TWO DAYS OF ROMANCING NOW FOR THE FACTS—JEROME

Prosecutor in Thaw Case Ridicules Delmas' Plea and Pins Jury to Hard Facts.

CLOSING HOURS OF GREAT NEW YORK MURDER TRIAL

New York, April 10.—A great mob stormed the doors of the courtroom today in an effort to hear District Attorney Jerome sum up the people's case against Harry K. Thaw. The police had their hands full, and when the doors were opened the room was soon crowded. Members of the Thaw family arrived five minutes before the session began.

Jessiah Thaw, accompanied by the Countess of Yarmouth, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Carnegie followed. Then came Mrs. Edward Thaw and Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. Mrs. Wm. Thaw arrived last. All appeared hopeful and confident.

At 11.35 Justice Fitzgerald took his seat and Harry K. Thaw was called to the bar. All eyes turned to the district attorney while the jurors' roll was called.

Too Much Romance
Mr. Jerome began his address to the jury by saying that the jurors for the past two days had been "wandering through a mere field of romance."

He added that the life of a human being is not to be judged on such a premise, and the issues cannot be determined by Scripture quotations. The verdict must be upon the evidence. Here Mr. Jerome dwelt upon the difficulties to all concerned attending the trial of the case, jurors, court and counsel.

"The law is not cruel," he declared, "it punishes only to protect those who live under it."

Mr. Jerome expressed regret that "in the heat of battle," he had "transcend-

WHAT DID THEY DISCUSS

Edward and Alfonso Have Heart-to-Heart Talk Over Something.

Cartagena, April 10.—The royal meeting terminated today. The British squadron, escorting the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with King Edward and Queen Alexandra on board, departed early this morning, and King Alfonso and the Dowager Queen Christina later left Cartagena for Madrid. The kings conferred absolutely alone for over an hour previous to separating, and it is assumed they went over the question for the discussion of which the meeting was arranged.

WORKMEN BURIED IN BRICK SHOWER

Wind Tears Off Cornice of Big Toronto Factory, Seriously Injuring Two.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto Junction, April 10.—While bricklayers were finishing the cornice of a new machine shop at the Canada foundry works this morning a violent gust of wind carried away about 50 feet of the work. Broken bricks were swept onto a couple of workmen, who were digging a drain at the base of the building. They were seriously injured. If not fatal, Harry Carter, one of the bricklayers, was blown down with the debris and fell on hard ground 25 feet below, seriously injuring his back. Alfred Carter, his brother, saved himself by clutching an iron girder. Then he was with difficulty restrained by his fellow-workmen from jumping to the ground, where his brother was lying groaning. Other men had miraculous escapes. The building is 30x193 feet, and was almost completed.

THE G. T. R. PENSION BILL

Measure Passes the Upper House After Some Discussion.

Ottawa, April 9.—Sir Mackenzie Bowell resumed his speech on the Grand Trunk pension bill by providing that the company cannot ask employees to waive rights to damages for injury or death in the company's service. Sir Mackenzie said it had been established in the courts that a railwayman could not waive his rights. The Grand Trunk were going to furnish all the pension money, and should be given the right to make regulations.

Hon. George W. Ross stated that the intention of the amendment was good, but it seemed to him that it was covered by an act of Parliament of 1904. Apparently the Grand Trunk Railway wanted to be placed in a position to do something generous for their employees. It hardly seemed necessary to charge them with a sinister purpose.

Senator Bernier offered an amendment to the amendment, declaring that nothing in the bill should take away any right the employees had at the present time. After a lengthy discussion Senator Bernier's amendment was rejected by 27 to 18. Senator Ferguson's amendment was declared lost on division, and the bill was given a third reading and passed. The Hamilton radial bill was read the third time.

A RESERVOIR FOR "JUICE"

Electric, Not Alcoholic, and Will Greatly Improve Car Service.

Manager King states that the improvements being made to the power house at the foot of Bathurst street will be completed by the middle of May. Then the company will have large storage batteries installed, so that there will be no jerks in the power used for propelling the street cars. Now, if the engines are stopped a minute, the cars on the streets run out of "juice," as the men say. But the storage batteries will act on the electric current as the reservoir at Springbank acts on the main. If the water is used out of the main more rapidly than it can be pumped in, the water from the reservoir comes to the rescue, and the people in the city are not troubled by jerks in the pressure.

DEAD SPEAKER LAID TO REST

Impressive Ceremonies at Funeral of the Late Hon. Mr. St. John at Toronto.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, April 10.—Resting peacefully in its silken bed and surrounded by a wealth of flowers, the mortal remains of Hon. J. W. St. John, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, were this morning viewed by between 8,000 and 10,000 people in the speaker's apartments at the Parliament buildings. From 8.45 until 1.30 they came in one unceasing stream, the sympathetic and the curious, the old and the young, men, women and children.

At 1.30 the doors to the general public were closed. From 1.30 until 2 o'clock the Masonic Order were permitted to do final honor to a departed brother. The service then passed over to the Government and admission was by ticket only. In the presence of legislators, public men and prominent citizens, the final service was conducted by Rev. W. E. Hinks, Chancellor Burwash and others. At 3 the procession was formed and moved off in sad and solemn march to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. It was one of the largest and most impressive funerals seen in Toronto for many years. A large number of people were present from outside the city, including representatives of many Conservative organizations.

BURSTING FLUE KILLS FIREMAN

Sarnia Man Meets Death in Accident to G. T. R. Engine at Sarnia Today.

Ingersoll, Ont., April 10.—A. W. Smith, of Sarnia, was instantly killed, and a brakeman, whose name could not be ascertained, slightly injured, by the bursting of a flue of a heavy freight engine this morning. The accident occurred at Patton's Sliding, on the Grand Trunk, about three miles west of this town, at 7.15. Smith either jumped or was blown from the engine. His head was terribly crushed by coming in contact with a rail, and the police await a diligent search promptly instituted when picked up. The body was brought here and will be sent to Sarnia tonight. The engineer made his escape by way of the running-board of his engine.

WANTED FOR BIGAMY

St. Thomas Man Makes Charge, But Husband Gets Away.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
St. Thomas, April 10.—Grace McConville, a woman about 35 years of age, secured a warrant yesterday afternoon for the arrest of her alleged husband, David L. Givens, on a charge of being a bigamist. However, the order came too late, as the police after a diligent search promptly instituted, failed to discover the whereabouts of this too-much-married gentleman. The couple were married last February, and Mrs. Givens, it is said, learned the other day that her husband had married in Woodstock three years ago, and that his wife and children were still living there. The mother of wife No. 1 sent the information from Woodstock.

ARE PAYING UP

Non-Residents Wiping Out Their Taxes on Income.

Tax Collector Hayes has thus far succeeded in securing $50 of income taxes from persons who reside out of the city, and who thought it would be difficult to compel to pay. Only about $250 of such taxes remain now to be collected.

Today Major Hayes received a rather humorous letter from a gentleman who has been billed for income. He says that he was not in the city during 1906, the period for which he is being billed, and that he deems it most peculiar that a man should be assessed for living out of town.

The major is looking into the case.

KILLED IN THE WEST Former Stratford Man Loses Both Legs in an Accident.

Stratford, April 9.—E. J. McMillan, a well-known citizen, whose parents and family reside at Stratford, Ont., was run over by the C. P. R. station last night. Both legs were cut off, and the unfortunate young man succumbed to his injuries a few hours later. He formerly was a medical student in Toronto University.

STREET RAILWAY COMES TO TIME

Pays $2,400 for Sewer Reconstruction, and Trouble Is Averted.

Manager King, of the London street railway, last evening handed a check for $2,400 to City Clerk Baker to pay for the company's share of a new sewer on Dundas street, from Wellington to Adelaide street.

Thus the trouble between the city engineer's department and the street railway over the sewer has been brought to an end.

Work on the sewer will be begun at once. Blight & Fleider, the successful tenderers, were in the city today, and the contract will be signed this afternoon.

The sewer will now be constructed along one side of the street, and the old sewer, which lies under the street railway company's tracks for several blocks, will be allowed to remain where it is.

Mr. King pays the city the $2,400 so as to avoid the delay in the service, and also a considerable cost which the removal of the rails to allow of the reconstruction of the old sewer would entail.

Chairman Matthews, of No. 2 committee, declared this morning that if Mr. King had not handed over the money as was agreed upon by the council, he would have ordered City Engineer Graydon to at once proceed with the reconstruction of the old sewer.

The chairman says that the work of paving Dundas street will be pushed this summer, so that the main thoroughfare of the city may be improved in keeping with the other business streets.

PIGS OUTSIDE THE AREA

Three Parties Summoned for Keeping Them Within City Limits.

Assistant Health Inspector James, Laitman, in response to complaints made to Inspector McCullum, today swooped down on the district about the corner of Maitland and Nelson streets, and he found that three people there are keeping pigs within the city limits, contrary to bylaw.

Summonses will be issued at once. A sharp lookout is also being kept for people who keep rags or bones out of the junk area.

AGAINST BREAD BYLAW

The meeting of No. 3 committee, called for this afternoon at 5 o'clock, promises to be interesting.

It is understood that the master bakers of the city will have a deputation present to protest against the city passing a bread bylaw.

The gentleman who bid $400 for the exclusive privilege of selling peanuts and fruits on the streets of London for a year, will be represented by counsel, who will argue his claims for him.

SETTLE FOR $10,000

C. P. R. Come to Terms With Estate of Man Killed in Wreck.

Toronto, April 9.—Thomas Puddicombe, of New Hamburg, was killed in the C. P. R. wreck at Azilda, near Sudbury, and yesterday the company settled with the estate for $10,000, the widow receiving $2,000, the two adult children $1,000 each, and the three infants $2,000 each.

BOYS START BLAZE

Fire Completely Destroys a Barn on High Street, South London.

Boys are blamed for starting a fire which completely destroyed the barn on the premises of Mr. Charles Brennan, the well-known barber, on High street, South London, near Maryboro place.

The firemen were called at 9.28 last evening, but the flames had made such headway that nothing of the old structure could be saved. The firemen, however, did good work in preventing the spread of the flames to the adjoining buildings.

The loss is slight.

WINDS UP FOR SESSION.

Ottawa, April 9.—The public accounts committee wound up business for the session this morning. It will report to the house only evidence taken.

HALF A MILLION SUPPLEMENTARIES

Ontario Expenditure for Year Jumps to $7,035,332.

SUFFRAGE ACT AMENDMENTS

The Present Supplementary Sitings for Registration To Be Done Away With.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, April 10.—The supplementary estimates, submitted to the Legislature yesterday, provide for over half a million dollars of additional expenditure, the exact figures being $516,201. The House spent the evening sitting in considering the various items. Good progress was made, no important changes being made in the items.

For London Asylum $1,000 is provided for interior repairs and alterations, and $250 for a receiving tank and pump.

The Government's intention to remove Toronto Asylum and the Central Prison to the county are foreshadowed in the item of $100,000 for "changes" in the former, and $3,000 for preliminary steps for removal of the latter.

New Judicial Districts.

Provision is made for the institution of the new judicial district of Sudbury. For registry office purposes, $2,200 is asked, while $1,450 is required for salaries of sheriff, clerk of peace, district attorney and clerk of the district court, and $5,000 for the administration of justice. The court house and jail will cost $25,000, the registry office, $6,000, and its furnishings, $1,700.

Under the head of civil government, which calls for $1,735 expenditure in all, $1,200 is for labor bureau agencies, $1,000 for deportation of undesirable immigrants, $2,400 for salaries or expenses of the provincial board of health, and $3,600 for three new factory inspectors. The new speaker gets $500.

For Education.

A number of items of interest are enumerated in connection with education, which gets a total of $43,792. The text book commission's expenses were $8,200. For the purchase of flags for rural schools $5,000 is provided, and the same sum goes for the reorganization of normal school staffs. Queen's University gets $5,000, the first of three annual payments in aid of the education of teachers. The sum of $6,000 is set for professional training of first-class teachers and high school assistants, and $5,000 for gratuities.

The appropriation for agriculture is $22,000. Among the items are: Horse-breeding inquiry $2,000, transportation to International Horse Show $5,000, to assist co-operative associations to purchase power-spraying appliances $3,600, for a fruit building, and new roads at the experimental fruit farm $5,000, for an investigation in regard to plant breeding at the Ontario Agricultural College $1,000, Western Dairy School $1,500.

The sum of $9,600 goes for colonization and immigration grants. Of this the Salvation Army gets $3,000 more, making its grant this year $10,000 in all. An additional $6,000 is to be applied to the work in Great Britain.

The grants for hospitals and public charities total $33,000. The largest item is $50,000 for the London Hygienic Institute. The New Liskeard Hospital gets $2,000.

For public works $23,150 is asked, and for colonization roads $34,900. The latter include a highway from Sudbury to the Soo to cost $5,000, and new roads in Alibiti district, to cost $10,000.

The Parliament buildings are to be insured for $75,000, at a cost of $7,500 for three years.

Miscellaneous items are: Fire ranging along railways, $10,000; surveying Temiskaming Railway, Cobalt to Sudbury, $12,000; enforcing liquor license act, $7,500; fish and game, $6,000; Misses Elizabeth and Mary Ann O'Carroll, losses in 1887, $400.

London City Bill Passed.

At the afternoon session the city of London bill received its final reading, and was passed.

Canada Company's Land.

Mr. Philip H. Bowyer (East Kent) suggested an amendment to the municipal act for the taxation by the municipality of the mineral rights reserved by the Canada Company in their sale of land to the farmers, which amendment has been embodied by the Government in the new act laid before Hon. Mr. Hanna, the provincial secretary.

Regarding the problem of the collection of the tax, the member for East Kent suggested that a similar course be followed to that which obtains in other municipal taxation. If the company failed to pay its mineral rights would be put up for sale, and could be bought in by the farmers.

Hon. Mr. Hanna said that the course suggested by Mr. Bowyer would be adopted, and would follow upon the owner of the mineral interest refusing to pay the tax on such interest, and that the sale of such interest would in no way prejudice or affect the owner of the surface rights.

Hon. Mr. Foy introduced an act amending the manhood suffrage registration act. The present supplementary sittings for registration are to be done away with, and on the regular day application may be made by relatives or persons living in the same house putting in affidavits of the persons unable to be present, but desiring to register.

Hon. Mr. Foy also intimated during the session this morning. It will report to the house only evidence taken.

WATER FIGURES FOR AUDITOR

Statistics of the Komoka and Titus Schemes Ready for Submission.

Chairman Darch, of the water commission, now has Commissioner Saunders' figures and his own figures ready in regard to the Komoka and Titus schemes, and they will be submitted to the city auditor at once.

Mr. Saunders still figures that the Komoka scheme is the better—Mr. Darch appears to be still unconvinced. Mr. Darch said today that he intends to take a vote of the people by mail on the water question.

He is at a loss to know how to put the Titus scheme to the people so that they will be able to vote intelligently upon it, and for this reason he suggests that the question on the ballot be simply this:

"Are you in favor of river water or spring water?"

He admits that there will be practically an answer—spring water—but in deference to the few who are in favor of river water he thinks it only fair that the river water question should be submitted.

Engineer Moore yesterday attempted to test the well on the McGreggor property, but a break in the pump brought the test to a sudden close.

Mr. Moore says that the well was flowing about 400 gallons a minute, which is equal to about 600,000 gallons per day of 24 hours. However, he thinks that this flow could not be kept up, and that 200,000 a day would be much nearer the real amount of water which might be expected from the well.

BANKER CLEWS DEAD.

New York, April 10.—John Henry Clews, a member of the banking firm of Henry Clews, died today after a long illness. Mr. Clews was 51 years old and had been a member of the stock exchange since 1890.

ENGINEER SAYS NO PAY

Street Railway Has Account Against City for $104.

Manager King, of the street railway, has an account of $104 against the city, which he has presented to City Engineer Graydon.

The latter cannot see that the city can pay the account, and there the matter rests for the present.

When the pavement on Richmond street, from Palliatan to Oxford, was constructed, the street railway company constructed its brickwork one and a half inches under than it was compelled to do under the bylaw.

Mr. Graydon says that as debentures were issued for the pavement, and the cost has been apportioned among the people, it is now too late to talk of paying the bill.

Further, Mr. Graydon says that it was the Warren Paving Company which profited by what the street railway did in regard to the inch and a half of pavement, as the city paid the paving people a lump sum for building the Richmond street bitulithide. Had the contract been let at so much a yard it would have been the city that would have profited.

MUST LIVE UP TO REGULATIONS

Health Department After Undertakers, Doctors and Cemetery Boards.

Local physicians, undertakers and cemetery boards are likely to get into trouble as the result of an investigation which has been begun by the Ontario Department of Health into the burial of persons in London without proper certificates having been obtained.

City Clerk Baker has been asked to supply all statistics collected by him in regard to the registration of deaths, and it is promised by the Ontario authorities that there will be trouble.

It appears that quite a number of persons who died in March were buried without the necessary certificates having been secured. The undertakers who conducted the funerals, and the boards of the cemeteries which accepted the bodies, are liable to a fine of not less than $20.

Mr. Baker states that it has been next to impossible to compel the undertakers and others to secure the necessary permits, and he is now making up a statement of people who were buried without the necessary formalities having been complied with.

It is also understood that local doctors who have failed to comply with the regulations of the Provincial Board of Health relative to the reporting of contagious cases, will be pulled up short.

LURE OF LARDER LAKE DISTRICT TALES OF LOST WEALTH IN HILLS

INTERCOLONIAL PREFERENCE

Possibility of Arrangement Between Canada and Australia.

London, April 9.—The Morning Post regrets the circulation of sensational rumors regarding the colonial conference by certain sections of the Unionist press, and suggests that the informal conference of premiers announced by the Express was probably founded on the old report, which may well be true, that the premiers of Canada and Australia intend to take advantage of the occasion to devise a system of preference such as has already been arranged between the Commonwealth and South Africa.

Replying to the Express representative's question as to whether it would be possible for the colonial premiers to get together and develop a scheme of intercolonial preference, Mr. Deakin said all things are possible.

Thousands of Fortune Seekers

Rushing to the New Camps.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., April 10.—During the past few days, according to a report brought here by a miner, 3,000 men have invaded Larder Lake district, where ores rivaling the Cobalt are claimed to have been found. More are coming every day, and teamsters are getting $80 a load for hauling supplies. The only building in the place has twelve bunks, and it is a hard problem to handle the rush.

One miner claims he was offered $400,000 for his claim by an American syndicate.

Stories of vast wealth in the hills started the biggest rush ever known in Canada. It is expected that 10,000 people will arrive during the next few weeks, hundreds coming from the United States.

PHENOMENAL DURABILITY OF TONE

It is not enough that a piano should have a beautiful tone when you hear it in the showrooms. What should interest you most is: will it retain that beautiful tone for a score of years or more? A piano, you know, is generally regarded as a permanent investment, so durability of tone is of paramount importance.

The fact that it is impossible to judge the durability of the tone of a piano until a test of several years' service, leads many makers to use cheap materials and workmanship, with the result that many a purchaser procures a piano that loses its original tone-quality after a few years, perhaps months, of service.

The "House of Nordheimer" never sacrifices quality in order to make a greater profit or undersell competition.

When you buy a "Nordheimer" you get a piano built to satisfy the demands of a most critical musical clientele. You secure a piano that has a reputation for phenomenal durability of tone. A tone that is permanent—that will appeal to your judgment just as strongly twenty years or more from the day when you were first captured by its wonderful purity, sweetness, brilliancy and power.

A "Nordheimer" is a permanent investment—worth every cent you pay for it.

A COUGH is often the forerunner of serious pulmonary afflictions, yet there is a simple cure within the reach of all in Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, an old-time and widely recognized remedy, which, if resorted to at the inception of a cold, will invariably give relief, and by overcoming the trouble guard the system from any serious consequences. Price, 25 cents at all dealers.

"I arrested these men," said Mrs. Sophia Foley of Philadelphia, a little woman, standing between two giants. The court gasped. She was a store detective.

IT RETAINS OLD AND MAKES NEW FRIENDS—Time was when Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil had but a small field of distribution, but now its territory is widespread. Those who first recognized its curative qualities still value it as a specific, and while it retains its old friends it is ever making new. It is certain that whoever once uses it will not be without it.

Local Ice Supply Fit For Cooling Purposes Only

The Board of Health Sends Out a Warning to the Public In Regard to It.

The board of health yesterday afternoon decided to warn the people of London that the ice supply cut by local dealers for use this season is not fit to be used for other than cooling purposes.

Dr. Hutchinson stated that in February last he had submitted samples of water taken from the coves and the north branch of the Thames, from places where ice had been cut, and he produced the analysis of the samples made by the Government analyst.

While it was agreed that the ice supply is not as dangerous as it was a year ago the board deemed it wise to send out a warning to the public to use it for cooling purposes only.

Dr. Amyot reported that samples of water taken from the east cove and Cushing's pond showed considerable chemical pollution, the latter not so seriously as the former. Neither was infected by sewage bacteria, however.

The Analysis. Samples of water were also submitted from Dexter's dam, the south cove, and the city tap.

The first, Dr. Amyot said, showed signs of infection. Sewage is reaching the water.

The south cove water is polluted chemically.

The water from the city tap shows neither infection nor pollution.

The Dexter dam water and the south cove water, Dr. Amyot considered unfit to cut ice from.

A sample of well water taken from the premises of Mrs. Hackett, High street, Dr. Amyot declared to be unfit for use unless it is boiled. Mrs. Hackett will be notified to cease using the water.

Inspection of Yards. Mr. Harry Clarke brought up the matter of the annual inspection of yards. He claimed that under the present system, yards and closets ordered to be cleaned are never cleaned.

Inspector McCallum explained that unless there are two inspectors a year, it is next to impossible to compel the people to carry out the orders of the inspectors. At present the city has no way of knowing whether all the yards ordered to be cleaned are properly cleaned.

Mr. Clarke declared that he had heard of inspectors who had shirked their work, and had failed to report cases of dirty yards to Inspector McCallum.

Crooked Inspector. The latter went Mr. Clarke one better by telling of an inspector who reported that a hundred or so yards were clean. At the same time he notified the property owners and tenants that the places were filthy and that they would have to be cleaned forthwith. Then the crooked inspector sold a list of the places to a scavenger, who cleaned them.

This year Mr. McCallum will do his best to see that things are run right.

Assistant Inspector James Lutman submitted a report on a complaint regarding the unsanitary condition of the west end of Evergreen avenue. Mr. Lutman found a dump on both sides of the street and the board referred the matter to the city engineer.

Deaths in March. Dr. Hutchinson's report for March showed that the city was comparatively free from contagious diseases during that period. There were four cases of typhoid fever reported and one death; three cases of diphtheria, and no deaths; four cases of consumption, and four deaths. Total deaths during the month, 65.

Chairman English, Dr. Stevenson, Harry Clarke, R. A. Carrothers, Chas. Taylor, Dr. Hutchinson, Inspector McCallum and City Clerk Baker were present.

Billiard and Pool Rooms. The following clauses regulate the conducting of billiard and pool rooms and eating houses, etc.:

No person shall keep his bowling alley, billiard room or room where billiard, bagatelle or pool table is kept for hire or gain within the city open after the hour of 11 o'clock at night nor before the hour of 6 o'clock in the morning, and no keeper of such pool, billiard or bagatelle table, under license as provided by this bylaw, shall allow or permit any boy under the age of 18 years to use the said pool, billiard or bagatelle tables or to frequent or to be present in the said rooms.

No person licensed under the provisions of this bylaw or any bylaw of the city to keep an intelligence office, a bowling alley, billiard, pool or bagatelle table, a cigar and tobacco store, a roller-skating rink, a victualling-house, ordinary, or house where fruit, oysters, clams or victuals are sold, shall be eaten therein, or a place for the reception, refreshment or entertainment of the public, shall permit any drunken or disorderly person, or anyone who keeps or resides in a house of ill-fame or any prostitute to resort to or frequent the premises kept by him in respect of which such license is granted, or keep or suffer or permit to be kept in such premises any faro bank, rouge or noir, roulette table or any other device for gambling or gaming, or suffer or permit tipping or gambling of any kind to be carried on therein or thereupon or in connection therewith.

Intelligence Office Fees. The government of intelligence offices and the fees such places shall charge, are provided for in the following clauses:

Every person licensed to keep an intelligence office within the city shall keep his office open for business between the hours of 9 o'clock in the morning and 6 o'clock in the evening, Sundays and holidays excepted.

Every person licensed to keep an intelligence office shall keep a book in which shall be entered at the time of application the name and residence of any person who may apply for employment, or who may make application to be supplied with any clerk, servant, laborer, workman or other employee, and also all sums of money which may be received from any person for any such service, and such book shall at all times be open to the inspection of the inspector of licenses, any member of the police force, by the direction of the mayor, police magistrate, of chief of police, and of the members of No. 3 committee.

QUICK CURE FOR NEURALGIA

That agonizing pain demands quick relief. Ordinary applications fail. It is left alone to Nervine to afford instant and permanent relief from those excruciating twinges. So sure is Nervine's pain-relieving action, so certain is its soothing power, so lasting results that no remedy can for one instant compare with it.

Try Nervine on rheumatism, or lumbago. Prove it in earache or toothache, let it show what it can do for any ache, pain or bruise. The fact that hundreds of thousands of 25c bottles are used yearly is proof that it is good. Try it.

MORE BIG TALK FROM THE HILLS

Announced They Will Build System in Canada to Eclipse All Others.

Winnipeg, April 8. — President Louis Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, here, said yesterday: "The Great Northern system is the only one in the western system mammoth terminals in Chicago, Minneapolis and Winnipeg. We have already secured all the land necessary for handling business for years to come in London and Seattle. If our Canadian plans are carried out, we will have within the next ten years to have a railroad system there which will be almost an equivalent of the Great Northern system as it is today in the United States."

"In the Canadian west we will touch Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, probably Prince Albert, and it is very likely that we shall traverse the Peace River country with a line several hundred miles further north than the one contemplated by any of the present Canadian plans."

"I cannot tell you at this time when construction will actually begin. Our representatives in the Canadian territory at this time are quietly looking over the country and their reports will determine how many more than the when. From three to five hundred men have been busy in the Minnesota woods this winter getting out ties which will be used by the Great Northern exclusively in building extensions to Canada. The right-of-way department of the Great Northern in St. Paul is one of the busiest in the great building devoted exclusively to the business of the company. From 20 to 30 surveyors, chain-men and assistants, are getting things in readiness for a trip in the north country.

Ten millions of the slice from the new sixty-million stock which the supreme court in Minnesota has decided the Great Northern can issue, which will be spent in Canada. Winnipeg will be the general Canadian terminus of the system and the general office to conduct Canadian business will be established there.

QUESTION DAY

IN THE COMMONS

Still Talking of Aylmer's Retirement—Excellent Work of Labor Disputes Bill.

[Special to the Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 9.—Today was members' day in the House. Mr. Daniel Gaultier, M.P. for the University of New Brunswick, in the cabinet. Mr. Field

Col. Sam Hughes again brought up the Lord Aylmer matter. He said that as there was an arrangement with Lord Aylmer that he should retire last December, and had got three months retiring inspector-general had much to complain of. What Mr. Hughes could complain of was that Col. Vidal should be appointed over the heads of so many other officers who were his seniors. There were, for instance, General Oster, Col. MacDonald, Col. Cotton, Col. Drury, Col. Buchanan, Col. Lassard, Col. Evans and Col. Wilson. He wanted to know why this was done. He did not know whether it was intended to $200, to which he would be entitled for his pension of $420. The difference would be $240, enough to take him half a regiment in camp. Col. Viddal said that the militia act was a good one, so far as it went, but that it was not a good one in matters affecting the rights of the colored men. These matters were regulated by general rule. As to why Col. Viddal was selected that matter would have to be left over till the minister was present. Mr. Spruille objected to arranging the matters being made with officers to secure them high pensions. He said

Mr. Lemieux announced that the Tabor Mine Company, in the west had returned to open its mine, and the men replied for a board of investigation under the labor disputes act. The western collieries, where some 2700 men were affected, had also applied for a board of investigation.

Tobacco Duties.

Mr. Fielding told Mr. Monk that nothing was to be done this session regarding the excise duties on tobacco.

Mr. Lavergne (Montmagny), spoke against bonuses to immigrants, which complained that Quebec and the French people were discriminated against.

IT LAYS A STILLING HAND ON PAIN.—For pains in the joints and limbs, and for rheumatic pains, neuralgia and lumbago, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is worth a peer. It is rubbed in the skin at once and it quickly and permanently relieves the affected part. Its value lies in its magic property of removing pain from the body and for that good quality it is prized.

The Tartars regard onions, leeks and garlic as perfumes. A lady Tartary will rub a freshly-cut onion in her hands and over her countenance enhance her attractions.

HOLLOWAY'S CORN CURE is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns, warts, and only costs the small sum of 25 cents.

CORIDIAL INVITATION

ROBETAILLE TELLS HOW MRS. PINKHAM'S ADVICE HELPS WORKING GIRLS.

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female disorders, especially those that are connected with the menstrual system. It is not until they are in their thirties or forties that they are able to get out of the hands of the doctor and into the hands of the law.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach. In consequence of frequent wetting of the feet, periods become painful and irregular, and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden. All of these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism, which can be easily and profitably cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Alma Robetaille, 78 rue St. Francois, Quebec, Quebec, tells what this great medicine did for her. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Overwork and long hours at the office, together with a neglected cold brought on a very serious female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was and straightaway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve but after that my recovery was very rapid and I was soon well and able to go back to work again. I certainly think your medicine for sick women worthy of praise and am indeed glad to endorse it.

It is to such girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Her long record of success in treating women's ailments makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Be Sure to Get What You Ask For.

There is a Reason—Why the Good People of America buy Cascarats as Fast as the Clock Ticks.

Every second some one, somewhere, is buying a little Ten-Cent Box of Cascarats. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6—60 times to the Minute, 60 Minutes to the Hour, 3600 Boxes an hour, 36,000 Boxes a Day of Ten Hours, 1,060,000 Boxes a Month, and then some. Think of it—220,000 People take a Cascarat tablet each day. Millions use Cascarats when necessary.

The Judgment of Millions of Bright Americans is Infallible. They have been Buying and Taking Cascarats at that rate for over Six years.

Over Five Millions of Dollars have been Spent to make the merits of Cascarats known, and every cent of it would be lost, did not sound merit claim and hold the constant, continued friendship, Patronage and Endorsement of well-pleased people year after year.

There is also a Reason—Why there are Parasites who attach themselves to the Healthy Body of Cascarats' success—Imitators, Counterfeiters, Substitutes.

They are Trade Thieves who would rob Cascarats of the "Good Will" of the people, and sneak unearned profits, earned and paid for by Cascarats.

A Dishonest Purpose means a Dishonest Product and a Disregard of the Purchaser's Health or Welfare.

Beware of the Slick Salesman and his ancient "Just as Good" story that common sense refutes.

Cascarats are made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and put up in metal box with the "long-tailed C" on the cover. They are never sold in bulk.

Every tablet marked "CCC."

Be sure you get the genuine.

Out of the Darkness

"I shall not try," she replied, turning very white. "In the heat of the day my strength has failed. I am going away from here, Mr. Ord."

"I rather dreaded to hear you say so," was the answer; "but perhaps it is only natural. How long do you intend to remain away?"

Rotha looked up at him rather puzzled. "If I go away, of course, I shall never return," she replied simply.

"I am very sorry for Meg's sake; poor Meg, she was just beginning to feel happy here. It is hard for her to go back to her old drudgery; but there is no help for it."

"Do you mean, Miss Maturin, that you seriously contemplate leaving Kirkby—utterly, I mean?"

"What can I do?" she answered bitterly, and there was a passionate ring in her voice no one had ever heard before. "How can I live on here when the very poor about my gate will look upon me as little better than a thief?"

"Can I go about the streets protesting my innocence when people are pointing their fingers at me as one who has defrauded the injured of their rights?"

Will they believe me if I cry shame on them for the baseness of their falsehood? Mr. Ord, you know—you must know, that it is not possible for me to do otherwise than I am doing."

"Nevertheless I intend that you shall not leave us."

"Who is to prevent me, Mr. Ord?"

"Who is to prevent you? Why I, if I lies in my power—common sense—your own conscience—the dictates of prudence and generosity—may more, your very self-respect."

"They will be all as nothing in this case. Do you think I should sacrifice Meg if it were possible to remain—that I should renounce all hope and plans for the future? Mr. Ord, your argument will not shake me. I am determined to bear all this no longer."

He gave her a plying look before he resumed his speech; he could see now how wrong and galled her spirit was within her. A difficult piece of work lay before him, but its toughness did not daunt him; he was not the less

Advertiser Patterns

DESIGNED BY MARTHA DEAN.

6831—A DISTINCTIVE WAIST.

Distinction in style is always sought by particular women, and when good taste is combined with individual charm, there is sure to be a result altogether pleasing. Such a waist as the one sketched here may be made at home without difficulty, and indeed, with much success, if one uses care in the selection of her materials. A pongee, silk or batiste would prove satisfactory for the waist, while the chemisette might be of the same fabric or lace. The broad pleat which extends over the shoulder is exceedingly becoming to all, and quite in accordance with Fashion's decrees. The sleeves may be long or shorter as shown. For the medium size 3 yards of 27-inch material are needed.

6831—32 to 42 inches bust measure.

had risen to her feet, and was confronting him.

"Mr. Ord, say that again," she panted.

"What am I to say again?" he asked, taking her two hands, and still holding her before him. As he looked at her something like a mist passed before his own eyes.

"What you said just now—that you believed in me," she replied, hardly able to get out the words in her agitation, and trembling all over.

"Very well; I will repeat my words. I said that I believe in you, and I do. I believe that we have wronged you utterly and bitterly, and that you have never done this thing of which we accused you."

"Thank God!" was all she said; but, oh, the sparkling brightness of her face, and then a little astonishment mingled with her joy!

"Well," he said, smiling, "are you disposed to forgive me? I confess I hardly like to ask your pardon."

"Then, in her sweet humility, she put that by."

"But, Mr. Ord, I cannot understand it. Surely you did not come here this evening to tell me this?" and her eyes dwelt for a moment on the offending Herald.

"You mean that you cannot understand my sudden conversion. Well, I will tell you the truth. Just before I came here my brother asked if I were prepared to acquit you, and I told him 'No.' At the time I certainly meant what I said."

"I knew how I should find you. When I came into your presence just now, and saw you bowed down with grief—my doubts were still heavy on my mind—they were there; but to be candid with you, they were certainly lessened."

"How so?" she asked timidly.

"Well, I had overcome my prejudice. Perhaps I should be right in saying that I was no longer disposed to be hardened against you. I had been proving you lately. I could not reconcile the fact that came before my eyes with Robert's suspicions, and every day I found it more difficult to doubt Annie's patient nurse and comforter. Do you understand me?"

"Yes," she returned humbly; "but I am afraid I was only working for your praise then."

"It may be so; but it struck me you were laborious and self-denying. I knew you to be patient. When you talked to me in your grief, about going away—and giving up everything—it was impossible not to believe you were in earnest. It is true I hinted that others might attribute such conduct to far different motives; but, in my own mind, then I began to see you were innocent."

"Is that all?"

"No; it is not all. I suppose you managed to convince me by your own words. There, what do you?" he added, smiling.

Somehow he found it difficult to explain to her how his doubts really had been set at rest. How could he tell her that it had been those few unconscious words of hers that had carried conviction straight to his mind?

"I am saving it all so carefully for him," he said to himself, "that I could be ever forget the tenderly mournful intonation of her voice as she said that, and the shrinking confession that had followed her words?"

"I never meant any of you to know this," she said to him in her distress; and then, when he had drawn her on with his promise of secrecy, what did she hear?—that she was living simply, only supplying her necessities in fact, that an abundance should be laid up for him, for the man who had wronged her, and for his children after him—and this was the woman whose pure generous heart they were crushing to the dust. He wished now that he had not given her his word—that it were possible that others might share his knowledge—it would make his defense of her so much less difficult; but when he hinted at this wish she reminded him of his promise with a decision against which there was no appeal.

"I could not stir her to and look any of them in the face," she said in a frightened voice, when he suggested it. At that he smiled a little.

"You are thinking better of your intended exodus then, Miss Maturin—you are not leaving Bryn now?"

BLOOD TROUBLES

Cured Through the Rich, Red Blood

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Thousands of women suffer from headaches, backaches, dizziness, languor and nervousness. Few realize that their misery all comes from the bad state of their blood. They take one thing for their head, and another for their stomach, a third for their nerves. And yet all the while it is simply their blood that is the cause of all their trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all these and other blood troubles, because they actually make new, rich, red blood.

Mrs. J. H. McArthur, St. Thomas, Ont., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done me a world of good. For about eighteen months I was a constant sufferer. I was terribly run down and the least exertion left me fagged out. I slept badly at night and this further weakened me and finally I had to give up housekeeping and go boarding as I was quite unable to do any housework. I took doctor's medicine, but it was of little or no benefit. One day a neighbor told me how much benefit she had derived from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and advised me to try them. I sent and got three boxes, and by the time I had used them I could feel a change for the better. Then I got four boxes more, and before they were all gone my health was fully restored. To see me now one would not think I had ever been sick for a day, and I can honestly say I owe my renewed health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest cure there is for the weakness and backaches and sideaches of anaemia; all the distress of indigestion; all the pains and aches of rheumatism and neuralgia, and the weakness and ill-health that follows any disturbance of regularity in the blood supply. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

A NEW LAND FOR SETTLERS

Great Possibilities of Albany
River Country.

FINE GRAIN COULD BE RAISED

Experts Declare It Possesses Mineral Wealth—Climate the Same as Winnipeg's.

Winnipeg, April 9.—James Vincent, a Hudson Bay trader, who has been interviewed by the Manitoba Free Press, has had a very interesting history. No one knows better the Albany River country, for he has lived at Fort Albany for ten years. This fact alone would gain him a hearing at a time when so much is being talked and written about the North, and when the air is full of rumors of railway extensions to a region which a few years ago was regarded as inhabitable by only the Polar bear and the Eskimos. Fort Albany has particular claims upon our attention, as it is one of the oldest posts in the far North, having been a fur trading post almost uninterruptedly for three hundred years.

Thirty-five Years a Trader.
Mr. Vincent is now living in retirement in the village of Stonewall, after a life spent in the service of the great company. In the service of the Hudson's Bay Company he has spent 35 years at one post, following three generations of Vincents who had held the same position, one of the earlier traders being his grandfather. James Vincent first went out as a missionary in the employ of the Church Missionary Society, to help his brother, Rev. Archdeacon Vincent, a noted missionary in the Northern wilds, whose death was recently announced. He was at Albany four years as a missionary before entering the service of the Hudson's Bay Company. He is a trader at several posts, one of them being Osageburg, where the interesting sequence of Vincents occurred, but was made chief trader, and appointed to Fort Albany in 1884. The Albany River district is a very large one, extending 400 miles back from the bay, and though it has been hunted over and fished over, and trapped over for several centuries, it is still regarded as a first-class post.

Grain Could Be Raised.
About 600 people, fourteen being whites and the others Swampy Cree Indians, make up the population of the post. There are two churches and two school houses at the Fort, one being maintained by Roman Catholics and the other by Anglicans. The Indians do nothing but trap and fish, but Mr. Vincent says that there is plenty of fine land in the district that would have been under cultivation long since if the natives had happened to be whites, who find it more natural to dig a living out of the soil than trap it on the surface. Vegetables are grown, but no grain, although he is convinced that good crops could be raised. The climate is much like Winnipeg, the January and February temperature averaging about 20 degrees below zero. Once the factor saw the mercury drop to 52. The snow falls to a depth of 30 inches. The winter ends about April 15, and ten days later the wild ducks and geese begin to fly; the ice goes out of the river about May 1, and then there is six months of warm or moderately warm weather.

Minerals There.
The nights are always cool, and only two or three days in the year is there registered a temperature of 80 degrees. On the whole, the climate is not so severe to daunt an ordinary healthy man, especially when the chances of being well paid for hardships are so promising as Mr. Vincent believes them to be. He is persuaded that the wild region is highly mineralized. There are illimitable tracts of spruce woods, which, sooner or later, are destined to be turned into pulp. But whatever great things the future may have in store for the district, it is still regarded as a first-class post.

Examine Your Tongue

Is It Coated?

Call the doctor—what does he do first?
Examine your tongue.
If it's pale, flabby-looking and coated, he knows the activity of your stomach is lowered.
Your overworked stomach is on strike. It refuses to secrete pepsin enough to act upon the food. Refuses also to secrete acid enough to enable the pepsin to do its work.
What's the result—dyspepsia, headache, sick all over.
How do you expect to be well, to look well, to sleep well, if your system is impaired by the weak spot.

Better patch up the weak spot.
Give to the stomach the assistance it requires—or in other words, try Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which cure more weak stomachs than any other medicine you know of.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills put the kind of life into a weak stomach that enables it to digest and assimilate all kinds of food.
No medicine could do more than Dr. Hamilton's Pills did for Wm. Martin, a well-known lumberman of Parry Sound, Ont., who says: "I consider that Dr. Hamilton's Pills make the best all-round medicine. My stomach got disordered and all kinds of complications set in. My food grew thin, my color got pale and I had the worst kind of headaches. The food I ate disagreed with me and I was constantly bilious and suffering from acute dyspepsia. A wonderful change took place when I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they gave me appetite and strong digestion. I had no more bad dreams, no sick stomach or headache. I was in fact like a new man and will always recommend and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

It's the people who feel half-sick—sort of tired and depressed, for those who have any ailment of the stomach, kidneys or liver that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are sure to benefit at once. Try them: Be a box at all dealers, and insist on having only Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. In yellow boxes only.

store for Fort Albany. It is at the time a secluded little hamlet, quietly pursuing the vocation that it has followed ever since Henry Hudson stopped there to trade with the Indians in 1610.

A Very Old Post.
Rupert House was the first trading post built by the Hudson's Bay Company, the year after the Royal charter was granted. It was first called Fort Charles, and is situated at the mouth of Rupert's River. It was five years later, in 1676, that Charles Bailey, the first Governor of Rupert's Land, built a fort at the mouth of the Albany River. This was the beginning of the history of Fort Albany as a company post, but at an earlier date it had been the headquarters of roving traders. It was built on an island, because the earlier Northern and Western architects had to take into account the probability of a house being attacked. The same reason led to its being called a fort, and it was known to be a place in which a stout resistance could be put up. It was supplied with cannon, and had a garrison of thirty men.

A Unique Distinction.
The fort was not long permitted to enjoy undisturbed its rich trade with the Indians, and rival traders, usually Frenchmen, planned several more or less successful attacks upon it. At the time of the war between France and England it was bombarded by a French ship and forced to surrender. It was in this war that Fort Albany founded its claim to immortal distinction, the claim that makes it interesting to the historian. For some time it was the only piece of territory in Canada owned by the British. The Treaty of Ryswick stipulated that each country should resume possession of only such territory as it had occupied at the beginning of the war. It happened that Fort Albany was the only place of territory that Britain could claim under these conditions. The Treaty of Ryswick held, Fort Albany alone in Canada ran up the British flag.

A New Land for Settlers.
The Manitoba Free Press admits that in the matter of climate and location this historic post, that now seems so far distant, but which may yet be as near as Medicine Hat, is not much less favorably located than Winnipeg itself, and most of the thriving towns of the West. It is no farther north than Edmonton, and only a hundred miles north of Winnipeg. Its climate, also, of which some details have been given, though severe, has much in common with that of Winnipeg. Once let it be proved that the wheat can be successfully grown on the shores of Hudson Bay, and there will be a rush there like the rush to the Dauphin District in Manitoba and the Peace River country farther west. The rush would hardly wait for the railroads, for already there is a way to market crops in the Old Country, and a shorter road than a railroad can find. Every year the ships of the Hudson's Bay Company visit Fort Albany to gather the year's store of furs, and on these ships wheat could be shipped as easily as hides.

FINDS BONES OF FIRST ELEPHANT

Ancestor of the Big Mammoth
Is Dug Up in Old
Egypt.

Washington, April 8.—My Lord the Elephant has a family tree, for the bones of his ancestors have been found in Egypt by Professor Henry Fairfield Osborn, who has returned from the field where an expedition has been at work under his direction.

Fossil bones are to be brought in a few weeks to the American Museum of Natural History, the president of which, Morris K. Jesup, furnished the funds for the expedition which resulted in these discoveries. By far the most interesting specimen in the collection is the skull of the palaeo mastodon, the oldest of the elephant family yet discovered, the very trunk of the fossil tree. The skull was perfect. It is two feet in length, ten inches high and longer in proportion than that of the modern elephant, which is nearly round. This progenitor of the elephant race, who lived two million years ago, judged from the portions of the skeleton which have been found, was only four feet six inches in height. His tusks were a foot in length, covered with a hard enamel, and pointing downward instead of upward. He had 23 teeth, while the modern one has only four. Discoveries made by the expedition show the origin of this pachyderm was in Africa. The race has its bones on all continents, but in Africa and Asia its descendants still survive. Three to four hundred other rare fossils beside the skull of the primitive elephant have been found. They were in the terraces of sand which had been in the delta of a river older than the Nile, and at the shore of what was once the Mediterranean Sea, which was considerably south of where it is now situated.

The West Nisour Township Council met on April 3. A deputation representing the St. Marys and Medina Telephone Company addressed the council, asking for a franchise for the erection of a line in West Nisour, connecting with certain points. The following were accepted: For concrete work, bridges at lot 5, con. 5, $460; at lot 22, con. 3, $470; at lot 5, con. 3, $495—Mr. F. H. Thompson. AID OF GOVT. FOR CHILD IS ASKED

Britons Start Movement for Appointment of Minister to Protect Young.

London, April 9.—It is an inconsistency that the Government has passed the most elaborate factory acts to keep the children of the poor in healthy bodies while the safeguarding of their minds from the brutalization of constant starvation and beating should be left to private agencies. It is still another inconsistency that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals should have existed from 1824 and should be fairly affluent, while the Society for Preventing Cruelty to Children was not founded until a quarter of a century ago, and has maintained ever since a penurious struggle for bare existence. Perhaps the apathy of the state in the protection of those who stand most in need of succor is not altogether to be regretted, provided the public sees to it that the sinews of warfare against parental cruelty are stout enough for the dead weight of moral insensibility they have to lift.

New Plan is Taken Up.
A strenuous effort is about to be made by a large number of benevolent men and women of the upper classes to bring about the inclusion in the cabinet of a minister whose business it will be to look solely after the moral, social and educational interest of children. Reformers of this kind move slowly in England, but when a strenuous effort is made success generally follows.

In the British cabinet there is a minister of agriculture, who looks after the health of pigs, cattle and corn. But as things are at present no one is directly responsible for the well-being of the little people of the nation who are future citizens of the country. They come under the notice of the board of education, the home office and of which deals with its specific subjects. But the movement, which has been started in influential circles, has for its aim the appointment of a minister who will be fitted by inclination and training for the post and who will represent the state, devoting all his time and energies to the children.

List of Deaths is Long.
In one year the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children dealt with no fewer than 28,706 cases, and of these 37,213 were well provided. The number of children affected was 108,325. In one year no fewer than 1,619 deaths of children while in bed with their parents or other adults were recorded. In twelve months there were 2,300 deaths from burns and scalds, of which 1,122 occurred at unprotected grates or stoves.

In 1905 there were no fewer than 1,400 children under 5 years old burnt to death, and in the same year 1,527 were overthrown by their parents, who in the majority of cases were drunk. A bill is being promoted in Parliament to deal with cases of this description, but the promoters of the movement mentioned above want to go one better and to place the power in the hands of a responsible member of the Government, who can be the voice of the nation for inquiry and action behind him.

Some duties proposed for the new minister would be to look after children on the canals, the youthful lawbreakers, little street hawkers, the pure milk supply, the whole question of child labor and all other matters which concern the health and training of children.

LONDON POLICE BEST

Germans Yield the Palm to the British Force.

London, April 9.—During the last few years London police have provided him for the chief cities of the world. Special missions have come from the United States, Russia, France, Spain and Switzerland, and in each case the visitors have admitted the superiority of English police methods. Now a special German police mission has been visiting Scotland Yard to compare London detective methods with those of Berlin. The Germans have been given every opportunity for insight into the metropolitan police methods, and have been personally conducted by accomplished detectives over all parts of London.

As an outcome of their visit the German delegates have declared London to be the best policed city in the world. Berlin has been known as the city of police, for officialdom there is in full control. So the Scotland Yard authorities accept this opinion as one of the greatest compliments ever paid them. These German visitors were shown all over the new Scotland Yard, taken at night to the "sights" of the West End and down to the East End slums, among the lodging-houses and criminal haunts. They saw for themselves how very quietly and expeditiously the London policemen work.

The marvelous system of traffic control aroused their admiration. They were astonished to find how popular the police are, in spite of their authority.

"The power of the police of Germany is far greater than yours, but their success is not so great," said one of the German visitors, discussing his experiences.

"You can hardly accomplish anything in Berlin without consulting our police and obtaining their permission. The district police inspector has to pass and sign every license, and if you engage or discharge a servant you have to supply the German police with the name, grade, nationality and religion."

"In London the police are far less officious, and the relations between them and the people they protect seem to be most cordial."

Westmoreland, with seven acres to each inhabitant, is the most sparsely populated county in England.

I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood builder and think it a good medicine, and everyone should take it in the spring to cure that tired feeling that comes to so many at this time of year.

CAYUGA MURDER CASE

Much New Evidence Obtained for Opening Trial Next Week.

Cayuga, April 9.—Everyone is on the tip-toe of excitement about the issue of the Perkins murder trial, which is to commence here next Tuesday, when the assizes will open. As far as is known the crown has not been wasting the interim since the conclusion of the preliminary hearing. Several new witnesses have been obtained, while many of the number who were summoned to attend the preliminary hearing, but were not called, will furnish some evidence which may shed a new light on the case.

The defense has not been idle either, and is supposed to have collected a good deal of proof which will, it thinks, good deal of proof which will, it thinks, nothing definite has been published about the line the defense is to take at the trial, as E. F. B. Johnson, K.C., contented himself merely with attempting to upset the evidence of the crown witnesses at the preliminary hearing. John Perkins, brother of the deceased Henry Perkins, has been unceasing in his attempts to secure evidence for the crown's case, and he made several trips to Buffalo and Windsor, with a view of rounding up witnesses. He is said to have discovered several in each place.

The case will be outlined to the grand jury on Tuesday next, when the court opens at 1 o'clock. If a true bill is returned, the case will be gone on with the first thing on Wednesday morning. Owing to the large number of witnesses, it is expected that the trial will last to the end of the week.

Resenting some remark, Mrs. J. E. Rogers of San Francisco horsewhipped Dr. Walter Trumbull in the street.

SOUTHPAW SNAPSHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

Twenty-four days until the City Baseball League opening.

Saturday next witnesses the inauguration of the local soccer league season. The contests will take place on the Barracks grounds.

Tomorrow night at the Jubilee Rink, Billy Amos, London's premier long-distance runner, will stack up against three good men in a three-mile relay race. Each of the trio will cover one mile, while the old warhorse will travel the entire distance. "Crow" Carruthers, Victor Doupe and C. Ross will be Amos' opponents. The contest will be in the nature of a preliminary gallop to the big athletic events scheduled to take place shortly at the armories and at Queen's Park, when it is expected that Longboat will appear.

The London bowling aggregation, champions of Canada, will journey to Detroit today and compete in the Michigan state tournament. The boys are all highly confident of victory, and hope to bring home a cartload of prizes. Great rivalry exists on the part of the Toronto teams entered, and every method will be utilized to bring about the downfall of the Canadian champions, but the locals are in no wise daunted.

"Show us," they say, and confidence protrudes from every face. The champions will line up just as they did at "Hogtown"—Primeau, Bell, A. Sheere, Pratt and C. Sheere.

Poor old St. Thomas! There was a time—last winter—when the rail-roads thought themselves some pumpkins in athletic circles, but that was before the Hortons hammered them into submission in that notable hockey contest. Since then the Saints have lost their nerve. Last night a brace of bowling teams came over to London from the burg of yellow journals and water-tanks, and were walloped in real old London style by the local Y. M. C. A. boys. The full account of the slaughter can be found in another column.

That elongated redskin, Longboat, must certainly be a wonderful running machine. At present he is getting in shape for the Boston Marathon race, and in a trial on Monday he is credited with making 15 miles in 1 hour and 28 minutes. That is almost as fast as some of our local railroads travel.

Having run short of London material for knocking purposes, several Toronto sheets are taking revenge on the poor "Hogtown Lemons." The Telegram comments: "Toronto's Unbeaten Ball Team" will be their name as long as the high school teams last or it keeps on raining."

The Detroit Tigers have landed on their own hearthstone once more, after a strenuous training trip, during which rain, sleet and every other undesirable form of spring weather was encountered.

Charles Comiskey, president of the Chicago Cubs, world's champion ball tossers, becomes optimistic when discussing his team's chances for the coming season. In an interview recently published in the Chicago Record-Herald he said: "Without wasting words by going into particulars, I think I am warranted in stating that I have a team which is going after another pennant. Why shouldn't I, when I have the best set of players in the business and the best manager? I am extremely confident that we will land another flag and then win another world's championship."

The outlook for a successful season was never brighter, and unless we should meet with more than the ordinary allotment of accidents there is no doubt in my mind but that we will keep all the rest of the team busy right from the start. I do not undervalue the other teams in the American League, and it is no guesswork about what we have to go up against. The weaker teams have been strengthened, and it looks like even a closer battle than last year. It is a tight race where gameness counts, and that is where we are strong. No gamier bunch of players than the White Sox ever walked upon a field, and it was this that made them champions of the world.

We had some tough luck last year, which I hope we won't have the coming season, and this should make it easier for us, and if we got off in our best stride they will have hard work catching us. I have been criticised for not going after new men, but I have found out through experience that it never pays to break up a winning combination. We have as strong an infield as there is in the game today, and I can't see where our pitching staff, infield and outfield could be improved upon. Our trip to Mexico and through the South has put the players in fine shape for a hard season, and through the South has put the players in fine shape for a hard season, and I expect them to get off with a jump.

What Major League Heads Say of Season About to Open

HARRY C. PULLIAM, THE NATIONAL.

The National League never entered upon a campaign that gave more promise of success than does the season of 1907. With prosperity abroad in the land and all our teams strengthened and fully prepared for a renewal of the struggle for championship honors, I look forward to a most successful season artistically and financially.

I predict an open race—in fact, the best race we have had in recent years, and I base this on the fact that while the Chicago champions have not been weakened, their opponents have all been strengthened and better prepared to dispute their claim to the stellar honors than they were in 1906. With the return of Mathewson to his 1906 form, the New York team will be a far stronger antagonist than it was in 1906, and should prove a formidable competitor to the champions, as well as the rest of the league.

The Pittsburgh club is more than satisfied with its recruits from the ranks of the minors, and the showing made by the men in practice has revived hope in the breasts of the former champions of a chance to regain lost laurels. With Manager Murray at the helm in Philadelphia, with his brilliant record as the developer of winning teams behind him, I look for this club to make the best showing in years.

The surprise of last season was the marked improvement shown by the Brooklyn club. Donovan's men more than once stopped the onward march of the victorious Chicago. It was practically a new team, just put together last year, while this season it has the advantage of a year's drill in team work, and if the same degree of improvement is shown as was last season it will prove a stumbling-block to more than one aspirant for the flag. With improved conditions at Boston, Cincinnati and St. Louis, 1907 should prove the best year for the old league.

No effort will be spared to have our contests conducted on a high plane of sportsmanship, to the end that the best club may win the pennant.

CITY LEAGUE ADOPTS SCHEDULE; FIRST SERIES COMMENCES MAY 4

Twenty-Four Games in Each Series—Holiday Matches Provided For.

The league executive reported that practically all arrangements for the season had been completed, and announced that a limited number of reduced rate coupon books would be issued in a short time.

While the Tecumseh Park grounds are in fairly good condition at present, it is the purpose of the executive to place it in the best of shape possible prior to the opening games. Everything points to a highly successful season for London's premier baseball league, and every fan in the city is anxiously awaiting the opening going.

The schedule provides for two seasons of 24 games each, the first to open on May 14, and the second on July 18. Games are to be played on Victoria Day, Dominion Day and Labor Day. All other games are scheduled for Saturday afternoon. With only four teams in the league, there are no off-days. The Liberal Club bowlers visited the Ideal alleys last night, and were taken into camp by Martell's trundlers by a majority of 91 pins. Martell's won two out of three games, the Hyman Hall bunch taking the first by the narrow margin of one pin.

Bolton was the best bowler of the session. He got high single scores with 197, and high average with 524 for three games, an average of 174 2-3. John Martell was next up with 196 as his best, and an average of 165 for three games. McMurphy was the best trundler for the Liberals, closely followed by Percy Stone and Watterson.

By the way, Bolton has been rolling some fine games of late. Yesterday afternoon, he trundled three games at the Ideal alleys, and made the following scores: 259, 199 and 204, a total of 662 for three games, an average of 220 2-3. That's going some. The best yet rolled on the local alleys, and one of the best ever rolled in Canada. The score was made on a regulation alley with regulation pins. It beats the score made at the recent tournament, 616 being the best for three games.

BALL PLAYERS WITH WEALTH; MANY ARE INDEPENDENTLY RICH

Of the baseball players who have become wealthy, Jim O'Rourke, the owner of the Bridgeport club in the Connecticut League, can draw his check for more than any of the olden players, as well as a law practice. Jim has real estate holdings in Bridgeport, and is also playing ball today and he has been in the game since 1878 as a "pro."

Roger Connor has houses and lots in Waterbury that put him in the $100,000 class without the least doubt. John M. Ward has recently purchased a fine home on Long Island, has a trout preserve and other conveniences that only a fortune of $75,000 can allow. Mr. Ward has an extensive law practice that brings him in a lucrative business.

John J. McGraw has a fortune of at least $100,000. McGraw makes a success of anything he undertakes. John J. McGraw has the biggest dry goods store in the southern tier of counties in New York State, and six figures will about name his wealth.

John White has an optical shop and goggle factory in Buffalo and a farm of 100 acres, and Jim does not have to worry about a hard winter. He is worth $50,000 if a cent.

Jack Rowe is in the tobacco business in Denver. Frank Bowerman owns pretty near all of Northern Michigan—in spots—and $50,000 about figures his bank roll. Chesbro has several farms in the Berkshires, and Griffith owns a Montana ranch. Their wealth cannot be far away from the $50,000 mark for each. And as for Willie Keeler, he is the

Washington, April 9.—After a twelve-hour deluge of rain, snow and sleet the temperature about freezing, and an ordinary card of overnight events, the Bennings track was not specially attractive today. However, a goodly crowd was in attendance. The track was sloppy, but the underlying remained firm and the footing was sure. The most interesting contest was the third race, Hartford Boy, heavily played, was left standing at the post and did not run. Senator Barrett made the running into the stretch, lapped by the favorite, Marston. On the down stretch Bob Callahan came fast and won by three-quarters of a length, Senator Barrett second and Marston third. Summary:

First race, 6½ furlongs—Orphan Lad, 58 (Miller), 15 to 20; 1; Old Colony, 59 (Goldstein), 12 to 1; 2; Belle of Jessamine, 106 (McDaniel), 5 to 2; 3. Time, 1:26. Parkville and Fusillade also ran. Second race, half mile—Back Mask, 104 (Hennessy), 8 to 1; 1; Helen B., 104 (Miller), 6 to 5; 2; Laudable Light, 104 (Lee), 7 to 5; 3. Time, 1:51. Oreadon (McIntyre), 7 to 1; 2. Time, 1:34. 1 Am Trying, Millstone, Nitmoss and Queen of Night also ran.

Third race, 4½ furlongs—Bob Callahan, 105 (Mountain), 8 to 1; 1; Senator Barrett, 107 (Englander), 8 to 1; 2; Marston, 107 (Miller), 7 to 5; 3. Time, 1:29. 2-5. Pacifian also ran. Hartford Boy left standing at post. Fourth race, steeplechase, about 2 miles—Mookie, 135 (McLain), 5 to 2; 1; Lysistrata, 149 (McIntyre), 7 to 5; 2; Setauket, 151 (Bower), 8 to 1; 3. Time, 4:32. Adalene B. and Sir Triston also ran.

Decision in Betting Case Not Causing Slump in Entries for Windsor Meeting.

Detroit, April 9.—That turfmen are paying little heed to possibilities that may arise from the recent ruling of Canada by the supreme court of Canada in regard to betting at race tracks in the Dominion, is shown by the way in which the early closing stakes of the Windsor summer meeting are being patronized.

The interpretation of the decision above referred to has been discussed at length. Just what conditions will govern the laying of wagers is still somewhat conjecture. But the fact that the horsemen are paying little heed to possibilities is ample evidence that the game is a long way from being dead. Any time a horseman makes a jump he is going to light, and the very fact that horsemen from all parts of the country are patronizing the Windsor stakes makes it look as if the coming meeting of the Highland Park Jockey Club will be one of the best of its history.

Record Entry Lists.

With all of California, and most of the south still in heat from the early of the season, the various stakes have already reached pleasing proportions, and there is every reason to believe that the nominations will exceed those of last year, which was the finest season of racing yet enjoyed at the Windsor track. Especially pleasing is the way the Frontier stake, or "Derby," way the Frontier stake, or "Derby," has been regarded by horsemen. This been a sweepstake for 3-year-olds, at 1-13 miles, with a value of $2,500. The fine bunch of what were 2-year-olds last season, now eligible, assures one of the best competition.

Five other stakes besides the Frontier round out the special attractions for the summer meeting across the river. Four of these are of $1,000 values each and all have filled well, with each trial pouring in. These are: The Windsor selling stake, at 1-13 miles, Windsor selling stake, at 1-13 miles, Windsor selling stake, at 1-13 miles, Windsor selling stake, at 1-13 miles.

Kerr is doing pretty well, too, in his trials, and if anything happens to Longboat has a good chance to finish up in the first flight. A. E. Petch, the North End Athletic Club runner, has also entered the Boston race and is working hard.

MANY WOMEN'S LIVES ENDANGERED

They Are Particularly Exposed to Grippe and Contraction of Throat and Lung Diseases.

Weather conditions and the unavoidable dust and floating disease germs of large shops, factories and streets render the life of the women and girls engaged in business peculiarly exposed to danger. Thousands of our noblest and most deserving young women are the victims of a grippe and throat and lung trouble and early decline through these conditions. A very large number of society women expose themselves to colds, bronchitis, catarrh, la grippe and other diseases through anxiety to look attractive by wearing "transparencies" and other ridiculous light forms of dress. Ninety-five per cent of these cases could be prevented or cured by the use of Paychene, the greatest system-builder and germ destroyer known to medical science. It is especially beneficial to women in all stages of health, and a great preventive of disease. It has abundantly proven its thorough reliability in the arrest and cure of all forms of decline, wasting diseases and throat and lung trouble which so often follow la grippe.

I herewith send my photo and testimonial for Paychene. I was given up 15 years ago as an incurable consumptive by Prof. Lyman, Rush Medical College, Chicago. I suffered several years after this until I heard of Paychene, and through it I was restored to perfect health, which I have enjoyed for the past ten years. My sickness began first with a grippe and catarrh of the head. I readily advise la grippe and catarrh sufferers to take Paychene." MRS. A. WELLS. Lyndall, Man.

"PAYING UP" NOW FOR FINE WEATHER

The Expected, After the Very Mild March, Is Being Experienced.

Winter lingers in the lap of spring. Lingers? It appears to have determined to take a nap of several weeks duration.

Many people in London are "sore" on the weather.

Just fancy all the things that have passed through the minds of the fair sex, with their handsome new head-gear stowed away in boxes.

The past three Sundays have developed a fine weather. Fair weather has been hoped against hope for fine weather, so as to be able to display exquisite conceits in headgear before they go out of style.

You know, if one happens to be a lady, one must take time by the forelock in order to wear a hat before it goes out of style.

Sometimes the milliners switch in changes in styles between the time when the hat is sold and the time it is delivered at the house. Consequently, grave fears are entertained by the ladies of London lest their hats will be back numbers by the time the weather gets ready to permit of wearing the new bonnet.

It was hoped that the snowstorm of yesterday and last night would clear the weather, but conditions today were in no wise improved. Many ladies are willing to wait today that the cold spell will make it a point to hang on, so as to spoil next Sunday, and keep the bonnets in the boxes.

Down in New York they have had a heavy fall of snow. In the North-west winter weather has been prevailing. Advisers from Halifax say that spring has only begun to arouse itself there.

And the pros. say cool for London today.

Too bad, isn't it? London appears to be paying up for the fine weather it experienced in March.

According to a fable, March has always enjoyed the privilege of borrowing three days from April, so as to make things unpleasant for the people in one last effort, but it would appear this month that March has negotiated a loan for a long period.

City Engineer Graydon is pleased with the wet weather. He does not have to worry about street watering. The dust is faded by the snow, sleet and rain.

SEALS THE FATE OF FIRE HALL

North End Not Likely to Get Station This Year—Conference on Matter.

Mayor Judd, Chairman Beattie of the finance committee, and Chairman Gilman of No. 3 committee today had a long conference in connection with the erection of a north end fire hall this year.

When it was concluded, the only information the reporters could secure was that the fire hall and the chairman of the finance committee are opposed to the idea of building the fire hall this year out of current revenue.

The mayor also stated to The Advertiser that he thinks it will be necessary to put the matter to a vote of the people to secure a debenture issue to build the hall.

This means that the project for this year will be killed, as it is altogether unlikely that the fire hall committee will be sent to the people, unless it should happen that the water commissioners should put several water schemes before the public, in which event the fire hall project might be voted upon at the same time.

Chairman Gilman is putting up a vigorous fight for the new station, but the council is so hard pressed for money this year that it is doubtful whether he will be backed up by any alderman save those of his own committee.

The mayor states that he is opposed to spending current revenue on any scheme of capital expenditure. He thinks that as the hall will last for many years to come, it is unfair to ask the people of today to stand the brunt of the entire cost.

The mayor and Chairman Beattie are still burning the midnight oil devising ways and means to whittle down the estimates, so that a tax rate somewhere near that of last year may be secured.

PLACED POISON ABOUT PREMISES

Ormsby Street Man Did So To End a Nuisance, and Has Law Laid Down to Him.

As a means of exterminating a poultry nuisance, caused by his neighbors allowing their chickens to overrun his premises, James Christie, of Ormsby street, recently set several dishes of poisoned grain at different points about his garden, and this morning he had to answer for so doing before Magistrate Love at the police court.

He was convicted of mischief, and fined $1 and $4 85 costs. William Mason, who lives near Christie, laid the information in the case. Detective Rider was the chief witness for the prosecution, and told of going to Christie's premises to investigate a report sent to the police station that Christie had dishes of poison on his front lawn, where any animal or child could easily get at them from the street. The detective found a tin plate filled with corn and parsnip green lying on the front lawn, several feet from the house, and an exceedingly dangerous position.

The detective asked Christie why he had set the poison in such a place, and asked him to remove it. Christie answered that he could do as he liked on his own premises, and that he was not going to have his neighbor's chickens destroy his flower beds, as they had done on other occasions. Detective Rider then went to the back yard, and found similar dishes filled with poison.

Mr. Mason lost a valuable dog, which he believes died as the result of eating some of the poisoned grain; while another of his dogs complained that his chickens had been sick, and although none of them had died, he believed that they had eaten some of the grain.

Christie did not deny having set the poison, but stated that he believed when doing so he was acting in self defence, and that he could do as he pleased on his own property, and that he set it for the purpose of killing rats and mice. The court, however, was not prepared to believe that Christie would set pans of poison in his yard for the purpose of killing rats, but convicted him on the strength of the statements he had made to Detective Rider.

The magistrate informed him that there were certain things which a man was not allowed to do even on his own property, and that setting poison was one of them. He also informed Christie that he could fine him $100 for such an offense, but that he considered a nominal fine of $1, with $4 85 costs, would answer the purpose of warning others against such acts.

John Brown, who has not been known to work lately, but who has appeared several times for being drunk, was sentenced to 4 months in the Central Prison for vagrancy.

James Sullivan has gone to spend 20 days at the guest of Mr. Carter at the Castle. James was fined $5 or 20 days on a charge of being drunk, and could not pay the fine.

TWO FULL DAYS OF ROMANCING

the heat of passion, or lastly, "not guilty," because of insanity.

"To base an appeal to your sympathies, to your passions, is a broad, wide departure from the duty of counsel."

You must reach your verdict by purely and plainly an intellectual process. You are to be the judge of this issue, and you are to judge by the facts. You must take the law as the judge gives it to you. You cannot shake your personal responsibility by evading it.

The Other Side.

"The proposition of sympathy can be played upon by both sides. Here you thought of the widow in Cambridge, and the fatherless boy in Harvard? I mention this, men, that you may see naught to do with the issues here."

Mr. Jerome next quoted from the examinations of the jurors, reminding them of their oaths.

"Whether you believe the story told by this girl, whether you believe in the 'sublime renunciations' she made of her sympathies are bound to assert themselves in one form or another. There is here every element to arouse your passions. But when you require yourself solely by intellectual processes."

Reasonable Doubt.

Reasonable doubt, he said, was only such a doubt as would affect upon matters pertaining to his own private affairs.

"It must be a doubt of which you are reasonably or morally certain. A reasonable doubt is not a mere whim, Mr. Jerome said."

"On the subject of insanity you jurors swore you would not inject any ideas of your own into your judgment, but take the law as it was laid down to you by the court. You swore you would accept only that form of insanity which deprives a man of the knowledge of the nature and quality of his act, or that it is wrong, that it is against the current morality of the community."

You did not swear to bring this 'dementia Americana' into the case. 'Dementia Americana' has no place in higher law than the law of your state."

Mr. Jerome said it seemed to him that the voice of murdered Stanford White was crying out to him. "Can't you say one word for me? Must I go down to the fires of hell, unheard, undefended?"

Luncheon recess was ordered at 1 p.m., until 2 o'clock, when Mr. Jerome will proceed.

HIGHER LIVELY RATES.

It was stated today that a movement is on foot to establish a new schedule of rates for light lively hire in London, and that a considerable increase is contemplated. The new schedule will probably be ready by the 1st of May. It is claimed by local livemen that there is nothing for them in the present prices. Horses, feed, shoeing, buggies, harness, etc., have gone up, and they feel that a rate of from 25 to 50 per cent in light lively hire is warranted.

LAVERGNE HARD ON COCKNEYS

Says They're Worse Than Sikhs and Is Sharply Rapped by the Govt.

Ottawa, April 9.—Armand Lavergne, in the Commons today, complained of the system now followed by the Government in the payment of bounties on immigration, and maintained that the only desirable classes of settlers for Canada were either those from the British Isles or else French and Belgians.

Asked by Col. Sam Hughes if he would favor the immigration of priests exiled by order of the French Government, Mr. Lavergne replied that, at any rate, they would be better than Gallician or cockneys, who were worse than Sikhs. The motto of the interior department seemed to be that a Dunk-hor is better than a Frenchman. Mr. Lavergne held that a good propaganda in France would result in a large country of population from that country to Canada. Instead of forcing our own people to the States, the Government should assist and encourage their removal to the Canadian West. As matters stood, though, it cost more for a Canadian to go west than it did for the mongrels of Europe. If this went on for twenty years, Canadian ideals would ultimately disappear. In conclusion, Mr. Lavergne moved that the system of immigrant business be contrary to a good policy, and should be abolished.

Rapped by Oliver.

The Minister of the Interior replied that it would have been well-nigh impossible for any man to crowd more misunderstanding and misrepresentation into an hour and a half than Mr. Lavergne had accomplished on this occasion. That gentleman forgot that the area of Canada was equal to that of continental Europe. The policy of the Government is not to bonus the immigrants on the steamship companies in getting them, but to advertise Canada in those countries where the most desirable class of settlers is to be obtained.

Mr. Borden said that the abolition of bonuses would retard immigration from the British Isles, and that his own opinion was that the bonus system should be confined to the United Kingdom.

HAS MADE A HIT

Headliner at Bennett's This Week Pleases Big Audiences.

"Ella's All Right," the laughable sketch which is being produced by Norton and Nicholson at Bennett's this week, has made a big hit. It is one of the wildest, brightest pieces ever put on at the local vaudeville theatre. Jimmy Dunn's line of imitations are exceptionally clever, and he too has made many friends this week. The bill has been drawing well and Manager Alox reports the advance sales for tonight and the remainder of the week to be large.

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT

Birthday Party at All Saints' Church, on Which $100 Was Realized.

A novel entertainment was given last night in All Saints' Church, in the form of a birthday party, at which each member was supposed to contribute a cent for each year of his or her age. The event was very successful, $100 being realized. A splendid programme and refreshments were served, and a most enjoyable time spent. Rev. T. B. Clark, the rector, presided. The programme consisted of instrumental music by Miss Eccles, Miss McBride, Miss Burrows, Miss Pevler and Miss Gladys Phillips; solos by Miss Perils Dubsdale and Mr. Clarke, of Huron College; readings by Miss Irene Sillison and Mr. Thomas Alexander, and duets by the Messrs. Elliott. The proceeds of the evening went to the Women's Guild of the church, the officers of which are: Mrs. Hogg, president; Mrs. Wm. Scott, treasurer, and Mrs. R. H. Westby, secretary.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Dozens of curtain calls at every performance and intense enthusiasm through every act testified to the triumph which Otis Skinner achieved last season in New York in "The Duel." He will be seen here in this famous success tonight. "The Duel" has been well described as a big drama in theme, thought and execution. It is sure to excite the same earnest and thoughtful discussion here that it has done in Paris. Otis Skinner as the priest, who stands as a spiritual barrier between his brother, a free-thinking scientist, and a young and beautiful married woman, whose love he wishes to win, does some of the subtlest and most powerful acting of his career. He magnificently symbolizes the church militant, both in its aggressive and in its exquisite and spiritual character. The extraordinary scene at the end of the second act in which the brothers are arrayed against each other in most desperate fashion, moves the audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. "The Duel" is a play that all lovers of good acting will be anxious to see and sure to enjoy.

Beautiful women, catchy music, side-splitting comedy and scenic and lighting effects are the reputed features of Fred E. Wright's production of "The Beauty Doctor," which will be the attraction at the Grand matinee and night on Saturday. Mr. Wright has provided for "The Beauty Doctor" one of the largest companies now in musical comedy, and the excellent cast comprises no less than four comedians with equally good parts. Many special numbers, large in ensemble and catchy in musical environment are part of the composition of the comedy, with a chorus noted for its beauty as well as its singing strength and agility. Henrietta Tedro and Will Philbrick head the cast, with Marie Hylands, Jessie Cardowin, Hope Gage, Jennie Pippin, Harry Bewley, J. Grant Gibson, Earl Redding, Albert Farrington and many others.

NEW SHOP FOR MEN

Thoro Has Opened a Most Unique Store Next to Bennett's

The new shop opened next to Bennett's theatre is one which will undoubtedly prove attractive to men. With the tendency towards better things, so pronounced at present, such a shop is both timely and desirable. It is becoming universally recognized that the successful man in business, professional or financial life, pays, first of all, careful attention to the details of his attire. First impressions count for so much, that his collar is not only of good quality and carefully laundered, but of fashionable cut, and the kind suitable for the occasion. He sees to it that his tie is both good style and carefully adjusted, and quite free from any sign of wear. Those who have had their attention drawn to this new men's furnishing shop, located on the main thoroughfare towards which trade is tending, will recognize that it is well chosen. It is just the right size to give ample room for many purposes, and the care that has been taken in fitting it up is very apparent. The color scheme and fittings are good style and the wares displayed seem very desirable. It is the intention of the concern to carry moderate priced, as well as the better grades of goods, and while the lines will be varied as regards prices, selection, etc., nothing will be sold that cannot be recommended. The firm will keep well posted on matters pertaining to dress and will gladly give information along these lines, as well as carry the suitable goods in stock. This 'Thoro' shop has so much to recommend it that it is welcome to the attention of our readers is called to this unique store.

MUST VACATE HALL

W. C. T. U. Has to Secure Another Meeting Place.

The W. C. T. U. of this city held its semi-monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in Somerset Hall, where about 50 members gathered. Arrangements were made for the entertainment to be given to the Normal students on Friday, the 12th inst. Rev. E. R. Black, of the Christian Church, gave a short address on "Missionary Work," which proved very instructive and interesting. Mrs. Thorneley Wilson, Mrs. Weekes and Mrs. Heaman gave readings on the mission work of the W. C. T. U. in New Ontario. A letter was received from Mr. V. Cwynn desiring the union to vacate their present meeting hall not later than October next. Considerable discussion followed regarding the course to be taken in the selection of a new meeting hall, but nothing definite was decided, except that it was resolved to appoint a committee to consider the matter.

Advertiser Correspondence

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE HON. J. W. ST. JOHN BY COLLEGE MEN.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:—Would you kindly permit us through the columns of your valuable paper, to pay a tribute of loving remembrance and respect to the memory of the late Speaker of the Legislature, whose untimely death, at the zenith of his power, has filled us with sorrow and dismay?

In years gone by we were associated with him in all the peculiar and pleasurable associations of college life. His genial, hearty good will won for him the affection of his friends, a host of friends, who looked up to him as their popular leader. We have watched his career with interest and pleasure, ever since we graduated together from "Old Vic." in 1881. Only those who were personally acquainted with him knew how admirably he was fitted for the high position in which his countrymen placed him. We consider him a great honor, not only to his alma mater, the Methodist Church, but also to his country, and knowing him, as we did in his college days, and following him in his precarious struggle up the pathway of fame, until he had almost reached the top, and now to see him fall in the noonday of his glory, was a grief to us all. He was a man of a mantle of tenderness and sorrow, and endears his memory in the minds of all who knew him. There is, however, this consolation, and it is no small one, that his brilliant career, though brief, was unclouded by any unworthy act, and he leaves behind him, in the annals of his country, a name untarnished by any unworthy deed.

(Signed), James B. Freeman, Charles H. Ivey, James A. Thomas, and others.

An Interesting Window Display Of Bon-Ami—The Housekeepers' Friend

We are devoting our west window this week to a display of Bon-Ami, the modern cleaner. It is called the housekeeper's friend because it's the best article we have ever sold for cleaning glass, metals of any kind, woodwork, oilcloth, etc. Every housekeeper who has tried it would not be without a cake, especially at housecleaning time. Ask for a free sample cake. Regular cake is sold at 15 cents or 2 for 25 cents. Telephone your orders to 1866 or 317. T. A. Rowat & Co., 234 Dundas street.
