don't wish to be interviewed. I have nothing to say." It is understood, however, that Mr. Willison sent a letter to President Jaffray tendering his resignation yesterday.

himself out of touch with certain leaders of his party and could without too severe a wrench pass over the line to the Conservative party. Negotiations are said to be on foot to gain control of another paper in Toronto and place Mr. Willison in control.

The World last night was unable to glean all the facts surrounding Mr. Willison's resignation, because of the unwillingness of the parties chiefly interested to talk.

It is stated on authority that cannot be impached that Mr. Willison's resignation has some kind of connection with a new move in newspaperdom in the city of Toronto. Mr. Willison was closely identified with that new movement. This and his resignation are the facts.

Mr. Willison was appointed editor-in-chief of The Globe in July, 1890, but his connection with that journal began several years before that date, in 1883, after an apprenticeship of one year on The London Advertiser.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—Rev. George Brohman, the well-known parish priest at St. Clements, died suddenly in Berlin at 11.30 this forenoon. He came to Berlin on Wednesday noon, intending to remain at St. Mary's parish house until this morning and then proceed to Guelph to attend an annual conference of the clergy of this district. During the afternoon he felt unwell and said he feared a return of a former illness. Dr. Cline was called in and administered medicine that afforded relief for some time. Towards evening the pain became more severe and during the early part of the night Rev. R. Lobmann remained up with him. Rev. W. V. Klopfier relieved Father Brohman this morning. At that time Father Brohman was asleep. He did not waken for some hours and he could not be roused. Rev. W. V. Klopfier administered the last rites of the church. Dr. Cline and Dr. Lachner were hurriedly sent for, but when they arrived they saw it was too late and in a few minutes the vital spark had fled. The funeral takes place on Saturday at St. Clements at 10 a.m.

ASK FOR WEIGHMASTER'S VOUCHER... No Standard Number of Bags to the Ton—Weight is Generally All Right. Editor World: I notice that one reason given for the popularity of the municipal fuel yard is that the purchaser is sure of getting full measure.

As a rule the coal that goes to the city scales is within a few pounds either way. There are three city weigh scales. One at St. Lawrence market, one at the foot of Church-street, and one at Cowan-avenue.

As to the number of bags of coal in a ton it is hardly necessary to state that the dealer is not to be trusted. A dealer says that if a city weighmaster receipt is required the customer has to pay for it.

Complaints, however, are few, although many loads of coal are weighed upon the scales of the City Commission officials. A dealer says that if a city weighmaster receipt is required the customer has to pay for it.

THE SON OF THE MANSE. That "preachers' sons are the very worst of boys" is an old saying, but one difficult of proof. The fact seems to be that the average clergyman's son has been much maligned. His proverbially bad reputation has arisen from the fact that the former stands in the fierce light that beats upon the manse. Every little misstep he makes is eagerly seized upon and made much of by the local gossips, and if perchance one minister's son in a thousand goes seriously wrong, the whole thousand are promptly damned. The parson's boy is the victim of the human tendency to generalize; he is condemned because the public is prone to jump to sweeping conclusions on insufficient evidence. The fact of the matter probably is that ministers' families possess at least a high standard of morality as the families of any other class. And it would be strange if this were not so, for the frugality of the living and the religious atmosphere in the ordinary clergyman's house must conduce to the implanting of serious views of life in the minds of the inmates thereof. The parson's boy takes his religion with his porridge and just as regularly, and the he may in his early youth get away a little from its precepts, the truths with which his very system was early impregnated will exert a controlling influence over his whole after career.

And no doubt the sobering and ennobling influences of an upbringing in a clergyman's household are responsible for the remarkable success regained in the world of affairs by many ministers' sons. A canvass of the prominent men of Toronto, for instance, will disclose the fact that the community draw a large number of them from the homes of preachers. From one Toronto rectory came forth a pious capitalist, a high court judge, the foremost criminal lawyer of the land, and one of the most, if not absolutely the most, distinguished medical authorities on the continent; in a Presbyterian manse was borne one of the foremost publishers of Toronto, and of Canada; in a Methodist country parsonage one of our powerful bank presidents first saw the light of day; in another one of our great millionaires began his career, and in still another a leading young advocate spent his early years. Readers will no doubt have followed us in this enumeration, and they can easily add materially to this list of ministers' sons pre-eminently successful among their fellows.

Nor is the ascendancy of the manse confined to Toronto or Canada. Rev. Dr. Chailey of Kansas City has an article in a United States contemporary in which he incidentally maintains that "God has not shown a better place to be born or nurtured than under a manse roof," and he goes on to show what an important part the children of the manse, the parsonage and the rectory have played in the public life of the United States. He alludes to Peter Stuyvesant, ablest of the Dutch governors of New Amsterdam, was a preacher's son; that Adomram Judson, greatest of American missionaries, save William Taylor, was a preacher's son; that Jonathan Edwards was a preacher's son; that Timothy Dwight, who turned American youth away from French atheism, was a descendant of Jonathan Edwards; that the second Timothy Dwight, a renowned college president, was a preacher's son; that Henry Clay, the great compromiser, was the same; that Fitz-Greene Halleck, the poet, was descended from John Elliot, "Apostle to the Indians"; that Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of telegraphy, and in consequence one of the greatest benefactors of the race, was a preacher's son; that Senator Dolliver in the son of a Methodist clergyman. Presidents Arthur and Cleveland were preacher's sons; Elizabeth Stuart Phelps was a preacher's daughter; the Field family, including Henry M. Field, the editor, David Dudley Field, and Stephen J. Field, lawyers, and Cyrus W. Field, of Atlantic Cable fame, were a preacher's sons. So were Holmes and Lowell, poets whose names are perfume sweet. Louis Agassiz was a preacher's son. Harriet Beecher Stowe and Henry Ward Beecher were daughter and son of a preacher household.

And if we cross the water to the Motherland, we find that Lord Nelson, the famous admiral, was a minister's son; that Cecil Rhodes, who thought in continents, was the son of a clergyman; that Rudyard Kipling, the real laureate of the empire, is the grandson of a clergyman; and the honor roll could no doubt be stretched out ad infinitum. The old adage about the worthlessness of ministers' sons has fallen on evil days. DRAFTS IN STREET CARS. Controller McMurrich's proposal that the Street Railway Company should be compelled to lock the front doors of their closed cars should meet with general approval. As the alderman points out, the moment one of these front doors is opened, an icy draft sweeps the car from end to end, and it would be strange if, as a result, scores of passengers did not contract severe colds. Many of those citizens who are always on the rush will object to the closing of the doors on the ground that it would involve difficulty and delay in getting on and off cars, and thus render the general service, especially in the busy noon and evening hours, much slower than it is at present. On the other hand, we may point out that at present the ingress and egress of passengers via the front door, and the accompanying crowding of the platform must often be inconvenient to the motorist as to handicap him in the stopping and starting, and in the general control of the car. This interference with the action of the motorist may as seriously delay the progress of the car as would the closing of the front door. And, what is more, this interference might easily lead to, and no doubt has led to, serious street car accidents.

People can better afford to put up with a little delay in getting on and off cars, than they can to risk their health, and even their lives. HALIFAX TO LIVERPOOL. The Maritime Board of Trade is doing good work in devoting its energies to the elucidation of the fast Atlantic transportation question. This is a problem of such vital importance to Canada that it should be dealt with by all concerned from an entirely unprejudiced standpoint. Sectional prejudices should be thrown to one side, and no prospective Canadian terminal point should thru a narrow view of its own interests stand in the way of the port which offers the best natural advantages. For this reason Quebec, Montreal and Sydney should receive with interest any new information on the subject, even if such information should seem to favor Halifax as against them.

At any rate Torontonians will be interested in a chart prepared by Capt. C. O. Allen, and sent us by the Maritime Board of Trade, which indicates how the proposed Canadian fast line may follow short routes between Canada and the Old Country, and at the same time be free from the dangers of fog and ice. Halifax in Nova Scotia and Funstret in the south of Ireland are taken as the last ports of call on either side, and the chart shows two routes—one to be followed in "winter" (from Aug. 24 to Jan. 15), and the other in "summer" (from Jan. 15 to Aug. 23). The "winter" route, which is the more northerly, and therefore the shorter, shows a distance of 2222 miles from Halifax to Funstret, or 2519 to Liverpool. From the middle of January till the latter part of August a more southerly and slightly less direct route is recommended. To avoid the icebergs brought down by the Arctic current, and the accompanying delay to a course keeping considerably to the south of Newfoundland is laid out, but even by this route it is only 2482 miles from Halifax to Funstret, and 2727 miles to Liverpool.

The letter from the secretary of the board, which accompanies the "map," states that "the routes indicated are those followed by the New York lines, and have the advantage of being much shorter." The distance from New York to Liverpool is 3079 miles, so that the Halifax winter route has an advantage of 591 miles, or a full 24 or 30 hours more for a fast line.

THE IRISH OPPORTUNITY. Sir,—By your valuable despatches from abroad I notice a more conciliatory spirit in the treatment of the Irish question in Great Britain, which is undoubtedly due to the fact that the latter world's opportunities while they utter impossibility of competing for themselves as their leaders the actors whose boast it is that they will block all legislation at Westminster. Since those of the leaders who are banded together have retired from parliament.

INTERESTING FACTS For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child. A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts that people who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and finally induced to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In cases of a single stomachic costiveness 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were received. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine unselected testimonials and never publish the same one twice. From James Yemmelser, LaCrosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried, and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends, who have also had the same benefits. From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had dyspepsia for six years and had taken the greatest variety of medicine, but the tablets seem to take right hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner, and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these tablets.

THE TRUTH POPPED OUT. Spokesman Review: Something approaching the truth seems to have been drawn from J. S. Kennedy, a director of the Northern Securities Company, who testified on Thursday at the hearing of the case of Minnesota against the company. Mr. Kennedy said that he understood that the purpose of the holding company was to get enough stock in each railway concern to make sure that there would never be any combination against the Great Northern; that Northern Security stockholders would hold enough stock in each of the railway companies to elect the officers and directors of both roads. This is what has been apparent all along, despite the efforts of the merger people to convey the impression that the road was to be run independently. The purpose of the merger was unquestionably to bring the two roads under one control, thus doing away with competition and practically creating a railway monopoly in the northern transcontinental and local business. All this, in face of the fact that such a monopoly is specifically prohibited by the statutes of Minnesota.

FAVORS TEMPERANCE. Editor World: You will please pardon me for asking you a question in your columns, but knowing what a popular paper The Toronto World is, particularly among the young men, I would like to give this short epistle an insertion. "We all want temperance, but it is a question whether we all want prohibition. Sectional prejudices, all things is good, whether it is drinking, eating or smoking. The way to live long and enjoy the good things that God has given us is by being temperate. It seems very hard on the working men the best of us are, but three per cent. of the population go to the dogs thru the abuse of liquor, and the other 97 per cent. should be obliged to go thru it. The liquor in their homes. Everything must have a beginning, and the drunkard's life thru had company with the system of treating. The bar or saloon cannot be blamed for this. I think the ministers of the present churches are much more to blame. I am sure if they organized anti-treatment societies in their churches, the men, young and old, would gladly join. This would be the means of saving many a young man from going to the Devil, without forcing any blue laws on the people of Ontario will never carry. The inhabitants of this Canada of ours are not to be divided into British to allow any party or parties to saddle them with such a yoke and make the country a laughing stock of the world at large. To-Day it's Canadian. Just as this Scotch game is now a Canadian national pastime, —so Scotland's national porridge (as made by Tillsons in Canada for half a century) is now the Canadian national breakfast. Just as the slogan "Sooperup" resounds upon the keen Canadian winter air, So is heard throughout the land the demand for "A Canadian breakfast for Canadians, food and not fads, served hot, not cold," —by Canadians who believe in a Canadian breakfast of Canadian cereals, made by Canadians with Canadian capital. Canadian common sense demands a hot Canadian breakfast, not Yankee cold fads for this bracing Canadian climate. And Tillson's Oats, Pan-dried, are Canadian and have been so for 50 years. CITY GETTING A GOOD PRICE

How Valuation of the Land Wanted by Kemp Manufacturing Co. Was Reached.

PUTTING CURB ON CONTRACTORS

More Squabbling Over Asphalt Pavements—Morgue Property Lease—Matters at the City Hall.

The controllers were industrious yesterday and held a couple of lengthy sessions, but nevertheless were unable to get thru the long bill of fare, and will resume their labors at 11:30 to-day. The question of selling some city property at the end of Bell-street to the Kemp Manufacturing Company, who wish to extend their works, took up a lot of the board's time in the afternoon.

His Worship the Mayor could not understand how it was that the Assessment Commissioner put a value of $5000 on the land, while the Works Committee recommended that only $2000 be asked for it.

"Don't you think this property is worth $5000?" the Mayor asked Mr. Kemp.

Mr. Kemp: "I don't think it is worth $300 to anyone excepting us. The Assessment Commissioner has done as he always does in trying to get the largest amount possible for the city."

Ald. Lamb pointed out that the Kemp Co. suit against the city was for $20,000, and he had understood from Mr. Fullerton that Mr. Kemp would get an award of from $3000 to $5000. Mr. Kemp agreed to settle this suit in addition to the amount to be paid to the city for the land, and he would also indemnify the city against any other claims in connection with the transfer.

Can't Have Old Morgue Yet.
The proposed sale of the old morgue to J. and J. Taylor caused a lengthy discussion in the Property Committee Thursday afternoon. The cost of the new morgue was the point at issue and whether it should be $9000 or $10,000 was a matter of much discussion. It was decided to recommend that the city grant an immediate lease of the place on which it stands as soon as a new site is found. The Assessment Commissioner will fix the rental. In the meantime City Commissioner Coatsworth will look for a site for a new morgue.

More Room for the Ladies.
The daughters of the Empire, represented by Mrs. Nordheimer and Mrs. A. VanKoughnet, told the committee that the rooms granted to them in the City Hall to hold their exhibition in January and February did not give them space enough. The committee will place their disposal the large unfinished assembly room with the committee room adjoining, in addition to the rooms already set apart.

May Change the System.
City Commissioner Coatsworth has a lot of things to do, and his department is one of the busiest in the big building. Chief Grasset thinks it would be better if the stations were under his control. So does the Mayor, who is chairman of the Police Commissioners, providing that the city could guard against the Police Board demanding anything it wanted. Quite recently an attempt was made to transfer the control of fire halls from the Property Committee, of which the City Commissioner is executive officer to the Fire and Light Committee, but it did not go thru.

Welsh Coal at $5 a Ton.
The Board of Control has decided to sell the Welsh coal at $5 a ton in single ton lots. It cost about $10 a ton to get it here. The barges were unloaded during the day, and the coal will be ready for delivery this morning.

The government has adopted severe measures to suppress the revolt. Many arrests have already been made. Woe Oil and J. D. Fichardo, a former Minister, are prisoners here.

At Malletta, Islands five villages of the natives were shelled to punish the islanders for having killed a Fijian woman because she embraced Christianity. With a view to impressing the natives with the seriousness of the crime committed by them, and of warning them against a recurrence of such acts, the Sparrow visited five places in the Island of Malletta, namely Auki, Sio, Uras, Kivi and Port Diamond and at each place the villages were shelled and partially destroyed.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

Chief of Police Royce Was About to Raid Crap "Joint" When the Shooting Occurred.

HEARD REPORTS ABOUT THE PLACE

But Evidence Was Hard to Get—Believes Town Is as Moral as Any Other of Its Size.

Toronto Junction, Nov. 27.—Chief of Police J. R. Royce wrote a lengthy report upon the alleged gambling house on Keele-street in close proximity to the police station, near which the shooting on Friday night last occurred. He says: "I have known, for some time, that the room over the livery stable on Keele-street has been used as a club room. A year ago I became aware of the fact that some of the respectable young men of the town were using it as such. I was informed by one I could trust that the proceedings at the meetings were quiet and legitimate. In May last I received an anonymous communication. I immediately set to work to watch the place and purposely came down on several evenings and kept watch trying to discover who frequented it. I saw no one who I ascertained that the room was at the time unoccupied. As a precaution I left instructions with the deputy chief to report the matter the next morning. I have never received any report, and believe that nothing was seen or heard to justify making one. I do not entertain the opinion that there was anything wrong, and also I had received no complaint. I had fully resolved to make a thorough investigation, when, in the meantime, this unfortunate shooting occurred. I have since visited the place and found no room with padded walls or windows. It was a small room with an ordinary table in the centre, an old pork table at one end with windows screened with ordinary wrapping paper. The report further states that entrance to the room could only be made through the back door, which was a narrow passage between the livery stable and the main building. The chief concludes by referring to the peculiar position of Toronto Junction and all suburbs of Toronto as being particularly the resorts of the undesirable population of Toronto, and concludes by saying: "I firmly believe that this town, so far as its morals are concerned, is as good as any town of the same size on the continent. There is no one resort more than I do that this shooting affair occurred, and I only hope that the reports it has given rise to are not well founded." The report will be dealt with by the Council on Monday.

COLOR OR RACE NO BAR

President Roosevelt Enlarges on Doctrine That All Men Are Free and Equal.

APPOINTS NO UNFIT MAN TO OFFICE

Door of Hope and of Opportunity Not to Be Shut on Any Man.

Washington, Nov. 27.—A letter written by the President to a prominent citizen of Charleston, S.C., relative to the appointment of Dr. Crum, a negro, as collector of the port of Charleston, has been made public. Mr. Roosevelt makes it plain that color or race does not enter into consideration with him in the making of appointments. To substantiate this he refers to two appointments made by him while Governor of New York, when he gave two colored men excellent positions, one of them being a directorship of the Buffalo Exposition.

He says: "North and South alike, it has been my sedulous endeavor to appoint only men of high character and good capacity, whether white or black. But it has been my consistent policy in every state where good numbers were wanted to recruit colored men of good repute and standing in making appointments of office. I do not intend to appoint any unfit man to office. So far as I legitimately can, I shall always endeavor to pay regard to the wishes and feelings of the people of each locality, but I cannot be taken to the position that the door of hope—the door of opportunity—is to be shut upon any man, whether he be white or black. Such an attitude would be a fundamental error, and I do not intend to let a colored man know that if he shows in marked degree the qualities of good citizenship—the qualities which in a white man we feel are entitled to reward—then he will not be cut off from all hope of similar reward."

Mr. Hamilton Talks.

H. C. Hamilton, solicitor for the Clergue companies, who is at present in the city, states that he does not think any negotiations are going on between Mr. Clergue and the Grand Trunk Railway Company for the leasing to the latter of the Mantoulin and North Shore and the Algoma Central Railways as a part of their proposed transcontinental line. He did not see why the Grand Trunk would want to go so far north when the crying need was for railway accommodation from the grain highway direct to the west. The northern route through Ontario would mean several more non-dividend years for the road, while by the Grand Trunk route they have a big business right from the start.

Mr. Crawford's Opinion.

Thomas Crawford, M.L.A., states that as a cattle man he thinks another transcontinental line in Canada, or two of them, will be a grand thing for the country. He says it is just what we want in Canada to secure the rapid and successful development of the country's resources. To-day there was such a traffic in our trade in Northwest cattle that large consignments had to be shipped into Ontario via Chicago.
