IS THIS LIKE YOUR CASE?

Mrs. F. Gervais, of 126 Bleury Street, Montreal, writes: "My baby girl developed a bad rash on her body and it made her very fretful and ill. She would not take food and seemed very sick indeed. From fifteen pounds, her weight fell away to nine and a half pounds.

"I took her to a doctor who gave me a kind of lotion to use and I used it regularly, but the baby got no relief. The skin disease seemed to get worse and worse all the time we were doctoring for it, so we took the child to a second doctor. He told me to stop nursing the baby, and gave me other advice which I followed, but the skin disease got worse and worse.

"At this time a friend of mine visited us and, having seen the sad plight the baby was in, she said I did not know how to go about things. She took my baby to her home and applied Zam-Buk to the little body. This seemed to give the baby ease right from the first. It cured the sores and began to reduce the inflammation. I went on with the Zam-Buk treatment, and to my delight within one week from first starting with Zam-Buk the child looked like a different baby altogether! Within a month the skin disease was cured completely, the baby's appetite had returned and she was almost back at her normal weight. She now looks like the very picture of health.

"There is another feature of the case. One of the doctors has just sent me in a bill for $32! The treatment I got for that money left the child no better than before it was started. The cost of Zam-Buk treatment, which restored my child to health, was $2!

"Every mother should know what a splendid healer Zam-Buk is. ZAM-BUK is a "short cut" to skin healing. Use it for all skin injuries and diseases, eczema, ulcers, blood poison, etc., and for piles. All druggists and stores, 50 cents a box, or post free from ZAM-BUK Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—Cashin and Moore passed through here yesterday. They must be going to contest the District again. I suppose they will be along this way shortly. We will be glad to see them. I'm sure they will look fat and plump, and important, and be cock-sure; we will be delighted to see them and tell them how grateful we are for all they did for us the last four years. Mike will be as bland as he was the night he rammed the fellows who went to look after the Ballot Boxes, when they followed them into his own yard. The telegraph lines came in well that time. Phil will have one of his sweetest smiles, and a few verses of a song to help out his speech if he happens to be asked some questions about boodle and contracts, and the public debt, etc. Bond tells us about it. It will be well for Phil if some of those nasty things.

Bond says about the Morris Govern- ment don't put him out of tune.

But after all—outside of a few jobs to some few heifers, what have Cashin and Moore done for Witless Bay? The Reid Co. did some work here, but we furnished the money. These who had a bit of land got a trifle for right of way but the public works that we were promised seem to be overlooked. I wonder do Cashin and Moore remember the scare that was got up about a pane of glass that was broken in Mul- lowey's shop? Do they remember there was a constable here for a fortnight or so to look after the health, comfort and security of a certain individual that had some- what lowered his popularity in con- nection with the last election? Do they know anything about the scare that was created when a detective was sent here to search from house to house for evidence against some one (they never found out) suspect- ed for throwing that stone that gave occasion for so much heart palpitat- ion among the women, and was, I am sure, the cause of lowering the birthrate fifty per cent the next year? For such a contemptible trifle as a pane of glass broken by accident, no doubt, there was all this scare and confusion and Fear of being dragged before the courts on a mere suspicion of complicity. It showed what tender regard Cashin and Moore had for our feelings, and the respect they had for our name to hound us down with policemen and drag some of us be- fore the courts. Have Cashin and Moore the cheek to come here at all, not to say to ask us for our votes? Do they think we are somewhat of the nature of the Newfoundland dog, that they say, would lick the toe that kicked him. We are not built that way, Messrs. Cashin and Moore, and while we can show a little charity and forbearance for bad treatment we think it is due to our self-respect, as well as regard for our superiors to turn ye both down. We owe it to our manhood and in defence of our good name to resent the atrocious

Things Seldom Just "Happen."

There are sound reasons if you look for them. Home- stead Tea is as distinctive in age quality as it is in name.

This didn't just "happen." The reason is that in Homestead we use a proportion of the rich, strong teas of Northern India— teas grown in the district of Assam, where the tea bush is said to have had its origin. These teas when blended with the finer sorts of Ceylon teas give that rich strength and pleasing flavour possessed by Homestead.

cruely to our wives and families, as well as the dishonour to this irre- proachable community. I hope there is not a man in Witless Bay so mean and spiritless as to give either of you a vote. If there is, he is a lie- spittle of the lowest type, deserving the contempt of his fellows, and only fit to be whipped into line like a common cur. Apart from, and be- yond our personal grievances, on the broad questions before the coun- try just now, and so dealt with in a large part by Kent's criticism of the Budget, and able letters lately in the press. It is not pressing demand on every one that yields the power of a vote to put an end to such a reckless ad- ministration as Bond has so vehem- ently impeached in his Manifesto? At last election we were overwhelm- ed with promises and assurances of sound Government, wise adminis- tration, beneficent regard for the fish- ermen and laborer. But what do we find to-day? A Government charged with public corruption, public mon- ies recklessly squandered, and the public debt increased by millions without due warrant, and as a con- sequence, a glaring prospect of ut- ter ruin staring us in the face.

Auly set forth in the Bond Manifes- to.

"Let Morris finish his work" we are told by his howlers of the press. Let him return to run another Par- liament, say incontrovertible facts, and he will complete his work of demolition, boodling will go on, cor- ruption will run riot, while a few millions more for railway comple- tion and extension will render the country's finances hopelessly involv- ed. Is there any man with intelli- gence enough to vote, who does not know that? Is there any man so recklessly abandoned to all sense of duty as to see his country and not cry halt? Is there any man the expenses of his unfortunate native so vile as would not be for Bond when land calls for prompt and honest ser- vice? If ever there was a time when this country needed righteous and vigorous interposition by every free man within her borders to save her from humiliation and ruin, that time is on us. We who read, observe, and think are not waiting for Bond to write his Manifesto to tell us the true condition of things. We knew them long ago; we uttered words of warn- ing that were not heeded; we appeal- ed to a people whom we regarded as honest and intelligent but they heeded us not and we had to sit by helpless while men politically ignorant of their country's affairs, selfishly con- cerned in themselves and slavishly plia- ble to the wishes of men who were using them while they despised them, sign their own death warrant. Fool dupes! Have their eyes been open- ed? Are they still the simpleton- ens they used to be? Will they be children from the cradle to the grave. Can they not read the signs in the heavens?

Driven so Desperately to the Brink of Ruin

Will They Not Give to Wise and Hon- est Men,

long trusted and approved, or will they, like hopeless imbeciles, by every political rafter into the belief that the political millennium is at hand and only waiting for the return of Morris to power to see it ushered in. Men of Witless Bay! Men of the Southern Shore! Men of Newfoundland, your country is in peril. Pharos and his herds are after you, and if you wish to escape their vengeance you must pass through the Red Sea of a general election. March shoulder to shoulder in the ranks of Bond the Moses called to our deliverance, if you would camp securely on the other side. If you stand together like men of intelligence and independence, imbued with a true spirit of patriotism, you will see the greedy host that has been feasting on the vitals of our country, overwhelm- ed, engulfed, vanquished. An artist was once asked to paint a picture of the Red Sea. When the work was complete it was handed over to the person for whom it was done. The whole canvas was done in red. After gazing for a while in bewilderment at what he thought should have been a vivid illustration of that memorable pass over he turned to the artist say- ing: "Where are the Israelites?" "They are gone over," said the artist. "And the Egyptians?" "They were all drowned," was the curt reply. If the fishermen and labourers of New- foundland, like the Israelites in Egypt, can only be

Brought to Realize Their Present Con- dition

and imminent danger they will rally under the standard of the sole man who can rescue the country from danger, and after a few days more of suspense and the ballot is counted, then some one will ask: "Where are Bond and his followers to be found?" and he will get the reply: "In the House of Assembly surrounded by a triumphant, exultant, happy people." "And where are Morris and his pack?" and this answer rings: "All swamp- ed!" I hold no brief for Bond or any of his men. I recognize, as I have for years, his worth, his honesty, his abil-

LONDON, Oct. 9. Commenting on the speech of Winston Churchill at Dundee, the Liberal press insists that there must be no tampering with the unity of Ireland. The Unionist papers, particularly the Daily Mail, conclude that Churchill's speech is an offer to exclude north-east Ulster from the purview of the Home Rule Bill, provided the Unionists work with the Liberals for the success of a settlement. It is certain, however, that the Nationalists will not assent to the dismemberment of Ireland. Churchill, after the meeting expressed his strong conviction that the Irish question would be settled.

POINTERS.

Victory is beginning to loom large on the Liberal banner. BOUD CAUT LOSE is rebounding from one end of the country to the other, and on Polling Day a new era of clean Government and a square deal all round will be inaugurated.

The Herald's sneer at the Liberal's place of meeting in the West End only brings home to the minds of the electors there that after thirty years' representation by E. P. Morris in the House of Assembly, St. John's West possesses no hall suitable for a public meeting. What public spirit has he shown? In nearly every hamlet or village in the outports the people have a place of meeting, but in this great district no such building exists, and when a public meeting is to be held, a hall in the East End—St. John's East—must be procured. Does it reflect credit on Sir E. P.? Not much!

The Herald still shows it has $400 to bet on the West End, and says it is not Reid, nor is it mortgage money. Then perhaps it is some of the lucre he received for writing speeches for political blockheads, or it may be some of the boodle he is getting for debauching the public telegraph service of the Colony. Part of the four hundred dollars may be the proceeds he received for writing the Chicago Record letter, or it may be derived from the seven thousand dollars that Morris received for alleged services at the Hague; again, it is just possible that John R. Bennett has contributed the amount out of the big fees he received for railway arbitrations.

The money must have come from somewhere. John C. Crosbie sold two spars to the Government for $2,200. He may have chipped in. "Affidavit" Duffy has blossomed out as one of our merchant princes during the past four years, and perchance out of the abundance of his riches he may have deposited the amount just for the fun of the thing. But after all is said and done, we reiterate the question, Patsy, where did you get that money?

Making Good.

Last year when we stated that the success which the Fairbanks Morse engine had attained in the Maritime Provinces would be repeated here, many thought it impossible. To-day every fisherman will admit we have made good our promise. This spring we could not supply Fairbanks engines quickly enough so that we had to demand for them, and fishermen who last fall bargained for engines of other makes cancelled their purchases and bought the old reliable Fairbanks Morse.

At the Battery here, where last year we heard of engines of every make except Fairbanks being bought, our motor is held in high esteem and every fisherman even those who are using other makes will admit that the "Fairbanks Morse is a good engine." As a matter of fact ask any man in any place where there is one of our motors, his opinion, and you will find him loud in his praise of the Fairbanks.

The new kerosene burning engine will give the same satisfaction as the gasoline motors did last year. The fact of not one complaint from any of the large number of purchasers this year is the best proof that Fairbanks Morse engines are making good.

TESTIMONIAL.

Bay Roberts, Oct. 4th, 1913.
Dear Sir—As to how I find the Fairbanks Morse engine I may say it gave me perfect satisfaction in every way, and so simple that a child can operate it. I also tried running her on Kero oil and had every satisfaction even then.
Yours truly,

Cold Winds.

When the winds blow wild from the Arctic strand, where the snow piled on the frozen land, then we soon forget how we used to wheeze! In the days of sweat, for an ice-cold breeze! Oh, we don't look back to that misty time, when we cried, "Alack for some snow and sleet!" When the winds come through from the Arctic shore, let us smile a few, and then snuffle some more! If some ancient grove by the chimney-place, should release an "ouch!" with a gloomy face, and express a wish for a climate hot, let us break a dish on his dome of thought. Let us swat him twice with the old arm chair, when the north winds hiss, let us say: "Oh, cripes! Such a day as this though it bust the pipes, though it bring some grief with its peaky sleet, is a big relief after August heat!" Let us all be gay while we're here on earth; let us laugh and play with abounding mirth, though the winds be warring or the winds be still; though the day brings storm, though the day be still.

Editor The Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—Just a fair question we are putting before the public. What has Big Mick of the Southern Shore, to do with our affairs here in Trepansey? As far as we can make out himself and narrow-hearted Dick are running the Government, and think they can fool us by giving us a well to dig out and a gallon of (Ag.) potatoes to distribute while they grab all the big jobs for their equally narrow-hearted brothers. But it will take more than their brothers to put them in power next time, we have been fooled long enough. We know who to vote for without Patsy's help. Only for Patsy Mick and Dick would be considered illiterate enough, they had mighty small beginnings, smaller by far than those they have helped to deprive.

Sincerely yours, one who knows
BRIDGET.

Coaker's Triumphant March.

Special to The Evening Telegram.

KING'S COVE, Oct. 9, 1913.—King's Cove last night tendered Coaker, Abbott and Robert Winsor a reception worthy of the Unionists of the town. Velleys of musketry, burning of tar barrels, torchlight procession through the town and a grand mass meeting at the R. C. Parish Hall were the principal events of the night. Men from outlying places attended. The procession was an eye-opener to all opponents of Coaker, some two hundred men parading the street accompanied by all the boys in the place—cheering was continual all along the route. The Kintail was in point discharging union goods and replied to the cheering with her whistle.

The Fire From a Hundred Trenchlights Illuminated the Town.

It was the first demonstration ever witnessed in King's Cove. The procession marched to the spacious hall and when the meeting was opened by the chairman, Wm. Brown, the hall was packed with electors, many ladies also attended. The most of the audience stood during the delivering of speeches which occupied two and a half hours amid rousing cheers. The first speaker was John Abbott who surprised the audience by the delivery of a speech that would be creditable to any experienced politician; he was cheered constantly by the audience; every word he uttered took effect;

he spoke for forty minutes. Robert Winsor spoke for twenty minutes and his remarks were much appreciated; he was also heartily cheered. President Coaker, as he arose, got a grand ovation such as no public speaker ever received on a platform here; he spoke for an hour and a half delivering a speech that dumfounded his opponents and stirred his friends into an enthusiasm and interest that caused them to Cheer the Speaker Repeatedly.

His words had a tremendous effect upon the people and as his address was clear, manly, fluent and eloquent, all recognized that his election was a foregone conclusion for he treated his opponents squarely and manly. Not one word of dissension was heard; all were in harmony with the President's views and every man was delighted to have been present. It was the largest gathering of people ever witnessed here. The Parish Hall was never half filled before at a political meeting; even the entrance was stuffed with people last night. When Mr. Coaker sat down he was cheered in a manner that must have made him feel proud. The National Anthem being sung the hall again echoed with cheers for Coaker, the Union, Abbott, and Winsor. This vicinity is supposed to be the hardest knot Coaker has to tackle, but last night's grand event, which came off so successfully, and the grand mass meeting, have removed all doubts and to-day all agree that a Two-Third Vote Around Here will be Given the Union Candidates.

King's Cove has done its duty in honoring Coaker, the man that the fishermen respects and esteems and the country can now rest assured that this town will stand by Coaker and save the Union. Read this list, Patsy.

HANT'S HR., To-day.

Yesterday morning Lady Stone and Target drove to Whaley's Brook, Brownsdale and Sibley's Cove and talked with men from these places and Lead Cove. They were royally received with flags, cheering and joy guns. In the afternoon a meeting was held in the Orange Hall at Brownsdale and was attended by practically all the voters at home. The speeches lasted nearly three hours and were punctuated by frequent applause which made the hall ring and ring again. At the close all the men stood up, excepting three Road Board men, to show they would cast a straight ticket vote on the 20th for Bond's candidates. After tea the three candidates drove to New Melbourne. On approaching they found a guard of honour posted at intervals, who welcomed the Liberal men with volleys of musketry and cheers, indeed New Melbourne outdid itself in the great welcome accorded Lord, Stone and Target, for hundreds of shots were fired to welcome them. A big meeting was held in the Orange Hall which lasted from 7.45 to nearly 11.30, and the three candidates were accorded a great hearing and the points they made met with hearty cheers from the audience. From Hant's Harbour down to Lead Cove the Tory candidates will pick up only a few scattered votes. Well done, Hant's Harbour, New Chelsen, New Melbourne, Whaley's Brook, Brownsdale, Sibley's Cove and Lead Cove. Bond, Coaker and the Coalition tell every time here.

Daily Investment News St. John's, Oct. 10, 1913. Canadian Disbursements and an offer.

Some statistics compiled by the Financial Post of Canada illustrate convincingly the huge amount of Canadian interest and dividend disbursements payable from the first of the month to the end of the year.

Thirty-eight millions is the total given for disbursements by all Canadian companies whose securities are listed on the various Canadian exchanges. But this figure does not include the doubtless quite large payments of the smaller unlisted Canadian companies. Nor does it embrace the payments of those companies listed on Canadian exchanges deriving their revenue from outside sources, and whose capital is largely held in Canada.

A Little Meanness is the Cause of Real Misery.

Editor Evening Telegram. Mr. Editor.—A few days ago a certain business man in this city said to me that it is not right for me or any other man to criticise any member of our Government, it is not safe to destroy public confidence in our representatives.

Mr. Editor, it occurs to me it is always wise to tell the truth. The idea that certain things must be kept from the public is a false and a dangerous idea. There is nothing in this country of any importance except the public. There is no little class of wise beings that should be considered superior to the general public. This country is the general public, and every truth concerning the Government should be revealed to the country's owners, the general public. My friend is mistaken in his idea that the honest politician objects to just criticism of the politician that is not honest; the honest politician is glad to see the dishonest one exposed and sent to jail. It means an end of his power for harm.

The great majority of politicians will rejoice when the truth is told bluntly about one unworthy who held a seat in the Executive Council. An honest man does not want this class of a man "protected or shielded"; it would not be a compliment to such an honest man to shield or to treat as his equal a man unworthy of a seat. My friend need not feign that the truth will do harm. It is the one force that will solve our problems and establish an end of his power for harm.

Special to Evening Telegram. WASHINGTON, To-day. The first complication with a foreign Government over the new tariff law came when Germany lodged a protest with the State Department against interpretation in favour of American ships of five per cent. preferential clause in Underwood Simmons Statute. The German Government does not suggest how the uncertainty that has arisen over the ambiguity of this clause should be settled, but the protest was interpreted as a suggestion that she will ask that the clause be submitted to arbitration. If construction of it by this country is thought to infringe her Treaty rights in any way it is feared that the German protest is merely a forerunner of many other complications with foreign nations, on account of this clause of Tariff Bill.

France, already has served notice that she will retaliate if French vessels are discriminated against, but France is on a different footing from Germany and most of the other European countries, because she has no treaty guaranteeing equal treatment in this respect. The entire difficulty has arisen through the failure of Democratic Legislators to make their meaning clear.

The "Affidavit" Man.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir.—I would like, for the edification of myself and others interested, if Sir E. P. would kindly explain the mystery of the monosyllabic known as Duffy's Affidavit, and if this is Duffy of Cabot Street, of oil contract fame. There must be some mystery about this individual or the affidavit. For with Sir E. P. and Timber Don he is making good. What of the oil contract dredge supplying, Poor House, timber claims, etc. He seems to be one of importance to the Pick-nick Party. It is common rumour that he owns a great tract of territory on Labrador. And why all this? His service seems invaluable to Morris over whom he appears to hold some kind of hypnotic influence. I would ask Sir Edward to explain why the people's property is sacrificed in such a manner and why this mysterious power wielded by this (Morris) affidavit man; or is it the affidavit and not the man. There are rumors afoot of dirty work, in which this individual DUFFY, has taken a very prominent part. It must be pleasing to him and his colleagues, for he (Duffy) surpasses all other healers and is Morris's devoted man Friday.

Sir E. P. Morris please explain. For well I know you can; Please clean up the mystery Of the Affidavit man. WEST END. Oct. 10, 1913.

The Boy Who Loves His Mother.

She sat on the porch in the sunshine, As I went down the street— A woman whose hair was silver, Whose eyes were blossom sweet, Making me think of a garden, When in spite of the frost and snow Of bleak November weather, The fragrant flowers grew.

I heard a step behind me, And the sound of a merry laugh, And I knew the heart it came from Would be like a comforting staff In the time and hour of trouble. Hopetful and brave and strong, One of the hearts to lean on, When we think all things go wrong.

He cried, and bent to kiss The loving face uplifted For what some mothers miss.

That boy will do to depend on, I know that this is true— From lips in love with their mothers Our bravest heroes grew. Earth's grandest hearts have been loving. Since time and earth began, And the boy who kisses his mother Is every inch a man.

Last Night's Meeting at the Battery.

A BIG DEMONSTRATION!—ST. JOHN'S EAST STILL THE BANNER LIBERAL DISTRICT—KENT, DWYER AND RYAN GIVEN A GLORIOUS RECEPTION AND ASSURED OF BEING RETURNED TRIUMPHANTLY—A HOPELESS BATTLE FOR THE TORIES.

"The greatest, ablest and most honorable Statesman and Leader that ever graced the House of Assembly, is Sir Robert Bond." These were the words expressed by Sir Edward Morris three months before he acted the Judas and betrayed the present Leader of the Liberal Party, Sir Robert Bond, who is unanimously declared to be the greatest statesman in Newfoundland since the advent of Responsible Government, and who is universally declared in the most world-renowned journals to be one of the ablest statesmen throughout the vast Empire of Great Britain.

The above quotation was aptly applied in a speech made at a meeting held at the Battery last night, when the Liberal candidates, Messrs. Kent, Dwyer and Ryan were given a magnificent reception by the fishermen of that settlement; a reception that will long be remembered and never before approached in the Banner District of Liberalism.

The committee formed up at the Mechanics' Hall at eight o'clock, accompanied by the three candidates and began the march for the Battery going along Duckworth Street there was vociferous cheering for Sir Robert Bond and the staunch old Liberal Party. Coming to Hopkinstown, the procession was unexpectedly joined by a representative gathering of fishermen and escorted to the settlement amid continuous cheering and whole-souled Liberal enthusiasm. Ever householders in the place turned out in loyal fashion and volleys of musketry belched forth a loyal greeting. The stages along the waterfront were brilliantly illuminated. The fact is that the entire scene was an eye-opener and destroyed the last ray of hope in the breasts of the most sanguine Tories.

The meeting opened in the Methodist school room at 8.30. An unfortunate circumstance was the lack of accommodation as a great many who were unable to gain admission had to remain outside. However doors and windows were thrown open and those that thronged the entrance could hear most of the speeches. Mr. G. Vatcher was moved to the chair by a unanimous vote and introduced the three candidates. Mr. Ryan was first called upon to address the assembly and as he rose from his seat he was greeted with vociferous applause that shook the building. Beginning, he said the time was now approaching when the fishermen of the Battery would be given the privilege of electing three members to represent them in the Legislature, and he earnestly solicited their vote on behalf of the Liberal Party. Mr. Ryan was proud to say that he was the son of a fisherman and a fisherman himself and consequently knew what was best in the interests of the fishermen. He had trod the "frozen pans" when conditions were not as favorable, especially regarding food, as they are to-day, and who said he is mainly and solely responsible for the improvements, but Mr. W. F. Coaker, the greatest friend the fishermen had in the country, Mr. Coaker, continued Mr. Ryan, has done more for the uplifting of the fishermen than any other man that ever stepped on Newfoundland soil. The speaker said he was more than surprised at the reception given the Liberal candidates, and he assured his hearers that, if elected, they would do all possible for the people's benefit. At the conclusion of his speech he was cheered to the echo.

Mr. John Dwyer followed in a stirring and impassioned address. He said not in his fifteen years' experience in political life, had he ever witnessed such a reception. Mr. Dwyer laid down the policies of both Governments and gave a few illustrations of the squanderings of the present Government. He exhorted the fishermen to stand by Coaker and the Fishermen's Protective Union. Union is the strongest power at the present moment so that by keeping up to its traditions you can serve your own interests best, as he helps those who help themselves." His address was sound and convincing, and was punctuated throughout by cheers which made the hills around give back the echo BOND CANT LOSE.

The next speaker was the leader of the ticket, Mr. James M. Kent, who was given the ovation of the evening. When the storm of enthusiasm had abated, the speaker said: "In all my time in political life, gentlemen, I never witnessed anything like to-night's demonstration, and it fore-shadows a tremendous victory for the Liberal Party on Oct. 30th." Right to the outset Mr. Kent grappled with the extravagance and misrule of the present administration and contrasted it with the policy of the Liberal Party, and all right-thinking men will agree with me, said the speaker, when I say that Sir Robert Bond's record stands unique in the Colony's history, and the policy outlined in Bond's Manifesto will be best for the fishermen. Referring to the wasteful expenditure of the Tory party, he showed how the people's money and their rights were bartered away on steno trips abroad, etc., by the Tories, under the leadership of Sir E. P. Morris. Let us take the exposure made by Mr. Coaker a few days ago in relation to the Iron Mine Corporation which was formed in S. Dakota and shares were floated in London. Mr. Coaker has asked repeatedly through the columns of the Fishermen's Advocate if certain members and Executive members of Morris's Government were connected with that concern, but there is no answer yet forthcoming.

When the Tory Government came into power, Morris said in the House of Assembly that he would build five railways for four million dollars. But what are the facts? Six millions of dollars have been spent and neither one of the railways is finished. The policy of Sir Robert Bond is practical and economical and is sure to commend itself to all our people. Mr. Kent dealt extensively with the mill and standardization of fish and the opening up of new fish markets as outlined in Sir Robert Bond's Manifesto. Sir Robert will adopt measures whereby consular agents are appointed for the opening up of new markets. This is one of the main promises that Sir Edward Morris failed to fulfil. The speaker then showed up Sir Edward Morris in the role of a traitor, and referring to him when he said in the House of Assembly three months before he deserted our leader—"The greatest, able and most honorable statesman that ever graced the floors of the House of Assembly." This is the same Tory leader that is now denouncing Sir Robert and says he was never a working Premier.

Before concluding, Mr. Kent referred to the P.P.U. under the guidance of the President, W. F. Coaker. Mr. Kent advised all to stick to the P.P.U., which is in an impregnable position to-day and which by its existence is a boon to the fishermen throughout the island. In closing, Mr. Kent impressed upon those present when casting their votes, not to split as by doing so they were not voting for the Liberal party, but to vote the straight ticket for the Liberal candidates.

Mr. Joseph Peckford was then called upon to address the gathering and indeed gave a practical and convincing discourse mentioning that the people of St. John's East, mainly the fishermen, were so filled up with that old loyal spirit of Liberalism, that they were anxiously awaiting the 30th of October to turn out the unscrupulous gang of spend-thrifts and pluckers. Speaking of Kent, Dwyer and Ryan, Mr. Peckford remarked that three better men, who were true to their principles and the trust placed in them could not be selected for any district. One of Mr. Peckford's striking points was when he uttered "Where were these great men, such as Morris, at the time of the notorious Bank Crash, when Sir Robert Bond took us out of disaster and ruin on that Black Monday?" "They kept within doors," was the reply. Deafening cheers were then given for Sir Robert Bond and Mr. Peckford.

The next speaker introduced, was Mr. John Giles, who, it is unnecessary to say, gave a masterly and eloquent discourse. The idea and sole purpose of the Tory clique, said the speaker, is to loot the Treasury and hoodwink the people. Out of 21 promises contained in Morris's Manifesto of five years ago, only one has been partly fulfilled, an astounding rough calculation it would take him

100 years to fulfill his promises. Mr. Giles reviewed the Selling process policy of better known as the greatest "cod" error introduced into Newfoundland. Morris got 1,000 paper bags made on the other side of the water, brought them to Newfoundland and distributed them amongst the fishermen, telling them when their fish would come out of the water all they had to do was to ship their catch to foreign markets in a papers recently, stating that a fish over fizzle as the coal and fuel policy contained in Morris's manifesto. Coal was never as high in price as it is at present. The one industry, said the speaker, that Morris gave much attention to was the raising of the price of spars, which according to statistics fetch $1.100 each.

Before closing, Mr. Giles told of an item appearing in one of our newspapers recently, stating that a fish over 100 lbs. was caught on the local fishing grounds. But that will not be the "biggest cod" while the Tory leader is in existence. In concluding, Mr. Giles asked all to stand by the flag of Liberalism, vote for Kent and you'll never repent; vote for Dwyer and you'll never tire and vote for Ryan, and you'll get there in time. After the wireless enthusiasm for the night had subsided a special request was made to the chairman for a speech from Mr. T. J. Murphy, one of the staunchest adherents of Liberalism in this island. It was a speech that is rarely listened to on our political platforms and some of those veterans who remembered Mr. Murphy in his palmy days as a political warrior, were united in saying that last night's oration was one of his best efforts and it was indeed a revelation to most of the young men present who never had the privilege of hearing Mr. Murphy before. In a learned and comprehensive style he gave a clean, effective and spicy address that lasted for nearly an hour. At the finish Mr. Murphy, one of the heroes of Liberalism in this country, received encomiums and congratulations coupled with unstinted applause. The meeting closed with singing of the National Anthem following a vote of thanks to the chairman. When the candidates and committee were returning to their halls the fishermen again showed their patriotism for the Liberal cause by another display of fireworks and the firing of guns whilst the cheering of the men, women and children made the hills res-cho and showed conclusively that the doom of the Tory party is sealed.

The Greatest Invention for the Fishermen.

We can justly claim to have been the pioneers in introducing Motor Engines for fishing boats in Newfoundland, with the result that today, they are an absolute necessity to the fishermen.

Every fisherman knows the benefit it would be to have an engine in his boat, but he also knows, by the experience of others, that on account of the present high price of Gasolene, it takes nearly all the profit of an average voyage to pay for the Gasolene.

We have recognized this for some time, and have investigated all the best known Kerosene Engines on the market, but none of them came up to our requirements until the Mianus Motor Co. invented the "MIANUS KEROSENE ENGINE," 3 to 40 H. P.

We immediately accepted the Agency for the "Mianus" convinced by our past experience of Marine Engines that it possessed all the good qualities so long sought for in a Fisherman's Engine.

The cost of operating a Mianus Kerosene Engine is CONSIDERABLY LESS THAN HALF THE COST OF OPERATING A GASOLENE ENGINE OF EQUAL POWER, AND IS MORE EFFICIENT.

Kerosene can be obtained at every Harbour in Newfoundland and Labrador. Gasolene cannot.

The Mianus is a working man's engine and is so substantially constructed, that there is nothing to wear out for years.

It is powerful, reliable and simple to operate.

As proof of its great power, a 3 H. P. MIANUS turns a 15 inch 3 blade propeller at 350 R. P. M.; 5 H. P. turns an 18 inch 3 blade; 7 1/2 H. P. turns a 22 inch 3 blade; and 10 H. P. a 24 inch 3 blade, etc.

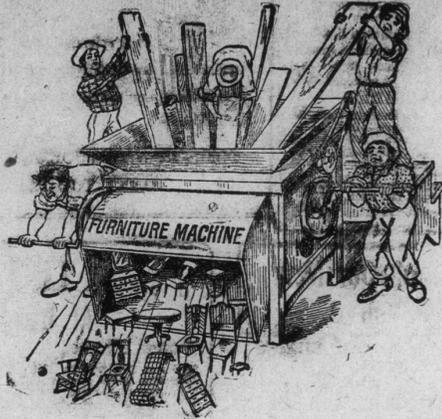

COMPARE THESE WITH OTHER ENGINES BEFORE BUYING.

Nearly all the Marine Engines are guaranteed for one year only. Mianus is GUARANTEED BY THE MAKERS FOR THE LIFE OF THE ENGINE.

It will benefit every fisherman to write us for further particulars about Mianus Kerosene Engines, because it is the Engine you will eventually buy. Write us to-day for CATALOGUES AND PRICES. JOHN BARROW & CO. Agents for "MIANUS KEROSENE ENGINES."

THE FOGOTA IN TROUBLE AT GREENSPOND.

Capt. Harbour vs. Edward J. Wornell,

Hose and Wm. Pond.

This is an action taken by the Fogota against the above for disorderly
conduct at Greenspond on Sunday, December 25th, in preventing discharging freight from on board the ship. The defence showed that it was not the intention of the men to break
the law but to prevent the Sabbath
from being desecrated by the steamboat discharging her freight. Judge Cromy imposed a fine of $15 and costs
on each.

the crew of the Fogota landing

It must be remembered that Morris,

What a Fisherman of St. Mary's Says.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Now that the election campaign is on, I wish through the columns of your paper to sound a note of warning to the Electors of Placentia
and St. Mary's District.

There are all kinds of rumors mooted around by unscrupulous heelers of the Government. For instance, it is reported in Placentia and Tre-passey Bays that when the Premier visited St. Mary's the past summer he pledged his solemn word to build a railroad to St. Mary's (just as if any one would believe him). Hence the report in other parts of the District that St. Mary's Bay will support Morris for the sake of having the railroad built. The voters of St. Mary's Bay are not as green as Morris thinks they are and will poll a large majority for the Liberal candidates. We won't be fooled on the railroad bluff. Didn't they promise it to us in 1908, when Howley told us that he could send our hens to St. John's on the train; and everybody knows that the branches already contracted for will have to be finished before any new branches can be undertaken. If Morris is returned to power the only need we will have

for a railroad will be to aid us to emigrate. If we are to have another four years of the present ruinous policy the majority will have to leave Newfoundland for a living. And you men of Placentia and Trepassey Bays, don't believe the Morris candidates when they tell you St. Mary's Bay is solid for them. They are only bluffing you as they are trying to bluff this Bay with false promises. Didn't they promise to send the dredge to Salmonier

before the Elections?—and did not do so; and they promised to build telephone lines to all places not connected with telegraph. And where are the ports of call for the coastal boat that they promised, and the lighthouse they promised to build? Their promises are where themselves will be when the ballots are counted—nowhere. You men of Branch and St. Bride's, don't be fooled by the heeblers that are going to power amongst you when they ought to be attending to their business. Be with the majority and vote for Sullivan, Carty and Summers if you want clean, honest Government,

as outlined in Sir Robert Bond's Manifesto. When you read in the Government papers about the great reception
the Morris candidates are receiving at St. Mary's, and all the flags are flying in their honour, remember these flags were sent to heeblers during the past summer and very likely paid for out of the public chest. The time is coming when all men must do their duty by their country and wipe the present Government from existence.

Yours truly,
FISHERMAN.
St. Mary's Bay, Oct. 8, 1913.

A WARNING FROM ST. BRIDE'S.

Editor Evening Telegram.

The Government has been very active repairing our roads and bridges. By this the Tories hope to get our votes, but I can tell them it is too late now; had they done this even a year ago it would not be so bad, but on the eve of a General Election we do not, thank them, for their works not wanted. Had they been ours. For the past four years we have time after time brought this under the notice of our members, but they did not think it worth their while to even answer our letters, and yet they had the impudence to come here now to look for our votes. They held a meeting here, and I think by the reception they got they ought to know they were not wanted. Hay they been wise they would have done like the "Lillets" stayed home; and I can assure them that the Tories who were counted in October they will wish that they had, for we have no more use for them as they are worthless as representatives. The new man, Walsh, must have thought we were great when he spoke of "Godless schools." Perhaps he did not know that he was insulting us when he did so, but I may tell him that if our school system was in danger we would be very quickly warned of the same by the proper authorities, and unless we are so warned it is useless for the like of him to talk about it. If he has sense he will drop that subject or the people in general places may not be so lenient towards him as we were. Come on, Sullivan, Carty and Summers, St. Bride's will give you a rousing reception. We are sick of deceivers, who promised everything and did nothing. We want men who will look after our interests.

So we will vote the straight Liberal ticket and do all we can to make sure that

BOND CAN'T LOSE.
Yours truly,
X POINT.

TRYING TO DECEIVE THE ELEC-TORS.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Sir,—The Evening Herald is making these days by the manner in which it is describing political happenings.
I, as a young voter, was present at the Liberal Rally in the West End on Tuesday evening, and I can say that the account of the meeting as given in the Herald, was a deliberate misrepresentation. The place was packed, the audience was enthusiastic,
cheers were repeatedly given for Sir R. Bond and W. F. Coaker, while the remarks of the three popular candidates were straightforward, free from abuse, and evoked the spontaneous applause of the audience. So great was the assemblage outside that members of the Liberal Committee who were a little late in arriving could not gain admittance. Not a cheer was given for Morris, either inside or out, and let me say in conclusion that if that meeting is to be taken as an index of the feeling in St. John's West, Morris and his colleagues will be far behind the Liberal trio when the ballots are counted

after polling day.

Yours very truly,
CROSS ROADS.

Minimise The Loss.

Practically farmers may easily minimise the loss, due to a backward
and cold season, by the judicious use of Sulphate of Ammonia as a fertilizer.

Sulphate of Ammonia contains over 20 per cent of nitrogen, as against 15 per cent in Nitrate of Soda, and is therefore more than 25 per cent better than nitrate of soda as a means of quickening and increasing the growth of crops.

The use of Sulphate of Ammonia
has increased enormously of late years and it is recognized to be the most valuable fertilizer obtainable. By its judicious use the production of root crops per acre may be doubled, and the growth of late crops stimulated.

We invite the attention of Farmers to our special pamphlet, on the best methods of using Sulphate, copies of which will be forwarded free to any address on application.

The price of Sulphate is moderate,
and our terms are accommodating.

DR. NANSEN born 1861, at Christiania, Norway. He made his first voyage into the Arctic Regions in 1882. In 1889 he became leader of a scientific journey across Greenland. In 1893 he started in the "Fram" with the intention of reaching the North Pole and returned in 1896 having reached the highest latitude attained at that date by Arctic explorers.

FATHER MATTHEW born 1790. He visited England and the United States as a temperance advocate.

Wine is a furnace; first a friend, and then an enemy. —FIELDING.

The Tragedian

The tragedian is a low-browed Thespian who is hired for the purpose of stabbing somebody in the fourth act in order to lift the mortgage from the old home-stead.

His equipment consists of a mien, a four-foot stride, a detachable beard and a Prince Albert coat, and he usually enters just as the villain is about to kidnap the only daughter of an unmarried widow.

Tragedians usually start from the bottom and work up. The harder they work the more painful it is to be present. It is a very difficult thing to find a facile, non-perspiring tragedian who can run 100 yards in the English language without losing two or three singular buttons.

E. H. Sothern is one of our most seductive tragedians and earns quite a little money during the winter months. Mr. Sothern got his start playing the bass tuba in the parade, and now see where he is! He is at the very pinnacle of fame, and can make love to Julia Marlowe all he wants to without being interrupted by her husband. This should teach us that all honest toil is ennobling.

Mr. Sothern does most of his tragedizing in Shakespeare's plays at $6 a throw. His favorite piece is "Romeo and Juliet," in which he displays some of the most wretched styles of unadorned love-making known to any stage. Mr. Sothern's work in this direction has been an inspiration to many a bachelor who was too terrified to propose.

The tragedian is not allowed to use any of his own language, but has to memorize long, leading words borrowed from some ancient playwright whose expressions are too polite for the mails. Whenever a tragedian forgets his lines, he has to substitute a part of his own vocabulary and cry "Sdeath" several times in succession, until he can locate the plate.

If Meals Hit Back And Stomach Sours.

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends indigestion, Gas, Dyspepsia and Stomach Misery in five minutes.

If you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fulness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach, headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes. Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

Cruel Taskmasters.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Relax. It seems to me there is no commandment this generation needs more keenly than that.

Relax. The world is not resting on your shoulders as you appear to think. No cataclysm will occur if you are not these very moment. Yesterday I looked around a dining room in which 18 or 20 people were eating. Dinner time is a most propitious moment for relaxation. Moreover physicians tell us that poisons which retard digestion are produced by not relaxing while eating. And yet it was evident from their positions, colors and manners, that almost every one of those people was more or less tense. I noticed one woman's hands being clenched in her lap. A man drummed nervously on the table with his napkin ring. Another man, who was alone, frowned at his food with that peculiar frown which indicates intense mental concentration. A young girl consulted her wrist watch impatiently when the waitress was a bit slow with the roast. No, she wasn't eating a train, she explained, but she did hate such slow service; it made her nervous.

Look around a trolley car and see how many of its occupants show tension in their attitude. Legs tightly crossed, hands clenched or nervous clashed together, brows knit, lips compressed, everywhere you see the signs of the times. And yet with most of these people it is an ideal moment for relaxation. A moment between activities, a moment when there is no pressure or demand of any kind upon them, and when they might loosen the tension on both mind and muscles.

Many people do not relax even in sleep. Instead of relaxing mind and body in preparation for slumber they allow themselves to fall asleep with their minds at high tension and their bodies in cramped, tense attitudes, and then wonder why they do not feel more rested in the morning.

"I had a terrible experience this afternoon," a man said to me once, "I had to wait in an oculist's office two hours without one thing to do. I had belladonna in my eyes so I couldn't read and I had to sit there and wait. I thought, I should go insane the last half hour. I was as tired when I got home as if I had done a hard day's work."

Plainly this man had been tense every moment of those two hours. Now if he had taken an easy position, closed his eyes, relaxed his mind and let himself go, instead of holding himself taut, these two hours might have been a bath of repose and renewing instead of a "terrible experience."

A doctor told me that one of his patients has not slept more than two hours a night for years, and yet is able to keep cheerful and efficient. "How can she?" I asked. "Because, though she doesn't sleep but two hours, she rests the other six," he explained.

He who will relax when he may can be more efficiently tense when he must. So don't be such a hard task master to those nerves and muscles of yours. You won't get so much out of them that way. Give them liberty whenever you can, and they will repay you manifold for your indulgence.

Fads & Fashions

All hats are set low on the head.

Butterflies are still the vogue of fashion. The new brocades are usually two-toned. New street costumes are made of velours-de-laine. Some of the handsomest hats are plume trimmed.

There is a return of soft taffet, but it is figured. Tanpe color continues to be among the favored hues. A novelty is the muff ornamented with the butterfly. The short coat is a feature of the three-piece costume. Beads are playing a large part in this year's fashions.

Italian blue and gold are a much-favored combination. Millinery is trimmed with black and white chauntilly lace.

The Empire style is strongly revived in juvenile apparel. A new feature of evening gowns is the bodice of beaded net.

Yellow fur holds the central position among fur trimmings.

Coats of black caracul have collar and cuffs of yellow fox. Eggplant purple is a much-favored color for this season.

Net in some form can be used to freshen up last year's clothes. The stiff wired bow at the side is a feature of the new millinery.

All kinds of bird plumage, lend their beauty to the autumn hats. Panther is a youthful fur, and trims many of the new costumes.

Many gowns of white satin have short tunics of pleated black tulle.

Wear your aigrets with a difference, not the full bunch as of old.

Tassel trimmings are long and made of wool to match the costume. Small hats of black velvet are trimmed with lustrous moire ribbon.

Children's frocks have extremely short bodices sashed with wide ribbon. Draped turbans have returned, and they are more ornamental than ever.

The tailored suit is still indispensable to the well-ordered wardrobe. Medici collars of sheerest lace or tulle are bordered with narrow bands of fur.

If it has a vest and is cut away in front, the manly suit will pass muster.

Sashes, scarfs, belts and bags are more than ever in the limelight of fashion.

If you possess a stole or muff which is out of date, cut the fur into strips and use them to trim a wrap or gown.
