Shirreff Hall Formal
Redated To Nov. 8
The annual Shirreff Hall formal, which was originally to be held on Nov. 17, has been moved ahead ten days to Nov. 7 . This change was made at the request of Andy MacKay, chairman of the Gym schedule committee, since the Boilermakers' Booster is also on Nov. 17.
It apparently was not clear that all school activities such as these have to be recorded in the gym schedule whether they are to be held in the gym or not. As a result arrangements of the engineer's function were made without Mr.
MacKay being aware that the formal was also planned for that night.

WHERE ART THOU, ROMEO?

The Glee Club has held two casting rehearsals for parts in the Shakespearean tragedy, "Romeo and Juliet." At the first rehearsal well over twenty girls turned out to try as parts in the play. Onle male parts in the play, a second casting rehearsal was called.

At this "Men only" casting rehearsal, only one solitary At this appeared.
This situation is not ridiculous, it is serious. Glee Club shows are one of the main secondary sources of income for the Students' Council. In the past a high standard of perthe Halifin Shakespearean drama has been ested the efforts of the Glee Club as a result.

There are twelve male speaking parts in the play, and the director should have the best material to choose from in drawing up his cast. If he does not even have enough actors to fill the main leads the whole project will have to be abandoned and ticket money returned to those who have purchased season tickets.

This would cost the Students' Council almost one thousand dollars and benefits to the students would be decreased accordingly

Almost anybody can act. Those who can't should be able to fill bit parts and appear on the stage as soldiers and servants. There are thirty male parts in the play, and there in acting

LET'S SHOW THEM

Friday will witness the official opening of the Dalhousie rink. Students at Dalhousie have been wanting their own rink for years, and finally it is here. To make this occasion memorable, the university has called upon students and alumni to attend a special homecoming ceremony. If we as alumni to attend a special homecoming ceremony. If we as students wish to show our appreciation we should turn out, students wish to show our appreciation we should turn out, for, this Friday there is an added reason to turn out, this is Homecoming, and many of the Alumni will be there to withave the time, so let's turn out and make our feelings known.

IF THE SHOE FITS

The following editorial is directed to those responsible for pep rallies. We could not find out who was responsible. Sports blame Publicity, Publicity blames Council, Council says nothing. We write Last Saturday there were two football games. Beyond the Gazette there was no publicity to speak of. In other universities they hold pep rallies the night before or the students together and should be practiced at Dal to improve students together cheering sections.

If we are to have good cheering sections, we must encourage group meetings to practice yells. Even if the pep ranganized they will start, they can be enlarged and once gether with our cheer leaders will make Dal known at the football games.

The Brawl was quite orderly and the legal students did all sit quietly at their tables and discuss divers matters with their friends. Most of the young damsels did sit back in their seats and look quite he scholars were engaged in dis cussion of legal matters, which are very interesting, I hear, to hose who know something about are not learned in the law, they are quite uninteresting.
One of the students did open the doors of the grand ball room and did take his partner onto the empty floor. As the ensemble was playing, he had thought that the affair had commenced. Much to the distraction of those running the affair, it was found that th students were to be received by the wives of the chaperones be fore the dance began, and the floo had to be cleared and the whol ing done properly.
The whole thing was run off quite smoothly and at the end be ame quite dull. Did return hom before two in the morning, a great

The Park on A Golden Day

To visit the park on a sunny day
Is to visit the son's of God,
For there are rich and poor and all
On the green and fertile sod.
The children at play make the world seem gay, The peaceful and plodding old,
The lovers, the mothers, the brazen girls, And the laughing men and bold.
There you can see life's pageantry In all its glory and sadness,
The knowing and wise who have tasted its prize
Life is revived in that Paradise And age finds love anew,
For there in the beauty of summertime
The tints are a kinder hue.
So go some day when life seems gray And visit the world and his wife
Till you find your cares submerged as theirs

The Stewiacke Bridge Mysteries

by T. B. Rogers

Angus Henry Taylor has been Chief of Police of the town o Stewiacke, 18 miles south of Truro, for over thirty years. Though the small farm community boasts a population of only 961 , Chief Taylor has had his share of mysteries which would baffle the law officers in even the large cities. Three of more recent date still remain unsolved.
Oddly enough the three enigmas revolve around the narrow iron bridge across the Stewiacke River, the northern boundary of the town This bridge is on the main highway from Truro to Halifax.
There have, of course, been by a heart attack.
plenty of routine accidents but Chief Taylor felt that there was some have been anything but com- a suspicion of foul play, but no monplace. There was the parked conclusive evidence to substantiate car for example, that Bob Walker his belief was ever uncovered. In found unoccupied near the bridge vestigation revealed that Dorey as he was going to work one morn- was suffering from heart trouble, ing When the car was still there but it was also learned that on the some hours later Walker called night that he disappeared he had Chief Taylor. A search of the been involved in an argument vehicle revealed that it belonged to while drinking at the lumber camp. William Robert Brown, of Glace What puzzled Chief Taylor is how Bay, N. S. Baggage and clothing in the car convinced Chief Taylor $\begin{aligned} & \text { Dory's body got in the river if } \\ & \text { he died of a heart attack? Did }\end{aligned}$ that Brown's wife had been with he accidentally fall in and the him. Cigarette butts were found he accidentally fall in and the on the floor, two packages on the body thrown in before or after he seat and a purse containing money, that Mrs. Brown a receipt showing hat Mrs. Brown had just bought

After several days of fruitless investigation, the baffled chief call ed in the RCMP. It was discovered that the elderly couple, both in poor health, had started out on a trip to Central Canada. They had stopped at the service station where Walker worked and made in queries about the river road. The next day the car was found empty To this day no trace of the eld erly couple-or their bodies-ha been discovered.
The mysterious death of Nathan Dorey, a lumberman, whose body was found in the river near the bridge on Sunday, May 23, 1948 still puzzles the chief.
Dorey was reported missing April 15 from a lumbering camp further up the river. He lived by himself in a small hut and was known to carry large sums of money on his person. Fellow work ers searched the surrounding woods for days without success and it was not until five weeks later that the body of the missing man was found in the river.
An autopsy showed that Dorey had not drowned and a coroner's jury decided that death was caused jury decided

C.O.T.C.

The Department of National Defence has decided that our Permanent Army known as the Canadian Army -Active Force must be considerably expanded.

As the universities provide, as a group, a cross section in which there is a large percentage of potential leaders, Army Headquarters is prepared to make an attractive offer to final year students who signify they would be willing to enter the Canadian (AF) as officers.

They are offering to commission 400 final year students and put them on full pay and allowance from the date they are taken on strength until Convocation. date they are taken on strength until to the Corps After School for qualification.

Qualifications

. Must be in your last year as either an undergraduate, post-graduate, or interne.
2. Married personnel considered if veterans.
3. Veterans may be included.
4. Must be a Canadian citizen or a British subject resident in Canada.
5. Candidates must be within the age limit according to Corps elected infantry, Artillery, Armoured and Service Corps, 28; Pay, Ordnance, Provost, 30; Intelligene; Chaplains, 35.
Appointments will be made in rank of and Lieut., with pay and allowances for that rank. One may be paid a maximum of eight months, pay effective the date of application.

For further information see Major J. N. Cram in C.O.T.C. Office, Dalhousie Gym.

Constable Esker, RCMP, who examine the vehicle after the ascident, testified that the driver's door of the car had been jammed shut, presumably by the accident, nd that he had had to exert considerable force in order to open it. Once the door was opened it was possible to shut it again.
Dr. Ralph Smith, Provincial Provincial Pathologist, in his report on the autopsy performed on My er's body, stated that he belieded the man had died by drowning while in an unconscious state which added strength to the belief hat the victim had stumbled out of the car and toppled from the ridge.
But how did Myers get out of he car, since the left hand door as jammed shut? Chief Taylor gured that it would have been impossible for the man to have en hurled across three others in and door. None of the passengers could throw any light on Myers's death; they were all apparently stunned by the impact. One of the women said she regained consciousness to said she regained consciousness to find herself lying on the floor of find herself lying on the while the other woman was still seated in the front seat of the car when she came to. The coroner's jury was comp lat baffled. They decided that Myer's "died by accident" but left the case open for further investigation if, at any time, it was thought feasible.
Routine accidents like a taxi going into the river and the driver barely escaping through the window are just a few of the many mishaps at the bridge that keep Chief Taylor on the hop and add to the air of mystery and unknown of the iron bridge.

when they played their second game with Shearwater Airmen.
Except for two or three bad breaks, one of which ended in a 60 yd. gallop by Mills for a touchdown, the Dal squad matched the flyers and often outplayed them. The line showed tremendous improvement, the result of much concentrated work. With such fine support, the backfield worked a smart offense.
