CANADA'S OPPORTUNITY; OUR GREAT DEVELOPMENT

Mr. C. C. Ballantyne, President of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association Delivers Patriotic and Interesting Address at the Winnipeg Meeting—Imperial Preference—An Equalizing Tariff—Value of Foreign Trade.

(Special to the Sun.) WINNIPEG, Sept. 17.—The thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association met in Winnipeg tonight.

NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT. Mr. Ballantyne referred to the great national development and quoted trade figures concerning Canada's wonderful prosperity—figures which have already been given from time to time in the trade returns from the department at Ottawa.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR CANADIANS AT HOME. Dealing with the opportunities for Canadians at home, he said:

"The growth of this country is so rapid that we must guard against the possibility of becoming engrossed with the enormous work of today, without placing a proper estimate upon the future.

Agriculture is the corner-stone of Canadian industry. All our provinces are more or less agricultural. With the development of our farms, we have built railways, established banks, and opened trading houses, all of which are most necessary.

After a few years we discovered that we were lacking in big cities, in consuming centres; we discovered that our sons and daughters born on the farm were not staying on the farm.

Today the situation is completely changed. We have begun to study our own resources. What do we find? Not only that nature had fitted us to a great agricultural nation, but that our mines, our forests, our streams and our waterfalls destined us to stand in the front rank of the manufacturing countries of the world.

THE VALUE OF FOREIGN TRADE. Mr. Ballantyne also dealt at considerable length and with great clearness with the value of foreign trade.

PROTECTION FOR FARMERS. "The value of home manufactures to our farmers," said Mr. Ballantyne, "depends to a considerable extent upon the measure of protection which they receive for their own products."

IMPERIAL PREFERENCE. Taking up the subject of Imperial Preference, Mr. Ballantyne said: "When a number of members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association visited the United Kingdom last year the leaders of the party took pains to make our position regarding the question of a preferential tariff clear to the British people."

year 1904, while Canadians per head of population bought from the United States over $2.15 worth of the same kind of farm products.

"There is no reason for this extraordinary difference, other than the fact that the United States has a high protective tariff, while Canada has a low one.

"Canadians bought from the United States in the fiscal year 1904, 540 times as much bacon, 15 times as much butter, 5 times as much cheese, and over 80 times as many eggs as we sold to them—this notwithstanding the fact that they have a consuming market for our produce as large as ours.

Mr. Ballantyne went on to show that our produce is shut out of the American market on account of a duty of 25 cents per bushel. Why do not our Canadian farmers, he asked, urge our government to place a duty on flour grown in Canada to give them the home market, which they are entitled to.

"It seems to me," said Mr. Ballantyne, "that it is a growing tendency of several of the provinces—Quebec, Dominion, to pass laws which in their practical effect discriminate against the business establishments in other parts of the country."

The true preferential policy has been applied by two little stamps, one of which bears the words, "Keep your money in circulation by buying goods made in Canada," while the other says, "When you can't get what you want at home buy within the British Empire."

AN EQUALIZING TARIFF. "We are sometimes asked what we mean when we say Canadian manufacturers do not demand a prohibitive tariff against the United Kingdom, but that we do demand a prohibitive tariff against the United States."

The Oregon struck at low tide and water soon filled the engine room to the second grating.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Having his first wife served "en casserole" at a Thanksgiving Day banquet, being himself captured by neighbors of cannibalistic tendencies, and finally being rescued just before that part of the men in which he was playing the part of a rooster, was called, are only minor incidents in the exciting life of Ota Banga, an African pigmy, who landed in the Zoo a few days ago.

Even in his wildest and wildest tales of Central and South Africa, Rider Haggard never pictured more sensational or more thrilling scenes than have taken place in the life of this little Bushman. Since the day of his birth he has had no cause to suffer annul, for Ota's life has been one constant round of adventure that includes everything in the thrilling calendar, from being caught by a boa constrictor in an African jungle and having to cut himself free from its folds to swimming across the upper Congo River and being bit on by an alligator when he was hurrying to find a witch doctor to give him charms to save the life of his wife, who had been bitten by a poisonous snake.

Banga is the son of the head chief of one of the Bahchili tribes of dwarf Bushmen, whose home is in unexplored regions neighboring the junction of the Kasai and the Sankmir Rivers, about one hundred miles above the confluence of the latter river into the Upper Congo. In 1904, while making a journey up the Kosi River, Samuel P. Verrier, the American explorer and scientist, found himself one night within two miles of a temporary village of cannibalistic Congo savages. His couriers took presents of beads and bright colored calicoes to the head men of the tribe, and upon their return carried a long invitation from the savage chief inviting Mr. Verrier to come over to the village the next day and partake of a feast which was already in course of preparation, the main feature of the menu being a fat bushman "on toast."

Mr. Verrier asked to see this important part of the morrow's bill of fare and was escorted to the rear of the chief's kraal where Ota Banga was held captive. He on the instant took a great liking to the brave little bushman and offered the chief a handsome ransom for his captive. The light colored beads and liberal quantity of myriad colored calicoes offered was a temptation greater than the chief could withstand and when the explorer went back to his camp on the river he had the erstwhile "roast" in tow. Together Verrier and the little chap penetrated into the deepest parts of the African jungle, the scientist finding the new acquisition to his retinue faithful and honest and knowing absolutely no fear. Ota is now quartered at the Bronx Zoological Park and will be on exhibition for the next few weeks. He is stopping in the private house and is having the time of his life in the park.

From a physical standpoint, a perfect specimen of African pigmy, he stands an inch or two under five feet, but perfectly proportioned. His muscles stand out and are firm as those of a tiger. He has a head, as is to be seen in the accompanying photographs, which is large and has made friends with all the keepers of the "Zoo."

Banga knows about one hundred English words, but it is not the intention of Mr. Verrier to educate him any more than is absolutely necessary, for there Banga would refuse to go back with him to Africa, and Mr. Verrier expects with his assistance to accomplish his purpose.

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM FRANCE BY AN ABLE WRITER

(By the Marquis de Castellane.) (Copyright, 1906, by Heart News Service.) PARIS, Sept. 14.—It is the numerous Americans who are Catholics have followed at all closely the various phases through which has passed and is still passing the church and state, they will certainly not have failed to notice the little rap over the knuckles which has been given their institutions by the recently issued papal encyclical, "In a state," says this document, "and separated itself from the church, and left her the liberty which is common to all, and the right to dispose of her property, it has without doubt, in more than one way, acted unjustly."

Not content with occasionally cursing us, but often dispatching us to another world, our doctors have undertaken, without being asked for a rapprochement between France and Germany. Not only did they attend appendicitis operations in Berlin, and enthusiastically applauded Professor Bergmann, and the no less celebrated Dr. Langenbeck, and other famous followers of Aesculap, but they also sent their wives to deposit wreaths of flowers before the bust of the Empress Frederick, mother of the present Emperor.

Physicians and surgeons, veterinarians and every category of doctor of medicine, suddenly lift themselves above their mission which is to alleviate human suffering, and undertake to persuade France and Germany that they have been created to love each other.

All France is unanimous in the professions of the mediocrity in what does not have and have the that they have to be successful in their own and wiping a clean slate. The cannot be eradicated of a people which suffers from this happens to be the case.

During the recent interview at Friedrichsruh, Edward VII was so bold as to present himself before his imperial nephew, Kaiser William II, with a common stockpile hat on his head. Such unconventionality and indignation of the Berlin protocol, really Edward VII took things too much at his ease.

When the Emperor of Germany had taken care to appear before the camera, the latter monarch had gone to meet him with a simple civilian hat upon his illustrious head.

Each conduct was preposterous, in its utter disregard of etiquette and not to be tolerated. For several days the greatest excitement reigned among the German statesmen. It took all the persuasive powers of Prince von Bismarck, the young German diplomat, to get the Emperor to consent to the matter.

Another trick which makes the water fly out of the pot. Bring in from the market, one with the handle of wood. Hand a couple of friends and tell them that you will quickly dissolve any stick of soap. This is what happens to the water when you see it fly out of the pot.

Will catch up on the water it gives the big heat at the pot. Of course, you are not really burnt, but you feel the heat. What they call a "burn" is only a skin burn. It is not the heat that is so bad, but the pain. The water in your eye, when it is hot, is not really burnt, but you feel the heat. It is not the heat that is so bad, but the pain.

DISASTROUS FIRE AND PANIC AT OTTAWA (Special to the Sun.) OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 14.—One of the most spectacular fires in the history of Ottawa occurred tonight. The Gilmour Hotel, at the corner of Bank and Gilmour streets, was destroyed. The fire started at the top of the elevator shaft, dropped to the bottom and in a few minutes the building was a roaring mass of flames.

ENGLISH MINISTERS EN ROUTE TO WEST MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—A party of some thirty ministers arrived today from England. They are part of the fruits of a visit to the mother country of Rev. Dr. Woodworth, who is now in London. Dr. Woodworth, who is corresponding secretary for missions, with authority over Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, went over to England recently with a view to securing more of the great demands of the West. These thirty are some of those he has secured and they are visiting the general conference on their way out to the field of labor.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 14.—Members of the Railway Association of the New England States, numbering 150 persons, arrived here on the late evening train and put up for the night at the Queen, Barker and Windsor Hall. The party left for St. John on the morning of the 15th.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The manufacture of alcohol from corn cobs and corn stalks at cost of the Department of Agriculture in developing a new industry that the department says is likely to be of large commercial value. Investigations which the department is making at Hopkinton, Ill., has proved that the large quantities of corn cobs which every year become a waste to be converted into alcohol in sufficient quantities to justify the erection of a distilling plant in connection with a corn canning.

GENERAL NEWS

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The Times correspondent writes from Paris, as follows:—The German government has made an ally of the Vatican, and the collaboration of the Order of Jesus has been secured for the purpose of maintaining the political situation in France. According to the Paris correspondent, millions of Catholic subjects are destined to pass under the wing of the Hohenzollerns, and the whole foreign policy of the German Empire under the present sovereignty is a mixture of pan-Germanism and pan-Hohenzollernism. It is impossible to conceive of its development and eventual realization without the help of that section of the Roman Catholic clergy whose revived political activity has of late years worked mainly in different parts of the continent. In Germany nearly entire nations are being organized and attributed to her in Holland and Belgium, the ultramontane in those countries cannot fail to give her valuable assistance, as they should to the cause of the German Empire in America. In South America the Jesuits were the vanguard of civilization itself. Their position there today is still powerful, and if they should serve as the vanguard of pan-Germanism it is quite possible there may yet be plenty of opportunity for the application of the Monroe doctrine. It will thus be seen that the danger is not far from the activity of the German Kaiser and his priestly allies is by no means confined to France. It ought to be a matter for grave reflection in every other country, for it would be difficult to imagine a more powerful instrument of political and economic expansion.

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—Some feeling has been excited in Ottawa University circles by the appearance of a brochure setting forth the alleged need of a university for English-speaking Catholics. The writer complains of the influence of the English-speaking element of both the staff and management has been on the wane, and severely criticizes Rev. W. J. Murphy, the new rector for abolishing the science department in November last. The rector when seen expressing the hope that little attention would be paid to the anonymous publication. He pointed out that 20 years ago there was not one of the English-speaking race in the university, while at present there are twelve.

BUFFALO, Sept. 13.—Dr. Francis E. Fronczak, the prominent young Polish physician, has just returned home here from Fort Pelly, Yukon Territory. Two weeks ago he was called to Buffalo to attend a patient. The patient was Lieut. W. O. Gorski of the Canadian North-west Mounted Police, when the Provincial physician announced that they could do nothing for the lieutenant's mother, who is Madame John Ignatz Eaderewski, wife of the famous pianist, wired for Dr. Fronczak. The Buffalo man treated her for a week. He left Fort Pelly a few days ago with the happy realization that he had succeeded where the military surgeons had failed. Lieut. Gorski was on the road to recovery.

WALKERVILLE, Ontario, Sept. 13.—Luther Massey, of Talladega, Alabama, through an advertisement in a Chicago matrimonial paper, got into correspondence with Miss Lillian Smith of Windsor, Ont. The correspondence resulted in "Miss Smith" becoming engaged to Massey, and preparations being made for the wedding. He was to go to Walkerville, to which place she said she had removed. Lillian advised Massey to send her the money and she would go to Walkerville for a week. He was too gallant, and without informing her started for Walkerville. Lillian, however, cannot be found here in Windsor.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—King Shevach and his suite, dressed in the repentant uniforms made for them in France, have just landed at Frounphen, the capital of Cambodia. Their uniforms excited as much enthusiasm and astonishment in Frounphen as their sampan and jewelled "howlers" did in Marseilles. The King made a long speech to his subjects, in which he told them that the most wonderful of the glories he had experienced in his travels were the lift at the Eiffel Tower and champagne. His man who has taken 100 dozen bottles of the wine home with him.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—If Estelita Nelson had beaten Joe Gans at Goldfield and retained the championship, a bride would have been crowned, defeated, bruised and sore from crown to toe, he has also lost his sweetheart. Miss Blanche Savoy, an actress of Chicago, who came a long way from Michigan's shore to cheer Nelson in his battle with Gans, sat in the front row at the ringside, and throughout the long fight her voice could be heard urging the Dane to win. It was arranged there should be a wedding if Nelson won. Not once during the contest did Miss Savoy flag in her support of the white boy. But when at dusk Gans was declared the winner, she left the ringside without a word of comfort for the Dane, and the next morning she left Goldfield. Another woman at the ringside cheered for the Dane. She was from Los Angeles. Possibly Nelson will not miss the Chicago sweetheart very much. Miss Savoy is the girl whom Nelson defied to head off at Salt Lake, and prevent her from getting to the ringside for the fight. She was determined which she defied the manager, reacting Goldfield the day before the battle.

MONTECAL, Sept. 11.—At a meeting of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce, while discussing preferential trade within the Empire, Davies Bristol said that while having regard to our foreign trade, we ought to give our attention to colonial trade, as it was that trade which could most helpfully be developed. Joseph Walton, M. P., argued that there was no practical basis on which there could be set up a preferential trade with even Canada. E. P. Paine, M. P., replied that the preference given us by Canada had increased our exports thither by over a hundred per cent.

A. J. Hobson argued that we could give Canada no preference without raising the price of our people's food and clothing. He said that he would stoutly resist the admission of goods on any terms which would bring them into real competition with their own. Any such preference would not strengthen the bonds of the Empire. Among the resolutions adopted was one in favor of cheaper postage with Canada, so as to afford British merchants and manufacturers the same trade opportunities as that enjoyed with the United States.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 14.—The romance of Edwin K. Norton, who surprised his fiancée's friends in Yale by marrying Miss Josephine C. Elliott last January, is to end in the divorce court. If proceedings that were formally begun today end in a dissolution of the marriage, the Yale student will be free to marry Miss Elliott in the future. Norton is now in Europe, and has been there for several months by orders of his father, Edwin Norton, of New York. He came here a year ago and entered Sheffield Scientific School. In a dramatic play he played Bixney, a tall, pretty blonde, a girl in a dry goods store, who acted as a cloak model because of her fine physical proportions. She is about two years older than her husband, who is only nineteen.

After a brief engagement Norton and the girl slipped away on January 13 to Europe, and were married by a justice of the peace. The justice agreed to keep the wedding a secret until after Norton should be graduated from Yale, but the statute which requires months of such ceremonies to be made public to town clerks of the home towns of contracting parties forced publicity. Then Norton's father and Carl Conway, his brother-in-law, came here and took him away. Mrs. Norton, Jr., remained at her home, and returned to the store where she sold dry goods. Detectives have kept close watch of her movements, and several dates in Hartford were committed on several dates in Hartford. In the complaint, through her attorney she said today that she had been aware that she was being shadowed. Norton is innocent of any misdeed, but was the victim of a conspiracy. She threatened to sue her father-in-law for alienating her husband's affections.

OTTAWA, Sept. 15.—The speaker of the house of commons has received the official report from the chief justice and Mr. Justice Russell that the election of Hon. Mr. Fielding for Queens-shire has been declared void. The report is accompanied by the minutes of the judges as required by the Controverted Election Act. The speaker will send his warrant to the clerk of the crown in chancery who will at once issue the writ for a new election. It is probable that the date for the election will be fixed for the second week in October.

The farmers from up river have received unusually high prices for produce this summer. Potatoes are selling for $1.40 and $1.60 per barrel. Up to a week ago they brought about $1.20 per barrel, a very high price indeed. Last year they were sold for $1.25. Large quantities of barrels of potatoes were sold on the Elaine yesterday. They were bought by the same party quoted above. Turnips and squash are selling for the same prices as last year. Cucumbers are very plentiful, and selling for one and two cents. Apples, oats and buckwheat are scarce, in fact, it has been many years since these crops up river have been so poor. Mauderville and Sheffield crops have about the best of any on the river. The greatest quantities of cucumbers come from these places. Butter, cheese and eggs are high, and it is not expected that they will get much cheaper for some time to come. Apples and peaches will probably drop a few cents in the course of a week or two.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14.—A despatch from Cardston, Alta., says: There are many who know that polygamy is still practised in this province, and proof of the same has just been unearthed. A Utah Mormon came here with one of his wives, leaving another well provided for in the United States. He came with wife No. 2, and I followed. The child of No. 1 fell sick, and he visited his other household. The police forbade this custom, but agreed to take no action provided he would live with No. 1 only. This he refused to do, and matters were this week referred to Ottawa. Other instances have been ferreted out by the North-West Mounted Police. Several Mormons have left the country in a hurry. The village of Taylorville, Alta., is named after J. I. Taylor, a chief of the Mormon Church in Canada, and an apostle in Utah until recently. He was deposed a short time ago, it being known that he had five wives.

REGINA, Sept. 14.—A sensation caused in the city this afternoon was created by the publishing in the Standard of a story to the effect that Sir Thomas Shaugnessy had communicated to the city his opinion on the ventilation project, to the effect that such a proposition could not be entertained by the Canadian Pacific, which had already ample facilities for doing business in the capital city of Saskatchewan. Asked as to whether the report was correct, the president said it certainly was. His company, he said, possessed all the facilities they require and are at present the only company bringing traffic into Regina. William Whyte, second vice-president, and the directors present spoke to the same effect. This is a matter which the citizens of Regina have very much at heart, and the news of the reversal especially as a notification, was received today from the Railway Commission to the effect that that body has no jurisdiction over the lines.

Reminded that William Shaugnessy, president of the Canadian Northern, had the Regina yards by reason of his purchase of the Prince Albert PILES Dr. Chase's Ointment is certain to cure all kinds of skin diseases, such as eczema, psoriasis, and other eruptions. It is a powerful and reliable remedy, and is sold by all druggists. DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 14.—The most downy day of the week today, consecrated archbishop of Halifax with elaborate ceremonies. Dr. McCarthy is a native of Halifax. The celebration of a pontifical high mass was presided over by the archbishop, who took part with Monsseigners S. R. Carroll; Montreal; Casey, St. John; Cameron, Antigonish; Verreilly, Chatham; and the Rev. Father P. J. Doherty, St. John's. The archbishop, who is now in Halifax, is a native of the Washington University, and Father McGoldrick, of Brooklyn. At the pontifical vesper in the afternoon the sermon was preached by Father Connelly, of the Holy Trinity, a former scholastic of Dr. McCarthy. The clergy of the diocese presented the new archbishop with a golden chalice, and a Roman missal. The evening today of the society of Jesus was opened after a short prayer, with a speech in Latin by Father Werns, the newly appointed general of the society, who summarized the work of the society in its complete fields of religious, moral and educational work. Father Werns ended his address by conveying the apostolic benediction, as he had been charged to do by the Pope.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Archbishop John M. Farley was among the passengers who arrived today on board the steamer "Capebay" from Liverpool. The steamer "Capebay" with over two hundred Catholic clergymen and laymen of New York, met the steamer to the dock, and accompanied it to the quay. The Rev. Dr. Werns was asked about the Pope, and replied: "He is quite well. I saw him three times." Speaking of the French situation, Archbishop Farley said: "Either a government will compromise with the clergy before Dec. 11, or the French clergy will be stripped of all they have. The feeling of the French clergy on the subject may be well illustrated by what Monsignor Leont and others of the clergy said: 'We have written no surrender on our banner. We are ready to be stripped of everything, and if that is done we will begin all over again and evangelize France as the apostles did.'"

Mrs. Farley continued: "You know that a few bad men can make more noise than a whole city. It is all nonsense to suppose that there is no faith in France. The bad element is the laity at the head of the government have encouraged all this confiscation of church property that they might benefit thereby. I will give you an instance: A group of men made 15,000,000 francs by the confiscation of the Convent of the Sacred Heart alone. This confiscation business is simply a game of stealing on the part of the religious men—not even Christians."

THE ANGLICAN

Sir Edward Russell, who is an influential member of the House of Commons, has been complaining, in an interview in The Treasury, that preachers, nowadays use texts as mottoes for electioneering. He said that he had seen a list of the texts used by the candidates for election, and that he was sorry to see that the texts were so trivial and so unchristian. He said that he had seen a list of the texts used by the candidates for election, and that he was sorry to see that the texts were so trivial and so unchristian. Rev. W. L. Watkinson is becoming very popular in the United States, where he has entered upon a full program of work. He is to preach in Plymouth Church, New York, and in many Methodist churches, and he has promised to lecture at several of the Chataqua, summer schools and leading theological seminaries.

A crowded gathering in Windsor Hall church, Glasgow, on Monday night, testified to the popularity of Rev. T. Morcom Taylor, who leaves after three days for his home in Bradford. During the evening Mr. Taylor was presented with an address and a purse of gold, and in reply he expressed his appreciation and thanked the church and the congregation for their kind and cheering him in times of difficulty.

One of the most interesting features of a general conference is the visit of the Rev. Dr. W. L. Watkinson, who is to preach in the city during their visit. The growth of the missionary revenue has been phenomenal. It now reaches $465,000, or adding that of the Women's Missionary Society revenue, have a return of nearly half a million dollars a year for missionary work. This I interpret as a mandate of the people to expand our work not only in the west, but in the foreign field.

THE BAPTISTS

The union of the Free Baptist Conference of Nova Scotia, with the United Baptist church of the Maritime Provinces has just been consummated and of which the Maritime Baptist speaks thus: "The Free Baptist Conference of Nova Scotia which is now merged in the 'United' body, an honorable record. Through nearly three-quarters of a century it has moved steadily forward, maintaining the faith delivered to it, and faithfully laboring for the extension of Christ's Kingdom. The movement towards unity has been hastened; every step has been well considered; and only when the brethren were satisfied that the Lord's work entailed in conjunction with the larger Baptist body did they decide to unite. The decision when made was with characteristic heartiness. And the welcome they received from the united body who had been so long separated, is a union of God there can be no doubt. That His richest blessing may rest upon it, and the united body be greatly increasing prospered in the work committed to it, let us all pray."

The Baptist Christian Endeavor Societies in England have raised $25,000 to put a new missionary ship, "Endeavour" in the place of the worn-out "Peace."

THE CONGREGATIONALISTS

The decade of Congregationalism in South Africa is pressing heavily upon the soul of Rev. J. S. Moffat, who points out that the Congregational church at Bulawayo has been sold for the purposes of a museum, that the Congregational church at Pretoria has been sold to the Dowieites, that the leading Congregational church in Johannesburg is reducing the standard attached to its pastorate, and that the mother church of South Africa: Congregationalism in Cape Town is maintaining only a precarious existence. The issue of the South African Congregationalist which contains Mr. Moffat's melancholy article, announces that Calcutta-Square church, Capetown, has been closed, but that it is to be re-established in the suburbs. These signs of a want of denominational vitality certainly seem to augur ill for the future of South African Congregationalism.

Andover Theological Seminary, the oldest and wealthiest of American theological schools, is losing its prestige, and in the opinion of even friends of the school, has outlived its usefulness. The college has endowment funds amounting to $260,000, and lands and buildings valued at $50,000, but in view of its financial situation only twenty-one students are enrolled. This is the situation of the school. The school has been closed for the last two years, and the trustees have decided to sell the school for the purpose of raising money for the support of the school.

Rev. E. E. Collier, who has been so prominent in the city, is to preach in the city during their visit. The growth of the missionary revenue has been phenomenal. Rev. Dr. Rice, now eighty-four years of age, has lost little of his old time vigor and took an active part in the proceedings of the late conference at Nottingham, and his counsel is always sought for in difficult cases and when he speaks all is hushed and quiet.

ANOTHER FATALITY IN NOVA SCOTIA.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 14.—Charles Farrell, a teamster, died on the fall-way track last night, his body being completely severed from his body by the wheels of a train of cars. There was no eye witness to the affair, and the first knowledge of his death was by a telegram received from his wife's work about 5 o'clock, stating that he was lying on one side of the rail, and the head completely severed at the neck.

The accident occurred just near the cattle pen at Richmond. Captain Constance Spenser was notified and arrived at the scene about 5:30 and took charge of the remains. The lower part of the face was covered with blood and from the condition of the body, Mr. Spenser judged very death had occurred some hours previous, having been caused by a late train coming in last night. The deceased was about 35 years of age and was well known at north end and among teamsters and drivers. He had been driving for Mallin and Co., up Tuesday last, and on that day gave up his position. He resided with his only relative in the city, his brother on North Albert street, and left the house after tea last evening to take a walk. That was the last seen of him alive at the house. About a year ago Farrell's mother and sister died suddenly within a short time of each other and he was very much affected by the double fatality. In fact he showed some signs of aberration of mind and it was thought best to have him treated at the N. S. Hospital. He was quite rational there, however, though he constantly referred to the death of his mother and sister, and was discharged. Some weeks ago he was reported to have made an attempt to cut his throat with a razor and was sufficiently injured to be sent to the hospital.
