SNOWSTORM IN MANITOBA.

WORST BLIZZARD KNOWN IN SEPTEMBER.

All the Grain Uncut Destroyed—Telegraph Wires Down and Communication Interrupted—Wide Extent of the Storm.

Winnipeg, Sept. 14.—The central and western portions of Manitoba were visited yesterday by probably the worst storm ever experienced in the month of September. The heavy rain of Thursday and Friday suddenly turned to sleet and snow, and this, combined with a heavy wind, developed one of the liveliest September blizzards on record. Telegraph wires are down in all directions westward, making communication impossible, but the message details gathered from travellers reaching the city by delayed trains to-day show that the snowfall was general from the boundary line to the northern part of the Province, with Portage la Prairie and Morden on the eastern limit line.

Over three hundred telegraph poles are reported down between Carberry and Warden, and a large number between Gladstone and Minnedosa. The only points to be reached by wire are on the southwestern branch to Deseronto. The snow is reported to be from three to ten inches deep at some points on the railway north and west of Carberry. A small percentage of the wheat crop is still uncut and will be a total loss, as the heavy snow has flattened out the fields. All thrashing and harvesting operations are delayed. The storm is by no means conf. of the crop is still in the stock, but it is not expected that much damage will be done unless rainy and wet weather continues.

Greta.—A heavy rain set in about 5 o'clock on Saturday morning and continued up till 11 o'clock that evening. Over one inch of water fell within these few hours. Only about 10 per cent. of grain remains unthreshed, and that is mostly oats and barley. The wheat crop is saved in good condition.

MR. TARTE ACCEPTS.

Will Speak at Mr. Monk's Meeting at Laprairie.

Montreal, Sept. 14.—Mr. Tarte has accepted an invitation to attend a political meeting called by Mr. Monk, M.P. for Laprairie and Napierville, at Laprairie next Saturday. Mr. Monk, in his letter of invitation to Mr. Tarte, announced that he would be accompanied by Mr. Bourassa, and he invited Mr. Tarte to bring his friends with him. Mr. Tarte said: "I thank you for the invitation, which I accept with pleasure. I shall go along to your meeting. I said at Berthierville that the fiscal policy of our country is of such importance that, in my opinion, it is important that it be discussed irrespective of ordinary party lines. I am glad you have been good enough to invite me to your meeting on September 19th."

LAI D TO REST

STRONG STAFF OF OFFICERS

West Kent Conservatives Proceeding with the Work of Organization.

The Selection of a Candidate Postponed—Short and Spirited Addresses.

President — Herbert S. Clements, Chatham.
First Vice-President — Dr. S. G. Storey, Blenheim.
Second Vice-President — W. Stanley Ball, Chatham.
Secretary — S. B. Arnold, Chatham.
Treasurer — A. J. Dunn, Chatham.
Executive Committee—W. H. Clements, Dover; Ledson Pardo, Raleigh; M. J. Wilson, Harwich; John Cooper, Tilbury Tp.; John Edwards, Romney; Geo. Chalmers, Tilbury village.
The above is the full corps of energetic and hustling officers chosen by the West Kent Conservatives at their convention on Saturday.
At the conclusion of the election of officers short and spirited addresses were delivered by President Clements, Dr. Storey, S. B. Arnold, Henry Linley, W. K. Merrifield, A. F. Falls and others relative to the work of the organization.
The matter of selecting a candidate was, on motion, unanimously

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Winnipeg Traveller Shot at St. Pierre, Man.

Winnipeg, Sept. 14.—A double tragedy occurred late on Friday night at St. Pierre, a village about twelve miles east of Morris, in which a Winnipeg man was shot to death and his murderer committed suicide. The murdered man was Arthur Breton, familiarly known among his associates as "Kid" Breton, who was employed as a travelling agent for the Manitoba Cream Separator Company, and the man who killed him was a half-breed, 70 years of age, named Joseph Contois, who followed the avocation of a carpenter in the village. Breton visited Contois' house at night, and a quarrel ensued, during which Contois drew a revolver and shot Breton dead. Contois was shortly afterwards arrested, and after being locked up he drew the same weapon with which he had murdered Breton, which had not been taken from him, and shot himself in the head, dying instantly. But few particulars of the trouble which led to the tragedy could be obtained, but it is said that Breton was addicted to over-indulgence in his cup, and then was a very troublesome person. It is supposed that he went to Contois' house under the influence of drink and commenced a quarrel, and that the old man, in self-defence, killed the disturber, and afterwards, realizing what had happened, took his own life. Breton leaves a wife and four children.

COAL LEASE ANNULLED.

Payment of $2,635,000 to Steel Company.

Montreal, Sept. 14.—Subject to the approval of the shareholders, the directors of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company have arrived at the following understanding with the Dominion Coal Company respecting the surrender of the lease of its property. The coal company is to pay to the steel company $2,635,000, to assume the current liabilities for wages, supplies, etc., of the coal department of the steel company's business, and is to receive the benefit of the current cash assets of the business, consisting of accounts receivable, coal on hand and in transit stores. These are all good value, and the net amount which they should realize after payment of the current liabilities would be about $1,500,000.

The coal company therefore pays and the steel company receives a sum of about $1,100,000 as a consideration for the surrender of the lease and for the revision of the contract for the supply of coal hereafter mentioned.

Don't imagine that all your neighbors need reforming.

confined to Manitoba, as it extended to the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and a portion of the Northwest Territories. There has been no damage in the district immediately adjacent to Winnipeg.

The following advices have been received from Manitoba points:—
Neepawa—It is well within the mark to say that this portion of Manitoba experienced on Saturday the most unreasonable snowstorm that has ever been seen by any living resident. Beginning with a drizzling rain in the early morning, it developed into a snowstorm before noon. The wind blew stronger and the temperature got lower as the afternoon advanced, and from 3 to 9 o'clock the storm was very severe. Business was at a standstill, and the electric light and telephone services were demoralized. Travelling was impossible. No damage was sustained in town, except to windmills, chimneys and other elevated portions of buildings, but everybody felt gloomy, and feared the farmers' grain and roaming animals would be destroyed. These feelings by no means subsided with the storm, which ceased soon after midnight. Many are yet apprehensive, but your correspondent has made an inspection of some grain fields, and is convinced that if favorable weather prevails for the balance of the season the only deterioration in wheat will be in the color. Practically all the wheat is in stock. Very little stacking and no thrashing has been done, and but a small percentage of the crop was uncut. The latter portion, it is feared, will be a total loss. It will be fully a week before anything can be done in the harvest fields. So much delay at this season of the year is a serious matter, especially if the weather continues unfavorable; but with good weather for one month the great storm will pass into history with no unhappy remembrances.
Hartney—Following a light rain a snowstorm struck this district about 10 o'clock on Saturday morning. A high wind and soft snow continued till midnight, the stooks, stacks, fields and roofs being covered and business was suspended. The storm was very severe for a time. Considerable damage, it is feared, will result.
Carberry—A heavy snowstorm swept over this district this morning about 11 o'clock. It turned into snow, and everything is coated. About 20 per cent church rendered several selections at the house. The Ancient Order of Foresters, marshalled by W. H. Bensen, attended in a body. They also conducted their burial service at the house and at the grave. William S. Bell, assisted by William Henry Clements and James MacLean had charge of the A. O. F. burial service. The late J. Hampson Holmes joined the Juvenile Court, A. O. F., and ten years ago was transferred to Court Unity.

The pall bearers were Jos. Spencer, of Court Unity, J. W. Aitken, Will Foreman, Chas. Ayres, Will Holmes and John W. Young.

The floral tributes were many, including a pillow from the family, emblem from the A. O. F., wreath from Football Club, gates ajar from Grandmother Baxter, spray of asters and lilies from Mrs. Kingsmill, star from John Alexander, wreath from Mrs. Sam Holmes, anchor from Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Baxter, present from Mr. and Mrs. Liddy, wreath from Crown Attorney, Magistrate and Police, wreath from Henry Robinson, spray from Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Strong, spray from Miss Baxter, wreath from Mr. and Mrs. James Graves.

A FORGER'S FATE.

Issued a Bogus Check—Gets Two Years at the Central.

Kingston, Sept. 14.—At the Police Court Saturday J. W. Kinnis, arrested Friday evening for issuing a forged check on Lewis Martin, hotel-keeper, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the Central Prison for two years. The prisoner formerly kept a hotel in St. Louis. He was wanted at Cobourg and Belleville also for giving out worthless checks.

Sailed For Home.

New York, Sept. 12.—Sir Thomas Lipton's chartered ocean-going tug Cruiser sailed to-day for Liverpool. The Cruiser came over with the Shamrock III. and the Erin. Wm. Fife, designer of Shamrock I. and III. and the crew of the recent cup challenger sailed for Europe on the steamship Codrington of the White Star Line yesterday.

left over until a later date, when the boundaries of the constituency shall have been decided upon.

Notes of thanks were passed to the retiring officers and the gathering broke up with cheers for the King and Leaders Borden and Whitney.

ARMENIANS KILLED.

Serious Conflicts Between Soldiers and Mob.

Tiflis, Russian Transcaucasia, Sept. 14.—Seven persons were killed and twenty-seven wounded in an encounter between several thousand Armenians and the police and troops which occurred yesterday at an Armenian church near Elizabethopol. The Armenians met to protest against the transfer of the Armenian church property to the civil administration, under an imperial decree issued on June 25. They proposed to resist the execution of the law, and refused to heed the remonstrances of the police. Stones and other missiles were thrown, and troops were called out, the arrival of whom incensed the mob. The throwing of missiles became more general, and revolvers were used, one policeman and a soldier being wounded. The soldiers thereupon fired and dispersed the mob.

INTO NIAGARA RAPIDS.

Man, Believed to be John Whybra, Jumped From Steel Bridge.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Sept. 14.—Late yesterday a man climbed over the railing of the lower steel arch bridge and leaped into the rapids, 100 feet below. John Whybra, a hack driver, is missing, and it is believed that it was he who committed suicide. He told a friend that he would kill himself, and when last seen he was walking towards the bridge. Whybra lived on Fifth street with a wife and five children. His parents live across the river. He was about fifty years of age. The body probably will never be recovered.

Killed by a Policeman.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Frank Kotckel, 21, was shot and killed early this morning by special constable Shook. Kotckel resisted arrest, and it is alleged, fired a revolver at the officer. Shook drew his revolver and fired, the bullet entering Kotckel's brain.

THE COMING CAMPAIGN

The Liberal-Conservative Association of West Kent is to be congratulated on its choice of officers for the coming campaign. The staff of young men will carry into the contest all the vigor and enthusiasm of buoyant and confident youth, backed by the advisory co-operation of the stalwart veterans whose experience gives their counsel weight and makes their efforts tell.

In Herbert S. Clements, Dr. S. G. Storey, W. Stanley Ball, S. B. Arnold and Arthur J. Dunn - aided by a strong working executive picked from all the municipalities - Conservatives of this district have a corps of officers who will prove themselves worthy of the confidence so unanimously placed in them. They will bring into requisition all the spirited impetuosity, indefatigable energy and undaunted enthusiasm of vigorous young manhood. They will work - and make their work tell.

It is now the duty of every loyal Conservative to rally round these men. They cannot do it all - and they should never want for willing workers in the ranks. Send them into the campaign fired with the spirit of victory that must result from the practical assurance of an active, loyal and united following.

The party has yet an important duty to perform in the selection of a candidate. Conscientious care must be exercised in the choice, and the convention on Saturday did well to avoid undue haste or indiscretion in this all-important consideration.

There is never much hope of beating a man - be it for premier or for pound-keeper - unless you have got a man to beat him with.

An issue without a man would hardly do it, for an issue has color and force only as the man representing it has color and force. A man without an issue might do it, because a man of character is in himself a powerful issue. The man's the thing.

This fact must appeal to the Conservatives of West Kent. The party policy is clearly defined. It is strong, vigorous, progressive - a policy of development, of integrity, of nation-building. It is a policy of which Canadians are proud.

It is, then, the duty of our Conservative colleagues in this constituency to produce the man worthy to champion these potent issues; the man who will give the force and vitality of character to the cause; the man whose personal worth will augment the strength, sagacity and stability of the principles he represents.

Such is the man who will win West Kent.

Least we forget, this is the 472nd day of the North Renfrew vacancy.

Gentlemen of the City Council and Board of Trade, a word in your ear. What are you doing to bring the Pere Marquette car shops to Chatham?

WHICH IS NO JOKE.
 Toronto News.
 Ontario is becoming a land of freedom for convicted prisoners.

ONE EXPLANATION.
 Hamilton Spectator.
 Another prisoner has escaped from custody in Toronto. A continuation of this sort of thing will lead to the suspicion that some officers have had their palms greased and are, in consequence, unable to hold a prisoner.

MODERN GIRLS TRAINING.
 London World.
 As for education, that of the present generation of girls is neither fish, flesh, nor fowl. It provides neither the pedantic and refining influences of a Jane-Austen standard of propriety nor the stern moral discipline which makes of our boys self-reliant and honorable men.

WHERE?
 St. Marys Journal.
 The other evening the editor of this paper met a party of four small boys, probably between the ages of eight and twelve years, walking on Queen street. Now we do not propose to write a long homily on the evils of cigarette smoking because that would not turn the small boy from his evil way and would likely have little effect on his parent, but we would just like those in authority to find out where St. Marys youngsters buy their cigarettes.

IS A SCANDAL.
 Montreal Gazette.
 It is a scandal that a weak Government should, in fear of the results of its weakness, deprive a section of the people of their representation in the law-making assembly. It is something that, were public opinion properly aroused, would not be accepted from a strong Government. It is permitted only because too many think more of their political party's

TO VISIT UNITED STATES.

British Home Squadron May Return Visit of U. S. Ships.

London, Sept. 12. - The Admiralty officials say they have no information on the subject of the Press Association's report that the home squadron will visit the United States. On the other hand, the Foreign Office says something of the kind has been talked about, but it has no details. Nothing is known of the proposed visit at the United States Embassy, except that some return visit is likely to be made in the ordinary course of international courtesies, in view of the American squadron's visit to Portsmouth.

The home squadron is commanded by Vice-Admiral Sir Arthur K. Wilson, and has just returned from a successful participation in the naval manoeuvres. It will sail September 16 for a six-week cruise around Scotland. Shortly afterwards, according to the announcement, the squadron will sail for America.

The British home squadron consists of the first-class battleships Benbow, Empress of India, Hood, Revenge, Royal Oak, Royal Sovereign and Sans Pareil, the second-class battleship Anson, the first-class cruisers Edgar and Hawke, the second-class cruisers Dido, Mersey and Venus, and several other powerful cruisers.

The Annual Kansas Fall.

From Kansas comes the same old story that has been enacted and re-enacted every succeeding summer for forty-six years.

July 6th - Hot - still hotter - no rain - corn shooting - hot winds - no rain - everything burning up - grass all gone - howling hot winds - no rain - earth cracking open - cattle starving - stock ponds gone dry - driving cattle six miles to water - prairies ready to burn - everything gone - hot - hot - hot - farmers cutting up corn - gizzards of the cat-fish in the bottom of the Walnut baked to a seal brown.

August 1st - Will have to organize an aid society - not enough stuff in the country to winter a calf.

September 10th - Corn looks better - it lives - has a few rubbins - prairie grass a ton to the acre - cattle rolling fat.

September 30th - Two and three ears of corn to the stalk - step-ladders to pick the ears - thirty and forty and sixty bushels to the acre - money wanted - to buy cattle - to get up the tremendous corn crop - to get on to Colorado, Texas, and New Mexico hunting cattle to feed. More corn - more grass - more cattle.

Thanksgiving - Everybody wallowing in wealth - more farms - more land - more pianos - more carriages - better homes - more girls and boys off to the colleges - more money to loan at lowest rates of interest, and there you have it, and besides, it's all true - every word of it. - "El Dorado Republican."

A New Armada Story.

The late Duke of Argyll got his heart on dredging Tobermory Bay, Scotland, in search of the wreck of the Spanish Armada ship, "Admiral of Florence," blown up there in 1588. About a hundred years ago various relics were recovered, but since then no real effort has been made to solve the secrets which the sea has kept so well. The present Duke has now taken the matter in hand. He has made arrangements with a Glasgow captain and a well-known diver is making a preliminary search. This has been, so far, successful. A bronze cannon, five feet long, bearing the Aragon arms, and the date, 1569, has been landed, together with a pistol and sword, encrusted with rust as to appear mere shapeless masses. There is, therefore, ample evidence that the "Admiral of Florence," or all that remains of her, really rests below the waters of the harbor. This ship bore one of the treasure chests of the Armada, and thousands of Spanish doubloons are believed to lie among her debris. If the treasure should be hit upon, as it well may be, the old Duke's convictions will be amply justified, and yet another page will be added to the romance of the Armada story.

WRITES FROM MAPLE CITY

Interesting and Entertaining Letter from pen of Rev. Wm. Farquharson

Writes the Durham Paper Many Historic Incidents About Our Town.

The Planet clips the following interesting letter, from the pen of Rev. Wm. Farquharson, from a recent issue of the Durham Chronicle. It was written during a short vacation spent in the Maple City:

Chatham, August 22, 1903. To the Editor of The Chronicle:

I am once more on the banks of the Thames, a few miles from the scene of the final struggle in the ill starred expedition of Proctor, when nearly a hundred years ago Tecumseh and his braves rendered their names illustrious. When I was here last year there was drawn up on the opposite bank of the river the hull of one of the British gunboats, which had been burnt to the water's edge to prevent its capture by the victorious Americans. I am told it was sold to an enterprising firm to be made into canes and ornaments as souvenirs of the struggles of the past. The hull of the other gunboat still lies at the bottom of the river to await a like resurrection and transformation should there prove to be money enough in the venture.

Many changes have taken place since those stirring days; only by an effort of the imagination can we think of the present country as a solid forest surrounding with the Indian war whoop but through all the changes of men and all the transformations of the country, Chatham still retains its reputation as the land of mud. A history might be written recording the struggles to overcome its power. There was the primitive corduroy, then the closely laid plank road, then the gravel, followed by Macadam, pressed down by steam rollers, but the corduroy and plank rotted and gravel and macadam were of the deep mud, which as the eye of old time, was hungry as the ever. Still human device struggled for a remedy and in turn cedar blocks, asphalt, cobble stones, etc., were tried, but all in vain—the crossings over those streets were such as the waves of the August Sea never produced. For a time, indeed, it seemed as if citizens and aldermen were resigning themselves in grim despair to the inevitable. But of late years the hope has been awakened that even Chatham's process of renovation to the depth of a foot or more—lay in this bed a thick flooring of cement and then place on top of that a pavement of vitrified brick cemented together with asphalt. So far it seems as if at last success were to crown their efforts though not without a heavy load being laid on the taxpayer, but so fearful were the former conditions that the high rates scarcely provoked a grumble.

As if encouraged by the renovation of the streets, the merchants have all of a sudden awakened to the desirability of beautifying their buildings. A great improvement in architecture is noticeable during the last few years. Things have changed since the disreputable "Pork Row" used to grace the centre of the town, and now plate glass and artistic decoration testify that Chatham has at last awakened to the consciousness that it is no longer a country town but one of the rising cities of the Dominion.

HELD UP WITH PISTOLS.
Speaking of the old days in Chatham, a very amusing story is told in connection with the visit of Albert Edward, Prince of Wales in 1860, which by the way may have been less amusing to the original actors than to the present readers. It seems that the design was that the Prince should proceed from Detroit without stop to London, but on the pressing invitation of the citizens of Chatham he arranged to stop to be presented with a pair of Derringer pistols. The changed program was everywhere announced, and Chatham and the surrounding country turned out, as was estimated, to the number of twenty thousand. In due time the royal train arrived and the Prince appeared. The orator on the platform with his address in his pocket felt his heart beat as if the chance of his life had come. Mayor and aldermen strutted about with all the weight of dignity that could carry. There were brief introductions—hearty cheers from the crowd, then a pause—a painful pause—but the orator never drew out his speech, for why! it was discovered at the last moment that no pistols were there to present. Each looked on the other till too said the train and the Prince was gone. The Chatham Planet of that date declares that "the Prince of Wales was, no doubt, fully ten minutes standing on the platform of the Royal car awaiting the pistols and at last was compelled to go away without them." Who was responsible for this fiasco it is hard to say, though it seems to have been the result of jealousies regarding the places of honor for the occasion, but if it is to be believed it was thought a very funny thing by His Royal Highness, who is said on a recent occasion to have recalled the incident to a Canadian representative as one of the amusing incidents of royal travelling.

DITCHING AND CEMENT.
The country around is steadily advancing, new difficulties arising with every step of progress. It is a long time since we, as boys, used to listen to our genial neighbor, Mr. John Kerr, and my father evening after evening discuss "draining of the creeks." The initiative in this movement was taken by the Sanfield McDougal Government in 1870 and the work of digging began a year later. Already the ditch making has outgrown the furthest reach of imagination, indulged in in those nightly discussions. Drains have grown almost to the dimensions of corrals, and with the growth has come a corresponding development in the only pick and spade but even the plow and scraper are being superseded. For the larger drains the present digger is a steam dredge which runs on track laid in the bottom of the drain, which cuts its way through, cutting up a mound to the right and to the left.

A serious difficulty is presenting itself as to the supply of materials for the many bridges required. Till lately the material invariably used was wood, but present prices rule larger bridges constructed with steel abutments of stone, which was imported from Amherstburg, and girders of steel, but the stone proved very expensive. At present the materials in general use are cement and steel. For smaller culverts tiles are being put in, while for the larger spans the abutments are made of cement and the space spanned with steel girders. The question as to whether plank or cement with a netting of wire through its centre, is the better for the probability of the preference being ultimately for the cement. Thus there is every prospect of a steadily increasing demand for cement from all this region. Perhaps it may surprise you to hear it, but in the circles in which I have been moving, Durham cement is practically unknown, while the opinion is general that all Canadian brands are inferior to the American. The inquiry at the custom house elicits the information that notwithstanding all the new mills that are at work, the stream of importation is as large as ever.

CROPS AND FRUIT.
Crops in this section are, on the whole good, though the cold, rainy season has proved unfavorable for corn. The section known as the "plains," which a few years ago was drained by a system of pumping, is the admiration of every visitor. On the land, where formerly the mosquito pecked out shrill treble to the accompaniment of the deep bass of the periodic pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from disease. It establishes regularity, tries weakening drains, heals inflammation, ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. T. Dolan, of Madrid, Perkins Co., Neb., writes: "I was cured of my period by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I think his Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the best in the world."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept of a substitute or an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

the frog, are now waving fields of oats and corn. An enterprising farmer has introduced into this land the culture of the peach, and prides himself this season in the possession of thirteen hundred trees, all laden with the luscious fruit. In this "plains land" everything is on a large scale. There are large ditches, large pumps, large fields, large corn stalks, large orchards, large weeds, and, we may add, large talk, and yet the latter is in a measure excusable when talk and schemes are crowned with success.

RAILWAYS.
As railway matters are up for consideration at present it may be interesting to note the immense difference a level road and straight track make to the haulage power of an engine. The other day I counted seventy-nine cars after one engine, and a thoroughly reliable informant tells me that as many as one hundred and nine cars have been couched in one train. Of course the engines are heavy, but you could not imagine the largest engine taking such a load over our track.

But I have already written at too great a length to permit me to say that I have had a fine holiday, made all the more delightful by my finding a goodly number of ministers at their work, their holiday being over at an earlier date, thus giving the opportunity of both seeing and hearing them.

Ever yours,
WM. FARQUHARSON.

THE GODDING COMEDY CO.
The Godding Comedy Co. open their week's engagement at the Grand tonight. The following is a press notice taken from the Enquirer, of Battle Creek, on Sept. 5:—

Last night the Godding Comedy Co. presented "A Soldier's Sweetheart" to the largest audience of the week, the S. R. G. sign being displayed at ten minutes after eight.

The company has made a decided hit with the Hamblin patrons and last night's bill seemed to please the large audience as well as any the company have yet offered.

Fred Godding, as usual, was extremely clever in his part and caught the audience from the start. In short, each and every member of the company added to the evening's entertainment. The specialties were all clever and several encores were neatly responded to by the artists.

Mr. Godding's part seemed to fit him to perfection and he played it with a dash and vim that was refreshing throughout.

Mr. Clyde B. Callicotte and Mr. R. S. Ewer, as far above the run of repertoire actors, and Edith Prettyman and Ruth Niverr more than sustained their parts.

The double singing and dancing specialty by Messrs. Russell and Burke brought the house down and several encores were necessary before this versatile team could get away.

Ladies' free tickets for to-night's performance; regular prices 10, 20 and 30c.

DIED IN CHICAGO

The following, from an Ingersoll paper, is an account of the sudden death in Chicago of John McKenzie, brother of Dan McKenzie, of this city:

About five o'clock Saturday afternoon Mr. McKenzie left his boarding house, remarking at the time to his landlady that he was going to call on one of his sisters on the south side of the city, and that he might not be back until Monday. He proceeded to the residence of Mrs. Caswell, also formerly of Ingersoll, where he had supper. He then appeared hearty and was in the best of spirits. About ten o'clock he departed for home, mentioning then that he had to go to work early next morning.

On Sunday morning Mr. McKenzie's landlady rapped at his door as was her custom. Again Monday morning she rapped at the door of his room and again she failed to get a reply. This being Labor Day, she thought that he might have decided to remain with his friends. But on Tuesday morning when she again called at his room and found it as silent as ever she became alarmed. Drawing a chair up to the door she peered through the transom and was startled to find Mr. McKenzie lying in bed cold in death.

On a physician being summoned inflammation of the kidneys was assigned as the cause of death.

Tannin in ordinary teas runs all the way from twenty to thirty per cent. In Blue Ribbon Ceylon Tea it never goes over eight per cent.—the average is six. For that reason it is not injurious to children or people of delicate constitution. It does not affect the flow of the saliva, or does it injure the digestion or action of the bowels. HOME FROM TRIP ABROAD

Dr. McKeough Returned Yesterday Much Improved in Health.

He Chats Entertainingly About Subjects that the British Public are Discussing.

Dr. McKeough returned yesterday from Europe and is looking splendid. His trip has done him a world of good and his friends were all glad to see him come back looking so well. Speaking to The Planet this morning the doctor said:—

"Yes, I had a glorious trip. This has been my third trip to Europe and I seem to enjoy the trip the more each time. The world isn't so large that you won't meet somebody you know. At Edinburgh I met Mrs. E. W. Van Allen and her two children, and in all the places of interest I visited I saw the signatures of Dr. Hattisby, Miss Hattisby, Mr. and Mrs. Manson Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Stone, in the visitors' book, but I was not fortunate enough to catch up with the Chatham party. They are booming Canada in England, and you will hear Canada spoken of fifty times now where you never heard this good Dominion mentioned before. The prosperity of this country seems to be the general subject of conversation in England just now. There is always a large crowd gathered around the windows of the Canadian emigrant office, where are exhibits of Canadian products. The crush is so great that the police have to move the crowd along. It will take some time for the people to become educated to Chamberlain's new fiscal policy, if they ever do. Scotland is very much opposed to it. Even the Conservatives do not favor it. It is pretty certain that Chamberlain's policy will not carry, and it will take a long time to convince the people of it. The election in Argyleshire showed that the agricultural section is opposed to it, and manufacturing places are of the same opinion. I learned this in conversation with some of the leading manufacturers of Glasgow.

The foreign office in the empire of the Kaiser is alive to the progress of Canada and are gathering information as to the resources of this Dominion. I met a gentleman from Winnipeg in Berlin, who, at the request of the German foreign office, had secured a passport for giving information about Western Canada. It is to be hoped that the tariff war between Germany and Canada will soon be settled. The Germans are a clever people and there should be nothing allowed to happen that is likely to in any way retard the emigration of German citizens to Canada."

"Put out the fire in a hot, itching skin with Weaver's Cerate. Use it for eczema, nettle rash, tetter and salt rheum. It relieves pain and removes disfigurement."

Sad Matrimonial Mix-up of a Young Farmer From Raleigh—Perjury Charged.

Harry Crossby, a young colored man of Raleigh, Township, is in trouble, and like all troubles, there is a woman at the bottom of it. Crossby married Emma Wellington, last week, and now Crossby is in the toils as a result of that wedding. It is alleged by the girl's father that she is only 16, whereas when Crossby got the marriage license he swore the girl was 18 years old. Now the young groom, who acknowledges he is 20 years old, finds himself in serious trouble, being charged with perjury. Crossby says that the girl told him she was 16 years old and that her dad was well satisfied till some other interfered and turned Mr. Wellington. He blames knockers for the sad termination of his happy honeymoon. Crossby was arraigned this morning and released on $200 bail furnished by Crossby, Sr.

The Scotsman on Seizure of British Islands.

New York, Sept. 14.—The Evening Post has the following from London.—News of the British official representations to Washington regarding the seizures of islands off Borneo had a calming effect upon the British, and especially upon the Scottish commercial interests involved. The Scotsman, which is still Scotland's first journal, was quite nasty in its tone yesterday. It said that it passed the wit of man to understand how such a seizure could be made in error, and added: "Let any one try to imagine what would have been said if a British warship, even by inadvertence, had seized a fragment, no matter how small, of one of the new American protectorates, if the mistake had been repeated in the course of six weeks, as this American mistake has been repeated! There would have been a shout for war. The claim to have the supreme say in the western hemisphere should make American commanders more than usually chary and cautious in snapping up unconsidered trifles of islands or other territory in the other half of the world, where the ground, for the most part, has been long ago appropriated. They cannot imagine that, while claiming the new hemisphere as in principle an American preserve, they may seize what they have a mind to in the old. Blunders like those reported in Sandakan and Darvel Bay might be overlooked as due to inexperience in the art of annexation, but if they should be repeated often they will seem to have a method in them."

BRITISH TRANSPORT LOST?

Ship Conveying Regiment to India Said to Have Foundered.

London, Sept. 14.—An unconfirmed rumor is current that a transport carrying a British regiment to India foundered in the gale which swept the British coast last Thursday.

LOSS OF THE MERSEY.

Verdict Holding Connolly, Gagnon and Barras Responsible.

London, Sept. 14.—The inquest on the victims of the disaster to the tug Mersey, which foundered on the lower St. Lawrence, a month ago, while en route to Seven Islands, terminated at Sandy Bay, Matine county, when a verdict was rendered holding Michael Connolly, proprietor; Hyppolite Gagnon, captain, and Barras, second mate of the Mersey, responsible for the death of the five victims. Warrants have been sworn out against Connolly, Gagnon and Barras.

Burglars at Sault Ste. Marie.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 12.—The office of Speers & Anderson's cold-storage warehouse was entered by burglars during last night and the safe blown open, apparently by nitroglycerine. The office was considerably damaged from the explosion, and the safe completely wrecked. The work was apparently that of professionals, who secured nothing for their trouble.

CHURCH TO MEET. Claire Monteith sang a solo at each service in the First Presbyterian Church yesterday, and his singing was highly appreciated. At the morning service he sang Kipling's "Recessional," and at the evening service he gave an excellent rendition of "Hear ye Not, O Israel." The church was crowded at the organ and played in a most satisfactory manner. The retiring pastor, the Rev. W. E. Knowles, preached at both services in his usual able and forcible style. Fred Stone read the resolution from the Presbytery appointing Tuesday morning as the day which the Presbytery had appointed for a conference with the congregation. Mr. Stone also announced that there would be a meeting of the congregation held in the church Monday night. LUNCH BOX PAPER. Pure parchment paper, suitable for lunch box wrapping, for sale at The Planet Office. Ten Cents worth will be enough for an ordinary family for weeks.

A MARKED CENT.

The Odd Way It Came Back to the Man Who Lost It.

Take an ordinary copper cent piece, stamp it with a private mark, put it into circulation, and what are the chances that you will ever see it again?

In 1804, he says, he found a cent piece, dated 1803, in the restaurant of the Lafayette hotel. He pocketed it for luck and as a memento of a jolly little dinner scratched his initials on it just over the feathered head, while on the cheek he added those of the hotel. Until 1896 he treasured the coin, then drew it out of his pocket with a handful of other change and before he realized it the cent piece had gone the mysterious way of all money.

A year ago he chanced, being of a curious turn of mind, to fall into conversation one evening with a professional beggar at Broad and Chestnut streets. He upbraided the man for getting so much money for nothing.

"Oh," said the beggar, "I don't get so much. That's all I've got in the last hour." And he held up a cent piece.

At that moment the electric light fell upon the coin, and the business man, to his amazement, caught sight of the letters "H. L." on the cheek of the face. He took the coin and examined it more closely. Sure enough, there were his own initials just above the feathers where he had placed them a half dozen years before.

At once his prejudice against begging vanished.

"I'll give you a dollar for that coin!" he cried.

The beggar grew wary at this eagerness and demanded $5. Needless to say, he got it and also of course the cent piece has never since left the business man's watch chain, which it now adorns.

Singers' High Salaries.

Heinrich Conried, who has had so much difficulty in arranging the salaries of his artists that he declares their engagement to be the most difficult part of the work of putting on grand opera, has an explanation for the origin of the exorbitant prices demanded by foreign singers when America is mentioned to them. A number of years ago he was in Europe engaging artists for his comic opera company. He offered a certain singer $200 a week to come with him to America. The singer had been used to getting about a third of that sum and was on the point of accepting when he was approached by Max Seidl and asked his price. He at once demanded $300 and finally compromised on $250. When he came to read the contract he found that, after the American fashion, he had been engaged for $250 a performance and not for that amount per week. Fearing that Mr. Seidl might change his mind and try to break the contract, he took the first boat for New York and was on the ground two months before the opening of the season.

Girls in Turkey.

In a recent book on his native country an intelligent Turk writes: "Formerly girls in Turkey were not allowed to learn the mystery of calligraphy. We have had some excellent poetesses who could write; they dictated their inspirations. The common explanation given of this traditional prohibition—for it is a custom rather than a rule—was that the girls once learned writing they might have indulged in talismanic practices and eventually have become witches. As a matter of fact, the real reason was quite different. There was a fear, perhaps not ill founded, that, having once learned to write, they might hasten to make use of the accomplishment by composing love letters to young men with whom they could not otherwise communicate, for the strict seclusion of females cuts off all intercourse between young people of opposite sexes almost as soon as they have ceased to be infants."

The Unconquered Boers.

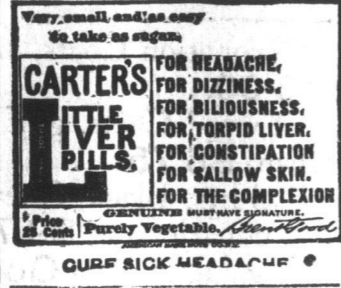

A party of unconquered Boers has just arrived in Batavia, traveling to a Dutch colony under the auspices of a Boer relief fund committee. The government has assigned an abandoned estate for them to settle upon as small cultivators. These Boers will be utilized for experimental purposes. There is much distress among the lower class of Europeans and Eurasians in Java. Many of them seek grants of land on easy terms, on which they could start cultivation in a small way. As most of them have no experience in farming, the government hesitates to put them on the land from fear of failure. The Boers, as practical colonists and farmers, are expected to show how to cultivate the land and make money out of it.

A Siberian Hero.

As is well known, political prisoners in Russia and Siberia are treated with a rigor and cruelty unknown in any European country except Turkey. In the most terrible cases of this kind recently occurred in the prison fortress of Tomsk, in Siberia, where, according to the St. Petersburg Life, one of the political prisoners, finding existence insupportable, killed himself by drenching his clothes with petroleum and then setting himself on fire before the wardens could come to his assistance.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY. Genuine Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of Brewster. See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

The Last of the Reds. In 1762 the rage for ruffs, such as are seen on many monumental effigies, began to decline. A writer in the London Chronicle of that year says of gentlemen's dress, "Their cuffs entirely cover their wrists, and only the edges of their ruffles are to be seen."

It is said that a distaste for ruffs was first created so far back as 1613, when a woman named Turner wore them on her trial for the murder by poison of Sir Thomas Overbury. The French revolution of 1789 much influenced British fashion, and the picturesque cocked hat and ruffles then gave way generally to round hats and small cuffs.

The period of their final disuse cannot be easily determined, as men of old-fashioned or eccentric habits have worn ruffled shirt fronts within quite recent memory similar to those which, according to Planche's "History of British Costume," originated in the seventeenth century.

Lincoln's Fees.

As a rule, Abraham Lincoln's fees were less than those of other lawyers of his circuit. Justice Davis once remonstrated with him and insisted that he was doing a grave injustice to his associates at the bar by charging so little for his services. From 1850 to 1860 his income varied from $2,000 to $3,000, and even when he was recognized as one of the ablest lawyers of the state his fee book frequently shows charges of $3, $5 and $1 for advice, although he never went into court for less than $10. During that period he was at the height of his power and popularity, and lawyers of less standing and talent charged several times those amounts. But avarice was the least of his faults.—"The True Abraham Lincoln."

CURIOS MARCS.

Speculation as to strange Rock Formations at Leamy's Lake.

On the grounds of the International Cement Company, near Leamy's Lake, is to be seen something odd and inexplicable to the ordinary passer-by, but which a geologist could no doubt explain as a paragraph of our planet's earlier history, written in stone.

From Brewery creek the surface on the mainland side rises in an easy slope towards Wrightville and the old golf grounds. Near the creek the limestone crops out freely. A few feet higher up it disappears. Towards the centre of the grounds the soil is some six feet deep. The excavations now being made show that the bed of limestone runs a considerable distance, that it rises from the water level at the same gentle slope as the soil on top. But while the surface has apparently never been disturbed for centuries, as witness the even lay of the soil, the underlying rock is scamed and scored everywhere by the force of rushing water. The rock surface looks much as would the channels around the Chaudiere where the current is most furious; were it possible to drain off the water and see the rock bottom. Enormous "pot holes" are seen everywhere, the seams in the rock bed, everywhere parallel and running in a general northern direction, being in most places about a foot wide and the same depth. The stone being extremely hard, would say from the depth of these seams that this spot had been for ages the bed of a furious torrent of great width, though today its bottom lies high above the water level, and from the depth of soil covering it it must have been in its present state a very long time.

Where did this immense body of water come from? What became of it? Some think that at some far-off time the Great Lakes found their outlet through the Ottawa, then much wider and deeper than now; perhaps stretching from the Chelsea hills to the Ottawa cliffs. As the lake waters gradually were a passage through the gorge of Niagara, the volume of water coming down the Ottawa may have gradually lessened.

Another theory is that, as the earth's surface is known to be continuously and regularly rising in one place and falling in another, like a giant breathing, this slow change of altitude may have affected the flow of the Ottawa, the surface of the entire valley slowly rising while the St. Lawrence region slowly subsided.

WEAKNESS OF SCHOOLS.

Lack of Discipline Has Baneeful Effects on Citizenship.

A boy of fifteen is detected in a first-rate burglary. At the same time we hear from the United States that a criminal boy of fourteen has escaped from arrest and is the terror of his district. We have frequent reports of juvenile crime, sometimes in the form of attempts to derail trains, while it is felt that the manner of boys generally leaves much to be desired. Dime novels may be partly to blame. But the main cause is the want of discipline, and generally of the normal element in education. The State having taken over the duty of education from the family, the family naturally casts everything on the public school, and if it interferes at all, it is apt to paralyze discipline rather than to support it. Teacherships are falling more and more into the hands of women, who cannot be expected to control boys beyond a certain age. Under elective Government, with manhood suffrage, voters must be taught enough to enable them to understand the issues on which they have to vote. This our public school does, or aims at doing. We must recognize the political necessity and take the evil with the good. But the deadness of family interest and the lack of discipline are drawbacks, the existence of which cannot be denied.—Goldwin Smith, in the Sun.

Salaries of British Colonial Governors.

The question of the proper salary for the Governor-General of Australia has, we fancy been settled by a speech from Lord Tennyson, who is now acting in that capacity. He has declared that £10,000 a year is ample to maintain the fitting dignity of the great post, though not, of course, sufficient to keep up a court of Oriental magnificence. The Australians, like the Canadians and the South Africans, wish the head of their world to be a great gentleman not intent on petty economies; and they have little reverence for a splendor which any millionaire can afford, when his millions are earned in a peaceful, out-of-door life. In South Africa £10,000 a year is barely sufficient owing to the preposterous price of everything, but that will pass away. The only expense in the free colonies which should not be thrown on the Governors or Viceroys is the keeping up of their residence, which should be state property, and remain the property of the colonies.—London Spectator.

Their Favorite Quotations.

Some years ago the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Methodist Church issued a booklet of "Favorite Quotations of Citizens of St. Thomas." In the light of subsequent events two at least are of special interest. The favorite quotation of George Rowley, the self-confessed defaulting ex-manager of the Elgin Loan Co., was as follows: "We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts not breaths; in feelings, not figures on a dial. He most lives who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best." The favorite quotations of A. E. Wallace, president and manager of the defunct Atlas Loan Company, were Macaulay's words: "Succeeding generations change the fashion of their morals with their hats and their coaches; take some other kind of whichness under the patronage, and wonder at the depravity of their ancestors."—St. Thomas Journal.

The punishment and suffering corresponds with the crime. The only escape from his ruinous results is proper scientific treatment to contract its effects. The DRAINS, either by nightly losses, or secretly through the urine, must be stopped—the NERVES must be built up and invigorated; the blood must be purified; the SEXUAL ORGANS must be vitalized and developed; the BRAIN must be nourished. Our New Method Treatment provides all these requirements. Under its influence the brain becomes active; the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers disappear; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. Pleasures of the Table.

H. Ellwanger, author of "The Pleasures of the Table," an account of gastronomy, reminds us that Sardanapalus, last of the Assyrian kings, offered a guerdon of a thousand pieces of gold to him who would produce a new dish. "Eat, drink, amuse thyself: all else is vanity," was his maxim, and the precept he desired to have engraven on his tomb. It is recorded that Mark Antony, more than usually pleased with his dinner, sent for the cook and presented him with a city of 36,000 inhabitants.

In England 400 or 600 years ago, people took four meals—breakfast at seven, dinner at ten, supper at four, and livery at eight. Since then, from an early hour in the morning the principal daily meal has advanced equally in France and England through every hour from ten in the forenoon until ten at night. In France in the thirteenth century nine in the morning was the dinner-hour; Henry VIII. dined at eleven. In Cromwell's time one o'clock had come to be the fashionable hour, and in Addison's day two o'clock, which gradually became adjourned until four. Pope found fault with Lady Suffolk for dining so late as four, saying young people might become inured to such things, but as for himself, if he would adopt such unreasonable practices he must absent himself from Marble Hill. Four and five continued to be the popular dining-hour among the better classes until the second decade of the century, when dinner was further postponed, from which period it has steadily continued to encroach upon the evening.

The clergy have been always bulwarks of good living. Ellwanger tells a story of a French wedding dinner at which the officiating pastor was present. After every course he raised his glass and exclaimed "My children, with this you must drink some wine." The turn of desert arriving, he repeated his injunction for the tenth time, again setting the example himself. "Pardon, Monsieur le Cure," one of the guests interrupted, "but with what do you not drink wine?" "With water, my son!"

Of Bignon's famous Paris restaurant Mr. Ellwanger revives these capital legends: "Fifteen francs for a peach!" enquired Prince Narischkin; "they must be very scarce." "It isn't the peaches that are scarce, mon prince; it is the Narischkins." "Monsieur Bignon, a red herring at two and a half francs! It seems to me that is excessive." "But these prices are marked in your interest," rejoined the restaurateur. "It is the barrier I have established between my clients and the vulgar. Why do you come here? To be among yourselves, to avoid embarrassing or compromising surroundings. If I changed my prices the house would be invaded, and you would all leave."

Another patron who complained of a sauce was asked, "Did you dine here last evening?" "No," he replied. "That is the trouble, then; you spoiled your taste in the other restaurant." Still another guest objected to the charges on his bill comparing it with an identical breakfast of a few days previous, which amounted to eighteen and a half francs, whereas the breakfast in question was charged twenty-one francs eighteen centimes. "I will investigate the mistake," said Bignon, who, with the two bills, proceeded to his desk, returning shortly afterwards. "It is very true, monsieur, that a mistake was made in your favor last Monday; but I make no claim for restitution!"

Inspired by the Muse.

He was calling on a young lady and had been talking against time for seven hours, not noticing that she was, to say the least, slightly "winded."

"Do you know," he said, after completing a monologue of several thousand words, and thinking a little flattery would be appreciated, "while talking to-night, I have felt as if I were inspired by one of the Muses. And which one do you think it is?"

He looked searchingly into her beautiful face. The modest blush for which he was watching proved to be a wide yawn, which grew wider as she answered: "I guess the Muse that inspires you to-night must be Euterpe."

"He didn't really know anything about mythology, so he couldn't tell just what she meant." But when he got home he took down his encyclopedia, and there in cold type, staring him in the face, he saw: "Euterpe—The Muse who presided over wind instruments."

The Love Cure.

The latest departure in medical treatment, according to an English exchange is "The Love Cure." It appears that certain sensitive natures—perhaps people who are afflicted with inordinate vanity, and they are many—wither through the unkindness they meet with in the world. The Love Cure is devised to remedy this. The patients are surrounded with trained nurses who pander to their vanity with assiduity. If the patient is a woman, they praise her beauty, her cleverness, her taste, they admire her character, and by every conceivable means restore her confidence in herself. Self-confidence is to the things of this world that which Faith is to those of the next; it will "move mountains." The principle upon which the system is based is correct, and, no doubt, many could be treated with considerable success.

Utopia!

In time labor and capital grew into such accord that the workmen took no opportunity of showing their appreciation of the fidelity and steadiness of their employers.

As a mark of esteem, at the close of one year, the workmen unanimously reduced their own salaries.

At the close of the next year they gave a further manifestation of their understanding of the needs of the employing classes by agreeing to work on legal holidays and Sundays without pay. Of course the natural eventuation eventuated.

Emboldened by the apparent dependence of the laboring element, the employers' union voted a universal strike.

At the close of the year the effect of this capital and labor together was resumed.

SHE HAD TO SIT UP IN A CHAIR

Mrs. Jas. Kinsella Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Peculiar Medical Case Ends in Another Victory for the Great Kidney Remedy.

St. Malachie, Dorchester Co., Que., Sept. 12.—(Special.)—A medical case of particular interest, especially to women, is causing much talk here. Mrs. James Kinsella suffered from Kidney Disease, which so affected her that she could not sleep and she was obliged for two summers to pass her nights sitting in a chair. To-day she is practically a well woman. Inter-view regarding her cure she said:—

"I had a pain in my right hip, in the back and was swollen all down that side of the abdomen. I could not sleep at night and I was obliged to sit up in a chair for two summers.

"Reading of cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills I bought one box. That gave me such relief that I continued to use them. They did me a world of good and now I can go to bed at night. A fine morning, sir," remarked the undergraduate, wishing to establish genial relations.

"A fine-morning fine morning," said Mr. Daniel.

Ghosts would frighten many people who are not afraid of germs. Yet the germ is a real danger. If this microscopic animal could be magnified to a size in proportion to its deadliness it would show like a giant python, or fire breathing dragon. The one fact to remember is that the germ is powerless to harm the body when the blood is pure. It is far easier to keep the germ out than to drive it out after it has gained a hold in the system. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the most powerful and perfect of blood purifying medicines. It increases the quantity as well as the quality of the blood, and enables the body to resist disease, or to throw it off if disease has obtained a footing in some weak organ. Wherever the question is impaired, the nutrition of the body is diminished, for the blood is made from the food which is eaten, and half digested food cannot supply the body with blood in quantity and quality adequate to its needs. For this condition there is no remedy equal to "Golden Medical Discovery." It frees ninety-eight out of every hundred persons who give it a fair trial. When there is constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will promptly relieve and permanently cure.

Why Kipling Wouldn't Lecture.

A very characteristic Kipling letter has again been brought into print by the death of Major Pond, the manager of celebrities. It seems that in 1895, while Mr. Kipling was living in Vermont, the major tried to get him to make a lecture tour of the country, offering compensation well proportioned to the author's celebrity, then at its height. Mr. Kipling evidently considered the proposition with some care, but only to reject it, for he wrote:

"There is such a thing as paying one hundred and twenty-five cents for a dollar, and though I suppose there is money in the lecturing business, it seems to me that the bother, the fuss, the being at everybody's beck and call, the night journeys, and so on, make it very dear. I've seen a few men who've lived through the fight, but they did not look happy. I might do it as soon as I have two mortgages on my house, a search on the horses, and a bill of sale on the furniture, and a writer's cramp in both hands; but at present I'm busy and contented to go on with the regular writing business. You forget that I have already wandered over most of the States, and there isn't enough money in sight to hire me to face half of the hotels and some of the railway systems that I have met with. America is a great country, but she is not made for lecturing in."

"The Best-laid Plans"

A story is being told in London about a man prominent in public life, whose name was not mentioned, which illustrates the insecurity of human preparations. He was planning an entertainment, on an elaborate scale, to be given to various friends in the neighborhood of his country seat. Fortunately, his nearest neighbor, a close relative, highly ungenial to himself and his intimates, and he racked his brains to devise a scheme by which he might avoid the necessity of inviting the undesirable cousin to be among his guests.

"I have it!" he announced to his wife at breakfast on the morning of the event. "I'll send him some tickets for the play to-night in town. Of course he'll be delighted, as he seldom has an opportunity of going to the theater."

The tickets were accordingly sent, and the host, with an easy conscience, proceeded to enjoy the company of his friends. But his satisfaction was of short duration. At the height of the festivities in walked the objectionable neighbor.

"Such a stupid mistake you made," he announced, as he approached his cousin, "as soon as I heard about your party I knew that you must have sent me the tickets for the wrong night, so I got them changed for to-morrow evening and came right over here as soon as I could."

Slow.

Mr. Perkins—That's a pretty likely looking boy you have there, Sam.

Mr. Dobbs—He's good enough if he wasn't so all-fired slow; why, if that boy had a' had the job building the ark he wouldn't a' had the flood yet.

Reggie's Conclusion.

"Oh, mamma!" shouted little Reggie, as he ran to his mother in great glee. "what do you think? I was just over there where they're putting up the circus, and they're having the size of all of breakfast food!"

The Day After.

Manifold are the songs that celebrate our holidays and anniversaries, plentiful are the pages filled with suitable selections and appropriate refrains commemorating this great day or the remarkable occasion. Lives there a holiday so humble that it has not its host of eulogists? Is there a memorable time that has escaped due recognition?

Yes, one—and that of such incalculable importance that it should stand pre-eminent among red-letter days: a day the value of which none may ignore; the vast significance of which all must acknowledge; a day that plays a vital part in every life and makes or mars the history of every soul. It is a petty day of judgment. A day that tests our passions and tries our strength and patience, and teaches us the worth of all other red-letter days, none of which may dare rival this one in might and majesty.

It is a strange omission that the "Day After," supreme and epoch-making period of time, should have failed to receive the honor that is its just prerogative.

The Day After, then, we must not risk of overrating its value. The Day After the ball, we can sit down to analyze our partners. The Day After the wedding begins a new regime, for better or for worse. The Day After the funeral the bereaved realize that the beloved one has departed.

That is the day that tests, and tells, and laughs, and weeps, and registers its date upon the soul.

The battle surely tries the general's skill and strength, but the Day After reveals his character and greatness.

The sensation is a mighty spectacle, but the Day After we learn the measure of the king.

Upon a summer day we shout the wondrous victory of Manila, but the Day After perchance we may deplore the burden of the Philippines.

That means those two great words "success" and "defeat" save in the light of the Day After?

The angel with the flaming sword drives Adam and Eve from Paradise, and then begins the story of the world.

A climax is much oftener a beginning than an ending. We follow a series of great events up to that instant of triumph or despair, and then we end abruptly; such a conclusion is verily artistic!

The curtain falls as Phyllis murmurs "yes," but still the audience wonders if the glad ending will really prove so, when tested by the clear prosaic daylight of the next morning.

Ah, vital day of days, we are incapable of measuring our other days except by you!

Breathing your calm tranquillity, we learn regret and thankfulness. In your judicial presence we recognize success and failure, which in the rush of swift events and stirring action we are unable to distinguish.

And at the end, we speak of "Death" with lowered tones and dim forebodings, yet 'tis not death we fear, but the Day After.—From the "Contributors' Club."

ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH, RALEIGH

The new Catholic church, built by the Blonde Building Co., in Raleigh, is finished and is attracting very much attention just now. It is especially noticeable for its shining dome, Eastern and glittering cross. Built of red brick, tower and belfry in centre, supporting the half-globular dome. The Blonde firm have made a handsome building and the interior is richly ornamented with a full set of artistic figured, stained windows, from the St. George Stained Glass Works, London. The pews manufactured by the Blonde Co. for this church are the most handsome and comfortable we have yet seen.

The new church will be opened and solemnly dedicated on Thursday, September 17th, by Bishop McEvay, of London, with a large number of clergy. The Catholic Mutual Benefit Association and Catholic Order of Foresters will join the other branches in the neighboring towns in body and in uniform to take a prominent part in the celebration. The children will be in confirmation suits and the clergy in robes of office, with societies and congregation will form a circle around the new church, chanting litany and enter the church for the solemn service. The sermon of dedication will be preached by Rev. Albert J. McKeon, S. T. L., of whom the New York News has said,—"Rev. Father McKeon is one of Canada's greatest orators"; and the Detroit Tribune,—"Thousands listened to him with closest attention." A banquet will be served after the dedication.

The main building at the Fair on Sept. 22nd, 23rd and 24th will be more attractive than usual. Merchants and manufacturers seem to be vying with each other to make the best displays, and all are trying to secure the best spaces in the building.

TO MOBILIZE ARMY.

BULGARIAN GOVERNMENT URGED TO ACTION.

Sixty Thousand People Reported Slain in One District—War Between Bulgaria and Turkey Near—Revolting Atrocities by the Sultan's Troops.

Sofia, Sept. 14.—According to information brought by a courier to the Autonomy, a force of Albanians, assisted by Turkish regular forces, acting under orders direct from the Yildiz Kiosk, massacred the entire Bulgarian Christian population of the Ohrida and Leran districts. Fearful descriptions are given of the sights seen there, the soldiers slaughtering men, women and children. The number of killed is not stated in the courier's despatches, but, according to reports from other sources, the total number of the victims will reach 60,000. Official circles are so far without information regarding the reporting massacre, but, in view of the character of the latest advices from Macedonia, it is feared the news is true. Rumors are current that at a council of the Ministers to-day it was decided to mobilize immediately the first and second army divisions. This is officially denied, but well-informed persons do not doubt that the Cabinet, which is meeting in council daily, is seriously considering such a measure. A deputation of leading professors and representatives of the professional classes yesterday waited upon the Ministers and urged the Government to order immediate mobilization. Premier Petreff replied to the delegation that the Ministry was unable to admit the necessity for such a step at the present moment.

The Government appears to be firmly resolved to avoid giving Turkey the slightest pretext for declaring hostilities, and is doing its utmost to restrain the war fever. The situation, however, is rapidly becoming worse, and popular excitement is increasing. The Bulgarians are undemonstrative and self-restrained, and are not accustomed to give vent to their feelings in popular demonstrations and noisy processions. Sofia and the country generally are outwardly as calm as in the most peaceful times, but people who know the Bulgarians say this calm is more to be feared than any outward evidence that they realize the fearful condition of their brethren in Macedonia.

London, Sept. 14.—According to information gleaned in various diplomatic circles in London to-day, the powers have come to recognize the fact that only drastic measures will maintain peace between Turkey and Bulgaria. No one taking part in the negotiations now denies that the two countries are perilously close to war. It is even suggested in a responsible quarter that the Slavs are working with the Bulgarians to convince the world that a frightful state of affairs prevails in Macedonia and that humanity demands the intervention of the powers. Strong pressure is being exerted on the British Foreign Office to cause it to take more energetic action to stop the atrocities on the part of the Turks, but the policy of the Cabinet continues to be confined to preserving the concert of Europe.

A pitiful condition of affairs still exists at Krushevo, where the wounded people are lying on the bare floor with their undressed wounds bound in soiled rags, according to despatches received here from Monastir. The only doctor in the town was killed and the drug store demolished. The Turkish officials now will neither permit a doctor to go to the town nor the wounded to be removed to Monastir for treatment. The wounded are mostly women and children. It appears that for diabolical reasons the women were especially outraged; how many will never be known, but a large number of cases have been fully authenticated. Many dead bodies were eaten by street dogs and their skulls and bones are still lying on the ground. The military hospital at Monastir is filled with over 1,000 wounded soldiers, the majority lying on the floor amid filthy surroundings.

THREATENED A PRISONER.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Chief Constable Prevented Committing Murder.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Sept. 14.—The city was thrown into intense excitement when W. H. Davey, a well known business man, was arrested on the charge of assaulting the daughter of Chief of Police Maloney. The Chief took the prisoner from his cell into his office and questioned him before the child. Then the Chief drew a revolver and aimed it point-blank at the prisoner.

Sergeant Lyons jumped upon Chief Maloney and knocked the weapon from his hand, but a second later the Chief drew a second revolver. He was overpowered by the sergeant and deskmans and finally taken home.

Mayor Hancock ordered that Davey be removed to the county jail in Lockport for safekeeping, as the sentiment against the man in this city reached an alarming pitch.

THE BRITISH CABINET.

RUMORS REGARDING THE SPECIAL MEETING TO-DAY.

The Report of the War Commission Has Raised a New and Important Issue.

London, Sept. 14.—A special meeting of the Cabinet has been summoned for to-day, and the political atmosphere is thick with rumors. These include reports that the Government will break up and that a general election will occur, or, at least, that the Cabinet will be reorganized. On the other hand, it is declared that no open breach will be developed, and that, with the exception of providing another office for the new Marquis of Salisbury, who, as Lord Cranborne, was Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, things will go on much as they were before.

The original cause for the summons sent to the Cabinet at this unusual period of the year was the discussion of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's fiscal proposals and the preparation of a subject. Since then the fiscal agitation has become of almost secondary interest, intense feeling having been aroused by the South African War Commission report, while public sentiment is also deeply exercised in the Balkan horrors.

Such a staunch supporter of the Government as The Pall Mall Gazette warns the Cabinet that it must take action to remedy the scandals revealed by the commission, while The Times, backed by the Liberal press, demands greater British initiative in putting an end to the massacres in Macedonia. In this connection, it is said, Mr. Balfour will see King Edward before meeting his colleagues on Monday.

His Majesty has been taking an active interest in the Balkan situation, and the interview may result in some stronger attitude on the part of the Government.

Mr. Balfour himself does not anticipate any crisis arising on Monday to cause the Cabinet's resignation, though the antagonism of the Duke of Devonshire, Lord President of the Council, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, C. T. Ritchie, toward Mr. Chamberlain's propaganda may create branches which even Mr. Balfour cannot foresee.

The chief Whip of one of the political parties said to-day that the most astute politicians cannot forecast the approaching developments, but that the sanest surmise points to another period of uncertainty with the members of the Cabinet taking opposing views on the fiscal question, while the Government as a whole attempts to remedy for ill-effects of the war scandals in all branches of life, especially in business and politics.

It is announced that by the middle of next week the official papers showing the result of the Government's investigation of Great Britain's fiscal status will be published.

NEW HATS.

To be well hatted means more than most men think. The hat has more to do with a man's general appearance than any other single article that he wears; so it is most important that it should be correct.

We are ready with all the new fall blocks of the foremost makers of hats in London and New York, the two points in the world which set the hat styles for this country.

For early autumn a soft hat, later on a Derby—the shapes are symmetrical and well balanced—moderate, not freakish.

Prices run from $1.00 to $3.00.

PURITY. LAGER BEER

"The Beer That is Brewed in Glass"

Ours is the only plant in Western Ontario having a glass-lined, closed tank system, which is the only system affording absolute security against pollution of the beer.

Wood rots, green wood rots faster than dry; quickly seasoned wood rots quicker of all, and when exposed to air and water in Brewers' cellars wet rot comes rapidly, and the beer brewed in open tanks is injuriously affected by it.

Our tanks are like a bottle inside, clean, no mould, no slime, no chance for rot. Which is better, beer made in a closed, glass lined, steel tank, or in an old mouldy wooden one?

Color is no indication of strength as producers of thin, watery beer resort to coloring matter and other materials to conceal its weakness. A good beer gives a "full mouth" feeling when drunk.

A heavy foam is no indication of good quality, in fact in many localities they demand less foam and more solid beer. Brewers of weak beer often try to tempt the consumer by furnishing a beer charged with Krausen (beer 24 hours old) and having a beautiful cream, but if used to any extent is sure to produce sickness.

Poor goods are nasty competition and the public should sustain those producing the better goods.

A pure beer is a pleasant beverage and very healthful and should always give off a delicate aroma of hops and malt only. Any other smell or taste is almost POSITIVE EVIDENCE OF AN INFECTED AND IMPURE BEER.
