The Randall bcom has advanced several points. His friends are becoming more open in their expressions of the opinion that the Pennsylvanian is the proper man for that democrats to nominate. They say that the Cleveland boom is bursted, and the Randall boom gathers from its ruins. The combination against the New Yorker is generally believed to have been the work of Randall's workers, and it is thought that if they succeed in getting him out of the way they will begin as vigorously to attack the next strongest man in their way. Their design is to knock out the field in detail. They think that if they can defeat the strong by combining with the weak, the latter will be easily enough gotten rid of when the proper time comes.

The feeling at the Congress.

If we years with its total withdrawal. The Church must soon be left to its own resources, and become self sustaining. From a careful estimate made by the Board of Home Missions it will be observed that an increased amount of annual contributions is reformed to the unpaid balance reported last years. want to go will be forced to remain here. The feeling at the Capitol is that Congress should adjourn to Chicago to prevent a row over the tariff, and the principle object of many of the denocratic members of Congress in going to Chicago is to keep a governing eye on tariff agitation. The plan is to restrict the entire discussion of that whole question to the committee on resolutions, and that committee will sit with closed doors. Strong opposition is manifest, even among the tariff reformers, to any movement looking to extreme tariff declaration in the Chicago platform, but both wings agree to a very positive declaration in favor of tariff the angular contributions is requisite in order to maintain the present missions as now provided for.

Every year there are found large settlements or districts where are those professedly members of the church, and others equally worthy of regard, wholly destitute of the means of grace. To meet such requirements and the proposed gradual withdrawal of the grant from the Society of England, it will be necessary to increase the parposes of the Society. According to Col. Thomas Porterhouses Ochiltree, Cleveland is "nowhere."
"Cleveland can't be elected," said the HonTom the other evening to a democratic fellow-member of the House; "Kelly will knife him. I've just come from New York, and I know what I am talking about. If you want to win you should nominate Joe McDonald or Carlisle; either of them could be elected. So could Ben Butler. Butler is powerful with the Irish, the labor element, and anti-monopolists. He'd poll an immense vote. But nominate Cleveland and you're beaten out of sight. I'm giving you the straight tip," and the red ranger of the Rio Grande shook his gory locks and boarded a Herdic for the Capitol.

In view of the situation every individual in the various communities should be willing to do his or her share to effect an improvement. We venture the assertion that there are few sections where the credit system prevails to so great an extent as in the Northern part of New Brunswick—a system which has done much to hinder the progress of the country in the days that are gone, and which still obtains, although not to as great an extent as formerly. This system has not only found favor with many who have done business in the past, but is still maintained in some quarters. If business were conducted to the should be compelled to pay tax to the operator. He quoted the case of an operator who supplied a lot of lumber to the Messrs. Presentation to Rev. Wm. Aitken.

At the Manse, Newcastle, on the even ing of Friday the 4th inst., Mr. Yeoman in the name and on behalf of a few of the members and adherents of St. James' Church, presented the Rev. William a public meeting on Friday Aitken with a well filled purse of sovereigns. Mr. Yeoman said that it was not given for its intrinsic worth, although Mr. Aitken might find it useful now that he was on the eve of his departure to visit his native land. It was the to express in some slight manner their respect and esteem. The gift was accompanied with kind words, Mr. Yeoman Aitken a prosperous voyage and a safe and happy return to his attached people. Mr. Aitken gave the following reply:-Mr. Yeoman,-Allow me to thank you and through you, my kind friends, the members of St. James' Church.
