

LONDON ELECTRIC CO. TO SELL OUT AT 50 CENTS ON DOLLAR; NOTICE RECEIVED IN LONDON

Circular Is Sent Out Stating That Offer Had Been Made and Toronto Stockholders Had Decided to Sell the Plant In This City.

IDENTITY OF THE PURCHASER IS A MYSTERY AT PRESENT

Mackenzie & Mann Are Said To Be Behind the Deal—Rumor Also Declares Hydro People To Be In the Move, But This Is Unlikely.

The London Electric Company have received and will accept an offer of $50 for each $100 share held by the stockholders, or 50 cents on the dollar. Who the purchasers are cannot be learned, but it is thought that some Montreal or Toronto capitalists are behind the proposition. It is the opinion here that it is the Electrical Development Company, which means the Mackenzie-Mann interests.

The announcement that the London Electric would sell out was received today, when a circular letter signed by Mr. W. D. Matthews, president, and Mr. Frederick Nicholls, honorary secretary, stating to the individual stockholders in London and elsewhere that they had received and had advised the acceptance of an offer to sell out at 50 cents on the dollar. It stated that the directors had come to the conclusion that this would be the best policy, and took this method of notifying all stockholders of the offer, so that they might avail themselves of the proposition.

TO DISPOSE OF STOCK.

Mr. Matthews and Mr. Nicholls ask for power of attorney to dispose of the stock held by individuals. The National Trust Company, of Toronto, are the go-betweens, no inkling being given in the circular as to who the purchasers might be. The money is to be paid in three installments for the stock—$10 on May 27th, $20 on Nov. 15th, and $20 on May 15th, 1913.

"We will probably accept," one shareholder informed the Advertiser. "It looks to me as if it is the best we possibly can get, and so far as I am concerned I will send my stock to Toronto at once. In a way this is the only course left open to us, as the big fellows have decided to sell out, and we who have but a small portion of the stock must follow suit. I have not been able to discuss the proposition with any other stockholders, but I presume they will do likewise."

WHERE DOES C. N. R. COME IN?

This announcement, coming on the heels of the activities of the Canadian Northern Railway in London, has created a great sensation, and developments of great importance are expected daily.

If the surmise is correct that the Mackenzie & Mann interests are securing control of the London Electric Company, the great fight for the supremacy of the electrical market will be commenced, and London will furnish the battle ground.

With the control of the London Electric, the Electrical Development Company could engage at once in the lighting business, and the plant would be of great value in feeding the electrical lines that Mackenzie & Mann undoubtedly intend to build in this vicinity. With many radicals as customers, the C. N. R. could sell power for lighting purposes at a very low rate, and the competition with hydro-electric will be very keen. The C. N. R. would not stop in London, but would branch out in all directions, sending electricity to compete with the Beck scheme.

WHO IS THE PURCHASER?

There are some who profess to know that the Provincial Government is behind the sale of the London Electric. They claim that the hydro-electric commission are worried over the activity of Mackenzie & Mann in the vicinity of London, and propose to get control of the whole electrical market of the city by purchasing the London Electric. This is not thought to be true, as the city of London had an opportunity of buying out the London Electric some time ago at a reasonable figure and refused.

However, anything is likely to happen in these days, and the outcome is being watched with a great deal of interest.

The deal, according to the circular, will be closed before the end of the month, and then announcement will be made as to the purchaser.

Hon. Adam Beck is in Ottawa, and could not be located to give his views on the question.

TAFT AND ROOSEVELT DIVIDE DELEGATES

Agree To Split Even on Maryland's Representation at Republican Convention.

[Canadian Press.] Baltimore, Md., May 14.—An agreement was reached early this morning at a conference between the leaders of the Taft and Roosevelt forces to split even on Maryland's delegation to the Republican national convention.

Each side will have two delegates-at-large and six district delegates, sixteen in all. The delegation will be instructed to vote for Col. Roosevelt for president as long as he has any possible chance of receiving the nomination.

At the state convention today a Roosevelt man will be chosen temporary chairman, and a Taft man permanent chairman.

BRONNER IS MANAGER OF MICHIGAN CENTRAL

He Succeeds Mr. L'Hommedieu Who Recently Resigned the Position.

[Canadian Press.] Detroit, May 14.—Edmund D. Bronner has been appointed general manager of the Michigan Central Railway, succeeding R. H. L'Hommedieu, who resigned the position recently.

Mr. Bronner entered the service of the Michigan Central as draughtsman in 1880.

SEN NOT COMING.

Ottawa, May 14.—The Chinese consulate here knows nothing of the Moose Jaw dispatch stating that Dr. Sun Yat Sen is coming to Canada in regard to the Sasan act prohibiting the employment of white women by Chinamen. Consul General Wong denies that he is going to Moose Jaw or that a new consul-general is to be named.

BERNARD SHAW LASHES PUBLIC

Says the Titanic Wreck Caused Explosion of Romantic Lying.

CRITICIZES THE CAPTAIN

Declares That the Desire To Make of Him a Hero Is All Wrong.

[Canadian Press.] New York, May 14.—A London cable says:

"George Bernard Shaw, in an article in the Daily News, entitled, 'Some Unmentioned Morals of the Titanic Disaster,' asks:

"Why is it that the effect of a sensational catastrophe on a modern nation is to cast into transports, not of weeping, not of prayer, nor of sympathy with the bereaved, nor of congratulation of the rescued, nor of poetic expression of soul purified by pity and terror, but of wild defiance of inexorable fate and of undeniable fact by an explosion of outrageous, romantic lying?"

Mr. Shaw criticizes the stories in regard to "women and children first," and the tributes to Captain Smith, who, he says, is written of in the newspapers "as if he were a Nelson," whereas "the one thing positively known about Captain Smith is that he lost the ship by deliberately and knowingly steaming into an ice field at the highest speed he had for."

Mr. Shaw concludes:

"What is the use of all this ghastly, blasphemous, inhuman, brazenly lying?" Here is a calamity which might well make the proudest man humble, and the wildest joker serious. It makes us vain-glorious, insolent, mendacious. The effect on me was one of profound disgust, almost of national dishonor. Am I mad?"

"It seems to me that when deeply moved, men should speak the truth. The English nation appears to take precisely the contrary view. Again, am I in a minority?"

MAY STOP TRAINS.

Ottawa, May 14.—Unless the companies can immediately show cause why such action should not be taken the railway commission will issue a mandatory order forbidding the Midland or Great Northern Railway from operating its trains from the border to Winnipeg with American crews.

Chinese Famine Fund

Arrangements have been made by the committee in charge of the collection of the China Famine Fund, whereby donations may be handed in to Mr. E. R. Ruse, agent at the city ticket office of the Grand Trunk. The funds will in turn be handed over to Mr. J. K. H. Pope, the treasurer, who will cable the money to China without delay. The famine is now at its worst in the stricken country, and millions are starving, according to the reports received from the missionaries on the scene. Within a few weeks there will be some return from the lands for the maintenance of the people, but in the meantime only the help from western countries is keeping many alive.

TITANIC VICTIM A NEPHEW OF A PIPE LINE ROAD MAN

Hugh McElroy Went Down In the Atlantic With White Star Line Ship.

Word has been received by Mr. Nicholas D. Ennis, 17 Pipe Line road, that his nephew, Mr. Hugh McElroy, chief purser on the Titanic, was one of the victims when the ship went down. A letter from Mr. Ennis's sister in England, received on Friday, conveyed the sad news. Mr. Ennis and the family had hoped that Mr. McElroy was not on the ship, the information received in the press dispatches being very incomplete. However, the letter from Mr. Ennis's sister confirms the sad news.

Hugh McElroy was 31 years of age, and had been married to Miss Barbara, daughter of Mr. J. Ennis, J. P. Wexford, Ireland, a year ago. He had followed the sea ever since he was a boy, rising from one position of importance to another until he was made chief purser of the Allen Line, running to Montreal, and Portland. Later he joined the White Star Line, and a day before the Titanic sailed he was chosen for the position of chief purser on the boat. He went down with the steamer and his body has not been found.

A Victim of the Titanic. "We had hoped until Friday that he had not sailed," said Mr. Ennis to the Advertiser. "Then a letter came from my sister, and it proved that he had been one of the victims. He was chosen but a day before the Titanic sailed."

"McElroy was a fine big man, strong, manly and truthful. He had held many responsible positions on various fine ships, and was chosen out of a large number as chief purser of the Titanic. It is too bad, and I am sorry that he had to die like that."

McElroy never visited London, although he made frequent calls at Quebec and Montreal.

WIRELESS PHONES

London, May 14.—A dispatch to the Times from Rome says that for about a year the Italian naval and military authorities have been carrying on experiments in wireless telephony. A month ago a message was sent from the wireless station on Monte Mario to the island of Ponza, a distance of about 65 miles. Further experiments produced an improved method of transmission, and last week communication was established between Monte Mario and the wireless station at Becco di Vela on Magdalen Island, a distance of about 160 miles.

A long extract from a newspaper was read at Rome and heard and repeated at Magdalen. The voices were distinct, so much so that a listener declared immediately the substitution of a different speaker halfway through the message. Further developments may be expected soon.

LONDON BASEBALL SEASON OPENS BAND ESCORTS TEAMS TO PARK

Tecumsehs and Maple Leafs, of Guelph, Face Each Other For the First League Contest—A Big Crowd in the Stands.

This is the way the Maple Leafs and Tecumsehs lined up at Tecumseh Park this afternoon in the initial game of the 1912 Canadian League season. It will be seen that only the best players of last year's Guelph team have been retained, and with the rest making up to the standard set by these, the Maple Leafs will be much stronger than on their last appearance here. The same applies to the locals. To the local fans who have seen the exhibition games at Tecumseh Park there is little doubt but what Manager Bowlerman has a far better team than the one Jo-Jo Keenan had last season. The old players are showing up better than ever, and the new ones have demonstrated that they have a right to a place on the salary sheet.

TRAVERS' ABSENCE HOLDS UP PROBE INTO FARMERS' BANK

Jail Governor Failed To Have the Star Witness In Court.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, May 14.—When the inquiry into the affairs of the defunct Farmers' Bank was resumed this morning at 10 o'clock, the absence of the star witness, William Ralph Meredith, the crown witness in the case, held up the proceedings.

Mr. Meredith, who was arrested on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, was held in the Toronto jail and could not be secured in time for the morning's sitting. The witness in question was W. B. Travers, former manager of the defunct institution, who has transferred his residence from Kingston to his home at its west end, and is now in the custody of the police.

THIRTEEN PERISH IN MICHIGAN DISASTER

Miners Caught By Cave-In at Ironwood Crushed to Death.

Ironwood, Mich., May 14.—Thirteen men were killed in a cave-in at the Norrie mine here at 11:30 o'clock last night.

While working in a pit, the ground started to crumble. Rushing into another drift, which they believed would be safer, the men were buried. The drift in which the men lost their lives had just been re-timbered. One of the racks worked loose and the timbers gave way, releasing an avalanche of earth and ore.

BRITISH CAPITALISTS WILL MAKE OFFER FOR THE L. AND P. S. RY.

A Representative Will Wait on the Mayor on Wednesday and Lay a Proposition Before Him—Harold Richardson Is a Member of the Firm Interested.

A representative of a firm of British capitalists will call on Mayor Graham on Wednesday, and make a proposition to him for the purchase or lease of the London and Port Stanley Railway. The gentleman in question is on his way to the city, and will arrive here some time tonight. He will see the mayor at noon Wednesday.

He will submit a proposition either to electrify the road, or operate it as a steam road. He is backed by large amounts of capital, and means business. This is the same firm that Mr. Harold Richardson, formerly of London, was coming here to represent. The latter had to alter his plans somewhat, and as a result, another representative will come.

Lake Erie Man Here. The position of the Lake Erie Coal Company is creating the deepest interest, and the fate of this company in the negotiations is being considered. Mr. A. Leslie, Windsor, manager of the company for Canada, was a visitor in the city today. He would not discuss the situation as it affected his company, merely stating that their offer was in the hands of the city council, and it was up to them to deal with it.

FROST NIPPED TOMATO PLANTS; TWO DEGREES WERE REGISTERED

Not Much Damage Done on the Whole to Crops of the District.

The frost Monday night, although it was heavy, did not do as much damage as was first thought. Farmers and gardeners on the market today were pleased that the damage was not greater, and are now hopeful that the worst is over. Last night the mercury registered 2 degrees of frost at the local observatory.

Tomato plants suffered the most severely. A large number of plants, all from the hot houses, were set out during the past week, and when the frost came, it burned them up in large numbers. Many took the precaution to cover the plants up, and so escaped with a minimum of loss, while others not so careful will have to replant their whole acreage.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS ARE IN SESSION

First Business Session Opened In Hall On Richmond St. This Afternoon.

GIVEN CIVIC RECEPTION Freedom of the City Extended to the Delegates by the Mayor—Names of the Visitors.

The first business session of the convention of the Knights of Columbus of the state jurisdiction of Ontario is in progress this afternoon at the K. of C. Hall, Richmond street. This morning sixty or more delegates, together with a couple of hundred visitors attended solemn pontifical high mass at St. Peter's Cathedral, the ceremony being performed by His Lordship Bishop Fallon, assisted by Rev. Father Canning, of Toronto, and Rev. Father French, of Pembroke Diocese.

Rev. Father Van Antwerp, of Detroit, a brother of Mother Van Antwerp, of the convent of the Sacred Heart, in this city, preached the sermon, in which he urged upon the members of the Knights of Columbus their duties as good citizens, in moral, religious and civic matters.

A Civic Reception. Later a civic reception was tendered to the visitors by His Worship Mayor Graham, who extended the freedom of the city to the knights. Mr. John Bromberg, first responder on behalf of the K. of C., while Bishop Fallon also spoke at such length on the advantages of the Forest City that the mayor promised to present his name as a candidate for the publicity commission.

It is expected that the greater portion of the business of the session will be cleared up this afternoon, and that the election of officers will be proceeded with either this evening or tomorrow.

The present officers are: State chaplain, Rt. Rev. M. F. Fallon, Bishop of London; state deputy, John O. Dromgold, London; past state deputy, O. K. Fraser, Brockville; state secretary, Dr. J. P. White, Ottawa; state treasurer, L. V. O'Connor, Lindsay; state advocate, T. A. Phelan, Toronto; state warden, J. A. Hussey, Sault Ste. Marie.

The delegates in attendance today are: Ottawa—J. F. Lanigan, William Kearns. Kingston—Dr. C. A. Morrison, Dr. Wm. Gibson. Cornwall—Rev. J. J. McDonald, Dr. W. B. Cavanagh. Peterborough—Rev. Father McCall, Harry Phelan. Sault Ste. Marie—J. V. McNamara, M. A. Sheridan. North Bay—Rev. A. F. Kelly, P. McCool.

The other vegetables—cabbage, lettuce, etc.—fared well. The dampness saved them a great deal, and when the sky clouded over towards morning the full force of the frost was not felt. Fruit trees came out unscathed, and the grain crops are not at all affected.

Damage Slight. "The frost did little damage, save to the tomato plants," a market gardener informed the Advertiser. "It was quite severe in some parts of the county, a quarter of an inch of ice forming on the water at my place. All the vegetables and fruits escaped well, with the exception of the tomatoes, which were burned somewhat. They are a tender plant at the best, and the frost cut the vines down. However, it is early enough to replace the plants, and in the final analysis, the damage will not be excessive. If that is all we get, we will be in good shape. With warm weather now, the crops should grow exceedingly fast."

MAN BLEED TO DEATH ON TORONTO STREET

Body Found With Deep Gash In One of the Wrists.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, May 14.—The body of an unknown man, who had bled to death from a deep gash in the inside of the left wrist, was found behind a large sign board at the northwest corner of Gerrard street and Carlaw avenue, Riverside, about 7 o'clock this morning.

Outstretched in the long grass, his clothing and the grass beside him still bloodstained, the body presented a gruesome sight to the small crowd that gathered. The body was that of a man about 45 years old, five feet seven inches tall, and weighing about 145 pounds. He had gray blue eyes, and black hair turned to identify him in the pockets of his dark suit. A black cotton shirt, blue tie, black cap and tan boots that had been blackened, constituted the rest of his clothing.

AGREEMENT RATIFIED

L. and P. S. R. Board Authorizes New Road at Lakeside. At a special meeting of the London and Port Stanley Board held at noon today, the agreement between the board and the village of Port Stanley relative to opening new roads up Fraser Heights and along the beach, and the closing of Smith street, was ratified.

The Port Stanley council has already ratified it, placing in an amendment to the effect that the corporation will furnish the water provided the city will erect the four hydrants. There was no objection to that on the part of the L. and P. S. Board, and the agreement was passed.

POPULARITY INCREASES

"Battle-scarred heroes." That phrase once brought unpleasant notoriety to a well-meaning man who failed to write what he meant and found through bitter experience what the omission of one letter may mean in a written word.

Could the same thing happen to you? If so, why? With the NEW ILLUSTRATED WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY at your elbow you can avoid such pitfalls as writing "angle" when you mean "angel." Some person might take offence at being called "a perfect angle."

Think of what a vast difference there is between "stationary" and "stationary," "planning" and "planning" and the hundreds of other comparisons which can be culled from a dictionary. Then clip six consecutive coupons from issues of The London Advertiser, and present them at this office to receive your choice of these three books.

CREDIT TO CITIZENS. London has apparently got the dictionary habit, and the surprisingly rapid rate at which the craze to secure copies has spread is a creditable comment upon the high average intelligence of the citizens.

A new shipment of books has arrived, and they are now ready for distribution. The intelligence of the public is but one of the principal elements which have made the distribution of the entire edition seemingly a most simple task.

The other element is the sterling worth and beautiful appearance of the book itself. A restaurant cashier in one of the best patronized business-men's lunch rooms in the city testified to this the other day when it was remarked that she had The London Advertiser dictionary lying beside her cash register.

"It was one of the first to get one," she said, "and I want to tell you that that book has started many persons clipping coupons. They are surprised as soon as they see it."

"Some of them, you know, think it is my Bible, and one glance through it is enough to convince them that they have just got to get busy and get one, if not for themselves, for the children at home."

"I am coming around to get another one for my sister and I think I'll just let that one stay here for the present, because I surely wish THE LONDON ADVERTISER all the luck in the world."

The describer of dictionaries thank-kind words and went on his way, thinking how poor his powers of description were as compared to the convincing influence of exhibition of the dictionary itself.

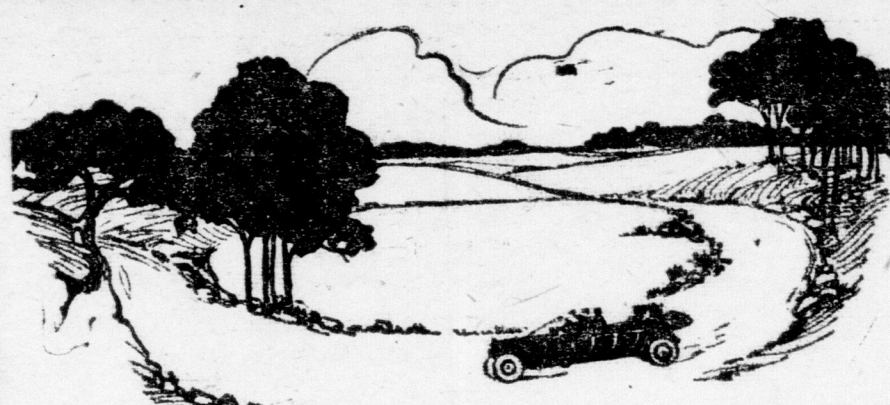

Read the display advertisement on another page.

If you don't believe every word of it, come to the Dictionary Department and be convinced.

You may examine the books all you want, without taking one.

Ahead of the Calendar, Summer Will Be Upon Us

Fast increasing busy-ness in summer goods shows that people are aroused to the fact that instead of there being plenty of time for preparations every future hour is an hour of delay.

Thousands of dollars will be spent in the next few weeks for summer merchandise, and the people who are about to spend it are about to decide these three things.

1. Where they will find the best and largest summer stocks to select from.
2. Where they will get the lowest prices for the best quality.
3. Where they will receive the most liberal treatment, and where the service will best respond to their demands upon it.

The answer to these questions or the store that oftenest meets these requirements merits the largest single part of that trade. So join your friends and come to Smallman & Ingram's. Come today, there is much to do.

PREPARING TO FIGHT LOCAL OPTION BYLAW

Owen Sound Council Takes Very Peculiar Action to Hamper Solution.

(Special to The Advertiser.) Owen Sound, May 14.—At a meeting of the town council last evening, Solicitor R. W. Evans was authorized to prepare a defence for the local option bylaw against the attack being made upon it by J. D. Stoddard, who has taken steps to have it declared null and void, on the grounds of irregularities at the polls last January.

The council, however, in which the "anti" element predominates, refused to allow the town solicitor to secure assistance from other legal talent in fighting the case.

They even went further. The Temperance League, which had a delegation present at the meeting tonight, asked for permission to secure and pay for the services of another lawyer to assist the town solicitor. This the council point blank refused to do.

They also reserved the right to interfere at all times with the arrangements for the defence, inasmuch as they stipulated that the solicitor must confer with the entire council on practically all matters pertaining to the case.

Word has been received that Mr. Robert George, of Sligo, Ireland, an uncle to W. H. Kerr, of the Brussels Post, died recently.

The footbridge over the Maitland River, near the old flax mill, has been rebuilt.

Brussels telephone directors held their quarterly business meeting on Monday. It is a big and growing concern, and is well managed.

Miss Daisy Wilson, whose home is here, but who has a millinery business in Kingsville, Essex County, has had trouble with one foot. The bone had to be scraped, and she is still under the doctor's care.

On Wednesday and Thursday of this week the Wingham district meeting of the Methodist Church will be held at Teeswater. Rev. M. Hibbert, of Gorrie, is chairman of the district, and Rev. George W. Rivers, F. D. of Ripley, financial secretary.

At the celebration of Victoria Day in Brussels, Kinrossville, Lucknow and Seaford baseball teams are expected to take part, and the Wingham football boys, and the brass band from the same town. There will also be a programme of athletic sports and a game of basketball, all to be held on Victoria Day.

Spring crops are looking first class in this locality.

DEATH OF MRS. WEIR

Pioneer of South Dorchester Is Dead at Her Home.

(Special to The Advertiser.) Aylmer, May 13.—The death occurred in South Dorchester yesterday of a most respected citizen in the person of Mrs. Weir in her 70th year.

Her husband predeceased her 20 years ago. Three sons survive, Samuel, David and George. The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at the Mapleton cemetery.

Engineer Bell, of St. Thomas, was in Aylmer recently and condemned the John street bridge. A new cement arch structure will be erected in its place this summer.

Rev. Canon Downie, of Port Stanley, preached two excellent sermons in Trinity Church on Sunday.

Arrangements are being made by the Aylmer Fire Company to give the St. Thomas Dramatic Company a show in the opera house on the evening of May 24.

The Misses Pick, of Alma College, St. Thomas, visited friends in Aylmer on Sunday.

Mayor H. H. Wright and Mrs. Wright spent Sunday with their son, Rev. H. Wright, of Arkona.

Joseph Davis, of Ridgeway, spent Sunday with his family here.

Gilbert has purchased a lot south of the Carnegie Library site, and will erect a house there this summer.

Rev. Mr. Manning again occupied the Methodist pulpit Sunday evening, and preached a most earnest and interesting sermon to the young men. Quarterly services were held in the morning by the pastor of the church.

Very low for some time, is still seriously ill.

Mrs. "Tramps" of London, and children are visiting her mother, Mrs. Haynes, while Mr. Cramp is taking a trip to Moose Jaw and other western points.

Miss McDougall, of Ingersoll, comes as the successor of Miss McCann in the capacity of music teacher.

The recent rains have improved the conditions of the various crops, and farmers are very hopeful.

Rev. Mr. Dewey, of London, is to address the league on Tuesday evening, and also favor them with some songs.

HUMOR AND RIDICULE

[By Virginia Terhune Van de Water.]

[Copyright 1912.]

While humor is to be cultivated and commended, a strict line should be drawn between that and ridicule. There are few more cruel weapons than the latter. One pauses to analyze it one wonders that it is as popular an instrument as some seem to find it.

To be able to make fun of things is not an evidence of brains. I wish that every so-called wit could have that printed in great letters and pinned over desk, table and dressing bureau. Nothing is easier than to laugh a thing out of court. The veriest vulgarian or fool can laugh at noble sentiments or lofty aims. There are persons whose one idea of cleverness is to destroy other people's ideals, and to destroy them with a smile, not with an honest blow. It is the coward who resorts to such means.

Parents Make Mistake in Using Ridicule on Children.
Sometimes parents make the mistake of using ridicule or sarcasm upon their children. It is probable that the sons and daughters will, in their turn, when they are old enough, turn this same weapon against father and mother. I mortify my child when she does wrong," boasted one mother. "Monday—to make dead!" That is the real meaning of the word, and it makes dead not only the child's self-respect but his respect for the person who slays it.

The ridiculer finds nothing too pure and holy for a laugh or sneer. I heard one woman—a spinster—jeer at the fact that some woman had said that the sweetest sound to the ear of the true mother was her first child's first cry. "The squeal of joy!" she sneered. Her friends laughed with seeming appreciation of the humor which she evidently felt lurked in her remarks. And I thought, as I listened, what that first cry had been to many a woman who has faced death to hear it, how it has been a reward of her agony and waiting, how it has carried in it a promise of some one to love and cherish through the years to come, and by whom to be loved and cherished when age arrives.

Sneering at the Crowning Glory of Woman's Life.
It has brought courage to many a woman broken in heart and disappointed in hopes. When I thought of all this, and looked at that group of women, I was ashamed to find myself wondering if they were spinsters who this mocked. Surely had they not been they could not have laughed as they did. I put the matter thought from me and thanked God that I was not such an advanced woman that I could sneer at the crowning glory of a woman's life—the child that compensates for all her deprivations and sufferings.

The confirmed ridiculer stops at nothing. A man who wants to perpetrate a joke on another—a fellow in his office—tied up at Thanksgiving, a parcel that looked like a turkey and gave it to the poor man to take home with him. "Won't he be jotted when he finds the truth?" he thought. He told of the performance. Where was his imagination. Could he not fancy the eager faces of the tired little wife and excited children in that man's home? Could he not appreciate what it meant for the father to tell them, and the cruel disappointment that would be theirs when the paper wrappings were removed and the victims of the practical joke? Yet the perpetrator of this outrage is "only a funny chap who turns everything into ridicule," I have been told. Heaven deliver us from such!

Another "funny" person wrote to a young person who makes her own living and helps support her widowed mother by embroidery, and gave her an order for an elaborate piece of ecclesiastical embroidery, saying that she had been commissioned by her church to place the order where she would. Later in the day, she called the needle woman up on the telephone, mentioned the commission, and exclaimed, "April fool!" The chagrined worker was too proud to confess to the jester how happy she and her mother had been during the hours in which they believed that their depleted exchequer was to be replenished. But the joker told the story with merry laugh, and considered the listener, into whose eyes tears of sympathy rose, "silly and weak."

It is everyone's right to enjoy innocent amusement. A sense of humor is a blessing; a propensity to ridicule is a bane. To laugh at innocent fun—fun that hurts nobody, to laugh at jokes on one's self, I, everyone's right, perhaps everyone's duty.

"She would sacrifice her dearest friend to an epigram," said the wise man of a woman with a fatal gift of ridicule.

A me scathing judgment could scarcely have been passed upon anyone who claims to be a lover of her kind.

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENCE

Seeks Coin Firm's Address.

Dear Cynthia: Having been interested in your correspondence in "The Advertiser," would you kindly oblige by answering the following? What firm buys old coins, giving address. You would greatly oblige by securing this information for me.

DAVEY.

A—I regret very much that I am unable to obtain the address that you ask for. If any reader can supply the same, it would be highly appreciated.

Anne's Letter a Puzzle.

Dear Miss Grey: Will you please answer the following questions as soon as you find it convenient? 1. I have brownish grey eyes, dark brown hair, medium complexion. What colors would be becoming to me. Would Alice blue? 2. Do you think that for every day black shoes are in as good taste as tan ones? 3. I am fifteen, am I too young to go travelling alone?

ANNE ROE.

A—1. I think so. 2. Yes, perhaps better. 3. Not too young to go a short distance, if the route is a fairly direct one, and you have the faculty of caring for yourself. But it is better to be accompanied by an older person, your father or mother.

A Lengthy Letter.

Dear Miss Grey: Would you please answer the following questions in your valuable column:

1. Is it right for a young girl to stand talking with a young man at the gate, and who should first mention about parting? 2. Would it be right for a girl to marry a fellow a year or two her senior if she loved him dearly? 3. Please suggest some games for a party of young people. Is it right for a fellow to kiss a girl at the gate when parting, and what would you think in such a case? 5. How long before marriage should a fellow give a girl her engagement ring? 6. Would it be mean for a girl not to accept a ride with a young fellow if he asked her to and you didn't like him any too well? 7. Would it be proper for a young girl to ask a fellow to walk with her, seeing this is leap year? 8. Do you think Englishmen are more than a little bit of a fellow? 9. Would you think the Ladies' College in Quebec would be a good place for a young girl to take a course, and how much are their fees?

Hoping to see this in your column and thanking you for your trouble.

BROWN EYES.

A—1. According to both fiction and history, maids and men have "stood talking at the garden gate" even since gates were invented. I fancy, so I should not presume to say it was anything but right. Unfortunately, there is no record of whether the hero or heroine was the first to speak the parting word. However, I think you will be quite safe in doing so. 2. Yes. 3. There is an article on today's page under heading of "The Young Hostess." Perhaps you will find some new ideas there. 4. Better to discourage familiarity of this nature entirely. 5. Any time during the preceding year. 6. No. A girl has the right to refuse company that is distasteful to her. 7. Leap year. It is true, is supposed to accord privileges to the fair sex, but I would not advise you to take advantage of them very often. 8. Some of the finest of the men in the world are natives of England, and I have a great admiration of them. Certainly, if you love each other. 9. The girl is usually the first to speak. 10. The college is known to be an excellent one for certain practical courses. By all means write to the superintendent for a circular giving prices and particulars.

Lives in New York.

Dear Miss Grey: I live in New York, but I have relatives living in London. They send me "The Advertiser," and I am much interested in your column. Will you please answer the following questions as soon as possible:

1. Could you suggest some games for girls and boys from thirteen to eighteen years of age to play at? 2. I am constantly wrinkling my forehead. What could I do to cure this? 3. What cold cream that you can buy in most any drug store do you consider the best for all time use? 4. Do you know of any remedy that you can buy to remove pimples from your face? 5. My arms are not white like most of my friends' arms, neither permits.

SECOND ANNUAL MEETING OF W. C. C.

Shows Most Gratifying Work

The second annual meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, of London, was held on Monday afternoon in the Majestic Theatre, which was well-filled with club members, and also members of the local Mothers' Clubs and the Playground Association, who had been invited.

The Reports.

Lady Gibbons, the retiring president, occupied the chair, and asked first for the report of Mrs. John Stevely, the treasurer. The figures read were very encouraging, showing a balance in the treasury of $129.32, the disbursements for the year being $40.26. $25 had been forwarded to the Playground Association to further the scheme for free swimming baths for children.

The report of the secretary, Mrs. C. M. Belton, was also a gratifying one. The membership in the past year reached 248, and it was urged that each member would bring in one more, the numbers would be doubled in a short time. Mrs. Belton's report reviewed briefly the address that had been given in the Normal School during the season. Among the prominent lecturers who have been brought to London under the auspices of the club are, Dr. Curtis, the well-known playground organizer, Mrs. Pankhurst, Dr. Anna Strong, Mrs. Jean Blewett, Miss Hurlbut, Miss Rose, Dr. Sykes and Dr. Mitchell, of Columbia University, and Professor Smith, of Toronto University. During the years the local club has affiliated with the National Council of Women, and with the central organization of the Canadian Club, which gives any member the privilege of attending meetings in any city she may visit.

Election of Officers.

Election of officers was next in order with the following results:

President, Mrs. F. P. Betts; Honorary Vice-Presidents, Lady Gibbons and Mrs. Becher; first vice-president, Mrs. Donald McLean; second vice-president, Mrs. Macbeth; third vice-president, Mrs. Leonard; fourth vice-president, Mrs. McEvoy; Mrs. J. S. Stevely and Mrs. C. W. Belton were re-elected Treasurer and Recording Secretary respectively, by a standing vote. Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. R. C. McCann; Executive Committee, Mesdames Bapty Saunders, Coffey, Ronald Harris, A. T. Edwards, Joseph Marshall, Tutt, Carling, (Dr.) Robinson and Miss McColl. Mrs. A. T. Edwards and Mrs. McCann were elected scrutineers.

During the voting, Mrs. Talbot Macbeth presented a huge sheaf of Beauty roses to Lady Gibbons on behalf of the club.

"Child Welfare" Pictures.
The remainder of the meeting was occupied with the presentation of moving pictures on the "Child Welfare" Exhibit. The series was a series of one, showing the admirable work being done in large American cities by medical clinics, church industrial schools, supervised recreation grounds for children, and in public libraries, for children in public libraries. Perhaps the "baby" pictures appealed most to the audience. It was demonstrated on the screen how the nurses and doctors endeavor by means of careful dieting and fresh air to overcome disease and weakness in the little ones.

Another touching scene was that of teaching deaf children to speak, read and write. The entire series gave members the privilege of attending meetings in any city she may visit.

Stretching the Lines to the Tables at the Opposite End.
The players proceeded in this way until all the pins are sent down the rows. The line that succeeds in moving the pins from one table to the other in the shortest time wins the game. The fun lies in the awkward manipulation of one's neighbor's hand.

Musical Shadows.
Stretching the lines across an archway between two rooms, with a strong light stationed before it, about three feet away. After the guests have "chosen sides," the section which it to act first lines up, and the players march slowly, one after another, between the light and the curtain. As the shadows are thrown upon the screen, the opposing half, who remain on the other side, call out the identity of the players they recognize. If the guess is correct these players fall out of line, but the remainder march on until all are identified by their opponents. If a slow march is played on the piano during the game, it is much more fun.

For a keen contest, a telegram game is sure to please. Each player is provided with paper and pencil upon which any twelve letters of the alphabet are written. The leader gives a topic, such as wedding, accident, violation, fire, etc., and fifteen minutes are allowed to form a telegram from the letters found on the slips. They are then collected and read aloud. The more ridiculous the telegrams are made, of course, the more fun it is.

A Dainty Gift

If you are at a loss as to what to present to the new baby, and are willing to spend four or five dollars for something extra dainty and charming, select one of the pretty cap boxes in just the right size for baby's headgear—and if the gift is to be especially generous, send a hand-embroidered cap with the box.

These adorable cap boxes are the shape of a man's leather hat box, though the size is somewhat smaller. The inside is lined with soft pink paper and dainty hand-painted pictures of roses and forget-me-nots decorate top and sides of the box. Inside is a lining of quilted pink satin with a little up-right stand, for the baby's head. The lid opens on paper hinges and is tied down with broad pink satin ribbons.

CLOTHES TO MATCH "FIDO."
Baroness von Hegelmüller, wife of the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, the dean of the Diplomatic Corps in Washington, has the distinction of having lived longer in the capital than a good half of the official world. She has two fads, one for velvet gowns, the other for novel and expensive vehicles. She had the first satin-lined auto in this country, and one of her acquisitions from Paris is a smart electric brought over in the shape of a green satine. Two years ago the baroness affected London smoke velvet, and a feature was a large terrier, the exact color of her garments and the run-about.

MONOGRAMMED BUTTONS.
For the woman who rides, the latest wrinkle is to have monogrammed buttons on the riding habit. At the meet the buttons are monogrammed in the color of the rider's hunt club. At other times it may match the coat collar in color.

Dear Miss Grey: Is it proper for a girl to ask to wear a boy's scarf pin, or for him to offer it to her? 2. I am sixteen. Am I too young to have boy callers? 3. If not, how late should they stay?

BRIGHT EYES.
A—I. The exchanging of jewelry is a very silly custom among young people, and one which should be stopped. You will see the folly of it when you are older. One great objection which should be perfectly clear to you now is this: If one loses an article of jewelry belonging to another, he is duty bound to replace it. 2. No. 3. I am too young to have boy callers, but too young to consider them as sweethearts. 3. 5 to 8:30 p.m., if mother permits.

THE DAILY MENU

DAILY MENU.

BREAKFAST.

Cereal, Bacon, Fried Apples, Whole Wheat Muffins, Coffee.

LUNCHEON.

Creamed Eggs on Toast, Stewed Apricots, Cake, Tea.

DINNER.

Black Bean Soup, Med. Pie, Boiled Potatoes, Creamed Cabbage, Chocolate Blanc Manger, Whipped Cream, Coffee.

The meat pie may be made of cold meat left from the previous day, or if there is no meat at hand, purchase one and a half pounds of boned round for it. Cut in thick pieces, cover with boiling water, add half an onion sliced, half a carrot, sliced, and salt and pepper to taste. Stew slowly. Half an hour before dinner thicken the stew slightly and make a baking-powder crust, rolling it out and cutting into biscuits. Lay these over the stew, which has been put into a baking dish, and bake for fifteen or twenty minutes. The chocolate blanc manger is made by the usual rule, poured into cups, covered with meringue made from the whites of two eggs, two teaspoonfuls of granulated sugar and a few drops of vanilla and browned slightly in a cool oven.

Dress and Charm

Dress is one of the principal items of a woman's charm. It doesn't have to be expensive, but it must express her own femininity and essential daintiness. You can wear the prettiest dress in the world, but if you are not really dainty, somehow that quality is going to show.

The fact that you have on a new dress and fresh dress doesn't hide the lack of physical cleanliness and refinement, and somewhere this lack is going to proclaim itself in the soiled ruffle of a petticoat that drags, or in a down-trodden heel of a shoe, in hair that needs shampooing and nails that need manicuring.

Most people think that being beautiful is an expensive process. That isn't so at all. Real beauty doesn't come out of shops, and while it means constant care and attention, it does not require spending of much money.

Neither does charm. A woman does not have to wear a Pauline gown to appear absolutely charming in the eyes of her husband. But she can't come to the breakfast table in curl papers, or a frothy head of hair even if she's wearing a dressing gown designed by a famous French couturier and be attractive.

You can make richer, more fragrant, more delicious tea if you use "SAL-ADA." One teaspoonful makes two cups. Use absolutely boiling water.

SEASONABLE SALADS

During summer green salads should replace those of meats or other heavy mixtures. A few recipes are given here:

Bermuda Salad.

Free six tender sweet green peppers of seed and tough division walls and stem ends. Chop them fine and mix with one very large Spanish onion. Make a dressing with a gill of olive oil, half a teaspoonful of a gill of mustard, some of the juice drained from the onion, salt, pepper and the juice of a small lemon. Add to the dressing a piece of preserved ginger, chopped fine. Arrange cups of crisp, tender lettuce leaves; put a spoonful of the pepper and onion in each and pour over it a little of the dressing. Serve remainder of the dressing in a separate dish or bowl.

Brussels Sprout Salad.

Put in a pint of Brussels sprouts in a piece of cheesecloth and boil tender. While still warm, sprinkle a little oil, vinegar, salt and pepper over them. When ready to serve, arrange in pyramid shape on a bed of lettuce and sprinkle over them chopped onions, chopped olives, walnut kernels, or pecans and capers—about a tablespoonful of each, all chopped equally fine and mixed with two tablespoonfuls of lemon or grape fruit juice. Let stand in a cold place a little while, then serve with mayonnaise, or just as is.

Endive Salad.

This is the way it is served in France. Wash, trim and tear apart a head of endive, drain dry and chop in a salad bowl that has been rubbed with a bruised clove of garlic on a bread crust and place the crust in the middle of the salad for a little while, then remove it. Add the endive a dressing made of two tablespoonfuls of oil to one of vinegar, tarragon, if you have it on hand; salt, pepper to taste, half a teaspoon of celery seed and a teaspoonful of anchovy paste, or mushroom catsup. Toss well together and serve before the green leaves wilt.

USES OF CRETONNE

Those who can afford to dress up their rooms with cretonne will revel in the new ideas this spring.

The first cost of cretonne covers and curtains may seem substantial, but if a good quality is selected the colors will not fade readily, and the covers will last through many seasons and tubings, greens and browns, with a sprinkling of rose tones, are most satisfactory in the long run, and if a well-covered cretonne is selected these tones will harmonize with almost any wall paper except one in decided blue color.

Dainty summer bedspreads are made of flowered cretonne under dotted swiss. The pink or yellow flowers show through the sheer swiss in soft, blurred effect and the edge of the spread may be finished with inexpensive ball fringe. Bureau or table covers of cretonne under dotted swiss may match the bedspread and chair and couch covers of the cretonne, uncovered may be used.

Flowered cretonnes are not attractive when the wall papers are much flowered. In such case it is better to use plain materials for curtains, covers and pillows. If cretonne is used, it must match the pattern and coloring of the wall paper exactly.

There are several papers and cretonnes which come in matching patterns. Give waist and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age, it is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from the date of order. The price of each pattern is 16 cents in cash or in postage stamps.

Travelling bags and aprons of cretonne are always appreciated by the woman going abroad, or setting out for a long journey which includes stops at many hotels.

The travelling apron has a belt which looks around the waist, and has two tiers of pockets intended for brush, comb, toothbrush, manicure implements, cold cream and toothpaste tubes and the like.

These aprons are invaluable in the dressing room of a Pullman, and one's apron, with all one's toilet belongings conveniently at hand, may be carried to the dressing room without the necessity of groping for various necessities in a bag or basket, and then out on the Pullman washstand.

When dressed the apron may be rolled up with equal speed and one is instantly ready to return to one's section, the minutes thus saved being also a saving to the time and the tempers of women who are waiting their turn in the dressing room.

TECUMSEHS AND MAPLE LEAFS ARE BOTH READY FOR OPENER

Manager Bowerman and His Players Are Confident of Winning Opening Game at Tecumseh Park Today—Opening Ceremonies Will Be the Best Ever.

YOU'LL GO SOME

Play Ball! This is the cry that will sound in four Ontario cities today, and will usher in the Canadian League season of 1912. And right here let it be said that it is going to be a fine season. Right from the drop of the hat until the last inning of the last game is played, the fans are going to see real baseball, and there is no doubt but that there will be as good a race for the pennant as any fan could wish.

The weather, which yesterday promised to put the fans in the opening game, cleared off nicely last evening, and although the air is a trifle chilly, Old Sol is doing his best to make a nice day of it. The grounds at Tecumseh Park are in splendid condition. They were as dry as a bone this morning. The infield, which has recently undergone great improvement, never looked better, and the rain was really a blessing in disguise, for it packed the loose dirt and made the base paths as hard and as level as a sidewalk. Everything is in readiness for the opener. No detail has been overlooked by the local management in making the occasion one of the most memorable in the history of professional baseball in London, and this old city has seen some memorable days. The grand stand presents many improvements over last season. The seats have all had backs put on them, and are just as comfortable as an easy chair. Nothing has been overlooked that will cater to the comfort of the fans, and more joy than merely watching the game will await the crowd at Tecumseh Park this season.

SOME PARADE—EH, WHAT!

The parade to the grounds will be a monster. The Seventh Regiment Band will dispense music for the occasion, and about fifty automobiles will form the procession, the London and Guelph players riding in one of the cars.

At the grounds, Mayor Graham will speak briefly and then dish up the first ball to Rev. J. G. Inkster, who will be adorned with glove and mask. Rev. Father McKee will be at bat, and if the ball ever comes near enough for him to wallop, it will be a home run sure.

Manager Bowerman arrived in town last evening from his home in Ramo, where he spent Sunday. He was somewhat anxious about the weather, and would have preferred it a little warmer. However, he is pleased over the condition of his players, and is confident of taking the first game, at least, from Guelph. His line-up will be the same as announced in yesterday's Advertiser. It is not known whether Frank will play in the game himself or not, but it is likely he will. Powell will be played at first base, while Rieberman will camp out in right field. The team looks good, and the fans can be assured that there will be no such start as last season.

In the other cities of the league where the season opens today, enthusiasm is at fever heat. No brighter outlook could confront a minor league than the one that the Canadian League is facing this season. From Ottawa in the east to St. Thomas in the west, the Canadian League is attracting attention all over baseball Ontario. This season the organization is twice as strong as last season. Next year it will be stronger than ever, and so on. The Canadian League has come to stay. It is not only attracting attention in Ontario, but it is also being watched with interest across the border. It is a big advertising medium for the cities that compose its circuit, and it is going to be to Canada what the National and American Leagues are to the United States. Today it makes its initial bow as a Class C organization. The day is not far distant when the Canadian League will become a Class B organization, and be on a par with the best minor leagues across the line.

SMIRLIE LAWSON WILL CAPTAIN ARGOS

Annual Meeting of Scullers Held in Toronto Elects Officers For Next Season.

Toronto, May 14.—It was regular foggy weather for the annual meeting of the Argonaut Sculling Club, which was held last night with a large number of members present. It was a common saying last season, that Argos won the championship simply because they had their committee working together early in the summer rounding up the team, and by getting the players out early for practice, so that they caught the other teams napping, on condition in the early games. This year promises to be no exception, as by the time the season arrives the Argos will have everything arranged to take the field.

At the meeting last night were a large number of the old players, and several new ones, including Leonard, who played scullage for Varsity two years ago. Dr. Smirlie Lawson was elected captain of the senior team, and Billy Fouds honorary coach. The committee selected were, the officers of the Argonaut Sculling Club, and the following: W. G. Murphy, W. D. P. Jarvis, B. R. Gale, W. R. Harris, Capt. Wilson, Wm. Kennedy, Joe Wright and J. W. Sprague.

There are a lot of new players in town who have signified their intention of turning out with the Scullers, who were not at the meeting last night.

QUINN SUSPENDED FOR THROWING GLOVE

New York Pitcher Was Too Hasty in Saturday's Game With Tigers.

New York, May 13.—Pitcher Jack Quinn, of the New York American League team, was today suspended for an indefinite period by President Ban Johnston for throwing his glove at Empire O'Loughlin during Saturday's game. It was after Quinn was ejected from the game in the eighth inning that pop bottles were showered at the umpires, and trouble was narrowly averted. The suspension of Quinn will badly handicap the Yankee team. He had been one of the most dependable men on the pitching staff.

Is there anything in all this world that is of more importance to you than good digestion? Food must be eaten to sustain life and must be digested and converted into blood. When the digestion fails the whole body suffers. Chamberlain's Tablets are a rational and reliable cure for indigestion. They increase the flow of bile, purify the blood, strengthen the stomach, and tone up the whole digestive apparatus to a natural and healthy action. For sale by all dealers.

BIG CEREMONIES WILL MARK OPENING OF CANADIAN LEAGUE

Hamilton, Brantford and St. Thomas Will Celebrate Occasion in Fitting Style—Weather a Trifle Cold But All Games Will Be Played.

SAINTS ARE READY

St. Thomas, May 13.—Although it snowed here all forenoon, the weather tonight has settled, and if it does not rain tomorrow the opening game with Ottawa will be played. As the grounds are drying up rapidly, the Ottawa Club arrived in the city tonight from their training quarters at Chatham, and Manager Cook stated tonight that his men were all in fine shape. Eddie Wright, the St. Thomas third baseman of last season, has come to terms with the local management, and will report in the morning. It is doubtful, however, if he will get in tomorrow's game. Manager Stewart said tonight that he will send Jacobson, the big left-hand pitcher, in against the Senators, as he is very desirous of grabbing the first game from them. Bricher has been assigned to umpire.

BIG DAY AT BRANTFORD

Brantford, May 13.—Final arrangements were made here tonight for the opening of the Canadian League season tomorrow, when the champion Berlin team and the Red Sox clash at Agricultural Park. The game will be preceded by a street parade and the usual spring opening ceremony at the park, when Mr. Lloyd Harris will grove the first ball, with His Worship Mayor or Harnman at bat. The Berlin team arrived in the city this afternoon, and Manager Kane, of the locals, would not state definitely who would do the twirling for the Sox, but it is likely that Tasker or Barker and Lamond will be in the points.

ENGLISH PRINCE AT FRENCH MANOEUVRES

Heir to the Throne Will Witness the Naval Exercises.
[Canadian Press.]

Paris, May 14.—The Prince of Wales, who has been staying for some time here with the Marquise de Breteuil, intends to leave for the great French naval station at Toulon, June 18, and will embark on the French Dreadnought Danton, the flagship of Vice-Admiral Augustin Boue de la Peyrere.

The prince will spend three days on board the battleship witnessing the evolutions of the French fleet in the Mediterranean. These are to be carried out under the direction of Admiral La Peyrere, former minister of marine.

THE LAST VAGABOND

BY RANDALL DARRISH

Author of "The Story of a Boy's Life" and "The Story of a Girl's Life"

Some time during the third day the wind had blown itself out, or else we had been driven beyond the sweep of it. Anyhow, it died down into faint puffs, but the sea remained heavy, the fog thickening as the gale ceased. It was a heavy white fog when seemed to come and go in waves of vapor, at times as dense as if a thick cloud had settled down over the waters, dry and frosty, with a peculiar sparkle to its particles like diamonds dust. You appeared fairly to push the stuff aside as you walked, and actually felt it press against you, though it was solid matter. This certain coupled with the sparse light there was, left the decks so dark that we attempted little clearing up, merely pointing the watch's nose more directly northward, and pushed forward at half-speed, trusting the Almighty to save us with clear water. Indeed, there was nothing else to do with that ice-back of us, and the three were pounding our poop. Besides, I had come to the end of my endurance, and when De Nova came limping forward, hanging to the life-line, to take his watch, I crept below more dead than alive, and clawed my way across the cabin. Lady Darlington stood braced in her doorway, yet for the life of me I could not speak, although I tried—my head nodded on my shoulders, and I fell forward across my bunk, asleep. Before I even struck the mattress, Dade said she made him pull off my boots, and unless you mind, standing over him until it was done.

It was not sleep—it was more like death, for I never slept, yet for the life of me I lay exactly as I fell, utterly insensible to either noise or motion. It was Dade's vigorous shaking that finally aroused me, nor did he desire until he had me sitting up in the bunk, my eyes wide open. There was a light burning in the main cabin, but my own stateroom was dark. The yacht seemed to be riding the seas more easily.

"What time is it, Dade?"

"Two o'clock, sir."

"Morning?"

"No, sir; afternoon; but the fog is that thick outside you can't see your own nose."

"Then I've been asleep for six hours. Why didn't you call me earlier?"

"Mr. De Nova told me to let you lie, sir; I pressed the ladies away, yet for the life of me I had pulled on my boots and was standing up, gazing out through the door into the cabin, where Dade still remained, waiting to see that I did not go back to sleep again. Suddenly there came a tremendous shudder, sent me sprawling forward, and Dade heaved me back against the wall. As I struck the deck a thunderous crash and roar sounded forward; the stem of the vessel began to swing, and I was hurled into the air, sliding up both down against the front of the cabin. Instantly there followed a muffled report, accompanied by a further upthrust of the stern. Everything loose came tumbling down upon us, and I was pinned by my knees. I found the deck slanting upward like the steep side of a hill."

"Oh, Lord, what has been done?"

"We've hit something hard; ice, likely. Jump now, and help me get out of the women."

The awful, sickening pulse of the stricken boat, swinging stern-up to the motion of the waves, and the changing temperature of spring fogs have with them. Congestion follows, the kidneys fail in their work and there are backache, headache, and too often serious developments.

You can help the kidneys wonderfully by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In a few hours the backache will disappear, the congested patient treatment will restore the activity of kidneys, liver and bowels and thoroughly purify the blood.

No medicine is so satisfactory as a means of removing the cause of chronic and acute indigestion, constipation and kidney and liver derangements.

Mayne: To keep your complexion smooth, fresh-looking and free from blemishes in all kinds of shampoos, use nothing better than a splendid greaseless cream made as follows: Stir two spoonfuls glycerine and one spoonful of quinine in a pint of cold water. This cream-jelly will make your skin soft and smooth and is a most effective and healthy remedy for removing blackheads and reducing enlarged pores, and affords the very best protection to the complexion at all seasons of the year.

N. C.: Do not have any fear about taking purgatives to reduce your weight. If you will dissolve 4 ounces of paraffin in 1/2 pint of water and take a spoonful before meals, you will lose your excess fat quickly without any injury to your health. This remedy is absolutely harmless, very effective and does not cause a flabby, wrinkled skin. You need not diet or exercise violently to get proper results from this simple remedy.

Clara T.: Yes, a genuine hair-grower has been found at last. Keep the scalp clean by frequently shampooing with catnip and rub into the scalp twice a week a tonic made by dissolving an ounce of quinine in 1/2 pint of cold water, adding 1/2 pint of cold water. This excellent remedy refreshes the scalp and makes the hair bright and healthy. It stimulates the hair-roots and keeps the hair in a healthy, growing condition. For dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, you will find this remedy unequalled.

May: Pulling the hairs out by the roots is both painful and dangerous. Try this simple method and you will be delighted with the result. Make a paste with a little powdered detanite and water, spread thickly on hairy surface and after two or three minutes remove and wash the skin.

Mrs. H. T.: If you want a first-class tonic for family use to purify the blood and remove the accumulated poisons of winter from the system, you can get nothing better than an old-fashioned tonic made by dissolving 1/2 cupful sugar and 1 ounce karoene in 1/2 pint alcohol.

Nathalie: I would not encourage you to use face powder as it will get on easily and shows too readily. To make an excellent beautifier and whiteness, solve 4 ounces ammonia in 1/2 pint of cold water (or hot water), then add 2 spoonfuls glycerine. The use of this lotion will take away the dirt, and only look to your skin and make it soft, pink and beautiful. This splendid lotion is used by many society women who prize their good looks as powder will ruin any complexion in time. It is very cheap and does not cause freckles and to prevent chapping.

Ellen O.: The "dope" you are using will never make your red, smarting eyes clear and bright. If you will get an ounce of crystals, dissolve it in a pint of water and put a few drops in each eye daily, you will soon have clear, sparkling, strong eyes. This tonic is very soothing and strengthening to weak, tired eyes and greatly aids those who wear glasses. It is unsurpassed for treating granular lids and as a dependable, strengthening tonic for weak eyes.

PRIZES PRESENTED TO 7TH REGT. "Impossible To Help My Kidneys"

Until I Used "Fruit-a-lives" World's Greatest Kidney Cure

Pleasant Ceremony in the Armories On Monday Evening Drew Big Crowd.

MORE MEN ARE NEEDED

Sixty Per Cent of Strength of Regiment Made Up of Men From Across the Seas.

The annual presentation of prizes and inspection of the Seventh Regiment took place on Monday evening at the armories. The regiment turned out well, and Col. Hodgins, D. O. C., who inspected the "boys" found everything in first-class condition. He complimented the men on the excellence of their appearance. The ladies of the regiment presented the prizes won on the local rifle ranges, and in other competitions, to the men. The presentation was a large concourse of citizens present, the galleries being packed. An excellent programme of music was rendered by the band under the leadership of Bandmaster Slater. The regiment was inspected promptly at 8 o'clock, and later Lieut.-Col. Hodgins, D. O. C., and Major Gordon-Bell were received by the officers and men. The inspection was then made, and the men complimented by the district officer commanding on their neat appearance.

Col. Campbell's Address.

Lieut.-Col. A. A. Campbell introduced the programme of the evening. In a brief address he congratulated the men on passing so creditable an inspection, and expressed his pleasure at being in command of such a fine body of men. In looking over the men prominent in the ranks, he could find many, the majority of them, who were either connected with the Seventh Regiment at the present time, or had been in the past. It was an honor to belong to it. The regiment needed all the encouragement it could get. It was not very complimentary to Londoners to know that 60 per cent of the men in the Seventh came from across the seas. The old country men took a keen interest in military affairs, but many of the newcomers were not. He expressed the hope that conditions would soon be changed, and that more Canadians would take their place in the regiment.

Major Graham followed, with a short speech.

An Efficient Body.

Lieut.-Col. Hodgins congratulated the regiment on its efficiency. This was the first time he had seen the men since autumn, when they were on duty at Dunlop. On that occasion the Seventh had behaved splendidly. In fact, they had never failed him when called on. He regretted the fact also that Londoners do not join the regiment in so large numbers as they should. This was a mistake, and efforts should be made to correct it.

The Seventh is the oldest and first among my family of regiments," said Col. Hodgins. "Always we have been the position of the regiment, and the officers and men must be backed up and supported by the citizens of London. See that you do this, men of London."

Prizes Presented.

The presentation of prizes followed, as follows:

ARMFUL OF FLOWERS STREWN ON GRAVE OF TITANIC'S DEAD

Mrs. Loring, of London, Widowed By Great Disaster, Crosses
the Atlantic In Order to Perform Touching Rite on Spot Where Liner Sank.

New York, May 13.—"There's rosemary, that's for remembrance"—

Most of the passengers, dining gayly in the main saloon, did not know that there was a sacred funeral service on the steamship Carmania as she felt her cautious way through the iceberg belt of the North Atlantic last Thursday evening.

It was not a formal service, but with its bare simplicity, its single prayer, its silent requiem, it was one of the most beautiful and solemn things that the sea has known. For just as the red setting sun flashed its final rays on the two great icebergs riding out of the north, and just as the Carmania steamed into tonight's 50.11 west, a widow of a hero of the Titanic stood upon the deck and strewn the sea with flowers in memory of her dead.

The Carmania was far south of the Titanic's grave, but as she reached the point of longitude that marked the wreck her speed, already slow by reason of the ice peril, was reduced still further, while the mournful man—Mrs. J. H. Loring, of London—cast a great wreath and blossoms upon the waves.

Group of Sympathetic Onlookers.
A stewardess supporting the invalid woman, a deckhand gazing awe-struck at the scene, and the ship's captain looking down in silent sympathy from the bridge—these were all who witnessed the pathetic act of devotion and heard the murmured prayer that followed the flowers out upon the sea.

Mrs. Loring, although broken in health from the shock of her husband's death, insisted on making passage on the Carmania for no other purpose than to pay her tribute to the dead. In charge of a special stewardess, she entered a stateroom below the ship sailed from England, and she never left it until the message that she awaited was carried to her on Thursday evening. The day long after the disaster, and at noon four icebergs of unusual height had been sighted and passed. As dusk began to fall two more appeared in the north and Capt. Duncan cautiously ordered the lowering of speed for the night.

Shortly before eight bells of the second dog watch, the captain stepped into the wheelhouse and made some calculations.

"We are near there," he said to his quartermaster.

"Yes, sir; I know," the other replied with perfect understanding.

"You may send my steward to Mrs. Loring's suite."

Smile of Pathetic Gratitude.
Within a few minutes Mrs. Loring, leaning heavily upon the arm of her attendant, who was carrying boxes of flowers, appeared on deck. She thanked the captain with a smile of pathetic gratitude. Then she moved to the rail and looked out over the sea.

The water was nearly calm. The sky was clearing. Plainly it was to be a night of stars and clear cold—almost such a night as that when the Titan of the Seas went down.

The breath of the far-off bergs fell chill upon the brow of the woman. One of these icy piles might have struck the death blow of the Titanic. A peal of laughter came ringing from the saloon, where the passengers were at dinner.

Mrs. Loring lifted a small wreath of green leaves and held it poised a moment over the water. Her lips moved in a murmured prayer, and the wreath fell softly into the darkness of the waters. The orchestra had begun to play in the saloon. It was merry music.

The stewardess filled the arms of the sick woman with flowers, and slowly, weakly, she let the blossoms fall from her trembling hands. She pressed a flower to her lips, then she consigning it to the waves. When all were gone she moved back past the cheery noises of the saloon to her own solitary stateroom. The Carmania arrived here yesterday.

Mrs. Loring is a daughter of Henri Weinland, a noted violinist. She married several years ago to Mr. Loring, who was a member of a London stock brokerage firm. He had planned to come to America on the Carmania, but at the last moment decided to take the Titanic.

NETTING FOR ENGINES TO PREVENT SPARKS

Dominion Railway Commission Takes Up Question of Fire Protection.

[Canadian Press.]

OTTAWA, May 13.—The railway board at its first sitting since the death of Judge Mabey this afternoon, had under consideration the draft regulations prepared by the committee of conservation in respect to fire protection. The committee asks that existing regulations be abolished and a new set drafted by the commissioners adopted. These regulations, which are somewhat lengthy, provide that all engines must be equipped with netting to prevent the escape of sparks and that every railway company must provide fire extinguishers at certain points whose duty it shall be to examine from April 1 to Nov. 1 each year all locomotives in use.

The proposed regulations give the chief fire inspector or any authorized officer of the board the power to inspect any points of the railway company and to reject those found to be defective in regard to the fire arrangements.

It is provided in the draft arrangements that railways shall not permit fire, live coal or ashes to be deposited outside of yard limits unless they be immediately extinguished. No railway company will be allowed to burn flammable material on its line. Every railway company must provide fire breaks along the route of the line in favor of the regulation of burning by the inspector of the board. In Saskatchewan and Alberta the fire break must consist of a mowed strip not less than 15 feet in width along each side of the right of way.

One of the most important provisions calls upon all the railway companies to maintain a staff of fire rangers for patrol and fire fighting at all times, from April 1 to Nov. 1. The size of this specially organized force is to be fixed by the chief inspector of the board.

GIANT ICEBERG SEEN FAR SOUTH

Monster Was One of the Largest Ever Recorded on the Atlantic.

[Canadian Press.]

NEW YORK, May 13.—A giant iceberg, 1,000 feet long and 150 feet high, 15 miles out, but gleaming and flashing brilliantly in the sunlight, was sighted by passengers and crew of the steamer George Washington, which reached New York today. The berg, which was one of the largest ever recorded, was many miles south of the beaten track of floating ice. It was 20-30 miles north of 47° west, which is further south than New York, and was estimated to be 150 miles south of the spot where the Titanic went down. Hundreds of passengers lined the rail and viewed the giant through glasses until it faded from sight.

FOURTEEN FEET DEEP UNDER FLOOD WATER

Hundreds Marooned by the Inundation at Irvinville, La.

[Canadian Press.]

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 13.—Circling the bluffs of False River, which had served temporarily to check its progress, flood water from the Texas break in the levee today spreading ruin over the towns of the thickly-settled country south of here. Plantation after plantation, that dot the Mississippi bottoms, some of them the largest and richest sugarcane-producing fields on the west bank of the Mississippi, are covered by the muddy water.

A report from Irvinville, 15 miles north of Port Allen, reached here today that the water was 14 feet deep in the town. One hundred and fifty persons are said to be marooned. Lieut. Rogers, of the federal relief corps, is preparing to send relief to the men.

Looting is increasing. A number of the towns in the flooded area have reported cases of looting.

Rail communication between New Roads and points south is seriously threatened by the flood this morning.

sizes this morning, Albrecht Bond, counsel for Gibson, asked that it be traversed to the autumn assizes in order to allow his client to secure witnesses for an alibi. He presented an affidavit from Gibson, declaring that Dunkleman had deliberately lied when he said he was with him when he was struck down, and the reason he had not previously made an attempt to secure the required witnesses was that he did not think Dunkleman would stick to the story that he had been at the hydro-electric station when Dunkleman was knocked unconscious.

FOUND BODY IN RIVER

Mystery of Toronto Boy's Disappearance
Has Been Cleared Up.

[Canadian Press.]

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 13.—All doubt as to the fate which befell Richard King, the Toronto boy who disappeared Thursday night, was dispelled last night, when his body was found near the Government dock in the St. Mary's River. Strange to say, it was his friend, Stanley Simerson, who recovered the body, and he located it with the first throw of the hook. The remains are being shipped to Toronto today.

DIED IN HIS FIELD

Charles Bolton Was Stricken Very Unexpectedly Near His Home.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Guelph, May 13.—Charles Bolton, a farmer residing near Onstieck was found dead in one of his fields. While working in a field some distance from the house removing some large stones to the corner of the fence he was seen by a passerby stooped over in a cramped position, and beckoning for assistance, but he soon passed away. He leaves a wife, two daughters, Ethel and Pearl, and two sons, Stanley and Earl.

A MUSICAL INSTRUMENT.

OTTAWA, May 13.—Assistant Chief Commissioner Scott of the railway board has issued an order in regard to Weakness and Palpitation OF THE HEART.

Through one cause or another a large majority of people are troubled, more or less, with some form of heart trouble. Little attention is paid to the slight weakness of the heart, but when it starts to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throb, skip beats, beats fast for a time, then so slow as to seem almost to stop, then it causes great anxiety and alarm.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills can and will give prompt and permanent relief.

They do this by their restorative influence on every organ and tissue of the body.

Mrs. John J. Downey, New Glasgow, N.S., writes: "Just a few lines to let you know what your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I was troubled with weakness and palpitation of the heart, and could scarcely lie down at all. I tried many remedies, but got none to answer my case like your Pills. I can recommend them highly to all having heart or nerve troubles."

Decidedly Dictionary Daffy

London has apparently gone "dictionary daffy," and the surprisingly rapid rate at which the craze has spread to secure copies of the beautiful $4.00 Webster's New Illustrated Dictionary (with latest Census) is a creditable comment upon the high average intelligence of the citizens.

New supplies of books have arrived and they are now ready for distribution. For the accommodation of the public the doors of the Dictionary department will not close until 7 o'clock each evening, and will be kept open until 8 o'clock every Saturday.

Captain Lord said the third officer told him so the next day, but both he (the captain) and the second officer saw only one masthead light.

Mysteriously Vanished.
Sir Rufus Isaacs explained that according to his information, the Titanic was the only vessel in the vicinity on that night, showing two masthead lights. He had not been told that the deck lights of the vessel had disappeared. What the second officer of the Californian reported in the morning was that the vessel whose masthead light had been seen had stopped during the night, but had started again at about 1 o'clock, and went off to the southwestward, her stern light being seen at 2 o'clock.

Lord Mersey—That was the time when the Titanic went down, and nothing has been heard of the steamer you saw since that time.
Captain Lord replied: "That's so." Witness continued: "It was reported in the morning that the steamer which had been seen during the night had fired several rockets, but I saw only one. I thought it might have been a company signal or an acknowledgment of the Californian's Morse signals, by which we had been trying to communicate with the steamer. If they had been distress signals I should have heard the reports of the rockets apart. I did not hear that the Titanic had sunk until the morning. At the time I thought, as she was reported to be nineteen miles away, we might have seen her sinking."

The other half of the Californian were sent out of court during the examination of Captain Lord at the request of Sir Rufus Isaacs. Captain Lord, continuing his testimony, said that both the apprentice and the second officer, who were on the bridge during the night, told him in the morning that they had called that a vessel near had been firing rockets and that he had answered their calls. He himself, however, could not remember doing so and in the morning asked the second officer why he had not been called. The officer replied that he would have called the captain himself if he had thought that the rockets were distress signals. According to the apprentice, Captain Lord when he was called, asked if the lights were white ones.

Sir Rufus Isaacs asked: "Why would you ask that question?"
Captain Lord—Because the company signals are made with colored lights. Sir Rufus Isaacs—Then white lights are distress signals?

Captain Lord—Some companies use white lights.
Lord Mersey and Sir Rufus Isaacs protested that the captain was not doing himself justice.

Captain Lord in reply to his own counsel, said: "While it would be dangerous to go through ice if I had known the Titanic was sinking, I should certainly have done so, although I do not believe I could have reached her in time."

Lord Mersey requested Captain Lord to give the address where he could be found until the Californian sailed again.

Gibson, an apprentice on the Californian, who was on the bridge of that ship during the night of the disaster, said that he could not see the outlines of the steamer which was lying nearby, but only the glare of her lights.

Lord Mersey—Would not the glare of her lights indicate that vessel was a passenger steamer?

Witness did not reply to the question, but said that while watching the steamer, which was firing rockets, the second officer remarked that the steamer was not firing rockets at sea for nothing, and that she appeared to be very queer out of the water and seemed to have a heavy list to starboard. He did not think the vessel was exactly in distress, but was in trouble of some kind. He thought she was a tramp steamer.

Lord Mersey—Would you expect to see the glare of the lights of a tramp steamer?

Witness—Yes.
Gibson told of his reporting the firing of rockets to Captain Lord, a report which the captain had previously testified that he did not remember receiving. Gibson said that the captain was awake.

Witness further testified that at 3:40, long after the Titanic had sunk, he saw another rocket.

Allen Edwards, who is a member of the House of Commons and a barrister, as representative of the Dockers' Union, examined Captain Lord in regard to a wireless message received from the Titanic, telling the Californian to "pick up," and asked him whether he and his officers were not offended by that message.

Captain Lord replied that they did not discuss it.

ROWELL'S POLICY INDORSED BY A CONSERVATIVE PASTOR

Rev. H. D. Moyer, of Petrolia, Says the Liberal Leader Will Win Because He Is Carrying Out What Is Right and What the People Want—Epworth Leagues Hold a Rally.

The annual rally of the different Epworth Leagues of the city was held in Askin Street Methodist Church on Monday night, and was attended by over six hundred of the young people of the city. The retiring president of the local union, Mr. J. W. H. McRoberts, presided, and on the platform with him were Rev. Harvey D. Moyer, of Petrolia, the speaker of the evening; Rev. G. N. Hazen, and Rev. W. Harvey, pastor of Askin Street Church.

Rev. Mr. Moyer spoke on the subject of "Big Business," and said that the present day was the day of big business. What is more those that control the largest business firms in the United States and Canada are actively engaged in Sunday school and young people's work. Big business in politics is in the hands of Christians. That is as far as there is big business in politics those that control it are Christians. The party leaders are no longer adhering to their political party because of sentiment, but are voting as they think is best for the country.

Rowell's Policy Indorsed.
The first man to have courage to Newton W. Rowell is the biggest man that has come over the sky-line into view in provincial politics during the last thirty years. This was due to the fact that he was carrying into practical politics the principles that are advocated in the young people's societies. The speaker said that he was glad that there were big politics in Ontario, and that the province has such a man as Newton W. Rowell.

Church Work.
The spirit of big business is also prevalent in church work, and is shown by the Laymen's Missionary Movement and the Union Movement. Men are beginning to realize that missionary work is not women's work but men's work, and that it is a big business. In regard to the union of the churches, it may be postponed for a while, but it will in time overcome all the small differences between the churches and embrace all the Protestant people that will help in this great work.

Officers Elected.
The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read, and showed much progress. Miss McMechan, the secretary of summer schools for the London district spoke on the work of the summer schools.

Special music for the service was given by the Askin street choir under the leadership of Mr. E. W. G. Quanz, Mr. Alfred Pene also sang a solo.

The election of officers resulted in the following being elected for the year: President—Mr. J. W. Showler, Centennial.

Vice-president—Miss E. M. Graham, First Methodist.

Secretary—Mr. C. N. Wortman, Dundas Centre.

Treasurer—Miss E. Dunn.

Rev. W. R. McIntosh and Rev. H. H. Bingham addressed the meeting in the interests of an interdenominational young people's union, and after the conclusion at which a convention committee was elected, Rev. W. R. McIntosh and Mr. J. W. H. McRoberts were elected.

This committee will meet the officers of each union in the city and draw up a constitution for the new union, which will hold a large rally in the fall.

REICHSTAG PASSES ANTI-DUELLING MOTION

Kaiser's Chancellor Asked to Stop the Practice Amongst Officers.

Berlin, May 14.—The Reichstag yesterday adopted the anti-duelling resolution introduced on May 9, with an amendment drawn up by the Socialist members providing that officers who refuse to accept a challenge to a duel shall not be dismissed from the army.

The resolution, which was initiated by the Clerical party, asked the Imperial Chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, to take steps to put an end to duelling in the army, particularly the practice of making it compulsory for an offended person to challenge the offender or leave the army.

If You Like a Little Quiet Fun

Ask some pompous person if Grape-Nuts Food helps build the brain.

Chances are you get a withering sneer and a hiss of denunciation.

Then sweetly play with the learned toad.

Ask him to tell you the analysis of brain material and the analysis of Grape-Nuts.

"Don't know? Why, I supposed you based your opinions on exact knowledge instead of pushing out a conclusion like you would a sneeze."

"Well, now your tire is punctured, let's sit down like good friends and repair it."

The bulky materials of brain are water and albumin, but these things cannot blend without a little worker known as Phosphate of Potash, defined as a "mineral salt."

One authority, Geohagan, shows in his analysis of brain, 5.33 per cent total of mineral salts, over one-half being Phosphoric Acid and Potash combined (Phosphate of Potash) 2.91 per cent.

Beaunis, another authority, shows Phosphoric Acid and Potash (Phosphate of Potash) more than one-half the total mineral salts, being 73.44 per cent in a total of 101.07.

Analysis of Grape-Nuts shows Potassium and Phosphorus (which join and make Phosphate of Potash), is consider able more than one-half of all the mineral salts in the food.

Dr. Geo. W. Carey, an authority on the constituent elements of the body, says: "The gray matter of the brain is controlled entirely by the inorganic cell-salt, Potassium Phosphate (Phosphate of Potash). This salt unites with albumin and by the addition of oxygen creates nerve fluid or the gray matter of the brain. Of course, there is a trace of other salts and other organic matter in nerve fluid, but Potassium Phosphate is the chief factor, and has the power within itself to attract, by its own law of affinity, all things needed to manufacture the elixir of life."

Further on he says: "The beginning and end of the matter is to supply the lacking principle, and in molecular form, exactly as nature furnishes it in vegetables, fruits and grain. To supply deficiencies—this is the only law of cure."

Brain is made of Phosphate of Potash as the principal Mineral Salt, added to albumin and water.

Grape-Nuts contains that element as more than one-half of all its mineral salts.

Every day's use of brain wears away a little.

Suppose your kind of food does not contain Phosphate of Potash.

How are you going to rebuild today the worn-out parts of yesterday?

And if you don't, why shouldn't nervous prostration and brain-fag result?

Remember, Mind does not work well on a brain that is even partly broken down from lack of nourishment.

It is true that other food besides Grape-Nuts contains varying quantities of Brain food.

Plain wheat and barley do. But in Grape-Nuts there is a certainty.

And if the elements demanded by Nature, are eaten, the life forces have the needed material to build from.

A healthy brain is important, if one would "do things" in this world.

A man who sneers at "Mind" sneers at the best and least understood part of himself. That part which some folks believe links us to the Infinite.

Mind asks for a healthy brain upon which to act, and Nature has defined a way to make a healthy brain and renew it day by day as it is used up from work of the previous day.

Nature's way to rebuild is by the use of food which supplies the things required.

OATS PRICES SLUMP
ON LOCAL MARKETHay Was Plentiful at From $17 to $19
Per Ton.

The price of oats on the local market today fell off to $1.60 and $1.70 per cwt., according to quality. Hay was plentiful, there being over 20 loads sold, the general run of prices being from $17 to $19 per ton. Two or three loads brought $15.50, but these were of exceptional quality.

Other prices remained the same, and were:

Barley, per cwt., $1.50 to $1.60
Wheat, per cwt., $1.50 to $1.60
Oats, per cwt., $1.60 to $1.70
Hay, per ton, $17 to $19

SOCIETY DEALS

WITH SAD CASE

Mother of Twins Neglects Them and One Died in Hospital.

CASE IS A PATHETIC ONE

Father Asks Children's Aid to Take Charge of His Little Ones — Matter Considered at Meeting on Monday.

Family troubles engaged the attention of the members of the Children's Aid Society, at a meeting held Monday afternoon, one case being peculiarly pathetic.

A young man, industrious and hard-working, asked the society to take charge of one of his children, a twin, the other having died. It appeared that the mother, after leaving the hospital, where the twins were born, began keeping company with another man, neglecting her children.

They were in such a condition that her husband asked the Children's Aid Society to take charge of them. Inspector Sanders found them in a filthy condition and ill. He had them removed to the hospital, where one of the twins, the baby girl, died on Sunday last. The other is recovering and will be taken care of by the society as soon as it is strong enough.

It was a sad case of neglect, so far as the children were concerned, and it is possible that proceedings will be taken against her.

Girl Spirited Away.

He reported the case of Eulah Schuler, the daughter of the Indian woman lived not long ago for keeping a disorderly house. A summons was issued for the girl, but she was spirited away, having gone to the Ontario reserve in New York State. Inspector Sanders is making an effort to locate her.

The child belonging to Mrs. Miller, of Toronto, whose nose was badly bitten by a rat in a house on York street not long ago, is making rapid progress in Victoria Hospital, and will soon be well again. The society will take charge of it.

Three children were taken from drunken parents during the month, and placed in the institution. The mother is making efforts to reform, and if successful the children will be returned to her.

Eleven Children in Home.

At present time there are eleven children in the home, all but one being under eight years of age. During the month nine were placed in foster-homes.

Present at the meeting were: Sheriff Cameron, president; Ald. Ashpall, J. L. Hunt, G. Chadwick, Mrs. F. R. Hardy, Miss Eileen, Mrs. J. W. Laidlaw, Mrs. F. Harper, Mrs. D. Regan, Miss Mitchell and Secretary Joseph Sanders.

Montreal, May 14.—A sensation has been caused in provincial political circles here by a sermon delivered by Cure Dulangeur, in the Church of St. Louis de France Sunday morning. The Cure said he wanted to urge his parishioners not to vote for men who would destroy their educational system, and men who wanted to crush the church and the clergy.

The Cure concluded: "I appeal to you Catholics to vote and not to leave them to God."

This is taken by the supporters of Godfrid Langiers to be a direction to voters to cast their ballots against the candidates, as his chief platform is a different and better school system for the province, the present system being largely in the hands of the ecclesiastical authorities, both Catholic and Protestant.

Toronto, May 13. — Charles Gibson, who was pointed out as the probable perpetrator of the murder of Joseph Rosenthal, junk dealer, by the jury which investigated the death of Rosenthal, will not be tried on the charge of murder laid against him until the fall assizes. He was to have been tried at the present sitting on the true bill returned against him by the grand jury, but Mr. Justice Middleton decided yesterday to grant the request of his counsel, Audrey Bond, and send the case over until the next sitting to give an opportunity of producing two men he alleges he took to the Strachan avenue bridge on the night of Good Friday and left there with Dunkelman and Rosenthal.

"Complexion Secrets Of An Actress"

In a recently issued volume bearing the above title, the author says: "Continuous use of grease paints, rouge and the like, had ruined my complexion. My skin was colorless, wrinkled, flabby, coarse, and punctured with large pores. In England I heard of the virtues of mercurized wax, my first experience with this marvellous substance convinced me it was more valuable than all cosmetics combined. Now whenever my complexion begins to go wrong I get an ounce of mercurized wax at the nearest drug store, spread on a thin layer of it before retiring, washing it off next morning. The wax, after a few such treatments, seems literally to absorb the worn-out cuticle, when a brighter, healthier, younger-looking skin appears."

"For the enlarged pores, wrinkles and flabbiness I began using a solution of exfolite, one ounce, dissolved in a half pint with hazel. Bathing the face in this soon relieved the condition most wonderfully."

SAYS "TYING" CLAUSE IS BEST FOR ALL

Montreal, May 14. — A complete exposition of the ideas and practices of the United Shoe Machinery Company was given yesterday at the investigation by W. P. Winslow, president of the company which controls the business.
He gave a history of the formation of the company, together with the methods by which it did business, holding that by improving machinery and methods they would improve the product, and therefore increase consumption, the manufacturer and the company.

As to the leasing or "tying" system, Mr. Winslow argued that it united the interests of the manufacturers of shoes to those of the manufacturers of the machinery. It insured a continuity of work, and allowed the company making the machines to see that they were kept to a high standard of efficiency. The "tying" clause, he contended, was necessary in order to insure that the shoe manufacturers who took their machinery would use it in such a manner as to make it pay.

Mr. Winslow said that 100 out of 125 shoe manufacturers in Canada had taken the company's machinery because they could get more for their money. He declared that without the "tying" clause, he declared, the company would have to charge more

VICTORIA HOSPITALAPPEALS FOR HELP

Additional Quarters Are To Be Provided for Malignant Diseases.

The board of trustees of Victoria Hospital are sending out an appeal for funds for the purpose of building a three-story addition to the present building. These additional quarters will be used for the accommodation of patients suffering from malignant diseases. It is also the intention of the board to erect a third story on the present two-story building for the purpose of accommodating patients suffering from tuberculosis. The present accommodation for such patients is so crowded that it has been found necessary to build a new ward. The new buildings will be equipped with the latest improved hospital equipment, and the patients will have every advantage.

TOOK AGED MOTHERS TO CHURCH IN AUTOS

Novel Plan of Baptist Congregation To Help Mothers' Day Celebration.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Strathroy, May 13.—Mothers' Day was celebrated in the Baptist church yesterday. Rev. Mr. McLaughlin preached the symbolic sermon, taking for his subject, "The Ideal Home." The choir, under the leadership of Mrs. J. H. Rapley, rendered special music. It was arranged that an automobile bring to the church and take home after the service all the aged mothers, especially those who resided some distance away. This was a novel scheme, and the ride was much enjoyed by the mothers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cain, of Longwoods, spent the week-end at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. J. H. Rapley.

Miss O'Connor, of Carleton Place, has been visiting at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Carleton street.

THORNDALE MEETING

Members of Excelsior Bible Class
Spent Very Pleasant Time.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Thorndale, May 14. — The Excelsior Bible class of the Methodist Sunday school held its social evening at the residence of Dr. McFadden. A splendid programme was furnished, the feature of which was an address by Miss Molland on her trip to the old land, which was very ably given and much appreciated by all. The musical part of the programme, which was much enjoyed, consisted of selections by the orchestra, consisting of Messrs. Bailey, Houston and Salter, and by Misses Buckle and Williamson, solos by Misses Brown and Williamson.

Short addresses were given by Dr.
Wilson and Mr. Wood. After the programme, lunch was served, and a social time was spent. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Dr. McFadden for the use of his residence, to which he made a very suitable reply.

Miss Thompson, of Thompson's, is spending a week with friends here.

Mrs. Walker and her daughter Merl have returned for a few weeks.

Miss Williamson, of London, spent the week-end with Mrs. J. W. Evans.

PRESENT CITY'S SIDE OF THE ARGUMENT

Ald. Richter Is Ready To Do
So Regarding Street
Lighting.

NO DEFINITE WORD YET

Hydro-Electric Commission Have Set
No Date For the Hearing of Dispute in London.

The water commissioners have received no word from the hydro-electric commission relative to the difference between the city council and the commission regarding street lighting rates.

It will be remembered that the cost of street lighting should not be more than $25,000 a year, including all expenses for ornamental lighting, and the location of lights elsewhere.
The water commissioners on their behalf said the price should be $30,000.
As there was no possibility of the two bodies getting together, it was decided by the commissioners to make an appeal to the hydro-electric commission in Toronto. That was done, but no word has been received as yet, as to the date of the sittings.

No positive information has been received as to whether or not Ald.
Richter would be allowed to present the city's side of the dispute, but in some quarters it is thought likely that he will be allowed to give his views of the question.

What the Act Says.
"The act under which the hydroelectric commission acts states distinctly that the rates charged by every municipality shall be submitted to the hydro-electric commission for ratification," explained General Manager Glaubitz. "We have done that in the case of the dispute over the street lighting contract here. We expect an answer from the hydro commission in a short time, and we will announce the decision to the city council."

"Will Ald. Richter, or any other person, be allowed to appear on behalf of the city of London, and explain the city's side of the question?" he was asked.

"I cannot speak officially, but I see no reason why that request should be refused," answered Mr. Glaubitz. "As I understand it, the commission want to act fairly with all. As the city is paying the bill, I presume the representatives of the municipality will have to be convinced that the charges are right and proper."

Ald. Richter is Ready.

Ald. Richter, in explanation, points out that he would like to be given the privilege of presenting the city's side of the question, and obtaining information as to the method of arriving at the rate charged the city for street
lighting.

"We have gone over the whole question carefully, and have come to the conclusion that our offer for street lighting is a fair one," he said. "If it is not so we want to be convinced of that fact. We should be allowed to present what we consider the way to arrive at proper conclusions as to the cost of furnishing us with power."

THE SAUNBY DAM WILL BE REMOVED

The Saunby dam will be removed. At a recent meeting of the board of works of the Graham Institution, the deputation from West London that it would be taken away. At a conference with Sir George Gibbons on Monday evening, it was learned that Sir George did not wish the residents of West London wanted to do with it. If they so desired, they could have it removed at any time. It is understood that a portion of the $800 set aside for improving the freshwater will be expended on this work.

LONDON REAL ESTATE IS MOVING ALMOST A BOOM IS REPORTED

Demand in East and North Is Very Great—It Is Thought That May Will Equal, If Not Beat, the Record of the Month of April.

Real estate has been moving at a lively rate in London during the past few months, in fact, the movement more closely resembles a boom than anything that has happened along that line in recent years.

In the business district a large number of places have changed hands.

The purchases of the Jeffery estate on Richmond street by Chas. H. Ward, the Baker property on Dundas street
by J. H. Chapman & Co., the Pardon property on Dundas street by Sir George Gibbons, the Chisholm property by Thorne Bros., the Davis estate by Nicholas Hrisikos, the Gibbons property on York street by T. S. Hobbs, 225-227 Dundas street from James Fallake by J. Bernstein, and others, are a few of the big transfers made downtown. In addition residential property has been changing hands at a lively rate, and many very fine places have been disposed of. The prices realized have been high, and there is a constant demand for good locations.

A Lively Movement.
In the East End there is a lively movement, with high prices prevailing.
On Dundas street, opposite the Western Fair grounds, land sold for $43 a foot, a record for that district. The other day Mr. Sim Walsh disposed of one hundred feet east of Charlotte street at $33 a foot. In other sections of the East End there is a lively movement, with the result that values are rising very rapidly of late.

In the suburbs, the same activity is noticed. The prospect of a street railway service in the north end has given stimulus to speculation there, and the demand for building sites is strong.
The Cox farm, near Knollwood Park, has been bonded for $15,000, and it is understood that it will be broken up into building lots.

"There is a great demand for property," a real estate man informed The Advertiser. "The transfers for April reached the high-water mark in London's history
