

LLOYD GEORGE TELLS THE POLES WHERE THEY FIT

Polish Government Called to Time by the British Premier.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT ON IMPORTANT SPEECH

Some Commend It, While Others Are Sharply Critical of It.

London, May 15.—Efforts on the part of Polish insurgents to create a plebiscite area of Upper Silesia situation similar to which occurred in Fiume during the d'Annunzio regime in that Dalmatian city are sternly opposed by Great Britain.

The attitude of the British Government was made very clear by Premier Lloyd George, speaking in the House of Commons Saturday and it would appear his words, which lacked nothing of firmness, would call for acquiescence from chiefs of Allied powers, setting forth their positions.

The Polish government, whose disavowal of responsibility for the Silesian revolt, was sharply challenged by Mr. Lloyd George, would seem to be placed in position to end a situation which the Premier asserted "brightened" him.

Official expressions, which would indicate sentiment in government circles in Warsaw, were being awaited with keen interest here today. Berlin despatches assert there is going forward an exchange of views relative to cancellation of penalties placed on Germany after the meeting of the supreme Allied Council in March. These included the establishment of a customs zone along the Rhine and the occupation of Ruhr ports along the Rhine.

It is declared Great Britain favors a relaxation of Allied pressures, now that Germany has decided to accept the Allied reparations terms and is preparing to carry them to fulfillment.

The Premier's denunciation of the Polish revolt in Silesia did not receive anything like unanimous support from London newspapers today. Some of the most important journals did not comment upon his address, and while there was some strong expressions of approval, there were also some sharp attacks upon Mr. Lloyd George, who was told among other things, that he himself, and his Allied colleagues, were largely to blame for the situation and that the Polish government was really powerless.

The Daily Express commended the Premier's honesty, courage and statesmanship and insisted Poland must be taught she cannot be allowed to become a disturbing element in Europe.

The Daily News held that Poland was "fatally and irremediably in the wrong," and that the Premier's language was "fairly justified."

Mr. Lloyd George was charged with "bitter partisanship, intense dislike of Poland, pusillanimous fear of Germany and ignorance of European politics" by the Morning Post.

The newspapers described his speech as a "torrent of abuse, invective and hysterical excitement," and argued that if the result of the Silesian plebiscite was to be determined by the vote of individual communities, "facts would show that Kortany was following the treaty and Lloyd George was breaking it."

The Post concluded by expressing the hope that the British public would not allow itself to be rushed into acquiescence in the "French contentment and senseless pro-Germanism."

Use "Tiz" If Feet Ache, Burn, Puff Up

Can't beat 'Tiz' for sore, tired, swollen, calloused feet or corns.

You can be happy-footed in a moment. Use "Tiz" and never suffer from tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, aching feet. "Tiz" is only "Tiz" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "Tiz" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "Tiz" is grand. "Tiz" instantly draws out all the poisonous excretions which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty feet.

TERRIBLE FRENCH WRECKS

Pickpockets Register Vigorous Complaint

Claim the Robbed When Reporting Losses Always Multiply Them Greatly.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT ON IMPORTANT SPEECH

Some Commend It, While Others Are Sharply Critical of It.

Genoa, May 15.—The Chief of Police of this city has received a letter signed "The Trainways Pickpocket Association," complaining that the persons from whom they extract pocketbooks have "the dishonest habit" of invariably declaring to the police a much larger financial loss than they have really suffered. They cite a specific case where one man claiming to have been robbed of 2,500 lire, only lost fifty, and another one reporting a loss of 1,800 lire when his pocketbook contained less than 200 lire.

The letter argues that such exaggerated consequences and strained relations among the pickpocket fraternity as when a member of the association turns in a few hundred lire when the loser claims to have lost thousands, pickpockets are not only his colleagues of having retained the difference. "Alleged honest people should be more delicate," the letter ends.

NEGRO SOUGHT FOR ASSAULT ON A WOMAN

Posse Headed by Sheriff Thresh Swamp Around Kenilworth, N. J.

POLICE SEARCH THE BLACK QUARTER

Victim of Attack, a Truant Officer, Said to be in Serious Condition.

New York, May 15.—All of the houses in the negro settlement on the edge of a swamp on the outskirts of Kenilworth, N. J., were being searched last night by the authorities of the county for some trace of the negro who attacked Mrs. Frederick O'Brien, 42 years old a truant officer, yesterday morning at Tenth street and the Boulevard, about 200 yards from the school house in Kenilworth. Mrs. O'Brien, who is the mother of two children, was badly injured and was carried to her home.

Two school boys, August and William Schidiger, heard Mrs. O'Brien moaning behind some bushes, where she had been thrown by the negro, and notified Marshal Alfred B. Vardalies and her father, a truant officer, yesterday morning at Tenth street and the Boulevard, about 200 yards from the school house in Kenilworth. Mrs. O'Brien, who is the mother of two children, was badly injured and was carried to her home.

Posse Starts Out

Marshal Vardalies obtain from Mrs. O'Brien a description of her assailant and organized a posse of citizens and hurried to the swamp, believing that the negro had tried to make for the security of the morass after attacking the woman. He was described as being about five feet ten inches high, and dressed in khaki trousers and a blue shirt. This description was sent to Roselle Park and Unionville and other villages near Kenilworth, and the police of Elizabeth and other cities also were asked to help find the man.

The posse under Marshal Vardalies searched the swamp and the surrounding territory all afternoon and until late last night without finding any trace of the negro. This was a lawn on which there were trees and shrubbery, so that the point where the woman was seized by the negro was screened from observation from the road. When the posse failed to locate the negro it disbanded late last night, and the county authorities and Marshal Vardalies began a search of the negro settlement, thinking that the man might have taken refuge there.

Burglar Forced Entry To Keep Out of Rain

CIRCUS CROWD SAW TRAINER FIGHT A LION

Unruly Beast Attacked Man During the Performance of His Act.

SAVED HIMSELF BY USE OF WHIP

Crowd Greatly Excited While Battle for Mastery Was in Progress.

Philadelphia, May 15.—Several of the greatest wild animal acts that have ever been staged in this city are being exhibited daily at the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey grand circus. Half a dozen courageous trainers virtually flirt with death in the cages with the animals, and more than once during the week those who peeped the big beasts have been their breath as the trainers cleverly demonstrated their mastery over their ill-tempered charges.

Those who witness the performance are amazed at the cool and collected way of seven African tigers. Amid the snoring and clanking of the beasts, their trainer, Rudolph Matias, appears as cool as collected as though he were sitting in a rolling chair at Atlantic City.

Trainer Unconcerned

Matias walks around the cage with his back to the tigers. One of the tigers leaps over his head when he is in this position, and, of course, should the animal so desire, he could stop on his journey through the air and land on the trainer. The thought of what might occur in such an emergency, however, merely seems to provide an additional thrill for the interested spectators.

Matias was born in Hamburg, Germany, 32 years ago. He broke all family traditions when, at the age of 16, he announced that he was going to choose animal training for a career. So it was that Matias met and conquered several animals of the jungle, and so it was that he had several narrow escapes from the same animals.

When asked if he were ever afraid when entering the cage with the seven tigers, the trainer calmly answered that he was not afraid, but watching the "terrible seven" to be frightened.

"And, too," he said, "I've been with them for four years now, and know them well. I am, however, careful of the meanest one of the lot, Minka."

Minka terrorizes the six others in the act. In fact, all of the six display their hostility toward Minka, and Minka is the only one who has been caught by the lion's teeth.

Lion Turns Ugly

Many who were in the performance yesterday afternoon got a real thrill out of the programme. Peter Radke, another lion tamer, was unable to make one of his beasts perform. Radke hit the lion with his whip repeatedly, and when the lion refused to obey, he was angry. Then the lion sprang again, and as Radke was about to jab the beast's spear caught in one of the nets. The lion saw its opportunity, but Radke snapped his whip till he once more had his spear in position. Then he raised the spear, and the act proceeded. All during the fight the spectators at the north end of the big tent were wildly in an uproar. Many stood up to watch the proceedings, and others were preparing to run out alongside of the cage when the fight ended.

Drug Smuggler Is Shot Dead In Raid

Another is Probably Wounded Mortally and a Third is Hurt Seriously

GRIFFITH WAS NEARLY FREED FROM PRISON

Party of Sinn Feiners in Armored Car Got Into the Jail.

New York, May 15.—Two young detectives of the Narcotic Squad, who have been ferreting out drug smugglers, met a Spanish assassin in a raid on a Spanish seaman (now dead) by arrangement at Atlantic avenue and Columbia street, Brooklyn, yesterday morning.

The detectives, Arthur Jocher and Patrick Kirley, are slim and boyish looking. Jocher is 30 and Kirley 24. They had negotiated with this Spaniard, Jesus Antel, 28 years old, and his associates last week for the purchase of a large quantity of drugs.

"Remember," they were told, "if you are police, you will pay the penalty."

The detectives at that time were at a rendezvous on Columbia street. Around them were fifteen or more men. To attempt an arrest would have been difficult and hazardous. The detectives spoke deprecatingly of the cost of the drugs, said it was too high and got out. But they stuck at it.

Yesterday morning at 10:30, at Antel's invitation, they went to 23 Willow place, a three story and basement dwelling on Brooklyn Heights, between Scarsden and State streets. Across the narrow little thoroughfare is the Willow place chapel of the Unitarian church of the Saviour.

How It Was Done

The Spaniard led the "buyers" to a furnished room on the third floor. In the room were Vincenzo Conco, 48, who lived there, and Juan Davila, 31, a Hamilton avenue. On the bed was a suitcase containing, according to the police, heroin and cocaine.

On the street, a short distance away, were Sergeant Thomas Mooney and Detective John Schaudel and Thomas Law, of the Narcotic Squad. They had accompanied Jocher and Kirley because of the threats, and were to rush in when the purchase was consummated, the signal to them being the breaking of a window.

Jocher bought $200 worth of drugs, Kirley standing behind him near the door, a spectator. "You're under arrest," said Jocher to the two men. They cried out in Spanish. The door opened, and Kirley stepped in with a pistol. He fired. Kirley dodged the bullet, which hit a wound, not serious, along Jocher's head. Kirley turned, as he ducked, and fired three times at Antel, causing a bullet hitting him in the chest. Antel fled, tumbling down the stairs.

The other two Spaniards began firing. Kirley dodged the bullets and was discharged. The room was wrecked. Once was shot in the chest. Davila got a bullet wound in the head.

The arrested detectives rushed to the basement door of the house and grabbed Antel as he staggered out, revolver in hand. He died almost immediately. Another in the basement hall was Conco. Upstairs were Jocher and Kirley, holding Davila. He and Antel were rushed to the Cumberland street hospital. Conco may die.

Chicago Druggists Were Badly Fleeced

Former Dry Agents and Policeman Collect Over $200,000 from Them.

Chicago, May 15.—More than $200,000 was exacted from Chicago druggists by two former agents of the prohibition enforcement office and a former Chicago policeman, according to Col. A. C. Barnshaw, of the Federal Special Intelligence Service.

Victor J. Peterson, Joseph Morris and Leo Powers, the former police officer, are involved. All are said to have confessed. They will be tried on charges of representing themselves as Federal officers.

Peterson and Morris were agents under Major J. V. Dalrymple. According to Colonel Barnshaw, the men would enter a drug store, produce forged credentials, inspect the liquor stock and sales records and if these were found not in proper order, the druggist would be placed under arrest.

GRIFFITH WAS NEARLY FREED FROM PRISON

Party of Sinn Feiners in Armored Car Got Into the Jail.

GUARDS BECAME SUSPICIOUS OF THEM

Got Away Themselves But Had to Leave Prisoners Behind—Car Found Later.

Dublin, May 15.—An unsuccessful attempt was made Saturday morning to rescue Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein party, from his confinement in Mount Joy prison.

An armored car which had recently been captured by the republicans was used in the attempt to rescue Griffith.

A man in an officer's uniform alighted at the prison gates, which opened to admit the passage of the car and he and his supposed soldier companion in the motor drove straight to the governor's office, where the governor and his deputy were bound and gagged.

The visitors proceeded to release Griffith and others of the prisoners and were returning to their car when they encountered a party of auxiliaries. Decamped Without Men.

This necessitated a change of course on the raiders part. Meanwhile a party of auxiliaries, who were on duty in the prison, became suspicious and fired a shot.

On hearing this the raiders decamped without the prisoners, but took the armored car, which later was found abandoned.

Arthur Griffith was arrested in Dublin on November 29th last, and lodged in Mount Joy prison. The grounds for his arrest were not given at the time, but it was explained later that it was due to the desire of the government to learn if he was responsible for the alleged employment of republican funds on ambassadors and other operations involving the lives of troops.

Car Captured From British

The armored car used in the attempted rescue, is reported to have been captured by the Sinn Feiners in a surprise attack in which two of the soldier occupants of the car were wounded. The Sinn Feiners then disguised themselves as members of the crown forces and proceeded to Mount Joy prison.

The military followed the car when it sped from the prison after the failure of the coup and a fierce fight ensued. The casualties had not been reported up to mid-afternoon.

Atlantic City Woman Asks $10,000 for Being Involved in Divorce Case.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 15.—Mrs. Mildred Joyce, of Pleasantville, has filed a suit for $10,000 against Mrs. Caroline S. Gates, who flamed her as a correspondent in an action she brought against her husband, an Atlantic City candy manufacturer.

While allegations in all judicial proceedings, including divorce suits, are privileged, still it does not, in my opinion, permit one to hide behind a screen of the kind which it can be shown that the charges are based largely if not wholly on malice," said Henry W. Lewis, attorney for Mrs. Joyce.

"I don't think the law can be employed to assassinate character of innocent persons. We assert vindictiveness was responsible for the allegations made against Mrs. Joy."

Sydney, May 15.—Immediate resumption of operations at the Sydney steel mills on full time if the employees will accept a further wage reduction of ten per cent, was made at a conference with officials of the Dominion Steel Corporation on Saturday. The men are considering their answer. About six months ago a wage reduction of twenty per cent was put into force and since that time the employees of the corporation have only been working from one to three days a week.

Cases Dealt With In Police Court

James Miller Allowed to Go on Suspended Sentence—Youths Try to Escape Jail.

After a doctor's certificate had been presented stating that James Miller was in delicate health, the accused, one of the six lads implicated in the McCarthy (Musquash) theft case, was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

Miller stated that one of the boys who had worked for McCarthy suggested a job ride with the latter's horse, and he agreed, but did not know at the time the animal was being stolen. On arrival at Douglas Avenue both he and Levine urged that it be returned. J. A. Barry appeared for Miller.

The five other boys were further remanded. Two of them, Honors Owens and Charles Cameron are apt to have the charge of attempting to break jail also preferred against them. They were found wandering about the goal corridor by Turnkey Bowen Tuesday night, after Owens had contrived to open the cell door with a wooden key he had made.

A feature of the case is that Owens is to all appearances a mere child and his presence in the prisoners' dock along with the others who are much older than he is, and look a good deal older, causes much surprise. He is, however, who is credited with being the "brains" of the entire party.

Two drunks were also dealt with by the magistrate Saturday morning. Both were remanded.

A juvenile charged with stealing a bicycle was given a suspended sentence.

Louisa Jackson, Lottis Robichand, William Donaldson, and Mrs. Mary White were sent up for trial on the charge of stealing from cottages at Millidgeville. Mrs. White, who is an elderly woman, was allowed out on bail. J. K. MacIntae appeared for Donaldson.

J. Wilfred Cattr was fined $8 for failing to have a light burning on some repairs he was effecting on Winslow Street, W. E.

H. S. Marvin, who was reported for not stopping his car when ordered to do so by Traffic Officer McNamee, also for not having the tail lamp of his car lit, failed to appear. A summons was issued.

FIRE UP CAR OF CHIEF SECRETARY

Crown Forces Think General Attack is to be Made from All Quarters.

Dublin, May 15.—Bombs were thrown at a police patrol at Blackpool, Cork yesterday. One of the police was killed and two were wounded. Several civilians were wounded. Sergeant Coleman was shot dead while waiting in a shop. The Chief Secretary's car was fired at in Dublin Friday evening. The Secretary was not in the car at the time but the driver narrowly escaped a bullet. Three tons of tobacco from the United States have been thrown into the Liffey because they were consigned to Ulster factories.

Fire in Liverpool Houses.
Liverpool, May 15.—About fifty men working in gangs with the aid of motor cars, raided various parts of the city Saturday night and set fire to a number of dwellings.

Cork, May 15.—Saturday night was a night of terror in Cork following the bombing of the police barracks at Blackpool during the day. The home of Liam Roisite, Sinn Fein member of the British Parliament, was raided. Mr. Roisite was absent at the time but a priest, Father O'Callaghan, who was staying in the house, was shot and died later from his wounds. Patrick Sheehan a republican who was newly married, was shot through the heart while in his bedroom.

After the shooting Sergeant Coleman Middleton and four policemen were going for a priest were fired upon. Two constables were killed and another was wounded.

Military Are Out.
At Youghal, 27 miles east of Cork, military raids were started at eleven o'clock Saturday morning and continued until 3 o'clock Sunday morning. During the raids there were intervals when rifle and pistol shots were heard. Houses throughout the town were searched, including the residence of Father Aboam. Considerable damage was done by the raiders.

There was fierce fighting between members of the constabulary and armed civilians at Dromadaieague, in which heavy firing was done by both sides. Three civilians were wounded.

Not Many Electors Oppose Summer Time

Fredericton Claims Many Names on Petition Were Those of Non-Voters.

Special to The Standard.
Fredericton, N. B., May 15.—Only 273 of the 1,150 names on the petition presented to the city council recently against the introduction of daylight saving time in Fredericton this year were those of eligible voters on civic matters," an alderman who declared he had carefully scrutinized the petition after its presentation, said today.

The same alderman predicted that within a few days the necessary order would be issued from city hall to set the clocks ahead on May 22nd. The board of school trustees have decided that the schools must be operated on the official city time, he said, and within a short time, the official view is, that the community will generally be using daylight saving time. No announcement has yet been made as to what will be done regarding the time situation at either Marysville or Beaton.

It was said today that Mayor Reid would probably carry this week issue a proclamation declaring daylight saving time in effect from May 22nd to September 5th.

Rev. Father Johnson Recalls Ordination

Montreal, May 15.—Special services this morning in the parish church of St. Mary's, Craig Street East, marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination to the priesthood of Father John F. Johnson, assistant to the pastor, Father Brady.

Father Johnson is a native of Charlottetown, P. E. I., having been born in that city in 1865 and a graduate of St. Dunstan's of the same city. He is the eldest of four brothers. Of these one is at present attorney general of Prince Edward Island.

BOILER MAKER IS TERRIBLY BURNED

Yarmouth, N. S., May 15.—Joseph Muise, boiler maker, is in the hospital here so terribly burned that it is thought he will die, as the result of an accident aboard the tug Otis Wack on Saturday afternoon. Muise was at work inside the boiler of the tug when a jet of flame from a paraffin torch set fire to oily vapor which had accidentally been sprayed over the interior of the engine. Four fellow workmen hauled him out of the boiler a mass of flames.

Drowned While Lobster Fishing

Victim Was Caught in a Trap Line and Dragged Under the Sea.

Yarmouth, N. S., May 15.—Henry Boudreau, 45, of Lower Wedgeport was drowned on Friday last, while setting lobster traps on Jacko Ridge, off Mud Island, near here, according to word received in Yarmouth yesterday. It is supposed that Boudreau was entangled in a trap line and was dragged into the sea and down out of reach before his young son, Henry, Jr., who was with him in a small motor boat was able to render any assistance. Boudreau is survived by widow and several children.

BUTTER TOOK A DROP

It is reported that butter, for which fifty and fifty-five cents was asked in the market Saturday morning, took a drop to forty cents a pound Saturday night, and some farmers had stocks unsold. They put up sheets of paper written in pencil advertising butter "only forty cents a pound." One fellow did a hallyoo advertising his. It seems that it is time it took a drop for it has been selling at thirty-five cents a pound, three pounds for a dollar for best creamery in Montreal.

This is chapter 4 of the wonderful, new ice cream story.

and "carbonated" ice cream not only is PURER; it TASTES better in eating!

THE thing of biggest importance, to YOU, about "CARBONATED" ICE CREAM is its absolute, unapproachable PURITY. That goes without saying. When we pay out a very respectable sum of money for a sterile, 100 p.c. pure atmosphere—in which to freeze your ice cream—you may be VERY SURE it's only because we KNOW we're giving you PURER ice cream than we could using ordinary air. When you realize that this "CARBONATING" atmosphere is ONE HUNDRED TIMES PURER THAN AIR, YOU know we're giving you PERFECTLY PURE ice cream.

But—on top of that—"CARBONATED" ICE CREAM tastes better. The flavor is enhanced, given a sort of "sparkle," and YOUR tongue FINDS it out. More, "CARBONATED" ICE CREAM really IS better for you, as a FOOD. And, finally, "CARBONATED" ICE CREAM stays hard longer than ordinary ice cream—and melts more SLOWLY when it does start melting.

Our dealers have this wonderful NEW ice cream for you—the ONLY "CARBONATED" ice cream made in this province.

Stewardess and Load of Cocaine

York, May 15.—Two $2000 were made yesterday on a steamer in Brooklyn. A stewardess carrying a load of cocaine was stopped by F. J. K. customs guard, and the amount said, showed that she had cocaine in the satchel and in her bag. Kidnuff said she admitted going to an address in front, Brooklyn, and this information was turned over to Federal raiders.

The steamship Fairmont, from New York, was stopped by Customs Inspectors George J. McDonald and J. E. McDonald at a piece of stray hose, unscrewing the nozzle found sealed twenty-one bottles of cocaine. A sailor who left the ship night is being sought.

USED WIRE TROUBLE

Yarmouth, N. S., May 15.—The Aurora Borealis has been cut-off from the past few days causing considerable annoyance to telegraph wires. Both the C. P. R. and Dominion wires were "on the blink" Saturday and Sunday and communication was hampered by the Aurora because of the Aurora's magnetic field.

BOYS OR GIRLS A BIKE IS YOURS IF--

A Wonderful Pathfinder Bicycle, made in three sizes and one finish only, will be given to any boy or girl in New Brunswick by Pictorial Review for a few hours' work as outlined herewith. This bicycle has a special sloping motor cycle frame, with reinforcing top bar which gives the rider a low riding position similar to that found on a motor cycle. The front fork is reinforced by double truss rods, handsomely nickel plated and reaching from the front wheel axle to the steering head of bicycle and held at the fork crown. A quick action, motor stand is provided for the rear wheel, with spring clip for same attached to rear end of mud guard. The husky carrier is also included as part of the regular equipment. The stand, as well as the saddle springs, is enamelled a beautiful ebony black to harmonize with the black trim.

If you want to know how to easily earn one of these wonderful Bikes for yourself all you have to do is to write PICTORIAL REVIEW, BOX 1109, ST. JOHN, or call at 82 Prince William Street, St. John, or read the rest of this announcement.

This bicycle cannot be bought for less than $65.00.

There never was a boy or girl who did not want a bicycle. And Pictorial Review now gives every boy or girl in New Brunswick an opportunity to earn one of these by a very few hours' work. It is as fine a machine as any one could ever want to own.

This is how you can get it.

Any boy or girl who sells three hundred copies of Pictorial Review between now and October 15th gets a Bike. The whole three hundred may be sold this month. They may sell sixty copies each month, or they may be sold in irregular amounts each month. All that is necessary is to sell three hundred copies during the next five months.

Of course it would be easier if the worker gets sixty regular customers. Then it will not be necessary to chase all over town each month. Incidentally for every signed order for twelve magazines we will pay twenty cents commission.

If any boy or girl secures sixty signed orders and delivers the magazine each month for the next year he will get a Bike, a cheque for twelve dollars and a profit of $3.60 every month for one afternoon's work in making the delivery. If the boy or girl does not want to do this, all that is necessary is to sell three hundred copies of the magazine and whenever these three hundred copies have been sold the bicycle will be delivered. No such offer has ever been made to the boys and girls of New Brunswick and probably no such offer will ever be made again. It is the chance of a lifetime for the boys and girls of New Brunswick.

FRENCH TAKING GREAT INTEREST IN HELICOPTERS

Experiments Being Carried at Barcelona by Marquis
Pescara.

EXPECT TO PERFECT
IT IN TWO YEARS

Aviators Express Surprise
That United States Has Taken it up.

Paris May 15.—The French world, governmental and private, is deeply absorbed at the present in the rapid development of the recently invented helicopter, the plane which is designed to rise straight up from the ground. The French government, after a careful investigation by a commission of experts, has officially accepted the machine and has set aside a substantial sum of money for the immediate improvement of the invention.

The Marquis R. Pescara, of Argentina, is credited by some of the best aviation experts with having proved its practicability, but several Frenchmen, among whom are the Filipinos, have since constructed copiers with as much success as Pescara. Experimental work now being carried on near Paris at an army aviation field, through which the government hopes to perfect the new machine. As yet the helicopter is at the same stage of development as the first flying machines constructed by the Wright brothers.

At the Aero Club of France, the helicopter is the chief topic of conversation, experts predict within two years the new aircraft will be a practical reality.

Surprised at U. S.

Considerable surprise was expressed by these same experts that the United States government had apparently not taken up the new machine inasmuch as it may materially aid in sea warfare.

The helicopter, described without attempt at description as a machine constructed of a series of horizontal planes revolving in six directions. On the Pescara machine, a base similar to that of an automobile is used. On it are built two series of horizontal planes, each series composed of ten planes. The usual airplane motor starts the machine rise straight up from the ground.

In the experimental work, a gas bag has been used for safety purposes but the work is so far advanced that these bags are being abandoned. It is hoped that the perfected machine, which is expected within a few years, will be able to rise from the deck of a battleship in mid-ocean.

Experimenting in Spain.

Pescara is conducting experiments at Barcelona, Spain where the Spanish commission has spent several weeks in observation. His career has been romantic. Employed in the experimental laboratories of the government before the war, Pescara came to Paris soon after the beginning of the war and continued his work under army supervision. He was credited with hundreds of inventions, among them a dirigible which flew over enemy lines and dropped bombs at intervals.

Suddenly at the height of Pescara's success, the French police arrested him as a spy and he was kept in prison for several months. The Ministry of War protested his innocence and obtained his release on condition that he be deported. He returned to Spain and soon after the arrest began his helicopter experiments.

SATURDAY'S MARKETS.

There was a fairly good supply in the country market Saturday morning and the city market was well stocked. Turkeys have made their appearance and are selling at 95 to 70 cents per pound. ### Those Nasty Little Pimples That Come On The Face Are Caused By Bad Blood

Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by unsightly pimples and various other skin troubles, caused wholly by bad blood.

Many a cheek and brow cast in the name of beauty has been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost, by the possessor of the "pimply face" rendered unhappy for years.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted, as well as pain and regret to their friends. There is an effectual remedy for these facial defects and that is Blood Purifier. Entirely the old reliable medicine that has been on the market for over 40 years.

It drives out all the impurities from the blood, and leaves the complexion clear and healthy.

Mrs. James Williams, Waterloo, Ont., writes—"My face was covered with pimples for nearly a year, I used different kinds of remedies to get rid of them and finally thought there was no relief. A friend dropped in one day and told me I should try 'Blood Purifier.' I did so and used three bottles, and found the pimples were all disappearing from my face, and now I have a clear complexion again. 'Blood Purifier' is manufactured by The T. M. M. Co. Limited, Toronto.

 Eighth—Patent rights for German nations without reciprocity for twenty-five years.
 Ninth—France to abandon her alliance with Russia and England.
 Tenth—A twenty-five year treaty of alliance with Germany.
 These were what Bernstorff called "The ten German Commandments." He said that Germany would buy Russia and finish off England and that England would turn against Russia, and each would call for Germany's help against the other. "France," he said, "must be 'reduced, sunk forever, made another Portugal or Turkey even if we have to kill off 5,000,000 Frenchmen to do it.'"
 In March, 1915, Rodolph Martini, former German Minister of the Interior, issued a pamphlet in which he predicted that after dictating peace in London, Germany would exact a tribute of from $30,000,000,000 to $70,000,000,000. A large slice of France was to be cut off. Belgium and her Congo territory would be absorbed by Germany. Serbia would go to Austria, and Egypt and the Suez Canal to Turkey. Even more official was the statement of Matthias Erzberger in 1914 that among other things Germany must insist upon sovereignty over Belgium, possession of the Channel Isles, the mines of Alsace-Lorraine and the leasing of a German empire in Africa created by annexing the Belgian and French Congoes, British Nigeria, Dahomey and the French West Coast. Since Erzberger is at present one of the loudest protesters against the Allies' terms it is instructive to hear what he once said on the general subject of indemnities:—
 "In fixing indemnities the actual damage done at the moment should not be considered. Besides a large immediate payment, annual instalments spread over a long period should be arranged. France would be helped in making them by decreasing her budget of naval and military appropriations, the reduction to be imposed in the peace treaty being such as would enable her to send substantial sums to Germany. Indemnities should provide for the repayment of the full costs of the war, and the damages of war notably in East Prussia; the redemption of all Germany's public debt and the creation of a vast fund for incapacitated soldiers."

A CURIOUS CONTRAST.
 What struck the New York Herald as an unusual contrast occurred one day last week, being the outcome of a contrast of four years ago. Two young men in good physical condition took different views of the World War upon which the United States had just entered. One of them volunteered, and in a short time was in France. He was wounded in battle, but his pluck carried him forward, and with an empty revolver he captured half a dozen Germans and their machine gun. The other young man showed no interest in the war, except to dodge it, which he was able to do, for he could afford to pay for good, unparliamentary legal advice. On the day in question, the war hero was endeavoring to prove to the authorities that it was due to a scandalous error on their part that his name was included in the official list of slackers. The other young man was receiving two complimentary dinners and was being presented with the freedom of Atlantic City. His name is Jack Dempsey.

HAD GERMANY WON?
 If there is anyone in this country who thinks the peace terms have been unduly harsh and the undue advantage was taken by the Allies of the fact that at no time since November, 1918, has Germany been in a position to do anything but submit, he should ponder for a moment the terms which would have been imposed on the Allies. The Kaiser was grandiloquent but vague in what references he made to the triumph he foresaw for Germany. Nevertheless, there is reason to believe that at Berlin there was a detailed plan of reparation which the Germans were prepared to inflict. In a conversation between Count von Bernstorff and an American banker, the former American ambassador was specific. The substance of this conversation was communicated to (his newspaper, who published it in his newspaper in 1914. As regards France, Germany would demand:—
 First—All the colonies, Morocco entire; Algeria and Tunisia.
 Second—All of France from St. Valery in a straight line to Lyons (or more than a quarter of France, with more than 15,000,000 inhabitants).
 Third—An indemnity of ten billion.
 Fourth—A commercial treaty permitting German goods to enter France duty free for twenty years without reciprocity; thereafter a continuation of the trade conditions of the treaty of Frankfurt.
 Fifth—Mistig.
 Sixth—The dissolution of all French fortresses.
 Seventh—A gift by France of 1,000,

On the Wrong Job.
 The immigration official, who held up at the border the members of the Kirsch party coming in Woodstock to establish an industry in Canada to do at some other occupation, where his officiousness and devotion to red tape would be in less danger of giving offence and causing annoyance. Because the members of the party did not have, individually, the amount required by the regulations, the inspector compelled them to leave the train at the border, notwithstanding the offer of a marked check for $1000 on a Canadian bank, by the president of the Kirsch Manufacturing Company, who was in charge.

The fact that the matter was straightened out in less than five minutes when it was referred to a man who was capable of using his brains, shows how completely the first official failed to understand his duty. But in the meantime the party was subjected to regrettable inconvenience.

Such border episodes are unfortunate. If it is necessary to maintain annoying restrictions at the boundary into leaves of civility and respect should see to it that they are enforced by officials capable of using intelligence in the discharge of their duties.

A BIT OF VERSE

SPRING.
 There is a whisper thro' the branches,
 Which is not alone the breeze,
 For a mystery that entrances
 Is now working 'mid the trees,
 And the tiny buds are breaking
 Into leaves of verdant green,
 And the pussy-willows taking
 Off their coats of silver sheen.

There's a moving 'neath the soil
 As the ground strives to break
 With a waking love of toil
 Through old Winter's frosted cake;
 Purple, yellow, white, bedecking
 All the sparkling dew-drenched earth;
 From the winter darkness trekking
 To the sunshine and new birth.

Softly snow-drops bells are ringing
 Just to wake the fairies up;
 All the flowers a gut are bringing;
 Daffodils a golden cup;
 Tiny cups for merry elfmen;
 Cherry-blossoms for the bride;
 Perfume rare for tiny women,
 Hyacinths, their scent provide.

There is incense sweet ascending,
 Where the woodside lilies fair,
 All their graceful heads are bending
 In the forest's springtime prayer;
 Where the angel-wings are using
 Cover court Winter's hand,
 While the violet is holding
 Dainty court in flowerland.

There's a love-song in the woodside
 Finding voice in thrilling notes;
 There's a something in the spring-
 And it awails the warblers' throats;
 There's a hunt for twig and feather,
 That the winter never knew,
 And a scheming how together,
 Love can build a nest for two.

There is merry prattling laughter
 In the gaily dancing brook,
 Where the trout are busy after
 Midges in each quiet nook,
 And there's just a tinge of madness
 In the fresh, inspiring air,
 Making all things with gladness
 That now slip spring's nocturnal rear.
 —Justin Wilson.

relativity. This is a curious but not a contemptible human failing. It becomes contemptible when the object of its adulation proves himself unworthy as a patriot, when he is the man who boasts that he is the greatest fighter in the world, and who did less to help win the World War than thousands of Boy Scouts.

ERRANDS.
 Errands are places you have to go, being the chief diffrants between errands and other places. No matter what errands you are doing you would rather keep on doing it than go to a errand.
 If you are playing out in the street just before a noon and in and out, being good now, but if you're playing half way between 3 meals and the cat's you, it probably means you have to go to a errand, being among the worst news there is.
 There are 2 main kinds of errands, the ones you go for the maybes, being the seldomest and the best on account of them generally giving you something for going, and the ones you go for your relations, being the oftenest and the worst for the opposite reason.
 When a nayber gives you something for going a errand it's polite to act as if you was surprised as anything and as if you thought you had went for love instead of for money and as if you didn't expect that much even if you expected more. When a relation gives you something for going all you have to do is act natural and take it and feel lucky, with you are.
 Some fellows say they are going a errand 'till some say they are running a errand, being more natural to say you are going a errand on account of nobody hardly ever runs. If you see a fellow wawking pretty fast on a errand you know he is supposed to be doing it in a ferease hurry.

 Have Saved Many Vessels from a Watery Grave in the Atlantic.
NEARLY 16,000 CALLS ANSWERED LAST YEAR
 By Cross Bearings Captain Enabled to Fix Exact Location.

Boston, May 15.—Radio communications, maintained by the United States navy at more than 100 places along the Atlantic, Pacific and Great Lakes coasts as aids to mariners in foggy weather, has saved the lives of many of its victims, say New England seafaring men.
 Last year, with but 29 stations in operation, the naval men informed the captains of 15,374 fog-shrouded vessels of their location and thus enabled them to lay their courses to their ports of destination. An average time of four to six minutes was required to make the calculations upon which this information was based.
 How a wireless station on shore can tell the master of a vessel lost in the fog just where his vessel is, seems something like a miracle to landmen, but it is simple enough to the operator of the system. It works this way: The radio operator in a compass station on shore picks out of the air the letters "Q T E" flashed from a vessel lying perhaps 100 miles or more off shore. In the International Code these letters mean, "what is your true bearing?" and these queries coming to the shore station with such increasing frequency as to testify to the dependence which ship masters are placing on this modern aid to navigation.

The Medus Operandi.
 Once the signals is heard the radio operator adjusts his radio compass to meet the direction whence it comes. This compass is merely a rectangular coil of wire mounted on a vertical plane and fixed to turn so as to face in any direction. It acts like a mechanical car and from it the operator can tell clearly the direction whence the lost vessel's call came. That means that he can tell in what direction the vessel lies from him, and that other stations along the shore also act in the same way and these reports to a central station and compare notes.
 The distance of the ship from the shore can be told approximately by the wireless operators on the strength of her signals. Service here advanced the case of a steamer south of Cape Sable in the North Atlantic, heading for Boston, which had not the aid of signals for several days because of storm or fog. Dead reckoning would give the skipper an approximate position for temporary purposes, but through his wireless operator, he could send out a call for his bearings from shore.

GOVERNMENT HAS SITUATION IN HAND

Clynes Declares Men Are in Mood to Accept Fair and Equitable Terms.

London, May 15.—Following the conciliatory speech in the House of Commons on the miners' strike situation yesterday by Lloyd George, it was learned unofficially that the premier will bring the miners' leaders and the mine owners' representatives together for a conference early this week.

Another Conference. In the House of Commons, Mr. Lloyd George was appealed to by J. R. Clynes, chairman of the parliamentary labor party to bring the miners and mine owners together and the premier promised to summon the disputants as soon as there was a chance of a conference proving successful.

Can Handle Situation. The Glasgow Union men have in the last day or two received an impressive evidence of the capacity of the government to get all the help wanted in the thousands of volunteers who are helping to unload cargoes in the Glasgow docks.

SAYS WOMEN INHERENTLY GAMBLERS

Miss Alice Robertson, Oklahoma Representative, Declines to Defend Them.

WHEN CAUGHT MUST TAKE THEIR MEDICINE

"Watch 'Em at Card Parties," She Says, Commenting on Printer's Action.

Washington, D. C., May 15.—Miss Alice Robertson of Oklahoma, the only woman member of Congress, came to the front today with the assertion that women naturally are gamblers ready to play for big stakes if they can, but contented, if nothing better offers, to go in earnest to win a hand carved potato masher or an engraved cardstick.

"Nobody can doubt that women are gamblers," Miss Robertson said, "what is, nobody who ever has seen them at card parties, even when full of excitement, they out for the prize, no matter what it may be, if it is a china plate or a trivial fancy pin of some description, it is all the same to them as the prize they are after, prompted by the spirit of gambling."

"Furthermore, gambling is gambling no matter what the form. It is the same if a woman is going to the race tracks betting on horses as if she were in the home of some friend playing cards for money or for a prize. There is no distinction so far as I am able to tell."

Miss Robertson's opinion developed when her attention was called to the fact that several women had been suspended from their jobs at the Government Printing Office because evidence had been obtained that they were betting on the horse races. The action followed the determination of the Public Printer to break up the betting on the races, which has been rampant in the Government printing office over a long period.

Defends the Boss. Miss Robertson declined to defend the women against the suspension by the Public Printer. She explained that she could not help but would stand by the Public Printer instead.

"Women demand fifty-fifty rights," she added, "so that they with men," she added, "they must expect to have fifty-fifty penalties. The men who were found to be involved in the horse race bets were suspended, too."

TO FILL SOFA CUSHIONS. Here is a way of filling sofa cushions which many of the best upholsterers use. Take a piece of percale as wide as the pillow in question and twice its length. On this tack cotton batting a good seam's width from the edges. Form a bag by stitching on the machine. Turn so that the cotton will be on the inside, then fill the cushions with feathers. The effect will be as good as if down had been used.

For children who are tired of plain oatmeal, cook this cereal with raisins. Every people of the world recognize the value of nuts as food.

The right arm is heavier and of greater circumference than the left arm.

WHO SAID

"A Marshal of France never surrenders."

These are the words of Marshal Ney, the great lieutenant of Napoleon Bonaparte, when called upon to surrender.

When Emperor Napoleon abdicated and the Bourbon dynasty was re-established, Marshal Ney took the oath of allegiance to the new monarch and was given a command. When Napoleon returned from Elba, however, Marshal Ney was one of the first to forget his oath of allegiance to the reigning king and he opened the way for his beloved monarch to reach Paris.

In the battle of Waterloo which followed, it was Marshal Ney who commanded the attacks on the British centre, and he only retired from the field at nightfall, after five horses had been killed under him in the heat of the conflict.

When the allies entered Paris and Napoleon was overthrown, Marshal Ney escaped to the provinces in the disguise of a peasant. He was finally arrested, however, and brought back to Paris for trial. Found guilty, he was sentenced to death and the execution took place December 7, 1815.

NUTS FOR FOOD.

Nuts have a high nutritive quality. Nuts have a high protein content and can take the place of meat on the menu.

Vegetarians have evolved many attractive combination dishes from nuts. Nut leaves, croquettes and souffles take the place of meat on their tables.

Hickory nuts, English walnuts, pecans, hazelnuts and filberts are not only palatable in muffins, cakes and yeast bread, but add much to the food value.

The nut trees of the world, it is estimated, could provide food for the year round for the population of the world. Brazil nuts grow in such profusion that thousands of tons of them are wasted each year.

Chestnuts stand in a class by themselves, being largely carbohydrate in composition. They are often served in lieu of potatoes and occupy a prominent place in the dressing of fowl. They add a delicious flavor to soups, stuffings and sauces.

Peanuts are rich in oil and protein. They are nearly equal to almonds in food value and are more economical. Peanuts, however, are too concentrated a food for eating between meals or to be taken after a meal already sufficient, but they may supply the place of meat in the meal and peanut butter may be used on bread for sandwiches without the addition of fatty butter.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL.

By HELEN ROWLAND (Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

A woman is young, until the day when she stops fearing that men will deceive, and begins wishing they could.

When a man sees the love-light dawning in a woman's eyes it gives wings to his spirit—and sometimes even-league boots to his feet.

A woman is a cipher-code, which lose all that fascinating mystery for a man, as soon as he has learned the key to her moods and tenses, by heart.

Man's woman: The kind whom women first suspect, then gossip about, then envy, then imitate.

The sight of powder on his coat-lapel shakes a callow youth brag, a bachelor blush, and a married man tremble.

Every man will admit that he has "ideals," but, somehow, when you ask him what they are, he always begins talking about the color of your eyes, the moonlight on your hair, or the curl of your eye-lashes—thereby proving that the average man's ideals are not much over five feet high.

Don't marry a man with an erotic past, in the hope that it will insure him a pure and spotless future. A little exercise may harden his powers of resistance.

Poor man! He is never safe. As soon as women cease to tempt his emotions, the flesh-pots of the world begin to tempt his appetite, and as soon as he stops worrying about his heart, he begins worrying about his waist-line.

Taking the sun out of Sunday will make lots more work for the preachers. Idleness and boredom are the devil's favorite tools!

NOVELTIES IN BLOUSES.

Although the more general demand for blouses of recent days has been for the tuck-in variety, which serves as the correct accompaniment to the tweed tailored suit that now occupies first position as suit choice, in sophisticated quarters there is shown a tendency to introduce blouses of more picturesque mood.

This resort to the loose, pouted semi-smock lines of the peasant blouse, and in the present version follow the lead set by the irregular skirt length, in investing a similar finish to the blouses. The popular handling utilizes a short tuck-in back in conjunction with an over blouse, or blouse dropped sides while the front and back are tucked in.

Batiste Used. Volle, organdie, batiste and net are the mediums in which these moods are expressed at the moment, and resort in many instances, to a touch of color to enliven them. It is the embroidered accent that performs the color touch, it is applied in motifs, or bands instead of another color, that acts in this capacity.

Frequently it is of a second fabric, as in the case of net, employing bands of organdie. Another example of this fashion is found in a pale colored batiste model with embellishments of varied shapes of net, heavily covered in soutache embroideries.

Linon Favored. Linon as a medium of this style of blouse carries a little more of the original flavor of the peasant blouse in its texture than any other fabric. Wide sleeves, and the wide neck line, collared in an unpretentious neck band of embroidery.

Novelty in the use of blouse fastenings brought directly from peasant usage is found in the full bodice that utilizes the raglan sleeve seam on the front shoulder, as an opening means, rather than the more customary front slash. The latter is seen in all types of blouses, and now appears arising from the edge of the over blouse in distinction to the long used neck slash.

(Blanco White, 1775-1841.)

Mysterious Night I whod our first parent knew These from report divine, and heard Did he not tremble for this lovely frame.

Heavenly flower and leaf and insect came, And lo! Creation widened in men's view.

Who could have thought such darkness lay concealed Within thy beams, O Sun! or who could find.

Whit flower and leaf and insect stood revealed, That to such countless orbs thou mad'st us blind?

Why should I, when I see thee Death with anxious strife? If Light can thus deceive, wherefore not Life?

FASHIONS FOR PARIS.

Jade is fished over and over again for chains, for cabochons, for buckles, for clasps, for girdles. Wherever there is a possible excuse this stone is dragged in, for it is the favorite color of the season, and the brilliance of the stone is a great asset in the matter of trimming.

Long has a gown trimmed with braiding of lacquered ribbon. Most of the couturiers use fillet net embroidered or embellished in some way or another. It is an extremely popular sort of trimming material.

Along with changing fashions in dresses and hats there creeps a subtle change in lingerie. One report from Paris says that white linen is losing none of its old-time popularity, the lingerie of silk comes more and more into use.

NIGHT AND DEATH.

(Blanco White, 1775-1841.)

WHO WOULD CHANGE?

There are still some folks who sigh for good old times. But who would welcome them were they to come back?

Subtract from modern life the movie, porcelain bath-tubs, vacuum sweepers, electric lights, instantaneous hot water and telephones. Take out phonographs, automobiles, electric irons and wash-machines and sanitary plumbing.

Banish these things and you have again what people like to call "good old times."

Who really wants the good old times back? Occasionally a cynic declaims against the modern improvement, but he never means it. The modest home of the average middle class American is infinitely more comfortable than the mansion of those other days called "the good old times."

The average housewife, relieved of much of the old drudgery of "hand-work," has more time for leisure and recreation. Her family has more recreational opportunities.

The new times have their faults, but they are the golden age, when contrasted with the "good old times." They cost us more than the "good old days" of yore, but aren't they worth the price?

No News To Him.

A regimental band was about to be organized at one of the war-time convalescents, and, after the first rehearsal, the officer in charge was signing up the candidates.

"Your name?" he asked the trombonist.

"Sam Jones," returned the embryo trombonist.

"Your station?"

"Rockcliffe."

"Your rank?"

"I know it," sighed Sam.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

The United States Army maintains a school for the training of young women as nurses.

The recent extension of the franchise in Sweden gives that country more women voters than men.

It required weeks to weed out and assemble the completed scenes from the sixty-five miles of film exposed; the mere running of 500,000 feet of the film through a projection machine at the rate of sixty feet a minute would consume eighteen days of eight working hours each.

Field kitchens and a complete commissary organization were required to feed the army of 12,500 persons engaged on the production.

Several new mechanical devices for special photographic effects, for which patents have been issued, were used for the first time in taking the picture.

A complete telephone system was installed for the use of the director while handling some of the great scenes. He was in constant touch with his assistants, located on posts over several miles of terrain.

The cast interpreting the roles contains two dozen principal players, who in other productions would be rated as stars.

Baking dishes that have become burned in the oven, and plates and platters that have become blackened with the food soaked upon them, should not go through the tedious process of scraping. Simply put a little water and soda (wood ashes are good if you have them) in the dish and let it become warm and the burnt and discolored portions may be easily cleaned without injuring the dish.

Quite often the upper part of a stocking is good when the feet are worn. Rather than throw them away, make "holders" for around the kitchen stove. Cut off the foot and fold the remainder of the stocking into a square, then crease it all around the edge and sew across the centre to opposite corners. These are quickly made and will save one from many a burn from hot pans.

Says Dempsey May Win In One Round

Dempsey Will Make it Quick Slaughter Think Jack McAuliffe.

George Carpenter comes out when they answer the question, "I don't think the fight will be a round. Dempsey will slaughter him!" Jack McAuliffe, famous lightweight champion of the world who retired in 1913, makes this prediction.

"I'm not betting," George," he explained, "I merely hope that he will make a mistake and that he will be a mistake. I don't think the fight will be a round. Dempsey will slaughter him!"

HEAVY PRESSURE FROM SHORTS IN NEW YORK LISTS

Oils, Motors, Steels and Shipping Figure in Heaviest Sellings.

BOND MARKET VERY LIGHT

Business Conditions So Uncertain That Trade is Much Restricted.

New York, May 14.—The two-hour session of the stock market today was enlivened by further pressure from the short interest, that reaction dominating the dealings in the absence of more than tentative support. Selling orders more covered around the oils, motors, steels and shipping, with a liberal sprinkling of prominent specialties. The latter embraced Famous Players, Sears Roebuck and some of the more obscure issues whose reaction was accompanied by adverse dividend rumors.

Samatra tobacco recovered a small part of its recent continued reversal and a few of the rails resisted pressure, but, in the main, transportation gave way with the general list, in which extreme losses extended from 1 to almost 5 points. Sales amounted to 350,000 shares.

Bond Trade Light

Trading in bonds was light and narrow, popular domestic and international issues, including the Liberty group, showing only nominal changes. Total sales (par value), aggregated $4,875,000. An actual contraction of about $100,000,000 in loans and discounts, the largest of any week this year, was the outstanding feature of the clearing house statement. Changes in other items were unusually moderate and offered little reflection of the week's setback in stocks.

Big Bass Gulps Trout As Latter Is Hooked

Sunbury Man Escapes Arrest for Violation by Showing Cannibal Stunt to Warden.

Sunbury, Pa., May 15.—Just as a trout leaped from Younig run in Potter county, to take a fly cast over a deep pool, a big bass seized him, and the two were hauled in by Harry C. Blue, manufacturer of Sunbury. He escaped being arrested for catching a bass out of season by opening the larger fish in the presence of a game warden.

Blue has two faithful men to back his story related today, George B. Duprey, school board member, and business man, and President Judge Herbert W. Cummings, commenting on the trip. They vouch that Blue, sighting a trout, cast, and after a struggle landed his catch, not the trout, but a big bass. Just then the warden happened along. Examination showed the bass had not been hooked, being held through having swallowed the trout.

Weighted with the smaller fish in his mouth, the bass tipped scale pounds. The trout weighed three pounds.

Lad, Intoxicated By Bonds, Freed By Jury

Chicago, May 15.—The theft of Willie Dalton, 16 years old, of $72,000 in Liberty bonds from the Northern Trust Company last March had a sequel in the Criminal Court today, when a jury disagreed over the question whether young Dalton was guilty of a crime.

Seven of the jurors voted to convict Dalton of grand larceny, but five protested so strongly against declaring the youth guilty that Judge McDonald discharged the jury.

It was said in the Criminal Court building that he will not be tried again.

"Bond intoxication," the plea of his attorneys, saved Dalton from prison. The plea made a great hit with the insurgent five, who refused to be swayed in their decision.

"He was bond drunk, all right," Joseph Dorbeck, one of the jurors insisted. "He did not know any more what he was doing when he took those bonds than a drunken man knows when he draws off and slugs somebody. The lad was groggy from the bonds."

The action of the jury was declared by lawyers to break all precedents in the criminal courts, not only of Chicago, but of the entire country. It was necessary for the State to prove only that Dalton had stolen more than $15 worth of property to substantiate the charge of grand larceny, which was coupled with the charge of embezzlement.

"I thought that jury would find me innocent," young Willie confided to reporters.

Wheat Gained At Session's Closing

Cash Market With Light Offerings All Protected Showed Little Change.

Winnipeg, Man., May 14.—The local wheat market after the earlier opening showed a weak tendency until the last hour when prices recovered to around Friday's close. The market here was reflecting the weakness in United States markets. May wheat dropped to $1.16 3/8, but on the reaction topped at $1.19 3/4 and closed at $1.18 3/4, lower than yesterday. July and October closed higher, the latter with a gain of 7/8 and the former 3/4 up.

The cash wheat market did not show much change. Offerings were extremely light and were well taken care of.

Montreal Business Men Up in Arms

Meeting Today to Formulate Protest Which Will be Sent to Minister of Finance.

Montreal, May 15.—Claiming that the new sales tax legislation will lead to intensified competition under the provision as interpreted by R. H. Broadner, commissioner of taxation, Ottawa, in a letter sent to the Montreal board of trade Friday to the effect that "sales tax may be absorbed by manufacturers and wholesalers," a special meeting of the wholesale grocers' guild has been called for Monday next here, when the process of the new regulations will be discussed in detail. Other trade organizations here are calling meetings to talk over the situation and it is expected as result that a general committee will be appointed whether a formal protest shall be lodged with the minister of finance. Officers of the various organizations object that with the present arrangement it will be possible to firms looking for business to take over payment of the sales tax as a form of discount to customers a proceeding which was impossible under the old sales tax regulations.

CONFESSES TO SHOOTING GIRL FOUND ON ROAD

Victim's Brother Surrendered Himself to Officers of the Law.

THIRTY-NINE SHOT TAKEN FROM BOD

Youth Says He Was To by His Father to Shoot Girl.

Winnipeg, Pa., May 7.—Russell Hoffman, son of a farmer living near here, surrendered today to Sheriff M. A. Davis and, according to the sheriff, confessed he fired the shot that killed Ma Rhodes, who yesterday was found dead in a country road.

Reed Rhodes, brother of the girl who had been sought by the authorities, also walked into the jail today and surrendered.

According to the sheriff, Rhodes said he fired at the girl the instance of his father.

The sheriff did not say why the girl who was only 14 years old, was shot. He expected to get statements later from both young Hoffman, his father and Rhodes.

Where Living in Hills.

The brother, 21 years old, was paid recently from a reformatory. He has been missing, and a posse failed last night to find any trace of him. Soon after his parole he fled with his sister to the hills about Pine Top. They had been seeking out a hand-to-mouth existence.

The removal of thirty-nine shots from the girl's back indicated, according to theory on which Sheriff M. A. Davis was working, she was killed by a farmer in mistake for a thief. Her brother's conviction on robbery charge, about two years ago, followed a series of petty larcenies from farm houses by a band of boys, of which he was the leader.

The girl and her brother are the children of Mrs. Harvey Sierles, this city. Since her second marriage she has been living with relatives in the Pine Top section of Milfa county.

Found Dying on Road.

The girl was found on a lonely road by motorists, and died at a farm house to which she was taken. She was still in her car when she was found, and a motorcycle trip. Near her was found a rifle, but it was believed this had been left as a blind as three wounds in her jaw were found, and she was killed by buckshot, and thirty-nine buck shot were taken from her back by the coroner's physician.

Mrs. Rhodes and her brother left here Friday night and spent several days near McClure. Wednesday night they were seen going through McClure in a motor car, and a rifle was seen in his shoulder. The next morning the girl's body was found in the road. Head had disappeared. Before young Hoffman's charges were given, it was on out it was said the sheriff was working on a theory that the girl was shot in mistake for thieves.

Horses Go Cheaply In South Russia

Peasants Sell Animals for Three Boxes of Matches or Kilo of Salt.

Stockholm, May 16.—Russian peasants of Moscow gladly sell a horse for three boxes of matches or a kilo of salt. It is declared by persons said to be in touch with conditions in the interior of the country.

Observers cite this state of affairs as the cause of the counter revolution in March, which they say, began to take definite form in January. Unwieldiness of the Soviet administrative machine, the differences among the Bolshevik leaders and the fuel crisis, with consequent stoppage of transportation and lack of food, are given as the reasons for the subversive movement.

Discontent which was prevalent throughout Russia during the war period, but concealed in the presence of the invading enemy, could no longer be repressed when the fighting men returned home to find want and distress.

The first sign of revolt against the existing order are said to have been apparent at the Russian trades union congress in Moscow last December. There were further evidences of dissatisfaction in the eighth All-Russian Congress, which convened in splendor at Moscow last December. Those who were in the forefront of the movement were unapparent on the surface, but made themselves felt among those behind the scenes. Harmonious resolutions were adopted, but the attack came from a quarter whose importance could not be doubted.

In this congress the metal workers' and miners' unions, led by Schliapnikov, also demanded that the food administration be placed entirely in the hands of the trade unions. This was plainly an attack against the Communist executive committee and the highest Soviet authorities.

More recently the press of the country has shown signs of greater freedom and has not hesitated to attack policies of the Government which, it is said, has entrenched itself by appointing thousands of petty officials.

Quost Subway Beggars, Is Merchants' Demand New York, May 12.—Panhandlers and beggars who make subway kiosks and elevated railroad station stairs the scenes of their operations are scored severely in a letter sent by the Merchants Association to the transit companies and to Richard E. Bright, Police Commissioner. The association characterizes their solicitation as an offensive nuisance and urges that they be driven into the street, where policemen can deal with them according to the law.

The letter points out that the cops seemingly have no authority to enter the kiosks or dimly stairs to enforce city ordinances and that it is the companies' duty to aid the police in eliminating the nuisance.

Officers And Men On Church Parade

Crew of H. M. S. Valerian Heard Fine Sermon by Canon Kuhring at Stone. A large number of citizens were out yesterday morning and witnessed the church parade of officers and men from H.M.S. Valerian to St. John's (Stone) Church. The Naval men were headed by the Artillery Band (St. Mary's), who with their new instruments were highly complimented on the excellent music furnished. The tars presented a fine appearance and were accompanied on the march by His Worship Mayor Schofield, Commissioners Thornton and Jones, also R. E. Armstrong, president of the Navy League. The route of procession to the church was Prince William, Duke, Germain Street and Wellington Row, and returning to the ship, Wellington Row, Germain, King and Prince William Streets.

At The Church. There was a very large attendance at St. John's Stone Church and a service, which was marked by heartiness of singing and splendid music by the choir, was held. In his address, Rev. Canon Kuhring gave a warm greeting to the officers and men of H.M.S. Valerian saying that all who had been upon the seas themselves during the war and all who had loved ones at home felt deeply thankful to the Navy for protection. He had them an especial welcome to St. John's (Stone) Church. At first, Rev. Canon Kuhring read, he thought of preaching a special sermon but later decided to embrace them in the church's family and speak to them upon the subject for the day "The Lesson of Whitsunday." In a short but powerful address, Canon Kuhring then told of the circumstances surrounding the coming of the Holy Ghost to the disciples at Pentecost and drew lessons from this event.

Organ Recital. Before service began, a short organ recital was given by Dr. Arnold Fox, organist of Stone Church, which was greatly appreciated. At the close of the service the National Anthem was sung and Rule Britannia played by Mr. Fox as a voluntary.

The music was rendered by a large choir, including the offertory anthem, "Pilgrims of the Night," in which solos were sung by Mrs. G. K. Bell and Mrs. Harrison.

Impressive Service of Ordination

Two More Elders Added to Eldership of First Presbyterian Church, West St. John. After the morning service in the First Presbyterian church, West St. John, Sunday, Walter B. Brown and John Montgomery were ordained to the Eldership. After the sermon by the minister of the church, Rev. Dr. Morrison, these gentlemen, together with the church elders, were called to the Communion Table, and, after having taken upon themselves the vows, they were ordained by prayer and the laying on of hands after which they were given the right hand of fellowship by the Elders. They were then addressed by Rev. Dr. Morrison who explained to them the duties of their office.

Memorable Words. After pointing out to the newly ordained elders the duties pertaining to the office, Dr. Morrison concluded with the memorable words delivered by John Knox, the great Scottish reformer to the elders he had ordained in St. Giles, Edinburgh in the year 1562:

"Magnify God who, of His mercy hath called you to rule within His Church. Be faithful to your vocation. Show yourself zealous to promote virtue; fear not the faces of the wicked, but rebuke their wickedness. Be merciful to the poor and support them to the uttermost of your power and so shall you receive the benediction of God in the present and in the life everlasting."
