Maximalists Will Consider Peace in That Time

Moscow is With Revolutionaries, as Well as Large Portion of Russ Armies-- Workmen and Soldiers Nominate Bolsheviki Cabinet

By Courier Leased Wire.

An immediate armistice of three months will be offered by the Maximalist Government of Petrograd. During this time, Nikolai Lenine, leader of the Maximalists, plans that representatives elected by the people of all nations will settle the questions of peace. Lenine's government is willing to consider proposals for a just peace from either side.

Moscow, the ancient capital of Russia, is reported to have gone over to the revolutionists. The garrison has supported the revolutionary committee there in taking over the government offices. Conditions in Moscow and Petrograd are reported to be quiet.

The Bolsheviki element in the peasants' congress and the Workmen's and Soldiers' organizations is meeting with opposition from members of the Petrograd municipal council and the Maximalists. The opposing factions will not acknowledge the authority of the Maximalists and are said to be planning an appeal to the Russian nation regarding the Petrograd revolt. A cabinet has been named with Lenine as Premier.

As yet no clashes between the Maximalists and the supporters of the Kerensky cabinet are reported and the whereabouts of Kerensky is still in doubt. The revolutionary committee has ordered that the former premier be arrested and imprisoned with the other ministers now in the fortress in Petrograd.

Lenine also has given instructions that his forces shall move against any soldiers supporting Kerensky and has appealed to the railroad men not to transport Kerensky adherents.

It is not clear whether the Russian armies as a whole have accepted the new government, but it is reported that some units have gone to the revolutionary side. All available Russian armies, except reports from Germany, must come through Petrograd and even these have not indicated any great rush to the revolutionary leaders from the soldiers outside Petrograd and Moscow.

The Russian war office has not issued an official statement for several days. Berlin, in its statement, however, mentions no great activity on the eastern front and there are no reports that the Austro-Germans have taken advantage of the disorder in Petrograd to make a determined attack at vital points, between the Baltic and Black Seas. A report from Copenhagen says the Germans have occupied the Aland Islands at the entrance to the Gulf of Bothnia, which lies between Sweden and Finland.

HUNS EXPECT LITTLE.

Amsterdam, Nov. 10.—The Frankfurter Zeitung, a copy of which has been received here, is skeptical about the value to Germany of Lenine's revolution. "We want to conclude a peace with Russia," says the newspaper, "that contains a guarantee of durability, but that is only possible if the negotiations can be carried on with a government which really represents the country and also is able to speak with some authority to Russia's Allies."

The newspaper added that if Kerensky does not succeed in establishing stability in Russia, the country will fall in chaos which may be disastrous for the whole world since it would make a national solution of the question of war or peace impossible within measurable time.

Bolsheviki Cabinet

Petrograd, Friday Nov. 9.—The All-Russian Congress of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates is reported unofficially to have named a cabinet composed of Bolsheviki and then adjourned. The cabinet is headed by Nikolai Lenine as premier and Leon Trotsky holds the post of foreign minister.

The cabinet will serve until the Constituent Assembly approves it or selects a new one. In addition to Lenine and Trotsky, the other members are reported to be as follows: Minister of the Interior, M. Rikoff; Minister of Finance, M. Svortzoff; Minister of Agriculture, M. Milutin; Minister of Labor, M. Shliapnikoff; Committee on War and Marine, M. Ivsianikoff, Krylenko and Bibenko; Minister of Commerce, M.

Nogin; Minister of Education, M. Lunacharsky; Minister of Justice, M. Oppokov; Minister of Supplies, M. Theodorovitch; Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, M. Avloff; Minister of Affairs of Nationalities. (A new post in charge of affairs of the different nationalities within Russia) M. Dzhugashvili; Minister of Communications, M. Raizanoff.

The cabinet members are all Bolsheviki, and are supported by the Left and the Social Revolution party, the other parties having withdrawn from the Workmen's and Soldiers' Congress. Bibenko is a Kronstadt sailor, while Shliapnikoff is a laborer.

In reply to a question from a peasant deputy, who protested against the arrest of the former ministers, Trotsky announced that the Socialist members of the Kerensky cabinet would be released from the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, pending an investigation. He said the others would be held.

The congress took action to turn over to the land committee for distribution the landed estates and state and church lands. The lands of the Cossacks and the peasants will not be confiscated.

The banks in Petrograd reopened today. The city is quiet.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Now that the Kerensky Government has been overthrown there is no present disposition on the part of the United States to furnish any additional funds that might eventually find their way into the hands of Germany. It is understood here that in any action along his line the United States will have the co-operation of Japan. Most of Russia's supplies at the present time are being sent via Japan to Vladivostok and practically unlimited credits have been given the Russians by the Japanese. Naturally this will be stopped for the present.

On the other hand there are unconfirmed rumors that orders for 1500 engines for Russia have been awarded the American and Baldwin Locomotive companies by the War Industries Board. These orders have been under negotiation for some time.

It is known that the two companies has been practically assured of 750 engines each. Delay in signing the contracts was believed to be due to the necessity of awaiting further Russian credits, hence it is thought unlikely that the orders will be closed, while the latest news from Russia is so unsatisfactory. The amount involved in the order is placed at $82,500,000.

Still Hope New York, Nov. 10.—William G. Shepherd, who has just returned from Petrograd, where he had been for some months as correspondent of the United Press, said that he did not believe there would be any civil war in Russia apart from the street fighting in Petrograd. If Kerensky escaped from his would-be captors and reached Moscow he would be able to establish a new government in the old capital of Russia and get enough of the army to remain loyal to the country and keep the Germans from making any further advances.

"If Lenine and Trotsky make a separate peace, it will be a separate peace for only a portion of the Russian army, which has been poisoned by the Lenine doctrines."

"I am astonished after having

UNSHAKEN CONFIDENCE IN POWER OF ROYAL NAVY

When Great Day of Battle Comes, British Fleet Will Be Equal to The Occasion—Morale of Services Never Higher Than Now

By Courier Leased Wire

London, Nov. 10.—Sir Eric Geddes, speaking for the navy at the Lord Mayor's banquet, said:

"The naval service has unshaken confidence that when the great day comes when we succeed in forcing the enemy to give battle, it will find the royal navy equal to the occasion."

He said that the submarine losses had been very heavy and that, although they had been steadily reduced, they were still heavy. The submarine campaign had not been defeated, but was being held for the present. In his opinion it would be defeated.

The Earl of Derby, Minister of war, declared himself to be an optimist. He said he did not minimize the danger and difficulties of the present moment, but that was all the more reason for keeping a cheerful countenance.

The country had been in many a tight place, but the army and navy can never fail. Their morale, he added, was never higher than now.

Bonar Law said that the enemy had not always made his great thrusts from purely military reasons, but in order to keep the spirits of his allies. The chancellor added:

"The Germans say they are going to win. They can win only if they defeat the French and British armies which stand athwart them, and they are further from that result to-day than they ever have been. I cannot hold out any hope of an early end of this war, much as we should like it."

"There is no short cut to peace. There is only one way to peace, the way over the hard and rugged road to victory. It is a question now of nerve and staying power. All the belligerent nations are staggering beneath the load. It is a question of who is going to fall."

"I have faith in the courage of our people and I have faith in the justice of our cause. It is a struggle between the free peoples of mankind and the iron despotism of a war lord over the soldiers and the nation behind them. Our allies know they are fighting for what they love; they know their hearts will not fail them."

ITALY WILL FIGHT TO THE END IN THE FACE OF ALL OBSTACLES

Neither German Propaganda Nor Disaster on Isonzo Front Will Serve to Deter National Spirit—Italy Escaped Russia's Fate

By Courier Leased Wire

Rome, Nov. 10.—Italy will continue to fight until the end despite the efforts of German propaganda and the disaster on the Isonzo front, in the opinion of official circles here. The government must fight the effects of Austrian and German propaganda, as well as do all in its power to drive the enemy from Italian soil.

It is felt here that Italy narrowly escaped the fate of Russia as it is believed the campaign carried on to destroy the spirit of the army of the people reached its height when the Austro-German blow was struck in the Julian Alps. Political hatreds have been healed and in the future all parties will work together earnestly with the intention of securing victory.

The first alarming sign of internal trouble was the outbreak in Turin last August, but was effectively put down. Since the Isonzo defeat the authorities have learned that anti-British and anti-American reports were widely circulated throughout Italy.

Austrian aviators dropped bombs over Italian trenches containing German propaganda and peace literature. The propaganda campaign was also carried on through the many German citizens, who were permitted to remain in Italy as residents. It has been discovered that German agents were able to hire Italians for the purpose of destroying munition factories and defences, blowing up battlefields and revealing troop movements and portions of the battlefield lightly held.

During the recent retreat it was noted that the Austro-Germans possessed detailed information concerning the number of Italian troops and their positions.

The Situation.

Italy's armies under a new commander, General Diaz, are in their new positions, probably along the Giza-Beersheba line. British and French warships are bombarding the retreating Turks from the coast, while British aviators are harassing them with bombs and machine gun fire.

Cadorna Leaves Army. By Courier Leased Wire Rome, Nov. 10.—General Alfiere, the Minister of War, in announcing to General Cadorna his appointment to the Inter-Allied Military Committee, says that he understands how sorry General Cadorna will be to have to leave the army he so often led to victory. General Cadorna's sorrow, the Minister adds, will be shared by the army and the country as Cadorna's name stands for intelligence, courage, firmness and devotion.

The British campaign in Palestine continues with marked success. The entire Turkish army is retiring northward toward Jerusalem from the Gaza-Beersheba line. British and French warships are bombarding the retreating Turks from the coast, while British aviators are harassing them with bombs and machine gun fire.

British Renew Drive in Passchendaele Region With Good Results This Morning; Heavy Rain and High Wind

By Courier Leased Wire.

London, Nov. 10.—The British made an attack this morning on the Flanders' front near Passchendaele. The war office announces that early reports indicate good progress. The announcement follows:

"At sunrise this morning our troops attacked German positions northwest and north of Passchendaele. The first reports indicate that good progress was made. The weather is stormy with heavy rain and high wind."

FRENCH REPULSE FOE

Paris, Nov. 10.—German troops undertook a series of advances last night against French positions northwest of Rheims, says to-day's official report. They were repulsed by the French.

The announcement follows:

"On the front northwest of Rheims the night was marked by a series of efforts directed by the enemy against our trenches and small posts, especially in the sectors of Loivre, Conroy and Dugudat. We repulsed the enemy by our fire and he was not able to approach our lines at any point.

"East of Neuville we penetrated a German trench and destroyed shelters.

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun Front) the artillery fighting continues to be spirited in the vicinity of Chame wood, where there were patrol engagements in which we took prisoners.

"In the Vosges and in Alsace we inflicted considerable losses on the enemy in raiding his lines northwest of Senones and east

COALITION IN GERMANY

By Courier Leased Wire

Berlin, Friday, via London, Nov. 10.—Dr. Karl Helfferich, the vice-chancellor, has capitulated and political peace once more has been restored. The cabinet containing Count von Hertling as chancellor, Friedrich von Payer as vice-chancellor and Herr Friedberg as vice-president of the Russian ministry means a virtually coalition Liberal Government.

The Clerical, National Liberal and Progressive parties are represented actively in the cabinet. Chancellor von Hertling returned to-day to Munich, where he will assist in the re-organization of the Bavarian ministry from which he retires. His first public appearance as chancellor is expected to take place when the Reichstag opens its next session on November 22.

The Liberals are now getting ready to combat the reactionaries in their efforts to obstruct the enactment of the Prussian electoral reform bill. These measures are expected to be ready for first reading at the end of this month. The Clericals, National Liberals, Progressives, Socialists and Poles will constitute an ample majority for it in the Lower chamber of the Prussian Diet.

Polish Question. Copenhagen, Nov. 10.—The proposed settlement of the Polish question, according to The Lokal Anzeiger, will be submitted to the ways and means committee of the Reichstag at a meeting on the 18th or 19th of November and to the delegations from the Austrian and Hungarian parliaments in Vienna on December 3.

Nothing Sure. Copenhagen, Nov. 10.—The Berlin correspondent of The Hamburg Fremdenblatt reports that German wireless stations on the eastern front have picked up various Russian messages dealing with an armistice, but says there is no adequate confirmation of the statement that the Maximalists already have offered peace or an armistice. He advises the great-

THE MERCHANTS CORNER

The advertising manager of one of America's largest mail order houses recently told a large convention of advertising men that his company maintains "a bureau whose duty it is to read, each week, the weekly papers from all over the country. This bureau looks over these papers, and when it finds a town where the merchants are not advertising steadily in the local papers that town is immediately flooded with literature. It always brings results far in excess of the same effort put forth in territory where the local merchants constantly use their local papers."

SUFFERINGS OF SERBIANS HEAVY

Miss Helen Losanitch, Talented Speaker, Heard in Victoria Hall

Serbia, a peaceful land made desolate by war's cruel blast, ravished, famishing, groaning under the heel of a tyrannous oppressor, yet unflinching in her determination, as ready to uphold her unsullied national honor as that day in June 1914, when she had made her ultimatum plungered the world into the awful abyss of the present war.

Serbia, as typifying all these things, in that Serbia which was graphically depicted to a large audience in Victoria Hall last night by Miss Helen Losanitch, daughter of the former Serbian minister of Agriculture, and her heroic pre-eminence among the heroic women of a heroic nation.

Miss Losanitch is no stranger to Brantford, for she visited the city in January of 1916, now nearly two years ago, delivering a powerful appeal for aid for her desolate country, and her vivid words and personality are still remembered.

The second part of Miss Losanitch's address took the form of an illustrated lecture, scenes of Serbian life being shown upon the screen and explained by the talented and heroic young lady.

Hospitals Crowded.

The hospitals of the country, such of life in that city under shell fire from the Austrian guns. On one occasion she witnessed a battle fought near the Danube.

A Desolate Land.

Miss Losanitch was a resident of Belgrade at the time of its bombardment, and gave a graphic description of her country by German, Austrian and Bulgarian troops.

Scarcely accustomed to her restored freedom once more was the nation when the shot of a Sarajevo fanatic shattered her hope of peace and prosperity, and rather than humiliate her national honor before the imperious demands of Austria, backed by Germany, Serbia plunged once more into war, the bloodiest in her history.

Yet Serbia to-day was Hainan, Phoenix like, from her ashes. She had 150,000 men on the Macedonian front, and the spirit of soldier and civilian was alike indomitable in the face of misfortune.

Bulgarian army, which had destroyed out of sheer wantonness what could not be carried away. The misery of the people was beyond belief, and their rations of food only sufficient to maintain life. Yet Serbia had faith in her allies, and looked to them for help both in the way of supplies and of military support, until ultimate victory was achieved.

The most serious operations were performed without the use of any anesthetic, the more hopeless cases among the wounded had to be removed from the hospitals to mortuaries and canals, in order to make room for those who might recover. In the hospital where Miss Losanitch served as a nurse, one Russian doctor was obliged to tend 400 patients.

THE SITUATION.
General Cadorna has been deposed as active commander of the Italian army and General Diaz reigns in his stead. For his assistance the latter will have the support of an Allied Military Committee, composed of Sir H. H. Wilson of the British army, General Foch of the French army, and Cadorna. Meanwhile it is the continued story of falling back before the Austro-German forces, who have now crossed the Livenza River and are pressing towards the Piave in the evident hope of preventing a consolidation there of the Italian forces. The fact becomes more and more certain that had not the allies rushed forward with assistance, the demoralization of the latter would probably have become as marked as that in Russia. It is to be devoutly hoped that the heaven of seasons British and French troops and the direction of operations under control of a composite commission will serve to save a threatened disaster.

Lenine, the Maximalist leader in Russia, talks of an armistice for three months, and says: "We offer a just peace, but will not accept unjust terms." As a matter of fact it does not look as if anyone could offer anything there for very long. Lenine is on top just now, but he may not even last as long as Kerensky.

In Palestine the British advance goes on apace and the Turkish forces are evidently demoralized. Apparently the Teutons have given up all idea of wresting the Passchendaele Ridge from the Canadians for no counter-attack has developed.

MANLY OFFERS DECLINED.
The following telegrams have passed between Col. Harry Cockshutt and Mr. John Harold, the two candidates in the riding of Brant: To John Harold, Esq., Paris, Ont.

I have received a letter from Ottawa requesting us to arrange matters in the Brants and suggesting that you and myself retire and allow Mr. Rowell to have the constituency.

I have wired Ottawa that I, on my part, am willing to fall in line with the proposition.

This is a time for us to do what is best for our country and help win the war.

I hope you will consent.
H. COCKSHUTT.
Paris, Oct. 9.

Col. Harry Cockshutt, Brantford, Ont.

"I don't believe it would be in the interests of the Union Government for me to retire. Had my advice been taken three weeks ago to consult both parties before you were nominated and again after Mr. Rowell's name was first suggested and before I was nominated, the solution now proposed might have been possible."

"J. HAROLD."

Mr. Harold in a personal statement also makes the assertion: "The night before the last nomination meeting I telephoned Col. Cockshutt and asked him if he would allow me to say that he was prepared to retire in favor of Mr. Rowell. Col. Cockshutt refused."

This is incorrect. What Mr. Cockshutt did say was that he would have to consult his committee.

And further Mr. Cockshutt had previously arranged with Mr. Harold, and he had agreed, that he (Cockshutt) should write to Ottawa and explain the situation, which he did, and the first reply received was on Thursday evening. On Friday morning on arrival at the office he immediately wired Mr. Harold as per the above.

It will thus be seen that when Mr. Harold assumes the tone of "too late" he is taking a course which the facts most decidedly do not warrant.

The Courier has from the first opined that when he resigned as a straight Liberal candidate he expected a Union choice and later had himself placed in the field again.

It would certainly seem as if he had decided to run anyway, and that, too, notwithstanding the fair course of Mr. Cockshutt.

ITALY WILL FIGHT
and energy. However, the Government has felt bound to ask General Cadorna to make this sacrifice so that he might contribute in a larger field to the common task of Italy and the allies. General Alberti also sent a telegram of congratulation to General Diaz, the new commander-in-chief, expressing, in the name of Italy, confidence in him.

THAT PROFITEERING RESOLUTION.
The Brantford Expositor is greatly chagrined because at the Union convention of Wednesday night last a resolution was passed affirming that any candidate in this riding should be free from what is commonly termed "war profiteering."

In an editorial on the subject the organ quotes said resolution as follows:

"Such candidate shall not be or hereafter become either directly or indirectly interested or connected with any business or contract whereby such candidate shall gain any profit now known as profits by reason of the war, it being the intention of this condition that such candidate should be entirely removed from the suspicion of being interested in what is commonly called "war profiteering."

What the resolution as adopted did say was this:

"Such candidate shall not be or hereafter become either directly or indirectly interested or connected with any business or contract whereby such candidate shall gain any excessive profit now known as profits by reason of the war, it being the intention of this condition that such candidate should be entirely removed from the suspicion of being interested in what is commonly called "war profiteering."

"War profiteering" means, of course, excessive profits, but to add confirmation to what was already there the word excessive was placed in front of profit and the motion was so carried.

In order to make an attempted point, our cotem cut out the word excessive and then on the basis of the words "any profit" it proceeds to argue that under such an indictment the editor of The Courier might be disqualified because of advertisements, farmers disqualified because of war prices and so on.

What the resolution was after, as before related, was "excessive profits," otherwise known as profiteering and The Expositor says that the sole intention was to hit Mr. Lloyd Harris. It evidently considers that he comes in the profiteering category for it makes the statement that the object was to "disqualify" him. If he didn't it couldn't and there you are.

It is an astonishing thing how the soul of a paper which used to be horrified over profiteering, with the intimation that none but wicked Tories got the same, is now equally horrified over a resolution which affirms that anyone in that category should be barred from a nomination in this riding.

The organ goes on to say:

"It was this resolution which made the whole conference abortive, by leading to the refusal of Liberals to co-operate."

The above is an absolute untruth. The Liberal delegates present, led by Mr. Muir and Mr. McEwen, refused co-operation in the matter of naming a candidate on the sole and only ground that the meeting had not been called for that purpose.

As a matter of fact the resolution adopted at the Liberal convention named a committee to confer with Conservatives and representatives of the Labor party "for the purpose of selecting a candidate."

When confronted with that on Wednesday evening the Liberal delegates squirmed around, and then pretended they didn't understand it that way.

Their whole performance was even worthy of The Expositor itself.

FREIGHT INCREASES.
Washington, Nov. 10.—Application of all railroads of the country for freight rate increases to meet war time operating costs was seen today in the action of the western carriers in asking the Interstate Commerce Commission for a conference to discuss a general advance of an unspecified amount. The commission set December 17 as the date of the hearing.

The application of the western roads will be consolidated with the pending 15 per cent. general advance asked by the eastern roads. Southern roads are now expected to seek similar increases in rates.

PRODUCTION DROPS.
By Courier Leased Wire.
Washington, Nov. 10.—Woods' demand upon the resources of France is strikingly illustrated in figures on food stuffs production prepared by Maurice Long, minister for general revictualling of France and made public here to-day by the food administrator.

Production of foods, including all cereals, potatoes and beet root has decreased from 358,000,000 hundred weight in 1913 to 222,000,000 hundredweight in 1917. Mr. Long said, and this forecasts the rationing system for additional articles of consumption. He estimates that France's requirements this year could be held to forty-million hundredweight of cereals, but the task of procuring this amount promises to be difficult since it was impossible to import anything like this quantity last year.

Col. Perran, commandant and Prof. Iva Martin, master of studies of the Royal Military College, Kingston, left for West Point N. Y., to spend a week at the famous American military institution.

There was a big rush in the Galt City Hall for municipal coal and the carload available was disposed of in little over an hour. About a hundred more, desiring fuel, were disappointed. Two more cars are expected to reach the city soon.

PULLED WOOL OVER EYES OF THE BRITISH
Swedish Army Officials Smuggled Contraband to Germany

London, Nov. 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Swedish army officials were accused of conspiring to furnish millions of dollars worth of wool to Germany in the course of an action in the prize court here this week.

The case concerned a shipment of 150 bales of wool, consigned to the Swedish army, but destined, according to the Attorney General, for a German firm in Leipzig. The shipment is valued at $700,000, being only one of several seized in connection with the case.

It was stated in court that the British authorities had in the past allowed several shipments of wool similarly consigned to the Swedish minister to pass in the confidence that the official nature of the consignees rendered it possible to accept their assurances.

"Is this a case where the wool was consigned to the army administration without its knowledge," asked the presiding judge, "or is it a case where some unauthorized person used the name of the department?"

The Attorney General replied, "The court will be able to judge of the practicability of anyone using the name of an official department without some official in authority becoming aware of the fact. The intercepted letters show that this is a part of a very bad business, a deliberate scheme to pass wool into Germany at a moment when Germany is suffering from a great scarcity of that necessary commodity for war purposes."

The presiding judge, in giving his verdict, condemned the entire shipment as a lawful prize, said: "The intercepted documents show that the wool was intended for Germany. How it came about that the name of a neutral government was used by the real consignee we do not know, and it is not for us to take observation in the matter. We can only express our surprise that the repute of a neutral government has been employed to get absolute contraband into Germany. We find that the destination of the goods was Leipzig, and they are condemned as contraband destined for the enemy."

been in all the warring countries of Europe to see the freedom with which the German allies and sympathizers in the United States move about in perfect liberty. It was the Germans who poisoned and paralyzed Russia. The greatest piece of diplomacy in the war was achieved by the German who first worked out the scheme of permitting Lenin to pass through Germany to Russia.

"I was on the steamship Kristianiafjord going from New York to Bergen last spring when the Canadian officials removed Leon Trotsky from our midst at Halifax and detained him there for some time. If the Dominion Government had held him for an indefinite period, the history of Russia might have been different."

France Pays Big Gasoline Bill
Inefficient Use of Motor Transports Runs Cost up to $100,000,000

Paris, Nov. 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Discussion of extravagance and waste in car expenditures, during the recent debate on the appropriations for the fourth quarter of this year in the Chamber of Deputies developed the fact that France is paying the equivalent of $100,000,000 a year for gasoline. The up-keep of cars placed at the disposition of the military authorities outside the war zone amounted to about $500,000 a month during the year 1916.

Emmanuel Brousse, who is sometimes called the "watch-dog" of the treasury" remarked that part of this waste was due to the fact that motor lorries intended to carry loads of two tons were used to transport single cases weighing no more than a hundred pounds.

Another speaker declared that discarded stallions belonging to the state were sold by the Agricultural Department at the equivalent of $75 to private individuals, who subsequently sold them to the war department for the equivalent of $300.

It also was asserted that in purchasing 40,000 horses in America, the government lost about $5,500,000. It was claimed that these horses were bought in the United States at $50 and $55 a head and cost $140 to $150 when the freight and feeding were paid, but that the French government paid $300 each for them.

Another deputy pointed out how some of the measures adopted with a view to economizing food products had involved extravagance. The appointment of millers in each department to supervise the distribution of the cereals allotted by the government, with a compensation of four cents a hundred weight for their services, it was calculated, would cost from $40,000 to nearly $400,000 in each department, and there are eighty-seven departments in France. Thus a simple service of supervision, had the plan been carried out, would have made eighty-odd fortunes for as many millers.

In spite of these isolated cases of persistent waste, it was declared on the other hand that the government has in most departments connected with the war effort, realized economies running into hundreds of millions of francs a year.

By Courier Leased Wire
New York, Nov. 10.—Broadway's far-famed "Great White Way" will be dimmed for the remainder of the war, commencing to-night, by order of the fuel administrator at Washington. The myriads of lights in their fantastic advertising designs will now glow only from 7.45 until 11 o'clock each night, instead of from dusk until the early morning hours. The fuel administration estimated that fifty per cent of the coal used in producing electricity to light up the "White Way" might well be saved.

COMMITTEE.

DRUNK ARRESTED
Foreigners of the city are apparently confining their worship of Bacchus to the witching hour of midnight or thereabouts, for during the last few days a number of Russians have been arrested between twelve and three o'clock in the morning under the influence of liquor and acting disorderly. Early this morning at half past two Dan Kalis, a Russian, was arrested on Scarfe Ave. in an intoxicated condition, and will be charged with being drunk and having liquor in an unauthorized place.

GROUP SUPPER.
Exceeding all expectations, as to attendance, the first of the group suppers of the Junior Department of the Y.M.C.A. was held last night. About sixty boys were expected to be present, but when they had all arrived, they numbered 121. Just before supper was commenced, the lights went out, giving the boys an opportunity of seizing the burning, which they did, but luckily no damage was done. Addresses were given by Messrs. H. V. Hutton, G. H. Williamson, and A. W. Geddes. The supper was provided by the Ladies' Auxiliary and the W.P.L.

POLICE COURT.
Ten cases were listed at the police court yesterday afternoon, one half being for breaches of the O.A.C. Ordinance and Circus Jackson were each charged with being intoxicated and with having liquor in an unauthorized place. They were given one week in which to sober up and will again appear to have their cases disposed of, provided they have sufficiently recovered to give evidence. Fred Rom was fined $3 and costs for wilful damage and $10 and costs for being intoxicated. George Gordon, 33 Ontario Street, Charles Pilgrim, 997 Ontario Street, and John Willis, 28 Wharf street, found trespassing on the Waterous property yesterday afternoon, were remanded for one week. John Jones, who recently appeared, charged with not working, will appear again in a week that the court may be satisfied he intends to continue in his unusual occupation of toll. Ignat Halota paid $2 and costs for disorderly conduct.

THE LAST DAY.
With but a few hours remaining, until all opportunity of applying for exemption or reporting at the Post Office for service under the military service act, no great rush has yet been experienced by the officials in charge of the work, although not nearly all the draftees who have gone before the medical board have appeared to fulfill the balance of their obligations. A prison term of five years confronts all those who do not comply with the order. Last night about sixty men registered, but this morning the number was no larger than on former days. The office will remain open this evening until ten o'clock to extend a final opportunity to those wishing to register. Up until seven o'clock last night 974 men had appeared at the post office, and of these 931 claimed exemption and 43 had offered to report without claiming exemption. Yesterday fifty-eight reports were received, 52 filing exemption claims and the other six expressing a willingness to serve.

ENJOYABLE EVENT
Takes Place at Collegiate Institute

The Collegiate Institute Hall was crowded last evening when the distribution of medals and prizes took place in connection with the recent field day sports. During the course of the evening a cheque for $70 was handed to Mr. Frank Cockshutt as a Red Cross offering from the pupils. Mr. S. F. Passmore, M.A., made a most efficient chairman and introduced a very enjoyable program. On the platform were Dr. Gamble, Dr. Marquis and J. W. Shepperson of the School Board, Mr. F. Cockshutt and Principal Burt. Piano duet, Misses Mary Marquis and M. Standing; vocal solo, Miss Dorothy Baird; presentation of field day prizes, Juniors; violin solo, Miss Helen Fuller; report of B.C.I. Patriotic League, Miss McNally; presentation of cheque to Mr. Frank Cockshutt, Nelles Silverthorne; reading, Miss Marion Tench; presentation of field day prizes, Intermediates; vocal solo, Miss Phyllis Sayles; reading, Miss Daisy Westbrook; presentation of field day prizes, Seniors; address, "Victory Loan," A. K. Bunnell; God Save the King. The donors of medals were: W. N. Andrews, J. W. Shepperson, A. Cockshutt, Dr. Marquis and D. T. Williamson.

SERIOUS FIRE
IN INGERSOLL

Early Morning Blaze Did Damage Estimated at $70,000

By Courier Lensed Wire
Ingersoll, Ont., Nov. 10.—Fire of an unknown origin completely wiped out the premises of the Northway Company's dry goods store and the Bowman Piano and Sporting Goods store with a loss of $70,000 early this morning. The fire is now extinguished. The fire was discovered about 3:30 o'clock and gained such rapid headway that the fire department of London was summoned. Before the London men arrived by special train the fire had been brought under control by the local men, but assistance was rendered by them in extinguishing smaller blazes that threatened adjacent buildings. Mayor Stevenson of London arrived on the special train which brought 12 firemen, a huge motor truck and a wagon of hose. The men having responded to the call speedily, had come without their breakfasts, but they were taken care of by the town officials. It was not necessary for the equipment to be taken from the train. Shortly after 8 o'clock the London special with the firemen departed. Other stores in the vicinity of the fire were damaged by smoke and water. The chief sufferer was the Flander hardware store. It is not possible at this time to tell to what extent this store has been affected.

Ald. MacBride Defends I.L.P.

Ald. MacBride discussing the letter to the Editor of the Courier that appeared in last night's issue said, "The first principle of the Independent Labor Party is to support any economical movement for the benefit of mankind," and surely "winning the war" is such a movement. Keene's anxiety to raise technical clauses will not deter the Party from continuing conferences with any Political Party. His action in this matter is only going to prove that his object is not to "find solutions for Labor's problems" but that he is one of those chaps who "thrive on discontent." The public will no doubt draw their own conclusions. Unfortunately for Canada, we still have a few men here who apparently do not desire to see Canada presenting a united front. They seem desirous of seeing us "divided against ourselves," and were it not for the fact that the great majority of Labor men are "true patriots" such men might accomplish this purpose. "In the meantime Geo. Keene has no connection with the Independent Labor Party—and surely "that's a good thing."

By Courier Lensed Wire
Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—The result of the fusion meeting in Centre Winnipeg last night gave Major Andrews 44 votes and Dr. Bland 7. It was decided that the vote taken be merely an expression of opinion, the actual choice of a Union candidate being left to an open convention to be called as soon as possible.

THE WORLD OF LABOR

Gleaned From the Exchanges and Other Sources
A Budget of News for Those Interested in Labor

The labor party in Calgary decided to try for working class representation in the House of Commons, and will nominate two candidates to contest for seats in the approaching federal elections.

For the first time in the history of the Vancouver Labor movement a ticket has been on duty before a local cafe that had been placed on the unfair list and they have done effective work.

Competent machinists in Lethbridge are now receiving as high as 75 cents an hour, and business is reported as being extremely brisk, not only in the C. P. R. shops, but the contract plants as well, the latter doing a rushing business since the settlement of the coal miners' strike. The C. P. R. is 100 per cent. organized.

J. A. Beland, formerly a member of the general executive board of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International Alliance, has recently been appointed as fair wage officer for the Province of Quebec. He has been one of the hardest workers in the cause of unionism in Montreal and his appointment has given great satisfaction in local labor circles in that city.

The securing of a fifty-cents-a-day increase in wages by the civic employees' union in Vancouver has been followed by an encouraging number of new members as many of the civic employees who could see no good in the union have come to recognize their mistake. There is nothing that succeeds like success. You have got to show some people how to wake up.

At a recent meeting of the Winnipeg specialists lodge, affiliated with the I. A. M., the report of the executive committee, which favored the holding of a big mass meeting to boost the eight-hour day, or, more properly, 44-hour work-week, received the unanimous approval of the union, but it was decided that the rate paid per hour be increased in order that the same rate of wages be received for nine hours.

The city plant in Halifax, N.S., where a number of the members of the Granite Cutters' Union have been employed all summer, has been shut down, but two gangs are working at the quarry plant. It is expected that this work will last as long as weather conditions permit, there being no sheds there now. There is considerable work for the craft ahead in the city, as there is a large graving dock, a new station and six more piers to be cut in the near future.

The labor unions in British Columbia are nominating quite a number of working class candidates to contest seats in the oncoming federal election, and it looks as if they are going to put up a strenuous fight. These candidates are running on an anti-conscription platform, whereas in Ontario the organized movement has accepted the law as it now stands.

W. H. A. MET

The regular meeting of the Women's Hospital Aid was held in the Library on Friday morning, when considerable business, mostly routine, was despatched.

Mrs. Schell, president, occupied the chair. The secretary read the minutes and the acting-treasurer gave the financial statement. Rummage sale to date totaled $599.51, with several small sums still outstanding. Expenses, including advertising, carting, use of hall, etc., will amount to about $70, thus leaving a good balance in hand.

Brass inscription plates for 3-wheel chairs presented to the returned soldiers' Home cost $12, but the bill for the chairs was not received. Fees were paid in by Miss Watkins for Terrace Hill, $15.00; Mrs. Mitchell, centre of city, $7.25 and Miss Jones, North Ward, 50 cents.

A letter, enclosing a donation of $10.00, from Mrs. J. C. Montgomery, Chatham St., was read and a vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Montgomery for her generous donation and kind letter.

It was resolved that a letter of sympathy be sent by the Secretary to Mrs. and Miss Dunn of Paris, who have recently suffered bereavement in the loss of their relative, Mrs. Willets, who had on several occasions, given generous donations to both hospital and Nurses' Home.

The visitors' report for October, was read by the president: Mrs. D. J. Waterous and Mrs. R. K. Duncan had visited the hospital four times during the month. There were many patients, old and young, but all were apparently comfortable, and as happy as their different ailments would allow. An atmosphere of quiet contentment reigned throughout the building, and no complaints were heard. Fruit, flowers and magazines were given for the patients.

Mrs. J. M. Young and Mrs. James Adams were appointed to visit during November.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the merchants of the city; the housekeepers and all others who gave their contributions to rummage sale, thus making possible such splendid returns as recorded.

The special thanks of the W. H. A. were given to Mr. Slemin, Chief of Police, and his men for their assistance and protection during Rummage sale.

The W.H.A. wishing to assist the but are demanding that wealth also be conscripted. The results in the two provinces will be watched with considerable interest.

Ald. Joe Gibbons of the Toronto Street Railway Employees' Union is looked upon as one of the best men in the amalgamated association to straighten out a difficult proposition. In fact he is held in such esteem that international headquarters in Detroit often call upon him to use his good offices where differences arise between local organizations and the management of street railway companies in Canada. Joe had only returned from the Maritimes provinces where he had succeeded in straightening up a local difficulty when he was called up to proceed to Ottawa to adjust differences between the local there and the street railway management. It is said that Joe always succeeds in getting things over right, and there is no doubt when he leaves the capital he will have another sculp dangling at his belt.

The question of an eight-hour day is to be the force in earnest in all the machine, car, and locomotive shops on the various railroad systems in Western Canada where the mechanical trades are organized in powerful systems, federations, and pull together. The slogan of the nine-hour day is out of date, and it's time to get the eight-hour into all new schedules. This question is up wherever new agreements are being discussed. It is felt that the eight-hour day should not be applicable to the train men alone, but all classes of labor employed in the railroad industry. It coming. The long work-day is doomed.

With the exception of the Intercolonial the system federations of all the other railroads in Canada are embracing the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen, International Association of Machinists, International Union of Boilermakers, and Iron Ship Plumbers, United Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters, the Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Blacksmiths' Helpers, and various other crafts. Steps are now being taken to try and secure the affiliation of the I. C. R. men, which would mean the solid organization of the mechanical crafts on every line operating from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean.

The Butchers' Union of Vancouver, which was organized during the present year, has been making phenomenal headway and has now a membership of nearly 300, and growing rapidly. The workers in the meat packing plants in this district who have up to the present been in an unorganized state have had to work long hours at straight rates, many receiving as low as thirty cents an hour, and some an even lower rate of wages. The union has prepared a new scale of wages, and schedules of hours, which it is proposed to present to the employers, and expect to secure an agreement something that has never been in vogue as yet in these establishments. It is also proposed to ask for better working conditions.

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others, it works!

Once in a while a kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.

He says freezezone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissues or skin. A quarter of an ounce of freezezone will cost very little at any drug store, but it sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

hospital in some special way, resolved to make an appropriation of $500.00 to supplement the supply of linen, and appointed Mrs. Schell and Mrs. Nettles a committee to meet with Miss Forde to make the necessary selections.

On motion, Mrs. Reville was asked to continue to act as Treasurer until Mrs. Watt is able to resume her duties.

Sympathy with the treasurer, Mrs. George Watt, in her illness was expressed, and the Secretary was requested to convey the same by letter to Mrs. Watt.

The meeting was then adjourned.

UNION CANDIDATE

Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—Without a murmur of dissent the Union Government forces in South Winnipeg, at a convention, selected George W. Allan, K.C., as their candidate at the impending federal election. Speakers belonging to both the Conservative and Liberal parties, the Great War Veterans Association, the Army and Navy Veterans and a large number of ladies present, pledged support. Sir Hugh John MacDonnell said that those who thought this election was going to be a walk-over since there had been union government, were living in a fool's paradise.

VICTORY LOAN IN TORONTO LAUNCHED

Sir Thomas White Calls Upon Canadians for Funds To Save Dominion

Toronto, Nov. 10.—"Canada can—if Canada will."

The words, with their declaration and challenge were those of Sir Thomas White, as the Canadian Finance Minister, facing a great audience in Massey Hall last night, pointed his appeal to the people of the Dominion to make it possible for this country to support her men at the front and keep up her end of the fight against Prussian militarism. The Finance Minister's address was the first she heard in the Dominion-wide Victory Loan campaign which in the next three weeks will be confidently expected, turn into the Dominion Treasury funds far in excess of the $150,000,000 asked for. He spoke to an audience of more than two thousand people, and their enthusiasm made it clear that Toronto will do her part as readily and as thoroughly as she has in meeting every patriotic appeal made since the war began.

Sir Thomas did not take time to discuss the details of the loan. He chose instead to tell his hearers why the Government was asking for their savings. There were three reasons why the loan was being floated; in order that the men at the front might be supported, that Canada's war effort might be made still more effective, and in order to maintain the business prosperity that the war has brought to Canada so that the Dominion may "carry on" in the struggle. The Minister was cheered vigorously as he declared the unalterable determination of the Government to keep up the divisions in the field so that Canadians may hold their place in the line. He was followed with close interest as he explained how necessary it is for the Government to provide vast credits in Canada in order that the Imperial Government may continue to purchase foodstuffs, munitions and other supplies.

Canada is Prosperous. As to the country's ability to supply the money Sir Thomas had no doubts whatever. Never before in the history of the Dominion had the country been so wealthy even allowing for the increased national debt. In two years of war trade had doubled and bank savings, despite the $350,000,000 invested in war loans, had increased by $400,000,000. This year Canada would have a favorable trade balance of between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000.

The Finance Minister before closing, made an eloquent appeal to the people to get down to a real war basis, to emulate as far as was within their power the self denial and self-sacrifice of the gallant men at the front.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 9.—Torn bits of an express receipt, pinned together and found to relate to an express package shipped to Cleveland from Chicago to-day, set the police on the trail of the slayer of Dr. Harry L. Chapin, Cleveland physician, author and world wide traveler, who was found dying from a fractured skull in a down town hotel last evening. Dr. Chapin died soon after being found. Coroner Byrnes declares Chapin was murdered by being struck with a heavy weapon. The suspect is a former Cleveland man with whom the murdered physician had business dealings for more than two years and his arrest is expected hourly.

U. S. WITH ALLIES.

By Courier Leased Wire
London, Nov. 9.—The arrival in London of the American mission, Col. House's statement to the press and the announcement of the United States State Department fills a conspicuous place in the morning newspapers. Editorially The Times says: "The theory that America stands more or less aloof from the allies may still survive, but henceforward she shares our inmost counsels not only regarding the objects of the war, but as to the way to win it. In several points lately things have not been going too well for the allies, but none of their reverses or disappointments matter if only the great war power of the United States is directed rightly to the common end."

Turn Your Hero's Thoughts Home

If you have a soldier friend overseas, fighting the battle of empire, who must spend Christmas without its home associations, in the trenches are you going to send him a gift?

There is only one answer to the question in the minds of every citizen of Canada who has a friend who is engaged in the sad business of war, and that is "yes."

What does a soldier want and what will be of most use to him? This question was asked by the Courier to the ladies of every committee of the Red Cross and the Canadian War Contingent Association and the list of articles outside the clothing, tobacco and candy demands of the men, is a long one.

"After all, no one but the boy's own friends know just what he would appreciate most," said one of the ladies, when asked what ought to be sent. "They are just the same as they used to be at home, and they all want something special."

The needs of a soldier include everything which he used to need as a civilian. Baseballs and catching gloves are popular as presents with some of the young sportsmen, who form a large part of the Canadian army. Fountain pens, hair cutters, pads of writing paper or even diaries are wanted by men and can be selected according to the individual taste of the giver.

But such things as bachelors' buttons, washing soap, handkerchiefs, playing cards, toothbrushes, photographs, to mention but a few of the hundred and one articles which a soldier welcomes, may find a place in one of the seven-pound packages which are accepted by the post office and forwarded to the soldier right in the firing lines of France and Flanders and to the far-flung battle lines of the empire, wherever a Canadian soldier is to be found.

Goods of a perishable nature cannot be sent unless they are packed in tins, as glass is too liable to be damaged in the rough journey which the package may have to make before it reaches its destination near the fighting lines.

Packages must not, under any circumstances, be addressed to the war office. If such shipments are made they will be treated as gifts sent to troops generally and distributed through the Canadian War Contingent Association to soldiers but not to the man for whom the package was intended.

If the parcels which are to be sent are under 11 pounds in weight they may be sent through the Canadian parcels post to England, but seven pounds is the limit to France, and the greatest care should be taken in the packing. Each package must bear on it the name and address of the sender, with a formal declaration of the contents.

To insure that parcels will be delivered in time for Christmas, they should be sent off as soon as possible, if the gifts arrive a day or two before the day it is a matter of no importance, while if they should be delayed in time for Christmas, the gift being received, the feelings of the sender as well as the soldier himself may be imagined better than described.

For parcels they should be dispatched this month or at least the first week of next month. It is stated that it is possible that letters sent a week or so later may be in time for Christmas but parcels with their slower distribution will not be in time unless they are sent off within the next few days.

A little time spent now in selecting and packing up the Christmas gift for the boys at the front means that there will be no unavailing regrets and that boys who next year may not need Christmas presents will receive them promptly and be reminded that their home folks appreciate their sacrifice in the cause of the freedom of the world.

See page two for postage on soldier's parcels.

TRIBUNALS IN SESSION

Exemption Boards Heard a Large Number of Appli- cations

The work of the exemption tribunals slackened off yesterday afternoon, but this morning in renewed numbers the applications from draftees entering appeals from military service were greatly increased. At some of the tribunals, the applicants were lined up in large numbers before the hearings were commenced at ten o'clock. Most of the cases heard to-day were those who had applied for exemption through the post office. The oral applications of the past three days have been exceedingly light at all times and to-day was not an exception to the rule.

At the East End Fire Hall, the case of John Ellwood Wheeler was laid over for consideration. No exemption claimants appeared at the Armories this morning.

Cold storage and the whole question of the cost of living are now under consideration, it is understood by a sub-committee of the cabinet. Important recommendations will probably be made shortly.

ZEEBRUGGE, GERMAN SUB BASE ON BELGIAN COAST

German Engineering Skill Has Made a Submarine Base Where King Leo- pold Tried Vainly to Build a Great Port of Trade

By Egbert Hans

Since the Germans occupied the Belgian coast British warships have at shorter or longer intervals when ever possible bombarded Zeebrugge. From the brief news items almost hidden in the columns of more exciting affairs, it has seemed as if the British fleet bombarded Zeebrugge when it had nothing better to do.

Yet the present tremendous drive by the Allies in Flanders which began with the successful blowing up of the Messines-Wytschaete Ridge has the same object as the repeated bombardment of Zeebrugge and other parts of the Belgian coast—the object of destroying one of the most important submarine bases, which enable Germany to continue her sea warfare.

It was shortly after the Belgian army had retired to the Yser front and the Germans had made their triumphal entry into Ostend that I heard from first hand sources what great expectations Germany nourished in regard to her possessions of the Belgian coast. A group of Dutch journalists whom I had joined, interviewed some German officers on the Dutch-Belgian border. The Germans were always willing to grant interviews to neutrals in those days for they believed in advertising their aims, or rather explaining and justifying them, and especially liked to advertise their gains. One of the officers was the spokesman.

"The presence of German soldiers on the Belgian coast," said he "is the realization of a long cherished German ideal, for between them and England is only a strip of water a few miles wide. The German Empire extending to the North Sea will put a stop to England's supremacy of the seas, for is not Germany also the strongest on land

"Napoleon," continued the speaker. "Called Antwerp 'a loaded pistol aimed at the heart of England,' and Napoleon did not see as far nor know as much as we do to-day."

Germany was already busy with preparations to exploit her newly acquired naval position. Why was Zeebrugge so great an acquisition? Ostend was known all over the world and so was Antwerp, but who had ever heard of Zeebrugge? The fact is that this harbor had only just been finished by the Belgian people as a climax in their dream of greater expansion, of more exports and imports for Belgium. It was the ideal location for a submarine base, especially for the submarines whose operation field was to be the Irish Sea and the English coast. A small steamer with moderate speed could, from Zeebrugge reach England in only a few hours. Submarines could return in no time to their base for supplies, or, which is just as important, report for instructions and with news. An almost constant communication with the base is one of the great factors in submarine warfare. For that reason Zeebrugge was an ideal port.

But Germany saw even more advantages. From Zeebrugge a canal wide and deep enough to allow sea vessels, had been dug for exportation purposes to Bruges. This town was in German hands at a relatively safe distance from the enemies' lines. Germany's scheme was simple, but with great possibilities for success. In the vicinity of Bruges along the canal, submarine building yards were rushed to completion. In fact the foundations were already there, laid for commercial purposes by the Belgian people. Bruges was connected with Germany by direct railway lines, and the raw material could be shipped from Germany with out delay or difficulties, as all along the line the territory was held by Germany. The parts came to Bruges and the submarine was built, launched on the canal, and in less than two hours had reached Zeebrugge, its base, ready for action.

From Zeebrugge probably started on its tragic mission the submarine that fired the torpedo into the Lusitania, and when Germany decided upon ruthless warfare, only Germany herself knew how important a role Zeebrugge would play in the present war game. Yet even to-day many a follower of the war hardly knows where to find Zeebrugge on the map. It is the British fleet however that knows what Zeebrugge means, and the only reason that the almost continuous bombardments of the port has never done sufficient damage is that Germany has given to Zeebrugge a wonderful system of defence.

Many times a landing of British troops on the Belgian coast has been considered, but England has experienced at tremendous costs what a landing means, be it in Gallipoli or in Belgium. So it has been decided that the evacuation of the Belgian coast by German troops, however important it is, can be the result only of a well-organized co-operation of land and sea forces, pounding from opposite directions. It is to be hoped that the recent gains in Flanders justify the prospect of success for such co-operation.

The history of Zeebrugge is interesting from other standpoints than the present strategic one. Less than 20 years ago it was composed only of a few miserable fishing huts. Its creation as a maritime port was due to the ambitions of King Leopold of Belgium. Antwerp was the only Belgian port for export and import. It is not even a seaport, for it is situated on the Scheldt river, and with boats can reach the sea only at Flushing, distant a trip of more than five hours, a period sometimes much increased by the delay due to the tide. Besides, Flushing is a Dutch town, and thus the road from Antwerp to the sea is an international one. To the west is a strip of sea where Ostend was the biggest Belgian port, but her maritime activities were limited to a single line to Dover, a line of small importance.

Not far from Ostend is Bruges, now a dead city, but once a great harbor called the "Venice of the North." That was hundreds of years ago, and where the harbor was once are now fertile fields surrounded by dikes. King Leopold, in his dreams, saw the resurrection of Bruges, if once more it could be linked with the sea. It was a tremendous scheme. Besides, it had political advantages, which got for him the assistance of the party then in power, the Catholic party or Conservatives. Antwerp was a centre of liberalism as well as of commerce. Flanders was Catholic and Conservative, but was agricultural without international commerce. An international harbor in Catholic Flanders would reduce the supremacy of the Liberal Centre, Antwerp.

Work started at Zeebrugge. An immense wall was built, stretching into the sea nearly two miles and forming a tremendous shelter. All along it were installed powerful cranes. Big warehouses were constructed in anticipation of big business. The pilot building was greater than that at Antwerp, and it seemed as if King Leopold's dream would come true. But it was proved that a harbor movement could not be transferred by the stroke of a pen. Antwerp was flourishing more than ever. Her import and export figures grew every year, while no ships came to Zeebrugge.

Other difficulties arose. Time after time sand filled the harbor, and almost continuous dredging was necessary. Only one steamship line established itself at Zeebrugge, running a boat to Hull (England) twice a week, and that only in summer, the vacation season. Now and again a small boat would run in, looking as if it was a mistake. Finally the Belgians became accustomed to the idea that Zeebrugge was a failure, and a very expensive failure. And when Germany took possession of Zeebrugge the Belgians said, "After all, it is a good thing, as Zeebrugge is no good."

Of course, Germany experienced the same difficulties about the sand, which constantly filled the harbor, and she tried to engage the services of the engineer-in-chief who had been in charge of the works. He was a refugee in Holland. The invaders offered him a royal salary, but he proudly replied that his services were not for sale to the enemies of his country and that he would rather see his life work destroyed than think it was of the least assistance to "a nation of thieves." The answer was one of the many bitter pills administered to Germans in the form of blunt but heroic responses from Belgians tempted with money. In due time, however, through the clever engineers of her own, the Germans found means to make the harbor of use for submarine traffic. More and more submarines, built at the Bruges yards, found their way along the canal to their new base.

Nowadays, when the news has been spread that Germany is willing to "exchange" Belgium in a eventual peace discussion, it is interesting to reflect upon the point of view expressed by the German officer mentioned above. It may have been only an individual opinion, but there is no doubt that Germany, in her nation of militarism, attaches tremendous importance to the strip of Belgian coast opposite to England. Certain it is that Germany will evacuate that coast only at a point of the sword. But the sword is drawing nearer and nearer.

Outrages Upon Nature.
No lady can be really well clothed if her dress outrages Nature's intentions in the structure of the human frame.

Such outrages are: a ridiculously small waist, shoes that compress the toes into a cramped mass of deformity, and, it might even be added, gloves that confine the hand till it looks absurd.

The foot is irredeemably ruined to the destruction of spring and grace in movement, and to no inconsiderable injury to health.

No doubt the crumpled clump of deformity common from wearing modern abominations is a thing an ancient Greek would have shuddered at.

LOST—ONE MOTOR CAR SALEROOM

Reluctant Patriot Discovers
It Behind Mammoth
"Buy a Bond" Sign

Detroit, Oct. 13.—"They certainly look at this Liberty Loan like a circus," said the conductor of a Woodward line car this morning as he glanced out at the lithographs on a fence.

"Well, I'm tied up with coal bills and a lot of new furniture," said a passenger who was riding in the rear of the car. "It would have to be a sign as big as a house to jar any bond money out of me just now."

The car had just left Forest Avenue going south when he made his statement. "It would, eh?" broke in another passenger. "Well, you just look at that." The car was passing the salerooms of Thomas J. Doyle, dealer in Dodge Brothers motor cars. From the roof to the ground, 30 feet, and covering the entire front of the 111-foot building was a sign, "BUY A BOND." It was as big as two houses.

"You win," said the first passenger. "I'll buy."

It is Necessary To Stop All Leaks

Civic Pride---That Pride Which Believes Big Things For the Future of Your Own Community---That is Benefits the Entire Country and best Benefits You

The Concentration of Business---Large or Small---In a Few Large Cities is Not in the Best Interests of Canada as a Whole

Every possible argument---every suggestion in connection with "The Boost Brantford" campaign has sound sense and absolute right to back it. No community can benefit if the monies earned therein are forwarded to the larger centres. And certainly no country can expand and grow in population and riches if the business of that country is centered in a few large centres. Brantford money must be spent in Brantford if this city is to prosper. The leak must be stopped. Brantford citizens---and that means each one of us---must use every effort to ensure fair-play for this city and that can be secured by co-operation. Let us unite to stop the leak. It can be done.

BRANTFORD Needs Your Money and Your Wage Earning Ability

Are we each and every one of us doing all we can to build up Brantford into a large and beautiful city? We have the opportunity, but are we making the best of it? A community is no better than the men and women living in it. If our outlook is narrow and selfish, our community viewpoint will be dwarfed and unresponsive to the spirit of progress. If we do not work for the best welfare of our industrial, commercial and mercantile life our community suffers collectively and we all suffer individually.

To Spend Our Money in Brantford Where Earned is Good Business

Think what Brantford would be without our retail merchants. We here would be the value in our real estate, in our educational institutions, in our park system, in our factories, if we did not have a growing population to enjoy them and maintain them. The best way to benefit Brantford is to keep our money in local circulation as far as possible. A policy which is endorsed by the leading manufacturers, merchants and business men of this city is worthy of careful consideration. Once again, let our motto be

RELATIVE STRENGTH OF WARRING POWERS IN PRESENT CONFLICT

Statistics Prepared by Bankers' Trust Company Show Huge Preponderance in Favor of the Entente, But Task They Have Cannot Be Belittled.

The comparative strength of the allies and the Central Powers is graphically shown by "The Balance Sheet of the Nations at War," which has just been compiled by the Bankers' Trust Company.

"The world has a great task still before it in order to nullify the plans of the Hohenzollerns," says the introduction. "The task must not be belittled, but it is at least interesting to see resources existing successfully to accomplish this task, provided that the nations of the world now opposed to Germany continue to co-operate intelligently and loyally until Germany and her allies have been absolutely defeated and their plans of world dominion rendered permanently ineffective."

Figures showing, for both sides, the combined area, income and forest charge and cost of the war in treasure and men are presented with the explanation that they have been gathered with great care from the "best available sources" and are believed to "reflect with substantial correctness the relative economic strength of the opposing groups of nations," although it is impossible to vouch for their absolute accuracy.

The allies, including the United States, are shown, by this tabulation, to control 19,526,600 square miles of the earth's surface, or 94.1 per cent. of the total area held by the nations at war, as compared with 1,222,000 square miles, or only 5.9 per cent. held by the Teutonic combination. The aggregate population of the allies, exclusive of the large Asiatic population tributary to the British Empire reaches the huge total of 473,250,000, or 75.3 per cent. of the total of warring peoples, while that of the Central Powers is but 147,000,000, or 23.7 per cent.

Without counting Asiatics and Africans, the allies have available for military service 91,700,000 men, or 87.5 per cent. of the total of possible fighting men, while the Teutonic powers can command but 25,000,000, or 21.5 per cent. The number of men actively enrolled in the armies and navies of the allies is 12,400,000, or 66 per cent. of the total, while the enrolled military strength of the Teutonic allies is 11,000,000, or 34 per cent., as shown by the following table:

The combined national wealth of the allies is estimated at $553,000,000,000 or 80.5 per cent. of the total of the nations engaged in the present conflict, while the wealth of Germany and her allies is placed at $134,000,000,000, or 19.5 per cent. Contrasted with this is the national debt of the allies, $33,900,000,000, or 14.7 per cent. of their aggregate wealth, and the combined debt of the Germans and their allies, $55,500,000,000, which is 28.7 per cent. of their aggregate wealth.

The aggregate national income of the allies is placed at $82,100,000,000 and the interest charges each year at $3,891,000,000, which is 4.6 per cent. of the income, while the combined income of the Teutonic Alliance is estimated to be $16,600,000,000 and interest charges $1,370,000,000, which is 11.8 per cent. of the income.

Regarding the cost of the war a table is presented showing that the allies have spent $72,200,000,000, or 64.1 per cent. of the total cost to all warring nations, while Germany and her allies have spent $102,500,000,000, or 35.9 per cent.

In killed, wounded, and missing, the conflict has cost the allies 8,392,536 men, or 58.7 per cent. of the total of human losses, while it has cost the Central powers 6,301,773, or 41.3 per cent. of the total of 15,294,729. These last figures have been taken from the New York Times Current History Magazine for last September.

In the introduction to the balance sheet it is pointed out that, while the exact figures are not available, it is a well-known fact that the surplus food-producing sections of the world are practically sections of the world Entente Allies either directly or through their control of the seas. The same is true, to a great extent, of territories producing metals and coal.

"Japan has not yet been an active factor in the European theatre of the war," comments the pamphlet. "It has, however, very effectively guarded the Pacific Ocean. It has enrolled in its army about 1,500,000 men, out of an effective man power of 10,500,000. The entire army and navy, as well as the unrolled man power, may be said to be still in reserve."

"While Russia has nominally about 5,000,000 men enrolled in its army and navy, it still has an enormous reserve, as the total number of men available for military purposes aggregates around 30,000,000."

"The extreme gravity of the present situation in Russia is, therefore, apparent, especially when it is borne in mind that if Germany can gain control of Russia or force a separate peace with Russia, even if Russia remained thereafter simply neutral, it would be possible for Germany to draw therefrom an enormous quantity of foodstuffs and the raw material for munitions of war. On the other hand, if Russia can be kept in line with the Entente Allies, it would seem that the Teutonic Allies must be compelled to stipulate, at a reasonably early date, for sheer exhaustion."

"While considering the danger points we must not overlook the fact of the virulence of the Teutonic submarine campaign. It is impossible, however, to present figures in this connection which have statistical value."

"The fact should not be lost sight of that Germany now controls Belgium, Northern France, Serbia, Rumania, Montenegro and a large portion of Poland, having a combined population of about 32,300,000. It is true that men of all these nations are serving in the armies of the Entente Allies and that Belgium is maintaining an independent army of moderate size. The control of these countries, especially Belgium and Northern France, has given Germany a great advantage because of the supplies of coal and iron ore thus made available, and also because of the ability thus obtained to turn to use the factories of the manufacturing sections in making munitions of war."

"Just at the critical moment, when the scales were almost evenly balanced between the Entente Allies, the Teutonic allies, the United States, with its great wealth and resources, entered the conflict with a possible 22,000,000 men to draw upon, with its national wealth of $225,000,000,000, national income of $40,000,000,000, national savings estimated in the neighborhood of $5,000,000,000, a year, and has thrown its weight into the scale, prepared to put behind the Entente group effective co-operation to secure the success of the principles of democracy."

The task is called a "tremendous one," but, according to the views of the Bankers' Trust Company, there can be no doubt as to the ultimate victory of the United States and her allies.

SPEED SALVATION BY USE OF MOTOR

Western Soldier - Preacher Studies Motor Mechanics In M.H.C. Classes

Motor mechanics as a course supplementary to the business of a "Sky Pilot" is Pte. Lambert's idea of efficiency, and in his case it may mean the salvation of many souls.

Pte. Lambert before the war was the Rev. Lambert ministering to the spiritual needs of scattered Methodist communities over an area of 30 miles in Alberta. When the call to war came he doffed the cloth for khaki and joined the ranks of one of the first battalions. To-day he is a patient in the Orthopaedic Hospital in Toronto minus a leg, but as ambitious to fulfill his mission as the day he left college.

To preach the gospel in the west, one must travel far in the outlying districts and the necessity of getting around was a problem until he hit upon the idea of motor mechanics. If a man could care for his car, do

EVANGELIST CAMPAIGN OPENED LAST EVENING

Dedication of Tabernacle Took Place With Many Clergymen of City in Attendance—Hanley-Fisher Party Arrive in City Today

Evangelist Take One Week of manual effort, and months of organization by workers from 23 Protestant churches in the city, culminated in the opening and dedication of the tabernacle on the government property on Brant Ave. last night. In this huge frame structure the evangelistic meetings for the next five weeks will be conducted by the Hanley-Fisher party, who are expected to arrive to-day, and if the gathering at the initial meeting last night is an indication of the interest that will be displayed for the duration of the campaign, the results will well repay the energetic workers for their earnest efforts.

Although the dedication service was scheduled to commence at eight o'clock, the crowds began to file into the building at an early hour, and by the appointed time the seats were well filled. A massed choir of over a hundred voices, and an orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Clifford Higgin, led the singing. W. H. Whitaker, chairman of the campaign committee, presided and on behalf of the twenty-three Protestant churches of the city, welcomed the gathering to the tabernacle and extended a cordial invitation to all citizens to attend the meetings that will be held. He was confident that this campaign would prove one of the most potent Christian movements that had ever affected the city of Brantford. The work thus far was a substantial testimony to the ability and Christian service of Mr. John Hanley and his able corps of assistants who had been responsible for the construction of the tabernacle. The speaker outlined briefly the many factors that would enter into the success of the undertaking, and referred to the different departments that were presided over by capable men. Mr. Whitaker described the work that had been accomplished in this connection and proclaimed prayer as the foundation and basis of the entire campaign. He hoped that all would continue to pray in confidence. The purpose of the organization promoting the campaign, was to extend the glory of God and advance His Kingdom in this city and community. The object was to broaden the minds of all women and children who came into contact with the services and to exert an influence that would result in many souls being born again in the Kingdom of Christ. The chairman announced that the first regular service would be held next Sunday evening and that for the balance of the campaign in all the twenty-three churches interested, the evening services would be discontinued, and only the morning services held. The Sunday Schools, beginning to-morrow would convene at half past two instead of three o'clock as formerly.

A. K. Bunnell briefly addressed the gathering on what will be foremost in the minds of all loyal citizens for the next few weeks—the Canadian Victory Loan. The cry from our boys overseas, from the nations that had been ravished by the Hun barbarians, and from the Motherland was for finances. Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance required $1,000,000 per day to finance Canada's share of the war, and if the struggle was not successfully prosecuted the $150,000,000 asked for in this loan must be forthcoming to insure the industrial, commercial and agricultural stability of the Dominion.

Dr. Henderson, of the Wellington Street Methodist Church, in a brief but appropriate address, formally declared the tabernacle opened and handed over the key to the chairman, W. H. Whitaker. The Rev. Llewellyn Brown, president of the Brantford Ministerial Association, led in the dedication prayer.

The Rev. D. E. Martin, who has been in charge of the cottage prayer meetings, stated that the motto, "Prayer Changes Things," was most certainly true of the series of meetings that had been held throughout the city. It was the natural impulse and instinct of human nature to pray and a splendid opportunity of turning toward God had been presented by the opening of the tabernacle. For the duration of the campaign the evening meetings would be eliminated and the morning meetings held on Tuesdays and Thursdays each week.

The Rev. G. A. Woodside spoke on personal work. He was confident that the fruits of the campaign would be forthcoming if all energies were directed toward success and no effort was spared by each individual in "doing his bit." Here was an opportunity of improving the foundation of our national life, and he made a strong plea to his hearers to avail themselves of the opportunity thus presented. "Are we Christians ready for the opportunity?" he asked. "Are we equal to the greatest challenge that has ever been offered to Christian Brantford?"

The Rev. Mr. Logan emphasized the absolute necessity of co-operation. He explained what an important factor harmonious "pulling together" would be in the weeks that are to follow. It would assure the success of the enterprise.

The Rev. Mr. Emmett, organizer for the Hanley-Fisher party, was quite confident that the campaign would be one of the most successful events in the history of Christian Brantford. He emphasized the need of clearing financial obligations within the first ten days. He appealed to all to bend every effort toward bringing to the Cross the lost men, women and children of the city and district and announced that the prayer meetings would not be discontinued, but that they would be continued with even greater interest and on a wider scale than before. The evangelistic party would arrive to-day and he declared that while on their part no effort would be spared, the aims and objects of the organization bringing them here could only be achieved by the united and earnest effort of everyone interested.

Mr. Harley Fisher Evangelistic party which arrives in Brantford to-day are well-known in Ontario, having spent last winter in western Ontario towns. Splendid permanent results followed this work, in St. Thomas, St. Mary's, Sarnia, Windsor and Kingsville.

In these places they made thousands of friends by the ability of every member of the party, coupled with the soundness and the sanity of their methods. The city is splendidly organized under the leadership of Rev. E. H. Emmett who has been in the city for the past three weeks superintending the building of the tabernacle organizing the neighborhood prayer-meetings and a thousand details with fine business ability and courtesy. The ushering music and personal work committees are all well organized and waiting anxiously to begin this work. The plan of campaign has been hammered out on the anvil of experience and is no longer an experiment. Each worker has a definite task and there is no confusion all the varying types of men find work to do. It speaks well for the success of the campaign that all the ministers and their churches co-operating are absolutely united in this work. It is

THE SAVING PATRIOT
A definite plan for a definite task namely the making known of God's wonderful love. The personnel of the party is as follows:
Personnel of the Party
Rev. Joe R. Hanley, D.D., is a product of the State of Iowa. He is a graduate of the State University, having the degree of L.L.B., from that institution. He is a lawyer by profession, being admitted to the bar, and having practiced in both the State and Supreme Courts. He was a volunteer soldier under Gen. Hugh Lee in the Spanish-American war. For the past ten years Dr. Hanley has devoted himself to the pastorate and special evangelistic work. As a Christian minister and lecturer on the Chautauqua platform he is an unqualified success. He is a safe and sound preacher of the Gospel, and his work is devoid of the objectionable features in so much of the evangelistic work of the present day.

The Rev. E. I. Emmett is widely known in the eastern part of Ontario and in California, U. S. A., where for a number of years in the pastorate in evangelistic work and in the Los Angeles Young Men's Christian Association he established his reputation as one of the best known organizers and ministers. At the urgent request of the Rev. William A. Sunday (Bible Sunday) Mr. Emmett agreed to spend two seasons, organizing Mr. Sunday's work. For the duration of Mr. Emmett's supervision that the cities of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Des Moines, Paterson and Denver were organized. After completing his contract with Billy Sunday, Mr. Emmett felt the strain of the work and decided to associate himself with a company of evangelists who were doing just as good but smaller work.

Prof. F. G. Fisher is without a peer in the realm of evangelistic effort. He is a thoroughly skilled musician, and with his choir is regarded as an opportunity that many would be willing to pay for. For more than ten years Prof. Fisher led "Billy Sunday's" choir, and Mr. Earl Voles comes from Detroit through the genial disposition and skillful handling of the audiences on the part of Mr. Fisher that Mr. Sunday became so well and favorably known. The coming of Mr. Fisher to Brantford affords the musical pupils of the town an exceptional opportunity to come under the best obtainable leadership.

Mr. Earl Voles comes from Decatur, Ill. He is a student of the Illinois University, who has given a great deal of time to the study of music. The coming of Mr. Fisher to Brantford affords the musical pupils of the town an exceptional opportunity to come under the best obtainable leadership.

Miss Mary A. Robertson is a sister-in-law of Dr. Hanley, and her special work is among the women and high school girls. She is a graduate of the High School and University, and is regarded as exceptionally successful in her efforts. She is a fluent speaker and conducts special meetings for women and girls while Dr. Hanley addresses the men.

 Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.
 Nahya, a beautiful half-breed Indian girl, asks Ralph Cowdrey, an impressionable young doctor in a frontier town of the Canadian Northwest, to make a journey of three hundred miles to break and reset her mother's cruelly set arm. Aroused by his interest in the girl, Ralph consents. They travel first on a primitive steamboat. Nahya's charms attract attentions from the rough men on the boat, especially Joe Mixer, with whom Ralph almost comes to blows in consequence. The last stage of their journey is made by canoe with Nahya's brother, Charley. Ralph's growing love for Nahya causes him to show toward her an unguarded passion. She proves her ability to take care of herself. Ralph is remorseful and Nahya forgives him. At the beginning of a rapids Nahya insists that Ralph go the rest of the way blindfolded. He is angered at the mystery and refuses. They camp for the night. Suddenly Ralph is rudely awakened by the descent of two heavy knees between his shoulders. Nahya and her brother succeed in bandaging Ralph's eyes and the next morning they proceed to their destination. Ralph performs the operation. Following Charley, he penetrates through a hole in a mountain into a sealed valley—green, beautiful, and rich with gold. Here dwell Nahya and the Indians who hope to mold into a new tribe away from white-man influence. She tells Ralph her life's story and ends with a search for her white father.

CHAPTER X.

Moonlight
 Ralph looked at Nahya a full half minute before he ventured a question.
 "And then what happened?" he inquired.
 He denied my story.
 Her story ended, Nahya rose and said good night. Long after she disappeared into her mother's tepee, Ralph lay under his blanket staring at the fire.
 Sleep was banished to the other side of the world from his eyelids. His body was still, and his brain with inconceivable rapidity and completeness was flashing pictures before his inner eye.
 So vivid, so involuntary was this process that he felt as if it were taking place independently of him. There he lay, the quiet self that he knew, with a mad, foreign spirit turning the wheels inside his skull, and he helpless to think or act in his own person.
 The pictures were all of Nahya; Nahya as he had first regarded her, a common Indian girl, blind fool that he was!
 Nahya sleeping with a smile on the deck under the lantern; Nahya glorious at the helm in the rapids; Nahya, flashing-eyed, defending herself from him, Nahya weeping in the grass at midnight; Nahya reproachful and despairing when she found the white man in her sanctuary, and he breathed: "Thank God for something noble to love!"

 Across the lake the mountain under the moon was still black down to the water's edge, but about its summit certain planes of snow had caught the moonlight, making an effect of weird, pale loveliness up there.
 Behind him the mountains to the west were fully drawn and misty in the moonlight, they suggested not hard facts of rock and ice and snow, but lovely suspended fantasies of the imagination.
 The strip of beach with the canoe lying upon it was at Ralph's feet. Very slowly through the haze of his dreams he became aware that there were only two canoes below. Instead of the three that belonged there. When the fact fully penetrated his understanding, his heart bounded in his breast.
 Was it possible that Nahya—He knew that, like himself, she had no love for a sleepless bed. If he could only find her somewhere in the moonlight and pour out the weight of emotion that overcharged his breast. Leaping down the bank, he lifted one of the remaining canoes into the water and embarked.
 He found her.
 Half a mile up the lake, out in the middle, she was resting on her paddle, woman and canoe making a graceful shadow picture in the path of moonlight. Hearing him coming, she made no effort to escape, nor when their canoes gently collided expressed any surprise at his coming.
 He could not see into her eyes, but from her still air he guessed that the moonlight had softened her, too. Seeing her so still and lovely, his heart swelled in his breast, throbbing speech again. Clinging to the gun-whale of her canoe, he could only look at her. They faced each other in the attitude of prayer.
 Nahya spoke first. "It is beautiful to-night," she said softly. The pain had gone out of her voice.
 "Sunlight or moonlight," Ralph said simply, "this is the most beautiful place I have ever seen."
 There was a light breeze from the direction of camp. It swung the two canoes gradually around and propelled them slowly up the lake. The moon now shone in Nahya's face.
 Like the brush of a master-painter, it blotted out unessential details in order to reveal in dim, suggestive lights and shadows the very spirit of beauty dwelling there. Ralph thought he had already encompassed her beauty, and he was amazed.
 He leaned toward her, gaining like a despairing sinner at a vision of heaven. There was a long silence. It terrified Nahya. Obligated to say something, anything to break it, in her agitation she said the wrong thing. "It is late. We must go back."
 "Late!" cried Ralph, suddenly feeling speech. "What does it matter? What does anything matter? I must speak to her, or I will never be another night, another time like this!"
 Again he swept, and terrible silence that discharged lightning from heart to heart. Nahya half swooning, still retained the current desperately.
 "I must go," she murmured, and picked up her paddle.
 Ralph clung to her canoe. She could not escape him.
 "That was a wonderful story you told me," he murmured at last. This provided her a loophole of escape from the tender influences that betrayed her.
 "Wonderful!" she said in a stronger voice, and bitterly. "It is an ugly story."

Rippling Rhymes
 For peace that's made in Germany the allies do care; it would be cheap and verminy, not warranted to wear. The peace the kaiser's pondering, and planning with a gun, would surely fade in laundering, the colors all would run. This war! The world is hating it but peace would be more punk with Germany detaching it and handing out the bunk. The allies are much wiser dumb, and wielding sword and creese, than arguing with kaiserdom about the terms of peace. When peace is given us, and people know repose, and war's red dog that's driven us, back to its kennel goes, that peace must be no platitude, no phrases neatly turned, of wide and yielding latitude, to be ignored or spurned. No paper written gaudily, whose terms may be withstood, no fabric woven shoddily or "something just as good." When gentle peace has come again, it must have come in the name of King Shall make things bum again by starting up a fray. The peace that comes from Germany would last till Kaiser Bill should once again determine he was strong enough to kill.

LADY'S SHIRTWAIST.

By Anabel Worthington.

A constant source of satisfaction to the woman who likes to look business-like and efficient is a supply of smart shirt waists ready to wear at an instant's notice. The one illustrated in No. 3447 shows one of the latest effects in collars—square at the back and with deep points at the front. The whole collar is of darker material than the waist, and it is joined to revers, which are formed by turning the fronts of the waist back. As the crossing of the waist is quite low, a tiny shield of the material is a feature. The long sleeves are gathered into deep cuffs, and the turn-overs to match the collar are attractive but not necessary.
 The waist pattern, No. 3447, is cut in sizes 36 to 42 inches bust measure. The 36 inch size requires 2 yards of 36 inch material, with 1/2 yard of 36 inch contrasting goods.

LIVING FOR THE MILLIONTH CHANCE
 I had a discussion the other day with a man about sending checks to people whom you do not know.
 This man held that it was not safe to do because the people might raise them and then you would be responsible.
 "I should worry," said I, "my checking account isn't big enough so that I would lose a great deal."
 "Oh, well," he said, "you are responsible to the whole extent of your property."
 This did not seem possible to me, so we discussed the matter further, and I found out that he based his statement on the fact that he had heard of a man whose check was raised and who had been suspected of collusion with the raiser and had finally to make restitution.
 The Superior Attitude of the Ultra Cautious
 "But you wouldn't be in collusion," I pointed out.
 He smiled that superior smile with which the ultra cautious view the ignorance of people who aren't forever hedging "themselves" in with fears. "How could I prove that? I asked triumphantly.
 "I couldn't prove he couldn't prove it," we admitted to discussion.
 Later I talked with the treasurer of a bank about the matter of check raising, asking him what the chances were. "Never while I have been here," he said, "have I seen a check. I could say about one chance in a million."

 That statement interested me deeply, not only because I wanted to know about the check situation for

INTO THE LAND OF BY-AND-BYE.
 All the little people view the meadow seemed very unhappy.
 "That's not the way to do!" exclaimed Johnny Grasshopper. "Mistress Summer has been very kind to us and I think the best way to show our appreciation is to give her at her very last appearance a cheery good-bye."
 "I agree," chirped Jimmy Cricket from the tip of a blade of grass where he was swinging. "She deserves to be sent away with smiles, not tears."
 "But I'm too cold to smile," shivered Lazy Snail.
 "If you weren't so lazy you'd dance around and get warm," buzzed Willy Bee.
 Mr. Snail crawled into his shell house and hid his head.
 "Let's give a grand farewell party," cried Jimmy Cricket, "and have Mr. Dandelion print our invitations."
 The idea suited everyone, and away they went to see Mr. Dandelion, who kept the newspaper for the meadow people. He not only printed the invitations, but sent them out by his little seed messengers, and they scattered them far and wide.
 Late that afternoon the company began to gather. Johnny Grasshopper sounded his trumpet and they all danced around Mistress Summer, who sat upon a couch of crimson leaves and laughed merrily at her little friends. She loved them all.
 Everyone did what he could to make the evening a pleasant one. The Grasshoppers had a hopping contest. Lazy Snail, much to the amusement of the company, ran a race with Benny Angle Worm, but of course Angle Worm won, because the extra weight of a hopping house on his back, like Lazy Snail. ## Canada Is Helping the Allies

Hauling The Grain In Alberta

It was the great Napoleon who declared that an army marches on its stomach, and nobody knew more about war than he did. The food supply of the nations now fighting is as important as the matter of guns and ammunition. Canada is playing a doubly important part in the present conflict; she is supplying a vast army of men and a huge supply of food and ammunition.

The freight traffic on the railroads of Western Canada has reached immense dimensions. The task of hauling the wheat is now in full progress, and much of this will find its way to feed the allied legions.

Over three hundred and fifty cars carrying approximately 500,000 bushels of grain are leaving Alberta over the Canadian Pacific daily, according to a recent statement by one of the officials. Freight facilities throughout the entire province are in excellent condition this year to handle the shipments and no difficulty, whatever, should be experienced in the removal of the grain being threshed, and yet to be threshed, in the province.

Large shipments are being made from the southern part of Alberta each day, and the district between Calgary and Swift Current has furnished a good proportion of the cereals for eastern markets. Practically all of the grain has gone east with the exception of the trial shipment sent to the Pacific coast to try out the Panama canal route. That there need be no fear of a car shortage on the C.P.R. lines is the confirmed opinion of the official who discussed the subject. He said that at the present time neither the main line nor any of the branches felt the pull occasioned by the demand for cars to be used in the crop removal.

INCREASE GRADUAL

Since Sept. 1st, the increase in shipments has been gradual, 350 cars a day was the estimate only for the early part of October. This is increasing more rapidly now that the farmers are finding their way to the different shipping points on the completion of threshing. It is the belief of the official that after the fall plowing is tied up the grain hauling will commence in earnest and the demand for freight cars will increase greater than the gradual rise, which has been noticeable in the past fortnight.

The estimate of 500,000 bushels for the Alberta district of the C.P.R., which takes in the whole province land east of Swift Current. The threshing in the south is earlier than in the other parts of the province, and a supply of cars is held in readiness to place at the disposal of the farmers and elevators at the different towns along the main and branch lines.

The car shortage which has been threatened in former years will not be experienced this fall and winter, according to the re-assuring statements of the C.P.R. official. The yield of the different districts of Alberta has been carefully estimated and it is known to a fair degree of accuracy just what grain will have to be hauled. Cars will be available to remove the crops in all districts where the C.P.R. runs and hundreds of orders for reservations are being dealt with each day.

With the price fixed the farmers are assured of a safe figure for their grain, and wild-cattling to catch high markets or holding off for better quotations will avail them nothing this year.

It is estimated that a freight car will contain 1,350 bushels and figuring on an average of 350 cars a day, which has been the number engaged during a particular week, the removal of grain has been 472,500 bushels each day. Figuring for that week, there have been 3,305,000 bushels shipped east from Alberta.

BANKS LEND AID TO SMALL INVESTORS

Will Advance Money on Pledge of Victory Bonds

By Courier Leased Wire
Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 9.—The chartered banks of Canada have united in a plan to assist small investors in their subscriptions to Canada's victory loan. Action was taken through the Canadian Bankers Association after conference between heads of the various financial institutions. E. L. Pease of Montreal, president of the association, has written to Sir Thomas White, minister of finance, the following letter:

"In order to encourage small investors to participate in Canada's forthcoming victory loan, I am authorized to state that the chartered banks will lend in moderate amounts upon the pledge of the securities themselves to subscribers to the loan who have a reasonable certainty of repaying the advance in one year. The bank's will advance up to 90 per cent. of the amount subscribed and the rate of interest will be 5 1/2 per cent per annum with monthly or quarterly reduction payments as may be arranged.

"The banks will also accept from subscribers for safe keeping, without charge the interim securities and later the bonds themselves to a reasonable amount for the term of one year."

This action on the part of the banks is about the most important that has been taken in connection with the victory loan. Through it tens of thousands of small investors will be able to subscribe for the bonds or to increase the subscriptions they already had in mind. Habits of thrift and of saving will be promoted throughout the entire Dominion and the success of the loan even more fully assured. The action of the banks in handling advances at the same rate as is being paid on the loan will be especially commended.

Under-drainage

(Experimental Farms Note.)

While the Central Experimental Farm was yet in its infancy the necessity for installing a system of under drainage was realized. From year to year the system has been improved and extended until at the present time a very complete drainage scheme is in operation. Soil conditions vary greatly. The surface soil ranges from sand to clay with all intervening types. Besides there are considerable areas of muck. The subsoil is of the same variable character and in many places the problem of combating quick or running sand is encountered. The contour of the land may be termed gently to abruptly rolling, inclined to form pockets or basins, and on the whole having little natural outlet. Under these conditions, the problem of drainage was rather a difficult one entailing considerable thought and accurate work. Three main outlets are used, two located at the western and one at the eastern boundary. In explanation of the system it may be defined as a combination or modification of the herring-bone gridiron and across-the-slope systems of drainage. The first described system is well suited to drain ponds or basins; the second or gridiron system is adapted to level land where the drainage required is fairly uniform; the across-the-slope system is used on side hills and slopes. Clay tile were used throughout, varying in size from 3 to 10 inches. The smaller than three inches were considered too small in this instance and are not recommended for ordinary conditions. Sand traps or silt basins are indispensable, furnishing clearance for the fine sand that enters the tile and which, if not provided for, would lodge in and clog such tile as are laid on somewhat less than a two inch grade. These sand-traps are of different sizes according to requirements. Some are six feet square while the majority are approximately four feet square, extending into the ground about two feet below the outlet tile, thus providing ample space for considerable deposits of sand and silt. The traps are enclosed by concrete walls six inches thick, flush with the surface of the ground and covered by concrete tops provided with manholes protected by gratings. They are located, as far as practicable, adjacent to roadways, fences or other suitable places to ensure the least possible obstruction in cultivated fields. The depth and distance apart of

DANDRUFF GOES! HAIR GETS THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Save Your Hair! Double its Beauty in a Few Moments—Try This!

Hair Stops Coming out and Every Particle of Dandruff Disappears

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance, an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

The drains vary with soil conditions. In clay subsoil, the laterals are as close as forty feet at a depth of approximately three feet. In lighter soils, the laterals are farther apart and often deeper in the ground, especially towards the outlets.

With regard to the maintenance of a drainage system the most important factor to observe is to practice and prompt repair of part or parts that require attention. This is essential for a low cost of maintenance and for an efficient system.

From the earliest time in the history of the Farm the staple field crops grown have included ensilage corn, alfalfa, red clover, roots and cereals which require thoroughly drained soils for best results. During this period the records show that corn has never been a failure while alfalfa, red clover and cereals have rarely suffered.

In recent years especially in the season of 1916 the benefits of and necessity for under drainage were very pronounced. In that memorable season 11.15 inches of rainfall were recorded at the Central Farm for the months of May and June, but, even under these adverse conditions the following creditable yields of crops per acre were recorded: Ensilage corn 12.4 tons, Oats 44.4 bushels, Roots 10.4 tons and Hay 4.6 tons. Throughout the district, however, no such yields were obtained and with the exception of hay, farm crops were practically a failure.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP TO HALT AUSTRIANS

Retiring Italian Army is Now Capable of Greater Resistance

By Courier Leased Wire
Italian army headquarters, Wednesday, Nov. 7.—A dozen bridges have been blown up on the Livenza River to arrest and delay as much as possible the advance of the Austro-Germans toward the Niave River. The Nivenza is a smaller river than the Tagliamento and offers fewer difficulties to the invading army to cross it, but the retiring Italian army is now better organized than it was on the banks of the Tagliamento and is capable of greater resistance.

In view of the Italian commitments are agitated by such ardor to fight the enemy that they lose contact with the main body and risk being surrounded by the Austro-Germans, who have advanced either higher or lower on the river than the position occupied by the Italians. Meanwhile the Italian retreat has greatly shortened the fighting line, reducing it to scarcely thirty miles in length. This favors the concentration of Italian forces for defense.

WHERE PRETTY SYRIAN GIRLS WED IRISHMEN

Washington Street, New York, Most Cosmopolitan Thoroughfare in World

The New York Sun says: Some call it the most cosmopolitan city in the world, others call it the Gateway of the United States. On the map of New York it is merely as Washington street.

On a fine afternoon, when you want to take a little trip abroad, return home in time for dinner, start at Washington Market and ramble down Washington street to the Battery. You will catch intimate glimpses of Syria, Turkey, Armenia, Roumanian Greece, Italy, Austria-Hungary and Ireland fresh from the Old and some twenty other countries. You will hear a babel of tongues. To feel at home in the street, one must speak Greek, Turkish, Polish, Slavok, Magyar, Yiddish, Latin, French and mixed German.

Here is the haunt of the persistent person who comes with an old fashioned telescope bag and introduces the housewife to the handiwork of Armenia. Here are the wholesale rooms where he buys his stock of laces and embroidery. At night the stock of the wholesale houses is locked in huge safes. It is not unusual for one of these safes to contain $1,000 worth of hand-made lace.

Here also is the home of the pushcart pedlar. When he goes forth in the morning the entire family gather around to admire his rolling stock. They take as much pride in the rows of crimson checked pears, the mounds of wine colored grapes, the apples polished to a shining brightness, as any Fifth Avenue merchant feels in his smart wares.

When he returns at night an empty cart calls for sympathy. The light from his family and congratulatory remarks from his neighbors. An empty cart means a good day, and a good day means plenty of baby eggplants with their chopped meat, a plentiful lamb stew with okra, "Lamb is about the only meat we sell down here," explained a brown skinned butcher of Slavonic extraction whose name can be guessed, but not pronounced. "Where our people come from it is the same, all very lamb. We don't like so much the other meats, isn't it?"

The women of Washington street are not social in their way of work. On the other side it was in the fields. Here it is in the office building that tower above them higher than their native mountains. Once there is a social gathering, they work. Now it is the mop, the broom, the vacuum cleaner, the dust cloth.

In the evenings when the lights are lit the passerby is treated to the sight of swartly colored men with fierce black moustaches sitting in the tiny cafes sipping Turkish coffee, smoking Turkish pipes and ogling.

"A very unusual event in our life down here is a 'wedding' and Syrian wedding," said K. D. Widdomer, the father confessor, big brother and general guardian of a "neighborhood." The Syrians are a remarkable people. They are clean and neat. They rarely stop here long. A year or so and then they move on to better surroundings.

Irish and Syrian girls are as a rule pretty. It is an excellent combination. The two peoples seem to amalgamate well. Some of the prettiest and healthiest looking women in the district are children of Syrian mothers and Irish fathers."

For quaint child faces no block in New York is as prolific as the one on the Bowling Green Association has converted into a playground. Every type is there, from the burnished, black eyes, blue black hair, sun baked skin of the Orient to the azure, flax, milk and snow combination of Norway and Sweden.

RUNS AT LAURIER'S WISH.
Montreal, Nov. 9.—Ex-Aid. L. A. Lapointe, M.P., announced to the Letellier Club here last night that he had decided to accept the Liberal nomination in St. James division again at Sir Wilfrid Laurier's wish. He advised all the young men to register so that they could vote as the Government would not try to enforce conscription during the general elections. If the government were sustained at the polls constables and officers might be expected at their doors, he said.

CALL CONVENTION.
By Courier Leased Wire
St. Stephen, N.B., Nov. 9.—Liberal and Conservative executives have agreed on George M. Byron as the Unionist candidate for Charlotte county. A wing of the Conservative party is not satisfied with the choice and a convention will be held.

TWO UNIONISTS.
By Courier Leased Wire
Vancouver, Nov. 9.—H. H. Stevens received the nomination last night at the Conservative-Unionist convention of Vancouver Centre for the Federal House and J. S. Crowe, former city alderman, was the choice of Liberal Unionists of Burrard Centre.

GOVERNMENT CANDIDATE.
By Courier Leased Wire
Camrose, Alta., Nov. 9.—James B. Holden was nominated as Government candidate in the Victoria Federal constituency at the Unionist convention held here last night.

"WARFORBIG MEN" SOCIALISTS SAY

Germany Views With Alarm Discontented Spirit Which is Spreading

(Associated Press.)
Berne, Nov. 10.—Significant as to the spirit that prevails in some circles in Germany is the latest issue of the Koelnische Volkszeitung, always a supporter of the claim that the German people are behind the annexationists and want no peace but one bought with the sword. It says: "If one rides on German railroads, if one goes to the cafes and public places of the big cities where one meets our soldiers coming from the front, one can hear again and again words and sentences from the socialist press that are actually a great danger to the determination to hold out, for the unity and unanimity in the army and behind the front, for the desire to be victorious and to see it through."
"In all these phrases of the social democratic press there recurs over and over again the one that the war is being conducted 'only for the big fellows,' that those who wish for our fatherland an honorable peace that shall assure future development are 'paid by the big industrialists' or 'are serving capitalist interests' that the 'annexationists alone are responsible for the third year of war and possibly the coming war winter. All the slanders circulated to superfluous about 'war markeds' and 'annexationists' are bobbing up again."

COAL GAS USED.
(Associated Press)
London, Nov. 10.—As the Ministry of Munitions does not classify coal gas as a "petrol substitute," there is an increased demand for it for driving automobiles. A few motor vans were running some time ago in the provinces with a huge gas bag on top from which the motive power was drawn but now it is in request for taxi-cabs, delivery carts and private motors.

ACQUAIORE FOR LATTA.
By Courier Leased Wire
Regina, Nov. 9.—Hon. S. J. Latta, Minister of Highways in the Martin Government, was elected by acclamation yesterday at Last Mountain.

RHEUMATISM GOES IF HOOD'S IS USED

The genuine old reliable Hood's Sarsaparilla corrects the acid condition of the blood and builds up the whole system. It drives out rheumatism because it cleanses the blood. It has been successfully used for forty years in many thousands of cases the world over.
There is no better remedy for skin eruptions, itchy eruptions, psoriasis and blood diseases, for loss of appetite, rheumatism, stomach and kidney troubles, general debility and all ills arising from impure, impoverished, devalitized blood.
It is unnecessary to suffer. Start treatment at once. Get a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla from your nearest druggist. You will be pleased with the results.

POLISH COLORS ARE CONSECRATED
Father Celechowski and Chaplain Jawowski blessed the Polish colors Saturday at the Polish concentration camp at Niagara on the lake. At present there are 3,000 Poles there under command of Lt.-Col. A. D. Le Pan and 10,000 are expected. Others who took part in the ceremony were Prince (Lt.) S. Ponomatowski, Dr. T. A. Starzynski, Col. J. Martin, French Army Veteran T. M. Helinski, Alex Znamieski and Major C. K. Young.

YOUNG WOMEN MAY AVOID PAIN

Need Only Trust to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, says Mrs. Kurtzweg.

Buffalo, N.Y.—"My daughter, whose picture is herewith, was much troubled with pains in her back and sides every month and they would sometimes be so bad that it would seem like acute inflammation of some organ. She read your advertisement in the newspapers and tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She praiseth it highly as she has been relieved of all these pains by its use. All mothers should know of this remedy, and all young girls who suffer should try it."—Mrs. MATHILDA KURTZWEG, 629 High St., Buffalo, N. Y.
Young women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by this root and herb remedy.
If you know of any young woman who is sick and needs help, write her to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Only women will receive her letter, and it will be held in strictest confidence.
