The Fleuro Pneumonia Scare.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The fleuro-pneumonia scare is still kept up by the authorities of the Board of Agriculture and a rigid search for the disease is being made among all the cargoes arriving from American ports. After a careful microscopic examination the scientists declared the animals slaughtered had been free from fleuro-pneumonia. The cargo has consequently been released, and the cattle were sold on today's market. The officials do not claim to have found a single case of fleuro-pneumonia among Canadian cattle beyond the doubtful cases among the cattle from the Huron and Monk Seaons. On the other hand, within the last eight weeks well-authenticated cases of fleuro have been found among United States cattle landed at British ports.

LONDON, Nov. 21.

An American mustang brought hither by Baldo Bili, and purchased by a London cab company, was on Saturday jauntily trotting along Pall Mall, with Ashmead Bartlett as a "fare," when suddenly the animal stopped and began to buck in true mustang fashion. He smashed the dashboard, scattering the splinters over the dignified Ashmead, and then settled down to a twenty-mile-an-hour pace. Ashmead clung desperately to the cab and shouted "Police!" at the top of his voice, and finally climbed upon the seat. When opposite Buckingham Palace the bucking mustang stopped as suddenly as he had started. This materially aided Mr. Bartlett in the flying leap he made over the heels of the mustang and the relics of the dashboard.

It appeared in evidence that a child of Holmes had died the day before the accident, and he applied to be relieved from his duties that night, but the request was refused by the station master. Holmes fell asleep, and forgot the goods train on the track, which he woke up and signalled all clear for the express.

A Family of Ten Murdered.

WARSAW, Nov. 22.—A terrible crime is reported from the village of Zarysk, near Brest, Lithuanian. It appears that a family of ten—father, mother, sons and daughters—were in a conspiracy for horse stealing. The peasants surrounded their house and demanded the thieves to surrender. When the family refused the mob set fire to the house and surrounding buildings. The suspected thieves stayed in the burning buildings as long as the flames permitted, and then emerged cautiously. They had not proceeded far when the mob, lying in ambush, fell upon them with scythes, knives and bludgeons. All ten were murdered in cold blood after the torture had been applied to the young women and the old farmer. Afterward the bodies were thrown into the flames. The whole mob of villagers then marched off to town and surrendered. The authorities were, of course, unable to accommodate so many prisoners, and as none of them confessed individually to the crime committed, but stated that all had been concerned and nobody was specially to blame, several of the wealthiest peasants were retained as hostages and the others sent back to their village.

NOT BELLA'S COMET.

And It's Going Away from the Earth and Is Now 50,000,000 Miles Distant.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Prof. Lewis Boss, of the Lick Observatory, who has been watching the comet, whose alleged near approach to the earth has aroused the apprehensions of the nervous and timid, says he is satisfied that the celestial wanderer with the nebulous equatorial tail is not even traveling in the track of the Bella comet, as was at first supposed by some astronomers. Moreover, Prof. Boss says that while he has not been able as yet to fix the orbit of the comet, he is satisfied that instead of approaching the earth at the rate of 700 miles a second and being a couple of nights ago only 11,000,000 miles away, the comet is actually going away from the earth, and is now about 50,000,000 miles away. As he is now so distant, he is certain that the comet is a new one and is unknown to astronomers.

WHERE VOTES ARE MADE.

The Business at the Court of Revision.

The Liberals Appear To Be Adding the Most—A Chance for Mechanics to Attend.

MONDAY AFTERNOON.

The second session of the Court of Revision commenced at 2 p.m., Judge Davis presiding. As a good many applicants from all parts of the city were in waiting, the judge consented, after Nos. 1 and 2 wards had been dealt with, to take up the cases as they came along, and in this way a good many names were disposed of. Thanks to the comparatively simple and realities with which the Dominion law bristles were conspicuously absent. Only a couple of instances was there possibility of argument.

One of these arose out of the Conservative objection to Mr. Frank W. Lilley's vote. Mr. Lilley has been traveling in Canada and the States for a New York firm since April. His family and home are still in London, and he has several times returned. He is still a British subject. Mr. Cox for the Conservatives contended that he was not a resident within the act. Judge Davis said he was strongly of the opinion that Mr. Lilley's vote was good, as he was a yearly tenant, his family was still here and he had no other domicile. He allowed the vote to stand for argument.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Carnegie Music Hall has seldom held a larger and never a more enthusiastic gathering than it did to-night, when Mr. and Mrs. Ballington Booth addressed the first meeting of the Continental Congress of the Salvation Army. Two Indians named Louis Noose and M. Franks, belonging to the tribe located on the Gibson Reserve in Muskoka district, went out on a hunting expedition, crossing Black Lake to a place where game was plentiful. They succeeded in shooting a deer, and when ready to return placed it in their log canoe, together with a dog which accompanied them, and then started for home. All went well until they were within about 100 yards from shore, when the dog began to gnaw the deer. This Noose objected to, and drawing his paddle struck the dog a blow which caused it to jump to one side of the canoe, which immediately capsized, throwing both occupants into the water. Franks succeeded in reaching the shore but Noose was drowned. Some of the Indians suspected foul play on the part of Franks, as Noose was a capital swimmer.

 —BROWNING.

London, Tuesday, Nov. 22.

WE HAVE never been able to discover how any man who is opposed to combine rule can consistently continue to vote for any party that receives its main support from the rings.

ANOTHER notable conversion from trade restrictionism is exemplified by the resolution of the Bathurst (N.B.) Courier to support Hon. Mr. Laurier in place of the defenders of monopoly, on the side of whom it has been found in past Dominion elections.

THERE are the best of reasons for stating that there is not the slightest probability of a Provincial general election till after two more sessions of the Legislature. But a bye-election, resulting from the resignation of Mr. W. R. Meredith, now of Toronto, may take place in this city any day soon.

NICHOLAS FLOOD DAVIN is an Irishman and entitled to speak twice. At the first attempt, he said: "Mr. Daly, the new Minister of the Interior, has not head enough to fill his father's shoes." (Wind-sor Record.)

What good purpose can Mr. Daly serve by even attempting to put his head in his father's shoes?

THE time for the opponents of combine rule and trade restriction to prepare for next Dominion election is now. Public opinion against taxation for the sake is growing enormously all the time. Let it be kept in the right groove, and the interests of the many will soon be looked after. The few can be relied on to look after themselves.

AN IMPORTANT act, dealing with bees and the spraying of fruit trees, comes into force on Jan. 1 next. The statute provides that no person, in spraying or sprinkling fruit trees during the period within which such trees are in full bloom, shall use, or cause to be used, any mixture containing paris green or any other poisonous substance injurious to bees.

IS THERE no consistency in the Ottawa rulers? They have countenanced the peripatetics of Thomas Cowan, postmaster at Galt, in every recent electoral contest; but they send word to no account belong to a political society. The rule is a good one, but it should be applied to every person alike, or not at all.

THE St. Thomas Journal joins the procession in favor of the registration of voters on the eve of an election. Why should not the press be united in the demand for this reform? It is in the interests of every citizen. Let the Ontario Government set the example and let no rest be given to the Ottawa Administration till it follows suit.

THE many Canadian friends of Mr. Justin McCarthy, the historian, lecturer, and parliamentarian, will regret to hear that he is very ill, and may be compelled to resign the leadership of the Home Rulers in the British Parliament. A cablegram informs us that Mr. McCarthy has not yet recovered from the attack of scarlatina from which he suffered last spring, and is ordered to the south of France for an indefinite time.

THE municipal elections were conducted on Dominion political lines in Nova Scotia last week, in accordance with the order sent out from Ottawa to leaders in the Conservative ranks. The Halifax Chronicle, while referring to the fact that the scheme failed in its object, the Liberals controlling more councils than during last year, very properly counsel the municipal authorities to be guided in their work by the principle that their first duty is to manage honestly and well the local affairs of their constituents. That cannot be done if to Ottawa wire-pullers allegiance is primarily insisted on.

THOUGH the population of England has increased a great deal in the last ten years, it is reassuring to note that there has been a steady falling off in the number of prisoners in places of punishment. In 1880 the number committed to jail was 9,818. The number for the past year was only 12,063. One curious result of the change is made evident in the fact that many of the rescue and all societies find themselves with little or nothing to do, and there is an uneasy civility among them. It surely ought to be easy for one or more to go out of business and give their attention and money where it is more required. General Booth would doubtless find them something to do in working for the reclamation of the "submerged tenth."

LOVERS of horses will be interested in the success of the Russian experiments with aluminium shoes, conducted by the cavalry authorities. A few horses in the Finland dragons were shod with one aluminium shoe and three iron shoes each, the former being on the fore foot in some cases and on the hind foot in others. The experiments lasted six weeks, and showed that the aluminium shoes lasted longer and preserved the foot better than the iron ones. No aluminium shoes broke, and they were used over again for reshoeing the horses. Moreover, they were worked over hard and very stony ground. The most important fact of all is that aluminium horseshoes are only one-third to one-fourth the weight of iron shoes.

THE whirligig of time brings some strange revenges. The daughter of the Duke of Abercorn married the late Duke of Marlborough, but was divorced from him because of the immoral life which he led. Then he came to the United States and married Mrs. Hammersley, the widow of a New York millionaire. The new duchess spent about a million dollars putting the famous seat of the duke into good shape. Then he died and the son of the divorced wife reigned in his stead. Mrs. Hammersley that was had to stand aside, as a matter of course, and the young duke, who is at college, at once installed his mother, the divorced duchess, as the presiding feminine of the establishment. Thus, though she suffered by her husband's amours, she now reaps where a rival sowed.

SWAPPING BRAINS.

The high tax managers in Canada are hand-in-glove with the monopolists in the United States. When the N. P. was first inaugurated, Sir Leonard Tilley sent to Washington for a man to show him how to go about the business of handing over tariff control to the budding combines. As one good turn deserves another, when a reporter of the New York Tribune, the paper controlled by the defeated protectionist candidate for Vice-President, visited Ottawa to get figures to bolster up the case for the United States combines, he was taken in hand by the brethren in charge at the capital with much good pleasure. He returned to New York with a grip full of statistics, going to show that the increased taxes on Canadian products had been detrimental to our trade. These were given, we suppose, on the basis of one good turn deserving another.

UNTAXED CORN A NECESSITY.

A delegation of Middlesex county farmers called upon the editor of the ADVERTISER last week, desiring to show the plight in which those of their number who have not been able to sell their "stockers" are now placed.

There are, it seems, hundreds of farmers in this Province who have "stockers," or lean cattle, in their stables, and are unable to find any market for them, while they cannot afford to feed them during the winter months and expect to make a cent on them next year.

These farmers have been in the habit of pasturing their lean cattle up to the end of October or the middle of November. They have sold the animals to be marketed in Britain during the last two or three weeks of St. Lawrence navigation. But this year, before they had an opportunity to sell, the edict went forth from the British Government that all cattle from Canada must be slaughtered immediately on landing. This, of course, cut off all demand for Canadian "stockers," because lean animals that could not be fed in Britain would be worth little more than the price of their skin if slaughtered on arrival.

It is contended that the edict is unfair to Canada, and that the sickness among Canadian cattle landed in Great Britain was a common cold and not the dreaded pleuro-pneumonia, which, in fact has not been known to be prevalent in the Dominion. As to that, of course, our farmers cannot decide; it all depends upon the British authorities. They may, or may not, continue to enact that Canadian cattle shall be killed as soon as landed. There is no telling how long the regulation will continue in force. That it has been enacted, with the countenance not only of the present Government, but of the Minister of Agriculture in the Salisbury Administration, shows the strength of the opposition to the "stocker" trade, and forever shatters the view promulgated by many Canadian politicians—that the British Government refrained from scheduling our cattle because a trade restrictionist policy is maintained between the United States and Canada.

What our farmers and statesmen have now to do is to meet the situation. Our farming friends who now have "stockers" on their hands say that they cannot fatten them at a profit, to compete with the live stock sent from the United States and other countries to great Britain, unless they are put on the same level in point of obtaining the cheapest and best food. Wheat in this locality is cheap—it has never been cheaper in the experience of the present generation than during the past month or two—but it will not pay the farmer to turn it into feed. Oats are this year very light, rarely weighing more than 70 pounds to the bag, and that crop cannot be depended on to make good feed, especially as the root crop, that would be fed with it, is short.

What the farmers need is an abundant supply of corn, which can only be obtained by the removal of the duty. Corn, indeed, is the cattle feeder's raw material. Why should he be debarred from getting it in the present crisis? The farmers tell us that their only salvation, so far as "stockers" are concerned, lies in obtaining cheap feed and plenty of it. The Administration at Ottawa will be derelict in its duty if it does not immediately pass an order-in-council throwing off the duty. The cattle feeders must have relief.

CORRESPONDENTS who send anonymous letters, and do not inclose their names and addresses, cannot expect the ADVERTISER to print their communications. We will fire no one's bullets in the dark.

WRONG, THEN NOT RIGHT.

Democratic candidates for the offices of district attorney and superintendent of education in Buffalo promptly disclaimed all title to the places to which they were nominally elected by manufactured votes. Of course their disclaimers were not filed until the fraud that gave them a majority was so thoroughly exposed that they could not have assumed office without incurring disgrace.

The crime was ostensibly in the interests of the Democratic party, but Democratic lawyers voluntarily appeared to prosecute the jugglers who disgraced the Democracy by robbing Republicans.

Except that it violated spirit as well as letter, the Buffalo iniquity was not a more glaring defiance of law than the London crime. Party friends of Hon. John Carling ought to pay in silence what they owe the nominal victor, but actual victim, in that late unpleasantness. Articles written in an effort to persuade the country that wrong last February is right this November draw too heavily upon public forgetfulness. Mr. Carling is an old man, who has done and is doing much good work for the country. It is a pleasure to speak well of him, but honest journals cannot accept as valid the claim that Mr. Carling's occupation of Mr. Hyman's seat is a triumph of virtue.—[Toronto Telegram.]

When even a journal that supported the Conservatives in the last Dominion campaign thus arraigns the perpetrators of the and the beneficiary by the great London Seat Steal, it is not difficult to reach the conclusion that the enormity of the crime against the majority of the electorate is such that no honest man can defend it. Those who profited by it hang their heads in shame, but that, as the Toronto journal says, does not right the wrong.

We have among us a class who constantly hold our neighbors up to scorn as corrupt to the core. The contrast which our contemporary has instituted between the conduct of the men who stole Mr. Hyman's seat and the Buffalo Democrats, who promptly refused to benefit by a fraudulent count of the votes, is most marked. While the London rascality remains condoned, and even Mr. Carling's associates, let no one say a word about the wrong-doing of the people of any other country.

ANOTHER "MOMENT OF WEAKNESS."

"This greatest of preventable evils can be prevented, this worst of slavery can be abolished, this most crying of all national disgraces can be forever done away with." So said George E. Foster of Intemperance, just eight years ago, but the Finance Minister of to-day is as mute as an Egyptian Sphinx, as dumb as an oyster, before this same overshadowing curse. On either side stand XXX Carling and Frank Smith with sardonic smiles.

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown, Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief."

On the Problem of Street Railway Travel.

The Old Company's New Proposals Virtually Accepted.

Good Chances for the London West Amalgamation. Proposal to Reduce the Wards Four and Knock out the Committee. The People to Vote on City Control of Electric Lighting.

The City Council held another protracted meeting last evening. London West amalgamation came up again and was soon disposed of, with the chances in favor of amalgamation. The electric street railway matter, of course, occupied the attention of the aldermen during the greater portion of the session. Mr. C. H. Ivey, representing the new company, was present, but did not remain long after he saw the turn that affairs were taking. Wm. Bowman, V. Cronyn, T. H. Smallman, J. H. Fieck and Hume Cronyn were present in the interest of the old company, whose new proposition was accepted with a few amendments after a thorough discussion. All the members stuck to their seats and several motions to adjourn were lost. An interesting report on the cost of operating the London and Port Stanley Railway was presented. Every alderman was in attendance, as follows: Mayor Spencer, Aldermen Cronyn, Wm. Heaman, John Heaman, Yates, O'Meara, Jellery, Menzies, Jones, Garbath, Hannan, Leonard, Gurratt, Drenaney, Fitzgibbon, Bartlett, Judd, Shaw and Parnell, City Clerk Kingston and Sergeant-at-Arms Merritt.

LONDON WEST AMALGAMATION.
W. H. Bartlett, clerk of London West Council, who had decided not to submit the matter of amalgamation to the electors as a result of the action taken by the City Council.
Deputy Reeve Searrow thought it would be better if the council would reconsider their action of the last meeting and adopt the agreement entered into by the joint committee. The electors would then carry the by-law. Otherwise they would not. The council did not hesitate about granting $5,000 to St. John's.

Ald. Gurratt objected to London West being called a company. In assessment it would not average more than one-quarter of one other ward. It would also be too largely represented in the council proportionately. He also objected to the city being responsible to individual residents in case of damage should the breakwater give way.
Ald. Judd moved that the city solicitor be instructed to prepare a clause to be inserted in the original agreement, i.e., giving London West a fixed assessment for ten years, to provide that the city be not responsible for damage in case of the breakwater or any portion of it giving way, and that as amended the agreement be adopted.

Ald. Moule moved that the original agreement be adopted, but afterwards withdrew his motion.

THE LONDON AND PORT STANLEY.
Mr. C. E. Hanson, of Windsor, the mechanical expert, reported that he inspected the bridges on the London and Port Stanley Railway. He submitted his report and estimate of cost of repairs needed to insure safety to life and property.

At Port Stanley the bridge over the Kettle Creek was sound and good for several years. Twenty-five dollars per annum would keep this bridge good for years. The Zviz bridge, with some minor repairs, which need not exceed $100, and a like sum the following year, would keep all safe for five years. This bridge would be replaced at a cost of $1,800. The Mill Creek bridge needed minor repairs, to cost $300. An expenditure of $400 in two years would keep this structure entirely safe for three years. The structure could be replaced in its present form for $8,000. The Kettle Creek bridge was in very fair order. Digman's Creek bridge was good for ten years with ordinary repairs and care—say $25 per annum. Beattie's bridge over right of way was in good order. Thames River bridge had an expenditure of say $25 per annum could be kept in good order for a long term. The overhead bridges (four in number) would need new repairs in two years to cost $1,000. The engine house, partly taken down and the other part much decayed and unsafe, would need to be built up at a cost of about $1,500. The track, rails and ties were in good order and safe for a heavy traffic. Regarding the appliances at the crossings of the Grand Trunk, Air Line and Michigan Central on the main line at St. Thomas, according to all precedents those roads would have to go to the expense of such crossings, as the London and Port Stanley was the oldest line. Recapitulation:

REPAIRS PER ANNUM.
Kettle Creek bridge, Port Stanley	$25
Beattie's bridge	25
Zviz bridge	100
Mill Creek bridge	300
Beattie's bridge	25
Digman's Creek bridge	25
Beattie's bridge	25
Thames River bridge	25
Four overhead bridges	500
Total	$1,010

FOR ENTIRE NEW BRIDGES.
Kettle Creek bridge	$1,800
Mill Creek bridge	300
Digman's Creek bridge	10,500
Beattie's bridge	600
Beattie's bridge	600
Total	$13,800

Turn table.....$31,950
Total.....$31,950
In regard to the rolling stock required for, say, three regular trains per day, he would think it advisable to have two locomotive engines to meet possible emergencies. The cost would be about as follows:

Two engines	$15,000
Two first class passenger coaches	8,000
Two smoking cars	1,000
One baggage and post car	1,200
Total	$25,200

On a additional car and coach might be required in summer, but for ordinary traffic the above would answer. For excursion purposes the company should be in a position to put on a train of twelve cars, each capable of seating 60 persons, carrying a total of 800. The eight additional excursion cars would average about $2,000 each. In regard to the daily expenses in running the London and Port Stanley Railway, including the staff necessary to handle the trains, the help required to handle freight, and mechanics and help to keep the rolling stock, track and bridges in proper order, including expenses of fuel and oil, repairs to bridges and track, to be about $85,000 per annum, say $115 per day.

The report was adopted clause by clause.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.
No. 2 committee, Ald. Connor, chairman:

1. That Jas. Magee's claim for damages for R. Angus be filed. 2. That tender of M. Cox for the drain on Maple street be accepted. 3. That F. Henry's account for $76 for taking levels in ward 6 last year be paid. 4. That R. Ironside be granted one week's leave of absence on account of illness. 5. Submitting city solicitor's opinion of balance due Contractor Guelich for Dundas street pavement from Waterloo to Colborne street.

The report was adopted, the last clause being referred to No. 2 with power.

Ald. Gurratt submitted No. 1 committee's report which recommended the appealing of the suit of Watt vs. the City, to the Supreme Court. He explained that the question at stake was a very important one to the city, involving a matter of assessment. The cost of appeal would be $400. The clause was carried. The clause instructing the city engineer to proceed against the Grand Trunk Railway for blocking a street crossing was lost.

The quarterly statements of the auditors for the last two quarters were submitted. For the quarter ending June 30 the receipts were $533,773.63, and the disbursements $533,794.14. For the last quarter the receipts were $283,684.67, and the disbursements $280,635.59.

COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.
The Bonnet Furnishing Company asked that the exemption from taxation be extended to them as present proprietors.

No. 1.
Parks & Pardon threatened to take proceedings against the city unless the surface water be taken away from Mrs. Ira Beasley's lot in South London. No. 2.
Parks & Pardon, on behalf of the executors of the Goodhue estate, forbade the council using the creek running through the estate as a drain. No. 2.

BYLAWS, ETC.
To contract a tile drain on Emery street.

Ald. O'Meara moved that the bylaw be not read a second time, but laid over until certain persons objecting to the course of the drain come to an understanding. The bylaw was laid over.

Ald. Connor moved that the drain on York street be advertised, and tenders be called. Carried.
Ald. Parnell moved that the engineer have those sidewalks still unfinished attended to at once. Carried.
Ald. O'Meara moved that the fire limits bylaw be amended so that the outer wall of a building be of brick, iron or stone. No second.

Ald. Yates gave notice that he would move at the next meeting that the city be divided into four wards, and that a bylaw be prepared to be submitted to the ratepayers at the next municipal elections; that the system of committees be abolished, and three salaried commissioners be employed to carry out the wishes of the council; and that the necessary legislation be proceeded with to carry out the same, and the clerk communicate with the other municipalities with a view to getting their cooperation.

Ald. Judd moved that copies of the lease of the London and Port Stanley Railroad to the Grand Western Railway Company, dated 1870, be sent to all persons making inquiries regarding the lease of the road. Carried.

Ald. Parnell moved, seconded by Ald. Judd, that a bylaw be submitted to the people in January for their opinion as to whether the city should control its own electric lighting.

THE OLD COMPANY'S NEW OFFER.

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 17th inst., and a copy of a resolution passed by the City Council on the 11th inst., with reference to propositions for electric street railway, and in reply thereto, after consideration, the London Street Railway Company desire to make a proposal, of which the following are the leading points:

1. To change the motive power of their line to that of electricity and to extend their present line as follows: Dundas street east to city limits, Dundas street west to Ridout street, Ridout street south to York street, York street west to the Wharfedale street, and from the Wharfedale street to the Wortley road, Wortley road from Askin street to Bruce street, and south of Bruce street to Bruce street, Wellington street south from Horton to Bridge street, and from Bridge street to the Hamilton road east to the city limits, Oxford street east from Richmond to Adelaide, Richmond street north to the city limits, Horton street between Clarence and Richmond streets.

2. Further: Central avenue from Richmond street to Adelaide street in three years.

3. Cash fares, 5 cents each ticket, eight for 25 cents.

4. Seven days of the Western Fair in each year, fares to be 5 cents each; no tickets accepted and transfers granted.

5. Transfers to any part of the city at above rates, except on the days reserved as above. Only one transfer to be allowed on one fare.

6. Streets on which extensions are to be laid to be left in as good order by the company as when opened by them.

7. All future repairs for the whole system to be made by the company, the material to be furnished by the city, as per the original bylaw or franchise.

8. The company, its property, stocks and dividends (if any), to be exempt from taxation, license fee or other municipal rates during the remainder of their franchise.

9. If at the expiration of five years from the date of agreement the company find that the system of reduced fares as above specified and numbered 2, 3 and 4, is unsatisfactory, they will then from that time have the option to return to the old rate of fares not exceeding 5 cents for each trip, and will thereafter pay to the city a percentage as follows: Six per cent. on the gross receipts up to $100,000; 8 per cent. on gross receipts from $100,000 to $150,000; 10 per cent. from $150,000 to $200,000, and 12 per cent. on all over $200,000.

At the expiration of the term of the franchise, the city to have the right to assume the possession of all the property and effects of the company on payment to them of the value thereof, ascertained by arbitration, if not otherwise agreed to.

Ald. O'Meara objected to considering an outline such as the one just read.

Ald. Parnell moved that the council go into committee of the whole, which they did, Ald. Shaw in the chair.

Ald. Connor moved that the existing bylaws be read. Carried.

On motion of Ald. Parnell, Mr. V. Cronyn was asked to explain his proposition, which he thought was self-explanatory. He thought that they were giving the city 25 per cent. of the profits, giving eight tickets for 25 cents was giving them at an average of 32 cents each. Now they cost the citizens 43 cents each. Last year they carried about 100,000 transfers. The horses being dispensed with there would be no wear and tear. He thought it would not be unreasonable to ask the city to pay for all the repairs.

On motion the proposition was taken up clause by clause.

Ald. Gurratt objected to the proposition on the ground that No. 4 ward was not sufficiently supplied with lines, for instance down Adelaide street.

Mr. Cronyn said that they could not undertake any more railroad crossings.

Ald. O'Meara—I would ask Mr. Cronyn why they had abandoned Talbot street.

Mr. Cronyn said that that would practically kill the present Richmond street line.

Ald. Leonard moved that the matter be taken up street by street. Carried.

Ald. Judd objected to extending the Wortley road line south of Bruce street to Briscoe. He thought they should build to West avenue, or about 1,000 feet further, and thus accommodate the residents of the southeastern part of the city.

Ald. Parnell agreed with him, except that he thought that the line should stop at Langarth street. He moved accordingly. Lost.

Mr. Cronyn—We could not possibly undertake to do any more than is stipulated in the agreement. We have gone to the very extreme limit. That is our final offer. And then Ald. Jones moved that the company be requested to extend the Hamilton street line south to Emery street. Lost.

Ald. Judd moved that the line on the Wortley road be built from Briscoe to West avenue within three years. Lost.

Ald. Connor moved that the plan drawn up at the recent meeting of the council on Saturday evening be adopted. Every member present had agreed to it. Lost.

Ald. Moule moved that the Oxford street line be extended west from Richmond to Talbot. Lost.

Ald. O'Meara moved that instead of the extension on Central avenue a line be built on Waterloo street from Oxford to Victoria. Lost.

Ald. Drenaney moved that an extension be built on Adelaide street from Central avenue to Dundas. Carried.

Ald. O'Meara moved that there be an extension on Talbot, from Dundas to Oxford and thence to Richmond. Lost.

Ald. Parnell moved the adoption of the clause for the clause.

Ald. Gurratt moved in amendment that the charges for every person except children in arms in the same continuous route be 5 cents, or ten tickets for 25 cents, including transfers, except on the days of the Western Fair season, when 5 cents cash fare be charged; and when the gross receipts reach $100,000 and over the following percentage be paid by the company to the city: $100,000 to $125,000, 5 per cent.; $125,000 to $150,000, 6 per cent.; $150,000 to $175,000, 7 per cent.; $175,000 to $200,000, 8 per cent.; over $200,000, 7 per cent.; and if after ten years it is not found to pay that they may revert to the Ivey proposition of percentage and eight tickets for 25 cents during certain hours.

Ald. Parnell's motion carried.

When the "transfer" clause came up Mayor Spencer moved that it be amended so that a passenger could be carried from any one point on the company's lines to any other. Carried.

Clause 8, relating to the fares, was amended so that the words "Ivey proposition" were substituted for "old rate."

Ald. Judd moved that the words "and corporation, or either of them" be inserted after the word "company." Carried.

The clauses amended passed, as did all the others of the proposition.

Ald. O'Meara moved that the proposition be laid over for a week, and that the new company be allowed to amend their proposition, and that the two be submitted at the next meeting of the council. Lost.

The committee then rose and reported. The adoption of the report was moved.

Ald. Parnell and Judd moved that the original eighth clause be adopted with the addition of the words, "corporation, or either of them" after the word "company," and also that the report be amended and adopted. Carried. Ald. Connor, O'Meara and Shaw voting nay.

Ald. Judd moved that the proposals of the London Street Railway Company as accepted be submitted to the city solicitor to prepare a bylaw and submit it to the council at its next meeting. Carried.

A motion to adjourn at 12:35 was lost.

Ald. Gurratt gave notice that he would move that this agreement be accepted be reconsidered at the next meeting of the council.

Ald. Connor moved that the meeting of the council on Saturday evening be printed in the minutes.

Several aldermen urged that it was not a meeting of the council, but merely an informal talk.

At 12:40 the council adjourned.

A SWEET STORY
Is That of "Robin Hood," Told in Music and Libretto.

Among the legends which enshrine the memory of heroes of yore there is none more popular than that of Robin Hood. It has been sung by poets for centuries; it has been put in every nursery, and, lastly, it has been put in opera which, by popular acclamation, is declared to be the greatest light opera of the decade. In England and in this country the opera of "Robin Hood" has been received with a storm of approval, and it is to be heard in this city to-morrow evening, presented by the Robin Hood Opera Company, with a cast which can hardly be equalled by any opera company in the country. Sherwood Forest is re-produced upon the stage, and there will be a show of his Lincoln green, sings his merry songs of "Brown October Ale," "Frier Tuck" cracks his jokes, the Sheriff of Nottingham schemes and plans; and Robin Hood leads them all and loves Maid Marian, and she, like all sensible girls, reciprocates. Of the humor and music, too much cannot be said, and yet it may all be summed up in improved upon. Its rare humor keeps the audience in a continuous uproar. This is but a glimpse of the "Robin Hood" opera, which told in music and libretto, is one of the sweetest stories ever presented.

Guy Bowdler's minstrels on Friday will be well worth seeing.

Murray is in custody in the River road, where his death occurred. Dr. Anderson says he will come out on the top.

—The death occurred Monday morning of Mr. George McIntosh, late resident of Fifth avenue, this city. Mr. McIntosh was in his 73rd year. He formerly farmed in South Dorchester on a large scale, only moving to this city a short time ago. He has a brother, James, living in London, and another, Alexander, in Benquet, and a sister, Charlotte, living in London. Mr. McIntosh had only lately returned from the old country, and was visiting friends on the River road, where his death occurred. —St. Thomas Journal.

—R. W. Timson, painter, Elias street, writes giving his experience as an inmate of the London City Hospital. He says: "I wish to thank the hospital authorities, for the kindness and attention shown to me. I was a patient for a short time, and during that time I was treated with the most kindness and attention. I was especially those two kind lady nurses, who so kindly and tenderly watched over me when no other hand was nigh, for their many kindnesses toward me. I would kindly suggest to these individuals who are visiting the hospital management to visit the hospital a little more, take notice how patients are readily attended to by the nurses, and then remember this text, 'Go thou and do likewise.' This is good advice, but it will be taken to the anonymous correspondents who stab in the dark."

TUESDAY'S POLICE COURT.

A Variety of Cases on the Dock—
—James Springer Fined—
Unnatural Husband.

Another squabble between two neighbors was ventilated at the Police Court this morning, when some of the filthiest expressions in the English vocabulary were charged by Mrs. Annie Elliott with having used abusive language and called her, her husband and child vile names. The complainant had several witnesses, who corroborated her evidence, and the defendant and two inmates of the Good Shepherd's establishment on Sherbrooke street.

James Springer was fined $5 or $10 days for assaulting Mrs. Clara Delamater on Wednesday evening last, when he kicked a burning lamp into her face because she would not allow him to enter her house during her husband's absence. The charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct preferred by his wife was enlarged.

Edward Thorp, aged 15, and Richard Mason, aged 17, were charged by Mrs. Sarah McNeill with having thrown stones at her house and in other ways annoyed her. They are pupils at a boarding school, and the father home several times a day. They denied the charge, but promised not to annoy her in future and were let go.

James Woodford (colored), arrested on Sunday night on a charge of assaulting Mrs. Catherine Morris (colored), was bailed to appear on Nov. 30, owing to the death of his step-father.

Robert Taylor, Fullarton street, and his wife do not agree very well. Yesterday she said she was out washing all day and was returning home when her drunken husband met her on the corner of Talbot and Maple streets and kicked her in a most shameful manner. P. C. Wallace arrested Taylor shortly afterward on a warrant issued by his wife. He was fined $2 or ten days, and was ordered to find sureties to keep the peace.

Joe Harris was fined $2 for assaulting Geo. Rawlings.

Every family should have it.

He was an old merchant who devoted much time to his advertising. "John," said his wife, "what do you want on your tombstone?" "Oh," he answered, "it isn't important what the text is so long as it gets good space and is well displayed." Lovers who quarrel should never marry.

BURIED A STOLEN FORTUNE.

An Express Messenger Who Stole $150,000 Is Caught and Confesses.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—George T. Bagley, a United States Express Company messenger on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, took two packages, containing $150,000, from his safe, left the train at Davenport and buried the treasure. In less than eight hours he was under arrest and the money had been recovered. When Bagley left the car he told the baggage men that he was going to drop off the train a moment to arrange for sending some potatoes from the depot to his family in Davenport. His absence from his post was at once reported to the express company officials in this city, and the facts placed in the hands of the city detective bureau.

Officers Plunkett and Weaver were hurriedly detailed on the case. They learned that Bagley had a woman friend at 310 Michigan avenue, in the person of Mrs. Miller, a dressmaker, and the detectives posted themselves in the house to await the messenger's coming. When Bagley arrived he was placed under arrest and taken to police headquarters, where he encountered Dr. Wygant, the express company's general agent. After considerable talk he admitted that the money could be found at Geneseo, about a half hour's run from Davenport.

Accompanied by Bagley, Detective Weaver and the company's representative boarded a train, and when Geneseo was reached the money was quickly found. The prisoner and every cent of the stolen money were taken to Chicago Saturday afternoon. Bagley is married, and had lived with his family at Davenport. He has been on the present run about two years, and previously drove one of the company's wagons in Davenport.

The express officials deny that there was any robbery at all. "Merely a little misadventure," said President Wygant. "We have lost nothing and there was no robbery." The detectives, on the other hand, aver that the facts are as already stated. The dressmaker is not suspected of complicity in the affair, and has not been arrested.

Miscellaneous Rescues from Ovarian Tumor and Peritonitis.

To Isaac Williams Esq. MITCHELL, Jan. 20, 1887.

Dear Sir,—I am at present recovering from a most successful surgical operation for the removal of an Ovarian Tumor from which I have suffered for a number of years, and for the disorders and general debility arising from such growths, I was continually doctoring. Being strongly opposed to patent medicines, and realizing the need of being careful as to the means used for obtaining relief, it was not without very much persuasion, and after seeking divine guidance, that I consented to give your Royal Crown Remedy a trial for strengthening my then completely run down system. However, I did so, and am thankful to say was not disappointed. In a few days I began to mend, and from that time, July, 1885, until last July, when I was attacked with Peritonitis, I did not feel in need of any medicine of the doctor's prescribing, and when last April I met two doctors in consultation they pronounced my nutrition excellent. I have recommended the use of Royal Crown Remedy to many, and shall continue to do so. Wishing you every success in your sale, I remain yours truly,

We Believe

That a straight, honest business always turns out best in the end. A little money is sometimes made on catchy schemes of doubtful enterprises, but a permanent business can be built up and maintained only by square dealing. The process of getting rich is sometimes a little slow, but the result is usually gratifying. We have aimed for twelve years to give the best value, and we can point with pride to the class of customers we satisfy.

The express officials deny that there was any robbery at all. "Merely a little misadventure," said President Wygant. "We have lost nothing and there was no robbery." The detectives, on the other hand, aver that the facts are as already stated. The dressmaker is not suspected of complicity in the affair, and has not been arrested.

Give Holloway's Corn Cure a trial. It removed ten corns from one pair of feet without any pain. What it has done once it will do again.
