Escape The Toils

Russians Out of Trouble In The Vilna Section

German Designs On Riga Are Nullified

London, Sept. 22.—The Russians have escaped the toils of the Vilna salient and retired in good order, destroying all military works and a considerable portion of the railway, according to the Petrograd correspondent of the Post. He says: "The strategic value of the Vilna salient has been enormous. It was held by some of Russia's best troops, and therefore risks were taken profitably which might have been fatal under other circumstances. The stubborn holding of this salient nullified German designs upon Riga, and the German left flank is still up in the air."

Medals for Wounded

Paris, Sept. 22.—Minister of War Millerand has announced that he will introduce in the chamber of deputies a bill to establish a medal commemorating the war. So soon as the law is enacted, medals with special clasps will be issued to all men mustered out of the service for wounds.

Message From The Sky

Milan, via Paris, Sept. 22.—A Vienna despatch to the Corriere della Sera says: "On the national fête day (the anniversary of the occupation of Rome by Italian troops), Gabriele D'Annunzio threw overboard a message written by the post, containing the truth about military operations and exhorting the people of the city to await the arrival of the army of freedom. The message was dated from the sky of the Fatherland, Sept. 20."

"IDIOTIC YANKEES"

German Intrigue Disclosed in the Archibald Correspondence

London, Sept. 22.—A place of prominence is given by the morning papers to the Archibald correspondence, and most of them comment upon it editorially. "Nothing," says the Chronicle, "can wipe out the stain or explain away the insults to the American people—those idiotic Yankees—as Captain Von Papen describes them."

Document No. 11 in the Archibald Correspondence is a letter from Captain Von Papen to his wife, dated New York, August 30, in which the German military attaché says:

"We are in great need of being 'bucked up,' as they say here. Since Sunday a new storm has been raging against us. Because of what I'm sending you five cuttings from newspapers that will amuse you. Unfortunately they stole a fat portfolio from our good Albert in the elevated—the English secret service, of course."

"Unfortunately there were some very important things from my report, among them such as buying up liquid chlorine and about the Bridgport Projectile Company, as well as documents regarding the buying of phenol and the acquisition of Wright aeroplane patents. But things like that must occur. I sent you Albert's reply for you to see how we protect ourselves. It seems quite likely that we shall meet again soon. The sinking of the Arabic may well be the last straw. Hope in our interest that the danger will blow over."

"How splendid on the eastern front—I always say to these idiotic Yankees they better hold their tongues. It's better to look at all this heroism full of admiration. My friends in the army are quite different—this way."

Two Hundred Plunge Into Yawning Gap In Seventh Avenue, New York

Two Known To Be Dead and List May Grow To Twenty—Three Street Cars Fall Into Hole Made By Subway Explosion

New York, Sept. 22.—Several persons were injured this morning in an explosion of a dynamite blast in the subway under construction in 7th Avenue between 24th and 26th streets. Eleven ambulances were sent to the scene. The street caved in, and 200 persons were thrown into the excavation. Three surface cars fell about fifteen feet into a hole and a score or more of passengers are still pinned under the wreckage. The wounded were removed to nearby stores where they were treated by ambulance surgeons who had much difficulty in reaching them because parts of the pavement had also caved in.

The police were unable to say whether there had been any loss of life. Later it was reported that a large water main had broken, and that the excavation was being flooded.

LATER.—New York, Sept. 22.—Two persons, a man and a woman, are known to be dead as a result of injuries received in the cave-in. They died after being removed from one of the street cars which fell into the excavation. The police say that another death in the cave-in. Chief Keenan said there might be twenty or more dead.

Almost Unceasing Use Of Artillery on Vast Scale By The Allies

Paris, Sept. 22.—General Joffre, and Field Marshal Sir John French and King Albert of Belgium—are developing a new plan of campaign that involves the almost continuous use of artillery on a vast scale along the whole line.

Masses of artillery have been employed by both sides since the beginning of the operations, in preparing for infantry attacks, pounding their adversaries works for an hour or two then suddenly suspending fire and assaulting with infantry. The allies are now methodically maintaining their shell fire for days at a time without infantry attacks, dropping projectiles upon the cherted front into every fifty yard square and repeating the process—a deadly, automatic, unceasing pounding. The heavy calibre guns send their storms of shells upon concentrations of first reserves behind the lines, and bridges and positions.

Official reports obtained by the French army officers from their own prisoners and from photographs made by aviators show that parts of the opposing lines which have been subjected to this unceasing bombardment have been utterly smashed and untenable, and that the best German can do is to occupy their abandoned works after the bombardments have let up, and then leave quickly when the showers of projectiles begin to fall again.

His brother, Major J. C. Merseraus, who is now in excellent physical health, but his memory is still affected by the severe wound in his head. He is making good progress, however, and will report in London in January also, when the medical board will pass on his fitness for French service. There are four other members of the family at the front.

ARMENIANS, HARD PRESSED, ARE RESCUED BY FRENCH CRUISERS

Paris, Sept. 22.—Rescue of a large band of Armenians from pursuing Turks is recounted in a statement issued last night by the ministry of marine.

"Pursued by Turks," says the statement, "5000 Armenians, 8000 of whom were women, children and old men, took refuge in the Djebel Moussa mountains at the end of July and succeeded in keeping their assailants at bay, until the beginning of September."

"Ammunition and provisions then gave out and they would inevitably have succumbed had they not succeeded in getting word of their grave situation to a French cruiser. Immediately cruisers of the French blockade squadron off the Syrian coast went to their help and they were installed in a provisional camp."

The Oddfellows.—San Francisco, Sept. 22.—At today's session of the Lodge No. 100 of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, it was announced that Chattanooga, Tenn., had been chosen as the place of the grand lodge session in 1916.

Submarines to Take No More Risks With Liners Is Just On Brink

In Case of Doubt, Berlin Instructs Commanders to Let Vessels Escape—Settlement of Arabic Matter Hinted At

Berlin, Sept. 22.—Commanders of German submarines have been given strict orders that in case of doubt as to the intention of liners, they are to take the safe course and permit the ship to escape rather than run the slightest risk of error.

This order supplements instructions communicated to the Washington government by Ambassador Von Bernstorff on September 1. There is reason to believe that the new regulation already is known to Washington, as it probably has been embodied in the message of instructions sent to the German ambassador a few days ago.

THE ARABIC

It is understood here that the United States already has been informed that various officers of the submarine which sank the Arabic agreed from observations taken while the submarine was on the surface, and through the perceptive of the Arabic, narrowly escaped drowning yesterday while descending in a parachute after a balloon ascension at the exhibition. He sighted with his parachute in the river opposite Old Government House and sank almost immediately. George Davis, named Bert Atherton, stationed in a motor boat to watch for an emergency found Wolgast lying on the bottom in fourteen feet of water. When they brought him to the surface by means of a boat hook he was unconscious, but soon revived. Joseph A. Bala, who made the descent with Wolgast, was safely near the Nashua wharf stream.

A heavy rain and wind storm raged here during the greater part of the night, but today, the weather is fine. Special trains on these railway lines brought many spectators to the city for the exhibition.

Wolgast, who says he is a brother of Ad Wolgast, prize fighter, narrowly escaped drowning yesterday while descending in a parachute after a balloon ascension at the exhibition. He sighted with his parachute in the river opposite Old Government House and sank almost immediately. George Davis, named Bert Atherton, stationed in a motor boat to watch for an emergency found Wolgast lying on the bottom in fourteen feet of water. When they brought him to the surface by means of a boat hook he was unconscious, but soon revived. Joseph A. Bala, who made the descent with Wolgast, was safely near the Nashua wharf stream.

ANTHONY COMSTOCK DEAD

Noted New Yorker, Leader of Crusade Against Vice

LEAVES WALL STREET FOR DIPLOMACY AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

New York, Sept. 22.—Willard D. Straight, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., has announced his retirement from the financial world within the next few days, and his determination to become a student in international law at Columbia Law School.

"I want to again re-enter the career upon which I started out in life," Mr. Straight said. "I just tumbled into Wall Street, you know. I had always been an attaché of the state department, and I want to go back into diplomacy and international affairs."

While secretary to the U. S. minister to China, American bankers engaged him to act as their agent. He gave up the consulship and became the eastern representative of the National City Bank, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and J. P. Morgan & Co., with signal success. Though not yet thirty, he received a salary of $50,000 a year. He is now thirty-five.

In 1911 Mr. Straight married Miss Dorothy Payne Whitney, daughter of the late William C. Whitney.

FIGHT FOR MILLIONS

Houston, Tex., Sept. 22.—How to dispose of the $12,000,000 estate of Francis A. Ogden, who died in Houston on June 6, 1914, is the question confronting the Probate Court here.

With one purported will already held invalid and its holder, Thomas H. Earl, a suicide, and with two others presented for probate, both contested by Ogden's relatives, an extended fight seems to be in prospect. The two wills presented for probate are held by Miss Maud Holt of Mebane, N. C., and Mrs. M. L. Sellers of Cairo, Ga.

Relatives of Ogden, some thirty in number, say that neither will is genuine and that Ogden died intestate. Among them are a sister, Mrs. Flora H. Welch, aged ninety-three, of Madison, Wis., and two nieces, Mrs. Mary Monieth of Madison and Mrs. Estella Gonzales of Milwaukee.

Ogden is said to have been a nephew of William E. Ogden, first mayor of Chicago. The estate consists chiefly of land in a dozen states.

MRS. SARAH C. COX DIES IN MALDEN, AGED 104

Malden, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Sarah C. Cox died yesterday at the age of 104. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Haven of Boston, where she was born on June 11, 1812. There were ten children in the family and she was a sister of the late Bishop Gilbert Haven of the Methodist Church. Her parents came to Malden when she was a year old.

At the age of twenty-two she was married to Lemuel Cox, and they had six children, all of whom died many years ago. Her husband, who was one of the most prominent men in Malden, died thirty years ago.

MARITIME PROVINCE NOTES OF THE WAR

Lieutenant William D. Atkinson, of the 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles, arrived in Moncton yesterday on the Maritime Express from Quebec, where he landed with a detachment of men and discharged men from the S. S. "Corcoran."

Lieut. Atkinson was sent over in charge of the draft, and has orders to report again for duty in England on October 10. He is looking in splendid condition, and says he enjoys military life very much. He will have to leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Atkinson, of Moncton.

He was surprised to find himself selected for the duty of conveying the draft of wounded to the hospital, so that he had but two hours in which to get ready to catch the boat train. He was naturally delighted to get a chance to visit home for a few days before going to the front.

Mr. Atkinson said that he has witnessed or heard several air raids, and has seen hundreds of aircraft flying about the camp. He asked about the state of recruiting in Moncton, and was told that since Nova Scotia recruited a whole battalion, while New Brunswick is filling 500 men to fill the gap in the 10th, 100 men were recruiting again.

"I should think they would," remarked Lieut. Atkinson, "if they have any slight man can have the face to say 'home at a time like this.'"

Lieut. Atkinson is being warmly greeted by many old friends in Moncton and vicinity.

Back to Front.—Private Leonard Craig of Frenchie, who was wounded in action with the Princess Patricia's, has returned to the front.

Among the recruits who have enlisted for the 6th battalion, mobilized at Calgary, is Grant Saunders, son of W. S. Saunders, formerly of Fredericton.

Lieut. Theodore Goodridge Roberts, assistant eye-witness with Sir Max Aitken, with the Canadian Expeditionary Force, to general headquarters of the British Expeditionary Force in France. He will have the rank of captain.

Lieut. W. P. Mackay, M.D., who has been on a furlough to London, has left on his return to the Dardanelles, according to a cable received by his mother, Frank Mackay of Moncton. Lieut. Mackay has been promoted to chief surgeon.

Private Chambers of Truro, who lost his right leg during the fighting in Flanders, and had restored by shock when the "Hesperian" was torpedoed, was a passenger through Moncton yesterday.

Five young men have been enrolled in Fredericton: John H. Parsons, 21, Fredericton; Wm. E. Parsons, 21, Fredericton; Percy Grant, 19, Fredericton; John A. Beattie, 44 St. Mary's; Wm. Dr. Ross Miller is now attached to the Royal Army Medical Corps and was at Eastbourne, England, when he wrote a letter which came to one of his Ancestry friends a few days ago. At Eastbourne he has been with English soldiers—a part of Kitchener's army—and not with the Canadian forces.

Rogers, who went to the front with the first contingent, will probably be invalided home to Canada. He was one of the Canadian boys who went through the heavy fighting near Ypres in May. He received a wound from a shrapnel shell in one of his arms. Blood poisoning set in, and it will probably be some months before he will have a complete recovery.

A SOLDIER'S SON.—The death of George Francis, aged two years, son of Private Francis of the 89th Battalion, now in Valcartier, occurred this morning in the General Public Hospital. The funeral will be held at the residence of his grandmother's residence, in the Brussels street.

SHOT A DEER.—Frank H. Price returned yesterday after an enjoyable week's hunting trip. He secured a fine deer.

NINE BOYS IN POLICE COURT ON THEFT CHARGES

Police officers' evidence of confession ruled out because of statement he made.

Nine boys and youths, ranging in age from thirteen to eighteen, were before the police magistrate this morning on several robbery charges, including two breaks into Thomas Dean's grocery, corner of Wall street and City road, a break into Lee Song's laundry, next door to the shaft of two bicycles from Emerson & Fisher's.

Five of the boys were charged with breaking into Dean's in the latter part of August and stealing fruit, groceries and tobacco. Detective Thomas Barrow, Police Constable George Briggs and Thomas Dean gave evidence. Briggs was restrained from giving important evidence during the greater part of the night, but today, the weather is fine. Special trains on these railway lines brought many spectators to the city for the exhibition.

NEW PLAN FOR GUIDING TORPEDOES TO THEIR MARK

Washington, Sept. 22.—John Hayes Hammond Jr., inventor of the wireless controlled torpedo, fired from shore, and recommended by army officials for purchase by the government, discussed with Secretary Daniels yesterday a plan for a similar device for torpedoes fired from submarines.

Many torpedoes fired by submarines or destroyers never reach their mark. Hammond told Secretary Daniels he believed he had found a means by which the deadly missiles would be guided to their mark unerringly.

Mr. Hammond expressed enthusiasm for the new advisory council of inventors, he said, is development of gasoline or oil engines for submarines and possibly torpedo use. In his own work, he added, he had found it necessary to go to Italy for suitable engines of that type. Mr. Hammond thought the visit of Henry Ford to Secretary Daniels today might be productive of important results.

IMPERIAL TONIGHT AND THE WEEK END Edward A. Paulson's screening farce comedy, "Niobe" received its premier at the Imperial tonight and tomorrow. In this funny story in which a Grecian statue 8000 years old mysteriously appears in the home of a very much domesticated insurance agent, the humor is of the most sparkling kind and the play "Niobe" has been a great success in all cities for years.

On Friday and Saturday, in addition to "The Broken Circle" chapter, which this week continues the adventures of Kitty in the palace of King Michael, there will be a stirring British feature entitled "Sons of the Sea." It is a real pictorial of the British navy up to date—those leviathans of the deep which are keeping the world intact from German tyranny, and it shows how the British sailors, even the little boys, are trained to defend their country. It is most patriotic picture and will be a valuable acquisition to the week-end programme.

TONIGHT'S MEETING The Carleton Cornet band will furnish music at the great recruiting meeting in King square this evening. This band has volunteered service to go to the front with some battalion, but is still awaiting acceptance of its offer.

The speakers in the evening will be Hon. J. G. Forbes and Corporal Burris, the latter a wounded soldier returned from the front. He has an interesting story to tell. Lt. Col. Sturdee will preside. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock.

Sarsfield Sweeney, brother of the bride, supported the groom. Many people were in the church to witness the event. Mr. and Mrs. McManus left by boat on a honeymoon trip to Boston and New York, and on their return they will reside in Prince William street.

THE ONLY THING I POSSESS THAT IS ALWAYS WORTH A HUNDRED CENTS ON THE DOLLAR--

is my Imperial Life Assurance policy. These are the words of a prominent man of affairs—a man who owns large real estate and stock market investments, besides a substantial interest in a business. Two years ago he was rated at $50,000. If death came to him today the only thing his widow could turn into ready cash is his $15,000 life insurance policy. And the interest on this would not be sufficient to provide anything like the comforts to which his family have been accustomed.

Life insurance is the one safe investment—more desirable in a sense than Government Bonds, because Government Bonds can at times be bought at a discount, but an Imperial Life policy is worth one hundred cents on the dollar at any time. If you haven't as much life insurance as you can afford, take immediate steps to remedy the condition. We can show you how. Write for our booklet "The Creation of an Estate."

FURTHER EVIDENCE OF ASSAULT IN SYNAGOGUE

Samuel Cohen, charged with assaulting A. Poyas in the Hasen street synagogue on last Sunday night, said in the police court this morning that he was anxious to have the whole matter exposed. The magistrate said that it was the first time people of the synagogue had a row before him to be settled, but he refused. Isaac Webber said he attended the meeting and he heard Cohen, who was not a member of the church, interrupt speakers and use uncomplimentary names. Mr. Poyas, who was chairman, said he was a policeman and so he started to arrest Cohen, he broke loose and, rushing to the door, swung on the chairman twice, once on each eye. Witnesses said that the matter of opening a school for Hebrews was being discussed at the time.

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE A 1,000 per cent. Investment For You

That's really a conservative estimate of the benefit you will derive from a pair of properly fitted glasses if you have any defect in vision. Clear sight, secured naturally and without strain, increases your efficiency wonderfully, you work faster and better, and your earning power is increased. You are free from eye-strain, which causes headache, nervousness and a drain on health. Eye defects, if not corrected, grow worse. If neglected they result in permanently poor sight and health. Sharpe's optometrists are thoroughly qualified to test eyes and fit glasses. They take professional and personal interest in each case. And our facilities for grinding lenses and making glasses are unequalled in the Maritime Provinces.

Representatives of the Pathe Motion Picture Co. visited Mayor Prink this morning in City Hall, seeking permission to take motion pictures of the objects of interest about the city. He has recently been in the west and has taken pictures of several Canadian cities, the last being at the Fredericton Exhibition. THE WAR NEWS.

The news that the Russian army which was so hard pressed by the Germans has succeeded in extricating itself will cause a great and general feeling of relief. It had been feared that this army had lingered too long and would be cut off by Von Hindenburg.

Germany appears to have definitely backed down in the matter of submarine attacks upon passenger ships. Today's news indicates that hereafter there will be no repetition of the Arctic affair.

The news from Bulgaria is not so satisfactory. Apparently German influence is paramount there, and the ruling party believes it has more to gain in territorial advantage by joining forces with the German and the Turk.

The greatest war budget in history has been introduced in the British parliament. There is no disposition on the part of government or people to evade any burden that may be necessary to carry the war to a successful issue.

PUBLIC SPIRIT.

A public forum for the discussion of matters pertaining to community welfare, and an organization of the people of a city into neighborhood groups for discussion and an interchange of opinion upon matters affecting the welfare of the community at large, is advocated quite generally in the United States.

The Montreal Financial Times, referring to the big American loan says: "The United States cannot dispose of her products to any advantage at all to any other purchasers than the Allies, for the access to the Central Empires is practically closed and there are no other big importing nations in the market for food-stuffs, cotton and other American products."

Champ Clark once told of a case brought up in Missouri in which one of the lawyers engaged tried to serve his client by throwing suspicion on a certain witness during the course of his cross-examination.

"You admit that you were at the prisoner's home every evening during this period?" "Yes, sir," replied the witness.

"I haven't the least objection in the world," cheerfully answered the obliging witness. "If you want to know—I was courting his daughter."

Made Out of Mirrors - 2,000 Were Constructed on Arrival of Australian Corps at the Dardanelles

Melbourne, Aug. 25—(Correspondence)—Major-General Birdwood, who commands the Australian troops engaged at the Dardanelles has lately written a letter to the governor-general of the Commonwealth. Sir Ronald Munro Ferguson in which he says:

Our complete moral superiority over the Turk is partly due to the clever invention of a man named Beach who produced a periscope rifle. When we got here we denuded the whole of our transports of their looking glasses and made up some 5,000 periscopes on our little beach. This man then made a very simple device. The result is the Turk only sees the muzzle of a rifle coming over the parapet without anything behind it to shoot at and we understand from prisoners that he dislikes this intensely.

In connection with the foregoing the following extract from the army corps orders is cited by the Commonwealth Minister of Defence.

"The army corps commander wishes to record his appreciation of the clever invention of a periscope attachment for the rifle, the work of Lance-Corporal W. C. B. Beach, 2nd Battalion Australian Imperial Force. So far as is known this invention has not been tried in France. The lieutenant-general commanding has forwarded the idea to Lord Kitchener for consideration."

PEACH POETRY

(By Peter McArthur.)

One of the biggest surprises I got in a long time was when I began to search through the poets for appropriate quotations about the peach. For some reason they are practically all absent. Perhaps they thought that this fruit surpasses the possibilities of inspired praise. But it is more likely that they were not sufficiently familiar with it. The peach is a popular fruit in a luxury of comparatively recent date. Only a few generations has it been a commercial fruit and even yet it is a super-luxury at the seat of empire. I remember one time seeing a basket of peaches in a fruiterer's window in London, England, and I decided that the time was ripe for peaches and cream. I asked the price. The fruiterer said "one and sixpence for each peach, but as it was so late here to wait till I got back to Canada for my next dish of peaches and cream. And now when I come to think of it this probably throws some light on the fact that there is so little peach poetry. Our greatest poets are those of England, and as poets are proverbially poor you could not expect them to go into raptures about peaches at that price. Even Tennyson does not include peaches in the Isle of Fruit. Parts of his scribbles would make you think that Masdune had visited Canada. Take this for instance:

"And we came to the Isle of Fruit; all round from the cliffs and we saw Purple or amber, dangled a hundred fathoms of grapes, And the month above like a jewelled throne through the fragrant air, Glowing with all colored plums and with golden masses of peaches ripe for peaches and cream."

I thought he meant per basket, but alas! he meant one shilling and sixpence for each peach, and I was here to wait till I got back to Canada for my next dish of peaches and cream. And now when I come to think of it this probably throws some light on the fact that there is so little peach poetry. Our greatest poets are those of England, and as poets are proverbially poor you could not expect them to go into raptures about peaches at that price. Even Tennyson does not include peaches in the Isle of Fruit. Parts of his scribbles would make you think that Masdune had visited Canada. Take this for instance:

"And we came to the Isle of Fruit; all round from the cliffs and we saw Purple or amber, dangled a hundred fathoms of grapes, And the month above like a jewelled throne through the fragrant air, Glowing with all colored plums and with golden masses of peaches ripe for peaches and cream."

It seems incredible that so great a poet as Tennyson should describe an Isle of Fruit without peaches, but the fact remains that he did.

American poets have done little better. It is quite true that Eugene Field sang the tragedy of "The Little Peach of General Hines," but as it was written before it was ripe, his poem cannot be regarded as a true contribution to the literature of peaches. But here is a newspaper wail that has a touch of the right ecstasy:

"I would devour you with my eyes, Elbert! But eating never satisfies, Elbert! Soon in your flesh so rosy bright I'll set my teeth both sharp and white For when you're peeled you're out of sight! Elbert, you're a peach!"

A BASKET OF PEACHES

When our dealer takes an order for a basket of peaches and delivers them, we take everything for granted. The fruit might be a manufactured product made in the dealers' press, but those peaches are the visible expression of the work of many hands. Before the tree that bore them was planted, the Government of the Dominion and the Province had employed experts to study and experiment, so that the best possible fruit could be produced under the most favorable conditions. They found the best varieties, or produced these if they were not in existence, and determined the proper treatment of the soil. They learned the habits of the enemies of the trees and found means to combat them. The knowledge gained by these investigations was passed on to the growers. In turn, planted, pruned and sprayed the trees, cultivated and fertilized the soil, and perfect the most desirable of results, the perfect peach. That the Government steps in again and protects the consumer from dishonest packing. The basket of peaches, the finished product, represents the working of a complete system, and who can say that it is not worth all the trouble? Display Advertising and Bulletin published throughout the land inform the housewife when to buy in order to obtain the best of each variety.

THE EARL OF PAWTUCKET AT THE PALACE TONIGHT. SCREAM OF THE SEASON

Well, by Jove! Yes, the Universal Film Company has made a delightful presentation of "The Earl of Pawtucket." It's a delectable, clever, pleasurable, with Lawrence D'Ory as the Earl, don't cheer know, it's awfully funny, and I'm sure you're going to say it's the best film you've ever laughed at. You'll snicker, you'll giggle, and you'll scream with laughter. The comedy, that is the D'Ory, is so funny, so ridiculous, so funny in the delectable "The Earl of Pawtucket" was one of the biggest hits of Broadway's four seasons back. In fact, it ran itself out of breath, don't cheer know. The Earl is such a blooming one, yet know, it's so funny, so funny, so funny, and he does them so awfully.

The play was written by Augustus Thomas and he wrote it especially for D'Ory. He laughed himself all through it. It wasn't his comedy, the things he did, or said, but the delectable way in which he said and did them.

The Universal Film Company has to hire a "nut" to put the play in picture form and those who see the remarkable picture will declare a fellow had to be a "nut" to go through with it. However, all the laughs have been preserved, and they are handed out in large quantities in every reel.

It's one of the biggest comedies ever seen on the screen. It's one grand, riotous, rippling funny. D'Ory created the role of the Earl, in the original production and those who have seen him in his screen conception declare that he is just as funny as he was in the initial presentation.

The photograph in this picture is worthy of the spotlights attention and also the wonderful scenes. There is a correct reproduction of the lobby of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in this picture, and it is so perfectly reproduced that even the most acute critic cannot discover the deception. This scene was made at the Coytville studios of the Universal, and the scenery and sets were employed in setting this scene, and they were unfortunately that it had to be used for the destruction of the set, which would have cost the Universal several thousand dollars. However, the scene was so small that it was not noticed. "The Earl of Pawtucket" will see one of the finest sets ever taken for a movie picture.

The management announces three excellent features for each of the two nights in order to enter to the number that will be anxious to see it. The first show will start at 8:45 p. m. Don't try to see it tonight—since tomorrow will be the last chance, and you may regret it. Tomorrow we feel confident in voicing our opinion that no one will speak unpleased of it, and many will openly admit it as the best yet.

Waltham Watch Company

Canada Life Bldg., St. James St., Montreal

This word is both an assurance and a guarantee

The word Waltham on a watch dial promises you that any defect in the watch will be made good. This is the guarantee. But the Waltham assurance is even more valuable and to the point; and it is to the effect that there is an extremely small chance of your ever needing such a guarantee.

What a watch owner wishes is service and reliability. A watch should "make good" instead of being "made good." Waltham watches are made carefully and securely in the first place, and they have to pass our inspection before they are submitted to yours.

THE BAPTIST MINISTERS. (Maritime Baptist)

K. M. Wallis (Lic.) has resigned his charge of the Robbsey field, and plans to spend the winter at the Gordon School, Boston.

Herbert J. Blossie (Lic.) has closed his summer's work at Port Medway, N. S., and will leave at once for Hamilton, N. Y., where he will take a course in the theological department of Colgate University.

Rev. I. Dwight Lytic, who recently retired from the New Ross field, will be at Clementsport, N. S., during the fall and winter months.

Prof. Allen Hoben, Ph. D., of the University of Chicago, with Mrs. Hoben, is expected to spend a few weeks in New Brunswick. He will spend the time with his mother at Grand Bay, at the home of his brother-in-law, Rev. W. R. Robinson.

Rev. F. S. Porter of Germain street church, has completed his fifth year of service. Last Sunday he entered upon his sixth year with encouraging prospects. Special reference was made to the event and a grand rally proposed in connection with the fall campaign.

A welcome visitor at our office was Dr. I. B. Oakes of Wolfville, secretary of the board of governors and former principal of the academy. He was returning after a month's visit in the Canadian west. While there he pleasantly renewed acquaintance with many who formerly belonged to the east. While in Calgary he called upon Rev. J. Austin Hunter, who has just settled as pastor of the First Baptist church of that city.

The Canadian Baptist has this to say of one of our worthy pastors: "Rev. J. M. Smith, whom many in Ontario will remember, is enjoying his work in Yarmouth North, N. S. On November 1 he will enter the seventh year of his pastorate, with all departments well organized and candidates waiting baptism. He is moderator of the ministerial association of that town, and also of the Yarmouth county district meeting."

One From Mother A Chicago matron of great beauty called one day upon a friend, bringing her ten-year-old daughter, who promises to be as handsome as her mother.

The callers were shown into a room where the friend had been receiving a milliner and many hats were scattered about. During the conversation the ten-year-old amused herself by trying these on. She was particularly pleased by the effect of the last one. Turning to the mother, she said:

"Mother, I look just like you now, don't I?" "Oh!" cautioned the mother, with upturned finger. "Don't be vain, dear!"

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

RECENT DEATHS

Beers-Stevens. On Wednesday last, Sept. 15, John E. Beers, of Beersville, Kent county, and Miss Lillian Stevens, of the same place, were in the Presbyterian manse, Harcourt, united in matrimony. Rev. James R. MacKay, pastor of Beersville and Harcourt, tied the nuptial knot. The bride was very becomingly dressed and proved that if her claimant had an eye for the beautiful he secured it. She was attended by her sister, Mabel, while the bridegroom had the support of George Robinson. The happy couple are very popular in Beersville and their many friends wish them a bon voyage.

Mills-Boyd. A large gathering of invited guests met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, Grandville, Kent county, on Sept. 15, to witness the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Robert Mills, of Coal Branch. During the marriage ceremony the participants stood under an artistic arch of yellow asters. The bride was gown in white silk and point, de script and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. Her sister, Ida May, who acted as bridesmaid, wore a dress of net and shadow and a sweet little flower girl was found in the person of Wilhelmina Lockhart. Walter Mills was groomsmen. After the marriage ceremony an excellent tea was served on the front lawn and several case shots were taken of the newly wed and those who shared in the festivities. In the early evening Mr. and Mrs. Mills left for their new home in Coal Branch, where on their arrival their many friends in the neighborhood gave them a warm and hearty reception. There were many handsome presents to the couple. Rev. James R. MacKay, of Harcourt, was the officiating minister.

Frederick Rudick. Frederick Rudick, formerly of St. Martins, died on Monday in Manchester, N. H. For many years he has travelled considerably, spending the summer in the White Mountains and the winters in the southern states. He is a brother-in-law of Dr. Robert C. Rudick, the port physician on Partridge Island who left yesterday to attend to the funeral which will take place in Manchester. Other members of the family surviving are two brothers, George, of 24, Main street, and Lemuel of British Columbia and two sisters, Mrs. George Dorothy of Walling Island and Mrs. James Raymond, Prince Rupert, B. C.

MORNING WAR SUMMARY

Petrograd, Sept. 21.—The withdrawal of the Russians from Vilna eastward instead of southward is authoritatively interpreted here as proof that the German cavalry has been unable seriously to impede the Russian retreat.

Passing Ouhanyu and Soly, the Russians are now battling for crossings over the Wilva river under conditions regarded as favorable. The Germans in their pursuit have occupied territory only as far as the Mereshank river.

The Russians not only have destroyed the bridges and tunnels along the railroad line, but the roadbed itself where it passed through the marshes. It is assumed the Germans are now operating in the three directions, Dvinsk, Lida and Modolochno, aiming at a general junction at Minsk with forces from Slonim.

Believe Danger Point Not Passed. London, Sept. 21, 10 p.m.—The German encircling movement against the Russian army which evacuated Vilna is apparently intensified and tightened and with the retreating forces virtually without rail communication their retreat seems to have reached the most critical juncture.

The latest Berlin official communications shows important advances by Field Marshal von Hindenburg's right wing as well as progress by Prince Leopold of Bavaria on the centre.

The only development, from the point of view of the Allies, as an offset to the continued rush of the Germans in the east, is the news received from Paris that French troops have crossed the Alsace Canal, a date which Berlin concedes. The British front, which has been so quiet for weeks, has been hammered by the German artillery, but according to the British official report, prompt retaliation by the British balanced the score.

FURTHER CHARGE AGAINST ROBLIN

Former Premier and Associates Now Charged With Destroying Public Documents, and Hon. Mr. Howden With Perjury

Winnipeg, Sept. 21.—It is understood today that the crown has notified the defense that new charges are to be laid against Sir Rodmond Roblin, Hon. Dr. Armande D'Amboise, and Hon. Mr. Howden.

When Y. W. Horwood took the stand this morning beginning his fourth day of evidence in the preliminary hearing of the former ministers, E. F. Johnston continued the cross-examination. Mr. Johnston questioned the witness further regarding letters marked "destroyed." He was asked what was in the letters which made it advisable to destroy them, but Horwood declined to express an opinion on letters he had not written.

"Have you any appreciation of the truth left in your body?" exclaimed Mr. Johnston. "Never mind that," commented Magistrate MacDonald. "I hate to tell you because you represent me so much," explained Horwood, when another line of questions was commenced.

"In getting mixed up and so are you," he said a little later, Horwood admitted that some of the letters were of assistance to the accused in the event of trouble. Told Him to Destroy Plans. Horwood said Dr. Montague had told him all the documents were to be destroyed. He thought the minister might have told him the contract could not be justified.

Witness said when the $215,000 contract for the grillage of the south wing came up, Montague told him he did not think he could justify it, so the contract was cancelled to include the steel work of the roof. "After consultation with Kelly," commented the witness. "Why so venomous?" exclaimed the examining counsel. "Montague was protecting the province, was he not?" "I don't think that was his purpose."

"An evil mind again. Go on with your evil thoughts," retorted Johnston. "I think that's too much. I think witness is trying his best to answer your questions," said the magistrate. Horwood was asked about his statement at Minneapolis that Hugh Armstrong, a former minister, told him that he and Montague did not seem to be pulling well together. That he (Armstrong) knew Horwood and Caldwell had something between them and suggesting that Caldwell see Montague, Johnston said Armstrong denied this conversation. Horwood maintained he was telling the truth. During Montague's long illness starting in January, 1914, Horwood said he took some papers to him in his room, and later, he said, Kelly and Sir Rodmond chased Montague up at Hot Springs to sign the documents.

Witness said he had been surprised at Montague's speech on the buildings at the short session of the legislature last fall. Montague, he said, knew he had made a "lot of incorrect statements and asked me to write letters to the house saying I told him to do it. I went to Caldwell and he advised me not to write it." Horwood said he gave the minister no information on this matter. Mr. Johnston asked witness about some previous statements made by him. Horwood said the lawyer was reading from the evidence and Johnston declared he was merely asking a question. "What do you lie for?" demanded Horwood hotly.

"Go on, say something more. One does not like to be accused of an improper act by a man who has admitted half the crimes in the calendar," replied Johnston. The witness apologized to the magistrate for the expression and the incident closed. Horwood said as provincial architect he received $5,000 salary and had been promised $2,000 more. He thought the increase was "rather a reward" for what he was doing, and counsel mentioned his willingness to sell his honor "to put it mildly." Horwood said he carried out his part of the understanding. The court adjourned at 12:40.

At the noon adjournment it was understood Mr. Johnston would conclude this afternoon the cross-examination of Horwood. On resumption, however, the Toronto counsel made a lengthy statement to the effect that he had appeared in the preliminary hearing only in order that he might examine the chief witness, Horwood, because it was possible that the health of the latter

CAUGHT GANG OF COUNTERFEITERS

Italians Were About to Flood New York With Bogus Revenue Stamps—Secret Service Got Them

New York, Sept. 22.—Four weeks of watchful waiting on the part of the secret service agents under Chief William Flynn resulted in the arrest of one Italian, who, he asserted, were about to place in circulation counterfeit $2 revenue stamps. The arrests were made at the moment when the first run of $2,000 stamps was on the way to the alleged distributing depot, a saloon in Bleecher street. The men arrested were Joseph Carli, Alexander Acuti, Francesco Alessandro, Albert Benesi and Dario Malina.

Carli is a counterfeiter, one of the Carli brothers who flooded this country with forged checks twenty years ago. With his brother, Charles, he operated for many months, and the American Bankers' Association employed detectives to hunt them down. Chief Flynn was one of these, and they were arrested on October 8, 1890. Charles was sentenced to three and a half and Joseph to four and a half years in the penitentiary. On their release both brothers dropped from view until Charles was arrested for forgery three years ago in this city and sent to jail for fourteen years.

Flynn had no idea that Joseph Carli was operating in this city until he found the man was living in the East 42d street apartment house. The money, although it was known that he did not work, Secret Service agents went on Carli's trail, and about a month ago it was noticed that he had begun to frequent a printing shop. It was observed also that the other men arrested were his close friends and they spent much time in the shop together.

Chief Flynn said that the case was one of the most important and most satisfactory that ever came to his notice. "Carli is a professional counterfeiter like his brother," he said, "and I am very glad we got him before he was able to place any of the false revenue stamps in circulation. This is an important case in several ways, one being that it is the first attempt to counterfeit the new federal stamps. Carli's plan was to sell the stamps for a dollar and a dollar and a half, and there is no question that he could have done a rushing business. He ought to have cleared up at least $25,000 in the next few months in New York city and its suburbs. The stamps are very good facsimiles, would have fooled the inspectors, and had a wide use all over the country."

The following experience of a Mississippi lawyer was related by himself years ago. He said: "I was defending a prisoner for horse-stealing and seeing no other means of defending him under the circumstances, I set up the plea of insanity. I argued it at length, read many extracts from works of medical jurisprudence and had the patient attention of the court. The prosecuting attorney did not attempt to reply to my argument or controvert my authorities. I seemed to have things my own way and whispered to the prisoner that he needn't be uneasy. Then came the judge's charge in which he reminded the jury that there was no dispute between counsel as to the facts in the case, in that there could not have been several witnesses had sworn positively that they saw my client steal the horse. 'But,' concluded the court, 'the plea of insanity has been set up and I charge you, gentlemen of the jury, that it should receive your very grave and serious deliberation; but I must be allowed to say, gentlemen, that for myself, upon a review of the whole case, I can discover no evidence of insanity on the part of the prisoner, except perhaps in the selection of his counsel.'"

Britain and Her Allies Have to Smash Utterly Three Empires — British Lion Awakened by Fiendish Atrocities Perpetrated by Kaiser's Cohorts

(Robert Blatchford in London Sunday Times)

Let us try to put the full meaning of the German atrocities into a few words. Keeping in mind all the fiendish atrocities committed by the Germans since the initial crime of their making war, we shall see two facts. The first fact is that the whole German race endorses and applauds the dastardly methods of the German army and navy, and stands red-handed in the sight of the world without repentance and without shame.

The second fact is that there can be no safety for other nations and no certainty of peace until that nation of homicidal maniacs is defeated and disarmed. No ordinary defeat and no ordinary treaty of peace will suffice. Germany will have to be crushed before peace is made, and must be held down afterwards. The temperament of the alien will not accomplish these ends. Something very much bigger and more difficult will have to be done.

Britain and her allies have to smash utterly and repress finally the three powerful and unscrupulous empires of Germany, Austria and Turkey. That is a tremendous task. It is a task immeasurably greater than the task we expected to confront us when we elected to stand by Belgium and France in the autumn of last year. When that year we believed that we were confronted by a fierce and formidable but civilized enemy. The soundest of the Huns on sea and land has taught us that we were mistaken. With an honorable and reasonable enemy moderate terms of peace would have been possible. With a race of unrepentable savages there can be no confidence and no compromise. We could not defeat an enemy one thing; to smash him is another and a very much bigger thing.

Germany will have to be defeated, or she will defeat us. Germany cannot be permanently defeated in the field; not until she has been politically and commercially outlawed when she is really beaten and rendered harmless. The following lines, quoted from a leading article in the Morning Post, will help to emphasize this point:

"When a country hates another country as the Germans hate England, there may be a truce of exhaustion, but there can be no permanent peace until one nation or the other goes under. We could not placate the animosity even if we would; magnanimity would be taken for weakness; concessions would be used as weapons for our destruction. There is nothing for it but to fight this fight out to the bitter end."

"That is the ugly truth put plainly. It is as though one said to us: 'This man means to have your life. If you turn your back, or go unarmed, he will kill you.'"

Austria-Turco-Hun Maniacs. The Germans envy us and hate us, and will always envy us and hate us. They will crush us and humiliate us and destroy us if they can. They are, as a race, savage, selfish, treacherous and unscrupulous.

As The Times says: "That war at present be not a part of our lives, Disbionable War."

This is not a boxing match, nor a cricket match, nor any sport. It is a murderous attack by an organized race of savages on a peaceful nation. So far we have fought according to the accepted rules of honorable warfare, and the enemy has broken the rules and defied the morals of the world. He has murdered our prisoners and we have been kind to him. He has sunk merchant ships and drowned passengers and crews. We have saved his sailors from death. He has poisoned wells and dropped bombs on cities and shelled hospitals and the streets of undefended towns, and we have done none of these things. But when it comes to his defeating our soldiers by the use of poisonous gas I think we should be traitors to the brave men who fight for us if we did not retaliate. If we can make gas as deadly, or better still, a gas more lethal and more horrible, I say it is our duty to our soldiers to make as much of it as we can and to use it upon the brutal dastards opposed to us without remorse or pity. The feeling of the army promises to become the feeling of the country. "A deep and bitter loathing of the Germans and of everything German." The other day a wounded Indian soldier at Brighton showed a visitor a silver coin and asked was it a franc or a shilling. When he was told it was a German mark he threw it away and none of his comrades would pick it up. That Indian gave a fine lesson to our commercial and working people. Throw the dirty German away, and throw the dirty Germans after it.

Ex-Mayor of City, Who is Treasurer of the Institution, Held by Police as Suspected Embezzler—Director to the Rescue

Ansonia, Conn., Sept. 21.—There was a free-for-all fight between the entire police department of this city and a crowd of 5,000 persons, following the announcement that State Bank Commissioner Everett J. Sturges had taken charge of the affairs of the Savings Bank of Ansonia.

The treasurer of the institution, former Mayor Franklin Burton, is under arrest, charged with embezzling $36,000.

The crowd, which contained many foreign depositors, threatened to break in the doors of the bank, and there were threats made of lynching Mr. Burton. Mayor Schulmaker pushed his way through the crowd and tried to speak. He said that if the people did not disperse he would sound the riot call. He was jeered and there were cries of "want Burton!"

The police, with drawn revolvers, were unable to cope with the situation, and the mayor caused a general alarm of fire to be sounded. The firemen were ordered to turn the hose on the crowd, but were unable to follow out orders, for hundreds of persons seized the hose and took it away from them.

The police used their clubs freely, and there were many fist-fights. After two hours the police regained control of the situation, and the crowd melted away. The bank building has been roped off and policemen are on duty.

The alleged shortage in Mr. Burton's accounts was discovered by Commissioner Sturges, who says that the treasurer has confessed to abstracting about $86,000 during the last fifteen years. Mr. Sturges said that Burton lost his money in real estate investments. His method was to take the money from loans, Mr. Sturges said, and then write bogus notes, which were charged up as assets.

The bank issued a statement tonight saying that the loss would not exceed $20,000, and this amount was partly covered by the money from loans. The statement said further, "as the bank has a surplus of $65,000, it is believed that the bank is perfectly solid and all depositors will be paid when the commissioners are through."

William A. Nelson, chief of the detectives, issued a statement saying he would by all pastbooks of the depositors to the extent of $100,000.

After a conference between Commissioner Sturges and Attorney-General Hinckley, a warrant was issued for Burton charging him with embezzlement. He was locked up in jail and at a late hour had not obtained bail.

Mr. Burton is about 55 years old, married and has two children. He has twice been mayor of the city and once a state senator. He is prominent in Methodist church affairs.

"Why do you object to my marrying your daughter?" "Because you can't support her in the style she has been accustomed all her life."

"How do you know I can't? I can start her on bread and milk, same as you did!"

"I suppose it is hardly necessary for me to tell you, that I am in love with your daughter?" said the trembling father. "and furthermore, I've seen enough idiotic symptoms in the last month to convince me that your passion is reciprocated."

FRESH AT NIGHT If One Uses the Right Kind of Food. If by proper selection of food one can feel strong and fresh at the end of a day's work, it is worth while to know the kind of food that will produce this result.

A school teacher in the West says in this connection: "At the time I commenced the use of Grape-Nuts my health was so poor that I thought I would have to give up my work altogether, and was just left in a weight, had little appetite, was nervous and sleepless, and experienced, almost constantly, a feeling of exhaustion."

"I tried various remedies without good results, then I determined to give particular attention to my food, and have learned something of the properties of Grape-Nuts for rebuilding body, brain, and nerves."

"Since using Grape-Nuts I have made a constant and rapid improvement in health. In spite of the fact that all this time I have been engaged in strenuous and exacting work, I have gained twelve pounds in weight and have a good appetite, my nerves are steady and I sleep soundly. I have such strength and reserve force that I feel almost as strong and fresh at the close of a day's work as at the beginning."

"Before using Grape-Nuts I was troubled with weak eyes, but as my vitality increased the eyes became stronger. I never heard of another food so nutritious and economical as Grape-Nuts." "There's a Reason."

OFFICIAL BLINDNESS

(Woodstock, Ont., Sentinel-Review) The Post Office Department of Canada, it appears from a statement in a Toronto paper, has undertaken to censor all foreign mail matter directed to Canadian newspaper offices. The ostensible purpose is to bar pro-German literature.

Such an order might be fittingly described as an insulting reflection upon the intelligence and patriotism of the Canadian press, were it not that there is the alternative of regarding it merely as an ordinary act of official stupidity. The press of Canada has already done much more than all the censorship of the government could employ in meeting, exposing and nullifying the pro-German propaganda. To anyone at all familiar with the facts it might appear that from the British point of view the very best thing to do with a pro-German appeal would be to send it to a newspaper office. That the press of the country having rendered such an important service to the cause of patriotism by the exposure of pro-German methods and motives, should be singled out for government supervision, as if it were under suspicion either as to its loyalty or its intelligence, would be incomprehensible were it not that we are all so well accustomed to the rule of ineptly in government departments.

There is plenty of work for the censorship. The German propagandists continue to prosecute their campaign in this country, and they continue to use the mail service of the post office department; but they do not carry on their work by means of the Canadian press. They know enough for that, and it is only on rare occasions that the attempt is made. They devote their attention to private individuals, and to communities where the influence of Canadian newspapers is not expected to be very strong. Time and again the attention of the government has been called to the circulation of pro-German publications in this country, some of them disguised as church papers, some of them disguised even as educational papers, but all engaged in the pro-German campaign. Some of these papers have found their way into the public libraries in certain parts of the country and we have the assurance of Professor Hieforth that he was astonished at the subtlety of the Arguments be heard from the mouths of men of very ordinary education, until he traced them to the German papers publicly exposed on the reading tables of the public libraries. If the government is not aware of such facts it is not because it has not been warned. There is another side to this question. The arguments of the pro-German propagandists are to be met and disposed of, the work must be done by the Canadian press. There is no other remedy in censorship.

THE MAN WHO NEVER SLEPT Striking Cure by Dr. Cassell's Tablets Recalled. One-time Victim of Nerve Failure and Sleeplessness Writes Again. Says He Never Felt Better in His Life. Confirms His Amazing Cure by DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS.

A recent letter from Mr. Arthur G. Fellen, the man who hardly ever slept, recalls the story of a cure by Dr. Cassell's Tablets, which last year aroused great interest all over Great Britain. Here was no ordinary instance, but practically unworkable sleeplessness night after night, with no hope of relief, till, in the end, Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and then the blessed rest of natural and refreshing sleep.

Now, writing from 6, Chipstead Villa, Chipstead-road, Coulsdon, Surrey, England, Mr. Fellen says:—"I am delighted to tell you I feel very fit—never better in my whole life."

The story as originally given was so extraordinary, the cure so remarkable, that we felt justified in publishing it again that sufferers from sleeplessness and nerve failure in Canada may know how great is the curative power of Dr. Cassell's Tablets. Here is the story:—"Dr. Cassell's Tablets freed me from the terrible affliction of sleeplessness and nerve failure," said Mr. Fellen, "when the best treatment could not give me even temporary relief. In 1905, as a result of an accident, an operation had to be performed, after which I suffered from Neurasthenia, and ultimately entire Nerve Failure. I was taken into a special institution, only to be turned out after months of treatment as hopelessly incurable. I had claimed compensation for my accident, and even the insurance Company declared that I should never work again. I could just get about with the greatest difficulty, dragging my right foot along the ground, and my right hand hung helpless. Then came sleeplessness. Do what I would, or take what I would, I hardly ever slept night or day. For five years altogether I never could have slept more than a few minutes at a time for I heard every hour strike every night. Often I wished I could die. Sleeping draughts of opium, and injections of morphia, had no effect."

"I was almost hopeless of ever being cured, when I got my first supply of Dr. Cassell's Tablets. They did me good, so I persevered, and the result is that I am now well and strong again, and is regular work."

Mr. C. Hughes, 18, Lees-street, Lodge-road, Birmingham, England, said:—"I think it is only right to tell you what a lot of good I derived from taking Dr. Cassell's Tablets. About two years ago year ago, and now I am a strong, healthy man again."

The foregoing is no isolated case. Dr. Cassell's Tablets are genuine remedies for Nerve Weakness, or bodily weakness in old or young, and reports constantly coming to hand prove their power to cure even long-standing or severe cases.

GETTERLY RUN DOWN From Neuralgia and Dyspepsia

Mr. Arthur G. Fellen.

I got into a wretchedly run-down condition with no sort of strength in me. I was troubled a lot with dyspepsia and biliousness. I used to go quite dizzy, and sometimes a very faint glow in my throat. Headaches were almost daily occurrence, but the worst of all my troubles was neuralgia. This used to cause me positive agony, and nothing I could find did any good at all. My nerves seemed to be thoroughly weakened, and I was just as weak and run-down as I would be off for perhaps a week. I can't tell you how weak I felt, and what made matters worse was that I never got a proper night's sleep. I was told the trouble was nervous breakdown, but though I had medicine, and also attended an institution, I did not improve in the least.

"I was almost hopeless of ever being cured, when I got my first supply of Dr. Cassell's Tablets. They did me good, so I persevered, and the result is that I am now well and strong again, and is regular work."

BRITISH FINANCIERS IN CONFERENCE OVER BILLION DOLLAR LOAN

Lord Reading, Lord Chief Justice of England said head of the Anglo-French Financial Commission, and Sir Edward Hopkinson Holden, managing director of the London City and Midland Bank, Ltd., the largest joint stock bank in the world, during a discussion regarding the best terms to offer for the negotiation of the billion-dollar loan for the Allies.

BRITISH BUDGET PROVIDES FOR REVENUE OF $1,360,000,000

London, Sept. 21.—Reynald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer, in his budget speech today, estimated that the government's revenue for the current year would be £272,000,000 ($1,360,000,000), that the expenditure would reach £1,590,000,000 ($7,950,000,000), and that the dead weight of debt at the close of the financial year would be £2,200,000,000 ($11,000,000,000).

Another source of revenue is to be an increase in postal rates, which is expected to bring in £4,750,000 ($24,875,000). The chancellor plans to abolish the half-penny postage and to impose additional charges on telephone and telegraph messages.

A tax of 33-3 per cent ad valorem on all imported motor cars, bicycles, moving picture films, clocks, watches, musical instruments, plateglass and hats, also was put forward by the chancellor.

It took Mr. McKenna nearly two hours to reveal the secrets of his budget and his proposed methods of meeting the enormous commitments arising from the war.

Emphasizing the difficulty of framing the estimates in time of war, Mr. McKenna gave the revenues and expenditures as accurately as he was able to do. He said the revenue for the current year would be £272,000,000 and the expenditure £1,590,000,000.

"Our national wealth is great," he continued, "and this debt will not cripple our resources. But we must not overlook the strain which such an expenditure will impose on our sources of supply. It will be necessary to borrow again."

DAILY EXPENDITURE OF $25,000,000 Referring to the gigantic total of expenditures, the chancellor said the navy was costing £190,000,000 and the army £715,000,000. The country also had to bear external advances amounting to £42,000,000. The total daily rate of expenditure would be upwards of £4,500,000, and in the latter part of the year might rise to £5,000,000.

Ordinary services, he said, absorbed £170,000,000, excluding the army and navy, but including provisions for the national debt.

There is no record of a nation having voluntarily accepted a burden bearing so high a proportion to the total national income for which provision has to be made for a single year, he said. The new taxation he had to propose "will satisfy neither the strict free trader nor the scientific tariff reformer."

He pointed out that it was necessary to impose a tax for purposes purely temporary, without regard to the permanent effect on trade. Consideration must be given to rates of the foreign exchanges and imports must be restricted.

COUNCIL UPHOLDS GARAGE BY-LAW

City Solicitor Says it is Not Open to Referendum

J. O'NEIL BREAD INSPECTOR

No More Funds For Public Works—Commissioner Potts Replies to Critics—License Fees Discussed

At the weekly meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon the petition of protest against the garage by-law was rejected. A bread inspector was appointed, city licenses were discussed, and Commissioner Potts reported on the state of his department.

Mayor Frink presided and there was a full council meeting. Commissioner McLellan recommended that $200 unexpended of the vote for August for special police purposes be applied to September. This was agreed to and the commissioner added that this would probably be the last month for the expenditure.

He also recommended that John O'Neill be appointed inspector for the weights of bread in the city at a salary of $700 a year, to be under the police department. He was a baker and his duties would be also to inspect bread and the bakerhouses.

Commissioner McLellan mentioned that milk inspection in St. John might well be carried out more carefully and might come better if the prosecution of offenders was in the hands of some one near to the police. He told of one man who had been threatened with fines amounting to $1,600 who still kept on selling.

Commissioner Wigmore seconded the recommendation but Commissioner Potts thought that it was a matter for the board of health. This view was also held by the mayor. The motion was carried.

Commissioner McLellan brought up a proposed by-law for the licensing of private detectives and detective agencies in the city, which fixed the license at $800 and a penalty of $50 a day for each infringement. The chief of police would recommend the applicants for licenses which should be issued by the mayor. Commissioner Potts thought the

AMOUNT PROHIBITIVE AND ADDED THAT THE ONLY MAN HE KNEW SEEKING TO WORK AS A PRIVATE DETECTIVE IN THE CITY WAS THE EX-POLICE OFFICER WORRELL "AND IT SEEMS THIS IS LIKE A MOVE TO SHOVE HIM OUT."

Eventually the recommendation was lost, though the common clerk remarked that the by-law had been read a first time.

The common clerk, H. E. Wardroper, reported that he had examined the list of signatories to the petition against the recent by-law of the council on garages and found that it conformed to the requirements of the 20 per cent of the total vote of the last election. The city solicitor also sent his version which was shortly that the by-law was one that did not permit of being submitted to a popular vote. It was therefore moved by Commissioner McLellan seconded by Commissioner Russell that the matter be filed.

Commissioner Potts moved an amendment that the by-law of August be repealed. The mayor seconded the amendment to bring it before the meeting. The council should treat the petition of the 2,000 people with more consideration especially as they represented about 80 per cent of the voters at the last election. They always understood that one of the advantages of the commission form of government was that it offered the people a chance to get a vote on a subject like that. He knew there was a deep feeling against the council for passing such a by-law. He hoped the names of the petitioners would be published. The garage would be built at the place near the Stone church in any case.

Commissioner McLellan—"You are dreaming." Commissioner Potts—"No, the garage will be built yet." He felt that if they had made a mistake in passing the by-law it was a time to revise it.

E. P. Raymond appeared for the Stone church congregation to oppose the petition but he did not put forward any argument as the council decided that the petition could not be entertained.

Commissioner Potts added that it would not be a wise thing to try to thwart the public view in these things. It was intended that the public should have a voice in such things. The spirit closer to the people so that when a public interest was at stake they might be better heard. He therefore moved that the petition of those petitioners who desired to take a plebiscite on the whole question of garages be granted. There was no second, and the matter was dropped.

Another petition from the theatre proprietors of the city, protesting against the granting of a license at $10 a day to a circus that came here some time ago, brought out some anomalies of the licensing position in the city and the licensing department was at the end of its financial tether and that he proposed to shut down the circus. He stated that he had been given a statement of what had been done in the department and the council agreed to discuss this at a special meeting in committee today.

The commissioner of public works reported that he had effected a saving of $3,900 in the keeping of the public squares in two years. He had got rid of a lot of men who were too feeble to work.

A lot of detail work was done by the council. A complaint was made by Frank S. Harrington of the non-service of executions by city constables and he desired an investigation. The mayor said that on that matter he had received many complaints in the last few months. He mentioned George Blair and T. X. Gibbons. One man complained that for the collection of $18.75 only $2.75 got to the landlord. Money & Sons complained that in one case they were charged $40 which was said to have been for legal advice by the constable. Some of this was afterwards refunded.

On the motion of Commissioner Wigmore it was decided that the mayor, with the city solicitor, be appointed to investigate.

Public Works Funds Exhausted. Commissioner Potts brought up an outline report of the work done by the public works department since the appropriation was made, to show how the money was spent. He added that he was now practically at an end of his appropriation and he wanted to know if it was the desire of the council that the work of cleaning the streets, etc., should now be abandoned.

"I propose to shut down the public works department altogether if I cannot get some means. I made that statement at the time my appropriation was cut down and you cannot reasonably expect me to carry on work without money. I have paid for some things of a permanent nature out of appropriation. The council did not favor a bond issue.

Dealing with certain newspaper criticisms, Commissioner Potts went on to say that it was all very well to be patriotic now that the war was on, "but the Globe should remember at this patriotic time that there would be no Canada-day be patting about as to be fighting for if the Globe a few years ago had had its own way."

He added that the Globe should come out and attack openly. It was pretty hard for a man to take up public questions when one was to be met by the reply that the public was suffering. That is just what the street railway wanted. The Globe of today was not the paper it was some years ago, and its editorials now were a joke, declared the commissioner.

On the suggestion of Commissioner Wigmore the matter that the commissioner brought up of the expenditure on public works and the way out of the difficulty of finding funds was left over until this afternoon at a special meeting.

In the report of Commissioner Potts it was stated that the total number of square yards of all classes of paving laid out of the appropriation was 23,261 and the total expenditure $89,743. The streets included in the work were Princess, to King Square; Sydney, Princess to King Square; intersection Sydney to King Square; Union and Sydney; Douglas avenue and intersection to Adelaide Street; Chipman Hill, Market Square to Union Street; Rodney Street, Union to Ludlow; Westmorland road repairs; Marsh Bridge; Pitt Street, to the street; Market Place, Douglas Avenue, waterbound macadam; and George Street. The sidewalk repair showed a total of 7,407 square yards and the new sidewalks 4,336 square yards.

GENEROSITY AND SACRIFICE SHOWN BY AUCTION DONORS

Fine Spirit Prevailing Among All Classes Evidenced by Different Instances; All Helping in Interests of Patriotic Fund.

Some of the gifts now being made to the $50,000 patriotic auction tell a story in themselves. There are instances of most laudable generosity on the part of citizens, besides incidents which show the spirit of sacrifice by others in order that the patriotic fund, the object of the auction, may be benefited.

One of the gifts mentioned in a list published herewith in this paper is that of a pony, two carriages, and a sleigh, from Margaret and Donald Estabrooks. They are son and daughter of T. H. Estabrooks, who has himself given tea valued at $200 and the gift which has a cash value of about $250 is evidence that even children are endeavoring to sacrifice their pleasures to help in the cause.

A similar gift is that of J. W. H. Hamilton, who donated a donkey, a sleigh and other equipment, with a value of a little more than $100, and fathers of families will at once realize, perhaps more than others, what such donations as these mean for youngsters are especially proved to be possessors of them.

The accompanying letter is self-explanatory, and gives further evidence of how all classes are entering into the spirit of the auction, and seeking to aid in its success. It is from Mrs. George W. Waldon, Penobscot (N. B.), and is as follows: "Dear Mr. Porter—I took your address from the St. John papers and am asking if you will accept a piece of my needlework. It is all I have to give for our means are somewhat straitened. It is an order I took some time ago from a New York society woman and I was to get $15 for it at a certain time. I was too ill at the time to finish it, and I still have it. The work is a yoke collar of pure linen. I tell you these things so you may know it is worth showing. I shall be proud if it is accepted. It is all I can do and my heart is in the work. My husband has enlisted and is now in Sussex for examination, and if he goes I am left alone."

Donations Yesterday

Many handsome donations were received again yesterday by the canvassers about the city, but owing to the rush of preparing for the start of the motor campaign, and the making of returns by the collectors it is not possible to acknowledge at present more than a few of the gifts received.

BRITISH ARTILLERY TRAINED BY FRENCH

Latter Know Ranges to a Nicety, and Help New Men Learn—Then They Serve Them

Dunkirk, Sept. 2.—(Correspondence)—The remarkable development in technique and training of the French artillery service is indicated by the fact that all British artillery recruits newly arrived in France are sent first of all for a week's training with French batteries.

A British general, writing to a French newspaper, describes the methods of training adopted by the British staff. "Each fresh British infantry brigade," he says, "joins a British division for a period of ten days to familiarize itself with French work, but our artillery is placed in the British gun in the right spot. The French officers neglect nothing in order to make the work as agreeable and instructive as possible to our men of all ranks. This is how we spent yesterday."

The Canadian Hospitals at the Front in France

A writer in an English publication pays a striking tribute to the Canadian Hospital organization in Europe. No. 1 General Canadian Hospital situated on the outskirts of Boulogne lies in the centre of much the biggest hospital concentration ever attempted in history.

The visitor finds himself amazed at the scale and scope of this hospital town to the efficiency of which Canadians have made a notable contribution. Their share in an organization which is beyond reproach can not perhaps be exaggerated. It is second only to their performance in the field.

This particular hospital is in some respects the leading one owing to a new method invented by Col. Murray MacLaren of New Brunswick, the officer commanding. He has arranged the spacious tents in long corridors each capable of holding sixty-four patients.

The breadth of the tent, the simple arrangements of the electric lighting and the very convenient arrangement of the corridor make the wards as pleasing to the senses and hygienically perfect as could be desired. In some respects No. 2 Canadian Hospital which occupies the golf Hotel Le Touquet and overflows into tents on the links, has greater charms, but the site of No. 1 is the highest degree attractive owing to its outlook over a wild natural stretch of scenery.

The hospital which was organized in September, 1914, has gradually perfected itself since its arrival at Plymouth October 16. It had many sites in England, where alone 4,000 cases were treated, before sailing for France in May; but only today has it reached its full perfection.

There are three more Canadian army hospitals in England and in France three general, with a potential equipment of 1,060 beds, two stationary, a clearing hospital with its attendant ambulances, besides an admirable system of Red Cross distributing depots, set up, thanks to private generosity in Canada, within reach of every hospital unit. It is an interesting attribute of the larger establishments such as No. 1 General, that every department of Canada is represented within the circle of the unit. The arrival of a group of French-Canadian nurses coinciding with Sir Robert Borden's visit may be quoted as example of the unity of the Dominion.

Jones—Dear me! You say you often lay down the law to your wife. How do you go about it?" Bone—Why, all you need is firmness! I usually go into my study, lock the door and do it over the transom—all you need is firmness in the door—Puck.

NEW COMMISSION TO BE APPOINTED SOON

Will Report on Production, Transportation and Employment Problems A1 Over Canada—To Aid War Work

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—The personnel of the new commission, decided upon by the government for the purpose of investigating and reporting upon conditions of production, transportation and employment in Canada will be announced soon. This is the commission of which the late Sir William Van Horne was to have been chairman. His death will necessitate the selection of a new commissioner conversant with transportation and kindred subjects, as the railway facilities of the dominion provide one of the most important aspects of the problem which is to be solved, particularly the question of a proper system of branch lines to support the great east and west trunk lines already constructed.

It is understood that the commission will be a fairly large one and that it may work in groups so as to cover adequately and at the same time expeditiously has been mapped out by the government.

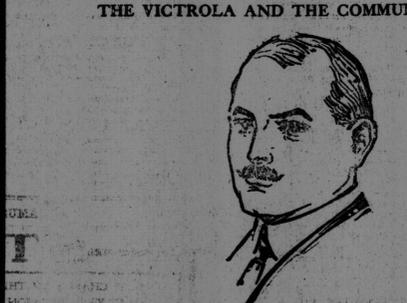

RED CROSS CIRCLE

At a meeting of the Red Cross Circle in East St. John last night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. F. R. Warren; vice-president, Mrs. Wallace Malcolm; secretary, Mrs. Sterling; treasurer, Miss Edith Magee; convenor, Mrs. Janie Cunningham; assistant convenors, Miss Forbes, Miss Olga Magee, Miss Mary Schabrecht, Miss Edith Magee and Miss Margaret Ross.

There are still some people in remote corners of the earth that have not heard of the European War. And although over eight million pounds of "SALADA" were sold last year, we believe there are still some people in Canada who have not yet tasted "SALADA." If they see this and will send us a postal we will mail them a generous sample for trial. Black, Mixed or Green.

All loyal New Brunswickers have the success of the Allied Arms at heart. GREENLAND WHALE WELL-NIGH EXTINCT Some of These Monsters Said to be More Than 100 Feet Long — A Modern Jonah

The Greenland whale is well-nigh extinct, the whales of the northern seas are fast disappearing, while the southern whales in the sea south of the equator, if not soon checked, will eliminate the larger whales from the waters of the world.

There is something indelibly fascinating about the idea of hunting these mammoths of the sea, the largest living creatures to persist since prehistoric days. And there is that story of Jonah!

The longest border of the blade-bone measures six feet eight inches and some idea of what this means may be gathered from the comparison of it with the blade-bone of a man which measured along the same border is but six inches long.

"BUD" TIPPET CROSSED ON THE CORSICAN

Wounded Fairville Soldier Sends Word of Arrival in Canada—Home Soon
From Bud Tippet to his people in Fairville this morning came word that he arrived in Quebec on the Corsican on Sunday and expected to be home after seeing the military authorities. He did not know just when he could get away, but promised to write.
Fairville people have followed Private Tippet's career with a great deal of interest as he was well known and very popular in his native town.
He was badly wounded in the arm and leg while in the fighting and injury to his arm prevents him from taking any further part in the great struggle, though in his letters he has frequently referred to his desire to have another opportunity of doing his little bit. He was one of the first Fairville boys to volunteer with the first contingent and was a personal friend of Private Rudolph McKel who was killed in action.

LOCAL NEWS

AT THE BRIDGE.
The last cable of the Suspension bridge on the northern side was cut this morning.
PRESENT FOR SOLDIER.
On behalf of the office staff and foremen of the various departments of T. S. Simms & Company's factory, Ernest H. Luck yesterday afternoon was given a military wrist watch. The presentation was made by R. W. Pugh and, in a fitting way, he described the loss sustained by the staff in the departure of so bright and cheerful a member, who, in the short time he has been with the company in the position of paymaster, has won the esteem of every fellow employee. Mr. Luck will leave this afternoon to join the 2nd battalion at Sussex, followed by the best wishes of many friends.

He was then called to the church in Carleton and has administered carefully and faithfully to the welfare of his flock at St. John. He is highly esteemed, not only by those under his spiritual care, but by the citizenship in general, and it is regretted to leave the city will be learned with regret. Wishes of continued success will follow him.
Mr. Archibald gave notice of his resignation two weeks ago, and it was considered last Sunday. His congregation lamented his action and sought to prevail upon him to stay. It is not known yet who his successor will be.

Hutchinson in Main street Baptist church at six o'clock this morning. The Man In The Street

This morning's greeting: "Chilly, eh?"
Yes, it was quite commonplace, but then remarks about the weather are seldom original.
The most original sayings these days pertain to the street railway service, but when originality verges on profanity, it loses its charm from a newspaper standpoint.
The price of bread has gone down in London, Ont. Perhaps with a bread inspector on the job here, we may hope that the movement will spread farther eastward.
The Potts' Memorial.
"I have paid for some things of a permanent nature"—Commissioner Potts at yesterday's council meeting. The fervent prayer of Indian town folks is that he's not referring to that concrete over the rails.
Shakespeare might just as truly have had in mind a street car as a rose when he asked "What's in a name?" so far as the signs on top are concerned.
Even the two cars on the Indian town semi-weekly spur carry the same signs these on the main line, no one is being fooled except strangers in our midst.
Cheaper to Sell Liquor.
Commissioner McLellan wants a $600 license for private detective agencies in the city. This may be one way of showing the spirit of friendliness existing between the police department and an official thereof.
Another way is to have him thrust off a seat in the police car, as was done a short time ago.
And then just $200 more will pay the salary of the bread inspector.
Nearly time to think of fall overcoats again. Has fall arrived to stay or is this merely a wind?
Commissioner Potts seems to think that the leak of news at city hall in the same class with the once-famous leak of 1864.
Two thousand citizens protested against the garage law in New York. What has that to do with the city charter?
Canada's war planners earned their keep this year; with scientific management the government might be able to defeat a dividend next year.
We might use some of them in the streets of St. John if the public works appropriation is augmented.
Liquor dealers in Hamilton, Ont., offer voluntarily to refuse to serve soldiers. Isn't that a strong argument to help a recruiting campaign?
Why single out soldiers?
The allies have arranged for their loss of $700,000,000 in New York. If there is any money left in that burg some St. John people would like to organize a recruiting campaign by their lack.
Bulgaria seems to have the bulge on both sides in this war.
If a present of an alarm clock for each soldier who does not own one would obviate the need for those early morning whistles, will some kind citizen please take up a collection?

SAYS SUBMARINE LAY IN WAIT FOR CORSICAN

Steamship on Which M. E. Agar Returned Home—Statement by Toronto Officer
Toronto, Ont., Sept. 22.—"There is absolutely no doubt that a hostile submarine lay in wait for the Corsican," said Sgt. Instructor Taylor of Toronto, one of the Canadian soldiers who returned on that steamer.
"When we were steaming along the south coast of Ireland near the gate of the Lusitania and of the Hesperian, we were informed by wireless that a German submarine was waiting for us sixty-four miles east of Fastnet. I am positive that we owe our lives to the discretion of Captain Hamilton, the good skipper of the Corsican."
Immediately upon receipt of the news the navigating officer started the ship on a zig-zag course, which we pursued for thirty-six hours, until we were out of the danger zone. The opinion of the officers of the liner was that the Hun submarine commander figured we would take a southerly course. If so, he was well fooled, for we followed the track of the ill-fated Hesperian."
M. E. Agar of St. John and Major Percy Guthrie of Fredericton were passengers on the Corsican.
RETURNED AFTER FUNERAL
Leonard and Ira Phillips, their sister Miss Agnes Phillips and W. H. Parker of this city have returned home from Salisbury where they motored on Saturday to attend the funeral of their cousin Donald Harrington, shot by mistake for a deer last week. The funeral was attended by many friends, much sympathy being aroused for the bereaved family.

Out of Ammunition

Lack of ammunition has made important developments in the world's war.
It has turned the tide of battles at critical moments.
No manufacturer seeking to market goods at a fair profit has advertising ammunition to waste.
It pays him best when he makes all his ads hit through newspaper advertising.
Then and then only his money works without waste.
Manufacturers are invited to send to the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York, for the booklet "The Newspapers."
