OPENING OF THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT TO-MORROW.

Will be a Very Brilliant Affair—The Program Sanctioned by the King—He Will be Present in Person—Duke of York's Illness.

London, Feb. 13.—King Edward has sanctioned the official program of the ceremonial to be observed in the House of Lords on Thursday. The great officers of state and others will assemble at the entrance of the House of Lords. The King will alight from the state carriage and the procession will move to the robing room, as follows:—Pursuivants, heralds, the King's equerries, gentlemen ushers, grooms in waiting and officers of the household, flanked by the sergeant-at-arms, the Lord Privy Seal, the Lord High Chancellor, the Black Rod, the Garter King of Arms, the Earl Marshal, the Lord Great Chamberlain, the sword of state, carried by the Marquis of Londonderry, the King and Queen respectively, attended by the Master of the Horse, the Lord Steward and the lords and ladies-in-waiting, followed by the pages of honor, the captain of the Guard, Gold Stick, the captain of the Gentlemen at Arms, Silver Stick-in-Waiting, with officers, Gentlemen at arms, and Yeoman of the Guard closing the procession. After the King is robed, with the Duke of Devonshire (Lord President of the Council) carrying the Imperial crown, the procession will advance into the House of Peers, the cap of maintenance being borne before the King, on the right hand of the sword of state. When the King is seated on the throne, the Duke of Devonshire, bearing the cap of maintenance, will stand on the steps of the throne. On the right of the King will be the Marquis of Londonderry, with the sword of state on the left will be the Lord Steward. The other officers of the household will arrange themselves on each side of the throne. The Luncheon concludes its narrative of the illness of the Duke of Cornwall and York (his temperature for six days being 102, with vomitings and delirium), by saying it was a very severe attack of German measles.

MR. WHITNEY ASKS SOME PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

Ontario Legislature Passes an Address to the King—Mr. McNeill Loses His Seat, in North Bruce.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—After an address of sympathy and loyalty had been passed by the legislature yesterday to King Edward, Mr. Whitney gave notice of the following questions:—Is it the intention of the Government to introduce at this session legislation to increase the representation in the House of East Algoma, West Algoma and Nipissing, or either of said districts? If not, is it the intention of the Government to do so before the next general election? Have any steps been taken by the Government to prosecute or toward the prosecution of any of the persons reported by the judges as having acted illegally as deputy returning officers in the elections in West Elgin on the 5th and 12th days of January, 1899, or any of the persons, who, by the report of the said judges, were found to have introduced to the returning officer any of the above-named persons, being the persons or persons illegally appointed deputy returning officer or officers? Of either of the persons Wildfang and Cummings, who were reported by the judges to have respectively fraudulently defaced and injured ballots and fraudulently miscounted ballots at the election in North Waterloo on the 16th and 23rd days of May, 1899. Of John G. Pritchett, for fraudulent practices at the said election in West Elgin and elsewhere? If so, what steps have been taken in each case? If not, is it the intention of the Government to undertake these prosecutions or any of them? Is Hon. J. T. Garvey still a member of the Government? If not, when was his resignation accepted?

NORTH BRUCE VACANT.
Southampton, Feb. 13.—The North Bruce election trial was concluded yesterday, Mr. McNeill, Conservative, losing the seat, which he narrowly won by three votes in the general election contest.

The matter was summarily dealt with. After a few questions by Chancellor Boyd, and answers by the legal lights regarding the ballots in dispute, Mr. McNeill was placed in the witness box. He swore he had done all in his power to have the election conducted in a clean and pure manner. Chancellor Boyd then gave the following decision:—The legal result of the transaction is this—We declare that Mr. McNeill was not duly elected, and that the election is ineffective and void, because of the inequality of votes ascertained on scrutiny and the various irregularities which have been proved. No corrupt practices were found and each to stand his own case.

Chancellor Boyd then announced:—“This ends the proceedings so far as this court is concerned.”

NOT ON THE INJURED LIST.
A merry sleigh load of Chathamites drove last evening to the residence of Hector Johnson, River road, Raleigh. Chief Pritchard, of the fire dept., was one of the load and he said this morning that although there were 13 in the sleigh there were no railroads to cross and hence no accidents. There were about 50 present at the party and a most enjoyable time was spent. Pritchard Bros. orchestra furnished the music.

CHASE GOES MERRILY ON.

General French Captures a Boer
Convoy of 50 Wagons.

The Enemy Also Take Some Prisoners
—Great Mortality at Lorenzo
Marqu z.

London, Feb. 13. — A special despatch from Pretoria says Gen. Dewet crossed the Orange River north of Norval's post Sunday night, going in the direction of Philippstown. The British are following.

Gen. Kitchener, in a despatch from Pretoria, dated February 12, says:—“French has captured a convoy of fifty wagons and fifteen carts and has made forty-three prisoners. We had one man wounded.”

Large bodies of Republicans have been seen near Donkerpoort station, north of Norval's post. Shots were exchanged. The British have occupied Ficksburg, with little opposition and have released the prisoners who were in the jail. The Boers were moving in the direction of Fouriesburg, where they have most of their supplies.

Twenty-seven Australians, Cape police and dragoons were captured by Krutinger's commando, eight miles from Blykspruit, Feb. 6, after a fight in which three British and five Boers were killed. The British were afterwards released.

Two hundred Boers are raiding the Prince Albert district, looting stores and destroying orchards and gardens. Several were killed and wounded. Seven British yeomanry while skirmishing were captured by a commando near Vryburg, which was forced to retire. Piet Dewet has arrived in Cape Town to engage the Afrikaners in the peace movement.

The fever season at Lorenzo Marqu z is exceptionally disastrous. Many deaths of prominent British subjects have occurred. The majority belonged to the imperial railroad administrative staff and had to be removed to a hospital ship in batches. Patients from Komatipoort are arriving daily. The hospital ship is now filled to its capacity. The mortality among the Boer refugees is heavy.

HE IS A QUALIFIED ENGINEER.

In the campaign that has been waged against the present city engineer it has been frequently asserted that he is not a duly qualified engineer. This statement is not consistent with the truth. Mr. Shackleton was one of the original members of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers. This society was formed in 1887 and incorporated the same year. A reference to the society's printed record shows Mr. Shackleton's name among the list of qualified civil engineers. In reply to a question asking for his standing last year, C. H. McLeod, the present secretary, wrote that he was classified as a member. This should put an end to the misstatements that have been circulated in the matter.

ASPHALT LAKE SAID TO EXIST

In the Wild of Northern Ontario or Perhaps

This Story May be Only a Piece of Fiction—What an Explorer Says.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Feb. 13.—Thomas F. Drew, a well-known prospector and mining man who is prospecting in the wilds of Canada, in that portion known as the upper country, in an interview in Sault Daily News, tells of an asphalt lake which lies over the divide towards James Bay. This lake is said to be an exceedingly rich deposit. Mr. Drew tells the following entertaining story regarding the discovery of the lake: It seems that one day a party of prospectors and an Indian guide were in a section of country beyond the great divide. The party had camped for a rest and the Indian started out in quest of game. He started up a fox and at the same moment he was on the rocky rim of a good sized lake. The fox ran across the top of the lake, splashing the water as he went. The Indian rubbed his eyes and sat down to ponder on things in general. He then went down to the lake himself, and what Raymond could do he could do. It was an asphalt lake, and being in the spring, had about an inch of water on it. He took out his handaxe and chopped a hole, then took a birch pole and pushed it down as far as he could. When it came up the pole was all covered with black paint, as he expressed it. He told no one anything about it except his benefactor some two years afterward. Efforts are now being made to definitely locate the lake.

CONDEMNED MEN GIVEN A CHOICE

Of How to Commit Suicide by the Chinese Emperor.

Peking, Feb. 13.—Prince Ching, and Li Hung Chang have received a long despatch from the court which they have not disclosed to the foreign envoys. It is understood to contain, in addition to the recent celebrated reform decree, an account of how Emperor Wwan-Shi has sent a charge of methods of suicide to all those named for punishment by the envoys, closing with the enquiry whether Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang think the envoys will be satisfied. It is understood that the Chinese plenipotentiaries, in reply to the court, said the foreign envoys could not object strongly to an accomplished fact, but that they would probably insist upon the sentence of execution being published throughout the Empire, and possibly upon the heads of those condemned being exhibited at various points. It is very seriously doubted in Chinese circles here that General Tung-Fu-Hsiang will agree to commit suicide. The army worship him. He has absolute control of the Mohammedans, and is believed to be one himself. He refused to allow the disbandment of five thousand men, and the Emperor ordered him far from the court. To attempt his execution, it is thought in Chinese circles, might mean civil war.

BEATEN AT THAMESVILLE.

Two rinks of the Chatham curling club went to Thamesville yesterday afternoon to play in competition for the Ferguson cup. The Maple City rinks met with another crushing defeat. The Thamesville club was victorious by 18 shots. The rink skipped by W. T. Bray was tied with their opponents on the score of 20 to 20. G. G. Taylor's rink, however, was down 18 shots, the score being 30 to 12. The personnel of the two rinks was as follows: Rink No. 1—Thos. Tennant, John Waddell, W. D. Sheldon and W. T. Bray (skip). Rink No. 2—J. C. Pritchard, Will Hadley, James Fleming, G. G. Taylor, (skip).

JUMPING IN THE DARK.

The city council is acting in the matter of a city engineer as if competent officials in that line could be found hanging on every berry bush throughout the country. They will probably find that first class engineers for municipal work are hard to get, and in the end they will either have to pay the price of a good man, take somebody from somewhere as an experiment, or else let some youth recently graduated come here at $1-000 or $1,200 to get practical knowledge at the expense of our streets. Toronto has experienced the difficulty of getting good engineers, which shows how scarce they are. After a succession of them it got one at a salary of $4,500 a year. But as soon as the Toronto Street Railway Company found he was a really first class engineer they tempted him into their service with a salary, it was stated at the time, of $7,000 a year. Prior to this Toronto paid Mr. Jennings, the engineer who built the C. P. R. through this section, $5,000 a year. He resigned because he could make more money otherwise.

Of course the city may strike a good man at a low salary first go off, but it is unlikely. We have not done so heretofore. There have been engineering feats committed in this city that are really wonders. There are sidewalks on Victoria Avenue that for days last year were impassable for pedestrians owing to the ice covering them. There is a walk on Head Street, at Victoria Ave. Methodist Church, it would take a pick-axe at this season, or a pick-pole after a rain-storm, to discover.

Yet, knowing all this, the city council let at least a fairly good engineer go without having any other in view, and that, too, at a time when the city's work for the spring should be under preparation.

DANGERS OF AMATEUR HYPNOTISM.

At Lyons, N. Y., Major Anderson, a young man, put a youngster into a hypnotic sleep from which he could not arouse him, and a mob threatened him with violence if the subject came to harm. The village has been hypnotized for three weeks, roused to this fever heat by the doings and teachings of one Santanelli, a professional hypnotist. Scores of young people have tried to hypnotize one another, but with no serious consequences; but wise heads have been declaring that the craze had gone far enough. Anderson, it seems, offered to cure a headache, of which young Erhart, a lad of 14, complained. He put Erhart to sleep by imitating the passes he had caught from Santanelli, solemnly declared the headache cured and then tried to wake the boy. This he found he could not do, and his anxiety soon grew to terror. Reports of the matter spread rapidly, and a crowd of 200 men and boys soon gathered, and made loud threats of violence against Anderson. Word was finally sent for Santanelli. He finally succeeded in rousing the sleeping boy, who bore scars. This case is a warning to amateurs to let hypnotism alone. Even in the hands of professionals had results to the subjects are often said to follow if they are experimented on too frequently. But for amateurs to fool with the mysterious science is absolutely dangerous.

A SOLIDIFIED PARTY.

The first striking feature of the election of Mr. R. L. Borden as leader of the Conservative Opposition in the House of Commons, says the World, is its unanimity and the resultant thereof that the party is once again solidified, and anything of a disagreeable nature in the past is forgotten. Under Mr. Borden every section, every faction of the party is united. Conservative members of the caucus had no easy task before them, and that at various stages of their two nights' deliberation, they had serious difficulties to overcome can easily be imagined; but the good sense of the 80 odd men who sat down to thresh the situation over never failed them, and they came out of it, as we said above, a united and aggressive opposition. Another feature of the caucus was the demand for new blood, for a man who would start fresh and untrammelled by the past. It was the new man returned to the house who were especially strong in this respect, and who were not afraid with the mandate they had from their constituents to come out boldly for a new departure, for better methods and a young leader. They spoke earnestly when they said that the men throughout the party all over the country wanted a fresh start.

Conservatives in Ontario politics will rejoice to hear of this unanimity at Ottawa, and it ought to strengthen Mr. Whitney's hands and unify the Conservatives of the Province in the task of turning out the Ross Government. The way to Ottawa is through Reorganization of the party from one end to the other will be taken up at once, and after that the formulation of a new and progressive platform. The unity of the party will inaugurate a rigid discipline within the ranks, organization will give the opportunity, and a progressive platform both in Provincial and Federal affairs will meet with a victorious response from the people.

DISEASED MEAT ON THE MARKET

The vigilance of P. C. Groves in discovering diseased meat on the market is to be commended. A few prosecutions will teach vendors they cannot offer carrion on the Chatham market with impunity. It is true the two men prosecuted claimed they were unaware of the condition of this meat. That may be so, but it is their business to find out that what they have is fit for food before they attempt to sell it as such.

There is no doubt there is a great deal of tuberculosis among cattle in the country. It is easily enough detected by the tuberculin test but unfortunately there is no legalized system in operation for making such a test general. Therefore we may go on using the milk of diseased cattle until the owners find it no longer profitable to keep them for milking purposes. Then they are killed and we get the meat to eat. It is but fair to assume that this use of contaminated milk and meat must largely result in the spread of tuberculosis, in fact it is likely its principal cause.

The remedy is better supervision of the herds of the milkmen and farmers, and the Ontario government or Provincial board of health are the parties to take the initiative.

Do the members of the C. C. I. Board think they will gain more by grudgingly and unwillingly giving out Inspector South's report than by doing so gracefully? It looks like it.

The criticism the Ottawa government underwent during the late campaign seems to be bearing some fruit. The estimates call for six millions less than they did last year.

Sir Edward Clark, an English politician of some note, wants the war stopped. The war office is sending 30,000 more men out for that purpose. Will Sir Edward just exercise a little patience.

Now that Mr. Quinn has been appointed humane officer it is to be hoped he will devote plenty of energy to a work which the commonest feelings of humanity make a necessity in centers such as this. If Mr. Quinn watches the market closely on market days he will frequently find cases demanding his interference. People often drive in with horses with "raw" shoulders, horses with sore backs, lame horses and so on. Then again, thoughtless persons will leave animals tied on the streets for hours without protection, food or shelter. In looking after these things there is plenty for a humane officer to do and as Mr. Quinn has undertaken to do it there is no doubt he will be as good as his word.

WILL BOERS AT LAST YIELD.

London Hears From German Sources That the Burghers Are Near Last Stand.

Gen. Snyman Defiantly Says His People Will Fight to the Last Man—He Excoriates Gen. Dewet's Brother as a Traitor and Snakes at Kitchener

New York, Feb. 12.—A despatch from London says: A very curious sentiment is prevalent in London relative to the condition of affairs in South Africa. It is one of supreme hopefulness. There has never been any such buoyancy of sentiment since Roberts took Pretoria. There is absolutely no doubt that news has reached here from German sources showing that the Boers are pretty well at their last stand. This view is also taken on the stock exchange.

Charles D. Picco, the Orange Free State consul-general has given out a statement by W. D. Snyman, of Gen. Christian De Wet's staff, in reply to the letter purporting to have been written to De Wet by his brother, Piet De Wet. This letter urges De Wet to surrender to the British. Snyman says: "I notice that the British censor is very ready to transmit this letter almost in its entirety, although any news favorable to the Boers is rigidly censored. De Wet is a peace commissioner to Kitchener. Does it not seem strange that now, when Kitchener is proposing to send the prisoners to India, a man like P. De Wet, who has held a high position among the Boers, should be used as a peace envoy to help the British unless some consideration has been given or promised?"

"The letter goes on to say that the British have the country and are not likely to give it up; it does not seem so when Kitchener has to cable for 30,000 more troops; after all, what parts of the two countries do the British actually hold? Only the principal towns along the railroad. As to the taunts in regard to the inactivity of the Transvaal burghers, why, if both and his commandant are doing no fighting is Kitchener keeping 60,000 men at Pretoria?"

"I am inclined to think that this letter, like the book of Paul Botha, is of British manufacture."

"It does not rest in the power of Steyn, Dewet, or any other person, to surrender unconditionally; this is a war fought by the people, not by generals and presidents, and can never be ended except by unanimous consent of the burghers. Under present circumstances why should the Boers give up? They have lost everything, all they can gain now is their country and freedom, for which they are fighting and will fight to the end."

The Busy Cash Store

The Northway Co., Limited

Annual White Goods Sale

OUR GREAT FEBRUARY WHITE GOODS SALE opens Thursday morning. This is a sale of desirable new merchandise gathered in six-store quantities, bought for cash in the quiet season, when manufacturers were more anxious to keep their employees together than to make profit. It is an event that is looked forward to by shrewd and careful buyers. For this February we were prepared as never before. Better stocks, better quality, better styles and better values. Judge the sale by the way we are going to sell Ladies' Underwear. What an excellent and extensive stock we have provided. Every garment is carefully and really made and will cost you no more than what the bare materials would have cost if bought by you. You can save time, money and worry by buying now at these prices:—

LOCAL BRIEFS

Miss Pratt's Musicals is on Friday evening.

Leslie King, son of James King, pleuro-pneumonia.

Noah Girhard, Belle River, has entered St. Joseph's Hospital for surgical treatment.

J. J. Neale slipped on the icy sidewalk on Sunday and sprained an ankle and great toe.

Dr. J. P. Rutherford says he never saw so much serious sickness as is prevalent just now.

One of the numbers Friday evening, at Miss Pratt's Musicals, will be "When Thou Art Near," sung by Mr. Wm. Wilson.

Dr. John L. Bray has been confined to his residence since Saturday, but was able to go to his office this morning.

James Dyer, Grey St., royally entertained his friends at his residence last evening. Dancing and cards were features.

The Children's Aid Society met at the Shelter on Monday afternoon.

Rev. R. Sims, Rev. W. H. G. Colles, Miss Reid, Henry Dugan and Dr. R. V. Barry were present. Only routine business was transacted.

Both Miss Kipp and Duncan Smith, who were hurt in the sleighing accident Monday night, are doing well.

Arthur Wanless, one of the party, is confined to the house suffering from the effects of a blow he received on his head. The excitement kept him up at the time, but when he went to work yesterday he felt ill, and was forced to go home and to bed. The doctor in attendance doesn't anticipate any serious results, but says that Mr. Wanless will have to keep quiet for a day or two to avoid brain fever.

Thomas Lodge, No. 101, Sons of England Benefit Society, held their usual weekly meeting Monday evening, Bro. W. A. Moore, W. Pres., in the chair. The attendance was good. One candidate was initiated and three propositions were received. They trust that this first quarter of the new year will see the lodge with a large increase in number. Monday evening, Feb. 25th, a social evening will be given in the lodge room for the members, their wives and friends. The committee are making arrangements for an excellent program. Members will please send in their provisions as early as possible in the evening.

FORCING FAT ON CHICKENS.

How the Government Stations do it—Fowls Soon Become Large, Tender and Well-flavored.

Thos. Sainsbury has charge of the Government station here for the fattening of poultry for the English market. Speaking of his work this morning Mr. Sainsbury said that he wasn't feeding chickens now and wouldn't be until he could again secure young birds weighing from two to three lbs. each. Last year 400 chickens were fattened at the Chatham feeding station. Chickens weighing three lbs. are purchased and fed for four weeks and then for another week the food is stuffed into them. By this time the chickens weigh seven lbs. They are then killed and plucked, but not drawn, and shipped in cold storage to England. Oatmeal, ground up fine, milk and beef tallow are used for feed. The tallow is used during the last week while the chickens are being fed by force.

During the first four weeks the chickens are given all the food they can eat, but none is left in front of them after they are done eating, as they would continue picking away at it during the day and make themselves sick. The meat of fowls thus fed is different to that of chickens fed in the ordinary way. One of the chickens fed on the Government plan is worth two fed in the common way. Chick Wheeler got a chicken fed by Mr. Sainsbury and he said that it was the finest chicken he had ever eaten. The meat was tender and delicious.

TWO WIVES LAID CLAIM TO SMITH.

He was Discharged for Forgery
Only to be Re-arrested for Bigamy.

New York, Feb. 13.—The West Side police court was the scene of much excitement yesterday, when two women, who were there for the purpose of securing the man's release, discovered that they were both married to the man. The prisoner was Chas. F. Smith, 30 years of age, formerly of Flushing, L. I., who was accused of passing forged checks. Just as the magistrate announced that he would discharge Smith on the charge of passing forged checks, the two women discovered that both claimed him as husband. One of them was Marion Brown, of this city, who says she was married to Smith in September, 1896, and deserted by him last July. The second, Emma Swan, too, claims she was married to Smith in Utica on Jan. 11th last. Wife No. 2 tore off her wedding ring and stamped on it. The man was re-arrested and held in $2,000 bail for bigamy.

DISEASED MEAT.

At police court this morning the crown attorney announced that it was the intention to immediately institute proceedings to prevent the future sale of diseased meat upon the market.

"The case against Bragg and others I am investigating," he said, "but the main matter is care for the future. Consequently arrangements have been made by the crown for a thorough inspection of all meat offered for sale on the market every Saturday."

Mr. Douglas says that all offenders will be prosecuted with the utmost rigor.

HE MAY CALL OUT TROOPS.

Governor of Ohio Determined
The Jeffries-Rublin Fight

Will Not Come Off—Promoters, However, Declare It Will and Are Going Ahead.

Columbus, Feb. 13.—Company commanders of the Fourth and Sixth regiments, Ohio National Guard, have received, it is stated, secret orders to hold their men in readiness for service in connection with the alleged determination of Governor Nash to prevent the Jeffries-Rublin contest set for Friday night in Cincinnati. In view of the fact that the state officials maintain ignorance on the subject, it is thought in some quarters that Colonels Potter and Stanbury, knowing that Gov. Nash had declared his intention to prevent the fight with troops if necessary, have anticipated a call to arms, and merely prepared for such possible action by notifying their captains to be ready for eventualities.

STILL GOING AHEAD.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 13.—The preparations for the contest between Jeffries and Rublin and between Martin and Childs have proceeded here the same as usual, and the promoters expect the events to take place on time next Friday night. Over $1,000 was taken in for tickets yesterday, making an aggregate of over $45,000 to date. If the application for an injunction is refused on Thursday morning, the promoters expect orders to be numerous that day and on Friday. While there has been much talk about postponing the contest, no action has been taken in that direction, and none will be taken before Thursday afternoon. There was the usual activity around the training quarters of Jeffries, Rublin, Martin and Childs. Messrs. Brady, Cook, Madden and others are kept busy with the arrangements in the city, and seem confident of the decision of Judge Hollister will be against the injunction, and they will hold the contest on scheduled time.

DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED.

At the twentieth general annual meeting of the shareholders of the Chatham Loan and Savings Co. held this forenoon the retiring directors, Judge Bell, N. H. Stevens, James Gardiner, H. Malcolmson, Dr. T. K. Holmes, Robt. Ferguson, M. P. P., and J. E. Thomas, were unanimously re-elected for the ensuing year. At a subsequent meeting of the board Judge Bell was re-elected president and N. P. Stevens, vice-president.

USED MARKED CARDS

A GAME OF POKER THAT WAS PLAYED ON AN OCEAN LINER.

The Sharper Used Ink That Was Invisible to the Other Players, but Plainly Discernible from the Position in Which He Sat.

A prominent turfman here told a good story the other evening of an adventure on a Cunarder. "You never heard of invisible ink?" he said. "Well, neither had I up to a dozen years ago, and my introduction to it was rather peculiar. At that time I was considerably greener in the ways of the wicked world than I am at present, and, coming across on the Eturia, after a season in London, I was fool enough to sit in a four handed pot with three fellows I met in the smoking room of the ship. The vulnerable point about any greenhorn who plays poker is his proud conviction that he can protect himself against any kind of 'work.' That was my own opinion, and consequently I didn't care a copper who my three acquaintances might be as long as I found their society entertaining. Two of them, I may as well say right here, were plain, everyday business men from Boston. The other was a small, dark, smooth shaved chap who introduced himself by the name of Cummings and said he was a large buyer for a firm of importers in New York.

"We began playing on the second day out of Liverpool, and inside of 24 hours we were giving the game pretty nearly our exclusive attention. The table we used was in the far corner of the smoking room and had four stationary chairs. As is customary aboard ship, we selected our seats at the beginning and kept them throughout the play. Cummings sat with his back to the partition wall, I sat opposite, and one of the Boston fellows was on either side. I mention this arrangement because it has a bearing on what followed.

"We started out at a very easy gait," continued the turfman, "but soon raised the ante high enough to make it pretty warm. As far as I could see none of my three friends played more than an ordinary clubroom game, and at the outset the bulk of the luck drifted to the lace buyer and myself. At the end of the first day we were each about $150 ahead. Next day I made most of the winnings myself and was astonished at the succession of good hands I held. As nearly as I can remember I cleared up something like $400, mainly from the two Boston men, and Cummings quit about even. Several times during the day I imagined the Bostonians looked at me with some slight suspicion, all of which afforded me considerable amusement and satisfied me incidentally that the game was absolutely on the square. On the third day luck veered around to the lace buyer, and he not only gathered in my entire winnings, but nearly $200 besides. Meanwhile he tapped one of the Bostonians for $300 and the other for $150. Altogether, he stood about $1,200 ahead at the close of the afternoon. By that time we were all pretty well fagged out, and we agreed to quit for a couple of hours and resume the play after dinner. Cummings left the table first, and I tarried for a few moments, to smoke a cigar and chat with the Boston men.

"I had to get up to procure a light, and on returning I dropped into the chair which had been occupied by the lace buyer and began idly shuffling the deck of cards. While so doing I happened to notice a peculiar metallic speck at the upper right hand corner of the top pasteboard, which proved to be the king of clubs. It looked like a minute dot of some kind of aniline ink. The end of the room where we sat was rather dark, and there was a fixed lamp in the middle behind Cummings' chair that was kept burning day and night. The spot caught the gleam from this light and could only be seen when the card was held at a certain slant. From any of the other chairs it was entirely invisible. I was surprised, of course, and in running over the deck I soon found that all the face cards and aces were similarly spotted, some with one and some with two dots, the arrangement being different in each case.

"The discovery upset me completely, and I could see it was an equal bombshell to my two companions. We lay our heads together, and to make a long story short, we sent a steward after our lacemaking friend, and after a very brief but spicy preface gave him two minutes by the watch to disgorge his spoils. I must admit he carried it off pretty well. 'This looks considerably like a Welsh,' he said coolly, 'and if the deck is marked I know no more about it than you do. However, if you want your money back you can have it. A gentleman,' said he, 'always wishes to avoid a scene.' With that he counted out his winnings and made us good night.

"A year or so afterward I saw him at Saratoga and learned that he was a professional short card player, who made a business of working the Atlantic boats. To get back to the original point, the stuff he used in marking the deck was what is known as 'invisible ink,' and while it is seldom employed nowadays it can still be bought from any dealer in gambling tools. It has the peculiar property of being visible only by artificial light and when viewed from a certain angle. How and when Cummings did his marking and why he left the deck on the table are matters of mere conjecture. Letting me win the other fellow's money at the start off and then winding me up at the finish is easily understood. It's an old gambling trick and diverts suspicion."

He Changed His Mind.

"Her trouble is a nervous one," said the fashionable physician, "and you cannot do better than to humor her whims. Do not cross her in any way."

The husband looked troubled. "That is asking a good deal, doctor," he replied, "but I appreciate your disinterestedness in giving the advice."

"My disinterestedness?" "Yes; if I am not to be permitted to interpose an occasional objection to her plans, there is small prospect of an early payment of your bill."

"On second thought," returned the physician, "possibly a little wholesome restraint would be a good thing for her."

Resolution.

A German boy was reading a blood and thunder novel. Right in the midst of it he said to himself: "Now, this will never do. I got too much excited over it. I can't study so well after it. So here goes!" and he flung the book into the river. He was Fichte, the great German philosopher.

MATRON AND MAID.

May McCarty of New York is said to be the only bootblack in the country. She has her place in the Grand Central station and does a good business, mainly with women passengers.

Three women, the wives of famous husbands, have been awarded the honor of burial in Westminster abbey. They are Lady Palmerston, Lady Augusta Stanley, wife of Dean Stanley, and Mrs. Gladstone.

Mrs. Jane McMill Smith, new president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Indiana, is the wife of the private secretary of the late George M. Pullman. Her husband now owns the street car system of South Bend, Ind.

Mrs. Hawley, wife of the Connecticut senator, is an enthusiastic clubwoman. She served two terms as president of the Washington club and is prominently connected with several Washington hospitals and other charities.

Miss Alice Parsons, a Tulare county (Cal.) schoolteacher, saw a large bear going up the hillside near the ranch where she boarded. She picked up a Winchester, gave chase and, when within range, brought him down with a well directed shot.

Jane, Lady Carey, now over 100 years old, is not the only survivor of the guests present at the famous ball at Brussels given on the eve of charity by the Duchess of Richmond. The other is Lady Louisa Tighe.

Miss Marion Talbot, dead of the wound at the University of Chicago, has been giving the students some practical hints in cooking. She said in a recent lecture: "Ten per cent of the money Americans spend for food is utterly wasted. We certainly excel in the art of throwing things away."

The will of Mrs. Julia A. Harding, who died recently in Cambridge, Mass., gives $20,000 to the Cambridge hospital, a like amount to the Avon Place Home for Children in Cambridge, $10,000 to the Cambridge Associated Charities and $5,000 to the Congregational church of Winoski Falls, Vt.

When at home Mme. Patti, the great prima donna, entertains regularly, a private theatrical entertainment always being a feature of the evening, but she only sings during the visits of royalty. Her guests are not allowed to pay for the most trivial thing while visiting her; telegrams, letters and such matters are attended to at the expense of the hostess.

HIVE AND BEE.

The use of foundation saves a good deal of time and labor to the bees. Combs cost the bees about ten pounds of honey for every pound of comb.

It is a serious mistake to let a colony of bees become overstocked with drones. To secure the best results in beekeeping good, movable hives should be used. Guides for the brood frames and boxes need not be more than an inch in width. The life of the bees depends on the work it does. When it labors most, its life is shortest.

Bees should not be moved during the winter, nor should they be disturbed or molested in any way. Furtive workers will sometimes appear in queen colonies, which amounts to about the same thing as drone laying queens. They will lay eggs, but very irregularly, and a number of them will be found in each cell.

It sometimes happens that a colony goes into winter quarters with a large number of old or nearly worn out bees. In very cold weather these die and, falling, soon clog up the entrance to the hive. Unless they are removed the whole hive will be smothered.

HAZING.

The practice of raising American army officers on tobacco sauce at West Point may account in some measure for the many of them being "hot stuff."—Baltimore News.

Hazing and kidnapping have gone too far in the practical jokes of many colleges and schools. American students should be more strenuous in their studies and less strenuous in their horseplay.—New York Tribune.

Two facts are established by the Boos inquiry—hazing is forbidden by the authorities at West Point, and hazing at that point still flourishes. What then becomes of the boasted "discipline" of the institution? Obedience to orders is the essence of discipline.—New York World.

OUR PUSH.

At the beginning of the new century the United States stands at the head of the nations of the world as an exporting people.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The only world conquest in which the United States is concerned is the conquest of markets, and that is an affair of its people, not its government.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Our locomotive makers are getting contracts from India in the face of British opposition. It's the old story—the best goods for the lowest prices and with the quickest delivery. In other words, it's hustling progress versus glodling conservatism.

THE GRUMBLER.

You recommend many a man to your neighbor whom you would not trust yourself.

If the members of a family decide to be sensible for once and retire early, company is bound to come in and keep them up late.

It sometimes happens that a woman likes to play cards more to show her pretty hands and rings than for the excitement of the game.

When a lamp appears in the parlor and the woman says that she prefers it because it is so "cozy," it means that her husband has been making a big kick on the gas bill.

ANIMAL LIFE.

The nightingale's song can be heard at a distance of a mile.

A lion always places its head near the ground when roaring.

A sturgeon will live nearly two days out of water if its body be wrapped in wet cloth and the gills be occasionally moistened with water.

When taken young, the hedgehog may be completely tamed and familiar, allowing itself to be handled and associated with the dog and cat upon terms of perfect accord.

HERE'S AN EXPERT CASTER.

A Man on a Fishing Boat Who Knows How to Handle a Staker.

"The expert fly caster," said a city angler, "certainly does beautiful work, but I once saw an exhibition of lead casting that pleased me as much as the very finest casting of the fly. This was partly due, no doubt, to the fact that I was personally interested in the result, but without regard to that it was, all the same, very slick juggling with a sinker."

"This was one day on a fishing bank's boat off Seabright. My neighbor at the rail in swinging his line around to throw out got a bight of it around my hat, a soft felt, and lifted it gently off my head and dropped it over the side to fall in the water. It dropped lightly with the brim down and began floating away softly on the tide, the boat being anchored. Well, now, you know that I thought that some dolphin would be clipping the hat on his head next, or some mermaid be tying it around her chin for a sunbonnet. I never expected that I'd wear it again, when along comes the man that could cast a lead. Folks had been holier 'Hut overboard' and come along to see if he could pick it up."

"He was a man employed on the boat in some capacity, and I dare say he's there yet. He had a short, rat head, fish-jointed rods, and a long line on one of those big wooden reels; sinker and hooks on the end of the line. He was fishing himself. By the time he'd hooked it and got where he could make a cast of it the hat was 75 feet astern. He swung the lead around the tip of the rod and then he let her whizz, and I guess he missed the hat by about a foot."

"Well, then I gave the hat up for sure, because I didn't see how any living man could come any nearer to it than that at the distance, and now it was floating farther and farther away. But the expert lead caster reeled in and tried again, the hat being then a full 100 feet or more away. He swung the lead around and let her sizzle, and this time he dropped the line squarely across the top of that hat, beyond it, and then he towed the hat gently back and a man on the lower deck reached over and picked it up with a boat hook, and in a minute or two, after I had let it drip a little, I had it back on my head."

"I don't know who is just now the champion fly caster, but I don't doubt for a minute that the man on the fishing boat still holds the record in casting the lead."

THE FALLACY OF BOILS.

Don't Believe That These Confounded Boils Are Good Things.

"It is an unwholesome article of belief with most people that skin diseases are almost always catching, that they show that the sufferers themselves or their parents are not better than they should be, that they indicate that 'the blood is bad,' that they must be careful or you will 'drive it in,' and the patient will die if nothing more, and that a boil is worth $5 in doctors' bills saved. They are all wrong, and the medical profession who have been taught this, are equally wrong. On the very best medical authority," says Harvey Netherland in Ainslie's, "Not more than two or three of the hundred or so skin diseases catalogued are catching, and the chances are that the eruption is as innocent and as innocuous as a cold."

"If there is such a thing as 'bad blood,' medicine has not found it out. Next to nothing is known in regard to the condition of blood in disease. Chemical and microscopic study has utterly failed to show that there is any difference between the blood in health and the blood in cutaneous disorders. Certain of them are symptomatic of nervous breakdown, and imperfect digestion causes others. Tomatoes, bananas, strawberries, shellfish and other articles of diet, harmless to most of us, cause a rash to break out on others. Evidently the medical profession does not fear 'driving the disease in,' for the treatment for cutaneous affections is now wholly local.

"A boil is an acute inflammation of the tissues surrounding the hair follicle and is due to some infection of the follicle by a germ, generally the staphylococcus pyogenes aureus. I thought you might like to know the name. Boils come from the just and unjust, from those who have good blood and those who have bad blood. What forms inside the tormenting thing is not the strained out impurities of the blood, for pus does not exist in the blood. It is of local formation.

"A boil is not worth 5 cents, let alone $5. It is just what your untutored imagination says it is, a confounded nuisance. If anybody owed me $5 and could either pay it in cash or boils, whichever I preferred, I should take the cash every time, even at a discount. I think I should get more comfort that way."

A Corpse in the Game.

When the plague was prevalent in India, search parties went through the villages inspecting the houses with the idea of seeing that all cases of death by the plague were reported to the authorities. On entering a suspected house one day the inspectors saw a group of natives playing cards. Something in the appearance of one of the players attracted the attention of one of the inspectors, who placed his hand upon the man's shoulder. To his amazement the man swayed and fell to the floor.

Upon examination it was found that he had been dead some time, but in order to prevent the house marked as plague stricken the other inmates had concealed the fact of his death. Hearing that the inspecting party was approaching, they had hastily placed the body in a chair and put some cards in the dead hands. Then they had gathered about him as if both the quick and the dead were engaged in a game of cards.

A Queer Fish.

There is a quaint little fish which haunts the weed tracts of the gulf streams and there builds its nest and lays its eggs like a bird rather than a fish. This animal, the antennarians, imitates in color the weed it lives in and, like the chameleon, constantly changes its color.

PRESENTATION
TO O. B. HULIN

By His Fellow Members in Chatham Lodge No. 29, I. O. O. F.

On Tuesday afternoon a deputation from Chatham Lodge, No. 29, I. O. O. F., consisting of Grand Master O. L. Lewis, Isaac Smith, P. G., John Piggett, sr., P. G., and Chas. Austin, P. G., called on O. B. Hulin, P. G., at his residence on Head street. After congratulating him on his recovery from his recent severe illness, Past Grand Smith delivered an address expressing the appreciation of the Lodge for the great interest he has always taken in its welfare, and more particularly while chairman of the building committee. They all recognized that he had been undergoing his time in order to secure a building that would be a credit to Oddfellowship. As a small recognition of the valuable and freely given services, they asked his acceptance of the accompanying gift, a beautiful fur suit, consisting of a beaver cap and collar, and which was given with the hope Bro. Hulin would live many years to wear and enjoy them.

Bro. Hulin, although taken completely by surprise and weak from his recent illness, managed in a few well chosen words to thank the committee and desired them to convey to the Lodge his warmest thanks and to assure them that he would be found always ready to assist in any way possible the furtherance of the great principles of their beloved order.

HUMPTY DUMPTY
Will be presented at the Grand tonight (Wednesday) by one of the best companies that ever visited Chatham. The production will delight every one who sees it.

DOVER COUNCIL.

The council met Feb. 4th. The members were all present.

An address was read from Wilson, Kerr & Pike re Leon Martin's grievance.

A communication was read from Edwin Bell and 45 others asking to have a bridge built across Bear creek on Bear line in use 34th and 15th con. Alex Gordon, sr., who presented the petition, explained to the council the need of such a bridge.

From Chas. King asking that the N. S. 36 in 5th con. be detached from S. 8 No. 13 and added to S. 8 No. 4.

From John Piggitt claiming compensation for land re Ouellette drain.

The Chatham Dover twoline drain, the 18th Con. Road drain by-law, a by-law appointing commissioners for each of the four divisions and a by-law appointing a commissioner on the front connection mechanical drain were read and finally passed.

Moved by Wright and Grant, that Alex King be paid $11.33 for two sheep killed and one damaged by dogs, being two thirds value as per inspector.—Carried.

Moved by Trudell and Grant, that Chas. Cow be paid $7.50 for three cords of soft wood for the front connection mechanical drain.—Carried.

Moved by Crawford and Trudell, that a committee of the whole council be appointed to view the locality re bridge for over Bear creek on Bear line and report.—Carried.

Moved by Crawford and Wright, that Joseph Lewis be paid $6.00 for one sheep killed and two damaged by dogs being two thirds value as per inspector.—Carried.

Moved by Wright and Grant, that the matter of setting two trees on Bear line road be referred to Mr. Crawford with power and report.—Carried.

Moved by Wright and Grant, that the grievance of John Piggitt be referred to the Reeve and Mr. Trudell to investigate and report.—Carried.

THE MARKETS

CHATHAM GRAIN MARKET.

Planet Office Tuesday evening February 12.

John Waddell, of J. B. Stringer &amp; Co., gives The Planet the following grain gossip:

Wheat—Market continues steady at the price that has ruled since the early fall, namely, 65 cents.

Coarse grains—Oats, barley and corn—Offerings are in fair evidence with prices unchanged from last week. Barley is not very active, but corn and oats are, the demand for the latter being exceedingly strong.

Beans—The quietness of the past few weeks still prevails. Receipts are not large and it is not expected that they will be for the balance of this season, as what remains of the crop in the farmers' hands is considered very small. Street values range from $1.10 to $1.25.

Dressed Hogs—The supply is very light. This has been the case for several weeks past. To-day there is a firmer feeling, both for dressed and live hogs. The buyers are paying $7 or better for desirable weights.

Wheat, 65c.
White oats, 25 1/2 to 26 1/2c.
Mixed oats, 24 1/2 to 25 1/2c.
