Sixth Day of Battle Of The Aisne Marked By Lull In Artillery Duel

Strain on Both Sides Said To Be Getting Almost Beyond Endurance THE DEATH ROLL IS ENORMOUS

Many of Britain's Famous Regiments Suffered Heavily and Noted Prussian Guards Practically Wiped Out—Matters Grow More Serious For Austria

SERIOUS IN AUSTRIA Petrograd reports that General Rennenkampf has definitely arrested the German advance.

THE AWFUL DEATH LIST The most cruel aspect of the British standpoint of the terrible battle now raging in the western arena of the war, is the dreadful apprehension with which the British public awaits the publishing of the casualty list of last week's fighting.

BOYS' INDUSTRIAL HOME At a meeting of the board of government of the Boys' Industrial Home this morning in the mayor's office, the lease of the ground occupied by the home at East St. John was again considered and approved and the mayor was instructed to place the seal of the board on it. Other matters of routine nature were discussed.

WEST SIDE STILL HOPES The accumulation of dust in Rodney street, West St. John, and part of Ludlow street in the same section of the city, are of large proportions. So great is the nuisance when teams pass along or the breeze blows that people using the sidewalk are almost stifled. Some people thought that perhaps Spruce Lake had run dry because of the dust conditions. Inquiry shows that Spruce Lake is full up yet. It is cheering news and hopes now are that the watering cart will soon be in use again.

The Dead Spectator. (London Spectator). Here lies a clerk who half his life had spent Toiling at ledgers in a city gray, Thinking that so his days would drift away With no twine broken in life's tournament; But ever 'twixt the books and his bright eyes The gleaming eagles of the legions came, And horsemen charging under phantom skies Went thundering past beneath the oriflamme.

And now those waiting dreads are satisfied, For to the end he heard the bugle call, And to his country then he gave his life. When in his first high hour of life he died.

And falling thus, he wants no recompense Who found his battle in the last resort; Nor needs he any hearse to bear him hence Who goes to join the men of Agincourt.

American Money. (New York Journal of Commerce). Canada's attitude toward American paper money shows what foreign nations think of the present currency situation in the United States. Apparently the doubt entertained respecting the emergency currency does not exist with respect to gold certificates which are said to carry a premium of two per cent. The attitude of the Canadians is explainable only upon the supposition that Canadians regard the present difficulties thrown in the way of gold redemption by the banks as equivalent to such a discount on their notes under existing conditions.

The situation is a curious reversal of the ordinary attitude of the public in Canada, inasmuch as for years past there has been a disposition in that country to regard American money as fully equal to par, while we on our side have been inclined to accept Canadian currency at a discount on general principles. The practical suspension of gold redemption here inevitably brings its own penalties.

GERMAN AND RUSSIAN AMBASSADORS TO ITALY ENGAGE IN WORD WAR Rome, Sept. 19.—A duel of words is being carried on between the German and Russian ambassadors to Italy. H. Defflow, German ambassador, in a circular issued on Thursday, denying the intention of Germany to make peace referred to the "war ignominiously imposed upon" the German people. Today the Russian ambassador, A. Kroupenski, made this reply: "This passage contains as many lies as words. All the papers recognized that Germany was the aggressor, and the 'war ignominious' is the only one applicable to the German procedure before and during the war."

WANT TO SEE A LOCAL FUND FOR BRAVE BELGIANS Several prominent citizens called on the mayor this morning and suggested an organization for the relief of the stricken Belgians, along the same lines as carried out in Nova Scotia. One was the opinion that the greatest necessity was clothing but he gave the mayor a substantial check to go towards a cash fund and the plan he carried out.

Lieut. Governor Wood was in consultation with the mayor this morning regarding plans for the formation of a Provincial Patriotic Fund. It was decided to call a meeting to consider the organization of the fund after the mayor has returned from Ottawa with the details of the Canadian Patriotic Fund.

WAR NOTES There are from 50,000 to 80,000 Germans and Austrians in England. This includes women and children. Some are at liberty, reporting regularly to the police, but the majority, being unemployed and penniless are held in detention camps at Aldershot, Liverpool and Manchester. The Germans thus far admit total casualties of only 7,488 dead, 28,594 wounded and 9,900 missing. Crown Prince George and Prince Christian Frederic of Saxony have been decorated with the Iron Cross. The German war office gives out no definite information about the battle in progress in France. It claims a German army is advancing in Russian Poland. It is said that Switzerland intends to ask for an indemnity at the end of the war, owing to the stoppage of manufactures and industries. It is said that the origin of the report of Russian troops passing through Britain to the front was in the fact that several Russian officers for staff and observation duty with the French and English armies in the field passed through England accompanied by their own orders and servants, all in uniform.

THE LEONFIELD AND THE SHENANDOAH Another lift was taken on the dredge Leonfield last night and she was floated further up the bar, about 100 feet. This will make her about three feet higher above low water than she was before. At low tide it may be possible now to patch the hole in her bow, and if not, another lift will be made next week. The salvage pump in the Shenandoah went out of commission yesterday and another one was sent for, arriving from Halifax this morning. It is being installed this afternoon and will be at work tomorrow morning. It is expected that an attempt will be made to float the steamer tomorrow about noon.

TWO CLERGYMEN ROUGHLY HANDLED

Rev. H. R. Grant and Rev. J. W. Whitman Battered With Fists and Beer Bottles

Amherst, N. S., Sept. 19.—Battered by fist and bottles, with their clothes torn and disarranged, the Rev. H. R. Grant, of New Glasgow, the well-known temperance advocate, and Rev. J. E. Whitman, the Methodist pastor of Pugwash, arrived in Amherst Wednesday afternoon. They were accompanied by Constable VanBuskirk, of Pugwash, who had in his charge a Mr. and Mrs. Tucker, of that town.

The Rev. Mr. Grant had his face pummelled, his coat was torn, his hat destroyed, and he was bruised badly. Rev. J. W. Whitman, in his own words, said: "I had eight, if not a dozen beer bottles broken over my head. Constable VanBuskirk was knocked by his knees twice, one bottle broke on his head and inflicted a nasty gash in his forehead."

IMPERIAL THEATRE ON MONDAY

Regular picture enthusiasts—and that means pretty nearly everybody—will be regaled with a really superior type of film-play on Monday and Tuesday of next week in a magnificent presentation of Shakespeare's "Othello, The Moor of Venice," consisting of five reels. Truly a wonderful subject, staged in Venice itself under civic direction, and during the proclamation of a special holiday especially granted for the proper photographing of the work. It is beautiful, surpassing, by long odds, a story "set" in studios, and the investiture is costly and sumptuous. It will not be necessary to know your Shakespeare to appreciate this lucid poem-drama, the pictures tell the tale in all its beauty and intensity. "Othello" will be a departure from the usual run of pictures, and should attract great crowds. The vaudeville will be three funsters from New York. Mr. Huskins will enter upon his farewell week, and Hearst-Selig Weekly number will show new scenes.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally, it acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for description and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. The Terrific Zeppelins.

(New Yorker Staats-Zeitung.) We have very favorable news from private letters concerning the Zeppelin airships. The question has often been asked: "Where are the Zeppelins and what are they doing?" The following information received in a private letter speaks for itself: "Every night the Zeppelin airships go out to the North Sea, and when they return there is an English battleship destroyed. Nineteen English battleships have been destroyed so far."

THE WAR NEWS.

What is apparently the most desperate battle of the war in France is still in progress. The German armies, having fallen back to a position which afforded good opportunities for defence, and where they could also receive reinforcements and supplies, are making a determined stand; and for several days they have resisted the efforts of the allied armies to dislodge or envelop them.

The meagre reports sent out from London and Paris last night were of the usual cautious nature, and we are left to guess the intentions of the French commander-in-chief in his plan of battle. It is suggested that each army has been seeking for the weak point of the other, and the heaviest fighting is yet to come.

After nearly seven weeks of war it is found that industrial and commercial conditions in the maritime provinces are not seriously affected. The sharp advance in prices which it was feared would occur has not taken place. For example, the market quotations on flour, provisions, fish and other staples has shown very little change for several weeks.

When a lady patient living far from town had to telephone for her physician she apologized for asking him to come such a distance.

Paris hears that Italy is on the verge of declaring war against Austria and Germany. It is pointed out that the Italian people are clamoring for such action; that if Italy does not join in crushing Germany she might later become the victim of German vengeance; and that if she desires to secure from Austria any portion of territory after the war she should now take up arms against that country.

London, Sept. 19.—The Antwerp correspondent of the Post, who visited Termonde, one of the razed cities of Belgium, found that out of 1,500 houses not 100 remained. Hospitals and churches were all burned.

Today's despatches tell of the terrible slaughter in the battle of Aisne, which is still in progress. We get from the story some conception of the horrors of this war. The mere burial of the dead has become a great task. The probability is, moreover, that still greater loss of life must be recorded before the battle ends, since both sides are fighting with all their energy, the Germans with the fury of desperation, and the allies with a determination to repeat the brilliant success of the battle of the Marne.

man-warlord and his advisors, for the policy which is thus drenching the peaceful hills and valleys of France with the blood of so many brave men, and filling so many thousands of homes with unutterable grief over the loss of fathers, husbands, sons and brothers, whose bodies lie in nameless graves.

The proposal to merge the St. John Patriotic Fund into the general Canadian fund is a wise one. St. John's share, however, will not appear very large in comparison with that of other cities and towns. In the city of Montreal almost $1,500,000 was raised in a five day campaign. The collections yesterday in that city amounted to about $200,000. No less than $4,000 was subscribed by three Germans, who said they were German by name but British at heart.

A TIME FOR CONFIDENCE. After nearly seven weeks of war it is found that industrial and commercial conditions in the maritime provinces are not seriously affected.

A CHILD'S DRESS.

French challis is an ideal material for the dress, 2 yards being required for a girl of eight years. The collar and cuffs may be of a contrasting material, if desired, 1/4 yard, 2 1/2 inches wide, supplying the trimming.

The raglan sleeve is first sewn to the front and back of the waist as notched; then the under-arm and sleeve seams are closed. Flat the sleeve, placing "T" on double "O" perforation and tack. Close cuff seam as notched; sew sleeve as notched. Turn hem in front at notch. Center-front indicated by large "O" perforations. Gather lower edge of front and back between double "T" perforations. Sew square collar to neck edge as notched. Turn hem in back of shield at notches; join standing collar as notched.

Small elastic bows in center-front of front and from upper edge to lower "O" perforation. Finish edges for open.

The Babies of Brussels

No Milk For Them, Because They, as Well as Women and Children and Men, "Are Enemies of the Fatherland When Germany is at War"

By MARY BOYLE O'REILLY

Brussels, Belgium, Sept. 2 (by mail)—Nurse Marie Pellicie, of the French Red Cross, met me at the hospital door. I had seen her for a moment at midnight, step confident, manner serene. Now her face was white.

"There is no milk in Brussels," said Nurse Marie Pellicie.

"I made to laugh. There are many things wanting in the captured capital. "And the babies?" prodded the Red Cross sister. Then I sensed the horror.

"Therefore, we have arranged to go to the commander of the city," she continued, "determined to appeal—four of us—women of different countries. Will you come? Will you be an American delegate?"

In half an hour the quartette stood in the Hotel de Ville explaining our mission to a representative of the German army governor. Nearer that potentate we could not approach.

By agreement we tacitly waived normally to state the case of the little ones. The English woman spoke in German, the French woman in Flemish, the Belgian in English, the American in French.

"Then my plea was plain and pointed. "The outputs prevent dairy carts entering the city. Therefore babies starve."

The Prussian officer's silver-straped shoulders moved ever so slightly.

"We trust, Herr Lieutenant (the English woman's voice was toneless with neutrality), we trust the milk farmers may be allowed to come to the gate."

The officer's upstanding moustache twitched with amusement.

"Then we insist," urged the American, "that we women, on our honor, be permitted to pass the barrier—merely to return with a peasant's milk cart."

Again that arrogant smile.

"Now we demand," climaxed Nurse Marie Pellicie, amidst the Red Cross on her sleeve was not brighter than the color in her cheeks. "We demand that we women, or your soldiers (who are willing), be freed from the duty of milking for the babies of Brussels."

Followed an instant's silence.

French woman and German officer eyed each other. Her manner was calm, confident, the spirit of new France. His military, feudal to the verge of insolence. He spoke with finality that denied contradiction.

"You ask the absurd—the impossible. We Prussians recognize no distinction of persons. Men, women, children, all are enemies of the Fatherland when Germany makes war!"

Today a hundred babies lie dead in Brussels.

BAD COLD? TAKE CASCARETS FOR BOWELS TONIGHT

No Headache, Constipation, Bad Cold or Sour Stomach By Morning

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick, headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the bowels, instead of being cast out into the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

HOW TO LIVE WELL AND SAVE THE PENNIES DURING THE WAR

(By Miss Canada)

Almost any meat bones can be used in soup making, and if the meat is not all removed from them the soup is better. But some bones, especially the ribs, are not so good. They have a little meat left on them, can be grilled or roasted into very palatable dishes.

The "spare-rib" of southern cooks is made of the ribs bones from a roast of pork, and makes a favorite dish when well browned. The braised ribs of beef tend served in high-class restaurants are made from the bones cut from rib roasts. In this connection it may be noted that many of the dishes popular in good hotels are made of portions of meat such as are frequently thrown away in private houses, but which with proper cooking and seasoning make attractive dishes and give most acceptable variety to the menu. An old recipe for "braised bones" directs that the bones be freed from fat, or butter, on which the meat is not left too thick in any part, be sprinkled with salt and pepper (cayenne), and broiled over a clear fire until browned. Another example of the use of bones is boiled marrow bone. The bones are cut in convenient lengths, the ends covered with a little piece of dough over which a floured cloth is tied, and cooked in boiling water for two hours. After removing the cloth and the marrow is served. Prepared as above, the bones may also be baked in a deep dish. Marrow is sometimes removed from bones after cooking, seasoned and served on toast.

Meat Cakes

One pound chopped veal, one-quarter pound soaked bread crumbs, two tablespoons avoyn fat or butter, one teaspoonful chopped onion, one and one-half teaspoonful salt, dash of pepper.

Mix, all the ingredients, except the butter or fat, and shape into small round cakes. Melt the fat in a baking pan and brown the cakes in it, first one side and then the other. Either cooked or raw veal may be used. In the case of raw veal the pan should be covered so that the heat may be retained to soften the meat.

Stew From Cold Roast

The dish provides a good way of using up the remnants of a roast, either of beef or mutton. The meat should be freed from fat, gristle, and bones, cut into small pieces, slightly salted, and put into a kettle with water enough to nearly cover it. It should simmer until almost ready to break in pieces, when onions and raw potatoes, peeled and quartered, should be added. A little soup stock may also be added if available. Cook until the potatoes are done, then thicken the liquor or gravy with flour. The stew may be attractively served on slices of crisp toast.

Meat Turnovers

Almost any kind of chopped meat may be used in these, and if the quantity on hand is small may be mixed with potatoes or cooked rice. This filling should be seasoned to taste with salt and pepper, onion, or whatever is relished, and laid on pieces of short biscuit dough rolled thin and cut into circles about the size of an ordinary saucer. The edges of the dough should be moistened with white of egg, the dough then folded over the meat, and its edges pinched close together. If desired, the tops of the turnovers may be brushed over with yolk of an egg before they are placed in the oven. About half an hour's baking in a hot oven is required. Serving with a brown sauce increases the flavor and moistens the crust.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine for little ones. They are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely safe and never fail to cure constipation, colic, colds and simple fevers by regulating the stomach and bowels. Concerning them Mrs. S. Shannon, Urney, N. S., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my two children and they are just what little ones need. I would not be without them."

The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MIDDLE-AGES METHODS USED IN BUILDING OF AMERICAN CATHEDRAL

In the construction of the great new Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, in New York, the largest church edifice ever undertaken in America and vying in size with the greatest European churches, an effort is being made to revive the methods by which the craftsmen of the Middle Ages labored in co-operation to produce the masterpieces of architecture which still rank among the most beautiful structures ever built by man, says the October Popular Mechanics Magazine in a handsomely illustrated article.

The architects, who have built many churches and cathedrals, have come to the conclusion that the only way to hope to get into the work some of the impressive yet elusive, qualities that permeate the ancient religious monuments of England and France, is to endeavor to follow the methods that led the old cathedral builders. They hope to gather together, at the new cathedral, tried and trusted artisans who will work as much for the love of their calling as for their wages.

These workmen will be divided into groups representing the principal trades employed, such as stonemasons and carvers, woodworkers, stained-glass makers, metal workers, and so forth. These groups of craftsmen will have their leaders who will work in constant touch with the architects. The architects will encourage the various craftsman to work with their brains and imaginations as well as with their hands. They will not be tied down to rigid drawings. There will be no general contractor, but the general contractor's net profit, while on work of this sort usually amounts to about eight per cent of the cost of the building, will be distributed regularly in the form of bonuses to each workman in proportion to his regular wages. This, in short, is part of the famous guild system of building as it existed in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries.

To Cure Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected a complete cure after all else has failed. Sufferers who can scarcely hear a watch tick have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear.

Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrh, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them and you will have been the means of saving one sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmidol (Double Strength), about 75c. worth. Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of moist or granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose promptly ends the most distressing head noises, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are quickly overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh; therefore, there are but few people whose hearing cannot be restored by this simple home treatment.

Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better.

Important—In ordering Parmidol always specify that you want Double Strength; your druggist has it or he can get it for you; if not, send 75c. to the International Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine St., Montreal, P. Q., who make a specialty of it.

MUCH PAIN FROM KIDNEY DISEASE

Doctored in Vain Until Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Were Used.

Kidney derangements are often associated with disorders of the liver and bowels, and under these conditions ordinary kidney medicines usually fail to effect cure. It is because of their unique, combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so generally successful, even in the most complicated cases.

Mr. Emanuel Bernard, farmer, St. Paul, Kent county, N. B., writes: "About eighteen years ago my wife was laid up with kidney disease, and suffered greatly from headaches, pains in bowels, and stomach, and her heart was affected. For a year she was treated by her doctor, with no apparent benefit. She then used five boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with most satisfactory results. This gave us such a good opinion of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills that we always keep them in the house to be used for all derangements of the kidneys, liver and bowels." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, 25c. a box, 3 for $1.00, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

CROWN PRINCE OF GERMANY AT THE FRONT

Frederick William, who is in command of the left wing of the great German army in France, talking to two officers of the Death Head Hussars.

Famous British Troops, In Thick of Fight, Suffer Severely

On the Battle Front, Sept. 18, via Paris, 5:30 p. m.—The gigantic battle, or more properly speaking, battles, continue day and night along the entire front, from Noyon to the frontier. The fighting does not consist of one sustained and combined movement, but in reality of several combats proceeding incessantly against the strongest points of the Germans defending the line, along the River Aisne.

Each encounter, however, influences the execution of the general idea of the commander-in-chief of the allied army. Attacks and counter-attacks follow one another in rapid succession every hour out of the twenty-four.

During the course of the night of September 15-16 the Germans attempted a formidable movement in the western sphere but were met by the French and British with courage that was simply marvellous against overwhelming odds. The Germans returned to the attack no fewer than ten times with marvellous tenacity and intrepidity, but were unable to break through the firm line presented by the allies' infantry. The fight just before daybreak was the most violent of all.

The Germans appeared to throw into the charge all that remained of their energy, but were rolled back with enormous losses. Before retiring behind their big guns they sacrificed many of their number, displaying resolution which approached desperation. A vigorous counter-attack from the allies ensued, during which a small extent of ground was gained.

Last night was relatively calm along the front, but today the fighting became more furious than ever. During the darkness operations are rendered difficult, owing to the reluctance of the opposing commanders to use searchlights, which might expose their position.

After this stage of the fight was concluded the Germans appeared to retire about seven miles. During the combat the adversaries in many instances came to hand-to-hand clashes and the bayonet was extensively used. The carnage was terrific, but the troops of both armies appeared to have been hardened to such scenes and fought with indomitable coolness, despite the heaviness of the losses.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO LEARN FROM ANY ONE PORTION OF THE LINE WHAT IS OCCURRING AT OTHER PLACES, BUT AN INCLINATION TO REcede SLIGHTLY SEEMED EVIDENT ON THE GERMAN SIDE, ALTHOUGH THEY OFFERED THE MOST OBSTINATE RESISTANCE AND FOUGHT AS THROUGH MADE OF IRON. THE ALLIES AT THE SAME TIME DOGGEDLY PURSUED THE SMALL ADVANTAGE THEY GAINED AND KEPT AT THE HEELS OF THEIR RELUCTANTLY RETIRING FOE.

AT A POINT WHERE THE BULK OF THE BRITISH TROOPS FORMED PART OF THE ALLIES LINE THE FIGHTING WAS FURIOUS YESTERDAY AND TODAY AND SOME OF THE MOST FAMOUS ENGLISH, SCOTTISH AND IRISH REGIMENTS, INCLUDING THE GUARDS AND THE HIGHLANDERS, SUFFERED SEVERELY. THEY PERFORMED THE TASK SET FOR THEM UNFLINCHINGLY,

The Tea Situation

For some time the firm of RICHARD DICKESON & CO., of London, England, have been selling in Canada their world-wide, celebrated brand of DICKESON'S TEA. Their efforts met with great success. The public of St. John and vicinity responded heartily, liked the Tea and recognized its superiority.

Almost immediately with the outbreak of the war some tea firms increased their prices, but RICHARD DICKESON & CO. have all along declined to advance their prices, and by cable they advise their St. John agents that they will neither alter the price nor the quality of their tea as long as they can receive support of the Canadian public.

Their action is not without considerable hardship to themselves in view of the shortage of supplies—and the difficulty of shipping with the risks on the high seas—and many other justifications for raising the price.

This spirit must surely commend itself to the people of St. John.

UNIFORM HIGH QUALITY AND PERFECT BLENDING are two of the outstanding features of Dickeson's Tea—and in view of the Dickeson stand against increasing the price of Tea during war times, the public will undoubtedly show a preference for "DICKESON'S."

ADVANCING AND OCCUPYING SOME OF THE ADVANCED GERMAN POSITIONS, BUT AT TERRIBLE COST.

Milan, Sept. 18.—The Tribune is informed from an authoritative Russian source that Russia has actually 6,000,000 soldiers under arms, and is in condition to mobilize still another 4,000,000. Notwithstanding brilliant successes in Galicia the truth is that the Russians in contact with the enemy do not number more than 500,000, with a like force in East Prussia, but in Poland another army of 900,000 strong is advancing and their advance guards are yet only in touch with the Austrians. Behind these enormous masses yet another 2,000,000 Muscovites are gathering now from all parts of Siberia, the Caucasus and Turkestan, while 2,000,000 more will instantly be ready to step forward and fill the eventually depleted ranks.

MAKING AMMUNITION FOR NAVAL GUNS

Close by the west bank of the Hudson River in the lower passage to the Highlands, and lying between Stony Point and West Point in a region made famous by the Revolutionary War, is Iona Island, the ammunition base of the United States Navy. Describing this spot and the work that is carried on there, the October Popular Mechanics Magazine says: "At this little-known place, a reservation of slightly more than a hundred acres, several hundred men are employed in the preparation of ammunition for the guns of our warships. Back of the hills which enclose most of the island from general view are magazines and storerooms holding approximately 8,000,000 lb. of smokeless powder, 1,000,000 of black powder, and tens of thousands of shells.

"Skirting the island, joining its laboratories and storage places, and connecting with the landing pier is a small railroad, the locomotive of which is operated by compressed air. This is used in the transportation of the deadly cargoes from one building to another and in carrying ammunition to the dock where it is received for the warships. The precaution of having a locomotive which will not throw off sparks, radiate heat nor require connection with high-voltage electric wires is necessary to avert the danger of an explosion.

"Four separate fireproof walls surround each of the magazines, which are divided into compartments in order to safeguard against the complete destruction of the works in the event of a fire or small explosion. Careful inspection of all of the cartridge stores and powder buildings is made at frequent intervals during both day and night. After sundown every visit to any of these places is recorded at the administration building by electric instruments. Close attention is paid to the temperature where ever explosives are kept, the heat being regulated to remain between 58 degrees and 90 degrees at all times. The interior walls and floors of the magazines are so made that not a single piece of iron or steel is exposed. Upon entering one of the structures inspectors and workmen wear a special kind of clothing, and soft shoes without nails, carrying absolutely nothing composed of iron or anything which in any possible manner might produce a spark.

"Similar precautions are taken in the filling rooms, where the charges are placed in the shells. Here everyone is dressed in white serge, and the tools, such as measuring cups, scales, and funnels, are made of copper, which does not give off sparks even when struck by stone. The supply of powder to be used during the day is brought to the filling rooms each morning, where it is emptied into a long wooden trough. Over half the smokeless powder used here is manufactured at the navy proving ground at Indian Head, Md., while the rest is supplied by private firms at the rate of 70 cents a pound."

TOMMY ATKINS CHEERFUL

(Amiens correspondent London Times, August 28.)
The fighting this side of Mons was bitter and prolonged and our troops have suffered heavily. "There is the light side to all this in the gaiety and good humor of the men themselves. Their spirits are unquenchable. They sing and joke and laugh as they come from battle, even with numbers sadly diminished by the enemy's fire. After a big engagement they play football as a relief to the mind, and many a card game goes on in the trench under the very nose of the shells. Tommy is convinced that the retiring tactics will lead to triumphant victory, for the allies merely wait their time to deliver the final crushing blow.

"The kindness of the French could not be exceeded. Everywhere they welcome the troops with great heartiness and shower fruit, flowers and cigarettes upon them. An old couple in one village installed a barber's shop in the street and there shaved the English visitors for nothing, the old lady lathering stubby chins and her husband shaving them with a mechanical—
"I left our own troops with the conviction that they were in splendid trim and longing to take a revenge for losses."

GUN TACKS SIGNS ON WALLS OF BUILDINGS

A gun which shoots signs into place has been invented. In appearance it is not unlike a shotgun. The sign which it discharges is rolled tightly about a heavy stick and a cord is attached to a tack which is temporarily fastened, point out, at the end of this. The other end of the string is fastened to the top of the sign. When the instrument is loaded with one of these and the trigger is pulled, heavy springs furnish the propelling force which sends the roll endwise through the air like an arrow, at whatever object it is aimed. The tack imbeds itself, while the jar of the impact loosens the sign and makes it unroll, falling into place. Posters have been placed at heights of 80 feet from distances of 50 feet and more with this unusual gun. A picture of the device in use appears in the October Popular Mechanics Magazine.

AN INTERESTED PARTY.

(Correspondence London Times.)
St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—Conversations which the Tsar had with some wounded guardsmen and which have been related to me by a member of his suite, give such insight into the Russian soldier's mentality that I may be permitted to transcribe almost literally some parts of the dialogues.

A gigantic trooper carrying his left arm in a sling stood at attention before His Majesty. His breast was decorated with three crosses of St. George, of which one had the distinctive badge conferred only when the recipient has been wounded in carrying out some gallant exploit.

"And you," said His Majesty, "have again been wounded?"

"Yes, Sire, last time in Manchuria, this time near Gumbinnen."

"I hear you captured five Germans?"

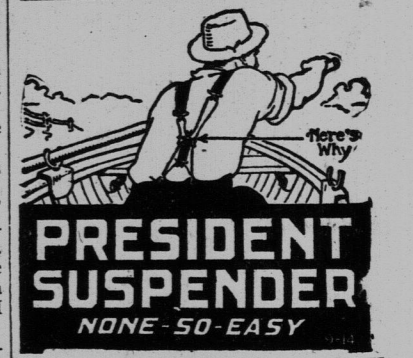

"Yes, Your Majesty, we stormed a village. They were hiding in the houses. I pulled them out one by one and drove them along. Just then somebody put a bullet into my arm from behind, but I brought them in all the same."

"Is there anything you wish for?" asked the Emperor laughingly.

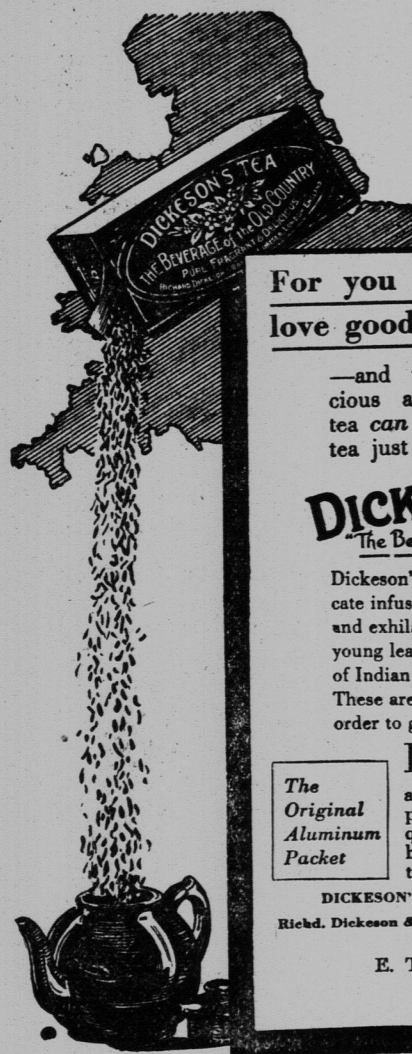

"Oh, yes, Your Majesty, let me go back. My army will be all right in a few days. It is very dull here and so interesting there. We see new towns and every day there's plenty of interesting work."

DANGEROUS TO PICK AT A SORE CORN

The razor or jack-knife way of paring a gouging out corns is but a temporary relief, and very often causes blood poisoning. To quickly relieve the pain and surely remove the corn, apply Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor, the only sure remedy for sore foot lumps, warts, callouses, bunions and corns. Its name tells the story—Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor. 25c. per bottle.

Tightens Her Skin—Loses Her Wrinkles

"I want to tell you how easily I got rid of my wrinkles," writes Lucia March. "While in London a month ago, I was so pleased because of her youthful looks, gave me a formula for a home-made preparation which has the effect of instantly tightening the skin, thus smoothing out wrinkles and furrows.
The principal ingredient is powdered saxolite, which can be had at drug stores here. A ounce of saxolite is dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. After bathing my face in this but once, I was transformed. Even the deep crow's feet were affected. It seems difficult to believe anything could produce such results. Several to whom I recommended the recipe have been similarly helped, one an elderly lady whose cheeks had become quite bony."—Social Mirror.

THINKS IT ONLY WATER; BROKER DRINKS POISON

Wife Had Dissolved Tablets in Glass and He Did Not Know of It

New York, Sept. 19.—David R. Beach, aged thirty-one, a real estate broker of 78 William street, Manhattan, whose home is in the Vendome apartment house at 368 Grand avenue, Brooklyn, is in the Plücher Sanitarium, opposite his home, facing death by poisoning.

Especially pitiable circumstances attend his case. The broker is married and has three very young children, and his wife is tortured by the thought that it was she who unwittingly left the poison where he came upon it. From a glass he found on the table in the bathroom and which he supposed contained pure water, he drank a solution containing twenty-two grains of the poison, a quantity sufficient to kill four men.

"I had gone into the bathroom a minute or two before Mr. Beach last Monday glass he found on the table in the bathroom and which he supposed contained pure water, he drank a solution containing twenty-two grains of the poison, a quantity sufficient to kill four men.

"He found the glass on a window ledge and, having heard me draw the water, thought I had left the glass there for him. He drank it dry. They took him back to the bed and twisted his lips, complaining of the taste of the water. I knew right away what had happened, but for an instant I simply did not tell him. Finally I did.

"His face went white and we stared at each other for nearly a minute. We were so dumbfounded that we were unable to move. He heard me letting the water run. He was in the adjoining room, reading, and came into the bathroom.

IMPORTANT PART OF WORK IS THAT OF ST. JOHN MAN

Copper and Bronze For Charlotte-town Cathedral Being Supplied by James McDade—A Fine Structure

All the ornamental copper and bronze work for St. Dunstan's Cathedral, being re-built in Charlottetown, P. E. I., is being made in St. John and is being supplied by James McDade, Mill street. The Gothic ornamentalations, such as are being used in connection with this cathedral, are of the highest class. There are very few examples of this class of work in the maritime provinces, and a few cathedrals which have been built in this style have secured the copper and bronze decorations from upper Canada or the United States, and the work accomplished by experts.

The present work is a good example of what can be accomplished in St. John. About fourteen tons of copper are required for the towers, one on each end of the edifice, and for the Gothic tracery of the upper windows, moulds and pediments. The spire roofs proper are of plain copper with ornamental turrets, and on each tower there are four large, sixteen medium and twenty small turrets and each turret is finished with crockets and wrought copper terminal, while the towers are surmounted by solid bronze crosses, manufactured by the Phoenix Foundry. Each cross is nine feet in height. The main roof is to be covered with slate, and the ridge finished with bronze cresting.

In the centre of the building is a ventilating tower, somewhat smaller than the front towers, and this is also being finished with copper. The gable ends of the building will be finished with a moulded copper work for the depth of seven feet.

The construction work on the new cathedral is being done by J. S. McCallie Company, contractors. J. M. Hunter is the architect.

When completed, St. Dunstan's Cathedral will be one of the finest cathedrals in the maritime provinces. It will be larger than the cathedral in St. John, and is designed somewhat after the style of Notre Dame Cathedral in Montreal. The edifice is being built at a cost of from $250,000 to $300,000, and will seat 4,500 people. It is hoped to have the building completed this winter, and an effort will be made to have the basement opened for service at Christmas. The new edifice is a great credit to the efforts of His Lordship Bishop O'Leary.

THREE NEW HEADS OF Y.M.C.A. DEPARTMENTS TAKE UP WORK HERE

T. H. Hutchinson, new general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., P. J. Legge, secretary, and H. O. Bonk, physical director, have arrived in the city and have already taken up their new positions. Meetings were held in the Y.M.C.A. last evening and plans for the coming winter were discussed.

Mr. Hutchinson has had a wide experience in different branches of Y.M.C.A. work and with a man of his ability in charge, it is felt that the institution must show favorable progress. He is a native of Toronto and after being in several Ontario cities he went west and was first assistant secretary in Vancouver. He took the workers' course at the Y.M.C.A. training school in Springfield, Mass., after which he took up special graduate work in Winnipeg, and has since been engaged in playground work in Winnipeg. He has also had two years of experience in military training camps. He spent a day at Valcartier on his way here.

Mr. Legge also comes well recommended. He has been for two years assistant boys' secretary in the Y.M.C.A. of New Glasgow, N. S. While at college in Columbia, Ohio, Mr. Bonk was actively engaged in community work in that city. He has received excellent training in gymnasium work, and has made a good showing in New Glasgow.

Reflections.
(New York Sun.)
In the still depths of her clear eyes
I see Tyrolean lakes of blue,
Reflected from Italian skies,
Or from her heart's deep tenderness.
I see again cathedral heights,
New tinted with a glowing sheen,
And know not whether 'tis a scene
Remembered, or the newer lights
Of a transfigured happiness.

MISSION WORK BY PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN
The annual meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Foreign and Home Missionary Society of the Maritime Provinces was held in St. Stephen's church, Amherst, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Reports of the several branches of the work of the society were most encouraging. Rev. G. A. Sutherland, convener of the foreign mission board, warmly commended the society for its excellent showing. The contributions to foreign missions amounted to $25,000. The total to home missions was $7,000, besides boxes of clothing, etc., valued at $5,300. Mrs. John Morton and Mrs. Joseph Annand were elected honorary presidents. Among the delegates from St. John were Mrs. J. H. Thomson, Mrs. R. C. R. Cruikshank and Mrs. James Sterling.

The Stage and Its Players

Many Well Known in St. John on the American Stage--Alice Moffat Starring--Try-out of the Canadian Route--Fred Frear in "Adele"--Players for Local Stock

Those who saw and heard him in the part he played in St. John with the same company will be interested to know that Fred Frear, who originated the character of Mr. Nish in "The Merry Widow," has been engaged by the New Era Producing Company for the role of Friebur in "Adele," which was played in New York by Dallas Welford, who played here in Madame Sherry, "Adele" opens in Philadelphia.

William Elliott has engaged John F. Glancy for the role of MacGregor in his newest "Kitty Mackay" company. Mr. Glancy has been playing in "Bunny Puck" the Strings, Bertha Kent, all last season with Otis Skinner and Elizabeth Merson were further engagements.

St. John stage-goers did not help as liberally as the merits of the production and company which visited here deserved but the records at the Oliver Morosco New York show that on Labor Day alone the eight "Peg" companies and one "Bird of Paradise" Morosco's played to a gross of $14,862.

Alice Moffat who made a hit here as "Angela" in "The Pink Lady," the prima donna of an "Oh, Oh! Delphine" Co. now on tour.

The cast selected for the staging of Wm. Gillette's well known vehicle "All the Comforts of Home" seems to meet with general approval. Several of the players are well known to the stage public through other productions in which they have met success. Generous support should be given the piece because of the purpose for which it is given—the patriotic fund—and because of the endeavors of those interested, as well as for the encouragement of amateur theatricals. The Opera House should be crowded for the presentation of the play.

The comedy, for such it truly deserves to be called, having created a laughter-making record during its presentation by Mr. Gillette, will be given in the Opera House on Sept. 25, with a matinee and evening performance. The principal roles are in the capable hands of Misses Gertrude Lawson, Valde Peano, Hilse Shaw, Florence Belland, Vivien Freese, Josephine Beta, Roberta Holder and D. J. Corr, John Sears, J. R. McCloskey, Robertson, F. Scully, G. Q. Dowling and Irving Beers, under whose stage direction the play will be presented. The 22nd Band will furnish patriotic music before all of the net proceeds will go to the Patriotic Fund, together with the fact that the production promises to be an artistic one, it should be well patronized.

Says their Toronto Correspondent in the New York Telegraph: It was announced here that the New York booking office has decided to make a try-out of Canadian patronage, with the attractions booked in Toronto and Montreal, during the present week and the week or two following. By the amount of business done and the general attitude of the public will be gauged, to some degree, the future course of managers.

The American producer of Canon Hanay's "General John Regan" is said to be in communication with an Irish baronet, Sir Valentine Grace, with a view to having him act the leading part in the comedy in this country in the new season. He has been playing it in Ireland.

Only two types of play, remarks a London critic, are likely to stand any chance of success in the troublous season before us—the stirring patriotic drama like "Drake" that gives expression to the emotions of the man-in-the-tilt, and the broad farce that takes him right away from stern realities into a world of laughter.

John Drew is to have Miss Marie Duro as his leading woman in "The Prodigal Husband" until time for her to appear in "Diplomacy." With Mr. Drew she will appear in the first act of a precocious child of twelve, and in the last as a young woman of eighteen.

It is amusing to note in the news from London that a pair of Germans appeared in Japanese makeup rather than go through their act under their own names. Being acrobats they assumed Japanese makeup and names.

As was announced in the dramatic columns of the Times a few weeks ago, Will D. Howard will be the new leading man for the Thompson-Woods Players in St. John this season. It is not known whether any of the familiar faces will be seen with the company although some of them expected to come back. Florence Chapman has been engaged as ingenue, Mabel Storms as second lady, and Marion Chester as character lady. Ida Paris and Frank McDonald will be members of the company, who will open their season on Monday, Sept. 28. The opening play is the great New York success "Bought and Paid For," and among those in the repertoire are "Stop Thief!," "Broadway Jones," "Officer 666" and "Ready Money," all recent New York successes with long records in the metropolis to their credit.

William H. Dimock will be the stage director for this season, which is a guarantee of perfect productions, as Mr. Dimock has a wide experience in stock production, having been the director at Brockton, Mass. Hathaway Theatre for the last five years. The company there is considered to be about the best stock company in New England. Mr. Dimock has also been stage director for the Politeur in Worcester and Springfield.

Of the leading man, Mr. Howard, his success speaks for itself. For several years he was connected with Cohan and Harris productions. He has been leading man for several of the best stock com-

Doings In The "Movies" World

Getting the War Pictures -- Evelyn Thaw in the Screen-Play -- Edith Storey to Labrador-Trials of the M. P. Director in Making His Production

The difficulties of obtaining pictures of actual scenes in the Belgian zone of hostilities, on account of suspicion of the military authorities, who are in constant fear of spies, have been set forth in a recent article in the "Bioscope."

A correspondent of that publication writes that at the outbreak of the war it was a man's life to carry a camera. In relating his own experiences in Belgium he said that if his credentials were passed on favorably by the Brussels authorities, there was still danger from mobs.

In the first few days following the declaration of war, to take a picture meant risking death. A camera was looked upon as an outlandish and visible sign of a spy, and anyone so unfortunate as to be caught far from the protection of the guards was apt to be torn limb from limb. And this "protection" consisted of arrest, which might lead later to a quick court martial and execution.

Guy Standing is no longer an actor, but as he has written to Adolph Zukor president of the Famous Players Film Company, "a member of the King's Navy." Mr. Standing, who had been engaged to play the chief role in Sir Henry Arthur Jones' play "The Silver King" belongs to the Royal English Naval Reserve. When the war in Europe started he said it was his duty to join the colors and obtained the consent of the film company to return to England. There he obtained a lieutenant's commission. In his letter to Mr. Zukor he wrote: "The moment the war ceased, (if I am still living) I shall return to the profession and immediately resume work at the studio and complete my contract with you."

Ned Finley of the Vitagraph Company who met with an accident while producing pictures at Hendersonville, N. C., two months ago, has now taken up the work where he was obliged to leave it before his sickness. Mr. Finley has left New York with a company of Vitagraph players to finish "O'Gary of the Royal panies in the United States, and there is no doubt that local theatre goers will be pleased with his ability and personality.

Nat Goodwin has decided to return to vaudeville and has accepted a sketch written by S. Clifford, author of "Mr. Aladdin" Goodwin will enter vaudeville immediately following the close of "Never Say Die," in which he is to open about Oct. 1 for a six-week run. In the sketch Goodwin will play a southern colonel, similar to the character of "Cameo Kirby," in which he starred for some time.

Samuel Goldfish and Jesse L. Lasky are arranging to produce as a spoken play a dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's novel, "What His Name" of which the Lasky Film Company has just finished a motion picture production. Max Figman and Lolita Robertson who are featured in the film, will have the chief roles in the play. The novel, which enjoyed wide popularity, is a romance of stage life.

Edna Earl Andrews has signed to play the entire season as leading lady for Kirk Brown a road stock star well known in St. John.

George C. Tyler of the Lieber Company has received a cable message from Sir Herbert Tree announcing that he had abandoned his proposed production of "The Highway of Life" and would, instead, revive Parker's warlike play "Drake." This move is expected to release many of the English actors for the New York production of "The Highway of Life," which is based on "David Copperfield."

Elsie Ferguson is to be starred this season in a play by Austin Strong, entitled "The Dragon's Claw." The scenes are laid in China during the Boxer uprising, in which the allied forces took a conspicuous part. Miss Ferguson will be seen as the wife of a young American army officer.

The scenes of the new play in which Mrs. Fiske is to act this season are laid in London in 1780 and the story is one of high comedy intrigue characteristic of the David Garrick and Peg Woffington period.

Chauncey Olcott is to have a new play by Miss Rachel Coethers, called "The Heart of Paddy Whack."

John Ince, of Lubin Incorporated, is a grafter. At least, he will hit at the coming Philadelphia Horticultural Society show a peculiar plot that is the result of more than fifty painstaking graftings of various plan-to Labrador, where she is to take part in a nautical drama. Miss Storey expects to be gone a month on this latest voyage.

The Man In The Street

Give the trades and labor men the glad hand next week!

The martyrs to the straw hat regulation this week should consider that their was probably too solid for wear any how.

Can't anybody chase that odor from the decaying grain at the old elevator? It's somebody's duty—the board of health, the I. C. R. or the city, which?

College students next summer can get a job selling the latest volume on "The European War of 1914."

Considering market quotations it may be said more fittingly than ever that wheat is truly the golden grain.

Insist on that "Made in Canada" trade mark whenever you can.

Tipperary is on the map again, even if "it is a long way" there.

Some people jingle the bells in the street cars as though they were soloists, but the motorman is not fond of too much music for one stop.

Had a plate of venison yet?

Some dealers expect shortage of dolls for Christmas. This may explain why so many wanted one of the big ones at the fair, but it doesn't get away from the fact that our paragon eye sees many nice dolls about the streets.

Sir Edward Carson will now have a thorough understanding of the Home Rule question, but will his brave protest against his going to the front.

Now we bring forth the derby and felt we wore last spring and wonder if they'll still be in style.

They've taken down that "American money" sign in the cars. Thanks!

The man who was seized with a fainting fit in Mill street last week was probably overcome by the obnoxious odors arising from that elevator grain.

Some people said that the weather this week was the result of a frame-up between old Jup. Pluvius and the ice-cream dealer.

It is hardly necessary to explain why the World's Peace Conference to be held this month in Vienna has been indefinitely postponed.

The German ambassador in Washington said a few days ago that "the war was won"; but looking from the bleacher seats we prefer to see the third man out in the last inning before we cash our bets.

The man on the street has been frequently asked, what has become of our old friends Mutt and Jeff. These veterans of the Mexican war have gone to the front in Europe. It is reported that one of them is fighting on Germany's side. He must be a nut.

How shall we greet ourselves from the bullets of over-enthusiastic sportsmen in the woods this fall? One year the guides in Maine adopted a stripped suit and one of them fell before a hunter who "took him for a zebra." The next year they tried a red cap and one of them was taken for "a red-headed deer." Next!

Figure It Out When the wholesale price goes up two or three cents per hundred pounds, the retailers ask a cent a pound more for his goods. But should it drop back to the original again, will he take off the extra cent? Ask me!

She Faces Europe A returned American tourist was heard to remark "If the Goddess of Liberty ever gets another look at me, she will have to turn around."

Fashion Hint The straw hat season has been extended indefinitely. The summer has been turned inside out.

Ever see the peculiar ways some of our road commissioners have of making repairs to the highway. There is some repair work being done on one of the roads leading from the city and the methods followed are unique. It looks as if the men have to put so much material on the road, and it makes no difference where or how they put it, so long as it is distributed. A wagon loaded with this sandy substance is driven along the road; someone calls out, "Drop her there, Bill," and Bill drops her there. Jump out, scatters the substance in all directions and departs for another cargo. And so it goes. Fortunately no rain has fallen during the operations, or the women might be kept busy carting the material back from the valleys, for there is no attention paid to building the road to prevent the flood from carrying the surface to the valley below. Verily, we have some roads.

One of the observations of the Jewish New Year is the blowing of the Shofar, the sounding of a trumpet call to remembrance of the Lord. When the modern "shofar" took his horn the remembrance is not always of the Lord.

PLUM PUDDING FOR CHRISTMAS TO BE DEARER

Comparison of Local Prices Today With Those of a Year Ago

The preparation of the Christmas dinner with the apparently necessary plum pudding is going to mean a greater outlay this year, unless there comes a considerable drop in prices between now and the festive season. The main staples of course are flour and sugar, while raisins, currants, peel, lard, spices and a few other commodities enter into the making of the Yuletide delight.

ANOTHER GIFT OF $1,000 TO LOCAL FUND

A check for $900, received by the treasurer of the Soldiers' and Families' Patriotic Fund, brings the contribution of T. H. Estabrook up to $1,000. Mr. Estabrook donated $100 for immediate uses just as soon as the subscription started.

Credit and Confidence

Mr. Manufacturer—We do not have to argue with you to prove that business is run by credit, and credit is founded on confidence.

Confidence is the rock on which the newspaper is constructed. It exists, it thrives, it has influence because it has the confidence of its readers.

If there were no other reason for newspaper advertising than this one it would be sufficient. Newspapers sell goods for their readers, regard their papers as trustworthy friends and advisers.
