Situation Is Discussed Again Today by Representatives of Men, Mine Owners and Government Officials - J. H. Thomas Making Every Effort To Get Opposing Forces Together.

London, Oct. 23.—Informal conversations between the Government and individual leaders of the striking British coal miners were resumed this morning. These discussions followed conferences between Premier Lloyd George and several other members of the Government. The secretary of the miners' organization was among those consulted.

Representatives of the mine owners also conferred with the Government. The view expressed in Government circles this afternoon was

SITUATION MORE HOPEFUL.
London, Oct. 23.—Extreme tension over the miners' strike and the threatened walkout of railroad workers seemed slightly relaxed this morning. Leaders of the National Union of Italiwaymen and the Miners' Federation were ready for their conference as to the dications the former would not call a strike until after the trades union consituation, and there appeared to be inference next Wednesday.

Informal conferences between Government officials and miners' representatives are going on, but those engaged in them are reticent as to subjects discussed. There have been no developments since efforts to find a road to peace were begun, but the public has not given up hope that some way of adjusting views of the parties may be the result of the conversations between them. This feeling of optimism is considered as responsible for decision of the House of Commons to defer until Monday consideration of a measure giving the Government wide powers to meet any grave situation that might develop. et any grave situation that might develop.

Government agencies have perfected machinery for carrying on the operation of railways with volunteers, should the railwaymen strike. Members of the transport workers' union, especially the trivers of trams and buses, are said be loath to strike at present.

RAILWAY STRIKE IS LIKELY TO BE DELAYED UNTIL WEDNESDAY

LONDON, Oct. 22.-The strike situation tonight was considered more hopeful by the fact that the peace conversations between the Government and the miners leaders are continuing unbroken. There were no new developments, however. At a joint conference tomorrow be-tween the railmen and miners, from which it is hoped peace may spring, it is expected the suggestion will be made that the railmen postpone their strike, set for Sunday night, should there be no agreement between the Government and the miners by Satur-day, until after Wednesday's trades union conference.

The greatest anxiety exists among Londoners, for if the rail strike becomes effective Sunday night the underground tube railways will cease working. It is possible also that the tramways and busses, whose drivers are members of the Transport Workers' Union, will suspend operations. The bus and tram drivers, however, have expressed themselves as reluctant to join the movement.

There is division among the railroadmen, with regard to a strike, a

A military party sent to the aid of the police was attacked outside of Moate and a running fire was maintained throughout the town, in which, it is reported, a woman was killed. Assistant Medical Examiner George D. Mord declared that the woman apparently about 25 years old, unquestionably had been murdered. A small hemp rope was tied in a hangman's knot around the neck, and the body showed evidences of a violent struggle.

Detectives believed the girl was strangled elsewhere and brought to the thicket in an automobile. Marks on the clothing and right side of the body indicated that the victim had been dragged along the ground from the road fo the underbrush. A loop on the nooseend of the rope gave detectives the opinion it had been used as a handle by the person towing the body. They also thought the body had been in the thicket at least five days, and possibly twice that long. Examination of the woman's effects indicated she was a factory employee or a domestic servant. The police believe she lived in New Jersey. They notified authorities at Bayonne, Elizabeth and Perth Amboy, which are convenient by ferry to the spot where the body was found. # BOARD OF COMMERCE MEMBERS RESIGN: ACTION WAS EXPECTED

Government Which Has Been Making Position of Members of Commission Impossibly Ridiculous and Using Them To Shield Itself From Public Censure Decides To Make No Further Appointments.

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—(By Canadian Press.)—The Board of Commerce is no more.

Announcement was made from the prime minister's office tonight that the members of the board had tendered their resignations to the Government, and that no appointment to the vacant positions would now be made. The announcement from the prime minister's office followed a series of meetings of the cabinet council which were held today, the last of them convening at 5:30 this afternoon and lasting for a couple of hours.

To Privy Council. The statement issued tonight says that when a decision is given by the judicial committee of the privy council as to the extent of the federal authority in relation to the board of commerce act, "it will be for the Government to consider what should then be done."

Not Surprising. Premier Meighen's statement does not occasion much surprise in the capital, as it was felt here that the resignations of the members of the board were certain to be handed in following the cabinet's reversal of the board's order with regard to the maximum price of 21 cents per pound for sugar.

Those Who Resigned.

Moose Jaw, Sask., Oct. 22.—A heavy pelting rain was falling when Hon. W. L. Moose Jaw being interested primarily in the prosperity of the agricultural industry, the big audience which gathered in spite of the heavy rain and the muddy roads, received with applause Mr. King's references to these aspects of the policy of the Liberal party, which have for their object and the increase in production. for this year's crop does not look very encouraging.

The price offered for the crop last year was 48 cents per pound, but owing to the increase in the price of seed and the high cost of labor, the growers are of the opinion that they should receive more for this year's crop.

A few weeks ago English buyers visited the county and made contracts with a number of growers at 55 cents. A report to that effect stirred up the growers in Western Ontario to such an extent that numerous inquiries poured in here endeavoring to locate the buyers who, however, left this vicinity before their identity could be learned.

The fixing of the price this year will be a delicate task if the growers have much to say in regard to the matter. It has been generally conceded that should the price be not favorable to a number of growers they will hold thely tobacco in storage rather than sell out at a loss.

G. W. V. A. Executive Would Have Parade of Veterans -Breeze Transfer Discussed.

Plans for a big celebration of Armistice Day, November 11, were discussed at the meeting of the executive committee of the Great War Veterans' Association Friday night, but the matter was referred to the Central Veterans' Council for the making of definite arrangements. The G. W. V. A. is in favor of a big demonstration similar to that held last year, including a parade with all London veterans in line.

The matter of dissatisfaction alleged over the suspension of the Byron Breeze and the taking over of the sub-scription list by the Herald, the local labor weekly, was discussed, but it was decided not to make any of the discussion public, Secretary Cunliffe stated, following the meeting.

NEW OFFICERS FOR Y. M. C. A. AUXILIARY

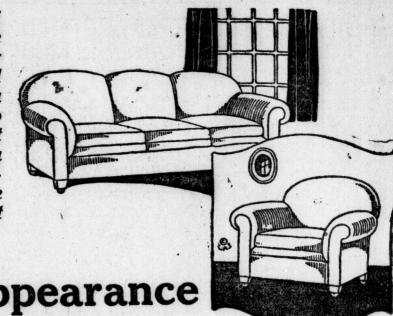

In order that more voluntary helpers for the ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. may be secured, a membership campaign will be launched shortly. Since the inauguration of the auxiliary, the members have been doing splendid work in helping with the suppers for the boys and other work around the building. Lately the work has been so heavy that the members find it hard to do. Women wishing to join the auxiliary may do so by sending applications to Mrs. A. E. Jackson at the Y. M. C. A. # Growing Old Together

THIS aged couple, mellowed by time and the experiences of life, are happily growing old together.

They are happy because they are healthy. Life is still full of interest to them, and they are wide awake to new

These are the kind of old people that everybody likes. For, in spite of the years, they are cheerful and optimistic. It is only natural that the blood should get thin and vitality wane as age advances, but there are ways of keeping up the quality of the blood and maintaining health and vigor.

Very many men and women have found in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food exactly what they need to restore energy and strength and keep them healthy and happy.

As an example Mr. Stephen J. Leard, North Tryon, P.E.I., writes: "At seventy-five years of age my heart gave out and became very irregular and weak in action and would palpitate. My nerves also became weak, and I could do nothing but lie in bed in a languishing condition, losing strength and weight. In that condition I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and am cured. Had I not obtained this treatment I would now be in the box with the roof over my nose. At eighty-one I have an energy which means go, and I am writing this letter so that old people like myself may prolong their health and strength by using this great medicine,"

There can be no doubt that this treatment contained exactly what was required to build up Mr. Leard's system.

We are constantly receiving so many letters of this kind that we can, with the greatest confidence, recommend people of advanced years to put Dr. Chase's Nerve Food on trial, as a means of restoring and maintaining health and vigor.

Here is another interesting letter. This time from a lady:

Mrs. Joseph Lalonde, Hydro Glen, Ont., writes: "I have to thank you very much for what your medicines have done for me, especially the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills. I was so run down and nervous last summer that I was in bed most of the time, unable to do any work. I have also been troubled with my kidneys for over twenty years, and tried every doctor I knew of without any permanent results, but I can say that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills have made me feel quite different. Since taking this combined treatment I have been able to do my housework, and although I am now 76 years old, I feel better than I have for years."

, ("I know Mrs. Joseph Lalonde, and believe her statement regarding Dr. Chase's medicines to be true."—W. P. Flannery, Postmaster.)

Usually at this time of the year it is necessary to have some heat to keep houses, stores and other buildings warm. Recently, however, the problem has been to keep them cool. With summer weather prevailing there has been no need whatever to draw upon stocks of coal, and many citizens figure that they are money in pocket figure that they are money in pocket through the kindness of the weather

In the meantime, those who have only small stocks of coal in are hoping that the fine warm days will continue. Coal men stated today that shipments are coming but slowly, and that they are distributing their small supplies as fast as they get them and are filling orders

Not Holding Honey For High Prices, Declares D. Anguish.

"People have an idea that we are holding honey back for higher prices, but I know for a fact that beekeepers in this district are not. The storekeepers are the people who have it, and their prices are too high," is the way D. Anguish of Lambeth summed up the situation in regard to honey at the present time to The Advertiser today. He intimated that prices would not change materially. Some aplarists were asking as high as $1.75 for a five-pound pail on the market today, but later in the morning brought their price down to $1.50. Popular impressions appear to prevail that an American consul or consul of any other country holds down a nice easy job of occasionally intervening to assist some unfortunate of his nationality who has infringed the Ontario temperance act, run out of travelers' checks and railway fare, has been overcharged by the local customs collectors, or refused accommodation for his pet dog in some exclusive hotel. All of which, of course, is sheer fiction pictured interestingly in the funny papers. H. Rodd, to the finance committee of the city council, for authorization to boost its rate schedule.

The threat to cut off the gas supply was made in July last, and the date for the ultimatum to go into effect was fixed as September 1. When the government attorney, however, intimated action would be taken to prevent this step, and threatened in return to take over the operation of the wells near Chatham the ultimatum was not put into effect.

Last night Mr. Rodd reviewed the reasons leading up to the necessity for an increased rate, most of which had been given before.

The committee will submit a recommendation to the council at its neeting on Monday night. While it is possible some slight increase may be granted, the city will fight any attempt to gain the flat $\frac{1}{3}$ rate.

Terming the treatment which Thomas White, of 693 Bathurst street, subjected his 15-year-old sister Helen to, as absolutely inhuman, Magistrate Gray-don lectured the accused and fined him don lectured the accused and fined him $10 and costs, or ten days in jail. The little girl had two black eyes and bore many bruises on her back as vivid evidence of the cowardly assault.

In court this morning she told a pathetic story to the magistrate. She said that because she refused to help her brother's wife with the work she was shut out of the house all day. When her brother came home from work at 9:30, he came to the bedroom where she was sitting on the bed and asked her what was wrong. When she did not answer he attacked her with his fists.

When questioned by the magistrate she said that the bruises which she had previously exhibited to his worship had been caused by the blows.

White pleaded not guilty of assaulting the girl. He said that she had not been behaving herself lately, that she had been running wild, and could not be kept off the street. On several occasions she had climbed out of the window. White claimed he had been left in charge of the house, and thought he had a right to make his sister behave.

At a meeting of the executive of the Associated Body of Locomotive Enginemen and Firemen today it was decided to defer decision on the question of sympathetic action with the miners until Monday. New Nurses' Home.

The new Nurses' Home is a beautiful brick structure of fourteen rooms, with three bathrooms, and in it are located the matron's and nurses' living quarters. It is situated in the beautiful hospital grounds on Greenfield street. It is difficult to describe the beauty and magnificence of the fitting. The new addition to the main building which cost $30,000 is of the most modern construction. The new operating room is the equal of any on the continent, while the sterilizing room and equipment is one of which any institution might well be proud. The class room is complete in every detail.

Residence and Grounds.

It is nearly ten years ago since Petrolea by the will of the late Mrs Englehart received the beautiful family residence and grounds for hospital purposes. Since that time Mr. Englehart has proved himself the good angel of the institution. Not only did he at that time bear the entire expense of fitting up and remodelling his home, but he has been a very substantial donor to the hospital funds, his donations to this fund alone amounting to $2,500 yearly. In 1918 Mr. Englehart built a new wing to the main building to be used for maternity patients. The addition to the hospital added ten rooms to that already complete equipment.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—At a meeting held yesterday between the wholesale liquor importers, of whom there are ten in the province, and D. R. This means the end of shipments by automobile, one of the most serious means of abuse of the liquor law and of rum-running either to other provinces or to the United States.

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—The reason for the resignation of the board of commerce members have not been given out. They are, however, believed to be somewhat similar, if not as emphatically phrased, as those given by Mr. Murdock. Lack of sympathy, duplication, over-lapping, etc., are believed to be causes, while it is pointed out that the present board was simply created as a stop-gap, though duties were imposed upon it calling for full responsibility.

were imposed upon it calling for full responsibility.

In the matter of the sugar order it is contended that the present board accepted a principle laid down by its predecossors and not challenged by the Government, namely, that if the public were to be protected on a rising market the trade should be protected on a falling out. The principle was not even questioned by the administration, and yet the first attempt to apply it by the present board met with a swift and effective repulse by the Government.

The Government has no rower to abolish the board or do away with its functions, but automatically both the board and its functions are suspended, and they won't be revived (if they ever are revived) until the privy council has rendered its decision.

That decision has to do only with the powers of the board to fix prices. Its powers to deal with combines has never been questioned, and a prosecution of a Canadan firm has been pending ever since August last. So that functions which never were challenged are to temporarily at least die with functions which never were challenged are to temporarily at least die with functions which were, because the Government has decided not to fill vacancies which have in actuality existed ever since the resignation of Messrs.

Robson, Murdock and O'Connor.

In Government circles admission is made frankly that the refiners are entitled to consideration, but the way out of present troubles is obviously difficult. Neither the proposal of a loan nor that of a remission of duties in raw sugar is likely to be accepted, and there is much questioning if the Government will be able to give any effective assistance. The refiners themselves apparently are none too optimistic over their prospects.

commoner, of the classes against the masses. In this strife you need not be told where Liberalism is. There is only one logical place for it to be. There is only one place where it has been.

A Wrong Principle.

I am unalterably opposed to any legislation or to any principle of government which favors the rich against the poor. I will fight with my last vestige of strength any effort to favor any class of our citizens above any other begod of all the people all the time. This I conceive to be the essence of Liberalism. It is altogether unlike the methods which try to keep up the price of sugar and to keep down the price of sugar and to sugar the did not didens. We have years in Canada. Surely it is time they began to show signs of standing alone.

The system of protective tariff has nourished a foul brood of briberies, lobyings and legislative deals. No nation is safe from the corrupting in fluence of such a method of taxation. I need not further illustrate it. It has been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Is Detrimental.

Moreover, this method of taxation is detrimental to civic virtue, because it tempts men to enrich themselves at the expense of the ignorant and helpless. It is a matter little understood that for every dollar of revenue collected by means of a protective tariff, nearly four dollars goes into the pockets of those protected. That is the ireason of the method which destroys all moral responsibility, because it conceals the relations of cause and effect in public affairs. We must all bear our burden of the costs of the state. All rightminded citizens are willing to do so. But 1, for one, am not willing to pay our way during the war, but that is not the way to proceed. Let the manufacturer may be kept in luxury. We must have revenue—we must have large revenue to meet all our obligations incurred by a false practice of borrowing to pay our way during the war, but that is not the way to proceed. Let the manufacturer now pay dollar for dollar with everyone else; let our customs tariffs be so revised and above what it brings into the treasury of the state.

Another Principle.

Public indignation over the ruling of the Board of Commerce with respect to the price of sugar promptly drove the Government into action, and the last few days have seen the blame being passed here and there for the order that occasioned such tumult. There is another development, however, that will bear watching. Dispatches from the capital indicate that the Montreal sugar barons, though defeated in their first attempt to make somebody else shoulder their gambling losses, are going to make an approach from another quarter, and one less likely to attract attention. It is stated that consideration is now being given to the idea of helping out the refiners by extending to them special loans or credits, or, as an alternative, giving them some special tariff privileges until they clean out their present huge reserves.

There is just this difference between either of these courses and the one that aroused the storm, that these indirect methods not being understood by the people generally, will probably be allowed to go on, while the other was very quickly pulled up short. The net result will, however, be about the same. If special "scoundrels and ruffians and ordinary criminals loans or credits are extended who will extend do not resort to this," but only those who, fight- ninnies-that is to say, to be in economic slavery. them but the finance department at Ottawa? ing for "a principle, a cause, or religion." feel And the moneys so loaned will be the property that a large minority of the citizen body is at of the people of Canada. Without presuming to offer any expression in respect to the Divine personality of Jesus Christ in human form, the most inscrutable concept in all theology, it suffices to take the Scriptural teaching with which the verdict of the ages substantially conforms. in one passage He is described as the son of a manual worker, and in another the affirmanate and misguided Mayor MacSwiney has tive question is asked, "Is not this the carpagan Rome, manual labor among the Hebrews was honored and parents were taught by the effect the British Government has seen the thing Rabbis to train their sons in some useful trade or occupation. On the other hand, in Christendom, exists the lad-

The order of the hour is to go forward as the gospel teaches. And let it not be forgotten that, whether with pick or pen, with hand, head or heart, all honest effort is labor. If Christian religion applied cannot allay social inrest and tide the world through the industrial hope for so complicated a task? Its strength which reaches and renews the real seat of unrest. Christianity has survived all sorts of social systems, disorders and revolutions, and still abides the world's most virile uplifting agency. The words of the Redeemer: "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest," are as true now as when first uttered, but need not be restricted to spiritual burdens. They are all-embracing, involving justice and good-will between man and man. His principles are eternal and universal. They apply equally to the man and the manager. To proclaim these truths, declares Dr. Stelzle, is the function of the prophet and not to exploit particular economic doctrines. Spiritual values constitute his specialty. When the pulpit proclaims the Bible and Jesus and the prophets honestly and sympathetically, illuminating those principles for everyday application, its message will command attention. There is need of a brotherhood gospel, but society is made up of units, and any permanent and effectual reconstructions will finally resolve itself back to the individual who must "Learn of Me," said the Great Teacher. "Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them," That is the key to brotherhood.

HOW TO INCREASE REVENUE.

To the Editor of The London Advertiser:

Having read all about the street railway difficulties, I wish as a reader of your paper to give a few suggestions on the street railway matter. One way to increase the men's wages and the takings of the railway is this: For the street cars not to stop unrest and tide the world through the industrial at every block on the road, and on far or near side crisis, what other instrumentality offers any of road; but rather do, like other Canadian cities are doing, and that is to paint "Stop" poles, white or red, every second block or ever third block. How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results.

Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

of the throat and cluest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz, bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses honey or corn syrup instead and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs. Beware of substitutes. On Thursday night the speaker at the Lord Roberts Mothers' Club was Mrs. A. T. Edwards, who spoke on her recent trip to Europe, illustrating her talk with lantern slides. But I was adamant. I had heard that note too often.

"It isn't that I distrust you, Fred," I explained, "but I don't like being rushed into blind alleys, and that sort of thing. After all, the money's mine. I have some little say in it."

Fred looked dreadfully pained.

"You are crude in your remarks," he said, distantly.
"But I am right."

"A woman's always right." This in sarcastic vein. Lattle goosey, am I not telling you that I can do business now—this very afternoon—with the fifteen hundred? Then I can accompany you home, and after your tea at the Red Lion Inn is finished, I can meet you, and go up to town again with the extra cash, and do more business."

At last I rose to go. I gripped my handbag tight. The precious bills were linside that bag.

"You look as though you'd committed a robbery, and were running off with the spoil," said Fred sourly, as we left the restaurant together.

"Anne, dear, I apologize. You were quite right, and I was wrong. I've been an ass. Forgive me."

"Oh, it's all right, Fred. I'm not angry. Only I want to do this thing properly, in a business way." I emphasized the word "business" rather spitefully. It was Fred's favorite word, and ought to appeal to him.

The blood rushed to my companion's face in a hot wave.

"But—we're getting married in two days' time, my dear. These formalities are quite ridiculous between us. Don't —don't be a little goose, my child." He was almost incoherent in his surprise.

I remained firm.

And I relented.

"Of course, I care for you. Haven't I been miserable, too, thinking that you didn't care for me?"

Which was true—if injudicious. It doesn't do to let a man know too much about one's feelings and emotions. The wise woman has reserves.

No further word was said on the question of money, beyond the fact that Fred was to meet me at the Red Lion Inn at 6 o'clock. I would then hand him over the complete sum of the sunday school room for the election of officers. Tea was served by Miss Davidson's Class at 6:30, after which the Rev. T. A. Symington gave an interesting talk. The remainder of the evening was spent in singing and games. The officers elected for the coming year were: President, Mary Adams: secretary, Irene Love; treasurer, Norma Ferguson.

Underfire, an imported son of Swynford and Startling, is going better this fall under the management of his veteran trainer than he ever did before. When he defeated Minto II. and Best Pal in the Lexington Cup, Underfire galloned 1½ miles under 108 pounds in 2:29 4-5. The Swynford 4-year-old is better over a distance of ground than at anything else. The same is true of Minto II., an imported son of Sundridge (he the sire of Sunbriar) and Miss Donald. The 3-year-old division would be more formidably represented in the cup if On Watch was to be a starter. But it will take a mighty good horse past three years old to win as it is. John P. Grier recently won the Annapolis Handicap, a race of 1½ miles, at Laurel Park, and one of his prospective running mates, Damask, was the contender in the Autumn Gold Cup race at Belmont Park in which Exterminator made his new record for two miles. Damask was a keen contender, too. Exterminator beat him a short head after a furious drive. Wildair, winner of the Metropolitan and Ten Broeck Handicaps and the Empire City Derby, has proven one of the gamest and most rugged 3-year-olds of his time, and Donnaconna is beginning to gallop as though he has been wanting to go two miles and a quarter right along.

Hubbert did not alter his decision, but gave him $50 and sent him away. Hulbert died in 1882.

KITCHENER MAY HAVE | London's Hockey Situation? TWO SENIOR SEXETS Rufus, There Aint None!

AS RESULT OF SPLIT Game's an Orphan So Far As This City Is Concerned, or in Deep Slumber-Ever body's Modest and No One Make s a Move.

Hockey for London in 1921 has every appearance and symptom of succumbing to the hook-worm. Never in the history of the game in this city has it been in such a state of lethergy as it is right at the present moment. It's a lone, struggling orphan—twins, for that matter—and the quickest way to get a yawn these days is to broach hockey, and right away there's a chance to see what the flies have been missing all summer.

There'll be hookey, of course, of a kind, but it will be the last minute kind that doesn't get the fans very far, or the teams either.

It might be urged that the absence of the proposed arena has much to do with the morgue atmosphere of middle October, but that isn't enough. If the proper hockey spirit were alive in the city it wouldn't stop at open-air rinks. The rink accommodation that was good enough for a decade of the best and fastest hockey London ever witnessed is still available, and could be stretched out for at least another season.

Little Towns Will.

The little towns around London will be playing hockey, despite the fact that they haven't, some of them, any more ice surfaces, and blamed little of that in a good many cases. Unless something is done about the local hockey situation in very small order, the small town fans will be waving the faily-colored while the local enthusiasts are buying crape.

Last year the hockey organization wasn't all that it might have been, but the games drew good crowds, and near the last there was almost enthusiasm.

Dual management and near the last there was almost enthusiasm. Dual management isn't the most to be desired, but it worked well enough last year, and could again be taken on this. It probably won't, however as neither of the clubs who undertook the responsibility in 1919 appear anxious to jump in again.

Next to the lack of arena cry comes lack of material. London's greatest enemy couldn't accuse the local hockey interests of knowing what 'August 1 means in hockey parlance, but there is or ought to be plenty of good material in London for both intermediate and junior teams, if some individual or body of them would dig up enough pep to go out and dig said material up. With four or five of a nucleus for a junior crew in sight at present. a junior crew in sight at present, the digging in this field shouldn't be long or laborious.

About three more week of present conditions and London is in for a nerve-straining winter of pinochle.

CONFINEMENT IN HOSPITAL.

One of the growing tendencies of the times, growing with the spread of knowledge of accident, poison-of anowedge of the greater use of hospitals by everyone when sick, and for confinements.

A few decades ago no one went to a hospital who could help it—for going to a hospital meant a desperate experience, implied poverty and helplessness—and let us whisper it, was considered just a prelude to a funeral.

AFTER THE BABY COMES.

In these days, however, the modern hospital has facilities in every direction—above those of the average home, even as a place of residence. But as a place for the sick member of the household, the modern hospital is a thousand times better both for patient and the rest of the family. This applies to confinements just as strongly as to any other bodily emergency.

AFTER THE BABY COMES.

AFTER THE BABY COMES.

AFTER THE BABY COMES.

A woman should rest in bed at least one week, and should not resume full household duties for at least one month after confinement.

To heal and fecuperate.

To prevent hemorrhage.

To produce milk for her baby. The energy of the mother's food must not be used up in hard manual labor, instead of going into breast milk for the baby. Hard work inside or outside the house will take the flesh off the baby.

Pregnancy is not a disease—it is only health under a strain. Learn how to ease the strain.

only health under a strain. Learn how to ease the strain.

When every expectant mother is properly cared for at home, and when every expectant mother has skilled supervision and attention during pregnancy, confinement and the lying-in period, MATERNITY WILL BE SAFE FOR WOMEN.

London is especially fortunate in the provision made for the care of the baby but also in the provision made for the care of the mother. Mothers of every station in life are realizing that the hospital care during and just after confinement is better for the baby and better for the mother.

CARE BY THE MOTHER TO SAVE THE BABIES:

A mother's bad condition and tack of care of herself can injure her child just as much during the nine months before birth as during the nine months after birth. But it is surprising how few mothers realize this to the extent of seeking real sound advice and proper care. A few years ago the average mother learned how to care for the baby after it was born from her neighbors, "over the backyard fence." Result: High infant mortality, even up to one-fourth or fence." Result: High infant mortality, even up to one-fourth or more of all the children born. Steadily, if slowly, mothers have learned that baby-culture is just as serious a business as raising chickens or growing geraniums. The persistent efforts to put baby care, like chicken-raising, on an expert basis has cut the infant mortality in two, or even three.

care, like chicken-raising, on an expert basis has cut the infant mortality in two, or even three.

CARE OF THE MOTHER.

But we have not as a race thought very seriously yet of doing for the mother what we have begun to do fairly well for the child. Perhaps the self-sacrifice of the mother, her tendency to think of herself last, is the real reason for this neglect of herself. But if this self-sacrificing mother considers a little, she will see that neglect of herself before the baby is born is very hard on the baby; it cuts down the chances of the baby surviving even the process of birth. It makes likely a relatively poor care of the baby during the early months after it is born, if the mother "has had a hard time of it." and has not regained her strength, or regains it slowly. It too often means lack of breast feeding; and breast feeding is the one greatest asset of the young baby, outside of good hered-lity.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT. WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT.

The Children's Bureau summarizes the things to do before the baby comes as follows—but before you read it, remember that, approving it, or agreeing with it, or shaking your head over it regretfully, or wishing for it, is no good at all. The only good thing about it is DOING it.

Every mother should have during the nine months before the baby is been, the following things—and the most important is the first one.

BEFORE THE BABY COMES.

See that the mother has:

1. Early consultation with a welltrained physician, complete physical examination, including polytic cal examination, measurements, and frequent ex-amination of the urine. Nou shing diet, with plenty of feeding, or over use when too young. The congenitally sterile bull is infrequently found. Absolving the bull from blame, the following conditions may, any or all be found in the herd:

Our protuping to service regularly.

3. Cows failing to show oestrum.
4. Cows showing vaginal discharge regularly or at intervals (such cases do not, as a rule, come in oestrum).
5. Cows that may or may not come in oestrum but that exhibit male characteristics regular and maying the in oestrum but that exhibit male characteristics, roaring and pawing the ground after the fashion of bulls—"bullers" as they are commonly known. Such cases where of considerable standing are usually to be defected by a marked elevation of the tail head, and a falling away of the broad ligaments. They are known technically as "nym-They are known technically as "nym-chomaniacs," and doubtless deserve it.

They are known technically as hymphomaniacs," and doubtless deserve it. It must be stated, too, that cows are occasionally temporarily sterile, due to temporary bodily disturbances.

Should the foregoing enumeration include or describe several individuals in the herd, the owner may ask himself whether his herd has ever been infected with contagious abortion or an apparent epidemic or retained afterbirth. If so, he may conclude that his herd is affected by still another manifestation of the dread abortion bacillus. Retained after-birth, where found to any extent, usually either follows or accompanies contagious abortion infections, and is responsible, whether as described or in the occasional form, for many cases of sterility, due, most often, no doubt, to improper or incomplete removal.

The direct causes of sterility are fre-

Any attempt to describe treatment is useless until the definite cause of trouble is located: in most cases a few special is located; in most cases a few special forceps, catheters, dilators, are necessary. Moreover, one or two treatments are entirely useless, as a rule, and it is to insufficient treatment that failure of success may be most frequently attributed. Treatment consists usually of simple douchings with mild antiseptics suitable for uterine conditions, although for certain causes manipulation ough for certain causes manipulation and massaging are necessary. For success any treatment must be persisted plete and possibly technically incorrect statement of the case. The correction of sterility in cattle is no simple matter, and this the stockman must remember. If, however, the trouble is serious and widespread in the herd, the ous and widespread in the herd, the best advice possible is: get a good practitioner, buy the few necessary instruments and after the initial diagnosis and treatment, follow his directions carefully. Unless the cow rights herself or Providence takes a hand, there is no easier way.

bushes of various kinds, in clearing land or in pastures where such young growth starts.

The winter of 1917-18 was, as will be remembered, excessively cold and stormy, and these goats seemed to feel pretty miserable. With the exception of one which wasted away, apparently from the presence of hair balls in the stomach, they all wintered, eating hay, oats, whoat bran and some turnips. In the spring one of the yearling does died from pneumonia and one from blood poisoning. One had a fine healthy kid, which, after it was once warmed up and suckled, grew remarkably well and bred when only eight months old. Since the above-mentioned casualties there have been no deaths in the flock, and they gave two nice crops of kids in 1919 and 1920. Since the first winter all the goats have been perfectly hardy. They have been fed practically the same as sheep and have proven fairly effective as bush killers.

Of course, he really wasn't an iceman and a waiter at all. In reality, he was the "Archduke of Pomerania," traveling incognito. But it all makes a most amusing screen comedy. W. The Russians have been living on a capital accumulated through denturies," the returned observer said. "That capital is approaching an end. Then, when they reach an end of it, they are through. means that thousands of persons will die of the cold. Russian workers have stopped producing.

When asked why the Russians had stopped producing, the observer declared:

"All incentive to produce, except to save themselves individually from starvation, is gogs. The soviet authorities themselves recognise this."

He produced from his pecketbook a slip of paper on which was an order for the delivery to him of two pounds of bread. "That was my ware—a very large extra wage—for working May Day," he said.

In these circumstances, quite naturally this observer interprets recent reports of mutinies in the Bolshevist armies and industrial rlots in the Russian cities as cracking the last vestige of Soviet power. And he stated plainly that the Seviet was the last vestige of Soviet power. And he stated plainly that the Seviet was the last vestige of any power in Russia.

He placed no faith in any "White" schemes, asserting that the peasant workers had lost faith in everything except themselves. He said he foresaw a condition in which every little natural community would repudiate all outside interference, hearding its own primitive rescurces and defending them.

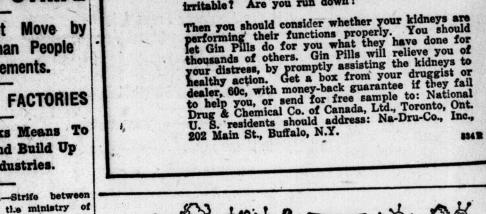

"Under such a state of affairs, naturally, only the strongest could survive," he continued. "Gradually they will work out their own minute organisation of life in their own petty circle. As it spread, constant with others, eventually the erganisation—literally, molecule by molecule—there will come the reincarnation of the spirit of work and of rewards commensurate with the value of the work of the spirit of work and of rewards commensurate with the value of the work life in with the hard facts of the Russian situation."

McNeal For Deportation On Robbery Charge.

WELLAND, Ont., Oct. 22. - After three hours' deliberation tonight the jury acquitted David McNeal of the murder of four-year-old Margaret Boucock of Thorold on July 13 last. As the words "not guilty" fell from the lips of Foreman Neff, McNeal was missioner — only an understanding, nothing in writing.

Dealing with the estimates of the Toronto and Eastern Railway Mr. Robertson wanted to know whether the embraced by his wife and her mother, Mrs. Honeywell, who came from Los Angeles, California, to comfort her suburban tributary population in relation to the riding habit were mere guesses or were absolute certainties. He called attention to the 1919 estimates showing 240 rides per capita, whereas the 1920 estimates showed 176.

Mr. Gaby explained that this was due to a difference in the distribution of Angeles, California, to comfort her daughter through the trial.

A demonstration of approval was started which brought from Justice Kelly, a strong rebuke. Then the nerve which the accused displayed all through the trial and his ordeal in August at Thorold, when he was almost lynched by a mob, disappeared. He sank into his chair in the prisoner's box and wept like a child.

Justice Kelly informed McNeal, whose correct name is Walls, that he had a close call, and that another jury might comfort to a difference in the distribution of the population.

As McNeal walked from the box he was taken in charge by Inspector Reynolds of the Dominion immigration department, and will be held for despite of the decrease shown in the spite of the decrease shown in the estimates as to the riding habit, there was shown an increase of $34.524 in estimated revenue. Mr. Gaby accounted for this by a greater population and increase in revenue from four, five and six cent fares. The man who had made the first estimates, Mr. Gaby said, had assumed too low a fare for the service rendered. The increase was just a little over 10 per cent. Mr. Gaby did not throw any light on a question from Mr. Robertson as to what was before that caused him to change the estimates as to revenue.

The rush hour estimates showed 2,-163,655 passengers traveling between 7 and 9 o'clock in the morning and 5 to 7 in the evening, or an average of portation, which is expected to fit in with the plans of the United States federal authorities, as he was wanted in Philadelphia on robbery and other charges. WELLAND, Oct. 22.-The fate of David McNeal was given into the hands of the jury late this afternoon. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J. R. MATTHEWS. 3311 Sycamore Street. R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effect which so often develops at such times. That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells. I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women 'take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and be strong.' I will be glad to have you use my name if it will be the means of helping any one."— Mrs. R. A. FAIRBURN, 606 Orchard Knob Ave., Chattanooga, Tenn.

CHEVROLET

HERE has been considerable anxiety regarding the new prices of the Chevrolet. We have just been advised by the Chevrolet Motor Company of Oshawa, that there will be no change in the price for the nineteen-twenty-one season. With this assurance, and in the event of any unexpected reduction in cost of labor and material affecting the cost of and justifying a lowering of list prices prior to May 1st, 1921, we will refund to the purchaser of any model so affected the amount of reduction on any car sold between now and that period.

We wish to thank our many friends for their efforts in this past season.

Our car sales have been remarkably good, and we do not attribute this alone to our own efforts, but to efforts of our satisfied customers, who have recommended their car to all their friends who were considering the purchase of a car. Our customers' goodwill is one of our largest assets, and recognizing this we endeavor to do all in our power to deserve the same.

We beg to announce that we have entirely re-organized our repair department. It is now in charge of H. B. Pleasence, who is late of the Chevrolet Motor Company service department, who has had considerable experience in the eastern provinces on Chevrolet cars. Mr. Pleasence has commenced with a complete new staff of experienced mechanics of his own choice. We can now assure our friends of satisfactory, prompt, and courteous service.

As we have stated in our former par agraph we recognize the value of our customers' goodwill, and we will appreciate a report at the office of any differences that a customer may have.

De Laval Separators

Are By Far the Most Economical!

Real economy is never short-sighted. It never confuses PRICE with VALUE. PRICE is what you pay for an article. VALUE depends upon the amount and quality of service the article gives you. You get by far the greatest actual value for your money when you buy a De Laval-BECAUSE a De Laval will give you much better and longer scrvice than any other cream From the standpoint of its greater durability alone the De Laval is the most economical cream separator to buy, and when you also take into consideration its cleaner skimming, easier running, greater capacity and less cost for repairs, the price of the "cheapest" machine on the market is most exorbitant compared with that of the De Laval. And there is no reason why you should let its FIRST COST stand in the way either, because the De Laval may be purchased on such libera! terms that it will actually pay for itself out of its own savings.

MONTREAL. Oct. 22.—As yesterday, net losses predominated at the close of trading today on the local stock exchange. Brompton again led the list, and the papers generally were active. Among the stronger issues were Wayagamack, with a net rise of 5 points to 145, and Riordon, up 4 points at 212. Brompton was again somewhat erratic and apparently uninfluenced by the directors' declaration of an increase in dividends. It opened strong, touching 77, then sold off to 74, where, support coming in, a rally to the close of 75½ followed, a net gain of a fraction.

Spanish River, common, ranged between 104½ and 102½, with the final sale at 103½, a net loss of a large fraction. The preferred moved between 105 and 109, the close at 107 showing a loss of 1 point. MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—As yesterday CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Active buying for export, together with optimistic ad-vices in regard to prospective settle-ment of the British coal strike led ment of the British coal strike led to sharp advances today in the wheat market. Prices closed strong, 4c to 6½c net higher, with December, $2.02 to $2.02¼, and March, $1.95¾ to $1.96½. Corn gained 1c to 1½c net, and oats, ½c to ¾c. In provisions the outcome varied from 40c decline to 25c advance. It was estimated that export purchasing totalled fully 2,000,000 bushels. Most of this aggregate was for shipchasing totalled fully 2,000,000 busness. Most of this aggregate was for shipment by way of the Gulf of Mexico to Belgium, France, Italy and Switzerland. Liberal buying of flour for Greece and Sweden was also reported. Highest prices of the day, which were reached just before the close, came after many sharp fluctuations due more the British coal strike outlook, flattering crop reports from Argentina and gossip that rural offerings in Kansas were the largest of the season.

On the other hand, evidence was noted of much improved demand from domestic milling sources.

Corn and oats were governed chiefly by the action of the wheat market. Announcement of liberal export clearances. ouncement of liberal export clearances f corn was a separate bullish influence, emporarily, oats touched the lowest

THE EXCHANGE RATE

IV.—What Controls It?

IN No. II. of this series, we explained why the foreign dollar is a commodity and not money, and in No. III. the inconvenience of settling international debts in gold, which led to the system of Bills of Exchange described below.

Sales of exported goods are usually settled for by the vendor drawing a draft on the purchaser for the sum due, which draft the vendor deposits in his bank.

His banker forwards the draft (in such a transaction called a Bill of Exchange) to the nearest money market, probably, in the case of an American, to New York, Chicago or San Francisco, and in the case of a Canadian to Toronto or Montreal. To do this it is not necessary for him to insure his letter or even to register it, for if the bill were lost, he could get a duplicate.

For instance, if the vendor lives in the United States, he will offer the Bill of Exchange for sale, say, in New York, as Canadian funds, because the draft is payable

There may be several persons in the market who want to buy Canadian money to pay for goods bought from us. If there are many such persons and only a few drafts on Canada are being offered, the bidding is keen and the price obtainable for the draft goes up.

If, however, there are few bidders and many drafts, the holders of the drafts may be willing to lower the price they ask in order to obtain their money at once. This brings us to the influence of the balance of trade on the rate of exchange. We will deal with this aspect of the subject next week in No. V. of the series.

EXCHANGE RATE AND SPECULATION STOP EXPORT OF BUTTER

Wholesale Merchants Worry Over Present Trade Conditions.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22 .- The export of outter is now practically non-existent are exercised over their position. Canada produces more butter than she can consume, it is claimed, and she must export the balance. Some butter has been exported to European countries it appears, but Canada's big customer for butter is Great Britain and the price set by the British Government is considerably too low for merchants here unless they are willing to take a heavy loss. The rate of exchange is the main factor that prevents sales, but besides that is speculation, which it is claimed, has caused merchants to lay in heavy stocks at unduly high prices.

NO OFFICIAL WORD OF RIORDON PULP CO. PLAN

MONTREAL, Oct. 2. - Directors of the Riordan Pulp and Paper Company adjourned today, after protracted consideration of the improtracted consideration of the impending share capital reorganization of the enterprise. No official statement was forthcoming, but it is believed in well informed circles that holders of the present securities will be asked to approve of a plan likely to be decided upon by the directors, to issue three and a half shares of no par value stock for each share of old of a par value of $100 presently held.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Apple and potato peelings are quite essential to the diet, according to Dr. S. R. Boynton, of Bellingham, Wash., who read a paper before the Society of Physical Therapeutists at the Hotel La Salle. Sour milk and oatmeal, he said, also were to be recommended. And the reason the Scotsman was so hale and hearty, he added, was because he lived on oatmeal and the grace of God.

ket situation as regards food statis appears in Canadian Grocer this week:

There are not many price changes manifested in the markets during the week. The tendency on most lines of commodities is for a gradual movement downward. Business and collections are reported satisfactory by wholesalers and retailers, although buyers continue to confine purchases to day to day requirements.

to confine purchases to day to day requirements.

Montreal—Slightly easier prices are quoted this week on beef; beef cattle have been arriving in better supply. The change is not large, amounting to one or two cents a pound on certain cuts of meat. The egg market holds very firm at the high prices. Butter shows a strong market with an advance of one cent per pound. The lard market is very strong and shortening is also strong in sympathy with the lard market. The market for cooked meats has fallen off in demand owing to the cooler weather. Sugar is in a very unsettled condition. There may be a very sharp change in the prices within a few days and on the other hand—present prices may hold for some time. There is a reduction of ten cents a gallon on the price of molasses. There is a general reduction in the price of nuts. Figs are lower and the quotations on evaporated apples show a reduction of four cents a pound. California dried fruits will this year be scarce and very expensive. Some Norwegian sardines are one dollar a case cheaper. The tea market shows more strength for the better grades. Coffee is expected to decline another cent a pound by the first of the month.—Lamp chimneys are 25 and 35 cents a dozen dearer.

Toronto—The markets generally continue to show indications for a gradual downward movement, although with the exception of cereals few price changes have been effected. Business on sugar has been practically suspended pending the outcome of the conference between the Government and the refiners. Many wholesalers are offering sugar below the present market price. It has been intimated from a reliable source that sugar would be ruling at a lower basis by the end of the week. The raw sugar market during the week. The raw sugar market during the week has been quiet with rather a steady undertone. The weak condition on the grain market is reflected in the market for cereals and a further decline can be expected. Cornmeal and rolled oats has shown another decline during the week.
