against Bavaria. The congress of workmen, soldiers and peasants' councils there to-day demanded that the assembly become a provisional national council. A deputation representing 5000 workmen, urged the proclamation of a soviet republic, opening a diplomatic relations with the Russian bolshevik government and annulment of all state debts.

The German government is reported to be divided as to what steps shall be taken to suppress the revolution. Some members demand the employment of force, while others counsel compromise. Military Governor Noske demands that the Reichstag (National Assembly) immediately authorize 200,000 additional militia. On the other hand President Ebert is understood to favor the establishment of a national soviet as the lower legislative branch of the government, probably replacing the Bundesrat.

The remarkable situation, the first time the constitutional head of a government has offered recognition to the soviet—is the result it is said, of Ebert's belief that the Spartacans cannot be crushed and that they must be recognized or else the country will be overwhelmed with disorder.

The new revolution has reached a point where decisive action must be taken immediately, one way or the other, and an announcement of a definite government policy is expected hourly.

France Wants Buffer State on the Rhine

FAILING TO BE AWARDED
WESTERN BANK

PARIS, Feb. 27. (By Fred S. Ferguson).—The creation of a "buffer" state between France and Germany, by making the Rhineland provinces self-governing, was discussed by peace delegations to-day. This project, which is still in a formative stage, was introduced during the debate on the question of the boundaries of enemy countries.

France, being the only country not protected from Germany by a natural barrier, is still clinging to the idea that the Rhine should constitute its eastern frontier. The proposition for establishment of a "buffer" state was presented as a compromise.

This arrangement, it is understood, would be temporary, the new state being permitted to decide its own future by a plebiscite as soon as Germany had made full reparation.

The next plenary session of the peace conference will, it was said to-day, probably take place the middle of next month, when all the special committees will present their reports.

Especially rapid progress is being made by the committees on reparation and responsibility for the war, it is understood.

Babe Suffocated In An Unknown Way

INQUEST INTO CASE OF IN-FANT FOUND ON STREET IS CONCLUDED.

"That from the evidence submitted the child lived when born, that it was fully developed and robust and that cause of death was suffocation, in some unknown way."

The foregoing was the verdict of the jury which met yesterday afternoon in the old Council chamber, in a resumed session of inquiry into the death of the babe which was found at the corner of water and Abena streets on Saturday, Feb. 15th.

No evidence was taken at the resumed sitting. Coroner Dr. F.H. Kallfleisch stated to the jury in opening the proceedings that no new facts had been brought to light. Crown Attorney D.S. Bowdell informed the jury that a Hespeler woman, who arrived here on the morning when the babe was found, had been detained but investigation had revealed the fact that she was not implicated in the case. She had been released. Nothing new in the way of evidence had been obtained.

In summing up the evidence Dr. Kallfleisch stated that all evidence pointed to the probability that the death of the babe had been caused by suffocation or asphyxiation. Whether there was willful was another matter although their might be a probability it was. The question was left in the hands of the jury he said.

After the presentation of the jury's verdict and the formal discharge of the jury, Coroner Dr. Kallfleisch was congratulated by one of the jurymen for the satisfactory way in which he conducted the inquest.

Employers & Employees Met Together To-day

IN LONDON, IN NATION-WIDE CONGRESS

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The first nation-wide congress of capital and labor was held in Central Hall to-day, in an attempt to work out a program that will avoid threatened industrial warfare. The Labor representatives in the congress are members of the regular trade union.

While this meeting was going on, the miners representatives were holding a conference to determine the exact date of their strike, which has already been voted by a referendum.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Laborites adopted an aggressive and definite attitude towards the government and capitalists when the industrial congress opened here to-day. It was the first time that British labor and capital were ever jointly represented in a nationwide conference. One delegate declared there will be a revolution if the demands of the workers are not fully granted.

Others counselled an official conference on economic and social matters. J. Thomas, Labor Leader, said the workers had made up their minds to procure an increasing share in the wealth produced. He said he foresaw the greatest task in the world and that he hoped the changes in Great Britain would be accomplished peacefully. The workers, Thomas declared, are determined to have shorter hours and government ownership of mines and railways.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—J. H. Thomas, M.P., and Labor leader, speaking before Lloyd George and other cabinet ministers to-day, at the industrial parliament, representing ten million organized workers, declared that the triple alliance of railway men, transport workers and miners had resolved set their faces toward the attainment of a shorter day and a larger share of profits of business, and would not be swayed from that purpose. Labor had become quite alive to its sovereign power and would attain its privileges and profits by means in its power. He had confidence that the necessary changes in condition in Britain would be brought about "in an orderly and peaceful manner."

CANADA TO SPEND MILLIONS TO PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT

Frank Carvell Urges Business To Assist In The Work

SEVENTY TO EIGHTY MILLIONS TO BE SPENT ON RAILWAYS IN THE DOMINION

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—Hon. Frank Carvell resumed the debate on the moving and seconding the speech from the throne this afternoon. He declared the getting back to a peace basis was one of the greatest problems ever attempted by any nation. "The returned soldier, is not the only abnormal person in the country," said Mr. Carvell. "There are as many others as abnormal. There is an abnormal condition among the people of Canada."

Sir Sam Hughes—"Not in the Government."

Mr. Carvell—"No, I am talking of the rest of the people."

Mr. Carvell declared the Bolsheviks should be kept in Russia. "And those in Canada should be sent back to their own country." He pointed out that these Bolsheviks were fighting against those who went to help them, and but for their treachery the war would have been over in 1917.

Making Employment

To help out the feeling of unrest and to give employment, the Department of Marine and Fisheries, he said, was expending $25,000,000 this year and $30,000,000 next year on steamships.

"Ships were needed a year ago. They were one of the most vital things then. They were needed to carry troops and food to the allies. We started on 52 ships ranging from 3500 to 10,000 tons. Some are completed and are in the service.

"These cost more than if the Government had waited to buy on the open market after peace was declared, but it would have been too late then."

"To furnish employment is the paramount duty of a Government to-day. We are building ships in Montreal, Toronto, Port Arthur, Fort William, Vancouver and Victoria. If we had not gone on with this work in Vancouver and Victoria there would be a very different state of affairs in the labor world than we have to-day."

The Minister favored the high way policy, and during the next few years will expend $20,000,000. These highways will be permanent, and the money will be spent at the rate of $4,000,000.

Public Works

"We are not going to construct public works because they are useful to the community, but from an economic point of view and to provide employment for the unemployed," said he. "Within 15 days work on public buildings will start in Montreal, Toronto, Calgary and perhaps Hamilton."

To Mr. MacKenzie, the Minister stated the Customs of the Customs House in Montreal was the work there. In Toronto the Customs House and Federal building, the same in Hamilton and a Federal building in Calgary."

$10,000,000 Is Nothing

Mr. Carvell declared the Government didn't intend to plan new work of an expensive character, but to spend it on highways, railways and canals, so that more employment can be provided.

Speaking on the housing scheme, he declared that poor housing conditions was the cause of anarchy, etc.

On railways there will be spent

St. John's Returned Men Are Welcomed

About Forty-live to Date Are Back

EVENT OF WELCOME LAST EVENING

Last evening St. John's Church gave a rousing welcome and Social evening for their returned men. The Sunday School rooms were filled to their capacity at 8.15 p.m. Mr. Boehmer opened the proceedings with a couple of well-chosen songs that delighted the audience. Mr. Krug accompanied Mr. Boehmer with his usual skill. There followed a splendid variety program of recitations, songs and instrumental solos which had been carefully arranged by Mr. Hughes. In the midst of this program a very unique and pleasing incident happened. The arrival at the social of Corp Blood and Pte. Gough who reached the City from overseas on the 9.15 train surprised and delighted the audience. The boys were given an overwhelming welcome. On their appearance in the rooms the whole audience rose to their feet and clapped and cheered them to the exo for fully ten minutes.

At the close of the program the roll of the returned men was called. Each name was greeted enthusiastically by the audience. About 45 of St. John's men have already returned to the city to put the sentiments of the church people into concrete form, an address of welcome was read by Crown Attorney D.S. Bowly and signed also by Mr. W.E. Lamprey in behalf of the congregation. Pte. Garner and Pte. Hackman in behalf of the Returned men thanked the congregation for their hearty welcome home and the delightful entertainment bringing to a close one of the happiest evenings ever spent by the congregation.

The following was the congregations address:

"In the name of the members of St. John's Church who are tonight welcoming the fellow churchmen who we desire to make the following statement:

"Whereas our men responded to the call of the empire in such large numbers and so readily.

"And whereas some of our men were not able to get overseas yet were willing and anxious to go and so showed the same spirit as those who saw service.

"In view of this and of all that might be said about examples of long service and cases of several going from individual homes and such—this Church is truly proud of its Soldier Members.

"To those Mothers and Fathers and Wives who have lost, we truly say we feel for you. Yours have given their all for a great and righteous cause. Their memories will be cherished by this Church for generations.

"We heartily welcome you who have returned. We congratulate you on your return. And we trust you will quickly lose all the bad effects to your health and strength of the trying life of a Soldier and be able to enjoy life to the fullest."

AN AMERICAN SENATOR'S OBJECTION

At the peace table, the United States is in a strong position. It was its influence, which when thrown into the scale, tipped the balance in favor of the Allies. Under the old scheme of things, it could have bargained for its assistance and obtained a large slice off some continent.

It did not do this. Instead it enunciated the principle that there should not be a division of spoils and proposed that it be a peace of justice, with provisions for the formation of a league of nations to preserve the peace of the world.

For two months, the Allied nations have been wrestling with the league proposition and have succeeded in whipping into shape a constitution, under which the powers who are to sign it, will agree to submit their differences and disputes to arbitration.

It is a long step forward in the march of human affairs. Emanating from the mind of President Wilson, one would have expected that there would have been unanimity among Americans to see the covenant adopted and war eliminated. For a century, the republic has avoided participation in world politics, and made no entangling alliances, because it desired to avoid war with other nations. Yet news reports show that in their senate there are politicians who denounce the league.

Senator Poinsett, of Washington, asked whether the United States is "to surrender to an international council and body of delegates those high functions of sovereignty which heretofore we have exercised for ourselves, and to rest in the jurisdiction of an international league the determination of our armaments, the decision of peace or war, even in the most vital questions affecting our honor, integrity, or material welfare?"

The people of the United States assert that theirs is the freest government in the world, yet its husbands may not with impunity threaten their wives, ill-treat their offspring, wantonly destroy their own nor their neighbor's property; run amuck with a butcher knife; overstep motorcars; become hoboes or public charges, nor do as they will in a thousand other particulars. Some citizens readily submit to these restrictions for the general good.

It follows that if it is wise to curb, disarm and control would-be disturbers of the peace in the national arena, there should be an international code, supported by the family of nations, preventing any nation from encroaching on the rights of others.

Were the United States senate, which is the treaty-making power of the republic, to decline to ratify the covenant, it is probable that the league would fall to the ground. Owing to its past aloofness from world politics and its freedom of desire to annex other nations' territories, the United States' recommendations carry much weight at the peace conferences. The sincerity of President Wilson is fully accepted. What would likely occur were he checkmated at home?

Allied nations would annex the conquered territories, would enter into military alliances, continue to make secret treaties, and what would bear heaviest on their taxpayers, maintain standing armies and gather greater armament against the day their holdings and imperialistic designs were attacked. War would be entrenched as the sole way of settling quarrels.

In such an undesirable event, the next struggle would probably arise between the United States and Japan over China, a country rich in resources and unable to defend its possessions against the might of other more warlike nations. When this war was settled in the old barbarian fashion, the Central powers would when they had recovered, endeavor to get even.

Senator Poinsett, for the sake of not having to consult other nations when it desired to make war or peace, or to have a council, of which his country would be a member, say how large an army and navy it should maintain, would run the risk of having the world plunged into another great conflict, as though the lives of the 20,000,000 people sacrificed in this conflict counted for nothing in international politics.

The majority of nations are convinced that war should be forever abolished. These will hope that there are not many Poinsetts in the republic, to which belongs the principal credit of suggesting an endeavor to bring about a league of nations to preserve the peace of the world.

THE LIGHT COMMISSION'S YEARLY REPORT

Despite the abnormal conditions that prevailed during 1918, the Light Commission was able to report a fairly successful year. Its power, gas and street railway departments were carefully managed and each has something to the good. This may sound somewhat tame, when it is perceived that the electric end showed a surplus of $30,276. From this there was deducted $14,403 for depreciation reserve, by the Hydro Electric Commission's auditor. Leaving a net surplus of $15,873.

When it is recalled that almost everything else a person bought during 1918 rose in price, it will be comforting to remember that this publicly-owned utility did not increase its rates, although power was difficult to get and could have been sold over and over again at higher prices to private concerns.

Because the municipalities in the power union own the system, from the turbines at Niagara to the last generator, they were not subjected to increases. They received power at cost and made a handsome profit on it. Is there any room for doubt that if this great undertaking had been owned by a private corporation, what would have occurred? Blaming the war for it, they would, during the last four years, have led its consumers a merry dance.

In connection with power, the Commission is purchasing from the Hydro Electric Commission 470,000 k.w.h. The following table shows how it was disposed of and the revenue derived therefrom:

From Manufacturers.....	$93,522
From Domestic Lighting.....	26,810
From Commercial Lighting.....	17,093
From Street Lighting.....	14,334

It will be seen that in excess of sixty per cent. is purchased by the industries of the city.

The Commission is not only showing annual surpluses, that are applied to the reduction of rates but is paying the interest and principal instalments on its debentures.

As the debentures are retired, power and light will be further cheapened. This raises the question whether this utility ought not, as private corporation would, pay municipal taxation? We believe it should. With this surplus before it, the public will benefit. It is understood they will share. By way of lowered rates, the consumer will be given a slice of the melon. Likewise it is expected that the Light Commissioners will lower the price of street lighting.

When we pass on to a view of the other two utilities, the situation is still satisfactory but not as rosy as the power story. The Gas Department had a profit of $1074 and the Street Railway one of $1314. Unlike the electric end these were dependent upon the general market for supplies and other necessities and were obliged to pay the prevailing prices.

In the Gas end for instance, the cost of coal was high, as were other necessities. Yet it came out on the right side, and is to be credited with furnishing our citizens with the lowest-priced gas of any municipally-owned plant in Ontario. The price of gas here is 5 cents per thousand cubic feet lower than in Guelph. That city, it may be said, sells its gas at $1.30 per thousand and its coke at $7.25 per ton, while this city sells gas at $1.25 and coke at $6.50.

The reason why it is not attempted to meet the Guelph price on coke is that our Commission has between 3500 and 3700 gas consumers and only 200 coke users. To increase the price of its gas 5 cents per thousand would yield it $4000 and enable it to lower the price of coke to the Guelph level, but it considers the welfare of 3500 patrons of the gas department are paramount to those of 200 consumers of coke.

The Street Railway has a surplus of $1314 to divide between the treasuries of the two related communities, on a basis of three and one. It has had larger handouts but the prevailing high costs of operation cut into profits. It treats its staff fairly and during the year increased its wage bill by 30 per cent.

The showing made under the Light Commissioners deserves a good word. They are energetic in the public's service. They had the judgment to select a capable manager. For their services and for results, the Commissioners and Manager are hereby congratulated.

THE GENERAL HOSPITALS

For about a quarter of a century the general hospital has been serving the twin city. It has rendered good service and endeavored to cope with the needs of two busy communities.

Instituted as a philanthropic work and owing, in a large measure, its success to voluntary giving and voluntary work by large-hearted citizens, it was never possible as a rule to gather together more funds than were required to meet current expenditures.

Consequently the Board of Trustees finds that time and use have made serious inroads on the equipment and furnishings. The lavatories are particularly in a poor condition.

With the growth in the number of patients, increased accommodation for these and the nursing staff has become absolutely necessary. It is estimated that $30,000 are required to rehabilitate the institution and provide a new nurse's home.

This sum might be raised by obtaining the consent of the directors of the two municipalities to an issue of debentures for this amount. They could possibly be persuaded to do so, though strange to say people who are in good health are frequently indifferent about institutions which care for the sick.

Having been established as a philanthropic institution, whose object is to relieve the distress of suffering humanity and having thus far largely relied upon voluntary donations, the Board considered it advisable to continue this course.

The annual grants voted by interested councils are barely sufficient to meet the cost of nursing back to health those whose financial circumstances do not permit their defraying the moderate hospital charges.

The estimated cost of bringing the hospital to the required standard of usefulness is $25,000 and of erecting an adequately large nurse's home another $25,000.

The work being done by Good Samaritans in the two neighborhoods has strongly appealed to one of the city's manufacturers, Mr. Jacob Kaufman. He has agreed to contribute $20,000 toward erecting a nurse's home, providing at least $10,000 is subscribed by others.

His handsome contribution to the hospital has called forth numerous expressions of satisfaction, on the part of his fellow citizens. They recognize in him one who has done several men's shares in building the community's industrial status; who says little but says wood, but whose purse is opened by any cause which has for its object the amelioration of the condition of sufferers or unfortunate or the advancement of social welfare.

His fine gift redounds to his credit. It will do more. As an example of public service, his example will lead others to contribute to a commendable undertaking.

With it before them is there any doubt of the citizens of these progressive and prosperous communities being able to raise the amount needed?

Make it fifty!

"IN THE DAY'S NEWS"

Princess Patricia of Connaught, whose marriage to Commander Ramsay of the Royal Navy is to be solemnized today in Westminster Abbey, is the second daughter and third child of the Duke of Connaught, former Governor-General of Canada, and only surviving brother of the late King Edward VII. Her elder sister is the wife of the Crown Prince of Sweden and her brother, Prince Arthur of Connaught, is an officer of the army and has frequently represented the British sovereign at foreign courts. Princess Patricia owes her name to the fact that she was born on St. Patrick's Day, in 1886. Of all the younger members of the royal family none has enjoyed a greater popularity than she. In recent years her engagement to more than one Prince has been rumored, but she chose to follow the dictates of her heart by wedding outside the royal circle. In future the Princess will be known as Lady Patricia Ramsay.

GOOD DIGESTION

To be able to eat what you want and to digest it properly is a priceless blessing. Good digestion is not appreciated until you lose it. Then you cannot afford to experiment for strong medicines to cure your weak stomachs. If you have indigestion do not be persuaded into believing you can cure yourself by the use of pre-digested foods or so-called stomach tonics. There is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every part of the body. It is through the blood that the stomach gets its power to assimilate and digest food and as the blood goes to every part of the body any improvement in its condition not only results in strengthening the stomach but every organ in the body. Rich red blood is absolutely necessary to good digestion. If your stomach is weak and you are troubled with sour risings in the throat a feeling of pressure about the heart or nausea after eating, try the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. So many dyspepsias have been cured by this medicine that every sufferer from stomach trouble should try it. You will soon know the joy of good digestion and enjoy better health in other ways if you give this medicine a fair trial.

The Tillsonburg Liberal thus tells of how strategy helped one young Canadian soldier. The small compass which was sent to Pte. Merwin Simmons in a cheese, and by means of which he made his escape from a prison camp, is on exhibition in the north window of E.F. Davis' jewelry store.

Measford will have a tax rate of 88 mills, and want a new post office.

Was it a natural sequence which made the Harrow correspondent of the Amherstburg Echo write thus: "Cornwall undecided

All the World recognizes the Pathephone as the Greatest of all Phonographs

—and why? Hear TWO phonographs playing, one after the other, and playing the same Records. THEN you will agree that one is—A PHONOGRAPH, to leave it at least its name—AND THAT THE OTHER IS A

Pathephone

Listening to one TO-DAY, to the other a week LATER, the untrained ear might not always note the great difference;—but hear them together and the superiority of the Pathephone will be immediately apparent: it is like setting up dress against GOLD! The Pathephone, built with ideals of ART and TRUTH, renders the art add truth of MUSIC at its BEST!

The wonderful inventive genius that brought the Pathephone to its perfection and has maintained it ever in the lead, has manifested itself in several remarkable devices, such as the Sapphire Ball, which not only greatly improves the tone, but also does away with needle changing and ensures long life to the Record, and the tone modulator, permitting you to augment or decrease the volume of tone at your pleasure. Then, there is the ingenious device which makes it possible to play ANY make of Record!

You must hear the Pathephone to realize what a wonderful and artistic Music Maker it is. It is splendidly built in modern as well as in Period designs. They are exquisite examples of the Furniture maker's art, and still they cost LESS than ordinary Phonographs and are sold on terms of payment which make buying convenient.

Chapter 1.

With what a heavy and retarding weight Does expectation load the wing of time.

Below a great broad stretch of ocean, calm as death, slumbering placidly beneath the sun's hot rays; above, a sky of palest azure, flecked here and there by dainty masses of soft fleecy clouds and, far inland, a background of high hills, clothed with a tender foliage, a very baby leafdom, just bursting into the fuller life.

The whole air is glad with the melodies of many birds, and the wild perfume of honeysuckle mixed with thyme enriches every breeze. Towards the west the trees give way a little, letting a road be seen, that like a straight pale ribbon runs between the greenery for the space of quite a mile or so, and then reaches the small fishing village where the simple folk of Glowing Dethor toil from one year's end to the other—the men gathering in their harvest from the treacherous sea, the women gathering their harvest too: some in careless joy, some in ceaseless labour, some, alas! in cruel weeping, because of those who will never come back to the town.

Along the white road, that gleams thirstily in the burning sunshine of this hot midday in June, a carriage is crawling with quite an aggravating slowness. An antiquated vehicle of a type now almost unknown, but which once beyond the stage of its existence, the leather part of it is so withered and shrunken as to leave open to conjecture the idea that it ever was leather at all, and the paint is so knocked off in many, nay in most, places, that it is an act of courtesy in the beholder to refrain from allusion to its condition. As for the crest, naught is left of it, save the wing and the beak of some bird unknown.

Two horses, skinny, melancholy looking brutes, who appear to have reached the last degree of starvation, are attached to this ancient coach. But, as occasion demands, are by age and famine and an unexpected journey, they refuse any longer to respond to the voice or whip of the elderly person—as gaunt and forsaken as themselves—who every now and again in a cracked tone implores them to "come up" or "go on," as occasion demands.

The carriage being an open one enables the people as it passes through the village to see without undue trouble that the occupants of it are two girls; both very young, both singularly alike, though in distinctly different styles. A stranger, indeed, would probably be quick to note the resemblance between them than one accustomed to watch the play of feature from day to day—a knowledge that somehow spoils most delicate likenesses. The younger girl, now leaning forward, with a little frown upon her face that is born rather of amusement than annoyance, yet partakes of both, is of fairer skin and brighter hair than her sister, whose eyes are of a dark grey, rather than blue, and whose hair is nut-brown with a tinge of red running through it.

"It is charming," says the younger girl, with a little quick motion of the hand towards the sweeping bay, and the awaking trees, and the other glories of the landscape. "All charming, far better than I ever dared hope for; and yet my mind misgives me."

She turns a brilliant glance on her sister, full of terrible insinuations, and then laughs a little. Thus animated, she is a very pretty girl, half-child, half-woman, as fresh as the morning, and with eyes like stars. Her nose is a rather saucy little affair, tilting heavenwards, and her mouth one can see was made for laughter. The little one has black-gloved hands, and placing it beneath her sister's chin turns her face gently to her.

Such a beautiful face! Very like the riant one beside it, yet unlike too. There is a touch of sadness round the lovely lips, a mournful, indeed, a thoughtfulness too great for her years is stamped on every feature. A tender, loving, yet strong soul shines through the earnest eyes, and when she smiles it is reluctantly, as if smiles all her life had been forbidden to her.

At least we are given time to admire the prospect and meditate

Grandma Never Let Her Hair Get Gray

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy with Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SUFFERED TERRIBLE AGONY

"Fruit-a-lives" Alone Gave Him Quick Relief

Buckingham, Que., May 3rd, 1915. "For seven years, I suffered terribly from Severe Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas from the stomach, and I had chronic Constipation. I tried many remedies but nothing did me good. Finally, a friend advised 'Fruit-a-lives'. I took this grand fruit medicine and it made me well. To everyone who has miserable health with Constipation and Indigestion and Bad Stomach, I say take 'Fruit-a-lives', and you will get well."

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its poisonous poisons from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furrowed tongue, nasty breath or stomach bloated, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important, also the—such abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folk resort to violent calomel, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissues, also attacks the bones. Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

Mother! Your Child Is Cross, Feverish, From Constipation

If tongue is coated, breath bad, stomach sour, clean liver and bowels

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out of sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look Mother! If tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they thereby insure its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

on the near future," says the younger girl with a disdainful glance at the old horse, going at their small pace, and the still older Jehu, who is apparently neither asleep nor awake. "Are we to proceed to this funeral pace all day? Is night to overtake us on our six-mile drive?"

"Hush! He may hear you," says Miss Dysart, with nervous, expressive glance at the old coachman's back.

"Nonsense, Verna! As if any one could not see by the obstinate set of his elbow that he has been deaf for years. I only hope he isn't asleep, as that might prove inconvenient. Well," with an arching of her brows, "what a turn-out! What a carriage! What horses! One is driven to speculating as to how the skin covers their bones. It must have great staying power, or it would have given way long since. And yet, did not some fond fool tell us that our unknown uncle is rich?"

"Certainly. But the same fond fool also told us that he is a very prince amongst misers. Don't you remember that as well?"

Hamilton Win From Dentsals 5 to 3

Tigers Take Group Honors

Hamilton, Feb. 26.—In another of those ding-dong battles that have characterized all of their many clashes, the Tigers to-night eliminated the Dentsals from the O.H.A. senior championship race by defeating them by 5 to 3. The Dents came here with a lead of one goal as the result of last Saturday's game in Toronto, and even their most sanguine supporters felt that they had their work cut out for them to maintain the advantage. As a result there was very little speculation on to-night's contest.

There is no question about the Bengals being entitled to to-night's victory, they having the better of the play in practically every period, although there were times when it looked as though they had a mighty tough row to hoe in order to come out on top. Both teams were at full strength and while the locals were playing with the desperation of despair, the Dents were hanging on with a grim determination. In fact, after about ten minutes of battling in the first period they increased their advantage, when Hudson took a nice pass from Box and scored the first goal of the game, giving the visitors a lead of two goals. That looked to be about enough to win the round and the group honors.

Green Scores Tiger's First
It was not long, however, before the local fans were given occasion to cheer, for Green evened the score by accepting a pass from Roach and carrying the puck right in past Stewart. Shortly before the period ended McCarthy accepted another of Roach's passes and shot another, which hit Stewart on the face and bounded past him into the net, thus evening up the

HEART FLUTTERING EASILY CORRECTED

Good Advice to Folks Bothered With Palpitation, Weakness, Etc.
If your heart flutters, be careful. An attack is liable to come one at any time. Excitement, over-exertion or emotion may cause it.
If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable, there's cause for alarm.
If you want a good honest remedy try Ferrozone. We recommend Ferrozone because we know it's just right for heart trouble. It cured A.F. Beattie who lives at Allen Hotel, Bay City, Mich. See if your symptoms resemble these:
Some Symptoms of Weak Heart
Nervousness, Palpitation, Trembling, Dizziness, Sinking Feeling, Heart Pain, Short Breath, Weakness.
Mr. Beattie says:
"I was weak and miserable. I was subject to heart palpitation and dizziness.
"As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations.
"Ferrozone strengthened my heart, gave vigor to my nerves, room made me well. It's a great builder."
By strengthening the muscles of the heart, giving proper circulation and causing a general rebuilding of the whole system, Ferrozone is bound to do grand work in heart trouble; try it 50c per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Catarbozoma Co., Kingston, Ont.

score on the round.
Dents regained their advantage in the second period when, after nineteen minutes of play, Watson, who had been put on as a substitute, beat Reaume with a wicked shot. It looked like the easiest goal of the night, and even Reaume was disgusted, when he discovered that it had gone by him.

With the score two all on the game and the Dents one ahead on the round there was gloom in the Tiger camp at the end of the second period, and it became almost impenetrable when early in the third session Box went down the ice alone, and eluding the whole Tiger team, shot one past Reaume. But that proved to be the very thing needed to stir the Tigers into real action, and from that on they literally swept the Dents off their feet. First Roach and Green combined for one of the prettiest goals of the game, and shortly afterwards McCarthy shot one from the outside of the defense that found its way past Stewart and again evening the score on the round. Then, with only a couple of minutes to play and both teams battling for all that was in them, McCarthy made a beautiful corner shot that gave the Tigers the lead on the round.

Tigers Play Safe
The Dents, in an attempt to regain their lost laurels, moved Brown up from the defense to the forward line, leaving Box alone on the rear guard, but although the visitors bombarded the Tiger goal they were unable to get one past Reaume. The Tigers took no chances, playing the game safe and wasting a much time as they could without incurring a penalty, and they succeeded in holding their opponents at bay until the final bell came as a welcome relief.
The game was fast and furious all the way, and both teams put up a brilliant brand of hockey in spots. The Tigers indulged in more combination than they have shown in previous games, and this accounts for their winning the game and the round. Four of their five goals were scored on passes, whereas in their former games practically all of their tallies were made on individual rushes. Green and McCarthy were unquestionably the stars of the local aggregation, but Roach also turned in one of his best performances and Reaume did valuable work between the posts.

The Dents were stronger on the defense than on the forward line. Despite the rough handling he received last Saturday night, Box appeared to be in fine fettle, and his rushes were one of the features, while his goal in the last period was easily the most spectacular of the game. Brown also made some grand rushes, but he found the Tiger defense more difficult to penetrate than on former occasions. With Box, however, he managed to break up a number of the Tigers' attempts to score, and but for the work of this pair the local would unquestionably have had a commanding lead before the close of the first period. Watson, who was used as a substitute, performed creditably while on the ice, and had the honor of scoring one of the visitors' goals.
The line-up:
Tigers—Goal, Reaume; defense, Roach and Matte; centre, Roach; wings, Green and Duncan; substitutes, McCarthy and Parker.
Dentsals—Goal, Stewart; defense, Box and Brown; centre, Hudson; wings, McCaffery and Smylie; substitutes, Watson and Rennie. Referee—L. Whitehead. Judge of play—R. Hewitson.

Tobacco Chewers Tie With Sausage Men

One of the most exciting and strenuous games of hockey this year was witnessed at the Auditorium last evening between 11 and 12 Mac Callum's staff sure had a star in the person of Frank Paetz while Henry Sturm the able Secretary of the Junior team although he knew the rules of the game could not keep up the pace set by Billy MacCallum and Pat Farrell Jr.
Though all the Mac's staff are able players they were unable to defeat the meat clerks of the city. The shining star of the meat clerks were Bob Port and Alvin Schreiber although the rest of the team sure helped to hold the score 4-4 a tie game which will be played on neutral ice. In all probability this game will be played at the Toronto Arena in the near future. Considering that Mac's were playing against the butchers of the city they sure came off lucky with only slight injuries but no doubt will be able to sure come off lucky with only slight on the job again in a short time. The line-up was as follows:

McBrine Singles Win Over Married

IN A FAST GAME LAST EVENING. SCORE WAS 7 TO 0.

One of the most exciting, if not scientific, games of the season was played at the rink last night when the married men of McBrine's Trunk and bag factory met the single men in deadly combat.
From the start to the finish the game went with a bang and it is hard to say whether the spectators or the players enjoyed the game most.
The condition of the single men was largely due to the new manager and like the old horse they were a "damned good team for the shape they were in." The married men were much the same only they looked married.
Robinson the heroic goal tender for the "marrieds" stood grimly at his post with that "only over my dead body" sort of a style about him. At least it looked heroic till some one explained he was scared stiff. Anyway he only managed to dodge seven so he must have been stiff.

Speedy Dahmer sad to relate, must have left his speed at home. The others never seem to have had any. Perhaps it was owing to the fact that the game started when most respectable married men are tucked away in bed that the wedded crew were so slow. Some did wish they were in bed before the game got very far and they might have been as much good there anyway.
For the single men Burke was perhaps the saving factor and without him the goal keeper would have been kept busy. If Chermackor decided which of his skates was off the wrong foot he did something more than let the puck slither past him. Another pad and he would have looked like some kind of a new armored tank.
Turner played a great game, but he was a little "See the Conqueror" for some time. It is to be hoped he was well padded where he kept on hitting the ice.
Harlock did his bit and kept them guessing, but no doubt he had such a time infusing sufficient energy into the married men to form a team he was tired out before the game started. He will need help though to endure that team to play again. One man could not do it.
Musser mixed well, in fact so well that sometimes one couldn't tell which was Musser and which were the hockey sticks flying around. Stuckhard worked hard but seemed to have difficulty in remembering it was a hockey stick he was handling and not a rifle and bayonet.
If New Hamburg wept when Hamlet left it must have been tears of joy. Jacobi and he need a rink all to themselves.
When the final bell rang the score was seven to four in favor of the single men and the winners thoroughly deserved their victory.
Married Men:
Robinson, Goal; Harlock, Dahmer, Defense; Turner, Oberholzer, Wings; McBrine, Centre; Wideman, Rover; Shantz, Subs.
Single Men:
Chermackor, Goal; Burke, Musser, Defense; Hamel, Kipper, Wings; Jacobi, Centre; Stuckhard, Rover; Kuschenska, Subs.
Score—Married Men 4, Single men 7.

"INDUSTRIAL MAY"

EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES IN CONFERENCE
LONDON, Feb. 28.—The feeling prevailed in official circles to-day that the creation of an "Industrial Parliament" containing representatives of capital and labor, together with the miners decision to postpone the strike until March 22, has temporarily averted the labor crisis. Nobody, however, was willing to predict that the situation has been eased up more than temporarily.

Situation in Central Germany is Worsening

Cabinet Will Take Decisive Measures.

ARMY OF GENERAL SECURITY FORMED
ZURICH, Feb. 28.—The German cabinet, following a three-hour session, decided to take the most energetic measures to suppress the revolution, according to dispatches from Berlin to-day.

It was also reported that an ultimatum was sent to the "illegal soviet government" at Munich.
The situation in Central Germany was said to be growing worse. State of siege has been proclaimed at Aischaffenburg. The physicians in Leipzig were reported to have gone on strike. Government officials in Barmen, Herne, Gelsenkirchen and Dortmund have formed an "arm of general security," numbering 16,000 to oppose the Spartacists.
There were some reports, however, that the strike in the Ruhr district is disintegrating and that only 15,000 workmen are remaining idle.
Unconfirmed reports were received that Spartacists in Berlin staged demonstrations in Wilhelmstrasse before the Reichstag and other points Tuesday evening, in which the lines were exchanged. Several telephone lines were set to have been cut.
The soviet congress in Munich understood to have decided to open a provisional central council, which will be instructed to form a ministry. The Landtag will be convoked later.

GOVERNMENT ISOLATED AT WEIMAR
BERLIN, Feb. 28.—The German government was practically isolated in Weimar to-day. The only method of communication was by airplane.

SITUATION AT MUNICH IS GRAVE
PARIS, Feb. 28.—The situation at Munich is grave, according to the Berlin Vossische Zeitung. Spartacist forces are not only masters of a public buildings and transportation services in the city, but have also seized the presses on which the government bank notes are printed. These presses, it is said by Berl Lokal Anzeiger, are kept busy.

Foodstuffs are being rationed at Munich. The amounts issued to the bourgeoisie being only half of the given Spartacists.
