COMPLAINANT IN KAY INQUIRY QUESTIONED

Interesting Session of Investigation at Moncton This Morning—Several Cases Gone Into—The Question of Those Back of Inquiry.

Moncton, N. B., Aug. 11.—(Special)—Much local interest is being taken in the inquiry by Magistrate Kay. Today City Clerk J. S. Magee gave testimony regarding a municipality cheque of August, 1904, for $17, which was found entered in register.

The Black-White case, one of those referred to in the memorial, was discussed by Mrs. Margaret Wallace, proprietress of the American Hotel. She told of having two cases about simultaneously in the local court, in one of which she was defendant, the other complainant, the latter being a case against Mrs. Black, who was charged with theft of a quantity of goods from hotel. These goods were found in the house of Chief Riddout, she said, where Mrs. Black had been later employed as a servant. The case was dismissed in court, Mrs. Wallace telling the commission this morning that her lawyer did not get a chance and for that reason she did not defend the stout set case in which she was convicted.

Otto C. Wortman, I. C. R. brakeman, told of being arrested on Saturday evening charged with assault, and kept in jail until Monday afternoon without bail. James Wortman, his father, told of being refused bail for his son by Magistrate Kay.

The cross-examination of George L. Harris was resumed by Mr. Russell. He went into the question of monetary backing of the crusade against magistrates Kay, Harris admitted he was receiving money assistance, but declined to tell who was furnishing it. Harris said no liquor dealers had a hand in circulation of the petition. Harris mentioned Edward McKeever, James West and Legere as among those who circulated petition.

The Chandler rape case also mentioned in the petition was taken up by Mr. Russell, who inquired if Harris was sure of his information in this respect. "I took street rumor for it and may have done Chandler wrong," replied the witness. The rumor was in everybody's mouth. The charge I mentioned may have been legally and technically incorrect. The witness, however, had no hesitation in saying this man had been improperly dismissed in Kay's court.

Another case was that the King vs. McMullin, in which the petition alleged the conviction had been improperly made. Harris claimed in this case the sole evidence was that of a spotter, a man with bad reputation.

RAN AWAY FROM BARK, IS CAUGHT

Sailor Lad Re-captured, Drenched at Rockwood Park

Alfred Jepson was arraigned before Judge Ritchie this morning charged with running away from the Danish bark Astra without permission of the captain. Jepson, who is a Danish youth, 18 years of age, disappeared from the vessel yesterday at noon, and it is said hid in the woods near Rockwood Park. The captain sought the assistance of Police Sergeant Baxter, who located the lad last evening. He had been exposed to the elements and was drenched to the skin. Therefore, rather than risk the boy's health by putting him in a cell, the sergeant quartered him in a boarding house on South ward, conducted by John Nelson, and took him into custody at eight o'clock this morning.

To the judge, Jepson, through an interpreter, said that fearing ill-treatment from the captain and mate he left the vessel. He alluded to two instances, two and four months ago, when he said the captain had punished him for steering into the harbor. He added that the mate also participated in the chastisement, and said he was not accustomed to corporal punishment. He said he was not in the vessel before he entered on his present vocation of seaman, four months ago.

Capt. A. Svane denied that he ill-treated the boy and was surprised to read in the newspapers that he abused Jepson, who had been entrusted to his care by Jepson's father and could be retained for two years as an article seaman. On Monday, Jepson, he said, left the vessel and when he returned was locked in the forecabin to prevent him from taking further French leave. However, he eluded the ship's officers while they were at the mid-day meal on Tuesday. Capt. Svane said he was desirous of keeping the lad, with him in view of his promise to his father. He accused John Neilson, the interpreter, of inciting the seaman on the Astra to desert the vessel. He said he had accompanied them at his boarding house as an extra judgment.

The captain added that Neilson boarded the vessel without his sanction, and returned after being ordered ashore. Neilson denied that he advised the sailors to abandon the vessel, and said that he would not profit by doing so. He said he interested himself in Jepson in consequence of the boy's statements that he was frequently attacked by the captain and mate and constant beating had deprived him of his wits.

The judge ordered Jepson returned to the Astra, which will leave port for Liverpool this evening or tomorrow morning, and he was escorted to the vessel by Sergeant Baxter.

DR. ROBERTS' MEMBER OF COMMITTEE

Temple of Honor to Revise Constitution—Proceedings Today—Banquet Tonight

The business sessions of the Supreme Council of the Temple of Honor and Temperance, which began last evening, were continued this morning in the Temple Building in Main street. There was very little business transacted this morning, as the committee of last night had not yet submitted their reports, which have been given to them for discussion.

This morning's meeting was taken up principally with discussions on the constitution, and a committee of seven was appointed to prepare a radical revision of the constitution of the order at large. The following were appointed to act on the committee:—D. B. Robinson, Gloucester, Mass.; John Sien, Chief Harbinger, of New Britain, Conn.; W. L. Couderet, of New Jersey; Rev. S. Woodruff, D. D., of Menington, N. J.; F. B. Dyer, of Arlington, Mass., and Dr. Wm. Y. Roberts, St. John. This committee will meet at some central point of the supreme jurisdiction, to be decided on later, during the year and hold a meeting at which they will discuss all matters relating to changes in the laws and by-laws of the constitution.

The state order committee, the committee on constitution, and the obituary committee reported the progress made during the past year, and the work performed along the lines covered by each.

Tomorrow will be the last day of the conference, and "Temple work" will be brought to a fitting close in the evening by a public temperance meeting, which will be addressed by visiting members. The closing session of the supreme council will take place tomorrow morning.

A large number of tickets have been issued for the grand banquet to be held in the banquet hall in Temple Hall this evening, and the affair promises to be most enjoyable. Tickets can be procured from members of the entertainment committee. The dinner excursions to have been held yesterday, and "Temple work" will be held on Friday at 1.30. The juniors of the various sections are to meet at 12.30 in Charlotte street, and accompanied by St. Mary's Band, and march to the steamer May Queen, which will board and sail to the wharves at the main street, and will be put through a drill. Leggs will be engaged, and the return to the city will be made about 8 o'clock.

Mr. O'Mara says Harry Thaw will soon be liberated and will go to Europe, "where in some secluded spot he will quietly live," he said, "and according to the alien laws, District Attorney Jerome had proved him to be sane forty-five times over, in his long questioning."

No more white lights or bubbling wine for Thaw. He will be the future for the mother. Harry Thaw, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Harry K. Thaw, who had a statement reviewing the facts of his recent hearing, his application for release from the Matteawan asylum. In the course of his argument to sustain his contention that he is sane he said that, according to the alien laws, District Attorney Jerome had proved him to be sane forty-five times over, in his long questioning.

GRAND FALLS POWER RIVALS

Session of Hearing Here to Determine Bond to Cover Expropriation

The hearing which opened here this morning before J. M. W. Winslow, a special commissioner appointed by the local government in connection with the Grand Falls Power Company's affairs, promises to be a lengthy proceeding. The object is to decide the amount of the bond the company must put up to satisfy the claims of the parties at Grand Falls, whose property the company is now expropriating.

Col. H. H. McLean and F. R. Teylor are appearing for the property owners, chief among whom is Sir William Van Horne, head of the Grand Falls Water Power Company, which claims to own a large amount of property there. Barnhill, Edwin & Sinden, and E. A. Powell, K. L., are appearing for the Grand Falls Power Company.

Among those present this morning were Sir Wm. Van Horne and his son, and J. B. MacRae, chief engineer of the Grand Falls Power Co., and D. W. Jamieson, both of Ottawa.

The only witness examined was Wm. A. C. Rice, a mechanical engineer of Worcester (Mass.), who was called by Col. McLean. He told of having examined the Grand Falls properties for the Grand Falls Water Power Co., which intended to develop power there for operating pulp and paper mills. He said that at one point which the company claimed to own, 24,000 horse power could be developed, and the value would be about $500 per horse power a year. At another point 10,000 horse power could be developed at a similar value. He considered Grand Falls a most favorable location for manufacturing industries. If the works proposed by the company now building there, were completed, it would destroy the water rights of the Grand Falls Water Power Co., and make their property valueless. Mr. Rice was still on the stand when adjournment was made until this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

HUSBAND AND WIFE IN DUEL TO DEATH

Chicago, Aug. 11.—After locking their two children in a bedroom and fastening all the doors of their flat, Antonio Spirezzi and his wife, Ann, went into the parlor and tried to kill each other.

The woman was shot twice and stabbed twice with a stiletto and died before the police arrived. The husband was shot twice also, and he may die. A revolver was used in the duel, and a letter in which the woman lay dead, and another revolver was found beside the husband's body.

The disordered room indicated a terrible struggle. Spirezzi turned on his side as the police broke into the room with a sledge hammer, and tore a letter which was on the floor by his side into bits before the police could stop him.

This letter, when translated from the Italian, may solve the mystery. It is thought that Spirezzi was jealous of his wife.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

THE BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY.

For some time the Times new reporter has planned to spend a night at some pleasant resort along the river; to breathe the sweet country air, and watch the stars glancing themselves in the broad mirror of the smooth flowing river.

He went up last evening. A gentle mist was falling, but tradition says that it is always fine up river.

Before the steamer had passed Boar's Head a terrific wind lashed Grand Bay into foam, and when the vessel struck across-sea a comb of the open gang way on the lower deck, where the new reporter sat on a deck stool, and drenched him to the skin. He went to the upper deck, and got some satisfaction out of what had happened to a boatman who came out through the sheeted rain to meet a passenger. A spout carries off the water from the roof of the boat, and a stream like that from a hydrant was pouring over the side when the boatman reached the gangway. A launch took his load under the spout, and the spout did the rest. The look of pained reproach with which he looked up and then sidled to Grand Falls, and then the bedraggled passenger with skinned flying, who reared up the wariat at West field, or embarked in coats, were very comforting. There was a certain wild joy in seeing the line part under the terrific pressure of the wind at Carter's Point, and the steamer compelled to make a complete turn and come up a second time. The young man derived much comfort from thoughts of these incidents as he sat with his feet in the iron at Pillsbury Landing, and heard the wind howl and the rain pour and the waves dash upon the shore. About the time he was prepared to sleep, a little man who had been asleep woke up.

On arrival back at his desk this morning, he assured the staff that he had a whale of a time, but it was necessary to wake him up at intervals, and at intervals he shivered as if with cold. He says he thinks he will make another trip up river next year or the year after.

THE MESSAGE
By LOUIS TRACY

Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Wheel of Fortune," "The Captain of the Kansas," etc.

Scarce knowing what she said, and still clinging desperately to the stricken man at her side, Evelyn whispered:

"Are they your relatives?"

And the answer came brokenly.

"Don't you know? That's Percy and my nephew! And two such boys! Straight as an' tall as handsome. Good Lord! was that the only way?"

Then she realized the horror of it. The crushed society butterfly, who was like to fall to the ground but for her support, was now bent of double. Calling Brown to her aid, they led him inside the house. The butler, impelled to obey his master's strict injunctions, knocked at the library door, and told Baumgartner what had happened.

Von Rippenbach heard. He was a callous person, to who the death of three Englishmen was of very slight consideration.

"The very thing!" he murmured. "Now you can empty the place in twenty-four hours."

Rosamund Laing, whose white brows were unseemly furrows, was writing and thinking in her own room when a maid brought her the news. Before her on the table was Evelyn's letter, and the sharp-eyed Scotch lassie saw that the lady nearly upset the inkstand in her haste to cover something with the blotting-paper. Rosamund was shocked, of course. Finding almost immediately that she and there wrote a sweetly sympathetic note, and had it taken to him.

"By the way," she said before the maid went out, "have you seen Mr. Figuero recently? I mean the dark-skinned man who came here yesterday."

Yes, he had just left the library with the master and another gentleman. Rosamund rose at once. If she were not greatly mistaken, Evelyn's harmless-looking postscript had given her a clue to the mystery of Figuero's presence in Baumgartner's house. She knew her West Africa, and the bad repute of Oku was one of her clearest memories. Yet she turned back at the door, took Evelyn's letter from her pocket, copied a portion of it, and locked the original in her jewel case.

The luncheon-gong sounded as she descended the stairs, so she postponed the interview she promised herself with the Portuguese. And, for the rest of the day, she was busy with the side of evil-doers—a fiend who contrives opportunities where human forethought would fail. Rosamund, embarked on a well-nigh desperate enterprise, suddenly found the way smoothed by Baumgartner's wholly unexpected announcement that business considerations compelled him to leave Lochmery forthwith.

"My wife and I would have tried to arrange matters satisfactorily for our guests," he said, "but the gloom cast on our pleasant party by the unhappy tidings received this morning by one of our number renders it almost impossible for us to enjoy the remainder of a most memorable and delightful sojourn in Scotland."

He delivered himself of other platitudes, but Mrs. Baumgartner's dejected air and Beryl's sullen silence showed plainly enough that the millionaire's fat was unalterable. Polite murmurs of agreement veiled the chagrin of people who had a fortnight or more thrown on their hands without any prior arrangements.

The meal was a solemn function. Everybody was glad when it ended.

Rosamund met Figuero in the hall.

"I am going to the village," she said. "Will you walk there with me?"

He caught the veiled meaning of the glance, and agreed instantly. When they were clear of the house, she commenced the attack.

"Why are you and Count von Rippenbach and three men of Oku in England?" she asked.

She did not look at Figuero. There was no need. He waited a few seconds too long before he laughed.

"You make jobs," he said.

"Do I? It will be no joke for you when Captain Warden informs the government, if he has not done that already, that you are here in England?"

"Why you say den ting?" he growled, and she was fully aware of the menace in his voice.

"You told me that you were pleased to consider a secret last night. Very well, I am willing to trade. Captain Warden knows what you are doing. He probably guesses every item of the business you and the Count were discussing so long and earnestly with Mr. Baumgartner in the library before lunch. Oh, please don't interrupt!"—for Figuero, driven beyond the bounds of self-control, was using words better left to the Portuguese tongue in which they were uttered—"I am not concerned with your plots. They never come better to me than to you. If either Count von Rippenbach or Mr. Baumgartner had your history at their finger's ends as I have, they would drop you like a hot shiner. Yet, I am ready to bargain. Help me, and I will keep my information to myself."

"What you want, den?"

"I want to see your face, and was surprised to see that his face was livid, almost green with rage and perplexity. It must be a grave matter—this jumble of hints in Evelyn's letter."

"Can you read English?" she asked, after a pause.

"Yes, leetle piece—better as I can make out."

She handed him the copy of that part of the fateful letter that alluded to himself and his affairs. He puzzled it out, word by word.

"Where him lib for?" he demanded.

"That was written by Miss Dane and intended for Captain Warden. I came by it, no matter how, and I meant to make use of it in some way."

With a rapid movement, he stuffed the sheet of note paper into a pocket.

"I can keep dem letters," he announced. "Certainly, it is only a copy. Savvy? I have the real one safely put away."

Figuro swallowed something. His thin lips were bloodless, and his long, moistened them with the quick darting action of a snake. Rosamund, who was really somewhat afraid, trusted to the daylight and the fact that they were traversing an open road, with cottages scattered through the glen.

"You cannot humbug me," she went on, "but I want to assure you again that I am no enemy of yours. Now, listen. I have reason to believe that he is engaged, promised, to Miss Dane, an trying to stop that, to break it off. Can you help?"

"You ask hard ting—in dis place. In Africa, we get Oku man make jump."

She abandoned. The cold malevolence in his words recalled stories she had heard of those who had died with unaccountable suddenness when "Oku man make jump."

"I don't mean that," she cried vehemently. "Tell me what is taking place, and how it will affect Captain Warden. Then I can warn him, perhaps prove myself his friend. Above all—where are you going tomorrow? Mr. Baumgartner sails in the Sans Souci, I hear. Does Miss Dane go with him, or is she to be sent away because she is aware of your plans?"

He saw light, dimly, but growing more distinct each instant. Warden was a deadly personality in the field against him, and his active interference was now assured beyond civil. But, with two women as foils, both beautiful, and one exceedingly well equipped with money, there was still a chance of circumventing the only man he feared.

"You steal dem letter?" he said unexpectedly.

"At any rate, it has not gone to Captain Warden," was the acid reply.

"An' you write im. What you say?"

"Oh, nothing that affects the case."

"You told him me here?"

"No. That can wait, which statement, as shall be seen, was strictly untrue."

"Well, den, dem yacht lib for—somewhere tomorrow. Den?"

Dane, go wid me. You told him dat ting as you say las' night. I make wife pal-aver to den girl."

"What dat good will that do?" she said. "In a week, ten days, he will hear from her again."

"No. I take dem letter. You gib me Captain Warden writin', an' I keep eye for dat. Savvy?"

NEGRO ADVANCING ALONG EDUCATIONAL LINES SAYS BISHOP DERRICK

Here to Attend A. M. E. Conference, He Says His Race Gets Fairer Treatment Under British Flag Than Any Where Else—The Drawing of the Color Line—Hopes for New Church in St. John.

Rev. W. B. Derrick, Bishop of Ohio, and supervisor of the third district of the negro missionary field in America, who is here to attend the A. M. E. conference, which began this morning, includes in his district, besides this province, Nova Scotia, Bermuda, Ohio, Pittsburg and West Virginia.

A Times reporter called on the Bishop last evening and found him an interesting conversationalist. He celebrated his 60th birthday last month and has devoted the greater part of his life to bettering the condition of his fellow-men, having been actively engaged in missionary work for forty-five years. He is a native of Antigua, West Indies, a loyal British subject, lived for a time in England, but now resides in New York.

"During the past four years," said the bishop, in speaking of the work among the people of his race, "we have collected more than $9,000,000 for the general support of our churches and colleges. Our people have at all times responded to appeals for aid most generously." Speaking of the work done in this city, the bishop praised Rev. Mr. Gibbs for his efficiency, and he hoped to see a new edifice built for the faithful of this district in the near future, but they must first reckon the cost and labor required.

"We have advanced wonderfully in the States along educational lines in the last few years," the bishop continued, "and the future presents a very bright outlook for further prosperity. One of our principal colleges is at Wilberforce, our oldest school, established fifty years ago by the black race in America. Last year there were 400 students in attendance at this school. There are nine other colleges of recognized good standing throughout the southern states and the attendance is steadily increasing. The training of a colored boy in the United States is different from what it is here, so that some of our students are better fitted for the professions than any other race. Here it is different—there are no such restrictions. In entering certain universities, the negro is treated more fairly than any other race. All that is required of him is respectability, and a fair share of intelligence."

The Bishop is a firm believer in co-education, as he claims it benefits both sexes to a greater extent than by the separate system of educating and is especially responsible for making the young man respectable and refined. In his American universities, he said that both sexes attended school in the same buildings, and the results had been very satisfactory.

On Friday evening next Bishop Derrick will deliver an interesting lecture on "The two flags," in which he will deal with conditions of the country and the people both of England and the United States.

NAVY QUESTION, CANADA'S POSITION

Montreal, Aug. 10.—A London cable says: Sir Frederick Borden and Hon. Mr. Brodeur yesterday met Hon. Mr. McKenna, Sir John Fisher and other admiralty officials in order to discuss certain technical points with regard to Canada's defence for assistance in the imperial naval defence.

Canada, it is understood, is of the opinion that the dominion should have a self-supporting navy, which should form an integral part of the imperial navy in time of emergency.

The other dominions are inclined to the view that a direct subsidy for imperial defence should be provided.

The fine technicalities are now being discussed by a committee of experts, and at the close of their deliberations a report will be submitted to the full conference.

A DRINK OF COLD WATER NEARLY CAUSED HIS DEATH

But Father Morrisey's Treatment Saved Francis Cassidy.

Here is his story:—

"At the age of 18, while haying on a very hot day, I got thirsty and took a drink from a spring. I was taken suddenly ill, and consulted a skillful doctor, who treated me for indigestion for four months. But I grew worse, got so weak I could not walk, had no appetite, could not digest anything, and lost 30 pounds. I was almost dead, but as a last hope went to Father Morrisey. He gave me two months' treatment, and from the first day I began to recover. Now I am 21 years old and a very strong, healthy man. Only for the Rev. Father Morrisey I would have been dead now."

FRANCIS CASSIDY.

"Thousands of people have used Father Morrisey's 'No. 1' Tablets for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sick or Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Belching of Wind, and other Stomach Troubles, with most satisfactory results."

One 'No. 1' Tablet will digest 1 1/2 pounds of food. Get at your dealer's, or from Father Morrisey Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B. 47

BREAKS NECK WITH CHAIN

New York, Aug. 10.—After snapping a heavy steel chain in order to make a noose with which to hang himself, James A. Ahern, a trachman of No. 110 Washington avenue, Laurel Hill, Queens, who was arrested after the body of his wife had been found lashed to death with a meat cleaver committed suicide in his cell in Queens County Court House, at Hunter's Point.

A special watch had been kept over Ahern. Every article with which it seemed possible he might be able to harm himself was removed from the cell. There were left only his bed, with a blanket, a chain attached to the wall, and a small washstand. Even superfluous bedding was removed, and he had only one thin blanket.

That he broke the chain of his bed at a moment when he was not being directly observed is considered a remarkable evidence of strength, even for a man of Ahern's gigantic stature. The chain was broken of short without being pulled or wrenched in any way. The prisoner fastened it around his neck and hid his cell room, where Harry Evans, a keeper, was replaced by Officer. The two keepers went aside for a moment to discuss something out of hearing of some prisoners. Ahern mounted the washstand, attached the hook at one end of the chain from the stand to the wall, and on the chain with his full weight. The sound of the fall summoned the two keepers, who took him down and carried him into the corridor. Dr. Halliman, of St. John's Hospital, said Ahern's neck had been broken by the fall and that he had died instantly.

TRADE OUTLOOK IS VERY BRIGHT

(Montreal Witness.)

The financial prosperity of the Dominion is reflected in the various markets, and especially in the bank clearings, and indications point to a profitable season in all lines of commercial and industrial activity. Looking over the correspondence to be found in the bank clearings for July, issued early this week, which show the enormous amount of $45,000,000, and a decided increase over the corresponding months in 1908 and 1907. The increase over last year is given at $45,000,000, and over the previous year at $50,000,000 for July, 1907. Bankers say that they will be able easily to finance crop loans, and that the bank clearings are unusually large. Conservative estimates make the total yield of over 125,000,000 bushels, with correspondingly large average of oats, barley, peas and other cereals. Our leading lumber industries are having a good season, as all the mills throughout the country are running without making any serious demands upon their reserves. This is no doubt true, but it is only reasonable to expect that the movement of reserves and slight decrease of rates during that period. From the western provinces crop reports continue to give the highest hopes for another profitable season to our farming community. YOUNG WOMEN CLING TO BOAT THROUGH STORM

Almost a Tragedy in Kennebecasis Last Evening—Rescue by F. A. Dykeman's Motor Boat.

Drifting down the Kennebecasis, this side of Rothesay, clinging to their overturned boat, and in imminent danger of death by drowning, two young ladies, aged 17 and 18, were rescued by F. A. Dykeman's motor boat.

Miss Marion Millidge, daughter of Louis D. Millidge of this city, and Miss Gladys Brydone-Jack, daughter of Dr. Brydone-Jack of Vancouver, British Columbia, and they were rescued by F. A. Dykeman, Frank Harrison and Guy Tapley, in Mr. Dykeman's motor boat.

The young ladies, who with others are summering on an island in the Kennebecasis, were in a sail boat and were blown eastward by a heavy sea.

Miss Brydone-Jack was caught under the sail when the boat went over, but was rescued by Miss Millidge, who held her onto the overturned boat, and got Miss Brydone-Jack on board, and then Miss Millidge swam to them. She seemed none the worse for her experience, but Miss Brydone-Jack was very much shaken up, and was attended by Dr. McIntosh, at Mr. Dykeman's residence.

People on shore saw them but no small boat could live in the terrific squall. A telephone message to Renfrew brought Mr. Dykeman, with Messrs Harrison and Tapley, to the scene, but even the large motor boat had trouble, her tender being smashed. However, they reached the overturned boat, and rescued the two young ladies.

PROHIBITION TO BE MADE A POLITICAL ISSUE

Good Templars at Fredericton Censure Hazen Government, and Plan Strong Stand in Political Contests of Future.

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 11—(Special)—The New Brunswick Grand Lodge, I. O. G. T., met in annual session here last evening. Grand Chief Templar J. Jackson of Moncton presided. Grand secretary L. R. Hetherington reported ninety-nine lodges, ten organized during the year, eight reorganized, and twelve charters revoked. The membership was given as 2,922. A decrease of 111.

Michael Kelly, G. E. S., reported that he had advised 240 and collected $225. R. F. Davis, grand auditor, reported receipts $1,012.98, a balance of $22.25.

In his annual address, Supt. Jackson recommended that the propagation committee be strengthened and an organizer employed. Referring to prohibition, he said "a large delegation from New Brunswick Prohibition Federation headed by J. Willard Smith, waited on Premier Hazen and his government and demanded that a prohibitory law for New Brunswick be placed on statute books of province without further delay. The government refused to meet our demands, but promised several changes in existing license law. For furtherance of this and other objects we recommend appointing a committee consisting of the grand chief, grand secretary, grand electoral superintendent and three others to be chosen by the grand lodge. We also strongly affirm our belief in enfranchisement of women not only as a matter of justice but as one of the surest and speediest means of obtaining prohibition. We further recommend the adoption of suggestions made on temperance legislation by the grand chief templar in his reports."

SAY LIQUOR LAW IN MAINE IS NOW WELL ENFORCED

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 10—That the temperance laws in Maine are never better enforced than they are at the present time was the opinion of a conference which was specially held today to consider the liquor law in Maine. Mrs. Stevens presided.

It was agreed that while there may be a few instances of law breaking, the enforcement authorities are doing their utmost to prevent illegal traffic. Confidence was expressed in Governor Ferris' efforts to suppress such sales.

Prof. John A. Nicholls, of Boston, stated that he believed Massachusetts to be the most advanced in prohibition there ever before.

KILLS HIMSELF WITH HAMMER

St. Thomas, Ont., Aug. 11—(Special)—A remarkable case of suicide is reported from Sparta, ten miles from here, Earl Gillette, aged twenty-three years, son of Orlando Gillette, a farmer, securing a quantity of Paris green, went to his barn and swallowed dose, but evidently fearing that this would not carry out his desires, he procured a hammer and with it inflicted injuries on his head to such extent that he was rendered unconscious. When discovered he was apparently lifeless, but he was revived and taken to hospital, where he has been temporarily insane.

Toronto, Aug. 11—(Special)—A successful flight was made last night by an airplane which has been constructed and quartered at the house of F. B. Fetherstonhaugh, on Lake Shore road, Mimico. Great secrecy has been kept in regard to this airplane, which has been in process of construction for a long while. The owner

$1 a Cake Could Buy No Better Soap

If you were to offer us $1 for a single cake of soap, we could make no better than our Infants' Delight.

For we have put our very best into this cake. It is so pure and clean that we might pay to go to the gardens of France for pure vegetable oil. We bring coconut oil more than 12,000 miles from the island of Ceylon. Then we mix these oils and boil them doubly long.

After this we send them through our own special milling process—one that we have perfected only in our 43 years of experience.

From here they fall like flakes of snow into huge bins and are then crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture.

Then they pass through granite rollers and come out in miles of silky ribbons, after which they are dried eight times. The result is the most perfect and delightful soap.

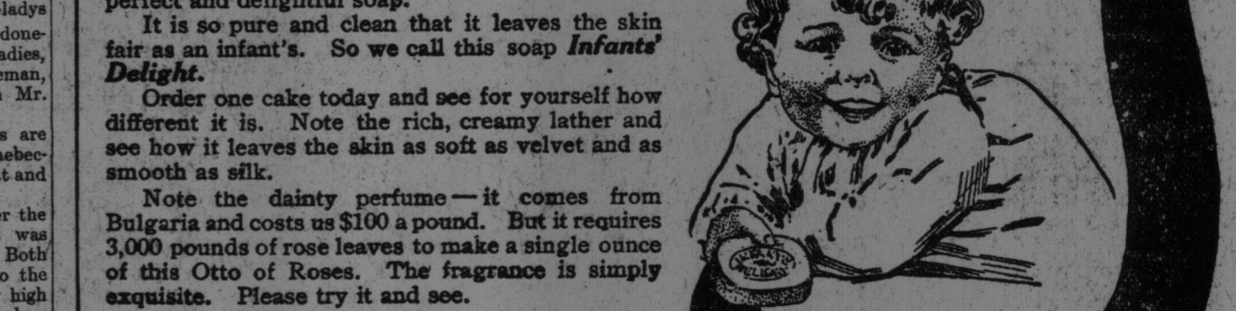

It is so pure and clean that it leaves the skin fair as an infant's. So we call this soap Infants' Delight.

Order one cake today and see for yourself how different it is. Note the rich, creamy lather and see how it leaves the skin as soft as velvet and as smooth as silk.

Note the dainty perfume—it comes from Bulgaria and costs $100 a pound. But it requires 3,000 pounds of rose leaves to make a single ounce of this Otto of Roses. The fragrance is simply exquisite. Please try it and see.

How to Manicure

File your nails to the desired length. Then soak them in warm water with a thick lather of Infants' Delight. Remove your fingers from the water and push back the cuticle at the base of the nails until the white crescent appears. After this, trim and polish the nails as usual.

MORE ABOUT ROADS

After quoting from the Toronto Mail and Empire, and the Toronto News, on the subject of good roads, we may as well give our readers what the World of the same city has to say. The fact that all the papers are taking up the question is an indication that in Ontario the people want good roads. The World says: 'The question of good roads is as old as civilization. It is therefore all the more to the discredit of twentieth century Canada that her farmers must hump over bad roads that would not have been tolerated by the people of the Roman empire two thousand years ago. To the credit of the press of Canada the newspapers in season and out of season have stood for good roads, and if the highways are better today than 30 years ago it is largely the result of an unrelenting campaign of education in which technical ideas worth while have been imprinted on the public mind. Let a man dare to stand up on a platform today and say, 'I favor bad roads; they're cheap and cost less.' He would be howled down and possibly his sanity questioned. But township councilors do take part in endless discussion on crazy-quit road improvement plans in which they argue that ten dollars is too much to spend on the eighth or ninth concession this year, and thereupon an amendment is made that the object lesson presented by standard methods and modern machinery will soon result in the county roads and concession lines becoming infinitely better than they are today.'

BACK TO THE LAND

The State of Massachusetts is about to take a practical step toward getting the people back to the land. The legislature at its last session enacted a bill providing for a state homestead commission of three persons, and these have just been appointed by Gov. Draper. 'According to the wording of the act, says the Bangor Commercial, the object of the commission is to consider whether it would be expedient for the commonwealth to acquire or open for settlement lands in country districts with the view to aiding honest, industrious and ambitious families of wage earners to remove themselves from congested tenement districts of the various large cities and towns of the commonwealth, to the end that such lands may ultimately pass into the possession of the families settling upon them. The commission is to report statistics, showing the probable expense to the commonwealth of the undertaking, and any plans which it may recommend for adoption, together with any recommendations for legislation which the commission may deem proper. Commenting on the Massachusetts movement, the Commercial adds: 'There are in nearly all eastern states, large tracts of waste, unproductive land, which may be brought under profitable cultivation. That thousands of dwellers in cities seek the opportunity to get back to the soil is equally apparent. That land can be made to support such families in comfort has been shown by many instances, not only in Massachusetts, but in our own state, some of which have been given in the Commercial, notably that of the occupation of a whole district by Finns, in the town of Paris in Oxford county. Some objection has been made to this commission by the undertaking, and because it is claimed that the persons in cities who wish to take up abandoned land, can do so now, without help from a state commission. But if the commission can aid in this work so much the better for the state and for those who go from cities to farms to make homes.'

GERMANY WANTS TRADE

Dr. G. Strassmann, a member of the German Reichstag, has organized in Berlin, Germany, the German-Canadian Economic Association, the object of which is to promote better trade relations between Canada and Germany. The association has extended an invitation to all Canadians who visit Berlin to call at the headquarters. There has been a perceptible falling off in German trade since the preferential tariff arrangement with Great Britain and the imposition of a surtax as a consequence by Germany and Canada on imports to both countries. This has been especially felt in the sugar market and novelties trade, and the Germans realizing that Canada can get along without her wares will make an effort at conciliation, with the object of better relations between the two countries.

MAGISTRATE KAY INQUIRY

Moncton, N. B., Aug. 10--The Magistrate Kay inquiry is creating considerable interest.

At the afternoon sitting of the commission the witnesses called were Nelson L. Rand, master mechanic I. C. R.; City Clerk Magee (recalled), J. C. Sherrin, R. W. Hewson, A. N. Charters, G. L. Harris, barristers, and County Secretary Geneser A. Taylor.

The main evidence offered was to show the conduct of the magistrate in court and to show that moneys received by Kay from the county in connection with criminal prosecutions had not been accounted for to the city treasurer.

Mr. Rand told of his case of assault before Magistrate Kay in which the accused was George Skeffington, ex-l. C. R. detective. He said the magistrate fined Skeffington $20, but in giving the decision turned on him (Rand) and abused him. He considered the magistrate attacked him unfairly without cause and that he directed him in the eyes of the public, when the assault was most unprovoked. He admitted Skeffington had sworn that he (Rand) had applied an improper term, provoking the assault. He felt strongly against the magistrate and came to court to express his feelings.

County Secretary Taylor produced checks issued in favor of James Kay as police magistrate of Moncton in connection with criminal prosecutions.

City Clerk Magee gave evidence to the effect that with the exception of two checks received by Kay from the county no returns of this money had been made to him and no account given of it, so far as he knew.

J. C. Sherrin related incidents in the police court in which he and the magistrate and others had altercations in trying cases. On some occasions the magistrate threatened to lock him up.

H. W. Hewson said he had always got along all right with the magistrate, but was not much before the court. Personally Mr. Kay had treated him fairly. He described the altercation between the magistrate and the police clerk which he heard from the street and went into court to see what the argument was about.

A. N. Charters also gave his version of the trouble between the magistrate and the police clerk having overheard noise and going in to see what the trouble was. He found the magistrate and clerk in a heated discussion and withdrew to prevent being mixed up in it. He had heard the magistrate reprimand persons engaged in cases.

G. L. Harris was examined in reference to the Black theft case and the Mrs. Wallace Scott case, two cases which ran almost concurrently. He did not think he was treated fairly by the magistrate in these or other cases in which he appeared for clients. For three or four years he had refrained from attending the police court in consequence of treatment received from the magistrate.

Being cross-examined by Mr. Russell as to what he meant in the memorial by stating that Magistrate Kay was incompetent and unfair and that justice was prevented in Moncton, Mr. Harris said he considered Kay incompetent to weigh evidence fairly

SHERIFF TOMPKINS TELLS STORY OF CARLETON MURDER

Woodstock, N.B., Aug. 10--Late tonight there was no word of the capture of the murderer of Nicholas Laguy.

Sheriff Tompkins, who has been in the country looking for the murderer since Monday morning, returned home tonight. He furnished the following information to the reporters:

'Constable Green, of Victoria county, Deputy Sheriff Armstrong and myself with a posse of men have searched all the woods around Beechwood. We have been unsuccessful in our search. We have brought down with us and placed in jail a witness to the shooting.

'Nobody has heard anything of the alleged murderer or seen him. Louis Digriard, the witness, says he cannot remember much about it. Sheriff Armstrong is still there. Green has gone home from Woodstock. I will go up tomorrow.

The newspapers are astray about the shooting. The men were gathered in the small dining room of Robert Wallace's house at Beechwood. His wife was Miss Demerchant.

'The shooting took place at 9.30 on Sunday evening, instead of 7 o'clock. McNally and Kearney, who were not made to arrest the man who did the shooting. They said it was not known until after midnight that a man was shot, as nearly everybody in the place was drunk, and the murderer had over three

MARKSMEN DO GOOD WORK IN THE BIG STORM

Yesterday Afternoon's Shooting at P. R. A. Meet in Sussex - Donville Match and the Prince of Wales Competition

Sussex, N. B., Aug. 10.-A pouring rain greeted the P. R. A. marksmen here this afternoon, but in spite of that and a varying wind from the north, which increased toward the end of the afternoon, good scores were made. It is said, then, were made in the same match last year.
Just before dinner shooting was begun in the match for the Donville cup at 500 yards, and they resumed shooting after dinner in a rain, which increased to a heavy downpour by the time shooting in this match for the 600 yard range started. The storm continued to increase all the afternoon and at times on account of the downpour the marksmen were unable to see the targets at all and a number of misses were recorded.
By the time that the Donville match was finished and the Prince of Wales match was begun the men, being almost unprotected except by their overcoats, had become soaking wet by the driving rain.
On account of the weather the second stage of the Prince of Wales match, the 200 yard range, was postponed until to-morrow morning.
The match for the Donville cup resulted in a tie between Captain Forbes, of the 7th Regiment, and Lieutenant Chandler of the 74th Regiment, each of the marksmen got sixty-seven points on the two ranges.
On the 500 yard range Lieutenant Chandler got thirty-three points with five bulls and two inners, while his opponent went one better with six bulls and one inner. On the 600 yard range Lieutenant Chandler climbed up, on getting thirty-four with six bulls and one inner, while Captain Forbes duplicated Chandler's performance on the 500 range, getting thirty-three.
Tomorrow in addition to the 200 yard range of the Prince of Wales match the Association and the McLean match will be shot off.
Yesterday morning Lieutenant S. W. Smith, of the 6th Regiment, in an efficiency test of the new long barrelled "Mark three" Ross rifle, in ten shots, made the possible, getting a magpie, an inner and eight successive bull's eyes. This is the same rifle that was used by the Canadian team at Bisley.
The following is the score of the Donville match on the 500 and 600 yard ranges:

TAFT AND SPEAKER CANNON WERE AT WAR OVER TARIFF

Speaker Tries Hold Up on President But Fails-Partially Revenged By Reducing Appropriation for Tariff Commission-The Sutton Case.

Joseph Cannon at his desk

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.-The tariff bill is finally passed, congress has adjourned, the president is packing his goods and chattels preparatory to going to his summer home at Beverly, (Mass.) and the few members of the cabinet who have not already left Washington are preparing to do so at the earliest opportunity. Within 48 hours a member of congress will be as rare in Washington as "a hen with eyes-tooth," to borrow one of Speaker Cannon's bucolic similes.
The annual summer exodus of official Washington leaves the national capital, with little news of importance. Of course to all intents and purposes the capital will be transferred to Beverly where the president will remain until he starts upon his long tour of the country on September 15. The president and the senate leaders are rejoiced that their task of revising the tariff is accomplished. It has been attended with so much turmoil and anxiety that there is a disposition to give thanks that it is over regardless of the fact that the Payne tariff bill falls far short of the hopes and expectations of President Taft or, for that matter, of the Republican national platform.
In the eleventh hour of the consideration of the measure it became necessary for the senate leaders to devise a scheme for "lowering the duties on leather goods still further than they had done in conference. Under the law as finally signed the measure provides for a duty of 10 per cent on all leather shoes, of 20 per cent on all harness and on all saddlery. As it passed the house these duties applied only to shoes, harness, saddlery, etc., made from the hides of cattle, but when the measure, as these western members who are known as "range senators" got off the reservation and threatened such dire things as the repeal of the tariff on leather goods to insure the adoption of the report.

After passing the tariff bill a house of the president one more slap, as the result of the personal animosity of Speaker Cannon, Mr. Cannon told the president that unless the executive would promise to appoint former representative James Watson of Indiana, who ran for governor last fall and was defeated, a member of the commission, he (the speaker) would defect the entire provision of the tariff bill. The president refused to make any promise, maintaining that the appointive power belonged to him and that Mr. Cannon had no right to attempt to drive such a bargain. The speaker in turn attempted to kill the provision for a tariff commission but was prevented by the senate conference who stood by the president. However, the appropriation bill providing $100,000 for the pay and expenses of the commission went to conference, the speaker sought first to have the provision stricken out and, failing that, secured its reduction to $75,000.

The fact is that most of the Republicans are hostile to a tariff commission. They are afraid to have the facts ascertained even by a Republican president, and they are especially opposed to having them made public. They realize, no doubt, that the publication of the facts will prove an almost fatal blow to the protective system, and, moreover, they know that with a commission to ascertain and make public the facts there will be no opportunity for that trading of duties for political and politico-financial support which has done so much to perpetuate the Republican majorities in the two houses of congress.
There has been no feature of the tariff congress which so effectively demonstrated to the thoughtful observer the holiness of most of the claims for the protective policy as the opposition with which President Taft's efforts to secure a commission which would be competent to procure the facts has been met. Nothing could account for this persistent opposition except the fear of the Republicans in congress to have the facts known.

The Sutton Case
The evil results of President Roosevelt's action in waiving the sentence of dismissal pronounced against certain West Point cadets is made manifest in the recent hazing of Cadet Sutton and the events which followed it.
The cadets who were in the military academy and the officers in the war department urged Mr. Roosevelt not to exercise executive clemency at the time, but he thought the hazing of which the cadets had been found guilty amounted to little more than boyish pranks and that dismissal was too severe a punishment. The recent hazing of young Sutton is held by the officers to be the direct result of that clemency, they could exert sufficient political influence, they could disregard the law and the regulations with impunity.

KING EDWARD IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT
His Car Knocks Down Laborer - His Majesty's Solicitude for Injured Man.
London Standard, July 26.-King Edward has shown the utmost solicitude in regard to the condition of a laborer named Harwick, living at Chelsea, who was knocked down by His Majesty's motor car on Wednesday last. The king had been, with Colonel Streatfield, in attendance, to dine with Consuelo Duchess of Manchester at Kingston, and it was on his way back to Buckingham Palace that the mishap occurred.
His Majesty, who is driven rapidly in the open country, is particularly careful in London and when passing through towns and villages. The car was going at a moderate pace along King's road, Chelsea, and was on its near side. Harwick suddenly stepped from the path in front of the motor, and, as it appeared to the driver of the car, the wind caught him and rendered him unsteady. The motor horn was sounded and the brakes were instantly applied, but the vehicle could not be stopped in time to prevent an accident.
The near wing of the splash-board struck Harwick and threw him to the ground. The car was pulled up practically within its own length, and Colonel Streatfield, with the engineer who always rides beside the driver, alighted to inquire as to the extent of the man's injuries. He was found to be partially unconscious, and was conveyed to the neighboring police station, where an examination showed that he was suffering from severe contusions on his chest. He was conveyed to his home in Milan street.

GIRL CASHIER TRIES TO SAVE MONEY, IS BURNED TO DEATH

Toronto, Aug. 10.-Hurlan's Point, Toronto, a pleasant resort across the bay, was practically wiped out by fire this afternoon. The loss will be from $125,000 to $150,000. One girl, Clara Andrews, lost her life in the flames.
The fire started in the Gem theatre from a chemical mixture used to furnish colored lights for the ballet. The fire caught on the dry frame work of the building and spread rapidly to the adjoining structures. The wind from the northwest, veering afterwards to the northeast, drove the flames both ways into the closely grouped wooden structures which filled the park and the toy fighting apparatus and low water pressure on the island were useless against the onrush.
A fire tug and a couple of engines were hurried over from the city, but by the time they arrived the flames had gained such complete control that only the ferry dock, merry-go-round and one or two refreshment pavilions could be saved. Even these were scorched.
Miss Andrews, the girl who lost her life, was cashier at the "Figure Eight." She was confined in a cage with a wire front and top and when the flames cut off escape behind, a policeman tore the front of the cage to give her a chance to get out. The girl, instead of coming out at once, made an effort to save her cash, the flames closed round her, and the heat drove would-be rescuers back and nothing more was seen of the young woman until the charred remains were recovered when the fire was at last extinguished.
Two other girls had their hair singed but escaped with their lives.
Hurlan's Point, besides being the scene of numerous amusement devices which cluster round the summer park, was the home of the Toronto base ball club and Tecumseh lacrosse team. The great grand stand and bleachers which surrounded the grounds of these two organizations, went down in flames as did also the hotel Hurlan, which stood to the west side of the park. The owners of the buildings were the Toronto Ferry Co. and Ingersoll Construction Co. The loss is largely, though not entirely, covered by insurance.

LOGICAL RATHER THAN MATHEMATICAL
In one of Boston's primary schools the other day the head master of the district presented a problem for the scholars to solve. The problem was: "I had eight potatoes how could I divide them among nine boys?"
One bright looking youngster raised his hand. "Well," said the master, "I promptly replied the young mathematician-Philadelphia Inquirer.

New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 9.-The text of the council of New Bedford tonight voted to recommend to its various unions that the cotton manufacturers of the city be requested to advance wages 10 per cent. TROUBLE IN ST. MARTINS

Promises, like pie crust, are easily broken and the good people of St. Martins are beginning to realize now that the pre-election promises of the Hazen government are especially liable to be cracked.

Just before the by-election in St. John county the army of Hazen satellites called in to endeavor to turn the tide of opinion in favor of J. P. Mosher invaded St. Martins and made large capital of the election.

The recorder's report gave detailed statistics of the temple and sections. The grand treasurer's report was particularly gratifying. It showed the order to be in excellent financial condition.

Lughli in action is not unlike Charlie Kilpatrick, when the latter was in his prime, but the Italian surely will have to go faster than ever to get nearer Charlie's world record figures for the half mile at 1:33.25.

STICK TO IT Until Coffee Hits You Hard.

It is about as well to advise people to stick to coffee until they get hit hard enough, so that they will never forget their experience, although it is rather unpleasant to have to look back to a half dozen years of invalidism, money and opportunity thrown away, which is really the terrible price paid for the weakest kind of a "mess of pottage."

A woman writes and her letter is condensed to give the facts in a short space: "I was a coffee addict and stuck to it like a toper to his 'cups,' notwithstanding I had headaches every day, and frequently severe attacks of sick headaches, and this was well enough until the coffee effect wore off, then I would have sick spells.

"My digestion was ruined, severe attacks of rheumatism began to appear, and ultimately the whole nervous system began to break down and I was fast becoming a wreck.

"After a time I was induced to quit coffee and take up Postum. This was half a year ago. The result has been most satisfactory.

"The rheumatism is gone entirely, blood is pure, nerves practically well and steady, digestion almost perfect, never have any more sick headaches and am gaining steadily in weight and strength."

A DISORDERED STOMACH MEANS BAD BLOOD

Nine times in ten, stomach derangements are responsible for sallow complexion, dull eyes, thin body and colorless cheeks.

It is the stomach that supplies nourishing blood to the muscles, the nerves, and skin. If the stomach is healthy, plenty of nutritious matter will be absorbed by the blood. If it is not healthy, the food will ferment and, undigested, will pass along through the bowels, furnishing so little nutritious matter that the blood becomes impoverished, and the glow of health vanishes.

If you suffer from nervousness, sick headache, belching of gas, sour taste in the mouth, heaviness after eating, heart burn, foul breath, or any other miserable stomach disturbance, get rid of it now by using Mi-o-na, the mighty cure for indigestion, and the sooner you get it the quicker you will be healthier and happier.

It will relieve any distressed stomach condition almost immediately. It will make eating a joy. You can eat what you want without fear of distress.

Read these sincere words: "My food did not digest, but fermented, making gas, which pressed against my heart, and on many occasions I expected to die. I doctored and used remedies without success or relief, until, using Mi-o-na, I was cured."—Mrs. Nina M. Henderson, 283 Powers street, Benton Harbor, Mich.

Mi-o-na is sold by druggists in all towns and in St. John by Chas. R. Wasson, 100 King street, for 50 cents a large box, and Mr. Wasson thinks enough of it to guarantee it to cure indigestion, sea or car sickness, vomiting of pregnancy, and all stomach distress or money back. GOLDEN WEDDING

Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Irvine at Millidgeville Celebration.

Millidgeville was the scene of a very happy event last evening when a number of the relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Irvine, of that place, called to celebrate the golden anniversary of their wedding. The happy couple were married in this city on August 10, 1890, and their children and grandchildren did not forget the anniversary of the day. About forty people were present, and spent a most enjoyable evening in games, music, etc. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Irvine's four sons, one daughter and twelve grandchildren. The sons are Dr. W. H. Irvine, Dr. W. J. Irvine, of Fredericton, Arthur G. of St. Mary's, and Charles, at home. The daughter is Mrs. Chas. W. Higgins, of North End.

During the evening the nuptial knot was retied by Stanley Irvine in a humorous manner, and before the gathering dispersed Geo. Jackson, in a neat speech, congratulated the bride and groom of half a century on their wedded life, and presented to each of them a purse of gold. Mr. and Mrs. Irvine replied fittingly, thanking those present for remembering them so kindly. They were the recipients of hearty congratulations today from their many friends, who wish them all the happiness possible in this life.

FELL OVERBOARD AT MILLIDGEVILLE

Geo. Cromwell, of Indiantown, took an involuntary bath last evening owing to the heavy windstorm. He was at his summer house at Millidgeville, and while the storm was raging furiously, went down to the water's edge to the floats alongside of which his two boats--a motor and tender--were moored. Fearing they would be damaged by coming in contact with the floats, he attempted to shift them, and managed to get the power craft safely moored, but in bringing the row boat around, he lost his balance and fell into the water. Fortunately it is not very deep here, so that he was able to get out without much difficulty.

APPEAL MORE LIQUOR CASES

Considerable interest is being manifested in the outcome of several appeals to be made from the decision of Judge Ritchie in the case of Timothy Driscoll, fined for selling beer in prohibited hours, and already been taken up, but is held pending a decision from the attorney general as to whether or not the police magistrate should send up the evidence to the county court judge as applied for by J. A. Barry, Driscoll's solicitor. It is understood that the case of George Cusick, fined for selling liquor to a drunk man, will also be appealed on application having been made for a copy of the evidence and papers of appeal now being made out by W. B. Wallace, K. C. An appeal will also be taken, it is stated, in the case of James Flood, fined for selling liquor to a drunken man, Dr. A. W. MacRae acting for Flood, which he is appealing on behalf of Flood. Dr. MacRae disposes of the matter now by stating that the case has not come up yet and adding that the information against Flood was laid by the police and not by the inspector. It is an interesting condition of affairs, however it works out.

RAINFALL A TORRENT

Three-tenths of an inch Came Down in Less Than Twenty Minutes Last Evening.

The downpour of rain in the storm last evening was exceptionally heavy. Three-tenths of an inch fell in nineteen minutes between 6.16 and 6.35 p. m. The total rainfall here was nearly an inch and a quarter.

In Charlottetown it was two and eight-tenths inches. Sydney had a little more than an inch, Charlottetown about seven-tenths and Halifax just seven tenths. The greatest wind velocity here was 25 miles, from north east. This was between 10 and 11 o'clock last night.

During the evening the yacht Mowgli, moored at Millidgeville, broke away from her anchorage and ran ashore with such violence that her mast and jibboom went by the board. A large number of logs in the Topley booms were washed over and it was feared that they might be carried out to sea.

At Renforth the yacht Defender, owned by H. Morton went ashore and was pounded to pieces on the rocks and at dark the boat, owned by C. D. Fox, dragged her anchor a quarter of a mile and was then in front of where E. A. Dylman's motor boat was moored after the rescue of the two young ladies in the Kennebecasis.

AT ST. PETER'S

The Priests Who Attended and Where They Have Gone or are Going.

Almost all the guests who have been attending the services of the silver jubilee of St. Peter's church, have now left for their respective churches. Those who are still in the city will probably leave in the course of the week.

The visiting priests who are still in town are--Rev. P. Leonard, Rev. J. Barry and Rev. A. W. MacRae, French and Spanish in St. Mary's College, northeast Pennsylvania; Father Barry comes from Brooklyn, where he is stationed in the church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, and Father Wynn is stationed in the Mission church, Boston. The two first named are both young men and were ordained only two years ago in St. Peter's church here. Father Barry is a native of Chatham, N. B.

Rev. H. Usher left last week for St. Mary's church, Annapolis, Maryland; Rev. E. Schaefer left yesterday for Nova Scotia to spend some time before returning to New York. Rev. F. Bott went to Montreal on Monday to remain a few days before resuming charge of St. Alphonsus' church, Baltimore. Rev. J. Woods, who was stationed at St. Peter's about six years ago, is now in Quebec in St. Patrick's church, and returned there last week. Rev. C. McCormick and Rev. T. Mullaney are at present in the Chatham diocese conducting a series of missions. They are both stationed in the Mission church, Boston. Father McCormick, who was ordained in St. Peter's a few years ago, belongs here and was the first to become a Redemptorist from this city.

Brother Victor, who was also present at the celebrations, is a son of Daniel Harrington, Adelaide street. He is at present in Toronto in St. Patrick's church there.

THEFT OF $71

Murray Street House Entered in Daylight and Cash Taken From Two Places.

In broad daylight in the latter part of last week a house in Murray street occupied by James Clarke was entered and $71 taken. There was nobody in the house at the time. Mrs. Clarke had gone out and when she returned she missed the money which she kept in two places--about $40 in a glass on a shelf in the pantry and $31 in a dresser. Both sums were gone when she returned.

On leaving the house Mrs. Clarke left the door-key under a mat in the hall and the thief must have known of this as the door had not been broken open and, as far as could be seen, no windows forced. Suspicions are entertained as to the identity of the thief but so far no arrest has been made.
