

King Edward the Peacemaker Laid to Rest

Splendid Sight Marks Passage of King's Body To Tomb at Windsor

Nation Rulers From All Sections of Globe in Cortege of Edward the Seventh, While Vast Throngs of Grief Stricken Subjects Witness Passage of the Funeral Through Streets of London.

[Associated Press Cable.]

London, May 20.—The royal funeral cortege started from Westminster Hall at 9:50 o'clock this morning, to the booming of minute guns.

London, May 20.—The body of King Edward VII. was carried through the streets of the capital today in the presence of many hundreds of thousands of subjects, and with the kings of nine European nations, members of all of the royal families of the world, and a former president of the United States following the casket from Westminster Hall to Paddington station.

THE COLORS DIPPED.

The cortege moved through solid lines of red-coated soldiers, standing with rifles reversed and the regimental colors dipped to the ground.

At the railway station the casket was placed in a funeral car and taken to Windsor, where after the Church of England service had been conducted by the Archbishop of Canterbury in St. George's Chapel, it was entombed in the Albert Memorial Chapel adjoining.

A SPLENDID SPECTACLE.

No such processional spectacle had been witnessed in London since Queen Victoria's jubilee. The parade included many of the greatest men of the kingdom, with representatives of all arms of the service, and delegations from the most famous regiments of the Empire, and representative groups of foreign armies and navies.

Behind the casket, upon which rested the imperial symbols, followed the late King's charger, while his favorite terrier was led by a Highland soldier just before the imperial ensign.

THE ROYAL MOURNERS.

King George, Emperor William and several other members of royalty, wore the uniforms of British generals.

The representatives of the two great republics, France and the United States, were given a position at the rear of all the royalities and the princes of the European states. Their carriage followed those carrying the royal ladies, and they were the last in the line of the representatives of foreign governments.

THE GUNS BOOM.

The Duke of Orleans was given precedence as the envoy of the French people. The booming of minute guns and the tolling of bells accompanied the movement of the procession, while the bands in turn played "The Dead March From Saul," and "Chopin's Funeral March."

VAST CROWD OF ONLOOKERS.

The morning was clear, and a hot sun beat upon the great mass of humanity that lined the route of the procession. It is doubtful if so many people were ever before seen in London.

MANY INJURIES.

At the Mall in St. James street, and at Hyde Park the throng almost overwhelmed the procession. The soldiers had to fight to prevent the lines being swept away by the crush. There were many broken limbs, and other injuries were received. Hundreds of persons fainted, especially among the women, who had been standing on the pavement for hours before the procession left Westminster Hall.

King George, the Queen-Mother Alexandra and the Princess Victoria entered Westminster Hall before the procession, and spent some minutes before the casket. Emperor William, who was at the entrance as they appeared, dismounted, and waving the lackeys aside, opened the door of the Queen-Mother's carriage, helped her out, and then kissed her upon the cheek.

NATURE IN HYMN OF HOPE AS BODY IS LAID IN TOMB

Bright Skies and Blossoming Flowers Make Impressive Accompaniment to Final Solemn Service Over King Edward's Body at Windsor Castle.

[Associated Press Cable.]

Windsor, Eng., May 20.—It was a bitter winter day when the body of King Edward VII. was borne up the hill to the medieval chapel of St. George's. Today the castle gates at Windsor opened to receive the casket of the Seventh Edward with the green of an English spring on the trees and grass within the massive walls. The gray towers and battlements over which the Union Jack was floating at half-mast, never appeared more impressive.

In the streets below was a seething mass of people in black, with a lane kept open by two solid lines of soldiers of the cortege to pass through.

Arrival at Windsor. When the royal train arrived at the station the body of the monarch was again placed on a gun carriage, and the procession was reformed, with the addition of ambassadors, ministers and other representatives of foreign states. Thus it passed through the purple-draped streets to the castle, and into St. George's chapel.

From the railway station to the chapel the gun-carriage was drawn by a squad of blue jackets. Immediately behind walked the king, wearing the uniform of a general and sash of the Garter, with the German Emperor on the right, and the late King's brother, the Duke of Connaught, on his left.

The clergy who were to conduct the service were in the chapel when the cortege arrived. They were the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Archbishop of York and the Bishops of Winchester and Oxford, and the Dean of Windsor.

Altar Buried in Flowers. The casket was placed on a purple catafalque before the altar, which was fairly buried in flowers.

As the minute guns boomed and bells tolled the casket, borne on the shoulders of Grenadier Guards, was placed on the catafalque. The lord chamberlain and the lord steward stood to the right and King George as the chief mourner stood at the head of the casket. His Majesty's body, that somewhere in the cosmic void a wandering comet's tail is playing hide and seek with the earth. Tomorrow evening being still further from the sun, it will appear longer and plainer, as the astronomers agree that with tonight the real spectacular exhibition will begin.

LONDON TODAY MOURNS KING MANY MEMORIAL SERVICES RAILWAYS IN UNIQUE TRIBUTE

Social Life of City Unite in Paying Last Tribute to Late King Edward the Seventh, While Great Transportation Systems Cancel Many Trains and Halt All for Space of Three Minutes.

From 8 o'clock this morning until three minutes after 9 not a wheel on the entire systems of the Grand Trunk and C. P. R. systems turned. Expresses, which usually stop for nothing came to a standstill in the open country, wherever they might be, as soon as the engineer saw that the hands of his watch were pointed at 8 o'clock. The C. P. R. went even further, and by a special order from Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, all the big C. P. R. boats that could be reached by wireless were ordered to stop in mid-ocean. It was the express wish of both Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and Mr. Charles M. Hays that every employee should have time to observe the holiday set aside by the Government for mourning for King Edward.

Way-Freights Cancelled. Wherever possible trains were cancelled. The G. T. R. cancelled all day freight. "Everything came to an absolute stand at 8 o'clock," said a C. P. R. operator. "Not even an instrument clicked. Our only express in this immediate vicinity was that which leaves for the east at 7:45, and it came to a stand between Zorra and Woodstock. More than 200 of our trains in Ontario were halted at the same time."

"About 25 trains in the territory operated from London came to a dead stand at 8 o'clock," said Chief Dispatcher Forrester, of the Grand Trunk. "The train that leaves for the east at 7:30 stopped between Ingersoll and Dorchester and the 7:40 train for Sarnia had just pulled into Komoka."

A Unique Tribute. The tribute to the memory of the late King paid by the two great railroads is a unique and striking one, and is without any parallel in the history of Canadian railroading.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN ATTEND MEMORIAL SERVICES

Pupils From All the Public Schools of City Gather at the Various Churches and Listen to Eulogistic and Patriotic Addresses by Many Pastors.

In addition to the memorial service held in St. Paul's Cathedral this morning, thousands of school children attended special services, and in many cases were accompanied by their parents. The children of the Colborne street and Princess avenue schools gathered at the First Presbyterian Church, where Rev. J. Gibson Inkster preached. At Talbot Street Baptist Church, Rev. A. J. Vining addressed the pupils from Talbot and King street schools. Rev.

A. K. Birks, in the Askin Street Methodist Church, spoke to the children of the Worley road and Victoria, Grand avenue and Colborne street south attended Christ Church, where Rev. R. S. W. Howard conducted the service. Rev. Thomas Mitchell, at New St. James, talked to the scholars of the St. George's and Richmond street institutions. Wellington Street Methodist was filled with the children of the Simcoe street school, who were addressed by Rev. J. E. Brown.

BRIDGEBURG MAN KILLED AT ST. THOMAS

Richard Rock, an M. C. R. Employee, Falls Eighty-Five Feet From Wabash Bridge.

[Special to The Advertiser.] St. Thomas, May 20.—The body of Richard Rock, aged 22, who was employed by the M. C. R. at Bridgeburg, and was on a visit to his parents here, was found this morning lying beneath the Wabash Railway bridge over Kettle Creek. He had fallen off at the highest point, 85 feet, and had lain there for hours before being seen by Engineer Lewis, coming in on train No. 95. He was instantly killed. His skull was fractured and leg broken. How it occurred is not known. Deceased was unmarried. An inquest will be held.

WHO WILL PAY FOR THE WATCHMAN

This Question Is Worrying the City in Regard to Grey Street.

The full text of the order of the Dominion Railway Commission regarding Grey street crossing has not yet been received by Mayor Beattie, and it is not known what position the city is in. It is certain that the crossing must be protected by gates and a watchman, but who will bear the expense of this is not known. The annual cost will be considerable, probably $800 a year, while the cost of the gates will be no small item.

COLLEGIATE STUDENTS AT MEMORIAL SERVICE

Address Delivered by Rev. Dr. Whiting, of First Methodist Church.

A large percentage of the students at the Collegiate Institute attended a memorial service for King Edward VII. there this morning. Rev. Dr. Whiting, of the First Methodist Church, presided and delivered a short address, in which he dealt with the character of Edward the Peacemaker.

Rev. Prof. Jenkins, of Huron College, and Rev. J. Gibson, Inkster, of the First Presbyterian Church, also spoke. Rev. Mr. Vining, of Talbot Street Baptist Church, assisted in the services. The Collegiate Cadets were unable to be present, as they attended the civic memorial service in St. Paul's Cathedral in a body, the upper assembly room was draped in purple and black, and the programme carried out was a very impressive one.

HULL, QUE., VISITED BY DISASTROUS FIRE

Ten Buildings Were Destroyed Entailing a Loss of Ten Thousand Dollars.

[G. N. W. Dispatch.]

Ottawa, May 20.—Fire, which broke out on the premises of Joseph Bernier, cab owner, of Duke street, Hull, in the early hours of the morning, destroyed ten buildings, entailing a loss of $10,000, and for a while threatened a repetition of the great conflagration of 1900. The fire was fanned by a light breeze from the northeast and the buildings being over 40 years old, and of flimsy construction, they burned with a ferocity with which the local fire fighters were unable to cope. A request being sent into the Ottawa department for help, Capt. Graham responded in person with a steamer and hose wagon. With both brigades at work, the flames were soon under control. The insurance is about $5,000.

Service in St. Paul's Marked by Solemn Pomp and Doleful Grandeur!

Civilian and Military Dignitaries Attend the Funeral Service at Which Honor Was Done to the Good King Who Is Gone—Impressive Tributes and Inspiring Music.

With tolling bells and the wailing strains of the "Dead March in Saul," followed by one of the most impressive funeral services ever held in the city of London, the burial of England's greatest monarch, Edward VII., was celebrated with due solemnity in the city today.

The civic memorial service in St. Paul's Cathedral was most stirring in its solemn grandeur, and the other services held throughout the city were scarcely less touching.

From cathedral spire and tiny chapel pealed forth the dirge. The wheels of commerce everywhere stopped for a brief space at least to pay their last tribute to the dead King.

THE OFFICIAL TRIBUTE.

The official tribute to the memory of the King was paid in St. Paul's Cathedral. Here the representatives of the people—its judiciary, the administrative officers, the fraternal organizations, all gathered to pay their last respects to King Edward.

It has never been rivalled in its solemn grandeur, nor in impressiveness. The cathedral was crowded to the very doors during the long ceremonial.

Outside stood a large throng, hushed into silence by the sorrow all felt. It was not comfortable at times, but still the people waited, and joined in the hymns outside.

CATHEDRAL DECORATED.

The cathedral was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The altar was draped in royal purple and black. About the walls hung shields, about which were draped the mourning colors. Festoons of purple and black were everywhere. The pulpit was also tastefully decorated.

At the entrance stood a table covered with scores of Easter lilies with the royal colors. The battle-torn colors of the Seventh Regiment, hanging in the chancel, added a touch of sorrow peculiar in its significance.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES.

The service itself was most impressive. The beautiful hymns, the magnificent music, the reverent and religious feeling everywhere predominant, made it indeed a memorable occasion, long to be remembered by those privileged to hear it.

The addresses of Bishop Williams, Rev. Dr. Ross, Rev. Mr. Walker and Rev. Dr. Manning were most suitable to the occasion. All referred to the great place King Edward had taken in history, and spoke of his gifts as a peacemaker.

Particularly apt was the bishop's mention of the pacification of Africa, but quite as worthy of mention was his eloquent tribute to King Edward as the one man who had done more to bring the Irish and the English together than had been done during the past seven centuries, and today these two nationalities were bound more closely together than they had been in centuries. The resolution of the Irish Nationalists in which they expressed their deep regret and sorrow at the death of King Edward, was one of the most significant tributes yet paid to the memory of the dead King.

GARRISON PARADES.

Shortly after 9 o'clock, the soldiers of the garrison of London met at the Armories. They were accompanied by the veterans of other days, all with badges of mourning.

Col. Hodgins, D.O.C., in command, perfected the arrangements. The men were called to attention, and the imposing procession moved to the cathedral.

Col. Hodgins, with his staff, Major Kaye, R.C.R., Major Lamb, Corps of Guides, Lieut. Anderson, C.O.C., Lieut. J. T. Hennessy, Lieut. F. Owen Hodgins, Lieut. J. M. F. Dillon, headed the solemn parade.

The order was as follows: "A" and "B" Squadrons, First Hussars, Major Leonard and Major Abbott.

Sixth Field Battery, Major W. Leonard and Capt. Hunt.

"K" Company, R.C.R., Lieut. Law.

Seventh Regiment Fusiliers, Col. Campbell, Maj. McCrimmon.

No. 1 Section, C. S. C.

No. 1 Detachment, P. A. M. C., Col. Belton.

London Collegiate Institute Cadets, Capt. Jack Greer.

Veterans' Association of 1866 and 1885. There were several hundred in the ranks of the veterans, and all wore the customary mourning bands about their left arms.

They marched first to the cathedral, and were seated early. Shortly afterwards the civic bodies arrived, headed by his worship Mayor Beattie.

Had Narrow Escape From Total Destruction on Wednesday Afternoon. On Wednesday afternoon the Belmont cheese factory had a narrow escape from total destruction by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is conjectured that it started from the engine. It was discovered in the nick of time, narrowly averting more serious damage. One side of the factory was burned, but the stock escaped damage. The factory is owned by Mr. W. Fitzpatrick.

ACTORS IN A ROW. Kingston, May 20.—Miss Dorothy Arville, leading lady in "The Girl From Rectors," at breakfast in the Randolph Hotel this morning, threw a jug of cream into the face of Harry Paul, another member of the company, when he came into the dining-room and sat beside her at the table. The couple had quarrelled and during the night the clerk had threatened to eject Paul, who was seeking to break into the lady's room. Miss Arville had her fingers mauld with her to prevent intrusion. The troupe went on to Ottawa today.

STEAMER SANK TUG AND STRUCK TRAWLER

Steamer Invermore on the Newfoundland Route Was on the Rampage.

Halifax, May 19.—The steamer Invermore, which left North Sydney at 1:30 a.m., was in collision with the large French trawler Beluga, and had been but about one hour out when she returned with a hole stove in her bow. The trawler arrived in port shortly after in a badly damaged condition, and making water. As Captain Charlotte of the trawler endeavored to dock his boat at the Dominion wharf the effort was attended with further disaster and almost loss of life. The steam tug Zedee was lying at the head of the wharf, in charge of Captain Nesbitt and Engineer Coggin. Without a moment's notice the big iron steamer crashed into the tug, and she sank immediately.

The steamer Invermore is on the route between North Sydney and Newfoundland, in place of the Bruce which is now in drydock. She had on board 50 passengers and a crew of 35 officers and men. The Beluga's crew numbered 30 men. Engineer Coggin, of the Zedee, had a narrow escape from drowning as the tug went down.

A MOVE TOWARDS PEACE

The Hague to Take Up Proposal for Court of Arbitral Justice.

Mohank Lake, N. Y., May 14.—James Brown Scott, solicitor of the state department, and a delegate to The Hague conference, brought to the Lake Mohank conference on international arbitration today an "authoritative and directed" quotation from Secretary of State Knox, predicting that the third Hague conference would find a permanent court of arbitral justice in session at The Hague, and that many powers were accepting the proposition at least in principle. President Nicholas Murray Butler expressed the thanks of the conference to Secretary Knox for the announcement. Charles Henry Butler, reporter of the supreme court, referred to the exclusion of warships from the Great Lakes by agreement in 1817 between Great Britain and the United States, as an instance of the limitation of armaments. Congress, he said, has often been importuned in behalf of local shipyards for an abrogation of this agreement in order to promote the building of a warship there, but investigations had always sustained

Montreal, Que., May 19.—Mr. A. E. Kemp, of Toronto, past president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who is here attending a meeting of the executive of the association, places himself on record in an interview, as being opposed to reciprocity with the United States. FIRE AT IROQUOIS

Several Buildings Destroyed by Early Morning Blaze Yesterday.

Iroquois, Ont., May 19.—Iroquois was visited early this morning by a fire which destroyed C. E. Keeler's tin shop and contents, and the adjoining dwelling of Mrs. Amos Hervis and contents, both buildings on Main street, as well as a drive shed belonging to M. F. FEELING RUNS HIGH

Citizens of Shawville Indignant Over Acquittal of Gypsy Murphy.

Ottawa, May 19.—Mr. R. N. Venning, assistant commissioner of fisheries, left this afternoon for The Hague, where he will assist in the presentation of the Canada and Newfoundland case in the North Atlantic fisheries dispute which comes up for hearing next month. An indignation meeting was held by the citizens of Shawville, Que., last night to protest against the manner in which Michael Murphy, the gypsy who shot and killed two young men of the village last month, had escaped punishment through a verdict of acquittal rendered by the jury at Bryson yesterday afternoon. Feeling against Murphy runs very high, and if he comes back to the village serious trouble is likely. Murphy, it is said, has threatened to burn up the whole village in order to "get even," and the citizens last night decided to have special watchmen engaged as long as Murphy is known to be anywhere in the neighborhood.

HIT AT AVLESWORTH

Seaford, Ont., May 19.—At the annual meeting of the Goderich district of the Methodist Church, convened in Seaford today, a resolution, moved by Rev. T. J. Snowden, and seconded by Dr. Dougall, was passed commending the earnest efforts of H. H. Miller, M. P., to secure the passage of the bill to suppress gambling in connection with race meets in this country, and condemning the action of the Minister of Justice in opposing the bill as strongly as he did, and also his action in securing the pardon of the Toronto men committed to prison for sale of immoral literature, as being "antagonistic to the best interests of the future morals in this country, and unworthy of him as the guardian of law and order."

Market Entrance

Farmers will find our market entrance a great convenience in calling for parcels. While we deliver to all hotels, yet many prefer to use our parcel call office at rear of store for safety, as we check free of charge and take care of your parcels, wraps, etc., and there is absolutely no danger of anything going astray. We hold ourselves responsible for anything left in our care, and you'll find it quite convenient to get your parcels from market entrance, and safer than having them left at the hotels on busy Saturdays.

CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES.

Nothing has been more vexing to British diplomacy for over a century than the recurring disputes between Canada and the United States. British statesmen have felt themselves between Scylla and Charybdis in their attempts to satisfy the Canadian people and do their duty by the empire on the one hand, and keep the peace with the United States on the other. The late Lord Salisbury felt this difficulty so keenly that he referred to Canada in disparaging terms in a conversation with the American ambassador in 1897, which General Foster has recorded in his memoirs recently published. Lord Salisbury, the leader of the Unionist party, made the maintenance of friendly relations with the United States the cornerstone of British foreign policy. Nothing would so further this purpose as the growth of neighborly sentiments between the Dominion and the Republic, yet today a wing of the Unionist party is trying to undo Lord Salisbury's work. For example, the London Times, the London Mail, the London Express, and other tariff reform journals, are very much exercised over President Taft's tariff overtures to this country. They profess to see in them a political significance which Canadians do not dream of, and which they do not believe is in the mind of the Washington Government. The President has been prompted by the growth of reciprocity sentiment in the United States, and by the insurrection against the Payne-Aldrich tariff, but these London journals accuse him of attempting to forestall a policy of imperial preferential trade, and argue that an improvement in the commercial relations between Canada and the United States would not only be prejudicial to British commercial interests, but would tend to weaken the political tie between Canada and the mother country. This attitude is illogical and short-sighted. Canada has no intention of abandoning the principle of the British preference for any favors the American market can offer her. Any reciprocity treaty would be subject to this condition. It would not be entered into by the Canadian Government unless it were profitable to this country, and anything that promoted the prosperity of this country could not be to the disadvantage of the mother country. If it strengthened the friendship between Canada and the United States it would lighten the task of British diplomacy, and be welcomed by every serious British statesman. It is safe to say no complaint would be heard from the men who are at present responsible for the foreign policy of the mother country.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN UNION.

Lord Gladstone, the first governor-general of the South African Union, arrived in Cape Town in time to take part in the ceremonies attending the formal inauguration of the four British colonies under one central government on the last day of the present month. These ceremonies over, his excellency's first duty will be to select a cabinet to act, pending the Union parliamentary elections. This will be no easy task, inasmuch as the claims to representation of each of the colonies will have to be considered, and each possesses able public men who are aspirants to office.

For the premiership Mr. Merriman, premier of Cape Colony; General Botha, the former Boer commandant, and Dr. Jameson, of Transvaal raid fame, are mentioned, with the chances in favor of Botha.

The probability is that the first government of the united colonies will be a party one, the advocates of hope of a realization of their ideal. At the outset, however, it is likely that the question of the relation of the white and black population will be the most important one. Throughout the negotiations for union—beginning with the Cape Assembly's unanimous vote in favor of the commencement of negotiations for federation, and followed by the conference at Durban, at which a constitution was drafted for final submission to the different parliaments—the question of racial antagonism has been uppermost. It is probable that "questions which must in future have much importance to the union, will be practically kept in the background until this race problem has been solved or until an agreement has been reached.

CANADA'S TRADE GROWTH.

According to a published statement Canada stands third among the principal countries of the world as regards growth of trade during the past forty years. The comparison is based on the figures for the years 1868 and 1908, respectively, the latter year presumably being the latest for which figures of the total trade of all countries are available. The statement gives first place to Japan, and second to Argentina.

It should be remembered, however, that forty years ago Japan was just about entering into the sisterhood of nations. Her foreign trade was therefore comparatively small, amounting to only a little more than $27,000,000, while her population then was over 35,000,000, as against Canada's population at that time of only 3,413,000. A little figuring will, therefore, show that in the forty years Japan's per capita total trade increase was but 8.19, whereas Canada's per capita total trade increase in 1908, as compared with 1868, was 73.89.

Further analysis of the per capita trade increase of the principal countries of the world shows Belgium to be in the lead, with Great Britain second, Argentina third, Denmark fourth, and Canada fifth.

There is reason to believe, however, that a comparison of the figures of all countries for a later period would give Canada a relatively higher place. For instance, if the past ten years are considered it will be found that the trade of the Dominion increased as never before in a similar period in the country's history. For the twelve months ended February, 1901, our total trade was $365,915,972, of which $188,278,458 was exports; last year the total was $663,749,258, the exports totalling $297,494,227. That Canada's real trade growth will continue and increase there can be little doubt; indeed, the prevailing belief is that it has only fairly begun.

SIR WILFRID AND THE WEST.

Sir Wilfrid's western visit is a good idea. Personal acquaintance with the premier will increase his popularity, and inspire him to receive enjoyment and inspiration by admiring with the enterprising people who are making a record of progress between the head of the lakes and the Pacific coast.

BOURASSA AN IMPOSSIBILITY.

It is true that Bourassa is to succeed Monk as leader of the Quebec Conservatives, the Quebec Conservative probably flock by themselves. For Bourassa could not play second to Borden or any other man.

A CURIOSITY IN VERDICTS.

Whoever drafted the verdict for the jury in connection with the inquest on the victims of the Hull disaster was not guilty of any "imprudence" in the way of distributing evidence. While exculpating the company from any criminal responsibility, the jury slaps it on the wrist for being guilty of "certain imprudence" in storing 12,000 fulminate of mercury detonators within fifteen feet of the magazine filled with tons of explosive.

A HINT TO THE M. AND E.

So far as we have been able to see, the only paper in Canada that was "surprised and shocked" by the present Mr. Fielding was the Mail and Empire. The Mail and Empire would not injure the prospects of the party which it supports if it would occasionally admit that its political adversaries might one day be blue moon accidentally, at least, do what is right. Nothing hurts a political party like the incessant condemnation of its opponents.

AN AMERICAN VIEW.

A free entrance for all the products of the Dominion would be of inestimable mutual benefit. We could take the entire surplus of Canada's fields, farms and fisheries, and while the purchase of that surplus would little and probably not at all affect prices in our markets, it would by benefit to Canadian producers result inevitably in a great increase in the already large Canadian demand for our surplus in manufactured goods. It would expand the business and the wealth of this country by an expansion of both production and consumption across the border.

POINTER TO FRATERNALISTS.

Members of fraternal societies who get carried along by their brethren for months and then just "drop out" will be interested in Judge Monk's ruling that they can be sued and made to pay up. It is a good doctrine, too. It is a mighty unfraternal thing to cheat brethren who have shown so much consideration as to keep members in good standing.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED.

Hon. Frank Oliver will travel over a good part of the west this summer, visiting out-of-the-way and unknown places with an escort of Northwest Mounted Police. The honorable gentleman travelled over a good part of the west many years ago, but not with a mounted escort. In those days he was just plain Frank Oliver, printer and newspaper man, looking for a favorable spot in which to anchor his prairie schooner and start business.

AN EDWARD MEMORIAL.

The Montreal proposal that the memorial to King Edward shall take the form of a home and school for the blind is in line with what King Edward himself would desire; for on more than one occasion he has thrown his influence in the direction of having memorials for the dead take a form that would benefit the less fortunate among the living.

A DESIRABLE FLAT.

He—Isn't he an awful flat?
She—Yes, but he has a motor, a yacht, and drives a four-in-hand. He's the sort you might call a flat with modern improvements.

PAT'S OPINION.

"Was the sermon today to y'r liking, Pat?" inquired the priest.
"Troth, y'r reverence, it was a grand sermon intirely."
"What seemed to take hold of ye?" the priest inquired.
"Well, now, as ye are for axin' me, be-gorra, I'll tell ye. What took hold of me most was y'r reverence's perseverance—the way ye went over the same thing agin and agin and agin."

ANOTHER VIEW OF IT.

While Canada would give a warm welcome to the Duke of Connaught, who, as "Prince Arthur," won its heart forty years ago, there is no emergency here requiring the taking of any new departure in the selection of a Governor-General. The country is tranquil, threatened by neither invasion nor internal dissension. And there might be some disadvantage in taking royalty out of its natural and historic environment, and setting it up amid new and strange surroundings.

A QUIET WHIST PARTY.

A lady had recently lost her husband. One day she went with some relatives to visit his grave.
"Ay, ay," she said, looking at the corner of the cemetery where he lay. "There they are. There's Professor Simpson, and there's his wife, and here's Dr. Sinclair, and here's my James—just the old whist party."

MODERN SURGERY.

"Robinson was badly hurt in that railway accident, wasn't he, doctor?"
"Very. We had to amputate both his legs."
"How terrible. Will he pull through?"
"Oh, yes; we'll put him on his feet again in about six months."

REVISED.

Friend (to interesting invalid)—Never mind, dear, you'll soon be better. Remember, it's only the good that die young.
Interesting Invalid—You've got it the wrong way. You mean it's only the young who die good.

WHERE ONTARIO LEADS.

Fifty-eight per cent of the total number of Canadian newspapers are located in Ontario, while the population of Ontario is less than 35 per cent of the entire Canadian population. The reason is one of which this province has certainly reason to be proud, and it is well that we should plume ourselves while we can, as the present eminence is not likely to be much longer continued.

THE WORLD'S GRATITUDE.

The more the reign of the late King is considered, the more grateful the world grows. Its universal acclaim, we had almost said adoration, is a new thing under the sun. The great kings of old, whose reputation has reached to our time, had after all a very partial and a very besmirched fame compared with that which has so instantaneously and universally and brilliantly enveloped the memory of King Edward VII. In every town and city, and almost every hamlet and isolated dwelling the wide world over, King Edward's death is mourned, and the grand work he did for mankind reverently appreciated.

THAT MAN FIELDING.

Hon. Mr. Fielding is going to Europe. Watch out he doesn't bring home another batch of trade treaties in the autumn.

SAYS TROWBRIDGE
ACTED AS SPY

Witness in the Alberta Inquiry Stated He Played the Part for Cushing.

Edmonton, Alta., May 20.—Premier Rutherford was on the stand in the Waterways Railway inquiry all afternoon yesterday. Mr. Johnson finished the direct examination and Mr. Bennett took up a severe cross-examination which was in full swing when the commission adjourned.

Mr. Rutherford apparently knew little or nothing of the details of the Alberta and Great Waterways, leaving the matters to his subordinate officers. He explained that he took the railway department of the province from the Minister of Public Works because he thought that official had enough to keep him busy, and that he was the first minister that would have to do part of the work anyway in connection with the financing, so he had better do it all. He denied absolutely the inference cast in the letters by Minty to Clark and Cornwall, which inferred that the Premier should be kept in touch with matters, so as not to be allowed to grow anxious, and he never was kept informed by Cornwall. He denied any knowledge of Clark's connection with the Athabasca syndicate until Bennett told it on the floor of the House and denied any special friendship with Clark.

Signed All Contracts.

To Mr. Bennett he said that he was Minister of Railways in the province, signed all contracts with railroads prior to Jan. 1, 1910. He was the interested in the railway department, he admitted, practically ignoring John Stocks and Chalmers, the financiers of the department of public works, although they were the only practical men he had to consult, and he admitted that when he defended the prairie loan ballot in his speech in the Legislature, that he was defending a mistake, for loan had been struck out of the specifications.

He declared positively that he never said the counter-specifications prepared by Chalmers were to be used in place of those prepared by Clark. Bennett created a slight sensation by declaring that Trowbridge, now Provincial Secretary, and then secretary to Cushing, acted the part of spy to Cushing.

ARRESTED ON THE BORDER

Taken Back to Cobalt to Face Charge of Fraud.
Toronto, Ont., May 19. — Inspector John Miller, of the provincial detection force, left this morning for Cobalt, with Capt. J. C. Pauley, arrested on the border on a charge of theft and fraud.

It is alleged that Pauley, in November, 1908, obtained from Mr. T. Robinson, of Cobalt, the sum of $400 for certain mining stock, which was never delivered. A warrant for his arrest was sworn out, but Pauley fled the country.

Recently Inspector Goldbeck reported to Superintendent J. F. Rogers, of the provincial police, that he believed the man to be in Buffalo. The matter was placed in the hands of Provincial Constable Dowd at Bridgeburg. Pauley was arrested in Buffalo on Tuesday night. He will be tried in Cobalt.

As in many garrison towns in France, it is the custom at Cahors to give the poor the remains of the soldiers' meals. The cook of the Seventh Regiment has just been punished by the colonel for serving the hungry folk with soup in dirty receptacles.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

MOSTLY GAUZE AND FEATHERS

This sketch shows one of the new designs for the ever popular lounging robe, or wrapper. Any of the pretty summer materials are suitable. The edges of the front and bottom of sleeves are finished with bands of ribbon in harmonizing shade.

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Miss Grey: I correspond with two young men. I am engaged to one of them. How shall I tell the other one of my engagement? (2) What does "I, H. S." mean—the letters one sees on Easter cards? (3) What is the largest park in the United States? (4) What will remove warts and moles? WORRIED.

A.—(1) In the same way you tell your other friends. (2) The letters "I, H. S." stands for a Latin phrase which means "Jesus, Savior of Men." (3) Yellowstone. (4) Consult a physician.

Dear Miss Grey: (1) What sort of an evening wrap would you suggest for a girl of 20? (2) Will white serge coat suits be worn this summer? Also ponce coats? Which hat these two shall I get? TWENTY.

A.—Why not get a white serge suit and a ponce coat, using the latter for an evening wrap? Ponce is used a great deal for that purpose, and is durable as well as beautiful and fashionable. White suits are more popular than ever.

Dear Miss Grey: (1) Is it bad luck to have one's wedding ring made smaller? (2) Which is proper, Adele or Adelle? (3) Is pink a baby girl's color? READER.

A.—(1) No. (2) Adele. (3) Pink for boys, and blue for girls.

Dear Miss Grey: (1) Please give me recipe for brown cake. (2) I love a young man and he seems to love me. How can I find out if he does? (3) I have a chum who tells everything I tell her. How can I make her stop? READER.

A.—(1) One-half cup butter, one cup brown sugar, one-half cup molasses, yolks four eggs, one cup sour milk, two cups flour, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon cloves, one-fourth teaspoon grated nutmeg, one cup seeded raisins, one-half cup currants, one-half cup English-walnut meats, chopped, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder.

(2) If he loves you, he will tell you so.

Dear Miss Grey: (1) How can I clean a white Milan hat? (2) What is "community silver"? SCHOLAE PUELLA.

A.—(1) Better send to a professional. It is poor custom to try to clean these expensive braids shapes at home, for the effort often fails and the hat is ruined. (2) It is a plated silver.

ALL AROUND THE HOME

BY CYNTHIA GREY.

Many suffer from aches and pains in feet and legs that are clearly traceable to the wearing of high-heeled shoes.

Remove ink stains by applying warm tallow, letting it remain two hours. Wash in warm suds and rinse. Bamboo furniture should be rubbed occasionally with a mixture of linseed oil and turpentine, followed by a brisk polish with a soft cloth. This furniture should be exposed to the air frequently and kept away from the fire. To clean white enamel furniture rub dirty marks with a flannel slightly moistened with methylated spirit and wipe dry. Next wash the furniture with warm water and soap and wipe dry. Then rub with a flannel dipped in a little whiting slightly dampened, and polished with very clean, dry dusters.

Talk With the Cook.

The cod steak should be placed on the flat piece of sheet iron kept for steamed or baked fish, or it should be cooked and served on a plank surrounded by mounds of the mashed potatoes. It should be covered with dry crumbs, seasoned and moistened with dripping or butter or bacon fat, and should be baked 30 minutes. Planks for "planked fish" can be had at several of the hardware shops, and in their silver settings make a very handsome dish.

For the timbales at tea, soak a cup of bread crumbs (crusts will do) in a cup of milk, add a cup of finely chopped boiled ham, one tablespoonful of butter, salt and pepper to taste, add two well-beaten eggs and fill individual molds two-thirds full. Stand them in hot water, cover with buttered paper, and bake 15 minutes, turn out on a hot serving dish, and garnish with big bunches of cress.

Mortar and paint may be removed from window glass with hot sharp vinegar.

All bread dried to a crisp, then rolled fine or put through food grinder and mixed with equal parts of flour, is just the thing for croquets. Instead of spreading out sheets to iron try this plan: Fold the sheet in half, then quarter, lay on ironing board as though to iron. Now iron the rest of the clothes on top of sheet, turning it between pieces so as to reach all parts, finally folding, and again on another sheet. In this way sheets will be ironed better and easier than doing them separately. Yellow, dingy lace curtains are speedily restored to their former purity of color if boiled in a strong soapuds which is half skim milk and half water. Boil a half hour and then wash as usual.

FASHIONS

Fashions for the printed things extend even to printed stockings for the summer girl.

Some exquisite hand embroidered waists not made up are being shown in the shops. Morning blouses are particularly attractive if made of striped or dotted linen.

All the various gray combinations are much in evidence.

Foulards are very fashionable, especially black and white effects.

Crepes are steadily gaining in favor. Voiles are popular and are worn as separate waists with dressy two-piece suits.

Brussels net is much used in making jabots, stocks and Dutch collars. Ruffs of maline and shoulder capes of chiffon and net in plain colors and Persian designs are worn with the popular low-neck gowns and waists.

The Spanish sailor hat is a great favorite.

Pliable Panama hats are trimmed with a striped ribbon scarf, passed twice around the crown and tied in a single knot with ends hanging over the brim.

Long and short sleeves are about equally popular.

A variety of, of course, always being used for street wear.

PLAYTIME STORIES

TOUSEL GOES TO FAIRYLAND

Copyright, 1910, by N. E. A.

[By George Jacob Spinner.]

"I am boss here," Sand Man said, as he danced on Tousel's head; "Blink, you jump on his eyelids—Wink, you dance just where I did—While I throw Sand in his eyes: And you, Nod, don't look so wise!" Drouse came in and said, said he, "I'm here, Sand Man, can't you see?" Then before they really knew—
Out the window Tousel flew—
(On those same old Wings of Night)—
Say! it was a dandy sight!
Tousel said, "There's just one spot—
Fairyland—where I've been—NOT!
Let us go there right away."
And then see the Fairies play.

"Very well," Sweet Slumber said, "I'll go with you."

"We will go there, Tousel Head—
Soon they reached this mystic land—
(Oh! the sights they saw were grand!)
"Tousel," said the Fairy Queen,
"You're the first real boy I've seen."
"I'm a man, I'd have you know!"
Tousel said; "just watch me grow!"
Up there streets were paved with gold.
And Thought Bugs walked 'round real bold;
Wings grew in a garden there,
And young Tousel picked a pair—
Pinned 'em on and flew away
With a Fairy girl named "Fay."
Oh! it was a funny sight,
To see Tousel Head in flight!

"THE MESSAGE"

CHAPTER III.
Wherein a Strong Man Yields to Circumstances.

Curiosity, most potent of the primal instincts, conquered the girl's fear. As it happened, Warden was still kneeling. He sat back on his heels, rested the calabash against his knees, and withdrew a strip of dried skin from its cunningly devised hiding place. It was so curled and withered that it cracked beneath his fingers when he tried to unfold it. Quite without premeditation he had placed the calabash in such wise that the negro's features were given his companion confidence.

"What is it?" she asked, watching his efforts to persuade the twisted roll to remain open.

"Farciment, and uncommonly tough and leathery at that."

He did not look up. A queer notion was forming in his mind, and he was unwilling to meet her eyes just then.

"It looks very old," she said.

"A really respectable antique, I fancy. Have you any pins—four or more?"

She produced from a pocket a small busif with its store of sewing accessories.

"A genie of the feminine order!" he cried. "I was merely hoping for a supply of those superfluous pins that used to lurk in my sister's attire and only revealed their presence when I tried to reduce her to subjection."

"Oh, you have a sister?"

"Yes—married—husband ranching in Montana."

Meanwhile he was fastening the refractory document to the deck. With patience, helped by half a dozen pins, he managed to smooth it sufficiently to permit of detailed scrutiny. The girl, wholly interested now, knelt beside him. Any observer in a passing boat might have imagined that they were engaged in some profoundly devotional exercise. But the planks were hard. Miss Dane, seeing nothing but wrinkled parchment, yellow with age, and covered with strange scrawls that seemed to be more a part of the actual material than written on its surface, soon rose.

"Those hieroglyphics are beyond my ken," she explained.

"They are Arabic," said Warden.

"Arabic characters, that is. The words are Latin—at least to some extent. 'Epistola Pauli Hebraicis' has the ring of old Rome itself, even if it wears the garb of Mahomet."

He straightened himself suddenly, and shouted for Chris with such energy that the girl was startled.

Chris popped his head out of the fore hatch, and was told to bring his father's Bible, for Peter read two of its seven hundred odd pages each day in the year.

Warden compared book and scroll intently during many minutes. Miss Dane did not interrupt. She contented herself with a somewhat prolonged investigation of Warden's face, or so much of it as was visible. Then she turned away and gazed at the Sans Souci. There was a wistful look in her eyes. Perhaps she wished that the vessel were not so cramped, and that she could have exchanged the yacht for the pilot boat. At any rate, she was glad he had a sister. If only she had a brother—just such a one!

At last the man's deep, rather-curt voice broke the silence. "My Latinity was severely tried, but the chapter and verse gave me the English equivalent, and that supplied the key. Someone has that—someone has written here portions of the 37th and 38th verses of the eleventh chapter of St. Paul's Epistles to the Hebrews. Our version runs: 'They were stoned; they were sawn asunder; were tempted; were slain with the sword; they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth.' The remainder of the text is in yet another language—Portuguese, I imagine—but my small lore in that tongue is of no avail. In any case, my vocabulary could not possibly consort with the stately utterances of St. Paul, as it is the language of remarks adapted to the intelligence of a certain type of freebooter peculiar to the West African hinterland."

"What do you make of it all?" she asked.

"At present—nothing. It is an enigma, until I secure a Portuguese-English dictionary. Then I shall know more. Judging by appearances, the message, whatsoever it may be, is complete."

"What sort of skin is that?"

He lifted his eyes slowly. She was conscious of a curious searching quality in his glance that she had not seen there before.

"It is hard to say," he answered. And, indeed, he spoke the literal truth, being fully assured that the shirt and parchment were of a white man.

"The writing is funny, too," she went on, with charming disregard for the matter which she was asked to judge. "It is picked in with a needle and Indian ink," he explained. "That is an indelible method," he continued hurriedly, seeing that she was striving to remember her of and her was real danger of the suggestive word which had so nearly escaped his lips being brought to her recollection. "You see, I have been able to identify the genuine who served the article as a model," and he tapped the gourd lightly. "Therefore I am sure that this comes from a land where pen and ink were unknown in the days when some unscrupulous Christian fashion-dresser of a quaint contrivance to carry his secret."

"Some unhappy Christian!" she repeated. "You mean that some European probably wrote the message to the West African savages years and years ago, and took this means of safeguarding a secret?"

"Who can tell?" he answered, picking up the calabash and gazing steadily at the malignant grin which thus brought again into the full glare of the sun. "This fellow can almost speak, if only he could—"

"Oh, don't," he said. "My very heart is beating with the idea of that dreadful face. Please put it away. If you will not throw it overboard, or smash it to atoms, at least hide it."

"Sorry," he said gruffly, fitting the loose lid into its place. "I disliked the hysterical woman, and, greatly to his surprise, Evelyn Dane seemed to be rather disposed to yield to hysteria."

"The more I examine the thing the more I am bewildered," he went on, endeavoring to cover his uneasiness by an assumption of indifference. "Where in the world did this varnish come from? It has all the gloss and smooth texture and absence of color that one finds on a genuine Cremona violin. The man who mixed it must have known the recipe lost when Antonio Stradivarius died. Are you good at dates?"

The suddenness of the question perplexed her.

"Do you mean the sort of dates that one acquired painfully at school?" she asked. "If so, I can give you the year of the Battle of Hastings or the signing of the Magna Charta."

The next of a great artist's career is infinitely more important," he broke in. "Stradivarius was at the height of his fame about 1700. Now, if this is the varnish he and Amati and Guarnerius used, we have a shadowy clue to guide us in our inquiry."

"Please don't include me in the quest," she said decisively. "I refuse to have anything to do with it. Leave the matter to me, and that nasty calabash floats off towards the Atlantic or sinks in the Solent, exactly as the fates direct. Positively I am afraid of it."

"I really meant to take it out of your sight when I caught a glimpse of the varnish," he pleaded.

But his humility held a spice of sarcasm. Rising he tucked the gourd under his coat. He was half-way down the hatch when his glance fell on the little square of skin on the deck. Already the heat of the sun had affected it and two of the pins had given way. He came back.

"I may as well remove the lot while I am about it," he said, stooping to withdraw the remaining pins.

The Impossible Has Become

Possible—English Chemists Are the Discoverers.

TO GROW HAIR ON BALD SPOTS WAS ONCE CONSIDERED IMPOSSIBLE. They have recently discovered the long-lost remedy.

Ladies need never wear rats. The ladies of Paris have abandoned all false hair fillers, and are using the new hair grower—SALVIA. Hair can be grown in a few weeks.

Mrs. Jackson, of New York, writes stating that since using SALVIA her hair has grown six inches in two months. Marvellous are the results obtained from this new preparation.

Not only does it produce a beautiful, fluffy head of hair, but at once destroys the Dandruff germ. Mr. Strong guarantees SALVIA to grow hair, kill Dandruff and to make the hair soft and fluffy. SALVIA is not a dye; does not contain anything injurious.

All of its ingredients are simple and harmless. A daintily perfumed hair dressing, used and indorsed by men and women of society. A large, generous bottle only costs 50c, and remember, a money-back proposition.

A MORE ACCURATE RECORD OF MEMBERS

London Methodist District Meeting Sends a Resolution to the General Conference.

COMMITTEES ELECTED

There Are Now 36 Epworth Leagues in the District, With a Membership of 1,675—A Year of Prosperity.

At yesterday's session of the annual meeting of the London Methodist district, it was decided to forward a resolution to the general conference, recommending that the circuits be divided into districts, and over each district a leader be appointed, who shall attend to the quarterly distribution of communion cards and keep a record of the same, and further attend especially to the reception and removal of church members, so that a more accurate record may be kept in regard to people moving away from the church.

This resolution was passed as a result of several churches reporting large decreases in membership, and the explanation that a large number of members had been cut off on account of removals. Many of these removals had taken place years back, but the names had been allowed to remain on the church lists.

The next meeting of the district will be held in the First Methodist Church next May.

A recommendation was made that the next financial district meeting be held in the Empress Avenue Church next fall.

The membership report presented by the Rev. J. A. Agnew showed gratifying increases, both in membership and financially. The total missionary giving for 1910 was $21,522.65, an increase of $1,372. The total membership stands at 7,574, an increase of 39.

According to the report of the Rev. J. W. Hibbert, Sunday school secretary, there are 344 officers and teachers in the London district, 7,299 scholars, and a total force of 8,155. Nine Sunday schools have cradle roll departments, and six have home departments. $1,761 was raised for missions, and $7,661 for all Sunday school purposes.

There are 36 Epworth Leagues in the district, with a total membership of 1,675, and five junior leagues, having a membership of 151. The following amounts were raised: For local league purposes, $900; for general Epworth League fund, $52.35; for missions, $1,558.26; all other purposes, $919.28; grand total, $2,449.27.

The Rev. George Hewitt was elected a representative to the district stationing committee, and Rev. J. W. Hibbert, alternate.

The following committees were elected:

Sabbath Observance—Rev. J. A. Agnew, I. Taylor.

Suffered Terrible Pains From His Kidneys.

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body, and most people are troubled with some kind of kidney complaint, but do not suspect it.

There is no way of getting the kidney poisons out of the system except through the kidneys, and no medicine so effective in taking them out as Doan's Kidney Pills.

They help the kidneys to flush out the acid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and urinary passages.

Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by old and young.

Mr. Donald A. McInnes, Broad Cove, N.S., writes:—"I was troubled with my kidneys for nine months, and suffered with such terrible pains across the small of my back all the time that I could hardly get around. After taking two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I began to feel better, and by the time I had taken three I was completely cured."

AUTOMOBILE SCORCHING WILL BE PROHIBITED

Police Will Summon to Court All Who Go More Than Five Miles an Hour.

Automobile scorching will be prohibited in the parks.

At the meeting of the board of works last night, Parks Commissioner Pring complained of the speed of autoists while going through the parks, and declared it to be dangerous to the numerous children who spend the afternoon and evening there.

It was discovered that there is a by-law limiting the speed to five miles an hour in the park, and it was decided to ask chief Williams to send some plain clothes men to Victoria Park and summon all those who exceed the speed limit.

The resolution was passed by a standing vote.

During the same period 168 had been discharged—39 males and 88 females and 41 children. There were 15 births, 13 deaths, 51 operations and 126 patients were receiving treatment at the end of the month. The total receipts for the month were $2,547.40.

Those present were Mr. J. C. Judd, K.C. (chairman), S. Scroton, T. G. Turnbull, George E. Harris, Mayor Beattie and Superintendent Heard.

LONDON MAY HAVE NEW Y. W. C. BUILDING

Present Structure Is Not Keeping With the Work of the Association.

In the near future it is possible that London may have a new Y. W. C. A. building.

There is a growing sentiment that London should have a better building for the continuation of the good work.

This idea was put in any concrete form at last night's annual meeting of the association, but it was discussed on all sides, and it is altogether probable that within the present year the new building will be canvassed for the present rooms at the corner of Dundas and Talbot streets have altogether outgrown the needs of the association.

During the past few years the Y. W. C. A. has taken rapid strides, and its present rooms are altogether inadequate.

Last night's meeting was the annual gathering of members. There was a good attendance, and much interest was shown in the work.

The reports were read and adopted, showing the best financial standing the association has ever had. Considerably over $8,000 was taken in and expended.

A musical programme was given, Miss Harvey rendering a vocal solo, and Mrs. Jordan and Miss Mabel Scarlett instrumental solos.

Refreshments were also served at the conclusion of the programme.

CEMENT WALKS FOR THE BUSINESS DISTRICT

Flagstones Laid 25 Years Ago Are Now Worn Out.

At the board of works meeting last night it was decided to initiate cement walks on both sides of Dundas street from Ridout to Wellington, and on Richmond, from the Grand Trunk tracks to Fullarton street.

City Engineer Graydon recommended that the walks be laid under the Beattie objection, taking the ground for the merchants should have an opportunity of objecting if they saw proper, in view of the fact that they had been put to considerable expense in connection with the pavement and underground work.

Ald. Saunders then moved that the walks be initiated, and the motion carried.

The Bell Telephone Company asked for permission to lay conduits on Dundas street, Waterloo street, and Richmond. Fire Chief Aitken pointed out that there should be some provision made for the fire alarm wires, and the company will be asked to leave a duct for the alarm system.

Change of Load. M. Morin appeared before the committee asking for the privilege of drawing third cords of gravel rather than quarter cords. He agreed to throw off 20 cents a cord. The committee agreed to allow him to do so. William McDonald, of 312 William

SCOTLAND YARD IS WATCHING FOR "REDS"

British Detectives Ready to Protect Remarkable Gathering of Kings at Edward's Funeral.

London, May 19.—Scotland Yard is extraordinarily active tonight perfecting details for the protection of the remarkable group of European sovereigns, who will ride on horseback through the three miles of streets which tomorrow's cortege will traverse.

While it is known that continental anarchists do not care to work in London because it is the only political haven left to them in the world, Scotland Yard's protective measures are adopted to prevent an outbreak by a casual fanatic who does not work with and is not recognized by the organized continental anarchists and revolutionary groups.

Detectors from Madrid and Lisbon have been co-operating with the London detectives for the past few days in locating suspicious Spanish and Portuguese visitors in London, while a swarm of Berlin and St. Petersburg detectives have been here for a week.

For some reason the detectives were instructed tonight to centre their watchfulness on the marble arch, one of the points the cortege will pass, which, because of its openness, might offer the best strategic opportunity to foreign reds.

Photographers tomorrow, for the first time in London, will be compelled to exhibit police passes bearing their photographs. The police are unwilling to take the chances of cameras being carried by unauthorized and unidentified persons.

PORT HURON LOSES LEADING CITIZEN

William D. Smith Succumbs to Illness of Long Standing.

Port Huron, Mich., May 19.—Following a lingering illness of over two years, the past ten weeks of which he has been confined to his bed, William D. Smith, aged 80 years, one of the most highly respected and most prominent citizens of Port Huron, passed away at his home, 2439 Forest street, at 8 o'clock this afternoon.

William D. Smith was born at the Isle of Wight, England, Dec. 7, 1829, and came to America when 21 years old. About 40 years ago he settled at Port Huron, and has since made his home in this city.

Soon after his arrival at Port Huron, he engaged in the grocery business and for 25 years conducted a grocery store at the north end of the city. Although he is connected with several business institutions in the city he has not taken any active part in them for the past 10 years.

Decidedly served as a Democratic alderman on the council from the ninth ward for seven years, and always took a great interest in the welfare of Port Huron. He is survived by three sons and one daughter.

From Osgoode Station, Ont., comes a story of five years of suffering from indigestion and dyspepsia—five years of doctoring in vain—then "Little Digesters" and a complete cure. Mr. R. H. Ralph tells the story—his own story—thus:

"I have been a sufferer from indigestion and stomach trouble for five years. I had treatment from several doctors. I did not find a cure until I began using 'Little Digesters.'"

"I can hardly describe how much I suffered at times. Every meal brought with it more or less agony and I seemed to have a complete distaste for food. I had almost begun to think my case incurable when I came across an advertisement in the papers about 'Little Digesters.' I decided to give them a trial. I am very thankful that I did so for I had not been taking them long when I found them helping me. I can now eat heartily and no longer feel pain and discomfort after eating."

Does indigestion or dyspepsia make your life miserable? Take "Little Digesters"—they will cure you or your money will be refunded.

STOLE VAST SUMS.

Treasurer of Bank Said to Have Taken Over Half a Million.
Worcester, Mass., May 20.—After a plea of guilty to thirteen of the fifteen counts in an indictment charging the larceny of $104,000 from the Southbridge Savings Bank, and a subsequent recital of his disposal by gifts to charities to relatives and by bad investments of a sum of money which he estimated at $370,000, John A. Hall, a defaulting treasurer of the bank, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Raymond in the superior court to serve not less than twelve nor more than fifteen years in the state prison at Charlestown. One day of this sentence is to be passed in solitary confinement.

Hall's pecuniations had their beginning about 20 years ago, he said on the stand, when he took $100 out of the cash drawer in the bank to take a flyer in a stock. This investment, like many others in later years, was unsuccessful.

Although he kept no record, Hall said he estimated the total amount of his stealings at about $370,000. His conviction was on a charge of taking but $104,000. Expert accountants who have gone over his books at the bank since the discovery of the shortage, assert that about $600,000 is missing.

Hall said his living expenses had averaged $7,500 a year, and that his salary as bank treasurer was only $2,500.

SAW THOUSAND DEAD IN CITY OF CARTAGO

Demented Fugitives Threw Themselves Beneath Wheels of Relief Trains.

New York, May 19.—Several passengers who landed yesterday from the Hamburg-American liner Prinz Joachim, from Port Limon, Costa Rica, had been in Cartago, the old capital of Costa Rica, when the earthquake practically destroyed the city on May 4. Dr. Philip P. Calvert, professor of biology in the University of Pennsylvania, who has been collecting biological specimens in Central America for the last year, living chiefly at Cartago, was among them. Mrs. Calvert, who was with him, told how they got out of Cartago with five trunks of specimens.

Gigantic Upheaval.
The shocks began on April 13. As they are very common in Costa Rica and particularly in the neighborhood of Cartago the people paid little attention to them at first. After the professor and his wife had counted about 159 shocks they felt as if they might endure a few more with composure; but they and all the rest of the residents were unprepared for the gigantic upheaval that came on the night of May 4, shaking down nearly all the buildings of the city and sending the inhabitants in panic into the streets.

Dr. Calvert and his wife were in a one-story plaster and adobe hotel when everything collapsed. Beams, walls, ceiling, all came down together. Some fell in such a way as to form a protective covering for the doctor and Mrs. Calvert. They got into the street and found great crevices in the earth everywhere and hardly a house standing. Most of the people killed were killed by falling walls. More than a thousand corpses dragged from the ruins lay in the street for days before the relief parties could bury them. The railroad tracks were so badly twisted that trains could not be run to bring relief to the wounded.

Demented Fugitives.
Dr. Walpole Brewer, surgeon of the Prinz Joachim, led a relief party that went from Port Limon to Cartago, arriving there on May 6. He said the special train that took him to the scene of havoc made the 60-mile trip in twelve hours. The country was filled with men, women and children fleeing to the coast. Some demented fugitives flung themselves under the wheels of the train and were killed. The relief party found Cartago a city of the dead and wounded. Everybody who could get away had gone. Every church was destroyed and the palace built by Andrew Carnegie had less than half a wall standing. The doctor picked up five men and women lying dead under the spire of the cathedral.

It was estimated by the relief party from the Prinz Joachim that the dead in the city of Cartago was not less than 1,500. The bodies were piled on freight trains and sent into the country for burial. The wounded were put in tents and fed and doctored.

The Prinz Joachim was loading at Port Limon when the great shock came, rolling her like a rowboat in a swell. The doctor said so far as he could learn no Americans were killed in Cartago, and few if any Europeans, but many of the latter were met in flight from the stricken district. The doctor, who is not the ship's regular

A PATHETIC LETTER.

Toronto, May 18.—The old man found dead yesterday in a Simcoe street hotel, where he was registered under the name of John Thompson, left a pathetic letter, declaring he was himself responsible for his death, and stating that for "obvious reasons" he had registered under an assumed name. The old man in his letter said his friends and relatives had been only too kind to him, and asked that the authorities should spare their feelings and have him buried "in the cheapest manner possible in the poor man's plot." It is believed the man came from Oshawa, and the police are now in communication with the authorities of that town.

KILLS HIS WIFE.

Newark, N. J., May 19.—Henry Horney shot and killed his wife today at her mother's home in this city. After the shooting Horney walked to the nearest police station and gave himself up. Horney is 24 years old and his wife was one year his senior. "I want to give myself up," Horney said when he entered the station. "I killed my wife," and he calmly placed the pistol on the desk. His wife, who had recently charged him with desertion, was shot three times in the back, falling downstairs in her effort to get away from him. He had just called at the house after a long absence.

UNCLE SAM'S MEN HOLD BLUEFIELDS

Force From Warships Will Prevent Fighting at Nicaraguan Capital.

Washington, May 20.—A force of 100 sailors has been landed at Bluefields by Commander W. W. Gilmer, commanding officer of the United States gunboat Paducah, to protect the lives and property of Americans and other foreigners. Commander Gilmer has advised the navy department that Estrada and Madrid forces are within three miles of each other and that a battle is expected momentarily.

The steamer Venus, which has been at Bluefields for several days, has been ordered away from the port by Commander Gilmer and will not be allowed to return.

Senior Irias, her commander, served notice that he intended to bombard the town if the insurgents did not surrender.

Commander Gilmer declined to permit the bombardment.

Bluefields, May 19.—The United States gunboats Paducah and Paducah landed 160 bluejackets here today to protect American interests in Bluefields and to prevent fighting within the town limits. The American force is prepared for any emergency, having taken ashore several field guns and rapid-firers.

TRICK SCALE PLOT EXPOSED TO JURY

U. S. Government Uses Steel Wire as Evidence Against Heike.

New York, May 19.—There was wheeled into the criminal branch of the U. S. circuit court late this afternoon a huge scale, an exact duplicate of the scale used on the docks of the American Sugar Refining Co., in Brooklyn. And while the twelve jurors bent forward tensely, a weight of 997 pounds was placed thereon. Then a steel wire was thrust in a hole drilled in the stanchion, and the result was noted. The scales, though accurate, registered only 988 pounds.

This was the Government's first practical demonstration before the jury of how the sugar trust is alleged to have cheated the treasury department out of thousands of dollars in duty. Proving this the prosecution hopes to convict Charles R. Heike, secretary of the company, and its former employees and send them to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta as guilty of conspiracy to defraud.

All Sugar Scales "Doctored."

Albert Lambert, a machinery expert in the employ of the postoffice department, acted as demonstrator of the model scales. The weight—997 pounds—is the approximate weight of a draft of three bags of sugar as handled on the docks.

Concluding his tests, Lambert took the witness stand and told how he had examined all sixteen scales of the company on the dock, how he had found holes in all the stanchions and how each yielded to the pressure of

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

There are few people who have never experienced a headache from one cause or another. It effects all ages and both sexes alike, but the female sex is naturally the more effected through the higher nervous development and more delicate organization of the system. Those also of a nervous temperament and studios or sedentary occupation are subject to it.

The presence of headache nearly always tells us that there is another disease which, although we may not be aware of it, is still exerting its baneful influence, and perhaps awaiting an opportunity to assert itself plainly.

Burdock Blood Bitters has, for years, been curing all kinds of headaches, and if you will only give it a trial we are sure it will do for you what it has done for thousands of others.

Mrs. John Connors, Burlington, N.S., writes: "I have been troubled with headache and constipation for a long time. After trying different doctors' medicines a friend asked me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I find I am completely cured after having taken three bottles. I can safely recommend it to all."

who also hath taught us, by his holy Peace, perfect peace, our future all unknown? Apostle St. Paul, not to be sorry, as men would hope, for them that sleep in him; we meekly beseech thee, O Father, to raise us from the death of sin unto the life of righteousness; that, when we shall depart this life, we may rest in him, as our hope is this our brother doth; and that, at the general resurrection in the last day, we may be found acceptable in thy sight, and receive that blessing, which thy well-beloved Son shall then pronounce to all that love and fear thee, saying, Come, ye blessed children of my Father, receive the kingdom prepared for you from the beginning of the world. Grant this, we beseech thee, O merciful Father, through Jesus Christ, our Mediator and Redeemer. Amen.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost, be with us all evermore. Amen.

"Peace, Perfect Peace."

On the conclusion of the prayers, the choir sang one of the finest hymns in the English language, "Peace, Perfect Peace."

Peace, perfect peace, in this dark world of sin? The blood of Jesus whispers peace within.

Peace, perfect peace, by thronging duties pressed? To do the will of Jesus, this is rest.

Peace, perfect peace, with sorrows surging round? On Jesus' bosom naught but calm is found.

Peace, perfect peace, with loved ones far away? In Jesus' keeping we are safe and they.

Peace, perfect peace, death shadowing us and ours? Jesus has vanquished death and all its powers.

It is enough: earth's struggles soon shall cease, And Jesus call us to heaven's perfect peace. Amen.

Organist Geo. B. Sippl, and a large orchestra played the "Dead March in Saul," while the audience stood with bowed heads. The solemn strains and tender beauty of this hymn struck the sensibilities of the large audience with peculiar force and power. It was extremely impressive.

Then, as a special hymn, "Nearer, Home," brought the ceremonies to a close.

The Bishop's Address. Bishop Williams paid a splendid tribute to the late King.

In commencing, he pointed out that the assembly of the people throughout the British Empire today had a special significance, especially to Christians.

"It is right," he said, "that we should assemble together in the house of God for the purpose for which we are gathered this morning. St. Paul has gathered the first Christians to be thankful for even their cruel forms of government. We cannot be too thankful for the splendid government we enjoy. Our late King exercised his power so beneficially that he truly added lustre to the office. His death is an event of world-wide significance. One-fifth, perhaps, one-quarter of the people of the world, scattered over one-fifth of the earth, gather together today to do honor to his memory. The event which we commemorate has a deeper significance. As monarch of the greatest empire in the world his influence was immense. Blessed is the peacemaker, and our late King richly earned his title of Edward the Peacemaker.

"A head, so wise and so tactful, naturally won our love and esteem. At his death he leaves a South Africa united not by force, but by peace and love."

"Not in 700 years was there such expressions of regret from Ireland at the death of an English king as there was at the death of Edward the Peacemaker."

"Great as was the pacification of South Africa, that event has not greater significance than has the resolution of the Irish Nationalists sent to England, that the Irish were across Continued on Page Eleven.

PARKHILL NEWS. [Special to The Advertiser.] Parkhill, May 14. — The remains of the late Norman McLeod arrived here from Chicago on the 4:30 a.m. train. There are two theories as to the cause of his death, murder and an operation. His remains were interred in St. Columba Cemetery at Brantford.

A BIG SARNIA LIVERY BARN DESTROYED BY THE FLAMES

Fire Wipes Out McFee's Place and Badly Scorches Stables of the Exchange Hotel, While Baptist Church Was Only Saved by Good Work of Brigade.

Sarnia, May 20.—Fire last night did considerable damage here, and had it not been for the excellent work of the fire department, a disastrous conflagration might have occurred. The fire broke out in a building at the rear of the Exchange Hotel stables about 8:30 o'clock. From there the flames leaped to Jack McFee's livery barn, which was completely destroyed. The horses and carriages were taken out, but the damage was close to $2,000. The Exchange Hotel stables were also badly scorched, the damage there being at least $1,500.

SPLENDID SIGHT MARKS

Casket on Gun Carriage.

The procession started from the hall at 9:50 o'clock, just as the first minute gun boomed. The precedent afforded by the funeral of Queen Victoria nine years ago was closely followed. The oaken casket with the crown and cushion, regalia and insignia of the order of the garter thereon was borne on a gun carriage the same as was used at the funeral of the late queen.

The Procession Proceeded.

The procession proceeded through Parliament street and Whitehall. The public buildings were heavily draped with black and purple throughout the route. Leaving the district of officialdom the cortege passed through the Horse Guards Parade, and thence along the Mall. The embassies and private residences on Carlton House terrace, overlooking the Mall, were heavily draped with mourning. The terrace was crowded with onlookers.

From the Mall the procession passed Marlborough House, emerging into St. James street, proceeding to Piccadilly Park corner, where it entered the park and passed along the popular drive to Marble Arch. Emerging from the park, the procession followed Edgeware Road to Oxford and Cambridge terrace, and turned up these wide thoroughfares, on either side of which throughout their length of half a mile were unbroken lines of temporarily erected stands filled to their capacity with black-robed humanity.

By arrangement between the Westminster City Council and the Paddington Borough Council, the officials in mourning along the route were uniformed. Venetian masts with laurel wreaths at their tops had been erected at intervals.

Great Military Display.

Every branch of the defensive forces of the empire was represented in the long column which preceded the gun carriage. An officer of the headquarters staff, mounted, headed the procession, with bands of the household cavalry, territorial and colonial units came just behind, and then other volunteer corps, the Honourable Artillery Company, officers of the Indian regiments in their picturesque uniforms and turbans, followed by detachments of infantry, foot guards, royal engineers, garrison, field and horse artillery, cavalry of the line and regiments of household cavalry followed.

The Royal Standard.

The great officers of the royal house of England, headed by the earl marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, and followed by non-commissioned officers of the household cavalry, bearing the royal standard.

The King rode between the German Emperor and the Duke of Connaught, in all brilliant uniforms, and next in line was the group of rulers, the heir to the throne, princes of great states, and special ambassadors.

The members of the royal house on horseback followed in this order:

First—The Duke of Connaught, King George, Emperor William.
Second—King Haakon of Norway, King George of Greece, King Alfonso of Spain.

Third—King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, King Frederick of Denmark, King Manuel of Portugal.

Fourth—Prince Yusuff Zy-Yelden, the heir-apparent of Turkey; King Albert of Belgium; Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the throne of Austria-Hungary.

Fifth—Prince Sadanaru Fushimi of Japan; Grand Duke Michael of Russia; the Duke of Aosta, representing Italy; the Duke of Sparta, who is crown prince of Greece, and Crown Prince Ferdinand of Rumania.

Sixth—Prince Henry of Prussia, for the German navy; Prince Charles of Sweden; Prince Henry of Holland; one Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha; the Crown Prince of Montenegro; Crown Prince Alexander of Serbia.

Seventh—Prince Mohammed Ali, Said Pasha Zulfikar, Fatsen Pasha of Egypt.

Arriving at Paddington station the casket was placed in the funeral car, which carried the funeral party to Windsor. The royal saloon was upholstered in purple and white silk, and a catafalque in the centre supported the casket. The car was occupied by King George, Queen Mary, the Queen-Mother Alexandra, eight other sovereigns and near relatives. Special trains followed with high officials, foreign representatives and several envoys.

The latter was foreman of the works. The separator plant and the surrounding works were completely wrecked, the force of the explosion being felt for miles. Only one body has been recovered, the remains of the others being buried in the rubble. The explosion occurred at 10:30 a.m.

WRESTLER GAINING GROUND.

Chicago, May 19.—The superior court today overruled the city's demurrer to a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel Mayor Busse to issue a permit for the holding of the Gitch and Zyzzyko wrestling match on Memorial Day. On motion of the city the entering of an order throwing out the city's demurrer was deferred until tomorrow morning. Then the city will decide whether to allow the match to take place as scheduled or carry the controversy to a higher court. Club officers believe that Mayor Busse will make no further attempt to prevent the bout.

Fat Defeating Extraordinary

MARGARET KNOLLY.

Slender Margaret Knolly, now, if you please. The fascinating leading lady of the Bijou, now more fascinating than ever, astonished all her friends on Broadway the other day by presenting to their admiring gaze a swiftness and willowy form in place of the plump, not to say fat, outline with which she had lately sailed away to new triumphs and foreign shores last January. After a good deal of diplomatic cross-examination from interested acquaintances, the secret was cautiously whispered to a few dear friends, with the result that everybody knows it now. It was not exercise, nor fasting, nor sea air, nor worry about her new venture that had brought about this wonderful willowy change in the charming Margaret; no, none of these; nothing but a simple mixture which all good druggists are familiar with and can supply at small cost, to wit: One-half ounce Marmola, 3 ounces Fluid Extract Cascara, and 4 ounces Peppermint Water. "Grown folks need a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime," explains the slender Margaret. "It is simply wonderful. It takes off the fat quickly, as much as a pound a day, and keeps it off. You can eat what you like, too. In that respect it is unlike anything of the kind I ever heard of, and besides, it has another splendid feature—it is entirely harmless, and will not cause wrinkles. I think it is about as essential a toilet article for the woman who is fat and wants to get thinner as face powder. In order to get the best results, however, you should buy the Marmola in the original package and mix it with the other two ingredients after you get home."

MEN AND WOMEN. Use Big 40 for unnatural fatness, irritations or ulcerations of the skin. It is a powerful purgative, cures constipation, prevents indigestion, and is not astringent or poisonous. GUARANTEED PURELY VEGETABLE. Sold in plain wrapper, by express, prepaid, for $1.00, or 3 bottles $2.75. Circular sent on request.

Stops Seasickness. Mothersill's Remedy quickly cures sea or train sickness. Guaranteed safe and harmless. 25c and 50c a box. All druggists or direct from Mothersill Remedy Co., 319 Cleland Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

OFFICIAL VISIT

Grand Recorder at A. O. U. W. Meeting in London. Grand Recorder M. D. Carder and Grand Foreman McEwen, M. P. P. for South Wellington, paid an official visit to Westminster Lodge of the A. O. U. W. on Wednesday evening. During the evening Bro. Archie Bryce, who was recently married, was presented on behalf of the lodge members with a very handsome combination china cupboard of quartered oak. Addresses of a fraternal nature were given by Bros. M. D. Carder, McEwen, Grand Organizer Griswold and D. D. G. M. Cook, and were listened to with great interest.

PRESENTED WITH A UNION JACK

Lord Roberts' Chapter, D. of E. Honored St. John's Athletic Club. A magnificent Union Jack was presented to St. John's Athletic Club last evening in the club rooms by the Lord Roberts Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire. Mrs. Arthur Smith, the regent, made the presentation and expressed her pleasure in presenting the flag to so worthy an organization as St. John's A. C. Mr. J. E. Johnson, president of the club, accepted the flag on behalf of the members. Mrs. Smith later gave a very interesting account of the manner in which the money was raised. A series of drawing-room concerts were held for this purpose and were well patronized. The ladies purpose erecting a flagstaff as well.

A SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL

A Nursery for Windsor Depot.

Montreal, May 19.—"The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," said Sir Thomas Shaughnessy today, as he looked over the plans for the building in size of Windsor station.

"Therefore I suggest that this waiting-room for emigrants shall be divided, and a nursery built at the far end of it."

"If we are to make this a great country we must begin at the bottom and look out for the babies."

The station will therefore have a nursery, where cribs and bottles and nurses may be had. It was the first meeting of directors at which Sir Thomas had presided as chairman of the board in place of Sir William Van Horne, and as president of the road at the same time.

A NEW OATH FOR GEORGE THE FIFTH

It Will Be of Positive Nature as to Protestantism.

London, May 20.—It is stated that instead of modifying the wording of the declaration which the King makes at the opening of his first Parliament to the effect that he will maintain the Protestant religion, the Government has now decided to draft an entirely new declaration of a positive and not a negative character. This new wording will define Protestantism as accepted by the Church of England, and will only indicate by implication the doctrines which the King abhors.

A Winnipeg wreath, comprising laurel lilies and white heather, has arrived at Windsor for the King's funeral.

BRYANSTON BOY SERIOUSLY INJURED

Charles Stevens, son of William Stevens, a farmer, residing near Bryanston, met with a very serious accident Wednesday. He was working with others, moving a milkhouse with three horses, when the whiffletrees broke, and he was struck by them and had his leg fractured in three places. He was attended by Dr. Laing, of Granton, and this afternoon Dr. W. J. Stevenson was called out to attend Mr. Stevens also.

Miss Billie Burke in "Mrs. Dot." In London, seven years ago, one morning, a little American girl awoke to find everyone in the big metropolis talking about her, and the hit she had made the night before singing "My Little Canoe" in "The School Girl" at the Prince of Wales Theatre. Just four years later that same little girl awoke in New York one morning and found everyone in that city talking about her, and the hit she made the night before at the Empire Theatre as John Drew's leading woman in "My Wife."

That little girl was Miss Billie Burke, now one of the most popular stars on the American stage, who comes to the Grand on Victoria Day, May 24, matinee and night, in "Mrs. Dot." The sale of seats opens tomorrow morning.

Lillian Russell.
Lillian Russell was the attraction at the Grand Opera House last night, appearing in her latest comedy success, "The First Night." The play was well patronized, and one is safe in saying that had the fair

Lillian appeared at any other time than the present, there would not be room enough in the theatre to hold the audience.

The comedy is in the best vein of George Hobart, of Dinkelspiel fame, and is extremely funny. It is bright, breezy and clever. The notable cast, of course, would lend distinction to almost any play.

Miss Russell, who is one of the very few transplants from the comic opera stage to the legitimate with success, was excellent, and showed that ability and grace which have made her popular from coast to coast. Not less popular with Londoners was Digby Bell, who is associated with Miss Russell. Digby is a hardy perennial and although stars come and go, he is the same true actor and splendid comedian. He was given a great reception last night. Altogether it is a pleasing play.

COMET OBSERVERS BADLY PUZZLED

Broad Spectrum of Light Seen Across Solar Body.

WANDERER IS THE CAUSE

Lick Observatory Scientist Asserts Earth May Not Pass Through Tail.

Yerkes Observatory, Williams Bay, Wis., May 19.—Following closely on the wholly unexpected astronomical condition that prevailed early today, when the tail of Halley's comet was plainly seen in the east, astronomers at Yerkes observatory today were further bewildered by a startling apparition across the face of the sun at noon. A broad spectrum of light, extending across and a considerable distance to each side of the sun, challenged the attention of vigilant, weary observers.

For the second time in a dozen hours the congregated scientists are greatly excited. Professor E. B. Frost, who first sighted the phenomenon, declared he had never before witnessed its like. Professor E. E. Barnard said the same. Hoping to obtain an accurate check on the strange spectrum, Professor Frost telephoned to observers within a radius of 100 miles of Williams Bay, calling attention to the peculiar occurrence. The apparition lasted less than half an hour.

The spectrum at once became a topic of interest and conjecture. Enormous spots seen Wednesday afternoon, followed by brilliant displays of northern lights last night and these in turn succeeded by varied reports of fiery streamers shooting across the horizon to the southwest, had been passed by the astronomers as having absolutely no direct connection with the comet. But the spectrum was another story.

"Although I cannot advance an opinion at this time," said Professor Frost, "I can see no other cause but the comet for the appearance of the spectrum." He believed that the two were related in some unexplained manner.

The passage of the earth through the tail of the comet, delayed a day in its schedule, is believed to be taking place tonight, although early observations did not give positive proof of this condition.
