Germans Forced To Weaken Defence on The Western Front

Indication of Crisis When This is Done While Offensive of Allies is at Its Height

London, Sept. 2.—H. Warner Allen, special representative of the British Press with the French army, says in a cable dispatch:

"The Austrian armies have just passed through a period of three months' defeat, in which they lost 800,000 men. Their strategic reserves are completely exhausted, and despite the continual pressure of the Italian and Russian, on their frontiers, the Austrians were able to scrape together eight divisions, which they sent to Transylvania, in readiness for the rupture with Rumania. These divisions are badly needed elsewhere, and it seems scarcely possible, despite the difficulty of the country, that they will be able to hold the long line of the Rumanian frontier."

"The question arises, where is the dual monarchy to find more troops. It cannot secure Germany of having failed to secure 'The brilliant second'. The German lost half a million men at Verdun before the Somme offensive began. Since July 1 they have been losing heavily,

CANADIAN RAILWAYMEN WARNED RE STRIKE

Must Not Join in United States Labor Trouble Even if Strike Order Includes Canadian Brotherhoods—Restrictions Upon Mariners Landing at Canadian Ports Tightened

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 2.—There are at the present time 831 returned Canadian soldiers under treatment for lung trouble in various sanitariums throughout Canada under the control of the Dominion hospitals commission. About 180 more soldiers, who have contracted tuberculosis on active service, are expected to return from overseas within the next six months. Before the war ends it is expected that the commission will have to look after hundreds more of such cases and arrange for their recovery under proper treatment to bring them to the front.

In order to provide for the care of these men, it is hoped that the generous contributions of some private citizens will be supplemented by other offers. Several institutions have already been placed at the disposal of the commission for sanitariums, these including the Deer Lodge Hotel in Winnipeg, the Ogden Hotel in Calgary, and the Laurentine Inn in Agathe, Quebec. About one hundred tuberculosis soldiers are now being cared for at the latter place. It is pointed out that as yet no suitable place has been offered to the commission from Ontario and the immediate need of such a place for the returned Ontario men. The offer of a good summer hotel in some part of Ontario is being solicited.

Must-Not Join Strikes

The minister of labor, Hon. T. W. Crothers, has had an immediate echo, and we can see what a powerful weapon in German hands the failure of Italy to make her gesture was in the critical days of last summer. But having recognized the relation between Italian and Rumanian strikes, it remains to examine the case which is purely Italian.

The reasons for Italy's previous failure to make her gesture were explained in Rome. The minister of labor has been very satisfied to explain in Rome. The minister of labor has been very satisfied to explain in Rome.

Germans Get Back Part of Trenches; Russians Win Victory In West

Paris, Sept. 2.—After repeated and violent attacks last night, the Germans re-occupied part of the trenches taken recently by the French on the Somme front, south of Estrées.

In the Champagne, Russian troops put to flight a German contingent north-west of Aukeretz after a spirited engagement.

London, Sept. 2.—An Austrian attack in the Supana Valley was repulsed. Violent artillery fighting is proceeding in the Trentino.

Paris, Sept. 2.—A dispatch to the 'Welt' from Salonika, dated Friday, says that a committee of national defence, composed of Lieut-Col. Zimbrakakis and a prominent military and civilian, has been proclaimed as the provisional government of Macedonia. All the Greek and Macedonian press, says the dispatch, have joined this movement. A parade of revolutionary troops, under Zimbrakakis took place, after which there was a parade of armed civilians and volunteers wearing the blue and white uniform of Macedonian masses.

An Athens despatch to the wireless press says that the newspapers of that city, published a manifesto by General Lapalatis, appealing to the Greeks to enroll as volunteers in an army which will protect Greece from its enemies.

A Paris despatch from Athens quotes La Patrie as saying that the Greek divisions, which had been set for October 8, will be useless, and urging prompt action on the part of the Greek government to avert disaster.

Salonika, Wed., Aug. 30.—The committee of national defence organized here, has addressed an appeal to the public, urging the population to join the allied forces in the defence of Macedonia. The eleventh army division, the police and the liberal party have united their forces.

Home to Take Command Of Fine Unit For War

Major G. G. Corbet Starts to Work at Once With No. 8 Field Ambulance Train

Major G. G. Corbet, commanding officer of the new No. 8 Field Ambulance Train, who arrived in the city last night on his return from overseas, is busy today familiarizing himself with the progress which has been made in the organization of the unit pending his arrival. The ambulance train has proved popular, as has been shown by the number and quality of recruits received. With the arrival of the commanding officer, and with such a fine record at the front, it is to be expected that the ranks will be filled, and the organization completed within a short time.

Speaking to the Times this morning, Major Corbet said that he could not tell yet when the ambulance train could cross the ocean. Unless they were ready to depart within a few weeks, it was possible that they might spend the winter in the hospital in England before leaving for the front for the opening of the campaign in France, and upon the movements of the new divisions would depend the orders for his unit.

While in Halifax on his way home, Major Corbet met Colonel Marlow, A. D. C., who is starting from Halifax to cross the continent to Vancouver, inspecting the various medical units in the hospitals in England. He will arrive in St. John on this mission at the first of next week. Major Corbet said that Colonel Marlow had informed him that the St. John unit and one from Kingston, Ontario, would be the next of their branch of the service to cross to England.

Speaking of the organization of the ambulance train, Major Corbet said that the regulations called for a commanding officer with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and a staff of six majors, six captains and sixteen sergeants. He was not in a position to tell yet who would be the ad-

FOUR ARRESTS IN AN AUTOMOBILE CASE

The joy of four city pleasure seekers came to an unexpected ending early this morning, while they were proceeding out the Silver Falls road, when they asked County Policemen Saunders "could he have a ride?" The county policeman got aboard and was informed that the four occupants of the car had put one over on somebody in town and had taken out the car. They were placed under arrest and brought to the central police station, where they spent the night. All four were arraigned today on the charge of stealing an auto, No. 4488, from the barn of Frank Donnelly, the car being owned by A. N. Hann.

FORMER NOVA SCOTIAN MINISTER AND BROTHER DROWNED IN SCOTLAND

A despatch from Sydney says that old Sydney residents will be shocked to learn of the drowning of Rev. B. Sanderson, former pastor of Falmouth street Presbyterian church, together with his brother, Professor Rankine of Glasgow University. The fatality occurred at White Mirk, Scotland, near Glasgow, on the night of the 28th inst. The Rev. Sanderson was a native of Greenock, near Glasgow, and went to Nova Scotia soon after being ordained. Before coming to Sydney he was pastor of St. John's Presbyterian church at St. John's, Nova Scotia about five years ago. Mr. Rankine was a man of scholarly attainments and was a member of several of the learned societies of the old country, and recently had been elected moderator of the Lothian synod.

His brother was professor of Greek in the University of Glasgow. He was a notable scholar. Mrs. Rankine was formerly Miss Jennie McIntosh of New Glasgow.

POLICE COURT

Court officials told the Times this morning that owing to the non-appearance of the Chinese connected with the gambling charge, in the court yesterday at the hour appointed for their appearance, the fine of $1,200, which was put up as deposit for the fourteen Chinese, was not permitted to land until the case has been satisfactorily established. Proof of his neutrality must be furnished to government officers by the production of a passport or other document establishing his nationality and identity, and attached to the passport or document there must be a photograph of the alien to whom it relates.

The port officials are given authority to permit the landing of any alien for temporary purposes. United States officers or members of a crew of a United States fishing vessel are exempted from these special regulations.

Building Committee Meets

The joint parliamentary committee on the restoration of the parliament building held a lengthy meeting yesterday afternoon in the office of the minister of public works. All the members were present with the exception of Hon. J. D. Hazen, who is out of the city. No statement was issued at the conclusion of the meeting, but it was intimated that a committee would be given out today outlining the views and policy of the committee and replying to recent criticism in the press as to the character of the contract provided for the new building. So far as can be learned, there is not likely to be any resignations from the committee; any differences of opinion as to policy and methods are being amicably adjusted for the time being, at least.

Sergeant-Major Rose is a warrant officer, having been confirmed as such while in England. Promotion has also been granted for him to hold the same rank, that of warrant officer, with his new position. He is probably the first warrant officer to act as paymaster sergeant in Canada.

Signaller Irving D. Appleby has been attached to the special service company of the 26th Kilie Battalion.

Private James Newlands, of the No. 2 Pioneer Battalion, has been discharged from that unit and taken on the staff of the Parks Convalescent Home as an N. C. O.

Word has been received that Quarter-master-Sergeant C. E. Blair of the 10th Battalion has left England for Canada to take a commission in the 29th Kilie Battalion.

GOOD TO HALIFAX IS MR. GUTELIUS

The Halifax Mail says:—"The outcome of the conference with Mr. Gutelius will be, for one thing, that the city of Halifax shall be given, by the Canadian Government Railways, a magnificent site for a hospital and also that splendid shores near the head of the North West Arm are to be dedicated to the city for the purposes of recreation. The subway problem at the Three Mile House will be satisfactorily arranged."

THIRTY DEATHS IN FIRES IN CANADA DURING LAST MONTH

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 2.—The Monetary Times' estimate of Canadian fire loss during August, amounted to $808,109, as compared with July loss of $1,159,285, and $408,698 for the corresponding period of last year.

The most important fires of the month were the destruction of the business section of Blind River, on August 1, with a loss of $150,000 and factory fires in Winnipeg, and Drummondville, Quebec, on August 2 and 3, with losses respectively $100,000 and $125,000. Lightning caused eighteen fires, and there were thirty deaths from fire, ten of them in Drummondville and twelve in forest fires at New Liskeard.

CONDITION SERIOUS

The condition of Mrs. Emily Talbot who was severely burned yesterday in attempting to light a fire with wood alcohol, was reported this morning from the hospital as being serious.

NEWS OF THE 115TH

News of the 115th Battalion and of some St. John men is contained in a letter from a member of that unit to a friend here. He says:

"We have removed from Onxey to Brundage, where we are in a very nasty day; it poured rain when we fell in, in the afternoon, and continued until we were about seven or eight miles distant. The boys didn't seem to mind it at all. For one thing, they were marching under absolutely normal conditions. The band played along the march, and though each man was fairly dripping with water, one would have thought that they were marching under absolutely normal conditions."

Several of the officers are taking courses at various branches and quite a few of the non-coms also are attending.

This morning (August 21), we had an inspection by the G. O. C. Aldershot. He caused an inspection of all the units in camp, numbering about twelve battalions.

In London last week I met Dr. Simonds, captain and veterinary surgeon in the 8th Brigade, home on leave from the front. He is looking well, but had been knocked out for a time by illness. Captain Andrew Rahnke, who came over in the same divisional train with the doctor, went to France last week with the Fourth Division. I understand, Captain Sanford, Q. M., 118th, is in the hospital with minor stomach trouble."

THE MILK SITUATION

Relations between the Kings county dairymen and some of the local milk dealers still continue strained and the supply of milk arriving this morning was less than usual quantity. Some of the local men left this morning to return to their points to arrange for a supply.

L. C. Prime said this morning that, while the supply started by the I. C. was less than the usual quantity, he had sufficient for the demands of his business for today and tomorrow.

The manager of the Farmers Dairy and Produce Company said that he had received his usual supply of milk today, but that he understood that some of the dealers were very short.

EIGHT DEATHS

Eight deaths were reported to T. M. Burns, secretary of the Board of Health, for the last week. There were two from cardiac failure and one each from apoplexy, toxemia, erysipelas, malnutrition, arteria sclerosa and chronic nephritis.

Valcartier Deserted In About Month is Report

Valcartier Camp, Aug. 25.—It is expected that the clear weather of the troops by the end of the first week in October. No definite policy has been served soon afterwards. At 8.30 a.m. the battalion left the bivouac and marched back to camp.

On Wednesday night the 182nd Battalion will again occupy the trenches in the camp area. These trenches have now been improved and extended and cover a square mile of ground.

Elaborate arrangements are made to make the trench training as realistic as possible.

Apples and "very" rights are sent to Ammonal bombs are exploded in front of the actual trench and here and there a portion of the parapet, which has been previously mined, is blown in, after which the troops occupying the trench have to repair and occupy the crater formed.

Brigadier General McLean, M.P., spent a few days in Ottawa and Montreal last week.

The weather has been splendid for the last few weeks; the days are not too hot and the evenings and nights are very cool. It probably will not be long before frost appears at night, as in this part of the country and especially in the Carleton Valley, frost appears at night early in September.

Arrangements are being made to hold a big field day at camp when sports of all kinds will be held. The date has not yet been set.

Lieut. Correll, 1st Brigade staff, has returned after leave.

Lieut. W. D. Leblanc, 165th Battalion, has resigned his appointment.

It is rumored that it will not be many days before the 14th Battalion embark for overseas. This battalion, under Lieutenant-Colonel Beer, is in splendid shape. A few recruits are, however, needed to bring it up to establishment.

It is rumored that in future battalions which are not up to strength will be organized into three companies instead of four as previously, before proceeding overseas. This would cut the establishment of officers down to twenty-six instead of thirty-two.

NEW BRUNSWICK BRIGADE

The New Brunswick brigade can hold its own at musketry with any brigade camp. The figures of the standing of the battalions to date are as follows: (Order of merit.)

1st class shot—140th Battalion, 27.8 per cent of battalion; 140th Battalion, 29.2 per cent of battalion; 140th Battalion, 16.2 per cent of battalion; 165th Battalion, 87.5 per cent of battalion; 143rd Battalion, 82.6 per cent of battalion.

2nd class shot—182nd Battalion, 88.4 per cent of battalion; 140th Battalion, 80.8 per cent of battalion.

Remains all third class shots.

The figures for the 165th battalion are not complete, but their average is well up to that of the other battalions in the brigade.

The 182nd Battalion returned after a night march and bivouac this afternoon. The battalion, accompanied by field kitchens, water carts and transport, left camp on Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock and marched to Montgomery Lake, about 1 1/2 miles north of the camp. They arrived there about 6 p.m. and bivouaced beside the lake, which lies in the valley between the mountains. Each man had one blanket and his rubber sheet in addition to his overcoat.

Outposts were placed in position and the men settled down to rest. About 9 p.m. an attack was made on the camp by a small hostile party and for a few

AN INDEPENDENT VIEW
Some of the keenest critics of the Borden government are among the trade journals of the country. These do not speak from a partisan, but a purely business standpoint. They view the situation as it affects the general welfare of the country, and the country's position in relation to the war.

Read over again what Hon. H. F. McLeod said about Mr. J. K. Flemming as quoted in the Times today. Then ask yourself whether Mr. Flemming's return to public life is desirable, in the face of these statements and the findings of the royal commission.

Blood was like Water Anaemia
You eat your food and the blood is slow to reach. The blood is watery and thin. The lips and gums are pale. You are anemic. This condition is best overcome by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. In this food there are contained in concentrated form the elements that go to form new, rich, red blood.

How to Have Dry Buildings
IRON doesn't wear out, it rusts out. Ready Roofing doesn't wear out, they dry out. Do you know how important this is? It means that there is a tremendous difference between ready roofings, even though all have the same waterproofing compound in them. It's the quality of that compound, plus the skill used in saturating the felt that counts. It is the skill used in the application, plus the chemical composition of the saturating compound that makes Panamoid a wonderful roofing.

PANAMOID ROOFING
Panamoid is made of the best felt that can be obtained. It is tough, strong, elastic. This felt is uniformly saturated with a non-volatile compound that stays there, stays thick, the felt holds this saturation indefinitely. If you want dry roofs at low cost, come in and get some Panamoid Roofing. Very easily laid.

SPEED WORSHIP A DISEASE
Habit Grows on Victim Like Alcoholism.
It is certainly not enough to fine men guilty of furious driving. In most cases they are in a position to pay the assessment and give the matter no further thought, says 'The San Francisco Chronicle.' Speed worship is as much a disease as alcoholomania, with which it is very often linked, and just as the confirmed drunkard cannot be cured by fines so the confirmed speeder as little affected by similar punishment. The only thing to be done with the habitual racer is to make it a criminal offence for him to drive a car.

'THE LAST SERVICE FOR SOME'

The activity on the western front, the gallantry of the men, the cheerfulness and unbroken spirit of the wounded and ministry to the dying are the theme of many letters from chaplains in the field. The Rev. P. Middleton Brumwell writes to the Methodist Recorder:

"We have been down here now for three weeks, and have been, as you will have guessed, in the thick of the recent push. I look back now with gratitude and joy to the last service I had with our men before they went into action. It was the largest and best service we have ever had since we left England. There must have been 250 present, and the men seemed to realize that for some it might be their last service. There was a strange solemnity about it that made, and will always keep, it memorable. Just before we closed I asked for a show of hands of those who would come to a voluntary service in the evening, and as far as I could see every hand went up. So we met again in the evening at 6 o'clock. At 6.30 the Church of England men came for their service—they had arranged for the room at that hour—and as our men nearly filled the place, it was a question of our closing, or continuing elsewhere. We continued elsewhere. We went into an open field near the station.

"It was a delightful summer evening, one of the warmest and best days we have yet had. We chose a field where the clover had all been cut and stacked in little ricks. There the men sat, and we began again the service just interrupted. The men chose the hymns, and there was no cessation of singing and praying. Men stood up or knelt to where they were, and prayed as if in separate and quiet communication with God, and then I spoke and urged decision and consecration as well as those other virtues of which they knew they would stand in need in the next few days. And so we closed. It was the last service for some, but a service of holier memories I have never yet attended.

"The next Sunday some of those men were waiting to attack at dawn and on the Monday I was busy in a field ambulance, and here and there I wrote postcards or letters, or put a friendly cigarette in their lips, or helped in some other way to make their lot more cheerful, would turn and remind me of those last services. Now another day has passed with which I had been now so long were to go in a few days later. I went up to them the day before their attack, and saw all those I could, and

Verdun and The Somme--A Contrast

(New York Times.)

After seven weeks of Verdun France said: "They shall not pass." The phrase became a symbol, a creed, which did not pass. But certain war critics doubted. They had been told in Paris that Verdun was of no military value to the French, whose army would have surrendered it had it not been for the patriotic fear of the anger of the people. It took a secret session of the senate to lay the plan of the attack. Now another day has passed with which I had been now so long were to go in a few days later. I went up to them the day before their attack, and saw all those I could, and

We absolutely guarantee that one box of "modern" tan and freckle cream will remove all freckles, tan and brown spots from the skin. If it does not do exactly as we claim we will refund your money. The first application will show a marked improvement.

LAST NIGHT'S WAR CABLES

An Entente Allied fleet of 23 warships and seven transports is reported to have arrived off Piraeus, the port of Athens.

A despatch from Athens says it is probable that the Greek soldiers, set for Oct. 8, will be postponed for a fortnight.

Russian troops have begun another advance, and Petrograd reports fighting near Vladimir-Volynski, in Volhynia, and in the region of Halicz, in Galicia.

The Russians also have seized a series of heights in the Carpathians, and are making progress along the Romanian border of Bukovina. The capture of about 16,000 prisoners is claimed by Petrograd.

A withdrawal of the Austro-German lines south of the Zlota Lipa-Dniester section is recorded by Berlin. Progress by the Russians west of Aarnopol is admitted, but Russian attacks in the Carpathians and near Lutsk were repulsed, Berlin says.

In Albania, Italian troops, advancing along the Vovusa river, have occupied Tepeleni.

Rome says that two villages were stormed and that a number of prisoners were taken in the fighting along the Vovusa.

The Germans report the re-occupation of ground near Longueval and Delville Wood, on the Somme front, in Northern France. London admits a German advance, but says the attackers sustained severe losses. On the rest of the front in France there has been little activity.

No fighting is reported on the front in Macedonia, and there are no late reports on the operations in Transylvania.

Petrograd claims the repulse of Turkish attacks west of Erzingon and west of Ognott in Turkish Armenia. The rout of more than two divisions of Russians by the Turkish left wing is reported by Constantinople. Prisoners, the number of 5,000, were captured by the Turks.

German forces in German East Africa are in full retreat, Lieut-General Smuts, the British commander there, reports. Mogoro, the seat of the German government, has been occupied by the British.

Church Defeats Jap Champion

Japanese Player Quickly Dispatched by Smashing Net Play of Opponent

The last of the foreign entrants in the 90th annual championship tournament of the National Tennis association were eliminated at Forest Hills, N. Y., on Wednesday, in the second round. Ishiya Kumagae, champion of Japan, went down in straight sets before the smashing net play of George M. Church of Pennington, N. J., at scores of 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

Dean Mather of Crawford, N. J., defeated A. W. MacPherson, champion of Russia, in a four set match at 6-4, 7-5, 8-6, Theodore R. Pell of New York, won from Frederick B. Alexander, also of New York, 6-4, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3.

Several of the California minor stars were also eliminated, in some cases by their own team mates. Roland Roberts of San Francisco lost to William Davis, California, now a student at the University of Pennsylvania, after a hard fought match at 7-5, 7-5, 6-2. Maurice E. McLoughlin, 1913 champion, had no difficulty in defeating Kenneth Hawley of San Francisco, at 6-2, 6-12, 6-4. William M. Johnston, San Francisco, defeated F. T. Hunter, New Rochelle, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4.

Karl Behr of New York, put James Weber of Chicago out, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2. Watson M. Washburn, New York, won from H. C. Van Vleet, University of California, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4. William J. Clothier of Philadelphia won from E. J. Sweet, Des Moines, 6-3, 6-0, 6-2, and H. Norris Williams, 2nd, Philadelphia, defeated Robert LeRoy, New York, 6-4, 6-1, 7-5.

Chief interest in the day's play centered in the match between Church and Kumagae.

Church made short work of the Oriental expert. Church rushed to the net at every opportunity and his accurate placements shots off the Japanese's returns proved unregrettable in the majority of cases. Kumagae was extremely alert and made many gets that an ordinary tournament player would

FOREIGN WOOLS SCARCE The American Wool and Cotton Reporter of Boston says:— "There has been little change in the wool market in the last week. The bulk of the business is in fine staple territory wools, for which an increasing demand is reported. Ohio declines and other fleeces do not figure largely in the sales, although samples are being sent out to insurers. Good staple foreign wools are scarce. "Prices remain just as stiff as though no quiet spell existed. Dealers are very anxious about the future. The sale for the week in Boston have been about $500,000 pounds. "Woolen goods have not been especially active during the week, but the market shows a very healthy condition. Manufacturers are generally well supplied on old orders. There seems to be no indication that prices will be lower. Demand will probably not show any interest in new purchases until they have to. The situation is such that continuous and reasonably large orders can be expected. Prices are likely to advance as the various lines are placed in a good position."

PROCLAMATION WHEREAS at a meeting of the Common Council held at the City of St. John this day, a by-law was passed and ordained amending the daylight saving law, so as to provide that the time of the 45th Meridian should be the time to be observed in the City of Saint John from 11 o'clock of the last Sunday in April until 11 o'clock of the first Sunday in September in each year instead of the last Sunday in September. NOW THEREFORE, I do hereby PROCLAIM and DECLARE that from 11 o'clock in the evening of Sunday, the third day of September next until 11 o'clock in the evening of the last Sunday in April next the time of the 45th meridian of longitude will be observed in the City of Saint John and I do hereby request all citizens at eleven o'clock of the clock on Sunday the third day of September next to set back their clocks one hour. Given under my hand at the Mayor's office in the City Hall the twenty-ninth day of August, A. D. 1916. K. T. HAYES, Mayor.

Helpful Address By Thomas Adams

Suggests That Nova Scotia Take Lead In Placing Municipal Administration on Sound Basis

(Halifax Echo) The address by Thomas Adams, the well known town planning expert, before the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities yesterday afternoon on "More Uniform and Expert Administration of Municipal Affairs" was a most interesting one and was listened to with rapt attention by the delegates, who heartily applauded it.

Canada needs reorganization and reconstruction of her social and municipal structure, said Mr. Adams. Next to the execution of the war it is the thing most urgent in our national life. Municipal authorities administer larger monetary expenditures than all other governing authorities combined. Hence municipal waste and mis-administration can lead to great burdens on the tax payers. There was need of an object lesson in the building up of a good system of local government in one of the provinces—why not in Nova Scotia, with its good record in many other fields and its prosperous condition today. What is the use of organizing after the war with obsolete and unworkable machinery. The most and only really effective instruments in carrying out an after-war policy are the municipal authorities. How are they prepared for it and how linked up with the provincial government to secure results?

A Dangerous Cry

The right foundation would seem to be to organize from the provincial government down to the local government, rather than the reverse. "Home rule for municipalities" is a dangerous cry and usually follows cases of isolated grievances. Laws and administrations built up on isolated grievances are good for lawyers but not for citizens. Get down to principals and, looking to successful and well-tried examples elsewhere, see how in practice we can evolve the best control over municipal matters, and there are similar bodies in Quebec. In New Brunswick they have municipal affairs dealt with by the attorney general, the commissioner of public works and highways, the board of health and the municipal committee of the legislature. In Nova Scotia there is no provincial body dealing exclusively with local affairs, but several interested in administering the different statutes.

In Great Britain the machinery of local government has been satisfactory since 1882, but it has not been attempted in Canada to adopt the improvements then made to the British system. There is a local government board, in England, Scotland and Ireland. Their duty is to supervise or assist local authorities or they have expert staffs for that purpose. The English House of Commons or House of Lords takes no action in municipal affairs without the advice of the board. It controls borrowings, drafts, model by-laws, insists on a certain standard of audit, supervises town planning, and housing, deals with highways, public health, unemployment, pensions, etc. In fact all municipal work is considered in this one department. There is no undue interference with local autonomy or the largest cities have practically no home rule. Mr. Adams here made a comparison with German and American municipal institutions, with the English system which he claimed.

The machinery which would appear to be desirable to have such a department in this province with a minister at its head taking over certain duties of the commissioner of public works and mines and of the attorney general, and absorbing the provincial board of health, adding the other duties needed to set up proper machinery. This new board or department would advise the legislature on all municipal questions and give advice to all municipalities. For the present it would probably only be practicable to start a new department without handing over the duties already assigned to existing departments, but the need for a beginning is urgent. Mr. Adams dealt with such possible objections as interference with local autonomy, difficulty of administering different kinds of areas from a centre, Bureaucratic methods of central departments. Mixing of politics with municipal business, etc.

method. In some provinces there are too many departments dealing with municipal affairs, overlapping, un-co-ordinated, unexpert and therefore inefficient and wasteful.

In 1913 the N. S. union discussed municipal home rule, when an excellent paper on that subject was read by Mr. Arthur Roberts. References were then made to such matters as:

(a) Municipalities being permitted to make their own by-laws without confirmation by parliament; (b) Expanding municipal funds in protecting Crown lands; (c) Permitting rural municipalities to control their own affairs; (d) Denial by the provincial government of the rights of the citizens to control their own affairs; (e) Denial of the fundamental rights of citizenship and the direct representatives of a city are best capable of determining local needs and to decide how their money shall be spent; (f) Having to go expensively to the legislature to be allowed to do things which can be done by private corporations without asking "by your leave" to anybody.

Department Suggested

As a means of securing a larger measure of municipal home rule and not restricting it, Mr. Roberts then supported the idea of creating a department of municipal affairs in Nova Scotia and he asked what were the underlying principles in British institutions? In dealing with this matter there should be regard to these principles if for no other reason than that British local government is one of the finest systems of institutions and offers the best example among nations for efficiency and economy of administration.

Mr. Adams' own view in regard to the above matters (a) to (e), was that what is wanted is a department to cut the provincial government in regard to these matters as to determine the principles on which the province and the municipality can combine to obtain the best results in the interests of the community. They must also have regard to the following needs, how to secure:

(1) Greater economies in carrying on municipal business and greater efficiency in public undertakings, including what we call public utilities.

(2) Lower rates on borrowings and proper and uniform systems of keeping accounts, budgeting and auditing.

(3) Lessening the burden caused by fire, and securing better building construction.

(4) Proper control of sanitation, housing and town planning.

(5) Control of labor difficulties at times of depression.

(6) Avoidance of recurring mistakes in administration, due to isolated local action.

(7) Reduction in costs of local improvements.

(8) Unification of valuation of land for assessment.

(9) Uniform system of by-laws in regard to sanitation and building construction, due regard being paid to the character of the municipality.

In order to secure these there must to some extent be connection between the province and the municipality, and, therefore, what is wanted is not to blindly argue for more home rule or less home rule, but for a proper adjustment of the powers or functions of the two governing authorities.

The statutory duty of controlling the affairs of local government in Canada is and must remain the joint work of the provincial governments and of the local authorities in cities, towns, and rural municipalities. There was variation in each province as regards laws in force and forms of administration, but in general principle, there appeared to be little difference in eight out of the nine provinces in regard to local government. The exception is P. E. Island, which has practically no municipal system outside of Charlottetown, and one or two small towns. None of the provinces have tried out, or even inaugurated a system which can be regarded as completely satisfactory, although some, including Alberta and Saskatchewan, are in advance of the others in regard to provincial municipal machinery. In N. S. there is a municipal inspector in the attorney-general's department, who exercises some supervision over municipal expenditures and borrowings. In Alberta there is a department devoted to municipal affairs, presided over by a minister, and with an able deputy in charge. It has very little power, however, outside of the rural municipality, except in regard to town planning.

In Saskatchewan they have a department of municipal affairs, which has done excellent service and in addition a local government board. The latter was created in addition to the department of municipal affairs, to exercise control over municipal expenditures and borrowings, because it was thought undesirable that that function should be performed by a department of the government with a political head. The board has for this reason been made independent of the government and is presumed to be an expert body.

In Ontario there is the Municipal Commissioner, acting under the provincial secretary, the railway and municipal board, and the provincial board of health, the minister of public works, the minister of highways and the minister of lands, forests and mines, all with some control over municipal matters, and there are similar bodies in Quebec. In New Brunswick they have municipal affairs dealt with by the attorney general, the commissioner of public works and highways, the board of health and the municipal committee of the legislature. In Nova Scotia there is no provincial body dealing exclusively with local affairs, but several interested in administering the different statutes.

In Great Britain the machinery of local government has been satisfactory since 1882, but it has not been attempted in Canada to adopt the improvements then made to the British system. There is a local government board, in England, Scotland and Ireland. Their duty is to supervise or assist local authorities or they have expert staffs for that purpose. forts of the British people in this war and referred to the fine effect the war had on the Empire.

"There is a rumor going around," said Sir George, "and I have every reason to believe it is true, that the Germans especially dislike having our ships in front of them." Another tribute to the Canadians was paid by a high British officer who said that the first Canadian division was equal to the original expeditionary force which went to France. That army, while small, was the best in the world. Canada had come to manhood, said the speaker, and he believed that Canada's history as a nation would date from the first battle of Ypres. The Canadians on that occasion had accomplished the impossible. Theoretically they were wiped out, but some still remain today. The people mourned their loss, but could not help feeling proud of them.

There had been a wonderful change in two years. Today the British army was made up of volunteers, just as the Canadians were. Two years ago Britain was unprepared for war. Now the initiative rested with her, and will likely remain. The quality of the British troops was high.

Sir George referred to the navy, the sure shield of the empire, which had complete control after the victory of Jutland. Financially Great Britain was the strongest of the nations, and that would have a great bearing on the result of the war.

Sir George had been at the front twice, once each winter. Last winter the conditions were much improved. Before the war they would have said that human beings could not have stood the rigors of the first winter. However, the Army Service Corps was a perfect organization. One never heard a grumble. They did not think that the first Canadian division could be equalled, but when the fourth division was reviewed on Dominion Day they saw that it was equal to the first.

In conclusion Sir George referred to the closer unity of the empire. The war had worked great wonders in this direction. And in the time to come it would be seen that the Kaiser had unconsciously helped to consolidate and perpetuate it. (Cheers)

Sir George Perley Tells Ottawa Canadian Club How Men Are Regarded Abroad

Sir George Perley last week addressed the Ottawa Canadian Club, who turned out in record large numbers to hear him speak on "British in War Times," at the Ottawa Laurier.

It was in the land of Belgium—poor stricken Belgium—where women became martyrs and men become heroes in a day. In the near distance the remnants of a once flourishing city were wreathed in the smoke of battle, and the crashing shell proclaimed that soon naught would remain but its name and its memory to the children of men. For miles around and as far as the eye could reach, the green fields with their leafy trees and quiet garden spots, bespoken the touch of spring, and little birds warbled everywhere. Across the landscape plainly can be seen many deep furrows in the earth, drawn seemingly in crooked fashion, as if a drunken hand had held the plow. On the hillside could be discerned a great patch of yellow, breaking the verdant surrounding carpet that nature had woven for the world. No birds are singing here—bullets instead.

Ah! yes, but yesterday the great cloud had rolled down over the hillside, leaving desolation in its train. 'Tis the yellow of barbed and poisoned death, and not the splash of sunlight one might take it to be. 'Tis the second day of the second battle of the name. In the furrows there seems to be moving back and forth little dots. Little puffs of smoke or dust are seen everywhere. Great splashes of earth present themselves, and following, we observe a great yawning hole in the furrow. A strange din comes to the ear. (Draw nearer with me, my gentle friend, till we see what it is all about.)

How strange! A great force bent upon the conquest of the world are sweeping forward. In their path the land is laid waste, cities are levelled, farms are destroyed, churches burned, women violated, children maimed. Trying to stem the tide are a few heroes who offered themselves as a sacrifice while their country might prepare. They were not trained, but some must go and hold the enemy in check while their friends get ready for war. They believed their friends would arm and train and would soon come to their aid. A long time had passed—plenty long enough to allow every eligible man in the Empire to be ready and near at hand. The little dots holding the line are getting thinner and thinner. They are looking back and beckoning for help. No help seems near. Surely it will come. (Nearer, my friend, nearer.) A great wave of men in gray rolls down upon the men in khaki. They are engulfed and blotted out, they are no more. Another line of khaki rises from the ground to meet the next crest of the mighty wave. The tide is checked, but not broken. How they fight!

Watch those two men struggle seemingly unobserved by the rest of the seething mass of frenzied, hating humanity. They fall and roll upon the ground. The khaki man wriggles clear of his opponent; the opponent lies still. The khaki man rises to his feet; he is covered with blood; he reels, he falls—he lies gasping back to Canada—the land from which he came—came to fight while his friends prepared. The conflict rages all around him. He sees it not. His glazing eyes are scanning the distance for the expected line of "friends"—comrades—are they now hastening to his help? Why are they not at hand? Surely they would not fail! Must the line be broken? He calls with husky voice, "Tom"—"Jack"—"Come." Why are they so long? His gaze carries him in dying fancy to the land of Britain—are they training there? Across the water—Ah! yes, here he finds them, still wearing the garb of the "stay-at-home," still untrained. He sees them turn their heads as if listening to his call for help. Then they go their way, heading and caring not. Must he fight and die alone? Why did they not keep their promise? Have they not as much right to fight as he? Must he be a sacrifice to their indifference? Yes! they failed him. Tears of disappointment fill his eyes, his face is stern and drawn with hate.

The German burial squad found him. "Must be buried, not because he was respected, but because he would be a menace to their health. 'Look at his face,'" said the Corporal, "he died hating us." "No," said the Sergeant, "he died hating the pals who would not come and help him hold the line." The Sergeant was right.

THE NEW BUSINESS WORLD

The new business world is going to bring such an ethical regime into the activities of business life that we will all feel when we go home at night that we have done some good in the world. Don't you know that is the secret of life? I don't care what the occupation of a man may be, how menial it may be, if it has been decreed by fate that he shall sell soap and candles at the country cross-roads store, if he feels that he is the agent of some product that has honestly come to him and he distributes it out to those who need it, he becomes a factor in the great economy of life and he feels he is an essential factor that can not be ignored or done without, and his own business rises in the scale of his esteem.

When a man has respect for his business and respect for himself, he has respect for his fellowman and for his God. Your business ought to be one in which you believe. There is nothing in the world that you can do so well as something that you believe in, through which your conscientious convictions run and with which you are in close and honest companionship.

That is going to be the new business. That will make every man feel that he is doing his duty behind the counter or out in the field the same as if he was in the pew of his church. That brings returns from a life well spent and at the close of life we can say we have tried to do good to our fellowmen. That is coming into the business world as the result of the standards you have been establishing.

Permit me to say it is the business world that, as much as anything else, establishes the moral standard for society at large; for as the business world adjusts itself, so will society at large adjust itself, in accordance with the standards established in the business world. We are coming to the point when we are beginning to realize that honesty and integrity and all that is best in human conditions is reflecting itself in the humanitarian way and humanitarian ideas are finding their way into the business world.

I believe, gentlemen, that there is a new spirit abroad in the business world. Wherever I find business men who are anxious to know the problems of education, the problems of the boy and the girl—it does not always arise from selfish motives—asking for a higher degree of efficiency, I know it is because they wish to make men and women out of the boys and girls of today. There must be closer co-operation between the business world and education, and that is what you business men should request and require. In the readjustment of business conditions that must ultimately come

OSTERMOOR MATTRESS

That's the way every OSTERMOOR owner feels after his first night on this famous Mattress; it soon becomes a hardship to use any other.

☐ One-third of your life is spent in sleep. If you spend this time (as so many people do) on a hard, lumpy, unsanitary hair or mixed Mattress, made worse by a sagging woven-wire spring, why should you expect real rest—even if you do own a $50 bed?

☐ A soft resilient Ostermoor Mattress (preferably on a Banner Spring) will give you an entirely new idea of sleep comfort. You pay

$18 FOR FIFTY YEARS OF RESTFUL SLEEP.

☐ And you pay it only once because the Ostermoor, unlike other mattresses, never needs cleaning or re-making.

☐ This means 36 cents per year. Who can't afford that?

☐ There are Ostermoors in use today that have seen service continuously for 20, 30, even 50 years, and are still soft, buoyant and comfortable.

☐ This question of restful sleep is insistent. Why not settle it right, and at once?

EVERY GENUINE OSTERMOOR MATTRESS HAS THE NAME WOVEN IN THE BORDER

News of Maritime Men In The War

Leut. R. P. Foster, son of Mrs. A. B. Pipes, of Dorchester, has recently been detached from the 12th Battalion and has gone overseas and will at once on arrival there receive a commission. Lieut. Foster was married on June 20 at Chilliwack, of the same province. Before enlisting Lieut. Foster was accountant in the Royal Bank of Canada in Vancouver.

Leut. Fred Foster, another son of Mrs. Pipes is now en route to England and holds a commission in the Royal Canadian Regiment. Mrs. Pipes has three sons in the service. Lieut. Gerald Foster, the third son, is at present in training at Halifax.

Two Brothers in Service.

At Chatham on Wednesday morning Miss Frances Caroline Murdoch, daughter of Robert A. Murdoch, entered the Order of St. Joseph, at Hotel Dieu and will be known in the religious life as Sister Allen. The impressive ceremony was held by Bishop O'Leary. Rev. E. S. Murdoch, chaplain of the 12th North Shore Battalion at Valcartier, is a brother, and another brother is on active service in France.

The Band of the 12th

A letter received in Fredericton from Private Walter Hanlon, formerly of the 12th Battalion Band, stated that before the letter was received he would be in France. He is the last of fourteen Fredericton men to be drafted from the 12th Battalion band to the battalions in the trenches. Bandmen Theo Sloat and Irving Tapley are the only local men left with this band, which originally was a Fredericton organization. A most interesting part of Private Hanlon's letter is the announcement of his engagement to a young lady residing near Shorncliffe. The marriage is to take place after Private Hanlon's return from France.

Arrived in England

Friends have received word from Lieut. Walter R. Clarke of Fredericton, who is now at Digne Camp, Shorn-

LOCAL NEWS

REALIZED $7.50

Three patriotic little girls—Audrey and Marjorie Belyea and Inez Whipple, gave a Red Cross bazaar on Tower Hill last week and realized the sum of $7.50. Daisy Dashwood won a doll and Mrs. F. Fullerton won a napkin ring. The money was sent to Mrs. Scott, treasurer of the Lancaster society.

A FINE CONTRIBUTION

The Rotary Club has given the Patriotic Fund a check for $5,000, with nearly of quite $1,000 more to follow, as a result of its events at Hampton, Westfield and Torriburn, and of the whole-hearted support given by the people of those places and by the citizens generally. Everybody was out to help the fund.

AMERICANS RETURNING

The number of passengers leaving St. John yesterday and today for Boston and other places in the United States was unusually large. There is a sudden increase is attributed to the desire of summer visitors to get back before they run any risk of being held up by the threatened strike on the American railway lines.

THE SUBURBAN SERVICE

There was some agitation among I. C. R. suburbanites this morning when it was noticed that the published list of train changes effective Monday does not include any mention of the Sussex trains. Of course this is due to the fact that the time of the Sussex trains was not changed in the spring, and they will continue to run on the same schedule, the changes in the suburban trains making the service fit the needs of the patrons. The service, after the first of the week, will be the same as before daylight time went into effect. The evening suburban train will continue to arrive at 8:20 and this is a matter for regret among the patrons who found the earlier hour, which was in effect for a short time during the summer, a great convenience for those who wished to meet evening engagements.

The Man In The Street

Tomorrow's Motto.

"Backward, turn backward, 'O Time, in thy flight."

When we shift the clocks back tomorrow night we will have a chance to make up that hour of sleep we lost in the spring.

Some of us have been worrying about that hour ever since.

The extra hour of daylight will come in very handy these dark mornings; it will be appreciated almost as much as the extra hour during the summer evenings.

One would imagine that J. K. Flemming would be a strong advocate of daylight saving, but he has had enough of artificial illumination while basking in the "dimlight" which the Royal Commission turned on him.

The former premier, who is figuring on a "come-back" may not be so well pleased when all he gets is another setback.

By the way, does the government party really want Hon. Mr. Flemming, or are they merely afraid to say out loud that they don't?

When he hears of Mr. Flemming's efforts to renege himself, King of Greece may be tempted to believe that he, too, might have another chance.

We were mildly gratified to learn that King Constantine has abdicated, but we are much more interested in the question whether the Queen has done so in entirely new locations.

More Fatalities.

Just as we have become almost familiar with the names of the places on the western front, the Germans threaten to withdraw and establish their lines in entirely new locations.

Was Once Enough?

Talking of come-backs, as we were a few paragraphs ago, did you notice that the St. John man who has been receiving compliments on his feat in sailing to Fredericton alone in a small craft, did not attempt to return by the same conveyance?

New Use For Water.

Perhaps the increased interest in swimming around St. John this year may be due to the fact that the approach of prohibition has led to the sale of water in useful for citizens the fact that water is useful for something else besides a chaser.

Manitoba Jails are nearly empty since prohibition was introduced, but they say they are not nearly so empty as the saloons which tried to continue in business by selling soft drinks.

The southern clergyman who refused to baptize a convict in the penitentiary bath-tub evidently does not think that cleanliness is quite so near to Godliness as all that.

The entry of Roumania into the war would have attracted more attention in St. John if it had not come at the same time as the declaration of war between the farmers and the local milk dealers.

So far we have not noticed any communications to the papers proving that it costs as much to deliver a quart of milk as it does to produce it.

Now they want a motor car for the milk, and the office boy rises to remark that he knows a lot of males who would like a motor car too.

FROM GUNNER W. R. NELSON

Mrs. Nelson of 78 City road, is in receipt of a letter from her husband, Gunner W. R. Nelson, of the 12th Canadian Siege Battery. He refers to the hardships of the soldier's life, but says the men are cheerful and looking for an early finish. He writes that he is in excellent health as are all the other St. John boys in the unit.

ROBERT MYLES OF THE 104TH TO GET POST AS SNIPER

Shooting Ability Brings Him Forward; Interesting News From Battalion

Mrs. Robert Myles of St. John has received from her husband, who is with the 104th Battalion, Lt.-Colonel G. W. Fowler, in England, a very interesting letter from which the Times makes some extracts. He says—I expect to hear from you only about twice more before I go into the trenches. You over there don't know that there is a war on. I was in London for two days. Just get back, and if you could see train loads of wounded coming in you would realize that I will send you a certificate that I got for being the best shot in the battalion. They sent me to a school in West Sandling where I am now finishing up a sniper's course. They will be working at the front, picking off the German officers and men.

To his father and mother he writes: I have been pretty busy and would have liked to have written before. I sent some cards last Sunday.

We arrived in Liverpool and were there from three p. m. until 10 p. m. before we got on the train. We reached Shorncliffe at six o'clock the next morning. A company tried the gas helmets on the other morning. You have to put them on in seven sections. The instructor tells us that it takes from nine to ten seconds for gas to reach a trench after it is sent out. Aeroplanes are more than plentiful over here; we see eight or ten every day flying over our heads. The British Silver Queen, a big one, comes around and pays us a visit every day. I have seen a lot of the boys of the 20th, on their way back from the front. Well, by the sound of the guns the last two or four days they must be handing " Fritz" a few.

NO 4 SIEGE BATTERY HAS BEEN UNDER FIRE

Letter From Gunner H. Christie W. Latham Has Gas Experience

Allen Christie, of the Mutual Film Company, yesterday received a letter from his brother, Gunner Harold Christie of No. 4 Siege Battery. The letter in part reads: "I am standing up well under fire and that the first taste of war was not what the boys of the 20th, who thought it was, when undergoing training in St. John. He writes that 'you have to get used to the noise of the men', but adds that he would rather be on the solid ground. William Latham, who was formerly employed with M. R. A., Ltd., Gunner Christie said, was up to the trenches the other day and got his first experience of the German gas, and the result is now laid up, but expects to be around in a few days.

GUTELIUS BRINGS JOY TO HALIFAX

At Halifax this week Mr. Gutelius announced the establishment of a new division in the I. C. R. which will include Halifax.

The importance of Halifax as a terminal has become so great that it is necessary that Superintendent J. T. Hailley be allowed to devote his entire time to the Halifax portion of the railway. To accomplish this an additional superintendent's district has been created, effective September 1, to be known as District No. 6 and to comprise the Truro terminal, the line from Truro to Halifax and will include the Dartmouth branch and Dartmouth and Deans railway. Mr. Hailley will have a full complement of officers such as assistant superintendent, chief dispatcher, master mechanic, bridge and building master and resident engineer.

The old district No. 6, formerly Hailley's, St. John to Truro, will include the branch lines, Point du Chene and Cape Tormentine, and also the N. T. R. from Moncton to Nappadogan. It will be in charge of Superintendent W. R. Devenish at present, superintendent of District No. 2, Campbellton, whose place will be filled by W. R. Fitzmaurice, promoted from assistant superintendent. Speaking of the progress of work at the ocean terminals, Halifax, Mr. Gutelius said:

"We will have at the close of navigation in the St. Lawrence three additional berths at the ocean terminals and three wooden sheds for temporary use.

"In view of the departure of Major J. McGregor, superintending engineer, for service at the front, an organization has been decided on. A. C. Brown, C.E., will retain his position as resident engineer in charge of the harbor works, and will report to W. A. Duff, engineer of bridges, Moncton—R. H. Smith, C.E., will retain his position as assistant engineer in charge of railway construction and will report direct to the chief engineer, C. B. Brown, at Moncton."

Extensive improvements are being made in the west end I. C. R. yard at Moncton. This will greatly increase the yard room. The property known as the tannery yard, at the foot of High street, is being utilized for the purpose. A large number of employees are busy leveling off the ground and laying the new tracks. New branches extend from the "Y" and many sidings are being installed. About one and a half or more miles of new track for yard purposes will be laid.

A steam shovel and three train crews are at work on this section of the N. T. R., getting out ballast and haussing the roadbed. The train crews are working between Nappadogan and Pacific Junction.

RETAIL MERCHANTS RALLY HERE THIS MONTH

The officers of The Retail Merchants' Association are busy making arrangements for the big rally of retail and wholesale merchants of New Brunswick in St. John on September 19 and 20. It is expected to draw Sir George E. Foster address the rally. Arrangements have been made with the merchants for one fare rate, so soon as the place to hold the rally is decided on, manufacturers will be offered the privilege of making exhibits of their lines, which will be of special interest to retailers. It is expected that this will be the largest gathering of merchants ever held in St. John.
