A BAKING SUCCESS WHICH YOU CAN DUPLICATE IN YOUR HOME

WITH BEAVER FLOUR

George Weston, the baker, made Toronto a blended flour city.

When Manitoba wheat flour first appeared, it became popular because it made a big loaf. But the bread was heavy, coarse, full of holes and not especially tasty.

George Weston thought there were enough people in Toronto who would appreciate the difference between quality and quantity—and he determined to bake a real, old-time, home-made loaf, using blended flour.

At that time, Weston was running only two ovens. In a week, he had to start new ovens, and it was not long before he was selling FIFTY THOUSAND LOAVES A WEEK.

Today, 75% of the bread baked in Toronto is made of blended flour.

There is no doubt in the world but that "BEAVER" FLOUR is better in every way than any western wheat flour.

"BEAVER" FLOUR, milled of Ontario wheat and a little Manitoba wheat to add strength—makes a deliciously light, tasty loaf of bread—makes a big loaf—and makes more loaves to the barrel. "BEAVER" FLOUR is equally good for pastry, because it contains so much of the choicest Ontario fall wheat flour, the finest pastry flour in the world. What George Weston did in Toronto, you can do in your own kitchen with "Beaver" Flour.

WON AT LAST.

CHAPTER XIV.

Poor Nat was hurt. I saw that at once as I flung myself from the saddle and stooped over her, for she lay without stirring, and it was not too dark to see her white face and the thin streak of blood trickling down her forehead. I was awfully frightened, and that's the honest truth. To shut my eyes now and recall it turns me cold. I was afraid to touch her, and did not like to leave her, so I shouted loudly as I knelt there.

The door of the cottage was instantly flung open, a flood of light streamed out, I heard an inarticulate exclamation, between an imprecation, and a groan, and looked up to encounter the horrified white face of Roger Yorke. He did not seem to know I was here, but took Nat up in his arms almost as he might have done a baby, and carried her in-doors. I followed him quickly.

The little stone-floored kitchen was not too tidy and not too clean, but a large fire was blazing, and a shabby old elbow-chair stood beside it, in which Yorke stood the insensible girl. Little Lotty's pretty wondering face came peeping from the open stair-case door, and from the room above old Wilde's strident voice shouted some loud wrathful questions. I saw and heard this without seeming to do either, for all my attention was fixed upon the poor little girl. Yorke had taken off her sealskin cap, loosened the buttons of her habit, and then pulled a brandy-flask from his breast-pocket. Her head was lying upon his left arm as he knelt beside her, and he held out the flask to me seeming for the first time to know that I was there.

"Open that," he said, shortly, but not turning his eyes from the little pale face lying upon the sleeve of his rough tweed coat. "Be quick!"

I unscrewed the top and handed him the flask; he managed to force a little of the contents between her lips, loosing it deftly, although I could see that his hands were shaking over the task, and he looked indeed hardly less white than did Nat herself. It had its effect, for a less ghastly tinge crept over her face and her eyelids quivered. He made her swallow a little more of the spirit, and her lips moved and her eyes opened, but she shut them again with a shiver and a slight moan. Yorke gently removed his arm, laying her head back against the torn patchwork cushion, and turned to Lotty, who had sidled into the room by this time.

"Get me a basin and some warm water," he said. "Be quick—there's a good girl!"

Lotty waited for no further order, but flew out of the room and upstairs, where old Wilde was becoming more indignantly viceriferous than ever. Directly she was gone Yorke wheeled round on me and said, fiercely,—

"How did this happen? What were you about?"

"I?" I questioned.

"Yes, you. Couldn't you have taken better care of her than this?"

"Well, it wasn't my fault," I answered, by no means relishing this very unexpected onslaught even from Roger, from whom as a rule, I would meekly swallow anything. "How could I help it?"

"How could you help it!" he repeated. "How could you do it? I want to know. You're a pretty fellow to be trusted with her."

"How upon earth do you think I could help the horse running away? I returned, goaded into active remonstrance. "The confounded brute was off like the wind before I knew it. It was as much as I could do to hold it by the gray. I wish to goodness I had come to grief myself instead of Nat!"

"And so do I!" said Yorke, with unflattering heartiness, as he turned to take the basin which Lotty had brought in. Nat still lay back with her eyes closed, and he bent down over one knee beside her to sponge away the blood which trickled down her forehead. She was awfully pale still, and I drew nearer to ask in a whisper—

"I say, old man, she isn't much hurt, is she?"

"I don't know—I hope not. It's quite bad enough."

"I suppose she is only stunned—no limbs broken or anything?"

"No thanks to you if they are not. What made her horse balk?"

I explained. Yorke apparently was gracious enough to come to the conclusion that I was not so much to blame after all, for he surveyed me less fiercely as he put down the basin.

"And the beast put its foot in a hole and threw her, I suppose?"

"Yes. Is that out much?"

"Not much more than skin-deep. I suppose her head struck a stone. But it might—There—don't talk about it! Give me that brandy again."

I complied and he turned toward the chair; but Nat's black eyes were wide open now, and she stared at us in perplexity and around the strange room. She tried to sit up, but Yorke prevented that.

"Don't talk," he said, gently. "You must keep still. Drink this."

She did so. The brandy brought some color into her cheeks, and she smiled across at me.

"Don't look so scared. Ned, dear! I don't believe I'm hurt a bit—only my

Exhausted Nerves Sleepless Nights

Continually Grew Worse Until Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Restored Vigor and Strength.

Mrs. Campbell.

What misery to lie awake nights and think of all sorts of things without being able to get the rest and sleep which is necessary to restore the nervous energy wasted in the tasks of the day.

This symptom of sleeplessness is one of the surest indications of an exhausted nervous system. You must have sleep or a breakdown is certain. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food feeds the feeble, wasted nerves back to health and strength. In a few days you obtain the natural, restful sleep which helps so materially in restoring vitality to the nerves and strength to the whole body.

Mrs. Sarah Campbell, 108 Alma street, St. Thomas, Ont., writes: "For months I was so bothered with nervousness that I could not sleep nights. There were other symptoms of exhausted nerves, but none caused so much misery, and I found myself continually getting worse."

I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it was not long before I noticed great improvement in my health. It built up the nervous system wonderfully, strengthened the nerves and enabled me to rest and sleep well."

head feels so odd—all dazed and jarring. Did Daphne throw me?"

"Yes, worse luck."

"Stupid thing! I ought to have been able to hold her in; but it was all so sudden."

She glanced from me to Yorke whose blue eyes were fixed upon her with tender anxiety, and then her eyes wandered round the room.

"What place is this?"

"Wilde's cottage," Yorke answered.

"Don't talk now, my child."

"And were you here?" Nat persisted.

"Yes—luckily."

"Very luckily for me," she said, smiling, and closed her eyes again.

It was not much, but I saw how quick the blood in my friend's brown face was to answer the simple speech, and wondered what would be the end of Miss Nat's "spill." Roger was not himself just then; his coolness had deserted him; and it struck me that he looked as if very little would make him go down upon his knees to her upon Lotty's red-ochered floor. What a lark it would be! I thought, with a fleeting vision of my stately mother's wrath and dismay, and then said, because I felt that I wanted to laugh—

"I say, Roger, what about getting back to Chavasse? She can't ride."

"Of course not; you must get a carriage. The best thing you can do is to ride over to the Mount as fast as you can."

"And scare madame to death?" Nat interposed, opening her eyes. "Why, Ned, if you arrive without me, you know how it will frighten her! Can't we send some one with a message, Doctor Yorke?"

"Perhaps that will be better. Look here, Ned; scribble a line to Madame Chavasse, and I will take it over to Redpots and send it from there. Be quick. The sooner Miss Orme is at home and able to rest properly the better."

I accordingly wrote a few lines on a leaf of my pocket-book, carefully making as light of our mishap as I could. Roger would have taken the note but that Nat checked him by looking up with her amazingly innocent smile and saying, coolly:—

"Stay with me, won't you, Doctor Yorke? Ned will take it. Doctors oughtn't to desert their patients to run messages, you know."

I grinned—I could not help it—and turned to the door, and, catching sight of little Lotty as she stood shyly in a corner behind Nat's chair, wondered at the sudden gloom of the pretty round face. And I wondered, too, as I shut the door behind me, which—in the event of Roger Yorke, the struggling village doctor, proposing to Miss Orme, the heiress, before I got inside the Redpots gates—would be the more to blame of the couple.

It was dark by this time—so dark that I could barely make out the outlines of the two horses, drawn together by the garden railings, and shivering in miserable companionship. I flung open the little gate and stepped out, to find my arm grasped by the hand of a figure which really seemed to rise out of the ground in front of me—a figure whose clutch frightened as it thus held me, and which growled out a fierce half-mothered imprecation as it bent forward, trying to peer into my face.

To Spank or Not to Spank?

By RUTH CAMERON.

Some weeks ago I raised the question of corporal punishment for children and asked my letter friends to have a chat with each other as to whether it were better to spank or not to spank.

Below are some of the letters I received. I am grieved that I cannot print every one, because they were all so interesting.

Here is an emphatic anti-spanker—a man by the way:

"With due respect to you I place anyone who speaks of punishment for children in the same category with those who maintain that murderers should be electrocuted for punishment and the institution in which they are placed called penal institutions.

"Take, for instance, the child which throws its toys on the floor just to see them being picked up again. Place yourself in the way of one of the child's flying toys and let it strike you. Then pretend that you have been injured and sham crying; invariably the child will crawl to you, caress the injured spot and perhaps cry in sympathy. Why? Because it thinks it has injured one who has given it tender care and it is contrary to animal nature to injure one who is kind. Apply the same rule when the child is old enough to reason."

The writer goes on to tell that this is the only sort of punishment he ever uses, and that it has invariably been successful with his daughter. Readers of Sentimental Tommy will probably remember Miss Allie, the gentle school-ma'am who tried whipping herself when the boys were bad and soon had to give it up because "it merely set them to watching each other, so that they might cry out.

Avoid Blood Poison.

The best and simplest way of insuring against blood-poisoning is to apply Zam-Buk to a cut, burn, cold sore or any open wound or diseased part as soon as sustained.

Of all the myriad forms of germs which set up blood-poisoning, not one has yet been found that Zam-Buk does not kill! A thin layer of Zam-Buk over a wound or sore acts in two ways. It prevents all harm coming into the wound or sore from the outside, and on the underside it stimulates the cells to renewed activity, provides just the healing, tissue-building material needed, by causing the blood to deposit this more rapidly and thus bring about rapid healing. Apply it to that cold sore, those chapped hands, that frost bite, or that eczema.

Sold at 50c. box, all grocers or druggists, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld., for price. Refuse substitutes.

Terror in a Boiler.

Trapped Workman's Prayer.

By the bursting of a steam pipe of one of the boilers of the Royal Mail Liner Araguaya in Southampton Docks, on Saturday, two lives were lost, several workmen cleaning the boiler received severe scalds, and seven others were imprisoned within the boiler in momentary fear of a terrible death.

Ted Crawley, a charge hand scaler, and a boy named Topley, were instantly killed by the steam; and Albert Fredericks and Arthur Hudson were removed to hospital in a critical condition.

Presence of mind on the part of someone (whose name has not been disclosed) in shutting off the steam averted a graver calamity. The seven workmen inside heard the hissing of the steam and knew that something serious had happened. One escaped but was overcome by the blinding steam.

Directly afterwards the manhole of the boiler was closed. Most of those inside were boys, and they made a dash for the manhole, but an older workman prevented them from rushing into graver danger. "I thought my time had come," he said as he emerged from the boiler after the steam had been shut off, "and I fell down on my knees and prayed."—Daily Mail, Jan. 13.

Recovery of a V.C. Medal.

Fund to Remove a Blot on a Regiment.

Sergeants past and present of the Hampshire Regiment are attempting to raise £125 to redeem from a firm of dealers in London a Victoria Cross, a Chinese medal with two bars—Peking and Taku Forts—and a photograph. The decorations were awarded to the late Lieut.-Col. Lehon, of the 6th (now Hampshire) Regiment, the Victoria Cross for bravery in the storming of the Taku Forts in 1860.

The sergeants regard the present ownership of the cross as a blot on the fame of the regiment, and if they obtain possession will place it in the sergeants' mess at Winchester and display it to recruits on Taku Forts day.—Daily Mail.

The Jury Justified Woman

Who Had Murdered Her Husband—Decision Creates Adverse Comment in Paris Journal.

Paris, Jan. 23.—Madame Lamberjack, the wife of the former bicycle rider and automobilist, who shot and killed her husband when he had determined to leave her, was acquitted by a jury in the Versailles Assize Court yesterday on a charge of murder. All Paris fought for admission to the court, as Lamberjack was known to everybody. The sympathy of the court was with the prisoner, who had married Lamberjack when he was a poor mechanic and helped him out by working as a dressmaker. She shot and killed him at St. Germain, last June, when he decided to leave her. Lamberjack, according to the testimony, began life as a mechanic. Later on he became a champion bicyclist, an automobile man and a director of the Franco-American Automobile Company.

Doctors testified that she was fully responsible for her acts, but the jury acquitted her.

The Paris newspapers comment severely on the acquittal. The words of Advocate General Fournier at the trial of Mme. Bloch, who killed Mrs. Bridgeman, wife of James Bridgeman, an employee of the Paris branch of the New York Life Insurance Company, last July, "We would have nothing to say if you killed her husband," are quoted in connection with the Lamberjack case, which is described by some of the journals as clearly demonstrating the failure of divorce, because the verdict appears to accord a woman the right to kill when and where she wills.

TWENTY YEARS.

Makes a great difference in most women. They are troubled with "nerves"—they suffer from backache, headache, sleeplessness, a sensation of irritability or twitching, hot flashes, dizzy spells, or many other symptoms of female weakness. The local disorder and inflammation should be treated with Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets and the irregularity and weakness of the female system corrected and strengthened with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The strain upon the young woman or the woman of middle age—upon the nerve and blood forming structures—may be too great for her strength. This is the time to take this restorative tonic and strength-giving nerve and regulator. For over forty years sold by druggists and chemists everywhere, it has cured thousands of women of all ages of their peculiar weaknesses and distressing ailments. The only remedy so perfect in composition and so good in curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. The one remedy which absolutely contains neither alcohol nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

Following letter selected at random from a large number of similar ones and cited merely to illustrate these remarks:

"In the winter of 1908, I became greatly run down and irregular, and was unable to do my work. I was in bed several weeks and got no better. The doctor said I would have to have an operation, but to that I would not listen. My husband purchased two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I started to take this remedy I could not walk across the floor, but after I had taken three bottles I could feel myself getting up, so I dropped the doctor and took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Only for it I think I would have been dead. I really believe it saved my life. I feel better now than in twenty years."

Lords Reject To-Day's News. Home Rule Bill.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, To-day. After four days discussion the Lords rejected the Home Rule Bill by 226 to 69. The result was a foregone conclusion. The speeches aroused little interest, because as the Earl of Halsbury pathetically observed the position of the House now was that of an ordinary debating club. The Peers could express their views and reject the bill but they could not prevent it from becoming law. Nevertheless the largest muster of Peers since the fatal evening they passed the Parliament Bill assembled in the House and bedevilled Peerses thronged the side galleries. Lansdowne wound up the debate for the Opposition, Morley of Blackburn for the Government. The scene was altogether lacking in dramatic excitement which accompanied the Lords' rejection of Gladstone's Bill in 1893 by a far larger majority of 378. Lord Morley, closing the debate, remarked the absence of the ferocity which characterized the debates on the Gladstone measures. Replying to Lansdowne's warning that giving Home Rule to Ireland would be more than a menace to England, England ever was involved in serious international trouble, he reminded Lansdowne that his own Land Policy would give Ireland cash or credit to the extent of two hundred millions of British money, that Lansdowne would scarcely be likely to do that if he really believed Ireland was likely to become England's enemy. The division was on party lines, practically the whole Episcopal Bench voting against the Bill.

BACKACHE A WARNING ALL SHOULD HEED

It is One of the First Signs of E. day's Troubles, if Neglected, Serious Disease Follow.

No one can be well and healthy unless the kidneys work properly and keep the blood pure. When they become clogged up and inactive, nature has a way of warning you.

Backache is one of the first symptoms. You may also be troubled with disagreeable, annoying bladder disorders; have attacks of lumbago or rheumatism; become nervous, tired, and feel all worn-out; puffy swellings show under the eyes or in the feet and ankles; and many other symptoms are noticed. If they are neglected, dropsy, diabetes, or Bright's disease, which so often prove fatal, may result.

It is not only dangerous, but needless for you to suffer and endure the tortures of these troubles, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy known for the prompt cure of all such troubles than this new, scientific preparation, because it removes the cause. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the clogged up pores; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter and sift the poison out of the blood and drive it from the system.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache, relieve rheumatic pains, or overcome urinary disorders.

A Late Arrival.

Not often at this season of the year is there a schooner fish laden seen visiting the harbour. Such, however, occurred Monday past when the schr. Beale A. Pearl arrived from Flat Islands, P. B., with 750 qts. codfish to Job's and Barr's. She had a good run down here and after discharging will go home.

HEALTH REPORT.—There were reported in the city during the past week eight cases of scarlet fever, two of diphtheria and one of typhoid. There are now in Hospital 29 cases of scarlet fever, 3 of diphtheria and two of typhoid. Under treatment at home, 11 of scarlet and four of diphtheria.

To-Day's News.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, To-day.

The curtain may rise on the second act in the Balkan war next Monday. The Allies denounced the armistice at seven last night. If events take the prescribed course the bombardment of Adrianople will follow after an interval of four days, the bombardment being scheduled for seven on Monday evening. Yet even at this eleventh hour war is no wise assured. Only a few hours before the allies proclaimed their momentous decision, the Ottoman Government presented a reply to the joint note of the Powers of January 17th. Never has a diplomatic problem taken such swift and surprising changes as in these negotiations for peace. The Young Turks, who seized the Government, with shouts of defiance, have undergone a marvellous transformation. Instead of drawing the line at the question of surrendering Adrianople, they offer a compromise which comes so near meeting the Bulgarian demands that settlement should not be impossible. They leave the Aegean Islands to the disposition of the Powers. The difference between what Constantinople is ready to give and what Bulgaria is ready to accept, has been reduced to such small proportions that even some of the Balkan delegates believe a compromise may yet be found. Constantinople now asks simply for the retention of that section of Adrianople where the Holy Shrines are situated. Bulgaria always meant to leave the Mosques and Shrines to Turkey and even confer a right of extrajurisdiction, thus giving them some thing of the status of the Vatican at Rome. The vital differences between the two nations amount merely to Turkey's demanding the Shrines and the sections surrounding them.

He hopes the Dominion Government will take decisive steps, while there is yet time for the protection in Central Arctic Canada and Victoriaband of the caribou, musk oxen and Eskimos now in danger of extinction.

Special to The Evening Telegram.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Pierce, third assistant to the Secretary of State, in a letter to representative Rothermel of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the House of Commons which investigated the fur seal conditions at Pribyloff Islands, asked for a hearing by the committee on a plea of his report which charged him with combining with others to defraud the Russian Government. The committee charged that Pierce aided in preparing and collecting a fraudulent claim for damages for seizure by the Russian Government of the schooner 'James Hamilton Lewis,' outfitted to the unlawful killing of fur seals.

Lost in the Arctic

Captain Einar Mikkelsen, who was lost in the Polar Region for twenty-eight months with one companion, Engineer Iversen, has been in London this week lecturing to the Royal Geographical Society.

"I went to find the records left by Eriksen, who, with two companions, died of starvation and cold, in exploring the north-east coast of Greenland. We discovered all the scientific observations made by the party, but not their personal journals," he told the Evening News interviewer; and his book, "Lost in the Arctic," published this week by Mr. Heinemann, tells the whole story of their terrible adventures when the two explorers were in constant danger of death from cold and starvation and bears.

Finding the Records.

"We sailed on June 20th, 1909, in the 'Alabama,' which had been specially constructed for Arctic work. At first we made for the south of Greenland to get more dogs, and then we made northward. The ice-pack extends for 150 miles or thereabouts beyond the shore; and we sailed along outside this pack till we came to a point at the end of the explored territory. Then Iversen and I left the ship and went across the frozen sea, and then over the ice-cap.

"On we went through the desolate wilderness of ice and snow till we came to the point where the Eriksen party perished. We found their records in a cairn by a fiord. Then we tracked back along the coast. I got ill with scurvy; then the dogs gave out and we had to eat them. The dogs' liver disagreed with us badly. We shot seals, but they sank at once to the bottom of the sea, because they were not fat enough to float.

"It was summer and that meant that we had to walk through water, which was just above freezing point, and two or three feet deep, on top of the ice. I can tell you it was horribly cold!

"All this time we were living on the dogs. They lasted us for nine or ten days, and then we luckily found some provisions in a cairn. We walked a hundred miles with three pounds of

Londonderry Bye-Election.

Special to Evening Telegram.—
LONDON, To-day.

The bye-election at Londonderry has aroused exceptional interest because of the Home Rule question in the seat made vacant by the death of the Duke of Abercorn and the succession of the Marquis of Hamilton to his father's place in the House of Lords. The figures for polling are not available, but the Unionists concede the victory to the Nationalist candidate. The two parties are evenly balanced that a single death on either side it was felt, might turn the balance, so closely watched was the mortality. Everybody in town is aware that since the contest began three Nationalists have died and the chances are seriously discussed of the effect in the election of an accident to a Nationalist slater who fell from a roof. Last election the Unionist majority was 105 when Marquis Hamilton defeated Shane Leslie, the vacancy being created by the election of the sitting member to fill one of the Irish seats in the Lords in 1910. The Unionist majority was 57 in 1906. The Unionist was unopposed in 1909. In 1895 there was a Nationalist majority of 39. In 1892 Unionists got in by 26. In 1888 election following the first Home Rule Bill, the Unionist won by a scant margin of three.

Denial From Hiring Committee.

We, the Hiring Committee of Victoria Lodge, No. 2, L. O. A., Bay Roberts, most emphatically deny the statements published in the Advocate, Jan. 25th, and Telegram to the effect that we charged double hire, or $24.00, for use of our Hall to W. F. Coaker. We charged him $8.00 hire for the first meeting which was a public one, and $3.00 for the meeting held immediately after, which was a private one and called for the purpose of forming a Council of the F. P. U. We characterize as false the statements that we acted as Piccotties but as the Hiring Committee of Victoria Hall officially and regularly constituted and with full powers to hire the Lodge Hall at our own discretion.

Millions of Germs at Once.

Serum for Typhoid.—United States Army Officer Tells How Medical Corps is Able to Fight Typhoid.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Col. W. Banister, medical corps, U.S.A., during a discussion last night before the Chicago Medical Society on serum treatment and prevention of typhoid fever, said that 50,000,000 dead typhoid germs in a serum injection is an "infinitesimal dose."

"In the Army we would consider 50,000,000 infantile," he said. "When we vaccinate a man against typhoid we give him an injection of 500,000,000 dead typhoid germs the very first time."

"Of course, we wait until his day's work is nearly finished. But we expect him to be on duty bright and early next morning and ready for the next dose of at least one billion germs."

"In the last San Antonio, Tex., encampment, when the city was full of typhoid, we had 12,000 men in camp for eight months and only one case of typhoid during the time."

The More Fatal Callings.

Statistics Show Them to be Railway Building and Navigation Services.

Ottawa, Jan. 17.—According to the record of industrial accidents maintained by the department of labor, 97 workmen were killed and 357 injured during the month of December, 1912, as compared with 114 killed and 359 injured during the month of November, 1912. The greatest number of fatal accidents occurred in steam railway service, building trades and navigation, the figures being 20, 17 and 12 respectively. The largest number of non-fatal accidents occurred in steam railway service, there being 131 employees injured, followed by the metal trades, with 75 injured. The disasters of the month, involving the death of more than one workman, were a mountain slide of snow at Fernie, B.C., by which six employees of a coal mine were killed and eight injured; an explosion in a pulp mill at Grand Marais, Que., by which four men were killed, and the drowning of four sailors off Yarmouth, N.S., during a storm.

The S. S. Adventure, Capt. Couch, sails to-morrow for Sydney to bring along her coal for the sealing trip.

The same sealing captains as last year will take the three Ventures to the icefields. Captains Randall and Cross will go out in the Belleventure and Bonaventure, respectively, as navigating officers.

It Cured Him.

There had been a little breeze at dinner. Relations between husband and wife were, for the time being, distinctly strained. The silence grew oppressive.

"So you think I smoke too much?" he asked, at length, harping back on the same chord, just by way of saying something.

"Not at all," she replied, deliberately forcing a yawn.

"Well, that's what you said a few minutes ago."

"I didn't say anything of the sort. I don't think you're smoking too much."

"Didn't you say I'd die if I didn't cut it down?"

"Yes; that's what I said."

And it took him quite a long time to grasp the meaning of the remark. Then he was quite angry.

But it cured him of the habit.

Lower Deck Romance.

Seaman Rises to Command a Battleship.

For the first time in the history of the British Navy, says the naval correspondent of the "New York Herald" (Paris edition), a man who entered on the lower deck has been appointed to the command of a battleship.

This is Commander Thomas J. S. Lyne, who takes command of the battleship Goliath, of the Third Fleet, at the Nore. He is transferred from the command of the gunboat Ringlova.

Commander Lyne entered the Navy nearly thirty years ago. In February 1898 he was advanced to the warrant rank of gunner, and in 1902, while in charge of torpedo boat No. 60, he had his great chance of distinction. The torpedo boat was employed during the South African war in patrolling and despatch-carrying on the coast of Cape Colony and broke down thirty miles from a dangerous coast. Mr. Lyne rigged jury sails from the deck cloths and navigated the vessel to a safe anchorage in Saldanha Bay.

He was promoted to commissioned rank for the achievement, becoming a lieutenant on June 26, 1902, and on September 28th last he was advanced to the rank of commander, thus being the first officer promoted from the lower deck to attain this rank while still on the active list.

Big Slaughter of Natives Admitted by An Official.

Thirty Thousand Killed by the Rifles Supplied by Rubber Company is Confession of Chairman.

London, January 10.—During the course of the enquiry being made into the Putumayo rubber scandal, it has been admitted that 30,000 natives have been murdered during the last twelve years by officials of one company.

Mr. Gubbins, chairman of the Peruvian-Amazon Rubber Company, Ltd. in the course of his evidence, said that the company had spent $8,500 in the purchase of rifles for its employees. He thought that these rifles had been required for the protection of the Company's officials, and did not know that an expedition against the natives had been contemplated.

The chairman also declared that he had subsequently learned that thousands of natives had been killed in the twelve years of the firm's existence.

Caught The Bluffer.

De Wint's Clever Ruse That Sold One of His Paintings.

Peter De Wint, the English landscape painter, was accustomed each year to have a semi-private show of his pictures before sending them to the Water Color Society's exhibition. On such occasions his friends frequently bought pictures, which, of course, appeared at the public exhibition marked "Sold."

Among the painter's friends was a wealthy man who wanted to appear a patron of art and at the same time keep his money. He managed this by loudly admiring the paintings already sold. He was always a bit too late to buy the pictures that pleased him most, and having seen them, as he was wont to declare, he could never content himself with less beautiful works.

De Wint at last suspected the man's sincerity, and when the next show day came round he concluded to test him. After plenty of time had been allowed for De Wint's friends to make their purchases the rich man arrived. As usual, his eye soon fell on two "perfect gems" marked "sold." Turning to the artist, he said: "Now, De Wint, those are exactly the things I should like to possess. What a pity they are not to be had."

"My dear sir," said the painter, slapping him on the back, "I knew you would like them, so I put the tickets on to keep them for you."

The awkwardness of the situation was only relieved when the enthusiastic admirer became the somewhat unwilling purchaser of the two "gems."—Youth's Companion.

Pneumonia in Bad Air.

Admiral Spent Two Years in Arctic—Never Caught a Cold.

The best way to get pneumonia is to gorge yourself with food and then shut yourself up in a room, turn on all the heat possible and stupefy yourself in a fetid atmosphere. Most persons think pneumonia or a heavy "cold" comes from sitting in a draft or in a cold room. No person ever contracted pneumonia simply by reason of low temperature, declares the Philadelphia Inquirer. There is no danger, although much discomfort, in getting chilled unless you are damped from rain or perspiration at the time. The late Admiral Melville relates that although he spent two years in the Arctic region, suffering almost incredibly from cold and hunger, he never contracted a "cold"—that is to say, inflammation of the lungs or mucous membranes of the head—until he returned to civilization.

Murder as a Science.

Deadly Germs Used by Experts—"Cobra Death."

New York, Dec. 29.—Physician, chemists, and judges long associated with the investigation of criminal cases at Chicago, have appealed to the government of the county for an appropriation for the establishment of a special board of examiners to make war on scientific murderers.

According to these experts, the science of murder has become so nearly perfect that it defies detection under the present post mortem methods.

Four prominent criminologists, Professor Haines, Dr. Ludwig Hektoen, Mr. Olsen, the chief magistrate of Chicago, and Dr. Hoffman, the coroner, declare that murder has at last become a fine art.

Half the deaths which are investigated by the coroner require scientific investigation which cannot be given at present because of the inadequate modern investigators now employed by the Government.

What is known as the "cobra death" is credited with being at present the favorite means of murder. It consists of inoculating a victim with cobra poison by means of a simple scratch on the skin, producing agonizing death in a few minutes.

This method of poisoning baffles all investigation except by specialists. Another mode of scientific murder is to give the victim a capsule containing the germ of a deadly disease, under the pretext of administering a cure.

Mr. Olsen asserts that he has personal knowledge of attempts that are made frequently to purchase disease germs for obviously unscientific purposes.

Dr. Haines declares that many persons dying apparently normal deaths surrounded by the members of their family have really been poisoned skillfully by disease capsules or a scratch made by a poisoned needle, so that no trace of the deliberate inoculation would be discernible except to the scientific investigator.

President McCormick, of the County Finance Committee, of Chicago, after hearing the evidence of experts on the subject, expressed himself as convinced of the need for establishing a special bureau to combat scientific murder.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mr. and Mrs. Butler who were burnt out by fire, on Gower Street, wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Coleman for their kindness to them. Mr. Coleman took Mrs. Butler and her children in and made them as comfortable as possible for the night; also the Managers of the Nfld. Clothing Co., namely, Mr. M. Mayers, Mr. White; Mr. Chown, Mr. Varasour, Mr. L. Kennedy and the Company and all the employees of the firm for their handsome sum of $129.50 which will be a great help to them towards a new home; also, Mr. Moore for $10.00. Mr. W. Lawrence, who brought clothing from his home to Mrs. Butler to keep her warm as she saved nothing only her wrap. Mr. and Mrs. Butler are now staying with Mrs. Snow where they are made quite comfortable until Mr. Butler gets another house. Mr. Butler had not one cent of insurance on his furniture and the loss to him is a big one as everything was in for the winter months. They also wish to thank Mrs. Ambrose Critch, South Side, who helped considerably.—adv.

LONDON, Jan. 30.
The Unionists concede the election of David Hogg, the Nationalist candidate, in Londonderry.

LONDON, Jan. 30.
The British Labour Party to-day officially declared itself in favor of Woman's Suffrage by 850 to 437, a conference of trade union representatives having instructed the labour members to oppose any franchise bill in which women were not included.

BERLIN, Jan. 30.
The Canadian Pacific has refused to join the North Atlantic Steamship pool, and a lively rate war for steerage passengers is in sight. The other companies decided to continue their co-operation. The Austro-American line will run a service between Trieste and Canada. Geo. McL. Brown, representing the C.P.R., said that his company accepted the situation cheerfully and was prepared to meet any rate reduction. Low rates would benefit Canada. The C.P.R. and Austrian services from Trieste will both begin in March.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 30.
The Allies gave notice to-day of the termination of the armistice, the four days of grace to start at 7 o'clock this morning. The Armistice has been in operation since Dec. 13th. Greece was at no time a party to the cessation of hostilities, and has continued fighting by land and sea, whilst the Montenegrins also have come into conflict with the Turkish garrison in Scutari on several occasions, notwithstanding the truce to which they were a party.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 30.
The Turkish Government displays a spirit of compromise in its reply to the Powers. The Porte stipulates for the retention of those quarters in Adrianople in which the holy shrines are situated. It proposes to leave in the hands of the Powers the disposal of the lands on the right bank of the Maritza, which runs through Adrianople; and assents to the dismantling of the fortifications. It insists on the maintenance of Turkish Sovereignty over the Aegean Islands, but is willing to leave the settlement of insular regimes to the Powers. The reply refers to the Powers' promise to give aid to the future development of the Turkish Empire, and recapitulates the religious and historical grounds which compel the Porte to stand out for the retention of that portion of Adrianople which contains the sacred shrine.

LONDON, Jan. 30.
Dr. Danef says that Turkey's reply is emphatically not acceptable, and not of the character to form a basis of fresh negotiations. The fortress of Adrianople and the Turkish islands in the Aegean must be ceded, and without that, negotiations will not be resumed. Moreover the cessation must be made immediately, as the first shot fired will change our conditions.

LONDON, Jan. 30.
Mrs. Pankhurst says that the fight will be carried on with increasingly effective methods. They were obliged to strike the enemy through others but that was always necessary in revolutionary warfare, and whatever was done, she would take the full responsibility.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.
Fire destroyed the Iowa Hotel, a four-story building, on the north of Clark Street, to-day. Three men and one woman were burned to death, three men injured seriously, and a dozen suffered more or less.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 30.
The People's Trust Company of Vancouver, with a branch in London, England, has assigned. The directors expect that the creditors and shareholders will be paid in full.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.
According to an official notice, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught are going home. The Duchess is making steady progress towards recovery, but will leave for England in the Spring for further medical advice. The date of the return is not definitely known.

DUNDEE, Jan. 30.
Suffragettes raised pandemonium during the ceremony of conferring the freedom of Dundee on Premier Asquith, to-day. Hardly had he risen to acknowledge the honor when shrieks of "traitor" resounded through the hall. The stewards and policemen threw the women out of the building amid hysterical shrieking, howls of rage and sharp scrimagings. One woman sprang over the front gallery, and was only saved from falling among the crowded audience, 20 feet below, by several men seizing her by the skirts and holding her suspended.

LONDON, Jan. 30.
The British Government has not yet reached a decision as to the resumption of negotiations for ratifica-

Killed by a Bull.

Plattsburg, N.Y., Jan. 22.—A bull that George H. Whyland, a telegraph operator at South Junction, near here was leading yesterday, leaped upon him when he fell on the icy road and fatally gored him as he lay prostrate. The animal used hoofs as well as horns, viciously trampling his victim, breaking both of Whyland's arms and crushing his ribs.

North Star is Three Suns.

San Francisco, Jan. 20.—That the universe is half again as large as the world has supposed; that the sun is still youthful and keeps travelling northward 20 miles a second; that the north star is not a single star, but consists of three stars revolving about a common centre, are some of the latest discoveries announced by W. H. Campbell, director of Lick Observatory, of the University of California. What is considered one of the greatest contributions to cosmology Lick Observatory has made, is Campbell's proof by spectrographic observations that stars in the earlier stages of their existence are travelling slowly through space, and their speed increases with their development. This had not been suspected.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Mr. Peter Garland, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garland, of Harvey Street, died this morning after a short illness. A recent attack of LaGrippe, followed by brain fever, is said to be the cause of this bright young man's death.

Another resident of Water Street was before the Court yesterday, for absconding. He was convicted and fined $50 or six weeks. Two other cases are to engage the attention of the Court to-morrow.

Rev. Dr. Whelan, of North River, and Rev. Dr. Murphy, of Brigus, were in town yesterday, the guests of His Lordship Bishop March, at the Palace.

Mr. W. H. Casey, teacher at North River, was in town for a couple of days this week.

Mr. E. L. Oke, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Carbonar, goes to St. John's by this afternoon's train, where he will spend part of his three weeks' holidays with relatives and friends and former schoolmates.

Dr. C. Cron and Miss Jardine are to be married at Bay Roberts this afternoon, and will come to town by the night train. The doctor and his fair bride are very popular and numerous good wishes are being showered on them by their many friends.

The K. E. Brigade are holding their annual military ball in the Academy hall to-night. It is a foregone conclusion that this affair will be a great success.

A resident of the Southside, recently purchased a rooster from a north side friend and bringing it home placed it in the barn yard in charge of his flock of ten hens. The latter were quite indignant at this insult to place a northsider over them and immediately set upon the intruder apparently intending to do him to death. But "Dick" was not to be treated thus, so jumping out into the middle of the ring he commenced crowing loud and long, thereby asserting his authority and bringing his feathered friends of the Southside under submission. Since then peace has reigned supreme.

Hr. Grace, Jan. 30, '13.

Amazing Shorthand Feats.

It was during the course of an interview which I had some time ago with Mr. Bernard de Bear, who is retiring from the position of Principal of Pitman's School after twenty years' service, writes the T. B. man, that I asked him which of the many phonographic honours he has gained—for he is one of the greatest shorthand writers who ever mastered the art—he most appreciated. "I am most proud of the fact that I was probably the first to write officially at the rate of 200 words a minute, which so delighted the late Sir Isaac Pitman that he made me a present of a handsome gold watch in honour of the occasion." Referring to his early shorthand days, Mr. de Bear has described how he once found shorthand of value when no other means of communication would have been possible. "I remember being in a railway station in a country town at holiday-time," he said. "The station was besieged with 'trippers' and, having got in, it was impossible to get out again. I was most anxious to communicate with a friend standing in the street some little distance away, and on the window-pane of the waiting-room I communicated my message by writing reversed shorthand, the outlines reading correctly to my friend in the street. By using the thumb for thick strokes and the first finger for thin, there was no difficulty at all in telegraphing my thoughts. In no other circumstances would it have been possible to effect the same purpose." On another occasion when Mr. de Bear was lecturing on shorthand matters at Harrogate, the proceedings were opened by the mayor with a speech of about five minutes duration. The mayor was considerably astonished when he found that the lecturer had taken down the whole of his remarks on the somewhat limited area provided by his shirt cuff, which he had previously prepared for the purpose with horizontal lines.

Notes and Comments.

The Grabbers must go.

The Morris Party is finished in Hr. Grace District, and they know it.

Morris is making good. Of course, he is making good for the return of the Liberal Party.

Union is Strength.

Coaker is pulling down and Morris is building up. Yes, there are elements of truth in the Herald declarations. Coaker is pulling down the votes piled up for Morris last election and Morris is building up a big majority for Bond next election.

Let Morris finish his work. No! The country has had enough of him and his works. He was going to build all the branch lines out of the first Loan of $4,000,000. But he had to go to London again for $2,000,000 more. The country has had enough of such financing. People can't afford to let the Morris Government go on.

The Morris party affect much concern for the Opposition. Why? If the Opposition was divided, as they say, they would let well enough alone and rejoice in secret. The concern they express is really for themselves. They know they are doomed. Otherwise there would be no need for the constant attacks and the circulation of special party numbers. They are badly hit and they know it.

The House of Lords rejected the Home Rule Bill last night. The rejection occasions no surprise. It is a step which was expected, and which the Parliament Act of the Asquith Government was enacted to meet.

It closes, however, the first step in the series contemplated to secure the passage of the measure. The Government will, of course, close the session as soon as the necessary bills of supply, taxation and other matters have been passed. Next session the Government will introduce it at the Rule Bill again, pass it through the Commons, and the Lords will probably exercise their privilege of rejecting it a second time. If they do so, the Government will introduce it at the session which follows and on its passage by the House of Commons. It will be unnecessary to send it to the Lords a third time. All that will then be necessary will be the assent of the King who assents in due course, the Royal Veto never having been exercised for nearly two hundred years.

We have received a communication from the hiring committee of the Orange Hall at Bay Roberts, which we publish elsewhere. They deny that they demanded altogether $24. They state they hired the hall for $8 for a public meeting and then demanded a second hiring of $8 (not $16) when Mr. Coaker asked for men who wished to stay behind for enrollment. We were in the hall at the time and some few yards away from Mr. Coaker. We were not a party to the bargaining, but the impression made on our mind was that the Committee asked for double hire for the continuance of the meeting. The Committee deny this and claim that the $16 was for the whole hire, $8 for the public meeting and $8 for the private meeting, or in other words a double hire for a double meeting. Mr. Coaker must have understood differently, and he was a party to the bargain, for he states in the Advocate plainly that he agreed to pay $16 to be allowed to go on.

Mr. Coaker is out of town, but we are communicating with him and with parties in Bay Roberts, with a view to a clearing up of what appears to be a misunderstanding.

It is somewhat singular how little the mercantile community has been impressed in favour of the fishery policy of the Morris Government. The new markets which Morris was going to open in Mexico, Central and South America and other parts of the world where our fish did not enter when Morris took charge are still undeveloped. The subsidies for direct steam to the West Indies to assist in the marketing of our catch are still unprovided. And as to the Bait Question, the country has been alarmed time after time by the slowness of the Government in running the Bait Protection. Note the protests of the Board of Trade. These are surely convincing proof of the dissatisfaction which is rife about the way the Morris Government has run the Bait Protection service.

Smallpox at Bell Island.

Yesterday afternoon the discovery was made at Bell Island that smallpox had developed in a residence there. Three persons are ill of the disease and Magistrate Power with the doctors there are doing their best to confine it to the residence in which it originated. The disease is said to be of a malignant type and how it was brought to the Island is not known, though it is thought it came over from Broad Cove. The Board of Health here are acting in concert with the Island authorities and recognize the consequences should the disease become widespread there.

Fetched $500.

The patch fox brought along yesterday from Gander Bay by Mr. Thomas Francis was sold to the proprietors of the Reid Fox Farm for $500. The animal lost one of its hind legs, but is in good condition. Mr. Francis will start a fox farm on his own account soon at Gander Bay.

The Second Term Issue.

Special to Evening Telegram. WASHINGTON, To-day. Presidential terms ranging all the way from two to six years; prohibition against second and third terms exemptions which would affect Roosevelt, Taft, and Wilson; proposals for recall and direct popular election of Presidents were thrust into the Senate in rapid succession during first days. The consideration of the Constitutional amendment limiting the President to a single term of six years made a lively debate. Senator Bristow's proposal that a President could be recalled at any regular election was voted down by 68 to 10. Senator Smith's amendment to make single term of four years instead of six defeated was 42 to 25.

Solving Egg Problem

He was a genius. There could be no doubt about it. His hair was long; there was a dreamy, far-away look in his eyes, and, so he said, he had a scheme which would make him rich—rich beyond all the dreams of avarice.

"What is your scheme?" he was asked one day by a chance acquaintance who scented business.

"Come into a quiet corner," replied the man of genius, "and I will tell you. 'Tis this. It has been estimated that a common housefly lays at least 20,000,000 eggs in a season."

"Well," replied his companion, "what of that?"

"Aha!" exclaimed the genius triumphantly. "I propose to graff the housefly on to a hen."

They Will Want Reciprocity.

New York World:—"That Mr. Taft's blunders helped kill Reciprocity with Canada, as Earl Grey said, cannot be denied. But may not the time soon come when reciprocity between neighbors so closely related as Canada and the United States will be recognized as a common-sense policy working to their mutual advantage?"

DIED.

This morning, suddenly, Mrs. Ann Murphy, widow of the late Luke Murphy, cooper, aged 95 years, leaving three daughters, one son and nine grandchildren to mourn their loss. Funeral notice later.

Londonderry Election.

MAJORITY 57.

As we were about to go to press we received a news message from Halifax giving the majority at the Londonderry Election as 57. But it did not state which party won. However, as the messages this morning state the Unionists concede victory to the Nationalists, we infer that the latter won.

St. Kate Barnard

She weighs about ninety pounds—a mighty small quantity of woman, but a tremendous batch of dynamite. At first sight she is plain, insignificant and shallow, but her eyes are wonderful—veiled with soft mysticism—flaming with eagerness—challenging, compelling.

She is the Jeanne d'Arc reborn on the prairies—Peter the Hermit reincarnated in skirts—mother for the multitude—zealot, crusader, and a human wildcat.

At times, as gentle as a saint—again, implacable and dangerous as a two-gun man.

She has accomplished more within the span of her twenty-odd years than any one woman of her hour. She comes nearer to running Oklahoma than all the other officers in the State.

At present she is Commissioner of Charities and Corrections—a fragile girl in control of the vice and crime and misfortune of her commonwealth.

Some politicians don't like her way of running things, but politicians never did admire a straight line. When they know the game half as well as Kate Barnard plays it, they may out her; but just now, with 160,000 votes in the palm of her hand, and the love of every decent citizen in the community behind her, she will remain in office as long as her ambition is alive, which means as long as she is alive, which again doesn't necessarily mean a great many years, for Kate Barnard is ill—sickened with the woes of her people—a broken, wee, feeble mite, fighting giants' battles for man's betterment.

Her name is an inspiration to every woman. She proves how far and how splendidly courage and persistence can achieve in petticoats.

She came into this world with a second-class spine, but a first-class backbone. She was ill as a child and she was sickly in her maturity, but Kate has been too busy worrying about others to notice her own troubles.

Her shoulders are hardly wider than a laborer's palm, but they are broad enough to support thousands of lagging souls.

Wherever men pay the penalty of crime, they pay her reverence. She has cleansed American prisons of their Augean filth. She has brought mercy where brutality was lord. She has taught the outcast to hope and planted faith in many a broken breast.

She believes in the best of the worst and she has found good where society has looked for brass.

At the start they laughed at her theories, but to-day she can point to a horde of re-made men, triumphant over their baser selves, rebuilt, revised, by her belief.

Her record is a staggering blow to the sociologists and criminologists who have maintained that a jail-bird must always remain a bird of prey.—Herbert Kaufman in Woman's World, for February.

More Speed, More Accidents.

Most people are under the impression that Monday bears the worst accident reputation; but this theory is startlingly contested in a recent Yorkshire mills' report, wherein it is stated that by Friday of each week accidents increase by as much as thirty per cent.

The reason given for this is what is called "speeding up." Each mill has so much work to turn out per week, Monday, we all know, is a slack day, and it is the middle of the week sometimes before the mill-operator begins to realize that he won't be through his prescribed work by Saturday; so he puts on more speed, and more speed means more risk of accident.

In the majority of cases, also, accidents usually occur between ten and twelve in the morning, and three and five in the afternoon. This is easily explainable, as it is the end of a shift in each case, and the operators are tired.

July and August naturally show a lower percentage of accidents on account of the holidays.

He that loves not his wife and children feeds a lioness at home and broods a nest of sorrows; and blessing itself cannot make him happy.—Jeremy Taylor.

If all the year were playing holidays, to sport would be as tedious as to work.—Shakespeare.

Stafford's Liniment for sale by Mrs. Summers, Military Road. Open every night—Jan 18, 13

PARADE RINK.—The Parade Rink was again largely attended by skaters last night. There was a splendid sheet of ice, and the Terra Nova Band discoursed a nice programme of music.

Stafford's Liniment for sale by John Fitzpatrick, 60 Field St. Jan 18, 13

LUNATICS ARRIVE.—A resident of Long Pond who was very violent and had to be manacled was brought here by the train Wednesday night, as well as another from Placentia Bay. Both were brought to the Lunatic Asylum.

COUNCILLOR CHANNING A. RETURNING.—Letters received a couple of days ago by friends of Councillor Channing, convey the information that he is slightly improved and is now on the return home. He should be here in a short while.

A Floral Sociable will be held in the Lecture Room of the Congregational Church on Wednesday, February 12th. Particulars later.—Jan 29, 13

WITH THE PUCK.—The contestants in to-night's hockey match are the Feildians and Victorias. Both teams are fairly well matched. A stiff contest is being looked forward to. The ice at the Prince's Rink is in splendid condition.

THE REDEMPTRISTS.—Rev. Fr. Holland who is coming here with the Redemptorist Fathers to conduct a mission at the Cathedral and St. Patrick's, is a nephew of Mr. John Holland, of this city, and a cousin of Mrs. Tobias Jackman. He is a very eloquent preacher as is also Father McPhail.

WORKING UNDER BAY.—The miners of Bell Island are now working in the depths six miles out under Conception Bay. There are millions of tons of ore in sight and most of the men labor in oil skins as considerable water percolates down through the roof of the mine. Quite a large number of men are working on the island this winter.

VICIOUS DOGS ABOUT.—The South Side Hill is again infested with hungry and savage dogs, and it is unsafe for people to go there. A man named Sears who was on the way to visit his rabbit snares, Wednesday evening, was attacked by the brutes but beat them off with a cudgel which he carried but was forced to return. These useless curs should be exterminated.

CAN'T GET WOOD.—The absence of snow sufficient to make good hauling, prevents the people of Bay de Verde District from getting to the forest to cut fuel and wood for houses and boats. The ponds are well frozen but there is little or no snow on the ground for slides and carts cannot be used. But that there is a fair supply of coal in the place the people would suffer severely for firing in their homes.

It is not hard to keep the family in good humor if you have good wholesome things to eat. Just arrived a large shipment of the celebrated Banbury Cakes, English Plum Puddings, Scotch Shortbread; also Banana, Lemon, Orange and Pineapple Butter; also Horseradish Cream, as used with the Royal Baron of Beef at Osborne. Was pronounced very good. Also fresh Rhubarb. They are the nicest and best specialties of the season. BISHOP, SONS & CO., Ltd. Grocery Dep't. Phone 679. Jan 27, 13

Union Meeting At Brigus.

Mr. Coaker arrived here by train yesterday noon. The Union men with guns and band, met him at the station. A parade was formed and marched to the Union Hall. The President rode in a carriage prepared for the occasion. He was greeted by thunderous cheers. The people lined the streets cheering as the parade passed through. Flags were lined across the streets as well as on many of the chief citizen's homes and from scores of flag poles. Volleys of musketry belched forth their welcome. The people dispersed at the hall after the President addressed them.

After dinner the President drove to Cupids, where he spent the afternoon. At 8 o'clock a public meeting was held in the Orange Hall which was packed. The band was present. The Rev. Mr. Maddock occupied a seat in the front rank, and all the leading citizens were present. Thos. Roberts, Chairman of the F.P.U. presided. The President spoke for over two hours, delivering a splendid speech which delighted the audience. His remarks were punctuated by continued applause. It was an eye-opener to many. The most perfect order prevailed. Not a single interruption.

At the close cheer after cheer were given and a vote of thanks carried by acclamation. The National Anthem brought the great mass meeting to a close amid enthusiasm never seen here before. George Manpton will receive a large vote here and Mr. Coaker stated he would receive two to Mr. Warren's one, and asked all who intended to vote for Hampton to raise their hand, when fully three-fourths of the audience responded.

The President drove to Bay Roberts this morning where he will consult with the Council and enjoin for Carbonar and on to Selly Cove.

Our determination is to "Sink or Swim with Coaker."

For obstinate corns long standing, it would seem to be the proper thing, and it brings with it from Canada an excellent reputation for reliability and effectiveness. Price 25c. a bottle.

Prospero Returns.

The S. S. Prospero, Capt. A. Keat arrived from the Northwest at 9 o'clock last night after a tedious trip. She only got as far north as Twillingate and owing to the heavy Arctic ice could not get beyond. Going north the steamer had a hard time butting her way along and was detained in all the harbours she called. At St. John's-Come-By the ship was detained two days and a half and while forcing her way through the ice pack had her rudder post injured. The Prospero reports a very severe winter north, the thermometer registered continually twenty below zero. She brought a full freight and a few passengers.

The Wailing Place.

Oh, come to the village p u m p where the gray beards sit and talk, concerning the fatal dump and the awful jabberwock; m a n's foolish who works and strives s r i m want from his home to keep;

for why should we men have wives, if we still must sow and reap? Oh, come to the place of tears, where the fall, uses sit and sigh; and throw a few useless jeers at the workers going by; let the women work on at home wash dishes and peel the spuds, and rise through the suds and foam; mountain of dirty duds. For why should a sane man wed and take to home a bride, if he knows that the daily bread by him must be still supplied? Not his are the household chores, not his is the axe or loom; 'tis his with the other bores to thrash out the country's doom; to sit by the old horse trough, across from the Blue Front barn, and there by the hour reel off his musty and ancient yarn. So come to the place of sighs, and talk of the laws we need, while your wife, with a sad heart tries to furnish the children feed. Oh, come to the village pump, where the moldy gray-beards yawn, and talk of the frightful slump our bulwarks have undergone; oh let us with language soil the air till the day departs; and the women at home may toil, and toll till they break their hearts.

Wives to Tell The Tale.

Wally Hunter of Minnesota North Woods, on the face of it, has Witneses.
Minneapolis, Jan. 21.—Wirt, a settler in the north woods of Minnesota, to-day revealed a series of exploits that befel a mighty hunter, which authorities in such things say is not exceeded in the hunting annals of the State.
E. O. Wally, postmaster at Wirt, was the hero of the adventures. While hunting he wounded a bull moose. He tracked the injured beast for several ours, and at nightfall got the shot that felled his quarry. Twenty miles from human habitation, Wally decided to camp for the night. He prepared wood for a fire, but found he had no matches. The night was bitter cold and fearing he would freeze to death Wally disembowled the moose and crawled inside the carcass.
Early the next morning a pack of hungry wolves, attracted by the fresh meat, attacked the carcass. It had frozen during the night, and the prowl-ers were unable to make much headway. Neither was the man inside able to get out.
A passing hunter heard the howls, and rained his gun on the wolves, ignorant of the presence of the imprisoned Wally. The shots drove away the wolves, but a stray bullet passed through the moose and wounded Wally in the leg. After several ours' hard work the wounded prisoner was released and taken home. His condition was critical for a time, but he is convalescent now.
