

WONDERFUL FIGURING OF MESSRS. GABEY AND STORER GLARING ERRORS EXPOSED

Admit It Would Cost Sixteen Cents a Ton to Carry Coal and Yet Estimate a Profit of $60,000 at That Rate
—The Experts Are in a Corner.

Appended are extracts from the Gabey-Storer report, giving two separate estimates of the annual expenditure and receipts of an electrified London and Port Stanley Railway—the first with coal traffic, the second without it:

Estimate No. 1.
Operation and maintenance of road $130,000
Interest and sinking fund 56,106
Rental to city of London 20,000

Revenue from operation $206,106

Or excess earnings over operating expense $56,394

Estimate No. 2.
This estimate covers the same equipment as used in Estimate No. 1, but the earnings from the haul of coal and steel have been omitted:
Operation and maintenance of road $130,000
Interest and sinking fund 56,106
Rental to city of London 20,000

Total operating expenses, $206,106
Earnings from passenger and freight other than coal 201,500

Giving an excess operating expenditure over earnings of $4,606

It will be noticed that with the coal traffic the estimated profit is $56,394, and without it there is a deficit of $4,606. It will be noticed also that the operating expenses are $130,000 with or without coal, so that the receipts from coal are calculated as pure profit.

The Electricians Cornered.
At the board of trade committee meeting, Mr. George Gibson addressed the board on the subject of the electrification of the London and Port Stanley Railway, and the replies utterly discredited this estimate.

"The city will receive 16 cents a ton for hauling coal," said Sir George Gibson. "What will it cost to handle the coal?"

"About 16 cents," answered Mr. Storer.

"Well, here you are estimating the receipts from coal at $60,000," said Sir George. "That means that it will cost you almost that amount to handle it, say $50,000 for that matter. I look in the table showing the cost of operating the line and find it estimated at $130,000. Now I go further into your report, and see that without hauling a ton of coal, the operating expenses are still $130,000. How do you make that out? That is peculiar financing, to say the least. You cut off the coal which cost you $50,000 or $60,000 to handle, and your operating expenses are still $130,000. That is a monstrous thing to say. I have always contended that we do not know the first thing about this proposition."

Mr. Storer made a feeble effort to explain the queer report, and Mr. Gibson rushed to his rescue, saying that it was necessary to keep the motormen, the locomotives, etc. to handle the business. The operating expenses were about the same in each case.

"Glaring Errors."
"Why cannot you answer my question?" insisted Sir George Gibson. "You have gone all around it," said Sir George. "You have not answered my question."

"We will make a slight profit handling coal," continued Mr. Gabey.

"Where are the figures for that?" asked Sir George.

"We have not them with us," declared Mr. Gabey.

"How can you explain to me that the operating expenses are the same, whether or not coal is handled, when it costs about $50,000 or $60,000 to handle it?" persisted Sir George. "This is absurd. I did not want to enter into a controversy over this question, but this clearly shows that I have been well informed that the report is filled with glaring errors."

First Mother to Earn Maternity
Benefit Pays Compliment to Lloyd George.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Jan. 14.—For several days many babies born in England will bring their parents all sorts of valuable prizes in addition to the maternity benefits of the new national insurance act which took effect yesterday. The idea has so caught the public that many wealthy people are giving silver cups, porringers, spoons and medals to babies born in various districts under the new act.

The first mother to become entitled to the maternity benefit of 20s was Mrs. Amy Gooding, the wife of a Paddington painter, who gave birth to a girl one minute past midnight. She was christened Georgiana, as a compliment to Chancellor Lloyd George. Another insurance baby was christened Lloyd George Churchill.

The end was quite unexpected, as Mr. Jones had enjoyed good health up to a couple of days ago. He was 72 years of age, and resided near London, Ont., for a number of years prior to buying a farm in Salem district, where he successfully farmed for 19 years. He survived by his wife, one son and six daughters.

KNOX REPLIES TO THE BRITISH NOTE

Says Sir Edward Grey's Contentions in Regard to Canal
Toll Are Wrong.

FURTHER NEGOTIATIONS

Expected That Great Britain's Reply
Will Be a Rejection of Argument.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Jan. 14.—A dispatch from Washington to the New York World says: Secretary of State Knox will reply to Great Britain on the canal toll question in a few days.

The Secretary of State's argument in rebuttal—for that is what he has made it—to the note of protest made by Sir Edward Grey, Britain's minister for foreign affairs, against the granting of free passage through the Panama Canal to American ships engaged in coastwise trade, has been completed and is now being edited by Attorney-General Wickersham and Secretary of War Stimson. When the other lawyer members of the cabinet have passed on the legal phraseology the matter will be laid before the cabinet. It is expected the cabinet will discuss the answer tomorrow or on Friday's session.

Knox's Argument.
On Dec. 9, Secretary Knox received Britain's protest against what that country terms discrimination in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, commonly known as the canal treaty. Throughout his reply to Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of State Knox has confined himself to an argument that under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, the American Government has the right to exclude from the payment of tolls any of its ships which do not compete with those of Great Britain.

Secretary Knox follows out closely the argument used by President Taft in his memorandum when he signed the Panama Canal bill, around which the protest of England is built. He holds, as did the President, that article three of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty adopted by the United States for a specific purpose, i. e., as the basis of the neutralization of the canal. Secretary Knox's interpretation of the words: "The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing these rules, on terms of entire neutrality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation, or its citizens or subjects, in respect of conditions or charges or traffic, or otherwise in the passage through the canal," is that all nations will be treated alike and no discrimination made by the United States against any one of them observing the rules adopted by the United States. He makes a view contrary to that held by Sir Edward Grey.

May Ask Arbitration.
Secretary Knox denies that there is anything in the treaty which can be interpreted as meaning that the United States has surrendered its right to regulate its own commerce through the canal.

He contends that Great Britain is trying to read into the treaty the question whether the United States has surrendered the right to regulate its own shipping through the canal. Secretary Knox has answered the other objections raised by Great Britain, one of which was the expressed fear that if the protest against the granting of free passage through the canal to coastwise ships was not pressed, and insisted upon the subsidy granted to the coastwise trade, would in time be extended to all American shipping, and consequently come in direct conflict with British shipping.

Secretary Knox holds in his argument that the premises assumed by Great Britain are not sound. He states his argument by asking for the further exchange of notes on the question, and expressing the willingness of the administration to do everything to adjust the dispute.

He married in Toledo, and he and his family have resided there ever since."

DAVID CROMBIE PROMOTED TO BIG JOB ON THE GRAND TRUNK

His Brother, J. C. Crombie, of London, Goes to St. Thomas as Joint Superintendent of the Southern Division—Superintendent Gillen Is Given a Big Position in Chicago.

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, Jan. 14.—The first steps in an important scheme of reorganization affecting the whole transportation department of the G. T. R. were taken this morning with the appearance of two official circulars.

The first, signed by Howard G. Kelley, vice-president of the department and approved by the president, Mr. E. J. Chamberlin, announces the appointment, effective from date, of Mr. David Crombie as general superintendent of transportation. Mr. Crombie was formerly assistant to the vice-president. Other appointments are as follows: C. J. Bowker, of St. Thomas, joint superintendent of the southern division, to be superintendent of eastern lines, including Montreal division, Montreal terminals, Belleville divisions and Ottawa division.

H. E. Wittenberger, superintendent middle division, to be general superintendent of Ontario lines, including Toronto terminals, Hamilton division, and Stratford divisions—U. E. Gillen, superintendent eastern division, to be general superintendent western lines, including districts 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, and the Pontiac, Oxford and Northern Railway.

The second circular is issued by Mr. Crombie in his new capacity, and is approved by Howard G. Kelley, vice-president. It abolishes the office of superintendent of car services and replaces it with the appointment of W. F. Farrell, formerly superintendent of freight services, also of Fred Price, formerly superintendent of car service as superintendent of passenger service.

Mr. Crombie, who is thus placed next to the vice-president in charge of the transportation department, was born at Hamilton, Ont., in 1864, and is, therefore, another of those young Canadian railway men who are coming to the front on the great transportation systems of the Dominion.

The important changes among the leading officials of the Grand Trunk in Ontario and in London and vicinity particularly, were the subject of much comment at the local depot this morning, and bulletins on the subject mentioned in the above dispatch will be forthcoming from the head offices in Montreal within a few days.

Mr. David Crombie, who now stands next to the president of the railway, is a former Londoner, leaving the city when promoted some years ago.

Mr. E. J. Gillen, who is now superintendent of the eastern division, with headquarters at Montreal, is thus promoted to a newly-created position of wider scope, with jurisdiction over the company's western lines. His office in that position will be at Chicago.

Mr. Gillen came to London from Montreal on Express No. 1 at noon today, and left on No. 23 for Windsor. He occupied his private car, No. 2901. During his brief stay here he was seen by Assistant Superintendent W. K. Davidson of this city. Mr. J. C. Crombie, master of transportation, and other officials.

Mr. Gillen was only removed to Montreal a few months ago. He was formerly in charge of the middle division, with headquarters at Toronto, but exchanged divisions with Mr. H. E. Wittenberger. Mr. Gillen will be succeeded at Montreal by Mr. C. J. Bowker, formerly of this city. Mr. J. C. Crombie, master of transportation, and one of the most popular officials on the road, who is a brother of David Crombie, is scheduled to take Mr. Bowker's position, and Trainmaster Wilson, of Stratford, will be sent to London to take charge of the transportation department.

It is possible that no person will be named to succeed Mr. Wittenberger at Stratford for the time being, and that Trainmaster Charles Forrester, who was removed from London to that city a couple of years ago, will be placed in absolute charge.

larger than was the case under the old system, and a more accurate expression of public opinion would follow," said Mr. Baker. "I have found that these hopes have not been realized. At the election in 1912, about 41 per cent voted. I have not been able to make a definite count this year as yet, but from the indications, the percentage will be even less than in 1912. There has been a pronounced falling off in the number of votes cast since the new system was inaugurated, and the end is not in sight unless a change is made. In my opinion, the old dates were much better. Voting on the holiday is not good. It spoils the day, and many people refuse to leave their homes at this time of the year to vote."

From a conversation with a number of the aldermen, it is thought that the change will be recommended by the council, and petitioned for in the London bill.

CHANGE IN ELECTION DATE HAS NOT RESULTED IN GOOD Hopes of a Bigger Vote in Lon- don Have Not Been Realized.

City Clerk Baker is not enamored of municipal elections on New Year's Day, and has communicated to the city council, asking that the date be changed to the first Monday in January, the same as all other municipalities in the province, with the exception of Toronto and London. His reasons for so doing are that the change has not resulted in good.

"When the change was advocated, it was thought that the change would bring a holiday, with all the commercial travelers at home, the vote would be much larger than was the case under the old system, and a more accurate expression of public opinion would follow," said Mr. Baker. "I have found that these hopes have not been realized. At the election in 1912, about 41 per cent voted. I have not been able to make a definite count this year as yet, but from the indications, the percentage will be even less than in 1912. MACDONALD BY-ELECTION RAISES ROW IN LEGISLATURE

Government Front Benchers
Interrupt the Opposition Leader.

[Canadian Press.]
Winnipeg, Jan. 14.—The first session of the Manitoba Legislature after a peaceful opening last evening developed considerable excitement when the occurrence of the Macdonald election was mentioned. It soon became evident that further discussion on the subject will be initiated. T. S. Norris, leader of the Opposition, brought the matter forward toward the close of his speech, and was subjected to continual interruption from the front bench members of the Government side of the House. Sir Rodman Roblin, in moving the adjournment, stated he would deal first with the cases in question this afternoon, declaring the whole accusation against the Government was but poison to prejudice the opinions of the people.

MIDDLESEX MEN WILL START A LIVE PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

It Is Expected That the County
Will Reap Much Good as a Result.

A meeting at which a publicity campaign for the County of Middlesex will be inaugurated is being held in the county council chambers this afternoon. Representatives from all the municipal bodies in the county, the agricultural societies and boards of trades in Middlesex, are present. The idea first originated with the agricultural societies, and spread to the boards of trade. At the meeting of the county council last December, a deputa-tion waited on the subject and asked the assistance of that body in the furtherance of the scheme. The council appointed a committee, and temporary officers were elected. The various offices will be filled this afternoon for the present year. Those who introduced the scheme claim that the county will reap much benefit from the campaign, and point to Lambton County as an illustration of their claims.

The wreck occurred a mile west of Burrill. Seven cars went into the ditch, one of the Pullmans turning completely over. A broken rail was the cause.

UNIONISTS FACE CALAMITY SAYS AUSTIN CHAMBERLAIN

Will Not Accept the Responsibility For Decision to Abandon Proposal to Place a Tax on Foods—Bonar Law Is Silent.

London, Jan. 13.—Austin Chamberlain announced at Birmingham tonight that he could not accept responsibility for the decision of the Unionists to abandon the proposal to impose taxes on food imported into the British Isles.

He could not "turn back," he said, on the cause he had championed, and while he would continue loyally to serve his leaders and his party, he feared that the decision that party had taken would prove calamitous.

It was expected that Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, would announce today whether he would accept the memorial addressed to him by the Unionists advocating the policy of abandoning the food taxes at the next general election, but he has been in further consultation with Lord Lansdowne and other leaders, and has as yet given no indication of his intention.

MOTHER FATALLY BURNED AND DAUGHTER MAY DIE

Aged Mrs. Foe Fell Backwards Going Upstairs and Knocked
Lamp Out of Her Daughter's Hands—Sad
Fatality at Strathroy.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Strathroy, Jan. 14.—Mrs. A. H. Foe is dead, and her daughter is in a very critical condition as a result of burns they sustained at their store on Front street late last evening, when Mrs. Foe while going upstairs stumbled and fell backwards on her daughter, who was carrying a lighted lamp.

The women conducted a confectionery shop, and had just closed up for the night. Miss Foe had locked up, and was following her mother upstairs when the accident happened. Mrs. Foe was 80 years old, and when talking a step up her foot slipped, and she fell backwards. The lamp was knocked from her daughter's hand and fell and broke on the stairway, and in an instant the blazing oil had caught the clothes of the women.

Miss Foe, held helpless for a few moments against the side of the stair by her mother's weight, finally freed herself, and then fought desperately to smother the flames, neglecting herself entirely.

Finally her screams attracted the attention of Mr. Fred Gould, who was passing, and he called help, and then broke in the door, and carried Mrs. Foe and her daughter out. The older woman was horribly burned, and died at 6 o'clock this morning. Miss Foe is suffering greatly, but has a good fighting chance.

The fire department soon had the fire in the house under control, and little harm was done. Dr. McCabe was sent for and did everything possible to relieve the intense pain of the victims.

The only relatives of Mrs. Foe reside in Hamilton. It is expected that her funeral will be held on Wednesday, Mr. Foe, husband of deceased, died several years ago.

IS RESTING WELL.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Strathroy, Jan. 14.—At noon today Miss Fanny Foe was resting quietly, and unless complications develop, the doctors hold out every hope for her recovery. Her most serious burns are about her hands, limbs and head.

BAD FIRES IN WEST

Portage La Prairie, Man., Jan. 13.—St. Cuthbert's Roman Catholic Church was destroyed by fire last night. The loss is $121,000.

Alban, Sask., Jan. 13.—A heavy loss by fire was sustained here when a bank, three general stores and a real estate office were completely destroyed by fire with a loss of $30,000.

CANADIAN UNIVERSITIES TO HAVE DRILL HALLS

Government to Provide in Estimates For Buildings at McGill and Toronto Universities.

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—It is expected that the estimates, when brought down, will be found to include appropriations for drill halls in connection with the University of Toronto and McGill University. The erection of these halls will enable the universities to embark seriously upon the work of the officers' training corps, in which the Minister of Militia is deeply interested.

Much has been done in Great Britain through the officers' training corps to prepare young men who are attending institutions of learning to become leaders of the community in military as well as in civil matters. Students at universities are regarded as men fitted by their intelligence, spirit, and social position, to become officers in the citizen forces of the country, and accordingly such of these as volunteers are given training with the special purpose of qualifying them as officers.

The movement has assumed large proportions in the mother country, and is expected to do well in Canadian universities as well as in Canada, such as drill halls and armories, are provided.

Both McGill and Toronto authorities have shown much interest in the proposals. Principal Peterson was in the city today with regard to the matter, and members of the board of governors of Toronto University have recently been in communication with the minister.

SUFFRAGETTES WRING CONCESSION FROM GOVT.

Ban Has Been Removed on Reception of Deputation in the Commons.

London, Jan. 13.—The British Government today reversed its ban placed on the reception of deputations of suffragettes, and agreed to welcome in the House of Commons today a body of working-women and the representatives of the Women's Social and Political Union next week.

Premier Asquith has deputed David Lloyd George to receive the women, and the chancellor of the exchequer probably will be accompanied by the secretary for foreign affairs, Sir Edward Grey.

Militant suffragettes claim that their threats of a revival of the riots in Parliament Square were responsible for the Government's change of heart.

JUDGMENT RESERVED.

Ottawa, Ont. Jan. 13.—The cabinet today reserved judgment on the C. P. R. appeal from the railway commission in the Toronto viaduct case. The railway asks that the board's order be reversed on the plea that the alternative plan of high level bridges is better suited to the purpose. The Toronto city council, board of trade and other bodies are present and raised strong objection to the appeal.

Stock Inventory Tomorrow

THE newspaper's mission is to keep its readers informed as to what the world is doing, and a newspaper is known and judged by the class of news it furnishes to its readers from day to day, which elevates or lowers the standard of the paper in the estimation of the public, just as the advertising of a store is the mirror which reflects its character or standard. In this space each day we endeavor to give in concise form a simple statement of what is going on at this store, the events for the day, week or month as the case may be, of which exaggeration in the least degree is not permitted.

Umbrella Sale Today, 95c

MEN'S AND WOMEN'S.

THIS is one of the best sales of Umbrellas we have put on for many months, indeed we doubt if ever such values were offered anywhere. A manufacturer's job—odds and ends of coverings left after the season's make up, mounted on paragon frames, and a fine assortment of handles. About 35 dozen sold to us at a very low figure for such qualities. The tops on some of the umbrellas are the identical, same materials as will be found on umbrellas at from $3.50 to $5.00, but of course the handles are not so elaborate. If you want service, get a supply of these. Men's or women's (a few silk serges). Your choice 95c

LISTEN TO US

"We are only little ones, but we know: Zam-Buk eased our pain and cured our sores. Perhaps it would cure you, too, if you tried it?"

Isn't this sound advice from "babes and sucklings"? Take it! The speakers are the children of Mrs. L. Webster, of Seymour St., Montreal, and the mother adds weight to their appeal. She says: "My little girl contracted scalp disease at school. Bad gatherings formed all over her head, and not only caused the child acute pain but made her very ill. The sores discharged, and occurring on the scalp we feared she would lose all her hair. She was in a pitiable plight when we tried Zam-Buk, but a few days' treatment with this balm gave her ease. Then the sores began to heal, and we continued the Zam-Buk treatment. In a short time she was quite healed. "My little boy sustained a serious scald on the neck. It set up a bad sore, and quite a few things we tried failed to heal it or give him ease. Once more we turned to Zam-Buk, and we were not disappointed. It acted like a charm in drawing away the pain, and soon healed the wound."

Zam-Buk is "something different" in the way of balms. It contains powerful healing herbal essences, which, as soon as applied to skin diseases, kill off the germs and end the painful smarting. Other essences contained there so stimulate the cells that new healthy tissue is speedily formed. Eczema, itch, ulcers, cold sores, abscesses, festering sores, blood poisoning, chronic wounds, cold cracks, etc., are healed and cured in this way. Use it for all skin injuries and diseases. It is also of great service for piles. All druggists and stores at 50 cents box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

CAN'T FIND LEGACY

Bank Ledgerkeeper was Found Guilty of Stealing $35,000.

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, Jan. 13.—Henri Legace, the former ledgerkeeper of the Bank of Hochelaga, who was recently found guilty of stealing $35,000 from the bank by manipulating his books, is being diligently searched for by bailiffs but cannot be found. He was allowed out on bail while the appeal case was pending.

On Friday a city detective discovered $14,000 of the missing money, and a caveat was then issued for Legace, but so far the bailiffs have not been able to find the former ledgerkeeper to serve it on him.

As the case now stands, Legace is entitled to remain out on bail until the appeal is decided, and if it goes against him he must appear for sentence. With the $14,000 found, the money in the hands of the court practically squares the sum taken from the bank.

BOBSLEIGH HIT POLE

Three Injured in Accident at a Toronto Slide.

Toronto, Jan. 14.—Three people were injured, one of them seriously, when a bobsleigh crashed into a hydro-electric pole at the Riverdale slides last evening about 9 o'clock. The victims are: Miss Victoria Williams, aged 15, 52 McCaul street; Roy Hancock, aged 17, 42 McCaul street, and Miss Hilda Padgett, aged 22, 74 Markham street. The first two were taken to the General Hospital, while Miss Padgett was taken to her home. Miss Williams is suffering from a compound fracture of the right thigh, a number of bruises, and probably internal injuries. Her condition is very serious. Miss Padgett is bruised about the body, and suffering greatly from shock, but the doctors could not tell her exact condition last night. Hancock had his ankle injured, but his condition gives no cause for alarm.

A Physical Wreck

Suffered Tortures from Nervousness, Miss Marguerite Lees, 81 Robert St., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was a wreck, reduced in body, and despondent. I suffered tortures from nervousness, and was totally unfit for work. A friend recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I commenced taking it and by the time the second bottle was consumed I knew that I was mending. Gradually I grew well. I have used Hood's since. I would not be without it on any account, and do most enthusiastically endorse every word in its favor."

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Guthrie Church was represented by the moderator of the session, the Rev. Wm. Cooper, of Mount Forest, and James M. McKay. The Lonsdore congregation was represented by Messrs. Campbell, Watt and Hunter, who urged Mr. Pearcey to stay with them.

BADLY BATTERED

Italian Was Pounded Over the Head With Big Club.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Guelph, Jan. 13.—The local police are trying to solve another fracas among foreigners. Primo Pavero, an Italian, is today confined to his bed, and Joseph Damiano, who accompanied him, is also nursing some bruises, as the result of a row which occurred last night at the corner of Waterloo avenue and Edinburgh road. The first named is pretty badly battered up, and claims that he was pounded with a big wooden club over the head as he was walking along the street as peaceful as any citizen. He was knocked unconscious, but was picked up and carried home by Damiano, who also received some bruises while helping his friend.

ROSTRON'S PERIL

Captain Who Rescued Titanic Survivors Near Death on Caronia.

New York, N. Y., Jan. 13.—Captain Arthur S. Rostron, of the Cunarder Carpathia, who brought to port the survivors of the Titanic disaster last April, narrowly escaped serious injury aboard the Caronia last Thursday, according to officers of the vessel, which reached here today. Captain Rostron, now in command of the Caronia, was on the bridge, when he heard a crash. Looking aft he saw a long-boat bearing directly at him on the crest of a giant wave. He ducked, and was drenched, but the boat passed over his head and was splintered on the deck. Captain Rostron said the Caronia's trip across the Atlantic was the most stormy and perilous in his career.

THIS DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

JANUARY FOURTEENTH.

When Mackenzie escaped to the United States after his ill-advised attempt to capture Toronto, he received a cordial welcome from numerous American sympathizers. Encouraged by liberal promises of assistance, he returned on Dec. 13, 1837, to British territory, landing on Navy Island in the Niagara River just above the falls. With him went Rensselaer van Rensselaer, grandson of a general who figured in the war of 1812; and twenty-four volunteers for the invasion of Canada. Immediately a provisional government was organized with Mackenzie as president. He at once issued a proclamation, stating the objects aimed at, offering a reward of $500 for the capture of the lieutenant-governor, and promising 300 acres of public lands to every volunteer. Ultimately over 500 volunteers gathered on Navy Island. A few hours before the destruction of the Caroline, Mrs. Mackenzie joined her husband, to stay for nearly a fortnight, till illness obliged her to leave. Her husband, taking her to Buffalo, was arrested by the United States marshal for breach of the neutrality laws, but on giving bail was allowed to return to his stronghold. Soon, however, heavy guns were sent up from the St. Lawrence, and on Jan. 14, 1838, the rebels finally evacuated Navy Island, and Mackenzie's brief term as "president" came to its conclusion.

The Birthday Calendar

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Written statements will annoy you and thoughtless acquaintances will write unkind trivialities. Avoid reading letters while eating. Your health needs better care.
Those born today will naturally be restless and insincere, and if untalented, their lives will be the shallowest with unavailing regret in later years. They have power for philosophical thought, which can be awakened by those who understand.

It's Strength That Counts.
If you are buying a watch you would look for excellence, not size or weight. It is the same with yeast cakes. White Swan Yeast cakes contain more "virtue" than any other, no matter what the size. Send for free sample. White Swan Spices & Cereal Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Skirt
of Heavy,
Mannish
Worsted
With Waist of Dark Red
Chiffon

This is the kind of a dress that the girl who used to wear shirt waists is now wearing and very natty it is.

The skirt is of heavy, mannish worsted—a kind of gray mixture. It is cut peculiarly in a way that draws around the figure at the feet. At one side there is a pleat or tuck running down the entire length of the skirt from hip to foot. From the hip to foot, at the other side there is a gored panel put on with large buttons. The waist is of dark red chiffon cloth over heavy white lace. Across the back there is a dark blue velvet dola fastened at the shoulders with tiny buttons to match those on the skirt, and there is a little piping of the same velvet each side of the lace under sleeves that show beneath the chiffon. One original thing about this costume is that the fronts of the kimono waist are cut long enough to tie in a little bow at the top of the high waisted skirt in front, at one side at which is placed one of those little bunches of English field flowers that are omnipresent just now.

The hat worn with this costume is of dark blue velvet with long gray French feathers.

CHIT-CHAT OF THE HOUR

In view of the fact that the Mothers' Clubs of London are thinking seriously at the present time about the benefits of a curfew bell to call the children home, it is interesting to note the origin of the "couvre-feu" to give the bell its French title.

Some historians tell us that William the Conqueror introduced the bell into England, but this is wrong, for the "couvre-feu" bell was rung in certain places in Britain as far back as the time of King Alfred. William the Conqueror did, however, pass a law to the effect that all fires had to be "covered" and lights out by eight o'clock. This was not only an excellent precaution against the old-time chimney-fires, but it was also a preventive against the hatching of political conspiracies in the Saxon beer halls.

At the present time, in practically every part of England "the curfew tolls the knell of parting day." Eight o'clock is the almost universal hour at which the bell is tolled, and in some places there is also a morning curfew.

We may thank the Pilgrim Fathers and the Puritans for bringing the curfew to New England, from whence the custom has spread to many parts of the continent, and is rung today in thousands of towns and villages.

A gem of science that reaches us from Morocco tells us how wives may compel their husbands to retrace the footsteps that even in the home of the brave will sometimes wander from the straight and narrow path of conjugal felicity. As soon as the wife has received the Pinkerton report that tells the old, old story of who he was with last night, let her draw a straight line in pure honey down from the middle of her forehead to her chin and collect the drippings in a spoon. Let her then rub the tip of her tongue with a finger till it bleeds and soak seven grains of salt in the blood. Mix it all up together with the honey, add some more salt which has been carried for a day and a night in a tiny incision in the skin between her eyebrows. To this must be added a pinch of earth from the print of her bare right foot on the ground, and the whole dose should then be put into the erring husband's breakfast food when he isn't looking. The women of Morocco say that this charm never fails, and they ought to know.

"It's almost too much for human nature to bear," said a queer little voice at "What?" "What?" I gasped, looking hastily around the ready-to-wear department of a local store, where I was seated waiting for a friend. No one was in sight, however, and before I could say anything, but look my amazement, another voice chimed in. "What's the trouble, Blondy?"

"Trouble? Why that horrid window-dresser man has had me in the front window for a whole week dressed in lingerie nightie. It's a wonder I didn't catch my death of cold."

"That's too bad," came like an echo from several voices.

"I was there too," piped up a third voice. "I didn't mind the cold so much, but I was terribly embarrassing having to stand in a lace petticoat and underwaist and be gazed at by the public. Thank goodness though they were the real French make, and none of your 30-cent ones."

"Just think of us being shut up in a window," murmured the one who had spoken first, "while the rest of the crowd were up here wearing $50 tailored suits and grand evening dresses and being admired all around."

There's two sides to that, though. It's not so pleasant to have everybody gazing your gown and criticizing it. My silk dress was almost ruined by people handling the trimming on it."

"Talking of admiration," came from another corner, "we get that in the window. Why the last time I appeared before the public there was the loveliest man over in the clothing store window across the street, and he made eyes at me for a whole week."

"Tut-tut, child. He was only a wax man, and doubtless a gay deceiver like all the rest. My objection to going in the window is that it has practically ruined my complexion. I was placed too near the light once, and my color ran dreadfully."

At this point in the strange conversation I saw my friend approaching and hastened to join her. "Sorry I kept you waiting," was her greeting. "Oh, I haven't found the time long." I replied, looking around at the group of statue ladies to whose troubles I had been listening. Very sedate and proper they all looked, each one smiling away to herself, as if it was a huge joke to puzzle a real human being occasionally. "Good-bye," I whispered, and if Blondie didn't give me a friendly nod and a bit of a shy wink—well, my eyes must have played a trick.

But it was the first time I knew that waxen ladies could talk, and if their grievances continue, no doubt they'll be after "women's rights" next. Dear me!

Special Recipes.

Bacon Crisp.—Slice bacon and fry until about half done; remove from pan, dip into batter of beaten egg, replace in frying pan and fry until brown. Serve hot.

Codfish Balls.—Soak codfish for about an hour in lukewarm water; remove skin and bones, pick to pieces and return to stove in cold water. As soon as it begins to boil, change the water and bring to a boil again. Have ready potatoes boiled tender well mashed and seasoned with butter. Mix thoroughly with the potatoes half the quantity of codfish while both are still hot. Form into flat, thick cakes or round balls and fry in deep fat. The addition of a beaten egg before making into balls renders them lighter. Cold potatoes may be used by reheating, adding a little cream and butter and mixing while hot.

Problems of the Fair Sex Solved by Cynthia Grey

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received. No letters can be answered privately.]

Little Lulu?

Dear Miss Grey:—Would you kindly tell me what the calendar for the 11th of October and the 30th of March is if it is not too much trouble for you?

A.—"You will have trouble and annoyance, but a wide awake mind and a calm judgment will bring you through victorious."

"Consider others rather than your self, and endeavor to understand things right. Those born today will be rash and impulsive, and inclined to throw away opportunities that do not promise large results immediately. They can do better by patience and steadfastness."

This is the calendar for Oct. 11. I haven't the one for March 30. You will have to wait until it comes around.

Don't Mention It.

Dear Miss Grey: Will you kindly publish birthday calendars for December 19 and May 19. Thanking you in advance, JACK.

A.—(Dec. 19). "Do not travel or waste time in frivolous pleasures. Attend to things which will be of real benefit to you. In these you will succeed and you will make valuable friends."

Those born today will be fortunate and well thought of by their associates. They will reach the highest attainments if under the direction of others, and relieved of the responsibility of details."

(May 19). "Be careful what you write or say, and do not fail to appreciate the kindness of friends. Some good fortune awaits you if you preserve your health in mind and body."

Those born today will be intelligent and quick in details of a situation and to act upon them, but will have a trying disposition."

More Charades.

Dear Miss Grey: Please print some charades in your column, and how to act them out, and oblige, MRS. C. C. C.

A.—I think I have covered the subject fairly in my answer to School-girl. I feel sure that ways of acting the simple words given there will readily suggest themselves to you.

Some Parlor Games.

Dear Miss Grey: Will you please answer the following question, and oblige?

1. How to clean a white woolen cap without shrinking it in shoes that have been blackened once?

2. How to clean tan shoes that have been blackened once?

3. Will you be so kind as to give me the names of a few nice parlor games?

What is good for the teeth to make them nice and white?

Hoping to see the answers in print soon. A SCHOOL-GIRL.

A.—1. In one pallid of hot water dissolve a piece of castile soap and two tablespoons powdered borax. Dip the cap in and rub up and down between the hands; press out the soapy water without twisting or wringing; rinse twice in clean water, and wrap in soft cloth or cloth until the cap is no longer wet; then dry in a current of warm air, pulling frequently with the hands during the drying process.

2. Continue to keep them black, I suppose. It would be impossible to color them tan again.

3. Charades are always amusing for a party of young folks and help to sharpen the wits as well. Perhaps you have played these before, but for the benefit of any readers who have not, I might say that to act charades, the company divide into two sections, one to act a word, the others to guess it.

A word which may be divided into two or three syllables each to be acted separately, and then the whole word at once, is best. Suggested words are womanhood (woe man-hood), wheelbarrow, mind-reader, mis-understand, misapprehension.

Several stunts can be done with anagram letters. You may purchase a game at a fancy goods store and play it according to directions, but if you tire of that, divide up all the letters equally among two or three players, or groups of players. The object of the players at one table is to form as many names of flowers from their letters as possible; the next group gets names of as many birds, and another of animals or streets of the city, or names of people, or any other series of names that occur to you.

An adjective story is also fun for young folk. One player, who is quick with his pen, writes a short story, preferably having a local tone, or being about the guests present. This may be prepared beforehand if desired. Where an adjective can possibly be used the writer leaves a blank. When the company is ready he calls upon each in turn for adjectives which he writes into his story as they supply them at random. When complete, the story is read aloud and invariably creates many laughs.

4. Use a little peroxide of hydrogen in the water once or twice a week.

The Tie Question.

Dear Miss Grey: Could I trouble you with some more questions? You answered some once before for me and I wish to thank you very much.

1. When asked by a young married couple to come and see them any evening I care to, is it proper to leave a card the first time?

2. Should a light or dark tie be worn at a dinner, a dance, church, when paying a visit in query?

3. Is it proper to precede a lady when getting off a street car, whether she requires your assistance or not? Also when going down an aisle when there is an usher? Does the lady precede going up an aisle towards the door?

A.—1. I hardly think it is considered necessary.

2. A very formal dinner or dance, where a dress suit is worn, a white bow tie is the correct thing; for an informal affair, a black or black-and-white silk tie; for church, a pearl gray four-in-hand; and for an evening call, a four-in-hand or once-over in quiet colors would be suitable.

3. The gentleman should alight first. In passing down an aisle the usher leads the way, followed by the lady, and last of all my her escort. In leaving a building, if the aisle is not too crowded, they walk together, and when the door is reached the gentleman steps to one side to allow the lady to precede him.

HOUSEHOLD TIPS

FLOUR CLEANS.

A little flour well rubbed into the bristles of hair brushes is an excellent cleansing medium, the brush afterwards being well rubbed and shaken over a piece of clean white paper placed over the edge of a table or rail.

PICTURE GLASS.

Don't wash picture glass. To remove spots rub them with a damp cloth wrung out in water to which a little ammonia has been added. Take special care that no water runs under the frame and so on to the picture.

PRESERVE LEMON.

Stand a lemon on a flat surface. Turn a tumbler over it, and it will keep for weeks provided the tumbler is not removed.

OATMEAL BEAUTIFIES.

Keep a dish of oatmeal on the toilet stand and rub it freely on the hands after each washing. This dries and softens the skin, preventing it from becoming red and rough when exposed to the air.

BOOK STAINS.

To remove ink stains from books, take a quantity of oxalic acid, diluted with water, applied with a camel hair pencil and absorbed with blotting paper; two applications will remove all traces of the ink.

TO DUST PLANTS.

To remove the dust from rubber plants and palms, and to give a gloss to the leaves, wipe each leaf with a cloth dipped in milk. Pour the remaining milk around the pots of the plant to nourish it.

HAIR BRUSH.

After pouring hot water through the bristles, let the brush stand in basin in water and teaspoonful of ammonia for twenty minutes. Rinse and place in sun to dry.

ROUTING UNDERWEAR.

Entire sets of cotton underwear are most useful for the camping or vacation outing. They save ironing.

NEW STYLES FOR NECKWEAR.

It is hard to decide whether the majority of women prefer the long stoles of fur or the neat little ties and tiny collarettes fastening tightly around the neck. The snugness of these little ties makes them delightfully comfortable on a cold day. They can be fashioned from a scrap of fur. Many women have made most attractive ones from a felt that had already done duty as a necktie.

It is not a difficult feat to remodel fur if one remembers that it should always be cut on the under skin with a sharp penknife or points of the scissors, and the edges lightly overcast together. Just a strip of fur is often sufficient for a tie when it is combined with silk or velvet. Mole-skin, ermine, mink, lynx, skunk, caracul and seal are all used in this way with great success.

FASCINATION OF THE EMERALD

The emerald is the gem of the season so far as colored stones are concerned. There are all sorts of things in their favor. For one thing, they are supposed to have some influence in insuring for the wearer a happy life. The tradition is that they will be a guarantee of the fidelity of the wife, and as their possession is a pretty good sign of the wealth of the husband, and the emerald is a happy possession are sure to be present—faithfulness on the part of the wife and a luxurious and care free existence furnished by the husband. So you see in this instance all signs work together for good.

Serpent of the Nile.
Away back in Cleopatra's day women wore emeralds. At least the queen of beauty of that era was reputed to have enhanced her charms by the velvety green gleams of these gorgeous stones. Historians suppose that as long ago as 1550 B. C. there were emeralds found in upper Egypt. There were emerald mines in the Sierrita de Parí for these gems by the Greek miners of the time of Alexander the Great, and there are today in Egypt mines called by the name of Cleopatra which are believed to be the same as those from which the gorgeous Serpent of the Nile acquired her green treasures.

Whereabouts a Mystery.
In South America the Spaniards received magnificent gifts of emeralds from the Peruvians whom they found there as the original masters of the soil. But the place from which the early Peruvians gathered these magnificent gifts which they made to their conquerors has never been discovered by modern seekers for the gems, and the mystery or whereabouts of the emerald mines has given rise to many of those romantic quests which men in all ages make for lost and hidden treasures. Today in South America the only place from which emeralds are obtained is near Bogotá, the capital of Colombia.

Its Peculiar Light.
"Interesting," said the gem expert, "is the word that most persons apply to an emerald. There is only one other jewel which shares this quality, and that is the opal, which at its best has also green gleams, although, of course, they are entirely different from those of an emerald. I suppose the reason that makes an emerald 'interesting' aside from its beauty and value is the same that makes the woman with green eyes the most interesting of her sex. It's a light that never was on land or sea! It's a brilliant gleam that gives the accent to any sort of costume and any sort of complexion. It isn't like a sad green or a so-called

FASCINATION OF THE EMERALD

"Artistic green," subtle and gloomy. The emerald is the soul of life, light and beauty. Emeralds seem never to go quite out of fashion, as, for instance, rubies have during the last few years. The emerald is a very popular stone, and because of its price might be said to be even more popular than the emerald, but only because of that. Women yearn for emeralds next after they yearn for pearls and often before they yearn for diamonds.

Universally Becoming.
The emerald has the advantage of being one of the most becoming gems. Light-haired beauties claim it for their own, for they declare that nothing else, not even the sapphire, accentuates their delicate fairness so effectively. Brunettes and auburns, in emeralds, especially the brunette with brilliant coloring; strangely enough, blue eyes instead of being put out by the jewel, their loveliness dimmed and partly nullified, gather fire and depth from its close neighborhood. They take on a delectable green blue gleam and seem much larger than when the emeralds are not near. As for the auburn haired beauty, it is her stone par excellence—it doesn't matter whether her eyes are blue, green, brown or gray, she should wear emeralds.

LONDON JUNIORS BEAT
HUSKY INGERSOLL SEVEN

Won the First Home Game of the Season by a Score of 8 to 6
Game Was a Trifle Rough, But a Good Exhibition of Hockey.

[BY JINX.]

London's junior O. H. A. hopes paraded before a fair-sized gathering of the local populace at the Princess rink last evening, and walloped a husky crowd of youngsters from Ingersoll by the score of 8 to 6. The local juniors were aided and abetted by one Laurie Gillies, who has lately been recognized in these parts as a local intermediate, but who donned the garb of a full-fledged junior last evening in order to prevent the Ingersoll septette from making a light lunch of the London youngsters. And we go on record right here, and remark that had Mr. Gillies been among the missing last evening, some cruel things might have been inflicted upon us by the visiting crowd.

The Material is There.
It was the first glimpse of the junior team that the local fans have enjoyed this season, and after much deep consideration, the opinion might be expressed that after a few changes have been made, a real team might be whipped out of the present material. To beat that Ingersoll aggregation was no light task. No heavier junior team than the one from the Stone Town has been seen in action here in some time. If weight counted for anything, the residents of the pork-packing village to the east of us could go right ahead and pick out a real line-up place for the O. H. A. silverware. The visitors would easily have outweighed the locals by a hundred pounds or more.

But when it came down to hockey, London had a trifle the better of the argument. The half-time score was 3 to 2, much of the first period being in favor of Ingersoll by the score of 1 to 0. However, after the first feeling of bashfulness and nervousness had worn off, the local seven came to life and ran in three goals in the latter section of the period.

London's Half.
The second half was much better and faster hockey, both teams giving some brilliant flashes of team play and individual rushing at different stages. This was London's half, the players showing much better advantage than they did in the first part of the game.

The game started off with a rush and a fast clip was maintained by both sides for some time. After one and a half minutes' play, Moulton, a big husky blonde, who looked as though he would make a good forward, was in a white hope tournament, chasing the puck through London's line and into the nets behind Wright. This was the first score of the contest, and the dozen or so Ingersoll fans who had gathered on the east side of the rink gave a couple of raucous and appeared to be generally delighted.

Some Rough Work.
The game then developed some plain and fairly rough work, and a serious offense was chalked up. The checking all through was hard, the visitors using their weight to good advantage. The wing men were the greatest offenders, and both these went off a couple of times for tripping and slashing.

Finally after 23 minutes had been played, John Ross, known familiarly to his friends as "Mushy," accompanied the puck on a trip to the Ingersoll goal. He passed to Morenz, who passed back, and Ross hit the lace curtains for London's first goal.

Two minutes later Morenz turned the trick, Gillies this time passing the rubber over after a nice dash through the Ingersoll team.

Davey, of Ingersoll, evened it up ten seconds later by a nice shot from the side; but not to be outdone, Morenz beat Todd with a nice one from in front, and made it 3 to 2 at half time.

The Second Half.
In the second half London gingered up Ingersoll again started the scoring, when Henderson evened the count with a neat shot from the side in five minutes. A couple of minutes later Morenz slid another goal in for London, and interest in the game increased.

But Davey came right back and scored again for Ingersoll, thus putting the teams on equal terms again. In 8½ minutes, Morenz beat Todd for another goal, and the locals took new hope. Slater got the next one a minute later, and in thirty seconds more Morenz scored through, and a mighty fine piece of stick-handling and scored again.

Ingersoll netched a goal in 10½ minutes, Henderson turning the trick. Gillies made it eight for London by a lone rush through the game and a lone rush through the game which got past Todd. Henderson scored the last goal when Betttridge shoved the puck to him after a mix-up in the corner.

City League Executive Meets on Wednesday at Simcoe Rink.

WILL STRENGTHEN TEAMS

Constitution Will Be Amended For the Benefit of the Weaker Clubs.

The City League will hold a special meeting at the Simcoe Rink tomorrow evening during the progress of the games to be played there tomorrow evening. The meeting was called as a result of a conference between the board of officials yesterday afternoon in the Orient Club.

Ross, at cover, was the star of the new material. He was one of the cleverest stick-handlers in the game last evening, but he needs a little more coaching in playing his position with a little more practice he should develop into a real man.

Morenz was a little disappointing. He seemed to be suffering from a lack of condition, and was not nearly so fast or strong as he has been in the past. He is a hard worker, although making the aggressive and daring in powers of a centre man. He should check harder and linger more around the nets.

Betttridge showed a lack of condition and knowledge of the game. He is a fine shot, but displays little judgment when on their home ice. The Ingersoll seven will prove a hard proposition, and it will take a strong team to beat them.

Ingersoll's Stars.
For Ingersoll, McDougall, Moulton and Davey appeared to be the pick of the bunch. The Ingersoll team is the toughest yet seen here in some time, and penalties were handed out in bunches by Referee Hearn, who called the players together at one time and the other to tell them how they really knew anything about how the game should be played. Henderson and Slater were particularly conspicuous in their spending much of the time on the fence.

Todd, the visitors' goalkeeper, was a stout fellow. He looked as if he would be a good one, and he was equal to better than any that the juniors have. McDougall's game was particularly good, and he was equal to better than any that the juniors have.

On their home ice, the Ingersoll seven will prove a hard proposition, and it will take a strong team to beat them. The local club is endeavoring to secure Ralph McDougall, of the First Hussars, and Albert Buchanan, of the A. M. C. City League teams. These players are good ones, and are equal or better than any that the juniors have. McDougall's game was particularly good, and he was equal to better than any that the juniors have.

Referee, Wally Hearn, Stratford; timekeepers, Vic Smith, London, and F. J. Penney, Lee, London; London; R. W. Bowerman, Ingersoll.

CHATHAM PUTS ONE
OVER ON SARNIA

Postponed Game Because Star Player
Was Out of Town—Sarnia Fans
Are Indignant.

Sarnia, Jan. 14.—Sarnia fans are very indignant over what they term the shabby treatment accorded them by Chatham. The game between the two towns was scheduled to take place today, but was postponed by Chatham on the plea that there was no ice. It is well known, however, that Higgins, both, their star player, was out of town, and could not be back for tomorrow night, when the game is to be played by orders of the secretary of the O. H. A.

HOT BATTLE AT MIDLAND.
Midland, Jan. 13.—After Collingwood had shuffled their players in the senior and intermediate series, they brought out a team tonight with every bit of strength they had. The old-time rivalry was just as keen as ever and the checking was hard and close. It was without doubt the most strenuous game seen here in years. The first half was very fast, and the game was a close one. The latter half was a phenomenal game and one. The final score was 3 to 4 in favor of Midland.

LONDON RINKS DEFEATED IN COLTS' COMPETITION

Brantford Responsible For the Local Curlers' Defeat at Paris—The Scores.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

The annual meeting of the Ontario Colts' Bantam was played here today, and as a result Paris and St. Marys will go into the finals tomorrow morning. London, Plattville, and Drumbo rinks were defeated in the first round of the play by Brantford, Paris, and St. Marys rinks. In the second round, St. Marys put out St. Thomas, and Paris defeated Brantford. In the consolation, first round, London drew the consolation, and Plattville defeated Drumbo. The matches were well attended, and the curlers enjoyed the sports immensely.

An amendment to the constitution may be discussed. In order that the weak teams may strengthen a rule providing for releases and the signing up of new men before Feb. 1 will be introduced for the sanction of the league executive. At present the constitution reads that one of the signing up of a player. This is thought to be too severe, and in the case of the weaker clubs it is liable to act as a hardship.

So far the City League clubs have been putting up a fine article of hockey, in fact, many fans are of the opinion that the games are just as good as O. H. A. contests. However, the league officials believe that the weaker clubs can be helped by amending the constitution so the meeting has been called.

A change in the schedule of the games to be played tomorrow evening has been made. The Meds and Hymans will play the first game at 7:30 in order that the members of the Medical School team may attend the Meds' dance which is being held Wednesday night. The game will start at 8:30 and 9:30, the A. M. C. and Orients meeting in the second game, the First Hussars and Seventh Regiment hooking up in the last contest.

MEMORIAL, KNOX AND ALPHAS
WON CHURCH LEAGUE GAMES

Small Crowd Witnessed Three Fast Games in Three Leagues.

The Church League appears to have selected bad dates as far as patronage is concerned, as on Monday and Friday nights one of the local O. H. A. teams is playing at home and draw a large number of fans who would otherwise attend the church fixtures. Last night was no exception, but the handful of people that were present were fast hockey players.

Three games were played last evening, one in each of the leagues—the Presbyterian and Methodist, and the Anglican. Of the games were won by about half of the teams. The Alpha line-up included Petherly, Chandler, McGeough, Reilly, and the A. M. C. City League team, and as the players are constantly playing together they have developed a fine combination. The score at half-time was 2-0, and the Hill street team was unable to score due to the work of the three defence men of the Alpha Club.

Of the forwards, McGeough and McKay were the best, although Billrough played a consistent game at right wing. The Hill street defence also played a good game. The teams: First, Methodist—Burridge, goal; Petherly, point; Chandler, cover; McGeough, rover; McKay, centre; Hill, left; Billrough, right.

Presbyterian League.
Knox Church 2 0 4 6 - 2
St. Georges 0 1 1 1 - 4
St. James' 0 1 1 1 - 4
King Street 0 2 2 2 - 6
Methodist League.
First Church 2 0 14 1 - 1
Askin Street 1 0 7 1 - 1
Dundas Centre 0 1 1 1 - 4
Hill Street 0 2 1 14 - 1
Anglican League.
St. Paul's 1 0 8 1 - 1
St. James' 1 0 8 1 - 1
Memorial Church 1 1 8 11 - 1
St. Georges 1 1 8 11 - 1
Christ Church 0 1 2 4 - 4
All Saints 0 1 3 8 113 4-5

Knox Beat King Street.
The second game between the Knox and King street teams of the Presbyterian League, was played with six men a side, and in consequence was very fast. Both teams were short a man, and the captains decided to play with six men a side. Knox finally won out having the better of the play, and scored a series of goals. The King street team was defeated, and the game became a series of rushes from one end of the ice to the other. Sometimes the referee had to stop the game to allow a player to get his breath.

With Campbell playing good hockey, and Knox scoring a series of goals, the game became a series of rushes from one end of the ice to the other. Sometimes the referee had to stop the game to allow a player to get his breath. The game was a fast one, and the players were in good form. The final score was 3 to 2 in favor of Knox. The teams were: King Street—Campbell, goal; Gillies, point; McKay, cover; McDougall, rover; McKay, centre; Hill, left; Billrough, right.

JACK JOHNSON ARRESTED
BY BATTLE CREEK POLICE

Was Trying to Make His Way to Toronto With His Wife.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—It was reported here early today that Jack Johnson, the negro prize-fighter, accompanied by his white wife and two negro friends, was on a train bound for Toronto. Johnson is under $20,000 bond to appear in the United States district court to answer to indictment charging violation of the Mann act. The pugilist's bond was supposed to keep him within the state till his trial.

He intended taking a trip to Toronto for a couple of days. Johnson announced some time ago that he had received offers to fight in Russia, and the opinion was ventured that he may be intending to sail via Halifax. U. S. Marshal Hoy said he had no authority to stop Johnson even if he is on his way to Canada.
No one could be aroused by telephone at the Johnson home early today.
LATER.
Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 14.—Jack Johnson, negro heavyweight pugilist, was taken off a train here early today by the local police and is being held, pending the arrival of Chicago authorities, who requested his detention. Johnson was accompanied by his wife and two negro friends.
According to the local officers he admitted that he was on his way to Toronto. The pugilist is being detained at the home of a negro friend.

BRANTFORD JUNIORS WON.
Hamilton, Jan. 13.—After leading the Brantford juniors by 2 goals to 0 in the first seven minutes of play, the Hamilton juniors were tonight defeated in the opening local game of the Junior O. H. A. series by the score of 5 to 2. The two goals scored by the Hams in the early moments of the struggle proved to be their all. Brantford had a shade the better of the argument throughout. The boys from the Dyke benefited by experience, while the local youngsters played together for the first time.

How to Have the Best Cough Syrup and Save $2. by Making It at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take two cups of granulated sugar, add one cup of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you will have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly. Any housewife can easily prepare it in five minutes.

And you will find it the best cough syrup you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually stops the most severe cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and taste is pleasant. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, etc.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gaultherin and all the healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used and prized in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has often been imitated, but never successfully.

"I dunno. Maybe—Oh, I guess I'm talkin' foolish," she broke off, as she turned back to pick up the things on the table preparatory to washing them.

"Hella," he said, his eyes grown suddenly brilliant, "like everything ye do." "So?" she answered carelessly.

"Honest?" "You'd better beat it now," she cut in, putting the table between them. She was afraid of his eyes, afraid of the smile which accompanied that look. Her instincts were highly developed about certain matters. So far he had conducted himself as well as she could expect. Now, well, she didn't blame him. He was a man, after all, and after all she was a woman. She wasn't afraid of herad.

fair with her. He had spoken no word of love to her—had not enticed her on. She had come this far willingly enough of her own free will. He had given her the joy of these last two weeks, and asked nothing in return. He was only a care-free boy, and she a little fool. If she wanted to love him, whose business was that? She ought to have known what she was getting into. She did know it—knew it from the first. She had gone ahead and deliberately closed her eyes to the truth. Now she must pay for it; that was all. She had better be a good sport than sit there having him quitter.

She undressed and crawled into bed. She felt safer and more comfortable there in the dark. She knew it was absurd to imagine that a man like Gene should think of marrying such a little sorority. She had been a fool, still, there was no harm in admitting it. Supposing he really did want to marry her—that he came and said, "Hella, let's tie up." Why, then they would get a tenement somewhere. They could buy a little furniture on the installment plan—they wouldn't need much. With a real kitchen, she would show him what cooking was. There were a lot of things she could make which she knew he would like. She would make doughnuts like those he was always talking about, and might even with a little practice be able to make a good one. He said he would like the things he liked. It did not matter in the dark whether her cheeks took on color or not. She let herself go. It was rare too bad, however, that a mirror could not have shown her how much younger these thoughts made her.

"COUNCIL OF WOMEN USEFUL TO CANADA"

Great Gathering of Women at Ottawa Addressed by Lady Aberdeen.

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—Over one thousand women occupied every seat and all comfortable standing room in the Normal School hall this afternoon to hear Lady Aberdeen, president of the International Council of Women, give a brief talk on some of the features and objects of the work of that organization, which has branches in all parts of the world.

Lady Aberdeen was accompanied by Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of the Prime Minister of Great Britain, Mrs. Adam Shortt, president of the Local Council, introduced Lady Aberdeen.

Councils Are Useful.

"Fellow-workers," she began, "it is very difficult for me to express the great pleasure and interest which I feel in meeting in this hall so many happy memories. It was here where the Victorian Order of Nurses was launched, and where so many meetings of the Local Council of Women have been held.

"I hope you no longer have to ask, 'What's the use of the work of women's councils?' You will remember we used to have to ask that question. But here in Canada that question has been answered by the knowledge of you. During the first days of our council we found that we did not know much of each other's circumstances; but now women of all classes are engaged in our work. You have had definite illustrations in Canada of the influence of the women's councils. You have helped to ripen public opinion to get the legislation you want, and it is tremendously difficult sometimes to get the required law passed until public opinion has been ripened.

Duty of Women.

A touching valedictory was given by Lady Aberdeen. "Don't forget," she said, "that we must recognize the responsibility of home life, and place it on a higher plane than it has been before. It is the duty of women to do this, and also to help one another. If we have the knowledge of your help and affection it will help a great deal, and Ottawa and Canada will not seem very far away after all."

When Lady Aberdeen concluded, it was several minutes before the applause subsided.

She left in her private car for Toronto tonight on the C. P. R. train. Miss Asquith will remain in Ottawa for a day or two, as the guest of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF LAURIER POLICY

West Huron Liberals Passed a Resolution on the Navy Policy.

Goderich, Jan. 14.—At a meeting of the West Huron Liberal executive held here the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"That this meeting is not in favor of the proposed expenditure of $35,000,000 on three Dreadnoughts to be manned, maintained and controlled by the British admiralty, but would prefer the gradual building up of a Canadian naval force, composed of Canadian ships, manned, maintained, and under the control of the Canadian Government, so that the manhood of Canada and not her money alone, may be available for the defence of the empire in any time of need. And this meeting is strongly of opinion that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal Opposition should use every effort to prevent the adoption of the proposal now before the House of Commons."

LOST PAINTING FOUND

Had Been Missing Since the Sixteenth Century.

Rome, Jan. 14.—The lost painting, "Virgin and Child," by the Italian painter, Gentile de Fabriano, has been discovered in a small church in the town of Velletri, 21 miles from Rome, where it was taken in the middle of the sixteenth century by Cardinal Ginnsi, the Bishop of Velletri, who removed the painting from the Church of Saint Cosmas and Demianus here. Since that time the painting has not been identified.

"The Only Cure for Piles"

Writes Mr. Taylor in Telling His Experience With Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Because Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost immediate relief from the dreadful itching, burning, stinging sensations of piles, it is well worth the attention of everyone suffering from this annoying disease.

In most cases, even after years of standing, Dr. Chase's Ointment makes a thorough and lasting cure of itching, bleeding and protruding piles.

Mr. Maxwell Taylor, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "To all sufferers from piles in any form I would recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only cure. Over a year ago while in Boston I became afflicted with a dreadful itching. I went to a doctor, who gave me some ointment, which made me no better. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I was entirely cured. You may publish this statement in order that other sufferers may profit by my experience."

Dr. Chase's Ointment can better prove its value by the relief it affords than by all the words we could use in its praise. 60 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

PRACTICAL TALKS WERE GREATLY APPRECIATED

East Middlesex Farmers Attended Big Meeting at Thorndale.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Thorndale, Jan. 14.—Farmers from all over the district gathered in Harding Hall last evening to attend the first of the series of meetings to be held under the auspices of the East Middlesex Farmers' Institute. At an afternoon meeting of the Women's Institute, Mrs. Parsons, of Forest, gave a fine address. The speakers of the day included: I. B. Whale, of London, and W. C. Shearer, and their talks were greatly enjoyed by over 300 people.

The Care and Feed of the Dairy Cow was given into fully by Mr. Whale, who pointed out the importance of weighing and testing the milk from all herds in order that the undesirable and unprofitable animals may be weeded out. He urged every dairyman to do his utmost to keep only the best animals. The best, he said, take no more time or care than the poorer ones, and give the very finest results in every way. The profits would easily be doubled.

Mr. Shearer went thoroughly into the subject of "Hog Raising," giving much of his own personal experiences. He does not raise pure-bred, but recommends a cross between the Berkshire and Tamworth or Berkshire and Yorkshire. It pays, he pointed out, to be particular in feeding and in caring for young pigs. He recommended soft feed, and attributed a good deal of his own success to feeding on cake to full grown pigs. He suggested the use of as much as a quarter of a gallon of oil cake per meal to six pigs. He found he could feed much cheaper and get larger returns, as well as have healthier hogs by using oil cake.

The grain Mr. Shearer feeds is a mixture of barley and oats grown together, and a little fax grown with it. He started the young pigs off by feeding a little milk when a few days old. He believed in weaning when seven or eight weeks old. It pays to study the markets and have pigs to sell when prices are high. The speaker tried to market two hogs to year, one in August and another after the new year. Many people, he said, went into the business haphazard, and when prices were high stocked up regardless of what feed they had on hand. To pay attention to the feed bin as well as the market is necessary. He had found it paid better sometimes to sell pigs when eight weeks old than to fatten them, while at other times it paid to fatten them.

Interesting discussions of great practical value followed the addresses, and many valuable suggestions were made.

PRACTICAL TALKS AT FARMERS' CLUB MEETING

London Township Members Out in Force to Hear Mr. I. B. Whale.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Birr, Jan. 13.—The regular meeting of the London Township Farmers' Club held in the hall here, was largely attended and was a great success from every standpoint.

Mr. F. W. Renwick, assistant of the district representative, gave a talk on pruning and spraying and several up-to-date methods of fruit culture that was much enjoyed.

Mr. C. W. Baker advocated the formation of a branch of the Middlesex Fruit Growers' Association. He also spoke of the publicity campaign, which is being planned for Middlesex County. "We have one of the best counties in Ontario," he said, "why not let the world know about it?"

Mr. S. D. Dawson, secretary pro tem. of the Middlesex publicity board added a few remarks along the same line. The address of the evening was given by Mr. I. B. Whale, B.S.A., district representative for Middlesex County of the Ontario department of agriculture. He enumerated the various benefits to be derived from the Farmers' Club, dividing them into social, educational and economic.

Quite a lively discussion arose over some charts, which were exhibited, especially one showing the value of fertilizing constituents removed from the farm in selling various commodities, as hay, wheat, beef, milk, butter, etc.

The next regular monthly meeting will be held on the first Thursday in February.

HOME RULE BILL AT LAST STAGE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

Measure Will Probably Go to House of Lords Tomorrow or Thursday.

NOT OPERATIVE FOR YEAR AFTER PASSAGE

Tim Healy Says in That Time Bill May Vanish and That Government Has Pact With Unionists.

London, Jan. 13.—The Irish home rule bill passed the report stage in the House of Commons at midnight. The third reading was fixed for Wednesday. This is a two days' process, and in accordance with the allotted time, the bill should be ready to go to the House of Lords on Thursday night.

Today's debate in the House was mainly occupied with a discussion of the possible happenings between enacting the law and its coming into operation.

The Government had attended to the date of operation, making it impossible for a meeting of the Irish Parliament to be postponed more than a year after the bill's passing, though, as the ministers showed, a whole year would not necessarily elapse.

Tim Healy Wrathful. The prospect of waiting a year with a chance of the Unionists coming in to power in the meantime and repealing the home rule law moved Tim Healy to wrath. He said: "This 12-month has been invented for the purpose of submitting the bill to a general election and on the result of this election the Irish party members are gambling their existence."

"In a twelve-month," he continued, "the Government may disappear through a trapdoor and the bill in a puff of smoke."

In the course of his speech Mr. Healy got off one of his characteristic quips. "Both sides tell lies," he asserted. "If one side were to tell the truth the other would have a great advantage over their opponent."

He then insinuated that the year's delay was due to an arrangement between the Government and the Opposition. Mr. Healy's righteous anger, however, was wasted, as the Government's amendment fixing the operation date was carried by a vote of 243 to 145.

The rejection of the measure will be moved by Arthur J. Balfour, former leader of the Opposition, when the home rule bill has its fourth reading on Wednesday.

Conclusion of Report Stage. An amendment was moved at the concluding debate in the report stage today by Joyson Hicks, with the object of deleting clause 46, which provides that arrangements may be made by any department of the British Government for the exercise and performance in behalf of that department of any power or duties by the officers of the Irish department, or by any Irish department for the performance by the officers of the department of the British Government, on such terms and conditions as may be agreed. The amendment was defeated by a majority of 118.

Another amendment sought to exclude from the clause the powers or duties relating to customs and excise, which was defeated by a majority of 110.

Protect Orange Lodge. The House then passed unanimously a new subsection to clause 42, proposed by Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, which provided that the Irish Parliament shall not have the power to abrogate or affect prejudicially any privilege or exemption of the Grand Lodge of Free Masons in Ireland.

An addition was also made to clause 43, whereby his regulations, by order-in-council from regulations prescribing the method of voting at an election of members of the Irish House of Commons which is held on the principle of proportional representation.

Mr. Birrell's amendment to clause 47 was passed, which provides that the appointed day for the coming into operation of the act shall be the first Tuesday in the eighth month after that in which the act is passed, or such other day not more than seven months earlier or later as may be determined.

Two days, Wednesday and Thursday, will be given over to the debate on the third reading, and the bill will be sent to the House of Lords late Thursday night, for a formal reading on the succeeding Monday.

When the second reading is proposed, the Duke of Devonshire will move its rejection, as his wife became warmly attached to him by his genial disposition.

Mr. McMichael was born in Karkom, near Senghar, Dumfriesshire, Scotland, March 9, 1825. At the age of 18 years he came to Canada with his parents. At this time he had served four years learning the joiner's trade, which he followed for 10 years after his arrival in this country.

One year after his arrival, he bought a farm of one hundred acres in Hullett, for which he paid $25. He cleared six acres, and then rented it for five years for the clearing of 20 acres.

Mr. McMichael was the first tax gatherer in Hullett. The taxes on his own place were eight shillings and sixpence, which is about two dollars of our money. At that time the English money system was in use in this country.

In 1852 he went to Australia. As there were no steamers, the voyage was made by sail boat and occupied sixteen weeks. On his arrival there he went to work in the gold diggings, a rather hazardous employment, as the miners then mostly consisted of criminals who had been transported from other countries. The method of extracting gold from quartz was then unknown, and the mining was mostly done by each man digging for himself. This work giving him sore eyes, he remained at it only four months, and then turned to his trade, taking some contracts for building. He remained four years in Australia, and then returned to Scotland, going by way of Cape Horn. While there he married Margaret Laidlaw, of Dumfriesshire. He brought his bride to Hullett, and immediately built a stone house on his farm, where he lived for 20 years.

With his wife, he made two trips back to his native land, the first in 1877, and the second in 1883. Two years before his second visit to the Old Country he had retired from the farm, and had moved to Seaforth, where he resided thereafter. On Nov. 24, 1902, he was bereaved by the death of his wife.

In 1895, Mr. McMichael started the game of bowling on the green, which has become exceedingly popular. He was president of the bowling club from the time when it was organized. He bought the green and presented it to the club. On account of his fondness for playing the small balls, he was known among his fellow-sportsmen by the name of "Wee Boole."

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon from the Methodist Church to the Maitlandbank Cemetery.

PUTS AN END TO BACKACHE QUICKLY CURES WEAK KIDNEYS

A Few Doses Give Relief, Help Lifelong Organs Regain Health, Strength and Activity.

It is useless, dangerous, and unnecessary to be tortured with the digging, twisting pains of backache and rheumatism, or suffer with disagreeable kidney and bladder disorders any longer.

The new discovery, Croxone, provides a remedy which every sufferer can now depend upon to promptly and surely relieve all such misery and bring about a speedy cure.

Croxone cures these troubles because it quickly overcomes the very cause of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, through the membranes and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and makes the kidneys filter and sift from the blood all the waste and poisonous matter that clog the system and cause such troubles. It does not matter whether you have but slight symptoms or the most chronic, aggravated case of kidney, bladder trouble, or rheumatism that it is possible to imagine, for the very principle of Croxone is such that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it, and all the misery and suffering that go with such troubles end.

You can secure an original package of Croxone from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.

LONDON AND DISTRICT

Annual Social.
The members of St. Mary's Dramatic Society held their annual social in St. Mary's Hall, Lyle street, East London, Monday night. A large number of their friends attended and spent a very enjoyable time.

Boy Strayed Away.
The 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ed. Walker, of 836 Lorne avenue, disappeared from home early yesterday, and was not located for several hours. In the meantime, his parents, fearing that some accident might have befallen him, solicited the assistance of the police, and prosecuted a search among the different hospitals and institutions of the city.

Condition Unchanged.
The condition of Mrs. Craddock, the aged widow of George Craddock, architect, who was found almost asphyxiated in her home on Fullarton street, a few days ago, when Detective Egleton forced an entrance to the house, is reported to be practically unchanged at Victoria Hospital. Very slight hope for her recovery is entertained.

EX-ALD. DONNELLY EXPLAINS POSITION

Was Not Anxious To Get a Seat on the Council.

Ex-Ald. James Donnelly denies that he has been seeking a position on the council when he was not elected to it.

"I went to the electors and was third man," he stated in an interview. "I expressed myself as absolutely satisfied with the result, and did not want me. I had no intention of being myself on them. Later I was informed that I was elected, and instructed to take the oath of qualification. I went to the city clerk's office and told him that I would not sign, offering to retire in favor of any person who desired it. I was told that if I were elected, and did not take the oath of qualification, I was liable to a fine. I signed but had no intention of forcing my way into the council. I do not think it fair to be accused of forcing my way in. Those who know me understand that I am not like that."

BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING

Will Be Held in New Masonic Hall on Tuesday, Jan. 21.

It is expected that the annual meeting of the London branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society, which will be held in the new Masonic Hall on Tuesday, Jan. 21, will be the most successful in the history of the local branch. The committees in past years have obtained one prominent out-of-town speaker for the occasion, and this year the principal address will be given by Principal Falconer, of Toronto University. The past year has been the most successful of the organization, both financially and otherwise, and the officers are determined that the interest in the society in this district shall not lapse.

Those having charge of the preparations for the meeting are Dr. Ross, who was elected president of the London branch at the last meeting of the executive, and a committee composed of Rev. J. G. Inkster, convenor, Principal Walker, Rev. H. H. Bingham and A. E. Jordon. In past years the music has been a feature of the meetings, and this year Mr. A. D. Jordan will have charge of the musical part of a program of a choir numbering over 100 voices, and composed of the members of the choir of the First Methodist and First Presbyterian Churches will render a number of selections.

HORSE JUMPED INTO CELLAR

Farmer Injured at the Corner of King and Wellington Streets.

A farmer, who was driving home on Wellington street about 5 o'clock on Monday evening, was injured when his cutter collided with another vehicle coming from the opposite direction at the corner of King street. The mishap occurred very suddenly, and before the farmer was aware what had happened, the oncoming horse had jumped into his cutter, and one of its hoofs had struck him in the face. The wound, a deep cut extending from the ear to the chin on the man's face, bled profusely. Spectators at the accident had assisted him in turn to the office of three physicians in that vicinity, but all were absent at the time.

NISSOURI PIONEER

James Cowan Was Buried at Ingersoll Rural Cemetery.

Thamesford, Jan. 14.—The funeral of Mr. James Cowan, formerly of East Nissouri, held from the residence of his niece, Mrs. Moffatt, of John street, to Ingersoll rural cemetery, was largely attended.

Mr. Cowan was in his 81st year and was one of the pioneers of East Nissouri. He sold his farm and retired to Woodstock after the death of his wife, and remained there until a few years ago, when he went to live with his only daughter at Stouffville until his death.

He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Hugh Davidson, Mrs. George Snetsinger, Mrs. James Patterson and Miss Cowan, who is spending the winter with Mrs. Snetsinger, who is very ill.

WOMEN ALL VOTE FOR THIS PLAN

Not One in This Whole City Who Will Not Cast Her Ballot in Favor of It.

Speaking of "votes for women," it goes without saying that every woman in London will vote for the popular distribution of the Bible now being conducted by The Advertiser.

This is the Illustrated Bible, and to more clearly convey the idea those words "the illustrated" ought to be capitalized. It is "the" Illustrated Bible, because there is not another Bible like it in the world. Every illustration in it is made to fit a particular verse or subject. In this respect it is entirely different from any other Bible.

It matters not how many Bibles one may now possess, this one will make plain many heretofore obscure passages.

Even if one is not a member of a religious organization he will appreciate the educational merits of this Bible, in which every picture has a meaning.

Children are always attracted by pictures, and this Illustrated Bible holds their attention.

Then why wouldn't all women vote for a plan that practically gives this Bible to every reader? You can always depend upon a woman's judgment in such matters. Ask "her" what she thinks of it.

There are both Catholic and Protestant editions to choose from, each in two different styles of binding. Turn to the certificate on another page of today's issue and find the plan explained therein.

MR. F. L. WILLGOOSE WITH NEW ST. JAMES'

Has Accepted a Position as Organist in That Church.

Mr. F. L. Willgoose has resigned his position as organist in the Church of St. John the Evangelist, and has accepted a similar position in the New St. James' Presbyterian Church. The musical committee of the New St. James' Church met on Monday evening and made final arrangements in engaging Mr. Willgoose.

It is stated that Mr. Willgoose will receive a substantial increase in salary over his former position, but the amount would not be divulged. He has served for four years as organist in the Church of St. John the Evangelist, and the congregation of the latter church regret losing his services.

Any Headache Cured, Tired Systems Retoned

When You're Dull, Tired, Restless Day and Night Something Is Wrong in the Stomach.

A Prominent Publishing Man Says the Quickest Cure Is Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Headaches never come to those who use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and this fact is vouched for by the assistant manager of the Poultry Success Magazine, of Springfield, O., Mr. J. H. Callahan, who writes: "No better medicine than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. We use them regularly and know of marvelous cures that resisted everything else. They cleanse the whole system, act as a tonic on the blood, enliven digestion, help the stomach, and make you feel strong and well. For headaches, indigestion and stomach disorders I am confident that the one prescription is Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

Being composed of natural vegetable remedies, Dr. Hamilton's Pills possess great power, yet they are harmless. They aid all organs connected with the stomach, liver and bowels. In consequence, food is properly digested, the blood is pure and nourishing, the body is kept strong and resists disease. All druggists and storekeepers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25 cents per box, five for $1.00, or by mail from the Caturrhoe Company, Buffalo, New York, and Kingston, Canada.
